County Voters Still Behind On '66 Poll Tax Payments

Deadline Just 3 Days Away

Poll tax totals climbed to 1,215 in Mitchell County as of 1:30 p.m. Wednesday with the Monday deadline drawing dangerously near for those potential voters still without a receipt.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Montie Hardegree told the Record Wednesday afternoon that Mitchell County citizens had been coming into his courthouse office "steadily" throughout the week.

Hardegree said the rush should hold out through the week and reach "standing in line" proportions by the Monday deadline.

Last years paid poll taxes and exemptions added up to 1,788, but it was an off-year for the election of officials. Thus, from all indications a great many local citizens have still not paid the $1.75 tax.

In 1964 when the people were faced with a presidential election plus other top spots including governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and congressman poll tax payments shot up to a total over 2,200.

Also, in 1964, a number of county and precinct officials were up for election here and that should have swelled the poll lists to some extent.

A representative from the tax office was on hand at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Lions Club is expected to have a similar person present at their Friday luncheon.

County Quiet

Politics on the countywide basis have remained relatively "quiet" thus far with no unexpected entries into races. At this time only competition in sight is for the Justice of Peace in precinct one.

In that race incumbent Judge T. E. Arnold is pitted against local service station operator Leonard Henderson and Fred J. Smith.

Incumbents already announced include County Judge Elmer Martin, County Clerk Gilbert Leach, District Clerk Bill H. Erwin, Precinct Two Commissioner Drue Cawthron, Precinct Four Commissioner Moody Richardson, County School Superintendent Roy Davis Coles and County Treasurer Mary Post.

Considerable action was stirred last week as Eldon Mahon entered the congressional race against incumbent Omar Burleson of Anson for the 17th District spot.

State Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater announced intentions to run for that position in the 72nd District — a new one composed of Mitchell, Howard and Nolan counties. He has served one term in the legislature from the old 80th District of which Mitchell was also a member.

State Rep. Roger Browne of Big Spring will be competing with Dickson for the Demo nomination.

Browne was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late J. Ed Carpenter of Coahoma who died during the last legislative session.

Poll Tax Purchase

BOBBY NORTHCUTT, left, was in the office of Tax Assessor-Collector Montie Hardegree Tuesday afternoon to purchase his 1966 poll tax for voting in the year's elections.

A Voting Citizen

ALVIN BYRD of Westbrook buys a poll tax for his wife from Mrs. Pete Humphreys of the county tax assessor-collector's office in Colorado City. Mr. Byrd gets a free vote for the 1966 election.

ABILENE STOCK SHOW

Top Steer Exhibited By DeLynn Grisham

DeLynn Grisham, 14-year old Mitchell County 4-H Clubber, took top honors in the Abilene Fat Stock Show Tuesday exhibiting the grand champion steer.

The prize winning steer belonging to Miss Grisham brought a top sale price of $1,500 in bidding Wednesday morning.

Her steer was purchased by the five Abilene banks including Citizens National Bank of Commerce, First National, First State and Abilene National.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Grisham exhibited a 864 pound Hereford named "Little Joe" to the top spot of the show in competition with 201 other entries.

Miss Grisham is in her first year of feeding stock under the local 4-H Club program under the direction of County Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

Donald Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, had the grand champion Southdown lamb — the top mutton breed of the show.

Smith sold his lamb to Humble Oil and Refining Company for $175.

Tony Sparks of the Colorado High FFA also had a Crossbred lamb slated for the sale. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sparks.

In the swine division Robert Cox exhibited the reserve champion Chester White while his brother, Richard Cox, entered the first place Chester White in the heavyweight class. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Cox.

The reserve champion Poland China was exhibited by Woody Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anderson, who also entered the third place Hampshire in the lightweight class of the Abilene show.

AT BALLINGER

Wolves Win One; Face New Test

Colorado City's Wolves held their ground in the District 5-AA cage race Saturday with a 58-49 thumping of the Winters Blizzards.

The charges of Coach Caddo Matthews face another tough test Friday night when they take on the Ballinger Bearcats in that city.

Ballinger is expected to take advantage of the home court edge in seeking revenge for an earlier 67-68 victory by the Wolves.

Coach Matthews said he was expecting a "real hard game" with the Bearcats.

Wolf starters for the tilt will be Mike Hillhouse aind Gary Parker out front—Wayne Snowden on the post—and Donnie Higginbotham and Jerry Franks at the for ward positions.

Senior guard Mike Hillhouse led all scorers for the night tossing in 22 points despite being hampered by an ankle injury.

The victory brought the Wolves' district to 4-2 and left the C-City crew well within range of front-running Anson.

Winters got away to a 22-18 first period lead, but held only a one point advantage at halftime after the Wolves rallied to make it 32-31.

In the all-important third quarter Colorado City outscored the Blizzards 16-8 and took a 47-40 bulge.

The Wolves then managed to get a scoring margin in the final period to hold onto the win.

Wayne Snowden scored 13 points for the winners and Jerry Franks dumped in nine.

Gary Parker and Donnie Higginbotham hit seven each.

Coach Caddo Matthews commended sub guard Artie Butler for a fine defensive effort in the contest.

C-City B-team was edged out by the Winters quint 48-45 in the preliminary tilt Saturday night.

Donkeys and Jaycees Vie

Excitement of donkey basketball play returns to Colorado City Friday night at 7 p.m. in Wolf Gym when two groups of Jaycees tangle in what should prove to be a "very interesting" battle.

The contestants have been billed as the "Best Donkey Riders in Town" — though this title may prove to be a misnomer before the evening is over.

Proceeds from the Friday night "spectacle" will go to the Jaycees' committee for youth and sports.

The committee, headed by chairman Lacy Boles, is currently sponsoring a boxing team, made up of local competitors for participation in the Abilene Golden Gloves in February. Some 40 boys have shown up for workouts since their initiation last week.

Farm Numbers Drop Over United States

Number of farms in operation in 1965 declined from a year earlier in 47 states and remained unchanged in 3 others, bringing the national total to 3,380,000, 3 percent under 1964.

Total land in farms decreased, less than 1 percent from 1964, yielding slowly to encroachments of urban and suburban extensions, widening highways and other nonfarm uses.

A similar reduction in farm numbers and land in farms is predicted for 1966. Farm numbers 1959-1966 declined 20 percent while land in farms decreased only 3 percent, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too . . .
Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

New Calvary Auditorium In Planning

Work is currently underway on plans for a new Calvary Baptist Church auditorium seating over 300 persons.

Architect Walter Deal of Roscoe is in charge of the project and rough plans are expected in the next two weeks according to Rev. Don Laing, church pastor.

Deal's work will be presented to the church's building committee for study. Paul Stewart is chairman of the committee whose members include J. D. Bolin, Cecil Schafer, Wayne Claxton, Harvey Humphreys and O'Neal Bloom.

The new addition to the church is designed to tie into the master building plan.

The auditorium, which will be used for the church's worship services, is expected to cost between $30-35,000.

Under the current setup a portion of the church building is used for the worship service. After the new auditorium is completed, the present building will be used entirely for educational purposes.

ASSETS NOW $4 MILLION

Colorado Federal Had First Meeting In 1934

Colorado Federal Savings and Loan has experienced remarkable growth since its founding in 1934.

J. B. Elliott, currently serving as president of the organization, was the original secretary of the group when it organized in 1934.

R. F. Fee, who is a board member and vice president at this time, also served on the original board of directors.

Elliott said the founding organization began with the sum of $100,000 subscribed.

From that small beginning the organization has grown to the point of now having assets of $4 million and a membership numbering some 850 persons.

Purposes of the organization are primarily to encourage thrift and home ownership through savings accounts and financing of residences according to Elliott.

"Savings accounts are available for individuals, corporations and estates," Elliott said.

The president related that the loans made by the group were primarily for financing home buying, but that loans were also available for minor home improvements and for the purchase of business property.

Colorado Federal Savings and Loan accounts are insured up to $10,000 each by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the federal government.

Offices of the organization are now located at 105 W. 2nd St., the building formerly occupied by the City National Bank until Colorado Federal purchased it in May, 1960.

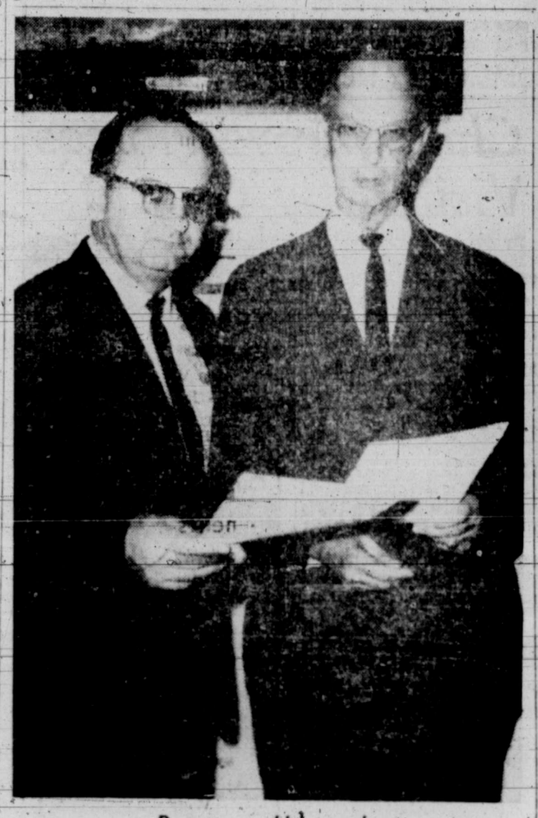

Prior to that time the savings and loan firm had been in the offices now occupied by the Federal Land Bank. In this location the group experienced its greatest growth in assets — from $1 million just after the war up to $3 million on their move to the present location.

During the annual election of officers in January the following slate was selected: J. S. Craddock Sr., chairman of the board and vice president; L. B. Elliott, president; R. F. Fee, vice president and treasurer; W. B. Crockett Jr., secretary; and Mrs. Pearl Lindsey, assistant secretary.

Members of the board include A. L. Maddin, V. L. Moser and John M. Worrell, who is also attorney for the group.

Two past presidents of the group are O. B. Trulock Sr., and Hayes Holman.

Among the first subscribers were Philip Berman and M. L. Kirschbaum.

Bozeman Honored

CORLEY BOZEMAN, right, was honored with a certificate and letter from Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien recently for his long years of work in the postal service. At left is local postmaster Arlene Morris.

Rev. Laing Minister

Rev. Don Laing is the new pastor of Calvary Baptist Church replacing Rev. Nell Rogers, who moved to a church in Sweetwater.

The new minister comes to Colorado City from Fort Worth. His last pastorate was in Urbana, Ark. From 1958-60 he served as pastor of the Dunn Baptist Church.

He is a graduate of Hardin Simmons University and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

In past years Rev. Laing has worked as a printer on various newspapers including the Snyder Daily News, Fort Wort Star Telegram and Abilene Reporter.

He and wife, Barbara, are residing at 967 E. 15th St.

They are the parents of four children — Jan, 10, Paul, 7, DeWretha, 3, and Sonya, four months.

Rev. Laing is a native of Hobbs N. M.

PERFORMANCE THE CHEVROLET WAY

The standard engine in both the Chevelle SS convertible and hardtop is a 396-cubic-inch Turbo-Jet V8 with 325 hp. The standard transmission is a fully synchronized 3-speed with floor-mounted stick shift. (Yes, you can order a 4-speed or Powerglide. Strato-bucket front seats and console, too.) And the SS 396 chassis comes complete with firm-riding, flat-cornering suspension and wide-base wheels with red-stripe nylon tires.

Is this the kind of no-compromise road machine you're looking for? Drop into your dealer's and point an SS black grille toward an open stretch of highway. You'll find out—quick.

Ruth Coffey's CONVERSATION CORNER

EVER stop to consider that the more things you love the happier you are? Defining happiness has been simplified since Schulz, artist who created 'Peanuts', came out with his "Happiness Is a Warm Puppy."

Happiness is a thing of degrees. It can be sharp as a razor . . . like the sight of a son returning home, safe, from war . . . the birth of a healthy child . . . an anniversary brimful of memories.

Those are big happinesses.

But happiness is a world of little things, too! Happiness is snow clinging to the stark branches of the locust tree and spreading the branches of the tall evergree that guards First Baptist Church lawn.

Happiness is icicles, clear as glass, outlining the squares of the wire trellis by the bedroom window . . . icicles hanging like sabers along the eaves of the house and like crystal daggers on the fence posts.

* * *

HAPPINESS is an electric blanket . . . Happiness is remembering where you put your granny gown last spring.

Happiness ih homemade vegetable soup simmering for a tired man's supper . . . It is the children in the kitchen chopping pecans for the platter of fudge.

Happiness is a pot of coffee and a stack of Sunday papers . . . a warm fire . . . and the family cat stretched out at peace on the rug.

Happiness is a car that starts when the temperature is down to six degrees . . . Happiness is a snow man . . . Happiness is old-fashioned boiled custard from the pan on the back porch . . . Happiness is sittin' with the shoes and girdle off just watchin' Perry Mason . . . Happiness is a little interval of doin' absolutely nuthin'.

* * *

CONVERSELY, did you ever stop to realize that the more things you let yourself hate the unhappier you are?

What makes you miserable? If it's weather, then you are in for a lifetime of misery . . . and if it's what you haven't "got," there's no end to your misery. No end, ever.

Misery is envy . . . misery is ingratitude for the blessings you do have . . . Misery is the "Holier than Thou" look at life . . . Misery is regret . . . remorse . . . guilt . . . Misery is the fine impluse denied, put off, not carried out. Misery is doing wrong — and knowing it.

Those are big miseries.

MISERY, like happiness can be a world of little things, too.

Misery is a pair of shoes one size to small . . . Misery is over-eating . . . Misery is drawing a bath only to find the water less than lukewarm . . . Misery is a fingernail broken to the quick.

Misery is reading a fascinating magazine mystery story and finding "To Be Continued" where the climax should be.

Misery is remembering at five o'clock that you left the breakfast dishes in the sink.

Misery is answering the phone at 7 a.m. only to hear "wrong number."

Misery is a cold in the head. It's a run in the new nylons. Misery is a spurt of temper — from any direction.

Misery is anything that interferes with happiness . . . with the glad-to-be-alive feel . . . the melody of a heart well pleased with this-here world.

Volleyball Season

Colorado High girls got their volleyball season off to a victorious start Tuesday night in Wolf Gym with two wins over the AAAA San Angelo Central High School teams.

Attendance at many volleyball games is at times down since many folks simply aren't too familiar with the sport.

It does, however, provide exciting action to view and many sports fans would get quite a bit of enjoyment from the game once they began seeing the contests.

From all appearances the CHS teams of Miss Carolyn Bauman are going to turn in some sparkling performances this year and all of us would do well to give them our support.

'My Shadow Ran Fast' By Sands Reviewed By Mrs. Gibson At Club

A book review of the dramatic first person story, "My Shadow Ran Fast" written by Bill Sands, was presented by Mrs. L. B. Gibson Friday afternoon for members of the Hesperian Daughters Study Club.

Mrs. Gibson began her vivid review by asking "Who is Bill Sands?" As a youngster he was a violent, law-breaking convention defying young thing . . . Today Sands is a different man."

Prefacing her resume of Bill Sands tragic and rebellious boyhood was the writer's own introduction. "This is the way the trouble started . . . a chain of bitter events that didn't come to a halt until I was 23 years old."

His mother was brilliant, witty, charming and idolatric in her merciless beatings of her son. His father, kindly in appearance, an inspired speaker, a brilliant attorney and a Superior Court Judge, made no attempt to show love for the boy. His parents were divorced when he was 12.

After the divorce of his parents, Bill Sands began to learn what cruel punishment at the hands of his mother meant.

"That my mother showed me no love hurt me, naturally. But I consoled myself with the thought that she must be proud of me. Her friends complimented her on my behavior . . . She taught me to love Mother, God and Country. In that order. But she did not love back," Sands' story of his life relates.

Taught by his mother that his father was disgraced, and had become an alcoholic wreck, Sands did not know that he had been deceived until he was 16 and saw for the first time in four years, his own father. By that time, both his parents had remarried. A visit with his father for lunch brought Sands the most severe beating in his life at the hands of his mother. That night he left his mother's home and went to live with his father.

"She merely looked at me coldly, then turned and walked away . . . My heart had finally closed. Not only to-ward her, but toward everybody from then on," Sands' story of the visit from an uncle, a graphic account of the de-tarding warden and his brutal treatment of his fellow inmates, the leading bull, Lare of his father, his own blind ding sense of the in-justice began with the visit from the berserk attack on a man in warden. He won recognition the prison after brief solitary, as a model prisoner, studied confinement, bread and wa-

MARKET ACTIVITY SLOW

Bad Weather Slows Area Cotton Classing

Snow and light rain gave cotton ginners a chance to clear their gin yards last week.

Ginners in Colorado City, Big Spring, Snyder, Rotan, and surrounding areas are expecting a moderate rush in harvesting as soon as fields and cotton dry enough for machine strippers to get started. Several ginners from the area north and south of Abilene reported ginning their last bales of the season.

B. B. Manly, Jr., at the USDA's Classing Office said sample receipts remained high until the last part of the week when most gins caught up. The volume classed dropped due to the loss of two classers; however, 30,200 samples were processed which moves the season total to 444,410 samples.

About 6,000 unclassed samples were on hand Friday night.

The most noticeable change in the quality of District 2 cotton was a moderate decline in micronaire readings according to Manly. Twenty-nine percent of the samples miked below 3.3 compared to 15 and 6 for the two preceding weeks. A breakdown of readings looked like this: 1 percent, 2.6 (waxy), 7 percent 2.7 through 2.9, 21 percent 3.0 - 3.2, 24 percent 3.3 - 3.5, and 47 percent 3.6 through 4.8.

Low micronaire cotton entering the Commodity Credit Corporation loan is discounted about $15.00 per bale on 2.6 and lower, $8.25 per bale on 2.7 through 2.9, and $3.00 per bale on 3.0 through 3.2. No deductions are made on cotton miking 3.3 through 3.5 and about 60 cents per bale premium is paid on cotton that mikes 3.6 through 4.8.

Most cotton buyers are discounting low mike cotton the same as does the CCC loan, however, a few also dock 3.3 and 3.4 mikes $1.25 to $1.75 per bale.

Grades of District 2 cotton dropped slightly. The amount of white cotton remained at 7 percent of the total, while the percent of light spotted cotton dropped from 84 to 77 and spotted grades increased from 9 to 15 percent. Tinged, light gray and below grade cotton totaled 1 percent.

Samples reduced in grade because of bark totaled 7 percent and reductions because of preparation increased to 1 percent.

Staple lengths were steady at 1 percent 7/8, 22 percent 29/32, 76 percent 15c16, and 1 percent 31g32.

Market activity continued slow with prices remaining steady compared to the previous week.

Local buyers reported difficulty in making sales and most have a large volume of cotton in stock.

BROADCASTING

Mu Pi Chapter Has Talk By Richardson

Mrs. John Houston was hostess at the first meeting of 1966 for members of the Mu Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi who met in Villa Inn.

Mrs. Bennie Cornutt was in charge of the program and introduced the guest speaker, Porter Richardson. Mr. Richardson, manager of the local radio station KVMC, spoke on the subject "Let's Talk on the Radio."

After his discussion of the technicalities of broadcasting, FCC rules that govern the operation of raido, members participated in a question and answer forum.

Plans for the annual presentation of the Mu Pi Valentine Queen were made during a short business session with Mrs. R. H. Drennen, chapter president, presiding. The Valentine Queen elected by secret ballot, competes in a national contest with other sorority candidates. Judging is by a movie star who selects the national queen.

Attending the January meeting were Mrs. Aubrey Self, Mrs. Mack Key, Mrs. H. P. Ball, Mrs. Bruno Kaulfus, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Drennen, Mrs. Bennie Cornutt; and a new member, Mrs. Repps Guitar.

Dr. Selection With Patient In Medicare

"May I keep my own family doctor if I sign up for the new Medicare plan?" is one of the questions most frequently raised by older people, according to Erven Fisher, district manager of Social Security at Big Spring.

"The answer is "yes," Fisher stated. "The Medicare program will help pay the hospital and doctor bills, but it won't tell an individual what doctor or hospital to go to. He will be free to choose his own doctor just as he always has done. It will be up to the doctor to decide if the patient should go to the hospital, what tests are to be made, which drugs and treatments may be needed, and the length of the hospital stay. No 'government doctors' are involved."

The doctor and patient will also have a choice as to how the bill is to be paid. The doctor can bill the patient, the patient pay the doctor, and then the patient can submit his bill to the medicare plan.

All persons over 65 who have not already enrolled in this new plan should get in touch with the Social Security Administration in Big Spring.

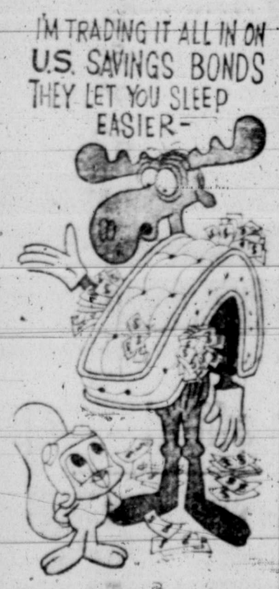

Survey Shows Higher Boll Weevil Numbers

Surveys in 7 Southern States indicate more boll weevils are in hibernation this winter than last in some cotton growing areas.

USDA entomologists cooperating with state agencies made the surveys. In Central Texas more weevils entered hibernation in the fall of 1965 than in any year since 1960 but the increase was slight. Up from 4,406 weevils in 1964 to 4,425 in 1965.

The surveys provide an early indication of the boll weevil threat to next summer's cotton crop.

Texas Screwworm Infestations Increase

Texas farmers and ranchers detected more than twice as many screwworm infestations in 1965 as during the previous year, but the total was still negligible when compared to what they used to experience before the screwworm eradication program came along.

Livestock authorities have estimated that up to one million screwworm infestations occurred annually in the southwestern United States before agricultural researchers learned the livestock insects could be eradicated by overwhelming them with billions of screwworm flies reared in a plant and sexually sterilized with atomic radiation. Sterile flies mate with fertile flies and prevent reproduction. Nearly 17¼ billion sterile flies have been dispersed during the past four years. cept California and Arizona.

Statistics maintaind at the screwworm eradication center, near Mission, revealed that 466 infestations were recorded in 53 counties during 1965. The previous year, a total of 223 cases were found in 65 counties.

The majority of the infestations were detected in counties adjacent or near the United States-Mexico border, leading eradication authorities to believe that most of them were the result of fertile screwworm flies migrating out of Mexico.

In 1964, cases were scattered over much of the state, including the Panhandle and East Texas.

Also contributing to the increase in infestations, according to officials, were weather conditions on both sides of the border which were ideal for screwworms to develop and spread.

Screwworms have been eradicated from all states exwhere eradication activities are currently underway, and a barrier zone of live sterile flies has been stretched across northern Mexico to prevent reinfestation.

Screwworm outbreaks can be expected to continue to occur in states bordering on Mexico, officials declared, until this barrier zone can be extended farther south.

Eradicators hope to expand the barrier in the coming months and thus reduce outbreaks in the United States. They plan to disperse the majority of the flies produced in Mexico this winter and spring to wipe out colonies of fertile flies produced in Mexico this winter and spring to wipe out colonies of fertile flies that could survive near the international boundary.

Construction Groups Meet In Roscoe

Sate Highway officials met with contractors, representatives and local law enforcement officers in Roscoe recently to discuss the planned program of construction now underway on a six mile segment of Interstate 20 between the Mitchell County line and Roscoe.

The pre-construction conference was conducted by Ben R. Wilkinsen, supervising resident engineer from Colorado City, in the Roscoe City Hall.

After outlining the sequence of work to be carried out during the next two years on this approximately $3 million project, other detour schedules and proposed safety measures were discussed.

It was brought out that there will be a time when east and westbound traffic must be routed over the same two lanes despite all efforts to minimize inconvenience to motorists during the construction period.

Sections of the project will be speed zoned during this time with motorists urged to exercise extreme caution.

By the time he was 40, determined never to break the law again, he had traveled arond the world several times, been rich several times, had become an entertainer, and had written for publication an account of his life as cellmate of Carfl Chessman — executed for murder after years of appeal and court fights. Sands married a newspaper woman.

Happiness — or inner peace came to Sands only when he began devoting full time to talks in prisons, in town halls, before Chamber of Commerce, on radio and on TV. Finally he put his message in the book "My Shadow Ran Fast," trying to reach every parent in the country:

"I wish to speak with my heart . . . rehabilitation and prevention are one and the same thing. The lessons that must be learned in order to face life happily are the same for the child in school, the young man or woman in college, or the convict in a penitentiary. If these lessons are taught in the home, church or school we call them prevention. If they are learned in prison, accompanied by pain and heartbreak, we call them rehabilitation."

'Dominoes' Topple On China

SOME REVERSE "dominoes" are unmistakably falling now against Communist China which was one of the hopes held by makers of the U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

And that U.S. policy has not noticeably driven the Russians and Chinese together again; on the contrary, their division may be deepening, with Russia regaining competitive headway as communism's leader at China's expense.

Trust Russia or not, the Soviets' turn toward more peaceable policies formed the basis of their division with China, which demanded war-like militancy in spreading communism. For a while the Chinese policy of violence was taking a wide hold in the world at Russia's expense; and North Viet Nam's success in implementing the war policy was its best showcase.

Since the United States spoiled the display by showing the policy of force would be resisted, as Russia believed it would and China gambled it would not, the Soviets are made to look not only peaceful but prudent, whereas the Chinese are left in the position of appearing to be not only irresponsibly warlike, but impotent.

It would be interesting to speculate what might have occurred by now if the Chinese policy of violence had been permitted to prevail in Viet Nam, with all the discredit that would have cast on the more moderate Soviet line.

But no speculation is needed to list developments that have in fact occurred since the United States met the policy of force with counterforce in Viet Nam.

Cause and connection may be debated. But the facts are that the Algiers conference of neutralists, where China hoped to belabor Russia, collapsed.

Indonesia put down a Peking-oriented uprising and swung away from the Chinese orbit it was entering.

A succession of recent coups in new African nations has interrupted a determined Chinese drive for primacy in that continent.

A little less is heard of China ties in South America and the Caribbean.

Russia meanwhile was instrumental, along with the United States, in stopping — not starting — war between Pakistan and India. (During that period China was encouraging Pakistan to make war and threatening to attack India in support.)

And this week Russia — replacing the United States as Kashmir mediator — brought the Indian and Pakistani heads of government together to talk peace, not more war. Kosygin even posed them together for a picture. And they met at Tashkent, a Soviet city that happens to be closer to jumpy China's Sinkiang border than it is to India or Pakistan.

At the same time, while President Johnson's envoys crossed the world seeking peace in Viet Nam, Russia's influential Alexander Shelepin turned up in Hanoi. The U. S. bombing pause was on.

It is no wonder that China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi launched a bitter new attack on the Soviet Union, accusing it again of conspiring with the United States to stop war and inflict peace. His most telling accusation was that Russia, throughout the recent heavy fighting in Viet Nam, had done nothing to "immobilize" the U.S. military buildup by creating incidents elsewhere in the world. This was, of course, quite true.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Poverty War Undaunted

Robstown just beginning to get a good start in its schools' phases of the War on Poverty — and still harboring grim hopes for ultimate establishment of Robstown Community Action Inc., center staffed by a full-time anti-poverty director, can take heart from the words of the President in his State of the Union message last week.

The decision not to curtail the Poverty War was made despite the contention that the Poverty War should be cut back as an economy measure to more easily finance the Vietnam War.

BUT THE PRESIDENT was not fooled by the voices raising that objection. He realized the complaining voices were from those who opposed the Poverty War to begin with — the same voices that for 35 years and more have spoken against every measure designed to help the people of this nation.

The President put the situation well. "There are men who cry out: We must sacrifice. Let us rather ask them: Who will they sacrifice? Will they sacrifice the children who seek learning — the sick who need care — the families who dwell in squalor now brightened by the hope of a home? Will they sacrifice opportunity for the distressed — the beauty of our land — the hope of our poor.

"TIME MAY REQUIRE further sacrifices. If so, we will make them.

"But we will not heed those who wring it from the hopes of the unfortunate in a land of plenty.

"I believe we can continue the Great Society while we fight in Vietnam."

ROBSTOWN RECORD

'Let The Readers Choose'

IT IS commendable and understandable that Dallas' City Council should properly run this city's business, including the protection of pedestrians on downtown Dallas streets. No sidewalk should be cluttered into the inconvenience of the pedestrian.

But we respectfully request the City Council to reconsider its recent action and permit outside newspapers to be sold on our streets. Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and all legitimate publications who pay the franchise tax and adhere to the rules laid down by the city are welcomed, as far as The Times Herald is concerened.

We believe in the unfettered competitive free enterprise system. We know the City Council does and we know that our citizenry does. We welcome our neighbors from Fort Worth and feel that the editorial voices of these two great sister cities, striving to serve one of the nation's golden metropolitan areas should be heard by all who want to read the newspaper of their choice.

We understand and appreciate the feeling of council members that downtown sidewalks should be orderly. But we also say — let our competitors sell their wares in the free, open market of Dallas.

They're good folks.

Cold War GI Bill Plan

Dear Fellow Texan:

On Monday, January 10th, the Senate of the United States and the House of Representatives convened in Washington to continue working on proposed laws which were left unfinished in the first session of the 89th Congress last year, to introduce new legislation, and to examine the operation of the new laws passed last year to see if they are being efficiently administered.

On the opening day of the ceremonies last Monday, a letter of resignation was read from Senator Harry F. Byrd, Sr., the Senator has served from Virginia with many honors since 1933. A message from the Governor of Virginia appointing Harry F. Byrd, Jr. to fill the vacancy left by his father's resignation was read to the Senate. Then, Harry F. Byrd, Jr. was escorted down the main aisle of the Senate Chamber by the now Senior Senator from Virginia, Willis Robertson. When the oath of office as a Senator was administered to Harry F. Byrd, Jr. of Virginia, by Vice President Hubert Humphrey, there was once again a Senator Byrd from Virginia in the United States Senate. This has a Texas interest, too, because of the great-grandfather of Harry Byrd, Jr. was Adjutant-General of the State of Texas in 1861, and Harry Byrd's grandfather was born in Austin, Texas in 1861.

The reconvening of Congress is always an exciting event for a United States Senator, as colleagues from all 50 states, from Alaska to Florida, from Maine to Hawaii, gather again to consider laws that will determine the future course of all nations and to report their activities during the months of adjournment when they were investigating the different parts of the Nation and the world.

A matter of great personal interest to me, during this first day, was the introduction in the House of Representive of seven new Cold War GI Bills. Two days later, eight more bills were introduced in the House, bringing the total to over 50 GI Bills which were introduced in the House. This is encouraging support for this greatly needed legislation, as the House of Representatives begins to show the same enthusiasm for the GI Bill as the Senate showed when it passed GI Bill by a vote of more than 4 to 1.

In his State of the Union Message, President Lyndon B. Johnson became the first President to recommend special educational and other opportunities for the veterans of this Nation since an executive order terminated the Korean GI Bill benefits on January 31, 1955. All that is needed for the GI Bill now is the passage by the House, and I am hopeful that this session of Congress will bring enactment of this GI Bill.

For seven years I have worked for its passage. The future of 5 million Cold War veterans rests on this passage. Their education, their hopes, their dreams for the future, ride on this bill. For each one day of service they get 1½ days benefits, not to exceed 36 months, which would be a four year college education. The GI Bills of World War II and the Korean Canflict have paid back their cost in increased taxes paid by veterans. This is not a boondoggle, this is a good investment for the Nation that will more than pay for itself.

$100 MILLION RISE

Tax Increase Needed For College Expansion

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — A substantial tax increase will be needed next year to provide for fast - growing state colleges and universities.

Frank Erwin, chairman of the Committee for the Governing Board of Texas Colleges and Universities, estimates that higher education expenditures will go up $100,000,000 for the coming biennium — above the present $432,000,000 budget. That's a hike of nearly 25 per cent.

Some authorities feel that increased expenditures for education will run closer to $170,000,000.

Erwin predicted that college - university enrollments will double by the early 1970's and admitted that the task of providing facilities for all appears virtually hopeless.

Texans, he said, must be as enthusiastic in support of new taxes for education as they were in backing increased appropriations last year.

Other sources said the higher education budget looming next year may reach $650,000,000. In that event about $500,000,000 may have to come from direct taxation.

Should an increase as large as now foreseen become necessary pressure almost certainly would be renewed to hike the $50 a semester tuition fee required at state institutions. In the past, however, legislators have been quicker to raise taxes than tuitions.

After hearing the sobering story of the financial plight of the colleges, the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System settled down to its first meeting of the year.

Board authorized a local election on establishment of a new junior college district to serve the Port Arthur-Nederland-Port Neches area, but postponed until July a decision on a similar institution for Scurry County.

Board members learned that Texas' new $85,000,000 state-supported loan program for college students will be fully operative by next fall.

CANDIDATES FILING — A rash of entries in Democratic primary races for statewide offices indicates there will be plenty of action on the political front this spring after all.

Houston natural gas producer Stanley C. Woods, 43, announced he will take on Gov. John Connally and called for a supporting team of candidates to oppose other major incumbents. State Rep Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline was scheduled to reveal this week whether he will join Woods' "team" as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Hillsboro friends paid the filing fee of Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin for attorney general. Whether he gets opposition from State Sens. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Galloway Calhoun of Tyler is in the hands of the State Supreme Court which has heard arguments on their eligibility to run.

Incumbents Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Agriculture Commissioner John White, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Supreme Court Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith and Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. T. McDonald are among those who have deposited their hats in the ring. District Judge John F. Onion of San Antonio is opposing McDonald.

Liberals still are looking for a Democratic opponent to run against Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr in the race for U.S. Senator.

State Rep. Paul Haring of Goliad already is actively campaigning for Byron Tunnell's seat on the Railroad Commission.

OIL ALLOWABLE EDGED UP — Texas' oil allowable has been edged up for the second month in a row — to 32.7 per cent of capacity for February.

The percentage factor applied by Railroad Commission adds up to a production ceiling of 3,100,000 barrels a day next month. January allowable of 32.6 per cent permitted slightly less. But it was the most promising start Texas oilmen have enjoyed in eight years.

Commissioners, after setting the allowable, went into conference with an Air Force general to learn what effects the accelerated fighting in Vietnam would have on petroleum demands. Best guess at the moment: not too much.

RECREATION GRANT SET — Texas has established eligibility for a $3,500,000 grant from the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund for acquisition and development of state and local outdoor recreation areas.

Will Odom, chairman of Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, said Texas' statewide outdoor recreation plan was approved by the Department of Interior's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Funds will be allocated to the state for sharing among agencies on a city and county level. Included are water improvement districts and river authorities.

Texas' plan may include initial emphasis on development of existing park and recreation areas, particularly those located on lakes and streams.

Parks and Wildlife Department is preparing a manual of instructions for political subdivisions to guide them in making applications to share in the program.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally has appointed John H. Crooker Jr., Houston; William C. Donnell, Marathon; Mrs. Savannah C. Lockey, Troup; and J. L. Huffines, Greenville, to the Board of Regents of the State Senior Colleges. Mrs. Lockey and Huffines are reappointments, Donnell succeeds Ed Gossett of Dallas and Crooker succeeds Newton Gresham of Houston.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed a five-member House committee to study the use of voting machines in elections. Named were Reps. W. H. Miller, Houston Tony Bonilla, Corpus Christi; Don Garrison, Houston; Glenn Johnson, Temple; and James W. Stroud, Dallas.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin, Attorney General Carr, and Texas Legislative Council Director Robert E. Johnson will serve as ex-officio members.

Bexar, Brazoria, Cameron, Dallas, Ector, El Paso, Galveston, Gregg, Harris, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Midland, Nueces, Potter, Randall, Rusk and Tarrant Counties used voting machines exclusively in last year's special election.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith named to the advisory committee on the Commercial Code: Supreme Court Associate Justice James R. Norvell; Tom Arnold of Houston; Prof. Alan R. Bromberg of Dallas; Carroll Cobb of Lubbock; J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin; Stanley Plettman of Beaumont and Prof. Millard H. Ruud of Austin.

To an advisory committee on the Water Code, Smith appointed Judge Joe R. Greenhill of Austin; Victor W. Bouldin of Houston; Joe D. Carter of Austin; Dean Carlton of Dallas; Prof. Corwin W. Johnson of Austin; Neal King of Mission and Roy D. Payne of Austin.

WARMING UP

The Texas Scene

Another in the long series of riffs between Dallas and Fort Worth is brewing following action by the Big D City Council in banning out-of-town newspapers from having street sales boxes.

A year ago the council adopted a rule that only locally printed papers could be distributed on Dallas streets, but only recently has the ordinance been enforced.

A franchise to operate their boxes must be obtained by out-of-city publications at a $8 per cost annually. Police ticketed some 24 downtown boxes and eventually took them off the streets.

City officials say the rule is designed to protect the streets from cluttering.

A distributor for the Fort Worth Telegram has protested the action to the council along with the Dallas Civil Liberties Union. The council says their position will stand pat.

Both of the Big D dailies — Morning News and Times Herald — have urged a retraction of the ban, but thus far to no avail.

The Star-Telegram has urged their distributor to keep trying for a solution in the problem, but if the City Council continues to stand firm — a law suit may be in the offing.

* * *

A race for a spot on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals got off to a rousing start last week as District Judge John F. Onion challenged incumbent Judge W. T. McDonald.

Onion charged McDonald with a "lack of interest" in the work of the court.

* * *

Labor people are still seeking a candidate to run fr Governor and U. S. Senate in the coming May Primary.

Texas AFL-CIO President Hank S Brown said his group desires a candidate that would support President Johnson and his programs. This was an apparent slap at annoinced runner Waggoner Carr who is expected to take a hands down victory in the Democratic primary unless something short of a miracle happens.

* * *

When Congressman Jim Wright dropped from contention, the last of the serious talkers for a race with Carr vanished.

If Carr is the Demos choice to face Tower, it is believed some liberals and laborites may take a "gone fishin" attitude — a passiveness that could leave Tower in Washington for six more years.

* * *

Senator Tower is rumored to be having campaign fund difficulties, but it is thought most of these will disappear by the time the November general election primary rolls around.

It is though that Tower will receive the remaining $200,000 from the coffers of Goldwater's Texas account.

Most sources say that the GOP will "pick and choose" their contests in Texas during 1966 — thus leaving "more money for races where they stand a decent chance of winning.

* * *

Stanley Woods, Houston oilman who last week announced for the Demo nomination for governor against John Connally, has promised an aggressive campaign for the seat.

Woods is reported to be seeking the support of organized labor and was to meet with officials from that group last week.

A possible additional member of the "team" with Woods could be State Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline who may oppose Preston Smith for the lieutenant governorship.

Hollowell is said to be "thinking over" the possibility of getting into the race.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Cat Law

Bitten by her neighbor's Angora cat, a woman filed suit for damages. She based her claim on two points: (1) that the neighbor owned the cat, and (2) that the cat had been trespassing in her back yerd.

But the court held that neither ground was enough to support the woman's claim. The court said ownership alone does not mean liability for a cat's mischief, since it so seldom commits any. As for the trespassing, the court said cats are given freedom to roam — and to cross boundary lines — by common consent of mankind.

As a rule, a cat's victim can collect damages only by showing some previous vicious conduct by the cat. Such conduct puts the owner on notice that his pet is dangerous.

For example:

A shopper, accompanied by her dog, entered a market. The proprietor's cat, which had recently had kittens, promptly tore into the dog. When the woman tried to protect her dog, she herself was mauled by the cat.

In this case the woman did collect. The court pointed out that a cat with kittens is likely to attack a dog, that customers often brought dogs to the market, and that another customer had been attacked earlier in the same manner. Under these circumstances, the court decided the cat was indeed dangerous and should have been restrained.

However, a minor show of temper will not put the owner on notice that he has a feline menace on his hands. Thus another woman, bitten by a cat, was denied damages because the only prior misconduct she could prove was that the cat had once shown his teeth and snagged a girl's stocking.

In short, in view of the generally good record of the species, the law is tolerant of a cat's natural tendencies. And, in that same spirit, the law looks with favor on efforts to be kind to cats.

One woman left money in her will to establish a "cattery" for homeless cats. Although the bequest was challenged as useless to the community, a court upheld it as a valid charitable trust. In the words of one judge:

"A gift for the benefit of animals tends to encourage kindness toward them, promote feelings of humanity and morality generally, repress brutality, and thus elevate the human race."

WHAT'S A CHURCH?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SUSAN'S mother is a wonderful cook. She'll teach her little girl all about garnishes and dumplings and conserves . . . and about dozens of other skills that will help Susan to be a talented homemaker herself, one day.

WE pass our own store of knowledge on to our children because we want to make things easier for them in the future. They will need all the preparation we can give them in order to cope with a life that grows ever more complex.

ABOVE all, we owe our children the opportunity to learn about their best Friend, God. Awareness of His loving presence will give them confidence and courage whatever they do, wherever they go. Through regular church attendance, they can absorb the inspiring principles of Christianity . . . the most valuable recipes for modern living that exist.

REQUIRED TO VOTE

State Demo Officials Urge Poll Payments

State Democratic Party officials are most concerned that Texas voters are under a false impression that they no longer have to pay their poll tax in order to be able to vote in the 1966 elections according to Will D. Davis, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Davis said. "A poll tax receipt or a valid certificate of exemption is still the only 'legal tender' acceptable as an admission ticket into the voting booths of Texas."

The three federal judges who will decide the U. S. Department of Justice law suit to abolish the poll tax in Texas as a requirement for voting also have admonished Texans that they had better pay the $1.75 poll tax levy before the January 31st deadline if they desire to vote this year according to R. H. Ratliff, Democratic County Chairman for Mitchell County. Ratliff said that the judges have indicated that no final decision is probable for several months.

Payment of poll taxes for federal elections is no longer required, but poll tax payments for state and local elections are still necessary. All statewide officials, the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Attorney General, the Justices of the Supreme Court, one of the three judges of the State Court of Criminal Appeals, the State Comptroller, the State Treasurer, the Agriculture Commissioner, the Land Commissioner and one of the three members of the Railroad Commission are to be elected in 1966.

In addition to these offices, due to the redistricting accomplished by the 59th Texas Legislature, all seats in the Texas Senate and House of Representatives will be up for election during the primaries and general election of 1966. In addition to these statewide and district offices, many other district and county offices must be filled this year.

Failure to pay the poll tax before the January 31st deadline will disen-franchise any voter from participating in the election of state, district and county officials.

Partial qualification as a voter is possible through the obtainment of a "Poll Tax Not Paid" certificate, with which the holder may vote for only the offices of U. S. Senator and U. S. Representative in the elections of 1966.

Mrs. Magill Speaker for Esther Class

"Just Around the Corner," was the subject of a devotional lesson taught by Mrs. J. B. Magill when Esther Sunday School Class, First Baptist Church, met in the home of Mrs. A. C. Benson, class president.

Mrs. E. S. Miles, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Magill who said "No one should fear 1966 if he were walking with God."

"The trials that may come in the year can be endured so much more easily if we truly believe the scripture that goes 'I can do all things through Christ who strengths me," Mrs. Magill said. She climaxed her remarks with the resding of a poem.

Mrs. Newt Miller conducted a Bible drill. Mrs. A. H. Jackson, class techer, won the prize.

Before the program a business session was held with Mrs. Benson presiding and Mrs. Paul Beeman speaking the opening prayer. Reports were heard from Mrs. E. V. Grantland, vice president, and from Mrs. C. G. Miller, class ministress.
