RR Commission Hearing Held On Dodson Gas Rate Appeal

Paul Spillman was in Austin Monday, July 11, to represent the City of Dodson in a gas rate hearing before the Texas Railroad Commission.

In this hearing, Lone Star Gas Co. was seeking the repeal of an ordinance passed by the Dodson City Council in May in which it deleted the automatic fuel adjustment clause which had been in effect.

Lone Star Gas Co. appealed the whole ordinance to the Railroad Commission, according to Mr. Spillman, who is the legal counsel for Dodson as well as for Wellington in the gas rate cases.

In this hearing he raised for the first time the question of whether Dodson gas users should pay for gas at the intrastate rate, as they now do, or at the interstate rate, which is cheaper. It is the interstate rate that eastern users pay for gas which they obtain from Texas.

Mr. Spillman contended that the interstate rate should be applied to Dodson's burner tip rate, since part of the gas consumed in that town crosses the state line from Oklahoma, where it is produced.

The Dodson City Council's action in deleting the fuel adjustment clause means that Lone Star gas is losing an estimated 40 percent of its Dodson revenue, Mr. Spillman said.

The gas company was seeking to add a net revenue of $8,034, which it would do through the fuel adjustment clause. ($90.00 is sought in Wellington.)

Under the interstate gas rate, Dodson in receiving gas from Oklahoma purchases, would pay an average weighted cost of 77 cents per thousand cubic feet delivered at the gate. The present intrastate charge is $1.08 MCF at the gate and Lone Star is asking for $1.68 MCF.

"The Gas Company has been charging Dodson rates without any orders authorizing it," said Mr. Spillman. "The purpose of the new ordinance was to keep them from raising rates as they desire."

"What they will have to do to raise rates again will be to post bond to provide a refund to ratepayers should the courts find they are charging too high a rate," he explained.

It was pointed out that while Wellington, which has refused to grant the fuel adjustment clause, is paying $1.07 per thousand cubic feet for gas at the gate, Childress and Memphis, which earlier did grant the fuel adjustment or flow-through clause, is paying $1.68 MCF.

The Railroad Commission will hand down its answer in the hearing at a later date.

Panfork Encampment Due 800 During Four Sessions

Panfork Baptist Encampment summer activities opened Monday, July 11, with 96 junior girls attending, and before the four camps are completed, approximately 800 boys and girls will have had the fun of camping and religious activities.

The secluded and scenic camp along Salt Fork is 12 miles northeast of Wellington.

The Rev. Rick Wadley, pastor of First Baptist Church, Lefors and camp program chairman, said between 35 and 40 Baptist churches in the eastern half of the Panhandle will participate in the summer camp program.

A fourth camp was added this year to provide for all the older boys and girls who are asking to attend. First of the camps is scheduled for Monday through Thursday, July 25 to 29, and the second youth camp will be Monday through Thursday, August 1 to 5.

The junior girls camp will end Thursday, July 14, and junior boys will be at Panfork from Monday through Thursday, July 18 to 22.

Several adults accompany each church group.

Activities for all groups are similar, but each is geared to the age of the participants. There is plenty of time for recreation, both free and directed. A missionary in camp each week opens the youngsters' knowledge to first hand information of people and their problems far beyond the Panhandle area.

There are bible study and devotional sessions, along with evangelistic services.

And there is time set aside for the campers to clean their own cabins. Meals are served from the large dining hall.

Security is tight at Panfork, Rev. Wadley said, and a number of men are on duty at the camp. There is an adult sponsor also for each 8 campers.

Camp personnel includes some of the outstanding pastors and lay leaders of the area.

The Rev. David Campbell of Wheeler is camp director this week, while the Rev. Melvin Hooten of First Baptist, Memphis, is camp pastor. Mary Bearden of Wellington is music and athletic director, and Mrs. Darrell Feemster is pianist. Mr. Wadley is assembly director.

The missionary is Mrs. Garland Threlkeld of Arlington, a missionary in Ethiopia until that country was closed to missionary work.

Teachers are Mrs. Feemster, Anna Brazeal of Sanford, Elaine Bryant of Kelton, Mita Aderholt and Rena Johnson of Pampa.

The Rev. Finis Marchman will be junior boys camp director and the Rev. Jim Scott of Shamrock the camp pastor. Dan Shaffer of First Baptist Director will be music director; Mr. Wadley will return as assembly director and Kim Broadstreet and, music director of Central Baptist church is to be Athletic director, assisted by Glen Blanset of Calvary Church, Borger and James Greer of South Georgia Street Baptist, Amarillo.

Other personnel will include Miss Bryant, pianist; Stanley

C-C Names Directors, Fair Department Heads

Three new directors were named to the board of Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce following a canvass of the election Monday, July 11.

Elected were Dr. W.P. Ester, who returned to Wellington to establish his dental practice; Charles Floyd, administrator of Collingsworth General Hospital and a past president of the Chamber; and Buster Hughes, owner of Ace Hardware, a former Wellington Fire Chief and president of the Panhandle Firemen's Association.

Tommy Thomas, owner of Thomas Nursing Center is the retiring director, and there were two vacancies on the board.

Six additional Collingsworth County Fair Department chairmen were named. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Henard will be in charge of the parade; Mr. Thomas will be the game chairman; Mrs. Haskall Manuel will be the women's department chairman; Miss Jean Chandler the girls department chairman and Mrs. Buster Bounds, art show chairman.

The Garden Club will be in charge of the Flower Show.

The Fair date is Friday and Saturday, September 9 and 10. There will be square dancing on a downtown street Friday night, and a carnival will be located on the block immediately north of Southwestern Rail Products, Inc., according to Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary.

Chamber directors agreed to sponsor a tennis tournament scheduled tentatively for Wednesday, August 10, with Richard Sims, Randall Sims and Lee Templeton in charge of arrangements. They will recruit a number of helpers,

Quail School to Open August 15 in Church

Quail School will open Monday, August 15, at 9:00 a.m., with classes to be held in Quail Baptist Church and possibly in portable buildings. Supt. Wilford Arthur announced this week.

"We will have classes outside if necessary," he added. "One of the newer trends in education is outdoor classes, and although we didn't plan it that way, we can do it."

Mr. Arthur said the school board is still waiting for word from Bob Schneider of the Emergency Disaster office in Washington, D.C.

The board also voted to accept bids on portable buildings to be used for classrooms. Further information on these can be secured from Mr. Arthur at the temporary school office opened in Quail.

Two additional faculty members were added, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thornbill of Lubbock.

He will be principal and coach, succeeding Bill Wilson, who joined the Hollis, Okla., coaching staff. Mrs. Thornbill, Judy, will teach special education, succeeding Miss Nicky Ware, of Wheeler, who resigned.

Mr. Thornbill is on the coaching staff of Estacado High School, Lubbock. A Texan, he graduated from the University of Georgia, where he played football. His wife has her degree from the University of Colorado and has taught special education several years. The couple have three children, 10, 4 and 5 years.

The couple wants to get into a small community, according to Mr. Arthur.

Their election fills all vacancies on the faculty.

Four-Weeks ECA Course Announced

An Emergency Care Attendant course will be given in Wellington from August 16 to September 13, under local sponsorship of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service.

This course is for those who want to work with the ambulance service or who would like to know more about handling health emergencies that may arise in their day to day living. It is not required that those who take the course join the ambulance service, explained Marshall Peters, vice-president.

It is a 24 hour course, with classes each Tuesday and Thursday, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room.

Instructors will be Mr.

Peters and Tom Anderson, the ambulance service co-ordinator. They will be assisted by Carl Knoll and possibly other certified teachers from Shamrock.

On September 13, those completing the course will be tested by representatives of the Texas Department of Health Resources, possibly Eric Kunish and Clint Vardeman of the Canyon office.

The ECA course will be co-ordinated through Frank Phillips College at Borger. Those successfully completing the course will be issued continuing education credit and will be certified by the Texas Department of Health Resources as Emergency Care

Cities Map Plans for Rate Hearing

City Councilman Wayne Cudd and Paul Spillman, the city's legal counsel, represented Wellington's interests in Austin Tuesday, July 12, as an effort is made to hold down gas rates.

The two participated in a pre-trial conference with representatives of approximately 20 other towns in which Lone Star Gas Co. is seeking gas rate increases.

Procedures were worked out which will be used in presenting the cities' case before the Texas Railroad Commission later this month.

Mr. Spillman said that Wellington's case has been consolidated with cases of about 20 other cities. He will serve as one of the attorneys.

In a meeting last week, representatives of these cities formed a coalition and Mr. Cudd was asked to serve as a member of the steering committee.

Mike Hubbard, city attorney at Iowa Park, accompanied Mr. Spillman to Austin and participated in the hearing.

Dodge to Compete at AAU, Hall Makes Points at Borger

Fifteen-year-old Dane Dodge proved himself a consistent winner as he hurled the 12-pound shot put 46' 4 1/2" to take first place in the West Texas AAU Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet in Borger Saturday, July 9.

He competed in the Intermediate Division. Dodge and second place winner Ron Mayo of New Deal, whose distance was 43' 10 1/2", are eligible for the Region IX Track and field Championships, Saturday, July 23 in Corpus Christi.

Winners at the Corpus Meet will advance to the National AAU Junior Olympics Championships in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Antelope Count Completed in Panhandle Area

The census of pronghorn antelope population in the Panhandle was carried out by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists.

After figures are completed and combined with the count in West Texas and the Permian Basin, and the fawn replacement figures are calculated, then the number of permits to be issued for the coming hunting season will be known.

The Panhandle count in 1976 was down a little, was a winner at Borger.

Kevin Hall, also 15, placed third in the 120 yard high hurdles. It was his first AAU competition in that event this summer. He will go to Corpus Christi if either the first or second place winners are unable to attend.

The 120 High Hurdles have not been included in the preliminary events, and the one other time he tried to compete, he had to run in the 100 yard dash.

Hall missed qualifying for the Regionals by only .1 second. Stumbling as he came out of the blocks at the start of the race, he had to come from behind. Nevertheless, his time was 16.3.

First place winner Scott Martin of Spearman finished in 15.16 and second place Mike Northcut of Muleshoe made in 16.2.

This was not Hall's best time at the Borger meet, for he tallied 16 flat in the preliminaries. He had a 15.9 time during the regular track season last spring.

although this year, the pronghorn antelope populations are registering a slight increase in some areas.

There are an estimated 10,000 antelope scattered over West Texas, with approximately 60 percent of the pronghorn antelope found on the mountains of the Trans-Pecos. The remainder of the herd is split about evenly between the Permian Basin and the Panhandle.

Mr. Kilgo will be the assembly director again and Rev. Messer the athletic director, Miss Bryant remains as pianist.

The missionaries will be Mr. and Mrs. Stan Stepleton, missionaries to Oregon, Washington and western Canada.

Teachers are to be Ron Harpster of Calvary Baptist, Pampa; Rev. John Hansard of Mobeetie; Rev. Preston Harris; Rev. Leon McMahan of Snyder; Doris Dow of Dumas. The sponsor teacher is the Rev. James Brandon of First Baptist, Clarendon.

The first movie that actually told a story was "The Great Train Robbery," made in 1903.

The 6'3" Hall will celebrate his 16th birthday Friday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy K. Hall and will be a junior in Wellington High School this fall.

Dodge was disappointed at his distance Saturday. He reached 48' at the preliminary contest at West Texas State and was aiming for 49' at Borger. Although he fell short of this mark, his distance was enough to win him the top honor.

Dodge, who tips the scales at a little over 250 pounds, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dodge.

He is somewhat shy and lost his first contest at Tascosa, Amarillo, but has won every meet since.

Only man uses spoken and written language to express ideas, emotions, and commands, says Dorothy Taylor, specialist in family life education with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Kersten Has Leg Surgery

Emil Kersten underwent surgery in High Plains Hospital, Amarillo on Tuesday, July 5, for the amputation of his right leg below the knee.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ronald Kersten, said this week that he is "doing real good" and the family believes he may be able to come home by early next week.

A circulatory problem made the surgery necessary.

Mrs. Kersten has been with him since he entered the hospital June 28, and his sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kersten of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kersten and Kathy, have been with him part of the time.

Others visiting have included Mrs. Jess Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin of Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rutkowski of Dimmitt, also Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner, Judge and Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson of Quail, and Rev. and Mrs. Ken Johnson.

At least 20 persons are needed in the course, but the number should be held below 30, Mr. Peters said.

About half of the class time will be spent on instruction and lectures and the remainder on practice.

Those interested in taking the course should contact either Mr. Peters or Mr. Anderson.

Both are certified instructors from the Texas Department of Health Resources and accepted by Frank Phillips College and approved by the Texas Education Agency as instructors.

There is one variation in the dates, with classes scheduled for Friday, September 2, instead of Thursday.

The first non-stop trans-Atlantic flight was made by Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten Brown in 1919. Brown repeatedly had to climb out on the wings to hack off thickening ice.

Tigers Win Little League Title

BY JUDY HALL

The Little League Tigers took the Wellington LL title Thursday, July 7, in a game that left the championship in doubt down to the last inning.

Career Orientation Held for Youths in Summer CETA Work

Career orientation for Collingsworth County's 25 CETA Summer Youth Program participants was held Wednesday (July 6) in the County Courthouse.

This was held by the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation to prepare the students for future careers. New regulations requiring labor market orientation for all CETA participants went into effect this summer.

Collingsworth County was allocated $30,088 for the summer job program. The 25 participants, who must come from lower income or underprivileged families, perform a variety of jobs throughout the county, including work in the county tax office, the National Guard armory, county library, and public schools and in other jobs.

Mrs. Jimmie Sessions, TPCAC Region 5 Coordinator, said the primary criteria for a potential employer of the participants is a willingness to train the students.

David Duncan, TPCAC vocational coordinator said that even jobs which require little training such as weed chopping or grass mowing, they provide a valuable experience for the youth.

"Many of the students have never even established a single reference for future job applications and this program is one of the few opportunities these students have to obtain a little spending money, training and reference."

Duncan explained to the participants that the funds for the summer jobs come from the federal government, "which is nothing but the taxpayers-your parents and your neighbors."

"There is a general misconception that CETA is a federal welfare program. To me, welfare is when you get something for nothing. CETA participants are performing services and jobs for their communities in return for their salaries."

During the orientation Duncan and Mrs. Sessions stressed the importance of preparing accurate and truthful job applications, medical histories, and resumes.

"Even though you may not think cleaning toilets is much of a reference when you go out to apply for a job, it does tell him that you aren't afraid of hard work."

Mrs. Sessions said she has been appalled at the number of students who have had no instruction in how to apply for a job.

"I have even had college students come up to me and tell me they had never had such counseling before and how much they would have benefitted if such a program had been offered years ago."

Following the two hour group orientation the participants were counseled individually by Duncan, Mrs. Sessions and summer youth counselor Bruce Dollar.

Duncan said all CETA summer job participants receive $2.30 per hour and work 40 hours per week. The program will continue until the last of August.

Mrs. Magee Heads Family Land Heritage Program

County Judge Zook Thomas has announced the appointment of Mrs. Clyde Magee, as chairman of the Family Land Heritage Program for Collingsworth County.

Mrs. Magee has operated her family's ranch in the northwest part of the county since the death of her husband. She makes her home in McLean.

The Texas Land Heritage Program is sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture, Reagan V. Brown

Commissioner.

It is designed to honor those families who have owned and continuously operated a farm or ranch for 100 years or more. Mere ownership of land for that period does not qualify owners for the program. It seeks to honor those farms and ranches who history of agricultural productivity in the same family has been continuous and uninterrupted for a century or more.

Families who qualify will be given a certificate in the name of the land and listed in the Family Land Heritage Registry.

The deadline for submitting entries is August 15.

Collingsworth County was created in 1876, and there were farmers and ranchers in the area prior to its organization in 1890.

Those wishing additional information, or who believe they may qualify should contact Mrs. Magee.

Wellington Family Visits Rayburn Library, Home

Mr. and Mrs. John Birkey and children, visited The Sam Rayburn Library and the Sam Rayburn Home in Bonham, Texas, recently.

The Sam Rayburn Library was established to preserve the books, papers and historical mementos collected by Speaker Rayburn during his more than fifty years in public office.

They were especially impressed with the Speaker's Office which is identical to the office in the Capitol building occupied by Mr. Rayburn. The original furniture is in this room, including the crystal chandelier which was at one time in the White House.

The Library contains mementos tracing Mr. Rayburn's career from a Fannin County farm boy to his position as the second most powerful man in the country, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, a position which he occupied longer than any other person in the Nation's history.

They also visited the Sam Rayburn Home which is about one mile west of the Library on Highway 82. All of the original furnishings are there and it is a tribute to his love of simplicity. It in itself is mute testimony to the greatness of this outstanding human being.

There is no admission charge to either the Library or Home.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mize and children during the past weekend were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mize and Mr. and Mrs. David Turner of Mineola.

YOU CAN BANK on It!

By BILLY MOSELEY President

CITY STATE BANK
There are a lot of free services available to bank customers that no one ever realizes. One of those is called "float". Although float is hardly ever publicized as a free service, that is exactly what it amounts to for the customer.

Here's how it works: If you receive a check from someone out of town and you deposit the check in your account here, float becomes effective. When you deposit the check here you have the "immediate" use of the money . . . you can pay the grocer, utility bills, rent or whatever without having to wait. Meanwhile the bank is waiting for the money to be transferred from the other bank (sometimes three days or longer).

Proper economic definition of float is, "two credit balances represented by the same funds". That's for the record. For you, it's another service your bank is happy to provide.

We keep working to make our service the best you can find . . . you can BANK on it!

Use your Refrigerator Wisely...

★ Open and close the refrigerator and freezer doors only when necessary. Several items can be removed at once to reduce loss of cold air.

★ Freezers and refrigerators operate most efficiently when filled to the correct capacity. Foods should be placed slightly apart on refrigerator shelves for correct circulation.

★ Cover all liquids stored in the refrigerator (especially frost-free models). Moisture is drawn into the air from uncovered liquids making the refrigerator work harder.

★ Be sure your appliance is standing level so that the door seals properly. By setting a glass of water on the top, you can see if it is level.

Miss Hightower and Mr. Thornburg Marry in Vernon Church Ceremony

Miss Ann Hightower and Richard Burton Thornburg, Jr. were married at First Baptist Church in Vernon Saturday, July 2, at seven in the evening. Dr. Bill R. Austin, pastor of University Baptist Church in Abilene performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Rufus Spraberry, pastor of First Baptist Church of Vernon.

The bride is the daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. Jack Hightower, of 2719 Mansard Street, Vernon. Her father is Congressman from the 13th District, which includes the Panhandle and part of North Texas.

The bridegroom is the son of R.B. Thornburg of Pasco, Washington.

The setting for the ceremony was a background of greenery and three candelabra of votive candles entwined with garlands of smilax. Boston fern, white caladiums, white chrysanthemums and areca palms were banked on either side into a garden setting. Hurricane lamps nestled in greenery marked the aisle and completed the decoration.

Traditional pre-nuptial music and selections for the bride were presented by Brent Stratton, organist of First Christian Church, Wichita Falls. These included J.S. Bach's "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring," Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" and for the processional and "Psalm XIX" as the recessional. He also accompanied Mrs. Al Jordan as she sang "Eternal Life," "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Hightower gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a Victorian gown of white chiffon. The high necklined bodice was of re-embroidered Alencon lace on English net, gathered to accordion pleats of chiffon ending at the empire waist.

Complementing the bodice were bell sleeves of accordion pleats which were accented by a deeply flounced edge. The pleated ruffle motif was extended to the hemline which fell into a chapel length train.

The veil of bridal illusion, accented with lace medallions was attached to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace and seed pearls, and extended onto the train. She wore an antique gold and pearl pin which was worn by her mother at her own wedding and which belonged to her maternal great-grandmother. She carried a cascade arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Attending the bride as matron on honor, was Mrs. Brian C. Kilgore of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Miss Amy Hightower and Miss Alison Hightower, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Neal T. Jones, Jr. of Hillsboro.

They wore identical sleeve-

A Suggested Assist for Wellington's Housing Shortage

New people moving into Wellington and those here temporarily with the construction boom the town is experiencing this summer are all for the good.

But it has brought with it the most acute housing shortage the town has had in a number of years.

Right now, rental housing and apartments are needed desperately. Anyone who has a place he is willing to rent should contact Margaret Vines at the Chamber of Commerce.

Some of those coming here to live permanently will be cared for in the home subdivision and apartment complex being planned. Others do not have that long to wait. They need a place to live before school starts. Still others cannot bear the cost of a new home, however much they would like one.

This raises the question of how many older houses there may be in Wellington that can be remodeled and reconditioned into comfortable, attractive homes. How many rental units could be added if this type of house was updated.

The almost prohibitive inflation in home building in the last few years has brought a country-wide rethinking on the feasibility of remodeling the older home. Many things are to be considered and certainly the structural soundness is most important. Often, because a house is run down doesn't mean it is not worth remodeling.

Perhaps a hard look at some of Wellington's older houses is called for.

Status of Women

A newly recognized offshoot of women's increasing independence is only just beginning to show up in American society, but it is one which will have considerable impact as time goes on and more and more women work into positions now held more or less exclusively by men.

Sociologists are coming to grips with the fact that ranking systems, for class, status and power, have heretofore related to only one half of the population—the male half—and that changes will be bound to come in ranking as changes come in women's work.

Traditionally the status of the husbands was conferred on his wife and children. The family was linked to the occupation system only through the husband's work—and his status determined the status of the whole family. If the wife worked, it was almost assumed that her job would not be on a status level above that of her husband, though she might be on a competitive level. In our present society where women have access to education, occupations and income on a par with men, it is reasonable to assume that women will aspire to the highest positions that their resources will help them attain.

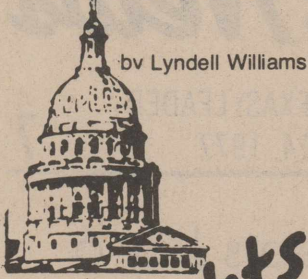

As more and more women enter fields heretofore traditionally masculine such as law, medicine, business, engineering, they will come to view their participation in the labor force as a significant status symbol—above and beyond and separate from the deference entitlements they derive from the occupational positions of their husbands.

And, too, as more women choose to remain single, or are the female heads of families, they will and should demand equal financial benefits. They should not be expected to curtail their career aspirations simply because of a family situation—and they will expect the ranking and power which their upward mobility confers.

What the impact of so many women in the work force, demanding and getting equal pay to men who occupy the same positions, will have in ranking of class, status and power is yet to be seen. It is possible that the family, as the basic unit for assigning class positions in the society, might be abandoned in favor of a ranking system in which each adult is acknowledged individually. As women unite to gain economic, political and social benefits, they are forging a new power group, changing class structure and deeply affecting all the institutions of society—including the seating arrangements at a formal banquet, or the reception lines at a White House tea.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Indicted State Supreme Court Justice Don Yarbrough admitted his guilt to a hastily called news conference last week but did little else to clear up the confusion surrounding his future plans.

Yarbrough, while confessing to "my wrongdoings" and "my sins against God and the people who elected me their servant" refused to elaborate on the scope of the sins or whether or not he planned to resign from the bench of the state's highest court.

Yarbrough's confession came at a press conference called in the Supreme Court chambers amidst tight security and with his wife and three small children looking on.

He stuck strictly to the terse, if somewhat confusing, prepared statement, refused to answer reporters' questions afterwards, and reportedly left town with his family immediately following the short session.

Yarbrough was indicted June 30 by a Travis County grand jury on felony charges of forgery and aggravated perjury.

One day earlier, Houston Dist. Atty. Carol Vance, disclosed tapes he said were of Yarbrough plotting the murder of a Victoria banker who gave testimony against the jurist in another proceeding.

Armed with these tapes and the record of the grand jury, the Judicial Qualifications Commission met July 2 in a closed door session and announced later it would proceed with efforts to have Yarbrough removed from the Supreme Court bench.

At the same time, House Speaker Bill Clayton announced a removal hearing would be held by the House of Representatives on July 15 during the special session.

The resolution introduced by three House members, calls for Gov. Dolph Briscoe to remove Yarbrough from office. The governor has no choice but to comply if the resolution is adopted by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the legislature during the session.

The removal hearing, at which Yarbrough can testify in his own defense, may be held before a select committee or by the full House membership acting as a committee of the whole.

The 35-year-old former Houston attorney also faces disbarment proceedings. He is the first sitting judge of the Supreme Court to ever be indicted.

More Money

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced last week he is revising upwards by $64.1 million his estimate of state revenues for 1978-79, raising the state's total projected income to $16.5 billion.

The $64.1 million increase includes $60 million that will be available for general use and $4 million in earmarked funds.

The additional $60 million in general revenues means the legislature will have $959.8 million with which to work during the special session in writing a public school finance bill.

Homeowners Insurance

The State Board of Insurance staff has recommended a 3.7 per cent state-wide reduction in property insurance rates.

The recommendation was prepared as part of a rehearing requested by the insurance industry in opposition to a 2.8 per cent rate cut ordered by the board in March.

The industry had requested a 6.6 per cent increase.

The industry requested increase could result in an estimated $45 million increase in premiums paid by policyholders, while the staff recommendation would cut premiums by an estimated $25 million.

Oil Production

Oil production in Texas continued to decline in April, down 16.52 per cent under the 110,023,058 barrel allowable for the month.

Reported Texas oil production averaged 3,057,488 barrels daily in April, down from 3,074,296 barrels daily for March.

Courts Speak

A San Antonio city ordinance regulating massage parlors, which could have state-wide implications, was upheld by the Texas Supreme Court last week.

The ordinance, requiring owners and masseurs to obtain permits from the chief of police after submitting detailed information on their operations, had been appealed by nine parlor owners and one masseuse.

The high court also rejected a petition challenging the right of legislator-lawyers to gain delays in lawsuits while the legislature is in session.

Attorneys for convicted mass-slayer Elmer Wayne Henley last week asked the Court of Criminal Appeals to grant their client a new trial contending his first trial in San Antonio was a circus.

While admitting the evidence against Henley in his first trial for slaying six teenage boys was overwhelming, defense attorneys contended he was denied a fair trial after the case was moved from Houston to San Antonio on a change of venue.

Henley, then 18, was sentenced in 1974 to serve 99 years on each of the six slayings.

AG Opinions

Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill held last week a former district judge is eligible for assignment as a special judge if he fulfills certain requirements without regard to whether or not he is eligible for retirement.

Tax Breaks Offered By Retirement Saving Plan

Dallas, Texas--Employees and self-employed workers not covered by a qualified pension or retirement plan where they work can set one up for themselves and realize a tax savings at the same time. These same workers, who have non-working spouses can open an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) for the spouse as well.

A worker with an IRA can contribute up to 15 percent of his or her earnings, to a maximum of $1500 per year, into individual retirement savings program or account. If the employee's non-working spouse is included in the plan the maximum is $1750 per year, again limited to 15 percent. The concept behind the IRA is that the account will grow substantially over the years to provide a measure of retirement security for the individual.

While contributing to the IRA, the employee does not pay income taxes on the money set aside or on the interest or other income it might earn. The income tax is due when the money is actually withdrawn, at age 59½ or later, or should the individual become disabled. Chances are at that time the effective tax rate will be lower than during the employee's earning years.

While IRS's do offer certain tax advantages, there are also some limitations or restrictions to bear in mind. Contributions which exceed the allowable maximum are subject to a non-deductible 6 percent excise tax, each year. To discourage premature withdrawals, taken out before the worker reaches age 59½ or becomes disabled are taxed as ordinary income and are subject to an additional 10 percent penalty.

Finally, distribution of the funds in an IRA must begin by the time the taxpayer reaches 70½ years of age. The withdrawal rate at that time is up to the owner, but generally must provide for full distribution of the money within the person's expected lifetime, based on actuarial tables.

The IRS has a free booklet, IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Savings Programs" which can be obtained by writing or calling the IRS.

Banks, savings and loans, federally insured credit unions, insurance companies and certain brokerage firms can also help interested persons establish their IRA.

The light-truck market is literally exploding. June will make the seventh straight month in which light-truck sales (pick-ups and vans) will set a record. Light trucks are 90½ of the truck market. Chevrolet now sells one light truck for every 1.8 autos. In 1960 this ratio was one for 6.3 cars.

Auto marketing executives can supply lots of reasons for the sales boom--some call trucks "adult toys"--but they are stunned by the rapid growth rate. The truck craze began in California where many auto trends start. It happened in the 1960's when young people began converting trucks into personalized rigs and even into home on wheels. The youth market is still an important factor, but trucks are finding big new markets elsewhere.

Pickups are hot with those who want to haul snowmobiles and motorcycles. But they are also appealing to urban and suburban families that have no such specific use for them. Japanese mini-pickups control 9½ of the light market.

According to one truck merchandising expert, people are buying pickups and vans partly as a means of avoiding the shrinking size of Detroit's sedans and station wagons. It seems a truck has become socially acceptable. That view is supported by the expensive options that buyers hang on their trucks. Some 90½ of the Chevy light-truck buyers now pay extra for power steering, 75½ of the buyers add automatic transmissions, and 50½ of the buyers go for air conditioning. A Van Nuys, California Dodge dealer says

Plan Now for Brilliant Fall Landscape Color

COLLEGE STATION--Prior planning can mean a brightly colored landscape this fall, says an authority in landscaping.

"Four popular plants are well-known for their fall brilliance," points out Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "They are the chrysanthemum, candle tree, copper plant and Joseph's coat. Each has advantages and distinctions all its own; all have beauty and eye-pleasing color."

The chrysanthemum--simply called a mum--is considered the queen of fall flowers. The plants, generally from 12 to 24 inches tall, burst forth with colorful blooms. Mums require a well-drained soil with ample water and fertilizer. Use a high phosphorus fertilizer, such as 5-15-10, at the rate of two pounds per 100 square feet. Mums should be transplanted by June or early July. Keep terminal buds pinched through July to promote side branching and more flowers.

The candle tree boasts showy yellow flowers. These fall blooming plants are best used as backgrounds for wide flower beds. They also have attractive foliage over their height of four to six feet. Candle trees prefer rich, moist soil and should be fertilized each month with a complete fertilizer. A fertilizer with the he recently sold a van for $16,000, completely outfitted with a television, "Pong" game and stereo.

All of the auto manufactures have their van assembly lines working overtime and Saturdays. Chrysler lost 20,000 vans produced during a six-week strike at its St. Louis assembly plant. To challenge the market dominance of Chrysler's Dodge vans, Ford plans to add 50½ more van manufacturing capacity, and GM will add about the same of new capacity this year.

analysis of 5-15-10 at the rate of two pounds per 100 square feet of soil surface works well although any balanced fertilizer should give a good response.

Copper plants are attractive in summer as well as fall. The bronze foliage, the main reason it is grown, combines well with fall flowers. While they can grow much larger, copper plants normally grow 15 to 30 inches tall in moist, fertile soil. Copper plants do well with similar amounts of fertilizer as used with candle trees and mums.

Joseph's coat, available in several varieties, is famous for its colors of red, orange, green and yellow. Usually under 15 inches tall, this native of Brazil is most commonly used as a low spreading border. Joseph's coat also flourishes in a moist, well-fertilized soil and prefers a complete and balanced fertilizer.

"Whatever plants you choose to brighten your fall landscape, advance planning is important for an abundance of color," says Welch.

The pamphlet "Common Sense" was published by Thomas Paine on Jan. 10, 1776.

Library Receives New Books for Children

The Jungle Journey Reading Club at Collingsworth County Library is well represented on the big monkey extending across the wall of the room. The name of each reader is listed on it, and so far, 30 boys and girls are listed.

Altogether, they have read 135 books at the half-way point in the summer reading program, according to Mrs. Clara Mote, librarian.

Their goal is 600 books, or 20 books each by the time the program ends in August.

A number of new childrens books have been added, and a total of approximately 300 books of all types were donated during June. This is in answer to the library's recent call for help, as it seeks to reach 10,000 volumes.

The new children's books are: "In a Window on Greenwater Street," "A Dog for Susie," "Hoppy Long Legs," "Clickety Cricket," "What Is an Insect," "Where is Cubby Bear," "Read With Me," and

"Mousekin Finds a Friend" "Billy Goat in the Chili Patch," "Animals in the Zoo," "Calculator Puzzles, Tricks and Games," "Tree for Rent," "Blaze, the Story of a Striped Skunk," also

"Henri Le Bear," "Tell Me About Measures," "Curious George Takes a Job," "Curious George Gets a Metal," and "Curious George Rides a Bike," and additionally

These three Nancy Drew books, "Ghost of Blackwood Hall," "Secret of Mirror Bay," "The Haunted Showboat," and "Mystery of the Brass Bound Trunk."

Two books for adults, high on the best seller list, were added to the Library recently. Robert Oldham of Samnorwood has donated "Born Again," by Charles W. Colson. The other is "Reflections on Life after Life," by Raymond A. Moody, Jr., M.D.

Mrs. B.M. Sims Named to Texas Arts Alliance Board

(Houston)--Mrs. B.M. Sims of Wellington has been named to the prestigious governing board of the Texas Arts Alliance according to chairman, Steve Oaks.

The Alliance is a non-profit organization of over 2500 who seek to unite cultural, community and business leadership to promote the arts in all parts of the state.

It cooperates with the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities as an independent ally in expanding the opportunity and programs in the arts statewide.

TAA sponsors a four point program which includes the Texas Arts Showcase. Showcase spotlights outstanding talents and contributions Texas artists have made both to the arts and to the state.

Annually presented at Showcase are the Texas Arts Awards which are bestowed upon those dedicated volunteer leaders in the arts, and to individual organizations which have made outstanding contributions with major impact on the cultural life of their community, area and state.

Another major program is the "Texas Art Journeys" a series of nine cultural tours over the state, similar to the Texas Travel Trails.

"Journeys" will include regional calendar maps of the cultural events and attractions for travelers, which will direct visitors to museums, theatres, arts and crafts shows, concerts, dances and other art happenings throughout the state.

These journeys will be publicized nationwide.

A survey of cultural resources will inventory the state's vast amount of talent.

The result of this survey will be used to develop and promote an over-all plan to utilize the cultural resources of the state, to encourage the arts at the highest level of artistic excellence and to improve education, participation and appreciation of the arts.

Board Hires Two Teachers, Hears Gym Progress Report

Two faculty members were elected and one resignation was accepted by the Wellington School Board Monday, July 11.

Supt. E.W. Clement gave a progress report on the repair and renovation now under way in Rocket Gymnasium.

Joining the faculty will be Bob Allen, veteran Amarillo teacher who owns land north of Madge, and Miss Lennie Morgan, a Wellington High School graduate who received her degree at West Texas State University this spring.

The resignation of Miss Irene Martin from the junior high faculty was accepted. She is going to the Brownfield School System to teach math in fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Mr. Allen will teach junior high math. He was in the Amarillo school system 17 years and prior to that he taught at Alamogordo, N.M. one year. For the last 7 years, he headed the social studies department at Caprock High School, and previously he taught math.

He set a precedent a few years ago when he served on the River Road School Board and at the same time taught at Caprock. The question of legality was raised and an Attorney General's ruling was handed down that there was no conflict and he could legally serve.

River Road is an independent school district, and the post of school board members is not a salaried job. Caprock was in Amarillo Independent School District.

Mr. Allen grew up in Perryton and was graduated from West Texas State University.

He and his wife, who formerly worked for an insurance company, have a married son who attended Oklahoma State University on a football scholarship.

Miss Morgan will teach in the second grade, replacing Mrs. Patsy Bowen, who resigned before the end of school. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree from WTSU this spring, with a major in elementary education and a kindergarten specialty. Miss Morgan completed her work for a degree in three years.

She did her practice teaching at Belmar Elementary School. She also studied radio communications and speech and has had training in music and art. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.I. Morgan.

Ted Cantu was hired by the board as a school custodian.

Holly Gym Associates of Hale Center has the sub-contract for the gymnasium work which is part of the improvement included with the new Elementary Building.

It is being completely repainted on the inside bleachers will be repaired and refinished, and the floor sanded and refinished. New vapor lights will be installed, Mr. Clement said.

In addition, the cafeteria and band hall have been redecorated this summer, and painting junior high classrooms is under way.

A travel trailer to serve as the superintendent's office during construction of the new Elementary School was moved onto that campus last week, and playground equipment was taken down and moved to the southwest corner.
