Congressman Mahon in new post

Congressman George Mahon is the new chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives.

For the past 13 years our Congressman has been chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Military Defense. In this strategic job he has become the best informed expert on the national defense system in the House.

In the position of chairman of the Appropriations Committee Mahon heads the group wherein all appropriations must originate and clear before being presented to the Congress. The most important and influential man on the committee is the chairman.

Seniority and ability are the key factors in the rise of Mahon to this post of the highest importance. First going to Congress in 1935 Mahon became a member of the Appropriations Committee in 1939 and has been chairman of the defense subcommittee since 1949.

His many years on the Washington scene are not the lone factors for his great influence and prestige in the government of our nation. Hard work and a complete dedication to his jobs and duties in Congress have brought him to this new plateau of his long and illustrious career of representation.

Down through the years Mahon has become well-known for his diligent work and mild manner. Despite his quiet ways Mahon is equally well-known for his ability to achieve a high degree of sternness when the situation demands it.

The people of the 19th Congressional District, of Texas and the Nation are indeed fortunate to have a Congressman like George Mahon to represent them in a most important position.

The Tribune takes pleasure and pride in joining good citizens everywhere in congratulating and honoring the Congressman on his past and future achievements.

In Fight With 'All We Have'

BY HAZEL BRANNON SMITH
Editor, Lexington (Miss.) Advertiser

(A Pulitzer Prize has gone to Hazel Brannon Smith. No braver or more dedicated American has ever been so honored. She has laid her fortune and her very life on the line in Mississippi for what she considered was the duty of an editor.

We are proud to count her as one of our friends. We are so happy that she has been honored. We hope it will give strength and courage to all of us to be better and more courageous in our chosen field.)

The thought of winning an award has never entered my mind on anything I ever wrote in my life — but it would be less than honest if I did not say that the Pulitzer has made me very happy.

All we have done here is try to meet honestly the issues as they arose. We did not ask for nor run from this fight with the White Citizens' Councils. But we have given it all we have, nearly 10 years of our lives, loss of financial security and a big mortgage. We would do the same thing over, if necessary.

As an individual and editor, I cannot fit into the pattern of absolute conformity demanded by the Citizens' Councils. I consider them un-Christian, un-democratic and un-American. Their Nazi-like theories on white supremacy and their espousal of massive resistance to the 1954 Supreme Court decision have led the South and the nation to the brink of disaster in race relations and inspired the revival of the Klu Klux Klan. They have silenced many citizens and attempted to destroy those who do not agree with them.

I could not call myself an editor if I had gone along with the Citizens' Councils — feeling about them the way I do. My interest has been to print the truth and protect and defend the freedom of all Mississippians. It will continue. Midlothian Mirror

READ HOW COUNTLESS WOMEN HAVE FOUND
THE WAY TO OVERCOME CHANGE-OF-LIFE FEARS

Have you reached that time of life when your body experiences strange new sensations — when one minute you feel enveloped in hot flushes and the next are clammy, cold, drained of energy, nervous, irritable? Are you in an agony of fear? Too troubled to be a good wife and mother? Don't just suffer from the suffocating hot flashes, the sudden waves of weakness, the nervous tension that all too frequently come with the change when relief can be had.

Find comforting relief the way countless women have, with gentle Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets. Especially developed to help women through this most trying period. In doctor's tests 3 out of 4 women who took them reported welcome effective relief. And all without expensive "shots."

Don't brood. Don't worry yourself sick. Get Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets at your drug-gists. Take them daily just like vitamins.

Experienced gamblers know that to keep winning it is necessary to buy something with the money before they get back into the game.

You can't keep a good man down but enough beating over the head with adversity's tomahawk will leave him so addled that he may go in the wrong direction.

Frugality is a noble virtue which has failed to receive the dignity of popularity. Its place in history is only slightly above shame, and its future is even less certain.

Matador Tribune

The University of Texas has appointed a Negro as assistant professor of engineering, an occurrence that should meet with no objection from any fair-minded person because Dr. Ervin S. Perry obviously has the scholarship and the engineering training. The university started accepting qualified Negro students 14 years ago long before the disputes in Arkansas and Alabama and today there are some 175 Negro students on the campus at Austin. As a matter of fact there are Negro students in every major college and university in Texas with the possible exception of Rice which was originally endowed as an all-white institute. Of course a large number of Negroes are turned down by these same colleges each year for scholastic reasons; but that also applies to an even larger number of white students.

As a matter of fact there has been practically no racial disturbance in this state, in striking contrast to all the turmoil that has arisen in New York, Washington, Detroit, Chicago, and other northern cities. The newspapers and magazines of those regions should take a closer look at conditions nearer home before they point an accusing finger southward.

Wellington Leader

THE SUPREME COURT of New Jersey has ruled that a plan to end "racial imbalance" in Montclair's junior high schools would not discriminate against white children. The local school board's plan called for closing one predominantly colored junior high school and reassigning its pupils to three other schools which are predominantly white.

All four schools had previously been integrated, and there was no evidence of intentional, legal segregation — which the 1954 U. S. Supreme Court decision had outlawed. The area of Montclair served by the school which is scheduled for closing happens to be populated mostly by Negroes, while the area served by the other three schools is populated mostly by whites. The result: "De facto segregation" — a situation which the U. S. Supreme Court refused to declare illegal the other day.

Never mind what the Supreme Court says. Civil rights groups have decided that "racial imbalance" and "de facto segregation" must go — even if it means closing schools and carting children all over town. In Montclair, these radical groups have won a victory, and their victory has been sustained by a unanimous decision of New Jersey's highest court.

What irritated some of Montclair's citizens more than the closing of the school and the reassignment of its students was the school board's decision to give the Negro students, whose school is being closed, their choice of which of the three remaining schools they would like to attend. White children have not been given any opportunity to pick their schools.

A group of parents took their case to court, arguing that this aspect of the plan, at least, was highly discriminatory. They maintained that, however well-intended, the plan to end racial imbalance in Montclair schools favored one group of citizens over another. They argued that the Constitution and the laws are, and should be, "color-blind."

Ruling on the complaint, New Jersey's supreme court handed down the following peculiar declaration: "Constitutional color-blindness may be wholly apt when the frame of reference is an attack on official efforts toward segregation; it is not generally apt when the attack is on official efforts toward the avoidance of segregation."

Very simply that declaration seems to say the Constitution and the laws of the land require segregationists to be impartial, but do not require integrationists to be impartial; it is wrong to discriminate, but permissible to do so in order to end some form of discrimination. In a word, New Jersey's highest court has proclaimed, by a unanimous decision at that, that the end justifies the means.

Dallas Morning News

MR. MAHON takes over from

Mr. Cannon as one of the most popular and respected men in the Congress. Because his job is not one which engenders affection — because more frequently than not he must say "no" — he may find difficulty in keeping his personal popularity intact. But from the standpoint of respect, which is something else again, he can and likely will hold his own, perhaps even show a gain.

The rules of politics, both written and unwritten, give to a Congressman's district, as well as to a Congressman himself, great benefits along with enhanced power and prestige. This district is fortunate, therefore, in its Representative's new position. And, it is proper to say, too, that the nation is fortunate that a man of Mr. Mahon's proven integrity, ability, experience and capacity for hard work has succeeded to leadership of one of the Federal government's highest positions.

Highlights and Sidelights

Capitol is losing old friend

AUSTIN, Tex. — There is a certain sadness around the capitol. An old friend is about to depart. That old friend is the majestic Walton building. For many years it was the home of the Game and Fish Commission (now part of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission). The building soon is to be demolished, by order of the 58th Legislature, to make way for a parking lot.

The white limestone building with its fanciful towers and elegant facade is an old-timer. Built in 1875, it was the Travis County Courthouse until 1929, when Gov. Dan Moody and the Legislature bargained and bought the building for the state for $40,000.

Although the Walton building was best known to sportsmen and conservationists coming to call on the Game and Fish Commission, it also was the home of the vocational education area office of the Texas Education Agency, the Rehabilitation District office, and the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

Just when the Walton building will be demolished is a decision due to be made by the State Building Commission, composed of Gov. John Connally, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, and Charles Coates of Chappell Hill, chairman of the Board of Control.

SABINE WATERS PLENTIFUL — Surface water supplies of "excellent quality" can be developed in the Sabine River Basin of Texas and Louisiana, Texas Water Commission reported.

Average annual basin rainfall ranges from 40 inches in the northwest to more than 56 inches in the southeast. Annual runoff averages 13 inches, according to the TWC report.

Water was termed excellent in existing Lake Tawakoni, Greenville Reservoir, Lake Gladewater, Lake Cherokee and Murvaul Lake. Satisfactory to excellent quality water was found at the proposed Kilgore, Cherokee Reservoir No. 2 and Toledo Bend, Big Sandy, Rabbit, Carthage, Stateline, Tena-ha and Bon Wier Reservoirs.

Additional studies of water quality at the proposed Lake Fork Reservoir were recommended.

POLLUTION BY SALT WATER — At the request of the Railroad Commission Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is reconsidering his opinion that the Texas Water Pollution Control Board has jurisdiction and permit-granting power over oilfield waste disposal.

Oil operators told a special committee reviewing the opinion that much of the oil industry has not accepted the new Board's jurisdiction, and look instead to the Railroad Commission for disposal regulation.

Water conservationists support the Board's authority, claiming that the 1961 Legislature gave the Pollution Control Board jurisdiction over pollution by oil and salt water in Art. 7621d.

TRAVEL WRITERS' TOUR — Texas Tourist Development Agency is looking at West Texas for a repeat of its successful April tour for out-of-state travel writers.

On the first go-round, the agency led the writers from Dallas to San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Houston and several other cities in the eastern half of the state.

In November, they plan to take them to such favorites as Palo Duro Canyon, El Paso and Juarez, Davis and the Davis Mountains, Guadalupe Peak, Fort Clark and Alamo Village at Brackettville.

Feature articles in metropolitan dailies and national magazines already are reflecting the favorable reaction to what the writers saw in Texas on the first tour. Agency spokesmen feel the result of the valuable free publicity should mean more tourist dollars in every Texan's pocket this summer.

HOSPITAL BUDGET DRAWN — State Hospital Board has requested a $128,600,000 budget for the next two-year fiscal period. It includes a $28,000,000 increase for operating expenses and $13,200,000 for new facilities.

These new institutions would be constructed if the budget is approved by the Legislature: Mental hospitals for Dallas and the Gulf Coast area (4,000,000 each); Special schools in West Texas and Corpus Christi (2,500,000 each); and a food service training school (250,000).

HIGHWAY FACTS CITED — State highway spending has grown from $40,200,000 in 1940 to an expected $450,000,000 this year, reports State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

He also cited these facts: Total Texas highway mileage has increased since 1941 from 20,359 miles to 65,798; autos have increased from 1,700,000 to 5,500,000; Highway Department employment has grown from 7,600 to 16,000.

Greer also noted that while Texas has 22 more metropolitan areas (50,000 or more population) than any other state, it still ranks fourth among all states in rural population.

RAILROAD — FIREMAN FIGHT RAGES — Atty. Gen. Carr said he is going to see how several suits filed against railroads turn out before he decides if he has authority to enter a dispute involving discharge of some locomotive firemen.

TELEVISION TIME

"IT'S NICE TO FEEL THAT I'M SURROUNDED BY SMILING FACES"

Railroad brotherhoods say the state's "full crew law" should be observed although a federal arbitration board award permitted dismissal of firemen on some diesel engines.

Walter Caven, Texas Railroad Association attorney, said several prosecutors have agreed they won't accept complaints involving dismissals of the firemen.

Lubbock and El Paso prosecutors were among those who would not file complaints against the railroads under the full crew law, said E. F. Jergins of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

YOUTH CONFERENCE SCHEDULED — The second annual Texas Attorney General's Youth Conference will be held here July 10-12. More than 1,600 junior and senior high school students will attend.

Delegates will discuss juvenile delinquency, vocational training, public awareness projects, church and youth activities and other projects resulting from the 1963 meeting.

Program is based on the idea that Texas youth can find solutions to their own problems.

Noting that 40 per cent of Texas crimes are committed by youth under 21, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr termed the conference a vital step toward finding new cures to an old problem.

REDISTRICTING HEARING IS SET — First meeting of the Texas Legislative Council Committee on congressional redistricting is tentatively set here for the weekend of May 30.

Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, chairman, said he probably will call an informal session at that time, as most study committee members will be in Austin anyway for President Johnson's address at the University of Texas.

Hearings in major cities over the state, to seek public advice on how to carve up districts on an equal — population basis under court order, will begin after the second primary elections, June 6.

Moffett, Texas' oldest lawmaker in point of legislative service, said he doesn't think the public is nearly as interested in the problem of redistricting as political furor over recent court action indicated.

He indicated there will be no revelation of the study committee's final recommendations for a redistricting bill before the Legislature convenes in January.

MANUFACTURING GROWTH RAPID — Value added by manufacturer in Texas products for 1962 came to $6,300,000 of the $9,700,000 total for the four West South Central States (Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas).

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports total state employment has risen 67 per cent since 1947, and production workers have increased 45 per cent. Automation was cited for the relatively slow growth rate in the latter group. Productivity of Texas labor is high as measured by manufacturing value added per production worker on U.S. Bureau of Census scales. The Texas figure is $52,816 per worker for 1962, compared with $36,572 for Louisiana and $30,946 for Oklahoma.

SHORT SNORTS — Atomic Energy Commission sponsored a conference here, first of its kind outside Washington, D.C., that attracted representatives from New York, California, Kentucky, Mississippi and Arkansas which, like Texas, control their own problems of radio-isotope usage.

Attorney General Carr has notified Willacy County Attorney Miss Edna Cisneros that the county has authority to pay a special prosecutor who assisted her in a murder case.

June 1-15 will be the second enrollment period for the Texas 65 health insurance plan for citizens age 65 and above.

New military draft quota for June calls for 234 men compared with 258 for May in 1963.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain

For the first time science has developed a new healing substance with the tonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain without surgery. In case after case, the gently relieving pain, actual shrinkage (shrinkage) took place. Not only that, but the results were so amazing of all — results were so good that sufferers made statements like "Piles have been a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyned) — a discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form, called Preparation H®. Residents visit mother in Tahoka

Mr. and Mrs. Van Greene came in Tuesday from Tahoka where they have been at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Oscar Roberts, who is seriously ill in Tahoka Hospital.

Mrs. Roberts became acutely ill Sunday shortly after the Greens had visited with her. Her condition worsened and they were called back to Tahoka within an hour after arriving in Morton.

Mrs. Greene returned to Tahoka later Tuesday. Mrs. Roberts is suffering from a cardiac condition. Her other two children live in Tahoka.

CONSUMER SPENDING

Consumer spending for food in 1964 is expected to increase by more than the 3 per cent gain of a year earlier. Gains also are expected in domestic spending for textiles and other farm products. Population gains, higher incomes and a prospective increase in retail prices all contribute to the gain.

Passing thoughts and shifting sands

By Art Wall

Up Panhandle way the cantankerous, twisting, quicksandish Canadian River is gradually being harnessed. To many old timers of Texas who at one time or other have had trouble with the Canadian, they are probably wondering if the unpredictable old girl can be controlled. One hour the old river will be a shallow bit of water peacefully flowing in a sandy bed, and then in the next hour it will be a roaring, billowing wall of mucky water, smashing bridges, widening river banks, drowning cattle, sometimes men, pushing down oil derricks by sheer power of flow, and breaking pipe lines as though match sticks.

The Canadian River rises in Eastern New Mexico in the high plains and flows east across the Texas Panhandle and most of Oklahoma. It is joined by the North Canadian in Eastern Okla. near Eufaula and enters the Arkansas River a little farther northeast. The Canadian of the Texas Panhandle whom most of us West-Texans and Panhandlers know so well is a Canadian River of man moods — and none of them good.

Early pioneer ranchers of the Texas Panhandle who lived along the banks of the Canadian planned the day's work of the ranch according to the actions of the river. If the river was up the cattle on the far bank might as well be on the other side of the Rocky Mountains. If you intended to go into town you better go down to the river bank and see if it could be forded. If you crossed over you never made any bets when you would get back home for the crossing you used might move upstream or down while you were away.

The writer of this column lived on the banks of the Canadian River for nearly four years. Our home was across the river from Sanford, Texas upon a ridge that would now offer a beautiful view of the new Sanford Dam. Those nearly four years with the Canadian River as my closest neighbor, produced quite a bit of excitement, and it was all due to the overhasty, devilish, sandyish Canadian.

The Continental and Stanolind Oil Companies owned a partnership oil lease on the far bank of the Canadian River from Sanford and Stinnett, Texas. "It's a good job," the superintendent of Stanolind Oil Company told me, "you can be your own boss. While you are on this lease we will never see you and you can rest assured we will leave you strictly alone. I'll tell you what — we will even mail you your paycheck." Everything he said was true. Due to the quicksand of the Canadian you were your own boss and arranged the work to suit yourself because no one could get to you to tell you to do differently. They mailed you the paycheck because they dreaded the idea of fording the river. It was a isolated lease and a headache to an oil company. When there was work to be done it was a problem to get men to you. The majority of the time you were left alone. It was a long way to the Pampa, Texas office and always the company feared an accident would happen to you.

I carried sawed boards between the front seat and back seat of my car so that when crossing the Canadian, if I quicksanded down I could jack the car up on the boards and mobile across the river. This meant jacking up and moving the boards a few thousand times till you got across. The Canadian became my athletic instructor — it kept you in good shape. I carried in the truck of the car, chains, cables and car jacks and shovels. Generally someone came along and helped me. No one dared to pass you up. They could be stuck next time.

The odd part of it was we liked living there. There was quail, wild plums and a natural swimming pool with good clean fresh water. Indians had camped there in years past and it was a arrowhead country.

With the memories of the Canadian River as my neighbor for nearly four years, I visited the Canadian River Project Office in Amarillo on Tuesday, April 14th of this year. There are wonderful people in this office and they want you to know all about the Sanford Dam construction.

The Canadian River Project was authorized as a Federal Reclamation Project on December 29th, 1950 for the principal purpose of furnishing water for municipal, domestic and industrial use, controlling floods, controlling silt, and providing fish and wildlife benefits. The Sanford Dam. The total cost is $103,230,000. Of this total $2,937,000 represents flood control benefits and $2,954,000 represents fish and wildlife facilities leaving $97,339,000 to be repaid by the municipal and industry water users. The actual construction cost of the project is $96,880,000 and it is said they are operating a little under this amount. The dam when completed will furnish water to Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and Tahoka. The pipelines vary in size from 96 to 15 inch inside diameter. The plan contemplates that the cities will eventually have to supplement Project deliveries through the use of ground waters.

Reservoir capacity will be 103,000 acre feet of water. The back-up of water is estimated at 26 miles. The damsite is located about forty miles northeast of Amarillo, and about nine miles west of Borger. Their reservoir will be known as Meredith Lake named after Borger City Manager, Mr. A. A. Meredith who worked so hard in promoting this dam. Mr. Meredith died recently. There will be 322 miles of pipe line of concrete pressure pipe and nine pumping stations, the latter operated by remote control. The repaying contract representing all eleven cities was completed November 28th, 1960 and extends over a fifty year period with interest for municipal and industrial water consumed.

Recreation? You bet. Fishing, boating, swimming and camping. It will be the Texas Panhandle's biggest tourist attraction. Already signs around Fritch, Texas close to the damsite denote Canadian River National Park.

Nursing provides a promising career

By GERALD GEYER, member, Council on Public Education Texas Hospital Association and administrator, Memorial Hospital, Seminole

Last week a young lady stopped by our office and commented, "Mr. Administrator, I just wanted you to know that I surely enjoy reading your articles about our hospital. There is so much we don't know about our hospital and your column is most helpful in answering some of the questions that often occur to me. I read your column every week."

During the ensuing conversation she said she wanted to know more about nurses in our hospitals. This week our column is devoted to nurses and the nursing service since the week of May 10-16 honors nurses and is Hospital Week in Texas. Perhaps a short review of the history of nursing would be a good place to start.

Once unplanned

From the earliest days of mankind, some form of nursing service existed to render care to the sick. This was unplanned, unskilled, spontaneous acts of kindness toward a neighbor, a member of the tribe, or even a stranger.

The first efforts to provide programmed nurse training was initiated in 1633, but it was not until 1859 when the work of Florence Nightingale, receiving recognition from the British people to such extent and financial support that the first really formal program for training nurses was established. Miss Nightingale was responsible for making nursing in the modern sense of the word a true profession.

Most hospitals have on its nursing staff four classifications of nursing service personnel. They are the professional registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse, practical nurse, and the nurses aide.

The professional registered nurse is considered the number two person on the hospital health team taking her place alongside the number one person, the physician. She has devoted many hard and laborious hours to the study and practice of her chosen career. She has given three or more long years to academic solutions of subjects allied to medicine including chemistry, sociology, biology, physiology, zoology, botany, anatomy, hygiene, pharmacology, bacteriology, and the list continues. Successful completion of theory and practice earns for the professional registered nurse the privilege and right to don the coveted white cap with the distinguished black band. This uniform cap denotes that she is a graduate from an accredited school of nursing, has passed the state board nursing examinations, and possesses a current license to practice.

Can choose specialty

Unlike many of the "grand ladies" that nursed our grandparents—today's professional registered nurse may choose her specialty and become highly specialized in the field of anesthesia, pediatrics, surgery, obstetrics, public health, general medical nursing, nursing administration, rehabilitation, gynecology, dentistry, and many other related fields. Normally, nurses seeking specialization choose their career during formal schooling; other obtain proficiency by attending postgraduate courses or by in-service training programs conducted by teaching hospitals.

Graduate nurses usually carry out those prescribed procedures which call for skill resulting from a high degree of training. She is capable of rendering total nursing care to the patient; she is qualified to keep a close check on the patient's physical and emotional progress; she plans the sequence of the care prescribed by the doctor and in general, acts as liaison between the patient and physician. Yes, if need be, she can and will make up the patient's bed.

Pipe installation

WORKERS put the finishing touches to the new irrigation installed on the J. A. Taylor farm near Whiteface. The new line ties two wells together, and affords a more flexible and efficient system of sprinkler irrigation. TRIBUNE Photo

Farmer completes new irrigation system work

J. A. Taylor, farming southeast of Whiteface, has completed installation of 1800 feet of pipeline for use in his irrigation system. The new line connects two wells and affords a more efficient and flexible method of sprinkler irrigation.

Taylor began thinking about installing irrigation pipeline in December when he joined the Great Plains Conservation program. At that time he worked out a complete conservation plan to combat water and wind erosion and to improve his irrigation system.

A grassed waterway and diversion terrace are slated for construction to carry outside water coming across his farm into a lake nearby. After completion parallel terraces will be built to control the water erosion on the sloping land below the diversion.

Installation of the irrigation pipelines was made at right angles to the terraces. This will enable Taylor to run the lateral lines with the parallel terraces. The entire system will be completed this winter when Taylor installs another 600 feet of pipeline. According to Taylor the increased efficiency of the sprinklers, the savings in labor costs in moving pipe and the ease of operation should pay for the pipeline very quickly.

In preparing his basic conservation plan, Taylor said, "We must take care of our land in every way possible if we expect to continue to profit from it."

Cotton acreage is explained by ASC

LUBBOCK — One of the most current and relevant questions to reach this office lately has been: "How did such and such county get more cotton acres from the Release and Reapportionment program than my county?" After much discussion with ASC officials on both local and state levels, we will attempt to explain here the "how" of release and reapportionment for 1964.

The number of cotton acres allocated to a given High Plains county through Release and Reapportionment in 1964 was determined by (1) the total acreage available for reallocation to the High Plains, (2) the total acreage requested by the High Plains, (3) the number of acres the county itself requested and (4) a set of rules drawn up by the State ASC Committee.

Only two of the State Committee's rules had any significant effect on High Plains counties. One of these prohibited an individual farmer from requesting acres that would bring his total acres in cotton to more than 50 percent of his total land in cultivation. The other stated that a county could not request acres in excess of 50 percent of its base allotment. Therefore a farmer with 200 acres in cultivation and a 90 acre cotton allotment could request only 10 additional acres to bring his total to 50 percent of cultivated land. True, he could file for more than that but his county ASC was required to adjust his request back to 10 acres before including it in the total county request to the State Committee.

By the same token, a county with a 50,000 acre allotment could request 100,000 additional acres but the State Committee would consider only 50 percent of the county's base allotment, or 25,000 acres.

After all county requests were adjusted in this manner, the total was compared to the total acres available for distribution on the High Plains. It was found that the total available acres came to approximately 20.62 percent of the total asked for, and this factor was impartially applied to each county's adjusted request. Thus if a county's adjusted request came to 1,000 acres, it received 206.2 acres.

Consider three actual examples, in which counties received 3.7 percent, 8.9 percent and 10.2 percent of their base allotments.

LUBBOCK COUNTY farmers filed requests with the local ASC office totaling 234,391 acres. But, Lubbock county cotton allotments already average about 42 percent of cultivated land, so the county office was required to adjust these requests (individually, to keep each within the "50 percent of cultivated land" provision) down to a total county acreage request of only 35,948 acres. When applied to the 20.62 factor Lubbock county got only 7,395 reapportioned acres, or 3.7 percent of its 215,704 acre base allotment.

CASTRO COUNTY farmers requested 56,296 acres from the county ASC office at Dimmitt. After application of the "50 percent of cultivated land" limitation, only 22,790 acres could be requested from the State Committee. This times 20.62 percent gave the county 4,701 acres, or 8.9 percent of its 52,905 acre base allotment.

TERRY COUNTY requests to the county ASC office came to 239,480 acres. But in this case the county limitation to "50 percent of base allotment" came into play. Terry county's base allotment was only 141,347 acres, and the county office could therefore request only 50 percent of that amount, or 70,673 acres. After this adjustment was made and the 20.62 factor applied Terry county was given 14,472 acres, or 10.2 percent of base allotment.

These examples, plus the explanation, should help clear the air as to "how" reapportioned acres were divided among High Plains counties. As to the "why" of it, members of the State ASC Committee contend that this was the most fair and equitable system that could be found and have expressed their willingness to hear suggestions from anyone who has found a better.

Before leaving the subject, however, it might be well to note that this program of Release and Reapportionment, especially from the High Plains viewpoint, has been one of the better things to come from Washington in recent years. Since its beginning in 1961 the program has brought a total of almost 300,000 acres of cotton to the High Plains over and above the area's base allotment.

Gen Tel, Union are still negotiating

SAN ANGELO — The Communications Workers of America representing 2700 General Telephone Company of the Southwest employees in a five state area has neither accepted or rejected a package proposal presented by the company to the union on April 27.

According to a company spokesman, the package proposal now in the hands of the union committee and membership represents payroll costs of more than three times the highest settlement ever made by the company.

Frank A. Lennberg, director of personnel and chief negotiator for the company, said the package proposal includes a general wage increase on a 36-month contract ty 4,701 acres, or 8.9 percent of its 52,905 acre base allotment.

TERRY COUNTY requests to the county ASC office came to 239,480 acres. But in this case the county limitation to "50 percent of base allotment" came into play. Terry county's base allotment was only 141,347 acres, and the county office could therefore request only 50 percent of that amount, or 70,673 acres. After this adjustment was made and the 20.62 factor applied Terry county was given 14,472 acres, or 10.2 percent of base allotment.

These examples, plus the explanation, should help clear the air as to "how" reapportioned acres were divided among High Plains counties. As to the "why" of it, members of the State ASC Committee contend that this was the most fair and equitable system that could be found and have expressed their willingness to hear suggestions from anyone who has found a better.

Before leaving the subject, however, it might be well to note that this program of Release and Reapportionment, especially from the High Plains viewpoint, has been one of the better things to come from Washington in recent years. Since its beginning in 1961 the program has brought a total of almost 300,000 acres of cotton to the High Plains over and above the area's base allotment.

with wages open to negotiation again 12 months and 24 months after the effective date of the contract. He said the company contribution to health insurance would amount to $2 per month per participating employee and would be increased $4 per month in a year. This would be the first time the company has contributed to basic health insurance premiums.

Vacations also would be improved, Lennberg said: Three weeks for 14 years of service this year, three for 13 years in 1965 and the subject of vacations would be opened at the wage-reopener of 1966.

As for pensions, the current company practice is offsetting one-half social security payments as against the computed pension. The company, Lennberg said, has offered a 10-year pension contract, which would this year reduce the social security offset to 40 percent. It would progressively decrease until it would be nothing on June 1, 1973. "At that time, the company would use computed pensions without offsetting the amount of social security derived from company payments," Lennberg said.

The proposal also offered an increase effective January 1, 1965, the amount of guaranteed pension for longer service employees.

"The company is presenting the package proposal informed the union that if the package were accepted in entirety, it would make the wage increase retroactive to January 26, 1964. The offer is completely contingent on acceptance of the proposal with the concept of two-way bargaining," Lennberg said.

Since the package was presented, union representatives have indicated that consultation was held with CWA officials in St. Louis. Also, D. L. McCowan of St. Louis, District 6, director of CWA, visited with Danner in San Angelo on May 6.

Danner said the two discussed the contract now being negotiated but added, "We're not bargaining though. We'll let the bargaining committees do that. We're getting some points clarified and obtaining a better understanding."

Other actions since the package proposal was presented by the company to the union bargaining committee include, according to union officials, mailing to all union employees a summary of the company's proposal. The union has not released for publication any membership comments resulting from the mailing.

Except for bargaining sessions requested on Tuesday morning (May 5) and today (May 7) by the union, the committees have been in recess this week.

Current negotiations which began June 20, 1963, concerned a contract which had an anniversary date of July 21, 1963, but continues in effect until cancelled by either party.

Marvin Collins, of St. Louis, is chief negotiator for the union.

Starting pay cited for new college graduates

Starting salaries for prospective college graduates are of concern to many Morton area young people this spring.

Here's information about beginning average salaries being offered to male college students who will receive a bachelor's degree this year. It should be of interest to many Texans, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

With a few exceptions, the industry making the most job offers also was providing the highest salaries. For instance, electrical engineering students were offered 647 jobs from the aircraft and space industry with an average monthly salary offer of $633. The high was $692, the low, $574.

Other jobs
If the same students were interested in working for the electrical machinery and equipment industry, the number of jobs available would be 226 and the salary average would be $619. The aircraft and space industry ranked highest in the number of job opportunities for five of the technical curricula.

Average beginning monthly salary offers quoted include: Humanities and social sciences, $452; marketing and distribution, $459; business, $453; accounting, $538; Metallurgical engineering, $600; civil engineering, $607; industrial engineering, $610; mechanical engineering, $617; chemical engineering, $612; physics, chemistry, math, $617; aeronautical engineering, $628; electrical engineering, $633.

In humanities and social sciences, job offers were more evenly divided among all the categories of employers. The highest number — 32 offers — came from banking and insurance, with an average salary of $452. From the merchandising — retail and wholesale — field came only 27 offers, but the average salary was a little higher — $468.

PIONEER brand sorghum...

Top performers from one of America's oldest and largest hybrid breeders

Pioneer hybrid sorghum delivers big yields and smooth, low-loss combining... as hundreds of High Plains farmers have already proved.

Research and testing built these dollar-making features into Pioneer sorghum... just as it made other Pioneer products leaders in their fields.

• Pioneer hybrid corn ranks as one of the top-selling brands in the U.S.

• Hy-Line layers, bred by Pioneer's Hy-Line Poultry Farms, outsell all others.

Making Pioneer brand sorghum equally outstanding. That's the goal of Pioneer sorghum breeders. Headed by J. Roy Quinby, former head of sorghum breeding at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Pioneer's sorghum improvement program now ranks as the country's largest.

You can put Pioneer's breeding experience to work on your farm by planting Pioneer hybrid sorghum. See or call me.

... to a lake resort in General Telephone Country

Texoma - Water Wonderland

This great lake lying in the romantic Red River Valley, is one of America's most popular resort centers, with favorite access routes through General Telephone towns such as Sherman, Whitesboro and Gordonville. Seventy million people visited it in recent years exceeding Yellowstone National Park attendance. More than 8000 boats from small craft to luxury yachts make highways of its sparkling waters. Its millions of visitors are attracted by facilities which range from convenient camp sites to luxurious resorts, with overnight lake-side accommodations for 1500 or more people. It is, in fact, a water wonderland for swimming, fishing, boating, skiing and all water sports — a shining example of fabulous places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

There's a PIONEER sorghum to fit your farming conditions

Regardless of your soil's fertility—whether it's dryland or irrigated—whatever your needs or farming conditions, there's a Pioneer grain sorghum for you. And like hundreds of other High Plains farmers, you'll like the high, harvestable yields you get with Pioneer brand grain sorghum.

Short, stiff stalks, uniform head height, good head exertion and strong standability all add up to smooth combining with Pioneer grain sorghum. Your combine takes in less plant to get the grain. Harvesting losses are cut to a minimum. This means more grain across the scale next fall.

Ask your Pioneer salesman about the varieties for your soil and planting plans. Remember, you're on safe ground with Pioneer brand sorghum.

Local Business

A major oil company for two years has pioneered in a type of advertising which may revolutionize national product advertising.

The company diverted $13,000,000 from national media to local newspapers in communities where they had dealers. The newspapers ranged in size from the smallest weeklies to large dailies.

The change to the small community newspaper was an unusual step in an age of centralization of national advertising. But the move paid off. To local consumers, the great international company took on the character of a local institution, aiding local dealers and supporting the local news medium.

The oil company did something else which was considered drastic among national advertisers. It included detailed copy, often running over a thousand words in each advertisement.

Because the copy was interesting and because it offered valuable information to readers on automobile maintenance it was thoroughly read. Even the company was amazed by the interest in its advertisements.

After a year of experiment the company was so pleased it repeated its approach.

The lesson here is two-fold. And it applies to local as well as national advertisers:

1. All business is local and products must be sold at the local level regardless of the size of the company; and

2. If advertising copy promises something to the reader it will be thoroughly read regardless of the length.

The revised edition of the U.S. DA's Insecticide Handbook is now available. It is the first edition to cover household and house plant insects. The usual coverage is devoted to recommendations on other insecticides. MEAT IMPORTS

U. S. imports of all red meats in January-February 1964 totaled 186.7 million pounds, 13 per cent less than the same period in 1963. Beef imports were 11 per cent lower; pork imports were about the same; lamb imports were down 22 per cent and goat meat imports were down 51 per cent, according to the USDA.

AGRICULTURE EXPORTS

In the first eight months of this fiscal year, U. S. agricultural exports totaled more than $4 billion; exports for the year are expected to reach $6 billion. Strong gains have been registered by wheat, cotton and feedgrains. Poor harvests abroad last year were a major cause for the upswing.

Extra weekend of shooting this fall seen as possibility for deer hunters

Austin, May — Texas deer hunters may get an extra weekend of shooting this fall, if official action being contemplated is carried through.

Will Odom, Chairman of the State Parks and Wildlife Commission, said here Wednesday that the three Commissioners are currently giving study to the advisability of advancing the opening of deer season to November 14 in certain counties under regulatory authority where the season has traditionally opened November 16.

If approved by the Commission, the new date would provide an extra Saturday and Sunday at the start of the season. The presently scheduled opening is on a Monday.

Odom said that the proposed advanced opening date will be presented at a series of public regulatory hearings scheduled in counties throughout the State during June. Reaction from the meetings will be evaluated by the Commission at its regular quarterly meeting in July, he said, where a final decision on the action will be reached.

"It is the thinking of the Commissioners that opening of the deer season on the weekend of November 14, rather than the following Monday as now scheduled, would provide better hunting opportunity for thousands of Texans," Odom explained. "The Saturday and Sunday will enable many father-son hunts the first days of the season without interrupting school schedules, as well as enable many workers to take part in opening of the season who would not be able to do so on a Monday."

Odom pointed out that most predictions are for a substantially increased deer population this fall.

Reese AFB plans aerial show May 30

Introducing its new F-105 Thunderchief aircraft to the South Plains, the Air Force's Thunderbirds precision aerial demonstration team will present its fastmoving display of flying skill at 3 p.m. on Memorial Day, May 30, at the Reese Air Force Base. Open House will be held from 1 to 5 p.m.

The Thunderbirds, who have appeared three times previously at Reese, flew their first demonstration in the F-105 at Norfolk, Va., April 27. The display includes a specially tailored flying routine to make maximum use of Thunderchief power and versatility.

Among new maneuvers are two which graphically illustrate the brute force of the Mach-2 fighter. In a high-speed versus slow-speed pass, one of the Thunderbirds' two solo pilots flies the length of the show area at minimum air speed such as might be used in a close air support role while the other flashes by at 700 mph. All maneuvers are flown at subsonic speeds to prevent sonic booms.

The added thrust from the Republic's F-105's afterburner comes into play in the slow-speed half Cuban eight in which, with an entry speed of only 275 mph, the 15-ton Thunderchief literally stands on its tail as it pulls up and goes over the top at 3,000 feet.

To demonstrate further the skill of Air Force pilots, coupled with performance of the aircraft, the Thunderbirds at Reese will use five and six ship formations.

In the five-card loop, the aircraft are positioned like the spots on a five in a deck of playing cards.

Both solos join the basic four-plane diamond formation for the six wedge pass and victory roll.

The public is being invited to attend the Thunderbird demonstration and to see the display of aerospace aircraft on the flightline. A variety of fighters, bombers and transports are expected to be on hand.

The Thunderbirds go through a pre-planned sequence of loops, rolls, whiffers, corkscrew changeovers and cloverleaf turns, climaxed by their famous "Bomb-burst", in which the planes in the diamond formation climb vertically in front of the audience and break away to the four points of the compass, trailing smoke like a bursting skyrocket.

Thomas Carlyle said: "An educated man stands, as it were, in the midst of a boundless arsenal and magazine, filled with all the weapons and engine which man's skill has been able to devise from the earliest time."

Applying these words to the American scene they become more important than when written. More than ever before in the world's history, it is the educated man and woman, the trained young people, who will find themselves working and participating members of an exciting society in the next few decades.

If you take advantage of the opportunities offered young people today, you will, as Carlyle indicated, stand in a boundless arsenal, equipped to meet the problem of the future as an individual.

That is why your graduation is so important. You have completed a part of your education and training, but it must not stop. You must seek more education and training if you are to find a place for yourself in the era of great technological change now taking place in this country.

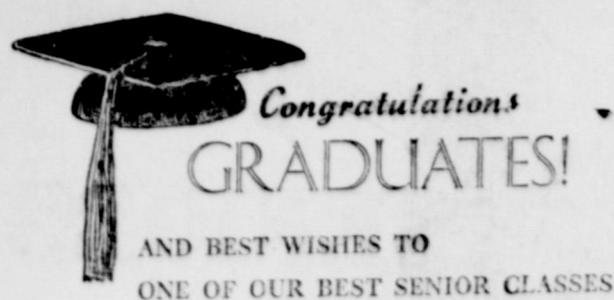

We urge you to prepare yourself to the full degree of your ability.

And now we join your family, friends and the entire community in wishing each of you well in whatever endeavor you may plan for the future.

Le Fleur Club plans installation

Le Fleur Garden Club met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Willie Taylor with Mrs. W. W. Williamson, president, in charge.

Plans for an installation breakfast were made. The breakfast will be held at 9 a.m. in Golden Arrow Room of Wig Wam Restaurant on May 28. Mrs. Charles Jones of Cochran County Garden Club will serve as installing officer.

There was discussion of a flower show to be held in September by Le Fleur.

Resignations of Mrs. J. D. Glass and Mrs. Truman Doss were accepted with regret. Mrs. Joe Gipsen was selected first vice president to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Glass. Mrs. Roy Hill treasurer instead of Mrs. Doss.

"Dahlia, Culture and Care" was title of the program given by Mrs. Don Samford.

Refreshments were served. The guests attending were Mrs. Robert Taylor and Robert Jr., Mrs. Hershel Tanner and Cindy.

The following members were present: Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. W. A. Woods, Mrs. Samford, Mrs. Eugene Bedwell, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Doyle K. Brook, Mrs. Connie Joiner and Miss Jennie Allen.

MHS girls working as volunteers

A number of Morton High school girls have volunteered their services to Morton Memorial Hospital and Roberts Memorial Nursing Home.

The 17 girls are Home Economics students who took a Red Cross Home Nursing course under Mrs. A. E. Sanders. It is in connection with the home nursing and their desire to put theory into practice which prompted the girls to volunteer their services.

The group work in pairs after school at both institutions Monday through Friday. There also is a group on Saturday at the nursing home.

A pink and white checked pinafore and white blouse has been adopted as uniform by the girls.

The young women began their volunteer services in early May. They assist the nursing staffs with such duties as serving patient's trays, refilling water pitchers, tiding bedside tables, errands for patients as well as the nurses and such other duties as the charge nurse assigns. They are at all times under the direct supervision of a floor nurse.

Schedule and students at the hospital from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. is tentatively: Monday: Jeanetta Rowden and Deana Jackson. Tuesday: Loree Jonas and Barbara Hansen. Wednesday: J'Tuan LeWallen and Nancy Webb. Thursday: Peggy Ramsey and Linda Blackstock. Friday: Margaret Hansen and Sherry Lynch.

At the nursing home same schedule: Bennie Smith and Wanda Smith; Sherry Lynch and Margaret Hansen; Loree Jonas and Donna McMaster; Deana Jackson and Jeanetta Rowden; Nancy Webb and Linda Blackstock.

The Saturday schedule at the Nursing Home: Beverly Criswell and Kay Peterson, 9 until 11 a.m. Peggy Ramsey and Barbara Harvey, 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. Claudette Lewis and Mary Carillo, 5 until 6 p.m.

Nurses at both Morton and Roberts Memorial say the students are a wonderful help not only to the nursing staffs in both places but as a morale booster to the patients.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Davenport announce the birth of a son, April 20, at Morton Memorial Hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 1/2 ounce and has been named, Robby Lloyd. The Davenports have a daughter, Shellie Diane. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Skaggs and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Houghton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hawthorne of Knickerbocker visited with friends here last week.

Space theme is used at YM Club installation

A Space theme was used in decorations and installation ceremony for Y-M Junior Study Club installation-dinner Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Lowell Webb.

Mrs. H. B. Barker of L'Allegro Study Club was installing officer. As she outlines duties of incoming officers each one was representative of a rocket part.

"The initial thrust, launching and carry-through requires the combined effort of officers as well as members, otherwise the rocket's goal cannot be achieved," Mrs. Barker told the group.

Suspended satellites marked places at rocket centered tables for four. A space helmet filled with roses provided a focal point of interest.

Mrs. Eli Douglas, outgoing president was unable to attend because of illness in her family. Mrs. Dexter Nebhut served as her proxy.

A gift to the club from Mrs. Douglas was presented to Mrs. Ray Lanier. Corsages, courtesy of Y-M, were given to Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Lanier and Mrs. Douglas. Mrs. Douglas also was given a gift of appreciation by the club.

Officers for 1964-65 are: Mrs. Lanier, president; Mrs. Cullen Dansby and Mrs. James Cogburn, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Bill Matthews, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Biggs, treasurer; Mrs. Garnett Bryan, auditor; Mrs. Dave Corley, parliamentarian; Mrs. Jerry Winder, historian and Mrs. Eli Douglas reporter.

Members present were Mrs. Mrs. Wilton Green, Mrs. Leonard Mrs. Wilton Treen, Mrs. Leonard Groves, Mrs. Robbie Key, Mrs. Lanier, Mrs. Kenneth McMaster, Mrs. Nebhut, Mrs. Shiflett, Mrs. Winder, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Dansby, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Corley and Mrs. George Hargrove.

Newlyweds visit in Neal Rose home
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peterson of Peoria, Ill., visited here last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rose. The visiting couple was recently married, she is the former Mrs. A. B. (Anna) Rose, mother of Neal. Before leaving Texas Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were guests in Lubbock of her sister, Mrs. Earl Louder and husband, also in Sanmarwood with Mrs. Peterson's granddaughter, Mrs. Don Van Pelt and family. Peterson is a native of Denmark.

Mrs. Sharon Hawthorne of Livingston visited here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith and family.

"YOU TOOK MY PICTURE... AND I WASN'T READY!"

How concerned we are with the image we present to others! And it is right that we should be. How mightily we influence others. It is so important that the self we present is one that will influence others for good.

With guidance from God we will be ready to present ourselves to the world in such a manner as to sway others toward God and all that is worthwhile and good.

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God," come to His Church this Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

News from Three-way

By Mrs. Arthur Cooper

Courtneys honored

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Cass Stegall was the scene of a farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney and son Pat last Friday evening. Co-hosting were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fine, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Warren, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Julian, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Galt, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wittner. A five-piece silver tea service was presented to the Courtneys; also a gold-engraved plaque was presented to Mr. Courtney by the students of Three Way High School in appreciation of his services as principal the past four years. Mrs. Courtney has been school tax-assessor for three years.

A cook-out meal of fried chicken and all the trimmings was served to about fifty guests. Afterward, games of "42" and "84" were enjoyed by those present.

The Courtneys will leave soon for Ft. Collins, Colo., where he will take an eight-weeks course in data-processing. In September, the family will move to Athens, where he will be an I.B.M. instructor in Henderson Junior College, and Mrs. Courtney will be a dorm mother. Mr. Courtney holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees. The community will miss them very much.

Mrs. Reeves has surgery

Friday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, Mrs. R. L. Reeves of Goodland underwent surgery for removal of a tumor located just under her jaw near her right ear. Tests showed the tumor to be malignant, but it is contained, and the surgeon considers it to be completely removed. Mrs. Reeves will begin treatments in about one week.

Vacation Bible School

Vacation Bible Schools will begin the week following the dismissal of school in Three Way Community. Three Way Baptist have their school May 25-29; and Maple Baptist Monday through Friday June 1-5. Three Way Methodist have a five-day school June 8-12, with Enoch's Methodist Church joining them.

School dates

Three Way Baccalaureate service will be held in the gym May 20, beginning at 8:00 p.m. Eight grade graduation is the following evening at the same time and place; senior commencement is May 22, same time and place.

Societies meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the Methodist Parsonage May 11, for program and fellowship. Present were Mesdames H. W. Garvin, Rayford Masten, D. V. Terrell, and Arthur Cooper. A business meeting for making reports was held Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Tommy Galt.

WMS met

Womans Missionary Society met at Three Way Baptist Church on May 11 for the regular program.

Youth group meets

Members of the Fidelis sub-district of the Methodist Youth Fellowship met at Three Way Methodist Church Monday evening May 11. Election of officers was the chief task of the business session.

Mike Eggers of Morton was elected as the president for the new year beginning June 1, and Davis Benningfield of First Methodist Church Levelland is the new counselor. Jay Elms of Amherst, and Mrs. Melvyn Dutton of Littlefield, the former president and the counselor, installed new officers, including president; vice-president, secretary - treasurer, publicity, and five council-members.

An outstanding program on the ecumenical church was given by members of Bledsoe MYF. After recreation and refreshments in the Fellowship Hall, the group took part in worship led by MYF from First Church, Levelland. Fifty-eight youth and sponsors attended. Awards given for the year were best host church - Amherst; best worship of year - Littlefield; best program of year - Three Way MYF.

Local

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Garvin went to Dimmitt Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of a nephew, Clyde Davis, 34, who was killed in a car wreck late Friday evening.

Attend tea at Tahoka Sunday

Mrs. Connie Gray, president of Town and Country Study Club, and Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, member of Town and Country and third vice president of Caprock District TFWC, attended a tea Sunday afternoon in Tahoka honoring Mrs. Fred B. Hegi, TFWC teacher of the year.

Phoebe K. Warner Study Club hosted the tea at T Bar Country Club, Tahoka.

Mrs. Hegi has taught Home Economics in Tahoka since 1935. Her husband is a bank executive there, and they are parents of two sons.

Mrs. Harold Drennan and Mrs. Roy Gentry visited last Thursday in Lubbock.

Three Way commencement to be Friday night

Commencement exercises for the senior class of Three Way High School are to be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the school.

Graduation address will be given by Dr. Robert Collmer, academic dean of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Baccalaureate services were held last night at the Three Way Methodist Church with the Rev. Ruth Cooper of that church presenting the main address.

Valedictorian of the 1964 class is Wenonah Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Williams, Maple and the salutatorian is Linda Klutts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Klutts, Goodland. Third ranking student scholastically is Karen Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eubanks, Maple.

Junior High graduation is slated for tonight at the school with Charles E. Gibson, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, Portales, New Mexico, serving as principal speaker.

Joy Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eubanks, is valedictorian and the salutatorian is Gayle Gant, Monte Tombs is the third ranking student.

Other members of the Three Way senior class are Ginger Ann Carlisle, Bill Cunningham, Shirley Fine Dupler, Glenn S. Harris, Gloria J. Herrera, B. B. Johnson, Bobby Ray Kindie, Kay Lemons, Charles Moore, Kenneth Ray Petree, Glenda K. Tarlton, John C. Tucker, Jerry Gale Thomas, Vic Tunnell and Gary Welch.

Class colors are red and white, class flower is the red rose and the class motto is "Forever Forward."

Speaker Collmer, not only an administrator, is a scholar whose articles are published in several learned publications. His special field is the Renaissance and his writings in this area have been read before the South-Central Renaissance Conference for which he is a regional representative and also a member of the executive committee. His understanding of higher education has also resulted in several published articles and invitations to speak before both church and civic groups.

Continuing his education beyond his college degrees, Dean Collmer has conducted independent research at the University of Leiden in Holland and at the Library at The Hague. He has also served as visiting professor of English and American Literature at the Instituto Tecnológico in Monterrey, Mexico, under a Smith - Mundt grant.

While at Instituto Tecnológico

he assisted in the establishment of a program for training future teachers of English and American language and literature, the first such in a Latin - American university.

Dean Collmer's teaching experience also includes three years as assistant instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, where he obtained the Ph.D. degree, and two years at Philadelphia College of Bible. He holds the B.A. and the M.A. degrees from Baylor University, the latter with "distinction." Before coming to Wayland he taught at Hardin-Simmons University.

County Agent's report

By Homer Thompson

Screwworm program

97,547 450 sterile screwworm flies were released April 28-May 2.

Seven screwworm cases were confirmed last week. Previously unfested counties reporting cases were Bee, Karnes, and Kenedy Counties. Infestations also were discovered in Live Oak (2), Atascosa and Uvalde Counties.

Sixteen Texas counties reported screwworm infestations during April compared to 78 counties a year ago. Only 8 percent as many cases were experienced in April 1964 as in April 1963 and only 1 percent as many as during April 1962. To date, 36 screwworm cases have been reported for 1964, while during the first four months last year, 611 infestations had been detected. New Mexico has not yet recorded any cases.

A sterile fly distribution center is expected to become operational at Douglas, Arizona, this week; this is the first center to be established outside of Texas.

Eradication officials said that this action was prompted by the increase in eradication and control activities in the area in Mexico below Arizona, where a buildup in screwworms could threaten New Mexico and other states in the eradication area, much as they did last year.

Information on tornado

This was another example of why emergency preparedness is so extremely important. Family Survival Plans along with adequate shelter would probably have saved the seven lives lost in Wichita Falls on April 3, 1964. Tornadoes can strike anyplace at any time, but are most prevalent from April through June. Now is an excellent time for any group to have an educational program on tornado safety.

The Wichita Falls tornado took seven lives, injured 113 persons, left an estimated 400 persons homeless, caused an estimated $3,000,000 property damage in Wichita Falls and an unofficial additional $10,000,000 damage at Sheppard Air Force Base and damaged or destroyed an estimated 240 homes.

Fire blight damage

Fire blight, the most destructive disease of pears in Texas, also attacks hawthorn, spirea, pyracantha and other plants and it occurs in all areas of the state.

Each spring tell-tale signs of the disease begin to appear. Blossoms, twigs and leaves are attacked and after infection by the bacterial disease, they turn black and cling to the tree. Invasion of large branches, trunks, collars and roots may result in death to a part or all of a tree in one season.

The bacteria live through the winter in deep-seated cankers under the bark of large limbs. With warmer weather, these cankers omit a bacterial ooze. Pollinating insects move through this material and carry it to blossoms during the flowering stage. Blossoms become infected and entire limbs may be killed by this initial infection. During the year, blowing rains may also scatter the bacteria to other parts of the tree.

Control is difficult. A combination of pruning out diseased branches, removing the diseased blossoms and a spray program will give satisfactory control where only a few trees are involved. It is more desirable to remove the twigs during the summer when the disease is not active. If cankers or infected limbs are removed, pruning equipment should be sterilized after each cut is made. Cuts should be made well below the infected zone, and in the case of canker removal, well into healthy tissue and down into the roots if necessary. The recommended treatment is good whitelead or commercially prepared tree paint applied to the wounds.

Streptomycin has shown considerable promise for fire blight control. It should be applied when 10-25 percent of the blossoms are open and at 5 to 7 day intervals until a total of 3 to 4 applications are made.

The control program may have to be carried on for several years in order to completely clear up infections.

Rainbow installation to be held on May 29

The public is invited to attend Morton Rainbow installation at 7:30 p.m. May 29 in Masonic Hall. Miss Jane Luper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Luper, will be installed as Worthy Advisor.

Miss Denise Rose of Lubbock visited here Mother's Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rose.

Roger Jones

Miss Leverett is degree candidate

Sally Leverett, Morton, is one of 70 students scheduled to receive a diploma from Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock, Texas, on May 22.

Miss Leverett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Leverett, 705 E. Buchanan, has completed requirements for the Associate in Science, one of three diplomas conferred by the junior college.

Miss Leverett entered LCC in the fall of 1962.

Commencement exercises are set for 8:00 p.m. Friday, May 22.

Patrol investigates 2 rural accidents

Highway Patrol investigated two rural accidents in Cochran County during the month of April according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person injured and an estimated property damage of $900.00.

The rural accident summary for Cochran County from January through April of 1964 shows a total of 6 crashes resulting in no persons killed, three persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $2,500.00.

Schools will soon be out and children will be popping out in all directions. They will be running from behind parked cars, trees, or shrubs. Watch for children coasting down sloping driveways and streets. Another dangerous spot is around bridges along highways where children may have been playing, swimming, or fishing underneath the bridge.

This means that motorists must be constantly on the alert at all times during the summer months for children popping out from unexpected places. Remember, children are unpredictable. The Sergeant stated, "Let every child be a living warning sign."

American Cotton Congress slates silver anniversary in June meeting

The American Cotton Congress will hold its Silver Anniversary meeting June 5-6 at the Raleigh Hotel in Waco.

Theme of the conference is "Cotton's Past, Present and Future."

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, Congress chairman, said meetings are divided into three areas — production and marketing, research other than with production problems, and foreign trade and outlook.

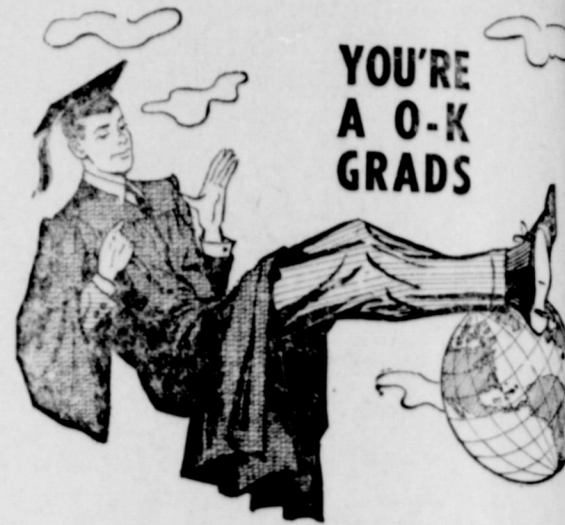

Among speakers on Friday will be Dr. M. K. Horne, National Cotton Council economist, who will speak on the current economic status and outlook for the cotton industry. Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy also will be on the Friday program. His subject will be "The New Cotton Program and a Look at the Future."

J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station and sub-committee chairman for Saturday's program, said the final session will deal with production and marketing.

He said topics and speakers are: "Advanced Technology and What It Means to Efficient Cotton Production" by Dr. Grady B. Crowe, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Stoneville, Miss.; "Contributions of Research," Dr. H. O. Kunkel, associate director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University.

Others are "Contributions of Education," John E. Hutchison, Director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University; and "Contributions of Processing for Maximum Utilization," Vernon Moore of the United States Cotton Ginning Laboratory, Leland, Mississippi.

Earning your diploma is not always easy in this fast changing space age—

Nursing home extends appreciation for help

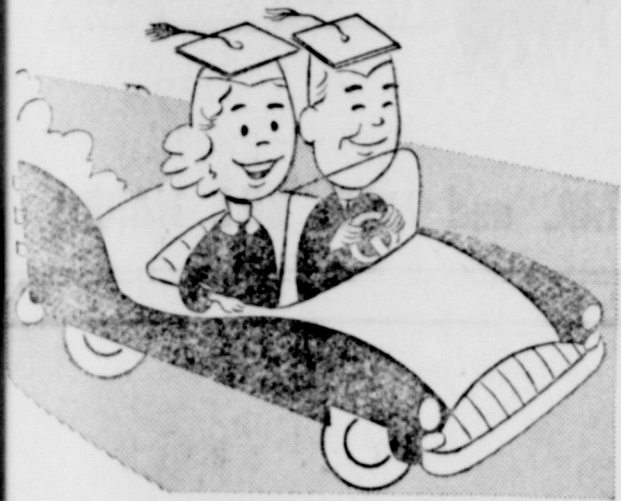

Bert Memorial Nursing Home is to express their appreciation for the many thoughtful extensions of help from different organizations and groups who have been most helpful in many ways: a group of Brownies visited the nursing home, brought fruit and sang songs.

The High School Girls from the Home Economics Department have been going out several evenings a week to help with serving the patients in their rooms, and some have helped get the patients to the dining rooms, and to entertain.

The many other individuals and groups too numerous to mention that have been doing so many things and helping are being thanked too. These patients really do appreciate anything done for them and want each one to know their feelings.

Mrs. Cox performs honors at installation

"To Plant a Garden is to Walk with God," prefaced the installation of officers for Cochran County Garden Club by Mrs. Willard Cox Monday night.

Mrs. Cox, member of Town and Country Study Club commended club members for the landscaping and beautification project at Morton Memorial Hospital saying, "I think we all walk a little closer to God by seeing and enjoying this beauty."

"Happiness is what each of us seek, we may compare our seeking with gardening, first we seek out flaws, after eliminating these we should show seeds of Kindness, Contentment and Truth . . . but the seed that surpasses all is love," and we should all cultivate good habits," the installing officer told the group.

As each officer was installed Mrs. Cox presented her with a rose. She closed the installation by quoting a poem 'Toast to Happiness' by Edgar A. Guest.

Mrs. Bobby Travis was installed as president; Mrs. J. T. Holloman and Mrs. Bud Thomas as first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Truett McCuiston, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Jones, parliamentarian; Mrs. Wayne Porter, secretary; Mrs. Murray Crone, librarian and Mrs. Harold Arant, reporter.

The dinner meeting and installation was held in the home of Mrs. W. B. McSpadden with Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, Mrs. Cherylne Inglis, Mrs. Wayne Porter and Mrs. T. M. Tanner assisting with hostess duties.

A tall, curved arrangement of orchid iris, white mums and English ivy in pedestaled crystal container flanked by triple crystal candlesticks with orchid candles centered the serving table, which was covered in floor length pink net over taffeta. Silver and crystal appointments completed the table decor.

Tables for four were covered with pink net, centered with sherry glasses containing nose gays in shades of pink and orchid, with swirls of pink chiffon about the base. Plate favors were plastic containers of hand lotion with imprint of Morton Memorial Hospital.

In addition to those mentioned the following attended: Mrs. Gene Cade, Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, Mrs. A. E. Sanders, Mrs. Don Workman, Mrs. Hattie B. Spotts, Mrs. John Haggard, Mrs. C. B. Jones and Mrs. H. A. Barnes, associate member.

Gifts of appreciation from the club were given Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Holloman, immediate past president.

This weeks favorite recipe was submitted by Mrs. L. F. Hargrove. Although a restaurateur Mrs. Hargrove also is a fine home cook. The recipe given is a family favorite, in the amounts given will serve four to six persons.

Prune Pudding

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup sweet milk
1 cup cooked prunes
1/2 cup flour
1 heaping teaspoon baking powder

Sauce

1 cup sugar
2 cups boiling water
1/4 cup butter

Mix well the first five ingredients and pour batter in greased pan. Brown and melt slowly one cup sugar pouring over the two cups of boiling water, add one fourth cup of butter, pouring this sauce over the batter. Bake 35 to 40 minutes.

Mrs. Hargrove, the former Katherine Greer, was born in Denton County, moving with her family to the Plains in her teens. She is a graduate of Littlefield High School, where she served as pep squad leader and editor of the school annual.

Kate, as she is affectionately known to practically everyone in the Cochran area, has many interests. She has been a member of the 1936 Study Club since 1939 and has held practically every office in the organization.

While her children were in school she took part in school activities, was a room mother, president of Parent - Teacher Association and helped in the organization and maintenance of a Teen-Canteen.

Taking part in community affairs she has served as fund campaign chairman for the Red Cross and March of Dimes.

Kate and husband, Luke, are parents of two children, Mrs. C. E. (Dot) Hogan, Santa Susana, Calif., and a son, George, who lives here. They have five grandsons.

Kate is a member of the First Methodist Church and served as church pianist for a number of years. She was president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service for four years. Also served as an officer in Brownfield District of WSCS. For several years she was superintendent of the Cradle Roll Department of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Willis met his father, F. B. Willis Sr., in Ft. Sumner Tuesday and he returned home with them. The senior Willis, 84, traveled from his home in Grover City, Calif., by bus to another son's home in Ft. Sumner. This weekend the Willis Clan will meet here for a family reunion.
