WESTERN EUROPEAN NATIONS NOW NEED ARMS, NOT BIGGER ARMY—WASHINGTON

Congress May Pigeonhole Part of Truman's Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic Congress begins its seventh week Monday amid indications that it may pigeonhole part of President Truman's legislative program.

Price declines appeared about to put the ground from under Mr. Truman's request for stand-by price-wage controls and add to arguments against the imposition of $4 billion in new taxes, which he urges.

His proposal for governmental authority to build steel plants under heavy Republican attack—also seems likely to be undermined if any further drop occurs in business indices.

For other reasons, Democratic lawmakers also were putting in the "doubtful category" Mr. Truman's request for universal military training and for Congressional approval of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway.

Mr. Truman however still insists that standby price control power and $4 billion in new taxes are just as necessary now as when he first asked for them.

Asked at his Thursday news conference if new taxes would be advisable if a recession developed, he said they would be because government expenditures would not be affected and because he is trying to avoid having a deficit.

But the House Ways and Means Committee has set the administration's tax bill aside for consideration at the "proper time." There were indications the committee might not take up the tax bill before May.

Moving in its customary slow pace, Congress has only acted finally on two important bills in six weeks.

Both houses passed a presidential pay increase measure—not in the Truman message. They also passed a bill extending an extension of the 80th Congress' voluntary program for parcelling out scarce materials, such as steel.

Working under rules that give them tighter control of debate, House administration leaders have pushed through a bill extending the reciprocal trade agreements program without the restrictions imposed by the 80th Congress, and a measure giving the President authority to reshuffle government bureaus. They await Senate action.

The Senate has passed a bill extending export controls. It is scheduled for House action next week. The House also will get the first of a series of appropriation bills, a measure bearing on stand-by steam plant for TVA—denied by the 80th Congress.

Senate Finance Committee hearings begin Thursday on the reciprocal trade program and Chairman George (D-Ga.) has promised speedy action. Senate hearings on the reorganization measure may be held Friday.

U. S., Canada Plan Great Radar Air Defense Network on North Frontier

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to wrap the United States and Alaska in a radar network against sudden air attacks advanced in Congress yesterday.

And a similar warning screen across the whole North American arctic frontier is in the minds of Canadian and United States officials.

This came to light as Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent met for the first time with President Truman.

As the two men conferred, a House Armed Services Subcommittee approved plans for a $160 million radar interceptor system in with fighter plane and antiaircraft defense for this country. It would authorize outpost stations also. They were not designated.

It is across the frozen northern wastes that military planners think an aggressor might strike should a war develop.

But there was no indication that St. Laurent's visit here was predicted upon any major change in the international outlook.

St. Laurent disclosed that this country has some radar, LORAN (Long Range Aid to Navigation) and weather stations already operating in Canada, and would like more.

At a conference with reporters, St. Laurent said in reply to questions:

"There are quite a number of radar and weather stations that are being used at the present time, not only for military purposes but for civil and commercial aviation and other purposes."

"We have seen several plans that call for so great an expenditure that if they were implemented there would not be very much left to do anything else," he said.

The cost of providing such a radar network has not been publicly disclosed.

But it was indicated that Canada would be willing to cooperate with this country on any reasonable basis for extension of radar in Canada if this country assumes the cost.

After a luncheon at Blair House, temporary White House, Mr. Truman and the Canadian Prime Minister conferred for an hour. Meeting with them were Secretary of State Acheson, and U. S. Ambassador to Canada, Llewellyn (See CANADA, Page 2)

Hungarians Ready for U.N. Probe

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary announced last night she has asked the United States to recall U. S. Minister Seiden Chapin and to consider withdrawing an assistant military attaché.

Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk accused President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Bevin in a statement of taking part in a "war of slander against Hungary."

Authoritative quarters said, however, that a break in diplomatic relations is not intended.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk declared last night Western powers cannot influence the Hungarian government in the Minszentnyesi affair and "we will face the discussion of the case before the United Nations."

"President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson have taken part in the war of slander against Hungary and (British) Foreign Secretary Bevin has not lagged behind them," Rajk said in an interview with the official Hungarian news agency MTI.

"They pretended to be the defenders of freedom of religion and human rights, but camouflaged their brutal attempts to interfere with the internal affairs of this free and sovereign country."

A national committee of Hungarian intellectuals, made up of Communists and others, protested against what it called "imperialist slanders of this country" about Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

It said imperialism "has got a new flag in the case of Mindszenty."

ELECTED—The Hungarian government has charged Robin E. Steussy, above, 27-year old member of the United States Vice-Consul Legation in Budapest, with helping Hungarians to flee the country. He was ordered to leave the country within 24 hours.

Scout Drive 70 Percent Complete

Seventy percent of the Pampa goal for the annual Adobe Walls Area Council drive had been turned in by noon yesterday, L. N. Atchison, council chairman of the drive, said.

"Many of the 175 volunteer workers have not as yet turned in their solicitations," he said. "However, the drive is expected to end at the first of this week."

The daily bedroom "suits" awarded to individual workers having the highest solicitation returns have turned out to be real bedroom suits—pairs of pajamas.

Calvin Whitley, winner of Tuesday's suit, was declared high man Friday, when his second suit of pajamas was presented to him. Other winners included Aubrey Steele, Chuck Hogan and W. C. Williams.

The winning captain will be awarded a grand prize at the completion of the drive.

Ninety-six Scouts of Pack and Troop 18 and their fathers attended the annual A. A. Hopkins father-and-son banquet Friday.

Floyd Smith, principal of Hopkins grade school, addressed the group on "Scouting in the Schools." He stressed the importance of observing the principles of democracy in home and school and said scouting furthers

'Toby Tyler' to Be Presented for Pampa Children

The Clare Tree Major Children's Theater will present "Toby Tyler" or "Ten Weeks With a Circus" at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Junior High School Auditorium.

The production will be presented for the benefit of ward school children. Many of them eagerly await arrival of the semi-annual Clare Tree Major Children's Theater.

Last year's final production was "Robin Hood."

The children's theater actors and stage hands make their headquarters in New York City and tour the country presenting various children's stories. The second production in Pampa will be presented during the latter part of March.

The local chapter of the AAUW sponsors the semi-annual productions.

"Toby Tyler," or "Ten Weeks With a Circus" is taken from James Otis' book of the same name. The story opens when Toby is introduced to the circus, and pronto decides to run away from home.

Needless to say, he eventually ends up at the circus. The small boy encounters many breath-taking adventures, before he finally gets home again with Uncle Daniel.

German Reds Plan Mass Meeting

BERLIN (AP) — German Communists in Berlin announced they will hold a mass meeting Monday in downtown Potsdamer Platz to denounce "war mongers."

The spot they have elected is where the Russian sector borders on the United States and British sectors. The announcement of the meeting pointedly advertised that it was to be "on the sector borders."

It was not clear whether the Communists hoped to attract attendance from anti Communist Western Berlin or whether they might seek to provoke disorders. British and American authorities have forbidden Western Berliners to stage mass meetings or demonstrations near the sector borders since the bloody clash last September at the Brandenburg Gate after an anti-Communist rally.

The Pope did not mention Cardinal Mindszenty or his Communist accusers by name. He is expected to condemn the arrest and trial in an address before an extraordinary secret consistory here Monday.

The Sacred Consistorial Congregation pronounced the excommunications against Hungarians involved in the Mindszenty case. It formally decreed Dec. 28 the excommunication of all those involved in the cardinal's Yugoslav arrest.

Israel Buys House Building Machinery

NEW YORK (AP) — A deal to buy $250,000 of American mass-production housebuilding equipment was completed Saturday by an Israeli development company.

The equipment was sold by plants in Longview, Tex., Peoria, Ill., and other cities.

R. L. Letourneau, special products manager for the firm, said the Israeli company plans to build at least five houses a day with the equipment in an effort to meet the pressing housing needs in the new state.

HUNGARIANS

ident Truman, Acheson and Bevin "used methods which are absolutely unacceptable."

"They ignored fact," he said. "They defied the Eastern front of the Mindszenty trial and, in doing so, they referred to the peace treaty which aimed to put an end to fascism. It is obvious that American imperialism has not wanted to liquidate fascism at all. On the contrary, it aims to revive it."

"Western powers have called Hungary's attention to the human rights clause of the treaty, requiring that she take all necessary measures to assure all persons under her jurisdiction freedom of religion, politics, expression and press."

The foreign minister declared newsmen who covered the cardinal's trial could see "Mindszenty and his accomplices aimed to overthrow the republic and annihilate the results of democracy and to restore the Hapsburg monarchy, hated all over the world."

"(Rajk uses the words 'republic' and 'democracy' in the Communist fashion, meaning Communist state and Communist way of life.)"

He said the trial also revealed the cardinal's activities were known to responsible factors of certain Western powers.

"French governmental circles, accepting humbly the orders of the American imperialists, made public a note of protest in their press which they forgot to deliver to the Hungarian government," Rajk said. "They got ashamed, I assume."

Rajk concluded: "They cannot influence the Hungarian government with brutal interference and it is also impossible to mislead international democratic opinion. Mr. Acheson said Congress was for bringing the case of Mindszenty before the U.N. He was backed by President Truman. The trial of Mindszenty uncovered the activities of imperialists and their Hungarian agents. We will face the discussion of the case before the U.N."

Down on the Texas coast there were strong southerly winds. Near Robstown, high winds bowled a grain elevator over on telephone wires Saturday, knocking out 29 circuits. They were repaired in about four hours.

Panhandle and South Plains temperatures were mild late Saturday afternoon in advance of the cold front. Readings were mostly in the 50's. Light rain and drizzles fell at Pampa, Amarillo, Clarendon, and Childress. West Texas temperatures were in the 50's or 60's. Laredo had an 89. In East, Central, and Coastal sections the mercury pushed up to the 70's.

A hard freeze was due Sunday night as far over in the state as Dallas. Occasional thunderstorms were expected in East Texas.

The radar network bill approved by the Armed Forces Subcommittee headed by Rep. Durham (D-NC) Saturday will be discussed by the full committee on Tuesday.

Prompt approval by the House has been forecast by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the armed services group. However, a separate bill to appropriate the money is still required.

Should the bill become law, it would authorize a program which calls for radar stations set up around the country, including Alaska, to scan the skies electronically and provide warning of the approach of aircraft. They would be lookout posts for an improved air defense system. The Navy would operate four special vessels at sea to broaden the coverage of the sky approaches as part of the system.

be cleaned up next week.

Both houses have a large backlog of unfinished business.

Both are hearing witnesses on a year's extension of the European Recovery Program, with Senate action likely this month.

Committees are working on rent control, housing, minimum wage, farm price support, grain storage and national science foundation bills. But no schedule for action on any of these measures has been worked out.

The Senate Labor Committee, currently battling over a substitute for the Taft-Hartley Act, may produce a bill early in March.

One segment of President Truman's lengthy program remains practically untouched by Congress. This includes his proposals for social security expansion, medical care insurance, aid to education and civil rights.

Air Force General Asks $161 Million For Radar Screen Around United States

WASHINGTON —(AP)—An Air Force general told Congress the nation's air warning defense system is so inadequate that "words would be impossible to describe how poor it is."

Maj. Gen. Gordon P. Saville, head of the Air Defense Command, urged swift approval of a $161 million plan to throw an effective radar screen around the United States, with outposts at sea and around the world.

He testified before the House Armed Services Committee in support of a bill by Rep. Durham (D-NC) to authorize the program. Chairman Vinson (D-Go.) of the Armed Services Committee is a co-sponsor of the plan.

Durham asked General Saville whether he considers the present radar warning system "dangerously inadequate." The general replied:

"Yes, sir. Words would be impossible to describe how poor it is. It is almost a blank."

The general declared also that radar protection in Alaska "is are under the Eastern Air Defense Command, and three under the Western command."

He said Alaska's geographic location "makes it of prime importance to our defense."

Durham's bill would give the Air Force full responsibility for guarding the nation from air attack. The Air Force would operate warning facilities operated at sea by the Navy, and on land by the Army.

General Saville, and General Muir S. Fairchild, Air Force chief of staff, both told the committee the radar screen could not assure complete protection. Saville said "there are no known tactical means of providing absolute protection and absolute warning."

Before the hearing, the committee asked the Air Force whether the screen would be "of any avail whatsoever" in guarding the United States from attack.

General Saville said the Air Force has divided the country into eight air defense areas. Five are under the Eastern Air Defense Command, and three under the Western command.

The division between the two is a north-south line running a little east of the Western boundaries of the Dakotas and Nebraska.

Each area will have a control center, from which Air Force commanders would direct interceptor fighter planes and put Army antiaircraft artillery on the alert in case of attack. Mobilization of the Air National Guard would divide the eight main areas into a total of 20 sub-areas.

The program includes four radar picket vessels to be operated by the Navy as outposts. A request for money to build the four ships was cut from the Navy's budget for the fiscal year ending July 1, General Saville said.

Saville told the committee that no radar warning stations are being operated outside the United States. He did not say where the stations in the Air Force bill would be set up.

The radar screen, the general explained, would consist of stations located around the borders of the United States to guard what the Air Force considers the strategic air approaches.

Bound for Billings, Mont., this Burlington train was stalled here, at a spot 30 miles north of Fort Collins, Colo. The tracks are completely covered with snow, and the drifts, at the side of the tracks, are almost as high as the engine. Passengers were stranded for 17 hours, many without food.

In Hollywood

By ERIKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA)—Let's go set visiting, something we haven't done lately because there were no sets in Hollywood to visit. In an hour of prodding around the 20th Century-Fox lot I discovered that:

Paris fashions will elevate milady's hemline to just below the knee by fall. Hurray!

June Haver's terrific bow, the violin, but only after the bow has been soaped.

Nasty Richard Widmark is finding the role of a film lover just as easy to play as that of a villain.

"Not about milady's hemline," the Fox fashion bow, Patsy Henshaw predicted the rising level while fustini' with June Haver's buttons and bows for her 1910 costume on the set of "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

ALL A MISTAKE

"Long skirts," he said, "were a mistake and the Paris designers finally have realized it. Skirts are going up."

Robert Hays always fought for "movie fashions," a type of designing that ignores current fads and gives clothes a timeless effect. "But the front offices," he said, "always vote it down."

Little June — she's 5 feet 11-1/2 — "but I always say I'm 5 feet, 2 inches" — sings, dances, plays the piano and the violin in this film about the life and times of song writer Fred Fisher.

Everything but the violin playing is on the lot. June learned to finger the instrument like a Heifetz, but the numbers are dubbed for her. June fiddles like mad but nothing comes out because they soap the bow.

All wrestlers are actors so it was almost inevitable that one of them would get a Screen Actors Guild card and make a "good living in Hollywood." The fellow is Mike Mazurki, who clicked with Dick Powell in "Murder, My Sweet," and has been working before the cameras ever since.

Now he's in "Come to the Stable," with Loretta Young.

But Mike still looks with disdain upon Hollywood's brand of acting. Even an Oscar doesn't impress him.

"Real acting," he whispered behind Loretta's back, "is something you just don't find in Hollywood. You find it only in the wrestling ring."

Sammy has a song in "A Connecticut Yankee" which may even top "Buttons and Bows." It's called "Bust Doing Nothing," and it's warbled by Bing Crosby, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Bill Bendix.

Ancient Babylonians and Egyptians early learned to measure time accurately by the sundial.

Ways to Save

If you were a native of Siam, you would save cowry shells, but you would need a large space to keep them in. Five dollars' worth of shells would weigh about 200 pounds. If you wanted to hire porters to carry your "wealth" you would find that at the end of 150 miles you would owe the entire amount, and more too, to your porters.

It's hard to have in Siam... but it's a pleasure in Pampa, and profitable as well. The Citizens Bank and Trust welcomes your savings, in small or large amounts, and pays you for being thrifty. Stop in and let us explain.

Youth Given High Red Cross Award

AUSTIN —(AP)—A 13-year-old Houston boy who saved his three-year-old brother from drowning has been awarded the highest honor given by the American National Red Cross.

The boy, Lloyd G. Hunter, was awarded the Certificate of Merit, H. D. Carmichael, Red Cross state relations officer in Texas, said.

Last Oct. 31, three-year-old Kenneth Hunter walked off the end of a pier at Kemah, Tex. Lloyd jumped in fully clothed and towed his brother for 20 feet to another pier where their mother, Mrs. Hazel Hunter, was waiting to help them out of the water. Mrs. Hunter said she was a poor swimmer.

The award has been given to 38 Texans since it was begun in 1913.

Two Teen-Agers Held On Extortion Charge

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)—Joe Lopez Limon, 19, and Jose Antonio Martinez, 17, were arraigned Friday on charges of violating federal extortion statutes. Bonds of $5,000 each were set.

The two teen-agers were arrested by FBI agents Thursday when they picked up a package tossed by one of five Catholic priests who received a note demanding $3,000 in cash.

Black Fly Menaces State Citrus Farms

AUSTIN —(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester said he would seek emergency legislation to protect Texas citrus fruit growers from threatened black fly menace.

Jester promised aid to members of a Rio Grande Valley delegation that warned him Texas fruit growers stand to lose millions of dollars if the black fly of Mexico became prevalent in Texas.

Senators Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen plan to introduce bills Monday asking a $40,000 appropriation to employ plant inspectors at all possible entry points on the fly.

This money is sought by the delegation to carry on border inspections until the federal government could take over.

The group said the nearest confirmed point of infection is about 292 miles south of Brownsville.

Decoys Fitted With Motors Scare Crows

DECATUR, Ill. —(AP)—Aluminum owls used for scaring shrikes are being equipped with movable wings to scare crows.

The inventors, Jimmie Soules and Joe Swisher, are bringing out two new models to help farmers control the crow pest. One will have its wings moved by wind horsepower electric motor.

So-called "velvet ants" are not ants, but wingless relatives of the wasp family.

Owners of low-built Hudsons have it!

Owners of New Hudsons are seeing for themselves that the lower a car can be built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it will ride, the more sure it will handle, and the safer it will be!

Because people who drive Hudsons "step down" into an exciting, new kind of automobile, they enjoy more head room and roomier seats—in an automobile only five feet from ground to top—than in any mass-produced car built today! Yet Hudson has ample road clearance!

But roominess is only one of the wonderful advantages that go with the automobile that is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Here are more:

Authentic beauty—the "step down" principle is so basically right it frees designers of the need for makeshift styling, enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions, symmetric, free-flowing lines.

A hug-the-road ride, and a smooth, steady way of going, because Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

Performance? You bet! Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, get every change to perform at their brilliant best, because this car is so low-built, so streamlined!

A new measure of safety, because you ride completely enclosed by the sturdy, box-section steel girders of Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame.

We invite you to visit your nearby Hudson showroom, to see all the advantages you are entitled to in your new car!

Ferdinand's Brother Arrives to Take Part in Top o' Texas Livestock Show

By JIM McCLUSKEY
News Staff Writer

Ferdinand's brother, upon approaching us, snorted, shook his horns and muttered a few things that must have been profanity in livestock lingo.

However, when he found we were from The News, he changed his manner, hoping we could help him win one of the big prizes that is going to be awarded during the Top o' Texas Junior Livestock and Hereford Breeders Show and Sale.

Ferdinand's brother was one of the early arrivals yesterday at Recreation Park. He was just mad because he had gotten a little wet when he was being led to his stall.

He told us both city and county trucks had hauled gravel to the park all day yesterday so participants in this year's show wouldn't get into mud up to their knees, as we did yesterday.

City employees and equipment will spend the day spreading the gravel.

Many of the farmers and ranchers who plan to participate in the show arrived at the show barn about the same time I did. The relative of the famous Ferdinand said.

Earl Breeding, Roberts County agent, Clyde McGee, vocational agriculture teacher of McLean and Vic Joyner, assistant Gray County agent, were on hand early to get the livestock in their proper places.

C. M. Carpenter, W. L. Williams, Farris Hess, McLean; Gordon Whitener, Wheeler; Glen Rose, Goodlet and L. A. and Wayne Maddox, Miami, were among the first out-of-towners to bring their livestock to the show barn at Recreation Park. They all have fine animals.

Meanwhile, some of the out-of-town FFA and 4-H Club boys were just as speedy in getting their calves and pigs into their stalls.

Glen and Amos Harris, Jr., brought calves that are prize winners in anybody's language. Other early arrivals included Frank Parker, Miami, Tommy O'Laughlin, Miami and John Loyd and Davey Caruth.

Seems as if Ferdinand's brother isn't the only one who has entered the fifth annual show in hopes of taking home a prize.

Texas Stock Loss Offset By Good Grazing Prospects

AUSTIN --(AP)-- Texas livestock suffered severe damage during the January freezes but the bad news is offset to some extent by predictions of luxuriant spring grazing conditions.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that on Feb. 1 cattle showed heavy shrinkage from the bad weather and the loss of new-born range calves was "very heavy." Ewes and yearling lambs showed heavy shrinkage but the losses were generally lighter than might be expected from the sub-zero temperatures and heavy snow. The USDA said early lambs born during the last week of January had little chance to survive unless provided immediate shelter.

A strong demand for stocker cows, and calves is expected to develop as soon as ranges and pastures respond to improved moisture. A considerable number of cattle on wheat pasture in the plains counties have been shipped.

A strong demand for replacement ewes is expected during the spring months, particularly in the northwest plateau and trans-Pecos counties where the extended drought encouraged reduction of breeding flocks.

Spring range feed prospects improved sharply during January. Sleet and snow protected wheat and oats from extreme low temperatures and luxuriant early spring grazing is expected soon. The USDA said meat production in commercial plants in Texas during 1948 was about six percent less than 1947. The number of cattle and calves slaughtered were less than the year before, but the number of sheep, lambs and hogs increased.

Paratrooper Sentenced to Seven Months

BERLIN --(AP)-- Edward J. Lada, was sentenced to seven months imprisonment and fined $70 for an adventurous hitch-hike to Berlin to see his German girl friend and their two-year-old baby.

The former American paratrooper from Newark, N. J., was convicted by a United States military government court on various charges considered "prejudicial to the good order" of the occupation forces. He was acquitted, however, on the most serious charge -- illegal entry.

Judge T. T. Marye of Arlington, Va., said the prosecution had failed to prove illegal entry. He agreed with the defense contention that Lada came into Germany from France, through the French Zone. This would have been a matter for the French to prosecute. Lada's journey for love last November took him through the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

He was found guilty of jail break from his three-day venture outside the U. S. Army stockade just before Christmas and of unlawful possession of an Army identification card which he failed to turn in after his service was terminated.

Lada first entered Germany during the war as a member of the 82nd Airborne Division. His visit to Berlin last fall was to see Miss Ruth Riecki, 23, and her daughter, Nancy. His visit was complicated when a second girl turned up. She later said she was through with him.

Defense Counsel Robert M. Donih said the defendant hoped to wed Miss Riecki as soon as the trial ends, if Army authorities will permit.

Overflow Crowd Witnesses Battle for League Supremacy

By Warren Mason—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What is the oldest sport known to man?

FORE: Warmup had an opportunity to shoot nine holes of golf around the Country Club course Friday afternoon with Grover Austin, Jr., and Johnny Foreman. This is the first good look he has had at the local golf headquarters, and what he saw was very pleasing.

The course certainly is a fine one, one of which the sportsmen in the area can be proud. It is tricky, especially that short number 7 hole with a crosswind blowing, and it is long. And when there is a wind blowing, as there generally is, it is an even longer course.

Considering the time of the year, and the hard winter we have had, the course is in excellent shape. The greens are all good, the fairways dry except in the gullies, which are a bit muddy at the bottom.

Improvements are being made daily. Trees are being planted up around numbers 9 and 15 greens. Attempts are being made to put a lake in the gully between number 7 and 8, which will affect three holes, giving a water hazard. These changes will make the course even more tricky than it already is.

The swimming pool will have more trees planted around it, and it will be repainted.

Once again an active interest will be shown in the attempt to start young golfers on their way. Johnny Austin, club professional said, he will have classes for the beginners in the mornings whenever possible during the summer. Tournaments will be arranged for them as in the past. And once again the local club will be the scene of many of the bigger and finer tournaments in the area.

The course is undoubtedly one of the finest in the state mainly through the constant efforts of the club personnel and members to keep it. This year look like another banner year for Pampa golfers.

ANSWER: Boxing is the oldest of all sports. Evidence has been found that pugilism was practiced by the ancient Sumerians more than 3000 years B. C.

DOT AND DASHES: Carl Gray, who wrestled here Friday night, served as a phys-ed instructor during the war. . . He used to get special permission to get off the base and wrestle professionally on weekends and during the week. . . At that time he was wrestling in the area around San Antonio and Houston. . . Billy Hickson has a younger brother who could have been a boxer. . . He won 36 fights in a row and challenged Lew Jenkins when the Army caught up with him. . . He re-enlisted and is now stationed in Germany. . . Midget auto racing has become so fast that officials are considering the adoption of gasoline and standard motor fuel in place of alcohol. . . This safety measure, reducing the speed of the midgets, still would permit all drivers to compete on an even basis. . . An old Geneva College schoolmate of Indiana's football Coach Clyde Smith was attempting to console Smith about having lost seven games in 1948. . . "Don't worry, Clyde," the friend said, "the sun will shine tomorrow." . . "Yes," quipped Smith, "but wish the nights weren't so long!" . . . Tony Galento receives credit for the year's best quote: "I've gotten two football knees, a chipped elbow and lame back out of

Pep Regains Title After Four Months

NEW YORK—(AP)—Willie Pep still has it. . . Battle worn and weary with 11 stitches in cuts around both eyes, Wee Willie again holds the featherweight championship of the world after a four-month lapse. . . Sandy Saddler, the spindly-legged Harlem slasher who dethroned Willie on a fourth round knockout, Oct. 23, yielded to the ex-champ in a savage 15-round brawl Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

No man in modern day fight history ever recaptured the undisputed 126-pound crown after he lost it, before Pep did the trick. . . The stage is set for a rematch, a third chapter, of this duel between Pep and the only man who ever knocked him out. . . Next summer at the Yankee Stadium is the logical site for the third duel provided Harry Markson, 20th century Sporting Club director, can make the match. Both managers, Lou Viscusi of Pep and Charlie Johnson of Saddler, were in Saturday afternoon to collect their 30 percent checks of the $37,500 gross paid by the sellout mob of 19,000. . . Johnston had a beef about the work of Referee Eddie Joseph who, along with the two judges, made the verdict unani-

The district 1-AA basketball race was thrown into a three way tie between Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock last night on a swishing one-hand push shot by Little Jack Little, diminutive Amarillo forward, who sent his team into a 30-29 lead with 15 seconds remaining.

The Harvesters went into the fourth period holding a nine point margin, but couldn't hold it as baskets and free throws by Billy Hughes and Jack Little sent the count into a 29-26 tie with three minutes remaining to be played. . . A basket and free throw by Derral Davis sent the Harvesters into a three point lead at which point Hughes scored on a layup shot and set the stage for the game winning basket by Little.

The game was marked by the excellent rebound work of Bill Bond, Senior forward for the Harvesters, who controlled practically all of the rebounds at both ends of the floor. Howard was closely dogged by Little, who didn't let him get a good set shot all night long.

For Amarillo it was that same pesky Little, the speediest man on the floor, who caused much trouble. . . The game started off with Pampa jumping into a two point lead on a basket by Davis and evened by Little. A free throw by Galle-more sent Pampa back in front, and then a free throw and a basket by Ford, basket by Hughes and free throw by Franklin ended the first period scoring at 8-3. The Harvesters fought back the second period on free throws by Galle-more and Davis, and a basket by Davis and Howard which sent the Harvesters into a 15-14 lead at halftime. This was the one point margin the Harvesters had at half time in their first meeting.

The third period spurt was fused by Galle-more who hit for a basket and three free throws during this period, aided by a basket by Douglass and free throws by Howard and Davis. This set the scene for the fatal fourth period in which the Harvesters were outscored 13-3. . . With 15 seconds remaining and the score 30-29 Amarillo, the clock froze and would not start, causing more confusion. After the difficulties had been straightened out, the Harvesters had time for one more shot, which hit the rim, but wouldn't fall in. And the horn sounded.

Three defending state champions were in action last night, two in the semi-finals and one in the quarter-finals. Fred Morales of Temple was top choice to defend his flyweight title. . . Friday night, two-time state champion Tom Adams, Abilene, punched his way into the semi-finals of the light heavyweight division and Leon Palacio, Amarillo, defending bantamweight title, reached the semi-finals in his weight class.

Johnny O'Gea, a finalist last year, advanced in the lightweight division with a decision over Danny Orsak of Houston. The Dallas fighter had a clear edge. . . San Antonio leads in the race for the team title. The Alamo City has 10 points with five fighters left in the tournament. . . Odessa, El Paso, Fort Worth and Houston each have eight points. Brownwood seven, Dallas and Corpus Christi six and Austin and Abilene five.

In last night's pairings, Leon Palacio, Amarillo, was to meet Joe Garza, Fort Worth, in the bantamweight division. . . Willie Hawkins, Amarillo, was slated to battle Bob Walker, Corpus Christi in the middleweight semi-finals. . . Friday night, Palacio declined to fight Stringer of Bul Rose. Hawkins scored a second round TKO over Wayne Phelan from Brownwood, and John Hernandez of Amarillo lost a decision to Winston Lackey from Brownwood. In the welterweight division, Jack Lawrence, who defeated Gene Cooper, suffered a cut eye in the first round and lost to Adolfo Martinez of El Paso.

Bill Sommers, infield rookie candidate of the St. Louis Browns, has played four straight seasons in the minors without missing a game. . . mous. Charlie thought Joseph gave Saddler all the worst of it in the clinches. Once, in the second round, Joseph was unable to break the fighters. When he did, Pep stepped on Sandy's foot. It was that kind of a brawl, no quarter given nor asked.

What a peculiar bit of business eating! We're creatures of habit—timid, unoriginal, unimaginative, greatly lacking in curiosity when it comes to meat in the pot.

If I were to tell you roast muskrat is one of the most succulent dishes I've ever eaten, I can hear you exclaim, "But it's a rat!" What a silly inhibition! The muskrat has nothing in common with the kind of rat you have in mind. And it is good eating. So are raccoon, woodchuck, opossum, beaver and porcupine.

And that, says Byron Dalrymple, well known author, is the answer to you outdoorsmen who fish all summer, hunt birds and big game all fall—and fidget all winter. The art of fur-season cookery is a whole hobby in itself, the results interesting, unusual, and best of all, delicious. In preparing any small game cut away the abdomen flesh. Here in a cold, airy place for several days comes from. Be sure and remove the small kernels under the forelegs and in the small of the back. Then hang the meat in a cool, airy place for several days.

Parboil the meat in salted water, with a carrot or a small onion. A half hour to an hour will be sufficient. After the parboiling, use your imagination. Even with very simple recipes the resulting dish is real he-man food.

This idea of eating fur-bearing animals isn't new. Frontiersmen were often fond of fox and wolf. Along the Great Lakes, during the prime fur season, many roadhouses serve muskrat dinners. In Louisiana, where thousands of muskrats are trapped for fur, the meat is sent to New York where it is used as an ingredient in superlative terrapin soup. In Mexico the desert parrot rat is often sold in markets. In the Southwest the armadillo makes good eating. Lynx meat has its admirers in the Far North.

There are dozens of ways to cook any one of these meats. Try your own ideas. That's how good cooks are made. No matter how you do it, if you make a hobby of fur-season cookery, you'll have different eating, that's sure, and you'll find one more interesting activity to tide you over the dull months.

BETTER BOWLING

By BILLY SIXTY
CARELESS SHOOTING: Always use the widest range possible in shooting end-alley spares, such as the Nos. 6-10 and the Nos. 4-7. It is easy advice, but you'd be surprised how even the star bowlers frequently get careless in shooting them.

They do not shift positions sufficiently to guard against cherry picking the 6 off the 10, or the 4 off the 7.

Most difficult of the two spares is the 6-10, because the stance moves over to the extreme left side of the alley for a right-handed bowler. This is awkward at first and requires much practice to acquire the confidence to aim the ball directly at the No. 10.

The stance should be taken approximately even with the left-hand gutter (see illustration) to insure making the spare consistently, but the feet should be pointed to the right, at the pins, so that the stride (run) angles to the right naturally and comfortably. The ball should be released in the middle of the alley, or slightly to the left of center.

It is important that the swing be smooth, timed with footwork, no hurry. The smallest jerk of the arm inevitably results in pushing the ball into the gutter, or it forces a quick turn of the wrist to the left, causing a hook-break and usually chopping of the 6 pin cherry off the No. 10. Starting the ball to the right of center almost always produces a hook finish and a chop.

In playing the 4-7 spare, start the ball to the RIGHT of the alley center to allow the ball to break to the left naturally. Shifting stance to the left of center invites a cherry.

Hogan Named Head Of Ryder Cup Team

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)—Members of the Texas PGA held their annual meeting Wednesday night, and they didn't forget Ben Hogan. The famed golfer, now recovering from an auto accident injury, was nominated by the Texas PGA as non-playing captain of the American Ryder Cup team.

The Ryder Cup Matches are scheduled Sept. 16-17 in England. Nomination of Hogan was made by Jimmy Demaret, who said: "Hogan will likely be unable to play in the Ryder Cup Matches but I think he should be named non-playing captain."

When the applause died down the suggestion was unanimously approved. It was disclosed at the meeting that the Texas PGA Tournament, originally set for May 2-8 at Dallas, won't be held there because sponsorship has been withdrawn. San Antonio entered a bid for the meet.

Wally Hood, Jr., is a New York Yankee pitching rookie. His father hurried for Brooklyn in the twenties.

Two of the roughest masters of the wrestling ring appeared at the Sportatorium Friday night and gave an excellent display of their talents. We are speaking of one Carl Gray from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Olan Boynton of Amarillo. These two men really put on a display of rough and dirty wrestling, one that brought the crowd to its feet in anger, and caused many fans to go to the ring with shaking fists and threatening tongues.

The first match of the evening featured young Billy Parks, of North Bay, Ontario, Canada, and Carl Gray, the Milwaukee veteran. Gray immediately opened up his bag of dirty tricks with slugging, kneeling, hair pulling and other methods not mentioned in the book. Gray wrestles on the order of Pat O'Dowdy, a terrific showman, with long hair and easily bruised feelings. The first fall was won by the veteran grunt and groan artist with a Boston Crab in 20 minutes.

The second fall went to Parks who won with a knee lock and toe twist after several of them had been broken by a kick to the chest by Gray. Earlier in the fall, both men were tied in a double cradle and agreed to break the hold and start again. Parks eased up his hold, but Gray didn't.

The third fall started fast with Gray tying Parks in the ropes and making it difficult for the referee to untie him. Parks turned the tables by running Gray across the ring and knocking him through the ropes on that side. Finally time ran out on the fight but the third fall could be gained by either man and the fight was stopped and called a draw. As Parks was leaving the ring, Gray attacked him. Parks retaliated by throwing a head scissor on Gray and flipping him back into the ring. When last seen Gray was running for his dressing room from the angry Canadian.

Up to this point, it appeared that Gray won the "dirtiest wrestler" award for the year, but Boynton changed our mind. He started off by laying Hickson across the ropes and knee lifting him, when the hold should have been broken. Hickson picked Boynton up and was going to throw him out of the ring, but decided he hadn't better as it would have meant automatic disqualification. Boynton gained a choke hold and used it constantly through the first fall until Hickson managed to break loose, grab a rolling leg lock hold and then pin Boynton with a Boston Crab after 14 minutes had elapsed.

The second fall went to the flabby Boynton in 16 minutes time after he had choked and slugged Hickson to near unconsciousness before applying a surboard hold.

The final fall got off to a roaring start with Hickson climbing aboard Boynton's back, pickaback style, and Boynton could do nothing with him until he untied a shoe lace of Hickson's and jabbed Billy in the leg with the metal tip of it. Hickson again applied several knee locks but had them broken with kicks to the chest. Boynton reached inside his moth-eaten trunks and pulled a piece of soap out and rubbed it across Hickson's face and mouth when he had him in a choke hold away from the referee's vision. Finally after 22 minutes of the rough tactics, Hickson broke loose and applied a cradle hold that pinned the Amarilloan for the count.

No Bids Received On Surplus Navy Coast Shipyard

ORANGE — (AP) — The War Assets Administration told the Orange Leader it had failed to receive a bid in the public offering of a Navy shipyard at Orange.

Karl Wallace, WAA regional director at Dallas, said no one made an offer on the $2,500,000 plant up to the 2:30 p.m. deadline Thursday. He said this means the WAA probably will resume negotiations with the Consolidated Steel Corporation which has been trying to purchase the shipyard since it was declared surplus about a year ago.

Consolidated operated the yard for the Navy during the war. Consolidated, a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corp., is now operating a steel fabricating plant adjacent to the shipyard.

The Justice Department ruled that it would be illegal for the WAA to dispose of the shipyard unless it offered the yard to the highest bidder in a public offering.

The yard was advertised widely. Wallace said the complete lack of bidders meant that either the WAA could resume negotiations with Consolidated "which probably will be done" or turn the yard back to the Navy which has expressed no desire for it since HOMER BRUMBY, Hereford, will be on hand at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow to judge the Junior Livestock Show and to place the sale order. He is a graduate of Texas Technological School of Animal Husbandry.

Jiu-jitsu (or judo) on which Japan's national system of physical culture was based, was introduced from China centuries ago.

Consolidated officials indicated here they would resume negotiations with the WAA.

JUST how Carter managed to persuade Susan that it was wise to let Merry have her way, Merry herself never knew. She walked warily, thought twice before she spoke, and kept out of the way as much as she could. Once or twice Susan came to dinner with her eyes slightly pink from tears and her voice trembled when she looked at Merry. But within a week or a little more, she had come around to their way of looking at it, and Merry, with her heart singing, made her plans.

A golden morning late in February, with herself and Andrew in the front seat of her own car and Lizzie beaming like a dusky goddess in the back, found them driving toward Marshallville. Merry drew a deep breath of relief and tried not to remember the look in her mother's eyes as she had stood on the steps of Cielito Lindo and watched them drive away.

"It is the best thing," she told herself, her hands clenching tightly on the wheel. "It's got to be. Having me underfoot all the time just kept making her remember things, and that made Carter jealous. He's crazy about her and she likes him, and they have a right to be alone."

As the miles sped beneath the wheels, and the sun came out, lifting the fog and revealing the green landscape, her spirits rose. She was going home! And that was enough to make her want to sing for joy.

THE mellow old house looked forlorn and neglected as they drew up to it in the late afternoon, but Merry jumped out and jingled the keys joyously as she ran to unlock the front door and Lizzie and Andrew, beaming happily, followed her with the luggage.

"It's too cold and damp for us to stay here tonight," Merry declined when they had stowed the luggage in the house and stood looking about the dust-sheet-covered furniture, the striped beds. "You run on over to your son's and spend the night, and I'll go to the hotel, and in the morning we'll get things started."

Lizzie and Andrew exchanged a swift glance and Andrew said, "Yesum. Us drop you off at the hotel, and pick you up in de mornin'."

Merry nodded as she turned the key in the lock and went back to the car with them. She was welcomed at the hotel with pleasant warmth and had dinner served in her room, since she was too tired to risk running into any of her friends. She hesitated for a moment with her hand on the telephone, about to call Tip, and then thought better of it. She was tired; and she wouldn't admit that she was a little shy of seeing him again.

She fell asleep almost as soon as she got to bed and slept dreamlessly until almost nine o'clock the next morning. She tumbled out of bed, thrilled by the pleasantly important prospect of an awful lot of work that had to be done that day.

She was having an enormous breakfast in the dining room when a bell-hop came to tell her her car was waiting. She finished and ran out into the warm sunshine where Andrew, his black face split by a white grin, was waiting for her.

"Where's Lizzie?" she asked as she tumbled into the car.

"Dave taken her on to de house. Miss Merry, whilst I pick you up," said Andrew cheerfully.

"Oh, Andrew, isn't it a fabulous morning? Oh, Mrs. Lemon's coming. Mrs. are out. Aren't they heavenly?"

"She's a fine mawwin', Miss Merry. Ain't no place in de world better'n Marshallville, Miss Merry!" said Andrew, and beamed.

Merry perched on the edge of the seat, smiling contentedly like an excited puppy at the words that, to her, made up the real word "home." She had never known, until that moment just how terribly homesick she had been.

ANDREW turned in at the gate set in the low brick wall surrounding the old house, and started, Merry saw smoke rising from the chimney; saw two men working on the unkempt lawn, the signs of activity about the place.

"Dave bring Lizzie over, and a friend of his what ain't workin' come along to fix up de grounds," Andrew explained.

As Merry fished for the keys, the front door swung open and Aunt Jane stood there, with Lizzie right behind her, and both wore smiles that rivalled the golden morning.

Merry flew into Aunt Jane's arms and they wept together and laughed at each other and Lizzie also shamelessly wiped away a tear. Aunt Jane said huskily, "Welcome home, child."

"But how in the world did you get here? And how did you get in?" Merry marvelled when the first transports of delight were over.

Lizzie laughed richly. "I slipped de lock offen de front do' 'fore me an' Andy taken yo' to de hotel, honey. Den us come back hyeh and work awhile. An den de mawwin', us telephoned Miss Jane an' she got be'ac'f a taxi and come right out."

"I came down a couple of days ahead and spent the time with some friends. Lizzie and I thought you'd like having us all here together when you came back home, child," said Aunt Jane gently.

"You're all lambs and I love you to pieces," said Merry huskily, and dashed the tears from her eyes childishly with the back of her hand. "I'll run upstairs and get into work-clothes and be right back. Oh, glory, isn't it frantic to be home again?"

"Frantic is probably the word—I wouldn't know," grinned Aunt Jane. "In my day, we'd probably have said 'de-light-ful,' only it's been so long I wouldn't remember."

Quiz Program Plans Oil Wells, Cattle, Prizes

DALLAS — (AP) — A quiz program to top all quiz programs with such prizes as oil wells, herds of cattle and cotton farms for the right answers—is being projected for the Cotton Bowl next summer. A goal has been set for a million-dollar prize pot of merchandise and cash.

Clyde W. Rembert, manager of KRLD, Dallas radio station, said that the Columbia Broadcasting System has expressed interest in putting the show on its national network.

The idea was conceived by Lee Segall, operator of Dallas Station KIXL and originator of the Dr. I. Q. program. It would be sponsored as a civic boosting project under the name of "Dollars for Dallas," Segall said, and all profits would be turned over to some worthy cause.

It is hoped that most of the prizes will be donated, Segall said. With an aim of bringing visitors to Dallas, Segall proposes that all prizes won by out-of-towners be doubled.

Come see the New '49 PONTIAC

Featuring 14 Important Motor Car Advancements

1. THE YEAR'S OUTSTANDING BEAUTY. Completely new front end styling, striking new Bodies by Fisher, new Stream-Sweep fenders, and Hi-Are rear deck assembly—all combine to make the 1949 Pontiac truly "the most beautiful thing on wheels."
2. LOWEST PRICED CAR WITH GM HYDRAMATIC for unsurpassed "automatic" driving ease. No clutch pedal. No continuous shifting. You just sit back and drive! Optional on all models at extra cost.
3. NEW WIDE-HORIZON WINDSHIELD. Wider and smartly curved in the modern mode.
4. WIDE, EASY-ACCESS DOORS contribute greatly to the pleasure of owning and driving a Pontiac. The floor is level with all door sills—a safety feature particularly appealing to women.
5. SAFE-T-NEW DRIVER VIEW. The new windshield, lower hood and slatted pillars give greatly increased road vision. Greater glass area, both front and rear, gives a sense of "open-airness" to the VISION-AIRE INTERIORS.
6. NEW TRAVELUX RIDE. Extraordinary comfort over all roads is made possible by CENTER POISED SEATING—which places rear seat passengers ahead of the axle, not over it.
7. WIDER SEATS... ADDED ROOM for luxurious, ultra comfortable riding.
8. NEW LOW PRESSURE TIRES, 15" WHEELS AND WIDER RIMS reduce road roughness and assure easier, steadier riding.
9. NU-CUSHION SPRINGING—combined with SEALED AIRPLANE TYPE SHOCK ABSORBERS, functioning within coil springs—assures a soft, smooth ride.
10. PONTIAC FAMOUS IMPROVED STRAIGHT RIGHT AND SIX CYLINDER ENGINES provide thrilling new performance. Packed with power... delightfully smooth... amazingly economical... thoroughly proved!
11. NEW HEATING AND VENTILATING SYSTEM with conveniently located controls on instrument panel.
12. NEW FINGER TIP STARTER BUTTON located within convenient reach on the instrument panel.
13. CARRY-MORE LUGGAGE SPACE with its new counter-balanced lid provides additional space making for new travel convenience and enjoyment.

PONTIAC—DIVISION OF GENERAL MOTORS

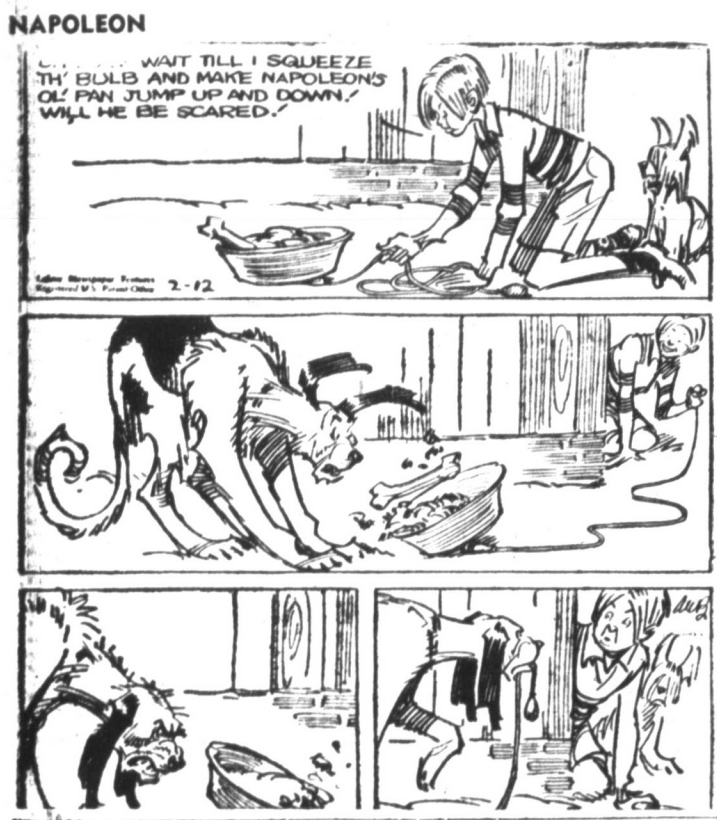

The minute you see it, you'll say, "That's it!" Because that's the natural, normal reaction to this utterly new and gorgeous beauty—the finest in a long, unbroken line of fine Pontiac cars! You'll feast your eyes on the outside—and you'll say it's a dream within! For here's a whole new concept of space, light and airiness in a motor car! And when you drive and ride, you'll say it's even better than it looks! You'll experience a thrilling, delightful, unique combination of power, acceleration, smoothness, silence, economy and proved design—all made more exciting by the unsurpassed driving ease of GM Hydra-Matic Drive. And as for comfort—just wait till you experience the almost unbelievable comfort and ease of Pontiac's exclusive new "Travelux" Ride! Here's one new car that's well worth looking at! Coal Discovered in Berlin

These miners are working on a coal deposit found in the French sector of Berlin. If Russia's blockade of the city lasts until next fall, the Allied Airlift may have a little easier supply job, as authorities think the mine may yield 1000 tons daily by then. The brown coal was found only 70 feet below the surface. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Joe Schupp.)

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Many pocketbooks throughout the nation will receive at least a slight pinch if natural resources tax bills before the Texas Legislature are adopted.

The legislators don't like to see the state's valuable resources exported on a near tax-free basis. Natural gas long has caused worry and now gasoline and other refined petroleum products are being studied.

Indications are that a sufficient number of the representatives and senators at present are willing to take some sort of action. Most Texans, while considering automobile expenses, would be glad to see enactment of a gasoline proposal, but residents of other states would not be too happy.

Rep. Davis Clifton has asked that the state's four-cent per gallon sales tax on gasoline be repealed and replaced with a one-cent levy per gallon on all combustible fuels, including naphtha, gasoline, butane and propane.

This would mean a three-cent saving for Texans on each gallon of gasoline purchased. Last year their purchases totaled 2,177,330,000 gallons.

Texas-produced gasoline exported tax-free as far as the Texas State Treasury is concerned—totaled $9,445,670,000. Under Clifton's bill these exports would be subject to a one-cent tax per gallon, a tax that could be expected to be passed on to the non-Texan consumers.

Clifton estimates his plan would boost the state's income by approximately $42,000,000 dollars annually. Last year the four-cent gasoline tax realized $72,000,000. The plan is slated for early consideration under a system whereby representatives draw for priority in introduction of bills. Clifton drew a high priority number.

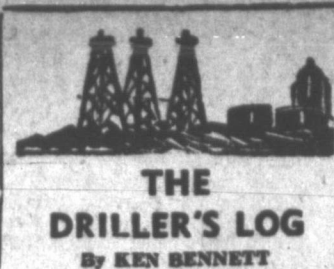

Two bills would replace the state's natural gas gross receipts tax with levies of one or one and one-half cents per 1000 cubic feet as produced or gathered.

A similar proposal passed the House two years ago but died in the Senate.

Authors of the natural gas bills figure an income of from $32,000,000 to $42,000,000, compared with $8,500,000 received last year under the gross receipts plan.

Refiners continue a gradual reduction in operations as industry leaders puzzle over problems involving crude oil production cutbacks, imports, and uncertain prices.

For the week ending February 27, 1949, Texas produced 1,170,000 barrels of oil, compared with 1,160,000 barrels the week before.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

After the roads became a little easier to navigate over, and the worst navigable is not altogether missed in this case, Ye Olde Editor has been able to learn a few facts about deep-tests and wildcats in the area. The news runs along about the same with the exception of the Cabot-Ellis well in Carson County which was plugged at a depth of 5,385 feet. This is the well that was originally begun by E. J. Dunigan, Jr., and later taken over by Cabot. This is a well also that a lot of people had eyes on to see what developed since it was a new territory. . . . However, the story is told now and the Number One Ellis is no more. . . . In Hansford County, the Gulf Collard is down to 3,591 feet and has a drill pipe stuck. . . . Rumors have begun to circulate, too, about the Gulf-Porter well in Lipscomb County. . . . That well is below 11,151 feet now, and has a drill pipe stuck. Chances are this pipe has been set to eliminate cavein trouble, but it does give access to some rumors. . . . The Phillips-Kathryn, Sherman County, is drilling in line at 7,106 feet. . . . The Sinclair, Roberts County, is drilling below 7,735 feet. . . . The Humble Nanny, Swisher County, drilling around 7,037 feet. . . . and the Helms-Farmer in Collingsworth County is drilling around 1,970 feet.

The API dance, held last Friday

Five refiners cut operations 2.7 percent below the previous week. Crude production dropped an average of 87,650 barrels daily as Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas cutbacks became effective. Gasoline stocks soared to an all-time high of 117,160,000 barrels.

Eighteen of the 24 states listed in the Weekly American Petroleum Institute report showed a decline in production, ranging from a 50 barrel daily drop in Florida to a 49,950 barrel slash in Kansas.

Only three reported increases. Louisiana saw 1900 barrels daily, Michigan 350 and Indiana 50. Production in Virginia, Nebraska, and Utah was unchanged.

Production for the week had a daily average of 5,351,200 barrels, compared with a year earlier figure of 5,332,575.

Stocks continued to hold their own although refiners were operating at 89.4 percent of capacity and despite winter demands for heating fuel. Light fuel oil stocks were 28,000,000 barrels ahead of the same 1947 week, heavy fuel 32,000,000 and kerosene 11,000,000.

Here and there: The Texas Legislature has been asked to set a 10-year limitation on the time a person can retain mineral title to land he sells. . . . First pipe deliveries are being made for Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line's 1840-mile natural gas line from South Texas to New York City. . . . Three wildcat permits have been issued for wells in Southern Georgia. . . . G. G. Oberfell, Phillips Petroleum vice president, estimates the nation's proved reserves of natural gas are adequate to supply needs for 25 years. . . . The Illinois Geological Survey has placed 1948's well completions at 21.6 percent above 1947. . . . An Interior Department official says his office has been flooded with applications for Utah oil and gas leases following discovery of oil there last summer.

night at the Southern Club, was a big success, as usual. This is an affair that is held annually and is a social event which terminates the API drive for membership. This column has always urged Pampa business men to join the organization, the fee is $1, and take an active part. The API organization and the men in the oil industry would welcome you to their meetings for they are anxious for you to know their problems and their plans for the future. It's not too late to join. Meetings are held only once a month and I can assure you that you will enjoy them all. The first meeting of the year will have as a feature the showing of the 1948 World Series.

The report that a new well in the Elk City area has come in, running around 90 barrels an hour, for some reason or another has brought to my mind again the Pampa-Perryton highway and the Canadian River bridge on that highway. Elk City is certainly benefiting from this new oil play in their territory. Who is going to benefit by a new pay NORTH of the river when that development really gets underway? We were quite concerned about that a few weeks ago when rumors were so hot. What's happening now? . . . That potential field is still there and the average follower of oil developments hasn't any doubt but what somewhere north and east of Pampa somebody is going to eventually find the Anadarko pay. The fact that Sinclair is going on through the pay they found is no reason to think the field is not there. You can be assured that the prices that were paid for royalties in that area are the fact that those in the know are pretty sure what is there. There must be some way to enlighten the State Highway Commission of the need for the completion of this road and bridge. It's going to be mighty important to the entire area IF and WHEN a field like the one around Elk City happens here.

Alert Carrier Boys Just Like Yours!

Each is an Independent Young Business Man, Eager to Succeed by Pleasing His Customers!

HERE is as fine a group of young business men as can be found serving the readers of ANY newspaper. Alert, courteous and reliable, they are a credit to their families, their community and their country—a striking example of "Free Enterprise" in action among American Youth!

Ambitious to get a head start toward success, they are using their spare time to run newspaper routes of their own, and thus earn extra money, learn business methods, gain practical experience, and acquire savings accounts for college or specialized training. And, while each carrier is strictly in business for himself, we guide and aid him in every possible way to build a profitable route and become a useful young citizen. As a result of his route experience, he is far better equipped than the average lad to forge ahead in whatever line of work he undertakes in adult life.

Pamper your Buick?

You bet we do!

YOU touch the starter—and your car wakens with an expectant purr. You touch the gas treadle—and off you sweep, on a wave of buoyant power. Minutes, miles tick past, with a lift in every one of them. . . .

A dream, you say?

Not for a Buick. Not for your Buick, if it's kept always at its brilliant best—by Buick specialists!

We have nothing but Buick specialists in our service department—men who know the heft and feel of every wire, washer or widget under a Buick hood, without looking.

When they do a tune-up or repair job on your Buick it's more than just a scientific, thoroughgoing, conscientious piece of work. They'll baby it a bit—and on the road you'll feel the difference in their craftsmanly touch.

This priceless kind of care costs you not a penny more. In the long run—by keeping your Buick always a Buick—we save you money!

HOW WELL CAN YOU SEE?

Headlights dim or discolored? Let us give you easier, safer night driving with a new pair of low-cost Sealed Beam units.

In addition, we'll line up the headlights—check generator-charging rate—inspect voltage regulator—clean battery terminals and cables.

Six Oil Tanks Lost in Blaze

KILGORE —(P)— Six tanks of crude oil valued at $20,000 burned here yesterday.

The blaze knocked out a number of long distance telephone circuits. It occurred near the Missouri Pacific Railroad line just outside the city limits and firemen blamed a grass fire as the origin.

The tanks contained 4,750 barrels of crude, owned by J. A. Stack, operator of a tank cleaning company.

Trains were stopped during the fire here and at Longview. They moved again after the fire was out, at 3:30 p.m., three and one-half hours after it started.

Aged Burglar Dies in Chase

DALLAS —(P)— An aged burglar dropped dead yesterday as he was chased by a 77-year-old Dallas man.

J. W. Edwards told police he heard a noise in a front bedroom and found a man, about 70, in his house.

Edwards said he "ran back to get my pistol," then ran out of the house. He said he saw the man running up the street.

The fugitive fell to his knees three times. The third time he

Bachelor Representatives Have 'Sorta Grand Central Station'

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN —(P)— Three bachelor representatives who share a apartment in Austin during the Legislature's session admit it's all right but "sorta like Grand Central Station."

"Everybody ends up at our place after every meeting or every party, I do believe," said Tom Whiteside of Tyler.

Whiteside, George Watson of Paris and Walter Caven of Marshall are the three bachelors who decided three could live as cheaply as one.

Whiteside says "he's 'chief cook and bottle washer.'"

"I do the cooking; I was on KP in the Army; enough to know what to do," Whiteside explained.

"And the rest let me alone. 'Why, I bet I get more compliments on my cooking than the average housewife. My best dish—or the one they seem to like best—is a sort of chili and steamed rice concoction.'"

Whiteside says he's the maid, too.

"Can't say the apartment's neat as a pin," he admitted, "but we live in it."

The three keep a milk bottle in a conspicuous place and every once in a while everybody whips in six bits or a dollar. That's for groceries and incidental expenses.

The apartment is a mighty nice one. "We figure it costs us about $50 a month each for rent and such and that's quite a lot cheaper than the $75 they pay to stay in hotels," Whiteside commented.

Sixty-five of Texas' 180 legislators stay in Austin hotels during the session for anywhere from $65 on up to $150 a month, depending on how expensive their tastes are and how much money they have. That takes a sizeable chunk out of the $10 a day the legislators get for pay.

The rest live in private homes or apartments.

Fighting Sam At It Again

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(P)— Seasoned servers weren't surprised at a Goldwyn's recent tirades last Teresa Wright and Eric Johnston. They just added two more battle stars to the producer's combat record.

Goldwyn fired Actress Wright in the comment: "I am sick tired of seeing what is going on in this town—where people have no respect for their acts and no respect for the money they receive and refuse to form and cooperate."

He resigned from the Producers' Association, whose head, Eric Johnston, then commented: "Good." That set Sam off. He unleashed a rebuke accusing Johnston of using the association for his own publicity.

Goldwyn offers a refreshing note in a town too often marked by staid official announcements. Sincerely independent, he's not afraid to tangle with anyone. This has been going on since the earliest days of the movies.

Soon after he merged his interests into the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he left the big firm to retain his independence. Nothing makes him madder than the mistaken notion that he still has connections with MGM, one of the big studios he has often condemned.

At some time or other, Goldwyn has argued with all Hollywood columnists about something they have written about him. I am expecting a phone call any moment.

Series of Speaking Programs to Feature Baptist Missionaries

DORIS CHRISTENSEN

Baptist churches of the Pampa-Borger area begin today presenting a series of evening programs featuring some of their missionaries, it was announced yesterday.

The program will consist of three phases of the mission work carried on by Baptists — the foreign, home and state.

The missionaries pictured are working under the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and will appear in this community.

Presented in these programs will be those who have worked as missionaries to the minority groups in the United States, including the Indians, Spanish-speaking people, Italian's and many other groups. Missionaries who have been in China, Africa, South America and other foreign countries will speak. Along with these American missionaries will be presented natives of Cuba, China, Hawaii and the Philippines who will speak each night.

C. BOGÁN

The program also includes one Latvian who has preached behind the "Iron Curtain" of Russia. His message is expected to be very enlightening concerning the conditions in Russia today, it was said.

A spokesman said: "Each Baptist Church in the area will have one of these speakers each night. Their messages will be of interest to every person in this area, whether Baptist or not. The public is cordially invited to attend."

Gray Typewriter Is Now on Market

Harold Miller, manager of Pampa Office Supply, announced yesterday the placing on the market of the 1949 "Gray Magic Royal" typewriter. He has just returned from Dallas where he saw the unveiling of the new machine, the first entirely new machine, he said, that Royal has presented since 1938.

"The color of the new machine," he said, "is a new soft gray tone developed to give added eye comfort to the operator by the elimination of glare." There are a number of other new features, he said.

Burmese Navy Shells Rebellious Tribesmen

RANGOON, Burma —(AP)—Burma navy gunboats and land artillery lobbed shells into suburban Insein Friday night in a fresh government drive to oust rebellious Karen tribesmen. The Karens, fighting to set up their own independent state, were reported to have driven back government forces in a successful counter-attack.

Wheeler County 4-Hers Present Kiwanis Program

Four-H boys from Wheeler County Friday exhibited and discussed for the Kiwanis Club here certain kinds of grazing grass that abound on the plains.

The boys have been studying grasses for a contest forthcoming at Amarillo. They were introduced by their county agent and assistant county agent, who are their instructors. Wade Frey is the county agent; and Ralph Jones his assistant.

The boys who furnished the club's program Friday at the First Methodist Church are David Johnson, Richard Brown, Jamie Clark, Bob Weatherly, and James Cox. The program, under the sponsorship of the club's Agriculture Committee, was introduced by Vic Joyner. During the hour, it was announced that the Kiwanis Club committee is sponsoring a teen-age program Monday at 5:30 at Recreation Park, as a part of the Top of Texas livestock show and sale.

Inflation Said Easing Off

HOUSTON —(AP)—Inflationary pressures are easing off and the nation's economy is undergoing a healthy adjustment, the chairman of the Federal Reserve System Board of Governors said here.

Thomas B. McCabe, Swarthmore, Pa., came here to attend a combined meeting of directors of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank and its branches at Houston, El Paso and San Antonio. Recent price declines in commodities, McCabe said in an interview, indicate a slackening of inflationary pressure as supplies of goods are catching up with, and in some instance, even exceeding demand.

Plans Ready for Dentistry School

HOUSTON —(AP)—Architectural plans for a $4,250,000 University of Texas School of Dentistry Building have been completed, Dr. Frederick C. Elliott, dean of the school, said.

The building will be located at the $100 million Texas Medical outskirt. Elliott said the most up-to-date teaching facilities will be incorporated in the five-story structure. Included will be unit laboratories, small rooms in which four students will study.

"This means we can do away with the large mass laboratory found in the older science buildings," Elliott said.

REA GRANTS LOANS
WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Rural Electrification Administration announced loans totalling $6,799,000 to 17 borrowers for extension of electrical service to rural areas. They included: City of Bryan, Texas $780,000; Rio Grande Electric Cooperative, Brackettville, Texas, $1,070,000.

George Washington was the oldest son of Augustine Washington by a second wife.

Fair Enough - by Westbrook Pegler

CHICAGO — The defeat of the Communists within the CIO by a few suddenly sanctimonious old Reds and fellow-travelers is no better than it ever was. The fact that the veritable Muscovite bolos were betrayed by a small set of double-crossers who heard the whish of angels' wings and gaily fled, dying unshriven, only proves again that this monstrous power has neither principles nor conscience.

It is to the good that the Communists are made confused and weak. But it is to the bad that men who played with them for years, and then suddenly radiated on their trusting comrades, are now put forth as virtuous leaders of labor, deserving all trust. Not one of them has made confession and recantation to the public. Any private arrangements they may have made with religious authorities are only hearsay and would be valueless if made public for further suspicion.

The public is composed of people of all communions, most of them competitive and inherently antagonistic, plus a very large law-abiding body of un-religious citizens who never concede any impairment of their rights on that account. And the people are the high public authority in the case of these backsliders. It is for the whole public to hear what they have to say and to turn thumbs up or down. But up to now, these old miscreants are not even avowed backsliders. In the past, they lacked the manhood to say, "yes, we are Communists or fellow-travelers and we warn you not to trust us."

CONDITIONS IN GREECE by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, widow of Pennsylvania's great Progressive Republican governor and conservative, has just returned from her second trip through Greece with a report that things there have gone from bad to worse.

Where the Greek experiment has bogged down the able-minded and vigorous Mrs. Pinchot declares, is politically. She holds American interference partly responsible.

YOU AND YOUR SHARE

IF ever this nation needed an economy-nord Congress, it is now. The word "government" has shot up all right. Current high costs of government represent more than just dollar inflation. What we have had, without clearly realizing it, is a boom in government. This boom has flourished until there is danger of collapse from the very size of the superstructure itself. Our ship of state is indeed top-heavy.

Lumping all government together—federal, state, local—tax collections for the 1948 fiscal year came to 28 per cent of the national income. Perhaps you can see it better if we should divide up that $33.2 billion dollars of tax collection, to find what was your part. It amounts to $27 for each man, woman, and child in the nation. You didn't pay that much? Brother, your share was tucked away in the price of everything you spent your money for!

FUEL FOR BUREAUCRACY
You can see how much taxes have grown, if you compare the above figures with those for 1940. Then tax collections were $14.6 billion, or 18.9 per cent of national income. The amount for each person in 1940 was only $10.8. In eight years, therefore, we have more than tripled our taxes. A lot of it results from the war. We're spending a lot in Europe, certainly. But let us not use that as an excuse for lack of vigilance about the rest of it. We ought to find a place to stop this mushrooming of government.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book
By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Big changes often start in small ways.

The ordinary man doesn't notice them at first. But gradually he begins unconsciously to add them up. And all at once there flashes through his mind the conviction: "Something's in the wind."

And there does seem to be something new in the financial wind. The American post-war hurricane of inflation is slowing down on many fronts. And already fears are rising that the national economy will be caught in the doldrums.

Yes, the signs come in small ways. A week ago a paper cup of carry-out coffee at the drugstore cost fifteen cents. This week it dropped to twelve cents. The price of a dish of cereal fell from twenty cents to fifteen.

A few days ago I went to a semi-annual shirt sale at one of Manhattan's men stores. Crowds of men pawed through the shirt stacks in the way only women are supposed to shop for bargains.

A five-cent cigar went on sale here and was front page news. Columbia University noted a decline in the employment of woman graduates.

A prominent realty broker, looking ahead to a time when the housing shortage would be over, asked for a federal law putting a floor on rentals to protect landlords.

There are only a few of many straws showing a shift in the wind. Even more indicative is a return of old-fashioned politeness to the customer, who used to be always right but has been wrong for several years. Shop owners are getting ready to scrimmage for business again.

EXCHANGES TO CLOSE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Financial and commodity exchanges throughout the United States will be closed Lincoln's birthday, Saturday, Feb. 12. Various livestock reports will be issued as usual by the Department of Agriculture.

THE TEST OF COMMUNISM

UNITED STATES.
The contrast between the swift action in the earlier de jure approval of Israel and the delay in full de facto recognition was striking. Only fourteen minutes—at midnight, too—after Israel declared its independence, Mr. Truman gave the new government his blessing. But he waited five days after the Palestine executive council to implement this friendly gesture by extending full recognition.

Secretary Acheson "covered up" with the off-hand explanation for the delay with the remark that he had waited until the votes had been counted officially. As a matter of fact, the outcome of the elections was never in doubt, and the Israeli party's triumph was known late on January 25. Recognition was not extended until January 31.

GUARANTEE — In setting up the recovery program, Congress put aside $300,000,000 as an insurance fund that would enable American firms to receive dollars in exchange for the pounds, francs, guilders and lira which they earned from foreign operations. This guarantee was expected to entice domestic firms into the frozen field of international commerce and production.

DETERRENT — Under consideration Paul Hoffman has submitted fourteen applications at the present moment. But the money involved totals only the mere $4,800,000. Seven are for investments in England, and the others are for ventures in France, Holland and Italy.

Mr. Hoffman admits frankly that the principal deterrent to the export of capital consists in the disturbed conditions overseas, especially the ever-present possibility of a war with Russia in which the underwritten investments would be destroyed or confiscated by an enemy country.

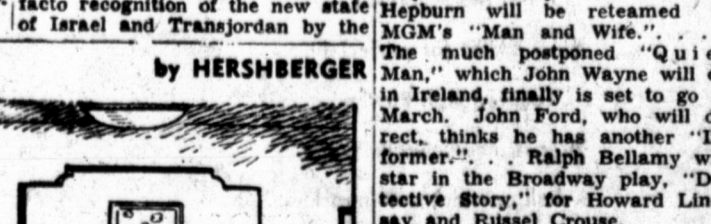

DISCOURAGING — The Acheson-Thorp Hoffman committee assigned by President Truman to study financial problems inherent in his "bold new program" regard these signs of hesitancy as extremely discouraging.

It is obvious to them, and was even before the surprise inaugural proposal, that if American capital will not take a chance in such relatively safe areas as Marshall Plan beneficiaries, it will not emigrate into such perilous places as China, Asia, the Middle East, Indonesia or even South America.

THE EXPORT-IMPORT Bank's experiences support this conclusion. Although it has loaned millions abroad the money has been restricted to sections already in an advanced stage of development.

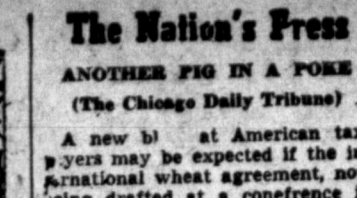

CONTRAST — The Truman administration has now assumed responsibility for the political as well as the financial stability of the Attlee-Bevin ministry in England. Despite diplomatic denials, that was the secret reason behind the surprisingly sudden de facto recognition of the new state of Israel and Transjordan by the

THE NATION'S PRESS

ANOTHER FIG IN A PORE
(The Chicago Daily Tribune)
A new bl at American taxpayers may be expected if the crop price agreement, now being drafted at a conference in Washington, is approved by the Democratic congress. Representatives of 30 nations are attending the conference, which has been advertised as an effort to assure each importing country a "dependable" wheat supply and each exporting country a "fair" share of the world market for the next five years.

An intergovernmental deal of this kind was approved last March by representatives of the United States, Canada, Australia, and 33 importing countries, but the agreement was not ratified by the United States senate, Russia and Argentina, both large exporters of wheat, were not among the signers.

Surprisingly, Russia and Argentina are participating in the current conference. Whether they will join in any agreement to fix prices and national quotas remains to be seen. We can be sure that they will not join in any international electrolytic enterprise.

Now the importing countries, led by Britain, are demanding a lower price scale on the ground that the world's supply of wheat is no longer short. Delegates of the United States and Canada want to retain the price scale of the 1948 agreement.

In effect, the importing countries are seeking a five year price schedule which they believe will be more stable than the world price outside the agreement. The exporters, of course, are betting the opposite way.

The assumption of the conference promoters is that all nations would meet their obligations under the agreement regardless of the world price. This is entirely too much to expect. If the world price is lower than the fixed price, the importing states will take advantage of escape clauses in the treaty and buy their wheat on the world market.

In any event, if the United States enters the agreement, this country will be committed to state trading on the greatest scale in history. We would be bound for five years to ship wheat to countries which, before the agreement has expired, may be satellites of Russia.

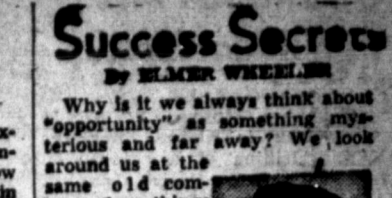

Nobody can forecast weather and resulting crop conditions five years in advance. Last year France secured a bumper wheat crop of 10,000,000 bushels. This year, after a good crop, she has indicated she wants to be among the exporting nations.

Nobody can foresee what the general economic situation will be five years hence. Promising our farmers a large export market doesn't mean that the promises will be kept by countries suffering from a business depression.

THE BEST GUEST — Mr. Truman is getting ready to commit future congresses to gigantic subsidies for wheat to be delivered abroad at cut rate prices.

SNOBBERY DEFAMES DEMOCRACY
(Gary Post-Tribune)
There are some American officers in Germany who don't seem to have heard about Uncle Sam's democratic Army. They are the ones who voted, over civilian opposition, to bar enlisted guests from their officer-civilian club in Berlin. The G.I.s couldn't even attend church services held in the club.

However, German fraudsters are still welcome within the exclusive portals. And they will be protected from enlisted bores by these gallant officers—all of whom are invariably conduct themselves like perfect gentlemen, in or out of their cups.

SUCCESS SECRETS

Why is it we always think about "opportunity" as something mysterious and far away? We look around us at the same old common place things and think to ourselves: "If I had a chance to travel and see things and meet interesting people, I would run into an opportunity somewhere."

Now, consider a baby diaper, for instance. Could anything be more unglamorous — more commonplace? Many a man has handled them, changed them, tossed them, and never thought that a fortune was staring him in the face.

Yet Lou Ravkind looked at a baby diaper and didn't see just a square of cloth — but a million dollars.

If a man could invent a diaper without bothering pins, he'd become a millionaire, he told his wife.

And with that thought in mind, he set about designing a pinless diaper.

He soon found what he was up against. He was not the first to think of the idea. It had been tried unsuccessfully for at least 10 years. He visited sewing machine manufacturers, tailors, machinists, designers, but none were able to help him.

Finally he and his wife found a shape they believed would work. They then had to find a machinist that could make a machine to make the diaper. At long last they found him. He distributed the new diapers to his friends and they worked.

Now he has agents in some 40 states and his machines are turning out pinless diapers, mass-production style. He hasn't made that million yet. But it looks like he's well on the way.

Maybe there's a gold mine under your feet too — if you'd just look for it!

News Clearing House

To the Editor:
I would like at this time to explain why I went to the City Commission in regard to the water rate for non-residents users.

I would like first to explain that as non-residents we, as individuals, must install our own mains and maintain same. The city furnishes the water and meter only.

In the past, we have bought water from the city on a cash and carry basis with a 20 percent profit. This has now been raised to 50 percent and all water must be bought on commercial base only. The following is how this works out if you wish to compare prices.

Minimum outside city	Minimum inside city
First 3000 $3.00	First 3000 $3.00
Next 3000 at 60c a 1000	Next 3000 at 60c a 1000
Next 2000 at 45c a 1000	Next 2000 at 45c a 1000
Excess at 90c per 1000	Excess at 90c per 1000
Minimum inside city	Minimum inside city
First 8000 $3.00	First 8000 $3.00
Next 15,000 at 20c per 1000	Next 15,000 at 20c per 1000
Excess at 15c per 1000	Excess at 15c per 1000

I believe this will show how much of a penalty we so-called non-residents who make up the suburbs of Pampa are paying, bearing in mind that we have to maintain our own lines and receiving no trash, sewer, fire or other benefits. To further show just what it means in cash, I present this as another comparison.

Good Ideas as Those of Gandhi Can't Be Killed

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Good ideas can't be killed.

A year has passed since Ma-hima Gandhi was shot to death by the Hindu Nazayan Godse. But the teachings of the great spiritual leader go marching on with increasing strength at the head of India's awakening millions.

Thursday Godse was sentenced to be hanged for one of the terrible crimes of the ages. Of six fellow conspirators, one was condemned to death and the rest got life imprisonment.

Godse testified at his trial that he "respected Gandhi's saintliness" but disagreed with his policies of love and tolerance for Moslems. And as the assassin

room after being sentenced they were shouting:

"We will conquer Pakistan (the Moslem dominion). Long live Hindustan (the dominion of Hindu India)."

The condemned men had tried to kill ideas with leaden bullets.

The margin by which they failed is seen in the fact that the bequest of brotherly love left by

Gandhi had much to do with preventing war between Pakistan and India at the height of the quarrel over the rich state of Kashmir.

The long long labor of Gandhi,

the Hindu, for Moslem-Hindu peace brought striking recognition on the anniversary of his death from Khawaja Nazimuddin, governor-general of Pakistan. Nazimuddin said in a message to the Indian capital of Delhi:

"In the present-day world which has failed to take a lesson from the devastation and misery caused by two world wars of this century and where the cult of violence still holds sway, it would be well to recall Gandhi's message of non-violence, for the salvation of humanity lies in outlawing violence."

Condemned Man Asks Favor of Judge - Granted

NEW YORK (AP)—"Do me a favor, please, judge," pleaded the man who killed a friend.

"Don't say what the other judge says when they sentence a guy to the chair. Leave out the words 'may God have mercy on your soul.' Send me out with smile."

Then Judge Carmine J. Ma-

aso began to intone the death of the prisoner, Frank Bruno, 33.

As he reached the last phrase,

"may God have mercy"—the judge's lips continued to move silently. But there was no sound in the hushed courtroom.

"Thanks, judge, thanks very much," said Bruno as he was led away.

He is to die in Sing Sing's electric chair during the week of March 13 for the 1946 slaying of Carlo Zarcone, 27, his close friend.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment, sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when you who so dearly need SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

State Safety Drive Begun

AUSTIN — Despite the rash of new post-war cars, more people are being killed now in Texas collisions because of mechanical failure than ever before, President Charles A. Miller of the Texas Safety Association says.

Urging motorists to keep brakes, horns, lights, windshield wipers, steering mechanism and tires in safe condition, Miller pointed out that it is a violation of the traffic laws to drive with unsafe equipment.

He attributed the apparent neglect of safety equipment to the high cost of repairs, but emphasized that an accident is "much more costly than the repairs it takes to prevent it."

Miller announced that the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Police Association and the Department of Public Safety are cooperating during February in an educational campaign to give the people more information about traffic laws and the common sense reasons for obeying them.

"In almost every traffic accident," Miller said, "one or more traffic laws have been violated by motorists, pedestrians, or both."

"Even more basic than legal violations like improper passing, speeding, and failing to signal," Miller declared, "are the violations of the laws of common sense and courtesy."

"The goal of the traffic safety program is to attain voluntary compliance with traffic laws by motorists and pedestrians alike. Well intentioned citizens should learn more about the laws for their own protection, and should support a program of strong enforcement against those who refuse to comply."

Success in Filming 'Lawton Story' Said to Be Miracle

WILMINGTON, Ohio — The filming of "The Lawton Story," two-hour movie depicting the life of Christ, has become a legend abounding in miracles to Hollywood directors and production crews.

Had it not been for the curious coincidences, modern day miracles and other extraordinary events transcending the laws of nature, the powerful film might never have been completed. Even so, it was more than 11 months in the making.

Actual filming of the Wichita Mountains Easter Pageant scenes in the Holy City near Lawton, Okla., began last year after Easter. It was not until Dec. 20 that final interior sequences were photographed in Hollywood studios. Finished color negatives will not be ready until the middle of March.

Shooting and recording of the 50-odd outdoor cinecolor scenes in the Holy City required six weeks. During all of this time, the cast of 3,000 men and women were on the set 12 hours a day in costume.

Temperatures ranged from 45 degrees down to 37 during the weeks crews worked on the mountain side. The weather, abnormally cold and windy, caused no end of discomfort to the cast clad only in sandals and flimsy costumes.

Because of the nature of the film, only a small percentage of the cast worked at one time. The others huddled in the rocks or banded together for protection against the cold and wind. When the shooting ended, however, not a single case of sickness from exposure had been reported. No one had even caught cold!

Gales, sweeping down from the mountain, caused many accidents to the equipment used by the crews. One day a sudden gust of wind blew down a camera and tripod. Taking a long chance, the crew set it up again and continued shooting 1000 feet of film. When it was later developed, every foot of the film was perfect.

In late November, when two chartered planes brought a Hollywood production crew to Lawton for final filming of outdoor scenes, Coy McGee, quencies, a blizzard developed. A cold wind filled with fine snow blew down from the Rockies and settled over Oklahoma and Texas.

Even the most optimistic members of the crew believed that shooting in and around Lawton was impossible. But when the blizzard cleared, the weather cleared miraculously and for five days the crew worked in perfect weather. Although the weather was perfect in Lawton and a radius of 30 miles, the blizzard continued on all sides. On the day filming was finished, the storm swirled into Lawton.

The extraordinary luck continued after cast and crew returned to Hollywood for the final shooting of interior scenes at Hal Roach Studios, Culver City, Calif. Actors and actresses, superstitious by nature, still talk of the amazing incident of the "four-day finish."

Five days remained to finish "The Lawton Story" on schedule. The first three days proceeded uneventfully. On the morning of the fourth day, Kroger Babb, president of Hallmark Productions, producer, suddenly "felt" an overwhelming need to complete filming that day.

Babb called in William Beaudine, director, and the assistant directors and told them how he felt. All the directors argued that it couldn't be done. But Babb insisted and cast and crew worked furiously all day and into the night. Finally at 9 p.m., the picture was "in the can."

The next day California experienced one of its rare sleet and snow storms. The weather was so bitterly cold that the unheated Hal Roach Studios could not possibly have been used!

Soil conservation and good forests are necessary to the economy of the nation, but they are also vital to the interest of all those who want good hunting and good fishing.

Thirteen Notre Dame football players will graduate in 1949, including backs Frank Tripucka, Terry Brennan, John Panelli and Coy McGee.

'Tough Guy' Seeks Deal

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Burt Lancaster is angling a deal that may mean a lengthy connection with 20th-Fox.

The film tough guy has been talking with the studio about the lead in "12 O'Clock High," an Air Force picture which, like "Command Decision," will be a re-creation of the war. Studio boss Darryl Zanuck is so sold on Lancaster that he's seeking a longer deal for him. The pact might bring the actor's own producing company to 20th.

Burt's deal with Universal-International is now finished, but he has several years to go with Hal Wallis. He's now doing "Rope of Sand."

Betty Hutton says she's all set to do the life of Theda Bara for Buddy de Sylva at Columbia. It will be played strictly for laughs, along the lines of "Perils of Pauline," which was my favorite Hutton picture. Hers, too.

Acting union circles are concerned about the television situation. The big talent unions can't come to agreement about how to handle the new medium. At present, it looks as though the Screen Actors Guild will handle talent for television films and American Federation of Radio Artists for live shows.

Taxi Driver Held In Assault Case

DENTON — (AP) — Police last night arrested Raymond L. Amer, 28, Denton taxi cab driver, and charged him with assault with intent to rape a 19-year-old North Texas State College student.

The cab driver was arrested after he telephoned police he was going to surrender.

County Attorney W. K. Baldrige filed the assault charge and also one accusing Amer of embezzlement in the alleged theft of a taxi cab.

The college girl said a taxi driver tried to attack her on a side road 12 miles south of here.

Director John Farrow was telling me about a coincidence. He was running rushes of a pie-throwing scene of "Red, Hot and Blue" and who should be in the projection booth but Mack Sennett. The master pie-thrower, whose biography will be filmed by Paramount, commended Farrow's technique and went into a lecture on the art of the hurried custard.

Medical Prices Will Increase

Shortages always raise prices. The Texas Medical Association, by restricting enrollment in Texas medical schools to barely enough to replace deaths and retirement has cut down our supply of doctors, especially in our rural areas, thereby causing a shortage and higher fees for services, while 3,000 pre-med students find the gates barred against them. They want to relieve that shortage, but can't.

This same Medical Association now plans to get control of the supply of all competitive healing professions, medical and non-medical so they can cut off replacements in these healing professions and make the shortage even more acute and thus raise the prices even higher than they are today.

The medical "Basic Science" bill (Senate Bill 63) is designed to give them complete control of all branches of the healing arts and it is being pushed by unlimited funds and a high-priced lobby. If we the people do not write, phone or visit our senator and representative we will have this infamous legislation forced upon us. Let us stop it.

This is a call for action. If you do not know the name of your senator and representative in Austin you can phone this newspaper for their names. Address your letters to them at "Capitol Station," Austin, Texas.

Write, wire or phone today. Stop that "Basic Science" bill. (Pd. adv. by Mrs. E. E. Gething)

Marshall Plan Aids Danes Start Farm Machinery Pool

JENSEN—Clemens Jensen sold a new-fangled idea to some die-hard Danish farmers with the ECA's help.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark —(NEA)—Young Clemens Jensen finally sold old Hans Sorensen on a newfangled idea. The result: Danish farms and Denmark's food production is soaring.

It's just one typical example of what the Marshall Plan is doing in Europe.

Jensen is a young farmer on the island of Zealand, just north of Copenhagen. He heard about an idea that was working successfully in Sweden, a farm machinery pool, and decided to try to set one up in his country.

He went to the Economic Cooperation Administration representative from the U. S. with a story something like this: "You want us to increase our food production. We can't because we don't have enough farm machinery. And most of the farmers can't afford to buy expensive tractors and the like because their farms are too small to support such a big investment. Will you help me set up a farm machinery rental agency that will furnish equipment to all of the farmers, big and small, at low rates?"

He stated it as simply as that. The ECA's answer was an enthusiastic "yes."

His next job was to try to sell the idea to the conservative Danish farmers. Hans Sorensen, 75 of Breitinge, had two and one-half acres and was one of the most conservative of all. Jensen tackled him first.

After considerable persuasion, Sorensen decided to give the idea a try. To his amazement he discovered that he could get all of his ploughing done with rented equipment in two hours. His cost: $12.

That night he sat down at his dining room table and figured out that it cost him $5 a day the year round to keep a team of horses; when he used them for ploughing, it took four days to do the job.

TRACTOR—Hans Sorensen and tractor; he gave in and horses went out.

Next day Hans frankly admitted: "I was a stablehand most of my youth and came to love horses. If I could afford it, I would keep a horse — just to have him in the stable and be able to talk with him once in a while. But I wouldn't use him in the field anymore. The tractor has outclassed him."

After selling Sorensen and the other older farmers, Jensen's plan found swift success. The idea is now working all over Denmark with more than 300 machinery centers in a country boasting less than 11,000,000 acres. And more than equipment is on its way from America to expand the program.

Danish farmers today have available to them 450 tractors and 2000 pieces of other equipment including harvesting machines, haycutters and thrashers. Each center serves farmers within a radius of about 35 miles. The rental is the same for all: $3 to $3.50 an hour for a 30 to 40 horse-power tractor. That price includes the driver. Continuous use of all equipment by a large group of farmers keeps operating costs down, and fees low.

WHEN YOU SHOULD STOP

ADVERTISING

Just a few suggestions to the man who feels his business and his name are so well-known he needs no sales help!

WHEN . . . man becomes a creature of habit so thoroly he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year . . .

WHEN . . . younger fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and taking "your customers" away thru advertising . . .

WHEN . . . population ceases to increase and no new folks want to live and work in your town . . .

WHEN . . . you have thoroly convinced everyone who ever has or ever will be in your store that they will now and forever get better buys from you . . .

WHEN . . . business principles reverse themselves and the non-advertiser does more business than the successful advertising merchant . . .

WHEN . . . men stop making tremendous strides in business thru well-planned newspaper advertising . . .

WHEN . . . you can forget the words of wise merchants the world-over who attribute their success to wise use of newspaper advertising . . .

WHEN . . . you would rather have your own way, even if you fail, than follow advice of making money . . .

WHEN . . . you want to be rid of the troubles of waiting on customers and are tired of making money . . .

Federal Cons Borrow From Alcoholics And Tell Each Other Their Troubles

GROUP THERAPY—Crime is no longer a hush-hush business in federal prisons. Taking a leaf from the Alcoholics Anonymous' book, prisoners now talk over the reasons why they got that way—and help each other.

By DOUG LARSEN
WASHINGTON —(NEA)—The same theory of treatment being used on chronic alcoholics is now being tried on federal prisoners. Group therapy is the technical name for it. Alcoholics Anonymous, the organization of reformed problem drinkers working to help others fight the liquor habit, first popularized the idea. In AA it consists of a group of persons all with the same problem just sitting around and talking about it, with the idea of trying to help themselves, of course. They exchange ideas on how to fight the habit and try to explain just what is behind their particular drinking problem. The mere fact of being able to speak out in the open about a troublesome personal problem with others who share the same problem eases their mind and helps give them strength to fight drinking. It works the same way for the federal prisoners. A group is gotten together and is told that they can talk over the reasons why they happen to be in jail. Sometimes a psychiatrist sits in. Sometimes the men are alone. According to a prison official, a typical session might go something like this:

Bill Would Fine Delinquent Parents
AUSTIN—(AP)—If a bill by Rep. J. K. Aynesworth of Waco passes, it'll cost parents a fine up to $500 or one year in jail, or both, if they don't control their children.

A delinquent parent, Aynesworth said in his bill ready for introduction, is the parent of any child who "fails to exercise reasonable diligence in the control of such child or fails or omits to exercise reasonable diligence to prevent such child from becoming delinquent in morals or integrity or guilty of juvenile delinquency."

Nearly All Mexican Laborers Returned
MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)—Virtually all of the 18,500 Mexican laborers brought into Louisiana and Arkansas to harvest last year's cotton crop have returned home.

Miller said up to Feb. 1 his service had picked up 589 imported Mexican laborers who were trying to get into industry, particularly in Chicago and Detroit. Another 158 who illegally entered this country were seized.

Miller said another 18,000 or so were brought in from Mexico to work in Texas, California and Colorado.

USDA to Distribute Surplus Potatoes
COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—For the next two weeks, a limited amount of government-owned potatoes will be available to Texas livestock producers for feed, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced.

Dennis M. Poe of the Production and Marketing Administration, said he has been notified that about 25 cars of potatoes per day will be available to Texas livestock raisers. Poe said the potatoes would be distributed on a first come, first served basis.

Remember: Nobody Wins In Rat Race

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(AP)—Once upon a time there was a young smart alec rat called Sharpy. Yes, a real four-legged rat.

One night as Sharpy was nosing around the nursery of the home in which he was a non-paying guest he came upon a strange sight.

A little old man only half-a-foot high sat on a footstool bathed in moonbeams. He was blowing the poor thing to sleep. You see, this is a magic reed. When I blow on it and wish somebody to do something — why, they just have to do it."

"Anything?" asked Sharpy. "Yes, anything," said Mac, the leprechaun. Sharpy immediately belted the reed. He blew upon it and wished: "Get going, Mac."

The leprechaun hesitated a second and then floated up a moonbeam and disappeared, his face still surprised. Sharpy ran down to the basement and told his family their troubles were over.

So they crept into the cook's bedroom. Sharpy piped his tune and wished for her to get up and put some cheese on the kitchen floor. She did. The cat came prowling near. Sharpy blew again and wished: "Stand on your head."

Up went the cat on its head—and stayed there.

Overnight Sharpy's dream of power grew greater.

He decided to start with—to get rid of all the cats, dogs and people in New York City. Early the next morning he began the great rat crusade. Sharpy trafficked a taxi driver with his magic music, and commandeered the cab. He crawled up on top. As six giant rats held a megaphone before him, he blew upon his reed and thought: "Cats, dogs and humans—follow me!"

And they did. Out from the houses, shops and skyscrapers poured cats, dogs and people, capering together the streets behind Sharpy. Brokers forsook their ticker tape, bums left the Bowery.

But when the tremendous mass of cats, dogs and people reached the waterfront up spoke a grey, wise old rat: "If you get rid of all the people, who will rule the world?" cautioned the wise old rat. "Why, we'll have to be the rats. And do you know what that means? It means that in time rats will become tame — like people. We'll have to work for a living. Do we want that?"

Sharpy hesitated. But the lust for power was strong in him. He raised the reed to blow again. Instantly the wise old rat snatched the magic instrument from his paws, broke it in half, and threw it on the ground.

That broke the spell. The rats ran for the nearest holes. The barking dogs began to chase the cats. The people started to run after their dogs.

Moral: Nobody wins in a rat race.

SUN VS. COAL
The energy that reaches the earth from the sun in a single year is equivalent to more than 200,000 times the world's annual consumption of coal.

The ox was the first creature to be used as a draft animal, and then came the donkey. Horses were not so used until some 1000 years later and the camel later still.

LONG TRAIN
If loaded on boxcars, exports of all foods from the United States would make an unbroken train long enough to reach three times across the Atlantic Ocean.
