Nation Given Spy Warning

Sabotage Plots Are Described

Plans To Impair Efficiency Of U. S. In Time Of War Said To Be In Making

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 — A warning that spies are setting up a "potential sabotage machine" designed to impair the United States' industrial and military efficiency in time of war came today from an investigator for the house committee on un-American activities.

John C. Metcalfe, who made a six-months inquiry into activities of subversive groups for the committee, testified he believed "the spy situation in the United States is a very serious menace."

To Combat Situation

President Roosevelt recently directed attention to the spy question when he told newsmen he would recommend increased expenditures to combat espionage activities by foreign agents.

"The real aim of the American nazi movement," Metcalfe told the committee, "is to build up in the United States a spy organization, a potential sabotage machine and a German minority . . ."

Asserting that Germany was not the only foreign country whose nationals were engaged in such activities, Metcalfe expressed belief the United States had been placed in "a precarious position." Existing undercover organizations, he said, could do great damage here in event of war unless the government took "militant steps" to eliminate them.

Hearings End Today

The committee is planning to conclude its prolonged hearings tomorrow because its funds are exhausted.

Chairman Martin Dies (D-Tex) has announced he will ask congress for new funds.

Another witness, George E. Sullivan, a Catholic attorney and author of Washington, advanced what he termed a 12-point program for combatting un-American activities. It included prohibition of further immigration until subversive forces are eliminated, restoration of the "unpolluted" freedom of the press, and elimination of subversive propaganda from educational establishments.

Slaton Host At Annual Show

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Dec. 14.—All was announced in readiness tonight for the opening Thursday of Slaton's three-day annual poultry show. It is the second annual Slaton Poultry Show and Community fair.

All entry applications must be in the hands of the show manager by 6 o'clock Thursday night. The birds must be in place by 10 o'clock the next morning when judging will begin, according to officials of the fair.

Prizes To Be Awarded

Cash prizes and ribbons will be presented to exhibitors of winning fowls.

In connection with the poultry show, which includes chickens and turkeys, an exhibit of canned fruits and vegetables will be shown.

Other exhibits will include preserves and jellies, canned meats, painting on chinaware, children's paintings, household linens, fancy work, old ladies' work, weaving, quilts, and bed spreads.

Officers Of Association

N. C. Dickson is president of the Slaton Poultry association. Other officers are W. T. Driver, vice-president; Chas. Splawn, second vice-president; and Raymond Lee Johns, secretary and treasurer and manager. Directors are Jim Jernigan, B. H. Coston, C. Z. Fine, W. L. Muerer, R. A. Meeks, Leo Kitten, Vic Cade, and Joe Alspaugh. A. C. Strickland is show superintendent.

Officers of the women's auxiliary of the association are: Mrs. W. T. Driver, president; Mrs. A. W. Montgomery, vice-president; and Mrs. Bill Wright, secretary and treasurer. Directors are Mesdames C. E. Lilley, W. N. Williams, Leo Kitten, Dayton Eckert, Howard Hale, C. C. Shaw, and P. M. Wheatley. Mrs. W. H. Crosby is superintendent.

Bill For $57,692.29 Sent To Al Capone

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 14—The government sent a bill for $57,692.29 to Al Capone today.

The sum included a $50,000 fine Capone hasn't paid and $7,692.29 court costs of his income tax evasion case still on the books of the federal district court here.

Chris Gunther, deputy clerk, figured up the total for a reply to Warden J. A. Johnson of Alcatraz island prison from which Capone is scheduled for release Jan. 19.

Capone still has a one-year term to serve in the Cook county (Chicago) jail, however, the additional term being for a misdemeanor count in the tax evasion indictment.

Foreign Trade Best Remedy For Farmers

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14—Farmers were urged today to throw their whole weight behind the expansion of their foreign markets "as the only approach above all others that holds promise of success without attendant danger" in solving the farm problems.

This advice was given by an industrialist, Edgar W. Smith, vice-president of the General Motors corporation at the 20th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation here.

One Of Finalists

Smith was one of the finalists among a long list of speakers in a day's symposium on solving the farmers' economic problem.

While experts were offering suggestions on raising the farmer's income and restoring his markets, leaders of the farm bureau were drafting a formula for economic stability to be presented to the convention tomorrow.

Sentiment has been overwhelmingly in favor of continuance of the administration's farm program although many representatives favored eliminating what they considered objectionable features in regulations.

Must Open New Markets

As representative of the automobile industry, Smith told the farmers that the permanent solution to the farmer's problem of production and sale lay in the "opening up of new markets abroad through a healthier and more vigorous two-way foreign trade."

"A safe, sound and intelligent" revision of the American tariff, he said, would permit increased imports of foreign goods needed by the producer whose problem was "reciprocal and interlocking" with that of the consumer.

Face Great Emergency

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York City, speaking on behalf of the public and the consumer, said the country was facing an emergency greater than in war days and suggested that partisan politics be forgotten until the "economic maladjustment" was righted.

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, discussing "the commodity

Tech Alumni Will Distribute Lint

DALLAS, Dec. 14 (Special) — Texas Tech alumni here agreed today to take over the distribution of cotton lint to office buildings in order that a snowstorm may float down on the Red Raiders when they are paraded up Main street the morning of Dec. 21.

Manuel De Busk, chairman of the Tech alumni chapter here, said John Burroughs and Guy Carter would head a committee to make cotton available to every office fronting the street.

The huge football rally the night of Jan. 1, has been definitely set in the Fair park auditorium, De Busk said, to follow the Dallas symphony concert there that afternoon.

There will be a general meeting of ex-students Monday at Hotel Adolphus to complete plans for their participation in the Cotton bowl jubilee.

Defense Lines Being Studied For Americas

Pan-American Monroe Doctrine To Protect All Countries Of Western Area Is Proposed

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LIMA, Dec. 14. — A Pan-American Monroe Doctrine under which all countries of the western hemisphere would assume the burden thus far maintained by the United States alone came before the Pan-American conference today.

Foreign Minister Luis Lopez de Mesa of Columbia told the committee for organization of peace that the "Monroe Doctrine can now be widened to embrace all free America as a subject of responsibility."

Opposed To Force

Mexico, apparently mindful of controversies with the United States over expropriation of lands and on properties, followed the lead of Argentina in submitting a resolution asking that the conference reaffirm past decisions that force must not be used for collection of debts between nations.

It was believed the resolution had little chance of passage, since there are already accords and agreements among American states against forcible debt collections.

Lopez de Mesa called attention to pressure of European events and political theories on the Americas in his proposal for a broadening of the doctrine proclaimed in 1823 by President James Monroe in a hands-off-the-Americas warning to Europe.

Interests Are Coinciding

"National interests of the United States are coinciding with those of individual states in Latin America," he asserted in praising the "wonderful broadening of ideas of great statesmen" of the United States.

He made his proposal during a plea for Columbia's project for a league of American nations, which the conference seemed likely to postpone until its next meeting in 1943.

Behind-the-scenes discussion for reaching a common plan on continental defense went ahead, Secretary of State Cordell Hull conferring on the subject with Dr. Isidoro Ruiz Moreno, chairman of the Argentine delegation. Argentine sources said a defense proposal had not yet been submitted formally because approval of all delegations had to be obtained.

Sites Of Four Labs Revealed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 — The agriculture department announced today the sites of four huge laboratories which will carry on a "test-tube" attack on the problems created by the nation's farm surpluses.

The laboratories, to be started before next July 1, will be constructed at Peoria, Ill., New Orleans, La., in the Philadelphia area and in the San Francisco bay vicinity.

Millions Appropriated

The last congress appropriated $4,000,000 for the laboratories and authorized a similar expenditure annually. Their job will be to find new uses and new outlets in the human or industrial field for surplus farm products.

Although each will concentrate its research on the major farm products of its region, Seeretary Wallace said their work would not stop at regional boundaries, but would be nationwide in effect.

Test To Find Experts

Wallace disclosed that a recently announced civil service test was designed to bring in 25 or more outstanding scientists to become project leaders. Each laboratory is expected to have 200 or more workers.

The Philadelphia area laboratory will concentrate on milk products, tobacco, apples, potatoes and vegetables.

The southern regional laboratory at New Orleans will seek new outlets for cotton, sweet potatoes and peanuts, the principal crops of that section.

Others To Be Added

Corn, wheat and agricultural waste products will be the major subject of research work at the Peoria station.

Other commodities may be added later.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee said that while he had hoped one of the laboratories would be located in Texas, New Orleans was a good location.

"The work, rather than the location, is the primary thing," Jones said. "The cotton area from coast to coast will receive the benefits."

Federal Court Clears Docket At Top Speed

Grinding steadily ahead on the criminal docket yesterday Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, presiding in U. S. district court passed sentences in a group of cases and also spent most of the afternoon hearing a civil case.

Only a partial report was received from the grand jury and that body is expected to make a report this morning. It was said 30 true bills had been returned and there was a possibility that the work might be completed late today or early Friday.

Court will resume at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The petit jury is to report at that hour.

Loan Cases Heard

Hearing on eight crop loan civil cases, in which the federal government seeks to collect loans made in 1935 by the emergency feed and seed loan was held in the afternoon, after criminal matters for the day had been disposed of. W. P. Walker, assistant U. S. district attorney in charge of civil matters, represented the government, assisted by M. E. Crane, Dallas, with the Farm Credit administration and W. P. Fonville, an assistant district attorney. G. E. Lockhart represented the Thomas brothers, gin owners, named as defendants in the cases.

Defendants were L. D. Hayes, I. R. L. Lackey, James A. Lackey, William Chastain, Linville H. Fitzgerald, Fred C. Kelly, Homer R. Stevens and William A. Stevens. Total amount said due the government was $1,496. More than 40 exhibits were introduced by the government.

Criminal Cases Heard

During the afternoon several criminal cases were heard. Horace C. Barton, Terry county ginner and Jack Simmons, a farmer, entered pleas of guilty to making false statements in order to obtain a cotton loan from the Commodity Credit corporation. Total of 412 bales of cotton was involved in the action. The government stands to lose about $1,689.20 on the transaction, said Clyde O. Eastus, district attorney, who handled the case for the government.

Barton made a brief statement to Judge Davidson. Neither man had an attorney and both pleaded guilty. Barton was fined $1,500 and given 13 months in El Reno reformatory, suspended provided he repossessed the cotton. Simmons was fined $500 and his 13 months in El Reno was suspended provided he paid his fine.

Terms Are Suspended

In one of the two cases against M. W. Bell, charged with forging a government check, he received 13 months in El Reno reformatory and in the other 18 months in Leaven-

Black-Clad Mother In Real-Life "Portia" Role Wins Freedom Of Her Playboy Son

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—A black-clad mother, in a real-life "Portia" role, won clemency today for her playboy son, accused of defaming a school teacher.

Mrs. Charlotte Kelsey Darling, a lawyer, asked Federal Judge George A. Welsh to let her 27-year-old son off "with a reprimand."

The young man, Albert Kelsey Darling-McNab, social registerite, amateur aviator and garage owner, pleaded no defense to charges of sending defamatory letters to Mrs. Lucille Henry Romberger, which she charged resulted in her dismissal from a French instructorship in a Yeadon, Pa., high school.

"He is a good boy, but hasty and impetuous," Mrs. Darling said.

Judge Welsh suspended a nine-month sentence and put McNab on three years' probation on the tall socialite's promise to "quit writing letters and keep away from girls."

Few Surprises Are In Store For Congress

Administration Is Likely To Concentrate On Present Laws And Plans For Their Change

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. — A Broad hint the Roosevelt administration may concentrate on existing measures in the new congress rather than on launching any new experiments came today from Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, majority leader.

The senator and President Roosevelt discussed legislative prospects today. Afterward Barkley was asked whether many new legislative items would be offered at the approaching session. He replied:

Correct Existing Laws

"I doubt it. I don't know of anything in particular except what might be done with existing laws, correcting them and amending them to make them better."

Whether that statement may lead to major revisions of such statutes as the farm, wage-hour, labor relations and tax laws was a question Barkley left unanswered.

All these acts have been under fire and numerous suggestions for altering them have come both from members of congress and outsiders.

May Spring Surprises

Some legislators, who have seen Mr. Roosevelt spring surprises in the past, cautioned against interpreting Barkley's remarks as eliminating the possibility the president might send more ideas to the capitol.

Mr. Roosevelt has decided already to ask power to reorganize government executive agencies. But that request can be not classed with new measures, since Mr. Roosevelt suggested it to the last congress.

Tax legislation probably will come up, since so-called nuisance levies expire next year. Barkley said that some of the expiring taxes would have to be extended.

Fairyland Of Color And Life Is Opened For Blind Mother

SEATTLE, Dec. 14. (AP)—A fairyland of color and life enthralls Mrs. Mary Olthof these days. She is a gray-haired Hollander with a laughing voice.

Blind, she said today, since her birth 63 years ago in the town of Middleburg in Holland, sight now has been given her through an operation by two Seattle eye surgeons.

Only with difficulty—she speaks English poorly—does she find words to express her happiness.

"I am poor," she said. "Maybe you give me one million dollars for what I got. Never would I trade."

She came here in 1909 with her four children, already widowed twice.

Publicity Loving Jack Doyle To Wed Mexican Actress

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14 (AP) — Publicity loving Jack Doyle, who says he is both singer and fighter, and Movita, Mexican film actress, today filed notice of intention to wed in nearby Ventura county.

Ruth Etting Adds Surprise To Trial Of Former Hubby By Eloping With Pianist

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14. — The surprise elopement of radio singer Ruth Etting and her young former accompanist, Myrl Alderman, stole most of the interest today from the trial of her former husband and manager, "Colonel" Martin Snyder, on charges of attempting to murder Alderman last October.

In the midst of the trial, the blonde singer and Alderman flew today to Las Vegas, Nev., where they were married.

Wishes Them Happiness

The 44-year-old Snyder at first could not believe news of the wedding. Finally he said:

"If it's true that they are married, then from the bottom of my heart I want to wish them all the happiness in the world, I mean that."

Among the marriage witnesses was Snyder's 21-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, Edith Snyder, who is Miss Etting's secretary.

Accused In Shooting

Snyder is accused of shooting and slightly wounding Alderman at Alderman's North Hollywood home in the presence of Snyder's daughter and Miss Etting. Miss Snyder has testified she fired at her father after he shot Alderman. Snyder also is charged with attempting to kill the two women, who had gone to the home to prepare Alderman's dinner.

Alderman's divorce from his second wife became final last week. She is suing Miss Etting for $150,000 damages, charging the singer stole Alderman's love.

Tells Of Threat

At the trial today, Virginia de Marteau, a masseuse, testified she heard Snyder say last August "if what I think is true IS TRUE, I'm going to kill Ruth and Alderman."

Mrs. Harold Kaiser said Snyder declared in a night club a week before the shooting that he was "going to get Ruth," but did not mention designs on anyone else. Under cross-examination, she said Snyder was drinking at the time.

Alderman and Miss Etting appeared in court for the afternoon session, sitting apart in the last row of the spectator's section.

Word gets around about the Lubbock Goodfellows.

Columbia Pictures, one of the giants of the motion picture industry, have heard of them.

They learned also that Manager M. A. Sanders of the Cactus theater, 1814 Avenue H, is to donate every penny of receipts at the Cactus all day Friday to the Goodfellows fund.

So Columbia wanted to have a part in that generous gesture.

Its part will be the contribution of a special feature film which has been provided solely because Friday is to be Goodfellows' day at the Cactus.

The feature, Sanders announced, will be a comedy take-off on gangsters titled "Come Closer, Folks," with James Dunn the star. Included in an outstanding supporting cast are Wynne Gibson and Marian Marsh. Sanders promises that it will provide top-notch hilarious entertainment for every age group. Also on the program will be a comedy and Fox news.

Remember, the time is Friday from 1 p. m. until along toward midnight. And every cent taken in at the box office will go toward the fund which will mean full stockings for boys and girls of Lubbock who otherwise might be forgotten on Christmas day.

The Lindsey theater did its part for the Goodfellows Wednesday afternoon, when it was the scene of

Much Interest Is Expressed

Governor-Elect Cools Heels As Manufacturer Keeps Him Waiting For Three Hours

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 14. — Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas waited more than three hours to meet Henry Ford today, then in a two-hour conversation told the automobile manufacturer of Texas' wealth of natural resources.

He said Ford exhibited interest in the state's metal deposits and had asked him to send some ore samples.

Have Everything In Texas

"I think," said O'Daniel, "I convinced him that we have everything in Texas needed to build an industrial empire."

The governor-elect, who came to Detroit to discuss ways and means of industrializing the Lone Star state, said he made no offer or suggestion that Ford move some of his industrial units to Texas. He said, however, he told the motor manufacturer that the Ford plan for decentralizing industrial processes was "very suitable" for Texas.

O'Daniel, who had said his appointment with Ford was for 10 a. m., arrived at the engineering laboratory where Ford's office is located at 10:45 a. m. With him was Carr P. Collins, Dallas, Texas, insurance executive; Mrs. O'Daniel, and 16-year-old Molly O'Daniel. They waited in the office of Ernest G. Liebold, a Ford executive.

At 12:30 p. m. a Ford employe said Ford had not arrived, and that the O'Daniel party was lunching with Liebold.

Finally, at 2:20 p. m., newsmen were advised that Ford was in conference with the visitors.

O'Daniel and Collins emerged some two hours later, but Ford left by another exit and was not available to reporters or photographers.

The governor-elect said that "I came here to learn something about industrialization," and added: "You can't talk to Henry Ford, that great industrialist, without learning a lot."

Interested In Wool

He said Ford expressed "exceptional interest" in a piece of Texas wool which he said was procured by students, and from which he said would be made the suit he expects to wear for his inauguration as gov-

Oil Shutdowns To Continue

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 14—Statewide oil production shutdowns of eight days a month were ordered continued until April 1 in action today by Ernest O. Thompson and Lon A. Smith of the Texas railroad commission.

The order tended to blast the opinion of some that there would be a radical change in Texas proration policies after Jerry Sadler replaces C. V. Terrell on the commission January 1. Thompson and Smith will continue as two of the three members of the conservation agency.

Slight Increase Seen

The commission calculated the Texas basic daily production allowance for January, considering Saturday and Sunday shut-ins, would be 1,319,542 barrels, compared with this month's figure of 1,294,577 and the United States bureau of mines December recommendation of 1,343,900.

The average daily allowables will grow about 30,000 barrels each month due to well completions, making an April 1 allowance of approximately 1,400,000.

Smith pointed out that a new order boosting Texas production could be issued before April if a

"Lusty Belch" Is Bequeathed By Doctor To His Co-Workers

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14. (AP) — A noted Portland brain specialist who died in an auto accident December 7 bequeathed a "lusty belch" to 95 per cent of his medical co-workers today in a will that court attaches said was without precedent in their recollections.

Other legacies left by Dr. Arthur J. McLean, 44, was a dollar to anyone who "shall attempt to break this will," oblivion to his own memory, and "the hap-hazard care they will receive for their chiseling tawdriness" to "Portland's thieving patients."

In a codicil to the will admitted to probate, he bequeathed all his medical books to the University of Oregon medical library. The widow was named sole heir.

ROME, Dec. 14. (AP)—The Italian government announced today it would spend 10,000,000,000 lire, about $526,000,000, for military purposes in its next budget year. Il Giornale D'Italia, in explanation, said Italy has "interests and rights to defend."

The comment of the authoritative Rome newspaper was carried in a column adjacent to that of the editorial writer, Virginio Gayda, in which he challenged French figures on the population of Tunisia, French North African protectorate.

He said French statistics were wrong in representing the French as outnumbering Italians.

Decision Given On Liquor Act

AUSTIN, Dec. 14. (AP) — Because the Texas liquor control act provides two different penalties the court of criminal appeals today held inoperative portions of the statute which prohibit possession and sale of whiskey on premises licensed only to sell beer.

Associate Justice F. L. Hawkins said in an opinion the court felt the condition resulted from "the many subjects dealt with" in the voluminous act and possible "confusion during the closing hours of the legislative session at which the statute was enacted."

May Be Corrected

He called attention to the situation "in order that same may be corrected if such correction be deemed advisable."

The ruling was in the case of M. M. Moran, convicted and fined $100 in Marion county. Moran was an employe of D. D. Sullivan, owner of a beer permit.

The appellate court affirmed the sentence last June but reopened the cast on motion for rehearing, Judge Hawkins remarking the "seriousness of the question entirely escaped us on original consideration."

The conflicting articles both prohibit sale and possession of liquor by employes and servants of beer

Patrons Are Again Urged To Mail Early As Christmas Rush Is Started In City

Plans for handling the annual mailing rush of Christmas packages virtually are complete, said Postmaster Amos Howard. Approximately 14 employes will be added. He urged patrons to "mail early."

To Have Extra Trucks

"We will have four extra trucks for delivery of parcels," Howard said. "These will be in addition to our three present trucks."

There will be two parcel post windows open this year, as usual, at the general postoffice.

In addition, Howard pointed out, Lubbock has three sub-stations or branches, where parcels may be mailed. They are, Hemphill-Wells, Mark Halsey Drug No. 2, College and Broadway and Nineteenth Street drug store.

Must Not Contain Note

Heavy increase of the sale of cent and a half stamps is reported by postal officials. In this connection, it is pointed out, these stamps may be used for mailing of unsealed Christmas cards that do not contain a written message or note.

It is permissible, under postal regulations, for these cards to bear the signature of the sender, and the words, "Merry Christmas," "season's greetings" or a similar message.

Cards that contain more should bear the 2-cent stamp for local mailing and 3-cent stamp for out of town mailing. Envelopes not conforming to postal regulations will be held for additional postage and the sender notified.

Double Holiday Planned

Christmas comes on Sunday this year. It is probable Monday also will be observed by the postoffice and business as a holiday.

The United States is the world's chief producer of mica.

Kuykendall Chosen On State Committee

G. P. Kuykendall of Lubbock was notified Wednesday he had been placed on a state advisory committee on child welfare, in a letter from Claude D. Teer, chairman of the state board of control.

Kuykendall, chairman of the board of Milam's home for children in Lubbock, was informed the purpose of the state advisory committee is two-fold:

Responsibility Is Educational

"In general, its responsibility is educational, with specific function in determining and effecting policies, procedures and plans. It is hoped that in presentation of child welfare needs throughout the state to the committee its membership will interest itself in effecting better social planning, legislation and standards of child care.

"In other states these committees consist of about 15 persons; however, it has been suggested that a committee of possibly 25 members might be considered for Texas in view of the state's size and the large number of counties. It is desirable that the committee be statewide, both as to geographical location and representation from various groups. Three years service with overlapping terms of members is suggested.

Annual Grant Available

"The child welfare services program . . . . is extension of services to children in predominantly rural areas. For this purpose there is an annual grant of approximately $73,000 to Texas from the social security board and administered by the Federal Children's bureau. The purpose is for general development of acceptable standards of child care with specific services for the care and protection of dependent, neglected and delinquent children."

A meeting in early 1939 will be called, Teer said.

Division of Child Welfare, which granted the charter for the Lubbock children's home, is administered by the state board of control, and repeatedly has complimented Mrs. Milam and board members of her home on the quality of work being done here.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

HOUSTON, Dec. 14. (AP) — The Woodley Petroleum company directors today declared a dividend of 10 cents a share payable Dec. 28 to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 17.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

"A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else. Adv

Snell Casts Longing Glance At Size Of Minority Party In The Coming Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14. (AP) —Rep Bertrand Snell of New York, retiring house Republican leader, cast a longing glance today at figures showing that the strength of the minority party in the next congress will be nearly doubled.

"You know, it would be great to be the leader of a minority of that size," he said. "With 170 Republicans, we'll have enough fellows to do some real good."

Then the gray-haired, ruddy-faced fellow who came to congress in 1915, looked out a window and said with a chuckle:

"And I'd have a lot of fun with Sam Rayburn, too."

Rep. Rayburn of Texas was the Democratic floor leader last year and presumably will be chosen again for the post.

Former Twin Falls Mayor Is Given Life For Slaying

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Dec. 14. (AP) —Duncan M. Johnston, 39-year-old former Twin Falls mayor, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the slaying of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman.

District Judge Ames Porter said he would hear arguments Friday on defense motions for a new trial.

Free Food For Fans Promised

Reports from Fort Worth indicate a special train will be operated through auspices of the chamber of commerce there to Lubbock for the Westerner-Masonic Home football game on Tech field Friday.

Drum, Bugle Corps Coming

Definitely assured is the presence of the 35 members of the Mosiah Shrine Temple drum and bugle corps of Fort Worth. It is one of the crack organizations of its kind in the Shrine organization, and will travel here by bus if plans for the special train fail to materialize.

If the train is run, it will consist of a minimum of eight coaches, and its schedule will be: Leave Fort Worth at 4 a. m. Friday, arrive Lubbock 12:30 p. m.; leave Lubbock, 9:30 p. m., arrive Fort Worth, 6:30 a. m. Saturday. One of the incidental attractions on that train, according to reports here, will be free sandwiches and coffee for passengers.

Reservations Gaining Fast

Reservations for the game here, which will decide a finalist in the Interscholastic league football race, are well ahead of those for the Lubbock-Breckenridge game of last week, according to report Wednesday by W. B. Irvin, city superintendent. Prospects are bright, he said, the stadium will be filled and it seems certain that vacant seats will be few.

Among those present will be a delegation from Levelland, where a block of seats has been requested, and probably from numerous other neighboring towns. The requests for reservations, Irvin said, have come from as far away as Midland and Tulia.

Students in other cities will be admitted for 50 cents, the same as those in Lubbock, but it will be necessary that tickets be secured through their schools, it was explained. None of the student tickets will be sold at the gate.

City Tax Collections For Fiscal Year Are Started

Two months later than scheduled, city tax collection for the fiscal year began Wednesday morning. To J. L. Hankins of Abilene went tax receipt No. 1.

The start was scheduled to have been made last Oct. 1, but a combination of conditions caused the delay.

The city budget and tax rate for the year were not adopted until a few weeks ago. After that was done, City Assessor-Collector E. C. Young and members of his department had to order tax receipts and make many thousands of entries on the tax rolls.

That work, it was explained, could not even be started until the rate was set.

The new rate is $1.05 on the $100 of assessed valuation, as compared with 75 cents last year.

Bitter Criticism For Federal Agents Is Given By Judge

DALLAS, Dec. 14. (AP) — Federal Judge William H. Atwell denounced government agents today in a bitter criticism from the bench on the impounding of $2,800 seized from an arrested narcotics case suspect.

Judge Atwell ordered return to William C. Newbern the $2,800 claimed yesterday by the government under the income tax laws, and professed amazement that two departments of the government would "unite to deprive even a prisoner of the only funds whereby he might defend himself on no other pretext than an income tax claim not even originating in his home district, Florida."

There are lots of people who can't stand prosperity — especially the prosperity of others.

CHRISTMAS SUEDE

ANY young girl would like to have Santa bring accessories of fine, soft suede. A collar and cuff set comes in a variety of colors—rust being one of the most effective, and a boutonniere, also of suede, might be in pale rust with light beige center and deep green leaves. An envelope bag, with slide fastener, is of black suede trimmed with two Russian wolfhounds made of genuine white hair.

IN THE MAIL

MY Dear Miss Turner: In your column of Nov. 30, you raised this question, "What do Lubbock people talk about if they are not interested in football?"

To be candid in answering your query, I am very glad to say that I am not a football fan, and I do not consider myself unfortunate in the least. Yes, I know we celebrate Armistice Day with football, Thanksgiving Day, another ball game and it's Football on the front page,

Football on the air,
Football in the comics,
Football everywhere.

As to our conversations, we have not yet resorted to the subject of the high cost of putty, that green hat that Mrs. Jones is wearing or how to stir up an eggnog. There are a number of worth while subjects floating around. For instance, there is vivisection. It is interesting to know that it took the lives of 24 cats to prove the value of the iron lung.

Harry Gates, who was once a star football player at Dartmouth college, says that the game is "Godless." If that is the case, we are not missing much not to include the subject of football in our conversation.

Miss Turner, you know that society sets a standard and people are prone to blindly follow. No matter how non-essential a style or custom may be most every one follows the leader. It takes courage to be different. Society says "lipstick" and nothing is thought of the price, yet, when we learn that American women have spent $750,000,000 for it the figures startle us; but do American women quit buying lipstick? I'll let you answer that.

Recently we listened to a very interesting talk on the subject, "How much does the cigarette habit harm womanhood?" The speaker told of an instance of a baby being born in a hospital and it was so full of nicotine that its skin was almost green. Said that the doctors and nurses were very concerned about it and began making tests and asking questions. The mother told them that she had been smoking cigarettes for several years. The little mite of humanity was the most innocent sufferer, and its life was soon snuffed out, when it should have had the right to be well born.

The speaker made this statement, "If women think that the cigarettes are not harmful, let them watch the coming generation."

If these thoughts meet with your approval I'll come again with other subjects interesting to one who does not go to ball games. Respectfully, A Reader.

We'd like to hear from you again A Reader. We wonder if you ever discuss anything cheerfull. For instance, where there is one mother who smokes, there are hundreds who don't. And while lipsticks might be called a luxury, we do not know of a single case where the purchase of the rouge has taken food from a needy one's table. We take it you are a man. Hence you might not know that while some women pay as much as two dollars for a lipstick, many others buy theirs at the cosmetic counters at the five and ten. And, let me tell you, for the difference lipstick makes in woman's appearance and feeling of being well dressed, it's worth it.

We confess we are puzzled by your reference to football as a "Godless" game. Would you explain that point? Again thanks for writing.

CANDY SUGGESTION

HERE'S a recipe for sour cream fudge that comes from Priscilla Lane's files. The fudge requires 2 squares chocolate, 2 cups sugar, 2-3 cup sour cream, 2-3 teaspoon vanilla and a pinch of salt.

Melt chocolate over hot water, add sugar, mix well and add cream slowly. Boil without stirring to 240 degrees F., or until mixture forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Pour on platter which has been wiped with damp cloth. Allow to cool, then add vanilla and salt. Work with spatula until thick and creamy. Knead with hands until smooth. Roll to thickness of 1-4 inch and cut out.

Mid-Week Events Feature "Santa"

Mid-week social events are festive occasions as the spirit of St. Nicholas takes hold in women's organizations.

Thirty-two missionary societies of the Lubbock Baptist association will be represented at a tea to be given from 3 until 5 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Creek Brown, 2625 Twenty-second street. The tea is a courtesy to Mrs. O. A. Tyner who is retiring after seven years as president of the associational women's missionary union.

U. D. C. Has Luncheon

An annual Christmas covered dish luncheon was attended by members of the Stephen Wilkinson chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Wednesday afternoon in the home of the president, Miss Delia Wilkinson, 1201 Seventeenth street. W. D. Crump of Shallowater, the only Confederate veteran in Lubbock county, was a guest.

Christmas packages for Mr. Crump and widows of Confederate veterans were wrapped and, after the meeting, delivered.

The lunch was served at a long dining table which was centered with a single candle surrounded by fruit and pine burrs. The single candle represented the only remaining veteran.

Others attending were Mesdames N. S. McBride, Mary Lovell, Fred Snyder, Fred Higbee, Ted Sutherland, R. S. Rodgers, John LeMond, Dan Blair, W. H. Meador, J. D. Rondeaux, Lon Mullican, J. S. Johnson, C. S. Middleton, A. W. Evans, R. A. Barclay and Misses Sue Bryan and Mamie Crump.

Officers Elected

Wednesday Needle club members, meeting in the home of Mrs. E. L. Klett of 2223 Broadway Wednesday afternoon, elected the following officers for 1939:

President, Mrs. Bradford Knapp; vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Maxey, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. B. Wright.

Attending were Mesdames S. C. Wilson, T. B. Duggan, C. J. Wagner, John L. Ratliff, L. C. Ellis, Wright, T. W. Thomas, Jot Smyth, Maxey, P. M. Maddox and H. A. Davidson.

Yule Party Given

A Christmas party was given for Loyal Sisters Needle club members and their children Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John R. Potts of 2312 Avenue P. The house was decorated with a tree and numerous other suggestions of the Yule season.

The president, Mrs. Roscoe Webster, led the playing of two games, and the program included several piano selections by Nina Maude Potts; a reading by Edith Helen Hodges; a piano solo by Tommy Hall, and group singing of "Silent Night." Mrs. Ralph Moore, assisted by the children, distributed gifts from the tree.

Mrs. Webster presented a relish dish to each member, and the club presented a silk, embroidered bedspread to Mrs. Webster. Each member received a gift from Mesdames H. W. Cherry and J. G. Oslin.

Refreshment plates were decorated with holly favors.

The club will give a husbands' party January 6 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Hodges.

Luncheon Is Given

After a luncheon at the Mexican Inn, members of the 1938 Needle club went to the home of Mrs. J.

Personals

Thomas L. Price of Post was in Lubbock yesterday on business.

C. S. Williams of Plainview was here on business yesterday.

Herschel Crawford of Slaton was a visitor here yesterday.

P. D. Cooper, a Cochran county ginner, was here on business yesterday.

Davis Scarbrough, Abilene attorney, spent yesterday in Lubbock on business in federal court.

Homer G. Borland of a lamp and stove company with general offices in Wichita, Kans., was here Wednesday visiting with friends.

The termite, which looks like a white ant, is related to the cricket and cockroach.

E. Sullivan, 3013 Twenty-second street, for a Christmas tree party and gift exchange.

Attending were Mesdames T. C. McCall of Slaton, W. D. McCarty, E. R. Hoover, C. R. Young, Charles Wright, Ray Livesay and E. L. Richards.

Three Entertain

Mesdames E. B. Green, J. H. Kimmel and J. W. Gamel were hostesses with a Christmas party for 1916 Needle club members Wednesday afternoon in the new home of Mrs. Green at 2110 Seventeenth street. The gifts were distributed from the chimney. An attractive refreshment plate was served.

Attending were Mesdames R. V. Kimmel, F. F. Young, J. H. Bryan, R. S. Rodgers, D. M. Henderson, Joe Baldridge, R. T. Coffee, W. H. Edgett, R. I. Tubbs, J. A. Pressley, F. V. Brown, A. N. Gamble and W. E. Lyle.

Mrs. Pittman Hostess

The Sew-On club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. I. Pittman, 2011 Tenth street, for a short business discussion and the following Christmas program:

Review of the magazine article, "Christmas Across A Nation," Mrs. T. C. Styron; a short version of "The Other Wise Man," read by Mrs. L. M. DeGarmo; exchange of gifts and drawing of "sunshine sister" gifts.

Others attending were Mesdames John Lowrimore, M. S. Craig, Homer Roper, George Eubanks, L. O. White, Preston Smith, Ben Jenkins, J. B. McCauley, R. D. Hopson, Grady E. Davis, Leroy Lindeman, J. V. Jones, W. E. Morris and two guests, Mesdames C. A. Fluppin and Jack Taylor.

The next meeting will be January 4 with Mrs. W. E. Morris, 1909 Twenty-fourth street, at 3 o'clock.

In Young Home

Mrs. C. O. Young entertained the Timely Ten Needle club in her home in the Arnett-Benson addition Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. E. D. Farris conducted two games, an "amateur broadcast" and a game in which Christmas carols were whistled. The hostess served candlestick salad, cookies, hot chocolate and coffee.

Mrs. Young also acted as "Santa Claus" and distributed "sunshine sister" gifts.

Others attending were Mesdames C. C. Camp, L. C. Cooper, G. T. Hammonds, C. B. Lively, C. R. McLaurin, Irwin W. Mitchell, and H. H. Penninger.

Members of the club will take a fruit basket today to Mrs. C. R. Duncan, a member who was unable to attend the meeting because of illness in her home.

The club will meet at 2 p. m., January 4, in the home of Mrs. Camp, 809 Avenue L.

In Greenlee Home

The Happy Ten Needle club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. G. H. Greenlee, 1920 Twenty-seventh street. The members planned a Christmas party to be given at 2 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Elmer Potts, 1915 Twenty-second street. "Secret pals" will exchange gifts at the party.

The next regular meeting will be at 2 p. m., January 4, in the home of Mrs. O. A. Cunningham, 1402 Twenty-fourth street.

Attending Wednesday were Mesdames C. C. Jones, T. F. Cone, Cunningham, Potts, Drew Warren and a guest, Miss Frances Barrow.

Yuletide Socials Widely Attended

Social events of this week have included many annual Yuletide events which have been of interest to large groups.

Wrangler fraternity at Texas Technological college entertained with a formal dinner-dance Wednesday night at the Hilton hotel. Music was furnished by Ned Bradley's orchestra.

Blue cellophane covered the table which was centered with an arrangement of silver leaves.

Members and their special guests attending were Jack Sharp, Hunter Leverett, Charles Bourland, James Ellis, Frank Jackson, Johnnie Ben Thompson, Jim Copeland, Maurice Koger, Kenneth Koger, Bill Treadway, Bill Caldwell, Earl Osborne, Robert Dowell, Ed Morrison, Pat Patterson, Lane Hudson, Douglas Frost and J. Mrs. Raymond Marshall presided at the refreshment table and was assisted in serving by Mesdames G. C. Brewer and T. E. Hendrick. Cranberry punch, cakes embossed in white and green and salted nuts were served with tiny gold cellophane bags of candies tied with bright ribbons and sprigs of holly as plate favors. Thirty-five students were present.

Dinner Is Given

One hundred thirty-eight were in attendance at a Christmas dinner party given by the First Methodist Sorosis class at the church Tuesday night honoring husbands.

A Christmas motif was evidenced in the decorations and menu.

Mrs. I. P. Kennedy was toastmaster. Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor, read twenty verses from the second chapter of St. Luke. Mrs. Ora B. Clark read "Angel Psalm"; Mesdames M. T. Daniell and Leonard Cole played accordion duos and Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews read "Anniversary" by Margaret E. Sangster. The benediction was pronounced by Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of the Lubbock Methodist district.

This social took the place of a regular monthly meeting of the class.

Gifts Exchanged

Chatter Box club members attended a Christmas dinner party at the home of Mrs. Pebble Talley, 1510-B Avenue M, Tuesday night with Mrs. Floe Swenson as hostess. Gifts were exchanged. Plate favors were miniature Santas.

Christmas Charities Topic At VFW Auxiliary Meeting

The woman's auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel, voted to donate five dollars to the Goodfellow fund, five dollars to the Salvation Army and send a Christmas package to the veterans' hospital at Waco.

The group will attend a party next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. J. R. Potts, 2312 Avenue P. At that time the women will bring toys that will be distributed among children of local needy veterans.

Today Is Deadline For Club Christmas Light Contest

Today is the final date for entering the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Lubbock Garden club. Entries may be made with the president, Mrs. J. E. Hartley.

Frances Jones Is Shower Honoree

COLORADO, Dec. 1. (Special)—Silver was featured in decorations and arrangements for a reception shower with which five Colorado hostesses, Mesdames Ed Majors, J. L. Pidgeon, S. H. Millwee, E. H. Winn and Sam Wulfjen, honored Miss Frances Jones, bride-elect of Lloyd Croslin of Washington, D. C., and Lubbock, on Monday afternoon at the Majors home.

The affair was the first of a series of pre-nuptial courtesies which will be given for Miss Jones in Colorado. She was honored at two parties given in Fort Worth before she came home from T. C. U., where she has been studying this year. It is understood that parties are being arranged for her in Lubbock. The wedding is to take place at the Renderbrook ranch home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Jones, on December 27.

Guests were received at the Majors home Monday afternoon by Mrs. S. H. Millwee, who stood at the door, and the following receiving line: Mrs. Majors, Mrs. Jones, Miss Jones and her sister, Miss Pauline Jones.

Mrs. Johnnie Prude led guests from the receiving line to the registry, where Mrs. Sefton Pickens presided. After registering they were served with spiced tea, cookies, and mints, miniature Santa Clauses being favors. Misses Nancy Price and Virginia Rose Whipkey were at the piano at intervals during the afternoon.

A vocal solo was sung by Mrs. Charles Moeser, accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Latham. Mrs. Moeser then led the house party in singing "Jingle Bells," for the arrival of "Santa Claus".

The honoree was led to the dining room, where all appointments were in silver. The snow-covered table was centered with a silver-hung white Christmas tree on a reflector, surrounded by silver reindeer. From a cluster of silver bells above the tree silver roping extended to the table edges. Silver-wrapped packages were on the table. Silver tapers, burned in silver holders on either side of white mums on the buffet.

As the gifts were opened Miss Hilma Joyce toasted the honoree, Mrs. James Cook the bridegroom-elect, and Miss Mabel Majors the girls left behind.

Miss Annah Jo Pendleton Is Presented In Yule Program

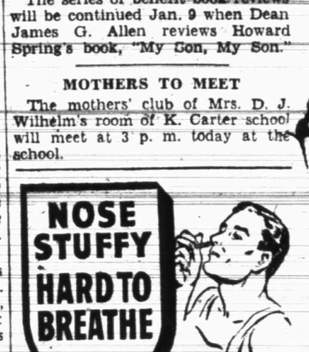

The First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary presented Miss Annah Jo Pendleton in a well-received Christmas lecture-recital Tuesday night in the church basement.

Miss Margaret Huff played Christmas carols before the recital. Miss Elizabeth West introduced Miss Pendleton.

The series of benefit book reviews will be continued Jan. 9 when Dean James G. Allen reviews Howard Spring's book, "My Son, My Son."

MOTHERS TO MEET

The mothers' club of Mrs. D. J. Wilhelm's room of K. Carter school will meet at 3 p. m. today at the school.

In head colds, mucous membrane of nose and throat is irritated, puffed up—air passages become smaller—it's hard to breathe.

Put 2 drops Penetro Nose Drops in each nostril—feel the difference. That's because the astringent-like action of the ephedrine and essential oils shrinks and cools swollen membranes, eases irritation and discomfort—you have more room to breathe—every breath brings a feeling of relief.

Be sure to always ask for quick-acting Penetro Nose Drops. Sold at all drug stores everywhere.

Tricky Formations Between Halves At Cotton Bowl Planned By Tech Band

St. Mary's To Receive Honor

Further plans for participation in activities incident to the Cotton bowl game in Dallas by Texas Technological college departments other than athletic were announced Wednesday.

The band, which will leave in three chartered buses and in automobiles from Lubbock the morning of Dec. 31, is planning formations to be presented between halves of the Tech-St. Mary's game. D. O. Wiley, director, said 100 musicians had been chosen to make the trip. The band will return Jan. 3.

Formations Are Planned

The band will make a formation of the word "Howdy" as a salute to Dallas and will play "How Do You Do, Everybody." It will present a formation of the word "Gaels" and play the Gaels Fight song; a bell formation and play "Bells of St. Mary's"; and, finally, the Double-T formation, playing the Matador song.

Plans are progressing for the exhibit to be shown in the lobby of the Adolphus hotel, said M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering.

A diversified exhibit representing every division of the college is being planned. The agricultural division will contribute the producers' phase; home economics division, the consumers' phase; and engineering division, the processing phase. The arts and sciences division also will be represented.

A Double-T neon sign 30 inches tall is being constructed by a Haden Neon Sign company and will be placed above the exhibit.

A pictorial display will include pictures of buildings and activities and of scenes in Lubbock outside the college.

Display of a lamb being fed cottonseed by-products will be prepared by the animal husbandry department and will be financed by the Texas Cottonseed Crushers association, which has bid ed from $125 to $150.

A junior textile engineering student, Lloyd Jackson, is preparing a red felt Double-T on a black background. The Double-T will have a halo of combed Paymaster cotton grown on the campus. It will be placed in a case, which will be lighted.

Pictorial Sheet Prepared

A class taught by R. I. Lockard, assistant professor of architecture and allied arts, is preparing a pictorial sheet about 8 feet long and four or five feet wide that will represent various phases of the cotton industry.

Letters have been mailed to deans and department heads inviting them to suggest entries for the exhibit.

K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufacturing, is planning to enter cotton filters, used to filter milk before pasteurization, as his department's contribution.

A power [illegible] from the textile engineering building for the exhibit, which will be shown from Dec. 29 through Jan. 2.

Members of the committee planning the display are Heard, Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Cecil Horne, Earl T. Duke and Mrs. Edna Lyles.

Law Technicalities May Prevent Lombard And Gable From Saying "I Do" Before '40

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14 (AP)—Technicalities of legal procedure, it appeared today, may prevent Hollywood from hearing Carole Lombard and Clark Gable say "I do" until sometime in 1940.

The actor's $286,000 property settlement with his second wife, Maria Langham Gable, has been mutually approved but requires a court's okay before Mrs. Gable can file suit for divorce.

Gable said his wife, from whom he has been separated three years, would seek a divorce when a ruling is obtained on the settlement.

Expected To Marry

He did not say he intends to marry the effervescent Lombard, but his friends declared they are sure he will as soon as he is legally free.

The settlement matter, when submitted to a superior court today, was put on the pre-trial calendar for Dec. 21, when it will be assigned to a judge. A ruling before Jan. 1 appeared unlikely.

If Mrs. Gable brings her action sometime after the first of the year, and the divorce is granted, California law requires a full year elapse before the interlocutory decree becomes final. Then both will be free to marry again.

IN JERDEN HOME

Mrs. S. R. Jerden entertained the Slide Needle club with a Christmas party at her home Tuesday afternoon. Gifts were exchanged, then the hostess gave a surprise gift to each member. The club planned to give a husband's party December 20 in the home of Mrs. Jim Skipworth.

Games were played and refreshments were served.

Attending were Miss Lois Smith, Mesdames George Hindman, Louis Henderson, J. L. Drury, guests, and Mesdames W. B. Copeland, A. L. Smith, L. H. Sandlin, Skipworth, Floyd Harrist, Lee Rieger, Lonnie Williams, J. L. Johnson, Otis Rogers, Jewell Koontz, H. W. Crews, H. H. Stokes, J. T. Edgar and Russell Haynes.

HURLWOOD CLUB MEETS

The Hurlwood Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. J. T. Patterson Tuesday afternoon for an annual Christmas party. A program on Christmas customs was presented as follows:

"Christmas Cards", Mrs. J. F. Martin; "The Legend of the Mistletoe," Mrs. A. F. Williamson; "The First Christmas Card," Mrs. A. M. Lane, and "Christmas in Other Lands," Mrs. W. A. Martin. Members exchanged gifts and games were played under direction of Mrs. G. K. Horton. Mrs. R. C. Wright assisted in serving refreshments.

Others attending were Mesdames C. R. Moore, E. A. Moores, Ernest Marquis, J. H. Campbell, W. W. Mansell, J. O. Mears, L. L. Peach, M. E. Winter, A. G. Payne, T. A. McClure, and L. V. Preston.

The club will meet January 10 with Mrs. Jim Bailey.

MONROE CLUB MEETS

The Monroe Home Demonstration club had a social meeting in the home of Mrs. John Harrell Tuesday afternoon. After a brief program on the origin of Christmas cards, the hostess served gingerbread and buttermilk.

Attending were Mrs. R. E. Horsley, a new member, and Mesdames W. O. Fortenberry, E. J. Exum, A. L. Faubion, W. H. Emery, D. A. Atkins, Elmer Edwards, Dick Norman, J. R. West, Erby Norman, S. H. Rosson and John McGuire.

The club will have a Christmas party for husbands at the school tonight. The next regular meeting will be January 10 in the home of Mrs. Atkins.

Singing To Be Held Sunday

Grown-ups of Lubbock are to be given a chance to participate in the singing of Christmas carols Sunday afternoon at 4:30 when music teachers of Lubbock Public schools sponsor the first community sing in Senior High auditorium, according to Mrs. E. E. Key, coordinator of music in Junior and Senior High schools.

Although the students are to be invited to the program and will sing the carols, "It is the parents we are most anxious to have participate in the program," Mrs. Key said.

Teachers To Direct

The four teachers who will direct the singing are: Mrs. M. E. Ware, Mrs. Elois Elliott, Mrs. Key, and Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander. Those who will play accompaniments are: Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter, Miss Jane Wilson, Miss Lois Mangum and Charles Pike.

Miss Margaret Prewitt will sing a solo, accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Hereford.

"Silent Night" will be sung as the climax to the program, as Junior High students form a tableau for the manger scene. Mrs. Gladys Sims has arranged the tableau.

OES Study Club Meets This Week For Study And Party

A business and social meeting of the District 2, Order of the Eastern Star, Study club was held Tuesday night at Cocanougher's Cafe. Suspected Plot Of Kidnaping Probed

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Police arrested and quickly released four Danish nazis today after an intense but fruitless investigation of a suspected plot to kidnap Premier T. H. Stauning.

The four men were arrested in a car filled with nazi pamphlets outside the premier's suburban villa shortly after midnight. Some hours later police freed them, asserting they were unable to prove the existence of a plot.

The four insisted they were driving past the villa "for curiosity." The authorities said, however, that all were well known to police and one was released from prison only yesterday after serving a term for a political offense.

Westerners, Masonic Home "Ready" For Friday's Great Semi-Final Battle

Chapman Eleven Favored Over Mighty Mites

The only calm persons in this football mad city today seemed to be Lubbock's mighty Westerners and Masonic Home's determined little Masons.

Coach Weldon Chapman and H. N. "Rusty" Russell planned to send their charges through limbering up exercises this afternoon polishing their squads for tomorrow's great semi-final classic.

The "giant-killers" of Interscholastic league football rolled into town yesterday afternoon and immediately went to Tech field for a spirited workout. And what the Masons do not have in weight they more than make up in a determined and fighting attitude.

When the "mighty mites" trotted onto Tech field Coach Cawthon extended the group official greetings. The Red Raiders who cleared the turf to allow the Masons room to practice gave a big hand to Coach Russell's boys.

Lubbock will outweigh the "miracle men" 20 pounds to the player, but that fact obviously does not bother Coach Russell's squad. They have consistently won over teams that had them spotted that much weight. Only last week the Masons played a spectacular passing second half to even the score and win over Highland Park on penetrations.

While the Fort Worth boys were furthering their plans to stop Capt. "Jumbo" Webster, Leete Jackson, "Rusty" Johnston and Harold Parsons that same quartet was devising ways and means of doing something about Gene Keel's brilliant passing attack.

Coach Russell has expressed the belief that his lads are at the end of their rope. He nor many of the experts can feature the mighty mites stopping Wild Walter's powerful charges. Leete Jackson's speedy running, Johnston's passing, and Parsons' smart quarterbacking. But for that matter the Scotties were favored last week.

Masons Use Few Substitutes

In this contest, as in every game the Masons have played this season, Coach Russell will use very few reserves. He has a starting forward wall that boasts a record of having to substitute only occasionally. As a matter of fact Coach Russell lists [illegible] and those regulars have [illegible] the service in the Masonic [illegible] drive.

But the Masons line up the size of the squad is the first startling thing noted. At left end is Miller Moseley, pass snatcher deluxe, who weighs only 132 pounds. At the other terminal is Norman Strange who weighs 127. Those are the boys who streak down the field to appear from nowhere, grab one of Keel's bullet heaves and dash toward paydirt.

Captain of the Masons is Jeff Brown, heaviest man on the team at 165 pounds. He holds down a tackle position. Recently he was selected on the All-District 7 mythical eleven.

Westerners Favored

The Masonic midget backfield lists Keel at quarterback, Buford Hudgins, 135 pound left half, Frank Bonds, co-captain and right half who weighs 145, and Don Stephens, the other "heavyweight" at fullback weighing 162.

Those are the outstanding players on the Masonic Home Masons. They are the lads who will attempt to stop probably the best forward wall in Texas and certainly the smoothest and most polished backfield that ever galloped into the finals.

Coach Chapman's Westerners have their eyes on the state championship pennant. A team which has continuously stopped the favored eleven stands between them and that coveted goal. So the winner of tomorrow's game will march into the final classic publicized as the strongest schoolboy football team in many years. That is certain—because the Westerners and Masons both claim the honor.

Largest crowd since the Lubbock-Amarillo Thanksgiving game is in prospect as only a few tickets are left on sale. The game is the most important in the history of Lubbock high school.

Levelland Court Team Planning For Plainview Meet Friday

LEVELLAND, Dec. 14 (Special)—Coach Bill Stevens is driving 20 basketball candidates hard this week in preparation for the Plainview tournament Friday and Saturday.

Coach Stevens is building his team around a nucleus of two returning lettermen, R. L. Goolsby and J. G. Pollard.

The team has scored two victories over Pettit, 1938 Hockley county champions.

RICE SCORES UPSET

HOUSTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Rice Institute scored a mild upset here tonight by downing Louisiana State university, 34-32. The teams will play again tomorrow night.

A Team Is As Strong As Its Reserves, And The Westerner Reserves Are Ready

Success of the Lubbock Westerners so far this season isn't all due to Captain Jumbo Webster, great as he is, or to the others who comprise the "first" team. It is something new and different for a Lubbock High school squad to come up with a line of reserves, but Coach Chapman has it this year. The lads pictured above are on needles and pins, awaiting the coach's word to go in there, take somebody's place, and tear somebody else all to pieces. Pictured above are the Westerner reserves, who certainly have done their part toward bringing district, bi-district and quarter-final triumphs to Lubbock High school. Kneeling in the front line are linemen, as follows: Billy Phillips, end; Ernest Winter, end; Billy Trice, end; Homer Hensley, tackle; James Merriman, guard; L. A. Storrs, center; L. E. Jones, guard; Avon Sewalt, tackle and L. V. Risinger, tackle. The backs, standing, are, left to right, Jack Lovin, quarterback; Howard Martin, halfback; J. B. Privitt, halfback, and Howard Alford, halfback and guard. These are the guys who see to it that the game goes on when any of the regulars get tired or disabled.

Majors To Toss Uniform Ball; Play At Night

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (AP)—In a "kiss-and-make-up" session marked by the friendliest attitude shown between the two loops in a long time, baseball's leagues today agreed on a uniform ball and introduced night ball in both circuits for the 1939 season.

The two loops convene under Commissioner K. M. Landis' guidance tomorrow in joint session.

While rumors of impending trades were heard all around, each of the two leagues gave some ground in their previous stand on the ball question, and finally agreed on a pellet for 1939 which will have the

Coaches "Can't Make Work Too Tough" For Raiders; To Work 2 Extra Days

"We'd rather be working than sitting around thinking about what might happen to us if we aren't 'right'," said the Red Raiders to Coach Pete Cawthon, so there'll be two extra days of practice on the home field before the Texas Tech gridmen move into Dallas for final preparations regarding the Cotton Bowl conflict.

Cawthon previously had scheduled three workouts this week, ending today, after which the Red Raiders were to rest until next Wednesday when they take charge of Southern Methodist university field. But the boys themselves threw a hitch into the plans. They'll rehearse again tomorrow, and again Monday, before entraining Tuesday night.

GET TICKETS TODAY

All Cotton Bowl football game tickets which have been reserved but which haven't been called for will go back on general sale tomorrow morning, Hugh "Bo" Williams announced yesterday. Several hundred persons have called in to Williams' office or to the other local agencies asking for reservations. The tickets are awaiting them, but they won't be there after today. Due to the heavy demand for tickets, officials do not feel obligated to hold the seats already reserved for a greater length of time. Tickets are available at Williams' office in the Texas Tech administration building, at Mark Halsey Drug No. 2, and at Hotel Lubbock Drug.

"Most any other team you ever heard of would appreciate the chance to rest and loaf," Cawthon said, "but this outfit gets me down. We can't make it too tough for them. They work themselves into a lather, and cry for more. I've never seen anything like it. They hit each other harder in the scrimmage the other day then they've hit the opposition all season. It was the toughest workout we've had."

Cawthon also admitted that "we are having a little trouble keeping the boys from having too much fun out here. They're serious enough about the game with St. Mary's, and they'll settle down like a gang of deaf mutes before game time. Right now, they are so frisky it's hard to make them settle down. Maybe it's just as well that they're going to get some extra work."

And it was a frisky bunch indeed

Temple, Bucs Getting Set For Game

TEMPLE, Dec. 14 (AP)—A siege of colds that struck the Temple High football squad had abated somewhat today and the victims were all back in the line-up as the Wildcats drove for their battle Saturday with Corpus Christi in the schoolboy semi-finals.

Center A. J. Mercer was still under hospital treatment for a leg injury and it was doubtful if he would be able to see service against the Buccaneers.

Kicking came in for an extended drill today. This was one of the weak points last week against Tyler.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 14 (AP) — Twenty-eight Corpus Christi High school football players will leave tomorrow morning for their semi-final game with Temple at Temple Saturday.

The Buccaneers will work out in Austin tomorrow afternoon and continue their journey to Temple Friday, going through a light warm-up drill there that afternoon.

Accompanied by Coach Harry Stiteler, Line Coach Bill DuBose and three student managers, the following players will make the trip:

Tex Is Winner In Fast Bout

The originator of the "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" expression has been found!

He is Leo Mortensen. He fought Sailor Tex Kirby Watkins in the main event wrestling show last night and lost.

But even after the match was over the brown headed New Yorker was still wanting to give back just as much as he received. And, if it had not been for Referee Clements the two wrestlers might have been dishing it out and taking it until the late morning hours.

The whole thing started when Sailor Tex started using his fist with tape around it to blind Mortensen. The fiery Leo came back and gave the Post cowboy just a little more of his underhand tactics than he

Raiders Open Court Season Against N. M. N. U. Tonight

Coach Berl Huffman leaves this morning with his revamped basketball team for Las Vegas, N. M., and two games with New Mexico Normal university, champions of their conference.

A distinct blow to Texas Tech's basketball prospects was received early this week when Border conference officials declared Butch Sachse, sharpshooting goal maker, ineligible. It seems that the star court player was not in good graces with the conference last year and must not participate in competition for one season.

Transfers, Sophomores Start

Sachse averaged 16.8 points per game last year, one of the best records in this section of the nation. Add to the fact that he will not play, the injuring of a finger by the only other reserve on the team, Coleman Williams, and the odds against the Raiders begin to add up.

Coach Huffman plans to start a team of junior college transfers and sophomores in tonight's and tomorrow night's contests. Opposing the Techs will be five lettermen. The New Mexico squad is paced by Woodrow Hutchinson, all-New Mexico conference forward. He scored 359 points in 25 games last season. Coach Clark of the Cowboys has entered his squad in the Oklahoma City tournament Dec. 27-30. The Red Raiders also will participate in the Sooner affair.

Traveling squad for the New Mexico trip will include: Centers—

Traffic Drive Being Opened

The Lubbock district office of the Texas Highway patrol, along with other districts of the state, has started a concentrated effort to keep traffic fatalities and casualities to a minimum from now until Jan. 1, according to Capt. W. W. Legge, commanding officer.

According to recent figures from the state offices of the department of public safety, fatalities in Texas as result of automobile accidents the first 11 months of the year amounted to a 22 per cent reduction over the corresponding months of last year, he said.

25 Per Cent Reduction

"If we can hold the fatalities to 125, or less, for the month of December in Texas," said Capt. Fred Hickman of the patrol, in his message to Capt. Legge, "we can complete this year with a 25 per cent reduction over last year which will be equivalent to the saving of approximately 500 lives. We believe that this is possible and we are asking that a special effort be made by all members of the department toward the accomplishment of such reductions."

Capt. Legge said he was soliciting cooperation of the Lubbock police, particularly the traffic detail, the sheriff's office, and the public in efforts to reduce holiday traffic accidents in his district.

He has communicated with Supt. W. B. Irvin of Lubbock public schools and Joseph R. Griggs, county school superintendent, asking that safety suggestions be presented to pupils of the schools.

Aid of newspapers and radio also was solicited in efforts to keep the need of caution, especially during the Christmas holiday season, constantly before the motoring public, Capt. Legge pointed out.

north woods and Ericson were married several weeks ago in the cabin of her father near here. Their story is as delightful a tale as ever unfolded before a Klieg light.

Ericson is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and a one-time Chicago hotel executive. Five years ago he threw up his job, packed his clothes and traveled the silent beauty of the north to make his career. He became a guide and today is widely respected as the best in the area.

Rugged Finnish Stock

Marie comes of rugged Finnish stock. She was swimming when she was 4 years old, paddling a canoe at 8, and at 15 had won the 50-yard and 100-yard breast stroke competitions in high school. She played "Run-sheep-run" over the trails and three years ago took her first job as a guide.

Today she totes a man's pack over the portages, and guides parties of girls on trips deep into the woods. Those three years have been most eventful for her. With the money she made as guide she went to Junior College here—studying interior decorating.

Wealthy sportsmen whom she guided to good game country paid her well and her money went to buy the lovely articles that now adorn her cabin.

Real danger caught her once and her husband headed the party that found her safe and sound. She was on Lake Shagawa alone in a canoe when a freak blizzard blew up. She made for an island she knew, pulled her canoe over her head and spent the night. A posse headed by Ericson found her early next morning.

Honeymooning for the couple was something of a Busman's holiday. They took a trip through the Ontario Park region of Canada.

Now they are home again and everyone in these parts rejoices in the marriage of the "two best guides" in the country.

Speaking after Senator Thomas, Chester C. Davis, member of the board of governors of the federal reserve system, took issue.

"It is a mistake to assume that the issue of currency has any monetary effect on the economic structure," Davis said to the farmers.

raised and increased stitching of this year's so-called "dead" ball of the National League, and the thinner cover of the American League's livelier missile.

To Play At Night

Then, the junior circuit swept its objections to night baseball out the window, passed a resolution introducing the game to its league, and granted permission to the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics to start the arc-light business going next season.

With the Philadelphia park equipped, it is likely the Phillies who now play in the same stadium as the A's, will join the Cincinnati Reds and the Dodgers in performing under the lights in the National League.

There was a recurrence of the report that Shortstop Cecil Travis of the Nats was headed for Detroit, but the Senators explained the Detroit Tigers were not willing to offer enough playing material in exchange.

The Pirates denied a rumor that Outfielder Johnny Dickshot was to be traded or sold, and President Clark Griffith of Washington said the same thing about Al Simmons, although it was reported he had asked waivers on the veteran walloper.

yesterday. After a long session of punting and punt returning, the squad divided into teams and locked over a bunch of St. Mary's plays and defensive formations.

Walter "Bull" Rankin, sophomore fullback who had just about sewed up the starting job, suffered a bad "charley horse" in the scrimmage the other day, and his thigh was giving him trouble. He was in uniform, however, and moving about as freely as a sore leg would allow. Chester Hemsell, reserve center, is also on the injured list.

Punting of Raymond Flusche, quarterback; Ty Bain, halfback, and C. L. Storrs, who out punts all of them, featured the kicking practice, although Charley Calhoun was getting off his usual good kicks. Cawthon timed the kickers by stopwatch, and fussed freely when one didn't get off in less than two seconds, from the time it was snapped from center.

An invitation from the Tyler Chamber of Commerce for the Red Raiders to spend a week or so in training there was considered seriously by Coach Cawthon, but finally rejected because plans already have been made for practice at S. M. U.

Hesitated To Sign

"I hesitated to sign the order before talking with Mr. Sadler," Smith said, "but decided to go ahead and approve it when I found he was out of the state."

Witnesses from throughout the nation told the commission at a hearing here Monday there would be no material increase in national oil output until after the first quarter of 1939. They said greater demand for petroleum products next year probably would warrant some increase after April 1.

Action of the Texas commission had been awaited with interest because of this state's dominant position in the oil industry. Latest figures showed that national gasoline stocks were 2 3-4 per cent below those of a year ago but leading refiners considered stocks excessive at this time last year.

had given. If the Sailor slugged, then Mortensen slugged back.

Mortensen had made Watkins shout "uncle" for the first fall, and was having things much to his and the fans' enjoyment when the Sailor started using the tape. Blinded, Mortensen fell easy victim to the Sailor's ring post ride and ended up on the mat. They came back for the third and deciding fall, and Referee Clements came back too, although no one noticed it until after the match was over.

Mortensen had not recovered from his headache and fell before the consistent head hammering which Watkins administered. It was over in seven minutes. But Mortensen was not through. He came to and chased the Sailor all over the ring before Clements "persuaded" him to leave the ring.

Clara Mortensen and Mildred White put on an exhibition match with the former, world's women's champion, winning in two straight falls. In the semi-final it took Joe Banaski only seven minutes to fasten his "alligator clutch" on Scotty Williams for victory. Frank Wolff met Russell Riley in the curtain raiser and emerged with only a draw.

worth; Kansas penitentiary, suspended three years.

Cleo and Ruel Golden, charged in 5 counts with violation of liquor laws, were given 90 days in jail on their plea of guilty on the first count and two years in Leavenworth, suspended three years on probation, on the other counts. Charges against R. A. Smith and Mrs. Smith were dismissed at the request of the district attorney. The other defendants said neither was in any way connected with the case, which included possession of a still.

Three civil libel actions, brought by the government against merchandise not in conformity with federal food and drug act, were granted by default. Cases included 34 cartons of lash lure, 37 cartons of lash lure and 31 cartons of lash lure dye.

Settlement Approved

Agreed settlement in the case of Carl Williford against Maryland Casualty Co., was approved.

In the morning session Garland E. Davis, 32, former Lubbock post-office employe, was fined $50 on his plea of guilty to a charge of having embezzled $217.33 from the office. He entered his plea through William H. Evans, his attorney, who made a statement in his behalf to the court. There were 10 counts in the case.

Several friends were in the courtroom, prepared to testify as to his previous good record. He was given 13 months in Leavenworth prison, suspended under probation for three years.

Walt S. Griffith, charged with making a false statement in securing a government loan, plead guilty and after questioning by Judge Davidson was given six months in jail, suspended for three years and given a year in which to pay his debt to the government. He was represented by L. G. Matthews, Floydada attorney.

Admitted To Practice

Thomas S. Milam of Dallas, a brother of James Milam, Lubbock attorney, and P. H. Garrison of Lufkin, were presented to the court and admitted to practice. Charles C. Crenshaw presented them.

Following cases were filed, based on indictments returned late Tuesday by the grand jury: Jack Collins, alias Fred Williams, advanced $45 by the narcotics division of the treasury department, for purchase of narcotic evidence, charged with converting the money to his own use; Bishop Ward, jr., and Charles L. Scott, charged in two counts in two cases with taking from the U. S. mails a U. S. treasurer check amounting to $12; George Elliott Duke, with several alias, charged with transporting an automobile from Salt Lake City, Utah to Amarillo; Luscious Jones, charged in two counts for falsely endorsing a check for $137.04 and cashing it in Corsicana.

Funeral Rites Set Thursday

PLAINS, Dec. 14. (Special)—Funeral services for Judge Arthur Cotten, 63, who died at 10 o'clock this morning in a hospital in Lubbock, will be conducted at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Baptist church here with Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor, officiating.

Collier Funeral home of Brownfield will direct burial rites which will be held here also.

Judge Cotten, who had been county judge here two terms, died of nephritis. He had been a patient in the hospital at Lubbock about six weeks.

He moved to the north central part of Garza county in 1900 and was associated with his father, the late J. B. Cotten, two or three years in farming there, friends said. He had lived in Yoakum county about 35 years.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Donald Cotten of Amarillo, W. B. Cotten of Andrews, and A. L. Cotten of Fort Worth; seven daughters, Mrs. Henry Heath of Andrews, Mrs. Dave Heath of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. Nattie Holtzclaw of Fort Worth, Mrs. Vard Evans of Roswell, N. M., Mrs. R. L. Fillingim of Plains, Mrs. R. K. Hassell of Seagraves, and Mrs. Leroy Anderson of Seagraves; a sister, and four brothers.

After having lagged Tuesday, contributions to the fund moved ahead briskly Wednesday. Contributions during the day amounted to $147, and increased the total of the drive thus far to $776.95.

Thus the halfway mark in the campaign for $1,500 has been reached. But it usually happens that the second half of such a fund comes in more slowly than the first half. And there isn't much longer to wait.

Three $25 contributions were included among those Wednesday. They came from Lubbock Typographical union, the South Plains coaches and the American Business club. The club is the first among the civic luncheon organizations to put their name on the list of donors.

Men-Of-The-Church Hosts At Dinner Staged Last Night

Men-of-the-church of the First Presbyterian church were hosts at a banquet Wednesday night for their wives and guests. The dinner was held in the basement of the church, decorated in a holiday theme.

J. E. Maisen, president of the organization, was master of ceremonies. Jack Adair made the address of welcome. Each man introduced his guest and she, in turn, introduced her host. Music was by J. M. Hall, conducting a 19-piece orchestra. After dinner, the group sang Christmas carols and played games.

Committee chairmen were Adair, H. A. Davidson, and F. N. Blackwell.

Approximately 75 persons attended.

The Postex mills at Post are running on two shifts, day and night, said Herbert Jones, manager, yesterday. The company is busy with some advanced orders and it is expected the mills will be kept busy for some months at least.

Cotton harvesting in Floyd county is about over for the season, according to Lon M. Davis, Floydada ginner, yesterday. Yields were better than had been expected.

While Terry county's cotton crop is far short of last year, and also the corn crop, due to drouth, the county is in fair condition, said W. R. McDuffie, cashier of the First National bank of Brownfield. Business in Brownfield has held up well, he added. There is still some building going on.

Three Rails Rotarians were here yesterday noon to attend the Lubbock club luncheon. They were J. Edd McLaughlin, J. W. Hyatt and T. M. Lyle.

Having recovered from injuries received in a recent fall, Miss Inez Crow has returned to her duties as head waitress at Hilton Coffee shop.

Emergency seed and feed loans in the Panhandle-Plains section are being repaid by borrowers at a satisfactory rate, said J. Edwin Brown of Amarillo, state supervisor. Brown said favorable crop prospects for the greater part of the territory had enabled farmers to maintain their finances in good shape.

Morton and Cochran county are in fair shape this fall, in spite of some dry weather, Lloyd R. Kennedy, Morton county attorney, said here yesterday. Morton is showing a steady growth in population and some road construction to the north will open up better connections for Bailey county farmers as well as Cochran county farmers in the trade territory.

A 24-year-old man was arrested at an oil mill here Wednesday afternoon on a warrant from Burnett county, charging him with forgery, according to Tom Abel, sheriff. Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff, made the arrest. It was indicated Burnett county authorities would accept custody of the man today or Friday.

Dr. James M. Gordon, chairman of the executive committee of the Texas Technological college, who recently went to Temple to undergo surgery in a few days, "stood the trip well," according to relatives here Wednesday. After he had been confined to his home several days suffering from a cold and kidney complications, Dean Gordon left Sunday night for Temple to receive a clinical examination. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gordon and a son, Dr. J. N. Gordon of Ardmore, Okla.

Terry county students of Texas Technological college met Tuesday night to organize a Terry County club. The following officers were elected: President, Kyle Adams, Brownfield; vice president, Tommy Morehead, Brownfield; secretary-treasurer, Ruby Nell Smith, Brownfield. Plans were made for a Christmas holiday dance or party. Approximately 25 persons attended.

A purse containing $100 in postal saving stamps was lost several days ago in a Lubbock five and ten store by Miss Irene Wood of Lubbock. Wednesday morning Sheriff Tom Abel received the purse through the state police and the sheriff's office at Floydada. Mrs. M. J. McGill of Floydada had found the purse and had turned it over to Sheriff Fred Clark for disposition.

Store Celebrates In Its Contest Victory

The Lubbock Montgomery Ward store celebrated its victory in sales over all the other stores in its region with a banquet and dance Wednesday night at the Cactus Inn.

The program had been arranged by Miss Marie Hale, Mrs. E. A. Blair, Winston Manuel, A. B. Conley, jr., and Mayme Vorheir. C. R. Young was master of ceremonies.

Young made an introductory talk and after a brief "get acquainted" session, the Lubbock quartet, composed of M. M. Meek, Earl Thompson, Clyde Burleson, and Raymond Dyess, all employes of the store, sang.

Brief talks were by A. H. Maas, manager of the store here, and A. H. Heaton, assistant manager. A dance program was presented by Jeanine Young, Kenneth Williams and Johnnie Ray Fault, accompanied by Miss Ann Tyler. The dancers were presented by a Lubbock dancing school.

E. A. Blair, assistant city attorney, conducted a questionnaire. Bingo and card games furnished other entertainment. A Christmas motif was carried out.

Approximately 100 guests and employes attended.

O'Daniel Plans

ernor.

O'Daniel said he told Ford that Texas produces more than 90 per cent of the nation's wool yet has no wool processing plant.

Relating that Texas has an abundance of cheap power, O'Daniel said, "while Nebraska boasts of its cheap fuel to bring industries into the state, its fuel is piped from Texas."

The governor-elect said the question of labor was mentioned, but declined to say what he told Ford on that subject. However, he told newsmen, "we have no labor troubles in Texas. Texans are easy going folks and all a Texan wants is a job."

Edsel Ford Takes Part

During the conference, in which Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company and son of its founder, also participated, Mrs. O'Daniel and her daughter made a tour through Greenfield village, Ford's reconstruction of early American buildings.

O'Daniel's party will attend morning chapel exercises with Ford at 8:45 tomorrow in Greenfield village, and plan to leave by automobile about noon for Akron, Ohio, where O'Daniel is to confer with Russell A. Firestone about the rubber industry.

Banquet For Painters Held Here By Cleveland Firm

Sherwin-Williams company, with main offices in Cleveland, O., and a branch office in Dallas, was host at a banquet for painters and paint contractors at the Lubbock hotel Wednesday night.

R. J. Caverlee of the Chicago sales division lectured on paints. Demonstrations were performed by Jack Dykstra, painter of the Chicago division.

J. L. Crow, district representative, was in charge of the program. Eighty persons attended.

Man's Left Leg Amputated But Condition Satisfactory

J. D. Pagan, about 20, whose left leg was amputated at Lubbock sanitarium, was considered in satisfactory condition late Wednesday. He was injured when he stepped into a seed conveyor at the Plains Co-operative Oil Mill.

Pagan, in the darkness in a seed tunnel, stepped into the conveyor and was carried several feet. His left foot was severed when the conveyor reached a hanger.

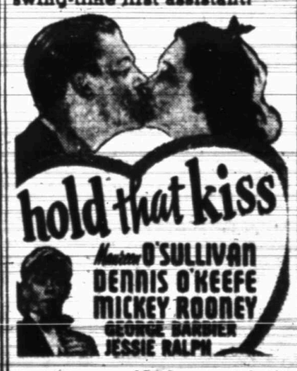

Pagan, seed house foreman at the mill, lives at 220 Thirtieth street.

We Won A Losing Fight!

QUITE naturally, the men who made such able and energetic efforts to obtain for Lubbock the million-dollar federal cotton laboratory which has been awarded to New Orleans are disappointed.

From the beginning they knew they were working for an almost hopeless cause. They faced obstacles which, from the start, were forbidding. Yet they worked. Naturally they hoped. And disappointment is inevitable when hope does not materialize.

Yet of their effort it is perhaps entirely correct to say that they waged a losing fight in which Lubbock and the South Plains have won. Just how much has been won remains for the future to tell. But in the aggregate, the eventual rewards may be many times the value of a laboratory—even a million-dollar laboratory.

It is difficult for most people to appreciate the courage of our men who plunged whole-heartedly into this fight when success of immediate purpose seemed so entirely hopeless. They were striving for a city which, if one is content merely to look at the map, is at the very edge of the cotton belt the laboratory is intended to serve. They were dealing with high officials—many of whom held the wildest, the most unjust misconceptions of what the South Plains actually is.

Some of those with whom our citizens had dealings probably thought of our region as a part of the dust bowl. Others imagined that the South Plains is an area where coyotes and blizzards howl, and where the jackrabbits and a few scrawny cattle find a scanty subsistence on scattered tufts of grass. Many actually believe that we are close neighbors of hades in summer and not far from the North Pole in winter—that rain is something we preserve as a curiosity for the generations which may not be so fortunate as to see moisture fall.

THESE statements, of course, are exaggerations. But the fact remains that many of the men with whom our committees had to deal had no conception of the South Plains. They could not believe, even when they saw the figures compiled by the government for which they worked, that we produce more cotton on these Plains of ours, and that we produce it more cheaply, than any spot of similar area in this land of ours. They were not prepared to digest at one "sitting" the fact that we have more land just as fertile which never has been touched by a plow than has been producing abundantly through the years.

The work of South Plains committees has done much to correct those misconceptions. Many men in important places who, only a few weeks ago, knew little of our area know much of it now. To be considered also is the fact that the men who sought the laboratory inevitably were brought in close touch with leaders in the cotton industry throughout the nation, establishing contacts which may be of inestimable value in future to the individuals, to our area and to the cotton industry as a whole.

These circumstances, of course, do not win this particular laboratory for us. But the next time—and there will be "next times"—those who strive will reap the benefit of the missionary work done by those who sought the cotton laboratory.

Trouble 'Round The Corner

REGARDLESS what the merits of his proposal may be, Governor Allred has laid the predicate for a lively fight with his recommendation that, in future, the legislature fix the per capita apportionment to public schools.

In the past, the per capita has been set by a board composed of designated officials who became a storm center when they boosted state aid from $16.30 to $22 for each child of scholastic age.

Without question, many members of the legislature would like to have more of a hand in fixing the apportionment than is possible under the present arrangement. For one thing, it would be a means of building many personal political fences. And, to support of the governor's proposal, it might put the legislature in better position to balance expenditures with revenue. Under the present system, the board sets the per capita and it then is up to the legislature to provide the money.

The board will not surrender its present powers willingly. Nor will those who have to do with the operations of schools, which have been generously treated, see the board shorn of its present powers without a fight.

It is a subject of which the people of Texas are certain to hear much when the legislature convenes next month.

The course former President Benes of Czechoslovakia will teach at the University of Chicago should have something to do with Undiplomatic History.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JUDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

DWIGHT CAMPBELL — ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.

JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.

MARVEL HASTINGS — navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday: Marvel's unpopularity increases, but for Dwight's sake Judy vows to attend her housewarming, to see that her father, the Admiral, attends also.

CHAPTER XVI

It was not easy to tell her mother that she had openly championed Marvel, openly asserted that Admiral Alcott would appear at the housewarming. But she stumbled through it, and her mother said pityingly, "I see, Judy. That's what Dwight asked when he came the other night?" She ruffled the girl's silky hair. "I know you want to do your best for him. Very well then, I—I'll speak to your father."

So the thing was settled, and the night of the housewarming a long line of cars crawled to a stop in front of Marvel's house. Judy wondered if Marvel even knew how close her party had come to failure.

But when she and Jack Hanley were inside, greeting their hostess, she realized that Marvel didn't have the faintest inkling. Such a thing had never occurred to her. She was really magnificent in her self-assurance. And there were other people present. Outside friends. A tall, thin girl with scarlet fingernails and a queer, short hairdo. "Kay Roseer, the cinema star," said Marvel. "You'll love her. She's so unique."

"This is Cary Tennant," Marvel said, a moment later, and Judy looked up into the narrow, sardonic eyes of the man she had seen twice before. In the Paradise, and at the wedding.

"How do you do?" Judy murmured.

"Charmed," said Mr. Tennant, and his thin face smiled. But his eyes didn't smile.

"All the naval regalia makes me feel just a bit effete," he said to Jack. "You Navy boys are such virile blokes."

Jack said, "Hornyhanded, hairy-chested," and grinned. But Judy sensed that he didn't like Cary Tennant any better than she did.

The house that Marvel's decorator had evolved was a thing of black floors, angled sofas, extremely low chairs, and whole walls of mirror glass. There were white gazelles on glass-topped tables; white rugs in little splotches on the dark floor; gleaming chromium.

"It looks like a machine shop," said Jack.

"Hush!"

It was really imposing, if you cared for modernity. But Judy didn't. She had always liked old mahogany and Virginia sofas.

Kay Roseter, on being presented to Admiral Alcott, informed him that her last picture had been a Navy picture. "We had the most distinguished Englishman playing the role of Admiral."

"I don't doubt," said Judy's father solemnly, "but that he looked the part much more than I do."

Kay Roseter's stiff-lashed, hazel eyes opened wide. "I didn't mean that at all! Dear me, Admiral, I am really too much in awe of you to indulge in—"

"Don't be, my dear. I'm merely human."

"But Marvel says the whole set-up is too, too overpowering. She had me actually believing I'd have to curtsey."

Dwight hastily put in a respectful word or two, and Kay Roseter drifted off, Captain and Mrs. Lane, who were politely trying not to stare at the hooting, shouting group across the room, came up. Judy said, "I don't believe I've met all the people."

Dwight said, "That's Cary Tennant's group, making the noise. They're nice when you know them. Shall I take you over there?"

Judy found the center of the merry making was a young debutante called "Slim" Jarrett. She was ugly in a animated way, and Judy guessed that her personality was famous among her friends. She was that sort. "Slim" pounced on Judy. "You're the typical Navy girl Dwight was telling us about. You'd be at home in a trunk, or in Guam, or in the jungle, or in Guam, or

"You've got me mixed with the Englishman who dresses for dinner," said Judy.

Dwight grinned. Judy met Diane's eyes. Diane and Bill and Magda Hamilton and her husband were standing near a bookcase. They had been reading the titles of the books.

A Chinese servant carrying a tray of cocktail glasses circulated among the guests. Marvel said, "If anybody wants to dance. I've had the back porch changed into a sort of patio."

People trooped through the dining room, out the French doors to view the patio. Judy thought, "She might as well have bought a new home. She's practically made this one over."

Jack Hanley, who had been sticking pretty close to Judy all evening, said in a low voice, "I feel sick. Let's stay out here and watch the stars."

"What's wrong with you?" she asked.

"I've had a stiff dose of snobbery," he replied. "Those friends of hers are poisonous."

"You simply don't know them. They're not your kind."

"That's it. The rarified air is killing me. And say, I don't think the skipper liked the sound of a remark Cary Tennant passed."

Judy said crisply, "It's silly to attach too much importance to these things. They're Marvel's friends."

"So what?"

He had not yet mentioned the fact that Judy was responsible for her father and mother's presence. But she knew he understood the state of affairs, and while she seated herself in a white metal chair, she waited for him to speak.

But he didn't. He said, "You're a gallant kid, Judy. Did I ever tell you I like you?"

"You told me."

"So what again, eh?"

She didn't answer. The rest had gone back into the house, now. There was only the sound of their voices, muffled a little, and the warmth of the night, and a smell of flowers from the garden that reminded her curiously of the wedding in the church.

Then they heard footsteps coming out toward them. A woman's voice said, "But they're impossible! If that's the Navy, I'll take New York's East Side."

Judy stiffened. Jack was sitting very still.

A man replied. Cary Tennant, Judy was certain. "Marvel's just having a little fling," he said. "It won't last long. The man was handsome and she wanted some fun. She'll get over it. She's not the girl to stick in the mud."

"I—I think we'd better get up and make a noise," Judy said quickly. "I don't want to hear any more of that!"

Jack looked at her. "You didn't need to hear it to know, did you? These people are all false. Thrill chasers. Moneyed bums. Who was it said—life in E flat?"

Then Cary's suave voice was closer. "Hello, there. I thought we had Marvel's little rustic two-by-four to ourselves."

"Apparently," said Jack. "Come, Judy."

Sale Of Tickets For Banquet To Honor Jones Ends Today

Sale of tickets for the banquet honoring Clifford B. Jones, new president of Texas Technological college, will end today.

Tickets are selling rapidly, but no check has been made of number sold, said W. E. Street, member of the banquet arrangements committee.

The banquet, open to the public, will be conducted at 7 o'clock Saturday night in the women's dormitory. It will be sponsored by the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

Spencer A. Wells, acting chairman of the board of directors, has accepted an invitation to speak, Street said Wednesday.

Tickets may be obtained from the alumni office in the library building and from several other places, list of which was formerly announced. Price is $1.

Man Suffers From Exposure After Being Trapped In Car

NOCONA, Dec. 14 (AP)—Trapped in his overturned automobile for 12 hours, Calvin Miller, 25, of Belcherville, today was seriously ill from exposure after being rescued by a passing WPA worker.

Miller told hospital attendants his automobile crashed into the salt creek bridge and overturned early last night. Three large sacks of feed pinned him in the wreckage.

Sub-freezing temperature prevailed throughout the night. Physicians said he would recover.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE government at Washington has been almost completely Corcoranized as a result of the appointments to key posts which the hatless brain truster has inspired. Drawn largely from Harvard and the Frankfurter household, they are in position to set the federal pattern so firmly that Congress, a future administration and even the Supreme court cannot undo it.

They make up a legal and administrative legion responsive to Tommie because they owe their advancement to him alone. Most of them served with or around him in the drafting and administering of New Deal measures. Only a partial list discloses such Corcoran cronies as D. W. Robinson, counsel to the Federal Power commission; William Dempsey, F. C. C. counsel; James H. Fly, T. V. A. counsel; Calvert Magruder, wage-hour counsel; Charles Fahy, N. L. R. B. counsel; Solicitor-General Jackson; Herman Oliphant, Treasury counsel; S. E. C.-er Jerome Frank; Charles Stewart Guthrie, Civil Aeronautics counsel, and Clinton M. Hester, Civil Aeronautics administrator; Gerald Reilly, counsel to the Labor department. These men, obviously, exercise more power than cabinet members and commissioners.

If and when they quit the government service, Tommie and Sidekick Ben Cohen—both in their early forties—will be the most fortunate of men. First they write the laws, next they select the administrators and lawyers who will interpret their statutes, and then they hang out a shingle as experts in the practice of departmental law. All perfectly legal, of course, but what a setup! Joe O'Mahoney should investigate this monopoly.

CONVICTIONS: Attorney-General Cummings is not ready to announce his decision yet, but the government will probably abandon further prosecution of Harlan county officials and mine operators for alleged suppression of civil rights. They figure the best they could get in a second trial would be another hung jury.

From a social, economic and political standpoint, however, the government won a great victory the first time. Had Uncle Sam convicted the local boys, resentment would have run so high that attempts to unionize the mines and better workers' conditions would have failed utterly. Had the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal, the home folks would have regarded it as courtroom proof that the law could never touch them. The stalemate seemingly satisfied these mountain feudists, for John L. Lewis' organizers have negotiated union contracts with every company since the trial.

Moreover, time and custom appear to be working on the side of the prosecution. Of the 40 individuals under indictment, almost 10 have been killed in the common, ordinary and extra-legal feuds, while a couple more were bumped off during the excitement of the last election. Peace also has its convictions—.

CHIDER: Rep. Hatton Sumners and Senator Joseph O'Mahoney have indulged in several good-natured spats over House-and-Senate preeminence during the anti-monopoly hearings. Their exchanges have supplied the only humorous relief so far.

When Mr. Sumners asked Edsel Ford to enlarge on certain phases of the patents problem, the latter replied that it had been argued at length in the Senate. "You forget," smiled the Texan, "that some of us are members of the House." "Tut, tut!" interjected the chairman, "don't be boasting!"

Another time Mr. Sumners reminded a witness that "We are aliens," meaning the committee was unfamiliar with technical details. Again Mr. O'Mahoney interrupted: "Speak for the House, not the Senate," he admonished.

EXPLAINED: When Henry Morgenthau failed to show up for a recent press conference, waiting reporters grew unusually curious. They figured that he might be discussing further devaluation, revision of the British-French exchange agreement, new taxes, behind close doors. His assistants' secretiveness aggravated their interest in the official absence. Finally the explanation leaked—the Secretary of the Treasury had stumbled against a table at home and broken his toe!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE New York Stock exchange is privately planning a new campaign to sell itself as an institution that renders a real public service. This move will have the approval of the Securities and Exchange commission. Exchange leaders feel that great progress has been made in cultivating public confidence and good will as a result of New Deal regulation and the change in management, but that there is still plenty of room for improvement.

The campaign will feature the point that the exchange makes available to security holders more up-to-date, accurate and complete information about their corporations than they can get anywhere else. The exchange now requires listed companies to file more detailed statements of their financial condition and operations more frequently than ever before, and anyone who owns a share of stock can have access to the facts on demand.

The gradual tightening of exchange requirements along this line has caused at least one large corporation to consider delisting its stocks rather than disclose "trade secrets" for public inspection.

DYNAMITE: There may be some last minute fireworks in the joint Congressional committee investigating the Tennessee Valley authority before it shuts up shop for the year.

Senator James J. Davis (Pa.), a Republican member of the committee who has just returned from Europe, has notified Chairman Vic Donahey (Ohio) that he wants to call six witnesses of his own. This request took Donahey completely by surprise, and he isn't a bit pleased about it. The chairman had hoped to conclude the hearings in a few days. But he can hardly turn Davis down.

Davis is keeping what he intends to prove a secret. But it is known that he and some Pennsylvania associates (not openly in politics) hired investigators at their own expense to check up on certain trading records. Possibly Davis aims to show that people connected with T. V. A. profited in the stock market from their inside knowledge of impending developments. In any case, it's a fair bet that "Puddler Jim" has some dynamite up his sleeve.

ACCORD: Astute New York observers are convinced that the Munich pact will pave the way for a potential United States of Europe if it survives the present wave of opposition and if the territorial controversies that still exist can be settled without recourse to war.

Germany has specifically foresworn territorial ambitions which would bring her into conflict with Britain, France or Italy. Hitler evidently plans to focus his attention on Central and Eastern Europe for the visible future, and none of the other participants in the Munich accord will seriously attempt to interfere with his plans in that area.

Colonial questions, of course, remain unsettled, but there are no indications at present that these will lead to armed hostilities.

AGITATION: The Franco-Italian tension looks worse than it is. Mussolini certainly will not go to war with France over Corsica, Savoy and Tunisia.

Moreover, he is likely to get what he really wants after Chamberlain's visit to Rome next month—more voice in the management of the Suez canal and smaller tolls for Italian vessels passing through it, a half interest in the French railroad from Djibouti to Ethiopia and readier access to the Tunisian wheatfields to help him cut with his food problem.

Informed sources find ground for belief that the anti-French agitation in Italy was at least partially fomented by elements who would like to break up the Munich pact, and that Mussolini himself was privately somewhat embarassed by it.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"Stop shoving, you big walrus, or I'll report you to the management!"

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, Dec. 14. (AP)—State Auditor Tom King is a big man. He is in fact, about the biggest man in the state government. He stands six feet four in his socks and his other proportions match his height.

The other day he came forward with a big proposal. He suggested that if the people want the government re-organized, great economies effected and efficiency increased the best way to get the job done would be to kick the whole present setup overboard and write a new constitution.

King's opinion is worth listening to. His job is to go into each department, check up on what they are doing. By law he is the efficiency expert of the government.

"Theoretically a new organization and plan of government can be set up under the present constitution," he said. "As a practical thing, it can't be done. A new constitution is the right route to that happy end.

"Many of the government's difficulties are the result of improper organization. The government has grown up and branched out in directions which the framers of the constitution never intended.

"The job of house-cleaning should be done all at once. New York has been trying it piecemeal and reports are the plan is not very successful. Constitutional revision by sections enables pressure groups to get in their work."

IF THE people are not ready to re-do the whole government, King recommended, as one way to get better results under the existing plan, adoption of a different accounting system.

The purpose of the system should be to show the condition of the government in all its phases and at all times. This, he said, the present auditing set-up does not do.

Regulatory Bill Beaten

At the last general session of the legislature, a bill was offered by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth under which the auditor would be responsible to the legislature, not to the governor who appoints him.

Under the Rawlings plan each house would have auditing committees, and the auditor would be their representative in obtaining information on needs and operations of state departments and in checking up to see that the wishes of the legislature were carried out.

Rawlings, in offering the bill, contended the legislature always knew very little about the real requirements of the state departments because all its information came from the departments themselves, in other words, from interested persons.

The bill passed the Senate but died in the House.

ACCORDING to King, an auditor should be independent and if he is independent it doesn't make much difference how he is appointed.

"It might be a good idea for him to be appointed by the legislature," King said. "I don't know. I know he should be independent and beyond influence. How to achieve that end is the problem.

"Under Governor Allred the auditor is independent. He allows the auditor to run his office. However, it might be different under other governors."

The chief needs of the present auditor's department, King said, are to eliminate the administrative duties, such as checking various claims accounts which have been placed upon it, and then to put enough money back of it to enable it to perform its proper auditing functions.

TARZAN AND THE FORBIDDEN CITY. No. 10 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Thome decided to hold Helen Gregory a few hours, to give her father a thorough fright, then demand the map to Athair as her ransom. Magra sat in deep meditation, evolving a secret scheme. Suddenly she rose and announced: "I'm going for a little walk."

She strolled nonchalantly from the room but, once outside, hurried footsteps carried her to the courtyard of the hotel. There she cast her eyes upward to the rooms occupied by the Gregory party. As she expected, the men were in earnest counoil.

Magra knew they were discussing plans to search for the missing Helen. Evidently their plans were swiftly made, for soon they left their quarters and emerged into the courtyard, hastening toward the street. Magra found concealment behind a bush.

As Tarzan passed near her, the girl's heart fluttered. How strong and handsome, how fascinating he was! But this was no time for romantic musing. She had work to do. Stealthily she slipped into the hotel, to put her delicate plan into effect.

IMPETUS IS GIVEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Many traders who occupied cautious seats on the side lines recently clambered aboard the stock market band wagon today in hopes of a year-end ride to profits, giving impetus to an upswing in prices.

The shift, from the sidelines became a buying rush before the close.

Leading shares ran up for gains ranging to around 3 points. Final prices were about the highest of the day.

First to take off decisively were the aircraft manufacturing shares, buoyed by reports extensive plans for enlargement of army air forces had been laid before President Roosevelt.

Watching the rise gain momentum, market experts judged the action of the list itself primarily impelled traders to abandon the sidelines. They contended the market lately had given ample evidence of a "sold out" condition following its November fall.

Leading the aviations, Sperry swept up 3 to 48⅞ and Glen Martin 2⅜ to 34⅛. Among other "war" stocks, Bethlehem Steel rose 2¼ to 75 and Du Pont nearly 3 to 150.

Also 1 to around 3 higher were Westinghouse, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Union Carbide, American Smelting, Kennecott, Santa Fe, Illinois Central, U. S. Rubber, Johns Manville, Air Reduction and American Can.

The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks rose .9 to 91.7. Transactions totaled 1,965,054 shares, largest since Nov. 10, against 1,093,550 shares yesterday.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Corn became the grain market leader today, and scored 1¼ cents a bushel jump, stimulated ⅞ of a cent rise in wheat.

Unusual scarcity of offerings of corn futures aroused misgivings on the part of traders short of supplies needed to fill speculative contracts.

At the close, Chicago corn futures were ⅞ to 1¼ cents higher compared with yesterday's finish. Dec. 50⅜@50⅞, May 52⅞@53, wheat ½ to ⅞ up. Dec. 64⅛@64⅝, May 67⅛@67⅝, oats unchanged to ⅛ advance, rye showing ¼ to ⅝ lift, and provisions a hoist of 2 to 7 cents.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14 (AP)—Re-buying by recent sellers and increased demand from abroad pushed cotton prices up nearly $1 a bale here today but last minute realizing by earlier buyers reduced maximum gains and closing prices were at net advances of 6 to 10 points.

Executive approval of current crop laws and the belief that the measures would be continued next year, developed a good overseas demand during the session, while Wall Street and local interests brought on investment account.

At the top the market showed net gains of 65 to 80 points subsequent realizing operations brought reactions and at the close the market was barely steady with Dec. at 8.30-bid, Jan. at 8.36-bid, March at 8.33@8.34, May at 8.15, July at 7.85, Oct. at 7.50@7.83, Dec. (new) at 7.32-bid and March (1940) at 7.56-bid.

Spot cotton was steady and middling closed 25 net points at 8.43. Sales totaled 988 bales.

Lower foreign markets and dullness in textiles again resulted in increased liquidation at the start but offerings were absorbed at declines of 1 to 4 points and prices rallied firmly in later trading until the last-hour realizing supplied the demand.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Cotton today recovered practically all of Tuesday's losses on covering and trade buying. December closed 22 points net higher while other months were 5 to 7 higher. March, which had advanced from 8.10@8.31, closed at 8.29.

The market opened 1 point higher to 4 points lower in mixed trading. December was steady owing to the issuance of only 1notice. Other months at first reflected the effects of easier Liverpool cables, but were soon influenced by December. A firmer technical position following yesterday's liquidation helped the tone. Some buying appeared through commission houses to carry the list up to net advances of 16 to 22 points. Deliveries from January forward eased 7 to 14 points from the best under realizing late in the day, but December closed at the high.

The census bureau reported November domestic consumption of 596,289 bales against 542,778 in October and 482,976 in November, 1937.

Construction Of New Hotel Is Announced

AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Austin Statesman said today Jerry Sadler, railroad commissioner-elect and a group of oil men planned to construct in the capital a 22-story hotel costing approximately $2,500,000.

The paper quoted Sadler as saying he and his associates had "virtually closed the contract" and details would be made public Jan. 15.

It said Sadler told a reporter he "decided Austin needed a new first class hotel after seeing 'hillbilly' this and 'hillbilly' that on the menus every time I went in a hotel restaurant here."

Cotton Girl Guest At Rotary Club

Rotarians yesterday met the National Cotton Girl, Miss Opal Hill of Post, a senior of the textile engineering department of Texas Technological college and heard M. E. Heard, head of the department, tell about the good breaks of the local school in national publicity in recent weeks.

Sam H. Reid, co-chairman, introduced Webster McEvoy, Lubbock singer who gave two numbers. Mrs. Don Mitchell was pianist.

President Warren P. Clement asked Edd McLaughlin, past, district governor, to present the visiting Rotarians. He announced next Wednesday was toy day for the club, toys going to the Goodfellows. Envoy V. M. Vansyckle of the Salvation army made a plea for those contemplating gifts to needy families to use the Army's clearing house to avoid duplications.

Outstanding Student

Heard was introduced by Kenneth M. Renner, co-chairman. In presenting the National Cotton Girl of the coming Cotton bowl celebration at Dallas, Heard said that she was an outstanding student of his department and had worked her way through four years of college. "She has three jobs at this time," he added, "an NYA part time job, working for her room at a boarding house and also as waitress in a cafe. She has better than 'B' in her work," he said of her scholastic standing.

Free Concert To Be Tonight

One hundred selected members of the Texas Technological college band will present an annual Christmas concert at 8 o'clock tonight in Senior High school auditorium, under direction of D. O. Wiley.

The concert will be dedicated to Coaches P. W. Cawthon, Russell T. Smith, and Berl Huffman, and the 1938 Red Raiders.

Free To Public

Director Wiley said the concert would be free to the public.

The program will include "Fantasie di Concert (Boccalari), by R. L. Floyd, baritone soloist. Floyd, a freshman band major from McLean, has won solo contests in the Tri-State festivals at Enid, Okla., and won first place on both trombone and baritone in the national contests last spring. The selection he will present was written especially for a brass instrument.

Carl Hyde, senior band major from Albany and president of the band organization, will be conductor for one number, Sleepers Awake (Bach). Hyde plays solo cornet in the band. Sleepers Awake has a choral for brasses "that well demonstrates the fine organ-like qualities of the brass section," said Wiley.

Wilson Godfrey of Gladewater, Irvin McElroy of Borger, and Jack Turner of Lubbock, cornet trio, will present Triplets of the Finest (Henneberg), "one of the few brilliant trios written for cornets."

Other Numbers Given

The program otherwise includes: March of the Pioneers (Colby); Barber of Seville (Rossini), a sparkingly gay overture considered Rossini's greatest and most popular work; Voices of Spring, a popular selection by the Waltz King, Strauss; Symphony in B Flat, first movement (Fauchet), a symphony popular with American concert bands, written especially for bands; Sursum Corda (Lift Up Your Hearts) (Elgar), by the greatest of modern English composers and especially appropriate for a Christmas program; polonaise from Christmas Night (Rimsky-Korsakoff), a scintillating number from one of the composer's little-known operas; Hark! The Herald Angels Sing, (Mendelssohn); It Came Upon a Midnight Clear (Willis); Joy to the World (Handel.)

Trade Practice Rules Opposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Representatives of the clothing industry appearing before the federal trade commission today all expressed opposition to proposed trade practice rules for the wool industry.

Several witnesses, saying they represented consumers, approved the rules which relate to the identification and disclosure of content of the textile merchandise containing virgin or reclaimed wool in whole or in part.

A Grave Injustice

Morton J. Baum, vice-president of the Hickey-Freeman company, said "adoption of these rules will be a grave injustice to the clothing industry and will cause the price of clothing to rise immediately."

Max H. Zuckerman, who said he represented 85 per cent of the manufacturers of children's wear, said the rules would tend to make confusion whether the industry he represented was selling "baby garments or labels."

Hubert L. Gutterson, president of the Institute of Garment Manufacturers, said that in the drafting of the rules "no consideration could have been given to the peculiar position of our industry" and asked that it be excluded.

Rules Are Endorsed

Representative Seager (R-NJ) endorsed the rules on behalf of industries and consumers in his district.

Mary M. Fleming, secretary of the truth in fabric committee, said she thought the rules were "an excellent way of protecting the American consumer."

Julia K. Jaffray, representing the New York City Federation of Women's clubs, also endorsed the rules.

Others who opposed the rules were Ralph M. Jones, president of the underwear institute, Charles Baker, who said he represented 95 per cent of the coat and suit industry; S. W. Lerner, of the National Skirt Manufacturers association, and I. D. Wolf of Kaufman's store in Pittsburgh.
