U.S. forces may be on Grenada for month

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — Hundreds of Cuban riflemen, pounded by U.S. warplanes and artillery, battled allied troops Friday in Grenada's rugged mountains, and a Jamaican colonel predicted U.S. forces would remain here "for at least a month."

Navy Vice Adm. Joseph Joseph Metcalf III, commander of some 6,000 American soldiers and Marines on Grenada, said there were an estimated 500 Cubans still not accounted for.

Reporters flown by the military to the tiny Caribbean island heard sporadic gunfire as resisters ventured from their hiding places along the eastern coast and in the central mountains to fire at the advancing American troopers.

Col. Ken Barnes of the Jamaican Defense Forces, the ground commander of about 400 soldiers and policemen contributed to the invasion force by seven Caribbean countries, said U.S. troops would have to remain for at least a month because of the stubborn resistance.

"We're talking about people dealing with snipers, small groups, guerrillas," he said.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, charged that U.S. warplanes fired on the Soviet Embassy in the embattled Caribbean island's capital Wednesday, wounding one staff member.

Six thousand U.S. troops — more than triple the original landing force — were now on the island, American military officials reported. And four days after they invaded to topple Grenada's Marxist military junta, the Americans still had a tough fight on their hands.

"I would say the fighting here has been as intense" as in Vietnam, an Army Ranger officer told a reporter at Point Salines, at the island's southern tip.

Adm. Wesley McDonald, U.S. Atlantic forces commander, said in Washington the mop-up operation against 300-350 Cubans, and possibly some Grenadian soldiers, might take weeks.

Warplanes from the U.S. Navy carrier Independence late Thursday attacked holdouts at a barracks area on nearby Calivigny Point, a narrow, barren finger of land edged by rocky cliffs, the U.S. military reported. American artillerymen also shelled the positions.

But scattered resistance continued Friday at the Calivigny barracks and in the central mountains, dominated by 2,700-foot Mount St. Catherine, McDonald reported.

Diplomatic sources here said the road leading from the Grenadian capital about three miles to the Point Salines airport also apparently had not yet been secured.

In Washington, the Pentagon reported the U.S. death toll from the invasion had reached 11. Seven other U.S. servicemen were missing, and 67 were wounded, it said.

At least 30 Cubans have died, other Washington government sources reported, but U.S. soldiers on Grenada said dozens of Cuban bodies were seen at one battle site alone — near the Point Salines airport, under construction by Cubans. Grenadian casualties remained unreported.

The U.S. military strike on the 21-mile-long, oval-shaped island, 1,500 southeast of Miami, continued to draw wide condemnation internationally.

Quake kills two Idaho children

CHALLIS, Idaho (AP) — The first killer earthquake to hit the United States since 1975 rocked eight Northwest states on Friday, crushing two small children here and devastating the business district of another small Idaho town.

The quake, measuring 6.9 on the Richter scale, was felt in an area roughly bordered by Dickinson, N.D., Portland, Ore., Prince George, British Columbia, and Salt Lake County, Utah. It was the strongest earthquake to hit the contiguous 48 states since 1959.

"It felt like Paul Bunyan picked me up and shook me," said Cloyd Olsen of Mackay, Idaho.

Two children — a 7-year-old girl and a 6-year-old boy — were killed by falling debris Friday morning as they walked to school in Challis.

The girl was identified as Tara Leaton, 7, daughter of Sally and Frank Leaton of Challis. The boy was identified as Travis Frank, 6, also of Challis.

At least three people were injured.

Gov. John Evans declared a state of disaster in Custer County to clear the way for emergency state and federal aid. Several buildings in Mackay and Challis, including part of the Challis high school, collapsed but other services were operating, said Sheriff Ken Bowers.

U.S. reportedly has list of suspects

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A well-placed Lebanese government source said Friday that Lebanon has turned over to the U.S. Marines and the FBI the names of 11 suspects in the terror bombings that killed 226 American and 56 French troops.

The source, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said none of the 11 has been arrested. The source said that the suicide terrorists who drove the two trucks packed with explosives wore funeral shrouds under their clothes and worked for groups backed by two foreign spy services.

Capt. Wayne Jones, a Marine spokesman, said he was not aware of any list of names being turned over to the Marines. In Washington, Roger Young, assistant director of the bureau, said, "I've not heard about that, and I doubt it." He added that there were no FBI personnel in Lebanon.

U.S. Embassy and French officials said they knew of no arrests so far, but one Beirut newspaper, the conservative Al-Anwar, quoted security sources as saying one person was arrested Thursday in connection with the bombings.

It said the unidentified suspect was seized at a food store in Bir Hassan, a neighborhood between the U.S. and French bases. The report could not be confirmed.

The Lebanese source refused to say which spy services backed the attackers, but senior U.S. officials have said there were indications Syria and Iran were behind Sunday's attack. Both Syria and Iran have denied they were involved.

The source said the drivers of the two bomb-laden trucks were blessed before their mission by Sheik Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah, leader of the Iranian-backed Dawa Party, a Lebanese Shiite Moslem splinter group.

But Fadlallah, in a telephone interview with The Associated Press, denied any involvement with the bombings. He said he "condemns the act and we don't believe in any kind of assassination or violence or bombings."

Meanwhile, the International Red Cross sent represetatives to the Druse-surrounded, mountaintop Christian village of Deir al-Kamar to try to organize the departure of 1,000 Christians.

A Red Cross spokeswoman, who declined to be identified, said the evacuation probably would take place sometime next week.

Druse leader Walid Jumblatt has said he would allow 1,000 Christians to leave Deir al-Kamar as a "humanitarian gesture."

The village has been surrounded by Druse since early September when the fierce mountain fighters pushed Christian Phalangist militiamen out of most of the Chouf Mountains in the wake of Israel's withdrawal to south Lebanon.

The mountain fighting led to a further deterioration in relations between President Amin Gemayel, son of Phalange Party leader Pierre Gemayel, and Syrian -backed opposition groups centered around the "National Salvation Front."

Butler receives PBPA's Top Hand Award

By DAVID SODAMANN
Business-Energy Editor

A record-breaking crowd of 692 veteran oilmen packed the Holiday Inn Holidome in Midland Friday for the 13th biennial reunion and celebration of the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers.

The group is comprised of men with more than 30 years experience in the oil and gas business and their wives or widows.

Highlighting the assembly was the men's luncheon, where the the pioneers saw the Permian Basin Petroleum Association's Top Hand Award presented to Jno. P. Butler, senior chairman, retired, First National Bank of Midland, now a consultant for Republic Bank First National; and heard a speech by pioneer Eddie Chiles, chairman of The Western Company of North America.

Butler, as was previously reported, was to have received the Top Hand Award during an earlier PBPA meeting, but was unable to attend at that time.

TEDC to help diversify economy

By JULIE FAUBEL
Business-Energy Writer

Texas must begin to diversify its economic base, said Charles Wood, executive director of the Texas Economic Development Commission (TEDC).

Speaking Friday at the TEDC quarterly board meeting in Midland, Wood told members the commission would do everything it could to make this a reality.

Wood said a declining tax base, caused by decreasing production in the oil industry and the peso devaluation, coupled with a national recession, have put a strain on Texas. As a result, he said, TEDC has stretched itself to the maximum to meet the needs of the state and the business community it serves.

TEDC, established in 1959, primarily works with new industry from out-of-state and promotes economic development across the state. It was formerly known as the Texas Industrial Commission.

"Businesses all over the state are having problems. They need assistance in getting a presence in international trade. I am firmly convinced that we should take the steps and dedicate our efforts toward the businessman who needs help," Wood said.

The steps the commission plans to take include out-of-state prospecting trips, direct mail campaigns, installation of a new computer system to access data bases, and exhibitions at international trade shows.

Wood said prospecting trips are made to targeted companies in their home offices as a first contact. The most recent trips have been to California and Illinois. Follow-up contacts are made by direct mail.

"We have targeted campaigns to selected expansion-oriented industries. We are going back and checking which industries are moving, who's sitting still and who's looking. We will channel all our direct mail into the area most likely to yield the best results. We've had 122 responses from corporate executives to this direct mail and advertising campaign."

Because the economic situation in the U.S. is constantly changing, TEDC must constantly monitor these changes in order to do its forecasting, he said.

High pressure that was centered over South Central Texas Thursday drifted east over the Southeastern United States.

Butler receives Top Hand Award

The Top Hand award was presented to Butler by Chiles, a former recipient.

"It's a very great honor," Chiles said. "I received one myself. It was one of the greatest honors I've ever had — coming from my home territory. It's one of those things I cherish. I know that everybody who gets one will cherish it."

As he took the award, a walnut plaque bearing a bronzed oilfield hand's glove, Butler said the award reminded him of playing cowboys and Indians as a boy.

"My elders watched us play, (and) I would here some of them say, 'He'd be a top hand, he'd be a top hand.' Well, I thought there must be something special in being a top hand. And it is a very special thing for me to receive the award."

"The Top Hand Award," Chiles said, "is given by the Permian Basin Petroleum Association to a man that really has been a top hand around this ol' country for a good many years."

In his speech, Chiles, "preached the gospel" of fiscal and political conservatism.

"I feel like it's important that we preserve the free enterprise system, a system all of us here grew up under and took advantage of," Chiles said.

"I feel like that system should be preserved for coming generations. For those kids that are in high school today, and the kids that are yet unborn."

"I'm afraid — I'm almost sure — that that opportunity is slipping away, because of an ever enlarging, ever growing federal government, and the cost of maintaining that government.

Staff Photo by Cody Bell

Eddie Chiles, right, shows the Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers the Top Hand Award he is about to present to Jno. P. Butler. The award is given annually by the Permian Basin Petroleum Association to an individual who has played a significant role in the Permian Basin's Petroleum Industry.

That's something we've got to do something about."

Chiles quoted Americans who share his views. Among them David Steadman, owner of cotton mills, who said, "Almost everybody wants to eat at the government's table, but nobody wants to do the dishes."

As long as that attitude persists, Chiles suggested, the nation faces a bleak future. Government will grow, and the cost of running it will continue to soar.

"I think it's time that every man and woman of voting age in this country get busy, roll up their sleaves and do something about it," Chiles said.

Chiles said the federal budget is out of control. The budget deficit is going "straight up." It has reached such size, he explained, that it would, based on 1982 figures, "take the total sales of Exxon Corp. for the next 125 years to payoff the national debt."

The reason the national debt has become so large, Chiles remarked, is because elected officials, knowing the desires of those "eating at the table," are using the national treasury to buy their re-elections. The scheme works, Chiles said. "My congressman, Jim Wright, the worst there is up there, has been there 30 years. We can't get rid of him.

"What are we going to do about it?," Chiles asked. "We've got to stop it. We've got to tell those people we're not going to make it possible for them to do that."

The way to stop it Chiles said is to vote for those who aren't inclined to use he federal busget to buy their way back into office.

If they aren't stopped, Chiles said, the alternative is socialism and with its arrival the end of the free enterprise system.

"We've got to fight the second American Revolution. We've got to fight it next year. The first Tuesday in November is the day the battle will be fought. We'll fight that battle with ballots, not bullets. If we can win that battle, and send the right people to Congress and to the statehouse, we can finally get our government back. We'll preserve the free enterprise system for all the coming generations."

As the men who are members of the Petroleum Pioneers listened to Chiles, their wives and widows of former memebers were gathered at Midland Country Club for a luncheon. During the afternoon the pioneers and the women toured the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum or took a bus tour to points of interest in Midland.

Several oil companies sponsored receptions for former employees who are now Petroleum Pioneers. Friday evening the pioneers gathered for a reception and buffet, the concluding event of the reunion and celebration.

TEDC head: Texas needs diversified economy

Wood told board members TEDC took a "swat team" approach in assisting the Gulf Coast business community after Hurricane Alicia hit this past summer.

"We had to stop what we were doing and get our people out in the field to see how we could help. We worked with the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and the Small Business Administration assisting with business loan applications. We were very successful in our efforts. These were Texas businesses that got hurt and we care about them."

The devaluation of the peso has also kept the TEDC very busy.

"The peso devaluation is an ongoing problem. We have people who have been working intensively with the smaller businesses up and down the border region, assisting them with a couple of programs. One is management expertise on how to cut your losses. Also, we are working hand-in-hand with SBA on development of loan programs."

Another project, the commission is working on, is an exhibit in the Hanover Trade Fair. Participation in the 1984 trade fair, held throughout Europe, is important to the comission.

"I have determined that we will make a full court press to deliver the economic development presence into the Hanover 84 operation. We are well into the planning stages. We are on a very limited budget but, I think with some ingenuity we can do it." Wood said an exhibit such as this would allow the TEDC to publicize Texas in an area where it has never been before.

Wood said he was encouraged by the recent number of new businesses locating in Texas. He also said, according to Inc. Magazine, Texas had one of the strongest business climates in the U.S.

"In the last two months, since the first of September, we've had eight new locations and eight start-up training programs. The economy is picking up, Texas is picking up and this commission is, I think, on the forefront of that wave and we're pushing it as fast as we can get it to go to accelerate it."

Earthquake kills two small children in Idaho

Evans flew by National Guard airplane to Challis to confer with local government officials on emergency assistance. He planned to visit Mackay, 45 miles to the south, before returning to Boise Friday night.

The quake was felt in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, Utah, Montana and North Dakota and in the Canadian provinces of Alberta and British Columbia.

Waverly Person, a spokesman for the U.S. Geological Survey in Golden, Colo., said the quake struck at 9:06 a.m. CDT just west of Idaho's tallest peak, 12,662-foot Mount Borah, and near the towns of Mackay and Chilly, along the Big Lost River 110 miles northwest of Pocatello. It lasted 30 to 60 seconds.

Needles swung to their limits on graphs at the Pacific Geoscience Center in Victoria, British Columbia.

Within two hours, more than 15 aftershocks were recorded. The strongest, measured at between 5.5 and 6.0 on the Richter scale, came about 2 p.m. in Butte, Mont., officials said.

In Mackay, population about 550, all buildings in the central business district were extensively damaged, fire department officials said. Clouds of dust hung in the air, a section of highway dropped 6 feet and bricks littered the streets.

A stone storefront collapsed in the 800-resident community of Challis, 50 miles to the north, killing the two children as they were walking to school, said Diane Wren, administrative assistant for the Custer County sheriff's department.

City employee Tom Shinderling, who was working nearby, said the mother of the dead girl had seen her child off.

"She was watching her walk by on the street when the building collapsed. I ran over and started helping them remove the rocks," he said.

Shinderling left to get a backhoe. He said as he returned, the children were found.

"It was a pretty sad thing. Everybody was pretty quiet," he said. He said the girl's mother was "real shook up and screamed and hollered that her daughter was there."

Tony Perotta said he was told the children had been crossing the street before the quake hit.

"The boy saw a car coming and screamed at her (the girl) to come back. If the kids wouldn't have run back to the sidewalk, they wouldn't have gotten hit by the building," he said.

A few blocks away, a massive boulder slipped down from a mountain and landed in front of a home, knocking down a tree and a power line. Neighbors said no one was in the home.

Two people received minor injuries in Challis, and a woman was hospitalized for undetermined injuries in Mackay.

Workers were forced to leave the Federal Building in Butte, Mont., after plaster cracked and a light fixture broke loose, and the chimney on the Beaverhead County, Mont., courthouse collapsed. Employees at the Idaho Capitol fled to the safety of the basement.

Students were evacuated so that tall buildings at Boise State University could be checked.

Idaho state police closed U.S. 93 between Mackay and Challis and Idaho 75 between Clayton and Stanley after large boulders crashed down across lanes. Bureau of Reclamation officials said a crack discovered in a spillway at Mackay Dam, five miles northwest of Mackay, was old and not caused by the quake, as earlier thought. "The structure itself is in pretty good shape," said John Keys, Bureau of Reclamation regional director.

No damage was reported to other dams or to the 15-reactor Idaho National Engineering Laboratory near Idaho Falls, where units were automatically shut off by seismographic monitors, said Anne Hosford of the Department of Energy.

Elevators swayed, pavements bucked automobiles, chandeliers danced and people trying to sleep on waterbeds found themselves bounced by wave-like motions.

Dishes "danced around on our breakfast table for 15-20 seconds," said John Vandenacre, an insurance agent in Helena, Mont. In Burley, Idaho, residents who stopped by a downtown coffee shop fled when the windows began buckling.

It was the strongest on-shore quake in the contiguous 48 states since Aug. 17, 1959, when a tremor measured at 7.1 on the Richter scale struck at Hebgen Lake, Mont., killing 28 people, said Don Finley of the U.S. Geological Survey in Reston, Va.

"The last time anyone was killed by an earthquake in the 48 states was the San Fernando Valley earthquake in California Feb. 9, 1971. This was a 6.5 magnitude earthquake that killed more than 50 people."

"Since the San Fernando quake, however, two people were killed in Hawaii by a tsunami (seismic sea wave) generated by a 7.2 magnitude earthquake Nov. 29, 1975," said Finley.

HRC, organizations to attack weedy lots

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

Human Relations Council, assisted by several churches and organizations, will attack one of the thorns in the side of Midland — weedy lots — this morning.

The Black Advisory Council, Antioch Baptist Church, Macedonia Baptist Church and Ideal Baptist Church members will be pitching in with muscle-power and equipment to clean off lots at 203 S. Lee, 205 S. Lee, 501 S. Lincoln and 503 S. Lincoln.

Gloria Ellis, director of the Human Relations Council, said this project falls under Clean Midland, and the HRC has been given money from the city's Community Development federal grant to put some energy behind the program. She has been working with Warren Cloyd in the city's code enforcement department to determine which lots need to be cleaned.

The city is researching who owns what lots and these people are sent warnings the tracts must be cleaned, she said. "For those lots where we can't find the owner, we'll use the money to hire a contractor to clean them," she said.

For the first Saturday clean-up day, Ms. Ellis picked small lots that could be cleaned easily and with a lawn mower. This group of churches will meet every other Saturday to clean lots. At the end of a period, Clean Midland will host a luncheon for these workers and present certificates, said Ms. Ellis.

Antioch Baptist Church started work Wednesday on the Lincoln Street lots, she said, explaining that many of the members work at jobs Saturday and can't participate with the others.

"The churches I've talked to are excited about it," she said.

Lots being chosen now for cleaning are located around Washington Park and Carver School. The city is applying federal CD funds to improving Washington Park. "It looks bad when children go to school and all they see out the windows are big mesquites," Ms. Ellis said.

"In a couple of months, that area will really look nice. Warren (Cloyd) also is doing demolition and clearance work in that area."

Ms. Ellis said some citizens had been hesitant about cleaning up their lots, saying neighbors next door weren't going to clean up their property.

"I talked to the Black Advisory Council and they're getting people to change their attitudes. Sometimes it just takes a push."

TESCO tools worth $12,500 taken

More than $10,000 worth of tools taken from a business and the burglary of a music store were reported to Midland police Friday morning.

The Texas Electric Service Co. truck yard, at 2401 W. Industrial, was broken into sometime between 11 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday. Entry into the yard was gained by cutting the fence. Numerous vehicles were broken into and tools valued at $12,500 were taken.

Joseph A. Shepherd, manager of The Music Store of Texas, 407 Andrews Highway, reported a glass window at the front of the store was broken between 7 and 8 a.m. Friday. A $350 electric guitar was reported missing.

Trick-or-treat bags available

The Midland Parks and Recreation is giving away free plastic trick-or-treat bags to anyone who is planning to celebrate Halloween on Monday.

The plastic bag contains a safety sticker to wear on the back of a costume and several money-saving coupons.

The free bags may be picked up at the Parks and Recreation office, 300 Baldwin.

Teen spared in freak accident

HOUSTON (AP) — Carol Rochau says her 15-year-old son, Robert, is walking "like a 75-year-old man with arthritis." But as far as she's concerned that's pretty good considering he'd been run over by a seven-ton bus.

"I didn't know the bus had run over my legs," Robert said Thursday after spending a night at a hospital. "I thought somebody had fallen on me."

He was released after treatment of a sprained foot and knee. He even was able to walk out of the X-ray room at Memorial City Hospital.

Dr. Robert Likover, who treated the youth's injuries, says he is baffled why the wheels from the 71-passenger bus did not break Robert's legs.

"I don't know. It's a freak thing. I have no explanation," he said.

Robert said he and other Cypress-Fairbanks High School students trying to get on the bus when he tripped over a student who fell in front of him.

"We were all trying to get on the bus and the bus was still going a little ways," he said. "This other kid who was in front of me tripped and then I tripped over him. And I fell under the bus."

School officials say the students were "rough-housing" when Robert apparently fell behind the back wheels of the bus without the driver realizing he was there. The bus was rolling to a stop at the time.

Mrs. Rochau said she was panic-stricken when school officials called to say her son had been run over and was en route to the hospital.

"I had visions of compound fractures," she said. "But he's remarkably unbruised. To consider that a bus completely went over his legs, he's very unbruised."

Robert is a tuba player in the Cypress-Fairbanks band and wanted to attend Friday night's homecoming activities. But even though he does not need crutches, half-time marching is out, he said.

Robert Rochau, 15, with his mother, Carol, was not severely injured when a school bus drove over his legs. He tripped boarding the vehicle.

Bomb defused at Army burn center

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An explosive ordnance team defused a bomb found at the headquarters of the Brooke Army Medical Center, about 100 meters from where two Marines injured in Lebanon are housed, a spokesman for Fort Sam Houston said Friday.

The bomb was found about 7:30 a.m. in a desk drawer by an officer who works in the building, said Army spokeswoman Maria Jones. About 100 people were evacuted for about 2½ hours.

Lt. Col. Robert McDonald said authorities were questioning a suspect Friday afternoon, but he declined to elaborate.

"We consider it an isolated incident," McDonald said. "We see no connection" to events in Beirut or Grenada, or to the arrival of the two severely burned Marines.

McDonald said an officer who works in the building, whom he declined to identify, found the "small explosive device" when he opened his desk drawer.

He said authorities had not received warning that a bomb had been placed, and also had received no calls claiming responsibility.

"We don't have any idea what this is about," he said.

Mondale raises questions about Glenn credentials

By LINDA BREAKSTONE
Hearst Feature Service

Walter Mondale

Despite Walter Mondale's apology for calling John Glenn an "anti-Democrat," that's exactly the point the former vice president intends to keep making against the former astronaut, albeit more subtly.

Bob Beckel, Mondale's national campaign manager, reviewing the sparring that began early this month between the two front-runners for the Democratic nomination, said that before the give-and-take, Glenn's record had escaped close attention. Most significant, from the Mondale viewpoint, was that seemingly few Democrats realized Glenn voted for President Reagan's 1981 economic and tax cut package — the cornerstone of "Reaganomics."

"At the end of last week, 30 percent of the people knew," Beckel estimated. "And by the time of the Iowa caucus (in late February), everybody's going to know."

The message doesn't have to reach everybody, of course. The aim of the Mondale attack is to raise questions about Glenn's party credentials among loyal, hard-core Democrats — precisely the ones who can be counted on to show up for the crucial Iowa caucus and the primaries in other states. The ones, in short, who play a large, perhaps disproportionate role in determining the party's nominee.

Ironically, Glenn seemingly walked smack into the Mondale strategy two weeks ago. It can even be argued that while Mondale already had been publicly focusing critical attention on Glenn's record, his attack strategy blossomed when Glenn provided the perfect opening for it.

The opening came during the Iowa Democratic party's Jefferson/Jackson dinner-dance earlier this month. Glenn, in line with his strategy to counter the wave of endorsements for Mondale from the likes of the AFL-CIO and the National Education Association, questioned Mondale's ties to such "special interest" groups. "Will we offer a party that can't say no to anyone with a letterhead and a mailing list?" the Ohio senator asked.

Mondale, in turn, junked his prepared text and challenged Glenn's votes for Reagan's economic package as well as Glenn's opposition to the SALT II treaty.

Glenn hastened to further draw the battle lines. The following Monday in Florida, he blasted the economic record of the Carter administration, blaming it for setting the stage for Reaganomics. For Mondale, Carter's vice president, to criticize Glenn's votes on Reaganomics "is a little like the first mate on the Titanic criticizing someone for going for a lifeboat," Glenn said.

Democrats charge Reagan plays politics with disaster aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate Democrats charged Friday that the Reagan administration is playing politics with federal drought disaster aid, saying states with Republican governors are more likely to get quick assistance.

"At the minimum, there exists an appearance that the administration is playing politics with programs essential to the economic survival of thousands of family farm operations," said Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky.

Huddleston called a news conference to release what he said was strong evidence the Agriculture Department is acting more quickly on drought aid requests from Republican governors than from Democratic ones. He and Sen. David Pryor, D-Ark., called on the department's inspector general to investigate.

By Monday of this week, applications for disaster designation had been received for 491 counties in states where the governor is a Republican, and 427 of those — 87 percent — had been approved, Huddleston said. For states with Democratic governors, 447 of 844 applying counties had received approval, a 53 percent rate, he said.

Huddleston, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said Democratic governors had experienced delays in approval of their requests and that in some instances word of approval of the requests was leaked first to Republican Party leaders instead of Democratic officeholders. Democratic governors got word on their requests in an average of 39 days, while Republicans heard in an average 24 days, he said.

Frank Naylor, under secretary of Agriculture for rural development, denied Huddleston's accusations.

"We have a very clearly defined policy and we follow it," he said. "Drought doesn't have any politics in it."

"A couple of the governors did move more rapidly than others," he said. But he said he was not sure Huddleston's figures were accurate.

Disaster designation, based on evidence of crop losses of at least 30 percent in a county, makes farmers suffering losses in the county eligible for low-interest loans.

Huddleston said that in Illinois, home state of Agriculture Secretary John Block and where the governor is Republican James Thompson, it took only a telephone request and a three-day wait for disaster designation to be given. But in Texas, where Democrat Mark White is governor, it took 54 days from the first application for disaster designation unti the first designation was approved, Huddleston said.

Man leaps from plane at 3,500 feet

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A "very pleasant" passenger in his mid-20s jumped Friday from the emergency door of a commuter plane as it flew toward Washington, D.C., at 3,500 feet, an airline official said.

The 30-passenger Shorts 330 twin engine plane, on a flight from Harrisburg, was traveling at 140 mph just north of York when the man leaped, said Pennsylvania Airlines vice president William Clark.

"He was very cordial, very pleasant, according to the passengers," Clark said, who added that he was "making small talk" with neighbors. He requested a seat in the back of the plane by the exit door, Clark said.

"About 10 minutes after the flight began, he unbuckled his seatbelt, walked to the rear of the plane, pushed open the door and dove out," Clark said.

State police were searching the area with helicopters, and were being assisted the the airline's pilot, Clark said. The passenger's name would not be released until his body was recovered and his wife was notified, he said.

The plane's door slammed shut after the man jumped and none of the other 26 passengers were injured, Clark said. The plane returned safely to the Harrisburg airport before resuming its flight to Washington, Clark said.

THE BETTER HALF

"Mother always told me that a marriage is bound to have some ups and downs — especially when you marry a yo-yo!"

Your horoscope

By JEANE DIXON

Sunday, October 30, 1983

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Actor Henry ("the Fonz") Winkler, singer Grace Slick and promising baseball youngsters Danny Tartabull (Seattle Mariners) and Lee Tunnell (Pittsburgh Pirates) celebrate birthdays today. Also born on this date: President John Adams, poet Ezra Pound and pioneer body builder Charles Atlas. You are now entering a wonderful period for making money and strengthening your personal relationships. Consistent excellence is the key to greater success in career or business. Do not try to coast on past triumphs. Once you realize there are many new worlds to conquer, you will want to increase your knowledge. Look into taking special classes. Partner is supportive.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You are vulnerable today. Steer clear of large gatherings and avoid conflicts with family members. You will be happiest when relaxing quietly at home. Take mate into your confidence.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A phone call brings good financial news or an interesting invitation. You are prepared to go that extra mile to preserve a relationship. Let others believe they are in control.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A family feud ends. You wonder how it ever got started! Discuss money problems openly so that loved ones understand what you are doing. A visit improves a parent-child relationship.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Force yourself to do some household chores before going out today. Mate may not be in a forgiving mood. Keep expenses down by entertaining at home instead of in restaurants.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): A blind date makes this a day of surprises. Romance is in the air. Family responsibilities may cause someone to change his or her travel plans. Keep your objectives in clear view.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): An exciting business opportunity is one of the fringe benefits when you attend a social function. A former flame returns, leaving you confused. Caution is advised. Avoid making quick decisions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Enjoy the company of an old friend who has been away. Parent-child disputes are not as serious as they seem. The outdoors life holds special appeal for physically fit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A guess is correct. You have the advantage in romance. Celebrate a special event. Someone you counted on reinforces your faith in him or her. You will probably get your own way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Tackle chores early so that you can enjoy a relaxing family day. Your judgment is equal to anyone's. Do not be brainwashed. Pay off some social debts with a casual, inexpensive party.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are the beneficiary of another's hard work. Share the good news with someone who truly cares. Let romance develop at its own pace. You deserve the best!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A family discussion clears the air and gives a child greater self-confidence. Do not let money problems spoil a special occasion. You should have a fabulous time at a party.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Building a new relationship is never easy, but the results will be worth the effort. Close relatives bring you luck. You have a psychological advantage over a competitor.

Puppet challenges morning TV

LONDON (AP) — A fast-talking rodent named Roland Rat and a buxom blonde who once rivaled Jayne Mansfield for public attention have livened up the battle for Britain's morning-TV audience.

Five months ago, commercial TV-AM was on the brink of bankruptcy after the rival British Broadcasting Corp. captured 80 percent of the country's newly served breakfast audience.

But ratings for TV-AM's "Good Morning Britain" surged ahead of the BBC's "Breakfast Time" for the first time in September, before falling behind once again in recent weeks.

"WE'VE always expected that the number of viewers would settle around 1 million," said Howell James, a TV-AM spokesman. "The main thing is that we've had steady appreciation for our show ... since September."

—Recent ratings for the BBC's "Breakfast Time" showed an audience of 1.4 million.

A new format featuring the big-eared puppet Roland Rat, a segment on dieting with film star Diana Dors, guessing games and features on celebrities apparently contributed to the TV-AM challenge.

"WE HAVE gone for a more popular appeal and it has paid off," said a spokesman for TV-AM, a private production company.

When the Independent Television network launched "Good Morning Britain" with big-name hosts David Frost and Anna Ford — Britain's answer to Barbara Walters — critics predicted it would capture the 6:30-9 a.m. market.

But the slick and highbrow show, interrupted by commercials unlike the publicly funded BBC, proved unpopular with the tea-and-toast audience.

Viewers overwhelmingly preferred the relaxed style of the BBC's "Breakfast Time."

IN AN attempt to boost ratings, TV-AM fired chief executive Peter Jay, a former British ambassador in Washington, sacked Miss Ford and fellow anchorwoman Angela Rippon, and relegated Frost to doing special interviews.

The new chief executive, Timothy Aitken, whose family is the largest shareholder in TV-AM, promised to make "Good Morning Britain" more "ordinary" and appointed Greg Dykes as editor-in-chief.

Dykes, described by The Times of London as "the hero of the revival," said the show's competitive surge was the result of a decision to invest about $375,000 in new programs, including Roland Rat for kids, broadcasts from Britain's major resorts, and dieting, consumer and exercising features for women — TV-AM's main viewers.

"WHEN I came here, the place was in a disaster," he said. "What was being produced was pretty frightening. It didn't stand up as television. It didn't do light or heavy stuff well. It was boring."

He said of the new format: "We're keeping it light but still doing the big stories when they hit."

When Dykes launched the new look in May, TV-AM had a viewing audience of 200,000 compared with 2 million for the BBC. As the summer progressed, ratings for the TV-AM program climbed.

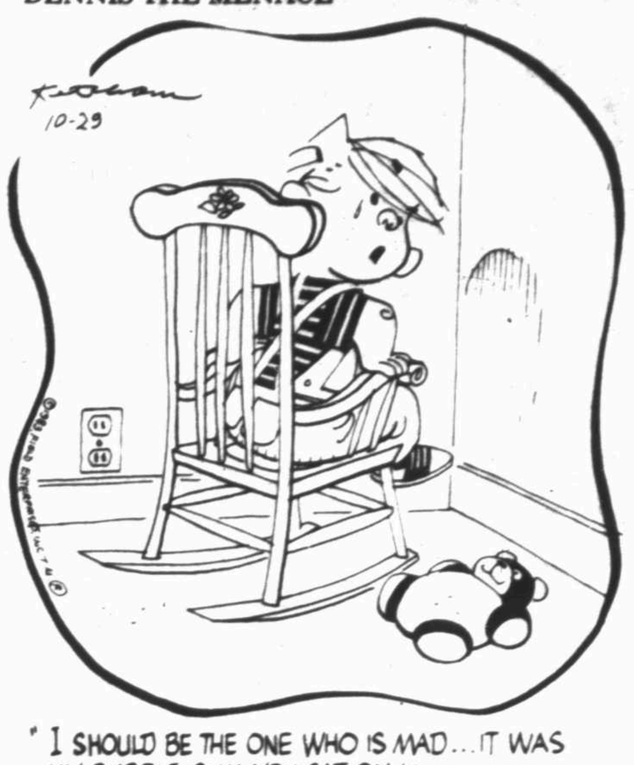

SEVERAL weeks ago, the Broadcasters' Audience Research Board said the average peak audience of "Good Morning Britain" was 1.7 million compared with 1.1 million for the BBC show.

A more recent survey, taken in mid-October, showed the BBC program back in front, with 1.4 million viewers to 1 million for the TV-AM program.

The BBC claimed that TV-AM's summertime success was due in part to scheduling the Roland Rat sequence at 9 a.m., as the BBC show ends.

"THIS MUST be the first time in history that a rat has come to the aid of a sinking ship," a BBC spokesman said at the time. "We're not making any panic moves to change the program in response to what we see as a temporary phenomenon during school holidays."

Search continues for missing U.S. oil drilling ship

PEKING (AP) — Chinese aircraft and boats searching for a missing U.S. oil drilling ship with 81 people aboard spotted a white lifeboat Friday and an object on the sea bottom that could be the wreck of the vessel, the Xinhua news agency said.

The official news agency said Chinese ships were sent to pick up the lifeboat, but it was not yet known whether anyone was in the boat or whether it belonged to the missing ship, the Glomar Java Sea.

The 5,926-ton ship and its crew of 42 Americans, 35 Chinese, two Singaporeans, an Australian and a Filipino has been missing since a typhoon struck Wednesday south of Hainan island, off China's southern coast and next to the Gulf of Tonkin.

The owner of the ship, Global Marine Drilling Co., in Houston, held out hope that the ship would be found. But an official for Arco China, Inc., which leased the ship, said "we are not optimistic."

Chinese ships were sent to take further measurements of an object on the sea bed near the site where the U.S. vessel had been drilling an exploratory well south of China's Hainan Island, Xinhua reported.

A Chinese helicopter spotted the lifeboat and a tugboat with depth measuring instruments discovered the object, about 300 feet long, 150 feet wide and 60 feet high, Xinhua said, adding there was no confirmation it was the ship.

In Houston, Richard Vermeer, a vice president of Global Marine Drilling, said the Glomar Java Sea was 400 feet long and 65 feet wide.He said a report that the ship sank "is unverified. We're certainly not in agreement with that report."

Vermeer said the ship was reported listing 15 degrees Wednesday and in the path of the typhoon, which packed winds up to 75 mph and churned up 26-foot waves. But he said the vessel was designed to withstand worse storms.

Xinhua said 14 Chinese naval and commercial ships and three helicopters searched the area, and the U.S. West Pacific Rescue Coordination Center in Okinawa said one American P-3 plane from Okinawa's Kadena Air Force Base and one from Subic Bay naval base in the Philippines joined the search. A helicopter from Arco also searching, according to the U.S. rescue center.

Two Vietnamese naval vessels joined the search Thursday at the request of China and the United States, Xinhua said.

A spokesman for the China National Offshore Oil Corp. said there was no basis for reports that the ship sank or ran aground near Vietnam.

At the U.S. rescue center, Air Force Lt. Col. Jack Gregory said there were "rumors" that the ship might have strayed to Vietnam's waters, about 150 miles west of its original position, but this was only one of several possibilities being considered.

Gregory said a U.S. P-3 from Kadena sighted two fenders, used to protect a ship's hull when it is moored, but there "was no confirmation they came from the Java Sea" and they were "not a basis for concluding" that the ship sank.

"We are not concluding anything," he said, adding they might have been abandoned by a ship to lighten its load in a storm.

Gregory said if "SOS" calls received by a Japanese freighter Thursday were accurate, the Glomar Java Sea had probably moved about 70 miles northwest of its original position, "closer to Vietnam, further away from Hainan island, but still in international waters."

About 5,000 Filipino women marched through the center of Manila Friday to protest the assassination of opposition leader Benigno Aquino two months ago and to demand political reforms and restoration of democracy.

Women march in protest of assassination

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — About 1,500 anti-government demonstrators planted a cross of burning candles at an intersection in the financial district Friday and 8,000 women marched past the U.S. Embassy.

At a church near the airport, 3,000 air force officers held a service in support of the government of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Some of the anti-government demonstrators — the opposition loyal to assassinated leader Benigno Aquino — released dozens of yellow and white balloons in the Makati financial district. Others poured confetti from upper story windows. Some of the buildings were adorned with banners demanding "Free All Political Prisoners," "Justice," and "Marcos Resign."

Aquino's widow led thousands of women in a march through the tourist district in another protest against 18 years of Marcos' rule. They loosed a cloud of yellow balloons in front of the U.S. Embassy compound as they passed.

Many opponents of Marcos accuse the United States of backing the government.

"Before, I had a quiet life," Corazon Aquino told a crowd of 8,000 massed at a grandstand. "Since August 21st my world has changed. Our world has changed. I realize that can no longer stay at home and that I have to forget my sorrow."

Aquino was assassinated at the airport Aug. 21 after returning from three years' voluntary exile in America. Protesters adopted the color yellow from an American song in which a man imprisoned for three years asked his sweetheart to remember him by tying a yellow ribbon around an oak tree.

At a church near the airport, some 3,000 Philippine air force officers, their wives and children said the Rosary during a service held in praise of the government. Many in the church wore T-shirts imprinted with Philippine flags and the words "I love you."

In another development, the mother of Roberto Galman, the accused assassin of Aquino, was at first told by air force officials she could have her son's body for burial before All Saints Day next Tuesday.

Then, word came that a new commission investigating Aquino's assassination didn't want to release the body of Galman, who was killed at the airport by soldiers guarding Aquino. The commission, appointed last week after the first commission resigned, has yet to hold public hearings.

"This is what it's like to be poor in this country," Saturnina Galman told The Associated Press in a telephone interview. "You can't even bury your dead, and there's no one you can turn to."

Mrs. Galman, released Thursday from two months' preventive detention, again denied the government's claim that her son murdered Aquino.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Cesar Virata told a news conference there was still discussion in the government of establishing a vice presidency even after Marcos announced he had "squelched" the idea. He has no named successor.

Virata said the idea of a vice presidential successor for Marcos continues to be discussed in government circles because "it is a new topic." A constitutional change to create the post has been proposed despite Marcos' objections.

Pope pays tribute to U.S. nuns in speech to bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II paid tribute to U.S. Roman Catholic nuns Friday, saying their contribution to education is worthy of "the greatest praise."

Pope John Paul

The pope, speaking in English to 23 U.S. bishops, said the achievement of Catholic education in the United States "merits our great respect and admiration."

He said "much self-sacrifice" by the nuns and efforts by parents, priests and others has furthered Catholic education in the United States. "Despite limitations and imperfections, Catholic education in America can, under God's grace, be credited to a high degree with forming the splendid Catholic laity in America," he added.

Refugee camp placed on curfew

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The army clamped a curfew Friday on a refugee camp near the occupied West Bank city of Nablus after stone-throwing protesters slightly wounded an Israeli soldier and damaged two military vehicles, the military command said.

It said a soldier suffered face injuries Thursday after Arab youths from the Askar Camp smashed a bus windshield as it passed the area along the main thoroughfare connecting Nablus with the Jordan River Valley.

Meanwhile the army maintained a curfew for a third day on the Jelazoun camp near Ramallah, after an Israeli woman suffered facial wounds Wednesday from the stoning of a bus in which she was traveling, the command said.

China, India talks resume

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — After a two-day break, India and China resumed border talks Friday as Tibetans continued to protest the discussions.

An Indian government spokesman said the talks were "cordial" but refused to give further details.

China has said it would give up its claim to land in the eastern part of the northeastern Indian state of Arunachal Pradesh if India recoginized Chinese rights in the occupied territory in the western sector, located in the Ladakh Region in north India. India rejected the offer, and asked that the border issue be discussed on a sector-by-sector basis and in "a mutually acceptable principle."

Another Soviet held by Swiss

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — A Soviet soldier captured by Afghan resistance fighters arrived in Switzerland Friday for temporary confinement, bringing to eight the number of Soviet war prisoners held in this neutral country, the government said.

Officials released no further information on the captive, who was handed over for internment near the central Swiss town of Zug under an accord between the all-Swiss International Committee of the Red Cross, Soviet authorities and the Afghan resistance.

The Swiss said they agreed to accept the prisoners as a "humanitarian gesture" in keeping with Swiss neutrality.

Chinese film features 'Big Bird'

PEKING (AP) — Videotapes of the Chinese version of the Emmy-winning children's TV program "Big Bird In China" were presented Friday to the U.S. Embassy in Peking by China's Central Television Station.

The Chinese network co-produced the 75-minute show with the Children's Television Workshop, makers of "Sesame Street."

Winner of this year's Emmy from the U.S. Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for the best children's program, the program featured Big Bird befriending Chinese children and featured Americans Carroll Edwin Spinney And Brian Muehl.

Angry commuters set fire to train, station because train late

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — About 5,000 angry commuters set fire to a train and a station and pelted police and firemen with stones Friday because the train was two hours late, police said.

"They completely destroyed the station by first hurling rocks and then setting it on fire," a military police officer said in a telephone interview. He said seven coaches also were destroyed.

Riot police used clubs and teargas to disperse the crowd, and five policemen and several dozen demonstrators were injured, said the officer who asked not to be identified. He said there were several arrests but did not say how many.

The incident took place Friday morning in Jaragua, a working-class neighborhood. Many poor Brazilians depend on the cheap train service to commute from the outskirts to jobs downtown. No explanation was given for the delay of the train.

Jackson to announce Nov.3 if he will seek nomination

Jesse Jackson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson will announce whether he intends to seek the Democratic presidential nomination on Nov. 3 at the convention center in the nation's capital, aides said Friday.

Jackson's informal organization is concluding meetings this weekend which will determine his decision. Advisers participating in those meetings have said they believe he will join the crowded field of Democratic candidates.

Jackson, 42, took a leave of absence from his civil rights and economic development organization, Operation PUSH, to consider a presidential bid. He has assembled the nucleus of a campaign staff, identified fundraising advisers and potential campaign chairmen, begun collecting small donations and made arrangements for large-scale fundraising.

Indictments filed in bank failure

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A 72-count federal indictment charging conspiracy, misapplication of bank funds, falsifying bank records and mail fraud has been filed against six business people in the collapse of the Pacific Coast Bank of San Diego.

The indictment, issued Thursday, said the defendants — three of them officers of the bank — diverted about $4 million for their personal use by approving loans to themselves. The defendants are board Chairman Stephen Forde; bank President Edward Hart; Jon Schroeder, a board member; Carol G. Unruh, a lawyer, William L. Fowler, a loan broker and Robert Hopper, a businessman.

When regulatory officials shut down the bank in April 1982, the institution had $10 million in deposits and $7.5 million in loans.

Activists to remain imprisoned

NEW YORK (AP) — Three anti-Castro activists imprisoned for the past year for refusing to testify before a federal grand jury investigating the Omega 7 terrorist group have been ordered to stay behind bars.

U.S. District Judge Robert L. Carter on Thursday rejected arguments that the activists never will testify because they fear information about anti-Castro activity would reach the Cuban government, which they say would take reprisals against friends and relatives.

Those imprisoned — Pedro Remon, 38, of Miami, and Andres Garcia, 43, and Alberto Perez, 27, of Elizabeth, N.J. — are suspects in the transportation of explosives used in an unsuccessful attempt to kill Cuba's U.N. ambassador in March 1980, federal agents say.

Ex-city official avoids sentence

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Former Imperial Beach city treasurer George Ramos, who pleaded no contest to six counts of misusing public funds, has avoided a prison sentence because of poor health.

Ramos, 59, who resigned in January because of a bad heart, was sentenced Thursday to serve 300 hours of community service and pay back $2,000 taken from parking meters, $1,200 in unearned sick time that he had taken, plus $1,500 in fines.

Ramos had been charged with grand theft, neglecting to pay over public funds, and three counts of misappropriation of public funds. Those charges were dropped in a plea bargain.

Army troops fighting in Grenada wearing new fiberglass helmets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army troops fighting in Grenada are wearing a new Fiberglass-like helmet designed to give soldiers greater protection then the steel pots worn by American fighting men since World War II.

Marines are wearing the old style helmet because the corps has not yet started issuing the new headgear.

The Army has only equipped a limited number of units, including paratroopers, with the first 30,000 helmets.

Plans call for equipping the entire Army of about 775,000 this fiscal year with the new headgear. It will take about five years to complete the change over in the Army.

Marine officials said they do not yet know when distribution of the helmets will begin to the leathernecks. There are more than 192,000 Marines.

The new helmet, which looks somewhat like the headgear worn by German soldiers in World War II, was developed by Army research specialists. They claim it provides about one-third more protection than the steel helmet used for more than 40 years.

Cooper stuns Rebels; Bulldogs lose, 27-3

Long pass upsets Lee

By BOB BRUNDAGE
Sports Writer

ABILENE— An 84-yard Allen Gunter touchdwon pass from quarterback Doug Hadley late in the fourth quarter combined with a missed Craig Kamradt 28-yard field goal attempt gave the Abilene Cooper Cougars the biggest upset of the year Friday night as they toppled the District 4-5A leading Midland Lee Rebels 23-21 at P.E. Shotwell Stadium.

Three plays after Lee quarterback Jeff Motley scored on a one-yard keeper for a 21-17 Rebel lead, Cooper's Hadley dropped back and lobbed a screen pass right to Gunter, who turned it upfield and went the 84 yards untouched to put Lee in a 23-21 hole with 4:22 remaining. Cooper opted for the two-point conversion following the touchdown but Hadley's pass fell incomplete, setting up Lee's last-gasp drive.

Rebel fullback Isaac Garnett, who was nearly unstoppable throughout the night, was called upon heavily in that final drive. He picked up 56 of Lee's 61 yards on the strength of runs of 13, 16 and 14 yards with the 14-yarder putting the ball on the Cooper 17. On the next play the Rebels were called for illegal procedure and were pushed back to the 22. The penalty was enough to stop the touchdown drive, so Lee coach Spike Dykes decided to go for three from the ten yard line.

Kamradt, who had missed a 44-yard attempt in the third quarter, was lined up on the left hashmark and his kick went straight, returning the ball to the Cougars with only 1:20 left in the game. All the Bobcats had to do was run out the clock. The Cougars did and it was the biggest upset in the district this year.

"I think Cooper played better than we did," said Dykes. "I thought they did a hack of a job. Dick (Winder, Cooper's coach) had them ready to play. I don't know what this does for our playoff chances but right now I'm more concerned about our next game. We have to play that other game (against Midland High) and see what happens."

Because of Odessa High's comeback victory over San Angelo Friday night, Lee's playoff chances are still good. Both the Bronchos and Rebels are tied at 4-2 and if that standing holds true for the rest of the season then Lee would gain the playoff berth by virtue of its victory over Odessa at the start of the season.

GUNTER AND Hadley were nearly the only offensive tools Cooper had to work with. On 24 carries the Cougars' 215-pound tailback picked up 145 yards and caught two passes for 89 more. Hadley was 9 of 18 on the night for 167 yards and touchdown passes. He ran for another.

Garnett, who gave the Rebels their chance at victory at the end, chewed up yardage against the Cougar defense nearly at will, rushing for 242 yards on 39 carries.

Cooper got a good break early in the game when Billy Gibbs fumbled the ball on the Cougar nine yard line. Instead of a possible 7-0 Lee lead, the Cougars made it 3-0 when they marched 80 yards to the Lee 11 and Scott Anderson kicked a 27-yard field goal.

The Rebels came storming back in the fourth quarter for two touchdowns, the first on a five-yard run by Tyrone Thurman and the second on a two-yard plunge by Garnett. Kamradt kicked both extra points to give Lee a 14-3 halftime lead.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Cougars came away with their second big break of the game when a Motley pitch missed its mark and Cooper recovered on the Lee 26. Cooper receiver Allan Colyer cut the score to 14-11 on a six-yard pass from Hadley.

Hadley gave Cooper its second lead of the game on a seven-yard run at the start of the fourth quarter. The Rebels deflected the extra point kick and trailed 17-14 with 11:54 remaining. That set up the dramatic finish that gave Cooper only its second win against four losses in the 4-5A season.

Eagles bomb MHS

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

The Midland High Bulldogs would like to start the third quarter all over again and go from there after Friday night's 27-3 loss to Abilene High at Memorial Stadium.

The Bulldogs, trailing by a mere 7-3 score at the half, found themselves quickly in trouble before the third quarter could get started good. The Eagles' Guy Sims broke for 70 yards on the first play of the third period, held MHS on downs and then Daniel Brewer returned the Bulldog punt 73 yards to the MHS three. Sherrill Sanchez scored from one-yard out three plays later for a 21-3 advantage and the Bulldogs had had it.

"The punt return by Brewer was the big play of the game. I think that put Midland High in trouble," said Abilene coach Don Cumpton. "However, this was our best offensive effort of the year because we didn't make the critical mistakes that have been killing us this year."

MHS BOSS Pat Culpepper thought the 70-yard TD run by Sims was the straw that broke the backs of his Bulldogs. "I really thought we were in good shape at the half and then that long run by Sims ripped us. Everything just seemed to fall apart after that.

"I really don't think the score is indication of how close this game was, but we are fighting an uphill battle without our quarterback (James Welborn). Jeff Alsup did some good things, but we really need James and we will have him next week against Lee.

The Bulldogs will have to defeat Lee next week in order to break even for the season. MHS is now 4-5 on the year and 2-4 in district play. The loss eliminated the Bulldogs from the title chase. Abilene High is 4-5 on the year, but 3-3 in district play.

"Our kids continue to play hard and I'm proud of them. They aren't quitters and gave us what they had, but it wasn't enough tonight," said Culpepper.

CUMPTON SAID, "I think they miss that No. 14 (Welborn). But that No. 14 (Allen Foret) is a great player. You close your eyes every time he touches the ball.

Abilene marched 71 yards in 11 plays the first time they got the ball for a 7-0 first quarter lead. Sims got the final 21 yards on a great run. MHS, however, bounced right back, driving from their own 10 to the Abilene 21 where Richard Fry kiced a beautiful 38-yard field goal.

That's the way the half ended, but the third quarter sprints of Sims and Brewer were just around the corner.

Sims had a great night for the Eagles, rushing for 179 yards on 24 carries for two touchdowns.

Midland High produced only 109 yards rushing as I-back Randall Collins was held to 69 yards on 20 carries. Collins had been over 100 yards in the previous four outings.

Quarterback Jeff Aisup completed five of 15 passes for 79 yards, all to Foret, but also had two interceptions. The Bulldogs also used Kenny White at quarterback and he rushed for 26 yards on five carries, but he also fired an interception in three attempts.

THE BULLDOG defense is still giving up the big plays and that hurts. Still, the defense comes up with some big plays. Abilene quarterback Mickey Russell was able to complete only two of five passes for 25 yards, but one was a six-yard strike to Mark Stevens for the final TD with 0:56 left in the game.

The Bulldogs would have still been in the 4-5A race with a victory since Midland Lee lost to Abilene Cooper Friday night. But that incentive is gone. Now the cry will be to keep the city championship at Midland High for the second year in a row.

Rangers clinch District 7-A

By BRUCE CASTLEBERRY
Sports Writer

GREENWOOD— When Greenwood's football team had just lost to top-rated Wink seven weeks ago by a 26-6 count, the Rangers dropped to 0-2.

Still, coach Joe Longley wasn't worried. He felt all along that his team could enter district 7-A play with an 0-3 showing.

Last night, Longley watched his team come full scale, stomping past Eden 35-12 for its' seventh straight win and capturing the district title.

"It feels great," said Longley. "In as balanced a district as we've got, I could see us with a loss or two."

For once, Longley was wrong. Of course, there's still the formality of wrapping up the regular season against Garden City. But if a young bull named Roger Smith shows up, Greenwood should roll to win number eight.

Against Eden, Smith bashed his way for 188 yards on 25 carries and scored three touchdowns. The biggest came moments after Eden had scored their first touchdown to make the score 7-6. Smith took the kickoff at the Greenwood 11 and went all the way. The 89-yard return gave Greenwood a lead they never relinquished, and a district crown.

Chad Longley, a sophomore quarterback and the son of the coach, got Greenwood's awesome ground game rolling early. Longley mustered a game-opening touchdown drive that set the pace for the Ranger victory.

Greenwood took the game's first kick and went 65 yards in 12 plays for the points. Longley was the main thrust of the drive, rushing for 33 yards on three carries and scoring the TD on a seven-yard jaunt. Longley also hit one of his two completions on the drive, an 11-yarder to Todd Foris.

As for the Ranger attack, it was an infantry assault. Greenwood gained 298 yards on the ground on 50 totes. That's almost six yards a pop.

After Greenwood scored, the Bulldogs scurried back downfield. Greenwood had a hand in the points, as the Eden drive started with a 29-yard pass interference penalty against the Rangers. From the Ranger 41, halfback Ray Torres lead a drive, getting the TD on a 15-yard run around left end. Torres, who had 99 yards on the night and provided the Eden output, had four carries for 34 yards in the series.

After Fermin Villarreal missed the extra point, Smith stole the show with his kick return. He went straight up the middle, breaking into the clear around midfield and scoring down the left sideline.

"I told the coach before the game I'd run one back," said Smith. "I feel great. There's a great bunch of guys here."

Smith may be the greatest. The junior came to Greenwood last summer from Ballinger, and his total yardage for the year is 1,281 rushing.

"I wanted to get 1,300 before the year started," Smith said. Apparently, he'll have that goal.

"He's an integral part of our team and a tough kid," coach Longley said of his meal ticket. "But, credit our offensive line."

That offensive line helped pave the way for Smith, Greenwood's first 1,000 yard back, and the Rangers ground game.

Against Eden, Todd Foris also had some statistics to throw at the Bulldogs. Foris netted 52 yards in 10 carries, and was playing on a sore knee.

Longley added 57 on 13 carries, and got his second score on a 1-yard keeper to put Greenwood up 21-6. But Torres steamed Eden back down the field, and capped a 38-yard drive with a 29-yard scoring run.

On the first Ranger possession in the second half, set up by a Danny Hernandez fumble, Smith scored.

Greenwood next got the ball with 3:17 left in the third quarter, and then iced the game.

The Rangers ate up nearly seven and a half minutes, going 84 yards for the clinching TD. Greenwood did it all on the ground, and had 30 yards on two big runs called back by penalties.

Tech's Jekyll-Hyde existence imperiled today

The strange Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde season of Texas Tech may come to its conclusion today in Austin when Texas challenges the Red Raiders for its Southwest Conference lead. The Longhorns are expected to put the Raiders out of their misery or ecstasy, whichever the case may be.

In case you haven't been paying attention, Texas Tech is 3-0 in SWC play and since it got to 3-0 before Texas, which shares first, the Raiders enjoy squatters' rights to first. The Raiders are not only 0-3 in non-conference games, but a horrible 0-3.

It hasn't been quite the kind of season Coach Jerry Moore or the Raider faithful envisioned. The loss to Air Force in the season's opener really wasn't that much of a shock. The Falcons have a top quarterback in Marty Louthan and were bowl material last year.

New Mexico and Tulsa were something else. Both were expected to be good, but not quite the 10-1 each possessed a year ago. These are teams the Raiders usually beat, not without difficulties, but normally the games can be counted in the won column.

New Mexico not only beat Tech, but decisively. The Tulsa game was a rout.

Tech turned in impressive SWC wins over Baylor and Texas A&M, struggled to beat lowly Rice, so it has been four weeks since the Raiders have turned in a creditable performance.

It's no surprise that going into today's game with Texas the Raiders are 30½ point underdogs.

The SWC...

Texas minus 30½ over Texas Tech—That's a terrible number of points to give, but if Tulsa could do it, the Longhorns should be able to.

Texas A&M plus 7 over SMU—That loss to Texas may not be as easy to get over as most think.

Houston minus 1½ over TCU—How do you figure these teams? Houston on past reputation.

Arkansas minus 26 over Rice—It's at Arkansas. Still, that's too many points.

Tulane plus 9½ over Baylor—Green Wave without quarterback, but again, those points...

The others...

Maryland plus 3½ over North Carolina—Heels may be the better team, but they can't be very well prepared for this game. They haven't played anybody.

Arizona State minus 2½ over Florida State—Sun Devils rebound from loss.

Florida plus 2½ over Auburn—I'd take 2½ and either team.

Indiana plus 23 over Iowa—Hawkeyes may not be all that sharp after Michigan game.

West Virginia plus 7 over Miami—Hurricane should win, but Mountaineers will make it close.

Michigan (pick 'em) over Illinois—It's just hard to accept Illini as a legitimate Big 10 contender, which they obviously are. Still, old habits die hard.

Penn State minus 2½ over Boston College—Hey, this is a great place for an upset if Flutie is hot and Lions, just off WVU win, are not.

Last week: Won 15, Lost 3, Tied 1.

Generals give Fairbanks ax

From wire reports

FOOTBALL—Rice coach Ray Alborn says he's "very interested" in the possibility of joining San Antonio's USFL club when he quits his job at the end of the season...

Chuck Fairbanks will not be retained as coach or in any administrative position with the New Jersey Generals, team owner Donald J. Trump Jr. announced. Fairbanks, president and head coach of the Generals when the team finished 6-12 during the inaugural season of the USFL, will serve as consultant for the team during the ownership transition period in preparation for the 1984 season. "I appreciate all that Chuck has done for us during the transition period and I believe this is the best for all parties concerned," Trump said...

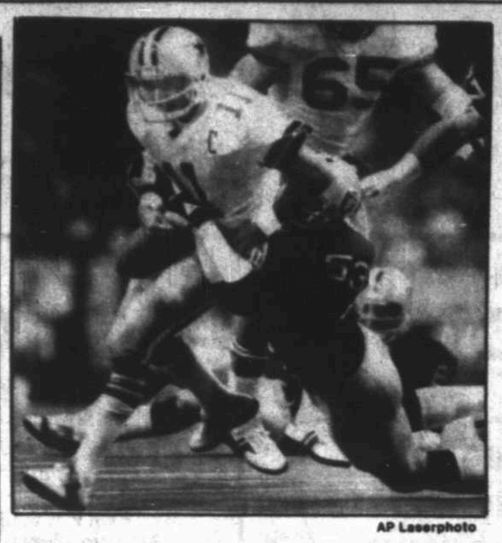

BASEBALL—Atlanta's Braves are interested in signing Pete Rose, 42, according to Braves veep Al Thornwell...

Wolverines test Illini defense

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Eighth-ranked Michigan will find out Saturday if the best ground attack in the Big Ten is enough to puncture the awesome defense of Illinois, as the teams battle for the conference lead and a possible Rose Bowl bid.

Michigan quarterback Steve Smith will take his option offense, averaging 322 rushing yards a game, against the Illini's "orange and blue wrecking crew" - the best defense the Wolverines will face in the Big Ten.

"There's no question Smith's the key player in this game," said Illinois defensive tackle Don Thorp. "He's not a very good passer but he's a runner — a real good one. We have to stop him."

Illinois also has to worry about running back Rick Rogers, who leads the Big Ten with 675 yards and nine touchdowns.

The Illinois defense, which has given up just 97 yards a game on the ground, got a boost this week when tackle Mark Butkus returned from a knee injury and was declared fit to join Thorp for the Michigan game.

"They're vital because we play a prototype defense and we ask them to handle an area that some teams give to a noseguard and two linebackers," said Illinois Coach Mike White.

Thorp and Butkus lead the Illini with 16 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, including 10 quarterback sacks.

A key to Illinois' success this season is the addition of an effective running game to its traditionally strong passing attack and strong defense. While quarterback Jack Trudeau has thrown for 1,436 yards, Dwight Beverly leads Illinois with 554 yards on the ground, and Thomas Rooks has gained 465.

"Now they can run and pass," said Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler. "That scares me."

But, Illinois' ground game will have to go against the only rushing defense in the Big Ten better than its own.

"They've got 11 guys who can hit you from any angle at any time," said White. "Michigan can control the ball and has the tools to keep the pressure on you."

With each team 5-0 in conference play, the significance of this game is clear.

"This is a big one," said Schembechler. "The team that wins certainly will have the inside track on the Rose Bowl."

Stars call up Jim Craig

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The Minnesota North Stars have called up goalie Jim Craig and defenseman Craig Levie from their Salt Lake City farm club of the Central Hockey League.

A spokesman for the National Hockey League team said Craig had been with Salt Lake since the start of the season.

Bronchos win

Beat Cats with 8 seconds left

ODESSA — Quarterback Albert Cruz hit Kirk Woodfin for a 33-yard touchdown with eight seconds left in the game here Friday night to give the Odessa High Bronchos a big 28-23 District 4-5A victory over San Angelo.

The big play gives OHS a 4-2 district mark and tied with Midland Lee for second place in 4-5A. San Angelo falls to 3-3.

San Angelo had taken a 23-21 lead in the fourth period on a 30-yard field goal by Richard McKnight.

Charles Hunter led the Bronchos with 210 yards on 23 carries, marking the fourth time this year he has busted the 200-yard barrier. Derrick Campbell had 140 yards on 27 carries for San Angelo.

Red Devils stave off Sanderson

RANKIN—Rankin's Red Devils survived a last-gasp scare to defeat Sanderson, 14-12, Friday night, raising their record to 2-6 for the season. Sanderson is 4-3 and had a chance to tie after scoring with seven seconds in the game only to have a two-point conversion run fail.

Rankin jumped in front six seconds before half when Eddie Templeton scored from the one and then kicked the point.

Sanderson retaliated with 8:04 left in the third quarter on a 12-yard run around right end by Nito Calzada.

Rankin's decisive score came when Doug Doegy went in from the one with 9:20 left in the game and Templeton kicked the point to make it 14-6.

Both Red Devil TDs were set up by pass interference penalties that put the ball on the one.

Charles Freeman led Rankin with 86 yards rushing in 23 carries. Ken Turk gained 96 yards for Sanderson, which is 3-2 in District 6-A. Rankin is 2-3 in conference.

The Devils travel next week to play powerhouse Wink.

Horns, Raiders 3-0 in SWC

By Associated Press

The split-personality Texas Tech Red Raiders, who play hard against their Southwest Conference bretheren but barely show up for non-conference games, tackle No. 2 ranked Texas Saturday for the Southwest Conference leadership.

The Longhorns are 30-point favorites in the 1 p.m. Memorial Stadium meeting of teams with identical 3-0 SWC records.

Texas has an overall 6-0 record and has defeated Auburn, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Southern Methodist on the road. Its defense ranks No. 1 in the country.

Tech is 3-3 with SWC victories over Baylor, Texas A&M and Rice. The Red Raiders are 0-3 in non-conference games, including a 59-20 loss to Tulsa last Saturday.

THE RED RAIDERS yielded a school record eight touchdowns in that one.

Texas Coach Fred Akers said."It's been a grueling three weeks on the road and we're happy to be home. All we've done is just put ourselves in a position to grab first place. It seems like we've already played a season, yet we look up and Tech is tied with us.

"It will be settled one way or the other this weekend."

In other games Saturday, No. 10 ranked Southern Methodist is a seven point favorite to defeat the Texas Aggies, fumble-prone Houston is a two-point pick at Texas Christian, Baylor is a 10-point favorite over Tulane at Baylor Stadium,, and Rice is a 26-point underdog at Arkansas.

"We can't afford to go into the game feeling sorry for ourselves because we are 3-0 in the conference and there's a bunch of teams that can't say that," Texas Tech Coach Jerry Moore said.

"Texas is just loaded. Even though they rank No. 2, they aren't getting the credit they deserve."

Tech's only SWC win against Texas in Austin was in 1967 when the Raiders prevailed 19-13.

THE TEXAS Aggies were blasted 47-9 by SMU last year, the biggest loss ever to the Mustangs.

SMU is 5-1 overall and 2-1 in SWC play while the Aggies are 3-3-1 and 2-1-1.

The Aggies lead the all-time series 32-27-6 but SMU has won three straight.

Aggie Coach Jackie Sherrill says of the Mustangs: "They are great, there's no doubt about that. We'll have to play awfully well to beat them."

SMU will be finding out how it bounces back from defeat under Collins. The Mustangs hadn't lost under him until last week 15-12 to Texas.

"It will be a game where the team that really wants it will get it," Collins said. "The Aggies are going to be tough. They seemed to have gained momnetum and they are now winning football games."

Houston will be trying to halt a four-game losing streak at TCU, longest since the Cougars entered the SWC in 1976.

Ho, Michigan has company

By Associated Press

Sure enough, here's Michigan in its accustomed position at the top of the Big Ten standings. And, as usual, the Wolverines have company, but it's a relatively new kid on the block.

The party of the second part is not Ohio State, Michigan's traditional season-ending foe. Rather, it's the Fighting Illini of Illinois who have invaded a territory alien to most Big Ten teams. Michigan and Ohio State have won or shared the title every year since 1967 and only six times in that stretch has someone else trespassed into the 1-2 positions. Illinois hasn't finished that high since 1963.

But when eighth-ranked Michigan visits No. 9 Illinois on Saturday, they will have identical 5-0 Big Ten records, 6-1 over-all.

"We went through the first seven games of the season looking forward to this stretch run realizing that if we played well and improved, we'd have the opportunity," says Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler. "We figured all the while it was going to be a four-team race, and that's the way it's turned out. Now, it's time to see who it's going to be."

Fourth-ranked Auburn entertains No. 5 Florida, with the winner moving into a first-place Southeastern Conference tie with No. 6 Georgia, which hosts Temple in a non-league encounter; third-ranked North Carolina visits No. 13 Maryland in an Atlantic Coast Conference showdown and No. 12 West Virginia is at seventh-ranked Miami of Florida, with the loser probably dropping out of the New Year's Day bowl picture.

Top-rated Nebraska is at Kansas State, runner-up Texas entertains Texas Tech and No. 10 Southern Methodist visits Texas A&M.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 Washington is at UCLA in a game that could decide the host team in the Rose Bowl, Kansas is at No. 14 Oklahoma, Utah State at No. 15 Brigham Young, Wisconsin at No. 16 Ohio State, Indiana at No. 17 Iowa, Mississippi State at No. 18 Alabama, Penn State at No. 19 (tie) Boston College and Navy at No. 19 (tie) Notre Dame.

Auburn has been talking championship — national and otherwise — since last spring. Florida would happily settle for the SEC crown, which it has never won. And Auburn's Pat Dye could be speaking for Charley Pell, his Florida counterpart, when he says, "It's a game in which if we hope to control our own destiny, we have to win it. It's just what everybody says it is — it's a big one."

WASHINGTON leads the Pac-10 with a 3-0 mark, but UCLA is right behind at 3-0-1 and the Bruins have won three in a row since an 0-3-1 start. Their losses, however, were to Nebraska, Georgia and BYU, which have a combined record of 20-1-1.

Rogers paces Chiefs, 28-14

ANDREWS—Lakeview's Chiefs delivered a 21-point first period solar plexus blow on the way to a 28-14 District 4-4A victory over the Andrews Mustangs Friday night.

John Rogers led the Chiefs with touchdown runs of 17, six and two yards.

Rogers' scored twice in the first period to make it 14-0 and then Scotty Frasier passed 13 yards to Tim Allen for another score.

Jiff Tidwell went 45 yards for an Andrews score in the second period before Rogers again scored, this one set up by a 25-yard Frasier to Andrews pass.

The win makes Lakeview 7-1 for the season and 4-1 in district. Andrews is 4-3-1 and 1-3-1.

Pistons defeat Celtics

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Isiah Thomas canned an 18-foot jump shot with 47 seconds remaining to give Detroit the lead for good as the Pistons defeated the Boston Celtics 127-121 Friday night in the NBA opener.

Thomas, who finished with 16 points, added a steal and two free throws in the closing moments as Detroit outscored Boston 9-2 in the closing minute. He had opened the fourth quarter by scoring the Pistons' first eight points, staking Detroit to a 104-99 lead.

Crane battles to 14-14 tie

BALLINGER—Crane struck for two third period touchdowns and then converted a two-point PAT try to tie Ballinger, 14-14, in a District 6-AAA showdown of unbeaten teams.

The tying touchdown came when Jim Vasquez passed 38 yards to brother Joe and then Bobby Ryan took a conversion pass from Todd Rodgers.

Ballinger jumped in front with a first period score on a 16-yard pass to Stephen Medrano from Aaron Keesee. Keesee then fired nine yards to Kirk Francis for a second period score.

Crane is now 8-0-1 and 3-0-1 while Ballinger is 8-0-1 and 3-0-1.

Carson set for Dallas

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — New York Giants inside linebacker Harry Carson, who hasn't played since he sustained a knee injury six weeks ago against the Dallas Cowboys, was expected to be ready for Sunday's National Football League game against the Cowboys.

"He's coming along," Giants Coach Bill Parcells said Friday.

Parcells indicated he was likely to activate Carson off the injured reserve roster Saturday.

The Giants already have used two of the three moves the league allows to activate players off the injured reserve roster when they brought back kick returner Leon Bright and wide receiver Floyd Eddings.

Carson, who has missed five games, began practicing at mid-week. The eight-year veteran suffered an injury to his left knee that required arthroscopic surgery after the Giants' 28-13 loss to the Cowboys Sept. 18.

Parcells also said Sunday's game at Giants Stadium may mark the return to action of cornerback Terry Jackson, who has missed four games with a sprained knee.

The Cowboys, 7-1, had a seven-game winning streak snapped last week in a 40-38 loss to the Los Angeles Raiders. The Giants, 2-5-1, tied St. Louis 20-20 in overtime last Monday night, their fourth straight game without a victory.

The loss of Carson had a dramatic impact on the defense. Parcells made what he considered the right move when he switched two-time NFL Defensive Player of the Year Lawrence Taylor from outside to inside linebacker to fill the gap left by Carson's absence.

But the move reduced the firepower of Taylor, the Giants' most devastating defensive weapon.

Since he was a rookie in 1981, Taylor has been one of the league's most feared blitzing linebackers, but the switch inside has limited his role as a pass rusher. Taylor had to concentrate more heavily on running plays and over the past few weeks has indicated he's anxious for Carson's return so he can once again terrorize quarterbacks from the outside.

Midland Christian victorious

SILVERTON— The Midland Christian Mustangs capped their season with a 45-32 win over the Silverton Owls and ended their year with a 3-6 mark in six-man football.

Silverton got on the board first in the first quarter when Cal Brannon hit Warren Jarrett on a 20-yard pass.

MC got even when Johnny Belcher hit Mark Carnes for a 13-yard score. Silverton's Russell Simpson ended the first quarter scoring by connecting with a 35-yard pass to Jarrett.

Belcher scored for MC on an eight-yard run to make it 13-12. MC got two other scores in the quarter, a 14-yard pass from Cranes to Don Morris and a Byron Myers pass to Belcher.

Belcher suffered a knee injury in the fourth quarter and was taken to the Plainview Hospital.

Belcher scored another TD in the third quarter on a 2-yard run, and MC rounded out their scoring with a 33 yard pass from Myers to Carnes.

Dickey hints at K-State surprise for Huskers

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State Coach Jim Dickey hinted that he may have "a few new wrinkles" for Nebraska Saturday when the top-ranked and unbeaten Huskers meet the Wildcats in a Big Eight football game.

But no matter what trickery Dickey has in mind, all the numbers point to a Nebraska rout.

To begin with, more than 20,000 Nebraska fans will be in the stadium, possibly as many red-clad Husker rooters as K-State followers. And the Nebraska rooters probably will not see their team's winning streak put in jeopardy.

Led by quarterback Turner Gill, wingback Irving Fryar, running back Mike Rozier and a huge offensive line, the Huskers have held firmly to the No. 1 ranking all season. Nebraska will be looking for its ninth consecutive victory this season and its fourth straight Big Eight triumph.

K-State, meanwhile, finds itself on the opposite side of the picture. Last week against Colorado the high-powered Nebraska offense scored 48 points in the third quarter alone. That's more points than K-State has managed in its last four games. Since beating Wyoming 27-25, K-State has lost to Oklahoma 29-10, to Kansas 31-3, and to Missouri 38-0.

The season especially is disappointing to K-State after last year's sprinkling of success. The 1982 Wildcats became the first K-State team ever to play in a bowl game and long-suffering fans were hoping a new era had dawned.

"We've been playing hard, it's just right now we're not a very good football team," said Dickey. "We've got a few guys who can play in this league, but it's becoming evident that we have a few who can't. We're just not playing with any confidence right now.

Dickey says the Wildcats' troubles can be traced back to the season-opening loss to Long Beach State.

Permian smothers Steers

BIG SPRING — Odessa Permian took over sole possession of first place in the District 4-5A football race here Friday night with a 51-13 bombing of the Big Spring Steers.

Permian is now 5-1 in league play and 8-1 on the year. Big Spring fell to 3-7 and 1-5.

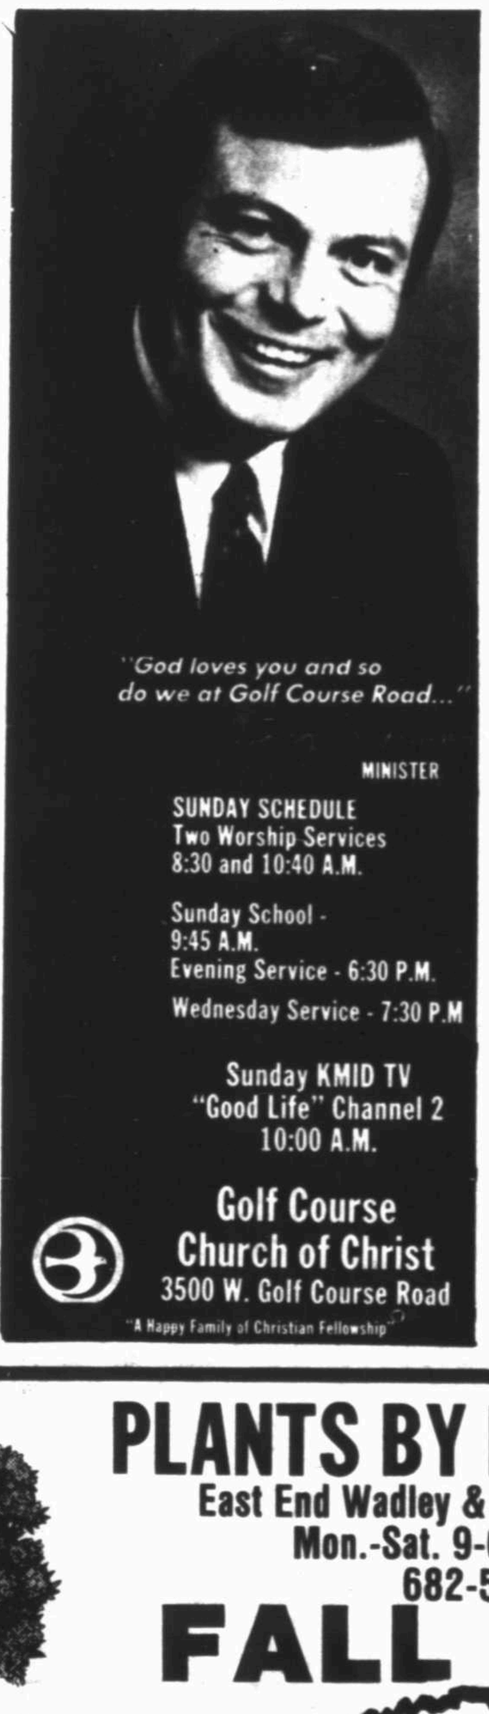

Marcus Hudgins and Dal Watson each scored two touchdowns for the Panthers, who can win their fourth straight title with a victory over Odessa High next week-end. Permian moved to the top of the standings by virtue of Midland Lee's loss to Abilene Cooper Friday.

Meet the Chaps Night Tuesday

Midland College will hold its Meet the Chaps Night 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Al Langford Center. The public is invited to the second annual event.

MC Athletic Director Delnor Poss also advised that season tickets for the 13-game Chaparral home basketball schedule are now on sale at the Chaparral Center office. Tickets are $40 for the season. General admission and reserve seats per game are $4.

Reserve sections are H-J-K on the team, bench, side of the center.

The one-hour mixer, in which the basketball, golf and tennis teams will be introduced to the fans, will be followed by an intra-squad scrimmage.

MHS girls second

PLAINVIEW—Midland High's girls golf team took second place in the Plainview Invitational Golf Tournament Friday at Plainview Country Club as 10 teams competed in the annual fall event.

Amarillo shot a 378 for first. Midland was second four strokes back and Plainview was third with a 416.

Medalist was Snyder's Lisa Franklin, 81, while Midland's Stacy Owens was runnerup with an 85. Borger's Audra Parker was third at 87.

Midland scores included Darla Smith, 95; Kristie Raney, 99; Pam Emerson, 103, Lee Ann Crowder, 117. Sheilli Childers, a sophomore playing as an individual, shot a 107.

TV for fight

The Roberto Duran-Marvin Hagler middleweight title fight on Nov. 10 will be on closed circuit television at two locations in the Midland-Odessa area, the Midland Civic Center and Odessa's Pan American Ballroom. The $25 tickets are available at the Civic Center, Endless Horizons in Midland and Odessa and at the Record Bar in Odessa. Duran, aiming to become the first man to accumulate four world titles, is currently the junior middleweight champion, a title he won after knocking out Davey Moore in the eighth round on June 16. He has previously held the lightweight and welterweight titles. In a professional career that spans 16 years, Duran has compiled a 76-4 record.

Scientists discover that some flies in U.S. eat toads, not vice versa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everyone knows that toads eat flies. But scientists mucking around a small Arizona pond find that some flies reverse the scenerio by eating toads first.

Scientists at Cornell University say they've found the first evidence of a reversal in the usual toad-eats-fly pattern.

Larvae of large horseflies found in the mud of an Arizona pond set a unique trap for passing toads and manage to get some of the toads who would have later gotten them, according to a report published Friday in Science magazine.

Religion and the Family

You'll find in the Sixty-eighth Psalm a remarkable statement: He setteth the solitary in families. The Bible is saying that the family as a social institution was designed by God.

Obviously for a purpose: His purpose! The family has long been the center for sharing and strengthening religious insights and convictions. The effectiveness of the Church in teaching and inspiring souls is generally dependent on the support and encouragement of the home.

But the ancient text says something more! It says God is concerned about those who are alone! He wants them to discover that we are all part of HIS FAMILY. The Church can be instrumental in helping the lonely find life rich in warmth and caring.

Whether next Sabbath you'll be with the family—or alone—God is expecting you!

Baptist delegates to consider proposed $53.7 million budget

AMARILLO — Messengers to the annual Baptist General Convention of Texas, being held Tuesday-Thursday in Amarillo, will consider a proposed $53.7 million budget for missions and transact business concerning 23 institutions and agencies.

Also, messengers from many of the 4,500 Texas Baptist churches and missions will elect a new president to succeed the Rev. D.L. Lowrie, pastor of First Baptist Church, Lubbock. Lowrie has served the maximum two one-year terms.

The Rev. Paul Powell, pastor of Green Acres Baptist Church, Tyler, will deliver the annual convention sermon.

Preceding the convention will be the annual meetings of the Woman's Missionary Union and Texas Baptist Men, auxiliary missions organizations to the BGCT.

Congregation to honor pastor

The congregation of South Memorial Baptist Church will honor its pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. J.W. Stovall, Sunday during the 10:45 a.m. service. The occasion is Stovall's 31st anniversary of service to the church.

Stovall came to Midland from Notrees Oct. 30, 1952. Mrs. Stovall has played the organ for the church since the couple moved to Midland.

After the 10:45 a.m. service, the church will serve dinner followed by a special 1 p.m. anniversary service which will include a musical presentation.

The public is invited, especially former members and friends of the Stovalls. South Memorial Baptist Church is located at 1700 W. Carter St.

Women's Aglow to meet

Karen Jackson

Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the Villa Vagabond Inn in Odessa. This month's special speaker will be Karen Jackson of Ravenna, Ohio.

Karen and her husband, who travel with their two small children, are in full-time ministry.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and the salad buffet which follows. A nursery will be provided at Morning Star Fellowship, 325 W. County Road, Odessa. Mothers are asked to furnish their children with sack lunches.

Unitarians to sell UNICEF cards

The 1983 UNICEF Holiday Collection will be sold at Unitarian Universalist Church Wednesdays beginning this week.

In addition to the greeting cards, the collection includes an engagement calendar and a children's wall calendar.

This year's Christmas cards feature a filigree "Bird of Peace" by Philippine artist Nilo Santiago, a fanciful folk art design from Panama, a traditional winter landscape and a limited number of holiday postcards.

For more information call 694-4308 weekday mornings.

St. Lawrence to have festival

BIG LAKE — St. Lawrence Catholic Church, Big Lake, is having a Fall Festival Nov. 6 at the church's parish hall, 10 miles south of Garden City on Highway 33 then five miles west on Highway 2401.

Booths will open at 10:30 a.m. An auction will begin at 2 p.m. An 8 p.m. to midnight dance will feature Westwind. Lunch and dinner will be sold.

For more information call St. Lawrence Catholic Church, Big Lake.

Cathedral Quartet to perform

ODESSA — The Cathedral Quartet will be presented in concert Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Odessa College's auditorium.

Singing News Magazine awarded the quartet two honors — No. 1 southern gospel group in America and No. 1 song "Step into the Water."

Tickets may be purchased at Rudd's Christian Bookstore in Midland and Odessa. The performance is presented by Reign-Bo Promotions.

Mayor sets day of mourning

Tuesday has been declared by G. Thane Akins, mayor, a day of mourning and prayer in Midland for the American lives lost in Lebanon. A special service will be held Monday at 12:15 p.m. at the Downtown Plaza Park.

Sponsored by the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance and organized by Freddie Nelms, the service is being coordinated with other churches by the Rev. Daniel Vestal, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Church of God has bake sale

The Church of God of Prophecy is having a bake sale today from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Dellwood Mall.

Cakes, cookies, pies, chili-dogs, soft drinks and popcorn will be for sale. The Little Angels from the church will be singing from 1 to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from the sale go toward the church's annual October world missions drive.

Anglican Church to meet Sunday

The Anglican Church of North America, diocese of the Southwest, invites the public to attend morning prayer Sunday at 10 a.m. at Newnie W. Ellis Chapel, 801 Andrews Highway.

The Anglican Church uses the 1928 edition of the Book of Common Prayer. The bishop of the diocese is H. Edwin Caudill.

Northeast Baptist no longer just mission

Pete Campbell and the Rev. Lenard Leftwich

Northeast Baptist Chapel held organizational services Monday to move from a mission of Greenwood Baptist Church to a full-fledged church.

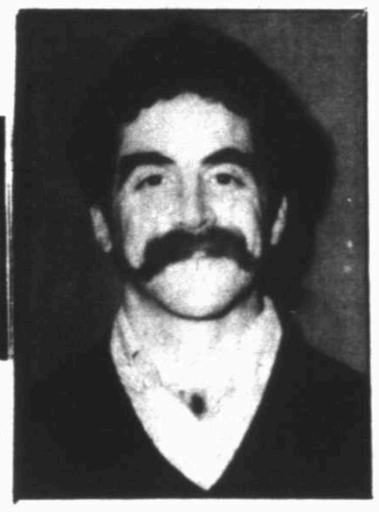

The Rev. Lenard Leftwich was called as minister and Pete Campbell was called as minister of music. A charge to the church was brought by the Rev. Jim Sellers, pastor of Midessa Heights Baptist Church, and a message was brought by Ron Hathcoat of Greenwood Baptist.

Special music was provided by Campbell, Brenda Coffman, Elizabeth Coffman, all of Northeast Baptist, and Michael Buchman, music director of Midessa Heights.

The church is buying a building to be moved to its new location on County Road 1130 North, one mile north of Wallace Grocery and Phillips 66 service station. The church is meeting at Tesoro Crude Oil Co. on East Highway 80.

The church began with six persons conducting a weekly Bible study during the summer of 1982. The study grew to the size that members decided to have a regular church service and Sunday School complete with dinner on the grounds. Then Tesoro Crude Oil Co. offered its facility. Land was acquired by Northeast Baptist this fall through the Southern Baptist Association.

Services held weekly include Sunday School, 9:45 a.m., morning worship, 11 a.m., evening worship, 6:30 p.m., ladies prayer meeting, Monday 7 p.m., and Wednesday prayer and Bible study, 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend any or all services.

Robert Sutton

Church sets youth revival

A youth revival at Fannin Terrace Baptist Church will begin with an "after the game fellowship" at 10:30 p.m. Friday at 2800 Mogford St.

Robert Sutton, youth minister at Crescent Park Baptist Church, Odessa, will be preaching for the revival. Music will be led by Mark Thurber, interim music director at Fannin Terrace.

Sutton, a native of Midland, graduated from Permian High School, Odessa. He attended Odessa Junior College and Texas Tech University, where he studied deaf education. He received his bachelor of arts degree from The University of Texas of the Permian Basin in 1983.

Spiritual sharing, singing and fellowship is scheduled from 9:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 5, followed by a hayride and hot dog supper at 5:30 p.m. at the church.

A rally and share time will precede the revival service Nov. 6 at 11 a.m and lunch in the church's fellowship hall, with parents as guests, will be at noon. Sutton will lead the informal sharing session Nov. 6 at 6 p.m. and the evening revival service will be held at 7 p.m.

The public is invited.

Center gets new counselor

The Samaritan Counseling Center of West Texas, Inc., announces the recent addition of the Rev. Jerry L. Kelly, an ordained Presbyterian minister, to its staff as a part-time counselor.

Kelly comes from Big Spring where for the past four years he has been chaplain at the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp. Prior to that, he served five additional years as chaplain in federal correctional institutions in Texas and Colorado. He has served six years as a pastor in Colorado and Arizona.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Whitworth College, Spokane, Wash., in 1965, and his master of divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N.Y., in 1968. Kelly attended Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colo., from 1972-74 and completed two years of post-graduate work in pastoral counseling.

He holds professional certification as a clinical member of the American Association of Pastoral Counselors and serves on the Vocation Agency United Presbyterian Church, USA, and the Commission on Ministers Tres Rio Presbytery.

Kelly, his wife, Sharon, and their two daughters, Erin and Caryn, live in Big Spring where Mrs. Kelly teaches in the public school system.

The Samaritan Counseling Center of West Texas, Inc., formerly West Texas Pastoral Counseling Center, is an ecumenical non-profit organization offering individual, marital and family therapy. Offices are located at 202 Pilot Road at the Midland Regional Airport.

Church council to study sex, violence

NEW YORK (AP) — A study of sex and violence in movies and cable and broadcast television has been launched by the communications commission of the National Council of Churches.

A special committee, headed by the Rev. James. M. Wall, editor of the Christian Century, an ecumenical weekly published in Chicago, was set up to meke the study, expected to take about a year.

Calling the project the "mainline churches' attempt to deal with this very serious problem," Wall says:

"Our goal is for the industry to take seriously its responsibility for the gratuitous violence and exploitative sex in movie theaters and on cable and broadcast television."

He says the committee hopes to develop means to reduce such content.

Protestants, Catholics growing closer

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

RELIGION

Theological agreements between the churches, Protestant and Roman Catholic, have steadily proliferated, signaling that the old battles between the churches are basically over.

Various church scholars have made that point — that the fundamental causes of the 16th century separation of the two main branches of Western Christianity have generally evaporated, though many people aren't aware of it.

Adding to the mounting accumulation of accords was a new one being issued this weekend by a joint U.S. Roman Catholic-Lutheran dialogue team on salvation only by faith in God's grace, not through any earned merit.

"Sola Fide" — "Only Faith" — were key watchwords of the Protestant Reformation of 450 years ago led by Martin Luther, along with insistence on two other postions:

"Sola Christi" — "Only Christ" rather than human mediators, and "Sola Scriptura" — "Only Scripture" rather than accumulated church traditions as the standard for beliefs.

While fine shadings of different terminolgy and approaches remain, basic mutual understanding has been reached by theologians on these once contested positions, and the new Catholic-Lutheran report underscores that convergence.

Yet, little has been done at the top governing level of the churches to implement the agreements at the level of institutional operations, which several dialogue teams have suggested.

A new international Catholic-Anglican commission had its first meeting this month in Venice, Italy, deciding to tackle some particular objectives — mutual recognition of ministries and reconciliation of the churches.

The new commission was established last year by Pope John Paul II and the Archbishop of Canterbury Robert Runcie, spiritual leader of world Anglicans, including U.S. Episcopalians, at the meeting of the two men in England.

But the new commission already has a backlog of agreements reached in 16 years of talks by a predecessor joint commission, covering most of the central elements of faith.

All the Catholic-Protestant talks started after Second Vatican Council of 1962-65, which incorporated many reforms of Protestantism, such as:

Presbyterian women honor member

Dura Roxburgh Clarke was honored recently by the women of Trinity Presbyterian Church with the presentation of an honorary life membership in Presbyterian Women, Presbyterian Church, U.S.

This award, presented by Margaret Stringer, president of Presbyterian Women at Trinity, was made in recognition of special and inspirational service.

Mrs. Clarke and her husband, the late Robert Clarke, were originally members of First Presbyterian Church. When a new church was needed in Midland, they and other members of First Presbyterian who lived west of Garfield Street built Westminister, which later merged with St. Andrews, becoming Trinity Presbyterian.

Mrs. Clarke has devoted many years to teaching in church school. In 1961 her husband was transferred to the head office of Union Oil, Los Angeles, where she continued her teaching in the church school.

During her husband's subsequent foreign service with Union Oil in Tehran, Iran, Mrs. Clarke served the church there in a variety of offices. She also sewed, along with 25 other American women in Iran, for three orphanages and two hospitals.

At the time of her husband's retirement, the Clarkes decided to divide each year between Midland and Barcelona, Spain. After a year in Barcelona, Mrs. Clarke conducted Bible class for the children in her apartment building.

During her half year in Midland, she served on the Presbyterian Women's Council at Trinity as chairman of Ecumenical Missions and Relations beginning in 1977.

This year she was elected a Ruling Elder of the church and assigned the chairmanship of the Witness Committee.

Catholics dedicate retreat center

SAN ANGELO — Christ the King Retreat Center located on the banks of the Rio Concho River will receive its official "baptism" Nov. 6.

Inauguration ceremonies for the $1.6 million facility will include mass at 2 p.m. for invited guests and an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. for the general public. The center is located at 802 Ford St., at the end of Van Zandt Avenue south of the Bell Street Bridge.

Archbishop Patrick F. Flores, archbishop of San Antonio, is scheduled to be the main celebrant of the Dedication Mass. Following the service, Flores will bless the entire center including the Christ the King statue.

The facility, made possible through donations from thousands of West Texas Catholics, includes a cafeteria, meeting and counseling rooms, dormitory accommodations for 100 guests and a number of outdoor shrines and walkways along the Concho River.

The center will provide space for overnight retreats, workshops and seminars for area Catholics. It will also be open to members of other churches. Two local Baptist churches have already scheduled marriage enrichment programs at the center.

Designed by the San Angelo firm of Zentner, Chakos and Marcum, Christ the King Retreat Center was constructed by Templeton Construction Company of San Angelo.

Revival for Deaf set for Monday

LUBBOCK — A Revival for the Deaf will be held Monday through Nov. 6 at Oakwood Baptist Church, Lubbock.

Services will be in the chapel Monday-Saturday at 7 p.m. The revival will close with the Sunday 10:30 a.m. service.

Carter Bearden, field consultant on ministry to the deaf throughout the Southern Baptist Convention territory, will lead the revival. Bearden, a Dallas native, has served as missionary of the Home Mission Board to the deaf since 1949.

He attended Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C., and is a graduate of Baylor University, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga. He also attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Now living in Clarkston, Ga., Bearden is the author of "a Handbook for Religious Interpreters for the Deaf," 1975; and a co-author of "A Manual of Religious Signs," 1974, and "Sing Praise," a hymnal for the deaf, 1975.

Bearden served as student missionary for HMB in Texas and Louisiana from 1949-54; superintendent of Deaf Missions, SBC territory, 1955-56; and missionary to the deaf for HMB in Tennessee and Georgia, 1957-67. He has served in his present capacity since 1967.

The Rev. Paul W. Armes is pastor of Oakwood Baptist.

Mystery unravelled about queen's fate

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Nearly 40 years after French colonial authorities silenced rebellious Queen Aline Sitoe of Kabrousse, an investigative mission has unravelled the mystery of what finally happened to her.

The mission, formed at the request of President Abdou Diouf, said it had determined that she died May 22, 1944, in exile in Timbuktu, Mali, after a long bout with scurvy, the national newspaper Le Soleil reported in a recent edition.

The account put an end to years of speculation that began in June 1943 when the queen, who was in her early 20s, was condemned to 10 years in exile in Timbuktu, also part of French Africa, on the orders of the French governor of Senegal.

Queen Sitoe was from the small coastal town of Kabrousse in the extreme southern part of Senegal known as Casamance.

Beginning in 1942, Queen Sitoe turned her people against the French and gained renown as far away as Mauritania, Mali and Guinea-Bissau for her continued cry that "the white man is not invincible."

Queen Sitoe instigated a boycott of French products, saying they were not necessary, and stirred up her Diola Tribe against French culture.

She encouraged local artisans and exhorted the men and women of her tribe to develop their intellectual capacities to the maximum. She sought to reinforce community life with a stronger role for women in Diola society.

To irritate the French, she called on her subjects to return to the traditional Diola calendar which was based on the annual rainy season, harvest season, dry season and pre-rainy season. To annoy the French further, the queen re-instituted the Diola calendar's six-day week.

The situation came to a head when a group of Diola warriors ambushed a truck, killing a French soldier, the driver and two Senegalese soldiers.

The French administrator for Casamance, a Maj. Sajous, and 45 infantrymen with rifles and four machine guns surrounded Kabrousse on Jan. 13, 1943. The village held out until Jan. 29, when the queen was arrested.

A legend current at the time held that Queen Sitoe could change herself into a bird whenever she liked. But on Jan. 28, Sajous threatened to burn the town if she did not surrender. She did the next day.

Publisher buys letter

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire publisher Malcolm Forbes has paid $48,400 for what is believed to be the last letter that Abraham Lincoln wrote to his wife, a record price for a letter in the slain president's hand, the auctioneer says.

The letter, auctioned Wednesday, was sent from Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's headquarters at City Point, Va., on April 2, 1865, a week before Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee's surrender at Appomattox Courthouse.

The previous record price for a Lincoln letter was $32,000 in 1978, said Joseph Dougherty, a spokesman for the Sotheby Parke Bernet auction house.

In the letter, Lincoln tells his wife, Mary Todd Lincoln: "Last night, Gen. Grant telegraphed that Sheridan with his Cavalry and the 5th Corps had captured three bridgades of Infantry, a train of wagons, and several batteries, prisoners amounting to several thousand."

The letter is believed to be the last Lincoln wrote to his wife, who joined her husband at City Point on April 6.

Another highlight of the auction, which drew a full house of American manuscript buffs, was a complete set of autographs of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

U.S. Marine mission looms more elusive than ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — When U.S. Marines were sent to Lebanon in September of 1982, the Reagan administration thought their stay would be relatively short. Thirteen months later, with nearly 200 leathernecks dead, the road out looks longer than ever.

President Reagan resolved again not to withdraw the Marines, because, he said, their mission remains vital and the United States can't give in to "international criminals and thugs."

Although the president said there has been a lot of progress since the Marines went to Lebanon, purportedly to oversee the withdrawal of foreign forces, it is hard not to conclude there have been plenty of setbacks, too.

The Marines, the administration argued, would not be combatants, but their presence would serve as a psychological lift to the budding government of Amin Gemayel as Israeli, Syrian and Palestinian fighters pulled out. Senior officials confidently predicted the Israelis would be out by the end of 1982.

But all of the foreign armies are still entrenched in Lebanon and the Gemayel government's authority doesn't extend beyond a tenuous grip on the city of Beirut and a few suburbs.

Meanwhile, fighting among native Lebanese factions has spread, and only the intervention of American warships averted a disastrous defeat for the Lebanese army at the hands of Druse militia.

The original number of Marines has grown from 800 to 1,600 and the ships off Lebanon's coast have been augmented by the nation's only active battleship, the New Jersey. Reagan didn't rule out more Marines may be sent.

From the beginning, the Marines have been stationed around Beirut's airport, their presence obviously designed to help keep the airport open. But it has frequently been closed nonetheless, partly because of shooting directed at the Marines.

Officials say the mission of the U.S. Marines, part of a broader multinational force, hasn't changed. Technically it hasn't, but in reality it has been broadened considerably.

From an original emphasis on assisting the Lebanese government to reassert national sovereignty, the Marine role is now portrayed as essential to defending free world interests in the entire Middle East.

Reagan made this clear in remarks to as group of editors and broadcasters at the White House "Peace in Lebanon is the key to the region's stability now, and in the future. To the extent that the prospect of future stability is heavily influenced by the presence of our forces, it is central to our credibility on a global scale," he said.

It's not only stability Washington is after, of course, it's stability for a pro-Western government. The stakes are high, Reagan said, trying to head off a clamor in Congress and elsewhere that the Marines be withdrawn.

"If Lebanon ends up under the tyranny of forces hostile to the West, not only will our strategic position in the Eastern Mediterranean be threatened, but also the stability of the entire Middle East, including the vast resource areas of the Arabian peninsula," Reagan said.,

To those who say the United States hasn't accomplished anything in Lebanon, Reagan had an answer too. He pointed to the proposed national reconciliation conference for Lebanese political groups which is tentatively scheduled for Geneva later this month.

Said Reagan: "They have finally agreed on a date and a place for a meeting in which the government of Lebanon is going to try to bring in representatives of the hostile factions within Lebanon to broaden the base of the government.

"We think the goal is worthy, and we think great progress has been made that would not be made if it were not for the multinational force," Reagan said.

But some key participants have expressed doubt that anything meaningful will emerge from the conference.

A leader of the Shiite population, Sayed Hussein Husseini, who is also a member of Lebanon's parliament, told reporters here Monday the conference was concocted by the Reagan administration to avoid giving the appearance during the 1984 U.S. elections of a failed policy.

He said Washington should be focusing on getting foreign armies out of Lebanon.

The same message was conveyed to reporters last week by a top official of the Gemayel goverment, Wadih Haddad, who brought a message from Gemayel to Reagan urging a renewed effort to get foreign armies to leave, beginning with the Israelis.

Gemayel himself was quoted by the New York Times as saying in a recent interview that the reconciliation conference was "a camouflage, a distraction" that was dreamed up by Washington. Embarrassed U.S. and Lebanese officials said he was quoted out of context.

The focus of U.S. efforts for getting foreign armies out of Lebanaon also has changed since the Marines were first sent in. Soon after Israel invaded in June of last year, the administration supported a U.N. Security Council resolution calling for an unconditional withdrawal of Israeli troops.

But now Washington says the Israelis don't have to get out until the Syrians do.

Space program organized

ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Houston, maybe. Or perhaps some city on the Florida coast.

But the rolling countryside of Lancaster County is not the place one might expect to find something called the United States Space Education Association (USSEA).

But there it is, stuffed into what used to be a barbershop — in a small, three-room white house in Elizabethtown.

Inside, there are walls of books on the American space program.

And artifacts, such as a chunk of old launch pad, models of the space shuttle and a piece of space shuttle heat tile.

Finally, there is the tiny, cramped office of Stephen M. Cobaugh, a space travel aficionado and the founder and president of what has become an internationally known amateur space education organization.

Cobaugh and six other local board members — also space program enthusiasts — work for the organization in their spare time.

What does a space education association do and what is it doing in Lancaster County? This one collects and disseminates information to thousands of people and institutions annually — at their request — through its news magazine, the Space Age Times.

Lancaster County happens to be the place where the people who began the group live. Cobaugh and several friends founded the organization 10 years ago — July 20, 1973 — on the anniversary of Neil Armstrong's "giant leap for mankind" on the 1969 Apollo 11 moon landing.

The magazine is published bimonthly and sent to people and institutions in most of the 50 states, as well as 10 other countries, including England, Australia, France and West Germany. It has a circulation of about 2,000.

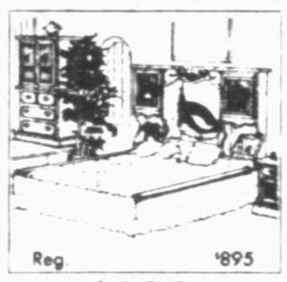

The organization also answers requests for information, according to Cobaugh. He receives several hundred pieces of mail weekly.

Animal skins sold to help pay Brazil's debt

MANAUS, Brazil (AP) — The local governor is fighting to make it legal to hunt animals that inhabit the Amazon and export their skins to help pay Brazil's $90 billion foreign debt.

The Amazon jungle covers almost half of Brazil and is home for an untold numbers and species of mammals, reptiles, amphibians, birds and butterflies.

"Everyone but the government is getting rich from the sale of animal skins," Gov. Gilberto Raposo Mestrinho said in a recent interview at his office here. "The boats come from here and there to buy skins from the cabocios."

Cabocios are Amazon people of mixed white and Indian race.

Mestrinho said lifting the federal government's ban on killing wild animals could ne. Brazil $20 million a year in taxes and licensing fees and that the money could help pay the foreign debt, which has become a major problem for the Brazilian government, international bankers and the International Monetary Fund.

The governor also said the sales and exports would create jobs in an area where he says there are more animals than people.

Mestrinho said he personally had presented his proposal to President Joao Baptista Figueiredo and that the president reacted "favorably" to it. However, no official action has been taken so far by the federal government in Brasilia.

"The cobocio is selling alligator skins for 150 cruzeiros (about 25 U.S. cents)," Mestrinho said. "But he could be getting $15.

"These skins are taken out of the country where they go for a good price, especially to Peru and Colombia."

From South America, the skins are shipped abroad where they are turned into fine belts, bags and coats and sold at high prices.

The law the governor is seeking to change was enacted in 1969 and bans the "pursuit, destruction, hunting or gathering of wild animals."

"The ecologists accuse of me of wanting to get rid of the animals," Mestrinho saiD. "But that is impossible."

He added that the hunting should be regulated and that some animals, such as jaguars, otters and manatee, should not be included in the list of animals that can be hunted.

"Ninty-nine percent of the people here support this," Mestrinho said. "I receive letters and calls from people who favor it, and some from people who say the alligators have attacked people."

Brazil, in recent years, has been protecting much of its natural and ecological resources. The army is encharged with stopping illegal alligator hunting in a part of Matto Grosso state called the Pantanal.

Officials estimate that about 500,000 alligators are killed annually in the marshes of the ecological preserve by illegal hunters, many of whom come from neighboring Bolivia, Peru and Colombia.

Few using Esperanto

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — It's promoters say it takes only 20 hours to learn Esperanto, but few people around the world use the 96-year-old universal language devised by a Polish eye doctor to further international understanding.

"There are no statistics on the number of Esperantists in the world," said Gregoire Maertens, 59, the Belgian president of the global Esperanto movement.

"The figures range between 6 million and 15 million. I usually say 10 million people read and understand Esperanto. Speaking is another thing. But then, how many speak their own language correctly?"

His office at the Belgian Finance Ministry is very close to the head office of the European Common Market, a modern-day Tower of Babel of seven (soon to be nine) official languages.

In 1982, the 10-nation economic community spent $400 million interpreting and translating English, French, German, Danish, Dutch, Italian and Greek. Spanish and Portuguease will join the list in a few years.

The Common Market would seem a textbook example of the need for Esperanto. But for practical (and chauvinistic) reasons the language has been kept out of the community.

Is Esperanto Utopian?

"Yes, I think so," said Jacques Pignot of the Common Market's translation department. "Basically, all (Common Market) nations want to retain their own languages. Besides there is a legal question. And under the Treaty of Rome (which created the Common Market) all Common Market laws must be written in the official languages."

Recently, the community's interpretation service, the world's largest, sent one of its top interpreters, Valentino Cominotti, to a two-day Esperanto course. His report was negative.

"At the end of the course I knew all the grammar, recognized many words and was able to follow conversations," said Cominotti who interprets into Italian from German, French, Dutch, Danish, English and Greek.

"But it will always be a foreign language and you'll never be perfect because, for that, too few people speak it."

Nehru's ashes strewn in Ganges

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India who died in 1964, specified in his will that after his cremation a handful of his ashes be scattered in the Ganges River, not for any religious reason but because "the Ganges has been to me a symbol and a memory of the past of India, running into the present and flowing on to the great ocean of the future."

He ordered that the rest of his ashes be strewn from an airplane "over the fields where the peasants of India toil."

Hoffman: Americans should be wary

Abbie Hoffman

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Former "Yippie" leader Abbie Hoffman says the political climate of the United States has improved since the 1960s, but warned that Americans still should be wary of government leaders.

"America has changed because now many parents who made their boys cut their hair in the 60s are out there leading the nuclear freeze marches," Hoffman said Thursday in an address at Utah State University.

But the founder of the Youth International Party warned, "We were lied to by our government at the beginning of the Vietnam War and now the same thing is happening with the invasion of Grenada, which could easily turn out to be just a warmup for Nicaragua.

"Our nation now has close to 700,000 troops in different countries abroad," he said, "and with many situations worsening, we could wake up one day and find out our registration has become a draft."

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Rep. Gerry Studds, D-Mass., says years of hiding his homosexuality helped him develop "a very tough skin" to deal with critics of his sexual preference and his censure by Congress.

"I've had two experiences in my life that have helped me to cope," Studds said in a copyright interview published Thursday in the Patriot Ledger of Quincy.

"First, I've been in public life 10 years, having to deal with everything from hysteria and irrationality to hatred and plain ugliness," he said. "And secondly, having to live most of your adult life as a closet gay person necessitates developing a very tough skin, or you'd disintegrate or go stark, raving mad."

Being a closet homosexual is "a living hell; there's no question about that," the six-term congressman said.

In July, Studds acknowledged he had a homosexual affair with a 17-year-old congressional page 10 years ago and was censured by the House for sexual misconduct.

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A two-hour live telecast from four leading opera houses is planned in December as a tribute to the late soprano Maria Callas, Italian organizers announced.

The "Callas Celebration," Dec. 11, is being put on with the support of Columbia Artists of New York and the Paris-based Maria Callas Foundation, Italian impresario Andrea Andermann said.

He said selections from operas in which Miss Callas starred will be broadcast from Milan's La Scala, Covent Garden of London, the Lyric Opera of Chicago and the Paris Opera House.

Among the singers lined up are Placido Domingo and Agnes Baltsa at La Scala; John Vickers, Renata Scotto and Ileana Cotrubas in Chicago; Jose Van Dam and Jessye Norman in Paris; and Kiri Te Kanawa in London.

Lorin Maazel, Bruno Bartoletti, Seiji Ozawa and Colin Davis will direct the singers in works by Verdi, Bizet and Berlioz.

The program will be broadcast live in Italy, West Germany, Austria, Britain and the United States and taped for later showing in Japan, South Korea, Greece and France.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy who has run more than 2,900 miles across Canada to gain attention for the reading and speech impediments he suffers from is nearing the end of his trip.

Danny Meyer, a fifth-grader from Rochester who can't read or write, is running from Vancouver, British Columbia, to New York City. He reached the U.S. border at Niagara Falls on Friday.

"Every place we've been, you can be assured that dyslexia and aphasia are now household words," said his mother, Jean Meyer.

Dyslexia is a reading disability that causes letters to appear backward or upside down. Aphasia is a speech impediment that makes a the speaker difficult to understand.

Danny began his cross-continent run more than four months ago and has averaged 30 miles a day, going through 15 pairs of running shoes, his mother said.

The youngster, who has run seven marathons, said he wants to run across the Soviet Union next because "nobody's ever done it before."

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Nigerian playwright Wole Soyinka, one of the Third World's top literary figures, says the unification of Africa is long overdue, but not close to happening.

"The news, I regret to say, is not good," Soyinka told about 300 Yale University students, faculty and New Haven community members Thursday night.

"It has been a quarter century since the first independent state in Africa but there has been very little development in African economic or social status," he said.

As he recounted the history of African resistance to British, French and Portugese colonialism, Soyinka said there was never a shortage of plans for the future of African colonies.

"My point is that alternatives for existing have been proposed, but the need for the preservation of little fiefdoms prevented unity" of the continent, he said.

Soyinka has written many volumes of fiction, non-fiction, poetry and criticism. His plays include "The Road," "The Strong Breed," "A Dance of The Forests," "Death and the King's Horseman" and "Madmen and Specialists."

Two Christmas stamps unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service on Friday unveiled two Christmas stamps, one bearing a jolly Santa Claus and another showing a painting of the madonna and child by the Renaissance painter Raphael.

This year's religious stamp was released for use at ceremonies at the National Gallery of Art.

A more modern "seasons greetings" stamp was issued at the same time, in Santa Claus, Ind.

Hope to teach SMU comedy seminars

Comedian taping show at university

DALLAS (AP) — Fifty pompon-waving coeds greeted Bob Hope at the entrance to the Bob Hope Theatre at Southern Methodist University Friday, as the comedian arrived at a ceremony naming him Distinguished Visiting Professor for Life.

As professor of comedy, Hope will begin teaching periodic seminars in "The Creation of Comedy" to SMU performing arts students in March.

The announcement of Hope's appointment by university president L. Donald Shields was greeted by a cascade of confetti and streamers thrown by more than 100 students lining the balcony above the theatre foyer.

"This is by far my most popular appointment at this university," Shields told Hope.

The 80-year-old veteran of vaudeville, theatre, film and television said he was delighted at the prospect of teaching.

"I think it's wonderful that you have asked me to give you a little of the knowledge I have of this business," Hope said.

Dallas city councilman and SMU alumnus Paul Fielding then presented Hope with honorary city citizenship and a key to the city, prompting Hope to quip, "Is this as a good as a parking place?"

Hope's visit to the SMU campus is part of a multi-campus tour he has undertaken to tape "An Evening With Bob Hope" special, scheduled to air on Thanksgiving. Within the next few weeks, Hope said he plans to tape segments of the show on the campuses of Notre Dame and UCLA.

The SMU segment will feature Morgan Fairchild, Bonnie Tyler and a variety of student talent including the Mustang Band and the "Kappa Pickers" of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, who serenaded Hope as he arrived and departed.

"These students in these different colleges have the same energy and fun feeling (as audiences) that we got out of military audiences. I'm looking forward to the show tonight," said Hope, eliciting a round of cheers and applause from the enthusiastic group.

Hope has been a frequent visitor and contributor to SMU, having served as a trustee from 1968 to 1976 and a recipient of an honorary degree in 1967. He was also the primary contributor toward the construction of the theatre that bears his name.

After the ceremony, Hope posed for pictures in a white director's chair, signed autographs and answered reporters' questions.

"This is going to set education back 50 years," he joked.

Hope said it is impossible to teach a person to be funny, but he said it is possible to help nurture natural ability.

"I think I'll be able to help young people," he said.

Today's late model used cars are a better buy than ever before. They are built better, they get better mileage, and even the exteriors and interiors stand up far longer. Most important, of course, is the price. There's much more value for the money in today's late model used car BUT, because cars are being driven for a longer time by the original owner, it's more important than ever WHERE you buy a used car. Our reputation for offering good value for the money is your best assurance. buying your used car.

"WE WANTED A QUALITY LIFESTYLE, NOT GIMMICKS AND GIVEAWAYS..."

"...That's why, when John and I were transferred to Midland, we chose to live at Oakridge Apartments. Sure, we passed up a few gimmicks and giveaways offered by the other communities. But what we got instead is an apartment community superior to anything else we saw. New on the market this year, Oakridge Apartments are bright and beautiful with sparkling new amenities and lots of extras. But more than that, Oakridge is a real quality neighborhood. The people out here are just great, and the management team is the best we've ever had.

1-, 2- and 2-bedroom studio apartment homes are available now. Take Loop 250 to N. Holiday Hill Road and look for the giant American flag.

How Safe are They When You're Gone?

You're gone. They're home alone. A problem? Who would be there to help? At a planned community like Buckingham Place secured estates, this wouldn't be a problem.

A six foot six inch solid cedar and brick fence offers privacy and prohibits trespassing. The security gate and guardhouse limits unauthorized access to the estates, while ample lighting in the common areas provides safety and peace of mind.

An unsecured community is like an unlocked door. A mistake.
