"Returns to Democrat Party" Judge Shephard Seeks Re-Election

Judge McKinley Shephard

Judge McKinley Shephard, the current Justice of the Peace for Precinct 6, has announced his candidacy for re-election on the Democrat ticket. Judge Shephard filed for the position on January 2, 1990 after a long deliberation of whether or not to seek re-election. After much urging from citizens of the community and the city, Judge Shephard said: "I decided to run, because I felt that the people would be behind me and support my campaign." Shephard also said he has invested over seven years to the office of Justice of the Peace, and felt he has a special place in his heart for the office.

Explaining his switch from the Republican Party to the Democrat Party, Shephard said: "The precinct lines were redrawn, and as a result of these boundary line changes, the precinct became overwhelming a minority and Democrat precinct." The voting precinct within the new Justice of the Peace has a tradition of voting Democrat, and historically rejecting Republican candidates, and I felt in order to be a viable candidate, "I had to switch to the Democrat Party. What it boils down to is mathematics you sit down and count the numbers and they all add up Democrat, the next Justice of the Peace for Precinct 6 will be a Democrat. I look forward to working with new found

"AIDS In The Workplace" Seminar

The Health Affairs Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a seminar on "AIDS In The Workplace" on Tuesday, January 23, 1990 from 8:30 a. m. to noon at Sentinel Book Store, 4835 50th Street. The cost of the seminar is $15.

According to Rita Harmon, chairperson of the Health Affairs Committee Social Issues Task Force, the purpose of the seminar is to encourage among Lubbock businesses the development of workplace policies for dealing with the AID/HIV virus.

"We realize the majority of businesses in Lubbock never will have to confront the issues associated with an employee who has contracted the HIV virus," Ms. Harmon said. "However, we feel it is worth three hours of your time to be prepared for dealing with that possibility."

Topics to be covered in the seminar include human dynamics in the workplace such as paranoia, fear and prejudice, and issues such as employee testing, benefits and legal ramifications. Sample policies and a list of community resources also will be provided.

Persons wishing to pre-register for the seminar should call the Public Affairs Department at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, 763-4666.

NOTICE TO LUBBOCK COUNTY VOTERS

On January 20, 1990, there will be a county wide election that could give total control of Buffalo Springs Lake (1200 acres of land and a dam) to only those people that live at the lake. This land and dam was brought and paid for by all the people of Lubbock County in 1956. This lake was to be developed as a county wide recreational facility to be used by everyone. The cost, $1.86 million dollars. Over the years many different boards of directors and managers have improved the lake by adding paved roads, public beaches, a concession stand and more. These improvements have been paid for by lot-leases, gate fees, boating permits, etc. And these fees should be continued to maintain the existing facilities as well as add additional facilities for the people of Lubbock County. Please VOTE January 20th to keep Buffalo Spring Lake County controlled rather than letting it be essentially a private housing development. To defeat this land grab VOTE AGAINST on January 20th.... PLEASE VOTE!

Letter to Citizens

Dear Citizens:
The Lubbock Police Department has initiated a new program designed to build better understanding between the citizens of Lubbock and the Police Department. This program is called the Citizens Police Academy, a revolutionary concept in police/community relations which will familiarize citizens of all backgrounds and occupations with the operations of the Lubbock Police Department.

Classes meet every Tuesday evening for ten weeks, concluding with a graduation banquet. The classes will be from 7:00 p. m. - 9:30 p. m. and will be conducted at the Lubbock Police Academy, 615 Municipal Drive.

Topics to be covered include: recruiting and selection process, recruit training, the patrol division, the K-9 unit, communications and records, narcotics and vice operations, criminal investigation sections, crime prevention, internal affairs, use of force and deadly force and even the option to fire the department issued handgun.

I would like to personally invite you or a representative of your organization to apply for the Citizens Police Academy. Graduates of this course will not be trained peace officers or vigilantes, but will be better informed citizens.

The course is free. However, to graduate, each applicant must attend at least eight of the ten sessions. Therefore, prior to applying, please determine if you or the person who wishes to represent your organization can attend the minimum number of sessions.

Because of both limited classroom space and our desire to achieve the broadest representation possible, selection of participants for each class will be the aim to achieve fair representation based on gender, race, geographic residence and occupation.

Classes start February 13, 1990 and will conclude with the graduation banquet on April 24, 1990.

Applications are being taken now until February 5, 1990 for the next Citizens Police Academy. If interested, please call me at 767-2561. Any applications accepted subsequently will be placed on a waiting list for the Citizens Police Academy.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

videotapes from an out-of-state company. Do we pay sales tax?

J. P. Houston

Dear J. P.:

The 6 percent state use tax is due on the videotapes. An out-of-state seller engaged in business in Texas must hold a tax permit and collect the use tax on all taxable items sold and delivered here.

If the out-of-state seller doesn't charge the tax, don't automatically send it with your order. Chances are that the seller who doesn't hold a Texas tax permit probably won't forward the tax to Texas. You can find out if an out-of-state business has a permit by calling Tax

AT ISSUE S&Ls Necessary?

Fred Webber is president and CEO of the U.S. League of Savings Institutions, the primary trade association of the savings institution industry.

YES

Are S&Ls necessary?

Absolutely! When home ownership was recognized as a desirable public policy goal in the early 1930s, Congress established a specialized federal system of housing finance. S&Ls helped transform the United States from a nation of renters to a nation of home owners. Congress reaffirmed their necessity with passage of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA). Savings institutions long have been the No. 1 source of home loans in this country. While FIRREA will shrink our industry, the healthy survivors remain committed to home finance now and in the future. By contrast, commercial banks have a record of being fair-weather mortgage lenders. This is understandable, given their primary business is commercial lending. S&Ls by law are required to stick to home loans, and are therefore a reliable, continuing basis.

To what extent should Congress oversee the S&L industry?

Congress historically has exercised considerable oversight of the S&L industry, as it should. However, Congress must exercise caution to ensure the operating environment it creates does not create new problems. Due to the collapse in supervision that led to the recent deposit insurance crisis, Congress enacted well-intentioned "reforms," some of which will make it difficult for even strong, well-capitalized S&Ls to survive. The result is to put us at a competitive disadvantage at a time when Congress also is demanding higher capital levels. This seems counterproductive, at best.

How can home owners' needs best be met?

By going to the experts. You don't call an electrician for stopped-up plumbing. S&Ls have been building mortgage finance expertise since the first S&L was formed in 1831. Because we are mortgage credit specialists, we have the widest range of mortgage products. Our institutions are primarily local and community-oriented, and thus are sensitive to local economies and needs. They personally know local builders, developers and real estate experts. They know the marketplace. And they're prepared to help meet the needs of qualified home buyers at all income levels.

James D. Davidson is chairman of the National Taxpayers Union, an organization formed to protect the rights of taxpayers.

NO

Are S&Ls necessary?

No. Today's financial markets have made a separately regulated S&L industry obsolete. A merger of the banking and thrift industries would benefit taxpayers and consumers alike because it would put mismanaged and bankrupt thrifts out of business while ensuring that healthy mortgage institutions survive. This summer's thrift bailout legislation simply transferred the liabilities of the bankrupt FSLIC, the thrift insurance fund, to the banks' FDIC without reforming the system that got S&Ls in so much trouble. In order for the financially strapped FDIC to avoid a bank crisis in the 1990s, money-losing thrifts immediately must be put out of business. If not, taxpayers can expect to pick up another hefty tab.

To what extent should Congress oversee the S&L industry?

Congress, during the past decade, created the current S&L mess that will cost taxpayers more than $200 billion, or $2,000 from every American, by allowing thrift owners to make risky investments with federally insured deposits. The House and Senate banking committees shirked their oversight duties when key members developed cozy relationships with S&L lobbyists. However, the new House Banking Committee chairman, Henry Gonzalez, has begun a long-overdue investigation into thrift scandals. Yet, it's outrageous that Congress did nothing to reform the deposit insurance system that caused this fiscal disaster. Taxpayers still will have to cover the investment mistakes of thrift owners who risk very little of their own money. Instead of overseeing a new S&L crisis, Congress should be encouraged to dismantle the thrift industry.

How can home owners' needs best be met?

Home owner needs are adequately met by the banking system and the multibillion-dollar pools of mortgage funds invested by federally sponsored agencies, such as "Fannie Mae" and "Freddie Mac." Mortgage lending survived despite a thrift crisis that drained money away from residential mortgages into a black hole of undeveloped land and commercial real estate speculation. td

Health Editorial: Mouth Ulcers

Dr. Heenan Johnson, III

A mouth ulcer is a break in the lining of the mouth that uncovers the tissue beneath. All ulcers of the mouth look similar in appearance, but vary in cause and seriousness. The two most common and painful types of ulcers are aphthous ulcers; these are the ulcers that appear as white blister looking lesions which occur from stress, being run down, or ill. The other type is a traumatic ulcer caused by an injury to the lining of the mouth. These injuries can be caused by a tooth brush injury, a cheek bite, or hot foods.

Some ulcers of the mouth are caused by an infection from a virus, example herpes simplex. This virus blisters and eventually turns to ulcers. Mouth ulcers are very common. The aphthous ulcers occur most often in young adults (but can occur in older adults as well) and more often in women, especially just before a menstrual period.

Aphthous ulcers are small in size and may appear in clusters. Again they appear white or pale yellow and may last three to four days. A traumatic ulcer is usually larger and last for a week or more. The vast majority of mouth ulcers do not pose any health problem, and usually heal themselves. If these lesions or ulcers persist for more than ten days, consult your dentist.

Most ulcers will heal themselves, however, to minimize discomfort, avoid eating spicy or acidic foods, eating spices or acidic food, persistent aphthous ulcers may need to be treated by your dentist with a mouth rinse or cream containing a steroid drug. Remember, ulcers which do not go away within a few days should be examined by your dentist.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members and friends of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning in the lovely home of Delbert & Dorothy Hood. President Christine Burleson presided. Opening scripture was read by Sister Elnora Jones. She read Psalms 90. There was a moment of silent prayer.

The morning scripture lesson was taught by Judy Stall. Her scriptures were Isaiah 58; Exodus 19:16; Ezekiel 33:1; and Isaiah 61:1-2. Her subject was "What God Wants To Do In The Land."

Isaiah 58 -- Shout with the voice of a trumpet blast, tell my people of their sins. (61) The spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord has anointed me to bring good news to the suffering and afflicted. He has sent me to comfort the broken hearted, to announce liberty to captives and to open the eyes of the blind.

This teacher said: "What's happening to America, the watchman on the wall is asleep. We are the trumpets."

We must sound aloud the trumpets. The Churches, most of them, have no fear. The leaders are not fearful of God. If we don't cry out the cults, satanic groups, word haters will put so much fear into the House of God until people will stay away. The school of prophets are coming forth to speak to people the real truth.

There a revival coming that no man can take the credit for. Satan has a full scale plan to destroy this nation. School courses are corrupt; colleges are also. Parents and God are suppose to be children's idols, instead of hard rock music and groups. All kinds of filth is coming forth as god. More people are subscribing to Hustler magazine, than Newsweek. Ezekiel 33 -- God reminds Ezekiel that he is a watchman. A watchman needs to be alert at all times; never slumbering or sleeping, but sounding the trumpet. The Kingdom of God is at hand. "REPENT, REPENT, REPENT!"

The minds of our teachers are moving in the same direction. The spirit of the Lord truly is upon them. May God bless these, Ladies, and we are praying for them."

Thought of the week: "God is a God of people, not rules."

Think about it! Breakfast was served, spiritually first, physically second, and you are more than welcome to come anytime. There is a standing invitation for each of you. "Friends!"

We truly are grateful for our guest, for you are priority and very special.

Our sick list includes: Bonnie Brooks, Gary Williams, H. Avery, a son of Rev. H. Avery, Charlie Bell Pratt, James E. Lacy, Virgina

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

"Worry" is defined as an emotional attitude characterized by anxiety about the outcome of future events. Benjamin Disraeli says of worry, it is "a god, invisible but omnipotent. It steals the bloom from the cheek and lightness from the pulse; it takes away the appetite, and turns the hair gray."

The word "worry" does not appear in the King James translation of the Bible. The words which carry much the same meaning as we give to "worry" mean to divide the mind. James said, "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways." (James 1:8).

The words written by Paul to the Christians at Philippi (Philippians 4:4-9) gives us the advice need to conquer our worries. Paul had every reason to be filled with worry. As God's missionary, he was treated with contempt in a Roman prison. He was placed in an isolated cell where no one could hear him declare God's Word. He could not visit the churches he loved so dearly. In these trying conditions, he was conquering worry by being glad in the Lord. Not only did Paul rejoice in what the Lord had done for him; to ease the pain of worry, he talk with the Lord. Paul said, "In every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." He knew from personal experience that prayer and worry could never form a marriage.

Paul would advise us today, that instead of worrying about things which we probably cannot change, rejoice in what God has done for us past, present, and future: He has love for you, protected you, cared for you, will always be with you, will always be wanting His best for you, and will always be loving you. He would further advise us that if we worry, then there is little or no prayer. If we pray, then there is little or no worry. When you pray, be honest in your prayer. Tell God your fears, your worries, your needs, and your desires. "Just a little talk with Jesus will make it right."

"Thank You"

Your kindness will never be forgotten with the many cards, letters, telegrams, food and your visits as well as your precious prayers during the loss of our loved one. Thank you so much.

We Thank God For Jesus

"Lord, I'm So Glad, Free At Last! Free At Last!!"

Deuteronomy 11:16 -- The Lord said, take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them.

Lord, every since in the garden, at the beginning of time, satan has been "the biggest liar," the deceiver of the mind.

Like the lie he told Adam, in the Garden of Eve, "don't do what God has said; and they were deceived."

He yet works that lie, this very, very day. He comes in many shapes, forms and many, many ways.

Ephesians 6:12 -- For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers; against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickednes in high places.

Lord, even today he is known as "Lite Beer, Wine Pills, Cocaine and Weed." He is also known as "Diamonds, Flush, Metals, and they all deceive."

As I watched the people on tv, having what is called a "Goodtime," I tried the things they did, "it just messed up my mind."

I follow the devil one day: "started out on the bear called Lite." "Then I moved up to the heavy stuff, trying to get myself right."

Isaiah 5:20; 9:16-17 -- The Lord said, woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! For the leader of this people cause them to error; and they that are lead of them are destroyed. Therefore, the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows; for everyone is a hypocrite and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away but his hand is stretched out still.

(From the little drugs, the big ones; from the cigarette tobacco; to marijuana tobacco; from Lite Beer to Whiskey, from Crack to Cocaine. It's all drugs to kill the mind).

Romans 6:23 -- For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Lord, I've tried everything to get these demons; "out of me." It cost me too much money to feed them. "I'm tired; I want to be free."

I've tried to smcke them out, increasing the marijuana cigarette, but they only ask for more; they don't seem to want me to quit."

Matthew 11:28 -- Jesus said, come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Lord, I've tried everything under the sun; "now it's time to go over the sun, to the Holy One (Jesus Christ).

Lord, I praised You now; because I'm so glad and can now say "Free at Last, Free at Last." Thank God for Jesus; I'm Free at Last!"

John 8:32-36 -- Jesus said, ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

God is not through with us yet. Let's pray for one another always.

Mailing Lists & Money Making Deals

Everyday your Bureau receives calls from people who have received mail from individuals and companies who have discovered a way to make money. They want to share this novel idea with you. But why you? And how did you end up on the list? Everyone knows that there are companies that buy and sell mailing lists. Mailing lists can be arrived from a variety of sources. Have you ordered from a catalog, entered your name in a drawing, answered a survey? These are some of the ways lists are derived. Based on your answers you become categorized. Some of you end up on the opportunity seeker list. Why do these people want to share their great knowledge? Usually they send you enticing but not revealing tid-bits of information. You have to send in money to find out what they really are talking about. Once you receive the material, you may find that you have to make some kind of additional payment or investment before you can try their system of making money. Before accepting such an offer from a stranger, call a friend, your BBB.

Federal Express Scam-Productive Days For Employers

First a warning to businesses, be on the watch for a federal express scam. It works like this, a uniformed person comes to your business, he has a C. O. D. express package for which you must pay $15. You pay and then find that all you got for your $15 old newspapers. The catch, of course, is that Federal Express never delivers C. O. D. Most folks realize that the weekends are the most popular days for the average worker. But ever wonder what is the best day for employers? According to the 1,000 largest corporations in the U. S. its Tuesday. Work production is best on Tuesday. Next comes Wednesday, then Thursday and Monday. Friday is the worst - guess we all are dreaming of that weekend off. Speaking of weekends - remember if you have a consumer question and our office is closed. Turn to the Southwestern Bell phone directory Fingertips section. Our TEL-TIPS section on page 13 may have the information you need. TEL-TIPS operates around the clock and the information is written for the South Plains and Lubbock area.

Door to Door Liquid Cleaners

A reminder to beware of sales crews from out of state passing through the area is selling all purpose liquid cleaner door to door. Usually the product demonstrated is not the same product that is delivered. The watered down cleaner delivered is worthless. If peddlers selling cleaning fluid approach you, ask them for their peddlers permit. If they do not have one, call the Police. We traced one transient group from Lubbock to Little Rock where they sold their cleaning fluid as a mouth wash (diluted version we trust). If you happen to buy a product such as the cleaner and it turns out to be a bad deal, please let us
