'IT IS NO CINCH'

Rep. Burleson Due To Gain Powerful Post

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson, congressman for the 17th District which includes Howard County, is due to get appointment Friday to a place on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

A Democratic caucus is scheduled Friday to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. of Florida and Burleson apparently is the only known candidate.

The Ways and Means Committee has responsibility for originating tax bills. Burleson is an established conservative in fiscal matters.

Second Chance

It will be a second chance for the Texas congressman to get on Ways and Means. He tried for a place there in 1967, but lost by two votes to Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert of New York.

In order to go on the Ways and Means Committee, Burleson must give up his other committee posts. He currently is chairman of the House Administration Committee, was destined to move up to chairman of the Joint Committee on Printing, and is on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Challenge, Duty

Burleson, in a telephone interview with The Herald Tuesday evening, said he thinks it is important for Texas to have a Democrat on this powerful committee, and that he feels it "a challenge and my duty" to move to the post.

Burleson says "it is no cinch" that the caucus will name him, "but I feel that I will get the appointment." The House leadership has endorsed him, and he said that although liberals don't favor him politically, they do approve of him on a personal basis and recognize that traditionally Texas has had a Democrat on the Ways and Means panel.

George Bush of Houston, Republican, is a member of the committee.

Burleson, who long has eyed the Ways and Means post, has been a member of the House since 1946. Howard County was moved into his district two years ago.

Fortas Bid Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attempt to get immediate action by the Senate Judiciary Committee on President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas to be chief justice was blocked today.

Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., told newsmen that he moved at a closed meeting of the committee to report the nomination to the Senate favorably.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., invoked a committee rule under which a single member can have a matter put over for a week.

The result was to delay at least until next Wednesday any chance for a vote on the nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren and there is no assurance the committee will meet then.

Posse Finds Body

CAREFREE, Ariz. (AP)—A 17-year-old Kerrville, Tex., youth managed to walk about a mile before he collapsed and died after his light plane crashed near here Monday.

The body of James A. Burkett was found by a mountain search party Tuesday.

A Civil Air Patrol spokesman said Burkett apparently had been severely burned when the rented six-engine Alon Air-coupe crashed in mountains about 20 miles north of Phoenix.

The youth had logged some 20 hours flying time. He crashed on his solo flight.

He had been spending the summer with his uncle, Mick Burkett of Phoenix, flight instructor who was teaching his nephew how to fly.

A sheriff's posse brought the body out of the mountains Tuesday.

Death Penalty Ruling

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' highest court for criminal cases ruled today the U.S. Supreme Court's landmark "Witherspoon decision" on the death penalty makes virtually no change in present court practice in the state.

In the Witherspoon decision, the Supreme Court disallowed an Illinois man's death penalty conviction because persons with conscientious scruples against capital punishment were excluded from the jury.

Since then, some Texas prosecutors and law enforcement complained that the decision practically wiped out the death penalty in Texas.

There were suggestions that the governor should simply commute all current death sentences to life imprisonment.

But, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled in a Fort Worth murder case, the Witherspoon decision "did not outlaw the death penalty as a punishment for crime."

The court upheld the death penalty conviction of Melvin Stuart Pittman, 21, in the Sept. 22, 1966, shooting death of Kenneth Jones, whose body was found in some bushes near Lake Arlington.

Harriman Rips North Vietnam At Peace Meet

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman bluntly told North Vietnamese negotiators today that to progress toward peace "you must be prepared to recognize the role" of South Vietnam's government in working out a settlement of the Vietnam war.

'PUPPET'

Harriman's assertion in the 14th session of the Paris peace talks followed directly on President Johnson's Honolulu meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam at the end of last week. North Vietnam regularly denounces the Saigon government as an American "puppet."

Harriman told newsmen he had not seen definitive evidence that the lull in the war around Saigon, which began in mid-June, was finally coming to an end.

But he added: "What is disturbing is that the terrorist actions on theaters around Saigon have started again. People have been killed. I intend to call attention to that." The Viet Cong bombed four theaters in Saigon and nearby towns Sunday, killing 12 Vietnamese and wounding 91.

Going into the 14th session of the talks, Harriman said he would present to the North Vietnamese negotiators the appeal issued in Honolulu by President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu "for a peaceful settlement and an end of the violence."

HOPE

"I intend," he continued, "to point to the violence that is continuing on the part of the Viet Cong, and I hope this will make some impression."

Harriman and his aides are also trying to find out whether North Vietnam is weakening its support for the National Liberation Front and offering Washington a new lure among its terms for a final political settlement in South Vietnam.

U.S. officials think the possilities of any real change are slight. Thuy has brushed aside bilities of any real change are slight. Thuy has brushed aside suggestions that his government was modifying the statement of basic position that has stood for its basic position that has stood for more than four years. Nevertheless, new language has been used and U.S. officials think that eventually it could be important.

The statement from the North Vietnamese foreign ministry last week summarized Hanoi's four-point plan for ending the war, decaring first, withdrawal of all U.S. forces; second, neutralization of North and South Vietnam; and fourth the final decision on unification of the North and South to be made on the principle of "self-determination."

Gas Forces Evacuation

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Explosion and fire in a chemical plant Tuesday night spread a toxic cloud of a chlorine compound over a wide area, forcing evacuation of thousands of persons from their homes.

Over 200 persons were treated at hospitals here and in Charleston, the state capital city across the Kanawha River, for effects of inhaling or contact with the substance. Some were admitted to hospitals, but none was reported in critical condition.

The fire broke out about 9 p.m. in a unit of the FMC Corp. inorganic chemicals division plant in the heart of South Charleston, a chemical-manufacturing center of 20,000. The blaze was reported under control at 3:30 a.m. EDT today but was still burning six hours later.

State Civil Defense Director Silas F. Starry said today the toxic cloud was slowly dissipating and the situation was no longer considered dangerous. Road blocks which sealed off traffic in and out of affected areas through the night were lifted early today.

Although State Police asked evacuees not to return to their homes before noon, many returned earlier. Evacuated homes were mainly in South Charleston, a section of Charleston across the river to the north, and in part of Dunbar, an industrial town on the north bank of the Kanawha a few miles west of Charleston.

At one stage during the night, officials were calling for evacuation of all homes within a three-mile radius of the plant.

SNIPERS LAUNCH REIGN OF TERROR

Ten Die In Gun Battle

Policeman Hit

Patrolman Ernest Rowell, who was wounded in Tuesday night's gun battle between police and a gang of Negro men on the city's east side, heads for the cover of a police vehicle.

Police Seal Negro Area In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Snipers armed with rifles, shotguns, carbines and bayonets opened fire on a police tow truck at the start of a night of terror that left 10 persons dead, including three policemen.

Four thousand National Guardsmen patrolled the area today, restoring at least surface calm to the East Side Negro neighborhood that saw burning and looting follow the outburst of shooting Tuesday night.

The battle started, according to police, when the snipers opened fire on policemen removing an abandoned auto. Three officers fell dead.

200 HOMELESS

Police listed six Negroes among the victims and said two of them were snipers. One other white man was killed.

Whether the other dead were bystanders, participants, or were in their homes when struck down by ricochetting bullets couldn't be immediately determined.

The outbreak also produced:

—19 injured, 11 of them policemen, one of whom remained in critical condition with a gun wound.

—50 arrests, about half on looting charges. Others were held for breach of peace, conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons.

—About 200 homeless, from blazes started by fire bombs.

—An unofficial damage estimate of over $100,000, mostly for buildings and their contents, and for several burned-out autos.

—A halt in the sale of alcoholic beverages in Cleveland and surrounding suburbs.

—Mobilization of all of Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen with 4,000 dispatched immediately to the state's biggest city to help keep order.

BULLETS

The three-hour firefight with police began when the police tow truck rode up to Beulah Avenue and 123rd Street to "pick up a piece of junk."

The calm of the hot summer night—the temperature was 80—was shattered when bullets began pouring from rooftops, windows, from behind bushes—and police rushed in many more men.

It ended, except for the occasional crack of a gun shot, just before a heavy thundershower about midnight cooled off the steaming streets and dampened some blazes started by fire bombs.

Police armed with rifles joined National Guardsmen on patrol today.

The shooting began, witnesses said, when two Negro snipers "carrying rifles and . . . sacks of ammunition," ran out of an alley, crouched behind bushes and shot three white policemen, the first victims.

Later two snipers were killed. Bayonets, shotgun shells, gas masks and first aid kits were found on the bodies.

One of 11 policemen wounded by gunfire said the shooting started when he and his partner drove a police tow truck into the area to "pick up a piece of junk."

Patrolman William McMillan, 35, hit in the head, chest, abdomen and thigh, told a newsman for WKYC (NBC) radio:

"We were working a police tow truck and went to pick up a piece of junk at 123rd at Beulah Avenue. We just started to pick it up and somebody started shooting at me with a shotgun."

THREE TIMES

"He hit me about three times," McMillan said. "I started to run around and hide behind the truck. They started shooting up the truck. I got it from all sides. There were two of them with shotguns and one with an automatic weapon."

McMillan said one man walked up to the truck and fired "point blank into the truck. I didn't have a gun. My partner didn't have any either. Why send two truck men on the street without a gun?"

Waves of police, some using Brink's armored trucks, turned the neighborhood into an armed camp.

Tear gas and smoke bombs burst on the sidewalks and against buildings. Officers and some residents became ill from the fumes.

The shooting scene, on Lakeview Road near 125th Street, is about a mile from the Hough area where four Negroes were killed in rioting and looting just two years ago on five other hot July nights.

When the gunfire erupted, police radio calls came thick and fast and had a tone of desperation.

"Things are pretty bad down here," said one. "We're pinned down. The wounded men are lying in the street. We can't get to them. Get some armored cars."

GUARDS CALL

Police reinforcements were rushed in—and some tried to chase small boys, attracted by the gunfire, off the streets.

A woman, declining identification, said she rushed to an upstairs room after seeing the shooting begin. She quoted one of the boys as telling the officers, " 'they're not after us, they're after you. They want you, not us'."

Gov. James A. Rhodes, alerted at the National Governors Conference in Cincinnati, promptly mobilized Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen.

The office of the adjutant general in Columbus immediately committed 4,000 men to Cleveland, the state's biggest city. Its population of more than 800,000 includes about 350,000 Negroes.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes, a Negro who took office last November, appealed to all citizens to "stay home and cooperate with the police."

'BAD' DEAL

Stokes described the situation as "bad" but at dawn said it was "controlled."

The trouble started along Lakeview Avenue and spread to other nearby residential and business districts.

At least 18 persons were hurt. Eleven policemen were shot, two critically. Three others had minor injuries not caused by gunfire.

Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, summoned from Akron to command the guardsmen, said "I see some evidence of a plot" involving black nationalists.

Czech Leaders Expect Kremlin-Led Pressure

PRAGUE (AP) — Awaiting talks with Kremlin leaders, Czechoslovak Communist party sources said today they expect the Soviet-led pressure campaign against this country's reformist course to go on for months.

The Czechoslovak sources cautioned against expecting any dramatic development from the impending conference of the Soviet Communist party's Politburo with the Czechoslovak party presidium, to be held by Prague's insistence somewhere on its own territory.

RUMORS

Official quarters discounted reports from Moscow that the Soviet party chief, Leonid I. Brezhnev, and the rest of the Politburo were already on the way.

Departure of the Soviet delegation for the previously announced meeting was reported by the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, from Moscow. There was no official confirmation, but rumors of the departure circulated in Moscow.

The trip to Czechoslovakia is the first by the Politburo—steering committee of the Soviet party—outside Russia as a group.

The meeting is expected to be held today or Thursday in Slovakia, adjacent to the Soviet Union, but the time and location have not been announced.

Despite new Soviet army maneuvers along its eastern frontier, Czechoslovak officials expressed confidence the Russians would never resort to armed intervention if the country stands united behind Alexander Dubcek's reformist regime.

"The Soviets would lose more than they would gain by a military intervention," one Communist party official said.

"Moscow will have to get used to what is going on here. There can be no turning back the clock. We are not going to compromise and are determined to continue on the present course."

Party officials said they viewed the Soviet note this week demanding a strengthening of Czechoslovakia's border with West Germany, presumably by Red army troops, as "just another step in the war of nerves."

FEARS

In apparent rebuttal to the Soviet note, Maj. Gen. Jan Peprny, commander of the frontier guard forces, said in a statement to the official news agency CTK:

"Fears regarding the safety of Czechoslovakia's borders are quite unfounded. The Czechoslovak Socialist Republic has enough strength to safely protect its state border with its capitalist neighbors."

The Soviet note is expected to be a chief topic of discussion at the meeting of the 11-member Soviet Politburo and the 11-man presidium of the Czechoslovak party.

NO HINT

In Moscow, the Soviet Defense Ministry announced Tuesday that "military logistic exercises" are under way in the western Ukraine, which borders on Czechoslovakia, as well as in White Russia, Latvia and the Russian Federation. They are to continue until Aug. 10.

The announcement gave no hint that the maneuvers were connected with Soviet pressure against Czechoslovakia's more liberal course. Nevertheless, there was some thinking in Moscow that the army exercises could provide a cover for any Soviet forces that might be preparing for an invasion of Czechoslovakia if the party talks failed to settle the crisis.

Liz Taylor Okay

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor had "a very good night . . . and her condition is excellent," her doctors reported today.

The Fitzroy Nuffield Nursing Home, where the 36-year-old movie star had a partial hysterectomy Sunday, said no further medical bulletins will be issued.

Miss Taylor entered the nursing home last Wednesday and is expected to stay at least another 10 days.

Lightning Hits Gasoline Dump

PAVIA, Italy (AP) — A bolt of lightning struck an Italian army gasoline dump today, sending flaming gasoline down into the North Italian village of Ravanazzano. Gas pipes exploded, 25 houses were damaged and one collapsed, but only four of the 3,000 villagers were reported injured.

The gasoline dump was on a hill nearly two miles from the village, which is 22 miles from Pavia. The burning gasoline flowed down the hill, through a river and into a canal that crossed the village.

As gas pipes exploded and fires broke out in the village, the panic-stricken inhabitants escaped to the nearby fields.

Firemen from Pavia, Voghera and Milan rushed to the scene. It took them three hours to put out the fire.

Telegraph, telephone, water, electric power and gas lines were damaged. Twenty houses were damaged by explosions, one collapsed and five others were partly burned, according to an initial survey.

BOBBY LEPARD AIDED BY ORGAN FROM DEAD CHILD

Sand Springs Lad Gets Kidney Transplant

An unfortunate child, who perished last weekend in an automobile accident in Denver, stands to be the hope of a 10-year-old Sand Springs lad for a chance to live.

Bobby Glen Lepard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lepard, Sand Springs, is apparently recuperating satisfactorily in the University of Colorado Medical Center's Children Clinic.

Last Saturday night, Bobby received a kidney transplant at the Center. The kidney was from the body of another child, whose name is not known here, who had died as result of a car accident.

Young Lepard is the victim of a very rare kidney disease called cystonosis, which developed about three years ago. The malady has affected both his kidneys and doctors said that unless some drastic steps were taken, death was just ahead.

A kidney transplant was the only possible answer, it appeared, and the family went to Denver where Mrs. Lepard was prepared to give one of her kidneys to her young son.

Before this was done, the traffic tragedy occurred and the parents of the luckless youngster who had perished agreed that Bobby might have one of their child's kidneys.

The surgeons immediately began work. The ordeal was a long one and Bobby did not leave the operating theater until 4 a.m. Saturday.

Sunday his grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Lepard, and an uncle, Waymon Lepard, both of Sand Springs, were told that the boy was doing well and that doctors were pleased at his progress.

Kidney transplants are fairly common but, in most instances, the donor has to be a living relative or close kin. A transplant of a kidney from a dead person to another person of no kinship is regarded as rare by medical men.

How long the Lepards will be in Denver will depend on the progress that Bobby makes. His problem is not solved—his other kidney is affected by the disease. However, the youngster, described by his relatives as a cheerful, happy lad, has a greatly improved chance to survive than he had when he left here for Colorado.

A young cousin of Bobby's, a girl, has also developed cystonosis.

Bobby's father is a long-time employe of Cosden. Mrs. Lepard works at Webb AFB. Bobby has two younger sisters.

Relatives in Sand Springs said that their friends and neighbors have been greatly concerned over Bobby's plight and have kept telephones jangling with inquiries about the boy.

"We are certainly happy that things appear to be going so well," said Mrs. Waymon Lepard, an aunt. "Now we can tell Bobby's friends that he is doing fine and has a good chance to make it."

A LOVELIER YOU

Start Now To Try Slimming Exercises

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's never too late to reduce. Even if you have put off the trimming you hoped to accomplish before the summer season, you can still get some respectable results. Of course, you must start this minute.

On what area would you like to begin? Because of scant summer attire it is usually the waist, abdomen, hip or thigh that visably begs for attention.

Well now, whether one or all of those areas is a problem to you, this "miracle" routine works on one and all:

Starting position: Lie on back with right leg raised perpendicular to the floor and arms stretched straight out behind head. Keeping knee straight, raise left leg 1 inch off floor — just enough to clear — and try to hold position throughout.

Action: By pushing off with your arms, swing your torso up so that you can clasp your right ankle. It is possible you cannot make it. In that event, clasp your thigh and, moving hand over hand, reach your ankle.

Your next ploy is to let go and very slowly roll your back to the floor. Then work with your left leg. Alternating, repeat 10 times in all. Increase at your own speed until you perform 20 times.

The routine is no cinch. You may wish to divide your effort between night and morning workouts. That's fine, if you don't cop out at either end.

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet "Midriff Slimmers." It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Both girls will be entered in the 7 to 12 age group.

Kim Cox will compete in the "La Petite" group (ages 3 to 6). She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cox of Lamesa.

Sponsoring the girls at the pageant will be the Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Each girl won the right to compete on the state level by winning the local pageant held in April. The annual event is sponsored jointly by the sorority chapter and local merchants.

Zoning Procedure Changed To Speed Final Decisions

A change in system of handling zoning changes, so as to speed up final decision, was approved by the City Commission Tuesday evening.

The procedure would apply only in those cases where there is no opposition, and still would follow ordinance terms in giving due public notice. But it was decided that notice could be given after a zoning commission meeting, and thereby eliminate a lapse of time before the issue gets to the City Commission on its regular meeting.

HELP APPLICANTS

Time of decision for a zoning change could be shortened from two to four weeks. Recommendation was made by City Manager Larry Crow and his staff that the new procedure be established to help zoning applicants get a final determination.

The commission went through a rather routine session Tuesday evening, and had concluded its business in about an hour and a half.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

It heard a request from Mrs. Marion Dixon for consideration of use of the City-County Health Unit facilities on a part-time basis, and for some financial help, for establishment and operation of a Planned Parenthood program. Mrs. Dixon is chairman of a steering committee for a Planned Parenthood organization.

Questions were asked as to need and to cost, and how the program could be perfected. Mrs. Dixon said a modest start is contemplated, with the work largely of an educational nature. This would be done by volunteers. But if the program grew to the point of providing professional advice and medications, there would be money involved, to accommodate those who could not afford to pay.

MORE STUDY

The commission suggested that further study be given the program, and more detailed information provided. It also felt that action should be deferred until the matter is taken before the local Medical Society.

In other action, the council voted to grant a change in location from N. 4th and Lancaster to 410 N. Bell of a tavern operated by Tommie Lee and Margaret Hutchinson. The Hutchinsons' place, the "Green Parrot" has a license (it has been under suspension) and a change of location was the only issue involved. Commissioner Jimmy Morehead cast a dissenting vote.

Commissioner Garner McAdams was absent from the Tuesday night session.

Dear Abby

Suspicious Husband Is Sick

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office and have a very responsible position. My husband keeps on calling me at work and if I'm not at my desk when he calls, I go through the third degree. "Where was I! Who was I talking to! Don't I ever do any work around there!" Then BANG goes the receiver. Abby, that leaves me a nervous wreck all day.

It so happens that I must do a lot of work in the files which are about 50 feet away from my desk, so someone has to call me to the telephone.

When I get home I am faced with more questions and insults. He accuses me of having "boyfriends" at work. Abby, I have received awards for being an outstanding secretary. Besides, I am 47 and settled down.

I can't have any friends or go to the store without him. My only pleasure is work, and now that's no pleasure any more. I do all my own housework, laundry, and the meals are always on the table when he gets home. No waiting. What else does he expect from a wife! Please tell me what to do.

TIRED OF IT ALL

DEAR TIRED: A man who is accusing and suspicious without just cause is sick. And a wife who puts up with it without attempting to get to the bottom of it is as sick as her husband.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband, Mike, and I are both in our early forties. We have four children. Mike is busy with his business and I am busy with my house and the kids.

Lately Mike has been getting up at 5 a.m. He doesn't have to be at work until 8 and he has only a 20-minute drive to get there. Well, he rushes around getting showered, shaved and dressed and he runs out of the house like he is going to be late for something. When I ask him where he is going so early he says, "Nowhere — I just like to ride around." I am getting suspicious and would like to know where this guy goes. Should I follow him!

BERTIE

DEAR BERTIE: No, but ask him what he would think if you did the same thing for the same reason.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a teenage girl who can scarcely keep her hands and eyes off the boy she thinks she "loves," I feel compelled to write to you about my daughter. Hers is an old story of young passion and the price she paid for it.

She became pregnant at 16. After the first shock, we accepted it, as all parents must when they are faced with this nightmare. You hear from the girls who describe what they go through at such a time, but have you ever heard from mothers who tell what THEY go through!

The lies when taking their daughter out of school. The long miserable hours she must spend indoors for fear a neighbor will see her condition. Then the final break, when a mother must leave her half-child half-woman in a home for unwed mothers to endure alone what should be a woman's most beautiful experience — giving life. But in giving life, to know only shame.

I know it takes two to tango. But after the dance is finished, the girl is left to find her way back alone. Sign me . . . A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

Dan Krausse President Of New Firm

DALLAS — Earth Resources Company has been incorporated and it has acquired Delta Refining Company of Memphis, Tenn., Dan M. Krausse, president and chief executive officer, announced.

"Earth Resources," Krausse said, "will actively explore for minerals, primarily strategic metals such as uranium, gold, silver, mercury and molybdenum, in the Western hemisphere. The company is seeking additional acquisitions of companies active in mineral exploration and mining," he added.

Principals in Earth Resources, a Delaware corporation, are Krausse, Charles Wyly Jr., chairman of the board, and Sam Wyly, chairman of the executive committee. Other organizers are Eldon R. Vaughan, secretary; Arty B. Smith, treasurer; and William H. Tinsley, general counsel. These men, and E. Constantin Jr., form the board of directors of Earth Resources.

All of the capital stock of Delta Refining was purchased for cash by Earth Resources from Constantin and others, Krausse said. He added that Earth Resources has a substantial line of credit with First National City Bank of New York City.

Delta Refining owns a 28,000-barrel-a-day refinery at Memphis which produces more than $40 million worth of petroleum products annually, including motor fuels, jet fuel, heating oils, and asphalt. First unit of the refinery was built in 1942 and it has been enlarged several times to its present capacity.

Krausse was president of Champlin Petroleum Company of Fort Worth until last year. Prior to 1965 he held executive positions with Dresser Industries, Inc., Cosden Petroleum Corporation, and Sinclair Refining Company. He is a registered professional engineer and distinguished engineering graduate of the University of Texas at Austin.

Corporate offices of Earth Resources will be at 303 Expressway Tower in Dallas.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good time to come up with some very clever new ideas on just how to put your points across so that others understand and are more willing to go along with them. So up early and decide the best course you can pursue in the future to gain your most cherished objectives. Your mind is working overtime with good results.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Out early to contact those individuals who have it in their power to answer your most important questions, and can be successfully allied with you in the days ahead. Let all of your activities be constructive. Action!

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Much swift action is necessary if you want those plans to succeed just at this time. Go to that person who admires you for the ideas and advice you need. Stop feeling so sorry for yourself—you are luckier than many others in life.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to reactivate your association with allies now if you want to be more successful, otherwise you really get in a bind. Keeping busy brings happiness. This is also true in personal relationships.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you plan far into the future now, you become more aware of the right tenor of present events. You need the approval of experts, so go and see them. Remember, indecision is the father of failure.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't be stingy with kind and encouraging words to good friends, allies, who have been of real assistance in the past. Be more willing to repay favors, especially the social.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Doing some civic work that will get you more in the public limelight of your community can bring prestige and profit now. Your regular duties need to be done more efficiently, also. Be more interested in what you are doing, otherwise, what's the use?

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to study into that new interest you have just assumed if you want to really understand it well. Some new friend can be persuaded to help you to carry through with your aims. Show that you are "very intelligent."

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you take care of those responsibilities efficiently today, you can then become more proficient at your daily routines. Solve those problems satisfactorily. Forget everything except romance tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although others may be imposing on you somewhat, if you talk things over quietly, you get redress, but temper gets you nowhere. Make new agreements. Then out together socially and celebrate new accord.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Showing enthusiasm for the work you have to do will see it done quickly and well and get the approval of higher-ups. Taking time for exercise can make you stronger and more nimble. Use your spare time wisely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Once you get your important work done, be sure to get out for recreation, since you have been too serious lately. More thought for mate is also necessary. By overworking yourself you also injure others inadvertently, indirectly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Taking care to get kin's O.K. before you delve into that interest you like so much is only right, since it will take up much of your time. Make plans accordingly. Use only the finest system if you want a real uptrend in all of your affairs.

Contracts Over $3 Million Let By Water District

Contracts exceeding three million dollars were awarded by the Colorado River Municipal Water District at a meeting of the directors here Tuesday afternoon at the Settles Hotel.

The aggregate of six bids connected with the Robert Lee lake project and the district's supply system was $3,152,310, but two alternates could add $55,357 to this if the district exercises them.

Largest of the projects was 37 miles of pipeline ranging from 21 to 42 inches in diameter. Wittman Contracting Company of Phoenix, Ariz., was low with a proposal of $2,713,461 including 11 miles of 24 inch line. If 27-in. line were used for this section, Wittman bid $2,765,467, which also was the low bid. Panhandle Construction of Lubbock was next with bids of $2,755,202 and $2,805,487.

OTHER BIDS

Robishaw Engineering Company of Houston was awarded a contract for $38,977 for construction of a steel barge capable of hauling 116,000 pounds of equipment or materials to oil well mounds in the new lake.

Five of the contracts were for bids opened a week ago but formally awarded by the board. Included were M & H Valve Company of Anniston, Ala., $36,394 for gate valves on the new pipeline; Allis Chalmers of Dallas $17,000 for electric motor controls; Gray-Bar Electric of Odessa and Dallas $22,188 for buried control cable; Brown and McKee of Lubbock $233,125 for substructure for the main pump station at the new lake; and Terry Construction Company of Greenville, S.C., $91,165 for a drip station and water intake for Union of Texas and Humble Oil and Refining. The latter item may be negotiated regarding concrete rather than rock rip slope protection.

The M & H proposal was second lowest of those submitted by $348, but the delivery dates were such that they fit considerably better into the pipeline construction schedule.

MORE TO COME

The district still has some 70 miles of pipeline to let, and this will take place either in November or December, said O. H. Ivie, general manager. Contracted Tuesday were 10 miles of 42-in. line from Big Spring to Moss Creek Lake southeast of Big Spring; 11 miles of either 24 or 27-in. line from Moss Creek Lake to a juncture with the district's Sun Oil water pipeline in Mitchell County; and 16 miles of 21-in. line from that juncture northeastward to the district's side terminal storage opposite its diversion works above Colorado City.

Approved was a water sale contract to Walsh and Watts for repressuring in the East Howard oil field. The operators have some 500 oil wells and will use water from the diverted low flow of the Colorado River. Contract quantity ranges from 840,000 down to 630,000 gallons per day over 15 years at two cents per barrel.

LESSEN PAYMENTS

Ivie said that American Magnesium has executed its contract for water for its new plant in southwest Scurry County for 432,000 gallons per day. Originally the company had requested only 142,000 gpd.

The board voted to lighten payments from concessionaires at lake J. B. Thomas so long as the lake level remains below elevation 2245.00. Although the lake still has 85,000 acre-feet in storage, the present elevation is 2237.00. Construction of four boat ramps in the lake above Robert Lee was authorized. This will be done in advance of the closure of the dam, which will begin in the last quarter of this year.

S. W. Freese, consulting engineer, reported that the City of San Angelo may talk with the CRMWD about its water needs.

Farm Seers Hedge A Bit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has dusted off its crystal ball for a look at 1980, but the seers hedge a bit on what they think they see.

"Projections, subject as they are to the vagaries of man and nature, are imperfect images of the future. Still, they do indicate a likely course of agricultural development in this country," the department says.

Some of the "imperfect images" seen for a dozen years hence included:

—Consumer buying power should be about 50 per cent higher.

—There will be about 235 million people in the United States, with the most rapid increases in the age groups of 20 to 24 and 25 to 34 yaers.

—Appetites for beef will continue to increase and may exceed 120 pounds a persons, compared with 110 last year.

—Exports of crop production should continue to take about one-fourth of the acreage output, with exports of wheat climbing to one billion bushels a year.

—Output of farm man-hours will continue to increase and may match that of industry in the next 15 to 20 years.

—Farmers will integrate more with industry; with mergers and consolidations, farmers will sell to fewer markets and processors.

—Synthetic pcoducts will be used more in textiles, shoes and building materials, but more feed and feed supplements also will be introduced from the laboratories.

'Hot' Storms Smash Barns

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms swept the Central Plains and Midwest again today, unleashing heavy rains in the wake of damaging winds.

Downpours up to 3½ inches soaked purts of Iowa and Northern Illinois during the predawn hours. The belt of storms extended westward into Kansas and Nebraska and east into Lower Michigan.

A tornado whipped out of the hot-weather storm system over Southern Michigan late Tuesday and smashed a barn in the Hillsdale area, 80 miles west-southwest of Detroit. Winds also destroyed a barn and a grain bin near Ods, Iowa, in the southeast corner of that state.

Winds sweeping across Kansas leveled a barn and heavily damaged a home in the northwest section of Topeka Tuesday night. The storm also toppled numerous trees.

Two inches of rain swamped the Northeast Kansas community of Blaine, northwest of Topeka, in 20 minutes.

Thunderstorms hit the Chicago area at intervals and caused a 12-hour backup of flights in and out of O'Hare International Airport for a time.

Heavy downpours caused a two-lane section of the Kennedy Expressway on Chicago's northwest side to sink nearly 18 inches. Several blocks were closed.

Hail pelted wide aceas along the storm belt.

Early Tuesday, seven inches of rain poured down at Hickman, Neb., south of Lincoln, in 3½ hours.

MAJOR BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

Work Started On Shopping Center

Commercial construction in Big Spring got a $325,000 shot in the arm this week when ground work began for the Coronado Plaza Shopping Center at Gregg and FM 700.

Ralph Gossett of Scenic Gardens, Inc., owners of the planned shopping center, said preliminary surveying began Monday, and construction will begin in earnest this week and next. Initial plans call for four buildings on 13.80 acres of land, with three more structures to come later.

The Coronado Plaza Shopping Center is the largest commercial construction program this year in Big Spring.

CLARK'S

The major project will be a $225,000 building to house a Clark's discount store. Another project at the same time will be a $100,000 building for Buddies Super Market, Gossett said. The buildings will be of concrete brick inside with face brick on the outside.

Aso planned is construction of a Dairy Queen and Mr. Steak, Inc. restaurant within the next few weeks, he said.

The Clark's store, brought to Big Spring by a large firm in New York City, will be 303 feet long by 157 feet, Gossett said, and will have a total of 60,000 square feet of floor space. Part of that floor space will come from 14,000 square feet of a mezzanine over the main floor.

J. B. Burk of San Angelo will be contractor for the Clark's building, Gossett said.

The Buddies Super Market building will be 150 feet long by 149 feet with 19,650 square feet of floor space, he said. No contractor has been named to date, but Gossett said it will be a local company.

Buddies Super Markets are a division of K. Kimball Co. of Fort Worth, and there are about 350 stores in Texas owned by that firm.

The Mr. Steak, Inc., restaurant will cost about $30,000, he said, and will be built next to the Dairy Queen near the corner where Gregg and Marcy intersect. The Dairy Queen will cost about $20,000, Gossett said.

Mr. Steak, Inc., is a firm based in Denver, Colo., and the Dairy Queen is being brought here by Walter Anderson of Kermit.

Gossett said future plans call for construction of three more buildings directly south of the Clark's store. The buildings will be laid out so that they form a 400 feet by 200 feet rectangle and they will be enclosed in an air conditioned mall. They will cover 73,000 square feet, he said.

Negotiations are under way with a department store to occupy one of the future buildings, and local tenants will be in the other two buildings, Gossett said.

The shopping center, designed and engineered by Covington-Shelton-Taylor of Odessa, will have a capacity for 975 cars over its 13.80 acres.

Partners with Gossett in Scenic Gardens, Inc., are Dr. James Gossett and Elmer Tarbox.

Fresh Foreign Funds Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's foreign aid program, a continuing target of an economy-minded Congress, has suffered another setback.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday refused to restore the nearly $1 billion cut by the House last week from the President's original $2.9 billion request. In fact, the committee trimmed another $22.9 million on its own.

WHACKS

Observers said by the time the oversea proposals get through being worked over in today's committee hearings, future debate on the Senate floor, and certain reduction in separate appropriations bills the program might barely total half of what was asked.

The foreign assistance program has been in increasing difficulties since a year ago when Congress first demanded multi-billion-dollar spending cuts in return for passage of the President's 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has predicted the money bill may be $400 million under the authorization an ultimate appropriation of less than $1.6 billion.

GIVEAWAY

The authorization measure sets policy and money ceilings. The appropriations bill fixes the amount that may actually be spent.

A combination of factors has sent the aid program to its lowest level in its 21-year history.

It has its longtime critics who have termed it a giveaway that made no friends for this country.

They have been joined in recent years by former supporters who now oppose the program to register opposition to the Vietnam war and its costs. The bill contains substantial amounts for the civilian economy of Vietnam, but the major war costs are in the Defense Department budget.

Postmaster Encouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson said today action by two congressional committees has encouraged him to believe mail service will not have to be curtailed.

But Watson indicated Congress will have to do still more before the Post Office Department rescinds its announced cutbacks in service, the first of which takes effect Saturday.

"The support of these two committees—composed of men most knowledgeable on this complex subject—was to me further evidence of the credibility of our crisis," Watson said.

"It remains now for the Congress to make its decision," he added. "But I believe there is now some light being cast into what is a somber situation.

Watson's comments were in a speech prepared for 2,000 delegates to the National Postal Forum.

Watson repeated arguments he made before congressional committees in the past two weeks seeking an exemption for the department from manpower cutbacks dictated by President Johnson's 10 per cent income surtax bill.

The beginning of postal cutbacks that Watson has said could lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and eventual four-day delivery in residential areas, comes this Saturday when window service will be cut to a maximum of two hours and street-box pickups will be made on Sunday schedules.

Exemptions for the Post Office Department have been approved by committees in the House and Senate with the most recent action Tuesday.

The Senate Post Office Committee wrote the exemption into a minor House-passed bill. This paved the way for quick actions possibly by week's end, a committee source said.

Gilmore Attends Firemen's School

Richard Gilmore, volunteer fireman on the Coahoma Volunteer Department of Coahoma, attended the 38th Annual Texas Firemen's Taining School. The school, attended by more than 2,000 men from approximately 30 states, was held on the Texas-A&M University campus last week.

Fireman Gilmore was sponsored by Howard County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward his cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting, the County Farm Bureaus and the Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

Algerian Government Holds Hijacked Jet, 21

PARIS (AP) — The Algerian government still held a hijacked Israeli jetliner and 21 or 22 Israeli citizens today after releasing 23 non-Israeli passengers.

The El Al Boeing 707 was diverted to Algiers on a flight from Rome to Israel early Tuesday by three members of the Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab sabotage organization. The front asked the Algerian government to hold the Israelis aboard the plane as hostages for Arab commandos held prisoner in Israel, but there was no public response from Algiers and no demand for a swap.

YANKS RELEASED

Twenty of the released passengers were flown to Paris. They included two Americans, Rina Uziel, 23, of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Gabriel Gaiz, 17, a student from Long Beach, Calif., who finally arrived in Tel Aviv today with four other passengers.

Three Jewish passengers who were not Israeli citizens were flown to Marseille.

Reports of the number of Israelis held in Algiers differed. El Al, the Israeli national airline, said 10 crew members and 12 passengers were detained. The Algerians said they were holding 11 passengers along with the 10 crew members.

The three hijackers also apparently were in Algiers.

The Israeli government asked U.N. Secretary General U Thant and the Italian government to intercede with the Algerians for release of the $6 million jetliner and the Israeli citizens. Italy sent an emissary to Algiers.

Algeria is still technically at war with Israel following the Arab-Israeli war in June 1967, and Israel has never had diplomatic relations with any of the Arab governments.

FIRST TIME

Although the several Arab guerrilla organizations have sent commando squads into Israel repeatedly on terrorist and sabotage missions, this was the first Israeli plane ever hijacked.

One of the passengers who was released, Leon Papu, a Colombian, said the plane's copilot staggered into the passenger compartment 20 minutes after the takeoff from Rome.

"He was bleeding profusely from a head wound and his shirt was covered in blood," said Papu. "We heard he had been hit over the head by a revolver. He told us the plane had been hijacked."

Chino Raccah, a 29-year-old Libyan, said one of the hijackers drew his finger through the blood of the injured man.

"He licked it," Raccah reported, "and said in Hebrew: 'Jewish blood is very sweet.' He added 'We shall throw all the Jews into the sea,' and then quickly said 'we want peace'."

Two "baldish men" covered the passengers with revolvers and hand grenades, the passengers said, and another was with the pilot.

The men told the passengers to keep quiet, hold their hands above their heads and they would not be harmed.

A Danish passenger said one of the hijackers took over the controls and brought the jetliner down in Algiers to a good landing.

FEAR

Young Gaiz said the passengers were frightened but members of the plane crew tried to comfort the non-Israelis by telling them the hijackers were concerned only with Israeli citizens.

Landing in Algiers before dawn, the passengers were taken to a barren building at the airport and kept there together until midday.

"All we had until then was some coffee and a roll," Gaiz said. "Then they separated us. The Israelis were taken away. We were asked who we were, why we were going to Israel. After we were separated, all of a sudden we were like guests.

"We were given a good meal and taken on a tour of the city before we were put on a plane to Paris."

President Declares He Will Not Waver

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson has declared he will not waver from a Vietnam policy he called just and reasonable, despite "the pressures and strains that come normally in any political year."

The nation's governors who heard that pledge had no plans to attempt to match it with one of their own. The 60th National Governors Conference held its final session today, and the agenda did not touch on Vietnam.

PRAISE

One Democrat who praised the Johnson stand said any attempt to put the conference on record in support of U.S. policy on the war and negotiations would stir dissension which could do more harm than good.

Johnson spent an hour Tuesday night at the conference which has been marked by the political maneuvering by and for candidates to succeed him when he retires from the White House next Jan. 20.

Before a black-tie crowd of more than 2,000 persons at the governors' ball, Johnson declared:

"Our nation wants peace, our government wants peace, our men in Vietnam want peace and your President wants peace. Yet some among us seem to feel that I or we alone can bring peace to Vietnam. They seem to ignore the presence and irreconcilability of the enemy."

DIFFICULT DAYS

Johnson said he had promised battleground restraint in announcing he would not run again for the White House, and has kept that promise.

"We are willing to go as far as honor and safety permit us to go," he said. "But we are not going to impose a coalition government—or any kind of government—on the people of South Vietnam.

"Nor are we going to let the totalitarians impose a Communist government of their direction either," the President said. That drew one of only two rounds of applause which came during his address.

"The days we're going through and the days ahead are going to be difficult ones," Johnson said. "But we are determined to press the search for peace even as we resist aggression on the battlefield. We are going to continue to resist the efforts to split our country wide open and divide our citizens."

Outside the Cincinnati convention center, scores of pickets marched the sidewalk, many waving placards critical of Johnson and the war. "Peace now," they chanted intermittently.

POWER

"With all the power at my command I am going to do my duty as I see it, regardless of the pressures and strains that come normally in any political year," Johnson said.

He said he and President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam agreed that a cease fire, with effective controls and guarantees, could be part of a war settlement. They agreed also, Johnson said, "that an honorable and secure peace will assure the right of the South Vietnamese people to decide their own affairs without external interference. . .

"That is the position of the U.S. government," Johnson said. "It is fair, it is just, it is reasonable and it is firm. We hope and pray for the best and are prepared for whatever comes."

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, who had talked of a possible conference resolution supporting the current Vietnam peace talks in Paris, called Johnson's speech magnificent.

But Hughes said he was not going to seek any conference action on the war issue. He said to do any good it would have to be supported unanimously or overwhelmingly, and that is not possible.

"It seems to be the concensus of everyone that I've talked to that a resolution wouldn't do any good and indeed one might be harmful," Hughes said.

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, a Republican, said no Vietnam policy measure had come before his executive committee, which screens conference resolutions.

GUN LAWS

Johnson got a silver plaque from the governors, inscribed with words of "appreciation for his long and devoted public service" and his leadership in establishing ties between Washington and the states.

He urged the governors to work at the state level to deal with problems of jobs, slums, education, health and the like—saying that the federal government has in the past taken responsibility by default, because no one else would act.

In that context, he mentioned the problem of crime. "The federal government does not seek the responsibility of policing our streets—and I hope and pray it will never accept it," he said. "But if the American people look to Washington in a matter so clearly defined as this, it may betray a weakness in our partnership."

GUNNER

Johnson asked for the governors' help in getting congressional action on legislation to "protect our people from guns in criminal hands."

A resolution now before it would recommend state action to stiffen gun control laws, but would not advocate specific laws, leaving that to the individ-

A Cincinnati youth was arrested Tuesday in the lobby of the Hotel Sheraton-Gibson, the governors' headquarters, carrying a loaded .22 caliber pistol under his coat.

Police identified him as Thomas A. McKeown, 20. They quoted him as saying he was fond of Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox, and carried the gun because he was "afraid of crowds and Negroes."

A Maddox bodyguard discovered the gun.

In other developments as the conference neared its windup:

—Texas Gov. John B. Connally said he believes Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should choose "someone of more moderate views perhaps than his own" as a vice presidential running mate. Connally said Humphrey has a long record as a liberal.

CONNALLY VIEWS

Connally said he would leave it to others to decide whether Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., rated by many governors as the strongest possible vice presidential choice, meets that test. Connally also said he does not know Kennedy well enough to know "what abilities or what capacities he basically has."

—Two agents of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., came to Cincinnati to talk with governors about their candidate for president. Campaign manager Blair Clark and speech writer Richard Goodwin issued a statement urging Humphrey to meet McCarthy in campaign debate.

"Such a public confrontation would prove that he holds views which have been rejected by the American people and illuminate his weakness as a presidential candidate," the McCarthy men said.

Weeds Faster Than Crews

Add to the woes of city cleanup crews: The weeds and brush grow faster than the crews can go.

City Manager Larry Crow said today that because of the heavy rains this year city crews have been unable to keep private lots mowed and cleaned. Therefore the city fire marshal has made a survey and has mailed out some 200 notices ordering owners to clean their property.

Crow said that the city has been working steadily to maintain its own property, including vacant lots, alley, right-of-ways and other land. He added that the city has tried to mow some private lots, usually those within 200 feet of a residence

"However, our crews have fallen behind due to the heavy rains, and we don't have enough men or equipment to handle the heavy volume of weeds and brush," he said.

He said weeds and brush in private lots and on lots with vacant buildings are creating a fire and health hazard and should be removed. Property owners have 10 days to mow the lots after notice is given.

"If the owners do not clean their lots they are subject to prosecution because of a health and fire ordinance of the city," he declared.

Crow noted that a major problem has developed with the heavy growth of brush in the alleys. City crews are averaging three loads of brush per block in some cases, he said.

He had assumed his command in July, 1967, a month after his appearance here, and was scheduled to become deputy chief of staff operations for Pacific headquarters in September. At the time of his visit to Big Spring, he was deputy chief of staff-operations for the TAC headquarters in Langley Field, Va. During World War II he served as a fighter pilot.

Under observation at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital this morning were Fay Gallaway, 23, of Unit 28, Apt. 4, Southland Apartments, and Larry Paul Duggan, 24, of 602 Nolan St. They were listed in good condition, but Duggan had lacerations of the scalp.

Treated and released this morning at Webb AFB Hospital was Grant George Boyer, 23, a soldier from Ft. Lewis, Alaska.

Police reports said that the two cars involved were a 1965 Pontiac driven by Christine Ann Boyer. The auto bore a California license plate, and a 1963 Ford in which the two from Big Spring were passengers. Grant Boyer was a passenger in the Pontiac.

In other activity Tuesday police investigated two minor accidents.

James Fred Whitaker of 1806 State St. was driving a 1961 Rambler which was in collision with a 1966 Ford pickup driven by Antonio Cruz Padron at the intersection of Eleventh Place and Benton at 1:56 p.m. The Whitaker auto was going east on Eleventh Place and the Padron vehicle was going north on Benton.

At 2:09 p.m. a 1967 Buick driven by Roy Melvin Bruce of 1026 Stadium and a 1964 Buick driven by Jack Ramsey Evans of 310 Austin collided. The Bruce car was stopped on Eleventh Place at the time of the mishap.

He will meet with the goals committee of the Master Plan committee at 7:15 p.m. today in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

"We are also making tentative plans for him to meet this afternoon with the Chamber of Commerce industrial team concerning possible industrial sites and other matters pertinent to industrial development," Larry Crow, city manager, said.

Springer will also probably drive through the city to view different aspects of the Master Plan project now under way. He will leave Big Spring Thursday morning.

Burglary Suspect Reported AWOL

Leo Loden, held here on a charge of burglary in connection with a recent raid on the Western Auto Stores, also is wanted by the army as a soldier absentee without leave.

A. N. Standard, sheriff, said that Fort Hood has advised him that Loden is wanted there. The sheriff said he had turned the matter over to the district attorney for disposition.

Loden was arrested by the city police and transferred to the Howard County jail.

Train Derailment Hurts Transients

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two transients were injured today when 22 cars of a southbound Missouri -Kansas -Texas freight train derailed two miles north of suburban Watauga near US 377.

The two men were taken to a hospital here where they were in fair condition. They were identified as John Scott, 48, of Delaware, Okla., and Warren A. Starcher, whose age and address were unknown.

Fourteen of the boxcars derailed were loaded and eight were empty.

Police said one car on the Denison-to-Fort Worth train was loaded with explosives, but it was not among those derails.

Cause of the derailment had not been determined.

Old Timers' Delectable Dish—Son-Of-A-Gun Stew

That debatable delicacy of the Old West, called (in politer terms) "son-of-a-gun" stew, will be available to the hardier souls who attend the 44th annual reunion of the Glasscock-Howard County Old Settlers Reunion Friday at City Park.

Jess Slaughter, who heads arrangements for the big get-together, said that a mammoth pot of this mysteriously blended concoction will be set simmering Thursday night. It will be ready Friday noon.

Charlie Merritt, widely known as an expert in the art of barbecuing beef, will be the chef in charge of the pits when the ton of choice meat begins cooking. Cecil Long, who has filled the post for many of these reunions, is in charge of the dinner and its serving.

Merritt and Long, after the fires are brought to the desired state for ideal barbecuing, will also start cooking 200 pounds of beans to back up the barbecue.

The menu for the dinner, as is traditional, includes barbecue, beans, stew, pickles, onions, bread, coffee or tea.

Slaughter suggests that "if anyone wants dessert, they'd better bring their own pie."

He said that the meal will be served starting promptly at 12 noon. The registration of the old timers and their friends will get under way at 9 a.m. Friday in the pavilion at the city park.

Vet Non-Com Back At Webb

One of the original airmen stationed at Webb when the 3560th Pilot Training Wing was activated in 1951 returned for another tour-of-duty at the base last week.

Reassigned to Webb after a 17-year absence is C.M. Sgt. Milton Johnson. He is the new sergeant major of the personnel division.

Sgt. Johnson's last assignment was at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam, where he served a year's tour-of-duty as sergeant major in the 14th Combat Support Group personnel division.

During his first assignment at Webb, Sgt. Johnson helped process the first student pilot training class through its stay at the base.

Before going to Vietnam, Sgt. Johnson was stationed at Randolph AFB for 2½ years, serving in the military personnel center. He ran the Southeast Asia manning section for airmen.

He did a four-year stint at Pacific Air Force (PACAF) Headquarters, Hickam AFB, Hawaii, and served as noncommissioned officer-in-charge of the personnel section when stationed at Greenville AFB, Miss. After two years there, he moved to Texas and became a recruiter for three years in Houston.

Besides his 20 years of service with the Air Force, he has also 2½ years of Navy duty to his credit. During World War II, he was a quartermaster-first on an LST in the Pacific campaign area.

The sergeant is a native Texan, born in Bronson. He has a son and daughter living in San Antonio, and has two sons in the Air Force.

New Officer

Ernest Franklin Lee, 44, of 3621 Calvin, began his duties Wednesday as a patrolman with the Big Spring police department. A Navy veteran, Lee is a native of Frankfurt, Ky., and a longtime resident of Big Spring.

A Horsey Way To Treat Officers

Highway Patrolman Arvin Henry spotted the offender running a red light.

"I would have given him a ticket," he said, "but I couldn't catch him." Henry called the police, touching off a widespread search.

At mid-morning it was still under way, but there was a report that the quary had been sighted near Creighton ranch on US 80 west — munching a bit of grass. Meanwhile, officers also were trying to learn who the owner of the stray horse might be.

San Angelo May Look To CRMWD For Some Water

The City of San Angelo may be looking to the Colorado River Municipal Water District's lake at Robert Lee for part of its regular water supply.

S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, who has made a study of runoff during the past seven years into the Three Rivers reservoir, told the San Angelo council Tuesday morning that the two reservoirs at San Angelo could not be expected to yield enough water to meet needs over the next 32 years.

He said there was a good chance that the city would need an emergency supply by 1970 unless there is heavy runoff on the Three Rivers shed.

Previously the CRMWD had offered to meet emergency needs of San Angelo, but Freese's advice was for San Angelo to contact the CRMWD toward some permanent arrangement to supplement its supply.

CRMWD directors here Tuesday afternoon said they were ready to discuss the matter with San Angelo and asked Freese, who also is consulting engineer for the CRMWD, to prepare a report as a basis of consideration.

Light Showers Peck At Heat

By The Associated Press

Light showers splattered Texas today without much effect on the heat wave following heavy rains in the eastern part of the state.

Daingerfield in Northeast Texas was drenched with 3.08 inches of rainfall for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Both Maud and Mineola recorded two inches for the same period. Wolfe City had 1.66. Anna received 1.26 inches and Farmersville, farther north in Collin County, had 1.83 inches.

Forecasts indicated little change was in prospect.

Lighter rainfall amounts were recorded along the upper Gulf coast today. Most of the showers and occasional thunderstorms Tuesday afternoon were in North Central Texas and in the Big Bend country of far West Texas.

Skies were clear in most areas by early today, except for showers spreading from Matagorda up the coast past Beaumont and a few clouds around Austin and San Antonio.

Three Dimensions Exist In All Insurance Policies

There are three dimensions to any insurance you purchase according to Jeff Brown, agent and owner of Permian Insurance Agency.

The three dimensions exist in auto, home, business and other types of insurance in the form of savings, service and security.

A purchaser of insurance should be concerned about each of these three dimensions of insurance, says Brown. With inflationary spiral of business and living costs, certainly the first dimension of insurance, savings, should be given careful consideration. Webster's dictionary defines savings as "any reduction in time, expense, . . . and sums of money saved."

WATCH "CHEAP" LABEL

Jeff Brown comments that the purchase of the cheapest insurance policy on the market is not always a savings because the buyer also expects to save time and expense if he has to claim to settle. The Permian Insurance Agency represents not just one company, but many and their rates and cost of insurance are competitive. He personally guarantees his customers every saving of money he can offer. The saving of time and headaches leads to the second dimension in insurance — service.

The Permain Insurance Agency believes service is the thing you should buy the most of when you purchase insurance. An insurance policy is just another document tucked away in a drawer somewhere until a claim arises, then the policy holder finds out just how much service he has purchased.

MANY FACETS

Service in the field of insurance is many things. Service is getting speedy attention to a claim when it arises, and is getting an equitable settlement. At the Permian Insurance Agency your claims are not only paid promptly, but the policy holder is assured of being paid exactly what he is entitled to under his policy. Service is being properly counseled on the type of insurance the buyer needs and can afford. Jeff Brown personally guarantees service to each of his customers.

The third dimension of insurance, security, is defined in the dictionary as "a feeling of safety of certainty . . . freedom from anxiety or doubt." Security in insurance means the fidelity and dependence of the company with whom you are insured.

A policy holder must have the assurance that the company with whom he has his insurance will not go into a state of bankruptcy and will be able to properly pay claims as they arise.

COMPANIES RATED

At the Permian Insurance Agency, Jeff Brown keeps a copy of the Alfred M. Best Insurance Rating Guide on his desk. In this guide every insurance company that conducts business in the United States is listed and rated. The Permian Insurance Agency prides itself on the fact that they represent only those companies that have the highest national ratings.

The Permian Insurance Agency invites you to inquire about its free insurance survey. Permians' insurance survey is actually the agency team at work. This technical group is made up of Jeff Brown, his experienced staff, insurance company special agents, engineers, Certified Property and Casualty Underwriters (CPCU). They survey the perils and risks to which you are exposed, whether it be your home or business, and recommend insurance fitted to your particular needs. Permian Insurance Agency also offers its popular "half - a - house" survey.

COMPLETE COVERAGE

Jeff Brown, also a realtor, is qualified to inspect your home, analyze market values and building costs, and make recommendations whereby you as a homeowner will have a "complete house" insured, not just "half-a-house."

The Permian Insurance Agency, members of the Independent Agency System, reminds you they market the three dimensions of insurance — savings, service and security, and the insurance policy goes along at no extra cost. For all your insurance needs, call or visit Jeff Brown at the Permian Insurance Agency, located in the Permian Building, downtown Big Spring.

United Fund Sets Goal Of $109,225

The figure of $109,225 was adopted Tuesday afternoon as the goal for the 1968-69 United Fund campaign, which will support 15 welfare and youth-building agencies in their next year's operations.

This campaign goal was adopted at a meeting of UF board of trustees, upon recommendation of the budget and screening committee.

It is only $2,246 over the amount actually raised last year; however a goal of $116,221 had been sought in 1967, and when it was not met, remittances to participating agencies had to be reduced by 10 per cent.

Said budget chairman R. W. Thompson in presenting the report:

REALISTIC

"The budget grants, in the opinion of the committee may, in some cases, represent less than the minimum support required by the participating agencies to carry out their programs; however, we think the over-all total represents a realistic budget that can be raised."

And said Clyde McMahon Jr., campaign chairman for the year: "We're going to raise it."

McMahon said heads of major divisions already are at work in selecting volunteer workers for the campaign which begins in some categories, in September, and will be in full momentum during October.

The budget breakdown for the forthcoming campaign shows the following grants to agencies:

ALLOTMENTS

YMCA, $16,500; Lakeview YMCA, $6,000; Girl Scouts, $7,200; Salvation Army, $17,000; West Side Youth Center, $1,800; Summer Recreation Program, $1,175; Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, $10,500; Boy Scouts, $13,600; Texas United Fund, $300; Milk and Medicine Fund, $2,400; Red Cross, $15,000; Texas Rehabilitation Center (Gonzales) $1,000; Air Force Aid Society, $2,750; Halfway House, $300; USO, $1,200.

NO RESERVE

This is a total of $96,725. Campaign and operating expense are listed at $9,500; and a provision for shrinkage on pledges of $4,000 is included. No provision was made for reserve.

The UF hopes to end this year with a balance of some $10,000, after all agencies are paid in full, and deduction made for non-payment of pledges. The 1967 campaign brought in total cash and pledges of $106,196, and $14,745 of this remains unpaid. However, there will be income, through monthly payments, credited to this year's budget until Nov. 1.

Agents Arrest Armed Worker

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A 27-year-old federal program worker is free in his own recognizance after his arrest for boarding a Mohawk Airlines plane armed with three guns, two knives, ammunition and two cap pistols.

Hans Klint of Syracuse, who was to begin lecturing next week at an Upward Bound program at Utica College, was arrested by the FBI Tuesday as he boarded a Boston-bound airliner at Hancock Field.

The FBI said Klint carried a case containing a double-barreled shotgun, a .30-caliber rifle with a scope, a gas pellet gun, two knives, the ammunition and the pistols.

The arrests came, a bureau spokesman said, after agents received an anonymous phone call saying that a plane was to be hijacked.

Klint was freed pending a hearing by U.S. Commissioner Edward M. Conan. He was charged with carrying dangerous and deadly weapons aboard a plane, a felony.

A spokesman at Utica College said Klint had been a program coordinator in the federal-funded program last summer and was to have lectured there this year.

Negotiators Race Against Deadline

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers union members have armed their negotiators with an overwhelming vote of confidence as they race against a strike deadline a week away.

Thousands of the rank and file, in meetings, by voice, and by ballot across the nation, told their bargainers they would walk out of the mills if no contract is signed by Aug. 1.

Although the negotiations are secret, no money is believed to be on the table for the big dollar items like wages, pensions, vacations and unemployment insurance.

SHAKE MONEY

"This will shake the money loose," said one union district director as he reported his men better than 90 per cent in favor of a strike.

The vote, taken Tuesday in 600 union halls across the country, was the first of its kind for the nation's third largest union.

Reports from 83 locals representing about 180,000 men showed that some 3,700, or just over 2 per cent, were opposed. Figures from a dozen that took secret paper ballots showed 14 per cent opposed.

Each local was allowed to take the vote as it pleased. Most held meetings as the shifts changed and asked for a show of hands, yeas and nays, or standup vote.

Most meetings were attended by a third or less of the total membership but union rules allowed the vote to stand for the entire local.

Union leadership is under strong pressure to match the 6 per cent it won in the can and aluminum industries earlier this year, despite President Johnson's plea for wage restraint.

Steelworkers averaged $3.84 an hour in May, and the industry says fringe benefits added another $1.09. But the union has lost ground in recent years to other big industrial unions, especially the autoworkers, who also won a 6 per cent increase this year.

Unions Form An Alliance

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's two largest labor unions have announced formation of an alliance to tackle tough social problems and free the labor movement from "old attitudes and habits."

Officials of the United Auto Workers and the Teamsters stressed Tuesday that formation of the Alliance for Labor Action does not constitute a merger of the two organizations.

The announcement was made jointly at a news conference by Walter P. Reuther, president of the 1.6-million-member UAW, and Frank Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the 1.8 million Teamsters whose president, James R. Hoffa, is serving a federal prison term.

CRISIS

"In this time of crisis, dynamic and responsible labor organizations must contribute leadership and provide teamwork toward the continual advance ... of working people and must work together ... to find answers to the urgent problems of the whole of our society," a statement released at a news conference said.

Neither union is a member of the AFL-CIO. The Teamsters were dismissed from the AFL-CIO in 1957 and the UAW disaffiliated July 1.

The union spokesmen termed formation of the ALA "the most important labor development in recent years. The two unions will begin to organize unorganized workers, especially agriculture workers, and will push into social areas in which the UAW pioneered."

"The labor movement is at a crossroad," the statement said ... it must free itself of old attitudes and habits and demonstrate the willingness, the capability and the commitment to make fundamental changes in its policies that respond to the realities of a swiftly changing world."

WORK FOR POOR

Other organizations are invited to join the ALA, Reuther and Fitzsimmons said. A national conference of organization members will be convened early in 1969.

The step into the fields of social action and civil rights is a new one for the Teamsters who have been conservatives in the labor movement.

Reuther and Fitzsimmons said the ALA priorities include strengthening collective bargaining procedures, building up an emergency defense fund for use in labor disputes and formation of community unions to work for the poor and dealing with the critical social problems of the day."

Reuther said the ALA would not endorse any presidential candidate in 1968.

Fitzsimmons said: "We will endorse other candidates who meet the principles and aims of the ALA without regard to party."

"The labor movement must subject itself to honest self-evaluation. It must free itself from complacency and ... must acquire a sense of renewal and rededication to social progress," the statement said.

Funds To Fight Traffic Jams In Air Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved an additional $153 million for the Federal Aviation Administration in a move to relieve the congestion that has disrupted air traffic at some of the nation's busiest airports.

SURVIVAL

"This is not a matter of air safety, it's a matter of air survival," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said before the Senate approved appropriations of $983.4 million for the FAA.

The action came while reports of delays in takeoffs and landings at major airports throughout the country continued to come in.

The traffic jams, which have mushroomed in recent weeks, are threatening to cause the cancellation of some flights, a cutback in FAA services and the possible closing of some facilities.

The controllers maintain that they are overworked, short-staffed and underequipped to handle the increasing air traffic.

The bill was $153 million higher than a measure passed previously by the House and its sponsors said the extra money would provide for the hiring of 3,627 air-traffic controllers. The House bill allowed for only 1,631 controllers.

The Senate approved the additional money, part of an over-all $1.78 billion appropriations bill for the Transportation Department, 82 to two. Only Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., and Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., dissented.

An informed Senate source said he expects the House will agree to much, if not all, the increases in the Senate bill.

Quick action in the House will be necessary if the measure is to go into effect before fall since Congress takes a break for much of August due to the national political conventions.

TIEUPS TALK

In a related development, FAA officials met Tuesday with leaders of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization, a new union, to discuss the air tieups.

F. Lee Bailey, the lawyer, who is executive director of the union, said after the session his organization would seek meetings with industry and other interested parties this week to talk over immediate steps to end the problem.

Also, FAA administrator William F. McKee said a three-day meeting, starting today, would consider proposals on ways to relieve the congestion.

Lions To Sponsor Track Athletes

STANTON (SC) — Charles Elimore, ffrst vice-president presided at the Tuesday meeting of the Lions Club.

The Club voted to sponsor the local winners of the district track meet held in Odessa in the track meet in Fort Worth. The track program is part of the summer recreational program being carried on in Stanton.

The program was given by Guy Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown who attended school last ye-ar in Paris, France. He spoke on the history of Charles de Gaulle, his past and his present. There were 20 members present.

Bible School Held

WESTBROOK (SC)—Assisting with the Mount Zion Baptist Church vacation Bible school in Colorado City last week from the Westbrook Baptist Church were Doyce Edwards, Mrs. G. D. Rollins, Carole Bell, Donna and Carolyn Bryant. Over 100 were enrolled in the five day school. The Bible school was sponsored by First Baptist, Calvary, and Oak Street in Colorado City and Westbrook Baptist.

$682 In Fines

A total of $682 in fines were assessed in Corporation Court through Monday.

Of that amount, there were 23 cases of traffic violations for $377; 12 cases of intoxication for $285; one case of disturbance for $10 and one case of excessive noise for $10.

A Devotional For The Day

If any man among you see mto be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. (James 1:26)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, illuminate our minds so that we may be what You wish us to be. Both by our speech and by our actions may the world identify us as followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. In the name of Your Son we pray. Amen.

Post Convention Session Looms

Work on pending bills not passed by this second session of the 90th Congress must begin all over again in the new Congress to convene in January. That is why President Johnson urged Congress to speed up action on a long list of important measures before a scheduled August 3 adjournment or face an extended session after the Aug. 5 Republican and Aug. 26 Democratic national conventions.

Congress, especially the House, responded to the President's appeal with a flurry of activity. But now House Majority Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla., says he sees no chance for final adjournment before the national conventions. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., reluctantly agrees.

The stack of "must" bills, including indispensable budgetary appropriations, is just too high. Congress simply once again acted too slowly in the winter and spring months of a presidential election year. The sense of urgency, as usual, is belated.

A between-conventions session would be too short to do much, so the prospect now is for meeting after Labor Day for as long as possible before members of Congress have to leave Washington to campaign for the November general election.

Even such week-long pre-election meetings normally are unproductive because of intensified partisan political distractions and pressures. But the effort apparently will have to be made with hope for worthwhile constructive results.

Congress can either recess for the national conventions or, should it adjourn as scheduled, be called back into special session by the President. Johnson could, in fact, call another special session after the general election if still unsatisfied with the legislative output in his last year in office. Capitol Hill is beginning to get the message that the retiring President is determined to end his one full term climactically — a determination that happens fortunately to coincide with this nation's pressing needs.

Shorting A Civic Duty

After trying one case on the criminal docket this week, the 118th District Court was obliged to abandon plans for hearing one or two other cases.

The reason was simple. Out of an original panel of 120, the number reporting for duty Monday when the first case was called was 28. Doubtless most of the nearly 100 veniremen who did not appear had good reason for being excused. This is the vacation season and a larger attrition than usual is to be expected, but his percentage seems to us to be entirely too small.

In the past the court has had to threaten to levy fines upon veniremen for failure to report without a prior excuse. This is strong medicine, but is is warranted. In our opinion, it should be administered more freely if that is what is necessary to obtain a more representative response to calls for jury duty.

Dockets get jammed enough as it is, and legal machinery moves slower than seems necessary. But to have it grind to a halt because only little more than one out of every six veniremen report to do indespensable civic duty is something that calls for a remedy.

Off The Beaten Trail

A Tour Of Texas Continues

(The author of Off the Beaten Trail continues his brief report of what a Texas tourist may find—Editor's Note.)

South of Graham is oil's boomtown Ranger, a city sized for 10 times its 3,500 population and all that big when she blew in. The town's shrunk from those 1920s; but from Ranger's literally blowing her top, the industry learned to conserve . . . Just east is a real ghost—Thurber. This one was coal—centered in the early 1900s, with 100 million tons still below. Around the low hills, you'll find the old shafts and foundations of mansions and scars where the shacks stood.

Southeast is Stephenville and below it, little Alexander. There's a good campsite, wooded and watered; few stay overnight. An avenging ranger force wiped out an Indian camp, goes the story. Killed in the melee was an Indian mother and her baby. She was decapitated. But she's still there, the old ones say, waiting vengeful for any who camp the night.

EAST OF STEPHENVILLE is Glen Rose, lazy and pastoral on the Paluxy and Brazos—an old resort with iron-sulfury water. It's old indeed. Up the Paluxy you can count scores of clear track in what was once Cretacious mud swamp—now hard limestone—of dinosaur. This Dinosaur Valley was home to both the clawtaloned meat-eater and the monstrous vegetarian brontosaurus he hunted. Nowhere else will you find such awesome reach of time.

At Glen Rose, too, they make a case that John Wilkes Booth escaped a time there, just as down US 281, oldtimers are pretty certain Billy the Kid finished his days quietly at Hico.

Toward Fort Worth is little Keene, the clean, bustling town that prays Saturday and works Sunday. It's Seventh Day Adventist throughout and, whatever your faith, you'll find it renewed in Keene's no crime, no jail, no problems, no poverty. These people work.

SOUTH IS LITTLE Blum on Lake Whitney headwaters. Here's where most historians believe first Anglo-American Philip Nolan died; and here, for certain, is where that remarkable woman Mollie Bailey—who'd been spy and nurse for Confederacy—anchored her Texas circus. It had two rules: free to any Confederate Texan; a clean, wholesome show for all family.

Below Blum is the lovely valley of the Bosque and its Norwegian degian descendents, still with smorgasbord each year at Norse, above Clifton; and across the low hills is Comanche, a town once stern as named. John Wesley Hardin came to gun-end here, in trial.

GATESVILLE LIES southeast and, nearby, the old Ike Pancake mine, where a father and son knew they'd found Jim Bowie's lost treasure. At nearby Waco, for another treasure, veer south: some believe the Mexican silver called "The Steinheimer Lode" is near Rosebud; others are as convinced its closer to neighboring Little River . . . Ten miles east of Waco on the Brozos are the old river locks that promised to make this a great inland port; across rive, at Tehuacana Creek, are the ancient Indian Council Grounds, greatest of all of them and site of nearly every major Indian treaty this Texas ever drew with her first dwellers.

Farther east, between Groesbeck and Mexia is restored log - walled Fort Parker, Indian-massacred near the time of Alamo and the childhood home of Cynthia Ann Parker . . . and up Tehuacana Hills, close by, is the high ground where the Tawakoni tribe in last stand against westpressed Cherokee, was burned to obliteration. Twilights and early dawns, you just might see the last chief on that hilltop.

NEAR THORNDALE on the San Gabriel are sites of three ill-fated Spanish missions of the mid-1700s . . . while, below, near Giddings, you can discover the old Wendish American wellspring at Serbin, little changed . . . and, at Lockhart, where the park runs beneath low hills, you're on battlesite of Plum Creek, end of the last massive Comanche attack across Texas.

ABOVE AUSTIN, the downtown corner of little Round Rock is not too changed from the day Sam Bass rode into Ranger ambush . . . while, a little east on Brushy Creek, is faintest trace of Kennedy's Fort where Texans launched 1841's ill-fated Santa Fe Expedition.

(The author's traveler's-eye view of Texas will be continued in subsequent columns.)

Billy Graham

I quarreled with an old friend about a small matter, and he is not speaking to me. I feel badly about it and want to make amends and apologize for my part in the quarrel. Do you think we can become friends again?

J.M.

Of course it can be mended if both sides have an honest and wholehearted desire to do so. Deep friendships, however, are harder to mend after a break. Shallower friendships do not mean so much and are easier to mend. The Bible tells us that if one has wronged us and then asks forgiveness we are to forgive without reservation, even to 70 times seven. But you say your former friend will not let you confess your part in the break, and will not speak to you. First, you must think well of him; then speak well of him. Do not intrude, but wait with kindly patience. Try to show your good will toward him unostentatiously. Restored friendship of its former great depth will amply repay both of you for your trouble. In due time, I am sure, the bonds that formerly held you together will be restored stronger than before. Make it a matter of prayer. God will help you.

Credit Cards Speculation

NEW YORK (AP) — Want to hunt polar bear in Alaska, entertain your mother-in-law at a Paris restaurant, rent a houseboat for a Mississippi cruise, hire a big-name orchestra for your daughter's wedding reception—and charge it?

All you need is a credit card.

These are some of the more bizarre ways you can use a credit card but their purchasing power covers the whole gamut of goods and services.

IT'S ESTIMATED that Americans are carrying 200 million credit cards and using them to spend around $50 billion a year.

As a result of the proliferation of credit cards, there has been widespread speculution about the possibilities of a checkless, cashless society in the future.

Some bankers envision a nationwide system in which a single identification card would be used in place of all checks and almost all cash.

BUT American Express, a big name in the credit card industry, says, "The single-card system couldn't be further from reality today. The most striking feature of our present system of transferring money is the multiplicity of credit cards."

Credit cards as we know them today were pioneered in 1950 by Diners' Club, which was created with 200 members, an initial investment of $18,000 and a handful of restaurants in the New York City area. Within a year it had grown to 10,000 members who could charge at more than 1,000 establishments.

CREDIT CARDS now fall into three categories:

—Travel and entertainment. Operators in this field are American Express, Diners' Club and Carte Blanche. These cards are held primarily by business and professional men.

—Private label. Oil companies, airlines, hotels, car rental companies and department stores offer these cards primarily to promote their services or products.

—Revolving credit cards. These cards, largely regional or local in nature, are issued mainly by banks and financial organizations and are meant primarily for use by housewives for shopping.

THE CREDIT card companies derive their revenue from discounts from establishments which accept the cards in lieu of cash and from membership fees.

Some credit card practices have come in for criticism recently, mainly because of the mailing of unsolicited cards by banks and some others in the revolving credit field.

Vanished Glories Rehashed

NEW YORK (AP) — What's the use of being middle-aged if you can't brag about it?

Oddly enough, some people can't. They take their entrance into the middle years of life as a defeat rather than a victory, as a kind of dead end rather than as just another interesting corridor.

OTHERS RETREAT into pretense and try to hide the fact they are middle-aged. Trying to hide middle age is like trying to smuggle an elephant through a subway turnstile. It isn't an easy thing to do, and it can be very wearing on the spirit.

If you are middle-aged and are trying to disguise it, you must limit your conduct in many careful ways. For example you can't—

Mention any film by name in which you saw Shirley Temple act.

Dance the Charleston.

Describe the taste of bathtub gin.

Claim that Man O'War could beat Damascus by three lengths in a mile and a quarter race with one hoof tied behind his back.

ARGUE THAT golf has gone steadily downhill since Bobby Jones hung up his putter.

Get goose pimples at the very mention of Greta Garbo's name.

Do an imitation of Al Jolson singing "Mammy."

Point out how much more useful congressmen were to the people in the days when you could write them a letter and get back a packet of free seeds instead of merely a polite acknowledgment.

Smile wistfully when someone says something quaintly old-fashioned—like "That's the cat's pajamas!"

Pick up a mandolin or a ukelele and absent-mindedly strum a melody from it no one else has heard in ages.

MUSE ALOUD on the merits of the $2 hotel rom and the nickel glass of beer.

Boast that you once shook the hand of a man who had once shook the hand of mighty John L. Sullivan.

Give from personal experience the reasons why you think the Stutz Bearcat was the greatest automobile ever built in America.

Admit that you ever read a novel by Elinor Glyn, Gene Stratton Porter, or John Fox Jr.

Quote a poem by Edgar Guest.

HOLD AN audience spellbound while you recount the thrill of building your first crystal radio set.

Show off the splendid cigar band collection you assembled between 1925 and 1932.

Yep, if you're trying to hide the truth of your years, there are a lot of things you can't do.

But is the effort worthwhile?

What's the use of being middle-aged if you aren't free to brag about the vanished glories of your wayfaring, the souvenirs of your passing that make up your living being?

How To Keep Bunions From Growing Larger

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I started getting bunions several months ago and would like to know what to do to prevent them from perhaps getting larger.

I do not think I can go to a foot doctor as I am already a cripple and cannot get around too much.

I also would like to know what I can use for corns and calluses — that is, hard corns. — A. L.

A hard corn and a callus are not necessarily the same — although corns of all types are, like a callus, a result of too much pressure or friction on a given spot, so the skin thickens. Generally speaking, a corn is such thickening of the skin in one small spot; a callus is thickening over a larger area.

A bunion also is the result of pressure, but in that case, a pressure which throws the big toe out of proper alignment. The joint capsule swells and is damaged, and a bunion is, in fact, a form of bursitis. Once the joint is damaged, merely straightening the toe will not correct the bunion.

Thus the basic necessity in correcting corns and bunions is to switch to footwear that does not exert pressure on the critical areas — but removing the corns or correcting the bunions usually requires treatment in addition to getting proper shoes.

You do not tell me, A.L., the nature of the problem which has crippled you. It may or may not have a bearing on your foot trouble.

It is my opinion, on the basis of what you tell me, that you need the help of an orthopedist or a podiatrist (foot specialist) to make any real headway in preventing your foot troubles from becoming worse.

While you may be limited in your ability to get around, you live in a city which has excellent medical facilities, and I feel sure that you can find out (from your medical society or similar source) the name of doctors whose offices can be reached sufficiently easily by a patient in a wheelchair.

As to corns and calluses — aside from the need for shoes which will not cause pressure and thus create new corns — the accepted treatment is a 10 per cent solution of salicylic acid in an ointment or collodion mixture which is applied nightly.

Or use one of the standard corn-removal packets.

But I repeat: your condition sounds to me to be one which requires expert evaluation of the problem and some sound advice on exactly what you should do and show to be more comfortable and prevent the trouble from starting all over again.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addresesed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

More Marvelous Medicines

Some time ago, I had a list of the marvelous medicines of yesteryear, and the list proved too long for a single column. On the assumption that you have recovered from the previous medication, I now offer these from the antique collection of Joe Hedleston.

SMITH'S BILE BEANS was put out by James F. Ball, St. Louis, and sold originally for about 35 cents for the three dozen "beans" which were somewhat militant against constipation. The bottle, about the size of a pocket watch, has become a collector's item, being valued about $4. A margin like that ought to improve your feelings.

Another old remedy was Boneset. Nope, it didn't set any bones; rather, it was a tonic, an "aspirient, diaphoretic and emetic." Just put one ounce in a wineglass of hot water and standby for better days.

ANOTHER OF those hot-water deals was Weber's Alpine tea, for constipation, naturally. Pour half a pint of boiling water over the tea and you had a laxative as gentle as a mother's voice, "harmless and so gentle it is suitable for women in any condition."

And then there was Lobelia herb, an "expectorant and antisosmodie."

NOT ALL remedies were for the aliamentary canal. Polytrichum hyragogue deurebe (that's worse than a disease) was declared to be effective "incredibly increasing the flow of urine, or in suppression of urine." Take your pick before you swallow, I suppose.

Another dehydrater was Apocynum, good for relieving "edema of cellular tissue, a remedy in dropsy and rheumatism and neuralgia." Like so many other medicines of that day, this had a folksy background. It came from Canadian hemp and was introduced in 1870, and the clincher was that it was used by "Indians and early settlers."

ANEMOPSIS California was declared excellent for use in nasal catarrh, chronic diarrhea, catarrh of the bowels, symptoms of typhoid, indolent ulcers and gonorrhea. The magic ingredients were not divulged, but the label did confide that it had 44 per cent alcohol. It would make you happy if it didn't cure you.

But it couldn't hold a candle to Macrotys, a rhizome and root of cimecifuga racemosa (black snake root), which was good for "deep-seated boring distress, also for respiratory ailments." But note this, Macrotys had 78 per cent alcohol.

PERHAPS PLANTAGO would have been more effective if it had doubled its 31 per cent alcohol. As it was, it was declared to be a right nice remedy for toothache when dabbed on a bit of cotton and applied to the aching molar; or, taken internally, it was held out as being good in "incipient pthisis hemorrhage from the lungs . . . and for hemorrhoids." From beginning to end.

Vapor Cresolene was said to be "soothing in relief of colds, cough, bronchial asthma; it loosen mucous discharge; is good for parozysms of whooping cough." If you don't believe it, then take another whiff.

LBJ's Demands On Congress

WASHINGTON—Many unprecedented things have been happening in the relations of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the federal government, but there is talk now of another big surprise — namely, that President Johnson may try to keep Congress in session not just for a short time after the national political conventions but for a much longer period between election day and the inauguration of a new President.

IT CRTAINLY would be unusual for a President going out of office to call both houses of Congress into session after a presidential election in which he has not been a candidate. But, while Congress may, by joint resolution, announce its adjournment, the President still retains the authority to call a special session thereafter. On Capitol Hill there is some discussion already of the possibility that Mr. Johnson will seek to keep Congress in session almost up until January, when his successor will be inaugurated.

MR. JOHNSON has put on his "must" list a large number of bills which cover some important projects. There is no emergency which would require action on all of them, but a President has the power just the same to continue to call on Congress for the enactment of bills which he would like to see become law.

Congress, on the other hand—unless there is a truly pressing emergency—could ignore a President's request for action on legislation, and could recess from time to time at its own pleasure.

SO THE QUESTION of whether Mr. Johnson would be able to get his wishes fulfilled as he pushes for the passage of various laws that he says are urgent is related to how Congress itself might feel about staying in almost continuous session through this year.

Inasmuch as all members of the House of Representatives and a third of the Senate are up for election in November, the chances are that if, after a recess or adjournment in August, President Johnson summoned Congress again in September, there would be little done until after the pre idential and congressional campaigns have been concluded.

ONE OF THE obstacles to congressional action after the election would be the fact that many new members will have won seats but will not take office until Jan. 6. Likewise, the American people would certainly look askance at any pressure for legislation by an outgoing President before the new chief executive has even had a chance to take the oath of office. If, however, there are some unexpected developments in Vietnam and Southeast Asia requiring instant action, Congress undoubtedly would respond promptly with whatever steps might be necessary.

WHILE CONGRESS may be reluctant to pass a good many of the pending bills and several will be left for the January session, much depends on who the president-elect will be. If, for example, Hubert Humphrey is the Democratic nominee and wins the election, there would be a tendency for him to work in close cooperation with Mr. Johnson as well as the Congress. If, on the other hand, a Republican has been elected President along with Republican majority in one or both houses of Congress, there would be a disinclination to pass any new legislation until after inauguration day.

IT WOULD BE at variance with historic custom for an outgoing President to be so active in the closing months of his term in office. But Mr. Johnson may feel that, because he has not been a candidate for re-election, he should have the opportunity to complete his record with the passage of legislation that he deems in the public interest.

Non-Believer On Non-Proliferation

WASHINGTON — Even with Senator Fulbright off campaigning, and the much-milder Senator Sparkman in the chair, the content of skepticism in the Foreign Relations Committee is very thick.

This prestigious group has been hearing Administration witnesses on the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty. It is a 100-nation deal whereby the exclusive five-member Nuclear Club will freeze its membership in place and will pay off the outside-nations by promises of peaceful "nuclear-service" and guarantees against nuclear violence or blackmail.

SENATORIAL SKEPTICISM, covert and open, takes several forms. One senior solon sees it as a publicity stunt to feature President Johnson as a peace-lover, as if that were something unique.

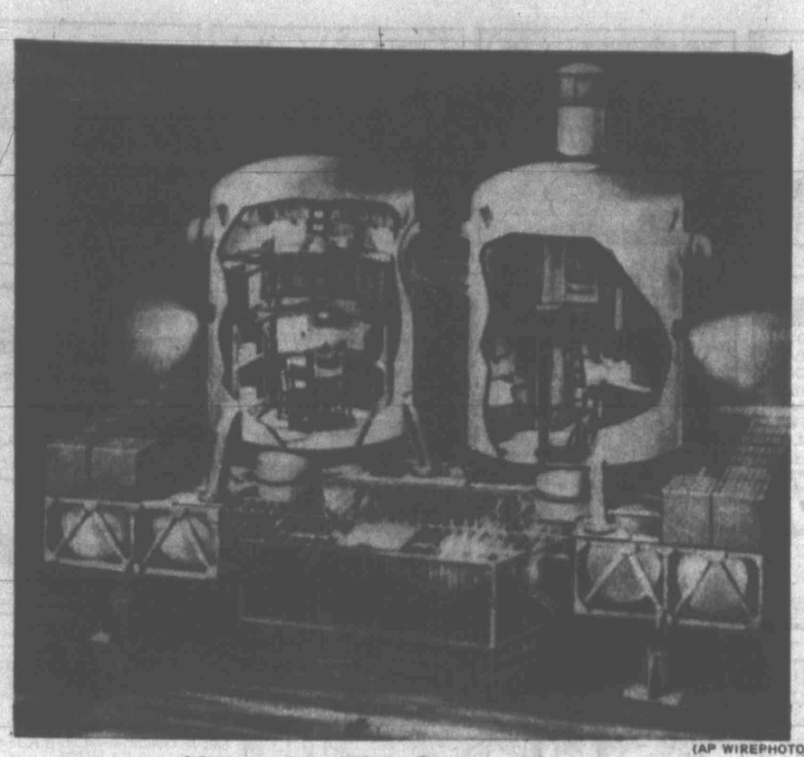

The price of his gaining that role, however, may be another round of concessions to the crafty Russians and heavy handouts to mendicant nations around the world. In any event, with Russia refusing to allow on-the-ground insepction, and with two other nuclear powers, France and Red China, scorning the Treaty, the game is pretty much one of theatrics and pious hopes.

COOPER OF KENTUCKY sees loopholes and ambiguities throughout the whole document. For instance, if France, being nuclear, formed a common government with West Germany, the Treaty would permit the new union to have nuclear arms. Britain, forming a commonwealth with Spain and perhaps the Netherlands, could make another large nuclear power. Where is the non-proliferation? The USSR, already a nation of many nationalities, might gobble up the Balkans, becoming a super-super power, and spreading the dread weaponry into the Mediterranean. On the other hand, the Treaty would prevent arming a United Nations peace-keeping force with nuclear arms.

THERE IS among the Administration witnesses considerable doubt about what would happen if Russia sent a nuclear device, supposedly peaceful, to Egypt. Could we demand inspection? The only international inspection team on tap, the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna, has been revealed as ridiculously understaffed and underequipped for worldwide work — not even accepted by a number of touchy nations who guard their sovereignty.

EXCEPT FOR an outspoken few like Turmond of South Carolina, who never bothers to compete for popularity prizes, the average run of Senators avoid saying anything that would get them tagged as war mongers. But most members of such committees as Foreign Relations and Armed Services are knowledgeable in the international facts-of-life. They know how often Russia has been able to surprise us with sputniks and other scientific wonders. They know that the United States has no military security whatever beyond what we supply in hardware and preparedness. This treaty has a paragraph about working "in good faith" toward world disarmament. And Secreatry Rusk says that, with 100 signers to the Treaty, there is something called "world opinion" that would militrate against nuclear deceit and sneak attacks. In their hearts, the Senators know that this is twaddle. No great nation lives any longer than it can defend itself.

Artist's drawing of the twin-chamber dwelling which a team of four scientists will use on the ocean floor of Greater Laméshur Bay, Virgin Islands Park, offshore from St. John Island, was released by General Electric Company at Valley Forge, Pa., one of the units taking part in Operation Tektite I, as the program has been named. The operation, scheduled for next year, calls for the four men to live and work for 60 straight days at a depth of 50 feet.

Negro Crusader Has An Unusual Stance

Editor's Note: Louis Calvin Browning is a Negro crusader, one who openly opposes the Negro militants. Yet he does not fully share the philosophy of the late Dr. Martin Luther King. The world, he says, owes the Negro nothing but an opportunity. His fight is an unusual one.

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH (AP) — His voice soft and his eyes sparkling behind horn-rimmed glasses, the man ran a hand nervously through his graying hair and said:

"Stokely Carmichael, Rapp Brown and Dick Gregory are wrong. Violence, rioting and looting not only are a disgrace to society, they are a reflection on our race.

"Riots and violence will not get anyone anywhere. . .

"Gregory said he was going to bring this country to its knees. If Hitler and the emperor of Japan couldn't do it, certainly Dick Gregory and his group, with their rocks and bottles, won't be able to do it."

MIXTURE

There should be one America, he said, neither black nor white, but a mixture of races, living and working hand in hand and moving forward as one.

This is the message of the Rev. Louis Calvin Browning, an imposing Negro minister who is conducting a shoestring, whistlestop war on crime and violence.

His target is youth and his style is evangelistic. His tools are outmoded but his message is topical. His problems are many, mostly money, or the lack thereof.

At 51, the tall, softspoken minister is the founder of the Youth Crime Prevention League of America, now in its 10th year but only recently generating much attention.

He is a fourth generation preacher, a minister in the Independent Methodist Church, and a 1927 graduate of Paul Quinn College in Waco.

His message is punctuated with Christian doctrine and leans heavily on such words as love, understanding, compassion and good will. But it is not unrealistic.

"We are asking our people to shun violence," he said in an interview. "We're asking our people to help build up and not tear down."

SHUN

"We are asking our people to work for togetherness. We realize a lot of un-American activities are at work to tear down and destroy. We are asking our people not to be used.

"The league emphasizes respect for law and order—if our laws break down, our society breaks down."

The league has a four-member staff and picks up additional workers during the summer, taking the word into cities via a red, white and blue mobile unit.

It is equipped with a speaker's platform at the rear and resembles the railroad cars used by political candidates of another era on their whistlestop tours around the country.

Once in a city, Texas or elsewhere, a tent is erected or a recreation hall obtained. Civic leaders, teachers, law enforcement officers and ministers are invited to speak at public "workshops."

Speakers are both black and white. The workshops are nonpolitical and non-sectarian.

WEEK

"We usually spend about a week in a town," the Rev. Mr. Browning explained. "We stayed in Houston a month, however, moving from one part of town to another.

"We have been watching Houston and Dallas closely because they are the target cities of outside agitation."

The league is conducting a campaign to raise $200,000 to build a state and national headquarters in Dallas, replacing temporary facilities in Fort Worth.

The Dallas facility, as visualized, would be a center for religious and educational graining of Negro youth. All efforts would be coordinated toward crime prevention.

The center, as is the league itself, would be financed by individual donations, although the Rev. Mr. Browning is hopeful that a big firm or foundation will some day take a monetary interest.

"The agitators are getting all the money they need to carry on," he pointed out softly. "And they are getting the publicity. But we who are trying to save America, well . . ."

Prior to the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, the Rev. Mr. Browning disagreed from time to time with the assassinated Negro leader.

SOME

"Some of the things I went along with, some I didn't," he says now. But he adds:

"Out of non-violence has grown violence. Let's cease all demonstrations and marches and let's work with government, state and city leaders at the conference table."

The Rev. Mr. Browning suggested to President Johnson in 1964 that he appoint eight "good will ambassadors," both black and white, to each state.

"Their job would be to meet with various state and district organizations to organize and push good race relations, good will and understanding . . . leaving no room for hate to spring up."

The President officially acknowledged the request but did not comply. Had he done so, the Rev. Mr. Browning feels, "it would have definitely minimized the chaos of today."

Continuing, he said:

"The Negro used to be scared of the white man. The young Negro is afraid no more. They've gone to war and fought and died with the white man.

"Actually, the white soldiers have contributed much to the opening of pathways for their Negro buddies. They come home and say, 'This black boy saved my life . . . and we civilians are going to have to learn to forget about the color line and give him the opportunity if he is capable.'"

But, he said, he tells his people:

OPPORTUNITY

"The world doesn't owe you anything but opportunity. We must be willing to accept the responsibility and walk arm in arm with our friends.

"The majority of white people are bending over backward to give the Negro and other races equal rights.

"I am just sorry that men like Stokely Carmichael and H. Rapp Brown have to come along at a time like this to mess things up for so many people."

"We must," he told one group, "have the spirit of good will, not barbarism. Mad men can't think."

Andy Warhol Has Created A Mystique

By JOHN GRUEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Warhol once told me to make up the story of his life. He thought it would make much better reading than what he could tell me about it. He said nothing very interesting ever really happened to him.

This was before he was shot in the chest and wounded in his studio. An actress-writer is being held in the shooting.

His shooting is a fact.

The rest of Andy's life does read like fiction—but it isn't. He has created a mystique, but it is a mystique based on reality. Andy moves in an underground world of odd diversions and odder personalities. His entourage is a dark, complex cosmos revolving around the spectral, silent figure that is Andy Warhol —sometimes called the father of pop art and the inventor of the underground cinema.

LANGUOROUS

The people Andy surrounds himself with are night-people. They are languorous yet nervous types given to doing 'their thing' in front of Andy's always-rolling cameras. Andy seldom requires a script for his movies. He just asks his stars to be themselves, to do the things they like to do, and to say the things they like to say. The language and action of Andy's films often resemble an encyclopedia of aberrations.

Clearly, Andy Warhol is a phenomenon. Call Andy a fraud, and he'll smile. Call him a genius, and he'll smile. Insult, berate, humiliate him, and, again, he'll smile. Andy makes a fetish of letting things happen. He and his crowd may appear at a party and stand in one spot for three hours. He will note that he and his friends are being noted —then, quite suddenly, they will all get up and leave. But everyone will have known that Andy Warhol was there.

Andy is of medium height, quite thin, and he sheds an aura of paleness. There is something amorphous about his body. While his movements are fluid, they are also curiously inanimate. His appearances are more like apparitions. He is the hippie world's invisible man. He is given to wearing sunglasses at all hours of the day and night —these seem to be the one substantial part of his body. Warhol streaks his hair silver—a further concession to his love for the spectral and plastic artificiality.

GHOSTLY

Warhol's face is the ghostliest part of him. The texture of his skin resembles a rubberized mask. It has a deathly pallor. Cheekbones are high, eyes are deep-set.

Andy Warhol has no age. They say he's 38 or 39 or 40. But he could be a young boy or an old man. Andy likes to be thought of as an enigma. Some people have called him a sphynx without a riddle. But there are some things we do know about him: that he has studied at the Carnegie Institute of Technology; that he's been a highly successful fashion illustrator, that he started to paint in 1960, and that he painted his first Campbell Soup can in 1962.

We also know that he is one of the chief promulgators of the style known as pop art. He was among the first to give preferential, as well as reverential treatment, to the every day object. He has also become celebrated for producing works with as little manual labor as possible, preferring mechanical techniques to do the work. Thus, the silk screen method of reproduction is one of his favorite techniques, and it has served him well.

Numerous portraits of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and such movie stars as Marilyn Monroe and Elizabeth Taylor have brought him fame.

BIZARRE

He has also done whole series of silk-screens depiciting newsphotos which invariably show grotesque car accidents, and other bizarre events. Today, these works fetch up to $15,000 each. Andy has also produced three-dimensional works, such as his famous Brillo Boxes, and more recently, his helium-inflated, transparent plastic pillows.

He is an innovator of sorts. He has questioned those precepts which say that a still-life composed of a crystal vase, a bowl of fruit and a marble bust, is worthier of an artist's attention than the faithful reproduction of a soft drink bottle. He has, in consciously shocking terms, stripped Art of its capital A. To have done this took a certain vision. Andy Warhol must, therefore, be counted as one such visionary who has had the daring to give these visions shape and form. Indeed, since the advent of Andy Warhol and company, one no longer hears the argument that a mass-produced object cannot be a work of art.

Warhol has a place on New York's busy Union Square. He calls it The Factory. Its 3,200 square feet are divided into two rooms. The rear room is windowless and serves as a screening and editing room for Warhol's films. The front room has windows, whitewashed walls and two glass-topped desks. The place usually brims with activity—with people entering and leaving at all hours of the day. It is here that Andy and his entourage get together for work or for pleasure.

WEEKLY

The Factory produces approximately one film a week, although longer, more elaborate films are shot in various locations.

Warhol's earliest films were all studies in unrelieved boredom. "Sleep," showing a man sleeping, lasts six hours. "Kiss," showing couples kissing, takes about as long. "Eat," shows artist Robert Indiana munching on a mushroom. It lasts four hours. "Empire," a view of the Empire State Building, runs eight hours. "13 Most Beautiful Women" and "13 Most Beautiful Men" focus on a single face that stares at the audience for the span of three minutes each.

With "The Chelsea Girls," a three-and-a-half hour excursion into Peeping Tom-ism, Warhol came into his own as a filmmaker of advanced technique and advanced sex. Using a split-screen technique, he explored various rooms of the Chelsea Hotel, allowing his camera to fix on a series of sex-infested scenes. He made clear the proposition that sexual perversion can be as boring as watching someone asleep for six hours. Still, "The Chelsea Girls" became the first underground film of the 60s to reach wide audiences and draw the attention of major film critics.

MAKE-UP

Underground Warhol goddesses with made-up names like Ingrid Superstar, Ultra Violet and International Velvet, continue to remain in Andy's orbit.

In the Warhol films, with rare exceptions, they emerge as vacuous creatures, whose thespian ineffectuality is the basis of their stardom. Andy cultivates their prettiness, vacuity and artificiality almost as if to point up the kind of parody and emptiness that he so deeply cherishes.

For all his mystifying image, and for the mystique that has ensued, Andy Warhol has managed to be extremely enterprising about his creative endeavors. There is, in fact, what amounts to an Andy Warhol industry at work.

His films are an amalgam of the passive, the active, the sadistic, the masochistic, the homosexual, and the drug-infested sides of sexuality. Invariably, all is subjected to the pall of boredom-something Warhol always elevates to the highest degree of importance.

Children's Museum Grows Into A Lure For All

Editor's Note: As a children's museum, there was none larger, none quite like it in the world. It has expanded its scope now, and provides a lure for all. This is the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History.

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH (AP)—"Most people have to live in 1967, but I don't.

"I can walk into a Texas pioneer town, or go back 3,000 years, or even go into the future and take a trip to the moon.

"This may sound like magic, but it isn't . . ."

So wrote Karina Naumer, 9, last year. And this was no childhood fantasy.

DAUGHTER

Karina is the daughter of Helmuth Naumer, executive director of what until recently was the Fort Worth Children's Museum. It is now the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History.

Just prior to the name change, Naumer, 34, said:

"We are the largest children's museum in the world and consequently have reached the point where our scope does, and should, include the entire family."

But whatever the name, the museum remains a source of entertainment, inspiration, education and excitement for people of all ages and backgrounds, particularly children.

As Karina told a youthful audience in the magazine Jack and Jill, ". . . You can talk to a crow . . . make a weasal change his coat from summer brown to winter white . . . learn how your body works by watching a transparent mechanical woman . . ."

LEARNED

There is much more, as nearly 500,000 people learned as they paraded through the $2.5 million complex last year, pursuing a myriad of interests ranging from snakes and stars to sex and skeictons.

Many attend classes such as "busy bees" and "tiny creatures," "yoga," "taxidermy for sportsmen" and "antiquities casting."

Preschool kids learn through exploring, experimenting and giving creative expression to their ideas and feelings.

"They become enthusiastically aware of the world around them," a curator says.

Unique to the preschool classes is the abundance of material in the museum.

"The exhibits planetarium and collections are the many real and dramatic things that make learning easy," the museum points out.

Visitors can dabble in sex education, view a 70 million year old allosaurus marsh skeleton, see the sky as it was on any given date in history or watch their own brain waves.

The allosaurus marsh is said to have roamed over Texas 70 to 200 million years ago, leaving tracks near Glen Rose. The skeleton now reigns over the Hall of Natural History.

STONE

The exhibits include the Mayan stone works in the Hall of Man and the diorama of the Battle of the Alamo is in the Hall of Texas History.

Besides the Halls of Man and Texas, there are Halls of Geology and Natural History, Live Animals, World Dolls, African Mammals and Birds, Children's Art, Astronomy and an entire wing devoted to health and medicine.

In the latter, there is a popular exhibit of a transparent woman who gives a recorded lecture on physiology.

The nobel planetarium is the largest single exhibit, with a 90-seat theater.

The projector is capable of producing upon the theater's domed ceiling a realistic sky, either as it appears now over any country or as it appeared at any time in history.

Features include special effects such as the reproduction of comets, eclipses and the Northern Lights. The planetarium ranks among the top 10 in the country.

One of the museum's satellite operations is the Greer Island Nature Center and Wild Life Refuge on 396 acres at nearby Lake Worth. Part of the natural science program, it concerns itself with teaching conservation and nature appreciation.

EXPLORE

Individuals can explore along a river, around marshes and wooded areas, viewing many varieties of birds and mammals.

The museum school is among the world's finest, with a year-round waiting list of 400 for preschool classes alone.

A specialized program, it has an established faculty and curriculum of after school and leisure time classes and clubs for ages 3 up.

"The main objective of a museum school is to teach observation," says Naumer, an anthropology graduate of the University of New Mexico.

"If children can experiment not only with nature but also the sciences and the arts, they have a certain amount of background to build on, whether they realize it or not.

"The biggest thing we try to do is teach children to teach themselves. In the future, everything is going to be so complicated and complex that you're going to have to spend your life in school or learn how to teach yourself to do these things.

EASIEST

"We use the easiest things in the world to teach with—the objects. The youngsters can see it immediately. They are not having to interpret for themselves."

Like most museums, Naumer said, this facility suffers normal financial and personnel problems but he pointed up another prime irritant:

"A lack of awareness by the public as to what the real current day museum is."

It is not a vaulted, dark, grim place, he said, but a dynamic, progressive, moving institution, a fountainhead of knowledge and inspiration.

'WATER OF LIFE' IS BIG BUSINESS

Scotch Whisky Is A Major Export

EDITOR'S NOTE — Over the land of kilts of bagpipes wafts the spirit of Scotch whisky. The Gaels called it the "water of life." It is also big business.

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

EDINBURGH (AP) — "'Twill make a man forget his woes; 'Twill heighten all his joy; 'Twill make the widow's heart to sing, Tho' the tear were in her eye."

'Twill also help Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Britain out of a deep hole if the Scots can keep on making and exporting more and more of it—Scotch whisky.

Robert Burns could not have dreamed in 1786, when he composed his ballad to John Barleycorn, that they would ever make so much whisky it would be evaporating at the rate of 12 million gallons a year.

AGING

So it is in 1968. There are more than 600 million gallons of whisky quietly aging and mellowing in butts and hogsheads throughout the land of kilts, bagpipes and oatmeal. Each year two per cent of it vanishes into the soft, Scottish air.

Last year the equivalent of about 190 million bottles was sold to the United States for $153,600,000. Americans shelled out $48 million more for Scotch whisky than for British automobiles in 1967.

The United States took more than half of Scotland's total whisky exports of 43 million proof gallons last year. France, West Germany and Australia are the next best customers for Scotch whisky, but they are far behind the United States.

Whisky made from a mash of fermented barley has been trickling from the Highland stills in Scotland for centuries. Nobody knows when the first batch was made. The first known reference to it in public records was in 1494.

The Gaelic name for it was "uisge beatha"—water of life. Uisge beatha is big business now.

Scotch now is exported to 160 countries and exports account for some 80 per cent of sales. The United States buys more than twice as much as is consumed in the British Isles. The Scots, with about 10 per cent of Britain's population, sip between 15 and 20 per cent of the home consumption.

Production is slowing down now because of the vast stocks and some of the 120 distilleries in Scotland are working only part time. There is enough whisky on hand to last 10 years.

COLLECTED

In addition to the foreign exchange whisky exports brought in $292.8 million last year, the British government collected about $355.2 million on whisky sold in the United Kingdom. Home consumption is estimated at about 80 million bottles a year.

The bottle of Scotch which winds up on a bar shelf in the United States or elsewhere has had a fascinating ride. It will be, except in rare cases, a blend of whiskies from a dozen or more different distilleries in Scotland. By British law, whisky may not be labelled Scotch unless it was distilled in Scotland.

The distinctive taste—smoky, peaty or however it is described —comes from the pure malted barley whiskies. A certain amount of whisky made from other grains than barley is added to give it a smoother taste. Although many Highland Scots prefer pure malt whisky, the taste for it has not spread very far yet.

All the mystique about Scotch, and there is plenty of it, is bound up in the pure malt whiskies.

The secret of Scotch, says the Scots, lies in the soft Scottish water, the peat, the climate and, very importantly, the onion-shaped pot stills in which all malt whisky is distilled. It helps, apparently, if the water flows over granite somewhere on its way to the still.

Even so, no two malt whiskies taste the same, the experts say. Some are "richer" or "fatter" than others.

The blending of the various whiskies is done almost exclusively by smell. Blending establishments like to say their blender has "the best nose in the business."

The whisky must remain in the warehouse for at least three years to meet the requirements of British law. The three-year aging requirement has been enforced since 1915.

COMPLAIN

Scotsmen often complain that the British government is taxing their national drink right out of reach. The retail price of whisky varies from $5.52 to $6.24 a bottle. The tax on each bottle is $4.44.

This may be, but John Grey of the Glasgow Council on Alcoholism says there are 80,000 alcoholics in Scotland, 50,000 of them in Glasgow. The population of Scotland is slightly over five million.

Grey says there are five times as many alcoholics per head in Scotland as in England.

Bout Postponed Until Sept. 7

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Marvin Goldberg, American manager of Argentina heavyweight, Oscar Bonavena, said Tuesday night he had received word Bonavena had injured his right hand in training.

The injury forced postponement of his Aug. 3 Buenos Aires bout with Leotis Martin of Philadelphia. Goldberg said the fight had been rescheduled for Sept. 7.

ATLANTA (AP) — Paul "Bud" Moore of Charlotte, N.C., signed Tuesday with the Ford Motor Co. to drive the Bondy Long Turino on the NASCAR Grand National circuit for the rest of the year.

Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox was resting comfortably today following an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night. Lopez, who will be 60 next month, complained of stomach pains Tuesday and was taken to Mercy Hospital in Chicago as a precautionary measure shortly before the Oakland-Chicago game was rained out. A couple of hours later it was announced he was undergoing surgery.

Stars Miss 100 G Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The $100,000 Minnesota Classic—the closest thing to an institution on the pro golfing tour—opens a four-day run Thursday without most of the big name golfers.

The oldest tournament on the PGA circuit, the meet originated in 1930 as the St. Paul Open.

Such stars as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Doug Sanders, Gary Player, Masters champion Bob Goalby and newly-crowned PGA champ Julius Boros will be sitting out the tournament. The field of 150 will be packed with young pros.

Lee Trevino, colorful U.S. Open champion, and young Tom Weiskopf, currently the leading money winner of 1968, are rated the favorites.

Civil War Is Brewing In Pro Tennis Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Rozert Kelleher, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, says a civil war is brewing between pro promoters and the ruling associations and it may not be settled until the pros get a governing body of their own.

"I've often thought the answer was for the pros to have a sort of PGA, the way the golfers do," the Los Angeles attorney said today. "I don't know whether it could be established in the framework of the amateur associations. The pros need organization and government."

Kelleher stopped in New York en route back to the West Coast from Wimbledon, where he saw the first Open championship at that famed cradle of the game.

"Some of the pros had their dander up," the USLTA president said. "They felt the purses should be bigger. They felt they should have a bigger voice in the conduct of the tournament.

"There were even some rumblings that they might boycott some open tournaments if they didn't get their way.

"I'm convinced the British Lawn Tennis Association will never yield in its role as conductor of Wimbledon and other British tennis tournaments. The other assocations—the International Lawn Tennis Federation, our own association—they will never turn the tournament direction over to anyone else.

"The amateur associations have the organizations, the stadiums, the prestige. The pros need us more than we need them. But we need each other. I see no reason there can't be a workable solution."

In golf, the most powerful bodies are the U.S. Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews. They are primarily amateur bodies but both run the major open tournaments. They make the rules. The Professional Golfers Assocation is the parent organization of the club and touring pros.

In tennis, the pro groups have rival organizations. There is no central body that governs them all. The pro tennis players have yet to gain the stature or affluence of the golfing pros, who play for more than $5 million a year.

McCovey's Home Run Gives Marichal 18th

By The Associated Press

Willie McCovey stepped off the plane in San Francisco early Tuesday evening, but as far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned his feet still haven't touched the ground.

McCovey flew to Los Angeles for an examination of his gimpy right knee, then winged back home in time to stroke four hits, including a two-out 10th inning homer that gave the Giants and Juan Marichal a 4-3 triumph over the Cubs.

Marichal checked the Cubs on five singles before nailing his 18th victory in 22 decisions when McCovey unloaded home run No. 24.

BUCS NIPPED

Elsewhere in the National League, the streaking Cincinnati Reds shrugged off a two-run ninth inning homer by Pittsburgh player-coach Bill Virdon and nipped the Pirates 7-6 in the 12th; first-place St. Louis walloped Philadelphia 11-5, the New York Mets edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles topped Houston 3-1.

McCovey made his trip to Los Angeles to consult with Dr. Robert Kerlan regarding the knee injury that had been bothering for more than two weeks.

Dr. Kerlan found a touch of arthritis in the knee, but the Cubs soon discovered there's nothing wrong with the towering first baseman's wrist action.

McCovey drove in one of the Giants' two first inning runs with the first of his three singles. His run-scoring single in the fifth gave Marichal a 3-1 lead, but the Cubs rallied for two runs in the seventh to knot it.

Lamabe got past Ron Hunt and Willie Mays in the 10th, but McCovey broke the deadlock with a blast into the left-center field seats.

Marichal applied an 0-for-5 collar to Glenn Beckert, snapping the Cub second baseman's season-high hitting streak at 27 games.

The Reds bunched the last four of their 20 hits in the 12th inning to break a 5-5 tie at Pittsburgh after 37-year-old Virdon, reactivated last week after a three-year absence from the majors, sent the game into overtime with his ninth-inning homer off relief ace Ted Abernathy.

OFFSET RALLY

Tony Perez' fifth hit, a run-scoring single, gave the Reds a 6-5 lead and Tommy Helms followed with another RBI single, offsetting a Pittsburgh run in the bottom of the 12th and insuring Cincinnati's fifth straight victory.

Home runs by Ed Kranepool and Ron Swoboda and tight relief pitching by Cal Koonce carried the Mets past the Braves, who have dropped five in a row.

Kranepool hit his second homer of the year in the second inning and Swoboda crashed his first since June 10th in the sixth before Koonce rescued winner Tom Seaver in the eighth.

Two doubles by Roger Maris drove in four of St. Louis' 10 runs in the first three innings as the Cardinals stretched Philadelphia's losing string to five with a 14-hit barrage.

Lou Brock and Mike Shannon delivered two runs apiece for the Cardinals, who lead the second place Braves by 12½ games.

Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the sixth—the first hit off Mike Culler—and run-scoring singles by Ted Savage and pitcher Claude Osteen brought the Dodgers from behind against Houston.

Osteen scattered seven hits in bringing his season mark to 8-14.

Winningest Pitcher

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night became the National League's winningest pitcher with a 4-3 10-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs at San Francisco. It gave him an 18-4 record. The victory came on Willie McCovey's two-out homer.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Ex-Big Springer Bobby Bluhm will be a spectator rather than a player in this year's Odessa Pro-Am.

His partner of other years, Alvin Odom, has accumulated a grubstake approximating 20 big ones ($20,000) and will try it on the tour for a while.

A lefthander who attacks the ball in a way suggestive of the urbane Bob Charles, Odom will probably try his game first with the other touring pros in Minnesota. He figures he has enough money in his poke to last a couple of years, even if he doesn't win a little loot here and there.

Bluhm and Odom attended school together at Lamar Tech and Odom later took an assistant pro's job under Butch Baird at Galveston.

When Baird yielded to the temptation to go on the tour, Odom fell heir to the lucrative Galveston job and started saving for the day he could try and match shots with the titans of the tour.

He's just ordinarily long off the tee but the other pros may be asking him for pointers on putting. He's got a tremendous touch around the greens.

Ted Williams and Lee Trevino were and are rare exceptions in their chosen professions — they both have had a great romance with sports.

In his playing days, Williams felt he owed a great debt to baseball for giving him the chance to play. Trevino feels the same way about golf and, quite probably, would play it for nothing.

Most professional athletes — footballers, golfers and baseball players alike — do what they are doing for personal gain. Ideals such as a fierce love for their sport, service to the public or the challenge of competition rank far down the list of things which motivate them.

Pro golfers are far less enamored of their game than is an amateur in a remote place who wins the fourth flight in some tournament.

Baseball stars reject their profession as glamorous and feel little identity with heroes of the past.

Pro football players would have you believe they identify with the common man when they win a victory over the establishment by firming up their pension rights. Regrettably, they don't.

Many pro athletes sneer at the very people who pay the freight and support them in style for knowing so very little about their sport, especially when they try to discuss it knowledgeably.

One pro football club owner (Carroll Rosenbloom of Baltimore, who has been more than generous to his hired help in the past) said TV revenue, which now amounts to $22 million in one league alone, has hurt more than helped the game. He insists teams were making more money before the days of TV than they do now, mainly because the players are now demanding so much of the take.

That Lubbock Monterey football team, which ties into Big Spring in the season's opening game Saturday night, Sept. 14, will field a line averaging about 202 pounds per man, according to coach Spike Dykes of the Steers.

Big Spring's primary will come in at about 178 pounds per man.

Dykes says he'd rather meet the Plainsmen then than on down in the campaign, even though enthusiasm has been running high in Monterey's camp since spring workouts.

Massengale Is $700 Richer

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The 20th annual Odessa Pro-Amateur golf tournament doesn't begin until Thursday but defending pro Don Massengale is already $700 richer.

Massengale, from Fort Worth, teamed with three amateurs, including his brother Rick, to win a special 18-hole pro-am warmup Tuesday.

Massengale and the three amateurs compiled a 30-29—59 score to beat out three other teams tied for second at 60. As the winning pro, Massengale got $700 and the amateurs each received $100 in merchandise.

Practice rounds for the 72-hole, $35,000 tournament started today. The winning pro will receive $8,000.

In a second warmup pro-am Tuesday, there was a three-way tie for the title at 68. The 18-hole event included a pro and only one amateur.

The winning pros were Ike Jones of Odessa, Gidd Faircloth of Kermit and Bud Ecton of Enid, Okla. Each pro received $250 and the amateurs got $83 in merchandise.

Massengale teamed with his brother Rick, a senior at the University of Texas, to win the 1967 pro-am.

Jet Prexy Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — No successor to Donald C. Lillis as president and chief executive officer of the New York football Jets will be named until a meeting of the board of directors. Lillis, 66, died Tuesday of a heart ailment at Watch Hill, R.I.

Sets 880 Mark

DUBLIN (AP) — Doris Brown of Seattle set an Irish all-comers record of 2:07.5 in the women's half-mile Tuesday night in an international track and field meet at Santry Stadium.

Pair Signed By Hobbs JC

HOBBS, N.M. — Two athletes from Albuquerque Del Norte High School signed letters-of-intent to New Mexico Junior College, head coach Ross Black has announced.

Signed to a joint basketball-track scholarship is John Whitson. The 6-1, 170 pound Whitson averaged 11 points and eight rebounds per game for the Knights.

In track, he high jumped 6-4, threw the javeline 175-0, ran the high hurdles in 15.0 and pole vaulted 13-2 with practice vaults of over 14-0.

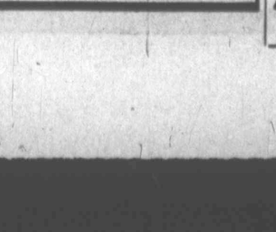

Whitson was limited to only one event in the Class AA state meet and was forced out of the state decathalon due to a bout with mononucleosis.

Also signed was Tony Lucer, a 5-9, 125 pound distance man. Lucero has best times of 9:52 in the two-mile, 4:29 in the mile and 1:58 in the 880 while competing with a pulled hamstring muscle.

Whitson and Lucero make a total of three Del Norte graduates, signing grant-in-aid agreements this year. Recently John Harrelson, a 6-3 basketballer, inked with head basketball coach Dale Caton.

Another Del Norte graduate, Gary Sandoval, was a member of the Thunderbird track team last year.

Texas Stars Slam International 9

The maruding Texas leaguers reached the finals of the District 3 Little League playoffs here Tuesday night by toppling the Internationals, 12-1.

No action is carded tonight. The title goes on the line Thursday night in the International park, at which time the Texans tangle with the National league's best.

A victory there would send the Texans into bi-district competition against the District 4 winner.

The Texans struck for nine runs in the first two innings to make it easy for John Thomas Smith to pick up the mound victory. Smith allowed only five hits, fanned nine and walked four.

Juan Rodriquez clubbed bases-empty home runs in the second and fourth innings while Rudy Rubio had a two-on round-tripper in the second.

Fernie Paradez, John Thomas Smith and Thomas Gonzales each had two hits for the winners while Jodie Allred was the only International player to get two blows. Allred scored the losers' only run in the first on Claude Jenkins' hit

The Internationals used three pitchers in a vain attempt to stem the tide. Jerry Knoepfel accepted the defeat.

Mark Bettered

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Marathon runner George Perdn, 43, set a long distance record of 84 miles, 1,413 yards in 12 hours Tuesday, but failed to break the 24-hour mark of 162 miles, 704 yards set in 1884.

Early Action Due On Golf Facility

City commissioners Tuesday night took a look at a preliminary sketch for a proposed new golf shop on the municipal course, suggested that some further details of the facility be considered by the Sports and Recreation Committee, and indicated that definite action on plans and specifications would be taken at the next meeting.

Daryle Hohertz, architect, showed preliminary sketches for an 1,800 square foot building of brick veneer finish with accommodations for pro shop, concession area, lounge and rest room space and locker storage. A preliminary estimate on the structure was $18,000, although this does not include furnishings and fixtures, nor does it provide for special utilities requirements or parking area.

The Commission indicated that it could proceed with the structure, on the basis of golf revenues which have increased with a raise in fees.

There was some question on building refinements and provision of more space, and these questions will be taken up with the Parks and Recreation Board.

Rebels Sew Up Circuit Crown

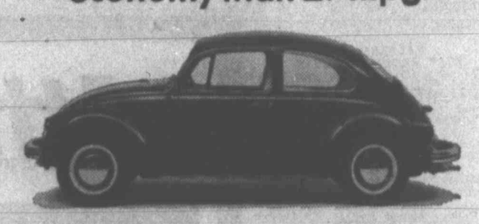

Both Teen-Age Baseball leagues here now have champions.

The Rebels sewed up first place honors in the Sophomore circuit Tuesday night by defeating the Red Sox, 4-3.

The Indians had previously clinched the top spot in the Hi-Junior league

Both the Rebels and the Indians are thus qualified for the post-season playoffs, which will be climaxed by state tournaments.

There's more to Volkswagen economy than 27 mpg.

It's only the beginning.
Volkswagens take pints, not quarts, at oil changes. And average 40,000 miles to a set of tires.
You can skip the expense of anti-freeze and broken water hoses, too. VWs are air-cooled.
Then there's something you may not give much thought to right away. Depreciation.
Give it some thought.
VWs don't change every year like domestic cars.
So you can sell a 2-year-old Volkswagen for more money than some domestic cars that cost more new.
Even if you kept it as long as 5 years, you'd still sell it for more than you'd get for that domestic car.
So anybody who tells you how much money VWs save you on gas isn't telling you the whole truth.

SEEKS SEVENTH STRAIGHT VICTORY

North Loaded Again

FORT WORTH (AP) — The North All-Stars will be loaded for bear again next week when they go after their seventh straight victory in the Texas High School Coaches Association's all-star football game.

The contest, in TCU's Amon Carter Stadium, concludes the association's annual coaching school, a five-day affair opening here Sunday.

The South, headed this year by Chief Wilson of Bridge City, has managed only one victory and a tie since 1953. The drouth may well continue.

To win, the Rebels have got to stop Abilene Cooper's Jack Mildren, the ace quarterback rated the best schoolboy football player in Texas last year.

Merrill Green, Mildren's coach at Cooper, will be directing the North squad.

Behind Mildren at quarterback will be McKinney's Phil Wood and Odessa Ector's Arturo Spencer, both defensive aces as well.

For backfield playmates, the quarterbacks will have a pair of speedsters in Jacksboro's Glenn King and Dumas' Steve Burks.

One of the North's mystery guests will be Doug McCutchen, a 195-pound back who comes from Class B Bronte. West Texas sports writers are calling him "another Donnie Anderson."

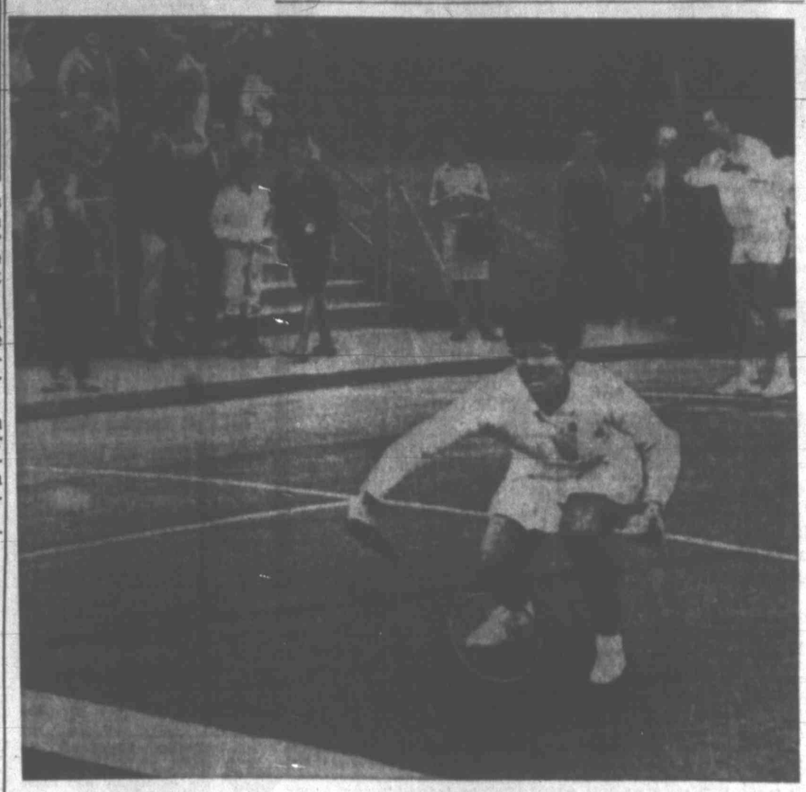

Like All-American Anderson, McCutchen plans to attend Texas Tech.

Other top North backs include Plano's John Griggs, Seagraves' Mike Bagley, Garland's Andy Hoyle, and Palestine's Reagan Young.

Highly-regarded center Harcy Chapman of Odessa Permian, a 245-pounder, will anchor the line. With him will be Lewis Williams of San Angelo, John Dampeer of Kermit, Fred Parr of Irving, MacArthur and Mike Johnson of Dallas South Oak Cliff.

Fort Worth is contributing a nucleus for the North defense in North Side end Gary Martinec and Eastern Hills linebacker Steve Luebbehusen.

Also defensively, the North has Keller linebacker Walter Ethridge, Granbury end-linebacker Jerrell Bolton, Ozona tackle Gary Suttion and Edorado lineman John Mayo.

Wimbledon Stars Give Free Net Lessons

Billie Jean King, world's top amateur, and Fred Stolle of Sydney, Australia, warm up on court painted on street which was temporarily closed in front of Negro Community Center at Hunter's Point in San Francisco Tuesday. They were among several top tennis stars who participated in a tennis clinic for youngsters, nine to 16 years of age who took advantage of this opportunity to learn the basic fundamentals of tennis from the experts. The event was made possible by TFE (Tennis for Everyone), a group active in promoting tennis for children of low income families.

Smith Goes To Bench For Help In Victory

By The Associated Press

Add Detroit's Mayo Smith to the list of push-button managers. First he pushed the panic button by starting Denny McLain with only two days' rest. But just when the Tigers were in danger of losing again he hit the right one and out popped two pinch hitters who turned the game around.

When the wheels had stopped turning Detroit had a 6-4 victory over Washington Tuesday night and a six-game lead in the American League as Baltimore stopped Cleveland 8-6 and jumped back over the Indians into second place.

YANKEES WIN

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees downed Boston 4-1 and California and Minnesota split a doubleheader by 3-1 scores, the Angels taking the opener and the Twins the nightcap. The Chicago White Sox led Oakland 3-0 after 2½ innings before they were rained out.

Detroit trailed Washington 4-3 on the strength of Frank Howard's 28th homer in the second inning and a three-run outburst in the sixth. But Phil Ortega walked Al Kaline to open the eighth, Willie Horton sacrificed him to second and Bill Freehan also walked.

Pinch hitter Jim Price singled home the tying run against Barry Moore and after Dave Baldwin got Norm Cash to foul out, Gates Brown, another pinch hitter, singled in the go-ahead run. The Tigers scored an insurance run in the ninth on Jim Northrup's double and a single by Kaline.

The late-inning fireworks provided Denny McLain with his 19th victory, although he left in the eighth for a pinch hitter. It was the third time this month a Detroit starter had worked with two days' rest—a month in which the Tigers' lead had dropped from 9½ to five games before Tuesday night's action—and the third time this season for McLain.

"We were very fortunate," Smith said. "Maybe we needed a game like this to turn us around."

IN LOSING STREAK

The Tigers had lost eight of 12 games since the All-Star break.

Boog Powell's three-run homer and Dave Johnson's two-run triple powered Baltimore past Cleveland. Powell doubled home a run in the first inning and then scored on Brooks Robinson's homer. Jose Cardenal put the Indians ahead 4-3 with a fifth-inning homer.

But Powell unloaded his 16th homer in the bottom of the inning and Johnson's triple in the eighth offset a Cleveland run in the eighth and Joe Azcue's homer in the ninth.

The Yankees utilized a bases-loaded walk to beat Boston. Juan Pizarro walked Frank Fernandez with two out in the seventh inning to force home the tie-breaking run.

Tom Tresh homered in the fifth for their first run and they added two in the eighth. Stan Bahnsen went the route for the Yanks.

George Brunet scattered six hits and won his fifth straight game as California won the opener from Minnesota. The only damage was Ted Uhlaender's seventh homer, which ended Brunet's string of scoreless innings at 24.

But the Twins scratched out three unearned runs and won the nightcap behind Jim Merritt's clutch pitching.

FOR SHOW BIZ

Grier Quitting Pro Football

By The Associated Press

Roosevelt Grier, a 287-pound veteran, is finished with pro football. Definitely. Sam McDowell, a 350-pound—maybe more—rookie, is ready to start his career. Maybe.

A Los Angeles Rams' spokesman said Tuesday the 36-year-old Grier, a defensive tackle for 11 National Football League seasons, has retired to devote his time to show business and working for "harmony and peace among races."

Grier sat out last year with a ruptured Achilles tendon.

When McDowell, an offensive tackle who was the Miami Dolphins' ninth-round draft choice, signed his contract, it was stipulated that he report to camp.

McDowell reported Tuesday, stepped on the scales and the needle bounced to the maximum 350 pounds. His total weight could be only estimated.

He was held out of the American Football League's first full-scale workout, and Joe Thomas, director of player personnel, said a decision on McDowell's status would be made shortly.

In a National Football League trade Tuesday, the Dallas Cowboys acquired kicker Mike Clark from the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice. Clark is expected to fill a vacancy created when Danny Villanueva retired last week.

Defensive safety Jerry Richardson quit the Atlanta Falcons and defensive tackle Dennis Randall left the New York Jets' camp.

Officials of the NFL Falcons said Richardson quit when his demand for a three-game guarantee for the 1968 season was refused. Richardson needed to be activated for at least three more games to be eligible for a five-year NFL pension.

A spokesman for the AFL Jets said he didn't expect Randall to return. Club officials said he was unhappy and had several business opportunities.

Tackle John Johnson, a five-year NFL veteran, and rookie halfback Gary Lyle still had not reported to the Chicago Bears' camp, and Coach Jim Dooley said each would be fined $250 for every day they are absent.

Dooley also announced that defensive back Roosevelt Taylor had signed.

And George Halas Jr. announced the Bears are willing to trade defensive back Richie Pettibon to New Orleans for the Saints' No. 1 draft pick. Pettibon recently announced he would retire if not traded to the Saints because he cannot leave New Orleans for business reasons.

Veterans John Wooten and Rick Fichtner, put on waivers by Cleveland recently after stories broke concerning an alleged racial slight, became free agents after no other NFL club claimed them. Wooten, a guard, is a Negro. Defensive back Fichtner is white.

CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION

This car has passed our 16-point safety and performance test.

Introducing a used car guarantee. It doesn't come with every car.

It's a 100% guarantee. Not one of those "we-pay-half-you-pay-half" deals.

And it comes only with used cars that pass the Volkswagen 16-point Safety and Performance Test.

This is how it works. When we get a car as a trade-in, we give it the inspection. Check it out completely. If it passes, we tune up, tighten, repair or replace everything that needs tuning up, tightening, repairing or replacing.

Then we guarantee it: 100% repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles.

What kind of cars get our guarantee sticker? Chevys. Fords. Ramblers. VWs. (We get all kinds of trade-ins for new Volkswagens.)

So. The next time somebody tries to sell you a used car that's "just like new," ask about the guarantee. Then remember us.

No, our used cars aren't "just like new." No used car can be. But no used cars could be in better shape, either.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)

We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.

We leave out the drive shaft. You know the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)

Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.

As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Show Biz Booming Wages In Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — With the tourist invasion continuing to grow as the jets touch on these shores, entertainment is booming.

Probably nowhere else in the United States—except Las Vegas, where the gambling creates artificial salaries—could a performer get a half-million-dollars per year contract. That's the reported salary for Hawaii's biggest draw, Don Ho, who plays to packed houses at Duke Kahanamoku's thrice nightly.

$5 A NIGHT

Of course, Ho is the only performer who draws that kind of money—hula dancers earn as little as $5 a night at outer island hotels. But as the demand for entertainment rises, so do salaries.

The American Guild of Variety Artists, which represents night club entertainers, has taken note of the situation. The union has threatened a strike unless hotel owners come forward with hefty raises for its members. Some demands are double current salaries, according to hotel soucces.

An AGVA negotiator declined to discuss specifics.

AGVA's ability to organize a strike is complicated by the moonlighting tradition among Hawaiian entertainers.

"Nearly every signer, dancer and musician in the show has a day job, too," explained a performer, who works for an electronics firm. "It would be hard to achieve any solidarity to call a strike."

But the AGVA officials remain militant, seeking minimum wages that would make moonlighting less necessary.

One thing is certain: Gone are the days when hotel entertainment was provided by members of the staff—bus boys, chambermaids, beach boys, etc. The growing waves of tourists — 1,200,000 expected this year, 1,350,000 in 1969—are seeking more sophisticated entertainment.

Producing the Royal Hawaiian show was Jack Cione, a veteran of 10 years of Honolulu niteries.

"I've owned nine of them, and all have been successful," he remarked. "Now I have sold or transferred management of all of them. You used to be able to draw the tourist trade with strippers, but the topless girls ran them out of business. I've tried the topless policy, and that did well until the customers got accustomed to looking at bare bosoms."

Runaway Diesel

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Last month a Santa Fe locomotive got away from the railroad yards here and sped some 80 miles driverless across Kansas before it was derailed.

Tuesday, another diesel kept going when it should have stopped and crashed part way through the wall of the railroad shops.

The locomotive was sitting outside the shops when a machinist attempted to drive it inside. He said he applied the brakes "but she just kept on going" through a brick and reinforced glass wall.

Damage to the building was extensive, the railroad reported.

Opening lead: Four of ♣

With the king of clubs located behind the queen, South, the declarer at four spades, learned that he had only one entry to dummy—when this hand was dealt in a recent tournament. The procedure employed by most declarers was to lead the ten of diamonds from the North hand for a finesse. When West turned up with the king, South discovered that he was permanently disconnected from the dummy and he ended up losing one trick in each suit.

At those few tables where South was successful, the play proceeded differently.

West opened the four of clubs, declarer finessed dummy's queen and East won the trick with the king. The latter shifted to the king of hearts and South was in with the ace.

Declarer's problem was to confine himself to a single loser between the spade and diamond suits inasmuch as he was obviously off two tricks in hearts and clubs. With only the ace of clubs available as an entry to the North hand, it appeared that South must choose between a finesse in spades or diamonds.

There was an additional complication, however, for, if declarer crosses over to the ace of clubs to lead the ten of diamonds for example, he must not only find the king onside, but the diamonds have to divide three-three to assure bringing in the suit without loss.

South decided that the trump suit would offer a more favorable prospect provided that he could develop an additional entry to the dummy to repeat the spade finesse. In order to accomplish his objective, he played the queen of diamonds from his hand. West put up the king and returned a heart. East put up the queen, dropping declarer's jack, and continued with a third round which was ruffed in the closed hand.

South crossed over to the ace of clubs and led a spade for a finesse. When the jack of spades won the trick, he was able to reenter the North hand with the ten of diamonds to lead another spade. He put in the queen from his hand as both opponents followed suit. The ace of spades now felled the king and South claimed the balance. His losses were restricted to one trick each in hearts, diamonds, and clubs.

Enemy Troops Try To Slip Through Lines, 34 Killed

SAIGON (AP) —Allied forces battled Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops southwest and east of Saigon today and uncovered sizable weapons caches in other areas near South Vietnam's threatened capital.

In the northern provinces, another vulnerable sector, the Viet Cong kept up the pressure on outposts and provincial capitals with a second day of mortar attacks and light ground probes.

One Viet Cong company broke into a village 15 miles southeast of Da Nang and burned it to the ground, leaving all 1,400 inhabitants homeless, military spokesmen said. Casualties among the villagers and their militia defenders were not immediately known.

USE DECOY

In the fighting 18 miles southwest of Saigon, enemy troops using a blindfolded South Vietnamese prisoner as a decoy tried to slip through American lines after losing 34 dead in an all-night fight. Ten Americans of the 9th Infantry Division were reported killed and nine wounded.

American bombers had pounded the company of about 115 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong infiltrators, and some 1,500 rounds of American artillery were poured into an area about 800 yards in diameter during the night.

The enemy troops shoved a South Vietnamese prisoner in front of them in the darkness before dawn, trying to lure the Americans into firing on him while they slipped away in small groups. The plan backfired. A Claymore mine went off, scattering hundreds of shrapnel fragments. It knocked the blindfolded South Vietnamese down but killed three enemy soldiers behind him.

TEAR GAS

Rescued by the U.S. infantrymen, the South Vietnamese said he had been held captive two months. He said the enemy company was holding eight other South Vietnamese soldiers and using them to carry arms and ammunition. Their fate was not known.

The U.S. troops also sprayed the enemy positions with tear gas, flushing out six of the enemy who were captured.

The enemy force was believed to be part of six to eight battalions that U.S. intelligence officers say are deployed in Long An Province, immediately south of Saigon.

The American casualties included two men killed aboard a helicopter shot down by enemy ground fire. Two other choppers were hit, but damage was reported minor.

Meanwhile, Australian and New Zealand soldiers were locked in heavy fighting with one or two Viet Cong platoons holed up in bunkers about 25 miles east of Saigon.

PINNED DOWN

The infantrymen from down under came under heavy rocket and machine-gun fire as they made repeated attacks on the enemy positions in thick scrub. The task force tried several times to penetrate the Viet Cong bunker complex but was pinned down each time by heavy fire and a thick thorn hedge.

The infantrymen pulled back a few hundred hards this afternoon while dive-bombers pounded the bunkers.

Casualties on either side were not immediately known.

South Vietnamese troops uncovered two weapons caches 15 and 20 miles northwest of Saigon. They included 34 rounds of Chinese 107mm rockets, 44 cases of mixed rifle and machine-gun ammunition and one 50-caliber antiaircraft machine gun.

Units of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division turned up another cache 29 miles north of Saigon. It contained 109 mortar rounds, 1,200 hand grenades, 15 bangalore torpedoes, 30 antitank mines and 7,500 pounds of rice.
