Hike Urged In Chemical War Items

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An Army chemical warfare expert said today the United States should push to develop chemical weapons even more potent than kill-in-a-minute "nerve gases" already possessed by America and the Soviet Union.

Hinting that some such effort may already be underway, but that an adequate program would require vigorous public support, Dr. William H. Stimmerson, a deputy commander of the Chemical Corps' research and development command, asserted:

"It is to our national interest to uncover as yet unrevealed toxicological secrets at least as rapidly as a potential enemy nation can do so, and preferably before he does."

Summerson made the statements at a symposium wherein he and other government scientists painted a grim picture of the "threat" to the United States and its allies arising from possible chemical and germ warfare—and the need for assuring strong defense and countermeasures.

And their remarks were underscored by the statement of Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, the Army's chief chemical officer, that "there is some evidence that the Communist bloc may surpass us in this field."

Ask Subpoena For Corcoran

By JOHN H. AVERILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House Republicans demanded today that Thomas G. Corcoran be subpoenaed unless he agrees to testify about his off-the-record talks with members of the Federal Power Commission.

Reps. Steven B. Derounian (R-NY) and J. Arthur Younger (R-Calif.) said testimony from Corcoran, an attorney, is needed to provide the full story of his private contacts with three FPC members during a multi-million dollar gas pipeline case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House Commerce Committee said Thursday Corcoran and two FPC members have been invited to testify next Thursday.

Harris said the FPC members, Arthur Kline and William R. Connole, asked to be heard. Both have said they talked with Corcoran, but both denied any impropriety in the informal conversations.

Corcoran, an attorney who was one of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's original brain trusters, has given no indication whether he would appear. Harris said Corcoran has not been available for comment to newsmen.

FPC Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall told the committee two weeks ago that a spokesman for a big natural gas firm, later identified as Corcoran, had contacted him twice off the record during the pipeline case.

In talking to newsmen, Harris ruled out any idea of subpoenas since the hearing ostensibly will be to get the three men's views on legislative proposals to prevent back door influencing of federal regulatory agencies, such as the FPC.

Both Derounian and Younger are members of the Commerce committee. Challenging Harris on the subpoena matter, Derounian told a reporter:

"I think the American people deserve to hear the whole story, not just part of it. And they won't get the full story unless Corcoran testifies. If he doesn't accept the invitation he should be subpoenaed."

Younger, in a separate interview, also insisted that the committee "get the full story and if, we have to subpoena him, then let's subpoena him."

However, Younger said he feels the matter could be handled more appropriately by the committee's special investigative arm, the Legislature Oversight subcommittee, which he said "is clothed with all the powers to get witnesses before it."

IN SUPPORTING ROLE—Mrs. Janet Frank, 28, of Westport, Conn., is in slim form for a pose in New York on resumption of pre-marital role as a high fashion model. The svelte blonde is the widow of attorney Julian Frank, who perished in a January 6 airliner crash in North Carolina. Probers suggested that Frank, who was heavily insured, carried a bomb aboard the plane, which possibly exploded. They were married in 1955 and she has a daughter four years old and a son two. She said she must return to work to support the children. (AP Wirephoto)

Amendment Chances End

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has moved its civil rights bill up to the voting stage, but a Southern senator said today "there's a good deal of speaking yet to be done."

Leaders talked of a Saturday session if the bill is not passed and sent back to the House today.

The Senate Thursday choked off any opportunity for further amendment of the measure, which has consumed eight weeks of debate, and maneuvering.

Before doing so it adopted an amendment designed to meet Southerners' protests that the bill would give Negroes an advantage over white persons in registering to vote.

As the bill was drawn, federal judges could have authorized last-minute provisional registration of Negroes whose applications had not been acted on at election time. Southerners protested that white persons must register at least 30 days in advance. The change permits provisional registration only of those found qualified under state law.

Several of the bill's Dixie foes said privately they probably won't wage a full scale filibuster. They said they realize that a topheavy Senate majority is determined to pass the bill without much more delay and is in no mood to stand for any filibuster.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority leader, predicted there will be fewer than 30 votes against it when the 100-member Senate finally votes.

"I think the bill will be satisfactory to the attorney general, to the president and to the House," Johnson told a news conference.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), the Senate GOP leader, also predicted an early approving vote.

But the measure still faced a crossfire from Southerners calling it far too strong, and senators on the other extreme who call it far too weak.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), the Southern side's top strategist, said the fight is not yet done. Asked whether the Republican and Democratic leaders' hopes for a final vote today are likely to be realized, Russell told a reporter:

"I doubt it very seriously. There's a good deal of speaking to be done."

Russell said the Southern side plans a series of parliamentary maneuvers. He said these will include a demand that the bill be sent back to the Judiciary Committee with instructions for that group to conduct three weeks of hearings on some of its most disputed provisions, particularly its voting rights section. But they appeared unlikely to succeed.

The bill's major features as it stands now would:

1. Allow federal courts and federal voting referees to register Negroes to vote in federal, state and local elections in areas where the court finds a pattern of discrimination denies the applicants the right to be enrolled as eligible voters.

2. Require election officials to preserve for 22 months the records of all elections for federal office, and to make the documents available to the attorney general for scrutiny on his written demand.

African Purge Still Endures

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The South African government appeared today to have blunted Negro defiance of its racial policy but there was no letup in the official crackdown.

The African National Congress and the Pan Africanist Congress—the only two Negro political groups of any note—were banned for one year. The government acted under emergency legislation rushed through Parliament after widespread Negro reaction to the police killing of 72 demonstrators nearly three weeks ago.

The government also called up more military reservists, although the Negro stay-home strike was waning.

The situation throughout the nation was more nearly normal than at any time since Negro demonstrations against carrying passes flared into violence three weeks ago.

Thousands of Negroes who burned their passes at the height of the campaign of defiance applied for new ones. They must have these "internal passports" to move around or work.

Workers streamed in and out of Johannesburg and most other cities Thursday without trouble. Most Negroes appeared to be working in disregard of the campaign of militant leaders to keep them at home until the government repealed the pass law.

But the calm that prevailed over the nation was uneasy.

Breaking into a play, the South African Broadcasting Corp. Thursday night read a long list of reservists and ordered them to report for duty immediately.

The callup carried an air of urgency, but there was no indication of how the additional troops would be used. Soldiers have been supporting the police in raids on African settlements in the government's campaign to root out "agitators, terrorists and gangsters."

The Witwater rand Rifles Infantry Regiment, one of the most recently mobilized, is posted at an airport east of Johannesburg, prime suitable spot on quick notice.

Flood Fighters Hopeful That Biggest Danger Has Passed

By The Associated Press

Weary flood fighters kept a sharp eye on weakened dikes along the surging Mississippi and Missouri rivers today and appeared more hopeful than they have been in days.

However, officials expressed concern of possible break-throughs in some of the earthen dikes, which have been pounded by the swollen rivers for more than a week in areas from Quincy, Ill. into the Hannibal, Mo., district.

The Mississippi dropped steadily north of Quincy but downstream the crest was yet to come and workers bolstered the soggy flood walls on the Illinois and Missouri sides of the big river.

The only major levee break on the Illinois side was near Meyer, Ill., north of Quincy earlier this week. The break, which resulted in flooding of some 30,000 acres of fertile farm land, eased some of the pressure on levees on the Missouri side.

Downstream at Hannibal, Mo., basements of about 50 business establishments were flooded for the second time in a week Thursday but the crest is believed to have passed.

Flood waters spilled over about 70,000 acres of farm land in Pike County, Mo., north of St. Louis but officials said the situation appeared under control.

No serious damage was expected in the St. Louis area as the flood crest rushed toward the big city. The Mississippi is expected to crest at 34½ feet but 38 feet is regarded as the danger mark.

The Missouri appears to have eased in the area near St. Charles, Mo., where the Missouri empties into the Mississippi. Officials in St. Charles said, "We've got it under control."

The floods along the two big rivers in the last two weeks have caused an estimated 18 million dollars damage.

Col. Harry O. Fischer, head of the Midwest office of the U.S. Army Engineers said flood damage along the Mississippi and its tributaries was estimated at nine million dollars. His estimate came after a survey in Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and Iowa. Earlier damage along the Missouri River had been estimated at nine million.

The Red Cross has estimated the floods in the Midwest have affected some 31,000 persons and have inundated more than a million acres of land.

Farm Couple In Constant Vigil

GREGORY LANDING, Mo. (AP) — "I think we've got her whipped."

Clyde Campbell spoke slowly and confidently from atop a sand levee as he stared at his old foe—the flooding Mississippi River.

Outside the rectangular sand and earth levees protecting his home, 6,000 acres of farmland were 4 to 8 feet under water.

AP reporter Arthur Sri reached the Campbell farm by rowboat Thursday.

Inside the dike Campbell's own battlement against the mighty river, up to 2 feet of water glistened in low spots.

But five pumps chugged steady streams of the muddy water back over the levee into the inundated lowland.

Campbell, a husky 52-year-old tenant farmer, hired two men to help him build the levee last week when rising Mississippi flood waters first splashed into the lowland area near his home.

"When I was unable to get my corn to market because of the muddy roads, I had to do something," Campbell said resolutely.

Campbell rubbed his barn-like fist across his tired eyes and stubbly beard. And he talked of the 9,000 bushels of corn stored in a huge bin next to his one-story frame farm home.

"I believe this levee has saved most of it from moisture damage," he said.

Campbell and his wife, Margaret, are both dog tired. They have managed only brief snatches of sleep during their five-day duel with the Mississippi. Most of the time they nap in Campbell's car parked high on the levee.

Sharp Increase Is Noted In Red China's Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red Chinese propaganda broadcasts have shown an "amazing increase" and may outnumber Voice of America broadcasts by the end of this year, a government official says.

George V. Allen, head of the U.S. Information Agency, also testified the Soviets stopped jamming the U.S. government broadcasts partly because their jamming set off quarrels behind the Iron Curtain.

A House Appropriations subcommittee heard Allen last month and made the testimony public today.

USIA asked for 120 million dollars next fiscal year, a seven million dollar increase over this year, to meet what Allen termed a mounting Communist propaganda effort and a growing role played by public opinion throughout the world.

The Voice of America now broadcasting 258 hours a week over its shortwave transmitters would get $17,962,800 of this amount to continue its operations at about the same rate. It is building more powerful stations in North Carolina and in Liberia.

The director of the Voice, Henry Loomis, testified that while over-all Communist broadcasting rose 5 per cent in 1959 Radio Peiping's output increased 17 per cent to a total 512 hours a week. At this rate of climb, Loomis said, Radio Peiping will surpass the voice this year.

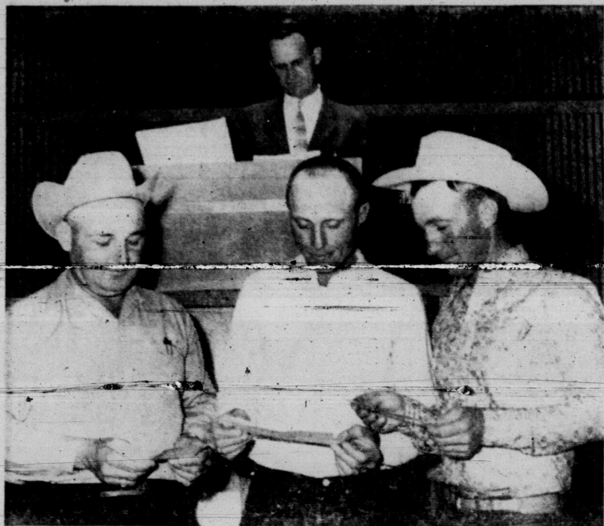

Allen said the Red Chinese transmissions showed "an amazing increase in all sorts of languages."

As for Soviet jamming of the Voice's Russian language programs, which virtually stopped after Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to America last September, Allen figured Moscow's cease-fire stemmed from more than just embarrassment at jamming the U.S. playbacks of their own Prime Minister's voice.

"Further, neighboring countries were annoyed at the Soviet Union for monkeying up the airwaves with jamming."

Loomis said 95 to 100 per cent of the U.S. programs now get through to the Soviet Union, although the jammers continue to concentrate against a few types of news items.

The U.S. information chief said he would still like a spectacular U.S. space shot to compete with propaganda-rich space achievements of the Soviet Union. He suggested a satellite which everyone can see with the naked eye, which circles the earth every 90 minutes and can be used to set 1000-watt lights.

Carr Says Wilson Failed To Prosecute In Land Scandals

By IRWIN FRANK
Associated Press Staff Writer

Waggoner Carr charged Friday that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has failed to cooperate in prosecution of criminal cases in the veterans land scandals.

Carr, campaigning for Wilson's job, told a Houston press conference his charge is supported by [illegible] scandal indictments in [illegible] County.

"This is one of a series of points I intend to make in the balance of my election campaign," Carr said. "These points back up my charge that the attorney general is not doing his job but is marking time in the office at taxpayers' expense in order to prepare for a race for governor."

Other candidates for the Democratic primary May 7 moved from city to city, using such words as "rigged quiz show" and "nakedly-raw."

Carr told newsmen, "I charge that as a result of his (Wilson's) lack of cooperation with local prosecutors the present attorney general is directly responsible for the fact that several million dollars which were defrauded from the state and veterans of Texas will never be recovered and that only two men will ever go to prison in the infamous land fraud cases. I call upon Wilson to tell the people why he failed to prosecute these cases."

State Rep. Jerry Sadler campaigned for land commissioner in Fort Worth against incumbent Bill Allcorn who was to attend the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Marshall Friday.

Sadler, of Palestine, told a Fort Worth audience that nobody in authority can tell the value of state owned land.

"The grounds of our state Capitol in Austin are being carried on the books at a value of $131.50. This is not ridiculous, it is downright silly. The actual value of these grounds is estimated at $11 million," Sadler said.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's opponent, Don Yarborough, protested what he termed "nakedly-raw" attempts of a Chicago insurance company to get Ramsey reelected.

He said Ramsey is being pushed for a sixth term by one of Texas' leading general sales taxers, Preston Weatherred." Yarborough identified Weatherred as a Dallas attorney and a registered lobbyist for the Chicago insurance firm (Old Republic Life Insurance Co.)

Ramsey campaigns Friday in the Sabine-Neches district.

Waggoner Carr called an early-morning press conference Friday "to tell the people of Texas what is behind the dismissal of indictments involving veterans' land frauds."

His opponent, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, told a news conference in Corpus Christi he would wage a continuous fight against dumping of atomic wastes in the Gulf of Mexico. He said "We are not completely convinced that they are safe in the first place and it is a bad psychological thing to dump atomic wastes in the Gulf because it would adversely affect the marketability of Texas fish and shrimp." He campaigned in Corpus Christi, Robstown and Bishop Friday.

Jack Cox, working to win Gov. Price Daniel's office, landed his helicopter in Gatesville to call Daniel's newly-appointed tax study committee a "rigged quiz show."

Daniel told an Atlanta group that "additional teachers salary increases and other improvements in our public schools must be enacted at the earliest possible [illegible] Pleasant to 55 leaders from 10 Northeast counties. Daniel will speak at the East Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Marshall Friday.

Ramsey was honored at a Galveston dinner Thursday. He said that "recreational facilities are of fundamental importance to the well being of Texas families. The traditional doctrine of open beaches for our citizens must be preserved."

Wife Mistakes Her Husband's Signal

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP)—It was late at night, and Paul Thompson's wife and two children were asleep in a camper in back when he stopped his pickup truck here to ask directions.

Before he climbed back into the truck, the Norwalk, Calif., man shone his flashlight into the camper—just to make sure no one had gotten out during the pause. His wife thought he was signaling her.

Sleepily, she climbed down to see what he wanted—just in time to watch the truck pull away without her.

Panel Shaves Ike Plea For Funds

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for funds to hire 694 more employes in the State Department and the U. S. Information Agency.

In approving a $676,579,807 bill financing the two agencies along with the Justice Department and judiciary for the year starting July 1, the committee cut $37,223,948 from the President's initial requests.

However, the reduction still leaves the agencies with $14,563,161 more than they were given last year in a comparable bill.

The committees recommendations were allotted this way:

State Department: $223,784,754, a cut of $23,228,856 from presidential requests and rejection of a bid for 568 new employes.

Justice Department: $278,220,180, a cut of $2,679,820.

Federal courts: $49,800,045, a reduction of $2,701,920.

U.S. Information Agency: $116,988,980, a cut of $6,804,200 including denial of funds for 126 new jobs.

President's special international program: $6,935,848, a cut of $1,664,152.

Civil Rights Commission: $850,000, a reduction of $145,000.

The committee criticized the State Department for what it called "a rather haphazard method of assigning personnel to overseas posts after they have completed a world language course at the Foreign Service Institute."

It said it had difficulty understanding how 700 dependents of State Department personnel could be trained at the Foreign Service Institute "at a cost of practically nothing" while additional money always is requested for training "a small number" of additional personnel.

None of the Justice Department's fund reductions was applied to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which was allotted the entire 118 million dollars it requested, including financing for 137 additional clerical employes to handle fingerprinting work.

Explaining its cut of $6,804,200 in USIA funds, the committee said proper and efficient use of the money recommended would provide for a creditable program.

Funds approved for the USIA included $8,740,000 to finance a high-frequency, shortwave broadcasting station in Liberia to provide Voice of America coverage for Africa and to supplement coverage in the Middle East.

Many Interpretations Voiced On Wisconsin Primary Vote

By The Associated Press

Theyre still talking about the Wisconsin primary, and what it means seems to depend on which party the spokesman belongs to. Here are some late returns:

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York (Republican): "It didn't sound very decisive for anyone. I wouldn't draw any conclusions from it. I don't think any major trends can be drawn." However, the governor said in New York Thursday. The heavy Democratic vote in Wisconsin Tuesday showed "the Republicans are a minority party in terms of registration. We might as well face it."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California (Democrat): Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "the big loser." "The vice president," Brown said, "was running unopposed in his own party's primary, yet drew only 30 per cent of the total vote in a state where the Republican vote is traditionally heavy."

Adlai E. Stevenson (Democrat): "I congratulate Sen. (John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) on his victory in Wisconsin and also Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) on his splendid showing. The total Democratic vote in Wisconsin was another sign that the people demand a strong liberal candidate and that the Democrats are on their way to victory in November." Stevenson, who is in the West Indies, released his statement through his Chicago office.

Kennedy, who got 56 per cent of the Democratic vote and carried six of 10 congressional districts in Wisconsin, was stumping Thursday in Indiana. He cut his tour short, however, and flew to Washington in case the civil rights bill came up for a final vote in the Senate today. Kennedy hoped to return to Indiana tonight.

Humphrey planned a folksy, hand-shaking bus tour of some West Virginia coal fields today, looking toward that state's primary May 10. Again he'll be up against Kennedy, and he said: "This time it's my turn."

Rockefeller, speaking at Jamestown, N. Y., Thursday night, called for fellow Republicans to join him in a statewide crusade in support of the national ticket. But again he did not mention Nixon, the only GOP presidential candidate in sight.

Asked by newsmen whether he would reconsider heading the ticket himself, Rockefeller said, "We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come." Rockefeller reiterated he would not run for vice president "under any circumstances."

Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND) will run against Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late GOP Sen. William A. Langer's Senate term.

Burdick, 51, was nominated unanimously at Bismarck, N.D. by state Democrats and Nonpartisan leaders. He'll meet Republican Davis in a special election June 28.

New Photos By Tiros I Are Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency today released new pictures taken by the Tiros I weather satellite, and disclosed that the tape recorder for one of the two cameras aboard the satellite has not been functioning properly since last Saturday.

Despite that difficulty, T. Keith Glennan, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the experiment is "working successfully and well."

Glennan said that in the first full week of operation ended early today, Tiros I had completed 101 trips around the world at an altitude of about 450 miles.

"Hundreds of pictures have been transmitted" to ground receiving stations at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and Kaena Point, Hawaii, he said.

Glennan recalled that less than 112 hours after the launching, NASA made available to the public four photographs taken by the wide angle camera which pictures a big area with little detail, and less than 24 hours later two photographs taken by the narrow angle camera which covers a small er area.

He said that since Saturday evening the clock timer commanding the photo storage tape recorder for the narrow angle camera has not been functioning properly.

Since that time, he said, photographs taken by that camera have had to be [illegible] to those taken on direct command from either Ft. Monmouth or Kaena point, and received directly — without going into the tape recorder for storage—by either of those stations.

Space Leap Slate Told

ATLANTA, Ga., (AP) — Man's first leap into space will be taken by one of the seven U.S. astronauts sometime this summer, a scientist says.

Strapped into a pace capsule, the first space traveler will be hurled from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 15,000 miles per hour to a height of 100 miles or more, but will not go into orbit, said Dr. John P. Hagen.

Hagen, director of the United Nations Conference on Peaceful Uses of Outer Space, is former director of Project Vanguard for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Two Planes Land Safely

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A C124 Globemaster bounced safely into Hamilton Air Force Base, 20 miles north of here, Thursday night—"on about an engine and a half."

Less than 30 minutes later, another huge Military Air Transport Service plane, a C121 Constellation, landed at Travis Air Force Base, across the bay, with one of its four engines out. Both planes were inbound from Hawaii.

The Globemaster, a four-engine craft, carried 11 crewmen. The Constellation carried 84 passengers and crew.

It's not uncommon for the big planes to continue safely to their destination with one engine gone. But the boys in the control towers had their fingers crossed as they talked the Globemaster home.

Capt. James R. Kolb, the Globemaster pilot, jettisoned 14 tons of cargo and asked for help.

The Coast Guard sent two planes to meet the rapidly descending plane.

Farmers In France Ired At 'Freeze'

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—Fifty million Britons can't be wrong about Charles De Gaulle, but some 200,000 French farmers disagree.

The French President wound up his three-day state visit to Britain today "with the good wishes of 50 million people (the British population)," the London Daily Express said.

But as the British cheered the French soldier-statesman, farmers at home were up in arms against his price freeze on their products.

Farmer demonstrations in Sens and Quimper Thursday turned into riots. Police used tear gas and nightsticks in battling the stone-throwing crowds. A dozen policemen were hurt and about a dozen demonstrators injured.

The farmers shouted their anger about their declining income and showed unwillingness in advance to accept the agriculture program being prepared by De Gaulle's cabinet.

The farmers feel that De Gaulle has failed to face up to their problems. When he came to power two years ago, the pressing problems were Algeria and the nation's finances. Agriculture was not neglected, but it had little priority.

One of the measures De Gaulle imposed to regain national financial stability struck an unpopular note with the farmers. He abolished the old sliding scale price system that guaranteed them increased prices every time the national cost of living rose.

Since the cost of living has been going up for decades in France, this system benefitted the farmer. However, economists said the system amounted to built-in inflation. They contended it set off an endless spiral because every time farm prices jumped, other prices went up too.

Playwright Eugene O'Neill won the 1936 Nobel Prize for literature.

Bridge Railing Fails To Kill Man

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—A man who had 138 feet of rusty bridge railing pass through his body—and lived—has been released from the hospital.

Bruce E. Wixon, 24, of nearby Barryton, left Community Hospital Thursday.

Wixon was hurt March 27 when his car skidded on a bridge near his home and struck the guard rail. The rusty 1¼ inch rail smashed through the front of the car, went through the right side of Wixon's body and continued on through the auto.

REVOLVING DOOR DIPLOMACY

Navy Makes Progress In Bid For Top Branch In Defense

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy—apostle of the moving duck theory as against the sitting duck—would like to be this country's first line of defense. It may never be, but it's making progress.

Since World War II the seagoing arm of national defense has been overshadowed by the development of the fast, long-range bomber and the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Even the worth of the aircraft carriers, with their short-range planes, looked questionable.

Then the Navy began development of an atomic-powered submarine capable of firing the Polaris missile, with a nuclear warhead 1,200 miles. In time it hopes to have 45 such subs. It has only two afloat now. None will be in operation till fall.

This week President Eisenhower approved stepping up the production rate. In three years the Navy may have 21 of these submarines which can stay out of sight of an enemy, slip close to a continent, and start firing.

Each Polaris sub can fire 16 missiles.

The Navy's big pitch for the Polaris-missile submarine can be summed up this:

An enemy would know the launching sites of this country's ICBMs and its shorter range missiles aboard because they'd be on fixed platform, immovable. They'd then be sitting ducks for enemy missiles turned loose in a surprise attack.

But the Polaris submarines are like moving ducks whose locations would be unknown to an enemy and—in case an enemy began a missile attack on this country—could fire their own 1,200-mile-range missiles against any enemy target.

And they'd be out of sight while they did it.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has argued that if a nuclear war started—since all the destruction would be on land on both continents—the Navy, not a stationary target, would be the only defense line left.

But Burke doesn't sell the aircraft carrier short, either, and naturally, since he's an admiral. No matter what anyone else thinks of the future role of carriers, the Navy brass is high on them.

But there's a difference between the use of a carrier and the use of a Polaris submarine. The former would be at its best in a limited war, such as around Formosa. It would be mainly for all-out nuclear war.

Burke has spoken out a number of times on the two subjects.

"As long as you need manned aircraft for any type of warfare, you'll need carriers. And, you'll need manned aircraft as long as you need search and attack missions where you've got to look for your target before you strike it."

He has described the use of the Polaris sub this way:

It "is good for only one thing—to destroy cities. It's the best city destroyer in the world. It will destroy any city you want — any place, any time. That's all it's good for, though.

"It's no good for destroying a village. It's a good weapon for mass destruction. Carriers on the other hand can do mass destruction if they want to, but that is not their primary job."

The Navy also puts up this argument: A Polaris sub costs about 100 million dollars. Forty-five of them would cost 4½ billion dollars. But they would last for about 20 years.

Library Trip Is Big Event For A Child

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The other day I brought home to my daughter, who is nearly 7, a new how-to-read book to supplement her first-grade fare.

Tracy likes the outside books, as they help her to pick up new words she hasn't yet studied in school.

"When you finish this one," I told her, "I'll bring you a real good story book."

"I don't want you to bring it to me, Daddy," Tracy replied. "I want to go to the library and pick one out myself."

For a moment I felt a small sense of hurt, as any parent does when a child blithely rebuffs his offer of aid. But this feeling gave way to a glow of pride in my daughter's sense of independence, a sturdy virtue which children today seem to acquire at an earlier age than my generation did.

"All right, honey, from now on we'll go to the library together," I promised, "but you'll pick out your own books all by yourself."

When a child gets the library habit, you reach one of those small crossroads in family living. By the books the child selects to read that you have not, read yourself, it enters a world you do not know and widens the gathering and inevitable distance between you.

But there is a reward, too. The books you share kindle a reunion of recognition between you, that gives you at least a place near your child in new parts of its widening world.

Across our broad America some 5,000 communities are now celebrating National Library Week. It is an event worth celebrating, and the news it brings is cheering. Despite the many false and foolish ways we now have to waste our leisure, most libraries reported circulation gains during the year ranging from 10 to 30 per cent.

Spring A Delight To Businessmen

NEW YORK (AP) — The first final blasts of winter, whatever rustlings of spring are delighting winter weary and somewhat disillusioned businessmen.

How eager they are for any signs of a turn in business activities as well as the seasons is shown by the quick reaction to news that auto sales spurted at the end of March.

This report from the industry that probably is being the most closely watched of all was credited with being enough to set off an almost general climb in stock prices.

Whether the spurt in auto sales was set off by special promotion schemes or by spring-inspired consumer interest is yet to be seen. All hands would like to think that it's a real spring sales climb that will whittle down fairly top-heavy inventories of new cars in dealers' hands.

Another thing that may be more seasonal than significant but is none the less heartening is the report that gasoline stocks have dropped, implying that sales are on the upswing after the long winter. Motorists on the road help many industries that service and entertain them, as well as the gasoline stations themselves.

The oil industry also is taking heart in word that as the peak sales period draws to a close the nation's stocks of light fuel oil are the lowest in two years. The development comes

Reaves Is Raider Home Run Leader

LUBBOCK— Seven hitters over the .300 mark will lead Texas Tech's baseballers attempt for their third straight win over West Texas State here Saturday.

Leading the Tech batsmen is outfielder George Gibson, a junior from Dallas, with nine hits in 22 attempts for a .409 average. Two Raider pitchers—Zan Miles of Odessa and Roger Evans of Abilene—boast higher averages of .500 but have batted only four and two times respectively.

The only other .400 hitter on the squad is sophomore Jowell Horton of Lancaster, who has collected two hits in five times at bat for his .400 average. Others over the .300 mark include Bill Dean of Lubbock and Bruce Boyd of Abilene, both seniors with .364 average. Sophomore Lawrence Savage of McAllen rounds out the .300 club with nine for 30 and a .300 clip.

Gibson owns a share of the lead in five other departments, including most hits, nine, where he is tied with Savage's home runs, tied with junior Joe Reaves of Snyder at two each; total bases with 15, stolen bases with six, and runs batted in with seven.

As a team, the Raiders have scored 65 runs in their six games, getting 57 hits and stealing 26 bases in the process. This compares with 42 runs on 47 hits and five stolen bases for the opponents.

In the pitching department, senior Charles Flanagin of Dumas has given up 23 hits in 24 innings in route to his 2-1 record. Flanagin struck out 34 to lead in that category.

Only undefeated pitcher is senior Zan Miles of Odessa, who beat West Texas in his only start.

Sophomore Del Ray Mounts, Tech's leading basketball scorer, owns a 1-1 record. With a loss to Southwest Conference leader Rice and a two-hit shutout over Sheppard Air Force Base. The little lefthander is expected to start against the Buffaloes Saturday.

Both are two-year senior lettermen at A&M, with Berry expected to be the starting quarterback for the team this coming fall.

Snyder Hosts District Track Meet

4th In A Row Aim Of Tigers

With any sort of assist from the weather-man, records should tumble like upto the autumn leaves here tomorrow as Snyder hosts the annual District 3-AAA Track and Field Meet.

The Tigers of Coach Jim Stehley perennial powerhouses of the loop, will be shooting for their fourth straight title, and are heavy favorites to accomplish the feat. Last year Snyder amassed a total of 70¼ points to second-place Sweetwater's 38, with Lake View, Lamesa, and Colorado City finishing down the line in that order.

The local junior-chidermen are also the defending champs of the district. To be classified as a junior, a boy must not have reached his fifteenth birthday before September 1, and must not be above freshman status scholastically. Mentoring the junior divisioners is Coach V. V. Shearburn.

The Tiger tracksters will be at near full strength for tomorrow's deciding family get-together, with only one boy definitely out of the picture. Bill Tarter, a miler, will not see action due to a siege of the mumps. One other participant—yet stepper John Weaver—has been slowed down by leg trouble, but will see service nevertheless. He was held out of last week's Amarillo Relays in which the Tigers took part, and is expected to be strong enough to boost the team in its efforts tomorrow.

A total of five Snyder tracksters who copped meet championships last year will be back in attempts to repeat. Included in these are Jesse Crawford, who copped the 100 yard dash, 180 yard low hurdles ran a leg of the 440 relay team, and won the broad jump in topping the field; Stanley Woolever, winner of the 120 yard high hurdles; Tommy Minton, discus victor; Perry Culwell, who finished in a four-way tie for the top spot in the pole vault; and Jimmy Maroney, who competed on the winning 440 relay delegation.

The Snyder entry list in both divisions will include the following.

Tigers Edge Lobos As Defense Shines

Timely jingles by Weldon Ware, Bubba Fleming and Frank Moore, coupled with some stellar defensive work on the parts of Mike Moffett and Jerry Guthrie told the story here yesterday, as the Snyder Tigers upended Levelland's Lobos by 6-4 in a non-district diamond fest.

Right hander Freddy Miller went the route, scattering the Lobo hits effectively, and by virtue of same picked up his third victory of the season without loss.

Sensational fly-chasing on the part of centerfielder Moffett did more than anything else to break the back of the Levelland offensive, as he twice robbed Lobo hitters of seemingly sure hits. The first grab came about in the fourth inning, it being a line drive off the bat of Adolpho Pompa which Moffett snatched with a running, diving, parallel-to-the terra-firma swipe. The other was a sixth frame Texas League blooper hit by Don Burch which he scooped up from off his shoe tops in another rolling catch.

Guthrie also turned in a top performance from his newly-acquired third base position, as he played errorless ball and consistently cut Levelland base runners down at first on dribblers which could've gone for infield singles.

Bengals Never Headed

The Tigers were never behind in the game, although a seventh-inning surge by the Lobos netted the visitors a pair of runs and it looked as though there were more on the way before shortstop Spencer Dyer initiated a game-ending double play to sufficiently quell the rally. Dyer had a rough day in the field otherwise, as miscues on his part allowed a pair of runs to score earlier in the game, but he ended the day on a happy note by playing the final grounder to perfection and putting out the Lobo fire.

Snyder jumped out into a one-run lead in the initial canto, as Dyer led off with a line single to left, advanced to second on a walk to Guthrie, and scored on a single to left by teammate Franklin Moore as left fielder William Fortner tried for a shoestring catch of Moore's shot, but missed.

Levelland tied it up in the second as walks issued to Pompa and Fortner and an error by Dyer on a grass-cutter allowed Pompa to rump home with that team's first run of the game.

Fleming Triggers Rally

The Tigers went ahead for good in the home half of the same inning, however. Fleming started the uprising by getting clipped between the shoulder blades with a pitched ball, after which Miller went down on strikes. Dyer made first on a fielders choice, with Fleming gaining second as the Lobos' Jimmy Miller dropped the toss from short on the attempted force out. Guthrie walked to load the bases, and another base on balls forced Fleming in with the first run of the inning. A sacrifice fly by Frank Moore into deep left foul territory scored Dyer with the second marker.

The Lobos got a nibble in the fourth frame by the grace of a walk to Burch, and a line single by Fortner which brought him in from second.

A three-run fifth inning put the game on ice for the Snyder nine, however. Moore led off the frame by flying out to right field, then pinch hitter Bennie Greenfield got the ball to rolling by lacing a single through the box. Ronnie Wylie followed by walking, and both runners advanced an additional base on a wild throw by chunker Jimmy Harris. Weldon Ware next came up with the big blow of the inning as he teed off on a Harris offering which he found to his liking, the sharp single over shortstop scoring both Greenfield and Wylie. He tripped his way to second on the throw to the plate which was too late to nip Wylie, then scored easily on a double to deep right center by Bubba Fleming. That clout represented the only extra base clout of the game for either team, and in addition gave Fleming a perfect two-for-two for his day's effort.

Lobos Not Dormant

Levelland stormed back to produce some fireworks of their own in the last inning. Paul Esch, a pinch hitter, led off by slamming a grounder at Guthrie which hopped high and crazily up and over his head for a base hit, after which Robert Chadwick, a 100-yard dash man for Levelland, beat out a bunt, thus advancing Esch to second.

Guthrie next threw out Gary McMillan on a slow bounder to third, as he had no chance to play for any other base. Gary Don Woodley singled to short left field to platter Esch, then Chadwick scampered in with the second run of the inning when a skittering grounder by Doug Cannon found its way through the legs of Dyer. He afoned for the bobble on the succeeding play, though, as he gobbled up a Ronnie Simpson ground ball, tipped it a waiting Fleming at second for the force out. Fleming in turn relaying to first for the twin killing.

The triumph boosted the Tigers to 10-8-1 for the season, with Levelland dropping to 6-3. Snyder next sees action this afternoon in Lubbock, as they engage the Texas Tech Freshmen for the second time this week.

In Tuesday's game here the Tech Yearlings came out on the long end of a 5-3 score, with Ronnie Jones absorbing the loss. Probable mound selection for today's game will be Norman Gladson, who has a 3-1 won-lost mark for the campaign.

Towle Courts Scene Of Net Extravaganza

The first volley of serves in the District 3-AAA tennis matches will be offered up at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Towle Park courts, there being one champion already crowned even before the firing starts.

Snyder's junior doubles team of Paul Baker and Mitchell Duke will be declared the winners of their division as they constitute the sole entrants in that particular division. In addition, one other category—the girls junior doubles—is without entrants and thus no champ will be named in it.

Lake View and Lamesa are the only two district members who have no net entries in the meet.

Several Snyder players are veterans of last year's title stab in which the locals won two titles and copped a trio of runnerup spots. The team of Helen Ivison and Joyce Skaggs won last year's senior girls doubles title, with Miss Ivison being entered in the senior singles tomorrow. Iris Turner also returns and will team with Mary Ann Savage in a shot at the senior doubles laurels. She was defeated in the finals of last year's tourney by Sweetwater's Joyce Witt, who copped the senior singles crown in downing her 6-2, 5-7, 6-0. The Witt girl is not participating in singles competition this year, but is back to try her hand in the doubles.

Students To Aid Revival

Two Texas Tech students will be in Snyder during the coming week to assist in a revival meeting at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Mike Lundy, a junior at Tech, will work with juniors and in the visitation program during the revival.

David Howell, a sophomore music major, will be pianist for the revival.

Lunday, whose home is in Lubbock, is a member of the First Baptist Church there. Working with the Baptist Student Union, he has served on various committees and is former president of the Tech BSU. He has been chosen as a Summer Missionary to Hawaii for this summer. He has served as an Invincible for the Home Mission Board and has done extensive work with Vacation Bible Schools.

Howell is church pianist for the First Baptist Church in Lubbock, and is a regular member of the Tech BSU extensions team. Originally from Lockney, he is a representative-teacher for an organ studio in Lubbock, and is being considered for work this summer with the "Tent Maker" program of the Baptist Home Missions Board.

Rev. Mitchell On Daily Devotions

The Rev. Walter Mitchell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be heard on Daily Devotions during the coming week.

The program over KSNY is conducted at 9:15 a.m. daily, Monday through Friday. It is scheduled by the radio committee of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

Navy Lets Contract For New Weapon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Navy has awarded a contract to develop what it says should be one of the most effective weapon systems ever designed for fleet operations.

The system is the Typhon, named after the legendary Greek monster with 100 heads.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. was awarded a 38½-million-dollar contract. It will develop a missile cruiser equipped with radar capable of tracking several missiles at once.

Officials said Thursday the Typhon system was conceived to provide the fleet with a greatly improved antiaircraft capability.

Mr. Charlie, Top Waiter, Dead At 67

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — His English wasn't perfect and he had a large nose and red face.

But Mr. Charlie made many friends through the years as a waiter in some of the world's fine restaurants.

He's been dead since Friday. No one has claimed his body.

The many friends of Charlie Jesel would gladly pay his funeral expenses — before he's buried, though, they want to find his wife and two daughters, thought to live in New York City.

Mr. Charlie, as he was known, was 67 when he died in his sleep at home.

Short and stocky, he spoke fluent French, German and Italian. His English wasn't perfect and often he'd substitute a foreign word for the English word he couldn't find.

During his 40 years as waiter he worked in such places as the Roosevelt Hotel in New York and the French Pavilion at the New York World's Fair in 1939. It was there he met his friend Camille Bermann, now owner of Maxim's here.

In 1949 he came here to serve at the Shamrock Hotel. Later he worked at Maxim's and other Houston restaurants.

Bermann called him a "fantastic waiter" and said "I doubt if I could approach his knowledge of food and wine." He said the waiter loved "the red wines of France."

Younger people would ask to have Mr. Charlie wait on them. They were charmed by his old-time European ways.

Bermann, who knew Mr. Charlie for 21 years, said the waiter never talked of his wife and daughters.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

To VICTORY

...that is the cry of the multitude. Today we join the happy throngs around the earth as we shout together, "Hosanna"! Whatever the morrow may hold of suffering, today we declare to the world..."Christ has come." Because we are in His company, we know that God ultimately will be sovereign over all the world. We are confident that goodness is stronger than evil. We are sure love will triumph over hate. Whatever a Friday of crucifixion may bring of temporary defeat, we know life will triumph over death, and the Christian way will resolve itself supremely in the final destiny. Then Palm Sunday is a day to celebrate and set up our banner of hope. "For right is right as God is and right the day must win." This hope will convert, for us, spiritual defeat into eternal victory.

Ousted Professor In Illinois To Fight For Reinstatement

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—A biology professor, fired from his University of Illinois post because he advocated pre-marital sexual relations, say he will fight for reinstatement.

Asst. Prof. Leo F. Koch, 44, was relieved of all dutues Thursday by the university which called his published views "a grave breach of academic responsibility."

The controvery grew out of Koch's letter published March 18 by the Daily Illini, the student newspaper. The letter concluded:

"A mutually satisfactory sexual experience would eliminate the need for many hours of frustrating petting and lead to a much happier and longer-lasting marriages among our younger men and women."

Koch, married and the father of a teen-age daughter and two young sons, declared:

"I believe I have been discharged on grounds that violate the traditional academic freedom of universities in this country." Koch termed his dismissal unfair and said he will fight to regain his job by appealing through university channels to the American Assn. of University Professors and the Faculty Committee on Academic Freedom.

Koch's letter also said that students who limit themselves to petting may indicate "an extreme degree of brainwashing by our religious and civil authorities in the name of virtue and purity."

Dr. David D. Henry, president of the university, in a letter to Lyle H. Lanier, dean of the division of general studies, said:

"With you, I consider Prof. Koch's letter a grave breach of academic responsibility. The views expressed are offensive and repugnant, contrary to commonly accepted standards of morality, and their public espousal may be interpreted as encouragement of immoral behavior."

However, Koch, a 1941 graduate of the University of California, stated:

"If the citizens of this country do not have the intellectual vitality to come to their own conclusion after weighing the evidence pro and con without persecuting those who believe differently than they do, then this country is no longer a democracy."

Koch, a native of Dickinson, N.D., holds master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Michigan. He taught at Fresno State and Bakersfield colleges in California before taking the Illinois post in 1955.

'Manna' Results In Conviction Of Man

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — It looked like 'manna from heaven" when $36,769 worth of checks were mailed to the office of Frederick A. Nelson.

Nelson explained in court Thursday he just couldnt' resist cashing them to pay off some business debts.

He was convicted of forgery and larceny and today the 44-year-old defendant is to be sentenced.

The checks were sent out in 1956 by the Martin Co., and were supposed to have gone to a Nelson concern, but not the one owned by Frederick. A mailing machine mixup was responsible.

The Salvation Army was officially established in the United States in 1880.

WWI Poison Gas Attacks Cancer

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A poison gas from World War I is becoming a big gun in the modern war against cancer.

It has helped patients suffering from cancers of the lung, breast and colon.

The gas is nitrogen mustard, an agent that attacks and destroys white cells in the blood. It has shown promising results in temporarily prolonging the lives of some sufferers from leukemia, a cancer-like disease of the blood marked by an overproduction of white cells.

Researchers have sought to extend use of the substance to prolong life and ease pain in patients with solid tumors, cancers that attack the various internal organs of the body.

Nitrogen mustard acts against solid tumors by combining or cross-linking with components of their cells. This interferes with their normal function and prevents them from dividing. Cancer cells are affected more than normal cells because they are more sensitive to substances that stop growth.

The principal drawback has been unpleasant side reactions—nausea and other symptoms that have forced a halt in such treatment after a few days or weeks.

In an effort to overcome this obstacle and find more potent cancer-repressing agents, researchers have tried more than a score of derivatives of mustard gas. One of these showing promise is cytoxan.

Four researchers from the Duke University Medical Center at Durham, N.C., described today the results of cytoxan treatment on 120 patients suffering from a wide variety of cancers. They are Dr. R. W. Rundles, Dr. T. E. Fulmer, Dr. T. W. Gore and Dr. A. Opalinsk.

In a report to the American Assn. for Cancer Research, they said the tumor-depressing efforts of cytoxan appeared comparable to other mustard compounds in treatment of chronix leukemias and other forms of cancer, including ovarian carcinoma.

The researchers said, however, that the problem of unpleasant reactions still remains, and that some patients could tolerate treatment only a week or two.

Another researcher, Dr. Donald Pinkel of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., said the mustard derivative brought a temporary shrinkage in the tumors of one-third of a group of 15 children suffering from advanced inoperable cancer.

Pair Balks At Questions For Census

DETROIT (AP)—"The government has never done anything for me. Why should I do anything for the government?" says George Kido. And that includes answering a census takers questions.

Kido, who lives in suburban Sterling, his wife and Janet Vukovich got into a fuss this week when Mrs. Vukovich called at the Kido home to pick up a census form.

Mrs. Kido answered the door.

"I asked her (Mrs. Vukovich) to sit in the kitchen but she plunked herself down in the living room," said Mrs. Kido. "I answered some of her questions, but her attitude provoked me."

Kido became angry when Mrs. Vukovich asked him about bathroom facilities in his home, then handed him an additional census form to fill out. He escorted Mrs. Vukovich to the door and tossed the form out after her.

Mrs. Vukovich, her supervisor, Helene Zimmerman, and a state policeman want to the Kido home the following day and were ordered out. They left.

Mrs. Zimmerman said that when she told Kido he was liable to a $100 fine and 60 days in jail for not answering he told her: "Go ahead and prosecute."

"I'm not living in Russia," he said. "I don't have to answer those questions."

The matter has been turned over to the regional census director, John Tharaldson, who says records show that in 170 years the Census Bureau hasn't had to prosecute anyone for refusing to answer questions.

Tharaldson said he planned to let the matter rest for a couple of days because "too many other things are more important right now."

Singer Wants Her Manuscript Back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Jeanette MacDonald wants back her autobiographical manuscript from a Connecticut writer who was preparing the material for a New York publisher.
