Mexican Wounded In Knife Affray

Police Start Search For Assailant Who Escaped In Automobile; Victim Taken To Hospital

Police last night were searching for a Mexican man who struck quickly three times with a long knife and then made his escape in an automobile.

Cesarina Mendez, 35, was rushed to the West Texas hospital early last evening suffering of knife wounds received in an affray with the unknown assailant. An examination revealed a long cut on his right arm and two minor wounds in the shoulder and leg.

The wounded man would throw no light on the affair merely stating that the fight occurred near the section house in northwest Lubbock.

Two other Mexicans, near the scene, told the license number of the automobile and reported it to police headquarters. Officers are confident that the man will be apprehended early today.

Local Nimrods Oil Up Guns With Open Season On Hunting

Local nimrods last night were oiling up the old double barrel after months of inactivity in preparation for a busy season which started last night at midnight. Open season now prevails on ducks and geese and several Lubbock citizens were seen to stock up on shells yesterday to get the jump on their neighbors.

Followers of the hunt have reported that lakes over the section are literally covered with ducks and that the early seasons will be the choicest.

The season will extend to December 31. The bag limit for one person is 10 ducks and one goose. Hunters are warned by Morgan Dickinson, state game warden, that the limit must be observed. Licensees are on sale and all persons must have them when hunting out of their own county.

Dove season also is in full swing and will continue to December 31. Deer and bear seasons open November 1 and the limits are one bear and two deer. Quail may be killed, starting December 1.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 15. (AP)—The Canales, acting secretary of the interior in Mexico reached here today en route to San Antonio for a series of conferences on immigration questions.

Principals In Rotary Meet Here

Bernard Bryant, left, Stamford, governor of the 41st Rotary District, will be one of the principal speakers tonight when approximately 200 South Plains Rotarians attend an inter-city relations session here. Jerry J. Clements, right, president of the Lubbock Rotary club, will preside.

Soldier Freed In Axe Murder Trial On Insanity Plea

Harrison Waitt Acquitted Of Murdering Wife And Her Lover In Home At El Paso; Son Is Witness

(By Associated Press)
EL PASO, Oct. 15.—Harrison F. Waitt, Fort Bliss soldier who hacked his wife and her lover, Gordon Rose, to death with an ax when he discovered them together in his home several weeks ago, was acquitted of the slaying of his wife here tonight, by reason of temporary insanity.

The whole trial, from the time the jury was completed, to the verdict required less than seven hours and testimony occupied only two hours.

Son Witness
Waitt's seven-year-old son, Kenneth, who was asleep on the bed when his mother was slain, was the chief witness for the state, although he sat with his father in the courtroom. In a clear childish voice he testified that his mother and Rose had spent other nights together prior to the night of the slaying.

The state sought to show that Waitt knew of the situation and that the crime was premeditated. In an effort to convince the jury of this, the state sought to show that Waitt put on his shoes and went into the yard for the ax which he used.

Waitt pleaded temporary insanity caused when he discovered that "his best friend," whom he invited into his home because Rose complained of the astringent fare at Fort Bliss, had betrayed him.

Waitt still faced an indictment charging the murder of Rose. But the state indicated tonight that this indictment would be dismissed. The jury deliberated one hour and 34 minutes.

Survivor Of Gun Battle Released

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 15. (AP)—A. J. Wimberley, 60, sole survivor of a pistol battle Friday in which two were killed and one wounded, was released on bonds of $5,000 here today.

One bond of $1,500 covered a charge of murder in connection with the death of Riley W. Piant, who was under indictment for an alleged criminal attack on Wimberley's daughter. A second bond of $1,500 covered a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the wounding of M. B. Cochran of Cotulla.

Piant and Cochran were in a car and were backing away from the courthouse on the public square when Wimberley rounded the corner and the fight started.

LON SMITH ILL.
AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Lon A. Smith, railroad commissioner, remained in a serious condition tonight at a hospital here. He suffered two acute attacks during the day but rallied after both.

Woman Charges Al Capone In Murder Of State Attorney

Mrs. Frank Biege Relates Details In Slaying Of William McSwiggan And Names Husband Member

Solution Unproven

"Scarface Al" Is Charged With Introduction Of Machine Gun Into Gang War Of Chicago

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A woman has offered an unproved solution of the three-year-old Chicago question: "Who killed State Attorney William McSwiggan?"

The woman, Mrs. Frank Biege, declared in a statement made public by Patrick Roche of the state attorney's office that Scarface Alphonse Capone, lord of Chicago gangs and now confined in a Philadelphia jail, wielded the gun that felled Assistant State Attorney McSwiggan and introduced the machine gun into gang warfare here.

Names Husband
The woman named her husband as one of Capone's staff of executioners, and because she "squeaked" she has gone into hiding, afraid for her life. Biege, alias Frank Perry, was arrested Saturday. To forestall his release by habeas corpus proceedings, the prosecutors lodged him in jail on a charge of extortion while they examine the 24 pages of his wife's startling statement.

McSwiggan, an assistant of former State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, was assassinated in Cicero three years ago.

Biege, his wife said, wrote to Capone: "You can't feel very safe with that McSwiggan murder on your hands."

He was demanding $10,000 from Capone, Mrs. Biege declared, and, she said, Biege said to her: "Al, was the guy who shot McSwiggan himself. McSwiggan came out there on some raid in Cicero and there was a bunch of fellows with Al—four or five others. While in that raid he shot McSwiggan himself."

O'Donnell Holds Monthly Meeting

Lubbock Attorney Talks At Chamber Of Commerce Program Tuesday Night; 60 Persons Attend

(Special To The Avalanche)
O'DONNELL, Oct. 15.—Chamber of Commerce work is by no means a new thing, J. I. Kilpatrick, Lubbock attorney, declared here tonight when he appeared on the program as the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the O'Donnell Chamber of Commerce.

Back in the days of ancient history, tribes of farflung banded themselves together, and while the organization was more for protection than anything else, they were doing chamber of commerce work, Kilpatrick said. Later in the medieval ages cities had organizations of their own, harbors, ports, roads and other such things that developed the city and these organizations were doing chamber of commerce work.

"One of the things we get out of chamber of commerce work," Kilpatrick said, "is the friendship and friendly contact and association we get out of our meetings such as this one."

Over 60 people from O'Donnell were grouped around the heavy-laden banquet table for the meeting. Decorations on the tables represented the horns of plenty were filled with grapes and fruit.

Rev. Joe Wilson, pastor of the First Baptist church was toastmaster. Readings were given by Misses

Needle Removed From Heart

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15. (AP)—A needle which had penetrated to the heart of Jimmy Baugh, 7 years old, was removed by delicate surgery here today and physicians said he would be as well as ever in a few days.

The surgeons, Dr. V. H. Musick and Dr. Harper Wright, approached the operation with trepidation as they were aware that the slightest error might cause the little boy's death.

The needle was driven into the chest when Jimmy fell from a toy wagon. The point scratched the heart every time it beat.

Pantages Witness Held For Perjury After Testifying

State Rests Case In Trial Of Theater Magnate On Statutory Charges Filed By Youthful Dancer

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 15.—The state rested today in its prosecution of a statutory charge against Alexander Pantages, theater multi-millionaire, then, after cross examination, ordered arrest of Garland Biffie, the first witness for the defense, on a charge of perjury.

Defense Attorney Joseph Ford, during a 30-minute examination of Biffie, law book salesman and attorney, drew from the witness statements contradicting part of the testimony of Pantages' accuser, 17-year-old Eunice Pringle.

Neutral Answers
District Attorney Burton Fitts, undertaking the cross examination, soon had before him a long list of neutral answers by Biffie to questions relating to the young dancer's appearance and that of her companion, Nicholas Dunev, on August 9, the day of the alleged attack in Pantages' private offices here.

Attorney Ford had plunged into the circumstances preceding the alleged attack.

Q—About 3:30 p. m. August 9, you went to the Pantages' theater building on business and saw Eunice Pringle in the lobby, did you not?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—You saw a man with her, did you not?

A—Yes, sir.

Biffie identified the girl and man as Miss Pringle and Dunev, making a general description of their appearances.

The defense then read Miss Pringle's previous testimony that she entered the building alone and made no statement to Dunev nor heard any from him after leaving the car in which he drove her to the theater where she had an appointment with Pantages to discuss a dance act.

Fort Worth Trial Rests With Jury

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15. (AP)—The case of H. J. Kelly, charged with murder of J. Reynolds Gunn, druggist, at Kelly's filling station on the outskirts of Fort Worth last March, was given to the jury Tuesday night.

Kelly, who said he moved here six years ago from Tyler, took the stand in his own behalf and denied "planting" a pistol, scabbard and a bottle of whiskey on Gunn after the shooting. His denials were in answer to questions by W. P. McLean, special prosecutor, and followed testimony by two policemen that the pistol found beneath Gunn's body was one they had seen in the possession of Kelly.

Three Chinese Gunboats In Warring Zone Reported Sunk With Crews Of 500 Men Drowned

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, Oct. 15.—Controversy between Russia and China over the Chinese Eastern railway situation in Manchuria is reported to have entered a new phase with the striking of one of the heaviest blows that the Soviet forces have yet delivered in the Quasi-war on the Manchurian frontier.

Chinese official dispatches received here report that Soviet land and water forces struck Sunday night and Monday morning at the confluence of the Amur and Sungari rivers along the Manchurian frontier.

Reports agree that a Russian force of 800 men crossed the Amur river on Sunday night under the cover of artillery and occupied the town of Linkiangshan on Chinese territory. There have been no reports of a Russian withdrawal and it was therefore thought possible the attack differed from previous border raids when no attempt was made to hold hostile territory.

One Chinese report asserted the Russians sank three Chinese gunboats drowning in all 500 men of their crews. The official Chinese communiqué did not mention any sinkings, saying the "Chinese squadron was obliged to withdraw up the Sungari river to Fupin." The commander of the Manchurian "navy" is hastening to that point in order to reorganize the Chinese forces.

Preparations To Start For Parley

Five Power Naval Session Will Be Held In London Next January; Developments Watched Closely

(By Associated Press)

Developments in Tokyo, Paris and Rome looking toward the participation of each of the powers invited by Great Britain to the parley were watched closely. It will not be made public here, however, until after publication in London.

To Exchange Information
After the formal acceptance by Japan and France, the next step for the parley will be exchange of information among the interested governments in the five capitals—London, Washington, Tokyo, Paris and Rome. Details regarding the strength of fleets and the attitude of each government on the matters to be covered by the conference will be discussed.

Defense Of Fall Started Tuesday In Bribery Case

Dealings Of Former Secretary Of Interior With Harry F. Sinclair Told In State's Testimony

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The defense of Albert B. Fall to charges that he accepted a bribe of $100,000 while secretary of the interior was commenced in the District of Columbia supreme court today after the government introduced testimony showing Harry F. Sinclair turned over to Fall's cattle company a total of $268,500, subsequent to receiving the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Fall is charged with accepting the bribe from Edward L. Doheny six months prior to awarding the oil man's company the contract oil storage tanks at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and a lease on the Elk Hill naval oil reserve in California. He will seek to prove through Doheny that the money was a loan.

Introduction of the Sinclair testimony was regarded as a blow to the defense. It was the first time a connected story of both leases has been placed before a jury, and showed Fall's interests received a total of $268,500 in 1921 and 1922 from Sinclair and Doheny. A jury which heard only about the Doheny sum acquitted Fall and Doheny of conspiracy with Fall.

The defense today built the ground work of its effort to show Fall had little to do with the awarding of the Elk Hills lease and nothing to do with inserting the preferential clause in the Pearl Harbor contract, giving the Pan-American company preference to Elk Hills leases.

Local Youth Gets One Year In Pen

A verdict of guilty was handed down yesterday in the 99th district court before Judge Clark M. Mulligan, in the case of Cecil Grice, 17-year-old Lubbock youth, and he was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary.

Grice was charged with chicken theft.

The firm of Benson and Benson represented the defendant while District Attorney Durwood Bradley and assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks represented the state.

EXPERT OPPOSED

Tariff Commissioner Meets Opposition Of Industry

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Attempts of the pottery industry to have removed Frederick L. Koch, tariff commission expert, because of his attitude toward the industry in the framing of the tariff bill were averted today by the senate lobby investigating committee as it began its inquiry.

William Burgess, tariff adviser of the United States Potter association and a former republican member of the tariff commission, told the committee he and others of the industry had protested to the commission that Koch was biased in favor of importers when he testified at a senate hearing on the tariff measure.

New Mayor Named To Help Restore City Government

Nominations Are Made For Most Of Offices In City Made Vacant By Recent Wholesale Resignation

Soldiers To Leave

W. A. Henderson, Townsite Developer And Hotel Man Selected As New Mayor; Chief Of Police Needed

(By Associated Press)
BORGER, Oct. 15.—The end of a martial law here drew appreciably nearer tonight as a new mayor and one new city commissioner were named for the city and nominations were made for most of the other city offices left vacant by resignation.

The soldiers, who came here to uphold an "entrenched criminal ring," which the Governor charged existed, were expected to leave as soon as a county and city administration satisfactory to Gen. Calhoun, district attorney, were installed.

Henderson is Mayor
W. A. Henderson, townsite developer and hotel owner was elected mayor by the city commission today with the approval of Calhoun. As soon as the election was confirmed J. W. ### Officials Gather In Lubbock Today

Commissioners And County Judges Of West Texas To Form Association; Over Seventy-Five Expected

Several West Texas officials, county judges and commissioners from counties in this section, arrived in Lubbock last night preparing for the meeting to be held in this city today for the organization of a West Texas association of county judges and commissioners. Officials will be elected today together with the outlining of full organization plans. The meeting is to be held in the district court room on the second floor of the court house.

"The meeting should, in every respect, prove to be an interesting one," Judge Robert H. Bean said yesterday. "It will bring together a cross-section of West Texas officialdom. County judges and commissioners have long felt the need for an association in West Texas to serve the interests of the section. While there is a state unit of which we all are members, the problems of this immediate section are seldom discussed and given attention."

No definite program has been outlined for the meeting today and all speeches will be extemporaneous. Between 75 and 80 persons are expected to represent as many West Texas counties.

B. C. D. To Select Five Delegates To WTCC Convention

Local Directors Opposed To Hitherto "Whoopie" Celebrations At Annual Sessions Of Body

Five official delegates from the Lubbock Board of City Development will be named at the twelfth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be held in El Paso, October 24, 25 and 26, according to a decision of the directors in meeting yesterday. They also vetoed the hitherto "whoopie" making of the convention and favored a conservative and efficient management of the West Texas affairs.

The BCD voted not to send a band nor stress a campaign for large attendance from this city, pointing out that the best representation for Lubbock would be a selected group familiar with problems of the section. The delegates have not yet been named.

In addition to preparation for the convention, the directors voted to continue the national advertising campaign of South Plains, Inc., a subsidiary of the Board of City Development. The advertising committee, of which R. J. Murray is chairman, announced that 5,000 inquiries have been received in answer to advertisements which have appeared in only three publications, and that 186 farmers have signified their desire to buy over 43,264 acres of South Plains land. The other publications combined brought forth similar results.

The civic body extended an invitation to Colvin Brown, manager of the organization-service of the department of the chamber of commerce of the United States, to meet with this organization to discuss effectiveness of local work. Mr. Brown will be in Texas next January.

The Lubbock county home demonstration clubs booklet for the coming year will be financed by the Board of City Development, the directors decided.

TURNIPS GROWN

City Hall Officials Set Record On Small Plot

Officials of the Lubbock city hall are claiming a record and this time it is for raising turnips on a plot of ground 50x100 feet.

J. T. Inmon, judge of the city corporation court, and Joe Bondurant, city hall janitor, started the crop by planting seed on the lot adjoining the city hall to the north several weeks ago. Members of the fire department have watered and cultivated the plants, and practically every city official and employee has shared in the palatable vegetable.

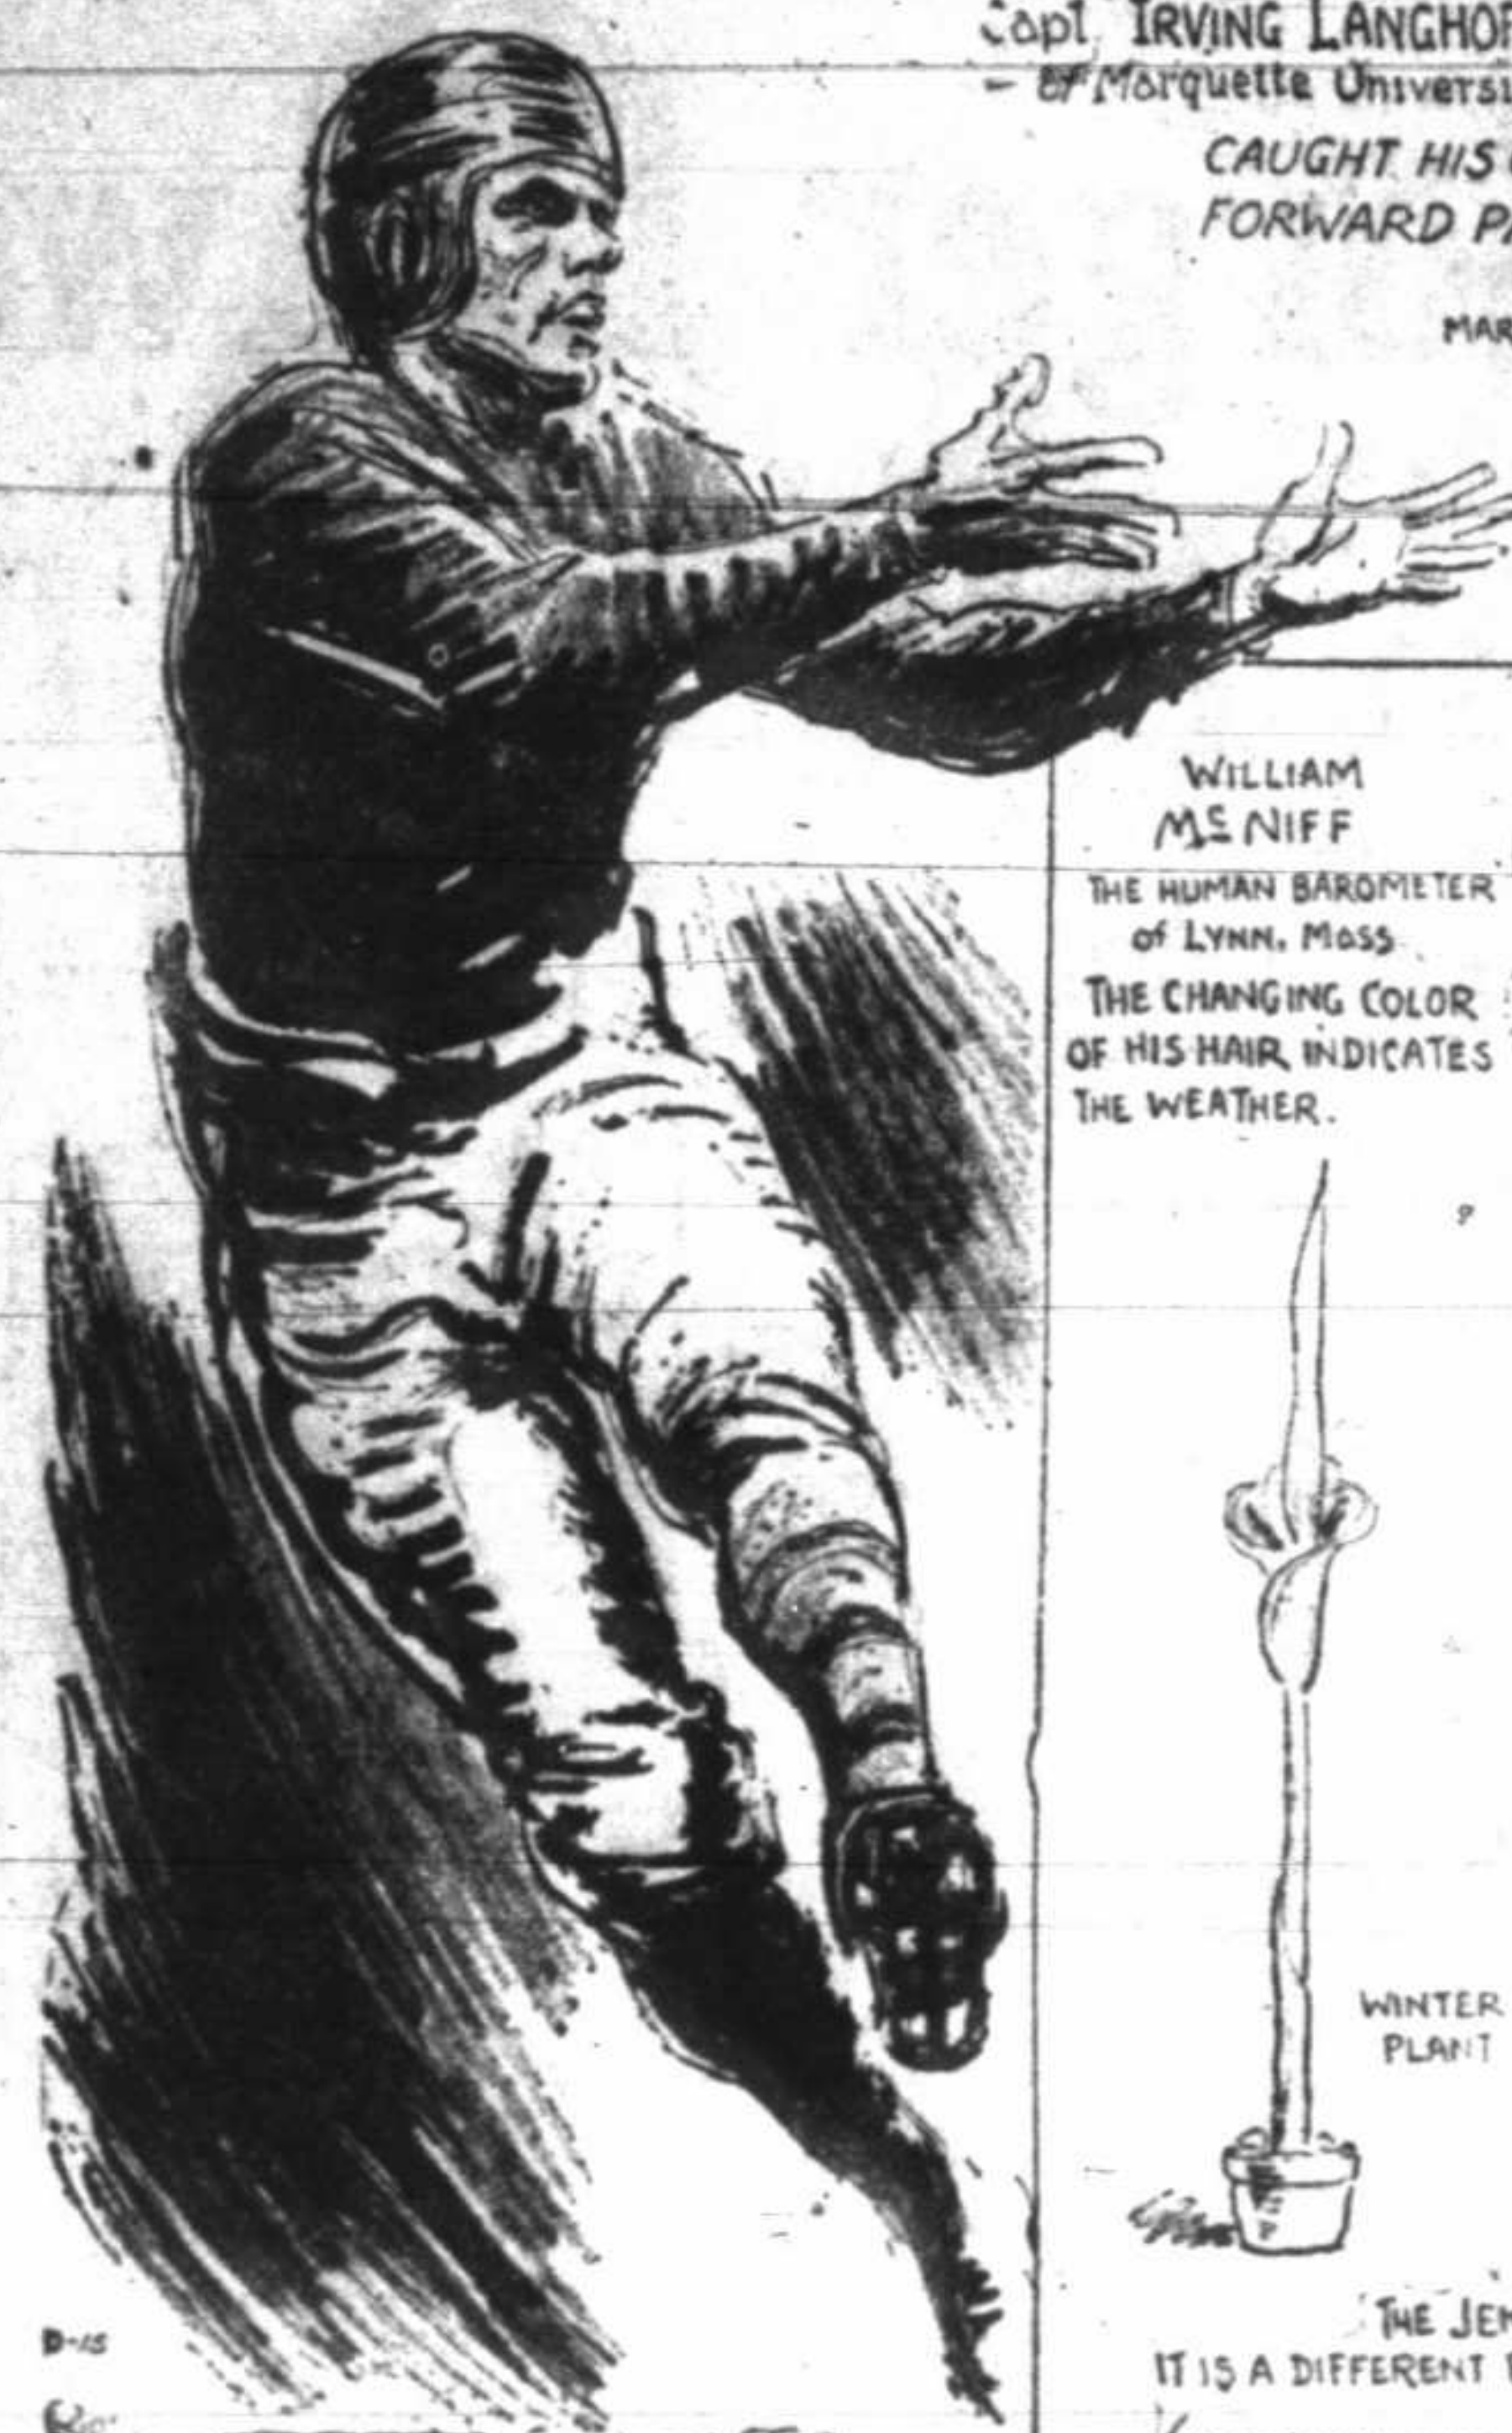

"At one time I saw 15 persons gathering turnips on the lot," said Judge Inmon, "and still we can't tell any are missing."

Store Owner Moves Into Woodshed

Canadian Forced To Vacate American Side Of Building Across Border When Denied Admittance To U. S.

(The Associated Press)
MALONE, N. Y., Oct. 15.—This is the story of "Flynn's Lines," and the answer to something of an international question.

"Flynn's Lines" is a general store with living quarters upstairs, a woodshed attached to the rear of the house and an International boundary line reposing on the threshold of the woodshed door. The new owner of the building, A. Plante, sits in his Canadian woodshed and gazes into the dusty hung interior of his American general store and living quarters from which he has been barred by decision of the United States

Immigration Bureau. Plante, a carpenter, purchased the store four months ago from John B. Flynn and went about his business of living on both sides of the border after applying for permission from the United States. The immigration bureau called a special board of inquiry to decide on the application of the Canadian who reported he had lived in the United States since 1900. The board found him "inadmissible," and the immigration office barred him from this country even though he held title to land within its borders. Plante today eyed the wood-shed into which he and his wife had moved their furniture, studied the far paper lining he was tacking to the inner wall to keep out the approaching winter's winds roaring up from "Canadian flats" and declared he was not going to be "frozen out" of that part of his property by the immigration ruling. Immigration officers, moving about on the United States side of the boundary, occasionally cast a glance through the windows of the general store to assure themselves of its vacancy.

Delay Approval Of Okla. Boundary

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15. (P)—A motion to delay approval by the United States supreme court of the boundary commissioners' report on the western Oklahoma line was prepared today by the state attorney general's office.

After receiving a telegram yesterday from Senator Elmer Thomas pointing out that acceptance of the report would result in the transfer to Texas of approximately 23,000 acres which has been considered a part of Oklahoma, Governor W. J. Holloway requested the attorney general to take immediate action.

J. Berry King, attorney general, said the only showing his office could make before the supreme court would be to call the court's attention to the fact congress authorized negotiations between Oklahoma and Texas for settlement of the boundary dispute and ask the tribunal to postpone action until the negotiations, now pending, could be concluded.

King said the boundary commissioners' report was filed with the Supreme court yesterday and would be up for approval next Monday.

Nation's Churches Raising Millions To Pension Their Retired Ministers; Eighteen Denominations Participate

NEA Service
Nearly 182,000 Protestants in the United States are now singing a glad hymn of praise!

Not to the tune of golden harps, either, but to the clank of silver dollars.

It has long been an accepted fact that school teachers, engineers, postmen and anyone else who worked for a long period in the service of a particular corporation or organization should be pensioned. Now churches have decided that provision should be made so that ministers can live comfortably in old age.

Members of Christ, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Congregational, Northern Baptist and Methodist churches have lately presented a practical plan of action, according to which churches will invest a small percentage of their salaries in a pension fund every month.

$116,000,000 On Hand.
Eighteen of the 177 Protestant religious bodies now have approximately $116,000,000 in assets with which to conduct actuarial pension systems, endowment systems and the older forms of ministerial relief. Upwards of $9,000,000 is being paid annually to nearly 28,000 beneficiaries.

Leading laymen have decided that too frequently ministers were compelled to move into their mansions in the sky straight from poor houses or old people's homes. Therefore, the comforting motives which stated resignedly that one should take no thought of the morrow because the Lord would provide are paying a bare space on pension walls.

Patriotic tales of aged ministers who had nowhere to lay their heads, or who became dependents because of their meager salaries are responsible for the pension fund. To the Episcopal Church goes the distinction of having first established an actuarial pension system by which each clergyman, or his widow, would be paid an annuity commensurate with his average salary during active service.

The big problem solved by the Episcopal pension fund was the adequate funding of the accrued liabilities assumed by the pension system. Since no age or health discrimination could properly be made it was necessary for members of the Episcopal church to subscribe at least $5,000 for this accrued liabilities fund. Total pledges for this fund reached nearly $9,000,000 or about $4,000,000 more than was required.

Disciples Seek $8,000,000.
The Disciples of Christ the 17th Protestant body to enlist in the pension fund is organizing committees which will begin raising $8,000,000 in 1930.

William R. Warren, executive vice-president of the Disciples of Christ pension fund, explains that if all ministers were not more than 30 and all were starting their ministry today, no accrued liabilities fund would be needed, as the regular monthly payments based on each minister's salary would be sufficient to carry the pension system in perpetuity. But the older ministers must be taken care of.

Under the plan now before Christian churches for adoption, says Mr. Warren, each minister who enrolls agrees to pay 2 1/2 per cent of his annual salary in monthly installments. His church agrees to pay the equivalent of 8 per cent of his salary. These payments will earn in 35 years a pension equal to one-half of the minister's average salary, with proportionately smaller or larger pensions for service under or over 35 years, and with substantial benefits to widows and minor children.

Each month a minister will have earned a definite sum which can never be taken away from him. Mathematically, this sum is one-seventieth of the annual salary paid to a minister, which of course is equal to one-half of his average salary over a 35-year period.

Two of the leaders in the Disciples of Christ pension movement are shown here. Above is Harry H. Rogers, banker and oil man of Tulsa, Okla., former president of the Disciples of Christ pension fund. Below is William R. Warren, executive vice-president of the Disciples of Christ pension fund who is credited with being the "father" of this pension plan.

Northern Presbyterians.
The Northern Presbyterian church met the increasing demand for social justice toward its ministry by completing a campaign for $15,000,000 in 1927. This provides for the accrued liabilities among its older pastors and establishes an actuarial pension system.

Congregationalists and Northern Baptists several years ago likewise raised funds with which to provide retirement annuities, the former church having received about $6,000,000 and the latter $7,000,000. Unlike the actuarial systems of Disciples of Christ, Episcopalians and Presbyterians, however, Congregationalists and Baptists do not contribute a stated sum each month for pastors' pensions but operate under a semi-endowment plan.

The Northern Baptist system, which has been in operation for 10 years, permits each minister an allowance at retirement age. It is paid monthly, quarterly, or yearly.

Southern Baptist churches, for the past several years have also been at work on a definite pension plan for their clergy.

The Methodist Plan.
Still another type of pension system is used by the Methodists, who operate by separate conferences, with supplemental income from the general conference. It is a non-contributory system, with endowment based on salary and service.

Two other churches to enter the actuarial pension field in recent years are the Northern Presbyterian and the United Presbyterian, whose members have launched a plan almost identical with the Disciples of Christ and Northern Presbyterians. Southern Presbyterians require $3,000,000 to meet their accrued liabilities and United Presbyterians are seeking a similar fund of $1,500,000.

Based On Service.
The Evangelical church is conducting a campaign to increase its fund for ministerial pensions to $2,000,000 by October, 1930. Its ministers are required to contribute a stated yearly amount as dues to a fund which, in turn, when they are old, will give them quarterly payments according to the number of years they have served.

The United Brethren church taxes its clergy a standard amount, also, regardless of salary received. Reformed Church ministerial relief, which follows the pension plan, is supported by monthly payments, and the Universalist church secures its pension fund through church quotas, thus placing the burden on the congregation instead of the local minister.

Lutherans Collecting $4,000,000.
Lutheran churches recently put on a $4,000,000 drive. The entire amount, pledged one year ago, must be paid by 1930. Ministers pay nothing, the money being secured by a tax of so much per member on the local church.

Percentages of their salary which ministers pay to the fund vary. When the Methodist goal is reached the younger clergy will be asked to give one per cent of their salaries toward this fund. Presbyterian ministers will be asked to contribute two and one-half per cent of their salaries, while their individual churches will give seven and one-half per cent of the salary. In the Congregational group the minister and the church he serves together will pay five per cent of the yearly salary, but each church is privileged to increase its percentage.

Ministers, so the lawmen have decided, are to have a few contented years in self-supporting Canaan instead of having to loiter in the land of Moab, as Moses did, and trust in manna from on high!

Lockney To Hold Opening For New Auditorium, Pool

Modern Community Center Will Be Dedicated With Impressive Celebration All Day Friday

(Special To The Avalanche)
LOCKNEY, Oct. 15.—The formal opening of Lockney's recently completed auditorium, swimming pool and community center on Friday, October 18th, promises to be one of the largest celebrations ever held in this city, according to Chamber of Commerce committee members who are now at work on plans for the event.

The day program is scheduled to be one of intense interest to everyone. A field day for the boys and men will occupy the morning hours while a special ladies program is underway in the spacious auditorium.

Serve Refreshments
Sandwiches, doughnuts, pickles and coffee will be served to all in attendance at the noon hour. Immediately afterward a "My Community" contest is to be staged, with only pupils of rural schools allowed to enter. A swimming race in the new swimming pool is also being arranged for the early afternoon.

Sport followers of this section are expecting a real football classic when the fast Lockney Longhorns meet Tahoka High, a premier South Plains team, at the park.

The night program in the auditorium is planned to climax the celebration when people of the adjacent territory join in a worth-while community meeting. Plenty of music interspersed with interesting speeches is being planned and the program will end with a dedication address, dedicating the new park to the people of Lockney and surrounding communities.

Dawson County To Get Health Nurse

(Special To The Avalanche)
LAMESA, Oct. 15.—Voicing the sentiment of the majority of Dawson county citizens, the Lamesa Luncheon club, at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday, went on record as favoring a county health nurse.

The gist of all talks made before the meeting was to the effect that a county as progressive as Dawson could hardly do without such a nurse. President V. Z. Rogers was asked by a vote of the club to appoint a committee to appear before the county commissioners' court, in session here this week, and request that funds be set aside to match an appropriation of the state for a health nurse here.

Dr. J. C. Loveless, toastmaster, had charge of the program and all physicians of the city who were present at the meeting endorsed the move as did the Parent-Teachers association of the city, together with W. T. Webb, county superintendent.

A Personal Word

From J. D. Everhart of Carter-Houston Department Store, which is to open October 18, in the Rix Furniture building.

Have you ever, in your shopping, found a store where the courtesy was so spontaneous and the desire to serve so honest that buying was made conspicuously pleasant for you?

If so, you are looking forward to another visit to that place—and that is just the ideal, just the atmosphere that will pervade Carter-Houston.

You will come to feel that behind the consistent courtesy, the dependable, pleasant atmosphere of the store, there is a policy of clean merchandising, of absolute honesty. Nothing will ever knowingly be misrepresented to you at Carter-Houston's. We will offer always good values, but never cheap merchandise.

When you are in the store, I want you to come to see me personally. I want to know you. And if ever, in any way, I can do anything to make your buying easier or more pleasant, I will never be too busy to demonstrate my desire to establish with you the relationship of a host toward his guest, rather than as a manager toward his patron.

In this way, I believe we will succeed in leaving with you the desire to make Carter-Houston your shopping headquarters.

Sincerely yours,

J. D. Everhart

Lubbock Exhibit At State Fair Of Dallas Drawing Attention Of Many Thousand Visitors, Reeves States

All South Plains Counties Admitted In Display Set Up By Local Chamber Of Commerce

Garnet Reeves, publicity director of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, returned yesterday from Dallas, where he aided W. T. McKinley, owner of the Lubbock Press company, in representing the Lubbock county exhibit at the Dallas State fair.

McKinley remained in Dallas. The exhibit is an attractive sign within a huge Texas map on the back wall of the Lubbock county booth. To say the least, the eyes of a million or more Texans and visitors from other states who are attending the fair have been attracted to the exhibit set up by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The exhibit, set up in the agricultural building, has as great a variety of agricultural products as any of the regular county agricultural exhibits at the fair and also has pictures, figures and mechanical devices that make it far more attractive and interesting than the regular exhibits.

Counties Blocked Off
The fifteen South Plains counties are blocked off in a lighter color on the huge Texas map on the back wall. Around the map, signs tell of unexhausted supply of pure shallow water, 5,000,000 acres of land yet to be under the plow that can be purchased at low prices and convenient terms.

To the left of the map, facts and statistics about Lubbock are included on a scroll sign. The sign tells that Lubbock has $3,076,179 in building permits this year to October 12, right railway and state highway outlets, three modern hospitals, 180 industries, wholesalers, jobbers, and manufacturers, 20,000 population with 98 per cent of the people native white, coupled with the high elevation, 3,251 feet above sea level, or a thousand feet higher than the Grand Mountains, 3,250 hours of sunshine, real homes, good churches, fine schools, all modern conveniences and a big trade territory.

Another scroll sign, to the right of the map, tells of a number of the agricultural possibilities of the South Plains. It reminds the visitors of the fact that the South Plains has ideal dairying, cattle, hog and poultry raising conditions, has an average yield of lint cotton of 3-5 of a bale per acre, has an average yield of 30 bushels per acre of grain sorghum, and that the sorghums have 98 per cent the feed value of corn, that the South Plains has 21 inches of rainfall per year, 17 inches coming from April to October during the growing season, that the land is 91 per cent tillable and other interesting facts.

Low Cost Shown
The statement made here a few years ago by Arno S. Pearce, secretary of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners at Manchester, England, is quoted on the South Plains sign. It reads: "There is no other cotton section in the whole U. S. A. which can compete with so low an average cost of production."

In the center of the platform of the booth is a revolving wheel, six feet in diameter, representing Lubbock's slogan, "Lubbock, The Hub of the Plains." The wheel is made to revolve slowly, while the crowds note that the eight state highway and railway outlets were represented on the wheel. In the sections made by the highways and railways cotton, grain sorghums, cane, sudan grass, wheat, fruits and vegetables, dairying, poultry raising and hog and cattle raising are represented. Canned fruits and vegetables represent the cap to the hub.

Interesting Facts Told
In the front part of the platform, pictures and facts about the Texas Technological college are found by the visitors to the State Fair. The sign, telling interesting facts about the college, call the attention of the fair visitors to the fact that Tech is the third largest state supported school in Texas and while it is only four years old, it has 2,000 students and 127 faculty members, a $2,500,000 plant with 2,008 acres of land and 14 modern buildings. The four schools, Agriculture, Engineering, Home Economics and Liberal Arts are listed on the sign with the statement: "The fastest growing college in America."

Around the Tech sign are pictures of ten of the larger buildings and a picture of the plans for the new Lubbock high school building.

Tech Advertiser
On each side of the Tech sign and pictures are pictures showing agricultural scenes from the South Plains section and pictures of the larger buildings here in Lubbock. "The State Agricultural Experiment Station Number 8 at Lubbock" is at the service of Plains farmers, a sign on the back wall reads, and farmers who stop at the booth to talk about the possibilities of the Plains are reminded by the Lubbock representatives that the Experiment Station here is rendering a big service, especially to new farmers, who are not acquainted with conditions and farming methods on the Plains.

Among the agricultural products shown on the exhibit the following are included: Cotton, milo maize, kaffir, hegar, barley, wheat, alfalfa, millet, sudan grass, cane, peanuts, tomatoes, onions, turnips, potatoes, apples, pears, a watermelon and other products.

CONFESSES SLAYING
WICHITA, Kans., Oct. 15. (AP)—Thomas Collins, 31, of Lemont, Ill., confessed today, police here said, he fatally wounded Oscar Lindstrom, brother of his fiancée, at Lemont, October 6. He said he killed Lindstrom with a knife after the latter had abused him.

Even New Sportswear For Fall Shows Feminine Trend

By FRANCES CLYNE
Fashion Writer for Central Press
Will the return to femininity be indicated in sports clothes as well as afternoon and evening gowns? Will crisp materials, low waistslines and short skirts go by the boards even in walking togs?

The answer is, unqualifiedly, "Yes!" The lovely long lines of the princess silhouette are evidenced in all my sports clothes this fall. The modest waistline is a charming feature—the skirts are much longer. As for the materials, they are beautifully soft and supple.

Tawny greens and reds and browns, in the shades of autumn foliage, predominate. Dahlia hues, in subdued tones and shadow blue, are also used.

When the lady of fashion steps forth for a brisk walk on a crisp autumn day she will be clad in stunning tweeds. Divinely feminine tweeds these will be—not the kind associated with country life in England. Chiffon tweeds, jersey tweeds, and very soft wool tweeds will be worn.

Tuck-in blouses form a fascinating contour—some of even lacy texture. Their designs are vivacious and the waistline noticeably higher.

Coats Long or Suit Length
As for the coats—there are no half-way measures. Either they reach down to the hem of the dress, or they are suit length.

Marvelous effects are achieved by combining several materials with fur in a striking ensemble. Lapin, broadtail and other flat furs are used to advantage. In most cases the fur climbs up the coat from the hemline, forms a luxurious collar, then climbs down the other side.

The skirts are flowing and graceful. Circular effects, pleats or flares form the fullness, and interesting dressmaker details provide individuality.

That feminine softness which is as important in sportswear as in evening apparel this fall, is accomplished by introducing satin or crepe in to the neckline. A bow at the neck is the flattering result.

Taking all in all, sports dresses and ensembles have never been lovelier.

The exquisite ensemble pictured is illustrative of the charming effect achieved by combining three materials with fur. Coat and skirt are of soft brown and white striped tweed. The lace jersey sweater of geometric design is sheer woven and shades from dark brown to beige. Brown flat crepe forms the top of the sweater and drapes in a lovely bow. The high waistline is indicated in the upper part of the jumper, while deep curves in the skirt permit luxurious fullness. The coat is full length and is edged and cuffed with brown lapin. The felt hat is of the face-revealing type and its graceful side-line terminates in a pert bow.

Shortland is now a compulsory study for the 68th men of the Sheriff, England, police.

Methodist Junior Colleges Facing Abandonment Soon

Educational Situation Is Discussed By Clerical And Lay Leaders In Meet At Dallas-Tuesday

DALLAS, Oct. 15. (AP)—Abandonment of most of the Junior colleges in Texas supported by the Methodist church was foreseen today as clerical and lay leaders of the denomination met to discuss the educational situation.

Several of those attending the meeting indicated the state had practically eliminated further competition on the part of Junior church schools by entering that field.

Reports Made
Reports from 10 college presidents were made. A set of recommendations will be presented at the North Texas conference in McKinney, October 24.

"We must face our task seriously and with an open mind," Bishop John M. Moore said. "I am, of course, interested in our past educational accomplishments and not in the means used in attaining those accomplishments."

In listing schools which should be paramount in the sections where they are located, he mentioned North Morris college at Jacksonville, Westmoreland college at San Antonio and McMurry college at Abilene.

There are 6,582,000 miles of highway in the world.

CAVE-IN IS FATAL

Two Workmen Meet Death In Pumping Plant Mishap
DETROIT, Oct. 15. The bodies of the two were recovered shortly after the cave-in. Fellow workers said they believed at least six others remained buried in the hole.

To Put Colleges On Firm Footing

Methodist Educational Commission Investigating Plan To Improve Economic Condition Of Schools

DALLAS, Oct. 15. (AP)—The problem of placing Methodist colleges and universities in Texas on a firm economic foundation, under investigation by the Methodist educational commission for several years, neared a head here today as members of the commission met to draft their report.

It was thought the commission would request more authority so it would be free to put into effect any program of retrenchment it might deem necessary.

Conditions Improve
At the time the commission was appointed it seemed inevitable that some of the institutions would consolidate, but since that time churchmen believe conditions have improved and consolidation may not be necessary. The commission has surveyed ten different Methodist educational institutions in the state. The report must be approved by the five conferences of the church in the state.

HELD FOR EXTORTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Frank Biege, alias Perry, was held on an extortion charge today while county officers investigated a charge that he slew a former attaché of the state's attorney's office who, the Daily News said, had offered a gangster $50,000 to kill Alphonse (Scarface) Al Capone.

How to Achieve Beauty

By MADAME RUBINSTEIN

I have created for you a series of word pictures of how the rich New York woman patronizes her favorite beauty salon.

It is always interesting to peep from behind partially closed curtains into someone else's world. This was not my reason, however, in telling you of the luxury treatments which I have described.

I am not recommending that you attempt to duplicate in your home all the details of an elaborate series of tremendously expensive luxury treatments, but I do hope that you will take inspiration from them for additional self care. Moreover, the essential preparations for these very treatments can, in many instances, be purchased at the better toilet goods counters, and much good advice and instruction may be obtained there.

While these treatments do cost more than you usually expend on your beauty requisites, the really big dollars thus invested are really a wise expenditure because the results are so gratifying.

Aside from the practicality of an occasional luxury treatment, it is exhilarating for the spirit. Sometimes the monotony of existence becomes depressing, particularly to the woman who dreams of romance—and I truly believe that most of us do. At such moments, when the only possible outlet seems to be a moving picture, I suggest this alternative—that you spend a whole afternoon beautifying yourself, applying one of these treatments, taking long, quiet hours in which to do it.

You look in the mirror after a treatment, and the face reflected back to you has lost its heaviness; it has grown vivacious, colorful and fresh. Somehow, your inner feelings cannot stay depressed when your face is rested and vibrant. It is for this reason that I say that a luxury treatment is not only marvelously rejuvenating for your skin, but is also a tonic for your soul.

FURLOUGH GRANTED
AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Sylvester Schenck, 17, sentenced to one year from Archer county on a liquor charge, was granted a 90-day furlough today to provide for his family.

Dorothy Henderson, under a five-year sentence from Harris county for murder, was issued a 30-day extension of furlough. It was said she recently underwent an operation.

TANKER GROUND
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15. (AP)—A dispatch to El Universal from Tampico today said the tanker San Damián of the Eagle Oil Transport company grounded on a sand bar off Tampico in the high seas yesterday. The crew of 42 and two passengers landed safely but in grounding the bottom of the tanker was ripped open and 4,000 tons of oil drained into the sea.

Matadors Start Training Today Behind Closed Gates

Action Taken In View Of Trying Schedule Ahead

Tech Stalwarts Scrimmage Against McMurry Plays In Lengthy Session Tuesday; Expect Hard Battle

Lubbock football fans were given their last opportunity of the season to see the Tech Matadors in training yesterday as the men of Higginbotham and Payne battled the college freshman soldiers in a lengthy scrimmage session.

With the fresh employing the plays used by the McMurry Indians, the varsity grid warriors got their first glimpse of the style of attack they will encounter Saturday when they invade the camp of the Redskins at Abilene.

Despite the newness of the tactics to the first year gridsters, the cohorts of Rhodes Ingerton gave the Matadors plenty to worry about in the scrimmage session yesterday. The style of play employed by the Redskins indicates the Tech eleven will encounter a wide-open offense when they tackle the Indians in their annual battle.

Following Tuesday's workout, Tech athletic officials announced that all subsequent sessions will be held behind closed gates. This will be strictly enforced in view of the strenuous schedule ahead, which includes the battle here Oct. 26 with the T. C. U. Horned Frogs.

Tickets for the Tech-T. C. U. game have been placed on sale at the Hotel Drug, it was announced last night by Marvin T. Warlick, business manager of athletics at the college. Applications for tickets to this engagement are pouring in daily. Mr. Warlick said, and indications point to the largest crowd that has ever attended a football game in Lubbock.

Cubs Given Royal Welcome At Home

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Several hundred loyal fans gave the Cubs such a warm reception when they returned from Philadelphia and the little world series struggle with the Athletics today that they looked more like conquering heroes than the vanquished.

As the players left their special train, the greeting crowd cheered long and lustily. In return the players exchanged greetings and told the fans "the breaks beat us."

"If ever a ball club got bad breaks we did," sighed Hack Wilson, leading batter of the series. "But we'll be back next fall, and maybe we'll bring the bacon back with us."

Pro Golfers Of State Will Meet

WACO, Oct. 15. (AP)—More than 15 pairs of Texas professional golfers will set off tomorrow morning in the opening event of the Texas Professional Golf association tournament that will keep moving through three days of golfing activity at the Spring Lake country club. The winner and 1929 champion will be crowned Friday, and the five low scores of the tournament will be selected as Texas' official representatives to the National Professional Golf association event to be played in December at Santa Barbara.

A "rogue's gallery" has been established by the Detroit Recreation league to prevent use of ringers in football games. Players must register and leave a "mug" for future identification.

A spider has eight legs and from six to eight eyes.

Yale's New Hope

Albin Booth, Yale quarterback, is regarded as one of the season's biggest finds. Booth proved in his first game he possessed natural football ability and has been called an enthusiastic grid fan.

Well, Those Chicago Maroons Are Better This Year Anyway

By NEA Service. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Amos Alonzo Stagg, grizzled veteran of 37 football campaigns at the University of Chicago, faces his 38th year as the helm of Maroon teams happy in one thought—that his 1929 eleven can't be any worse than that of last year.

Analysis of Stagg's material on hand this season would indicate that only a miracle can save the Maroons from defeat at the hands of Indiana, Purdue, Princeton, Wisconsin, Illinois and the University of Washington. Where Chicago won only one game last year, defeating Wyoming 47 to 0, the 1929 aggregation has a chance to win four games. Chicago plays two double-headers, defeating Beloit and Lake Forest Oct. 5 and meeting Terre Haute and Ripon Oct. 19.

Of the 21 men awarded letters last year at the Midway, only six are in uniform now. The group includes two ends, one tackle, two guards and a fullback.

Bidding for the varsity quarterback post is Paul Stager, 19-year-old son of the ancient mentor. The youngster weighs less than 150 pounds, but seems to have the Stagg courage and skill and may fill the signal-calling position.

In spite of all the rough treatment Chicago elevens have received at the hands of her Western Conference opponents in recent seasons, the Maroons have won more conference titles outright than any other Big Ten school since the loop was organized in 1897. Chicago has never divided a championship, and won top honors in 1899, 1903, 1907, 1908, 1913 and 1924.

Dan Howley Named Pilot Of Cincinnati Nationals

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—The first step to rebuild the Cincinnati Reds for the 1930 pennant race, was taken today by Sidney Weil, the club's new president who announced Dan Howley, recent St. Louis Browns manager, would pilot the team next year and that Harry Heilmann, hard hitting outfielder, has been purchased outright from the Tigers.

Howley succeeds Jack Hendricks, leader of the Reds since 1924. He has had three years managerial experience in the major leagues, all with the Browns. His team finished fourth in the American League this year while the Reds landed in seventh position.

Well secured control of the Reds less than a month ago, and announced he would make the club a factor in next year's flag chase. He said he would trade all but three of the present roster, is necessary to improve the team. The three were Captain Hugh Grier, second baseman, Red Lucas, pitcher, and Evar Swanson, fleet rookie outfielder.

Calm Following Storm Lays Over Shibe Park Following Final World Series Game; Money Is Split

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15. (AP)—The calm that follows the storm today lay over Shibe Park where the tumultuous crowd of yesterday in turn groaned or cheered the changing fortunes of the Cubs and Athletics.

Connie Mack, the leader of the new world's champions, went to Atlantic City to rest up and some of the players visited the ball park to gather up personal belongings before going home for the winter.

It was made known that each of the players entitled to a full share of the world's series money will receive $5,821.50.

Money Is Split. It was voted to split the money into 28th parts. Twenty-four players received full shares. The 28th was split. Seventy-five per cent went to Ossie Orville, who played with the A's through the worst of the season only to be sent to Milwaukee in exchange for Les Bourque, who was awarded the other 25 per cent. It was announced that Orville would receive a full share, the club management making up the other 25 per cent.

Full shares were awarded to Coach Ed Gleason and Earl Mack, the latter Connie's son, and Trainer Doc Ehling.

Jimmy Gromin, utility infielder, and George Burns, sub first baseman, who joined the team after the schedule had been underway, both received full shares.

Plan Hunting Trip. Eddie Collins, captain, George Barnshaw and Bing Miller are planning a hunting trip with Joe Bush former Mack pitcher, and Sam Jones, of Washington. They will go to Fredrickton, New Brunswick, Canada. Bing Miller will make a flying visit to his home in Vinton, Iowa, before taking the hunting trip.

Howard Ehmke, hero of the opening game of the series, and Mickey Cochran, star catcher, are considering several offers to become the battery for independent teams in games around this part of the country before it becomes too cold for baseball.

Al Simmons and Jimmy Fox are going back to the States for the banquet for the team Thursday night.

FIREMAN KILLED. CINCINNATI, Oct. 15. (AP)—L. O. Thompson, Columbus, fireman of the Ohio State limited, Big Four passenger train, running from Cleveland to Cincinnati, was killed near here today when the locomotive, a club car and two pullmans, derailed when the train hit an open switch. No passengers were injured.

Cinema shows are now given on most of the big Atlantic liners, and have proved very popular with the passengers of all classes.

Captains 1929-30

Harvard has a red-head in the role of captain of the 1929 football team. He is L. T. Barrett, above, regarded as one of the best linemen since the days of Hubbard, who won All-America recognition two years in succession. The Crimson leader plays tackle. Veteran material reported to Coach Arnold Horween in large numbers this fall and followers of the Cambridge school anticipate a successful season. Highlights of the Harvard schedule are games with the Army, Dartmouth, Florida, Michigan, Holy Cross and Yale. The Michigan game is Harvard's first on a western gridiron.

Sub Rule For Prep And High School Elevens Is Changed

By CHESTER L. SMITH. NEA Service Special Writer. The football rules committee has made a progressive step in the development and popularizing of the game by permitting more liberal regulations regarding substitutions on the part of preparatory and high school teams.

Hitherto, the same rules that governed the replacing of players in college games prevailed all down the line, although the squads of the former might number 50 men or more, while the prep or high school coach was forced to get along with one-third that number, or less.

It worked no little hardship on the latter schools not to be allowed to send a player back into the game if he had been taken out early in the third period or to have his services lost for half the contest because he perhaps was slightly injured on the kickoff.

That has been altered so that by mutual agreement of the contesting elevens a player can be taken out and sent back as many times as the coach wishes. Providing, of course, he has not been disqualified or suspended for any breach of the rules.

Texas Aggies To Invade Frogland

Matty Bell To Lead Farmers Against Former Pupils In Conference Clash Saturday

(Special To The Avalanche). COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 15.—Backed 2,800 strong by the Texas Aggie cadet corps and the A. & M. 100-piece band, Coach Matty Bell's Aggie gridsters will make their biennial invasion of Ft. Worth Saturday, October 19, to engage the T. C. U. Horned Frog charges of Coach Francis Schmidt on the T. C. U. gridiron.

The game will be of unusual interest to Southwest conference fans since it will mark the opening of conference schedules of two of the leading contenders for the championship flag this season. Neither the Aggies nor the Frogs having yet met a conference opponent. Of added interest will be the fact that the game will mark the first invasion of T. C. U. by Coach Bell, who last year piloted the Horned Frogs, since he became coach of the Aggies. The contest Saturday will also be the first conference contest for Coach Francis Schmidt, former Arkansas mentor, in his new capacity as head coach of the Frogs.

Results of the Horned Frog-Aggie contests of the past few years indicate that the T. C. U. elevens have held a jinx over the Aggies which still remains unbroken. While Bell was coach of the Frogs, the Aggies were able to win only one game, the Horned Frogs winning two and tying two more. Twice championship Aggie teams were held in check by the fighting Frogs, once being defeated and once playing to a scoreless tie. Last season the Frogs defeated the Aggies on Kyle Field, 6-0.

Adding even greater color to the occasion will be the khaki-clad Aggie cadet corps and 100-piece band, who after parading through the business section of Fort Worth in the morning, will attend the game in a body.

Art Shires is training to be a boxer. Maybe he thinks there is some truth to those rumors he may be traded to Bill Carrigan's team.

Chicago boasts a rabid fan who won't eat anything but rye bread until the Cubs are acclaimed world's champions, according to a news dispatch. Say, does that guy know it's been 11 years since the Bruins won a National League pennant, and 21 years since they copped the fall classic?

One hears of a lot of crummy persons—fanatics on one thing and another. But this gent has "em all backed off the map for crust."

Can't say that he takes the cake. He's probably a big loser.

Of course, if the gent had said he wouldn't drink any liquor but good rye liquor, things 'ud be aw ri'.

According to another dispatch, a Cleveland man threatens suit against Pat Malone for alleged assault in a Cincinnati hotel, unless Judge Landis does something about it. The man charges Malone put out one of his lamps, a la Art Shires.

The good judge probably will say: "Stay out of Cincinnati hotels." The Cubs are said to be in need of a good catcher and, with Malone's recommendation, the fellow might get on the Bruin payroll.

BURNS TO DEATH. CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—One man was burned to death and a score of girls were imperiled by fire that destroyed a three story building at the corner of Halsted street and Roosevelt road today.

The victim was Louis Baeski, 40, an employee, trapped in a furrier's shop on the top floor.

Campbell Dickson, and coach at Wisconsin, has been lawyer and teacher and besides his gridiron job is doing research in the experimental college there.

Tech Delegation Will Make Trip Over Denver Road

Six Pullmans And Four Coaches To Carry Lubbock Boosters To Scene Of First Tilt With Bears

Arrangements were completed late Tuesday for the Tech special train, which is to carry the Lubbock delegation to the Texas-Tech-Baylor football game at Waco on Nov. 2.

College athletic authorities reached a definite agreement last night with the Denver Road whereby six pullmans and four coaches will leave here at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Nov. 1, bound for Waco and the Cotton Palace, where the Bull Fighters will initiate football relations with the Golden Bears.

Railroad officials have agreed to furnish all accommodations for the boosters who accompany the Matadors on their longest road jaunt of the season. A mammoth football will be placed on the headlight of the train engine, an electric sign bearing the inscription "Tech Special" will be emblazoned across the rear of the train and many other details will be worked out to give the special every semblance of a football party.

The special will arrive in Waco 7:30 Saturday morning and leave there at 11:30 that night, arriving back in Lubbock shortly after noon Sunday. A round trip fare of $7.50 has been announced.

In case the 10 coaches are insufficient to accommodate the demands for the trip, additional service will be added.

Japan's "World Series" Success

TOKYO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Japan's own "World series," for which the average attendance exceeded that in America, was decided today at the Meiji Shrine Stadium. Waseda university defeated Keio, 6-3, in the third and final game of a series for the national intercollegiate baseball championship.

The stadium was jammed with 40,000 spectators at each of the three games and the stands were turned away. The attendance probably would have been doubled if there had been space.

Throughout the country radio loudspeakers and newspaper scoreboards announced the progress of the games which crowded the Athletics' triumph over the Cubs to the inside pages.

Action pictures of the University of Detroit's night football game will be rare. The floodlights lack actinic power needed for photographs.

(AP)—Trial of Mrs. Ethel Brotherton, Baxter Springs woman charged with the murder of 17-year-old Bonnie Davis, was stopped this morning by District Judge John W. ## 'ADIEU' BUT NOT 'GOODBYE'

A GAIN DISTINCT HONOR has sought out Henry T. Kimbro. His appointment—and subsequent acceptance—as a member of the State Industrial Accident Board, announced only yesterday, has again placed Lubbock in the limelight. At the same time the announcement has emphasized the respect in which official Texas holds a name and true Son of the Plains.

The Morning Avalanche commends Governor Moody upon his appointment of his oldtime friend and advisor. This newspaper congratulates Mr. Kimbro upon this latest honor which has come to him. But it is with sincere regret that we see him and his good wife—both for years leaders in their respective spheres—leave Lubbock to make their home in Austin.

To say that "Lubbock's loss is Austin's gain" would be hackneyed, trite and entirely ineffectual. Mr. Kimbro has been a far too important cog in this community. Mrs. Kimbro's leadership in church and women's club work has been too outstanding to be expressed in mere words. All this newspaper can say, after standing on the sidelines chronicling the daily events of this community, is that during their stay in Lubbock Mr. and Mrs. Kimbro have contributed more to the day-by-day life of this city than they have ever gleaned from that source. To employ phrases to better describe their life here is impossible.

It would be possible to write columns about the service Mr. Kimbro has rendered to Lubbock and his state as a regent of Texas Technological college, and as a power in official Austin. It would be likewise impossible to dwell at length upon the successful undertakings of Mrs. Kimbro in her work at First Methodist church and among Lubbock's women's clubs. Varied honors, tendered both, have placed them in a post of respect in the eyes of the community yet The Avalanche believes that in characterizing them as good, solid, conservative citizens it not only expresses the idea of Lubbock people generally but helps to pay the greatest compliment of them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimbro depart within the next few days. Behind them they will leave acquaintances by the hundreds, friendships cemented through the years—by the score. Leaving Lubbock will be hard for them and difficult for their many associates but when they leave they do so knowing that they have contributed heavily to the better things which have made this city and section.

The Morning Avalanche bids 'adieu'—but not 'goodbye'!

GERMANY LOSES A BIG MAN

Germany's most able statesman, perhaps the greatest since Bismarck, was Dr. Gustav Stresemann, who is dead at the early age of 51. He was a many-sided man; he loved art, literature and the drama, and while he specialized in politics and economics, his other interests helped greatly to give him that sympathy and understanding that made him a realist in statesmanship.

The course of German politics, as well as that of France and many another Continental nation, has been the doctrine, the man with the one-track mind who subordinated all else to one chief theory. France had her Delcasse and her Combes; Germany has her national leaders. Dr. Stresemann was of the opposite type. A political, or economic theory was of little use to him unless it would work successfully. After the formation of the German republic he remained a monarchist, until he saw that agitation for a monarchy was dividing Germany and preventing her recovery. He then cast his lot wholeheartedly with the republic. He saw that neither active nor passive resistance to the Treaty of Versailles could succeed. He therefore turned his attention to Germany's fulfillment of the treaty in order to secure for her as soon as possible the removal of the penalty clauses, as well as to assure the world that Germany was bent on peace and reconstruction.

He accepted Germany's disarmament as irrevocable, and since that was so, sought the protection of his country by advocating the gradual disarmament of the world. He worked against Germany's continued isolation by insisting that she enter the League of Nations and labor for the idealistic aims of the League. He found that he could work easily with the British, but perhaps his greatest achievement was to win the confidence of Aristide Briand and thus change the whole nature of Franco-German relations. Briand is a Frenchman, but he is also a European. Stresemann was a German, and not only a German, but a world statesman. It was not the policy of a moment that led him to accept and applaud the idea of a United States of Europe, but the conviction of a student of economics and political history who saw that a Europe of high-walled compartments was strangling itself and losing opportunities for prosperity, advancement and happiness.

Dr. Stresemann had to face heavy opposition at home. Nevertheless, the fact that he was foreign minister in five cabinets proved that Germany considered him indispensable, and that he had won the nation to an appreciation of what he was striving to do.

Today's most fascinating nature story: "Frequent breaks in telegraph lines in Africa were found to be caused by giraffes which were using them as head rests."

Paradoxical as it sounds, the man who does not permit the logic of the situation to cause him to quit usually succeeds.

STEWART GIVES WORLD PICTURE OF GREAT BRITAIN'S PREMIER

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. — Ramsay MacDonald looks the part of a labor premier pretty well.

He has none of the sickness of the typical politician about him. He wears the plug hat, cutaway coat and other accessories of officialdom, at any rate during the public part of his stay in Washington. He himself was more noticeable than his clothes, however, instead of giving the effect of a suit of glad raiment with somebody inside it, like quite a few people thus apparelled.

His manner is like his clothes—Ramsay MacDonald's manner; not a mere highly-polished veneer, superimposed on heaven knows what.

In short, the British premier emphatically is a personality. He resembles his pictures, of course. And yet, a genuine personage generally has something about him that no photograph quite conveys; not even a movie.

For one thing, the average portrait gives no idea of his subject's physical bulk, which has considerable to do with his appearance.

As to stature, Premier MacDonald is no more than medium, but he is large boned, broad shouldered and deep chested. His figure, as well as his face, suggests strength—which naturally is appropriate, in the head of a labor government.

Iron gray of hair and mustache, pronounced features, deeply lined of visage, the impression he gives is that of a man of tremendous sincerity. His expression lights with a frequent enough smile, but a smile without much mirth in it—friendly indeed, but not jovial.

His eyes are sad, the habitual curve of his mouth is downward, his whole coloring is somber.

Not that there is anything of surrender in his glance or bearing.

On the contrary, his air is one of chilled steel resolution. He has a trick of turning his head slightly aside in a way to bring out an extraordinary powerful profile, clean cut as a cameo. When he does so, one senses the spirit which brought him through the war with unshaken courage though reviled of 90 per cent of his countrymen, for his determined pacifism—and in a few short years to the most important post in the British empire.

Nevertheless, what he must have endured set its mark upon him.

MacDonald speaks in a deep, slow voice, with something the timbre of the pulpit in it.

As everyone doubtless knows, he is not an Englishman, but a Scot.

His accent certainly is not English, nor is there often a trace in it of the burr of Scotland, but rather a hint at the brogue of Erin on an occasional word—though even that might pass unnoticed, were one not already aware that it is a visitor over-seas who has just uttered it.

As his face has the look, so the premier's tones have the ring of sincerity.

In fact, if it were not for the uncertainty of his official tenure—as chief of a minority and it may be an exceedingly transitory ministry—I believe there are few Americans who would hesitate to accept Ramsay MacDonald's assurances as gospel.

On every side, in congressional Washington, I hear the thought expressed—

"While MacDonald lasts, nobody doubts him for a minute," too frequently supplemented, however, by the question, "but how can he furnish guarantees for the future?"

MANY CHILDREN ARE VICTIMS OF PUZZLING RHEUMATIC FEVER

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

More and more, both in this country and abroad, physicians are becoming seriously concerned by the apparent increase of attacks of rheumatic fever affecting children.

The great danger of rheumatic infection is its spread to the heart and the permanent crippling or early death of the child that may be attacked. Several physicians have felt that a certain type of child, particularly those who are fair, with red, sandy, or auburn hair, was more likely to develop rheumatic fever than any other. The British physicians have recently studied 562 rheumatic children and compared them with others not rheumatic. They failed, however, to substantiate the belief that the especially fair type of child was more likely to have the disease than any other. Nevertheless, the occurrence of rheumatic fever in families and the development of the disease at a certain age in most of the children in such families has caused many observers to feel that the last word has not yet been said on this subject.

So far as is known, the infection in rheumatism is by an organism of the streptococcal type, a small round germ, occurring in chains, which is also associated with St. Vitus' dance, swollen joints, erysipelas, scarlet fever and many other diseases.

The exact cause of rheumatic fever is not known. There is no specific remedy for its cure that has been scientifically established and when the disease attacks the joints or some other portions of the body, there seems to be no cure, or ready means for protecting the heart. Once the heart is affected, the best advice includes clearing up of infections in the throat; rest, indeed absolute rest for as long a period as possible; attention to diet and general health, and a warm, dry climate.

Even when everything possible can be done, is done, there is still a tremendous number of cases of death and permanent crippling from rheumatic fever in the child. Here is a disease which, more than any other, demands intensive scientific research for its control.

MARIE ANTOINETTE

On Oct. 16, 1793, Marie Antoinette, queen of France and consort of Louis XVI, was beheaded as a traitor to her country.

Marie Antoinette was the daughter of Emperor Francis I and Maria Theresa of Austria and was betrothed to the French Dauphin at the age of 14. She was married at Versailles a year later.

The queen's love of luxury and amusements and her indifference to the miseries of the people, combined with her efforts to influence Louis XVI to shape the foreign policy of France in accordance with the interests of Austria, made her unpopular.

From the first hour of the French revolution, she was the object of a fanatical hatred. The unhappy queen and her husband were at last imprisoned.

Louis XVI was executed on Jan. 21, 1793, and in October of that year the queen was brought before the revolutionary tribunal and charged with fomenting civil war and lending counsel to the enemies of France.

There is no doubt that the queen corresponded with her brother relative to the invasion of France by an Austrian army for the purpose of rescuing the royal family.

After two days' trial, the queen was found guilty of treason and condemned to death. She was executed the same day. Her tragic fate has given rise to voluminous literature.

OF CORINNA'S SINGING

When her life Corinna sings,
Her voice revives the leader strings,
And doth in highest notes appear,
As any challenged echo clear:
But when she doth of mourning speak,
Even with her sighs, the strings do break.And as her lute doth live or die
Led by her passion, so must I:
For when of pleasure she doth sing,
My thoughts enjoy a sudden spring;
But if she doth of sorrow speak,
Even from my heart the string do break.

AIRWAY SYSTEM LOOMS

Administration Pays Close Attention To Routes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—The administration is giving close attention to the principal air routes in the hope of setting up a system of national airways of mail transportation and passenger traffic.

The question of determining what air lanes constitute a national system has been placed by President Hoover before the aviation section of the postoffice, war and navy departments for study.

Regarding the letting of air mail contracts, Mr. Hoover believes a liberal government subsidy is advisable and necessary to establish this method of transporting mails, and it was said the postoffice department had been proceeding upon that basis.

Wool sold during the 1925-26 season in New Zealand totaled 575,632 bales, an increase of nearly 32,000 bales over the previous season.

SURVEY LAWLESSNESS

Law Enforcement Group Of Hoover In Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—A review of the progress and problems of the gigantic task imposed upon it by President Hoover—nationwide survey of lawlessness and the conditions which it produces—today drew chief executive's law enforcement commission into session at its headquarters here.

Although the object of the meeting, expected to continue for several days, was disclosed in only a general way, there were intimations that before reaching an adjournment, the commission might take action regarding selection of additional experts to deal with specific phases of crime.

QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 15. (AP)—A cry of "snake" at Oak Hill school five miles from here today resulted in the injury of 20 pupils and the superintendent as a gash collapsed.

STEAMER AFIRE

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Oct. 15. (AP)—The French steamer Chalmers, which put in here from South America with a load of nitrate, took fire and blazed furiously at her dock this forenoon, bringing fire apparatus from all parts of the city. After a tremendous explosion the vessel finally broke its back. Several stevedores in the vicinity were endangered by the flames which at times reached 200 feet in height.

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

HELEN PAGE feels hopeless in love with her guardian, LEONARD BRENT. After meeting a dying beggar, CHARLES NELLIN, Brent changes his plans for Helen's future. Soon after he tells her that she is the only grandchild of a millionaire, CYRIL K. CUNNINGHAM. Brent takes her to Cunningham and offers proofs which the lonely old man accepts, as he had been searching for the child.

Among Helen's new friends are EVA ENNIS and her brother, ROBERT, who loyally love with her. Brent finds another locket like the one he had taken from Nellin to prove Helen as the heiress. He also becomes jealous of Bob and plots to secure Helen for himself quickly. Hearing the doctor say that a sudden shock would kill the old man, Brent gets the servants out of the way and rushes into the sick room shouting wildly that Helen has been killed. His plan works and when the attendants return, Cunningham is dead. Then, acting as sympathizer and appealing to her loyalty to him, Brent secures Helen's promise to marry him. He tries to break off a love affair with Eva without arousing Helen's suspicions.

A chance meeting between Helen and Bob reveals their love for each other, but she tells him she is promised to another. Helen goes to ask Brent to release her and finds CARMEL SEGRO in his apartment. Carmel throws herself in Brent's arms before he sees Helen. This makes it easier for Helen to demand that their engagement be broken, but Brent refuses to release her, saying that he had given up marriage earlier and devoted his life to her so that now she has no right to reject him as he has devoted his life to her and that Carmel means nothing to him. When his arguments fail to hold her, Brent resolves on more drastic methods.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIII

Shallmar Morris had come to visit Helen. Without a word of warning and with her luggage well packed with a killing wardrobe.

"But if you don't want me, old cauliflower, I'll dash along on my way to Canada. Would stop a moment with you, however, should you urge me."

She was laughing, and different. Her laughter was louder, but it tinkled musically. Helen puzzled over the change in her. She seemed restless, stirred, unhappy. There was pain in her eyes. Her dark beauty was somehow more brilliant yet somehow clouded.

"To marriage," was the cryptic toast she offered when refreshments were brought.

Helen's silence repeated the word with unmistakable inquiry.

"This is his wedding day," Shallmar went on, and drained her glass.

"Let's go up to my room and you can tell me about it," Helen said, sensing a confidence. To listen to another's story might make her own seem a little less important.

She thought—For it had appeared to her that nothing in the world mattered but her love for Bob Ennis.

Shallmar motioned to the tray. "Have it sent up, too," she requested and Helen nodded in assent.

A minute or two later they had made themselves comfortable in Helen's room. Shallmar plunged into her story without preliminaries.

"I fell in love," she confessed. "With an engaged man. He wouldn't break it off, and today he's saying 'I will' to a lot of nonsense he probably isn't even listening to. Not that it makes any difference—I mean about his being married now—but I can't forgive him for not refusing to give it up. He said if I was any kind of Diana I could get my man against any odds. We quarreled about it—oh, and here I am!"

"And here you'll stay," Helen told her abruptly. Then her voice softened with a note of sympathy. "I'm glad you came, Shallmar, darling. I've been awfully lonesome for some of the girls."

"But you never invited me," Shallmar complained.

"My grandfather was ill," Helen explained, and—

"Never mind," Shallmar broke in. "Are there any men about?"

"I'm afraid you won't stay," Helen laughed.

"At least until morning," Shallmar promised.

But by morning she had decided to continue her stay indefinitely. Any man was game for her now. She was going to be reckless, ruthless and revengeful where the male of the species was concerned. And she had met Bob Ennis!

Helen had telephoned Eva and invited her to dinner to meet Shallmar, knowing that her guest would prefer company and a later hour for intimate talk.

They had an interesting 45 minutes at table—Shallmar simply wouldn't remain there any longer—with the restless guest feeding her hostess tidbits of gossip about school friends in return for a delicious dinner.

Eva was fascinated with her, a fascination in which Shallmar took keen delight. She saw that her scornful remarks and men were received by the younger girl with great respect. "Some fellows have tried a masculine trick or two on her and she's snored under," Shallmar decided while she smiled and curled her fine red lips contemptuously.

Helen felt impelled to remark that she didn't believe Shallmar was so bitter as she sounded.

"My dear, I love men," Shallmar answered with flippancy ease; "but I think they ought to suffer for the good of their souls."

"Oh," Eva said softly, and envied Shallmar less. Her hate seemed so of the surface. And in her own heart Eva felt that hate should be respected as a cardinal emotion.

Retiring Judge Leaves Record For Number Of Civil Cases Disposed Of

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Judge Robert W. B. Terrell, retiring judge of the Seventy-third district court, left his bench recently with a record that is almost nationwide having disposed more rapidly of civil cases than any other judge on the bench.

Nine years ago on Dec. 30, 1920, he was sworn in as judge and during that time his court has taken care of 67 per cent of such cases in this county. There are five other courts handling cases of that character.

When he was installed judge, he was the youngest man to take the bench in Texas. He accepted the appointment at the age of 31. Judge Terrell succeeded this week by Frederick Stephens, appointed by Governor Dan Moody.

"I started a new practice for this county," Judge Terrell said in explaining his part, "why he was able to handle cases so rapidly."

Double Docket
"Perhaps that helped to speed up the court. We set both jury and non-jury cases during the same week. While a jury was in session we could handle non-jury cases during recesses and at lunch hours," he explained.

This meant that Judge Terrell put in longer hours than almost any other judge on the bench. For he used part of the lunch hours to dispose of short cases, including the many divorce cases he handled.

Judge Terrell resigned as judge in order to enter private life. He will practice law here with the firm of Boyle, Wheeler and Oresham. He is a native of this city, and has always practiced here. Before accepting the judgeship he was assistant district attorney.

Usable fuel to the extent of 320,000 tons is thrown into London dustbins every year. As fuel this is estimated to be worth $400,000, but it costs $1,400,000 to destroy it.

out feeling at all personal toward her. But the admiration she stirred in him did not pass unnoticed by Helen.

A tiny fire of jealousy was instantly kindled. But of course, all men would admire Shallimar—or any attractive girl—she told herself. It was to be expected.

The thought brought to her mind a picture of Leonard Brent smiling at her over the luncheon table, amused by her immature views of life.

"All men aren't alike," she denied to the memory of his worldly declarations.

"What do you do, work?" Shallimar was saying to Bob.

"Day and night," he answered. Shallimar accepted the remark as a challenge, and Helen, looking at her, wondered if all women scorned really were dangerous.

Shallimar's next words were in the affirmative.

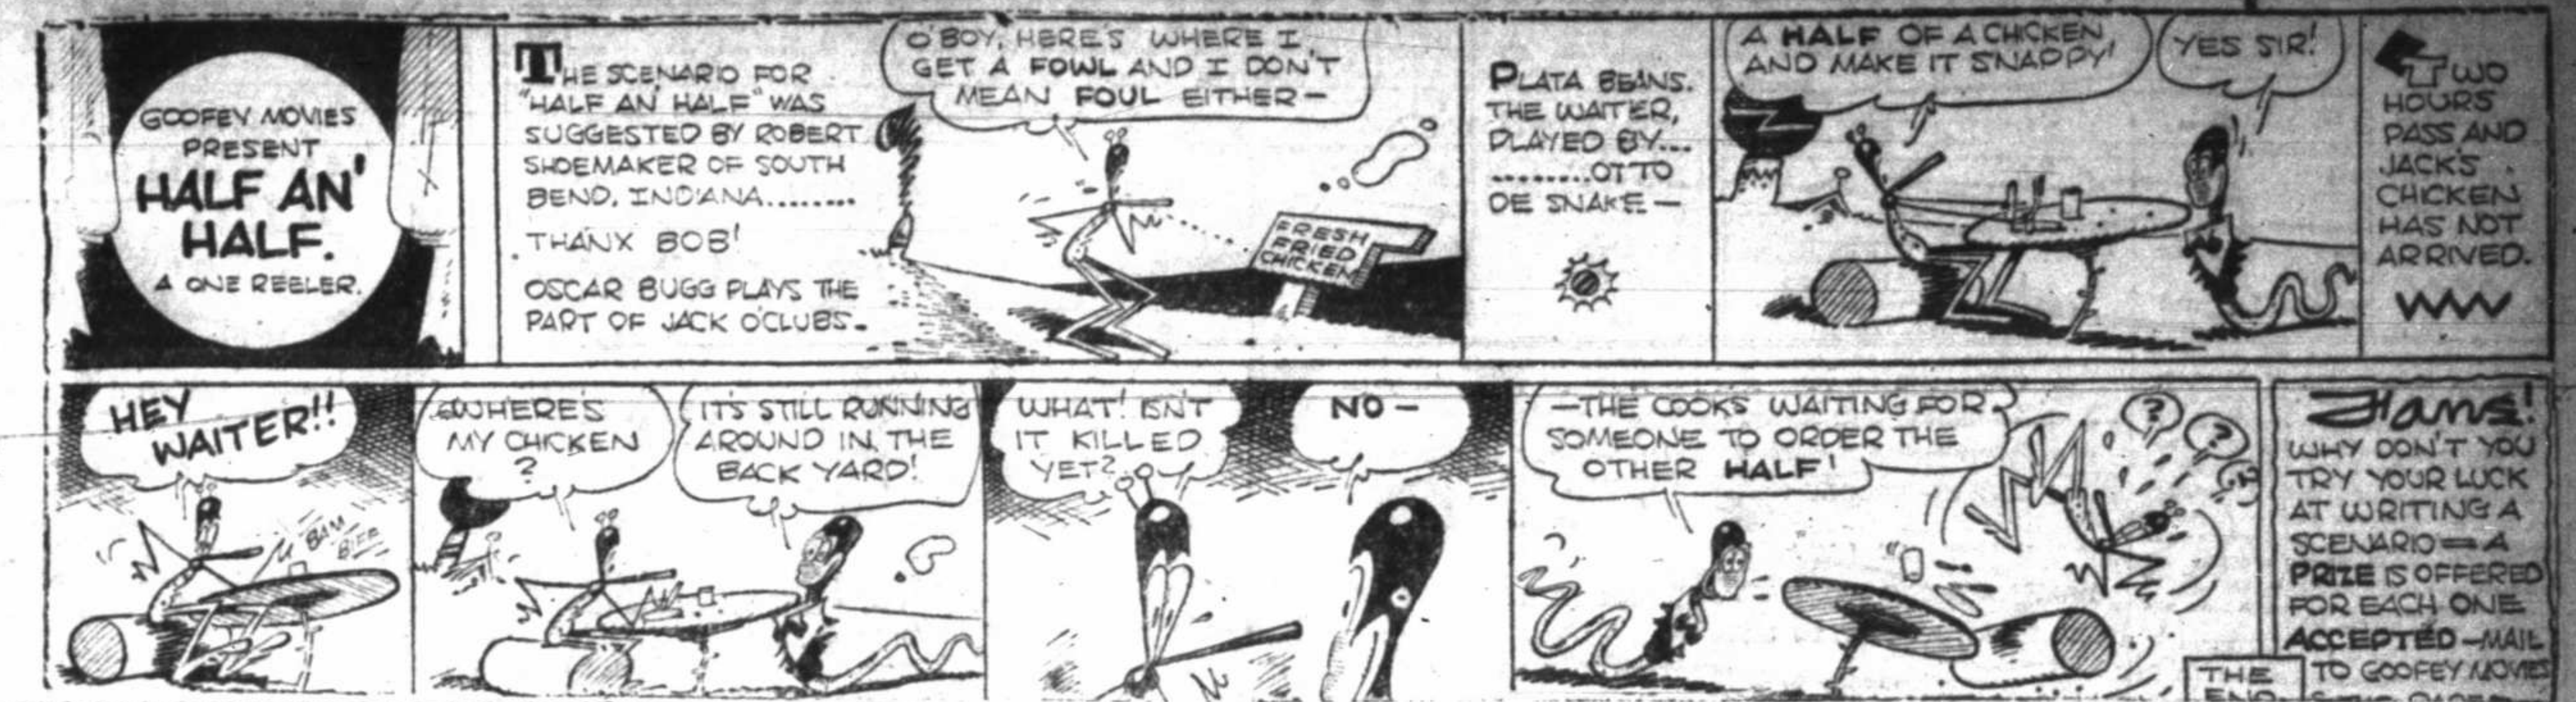

Japanese girls are now being permitted to proclaim their charms over the wireless from the stations in the flower land; they invite inquiries from possible husbands.

Chicago Planning Two High-Speed Super Highways

Voters Will Pass On $20,000,000 Bond Levy For Roads

(By NEA Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 15. — Citizens of Chicago will vote Nov. 8 on the first of two proposals to construct high-speed super-highways through the busy districts of the city into the country to the west and northwest.

The project now on the ballot for approval of the voters is that calling for a bond issue of $20,000,000 which would defray the cost of building an overhead highway nearly seven miles long through the western part of the city. The other project that is being prepared for future approval of the Chicago citizens calls for the construction of a 16-mile super-highway of even larger proportions that will lead traffic from the congested center of the city to an outlet in the north-west corner.

Both projects are the products of the Chicago Plan Commission, of which Eugene S. Taylor is manager. At present the commission is centering its efforts on the Austin-Kinzie highway to the west, which is awaiting approval or rejection this coming election day.

This proposed highway will be nearly five miles long and will average 80 feet in width. It will open up a part of the city, says Hugh E. Young, chief engineer for the Chicago Plan Commission, which has been the most neglected of all sections so far as traffic facilities go. Furthermore, it will enable visitors from the immediate west to enter Chicago by this super-highway more directly and more easily than they can today.

This is an artist's sketch of a section of the proposed super-highway planned for Chicago. One-way ramps along the middle line permit autos to enter or leave the highway without in any way hindering the steady traffic in either direction.

Starts From Loop Area
The Austin-Kinzie highway will start at the Chicago river just outside the loop and go directly west on Austin and Kinzie avenues almost to the city limits. All this way it will be either on filled soil, like a railroad, right of way, or on viaducts, crossing some 75 streets overhead and feeding into 31 of these. Connection to these 31 streets will be by means of ramps so placed along the middle of the highway as to afford entering and leaving without hindrance to traffic. Where ramps are provided, each 10 feet wide, the highway will be 109 feet wide.

According to Young, this highway will be wide enough to accommodate nearly 45,000 vehicles an hour in both directions, or about 80,000 a day. This is far beyond the expectations of traffic demands as far off as 1950.

Saves $2,400,000 A Year
If 80,000 owners use this highway daily, he calculates, each would save about 10 minutes' running time to downtown Chicago. Evaluating this time at a cent a minute, covering only the saving in gasoline, wear and tear, this would mean a saving of 10 cents a trip, and this would mean an actual monetary saving of $8,000 a day or $2,400,000 a year.

The other projected highway out of Chicago is called the Avondale super-highway, running over the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad yards out of the center of the city, then alongside the Chicago and Northwestern tracks and out on Avondale avenue to the city limits. "Within an area of about 1100 square miles northwest of Chicago," Taylor points out, "there are today more than 300 miles of concrete highways, all of which focus upon the northwestern city limits. There is today no direct convenient and adequate way for the traffic on these 300 miles of improved highways to continue its journey on into and through Chicago."

"The Avondale super-highway is one of the means of providing that way."

No Crossing Or Turning
This highway, about 10 miles long, will be 160 feet wide and will have ramps connecting it to important cross streets in such a way that there will be no right or left-hand turns. Underneath or to the side of this road, as facilities permit, there will be a 50-foot highway to take care of "local" traffic.

The entire highway will run alongside the railroad tracks practically all the way. Coming into the busy downtown area, it will connect with two or three feeder or distributor highways leading traffic into the western boundary of the high-speed quadrangle that has already been built around the loop district.

"This super-highway is indicative of what the Chicago Plan Commission believes must ultimately come in Chicago," says Taylor. "Namely, separate uninterrupted routes for long distance traffic movement. These would extend from end to end of Chicago and provide direct continuous routes without local or cross traffic, but connected at frequent intervals with every important thoroughfare in the city."

Eventually, adds Taylor, the commission has in mind a system of from six to ten super-highways radiating out fan-shaped from the heart of the city to the municipal borders, north, west and south. In this system, he believes, lies the solution of the municipal traffic problem.

Acts Like It Was Made Just For Her

Amarillo Housewife Hadn't Seen A Well Day In Fourteen Years Until She Took Orgatone

"This Orgatone acts just like it was made especially to fit my case," said Mrs. J. L. Greene, residing at 1619-B Lincoln St., Amarillo, Texas, in an interview at her home.

"The fact is, I hadn't seen a well day in fourteen years," continued Mrs. Greene, "and almost as soon as I started taking Orgatone it went right to the seat of my trouble and anybody could see I was getting better. My stomach gave me lots of trouble, and I had practically no appetite and sometimes it seemed like I hardly ate enough to keep me alive. In fact, I could not eat the things I liked, as they would sour on my stomach, causing gas to form and put me in misery for hours."

"Most every body here seemed to be taking Orgatone for their troubles and I got some for myself. I have now taken two bottles and it is surprising the results I have obtained. My appetite is good and I now eat a good square meal and anything I want, and feel all right afterwards. All that gas and tired, worn out feeling that used to bother me so much is a thing of the past. I rest better and get up in the morning refreshed and feeling fine. Orgatone has given me the energy I needed and I'm now strong enough to go about my housework without tiring out like I used to. I am sure glad I found Orgatone when I did, for it has done me more good than anything else I ever tried before and I mean to stick to it from now on."

IMPROVEMENT SOON NOTICED

Lady Had Been Getting Weaker and Weaker Until She Took Cardui.

Schoolfield, Va. — "I certainly praise Cardui, for it helped me," says Mrs. Mollie Edwards of 64 Lee Street, this city.

"I was sick in bed. I had been weak and run-down for a long time."

"I was very much worried about myself. At that time I was at home alone with my little children. I was not able to be up and take care of them."

"I was very weak; didn't seem to have any strength at all. I was getting weaker and weaker, and didn't know what to do. I had read about Cardui, so I sent to the store and got a bottle to take. I began getting better real soon, so I continued taking the medicine. I took it for some time, and my improvement was wonderful. I was able to get up and do all my work."

"Thousands of other women, who had been in a weak, run-down condition, have written that after taking Cardui their health improved. Get a bottle today. It may be just what you need."

Decline Shown In Daily Production

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 15. (P)—With virtually every field in the United States, except California, registering decreases varying in size, estimated daily average production of light and heavy gravity oil in the country during the week ending October 12 reached only 2,930,984 barrels, 52,057 barrels below the mark set for the week ending October 5, according to the current report of the oil and gas journal.

With the Oklahoma City pool dropping still lower, Oklahoma dropped 8,850 barrels; West Texas 5,000, and the total midcontinent area 37,402 in light, and an inconsequential amount in heavy oil.

Production Drops
Gulf coast heavy production dipped downward approximately 7,000 barrels, southwest Texas heavy 2,500. The Kansas area registered the greatest drop of approximately 12,275 barrels.

California's actual gain was in light oil alone, 1,000 barrels. California heavy oil decreased 2,000 barrels. Light oil decrease for the entire nation was 39,848 barrels.

Kansas production was 112,070, as compared to 124,345 for the previous week.

BABY IS HERO
DALLAS, Oct. 15. (P)—The cries of a baby apparently saved a family of five from being burned to death early today when fire, believed to have started from an oil stove, destroyed a residence near here. The occupants, Tom Moreland, his wife and three children, left the house just as the roof fell in.
