Alabama convict runs through two counties

A 34-year-old Alabama prison escapee led state law enforcement officers and deputies from two counties on a hair-raising 50-minute ride Monday morning that ended with him on his way back to Alabama.

Clebert R. Terry Jr. had failed to put his seatbelt on and fled after being stopped by state narcotics agent Ronnie Stiltner of Abilene at 9:10 a.m. two miles east of the Mitchell-Howard County line on Interstate 20.

Accompanied by 33-year-old Tammy Brewer of Decatur, Ala., in a 1987 Cadillac, Terry crossed the I-20 median several times, led officers on dirt roads south of the interstate in Howard County and finally stopped on the edge of a bluff four miles north of the big highway and eight miles west of the county line, near Coahoma.

"If I hadn't had her with me, I probably would have tried a few more things," Terry told Sheriff Patrick Toombs after he was caught.

Howard County officers determined that the woman had not known Terry was a prison escapee and released her in Big Spring.

Terry is being held here in Mitchell County Jail, and Sheriff Toombs said he has

Water rates debated in council meeting

City councilmen met with 40 people who had signed a petition protesting high water bills Tuesday night and disputed claims that the city's 2,000 water meters are not read.

Ola Grimes of 770 E. Fifth St. presented a petition with 140 names and said she will oppose present council members in elections next spring.

"When May gets here, with God's help I'll have a new council," she said.

"Our utilities are so high, you've got widow ladies afraid to turn their water on because they're afraid they'll use a drop too much."

Mayor Jim Baum stood and said, "I take exception to some of the things said.

"We're not going to forfeit our bills to the state. We're going to pay our bills like any responsible company."

Mayor Baum said the city is "close to the middle" in its property tax rate and water rate, which is $14 for the first 1,000 gallons and $2.45 each 1,000 additional gallons.

City Manager Steve Shutt, who came in for most of Ms. Grimes' criticism, rejoindered that the city must pay TU Electric Co. $150,000 to $175,000 annually for water from Lake Colorado City.

Shutt said if a new well field east of here brings in as much as two million gallons a day, the city's water quality will improve along with its rates.

He said there were 600 "dead meters" that were unreadable when he came here 4 1/2 years ago and that meter reader Clay McMillan has reduced that number to 50.

Shutt said the city has fired three meter readers for not

Board tells band "no"

In a dramatic split vote, Colorado School Board members Monday night declined to change a policy prohibiting out-of-town banquets for the Wolf Band.

Former board member Roxie Strain led a group of about 20 people who presented a petition with 150 names of citizens who wanted the banquet reinstated.

After several speakers and a statement by six board members, members Rosanne Jameson, Elizabeth Hernandez and Sally Neff voted against the banquets and Tony Turner, Larry Mason and Jesse Munoz Jr. voted for them.

It was up to Board President Larry Blassingame to break the tie, and he said, "I vote to keep the policy the same."

Then Munoz said he would still "support the majority," followed by Turner and Mason with the same expression.

Mrs. Strain, who was defeated for re-election last spring by Mrs. Neff, opened the debate by reading a letter she had written in favor of the banquet, which was last held in 1996 in Abilene.

Voting begins at courthouse

Early voting for the Nov. 3 general election will begin Monday in the Mitchell County Courthouse lobby.

County Clerk Debby Carlock said early balloting will continue from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. through Friday, Oct. 30.

Applications for mail-in ballots may be made by calling Mrs. Carlock's office at 728-3481 or writing to her at 349 Oak St., Room 103, Colorado City 79512.

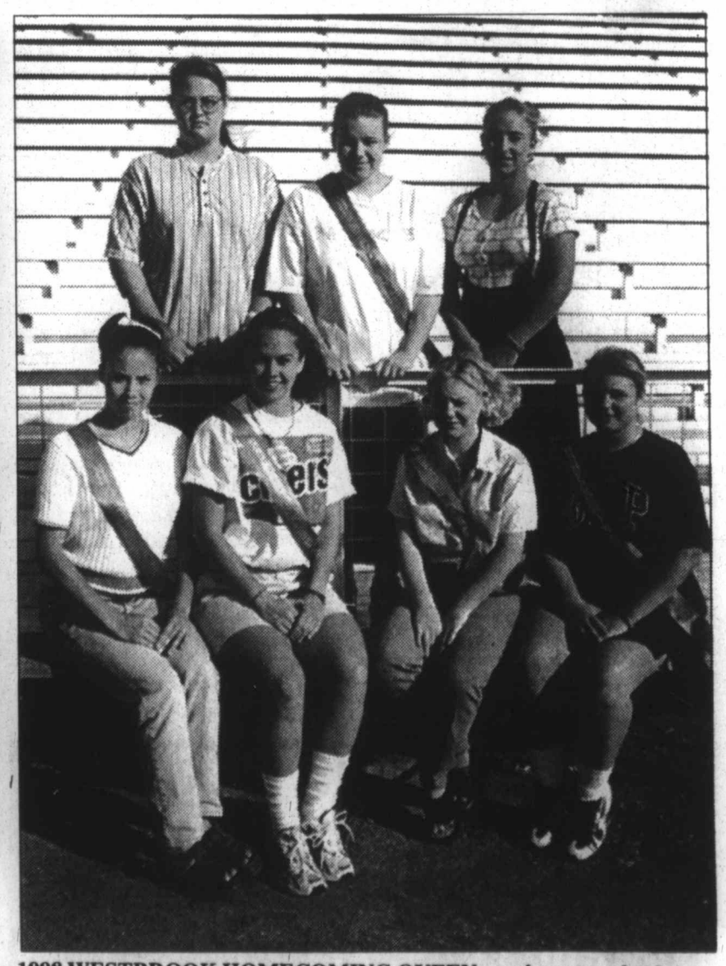

Mrs. Carlock said voters who are eligible to vote by mail include those are over age 65 or disabled or confined in jail and those who will be out of the county on Nov. 3.

Voters who receive mail-in ballots because they will be out of the county must mail them from outside the county, she said.

Voters do not need a special reason to cast early votes at the courthouse, however.

Women's Health Day set here

If you have doubts about your cholesterol, blood sugar or bone density or would like to take a mammogram, you need to be at Mitchell County's first annual Women's Health Day '98 on Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the Wallace Community Education Center.

Sponsored by the center on South Hwy. 208 and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the event will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. with Dr. Jan Hamilton of Plainview, Rhonda Veber of AMCO Medical Service in Snyder and other medical professionals.

Extension Agent Mary McMullen said a mammogram may be taken for $75, a bone density screening for $35 and a consultation with Dr. Hamilton for $40.

"The No. 1 killers of Mitchell County women between the ages of 25 and 64 are breast cancer, cancer, heart disease, diabetes and accidents, in that order," Ms. McMullen said.

Examinations done under Medicare will need a Medicare pre-authorization form, she said.

The Abilene Heart and Vascular Institute will offer pin prick testing for cholesterol and blood sugar, and the Texas Health Science Center's mobile mammography unit from Lubbock will be here.

Mammography tests should be scheduled by calling 1-800-222-8388, Ms. McMullen said.

The Mitchell County Cardio-Care Unit will provide two-electrode EKG's, or heart tests, and Heart of West Texas Home Health Care will do free blood pressure checks.

AMCO Medical Service will do pulse oximetry tests to check the oxygen content of blood.

Ms. Veber will talk about changes in Medicare at 10 a.m., and an American Cancer Society representative will discuss breast cancer at 11 a.m.

Dr. Hamilton will review "Women and Osteoporosis" at noon, and Wes Whiteaker and Cheryle Haggerton of the local cardio-care unit will discuss women's heart health at 1 p.m.

Osteoporosis is a thinning and weakening of the bones that is usually brought on by aging.

Schedule of Events

- Abilene Heart Vascular Institute
  - -Pin Prick Cholesterol Screening
  - -Pin Prick to check blood sugar (do not eat breakfast in the morning)
- Texas Health Science Center - Mobile Mammography Unit to be here, For mammogram, call 1-800-222-8388 to schedule appointment that day, $75. Also register for free mammogram.
- Mitchell County Cardiocare Unit - 2 electrode EKG screening.
- Heart of West Texas Home Health - free blood pressure checks.
- Dr. Jan Hamilton - Bone Density Screenings. Call 728-3111 to schedule appointment, $35.
- Healthstyles - display set up and work with cardio care people.
- AMCO Medical Supply - Pulse Oximetery (oxygen in blood).

Four programs throughout the day...
1. 10 am - Rhonda Veber, update on medicare services changes since July 1 of 1998.
2. 11 am - American Cancer Society, topic: Breast Cancer.
3. Noon - Dr. Jan Hamilton, Women and Osteoporosis.
4. 1 pm - Mitchell county Cardio Care Unit will have a presentation of women's heart health. Wes Whitetaker, Cheryle Haggerton.

Boy's injury sparks state investigation

A 13-month-old Colorado City boy suffered a broken leg when he was apparently run over by a motor vehicle last Friday afternoon in the driveway of a home in the 1900 block of Plum Street.

Police Chief Pat Taylor said the boy was airlifted to Methodist Hospital, where he was put into a partial body cast.

Chief Taylor said Sgt. Richard DeLaCruz was called to Mitchell County Hospital at 5:02 p.m. Friday, where he was told that the boy's grandmother, Gregoria Rivera, had found him injured in the driveway about 3 p.m.

Ms. Rivera and her daughter Gloria had brought him to the hospital.

Chief Taylor said the case is still open and the incident is being investigated by the Child Protective Services office of the Texas Department of Human Services.

He said it appears to have been an accident.

New subdivision okayed by court

County Judge Ray Mayo told the Mitchell County Commissioners Court Monday that a petition drive to put the creation of a nightclub on the Nov. 3 ballot was unsuccessful.

Referring to the Voting Pct. 025 initiative by Anna Marney of 645 Locust St., Judge Mayo said the drive ended with only about 100 signatures -- well short of the required 420.

Monday was the deadline to turn in the petition.

State law required 35 percent of the western and northwestern Colorado City precinct's 1,200 registered voters to sign it.

Ms. Marney said she wanted to put a nightclub in the old Cattlemen's Restaurant building at Interstate 20 and FM 1229.

Other business in the 9 a.m. court meeting included the approval of a plat and dedication of a road for the new Seven Wells Subdivision on the southeastern side of Champion Creek Reservoir six miles south of town off Hwy. 208.

Developer Urdy Wulfjen of Colorado City and surveyor Stan Morris of Sweetwater gained approval of the plan for 100 half-acre lots and the county's maintenance of a 1 1/2-mile road, Champion 76, into the subdivision.

The motion was made by Pct. 1 Commissioner Ed Roach, in whose precinct the development lies.

A low bid was accepted from Excel Machinery Co. of Amarillo for a $20,000 Bomag steel wheel roller to be used in Pcts. 1 and 3.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman said he visited the company on his recent return trip from Georgia and found the roller to meet specifications.

Jana Ratliff of County Auditor Susan Buckalew's office reported that the courthouse needs more telephones, and that AT&T had offered to provide a module for 10 phones for $100.

She said the offices of Peace Justices Kay Richmond and Glenda Haltom need an extra phone each and that the others would be used in various offices in the courthouse, annex and sheriff's office.

The purchase was approved.

Pct. 2 Commissioner Carl Guelker got a go-ahead to advertise for bids for a new pickup truck for his northwestern Mitchell County precinct and to open bids on Nov. 2.

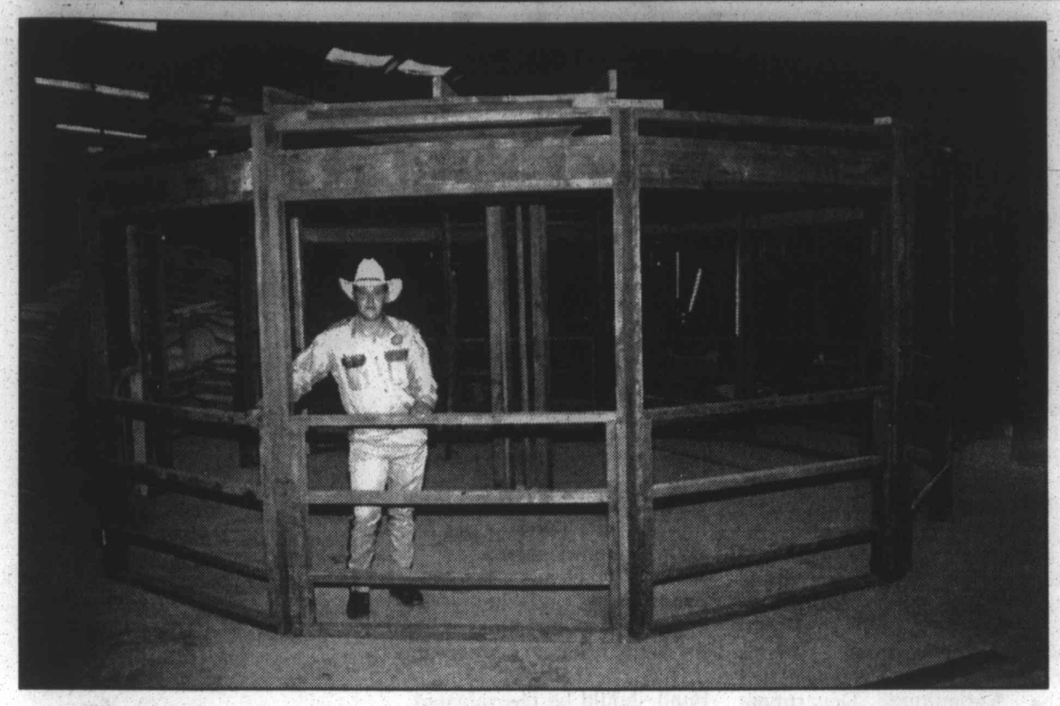

The court went into an executive session for about an hour to discuss property with officials of the County Economic Development Board and reconvened at 10:35 to say that no action would be taken at the present time.

BBB urging citizens to be aware of out-of-state home equity lenders

If you're thinking that taking out a home equity loan to pay off your credit card debts might be a good idea, talk to the Better Business Bureau in Abilene first.

They're using terms like "equity stripping," "loan flipping" and "packing" to describe all the ways in which it is often a very bad idea.

Since the Texas Legislature wrote a home equity borrowing constitutional amendment and the voters passed it last November, out-of-state banking corporations have flooded the state with television advertisements promoting the loans.

And as might be expected, Texans have been going along in record numbers.

"Your home could be your greatest single asset," said Abilene BBB President Steve Abel in a telephone interview last Thursday.

"But when it comes to loans based on the equity in your home, you could be putting your most valuable asset at risk.

"Unscrupulous lenders and brokers use deceptive practices to lure unsuspecting homeowners into what is in reality a high-cost loan.

"The promoters usually target low-income households, credit-risk individuals and seniors."

Abel urges homeowners who are considering such a loan to call him at 915-691-1533 for a reliability report about the bank or company.

Equity is the money that you have paid into the morgage on your home.

Home equity borrowing had never been allowed in state history until this year because lenders were not allowed to foreclose on homesteads to collect a debt.

The Abilene BBB serves 13 counties, including Mitchell County.

"Equity stripping is when the lender is not making the loan based on your income and ability to repay, but rather on the equity in your home," Abel said.

"These types of loans are designed to steal the equity you have built up in your home. It is important to remember that a home equity loan is essentially a second mortgage, and failure to make payment will result in foreclosure and the loss of the property."

With loan flipping, he said, the lender encourages the borrower to refinance the loan repeatedly and borrow more and more money.

"Many homeowners do not realize that each time one refinances, there are additional fees and interest points to be paid," the BBB president said.

"And with each refinancing, you've increased your debt and are probably paying a disproportionately high price for a little cash."

Packing is the addition of credit insurance and other possibly unneeded "extras" to the loan to increase the company's profit at your expense.

Before using your home as collateral for a loan, Abel said, examine your ability to make the payments out of your current income and do not become over-committed.

"Be sure to have an adequate understanding of carrying a loan debt on your home that exceeds the value of the home," he said.

"Get the loan offer in writing. It should include a complete estimate of all loan obligation fees or interest points, appraisal fees, credit reports and other costs that will be charged to close the loan."

The BBB head also said never to sign a loan agreement if the terms have been changed since your original application.

"To avoid any surprises at closing, ask the lender to present a copy of the final loan documents 24 hours in advance," he said.

"This will give you the opportunity to review the materials for any changes and take appropriate action."

Stenholm votes for farmer tax-relief bill

Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford Monday voted for a bill in the United States Congress that would help farmers in their struggle against the "dual crisis" of drought and low commodity prices.

He helped pass a bill on the same day to prohibit telecommunications companies from changing a customer's bill without his or her consent.

"This legislation demonstrates that it is possible to provide tax relief to farmers, ranchers and small businesses in a fiscally responsible manner without using Social Security trust funds," the Democrat said.

The bill would permanently extend income averaging rules to allow farmers and ranchers to average their income of the previous three years for tax purposes..

It also gradually increases the deductibility of health insurance for self-employed people, making health insurance 100 percent deductible for the self-employed by 2003.

The bill clarifies that farmers who choose the option of receiving 1999 Agricultural Market Transition Act (AMTA) payments early will not have those payments counted as 1998 income for tax purposes.

He helped pass legislation earlier this year that allowed farmers to receive 1999 AMTA payments this year.

"This bill will provide much needed assistance to farmers, ranchers and small businesses in West Texas who are struggling with the economic crisis caused by the drought, low agricultural prices and low oil prices," Rep. Stenholm said.

He said he was disappointed that the bill did not include a net operating loss carryback provision for farm losses, but he said he is continuing to work for that measure in pending legislation.

It would allow farmers to write off net operation losses this year against taxes paid over the past five years.

Stenholm's telecommunications bill prohibits a common, controversial practice by companies called "slamming."

It requires companies to obtain information from the customer to prove consent to change a bill.

"I've heard from many constituents who have had to endure the frustration of this unscrupulous activity," Stenholm said.

"It can be costly in terms of both time and money, and innocent customers just should not be subject to this kind of business practice."

Companies will now be required to obtain an affirmation of the subscriber's selection of the company, acknowledge the type of service to be changed and affirm that an individual is authorized to make the choice.

Companies must have written, oral or electronic proof of the customer's choice.

Izzard addresses agricultural issues

The seven-year "Freedom to Farm" bill that the Republican Congress wrote in 1996 was a compromise measure that is pleasing no one, GOP congressional candidate Rudy Izzard of Abilene said here Friday.

Dr. Izzard said the Farm Bill lacks the flexibility that Congress needs to structure or restructure trade agreements and to deal with agricultural disasters like this year's drought.

Dr. Izzard, opposing Democratic Congressman Charles Stenholm's re-election, said the Agriculture Department needs the freedom to lift loan caps in bad years.

He said the bill was an interim measure that gave Congress plenty of time to evaluate what should be in the next Farm Bill in 2003.

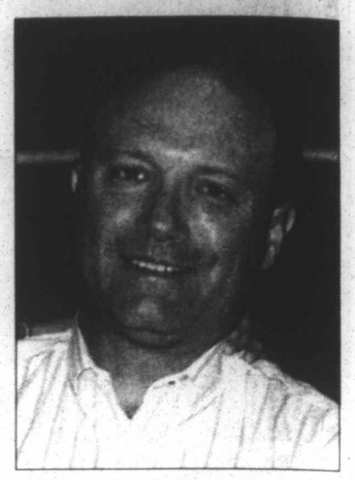

It was a compromise between Democrats, who were able to retain some subsidies, and Republicans, who removed limitations on production in their plan to move further toward a "free market" for agriculture when the next Farm Bill is written.

Dr. Izzard, a dentist who got 48.4 percent of the vote when he ran against Congressman Stenholm two years ago, said trade agreements are more important than ever because 40 percent of American agricultural income comes from trade with foreign countries.

The former San Angelo city councilman said the NAFTA agreement with Mexico and the United States' participation in the International Monetary Fund should be re-evaluated.

Izzard said he has been distressed with a controversy in his old home county about farmers who collected big benefits for planting Pima cotton that failed.

He said Pima cotton, usually an Arizona crop, was planted specifically for Tom Green County farmers to qualify for crop insurance, and he said such disputes damage the credibility of farmers.

Rudy Izzard

In a Friday interview at the Colorado City Record, Izzard said Stenholm has continued to receive agricultural subsidies for his Stamford area farmland but has not worked as a farmer for many years.

"He has not had his hands in the dirt, and he should not receive the safety net," the candidate said.

Local B&PW Club celebrates National Business Women's Week

October 19-23, 1998 marks National Business Women's Week 70th Anniversary. This Week was set aside in 1928 and has been sponsored by Business and Professional Women's 70,000 members call attention to local women entrepreneurs, facilitate discussions on the needs of working women, share information about successful workplace policies, and raise awareness of the resources available for women in their communities.

In 1928, the National President of Business and Professional Women, Lena Madesin Phillips made the following remark, "The purpose of the week was to focus public attention upon a better business woman for a better buiness world." Each U. S. President since Herbert Hoover has opened the first day of National Business Women's Week with a letter recognizing the contrubutions and achievements of working women. It is also recognized on the state and local levels.

Women have more business and professional oppertunities today than in 1928, the program which was outlined for the first observance is still relevant to the currents challenge of women today.

There are several opportunities today that is observed by working women. Legislative Day is devoted to national, state and legislation of interest women; Education Day is devoted emphasizing the need for educational opportunities. Also, there are a number of publicaitions available to provide information for various programs and resources that offer tips on everything from writing a business plan to acquiring capital.

Business and Professsional Women has grown also. In 1928 there was 874 local organizations and today there are 70,000 members in 53 state federations and over 2,000 local organizations.

The local organization will have activities to promote the National Business Women's Week. The Business and Professional Women's Club will be attending a Theater Production on Sunday, October 18th. There will also be a talk on the radio on KVMC on Monday, the 19th and a coffee will be at the City National Bank, 9:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on October 20th introducing Joy Chaney, the recipient of the Working Woman's Scholarship.

The Colorado City Bussiness and Professional Women's Club meets the second Tuesday of each month at the Civic Center at 6:30 p.m.. The local club is made up of 21 women. Interested persons are always welcomed. The programs are geared to the interest and needs of the local business women. Annually the local BPW presents a scholarship to a high school senior and to a woman that is out of school and would like to go back to school to train for her present job or for a new type of career.

Acuna drive is launched

The county-wide drive to take help to flood victims in Acuna, Mexico, is picking up steam.

waived extradition and will be returned to Alabama in about two weeks.

The chase involved Sheriff Toombs, Deputy Felix Pantoja of Loraine, four Howard County deputies, Department of Public Safety Trooper Shane Johnson of Colorado City and three DPS troopers and a sergeant from Big Spring.

Deputy Pantoja's car had a flat tire, as did three of the Howard County cars, and Terry at different points ran a car off a dirt road and tried to sideswipe another.

Sheriff Toombs said the chase was hampered at times by roiling clouds of dust and that Agent Stiltner was the only officer who had the fugitive in sight for the whole chase.

Terry, incarcerated in Alabama prisons since 1986 on convictions for theft, forgery, possession of narcotics and assault, escaped from a minimum security lock-up near Montgomery, Ala., on Sept. 29.

The car he was driving was registered to a man in Poway, Calif., near San Diego.

Leader Bryan Limmer of the Noon Lions Club said Tuesday that organizers have received a number of telephone calls to collect furniture, canned food and other items.

The Rail Head Trade Days Center at First and Elm streets will be opened from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday to begin sorting and boxing merchandise.

"We're asking for people, when they bring items in, to label them," Limmer said. "It doesn't need to be too elaborate.

"If it's a box of clothes, just write 'clothes' on the side."

The center will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday next week and the same times next weekend in preparation for a Monday, Oct. 26, convoy to Acuna, across the border from Del Rio.

Limmer said school supplies, bedding, eating and cooking utensils, washing supplies and other household items are needed.

LARRY SMITH, zone manager for the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, was addressing participants in the annual Mitchell County Farm Tour. Smith said boll weevils have continued to be a problem this year in Haskell and Throckmorton counties.

35 farmers attend local farm tour

Farmers' never-ending battle with insects to bring their crops to market was the theme of afternoon discussions in the annual Mitchell County Farm Tour Wednesday.

Thirty-five farmers toured the Tony Turner and Hal Morren farms Wednesday morning, ate barbecue at the Civic Center and then heard an official of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation.

Zone Manager Larry Smith of Stamford said that of the 700,000 acres of cotton that were planted in his area last spring, only 137,000 will be harvested, mostly in Haskell and Throckmorton counties.

"I have friends who planted four or five times," Smith said, shaking his head.

"The weevils are out there, even in a year when there is not much cotton and it is very dry."

Smith said most of the foundation's work this year has been in irrigated areas where the semblance of a crop was salvaged.

He manages work in the 22 counties of the Rolling Plains Central Zone, with Mitchell County on its southwest edge.

Chris Sansone, an entomologist, or insect scientist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo, said fall army worms and beet army worms made their expected runs through skimpy plant life in the late summer.

He explained that fall army worms and beet army worms are different species with beet army worms being the stronger of the two.

Although Pirate insecticide is most often used against them, he said, the less potent Tracer or Confirm chemicals should have been tried first in Haskell and Throckmorton counties this year because they are less destructive to beneficial insects.

Sansone said the lack of sub-soil moisture for the 1999 crop disturbs him even more than current bone-dry conditions stemming from the year-long drought.

"I think we need 15 to 20 inches of rain just to get even," he said.

The last speaker of the tour was Steve Biles of Sweetwater, who was appointed by the Extension Service early this year to head the newly created Insect Pest Management (IPM) program in Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Jones counties.

Biles said the program had little to do in Mitchell County this year because of the drought, but he plans a full schedule of services next year to help farmers monitor the presence of destructive insects in their cotton.

The IPM program was created to deal with insects other than boll weevils, such as cotton aphids and army worms, for whom boll weevil eradication opens the door.

Biles said 15 to 20 fields will be sought in Mitchell County for locally hired "scouts" to monitor throughout the growing season.

The idea is to give producers an early warning of infestations so that insects may be dealt with before they become too destructive.

Relentless, destructive beet army worms did a great deal of damage in the Corpus Christi and San Angelo areas this year, Sansone said, along with a brief but notable foray in the Westbrook area before they were brought under control with strong insecticides.

"They are the supermen of worms," he said.

"We don't know why, but they can usually be expected after a dry spell."

Review

People who have never seen anything funny about a motel room should see "Murder at the Howard Johnson's" this weekend at the Colorado City Opera House at 337 Walnut St.

This motel room is plenty funny as the scene of three different convergences of a confused, homicidal love triangle involving a used car salesman, his wife and the couple's amorous dentist.

The characters are well-played by three veterans of San Angelo theaters, Andrea Corley, David Layne Engelman and Colorado City native Tracy Lee Womack.

Performances will be at 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday, and $5 reserved seat tickets are on sale from 2 to 5 p.m. daily at the opera house box office.

The play opened last weekend with 70 people on Saturday and about 40 on Sunday afternoon in the 154-seat theater.

Ms. Corley, as Arlene Miller, and Engelman, as Dr. Mitchell Lavell, begin the action, enthusiastic about their new affair but nervous about their plans to tell Mrs. Miller's husband Paul.

Affecting a foreign accent and the alias "Raul," Dr. Lavell has lured Miller to the room with the promise of a stolen car to be sold cheap.

Miller arrives, is confronted by his wife and dentist and responds, "You mean there's no stolen car?"

"I love your wife," Dr. Lavell proclaims. "Your wife loves me. After all, I'm a dentist!"

However, Miller is devoted to his wife, and after refusing to say he will give her a divorce, he is tied up, injected with Novacaine and left for dead in a cold bathtub.

After the couple leaves, he clambers out of the tub, makes his way onto the stage in his underwear and a shower curtain and says, "That does it! Tomorrow we're seeing a marriage counselor!"

Six months later, Arlene is back in the same room, calling her former husband and threatening suicide.

Paul arrives and says he will take her back, bragging that he has a whole new attitude since studying Dr. Malcolm Dewey's "Me First" philosophy.

"A truly selfish person would never commit suicide," he says.

But Arlene is bent on revenge and calls Dr. Lavell, telling him she is alone.

Arlene tearfully tells Paul the story of finding Dr. Lavell in a compromising position in a patient's chair with his dental assistant, and she persuades Paul to shoot him with a pistol she has brought.

Paul has a better idea -- to push him out the window and make it appear to be a suicide.

Dr. Lavell is surprised by Miller's jumping out of the closet with the gun, and he admits that he "is a baby" and professes his continuing love for Arlene.

Miller's anger will not be assuaged, and he forces Dr. Lavell to jump out the window.

The doctor lands on a ledge that he knew was just below, Miller gets out there to facilitate his fall, and the two hilariously push and yell back and forth past three blue glass windows.

This scene finally resolves itself as inconclusively and humorously as the first, and the first act ends after an hour.

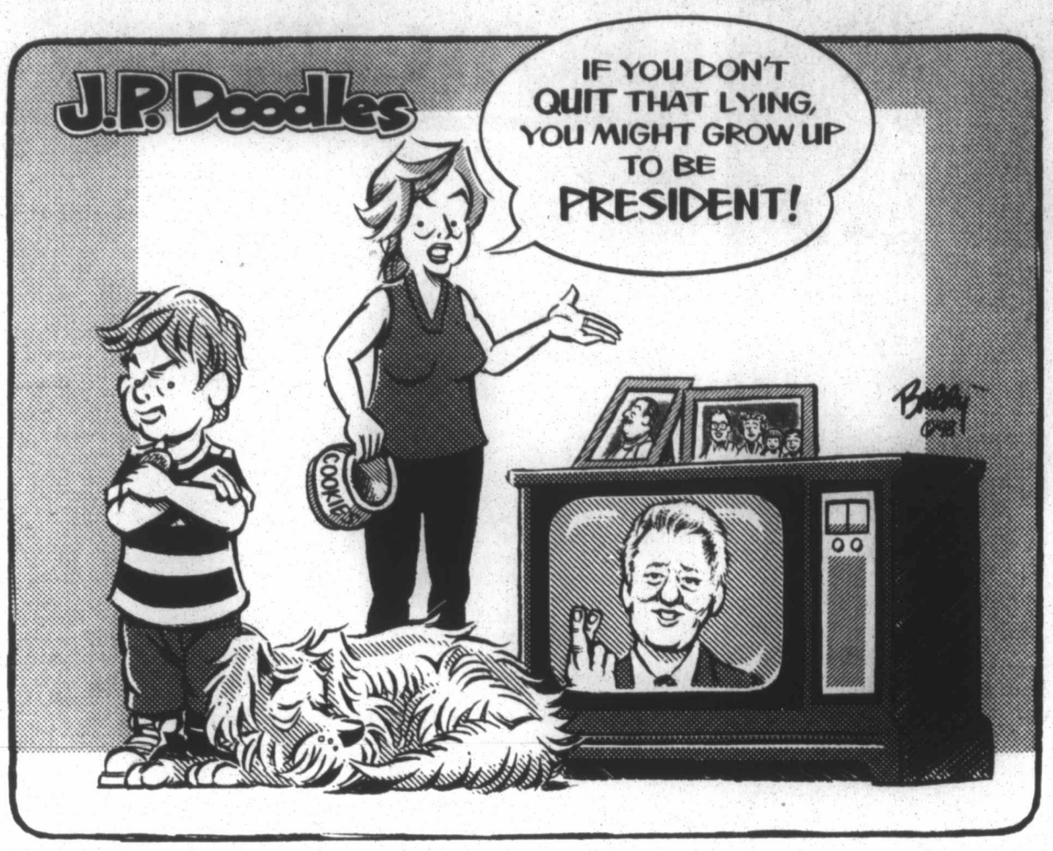

Womack, Engelman and Ms. Corley are polished actors with good timing and a sure sense of stage acting.

Engelman is a wiry man with good intensity and an activen stage presence, and Womack has a broad emotional range and a fine actor's voice, resonant and expressive.

Ms. Corley is believable in her role.

The second act of the comedy by Ron Clark and Sam Bobrick runs 45 minutes after a 15-minute intermission.

-- Bob Campbell

IS LIFE FAIR?

By Tumbleweed Smith

I spoke to a fifth grade class the other day. I had a good time. I was impressed with how smart the kids were. They answered questions, asked a few and were attentive. After doing some yo-yo tricks and telling them about some of my fifth grade experiences (like when I misspelled the word crochet and thereby missed being the champion speller of the school), I got down to the main topic of the day: truth, fairness and building goodwill.

We got into some pretty deep discussions, especially for a fifth grade class. One youngster seemed so very bright. His hand shot up every time I asked a question. I could tell right away he was the best student in the class.

At one point when we were discussing fairness in dealing with people and situations, that bright student raised his hand. When I called on him, he said three words that I was surprised to hear. He said "Life is unfair."

I told him he had probably read that somewhere or heard it from someone. I thought surely he had not lived long enough to come up with that conclusion about life. It was painful to me to hear an eleven year old boy, especially one who showed so much promise, utter what I personally consider to be a negative comment. I may be in the minority here.

I noticed the class got fairly quiet when he said those words. Everybody seemed to withdraw a little. The youngsters became rather pensive. There was a sadness in the room. We spent the next few minutes discussing the comment. After awhile things got back on track and the class lightened up. I was in front of the kids for some forty five minutes, then sat down, feeling that at least the kids had something to think about the rest of the day.

It has been a few days since I spoke at the school, I have told some adults about the comment the youngster made. Most of them agree that life is unfair. Now these are healthy people, above average in every way, able to have everything they want and do exactly what they want to do. And they think life is unfair.

I now that bad things happen to good people. Most of the bad things that have happened in my life I have brought on myself. I take full responsibility. I don't consider life to be unfair. I think life is what you make it.

Some of the happiest people I have known have horrible, crippling diseases. Their eyes shine and they have positive outlooks. They are thankful for every moment of life and appreciate being alive.

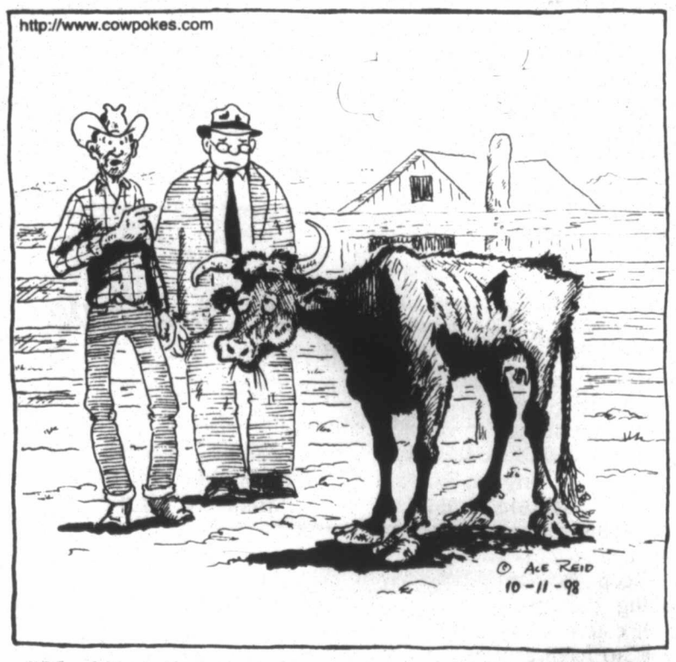

I have talked with successful people who started out in large, poor families living on scraps of food and sleeping in one room. They were fortunate to get an education and build a good life. They don't think life is unfair.

I think life is a gift to be opened daily, and the person opening it should be thrilled with anticipation of what the gift might be.

That fifth grader sure got me thinking. I wish him well. I hope he finds some beauty in life and has experiences that will make him realize his potential.

He is worthwhile and full of promise. I want him to know that.

Trespassing chagrins Raymond

Richard Raymond

Democratic land commissioner nominee Richard Raymond says a plan by leading statewide Republican candidates to create a "voucher" system for private schools "is a racket" from which out-of-state financial backers will benefit.

Raymond, a state representative from Benavides, said in a Friday telephone interview from Dallas that his Republican opponent, David Dewhurst, supports the plan.

"I'm against the movement to take $2 billion of tax dollars and give it for private school vouchers," Rep. Raymond said.

"That's going to hurt schools in Colorado City -- the debate teams, the science labs. I just think it's the wrong way to go."

Asked if the plan is designed to allow white students in poorly performing schools to attend private schools at state expense, Rep. Raymond said it is more a matter of greed.

"We have got guys who have some very special interests from out of state -- big contributors," he said.

"If they can siphon off $2 billion to the private schools and make it a racket, they can make a lot of money off it. I don't like guys from New York City to try to make money off it.

"Two guys in San Antonio who used to run an amusement park just opened a private school. The Madelyn Murray O'Hair people could open a school to preach atheism and they could siphon off public money to run the school.

"It's going to weaken all our schools. There're going to be some guys who make money off private schools, but it ain't going to help our schools."

Raymond, who has represented District 44 for six years, said he was dismayed when an aide of Dewhurst's came onto his parents' posted property near Bastrop last month to take photographs of the garage apartment that he and his wife Michelle have there.

Rep. Raymond said his mother, whose husband of more than 40 years had just died, was frightened and had to see a physician because of nervousness.

Rep. Raymond's wife filed a criminal trespassing complaint with the Department of Public Safety, and the Bastrop County district attorney issued two arrest warrants Friday for the aide, Rob Hamilton, and his girlfriend.

"I would have fired this guy in a New York minute," Raymond said, referring to Dewhurst's defense of Hamilton.

"Here we are running for land commissioner, wanting stronger private property rights, and he sends two people out to my mom's house to take pictures.

"Her house is at the back of the property. You have to go 800 or 900 feet to get back there. When somebody goes back there, they know what they're doing.

"She sees this car, two people slowly creeping through the driveway, and they stop in front of her house, taking pictures."

Mrs. Raymond, who was at the house with her mother-in-law, questioned the couple and was told they were working for a homebuilder and looking for a different address.

Mrs. Raymond explained that she filed charges "because they misled me about their purposes for being on our property, and that makes me angry."

A DPS investigator said the property was plainly posted with a large "No Trespassing" sign.

Raymond said he is interested to see that Hamilton has hired a prominent Austin criminal defense attorney, Ron Minton, to represent him while he continues to work for Dewhurst, a former Central Intelligence Agency agent who worked in South America.

"He is an honest kid, a good worker," Dewhurst told reporters. "This is just a desperate act by a desperate campaign."

A Dewhurst campaign official said Hamilton inadvertently drove onto the property to take photos of the house to prove that Raymond does not live in his South Texas district.

He admitted that Hamilton already had three prior arrests -- for reckless driving, drunken driving and possession of an illegal weapon.

The Spanish-speaking Raymond said one of his programs if he is elected on Nov. 3 will be to lease state-owned property for such worthy projects as building hospitals, schools and law enforcement centers.

He said a large percentage of the state's 20 million acres is not being used for anything and all state land should be inventoried to determine what it might be good for.

The land commissioner's office administers veterans' loan programs for the purchase of homes and land, and Raymond wants to begin loaning money for veterans to attend college.

"If they are willing to become teachers, we would give them an even lower interest rate," he said. "I think the veterans can help us bring more discipline to Texas classrooms."

BAND

She said local caterers offer only "barbecue or chicken fried steak" and having the banquet in another city frees Band Booster Club sponsors from having to clean up afterward.

And she said such an event gives band members a feeling of being "special," like athletes.

Mrs. Strain said band members were told prior to the last banquet that having another one would be dependent on their good behavior, and she read a letter of recommendation from the Abilene caterer who said their behavior was exemplary.

Mrs. Hernandez said, however, that some of the petition signers were the same people who protested when the board made a large appropriation to buy new band uniforms.

"They sway both ways," she said.

Mrs. Jameson said the school district should spend as much money as it can locally to keep tax revenues here, adding that using an out-of-town caterer "is a slap in the face" to local caterers.

Supt. Russell Merket said his main reason for not supporting such banquets is that many band members rode there with their parents, increasing the possibility of an accident.

Band parent Tom Carlock said he favors the banquet as a way to give the musicians the same type of attention that athletes receive.

High school principal Buddy Compton said he has no objection, and Turner said he attended the last banquet and was impressed with the maturity of the band's behavior.

Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Director Windi Fuller asked the board to keep such events local to help the local economy.

"There are businesses out there who would like to have your business for the band," she said.

Mrs. Fuller said local caterers have also produced steak and turkey dinners for recent events.

The policy has been in effect for two years.

Other business in the 7 p.m. meeting included a discussion with B&R Bus Sales representatives from Bronte, who attributed most of the district's recent problems with three travel buses to operational mistakes.

Lanny Bowman and Garland Richards did say, though, that most troublesome bus was found to have water in its oil and it is being overhauled in Bronte for delivery back to the district this week.

Richards said he will come here to give a course to all drivers of the buses because they can easily overheat -- the problem that has led to buses overheating and stopping or slowing down several times since the start of football season.

He said there are 40 to 50 different factors to be dealt with in operating them, from making sure that the brakes unlock after stopping to gearing down on hills to maintain adequate engine RPM's.

Merket told the board that Compton and Head Coach Gerald James recently pointed out that the roofs of the football fieldhouse in Wolf Stadium and the fieldhouse addition on which construction is beginning this week will not match.

In trying to get the lowest price from Gomez Construction Co. of Sweetwater, he said, the addition's pitched, or slanted, roof was designed to be lower than the flat roof of the fieldhouse.

Board members discussed building the addition's walls higher to meet the fieldhouse roof for an additional cost of $16,000.

A low bid of $169,721 was awarded to builder Edward Gomez on Aug. 20.

The board members decided that consistency in the roofs' style, not their height, will be the most important factor in the aesthetics of the project.

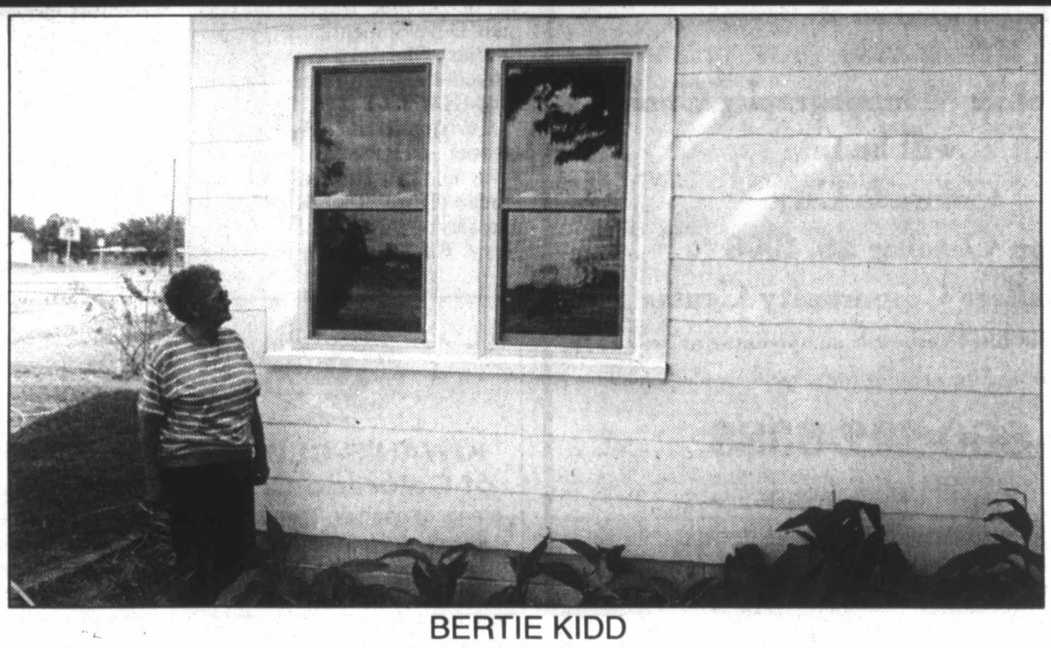

They asked Merket to direct Gomez to build a pitched roof onto the fieldhouse so that the two buildings will have a similar appearance.

Business Manager Geneva Findley said the district allocates $100,000 annually for roof repairs and that fund can be used to cover the extra cost.

Technology Director Brenda Hammond reported that the district's application for an $88,000 TIF Grant from the state has been approved and the money will be received in December.

The grant will be used to connect Kelley and Hutchinson elementary schools computers to either the middle school or high school, putting them all on the Internet.

Howell speaks to C-City Garden Club

The October meeting of the Colorado City Garden Club featured Mr. Wilson Howell of Snyder as speaker.

Mr. Howell is a member of the American Rose Society and a Consulting Rasarian.

He is the only such recognized authority in West Texas. He has won first place five times in National Rose shows and shows his roses in all areas of the United States.

He is very careful in buying his plants. He orders his roses from 27 different companies, rather than buying from stores who have bought the roses from another company and thus cannot assure the quality of the rose he is buying.

He has a handbook that gives all the information needed to grow show roses, which he offered to share with everyone who is interested.

He explained that helping others to grow fine roses in any way he can is part of being a Consulting Rosarian.

After lunch at the Spanish Inn in Snyder, the club members went to the home of Mr. Howell to see the six hundred roses which he grows in his yard.

There he demonstrated different methods of watering that he uses. He said if the leaves had spider mites, to spray up from under the leaves to wash them off.

He also showed ways to fertilize and kinds of fertilizer. After visiting the beautiful garden with its many different kinds of roses, the members returned to Colorado City.

Those attending the meeting were: Marge Kolman, Faye Nell Herm, Marilyn Tartt, Ray Anne Carlock, Bobbie Steakley, Janie Lou Greenlee, Wilma Reynolds, Leola Anderson, Margaret Latimer, Jeanine Bodine, Mabel Majors, Florence Bodine, Leslie Scott, Billie Marie Long, a new member, Carolyn Smith, guest Linda Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Howell.

Roscoe artist leads watercolor workshop

On Thursday, October 1, at the Wallace Center, the Brush and Palette Club enjoyed a Watercolor Workshop with professional artist, Billy Joe Ray from Roscoe.

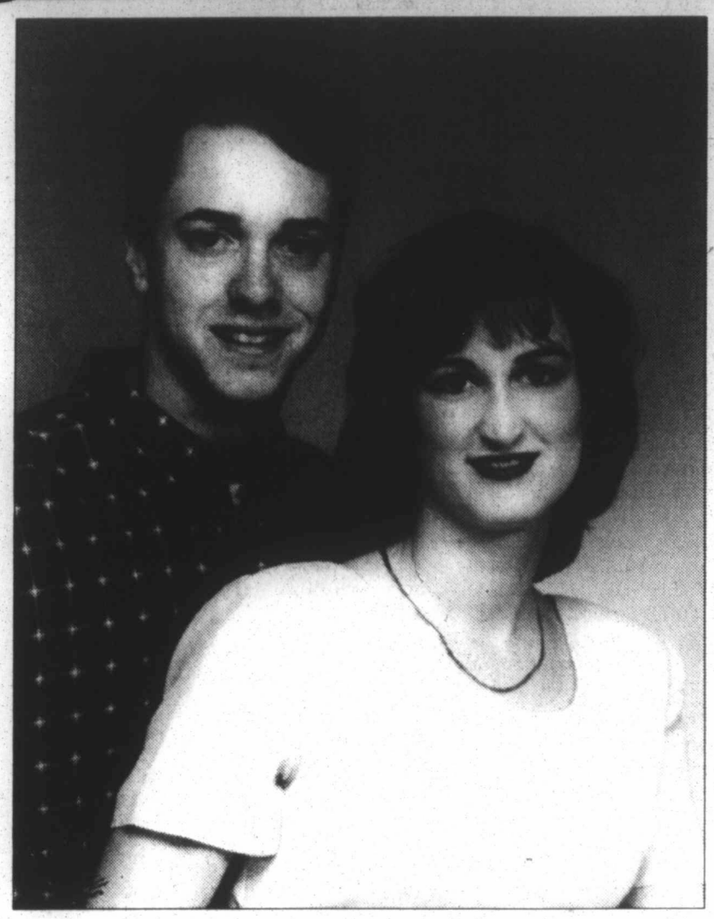

The group painted Indian pots on watercolor board. Billy Joe showed them how to make the pots look very realistic.

Members attending were Leada Wood, Myong Dolan, Betty Frizzell, Ginny Harmon, and Glenda Hemphill.

After lunch at the Center the group continued painting until 3 p.m.

The next meeting will be Thursday, November 5, 1998 from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

If anyone would be interested in having the Brush and Palette Club meetings in the evenings, the group would like to hear from you. Please call 728-2892 or 728-3676.

Christopher Carey and Elizabeth Graham

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Graham of Colorado City are pleased to announce the engagement and upcoming marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne to Mr. Christopher Miles Carey of San Angelo.

Christopher is the son of Ms. Patricia Carey of Abilene and Mr. Jimmy Carey also of Abilene.

Elizabeth is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Graham of Loraine, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen of Colorado City.

Elizabeth is a graduate of Waco High School in Waco, Tx. She has also attended Hardin Simmons University, and is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Human Development and Family Studies. She is currently employed by West Texas Centers for MHMR.

Christopher is a graduate of Cooper High School in Abilene, Tx. He has also attended Texas Tech University and served in the United States Navy. He is currently attending Angelo State University majoring in Agriculture Economics. He is employed by Goodfellow Air Force Base - Family Support Center, and also serves in the Texas Army National Guard.

A November 21st wedding is planned at First Baptist Church in Colorado City.

MUSHROOM-ONION POT ROAST

1 3 1/2 pound boneless beef arm roast
1 envelope dry onion soup mix
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup

Heat oven to 350°. Place a large sheet of heavy-duty foil in the bottom of a 9" square cake pan. Place roast in the center of foil. Sprinkle the dry onion soup mix over roast. Spoon the can of mushroom soup over roast. Seal foil with a double fold and seal all edges well. Bake 3 hours.

HOT ONION BREAD

1 Tbs. instant minced onion
1/2 tsp. onion salt
1/2 cup soft margarine
1 loaf (11 oz.) French or Italian bread, sliced diagonally almost through
Paprika
Parsley flakes

Mix first 3 ingredients and spread between bread slices and on top. Sprinkle bread with paprika and parsley flakes and wrap in foil. Bake in hot oven (400°) for 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

PECAN BUTTER BALLS

2 cups all-purpose flour, lightly spooned into cup
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup butter or margarine, softened
2 tsp. vanilla extract
2 cups finely chopped pecans
Slightly beaten egg white
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup very fine sugar

Measure first 6 ingredients into bowl, mix well and gather into ball. Divide in 4 equal pieces. With lightly floured hands, shape each in roll 1" in diameter. Put parallel to each other and cut crosswise in 3/4" pieces. Shape in 1" balls, brush with egg white and roll in mixture of pecans and very fine sugar. Bake on cookie sheet in slow oven (325°) for 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Do not overbake.

Thought for the day:
You will never be hurt by anything you don't say.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Food not appropriate

Dear Editor,

I have just been going over the lunch menus for the month of October at Kelley Elementary and I must say I agree with the letter to the editor that was written a couple of weeks ago.

As a mother of a Kelley student, I can personally tell you, my child is starving when he comes home from school. Why? Because he doesn't want to eat the strange food the red and green specs that the cafeteria has.

After looking over the menus, I do think it would be more appropriate for the small children to have the corn dogs, hot dogs, chicken nuggets, etc. that are always a choice for the older students.

Children this age are not as interested in variety as they are food they are familiar with. Please, let's try to make it where our kids will eat their lunch and not be so hungry by the end of the day.

A concerned mom,
Sylvia Reyna

PAW PRINTS

Notes from the Colorado Independent School District

By Mark Merrell, Colorado Middle School Principal

Efforts to address alcohol and other drug use problems are usually categorized into prevention, intervention, treatment and enforcement. A comprehensive attack on drug abuse is needed within our community. The primary focus for Colorado Middle School is prevention.

Prevention is the approach which seeks to create a climate in which positive action is taken to prevent the use of alcohol and other drugs. Prevention is based upon the following beliefs:

- Alcohol use is not acceptable for students to use.
- Prescription and over-the counter drugs are used only for the purposes for which they were intended.
- Other abusive substances, such as inhalants, are used only for the intended purposes.
- Illegal drug use is not acceptable.

Throughout the year Colorado Middle School will stress prevention through a number of programs including, health classes, DARE, PAL Program, STAR Program, and Red Ribbon Week.

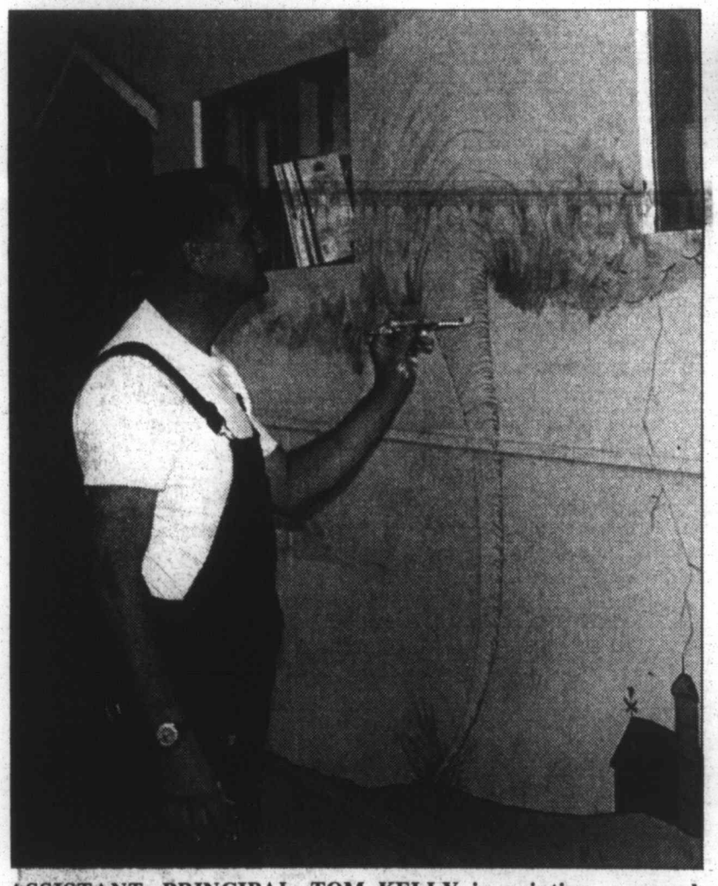

Red Ribbon Week will start on October 26, 1998 through October 31, 1998. The Red Ribbon Campaign was started as a response to the murder of Enrique Camarena, a Special Agent of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration. Some of the activities at CMS include:

- Classroom decorating contest
- Poetry and slogan contest
- Drug free pledges
- Drug free messages on P.A. and radio
- Posters made by F.C.A.
- Red Ribbon ceremony

The week will end with a Red Ribbon Dance in the middle school cafeteria. Saturday night at 7:00 - 10:00 p.m., October 31, 1998. Only middle school students and their parents may attend. As a follow up to the Red Ribbon, the theatre group, Voices Unmasked, from McMurry University will be performing November 3, 1998. The public is invited to attend. Other activity dates to remember:

- November 19 - The Great American Smoke-Out
- December - National Drunk Driving Prevention Month
- April - Alcohol Awareness Month

Often individuals feel powerless in view of the enormous problems associated with the use of alcohol and other drugs. Drug problems can be reduced when parents, students, teachers, law enforcement, and the community take a stand and carry out positive action to address the problem.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL TOM KELLY is painting a mural on Kelley Elementary hallways, a project started originally by his 7th and 8th grade art classes, but since he became Assistant Principal at CMS he is no longer teaching art and is finishing the project himself.

Achievement banquet set by 4-H Club

Plans are underway for the best 4-H Achievement Banquet ever for Mitchell County.

The Banquet will begin at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 17 at the Mitchell County Ag Barn.

Awards given will include Gold, Silver and Bronze Star, Outstanding Adult Leader, Friend of 4-H, Participation Certificates and Pins, as well as other Special Recognitions.

The theme for this year's banquet will be a "Western Barn Dance".

Speaker for the banquet will be Allison Davis, the new District 2 4-H Specialist from Lubbock.

As a special feature for this year's banquet, we will have a dance immediately following the Awards Ceremony. (So be sure and bring your favorite C.D.'s.)

Special guests, former 4-H families, and especially new 4-H families, are encouraged to attend.

4-H members are also encouraged to bring a friend so that they may learn more about what the 4-H program is all about.

4-H families need to RSVP the County Extension Office at 728-3111 by Thursday, October 15, 1998.

Navy Fireman Recruit Brandon W. Atkins

Navy Fireman Recruit Brandon W. Atkins, son of Tim W. and Julie R. Atkins of Colorado City, Tx., recently participated in the commissioning of the amphibious assault ship USS Bonhomme Richard.

Atkins is one of more than 1,000 Sailors who attended the commissioning in Pensacola, Fla.

The ship was placed in commission by Secretary of the Navy John Dalton.

Atkins' ship is a multipurpose assualt ship capable of launching both aerial and waterborne amphibious assaults, as well as non-combatant evacuations and other humanitarian missions.

His ship can carry and fully support a Marine Expeditionary Unit consisting of 2,000 Marines.

USS Bonhomme Richard can also carry up to eight fighter planes and 30 helicopters. His ship is equipped with air cushion landing crafts that can carry troops, combat vehicles and supplies to support an amphibious assault.

USS Bonhomme Richard has living areas for nearly 3,200 people, including accomodations for 450 females.

Probation department looking for donations

The Mitchell County Adult Probation Department Community Service Restitution Program is asking for donations of used toys, especially bicycles and tricycles.

As one of their community projects, they are going to refurbish the items and then donate them to the Optimist Toy Drive to be distributed to Mitchell County children.

Items may be dropped off at the Probation Department on the third floor of the Courthouse or you can make arrangements to have your items picked up by calling 728-3457 and asking for Donna or Sally.

Each Thursday, she teaches the SUNBURST curriculum (a course designed to train students in basic skills of conflict resolution) to each second grade class. The program has been used as an effective tool to help reduce fighting and phycical violence.

NEED A PUMPKIN? The Hutchinson Elementary Pumpkin Patch will be open all day Friday, October 16. Pumpkins will be sold for $2.00 and all proceeds benefit the accelarated reader program. Everyone is welcome. Pictured with a "pumpkin sampling" are third grade students (l-r) Zachary Garza, Alyssa Martinez, Isabel Ventura, Kolby Free and Cody Upshaw.

BILLY RAY WILLIAMSON, City Fire Marshall, held a class demonstration for all the kindergarten students on fire prevention during Fire Prevention Week at Kelley Elementary. Pictured all dressed up in a fireman's uniform is kindergarten student, Derek Footer.

ENTHUSIASM was abundant at the Colorado Wolves' pep rally last Friday in the CHS gymnasium, where cheerleaders joined twirlers, drum majors, the Wolf Band, football team, boosters and fans to drum up support for the home team. The Wolves will play the Brownfield Cubs here at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

DOES THIS BELONG TO YOU?

THIS SUNDAY

WE'LL HAVE GOOD NEWS FOR THOUSANDS OF TEXANS. WILL YOU BE ONE OF THEM?

Every day, banks and businesses report unclaimed cash and valuables to the state—uncashed checks or refunds, forgotten bank accounts, jewelry and the other abandoned contents of safety deposit boxes.

Once each year, in an effort to reunite these unclaimed assets with their rightful owners, we insert the most recent Unclaimed Property list in the Sunday editions of 33 daily newspapers across the state.

In the past year, we've returned more than $38 million in unclaimed property to Texans.

But more than $800 million remains unclaimed. And in selected Sunday newspapers, we'll print the updated, latest edition of the list.

- Pick up a Sunday newspaper carrying the list and look for your name and the names of your relatives.
- Or call us toll-free at 1-800-654-3463.
- Or visit our Web site at <http://www.window.state.tx.us>.
- Or write to Comptroller John Sharp, Unclaimed Property Section, P.O. Box 12019, Austin TX 78711-2019.

If you find your name on the list, give us a call, drop us a line, or send us an e-mail at <unclaimed.property@cpa.state.tx.us> and we'll get you back together with your property.

Mustangs handle Wolves in district opener

By Russell Benson

The Colorado City Wolves lost to the Denver City Mustangs 39-24 last Friday night in Wolf stadium.

Key injuries, a flat Wolf performance and Denver City's Luis Villegas put the Pack in an 0-1 district 3-3A hole.

Receiver Randy Byington was not 100 percent, suffering from a sore back.

Justin Hill and the explosive Wolf offense could never get rolling as the Mustangs held Hill to 169 yards on 13 completions out of 32 attempts.

Hill was intercepted four times, two for touchdowns by Villegas.

Villegas, The Denver City quarterback/ defensive back, rushed for over 300 all-purpose yards and scored five times in the contest, including three rushing touchdowns.

The first quarter went well for the Pack as the Wolves stopped Denver City's first possession and forced them to punt.

On the Wolves' first play from scrimmage, Hill hit Chase Phariss on a 34 yard pass giving the Wolves first and ten at the Mustang 37.

The Wolves scored first on the drive on a 47 yard Randy Byington field goal.

At the end of one, the Wolves led 3-0.

On Denver City's first possession of the second quarter, the Pack forced a punt and it looked like the Wolves would add to their three-point lead.

Hill threw a rocket to Byington which he tipped to a waiting Villegas, who scored on a 47 yard interception return.

With 9:29 left in the half, the Mustangs took a 6-3 lead.

The Wolves fumbled away their next two possessions, resulting in a Denver City 17 yard touch down run.

After losing the ball on downs in their next possession, the Wolves could not stop Villegas as he raced around left end for a 43 yard touchdown.

After missing a 43 yard field goal attempt wide right, the Wolves entered the intermission down 18-3.

The second half started out as the first had ended, with a Villegas interception return for a score.

At 10:17 in the third, the Mustangs extended their lead to 25-3.

But the Wolves never gave up the fight as Byington hit a 64-yarder and the punt team downed it at the Denver City 4.

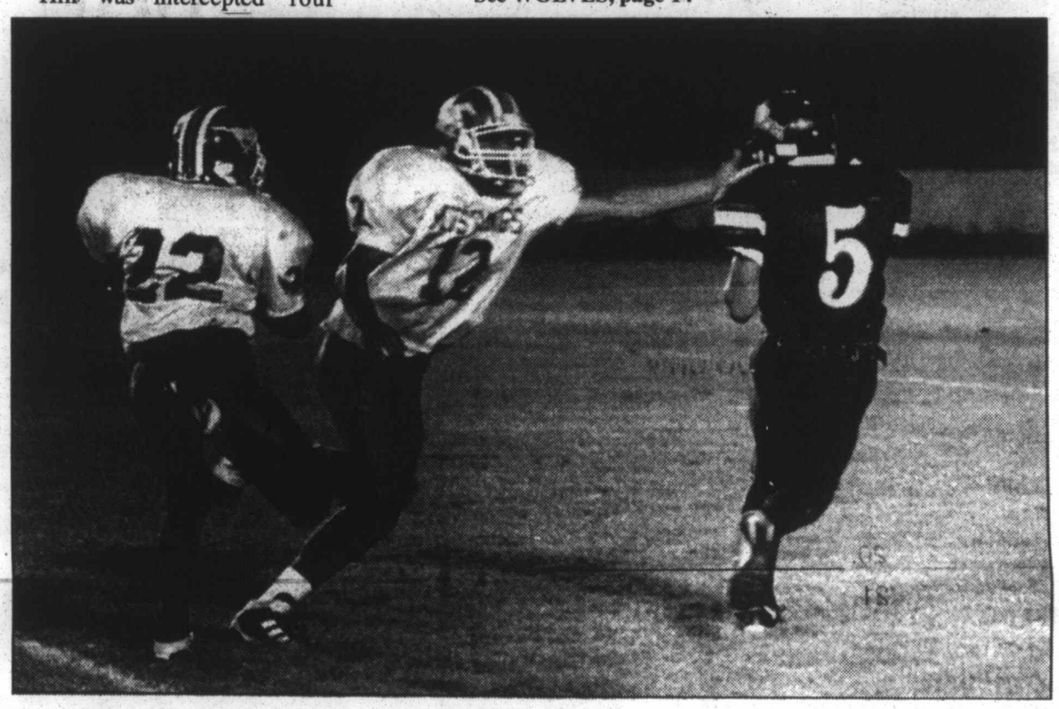

Unable to get out of the hole, the Mustangs elected to give the Wolves a safety instead of chancing a return by the Wolves, making the score 25-5 with 6:55 left in the third.

Starting from their 41 on

See WOLVES, page 14

BRETT HOYLE, No. 44, and Abel Bonilla, No. 65, were bringing down a Denver City runner as Frank Martinez, No. 4, and Will McAdams, No. 74, hurried to get in on the action. The Wolves lost the home contest 39-24.

THE WOLVES' Philip Castro, No. 5, had just caught a pass from quarterback Justin Hill and was making his way into the endzone on the 16-yard gain as a Denver City defender's arm proved to be just a little too short to stop him.

Brownfield next up for C-City Wolves

"They are the best 0-6 team I've ever seen," was what one coach had to say about the Brownfield Cubs.

Brownfield comes to Colorado City this Friday night planning to rid themselves of the dreadful goose egg in their current record.

After their 21-6 loss to Seminole last week, the Cubs are hungry coming into Wolf stadium.

The 4-2 Wolves, completely out-of-sync in last week's loss to Denver City, probably seem ready-to-roast to the Cubs.

Colorado City needs a win to get back in the district race the next series, the Wolves had good field position, but a Hill to Phariss pass attempt was picked off by Kevin Ivy for the Mustangs.

Brett Hoyle and Abel Bonilla stuffed the 'Stangs' first down run for a minus two and then Philip Castro intercepted Villegas at the Mustang 31.

On second and nine, Hill hit Castro for 13 yards and the Wolves' coaching staff called a time-out and put Frank Martinez in at tailback.

Martinez crashed through the middle of the line for 13 more giving the Pack first and goal at the four.

After a one-yard pickup, Frank scored from three yards.

Byington's kick was good, 25-12 Mustangs at 3:53 in the third.

The Wolves were still in the game as they covered the ensuing kick-off well and pinned the Mustangs at their own 16.

After a one-yard run, Villegas raced 83 yards for a momentum-breaking touchdown, 33-12 with 2:53 left in the third.

On the Wolves' first play from scrimmage on the next series, Hill's attempted pass to Armando Rocha was intercepted by Denver City at the Wolf 45.

Villegas fumbled on the next play and Rocha recovered at the Wolf 38.

Phariss came in at quarterback on the series and gained ten yards and a first down on a quarterback keeper.

But that was as far as the drive went because the Wolves gave the ball up on downs with 47 seconds left in the third.

The Wolves were down, but not out with a full quarter to play.

Juniors Luke Fambro and Wendell Mayes teamed up to stop the next Mustang drive and get the ball back.

But the Mustang defense stiffened as Hill re-entered the game and was forced to give the ball up on downs.

Denver City, starting from the Wolf 43, handed off to Ivy right for five, Ivy left for eight, Ivy right for eight and finally, Ivy up the middle for three to the Wolf 19.

After taking over two minutes off the clock, Villegas went right for the 19-yard score.

The Wolves scored 12 more points on a 16 yard pass to Rocha and a two-yard Terry Green plunge, but it was too little, too late.

The Wolves will host the Brownfield Cubs at Wolf stadium this Friday at 7:30 and try to improve their district mark to 1-1.

and Brownfield needs a win to get back some respect.

Brownfield's problems started when they lost 23 lettermen from last year's squad, but the Cubs do have talent at the key positions.

Quarterback Roy Altamirano, a 5-9 146 pound senior, runs the option well.

Roy likes to pitch to 5-8 140 pound junior tailback Patrick Tealer, who is a hard runner.

When Altamirano throws, he likes to hit wide receiver Greg Martin, a 5-9 165 pound senior.

Complacency could kill the Wolves if they allow these hungry Cubs to come into Wolf stadium and snakebite them.

Lineman Ricky Molina is expected to return to the lineup this week, but Drew Potter is out with his left ankle.

Randy Byington should be a [illegible] but ready to go.

Cross country team in Lubbock, Big Spring

The Colorado City cross country team travelled to Lubbock on Saturday, October 3 and to Big Spring on Saturday, October 10.

The Lubbock meet, held at Mae Simmons Park, featured approximately 400 runners.

The first Wolf to finish was Mindy Sullivan who came in seventh out of the 'jam-packed' field of 400.

The rest of the team finished close behind Sullivan in the following order: Vanessa Quintero, Kassi Redwine, Chelsea Jones, Kandon McGuffin and Rebecca Ornales.

No times were submitted to the Record, but Coach Darrin Leverton is satisfied with the team's results.

"Even though most of the times were a few seconds slower, I feel we improved because we had to do so much maneuvering for position to run," Leverton said of the large number of runners.

Last Saturday, the team went to Big Spring.

This time though, the ladies ran in a 4X one-mile relay against approximately 25-30 teams.

CHS formed two relay teams with seven local girls and a guest runner from Sterling City.

Team one runners, in order with finishing times were: Kassi Redwine, 6'57.63; Vanessa Quintero, 6'37.91; Chelsea Jones, 6'57.83; Mindy Sullivan, 5'51.40.

Team one finished fourth overall and was beaten by Garden City, San Angelo Central and Sterling City.

Colorado City's Team One defeated Monahans, Lamesa, Greenwood, Andrews, Big Spring, and Midland High.

Team two and their times were: Rebecca Ornelas, 7'37.75; Kandon McGuffin, 7'38.45; Becky Eades, 7'50.18; Sterling City runner time N/A.

The girls' next meet will be at Abilene this Saturday.

Run time will be at 9:20.

Lady Wolves lose to Cubs

The Colorado City Lady Wolves finished the first round of district play in Brownfield last Saturday with a two-game loss to the Lady Cubs (6-15)(14-16).

The loss gives the team a 1-4 district mark heading into Tuesday's home game against 3-2 Seminole.

Staci Turnbow led servers with a 100 percent effort on 11 serves.

Kendra Anderson and Sharie Ritchey both were six for six on serves.

Setter Margaret Ann Jameson had only seven errors in 74 attempts.

Dig percentages were dismal though, as Anderson's 91 percent 10 for 11 effort accounted for the only respectable numbers on digs.

On the bright side, Edwina Ceballos and Anderson attacked 23 and 24 times respectively, with four kills each.

Ceballos had the only two blocked shots of the match along with four deflections.

Anderson deflected nine balls.

The Lady Wolves have placed themselves in a 1-4 hole and only they can dig their way out.

The heart of this team, along with some very talented athletes, is their only hope to reach the post-season.

The ladies travel to Denver City Saturday, October 17 for a 2:00 p.m. match and then will host Lubbock Cooper at the Pit Tuesday, October 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Ladies could still be "in it"

The Colorado City Lady Wolves volleyball team is halfway through the district schedule and, at 1-4, are 'mathematically' still alive in the playoff hunt.

Lamesa and Denver City lead 4-3A with identical 4-1 records.

Brownfield and Seminole are at 3-2 and Lubbock Cooper dwells at the bottom with a 0-5 record.

Of course, the C-City girls have got to take care of business. If they win all of their five remaining district matches, they will be in the playoffs.

Short of that, the waters become much more cloudy in the playoff picture.

If Lubbock Cooper beats anybody, (other than the Wolves) that will help the ladies' situation.

The team HAS to win four out of five to have a shot at the post-season.

And even then...well, look at the standings and figure it out.

The district will have three representatives, the first, second and third place finishers.

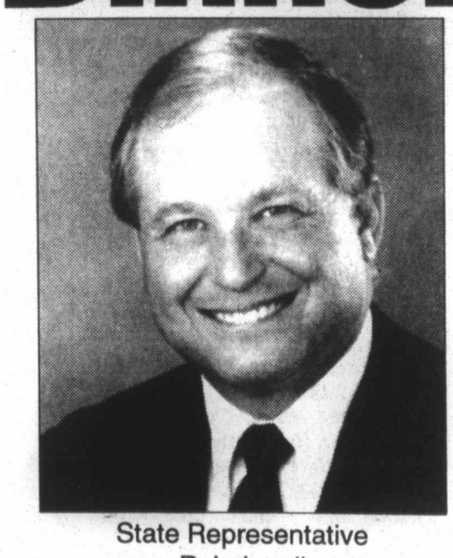

That is, half the teams will make it and three teams will start basketball.

The Lady Wolves have a must-win game against Seminole at the Pit Tuesday night(Oct. 13), and then they travel to Denver City Saturday, October 17.

On Tuesday, October 20, the girls host Lubbock Cooper at the Pit.

Lamesa hands L. Wolves their third district loss

The Colorado City Lady Wolves volleyball team hosted Lamesa, ranked third in the state 3A poll, at the Pit last Tuesday and lost in two, (6-15) (12-15).

The loss gave the ladies a 1-3 district 4-3A mark.

Kendra Anderson and Staci Turnbow led servers in the match as they combined for a 100 percent service percentage in 21 serves.

Kendra had two aces in the match.

Margaret Ann Jameson had only three errors out of 59 set balls.

Anderson led the team in attacks with two kills in 26 successful attacks.

Edwina Ceballos was 12 for 12 on attacks while Jamie Mason went 6 for 7.

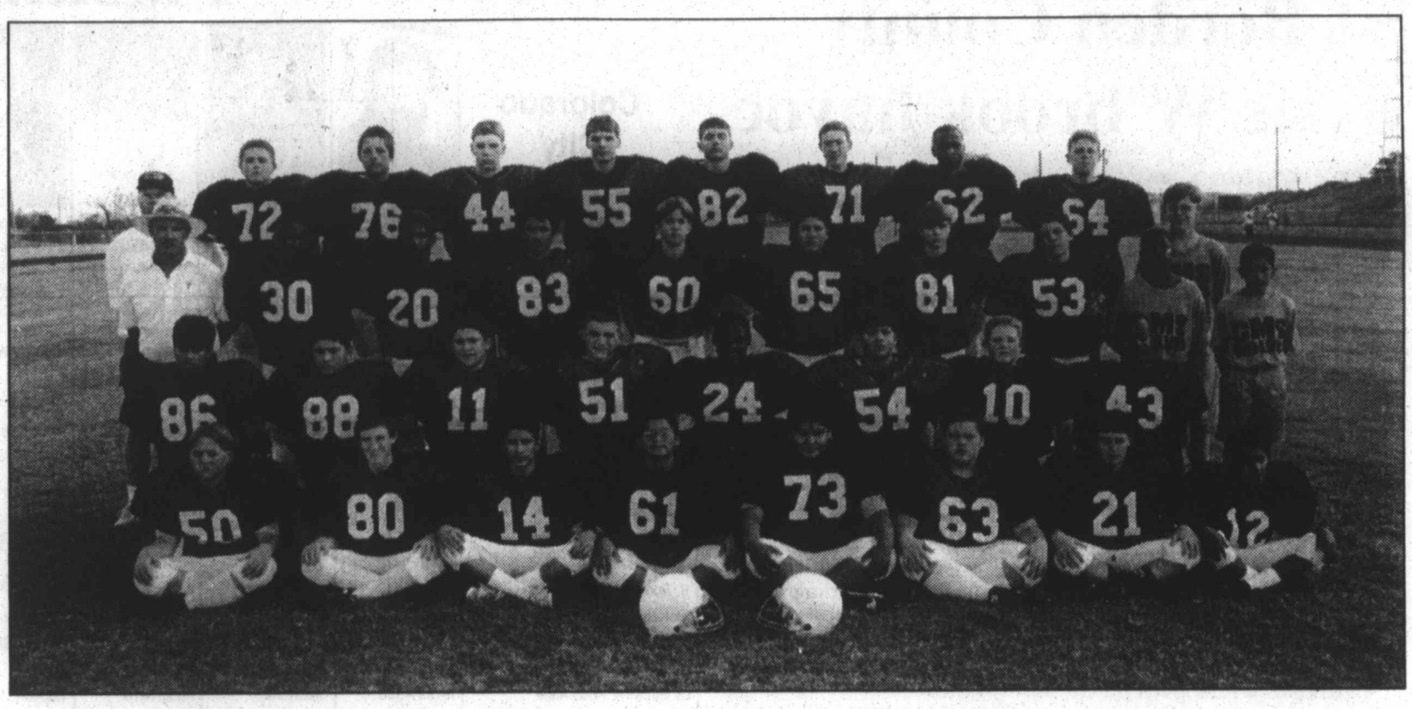

Ann Marie Scott was 100 percent on dig percentage with a two for two effort.

Ceballos had eight digs while Anderson and Jameson had six and five respectively.

Liz Rivera had three digs in the match and Turnbow had two.

Blaine Conner led the team in deflected shots with six, followed by Ceballos with five.

Mason and Rivera had two deflections apiece and Jameson had one.

Jr. Varsity Wolves win 8-0 over Denver City

The Colorado City Wolves JV travelled to Denver City last Thursday and scored late in the fourth quarter for the only points or the game.

Julian Macedo and Andrew Spear both had fumble recoveries for the Pack in a game in which the Wolves dominated, but could not capitalize.

The Wolves were able and got the ball inside the Mustang 20 twice in the first half but could not punch it in.

Late in the fourth quarter, Greg Green intercepted a Mustang pass and returned it 25 yards to the Denver City 35.

Adon Leanos scored from 28 yards on an option right play following great blocks by Spear and Tony Rivera.

Spear converted the two point conversion, with only a couple of minutes left, the Pack held on for the 8-0 victory.

The 4-1 JV unit will travel to Brownfield Thursday, October 15, for a 7:30 clash with the Cubs.

Eighth grade Wolves shut out Denver City

The Colorado City Wolves eighth grade football team improved their record to 4-1 last Thursday night with a 20-0 victory over the Denver City Mustangs at Wolf stadium.

The Mustangs were stung by a stingy Wolf secondary who had four interceptions on the day.

Clint Shoemaker had one pick and David Salazar intercepted three Mustang passes.

Wolves' running back/kick returner David Leanos got the game rolling with a 75 yard return on the opening kick-off.

Two plays later, Salazar scored from seven yards to give the Wolves a 6-0 lead just two minutes into the first quarter.

Late in the second quarter, after the two teams had traded turnovers on downs, the Wolves started a drive from the Mustang 41.

Mickey Green ran 40.5 yards in four plays to set up a one foot touchdown run by Derek Garcia.

On the conversion, Green ran it in to make the score Wolves 14, Mustangs 0 with 46 seconds left in the half.

The Mustangs were able to drive the ball about 21 yards before Salazar got his first pick with a couple of seconds left in the half.

The young Wolves' solid defense held on the Mustangs' opening possession of the second half and got the ball at their own 35.

Leanos ran for 13 and Landon Graham caught a 44 yard pass from Jonathan Spear to have first and ten on the Mustang 26.

But a very quick little Mustang ran through the line on the next play and intercepted a pitch to Leanos to give the Mustangs back the ball at their own 33.

The Wolf defense got the ball back in four downs and the offense went to work.

The end of the third quarter was highlighted by a 37 yard pass from Spear to Salazar to give the Pack a first and goal from the five.

Three plays later, Leanos ran a sweep right from three yards for the score.

The two-point conversion failed and the Wolves lead was 20-0 with 6:40 left in the game.

The Wolves intercepted the Mustang quarterback three times in the final six minutes to polish off the victory.

Bo Williamson led the Wolf defense in tackles with five and Andrew Regalado had four.

Salazar, Leanos, Green and Yusef Abdur-Razzaaq all had two tackles apiece.

Shoemaker had one interception, two defended passes and one tackle on the day.

Ryan Mason and Derek Garcia each had tackles for losses.

The team will play Brownfield at Wolf stadium Thursday, October 15 at 7 pm.

7th grade Wolves lose to Mustangs last week

The Colorado City Wolves seventh grade football team hosted the Denver City Mustangs at Wolf stadium last Thursday night and lost 22-0.

If not for poor pass coverage, the Wolves played the Mustangs heads up.

All three Mustang scores were through the air, the first coming on a 9 yard shuttle pass. The pass attempt for two was good, making it 8-0 Denver City.

In the first half, the Wolves gained 57 yards total offense compared to 39 for Denver City, but the young Pack turned the ball over on downs three times before the break.

In the second half it looked like the momentum might shift in the Wolves' favor as the Mustangs could not keep the kick-off in bounds and were penalized 10 yards on two errant attempts.

Starting with good field position at their own 42, the Wolves were flagged for motion and pushed back to the 37, first and 15.

Quarterback Christopher Spear pitched to Russell on the option, but the pitch was mishandled and the Mustangs recovered at the Wolf 28.

On the first play, Denver City scored on a wide-open pass play down the left sideline.

The conversion failed, bringing the score to 14-0 Mustangs with 7:21 left in the third.

The Wolves went three and out on the next series and had to punt.

Denver City started at the Wolf 45 and marched to the 23.

On third and ten from the 23, the Mustang quarterback found his wide receiver all alone on the left side again for the back-breaking touchdown pass.

The Mustangs fumbled the ball on the two-point try, but recovered in the endzone to make the final margin 22-0.

The Wolves had 59 yards rushing and 27 yards passing, most of that production coming in the first half.

The 2-2-1 Wolves will meet the Brownfield Cubs at Wolf stadium Thursday, October 15 at 5:30 pm.

Broncos defeat Wolves

The Colorado City Wolves eighth grade football team travelled to Sonora on October 1 and lost in the final quarter by a margin of 32-20.

Running back David Leanos scored all three touchdowns for the Wolves in the contest.

Leanos ran eighty yards on the first play from scrimmage to give his team the early lead, 6-0 in the first.

In the second quarter, the Broncos scored eight points to go up 8-6.

But on the ensuing kick-off, Leanos put it in high gear and, with excellent blocking, ran the kick back for a 95 yard touchdown.

The Wolves went in at the break with a 12-8 advantage.

Both teams scored eight in the third, including a 20 yard Leanos score in which David Salazar picked up the conversion.

At the end of the third, it was Wolves 20, Broncos 16.

The Wolves had the game in hand if not for a couple of bad breaks late in the fourth period.

Sonora went up 24-20 after holding the Wolves deep in their own territory and forcing a short punt.

Then with about two minutes left and the Pack driving, they fumbled the ball deep in their own end and gave the Broncos another score and the 32-20 victory.

Wolves hold on to defeat Sonora

The Colorado City Wolves seventh grade football team travelled to Sonora Thursday, October 1, and won in spite of a late surge by the Broncos.

Running back Jacobie Russell scored two touchdowns for the Pack in leading the Wolves to a 14-8 victory.

Russell found paydirt in the first quarter on a twenty yard run. The extra point conversion failed, giving the Wolves a 6-0 lead at the end of the first eight minutes.

The Broncos and Wolves were scoreless in the second quarter, and at the half the Wolves lead 6-0.

Russell scored an insurance touchdown in the third, followed by Patrick Spear's two-point conversion run to make it Wolves 14, Broncos 0, at the end of three.

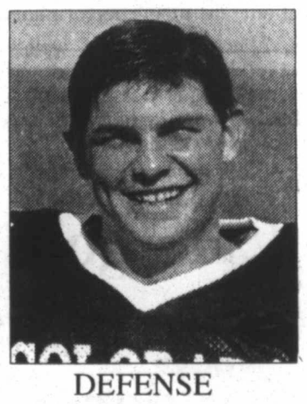

The Broncos came back in the fourth and scored eight points to narrow the gap to 14-8 late in the quarter.

But the Wolves' defense held and the young Pack improved their record to 2-1-1 on the season.

#1 Borden County deals W'brook havoc

The Westbrook Wildcats began district play Friday night and lost to Borden County 61-14.

Borden County came into Westbrook ranked number one in Texas and, according to Coyotes' coach Bobby Avery, the Wildcats were no pushovers.

"Westbrook is one of the toughest teams we've played this season," said Avery.

The Wildcats had a couple of early drives which, if not for a controversial goal-line stand by the Coyotes, might have produced a much different outcome.

Westbrook was stopped on a fourth and goal in which the 'Cats thought they had crossed the plane, but officials didn't agree and turned the ball over to the Coyotes.

Sam Harless continues to throw well for the Wildcats as he threw two touchdown passes to Chris Chambers, one for 35 and another for 55 yards.

Harless was 6-15 passing with two touchdowns and two interceptions as he gathered 113 yards.

Coach Avery had nothing but praise for the Wildcats and their effort from start to finish.

"The Wildcats never quit. It was a good, hard-hitting ballgame," according to Avery.

Westbrook Head Coach Jim Hill provided no details for the Record.

The Wildcats will face Hermleigh for Homecoming this Friday night at 7:30.

Wildcats up against Hermleigh Friday

The Westbrook Wildcats hope to take their frustrations from last week's loss to the number one ranked Borden County out on the Hermleigh Cardinals this Friday in their homecoming match-up.

The Wildcats are 3-3 on the year but still have play-off hopes in district 6.

Hermleigh, like Westbrook, had its ups and downs this year. Early in the year the Cardinals had three players quit to swindle an already small unit to eight players.

Among the returning starters is junior end Caleb Callaway, a 175 pounder with good hands.

David Digby has stepped into the starting running back job and plays linebacker on defense.

Freshman Chris Doggett, a back-up quarterback at the beginning of the season has stepped up and done an admirable job running the offense.

Hermleigh was 6-4 last year under second year head coach Juan Rios.

Rios took over the helms last year after being an assistant under Wayne Poels.

The Cardinals will rely on their passing game in their hopes of upsetting the Wildcats.

Game time for this week's homecoming game is set for 7:30 pm.

7th grade A teams takes 2nd in tourney

The Colorado City seventh grade A team participated in Greenwood's volleyball tournament and came home with second place.

The girls lost the championship game in a tough battle with Big Spring.

In their first match, the young Lady Wolves beat Greenwood in two games (15-7)(15-4).

Hannah Bassham, Ashley Wright and Sandra Leija each scored five points in the match.

Nicole Neff and Robin Rodriguez scored four in the opening match.

The C-City girls took three games to defeat Midland Christian, (13-15)(15-13)(15-2).

Wright scored 21 points in this match and Elena Gonzales tacked on nine more.

Amanda Guerra scored three points against MC.

In the championship match against Big Spring, the Lady Wolves battled the Lady Steers for three games in losing (7-15) (15-4)(6-15).

The girls are almost finished with a great season.

Coach Linda Mathis is very pleased with their efforts.

"All the girls passed well. I'm really proud of my girls, they were able to play some good volleyball and use good strategy to win," said Mathis.

Along with the team's second place win, they were also honored by having Hannah Bassham selected to the All-Tournament team.

The girls final match of the season will be in Big Spring on Monday, October 19 at 6 p.m.

A,B girls lose to M. Christian

The Colorado City seventh grade A and B volleyball teams went to Midland Christian last Tuesday and both teams were defeated.

MC beat the B team in two games (8-15) (7-15).

Fallen Walker had four points as Lori Davila, Kim Barr and Toni Pineda each had two points.

"The gametime was moved up at the last minute by MC, so the B team had no time to warm up after the long trip. So we were moving a bit slow and the girls did well, considering the circumstances," said coach Linda Mathis.

The A team lost in three games to MC (5-15)(15-11)(7-15).

Sandra Leija and Krystal Blankenship scored four points each in the match.

Ashley Wright, Nicole Neff and Amanda Guerra each had a three point match.

Coach Mathis found several positive things to mention about the girls' performance.

"The girls played well with several rallies. There were some good passes, sets and hits. Overall, they did a very nice job," said Mathis.

Thomas win football contest

Larry Thomas of Lake Colorado City won last week's Jackpot Football Contest with only one miss.

Larry missed the A&M-Nebraska game.

Thomas gets $100 in football bucks for winning the contest.

The reward for the best picker returns to $50 in football bucks this week.

Try your luck, you can't lose anything because the contest is still absolutely free!!

Check the contest out on page 12 of today's edition and enter as many times as you like, however, entries must be original Record copy.

A,B girls lose

The Colorado City Lady Wolves seventh grade A and B volleyball teams travelled to Crane last Monday and lost after the long road trip.

The B team lost in two games (5-15)(0-15).

Jennifer Rios was high-point scorer for the match with three points.

The A team lost in three games (5-15)(15-13)(4-15).

Crystal Gonzales led scorers with six points as Nicole Neff and Ashley Wright had three each.

"Crane's A team had one strong server that gave us trouble," said coach Mathis.

"Overall, we played better offense than Crane, they depended on their serve," lamented Mathis.

The girls' next game will be in Big Spring on Monday, October 19 at 5 pm for the B team and 6 pm for the A team.

CHS golf team beats Snyder by 3 strokes

The Colorado High School golf team played Snyder at the Western Texas College Golf Course last Thursday.

The team's 318 total was good enough to beat Snyder's 321.

Still early in the season, the duffers won't begin Invitational play until February.

District play begins in March.

CHS golf coach Sandra Phillips was pleased with the team's scores.

"The kids' scores were pretty low to be so early in the season. It is hard for them to get motivated right now," said Phillips.

Landon Hammond led the Pack with a solid 74.

Stan Neff shot an 80 and Clay Eades had an 81.

Chet Erwin shot an 83 and Michael Wheeler a 95 away.

The CHS team will travel to Lamesa on October 31 for a match against the Tornado golf team.

Holiday greetings to you on this Columbus Day. A salute to Christopher Columbus, known as the discoverer of America.

He was both determined and ambitious and wanted to make a name for himself.

It appears that he did a good job of it since his name still appears in American history books and probably will as long as there is an America.

Thanks to Queen Isabella for taking a chance on him.

He did a good thing! God bless America!

Melissa and Lynn Ophine and small son Nathan, visited with Shirley Clifton over this past weekend.

***

George Martin is in Corpus Christi at this time attending a soil conservation convention.

This knowledge ultimately helps all Texas farmers and ranchers.

Brother Dan Marshall, First Baptist Church, reported that work is in progress to install an elevator leading from the ground floor to the basement.

The area in the basement houses the kitchen and a large eating hall for all church dining,including funeral dinners. This improvement will be a blessing as the basement stairs are steep and inaccessible for many.

LORAINE F.C.E.
CLUB NEWS

On Wed., Oct. 7, the F.C.E. Club members met in the home of Eva Wells for the monthly meeting.

The program for the meeting was turned over to David Mayor, from the juvenile probation department, who spoke to the group about the matter.

Following Mayor's interesting presentation, Mrs. Wells showed members some holiday crafts to make. One such idea was a Santa Claus made from lamp globes.

Her craft demonstration was met with keen interest.

Proceeding a short business meeting, refreshments were served to Millie Rose, Doris Henderson, Bertha Fay Snyder, Margaret Brame, Wanza Graham and Eva Wells.

LORAINE SENIOR CENTER NEWS

More people seem to be present since the weather has cooled some.

We had a wonderful meeting day last Wednesday with Vida Mae McDaniel coming from Big Spring to play for us. Charles Dunn and Gus Armstrong joined her for some good music.

***

Last Wednesday, we heard a program given by Mary McMullen, county agent. She spoke on the difference between good and bad cholesterol - and how to counteract the bad with the good.

SLIM PICKIN'S

Slim and Johnny, Wyoming cowboys, were dismayed to learn that two of Slim's eastern girl cousins planned to pay them a long visit.

However, the two cowboys wer hospitable and served them a good meal on the evening of their arrival. Afterwards, the guests offered to wash dishes.

"We don't ever wash dishes," Slim said - and then he whistled for their six dogs to come in.

In 15 seconds, every dish in the house was spotless and shining and the dogs appreared very grateful.

The two girl cousins suddenly remembered something they needed to do back east and departed on an early train the next morning.

Johnny said, "I shore liked them bright girls, they new exactly how long a western welcome was meant to last."

Take good care and see you about town.

Homecoming 1998

'Dogs to face Blackwell

The Bulldogs of Loraine High School will entertain the Blackwell Hornets this Friday night in their homecoming game and they hope to play the spoiler role by winning their first game of the season.

Loraine is coming off a highly emotional loss to number 3 ranked Abilene Christian Wildcats, a perennial powerhouse among private schools.

Though they lost by a 42-36 margin, they proved they could compete with anyone on any given night.

They must again go out on Friday night and play with that same intensity for any hope of an upset against Blackwell.

Blackwell was picked by most to win district 10 but Highland has the inside track right now and a Bulldog win would certainly create a lot of havoc.

When Novice had to drop out of district competition for lack of players, Blackwell gained the services of all-district running back Nick Rutherford.

Rutherford, a 5-9, 155 pound senior adds depth to a team that listed lack of experienced backs and speed as their main weakness.

Ray Daughtrey, a 5-10, 170 pound anchors an experienced line at center with senior end Jimmy Holland and junior end Tony Dove flanking him on both sides.

Senior quarterback Mounicio Chavez is the field general and is very capable of scoring from anywhere on the field.

Adam Wilkinson, a 5-10, 160 pound running back is a returning starter in the backfield as well as linebacker.

Blackwell is coached by Duane Hyde who had a record of 42 wins and 21 losses at the beginning of the season.

The homecoming tilt is set to start at 7:30 p.m.

Loraine JH improves record, 4-1

The Loraine Jr. High Bulldogs defeated the Abilene Christian Jr, High Panthers 35-19 on Thursday, October 9.

The Bulldogs scored four times on the ground and once in the air as they improved their record to 4-1 overall.

Elias Barrera scored on runs of 36 and 18 yards and threw a 55 yard scoring strike to George Davila.

Davila also scored two points for the Dogs as he trapped the Panthers in the endzone for a safety.

Edward Lujan scored twice, one on a three-yard plunge and the other was a 31 yard race to paydirt.

The young Bulldogs have a district mark of 2-0 and seem to have a bright future in Loraine football.

Suiting out for the Jr. High Bulldogs this season are Barrera, Lujan, Davila, Elias Martinez, Junior Delgado, Ryan Lucas, Anthony Esquivel, Tyler Neel, Josh Page, Cameron Smith, Michael Haskins and Aaron McCoury.

The coaching staff includes Victor Garcia, Jay Smith and Jerry Miller.

The Bulldogs' next game will be Thursday, October 16 in Blackwell at 5 p.m.

Beta Epsilon chapter holds regular meeting

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society met Saturday night, October 10 in the First National Bank meeting room. Hostesses were Janet Mayo, Margaret Sparks, Margaret Rees and Earline Sellier.

The president, Janet Mayo conducted the business meeting. The regular meeting time was changed from the Tuesday to the first Monday of each month. Plans for future activities this year were completed.

Refreshments were lunches served in shiny sacks in a variety of bright colors.

For the programs, the members went as a group to the historical Colorado City Playhouse to see "Murder at the Howard Johnson" presented by a graduate of Colorado High School.

Tracy Womack studied drama in high school and majored in drama at Angelo State University. This was a reminder of the value of the high school drama department to the Playhouse and to our students, past and present.

Members attneding were Janet Mayo, Mary Rose Bowen, Earline Sellier, Caroline Witten, Debra Seals, Janie Lou Greenlee, Kelli Lancaster, Jodie Darr, Frances Godwin, Betsy Lee Aycock, Margaret Sparks, and Margaret Rees.
