Merchants Committee Working To Keep The Dining Room Open

relative to the closing of the local dining room project were discussed at a meeting of the Merchants Committee of Commerce held last evening, Ray Hill, secretary.

It was decided to appeal to the merchants and business men of the city to contribute fifty dollars monthly to the project. It is hoped that the project will be closed by the end of the month.

Miss Corinne Moller of Wichita Falls, area executive of Campfire, addressed a regular meeting Tuesday of the Rotary Club on the "Aims and Accomplishments of Campfire."

There are four local units, totaling an approximate membership of 35 and of this number five girls have taken the Firemakers' rank, which is next to the highest possible rank.

There are twenty Firemakers in this area and twenty more will take that rank at the Council Fire in May.

Miss Moller stated that, unlike a lot of organizations, which rely on contributions for their existence, the Campfire girls must carry on their activities. Burk Burnett pays twenty-five dollars a year into the area fund and this amount is raised by "Do-Nut" sales, bake sales, etc. Each girl pays her one dollar national dues out of the money she has saved or earned.

The speaker said that the girls have every opportunity to study nature, camp craft, sewing, cooking and methods of acquiring and preserving health. They are also drilled in citizenship and patriotism and are offered business training.

It is with pride, Miss Moller said, that Campfire can say it has proven to be one of the greatest factors in this nation for developing fine American womanhood.

DAD KELLOW BACK AT WORK

Dad Kellow, who has been seriously ill for the past several weeks has returned from the hospital and his physician states he can do light work.

Rotary Club Heard Talk On Campfire Work

Miss Corinne Moller of Wichita Falls, area executive of Campfire, addressed a regular meeting Tuesday of the Rotary Club on the "Aims and Accomplishments of Campfire."

Miss Moller was introduced by R. C. Tewis, one of the sponsors of local Campfire groups.

She spoke briefly on her experiences as an area executive, commenting on the enthusiasm with which Campfire is everywhere received and stressed particularly that the organization "pays its own way" and yields results that are being noted more and more.

Miss Moller said that there are already several hundred members of Campfire in this area and that sixty Wichita Falls girls and thirty Burk Burnett girls will take the Trail Seekers rank at the next Council Fire in May.

Plans for a poultry meeting to be held next Tuesday afternoon, April 15, at 1:30 o'clock for all poultry raisers and feed dealers of this county at the state experiment station near Iowa Park were announced Wednesday by G. R. McNeil, county farm agent.

H. H. Weatherby, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. & M. college extension service, and others from College Station will be on hand to aid L. E. Brooks, experiment farm superintendent, in conducting the afternoon school.

Dodson Heiress Died Ignorant Of Fortune

Associated Press last week carried the story of an 83-year-old woman who lived in poverty while an unwitting heiress to an oil fortune and died in a Fort Worth hospital—just three weeks after friends and relatives informed her of her good fortune having learned of it through a radio broadcast.

The woman, Mrs. Susie Nicholols, a semi-invalid for 25 years had been struggling to live on a $17-a-month old-age pension.

Mrs. Blanche Lackey, a daughter, said Mrs. Nicholols inherited $5,714.29 from the estate of F. C. Dodson, wealthy Burk Burnett land and royalty owner, who died last fall. In the absence of near relatives, Dodson's estate went to heirs of his grandparents, of whom Mrs. Nicholols was one.

Administrators of the estate, unable to locate Mrs. Nicholols, asked the aid of a radio program devoted to finding missing heirs. A friend of Mrs. Nicholols heard the broadcast three weeks ago and notified relatives of the aged woman.

Thrift Child Hurt In Fall From Auto

Glenda Sue Bales, 4-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Bales of Thrift, sustained cuts and bruises and is suffering from shock as the result of a fall Wednesday evening from her father's car.

The Bales were on their way to church when the little girl opened the back door of the moving car and fell to the pavement.

She was rushed to Burk Burnett for emergency treatment and then taken to an eye specialist in Wichita Falls but was returned to her home when it was determined that she was not critically hurt.

Highway 240 Will Be Asphalted

Work will begin soon on providing asphalt surface for gaps on highway Texas 240 between Burk Burnett and Harrold, according to information received at state highway department headquarters in Wichita Falls Wednesday.

The work order received Tuesday calls for beginning of construction not later than April 22. The contract is held by Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth.

Highway officials announced the free highway information station, Scott avenue and Virginia, as virtually ready for the new season. Interior finish includes knotty pine walls, the exterior has been painted and landscaping of the grounds is under way.

Triple "A" Banquet Here

Plans have been completed for the Triple "A" banquet to be held here in Town Hall Friday evening, April 11, according to Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, chairman of the county committee.

Golfers Start Qualifying Tournament Sunday

Glenn Howard, chairman of the tournament committee, stated Thursday that golfers will stage a qualifying tourney Sunday, beginning at 1:15.

The tourney will be played in foursomes and there will be a small entry fee. The purpose of the tourney is to determine average scores and give the tournament committee something to work on for the opening tourney which begins the 18th.

Prizes are to be awarded and all cards must be turned in by Wednesday, April 16, so scores may be posted.

A great deal of work has been done on the course this spring putting it in readiness for the coming season and it is now in excellent shape.

A new mower, which has proved to be a real boon, has been purchased and all fairways have been mowed. New sand has been put on all the greens and the rough will be dragged and mowed next week.

Members are asked to inspect the greens and fairways they have been assigned to keep in condition.

Former Burk Man Missed By Masked Bandit's Bullet

H. A. Mills, proprietor of the Mills Burk Burnett Road liquor store about five miles north of Wichita Falls, was narrowly missed Sunday night shortly after 10 o'clock by a .32 calibre pistol slug allegedly fired by a masked man who attempted to gain entrance, according to information given to Sheriff Pat Allen Monday.

Allen and Deputy C. R. Pogue answered the call from Mills, and were informed that the liquor store had been closed and the family had retired to living quarters at the rear of the building when a knock was heard on the back door.

As Mills opened the door, he saw a masked man, and attempted to slam the door shut, but the intruder forced it open. At that instant a member of the family switched off the lights, and Mills ran for a shotgun in another room. The intruder fired just as the lights went off.

Mrs. Mills ran out the front door to call officers by a neighbor's telephone, and the visitor fled by the back door.

The Mills family formerly lived here.

Capt. Brady Calls For Defense Guards

J. T. (Pat) Brady, captain of the local unit of the Texas Defense Guards, asks that every man who signed up for this service be present at the meeting at the American Legion hall on Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Capt. Brady states that there are forty vacancies in the local unit.

Spring Practice Begins Thursday

BOOSTERS CLUB GETS BUSY.

Coach Volney Hill stated Wednesday that spring training for the Burk Burnett Bulldogs begins April 17 and the season will close with the annual Boilermakers Game on May 16.

Mr. Hill stated that he has every hope of again putting Burk Burnett Bulldogs on the "Athletic map," but he must have full cooperation of every man in Burk Burnett. Prospects are good, considering the available material, but there is plenty of work to be done.

With this idea in mind the "Fifth Quarter" Boosters club was recently organized with more than one hundred men qualifying for membership.

Sixty-two out of this number have already signified their intentions of becoming active members and responses from the rest are expected within the next week.

A program has been outlined for the club which includes the promotion of better ward school football, creation of jobs for needy boys, furnishing transportation after practice for boys who live in the country, the holding of rallies and a comprehensive publicity campaign.

It has also been suggested that meeting will be held once a week during the football season to discuss problems with the boys and each member of the club is advised that he will be expected to make personal contact with some member of the squad, offering him suggestions and encouragement.

Members have already been assigned days to furnish transportation throughout spring practice and the Chamber of Commerce has accepted the burden of notifying each when he is expected to make trips.

Mr. Hill voiced the opinion that this can be one of Burk Burnett's best years if the proper spirit of cooperation is evidenced.

It is because, especially at this time in the nation's history, that youth is particularly important, that coaches, teachers and patrons feel that nothing should be spared in an effort to give the boys of our town a sound foundation for future development.

Everyone who has not yet signed his pledge card for support of the boys is asked to do so at once, Mr. Hill said.

Mrs. Ed Owens Buried Tuesday

Funeral services were held at the Randlett Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 for Mrs. Ed Owens of the Rabbit Creek community, who died Monday morning in a Walters hospital of pneumonia. She had been ill for several weeks.

The Rev. A. C. Mowery, pastor of the Devol Baptist church read the funeral rites. Interment was in Burk Burnett cemetery.

Pallbearers were W. R. Hill, Guy Willis and Fred Brookman of Burk Burnett, O. H. Darter, J. E. Wood and Tobe Hardin.

Mrs. Owens was born in Kansas City, Mo., in 1884. She was married to Ed Owens in 1907 at Lamar, Mo., coming almost immediately to Oklahoma where they have lived ever since.

Survivors include the husband, a little daughter, Junie, a brother-in-law, Johnny Owens and three sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Musslin and Mrs. Hazel Nobody of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Nellie Osborn of Pittsburgh, Kansas.

Former Burk Woman Killed Near Vinita

Mrs. J. H. Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. (Guy) England of this city, and her husband were killed Saturday in an automobile crash east of Vinita, Okla., that involved three cars and a truck.

The couple's two children, H. G. Meyer, 13, and Rosemary Meyer, 15, suffered only slight bruises and cuts.

The Meyer family was enroute from Manchester, Mich., to Burk Burnett for a visit when the accident occurred.

Car Registrations For Last Week

The bodies were removed to a Vinita funeral home. Mr. and Mrs. England went to Vinita Saturday afternoon.

Shields Heyser, Buick Sedan, Wichita Falls.

Major Sidney P. Kretlow, Olds Club Sedan, Camp Barkley, Tex.

P-T A Prepares Program For "Play Day"

Burkburnett Parent-Teacher association has arranged a special program to be presented as part of the "Play Day" activities being sponsored by the local schools next Friday, according to Mrs. Jude Willingham, president.

The program will be presented at Hardin school auditorium at 3 o'clock on that day and will feature a talk by J. A. McDonald of Wichita Falls, county juvenile officer.

Officers of the association feel that, aside from the importance of "Play Day", which has been planned so that all children in the school system may take part in a program designed along the lines of the annual county meet, every parent in Burk Burnett should feel interested in the message which Mr. McDonald will bring.

He deals with a problem which is vital to all of us and it is significant that he should speak on the same occasion when the school is presenting a plan which they feel will eventually help to minimize juvenile delinquency.

Masons Invited To Attend District Meeting

All Master Masons of the local lodge are invited to attend the 88th district meeting which will meet in Megargel Friday night.

All interested in attending this meeting are urged to meet in front of the local lodge at 6:30.

Better Be On Guard

The abstract question of the respective merits of private ownership and operation, on one hand and public or so-called cooperative ownership and operation, on the other, of electric power systems ought not to enter a transaction like the Possum Kingdom contract. But undoubtedly it entered that particular transaction to a determining extent. Washington vetoed the private company from the start. It didn't have a chance, and it wouldn't have had a chance if its proposal had been even more favorable than it was.

There are people, no doubt, who will think this is perfectly all right. But these are times for plain and honest speech, and, no matter how well-meaning such people may be, we feel impelled to say frankly, not only that they are mistaken, but that they are harboring a conception of government that tends away from true American conception and in the direction of totalitarianism.

Warning To Agitators

On numerous occasions Texas has demonstrated to the rest of the country its dislike for outside agitators whose aim is to stir up trouble. Gov. O'Daniel voiced the determination of the responsible citizens of this state to keep it from becoming a hotbed of dissention and misunderstanding as some agitators would prefer, and warned that any outsiders who sought to stir up strife in Texas would find themselves picking cotton on a state prison farm if they violate Texas laws.

Texans soon will see many new citizens, attracted by the prospect of jobs in new defense plants and their construction projects. They also will notice the arrival of some of the disturbing element which is largely responsible for the crippling strikes that have slowed up defense production in the North and East, and it is this latter group that Gov. O'Daniel and the Texas legislature want to keep under control.

Perhaps by the time these new citizens get to Texas the strike situation will be in hand, but if not, Texans can be depended upon to get the local situation under control.

Just As Hitler Said

So far, Adolf Hitler seems to have been amazingly right in minimizing the aid that America could give to Britain. He and his followers have said repeatedly, months ago, that their plans formulated to tie America in knots through internal troubles, so as to keep to a trickle the real aid this country can send to the English.

Increasing strikes are painful reminders of Hitler's threats, and perhaps explain why the German government has seemed so little worried over what this country can do to thwart German ambitions. Of course, it may be just a coincidence that all these strikes occur just as American industrial effort gets well under way. Furthermore, it may be just accidental that these strikes are occurring in large industries that are engaged in government production programs vital to American defense.

Hitler, knowing the dangers to Germany of internal troubles fomented by his enemies, long ago took particular pains to put German labor under stringent government control. Labor leaders and agitators who didn't follow explicitly the Nazi commands were hustled off to concentration camps.

No thinking person in America wants the government to conscript workers to prevent further stoppage of important work due to strikes, but if treasonable labor leaders and dumb selfish workers continue to obstruct the American defense program, this country may be forced to adopt strong measures. And that is exactly what the enemies of America want. They know that by stirring up troubles that demand governmental intervention, they can cause other troubles to break out, with the possibility of creating industrial chaos and a "new order."

Hitler knows well the weaknesses of democratic government. It remains to be seen whether a free people are strong enough and smart enough to stay free, in the face of foreign attempts to encourage them to toss away their freedom.

Books are standing counselors and preachers, always at hand, and always disinterested; having this advantage over oral instructors, that they are ready to repeat their lesson as often as we please.—Chambers.

Burkburnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

Piling up 81 points to win first place in the Wichita county track meet, the Burkburnett boys swamped their opponents in almost every event of the track and field meet held Saturday, April 4, at Iowa Park.

W. D. Barrow and A. R. Hill were elected city commissioners Tuesday, April 7.

R. C. Tevis was re-elected president of the board of trustees of the Burkburnett Independent school district at a regular meeting held Thursday night. H. D. Smith was named vice-president. Re-elected to office in the election held Saturday were J. D. Majors, I. E. Harwell and R. C. Tevis.

M. W. Wolfe, an employe of the Magnolia Petroleum company was injured Thursday while tightening the nuts and bolts on a firing chamber. His wrench slipped and his left hand was hurt.

A continuation of the trial of Barney Riley, charged with murder of Tom Hardin, of Oklahoma, was requested by the state's attorney Monday morning, owing to the absence of a material witness.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

I bow on my knees before no man,
Nor take orders at a tyrant's command.
I live in a land of democracy,
And not in the throes of autocracy!
I am an American!

I worship God as my choice may be,
And truthful news is free to me.
All radio programs it is my right to hear,
And trial by jury I hold most dear!
I am an American!

I train for games and not for war,
My home, the bombs shall never mar.
I live not in terror nor fear for my life,
Not in a land torn by dissension and strife!
I am an American!

I live in a land respected by all,
Where beauty and truth shall never fall.
Love is our watchword, and peace is the cry,
Where the Stars and Stripes forever fly high!
I am an American!

(Written by Robert Moore, a patient at the State Sanatorium, whose home is in Brownwood; quoted in John C. Biedegar's La Coste Ledger).

Momentum was given to the proposed return of horse racing at a meeting in Austin of representatives of a dozen organizations, including Dirt Farmers Congress, labor, old age pensions and First Voters league. A resolution was adopted that any taxes from racing be set aside for pensions. It is estimated racing would provide $2,500,000—and, while almost every industry and business included in the omnibus tax bill is pleading to be released, racing is willing to be taxed.

Numerous newspapers are urging repeal of the chain store tax. "Most chain stores today are home-owned," says the San Antonio Evening News. The tax is called "a discriminatory penalty" by the Dallas News and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram asserts the levy is "punitive, not against the chains but against the consumer, the producer and business in general." Says the Austin American, "The consumer is the real 'goat' of the law." Out in West Texas, the Post Dispatch calls the tax "a fine on efficiency" and continues, "A spokesman for the Southwestern Cattleman's association recently reported that a program in which producers and chain stores worked together had materially increased beef and lamb consumption and given the cattle industry three of the best years in its history. The chain stores have participated in similar programs on behalf of cotton, fruits, pottery, cactus plants and other commodities whose sale had to be increased if producers were to avoid possible ruinous losses." The San Antonio Express sums it up, "Civic sentiment generally demands repeal of the unwarranted Texas chain-store tax."

Side Glances On Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker, University of Texas Library

Of Buffalo, Bears And Bugs

If some old-time Texas frontiersman could be revived in our time, he would have good reason to suppose that the days of adventure are o'er forever. Just think of it—no buffalo, no great black bear, no ferocious Mexican hog, no leopard to hunt!
Now, Texans enjoy good hunting today, better than most other people in the country, possibly. But in comparison with, say, the 1820's! For a born huntsman, those must have been the good old days.

Workers in the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library know this. Its copy of Mrs. Mary Austin Holley's "Texas", dated 1863, has a section which treats pretty comprehensively of the wild life of the brand-new Republic. Just consider some of the things she knew to exist in the territory:

First of all, of course, there were buffalo. Not a mere handful, either; they roamed in great herds of tens of thousands in the interior and now and again wandered southward almost to the Gulf coast. The Texas Indians lived on buffalo meat; it has been recorded that some of them ate nothing else whatsoever.

Ever See A Moose?
"The deer," Mrs. Holley noted, "are still more numerous than the buffalo, being found in every part of Texas in great abundance."

Colonists in the coastal settlements could apparently shoot them almost from their back doors. And on the frontiers even moose could be tracked with considerable success.

Hunting panthers, wildcats and leopards seems to have been a favorite sport among the early settlers, who used an almost infallible hunting technique. They called it "shining the eyes." During the night they'd go for a walk through the woods, carrying a lighted torch. Attracted by it, the game would approach, and the light of the torch was reflected so brightly from their eyes that the hunters found them perfect targets.

The 'Saber-Tooth' Hog
"The most dangerous wild animal in Texas," however, was the Mexican hog, which ran in gangs and thought nothing of attacking a man. "It is armed with tusks several inches in length," she wrote, "which curl back from under jaw, and its aspect altogether is very ferocious."

Another nuisance was the alligator, which sometimes grew to a length of thirty feet, according to Mrs. Holley, and had an armor on its back which could not be penetrated by a rifle ball. "All the rivers and bayous," she remarked, "are infested with alligators, which follow the boats so closely that they can be struck with the oars." Several times they are known to have caught and eaten men.

But if all these made life in the open a risk, though a hunter's joy, life indoors wasn't the height of comfort, for mosquitoes, tarantulas, horse flies and red bugs were everywhere. And worst of all, ticks! Ticks so large and industrious, according to Mrs. Holley, "that in one night's time, if not carefully guarded against, they will spoil the beauty of the fairest face in creation beyond the redemption of all cosmetics for days to come."

100 Years Ago In Texas
"Our sanctum is nightly divested of everything like gloomy sadness by the thrilling strains of the sweetest and most delightful music. The musical soirees so frequently gotten up in the Hall of Representatives, led by Mr. L. Walker, the Paganini of Texas, contribute in a small degree to our comfort. Indeed, we highly approve of this intellectual feelings of the heart, while at the same time, it protects its votaries from a thousand scenes of dissipation. Those soirees generally terminate with singing, waltzing or serenading the ladies."

Fish Production Under Way

Production of fish by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission in its ten hatcheries scattered throughout the state is under way and reports to the executive secretary of the commission indicate most of the early spawn in the hatcheries escaped freezes which hit part of the state.

The most elemental, but the important moves in the process of raising fish with which to restock Texas lakes and streams have been made. Large numbers of brood fish of fourteen varieties have been placed in the ponds in the ten hatcheries. The ponds have been properly prepared for the business of raising fish by being cleaned, fertilized and filled with water. Fertilization will continue throughout the growing season.

New scientific methods, many of which were tested for the first time last year, will be used in all the ten hatcheries under the direction of the chief aquatic biologist. New methods of raising fish last year produced more than 7,000,000 fingerlings and the hatchery superintendents have set their sights on a mark of 10,000,000 for 1941.

Bass of three species, several kinds of catfish, goggle eye and a large variety of sunfishes, called bream, will be raised in the hatcheries. They will be distributed in the lakes and streams of Texas, both public and private. Last year 15 per cent of the fish were released in private or semi-private waters, but officials of the department feel that the release of these fish will help take the pressure off public waters.

6,391 Coyotes Trapped

Trappers employed by the state game department reduced the coyote family in the Lone Star state by 6,391 during the last 90 days and will continue their predator control work at least another 30 days, the secretary of the game commission announces.

Trapping of coyotes is carried on in regions where it is believed the coyotes are so numerous that they are doing considerable damage to game. It is recognized that it is practically impossible to completely eradicate coyotes, but the work the department is doing along those lines helps keep the predators under control.

Coyotes are trapped by the department at an extremely low cost. It amounts to 50 cents per animal plus the slight cost of the traps. Some one, upon hearing this year, declared Texas coyotes are getting lazy, but it appears it is just another indication of the shrewdness of the breed. Coyotes in Texas have taken to skulking the highways and making their meals upon the birds and animals killed by motorists on the roads. This practice has been reported to the game department by several wardens and interested sportsmen who have seen coyotes dragging dead birds and animals from the highways.

Did Catfish Catch Deer?

George Cowden of Pearsall, Texas, recently caught a four-pound catfish which had three deer hooves in its stomach. To prove the story, Mr. Cowden took the fish and the hooves to town and displayed them, according to the Dilley Herald, which asks: "Did the fish catch a deer and was the fish liable to arrest for killing a deer out of season?"

We also recently heard of a large catfish caught in El Paso county which had three empty cornbeef cans in its stomach. The digestive juices of the fish had reduced the metal in the cans almost to the consistency of gelatine.

Deliberately Ran Down Deer

An East Texas resident recently found it was rather costly to deliberately run down a deer. He was fined $21 and costs in court and it was also necessary for him to pay $19.50 for repairs to his automobile.

A small, frightened deer was running down the right-of-way. The motorist left the highway and struck the deer while it was 30 feet from the road. Within a half hour a state game warden was picking up deer, glass and parts of a car showing evidence of a damaged radiator. A check of garages was made, the damaged car was found and then its owner located in a town 70 miles away. He probably will think a long time before running down another deer in Texas.

Gardeners' Short Course At Texas Tech

Lubbock, April 9 — Everyday gardening problems and their solutions will be discussed at the two-day garden short course on Texas Technological college campus April 24 and 25. A flower design school and a question-and-answer period will be featured.

Pruning, transplanting and balling, frame gardens, gardening short cuts, and hedges are among lecture subjects arranged. Vegetable gardening in West Texas and the "outdoor living room" will also be discussed. Other phases of West Texas gardening which will receive special attention are small fruits, use of vitamin B-1 and water culture, spring blooming plants, roses and house plants.

A model gardening display by Lubbock hardware men will show new gardening equipment, from rollers and pruning to clippers and garden gloves.

Mrs. Mary Lake, president of the Texas federation of garden clubs, and Don King, range inspector for soil conservation service, are among speakers already scheduled. Tech speakers are Professors Howell, W. W. Yocum, associate professor of horticulture; and George C. Elle, instructor in vegetable crops. Lubbock florists will show model flower arrangements.

Sponsored by the plant industry department of Texas Technological college, cooperating with Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent of Lubbock, the short course is open to all persons interested in West Texas gardening, said O. B. Howell, horticulture professor. The first course offered at Tech in 1940 was attended by 60 West Texans.

Government Program Spreads Good Will in South America

POWER center for the government's plan to spread good will in Latin America is Nelson A. Rockefeller, the tall, handsome, broad-shouldered, thirty-two year old son of John D. Rockefeller Jr. Appointed by President Roosevelt as "Co-ordinator of Commercial and Cultural Relations Between the American Republics" in the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense, Rockefeller's job is tough, urgent, and vitally important, Charles E. Hewitt Jr. writes in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Nelson A. Rockefeller

Latin America, faced with imminent economic collapse through loss of foreign markets has already been seriously penetrated by Nazi propaganda, and to combat the growth of this influence is the tremendous task of young Rockefeller, Hewitt reports in his article.

Vested with vast powers, Rockefeller has not been slow to set sweeping enterprises in motion. Around him he has gathered a staff of ten brilliant men who receive the same salary as their chief—a dollar a year. Five of them are young men Rockefeller's own age; five are older men to balance them, but all are experts in their individual fields. Although few activities can be credited to the co-ordinators alone, they are responsible for a number of accomplishments Hewitt says.

Hundreds of Pan-American exchange scholarships have been granted, and Spanish instruction has been started in thousands of schools. Six thousand books describing the United States are being translated and will be distributed gratis in key educational centers in South America. According to Hewitt, Pan-American Olympic Games are being scheduled for 1942, and Venezuela's crack baseball teams, and Brazil's continental soccer champions will have wide exhibition tours. Radio stations too, have stepped up their Spanish and Portuguese hours by as much as five times.

But commercial first aid is regarded as the crux of the problem. Hewitt asserts Rockefeller himself feels that the "emergency" short term remedy is to make loans to the various republics with which to buy from us, and to buy from them as much defense material as possible. The United States Treasury is already making loans at a current rate of a billion dollars a year. In addition American subsidy is being used to increase the South American output of such essential materials as wool, rubber, and tin.

"Greatest single good-will builder—and harbinger of a new era in capitalism and Pan-Americanism —" Hewitt says, "is the launching by the United States Treasury of one of the world's largest steel mills in Brazil, jointly financed. This vast industry will work to make Brazil independent not only of Europe, but also of us."

Immense as the scope of the plan is, Rockefeller is eminently suited to head it. As president of Rockefeller Center he was moulded into a top-notch executive and administrator. His tremendous energy and capacity for hard work, his sense of humor and innate sense of friendliness and diplomacy are all qualities of this rich man's son who made good.

Rockefeller's personal vigor is a byword and makes him a phenomenal pace-setter. One old-school Washingtonian, described the atmosphere of Rockefeller's department as filled with "college spirit" and said he expected the office to break into a pep cheer any minute.

"Washington is shocked daily by the irrepressible activity of Rockefeller's co-ordination squad," Hewitt writes, "but it is an electric shock. With his democratic dynamism, he has the gift of making America's most herculean task seem possible."

Cotton County Officers Make Liquor Hall

Cotton county officers struck a rich haul when they raided a rustic log cabin retreat owned by Arthur O. Smith, a traveling salesman, in the southwestern part of the county last week, but they admit they don't know just what all the labels on the various odd-sized and odd-shaped bottles mean.

Seventeen bottles of fancy beverage were taken in the collection, amounting to approximately three gallons. Included were such names as Red Horse liquor, Cabanadi distilled rum and brandy, Curacao Charmette, Bernardine, Herbsaint Puerto Rico rum, Black Gold Whisky, Dunbar's gold label liquor, Ramirez Nectares Royal and Gordon's dry gin.

County Attorney C. C. Campbell, Sheriff Tom Jackson, and Deputy Henry Jones agree that they've got something, but their foreign languages are so rusty they don't know what.

"We could read the ages on the stuff, however, and we know that when some of it is 16 years old it has a pretty steep value to it," Campbell said. The officers went to the cabin, found Smith gone, and directed a caretaker to "open up."

The search revealed the bottles in a cabinet and an expensive set of drinking glasses conveniently located.

The place, Jackson said is located two miles north, two miles west and one mile south of the old port of entry to Burkburnett.

MAN CHARGED AFTER RANDLETT RAID

Cotton county officers raided the old LeBarre tavern on Highway 270 at the southeast corner of Randlett last week and confiscated a quantity of whisky, they said.

Tom Jackson, sheriff, and Henry Jones, deputy, accompanied by C. C. Campbell, county attorney, made the raid. They arrested Joe Ford, operator of the place, and filed a charge of possession against him in county court.

The officers said they found 13 half-pint bottles of whisky, one half-pint partially filled. The liquor was stored in a beer carton under the counter, Jackson said.

Campbell said that the state beer license of Ford was cancelled by the Oklahoma Tax commission Saturday. This virtually means closing the place the attorney stated.

J. C. Enloe Re-Elected Member Of County Board

J. C. Enloe was re-elected a member of the county school board, defeating C. A. (Buster) Morgan for the post of Burkburnett precinct board member by a vote of 22 to 2 in last Saturday's election, according to an unofficial canvass made by the county clerk's office.

All rural school precinct returns had not been received early Wednesday afternoon but those which had been turned in revealed the following results:

Ed Heiserman and F. A. Foster were re-elected county board members for the Iowa Park precinct and county-at-large posts without opposition.

B. C. Cannedy defeated H. Lange 16 to 15 for Pleasant Valley trustee.

Guy Ragland was elected City View trustee over W. R. Wilche by a vote of 48 to 25.

In the Clara district Harvey Day, R. G. Redman and J. C. Muller were named without opposition.

Waller Foster bested W. A. McClure 4 to 2 as trustee for Sunshine Hill.

Fowlkes patrons elected W. M. Owens without opposition.

"Abe" Failed To Show Up Rest Of Cast

Waco, Texas, April 9—A spectator at Baylor civic theatre's rehearsal of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" complained to Director Paul Baker that Glen Martin, cast as Abe, was not tall enough.

"He's six-four, same height as Lincoln," Baker said.

"He isn't more than a couple of inches taller than others on the stage," the critic countered.

So Baker checked up. The average height of his 125-member cast is six feet, one inch.

Stress Good Nutrition As Defense Need

Today nutrition authorities are stressing the need for guarding the national health in carrying on an effective program of defense. In calling attention to the importance of proper food, it is pointed out that a survey has revealed that approximately 45 million of our population are living below the "safety line" of what is considered an adequate diet.

What factors are essential in our foods to assure that the diet fully meets body needs? Protein is necessary to build and repair body tissue. There must be vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and calories to supply heat and energy. Minerals, such as iron, copper, phosphorus and calcium, are needed to build blood, bones and teeth.

Importance of Iron

In considering the minerals needed, medical authorities point to the special importance of iron as a blood builder. It ranks first among the nutritive elements in this respect.

The iron in the body of an average adult is only about the weight of a penny, but this element is vital to health. Iron enters into the structure of every active body cell. Iron is a constituent of the hemoglobin or red pigment of the 25 trillion or more red blood corpuscles, and thus helps to carry oxygen to every part of the body.

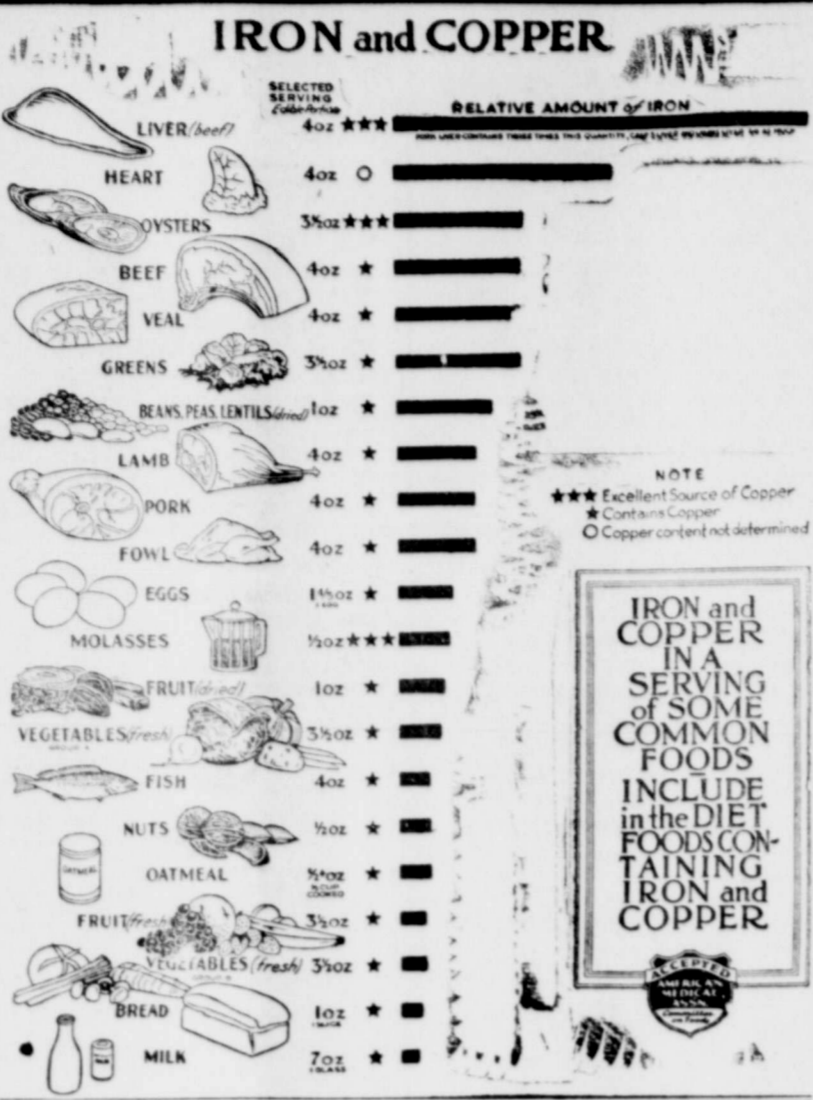

Foods rich in iron must be added to the diet at six months or earlier and continued throughout life, according to nutrition authorities. The adult requires at least 12 milligrams of iron daily.

Iron Prevents Anemia

The penalty for an insufficient iron supply is a condition known as nutritional anemia, characterized by fatigue, digestive disorders and other symptoms.

As early as 400 to 500 B.C., a condition corresponding to anemia was described by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine. Menghini an Italian, is given credit as the first to discover iron in the blood—in 1747. The present view that an iron deficiency is the principal cause of anemia, was first advanced in 1889. In 1849, a serious form of anemia, known as pernicious anemia, was described. In the year 1934, Drs. Minot, Murphy and Whipple were awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for their discovery that liver was effective in the treatment of pernicious anemia, which was previously regarded as a fatal disease.

Sources of Iron
The accompanying chart carrying the seal of acceptance of the Committee on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, presents the most up-to-date information on the iron and copper content of our common foods. The iron of foods is better utilized in the presence of small amounts of copper. Liver, which heads the list, is recognized as pre-eminent among blood-building foods.

An average adult would be assured an adequate daily supply of iron if the following amounts of foods are taken each day: 2 servings of meat (1 serving of liver each week); 1 egg; 2 servings of vegetables; 2 servings of fruit.

Zeke Says . . .

By Nugent Ezekiel Brown
Washington, D.C., April 9—(Special)—Here's an inside tip on the national strike situation, which is in one heck of a muddle, all will agree. Sometime in the near future, Congress will ask the President to take over some of the larger plants and let the government operate them! Just mark this prediction down. The tendency now is to let the new mediation board attempt to iron out the troubles. But the situation is getting worse every day. There is no doubt in the world that most of the trouble-makers are Communist members of the labor organizations. There have been 73 strikes since Sept. 8, 1939, involving a total of 146,291 men, says Representative Carl Vinson of the Georgia delegation. Vinson was the author of a resolution passed this week to provide two House investigating committees to probe all the strikes. Then the House took a 11-day recess over the Easter holiday period.

Texans Take Lead
The Texas delegation in Congress, admittedly the most powerful state group on Capitol Hill, led in demands for action. Judge Hatton Summers of Dallas sounded the keynote when he said: "We are like children. We go to cocktail parties, we play the horse races, we act like children at play. We stop munition factories when this nation is facing the greatest peril that it has faced since it began to be a nation. Our 'Magnet Line', the ships that float on the seas, great battle-ships, can be put out of commission by a bomb. We sit down here when we know we are moving rapidly toward actual belligerent contact with this war, unable either to carry it on or defend ourselves. Mr. Speaker, if the American people knew the truth about this thing, there would be no more strikes in America. France went to pieces inside or it never would have broken against the German shock. America is weak inside or these strikes would not be happening."

Judge Summers' great speech was followed by speeches by Congressmen from all over Texas and the United States. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, and Lindley Beckworth, two young men, took the lead in the fight last week.

In the Senate Tom Connally predicted the best course would be for the government to take over operation of the plants. Congressman Lyndon Johnson, a strong administration leader, is understood to favor the same like action.

sion to serving his year as a selectee. To escape it, he pressed his application to become an FBI agent and was duly appointed. His first undercover assignment was to serve in an Army camp as a selectee!

Heavy Mail

In the office of Senator Morris Sheppard, secretary Potter opens an average of 450 letters daily now, the highest daily average in the history of the senior senator from Texas. A year ago, the average was only 300 a day. Most of the increase is a result of the defense program. "It's a heap of mail," Potter says as he eyes it each day. But, it is all answered each day, also, as the senior senator has never been known to fail to answer any letter sent to him. In Senator Tom Connally's office, at the weekend, it was learned that the Federal Works Agency has just set aside a total of $4,310,655 for free lunches for distribution in Texas through the Department of Public Welfare and the Department of Education. At 25 cents each, that will be exactly 25,242,780 free lunches, or enough for four meals for every man, woman and child in Texas! Some lunch counter!

Wichita Falls Man Works For Circus For Nothing

Joe E. Ward of Wichita Falls, a consulting engineer and oil man of that city, was in Washington last week on business. The big Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey circus opened at Madison Square Garden, in New York, Monday. Joe Ward had "Performers' Pass No. 1" and took advantage of his opportunity to play with the circus as a clown for two days. He is the only man in history to troupe with the big show as a hobby.

"Don't want any pay from them," Ward explained. "That would place me under obligations. As it is, if my path happens to cross that of the circus, I join them for one or more performances, then I go about my business. But I never miss performing with them when they hit Texas in the fall. I always play with them at Wichita Falls and at Austin, the latter place because he once attended Texas University.

Joe Ward is 47. He has handled engineering jobs for at least 185 Texas cities and towns, including many PWA and WPA jobs. At home, Joe Ward is very active in church affairs, having served as usher at the First Presbyterian church in Wichita Falls for 23

Don Peed Commended For Record In Navy

A communication last week from Commander L. B. Shulten, Training officer at the U. S. Naval Training Station at San Diego, Calif., states that James Don "L" Peed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peed, Route 1, Burkburnett, has won the coveted title of Period of Training Honor Man.

The Honor Man of the company is selected because of his industry, his attention to duty, his initiative, his ability to profit from the instruction received during the period of training, and his outstanding personal appearance.

According to the Commander, "What this distinction means to the man who earns it and to the community from which he comes, may be more readily appreciated when it is realized that the Navy is accepting for enlistment only those young men who are physically, mentally and morally above reproach. The one hundred and forty-four recruits in his company are representative of practically every state west of the Mississippi river. To attain this distinction of Period Training Honor Man reflects very favorably on the training he received in his home and community."

Young Peed enlisted in the Navy at the Navy Recruiting station at Wichita Falls on February 1, 1941.

Christian Science Services

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 13.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of life; of whom shall I be afraid?" (Psalms 27:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all." (I John 1:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God, Spirit, dwelling in infinite light and harmony from which emanates the true idea, is never reflected by aught but the good" (page 503).

Amendment To Selective Service Act Proposed

Washington, D. C., April 9th—Senator Tom Connally of Texas has had prepared and will introduce an amendment to the Selective Service Act, providing authority for the government to take over and operate during the period of the emergency any industrial plant, producing defense materials or convertible into a defense manufacturing plant, in which the national defense program may be impeded or delayed by an existing or threatened failure of production at such plant as a result of a strike or labor disturbance or other cause.

"The Selective Service Act," said Senator Connally, "now provides that the President is authorized to take over and operate any industrial plant, the owners or operators of which refuse or decline to make implementations of war, or national defense articles, for the government upon reasonable terms. These provisions apply to the failure of employers to cooperate with the government program of national defense.

"The amendment which I have prepared and which I shall introduce adds another paragraph to Section 9 of the Selective Service Act and provides that the President, through the Secretary of War or Secretary of the Navy may take over and operate, for the period of the emergency, any plant equipped for the manufacture of any articles or materials required for the national defense or any plant capable of being transformed into a plant for the manufacture of defense articles, and in which plant, the national defense program is impeded or delayed by an existing or threatened failure of production as a result of a strike or other labor disturbance or other cause. It provides that the government may operate the plant purely in the public interest.

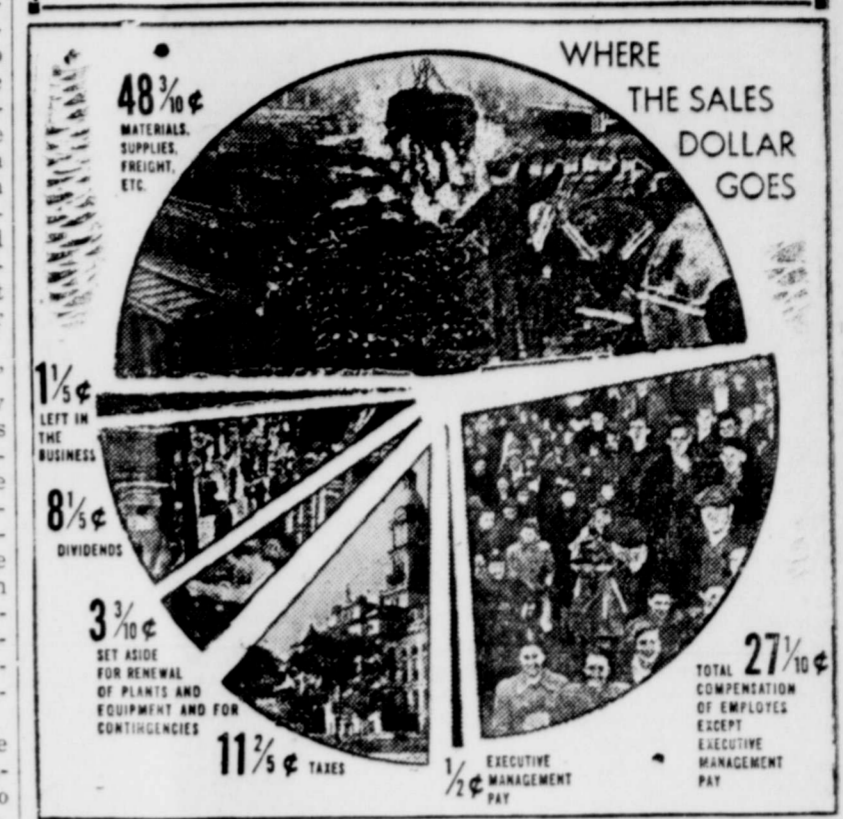

"The prime and paramount objective of the government is to secure continuous and maximum production of war munitions and supplies. Anything which interferes with that kind of operation of all available plants, whether on the part of employers or on the part of employees, is against the public interest and the government ought to have the right and power under such circumstances to step into the plant and to take charge and operate the plant as a national defense project purely in the national interest."

Most of the critical things in life, which become the starting points of human destiny, are little things.—Robert P. Smith.

G. M. Employees Get Annual Report

One section of the 1940 General Motors annual report to its employees.

Stressing that "the defense job comes first," the annual report of General Motors to its employees for the year 1940 takes the form of a 20-page booklet illustrated with pictures, charts and pictographs, in which Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Chairman, and C. E. Wilson, President of the Corporation, report to the approximately 250,000 "GM Folks" on the various aspects of the business.

"The nation's objective is to make and keep America strong," the G. M. executives point out. "More than ever the need is for productive might—an efficient and virile industrial system. The job calls for the best efforts of all, thus can we meet with confidence the responsibilities that face us today and tomorrow."

In a review of 1940 operations, the report gives credit to the entire organization, and to the many thousands of men and women in G. M. dealerships the

IF YOU LIVE IN North Texas YOU'RE IN THE OIL BUSINESS

I live on an oil lease and operate a few small pumping wells. 95 per cent of all the oil wells in North Texas are small pumpers like these.

Thousands of North Texas families like mine depend upon such stripper wells for their living. The petroleum industry of this area supports nearly 75,000 persons, including oil workers and their families. Wage earners of this group get nearly 23 million dollars a year.

North Texas farmers and ranchers receive over 8 million dollars a year in lease and royalty payments and tax collectors get nearly 4 millions more.

All told, the petroleum industry pays out 54 million dollars a year in North Texas. This money is spent and repaid until every merchant and business and professional man—in fact everyone—in our section gets his share of it.

You and I and our families and our community have a very important stake in the oil industry and its future in Texas.

Registrants Urged To Not Be Too Hasty In Disposing Of Their Property When Ordered To Report

Texas' Selective Service local boards on April 1 were urged by General J. Watt Page, state director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service System to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the army induction station. General Page said that there are instances when men sent to induction stations by local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds by army examiners, and that state headquarters is extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," the director said, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations."

"But, more serious is the possibility of inequity to rejected registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connections when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted," General Page said, "or to continue his employment if he is rejected."

"It is difficult to find an immediate cure-all for this problem but it is hoped that through closer coordination between the employer and the prospective inductee much of the hardship and suffering in these cases may be alleviated. Employers should feel a 'moral obligation' to hold a registrant's job for him until he has actually been accepted at the army induction station. Even though he is rejected, surely he has fulfilled his duty to his country by responding to the call for service."

"Of course, registrants should be cautioned to notify their employers immediately whether they have been accepted or rejected by the army examiners," General Page said.

Bill Suggests Abolition Of 89th Dis. Court

Abolition of 89th district court in Wichita county and three other district courts in this area is proposed in a judicial redistricting bill awaiting action by a senate committee at Austin, it was revealed in press reports from the state capital Saturday. The bill, introduced by Senator Olan R. Van Zandt of Tioga, would abolish in addition to the court now presided over by Judge Ernest M. Robertson the 97th district court for Clay and Montague counties, 90th district court for Stephens county and 88th district court for Eastland county.

Eleven other district courts in the state as well as criminal district courts at Fort Worth and Corpus Christi and special district courts for Smith, Upshur, Rusk and Gregg counties would be abolished under provisions of the measure.
