Cotton Classing Up During Past Week

Dry, mild weather allowed cotton producers to step-up harvesting operations in District 2. According to B. B. Manly, Jr., Officer-in-charge of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Abilene, Texas, receipts from District 2 totaled approximately 29,000 samples last week. The Abilene Office classed a total of 49,100 samples during the week. This brought the total bales classed during current harvesting season to 100,000.

Grades continued about the same as the previous week, with 14 percent of the cotton in the White Grade category, 85 percent was Light Spotted, 1 percent was Spotted, and 5 percent was Light Gray. A further breakdown of the percentages, shows Middling Light Spotted as the predominant grade, making up 59 percent of the total.

A slight decline was noted in staple lengths from the preceding week. The predominant staple length was once again 29-32 with 58 percent being classed in this category. Two percent was classed as 13-16; 26 percent, 7-8; 12 percent, 15-16; 1 percent, 1-inch and longer, 1 percent, 31-32.

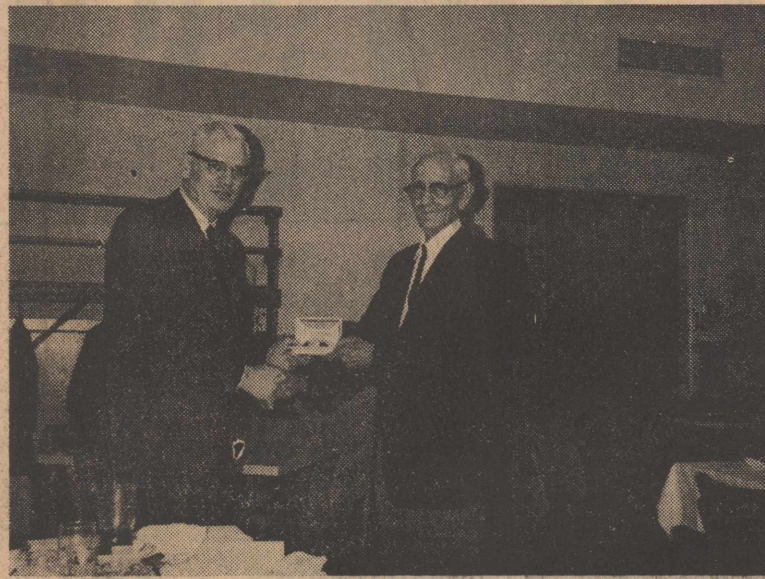

The Micronaire readings continued high, with 96 percent reading 3.5 and higher.

Hammers Take 7-0 Victory Over Spur

Rotan Yellowhammers took a 7-0 win over Spur Bulldogs here last Friday night when FB Bruce Baugh scored a second quarter TD.

The non-conference game was marked by costly fumbles.

The win gave the Yellowhammers a 3-2 season mark, while Spur has failed to win one. Rotan is 0-1 in district action.

Baugh's touchdown was made on a one-yard carry. The drive was set up when Jimmy Heathington recovered a Spur fumble on the Rotan 12. Six plays later the Yellowhammers scored. Quarterback Pete Garcia booted the extra point.

Spur fumbled again on the first play after receiving the kick-off following the Rotan TD. Heathington again made the recovery. The Yellowhammers then went to the Spur 11 where they were halted on a fourth down attempt.

In the fourth quarter Rotan got to the Spur seven, but fumbled and Spur recovered.

Brucellosis Retesting To Be Done In County

Dr. R. M. Zirkle, area Veterinarian, with the Animal Disease Eradication Division of the USDA has notified us that Fisher County is due for brucellosis re-certification by May 21, 1964, according to James S. Norman, County Agent.

According to Dr. Zirkle at least twenty percent of the cattle in 164 representative herds and all herds that showed infection on the last certifying test, will be retested.

David Milner, who lives in the Royston Community, has been employed to do the testing and is already at work in the county.

So there will be no danger of Fisher County losing its certified status all county livestockmen who will be penning their cattle for working, spraying, etc., are asked to contact Milner (at night) by phone, Rotan 5953, or the county agent's office, if they are willing to have their herd retested.

Duke-Field Wedding Vows Said Thursday

Rotan Church of Christ was the setting for the marriage of Miss Jo Ann Duke and Melton O. Field, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Duke and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Field are parents of the bridegroom.

Loy Mitchell, minister, led the couple in double ring vows.

Mrs. Charles Reed was matron of honor and Rebecca Petty was bridesmaid. Their identical dresses were coral colored street length and they wore matching pillbox hats. Their flowers were white spider mums.

Joe Don Smith of Sweetwater and William Duke of Rotan were candle-lighters, both are cousins of the bride.

Leon Donham of Roby served the groom as best man.

Charles Reed and Floyd Smith of Sweetwater were ushers and Garvis Hinson was groomsman.

The bride chose for her wedding gown a pure silk over brides-dream taffeta enhanced by re-embroidered lace motifs on the scoop neckline, which was outlined in seed pearls. Small bows and lace motifs sprinkled the bouffant skirt's intermission front. The full back skirt fell into a chapel train. Her pillbox hat held her silk illusion veil.

The bridal flowers were white spider mums carried atop a white Bible.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the basement of the church.

When the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Fort Worth the bride was wearing a gray double knit suit with black accessories.

The bride attended Rotan High School and the groom attended Roby High School.

The couple will make their home at 509 Mead.

Mr. Field is employed by West Texas Utilities Co.

The bridegroom's parents were host for the rehearsal dinner at Silver Spur in Roby.

Saying By Hub Cole

Truth is a great word. To my way of thinking telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth is the greatest honor that any man can ever have.

This reminds me of a true fact I recall. My Daddy traded for a nice looking mule. He thought he had made a good trade, but he soon found out different. A neighbor wanted to buy this mule. Dad priced him for $50. Of course the man wanted to know why he was so cheap. Pap said, he is not worth 50 cents. The man took the mule on trial, about a week later he came to pay Pop for the mule. Pop said "well I sure didn't expect you to pay for that mule." The man said, "I am not paying for the mule, I am paying you for telling me the truth."

Hub Cole.

LONG ENOUGH IN THIS WILDERNESS

Text: You have been going about this mountain long enough; turn northward." Deuteronomy 2:3.

These words are from God through Moses to the people of Israel. After forty years of wandering, they are now ready for the big decision. It is time to turn toward the promised land, even though there are difficulties in the way. Here is one of those decisive moments in the life of nations and individuals when the preparation is over and the issue must be joined.

1. Let us not, first of all, the importance of the years of preparation. It took a generation for Moses to make a nation out of the slave tribes he first led out of Egypt. They had to learn government and find leadership. They had to get over the slave attitudes and assume the responsibilities of free men. Such experiences of preparation are necessary for men. Jesus went to the wilderness for forty days. Paul went into the Arabian desert to think through the meaning of the call of Christ. Abraham Lincoln went through a lonely childhood and experienced many a failure before he was ready. No man is prepared for his chance until he has put in a long apprenticeship. We cannot begin at the top. And in God's economy, there are no short cuts.

2. Yet there is sometimes a tendency to fear a decision and prefer wandering aimlessly in the wilderness. We procrastinate, which is to say that we put off action for a more convenient season. We do not refuse to consider the Promised Land, but we wait for a better time to turn toward it. Many a person is going to write a book some day, but the years pass and the proper time for beginning never arrives. Around the Graduate Schools there linger students who must take one more course and spend one more year before they launch forth on their career. We are like the man who had a beautifully equipped tool room, but the tools are to be kept sharp and scratchless - less are not to be used. Altogether we become like General McClellan who could make an army out of raw recruits, but was ever afraid to risk an action.

3. God is saying to America, what he said through Moses to Israel. We have attained the material things needed for the better world. We have power which will make possible the development of the poor countries. We have communication systems to talk to each other. We have travel facilities to get to the farthest part of the world in a few hours. How can we lead the world toward that Promised Land of peace and plenty? Can we use power to save and not destroy? Can we show light in the midst of darkness? God is saying: "America, you have wandered long enough. Turn north."

4. Finally, God says that to every man. Perhaps it is an evil habit we should attack once more and become free. Perhaps it is our personal relations which have gone wrong and we must move out of the wilderness of hatred, bitterness, and revenge. Or it may be that we must turn toward the spiritual realities and undergird our lives with God's might. Preparation is fine, but it is never an end in itself. There comes the time when we have to risk a decision, if we are to enter the country God has prepared for us.

Alva Kolb recently completed chiseling approximately eighty acres of sorghum stubble on the farm located on Hiway 70 south of Roby. The farm is owned by Sam and Vada Edwards who have a Great Plains Contract with the Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District. Kolb chiseled the sorghum in order to leave a maximum amount of stubble on top of the ground. This is a major key to better soil and water management. Utilize plant residue left in cultivated fields by incorporation it into the soil or leaving it on the surface during that part of the year when critical erosion periods usually occur. Good residue management conserves moisture, increases infiltration, reduces soil losses, and improve soil tilth.

Some of the crops that will produce the desired quantity of residue are small grains, millet, high residue producing legumes, and some varieties of sorghums. For best results, residue should be left at a minimum of 750 per acre on broadcast or drilled crops or 1000 pounds per acre for normal row planting.

Residue should be maintained until approximately April 1, for spring-planted crops and August 15 for fall-planted crops. Residue should be plowed with large sweeps or chisel-type implements to allow as much of the residue as possible to remain on the surface of the land.

Mr. and Mrs. Devon McCombs took their 15 months old son, Deny to Hendricks Memorial Hospital, Abilene, Wednesday of last week, where he was treated by a specialist until Monday, when he was released from the hospital. Those going to Abilene Friday to see him were his father, Devon McCombs and son Dale, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Leonard McCombs and Mrs. Lewis Hayes. The child's mother had been with him during the time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wheeler, Cathy and Doug of Temple spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Posey. Children of Mr. and Mrs. Posey, Patricia, Robert, and Julie Ann returned to their home after a visit with their grandparents.

ROTAN SCHOOL NEWS

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY

Fans vs. Officials

By Norma Sparks

Every year about this time, thousands of people all over the United States trade the shelter of their homes for a cold, hard seat in the bleachers of a football stadium. No other sport in the world could cause so many people to willingly give up the coziness of their homes (and their favorite television shows) in order to sit in sometimes freezing weather for nearly two hours.

Because of this "sacrifice" that football fans make, they are naturally "concerned" about how the game progresses, and sometimes get a little perturbed if things get a little rough for their team. Because they are sitting in the stands, they are sure they can see the plays (and penalties) much better than the officials who run the plays with the teams.

But this is not always so. For one thing, the officials are not quite as prejudiced as the fans. They have nothing to gain by calling a crooked game. In fact, they could lose not only their jobs, but also their dignity and good name. No man wants to ruin his, and his family's name because of one football game.

Once a play is called, the decision is final. Not even the officials who called it can have it changed. The officials, therefore, are carefully chosen by the coaches of both teams. Each coach is given a list of the officials so that he can mark off the undesirable ones. Then, the list is sent to the association. In turn, four officials not crossed out on the list are sent to referee the game. But which four remains secret until they arrive the night of the big game. This makes "bribery" and other crookedness impossible.

Because the officials must call the game as they see it, and because both football squads can be thrown out of the district if the officials are caught in a fight, it is a good idea to respect all decisions made.

I think that we here in Rotan have a wonderful group of fans - the kind that any football squad would be proud to have follow them. We have lost in the past, but Hammer fans, although disappointed, did not jeer and boo and lose faith in our team, because they know the value of good sportsmanship and they understand our boys were doing their best. Because of the loyal support of these fans, our great Yellowhammer team will go onward and upward -- and do their very best to make the name of RHS an outstanding one in football.

English IV Class A Busy One For Seniors

One of the purposes of English IV is to prepare seniors for college English. Mrs. R. L. Yantis does a good job of this as shown by the fact that most boys and girls finishing RHS and going away to college are very strong in English.

This year's English IV schedule is keeping the senior stepping, but, of course, it will be beneficial in the long run. The first semester consists of grammar. The class has been studying case, gerunds, infinitives, types of paragraphs, and parts of sentences. The class also has periodical vocabulary and spelling lessons. The reading program consists of Reader's Digest lessons and library books. Every Monday five to seven articles in Reader's Digest are assigned covering many different current subjects. The class also reads English literature from the library. At least 500 pages of library reading is required for a minimum passing grade for the reading grade. More is required for higher grades. The difficulty of the reading material is also considered in the grade.

Fire Prevention Program In Primary

October 7-14 is National Fire Prevention Week. In Primary, the third and fourth grades are taking the lead in practicing to help prevent fires. Each day the students practice fire drills and often write themes on fire prevention. Mrs. David Kelley's class will have a fire prevention program during this week. Each student who passes his requirement will receive a badge which reads "Junior Fire Marshal". If the student is able to pass a higher requirement he will also receive a Junior Fire Marshal Hat. These rewards were furnished by Mr. Joe D. Burke, local insurance agent.

Many Thanks To Our Band Parents

We of Rotan High School, especially those of us who are members of or who are connected with the band, would like to take this opportunity to inform the general public about the activities of the Band Parents' Club, and in so doing we hope to show our appreciation for the contribution they make.

Several years ago, those parents having children in the band got together and organized the Band Parents' Club. The main project and goal of the Club is to assist the Band in any way it possibly can. The Club furnishes sponsors for all band trips and also operates a concession stand, built and owned by the Band Parents' Club, at every home football game. Participation of the parents in any Club activity is completely voluntary, and all proceeds are used for the benefit of the band. This year the band are wearing new trousers, thanks to our Band Parents.

Throughout the years, our Band Parents have sacrificed much to help make our band a better one. Mostly the parents contribute hard work. At every home game the concession stand work is divided up among various committees. Madeline Partin heads the sandwich committee and is responsible for calling on different mothers to make sandwiches for each game. Ima Berry and Dorothy Burrow are in charge of making the hotdogs; Yvonne Klepper is responsible for pop corn; Odie Whitfield makes the coffee and sees that it is always hot and that there is always plenty of it. Hubert and Treasa Dycus are responsible for the soft drinks. Lorena Darden, the club president, has a hand in everything; she sees that everyone does what he or she is supposed to do, and takes care of all sticks for the lemons. LaVera Riley, club treasurer, is in charge of finances, making needed purchases and such. The other Band parents take turns working in the concession stand.

Whenever the Band took a trip last year, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dycus carried the instruments in their station wagon, leaving more room on the crowded buses. This year the Dycuses are again carrying the instruments for the band on every trip, even though they no longer have children in the band, since both of their boys are playing football this year.

The officers for this year follow:

Lorena Darden, President; Treasa Dycus, Vice-President; Thelma McDonald, Secretary; LaVera Riley, Treasurer.

It is parents like these, and many others - too many to mention here - who are so much an important part in making our band what it is. To you, Band Parents, thank you.

Please God, Help Us!

In every man's life there is a moment when he is inadequate to the forces he faces. At such a time only his moral integrity will sustain him.

Those who have based their lives on their own strength inevitably will face the time and the place when that strength is insufficient to the necessity of the moment. They will crumble unless they know that they are never alone... that there is a power that can and will help them, no matter how terrible the times.

The man who has learned to rely on God can draw from this source of never-failing power and with resurgent strength face his future, unafraid.
