School Board members required to '

So you want to be a member of the Board of Trustees of your school district?

If you are an incumbent you already know, if you get newly elected, you will soon find out, that the life of a typical school board members just keeps on getting tougher all the time.

Not only must the harried trustee deal with disgruntled taxpayers and irate parents, and be on call virtually 24 hours a day to answer the most mundane questions; now, school board members and and prospective members must also make a commitment to continue their education as public trustees. They must attend training workshops and complete a course of instruction laid down by the Texas Education Agency in Austin.

First manadated by the educational reform omnibus legislation known popularly as House Bill 72 in 1984, training for school board members was codified by the State Board of Education in December, 1985.

Board members who took office prior to last year were required to complete a total of 20 hours of [illegible] those elected in 1987 and after must complete at least 12 hours of training each year that they hold office.

Although the enforcement provisions of the law are not stringent, and a board member cannot be removed from office for failure to complete the required training, there are subtler

Q. Wouldn't it be cheaper to hire outside appraisers to do all the teacher appraising and eliminate the assistant superintendent's position?

A. To do the appraising only, yes. But the assistant superintendent does much more. The position has 20 designated job descriptions. Some of the major ones are: in charge of curriculum development; coordinating the appraisal process and act as second appraiser; textbook custodian; administration of all federal programs; evaluation of federal programs; coordinating plans and preparation of all in-service programs; and more.

Cotton planting date is May 19

The Mitchell County Pest Management Steering Committee has set Thursday, May 19 as the uniform planting date for cotton growers in the county.

"We have had three mild winters in a row and this could easily be the year we have a severe boll weevil problem," said Mike Mauldin, county extension agent. "Area entomologists are reporting exceptionally high numbers of boll weevils in overwintering sites."

Peak emergency of overwintered boll weevils is usually the last week of May through the first two weeks of June. The weevils feed only on ⅓ grown cotton squares and without squares to feed on they will die about 18 days after emergence.

Cotton planted in mid-May will produce ⅓ grown squares after the first week of July. By that time most of the boll weevils will have died.

The Pest Management Steering Committee urges all producers to observe the uniform planting of May 19 in an effort to avoid a boll weevil outbreak.

"We traditionally have set the planting date on a Monday," said Mauldin, "but this year the committee discussed the situation in detail and compromised on a date that they felt would best suit most

Beach passes on election violations

Roy Lee Beach, defeated by 28 votes For Commissioner Prec. #3 by Larry Hale in the Democratic Runoff Election, told The Record Wednesday that he is definitely going to be a write-in candidate for the office, in the November General Election.

After his requested recount of the runoff election votes earlier this week, turned up only one more vote for his opponent, Beach was looking into alleged "irregularities" at the Precinct #3 poll. "Reports of (1) a person

PROJECT CELEBRATION - Nikki Holman, right, student chairman, and Derrick Taylor, chairman of the grounds committee, go over plans for Project Celebration, the drug-free and alcohol-free graduation celebration planned for students graduation night.

Graduation party

'Project Celebration' planned

Plans are underway for Project Celebration, the drug free and alcohol free graduation party for high school students.

Colorado High School senior Nikki Holman, student chairman of the annual event, said this year's theme is "Project Celebration - Choice of a New Generation". The event will be held the night of May 27 at the county ag barns following CHS graduation.

Students who attend the function are required to sign an agreement that they will not use drugs or alcohol that night. Any student caught breaking the agreement will be forced to leave the party which will be held from 10 p.m. to about 4 a.m.

Holman said prizes will be awarded every hour to partygoers and at 4 a.m., grand prizes will be awarded to some lucky seniors. Last year, two seniors were awarded vacation trips but chose the cash value instead.

Holman said a casino will be held again this year and a disc jockey will be hired for a dance. The group is also trying to obtain a juke box so there can be dancing all night.

"We're trying to schedule various activities all during the night," said Holman.

Holman described last year's event as "a huge success" and

County, City get $659 drink tax

Colorado City and Mitchell County have received $659.20 each from taxes on mixed drink sales.

The amount represents their share of the State's 12% tax on mixed drink sales of $5,273.60 during the first quarter of 1988, State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported.

In nearby counties, Howard County received $4,469.60 and Big Spring $2,144.01; Nolan County, $2,118.92 and Sweetwater $976.10; and Scurry County $2,009.44 and Snyder, $1,411.25.

Under state law allowing the sale of mixed drinks, cities and counties each received a 12.5 percent share of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries.

Any Wednesday

Play has good plot, acting

By Ray Mayo
Editor

Take a well-written play, combine it with superb acting and directing and the result is Any Wednesday, the current Colorado City Playhouse production.

Despite a few obvious opening night jitters, Thursday night's performance of the comedy at the Opera House proved how professional a community playhouse endeavor can be.

Any Wednesday is directed by Tandy Curlee and stars Lori Feaster as Ellen, Steve Oyler as John, Mary Lynn Hackleman as Dorothy and James Martin as Cass.

The plot revolves around an executive, played by Oyler, and his mistress, played by Feaster. It seems that Wednesdays are reserved for the pair to be together in the company's "executive suite", but the executive's wife, played by Hackleman, and a

Police arrest drug suspect

City Police arrested a 21-year-old Big Spring man here early Friday morning and have charged him with possession of a controlled substance.

John Steven Renfro, 21, W/M, driving a 1980 Dodge Aspen, was stopped at 6th and Austin Streets at 12:30 a.m. Friday. Found in his possession and in the car were about five small bagglets of a white powdery substance which police identified as methamphetamine. A passenger in the car, Robert Dale Little, Jr., 24, W/M of Midland was also arrested and charged with public intoxication. Several illegal knives were also recovered, and as the investigation continues other charges may be filed.

Police are also investigating a burglary of a motor vehicle. Frank Biggers notified police that three pipe wrenches and a large grey colored tool box and tools were taken from a pickup owned by Sun Oil Company, while parked at 1143 Chestnut.

Two other public intoxication arrests were made by the police this week.

WRECKS

Two traffic accidents were also investigated this week.

Tuesday, Apr. 26. at 8:13 a.m. a 1987 Plymouth sedan driven by Alice Martinez Davila and a 1981 Chevrolet pickup driven by Raul Madrid Holguin, both of Colorado City, collided at East 6th and Hickory Streets.

Wednesday at 5:04 p.m. a 1971 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Robert Ross Seay, was westbound on the south service road of I-20, and turned into the path of an oncoming 1988 Olds sedan driven by James William Lankford. The two vehicles collided in front of Truck Town.

young executive, played by Martin, discover the truth, thanks to a new secretary.

Feaster, a newcomer to the stage, is the hit of night. Her delivery and somewhat dry humor brought forth gales of laughter from the opening night audience as her character slowly fell out of love with the older executive and fell even more slowly in love with the younger executive.

Oyler, who looks quite distinguished with his hair shaded grey, plays the ever-powerful, power-driven business executive who can't seem understand why everyone doesn't think his way.

Hackleman's character is a humorous one in itself. She plays the wife who is too busy being a lady to realize her husband is having an affair. When she does realize the truth, she blossoms into a "new" woman and becomes enticing again to her husband.

Martin, the young executive who accidentally stumbles onto the love nest, makes the most of the situation when he uses the knowledge to his advantage when it comes to business dealings with the older executive.

The cast members, all relatively new to the local stage at least, have obviously benefited from Curlee, a veteran actor and director. The timing and diction alone make this play worth seeing. Combined with the story and the acting, Any Wednesday will no doubt become a Playhouse classic.

Any Wednesday continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday with performances at 8 nightly. Call 728-3491 after 1 p.m. for ticket information.

3 arrests release sealed indictments

Mitchell County Sheriff's Office made three arrests this week, thus releasing three of the seven sealed indictments that were handed down by the 32nd District Court Grand Jury last week.

Harvey Lee Wade, 24, W/M of Colorado City, was arrested at his residence Wednesday by Chief Deputy O. D. Major. Wade was indicted on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. His bond was set at $3,500.

Thursday, James Gary Ellett, 51, W/M, was arrested at his Westbrook residence by Deputy Majors and Sheriff Wendell Bryant. Ellett was indicted on a charge of theft of oilfield equipment. His bond was set at $5,000.

Custodia Rincones, 37, W/F, also of Westbrook was taken into custody for an indictment of tampering with a government record. She was later released under $1,500 bond.

A SALUTE TO....
Baby Sitters

Caring for young children has become a growth industry what with the advent of working mothers.

Like anything else, there is a vast difference in the quality of baby sitters. The good ones are always in demand and the others are called in a pinch.

Baby sitters range in age from grade girls to women in advanced years. Each does the work as individuals and this allows a pleasing advantage all around.

It gives the sincere young girl the opportunity to experience tending a child, using natural methods their own mother employed. At the same time, they can practice housework, cleaning, dusting and perhaps even getting a chance to do a little cooking.

Baby sitting, if done right, can cover the whole scope of housekeeping along with the real education surrounding children and their rearing.

Responsible older women in our community have long used baby sitting to augment income. They have performed while raising their own family and some find it enjoyable enough to keep on in later life.

Baby sitting creates fond memories and we can think good of those having a real caring attitude for our young.

means by which to assure compliance. The law requires that the hours of training received by each sitting board member be published in the newspaper before trustee elections are held each year. Legislators assumed, probably correctly, that no trustee facing a re-election campaign would want to be embarrassed by a less than-sterling report.

According to Colorado Independent School District official records, the total hours of instruction completed by each of the current board members is as follows: Brenda Aguillon, 36 hours; Ronnie Aston, 13¾ hours; Kathy Bassham, 22; Billy Bruce Bridgford, 24½; Eddie Gregory, 30¼; Dwayne Harris, 33½ and Floyd Richey, 26¾. All of the trustees have now met their requirements and have received certificates for the current year.

A number of districts have experienced problems with the new guidelines, because the school board is either unwilling or unable to take the requirements seriously. But the local school board has been diligent in this regard, and the public should be made aware of what this means in terms of investment of their time and energy on the part of these trustees, above and beyond their regular duties and responsibilities.

The course of training received by the board members covers twelve broad areas of concern, with a common thread: the school board in each district must be an alert, active and informed body which is able to should the often underestimated burden of maintaining excellence in the public schools, a tall order by anyone's standards.

In summary, the twelve areas of instruction require:

(1) that board members shall uphold educational and ethical standards that promote the best interest of the District as a whole;

(2) shall understand the role and responsibility of the board, the board president, and individual members and shall contribute to the educational philosophy articulated by the district;

(3) shall understand and respect the role of the Superintendent's office;

(4) that the board member be familiar with the organizational structure of the District and methods of interaction with the community;

(5) that the board member assume an active role in the development of policy, and understand how each policy fits into the overall philosophy of the board and its goals;(6) board members must understand the importance of effective planning activities in the conduct of school business and board policy;(7) members must accept responsibility for the adoption of high quality instructional programs at each level of the system;

(8) members must work toward establishing sound business and fiscal practices for the district;(9) members must adhere to legal and ethical constraints and understand the nature of school law;

(10) members must understand the board's function relative to district personnel;

(11) members must be well versed in the management and conduct of effective board meetings; and

(12) members must pursue a commitment to develop a clear understanding of all the aforementioned standards and complete the required number of training hours.

Within each board category are several detailed standards which must be met before the board member can receive credit for the instruction hours put in.

Bruce Rich

I am Bruce Rich, candidate for Westbrook School Board. I have lived in Westbrook for almost 32 years, and my wife, Katherine, and I both graduated from Westbrook High. I have three children Amanda, age 9, Thadd, age 7, and Brynn, age 3. I have been farming and ranching in the Westbrook area for the past 14 years.

We have an excellent school system in Westbrook and a real good staff of teachers. I would personally like to see the teachers, board and parents working together for the benefit of our students.

If elected, I will do my best to listen to the community and problems presented to me. Please keep me in mind on election day. Thank you.

Eliodoro Reyes

I, Eliodoro Reyes, am a life time resident of Mitchell County.

I am a 1972 graduate of Westbrook High School and I enjoyed the nine years I attended the Westbrook schools.

I married Debra Ann Underwood, Aug. 4, 1972. We have two boys, Eli, 13 years old; and Jeremy, 10 years old. They both attend Westbrook Schools.

I have my own oil field welding company. I learned farming by working with my father until his retirement, when I began farming for myself.

I feel very strongly that parents should be involved with their children's education and will do my best to work with the other school board members and the educators to see that our children received the best education possible.

16th Railhead Arts & Crafts Roundup Oct. 8-9

Plans are underway for the 16th Annual Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup in Colorado City, which has been scheduled for October 8 and 9.

The event will again be held in the Agricultural Barns, west of downtown Colorado City on Highway 80.

The Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup is named in recognition of Colorado City's status as one of the largest shipping centers west of Fort Worth in the 1880's.

Rhonda Morris is chairperson for this year's Roundup, and at this time there are 45 exhibitors who have made reservations for booth space.

The Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup is sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce. For more information, contact the Chamber of Commerce, 915-728-3403 or Ms. Morris at 728-8370.

Pest Control Hotline

Q. What can I spray for Roly Polys and Silverfish?

Sharon Dockery
Colorado City

A. Diazinon Insect spray or Hi-yield Insect bait with Baygon works very well on Sowbugs (Roly Polys). Silverfish are more of a problem. Any insecticide with a residual (Dursban, Diazinon, Permethron, and others) will control Silverfish if you are thorough with your treatment. If you have a problem with Silverfish, I would suggest you call a professional.

Ray Mayo

The mood of the courtroom was somber. The defendant, accused of theft, chose not to have a jury trial.

The prosecution called witnesses to testify. The defense had just as many witnesses.

Courtroom observers listened intently as the each witness testified.

Both sides rested their cases.

The judge retired to his chambers to deliberate. When he returned and announced the defendant not guilty, there was a sigh of relief from the defendant's table and the courtroom observers broke into applause.

The applause was not for the not-guilty verdict, but rather for the courtroom scene itself which had been written and acted out entirely by the fifth grade gifted and talented class at Hutchinson Elementary and had taken place in the Mitchell County courtroom.

Students Allen Waldrip, Melissa Williams, Robbie Parras, Lewis Martinez, Bruce Evans, Lori Dockrey, Jerrod Goff, Bethany Bridgford, Melissa Goss, Belinda Arispe, Robbie Culpepper, Valerie Sanchez, Kyle Chambers, Ashton Weatherly, Dalton Cox, Shane Kelley and Cretia Caye Carpenter and their teacher, Etheyln Lancaster, presented the mock trial for a group of parents and grandparents Thursday afternoon after having already presented it for their classmates.

It never ceases to amaze me how creative students have become in recent years. When I was in the fifth grade, I don't think we were aware enough of what was going on in the world to create a mock trial.

It's not just gifted and talented classes that are having fun and creative learning experiences, but every teacher seems to have some sort of special project for the classroom.

I now know why teachers are always attending workshops on their own time - so they can find new ways to prod their students along and to inspire them to be the best they can be.

Earlier Thursday, I had visited a fifth grade class at Westbrook which has created an outdoor classroom in which the students, led by their teacher, laid out and landscaped an area with crossties and later planted trees, flowers, a cactus garden and other plants.

In Loraine one afternoon, I visited a fourth grade class which had conducted its own chili cookoff with teams creating big pots of chili.

There is a first grade class in Colorado City in which the students learned the value of money and how to count money by means of a "classroom store".

I think it's appropriate that Tuesday is National Teacher Day, a day of recognition for that profession which is forever molding lives and shaping the future of our next generation.

Project Celebration

TO THE EDITOR: Project Celebration was conceived to provide an alcohol-free alternative to the traditional drinking parties that seem to have become the accepted form of celebration following prom and graduation. Far too often, the future potential of young adult lives and the happiness of special events have been marred by the tragedy of drinking and driving accidents. We hope to implement a chemical-free celebration following graduation to prevent such tragedies.

The Senior Class of 1988 is planning a chemical-free graduation party as a joint school, family, community and business project. Several communities, as well as our own last year, have been very successful in their efforts. We see this as an exciting opportunity to provide a chemical-free, wholesome and safe graduation celebration for our young people.

Project Celebration was such a huge success last year, I know the community will surely want to help support this endeavor. Since there are no public funds available for our project, we must raise all the funds needed. We are hoping the business community will help us carry out this project.

There are several ways that concerned citizens can help with Project Celebration:

1. Donations of time - sponsors are needed for planning and helping carry out the activities. Please contact Judy Ritchey at 728-8677 after 5.

2. Donations of money - to defray the expenses. Please contact or mail donations to Jan Lemons at Rt. 1, Box 100, Colorado City 79512.

3. Donations of merchandise or gift certificates - to be used for door prizes and prizes for drawings.

If you can help in any or all these areas, please contact me at 728-3536 for further information.

Sincerely,
Karen Holman
General Chairperson

Art Lawler

This is the story of Andy and Lynn Baker - the couple who had it all. Amphetamines, cocaine, marijuana, booze, you name it.

She was bright and attractive. He was a football star who was just as bright. Anybody who saw them would feel that way. Anybody but Andy and Lynn.

What they saw when they looked into the mirror was enough to make the hair on the back of your neck stand on end. Lynn saw a 28-year-old woman who got an abortion when she was 19, a woman who was raised Catholic. A woman who only had a 3.55 grade point average in college because she was always stoned. A perfect woman would have had a 4.0, even if she was stoned.

By her own admission, Lynn never felt complete without a man.

Andy saw a 30-year-old man in the same mirror who kept shooting his image into oblivion with speed and crack, sometimes mainlining the deadly substances into his body.

It was expensive, but by stealing and making himself the middle man in drug deals, he learned to support his $150-a-day habit.

Actually, Andy and Lynn had been making themselves sick for years before they even stumbled into one another at a university in the southwest.

Both came from achievement oriented households. Lynn's parents grew up poor, and once they'd made a little money, they stretched it as far as possible. "They just didn't feel we needed as much as other people," she said.

Andy's dad lived for football. If he could have put it in a bowl, he'd have eaten it. Andy was supposed to inherit the same obsession.

His parents divorced, though, and his mother began to take care of the rest of the family. Eventually Andy had to take care of his mother.

Both sets of parents suffered from alcoholism. In time, so did Andy and Lynn. Then came the drugs, overeating and purging, undereating and starving.

Twice before they met, Andy took himself on camping trips. Once he thought about jumping off a cliff but couldn't make himself do it. The next time he was going to overdose, but instead woke up two days later with a terrific headache.

Lynn was good at transferring her addictions. She'd start out drinking too much, then noticed her conduct was imperfect. She worked at a private school, too, where the least you could do is be perfect.

So Lynn became a workaholic. But she'd get tired and depressed, so she started drugging. When that would prove unacceptable, she would just say no to drugs. And yes to stuffing enormous quantities of food into her small body.

But people with excess weight develop cellulite and pot bellies, so Lynn began purging the food from her system. If that didn't get the job done, there were plenty of laxatives nearby.

Sure enough, she lost weight. In fact, she almost starved to death - even as she worried about the starving people of India.

It was only after they met in New Mexico that Andy and Lynn were able to make themselves sick together.

By this time, Andy was in no condition to play football anymore, so he took over as team manager and became the team's main drug supplier, always keeping back a little for himself.

One day a group came to Lynn's school to talk about AIDS. Remembering her obsession for men and the possible consequences of her sexual lifestyle of the past, she fell apart.

She started bring home movies like "Ordinary People" "Night Mother," and "The Big Chill." All had suicide themes.

She'd begun taking Ativan by now to control her depression, and by abusing it religiously she was able to go to "la, la land," as she called it. By now, she could no longer remember her childhood, and when friends at school talked about it, she'd panic trying to remember.

Her immune system was shot, too. She began picking up all the viruses. And she began vomiting involuntarily.

If Lynn didn't get around to killing herself with her own hand, her body would soon do it for her.

Then Lynn heard about a treatment center in West Texas for eating disorders. She checked into "Shades of Hope" in Buffalo Gap where nobody made any promises. She began cutting back on anti-depressants the first two weeks, as prescribed by her psychiatrist. Then in the third week she started to remember again, to eat properly, to feel good.

But Andy was back home getting lonely. He had stayed stoned for two weeks, and he was frightened and jealous of her recovery. When he'd call, he'd cuss out officials at the facility and make threats. Lynn withdrew again.

Then Andy came to visit one day, driving past the place three times before going inside. When he finally walked in he found his wife looking almost healthy.

They gave him some literature to look through when he got back home.

To make a long, sad story with an encouraging ending very short, Andy isn't fighting Lynn's recovery anymore. In fact, he's begun working on himself. He's told his old friends to stay away from him. He's started an Al-Anon group in his home town.

Last weekend Andy and Lynn told me their story at a Motel 6 in nearby Abilene. They thought maybe it could help someone else who might be fascinated by the promise of drugs.

When we finished they were preparing to return home and make 90 meetings in 90 days at Al-Anon, Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous and Overeaters Anonymous.

Lynn looked at her husband with tears filling her eyes, then gently held his hand in hers. The fact that neither had died, that both were clear-headed again, was a miracle they seemed determined to cling to forever.

Hopefully they will, because this much did seem abundantly clear. Were they ever to allow this miracle to end, they would surely die - and they know it.

Federation report given

The Self Culture Club met in the home of Jewel Tiller April 22 at 3 p.m.

Members wrote to their congressmen regarding the opening of petroleum exploration of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge, as suggested by GFWC.

Pearl Watson gave a topic on the benefits of Federation. Federation is an organization where one meets his peers, builds friendship, learns to react to all types of people. One has an opportunity to put religious beliefs to work in his community. The federation was organized in Waco in 1897 with education as a focal point.

Education is the continued policy today. Ten scholarships are given at state level each year and many more are given through local clubs. Conservation of land, water, energy, American home and children are all points in which the members are interested.

Federation also gives one the opportunity of political benefits. Elections have been won by one vote. One man wrote the Communist Manifesto - today there are 55 million Communists in the world. One baby was born in a manger in Bethlehem - today there are one billion Christians in the world.

Federation is diversified. It was influential in forming 85 percent of all libraries in Texas, Texas Good Neighbor Policy, Texas Historical Society, A&M Extension Service, Texas Arts and Humanities Service and the International Friendship Pavilion at Brownsville. It also sponsored legislation that led to the establishment of M.D. Anderson.

Mrs. Archie Nichols of Baird, Mesquite District president, will attend the club's luncheon on May 12 at the home of Mrs. Lewis Elliott.

Others present were Lil Brown, Fannie Beeman, Elizabeth Elliott, Ida Keith and Linnie Williams.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. (The cost is only $50.00)

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, ● even before it can be felt.

TAKE THE WHOLE PRESCRIPTION

Don't stop taking a prescription drug after you begin to feel better unless your physician approves. This is most important. Often anything less than the full course of treatment may prevent the medicine from completely correcting the condition.

For example, not taking the prescribed amount of an antibiotic allows either the "bug" or your body to become resistant to it. Not enough of the required medicine may be worse than none at all.

The Medicine Place is dedicated to your better health. We would like to be your pharmacy. We are committed to keeping your prescription costs as low as possible. We will not knowingly be undersold on any prescription. That's The Medicine Places's Pledge to you.

'Store' helps students learn the value of money

Kindergarten students in Mrs. Evelyn Malone's room at Kelley Elementary were able to reap the rewards of the study of money Friday when they went to the Dairy Queen Friday to spend their money.

The class has been studying money since March 7. In order that the students better understand the concepts related to money, Mrs. Malone opened a classroom "store". Students used their own money to purchase items from the store. However, students were only allowed to purchase from the store if they could count the value of their coins for the day. The value of the days ranged from one cent to 25 cents.

"The items in the classroom store ranged from bubble gum to brownies," said Mrs. Malone. "Other items included apples, oranges, bananas and party favors."

Mrs. Malone said favorite items for the boys to buy were miniature cars. The girls like necklaces and bracelets.

"The idea of the store has proven to be a very constructive way of teaching money to five and six year olds," she said. "Also, in counting money, I was able to combine the concepts of adding and subtracting along with counting larger numbers like 11 to 30."

Students were given the opportunity to borrow from the bank. They were expected to pay the money back the next day "interest free".

"A special thanks should go to the parents and friends who kept the store supplied with goodies," said Mrs. Malone.

During the outing to Dairy Queen, each student was able to order as much as $3 would buy.

Strain named Scholastic All-American

The National Secondary Education Council has announced that Jeremy Strain has been named a Scholastic All-American.

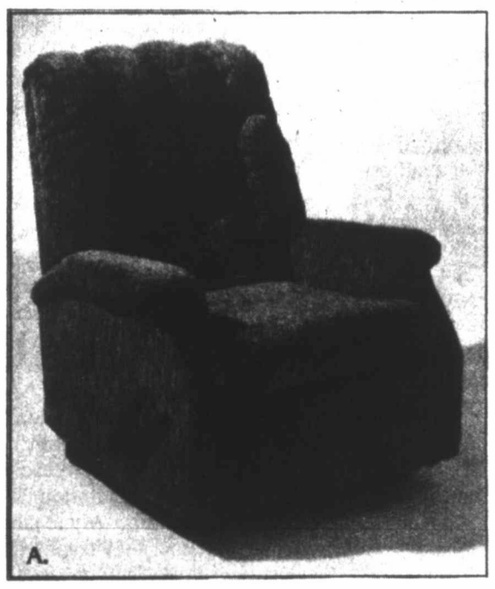

The NSEC established the Scholastic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Scholastic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Strain, who attends Colorado High School, was nominated by teachers Rick Robinson and Carolyn Walker. Strain's name will appear in the Scholastic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Scholastic All-American Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the National Secondary Education Council.

Strain is the son of Eddie and Roxie Strain. Grandparents are Waddell and Jerry Strain of Colorado City and the late Cliff and Jerry Greaves.

Charles William Alsobrook

Graduate enlists in Naval Reserve

Charles William Alsobrook (Bill Dossey), a graduating senior at Colorado High School, has enlisted in the Naval Reserve and will report June 16 for training in San Diego.

The 17-year-old son of Jerry and Susan Dossey and Sonny Alsobrook, he enlisted Dec. 30 in the delayed enlistment program.

He will be trained to be a damage controlman. Damage controlmen do the work necessary for damage control, ship stability, firefighting and chemical biological and radiological (CBR) warfare defense. They also instruct personnel in the methods of damage control and CBR defense and repair damage control equipment and systems.

He will be graduating in May from CHS.

Early dismissal

Colorado City students will be dismissed an hour early Tuesday, May 3, because of in-serivce training for teachers.

Buses also will run an hour early.

National Teacher Day proclaimed

Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum has declared Tuesday, May 3, as National Teacher Day.

His proclamation reads:

"WHEREAS, America depends upon successful school instructional programs that meet the needs of every child, and

"WHEREAS, America's teachers are carrying out a major responsibility in preparing our young people to assume their role as effective citizens, and

"WHEREAS, teachers are challenged daily to reach out to every student - regardless of ability, interest in learning, social or economic background, handicap, race, religion, creed, or ethnic origin - to provide the assistance and guidance necessary for full intellectual development, and

"WHEREAS, teachers contribute to the economic growth of this nation by providing students the skills that make them a viable part of the work force, and

"WHEREAS, each of us can recall the personal attention that teachers gave to us as we made important decisions during the formative years of our lives, and

"WHEREAS, teachers are molding lives and shaping the future of our next generation, and

"WHEREAS, teachers represent an investment in this life of his community and deserve the deepest respect and admiration of our citizens,

"NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that May 3, 1988, is hereby proclaimed National Teacher Day as a time for public recognition of the contributions provided by the teacher toward the development of this community and for the influence of the teacher upon the lives of each of us."

Mitchell receives insurance honors

Eddie Mitchell of San Angelo, formerly of Colorado City, was recently named the 1987-88 "Rookie of the Year" at the annual banquet of the San Angelo Life Underwriters Association.

Mitchell moved to San Angelo from Childress in March of 1987 to begin a career in insurance. He had worked for the Farm Credit System for 14 years before moving to San Angelo.

A teacher is...

National Teacher Day will be celebrated on Tuesday.

The local chapter of the Texas State Teachers Association will be joining with other organizations from across the country in a national tribute to the work being done by teachers.

To kick off the event, Mrs. Evelyn Malone's kindergarten students at Kelley Elementary School express their views of what "A Teacher Is"...

Melvin Jackson: "A person who helps me learn. My teacher helped me learn how to read."

Vanessa Lara: "She helps us do our work. She teaches us how to learn. She helps us count. She teaches us how to count money."

Kassandra Garcia: "My teacher is my friend. The teacher helps us do our colors. She teaches us how to spell words. She's nice."

Tiffany Overby: "My teacher helps me learn how to tell time. She helped me learn my colors."

Johnnie Riggs: "A person who helps us and we can help them. My teacher helped me learn how to write my name. She helped us learn how to count, say our ABCs and read sentences."

Joe Rich: "My teacher helped me learn how to tell time. She helped me learn how to write my name. My teacher gives love when I don't feel good or when I get hurt."

James Goss: "My teacher helps me do my math, like adding and subtraction. She helps me count big numbers like 13 and 14. She helps me read."

Cristy Hull: "Our teacher helps us learn our address, phone number and the Preamble to the Constitution. She helped us learn the Pledge."

Rusty Medrano: "When my math was real hard, my teacher helped me. She helped us learn how to write our last name."

Amanda Costabile: My teacher helped me count money. She taught me how to read. She taught me the Pledge of Allegiance and the Preamble to the Constitution. She helped me write my name better. She helped me spell word like 'fantastic'. She helped me learn my address and phone number."

Rosaana Sepeda: "She helps us do work. She helps us do math. She lets us watch movies and eat popcorn."

Veronica Harris: "My teacher helps me do my language. My teacher helps me do my adding in math."

Hubert Tutwiler: "My teacher helps me learn ABCs."

Melissa Rogers: "A teacher shows us how to color. She teaches us how to read. She shows us how to do our math."

Adam Luera: "My teacher helps me do my math and my colors. She helps us learn to read."

Brandon Hoback: My teacher helps me do my numbers, my ABCs and my spelling words."

Sheriece Bailey: "My teacher helps us read. She taught us the Preamble to the Constitution."

Brian Browning: "My teacher helps me do my work."

James Matos: "My teacher loves me."

Drake Silva: "My teacher let us go outside. She lets us do puzzles. She don't let us be bad in school. She let us be good in school."

Monica Franco: "My teacher helps me learn. When we're doing work, my teacher helps me by reading the instructions. My teacher helps me count. My teacher helps my celebrate my birthday."

Sandy Meeks: "My teacher is nice. She loves all of the kids. She's going to take us to the Dairy Queen. She helps us do language and math. I love her."

Women discuss new BPW club

Several Colorado City women met with District Seven director Jane Nichols of Abilene for an organizational meeting of the new Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday, April 27, at noon at City Savings.

Nichols discussed many aspects of BPW, including well-known women who are members, ways to attract to new members and steps required in chartering a new local organization.

One of the BPW members Nichols told the about about is Hermione Tablowsky, who drafted the Texas legal equal rights law. Tablowsky also serves as legal counsel for the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The best way to attract new members, said Nichols, is to familiarize prospective members with the benefits available to them through BPW, such as the insurance program, loan program and investment program. She also encouraged the creation of a benefits package on the local organization level.

In presenting the guidelines for chartering a new local organization, Nichols stressed the need for timely action and explained the steps necessary to obtain their charter by their target date of July 1.

Present for the meeting were Donna Bell, Pam Butler, Glenna Garrett, Dee Hearn, Donna Laurens, Annette Roberts and Kay Willingham.

The next meeting will be noon Wednesday, May 4, at City Savings meeting room at which time temporary officers will be elected and the organization bylaws will be discussed.

All interested persons are urged to attend. Please bring a sack lunch.

Texas Cattlewomen president visits local chapter

Tejas CattleWomen met Thursday, April 14, at Jaramillo's Mexican Restaurant in Snyder for their regular monthly meeting with Yvonne Nunn, president, presiding.

The opening prayer was given by Jean Everett of Snyder, followed by the entire group repeating the American National CattleWomen's Creed in unison.

Lisa Buchanan, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the March meeting which was held in Colorado City.

Treasurer Dovie Brownfield gave the treasurer's report and announced she has application blanks for "Friends of Texas CattleWomen" and children under 18 years of age to become members of CattleWomen.

Mrs. Brownfield said she is authorized to take donations for a limited edition bronze by Garland Weeks entitled "A Genuine All-Around Hand" which Texas CattleWomen will give at a drawing to be held at the fall convention in November. The bronze, commissioned by CattleWomen, depicts a pioneer woman gazing across the prairie, a bowl for mixing bread in her arms, dressed in boots, spurs, long dress and bonnet, and a small child clutching at her skirt.

Tejas received 15 cookbooks from National CattleWomen as a bonus for belonging 100 percent to National CattleWomen. These books contain the prize winning recipes from the beef cook-offs that are held annually in Texas and across the nation.

Jackie Roden of Sweetwater presented a sketch of a flag to be entered in the state contest for a Texas CattleWomen's flag.

Minnie Boyd introduced Mary Kay Walker of Laredo, corresponding secretary of Texas CattleWomen, and Carllyn Walker of Mirando City, president of Texas CattleWomen.

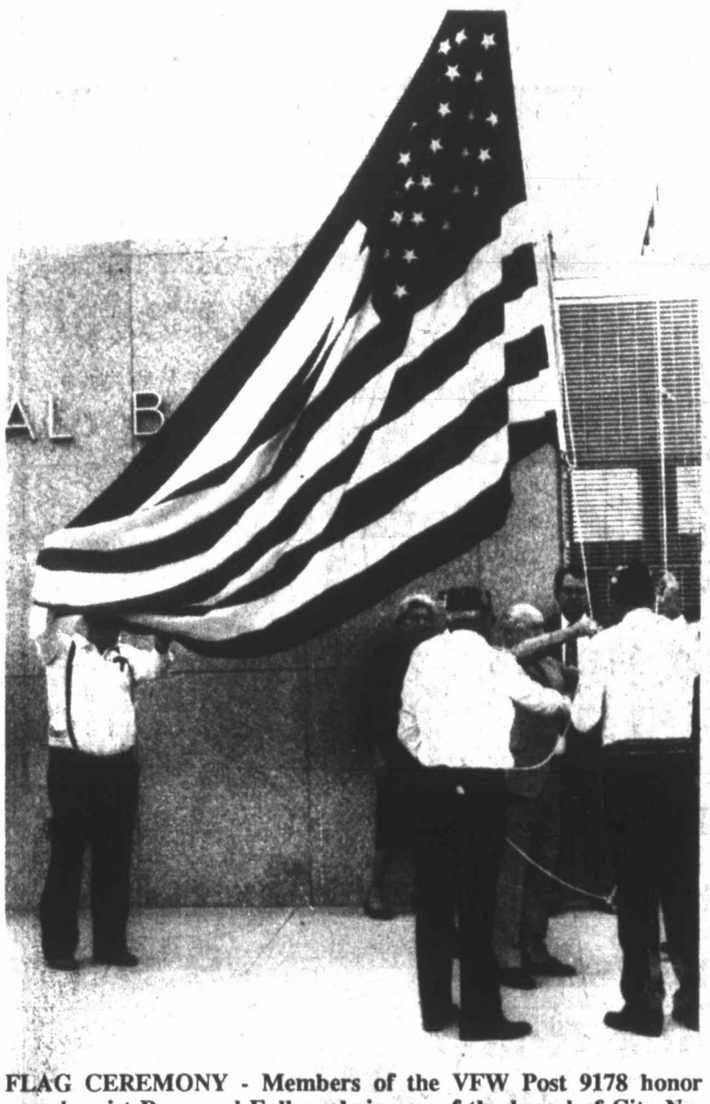

Yvonne Nunn welcomed the guests to Tejas and expressed appreciation for the visit. Mrs. Walker was born in Kosciusko, Miss. and married Gene Walker Jr., better known as "Primo" in 1979 in Jackson, Miss. They have three children, Jeffery, 7, Cathy, 5, and Kandy Elaine, 3. They live and ranch in Mirando City. Mrs. Walker graduated from Seneca Valley High School in Mars, Penn. She studied ranch management and nutrition at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and just recently attended Laredo State University working toward her bachelor's degree in education-biology specialization. She has been a member of Texas CattleWomen (CowBelles) since 1979, was president of Texican (her local) in 1984 and 1985, has been an active member of Texas CattleWomen executive board for five years and was sworn in as Texas president in Corpus Christi at the fall convention in November, 1987.

Mrs. Walker offered suggestions for increasing membership and interest in the local club and promoting beef and its products. She suggested bringing a friend to meetings; making meetings fun, informative and yet businesslike; send letters to prospective members; give a tea or honorary function for benefactors; have projects individually and in the different area towns; celebrate the birthdays of members each month; have a door prize; conduct a contest between local towns for the most new members; be enthusiastic and supportive of the local president and other officers.

She asked for newsletter corrections of addresses, communication to the president and members of the scholarship committee on the recommendations before their study, and local input and interest for the president and the different state committees to further the promotion of beef and its products before the American public. Members were reminded to send nominations for the 1989 state officers and committee members to Betty Huggins at Junction.

Others attending were guest LaJuana Solomon of Colorado City and members Adele Ginzel, Lucille Sterling, Gloria Griffin, Jeanne Bullard, Jean Everett and June Wall.

The next meeting will be May 5 in Big Spring at the Golden Corral. Guest speaker will be Lou Ann Smoot of the Beef Industrial Council in Austin who will talk about the beef referendum check-off May 10 at the county extension offices across the state.

FLAG CEREMONY - Members of the VFW Post 9178 honor guard assist Raymond Fuller, chairman of the board of City National Bank, at a flag pole dedication and flag ceremony at the bank Friday morning. Looking on are Robert Alford, president, and chief executive officer, and Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, member of the board. In addition to a large U.S. flag, a Texas flag and a bank flag were hoisted on the new 60-foot pole. Also taking part in the ceremonies were Rev. Julius Early, Bob Newman and the Colorado High School band under the direction of David Sims. On hand for the occasion were Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and other interested persons.

Home Economics FOCUS

by LIBBI GARNETT
County Extension Agent

This article is dedicated to my new friend Laura Baum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baum of Colorado City. I met Laura when she was home on spring break, jogging about her sixth mile. She's so dedicated and committed to physical health. Laura is studying to become a physical therapist and will undoubtedly be a good one.

Last week I attended a meeting in San Angelo in which we had our blood tested for cholesterol levels as a part of a learning experience.

A very interesting thing we learned through our results was that the people who had the "healthiest hearts" based on amounts of fat, lipoproteins, triglycerides and cholesterol levels in the blood, were the people who had regular exercise programs. Whether it was walking briskly, jogging, biking or doing calisthenics, you can best believe that regular exercise is a big part of having a healthy body. Whatever form of exercise you choose, check with your doctor and get started! Then, keep it up!

Once you start an exercise program, it's easy to slack off, and slowly lose interest. All it takes is a busy schedule, an aching muscle, or just "feeling lazy" and before you know it, you've stopping exercising regularly. Here are some ways to motivate yourself to exercise:

- Take your exercise program one step at a time. Increase your exercise sessions with time, according to your own progress. Starting off with too heavy a program may overwhelm and discourage you, and convince you to stop again.
- Prompt yourself for exercise. Get your exercise clothes out and have them ready and waiting ahead of time. Make a schedule of your exercise routines and post it on the wall or refrigerator. Put up some inspirational pictures of yourself or others exercising to help get you in the right frame of mind.
- Reward yourself for all your efforts. Keep track of how well you're doing, and share your progress with others. Outside encouragement can be quite a motivator.
- Make a contract with yourself and stick to it. But make it realistic enough so you can reach your goals through your exercise program. When you reach a goal, celebrate!
- Think positive. Exercise is good for you and a positive attitude will bring your goals closer within reach. Your positive attitude may also be the key to helping a friend reach exercise goals, so don't keep it to yourself.

Lovell receives CIC designation

Tom Lovell of Lovell-Carr Insurance in Colorado City is one of 93 men and women who have earned their Certified Insurance COunselor (CIC) designation during the past year who were honored Saturday at a conferment brunch in Houston.

The branch was a highlight of the 1988 Professional Insurance Agents of Texas convention held April 27-30 at the Adam's Mark Hotel.

Each student successfully completed five CIC courses and passed a comprehensive final exam after each course.

W.L. Richard, vice president of the National Society of Certified Insurance Counselors, presented certificates to each conferee. The new conferees join nearly 1,000 other Texas insurance agents and insurance company representative who hold the designation, which is indicative of highly trained, committed insurance professionals.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON THE APPLICATION OF GRAND BANKS ENERGY COMPANY TO CONSIDER UNITIZATION AND SECONDARY RECOVERY OPERATIONS ON ITS MILLS-STRAIN UNIT SHARON RIDGE (1700) FIELD MITCHELL COUNTY, TEXAS

Notice is hereby given to the public and all interested persons that under the authority of Title 3, Oil and Gas, Subtitles A, B, and C, Texas Natural Resources Code, and Chapters 26, 27 and 29 of the Texas Water Code, the Railroad Commission of Texas will hold a hearing on May 20, 1988, at 9:00 a.m. at the William B. Travis State Office Building, 1701 N. Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas. For room assignment, on the date of the hearing please check the bulletin board located in the 1st Floor lobby. Persons planning to attend this hearing are urged to contact the applicant (see service list) immediately prior to the hearing date to be sure that the hearing will proceed on the scheduled date.

This hearing will be held to consider the application of Grand Banks Energy Company for approval of unitization and secondary recovery operations for the proposed Mills-Strain Unit Sharon Ridge (1700) Field, Mitchell County, Texas. Working interest owner ratification amounts to 100% and royalty interest owner ratification range from over 75% to over 98% for each tract in the proposed unit.

If a continuation is necessary, this hearing will proceed at the William B. Travis State Office Building, 1701 N. Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas, and, to the extent possible, on subsequent working days. The room number and exact time of the continuation will be announced on the record in this proceeding and recorded with Docket Services, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas. Pursuant to said hearing, the Commission will enter such rules, regulations, and orders as in its judgment the evidence presented may justify.

Any request for postponement of this hearing must be received no later than four (4) working days prior to the scheduled date shown above. Copies of such request must be forwarded to all parties shown on the service list.

To appear in support of or in opposition to this proceeding, a party other than the applicant must file with Docket Services, office of the General Counsel, at least five (5) days in advance of the hearing date, a notice of intent to appear.

ALL EXHIBITS FILED AS A PART OF THE RECORD IN THIS CAUSE MUST BE SUBMITTED IN DUPLICATE. DATA IN COMISSION RECORDS MAY BE INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE, BUT THE REFERENCE MUST BE SPECIFIC, AND IF IT INCLUDES EXHIBITS FILED IN PRIOR PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE COMMISSION, A COPY OF SUCH EXHIBIT PROPERLY IDENTIFIED SHALL BE SUMBITTED FOR THIS RECORD.

A list of the names and addresses of those persons receiving notice of this hearing is contained in the Commission's file on this proceeding and is available for inspection at the Railroad Commission's offices in the William B. Travis State Office Building, 1701 North Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas 78701.

Meet your

Hospital Candidates

Linden Solomon

I am Linden Solomon, a candidate for Mitchell County Hospital Board.

I was reared in the Cuthbert community and I have lived in Mitchell County all of my life. I am a graduate of Colorado High School. My wife and I now reside at Nutty Acres.

I have served on several boards through the years, including Producers Co-Op Gin for 14 years, and Lone Wolf Electric for 18 years.

I have completed my first term on the Mitchell County Hospital Board, and I must say it has been a learning experience. I am proud of our hospital and I want us to continue to have one in our community. The need for doctors is a big problem. We are doing all we can to find doctors for our community. If I am elected, I will do all that I can to help bring new doctors to our hospital and provide medical care for our community.

I will appreciate your vote and support. I urge each of you to go to the polls and vote.

Meet your Loraine

School Candidates

George Martin

I am George Martin, a lifelong resident of Loraine, and I am running for the Loraine I.S.D. school board.

As a land owner and taxpayer, I am concerned that we use our tax dollars for the maximum benefit of one of our most important natural resources—our children.

I feel that, as a parent of a fifth grader and two previous graduates of the Loraine Schools, it is vital in this day and time to insure a basic education for the future leaders of our nation, our state and our community.

If I can help to see that this is done by serving on the Board, it would be my privilege to do so.

Thank you.
