Becky Miller Named Queen

Becky Miller received the red roses and crown of Homecoming Queen during ceremonies Friday night preceding the Horns victorious romp over the Kangaroos of Kress.

Miss Miller was chosen from a field of four pretty candidates. Others were Suzanne Holley, Belinda Ritter and Dana McLain. Escorted by Brent Lemons, she was crowned by David Armstrong.

Daughter of Mrs. Sue Rogers, Miss Miller was a candidate for Football Queen her junior year, was named to Who's Who in band and received the title, Most Beautiful.

Her honors this year include being chosen Miss HHS and Most Talented. She is a

3 Contestants Tied For Top Spot In Football Guessing Game

Three persons took hold of top place in the season standings of the Hart Beat grid contest this week. Glen Gleghorn and Cary McLain moved into a tie with Hub Reed, sharing 81 correct guesses each.

Gleghorn and McLain closed the gap with good guessing for the week, missing just two games each. Ricky Allensworth also missed must two games. Gleghorn claims first place by missing the Longhorns Kangaroos score 10 points, guessing it to be 24-6. McLain was off 16 points with his 38-6 prediction and Allensworth missed by 18 points with a 24-14 guess.

Contestants with 71 points or more are listed elsewhere in this issue. Any of those contestants could still be the season winner so no contestant should stop competing.

Remember, too, any one can be a winner for the week. The contest is fun, enter today.

'Tump' McLain Funeral Held Saturday Afternoon

Funeral services were held Saturday in the school auditorium at Hart for E. I. "Tump" McLain, 68, lifetime resident of Castro County. McLain died Oct. 25 in Amarillo where he had been hospitalized from injuries received Oct. 19 in an automobile accident southeast of Hart.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Carl Oglesby, pastor of First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Fred Brown of Lubbock, former pastor. Burial was in Hart Cemetery under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

A charter member of the Hart Methodist Church, McLain underwent surgery the day of his accident. His left leg was broken between the knee and ankle. He was slated for surgery to correct a break in his right leg at the time of his death.

McLain served as commissioner for a number of years. He was a member of the Olton Masonic Lodge, El Paso Consistry and Khiva Shrine of Amarillo.

Survivors include his wife, Bertie; three daughters, Mrs. Herb Mayfield and Mrs. Boyce Carter, both of Dimmitt and Mrs. Arnold Gilcrease of Dumas; five brothers, Everett of Porterville, Calif., John, Let, Ira and Roy, all of Hart; a sister, Mrs. Sam Swopes of

Fuel Shortages Face Local Gas Station Operator

Hart Oil and Butane has been serving the wholesale and retail gas, oil and butane since 1959 when J. C. Hamby of Olton founded the company.

Early day managers were Myrle Bradley and the late Guy Porter. Charles Black became manager in 1963 and continued in that capacity until May of this year. Bob Berry became manager in June.

Berry assumed the management of the firm in face of a threat not ever posed to prior managers-the possibility of having no fuel to sell!

Fuel shortages through the summer never reached the local area but demands of harvest have continued to pose the threat of scarce supplies or empty tanks.

Propane, higher pressure than butane, is hard to get and has been in scarce supply since demands were increased when silage was being gathered. Grain and corn harvesting followed in the wake but supply and demand should begin to equalize soon.

An unusually heavy winter could hurt again, Berry says, with supplies being directed to that area. Residential, school and hospital usage still has number one priorities, he explains. Agricultural demands are placed second.

Berry became bookkeeper for the firm in April, 1972. A native of Tulia, he and his wife, Kay, and their ten-year-old daughter, Betsey Bob, came to Hart in the latter part of 1968

U.S. Farm Exports Up To Neighboring Countries

U.S. farm exports to Western hemisphere countries hit a new high of $1.59 billion in 1972.

The record was due chiefly to rising sales to Canada and Latin America, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Bigger sales of cotton, fruits, and vegetables were made to Canada, along with increases in wheat and other food products, plus animal and poultry feedstuffs to Latin America.

Additional rises in certain U.S. farm exports are expected in these same areas in 1973, the USDA said

King Ahasueras of Persia gave a party that lasted 180 days.

Japanese Study Team Guests Of Grain Association

Thirty three members of a Japanese feed and livestock study team were guests of Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board and Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Lubbock Oct. 18, 19 and 20.

Leader of the team was Kohichiro Hamada, assistant chief, commercial feed division, Animal Industry Bureau of Japan's Ministry of Agriuclture and Forestry. Assistant leader was Michio Maeda, executive director of the Japan Feed Trade Association.

While in Lubbock the team studied grain sorghum production, harvesting, inspection and storage. They visited feedlots and Texas Tech University.

The team also studied U. S. marketing methods for feed grains and scientific blending for feeding various classes of livestock.

TGSPB and GSPA officers and staff members acted as official hosts for the team while they toured West Texas.

Japan imported $390 million in V. S. feedstuffs in 1972. In the first six months of 1973, Japanese imports of U. S. feedstuffs jumped to $488 million and were expected to equal that amount in the last half of the year.

Members of the team stated that the Japanese feed industry will continue to need increased volume of grain sorghum and other feed grains.

Here's a method of removing mercurochrome stains. To remove stains from washable fabrics, soak them overnight in a solution of four tablespoons of ammonia to a quart of water. Sponge articles requiring dry cleaning with alcohol until the stain disappears. You can also use alcohol on acetate. But it should be diluted with two parts water to one part alcohol. For stubborn stains, leave an alcohol saturated cotton pad on the spot and keep it wet until the stain vanishes. When you use alcohol, always test your fabrics first to see if they are colorfast.

Rock Collections, Dogs, Hobbies Keep Talented Woman Busy

SHETLAND SHEEP DOGS AND CANDLES-Two ardent interests of Mrs. Melvin (Grace) Wagner are Koki, their Shetland sheep dog and candles which she has created. The candles to the left and right are transparent candles which glow when a small votive candle placed inside is lighted. Pictured second from the left is a Buddha candle looking very realistically like jade.

Days aren't filled with enough hours for the many interests and talents of a recent newcomer, Grace Wagner. In addition to her many hobbies, Grace finds time to help with bookkeeping duties for her husband, Melvin, who operates Mel-Ro Welding.

Both Melvin and Grace "fell in love" with Shetland sheep dogs about two years ago and plan someday to have their own kennel.

Looking very much like a miniature Collie, the breed originated in the Shetland Islands. The Wagners got their "Hundi's Koki" (Koki, for short) this summer. Since that time they have obtained two puppies-"Hartland's Misty Morn" and "Hartland's Miss Muffett." They plan to enter the three in dog shows which will begin after the first of the year.

Grace's love of dogs dates back prior to their interest in "Shelties." Her mother used to raise pedigreed Collies.

Candlemaking is one of Grace's multitude of talents. She even designs her own candles, making her own rubber molds. Last year she designed numberous Christmas candles, including decougaged candles and transparent candles which are hollow and glow from small votive candles placed within them. She also created a candle which looked very much like jade in the design of Buddha. She had a number of requests to make the jade-like Buddhas without wicks so they might resemble costly statuettes.

Crewel embroidery and crochet work are two more of Grace's handcrafts-crocheting being her newest craft.

The Wagners became "rock hounds" a few years ago when they went harvesting in the Dakotas. Spotting pretty rocks, Grace began the interest by gathering some of the prettier ones. Melvin made her a saw and polisher and shares her interest in the transformation polishing brings to already-pretty rocks.

Admitting they have boxes and boxes of rocks to some day be cut or polished, Grace showed off a few of her pretty treasures. She has a slab of "chicken track" rock which gets its name from the markings raised on the surface which resemble the tracks of a chicken. Cut into "slices," the rock resembles a landscape painting. Polished, it makes pretty jewelry.

Grace's rock collection includes pieces of "Apache tears."

Legend says the small "black diamonds" were formed when Apache squaws cried over the battlefields where their braves were slain and the tear drops formed the transparent black rocks.

Another interesting kind of rock Grace has is formed from petrified snails and is nicknamed "rattlesnake" rock for the design that comes out in polishing.

"Crazy lace" is yet another beautiful rock which comes principally from New Mexico. Of different colors, the lacelike design comes out in the polishing process which takes weeks at a time.

Grace has small pieces of agate which resemble hand paintings including one which appears to have a small blue Volkswagen and another with a tornado dipping to the ground.

Collecting antiques is yet another interest and Grace has a number of personal treasurers.

With so many varied interests, it's evident there are no idle hands nor moments for the lady of the house at the Melvin Wagner home.

MRS. ED AMMONS

Cook Of The Week

Traveling is a family love for the family of our Cook of the Week, Minnie Ammons. Ed and Minnie enjoy traveling with their family in their travel trailer and have a special spot in Colorado near Pagosa Springs.

Minnie and Ed are into their second year in Hart, having moved here in 1972 when Ed became high school principal. They came here from Iraan.

Parents of six-year-old Rusty, four-year-old Risha and one-year-old Brandon, the Ammons' are members of First Baptist Church where Ed teaches a Sunday School class for young men.

Minnie enjoys cooking and sewing and confesses she has very little time for any other pastime.

Stamford is "home" for Minnie even though she was born and lived in Rockdale until she was 11 years old. Ed is from Haskill.

A huge black part-Weimaraner named "Bueger" completes the Ammons household.

Phillips "66" is strong here, Berry says, but their credit card is honored in all 50 states whether there are many stations bearing the white shields with the bright red-orange and black letters spelling out "Phillips 66."

Credit cards, which made their advent in the early 50's, may be redeemed for most automotive needs, flight fuels, marine fuels and even for lodging at some of the nation's better motels.

Hart Oil also carries a general line of motorists' needs including tires. Tires, too, are becoming a bit hard to get, Berry says, but that is brought on by strike rather than supply shortages.

Castro County In Top Five In Agricultural Production

Castro County is in the top five counties in the 1972 Texas agricultural production, according to recently published statistics, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Castro County farmers placed fifth in crop cash receipt with a total of $29,018,00. In livestock cash receipts Castro was fourth with $48,079,000. Total crops and livestock receipts put Castro in fourth place with $77,097,000.

The figures have just been published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a joint effort of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the USDA, Commissioner White said.

"Even with freezes, rains, and a fluctuating market, Castro County should enjoy another productive year in 1973. Cash receipts for the first seven months of 1973 show increases over last year," Commissioner White said.

Irene's Ideas

BY IRENE KEATING
CASTRO COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Here are several household hints that I have collected and thought you'd enjoy. I'm always anxious to get new hints so please feel free to share your ideas.

Flattened waxed milk cartons provide fuel for starting a charcoal fire.

Brooms wear longer if dipped in hot water occasionally to toughen the split and make them pliable.

Adding lemon juice or vinegar to the cooking water helps keep white vegetables from yellowing during cooking.

Use your wire egg slicer to slice bananas, cooked carrots and cooked beets as well as eggs. Uniform slices make a salad more attractive and appetizing.

Try waxing ashtrays with any household wax product. Ashes won't cling, odors won't linger cleaning may be done with a paper towel.

Fresh or dried herbs give vegetables new flavor with few calories. Just add ¼ teaspoon prior to serving.

To identify the right side of hard to distinguish materials, use freezer tape. It may be easily removed. The new fabric tapes would work well for this, also.

If medicine tastes bad, let your child hold a piece of ice on his tongue for a few seconds to rob his taste buds and he will usually not taste the medicine.

For uniform refrigerator cookies, pack the dough in clean frozen juice cans. When the dough is well chilled, open the bottom end with a can opener and push out as you slice.

Longhorns Shut Out 'Roos

TOUCHDOWN HORNS-Jimmy Brown crosses paydirt with one of his three TD's of Friday night. Leading scorer in the area, Jimmy gained 183 yards in the Horns 28-0 rout of Kress Friday to boost his rushing total to 1541 and his points to 176.

By Pat Steiert

The Longhorns scored their first shut of the season Friday night, as they blanked the Kress Kangaroos, 28-0. Jimmy Brown led the Horns, scoring from six yards out twice and racing 72 yards for the first of his three touchdowns. Gilbert Rodriquez scored the last Hart rally. The Horns finished with 365 yards total offense while Kress was able to manage just 126 yards total offense.

Hart received the opening kickoff and took possession at their own 36. The Horns marched to the Kress 30 where Barry George fumbled and the Roos recovered. Three plays later, quarterback Barry Street passed and James McLain intercepted and returned the ball to the Horns 42.

Unable to sustain a drive, the Horns faked a punt but the Kress defense stopped McLain before he could make the first down. Kress marched 21 yards from the Hart 49 to the 28 where, on fourth down, halfback Max Jones got the call and ran into Kent Irons, falling 7 yards short of a first down.

On the next play, Brown raced 72 yards for the Horns first TD with 31 seconds left in the first quarter. Extras failed and Hart lead 6-0.

The second quarter began with Kress in possession on their own 27. On second down, Jones attempted to pass, but the Maroon Gang tore threw the Kress line and dropped Jones for a loss. A holding penalty against Kress placed the ball on the Kress 9. Kress was forced to punt with the ball going out at Roos 30. Four plays later, Brown blew threw the Kangaroo defense for six yards and another TD. Brown carried the two points conversion to give the Horns a 14-0 lead.

The Kangaroos took the ball at their own 35. After a five yard gain by Trent Street, 30 yards were marched off against Hart; 15 for holding and 15 for unsportsmanlike conduct. Four plays later, Street tried to pick up a first but was stopped short as the Horn defense held at their own 9.

In fourteen plays, the Horns marched from their own 9 to the Kress 39. The Kangaroos held and took over on downs. Two plays later, a fumble by Kresss bounced off the ground and Cecil Jackson caught the loose ball at the Kress 35. The half ended before the Horns could start a drive.

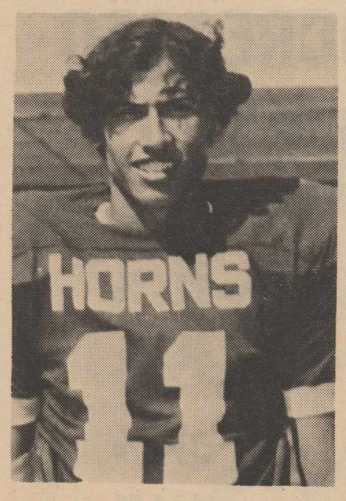

Kress received the seond half opening kickoff but was unable to sustain a drive. They punted to the "Head Hunters" at the Hart 41. Nine plays later, Brown finished the 59 yard drive, racing to paydirt from 6 yards out. McLain faked to Brown and raced in for two points giving the Horns a 22-0 lead.

The Kangaroos marched from their 37 to the Hart 17. On fourth down, Stret ran for 4 yards to the Hart 13, but fell short of the first down. The third period ended with the Horns in possession of the ball at their own 25 yard line.

McLain and Barry George grabbed yardage closer to the endzone and Brown raced for 15 yards to the 44 yard line. An unsportmanship conduct penalty forced him to retire for the evening. Hart punted to the Kress 37 but the Roos were unable to move the ball against a shut-out minded defense. Hart regained the ball but the Horns unable to move, punted back to their own 37.

Horns defense proved too much, however, and a fourth down attempted pass by Street fell incomplete to Tim Reed and the Horns took over. Eight plays later, Rodriquez finished a 58 yard drive, racing 20 yards to pay dirt with 50 seconds left in the game. Try for extras failed and the Horns iced their homecoming victory, 28-0.

Southwest Food Grain
And Triticale Foods Corp.

needs more area farmers to become a part of Texas' fastest growing food production system.

Initial acreage allotments have been awarded to many growers in this area.

Additional acres are needed to reach our 1974 quota.

High Plains Research Foundation has documented optimum planting dates for Triticale are from October 15 to December 1.

Bill Rich

Triticale is gaining great favor because:

1. Will out yield other Fall planted cereal grains.
2. A 3 way crop-grazing, grain, & roughage.
3. Excellent in the crop rotation program.
4. It splits water & work loads allowing more efficient use of water & labor.
5. Permanent acreage allotments for contract growers.
6. Contract guarantees a base price plus protein premiums.
7. Initial contract growers have first option for increase in production.
8. Varieties & cultural practices proven at the HPRF are available.

Contract details and complete explanation will be available during the High Plains Triticale Seminar and Bar B-Q Thursday, Nov. 8 at The Hale County Agriculture Building in Plainview.

Growers desiring information immediately may call
Darrell Brown at Southwest Food Grains in Plainview at 293-4994.
