MORE VALIANT STYLES—The new Valiant for 1961, now on display at Pollard Motor Co. here, offers a more complete line of body styles in anticipation of even greater buyer demand for the most economical American-built cars.

New Valiant For 1961 Now Being Displayed In Snyder

The Valiant for 1961, a compact member of the "Plymouth team" of automobiles, is now on display at Pollard Motor Co., 2101 Twenty-fifth Street, in Snyder.

Valiant offers a more complete line of body styles for 1961 in the low-price compact car class in anticipation of even greater buyer demand for the most economical American-built cars.

Added to the line are a new low-price two-door sedan and a two-door hardtop, giving Valiant complete representation in the sedan-hardtop-station wagon model group which comprises 95 percent of all cars bought from American manufacturers.

Harry E. Chesbrough, general manager of the Plymouth-De Soto-Valiant division and vice president of Chrysler Corporation, said the addition of the new models makes Valiant "a full member of the Plymouth team and provides the traditional high-quality Chrysler Corporation engineering and manufacturing standards on a broad front in the compact car field. This low price compact looks and drives like twice the price."

The Plymouth name in script now appears at the lower right edge of the deck lid or tail gate.

In many ways the 1961 Valiant has been improved for operating economy, durability, performance and smoothness of ride. In external appearance it continues to accent the beauty of line and proportion which won wide acclaim when the car first appeared last year.

"From the day of its introduction, Valiant's distinctive appearance made a strong impact on the American automobile scene," Chesbrough said. "We have made every effort to preserve this functional beauty in the 1961 model."

IFC Asks Power To Widen Scope

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Finance Corp. today asked its 59 member nations for permission to broaden significantly the scope of its assistance to private enterprise in underdeveloped areas.

Robert L. Garner, IFC president, said the organization needs authority to invest in the capital stock of private firms if it is to carry out its purposes efficiently.

Final action on the proposal probably will be deferred for some months. For one thing, there would have to be advance approval by the U.S. Senate and the West German Parliament.

A ban on stock purchases by IFC was included in the charter of the four-year-old institution at the urging of former U.S. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. He objected to a public institution owning stock in private business.

The present Treasury chief, Robert B. Anderson, favors lifting the ban.

A document distributed by IFC said:

"The experience of four years has now convinced the IFC management that this restriction is in practice a serious handicap both to the growth of IFC's operations and the mobilization of private capital for foreign investment."

IFC has a $100-million revolving fund which it uses to invest in private firms abroad, later selling its holdings to private interests.

"It has always been obvious that it (IFC) could make an important impact only if it could encourage private investment capital to participate in its investments," the organization said. It added that private capital is particularly interested in stock investment.

As things now stand, IFC makes loans and often obtains options to buy stock or rights to share in profits. However, IFC said options and rights are virtually unknown in many underdeveloped countries.

The institution said it would be much more flexible and effective if it could invest directly in stock. It said it would not exercise any voting rights conferred by stock holdings "except in cases of jeopardy or other special circumstances."

Education Award Due For Snyder

Snyder has been awarded an "Action In Education" citation by Better Homes and Gardens magazine, publishers of the magazine have announced.

The Action In Education program is conducted on a continuing basis by the magazine in cooperation with the National Education Assn. and the National School Boards Assn.

The citation for Snyder resulted from a nomination submitted by Mrs. F. W. Beavers on behalf of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Beavers is a teacher in the Snyder Schools.

In the nomination Mrs. Beavers cited implementation of a scholarship program with such organizations as the PTA, Classroom Teachers Assn. and Texas State Teachers Assn. chapters participating, and the maintenance of a file and clear-house facilities by the high school PTA to handle local scholarships and to help local graduates avail themselves of existing aid at colleges.

She also cited new school buildings recently constructed here, the AAUW's program of "emotional insurance," and action of last winter by the school board in raising teachers' salaries.

The Action In Education awards are designed to provide example and incentive to local organizations and individuals to work with school officials for better schools—public, private and parochial.

STEVE FREE

Free, Pena Lead Stats

Fullback Bob Pena surged into the Tiger rushing lead this week folowing his amassing of 86 yards on 14 carries during the Big Spring contest. During those 14 luggings he lost yardage on only one of them, being dropped for a two yard loss late in the game.

Junior quarterback Steve Free took over the scoring leadership with a total of 12 points to his credit, six of which were attributable to his scoring of the first Tiger touchdown against Big Spring. He is also the team punting and passing leader, having completed 12 of his 24 loftings for 113 yards. Three of his aerials—one in each of the Tiger games to date—have been intercepted.

Rog McMennamy, the slow-talking but fast-moving left end of the team, holds a slim lead in the pass-receiving department with a total of 61 yards to Charlie Gladson's 56. McMennamy's average per catch is less, however, as he has latched onto six tosses to Gladson's four.

Tech Faced With Rugged Schedule

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech's initiation into Southwest Conference football might better be called a hazing.

No team ever had it rougher—six conference games in a row, including the three top-rated teams, Texas, Texas Christian and Baylor, in succession.

The Red Raiders, who got into the conference in 1956 after 33 years of trying but had to wait until this year to compete for the championship, have already opened the race. They played Texas A&M to a 14-14 tie last week in their start although generally picked to lose.

This week it's Texas at Austin. Scout Red Phillips says Texas is as good as any team Tech ever played.

Coach DeWitt Weaver might be expected to lament on the injustice of the situation. But the gray-thatched leader of the Raiders, who did most of the work of getting Tech into the conference, says he's enjoying it. And so are his players.

"We are looking forward to it," said Weaver. "We had just as soon play them now as later. In fact, it's probably better now because they'll all be stronger at the finish."

He noted Texas was a 13-point favorite and said he figured that was about right. "Be realistic and you'll think that's the proper odds, too," Weaver commented. "Texas is rated thirteenth. I don't know where we are rated—about 90th I guess."

But Weaver said he didn't know whether Texas would beat Tech that badly. "I expect to give them a good ball game," he added. "In fact, I think we'll give all of them a good game."

He talked about the schedule like this: "We play six conference teams in a row—Texas A&M, Texas, Texas Christian, Baylor, Southern Methodist and Rice. Then we have Tulane, which beat California and tied Alabama. Next comes Wyoming, which lost only one game last year and is rated tops this season. And then we close out against Arkansas."

Weaver winced even if he did try to convince himself that it was going to be fun.

AND JENSEN RETURNS

Ted Goes Out In Blaze Of Glory

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams has made an early exit from a brilliant playing career on the wings of his 521st home run and a boisterous goodby.

The Boston slugger's dramatic touch bordered on the uncanny in Wednesday's 5-4 victory over Baltimore.

It was the triumphant moment which had been Williams' final goal.

Paid tribute before the game and greeted by volley after volley of cheers during it, Williams came to bat for his final Fenway Park appearance in the eighth inning.

The 10,000-plus customers stood for a minute and half in demonstration.

As he had done for more than two decades, Williams dug a hole in the batter's box with his right foot, steadily swung his bat—and got a count of one and one.

With the smooth swing which has been his trademark, Ted lined Jack Fisher's next delivery 450 feet into the right center field seats behind the Boston bull pen.

In the dressing room it was disclosed Williams had played his last game. He will not appear in the weekend series in New York.

"I'm convinced I've quit at the right time," Williams said.

"There's nothing more I can do."

With that one last swish of the bat, Williams released himself from 22 years of major league competition, the pent up emotion of those who came to say farewell and all but erased from newsprint the end of Jackie Jensen's retirement.

For three minutes after the homer, the crowd stood shouting "We want Ted."

The Red Sox immediately announced the retirement of the uniform number 9 Ted wore, killing the last faint bit of speculation Williams might pinch hit after serving as team batting instructor at spring camp next year.

Signing off with a .345 lifetime batting average in an oft-interrupted career, Williams finished third in the home run derby behind Babe Ruth (714) and Jimmy Foxx (534).

His first major league homer had been at Fenway Park, April 23, 1939, off Philadelphia's Bud Thomas.

Jensen was among those who cheered Williams in a pre-game ceremony at home plate, somewhat reminiscent of Babe Ruth's finale at Yankee Stadium.

Jensen Wednesday agreed to return to the Red Sox next season. He retired last year after 10 years as a major leaguer so he could be near his family and to tend to business affairs.

He explained the problems he had "are still there" but they are not because of baseball.

Jensen will sign a contract after his name is officially removed from baseball's voluntarily retired list Oct. 31.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

This bit of a tidbit slithered in yesterday via mailbag — an excerpt from a Dallas Texan news release:

"Texan Jack Spikes, who had averaged more than two touchdowns per game in the first eight contests, was finally shut out in the Los Angeles affair, but it took an injury to stop him. Spikes, who handles the Texan placement duties in addition to a large share of the ball-carrying worries, injured his left knee in the first half against LA and saw no action afterwards."

The injury, however, isn't of a serious nature, and the Purple Panther should be ready to go this Sunday in Dallas against Sammy Baugh's Noo Yawk Titans.

Davidson Pitching For A Heap Of Points

THE RELEASE stated still further that Spikes' teammate, quarterback Cotton Davidson, now has a string of nine consecutive games going in which he has passed for at least one touchdown. The ex-Baylor star has chunked for a total of 12 touchdowns (seven in pre-season games and five more in recent "money" contests) and has been aptly tabbed the Texan "Rifleman".

Was hashing over the World Situation with Dub Holt recently when the conversation swung around to Davidson and the record he's been establishing in the new pro league.

Dub, by the way, is quite a versatile type of individual himself. Teacher, coach, starter on last year's faculty basketball team.

Sooooey!

AMONG HIS MORE NOTED but least publicized feats is the ability to make a noise like a hog that's got stuck in a gate. Sounds real authentic, too. Sort of a root-root-root-SCREEEE. Pretty hard to put in print, but believe-you-me it's a dilly. The only trouble is, it tears his throat up pretty bad for about a week or ten days every time he does it, so it's pretty hard to get him to perform very often.

Being in speech therapy work brings him into interesting situations every now and then. Last year he was helping a six-year-old learn to pronounce his words correctly, and as an aid to the exercise he would hold up placards with pictures of animals on them for the little tyke to identify. He got most of the way through the alphabet and was doing remarkably well until he ran across the last card, a zebra.

He looked the thing over for a while, scratched his head, then looked some more. Dub asked him, "Don't you know what it is?"

"No sir," he replied, "but it looks sort of like a horse with his pajamas on."

Class dismissed.

And it was the same Holt who brought to light just yesterday that "NIXON" spelled upside-down is "NOXIN". No other presidential candidate can make that statement.

As I said before, the guy's something terrible versatile. But back to Davidson.

"Don't know whether you know it or not," Dub confided, "but I used to play second string behind him back at Gatesville High." Then he looked down at his fingernails, almost too modest to go on. "We both played quarterback," he continued, glowing with an inner warmth.

"You mean you know him personally?" I asked,—stunned at the very impact of the whole thing.

"Yawp," he yawped off-handedly. "We used to go coon huntin' together. None of this 'Mr. Davidson' stuff either. I just called 'im 'Cotton' whenever I see 'im."

I sat in awe, afraid to move for fear of breaking the magic spell which his simple words had created.

Question: should I start calling Dub "Mr. Holt"?

Joe Baxter Tops Indian Rushing Game

ABILENE, Tex.—McMurry College's Indians turned their sights toward the green mountain country of Tennessee this week as they prepared for Friday night's game with the University of Chattanooga at Chamberlain Field there.

Coach Grant Teaff and his staff were frankly concerned over McMurry's prospects after another Abilene team, Abilene Christian College, took a 21-0 lacing from the Moccasins at Chattanooga last Friday night.

McMurry looked better defensively against Luthran, Teaff said, but still lacked enough offensive punch. "We've got a long way to go offensively, and even our defenses need sharpening up, but we're improving," Teaff said. The Indians are a sophomore-heavy team and in the midst of a rebuilding campaign after losing much of the 1959 team that won eight and lost two.

McMurry fullback Joe Baxter, a 196-pound sophomore from Snyder, is leading the Indian runners after two games. Baxter, mainly on the strength of the Lutheran game, has 107 yards. He gained 73 against Texas Lutheran on 13 carries. He is averaging 4.46 yards per carry.

Howard Payne Rated Second In Nation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three Texas colleges, including unbeaten Howard Payne, are among the 20 top teams in the first national Association of Intercollegiate Athletics football poll.

The Yellow Jackets, with a 2-0 record, are second only to Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C. Texas A&I and East Texas State are the other rated teams.

Texas A&I is fifth in the national standings and East Texas, winless in two outings, is tied with Geneva (Pa.) and Langston (Okla.) for 14th.

Lamar To See Action Tonite

An armistice of a sort has descended on the junior high grid front tonight, as all three Travis teams see a holiday from action.

Not so Lamar, however, as two of the Texan elevens will be playing at home and another will be away.

Kicking off the home slate will be Lamar 7th, with Colorado City furnishing the opposition on Snyder's junior high field in a 6:30 p.m. clash. In their only outing to date, the locals lost to Big Spring Runnels, 20-0.

Following up that game here at 8 o'clock will be the Lamar 8th-Big Spring Goliad fray. Lamar is undefeated for the year, having downed Goliad and Runnels by big margins in earlier games.

Hitting the road is Lamar 9th, a team bounced last week by Sweetwater, 22-14, after winning its first two tilts by top-heavy scores.

Rounding out the weekend slate of games will be Friday—Odessa Permian at Snyder High, 8 p.m.; Ira at Highland, six-man; Saturday—Sweetwater "B" at Snyder "B," 7:30 p.m.

Schramm Hits Texan Tactics

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "About the only thing left for them to do is open the gates and forget about tickets," says Tex Schramm of the Dallas Texans' latest plan to woo the professional football fan.

Schramm, general manager of the Dallas Cowboys of the rival National Football League, made the statement Wednesday following the American League Texans' announcement of operation "Teen Texas Sante."

The Texans announced that any student who attends a high school football game Friday night will be admitted free to the Texans' Sunday battle with the New York Titans.

All the student must do is present his stub ticket from any of the high school games.

Oil Operators Are Urged To Fight River Salt Pollution

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, Wednesday appealed to operators in the Sharon Ridge area of southwest Scurry and northwest Mitchell Counties to voluntarily attack the salt water pollution problem.

In an address to the Big Spring Downtown Lions Club, Spence said that the district's plans for impounding a second lake on the upper Colorado River could not be completed until the saltation of the low flow of the stream is overcome.

He said that investigations had proven beyond doubt that the source of the pollution was from the oilfield area, largely in the form of salt water disposal in pots. Studies have shown that this water percolates through sands into the river channel. In one instance, an abandoned well was uncovered and was found to be unplugged and full of salt water.

"The normal flow of about 300 gallons per minute shows by tests that some 28,000 pounds of salt are going downstream daily," he said. "Obviously, we couldn't finance a new lake under these conditions, we wouldn't even entertain the idea."

One operator (Mobil) is reinjecting all its salt water, he told the club. He appealed for others to tackle the problem independently or cooperatively before the district has to appeal to state agencies to force an end to pollution in the upper watershed.

Even if further pollution can be halted, the district still will have to dispose of the salt water already in formations, and this will be an expensive operation. However, it can be done by intercepting the normal flow with a low-water channel dam. The flow thus can be drawn off to the side and into manholes for re-injection.

"We'll have to pump some 168,000 gallons per day to a depth of 1,800 feet to dispose of it," Spence said.

By so doing, he explained, the channel will be kept relatively clear so that floodwaters can flow over the low dam and on into the new lake. With the normal flow with its saline content intercepted, the quality of the lake water would be protected.

The problem is formidable, he said, for there are approximately 1,500 oil wells in the area belonging to 200 operators.

"But the problem will have to be solved," Spence declared, "because we are going to have to have that water by 1966 or 1967. The welfare of several cities in this area care of a Catholic charities home, will depend upon it."

The district is made up of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder, but other cities in the vicinity have asked that the district keep them in mind while pursuing plans to create the new 407,000 acre foot lake. Currently, the district obtains most of its water from the 204,000 acre foot Lake J. B. Thomas on the upper Colorado, supplemented by city and district wells.

Sen. Johnson Takes Drive Into Ohio

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson carried a stepped-up campaign for the Democratic ticket into Ohio today after hitting hard on the issues of recession danger signs, Republican leadership and religion during a one-day swing through Indiana.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee wound up his Indiana tour Monday night with an address to an overflow crowd of 2,000 at Columbia City, in a normally Republican northeastern Indiana farm region.

Johnson's Indiana speeches marked the first time he had emphasized indications of an economic recession. He laid it at the Republicans' doorstep and said he and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, would fight it if elected by ending "tight money" policies.

The Senate majority leader said the GOP administration's domestic fiscal policies are "deliberately designed to reduce buying and reduce business expansion."

Bearing down on the farm issue in talks at Columbia City and Wabash, he blamed Republican Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for a squeeze he illustrated by saying, "Net farm income has dropped one-third while farm mortgages have increased 50 per cent."

Johnson scoffed at Republican claims that Nixon is the best leader to deal with the communist threat.

He brought up the religious issue in his talks at Evansville, Wabash and Columbia City, saying Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion should never influence a vote.

GOP Rapped By Hardeman

AUSTIN (AP)—State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman said Monday night the Republican Party should be retired to repent in sackcloth and ashes for the Little Rock school integration incident.

The Democratic senator from San Angelo spoke over a local television station (KTBC-TV) immediately preceding an address over 27 TV stations by former Gov. Allan Shivers. Hardeman urged support of the Democratic nominees. Shivers proposed a Texas organization to support the Republican nominees.

Hardeman said Republican vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge unsuccessfully introduced the first school integration bill in the Senate. He said Vice President Richard Nixon, the presidential nominee, supported the sending of troops to Little Rock.

If Lodge and Nixon should win, Hardeman said, "shall we expect another military offensive against our Southern states or cities which refuse to surrender their constitutional prerogatives to the NAACP? The possibility and the threat remains."

Hardeman said the Democratic nominees, Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, have "admirable records" in supporting civil rights legislation.

Study Tape Of Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technicians studied telemetry data tapes today in an effort to learn what sent the first two-stage Pershing missile off course.

The rocket corkscrewed out of control an instant after its second stage ignited Wednesday and was destroyed by the range safety officer. Flaming pieces of the broken missile plummeted into the Atlantic several miles offshore.

The Army said there was a malfunction in the second stage. Officials were pleased that the first two goals—separation and ignition of the upper stage — were achieved.

Six previous Pershing launchings, all involving only the first stage, were successful.

The 34-foot, solid-fuel missile is being developed as a mobile weapon for troops in the field. It is scheduled to be operational in mid-1962 with a range of up to 700 miles.

Early in the day, the Air Force successfully launched a Titan 5,000 miles down the Atlantic range and recovered a data capsule that ejected from the nose cone and parachuted into the ocean.

A group of Air Force troops stationed with Matador squadrons in West Germany successfully launched two of the small guided missiles from the cape as a training mission.

At Eglin Air Force Base, a 51-foot four-stage rocket sent a 390-pound payload 30 miles up in a test of a parachute's ability to ease it safely back to earth. The four-foot nylon parachute did its job and the payload was recovered from the Gulf of Mexico.

Truman Schedules Talk In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—Texarkana Democrats were notified Wednesday that former President Harry S. Truman has rearranged his Texas visits and will make an address here Oct. 10.

The itinerary change was announced by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., and Willard Simmons, campaign manager for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the 1st Texas Congressional District.

Previously, Truman had turned down the Texarkana invitation because it conflicted with his appearance at Baylor University in Waco. Later a San Antonio speech the night of Oct. 10 was scheduled allowing him to be available for a noon address at Texarkana Oct. 10.

Castro Vows Showdown On Naval Base

By RICHARD VALERIANI

[illegible] — Fidel Castro made clear at a welcome home celebration Wednesday night that a legal showdown is coming over the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. The homecoming was interrupted by two bomb explosions that did no damage.

Within three hours after returning from the U.N. General Assembly session in New York, the prime minister was renewing his threats against the naval installation and flailing away at the United States as "the most aggressive, most warmongering and most stupid of imperialisms."

The first bomb exploded in Zayas Park behind the presidential Palace about an hour after Castro started his 2½-hour balcony speech to a crowd of about 150,000 massed in front of the palace. The second went off 40 minutes later. [illegible]

Militiamen seized a man accused of throwing the first bomb and hurried him away as the furious crowd shouted "paredon — "to the execution wall."

Castro dismissed the explosions as the "little bombs of imperialism," but announced the government would establish a system of revolutionary posses who will "know who lives in each block and what he does and what relations he had with tyranny and to what he devotes himself and with whom he meets."

His revolution, he warned, still faces a long, hard struggle.

"One of the problems in which we have to overcome the imperialist enemy," he declared, "is Guantanamo."

He repeated what he told the General Assembly in his marathon speech Monday:

"It must be very clear for the people and for the whole world what is our position, that when we are going to reclaim it we will do it in agreement with the canons of international law as our unobjectionable and undeniable right and they will have to recognize us."

Castro cautioned his forces against any unauthorized military action against the base. He charged that the United States intends to use the base as a pretext for military intervention in Cuba and said that any trouble at the base would be provoked by the United States.

Copies Of Platform Supplied By Foes

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Several weeks ago, New Mexico Republican Chairman F. P. Llewellyn went to the state Democratic headquarters looking for a copy of their national platform.

But Llewellyn was told a copy couldn't be found.

Three copies of the Democratic platform arrived at their headquarters Wednesday—sent by the Republicans.

Only Oldsters Go To Dances To Dance, Says Jazz Expert

BY INEZ ROBB

Ordinarily, I feel au courant with my world, in tune with the times and kinda frisky.

But I have been feeling decrepit, mighty decrepit, since a chance encounter with Maynard Ferguson, the jazz impresario band leader, and the Benny Goodman (and does this date me!) of the trumpet.

"I have noticed recently that college kids are again going to dances to dance," said Mr. Ferguson, who was chief soloist four times last season with the New York Philharmonic, under the baton of Leonard Bernstein.

"But what would they go to dances for except to dance?" asked this puzzled square.

"Why, they go to listen," said Mr. Ferguson, whose big jazz band is busy a good part of the year on the college prom circuit. Seeing the look of incomprehension on my face, the young man, whose band is the current jazz sensation, tried to explain.

"It's this way," he said. "For some time now college kids have gone to a dance chiefly to listen to the band. They stand around and just listen. Ballrooms today really ought to have seats in 'em for the listeners.

"It's the jazz music they like," he continued patiently. "On a college engagement we get more requests for jazz concert numbers than for dance music. But I've gotten canny: now I bargain with the kids. I tell 'em I'll play a certain number of jazz concert numbers if they'll dance to the ballad-type stuff."

"But when I went to school, we went to dances to dance," I said, still puzzled. "And what about the mamba and the samba?"

"Gee, that's for old people who go to El Morocco," said Mr. Ferguson, landing one in the solar plexus. "Most college types don't dance too well, except in the South, and there they take their shoes off and really enjoy it."

"But who pays out the money to go to all those big, fancy dancing schools that opeate all over the United States?" I asked, rolling with the punches.

"Well, again, old folks," said Ferguson, 32 and crew-cut. "The country-club set, for example. Latin-American dances are big at country clubs and at resorts like Las Vegas and Miami Beach."

About the best you can expect out of young persons is a slow fox trot. A waltz? Ferguson, a kind-hearted young man, gently broke the word to me that "The Beautiful Blue Danube" is for senior citizens.

Ferguson, regarded by musicians and critics alike as a trumpet virtuoso without rival, likes classical music and has a long-hair education. He spent two years, on a scholarship, in the French Conservatory of Music in Montreal.

"But the classic repertoire, the trumpet section," he said ruefully. "Now, a violinist—that's different."

In his four appearances, which drew rave reviews, with the New York Philharmonic last season, Ferguson played the trumpet solo in "Symphony No. 2" by William Russon. This young American composer once played in the Stan Kenton jazz band when Ferguson was also with the Kenton organization.

There is an aspect of popular music that rather saddens Ferguson. Broadway and its composers aren't supplying the hits today because, despite scandal and Congressional investigations, (1) the disc jockey is still king and (2) the popularity of a song depends upon the "personality" who is belting it out.

"It's not the merit of the music, but a personality like Fabian or Elvis who puts a song on top," said Ferguson. "Then the kids start screaming and yelling so you can't hear the music. And that's a blessing."

Even this square could understand that.

Air Service Bids Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of aviation for the Midland, Tex., air terminal Wednesday told the Civil Aeronautics Board that its decision in the Southern transcontinental air service case would either speed or retard development of the Permian Basin in Texas.

In urging that Midland and Odessa be given direct air transportation to the Southeast and the West Coast, Erle A. Taylor said the development of the area would depend on the quality and adequacy of air transportation that is provided.

Taylor told the board that Midland ranks fifth in the nation as a major oil center, Odessa is the largest oil well supply center in the world, and that the area is becoming a major chemical center.

All of this, he said, adds up to a compelling need to increase transportation services.

Taylor said that Midland has built a modern air terminal, is rebuilding two runways and making other improvements for the jet age.

Beatniks Are Weary Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a beatnik gets tired of hearing:

"Oswald, the landlord says if we don't pay up the back rent by tomorrow we'll have to find another pad."

"Money means nothing to him. On the other hand, he doesn't mean anything to money either."

"Why is it you never talk to me any more, Oswald? All you do is just sit there beating on your bongo drum."

"I don't care how much you denounce conformity — something beautiful went out of our life when you quit working steady. I think it's called cash."

"Being a beatnik is like being a president—the problem is where do you go from there?"

"The leaves are falling, Daddy-O. Don't you think it's time to sew on your long underwear for the winter?"

"You call that drivel poetry? It sounds to me like Edgar Guest with a mental breakdown."

"Gee, it's such a nice day out, Oswald—why don't you sit right down and write something despondent?"

"Don't be petulant with me, Oswald. I wasn't the one who sent you that cake of soap on your birthday."

"We're your new neighbors, man. Can we borrow a cup of gin? We just ran out."

"He gets a big thrill out of being told he looks exactly like Fidel Castro, but there's one big difference. Oswald doesn't have an army. He doesn't even have a camp follower."

"They say his real ambition is to become the first man in history to write a folk song under water with a ball point pen."

"With him the beard isn't a badge of masculinity. It's an intellectual status symbol."

"Why are you looking so pale, Oswald? All I said was that in the old days people used to take baths on Saturday nights."

"His basic trouble is that he's too heavy for light work, and too light for heavy work."

"But officer, bongos aren't like radio or television. You can't turn them down—and if you could you'd lose the whole effect."

Blast Rocks School Lab

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—An explosion in the chemistry laboratory of Big Spring High School Wednesday slightly injured an instructor and three students.

A student, Miss Lynn Campbell, 15, was cut on the forehead and instructor Arnold Oats suffered burns and cuts. Both were treated at a hospital and then released.

Robert Benefield and Charles Brumley, two other students, received minor burns but did not require hospitalization.

The accident occurred during an experiment, when a beaker was turned over while sulphuric acid was being poured into iron and zinc filings, witnesses said.

Alma Nell Hillis Becomes Bride Of J. O. Waterman

Alma Nell Hillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hillis, Hermleigh, became the bride of James O. Waterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterman, Sunray Oil camp on Sept. 2.

The double ring ceremony was read in the Camp Springs Methodist Church at 8 p.m. by Bobby McMillan, pastor.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin, fashioned with scalloped V neckline and scalloped hemline. Long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The fitted bodice featured a V waist-line in front and back. For something old she wore her grandmother's wedding band, new, her dress, borrowed, her sister's Bible, and a blue garter.

She carried a gardenia surrounded with feathered mums and streamers atop a white pearl Bible.

Mrs. Betty Moore of Brownfield, attended her sister as matron of honor. Fern Hillis, also a sister was bridesmaid and Terry Moore of Brownfield, niece of the bride was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical costumes of sapphire blue cotton satin in street length and carried one long stem pink rose.

Dan Kelly Clarkson of Snyder, was best man. Tom Hillis, brother of the bride was groomsman and Larry Parks of Rotan, was junior groomsman.

Baskets of gladiolus and branched candelabras graced the church setting. Mrs. Sandra Browning presented the musical program while Mrs. Thaba McMillan, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church recreation room. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth underlined with blue. Baskets of flowers were used in the decor. Mrs. Donald Tate ladeled punch, Mrs. Bob Hardy served cake and Miss Patsy Huffman registered guests.

For traveling the bride chose a bone silk sheath dress, rosepink hat and bone shoes and bag. Her jewelry was of seed pearls.

The couple are at home in Altus, Oklahoma where the groom is serving in the Air Force.

Mrs. Waterman is a graduate of Hermleigh High School and attended Texas Tech. Mr. Waterman is a graduate of Snyder High School and attended Louisiana Tech and Odessa Junior College.

Out-of-town guests were from Brownfield, Snyder, Monahans and Rotan.

Rolls left over? Freshen them in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 5 to 7 minutes. Serve at once.

Khrushchev Heckles As Mac Calls For 'Reason'

By RELMAN MORIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain urged the United Nations today to make a calm, reasoned approach to disarmament. His speech was interrupted by angry heckling from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and the Communist bloc.

At one point the Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling, and shouted at the British leader as Macmillan was presenting a major statement of Western objectives.

Khrushchev shouted Russian words at the British statesman at several points and led the Communist delegations in a new table-thumping demonstration of protest. The Soviet premier seemed irate.

Macmillan described as "remarkable the speech of President Eisenhower before the General Assembly last Thursday, and said its great value was that it contained practical contributions for settlement of East-West issues.

"The President of the United States made certain suggestions for solving the crises confronting the United Nations," he said, "but the proposal advanced by Soviet Premier Khrushchev seems calculated to have the opposite effect."

Diplomats say Macmillan is not acting as a go-between for Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Macmillan had a date for a private talk with Khrushchev, however, shortly after his speech in the General Assembly.

Khrushchev's lieutenants lost three more important and bitterly fought skirmishes in the Assembly Steering Committee.

The Steering Committee voted to bring before the 98 nations in the General Assembly the questions of Soviet actions in Hungary and an airing of Communist China's operations in Tibet. The 11-4 vote came after a long and determined Soviet effort to kill both items.

The Steering Committee also voted down Soviet proposals to open the General Assembly immediately to disarmament debate, bypassing debate in the Political Committee and interrupting the general policy statements now being given by representatives of each U.N. member. It was reported that Khrushchev wanted an opportunity to address the Assembly again.

Although British officials insisted Macmillan did not come to New York to try to mediate between Eisenhower and Khrushchev, one posed the question: "Suppose Khrushchev agreed to discuss the RB47 case. Would Eisenhower refuse?"

This was a reference to the destruction of an American plane by Soviet fighters last July 1. Two crewmen are held prisoners by the Soviets. The others were killed. The Soviet Union twice vetoed proposals in the Security Council for an investigation of the case.

The RB47 is by no means the only issue standing between a personal meeting of Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Not least among others is the U2 case, Khrushchev's bare-knuckled attack on Eisenhower at the abortive Paris summit meeting in May and the invective he has hurled at the President since.

Nevertheless, widespread desire has been voiced among Assembly delegates for the meeting. President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic called for it in his speech before the General Assembly. Others have sounded out Khrushchev elsewhere.

Invariably, his reply has been: "We didn't break off the talks in Paris. Let him (Eisenhower) take the initiative. I won't."

The White House has indicated there is little likelihood of another face-to-face encounter.

Macmillan tried to mediate in Paris. Aides said he would not renew the effort in New York.

They said he came to the U.N. prepared to present a dispassionate examination of the issues dividing East and West before the Assembly.

Macmillan talked Wednesday for 90 minutes with Prime Minister Nehru of India, who also would like to bridge the East-West gap.

He also had a 40-minute conference with Nasser. It was the first meeting between a British prime minister and the Arab president since the 1956 British-French action in the Suez Canal Zone.

Khrushchev's main appointment was with President Tito of Yugoslavia, who was expelled from the Soviet bloc in 1948 for ideological heresy.

Khrushchev's mercurial temper alternated swiftly during the day from irritation to his usual bounce.

He snapped at an American woman reporter during a reception given by Crown Prince Moulay el Hassan, vice premier of Morocco. She was leaning close over their shoulders as he talked with the prince.

"I don't know what the situation is in the United States," Khrushchev said through an interpreter, "but in the Soviet Union that is rude. We consider it an insult to a man's dignity."

He also attended a reception given by the Nepalese delegation. Leaving the hotel, he stopped to talk with two women who identified themselves as relatives of W. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York. They were Mrs. Sheraton Norton, his mother-in-law, and Mrs. John Thorne, his aunt.

"I asked him when he was going home," Mrs. Thorne said. "He said not until New Year's. And I said 'What are our policemen going to do?'"

Actually, Khrushchev is scheduled to go to Pyongyang, capital of Communist North Korea, sometime between Oct. 10-14. He is expected also to visit Red China.

Two more heads of state arrived by plane: President Sukarno of Indonesia with an entourage of 50 and King Hussein of Jordan.

Man Believed To Be Hitler Aide Quizzed

By BRIAN BELL

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A one-armed man suspected of being Martin Borman, Hitler's long missing deputy, was being grilled by Argentine police today. The suspect gave the name of Walter Flegel.

Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo told a TV audience Wednesday night that the suspect obviously was a German and had most of the missing Nazi's physical characteristics.

There were two big differences. The captured man appeared to be about 48 years old, whereas Bormann, if alive, would be 60. The Martin Bormann of Hitler's day had both arms, while the man held here has had an arm amputated. It was possible, however, that Bormann might have lost an arm in escaping from Berlin or since.

Vitolo said a special police unit captured the self-styled Flegel last week at Zarate, 5 miles north of Buenos Aires. He indicated Argentine authorities are inclined to believe he really is Bormann.

The suspect is being held incommunicado at central police headquarters in Buenos Aires.

Vitolo would not elaborate further on the case.

Bormann was last reported trying to make his getaway from the Berlin bunker where Hitler died. Testimony was given at the Nuernberg war crimes trial that he was killed, but his body was never found.

Although a German court officially recorded him as dead in 1954, rumors that Bormann is still alive have cropped up periodically.

The hunt for Nazi leaders who fled after Germany's collapse in World War II has centered in Argentina.

A band of Israeli commandos seized Adolph Eichmann just outside Buenos Aires in May and whisked him to Israel to stand trial for directing the extermination program in which six million Jews died.

The Eichmann case led to a strain in Israeli-Argentine relations and brought to light that the Jews still are hunting Nazi leaders suspected of hiding out in South America.

Lengthy Illness Fatal To Mrs. Eisenhower's Mother

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Elivera Doud, 82, mother of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, died early today in her sleep at her home here. She had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Doud died at the family home at 750 Lafayette St.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower last visited Mrs. Doud here July 27-31.

No closer and more public relationship between a president and his mother-in-law probably existed than that between Mrs. Doud and Eisenhower.

She lived at the White House, and was the first mother-in-law ever to accompany a presidential candidate on his campaign train.

When Eisenhower took office early in 1952, Mrs. Doud, then 73, was asked about the possibility of living at 1200 Pennsylvania Ave.

"I don't know about living in the White House," she said. "But I think Mamie would be happier if she can keep an eye on me. She's a worrier, and she won't worry about me if I'm right there. I take a lot of tumbles—I haven't a very good sense of balance—and both my girls are afraid about my falls."

The President referred to his mother-in-law as "Min", an expression that Mrs. Doud's youngest daughter had taken from the comic strip character "Andy Gump."

Mrs. Doud's youngest daughter, Frances, is Mrs. Gordon Moore of Washington, D. C., who was here with her mother.

President Eisenhower is flying to Chicago to make a speech and Mrs. Eisenhower will accompany him there, then fly on to Denver.

Two other daughters were born to Mrs. Doud and her husband, John Sheldon Doud, who died at the age of 80 in 1951. The firstborn, Eleanor, died in 1912. Mamie was the second daughter. The third daughter, Edna Mae, died in 1918. Mrs. Moore is the youngest.

The surviving daughters and the President were frequent visitors to the two-story brick home in Denver which became known nationally in 1955. It was there in the early morning hours of Sept. 2, 1955, that Eisenhower suffered his heart attack.

Doud himself died at the comfortable tree-bordered home. The fatal seizure came while his wife and daughter were visiting then Gen. Eisenhower at his North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters in Europe.

Doud was a native of Rome, N.Y., and son of a Chicago meat packer. He met his wife, then Elvera Mathilda Carlson, in a bicycling club to which both belonged at Boone, Iowa, where Doud had gone on business for his father.

Mrs. Doud was the daughter of Swedish immigrants who entered this country in 1868. Her father became a successful businessman at Boone, where a son, Joel, now is a banker.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Continued clear and mild weather appeared to be in store for Texas through Friday, with a possibility of a few scattered thundershowers in the far western section of the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that slightly cooler weather could be expected in the northern half of Texas Friday.

Skies were clear over the state at dawn with temperatures ranging from 50 degrees at Junction to 69 at Galveston.

Maximum readings ranged from 79 degrees at Beaumont to 94 at Presidio Wednesday afternoon.

No rain was reported.

NIXON CALLED BACK

Lodge Response Disappoints GOP

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Republican leaders, noting the limited crowds which turned out to hear Republican vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, are planning a return visit of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, to help win the Texas vote.

Two visits are planned, one in October and another in early November, the Dallas Times Herald said today.

Lodge swept through Texas yesterday in a one-day tour.

Undaunted by the lack of large crowds he pronounced the tour a success and said: "I'm very gratified by the reception I received."

Arriving in San Antonio, Lodge was met by an estimated 600 persons—well below the crowd that turned out to meet Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee. The GOP vice presidential candidate's parade route to downtown San Antonio was virtually deserted—as were the downtown streets.

Appearing, like Kennedy, in Alamo Plaza, Lodge faced a noon hour crowd of about 5,000 persons—one third the number who turned out in mid-afternoon to hear Kennedy.

Lodge cut short his formal speech to conduct a hand shaking tour through the farmers' market in San Antonio, where less than 50 persons were gathered.

The candidate then proceeded to Trinity University, where he conducted a question and answer session with some 800 students.

A crowd of about 5,000 met Lodge at the Midland-Odessa airport and another 5,000 to 7,000 turned out at the downtown rally in El Paso.

Sen. Kennedy's crowd in El Paso, police said, was larger.

Light Rays Accurate

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Using reflected light rays, government scientists reported today they have measured 50-mile distances to an accuracy within "the width of a toothpick" per mile.

The work was done by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey in locating a network of nine missile-tracking camera stations over an area of 4,000 square miles around Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the missiles are launched.

The cameras are designed to take pictures of missiles and flares shot from Canaveral against a background of stars. The more accurately scientists know the exact locations of the camera stations, the better they can compute the position and trajectory of a missile just after its launching.

The Commerce Department announcement said the distances of the cameras from Cape Canaveral ranging from 40 to 50 miles, are known to within two-tenths of a foot, or the width of a toothpick per mile.

It conceded that the accuracy was helped by Florida's flat terrain and generally uniform temperatures, and might not be possible to that degree all over the world.

But it claimed "unprecedented precision" in a project it said supports the Air Force missiles program. It said the results were more than twice as accurate as requirements the Air Force originally had set for the task.

Key instrument in the venture was a device called a "geodimeter" which can measure distances up to 25 miles or so by flashing a light from one point and having it reflected back by a prism located at the target point.

Knowing the speed of light—186,000 miles a second—scientists can figure the distance between the points on the basis of the time required for the light to make the round trip.

Mobutu Gets Recognition

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provincial government of the Congo.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

Kasavubu's action—if it sticks—reduces the declared governments of the Congo from three to two.

Joseph Ileo, named premier by Kasavubu Sept. 5 to replace Patrice Lumumba, told newsmen that he now recognizes Mobutu's council as a temporary government.

The holdout Lumumba remained a virtual prisoner in the premier's official residence, protected by Ghanian soldiers of the U. N. force.

Kasavubu also announced that U. N. soldiers from Ghana and Guinea must leave Congo territory by Oct. 5 at the latest, echoing a demand made earlier by Mobutu. There was no immediate reaction from the U. N. Command, which has taken the stand that the composition of the U. N. force cannot be dictated by Congo officials.

Mobutu's commissioners made public a photographic copy of a letter from Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah to Lumumba advising him to work with his political enemies—including Kasavubu—and the United Nations to consolidate his power and then to get rid of them. Nkrumah addressed Lumumba as "My Dear Patrice."

Mobutu's government also made public copies of letters they said the deposed premier wrote to the Soviet Union asking for arms, planes and other material aid, and to Red China asking for "volunteers."

In still another development, Kasavubu announced a conference of Congo political leaders and personalities will be held within the next few days, probably in Leopoldville.

Big Titan Falls Short Of Objective

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Premature shutdown of the second-stage engine today blocked an Air Force attempt to send a Titan missile on a record 10,000-mile flight into the Indian Ocean.

Instead, the Titan fell more than 6,000 miles down the Atlantic range. This is more than 1,000 miles farther than any previous Titan has flown, but far short of today's planned goal.

If the test had been successful, it would have been the longest surface-to-surface missile flight on record, exceeding the 9,000-mile mark registered by two U.S. Atlases.

The 98-foot Titan roared off to a smooth start from this missile test center at 9:20 a.m. It appeared to perform normally in the 2½ minutes it was in sight. The second stage separated and ignited on schedule about two minutes after liftoff.

But an hour later, the Air Force announced that the missile did not achieve all test objectives. The flight, which impacted over 6,000 statute miles down range in the south Atlantic, is the longest Titan flight to date.

Rights Panel Hearing Is Protested

By DAVID ZINMAN

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A strong wave of protest from state and parish officials surged through Louisiana today in the wake of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission's two-day hearing on voter discrimination.

"In my opinion, this hearing is nothing but a national publicity stunt," State Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion told newsmen. "We have investigated these stories and found no merit."

The six-member commission, a fact-finding body that reports to Congress and the President, said Louisiana Negroes from 17 parishes filed more than 150 complaints of vote denials. The vast majority came from rural northern parishes.

"None of these people have ever complained to any state official," said Gremillion, an observer at the hearing. "All this testimony is ancient history."

Most of the 35 Negroes testified the wide latitude given parish registrars in applying voter qualification tests has helped hold Negro registration down to 28 per cent. Eighty-two per cent of eligible white voters are registered, the commission said.

Absentee Voting Pace Picking Up

Absentee voting in the local option election set for Oct. 8 is picking up as the last few days to cast votes roll around.

According to County Clerk Dan Cotton, 29 votes had been cast early this morning with requests for applications coming in steadily.

The last day for casting absentee votes will be Tuesday and Cotton urges all Snyder voters who will be out of the county on Saturday to get their applications in plenty of time to get them notarized. He stated that at each election there are always those voters who wait too late to apply for a ballot.

Persons who are too ill to go to the polls will need a doctor's certificate accompanying their request for an absentee ballot.

Old Political Wounds Are Irritated In Day's Activity

By RAMYOND HOLBROOK
Associated Press Staff Writer

Old political wounds—both Democratic and Republican—were rubbed raw in Texas Wednesday as Henry Cabot Lodge made a flying trip through the state and former Gov. Allan Shivers endorsed the GOP national ticket.

Lodge, the Republican vice presidential candidate, was given rousing receptions at San Antonio, Midland-Odessa, and El Paso, but all of the GOP faithful were not in attendance.

While bands played and Lodge placed a floral wreath at the spot where the Alamo heroes died, a group of 300 ultra-conservative Republicans held a protest meeting at a San Antonio dinner club because, they said, Lodge helped sidetrack the presidential nomination of the late Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio at the 1952 convention.

Shivers, who bolted the Democratic party to support Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon in both 1952 and 1956, made it three in a row Wednesday night when, in an address carried by 27 Texas TV stations, he announced the formation of a "Democrats for Nixon and Lodge" organization.

Blasting the Democratic national platform as advocating and promising "socialistic measures that Socialist Norman Thomas never dreamed of," Shivers delighted his partisan crowd of 300 as he took verbal jabs at Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy and at his old political foe, Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

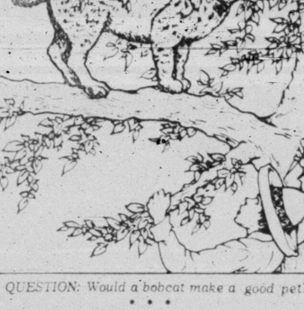
Shivers said that he had no desire to resume the feud with Johnson but that [illegible] over the vaunted liberalism of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Shivers' announcement brought quick counter barrages from U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a liberal Democrat and a longtime Shivers political foe, and from State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman, a conservative Democrat.

"Some politicians are noted for applying makeup before going on TV," Yarborough said, "but Mr. Shivers goes farther than makeup. He puts on a whole mask at a time. He dresses with a Democratic face in front of his real-life Republican face."

Yarborough said Shivers should be called on to explain why the Republican Administration, which he helped elect, had pulled down the economy of Texas by allowing a flood of cheap foreign oil to [illegible] Texas oil production and cause heavy unemployment, had caused [illegible] to drop [illegible] per cent, and had boosted interest rates.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS



QUESTION: Would a bobcat make a good pet?

• • •

ANSWER: A bobcat is a type of wildcat found in North America. It gets its name from the fact that its tail is so short it appears to be bobbed. Usually a bobcat is brown with black spots and its fur is quite popular in trimming women's coats. Bobcats stand a little bit more than a foot in height at their shoulders and weigh about 20 pounds. They are fierce and are talented hunters. They usually kill foxes, rabbits and other small animals for food but at times they have been known to bring down deer. Bobcats are rarely seen around cities and large towns for they prefer the safety of the deep woods where they can keep out of the sight of men. Even if you could catch one, it would not make a good pet.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you see a bobcat, or his near relatives the lynx or the wildcat, in a zoo, see if you can tell the difference between him and an ordinary house cat.

Rights Fight In Classrooms Due

By AL DOPKING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Southern governors have chosen the classroom itself for a new battleground over segregation and states rights.

They adopted a resolution at the closing session of their conference Wednesday calling for the teaching of the Constitution and its principles in the schools to "counter federal invasion of states rights."

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, retiring conference chairman, brought up the almost-taboo conference subject. He called on David J. Mays of Richmond, chairman of the Virginia Commission on Constitutional Government.

Mays told the governors that education was the only dignified way to fight for states rights. He said Virginia taught constitutional law in its grade and high schools to "black and white alike."

Conference officials said it was the first time integration had been brought up at the conference since the Little Rock controversy in 1957. Then the conference named a committee to confer with Gov. Orval E. Faubus and President Eisenhower on the possibility of withdrawing federal troops from Central High School there.

Both Almond and Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina said the educational program should be carried on at a national level. Hodges said states rights was a matter of concern for all states.

The governors elected Gov. Price Daniel of Texas as their new chairman and Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia as vice chairman. They decided to meet in Tennessee next year, probably at Gatlinburg.

Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi said the way to curb "irresponsible and revolutionary decisions" of the Supreme Court was to crystallize public opinion. Then he said Congress would stop it.

Daniel in accepting his post said that if the governors stood together they could influence Congress to change Supreme Court decisions just as they had done in insurance, tidelands, and other matters.

The governors supporting Sen. John F. Kennedy for president spent a lot of their time at news conferences whipping up enthusiasm for their candidate.

But a survey of the governors indicated Vice President Richard M. Nixon has a chance of carrying 11 of 15 Southern and Border states in the November election.

States where Nixon was given a chance were Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia.

Only Alabama, Arkansas and Georgia were regarded by their Democratic governors as completely safe for Kennedy.

Lodge Says Strength Is Vital To U. S.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice-presidential nominee, warned Wednesday night that the United States must always be strong to keep communism from taking over the world.

In a speech before 6,000-8,000 persons in an outdoor rally in downtown El Paso, Lodge charged that the Communists want to take over the world.

"But no one is going to take over the United States, and no one is going to take over the world," Lodge said. "The United States is the strongest power in the world today and will remain so."

The former ambassador to the United Nations said it was up to the United States to lead the world on a plateau of lasting peace.

"When Khrushchev denounced colonialism at the United Nations he speaks as the head of the biggest colonial system now in existence in the world," Lodge said. "If this seems an inconsistent position to an American, you must remember that it is good Communist doctrine for him to accuse the other man of the very crime which he is committing himself."

Lodge also said it is urgent for the United States to move on the matter of civil rights. He called civil rights a national need.

Honeymoon Due In Jail

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Nancy L. Arendt, 20, and Clyde L. Long, 38, probably will spend their honeymoon in the place where they met—Pulaski County Jail.

Their romance blossomed in cells eight feet apart, with only limited communication through a wall separating the men's and women's sections.

Most of the courtship was through the jail's grapevine with fleeting glimpses in hallways, head jailer Joe Borghett said. He took them to apply for the marriage license Wednesday and they expect to be married next Tuesday.

Long, a parole violator, has 18 months to serve plus a one-year sentence for a grand larceny charge. Miss Arendt, an expectant mother, is scheduled for a hearing Oct. 18 on an overdraft check charge.

Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby said, however, he might [illegible] the [illegible] of both prisoners as a wedding present.

Polio Victim Is Prepared To Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — Elchanan Bronstein, a recent Harvard student, is a polio victim, helpless in an iron lung at general hospital. But he intends to vote in the 1960 election.

William Haley, a precinct election official, took the necessary voters registration papers to the hospital Wednesday. He acted as a witness as Bronstein signed them by holding a pen in his teeth and making his mark. Bronstein, 25, was stricken with the disease last July.

Newcomer Winner In Rhode Island

By WALTER R. MEARS

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Socialite-businessman Claiborne de Borda Pell of Newport bowed into Rhode Island politics with a bang Wednesday night, trouncing two seasoned campaigners to win the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate.

In his first bid for elective office, Pell, 41, was nominated to succeed Sen. Theodore Francis Green, 92, who is not seeking re-election.

He upset two former governors driving for political comebacks. Pell polled 83,184 votes to 45,196 for four-time Gov. Dennis J. Roberts, who had the backing of the Democratic State Committee. J. Howard McGrath, who served as governor, U.S. senator, U.S. attorney general and Democratic national chairman, was far behind. McGrath got only 7,525 votes, despite a television-radio address by former President Harry S. Truman in his behalf.

Lt. Gov. John A. Notte Jr. defeated former Lt. Gov. Armand H. Cote for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In the 1st District State Rep. Fernand J. St Germain easily outdistanced four other candidates for the nomination to succeed U.S. Rep. Aime J. Forand, sponsor of a controversial Democratic plan for medical care for the aged, who did not seek re-election.

U.S. Rep. John E. Fogarty was unopposed for Democratic renomination in the 2nd District.

A record 135,000 Democrats turned out for the rainy-day balloting. That vote was more than 40,000 over the previous high of two years ago.

Pell, who keyed his campaign to the youth and new ideas theme of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, has held minor posts in the Foreign Service. His father was a diplomat under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. took the stump for Pell last week.

Roberts conceded the election with about 200 of the state's 357 voting districts reported. He and McGrath both pledged to support the ticket.

Christopher Del Sesto, first GOP Governor in nearly 20 years, is seeking re-election.

Raoul Archambault Jr., former assistant director of the U.S. budget, is the Republican candidate for the Senate, and Theophile Martin is GOP nominee for the 1st District seat. The Republicans held their primary Sept. 19.

Impressive Supply Of Fruits Seen

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An impressive supply of fresh fruits and vegetables is available at Texas food markets this week, the Agriculture Marketing Service reports.

Bananas, local Kieffer pears and Tokay grapes stand as best buys among fruits. Apple supplies are increasing but early-season prices still prevail, as apple demand is strong.

Vegetable best buys include cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, iceberg lettuce, onions and round-red potatoes. Tomato prices are unusually attractive for this time of year.

Priced noticeably lower are cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, Tokay grapes and potatoes.

Avocados are scarce and higher. Also at higher prices are sweet corn, cantaloups and squash.

Pumpkin supplies are increasing, with most coming from Colorado. New-crop peanuts are plentiful. Orange and grapefruit prices are about steady.

Nearly all kinds of meat are in excellent supply. Poultry, including broilers and turkeys, is exceptionally low priced. More and more beef can be found at lower prices. Lamb is abundant. Egg prices have gone up in recent weeks. Look for best buys among smaller-size eggs.
