STRANDED STREAMLINER

The stranded City of San Francisco is shown in the deep snow in the Sierra mountains near Yuba Gap, Calif., with some of the 222 passengers standing beside the nearly snow covered coaches of the train. The passengers have now been removed to the safety of swanky Nyack Lodge.

Relief Train Brings In Weary Refugee Passengers At Oakland

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tired refugee passengers from the snow-blanketed streamliner, City of San Francisco, arrived today — almost four days late.

They were noticeably weary and sober-faced But most looked as if they'd just completed a normal 40-hour run from Chicago — instead of having survived three and a half storm-bound days in mile-high Donner Pass.

The deeply snow-packed High Sierra reluctantly had given up the 196 passengers and 30 Southern Pacific crewmen late yesterday. The empty luxury train still was stuck there.

Those who started from Chicago Friday night in the sleek streamliner ended their trip in old-fashioned green pullmans.

Their relief train arrived at Oakland, just across San Francisco Bay, early this morning.

The tired men and women trickled slowly from the cars.

All were neat. . . . the men freshly shaved.

On the relief train, which took seven and a half hours from mountains to coast, they had steaks and chicken, baths, changes of clothes, sleep.

Perhaps the embraces from some 300 waiting spectators were a little more tender than usual. A public address speaker boomed in the cavernous Oakland Station, reeling off names endlessly to pick up messages.

Fifty-seven passengers slept aboard until late morning.

Others left quickly on half-hour ferry or auto rides across the bay to San Francisco.

An estimated 150 persons were aboard when the relief train snubbed to a stop at the end of the track. Fifteen, including two stretcher cases, had got off at Sacramento. Others left at other stops.

Half an hour after arrival at Oakland, some still popped out, sleepy-eyed.

Heroic Dr. Walter H. L. Roehll of Middletown, Ohio, said the experience was "something I'll never forget."

The stocky and gray 52-year-old physician had worked tirelessly to treat some 60 victims of gas fumes that seeped through the train shortly after regular heat gave out in the 20-degree temperatures Monday. Only a few remained ill.

He said his wife luckily had brought along a shoebox filled with medicines.

Some aboard were delegates to the Republican National Committee convention opening today. They just made it.

Others still had vacation trips ahead, some to Hawaii.

At Oakland, one stretcher case was taken off—Robert A. Miller, assistant superintendent of the S. P.'s Sacramento division. Doctors said he suffered from exhaustion during rescue operations.

On the trip down, many passengers slept. Pullman Conductor R. C. Barnes said "they hit the sack very hard."

They were tired from their dramatic rescue, which included plodding over snowy ground.

Offset Staked To 3-A Cogdell In Kent County

Chapman & McFarlin Producing Co. has staked location for a north offset to its No. 3-A D. M. Cogdell, recent San Andres discovery on the northeast side of the Cogdell Multipay area in Central-South Kent County.

It is the No. 2-B Cogdell and is located 273 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 780-97-H&TC.

Cable tools will be used to drill to projected depth of 2,000 feet beginning at once.

PLUG BORDEN WELL

Robert L. Wood of Midland and others have plugged and abandoned their No. 1 Ed Murphy, west stepout to production in the Von Roeder field of Central - East Borden County, at total depth of 7,010 feet.

Location was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 82-25-H&TC and 11 miles north of Vincent and one and three - quarter miles north of the Reinecke field.

FISHER PUMPER

A small pumping discovery from a Pennsulvanian zone has been completed in Southwest Fisher County.

This marks the second completion of a Pennsylvanian discovery in that sector of Fisher during the week.

The latest new field opener is Joe H. Evans and associates No. 1 Orpha Terry. It is at the center of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 262-3-H&TC.

That makes it five miles northeast of Gannon. It is three and one-half miles east and two and one-half miles south of General Crude Oil Co. No. 1 Mrs. G. T. Webb completed a few days ago as a flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian reef to open the Claytonville pool.

The No. 1 Terry reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 46.35 barrels of 38.7 gravity oil plus 29 per cent salt water. The production is from perforated section at 5,312 - 5,382 feet. The zone making the oil is understood to be a fractured sand in the Pennsylvanian.

This exploration was originally drilled as Twin Oil Corp. and Associates No. 1 Terry. It went to a bottom of 6,739 feet and was abandoned at that point in May, 1951.

POTENTIAL TEST

Richardson & Bass No. 1-8 J. H. Nail Estate, Southeast Mitchell project, is understood to be preparing to run the official potential test today.

The well flowed 81 barrels of oil in 24 hours on a gauge reported yesterday. The flow was through a one-quarter inch tubing choke from perforations in seven - inch casing cemented on bottom at 6,075 feet. The No. 1-8 Nail is a north offset to the No. 1 J. F. McCabe, Pennsylvanian opener of the McCabe - Pennsylvanian pool.

IMPERIAL

Imperial Production Co. No. 2 Vernon B. Cox, North - Central Scurry offset to the one-well Cox-Canyon field, ran a drillstem test from 7,141-81 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian. Recovery was 128 feet of dark brown oil, 125 feet of gas cut mud and 145 feet of oil and mud cut salt water. Operator is now reaming out the hole and will probably go deeper. The well was originally projected to about 7,500 feet.

Price, Bartley and others No. 1 Guthrie Conrad, Southwest Scurry wildcat, is drilling ahead below 6,380 feet.

Van Fleet Is CalledCannibal

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky today called U. S. Lieut. Gen. James Van Fleet a "cannibal" unfitted to conduct armistice negotiations in Korea.

Vishinsky told the United Nations political committee the "unreasonable demands presented by the American command can give no hope for a successful conclusion of those negotiations."

"Only hypocrites," he said, could want to leave truce talks in the hands of Van Fleet and other military leaders.

The Soviet foreign minister quoted the Associated Press as reporting that Gen. Van Fleet was "perfectly satisfied" with war destruction in North Korea and the critical state of the civilian population.

"Those are the statements of a blood-thirsty man—of a cannibal," Vishinsky declared.

"This is what those who insist on military negotiations are covering up."

Low Of 52 Degrees Here

Snyder's slight sprinkle of moisture last night was accompanied by the warmest temperatures recorded in several weeks, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said, reporting a low of 52 for last night. High for yesterday was 72, and the reading was 55 at 7:30 this morning.

Little Chance That Taxes Will Go Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Democrats agreed with Republicans today that a fourth post-Korean tax boost is virtually an impossibility in this election year.

At least one important Democrat expressed doubt that Congress would even go through the formality of holding hearings on President Truman's request for another five billion dollars in taxes.

By contrast, the outlook was bright for extension of the Defense Production Act, the basis for price, production and credit controls which was the other headliner in the President's annual economic report sent to Congress yesterday.

Even here, it seemed likely the President would have to settle for a one-year extension instead of two, and that the law might not be tightened up in the ways he recommended.

In the face of adverse statements by leading tax legislators of his own party in recent weeks, there was considerable surprise on Capitol Hill that Mr. Truman even asked for a new tax program.

His recommendation, yet to be detailed in the budget or a special message, called for an additional load of around five billion dollars. He said this could be obtained "by eliminating loopholes and special privileges, and by some tax rate increases."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which originates all tax legislation, observed that there seems to be a strong sentiment around the country against any further tax increases at this time.

Would he hold hearings on the request? The chairman told reporters that decision would be put up to the committee at the appropriate time, after the President explained just what rates he thought should be raised and what loopholes closed.

Mundt Burned Over No Action Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) today accused the administration of "gross negligence and inexcusable delay" in putting the Internal Security Law passed last September into effect.

Mundt, one of the prime movers behind the bill, said he would not go all the way, however, with a proposal by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) that "thousands of Communist conspirator now in this country" be rounded up immediately.

"I wouldn't want to say I would concentrate on that one feature," Mundt told a reporter. Instead, he said, he would favor a resolution "requiring the President to put the whole act into operation."

Mundt said the administration should be called on to go ahead with enforcement of the law, which was passed over President Truman's veto, and then, "after this screening," proceed with the detention provisions.

Among the laws' many provisions are requirements for registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations, denial of federal jobs and passports to Communists and tightened immigration barriers against subversive aliens.

It also provides, subject to court review, for the apprehension and detention of persons who there is reasonable ground to believe would engage in espionage or sabotage. This is operative, however, only upon a declaration of an internal security emergency based on war, invasion or insurrection.

A bill introduced yesterday by Eastand would have the effect of putting that part of the law into operation. He said it was aimed at putting "under lock and key as soon as possible" approximately 50,000 "disciplined Communists, of whom approximately 20,000 are identifiable hardened agents of the Kremlin who are working night and day as the vanguard of those who would destroy us."

Spaht, Kennon In Run-off In Louisiana Vote

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Carlos Spaht, a political unknown who ran with the backing of Gov. Earl Long and independent Appeal Judge Robert Kennon will enter a run-off election for governor of Louisiana Feb. 19.

Spaht and Kennon outdistanced seven other candidates in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

U. S. Rep. Hale Boggs, who had all-out support of U. S. Sen. Russell Long, was third and today conceded "it is impossible for me to overcome the lead of Judge Kennon."

The latest returns, Spaht and Kennon were running one-two.

Boggs gained an early lead in the returns with the help of a big vote in his home city of New Orleans.

Returns from 1,761 of the state's 2,112 precincts in Tuesday's Democratic primary showed: Spaht 134,416; Kennon 131,784; Boggs 117,722.

James McLemore, Alexandria cattleman who ran fourth, conceded his defeat last night. He predicted Kennon would face Spaht in a run-off primary Feb. 19 and urged support for Kennon.

McLemore polled 95,618 votes.

Twenty-two Youths Charged In Waco With Grave Robbing

WACO (AP) — Twenty-two Waco youths, some so young they have been turned over to juvenile authorities, stood accused today of grave robbing.

Felony complaints were filed against 17 of the youths whose ages ranged from 17 to 19. Four younger boys were turned over to a probation officer.

Another, a student of the University of Texas, was charged with desecrating a grave.

Arrests of the teen-agers grew from discovery Sunday night of an open grave in an old cemetery no longer used for burials. Bones were found around the broken crypt. No positive identification of the grave was possible but a 92-year-old man said he was "pretty sure it was Leman Johnson's grave."

Leman Johnson, "Uncle Bob" Smith said, "was a gambler and was as fine a man as ever lived. He died in 1873 or 1874." Leman Johnson has no known survivors.

Asst. Dist. Atty. A. David Copeland gave this account:

The boys gathered at a drive-in ice cream stand and went from there to the cemetery. They opened the grave, had some trouble forcing the casket from the crypt, but finally removed it.

As the 70-year old brass casket was moved, the bottom fell out and bones clattered back into the grave.

The boys loaded the casket into a car and took it to the Baylor University stadium. But they feared a police patrol might find them there, so they carted it back to an ice cream stand.

To get rid of it later, they dumped the casket into Lake Waco. It was found Tuesday on a dump ground at Valley Mills.

The boys told officers they didn't know how the casket got to the Valley Mills junk yard. Officers speculated some of the boys took it out of the shallow water of Lake Waco in another attempt to hide it.

Copeland said the charges against 17 of the youths carry a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison. Ten of the boys made $500 bond when arraigned last night. Warrants were sworn out against eight others.

Fatal Injuries To Snyder Man In Car Wreck

Scurry County recorded the first traffic fatality of the year early this morning when James Moody Tyree, 23, oil field worker, died of injuries sustained in an accident about 10:20 last night.

Tyree died shortly after 4 o'clock this morning in Snyder Hospital of multiple internal injuries. The accident occurred just south of Ira on State Highway 350, Big Spring highway.

Tyree was riding in a 1951 Studebaker coach, driven by O. B. Colquet Watts, 36, of 2818 Avenue D, when the car ran off the pavement on the right shoulder. Watts guided the automobile back onto the pavement, but it ran off on the left shoulder and overturned at least three times, Highway Patrolman E. W. Green said.

Both men were taken to the Snyder Hospital by a Bolger - Barnes ambulance. Watts was recovering this morning from lacerations on the face and bruises, and hospital attendants reported his condition as good. Both were employes of the G & W. Well Service Co.

Green said a 1950 Chevrolet, driven by J. S. Hilbun of Bethel Island, Calif., was approaching the scene when the accident occurred, and Watts' car threw rocks and gravel, causing an estimated $150 damage to the Chevrolet. Damage was to the windshield, grille, headlights, and parking lights. Riding in the car with Hilbun was his wife and his nephew, Boyce H. Patton of Big Spring, owner of the car.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but they were tentively set for tomorrow at the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery.

Survivors are his wife, the former Jewell Pinkerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pinkerton of 1005 Twenty - third Street; one daughter, Carolyn Sue; one son, 4-day-old James William; his father, Jack Tyree, Sr., of Post; and two brothers, Jack Tyree, Jr., of Powell, Wyo., and Horace Tyree, now stationed in California in the Armed Forces.

New Storm Due In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The black mass of a new storm front rolled toward Northern California today, threatening more rain and snow for areas already flooded and snowbound.

A five-day storm already has isolated towns, stranded the Southern Pacific streamliner City of San Francisco, whose 226 passengers and crew were rescued late yesterday, disrupted transport and communications and sent hundreds of lowland residents from flooded homes.

Portola, Calif., railroad and lumber town of 4,000 high in the Sierra, was isolated and in critical condition until a Western Pacific emergency train bored in with medical supplies yesterday.

A woman died in a gas explosion there and a nine-foot snowfall collapsed buildings and stranded seven buses carrying 248 persons.

At least 13 deaths have been attributed to the storm and millions of dollars worth of property has been destroyed.

Pat Bullock Will Make Race For Another Term in Senate

Pat Bullock

Pat Bullock, Colorado City oilman and rancher, today announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself as state senator. He will run from the newly redistricted twenty - fourth senatorial district.

Bullock, president pro team of the Senate last year, has been a state senator nine years. He is 56 years old. He also spent two years in the state House of Representatives.

Formerly an educator, he is now a broker of oil and gas royalty leases and a rancher.

Bullock, a former resident of Snyder, was a candidate for state school superintendent in the '30s after he had seen some of Texas' needs while directing the WPA adult education program.

The twenty - fourth senatorial district, under the redistricting act of 1951, now includes Scurry, Dickens, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Borden, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor Counties.

Flu Is Hitting State Schools Hard Blow

By The Associated Press

Influenza and other respiratory ailments were keeping many Texas school children home today. Two schools in Hill County closed.

Absenteeism at Fort Worth ranged from 25 to 31 per cent, compared with a daily average of only 3 to 5 per cent in the last six weeks.

The Hubbard School in Hill County closed Tuesday and the Abbott School closed yesterday. About a third of the 270 pupils at Abbott were absent when officials decided to halt classes.

Attendance at Austin schools was down as much as 25 per cent because of a variety of illnesses, mostly influenza. Corpus Christi schools reported an absentee rate of only about 5 per cent. An unidentified stomach ailment was also a factor at Corpus Christi.

Absenteeism was estimated at about 15 per cent at Big Spring in west Texas. It was largely in elementary schools. The number of teachers also ill there was a problem.

Denton schools reported about 10 per cent absenteeism. Hospitals were reported full. Illnesses also included virus colds and pneumonia.

Two East Texas points reported better attendance now than about a month ago when influenza caused a high rate of absenteeism. They were Marshall and Tyler. Brownsville, in the valley, reported only negligible absenteeism.

Midland reported an improvement today after absenteeism ranging up to 25 per cent earlier in the week. Some Midland schools still had a 25 per cent absenteeism rate today.

POLL TAXES

PAID

And Exemptions

4,252

Goal 6,000

12 Days Before Deadline

Poll Tax Total Passes 4,250

Poll tax receipts leaped to 4,252 today, a gain of 297 over yesterday and only 1,748 short of the Scurry County goal.

Dr. Robert Hargrove, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said this morning he is confident that the goal of 6,000 set by the Junior Chamber will be reached before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Today's total is 266 more than last year's total receipts of 3,986.

The special poll tax trailer used by the Junior Chamber was taken to the Pan American Pipeline Camp on the Colorado City Highway this morning, but Hargrove said only seven poll taxes were sold there.

The trailer was scheduled to go to three more camps this afternoon, beginning at the Magnolia Camp at 3:30 o'clock, then the Sun Oil Camp at 4 o'clock and the Humble Camp at 5:30. Wayland Holt, Dude McClue, and Hargrove were to take the trailer to the camps today.

Hargrove said the trailer has accounted for an average of more than 100 poll taxes a day during the first three days of this week. Mrs. S. G. Williams is the special tax deputy for the trailer.

No Temperature Change And No Rain In Sight Forecasters Say Now

By The Associated Press

Cooler weather that had been eyeing Texas has snubbed the Lone Star State and no change in the mid-January heat wave is in sight.

The weather bureau said that the cool front which had been expected to enter the Texas Panhandle by Friday had stayed up north and was moving eastward.

No major temperature changes and no rain were in sight.

Light rains fell yesterday at scattered points. Beaumont recorded .13 of an inch; Galveston, .06; Austin, .03, and Palestine, .02.

Southerly breezes played over Texas today.

No Progress Reported At Peace Meet

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The Communists today charged an Allied plane dropped a bomb in the neutral zone near Kaesong and U. N. investigators were shown a deep hillside crater.

The crater was eight feet deep and about 25 feet wide.

Six Koreans from a nearby village told investigators they heard planes overhead before the bomb fell.

Marine Col. James C. Murray looked at the crater, picked up a fragment and said:

"Apparently there was an explosion here. We will see what we can find out about it."

U. N. and Communist investigators were quiet and friendly. The Reds did not report there had been any damage.

The accusation was made at Thursday's "no progress" truce talks.

The Reds sharply criticized Allied negotiators for allowing two representatives of the International Red Cross to enter the Panmunjom area Wednesday and Thursday.

The Communists handed the Allies a written message declaring the Red Cross delegates were not welcome. And added:

"We hope that no similar incidents will recur in the future."

The two Red Cross representatives returned to Seoul after handing an envelope to North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho. They were refused permission to enter North Korea to inspect prisoner of war camps.

The Communists said they consider it "unnecessary to receive representatives of the Red Cross."

Libby accused the Communists of violating the Geneva Convention by failing to mark their prisoner of war camps. He suggested that safeguards be set up to avoid any future attacks on North Korean prison camps.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho said he would think it over.

An official U.N. release quoted Lee as saying that since the alleged attack Monday on a camp near Kangdong occurred at night it would have made no difference if the camp were marked.

Lee also was quoted as saying the Communists tried marking the camp, but Allied planes attacked it anyway so the identification marks were not replaced.

Allied headquarters said planes were bombing military targets in the Kangdong area Monday night, but it had no way of knowing whether the prison camp was accidentally attacked since the Reds have never disclosed the location of their camps.

In the subcommittee discussing supervision of a truce, Maj. Gen. Claude B. Ferenbaugh told the Reds construction of airfields near the battle line would give them increased air power even though no additional planes were brought into Korea.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang dismissed the argument with a statement that aircraft are the basic component of air power and the Communists have agreed to prohibit the movement of planes into Korea during an armistice.

Hsieh also reiterated that any restriction on construction of airfields would constitute interference with North Korea's internal affairs.

WEATHER

EAST, SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Cloudy to partly cloudy and continued warm this afternoon, tonight and Friday. Moderate southerly winds on the coast.

NORTH CENTRAL AND WEST TEXAS: Cloudy to partly cloudy with no important temperature changes this afternoon, tonight and Friday.

WATER SPORT

Wind-driven rains pounding Southern California brought flooded streets, toppled trees, disrupted commupications and fun for kids like these in the Los Angeles suburb of Downer, Calif. Brion Jeannette, 7, and brother, Deris, 3, tie up their washtub ship at a street-side parking meter. Water, tight up against building fronts, was seeping into stores and basements.

Good Luck For UN Pilots Over Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — American jet pilots were credited with downing three Red jets today, two of them without firing a shot. They also destroyed three Communist tanks near Kaesong, former site of armistice talks.

Two acrobatic Sabre jet pilots were credited with the gunless air victory. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said they outmaneuvered two MIG-15s so badly the Red jets apparently went "into a high speed stall from which they were unable to recover."

The Red pilots bailed out and their planes crashed. The third MIG was shot down by Lt. Col. James B. Raebel, Redfield, S. D. Another Red jet was damaged in a series of air battles.

Two young lieutenants on their first combat missions burned out the three Russian-type T-34 tanks near Kaesong. They said their fire bombs turned the tanks into "gutted hulks." A fourth was damaged.

The two shooting star pilots—2nd lieuts. George Patterson, Orlando, Fla., and Robert E. Railey, Oakland, Md. — said they spotted the tanks just outside the restricted area surrounding Kaesong.

The Communists charged American planes early today attacked the Kaesong protected zone, now headquarters of the Red truce delegation.

There was no report of any major action on the snow-covered ground. Eight small fights broke out on the 145 mile front. The U. S. Eighth Army said the largest involved only one Red platoon. The longest was over in an hour and 20 minutes.

The acrobatic pilots credited with downing the two MIGs are Maj. William F. Shaeffer of Boone, Ia., and Lt Frank P. Robinson Jr. of Shreveport, La.

The damage report was made by Lt. Anthony Kulengosky, Jr. of Catawissa, Pa.

Warren Proposes Liberal, But Not Socialistic GOP Program

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California told Republicans bluntly today they cannot "turn the clock back" and expect to win this year's presidential election.

Warren, an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, opened the republicans National Committee meeting with a luncheon speech. He outlined "liberal" platform planks he said his party must adopt if it expects to get a majority in the November election.

"I am convinced the American people are not Socialists and will not tolerate Socialistic government, but they definitely are committed to social progress," Warren declared in a prepared address.

"Any party which turns its back on social progress will be repudiated by the people."

Warren made no mention of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, another GOP presidential candidate. But it was obvious his remarks were directed primarily toward National Committee members who are backing the Ohioan's bid for the nomination.

Taft has stood for many "social progress" measures but he generally is accused by most of his critic of representing the so-called conservative wing of the party.

Warren's address keynoted a session at which Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson was scheduled to report on Republican prospects for the November election.

David S. Ingalls, national chairman of the Taft-For-President committee, will present the Ohioan's case at a dinner tonight.

Warren, the 1948 vice presidential nominee, said he believes in trying to carry out party platforms between elections.

"I suggest we make it crystal clear to the American people that the things we advocated for their welfare in the platform are still party concerns and will continue to be so—that we do not intend to turn the clock back—that we are not willing to have present-day inequalities frozen into american life," the California governor said.

He said he doesn't go along with the theory that the people will vote the sake of change itself."

for a change in government "for

"They want us to present a program that will make them want to register and vote Republican," he said. "We must give them a practical demonstration that we are not interested in a return to the so-called comfortable scandal-ridden days, but that, on the contrary our party is a dynamic, forward-looking party, streamlined for the problems of the day."

Warren said he thinks the people want "a thorough reorganization and overhauling of the federal government," adding that "the Democratic party cannot do that at this late date."

Rival managers for Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower laid out something of a blueprint of their campaign at news conferences.

Ingalls, Taft manager, and Sen. Lodge (R-Mass), Eisenhower chairman, both contended their favorites are likely to win the nomination on the first ballot at next July's Republican convention in Chicago.

Lodge challenged Ingall's assertion that Eisenhower can't attack Truman administration foreign policies because he represents those policies as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

THE COUNTY CLERK of Borden County, Texas, is hereby authorized and directed to cause said notice of election to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks prior to said election, in the SNYDER DAILY NEWS, a newspaper of general circulation in Borden County, published in the City of Snyder, Scurry County, Texas, (there being no newspaper published in Borden County, Texas), and in addition thereto, to give notice of said election by posting notices of such election at four public places in Borden County, Texas, one of which shall be at the courthouse door of Borden County, for three consecutive weeks prior to said election.

A COPY OF THIS ELECTION ORDER, signed by the County Judge of Borden County, Texas, and certified by the County Clerk of said County, shall serve as proper notice of said election.

The above order having been read in full, it was moved by Commissioner Zant and seconded by Commissioner Gray that the same be passed and adopted. Thereupon, the question being called for, the following members of said Court voted "AYE": Commissioners Walker, Zant, Gray and Hughes; and none voted "NO".

PASSED AND APPROVED, this the 14th day of January, 1952.

C. S. Harris, County Judge, Borden County, Texas
Hubert Walker, Commissioner, Precinct Number 1
H. N. Zant, Commissioner, Precinct Number 2
Borden Gray, Commissioner, Precinct Number 3
T. M. Hughes, Commissioner, Precinct Number 4

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and affixed the seal of the Commissioners' Court of Borden County, Texas, this the 14th day of January, 1952, pursuant to authority given by law and the above order of the Commissioners' Court of said County.

Bolger Urges Kiwanians To Attend Show In Fort Worth February 2

Edward Bolger, new president of the Chamber of Commerce, met with the Kiwanis Club yesterday in their regular meeting and outlined the chamber's program for 1952.

Bolger stressed the importance of the trip several chamber members will make to Fort Worth for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show on Feb. 2.

Harold Grant, newly - elected Kiwanis president, urged members to pay poll taxes, and the group learned that only one member had not paid. He was to pay his poll tax this morning, along with other taxes, to make the group 100 per cent paid.

Holdouts Demanding More Pay Are Numerous In Major Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—Although there are few well-defined holdouts as of today in the major leagues, advance rumblings—especially in the three New York clubs—indicate trouble ahead for the baseball executives.

An Associated Press survey of the 16 big league teams indicated the Yankees, Giants and Dodgers each has a long way to go before it can field a team, and probably faces some fairly serious holdout battles before spring training gets underway next month.

The champion Yankees thus far have announced the signing only of Pitcher Ed Lopat and their 39-year-old utility First-Baseman, Johnny Mize.

The Giants, who went down battling in the World Series, also have only two regulars officially within the fold, Outfielders Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

Brooklyn, which refused to die until Bobby Thomson hit that home run in the final inning of the National League play-off, has obtained the signatures only of its highest salaried man, Jackie Robinson, second baseman, and Roy Campanella, catcher, plus Outfielder Carl Furillo.

Rumor has it that the Dodgers are asking several regulars, including Andy Pafko, to take pay cuts and that the debate might run far into February.

Ralph Branca, who pitched the home run ball to Thomson, has rejected an offer calling for the same salary he earned last year. Ralph wants a small raise.

Shortstop Phil Rizzuto and Catcher Yogi Berra of the Yanks already have called upon General Manager George Weiss for "feeling out" talks. Yogi, a stubborn young man who knows his worth, likely will not be signed easily. The club denies it has asked Rizzuto to accept a cut.

"That will be the day," said a Yank official.

The Giants are being generous—they exactly doubled Irvin's salary to $25,000—but it seems virtually certain they will have a rassle with Sal Maglie, the former Mexican League player who rang up 23 victories last season and placed second in the National League in earned run averages. There have been reports that he intends to demand the mint.

Cleveland's Larry Doby said only yesterday that he has been told he will be asked to take a cut, although he hasn't seen his contract yet.

"I will not accept a cut," said Doby.

Pitcher Bob Lemon, Cleveland's highest paid player last year at around $50,000, is expected to kick loud and long before accepting a cut proffered by the Indians. Bob Feller is in the fold at an estimated $55,000, and so are Third-Baseman Al Rosen and Outfielder Harry Simpson.

The Cincinnati Reds have a potential holdout on their hands in Ted Kluszewski, slugging first-baseman. His wife says Ted doesn't like the Reds' offer. Pitcher Ewell Blackwell, the club's highest paid performer at about $25,000, has signed, as has Pitcher Ken Raffensberger.

Two members of the Washington Senators, Gil Coan, outfielder, and Cass Michaels, second baseman, have sent their contracts back unsigned. Coan was believed to be asking a $3,000 hike over the $13,000 offered him. Michaels was reported refusing to take a cut on a $16,000 contract last season. Irv Noren, crack young centerfielder, was in the fold at a reported $16,000.

The Boston Red Sox, whose payroll was reduced drastically by the Marines' call-up of Ted Williams, look for little trouble. Dom Dimaggio, now probably their top hand at an estimated $30,000, has inked a contract along with Pitchers Maury McDermott and Ellis Kinder and First-Baseman Walt Dropo. Kinder reported a "satisfactory raise" for appearing in 63 games last season.

Detroit already has signed six, including Pitchers Art Houtteman at an estimated $22,000 and Virgil Trucks at $18,000. There is speculation that Hoot Evers may balk at taking a cut after a poor season.

Neither Chicago club has reported any rejections so far. The White Sox have signed their sensational sophomore outfielder, Minnie Minoso, at around $12-13,000, pitcher Billy Pierce at $15,000 or better, and Chico Carrasquel at $20,000.

Pittsburgh President Branch Rickey anticipates no difficulty signing his big man, Ralph Kiner, who was in the over-$50,000 bracket last year. Pete Castiglione, an infielder, signed yesterday.

The St. Louis Cards, Philadelphia Phils and Boston Braves of the National League and the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics of the American have announced neither signings nor rejections by their major stars. The Salary Stabilization Board has approved a raise for the Phils' Del Ennis which originally was sought last year but rejected. No figure was announced.

STEP FORWARD

Negroes Hail Entry Of Louis In San Diego Tournament

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Tournament gets underway today for what may or may not be a precedent setting event.

Included in the field of 132 players is Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, who awaited tee off time as the first Negro ever to compete in a tournament co-staged by the Professional Golfers Association of America.

Louis' followers hailed his entry as "the first step" in a long fight by Negroes to compete in PGA tournaments. They likened it to the case of Jackie Robinson as the first Negro to crash into organized baseball.

PGA President Horton Smith described Louis' participation as more automatic in that he was invited to compete by the co-sponsors, a group of San Diego automobile (Chevrolet) dealers who are financing the tournament. Louis was one of 10 players invited, and exempt from qualifying, by the dealers' group

Most of the nation's big name golfers are here, ready for the 72-hole contest at the par-72 San Diego Country Club.

Overshadowing them, at least for today's opening, was Louis and the racial angle.

Leonard Reed, Louis' secretary, said that some of his people had expressed criticism over the fact that Joe was playing but an associate, Bill Spiller, Negro pro from Los Angeles was declared ineligible by the PGA.

"We feel," said Reed, "that a first in any field is a beginning. We intend to continue our fight for admission to PGA tournaments. . . In Phoenix and Tucson next week. We will not try to get in the tournaments in Texas, Mississippi or those Southern states, but in the East, Mid-West and other sections."

Pre-tournament picks to win the $10,000 event range from money-player Lloyd Mangrum to amateur Frank Stranahan, a late entry. Other threats include Tommy Bolt of North Carolina, winner of the rich Los Angeles Open earlier this month; runner-up Jack Burke Jr.; Jimmy Demaret, who captured Bing Crosby's colorful affair Sunday, and others.

Louis, at the suggestion of Smith, was paired with Smith and Leland Gibson of Kansas City, a member of the PGA tournament committee.

The scene is the 6,500-yard, par-72 club in suburban Chula Vista.

Louis, and Spiller as well, have competed in many tournaments, such as the recent Los Angeles open. But this one, and the others, were not officially sponsored by the PGA.

Smith defined the participation by Louis and the exclusion of Spiller as distinctly different cases according to PGA regulations.

Smith praised Louis as "a fine sportsman and golfer" and declared he had been invited to play by the co-sponsors and officials of the country club itself.

Spiller, he said, could not be granted permission because (1) he is not a PGA member, or (2) a PGA accredited tournament player.

Spiller, according to Reed, who has been acting as spokesman for his group, is not interested in trying to become a PGA member. Spiller and other Negro pros do want to be sanctioned as PGA tournament players.

To do this, they must do the following: Have two PGA member sponsors in the section they reside; meet character requirements; be approved by the sectional officials and the tournament committee.

To qualify for membership in the PGA, the rules specifically state a person must be of the Caucasian race. The rules, Smith said, "take on legalistic aspects" as far as the Caucasian race requirement clause is concerned in the PGA tournament player classification.

He inferred it would require a more judicial mind than his to interpret the matter.

Reed said Spiller had made formal application for player credentials "three years ago but nothing has happened on it."

Coaches Need More Stability

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Some of the things wrong with college football today are caused by "increased intensity due to the lack of tenure among the coaches," in the opinion of Amos Alonzo Stagg.

The sponsor of a resolution adopted by the NCAA rules committee yesterday, saying coaches and officials have contributed to "undesirable trends," Stagg declared:

"Unfortunately, it's a life and death struggle with most of the coaches because they're not sure of holding their jobs. So if they can beat the rules a little bit, they're inclined by the pressure to do it.

"It isn't a game with some."

The dean of coaches with 60 years behind him, Stagg suggested this cure:

"Coaches should be teachers and regarded as teachers. They should have stability in their position the same as other members of the faculty.

"They should be regarded from their teaching ability, not their winning ability. Judge them from their ethics."

Stagg has experienced coaching stability himself—working at only three colleges, 41 years at Chicago, 14 at College of Pacific and the past five at Susquehanna.

Willie Mays To Go Into Army

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) The New York Giant centerfielder, Willie Mays, and a heap of memories will be called into military service soon.

The 20-year-old Negro was accepted for the armed forces in a second test at the pre-induction center here yesterday. He was rejected when he failed an aptitude test at his first test last October.

Mays said he hoped to be assigned to the Army, and to play baseball on a service team. The young player said he regretted deeply losing two years of experience. But he added: "Maybe I'll learn some baseball in the Army."

His draft board quota for this month has been filled. A Third Army public information officer at Atlanta indicated that Mays would be called into uniform in late February or early March.

Mays will take a lot of memories along for a youngster with only one year in the majors. He was one of the fastest men in the big leagues and was a prime factor in the Giants' stretch drive for the 1951 National League pennant.

The centerfielder said his outstanding memory was the first of his 20 homers with the Giants. A four-sacker against the Boston Braves was his first hit in 26 times at bat.

He batted .274 last season.

Tigers Go To Rotan Tonight For 3rd District 5-AA Tilt

Another out-of-town game comes up for the Snyder Tigers tonight as they go into their third District 5-AA bout in Rotan.

In the two district games played, the Tigers have won one over Hamlin 55-27 and lost one to Colorado City 40-34.

In the Colorado City game Tuesday night, Center W. G. Birt was high for the Tigers with nine points, and Ned Underwood and Joe Cargile, both forwards, followed with eight. Tom Fulton of Colorado City continued his good season record as the Wolves' top man with 13 points.

In the B game, Snyder edged Colorado City 34 - 33, with Forward Regen White gaining 14 points. The Tiger B team is undefeated by district B teams.

Elsewhere in the district, Hamlin engaged Rotan Tuesday night and won 35 - 27. Robert Fletcher scored 13 points for Hamlin, and Mickey Martin made 11 for Rotan. Stamford and Anson were also scheduled to meet Tuesday, but the game was postponed until tomorrow night.

Tonight, Colorado City goes to Anson and Hamlin will play in Stamford.

In their first district game, Rotan outscored Anson 38 - 32. High pointers this season have been Martin and George Teel.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

Snyder's inter - city boxing has fallen flat on its face, at least as far as the Golden Gloves program is concerned.

Many other towns have gone all-out for the matches in Abilene and other cities, but only one boy has ventured an application from Snyder for entry in the Abilene ring matches.

The Golden Gloves matches have been held in Texas for many years. There once was a time here when high school boys looked forward to the Golden Gloves, where they could go and compete with boys of other cities of this area.

DOES NOT ENCOURAGE

But that does not seem to be true any more. Mule Kayser, boxing coach at the high school, has said he will not encourage boys to enter Golden Gloves bouts because he believes they might soon have the urge to go further maybe into professional boxing.

Kayser could be right, but most young boys find that the road to pro boxing is too rough, whether they win or lose their first few matches. A great portion of them decide they have had their ears boxed enough before they get out of high school or college boxing.

If the Golden Gloves encourages their going pro, then why doesn't playing marbles for keeps encourage them to become gamblers, or why doesn't the winning of prizes like trophies and letter jackets encourage them to go into professional football or basketball?

We doubt that any Snyder boy who enters an event like the Golden Gloves will turn pro as a result.

ONLY SIXTEEN DAYS REMAIN

The regional bouts will be held in Rose Field House on the campus of Hardin - Simmons University Feb. 1, 2, and 4. Officials said they will take applications until 10 o'clock on Feb. 1, when physical exams and weighing - in will begin.

About half of those who have already applied are high school athletes, entered as a team. Other applicants are divided between the open and novice classes. The novice class is for inexperienced boys who are not attached to a team, such as the one boy from Snyder. The open class is for more experienced boys who aspire to compete in state matches in Fort Worth later.

Teams and individuals from at least 17 cities over West - Central Texas have been entered for the regional tourney.

Golden Gloves officials have said they understand that several boys in Snyder have considered entering but hesitate to send entry blanks. They expressed hope that a high school team would enter. The only boy from Snyder to enter is Paul Hailey, a 147 pound high school senior. Seventeen-year-old Hailey has been placed in the novice welterweight division.

• • •

Glynn Snyder, chairman of the Quarterback Club's basketball league committee, said today that organizing a city league will be no trouble as far as number of teams is concerned.

Snyder has talked with several who had teams in the league last years, and he reported plenty of enthusiasm. He said he and his committee will work in as many teams as possible in the league.

The chairman said he will meet with all those interested in joining in league play at 7 o'clock tomorrow night at the National Guard armory.

League play is to begin in February, soon after the high school basketball season ends.

Snyder said each firm or group sponsoring a team must furnish a $10 entry fee and uniforms for all team members by the time the league begins.

Tiger Slate Is Complete For Grid Season

Head Coach Speedy Moffett announced today that the high school football season schedule for this fall is now complete.

Moffett matched a game this week for Oct. 17 with Cisco, a AA team. The game will be played in Snyder.

The Tigers, who will be members of District 1-3A, will begin the season's games on Sept. 12 in a tilt with Thomas Jefferson of El Paso, a AAAA school, and district play will begin on Oct. 24 with the Vernon game.

Of the ten games scheduled, five will be in Snyder, including a Thanksgiving Day match with Plainview.

Basketball Shutout

RICHMOND, Va., (AP) — The Maggie Walker High School girls' basketball team tried its darndest to make a basket in a game here last night.

The ball caromed off the backboard, it did dipsy-doos around the edge of the ring. Often it looked as if, for a certainty, it would go through the net.

GOP Leader Hopes Truman Runs Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Martin (R-Pa) said today he hopes President Truman runs for re-election "because it would emphasize the reasons we Republicans think he should be retired from office."

Martin declared that with Mr. Truman as a candidate "the issues would be drawn as sharply as possible and the voters could decide whether they want another four years like the last seven."

The Pennsylvanian told a reporter Mr. Truman symbolizes, like no other Democratic nominee could, the things Republicans generally "are crying out against." He added:

'As I see it, two of the main issues of the campaign are extravagance in government and corruption in government such as was disclosed by the House Investigating Committee in the tax scandal cases.

"For those reasons, I think it would be entirely fitting that the President run again because it is his administration and his record which will be on trial at the polls."

Mr. Truman has said he is for all the economy in government consistent with sound operation and national security. As for the tax cases Martin cited, Mr. Truman pledged in his State of the Union Message last week to rout any wrongdoers from the federal payroll.

He declared the majority of government employes are "honest and hard-working." And yesterday he said it was unfair to criticize all government workers because "of the actions of a few."

Martin has not announced his choice for the Republican presidential nomination. He is regarded generally as friendly to Sen. Taft of Ohio.

"I am convinced," Martin said, "That any sound Republican would be able to defeat President Truman next fall in my own state of Pennsylvania."

Sen. Murray (D-Mont) discounted Martin's comments as "campaign talk," but said he agrees with him on one point—"We both hope the President will seek re-election."

Murray said he also agrees with Sen. Anderson (D-NM) that Democrats are going to insist that Mr. Truman run again.

"I detected that sentiment six months ago and I think that in most parts of the country it still is running strong," Murray said.

"The President has been in the forefront of domestic and international problems for seven years now, and I think the great majority of democrats feel he is best qualified to guide the country."

After a conference with Mr. Truman yesterday, Anderson predicted the President would be nominated. Anderson said, however, that he got no indication of whether Mr. Truman plans to seek another term.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said he goes along with Anderson and Murray in believing "there will be a heavy demand" for the President to run again.

"I still think, however, that he has decided not to seek re-election and I don't look for him to change his mind," he added.

Johnson has said he would like to see Chief Justice Vinson as the Democratic nominee if Mr. Truman bows out.

Women Upset Over Attention Given Father Of Quadruplets

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP) — There's a minor revolt stirring in this Southwest Arkansas area. The quadruplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ponder near here Monday night are the reason.

Warnings cropped up yesterday when the proud 41-year-old Ponder accepted an invitation to appear on a New York television show (We, The People) Friday night.

The women folks of Murfreesboro and nearby Nashville, Ark., got stirred up at that.

They think the mother of the quads, a 38-year-old farmwife, ought to share some of the limelight.

Says Mrs. Joe Cooley of Nashville: "The ladies of this town and Murfreesboro are going to see to it that Mrs. Ponder gets some recognition."

A delegation of Murfreesboro women already has started a campaign to honor Mrs. Ponder.

Mrs. Cooley planned to call her group together today. She called it "an up-in-arms conference."

The two groups will combine later.

Mrs. Cooley declined to disclose the plans they have in mind for the mother. She said the women of the two towns are "sort of put out" about the whole affair.

The father, an unemployed farmer, was ready to board an airplane at Texarkana, Ark., today for his flight to New York. Rep. Tackett (D-Ark) and Dr. M. D. Duncan, who delivered the infants, also were to make the trip. The doctor said he was going along just for the ride.

Ponder spent yesterday sprucing up for his trip to the East. He received a new outfit from Murfreesboro merchants. He was to get a manicure but news photographers intervened. They took him to his 4-room house where he, his wife, the quads and seven of their eight other children—all born separately—will live.

Rep. Tackett said he passed up an auto trip to Washington with his family "to help out a constituent."

The infants, three boys and a girl, are in a hospital at Nashville, 20 miles southwest of here. The babies are reported in good shape. They are in incubators and the public is not allowed to visit them.

Mrs. Ponder is at the farm home of her mother-in-law near here. Her condition is good.

Another Candidate Is Entered In Agriculture Commissioner's Race

AUSTIN (AP) — A second red-haired candidate entered the race for state agriculture commissioner today. He is Billy E. Beard of College Station, 34, farmer, Army Air Corps veteran and field representative for the Texas veterans land program the past two years.

The office he seeks is held by red-haired John C. White, who has announced re-election.

A third candidate is Walter McKay of Fredericksburg, who was first assistant to former Commissioner J. E. McDonald.

Beard said he learned farming by pushing a plow and by attending Texas A&M College. He farms in Brazos and Fort Bend counties.

He is a Mason, belongs to the American Legion and Bryan Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a Methodist.

Truman Says Federal Workers Really Nice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman says it is unfair to criticize all federal employes because "of the actions of a few."

"The overwhelming majority of our federal workers are devoted, hard-working, honest, loyal servants of the people," the President said. "They deserve our fullest recognition and support."

Mr. Truman's statement was issued yesterday on the 69th anniversary of competitive Civil Service.

All Hope Is Gone For Freighter Pennsylvania

SEATTLE (AP)—With hope all but gone, the Coast Guard today reduced its search for the freighter Pennsylvania and the missing crewmen to a one-cutter basis.

Aerial search was halted last night for the 45 or 46 crewmen who now have been unheard from for nearly eight days.

The only search for the crewmen today was being conducted on a limited basis by the cutter Yocona of Eureka, Calif. Meanwhile, Coast Guard officials said they plan a full dress inquiry into the tragedy, including particular investigation of the ship's previous voyage.

On that trip, from San Francisco to Japan, the Pennsylvania was forced to turn back after being 1,500 miles out and have repairs made to a split in her starboard side.

Tax Bureau Denies Loop Holes In Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue bureau denies there is a major loophole in the federal gambling tax law.

The bureau agreed with the Providence, R. I., Journal today that a bookie might escape prosecution by buying a gambling stamp before the end of the month during which he was arrested for accepting bets.

But regardless of what action a gambler takes or when he accepted bets, the bureau said, the government has no case unless it can prove the gambler was engaged in "willful evasion" of the law.

Italian Magnate Dies

ROME (AP)—Pio Perrone, well-known Italian industrialist and publisher of Il Messaggero, one of Rome's leading newspapers, died last night. He was 75.

The Navy plane NC4 stopped at the Azores on the first trans-Atlantic flight in 1919.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Miss Billie June Balch, home economist for the Lone Star Gas Co. in Sweetwater, will be guest speaker at the Newcomers' Club meeting at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Her subject will be nutrition and meal planning.

Mrs. CHARLES GREGORY, new president of the club, hopes for a full house of former members and new residents who want to join the club. Mrs. BEN TURNER is planning for a nursery to allow mothers to attend the meeting, and Mrs. WARREN RICHARDSON and her transportation committee are eager to hear of potential members who would like to come to the meeting. If you want more information about the group, call Mrs. V. V. McGREW at 1458-W.

* * *

Instead of merely talking about paying poll tax, one group of women will do something about the thing. Mrs. GARLAND ARMSTRONG, a member of the Business & Professional Women's Club, is program leader for a breakfast meeting of the group tomorrow, and she says a deputy will be on hand to collect poll taxes and issue receipts.

* * *

Mothers don't ignore that alarm given by your children, no matter how many times they have cried "Wolf."

This is the advice of Mrs. JACK RAPE, 902 Twenty - sixth Street, who credits her 3-year-old daughter with saving the house from an explosion yesterday.

While Mrs. Rape and her sister were in the kitchen, Nedra Jean, 3, ran out of the bedroom yelling that "The house blow up!"

Mrs. Rape could have said, "Yes dear, and the heavens are falling," and gone on about her work. But she didn't. After Nedra had repeated her warning, the mother went into the bedroom to check.

There she found the gas turned on, the stove unlighted, and the room rapidly filling with gas.

"It could have been plenty serious," she said. "We had a fire on in the living room..."

* * *

Baggage limits on overseas flights remind Mrs. W. W. ADCOCK of an old farmer story. At a church circle meeting this week, Mrs. Adcock, who, along with her Methodist minister husband, will join a party of travelers in February to tour the Holy Land, arose to thank the women for a present they'd given her. She mentioned the baggage limit, set at about 65 pounds or so, was presenting a problem, but not of the usual sort. She wryly explained it with the story of an old farm couple driving a wagon into town. The aged farmer spotted a road sign reading, "Speed Limit 35 mph." Turning to his wife, he said, "You take the reins and I'll get the whip and we'll see if we can get it up to 35."

Miss Billie June Balch, home economist for the Lone Star Gas Co. of Sweetwater, will be guest speaker at the Newcomers' Club meeting tomorrow.

Shower Compliments Mrs. Edward Dudley

Mrs. Herbert Feather and Mrs. Wade Pipkin complimented Mrs. Edward Dudley with a bingo party and an anticipation shower yesterday afternoon at the Feather home, 3750 Dalton Drive.

A dessert plate was served to guests who included Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mrs. W. M. Stephens, Mrs. Sam Stephens, Mrs. L. M. Bruce, Mrs. W. J. Hess, Mrs. Sterling Parker, Mrs. Cecil Hall, Mrs. Zack Gibson, Mrs. Marvin Moats, Mrs. D. W. Ferguson, Mrs. H. D. Robinson, Jr., and Mrs. R. L. McArthur.

State Health Program Is Alpha Club Topic

Miss Leah Davis, county health nurse, spoke to members of the Alpha Study Club Tuesday on "The Health Program Our State Offers."

Mrs. Wayne Boren was hostess for the meeting. Pink carnations in an antique vase and African violets were used in the living room.

In line with the health program, Mrs. O. J. Weber spoke on cancer, and Miss Neoma Strayhorn reviewed "The Life of Florence Nightingale."

Mrs. Boren reported on the meeting of the state group of the General Federation of Women's clubs which she attended last week.

A refreshment plate of concealed cherry salad, pound cake and tea was served the 20 members present.

Brooks, Turner Are Hosts for Barbecue

More than 60 employes and their families attended an open air barbecue given last night by the Brooks and Turner Oil Well Servicing Co. at the company office on the Lamesa Highway. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Turner of Coahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burkes presided at the barbecue table.

During the evening a welcome address was made to Joe Pearce, who moved here from Big Spring.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pendleton of Coahoma.

Anticipation Shower Honors Mrs. Hurst

Mrs. Homer Hurst was honored with an anticipation shower Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Earl Kaiser's home in the Humble Camp. Mrs. Kaiser, Mrs. Jim Cherry and Mrs. E. W. McCloud were hostesses.

Guests included Mrs. Warren Elliott, Mrs. Jeff Crane, Mrs. Jack Young, Mrs. E. E. Newnham, Mrs. C. A. Likes, Mrs. Walker Dabbs, Mrs. W. A. Watson and Mrs. Bill Barnes.

A refreshment plate was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Weldon Key Honored Tuesday

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Weldon Key of Fluvanna was given Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. U. Bishop, 1204 Twenty-sixth Street. Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. T. J. Sterling and Mrs. Garnett Kelley were hostesses.

The refreshment table was laid with an ecru cut - work cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink stock.

After games were played, punch and cookies were served to 30 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mallow of Odessa were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Olian Vinson, 200 Thirty - first Street.

ASK MILDRED

Send your questions to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, county home demonstration agent, Courthouse, or to the Snyder Daily News.

What can I personally do to help eleminate any possible disease breeding place in my home? M.

One of the big things the average homemaker can do is always to keep garbage cans covered, and cover any barrels that you put waste into. Likely there is a little bit of wet garbage and wet garbage is a common breeding place for flies, mosquitoes, etc., which are known germ carriers. J. E. Craven, city sanitarian, advised me on this question and while in the city-county health office, I saw a map which had bright colored pins designating all of the blocks that contained filthy or unsanitary conditions. If you like, go to that office and talk to Mr. Craven.

* * *

Dear Mildred: Will you give me your method of grease stain removal? I just can't remember it, though I have seen it in your column often. J. C.

Make a thick paste of Fullers earth and carbon tetrachloride. Spread paste on stain and allow to dry. Brush off with a soft brush. Repeat if necessary.

* * *

Is it really necessary to blanch vegetables which are to be frozen? M. L.

Yes, it is necessary. Blanching kills harmful bacteria, also gives the vegetables longer keeping qualities. These facts were proven by the Agricultural Experiment Station, A&M, College.

Is it possible to remove old cod liver oil stains? E.

It is very difficult to remove old stains. Try sponging the stain with dry cleaning fluid and then wash in a warm soapy water.

* * *

We have a brown and tan living room suit. What color rug would you suggest buying? M.

Green, cream, sky - blue, wine, olive, rose. Gray is not good with brown.

Leisure Bridge Club Meets With Parkers

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Parker were hosts to the Leisure Bridge Club last night at their home, 3776 Dalton Drive.

High score winner among the women was Mrs. Prentis Bass, and Mrs. Herbert Feather was second high. J. E. Bucy won high for men and Herbert Feather second. Miss Leah Davis won bingo prize.

The hostess served a salad plate to the members and to guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Nicholas.

VOL. 2, NO. 223 — SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1952 — SECTION TWO

ADD SAGE BISCUIT TOPPING AND SAVORY STEW BECOMES A TEMPTING MEAT PIE . . . large juicy chunks of meat with vegetables make for smooth, well-seasoned gravy.

Thrifty? Try Casserole Dish To Make Beef Go A Long Way

Housewives faced with resolutions of hewing a slimmer dollar budget plus feeding the family well in the coming year know that such menus require a lot of planning.

The family likes meat, beef in particular, so how to prepare it and at the same time cut down on the budget presents a real challenge. Large holiday cuts are not in keeping with new plans for thrift, but there are ways to make even the smallest portion go a long way.

Meat Pie

Good, hot and hearty describes the meat pie. And a meat pie varies from the old favorite stew simply in that it is a stew with a topping. Instead of making up the stew with the same vegetables each time, here is a list to consider—carrots, peas, potatoes, parsnips, onions, celery, cauliflower, rutabaga, lima beans, green beans, green pepper, Brussels sprouts.

Vegetables are added just long enough before the end of cooking so that they will be well done along with the rest of the stew. For the flavorsome gravy associated with it, the liquid is drained from the stew and thickened with two tablespoons of flour for each cup of liquid.

For topping to turn the stew into a meat pie, the housewife may choose flaky sage biscuits. With the topping added, she places the meat in the oven to bake until done.

Sage Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sage
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
1-3 to ½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sage. Cut in lard until mixture has a fine, even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead for ½ minute. Pat or roll ½ inch thick. Cut with a medium-sized biscuit cuter dipped in flour.

Here's something hearty that's just right for nippy winter days—veal stew with dumplings. Served with tiny whole onions, celery strips and green beans cooked right with the meat, the stew makes a tempting combination. Gravy is served in a separate boat.

Stew With Dumplings

2 pounds boneless veal stew, cut in 2-inch pieces
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Stock or water
6 small white onions
4 to 5 pieces celery
1 pound fresh or 1 12-ounce package frozen green beans

Dredge meat with seasoned flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Cover with water or stock. Cover closely and cook slowly about 2 hours. About 30 minutes before serving, add onions, celery cut in 4-inch strips, and the beans. Fifteen minutes before serving, drop dumplings on top of meat and vegetables. Cover tightly and finish cooking. The recipe is for 4 to 6 servings.

Dumplings

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 egg
1 tablespoon lard
½ cup milk

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Beat egg until light. Add melted lard and milk. Combine liquid and dry mixtures and stir only until four disappears. Drop by spoonsful on top of stew; cover and steam 15 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika when serving.

In preparing meat pie, the housewife may start from scratch with fresh meat, or she may use leftovers, ready-to-serve or canned meats from the pantry shelf. If serving fresh meat, she may ask her dealer to cut the cubes from beef chuck, breast or plate. The less demanded cuts are often lower in price and a more economical choice.

Chunks of beef and colorful spring vegetables team with tender biscuit diamonds in these tempting individual meat pies. With salad and dessert, the meal is complete.

Beef and Vegetable Pie

1½ pounds beef for stew
¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt and pepper
3 medium potatoes, cubed
10 small whole carrots
10 small whole onions
2 cups canned or cooked peas

Dredge meat in flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Season. Add only enough water to cover. Cover, closely and cook slowly for 1½ hours. Add vegetables, except peas, and continue cooking until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Pour off cooking liquid and thicken for gravy. (Allow ½ cup gravy for each serving.) Combine meat, potatoes, carrots, onions, peas and gravy. Make biscuit dough as follows:

Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder.
¾ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
1-3 to ½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn onto a light-floured surface and knead for ½ minute. Pat or roll ½ inch thick. Line individual casseroles with biscuit dough cut in diamond shapes. Fill with meat and vegetable mixture and fold biscuit dough over top. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes or until biscuits are browned. The recipe makes 5 to 6 servings.

Clever Casserole

For a tempting serving, braise cubes of beef, then serve as a table casserole. For the casserole topping, squeeze mashed potato through a pastry tube and swirl into rosettes. Place the casserole in the broiler just long enough to lightly brown the potatoes.

Varied ingredients make both for a satisfying pot roast and some of the less known veal dishes. To reveal the roast in elegant style, team it with a tangy tomato - onion gravy and serve on a bed of fluffy white rice.

POT ROAST IS THRIFTY MEAT CUT . . . varied ingredients make it wintertime favorite.

Beef Steak With Onions

Beef arm steak, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
½ cup enriched flour
Lard or drippings
6 medium onions, sliced
Salt
Pepper

Dredge steak with flour. Brown on both sides in lard or drippings. Cover and cook slowly for 1 hour. Add onions. Season. Cover and continue cooking for about 30 minutes, or until meat is tender and onions are done. The recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Poll Shows Taft Getting Top Support In Republican Party

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio is a three-to-one choice over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination among GOP National Committee members willing to express an opinion.

An Associated Press poll of the 98 members who represent the 48 states disclosed: Of 43 willing to state how they stand, 31 favor Taft; nine support Eisenhower, two are for Gov. Earl Warren of California, and one backs Harold E. Stassen.

Members are arriving for a national committee meeting beginning tomorrow. Western regional GOP officials planned to study their own problems today.

A similar poll taken at a meeting in Washington a year ago gave Taft 29 votes; Eisenhower 12. Thus Taft is holding his own but apparently Eisenhower has lost strength.

These results came in the face of an announcement by Eisenhower that he is a Republican and is available for the presidential nomination, although he has said he will not participate in pre-convention campaigning.

Last year's poll gave Stassen four votes, Warren two and one each to the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The current query reached 85 members. It showed that 42, or almost half, are unwilling six months before the GOP National Convention to express an opinion either publicly or privately about their party's nominee.

This obviously left a wide field for campaigning among party officials. They ordinarily wield potent influence on the selection of convention delegations from individual states. Taft and Eisenhower supporters are prepared to undertake that kind of campaigning at the meeting here.

Forty of 56 members who expressed an opinion said they don't believe any candidate can attain on the first ballot the approximately 600 votes needed for nomination.

This seemed to indicate state party leaders felt (1) Taft does not have his claimed majority of strength among the convention voters and (2) there is not likely to be any Eisenhower sweep such as his rooters have been talking about.

In fact, most of the national committee members predicted a convention floor fight in which the nomination will be decided only after several test votes, and after favorite son candidates have had their complimentary votes and have plopped to one or another of the favorites.

The poll seemed to indicate the GOP race strictly is between Taft and Eisenhower. This has been reflected similarly in previous polls, which included state chairmen and governors.

In most cases, governors willing to express an opinion have indicated a decided preference for Eisenhower. However, state chairmen, always active in the selection of convention delegations along with the governors, have indicated a preference for Taft.

Two City Elections

City elections this April, in which a mayor and three councilmen will be elected, will be different from those in the past, because whatever is done at the polls will be temporary.

Within a few months after our regular city election this spring, we will be faced with another election to fill a six-man council and elect a mayor under the new city charter "home rule" government.

John E. Sentell, chairman of the charter commission, said it now appears that the charter will be completed by summer, and if it is ratified in a city-wide election, another election would be called to fill all council posts under the new form of government. That election probably would be called in the late summer or early fall, Sentell said.

In view of the temporary nature of the elections next April, we believe the city could be operated best by returning the present mayor and councilmen to office to carry on for us until the charter is adopted.

As the date of conversion to the city manager form of government nears, the council will make fewer and fewer important decisions, and the effects of those will be temporary.

Also, the term of office of those elected in April will be so short (four or five months) that a new man would hardly be broken in as a councilman before he had to stand for re-election in the late summer election.

The present council, which has known some turbulent moments, is now working together harmoniously.

We think it would be wise to keep the council we have and make the late summer election, after the charter has been accepted, the BIG city election of 1952.

Casserole

Brisket With Vegetables

2½ pounds beef brisket
Water
1 onion, sliced
6 sweet potatoes
1 medium head cabbage

Cover meat with water. Add onion. Cover and simmer slowly until tender, allowing 1 hour per pound. A half hour before meat is done, add pared sweet potatoes. Fifteen minutes later, add quartered cabbage. When done, remove meat and vegetables to chop plate. Slice the brisket across the grain and serve. Ingredients make 4 to 6 servings.

American Chop Suey

2 veal hearts
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup coarsely cut onions
1½ cups diced celery
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup water
1½ cups shredded cabbage
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon molasses
2 tablespoons water
3 cups boiled rice

Wash the heart and trim off hard parts, if necessary. Cut heart into ½-inch cubes. Cook in lard or drippings, without browning, for 30 minutes. Add vegetables and seasonings, and ½ cup water. Cover and simmer until heart is tender and vegetables are done. Combine cornstarch, molasses and 2 tablespoons water and stir until smooth. Add to hot mixture, stirring constantly until thick. Serve over boiled rice. Portion is for 6 servings.

Here is a simple and savory recipe to add to the ground beef file — beef patties with spicy sauce. Simply brown the patties, then add the sauce that's served over the meat.

Beef Pattie Sauce

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catchup
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
⅛ teaspoon cloves

Combine meat, salt and pepper and shape into 4 patties, ¾ to 1 inch thick. Brown patties on both sides in frying pan. Mix catchup, mustard and cloves. Pour mixture over patties and cook about 8 to 10 minutes, turning occasionally. Serve sauce over patties. The recipe is for 4 servings.

Radio Ban On Whiskey Advertising Before Congress For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would ban broadcasting of whisky advertising over radio and television—but not beer or wine—is before Congress.

Introduced yesterday by Sen. Johnson (D-Colo) and Sen. Case (R-SD), it carries penalties not only for radio and television operators, but also certain makers and sellers of whisky.

Actually, radio and TV stations in the U. S. do not accept whisky advertisements. But there is no law against it. Radio stations in Alaska and Hawaii do, and the bill would apply to those territories.

The bill gives the Federal Communications Commission the right to revoke the license of any station violating the ban.

It also provides that the government may revoke or suspend all basic alcohol permits of companies breaking the law. This would include distillers, rectifiers, wholesalers and importers.

Penalty would be a fine of from $100 to $1,000, imprisonment from six months to a year, or both.

Cows High Producers

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—After producing a combined lifetime total of more than 200,000 pounds of milk, two Holstein cows owned by the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station have been taken out of production.

One cow produced a total of 106,400 pounds of milk and 4,347 pounds of butterfat on two milkings a day in nine yearly milking periods. She was taken out of production when 12 years old.

The second cow produced 101,549 pounds of milk and 3,389 pounds of butterfat on two milkings a day. Her highest year's production was 20,972 pounds of milk and 674 pounds of butterfat.

Mrs. T. W. Pollard, 3100 Avenue W, visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. D. Boone of Camp Springs. Other guests of Mrs. Boone were Miss Evelyn Boone of Graham and Miss Mary Akers of Midway.

SECOND SON ENLISTS

Capt. Allen Walker, 86, (left), believed to be the oldest living winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, brought his youngest son, Cecil, 17 (right) to San Antonio to enlist in the Air Force. Another son, Sgt. Servando Walker, 21, (center) a Korean veteran, looks on. Capt. Walker, now of Laredo, Tex., won the Medal of Honor in 1891 while fighting Apaches in the vicinity of the Pecos River.

United States Fights Reds In One Of Its Strongest Centers

BEIRUT (AP)—In an area where Communist-led peasants already have earmarked their masters' mansions for use after the revolution, the United States has moved in with a grass roots propaganda appeal on a small town scale.

The village of Zahle, Lebanon, is the site of the experiment.

Located on the eastern fringe of the Lebanon Mountains, the Zahle-American center represents a combined effort of Lebanese villagers and the United States Information Service.

The center consists of a library, reading room, and films department. The building and much of its equipment was provided by the people of Zahle. The staff in charge is Lebanese. Books, magazines, films and salaries are provided by the United States Information Service.

Zahle has a unique relationship with the United States because as many of its people live in America as in Zahle. Twenty thousand still are in Zahle. Twenty thousand more have emigrated to the United States.

The Zahle-American center met a double need. For one thing, the people long had sought a public library but couldn't pay for it. Secondly, they have a real desire to keep up with the land of their other half overseas.

From the American point of view, Zahle was a happy choice for another reason. Zahle has become a stronghold of Communist strength in Lebanon, partly because it is the capital of the B'Kaa valley, a stronghold of feudalism.

The Communist party is outlawed in Lebanon but left-wingers continue to operate openly under the "Partisans of Peace" banner. During the Stockholm Peace Petition drive, Lebanon's Communists offered incredible rewards to peasants who could get signatures.

Each peasant was asked which house in the B'Kaa valley he wanted as his own "after the revolution." The peasant ordinarily would select one of the landowners' luxurious mansions. The Communists then promised him a clear title to the house (valid after the revolution) if he would bring in 20 signatures to the Stockholm Peace Petition.

Whenever a peasant brought in his quota of signatures, the Communists held an impressive ceremony. His name was inscribed in a gilt-edged book opposite a detailed account of the mansion he will get after the revolution. This partly explains why Lebanese Communists collected 60,000 signatures to the peace petition out of a population of little more than a million.

In the face of such left-wing activity, the Zahle-American center had its difficulties from the outset. On opening day, Communists were ready with a barrage of leaflets denouncing this new imperialism."

Popularity of the center has frustrated Communist attacks thus far. Although the reading room has only 12 chairs, an average of more than 400 persons daily visit the center. Adults outnumber children almost three to one. Information Service films are shown two or three times daily in churches, schools, and clubs all over the area.

Other cities in the area are becoming interested. If funds can be made available, Tripoli in North Lebanon and Sidon in South Lebanon may have similar centers soon.

Crusade Put On By Chaplains To Bring Religion To Troops

FT. MONMOUTH, N. J. (AP)—"Stand up; stand up for Jesus!"

The words of the militant Christians' old song rang out from hundreds of soldiers' throats here last night and reverberated among the steel girders.

A choir, seated in the bleachers of the big fieldhouse, joined in.

And thus began a 5-day series of religious services—one of the first moves in a major drive developing throughout the country to bolster the serviceman's spiritual defense.

It is a campaign—sponsored by the General Commission of Chaplains and the National Council of Churches — to convince soldiers that "Christ is the Answer," theme of the preaching mission.

Civilian teams of Protestant ministers are carrying the gospel to guardhouse and to hospital, counseling and preaching. Some 120 Navy and Army installations will be reached in the 2-month crusade.

Some of the biggest names in protestantism are participating. The military and President Truman are backing the program.

"I have been in the Army 11 years and I've never seen religion taken like this before," said Lt. Col. Lisle Bartholomew of Benson, Vt., post chaplain.

"I suppose it's an outgrowth of World War II when people touched the realities of life and became aware of the stability that religion could give them."

The first service at this Signal Corps center brought some 1,100 soldiers and their families—including Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, commanding general—into the post fieldhouse, where a makeshift altar was raised in front of a picture of Christ.

They sang, received literature and heard a sermon from the Rev. Samuel Shoemaker, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, New York.

Lawton—a former Congregationalist turned Catholic—told the crowd he wanted the meetings to result in camp chapels being "crowded like shoeboxes."

Those converted to Christianity will be given a minimum of six weeks of instruction and then advised to join a church of their choice.

Both Bartholomew and Dr. Shoemaker pictured Christianity as a direct foe of communism.

Said the chaplain:

"The Communist educates his people in communism. We educate our people in moral ethics."

Dr. Shoemaker called for a "war of kindness" and "good will ambassadors" to keep Asia from going Communist.

ADDED ATTRACTION

DALLAS (AP) — Television viewers in the Dallas area had a little added excitement last night.

A TV announcer asked wrestler Duke Keo Muka if a chop blow across the throat hurt. "Sure does," said the duke and hit announcer Charles Boland of KRLD-TV across the throat. Boland went down in the center of the ring.

A flurry of blows. . .and the wrestling arena announcer hit the canvas. Two policemen snapped handcuffs on the duke, who later paid a $100 fine and costs for fighting.

Justice of the peace Bill Richburg said Keo Muka didn't give reason for the added TV attraction. "Just pleaded guilty," said Richburg.

TROUBLE, TROUBLE

Pfc. Linwood J. Smith of Fredericksburg, Va., is shown with Jean Marck of Baltimore, Md., before the army relented and permitted them to marry. Smith said he pilfered some of Gen. Ridgway's candy in Tokyo for which he was demoted from corporal in the honor guard. He was also first denied and then granted permission to marry. Now Smith, who in addition to other decorations wears a Purple Heart earned in Korea, said he expects to be reassigned to the United States. His bride must stick to her job as a clerk in the Army's special service section until her contract expires in August.

Only France Fights To Keep Indochina Away From Chinese

By RUSSELL BRINES
(Former Chief of The AP's Tokyo Bureau)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP) — French Indo-China is a lush and bloody peninsula which may determine Asia's future.

It is the gateway to rich Southeast Asia — for years one of Communism's main targets in the Orient.

The fierce campaign in Korea began originally as a Red sideshow. Korea still is of secondary military and economic importance in the Communist timetable of conquest.

The Communists have made it plain that Southeast Asia is what they really want — Indo-China, Burma, Thailand, Malaya and Indonesia.

Control of this Asiatic treasure house would enable them to cripple the Western powers economically, point a sharp spearhead towards India and the Middle East and supply themselves with quantities of needed oil and rubber.

Indo-China is the key.

If it fell, most military officials agree, a highway would be opened to the rest of Southeast Asa.

"There would be nothing to stop the Communists until they reached Singapore — and not much there," an American officer in Bangkok told me.

Burma has been swept by conflict since given her independence in 1948. Thailand is too weak now to halt a determined army and perhaps too opportunistic to think of doing so. British forces are bogged down in Malaya with a jungle insurrection they cannot smash.

The young Republic of Indonesia is proud but unprepared.

Ten years ago the Japanese jumped from Indo-China and conquered all of Southeast Asia and part of India in weeks.

These countries together are capable of producing 49.2 per cent of the world's tin, forty per cent of its rubber and three per cent of its petroleum. They have excess rice, needed in Red China's restless cities.

With these riches, the Communists could fatten themselves and at the same time deprive Western Europe of the raw materials needed for both defense and economic solvency.

By controlling Southeast Asia, they could outflank the American defense line — a necklace of islands from Japan to the Philippines. American military officials say this might require an American withdrawal deeper into the Pacific, perhaps to Hawaii.

These island bases support the aircraft which alone are capable of reaching Soviet industries and airfields in the great military reservoir of Siberia.

And the loss of Southeast Asia would tighten the noose around Japan's industrial empire — another prime Communist target. Deprived of markets and raw materials, Japan might be starved into the Red camp unless given perhaps a dangerously high dole by the United States.

The value of Indo-China is mainly measured against this outline of grand strategy. The French contend, and many American officers agree with them, that Southeast Asia has been saved thus far only by the long and costly fight in the French colony.

The conflict with Moscow-trained Ho Chi-Minh and his troops has been almost continuous since the end of the Pacific War.

Each year, the French lose more officers than they graduate from St. Cyr, their West Point. Half fighting forces have been tied down in the steaming jungles of Indo-China.

The financial cost is estimated at a billion dollars a year, paid by grumbling taxpayers whose reluctance to give more for European defense has helped bring down another cabinet.

In France, the Indo-China campaign is so unpopular generally that the newspapers seldom mention it. Many Frenchmen frankly say they would like to get out of it, if they can.

Defense Minister Georges Bidault told me in Paris that Indo-China "now is part of the world campaign against Communism."

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You may not think so, but Errol Flynn says it's tough being a movie star.

Take the amateur pugilists, for example. The world seems full of people who want to get their names in the papers because they socked Errol Flynn.

"It's a downright menace," the Tasmanian-born actor declared. "I have virtually given up going at all. I never frequent the night clubs any more.

"I forgot myself and went out to the Beverly Hills Club on New Year's Eve. Why, I don't know. Because, sure enough, some fellow decided he wanted to punch me.

"He was someone I had never seen before and will never see again. How I could incite him with my back turned, I will never know. But I turned around and saw him swinging at me. I was able to dodge a little, but he nicked me on the chin with a large ring he was wearing.

"It seemed apparent he was going to try again, so I stepped on his foot to keep him at a distance. He swung high and I ducked, so he merely grazed the top of my head. It was lucky I wasn't wearing a toupee."

The drunk was hustled away and Flynn returned to his party.

"It also happened not long ago in Gallup, N. M.," the actor continued. "I was minding my own business in a bar when a fellow came up looking for a fight. He wanted to be a hero in front of his girl. I managed to break that up after a few attempted blows.

"Of course, I can see the point of these fellows. If I were someone else, I might not like me, either. It's understandable why they would want to take a poke at Flynn. But it is a little hard to be a continual target, really."

Flynn, who has always led his life in an unorthodox manner, has his own ideas about the life of a movie star. The traditional Hollywood thinking holds that players must devote their lives to the public, both on the screen and off. Flynn dissents.

"I've always believed that the only thing I owed the public was what appeared on the screen, and my private life was my own affair," he said. "But, of course, nobody else thinks that way, so I just have to accept my fate.

"The one thing I miss most is privacy. I have never been able to get used to being constantly stared at wherever I went. I understand there are some actors who like it, but I don't."

He added that he has developed a gimmick for insuring privacy. "It's my theory that a person is always recognized by his nose," he remarked. "You can alter your eyes or put on scars, but still your nose gives you away. So I had Perc Westmore fashion me a false nose of plastic material that looks like real skin. It's a large affair, and slightly distorted. I've found that people do not stare at malformations."

This sounds like a fanciful tale, but Flynn asserted he tried the nose out in Paris and found it assured his privacy.

Flynn is again swashing buckles (or buckling swashes) as a pirate in "Against All Flags." He plays opposite Maureen O'Hara, who has been telling him about the pleasures of her home town, Dublin.

"Could be," he replied. "I've never been there, but my father has. He's a kindly college professor from the north of Ireland—the kind of man who takes bugs out of the street so they won't get squashed. He went to Dublin for a lecture and somebody took a shot at him."

That sort of thing seems to run in the family.

Oil Activity Gain Reported During First Week of 1952

Oil activity in Railroad Commission Districts 7-C and 8 during the initial week of 1952 registered a moderate gain over activity in the corresponding week of 1951.

A total of 85 wildcat and field tests were staked during the first week of 1952, as compared with 80 during the initial week of 1951.

doubled. Nineteen wildcats were staked during the first week of 1952, while only nine were staked during the first week of 1951.

FIELD TESTS

There were fewer field tests. Sixty-six were staked last week, 71 during the same week in 1951.

Last week's activity was more widespread, with 24 counties sharing in the locations as against only 20 in 1951.

District 7-C counties shared in 13 wildcat locations as against only six in District 8. District 8, however, led in field locations with 35 as against 31 for District 7-C.

GREATEST GAIN

A comparison of 1951 and 1952 figures revealed that District 7-C enjoyed the greatest gain, both in wildcats and field tests. Thirty-one field test were staked in the district during the initial week in 1952 as compared with only nine in the same period in 1951. Thirteen wildcats were staked last week as compared with only two during the first week in 1951.

Locations by counties follow:

District 7-C:

Upton, 2 wildcats, 13 field tests; Reagan, four wildcats, seven field tests; Runnels, four wildcats, five field tests; Crockett, four field tests; Schleicher, two wildcats, one field test; Sutton, one wildcat; Coke, one field test.

District 8:

Pecos, one wildcat, seven field tests; Midland, seven field tests; Scurry, one wildcat, four field tests; Andrews, one wildcat, two field tests; Glasscock, three field tests.

Kent, one wildcat, one field test; Howard, two field tests; Crane, two field tests; Cochran, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Garza, Mitchell, Terry, one field test each; Borden, Culberson, one wildcat each.
