Red Planes Stay Hidden After Fizzle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist war planes stayed well out of the way of American jet aircraft Sunday after their first challenge in 10 months to the U.S. raiders had failed.

The defense of North Vietnamese targets was left to Communist ground gunners who knocked down two U.S. Air Force planes with intense surface-to-air missile and antiaircraft fire, a U.S. spokesman said.

CRAFT LOST

Two other U.S. planes were lost Saturday, apparently to antiaircraft fire.

American pilots saw no Communist MIG jets Sunday, a spokesman said, even though U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered targets in the same general area where the Americans shot down two MIGs in dogfights Saturday.

On the ground in South Viet Nam, five major American operations met little enemy resistance. But the South Vietnamese said they had better luck.

KILL CONG

Vietnamese forces reported killing 245 Viet Cong and capturing 20 weapons along a canal in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

A Vietnamese spokesman reported that the Viet Cong left another 50 dead in an attack on a Vietnamese battalion preparing to open a road north of Nha Trang. Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

The two U.S. Air Force planes shot down Sunday were F105 Thunderchiefs. A "good chute" was sighted from one plane, indicating the pilot was safe but probably captured. No parachute was sighted from the second plane.

Both planes were shot down about 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, the same area where two other Air Force F105s were blasted from the sky Saturday.

221 DOWNED

This brought the total number of U.S. planes lost over North Viet Nam to 221.

The U.S. planes Saturday and Sunday were on similar missions — the disrupting of the main road and rail link from Hanoi to Communist China. The key target was the Back Giang Railroad bridge, 25 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Some of the 33 missions flown Sunday by the U.S. Air Force over North Viet Nam were against targets along the Red River Valley. Phantom F4Cs, Thunderchiefs and B57 Canberra jets hammered highways, ferry complexes, highway bridges and staging areas.

Navy planes from the carriers Enterprise and Kitty Hawk hit 44 targets in North Viet Nam, concentrating around the coastal city of Vinh and letting loose with bombs up to 2,000 pounds.

SPOT MISSILES

Air Force pilots reported spotting four surface-to-air missiles Sunday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi. In accordance with new security rules, a spokesman refused to disclose whether the two planes shot down were hit by missiles.

Cotton Use Promotion Bill Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-passed bill under which cotton farmers would pay $1 a bale to provide funds for research and promotion was supported by the Agriculture Department before a Senate Agriculture subcommittee today.

Clarence Girard of the Department's Consumer and Marketing Service said consumption of cotton is determined in large part by its competition with other fibers.

The bill would authorize a self-help program to facilitate, with government aid, a farmer-financed and farmer - operated research and promotion promotion program.

"If producers are willing to finance a self-help program such as that contemplated by the bill, we believe they should be encouraged to do so by enactment of this legislation," Girard said.

He said cotton is the nation's top cash crop with an annual farm value of about $2.5 billion. However, he said, in spite of losses to the government in support programs of more than $3 billion in the last 10 years, cotton surpluses have mounted steadily since 1961.

Strike Closes Merged N.Y. Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by the Newspaper Guild of New York has shut down the merged World Journal Tribune before the new corporation could start publication which had been scheduled for today.

A voluntary shutdown by four other daily newspapers was averted when their publishers decided to keep printing on a day-to-day basis.

Matt Meyer, president of the new corporation, said shortly before midnight that he could not predict when the merged papers would be published. This was in view of the fact that none of the 10 unions in the newspaper industry has a contract with the World Journal Tribune Inc.

PICKET LINES

The AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild set up picket lines Sunday at the plants of the Journal-American, the World-Telegram & Sun and the Herald Tribune —all of which published their last editions as separate entities during the weekend.

The pickets signaled the start of the third major newspaper strike here in less than four years.

Officials of the Guild, which has the support of the other unions, said the strike was called primarily because of a dispute with the publishers over who should be dismissed in the merger and over layoff provisions. The Guild and the other unions are seeking provisions to cushion the effects of the merger on the 2,000 of the 5,700 union employes of the three papers who will lose their jobs. The Guild is to lose 904 of its 1,800 jobs.

NO BLACKOUT

Meyer said the new publishing corporation did not ask the other newspapers that are members of the Publishers Association of New York City to shut down at this time in support of the struck World Journal Tribune.

"It would have been a mistake to black out the city's newspapers without seeing further developments," he said. "We think we can bring these unions leaders to their senses."

The new corporation had planned to publish the Herald Tribune this morning and the World Journal this afternoon. The afternoon newspaper replaces the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun, both of which were afternoon newspapers. Publication of the World Journal Tribune is scheduled to start next Sunday It replaces the Sunday editions of the Herald Tribune and the Journal-American.

MERGER'S EFFECTS

The net effect of the merger — one of the major realignments in American journalism — is the loss of one afternoon newspaper and one Sunday paper.

Loss Soars In Fierce State Twisters, Rains

★ ★ ★

An Average Three Inches Reported

A "perfect" rain continued Monday to further saturate the already soaked Big Spring countryside.

While only light drizzles fell Sunday, the precipitation resumed in the county Sunday night, stepped up its tempo Monday morning and was still in full force at noon. The rains since Saturday have dumped an average of more than three inches all over Howard County.

Farmers described the rain as ideal. They pointed to the plowed fields, with their furrows waterfilled, and noted that the moisture accumulating from the rains would be all that could be desired for planting.

TOO WET

The fields were too wet to even estimate when planting may be attempted. Most observers said it will be 10 days to two weeks before any planting will be attempted, even by the early birds. Meantime, the moisture will bring the early crop of weeds to the surface so that when the planting does get started in mid-May, the plows will turn under the weeds before they get a chance to become a problem.

Ranchers were eyeing the watery clouds and steady downpour and happily watching the trickles of runoff water pouring into nearly depleted stock tanks. The rains of Saturday had already solved the early summer feeding problem — the additional precipitation which came on Sunday and continued Monday, merely added to the assurance of luxuriant grass later on.

WATER SHED

The one disappointing feature of the rain was the failure of the downpour to hit peak on the Lake J. B. Thomas watershed.

Although Snyder intake reported 2.55, Big Spring - Odessa intake 4.75, and Big Spring pump station 3.55, there was no heavy run in at the reservoir. There may be more water showing up later, but as of Monday morning, the lake had gained .66 foot in elevation to attain 2239.39 feet. This is a gain of 750,000,000 gallons.

Gail reported 1.9 to 2.25 inches with the area to the west getting less rain.

Glasscock County and Martin County had rains about like Howard County.

Here in Big Spring, streets were running gutter full. Catch basins were nearing at top levels. Traffic was forced to a crawl — alike by the water in the lower areas and by the downpour of rain.

The gauges around town were showing up to 3.50 inches for the three days with an inch and a half of the amount credited to the steady fall Monday morning.

PHONES OUT

Rural telephones to the north were out of commission Monday morning and reports from many areas were not available.

Heaviest rains were apparently in the Lomax area, where some gauges had measured as much as 5.5 inches for the three days. At Parum's Store in Lomax, the gauge had topped

Youngsters Found Slain In Gruesome Case

Searchers today found the bodies of the three Verrett children near the spot where the body of their mother, 35-year-old Mrs. Barbara Verrett, was discovered near Golden Meadow, La., Sunday. The children, from left, are Brenda Ann, 15; Robert, 11; and Lucie Verrett, 13. They and their mother had been the object of a search for 12 days. Police today hunted a suspect. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Missing Mother And Three Children Found Murdered

GOLDEN MEADOW, La. (AP)—The badly battered body of Mrs. Barbara Verrett of Berwick, La., was found in a rain-washed roadbed Sunday. Searchers today found the bodies of her three missing children nearby. They were Brenda Ann, 15; Robert, 11; and Luci Verett, 13.

Sheriff Eddie Ste. Marie of La Fourche Parish said her body was identified by a brother-in-law, Sylvest Verrett of Berwick.

A bedspread was wrapped around her head and a piece of cheesecloth was tied in her mouth The divorcee, 35, was clad in undergarments and a torn blouse.

MULTIPLE BRUISES

Deputy Coroner John LeBlanc said Mrs. Verrett had multiple bruises and fractures. There were indications she may have been strangled.

The four had been missing from their home 12 days, Bernando Mejia, 46, identified as the common-law husband of Mrs. Verrett, found the Verrett home splattered with blood last Sunday night when he returned from a shrimping trip in the Gulf of Mexico.

SEEK SUSPECT

Berwick is across the Atchafalaya River from Morgan City in coastal Louisiana.

Sheriff Chester Baudoin of St. Mary filed multiple murder charges against Roy Mejia, 27, nephew to Bernando Mejia.

The younger Mejia stayed with the Verrett family from time to time. He was sought throughout Louisiana and in Mexico.

COL. GREGORY PERRON — COL. GEORGE M. FRANKS

Col. Franks Reassigned, Col. Perron Moves Up

Col. Gregory H. Perron, currently chief of supply, is scheduled to replace Col. George M. Franks as deputy commander for material at Webb AFB, it was announced today by Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander. Col. Franks will be reassigned sometime in June.

Col. Perron assumed duties as chief of supply at Webb June 23, 1964, coming from Norway, where he served as director of materiel with the Military Assistance Advisory Group at Oslo. He has 24 years of service.

During World War II, he was with the 389th Bomb Group, Eighth Air Force, in England, and as a B-24 pilot completed 30 combat missions. His other assignments have included: Headquarters, Air Training Command, Materiel; Air Tactical School at Tyndall, Fla.; Command and Staff School at Montgomery, Ala.; Headquarters Far AFB, Miss.; and Headquarters ATC Logistics Plans.

Col. Perron is married to the former Margaret B. Welsh of Prestwick, Scotland, and they have four children.

Col. Franks has served as deputy commander for materiel at Webb since July 18, 1962, coming from Johnson Air Station, Japan, where he served as inspector general of the 41st Air Division.

A veteran of 26 years service, the colonel graduated from the aviation cadet program. He served two years in Korea, was chief of technical inspection, Division of the Inspector General's Office, Fifth Air Force Advance Headquarters, at Taegu, Seoul

Pius' Rescue Of Jews Told

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — A former Israeli consul in Milan says Pope Pius XII was responsible for rescuing at least 700,000 Jews from death under Nazi rule.

Pinhas Lapide makes the claim in a book "The Last Three Popes and the Jews" to be published this year. It also cites anti-Nazi efforts by Pope Pius XI and Pope John XXIII, who was papal envoy to Turkey during World War II.

Lapide said he was prompted to write the book because of the "sudden silence" on Pius XII after the appearance of Rolf Hochhuth's play "The Deputy."

Tornadoes, Floods Hit Texas Cities

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes smashed into two small South Texas towns early today, leaving 250 homeless and causing heavy property damage as new torrential downpours hit the water-soaked state.

Three persons were injured when one twister demolished virtually all homes on the east side of Kenedy (Pop. 4,235) at about 12:45 a.m.

Another tornado hit Runge (pop. 1,055), 11 miles northeast of Kenedy, about the same time.

7-INCH RAIN

Seven inches of rain fell on the Corpus Christi area when violent thunderstorms raked the southern part of the state early today.

(Flood death story on P. 2-A)

The new outbreak of turbulent weather followed in the wake of two-day rains of more than 18 inches that caused heavy flooding in Northeast Texas. At least 10 deaths were blamed on the rains and floods in and around Longview.

STILL FALLING

Major flooding continued in the Northeast Texas area where rains were still falling today.

Kenedy Police Chief Ross Schuster said 225 persons left homeless by the twister were being housed in a Methodist church, an elementary school and a junior high school.

The Texas Department of Public Safety said between 25 and 30 persons were left without homes at Runge.

Officers said a number of rural homes around Kenedy and Runge were reported destroyed by the twisters and they feared there might be more injuries.

TRAFFIC STALLED

Rail and highway traffic was disrupted by the torrential rains in Northeast Texas.

Dallas police reported some 15 streets were closed due to high water.

Lowland areas near Longview, Gladewater, Kilgore and Marshall have been evacuated and a major flood warning has been issued for the Sabine and Cypress Rivers in Northeast Texas.

No relief is in sight for the water-soaked area as forecasts called for more heavy rainfall and thundershowers today.

RIVER RISES

The Sabine River was expected to rise 10 feet above flood stage early today at Gladewater, where 18.19 inches of rainfall was recorded in a 48-hour period.

A railroad bridge on the main Texas & Pacific line west of Longview was knocked out Saturday and a diesel engine plunged into the creek.

A dam at Devernia Lake, between Gladewater and Longview, washed away yesterday and rails from tracks atop the dam knocked off the control valves of an oil well.

ROADS CLOSED

High water forced the closing of four major highways and numerous farm-to-market roads in Gregg, Upshur, Harrison, Wood, Rusk and Marion counties.

Many streets in Longview are

State Hospital To Get $95,918 Research Grant

A research grant of $95,918 per year for at least five years and possibly twice that long has been made to the Big Spring State Hospital to aid chronic patients.

Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent, was notified Monday morning by Rep. George Mahon of the research grant. The program, said Dr. Harrison, has been between two and three years in the making.

Effective July 1, it will be for the purpose of preparing chronic patients for community living.

This will deal primarily with the chronic schizophrenic patients and will be in two stages. The first, said Dr. Harrison, will be designed for the hospital to get these severely withdrawn patients to the point where they can dress themselves, come to the table, feed themselves and perform other normal functions of taking care of themselves. Once the hospital has them to this stage, the patients will be transferred to a community cottage for adaptation to living within the community.

Facilities will accommodate 12 men and 12 women patients. They will be either leased or constructed on a lease basis. The separate structures are to have a common backyard with a sheltered workshop area.

"This can be attributed to the way this community has accepted patients and of its concern in helping them back into society or in achieving an ability to take care of themselves," said Dr. Harrison.

This project is not to be confused with a four-county research program in mental health and mental retardation, which is now in the application stage.

ODESSA COACH DROWNS

Flood Waters Raise Violence Toll To 59

By The Associated Press

Rampaging flood waters in East and Northeast Texas claimed at least 10 lives during the past weekend, sending the list of Texas violent deaths spiralling to at least 59.

Traffic accidents claimed another 29 lives and other drowning deaths claimed 9 more. Several of the traffic deaths could be attributed to rain-slickened roads and a plane crash which took two lives was blamed on bad weather.

The Associated Press Count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Two men and a woman drowned near Longview after flood waters swept a small car occupied by seven persons off a highway Sunday. The dead were Minnie Arceneaux, 41, Longview; Robert Gold, 43, Longview, and Edward D. Lee, 27, Odessa high school coach. Four other occupants of the car climbed into trees and were rescued.

Five persons, including a married couple and their two children, met death Sunday in a two-car head-on collision in Fort Bend County.

Highway Patrol officers said the dead were identified as Marcus Aubrey Baker, 49, of Newgulf, Tex., his wife, Mattie, 48; a son, Gary, 14, and a daughter, Cindy, 13.

James Edward Eversole, 24, of Damon, Tex., lone occupant of one of the cars, also was killed, officers said.

The accident occurred in a light mist on Texas 36, about two miles south of Guy, Tex., investigators reported. All the dead were pinned inside the cars. There were no survivors.

The body of Lonnie D. Starling, 27, of Kilgore was found in flood waters from a small creek five miles south of Kilgore Sunday.

EAST TEXAS

Four persons drowned nine miles east of Tyler Sunday when their car was swept off Farm Road 757 and carried about 600 feet down a flood-swollen creek. They were identified as Jim Willis Roy, 42, his wife Estelle, 41, Jesse Mauldin, 46, and his wife Georgia.

Two persons drowned and two others were missing and presumed drowned in a boating accident on Red Bluff Lake in Reeves County on the Texas-New Mexico border. No identifications had been made Sunday night when the search for the two missing persons was discontinued until Monday.

Also near Longview, the body of an unidentified white woman was found Sunday in a water-filled ditch. She appeared to be between 35 and 40 years old. Cause of her death was not determined immediately.

OFF BRIDGE

Miss Helen Nadine Knight, 21, of Longview, a student at Stephen F. Austin College, drowned early Sunday when flood water swept her car off a bridge on Loop 281 north of Longview.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carey of Marshall, a motor carrier for the Marshall News - Messenger, drowned Sunday when a bridge, weakened by floods near Longview, collapsed under the weight of her car and plunged the vehicle into a creek. A youth riding with her escaped.

Alanacio Aguero, in his late 80's burned to death when an explosion and fire occurred in his small residence in Cuero Sunday. Another occupant of the house escaped.

HEAD-ON CRASH

William Mack Creswell, 20, of Fort Worth was killed Saturday night in a head-on crash of two cars near Smithville in Central Texas. He was a student at the University of Texas. He was alone in one car. Six persons in the other car suffered injuries.

An Odessa dentist, Dr. John D. Burleson, was killed when the car in which he was riding struck a tree on farm-to-market 965 in Llano County. Mrs. Burleson, who was driving, was critically injured. They were en route to Austin to a dental meeting.

YOUTHS KILLED

Two youths, both 18, were killed three miles south of Groesbeck Friday night when their car plunged off a bridge. The victims were Carlie Gene Armstrong of Mexia and Charles Herbert Camp of Groesbeck.

Charles Joe Patterson, 36, sometimes rodeo performer and ranch hand, was shot to death about 3 a. m. Sunday at the home of Lawrence Hart, for whom he worked. Hart is owner of the Keechi Valley Ranch near Graford in North Central Texas. No arrest was made.

Mark Hawkins, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins was killed Sunday at Sherman when he fell from a pickup truck and a piano fell on top of him.

Odessa Coach Rites Pending

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Edward D. Lee, 27, basketball and golf coach at Odessa Permian High School, drowned Sunday when a sports car in which he was riding was swept away by raging flood waters of Grace's Creek near here.

Lee had coached at Odessa since September. He formerly lived at Texarkana, where he also coached. In addition to his coaching duties at Odessa, he also taught other classes.

Funeral arrangements are pending today at Monticello, Ark.

Lee had been visiting friends in the Longview area.

Gold Strike? Searchers To Know Soon

BEND, Tex. (AP) — The next few days likely will show whether four Central Texas men have a gold strike on their hands.

The four began processing ore last week with machinery from an old mine, but say they must process about 10 tons before they will be able to tell if the gold can be profitably mined. The 10-ton mark could be reached this week.

The search for gold began about five years ago when T. S. Lemons Jr. found a rock containing gold below the hilltop where the mine is now located.

Lemons and the other three men—Arville Cummins, his father Aron and R. R. McCoy—finally acquired machinery from the old Three Bells Mine in New Mexico.

The mine, located on land owned by T. S. Lemons Sr., is in the area where Spanish explorers are supposed to have worked the legendary San Saba Gold Mine.

Limited Parking Requested For Downtown Parking Lot

City commissioners will consider a request by Downtown Big Spring, Inc., to limit free parking on the newly-completed public parking lot on Main Street to two hours—the same limit as on-street parking — at Tuesday's commission meet.

Commissioners will also consider extending the meter suspension for all streets downtown, which has been in effect since last November.

Ikie Rupert, Moss Creek Lake manager, will ask commissioners to grant him permission to run "paddle boats" on the lake as part of his concession privileges.

Also involving Moss Creek Lake is a request by Dr. F. W. Lurting asking permission to use Moss Lake property for a sailplane landing strip. Dr. Lurting has recently been trying to get a sailplane club started in Big Spring.

Bids on city trucks and police cars will be awarded.

Bidders are:

Tractor-loader—Patton Equipment Co., $12,420; Plains Machinery Co., $13,902; Conley-Lott-Nichols, $15,222; and Treanor Equipment Co., $12,999.

The U.S. government will ask commissioners to consider closing the "post office alley" at the site of the new post office free, rather than at the city's normal fee. The city has already written the government to the effect it will close the alley at the normal fee. The government has indicated it feels the closing of the alley is in the public interest, and should not be charged for the closing.

Webb Air Force Base will ask for an ordinance allowing them to tear down Building 63. This is a normal procedure.

Other business will include second reading of five and final reading of one, ordinance.

These are for "neighborhood service" to "retail," Choate Addition; and beer licenses for Carlos Restaurant, Gomez Cafe, Bosanova Lounge, and Wagon Wheel. Final reading will be given for a permit at Cotton Club.

Three Mitchell Teams Place First Saturday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Four Mitchell County 4-H teams survived District II eliminations in competition with other area teams at Lubbock Saturday, according to County Agent Bobby Lemons.

Three Mitchell County teams placed first, Lemons said, including the beef cattle business team with Woody Anderson and Jim Dockrey; the farm and ranch management team with John Hill and Mike Sadler; and the range and pasture grass team, with Don and John Goss, Allan Smith and Marshall Helm.

The Share-the-Fun-act, by Sharon Byrne, placed second.

Both first and second place senior teams are eligible to compete in the State 4-H roundup at College Station, June 7-9.

Mitchell County teams placing third, included the community improvement team with Christy Stubblefield and Robert Cooper and the clothing educational activity with Mary Beach.

The Junior 4-H farm and ranch management team with Leslie Anderson placed first, Lemons said.

Kenedy Householder Tells Of Fleeing Fierce Twister

KENEDY, Tex (AP) — The city fire alarm sounded — to warn of a tornado — shortly after midnight this morning but it was already too late for Mrs. Anita Luna.

Mrs. Luna, 46, was asleep in her 4-room house when the tornado, "whistled like a freight train" through her neighborhood, ripping off the tin roof of her house and wrapping it around a mesquite tree.

Mrs. Luna said she raced through the living room which was flooded from a deluge and ran to where her mother, Mrs. Maximillianna Luna, 62, was sleeping.

FLEE HOUSE

The women fled the house just as the city's alarm sounded.

The tornado dipped down shortly before midnight and tore through the eastern edge of Kenedy, levelling at least five houses, damaging 20 others and leaving 40 to 50 persons homeless. They were sheltered overnight in a Methodist church and a junior high school.

The tornado hit the Kenedy Cotton Compress Co., a short distance from the Luna home, and caused an estimated $100,000 damage, said Verna Smith, superintendent of the compress.

ROOF BUCKLES

The tornado caved in one section of roof over one of the warehouses at the cotton compress and lifted another roof but set it back down only inches out of place.

Smith said a watchman was in the warehouse but found shelter between cotton bales and was not injured.

Two empty metal grain storage tanks at Foster Feed Store near the downtown area of Kenedy were lifted from their foundations, rolled across the street and smashed into a building.

Trees throughout the city were uprooted. Utility poles snapped, and electrical and telephone service was inoperative for much of the town of about 4,500 persons.

The Galilee Baptist Church was demolished. The church, a one - room frame structure next door to the Luna home, lost all its walls and the roof was picked up, carried 30 feet and set down intact.

The wooden floor framing of the church was lifted and moved 10 feet.

A youth, Frank Salas, said he and the other nine members of his family fled their home and dived into a nearby ditch as the tornado approached. The tornado lifted the tin roof from the Salas home, but none of the family was injured

LITTER PILE-UP

Tree limbs, tin roofs, lumber and even furniture littered some of the streets.

The tornado was accompanied by heavy rains and lightning.

"It sounded like a big old train," said Charles Rives Jr., 17, whose home was within a block of the tornado path. Lightning, he said, was almost continous and he described it as "Like a flash bulb that kept flashing and flashing."

The roof of the cattle pens of the Kenedy livestock exchange auction ring caved in but the pens were empty because the weekly sale is on Thursdays.

Attends VOE Spring Workshop

Mrs. W. H Hallmark, teacher-coordinator of vocational office education at Big Spring High School, attended the VOE spring workshop at Lubbock Saturday.

She discussed plans for preenrollment for the vocational course and led a group discussion on use of multiple textbooks in both skilled development and general information units.

Dr. William R. Posewark, director of business education and secretarial training at Texas Tech, gave ideas of teaching on the rotation plan and grading procedures used at Tech.

VOE instructors from El Paso, Amarillo, Plainview, Tulia, Lubbock and Big Spring attended the workshop, Mrs. Hallmark said.

Hansen Back From Symposium

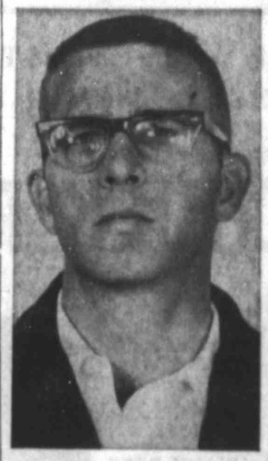
Dr. Halvard T. Hansen returned Sunday from a three-day X-ray symposium for Texas chiropracters in Fort Worth, the first of its kird in Texas.

Speakers included Dr. Appa Anderson, Portland, Ore., Dr. Ronald Watkins, Toronto, Canada, and Dr. Earl Rich, Indianapolis, Ind. Keynote lecturer was Dr. Earnest Fox, California. All are Diplomats of the American Council on Chiropractic Roentgenology.

Dr. Hansen reported that intensive interest was shown in the new field of movie X-ray, known as cineroentgenography, which shed new light on ideas of the medical and chiropractic fields.

Attend Meeting

Richard Hughes, president, and Henry Hill, state director of the local Jaycees, attended the state convention of the organization in Houston during the weekend.



V. E. ABSHIER

Abshier Joins Police Force

A new patrolman will begin work with the Big Spring police force Wednesday, according to Jay Banks, police chief.

The new policeman, who has been a reserve officer for some time, is Virgil Eugene Abshier, 24, 206 Kindle

A native of Hobbs, N. M., Abshier attended Merkel High School and Howard County Junior College. He served in the U.S. Army from 1958-60. He has been a resident of Big Spring for some years.

Abshier and his wife, Linda, have two children.

Gail Captures First In Meet

Gail, with 55 points, captured first place in the literary events of the Regional VI-B Interscholastic League meet here Saturday.

Robert Lee ranked second with 42 points, and Ira third with 37.

Other places were Melvin 10, Mertzon 25, Merkel 25, Norton 5, Paint Rock 5, Rochelle 15, Sterling City 20, Toyah 7, Hobbs 20, Anthony 24, Balmorhea 5, Blackwell 15, Bronte 10, Buena Vista 5, Dawson 22, Divide 7, Even 10, Flower Grove 5, Fort Hancock 7, Grand Falls 20, Hermleigh 5, Marathon 25.

Lillard Asks For New Fee Collection Method

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, will ask city commissioners Tuesday night for a revision in the procedure of collecting city golf course greens fees.

"A careful study of the greens fees and cart rental system as it now exists reveals the need for a better method of control," Lillard said today. "The haphazard manner of payment as used in the past tends to leave confusion in everyone's mind as to the date greens fees or cart rentals are due."

Lillard recommends greens fees as follows: daily—week, $1; daily, weekend, $1.50; monthly, $10; quarterly, $25; and yearly, $75.

All of these, he feels, should be due and payable on the first of the month in which they fall due, rather than at odd intervals.

"I would propose that a cash register, such as is used at the swimming pool, be used to record all transactions for golf sales," Lillard said. "The cash register is capable of coding for the various types of greens fees and payments. This would eliminate the printing of tickets and do away with the receipt book."

State Highway Department will ask the city to ratify an agreement that the city will furnish, at its expense, water for maintenance of vegetation at a beauty spot the state will construct at IS 20 near SH 350 interchange within the city limits. The state will maintain the spot and conserve water in the event of drouth, according to the state highway engineer.

Alene Bond, proprietor of "Alene's Place," 400 NW 3rd, will appear to appeal a suspension of her dance hall license. The license was suspended by Chief of Police Jay Banks indefinitely.

A public hearing for a request for an on-premises consumption permit for the "Broadway Grocery," 1731 W. 3rd, by Mrs. J. B. Eccleston, will be held.

Jerry Worthy will appear at a public hearing asking for annexation of some of his property just south of the City Park.

The Garden Club Council will again request a special summer water rate. The request was tabled at the last commission meeting for study.

J. Y. Smith will report on progress at the Mental Retardation Center. He attended a meeting concerning the center in Austin.

Three Parks & Recreation Board recommendations will be considered. The board recommended that the Boy Scout Troop, sponsored by the police, be permitted to use a City Park house formerly occupied by Shorty Gideon for a certain, renewable, time, it being understood that the Scouts will paint and repair the house.

Also recommended is that $1,200 will be appropriated by the city for the Summer Recreation Program, as the United Fund has reduced its appropriation and the schools did not increase their appropriation for the project.

The board also noted that ownership of property in Washington Place is uncertain, and could not recommend that Boy Scouts be permitted to build a permanent hut there. However, it was noted that there was no objection to the Scouts using the property. The board recommended a letter be written informing Jess Looney, representing the Optimist Club, sponsors of the Scouts, of their findings.

Young Adults Back Burleson

A Young Adults for Burleson club has been organized at Howard County Junior College in support of Omar Burleson for congressman of the 17th district.

Heading the group are Ray Graves, vice president elect of the student government association, and Tommy McCann, co-chairmen. Graves also is president of the Circle K Club.

Other officers are Jerry Peurifoy, president-elect of the student government unit and current vice president of Circle K; Mitchell McNeese, president of the Wesley Fellowship, Sue Knox, and Rock Greenwood. The club plans to assist in campaign efforts, distribution of literature and in welcoming Rep. Burleson here on April 30, when he will be attending a county Democratic rally.

Rugged Peak Claims Two Climbers' Lives

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Aspen's Maroon Bells, a rugged rocky mountain peak which is a favorite and often fatal haunt of climbers, claimed two lives Sunday.

Richard A. Cole, 19, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Ronald Fjeseth, 19, of Albuquerque, N.M., fell some 200 feet down the mountain to their deaths A third climber, Joe Fullop, 19, of Cherry Hills Village, Colo., survived the fall.

BAD FROSTBITE

Fullop was hospitalized with severe frostbite, shock and a possible skull fracture.

He told rescuers that he and his two companions, all students at Western State College in Gunnison, Colo., had set out about 4 a.m. Saturday to climb the 14,014-foot mountain, but did not reach the summit until about 6:30 p.m.

Already suffering from frostbite, the climbers decided to descend immediately, Fullop said. He said they picked their way down the mountain, which was bathed in clear moonlight, and had gotten to within some 1,200 feet of Crater Lake at the peak's base when the fall occurred about 2 a.m

80-FOOT FALL

Fullop said Cole slipped and fell close to 80 feet and Fullop, who was belaying the rope that connected all three, was unable to hang on. The climbers fell more than 200 feet.

Fullop said he was unconscious for an hour or two, then managed to find his way to Maroon Lake, not far from Aspen, where a party of anglers discovered him.

De Murville Defends NATO Withdrawal

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville says France is quitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command because it is out of date, but it doesn't want its friendship with the United States to diminish.

"In the nuclear era, this organization does not deal with the essential element of defense which is nuclear defense," Couve de Murville said. "France does not seek a special advantage. She is adopting herself to a new situation and this can only have advantages for the equilibrium and peace in Europe."

President Charles de Gaulle's government contends that NATO's nuclear arsenal is almost entirely owned and controlled by the United States and that NATO has no effective hand in it.

VALUES FRIENDSHIP

Replying in writing to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the foreign minister said France values American friendship highly. He denied that his government plans a nonaggression pact with the Soviet Union and reiterated that the French would like to "contribute to a peaceful settlement" in Viet Nam.

Couve de Murville said that in withdrawing from the military structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, "we are acting normally, as any government, in the interests of our country, and we believe besides that what we are doing is in no manner contrary to the well understood interests of our allies."

ESSENTIAL PART

He stressed that France intends to remain part of the North Atlantic Treaty signed in 1949. He pointed out that the military organization was developed after the treaty was signed and "is in no way a condition of it." The United States feels, however, that the military organization is an essential part of the alliance.

Couve de Murville declared that France had no intention of offending the United States by its stand on NATO or conversion of its excess balance of payments into gold.

"American friendship is an ancient precious value to which we are all attached in France and which we do not wish to see disappear or even diminish," he said.

DOLLAR HOLDINGS

He noted that the conversion of dollar holdings into gold was provided for by the Bretton Woods agreements and said the United States had always done this in the same circumstances.

France notified its NATO allies last month that U.S. and Canadian forces on its soil must leave within a year and that NATO headquarters in France must withdraw by the same time. The United States wants to extend the time limit for at least another year.

MATTER FOR TALKS

Asked what France proposes to do about paying the costs for relocating NATO, Couve de Murville said: "Settlement of financial problems is a matter for negotiations, according to the provisions of the NATO accords or the Franco-American accords."

The foreign minister denied that French policy was maneuvering the United States into closer cooperation with West Germany in military matters.

Federal Tax Policy Hit

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho accused President Johnson's Bucget Bureau today of playing a shell game with taxpayers' dollars.

In a keynote speech to the Western Governors Conference, Smylie renewed a call for the federal government to share its tax billions with the states.

Smylie's attack on federal tax policy was delivered to an audience of eight Democratic governors and six Republicans, along with their aides and guests.

"Billions of dollars are deducted from payrolls of our citizens and sent to Washington," he said. "What happens to that money in terms of direct benefits of our communities and states?"

"Given the shell game played by the federal Budget Bureau, it is unlikely that we shall ever know the answer to that question at any point of time."

Birth Control Pill Fears 'Groundless'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that long-term use of the controversial oral birth-control pills put out by several firms might cause cancer or other adverse side-effects appear groundless so far, the original developer of the pills said today.

Indeed, declared Dr. Gregory Pincus of Worcester, Mass., an evaluation of new and past studies of the use of the oral contraceptives — being taken by more than five million women in the United States alone — indicates:

BENEFIT SEEN

1. Aside from apparently producing no major adverse effects on the reproductive and other endocrine-gland-regulated systems of the female body, the pills have achieved "apparent correction of certain abnormality states" in the womb, cervix (entrance to the womb) and breasts of some women.

2. There's justification to explore the possibility that long-term use of the pills may have the added beneficial effect of helping protect women from developing atherosclerosis — the form of hardening of the arteries under suspicion by many doctors as being a possible contributor to heart attacks.

Dr. Pincus, a cofounder of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, gave his views in a "progress report" on investigations into long-term use of "The Pill," prepared for the spring meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

POTENTIALLY PROTECTIVE

He also said that various studies by other investigators indicate the pills — rather than being a potential cause of cancer — appear to be potentially protective against both cancer of the cervix and breast.

However, Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health, is on record as saying that women may be "taking a chance" by using the pills — and that the question of whether there is a long-term hazard, such as cancer, can only be settled by keeping close tabs on "a substantial number of patients over a number of years."

3 INCHES

five inches at 11 a.m. and rain was still falling. It was the best rain in many years, according to old timers in the area.

Elbow Community had 3.4 to 3.5 with rain increasing to the west. J. D. Gilmore at Forsan reported three inches.

Chalk, across the county east of Lomax, was second high in wetness with 5.30 at 8 a.m. and more rain coming down.

Here in town, the Texas Electric Switching plant reported 3.00 to 3.50 inches. Champion Creek in Mitchell County, had 3.75 inches. Colorado City station showed 3.18 and Snyder 2.03, Eskota had 3.45. No report was available from Wild Horse Creek.

GENEROUS

Early reports from the north half of the county, before the telephone service ceased, indicated that the rains were as generous in those sections as elsewhere in the county. At 8 a.m. Shroyer ranch, near Vealmoor, had gauged three inches, as had the Wilkerson ranch west of town.

Knott Community had an average of three to four inches at 8 a.m. and Mrs. Donald Allred, who lives 16 miles north of Big Spring near Luther, had 3.5 at 10 a.m.

Moss Creek Lake was steadily nearing spillway level as additional water poured into it from its watershed By early morning Monday, the area had gauged 3.50 inches. Powell Creek was steadily rising and had caught more water proportionately than Moss Creek.

In the Ackerly Community, rains for the three days had climbed to 2.5 inches by 8 a.m.

Early reports today showed three inches in Moore Community, north and west of town, 2.70 in the Big Spring City Park area; 2.25 in South Haven Addition.

HCJC

Howard County Junior College early report was two inches — which was quickly replaced by a new total much higher.

The rains of Saturday and Monday morning had brought the total at the U.S. Experiment Station to 3.93 inches for April and the year's total to 5.96.

Observers described the rain as the "best in years" and compared it with another memorable deluge — just 44 years ago to the day.

On April 25, 1922, the gauges in Big Spring hit the highest mark for a single rain on record — 6.77 inches. That rain, old timers said, caused heavy damage and left the northside isolated for days from the south part of town. No overpass across the T&P tracks existed and the footbridge washed out.

The rain today was also being compared with another rain of Oct. 5, 1907 when 5.08 inches fell and with Sept. 6, 1962, when 4.92 inches were reported.

NO FLOODING

No flooding of downtown buildings took place Saturday, Sunday or this morning, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

But heavy water flooding was reported in the Northside area, he said. Highest water was reported in the 800 block of Wyoming Street in the Banks Addition, Lillard said today.

A number of streets in the Northside area were heavily flooded, he said, and a number of the streets were suffering from "washout."

Mrs. John Couch called at noon today and said that their rain gauge at Luther, 16 miles north of Big Spring, showed 5.7 inches altogether. Water was standing in the furrows and borrow ditches and "the frogs are singing glory," she said.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith Brings Candidacy Here

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Lubbock, said here today that "a favorable business atmosphere" must be maintained by the state government to keep Texas growing and prosperous.

Smith was the special guest at a reception from 9-10 a.m. in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan to meet with voters in the Howard County area. He is seeking a third term as lieutenant governor of Texas.

Smith said education fits hand-in-hand with the industrial growth of the state. He pointed to many legislative measures that were passed by the last regular session to provide the brainpower for industry and business.

The state, he said, is now spending 48 cents of every state dollar for education.

"Great strides," Smith said, "have been made to encourage tourists to see Texas' many scenic spots and recreational areas."

"We expect, through the efforts of the Tourist Development Agency, to attract at least 14 million visitors to Texas this year," he said.

Smith said that he would do everything in his power, if re-elected, to see that the decisions of the Senate are deliberately and democratically arrived at, and are reflective of the views of the men and women who represent the voters."

In charge of the reception for Smith was George Zachariah. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Jack Irons.

and Pyongyang. Following assignments as an instructor at the Air University at Maxwell AFB, Ala., and as commander of the 3415th Consolidated Maintenance Squadron at Lowry AFB, Colo., and M&S group commander, Col. Franks returned to Korea to assume command duties of the southern sector of the 6146th Advisory Group at Teague. From there, he went to Japan, where he served until his Webb assignment.

Col. Franks is married to the former Virginia Hall, San Antonio, and they have two children.

Mrs. Franks has had an active place in community life, serving on the board of the Big Spring Concert Association, on the board of the Heart Fund and the local chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Wheels Stolen

Four wheels and tires were stolen from a car which was parked behind his garage, 1230 W. 3rd, Carl Young, 700 E. 15th, told officers Saturday. He said the theft occurred between Wednesday and Saturday.

Bhutto Offers To Mediate

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Pakistan's Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto says his government is in a position to serve as a bridge between Peking and Washington because it has developed closer relations with Red China.

"Because we have gone closer to others does not mean that we have gone further from the United States," Bhutto told a news conference.

"We are always ready to explain the views of the United States to China . . . and in the final analysis this can be a contribution we can make to our allies."

Machine Forced

A. P. Daylong, 1317 Park, told officers Saturday that someone forced the soft-drink machine at his service station at 901 Gregg Friday and made off with $2 in change.

CORRECTION

The Colorado City report on a horse show erred in naming the owner of the winning mare. He is Bill Faudree of Midland, not Bill Saunders as reported.

Miss Bowen's Mother Dies

Mrs. Maturia Beatrice Bowen, 66, mother of Bo Bowen, 2509 Fisher, died at 1:40 p.m. Sunday in a local rest home.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Johnson's Funeral Chapel, San Angelo, with the Rev. W. P. Fulmer, San Angelo, officiating. Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery, under the direction of the Johnson Funeral Home. Graveside rites will be by the Order of the Eastern Star. Local arrangements were by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home

She was born June 1, 1899, in Sonora, and moved to San Angelo in 1917. She moved to Christoval in 1940, later to Zephyr, where she had lived until she moved to Big Spring in December, 1965. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Christoval, and the Order of the Eastern Star No. 716, Christoval.

Survivors include two sons, Troy Bowen, San Angelo, and Dave Bowen, Douglas, Ariz.; three daughters, Mrs. Bert Parker, Christoval, Mrs. Virgil Bowman, Lubbock, and Bo Bowen, Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Hattie Parker, Christoval; also 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Bruce Frazier and Leon Stockton, Big Spring; R. A. Bradford, Dub Jones, Nolan Roberts, all of Christoval; and Edwin Brown, San Angelo.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center.

Absentee Total Climbs To 29

Twenty-nine absentee votes had been cast in the May 7 election to 10 a.m. Monday. Deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. May 3.

Absentee votes can be cast at the office of Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk.

Absentee voting is for the benefit of electors who cannot be in the county on election day—May 7—or who are physically unable to go to the polls to cast their votes in person.

Man Injured In Affray

A 31-year-old Latin American was reported in "good" condition at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital this morning in the aftermath of a fight outside Alene's Place, 400 NW 3rd, about 9 p.m. Saturday.

Officers said they received a call Saturday night that a fight was taking place outside the lounge, but when they arrived, the participants had already gone.

A few minutes later it was learned that Jose Brito, 31, Box 141-A, was at Hall-Bennett suffering from a stab wound in his right side. Surgery was performed later.

Brito, questioned by officers, said the stabbing had occurred outside the lounge, but he said he does not know the man he said stabbed him.

Reservoirs Fail To Collect Much

Heavy rains, which have given this area a thorough soaking, have so far failed to put great volumes of water in reservoirs.

Lake J. B. Thomas, which serves as the reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, had gained a total of .76 of a foot since Saturday morning, putting it at elevation 2239.40. The increase in volume was 3,300 acre-feet, or about 1.3 billion gallons, which is something like three to four weeks supply. There was still some inflow at noon Monday, but this was slow. Reports from the watershed showed about two inches in intermittent showers, which largely went into the grounds. Much of the runoff was required to fill the holes in creeks and the Colorado River before making it flow.

Lake Colorado City had reached elevation 2059.65, which is an increase of .85 of a foot or 940 acre-feet. Champion Creek Lake, south of Colorado City, remained at elevation 2060.10.

Moss Creek Lake, southeast of Big Spring, came up .8 of a foot to elevation 2328.30, which is 1.7 feet below spillway level, and acounted for 120-acre feet increase. Powell Creek Lake came up 7½ feet to elevation 2362.20, which is 2.8 feet below spillway, an increase of 765 acre-feet.

Cosden Lake, immediately south of Big Spring, was showing a sharp increase Monday morning.

Weather Forecast

Rain is expected Monday night from the middle Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast and south to the Gulf coast missing only Florida. Rain and snow are expected in the northern Rockies. It will be cooler in the Northeast and continued warm in the South. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

HCJC Sends Delegates To Journalism Workshop

Howard County Junior College will send a delegation of journalism students to Odessa College Friday and Saturday, to apply for membership in the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association and to attend student workshops.

Accompanying journalism instructor Dal Herring of HCJC will be Jean Fannin, editor of El Nido, the college paper; Sue Faulkenberry, assistant editor; Jackie Poole, advertising manager; Larry Fourniquet, columnist; and Mike Brown, sports writer.

The only junior college in the organization, Odessa College, was selected as host school at the close of last year's convention at Texas A&I College, Kingsville.

Some 15 of the 17 member senior colleges have confirmed plans to attend, while eight junior colleges have said they will be there. It is hoped that a junior college division of TIPA will be started this year.

Headquarters for the sessions will be the Lincoln Hotel. Registration is set Friday from 1:30 to 5 p.m A barbecue by the Odessa Chuck Wagon gang is set for 6 p.m., on the parking lot of the college library.

A general assembly at 7 p.m. in the Globe of the Great Southwest will be followed by a talent show from 7:15-9:15 p.m. Faculty members will meet for a short business session after the show.

Student workshops begin at 9 a.m Saturday in the Student Union Building and library. All contest entries in the fields of newspaper, literary and yearbook divisions will be displayed. Also on display is a photo exhibit from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Following a business meeting at 1:30 p.m., students will be dismissed until 7 p.m. for the awards banquet in the SUB. Guest speaker for the banquet is Bob Schieffer, Viet Nam war correspondent for the Fort Worth Star - Telegram. Schieffer recently returned from Viet Nam and is expected to speak on both the war and the role he played as correspondent. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Miss TIPA, who was selected by pictures submitted by member schools.

Man Goes In 'James Bond' Trance, Kills

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Max Mueller, 25, became crazed by the idea he was a secret agent like James Bond and killed Johann Gerhartl, 17, then shot himself, police reported today.

They said Mueller followed the boy into a farmer's house near Gruenberg in lower Austria Saturday, and, in front of the terror-striken occupants, pumped four slugs of a 7.65 pistol into his victim. When he snapped out of his trance and realized what he had done, police said, he shot himself in the head. He died Sunday night in a hospital.

Police said they found letters in Mueller's possession with coded texts and orders to imaginary agents, all written by Mueller himself.

11 Wrecks Reported Here

Eleven accidents Saturday and Sunday marred Big Spring traffic, officers said, but no one was injured.

Involved Saturday were the cars of Keith Larry Noble, Snyder, and Robert Dale Little, 1404 Princeton, at Fourth and Young; the driverless car of Larry Glen Peurifoy, Box 1563, which rolled into a parked car, whose owner is not known, in the 700 block of Eleventh Place; the parked car of Sisto Gonzales Subia, Fort Sam Houston, and the car of Frank Bradley, 508 NW Bell, at 408 NW 6th; the cars of Don Wayne Malone, 2303 Roberts Drive, and Eddie Alvarez Chaney, 108½ Old Gail Road, at Eighth and Goliad; the cars of Mary Lawson Franco, 608 San Jacinto, and Juanita Martinez, 4205 Dixon, at 119 W. 1st.

The cars of Kenneth Morris Sneed, 2303 Grace, and Walter Bruce Darlin, Lamesa, at Fourth and Nolan; the car of Bessie R. Trevino, 808 W. 5th, and a car which left the scene at 1712 Gregg; and the cars of Horace Edward Harlan, Box 4568, and Patricia Jane Hane, Morton, in the parking lot of the Wagon Wheel, Fourth and Birdwell Lane.

Sunday accidents involved the cars of Mary Lawson Franco, 608 San Jacinto, and Irene Gomez, 511 NW 4th, at Northwest Tenth and Bell; the cars of Eloise L. Jackson, 1107 N. Goliad, and Ronald Earl Dunn, Webb AFB, at Northwest Third and Gregg; and the cars of Connie Gale Smith, 1409 Sycamore, and Bennice Coates, 1204 W. 2nd, at Fourth and Douglas.

Said Plaintiff (s) Petition was filed in said court, on the 29 day of March A.D. 1966, in this cause numbered 16,208 on the docket of said court, and styled, J. M. MARTIN Plaintiff (s), vs. L. C. MARTIN Defendant (s).

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff is suing Defendant for divorce alleging mental and harsh cruelty as grounds therefor, Plaintiff alleging no children were born to the marriage of Plaintiff and Defendant and no property accumulated during the marriage of Plaintiff and Defendant. Plaintiff alleging she is an actual bona fide resident of the State of Texas and has been such for more than one year preceding the filing of her petition and that she has been a resident of Howard County for more than six months next preceding the filing of her petition for divorce, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff (s) Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 29 day of March A.D. 1966.

Attest:
M. FERN COX, Clerk,
District Court, Howard County, Texas.

DWI Appeal Taken To High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Californian appeals his drunken-driving conviction to the Supreme Court today and opens the door to review of a modern police weapon in the fight against slaughter on the highways.

The question before the justices is whether police have the right to take a blood sample from a motorist over his objection to see if he was driving under the influence of liquor.

Armando Schmerber, convicted in Los Angeles in 1964, claims police cannot, that an involuntary blood test violates the suspect's constitutional rights.

In effect, his attorney argued in papers filed with the court, police are being permitted to unfairly squeeze confessions from motorists, much as the medieval rack squeezed confessions.

But Los Angeles authorities said in their brief they took the blood sample from Schmerber without force, that police officers "had a right to search for evidence" and that his constitutional rights were not violated.

In 1957 the court held in a 6-5 decision that police did not violate the Constitution when they took a blood sample from an unconscious man who had been in a highway collision.

"Modern community living requires modern scientific methods of crime detection lest the public go unprotected," Justice Tom C. Clark said for the majority.

"The increasing slaughter on our highways, most of which should be avoidable, now reaches the astounding figures only heard on the battlefield," he added.

The three dissenters were Chief Justice Earl Warren and the court's current senior justices, Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas.

A ruling for Schmerber may mean the court will have to overrule itself. The way may have been eased when the court ruled in June, 1964, that the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination is binding on the states.

Dear Abby

It'll Be A Long Task

DEAR ABBY: I am a bridesmaid with a problem. The bride has invited over 300 guests to her wedding, and she has decided to save all her wedding gifts to open at the reception. There will be a five-piece band for dancing and I would like to enjoy myself at the reception. I am told that it is customary for the bridesmaids to stand around while the bride opens her wedding gifts and "help" her. How can I get out of it? BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: Try to persuade the bride to open her gifts beforehand. If she opens only 150 gifts at the rate of two every two minutes, it will take five hours which is enough to wither anybody's asegay!

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to my nephew's wedding in Italy, but we could not go. Nevertheless, we sent a gift of one hundred dollars plus the finest casserole set on the market. Last week we received their thank you note saying they appreciated our gifts, but they had the "small inconvenience" of having to pay $10 custom duty on the casserole set! I admit we did not consider the duty that had to be paid by them. But for them to remind us of the 10 dollars duty they had to pay struck a very sour note with me. We have always been very generous with this nephew. Do you think we should reimburse him the $10?

HIS AUNT

DEAR AUNT: No! In this case, the recipients were well able to pay the duty. But this may be an opportune time to advise others to inquire about the "duty" on a gift to be sent abroad before sending it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What's happened to you? Where are the guts and gumption that made you famous? I would have given "UNSTEAMED" an answer something like this: "May I suggest that you tactfully tell your mother that you don't believe her cock and bull story about how she accidentally found your diary in your drawer while looking for something else. Neither do you believe that she accidentally bent one of the pages with her long fingernails while moving it, and while trying to straighten it out happened to see something you had written about her. Furthermore, tell her that if she didn't pry and snoop she wouldn't see things that weren't meant for her eyes. And remind her that those who eavesdrop seldom hear anything good about themselves. And cap it with, the only thing that is worse than a snoop is a liar, and you qualify for both!"

Dominicans Hold Rallies

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Lots of noise but no violence opened a week of celebrations Sunday of the anniversary of the Dominican revolution last April.

An estimated 10,000 demonstrators, most of them youths, massed at Independence Park, repeatedly shouted, "Go home, Yankees," and cheered loudly at the end of the three-hour rally when a big U.S. flag was burned.

Police armed with carbines and tear gas bombs kept a careful watch. The army was on the alert. The Inter-American Peace Force, consisting mostly of U.S. troops, stayed in the background.

In evidence at the rally, organized by leftist groups, were the green and black banner of the pro-Castro 14th of June Movement and the red and black flags of the country's two Communist parties.

The newspaper El Caribe praised the demonstrators for being peaceful but expressed concern over "Communist infiltration into Dominican life."

New Chief Of Indian Affairs

Robert L. Bennett, born on the Oneida Indian reservation in Wisconsin, will be sworn in Wednesday to head the government's Bureau of Indian Affairs. He is the second Indian in history to head that bureau. The 53-year-old commissioner believes Indians should be doing more to shape their own destiny. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Schools' Use By Group OKd

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has ruled that the use of Seattle high schools by the Federation of Christian Athletes does not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

The father of a high school youth had sought a restraining order on constitutional grounds. Judge George H. Revelle said the rallies were not a violation because they were not held during school hours.

Bomber Cut Row Flares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The row over a Defense Department decision to cut the number of long-range bombers has triggered a congressional move to cut Congress in on such decisions.

A House Armed Services subcommittee report recommends amending the National Security Act to require the executive branch to have the "advice" of Congress before eliminating any major weapons system.

HIGHLY CRITICAL

The report, released Sunday night, was highly critical of the decision announced last December by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

It complained, too, of difficulty in getting information from the Defense Department and implied that McNamara's attitude toward Congress could be better.

OFFICIAL CHALLENGED

The report also hit at the "decision-making" process on eliminating major weapons systems and questioned whether McNamara ignores advice and makes decisions on his own.

The report was released by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., subcommittee chairman, after a series of hearings. He and Rep. William G. Bray of Indiana, ranking Republican, noted in a joint statement that highly classified material had been studied.

Freedom Dash Fells German

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards shot a man early today just as he reached the third and last Communist barbed wire entanglement along the West Berlin border, police reported.

The police said the border guards fired 40 to 50 shots at the man, who was attempting to flee into the southeastern section of West Berlin. He was either seriously wounded or killed and lay where he fell for 40 minutes before an East German army ambulace took him away, police said.

Strange Beeping Only Baby Owl

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Reports spread of strange objects and possible visitors from outer space when residents kept hearing a strange beeping from the woods near a lake southeast of Seattle.

Finally, a search party went out. They converged on a tree and found the source — a noisy baby owl.

Viet, Rights Issues Before Church Meet

MONTREAT, N. C. (AP) — Viet Nam and civil rights are two of the controversial subjects headed for debate by by Southern Presbyterians in the closing two days of their General Assembly.

The 460 commissioners of the assembly, the highest court of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S., returned Monday to unfinished business after a Sunday interlude of worship services.

One of the committee reports seeks endorsement of a Viet Nam policy statement adopted last December by the general board of the National Council of Churches. The statement calls on the United States to continue to show readiness for unconditional discussions and negotiations for peace.

It also asks that this nation "adhere strictly to the policy of avoiding the bombing of centers of population in North Viet Nam," and calls for the convening by the United Nations of a peace conference when possible.

Several presbyteries, which are seeking withdrawal of the Southern Presbyterians from the National Council of Churches. There has been unrest for several years in the denomination over the council's statements on various issues, including political matters.

Cause Of Plane Disaster Hunted

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Investigators continued to comb a muddy hillside area today for clues to a plane crash that claimed 82 lives.

An American Flyers charter plane carrying 98 persons plunged to earth here Friday night, killing the six civilian crewmen and 74 of the 92 young Army recruits on board. Two other soldiers died later in hospitals.

Investigators hope the 16 remaining survivors will provide information on the crash of the plane, piloted by a man who had logged 5,000 hours in the air.

The plane, investigators said, had failed to make a landing on the airport's east-west runway and was circling for a landing on a runway running northwest-southeast when the crash occurred.

The plane was banking into a left turn when it struck the ground, bursting into flames.

Driving rain forced an early halt Saturday to the search of the wreckage spread over a quarter mile of hillside four miles from the end of the runway.

The weather began to clear Sunday, allowing the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency to begin digging pieces of wreckage from the muddy slopes of the hill.

What's In Name? Trouble For Her

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP) — With more than 26,000 names in the Gloucester telephone book to choose from, Sandra J. Auricchio picked the wrong one, police reported.

Miss Auricchio faces charges of giving a false name and address while purchasing drugs.

She was caught, police say, because she gave the name and address of the druggist's mother-in-law while trying to fill a prescription.

A Devotional For The Day

If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (John 8:31-32)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, strengthen our spirits with Thy meaning and power that we may continue in Thy word, Thy love, and Thy service. For the Master's sake we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Mixmaster

Highway engineers have a singular advantage over motorists: They can complete their dream of a traffic interchange and then leave it to the poor motorist to find his way.

A modern version of the wilderness revisited is the "Mixmaster" in Dallas. It is an interchange on the southern edge of downtown Dallas, with three levels of traffic flow, connecting three interstate highways as well as the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike. The only objection to it is that motorists almost invariably get lost

It seems only fittiag, therefore, that General Motors Corp., a major supplier of vehicles to get lost in, should come forward to lend a helping hand. The company will invest $7,000 in radio, TV, billboard and newspaper advertising campaign to acquaint the motorist with the ins and outs of getting into the Mixmaster and getting out again with a reasonable expectation that the motorist will then know where he is.

There's a moral lying around somewhere if only we had the wit to identify it. Perhaps it has something to do with rats and mazes, or how difficult it now is — some say it is impossible — to get from here to there.

Looking Ahead

Future Texas histories may record the Connally administration as most noteworthy for bringing governmental planning to maturity in this state. What Gov. John Connally mainly is doing is to prepare Texas to meet the challenges of the final quarter of the 20th Century.

It is impossible in this space to list all the fresh aspects of state governmental planning currently under way in Texas. But just to mention the major projects will demonstrate how much expert long-range planning has replaced haphazard administrating and legislating in the Texas state government.

A Planning Agencies Council, with an intergovernmental coordinator and hired planning consultants, is now working on ways to get the hodgepodge of agencies to work together on the multiplicity of state works and services This, as are many of the other planning efforts, is federally aided.

The Texas Water Development Board's plan for developing the state's water resources well into the 21st Century will soon be unveiled. Long-range plans for developing the state's parks and recreation facilities, including those related to the water plan, are nearing preliminary completion.

The Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has resulted in a Coordinating Board that is revamping the state's system of higher education. The Governor's Committee on the Public Schools has undertaken a similar planning task for elementary and secondary education.

State Highway Department planning is pushing for extension of the federal interstate highway program. Various agencies are busy with planning for better statewide library service, industrial promotion, beautification, conservation, tourist trade, etc. The Texas Research League, at state request, is planning improved state-local relations in metropolitan areas. The Legislature has authorized regional planning by special multi-county districts.

There is a ferment of new ideas. There will be a rash of political controversies as Texas prepares to move forward But this is healthy, welcome and exciting. There is a broad and deep feeling that at last Texas is beginning to reach for the reality of its claim to greatness.

Stock Traders Cooled Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Tax and profit prospects, alternately blowing hot and cold, probably have had even more to do with the fevered trading and price swings on stock markets than have the speculative yearnings of amateur investors.

BUT WHICHEVER is the cause, both Wall Street and Washington have been worried and have either taken or warned of restrictive measures to cool the markets down.

Prospects of increased taxes can dim the corporate profit outlook, and make stocks less alluring. Taxes are tied closely to fears of inflation When government statistics indicate the economy is strong enough to handle both guns and butter without strain, inflation fears dwindle. When the economy is found to be booming faster than expected, inflation fears — and tax increase predictions — rise.

PROFIT prospects are tied just as closely as taxes to the growth in the economy. Profit gains are dependent, too, upon the ability of industry to cope with rising production costs. But traders also are wary of the inroads of higher taxes on corporate profits.

Whatever the future of tax rates, the profit outlook right now is pleasing to many investors. The booming economy is a prime reason.

TOTAL CONSUMER spending rose 3 per cent to an annual rate of $452.6 billion in the first three months of the year. The gain in industrial output since last fall was at an annual rate of 13 per cent. The $17 billion surge of the Gross National Product, the total output of goods and services, put it at an annual rate of $714 billion and foreshadowed a gain for the year as a whole of 6 per cent over 1965

But stock traders were also looking at profit margins and productivity. Both seemed brighter than they had just a few weeks ago.

MANUFACTURERS were making about the same profit on each dollar of sales as in the final months of 1965, although a drop had been predicted. Sales were rising in most industries. Backlogs of orders were growing as new orders outstripped shipments.

Productivity — the unit labor cost in manufacturing — was a bit more favorable than the average of both 1964 and 1965. Business spending for plant and equipment in the last two years was beginning to bear fruit in more efficient production, off-setting rising labor and material costs.

Billy Graham

I find Hebrews 10:26, 27 difficult to understand. Will you clarify this scripture for me? —J. H.

The Scripture you refer to says: "If we sin willingly after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins."

There is a difference between comprehending the Truth and accepting it as a way of life. This verse, I believe, refers to those who hear the Gospel, fully understand their need of Christ, but irrevocably reject it. There are thousands of people today in so-called Christian America who have heard the Gospel since childhood. They know their need of the Savior, but by their actions and attitudes have rejected Him, and thus sealed their eternal destiny. They have the knowledge of the Truth in their heads, but have spurned Him who is the Truth and the Life. All these people are not outside the church. Some hear the truth Sunday after Sunday, but fail to practice it in everyday life. I heard of a man who was late for church, and as he rushed in the people were coming out. He exclaimed, "Oh, is it all over?" Someone answered, "No, its just begun. We're going out now to practice what has been preached." Unless our knowledge of the Truth of Christ is put into concrete action—worked out in the lives of people in the workaday world, the world will never know what Christianity is. Paul put it this way: "Christ in YOU the hope of glory." And unless He lives within us, our creeds, our theological knowledge, and our profession are without effect.

Hard Secret

HAZARD, Ky. (AP)—Lois Combs, daughter of a former governor, worked with an anti-poverty group in Eastern Kentucky last summer but took great pains to conceal her identity.

She was staying with a poor family and every letter from her family came in a plain, unmarked envelope.

In the fall, the Combs Family Association held its annual reunion and Lois invited the family to attend as her guests.

No sooner had the family arrived than they met her father, Bert.

"Glad to meet you," said the farmer. "By the way, Mr. Combs, what is it you do for a living?"

Thick Wall

TOKYO (AP) — A team of five Japanese Christians who toured the United States for three weeks on a peace mission reported that attitudes of American Christians on Asian affairs differ greatly from theirs.

"The wall which lies between us is thick," the group reported. "In particular, we could not help being disappointed by their (Americans') too-simple anti-Communist attitude and their anti-Red China stance. We were also disappointed by their too self-justifying understanding . . . of the actual situation in Viet Nam."

Sen. Morse A Critic Of All Presidents Since '45

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse never stops belaboring President Johnson, especially for his Viet Nam policy. The two men get along well. Johnson is always finding special mssions for Morse.

If it hadn't been for Morse — or his vote in 1955 — Johnson might not now be in the White House. At least his road there would have been tougher. But that isn't enough to explain the relationship between the two men.

MORSE HAS been a critic of all the presidents since he came to the Senate in 1945.

He started out as a Republican but the Democratic presidents from Harry S. Truman through John F. Kennedy and Johnson and Democrats in general have given Morse far more professional and political understanding and appreciation than President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Republicans in general.

Morse, who had been dean of the law school at the University of Oregon, had a background in constitutional and labor law before going to the Senate. President Franklin D. Roosevelt had appointed Republican Morse an arbitrator of labor disputes for seven years on the West Coast and then a member of the War Labor Board for two. Then Morse went into the Senate as a Republican.

DEMOCRATS were late to make use of that background but not the Republicans.

His first clash with Truman came in 1946 when the president, going before Congress to ask special measures to stop the railway strike, was suddenly interrupted quietly and then announced the strike was over. Morse later publicly derided this as ham acting. This infuriated Truman and many others.

In a relatively short time Morse publicly apologized and the following year publicly praised the president for vetoing the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and fought to sustain his veto. Later Morse revealed Truman had offered him a high government job. Some sources said it was the post of attorney general.

And in his memoirs Truman spoke of his high regard for the Oregonian.

MORSE POISONED himself with the Republicans when, after first supporting Eisenhower's candidacy in 1952, he did a reverse, quit the party, backed Adlai E. Stevenson, called Eisenhower a puppet of reactionaries. Morse considered himself an independent Republican. The Senate election results were close.

In deciding which party should control the Senate, Morse sided with the Republicans although Vice President Richard M. Nixon said they didn't need him or want him. Republicans paid him back for his desertion — Morse called it "horsewhipping" — by stripping him of all his important committee assignment. He was without them two years.

Air We Breathe Not Free

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

To remain normal yourself, one of the best things you can do is marry someone normal, That seems to be the message of a recent study of 38 "well-adjusted" husbands. The study found they all had mentally healthy wives.

We think of the air we breathe as free, but—air pollution is now estimated to cost $11 billion a year in wasted fuel and damage to health and property.

IF YOUR family isn't at least $6,000 in debt — counting auto loans and home mortgages—you are below the national average.

Few famous philosphers have come up with a more sensible personal credo than that of the great Negro baseball pitcher, Satchel Paige:

"Avoid fried meats, which anger up the blood. If your stomach disputes you, lie down and pacify it with cool thoughts. Keep the juices flowing by jangling around gently as you move. Go very light on the vices—such as carrying on in society. The social ramble just ain't restful. Avoid running at all times. Don't look back, something may be gaining on you."

HOW THEY got started: Charles Dickens and Ernest Hemingway were newspaper reporters, Thomas A. Edison sold refreshments on trains. Somerset Maugham was a doctor; James Joyce set out to be one but quit the study of medicine after six weeks. Dwight D. Eisenhower worked for a dairy.

You think we have inflation? Pity the poor Greeks. In Athens, well-to-do housewives are complaining because sleep-in maids now demand $50 a month. Where will it all end.

The Rolling Stones, pop singing group, note that "no matter how far money goes, it still can't go as far as next payday."

IT HAS been estimated that the average American 70 years old has spent 6 years eating, 15 working, 8 amusing himself, 22 sleeping, 4 washing and dressing, 3 talking—and 3 months in church.

Rules That Govern Blood Donors

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been rejected twice by the Red Cross for blood donations because of low iron. My doctor said there is nothing to worry about, but now I am not sure whether I should give blood any more, even if I pass the iron test.—R. G.

Your low iron (anemia) evidently is mild. If it returns to normal there's no reason why you shouldn't give blood again. Blood banks have a minimum level of iron content that is acceptable. This is for your benefit as a donor as well as for the recipient. Your mild anemia may not be serious, and probably can be corrected by treatment.

More than 4,500,000 transfusions a year are given in the U.S. We need a lot of blood, and it can only come from people who are willing to be donors.

Blood type of the donor does not matter. Before the blood is used, it will be cross-matched to be sure it suits the recipient. There will be many donors giving the commoner blood types and few giving the rare types. Thus it all averages out.

Blood is blood — a person's color, nationality or sex make no difference. Traits cannot be transferred by blood. They are only transferred by genes in the germ cells involved in conception (sperm and egg).

However, blood donations should always be from healthy people, and there are rules governing this, both for the benefit of those who receive the blood and those who give it.

Here is a summary of the rules used at first class hospitals and blood banks:

FREQUENCY: You can give a pint every eight weeks, but not more than five times in any year.

AGE: Over 18 and under 50 (those from 18 to 21 need parents' consent).

WEIGHT: At least 110 for females, 130 for males.

TESTS: Temperature, pulse, blood pressure and hemoglobin (to guard against anemia) must be within normal range.

THOSE EXCLUDED: Persons who have had malaria, syphilis, jaundice from any cause, coronary attacks or heart disease, tuberculosis, a history of convulsions, or diabetes.

TEMPORARY EXCLUSIONS: Those who have active colds, active allergy, active or chronic skin disorders, drug addiction, undulant fever, have had surgery within six months, a dental extraction more recently than three weeks, have received blood within six months, are pregnant or have been within the last year, have any blood diseases, have had infectious mononucleosis within the last year, or have had any food within the last four hours.

SAFETY EXCLUSIONS: People driving commercial vehicles, air pilots, scaffold workers, and those in similar occupations are rejected as a safeguard against some serious accident if they should have a temporary giddy or fainting spell after giving blood.

There may be minor departures from some of these restrictions, but the requirements are sound and for the good of both donors and recipients of blood.

The need for blood is great. Many hospitals as well as the Red Cross accept and store blood, but in one typically important hospital, only about one-quarter of the amount needed is donated. The rest has to be purchased.

Around The Rim

Do You Remember . . .?

You're not getting any younger if you can remember:

Automobile radiator caps that were decorative as well as functional. What a prize they would make for today's sneak thieves.

Paper money that was a big as a small flag, too large for today's wallet . . . and worth much more than today's money.

Marathon dances, with the survivors propping each other up as if they were too tired to stand alone.

BUTCHERS in straw hats, working on a sawdust floor.

Graham McNamee, and the breathless, if erratic way, he described the big-time sporting events.

The flags that were flown from a family's front porch, indicating a contagious disease some member of the clan had. The pennants were a warning for other persons to keep their distance.

The needle containers in old-time phonographs, or gramaphones as some citizens called them.

CARTOON characters Scorchy Smith, Tillie The Toiler and Mickey McGuire.

When a big rain stopped all highway traffic through Iatan Flats.

Dr. Hugo Eckener and the Graf Zeppelin.

Charley Chase, one of the funniest men alive, and his short comedies; also Edgar Kennedy, and his 'slow burn.'

THE RECOVERY of a horned toad from a cornerstone of the Eastland courthouse, nicknamed 'Old Rip,' and how some people close to the scene insisted he lived for years without any air.

Benny Fox, the 'world champion' flag pole sitter, and what a ripple of excitement he caused when he came to town.

THE BLOOMERS that girls used to wear when they played basketball.

The people who used to grab attention in the newspapers by doing such things as pushing peanuts up Pike's Peak with their noses.

Tool chests that came with every automobile. They were usually located either under the front seat or on the running board.

What The Secretary Might Have Said

WASHINGTON, D. C.—There is a story about a State Department fellow in our town who was sent to Quebec to make a speech in French and he didn't know the language, so he memorized the address phonetically. But a prankish ghostwriter in the department (as he tells the tale) deliberately misnumbered the pages of the script, and it came out in utter gibberish to the polite but mystified audience.

SOMETHING like that may have happened to the script on foreign aid which Secretary Rusk read off the other day to the Foreign Relations committee. The listening senators never heard such gibberish, but they were polite, if mystified.

For instance, the secretary said that without foreign aid in the past, "the frontiers of freedom would have shrunk." This caused Sen. Fulbright to grumble that our aid to French imperialism in Indochina hadn't done much to secure the frontiers of freedom.

THE SECRETARY mentioned aid as one of "our successful efforts" to achieve a balance of payments. Sen. Symington remarked that the balance of payments was $1.8 billion more unfavorable than last year."

The secretary said the U.S.A. is "ready to increase the amount of our contributions to international institutions . . ." That is, to allow world organizations to distribute our largesse. Sen. Hickenlooper pointed out that this would nullify the Hickenlooper Amendment, which is designed to withhold aid from foreign countries which expropriate American property.

WELL, WE at the press tables had Mr. Rusk's 39-page mimeographed statement before us, and we could see that he was all gummed-up with non sequiturs and contradictions. The best thing that Mr. Rusk could have done was to throw away his script and ad lib to the senators somewhat as follows:

"Men, the naked truth is that we're in a helluva how-de-do. The President has said the purpose of aid is to lead backward nations 'to self - sufficient lives of plenty and freedom.' Anybody not born yesterday would recognize this as the rhetoric of impossible perfectability, and I would insult your intelligence by asking you to take it seriously. But when you make this implied promise to the world—and make it year after year—you have caught a mighty unreasonable monster by the tail.

"AND, MEN," the secretary might have continued to ad lib, "we not only have given hostages in the form of unkeepable promises to underdeveloped people abroad, but we have done the same at home. Our anti-poverty and civil rights programs have not won the hearts of the poor, the ignorant and the desperate, but have stirred them to resentment and violence.

"So, men," the secretary would have been truthful in saying, "the Great Society is up against it. We have come to the point where the President is cutting down on school lunches for American kids, and Secretary McNamara is penny-pinching on defense measures, and yet I've got to ask you, please, don't make any cuts in foreign aid."

Conciliator With A Big Stick

WASHINGTON—Almost unnoticed, the Congress of the United States has taken a step which would not be surprising in a police state, but is certainly unprecedented in a democracy.

FOR, BY AN overwhelming vote dominated almost entirely by Democrats in both houses, a law has been passed this week giving the police arm of the government the power to hold a club over citizens who may become involved in disputes over racial discrimination—in public accommodations, education, employment practices tions, education, employment practic or housing—or any denial of "equal protection of the laws."

When the Civil Rights Act of 1964 was passed, there was established a "community relations service," which was designed to help settle disputes, disagreements or difficulties "relating to discriminatory practices based on race, color, or national origin" when these threaten the "peaceful relations among the citizens in any community." This service was to offer "conciliation assistance" on a voluntary basis and to use persuasion. The agency given this authority was set up as a part of the Department of Commerce.

NOW, HOWEVER, all these duties have suddenly been transferred to the Department of Justice, which is in charge of federal prosecutions. The act of 1964 specifies that no officer or employe of the community relations service "shall engage in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions" in any litigation arising out of a dispute in which he acted on behalf of the service. But the law also says that "nothing in this act shall be construed to deny, impair, or otherwise affect any right or authority of the attorney general" to institute or intervene in any action or proceeding.

While the personnel of the community relations service are prohibited by law from making public any information they gather, there is no provision against the use of that same information by the head of the Department of Justice in any litigation that might ensue.

SO, IN EFFECT, businesses, labor organizations, owners of stores and other facilities may, whenever there are complaints of discrimination, find themselves confronted by the Department of Justice. This is bound to be construed as a coercive procedure.

What is puzzling is why, if the Department of Commerce was unable to supervise the functions of a "community relations service," these same duties were not assigned to the Civil Rights Commission or to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, both of which agencies retain their jurisdiction over various kinds of disputes arising out of alleged practices of racial discrimination.

THROUGHOUT the Civil Rights Act of 1964 "religion" is specifically included 20 times among the categories in which discriminatory practices come under the jurisdiction of the federal law. The wording is "race, color, religion, or national origin." But the word "religion" is omitted in the section relating to the gathering of voting statistics and in Title X, which establishes the "community relations service."

UP TO NOW, the commission on civil rights has been active, as has the commission on equal employment opportunity, and while disputes may arise that ultimately could result in court litigation, there is no provision which gives the Department of Justice the right or the power to intervene in any controversies where there are no formal charges of law violations.

The whole question was not debated thoroughly in either house or congress. In some instances, the act could impair rather than safeguard civil rights. For it's certainly strange to find the policeman acting as the "conciliator" in the community when everybody knows that, unless the policeman has his way, arrest and prosecution will follow.

Church Foe

LONDON (AP) — The devil's latest weapon for disarming the Church may be the Church's current preoccupation with meetings and conferences, suggests an article in the Church of England's "Essex Churchman."

The article, by the Rev. Paul Berg, vicar of Rainham, says:

"Once Christians were tortured, burnt and crucified; but very often the more the Church was persecuted the stronger it grew. The enemy's latest weapon is much more effective. Don't destroy Christians but isolate them.

"Keep them so busy talking to each other that they have no time to speak to the unbelieving world outside. The keener the Christian, the more he or she should be loaded with committees.

"If you cannot burn them with fire, then burden them with meetings, says the devil."

Dance Frug In Old South Church

Youngsters dance the Frug, Watusi or Monkey — you name it — in aisle of the historic Old South Church, Copley Square, Boston, Sunday night during "contemporary" worship services. The service was organized by Eugene Langevin, a graduate student at Harvard Divinity School. An honor graduate student at Harvard College in 1961, Langevin said he was seeking to translate traditional Christian concepts into teenage idiom. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Arresting Alcoholics As Criminals Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each year the bottle is taken away from hundreds of thousands of Americans long enough for them to be arrested and tried on drunk charges.

For most, it's a numb shuffle that ends where it began—on the streets or in the gutter. But now, a quiet revolution in the law may be pointing the way toward hope.

Two federal circuit court decisions are giving the revolution steam and direction. And last week, an Oakland janitor named Thomas F. Budd asked the Supreme Court to rule as the two circuit courts have: that a chronic alcoholic is a sick person who cannot be treated by the law as a criminal for drunkenness alone.

34 ARRESTS

Budd has been arrested 34 times on drunkenness charges and has been described in medical testimony as a chronic alcoholic

If the Supreme Court takes Budd's case and so rules, its decision will be binding on all the courts.

The two federal courts, the 4th Circuit in Richmond, Va., and the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, partly pegged their rulings to a 1962 Supreme Court decision that threw out a California law that made narcotics addiction a crime.

APPEAL BASIS

The Circuit Court rulings, Jan. 22 and March 31, cited the 8th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which forbids "cruel and unusual punishments." Budd, in challenging a California public drunkenness law, based his appeal mostly on that prohibition.

The 4th Circuit Court ruling is binding on courts in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. The Circuit Court ruling here is law for Washington courts.

And yet, at the local drunk court level, the bottom rung in the judicial ladder, the revolution is barely above the starting stage across the land

Beset by a lack of facilities, law enforcement authorites are hard-pressed to find other means of handling the alcoholics who crowd the skid rows in big cities and the local drunks who reel about many small towns.

PRIME EXAMPLE

Washington is a prime example of the problem.

There have been 22,000 drunk cases in court yearly, only 40 beds are available to accommodate alcholic patients at D.C. General Hospital.

Government sources say they need time to provide facilities other than jail for chronic alcoholics. One judge, who asked that his name not be used, said: "We are still sentencing defendants to jail on drunkenness convictions because we have no place else to send them."

Military Signs' Face-Lift Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is paying $50,000 to a New York design firm to figure out ways to standardize military signs and markings—and to bring about some beautification at the same time.

The Pentagon acknowledged today it has awarded a contract along these lines to Raymond Loewy-William Snaith Inc. for the study.

Prices Too High, Declare Shoppers Despite Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — That the cost of living is rising isn't news. But how much it is rising and how fast is news.

And the family shopper and the government statistician may have different ideas.

PRICES UP

The shopper knows that prices of many things are higher than a year ago and that on some items they seem to go up with each visit to the store.

The statistician says that the rise in the cost of living in recent weeks wasn't as bad as it was in February. Then it made a one-month jump of one-half of one per cent. And it climbed to 2.5 per cent above a year ago.

The government hails the slowdown since then as diminishing the threat of runaway inflation

STILL BAD

The shopper is more likely to say that prices still are a lot higher than a year ago and if the rise isn't as bad as a few weeks back, it's still bad. And then will come the question: When is the rise going to stop?

For food prices the answer may be: pretty soon now for many items and in a few cases prices already have stopped climbing. The growing season will help as it moves slowly north. And increased production of meat animals will ease market shortages later this year and should bring relief to many a family budget.

BUDGET SQUEEZE

The squeeze on the family budget today may be more obvious to the shopper than to the statistician.

That is because the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index lists all the items that an average urban family is supposed to buy to maintain a median standard of living. But many families only now and then buy some of the items listed.

AFFECT INDEX

Thus, should the prices of new cars or second-hand ones go down, the index would be affected. But few families buy either a new one or a used one each year. And their total living costs may be going up instead of down.

But government statisticians have been more worried, perhaps, by the increased costs of materials and services in industrial production Slow out steady price rises have been registered by metals and metal products, some chemicals and other raw materials. Other production costs have been going up, too, in many industries. This brings pressure for higher prices on the output of factories. And in time this can widen out—with a little added at each step—to affect the prices of finished goods for the ultimate consumer.

Tentative Agreement Curtails Mine Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the 49,000 striking coal miners were returning to work today after a tentative agreement was reached to end the two-week-old walkout — the largest soft coal strike in 15 years.

But many of the miners indicated they would remain off the job until the agreement was approved formally by the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

WEDNESDAY MEET

The UMW Policy Committee meets in Washington Wednesday to consider the agreement. It was reached Sunday between UMW President W. A. (Tony) Boyle and Edward Fox, president of the operators association.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association said the agreement provides for wage hikes to all workers, increases in vacation pay, eight paid holidays and an increase in shift differentials.

CHANGES MADE

He said the new agreement contains "substantial differences" from the contract signed by the UMW on April 8 with three independent coal producers, including Peabody Coal Co. of St. Louis, Mo.

Just three days after that contract was signed, the miners struck, expressing dissatisfaction with the contract's increases for only top-rated miners, lack of paid sick leave and lack of vacations based on seniority.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.

Mays' Long Ball Is Worth $50

By The Associated Press

One baseball, slightly scuffed, $50.

Herman Franks may have an interesting time explaining that item on the next expense account he hands the San Francisco Giants.

But it's legitimate. So was the cause — the 511th homer of Willie Mays' career, a 420-foot shot in the eighth inning that tied Mel Ott's National League career record and triggered the Giants to a 4-2 victory over Houston Sunday.

Mays came to the plate with the Giants trailing 2-1, took aim at Jim Owen's 2-0 pitch and drilled a belt-high fastball into the Astrodome's left center field seats, where H. V. Smith of Palestine, Tex., pounced on the baseball.

Smith eventually got his reward, and Mays his trophy when Franks popped into the dressing room after the game and walked up to his $125,000 center fielder with the ball sitting in the palm of his hand.

"Here," said Franks. "I paid the man 50 bucks for this."

Then Mays took over.

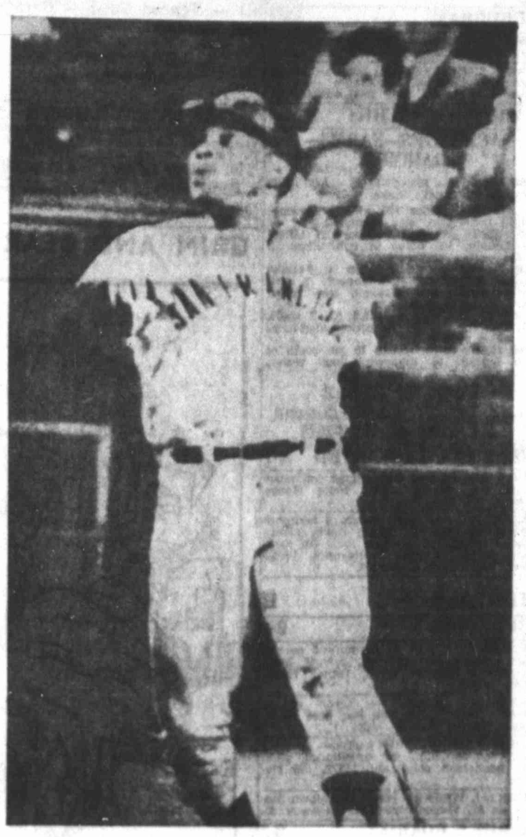
"I was going for a homer every time up," he admitted. "I wanted to do it in San Francisco, but the game was on television and I don't guess it makes much difference. I know it made our fans happy."

Just one more home run will put Mays into fourth place on the all-time homer list, ahead of Ott, and behind only Ted Williams with 521, Jimmy Foxx with 534 and Babe Ruth with 714. Barring injury, Mays should pass all but Ruth this season.

While Mays was making history, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, the Chicago Cubs shutout Los Angeles 2-0, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 3-2 in a game shortened to 5½ innings by rain and Atlanta downed the the nightcap 3-2.

Mays' homer, his sixth of the season, lifted the Giants into a 2-2 tie, and one out later, they clinched it when Jim Hart rocketed a solo homer off Owens into the left field seats.

Rookie Ken Holtzman, a full-time student and part time pitcher available to the Cubs when they are at home, and veteran Ted Abernathy combined to shut out the Dodgers on five hits. The loser was Don Drysdale, who gave up five hits in the six innings he worked and lost on a two-run triple by Don Kessinger in the second inning.



THERE SHE GOES!
Willie Mays belts tying 511th homer

Johnny Edwards and Vada Pinson homered for the Reds but a triple by Tony Perez and Mel Queen's sacrifice fly in the fourth inning brought in the decisive run that ended Cincinnati's losing streak at six games. Sammy Ellis held the Phillies' to three hits in the rain-shortened game but two were homers by John Briggs.

Wade Blasingame won his own game in the opener against the Mets by stroking a two-run single in a three-run second inning uprising that extended the Braves winning streak to six. But a throwing error by third baseman Eddie Mathews enabled the Mets to push across two seventh inning runs in the nightcap and snap their five-game losing streak despite a two-homer performance by Felipe Alou.

Robinsons Give Yankees Another Nightmare, 2-1

If the New York Yankees are having trouble sleeping these nights, you can be sure they're not counting Robinsons.

Frank and Brooks didn't clear any fences Sunday, but they did figure in both of Baltimore's runs as the Orioles edged the hapless Yankees 2-1 and stretched a pair of streaks to six.

The Orioles now have won six straight and are 8-1 over-all while the Yankees have dropped six in a row and are 1-9 over-all.

Of the Yankees' 10 games, five have been against Baltimore. And in those five — one victory and four defeats — the Robinsons have been a nightmare to New York.

Against the Yankees, they collectively have rapped 16 hits in 34 times at bat for a .471 average, socked six doubles and two homers, scored seven runs and driven in 12. The Yankees have scored only 13 runs in the five games.

Against the whole league, Frank is hitting .467 with four homers and 13 runs scored while Brooks has a .405 average with 16 runs batted in.

In other American League games Minnesota defeated California 5-3, Detroit swept Washington 4-0 and 4-1 and Chicago edged Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings. Rain washed out a doubleheader between Cleveland and Boston.

Brooks Robinson doubled in the Orioles' first run in the first inning, then teamed with Frank for consecutive doubles and the decisive run in the sixth.

Minnesota stopped its five-game losing streak behind the hitting of Don Mincher. Mincher hit a two-run homer in the third and drove in another run with a single in the fourth. Rick Reichardt's two-run homer drove Twins' starter Camilo Pascual from the mound in the seventh.

Bill Monbouquette scattered seven hits in Detroit's opening-game victory. Washington's Pete Richert tied an AL record by striking out seven consecutive Tigers, but he was knocked out in the seventh when Don Demeter doubled and scored on Ken McMullen's error.

A triple and a home run by Norm Cash powered the Tigers in the second game. Joe Sparma stymied the Senators on one hit until the seventh inning when he needed relief help from Larry Sherry.

Ken Berry led off the 10th inning with a triple and trotted home with Chicago's winning run on Tom McCraw's single. Kansas City tied the game in the ninth when Dick Green singled, stole second and scored on a single by Ed Charles.

Committee Studies Bids For Game Site

ROME (AP) — The International Olympic Committee turned today to the crucial job of its meeting the make-or-break study of city bids for the sites of the 1972 games.

The IOC had 50 other items on its agenda, ranging from the apartheid issue of the South African government to Mexico's preparations for the 1968 Olympics and recognition of the international federations for bowling, water skiing and skibob.

But the big question is who will be the hosts for the summer and winter games in 1972.

The four contenders for the summer site were summoned to make their presentations this afternoon. The delegations were ready with glossy brochures and what they hoped would be convincing arguments.

Detroit made its pitch first and Gov. George Romney of Michigan was on hand to boost the city's presentation. Madrid, Munich and Montreal followed, with 45 minutes allotted to each delegation.

The committee scheduled similar presentations Tuesday morning for the winter site hopefuls — Banff, Canada, Salt Lake City, Utah, Sapporo, Japan, and Lahti, Finland.

The selections will be announced Tuesday afternoon.

IS IT TRACK OR AQUATICS?

It was a toss-up Monday morning whether it would be a track or aquatic meet, but after being shifted to Coahoma, the Region VI-B meet was hastily returned to the Howard County Junior College track.

Part of the track was under water, but at Coahoma, mud made it impossible to run. Officials and coaches said they had no alternative but to run the meet today. Saturday rains forced postponement, and rains this morning threatened to wash it out.

Steers Have Big Chance In Race

The Big Spring Steers have a chance this week to pull up into the top bracket of the District 2-AAAA baseball race.

They play three times during the week — in Odessa against Odessa High on Tuesday, in Midland against Lee on Thursday, and then here Saturday against Cooper. A sweep of this series would practically insure the Steers a winning season. Bobby Griffin and Gary Miears may be the starters in the first two games.

More Drop Out Of Derby Classic

By The Associated Press

The fearsome reputation of unbeaten Graustark has driven another handful of Kentucky Derby eligibles to cover, reducing the tentative lineup to about a dozen colts — with two weeks still to go before the Churchill Downs classic.

Indications are there will be more tripping before the field is set for this country's most prestigious horse race a week from Saturday.

Prominent among the recent dropouts were Traginiew and Postage, who ran 1-2, a nose apart, in the California Derby at Golden Gate fields last Saturday, and two Ogden Phipps-owned nominees — Stupendous and Impressive.

Graustark, the top-heavy Derby favorite from John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, hasn't intimidated Amberoid or Kauai King, winners of the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie, respectively, last weekend.

They head a dwindling group of likely starters in the Run for the Roses that also includes Advocator, Buffle and Exhibitionist, who ran 2, 3 and 5 behind Amberoid in the Wood; Quinta, third in the Gold Cup; Fleet Shoe, beaten favorite in the California Derby, and Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer, already quartered in Kentucky.

Two other Derby hopefuls, Williamston Kid and Oaktown, arrived at Keeneland Sunday to begin preparations for the first leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

Williamston Kid, who was moved up to first place in the Florida Derby after Abe's Hope was disqualified, came in from Florida and the unraced Oaktown arrived from Waterford Park in West Virginia.

Lucien Laurin, Amerboid's trainer, plans to van the colt to Churchill Downs Tuesday. Advocator, Buffie and Exhibitionist are expected to follow sometime this week.

Graustark will make his last pre-Derby start in Thursday's $25,000 Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, with Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer also expected to go.

Hopes To Catch Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight king Emile Griffith hopes to catch up to a tiring Dick Tiger in the late rounds and then knock him out in their battle of boxing champions at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The odds, however, favor the 36-year-old Tiger by 8-5 to make a successful defense of his middleweight title against the 28-year-old challenger.

The 15-rounder is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. EST.

"I'll be going for a knockout in the late rounds," said the confident Griffith. "I'll be going for it as soon as Tiger gets tired. When you see me go after him, you'll know that I know he's tired."

"If there's going to be a knockout, the victim won't be me," said Tiger, a Nigerian who never has been stopped or dropped. "I think it will go 15 rounds. He's a good champion and a good fighter. But when it's over I'll still be the middleweight champion."

Mabry Wins Bass Tourney

ORE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Temple's Floyd Mabry won his third and unprecedented individual championship Sunday in the State Bass Tournament, which wound up with its fourth day of bad weather which produced flood conditions.

Mabry lured in 40 pounds 12 ounces in winning the individual crown for the third time in the last four years.

Clarence Stewart and Bobby Walker of Fort Worth brought in 74 pounds 8½ ounces and captured the team title.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lumpkin of Waco won the husband-wife division and Buddy Burch of San Angelo took the big bass honor.

Mrs. Pat Joyce of Dallas won both the lady individual and big bass division.

Mabry beat out Jerry Nichols of Waco. The latter caught 27 pounds and two ounces.

Mrs. Joyce caught 18 pounds 11 ounces to win the lady's individual title. She also took in 5 pounds 1½ ounces to capture the big bass bracket.

Johnson Wins Shortened Sweetwater Tournament

SWEETWATER — Kurt Johnson moved up from his role of bridesmaid to capture the championship in the rain - shortened 31st annual Lake Sweetwater Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday.

Johnson, who had lost to Rives McBee in last year's finals when he missed a three-footer on the 18th green, fired a one-over par 73 in winning the championship.

The tournament, which had been scheduled as a match play event over 72 holes, was cut to 18 holes of medal due to heavy rains.

Robb Smith, Big Spring, who had shared medalist honors Friday, finished second with a 74 while C. E. Boyd III, Houston, took third place by winning a sudden - death play-off from Roy Pearson, Ranger, after each had 75s.

Jimmy Whitteker, Sweetwater, won the first flight with a 75 while Salty Barton, Sweetwater, took second in a playoff with Jackie Thomas, Big Spring. Each had a 77.

Bob Condron, Lubbock, matched the day's best score of 73 for second flight honors. Loy Carroll and Jack Touchstone of Big Spring, followed with 80 and 81 scores, respectively.

Bill Rumsch, Abilene, copped the third flight laurels in a sudden-death playoff with Stephen Brown, Lubbock, after each had 77s.

The fourth flight ended in a three-way tie between Charles Sparks, Abilene, Lanny Wadleigh, Snyder, and Hack Spivey, Big Spring, at 85. The Key City golfer won out on the fourth extra hole.

PRECOCIOUS RYUN

Overcomes Mounting Pain To Hang Up New Records

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Precocious Jim Ryun, whose 3:55.8 mile at the Kansas Relays was swiftest in the world this year, is America's premiere miler because of his willingness and ability to endure pain.

"This is the secret — his ability to push back the pain barrier," said Bob Timmons, coach of the 18-year-old Kansas freshman. "If you keep working long and hard the pain becomes terrific.

"If you want to be great, you can't let down. Jim has the will and ability to fight it through. He does it day after day in practice."

Ryun's time was just a half-second off his American citizens record of 3:55.3 at the National AAU last year. Teammate Tom Yergovich paced him to a 1:58.7 Saturday, his best half-mile time ever during a mile race. Ryun steamed the last 220 in 26 flat compared to 26.6 in his record AAU race.

A repeat performance at the Drake Relays Saturday is unlikely, Timmons said, because his training schedule is still aimed at the AAU meet in June and Russian meet in July. He'll resume heavy work this week.

Rice won three Relays crowns, Oklahoma State and Kansas two each at the 41st Kansas Games. Eight meet records were smashed, thanks to seven hours of labor on a track sodden from a heavy overnight rain.

Rice's 3:07.4 scorcher was a mile relay meet record and fastest anywhere by a Texas school. Jim Ellington, the only senior, anchored the mile in 46.1.

Steady Rain May Delay Dallas Open 'Til Tuesday

DALLAS (AP) — Rain fell steadily again today and threatened another postponement of the $85,000 Dallas Open Golf tournament.

Jack Tuthill, PGA tournament supervisor, postponed until 1 p.m. (CST) a decision on whether to delay the final 18-hole round until Tuesday.

Harold Henning, a South African who has won a lot of tournaments around the world but never in the United States, and John Lotz, who professes to be in awe of the big names of the game, pushed into a tie for the lead Sunday.

Doug Sanders, who had topped at the 36-hole mark with 137, had water and tree trouble out on the soggy 6,923-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course and the best he could do was shoot a one-under-par 70.

This might be considered quite good in any tournament other than this one, where teeing up rules have allowed the players to batter par 69 times in the last two days.

Lotz celebrated his 25th birthday by shooting an eight-under-par 63 — one stroke over the Oak Cliff Country Club course record — and his 205 looked like a fairly safe lead until Henning, the quiet, lanky man from Johannesburg, South Africa, came in with a 65 that put him, also, at 205.

Sanders wasn't in too bad a shape though, because he was only two strokes back at 207. Gay Brewer, co-favorite with Sanders for the $15,000 first money, also rested at 207.

Joining them at two strokes away was Ken Still, who eagled the 18th hole with an 80-foot chip shot for a 67.

Gage Oilers Recover To Gain Split At Angelo

Charlie Speaker hobbled the Gage Oilers with two hits in the opener Sunday at San Angelo as the San Angelo Angels blanked the Oilers, 7-0. In the nightcap, however, Danny Valdes scattered seven hits so evenly that the Oilers humbled the Angels, 7-2.

The best the Oilers could do off Speaker in the first game was a single in the second by Tommy McAdams and one in the sixth by Reggie Treadaway.

Hank Pope started auspiciously for the Oilers, striking out the first two men who faced him, only to hit Julio Guerrero, who went all the way around on Speaker's long single. He was still in the ball game, however, until the sixth when his support fell apart. While he was giving up a pair of singles, his mates made six errors in a single frame. This gave San Angelo six runs. Pope struck out 12 men, but he hit two batters and walked two others. Speaker whiffed a dozen Oilers.

The Oilers spotted San Angelo a run in the second inning of the nightcap, then retaliated with a seven-run outburst in the third to ice away the decision. Bernard McMahan walked, Valdes and Treadaway singled, Tito Arencibia doubled, Don Finkenbinder singled, Jim Baum singled, Blizzard walked and McAdams practically cleaned the paths with a triple.

In getting his victory, Valdes struck out only one but he was tight in the clutches. Norman

DANNY VALDES

Weatherford, who absorbed the loss, struck out five, and Speaker, who returned in relief, fanned six more, giving him a day's total of 18.

COACH BURNED

Lakers Keeping Alive, 121-117

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics move back to Los Angeles with a feeling of foreboding today about the sixth game of the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs.

"They'll be at their best with the crowd behind them and knowing there's no tomorrow," said John Havlicek of the Celtics after the defending champions put on their worst performance of the series to lose the fifth game 121-117 Sunday at Boston Garden.

Losing Coach Red Auerbach was especially burned about having to make the trip to Los Angeles for the game Tuesday night.

"We have that long, long trip for nothing," he moaned. "And I warned the guys this might happen. Once we got the lead we got careless. We thought it was over."

It was a combination of poor Boston shooting and a stronger Los Angeles defense that gave the Lakers the fifth game victory, slicing Boston's lead to 3-2.

The Celtics had two terrible shooting periods, falling behind 37-23 in the first period while making only eight of 25 shots. Boston sunk only nine of 22 field goal tries in the fourth period although they still outscored the Lakers from the floor 45-43 for the game.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West were the heroes of the victory, combining for 72 points. Baylor, playing despite the loss of a thumbnail earlier in the week, wound up with 41 points and contributed 16 rebounds as the Lakers outrebounded the Celtics 62-60.

Astros Lose To Giants, 4-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Willie Mays boosted his career home run total to 511, tying the National League record as he led the San Francisco Giants to a 4-2 victory over Houston Sunday.

Houston starter Larry Dierker held the Giants to only four hits until he became wild in the seventh. Jim Owens took over at that point and then was battered by the record tying homer by Mays and the clout by Hart.

Mays tied a record set by Mel Ott at 511 home runs in a career.

Frogs Lead SWC Race

By The Associated Press

Four teams were still in the race for the Southwest Conference baseball championship today as Baylor prepared to make what might be its last bid in a double-header with last place Southern Methodist.

Texas Christian leads the race as a result of a twin triumph over the Texas Aggies that shook up the standings.

While TCU surged into first place and dropped A&M to third, with Texas remaining in second, there's not enough difference for any team to be tagged as the big favorite.

Texas Christian is 7-3, Texas 7-4, Texas A&M 6-4 and Baylor 4-4, and any one of them could win the title since they play each other.

Half Done

Workmen are shown putting forms in place for pouring of foot-thick wall of the new million-gallon water reservoir atop Scenic Mountain. Half of the 11-foot-high wall had been poured. When the wall is finished, a top will be put on the tank, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

School Lunch Debate Due On House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Missiles, rural poverty, job rights for minorities, protection for cats and dogs and another round in the battle of the budget give Congress a diversified program this week.

The House floor action starts Tuesday with consideration of a $6.9-billion appropriation bill for the Department of Agriculture for the 1967 fiscal year. What little controversy is expected will center on the addition of about $128 million in funds President Johnson didn't request.

EXTRA MONEY

Most of the extra money would be used to keep the school lunch program and the special milk program for children operating at 1966 levels despite the President's proposal to trim them down. The Appropriations Committee balked overwhelmingly at following the President's recommendations.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the House will consider the job rights and animal protection measures.

The former would strengthen enforcement powers of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

PROTECT ANIMALS

The animal bill is designed to protect cats and dogs from being stolen for sale to purchasers who in turn sell them for research purposes. It would make it a federal offense to transport or handle the animals in interstate commerce.

The Senate concentrates today on a bill aimed at fighting rural poverty. The measure would make federal funds available for development planning in farm and rural areas.

Viet Coverage Cost Is High, AP Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press Board of Directors said in its annual report today that the cost of covering the war in Viet Nam has been heavy, both in casualties and financial expenses

"During the year two Associated Press men were killed," the board said. "Four others have been wounded in Viet Nam. Due to escalation of the war, it was necessary to more than double the size of the staff there." The report, read at the annual AP meeting, said:

"The year was marked, too, by an increasing flood of news from Washington and greatly expanded government actions in all news fields.

The quick shifts in news emphasis and the need for expertise in writing for an increasingly sophisticated public, call for new methods of handling news. The Associated Press now has special task forces available for major news developments."

FILL VACANCIES

The AP meeting, in addition to hearing the report, voted to fill seven vacancies on the 18-member board of directors and acted on the applications of 29 associate newspaper members to become regular members of the AP, whose news report reaches 900 million people around the world.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was the guest speaker at the AP luncheon after the business meeting.

Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and president of Gannett newspapers, presided at the meeting and luncheon.

Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, reported to the news executives on the activities of the cooperative news gathering association during the past year

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Other highlights of the meeting were personal reports in depth from Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

The directors, commenting on the new task forces, added:

"One is a staff of experienced space and science writers assigned to the major space flights—there are more of these every year.

"A second task force, formed this past year, consists of specialists in covering racial developments. These staff men, normally working in various bureaus around the country, converge on any area where their experience will be helpful.

MOBILE FORCE

"A third mobile emergency force is ready for assignment to enterprise projects connected with the spot news report.

"One of the year's major developments was the complete reorganization of the Wirephoto network to remove state barriers and to permit movement of the best quality pictures across state lines on a regional basis.

"In the first major change in Wirephoto routing since the network was established more than 30 years ago, there are now regional control bureaus in eight cities outside of New York—Chicago, Atlanta, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, Philadelphia, and Washington."

The directors said the progress of AP operations generally has been reflected by the greatest gains in newspaper membership since World War II. Twenty-eight daily newspapers in the United States came into Associated Press membership in 1965, and 19 more have applied for membership so far in 1966. There currently are 1,226 daily newspaper members in the United States.

GAINS NOTED

Broadcast membership, the board said, is now at 2,828 and there are 4,515 subscribers to Associated Press service abroad in 103 countries and territories. The report added:

"The gains in the United States were more than matched in Latin America, which was the area of greatest growth in the world services in 1965.

"And since the first of the year has come another important development — establishment of a local state-wire service in Puerto Rico. There are both English and Spanish-language circuits serving 28 newspapers and broadcasters throughout Puerto Rico, with the AP staff based in San Juan."

The report noted that the war in Viet Nam dominated the news of 1965 for the second straight year.

"The situation with respect to restrictions on coverage of the war in Viet Nam, which was deplored in our report a year ago, has eased." the board said. "As of today, correspondents and photographers find fewer difficulties placed in their way than earlier in the war.

REPORTERS EXPELLED

"In Indonesia, American news agency offices were closed in January and correspondents expelled," the report said. "In late March they were permitted to return and we are now re-established there with Jeff Williams being sent from Tokyo to be correspondent at Jakarta."

The board said the fixed assets purchased in 1965 amounted to $1,547,560.34, all paid from funds of the corporation.

These technical advances were listed by the board:

"Automatic Wirephoto has proved to be an oustanding success. One of the first machines was displayed at our meeting here just a year ago. Since then more than 150 members in the United States, Canada and Europe have signed for this automatic delivery of glossy photographic prints, and practically all of the installations have been made.

"A spectacular new use of computers to provide baseball box scores has been instituted. The elaborate Associated Press play-by-play baseball services, reaching into every major league park in the United States, are coded and fed into AP computers, providing complete side-by-side box scores in tape within a minute or so after the end of the game. This gain of around 30 minutes on the average enables editors to make editions which they never could make before."

Rural Poverty Bill Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen carries an anti-inflation banner into a Senate battle today in an effort to limit the scope of a bill to combat rural poverty.

Dirksen's announcement in an interview that he plans to oppose what he called an "open-end" authorization for rural community development programs surprised GOP colleagues who had voted for the measure when it was approved unanimously by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

HELP FARMERS

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., had predicted speedy approval of the measure. It is designed to carry out President Johnson's proposal to help farmers and small town residents obtain some of the advantages now limited to cities and their suburbs.

But Dirksen said he wants the cost of this program spelled out before the Senate votes on it.

"This is an example of how Congress can open the door to unlimited government spending," he said. "We are in a period of inflation and we must face up to that fact squarely.

"This is an entirely new venture. What is it going to cost in future expenditures at a time when we should be cutting down on domestic programs to help pay for the cost of the Viet Nam war?"

$285 MILLION

Dirksen said he was informed that the measure originally proposed an outlay of $285 million. But he said it had been amended to authorize the "appropriation of such sums as may be necessary" to carry out its provisions.

The legislation would make federal funds available for development planning in rural and farm areas.

Projects under the measure would include water and sewage systems, health service, educational and teaching facilities, recreational and cultural installations, manpower surveys and training, development of resources and other projects.

IBM Holders Open Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — Stockholders were to act on a proposed stock split and elect 15 directors today at International Business Machines Corp.'s 55th annual meeting, first held in Houston and in the Southwest.

The recommended stock split of 50 per cent would go into effect by the issuance of an additional one-half share for each share held at the close of business May 3. This is the tentative record date of the split.

Stockholders also were to vote on the continuation of an IBM employes stock purchase plan and on the continuation of a stock option plan for officers and other key employes.

The 15 directors to be elected would serve one-year terms.

Officers expected to attend the meeting included IBM President T. Vincent Learson; Thomas J. Watson Jr., chairman; Albert L. Williams, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors, and Arthur K. Watson, vice chairman of the board.

Peace In Asia Depends On Dual Triumphs, Veep Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today peace in Asia depends on victory against "poverty, disease and despair" as well as against "the classic power tactics of communism" in Viet Nam.

"We must not lose the peace in either struggle," the vice president said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press.

"That is why we have committed once more—as we have had to do before—men, money, and resources to help the nations of Asia help themselves toward security and independence," Humphrey added.

MUST STAY

Cautioning that "it won't be easy, it will be frustrating and at times heartbreaking," Humphrey said:

"We must stay and see it through. And the free nations of the world need to know that we have the vision and the endurance to do so.

"Those who threaten their neighbors in Asia should know it too. They should know that we will resist their aggression."

Humphrey, who returned two months ago from a nine-nation Asian tour, added, "They should also know that we bear no consumptive hate against their people, that we have no design on their sovereignty."

"We only look toward the day when all nations may choose to live in harmony with their neighbors — when they may turn together their energies to building a better life for their people," he said. "For this is after all our second great task before us: the desperate need to narrow the widening gap between the rich and poor nations of the world."

HOPE FOR LIFE

Humphrey said that it is not possible to preserve lasting peace if glaring economic and social inequality among the peoples of the world exist.

Tying the hopes for peace to helping "the disinherited and left-out of this world," the vice president said:

"Today there are families spending their last day on earth because they haven't the strength or health to keep going.

"But those who remain—and you can be sure of this —those who remain will take to the streets . . . they will turn to any master . . . they will tear the fabric of peace to shreds, unless they have some reason to believe there is hope for life and hope for justice."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠743 ♡AK8 ◇AJ9 ♣8652
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand is not of the type that lends itself conveniently to a take-out double. You need only visualize that your hand will be the future dummy and that it will have very little trick-taking power for partner. There is the further disadvantage that you will be forcing your partner to bid at the level of two.

Q. 2—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♠KQ75 ♡A76 ◇6542 ♣72
What is your response?

A.—Two hearts. This is superior to a bid of one spade, because you have only a fair hand and cannot afford to bid both spades and hearts.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, opponent opens with one diamond and you hold:
♠AKJ105 ♡A1053 ◇K32 ♣5
What do you bid?

A.—Double. If partner responds with two clubs, you are strong enough to bid two spades with reasonably safety. If your answer was one spade, stay after school.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J107654 ♡K975 ◇42 ♣4
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ◇	Dble.	?

What do you bid?

A.—One spade. With this distribution including so many cards in the major suits, surely you will wish to take some action. If you wait, the bidding may get too complicated for you to enter the conversation conveniently, and you will thus be shut out.

Q. 5—You are South, vulnerable, with a 90 part score and hold:
♠AJ6 ♡A95 ◇K8432 ♣72
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—Two spades. With the advanced part score you are not in position to temporize, since a two diamond response would not be considered forcing. The bid least likely to complicate matters is a simple raise. Since it is a bid over score, partner will recognize that you may have more than a normal raise so that, if he has excess values, he will be in position to proceed.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK ♡A4 ◇852 ♣A98653
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♡	1 ♠
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades, a cue bid forcing to game. Now that partner has rebid hearts, you can safely prepare to play for a game in that suit or it might lead to a sound contract of three no trump.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK6 ♡AQ82 ◇AQ7 ♣J83
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	?

What do you bid?

A.—Double. This hand, containing 20 points is too big for a one no trump overcall. It is necessary, therefore, to double and bid two no trump over partner's response of two in a suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q752 ♡AK754 ◇KJ ♣93
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ◇	Pass	4 ♡	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—There is little doubt that your partnership will reach at least a small slam in spades but, the better to investigate grand slam possibilities, bid five diamonds at this point to show possession of the king. If partner makes a further drastic try by bidding something like six clubs to show the king, we would then bid six hearts to show the second round control of that suit.

WIVES BEWARE!

If your husband has occasion to visit Fort Worth, don't let him stay at Green Oaks Inn!

Oh, it's nice, all right.

It's done in sort of a storybook Old English.

It has 300 rooms, including 57 suites, and two swimming pools.

The food's all they say it is—the tastiest in Fort Worth.

And the club, patterned after an Old English ale house, is utterly charming.

Green Oaks Inn has a great location—away from downtown congestion, yet less than 10 minutes by freeway from the heart of the city.

The prices are reasonable, too.

Why then, you ask, should you steer him to another hotel?

If he stays at Green Oaks, he'll probably never want to come back home.
