Reds Decline Peace Talks With Briton

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today the North Vietnamese declined to talk peace with his envoy, Harold Davies, because they think they are going to win the war against South Viet Nam.

Wilson told the House of Commons the Communist North Vietnamese are convinced "their prospects of victory are too imminent for it to be worth their while to forsake the battlefield for the conference table."

Davies, a deputy minister of pensions in the Labor government, returned Wednesday from Hanoi. He was denied an audience by President Ho Chi Minh or any other ranking member of the government.

Wilson said one of the reasons for the turnaround of Davies probably was that North Viet Nam did not want to appear to be giving ground after previously refusing to meet a proposed British commonwealth peace mission headed by Wilson.

Davis Heads Group Buying Control Of Memphis Bank

Jack Davis is heading a group which Wednesday purchased controlling interest in the First National Bank of Memphis, Texas, and is resigning as a vice president of the First National Bank here to serve as president and chief administrative officer of the Memphis institution.

Davis said he and associates have acquired 2,068 of 4,000 outstanding shares of the Memphis bank, buying from present directors, T. H. Deaver, O. L. Helm and Ben Parks, all of whom have been associated with the bank for many years.

Deaver, with the sale, is moving up from president to chairman of the board. Helm and Parks are remaining on the directorate.

The First National of Memphis, established in 1898, at the close of business June 30, had total assets of $6,882,268, deposits of $6,215,364, and loans and discounts of $1,968,461.

"It was a situation where the present managing group decided they wanted to be less active in banking affairs," said Davis. Memphis is the county seat of Hall County, in the southeast corner of the Panhandle, and center of a productive farming area.

Davis said he will leave shortly to take over the Memphis operation. He has been with the First National here since Jan. 16, 1957, joining the bank while the late Robert T. Piner was president. He started in the banking business at Borger in 1950, later served with the U.S. Controller of Currency as an examiner for four years, then was with the First National Bank in Evansville before coming here. He is a graduate of Howard Payne College and the Southwestern Graduate School of Banking at SMU.

Davis has been identified with many civic activities in Big Spring. He has been on the directorate of the Chamber of Commerce, of the Salvation Army and of the YMCA, and for several years has served on the budget committee of the United Fund, including terms as chairman. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and of the First Baptist Church.

JACK DAVIS

He said his family will join him in Memphis as soon as practical. The Davises, who reside at 1610 Osage, have three children, Mrs. Gwyn Dunnam, and Marshall, 10, and Michael, 7.

Marine Corps Reservists In Texas Waiting

By The Associated Press
Marine Corps reservists in 17 Texas cities awaited definite word today on whether they will be summoned to active duty as part of a plan to call up 200,000 men.

The proposed call-up, revealed Wednesday in Washington, reportedly would affect 44,000 men in the 4th Marine Division and its air wing, 120,000 Army reservists, 40,000 Navy men and 20,000 in the Air Force reserve. Officials of the Texas National Guard and Army reserve units in Texas expressed doubt that any of their units will be involved. Major Army units in the state are in a low priority category.

4TH DIVISION
The 4th Marine Division has units in San Antonio, Houston, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Texas, Lubbock, San Angelo, Odessa, Midland, El Paso, Port Arthur, Beaumont and Corpus Christi.

There are 975 officers and men in the 1st Battalion, 23rd Marines, with headquarters in Houston and companies in Austin, Beaumont and Port Arthur. About 540 men and officers are in the 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion, headquartered in San Antonio with two units in Corpus Christi.

The 2nd Battalion, 14th Marines, is headquartered in Dallas with units in Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.

NO WORD
Texas Adj. Gen. Thomas Bishop said Austin he had received no word about a possible call-up of reservists.

The assistant commander of the 36th National Guard Division, Brig. Gen. Ralph Krieger of Abilene, said his division probably will not be affected. The 49th Armored Division of the National Guard also is in a low category of priority and presumably will not be affected, according to Col. John Waldrup of Dallas, a division staff assistant.

Waldrup said the only six Army reserve divisions in the immediate reserve are located east of the Mississippi River. He said none of the 12 separate brigades is in Texas.

BIG SPRING
Some 81 members of the Permian Basin Marine Corps Reserve Unit, of Air Terminal, Midland, are currently on two-weeks active duty for the annual summer training. The unit left by plane Sunday for San Diego, Calif., with some training projects to be on San Clemente Island, about 45 miles off the California coast.

Other reserve units in this area are Big Spring's Battery A, 3rd Battalion, 132nd Artillery of the 49th Armored Division. The unit includes three officers and about 70 enlisted men and is scheduled to leave for two weeks summer encampment at North Fort Hood this Sunday.

Current Figure Upped 100,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's military chiefs have recommended unanimously that the strength of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam be boosted to 179,000 men by the end of the year, it was learned today.

This would be more than 100,000 above the 75,000 U.S. force now scheduled to be in South Viet Nam.

This recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be considered by top U.S. officials in the light of what Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara determines during his week-long inspection visit to Viet Nam. McNamara left Wednesday night.

Sources told The Associated Press the joint chiefs would include the remainder of the 1st Infantry Division in the new projections for a buildup to meet growing Communist strength. One brigade of that division landed in Viet Nam this week after traveling from its home base at Ft. Riley, Kan.

RESERVE GUARD
A buildup as big as 179,000 men could well bring at least a limited mobilization of reservists and National Guardsmen to replace regular troops drawn into the growing conflict in Viet Nam.

The armed services, it was disclosed, are starting to gear up for such a possible muster of guardsmen and reservists. They have submitted to defense officials tentative estimates totaling more than 200,000 citizen servicemen.

A BREAKDOWN
The breakdown: About 120,000 guardsmen and reservists, including six infantry brigades. Three of these brigades, sources said, probably would be the 157th of Massachusetts, the 187th of Pennsylvania and the 205th of Minnesota.

Marines — The 4th Marine Reserve Unit and its air wing, a total of approximately 60,000 reservists.

Navy — About 40,000 reservists who would be summoned as individuals rather than with units.

Air Force — Mostly air transport squadrons manned by some 20,000 reservists and guardsmen.

The sources emphasize that the planning for a possible call-up is still in the early stages and that the totals of men the services have estimated they would need to back up the regular forces could be scaled down.

LOOKING BACK
In the Berlin crisis four years ago, President John F. Kennedy ordered about 150,000 National Guardsmen and reservists to active duty. They served for 19 months.

A possible call-up may hinge on the McNamara mission, as will the future shape and size of the U.S. commitment in Viet Nam.

McNamara acknowledged at a news conference Wednesday that U.S. plans for committing troops have been fluid and have been altered repeatedly by events.

"The situation is changing and as it changes we must change our plans," he said. "At any given time we can assign forces to South Viet Nam in relation to a military need that has been established and approved by the appropriate constitutional authorities."

"That plan remains in effect and we supply forces in accordance with it until the situation changes. Changes in the situation are beyond our control."

Col. Clarence Watters, 39, Spring Hill, La., commander of the U.S. troops in the joint venture, said, "We're trying to build the prestige of the national police by having them work with us. Someone has to take over when we leave."

Draft Boards Are 'Ready To Deliver'
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Selective Service spokesman said today draft headquarters is "in position to deliver all the men the armed services could accept" in the first few months of any military manpower buildup.

He said this would apply "even in an all-out mobilization — and nobody is talking about all-out mobilization."

"WE'RE READY"
"We can load 'em in faster than they can take 'em until they get geared up," he added. "We can handle without any difficulty a situation calling for larger draft calls than the buildup in 1961-62 during the Berlin crisis, when the monthly calls got as high as 25,000 and were at the 20,000 level a couple of months."

DOWN SLIGHTLY
The August call is for 16,500 men, down slightly from the call for 17,100 for July. Other recent monthly calls have been: June 17,000, May 15,100, April 13,700 and March 7,900.

Last year in comparable months the calls were: August 2,300, July 8,000, June 6,000, May 7,000, April 12,000 and March 14,000.

Adlai Successor Prospects Mulled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians speculated today that President Johnson may want to choose an American with world standing to succeed Adlai E. Stevenson as chief of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Administration officials said that so far no consideration has been given to naming a successor for Stevenson, who died Wednesday in London. But it was expected that Johnson might wish to fill the position soon after the ambassador's funeral because of the pressure of coming events at the United Nations.

TEMPORARY HEAD
Francis T. P. Plimpton, No. 2 man in the U.S. delegation, will take over Stevenson's duties temporarily until a successor is named. Johnson's comparison

Wednesday of Stevenson with Lincoln in his accomplishments was interpreted as indicating the President looks upon the U.N. assignment as one of the most important in shaping world opinion.

Although the field of possible successors is wide, the number of Americans who might rank with Stevenson in world recognition is not too large.

For this reason there was some speculation that the President might want Secretary of State Dean Rusk to transfer to the U.N. post.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES
Undersecretary of State George W. Ball is another who has had wide contact with top ranking diplomats and heads of other states, as has ambassador at large Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr.

Those who thought the President would be likely to pick a knowledgeable diplomat who was a close personal friend mentioned the name of Thomas C. Mann, Latin-American expert who is undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Many members of Congress doubt that Johnson will choose one of his close unofficial advisers for the U.N. job. Attorneys Abe Fortas, Clark Clifford and Dean Acheson already have turned down official positions within the administration. Acheson is a former secretary of state.

Neither do the legislators believe that Johnson would want to lose McGeorge Bundy, his special assistant for national security affairs, from the White House inner circle.

Some talk centered on Ralph Bunche who has long represented this country in U.N. posts and is one of the few Negroes to rise to such high rank in U.S. diplomacy. At present he is undersecretary of the U.N.

In death, Stevenson started the journey home from London today — back to Washington where the highest gift of the American people eluded him, then on to Illinois for burial in the state that elected him governor.

Accompanying the body of the fallen statesman were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Stevenson's three sons and a party of U.S. officials.

Motion Filed For Billie Sol

EL PASO (AP)—Another bid to win a new trial for former West Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes awaits a ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster in Fort Worth.

John Cofer, Estes' lawyer, filed the motion Monday. It asks that Estes' 15-year prison term be vacated and that the government produce Estes for a new trial.

Estes, convicted in 1963 of mail fraud, began serving the sentence Feb. 16 after the Supreme Court denied an appeal. Cofer alleged that a government witness, Helbert Kreger of Chicago, gave false testimony in Estes' trial.

Kreger testified at the trial in El Paso that he was unaware fertilizer tanks offered as security for mortgages did not exist.

Panel Sees Red 'Link'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee in a pamphlet has called the American Friends Service Committee a "well-known transmission belt for the Communist apparatus."

Colin W. Bell, executive secretary of the AFSC, said at Swarthmore, Pa.: "We cannot make any sense out of the quotations as given in the article. . . we will decide on the action to take when we have read exactly what has been written in the report. There is no use trying to comment on what now sounds like gibberish to us."

U.S. Curbing Casualty Reports From War Front

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — No further casualty reports will be announced in connection with individual engagements in the Vietnamese war, U.S. authorities announced today.

Casualties will be announced as weekly totals, but there will be no identification by units, the announcement said.

CURB IDENTITIES
Correspondents were also asked to withhold voluntarily any such figures they find out on their own, and not to identify units in battle or to disclose troop movements.

No penalties for violators of the new press code were announced, and a spokesman said formal censorship was not planned.

The announcement said the new rules resulted from an agreement between the American and Vietnamese governments.

August Allowable Barrel Total Hiked

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission ordered the statewide oil allowable for August held to 25 per cent of potential today, a percentage drop from July.

The new order sets the total August allowable, however, at 2,905,312 barrels daily, compared to 2,885,657 under a 28.1 per cent production standard this month.

The allowable hike, in total, results from an increase in the number of wells now operating in the state.

August 1964 production was limited to 2,794,312 barrels a day under a 26.5 per cent factor. Only two of the 13 major purchasers of Texas crude oil, appearing at the commission's regular monthly statewide production hearing, asked for a higher production ceiling next month than in July.

Life On Mars? Pix Could Tell

By RALPH DIGHTON
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Scientists received from Mariner 4 today what they said were just the kind of Mars picture signals they hoped for.

Late today or early Friday they plan to make public what should be the first close-up photograph of the unknown planet's surface. It could indicate whether Mars harbors life, solving a mystery that has intrigued man for ages.

Mariner 4 flew past Mars Wednesday night and its signals hinted at trouble in the camera's tape recorder.

RELAYS PHOTO
But this morning, transmitting from beyond Mars en route to an orbit around the sun, the windmill-shaped 575-pound spacecraft began relaying the first of a hoped-for score of photos.

Signals came in line by line at the rate of one line every 2 1/2 minutes. In all, it required 8 hours, 35 minutes, for all 200 lines of the picture to be received.

Jubilant scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built and controlled Mariner, said "the raw data is exactly what we expected."

They said the transmissions should produce "a valid picture."

PATTERN SHOWING
Two hours after the start of signals 35 lines had been received, and one expert said a definite pattern was showing. The photo program called for Mariner to take up to 21 pictures as it passed within 5,600 miles of Mars, store them on tape, then play them back starting today.

After analyzing this morning's transmissions, experts said they are optimistic about receiving as many as 20 photos.

The pictures were planned to be 100 times better than those from earth telescopes, showing objects as small as 1 1/2 miles across, and perhaps indicating whether life exists on the planet most like earth.

Cong Behead Two Of Four U.S. Advisers

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. military spokesman said today the Viet Cong beheaded two of the four U.S. Army advisers killed in the ambush of a Vietnamese government battalion 35 miles northwest of Saigon last Thursday.

This was the first official report of the decapitation of Americans by the Red guerrillas. The spokesman said both were dead at the time of the mutilation.

Mars Landing Late In '70s?

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center director Robert Gilruth looks for Americans to land on Mars in the late 1970s or early 1980s.

"Whatever you predict, it's bound to be faster than that," he added in luncheon address to a civic club Wednesday.

Mrs. Blankenship's Kin Feared Killed By Gunman

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship left this morning for Cleburne to be with the family of 58-year-old James Lavelle Waller, a man feared kidnapped and killed by a former mental patient who was slain when he tried to rob a Dallas bank Monday.

Police in the Fort Worth and Dallas area began searching back roads of Tarrant and Dallas counties Wednesday for Waller, reported missing by a son since Monday, when he walked out of Leonard's Department Store in Fort Worth to change the parking location of his car. Waller was a long-time employee of Leonard's.

Mrs. Waller is Blankenship's sister. She is the former Allie Blankenship.

Cecil Francis Abbey's pocket after Abbey was shot down while attempting to rob the Texas Bank and Trust Co., in downtown Dallas. Two bank guards were critically wounded in the exchange of gunfire.

The keys were identified Tuesday night by Waller's two sons, James, 25, of Waco and Robert, 19, of Cleburne.

Within a matter of hours, Dallas police discovered Waller's blood-stained automobile parked within a few blocks of the Dallas bank.

A police officer said blood stains streaked the car's upholstery on the driver's side and a bullet hole was found in the window on the left front door of the vehicle. In the back seat lay Waller's hat.

Officers feared that Waller was slain by the would-be bank robber and his body dumped in the Trinity River.

Police are also working on the theory that Abbey, who resided in Eugene, Ore., may have kidnapped Waller while he sat reading in his car and forced him to drive toward Dallas.

They theorize that Abbey may have shot Waller before the two reached Dallas and disposed of the body beside some country road.

Dallas police said the bullet hole indicated it had been made by firing a gun from the outside into the car.

Abbey is believed to have passed through Big Spring on the bus ride that took him from Oregon to Fort Worth.

George Cox, 50, one of the bank guards shot by Abbey, fired on the bandit and killed him while lying wounded on the floor.

Slanted Well Review Due

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to review lower court rulings against four East Texas oilmen penalized $304,800 for drilling and operating a slanted well.

No date for arguments was set. These probably will be heard this fall, a spokesman for the court said.

The decision leaves standing a ruling by the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals which affirmed an Austin verdict against three of the oilmen for drilling the well, but reversed the jury's finding that the four should be fined for 10 years' production from the well.

ORDERED RETRIAL

The civil appeals court agreed with the state that intent does not have to be proved, but it ordered retrial of the technical question of defining production.

The case affects more than 100 similar suits filed as the result of 1962 state and federal inquiries into wells drilled at an angle to take oil illegally from neighboring tracts. About a fifth of the cases have been settled by agreed judgments, bringing the state more than $1 million in penalties.

The defendants are Harry Harrington Jr., Charles Lutes, Red Alligood and J. W. Baton, all of Gregg County (Longview).

The Austin jury found that the Wood County well operated during 1952-62 was bottomed under a neighbor's lease, in violation of state laws and Railroad Commission rules, at a point of 1,600 feet from the surface location of the wellbore.

UPHELD PENALTIES

The civil appeals court upheld the $12,800 in penalties assessed against Harrington, Lutes and Alligood, but ordered retrial of a portion of the judgement penalizing the three and Baton $292,000 for 10 years' production.

The retrial was ordered because the appeals court said the state did not prove the number of actual days of production, upon which the penalties are based.

In his anxiety to obtain a ruff, West lost sight of his over-all objective—which was to win four tricks against South's four-spade contract.

South's holding rates to win at least seven tricks and he is therefore justified in jumping to three spades on the second round to encourage his partner to carry on. North had a sound one no trump response, so he accepted the invitation by bidding four spades. The doubleton trump is adequate support for a suit in which partner has jumped.

West decided to try for a ruff and therefore opened the ten of clubs. South won the trick with the ace in his hand.

A small spade was led and, when West played low, North's ten held. The three of hearts was returned and East put up the king as South followed with the ten.

East led back the queen of clubs and West ruffed. He cashed the ace of spades and exited with a heart, to South's queen. A club was led to the king and declarer discarded his last club on the ace of hearts. In all, he lost a spade, a heart and a club ruff.

When the queen of clubs was led by East, if West had taken a discard instead of ruffing the trick, declarer would have gone down to defeat. If West does not trump in, South must use North's king of clubs before he has cleared the queen of hearts from his hand. With the dummy's last entry removed, there is no way for declarer to obtain a discard on the ace of hearts, and he must eventually lose two club tricks as well as the king of hearts and the ace of spades.

Inasmuch as East was marked with the jack of clubs when he led back the queen, West had little to gain by trumping the return, for he was merely ruffing one of declarer's losers and there was no way to shut out North's king of clubs. West would have been better advised to let nature take its course, and permit his partner to dislodge dummy's entry to the ace of hearts.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Section 14-B Is Termed Discriminating Statute

To the Editor:

Much is being written and said about the repeal of Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, but few are reporting the real facts as to the reason labor seeks its repeal.

First of all the term "right to work" is phoney; it guarantees no one a job; it is and always has been a union busting weapon.

Section 14 (b) is discriminating legislation. Labor is the only segment of American society today that must, under law, represent those who are not members of their organization and who must provide all rights and benefits including the spending of union funds to secure such rights, including arbitration, for those who under law may not be members nor required to be members. This is the only federal law which permits a state statute to exceed the authority of the federal government. The Bar Association of Texas (the Lawyer's Union) and Texas law requires that no lawyer can practice law in Texas unless he is a member of their union (the Bar Assn.) and he must have his dues paid and be in good standing. This permits the Bar Association to control its members and should promote for higher efficiency and respect. If it is good for lawyers, why would it be bad for a labor union? Repeal of 14 (b) would still leave labor considerably short of what Texas law provides lawyers; it would only permit unions to negotiate with the employer for a contract provision to require membership in a union and this could only be done after the employees voted for a union and instructed their union to seek such a contract provision which is only democracy in action.

Texas is 33rd among the 50 states in national average income per capita. Texas has had a right to work law since 1947 and every year since 1947 its average annual income has dropped below the national average even though Texas is now the fifth industrialized state in the union. Next year unless 14 (b) is repealed Texas will drop another $50 behind the average. Strong unions historically mean better wages for all workers because the very existence of good union contracts lifts the level of its entire economy. Those opposing the repeal of 14 (b) have historically fought to keep labor weak and keep wages cheap.

I am certain that if the public were to be provided all the facts and truth in regard to 14 (b) that public sentiment would overwhelmingly support its repeal in even greater proportions than the election of

Keeping A Wolf Might Turn Out To Be Lots Of Trouble

Aid Sessions Delay Asked

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto told the National Assembly today that the United States wants to postpone discussion of its aid to Pakistan's new development plan.

Bhutto said U.S. Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy on July 3 asked President Mohammed Ayub Khan to agree that sessions of the Aid to Pakistan Club, sponsored by the World Bank, be postponed from July 27 to Sept. 27.

The foreign minister did not indicate how the government reacted.

McCaughy gave as one reason for the postponement that "congressional appropriations have yet to be made." Bhutto said. He said the ambassador also told Ayub during the two-month period "the United States and Pakistan can discuss other problems."

The Aid to Pakistan Club is made up of eight Western nations plus Japan. Pakistan has asked it for $500 million for the first year of its third development plan. The United States usually contributes about half the amount put up by the group.

Former Governor New Panel Director

DETROIT (AP)—John Anderson Jr., 48, former governor of Kansas, has been appointed as executive director of the newly formed Citizens Committee on State Legislatures.

this week. He said he caught the pup with nine of its brothers and sisters six miles northwest of Kermit. He indicated he would keep the young wolf.

"If I was that fellow," said Lockhart, who has lived in this part of Texas for 65 of his 81 years and who knows wolves and the like completely, "I'd get rid of that varmint as quick as I could."

"He may not know it, but there's a law in Texas which makes it a felony to transport a live wolf about the state. He could wind up like a fellow I once knew, in the state penitentiary simply because he had a coyote in his possession."

Lockhart said that in 1940 or 1941, he and his son, Carl, were on the Collins ranch, (now the Wilson ranch) on the Borden-Howard County line.

"We caught a big coyote in a trap," he said. "Carl was working nearby building a fence."

"A fellow from Junction City who was trucking posts asked if he could have the animal. Carl said he could, but told him he would do well to let it alone."

The man took the coyote to Kimble County, Lockhart said. A game warden saw the animal and began an investigation.

"Seems that they had been having a lot of wolf trouble in that county and had set up a big bounty—I think $200 a head—for dead ones. Some slicker imported 11 coyotes, claimed he killed them in that county and collected $2,200 in bounties. Officials and ranchers were not very happy."

Dimes, Quarters Lose Their Silver

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's settled now. Future half dollars will look like the present ones, but will contain less silver. Dimes and quarters will have no silver and their copper cores will show in a red line around the rim.

The House made this decision Wednesday after some wild switching of votes. Its bill passed 225 to 151, matches basic provisions of legislation already passed by the Senate. A Senate House Conference will handle minor differences in the bills, but the essentials will remain.

The fireworks came on an amendment to keep some silver in the dime and quarter.

FOLLOWS LEAD
First the House followed the lead of a hard-driving bloc of representatives — many from silver producing states — and overrode the recommendation of its Banking Committee by voting to keep silver in the half dollar.

This was in accordance with President Johnson's recommendation and Senate action. The committee, however, had voted to make the 50-cent piece a sandwich of pure copper faced with cupro-nickel, like the quarter and dime.

The first effort to make quarters and dimes part silver — but reduce the content from 90 to 40 per cent as in the half dollar — failed on a 106-82 standing vote. Then a teller vote was demanded, and when the members walked down the aisle to be counted, it brought a reversal, 122 to 112. Later, on a roll-call, the House switched again, 218 to 187, for the copper-nickel small coins.

MARKS ELIMINATED
The legislation contains several provisions designed to discourage hoarding, collecting and speculation. Individual mint marks are eliminated and dates continued indefinitely, among other things.

The House bill contains a specific five-year prohibition against minting of silver dollars.

The Treasury has said it does not intend to mint any dollars at least until a new commission on coinage reviews the situation. No silver dollars have been minted in more than 30 years. Johnson asked for the legislation because of a silver shortage.

Herald's Story Gets Him Out Of 'Dog House'

Bill Johnson, a Dallas insurance adjuster, is out of the "dog house" with his family because the Big Spring Herald printed a little item about a postal card which he dropped in the mail without an address.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that he has a letter from Johnson, with the Republic Insurance Co. of Dallas, which tells of the happy second development arising from the published item.

"I had just recently returned from Big Spring," Johnson writes, "after a month of adjusting hail storm claims. About a week after I got back in the office, an article clipped from your Big Spring newspaper appeared on my desk. I glanced at it and almost fell out of my chair laughing. I was reading about Nelda, Mark and Marcia."

"Also there was something about a sad-eyed Beagle and a horned toad."

"Thanks to a thoughtful friend, I was able to share in the amusement you must have had when you picked up this card. If it had not been for this article, I am afraid I would have had a difficult time explaining why these three important people failed to hear from me."

Johnson had used up all of the reverse side of the picture postal card for his message and left no room for an address. He also omitted any return address.

Strike-Bound Shipping Lines Drop Sailings

NEW YORK (AP) — Strike-bound shipping lines have canceled sailings of six more ships on which more than 4,000 rev-

The shipping companies also temporarily called off media sessions Wednesday.

The decision by the American Merchant Marine Institute (AMMI) to recess efforts to settle the strike by three unions representing officers followed the announcement by the Maritime Subsidy Board late Tuesday that it had disallowed a number of items in labor contracts previously negotiated.

The board's action cut into the shipping lines' subsidies, which are paid to keep the American merchant marine in competition with foreign ships which have lower wages and other operating costs.

The sailings canceled included the United States, queen of the American Merchant Marine. Moore - McCormack canceled the Scandinavian cruise of the liner Brasil. Grace called off voyages of four Santa ships to the Caribbean.

ONLY A FRACTURE

Reserve 'Chute Opens—Partially

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — "I didn't have time to be scared."

This was Airman Andre Guillet's comment today concerning his July 2 parachute jump from 3,000 feet when his main 'chute failed to open.

The air commando said he "was too busy going through emergency procedures" to worry much about the landing itself.

Part of the emergency procedures involved opening a reserve parachute. But this 'chute, like its larger counterpart, did not function properly. It did, however, open partially and provided Guillet with a small canopy for his trip down.

Asked in an interview what he thought about as he tumbled through space, he replied: "I remembered other people who had been in the same situation."

saying that the landing was hard but not especially painful. "I figured I'd land hard, too. No, I wasn't worried about being hurt. I didn't even think about that."

ONLY A FRACTURE

Guillet did land hard enough, though, to suffer a compression fracture. He said the fracture, a chipped vertebra, was caused by his pitching forward when he hit the ground.

An early hospital report said Guillet was bruised and shaken but apparently not seriously hurt. A more thorough examination, however, revealed the fracture.

A spokesman at Hurlburt Field, an auxiliary of Eglin where Guillet is stationed, termed his landing "near perfect."

He was hospitalized immediately. Doctors said he probably will be released some time next week.

Trustees To Open Bids On Two Projects

Big Spring school trustees will receive bids on additions to Marcy and Kentwood Elementary schools at 5 p.m. Friday in the board meeting room at Tenth and Scurry Streets.

The bids will cover the construction of four additional classrooms, library, and office space at Marcy, and six classrooms, cafeteria, temporary offices and other space at Kentwood.

Several contractors have called for plans and specifications on the two jobs, and a big turnout is expected for the meeting. The additions are being called for under the Master Plan bond program for all schools. Supt. Viets Live Underground

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — For many of South Viet Nam's 14 million people, life underground has become as familiar as life above it.

These are the Viet Cong, their supporters, and the helpless population caught in the cross-fire of war.

For them, mother earth has become a haven. Tunnels, holes and trenches crisscross Viet Nam from North to South.

TRENCH SYSTEM

U.S. paratroopers looked in wonder at the maze-like trench systems and unending tunnels that snaked through the deep jungles of "D" zone, a Communist stronghold north of Saigon.

In virtually every village outside main cities and towns, the rural population has dug air raid shelters. These are sometimes large earthenware jars buried in the ground. More often they are just mudholes to which whole families flee during battles and air strikes.

The Viet Cong has been working on its trench and tunnel systems for 20 years. Using volunteer and forced labor, it has constructed intricate systems, some that stretch up to 20 miles.

A 25-mile-wide belt of land from the Cambodian border to the South China Sea above Saigon is particularly infested with entrenchments. Vietnamese and American troops operating there have found no answer to them.

STRETCH ON

"What can we do?" a U.S. paratrooper officer asked. "These things stretch on forever." Explosives won't do the job, because the Viet Cong can easily dig them out again.

"We have our flamethrowers primed for action, but some of the entrances are so narrow and so deep the flames would blow back on us."

"We have vomit gas and tear gas available for use, but we are not permitted to use that."

A typical Viet Cong village tunnel system could have as many as 30 entrances. Some tunnels have been built as deep as 30 feet.

Sentence For Old Murder

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Alfredo Cervantes will have to serve a 30-year sentence in a Mexican prison for a crime he committed in Texas 13 years ago, an appeals court ruled here Wednesday.

Cervantes was convicted in November of slaying Jacob Floyd Jr. in Alice, Tex. He appealed, alleging the court based its verdict on Texas law.

The appeals court said the trial court referred to Texas law only to show that the act Cervantes was being tried for was also a crime at the place it was committed.

A rarely-used law which permits Mexican courts to try Mexican citizens for a crime committed elsewhere was applied to Cervantes after Texas attempts to have Cervantes returned to Alice for trial were refused.

Chuck Adores Cowboy Image

By CHUCK CONNORS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the first rumors leaked out last May that I was about to begin a new, half-hour Western called "Branded," and in midseason to boot (normally the kiss of death for TV shows), most of my friends in show business said, "Chuck, don't do it. You changed your image in 'Arrest & Trial' — don't change it back to a cowboy, you've gotten by that hurdle."

My reaction was to pick up the nearest pen and sign the "Branded" contract. The reason? After five years of "Riflemen" and one year of "Arrest & Trial" I felt I was in the best position to decide what image I wanted, and I'll take the cowboy every time.

TRUE SYMBOL. Besides being the only true symbol of American male virility, the cowboy is dear to the hearts of the mass American public. And I care a darn sight more for the public's approval than I do for the approval of the arty sophisticates of my own profession. I remember when the "Branded" project became public, I was almost trapped into believing "Arrest & Trial" was very large for me. Lots of show-business people liked it. However, analysis showed that the mass audience was lukewarm.

Result: "Arrest & Trial" was canceled. Ten months later, "Branded" was in the top ten of the Nielsen ratings.

LIKE IT "Arrest & Trial" concerned itself with stories about other people. Ben Gazzara and I were the peripheral characters. "Branded" centers solely on the problems of Jason McCord. That's the way the viewers like it.

"Arrest & Trial" was on a backbreaking, overlapping nine-day shooting schedule. "Branded" is on a relaxed schedule, each segment is filmed in three days. We can easily finish a season's schedule of thirty-two shows in seven months and have five months left to play golf and enjoy life.

I guess it all adds up to my liking the cowboy image immensely. That particular image did pretty well for John Wayne and Gary Cooper.

90-Day Hospital Stay In Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, settling one big difference over the new Social Security health care measure, have agreed on a 90-day hospitalization plan for the elderly.

The agreement came Wednesday at the first conference session to iron out variations of bills passed to set up the $7.3 billion program.

HOUSE VERSION The basic health plan of the House version provided 60 days hospitalization for each spell of illness, with the patient paying in with Social Security, will be the first $40 of the hospital bill. The Senate changed this to provide unlimited hospitalization with the patient paying $10 a day toward the cost after the first 60 days. It retained the House plan for the first 60 days. The conferees drew a compromise which keeps the first 60 days with a $40 deductible and adds 30 days with the $10-a-day payment.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., July 15, 1965 5-A available to the 19 million persons 65 or older.

TWO OTHERS The conferees accepted two other provisions in the Senate bill dealing with nursing home care after a hospital stay and the number of authorized home health visits.

The first provision allows 100 days of nursing home care with the patient paying $5 of the cost of each day after 20. The House would have provided as few as 20 nursing home days.

The other Senate provision accepted by the conference authorizes 175 home health visits, compared with 100 in the House version. But the conference kept a House requirement that these visits be authorized only after a three-day hospital stay.

Gabriel For Yule Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Christmas postage stamps you'll be licking in about another five months will show the archangel Gabriel blowing his horn.

For the first time in the four-year history of Christmas stamps, a religious theme will be prominent.

The decision to depict Gabriel sounding his trumpet follows the best legal advice Postmaster General John A. Gronouski could find on whether such a stamp would be constitutional.

Federal Eyes On Bogalusa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that a presidential adviser is working on the civil rights problems in Bogalusa, La., and an assistant attorney general is being sent there to discuss the situation with all parties concerned.

John Doar, assistant attorney general who heads the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division, is going to Bogalusa.

Lee White, the President's chief counsel, is studying the situation.

In announcing this, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said President Johnson had talked by telephone with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach. He added that while the President wants to help in Bogalusa he feels this is a local dispute that will have to be solved by the local people.

The White House acknowledged receipt of a telegram from Mayor Jesse C. Rios of Bogalusa who appealed to the President to "use your office to assist this helpless city that is being so unfairly attacked."

Cutler said his town of 23,000 "is under unjust and unfair massive assaults by the Congress of Racial Equality."

Another telegram received by the White House, Moyers said, was from a private group of civil rights people, which he identified as the Voters League.

Jury Being Selected For Trial Of Rios

A jury was being selected at noon today in the trial of Daniel A. Rios, charged with murder with a motor vehicle. Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, called the case up at 10:30 a.m.

Rios is charged with being the driver of the car which caused the traffic death March 4, of Albert D. Grantham, 58, well-known Howard County farmer.

This is the first case to go to a jury since the sanity trial last Tuesday which found Antonio DeLeon sane.

A jury panel, which had dwindled to 19, was augmented by a talesman call which originally produced 20 prospective jurors. When the Rios trial actually got under way, Judge Caton had only 29 panel members in court. This was a dangerously low number and there was a possibility that a jury might not be seated from that many prospective jurors.

If so, additional talesmen will have to be called.

Rites Held For Mrs. Montelongo

Graveside rites were held at 4 p.m. today in City Cemetery for Mrs. Casimira V. Montelongo, 72, of 411 NW 4th, who died Tuesday in a local hospital. Funeral mass was read at 9 a.m. today at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. James Delaney read the mass.

Mrs. Montelongo was born Feb. 4, 1893 in Mulato, Old Mexico, and has lived in Howard County since 1922.

Minor Mishaps Are Reported

Three accidents were reported by police Wednesday afternoon, but no injuries were listed.

Heavy damage was sustained to two vehicles in a Wednesday afternoon accident on FM 700, 100 feet east of Virginia. A car driven by Wilburn J. Bassinger, 36, Colorado City, received $480 estimated damage to its right side, when in collision with a car driven by Larry Charles Wallace, 17, Box 85, Ackerly, while turning east on FM 700. The Wallace car, which received about $350 damages to its front end, was traveling east on FM 700, police said.

A car driven by Mrs. Sidney Boyles, 68, 1307 Runnels, making a turn into a business, in the 1400 block of South Gregg, received damage to the right front when it was in collision with a parked car owned by Billy Howell, Route 1. The Howell car received slight damage to the left rear.

Jack Sparks, 2102 Scurry, reported a fence back of his home had been damaged by a car, which disappeared after hitting the fence.

Three Guilty Pleas Heard

Three pleas of guilty and two bond forfeitures kept any need for jury duty arising in Howard County Court today.

Three Negro women, charged with shoplifting, pleaded guilty. There were Dorothy Ann Sherman, Ruth Atkins and Frankie Green Evans. Each was fined $50 and costs by Judge Lee Porter.

Bonds in the cases of Robert Villareal, accused of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and that of Guy Trocana, charged with writing a worthless check, were ordered forfeited. Neither showed up when his name was called in court.

Seven cases are set Friday. Next week on July 20 and 21 appeal cases on file before the court will be handled.

Book Salesman Forfeits Bonds

Larry Glen Michel, 19, was arrested at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday by police, after they had been called by a resident in the 4000 block of Parkway.

He was charged with soliciting encyclopedias without a permit, and soliciting after hours. The complainant told police Michel had argued with her about the books, and that she finally had to shut the door in his face in order to get rid of him.

Michel, who said he represented Colliers Encyclopedia's Abilene office, forfeited two $25 bonds this morning, according to Police Chief Jay Banks.

Pleads Guilty To Two Offenses

Clifford Fountain, charged with two counts of worthless check writing, pleaded guilty to both offenses in Howard County Court Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Lee Porter sentenced the man to serve 20 days and pay costs in the first case and 40 days and costs in the second. He was remanded to the county jail.

A charge of theft by bailor, for which Fountain has been indicted by the Howard County grand jury, also pends against him. He was indicted July 1. A bond of $1,500 has been set.

A BULLET LODGED IN HIS HEART
Lorenzo Jackson wins skirmish with death.

Jackson Leaves Hospital, Bullet Still In His Heart

By SAM BLACKBURN
Lorenzo Jackson, 21, should be dead.

At 3:45 p.m. June 26, he was shot in the heart with a .25 caliber pistol. The slug lodged in the cavity called the left ventricle. It is still there.

Today, 19 days after he was wounded, Lorenzo Jackson walked out of the Cowper Clinic and Hospital. The slug which penetrated his heart is still embedded in the muscular portion of that organ.

REST OF LIFE
He will bear that leaden memento of his brush with death the remainder of his life.

His surgeon, Dr. Quentin J. Florence, ordered his release from the hospital. The doctor said that Jackson is sufficiently recovered to go to his home but that another three weeks will have to elapse before Jackson can resume work. The doctor suggests that light work will have to be the slender Jackson's forte for a time.

Jackson was shot by another man as he sat on a chair in front of a roadside establishment. At the impact of the bullet, Jackson said he leaped to his feet and ran.

"I must have run about a 100 feet before I fell," he said.

When he reached the hospital, he had lost so much blood that his blood pressure was practically zero. Immediate surgery was required. Jackson was not unconscious, however.

BLOOD NEEDED
Blood was badly needed and a radio appeal was sounded for volunteers. This posed a problem. A day or so before, a blood bank had been operated here with the result all of the regular volunteer donors had given blood. They could not repeat.

"We got at least 50 volunteers in no time at all," said a hospital attaché.

Five pints of blood were used while Jackson was on the operating table.

The surgeon said that normally a wound of this kind results in a heavy loss of blood into the sac which surrounds the heart. Ultimately, he said, pressure will become so high in the sac as to prevent blood from re-entering the heart. The heart generally ceases to beat when this occurs.

NO PRESSURE
In Jackson's case, the bullet hole in the membrane sac and the one in the left ventricle wall matched and the build-up of pressure did not develop. The blood leaked out into the lung. The heart continued to thump.

Dr. Florence opened the chest, cut into the sac and lifted the heart out to see if the bullet had passed through. There was no wound on the back side. He closed the wound on the heart wall, and halted bleeding.

X-rays showed the bullet reposing on the muscles which operate the valve in the ventricle. As long as it stays where it is, the surgeon said, Jackson will have no trouble. If it shifts, he may ultimately have to have surgery to remove it.

The important thing about the case, Dr. Florence said, was that a man shot in the heart is still alive with the bullet still in the organ.

"That," he adds, "and the fact that there was no way now we can go in and repair such damage."

MISSED AORTA
The bullet, he said, barely missed the vital aorta. If it had struck this, Jackson's tenure in life would be over.

This factor and the lucky break which kept the blood from building up pressure inside the sac, also contributed to the man's survival.

Jackson is married. He and his wife Anita, and their two children, Shirley, 2, and Lorenzo Jr., 1, live at 906 NW 2nd.

Jackson, walking about the hospital corridor today before his release, was wondering where he was going to find a job and how long before he could get back to work.

Highway Accident Injuries Are Fatal

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—George Yeager, 75, of Boerne died at Santa Rosa Hospital here today of injuries suffered in an April 29 highway accident.

Rainfall Skips Around Area

Rainfall came closer last night with some light showers reported in scattered areas in the county and neighboring areas.

Clouds began forming around the area about 6 p.m., and by 10 p.m. some rains were reported in various sectors.

Reports this morning showed Coahoma with 20 inch; Chalk with 21, Lamesa 12 and traces in other areas. To the east, at Texas Electric Service Co. Eskota plant, 25 inch fell.

Forecasts this morning called for more late afternoon and evening thundershowers today and Friday in about 20 per cent of the West Texas area.

Hot temperatures and drying winds have taken their tolls of lawns in Big Spring, and some farmers are beginning to cast their eyes toward the skies for signs of possible moisture. Ranges are drying out fast.

Only $30 In Gifts Listed

Only $30 in gifts to the new Howard County Rehabilitation Center were reported today. The equipping drive for the center's new building at Third and Lancaster, began last month, still hovers around the half-way mark—$10,132.62.

Today's donors are A. F. Tautz, $25; and Mrs. Doris Perkins, $5.
Center officials have asked that prospective donors, such as individuals, groups and firms consider giving actual rehabilitative equipment rather than money, though cash gifts are welcomed.

For additional information, those interested in aiding the center may call AM 3-2880, or visit the center office.

Warren Named To Committee

Dr. Loren Warren, Big Spring, has been appointed a member of the public health committee of the Texas State Chiropractic Association, it was announced today.

All 1965-66 committee members have been invited to attend a district officers conference in Austin, July 24, at which time a program of activity for the forthcoming year will be explained to the officers of the 12 chiropractic districts in Texas.

Demo Study Group May Need Honing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Study Group, the liberal Democrats' special organization in the House, may be in the odd position of needing just a bit of party adversity to keep it honed up to what it considers full effectiveness.

Grown from a little band of self-named marauders in 1957, the group—DSG for short—now enrolls a majority of the Democrats in the House. It won its spurs inching out victories over the old coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. Now it sees President Johnson's legislative proposals sailing serenely through a House where the administration party, since last November's election, has a better than 2-1 edge.

"MUCH NEEDED"
The chairman of the study group, Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. of New Jersey, says it is as much needed as ever, and keeps proving its worth convincingly, if not spectacularly.

"If we weren't providing the hard core of votes, those margins wouldn't be so impressive," Thompson said in an interview, "and look at the vote on the Housing and Urban Development Department—we went all out on that and we needed it."

The proposal for the new Cabinet department won 217-184 in the House — much closer than some other major administration measures.

The last Congress had twice denied President John F. Kennedy's request for similar legislation. For Southerners, it had a racial issue, because Kennedy announced in advance he intended to name a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, to head it. Weaver, then and now head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, is still considered in the running to become the first Negro in the Cabinet.

FAST RELAY
When Thompson spoke of going all out for a bill, he meant among other things using to the full DSG's chain-telephone system. Its operators contend that a message, usually "Get to the floor, we need your vote," can be relayed to all 165 DSG members in three minutes.

The liberal wing of the Democratic party used to lose votes because the more determined Southerners stayed in town and in the Capitol to make their bloc strength count.

A group of Northern and Western Democrats, worried about the success of the coalition, formed the forerunner of DSG in 1957. Lee Metcalf of Montana, who subsequently moved to the Senate, was one of the main organizers, and the band was for a time known as "Metcalf's Marauders."

Two years later the organization set itself up formally and adopted the study group name, partly because it conducts legislative studies, but largely because it wanted a low-key designation to discourage any belief it was out to challenge the regular party leadership.

Legionnaires Here Oppose Closing Any VA Hospitals

An important meeting of the American Legion is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at the Legion Home, according to Tim Jones, commander.

The Post will select and organize its delegation to the July 23-25 meeting of the state organization in El Paso, and will consider any resolutions that the Post might wish to carry with them. The Post is expected to strongly endorse the resolution concerning curtailment of Veterans Administration medical care services that was passed by the 19th District convention, held in Big Spring in April, and will ask for a complete re-examination before closing any facilities necessary to fulfilling the mission of medical care as provided in the G.I. Bill.

The American Legion analysis has questioned any actual money saving in the proposed closings and is protesting the added burden of disabled veterans in having to travel to remote areas for the regular treatments of service-connected disabilities as provided for by the Congress.

Apparently the Big Spring VA Hospital, serving a wide area, is not affected, but the Big Spring Post, being familiar with the need of the veteran, will advocate retaining all services necessary to providing adequate care in these cases.

Tonight's meeting will kick off the "Early Bird" membership drive for 1966 dues. The Big Spring Post has always been a leader in securing new and renewal memberships early, so that the new officer may have a vote of confidence and support, and the Post traditionally carries 100 or more next year members to the state convention.

Foy Dunlap and Incoming Vice-Commander Byron Hill have announced a membership dance Saturday night at the Legion Home, with admission on a new dues receipt at the door. Thirty of the needed "Early Bird" memberships are in and the dance is expected to complete the total. Featured will be Sgt. Ervin Vetter on the organ.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thundershowers are expected Thursday night in the north and central Plains and from the Tennessee valley into the mid-Atlantic states. It will be cooler from the Ohio valley into the middle and north Atlantic states and milder in the northern Plains area. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Married Actress: 'I'm Still Alone'

By DORIS KLEIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What happens when Hollywood's leading bachelor-girl gets married?

"She doesn't see much of her husband," complains Angie Dickinson.

"I was home alone again the other night, and I figured that in 49 days of marriage I'd seen Burt only 21."

Angie, of the perfect legs and red-haired, sultry style, gave up dates with such bachelors as Frank Sinatra and producer Charlie Feldman to marry composer-conductor Burt Bacharach last May.

The marriage took place at 3:30 a.m. on a Saturday in a Las Vegas wedding chapel. They honeymooned the rest of that day and the next in Palm Springs.

WROTE SCORE Early the next Monday morning, Angie reported to work at Columbia to play Marlon Brando's wife in "The Chase."

Burt went east to work on "What's New Pussycat," for which he wrote the score.

"I've seen more of Marlon than I have of Burt lately," said Angie.

This is the girl who told a reporter just a year ago:

"It's not that marriage would be bad for my career. My career would be bad for marriage."

But Angie, wearing a thin gold wedding band and a bridal glow, says she's taking these words back.

"Burt and I have both decided that we won't let our careers interfere with our marriage," she said. "Just in the short time we've been married, we've turned down offers that would have kept us apart."

Both she and Burt were confirmed bachelors before they met, said Angie. Both had been married before.

"A MIRACLE" "It's a miracle we ever got together," she said. "We were both tired of that routine of dating just for the sake of dating. Actually, I spent a lot of time at home because I preferred it that way."

Then Angie met Burt's father, columnist Bert Bacharach, and mother at a party and they suggested she meet their son.

"It was just for a cautious drink," said Angie. "Later Burt told me he had the advantage — he'd seen pictures of me."

What was Burt's appeal? "I could say it was because he's so talented," said Angie.

"But that wouldn't be true. I've known lots of talented men and I haven't liked a lot of them."

"Burt's just fun and wonderful."

ROK Turns Down Elections Request

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean government today rejected opposition demands for new parliamentary elections before the National Assembly takes up the question of ratifying the recent Japan-South Korea amity treaty.

Child Threat Jails Father

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officers have arrested a man who threatened to kill his two children in a Roman Catholic church at Lytle, 20 miles southwest of here.

The man, carrying a rifle, was seen entering the church with his children Sunday night. Officers, armed with tear gas, surrounded the building, but the man managed to slip out of the church.

He was later arrested at the home of a brother in San Antonio.

No charges were filed. Officers said the man would undergo sanity tests.

Spahn Says: I Can Help

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Spahn was looking for a job to do after 74-year-old Casey Stengel decided the 44-year-old left-hander was taking up valuable space in the New York Mets youth movement.

Spahn, who came to the Mets last November after starting for 20 years with the Braves first in Boston and later in Milwaukee, had lost eight straight and was 4-12 with a 4.43 earned run average when the Mets asked waivers on him Wednesday.

"I know I can still help a big league club," Spahn said Wednesday night. "Physically I feel fine and my arm feels strong. I'll take an oath on it. There isn't any reason why I can't pitch creditably for any club in the big leagues."

WARREN SPAHN

Stengel, who will be 75 next week, told Spahn several days ago that he no longer would be considered a regular starting pitcher. "We want to give the younger men on our roster an opportunity in the youth development program," Stengel said.

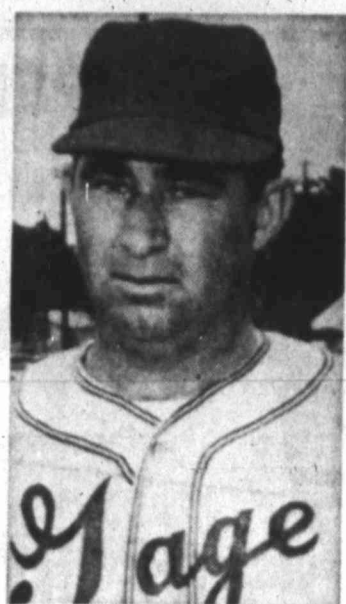

Spahn, who has won 360 games and is tied for sixth place in the regular season with Kid Nichols, offered to become a relief pitcher. "I'm willing to go to the bullpen," he told Stengel. "I feel I can work my way back to starting." But the offer was rejected.

Spahn, who doubled as pitching coach, received $73,500 for his dual role. The Mets first place his name on the regular waiver list where a claim would cost $20,000. When there were no takers, at that price, he was put up for a nominal $1 fee, for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release. That makes him free to make a deal for himself.

"This was not a move born of economy," Met General Manager George Weiss said. "We purchased him from Milwaukee knowing his salary. We thought he would help our club."

Spahn did help for awhile. He won two of his first three starts, beating Los Angeles and San Francisco. Then he lost a 1-0 game to Philadelphia when opposing pitcher Jim Bunning hit a home run for the only run of the game. The Dodgers beat him twice by 2-1 scores, once behind Sandy Koufax and once with Don Drysdale.

The veteran hurler's last victory came against Philadelphia May 24 but he has dropped eight of 10 starts since then.

Hubbers Host Gage Sunday

The Big Spring Gage Oilers face one of their roughest tests of the season Sunday in Lubbock, at which time they oppose that city's Hubbers in a baseball double header.

The Oilers are 8-4 for the year. Lubbock, managed by the veteran I. B. Palmer, is 11-3.

Palmer will divide catching duties with Buddy Hampton, an Oklahoma State University athlete.

Lubbock's infield will include such names as Joe Vick, former pro at Ballinger; Ken Castle, who performed for Texas Tech; Dennis Willett, formerly of the Houston Astros' organization; Donnie Bumpass, Oklahoma State; and Billy Monk, Texas Tech.

Outfielders for the Hubbers will be Bruce Boyd, Darne Richey and Ron Arrington, all of Texas Tech.

Palmer can call upon such men as Art Whitaker, Baylor; Danny McDougal, Oklahoma State; Tommy Toombs, Lubbock Monterey; and Frank Ray, Texas Tech, for pitching duties.

Boyd, Willett and Palmer are regarded as the club's top hitters. The two teams will clash at Lowery Field, which is on the south side of Lubbock. The first contest gets under way at 1:30 p.m.

Lady Sports Writer Was Tomboy While A Child

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The lady is a veteran sports writer with a key to most any door in the sports world — except the dressing room interview.

"That's still my No. 1 problem," Mary Garber admitted. "But I send a boy in to get the coach or athlete I want to interview, and the coaches are very nice about it."

Wake Forest basketball Coach Bones McKinney usually holds his postgame news conference outside the dressing room — for Miss Mary.

The Mary Garber byline on sports stories — including football and basketball games — has been familiar to readers of the Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinel for 20 years.

She became a sports writer "by default" during World War II when most male writers were in the armed services.

"They had to have someone, and I've just stayed at it," she said.

When she was a child, Miss Garber played "all the little girl sports" and admittedly was a tomboy.

"I guess I'm just a frustrated athlete," she added.

Entrance to some press boxes was restricted to men when Miss Garber first started reporting sports events. But all that is changed in the Winston-Salem area now, and she is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference Sportswriters Association.

"Some coaches and athletes were flabbergasted at first at a Miss Garber remembering being asked by a coach to sew up the pants of a high school basketball player."

"I never was very good with a needle, but they stayed up for woman should at least be able to work out."

But even coaches think a woman should at least be able to work out.

"I guess I'm just a frustrated athlete," she added.

Red Barr, famed swimming coach at SMU, will be flown here Friday, for a swim clinic starting at 2:15 p.m. The clinic will continue until about 7 p.m. Tim Bernie, an All-American swimmer for Southern Methodist, will accompany Barr here and take part in the clinic. Bernie is a back stroke specialist at the Dallas school.

Two Mentors Move To Fort Stockton

FORT STOCKTON — John Crouch and Al Parsons, both of Levelland, have been named to varsity coaching positions at Fort Stockton High School.

Crouch was an all-conference end at TCU while Parsons is a graduate of Sul Ross.

The two coaches have been at Levelland the past six years.

Publinx's 'Old Men' Test Lads

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Experience and local knowledge get tested today against youthful stamina in the third and quarter-final rounds of the 40th National Public Links Golf Championship.

Tournament medalist Stan Poploski, 43-year-old real estate man, and two other Pittsburgh area players who know every blade of grass on the hilly, 6,781-yard North Park golf course were among four survivors of the first two rounds of match play who are over 40.

The pairings today mixed them with 11 other players 31 or younger, most of them college students who have never played in a national tournament.

In the "old men" category along with Poploski were Andy Jacob, 50-year-old government materials inspector from Pittsburgh; George Roney, 47-year-old truck driver from nearby McKees Rocks; and 40-year-old Hubert Farmer of Wilmette, Ill., making his 13th appearance in a National Publinx tournament.

None of the old timers seemed bothered by the daily grind over North Park's rugged, sun-scorched hills. But some effect showed in younger players.

"It's worse than last year, that's sure," said 21-year-old defending champion Billy McDonald of Topeka, Kan., who only had to go 29 holes Wednesday to eliminate Dick Hardcastle of Warson Woods, Mo., 4 and 3, and Bob Petersen, 23-year-old student from Minneapolis, 5 and 4.

Poploski meets 24-year-old Leo Zampedro, Warren, Ohio, fireman who carded a 33 going out Wednesday afternoon for the tournament's best nine, in today's third round.

Jacob goes against Rafus Grier, a youngster from Dayton, Ohio; Roney meets 31-year-old Les Wimp, an Air Force veteran from Tempe, Ariz., and Farmer is paired with Arne Dokka, 21-year-old senior at California State in Los Angeles.

McDonald meets Jim Schroder, a 19-year-old student from San Francisco.

Relieves gas pains.

If a friend, puffed with pride, tells you he gets 28 miles to the gallon in the Volkswagen, you should reply: "Tsk-tsk." Because most folks in everyday driving get about 32 miles per gallon in a VW. 32 miles per gallon of regular gas. Of course, even if your friend does drive up to the gas pump more often than necessary, still he is saving in other important ways: he saved when he bought his beetle, and his VW is depreciating less than any other car. He seldom adds oil between changes. He spends nothing on anti-freeze, radiator or hose expenses. So he wastes gas with a heavy foot, he's still probably getting 40,000 miles to a set of tires. And inexpensive spare parts. And when he needs repairs (which isn't often), it doesn't end up costing him a fortune. Maybe you shouldn't say "Tsk-tsk" after all.

(*Our price on a new Volkswagen sedan is only $1659. That includes everything except license and local tax. Optional leatherette upholstery is only $30 extra.)

Triumphant Moment

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois holds up hand in triumph gesture after his nomination to presidential ticket in 1952. He died Wednesday at 65 in London. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Adlai --- Man Of Sparkling Wit, Brilliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Few men ever disliked campaigning so heartily and did so much of it as Adlai E. Stevenson in two unsuccessful races for the presidency.

The man who was the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956 and who died in London Wednesday left behind him a legacy of "talking sense to the American people" — even if they didn't want to hear it at the time.

BRILLIANT MIND
His sparkling wit, his quick, brilliant mind, his unwavering integrity and his ability to wrap his ideas in shimmering packages of words survived Stevenson's distaste for what he once called "choice by hubbalooboo" in the election of presidents.

Stevenson said the candidate had to "write at every chance, think if possible, read mail and newspapers, talk on the telephone, talk to everybody and ride through city after city on the back of an open car, smiling until your mouth is dehydrated by the wind, waving until the blood runs out of your arms."

Then, he went on, the candidate had to "bounce gaily, confidently, masterfully into great howling halls, shaved and all made up for television with the right color shirt and tie — I always forgot — and a manuscript so defaced with chicken tracks and last-minute jottings that you couldn't follow it, even if the spotlights weren't blinding and even if the still photographers didn't shoot you in the eye everytime you looked at them."

Stevenson desperately wanted to avoid taking the nomination in 1952 and run for re-election as governor of Illinois, where he felt he was getting his teeth into an important job.

SHOVED IN
But circumstances and Harry S. Truman prevailed to shove Stevenson into a 1952 contest with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

At the beginning, Stevenson hadn't felt he and Eisenhower were far apart on foreign policy. But in 1956 he campaigned desperately for the nomination because he felt that the Republican administration was letting world leadership slip through its fingers.

Again there was defeat. As Stevenson quipped, it hurt too much for him to smile and he was too old to cry.

CDA Funds Cut Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected 72-13 today an effort by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, to slice $35 million off proposed appropriations for the Civil Defense Agency.

Young, long a critic of the program, sought to cut a $124 million allowance voted by the Senate Appropriations Committee to $89 million. The House voted $89 million for the agency as part of a $142 billion independent offices money bill.

Young called the fall-out shelter program a "boondoggle." Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said that since the government had embarked on a program of marking shelter areas in private and public buildings it ought to complete the job.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., said that the cutback proposed by Young would fall heavily on state and local employees, paid in part with federal funds. He said 2,270 would have to be discharged.

Capital Services For Adlai Set; Burial To Be In Illinois

LONDON (AP) — The body of Adlai E. Stevenson lay in the U.S. Embassy in London today as Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and the fallen statesman's three sons flew to the British capital to bring him home for burial.

Stevenson — eloquent spokesman for U.S. policy at the United Nations since 1961, twice the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for president, and a former governor of Illinois — collapsed and died Wednesday outside the U.S. Embassy. He was 65.

The embassy, informed the State Department that death was due to a heart attack.

HONOR GUARD
Stevenson's flag-draped coffin was placed in the central hall of the embassy on Grosvenor Square this morning, watched over by an honor guard of two American and two British servicemen.

Members of the embassy staff and of the British government were to pay their respects beside the coffin, but the embassy said the body was not officially lying in state. The front doors of the embassy were closed and sorrowing Britons and Americans who called to pay their respects to one of Britain's favorite Americans signed a condolence book.

President Johnson sent Humphrey in the presidential plane to take the body to Washington tonight. There were tentative plans for a service in the National Cathedral Friday.

GO ALONG
Among those accompanying Humphrey were Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Stevenson's sons, Adlai III, John Fell and Borden, and the wives of Adlai III and John.

After the Washington service, the body will be flown to Springfield, Ill., to lie in state. It was there Stevenson served as governor of Illinois from 1948 until 1952.

On Sunday, the body will be taken to Bloomington, Ill., where the statesman grew up. Funeral services and burial in the family plot will take place Monday.

Leaders across the world mourned the loss of the urbane intellectual whose moving eloquence and sparkling wit made him a noted speaker and formidable debater.

AT HALF STAFF
President Johnson ordered flags flown at half staff until after the funeral of his longtime friend and political colleague.

"America has lost its most eloquent spirit, its finest voice. The world of freedom and human dignity has lost its most articulate champion," Johnson said.

Johnson urged Americans to "weep for one who was a friend and guide to all mankind."

"His sudden death was a blow to us all," said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, in a message to Johnson. He recalled that Stevenson had visited him on Saturday and "I was impressed once again by his wit, his wisdom and his friendship for this country." Sorrow spread through the U.N. headquarters in New York, where Stevenson had been the voice of the United States for more than four years. Secretary-General U Thant said the chief U.S. delegate had earned the respect and admiration of all his colleagues for "his extraordinary human qualities." There was talk of a memorial service in the General Assembly hall.

"TRAGIC NOTE"

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who defeated Stevenson for the presidency in 1952 and 1956, said his death struck "a tragic note for all Americans." Former President Harry S. Truman said he was "shocked and saddened." Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said that "in the graceful eloquence of his public statements he had no peers and very few equals."

Correspondent Eric Sevareid of the Columbia Broadcasting

System said Stevenson told him Monday night he wanted to resign from his U.N. post. In a broadcast from London, Sevareid said Stevenson told him, "for a while I would just like to sit in the shade with a glass of wine in my hands and watch people dance."

The ambassador said he planned to return to law practice in New York and Chicago but he wasn't sure how or when to tell Johnson he wanted to quit, Sevareid said.

Stevenson had stopped off in London en route home from a Geneva meeting of the U.N. Economic and Social Council. His stay attracted little attention, but there were indications that he was conferring on a possible new Western initiative on disarmament linked to the surprise Soviet agreement to resume arms talks in Geneva.

On Monday night, he appeared in a brief television interview to defend U.S. policy in Viet Nam. Just before he died

American Major Wounded

An American major is aided into a helicopter for evacuation today after he was wounded during a Viet Cong mortar and recoilless rifle barrage on a Vietnamese command post at Bau Bang. Two Americans and 20

South Vietnamese troops were reported killed in the hour-long barrage along Route 13, about 35 miles north of Saigon. (AP WIRE- PHOTO)

Cong Barrage Attack Kills Two Yanks, 20 Vietnamese

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas killed two Americans and at least 20 South Vietnamese troops today in an hour-long barrage attack on a government command post 35 miles north of Saigon, eyewitnesses reported. The guerrillas laid down their barrage with 81mm mortars and 57mm recoilless rifles on the Vietnamese unit engaged in a road clearing operation along Route 13 in an area controlled by the Viet Cong, informants at the scene said.

There was no ground assault, and all contact apparently was broken off after the barrage ended.

RELIEF FORCE

A relief force was lifted into the area by helicopter several hours after the pre-dawn battle. It found the bodies of the Vietnamese soldiers and the two Americans scattered around the command post at the edge of the tiny village of Bau Bang.

One wounded American also was found, and there were at least 20 wounded, witnesses said.

The wreckage of at least five armored personnel carriers that had been positioned around the command post lay strewn over the area.

Earlier reports said that the government force was hit by a battalion of guerrillas. A battalion usually numbers between 300 and 500 men.

McNAMARA DUE

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was en route from Washington to Saigon for a week-long inspection visit. It was learned in Washington that the trip would have a bearing on a unanimous recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to boost the strength of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam to 179,000 by the end of the year, 104,000 more than the 75,000 now scheduled for Viet Nam.

CHANGE PLANS

"The situation is changing and as it changes we must change our plans," McNamara told a news conference Wednesday.

FFA Names Top Farmer

HOUSTON (AP)—Ronny Wood of Sulphur Springs has been named top Lone Star Farmer in the state by the Texas Future Farmers of America. Wood was selected from a group of 10 candidates considered the best of 800 boys applying for state farm degrees at the 37th annual state FFA convention which opened Wednesday.

Lone Star farm degrees will be presented tonight.

Nick Achille of the Santa Fe chapter at Alta Loma was selected to represent Texas in the national star American farmer contest. He will compete against winners from other states at the national convention in Kansas City next October.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith told the young farmers their FFA training is a down payment on the future.

Nasser Asks About Seeing Khrushchev

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser—scheduled to visit the Soviet Union next month—has asked whether it will be possible for him to see deposed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, informed sources said today.

Girl Testifies In Fullback's Assault Trial

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old girl testified today that Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns fullback, slapped her in the face hard on two occasions prior to the one in which she has charged him with assault and battery.

Brenda Ayres said in cross-examination at Brown's trial today that she did not report these alleged slappings to police or tell her mother about them.

Both are Negroes.

MORNING RECESS

The fourth day of Brown's trial began late and was slowed by a late morning recess of one-half hour as defense attorneys continued cross-examination Wednesday afternoon.

Then Miss Ayres, a slim girl weighing 108 pounds, left the witness stand ill and faint. She had testified Brown slapped her around in a motel room the night of June 19 and forced her to perform an unnatural sex act.

FURTHERS ACCUSATION

In addition to the unnatural act, the shapely teenager accused the 29-year-old athlete of plying her with five drinks of whisky, then forcing her to have sex relations with him on two occasions.

She has charged the Cleveland Browns' 280-pound fullback with assault and battery. He pleaded innocent and asked for the jury trial, which opened Monday in Judge Blanche Krupansky's Municipal Court.

'Good Citizen' Is A Fugitive

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Charlie Kemp, a Negro, has developed the reputation of an exemplary citizen and a pillar in his church. Fort Myers citizens are indignant about the possibility of his extradition.

Burns said Sanders apparently was unaware of Kemp's good conduct in Florida when the Georgia governor routinely signed a request asking Burns to extradite the Negro. But Sanders is aware of it now.

Kemp, 62, was serving a life term for murder when he escaped from a Bibb County, Ga., work gang in 1939, a month after he was sentenced. The details of the slaying have not been found and Kemp has not spoken of it even to his wife.

Mrs. Kemp had five children when they married in 1944 and the Kems now are raising two grandchildren, although Kemp is plagued by arthritis, rheumatism and rib injuries suffered in an automobile accident which led to his discovery.

Govs. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia and Haydon Burns of Florida must decide what to do.

Soviet Accused Of Persecutions

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional resolution accuses the Soviet Union and other eastern European countries of persecuting some of their Christian, Jewish and Muslim citizens.

The resolution urges these governments "to cease such persecution and to permit full and free exercise of religion and related cultural pursuits by all persons."

Mrs. R. O. Linn described club awards to be sought, giving qualifications to be met, and Mrs. Tubbs spoke briefly on care of mums, stressing mulching as protection from hot weather but advised fertilizing first. Systematic poisoning was highly recommended.

A lecture-demonstration was given by Mrs. Guy Cook, student judge, on the use of color in design, with emphasis on basic color harmonies—monochromatic, analogous and complementary. She defined color as a visual sensation, and hue a specific color; the value is tints, light and delicate, and tones, darker; and the chroma, brilliance. Varying tints, tones and chroma should be used in arranging rather than one intensity throughout.

A monochromatic arrangement uses at least three but no more than six tints and tones of one hue. An analogous uses hues adjacent on the color wheel, similar but not identical, and only one primary color. A complimentary arrangement uses only the two hues—any two—directly opposite on the color wheel.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a beige linen cloth having lace inserts, and centered with an "arrangement of laughter," using zinnias, iris and fig foliage. Next meeting will be Aug. 11 in the home of Mrs. Bill Swindell, 1012 E. 21st, when each member will furnish an arrangement to be judged.

Fashions Are Heady For Fall

A pink velvet baby doll cap with ostrich rosettes and a chin strap, left, and a head-molding brown turban under an LBJ rolled brim were among the hat styles for the fall shown at a preview of the Millinery Institute in New York last week.

The helmet, borrowed from the astronauts, and the modified brims of the ten gallon hats of President Johnson were popular in the new designs. (AP WIREPHOTO)

A Look At The Latest

Models sport creations of controversial French designer Andre Courreges during New York fashion show Monday. Baby doll dresses of Courreges inspired petticoat, left, with black criss-cross piping. Girl at right wears exaggerated sun glasses to spoof Courreges, whose Paris models never face runways without hiding their eyes. She also wears tweed and white shift and white boots, American adaptation of the French designer's style. Costumes were part of Burlington Mills fashion show for some 250 fashion writers. HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Hello-ease Board' Simple To Make

Ladies, I have a great idea:
Go to your local lumber yard and ask the dealer if you may look through his pile of scrap lumber.

Try to find a piece of plywood 20 inches wide and at least 24 inches long. (We found this to be the best size).

After you get home, take this piece of plywood and wrap it in a piece of an old blanket, a scrap from an old quilt or a few thicknesses of worn-out towels, etc. Thumb-tack or staple the padding to the bottom of the board.

Then cover it with two pieces of heavy, quilted foil (on use about four thicknesses of regular foil), and over that, put a piece of old sheet or some type of thin material.

Keep this by the side of your ironing board... and you will have a "Hello-ease board"!

You can shake out all the men's handkerchiefs, or your dinner napkins, etc., pile them on top of the board, and iron away like lightning.

You can put it up under a gathered skirt or a shirt, and iron away like mad.

You can put it across the middle of your ironing board for those little tricky pieces where your ironing board needs to be looked through his pile of scrap lumber.

I think you will agree with me that this board is one of the handiest gadgets in your entire house. (I made mine for less than 20 cents, as I bought the three-ply plywood from a pile of scrap lumber.)... Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I'm getting smart in my old age.

Now that summer's here, and I will gradually get a tan, I bought a small box of dark face powder and add a little at a time to my regular powder as the summer progresses.

At the end of summer, when I start fading, I reverse the process. It's a great economy... E. Adams

Dear Heloise:
Here is a hint for mothers who buy a whole watermelon and can't fit it all in the refrigerator...

Cut up the part that won't fit in the refrigerator into bite-size pieces, and put them into plastic containers that fit more easily in the refrigerator.

These watermelon pieces are perfect for children's lunches, snacks, and for picnics...

Dear Heloise:
I have a simple game for a bridal shower which I think you and your readers will be interested in.

The hostess announces that each guest will pretend she is the bride-elect's chosen color of blue and white. The serving table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and featured a centerpiece arrangement of white roses in a milk glass container.

The honoree wore a two-piece aqua blue suit with black accessories, and was presented a hostesses gift of a blue carnation corsage and an electric toaster.

Other honored guests were the fiancée's mother, Mrs. Leslie Steward, and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Lily Worthan.

The couple plans to be married July 16 at the Westside Baptist Church.

Heloise. She passes out a three-by-five-inch card and a pencil to each guest, and each one is asked to write her own favorite helpful hint (or recipe) on the card. The hostess then collects the cards and gives them to the bride-to-be to read aloud.

We all benefit, and the conversation sparkles all around the room.

The bride may put the cards in a little recipe box, and have something with our names on as a remembrance.

The game may be adapted to baby showers, too... Reader

Designers Prepared To Meet Resistance

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Although shoulder straps are missing and hemlines are high on costumes in the new fall collections, the designers expect and are prepared to meet resistance.

"We plan to ship these dresses with extra shoulder straps, just in case," Karen Stark, designer for the Harvey Berin fashion house, told fashion writers Tuesday. The writers are here for the New York Couture Group's semiannual press preview.

As she spoke, several pretty maidens appeared in black or white figure-revealing crepe dinner gowns that clung to one shoulder strap, presumably for security.

Actually, gowns today upholster the bosom snugly enough so that not even one strap is needed to hold them safely in place — and certainly not old-fashioned, flesh-jabbing stays.

There were plenty of interesting and beautiful cases in point, among them shoulderless velvet and satin gowns, the bodices of which were tightly drawn bands of glittering crystals or wispy ostrich plumes.

"The short skirt, length is right," said Vincent Monte Sano, referring to the inch-above-the-knee hems in the coat and suit line created for his fashion house by designer Jacques Tiffeau. "The focus changes as the real fashion interest moves into the jacket itself, particularly the neckline."

Yet Monte-Sano as well as Rudi Gernreich, Ann Fogarty and others who figure prominently in the short, short-skirt story, will lower hems if buyers insist, or make them deep enough to allow women to let them out themselves.

Pleats, A-line cuts or a little gathering at the waist on most of the short skirts in the collection provided plenty of stride room. A few suits with skirts as skinny as they were brief offer the wearer an interesting challenge in sitting down with grace and modesty.

Mrs. Walter Goodwin Tells Scheme For Weight Losing

By JO ANN PHINIZY

Once upon a time Mrs. Walter Goodwin, 3318 Drexel, tipped the scales at 242 pounds. Now the indicator reflects a neat 157. Nor is that all — she has her sights set for another 17 pound loss; and an all-time goal of maintaining that bantam weight forever more.

"No part of it is easy," she admits, "but there is a secret to dieting." She explained that the hidden trick is humorous encouragement from her family and what amounts to Herculean will power. "Just don't eat as much," is the way she described the feat.

Mrs. Goodwin emphasizes that dieting, in any form, is to be done only with the advice and consent of a doctor, rather than by rumor of the latest fad.

What got Mrs. Goodwin in the heavyweight class in the first place was the simplest of all matters. She enjoys cooking and has a ball eating. Since she was eight years old she has been an excellent cook and couldn't resist a little tasting on the side.

In October of 1964, she made a decision. Mrs. Goodwin says that the first step to losing weight is to decide that what others can do, so can you. The next step is to start finding that strayed will power. From then on, things go from difficult to just this side of impossible. As a reward, she said, "It sure is nice to change from a size 24½ dress into a size 15."

In hints to other dieters, Mrs. Goodwin says to break the over-eating habit on a day-to-day basis. "Keep the diet interesting," she advises. One way is to make a sort of lazy-susan plate of low calorie foods. Then ration yourself; a carrot here, a glass of skimmed milk there.

One of the most important things is to keep mentally and physically busy. Mrs. Goodwin's technique is to work as a secretary at Howard County Junior College in the day time and to take walks, swims or bicycle rides in the evenings.

She is the president of TOPS Pound Rebels, and she has taken up furniture antiquing. In fact, she has just finished French Provincializing an heirloom piano and is steadily working her way through the entire house.

In the food department, Mrs. Goodwin says that a serious dieter should avoid, like the plague, a heavy evening meal. "Just don't eat much supper," she stresses. "There are other things such as fruit, salads and low calorie drinks."

She also recommends that no meal go entirely unrecognized. People are in tune with regular meals and it is important not to lose strength with a crash diet. Fruits and juices provide as much energy tonic as necessary. She warns against over-eating of low calorie foods.

"That's just picking up weight from another angle," she said. Mrs. Goodwin suggests that

MRS. WALTER GOODWIN

When a baronial feast is forecast, don't promise yourself that you will cut down afterwards.

"Do your calorie adjusting beforehand, and when you arrive at the banquet, don't eat everything in sight," she remarked.

As another laurel in Mrs. Goodwin's bonnet, her family hasn't been denied a single culinary treat. However, by dint of careful planning, there is a definite lack of tempting leftovers.

Whether the Goodwin family has noticed it or not is a moot question, but there is a real reduction in the amount of fried food around the house. When the menu does call for a frying pan, Mrs. Goodwin uses a lot less oil and fats than she once did.

The Goodwin family consists of Walter Goodwin, who is an ex-Air Force man and now employed at the Corden Refinery; Deborah, who will celebrate her eleventh birthday in August; and George, 13 years old and spending the summer doing farm work. To complete the group, there is a hamster named Louie and two "mostly" terriers.

Although the extra poundage is only an echo, Mrs. Goodwin did receive an irreplaceable advantage from "those days." She explained it this way:

Overweight people tend to compensate by developing cheerful and happy personalities. When they have lost weight, this single habit lingers on. In the case of Mrs. Goodwin, the results is a slim, trim and delightful sort of person.

In sharing some of her recipes, Mrs. Goodwin says that if they appear to be brief, without fanfare, then that's the charm.

New Dish For First Time Cooks

Any inexperienced cook, be she a bride or teenager, likes a recipe that needs only measuring and mixing. If that recipe is glamorous, then that's better than ever.

Curried Lamb Balls are certainly gourmet-type fare, but they're very easy to prepare, shape and brown in a frying-pan, points out meat authority, Reba Staggs. After browning, add apple juice to the frying-pan from which the meat balls have been removed so that a sauce can be made with curry powder, flour and salt.

Once the sauce has cooked until thickened, the lamb balls are returned to it, covered tightly and simmered for about 20 minutes. Rice may accompany the serving while an coconut and peanuts provide an elegant topping.

CURRIED LAMB BALLS
1½ lbs. ground lamb
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ garlic clove, finely chopped
¼ cup corn flakes; crushed
1 tsp. salt
½ cup milk
1 tbsps. lard or drippings
½ cup chopped onion
1 tsp. curry powder
1 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. salt
1½ cups apple juice
¼ cup shredded coconut
2 tbsps. chopped salted peanuts
Cooked rice, if desired
Combine lamb, ¼ cup onion, garlic, corn flakes, 1 teaspoon salt and milk. Shape into balls, about the size of a walnut. Brown meat balls in lard or drippings. Remove meat balls from pan.

Pour off drippings, reserving 1 tablespoon. Add ½ cup onion and cook 5 minutes. Str in curry powder, flour and 1 teaspoon salt. Add apple juice. Mix well and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Return meat balls to gravy. Cover tightly and cook slowly about 20 minutes. Serve topped with coconut and peanuts. Serve with rice, if desired. Four to six servings.

SPARKLE ADDED TO APPLESAUCE

A pretty green color and lime flavor distinguish this sauce made from "new" apples.

GREEN APPLESAUCE
1½ lbs. (3 very large) tart green apples
1 cup water
Dash of salt
½ to ¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. grated lime rind
2 tbsps. lime juice
Pare and quarter apples; core and slice thin; there should be about 1½ quarts. Boil gently, covered, with water and salt, until tender. Remove from heat; mash if apples do not "fall apart," but do not make smooth. Add sugar, lime rind and lime juice; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Serve warm or cold. Makes about 3½ cups.

SKILLET MEAL

It's a dilly for those in a rush

Evening Meal Cooked Fast

A dilly of a supper to please the family is this frankfurter and potato scallop. This hearty main dish is designed for cooking ease, and is a perfect choice for busy days.

The scallop is done in a single skillet starting with crisping bacon for garnish right through cooking the potatoes to creamy tenderness in a sauce made rich and smooth with evaporated milk. No flour is needed in this scallop, for the potato starch thickens the sauce as it cooks.

DILLY FRANK AND POTATO SCALLOP

3 slices bacon
6 frankfurters, cut into 1-inch lengths
4 cups cubed raw potatoes
1 tbsps. instant minced onion
1 cup boiling water

1 tall can evaporated milk (1 2-3 cups)
1 tsp. dried dill weed
1 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
Fry bacon in a large skillet over low heat until crisp. Drain on paper toweling, leaving fat in skillet. Add frankfurter chunks to bacon fat; cook over medium heat to brown lightly, stirring frequently. Drain on paper toweling. Add potatoes and onion to skillet; cook and stir until most of the fat has been absorbed, 3 to 4 minutes. Add water and evaporated milk. Reduce temperature to low.

Cook, stirring occasionally, until potatoes are tender and sauce begins to thicken, 20 to 25 minutes. Add dill weed, salt, pepper and frankfurters; heat to serving temperature. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Makes 4 servings.

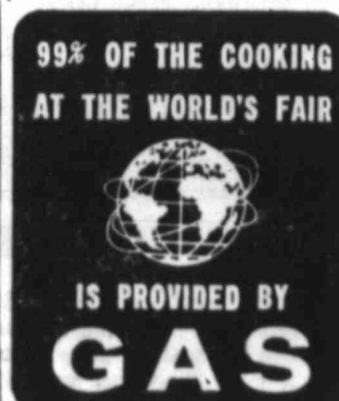

Taste This One For Taffy Cakes

Our tasters say this cake has a delightful taffy flavor. The recipe is an old one, well worth reviving.

NUT-BROWN SPONGE CAKE
1½ cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. baking soda
¼ tsp. salt
4 large eggs (separated)
1 tsp. vanilla
½ cup light molasses
½ cup sugar
Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Beat egg yolks until thick and pale colored; beat in vanilla, then gradually the molasses. With a clean beater, beat the egg whites until stiff; gradually the sugar; fold in egg-yolk mixture, then gradually the sifted dry ingredients.

Turn into two 8-inch layer cake pans having exactly the same amount of batter in each. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Remove cakes to wire rack to cool; fill and frost as desired.

Stand Tall!

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and miserable. The reason is I am 5 feet, 11 inches tall, and I am a girl! Everyone says I won't grow any more, but I have heard of people growing until they are 21, and if I grow any more I will kill myself. My father is six feet, six inches, and my mother is six feet one, so what did they expect? Midgets? Everyone has always told them they made a handsome couple, but I sure wish they had never met each other. I know it's hard to tell people not to fall in love and get married, but if they would only stop and think of their unborn children.

Sincerely yours,
"FREAK"

DEAR "FREAK": Come on, now. Some of the most beautiful girls in the world are six feet tall, and taller — show girls, models and the girls who walk off with the basketball stars! And when you choose a mate, you'll want one who's at least as tall as you, won't you? So don't blame your parents for aiming high. You'll probably follow suit.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can help me with this embarrassing situation. My husband is 66 years old and has been retired since 1950. We don't go out to eat very often, but when we do he has a habit of "kidding around" with the waitresses. He can't just order his meal, eat it and leave. He has to make some personal remark to the waitress, like, "Say, what nationality are you?" Or, "How long have you been working here?" Sooner or later he asks her if she is married. It never fails. Isn't he being rude to the waitress and considering of me? If you have any suggestions on how to solve this problem, I would appreciate it.

DEAR BUGS: Yes, it is considered bad manners to direct personal remarks to the waitress, but if your husband is this type you aren't going to change him at age 66. Don't be embarrassed. Some waitresses enjoy it, too. And those who don't know how to serve up an icy retort.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Telephone Sweetheart," who fell in love with a voice over the telephone, that she's real smart not to give "The Voice" her home phone number. Also tell her that voices don't always match the images built up in one's mind. Some time ago I worked in the central office of a large utility company. One of my duties required much telephone contact with employees.

Hereford Tour Dates Fixed

Howard County South Plains Hereford Association tour to select Herefords to be sold at the 22nd annual association auction this winter has been set July 27, Jimmy Taylor, secretary of the organization, announced.

Bill Reed, Sterling City rancher, will again serve as selector and will pick the cattle which are to be consigned.

Taylor said the tour this year begins at 8 a.m. at the Charlie Creighton ranch on the west edge of the city. The itinerary includes a stop at the Dr. G. T. Hall estate at 8:55 a.m. The second stop will be at the S. F. Buchanan place at 9:55 a.m. James Coates ranch will be visited at 10:30 a.m.; Leland Wallace at 11:15 a.m., and Jack Buchanan at noon.

Tour ends in Big Spring with a lunch at 1 p.m.

An invitation is extended to all persons who want the chance to inspect some of the finest herds of Herefords in West Texas to accompany the tour.

Offer To Buy Stock Bared

DALLAS (AP)—An offer by the Philadelphia & Reading Corp. to purchase the common stock from shareholders of Lone Star Steel Co. will be mailed to shareholders shortly.

George Wilson, chairman of the board of Lone Star Steel, said Tuesday that Philadelphia & Reading has offered $22 per share net, to be paid in cash. The stock was listed over the counter at 18 1/2 bid and 19 1/2 asked Tuesday.

Wilson said the offer was conditioned on acceptance by holders of not less than two million shares, but all shares above that number also would be purchased for $22.

Lone Star Steel has 3,898,788 shares outstanding.

Italy, France To Open Alps Tunnel Friday

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP)—Under Europe's highest mountain, the presidents of Italy and France will join Friday in opening the monumental Mont Blanc auto tunnel — an event likely to give European unity efforts at least a symbolic boost.

From the time work first started on the tunnel in 1959, it was hailed as a new link in the European unity cause revived after World War II.

The tunnel is opening at a time when President Charles de Gaulle's France is in bitter dispute with its Common Market partners and the unity movement is stalemated.

BOOST TOURISM
De Gaulle himself is joining in the opening with President Giuseppe Saragat, Italy's first socialist president and a man with his own strong ideas about European unity. Those ideas have not always been accepted by De Gaulle.

But here in the Alps, even if they do not agree on the politics of European unity, they will together open an artery that could pump new life into the idea. The tunnel could boost tourism and commerce not only in France and Italy but in the countries beyond.

The Mont Blanc auto tunnel is Western Europe's newest transportation miracle — a relatively short link to cut time and distance, opening a new way to speed freight and travelers past the Alpine barrier between Italy and France.

The two-lane 7.2-mile tunnel road bypasses 60 miles and several hours of travel over the hairpin mountain road. This means swifter, cheaper truck transport between France and northern Italy.

EASIER ACCESS
It means easier access — and thus a lure — for the tourist seeking a more comfortable route through the Alps.

Thirteen workmen — eight Italians and five Frenchmen — were killed and scores injured in the six years it took to build the tunnel 11,400 feet below the snow-covered peak of the 15,772-foot mountain.

At each end of the tunnel, connecting Chamonix, France with Courmayeur, are powerful ventilating stations to provide fresh air.

Court Behind School Board

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has put its power behind action already taken by the Denison, Tex., School Board.

The court ordered Denison schools to be completely desegregated by the 1968-69 school years.

Member of the Denison board voted Monday to integrate all schools in September and to abolish pupil zoning.

Denison had initiated a grade-a-year desegregation plan on June 23, 1963. The court ruled Tuesday that this plan was inadequate.

Clerics, Animals In Pastoral Scene With 'Peace' Theme

NEW YORK (AP)—The deer nibbled at the goat's ear. The kangaroo nuzzled noses with the donkey. The llama looked bored. Jewish and Christian clergymen recited psalms and prayed.

It was an odd assemblage, and also ecumenical, ecclesiastic and zoological.

It was held at the World's Fair to show—as a possible lesson to man—how amiably animals could live together in a "peaceable kingdom."

"O Lord, open, we beseech Thee, our eyes to behold Thy gracious hand in all Thy works," prayed the Rev. Robert Seekins Jr., rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church in Troy, N.Y.

ASSORTED CREATURES
The assorted creatures — the dogs, a baby lamb, cats, a tiny pony, fish, a blinking scarlet macaw — along with the Scripture verses and blessings, made a curious pastoral scene in a furnished lounge.

"The theme expressed here is peace," said Cleveland Amory, chronicler of high society life there was harmonious and tranquil, until the Shetland pony began kicking the wall behind the sofa and the bull calf tried to leap over the coffee table.

A pretty girl attendant subdued the Black Angus calf. An aging man stilled the pony.

Father Ambrose Agius, a Washington, D.C., Roman Catholic and vice president of the National Catholic Society for Animal Welfare, prayed:

"O God, by whose providence these and all animals are lent to us for companionship and cooperation, grant us always gratefully to acknowledge in them Thy power and goodness, and to reproduce towards them Thy own fatherly care."

Rabbi David Goldberg, of the American Council of Judaism in New York, said a time will come, according to the prophecy of Isaiah, when "the wolf shall dwell with the lamb and the leopard with the kid; when the cow and the bear shall feed together and a little child shall lead them... when they shall not hurt nor destroy."

Insurance Firm Merger Voted

DALLAS (AP)—Universal Life and Accident Insurance Co. of Dallas has voted to merge the Capitol Co-operative Life Insurance Co. of Denver into Universal.

It was reported Wednesday that acquisition of 100 per cent of Capitol's outstanding shares was made by Universal for more than $3.5 million, payable partly in cash and partly in stock.

Harriman, Kosygin Confer In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman talked with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin for three hours today in the Kremlin.

Older Americans Bill Now Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed the Older Americans Act Wednesday, a bill he said will provide "a real new day" for American citizens 65 years of age and older.

The new law which sets up an administration on aging under the Welfare Department, provides an authorization of $17.5 million subject to congressional appropriation.

Objectives of the legislation are to try to provide adequate income, health care, housing, job opportunities and productive activity for elderly citizens.

announcement on the subject of the talks but Viet Nam was believed to have been discussed.

Harriman arrived in Moscow Monday for what was billed as a private visit as part of his vacation. He said he was looking forward to meeting Soviet leaders and renewing official acquaintances.

Harriman said later, through an American Embassy spokesman, that he would not comment on his talk with Kosygin. He added that "we discussed my personal plans in the Soviet Union during the coming week."

The embassy also refused to say what else came up. The embassy said it had no information on Harriman's future movements. Harriman indicated to reporters earlier he might travel within the Soviet Union and would be in this country at least until next Wednesday.

LBJ Wants Flood Aid Budget Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, recalling recent floods in many parts of the nation including his home state of Texas, has asked Congress to nearly double the flood disaster budget.

He asked Wednesday that $5 million be added to the $7 million already in the budget for aiding disaster areas.

Johnson noted in a statement that Alaska, the Pacific Northwest, California, the upper Mississippi Valley, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico and Texas have been hit.

Twenty-five persons were killed and extensive property damage was done last month when a flood swept through the small West Texas town of Sanderson.

Omnibus Farm Bill Awaits Panel Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—An omnibus farm bill dealing with farm income and prices, food for consumers and government farm program costs awaited formal approval today by the House Agriculture Committee.

Its major provisions have been approved piecemeal by the committee.

A Republican committee member, Rep. Paul Findley of Illinois, said the bill would cost more than $19 billion and the taxpayers would "get very little in exchange."

Findley said the measure is "the most expensive package ever put together in the history of farm legislation" and claimed it would solve none of the basic problems of agriculture.

WOOL ACT

Major provisions: Wool — The administration's proposal for changes in the wool program to permit a system of graduated payments to producers based on volume of production was not approved. The committee decided to continue the National Wool Act of 1954 through Dec. 31, 1969, with modifications intended to increase the production of wool.

Feed grains — Continue for four years the provisions of the present feed grains program for price - support loans, purchases, and payments-in-kind to program participants. In keeping with the price support range at 65 to 90 per cent of parity for corn (with comparable levels for grain sorghum, barley, oats, and rye), it provides the basis for support prices around levels of recent years. Participants, by diverting acreage from feed grain production to conservation uses, would receive, as in the past, payment - in - kind to help maintain income. Payments would be based on a percentage of price support rates, on per acre yields, and on acreage diverted, as previously. The secretary of agriculture could permit the diverted acreage to be devoted to sesame, safflower, sunflower, castor beans, mustard seeds and flax, but not to soybeans.

BOOST INCOME

Wheat — Continuation of the voluntary wheat certificate program for four years with modifications from current provisions aimed at boosting wheat farmers' income by about $150 million a year, reducing government costs, and providing more freedom in the marketing system. Basically, it would call for a wheat operation for the 1966 through 1969 period similar to the one in effect for 1964 through 1965 crops. The main change from current operations would provide for price support for wheat with domestic certificates at or near 100 per cent of parity and eliminate the need for export certificates to supplement wheat farmers' incomes. The support price for wheat for domestic food use would be increased about 50 cents per bushel to around $2.50.

Cropland adjustment — The secretary of agriculture would be authorized to enter into long range contracts with farmers calling for conversion of unneeded cropland into vegetative cover, water storage facilities or other soil, water, wildlife or forest conserving uses. Contracts could run from 5 to 10 years and the sign-up period would run from 1965 through 1969. About 1 million acres per year are expected to be added to this program until it reaches peak participation of 40 million acres in 1970.

NOT CHANGED

Rice — The administration proposal for a new rice program was rejected. The committee recommended continuance of the present acreage allotment and price support program.

Cotton — The one - price cotton program which allows American mills to buy U.S. cotton at the same price it is offered to foreign mills would be extended for four years, through 1969, with modifications.

The new bill would (1) continue the 16 million acres national minimum allotment, but establish a domestic allotment within the national allotment which would be not less than 65 per cent of each farm allotment; (2) require at least a 15 per cent reduction from farm acreage allotment for participation in the program; (3) permit any producer to stay out of the program and plant and sell without penalty at the market price and unlimited amount of cotton; (4) provide loans to co-operators at 90 per cent of the estimated average world market price (for 1966—21 cents a pound), available on the actual production of co-operators; (5) Payments will be made to co-operators on the projected yield of acreage within the domestic allotment actually planted, such payments to include the 1966 price support and payment for retired acreage at the rate of 50 per cent of the loan based on the projected yield of acreage allotment and having the option of retiring an additional 20 per cent of his total allotment; (6) allotted cotton acreage released by a farmer not wanting to plant cotton in a given year could not be reapportioned to other farmers outside the county, and farmers receiving reapportioned acreage would not be eligible for land retirement payments, although remaining eligible for price support loans and payments.

The committee turned down an administration proposal for voluntary allotment acreage lease or sale between farmers for numerous crops under various programs. The authority for lease or sale under the cotton provision was retained.

Fizzle Stalls Two Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force has postponed the launching of two nuclear detection satellites until it learns why an Atlas-Agena rocket failed in a flight on the West Coast.

A similar Atlas-Agena was to have orbited the twin satellites from Cape Kennedy until it detected secret nuclear explosions in space. But officials want to be certain the same failure won't repeat on the rocket here.

Whistling A Tip To Mood?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The simple act of whistling, says Dr. James Jordan of Emory University, has many psychological implications. "Whistling 'Dixie' is an organized, orderly activity," consciously directed," he says. "And when someone whistles 'I Feel Like a Motherless Child' or 'Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen,' it's a pretty good sign that he's down and out."

SOUTHERN HAM SALAD
For first picnic of the season

Lure Picnickers With Southern Ham Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Ham salad held no lure for us until we tried this recipe from a Southern friend. It's chunky with ham and celery, bright with scarlet pimiento and green pepper, spiced with sweet pickle relish and mustard. Now we're as enthusiastic as our donor is about it.

"Just the thing," she says, "to stuff inside a biscuit."

SOUTHERN HAM SALAD
1 cup mayonnaise dressing
2 tbsps. yellow mustard
1 tsp. finely grated onion pulp and juice
Salt to taste
1/4 tsp. white pepper

4 cups cooked diced ham, 1/2 in. cubes
1 cup sliced celery
1 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup Indian-type sweet pickle relish, undrained
1 can or jar (7 ozs.) pimientos, drained and diced
Garnishes

In a mixing bowl, stir together the mayonnaise, mustard, onion, salt and pepper. Add ham, celery, green pepper, relish and pimiento; mix well.

Serve at once or refrigerate for a short time before serving. Garnish with salad greens and hard-cooked eggs. Makes 6 servings.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Flavor note: If that home-made chicken stock needs more flavor, add a little monosodium glutamate.

When you make up orange-flavored gelatin dessert, you may substitute orange juice for part of the water called for. One cup of boiling water (for dissolving the gelatin) and one cup of cold orange juice is a good proportion for a three-ounce package.

Tarragon in your garden? You may add about three tablespoons of the tarragon leaves to a quart of cider vinegar.

When you are using browned flour in a gravy, remember that the flour has lost a portion of its usual thickening power in the browning process.

When you are using a slightly beaten egg as an egg wash for pastry that needs a brown glazed look, you can add from one to three teaspoons of cold water to the egg. These same proportions of egg and water may be used when you are dipping food in the mixture before coating with crumbs.

A cake of compressed yeast usually keeps about two weeks if it is refrigerated.

Whether you use light or dark brown sugar in a recipe, depends on the flavor you want to achieve. Brown sugar, whether light or dark, should always be packed tightly in measuring.

Refrigerate maple syrup, after opening the bottle or can, to inhibit mold growth.

Do your small fry like to make their own cinnamon toast? Keep a container with a cup of sugar mixed with a tablespoon or two of cinnamon handy so youngsters can sprinkle the mixture on the toast.

Ever serve meat loaf with a curry sauce and chutney or mint relish?

Ever combine fresh pineapple, bananas and orange juice for a fruit cup? Makes a refreshing dessert.

Cover green peppers with boiling water and boil three to five minutes before stuffing and baking.

Scallions perk up many dishes. Slice them, green part and all, and cook lightly in butter or margarine; add them to cooked green peas, wax beans or snap beans. Use finely cut scallions in kidney bean and potato salads.

A table d' hote menu is one that lists the courses of an entire meal at a set price.

You'll need 1 1/2 pints of ice cream for filling a sponge cake roll made in a regular (about 15 by 10 by 1 inch) jelly roll.

Table Manners

Good table practice: Break that roll into small pieces before eating it. Spread a piece with butter just before you eat it!

Bank Holdup Pair Nabbed

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two men were captured and charged after Wednesday's $12,000 robbery of a bank at Sandia, 30 miles west of here.

They are Charles Smith Jr., 25, of Kenner, La., and Harvey Norton, 27, of El Centro, Calif. The two went to jail in lieu of $10,000 bonds.

IN TAXICAB

Norton was arrested while riding in a taxicab here several hours after the robbery. Smith was picked up on a highway near Corpus Christi after jumping from a car and pursued by police.

Two armed men entered the Sandia State Bank shortly before the 2 p.m. closing time, ordered the three employees present to lie on the floor and grabbed cash from the teller's drawer.

Next they ordered the bookkeeper to accompany them into the vault, collected more cash, and locked the bookkeeper, a teller and executive vice president Russell Lowman in the vault.

EMPLOYEES ESCAPE

Using tools in the vault, the employees escaped in about 10 minutes.

Officers said Smith was carrying $5,400 in cash when arrested and Norton had $1,200, which he told them was his own. An additional $5,225 was found in a Corpus Christi motel.

LBJ Sent Appeals By Both Sides In Bogalusa

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—City officials and Negro leaders were both bidding today for White House support in Bogalusa's civil rights uproar.

Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer Jr. sent a telegram asking President Johnson to "use your influence to assist this helpless city that is being unfairly attacked."

SEEKS TALKS

A. Z. Young, president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, said the league has asked for an appointment with the President in Washington next week.

New demonstrations shaped up. Pickets were called out to march near the huge Crown-Zellerbach paper mill while Negro leaders confer with company officials about alleged job discrimination.

The 6-month-old civil rights drive has as its goals desegregation of public facilities and "equal opportunity." The drive has been marked by frequent violence.

REBUFS EFFORTS

In Baton Rouge, Gov. John J. McKeithen — rebuffed in efforts to bring about a 30-day cooling off period — worked to keep the civil rights fight from spreading to other points in Louisiana.

The governor held a private conference with Negro union leaders, college presidents, lawyers and businessmen. He told newsmen later that he also plans a similar meeting with white leaders he did not identify.

Thunderstorms Lash State Area

By The Associated Press

Light to occasionally heavy thunderstorms trundled through parts of Central and North Texas today, ranging northward into Oklahoma.

A few showers fell in the Panhandle-Plains sector of West Texas. Skies were clear only on the east and west edges of the state.

Patches of turbulence developed as a weak cool front, which pushed into Texas the day before, extended from Pecos in the west to near Paris in the northeast. Weather Bureau observers expected the front to edge a little deeper into North-east Texas but to retreat toward the north in West Texas.

Heavier thunderstorms in early morning centered around Greenville, Royse City, Farmersville, Leonard and White-wright in North Texas. They composed part of a scattered band of showers up to 40 miles wide stretching from near Waco past Wills Point to the vicinity of Durant, Okla.

Another broken band of showers and thunderstorms hovered in the area from close to Breckenridge to near Olney.

During the night briefly violent rain and hail storms pounded the area around Jacinto City near Houston, near Eustace and Kemp in East Texas northwest of Athens, and Gunter, south of Sherman in Grayson County. There was damage to utility lines, roofs and windows.

Risking Lives For Free Beer Now About Ended

JACUMBA, Calif. (AP) — Two motorcyclists roared into a train tunnel.

A few minutes later, having timed things badly, they roared back out. A few inches behind them was a train.

What was at the other end of the tunnel — and worth a confrontation with a diesel locomotive?

Beer. Thousands of cases of it — all there for the taking.

The only problem was getting it out.

CARS DERAILED

Last May 5, 11 cars of a San Diego, Arizona and Eastern Railway derailed north of Jacumba, in eastern San Diego County near the Mexican border. Two truck vans loaded with beer tumbled off a flatcar into 1,000-foot-deep Carrizo Gorge.

The railroad figured the beer — 72,000 cans — was a complete loss.

Adventurous San Diego County youths figured otherwise. They heard about the beer, and headed for Carrizo Gorge.

"It must be one of the most inaccessible places in the state," said a railroad official. "The only way to get there is over the railroad right-of-way, four miles in, four miles out, through two tunnels. It's all private property, of course, and there's a sheriff's deputy watching it like a hawk."

Sheriff's officer Alfred Dart has pounced, hawk-like, on 24 people. Dart seized all the beer they had risked their lives to recover. For were prosecuted for trespassing, the others released.

MOST GONE

Despite Dart and diesels, nearly all the beer has disappeared.

But railroaders say the big joke of Jacumba is in the beer drinking.

One railroad official explained: "The beer was in refrigerated vans. Once it gets warm it tastes terrible, even if you re-refrigerate it. There wasn't a beer in that gorge worth walking across the street for."

Judiciary Expansion

Moving quietly through Congress is a bill to create 44 new federal judgeships. It is to be hoped this will mark a return to orderly expansion of the judiciary as called for by population growth and increases in the courts' workloads.

The last routine bill to keep the supply of federal judges in line with demand was passed back in 1954. Throughout the second term of President Eisenhower, a Democratic Congress postponed creating new judgeships until a Democratic president could name them.

After President Kennedy's election, Congress in 1961 with one bill created 73 new judgeships, a whopping increase of 23 per cent in the federal judiciary in one year. The Department of Justice and the President were swamped with appointment problems, and some of the results were disappointing even to the staunchest Kennedy supporters.

The selection of a federal judge, who serves for life in one of the most responsible positions in our democratic government, is not a matter that should be handled hastily. The need for new judgeships could be carefully studied by the Judicial Conference of the United States, and Congress should closely follow its recommendations. Then the Justice Department, the U.S. Senate and the White House should screen nominees thoroughly, and without partisan prejudice, for the best available judicial matter.

The 1955-62 record of the Democratic Party in handling federal judicial appointments, and expanding the judiciary to meet national needs, is not one that can be pointed to with pride. While both parties traditionally reward their own members with judgeships, as their political fortunes permit, they can and should still search painstakingly for excellence and keep sheer partisanship to the minimum.

Safer (?) Driving

Don't send up a premature cheer, but it appears that the traffic fatality total in Texas this year could possibly drop below that of 1964.

Traffic accidents on the state's streets and highways killed 3,006 persons during 1964. This was somewhat below the record carnage of 1963; and this year—up to last week—recorded 1,325 deaths, as against 1,367 for the same period the preceding year.

The safety people have no immediate reason for it, but of course are happy, while keeping fingers crossed. It might be a valid judgment that the continued improvement of highways is a factor.

The engineers are doing marvels with safety design in roads; the cities are erecting more and more warning signs, and patrolling their streets heavily; the automotive industry is responding to nearly every reasonable safety suggestion in car construction; and Congress is even exploring legislation for more safety factors in the vehicles.

These are all well and good. In the last analysis, highway accident prevention effectiveness comes down to the driver.

Texas might see a great improvement if there were a practical way to require examination of every driver each time a license is renewed. It is our own opinion that the state's law in granting licenses to 14-year-olds has the age level too low.

These particular items are not likely to be changed.

The state tried a "merit rating" plan on insurance, abandoned it because of widespread protests. There has not yet been suggested a program whereby safety can be legislated. It has to be up to the competence and the conscience of the person behind the wheel.

David Lawrence Increasing Information Efforts

WASHINGTON—Coincident with the announcement of major changes in the executive personnel of the U.S. Information Agency here comes word from Moscow that the Soviet government feels it must reorganize its press policy, largely because of a belief that the information programs of the United States government are achieving more and more penetration of the Communist countries.

AN ARTICLE in a leading publication of the Communist party in the Soviet Union says that Western agencies, such as the U.S. Information Agency, have been intensifying their campaign of "ideological subversion." Soviet propagandists are called upon to study the information techniques of the United States and other Western countries and to learn to combat them.

While it is gratifying to learn that the U.S. Information Agency's efforts to penetrate the "Iron Curtain" are meeting with a certain measure of success, there is every reason for the administration to seek intensively to find ways and means of reaching an even larger audience in the Soviet Union and the Communist-bloc countries.

THE SOVIET government controls what the newspapers and magazines print as well as what is said over radio and television, so internal criticisms of Soviet policies are restricted, and news of what is happening abroad is often suppressed. In this country, on the other hand, criticism of government policies is widely printed by the newspapers and covered in radio and television news broadcasts by the privately owned companies. The problem which the U.S. Information Agency faces is whether to continue to duplicate what the newspapers in America are presenting, or whether to concentrate more effort on broadcasts to the rest of the world which not only tell what the President and the Secretary of State are doing in foreign policy but answer such criticisms of it as are being published outside this country.

THERE IS A FEELING here that the State Department and the White House have, by their rules, inhibited the effectiveness of the USA under present administrations. The diplomatic attitude is always one of caution. Yet, when criticism comes out into the open and the Soviets are disseminating untruths about American policy, it is far better for the USA immediately to expose the falsehoods and give the truth.

WHILE IT IS necessary to spread the true facts about American foreign policy into Communist-bloc countries, there is a need today also to reach into the Western countries where distortions of American foreign policy are frequently made. Several of the newspapers in Great Britain and France and other Western countries often give more space to criticisms of American foreign policy than to a defense of it. Consequently, many people abroad get the feeling that the Washington government is floundering or that it has no public support. This is perhaps the most serious aspect of the problem confronting the United States today in getting cooperation from its allies, particularly in such situations as have developed in Southeast Asia.

THE DISTRIBUTION of information and the effective exposition of America's viewpoint in foreign policy have an impact upon diplomacy itself. For the Communist countries are watching for any sign of disunity and are hoping to build up a hostility to American policies throughout the free world. The USA—and particularly the "Voice of America"—has a role in fighting the "cold war" which is exco-

James Marlow Adlai Was A Gentleman And Thinker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson — Civilized, gentle, and articulate — was the ideal politician to a lot of people but, unfortunately for him, never to enough people.

And he appeared at the wrong time and against the wrong man.

He truly represented something too seldom seen in American political life — the thinker — when he ran against Dwight D. Eisenhower and lost the presidency to him twice.

The 1952 race wasn't a time for thinking.

IT WAS an emotional time. The country was torn between the Korean War and split to its roots by McCarthyism with all that it meant in bewilderment, suspicion and revulsion.

What Stevenson offered, with his proper and often painfully polished language, was a self-examination of the American conscience at a moment when Americans apparently felt they needed something else.

That something else was a return to tranquility, of cohesion instead of division, and of proven strength in leadership to eliminate misgivings. Eisenhower symbolized all those needs.

Stevenson, governor of Illinois, was almost unknown.

EISENHOWER, PROVEN commander and national hero, could be expected to restore sanity even if he had to knock heads together. And he was a friendly man who could be trusted not to endanger new antagonisms.

But Eisenhower probably could have beaten Stevenson under any circumstances, as he proved by winning again in 1956. Against someone else Stevenson might have done better.

Yet, while Stevenson seemed a little in awe of Eisenhower in the first campaign, and minced a bit, in 1956 he was rougher on Eisenhower than John F. Kennedy was on Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

And in 1956 he did worse than in 1952.

Stevenson was a hero to liberals, intellectuals, college youth and faculties because he had a perspective on history, compassion for mankind, lucidity in language and a reasoning mind.

BUT IT is questionable he would ever have been a good president.

Hal Boyle Aerial Cowboy In Action

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—Lt. Col. George F. Bauman in nearly 5,000 hours aloft in three wars had never served as an aerial cowboy before.

But along the South Vietnamese battlefield the one thing you can expect is the unexpected.

"You have to be ready to try anything," said Bauman, 44, who was raised on an apple ranch at Sonora, Calif. His first experience as a flying herdsman came recently in an action by U.S. Marines probing out from the air base at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of here.

HIS COPILOT was Lt. George Dechant, 29, of Palmyra, Pa.

"We were supporting a strike force of our troops that had been brought up by helicopter," said the lanky, 6-foot-4 colonel. He looks and talks like the late Gary Cooper and commands the only Marine squadron of armed "Hueys" HUIB helicopters in the country.

"We got two suspects cornered on a path leading to a river. We circled around and around them," Bauman said. "One managed to hide, but the other started to try to swim the river."

"WE FIRED a few rounds to force him to turn back, and he did. As he left the water, his black pants fell off, but he kept running."

"We cornered him again in some rocks and trees. I landed near him to point out his position to our ground troops.

It had been funny up to then, but it ended tragically for him. He ran out into the water again. Our troops called on him to halt, but he wouldn't, and they fired. He died.

"Eventually we rounded up four or five others hidden in the same area."

AS A Corsair fighter pilot in World War II Bauman flew more than 100 missions and won the Distinguished Flying Cross at Peleliu.

In a year in Korea as a transport helicopter pilot he added more clusters to his Air Medal than he can remember off hand.

Here he has flown 8 missions in two months in the most dangerous type of flying. Four of his six armed Hueys have been hit several times, and one pilot and a crewman have been wounded.

The colonel is worshipped by his men. One of them said, "Any of us would fly through a needle stuck up in the middle of hell — if he told us to do it."

Above the entrance to the squadron's operation tent is posted this sign:

"When the will defies fear, when duty throws the gauntlet down to fate, when honor scorns to compromise with death, this is heroism."

That is the slogan of "Bauman's Raiders."

To Your Good Health Artificial Sweeteners Are Harmless

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to use the artificial sweeteners several times a day? I see that artificial sweetened products contain a warning, only to be used by persons who must restrict sugar intake. Does that apply only to diabetics, or is it safe for dieters?

—S. F.

Yes, it is safe for dieters. Dieters must restrict sugar intake to cut calories.

It's true that the phrase you quote appears on sugarless soft drinks or other foods using artificial sweeteners. And it does SEEM to have an ominous ring to it.

However, remember that our "pure food and drug laws" go back half a century or so. Recently we've all been considerably preoccupied with the matter of drugs. The government, however, has not lost sight of its responsibility to see that foods are pure, too.

Sugar is a food, whether it's in a soft drink or in anything else. If you take the sugar out of a bottle of pop, you have then and there removed virtually all of its "food" value. You have a right to know that, and therefore such sugarless soft drinks or other similar products are labeled.

As recently as the latter part of May, the Food and Drug Administration issued a new report on this and pointed out that "artificial sweeteners — saccharin and the cyclamates — have been used in foods for many years to provide a reduced caloric intake by replacing sugar in the diet. Such products are labeled as foods for special dietary use."

Saccharin has been used for quite a long time. Sodium cyclamate is somewhat newer, although not really "new" as we think of that term. As long ago as 1955 the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences recommended that these artificial sweeteners be used by people needing to lower their caloric intake, whether for diabetes, losing weight or any other good purpose. It was pointed out then that the cyclamates could have a mild laxative effect if taken at the rate of more than 5 grams a day, but that's a lot of sweetening.

More studies. Same conclusion repeated in 1962.

Now repeated in 1965, and to quote from the government release:

"There is no evidence that cyclamates at present use levels are a hazard to health."

Studies are still going on, which is proper and sensible. We want to know as much as we can about anything involving our well-being.

But here's your answer: There is no known risk in any of the artificial sweeteners in amounts that anyone will normally use them.

Hence, don't worry over that phrase about use "by people who must restrict sugar intake."

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim What's The Real Consensus?

When a learned legislator proclaims that "the people of my state are behind my plan to prohibit importing sassafras tea," I wonder how accurate is his observation?

With the scientific world waiting breathlessly for pictures of Mars, I read the other day that the average person is becoming far more interested in things of this nature.

We are presently caught in a Viet Nam war that is drawing mixed reactions from the home folks. One side assures us that the government has the backing of the American people in its efforts; the other side takes the opposite view. Both sides, of course, have a multitude of surveys to back up their stands.

IN EACH of these things, it is surprising how little real information concerning the likes and dislikes of our fellow man we actually know. Despite all our modern advances, we still have practically no way of finding out what most folks think about a given subject—that is, one that satisfies everyone as to its accuracy.

When a statesman claims to have great backing for his legislation, I hazard the guess that it more likely means a few of his close friends did not oppose it when he first introduced it.

And no one I know has shown any more interest in things scientific than he did several years ago. Of course, there are those who nod sagely with an "I told you so" glance when some new discovery or endeavor is successful.

PRACTICALLY everyone with some opinion on the Viet Nam question is beyond a quiet discussion of the merits of the fighting there; they vehemently defend their stand with no consideration to the fact that they might be, after all, wrong.

Thus, a blanket sanction to practically any idea, plan, is usually in error. Even if the support is overwhelming, there is certain to be a group that is opposed, indifferent, or fed up with it. Unless these are quite loud in their protests, it is doubtful they will be heard.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE there is no way to take a 100 per cent head count of everyone on any public issue, in a matter of minutes. True, many public issues cannot and should not be settled by the mass opinion of the body politic; but some can. With our accomplishments in electronics, it would seem some device could be built that would accurately survey everyone and give an answer in a relatively short time on any subject.

For one thing, it could be used to settle this matter of television ratings. For another, it might force our legislators to stick a bit closer to what the voters want out of their ruling bodies.

—V. GLENN COOTES

Art Buchwald When Earth Takes Over Mars

WASHINGTON—When it was discovered by American and Soviet space probes, that there was indeed life on Mars, an immediate foreign ministers conference in Geneva was called to decide what to do about it.

The United States, through its secretary of State, announced that America has no territorial designs on the planet and the U.S. position was that the Martians should be free to choose their own government, providing of course that it was not Communist-dominated or leftist-inspired.

THE SOVIET minister said that if the Martians wanted to overthrow the reactionary rulers, who were probably exploiting the Martian masses, his country would have no choice but to come to their aid. He said that if the Martians requested it the Soviet Union would supply them with planes, rockets, and up-to-date radar.

The United States said that if the Soviet Union interfered it would have no choice but to send Marines to Mars to protect the lives of free Martians as well as American tourists who soon would be visiting there.

The real problem was that nobody knew what kind of government the Martians had.

ALL THE photographs showed that there was life on Mars, but unfortunately there were no flags in the pictures to indicate where the Martians stood.

Both the Soviet Union and the United States were at a stalemate until someone came up with a brilliant solution. Mars would be divided in half. The northern part would be known as North Viet Mars and the south would be known as South Viet Mars.

THE SOVIETS would be in charge of the north, the U.S. in charge of the south, and free elections would be promised within two years of partition.

The United States immediately set up a Mars aid program to give the Martians economic and financial assistance when the time came. It also trained military assistance teams which would land with the aid people and train the Martians in defense against the north.

The Soviets divided North Viet Mars into communes and trained political commissars and technicians to go into the country and communize it.

UNBEKNOWNST to the great powers on earth, the Martians were holding a summit meeting of their own on the Mars Bar Canal.

"Then it is agreed upon," the Grand Clyde of Mare Cimmerium said, "We shall set up an East Earth and a West Earth. We shall have the east and Trivium Charontis shall have the west."

The Trivium Charontis Super Zilch said, "We shall hold elections within two years and let the Earth people decide for themselves what form of government they want."

"I CANNOT strongly enough," said the Grand Clyde of Mare Cimmerium, "that if Trivium Charontis does anything to violate the treaty we will be forced to use all the weapons at our disposal."

"And I can assure you, Grand Clyde, Trivium Charontis will not stand by and see West Earthlings swallowed up by Mare Cimmerium. If need be we shall use the clong."

The Grand Clyde said, "We shall see which system prevails."

Holmes Alexander How Coalitions Are Formed

WASHINGTON — Who is Nguyen Huu Tho?

If you're a reader of the liberal press, especially of The Washington Post with its close-in State Department sources, you have been told that Tho is a "non-Communist" Saigon lawyer and head of the National Liberation Front (NLF). The NLF is further identified as a coalition which contains a mix of Communists, honest nationalists and religious sects.

BOTH LAWYER THO and the NLF were oozed into a Washington Post story of June 17, as points of contact for a solution in South Viet Nam. If Secretary Rusk is to sit down for negotiation with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong (as he has now expressed a readiness to do) President Tho of the NLF could be expected to be there at the table.

But, again, who is Nguyen Huu Tho? Well, his face might be recognizable to hundreds of American college students. He played a supporting role in the Communist propaganda film that was recently shown at dozens of teach-ins. This film was shown in Cuba to runaway students who went there in violation of passport regulations. The film was smuggled into the United States by Cuban delegates to the United Nations. It was then shown around the country wherever college authorities permitted its presentation under the license of "academic freedom."

LAWYER THO, I am told by an old Saigon hand now in Washington, calls himself a "socialist" and was a Vietnamese peace front leader in 1954-55. Subsequently he was arrested and imprisoned by the late President Diem. Lawyer Tho somehow escaped to continue his work as a Communist front-man without relinquishing the "non-Communist" title by which the liberal press still haunts him.

Still again, who is Nguyen Huu Tho? His name really gets around in international circles. On May 29 he made a broadcast to the International Trade Union Federation that was meeting in Hanoi. Lawyer Tho said in part:

"OVER MANY years past, the U. S. imperialists have used every modern means of war, including poisonous chemicals... and toxic gas bombs to massacre the South Vietnamese people... The unchanged stand of the southern people... is that the U. S. imperialists must withdraw... that Vietnamese problems be settled by the Vietnamese themselves."

All this would be unimportant were it not for the creeping evidence that Nguyen Huu Tho and the National Liberation Front are being built up in Washington as well as Moscow as the agents to act for peace talks that include the Viet Cong.

SHOULD THIS happen, the American people will be asked to believe that the man and his front are not wholly Communist, just semi-Communist. Such is the way that non-entirely-Red coalitions are accepted. And such is the way that Communists like to take over the world.

'Tulip Time'

NEW YORK (AP)—By a fluke of set designing, Barbra Streisand gets a nightly reminder of her past while performing in "Funny Girl."

Miss Streisand's first brush with music occurred at age 8 when she began taking piano lessons. The first popular songs he conquered was "Tulip Time," a hit in the 1919 "Ziegfeld Follies." Because "Funny Girl" is the story of a young girl during her triumphant years with Ziegfeld, several show scenes take place in a dressing room decorated with sheet music from Ziegfeld productions. The number pasted in the center of the layout is "Tulip Time." The designer vows he didn't know about Barbra's ties with the tune.

....Whale Of A Reception Set

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Namu the whale probably couldn't care less but this city of over half a million is preparing the best civic reception a whale ever had.

Fireboats are out, though. It isn't that the whale experts are afraid Namu might suffer an inferiority complex from trying to compete with the man-made spouters or blow a gasket in the attempt. Those wise in the ways of whales say they are afraid the sound of the fireboat whistles, pumps and the roar of the water might upset the four-ton mammal.

Greater Seattle Inc., city booster organization, announced Wednesday some of the plans it has for the reception: Top hats, morning coats and striped pants. A string ensemble. Lt. Gov. John A. Cherberg to assist in presenting Namu with a lei of salmon.

The most indefinite part of the reception is the time and the number of whales to be greeted. It is tentatively scheduled for next Friday afternoon or Saturday morning.

At last reports, Namu, caught in a gillnet at Namu, B.C., and sold to the Seattle Marine Aquarium, was being accompanied on his tow here by a cow and two calves. Experts insist they are his wife and offspring.

Namu, being towed here in a floating corral, was reported happy to have the family along. He rolled and spouted playfully Wednesday as the convoy moved through the calm waters off Johnstone Strait which separates Vancouver Island from the British Columbia mainland.

Youths Killed As Car Flips

MATHIS, Tex. (AP) — Two teenagers died and a third suffered critical injuries as their car overturned 1.6 miles south of here on Texas 359 Wednesday night.

Bryan Hinds and Kenneth Pitts, both 16 and from Alice, were killed.

Attendants at an Alice hospital reported the other youth, Richard Cox, 17, of Alice, was in grave condition.

State police said the south-bound car ran off the highway at a curve, hit a culvert and a telephone pole, and rolled several times.

Actor Doubts His Way To Be Permanent

NEW YORK (AP)—Although Terence Stamp recently was named "best actor" at the Cannes Film Festival for his performance in "The Collector," he predicts that his type — "slightly uncouth Englishman" — will soon go out of style.

"It's a trend that started in England with the mass education of the working classes," said Stamp, 25, fingering his collection of stringy dark hair.

ENJOYS ACTING
"But," he says cheerfully, "the fashion is going to change. I have a feeling it's going to give me up."

Stamp, however, is pretty blasé about trends, claiming that commercial popularity isn't his goal anyway. He's an actor, he says, simply because he enjoys it. "Before I was an actor, I didn't like life."

A native of the Stepney slum district of London, Stamp dabbled in several fields before becoming an actor. At 15, he began working evenings as an assistant golf pro. Two years later, he enrolled in art school only to decide after a few months that his work "wasn't very good." So he switched to advertising, first as a messenger and file clerk and later as a typographer.

JOB AGONY
"That year was endless," he says. "I was bored stiff."

After some deliberation, Stamp, then 18, decided to study acting. His soliloquy of decision, he says, ran something like this:

"I thought to myself, 'When I'm old, nobody's going to give me back the years I wasted. It's not important if I become a star. But when I get near the end, I can say, 'I enjoyed it — I had a good time.'"

After a year of study and many small parts in repertory theaters throughout England, he was spotted by Peter Ustinov and signed to play the title role in "Billy Budd."

Right now, Stamp is looking forward to his next movie, "Modesty Blaise." Kind of a knockabout thriller comedy," he says. "It'll be a giggle to do."

High Output Not Nipping Climb In Cattle Prices

DALLAS (AP)—Cattle prices have been rising despite continued high output the past three months, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reports.

Its monthly business review issued Wednesday said choice grade slaughter steers sold for about $28 per hundredweight at Chicago in June, $7 per hundredweight higher than the low point in May of 1964.

Choice feeders at Kansas City averaged about $3 per hundredweight above prices during the first quarter of 1965.

MORE CONSUMED
The review said the prices were bolstered by reduced production during the first quarter of 1965, greater national income and more consumption.

Average beef consumption increased six pounds per person last year to a total of 100 pounds. The bank predicted a further increase this year.

A drop in supplies of highly finished beef early this year increased the price spread between higher grades of slaughter cattle and feeder replacements.

Recent strength in beef prices has been aided also by a 12 percent decline in supplies of other red meat in the first quarter of 1965, the bank said.

The review said, however, that the increase in beef supplies which has been developing for several years should prevent over-optimism regarding prices. A record 107 million cattle and calves were reported on farms and ranches Jan. 1.

VA Hospital Ordered Shut

DALLAS (AP)—The Veterans Administration Hospital at McKinney has been ordered closed for patient purposes Aug. 2 and 300 employees are getting offers for other VA jobs, Elvan Witaker, director, said today.

Only 62 patients are in the hospital now. Only extreme medical emergencies that cannot be transported to other VA hospitals are being admitted.

Those not ready for discharge by Aug. 2 will be transferred, Witaker said.

Only a skeleton crew will remain for a month to clean and dispose of equipment. Doctors already are receiving offers for reassignment, and other workers will receive them before the deadline, Witaker said.

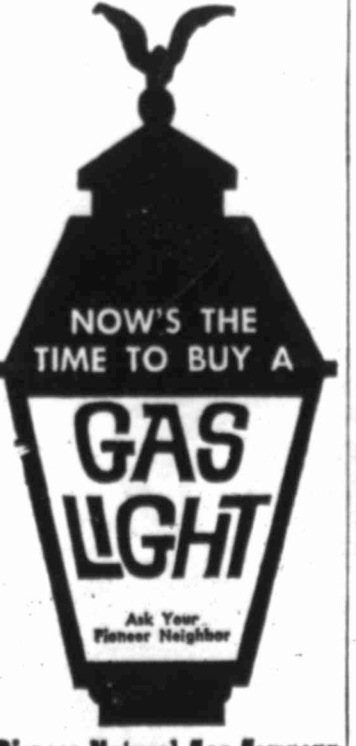

Weather Dry In Most Parts

By The Associated Press
Rain fell in scattered sections in the eastern third of the nation and the Central Plains today but generally dry weather prevailed in most other areas.

Cooler air from the northern Midwest appeared headed into the Northeast, indicating a break in the brief hot spell in some areas. The mercury hit the 90s in many cities Wednesday and reached 100 at Windsor Locks, Conn., a record high for July 14.

Drought continued to plague cities in the northeastern region and many areas inaugurated water conservation programs. Rain fell Wednesday in sections of the eastern Great Lakes and also in parts of the Southeast and Texas.

Heavy rain, hail and wind gusts up to 80 m.p.h. lashed the Lodgepole and Lorenzo areas in southwestern Nebraska.
