Business Men Of City To Learn About Valley's Fine Crops In Tour Today

DELEGATION OF 250 EXPECTED BY NOON TODAY

Inspection Trip to Show Value of Irrigation To Wichita

START AT 1 P. M.

Supper at State Experiment Station to Complete Valley Survey

All was complete Thursday for the largest delegation of its kind ever assembled here to depart Friday afternoon on the third tour of the Wichita irrigated valley.

More than 200 persons had signed up Thursday to make the tour. The majority of Wichita Falls' business concerns will be represented by one or more members or employes. Interest in the tour on the eve of departure had mounted to remarkable degree. An additional 50 persons, for a total of 250, are expected to join the caravan of trippers before the departure.

GO TO THE VALLEY TODAY

The business men of Wichita Falls, under the leadership of the Junior chamber of commerce are conducting a trip through the Wichita irrigated valley, leaving the courthouse today promptly at 1 p. m. The entire afternoon will be spent in visiting places of interest throughout the irrigated district. Those capable of pointing out the valley's tremendous advantages will be in charge and every one, particularly, the business men of Wichita Falls are urged to make this trip. Supper will be served at the experiment farm so every one can return home in the early evening.

Third Tour

The tour is predicted to prove the most successful of the numerous farm inspections held here in the past three years. The custom was originally introduced by the Junior chamber of commerce, which conducts at least one tour annually. The current trip is the third this year, two having been previously made this season. One was made in June, when about 50 business men toured the valley. A month later key farmers and county agents of surrounding counties were guests on the second trip.

The purpose of the trips is to stimulate the interest of the citizenry in the agricultural prospects of Wichita county and the Wichita irrigated valley. Great strides have been made in this section in farming during the past few years, agriculture enthusiasts declare, with unlimited potentialities for the future. Farm trips are intended to bring residents here to the realization that agriculture is among the foremost industries of this section, and that in the future Wichita Falls and surrounding territory must look to a great extent to this industry for its growth and development.

Supper at Experiment Station

Of such importance is the Friday trip held that Mayor Walter Nelson has issued a proclamation declaring Friday afternoon a holiday. A number of business concerns will close their doors at noon Friday and will remain closed until Saturday, in order that employes may take advantage of the opportunity of attending the tour.

The itinerary of the trip has been shortened in order that the tour can be made during the one afternoon. Only major points of interest will be visited. Inspections will be made in areas particularly noted for the quality of certain types of crops, including sections where the primary planting is of truck, grain, cotton, feedstuffs, melons and other products suitable for profitable pro-

Hoover Without Power To Declare General Embargo On Foreign Oil

WASHINGTON, July 23. (US)—President Hoover was advised by Attorney General Mitchell today that he has no authority to put an embargo on oil imports.

The White House has been flooded recently with letters from southwestern oil producers asking Mr. Hoover to bar oil imports. These were referred to Mitrhell for a legal opinion.

Mitchell pointed out that the tariff act empowers the chief executive to declare an embargo, only when the importers have been resorting to unfair methods of competition. The attorney general said there was no evidence that the mere importation of oil, when the market is glutted, constitutes unfair practice.

Mitchell's letter to Mr. Hoover said:

"It could not be seriously contended that congress intended to give the president power to declare a general embargo on the importation of any articles of merchandise whenever, in his opinion, the domestic supply outruns the demand.

"There is nothing in the facts disclosed to suggest that the importation of oil under these conditions is pursuant to any conspiracy on the part of the importers to create a monopoly.

"I have assumed, in giving this opinion, that the current imports of oil are in such quantities and under such conditions as to have a substantial effect on prices in the United States, but of course a thorough understanding of world conditions in the oil industry may show this is not so.

"I am therefore, of the opinion that section 337 of the tariff act has no application to the situation presented, and that congress has not authorized you to exclude merchandise from entry under these conditions."

Proration Committee's Technician Questioned in Senate Oil Inquiry

Senators Clash With E. V. Foran During Testimony on East Texas Oil Prices and Waste

AUSTIN, July 23. (AP)—E. V. Foran, technical advisor of the Texas central proration committee today added his name to the list of oil authorities who believe production should be limited to market demand.

Foran was the main witness today before the senate, which is conducting an inquiry into the petroleum industry. R. C. Holmes of New York, president of the Texas company, agreed with Foran in his testimony before the house, which is carrying on a similar investigation. Gov. Ross S. Sterling had asked that a conservation commission be created to prevent physical waste only, without regard to market demand.

Inquiry Drags

The investigation dragged and was interrupted twice, once to permit the legislature to take action on the Red river bridge controversy and again to allow the lawmakers to hear an address by T. P. Gore, blind United States senator from Oklahoma.

This was the fifth day of the house inquiry while the senate did not begin its quizzing until yesterday. Forty-two members of the house showed today they were tiring when they supported a resolution to have the investigation end Saturday, but 63 voted against it. The house inquiry is due to end Monday unless the time is extended. The senate investigation may run through next Wednesday.

Oil Tax Proposed

A bill to levy a graduated tax on oil was introduced by Representative Milton West of Brownsville. The tax would start at two cents per barrel and would reach a maximum of 25 cents per barrel for production of 15,000 barrels a day or more.

The house appropriations committee found time to make a favorable report on a bill allowing $30,000 for the attorney general to carry on an investigation of the oil industry and prosecute violators of the anti-trust laws if any.

Although a number of members examined Foran in the senate committee's investigation, Senators Thomas Pollard of Tyler and Will Martin of Hillsboro quizzed him most thoroughly.

Pollard accused Foran of "making speeches," when he answered questions and asked him if 10 cent oil wasn't the "result of conferences in New York and designed to punish certain persons in East Texas?"

The witness said he knew of nothing of that kind and Pollard asked him, then, why oil in Pennsylvania was "selling for more than a dollar, why the Magnolia recently posted a 42 cents price in Oklahoma and North Texas and why the same company is paying less for better oil in East Texas."

Differences Explained

"There are different grades of oil and different refining and other conditions," Foran replied with heat. "I could no more say all oil

GAS SURVEY ASKED HERE

Citizens Committee to Seek Fair Rate

Members of the city council will be asked next Monday night to provide for an immediate appraisal of the local distributing system of the Municipal Gas company, an analysis of the company's receipts and operating expenses during the past several years, and to compute upon that basis a reasonable rate for domestic gas in Wichita Falls, according to action taken Thursday morning by members of a citizens' advisory committee recently named by the city council.

By unanimous vote of committeemen present at Thursday morning's meeting, City Attorney Theibert Martin was requested to prepare for their signatures a resolution calling upon the council for the designated steps in carrying on the fight for lower gas rates in this city. The resolution also asks the council to establish by ordinance such commercial rate as their investigations reveal to be equitable.

Discussion of the gas rate matter Thursday morning indicated that City Engineer F. M. Rugeley together with one civil engineer to be obtained outside the city offices will be assigned the task of completing an appraisal of the physical assets of the Municipal Gas company here. It also was pointed out that in computing what would be a fair domestic gas rate now in Wichita Falls, the council will be asked to consider quotations already received from various gas concerns for delivery of gas to the gates of the city.

Judge J. T. Montgomery was named chairman of the advisory committee and Burton Stayton secretary by action of its members. Homer Lee, Ed Howard, and Luke McCrory are the remaining members.

Pope Expresses Hope For Dispute Settlement

ROME, July 23. (US)—Hope for settlement of the dispute between the vatican and Italian government was reported expressed by Pope Pius XI today at a special consistory of the 22 cardinals now in Rome.

Convocation of the consistory was entirely unexpected. The cardinals were notified of the meeting last night. The conclave convened at 9 a. m. in the pope's library and lasted until noon.

Aside from the Italian question, it is understood that the pope and cardinals exchanged views on the situation of the church in Spain, Mexico and China, all of which countries, particularly Spain, have been the scene of recent anti-Catholic demonstrations.

Seven-Power Conference at London Ends With Agreement On Three Months Extension of $100,000,000 Loan

LONDON, July 23. (AP)—The seven-power international conference ended today after taking temporary measures to revive world confidence in Germany's financial and economic future.

As it was forecast, these palliatives were confined to a three-month extension of the $100,000,000 loan from the central banks of the world powers, to concerted measures in all countries to maintain existing credits in Germany and to recommendations dealing with Germany's future needs.

Americans Welcomed

The final plenary session at the foreign office in Downing street ended at noon with felicitious farewells which stressed the interdependence of nations and welcomed the participation of the United States, through Secretaries Stimson and Mellon, at the European council table.

In a formal statement expressing his satisfaction with the result of the conference, Secretary Stimson pointed out that the governments of all accredited countries had agreed to use their influence and leadership in allaying the panic which was causing withdrawal of German credit.

Germans Gloomy

Only at the headquarters of the German delegation was there a lack of enthusiasm over the results of the conference. While admitting the Bruening government has obtained a breathing spell in its international financial relations by the achievements of the London meeting, and also obtained an internal breathing spell by the defeat today of the Nationalist and Communist efforts to convene the reichstag, Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius are still risking their political position, according to the informed German view, unless they take back with them to Berlin some tangible assurance of new credits. The American, French and British delegations were agreed tonight that the London meeting had accomplished its purpose as far as checking Germany's rush toward a financial panic is concerned.

GIRL ACCUSES TWO YOUTHS

Police Hunt Pair in Attack On Young Woman

Police were searching Thursday night for two youths who were said to have abducted a young Wichita Falls woman, carried her to a point near the Country club and criminally assaulted her shortly before 10 o'clock Thursday night.

The girl told police that she met the youths, one of whom was known to her, downtown. They were both riding a motorcycle and said that they would take her home. Instead, she said, after she had got on the machine the two boys refused to drive toward her home but sped out of town in the opposite direction.

One youth assisted in holding her while the other assaulted her, the girl said. In order to stifle her screams a hand was held over her mouth, according to her account.

She was returned to the city limits where she was abandoned, she related.

Bedraggled, she walked to police station to report the assault.

'ALFALFA BILL' MOVES AGAINST COURT ORDER

Only President's Executive Power Recognized In Proclamation

'INVASION OF RIGHTS'

Drastic Action Taken To Keep Durant Private Span Closed

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23. (AP)—Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray late today declared martial law on a strip of land comprising the approach to the toll bridge over Red river between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas, which has been the seat of a controversy recently.

The governor's intention, as outlined in his proclamation, was to forestall any contemplated action to remove obstructions leading to the Oklahoma entrance to the toll bridge of the Red River Bridge company.

Court Order Feared

Adjt. Gen. Charles F. Barrett was ordered to "maintain military control against all interference whatsoever, except only an order otherwise by the superior executive power of the President of the United States.

"It is threatened," the governor wrote in the preamble to the proclamation, "by the bridge owners by some process, court order or otherwise to open the obstruction placed on the highway approaching the toll bridge . . . which approach has been ordered closed by executive order."

He termed this contemplated action "an invasion of the rights of the sovereign state of Oklahoma."

Approach Closed

The proclamation brought into force the first martial law in Oklahoma since the tumultuous days of "Rarin' Jack" Walton, when the latter was governor in 1923.

The Oklahoma approach to the toll bridge in question has been closed to traffic since July 16, when Governor Murray, "tired" of the delay in opening a free bridge built by the states of Oklahoma and Texas and paralleling the toll structure, ordered highway employes to remove barricades obstructing the free bridge and block the way to the toll span.

Complications immediately arose with Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas ordering Texas rangers to the Texas approach of the free bridge with instructions to keep barricades up until a federal court injunction obtained by bridge owners was vacated.

Traffic Detours

The bridge operators asserted a contract with the Texas highway commission for abandonment of the toll structure forbade the opening of the free span until a large sum of money was paid to the toll span owners.

Traffic, demoralized at first, has been detouring several miles eastward to a free bridge at Preston since the closing of the Oklahoma entrance to the toll bridge and the blocking by rangers of the Texas approach to the free bridge.

Adjutant General Bartlett left here late this afternoon for the Denison bridge with instructions by Governor Murray to use two or three units of the national guard stationed at Durant.

The governor directed the military authorities to 'hold their own" against any court writ.

Zone Precludes Detours

The zone, 200-feet wide and extending one and seven-tenths miles north from the toll bridge, will be continued under martial law until further orders from the governor, Murray instructed the national guard officials. Extension of the martial zone nearly two miles from the Oklahoma entrance to the toll bridge, makes impossible the use of detours leading to the toll structure. The zone follows the highway leading to the bridge, extending 100 feet east, and the same distance west, from the center of the highway.

Governor Murray said he had ordered the national guardsmen to allow through the martial zone only those who had business to transact in the vicinity. United States mails are exempt from the martial law order.

Meanwhile, the governor took

Wichita Motorcycle Officer Seriously Hurt in Crash on Ohio Avenue Bridge

Ear Brooks, was operated on for acute appendicitis at the Wichita General hospital Thursday night. Physicians said that the attack developed after Brooks was injured in a motorcycle accident. He was reported doing well.

Earle Brooks, city motorcycle officer, was seriously injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile on the Ohio avenue bridge over the Wichita river late Thursday afternoon.

Brooks was carried in a Merkle ambulance to the Wichita General hospital, where it was learned that internal injuries had been sustained.

The accident occurred as Brooks piloted his motorcycle behind an automobile over the bridge. A wagon preceded the automobile. The driver of the car stopped suddenly as it neared the wagon. Brooks could not bring his machine to a halt in time to miss the automobile. The officer's body was thrown with great force against the handle-bars of the motorcycle.

Although seriously hurt, Brooks' injuries are not believed to be critical.

Boy Mariner Reaches French Port With Tales of Pirates and Savages

VILLEFRANCE, France, July 23. (AP)—Pirates, head hunters, and a sultan were among the hosts of William Albert Robinson, Boston, Mass., on a world tour in his 32-foot ketch, Svaap, which sailed into Villefrance harbor today.

His grandmother, Mrs. Ida Knifler, Milwaukee, was waiting for him with a basket of sandwiches when he arrived at 4:22 p. m. just 12 minutes behind his schedule, after having left New London, Conn., in June, 1928.

"Albert," his grandmother said, "I've never known you to be so late. Where have you been?"

Wichita Valley Growers to Load First Car of Cantaloupes Today

The first car of Wichita valley grown cantaloupes is expected to be loaded here Friday for out-of-state markets, according to G. C. McGown, county farm agent.

Members of the Wichita Valley Growers association will start bringing in melons Friday. After being unloaded at the packing shed, located at the north end of the Fort Worth & Denver platform, the melons will be assorted and crated under the supervision of Dolphy V. de Weese, representative of B. D. Cook and company, shippers and carload lot dealers who are handling the marketing of the Wichita shipments.

As quickly as the melons are crated, they will be loaded into freight cars that will carry them to market.

Each crate will contain from 27 to 45 cantaloupes, varying in number according to the grade. A total of 7,000 crates have been ordered for the Wichita valley crop. Each car holds about 312 crates. It is believed that the cantaloupe crop here will exceed 24 carloads.

In the event that the first car is loaded Friday, melons grown in this section probably will move out toward markets on the first train available for the purpose, it was said. The first car is expected to go to Wichita, Kan., although the destinations of most shipments will be undetermined almost until the time of movement. The B. D. Cook company will route the cars to various points over the nation as they receive orders from points where melons are in demand.

Prices to be obtained for shipments will depend upon current market prices as each carload is sold, it was said.

Statesmen End Debt Conference

were well satisfied with the conference results. Secretary Stimson described the meeting as a fitting sequel to President Hoover's reparation holiday, announced June 20. Secretary Mellon emphasized that lack of confidence in Germany is not justified by Germany's internal economic situation which, he said, is inherently strong.

The French expressed themselves as eminently satisfied with the London meeting because it leaves them in much the same position they have held heretofore regarding the extension of new credits to Germany, either on a short or long term basis.

The British were congratulating themselves on what they considered the statesmanlike conduct of another internal gathering by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

HOOVER BELIEVES TROUBLE SOLVED

WASHINGTON, July 23. (US)—President Hoover confidently believes that the German relief agreement reached in London will solve Germany's troubles and expedite recovery from the world-wide depression, he said in a statement tonight.

Like other officials who have been identified with the negotiations, he made no effort to conceal his relief that they are temporarily over, although he was still apprehensive as to the eventual financial arrangements which the bankers may make with Germany.

At the same time the White House took pains to dispel a suspicion that Secretary of State Stimson is at odds with the president and with under Secretary of State Castle, who has been the mediator in Washington between the president and the European chancelleries. The president sent Secretary of State Stimson a cablegram of congratulations and later talked with him over the telephone. Mr. Stimson was called from a barber's chair to answer the call.

The president in his statement said:

"The London conference has laid sound foundations for the establishment of stability in Germany.

"The major problem is one affecting primarily the banking and credit conditions and can best be solved by the voluntary cooperation of the bankers of the world rather than by governments with their conflicting interests. Such a basis of cooperation is assured.

"The program supplements the suspension of intergovernmental debts already in effect. The combined effect sould enable the German people with their resources, industry and courage, to overcome the temporary difficulties and restore their credit.

"The program contributes to expedite recovery from world-wide depression through the overcoming of the most important elements in the crisis affecting central Europe.

"The world is indebted to Premiers MacDonald, Laval and Bruening, to Messrs. Stimson, Mellon, Grandi, Francqui and other governmental representatives in this conference. The conference has demonstrated a fine spirit of conciliation and consideration amongst nations that will have lasting benefits in establishment of stability."

In official quarters it was pointed out that the United States remained aloof from reparations and other European political problems, despite its participation in the London conference. It was insisted also that this government knows nothing of future conferences between the French and Germans to take up their political differences.

TEXAS MEETS CONOCO RAISE

Other Purchasers of Oil Join Increase

TULSA, Okla., July 23. (AP)—New strength was added to the mid-continent crude oil market today as four more major purchasers revised their prices upward.

The Texas company, the largest of the so-called independents, posted prices representing an advance of from 18 to 25 cents a barrel in Oklahoma, North Central Texas and North Louisiana. The company's new prices in these fields are 35 cents a barrel for oil below 36 gravity and 40 cents for oil testing 36 gravity and above.

The Barnsdall Refining company announced a flat rate of 40 cents a barrel for Kansas oil. The company, one of the few that failed to meet the 10-to-22-cent scale that became general recently, retains its schedule of 25 to 37 cents a barrel in Oklahoma.

The Cushing Refining and Gasoline company posted a flat price of 40 cents a barrel. It had been paying 25 to 37 cents.

Meanwhile, talk of making the producers' "strike" more widespread was heard. A mass meeting of mid-continent operators was called for Monday night to further plans for a complete shutdown of wells until the crude oil market reached $1 a barrel.

NEW PRICES ARE 23 AND 40 CENTS

HOUSTON, July 23. (AP)—An advance on crude oil ranging from 15 to 22 cents was posted today by the Texas company, applying to Oklahoma, North Louisiana, orth, Central and West Texas and New Mexico.

A price of 35 cents for crude oil below 36 gravity will apply to North Texas, North Central Texas, North Louisiana and Oklahoma fields; for 36 gravity and above, 40 cents, an increase ranging from 18 to 22 cents.

West Texas and New Mexico crudes were advanced 15 cents to 25 cents a barrel; Darst Creek was raised 17 cents to 37 cents; Gray county was advanced 11 cents to 30 cents; Carson and Hutchinson was boosted 10 cents to 27 cents.

The Texas company, like other major companies, does not post East Texas crude, buying on the open market.

No chage was made in gulf coast crude.

She obtained her education in the schools of Gainesville and at the North Texas Female college, now known as Kidd-Key college, at Sherman.

Judge and Mrs. Mathis on their removal to Wichita Falls first resided in the 1200 block on Indiana avenue. The greater part of her residence here, however was at the home at 1010 Fourteenth street. In recent years the home has been located at 1409 Grant street.

Although Mrs. Mathis had been in ill health over an extended period, a turn for the worse Monday came suddenly.

Surviving are six children; four daughters, Mrs. M. R. Garrison, Marjorie Mathis, Mrs. N. B. Chenault and Mrs. W. E. Grandchildren are Nathan B., Phoebe Jane and Dixie Potter Chenault and Peggy Mathis, daughter of Eugene. Another son, John S. Mathis, died at the age of three years in 1905.

A resolution paying tribute to the life of Mrs. Dixie Mathis, who succumbed here early Thursday and extending its sympathy to the members of the family was unanimously adopted at a special meeting of the Wichita County Bar association in the courtroom of the 89th district court Thursday. Tarleton Morrow, acting president, presided at the meeting.

The resolution, drafted by a committee composed of Judge Edgar Scurry, Judge John C. Kay and Judge P. A. Martin, follows:

"Whereas, this bar association has learned with profound regret of the passing of Mrs. Dixie Mathis at her home in Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 23rd day of July, 1931, and,

"Whereas, she was the widow of Honorable Lon H. Mathis, for many years an honored member of this bar, and was the mother of Honorable Ralph P. Mathis, now president of this Wichita County Bar association, and of Honorable Eugene Mathis, an attorney of San Angelo, Texas, and was the aunt of Honorable Fred Weeks and of his brother Honorable Harry Weeks of this bar, and was the sister of the Honorable Clay Potter and of Honorable Calhoun Potter, attorneys of the Gainesville, Texas, bar, and,

Whereas, Mrs. Mathis was a pioneer member of this community and a respected pioneer member of this community, and a most faithful mother, friend and citizen;

"Therefore, we do most respectfully tender our sincere sympathy to her family.

"It is further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family and that it be furnished to the press, and that it be spreal upon the minutes of the district court of Wichita county."

Nervous
Light-weight becomes 12 Hour Sleeper

Julia Jenkins was 5 lbs. under weight—used to toss around terribly at night. Then she began drinking Thompson's "Double Malted" (chocolate flavor) at lunch and bed time. She is now up to average weight—sleeps 11 to 12 hours. What caused the change?

Thompson's "Double Malted" (because of the double amount of Malt enzymes) digests five times its own weight of other foods. This helps young, growing bodies to get full benefit from the food they eat. Then they eat more—hence gain in height, weight, energy—lose nervousness and irritability. Thompson's practically doubles the food value of milk, and is rich in the food elements that develop strong bones and teeth, firm flesh and sturdy muscles.

JOINT COTTON MEET PLANNED

Quality Improvement to Be Discussed by Leaders

NEW ORLEANS, July 23. (AP)—A joint program for improving cotton quality and extending its use will be made by cotton interests of the South, including organizations of cotton growers, cotton seed breeders, cotton seed-oil mills and textile mills with the aid of the American Cotton Cooperative association.

Announcement that working arrangements to carry out the program had been made was made by officials of the cooperative association at the conclusion here of a meeting of the association's board of directors.

The association said that under the plan cotton seed oil mills of the South will exchange improved planting seed for farmers' "gin-run" seed, the program having the endorsement of the National Cotton Seed Products association.

A joint committee of cooperatives and cotton seed interests, which will meet soon at Memphis, will work out a campaign for improving the quality of cotton and increasing use of cotton seed products as livestock feed. oalslt lIwI ETAOIN T stock feed. It also will lay plans to oppose state legislation considered discriminatory against vegetable compounds.

Since cotton bagging weighs seven pounds less than the jute bagging now in use, it is planned to petition the next congress to require that cotton be sold by net weight.

A 14 per cent increase in cotton goods consumption this season was reported to the board of directors who attributed the increase to organized sales promotion for men's cotton clothing. Another report of better staple value for some cotton was attributed to the cooperative system of paying for each bale on its individual quality.

It was also announced that development of the new crop movement in August will determine the amount which the association will advance to its members upon delivery of their cotton to the cooperative pools.

Whisky Runner's Mishap Causes Delay on Highway

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 23. (AP)—A taste of big-time rum-running, with its machine gun convoy and all, was given several Beaumonters one night recently and a few hundred others were inconvenienced while the rum-runners blocked the Old Spanish trail, Beaumont to Houston highway, for three hours while their overturned truck was righted.

During a heavy rain two heavily-loaded trucks were seen by filling station attendant as they rounded a sharp curve a mile outside of Beaumont. Three convoy automobiles carrying men armed with sawed-off shotguns and machine guns were following the trucks. The second truck skidded as it rounded the curve, and overturned. About 20 cases of fancy-labeled liquor were thrown from the truck.

Members of the convoy scattered coils of big rope around the truck while others phoned from the filling station for two wreckers. The garage men were promised $5 for keeping quiet. A cable was stretched across the highway while the wreckers were working with the truck, and those who braved the rain to watch the operations were given the impression that a truckload of rope had been spilled in the wreck.

When the truck was made ready to go, the rum-runners paid the filling station men as promised, paid off the wrecker men and tipped them lavishly, and began their trip towards Houston once more.

The filling station attendants, as well as the wrecker men, did not report the incident to the sheriff's department until the following morning, saying they feared for their lives after warnings were given them by the gunmen.

Auto Thieves Use Ruse in Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 23. (AP)—Automobile owners here are being put on the spot.

Not to be machine-gunned, but in order that their cars may be stolen. Chief of Police Carl E. Kennedy disclosed one operation of the theft and storage ring, and he believes there are other victims here.

About two months ago Mrs. Ben Greenberg was called on the telephone and informed that a member of her family had been seriously injured and taken to a hospital. She hurried to the hospital and rushed inside without stopping to lock her car. After learning no member of her family was in the hospital, she returned to the curb to find her car missing.

A few hours later two men applied to the owner of vacant garages in the residential section, paid rent in advance for a month, bought new locks for the garages and stored an automobile in one of them.

Two months later, with a month's rent overdue on the garages, the garage owner appealed to police. Breaking in to investigate, officers found Mrs. Greenberg's stolen automobile.

Chief Kennedy believes the thieves have a system of storing the cars in residence rent garages until the police trail has grown cool, then retrieving them. In the case of Mrs. Greenberg's car, Kennedy thinks the thieves became suspicious and were afraid to take the auto out, or pay more rent.

Of several cars stolen here recently, Kennedy thinks most of them are stored in garages as was Mrs. Greenberg's.

Chinese Officials Free Missionary

PEIPING, China, July 23. (UP)—Chinese officials at Tsinanfu have released Dr. Francis Tucker, American missionary whom they arrested for killing a Chinese, the American legation was informed today.

Dr. Tucker shot and killed a Chinese whom he believed a burglar entering the American board hospital at Techow, Shantung province, about two weeks ago. After agitation by the local Koumintang (Nationalist party) branch, Chinese authorities seized Dr. Tucker and lodged him in jail at the provincial capital.

The case had been expected to provide a diplomatic issue, since the American treaty with China provides extraterritorial protection for American citizens and Chinese authorities may not hold such citizens in custody or try them. The prescribed procedure in case of arrest by Chinese is immediate surrender of the prisoner to American authorities and trial in an American consular court.

DRIVER HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

Hitch-Hiker Thrown From Oil Field Truck

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23. (INS)—W. M. Richey, oil field truck driver, is held here in connection with the death early today near Sulphur, Okla., of Ina Stimson, 17, of Avery, Texas, and the serious injury of her two sisters, Lola, 19, and Nellie, 21.

The three girls were hitch-hikers, Richey told officers here, and that he had given them a ride. He said, according to police, that the truck struck a rough place in the road and threw them out.

Murray county officers, who asked Richey's arrest, said the truck sideswiped a bridge, throwing the girls between the truck and the railing. They declared the truck did not stop.

Passing motorists took the three girls to Sulphur.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

It was startling to read in "On and Off the Avenue," that one might not be surprised in the August style openings to be presented with high bosomed corsets and chatelaine bags. Never again the former, but we have made up our mind that if chatelaine bags ever come back in style, just as soon as the once mentioned depression is over, we will have a chatelaine bag. That is if the fashion lasts that long. A chatelaine was an ideal we never attained.

They used to wear them fastened to the belt with all sorts of little silver thing-a-ma-jings hanging from them. Little knives and pencils and odor bottles. Now, we are quite sure, they would have lipstick and rouge in tiny compacts.

We did have a friendship bracelet, a circle for which friends donated lockets, but it has ever been one of the great griefs of our life that we didn't get quite so many hearts and wreaths, etc., from boys as some of the other girls. We took a little heart, with a pear in its center, from our bracelet to put on a chain round our wee daughter's neck. Since that time, it has disappeared.

When one doesn't live for generations in one home, so many things are apt to disappear. Sometimes, though small, they are the real lares and penates of one's life.

There is no comparison more ludicrous than that of woman's clothes in the space of a few generation. Or, one might say, in the physical arrangement of woman's being. The hair, for instance. It has varied so many thousand times and there is no doubt that each generation thinks its own choice best. We who go mostly bobbed are sure that at least we are most comfortable.

They say that ostrich plumes are coming back. We once owned one a full yard long and a willow plume about half that length; they too disappeared and though they were feathers, they were not winged. We fancy we know the dark face the willow plume adorned.

Our plumes came from the ostrich farm in Hot Springs, Ark. We wonder if it is still there. There was also a crocodile farm and crowds paid their way in to watch the men who cared for the alligators risk their lives (maybe) in the water with them. Sometimes when we think of the alligator bags and pocket books in the world, we feel that it was an unmerciful providence that preserved them.

Figures were quite different in the days when women wore high bosomed corsets and in this day of girdles or nothing. Those were the days when they really had "figgers." Somehow we always think of the hourglass figures and the saloons in the same flash.

Times have changed. We've come to the day of automobiles and "sales quotas" and unemployment and doles or breadlines. In some strange fashion, all these things seem connected.

When they had hourglass figures, they had no Freudian complexes and no one was ever psychoanalyzed. People knew almost as much about the Einstein theory as they do now, at that.

Anglin Files Charge Against Lionel Stroud

Charges of burglary were filed before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs Thursday against Lionel Stroud in connection with the theft of cigarets and cash from the Cash Seed and Feed store, 611 Indiana avenue, early Thursday morning, according to Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

A 17-year-old youth, said to have been Stroud's companion, also was apprehended, and was turned over to Juvenile Officer James A. McDonald. A request will be made in district court here Saturday morning, Mr. McDonald said, for commitment of the youth to the training school at Gatesville.

Taken into custody upon a warrant issued in Kansas, A. T. Ogle, of the Burkburnett community appeared before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court demanding his freedom. In the meantime, a complaint charging the defendant with being a fugitive from justice was filed by Assistant District Attorney Mike Anglin, and Ogle was remanded by the court to the custody of the sheriff pending arrival of the officers from Kansas. The Kansas warrant alleges that the defendant passed a worthless check, Mr. Anglin said.

Widow of Childress Veteran Asks $10,000

Suit for $10,000 was brought in federal district court here Thursday by Mrs. Lee Roy A. Fortner of Childress, the petition alleging that such an amount is due because of the death of her husband on March 31, following complete total disability since his discharge from the United States army on Jan. 10, 1919.

According to the pleading, the usual $10,000 life insurance policy was issued by the government upon the plaintiff's husband following his enlistment on March 16, 1918. Injuries received in combat overseas, the petition sets out, caused the deceased to be totally and permanently disabled. Provisions of the veterans' compensation laws provide for the waiver of premium payments under such conditions and payment of the face of the policy upon death of the insured, according to the plaintiff's pleading.

The action is the outgrowth of the electrocution of the principal plaintiff's father by accidental contact with a highly charged electric wire in Bridgetown, northwest of Burkburnett, several years ago.

$10,000 SUIT FILED

Suit for $10,000 damages was brought in district court late Thursday afternoon by Walter Ashcraft against the Hines mortuary, the plaintiff's petition charging that the defendant filed for collection an account against the plaintiff which the latter never contracted nor ever had owed.

According to the petition, the account was charged erroneously against the plaintiff, was filed with the Retail Merchants association as being unpaid by him, and collection sought. He alleges damage to his personal and business reputation, and declares that the bill in question was never presented to him by the defendant.

Farmers Urged to Guard Against Leaf Worms

Wichita county farmers were warned to be on the lookout for leafworms and to make provision for their destruction in a statement given The Record News Thursday by G. C. McGown, county farm agent.

"Evidence of leafworm damage already has been discovered in cotton growing in various parts of Central Texas," Mr. McGown said. "It is but reasonable to expect an infestation of these worms in this section somewhere between the first and fifteenth of August. Farmers should be on the lookout for the first signs of these worms, and make ready their poison. The treatment to be used here, where spraying is more common than dusting, is a solution of two pounds of calcium arsenate in 50 gallons of water. Wichita Falls dealers, and possibly others in the county, now have a considerable supply of calcium arsenate."

When You OVER—INDULGE

EVERY man, woman and child will occasionally over-indulge. But don't suffer for your indiscretions. It's folly to do so when you can so easily sweeten and settle a sour, upset stomach with a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Hearty eaters have long since learned the quick comfort this perfect anti-acid brings. Smokers know how it neutralizes nicotine; brings back a sweet taste; guards the breath. Women know what it does for nausea—or sick headache. And when children have over-eaten—are bilious, constipated or otherwise upset—give them a little of the same, pleasant-tasting and milky-white Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

You'll be through with crude methods once you learn the perfect way. Nothing else has the same quick, gentle effect. Doctors prescribe it for sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, gas, nausea, headache. It has been standard with them for over 50 years.

Insist on genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia; a less perfect product may not act the same. The name Phillips is always on bottle and wrapper.—Adv.

REGULATION ON COTTON LIFTED

Fumigation Rule Dropped By State of Texas

AUSTIN, July 23. (AP)—Joining with the federal government the state department of agriculture today lifted its regulation requiring the fumigation of lint cotton in square bales in the pink boll worm infested counties of West Texas.

Counties included in the move were El Paso, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Terrell, Pecos, Reeves, Ward, Loving, Winkler, Crane, Upton, Ector, Andrews, Midland and the northern part of Hudspeth.

The federal regulation, removal of which was announced in Washington last night, applied to interstate commerce, and the state's to intra-state movement. All counties in the area were included in the order except Presidio, Brewster and the southern part of Culberson, which adjoin the heavily infested section of Mexico.

The saving to farmers was estimated at $150,000 annually. J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, said the only important regulation remaining was sterilization of seed. He stated the success of the amendment depended upon the combing of all seed, principal carrier of the worm, from the lint.

McDonald said the state had made further modification to permit gin trash and similar material from gins to be used by farmers for feed and fertilizer after the first front date, and was considering further modifications as investigations warranted, among which might be to broaden the market for seed in the regulated territory.

Workmen Lay Steel On Santa Fe's New Branch

CLAYTON, N. M., July 23. (AP)—Workmen are laying steel on the new cutoff line of the Santa Fe between Felt, Okla., and Colmer, N. M.

The laying of steel began at Felt and is moving toward Clayton. Trains are expected to be operating into Clayton within two months. From the deep fill that is being constructed a mile east of Clayton, the tracks will be laid temporarily to the north part of town, where they will join the Colorado and Southern. This arrangement will put trains into operation between Felt and Mt. Dora by way of Clayton long before the main route is finished.

Material for construction of the remainder of the line will be hauled through Felt on the new steel that is being laid now.

The city of Clayton has completed a 10,000-gallon per minute well to furnish the railway company with water.

Construction Starts On Denver Northern Road

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 23.—Construction work on the Denver Northern railway was gotten under way one mile west of Childress Wednesday, when Oran Spears, contractor, put his men at work. The first work is the completion of the underpass under highway 5 and then connections with the main line of the Fort Worth and Denver tracks.

The contractor has a large amount of machinery collected here also almost 100 head of mules and will begin working north from the city as soon as additional right of way has been secured. As the committee is now out it is expected this part of the work will be completed within a short time.

The railway company has leased a tract of land about one-half mile north of the Denver road tracks where the material and supply yards will be located. All materials for the work will be collected and shipped from that point.

Small-Scale Farmers at Sunset Diversify and Make Good Living

By W. J. STEPHENS
Record News Correspondent

SUNSET, Texas, July 23.—The practice of diversified farming is falling short of dispelling all of the worries of the farmers of this country, but it has been worth a great deal to many of them, and promises to be of much greater value in the future.

Diversification isn't practiced by all of the farmers here, neither has it brought fortunes to many who are practicing it, but quite a number have been convinced that it is much more satisfactory than the one-crop system of farming. Many have learned that diversified farming is the system which gives the farmer the best chance of making a living year after year.

Farming here is done on a small scale and doesn't appear to be as profitable as that of many other agricultural sections, but many farmers here manage to make a living and keep some money on deposit in the banks. At least a few farmers here have formed the habit of carrying enough produce with them to town to pay for what they need to buy and have a little money over to leave in the bank or carry back home.

The cultivation of a large variety of farm and garden products gives the farmer a much better chance of success than does the one-variety method, because the low price of one product stands a chance of being more properly adjusted by the extra good price of another. Of course, at present the price of all products is low, but under normal conditions, there is always good demand and the offer of reasonable prices for some of the products grown here.

The total cash income from the present crop will be much less than desired by the farmers here. Because of a weak demand and low prices, many will be unable to get money enough from their crops to fully pay their debts, but a great number are making good use of the advantage of canning and putting away a good supply of food to consume during the winter. In this respect, especially, diversification gives the farmers here a brighter hope of being able to stay on the farm and make a living by honest labor.

BORDER AGENT SHOOTS MAN

Patrolmen Blamed for Passenger's Injury

DETROIT, July 23. (AP)—William Cavers, police department ballistics expert, reported today the bullet which struck Arthur Gajeski, a passenger on an excursion steamer in Lake St. Clair Tuesday night during a gun battle between a rum boat and two cusoms border patrolmen, was fired from the gun of one of the federal agents.

Gajeski, who was wounded in the arm was leaning over the rail of the boat watching the affray.

The border patrolmen are Clarence E. Fish and Arthur Wesolowski. Cavers' report said the bullet was from the gun of Fish.

George S. Fitzgerald, assistant Wayne county prosecuting attorney, said today that if "evidence points to carelessness, wanton or otherwise, in the shooting near this steamer, Wayne county will not whitewash the case."

Oil Land Suit To Open Next Tuesday

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23. (UP)—The first court hearing on Gov. W. H. Murray's $5,000,000 oil land suit against the Santa Fe railroad and the Coline Oil company, its alleged subsidiary, today was set for next Tuesday.

Judge Sam Hooker set that date for the hearing on a permanent injunction against disposition of the valuable oil lands pending settlement of the suit. A receiver for control of oil production also is asked. The state applied for the injunction.

The governor's suit charges the Coline company is owned by the railroad and holds the oil lands in violation of the state constitution.

"The damned thing was so interesting that after reading the first chapter I took it to my bedroom and finally finished it in my spare moments."

Marriages Drop, So Do Divorces

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Depressing business conditions were reflected today in census bureau data showing sharp decreases in marriages and divorces during 1930.

The matrimonial market, riding the crest of a bullish movement from 1928 to 1929, in which marriages increased 4.2 per cent, fell off 8.5 per cent in 1930.

Divorces decreased 4.2 per cent last year, falling from 201,468 in 1919 to 191,630, as compared to the 1929 marriage total of 1,232,559 and 1930's 1,128,180 wedded couples.

Nevada had the highest divorce rating, 28.67 per 1,000 population, but she also led the country with 67 marriages per 1,000, while the national marriage average was only 9.2 per thousand.

There were 5.9 marriages in the United States for each divorce.

SHOALS GROUP UNDER ATTACK

Commission Opposes U. S. Operation of Project

WASHINGTON, July 23. (US)—The members of President Hoover's new commission on Muscle Shoals are all opposed to government operation of the great power and nitrate project, the National Popular Government league charged today.

The commission was selected to consider Hoover's plan to turn over Muscle Shoals to Alabama and Tennessee for operation by them. The chief executive selected three members and Alabama and Tennessee three each.

Discussing these appointees, the National Popular Government league said:

"It is clear that out of nine appointees nine are known to be safely hostile to public operation of Muscle Shoals, with eight of the nine having been active in opposition, as shown by public records or by political or organization work.

"How 'safe' this commission is from the Hoover viewpoint and that of the power trust grows clearer when the story is known of the influences controlling the governors and legislators of Alabama and Tennessee in adpoting resolutions complying with Hoover's suggestion in his veto message on the Muscle Shoals bill, in which this commission was proposed."

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas, now third, will be first in citrus fruit production within the next five years, for Texas has outdistanced both its competitors in planting of new orchards within the past few years. With 1,582,305 trees five years or older, if per-tree production this year is up to the five-year average, Texas will ship 5,290 carloads the coming season. Experts, basing their prediction on the number of new trees coming into bearing, predict that Texas will be shipping 20,000 carloads of citrus fruit annually by the 1934-35 season.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Millions of dollars worth of road building contracts are under way over the state with scores of additional projects expected to be started to complete the year's ambitious program of highway construction. A new phase in highway planning of Texas is entering upon the scene—relief of traffic congestion on heavily traveled thoroughfares by widening existing roads or building new in parallel. Official discussion between county officials and citizens of Dallas and Tarrant counties was had recently on an air line project to connect the two cities, Dallas and Fort Worth, and to relieve the serious congestion on the present highway, the heaviest traveled stretch of road in the state. The air line would leave Fort Worth on Ninth street and enter Dallas on Commerce and measurably shorten the distance between the two cities. Relief for congestion on another important highway is made nearer by the announcement that an aerial survey will be made for a 120-foot scenic highway between Austin and San Antonio. The new route would shorten the distance several miles, eliminate dozens of right-angle turns and scores of "dips" on the most heavily traveled 80-mile stretch of road in Texas. . . . Navarro county lets $129,932 worth of contracts for new highway construction. Another section of No. 75 from the Madison county line to Centerville will be open for traffic by Aug. 1, completing the road from Centerville to Houston except for one mile of unimproved road that is practically all-weather. The 10-mile stretch from Centerville to the Freestone county line is under construction. . . . San Antonio is figuring on forcing the railroads to eliminate 75 grade crossings within the city by under or over-passes.

Some boys aspire to the presidency, but others who have seen Shriners on parade would as soon become imperial potentate.

A farmer in Pennsylvania made $1,000 an acre out of strawberries. Well, business for him always was picking up.

Nothing goes to a fellow's head so much as a good case of hay fever.

Some men get the key to the city, others get the gate.

The Motor Boat Comes Back

IT IS interesting to notice that the use of motor boats is increasing steadily in the United States. In 1919 there were only 91,000 motor boats registered in the whole country; last year there were nearly 250,000, and the number is still rising.

Thus comes a revival of an old and enjoyable form of recreation. Two or three decades ago every lake and river in the country was dotted with noisy, energetic little motor boats. Then came the sudden popularity of the automobile, and the boats were tied up and ignored. Now, with roads getting crowded, people are turning back to the water again.

It is a good thing. A motor boat provides an enormous amount of fun for its owner and does so at a fairly low cost. The man who seeks his recreation on the water, whether he owns a cheap putt-putt or an expensive cabined cruiser, is sure of getting a good return for his money.

Where Help Is Needed

THE arrival of more and more detailed reports of suffering in the Pennsylvania soft coal mining areas makes it apparent that the miners and their families are having a dreadful time. It is not pleasant to read of families making a meal on dandelion greens, or to hear a doctor predict that many children are actually apt to die of starvation.

The Red Cross has ruled that it cannot act to relieve the situation because it has to confine its services to natural disasters like floods, tornadoes and earthquakes.

However, that does not mean that the country can ignore the plight of the miners. Americans do not usually sit back complacently to let women and children starve to death. If the Red Cross cannot act, it is time to form some relief organization that can. The suffering in the coal fields must be relieved.

The Independence Issue

THE movement for Philippine independence seems to be making headway at Washington. Recent dispatches indicate that a number of senators and congressmen are preparing to demand favorable action on an independence bill at the coming session of congress.

It is doubtful whether the rank and file of Americans have ever been very deeply worried about the Philippine independence question. There is doubtless a certain reluctance to "hauling down the flag"; on the other hand, it is undeniable that we promised independence to the Filipinos long ago, and the sooner the pledge is redeemed the better for our national honor.

Sooner or later the Philippines will go free. It is fairly safe to predict that few Americans will suffer any very deep pangs of sorrow when that day comes; and it might just as well come next winter as any time.

A Hazard of the Game

ACCORDING to the Pennsylvania superior court, being hit by a golf ball is just one of the hazards of the game, and a player who is injured that way cannot collect damages from the driver of the ball that hit him.

This dictum came when the court refused to permit a litigant to win the damages he sought from another player in Philadelphia.

Most golfers probably will agree that it is sound common sense. A flying golf ball can be a dangerous missle; yet, after all, the uncertainties of the game are such that the driver can hardly be held responsible. Golf balls do erratic things sometimes. Even a skillful player can cut loose with a wild hook or slice unexpectedly. The duffer, in the nature of things, does it all the time. It would seem to be up to each player to look out for himself.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

JULES BOURGLAY, "THE OLD LEATHER MAN"—The "Old Leather Man" roamed Eastern New York and Connecticut dressed in nothing but leather for 30 years. An unfortunate love affair was the cause of this strange existence. Jules Bourglay was a handsome young Frenchman who fell in love with the daughter of a leather merchant. To prove his worthiness he entered the business. A crash in the leather market resulted in a loss of his fortune and of the lady of his heart as well. The shock unhinged his mind and he resolved to quit France for America, and to do penance by wearing nothing but leather to the end of his days. He was found dead in a cave which he inhabited near Sing Sing, N. Y., in 1889.

THE CURIOUS CITY OF BENI ISGEN—Beni Isgen in Algeria is the most curious city in North Africa. It is the holiest of the seven cities constituting the confederation of the Beni M'zab. The latter is the most orthodox sect in the Mohammedan world. It is a walled city in which no unbeliever may be found after sunset, and locked gates effectively bar access at night. Nobody has ever smoked or drunk in its streets since it was founded about 700 years ago, and no goods may be bought or sold unless auctioned off first and unless a number of buyers participate in the bidding.

ICE IS LIGHTER THAN WATER—Water differs from nearly all other substances in that it is heavier in the liquid state than it is in the solid. That is why great pressures have the effect of lowering the freezing point of water, while the opposite is the case with the other substances. The density of ice at zero degrees Centigrade is .9175 and the density of water at zero degrees Centigrade is .99988, it being heaviest at four degrees Centigrade.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

"Why, it's all up to you, Kim," she found her voice at last.

Mary Faith, young and comely fiancee of Kimberly Farrell, handsome blond youth just out of law school, leaves her position as secretary to the wealthy Mark Nesbit to marry "Kim."

Mary Faith receives a note from Kim's mother inviting her to dinner.

Arriving late, due to Kim's delay, Mary Faith is greeted coolly by Mrs. Ferrell. Suddenly there is a crash and scream from the kitchen and Kim calls to Mary Faith.

Mrs. Farrell had knocked over a pot of coffee slightly burning herself. The unpleasant attitude of Kim's mother proves to Mary Faith that she does not favor the marriage. Driving home, Mary Faith realizes a mother's feelings in giving up her only son.

CHAPTER V

Mary Faith walked with Kim out to his little roadster.

The yellow leaves on the trees beside the lamp post hung as motionless as if they were painted on a screen.

The stars were still very bright and large. But somehow they seemed farther away than they had two hours before. . . .

"What a night for a drive!" Kim said. "Gosh, what a night!"

Mary Faith did not answer him. She only half heard him.

She stood looking at the little car. . . . How many times had he driven that girl home in it? Mary Faith wondered. How many times had she sat there beside him in the shabby leather seat?

"Good night, Kim, I must go in. It's cold out here," she said dully.

He put his arms around her. At his contact all the vague little doubts that had been in her mind a second before left it. The familiar odor of his tweed coat, his cigarets and the shaving soap he used brought back a hundred comforting memories to her. . . . This was Kim who had loved her for years and was going to marry her on the first of October. On the Saturday after next.

She drew his face down to hers and he kissed her. Then he got into his car.

"Good night," he said.

"Good night, Kim."

Then, as she was turning to go up the steps of the house, he called her back to him.

"Mary Faith, how do you really feel about this first of October business, now that you've had a chance to think it over?" he asked bluntly. "With my mother feeling about it the way she does . . . well, I just wonder if it wouldn't be better if we put off getting married for a while. What do you think?"

For a few seconds Mary Faith couldn't think or feel or speak. She was, as she told herself afterward, "knocked silly."

"Why, it's all up to you, Kim." She found her voice at last. "You know that whatever you decide—is all right with me."

"Well, then, let's put it off for a while." His voice was filled with his relief. "Good night, old lady."

Mary Faith stood on the curbstone and watched his car disappear down the street, her misery in her eyes.

Mrs. Puckett was standing in the hall when she went back into the house. She had a large japanned tray in her hands. On it was a pitcher and some little glass cups.

"Now, don't tell me that Mr. Farrell's gone home so early!" she cried in a full rich voice that somehow matched her full plump body. "Oh, that's too bad! . . . I had this sweet cider in the house, and I thought we'd all drink to the two of you before he left. Well, we can drink to your happiness, anyway, Mary Faith. Can't we?"

Not knowing what else to do, Mary Faith followed her into the cheerful parlor.

Mr. McClintock and the two Brock girls, who "made their home" with Mrs. Puckett, were sitting on the wide sofa in front of the fire. Mrs. Puckett always spoke of her boarders as people who "make their home with me." She was very genteel.

Her house was a real home, however, to Mary Faith who had come there seven years before with her widowed mother. And Mrs. Puckett had been a real friend right from the beginning.

It was in the beginning that Mary Faith had been in need of a friend. A month after their coming to the tall red brick house her mother had died of pneumonia, and there had been no one but Mrs. Puckett to comfort Mary Faith and lend her money to pay for her course at the Spencerian Business college downtown.

She was a woman of big, wholesouled virtues and small, absurd faults. And she was a gossip and busybody of the first water.

"Well, here's our little lady!" she cried, setting her tray down upon a marble-topped table in the middle of the room. "But the young man has fled without stopping to wait for our congratulations!"

"Mrs. Puckett has been telling us some wonderful news about you and Mr. Farrell, Miss Fenton," said Allie, who was the elder of the two Brock girls. Her hands were clasped around her knees and she was sitting at the very edge of the sofa so that everything about her looked expectant.

"Yes, indeedy!" It was old Mr. McClintock who spoke up next. "We hear that this bad girl of ours is going to get married and desert us all!" His mild, watery eyes smiled at Mary Faith through the thin haze of his cigar smoke.

"I've been telling these dear good people that you're going to leave us in less than two weeks, Mary Faith." Mrs. Puckett began to pour the cider into little cups as she talked. "The first of October—that's the date, isn't it?"

It was not the date. There was no longer any date for the wedding, and Mary Faith did her best to say so with a cheerful, natural air.

She must be cheerful and offhand about this, she kept telling herself. She must not let these people, or anybody, know how she felt about the postponement of the wedding. There were certain things that you owed to your pride no matter what happened to you!

"We've decided not to be married on the first," she said, and there was not a quiver in her voice. "Kim—Mr. Farrell—found out today that he can't get away from the office just now."

She wondered if any of them believed her. So was pretty sure that not one of them did. She caught Lily Brock giving her a narrow, calculating look as she took a sup of cider from Mrs. Puckett's tray.

They all lifted their cups in their

Q.—Is the Stars and Stripes the oldest flag now in use?—S. L.

A.—It is the second oldest established flag, the Danish flag being the only one which dates further back in an unchanged form. The cross of the Danish flag was adopted as the national emblem in the year 1219. The changes in our flag are not figured, as the law establishing the flag provided for them. At the time the United States flag was officially adopted on June 14, 1777, there were a good many national flags which had been in use for a considerable period of time, but through changes in government these flags have all since been changed in one way or another. The present British national flag or "Union Jack" was not adopted until 1801, the date of the union of Great Britain with Ireland.

Q.—How old is the expression, dead as a door nail?—A. J. D.

A.—It is found in Langland's Piers Plowman (1363), so may be much older than that.

Q.—What is meant by the Spanish main?—F. T.

A.—It is properly the northern coast of South America, going westward from the mouth of the Orinoco to the Isthmus of Panama, or a little farther; the mainland bordering the Caribbean sea, called by the Spanish conquerors tierra firme. The term is often applied, however, to the curving chain of islands forming the northern and eastern boundaries of the Caribbean sea, beginning from Mosquito, near the isthmus, and including Jamaica, Santo Domingo, the Leeward islands, and the Winward islands, to the coast of Venesuela, South America.

Q.—In the days of the czarist regime in Russia, who bore the titles of grand duke and grand duchess?—M. A. D.

Salt and pepper.
Butter.

Remove skin from kidneys and split lengthwise. Cook bacon in a hot frying pan until crisp. Remove and keep hot. Then saute kidneys in bacon fat for about four minutes or until tender. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little butter. Arrange on buttered toast and garnish with bacon and parsley. Serves six.

Popovers

Two eggs.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
Two teaspoonfuls butter (melted).
Two cupfuls milk.
Two cupfuls flour.

Beat eggs slightly. Sift flour and salt, and add alternately with milk to eggs. Add melted butter. Beat with egg batter until smooth and full of bubbles. Fill hot greased cast aluminum or iron gem pans or glass or earthenware custard cups, two-thirds full of popover batter. Place immediately in a hot oven of 450 degrees Fahrenheit and bake for 30 minutes. Then lower temperature to 350 degrees Fahrenheit and bake for 15 minutes longer. Makes nine popovers.

Popovers may be served hot as a bread, for breakfast or luncheon; or may be used as a dessert with lemon filling or sauce. Fruit makes a pleasing addition to popovers. Before baking, drop pieces of apples, peaches, or other fruit, into the batter in each cup.

Three cupfuls fresh, chilled raspberries.
Six tablespoonfuls granulated sugar.
Two teaspoonfuls bottled lime juice.
Two tablespoonfuls finely chopped mint leaves.

Dissolve one-half teaspoonful of extract of beef and one tablespoonful of butter; add one tablespoonful of flour and make a gravy with the milk left in pan after the ham is cooked.

Stuffed Peaches

One-half pound flour.
One-half pound butter.

Brown Sugar Spice Cake With Baked Icing

Two cupfuls brown sugar.
One cupful shortening.
Four eggs.
Two and two-thirds cupfuls cake flour or two and one-half cupfuls all purpose flour.
One teaspoonful soda.
One teaspoonful baking powder.
One teaspoonful cloves.
One teaspoonful cinnamon.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One cupful sour milk.

Cream the shortening; add sugar gradually. Reserve the two large egg whites for the icing; add well beaten egg yolks and two of the whites. Sift flour once before measuring; then sift flour, soda, baking powder, spices and salt together; add alternately with flour mixture. Pour into a greased and floured pan 8½ by 12½ inches in diameter. Beat egg whites until they hold a point; add 1 cupful brown sugar beating it in gradually. Spread on top of cake batter. Sprinkle chopped nuts over the top. Bake for 45 minutes in a 350 degree Fahrenheit oven. This makes a very large cake. The recipe may be divided in half and baked in an eight inch square pan for 35 minutes.

Rice Pudding Served in Many Ways

Rice pudding, which may be served in more than 50 ways, is a very popular dessert in restaurants but as it appears on most tables it can not be called a popular dessert. But if it is properly made and appetizingly served its weekly appearance will be hailed with delight by all members of the family.

All rice should be washed before using to free it from the powder with which it is often coated. This is best accomplished by putting rice in a strainer over a bowl nearly full of cold water and rubbing the grains between the hands. The strainer should then be lifted from the bowl and the water changed. Repeat the process three or four times until the water is clear.

Boiled Rice

Wash rice. Allow two quarts of boiling water and one tablespoonful salt for each cupful rice. When the water is boiling rapidly, sprinkle in the rice slowly so that the water does not stop boiling. Continue rapid cooking until rice is tender, lifting the rice occasionally with a fork so that it does not stick to the bottom of the pan. When tender, drain rice in a colander; rinse by pouring hot water through it; dry in a warm oven, stirring the rice once or twice with a fork so that the steam may escape. Simple rice puddings may be made by serving with the following: Cream and sugar, either white or brown; thin cream and stewed prunes; maple syrup; chocolate sauce; lemon sauce; hard sauce.

Steamed Rice

One and one-half cupfuls boiling water.
One teaspoonful salt.
One cupful rice.
One and one-half cuupfuls milk.

Put salt and water in top of double boiler; place over flame and when boiling vigorously add washed rice, stirring with a fork to prevent it from adhering to the bottom of the boiler. Cover and cook five minutes, place over under part of double boiler and steam until water is absorbed. Add milk and cook five minutes or until kernels are soft. Serve hot with cream and sugar, strawberry sauce, peach sauce, or sliced bananas and cream.

Iced Orange Pudding

Cook four ounces or one-half cup rice in one quart rich milk with three-fourth cup sugar, and chopped rind one orange, until rice is soft; then add juice of one orange, one-half teaspoonful vanilla, one teaspoonful orange-flower water, yolks of six eggs, one-half cup heavy cream. Freeze until firm using three parts ice to one part salt or place in the drawer of a mechanical refrigerator for two or three hours. Serve in tall glasses garnished with sections of orange and whipped cream.

Chilled Pineapple Rice

Four cupfuls steamed rice, cold.
One-half to one cupful sugar.
One small can grated pineapple.
One cupful double cream.

Add sugar and pineapple to cooked rice and fold in the stiffly beaten cream. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses.

Rice Bavarian

One tablespoonful gelatin.
Three tablespoonfuls water.
One cup hot cooked rice.
Three-fourths cupful cream.
Two tablespoonfuls sugar.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful vanilla.

Soak gelatin in three tablespoonfuls water until water is absorbed, add to hot rice, with sugar, salt, and vanilla, and beat well. Set aside until it begins to stiffen and fold in the cream beaten stiff. The whites of two eggs may be used instead of cream, if desired. Turn into a mold or pile lightly in a glass dish or in individual glasses. Serve with orange marmalade, preserved figs, or fresh strawberries crushed and sweetened, crushed pineapple garnished with maraschino cherries.

Pineapple Rice Baravian

To rice Bavarian before molding add one-third cupful crushed pineapple and one-third cupful loganberries or raspberries drained from their juice. Serve with a sauce made from one cup loganberry juice and three-fourths cupful sugar boiled to a thick syrup.

Rice Bavarian With Cherries And Nuts

To rice Bavarian add one-fourth cupful confectioner's sugar, one-third cupful candied cherries cut in pieces, and one-third cup walnut meats broken in pieces. Serve with a red fruit sauce.

Maple Rice With Pineapple

One tablespoonful gelatin.
Four tablespoonfuls cold water.
Two cupfuls boiled rice.
One-half cupful maple sugar.
Two-thirds cupful grated pineapple.
One egg white.

Soften the gelatin in the cold water and dissolve by placing it over hot water. Combine the gelatin with the rice and sugar. When the mixture begins to thicken, add the pineapple and beaten egg white Turn into molds and serve with maple sauce to which one-fourth cupful of chopped English walnuts has been added.

Make maple sauce by cooking together until thick one cupful maple syrup, one-fourth cupful cold water, one teaspoonful cornstarch and one tablespoonful butter. (Stir cornstarch into the cold water before adding the other ingredients).

Rice and Bananas

Add to steamed rice one-fourth cupful sugar, four tablespoonfuls butter, grated rind of half a lemon. Pack in a ring mold which has been buttered and sprinkled with sugar. Place in a pan of hot water and put in the oven for 20 minutes. Unmold on serving dish and garnish with candied cherries and bits of angelica. Fill center with bananas peeled and cut in slices, and serve with lemon sauce. Make lemon sauce by boiling three-fourths cupful of sugar and one-fourth cupful of water together for five minutes; remove from the fire and add two teaspoonfuls butter and one tablespoonful of lemon juice.

FLYING PRIEST MAKING HOP

Feltes on Way to Wilds Of Alaska

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 23. (US)—The "Flying Jesuit," Brother George U. Feltes, flew here from New York today, on the first leg of his transcontinental air journey to the wilds of Alaska, where he is a missionary.

The Alaska Missionary, as the plane is named, will serve 27 missions, one of which is within the arctic circle. From Buffalo, Brother Feltes planned to fly by way of Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City, Amarillo and Los Angeles.

In landing here the plane's landing gear was broken.

This may cause delay of several hours in taking off for Detroit.

East Texas Has Building Program

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 23. (AP)—With more than $4,500,000 already spent for new building in seven East Texas towns during the first half of the year and an additional estimated $500,000 in the smaller towns, city building and construction bids fair to pass the $10,000,000 mark this year, according to information obtained in a survey of five East Texas counties, adjoining Gregg.

A new East Texas is fast springing up. Buildings are of better construction, of more substantial material, and of a more permanent nature than heretofore. Practically every new structure erected, the survey shows, was built to last. Shacks and smaller frame houses were not included in the survey.

The total of estimated building permits for the first half of the year, in round figures, was $4,525,000. This sum was divided as follows: Tyler, $1,750,000 (which includes the permit for a big oil refinery); Longview, $1,025,000; Henderson, $625,000; Kilgore, $450,000; Marshall, $300,000; Gladewater, $200,000; and Gilmer, $150,000. The Kilgore estimate was given by City Secretary V. L. Barton, while the Henderson estimate was furnished by a Henderson daily newspaper.

The summary shows that there were approximately 925 new homes constructed in the seven cities named. Tyler was first with an estimated 300; Longview second with 250; Henderson third with 200; while the other four cities were listed as follows: Kilgore, 100; Marshall, 50; Gladewater, 15, and Gilmer, 10.

Police to Campaign For Better Auto Lights

Wichita Falls motorists are too negligent relative to keeping lights of their automobiles in good condition, and are due to be reminded officially of such shortcomings in the near future, according to Acting City Manager W. E. McBroom.

A "light survey" made by city officers Wednesday night in front of the Memorial auditorium, it was said, revealed a startling percentage of cars with defective lights. During 16 minutes, it was related, a total of 42 cars passed the auditorium and were checked for lights. Seven of them had no tail lights burning; two had only one headlight showing; and one had no lights at all.

Traffic squads of the city are being instructed to stage a campaign to correct these conditions, it was stated.

Grain Shipments From Anson Light So Far

Special to The Record News.

ANSON, Texas, July 23.—To the last part of the week a total of 14 cars of grain have been shipped from Anson, 13 of wheat and one of oats. One car has been shipped out of Hawley by Anson merchants.

Oats are quoted at 20 cents, wheat at 30 cents a bushel, very little being offered. It is stated that many farmers are holding their grain, having nothing to lose in so doing, as it will not more than pay expenses with a good yield on the present market. Bankers in many instances urge that grain be held for better prices.

School Trustees To Hold Anson Session

ANSON, Texas, July 23. — On Monday, Aug. 4, the trustees of the rural and rural independent schools of the county will meet in the city of Anson for an all-day session, with at least one state speaker, according to County Superintendent B. T. Beaver.

G. L. Huckaby, representing the state department of education, will be here for an address. Other speakers from the county will be on the program.

There are usually about 100 trustees and guests present on this occasion.

Hall County Asks Signal At End of Pavement

MEMPHIS, Texas, July 22. (AP)—The state highway department will be asked to place a flicker danger light at the end of the pavement a mile north of Memphis, where state highway No. 5 curves sharply to cross the Denver tracks.

Commissioners courts of Hall and Donley counties will ask for the light, and will take steps to share the cost if the state department refuses to act.

Many serious accidents have occurred at the curve, climaxed by the death of a Malone woman in a recent accident.

MARY FAITH

hands. Mr. McClintock, as toastmaster, cleared his throat.

"We had intended to drink to the long life and happiness of you two young people, Miss Fenton," he said to Mary Faith in his courteous, old-fashioned way. "The bridegroom-to-be isn't here, but let us drink the toast just as if he were! The wedding is postponed, but that means we shall keep our girl here with us a little longer."

Mary Faith faced them all with a wide smile that did not hide the unhappiness in her eyes.

"Drink your cider, Mary Faith," Mrs. Puckett said, when she herself had had three cups of it. "It's very refreshing."

Mary Faith tried to drink it. It tasted bitter. . . . Life itself had a bitter taste to her that night.

"Tomorrow," she thought when she was lying in bed an hour later. "Tomorrow I'll have to go through all this again at the office; explaining everything to everybody."

Tomorrow dawned cold and gray with raindrops that looked like tears running down the window panes in her room. The trees in Haltnorth park were hidden in a mist, and Mary Faith bathed and dressed by electric light.

There was a light burning in the lower hall, too, she saw as she came down the stairs at 8 o'clock.

A man was sitting just inside the curtained door of the parlor. At the sound of her light, hurrying steps he got up and came out into the hall.

It was Kim. Before he reached her he began to speak.

"I want to talk to you, Mary Faith," he said quickly and unsteadily. "Is there any place where we can be alone?"

Beyond him in the parlor Mary Faith could see Mr. McClintock sitting beside the fire reading the morning paper. Agnes was standing in the door of the dining room.

"There's no place here," she said, looking up at him, a faint, puzzled frown between her eyes. "Is your car outside? We could drive downtown together."

"We'll drive over to the park for a minute," said Kim. "I'm not going straight downtown this morning. I have to stop off and see a man on the way down."

Haltnorth park on that gray autumn morning was deserted and full of the sad sound of rain dripping from the trees and bushes. The green iron benches where sweethearts and nursemaids took their ease during the hot weather had all been taken away.

Kim stopped his roadster near the little lake where swans swam lazily all through the long drowsy days of summer. There was nothing on the brown ruffled water now but a few dead leaves.

"I don't know just how I'm going to tell you what I've got to tell you, Mary Faith," he began, turning off the engine of the car. "I swear I don't—"

He looked at her. Many Faith looked back at him, never helping with a word.

"Last night after I left you," he said slowly, "I didn't go straight home. I meant to, and then I got to thinking about Janet. I got to thinking about her and I drove around to see her."

San Angelo Prisoner Caught in Mississippi

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 23. (AP)—R. E. (Blackie) Martin, one of five men who escaped from the Tom Green county jail here on May 16, was arrested last night in Tinsley, near Yazoo City, Miss., according to information from the sheriff there to local officers today.

At the same hour of Martin's capture, Joe Payne, the trusty who was overpowered by the five in escaping jail here, crawled down an elevator in the county jail and walked to freedom. He had not been seen today.

Deputies were en route to Austin this afternoon to secure requisition papers to return Martin to San Angelo.

BUTTER PRICES SHOW ADVANCE

Childress Dealers Paying 19 Cents Pound

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 23.—Butterfat prices have been advancing for the past two or three weeks, according to local dealers. Monday a price of 19 cents per pound for butterfat was posted by the dealers. At this time there are about 300 farmers in the Childress trade territory selling cream and butterfat to local dealers. A few are shipping to other points. It is expected that with good feed crops the number of dairy cows will be increased more than 25 per cent.

Fisherman Scores 'Birdie' at Dallas

DALLAS, July 23. (AP)—Guy Nowlin, Dallas deputy sheriff, discovered last night that a golf course was not the only place a sportsman could get a "birdie."

It seems he had set out several fish poles at Bachman's dam and had retired to the campsite to play cards. Suddenly he heard a commotion at the water's edge. Visions of a four-pound bass gave him added speed as he hurried to his poles.

He reached the water edge just in time to grab one of them as it slid into the water. After a tough battle he finally dragged his prize ashore and found he had landed a mudhen.

"Went fishing and caught an off-brand duck," he explained. "I guess that gives me a 'birdie.'"

Ample Water Supply Assured for Childress

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 23.—Although the past three years have been dry Childress has not suffered in the least for water, and information is to the effect the supply is large enough to carry the city through another year. The city has a large lake eight miles west, also wells at a point five miles west of the lake. The well water is pumped to the reservoirs at the lake and then pushed on to the city. At this time the water used is about one-half lake and the other from the wells. The water is pure and of good taste.

Iowa boys in 4-H clubs last year raised an average of 6.9 more bushels of corn to the acre than their fathers did in the same fields.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pityriasis Rosea

Question—H. B. asks: "How does pityriasis rosea affect one, what is its cause, and what is the best procedure toward a cure?"

Answer—Pityriasis rosea is a disease of the skin caused by an inflammation which produces rose-colored and ring-shaped patches, which seem to be caused by a toxic substance irritating the nerve endings under the skin of the region affected. I would suggest a fasting and dieting regimen, repeating a short fast of four or five days at intervals of one month apart, using a well balanced diet between the fasting periods, until the condition has cleared up. Also use hot and cold shower to the skin, and try to obtain sunbaths directly over the parts affected.

Popcorn

Question—B. L. N. asks: "Has popcorn any great food value?"

Answer—Popcorn is a form of starch which is easily digested when it is cooked in the usual way, that is, by heating the corn till it pops open, splitting the kernel and exploding the starch cells. It should be used as the principal starch part of a meal, and may be seasoned with butter and salt. Use it with the non-starchy vegetables, but not with proteins.

Stomach Ulcers Sometimes Painless

Question—R. K. asks: "Is it possible to have an ulcer of the stomach without any pain. A doctor has told me that was my trouble, although my only discomfort is that it seems my stomach is full of water."

Answer—It is possible to have ulcers in the stomach without any decided pain, although usually there is some discomfort within a short time after eating. An X-ray picture should always be taken where ulcers are suspected.

Petition to Pope Asks Creation Of American Saint

VATICAN CITY, July 23. (AP)—A petition bearing the signatures of 150,000 Americans asking that the first American saint be created in the person of Mother Elizabeth Seton, founder of the Sisters of Charity in the United States, was presented to Pope Pius XI today.

Fifty American priests, nuns, and Catholic alumnae, led by Father Joseph B. Code of Saint Ambrose college, Davenport, Iowa, gave the pope a huge scroll and speaking in English to the pontiff, recalled Mother Seton's work.

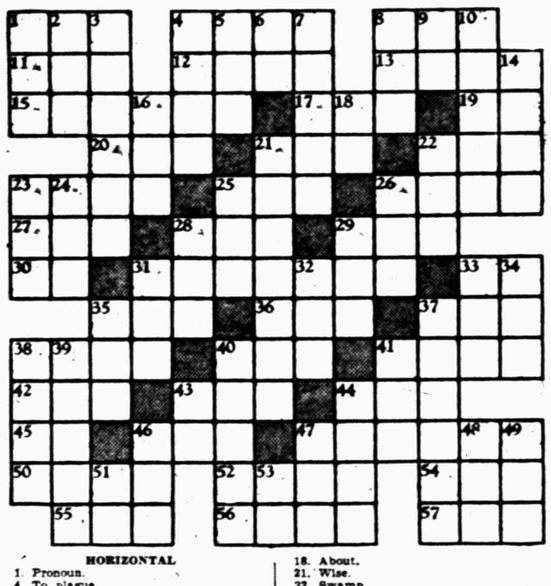

The pontiff replied that he appreciated the zeal which brought them thousands of miles to present the petition and asked for a copy of Father Code's preamble, saying he would read it at leisure. He imparted the apostolic blessing on the whole order founded by Mother Seton.

Missouri Pacific To Reduce Pay Schedules

ST. LOUIS, July 23. (AP)—Wage adjustments affecting officers and clerical forces of the Missouri Pacific railroad will be made effective Aug. 1, "because traffic volume on the Missouri Pacific lines has not returned to normal as had been hoped for and expected."

In announcing the wage adjustments today, the railroad said they were of a temporary nature, amounting to the equivalent of one day's pay a week "and this will avoid the necessity of a force reduction."

Sharkey Is Through

In the opinion of almost every one qualified to render a verdict, little Mickey Walker soundly whipped Jack Sharkey in the "David and Goliath" battle of last Wednesday night.

But the ones apparently less qualified called it a draw. This element is represented by James A. Farley, chairman of the New York Boxing commission, who said he thought "Sharkey won handily."

Mr. Farley's commission also thinks that Mr. Sharkey is a better fighter than Max Schmeling. The New York commission would enjoy much more prestige if it kept its thoughts to itself.

Damon Runyon, although prejudiced in favor of Walker from the start, is just about as good a judge of a boxing bout as we ever hope to read. He gave Walker eight rounds, declared two even, and awarded the remaining five to Sharkey.

Gene Tunney said the decision should have been Walker's.

The conservative Associated Press, which has to please everybody, declared Walker won seven rounds, and Sharkey also won seven, with the odd round being a draw.

Whatever the official decision, Sharkey is through. The game little Mickey provided probably the year's most thrilling boxing exhibition and was the moral victor, even if the judges said it was a draw.

Power for the Cats

The Fort Worth Cats, seeking hitting power, have disposed of Eddie Moore and Larry Cox. Moore was replaced by Outfielder Frey, obtained from the Western league. The club still is in the market for another outfielder, and an infielder, who, it is presumed, will supplant the veteran Chet Fowler.

The latest rumor is that the Cats will get the other outfielder and the infielder in the persons of Ike Boone and Hugh Willingham, of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Boone will be remembered as the swatting outfielder of the San Antonio Indians in the early 1920's, the boy who set a league record with something like 215 hits, and rang up a batting average of over .400. Hugh Willingham was the slugging third baseman of the Dallas Steers last year, who was a shade behind Larry Bettencourt in the race for home run honors.

Armed with Boone, Willingham, Grey and "Black Bill" Harris, splendid pitcher late of the Buccaneers, the Cats should make it tough for somebody in the late stages of the second half.

And also, maybe it will silence the alibi guns of Fort Worth's otherwise redoubtable battery of sports writers. When the Panthers started wallowing in the mire toward the end of the first half, a great hue and cry went up in the Fort Worth papers to the effect that "we can't compete with such chain-store teams as Wichita Falls and Houston."

If the Boone-Willingham deal goes through, the Panther writers will have to strike up a different tune. The evidence against them will be too much. In fact, it looks to this writer there is enough evidence on the club right now to substantiate if not actual ownership by the Pittsburgh Pirates, then a close, a very close working arrangement between the Panther and the Pirate owners.

The Cats already have at least four players on their roster who are tied to Pittsburgh contracts, and who are at Fort Worth on option. These are Peel, McClanahan, Engle and Dalrymple. If they get Boone and Willingham that will make six Pirates parading in Fort Worth uniforms, or dern near the whole Fort Worth team. And there is also the rumor that Lil Stoner, who was turned back by the Philadelphia Nationals, made the return trip to Fort Worth via the Pittsburgh Pirates' private offices.

The Rebel Yell

The battle at Manassas
Was a glorious one and great.
Our heroes licked the Yankees
In the old Dominion state!

Last Tuesday was the seventieth anniversary of the first battle of Bull Run, as we call it. A dinner was held at the Henry house on the old Bull Run battlefield, and the mayor of Danville, Va., Capt. Harry Wooding, who fought at first Manassa, delivered an address praising Stonewall Jackson, the general who saved the South at that battle, during which he gained the nickname by which he is known.

"Old Jack," as his troops called him, was a great man, and the Rambler has always regretted that he was not privileged to lose a leg or an arm fighting with the Stonewall brigade.

Jackson was a queer person to deal with. Along in the spring of 1863, after two years of fighting in which his troops had knocked every Yankee army that crossed the Potomac into a cocked hat, the editor of a journal wrote Jackson, asking for a picture of the general, and a few notes descriptive of his battles and campaigns.

Jackson answered that "I do not have a likeness, and I have done nothing worthy of mention."

There was no bull about the hero of Bull Run.

Hessler Stays In Pro Tournament

Phil Hessler, Wichita Falls Golf and Country club professional, stayed in the running in the Texas Professional Golf association's annual tournament at Harlingen Thursday, turning in a score of 70-79—159 for the day's play. Hessler was one of 17 left of the original field which started out for the title.

Dick Metz of San Angelo led the procession, according to Associated Press dispatches to The Record News. Metz shot a 70 on the morning round and a 68 on the afternoon round, equaling the course record.

COONEY GREAT IN PINCHES

Bob Walks Nine But Gets Away With It

Special to The Record News.

HOUSTON, July 23.—Bob Cooney walked nine men here Thursday night, and got away with it, the Spudders beating the Buffs, 4 to 2 in 10 rounds of thrilling baseball. The young right-hander twirled magnificently in the pinches, allowing only one earned run. Here's how the Spuds won the game:

In the second, Badgro lined a single to left, Bradbury fanned, swinging. Fuss smashed a drive back of second. Somehow, Selph got to the ball, picked it up with his meat-hand, and tossed to Tom Carey to force Badgro. It was a marvelous play. On the hit and run, Scharein singled to center, Fuss going to third. On an attempted double-steal, Fuss was out at home, Funk to Selph to Funk. Selph's throw home was high, but Funk had the runner blocked off the plate.

Stanton Triples

In the seventh, Stanton tripled to right center, a terrific blow. Badgro rolled out second to first. Stanton held third as the infield was drawn in on the play. Bradbury flied to short center and Stanton held third as Medwick whipped home a perfect peg. Fuss grounded out, first to the pitcher, both Sturdy and Payne looking great on the play.

Medwick and Sturdy strolled. After failing to bunt the ball fair, Smith grounded into a double play, third to second to first. Medwick went to third. Funk was walked intentionally. Medwick scored when Allday fumbled Payne's slow grounder, and then threw low to first, an error for Allday. Hock walked, loading the bases. Carey rolled out to second.

In the eighth, Scharein beat out a high bounder to second. Euller bunted down the first base line, and all hands were safe when Scharein beat Sturdy's throw to second. It was a sacrifice for Euller. As Sturdy came tearing toward the plate, Cooney poked a bunt past Sturdy, and beat it out for a hit, loading the bases. Scharein scored when Garms grounded out. Sturdy deflected the ball, and Selph covering quickly recovered the ball and tossed to Sturdy at first. Euller scored when Peel dropped Allday's liner, after making a fine try. An error for Peel. Cooney on second, Allday on first, Stanton lined to Hock, who tossed to Selph to double off Cooney.

Selph walked, and Peel bunted him to second. Medwick rolled out to third, Selph going to third. Sturdy took a fast one down the middle, and then cracked a change of pace ball to right for a single, scoring Selph. Smith singled to left, Sturdy going to second, Funk flied to right.

We Win!

In the 10th, Cooney rolled to first. Garms singled to center, and went to second when Allday singled to left. Stanton rolled to first, both runners advancing. Badgro was walked intentionally, loading the bases. Hungling grounded to Hock. Hock tossed to Selph to try for a force, but Selph dropped the ball, and Garms scored. Allday went to third on the play. Before Selph picked up the ball, the heads-up Allday scored. Fuss rolled to the pitcher.

In Houston's half of the 10th, Sturdy flied to left. Smith popped to first. Funk rolled to third.

Walker, Sharkey May Fight Again

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—It seems more than just a probability that Jack Sharkey, the big Boston fellow, and little Mickey Walker, the game one, will attempt to settle a question of superiority again before the present summer season is over.

Fighters had to be paid, receipts checked, and a maze of post-war details attended to, but there still was time enough today for Jack Kearns, manager of the surprising Irishman, and Johnny Buckley, pilot of Sharkey, to discuss with Promotor Jimmy Johnston a resumption of the hostilities that ended in a 15-round draw in their first match at Brooklyn last night.

Sharkey insists the return bout be fought over another 15-round route, late in August, while Walker prefers 10 rounds. If the warriors will compromise on 12 rounds and split half the gate for their efforts, the bout may be signed for Ebbets field again within a few days.

The complete financial statistics revealed today that the match was a genuine success from all but the standpoint of Sharkey. The gross receipts were $223,356, the net receipts minus tax, $212,720, and Sharkey's 30 per cent amounted to $63,628, Walker's 20 per cent to $42,418. The total paid attendance was 30,588.

Four stitches in the flesh of Walker's left eyelid were necessary to close the wound Sharkey inflicted and the Irish bulldog will be forced to rest a few weeks. He has an offer for a match next month with Max Baer in Los Angeles, and is willing to fight Sharkey or Carnera if the terms are right. Mickey also wants the title chance Max Schmeling will give some one in June next year.

Presbyterians Defeat Malone Beauties, 5-4

The league-leading Presbyterians came from behind Thursday afternoon on Debus field to nose out a 5 to 4 victory over the Malone Beauties. Ralph Walker weakened in the sixth inning and the Presbyterians shoved over three runs to win the game. Both clubs played loosely in the field with a dozen errors being chalked up on both sides. Thurman and Allen led the hitting with two hits each. Malones left 11 men stranded on the bases as Big Boy Ridling would bear down in the pinches. Score:

McCabe Allows Seven Hits To Square Series

BEAUMONT, July 23. (AP)—Fort Worth squared the series with Beaumont today when Dick McCabe scattered seven blows to lead the Cats to a 4 to 2 victory. Two singles, a double and a walk produced one run for the Cats in the fourth and in the fifth they chased Hollerson from the mound with a barrage of two doubles and two aces which netted them three markers. Bumper Crop Coming On for Eastern Texas

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 23. (AP)—With crops in East Texas in the best condition in a number of years as the result of intense and more scientific cultivation and with five inches of rain having fallen over the greater part of Gregg and adjoining counties, one of the best yields in several years is expected.

Cotton, which has been well cultivated and kept clean, is now fruiting fast and it is estimated from 30 to 50 per cent of the forms are sticking. Many fields are white with blossoms.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Cotton was feverish today and after showing early declines of 9-15 points, prices rallied and closed at about the best of the session.

The October position declined easily to 9.15, a loss of 13 points, rallied to 9.40 and closed at 9.38, an advance of 10 points, while the general market closed steady at 6-14 points net higher.

Crop accounts in general were favorable and prospects were believed to contain little in the way of buying encouragement. There was, however, enough of a weevil menace in the weather conditions and private advices to check aggressive selling, especially as the technical position of the market was looked upon as firmer following the recent liquidation and the decline in value.

Liverpool cabled that the market there was lower under liquidation and on the higher bank rate in London and reported Manchester unsettled with business unimportant.

Exports today 9,324, making 6,867,021 so far this season; port receipts 1,874; U. S. port stocks 2,832,207.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 23. (AP)—Prospects for further showery weather in the belt were responsible for a good rally in cotton following an easy decline on indifferent cables, unsatisfactory news from the London conference and weakness in stocks.

Prices dropped off 12 to 13 points early in the morning and the later rally carried values up 16 to 17 points from the lows to levels 4 points above the previous close. Continued showers caused traders to apprehend deterioration to the crop and possibly the spread of weevils. The market continued firm all the afternoon and active months made new highs 23 to 26 points above the early lows, but reacted 5 to 8 points at the end on realizing, closing steady, the general market showing net gains for the day of 5 to 6 points.

Liverpool cables came in 1 penny point worse than due and private cables stated that there was liquidation in the market, but some scale down buying. The cables announced that the Bank of England had increased its money rate from 2½ per cent to 3½. Manchester cabled that business in cloths was unimportant and yarns irregular.

Aimless Floundering Marks Trade On Stocks With Volume Down

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 23. (US)—Transactions on the stock exchange today aggregated 800,000 shares and price fluctuations were about in keeping with the low volume. With no special developments, excepting an increase in the Bank of England's rate, to influence quotations, the market was inclined to flounder about aimlessly.

As a matter of fact its performance was decidedly in support of the growing belief that extreme dullness is most desirable under prevailing circumstances. A higher Bank of England rate was hardly surprising in view of the enormous loss of gold suffered by Britain in recent weeks, amounting probably above $100,000,000. Some nervousness had been expressed over this gold loss by England, but the prompt action of the bank and the response of the pound sterling, which advanced about half a cent, somewhat improved sentiment, although it is conceded that the emergency of the entire European situation has not yet been entirely passed.

The indecisive conclusion of the London conference also tempered any optimism which might have been generated by the absence thus far of any of the severe reactions forecast for Germany, politically.

Lacking any individual price fluctuations of more than moderate degree, the speculative community was engrossed almost exclusively in discussing the probable dividend action by the United States Steel directors at their meeting next Tuesday and in the widespread report of a "truce" between large bull and bear operators in the stock market.

The very price of steel common, which yields over 7.4 per cent, emphasizes that the market is prepared for a possible lowering of the rate. A $5 basis is most generally anticipated, although, to be truthful, there is rarely a leak from the steel directorate, so that all present forecasts are mainly in the nature of guesses. The price of the stock suggests danger to the $7 rate, but there are exceedingly important related policies involved, such as the wage question, psychological influence on general conditions, etc.

It was impossible for bull leaders to stir up any interest in the general list, and as a result final quotations in not one of the 20 most active stocks of the day showed more than a five-eighths of a point net change. The largest, a decline, was registered in American Can. Steel common was off ⅜, while Case Threshing was up a half-point. General Motors gained a fraction in response perhaps to its semi-annual report, showing $1.83 a share earned for the first half of 1931, although investment buying was restrained by concern over the second half's results.

Foreign news was of a nature which had been fully anticipated, recording the end of the London conference, and the usual discussions of the French and German response to the proposals for additional cooperation. The only certain result of the conference was to emphasize that additional action will be necessary to solve the European problem.

Wall street is full of wild stories of mutual arrangements between bull and bear operators which account for the current dullness, the latest version of which was that the stock exchange or bankers, unnamed, had sent letters to the most prominent speculators on both sides of the market urging them to suspend large scale activities.

In the first place, such cautionary advice is not written in Wall street. A tap on the shoulder from a powerful figure on the stock exchange is sufficient usually to bring about the desired results from an aggressive exchange member raiding the market; or perhaps a guarded hint is passed along to a bear outside the province of the exchange authorities.

The real truth of the current inactivity of the bears and the bulls is their confusion, the same as applies to small traders and investors over the immediate prospects. There are powerful interests who would enter the market without a moment's hesitation if, out of the great cloud of uncertainty and conflicting developments, they could discern a definite trend. Unable to make up their own minds, big operators are content to follow the rule: "you're not required to play every hand at poker."

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 23. (AP)—Wheat was in excellent demand on the cash grain market today. Other grains were fairly easy to sell. Prices were little changed. Exporters were bidding 49½@49⅝c for wheat delivered Texas gulf ports. Milling wheat was quoted as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points or Galveston, according to billing:

No. 1 ordinary hard 49½@53c; No. 1 hard, 14 per cent protein 51@52c; 15 per cent 52@54c; 16 per cent 53@56c.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 66@68c; No. 2 white or yellow 70@72c.

Oats—No. 2 red 26½@27½c.

Barley—No. 2 35½@36½c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 lbs., nominally $1.07@1.10; No. 2 kaffir, nominally $1.04@1.09.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Insufficiency of buying led to lower grain prices today, notwithstanding reports that foreigners were seeking to purchase some of the federal farm board's wheat holdings. Chairman Stone was credited with a statement that the board was willing to dispose of this wheat if reasonable credits were arranged. Results of the international financial conference were generally looked on as bearish.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛@½c lower, corn unchanged to ½c off, oats ⅛@½c down, and provisions at 2c to 10c decline.

Hot winds in Nebraska and Kansas checked selling of corn, but as in wheat a reluctance to buy was apparent. Forecasts were for cooler weather and showers. Oats crop news from the northwest was bullish.

Provisions lacked support.

Closing Indemnities—Wheat—July 53⅛c; bids; Sept. 53¼c, 53⅜c; Dec. 57⅜c, 58⅛c. Corn—July 57c, 59¼c; Sept. 51⅛c, 52⅛c; Dec. 44⅛@44⅝c, 45¼@45⅝c.

Orient Railroad Moves Plains Grain Crop

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 23. (AP)—The Orient division of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad is completing the movement of the grain crop of West Texas to elevator points, handling approximately 650 cars of wheat and a few cars of oats in the last 25 days.

The farmers have sold their wheat in most instances but have held their oats, storing them in barns, building new bins and putting them in vacant houses. The tendency of the oat market is to rise and prices range around 22 cents in this section now. Wheat prices have been as low as 27 cents, as high as 42 and now are around 30 cents.

Ranchmen have been heavy purchasers of oats, going to the field and making purchases at prices higher than those paid on the streets of San Angelo.

Texas Cattlemen Hold For Improved Prices

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 23. (AP)—With range conditions from fair to excellent in the entire Texas cattle country, cattle are fat and if the markets were good today there would be a tremendous run of fat cattle, including vealer calves. As it is, there have been no contracts of cattle made or calves for fall delivery in either the Brady or Highland Hereford areas.

The ranchmen do not care to accept current prices and the cowmen who wish to feed these calves in the corn belt are waiting to see how their grass-fat cattle in Kansas and Oklahoma turn out. This is the second year in succession in which Texans have lost money on cattle shipped to the North. One man said he would lose $40 a head on steers he had on northern grass.

MADMAN KILLS FIVE PERSONS

Crazed Miner Blames Poison Obsession

MERCER, Pa., July 23. (AP)—Five persons were slain and three wounded today by an insane man afflicted with an obsession that he should kill all the residents of the little mining village at mine No. 2 of the Sharon Coal and Limestone company, where he lived.

On a hospital bed with a bullet wound in his hip, inflicted by a resident of the town to halt his mad attacks on the townspeople, Marko Demonfonti, 46, told authorities he was driven insane by a poisonous substance given him by the husband of one of his victims. He apparently was rational as he told of an illness that culminated in madness, and death to members of his family and neighbors.

Demofonti, armed with a revolver, a shotgun and a knife, killed his wife and her sister, Mrs. Alfonso Fastetti, in their home, and then marched down the village street to kil. or fatally wound three others and injure three.

Mrs. Pete Cecilian and a 10-year-old son were shot in their home. The woman died later in the Mercer hospital. Mrs. Frank Takela and Gartano Bevilaqua were shot to death as they stood in their yards. Mrs. Mike Bana and a 12-year-old daughter were wounded with the mad man's knife.

Demofonti's attack was halted when George Masters, village storekeeper, shot him in the hip. He probably will recover from the wound.

FLIERS FOR ARMY

WASHINGTON, July 23. (US)—More than one-third of the graduating class from the United States Military academy at West Point have been ordered to San Antonio to begin training as fliers, the war department announced today.

Fort Smith, Ark., is credited with sending more prospects to faster leagues than any other club in the Western association.

steps to aid Texas citizens, in the construction of a temporary roadway to the Texas entrance of a free bridge paralleling a toll span between Marietta, Okla., and Gainesville, Texas.

BOTH HOUSES PASS "ENABLING" BILL

AUSTIN, July 23. (AP)—The long campaign to build and open a free bridge across the Red river between Denison and Durant appeared near an end today with the legislature moving toward removing the last obstacle.

Both houses passed bills to authorize the company operating a parallel toll bridge to sue the state on its contract with the highway commission. With the enactment of the law, the federal court injunction preventing the opening of the free span would be dissolved, state officials believed.

Different Bills Passed

The only drawback was that the house and senate passed different bills. The house must pass the senate bill, the senate must approve the house bill or some agreement must be reached before the proposal is ready for signature of the governor who in submitting this subject to the special session of the legislature—the only one he has submitted other than oil conservation—said he had been "reliably informed" that if a law should be enacted the bridge would be immediately opened.

Governor Sterling was not expected to be in town tomorrow or Saturday so a bill, if agreed upon, could not be signed until Monday. The governor was here today. Senator Jake Loy of Sherman said the house could have passed the senate bill this afternoon and sent it to the governor in time for his signature.

The commission contracted with the toll bridge company in order to get that company to desist from court suits which might have delayed the building of the free span and would have resulted in the state having to spend more money on the Texas side of the river. The contract called for the payment of between $80,000 and $150,000, the amount being one of the questions at issue.

The bills were introduced by representatives from the district affected. There were only three dissenting votes in the house and one in the senate.

The house bill differed from the senate proposal in that it prevented any injunction relief to the toll bridge company in state courts and prohibited any compromise settlement of the contract.

RANGERS YET TO RECEIVE ORDERS

SHERMAN, Texas, July 23. (AP)—Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, in charge of Texas Rangers at the south side of the Red river free bridge between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas, said he had heard nothing regarding Governor Murray's declaration of martial law.

Captain Hickman indicated there had been no change in orders to the rangers or any notice of an increase of their present force at the bridge.

290 GUARDSMEN ARE AVAILABLE

DURANT, Okla., July 23. (AP)—National guardsmen numbering 290, are available here to carry out Gov. W. H. Murray's order to establish and maintain martial law on the Oklahoma side of the Denison-Durant bridge.

Captains of the three units early tonight were awaiting the arrival of Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett with the martial order.

As the bridge is only 20 miles from Durant, the guardsmen can reach the martial zone within a short time after they have been mobilized and given orders by Barrett.

TEXAS OFFICIALS ARE SCATTERED

AUSTIN, July 23. (AP)—Texas' capital was quiet tonight on receipt of information that Oklahoma's latest maneuver in the state border battle of the Red river bridge between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas, had been the declaration of martial law.

State officials in command of the Texas rangers were in various parts of the state. No official here was able to say whether the present force of rangers at the south side of the bridge would be augmented, although it was understood no order had been issued.

Governor Sterling was reported en route to Houston while Adj. Gen. William Sterling was in West Texas.

DURANT REPORTS NOTHING UNUSUAL

DENISON, Texas, July 23. (AP)—Two hours after Governor Murray's declaration of martial law at the Oklahoma approach of the Red river toll bridge between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Oklahoma national guard troops had not arrived.

There was no unusual activity across the river from here in Durant where seven Oklahoma national guard troops are regularly stationed. Capt. John McDonald of the Oklahoma guards at Durant said he had not received any mobilization orders and that he did not wish to make a statement concerning the "rather tense situation."

City Engineer Draws Plans for Modern Dog Pound

Plans for a model, up-to-date dog pound have been drawn by the city engineer's department, and the city council will be asked to provide for the construction of such a building, according to information given The Record News Thursday.

The proposed new institution contains three wards. The first the room into which Fido will be ushered upon his apprehension by officers. Ward No. 2 represents his accommodations for the second 24 hours, provided his owner has not redeemed him. The third ward will house the luckless dog for the final 24 hours. Then, if he has not been reclaimed by his master, he will be escorted into a small four-by-four compartment in the corner. Under the painless flow of gas, his life's troubles will come to a quick end.

4,000 Enjoy Free Vaudeville Bill

Listeners estimated by City Park Superintendent C. C. Bunnenberg to have numbered almost 4,000 crowded the west lawn of the Memorial auditorium Thursday night to the crest of the hill for the weekly program of free vaudeville given by local artists.

Unusual response also was given to the tuba solo given by Paul Seeds, director of the "Los Caballeros" band, and to solos by MacGregor Brown, baritone.

The program was presented as follows:

"Los Caballeros," band selections.

Dance, Miss Virginia Carpenter, band accompaniment.

"Comedienne," Miss Alice Philo.

Harmonica numbers, Guy Rogers Jr.

Tap dace, Miss Winifred Chancellor.

"Side by Side" and "Everything in Life Belongs to You," piano solos, Miss Lilly Mae Kerr.

FLOYD BENNETT AIRPORT, New York, June 23. (AP)—Completing a round-trip speed flight from New York to Havana, Capt. Frank M. Hawks landed here tonight at 7:03 p. m. (central standard time), establishing new records in both directions.

His elapsed time for the northward flight was 7 hours, 30 minutes and his flying time 6 hours, 59 minutes.

The thus beat his own record for the Havana-New York trip by one hour 14 minutes.

On the southward flight this morning he knocked 27 minutes from the time of James Goodwin Hall, flying broker, who last Saturday beat Hawks' record for the New York-Havana hop.

Mrs. Moody Reaches Essex Club Finals

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 23. (AP)—The speed and superior stroking of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody today gave that abdicated tennis queen a 6-2, 6-3 victory over little Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, Calif., and a place in the finals of the Essex Country club's invitation tournament for the fourth time since 1925.

Mrs. Moody must mark time for another day before learning who will attempt the seemingly hopeless task of withholding the title from her, for the other semifinal, to be waged by Majorie Morrill, Dedham, last year's winner, and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper, Oakland, Calif., who ranks first nationally, was put over until tomorrow to prevent a gallery slump.

Notre Dame Coach To Attend Lubbock School

LUBBOCK, Texas, July 23. (AP)—In a letter to Pete Cawthon, head coach of Texas Tech, Jesse Harper, director of Athletics at Notre Dame, said today he would be here Aug. 3 to 15 to attend the first annual Texas Tech coaching school.

More than 250 coaches, representing 24 states, have already enrolled in the school, which is to be conducted jointly by Wallace Wade of Duke university, and Jimmy Phelan of the University of Washington. Harper's interest in Phelan and his friends of West Texas prompt his coming to the school, the letter said.

INQUIRY HEARS OIL TECHNICIAN

Foran and Holmes Testify At Austin

ought to sell for the same price than I could that all cotton, long staple and short staple, should sell at the same price."

Senator Martin, in his examination of the witness, referred to the committee chairman several times as "your honor."

After a long brush with the witness, the senator demanded that he "answer yes or no," whether he subscribed to the theory, as set out in one conservation bill pending, that waste included "waste incident to production in excess of the reasonable market demand, plus amounts necessary for reasonable reserves."

"I do subscribe to it," said Foran. Senator Tom Deberry of Bogota asked that particular care be taken that the answer got into the record and later went back to it in his examination of the technician.

Foran Lists Names

The senator, saying he was trying to find out all of Foran's connections, asked him who constituted and backed the central proration committee, which retains the witness.

Foran said the list was too long to mention, but Martin persisted, three or four times, and the expert then named a number of men he described as "independents."

Later Foran said he wanted to emphasize he was under "no obligation," to any major company or anybody else.

Pollard tried to show that the Van, Texas field, where proration had been effective, Foran said, was in as bad condition as the others—that proration did not help it. Foran said those who would not prorate were to blame.

Holmes vigorously denied there was any effort on the part of the majors to purposely depress the oil market or any agreements to fix prices. He repeated advocacy of proration based on market demand.

From the trend of the questioning, it was indicated several house members were uncertain as to what would determine market demand and Holmes said this could be determined accurately if Texas officials would confer with the oil commissions of other state and with the oil advisory board of the Federal Trade commission.

Opposes Tariff

The witness said he was opposed to the principle of a tariff on oil because he feared it would endanger the holdings in and trade with other countries. If foreign oil was blocked from the United States it would result in expansion of facilities abroad.

Ed R. Mayer, independent operator of Amarillo, attributed a major portion of the condition in the oil industry to the "jungle tactics and throat cutting methods" of the men engaged in the business. Oil men stage a wild stampede for flush production in new fields, trample each other and "the dewil take the hindmost," Mayer said.

"The oil men simply refuse to let each other live," Mayer stated.

He recommended a conservation law that would exempt wells producing 50 barrels or less from proration. If possible this figure should be raised to 100 barrels.

Statistician Heard

Mayer was followed on the stand by Charles E. Bowles, of Tulsa, statistician of the Independent Petroleum association. Bowles went into detail into the flush production of oil in California in 1923 and in the Seminole field in Oklahoma in 1927 and the effect the production from these fields had on the nation's oil structure.

Persons and companies in control of the industry have taken undue advantage of the economic situation, Bowles stated, giving this as the principal case of the oil market collapse. Contributing factors were unsettled production condition and general depression, Bowles said.

The California rampage did not materially affect the price structure of Texas and Oklahoma. The flush production of Seminole, which ran the nation's total production to 901,000,000 barrels, the highest in history, had no appreciable affect on Texas and Oklahoma prices. In 1927 the average price of oil was $1.30, Bowles stated.

"Yet along comes East Texas with its estimated 80,000,000 barrels for 1931 and the price structure suffers a collapse and causes the greatest crisis in the history of the industry," Bowles stated. "The market collapsed notwithstanding the fact that California has curtailed its production to approximately 42,000,000 barrels and Oklahoma 25,000,000 barrels under 1930."

Production in the United States in 1931 was estimated by Bowles at 83,000,000 barrels. He estimated storage would be reduced from 512,000,000 barrels to approximately 470,000,000 barrels.

"The natural conclusion is that something is radically wrong with the oil industry," Bowles said.

'Ma' Kennedy Annuls Marriage To Hudson in Swift Court Trial

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 23. (AP)—The same swift tempo that characterized the wedding of Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy and G. Edward Hudson on the banks of a moonlit Washington lake entered her successful annulment proceedings in superior court today.

The entire proceedings lasted about 10 minutes and came to an end with the suddenness with which the mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, married Hudson in Cowlitz county, Washington, June 28.

Almost before Mrs. L. Margaret Newton-Hudson of Los Angeles, who described her marriage to Hudson in Las Vegas, Nev., in 1929, had left the witness stand, Judge Joseph P. Sprould announced granting of the annulment which separated Mrs. Kennedy from Hudson.

Hudson faces a Washington bigamy charge, a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Newton-Hudson and a breach of promise suit by Mrs. Ethel Harbert.

Hudson was absent from the jammed courtroom. His attorneys announced previously he would remain in seclusion until arrival of a warrant from Longview, Wash., charging him with committing bigamy in marrying Mrs. Kennedy.

As the judge severed the marital knot, Mrs. Kennedy sobbed aloud and sought comfort on Mrs. Newton-Hudson's shoulder. Mrs. Kennedy was led from the courtroom to a corner drug store where between sips of an ice cream soda she discussed the hectic past.

"It'll be Mrs. Kennedy only—forever," she said. "I thought I had found romance but I see I'm too old."

SCORES TAKE SWIM LESSONS

City Park Department Sponsors Record Classes

By MRS. L. N. CASON
The Record News Staff

It's rather indicative of the fact that Wichita Falls is water-minded when one considers the fact that there were 50 women and 170 children getting free lessons in swimming at Westmoreland pool Thursday morning. This movement, sponsored by the city park department with the cooperation of Otto Lazenby, manager of Westmoreland, is in step with athletic development as stressed in schools and universities. The response shows that all that was required by the public was opportunity.

There were 11 instructors on the job—very much on the job. Women were probably more careful than children, and less courageous. Young America seems to like showing off and taking dares.

The groups of women made pretty pictures in the water; green, orange, red, pink and white suits and caps submerging to order and coming up rather frantically. One group was being taught to swim on the back, and the white legs were rather suggestive of frogs. An inspector asked how many women knew how to float; two said they could, but one by one, with a little help, he showed them that any one with nerve could do so. Mr. Lazenby states that they are going to start a class to teach people to take care of themselves in the water. In other words, if they are turned over in a boat, they will be able to tread water and to float until rescued.

Children were the chief show at the pool Thursday morning. There were little freckled-faced boys and boys with teeth missing and little girls who even in the water still managed to be "little ladies." A group having their first lesson were told "Take a big breath; now everybody try." They tried and some failed but it is remarkable the patience an instructor shows in the work. Rather difficult, too, when the rows of mothers lined up on the benches round the lake, give instructions to go with the instructor's.

When they can swim 50 yards they get their first button. When they can do two surface strokes and a surface dive, they get another button. And so it goes until the times when they get their junior life saving buttons, etc. To one utterly unused to the water, it seems strange that the first thing is to teach them to use their arms, then to use their feet without their arms and then remember they have both arms and feet.

If you wish to watch them, you will notice as you reach the more advanced classes they kick a little harder—which means you get splashed a little more.

Twice a week since June 8, these classes have been held each Monday and Thursday at 9 a. m. It means a lot of fun and stronger bodies and better health.

RED CROSS EXAMINER HERE MONDAY, TUESDAY

Ned Campbell of the midwestern headquarters of the Red Cross at St. Louis will be in Wichita Falls Monday and Tuesday. While here he will conduct a life-saving demonstration at Westmoreland pool, and will also examine the local candidates for life-saving certificates.

The demonstration at Westmoreland pool will be held Monday night in connection with a water stunt carnival at that resort.

Old Papers Recall Early Days Here

Wichita Irrigation Urged 34 Years Ago

By FRED L. HASKETT

A collection of newspapers and folders depicting early days in Wichita Falls and Wichita county, is owned by Mrs. C. E. (Grandma) Young, 1600 Twenty-second street, who is now nearing her 90th birthday.

One of the oldest of the newspapers is the "Wichita Daily Dinner Horn," being Volume 1, number 9 and dated July 10, 1897. The local grain market was quoted and No. 1 wheat brought 60 cents while No. 2 was 58 cents. Oats, No. 2 sacked, sold for 15 cents. The feature editorial was about the value of irrigation in the Wichita river valley. The editorial, in part, is quoted as follows:

"Encouraging reports on irrigation are coming in daily. The people are waking up to the importance and are beginning to see the practicability of irrigation in this county. Every citizen, be he farmer, laborer or capitalist, is deeply interested in this question. It is within his power to do something to help the cause along. Don't delay your work in this matter. If you have taken no interest so far, get yourself interested and then interest your friends in other parts of the state. Circulars and all information on the subject at the irrigation office in the Gugenheim building."

Thirty-four years later finds the great dam across the Wichita river empounding billions of gallons of water and the fight goes on to interest the people in the value of irrigation.

The "Wichita Times Supplement" dated Nov. 17, 1899, devotes a lead editorial about irrigation, stating that a man wants to start irrigation. A dam to form a lake covering 1,000 acres and 5,000 acres of land to irrigate was estimated to be done at a cost of $100,000.

A copy of a special edition of the "Wichita Weekly Times" is included in the collection, it being an illustrated edition and dated April 9, 1909. Many old scenes are illustrated and much space is given to irrigation.

There are copies of "The Wichita Times" of the issues of Jan. 14 and Feb. 14, 1902.

A phamphlet advertising Wichita Falls, printed in September, 1894, lists many old firms, and is illustrated with farm scenes, showing fields of grain, vineyards, cabbage farms, onion patches and other farm scenes.

The writer of the phamphlet, who claims to have traveled extensively, refers to the Wichita river valley as like that the River Nile valley in Africa, and says it should be referred to as the "modern Egypt of the Great West."

Rotarians Urged To Suport Air Mail

Rotarians of Wichita Falls were urged at their weekly meeting Thursday noon by John Boswell, chamber of commerce manager, to aid in the celebration of this city's first air mail line to be inaugurated on Aug. 1.

Mr. Boswell emphasized the campaign now being made to provide a record volume of mail for the first plane, and stated that envelopes especially prepared for that purpose can be secured at the chamber of commerce.

Harry Gray discussed the classifications not now filled in the Rotary club membership. Paul Putty and L. E. Ruth were welcomed as new members by Dr. Nat F. Grafton, who presented them their insignia and code of ethics.

Vocal numbers by Burton Kaufman, accompanied by Miss Lorene Tucker, were included in the program.

George Gutzman, vice president, had charge of the meeting.

Municipal Singsong Set for Friday Night

Changing of the regular public singsong from Saturday night to Friday night, beginning this week, was announced Thursday by C. C. Bunnenberg, superintendent of the city park department.

Heretofore the singsongs have been on Tuesday and Saturday nights. The public sing scheduled for Friday evening will be conducted by MacGregor Brown, baritone, with Miss Mildred Anderson at the piano. Among the new numbers to be used will be "The Little Old Church in the Valley," "Say a Little Prayer for Me," "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" and "Sleepy Valley."

The singsong will begin about 8 o'clock, the words for the songs being thrown on a large screen against the wall of the auditorium.

City Equalization Board Hears Protests

Hearings on the complaints of persons whose surnames begin with letters A to E inclusive comprised the first day's work of the city equalization board in the offices of City Tax Collector W. R. Hyer Thursday.

Those whose names begin with F, G, H, I or J will be heard Friday, and on Saturday those coming under K, L, or M. Taxpayers will appear before the board next week as follows: Monday, July 27, N, O, P, Q, R, and on Tuesday, July 28, all remaining letters.

Approximately 30 persons assembled at the tax collector's office Thursday morning to await the hearing. Deliberations of the board lasted through the entire afternoon and early evening.

The board consists of John T. Young, Roscoe Staton and Homer Karrenbrock.

FISHING YAWL SINKS

New Freight Rates on Grain to Prove Of Material Aid to Northwest Texas

The announcement Wednesday by the state railroad commission that new grain rates would go into effect Aug. 1, was received with much satisfaction by grain men and traffic managers of this section.

The order of the rail commission that a mileage charge be used as a grain freight basis for intrastate hauls of less than 150 miles materially reduces carrying charges over the group rates formerly employed.

The commission's order largely follows the recommendation made by grain and traffic men at a conference held at Fort Worth July 9. The establishment of a 150-mile scale is the result of efforts of Dudley B. Foy, traffic manager of the Wichita Mill and Elevator company here; S. P. Cole, traffic manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; and Y. H. Sparrow, traffic manager of the Great Western Mill at Amarillo.

Grain men express the belief that the establishment of the scale will prove invaluable to mills in Northwest Texas in drawing grain produced in their immediate territories. Under the carrier's proposal it was said, the rates for territories surrounding North Texas mills would have been prohibitive.

WICHITA IRRIGATED VALLEY
See It For Yourself

Many of us are familiar with the story, "Acres of Diamonds," and I can see with equal emphasis that right here at our very door, lying under our feet are latent undeveloped resources which were envisioned by our great enthusiastic, lamented leader, Joseph A. Kemp, years ago, and of which it has taken us decades to realize the importance.

With the Wichita Valley divided into small truck farms, populated with an industrious people, insured of dependable incomes through regular crops, the size of Wichita Falls will only be limited by the zeal and effort her citizens put behind the project.

One has only to drive through the Valley to appreciate the advantages of irrigation. Today, with the help of the government and experimental farms, we are learning what crops can be made profitable. Already cantaloupes are being grown profitably. It has been pointed out that asparagus, berries and other small fruit can be raised and marketed between the Rio Grande Valley and Colorado season most advantageously and, while I am unable to give even an estimate of the income per acre, the returns will insure a comfortable living for a man and his family. No further demonstration is needed than a visit to some of the older places long ago established. Within a period of five years, one resident with his family has made sufficient profit to completely clear his place, bring up his family and enjoy living.

The opportunities are here and I, personally, urge every business man and interested citizen of Wichita Falls to meet me at the Courthouse at 1:00 o'clock today for a trip through the Valley. There is nothing for Wichita Falls to be in the "Dumps" about. Our future will be what we make it.

The Opportunity Is Here—Let's Go to Work!
