Small Powers' Plan Rejected By Red Votes

Vishinsky Claims Resolution Unfair To Soviet Union

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Russia vetoed tonight the small power proposal for a compromise ending the Berlin deadlock.

The vote, in the United Nations security council, was nine in favor and two against.

Russia and the Ukraine voted against. The Soviet dissent constituted a veto, acting council President Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina ruled, and the resolution was rejected.

Resolution Denounced

Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky had told the council he was prepared to veto the small power compromise if it came to a vote.

With both arms flailing the air, Vishinsky denounced a six-nation resolution aimed at settling the crisis arising from the Soviet blockade of Berlin. He said it was unfair to Russia.

Vishinsky said the Berlin question should never have been brought before the security council in the first place. Earlier, an authoritative source said the three Western powers had rejected a Russian counterpoposal for ending the blockade.

Objection Stated

The Soviet deputy foreign minister said his main objection to the six-nation proposal was that, while the blockade was to be raised at once, "only talks will be organized" immediately on the currency reform demanded by the Russians.

"We cannot accept that," he declared.

The six-power resolution called for immediate lifting of the blockade, adoption of the Soviet mark as the sole currency for Berlin by Nov. 20 and meetings of the Big Four council of foreign ministers by Nov. 30, to discuss the whole problem of Germany.

French, British and U. S. delegates all informed the council, before Vishinsky spoke, that they would accept the resolution.

The six powers—Canada, China, Argentina, Syria, Belgium and Colombia—stepped into the dispute in

Record Fliers Get In Groove

LONGVIEW, Oct. 25. (AP)—Pred Vinmont and Bert Simons approached the fifth straight day of their two-months endurance flight to nowhere here today and claimed they were just getting into the swing of marathon flying.

Heavy headwinds over the Gregg county airport during the night caused the two Texans to send down an emergency call for fuel. It was supplied immediately.

Control tower operators at the airport are in constant touch with the plane, "Miss Texas," and ground crewmen have set up temporary sleeping quarters in a nearby hangar. In the night supply maneuver, Simons attached a flashlight to the hook which is used to grab the gasoline tanks from a speedy convertible and the runway lights set the pattern.

To Stay Two Days

Vinmont and Simons will remain at Gregg airport for at least two more days before returning to their original base at Grand Prairie. A specially equipped refueling plane is being outfitted in Dallas and will be ready for service here within the next two days to facilitate the re-fueling operation.

Both men reported they were

Three Die As Plane Crashes Into Barracks

Craft Undershoots Illinois Field In Attempted Landing

(By The Associated Press)

CHANUTE AIRBASE, Ill., Oct. 25.—Three men were killed last night in a crash here of a C-47 Air Forces plane carrying 22 persons.

Nineteen injured taken to the base hospital "probably owe their lives to the fact that the plane first hit two empty barracks," Brigadier General F. R. Upthegrove, commanding general, said.

The twin-engine plane, approaching the base in a heavy ground fog, chopped a corner off one barracks and then plowed through a second barracks before smashing to the ground.

"Those old barracks certainly were worth their price," the general said.

Barracks Cushioned Crash

He believed the wooden two-story structures cushioned the crash., saving the 19 passengers in the cargo plane's fuselage. Those killed, he said, were the pilot, co-pilot and crew chief, all in the plane's crumbled cockpit.

The injured, Gen. Upthegrove said, suffered "mostly head injuries and broken bones. The majority are in good shape."

The plane was cleared from Albuquerque, N. M., en route to Scott Airbase, Ill. It was sent on to Chanute airbase because of adverse weather at Scott. Normally, the craft was stationed at Wright-Patterson Airbase, Dayton, O.

Chanute officers said the plane was on the proper approach to the landing strip but apparently undershot the field, snapping power lines before hitting the unoccupied barracks.

Hospital In Darkness

The broken power lines plunged the hospital into darkness, and for a short time medical men worked over the injured by flashlight and other emergency lighting.

Capt. E. J. Rackham, public information officer at the airbase, said the plane plowed into the second barracks pushing the first floor from beneath the top floor and churning the first floor "into kindling wood."

The fuselage remained whole, for the most part, he said. The nose of the plane was badly smashed and the tail section was

Sex Fiend Sought After Pair Killed

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 25. (U.P) —Sheriff's deputies today sought a sex fiend who raped and killed a high school girl and the teen-aged escort who tried to defend her.

The partially unclad body of 17-year-old Gertrude Baumann, a high school senior, was found yesterday in underbrush on a golf course near her home.

Shortly afterwards searchers found the body of Raymond Smith, 18, a bank clerk, whom Miss Baumann dated Saturday afternoon on a trip to the golf course to take snapshots.

Both had been shot several times, apparently from a .22 caliber rifle, according to Coroner E. Wallace Stokes.

Dewey Is Studying Cabinet Selections

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Reports circulated here today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is giving study to possible cabinet appointments in anticipation of a victory in the presidential election eight days away.

The Republican presidential nominee leaves at midnight tonight for Chicago and the first of four major speeches.

He speaks in Chicago tomorrow night, Cleveland Wednesday, Boston Thursday and New York City Saturday.

No One Is Certain

Dewey's aides say firmly that no one—including John Foster Dulles, his foreign affairs adviser—is certain of a cabinet post in the event of a Republican victory.

But the names of Dulles and Roger W. Straus, one of the inner circle of Dewey advisers, turn up more often than any other in the speculation that always goes on in a presidential candidate's camp.

Straus For Treasury Post

Talk centers on Straus as a possible appointee for Secretary of the Treasury. He is president of the American Smelting and Refining company.

He was one of the top Dewey leaders who decided last week to keep the GOP campaign tied to its "unity" theme, without answering President Truman's attacks.

European Nations Discuss Alliance

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 25 — The foreign ministers of the five nations of the Western European union meet today to consider political and military ties unique in the peacetime history of Europe.

Informed Britain sources said last night British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will give his conditional endorsement to a French-Belgian proposal for a western European parliament.

The parliament, to be chosen from among the deputies of the five national legislatures, would have consultative authority. The five nations in the union are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The foreign ministers, sitting as the consultative council of the union, also are to discuss a proposed north Atlantic military alliance which would add the United States and Canada to the forces of the union.

The meeting, which will be held in the French foreign ministry under the chairmanship of French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, is expected to last two or three days.

Bevin's support for a western European parliament is expected to be conditional on a greater amount of coordination by the various governments to give the Parliament a more solid foundation.

British sources said, however, that Bevin hopes to make some "constructive proposals" on western European unity when he delivers his statement.

When the project of an eventual international parliament was broached by the French last sum-

Cold Front Moving Toward Panhandle

(By The United Press)

A small pocket of cool air, described by U. S. weather forecasters as a "weak cool front," brought a promise of snappier weather to the northwest portion of Texas today but no indication of rain.

The forecasters said the front was drifting southward from the Pacific northwest and should move into Texas by late Tuesday.

Fair weather, marked only by high-level clouds, was reported throughout the state today. Temperatures early today ranged from 35 degrees at Clarendon, in the Panhandle, to 60 degrees at Brownsville, on the lower Gulf coast. Salt Flat reported a reading of 38 degrees while Lubbock and Amarillo reported 39 degrees.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from 82 degrees at Victoria to 65 at Marfa.

Race Is Probed In New Mexico

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The Republican national committee chairman claimed today he has "chapter-and-verse evidence" of illegal political activitiy in New Mexico by federal employes.

Rep. Hugh D. Scott, jr. (R-Pa.) said in a statement that New Mexico counties have sent him evidence of Hatch act violations by employes of three federal departments.

"Without the payroll brigade from the Department of Agriculture, the Department of the Interior, and the Department of Labor, there would be no new deal campaign today throughout large areas of New Mexico," Scott declared.

The Hatch act, named for Sen. Hatch (D-NM), forbids political activity by federal civil service employes.

Probers Sent To State

Hatch is not a candidate for reelection. His seat is sought by Clinton P. Anderson, former secretary of agriculture, as the Democratic nominee, and Patrick J. Hurley, Republican.

Scott said a congressional subcommittee headed by Reps. Harness (R-Ind) has sent investigators into New Mexico to check reports that federal employes have used government money on political trips in the state. Harness has asked the general accounting office to hold up payment of travel vouchers "for these New Mexico campaign tours," Scott added.

"Federal employes traveling in government-owned automobiles at government expense form the backbone of the campaign" against Hurley, Scott said.

Cotton Ginnings In Texas Are Boosted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The census bureau reported today that 8,149,278 running bales of cotton from this year's crop were ginned prior to Oct. 18.

This number compared with 6,-714,545 ginned to the same date last year and 4,315,818 two years ago. Increased ginnings this year reflect a sharp increase in the size of the crop.

Ginnings by states this season and last, respectively, included:

Arkansas 944,069 and 797,479; Louisiana 581,311 and 409,550; New Mexico 99,772 and 57,950; Oklahoma 182,108 and 149,338; and Texas 2,047,438 and 1,897,916.

Candidates On Final Swing Of Big Cities

"Politics" Cried On Jewish Issue By Both Groups

(By The Associated Press)

The presidential campaign hit the stretch drive today with President Truman and his Republican opposition accusing each other of playing politics with Palestine.

Shortly before he set out for Chicago and the first of a final series of big city speeches, Mr. Truman last night declared his support of the original United Nations plan to partition the Holy Land, subject only to changes approved by the new Jewish state of Israel.

Statement Is Issued

In a statement which White House press Secretary Charles G. Ross said had been "cleared with the State department," the President also asserted that he has ordered swift study of Israel's application for an American loan.

Mr. Truman said he had been forced to "reiterate my own position" because Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had "seen fit" to speak out on the subject last week.

The GOP presidential nominee — who also takes to the road tonight for his campaign windup—offered no immediate rejoinder.

Brownell Charges "Politics"

But Campaign Manager Herbert Brownell, jr., said Dewey simply had complied with a request that he re-state his support of the Republican platform plank in favor of partition. Brownell added:

"It is regrettable that the President is making politics of an issue so important to the peace of the world."

Ross' announcement that Mr. Truman's statement had been cleared by the State department followed a period of some uncertainty over how it squared with Secretary of State Marshall's stand.

Dewey Asked For Views

Marshall last month gave his approval at the U. N. meeting in Paris to a proposal for modifying the 1947 partition plan. The suggested changes — drafted by the

Child Dies After Drinking Kerosene

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 25. (Special)—Johnny Yayne Goza, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keith Goza of Brownfield route 4, died at 6:10 p. m. Sunday in a local hospital after drinking a large quantity of kerosene from a can earlier Sunday afternoon.

The youth apparently drank the kerosene by placing his head beneith its heavy container and tipping the can slightly. He was taken to a hospital, but treatments there proved unsuccessful.

Survivors include the parents; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Goza, of Calera, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnes of Compton, Calif.; and a grandmother, Mrs. Homer Rhodes of Turlock, California.

Funeral services, under the direction of Farley Funeral home, are pending.

WOUNDED IN MINE CLASH—A wounded coal miner is carried away by his comrades after a clash with French troops at Firminy, France. Two strikers were killed and 50 wounded by gunfire and violence at the big Combefort mine at Firminy. Thousands of French troops were called in to control Communist-bossed strikers.

French Troops Seize Mines

(By The United Press)

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Thirty thousand troops and security guards in full battle kit swept through 300 square miles of northern France today and seized the nation's richest coal mines from Communist-led strikers.

The government moved swiftly toward a showdown with the 350,-000 striking coal miners and sympathy strikers who had brought France close to economic paralysis.

Many Mines Flooded

The seizure of the mines, starting with the vast enveloping swing through the northern fields, was aimed at saving them from a threat of ruination for lack of maintenance. Already many mines were flooded and immobilized for months.

Interior Minister Jules Moch announced by radio early this afternoon that the government forces had carried out the sweep over an area 30 miles by 10, extending from the Douai-Lille road to the Belgian border.

Moch announced that all objectives had been reached.

For the first great show of force against the strikers, Moch said, the government mobilized far stronger forces than it ever used in the nationwide strikes which tied up the whole country at the end of 1947.

Moch urgently appealed to the miners not to follow "minority agitators serving a cause which is not the cause of France." He

Odessa Warehouse Damaged By Blaze

ODESSA, Oct. 25 (AP)—Fire of unknown origin swept a warehouse of the Brandon Co., oilfield supply firm here last night, causing damages estimated at $100,-000.

The fire started about 7:30 p. m. and was put out three hours later.

Most of the contents of the building was oilfield supplies, although nine other West Texas companies had leased space in the building.

Thomas E. Brandon, owner of the warehouse, made the damage estimate. He said most of the loss was covered by insurance.

It Was Case Of Necessity For Cooking Champ

LITCHFIELD, Conn., Oct. 25(U.P.)—Alexander J. Derouin, who defeated the women champions from 158 granges in a statewide cooking contest, said today his wife was so busy with her club work "if I couldn't cook, I'd starve."

"My wife is lecturer of the Grange, president of the Legion Auxiliary and a member of a dozen clubs," he said. "I learned to cook for self-preservation."

Reds Barred By UEW Local

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 25. (AP)—A United Electrical Workers local with 6,000 members was out of line with its international union today by barring Communists from holding office.

The local—No. 711 in the big Westinghouse Electric corp. appliance plant here—amended its constitution to keep them or representatives "of any subversive group" from getting control. The action was taken in a membership meeting yesterday attended by about 100 members, or double the usual meeting attendance reported by observers.

Handbills Passed Out

International officers of the CIO union have refused to sign the non-Communist affidavits required under the Taft-Hartley act.

Handbills discouraging the amendment to the local's constitution were passed out at the door of the union hall.

The handbills pointed out that the international's constitution provided that there must be no discrimination in membership for race, creed, or political reasons.

Although there was no official reason given for the change, much discussion centered on an article by Louis Budenz, one-time editor of The Daily Worker, in a national magazine. He asserted that 90 per cent of the UEW's officers were Communists or fellow travelers.

20,000 Men By Draft During January Asked

Third Order For Manpower Double November Figure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — The Army today asked for 20,000 men by draft during January.

This is the Army's third call for men under the peacetime selective service. It has asked 10,000 men for November and 15,000 for December.

No call has been made by the Navy, Marine corps or Air Force. Because of their smaller expansion requirements these services expect to gain their strength through voluntary enlistments.

Future Quotas Indefinite

By January, army induction, training and personnel facilities are expected to be augmented to handle 20,000 inductees a month in addition to voluntary enlistees.

Beyond January, draft calls will be governed by monthly rates of enlistments and military budget appropriations.

Mail Service May Expand

Action is expected in the near future on an application by Lubbock postoffice for two "mounted routes" to serve five outlying additions in which approximately 4,000 persons live in Lubbock vicinity.

Postmaster Amos H. Howard said this morning that J. I. Gilkison, of Austin, United States postal inspector, sent his report to Washington, D. C. Saturday night after visiting Lubbock to investigate need for postmen in cars to deliver to addresses on streets in the additions.

Not Served Adequately

The five additions are Clayton-Carter, north of Lubbock; Avinger, Flake and Morrow additions, all east of Lubbock, and Suburban Homes, southeast of Lubbock.

Residents of those areas now receive their mail under different arrangements, including rural routes, general delivery and boxes at the postoffice.

"You can't serve 4,000 people adequately under those circumstances," said Postmaster Howard.

Would Use Cars

In event of approval of the mounted routes, postmen in cars would deliver mail in the outlying additions—none of which are within city limits—to boxes located in front of houses, said Postmaster Howard. Boxes would be located along one side of each street, boxes on that side being numbered for houses on both sides of the street.

That, the postmaster pointed out, would involve need for numbering each house served and naming of all streets. Some of the streets already are named.

The postoffice is anxious to

Weatherford Death Declared Accidental

WEATHERORFD, Oct. 25 (AP)—District Attorney I. B. Hand announced that Mrs. Lloyd Plumlee, 45, was accidentally shot to death at her home here last night by her husband.

According to Hand's report, the Plumlees returned to their home at 7 p. m. last night after a squirrell-hunting trip to their nearby farm.

Mrs. Plumlee was entering the front door, a few steps ahead of her husband, when the shotgun Plumlee was carrying was accidentally discharged, the district attorney stated.

The charge entered Mrs. Plumlee's back. She died almost instantly. Plumlee, suffering shock, was taken to a Weatherford hospital.

Hand said an inquest would be held today.

Present Program Reveals Thinking Of High Command

Leading Military Planners Of Nation Veto Theory Of Quick Victory With Atom Bombs

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The nation's military planners—guided by two wartime uses and six peacetime tests — have decided about where the atomic bomb fits in the rack of weapons for fighting a possible future war.

One authority summed up the official attitude today by saying the United States is not putting all its eggs in one basket. His figurative expression indicates this is how the nuclear fission bomb is viewed:-

1. It is the deadliest weapon in the national arsenal, but it by no means has displaced all others.

2. It may or may not be a decisive weapon in another war, but used alone it is improbable it could mean victory in a matter of days or even weeks.

3. Because of its broad area of destruction, it is not a selective weapon and its use must be guided accordingly. A recent article by an air force officer suggested that a fleet of 370 bombers carrying atomic weapons could defeat an enemy in from one to three months. The opinion expressed was the personal view of the officer.

Article Circulated

This article, as well as a number of newspaper editorials it prompted, has been circulated in the top level of the national military establishment, it was learned today. While there have been no official satements, these policy making officials have let it be known they deplore any impression that they share the quick-victory-with-atom-bombs idea.

Curent and projected military spending reveals the trend of thinking by the high command. While several hundred million dollars is being expended this year in atomic energy development, including the improvement and actual production of atomic bombs, the great bulk of the approximately $12,000,000,000 outlay is for conventional weapons —troops, ordnance, tanks, ships and planes.

Same Ratio Applies

The same ratio presumably will apply for the next military budget which President Truman has said will amount to about $14,-400,000,000. On order now are almost 500 long range strategic bombers, to be added to the 2,000 in operation or in storage. This obviously is stockpiling against losses in a war of more than short duration.

The wartime uses and non-combat tests of the atomic bomb have convinced military leaders that it would be of very limited, if any, tactical use—that is, for direct

Mexican Tenor, Company Well Received In City

A part of gay, colorful, romantic Mexico took over the stage at Senior High school auditorium Sunday afternoon when Tito Guizar and his ensemble of two dancers, two pianists and a vocalist gave their concert here in Mexican mood and manner before an audience of approximately 600 persons.

Beta Sigma Phi council, sponsors of the program, already is planning a return engagement of the colorful Mexican tenor sometime in 1949.

Lavish and authentic costumes lent their part to the south of the Border illusion. Guizar wore his much heralded Charro suit and displayed a strong, clear tenor voice admirably suited to the romantic ballads which made up the greater part of his program and to which he strummed guitar accompaniment. He has a warm, persuasive personality and before the afternoon was over he had his audience humming and singing with him, since his quick wit and inimitable accent were truly captivating.

Although Maria Teresa Fonseca, vocalist, and Carla and Fernando, dance team, preceded Guizar in appearances, it was the blue-eyed, brown-haired troubadour's show from the moment he sang his first number, "Marta." He digressed from the printed program to sing favorites such as "Granada," which he presents in his latest movie with Roy Rogers: "El Rancho Grande," "Because," which he dedicated to the young women who sponsored his program; "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and a few lines of "Choo Choo Boogie," which he confessed was a little out of his line.

The dance team was colorful in native costumes, their flashing castanets accompanying their twinkling toes as they executed dance after dance that are traditions in Mexico and concluded with a satire on the Mexican-Indian dance, "Jarabe Tapatio."

Vincent De Sola, played excellent accompaniment and Marjorie Harper, composer-pianist from New York City, was pleasing in three original compositions.

College Building Amendment Is Not Dead Issue, Evans Says

AUSTIN, Oct. 25—The College Amendment Bill, which was passed by Texas voters last year and is now tied up in our state courts, is far from being a dead issue, Roger Q. Evans, veteran Denison Legislator, said here today.

Evans said he would re-open his fight to repeal and defeat the bill in the session of the 51st Legislature here in January.

Overfinances Two Schools

Evans opposes the bill from the standpoint of both the veterans and the ad valorem tax payers.

Evans also declares that the bill was sponsored and is being pushed by special interest groups, aimed at over-financing the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. College, while the other fourteen state-supported colleges get an inadequate share of the benefits of th bill.

Would Limit Distribution

"The constitutional amendment is effective for a thirty-year period, but the original bond issue to the fourteen schools is a series of ten-year duration bonds. It also limits the distribution of funds to fourteen schools on attendance basis and to the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. on established pro-rata basis," Evans declares.

"The 'College Plan,' promoted by the University of Texas and Texas A. and M., along with special corporate interest groups, authorizes the board of regents of those two schools to issue $10,000,000 of bonds for the University of Texas and $5,000,000 of bonds for Texas A. and M., pledging the income of the Permanent University Fund as security, and also authorizes the levying of a five cent ad valorem tax taken from the Confederate Pension Tax. The revenues would be distributed to the fourteen other colleges to be used by their respective Boards of Directors as basis of issuing bonds each ten years, Evans said.

May Take 20 Years

"With tax values likely to be reduced, it is quite possible that it will take a twenty-year period to pay the first bond issue off," he added.

"The fund from which the amendment proposes to draw its revenue, is a veteran's relief fund. The tax was originally set up by our forefathers as a relief and pension fund for Confederate War veterans. Now, with some 800,000 veterans in Texas, these special interest groups are attempting to take the fund away from the veterans," Evans said.

Evans said he has received more than sixty resolutions from veterans organizations over the state opposing the amendment, and that he will continue his fight against the amendment, as he has since it was first introduced.

"The College Amendment Bill is one of the most unfair, misleading pieces of legislation that I have ever seen passed in all my eight years experience in the Texas Legislature," the former state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars asserted.

Progressives Face Defeat In Illinois

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (INS)—The Illinois Progressive party's efforts to place their state and national candidates on the states' ballot for the November 2 election seemed hopeless today.

Associates of Gov. Dwight Green reported he does not favor calling a special session of the general assembly to comply with a request of the progressives.

Although the governor made no official announcement, members of his staff said he feels a special session could not be convened and acted on quickly enough.

It was also pointed out that it would scarcely be possible to reprint nearly six million ballots in time for the Nov. 2 elections.

Connally To Vote Ticket Straight

MARLIN, Oct. 25 (AP) — Sen. Tom Connally said upon arriving in his hometown here Saturday that he would vote the straight Democratic ticket Nov. 2 "from President Truman on down."

The senior Senator and Mrs. Connally came here from a speaking engagement in Houston for a rest. He said he would vote at his hometown box.

Sen. Connally said he had no plans, no speaking engagements and no statements, adding:

"I'm very tired. I want the rest."

The Connallys registered at a hotel here. They plan to stay two or three weeks. His Marlin home is rented out. He has a number of farming interests in Falls county.

Wichita Falls Hen Wins Fair Contest

DALLAS, Oct. 25 (AP)—The 128 hens entered in the egg laying contest at the state fair of Texas laid 1,380 eggs during the 16-day contest.

Second prize of $15 went to Tex Stirman, also of Wichita Falls. George N. Meberer of San Antonio took both third and fourth prizes with his two hens yielding 101 eggs each.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Family Of Canadian Rages At His Declaration Of Intention To Marry An American Girl

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Two years ago I met Bruce, a young Canadian, who had come to the states to purchase horses for his ranch in Ontario.

We had much in common, preferring country life to the city, etc., and I had known him only a month when I realized how much he meant to me. Thereafter he made frequent trips to the states to see me, and last month he told me he loved me and asked me to be his wife.

Of course I was overjoyed and immediately started plans for our wedding, but I received a shock when I visited his family. They were all hostile to me and his grandmother even ventured to tell me that I am not good enough for him. This was a blow to me, for I have had a good education and my life has been honorable.

PREJUDICE ROOTED IN NATIONAL BIAS

BRUCE confided to me that they were prejudiced against me only because I am from a different country, and he wants me to marry him just the same, although he says we shall have to live with his family, as he is their sole means of support.

He tells me that if I am unwilling to go ahead in the circumstances, then he will wait until he is able to provide separate homes for his family and for me, provided I will wait for him. He begged me not to think him selfish in proposing this, and asked me to try to see his side of it.

His family will not change and neither will my love for Bruce change. He is aware of this and says he will understand if I cannot accept the situation nor agree to wait indefinitely for him. Should I go ahead and mary him now, or wait for circumsances to favor us? Please help me, for I am unable to decide this alone.

Signed A. H.

MARRIAGE REQUIRES FAVORABLE CLIMATE

DEAR A. H: It remains to be seen whether Bruce can and will provide a house of marriage for you, apart from his dependent family's domicile.

But you may be fairly certain of this: if you go ahead and marry him now, thus accepting the present situation just on a short-term emergency basis (theoreticalsy), he probably won't fight his way out of it, at least not for years, and in the meantime his jealous, resentful relatives will spare no efforts to rob the relationship of joy and harmony.

God pity the sensitive bride whose attempts to make a marriage are couched in the hissing, spying enemy camp—under the very roof, indeed—or hostile inlaws whose bared-fang antagonism takes its rise from (1) militant greedy desire to exclusively possess and exploint another, and (2) ranting nationalist or religious bigotry, two base sentiments of ignorant primitive import that are obviously rampant in Bruce's household.

ARE MAN'S POTENTIALS EQUAL TO HIS PLEDGE?

SHE CAN expect no privacy of action, utterance or decision. Her finest feelings will be scornfully limned as a despicable bond that drew them together without rhyme or reason, until they themselves will begin to deal furtively about it—and so on.

The bride who leads naively into that catastrophic experience, which eventually shatters her self-regard and leaves her without dignity in her husband's eyes, might as well be hurling herself against serried ranks of poised bayonets and my advice is: Don't risk it.

For the rest, the situation affords a crucial test of Bruce's character; that is to say, whether his potentials are as good as his promises. If he literally intends to master the economic problem, so as to offer you a home apart from his family's, hence a fair break in marriage, then the greatest incentive you can give his resolve is to firmly reject marriage until that time. But don't pledge yourself to wait indefinitely. Fix a date, say within two years, and if he fails to produce by then, renounce him. M. H.

Morris Says Third Party Is Cocktail

CORSICANA, Oct. 25 (AP) — Sam Morris of San Antonio told Texas members of the WCTU here yesterday that "America has three political parties, the Republican, the Democratic and the cocktail party."

Morris, Prohibition party candidate for U. S. senator, said U. S. representatives to world peace conferences make blunders and cause international embarrassment because of "alcoholic effect" on their brains.

He told the pre-convention rally that U. S. delegates took large quantities of liquor with them to various conferences.

"It's time we sent somebody to Washington that will go to church instead of to cocktail parties," he said.

The state WCTU convention opens here today.

Farmer Decides To Give Up On Pigs

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (INS)—Chrispin Vasquez, a pig and truck garden farmer from Chicago, has decided it was about time he gave up raising pigs and switched to something less dangerous.

Vasques was out feeding his porkers the other day when one of the pigs, evidently tired of waiting for his meal, took a quick bite out of Vasquez's posterior.

Doctor F. D. Garcia said the porker put a seven inch gash in Vasquez's hide which was deep enough to sever a muscle.

Powerful Meter To Measure X-Rays

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP) — A new kind of meter which measures hundred-million-volt X-rays was announced Saturday by the General Electric company.

This meter changes X-rays into solid particles of matter. Then it measures the voltages of the particles which are the same as the X-ray voltages.

This is something new in science. X-rays are too elusive to read quickly in their natural form. The meter that changes them into solid matter can do in six months a job that would have taken about 300 years by previous meters.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

The Texas Tech game Saturday night was the one which Arizona had to win. They were steamed up for the Red Raiders and the possibility of an upset definitely was in the making, especially since the Tech players showed signs of that promised let down. It wasn't the type of letdown coming from cockiness and the spirit was still high, but as we intimated earlier in the week, getting up too many times made it hard for the players to take Arizona too seriously.

The Wildcats possibly realized that. In addition, it was the 18th Annual Mom's and Dad's Day at the university and only twice in the precious 17 years had a Wildcat eleven gone down to defeat on that day. That was incentive enough, to say nothing of the fact that neither Arizona or Tech had been defeated in conference play. A victory over Tech, to add to the one over Hardin-Simmons, would have put the Wildcats in the thick of the loop fight.

But there was an even bigger reason for the Arizona squad to win. It was the game that Coach Mike Casteel, now in his eighth year at Arizona, had to win. The handwriting was on the wall. We were told by several persons in the know that it had been checked up to Mike to win this game, or else look for another position.

Mike was heavily under fire last year and two things possibly saved his neck. First, Arizona played the odds-on favorite Kansas university eleven a whale of a game before losing and the Wildcats ended their season with a 20-20 tie of Utah. Moreover, the honors that were bestowed on Fred Enke, jr., the star Wildcat back, didn't hurt any. But this year the wolves sharpened their fangs and went after Mike with even more pressure. The 48-14 rout by Utah and the 61-7 swamping by Michigan State, which proved Saturday it is one of the better college teams in the nation, brought the situation to a boil.

The upset of Hardin-Simmons helped to quiet the wolves momentarily, but Michigan State's topheavy victory brought them out snorting fire—fire Casteel. And a strong column this week by a Tucson sportswriter, who has been Casteel's champion, definitely was the turning point. So Saturday night it was a victory over Tech, or find a new job.

We'll give the Wildcats all the credit in the world for stopping Tech as often as they did, but frankly, they just don't have it this year. They had been scouted beautifully and their running attack was stopped almost cold. They don't have, or didn't show, a passer who is comparable to Enke. And they were outfought by a Tech team that has outfought all its opponents this year, even in losing to SMU and Baylor. Arizona only made two scoring threats and you can't take credit away from Tech's defensive play to soothe Arizona's feelings. Their rooters felt they should have scored and that it was the fault of their team. We feel that it was more Tech's fine defensive work than any lack of ability on their part.

Tech also was stopped short of touchdowns during the game, as the aroused Wildcats rose up on defense to hold. In fact, the Raiders looked pretty impotent within the 20-yard line on four occasions and you have to give credit to the Wildcats for stopping a team that marched down the field. Any team that rises up in the shadows of its own goal to stop the opposition may not be an offensive team, but it is creditable defensive work.

The stands gave out with unmuffled implications throughout the game. They were disgusted with their eleven, with their coach. It wasn't dislike of Tech as much as it was wrath at the Arizona eleven. Pointed barbs were hurled at the gridiron and, after the game, wherever groups gathered, they had nothing but sarcasm for the team. Typical was one remark to the effect that if Arizona wasn't big enough to win in the Border Conference, let's get into a loop in which we can win.

As if any more fuel was needed to build higher the fire, Saturday night's rout was the worst licking handed an Arizona eleven on its home field in 17 years. Not since 1932, when Rice keeled over the Wildcats 32-0, had the Arizonans been so humiliated. But it also must be remembered that an Arizona team has scored on one coached by Dell Morgan in Tucson only once. That was in 1942, when Tech won 13-6. In 1946, Tech won 14-0 and this year's 31-0 continues the chain. It is bitter for the Arizona fans to take. It appears likely that they will not continue to take it.

Bowl Contestants In Crucial Week

Carnegie Loss Brings Signs

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Carnegie Tech students have started painting signs around their own campus demanding a better football team . . . That goes to show how far de-emphasis can go . . . The old custom, still kept alive in some schools, was to smear paint on the other guy's buildings . . . or maybe the Carnegie thing is just showing the effects of the startling discovery that Tech's good neighbor, Pitt, can beat a Big Nine team . . . In the past few years the best suggestion for improving Pitt football came from an unidentified halfback . . . Just before the kickoff as the Panthers were about to take their weekly walloping from a mid-western rival, the kid turned to the referee and said: "How about letting me handle the whistle in this game and you carry the ball. I think we'd do better" . . . The referee was none other than the former Chicago great, Jay Berwanger.

Game Is Rugged

In his first game as a Louisiana State U. varsity footballer, some opponent walked all over Halfback Billy Bagget's leg . . . in his second, Billy just happened to lie down in time for a player to stomp on his face . . . Last week against Georgia it happened again. Someone left cleat marks on Billy's nose . . . Figuring it must be a habit, Billy's teammates now call him "Carpet" Bagget.

Fadeout Complete

The Winter Park and Apopka, Fla., high school football teams out on a terrific tussle recently . . . In the last quarter the score was tied 6-6 and, in a desperate effort to break the deadlock, the Winter Park quarterback faded back to pass from deep in his own territory. He faded right out of the end zone for an automatic safety and Apopka won 8-6.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—College football swings into the backstretch this week with games that should go a long way toward identifying the major bowl principals.

California's potent Bears look like a cinch for the Rose Bowl if they can squeeze by Southern Cal Saturday at Los Angeles. The Pasadena guest may be decided at Evanston where Northwestern engages Ohio State.

Down in Dixie, unblemished North Carolina and Georgia Tech, sticking close to their telephones for Sugar, Orange or Cotton Bowl feelers, run into large humps in their schedules.

SMU At Austin

The N. C. Tar Heels play Tennessee at Knoxville and Vols' Coach Bob Neyland, a renowned pessimist, already has predicted an upset victory for his boys.

Tech's frisky Yellowjackets meet an undefeated Duke team that has been getting progressively better after two opening season ties.

The Southwest feature is Southern Methodist against Texas at Austin. The victor in this one could well land in the Cotton Bowl although both must reckon with Baylor, which has only a tie on its record.

The job for the bowl promoters was further simplified last Saturday when two of the 11 unblemished teams were stricken from the list.

Army's powerful machine rolled over Cornell, 27-6, handing the Big Red its first smudge.

Penn State, riding a victory string that covered the 1947 season, was tied by Michigan State, 14-14.

Top Teams Listed

The nine left without defeat or tie in major ranks are: Michigan, Notre Dame, North Carolina, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Army, Pennsylvania, California and Nevada.

Of these, Michigan, Notre Dame and Army aren't bowl candidates and Pennsylvania, as an Ivy leaguer, is not overly receptive to bids.

Michigan, victor over Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl last year, can't return because of a conference rule against repeat performances. Notre Dame and Army don't go in for the post-season extravaganzas.

The Wolverines, elevated to the No. 1 spot last week in the associated poll, justified their selection by overwhelming Minnesota Saturday, 27-14. They are virtually "in" as Big Nine champions.

Northwestern, beaten only by Michigan, then takes the lead in the Rose Bowl picture on the basis of its 19-16 triumph over Minnesota. But Ohio State also has lost only one game—to Iowa.

California continued its display of offensive power in smashing Washington, 21-0. If they can get by Southern Cal, the Bears wind up with the weaker U. C. L. A., Washington State and Stanford.

Grid Group to See Waco Tilt Pictures

Pictures of Texas Tech's 13-0 defeat in the rain bowl at Waco Oct. 16, when Baylor edged the Red Raiders, will feature the meeting of the Quarterback Club tonight at 8.

The meeting will be held in the Hotel Lubbock tonight, instead of in the Hilton Hotel. Tom Duggan, president of the club, said that the main ballroom in the Hilton was being used and the club would shift to the Lubbock for tonight only.

Also on the program will be Dell Morgan, Tech coach, who will have considerable to say about the Arizona game and accompanying incidents; C. R. "Pat" Pattison, Lubbock High school coach, whose Westerners have a reunion with Amarillo here Friday; and Damon Hill, Dunbar High school mentor, whose Panthers played San Angelo Friday.

The meeting will be under the direction of O. A. "Terrible" Terry, a football enthusiast as well as a golfer. All football fans are invited to attend the meeting.

U. S. Captures Title In Panamerican Play

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25. (AP)—Beaten in the singles, Richard Gonzales, the U. S. amateur champion, and Frank Parker salvaged the men's doubles championship in the Pan-American tennis tournament.

The Los Angeles tandem trounced their singles conquerors, Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia and Eric Sturgess of South Africa, 7-9, 6-2, 8-6, 6-2, in yesterday's finals.

Drobny, the lefthanded Davis cup star, won the singles crown by defeating Sturgess in straight sets, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Sheila Summers of South Africa and Mrs. Nelly Landry of France won the women's doubles by defeating Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., and Joy Gannon of England in the finals, 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. Summers downed Miss Head Saturday for the women's singles crown.

Italy is buying less goods in France, complaining that prices are too high.

No Change Seen In Border Standings

(By The United Press)

Texas Mines, Texas Tech and Arizona State of Tempe remained undefeated at the top of the Border Conference standings today with no change expected in the coming week end's games.

Mines and Tech each has won two games, Tempe one, while Hardin-Simmons and Arizona have broken even in two games; New Mexico, West Texas State and Arizona State of Flagstaff each has won one and lost two. New Mexico A. and M. has lost both its title starts.

The Miners turned back New Mexico 27-13 last week while Tech blanked Arizona 31-0. Tempe and Hardin-Simmons were idle.

New Mexico A. and M. bowed to Sul Ross State 47-12, Flagstaff defeated Redlands university 27-7 and West Texas State lost to East Texas State 13-7.

Only two conference games are on tap this week, Texas Mines meeting Hardin-Simmons at El Paso and Tempe playing Arizona at Tucson, both Saturday night.

New Mexico A. and M. opens the week's play Friday night at Las Cruces against Highlands university.

Texas Tech plays host to Rice at Lubbock Saturday afternoon, New Mexico plays Fresno State at Fresno, Calif., Saturday night and Flagstaff meets Western Colorado State at Gunnison, Colo., Saturday night.

Powerful Southern Methodist And Texas Battle This Week

Southern Methodist and Texas settle accounts this week and one or the other might leave space in the credit column for a $100,000 entry.

The $100,000 is the estimated value of a Cotton Bowl berth. One of these two teams is expected to land it. The two contesting teams share the big part of the game's receipts.

Baylor kept an unbeaten record with its 20-14 victory over Texas A. and M. last week. But the Bears and Texas Christian, the other club still in the running for the southwest conference title, aren't expected to make the grade.

Loses Wild Decision

Texas Christian lost a wild, 21-18, decision to Oklahoma last week in one of two intersectional tilts on the schedule.

Southern Methodist humbled a touted west coast eleven, Santa Clara, with a 33-0 victory.

Texas knocked Rice's chances in the conference race spinning, 20-7.

The 14-13 decision Southern Methodist scored over Texas last year left Longhorn fans muttering "wait until next year." That was the only game the Longhorns lost. They went on to slaughter Alabama in the Sugar Bowl. Southern Methodist finished unbeaten and played Penn State to a draw in the Cotton Bowl.

Records of the two teams this year bring them to the climax of a drama 68,000 fans are expected to witness at enlarged Memorial stadium in Austin. This will be the largest throng ever to see a regularly scheduled conference tilt. It is 2,000 more than Texas' big saucer seats. University athletic officials expect the additional 2,000 to ge in some way.

Wins Four, Loses Two

000 to get in some way.
two this year. Southern Methodist has won four and lost one.

The great Doak Walker and sharpshooter Gilbert Johnson pack a notfensive punch the Longhorns can't match. The performance of each team's line might determine the game's outcome.

Baylor and Texas Christian tangle in the second most important game this week. Arkansas and Texas A. and M. play for personal prestige and Rice nurses its injuries and hammered hopes in a non-conference tilt with Texas Tech.

A loss for Texas Christian would leave it an "also ran" in the title chase. A defeat for Baylor would oust it from the ranks of the unbeaten, once-tied elevens.

Arkansas and Rice are logical choices to win their games. Texas Christian is the toughest foe Baylor has faced since its 7-7 draw with Mississippi State. Southern Methodist should win over Texas, but—who knows?

Walked kicked two extra points against Santa Clara to boost his total for the year to 55. Pete Stout of Texas Christian retained second in scoring with 36 and Clyde Scott, whose Arkansas club was idle last week, stayed in third position with 30.

Hot Pro Race Fails To Attract Crowds

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Although the pennant races in the All-America conference and the National Football league are extremely tight, attendance at the games continues to be disappointing.

Only 106,717 fans turned out for five National League scraps yesterday and 107,672 for four conference games.

Eagles Beat Bears

The National's biggest crowd, 36,227 fans, showed up at Philadelphia and watched the Eagles beat the Chicago Bears, 12-7. The victory was Philadelphia's first over the Bears in history and it dumped the Bears from the unbeaten ranks and into a first place western division tie with the defending champion Chicago Cardinals. The Cards crushed the Boston Yanks, 49-27.

Cleveland's defending champion Browns drew the largest All-America gathering, 46,912. The Browns rewarded the home turnout by beating the New York Yankees, 35-7, to remain a half game behind the San Francisco 49ers in their western division flag battle.

Dodgers Humble Rockets

The 49ers nipped the Baltimore Colts, 21-10, to run their unbeaten streak to nine games.

The Brooklyn Dodgers humbled the lowly Chicago Rockets, 35-14, before the smallest crowd of the day, 5,964 fans at Chicago.

Buffalo's Bills pulled to within a game of Baltimore by beating the Dons, 35-21.

The Washington Redskins downed the Green Bay Packers, 23-7, to remain a half-game behind Philadelphia in the National's eastern sector pennant scramble.

The New York Giants edged the Pittsburgh Steelers, 34-27, to tie the Steelers for third place, one game back of Washington.

Led by Jim Hardy who completed 21 out of 34 passes for 241 yards, the Los Angeles Rams overcame a 21-0 half time deficit and beat the Lions, 34-27 before 20,191 fans at Detroit.

Chicago White Sox Official Succumbs

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—Harry Grabiner, who rose from peanut vendor to vice president of the Chicago White Sox, died in a coma yesterday 48 hours after undergoing an operation for brain tumor.

Grabiner was with the Comiskey club 41 years before resigning in 1945. In 1946 he became associated with Bill Veeck as vice president of the Cleveland Indians.

Although only 57, Grabiner was third only to Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators in years of American league service.

Helicopter Helpful To Golf Foursome

BUFFALO, N. Y. Oct. 25 (AP) — Whitworth Ferguson, president of the Park country club, swears this golf story is true —

He was playing in a foursome on the 10th hole when he noticed a helicopter hovering in the neighborhood. As the foursome walked toward the green, the 'copter dropped low and the pilot reached out, plucked the pin from the cup and withdrew discreetly while the foursome putted out.

As the golfers left the green, the 'copter returned, the pilot replaced the pin and whirled away.

Students Ousted On Charges Of Gambling

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 25. (INS)—Michigan State college officials today expelled three students charged with operating football gambling pools on the East Lansing campus.

Seven other youths were disciplined for "playing a small role in the operations."

Two of the ousted students, Michael P. Kohan, 22, of Detroit and Michael Asadourian, 23, of Highland Park, Mich., were accused of operating a syndicate "with outside interests." The third, James J. Robideau, 23, of Monroe, Mich., was charged with operating a small independent syndicate.

College officials said operators of the pools offered prizes to students picking the winners of a number of college football games.

DUCK SEASON OPENS NOV. 12

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)—The duck season will open Nov. 12 in Texas and run 35 days through Dec. 16, executive secretary Howard Dodgen of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission has announced. Hunters are limited to five ducks per day and five in possession. Hunting time is from 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

Leading Lone Star Elevens Featured In Saturday Clash

(By The Associated Press)

The only two Lone Star conference football teams undefeated in conference play this season will clash in the feature game of the week at San Marcos Saturday afternoon when the Southwest Texas Bobcats play the North Texas Eagles before a homecoming crowd.

All season long the Bobcats have been pointing for this game, remembering 1947 when the Eagles were the only ones defeating them in conference play and knocking them out of a championship.

Bobcats Win Again

The Bobcats, for the second straight week, won last Saturday thanks to a field goal by George Mabe who has also made 11 consecutive points after touchdown. Their victims this time were the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks and the score was 3 to 0. The Eagles had little trouble kicking the Sam Houston Bearcats 37 to 7 at Denton.

Only one other conference game is scheduled. It brings together the two teams lowest in conference standings—the Sam Houston bearcats and the East Texas Lions, they clash at Commerce Saturday afternoon.

In the first appearance of a Star conference team in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, the Lions last week defeated favored West Texas state, border conference team, 13 to 7.

Cougars Go To Canyon

Saturday afternoon the University of Houston Cougars, who lost to the Trinity Tigers 15 to 7 at San Antonio last Saturday night, go to Canyon to play West Texas State.

The Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks should not have too much trouble with Louisiana College at Pineville, La. Saturday night.

The Trinity Tigers have this week off to get ready for the North Texas Eagles whom they play next week.

Getting ready for the Eagles seems to be a regular habit with the Lone Star conference teams. Defending champions, the Eagles were undefeated in conference play the last two seasons.

Speedy VFW Squad Makes 122 Points

BURLINGTON, Wis., Oct. 24. (AP)—No one said "when" so the VFW Burlington Rockets didn't stop until they had 122 points.

'Twas a football game played (?) here today.

The Rockets' hapless foe was Byron, Ill., both semi-pro clubs.

If you'd like the details, the Rockets tallied at the rate of once every three and one half minutes. There were 18 touchdowns in all and 14 extra points. Twelve of the touchdowns came on passes with End Bob Nieber catching eight of them.

Oh, yes, Byron's score: zero.

Golfer Beaten In U. S. Wins Abroad

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25. (AP)—Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who hasn't been able to win the amateur golf championship of his own United States, today held the highest titles of three other countries.

The young Ohioan won the Mexican amateur crown yesterday by defeating Charles Kocsis of Detroit, 9 and 7. He previously had taken the British and Canadian amateur championships.

11 Still Unbeaten In Schoolboy Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas schoolboy football campaign enters the stretch this week with 11 undefeated teams and favorites well-defined in the 18 districts of the City conference and class AA.

Last week's round of upsets made several changes, particularly in the San Antonio district of the City conference and district 8 of class AA.

Alamo Heights upset favored Brackenridge 21-0 at San Antonio and if the Mules can stand prosperity will be top choices to win the district crown.

Gladewater Downed

Texarkana was known to be tough but not as strong as that 31-0 victory over Gladewater in District 8 indicates. Gladewater had licked favored Marshall.

As the race goes into its last five weeks these teams appear the best bets in the various districts:

City conference — District 1, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); District 2, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); District 3, Milby (Houston); District 4, Alamo Heights (San Antonio).

Class AA—District 1, Amarillo, District 2, Wichita Falls; District 3; Odessa; District 4, Austin (El Paso); District 5, Denison; District 6, Highland Park (Dallas); District 7, Breckenridge; District 8, Texarkana; District 9, Waco; District 10, Palestine; District 11, Port Arthur; District 12, Baytown; District 13, Austin; District 14, Alice.

Two Squads Fall

Two teams fell out of the undefeated, untied ranks last week and one of them did it in hearty fashion as Port Arthur whammed John Reagan of Houston 41-0. The other was Stephenville, which plunged before Breckenridge 20-0. San Benito, which was unbeaten but had been tied, was removed by Alice 12-7.

Undefeated and untied today are Port Arthur, Waco, Henderson, Sweetwater, Alice, Milby, Amarillo and Arlington Heights. Undefeated but tied are Baytown, South Park (Beaumont) and Lamar.

The only team in the select circle that appears in any considerable danger this week is Henderson, which goes up against Marshall.

That Girl on Broadway says nobody gets any fun out of doing nothing unless he can find somebody to help him.

A man spends half of his life on his feet—yet only rarely is he sure of his footing.

That Man on Avenue Q says anybody can get rich in the manufacturing of women's handbags if he'll just equip each product with a flouroscope and radar!

THE CITY builders at Lamesa are justly proud of the way their community is "busting out at the seams," of numerous fine new homes and buildings and of their new daily paper, The Lamesa Reporter.

They are proud of the Dawson county capital's amazing growth, which has sent population figures up to around 12,000, and of one of the finest private diningrooms in West Texas, the Mesa Room in the rear of Frank Liddell's spanking new restaurant.

But in our book, the men of Lamesa haven't done one whit better than their ladies, who rate three rousing cheers and a tiger for putting over a beautiful women's club house.

Without any apologies to busy Lamesans like W. K. Crawley, Carl Rountree, Ross Woodson, G. B. Wadzeck, Hays Walker, Charlie Jobe, V. Z. Rodgers and all the other gents who help make the mare go down there, we'll say that in getting their clubhouse built the feminine side of Lamesa has done an even more remarkable job than the masculine side.

In an up-and-coming, growing West Texas city, the business of getting fine new business buildings, homes, schools, etc., is not a too difficult one.

Those things sort of "come along" with growth, progress and community pride.

But getting a women's clubhouse built and operating doesn't come under the "easy," or the "natural," category, as we in Lubbock well know. It takes not only thought and effort on the part of interested women, but also the co-operation of their husbands and others of the business and professional life of a community.

THE membership of two Lamesa women's clubs—the Senior and Junior Delphians, has put over the clubhouse, a beautiful and commodious one, which has become a center of cultural life in the Dawson county capital and the scene of gay private entertainments, as well.

Since clubwomen of Lubbock have been hoping, working and planning for a clubhouse here, let us pass along the word that their counterparts in Lamesa have proven "it can be done."

We have asked Miss Margaret Turner, women's editor of The Avalanche-Journal, to "get all the dope" on the Lamesa project — how it was perfected, the cost involved, a description of the building, etc.—and pass the information on to interested club women in Lubbock and other points in this section.

We think no city can have a better asset than a women's clubhouse and maybe the experiences of the Lamesa clubwomen will be helpful to others elsewhere.

Somebody sent this in:

"Keep your temper. Do not quarrel with an angry person, but give him a soft answer. It is not commanded by the Holy Writ—and, furthermore, it makes him madder than anything else!"

THAT was an interesting story which Avalanche-Journal Reporter Opal Dixon got the other day from the Rev. Dr. M. F. Ham. In addition to being interesting, the story offered food for thought.

One of the last of the oldtime itinerant "revivalists" of the days of the "tabernacles," Doctor Ham remarked that "no longer is it possible for pastors to preach anything that displeases their congregations." Apparently he regrets that is so.

Perhaps it is true, as some contend, that preachers can better do their jobs of directing their flocks from sin, and of influencing them for the right, by delivering themselves of "unpleasant" sermons and by eternal harping upon human foibles which some people define as sin but which others do not. Personally, we have always held an opposite view.

As far as we know, there are very few people who have succeeded in whatever line they may have followed by being unpleasant, or disagreeable. A notable exception is George Bernard Shaw, the ill-mannered, ill-tempered, but quite able playwright.

No one, we think, logically can expect a minister to have the maximum of influence upon his congregation by specializing on the unpleasant things, any more than we can expect the butcher, the baker, or the candlestick-maker to attract more patronage by being disagreeable, or downright discourteous.

AS A matter of record, all of us know people who are so infernally disagreeable about their particular views of religion that they run other people away from all organized religion, if not from all religion. Just as Harold Ickes has chased many a would-be liberal back into the ranks of the reactionaries by his tiresome carping, so many preachers have pushed people out of their churches by continuously insisting that to be a Christian an individual must eschew all sorts of activities except those which the individual preacher shall decide are not "sinful."

Everyone knows the old saw about how much easier it is to collect flies with honey than to collect them with vinegar.

Perhaps the same is true with pastors attempting, as they should do, to influence their congregations for good.

Without doing any research on the subject and without even a look at a concordance, it occurs to us that Jesus Himself, did very little aggressive attacking of public morals and private sins.

With the exception of His driving the money-changers out of the temple, we cannot recall a single instance where Jesus found it either necessary or helpful, to employ aggression in His efforts to direct erring humanity toward a better, fuller life.

Perhaps today's better educated preachers avoid as much professional "unpleasantness" as possible because they feel that to do so is more exactly emulating the Master, Himself.

TODAY'S average citizen is a better educated, hence a better balanced individual than his parents, or his grandparents.

Being better educated and better balanced, he relies upon his own judgment, rather than upon the judgment of another, regarding what is and what is not actually sinful.

When he goes to church, then, he wants something a great deal more thoughtful than clerical lashing as a balm to his soul and today's preachers, largely sensing the fact, cut the cloth of their sermons to fit the need.

We think most modern preachers avoid the questionable tactics of some of the oldtimers not because they are afraid they'll lose their jobs if they don't, but because they honestly are trying to do the most good in the best way they can.

Instead of trying to verbally lash and scare their congregations into their conception of godliness, most modern preachers appear to be trying to lead their congregations through resort to reason.

That, we think, makes more sense today.

BY DREW PEARSON: HURLEY, NOW CAMPAIGNING FOR SENATE, GREAT HEADLINE SEEKER

Some Of Pat Hurley's Decorations Scrutinized

(ED. NOTE — The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war in the Hoover cabinet).

ALBUQUERQUE. — White-maned and bushy-eyebrowed, Patrick J. Hurley, one of the last political relics of the Hoover administration, has been romping and stomping through New Mexico in his campaign for senator as if he were fresh out of Baptist Indian college where he went to school.

PEARSON

It has now been nearly 20 years since the death of secretary of war Jim Good catapulted Pat, then young and boisterous, into a coveted spot in the Hoover cabinet. But Pat has not changed much since then. He is just as good at ranting, back-slapping, yelling at congressional committees, twisting the lion's tail and making the eagle scream.

Pat Hurley's aspirations to come back to Washington bring nostalgic memories of a now almost forgotten past. When he first arrived as a junior member of the Hoover administration, dining out was one of the capital's major businesses, and cabinet members studied the question of who would sit where at dinner with the same care we now give to Russian diplomatic notes.

Pat and his beautiful wife Ruth were great assets to this era. In front of full-length mirrors, they rehearsed their bows and their entrances before going out to dinner. They were the handsomest couple in the cabinet. Perhaps not realizing that Washington has changed, Pat has been hankering to get back to the tinsel and gold braid ever since.

That was why the unquenchable Hurley went out to New Mexico and tried to defeat Dennis Chavez for the Senate in 1946. One of the things that hurt him in that race was that although he claimed New Mexico residence since 1935, he forgot to pay taxes not only then but for several years thereafter. The voters of New Mexico considered payment of taxes an important obligation of good citizenship and they did not send Pat to the Senate.

Uphill Battle

Now the indefatigable Hurley is back again, this time running against popular Clinton Anderson, longtime resident of New Mexico, formerly its lone congressman and later Secretary of Agriculture.

It's an uphill battle. However, there is one thing you can say for Hurley. In the long years between his exit from the Hoover administration to his current senatorial campaign, Pat has never lacked the knack of keeping his name in the headlines.

Sometimes the headlines haven't been so kind, as when he ordered his Cadillac car flown over the Himalaya mountains from India to China in an army plane when U. S. troops in China critically needed war supplies.

Or again, he didn't come off too well when Sen. Walter Langer of North Dakota officially demanded an explanation of the $30,000 jewelry and furs given to Mrs. Hurley by the Chiang Kai-Shek government.

LANGER also demanded an explanation of the fact that Hurley, while serving as U. S. ambassador, received $108,000 from the Sinclair Oil company. No satisfactory answer to this question was ever given by the State department or by Hurley himself.

It is highly unusual for an American ambassador to receive a fee from an American corporation, especially an oil company. The fact that he received the $108,000 was never denied. It was even stated officially by the Sinclair company. Nor did the State department have any answer to Senator Langer's question as to why Hurley, though ambassador to China, went out of his way to visit the Near Eastern oil fields, and actually recommended a grandiose plan whereby the United States would virtually take over the Near East.

Hurley's Bosom

One of the things that constantly astonishes friends of Patrick J. Hurley is his amazing and charming gall. His bosom blossoms with an imposing array of military decorations, but the person who admires them has no way of knowing just how they were collected.

One incident Hurley doesn't brag about, for instance, is his exit from Darwin, Australia, in 1942. Roosevelt, who wanted to curry Republican support, had given Hurley a roving mission in the south Pacific, and Pat flew into Darwin just one day ahead of the Japs.

As an ambassador he carried with him the State department's secret code, used for radioing secret messages back to the U. S. A. This code is guarded so carefully that diplomats when traveling sometimes chain it to their wrist when they go to bed at night.

However, Ambassador Hurley left the code in his airplane at the Darwin airport while he spent the night in town. That night Jap airplanes attacked. What became of the code no one knows. The State department hoped that it was burned in the bombing of the airport.

Next morning, a special train carried Australians and Americans out of Darwin. As the train steamed south ahead of the Japs, the locomotive engineer had to stop. For on the tracks ahead, pumping a handcar for dear life, were two men, one of them the former secretary of war in the Hoover cabinet. Pat couldn't wait for the special train to escape the Japs. Later, believe it or not, he received a decoration.

THERE is another decoration on Pat's bosom, which he once listed in his who's who autobiography, namely a silver star citation for "gallantry in action Nov 11, 1918."

Nov. 11, of course, was the last day of the war. And so many people kidded Pat about his last-minute gallantry that he toned it down in his biographical sketch. The record is still in the War department, however, and examination of the facts will show that about one hour before the last shot of World War I was fired, the redoubtable Patrick J. Hurley, a member of the judge advocate general's office and supposed to stay behind the lines, moved up to the front. He was curious to see the last shot fired. One officer, Lieut. Col Wilbur Rogers, an artilleryman, tried to stop him because orders were to ban sightseers. Hurley, however, persisted.

And for this sight-seeing mission, Hurley had enough political pull — and gall — two years later, to get a silver star citation for "gallantry in action on Nov. 11, 1918."

The man who accompanied him on that sight-seeing expedition, Col. E. St. John Greble, was committed to St. Elizabeth's insane asylum in 1936. Pat Hurley is now running for the Senate.

"Hey! Which Way Did The Parade Go?"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

By Bennett Cerf

SOCIALLY women talk too much and say too little.

That's because they have a few pet topics of conversation they go over and over, and around and around until they are worn threadbare.

One is their health. No one is really interested in another person's insomnia, her operation, or how many colds he has had in the last year.

MILLETT

Two is the food preferences of their families. Who really cares whether John Doe, jr. won't eat vegetables—except his fond Mama and maybe John Doe, jr. himself.

Three is reducing diets. A diet is important to the one who is going hungry, but not of even the slightest concern to anybody else.

TROUBLES AREN'T ABSORBING

FOUR comes under the heading of "Troubles," which shouldn't be aired in the name of interesting conversation.

Five is the high cost of living. Unless you have a new thought on the subject let it rest. Everybody knows it's deplorable and something ought to be done about it.

Six is the superiority of their children. There's nothing duller to other parents.

Seven is her own dislikes and prejudices. The more a woman goes into those conversationally, the less attractive she becomes.

Eight comes under the heading of "Important People I Have Known." That is strictly show-off talk and as such is not only boring but irritating.

Leaving all eight of those topics strictly alone would improve any woman's conversation.

"V. ell, I don't like Alice, and from all I've said about her, I know I never will!"

"Try And Stop Me"

A FAVORITE F. D. R. story concerned a little boy who addressed a letter to God explaining his desperate need for $100.00. The letter reached the Postmaster General, who showed it to the President. The President produced a five-spot and told the Postmaster General to send it to the boy.

In due course a thank you note arrived from the little boy addressed to God. In a P. S. he commented, "It's too bad you routed your letter through Washington. As usual, the bureaucrats down there deducted 95 per cent."

ONE OF THOSE fashionable dressmakers, with a salon in the East Fifties, who will whip up a tea-gown for milady for as little as four hundred dollars, commutes daily to a summer home on the Jersey coast. This year, the place has been infested with hordes of mosquitoes. She describes her homeward journey as "from rags to itches."

OUR CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

As plans progress for the holiday lighting and decorating of downtown Lubbock, one reminder addressed to business men and residents generally may be pertinent.

The colored bulbs and spruce roping which will adorn the downtown streets will provide only the background for the Lubbock holiday picture. The glittering jewels in this mounting will be the decorations of the individual establishments. They will determine whether the whole picture merely is good or is extraordinary.

Last year many who would have liked to decorate elaborately could not do so because of material shortages. This problem still exists in a more modified degree. The cost of decorating likewise has to be given more consideration by many firms this year than last year.

But those who plan to decorate should get busy at once unless they are sure of their materials. The prospects are that the individual storefront decorations will be sufficient in number and on a scale of elaborateness to insure a picture of which Lubbock can be proud.

Dewey, Stassen Become Very Close After Debate Last May

WASHINGTON—A great deal of oratory of one sort and another has poured through the microphones since that night last May when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold Stassen had their famous debate in Oregon on Communism in the United States and what to do about it. Dewey had the more popular side of that argument; he handled himself more skillfully and it gave him the slight edge necessary to win in the Oregon primary.

Stassen had pushed Dewey hard. Defeat in Oregon might well have cost the New York governor the nomination at the Philadelphia convention. The Stassen threat compelled Dewey to go out to the Pacific northwest and engage in a grass-roots, county-fair campaign for Oregon's six electoral votes.

CHILDS

Yet today Stassen and Dewey are as close as two such ambitious men could be. The feeling in the Dewey entourage is that Stassen is contributing more to the campaign than any single individual aside from the candidate himself.

Stassen is campaigning in most of the states where senatorial seats are in doubt. He is speaking particularly at universities and before groups of younger voters and veterans where his appeal is greatest.

Stassen Appreciated

On the Dewey team there is full appreciation of the Stassen all-out effort. The realists around the New York governor realize that Stassen had a following among independent voters and, therefore has something to offer in the campaign. He is not merely converting the already-converted, as so many Republican speakers are doing.

In consequence, Stassen can have a very important job in the Dewey administration—if he wants it. The last is a significant proviso.

Dewey and Stassen, at their meeting in July, came to understand each other very well. Stassen confessed his errors with a contrite heart. He admitted that his conduct at the Philadelphia convention was outside the benevolent forgiveness of the older and more experienced man who recognizes his adversary's real capacities in spite of the blunders of impetuous youth.

It turned out, in short, to be a love feast. Within the kindly Dewey view it is conceivable that Stassen will succeed Dewey in the White House after two Dewey terms. The difference in their ages—Stassen is 41, Dewey 46—would make this perfectly feasible.

AS to the immediate future and a job in Washington after Jan. 20, the two friends may well end up in agreement that it would be unwise. Stassen accepted the presidency of the University of Pennsylvania only a few months ago and his departure so soon would have an odd look.

Moreover, the choice of a position would be likely to prove difficult. Stassen has hinted that he would be interested in only two jobs—secretary of state and secretary of defense.

Candidates for the State department are already lined up from Dewey's private office clear out to the steps of the capitol at Albany. If the Democrats should get a majority of the Senate, the situation would be further complicated. Then Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who would be merely ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee, might be seriously considered for the post.

A brilliant practitioner of the bi-partisan foreign policy, Vandenberg would be best equipped to get along with a Democratic majority in the Senate. Should that happen, John Foster Dulles, Dewey's closest adviser on foreign policy, would be likely to replace Warren Austin as head of the U. S. delegation at the United Nations.

Pressure Building Up

Powerful pressure is building up to persuade Dewey to keep James Forrestal in his present post as secretary of defense. This is essential, so the argument goes, for continuity of defense policies at least in a transitional period of several months. The pressure comes from sources that Dewey cannot ignore.

As president of a great university, Stassen will have a forum and he will certainly keep in the news. He would be eligible for special missions or to head the kind of commission that Dewey might appoint to look into some vexing problem. Then when the proper time comes and a suitable vacancy occurs, Stassen's friend in the White House could put him in a key position.

Scurry Wildcat Is Indicated Producer

Possibilities of the discovery of some sort of oil and gas production have been indicated at Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Jessie Brown, wildcat in Northwest Scurry county, nine miles northwest of Snyder.

This prospector took a two hour and 15 minute drillstem test at 6,030-58 feet. There was a blow of gas for a part of the period. There was no gauge or estimate made on the volume.

Recovery was 1,310 feet of 41.8 gracity oil, and mud cut oil. There was no formation water. The possible new field opener is coring ahead.

The formation which developed the petroleum is a sand, and most geologists think it is in the Pennsylvanian. There has been no official report released regarding the identity of the horizon. The venture was originally started to explore into the Ellenburger, and it is continuing to that objective.

ANGUS CALVES TO TEXAS

CENTERVILLE, Ia., Oct. 25. (AP)—J. E. McAninch, in a $100,000 livestock transaction, last week shipped 800 head of Angus calves to Gainesville, Tex., where a group of buyers had purchased the animals for use as breeding stock.

It was the largest single livestock sale of record in this country.

Demos Facing Lack Of Funds

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — A desperate lack of funds seriously hampers Democratic efforts to obtain control of the Senate and reduce the heavy Republican House majority.

The latest financial reports filed with Congress revealed today that the Democratic House and Senate congressional committees spent only $36,650, on behalf of Democratic candidates up to ten days before the Nov. 2 balloting.

GOP Spends More

The Republicans, on the other hand, have spent $470,907 on behalf of GOP congressional candidates, twelve times as much as the Democrats.

The Democratic reports revealed that only $4,387 was spent for House candidates and $32,263 for Senate contests.

With control of the Senate hanging in the balance, Democratic national headquarters was apparently contributing little or nothing to the important congressional races.

Would Overturn Control

The Republicans have a majority of 60 in the House, but in the Senate a net gain of four seats for the Democrats could overturn the present 51-45 GOP control there.

A Democratic source reported that due to the lack of funds, the national headquarters is obliged to concentrate its meager campaign sources on President Truman and Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, his vice-presidential running mate.

GOP Not Worried

The Republicans, however, are not faced with financial worries. The Republican congressional campaign committee revealed that it has spent $306,257 on behalf of House GOP candidates, 75 times the amount expended by the Democrats. The Republican Senatorial campaign committee disclosed that it has spent $164,650, five times in excess of the Democrats' financial outlay.

Democratic candidates for the House and Senate were therefore compelled largely to fall back on other sources for funds, such as state and local Democratic committees and individual contributions. In addition the CIO Political Action Committee is aiding Democratic candidates.

PAC Spends Same

The PAC reported that it has spent $17,000 for Democratic senatorial candidates and $21,650 for House nominees.

Other labor groups were also aiding candidates for Congress but their expenditures were small compared to those being spent on behalf of GOP hopefuls.

The Democratic party was apparently hit hard by the decision of State Rights Democrats who split away and are supporting the Thurmond-Wright ticket.

Expenses Near $6,000,000

The Mississippi State Democratic party, to cite one example, has contributed approximately $29,000 to the national State Rights Democratic committee. This money would have gone to Democratic national headquarters under ordinary circumstances. Meanwhile campaign expenditures neared $6,000,000 as additional reports were filed with the clerk of the House, as required under the federal corrupt practices law.

The Republican national committee reported that it has expended $1,706,370 and received contributions totaling $1,464,753 for the period Jan. 1 to Oct. 18. Part of its expenses were defrayed from the sizeable bank balance which the Republicans had at the beginning of the year.

The Democratic national committee's financial report had not yet been received when the House clerk's office closed shortly after noon Saturday, but was expected to be received today.

The last three election financial reports must be filed Oct. 28.

Postal Expansion

open the new service and announcement will be made as soon as possible of action in Washington on the application, so that residents of the areas may make preparations for opening of delivery in event of approval, the postmaster said.

In some cases where residents of the five additions are receiving mail on rural routes, their boxes are located as much as one mile away from their homes. Mail on the rural routes is delivered on the highway and while offering convenient delivery for some of the residents, that involves inconvenience for others located further from the highway.

"We have so much outlying territory that we can't get on our city routes," said the postmaster. Such sections with large numbers of residents offer problems in rural delivery, although rural carriers now are delivering all mail addressed on rural routes.

Oil Man Is Speaker At Jaycee Luncheon

Approximately 85 members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce heard a discussion of America's oil outlook by Helmut Klaus, president of Klaus Exploration company, at today's weekly Jaycee luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Klaus outlined the necessity of building an oil production surplus in the United States, a step which he said has been hindered by shipment of essential supplies to foreign lands for use in oil exploration use there. He also touched briefly on methods of producing petroleum from slate found in the Rocky mountain area, and from coal.

Jack Sitton, president of the New Mexico Junior Chamber of Commerce and editor of the Carlsbad-Current-Argus, was a special guest at the luncheon. He spoke briefly, bringing a greeting from New Mexico Jaycees to local club members

Stock Market

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP) — The stock market moved lower today with steels leading the decline.

The volume of trading was around 1,100,000 shares.

Prices were off fractions to around a point with some of the leading issues dropping as much as two points at times.

Although steels were lower, motors held fairly steady with demand running second only to steels.

Oils at one time were higher against the trend of the list as a whole, but they joined the general movement later. Rails were lower and hot very activie.

On the downside were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Wheeling Steel, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Nickel Plate, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, International Telephone & Telegraph, Gulf Oil, American Woolen, Matheson Chemical, International Paper and Standard Oil (NJ).

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP) — Cotton futures drifted lower today in slow dealings. Scattered liquidation and hedging were absorbed through scale-down mill buying. The lack of fresh developments in spot cotton and textiles and the withholding movement among producers for better prices contributed to the dullness in the futures market.

Traders generally looked for a decline of about 25 points in the mid-October cotton parity compared with September. The parity announcement is due this Friday.

Cotton weakened in a late flurry of liquidation and hedging which dropped prices sharply into new low ground for the day. The trade was the principle buyer. The renewed confusion over the foreign situation and the lack of fresh developments in the cotton situation accounted for part of the selling.

Futures closed 25 to 95 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

The firmness of wheat aided some other cereals, although corn was weak most of the day.

There was little pressure against wheat. Traders noted the government took 1,441,911 bushels of cash wheat last weekend, continuing its persistent buying. Some wheat also was going abroad through private export channels, Holland buying a cargo over the week-end.

Wheat closed ⅞-1¼ higher, December $2.29¾-¾, corn was ½ lower to ⅝ higher, December $1.37⅝-⅞, oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 77.

Jurors Named In Duty Trial

Four jurors had been accepted up to 1:45 p. m. in the murder trial of Hildred Milton Duty, 28, of 820 Ave. J, in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair.

Judge Blair overruled defense counsel, Robert Porter and Grady West, in a written motion for continuance, as well as an oral motion that the jury panel be quashed.

Charged In Shooting

Duty is charged with murder with malice in the July 19 shooting of James W. Hickman, 55, Santa Fe railroad yardmaster of 2701 Thirty-first. The shooting was in 1000-block Ave. J.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars represent the state.

The motion for continuance set out that defense witnesses were missing.

The shooting, the state contends, was over Hickman's daughter and culminated a several-months feud.

Jurors Selected

The defense qualified prospective jurors on the law of self-defense. The state did not qualify on the death penalty. Duty had waived a special venire.

Jurors selected were: Pat Nix, E. L. Massie, Paul Bolin, and G. H. Moore.

A petit jury reported at 10 a. m., same time the 72nd jury panel reported to Judge Blair, to Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district court.

Judge Pardue ordered the panel to report again at 9 a. m. Thursday, since attorneys indicated no cases ready for trial before then.

Russian Veto

an effort to mediate it, soon after the United States, Britain and France filed the Berlin case with the security council, charging that the Berlin blockade is a threat to peace.

Russia has maintained there is no blockade. Today's speech on the subject by Vishinsky marked the second time he has broken his Kremlin-imposed silence on the Berlin issue. Russia has taken the view that the issue should not have come before the security council—so, her delegates would not talk about it there.

Today, however, Vishinsky told the council he had to protect the Soviet zone of Germany against a "danger" created by introduction of of the Western mark into Berlin.

Currency Reform Vital

"The removal of restrictions by the U. S. S. R. is predicted on the condition of the currency reform" in Berlin, he said. The present resolution "leads us back to the Moscow agreement of Aug. 30," he added. That Vishinsky went on, provided for simultaneous lifting of the blockade and currency reform.

During Berlin negotiations to implement the Moscow agreement of Aug. 30, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, injected a demand that Russia be given control of the airlift and the negotiations collapsed.

Vishinsky said the six-nation proposal violated the four-power agreement on Aug. 30, and that "is why the Soviet delegation cannot agree to the resolution. That is why the Soviet delegation will vote against this resolution."

Russian Plan Explained

He said he was prepared to use his voting rights under a charter article defining use of the veto.

The Russian plan, one informant said, called for lifting of the Berlin blockade by stages, in conjunction with currency revision and other adjustments of the German problem. The west has insisted that the Russians must lift the blockade before further direct negotiations take place.

The security council met at 5:40 p. m. (10:40 a. m. CST) to take up the Berlin case again.

United States, British, French and neutral delegates considered the Russian plan for an hour at a meeting in the apartment of Juan Atilio Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister and acting president of the security council.

West Not Convinced

After the decision was reached against the Russian plan, Bramuglia went to tell Andrei Y. Vishinsky Soviet deputy foreign minister, the Western answer.

The delegates, more serious than usual, went immediately to the Palais De Chaillot for a meeting of the security council, which was delayed two hours for their conference.

Bramuglia was reported to have tried to convince the neutrals and the Western group they should accept a new draft he prepared after he saw Vishinsky twice last night.

It was said the Western powers would not accept it at all and insisted on standing on the resolution of the six small powers now before the council.

Labor Turning To Dewey, Leader Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (INS) — GOP Campaign Manager Herbert Brownell, jr., said today that Democratic efforts to win the all-out support of labor "are backfiring."

Brownell, directing the drive to elect GOP Presidential Candidate Dewey, noted that some union officials were backing Dewey against President Truman. Brownell said:

"An increasing number of union members and local labor officials in industrial communities throughout the country are repudiating the endorsement of Truman and Barkley by a few union officials who, two years ago, were denouncing their candidates of today."

Dewey's Cabinet

the Treasury post previously had centered around Elliot Bell, commissioner of New York state banks. But the back stage gossip is that if Dewey wins Bell might be picked to head the Federal Reserve bank system, with new broad powers for supervision of the nation's economy added to that job.

Might Effect Changes

The possible loss by the Republicans of Senate control might affect the personnel of Dewey's proposed cabinet.

If Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) lost his chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations committee to a Democrat, some of his friends think he would be more interested in becoming Secretary of State than remaining in the Senate.

A great many of Dewey's friends think he would pick Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.) for Secretary of Agriculture.

Might Name Montanan

Dewey has promised publicly to name a Secretary of Interior from one of the 11 far western states, excluding California and Arizona because of their current water dispute.

There are some who believe that he might name Gov. Sam Ford of Montana.

Dewey's praise of Harold E. Stassen while the GOP nominee was campaigning in Minnesota revived talk that he might want his former rival for the presidential nomination in his cabinet.

Stassen Interested In Two

Stassen, however, has told friends he would be interested in only two jobs—Secretary of State or Secretary of National Defense.

For the latter post, there still is talk that Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania is in the running.

Ferdinand Eberstadt, former War Production board chairman, is mentioned often for the defense post. There is even some talk that Dewey might want to retain Secretary James Forrestal.

There has been discussion of Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan and Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey for the Attorney General's post.

Jaeckel For Postal Job

Edwin F. Jaeckel of Buffalo, who has been riding the Dewey campaign train to offer on-the-spot political advice, is talked for Post-master General.

If Dewey gets congress to set up his proposed department of social progress, he might consider Mrs. Charles W. Weis, jr., New York national committeewoman, as a possible appointee.

There has been almost no speculation on a possible appointee for Secretary of Labor.

Significantly, however, the only labor figure of any stature in the Dewey camp has been William L. McFetridge, General president of the International Union of Building Service Employes.

Paris Meeting

mer, Bevin avoided any commitments, pleading he had to consult with the British commonwealth nations. French circles said the commonwealth dominions had given the scheme their blessings at the recent London meetings.

The foreign ministers also will take up a report from their defense ministers who last month agreed to weld their military high commands into an integrated general staff under Britain's Marshall Montgomery.

The military coordination also includes standardiation of arms, training, procurement and operations. From the European viewpoint, military unification will serve as the basis for asking the United States to supply arms.

To Be Starting Point

It also would be the starting point for negotiating a mutual assistance treaty with the U. S. which the western union nations hope to obtain from the next American administration.

British and French sources said the projected treaty had been discussed in secret talks with American state and defense department officials in Washington.

During the meetings the foreign ministers will review the reports of their finance ministers on steps taken to promote trade and an easier flow of currency among the member states.

Efforts to coordinate their respective national health programs and other social benefits also will be studied.

Under the Brussels pact, embodying political, social, economic, military and cultural measures, the ministers meet at least once every three months to direct the union's affairs.

Only Half Of People To Vote

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York generally is counted today the probable winner of the presidential election as the last week of campaigning begins.

Election day is Nov. 2, one week from tomorrow. About half the 93,000,000 potential voters are expected to stay home for one reason or another. The total vote is estimated to be about 47,000,000. That is nearly 1,000,000 under the number cast when Dewey ran the first time and was licked by FDR. The largest vote ever cast in this country was 49,800,000 in 1940 when Mr. Roosevelt defeated the late Wendell L. Willkie.

Ten Candidates On Ballot

There will be 10 candidates for President on the ballot next Tuesday in one or more states. The four principal parties and candidates are:

Democrat: President Truman.
Republican: Dewey.
Progressive: Henry A. Wallace.
State's Rights: Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina.

The other parties are: Socialist, Socialist-Labor, Socialist-Worker, Greenback, Prohibition and Vegetarian.

State contests for political office in some instances overshadow the presidential contest. That is partly because so many people think Dewey is in, but more particularly because the contest for Senate control is very close. The political division of the Senate now is: Republicans 51; Democrats 45.

Republican candidates for currently Republican Senate seats are in varying degrees of trouble in six states: Oklahoma, Kentucky, West Virginia, Minnesota, Iowa and Wyoming.

Chances None Too Rosy

To make up for one or more losses among those states the Republicans must look to Montana, Colorado, New Mexico and Tennessee where Democrats defend somewhat shaky seats. But Republican chances are none too rosy among those four. Other Senate contests appear to be safe for the party now holding the seat.

Thirty-two senators will be elected Tuesday to serve in the next Congress. Maine elected a senator last September.

There are to be elected 523 members of the House of Representatives. Maine elected three representatives in September.

The Republicans gained 56 seats and control of the House of Representatives in the 1946 election. Continued Republican control of the House is indicated although the party is expected to lose a handful of House seats this year.

Thirty-three states will elect governors. Louisiana eleced a governor in April.

There literally are tens of thousands of lesser offices to be filled on election day.

late Count Bernadotte, U. N. mediator in Palestine — came under strong Jewish criticism.

It was Marshall's action which prompted Dean Alfange, chairman of the American Christian Palestine committee of New York, to ask Dewey for his views, Alfange said last night.

Calling Marshall's endorsement of the Bernadotte plan "a repudiation" of the Democratic platform plank, Alfange added: "since Mr. Truman remained silent, it was presumed he acquiesced in the repudiation."

Mr. Truman did not refer to the Bernadotte or any other plan by name. He said U. N. negotiations are going on now seeking to settle conflicting Arab and Jewish claims. And he voiced the hope that the plan now under study can be used as a basis of negotiation.

The Palestine issue is a touchy one in all of the cities where Mr. Truman and Dewey will voice their final appeals for votes. The two candidates will speak 24 hours apart in Chicago, Cleveland and Boston. Both also have addresses booked in New York City.

At White House Sunday

Mr. Truman spent 14 hours back at the White House yesterday after his Pennsylvania swing. Climaxed by a Pittsburgh speech Saturday night. The President likened Dewey there to a doctor who says the American people need a major operation even though they are "feeling fine . . . and never had a brighter future."

Dewey's aides said he will close out his campaign by holding to his theme that a Republican victory would be a unifying influence for the country.

Henry Wallace, speaking from Newark, N. J., last night, called upon the United States, Russia and Britain to pull their troops out of Germany and leave the occupation chore to six "small" countries.

Wallace listed the six as France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Poland and Czechoslovakia. He said:

"The time has come to change Germany from a tinder box into a neutral zone."

The explosion occurred in the school's lunchroom where students, and parents and school employes were cleaning up the kitchen following a school carnival Friday night.

The south portion of the school was damaged. Windows were blown out, screens were blown off. The level of the floor in the lunchroom was raised and equipment was damaged.

The school is fueled by artificial gas.

Otto is in the northeast section of Falls county. It has a population of 250.

West Not So Wild; Boys Land In Jail

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25 (U.P) — Two Baltimore, Md., teen-agers who apparently thought law had not penetrated west of the Mississippi, were reconsidering in the city jail today.

The 16 and 17-year-old youths arrived Friday night by train with $150 between them and embarked on a crime wave which took them from here to Stamford by way of one car theft and five burglaries.

Saturday, they outfitted themselves in cowboy hats and boots, stole a 1941 coupe belonging to Dale Rice and headed for the not-so-wide-open west.

They burglarized a service station on the Jacksboro highway and equipped themselves with a shotgun and shells.

They then burglarized a service station in Knox county and a service station, cafe and bakery in Haskell county.

As they were attempting to enter a service station in Stamford, they were caught by Stamford police.

Detectives Herman J. Cobb and Ed Smith of the city car theft detail returned the boys and the car to Fort Worth yesterday afternoon. They admitted the burglaries and surrendered their loot, which included about $35 in cash.

Cobb said car theft charges would be filed against the boys today.

Vehicle Thefts Reported Here

Police said this afternoon they had received reports of theft of two motor vehicles—a 1937 green pickup Chevrolet truck, license Mc 1704, and a Cushman motor scooter, license YJ 1624.

The truck is owned by Bud Robinson of 715 Broadway, the scooter by Daniel Tew of 3120 Thirty-eighth.

Police received a complaint that the air had been let out of the tires of five automobiles in the 2100-block of Thirteenth and Fourteenth.

Similar Report Made

A similar report had been made Sunday night from the same section. One car owner, saying that the offense had "happened before," threatened reprisal if anyone is caught repeating the offense.

A tire company truck Sunday night was kept on the go repairing damages of the pranksters.

Police promised to keep a sharp lookout.

A negro woman, Margie Sims, was taken to a hospital early Sunday for emergency treatment, after, police were told, she had taken poison. She was held for observation by hospital authorities, but apparently would have no serious after effects.

A suit valued at $50 was reported stolen from S. L. King of 2802 North First.

Negro Man Fined

A negro man was fined $25 on each of two charges, of reckless driving and using the license of another, corporation court officials said. Another, whose license he allegedly used, was fined $15 for allowing an unlicensed driver to use his license.

An 18-year-old Mexican who said he had been AWOL 16 days from Wichita Falls Army Air field, was held by the sheriff's department for Army authorities.

Henry Baldridge, of 109 North Ave. V, reported there had been an attempted burglary there, but it was not believed anything was taken. A front glass was broken, and an attempt had been made to open a door.

Supply Company Entered

Guy B. Hilton's Supply company on East Broadway was entered through a west window, after a pane had been broken. A cash register was opened, but nothing was believed taken. The same person who attempted the Baldridge burglary was believed responsible for that at the supply company, officials intimated.

The nightwatchman at Abernathy, O. C. Rutledge, reported that 45 or 50 sheep, rams and ewes, had been stolen or had strayed from a place near there. A red "S" is painted on their left hips, he said in a report to Capt. Bob Crowder of the Texas Rangers headquarters here.

warned sharply that foreign workers taking part in demonstrations would be ousted at once by a simple order of local authorities, and that French miners attacking government forces risked long prison sentences.

In another sector, near Ales in southern France, Moch said, 60 of 75 men of a republican security guard company were injured in a clash with strikers. Although under orders to fire if necessary, the guards did not shoot at the strikers who attacked them.

"Miners, keep calm," Moch exhorted the strikers in his nationwide broadcast. "We are sure that a great majority of you will approve the action that will save your mines and insure respect for freedom to work and for the laws of the republic."

damaged.

The plane came to a stop about 15 yards from the second barracks. A big chunk of barracks rested crazily on top of the fallen plane.

The crash scene was about "a city block from occupied barracks on the field," the captain said.

Officers said visibility at the time of the attempted landing, 10:39 p. m., CST, was "below ordinary instrument conditions."

Names of the three dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin. The list of injured was not immediately available.

Korea Uprising In Mopping Up Stage

SEOUL, Oct. 25. (AP)—The Korean army said today it had reduced last week's uprising "to the stage of mopping up separated bands of insurgents."

Troops of the Korean republic were on the march toward Yosu southern rebel-held port where the revolt broke out.

These troops moved southward down the peninsula from recaptured Sunchon, 20 miles north of Yosu, brief reports from the scene said. Yosu is near the southern tip of the peninsula. The Korean navy reported capture of two rebel craft in Yosu's harbor Sunday.

Atom Bomb

attack on front-line troops. This is because such troops are so dispersed that it would require many bombs to destroy effective numbers of them.

The bomb thus becomes essentially a strategic weapon, to be used for two general purposes:

1. Destruction of cities in which war goods are produced or distributed, together with the people producing them.

2. Breaking the will of civilian populations to continue a war.

Policy Considered

In considering all the possibilities of atomic weapon attack, matters of policy beyond the purely military aspects have been given grave consideration by national defense officials. This is one of them:

It is quite possible that an all-out atomic war eventually could destroy the economy of even the largest nation. When that military victory had been achieved, the victor might have to support the vanquished—even as in Germany and Japan.

The ultimate cost might result in economic defeat for the military victor. Thus the question arises concerning a more restrained use of A-bombs and a wider use of the older but more selective conventional bombs—which can blow up individual factories without wiping out an entire area.

Subversion Is Menace

It is known that defense officials consider one of the gravest present menaces to be the possibility of attempted capture of the country by subversive means—without resort to any mass destruction weapons. Those who hold this view reason:

Russia, whose goal is a Soviet world directed by Moscow, does not want to destroy the United States by military force. It does want America's vast industrial production to use in its complex of dominated nations. Thus an open military onslaught would be less profitable than conquest by subversion and revolution.

Record Fliers

"feeling great."

Simmons radioed that they were sorry to learn that two endurance fliers in California, Bill Barris and Dick Riedel, were forced to land yesterday after spending 106 hours in the air.

"We know how much preparations go into it," he said. "We hope that they can get back up into the air as soon as possible to resume competition."

Plane Dubbed "Miss Texas"

"They've sure got our sympathy," Simons said.

Vinmont and Simons are flying a single-engine monoplane, dubbed "Miss Texas." They take turns flying. They sleep on a specially built bed.

Twice a day they refuel—at dawn and at dusk. Their plane swoops down over a runway and picks up gasoline and supplies from a speeding car. They use a hook and rope system.

When they took off at dusk last Wednesday they predicted they would stay in the air 1,500 hours, more than two months.
