High Enrollment Crowds Schools

Crowded conditions in the Pampa schools again made themselves evident this year when the enrollment figures were tabulated, Knox Kinard, superintendent of schools, said today.

"The crowded conditions at the elementary and junior high schools make it impossible for us to do our best job," he continued, "but under the present conditions we shall do the best we can."

The superintendent said half day sessions are not wanted in Pampa, but that is the only alternative to crowded classrooms.

Woodrow Wilson's first grade enrollment is 102 for three teachers, or an average of 34 for each room. The teachers could do a better job with 25 beginners, he said.

Three teachers at Sam Houston's first grade have 96 students, or 32 per room, about 15 percent more than it should be for best results, he added.

Horace Mann's first grades average 30 students per teacher and Baker School averages 26 students for each of the four teachers.

Baker has 36 second grade students per teacher. Horace Mann has 32 and Sam Houston 31.

Third grades at Horace Mann have 81 pupils for two teachers and fourth grades have 80 students for two teachers.

Original fifth grade enrollment at Baker showed 88 students in two classrooms and 87 at Woodrow Wilson. The crowded conditions there were remedied by moving 18 pupils from Baker and 17 from Woodrow Wilson to the Junior High School where a new section was created. However, a music teacher from one of the elementary schools has to go to Junior High to give instruction.

Junior High School, with 1,000 students, also is crowded, Kinard said.

All sections of the eighth grade have more than 40 students to the room, while all sections of the sixth and seventh grades have more than 33 students per room.

Senior High has many students this year who have not been able to take shop because of inadequate facilities, he said.

"We are trying to remedy some of the crowded conditions in the elementary grades by transferring to other elementary units. This is not very satisfactory to parents or pupils, but we believe it is the best way we have to improve the conditions," Kinard concluded.

No Halt on Dam Likely

Teague (D-Texas) yesterday said he was "vigorously denying" published reports that a lack of money may force work to stop for several months on the huge structure 19 miles southwest of Hillsboro.

Reports that concrete pouring at the damsite might cease Dec. 1 grew out of a public meeting Monday at Whitney. Both Teague and L. P. Reed, Inc., contractor for the concrete portion of the dam, were quoted as saying a work stoppage was in the offing.

Teague said the appropriation for this fiscal year, about $10,500,000, is tied up in Congressional committee.

He said also there had been discussions of a shutdown. But this talk stopped when it was learned a shutdown would cost the federal government $100,000 a month to fulfill terms of its contract with builders, Teague said.

Reed said yesterday "We are not making any plans for a shutdown."

U.N. Hears Acheson on U.S. Policy

NEW YORK — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson today reaffirmed his belief that East-West differences can be ended peacefully, but warned that a solution will not be quick or easy.

In a solemn American policy speech before the United Nations Assembly, Acheson promised the 59 national delegations the United States is ready to do its part. As expected, his tone was conciliatory.

His declaration blamed Russia for the "profound sense of insecurity" which he said has enveloped large areas of the world and has led to such steps as the formation of the North Atlantic Alliance.

It is the main task of the Assembly, he said, to try to solve the problems which lay behind the cold war.

"I pledge for the United States unreserved support and devotion to a concerted effort to this end," he said.

Acheson made no direct appeal to Russia for a general settlement, but did call for Soviet cooperation on several specific problems such as the Balkan dispute and Korea.

Acheson said this session of the Assembly comes at a time when the main postwar adjustments have been completed and it is possible to see with more clarity what the real problems are.

He listed the major issues as the Balkan problem, Korea, Palestine, Italy's African colonies, economic development of backward areas, violations of human rights in Communist-dominated countries, atomic control and arms regulations.

"In the Charter," he said, "we pledged ourselves to settle our problems by peaceful means, and to build up conditions essential for peace. Disregarding these obligations, a small group has persisted in policies threatening other members of the international community."

50 See Third Wartime Film

More than 50 persons attended a public showing of "Divide and Conquer," a wartime training film at the National Guard Armory in Recreation Park last night.

It was the third in a series of films depicting the origins and background of the second world war that the local Guard unit, Battery A, 474th FA Battalion, has sponsored here. There will be no films shown next week during the fair. Instead the Guard will man the war souvenir display by contributing souvenirs belonging to veteran Guardsmen.

Two men enlisted this week in the unit's two-month recruiting campaign to bring it up to its authorized strength.

Slight Increase in Failures Is Noted

NEW YORK — (AP) — Dun and Bradstreet today reported business failures rose to 185 in the week ended Sept. 15, compared with 148 the previous week and 84 in the like week of last year.

The total, however, remained far below the 269 for the corresponding week of 1939.

House Faces Unfinished Business

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House members return today from a month's vacation, with enough unfinished business on hand to keep them here the rest of the year.

They probably won't stay that long. "Around Nov. 1" is the target date of Congressional leaders for final adjournment.

Despite messages sent to Democratic members last week by party leaders, the House doesn't plan to transact any major business this week. Party spokesmen explained that the recall messages merely were intended to assure the presence of a quorum, 217 members.

Republicans followed through with messages to their own members reminding them that the recess that started on Aug. 26 ends at noon today.

While a dozen or more major bills are pending, appropriation bills furnishing almost 20 billion dollars will have top priority. They finance the military establishment, the Interior Department, the foreign economic recovery program and some miscellaneous federal agencies.

Still slated for consideration are:

An increase in the minimum wage in interstate industry; passed by both chambers but not in the same form.

A new farm price support program; passed by the House.

A bill broadening social security coverage; approved by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Raises for military personnel and for top government executives; passed by the House.

Revision of the displaced persons law; passed by the House but tied up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Federal aid to education; passed by the Senate but stalemated in the House over a religious controversy.

Counties To Sponsor Exhibits

Several surrounding counties have indicated they will sponsor exhibits at the second annual Top o' Texas Fair and various high school bands have agreed to present concerts each night, Irvin Cole, superintendent, said.

Lee Little, Perryton, said this morning that Ochiltree County will stage educational and wheat exhibits. The exhibits will be installed next Wednesday morning the opening day of the fair. The same exhibits will be shown at the Tri-State and Dallas Fairs.

Little added Perrtyon will also sponsor entrants in the Queen and Princess contests. Names of the participants will be announced later.

Pat Ryan, manager of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday Hansford County will enter an exhibit in the fair.

Meanwhile the Harvester Band will begin the fair concerts at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. It will be followed by the McLean High School Band Thursday night and the Canadian High School Band Friday. Saturday Pampa Junior High School Band will present the final concert. The concerts will be presented from the main bandstand.

The majority of the superintendents of the various departments say they expect their divisions to be larger than last year's.

Chester Thompson, superintendent of the horse shows, is expecting a large entry list from both the American and National quarter Horse Associations. Many of the horses will be entered in races Friday and Saturday afternoons in front of the grandstand.

THE HAGUE — (AP) — Dutch and Indonesians had word today of the first agreement — and a major one — in the month-old round table conference seeking to settle Holland's future relations with her richest overseas territory.

Polio Hits Another State High

AUSTIN — (AP) — Polio was at a new all-time high in Texas today.

There have been 1,801 cases so far this year, the State Health Department reported. Last year's 12-month total was 1,765—the greatest for any one year prior to this year.

There were 52 cases last week compared with 65 the week before. This led Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, to warn against any let-up in control measures.

"Now is the time to plan against next year's outbreak," he said. "It is true there are fewer cases now and cooler weather is ahead. But almost every week, summer and winter, brings polio in Texas.

"If we don't relax and if we practice year-around basic sanitation, we may stop a resurgence of the disease next summer."

Counties reporting more than one new case were Bexar 4, Dallas 5, Harris 9, Howard 2, Potter 3, Tom Green 5, Upton 2.

Reporting one case each were Bailey, Burnet, Cameron, Comal, Crockett, Dawson, Donley, Ector, Hidalgo, Hopkins, Hutchinson, Jefferson, Lampasas, Lubbock, Nolan, San Patricio, Smith, Sutton, Upshur, Wichita, Williamson, Wilson.

Atomic Energy Aids Washing

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. —(AP)— Atomic energy is trying to make it easier to wash dishes and clothes.

Radioactive calcium made at Oak Ridge, Tenn., is doing some snooping to aid housewives this way, Dr. Joseph M. Lambert, of the General Aniline and Film Corp., Easton, Pa., reported today.

The radioactive atoms make it possible to trace how effective various soaps or detergents are, he said.

One task is to learn how much they penetrate into ingrained dirt or perspiration stains on clothing. It is calcium that makes water hard, and the washing job tougher.

Labor Party Faces Split in Own Ranks

LONDON — (AP) — Britain's Labor government faced a political crisis in its own ranks today. Trade unions threatened to revolt against higher prices resulting from money devaluation.

Outside Britain echoes of the slash in the British pound's value continued to jolt the world's markets. In all, 23 nations now have devalued. Belgium, with a cut of 12 percent in the Belgian franc, and Portugal, with a 15 percent cut in the escudo in relation to the dollar, were the latest to join the devaluation parade.

The threat of a British political crisis was raised by the General Council of the Trades Union Congress, whose eight million members are the backbone of the ruling Labor Party.

The TUC Council — instead of endorsing government policy as it has in the past — decided last night it "could not pass on the necessity of devaluation." It called for assurances from economic chief Sir Stafford Cripps that the government would make every effort to limit price rises which will be sure to come from cheaper money.

Observers regarded the TUC move as evidence of a split in labor's ranks.

Cripps has warned that wage boosts will largely nullify the benefits of devaluation which is aimed at selling goods at cheaper prices in the United States.

Prime Minister Attlee summoned his Cabinet ministers to a meeting tomorrow to discuss the political crisis.

Concrete evidence of dissatisfaction was a "go slow" movement scheduled to begin at midnight tonight by the 50,000 workers on the nationalized railways. The move was in protest against government denial of a weekly wage boost demand.

Dissatisfaction also came from another quarter. French Finance Minister Maurice Petsche complained that Britain's action in slicing her pound value from $4.03 to $2.80 was "commercial war."

French leaders had long urged devaluation of the pound but were surprised that it was so steep.

Bar Ethics Discussed

Two full discussions centering on alleged unauthorized practice of law and reported law violations of out-of county attorneys were held yesterday at noon by the Gray County Bar Association at a luncheon meeting in the Court House Cafe dining hall.

Attorney Arthur Teed gave a confidential report on his findings following an investigation of the practice of law locally and in the surrounding areas.

District Attorney Tom Braly and Atty. W. Jarrell Smith also reported on their findings on practices by out-of-town attorneys in civil suits heard in the 31st District Court of Gray County.

Attys. Sherman White and Aaron Sturgeon were named as a committee on arrangements for the first meeting to be held within the next month when Associated Justices Griffin and Harvey of the State Supreme Court are invited to attend.

Other meetings during the winter season were discussed.

Atty. Curtis Douglass presided over the business session.

New Rail Strike Seen

CHICAGO — (AP) — Possibility of a strike against a second major railroad — the 11,000-mile Burlington system — developed today.

A strike against the Burlington has been authorized by four operating brotherhoods in a drive to speed up handling of grievance claims.

C. H. Atkins, general chairman of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers lodges on the railroad, disclosing the strike vote result, said "it looks like another Missouri Pacific case."

Atkins said that 95 percent of the 7,000 Burlington employes affected had approved strike action. There has been no strike date set, but Atkins said a date may be set within the next two or three weeks.

The other three unions involved are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The same unions have shut down the 7,000-mile Missouri Pacific since Sept. 9 in a similar dispute.

The unions are protesting delay in arbitration of 412 pay claims and grievances, some of them dating back to 1943.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today asked a new six-day strike truce in the steel dispute.

The President also asked that the steel concerns and the CIO steel workers union resume collective bargaining on their own.

He said federal mediators would be available to assist them.

Cyrus Ching, mediation chief who announced Mr. Truman's new truce request, said no reply had yet been received from either union or companies.

The present truce runs out Saturday midnight and the union is poised for a walkout by its million members at that time.

The President asked that the truce be maintained until 12:01 a. m. Saturday Oct. 1 in the "national interest."

President Philip Murray of the steelworkers advised Ching that the union will decide on its reply to Mr. Truman's request at a union wage-policy committee meeting at Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Ching said the steel companies promised to reply soon.

Ching said he has no plans now for further meetings with union and companies for the time being—expecting them to go to bargaining with each other on their own as the President requested.

The President's request was made in a letter he sent to Ching in the midst of government-sponsored efforts to work out a settlement of the dispute over pensions and insurance.

His letter stressed the importance to the nation of averting a crippling steel strike.

Every possible move, Mr. Truman said, should be taken to avert such a stoppage; therefore he was asking the new strike deadline extension.

Mr. Truman's letter said he is in "fullest agreement" with the statement made by his steel fact-finding board in recommending a 10-cent hourly pension-insurance program.

Ching had visited the White House earlier in the day to report to Mr. Truman on his efforts to head off a strike.

Presumably Ching suggested at that time that Mr. Truman ask for a new truce.

Ching's talk with the President delayed for 45 minutes the mediation chief's scheduled resumption of talks with union and industry representatives.

There were reports that conciliators working on the case were eyeing a reported offer of an employer-paid pension plan in the automobile industry as possibly offering an avenue for a steel settlement.

Ship Death Toll Hits 130 With 19 Missing

TORONTO — (AP) — The known death toll in the burning of the pleasure ship Noronic, one of the worst Great Lakes disasters in 100 years, stood today at 130. Another 19 passengers still are missing.

Just after flames had blanketed the cruise ship at a Toronto dock early last Saturday it had been feared at least 200 had died.

Project Voted For in 1948 Bond Issue

A call for bids on the estimated $140,000 project was sent out yesterday afternoon by the City Commission after a conference with Wayland Merriman, consulting engineer.

Payment for the project is provided for in the half-million dollar bond issue approved last year by the voters. This improvement is not included with the storm sewer bond issue carried by the voters a few years ago.

The venture has a twofold purpose — enlarging of the treatment plant and replacement of the deteriorated lift station.

When the present plant was built it was designed for a city of 10,000 population. The new addition is designed to increase its service to handle a 24,000 population.

Bids on the project are returnable at 2 p.m. Oct 18.

Lewis Gives Operators Blunt Notice

White Sulphur Springs, W. V. —(AP)— John L. Lewis turned to vital contract talks with Northern and Western coal operators today after serving a blunt "pay up" ultimatum to Southern mine owners.

As coal pits across the nation remained idle for the third straight day, Lewis' United Mine Workers union gave notice that it would not bargain further with the Southerners until the operators have paid up their royalty contributions to the miners' health and welfare fund.

UMW Secretary-Treasurer John Owen announced that stand yesterday at Bluefield, W. V., where the union has been holding contract talks with the Southern operators.

Lewis attended only the opening Southern negotiations at Bluefield last May. But he was on hand for the bargaining with Northern and Western owners—and for separate talks with representatives of mines owned by the United States Steel Corp.

There were rumblings among the coal operators that the negotiations should be broken off while Lewis' 480,000 soft and hard coal miners are out on strike. But few expected that issue to be pressed hard.

Instead, most thought Lewis now would begin to bargain in earnest for a new contract to replace the one which expired June 30. There have been only sporadic meetings between the United Mine Workers and the operators since last May, with little real discussion of contract terms.

The miners walked off on their own hook last Monday, after the trustees of the miners' welfare and retirement fund announced suspension of the $100 monthly pensions and distress payments.

State Job Condition Said Healthy

AUSTIN — (AP) — Employment conditions show "a healthy economic upsurge" in this state, the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday.

The TEC announced that unemployment rolls have dropped sharply during the past 30 days.

At the same time, farm employment skyrocketed to reach the highest peak since the start of the TEC's farm worker placement program.

"The increase in non-farm employment is apparently the result of increased confidence in the soundness of Texas' economic structure by employers," the TEC said. "The gain, while not large, is especially significant because there usually is a seasonal drop in the number of (non-farm) workers from July to August while busines is in the summer doldrums.

"One of the greatest cotton crops in history upped the farm employment total considerably. Present demands for farm help are near the 100,000 mark."

One of the best indicators of the drop in unemployment was seen in a decrease in the number of claimants for unemployment insurance. At mid-July there were 9,292 filing either under the Texas law or the federal GI Bill. By Sept. 8, the TEC said, this dropped to 33,364 but the TEC qualified these figures by adding:

"This sizable decline is misleading since readjustment allowance rights for many veterans expired on July 25 this year. As a result 10,100 veterans ceased to be claimants. This makes the real drop around 5,800, or 12 percent in an eight-week period."

Geographically, unemployment dropped in the following areas: Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Amarillo, Fort Worth, and Longview.

Increases in unemployment were noted at Lubbock, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Beaumont-Port Arthur and Houston areas.

The unemployment picture remained static in the areas of San Antonio, San Angelo, Waco, Dallas, Galveston and Texas City.

Non-agricultural employment, statewide, reached the 2,314,800 mark in August, the highest employment because of heavy employment losses suffered in the upper Gulf Coast Area. Heavy employment losses were experienced in the Houston area with a net drop of 1,525 workers. Most of the loss was sustained in the manufacturing of machinery and in transportation.

Thanksgiving day has been proclaimed every year since Abraham Lincoln began the custom.

New Jet Unveiled

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An experimental three-engine jet bomber, designed to support ground forces, has been built for the Air Force by the Glenn L. Martin Company of Baltimore.

Military officials made a joint announcement with the company Monday and gave a few details of the radically-designed warplane, but withheld expected performance.

Now called the XB-51, it is the first three-engine bomber ever ordered by the Air Force, and the first three-engine jet plane built. Only two planes, to be used for test, have been ordered. The first one is expected to fly within a couple of months.

The new bomber is distinguished by its long fuselage, wings swept back like an arrowhead, its horizontal tail plane sitting atop the upright tail section, and two engines hung on pylons from the fuselage just ahead of the wings. The third engine is in the tail section.

The wing span is 55 feet and the length is 80 feet.

Excess Lost In Tax Sale

AUSTIN — (AP) — Purchasers of lots at tax foreclosure sales in Odessa who paid more than necessary to satisfy the court judgments are not entitled to recover the excess funds, the attorney general has held.

Such excess funds do not belong to the purchaser but to the original owner against whom judgment was rendered, wrote Assistant Attorney General L. P. Lollar. The original owner has three years from the date of sale in which to reclaim the property.

If the original owner does not claim and receive the excess funds, the money is subject to being turned over to the state.

County Attorney W. O. Shafer of Odessa, Ector County, requested the opinion.

He said parties who purchased town lots at the sheriff's sales under tax foreclosure judgments were contemplating suits against the state, Ector County, Ector County Independent School District, and the city of Odessa—some of the parties to the foreclosure suits.

'Everybody Has Two Businesses'

By ALLEN RIVKIN

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Allen Rivkin has written 7 screen plays, among them "The Farmer's Daughter" and MGM's forthcoming "Tension.")

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— "Everybody has two businesses — his own and the movies," I don't know who said that, but it was a mouthful.

Here's how it works: A friend of mine from Syracuse came to Hollywood this summer. He's a manufacturer in the upper brackets, lives in a 10-room house, has two cars and a swimming pool.

I took him to a famous director's house for cocktails. This director, too, has a 10-room house, two cars and a swimming pool. And a gracious host he is, too. When my pal and I left, he remarked, "Hmmm, these movie people live well"

My friend wasn't too patronizing to the director's opinions and I mentioned this to him when our host left the room for a moment.

"But he's only a movie director," said Syracuse. "Why doesn't he stick to what he knows?"

The next day we had lunch with a writer whose name you've seen on many a screenplay. The subject of how to write movies came up, naturally, and with that the other usual question that many non-Hollywood folk ask: Aren't all Hollywood writers Reds?

No, all Hollywood writers are not Reds. There are 1,200 writers in the Screen Writers' Guild. Maybe one or two of them are Reds — but in his huge plant in Syracuse, perhaps our luncheon guest might find a higher percentage among 1,200 of his workers.

But what about "the unfriendly ten?" our inquisitor asked. The Supreme Court, I answered, will have the opportunity to clear the air on that question.

"Well, all right," Syracuse allowed, "I've been misinformed. But certainly you won't deny that the stories that we get on the screen are pretty shoddy."

I still didn't blow up. I asked Syracuse how often he went to the films, since he seemed to know so much about our business. Loftily he replied, "oh, perhaps three times a year."

Then, of course, I had to tell him about "The Snake Pit" and "Treasure of the Sierra Madre" and "Johnny Belinda" and "Sword in the Desert," and how the movie stories show a better percentage of excellence, a greater contribution to cultural advancement, than the theater, the book publishing field, radio or television.

Mr. Syracuse looked thoughtful for a moment. "You know what you fellows need" he finally said. "You need a good public relations campaign. You writers ought to start telling the people something about yourselves."

"When you get back to Syracuse," we suggested, "be a decent guy and tell them for us, will you?"

Vishinsky Adds 'If' to Optimism

NEW YORK — (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky arrived Monday with optimistic words about the United Nations —but with a big if.

He told reporters.

"The Soviet delegation is fully confident that the United Nations is, as the head of the Soviet government, Stalin, said, a serious instrument for the maintenance of peace and international security."

He added:

"There can be no doubt that the General Assembly would be able to solve the important problems before it, providing the nations of the United Nations show a sincere desire to cooperate with each other and in accordance with the principles of the United Nations Charter."

Vishinsky smiled frequently and tried to accommodate photographers.

Lady Mayor Stands Pat

DALLAS — (AP) — Portland, Oregon's pert lady mayor—against whom recall proceedings have been started—said here:

"If I can't call the shots the way I see 'em, then I may as well quit."

Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee added she had no intention of quitting.

She tucked a grey wisp of hair under her flippant hat and declared: "I worry about nothing—including the gamblers who are trying to get rid of me.

"Undoubtedly, gambling interests are behind the recall move. They've been after me ever since the second week I took office."

"If the people of Portland want gambling, then they'll just have to change the laws."

Mrs. Lee heard about the recall petition here. She is attending the International Association of Police Chiefs convention. The petition, filed by Max Donnelly, a Portland attorney, charged that Mrs. Lee had been "autocratic" and had placed an onerous and financial burden on workers and business men of Portland." Five persons signed the preliminary petition.

Mrs. Lee received 66 percent of the total vote in a primary election last May and was the only candidate on the ballot for mayor in the November elections. She has held political offices for 21 years.

Slipcover Headboards to Add Beauty and Glamour to Rooms

By MARJORIE SCILKEN
NEA Staff Writer

One of the simplest headboards is made of a plywood frame cut to the width of the bed which is padded and slipcovered with a gay cotton fabric.

The cotton padding is held in place over the front of the plywood board by muslin stretched over it, then tacked to the back of the headboard.

To make the slip cover, cut material to fit plywood frame, allowing an extra inch at sides and top. Allow for the thickness of the plywood board by cutting a separate strip two inches wider than the width of the board.

For perfect fit, pin the material smooth and shape it directly on the padded headboard. The binding is pinned between the front and the back of the material to form a width of about 1-8 inch all around.

When pinning operation is finished remove slip cover and seam-up. Then slip it over the padded headboard and tack below bedline. It can be removed for washing.

I received a letter from Frank Bussell of Montreal, Quebec, part of which I want to repeat to you. He said on Monday, June 27, the Canadian citizens very solidly backed the Liberal Party by electing to office 192 Liberal M. P.'s from a total of 262 seats.

However, he continued, the setback suffered by the Conservatives was nothing to the setback he received on today's hand. I like a fellow who will give you a hand in which he got the worst of it.

The bidding looks something like a jigsaw puzzle. First of all, I think North should pass with so weak a hand. Just why South bid two spades is hard to understand, unless he wanted to stop a spade lead. North's bid of three diamonds only confused South. When South bid three hearts I do not know why North did not pass. I suppose he is from the school who thinks that when partner reverses, he has a powerful hand. Anyway, that was the bidding—now for the play.

East cashed five diamond tricks on which West played the ten, eight and three of diamonds, and discarded the deuce and nine of hearts. East shifted to a spade. Mr. Bussell said at this point, "I would not have minded it so much if West had laid down his seven spade tricks quickly, but he cashed only three of them. He thought for a while, cashed his ace of clubs, and then cashed the rest of the spade tricks. Yes, they took all 13 tricks, and I, with my 1700 points minus, surely felt worse than the Conservative Party."

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Here's the A-B-C on how the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) Dividend will be split up among World War II veterans.

About 16,000,000 veterans who paid NSLI premiums for at least three months will split the $2,800,000,000 dividend pot. Biggest possible payment is $528.

Figure your share this way if you have one coming:

Take the number of months your policy was in force between the date you first signed up for your insurance and the same date in 1948. Call that number "A."

Next step: Take the amount of insurance you have (or had) in thousands of dollars. If you had $10,000 take 10. Call that "B."

Last step: If your "insurance age" was 40 or less when you first got your NSLI your dividend rate is 55 cents. Call that "C."

Multiply A times B times C. That is your dividend.

"Insurance age" means your age at nearest birthday. If you were 40 years and five months when you took out your insurance, your insurance age is 40, because your nearest birthday was five months back rather than seven ahead.

If instead of one policy you had two or more, either of different amounts or taken out at different times, treat each one separately by the A-B-C formula. Same is true if you have had only one policy but have changed its amount. Treat each amount as a separate policy.

Here are the dividend rates for veterans whose insurance age was more than 40.

Age 51, 52 cents; 42, 49 cents; 43, 46 cents; 44, 43 cents; 45, 40 cents; 46, 37 cents; 47, 34 cents; 8, 31 cents; 9, 28, cents; 50, 48, 31 cents; 49, 28 cents; 52, 23 cents; 53, 2 cents; 4. 21 cents; or more, 20 cents.

First checks are supposed to go out around the first of 1950. Only veterans who apply will get a dividend. So far almost 10,000,000 have done so. Application blanks were sent to post offices, Veterans Administration (VA) offices and other points on Aug. 29.

Man Found Guilty on Fraud Charge

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — (AP) — Harry Murphy, bankrupt Tarkio, Mo., businessman, pleaded guilty to 41 counts of using the mails to defraud.

Murphy, accused of defrauding farmers and machinery dealers in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas, entered his plea before Federal District Judge Richard M. Duncan Monday.

The judge deferred sentence until Oct. 22.

Murphy, a man of many enterprises during the rush for hard-to-get machinery after the end of the war, was indicted by a federal grand jury at Kansas City last April. In 86 counts he was accused of using the mails to defraud and violating the National Stolen Property Act.

The name of the 37-year-old Tarkio man became a magic word throughout the wheat belt in the spring of 1947. Farmers were desperate for harvesting machinery. Word spread that Murphy could get machines when no one else could.

Wheat farmers and dealers left deposits with him for machinery. But when the harvest came, few of the machines were delivered.

Then came the crash. There was a rush for bankruptcy court. Will R. Christian, Ulysses, Kans., wheat farmer, claimed he had deposited $144,000 with Murphy. Kenneth Cook, Vega, Texas, said he had placed $84,000 in the hands of the Tarkio man.

A statement filed with the bankruptcy court showed liabilities of more than $900,000 and assets of $78,000.

He Gave Up in Disgust--He Paid

RESEDA, Calif. — (AP) — Thomas C. Freeman told the judge he'd patched and patched, trying to get his 13-year-old car to run. Finally he gave up, poured kerosene on it and set it afire.

Fifty dollars, said the judge, for burning rubbish without a permit.

Gifts and Loans Made to Texas College Experiment Station

COLLEGE STATION—(Special)—Several gifts and loans have been made to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A and M College System recently, Dr. R. D. Lewis, director announced.

R. L. Hubner of the Warren Manufacturing Company, Monmouth, Ohio, has loaned the department a special type self propelled spray machine to the Weslaco substation. "The use of this equipment will greatly aid the personnel of our Weslaco substation in conducting their programs on corn earworm control and cotton defoliation," Dr. Lewis says.

R. E. Acker of the Container Corporation of America, Fort Worth, has given the station $300 to be used in support of peach marketing studies. "These investigations are being conducted by the Department of Horticulture," Dr. Lewis points out.

A check for $300 has been received by the station from Ben Lee Boynton, president of the Texas Golf Association, Dallas as a contribution to the Texas Turf Research Fund.

R. W. Barnes of the Package Research Laboratory, Stapling Machines Company, Rockaway, N. J., has sent a check to the station for $300 to be used in support of peach marketing studies with Spartan boxes, which are being conducted by the Department of Horticulture.

The loan of a Yellow Devil Sprayer from C. M. Meadows of Sherwin-Williams Company, Waco has been made to the station. It will be used at the Temple substation.

"The use of this sprayer will greatly aid the personnel of our Temple substation in conducting their programs," Dr. Lewis says.

A grant-in-aid of $1,000 from the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association, Inc., has been made to the station.

"This grant-in-aid is under the immediate supervision of Don L. Jones, superintendent, Substation No. 8, Lubbock," Dr. Lewis says.

The fund will be used for research in the development of better quality cotton for use in mechanical harvesting in the Plains section of Texas.

Truman Changes In Mid-Stream

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has changed boats in the Potomac. So has Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan.

The President and some friends —including his military aide and several Navy officers—set out Sunday to see the President's Cup regatta.

Wind and waves stopped the races. Mr. Truman wanted to go home. But the little White House cruiser, the Margie, wouldn't start. It's named after the President's daughter, Margaret Truman.

Another cruiser, the Lenore, was sent along side and took Mr. Truman and his party off.

Truman Plans A 'Quickie' Of Vacation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman plans to take a "quickie" vacation back home at the end of September.

Mr. Truman has given the go-ahead for a flight to Kansas City Sept. 29 for a four-day stay.

The main purpose of the trip is to attend a dinner the night of Sept. 20 for William M. Boyle, Jr., the new chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Boyle, a former Kansas City police official, is to be honored on that occasion by Democrats and other home town folk.

Mr. Truman plans to remain over in Kansas City and his nearby home town of Independence until Sunday, Oct. 2, and then fly back to Washington.

Aides said the President has abandoned all plans for a longer vacation until after Congress adjourns.

Body of Fifth Victim Found

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The body of the fifth airman killed when a B-36 bomber crashed into Lake Worth has been recovered.

The body of Lt. Herman D. Styles, Jr., of San Antonio floated to the surface Monday near the spot where the plane crashed Thursday night.

Eight crewmen were injured when the world's biggest bomber shot off the runway as it attempted to take off. A mysterious power failure as the plane roared down the runway at 100 miles an hour was blamed for the crash.

Student Says Baby Sitting Helps Grades

STUDENT — Navy veteran McLaughlin and daughter." He sits with other children and says it gives him time to concentrate on his studies.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(NEA)—Baby sitting may keep you out nights, but it's wonderful on the report card.

That's the word of experience from Russell T. McLauchlan, a 30-year-old Navy veteran from Philadelphia, who found his return to student life a tortuous process until he discovered how much sitting did for his thinking.

"The children go to bed early," he said, "and that leaves the evegineering course at Pennsylvania State College, he worked nights as a short order cook. His marks slumped to the danger point.

So McLauchlan, the balding father of a two-year-old girl, tried baby sitting as an experiment. Not with his daughter, but with the nieghbors' children.

"It worked like a charm," he said. His marks jumped to a high average.

And, who sits with his own daughter? Mrs. McLauchlan, of course.

Your Congressman Would Like to Know You Better

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Your congressman would like to know you better.

And chances are he is doing something about it, at considerable trouble and expense to himself. Keeping in touch with the folks back home is something of a major business, on the side, for a U. S. representative.

Naturally he wants you to keep his name in mind and vote for him if he runs again next year—as he probably will. But he also may be pretty serious about wanting to know your problems and how you feel about issues on which he will have to vote in the House.

While the House was on "vacation" this month a lot of its members got little rest.

Take Joe Martin of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the House. Every year he puts ads in the papers saying at such and such a time he will be in such and such a town—always at the Post Office—and the folks can come see him.

Last week on Tuesday he turned up at 14 Post Offices, the first at 9:15 in the morning, the last at 5 p.m. On Wednesday he started at 9 and quit at 5:10 and showed up in another 14 towns.

Some 160 representatives make regular recorded broadcasts to their states. Congress has its own recording station, a self-supporting enterprise. A member pays $3.50 for each record.

Probably scores of congressmen get out newsletters. Many write their own, but some have secretaries or clerks who serve as press agents.

A freshman congressman, Democrat Sidney Yates of Illinois, got a bit of a surprise when he went home on vacation and reports it this way in one of his newsletters: "I had anticipated some relaxation of the pressing pace which Congressional duties in the Capitol require, but there was little letup this week. People called me for appointments and I have been deep in immigration problems, civil service difficulties, veterans' claims, government contracts and a myriad of other matters."

Two U.S. Capital Cities Proposed

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A study of establishing two U.S. capital cities — or removal of the nation's headquarters to the West —has been proposed by Rep. Patman of Texas.

The House Rules Committee would look into the idea under a resolution he offered Friday.

Special consideration, Patman said, should be given to a site west of the Mississippi, particularly in the Colorado area, because the East is vulnerable "in an atomic age."

Board Seeks Opinion on Textbooks

AUSTIN — (AP) — The attorney general will be asked to decide whether the State Board of Education can extend existing textbook contracts under the new multiple list law.

That was the decision of the board. A November meeting has been slated for considering textbook adoptions for the next year.

Board Member Gilbert N. Denman of San Antonio told the board that the opinion should be requested now so the board will know what its authority is in regard to contract extensions.

The new law passed by the last Legislature provides for teachers making their own textbook selections from a multiple list of texts approved by the board. That system formerly applied only in the lower grades with the board selecting the specific text for all upper-grade courses.

Under that system, selection of an upper-grade text gave its publisher a monopoly in that subject. Denman questioned whether renewals of existing contracts awarded under that system would be valid under the new system.

The next board meeting was set for Oct. 8 at Mineral Wells.

Cotton Harvest Hands Needed

A shortage of cotton harvest hands is causing concern in many areas of the state, L. P. Fort, local manager of the Texas Employment Commission, said today.

In this area there has been no demand thus far, but the shortage in earlier crop regions indicate the possible supply of local help is worth watching, Fort concluded.

Dukes Hold 3-1 Advantage After 16-4 Win

Dukes Toss Shone Tonight In Search of Fourth Win

AMARILLO — (AP) — The Albuquerque Dukes moved to within one victory from the championship here last night, battering Amarillo's Gold Sox, 16-4, in the fourth game of the WT-NM League Shaughnessy Playoff finals.

The Dukes had a four-hit pitching job from southpaw Don Ferrarese and backed that with a 19-hit assault against Jim Reynolds, Amarillo righthander who just didn't have it. 3,929 fans saw it.

While winning their third victory of this title series, the Dukes combed Reynolds for five doubles and four homers, getting nine runs in the last two innings.

Albuquerque will bring back Frank Shone, who won the series opener in the fifth game here Wednesday night. Ray Faust, hardluck 8-7 loser of the 13-inning second game, will be the Amarillo nominee.

Amarillo presented Reynolds with a one-run lead in the first inning after two were out when Paul Halter and Dick Gentzkow singled to score Doug Lewis, on base by a fielder's choice. The Sox managed only two other hits against Ferrarese, both by Halter.

The Sox third sacker doubled in the third, sending Crawford Howard, who got life on Ferrarese, both by Halter.

The Sox third sacker doubled in the third, sending Crawford Howard, who got life on Ferrarese's bad throw around to third. The run scored on a wild pitch. Ferrarese walked Doug Lewis in the fifth and Halter followed with a homer over the scoreboard in left. That was all for Amarillo.

All of the Dukes' knocks came in bunches and Ferrarese supplied his share of the slugging, getting a double and three singles in five turns.

The big explosions were a grand-slam homer by Len Attyd in the Dukes' six-run eighth and a three-run circuit smash by Dick Goodman in the ninth.

Cliff McClain hit a homer in the second with Dick Le... ahead for third and fourth runs of that round. Allan Maul battered one over the rightfield wall in the third to lead the inning after which Les Mulcahy's double and singles by Ray Harnick and Ferrarese added two more.

John Bebber (8-5) will probably start on the mound for Tulsa. Joe Landrum, Fort Worth's Pirzame winner, is expected to twirl for the Cats.

Tulsa gained the final round of the playoff last night with a 2-0 victory over Oklahoma City.

It was the fourth straight win for the Oilers, who came from behind after losing the first two games of the first round series.

Jim Avrea held Oklahoma City to three hits before 5,633 fans. George Zuverink gave up only four singles to Tulsa.

The Oilers scored one run in the third and another in the seventh.

No Change in Major League as All Contenders Win; Bums and Cardinals Open Big Three-Game Series Today

Cards Win, but Musial Injured

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The pennant-hungry St. Louis Cardinals won an important game from the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 Tuesday, but it may prove to be a costly one in their stretch battle with the tenacious Brooklyn Dodgers.

Stan Musial, the most important member of their cast, hammered a single and triple for the Card cause, but in running out his three-base hit in the fifth inning, the mighty mauler pulled a muscle in his left leg, and was forced to leave the game.

A club spokesman announced the injury was not serious, and "Musial is expected to play against the Dodgers Wednesday." However, the club trainer immediately went to work and applied a cold compress on the injured leg. Stan was limping noticeably in the clubhouse and almost certainly will not be in A-1 shape for the highly important three-game series with the Dodgers that opens today with a day-night doubleheader.

The triumph enabled the Cards to maintain their first place advantage of a game and a half over the Brooks, who blanked the Cubs in Chicago, 5-0. St. Louis, ahead to two games in the "lost" column, has 10 games left to play against Brooklyn's nine.

Bums Whitewash Cubs Behind Banta, 5-0

CHICAGO — (AP) — Jack Banta, a lean righthander from Kansas won the most important game of his brief career Tuesday as he pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-0 triumph over Johnny Schmitz and the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Dodgers, who invade the lair of the leading St. Louis Cardinals for the opener of a three-game series today, only a game and a half back of the Redbirds. The Cards protected their slim lead by defeating the pesky Philadelphia Phillies, 7-5.

Raymer Here Tonight for Youth Talk

A meeting of officials of agencies interested in youth guidance and welfare will be held at 8 p.m. today in the City Commission Room in the City Hall.

Milton Raymer, executive vice president of the American Junior Bowling Congress, will present the program for youth bowling leagues and tournaments that has proven successful in combatting juvenile delinquency in other cities.

Raymer, a Chicago high school teacher, started junior bowling in his high school in 1935. By 1941 there were 18,000 students in the high school bowling club in Chicago.

After the war, the National Bowling Council, formed of the heads of all bowling associations, equipment manufacturers, and alley proprietors sanctioned the junior bowling congress. The council also agreed to underwrite most of the expenses so that the youngsters would pay only 25 cents per year for membership.

Raymer was at a meeting of Amarillo bowling officials, teachers, and law enforcement representatives in the Herring Hotel last night, and his talk, illustrated with colored slides, will be given here tonight.

Cleveland Eliminated By Boston Red Sox

BOSTON — (AP) — Although they failed to gain ground on the pace-setting New York Yankees, who led them by three games, Boston's runnerup Red Sox Tuesday eliminated Cleveland from the American League pennant race by downing the Indians, 5-2.

A crowd of 22,179 paid fans watched Mel Parnell, stylish Boston lefthander, pitch and help bat himself to his 24th victory.

He thus became the "winningest" Sox southpaw since the pitching days of the late Babe Ruth, who won 23 for the Sox more than 30 years ago.

Harvesters Prep For El Paso Tilt

The Pampa Harvesters knuckled down to getting ready for this weekend's engagement with the El Paso High gridders at Harvester Park Friday night by working against El Paso plays yesterday. A backfield was set up to run through several of the box formation plays and shifts that the visitors will use Friday night, with the Pampans learning what to expect.

The Harvesters are all in good shape physically, except for a couple of "charley horses" that may be worked out by game time. The boys will have their stiffest test of the season before them that night. El Paso brings to town a clean slate of two wins and no losses. They won their opener of the year from Roswell and then last weekend soundly trounced Fort Worth Tech by a 14 to 12 count.

Friday night the Harvesters will be greatly outweighed at every position. The El Paso line will be as big, if not bigger, than the North Dallas forward wall, and they definitely will not be as slow and clumsy. The two starting tackles will be weighing in at over 200 pounds each.

The backfield of the visitors will be not only fast, but heavy. Thus far this season a weight disadvantage has not bothered the Green and Gold. The Harvester line has played brilliantly. But they will meet their severest test this weekend.

In addition to working on a defense to offset the El Paso attack, the Harvesters ran through some new plays of their own that are designed to locate the pay dirt faster and easier. So you can look for some new wrinkles in the Pampa offensive attack Friday night.

The Guerillas went through another hard and rough session yesterday. They open their season tomorrow night against the Plainview "B" squad at Plainview. Monday afternoon the Guerillas held a long scrimmage with the Harvester reserves and got a one-touchdown licking. But they looked very good and should give several clubs a lot of trouble this season. The Guerilla backfield is loaded with speed and power, both. Sole deficiency, if any, will be in the front line.

The speed in the Guerilla backfield will be produced by Harold Smith and Billy Davis. Both are fast, elusive, twisting and spinning runners. On the power side is Charles Ely, a rugged, hard-hitting boy who loves to play football and will undoubtedly figure strongly in the Harvester plans for next season and the season after.

The Junior High Reapers also spent a rough afternoon yesterday. They have their second game of the year coming up Thursday afternoon at Harvester Park. Their opposition will be furnished by the Guymon, Okla., Junior High. The Reapers looked surprisingly good in their opening game last Thursday when they battled to a 6-6 tie with Elizabeth Nixson of Amarillo. They had only had five days of practice, yet look like a fairly well coordinated outfit.

Brownies Maul Nats

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Roy Sievers contributed his 15th homer, two doubles and a single last night as the St. Louis Browns mauled Washington, 15-6. Six Washington pitchers yielded 14 bases on balls and 12 hits as Ned Garver posted his 11th victory after replacing Joe Ostrowski in the second inning.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hasse---News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who is the only player in major league history to hit four consecutive home runs twice in a lifetime?

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: There will be at least two 1949 college football players who will come high in the professional marts . . . The Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Hornets have draft rights to North Carolina's Choo Choo Justice, who is rated one of the finest halfbacks in the land, and the Cleveland Browns and Detroit Lions have draft rights to Southern Methodist's Doak Walker.

GEORGE STROHMEYER, Chicago Hornet's center, once ran 78 yards despite a broken leg to score against Southern Methodist . . . That was in 1945 when he was playing for the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station . . . Old Rollie Hemsley, the former major league catcher, and now manager of the Nashville Vols of the Southern Association, appeared in the line-up at five different positions this year — catcher, shortstop, second baseman, first baseman and outfielder . . . There have been many reports of Bill Veeck's desire to buy the New York Giants, the St. Louis Browns, the Chicago White Sox and several other clubs . . . But the team he really wants is the Chicago Cubs . . . That's the organization with which his father had such a distinguished career and with which he first got his start in baseball . . . He has already made several overtures to Cub owner P. K. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame, but no dice . . .

EVERY UNITED STATES senator and representative has been sent a membership in the Blue and Gray Association, which sponsors the annual Blue-Gray football game in December at Montgomery, Alabama . . . The name of Moe Berg, onetime catcher famed for being able to speak several languages, recently was mentioned in a group which included Lefty Gomez, the former Yank pitching star . . . "That Berg," snorted Lefty, "could talk eight languages and couldn't hit a curve in any of 'em" . . . Gomez, one of the worst hitters of all time, fouled one of Lefty Grove's pitches into the rightfield stands at Yankee Stadium during Connie Mack Day a couple of weeks ago. . . . As the ball settled into the crowd, Gomez turned to Mickey Cochrane, who was catching, and mourned, "I have to wait until I'm 39 to be able to hit my first ball that far in Yankee Stadium" . . .

JACK RILEY, former Oiler outfielder who spent the past season playing with the Elk City Elks, was named to a starting outfield post on the all-tournament team at the recent National Semi-Pro Tournament at Wichita, Kans. . . . Several other Elks were named to various other teams . . . Paul Hinrichs, former WT-NM League star hurler who signed for a big bonus with the New York Yankees, spent a miserable season with Kansas City this year . . . He finished with three wins and ten losses . . . Jackie Jensen, California's football all-American who left college to play pro baseball with the Oakland Oaks, has hired an agent to look into the possibility of his entering television and sports writing this fall. . . . The very best of rumors are that Jensen has been sold to the New York Yankees. . .

SOL KAMPF, assistant football coach at the University of North Dakota, was asked by a New Yorker whether fans saw the Dakotans games on television . . . "We don't have television in North Dakota," replied Kampf . . . "You're lucky," commented the New Yorker. "At home we not only have grandstand and Monday morning quarterbacks, but now we have television quarterbacks' . . . Thirteen of the sixteen pitchers who started in the major league openers this past season are graduates of the American Legion program . . . Two of the three non-Legion hurlers were Truett "Rip" Sewell and Emil "Dutch" Leonard, who are both too old to have been in the program . . .

ANSWER: Ralph Kiner, who the other day homered his first two times up, after hitting for the circuit his last two times at bat the previous game, is the only major leaguer to ever hit four consecutive home runs twice.

Riegel Favorite In Western Golf

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Defending Champion Robert (Skee) Riegel was definitely the favorite as match play got going in the 47th Western Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Riegel, who gets his mail at Upper Darby, Pa., but represents the Tulsa, Okla., Country Club, didn't play for the medal in the two 18-hole qualifying rounds completed yesterday. However, his bonafide practice stretch was better than any of his competitors.

John (Pick) Wagner, 35-year-old auditor from Wilmette, Ill., won the medal with a 145, three over par, on the 6,505-yard Bellerive Country Club course.

Riegel, who played the round and putted out every hole, made the outgoing nine in 36, even par, and came in 2-under-33

Wagner tacked a 36-35—71 yesterday to his opening 74. Clancy Miller, Atchison, Kans., automobile dealer, had a 71 Monday, but had to settle for 76 and 17 yesterday. It was good for runner-up medal honors.

Bo Wininger, of Stillwater, Okla., Jack Geiss, of St. Louis, the Missouri state champion, and H. W. Hardin, also of St. Louis, each posted 75's for third place medal tie of 148.

'PIGSKIN PARADE'

Penn's Big 4 Ready

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Pennsylvania's Big Four are going to cause a lot of trouble in the coming football campaign.

That Big Four is made up of three perennial topnotchers, Penn, Penn State and Villanova, and one that hasn't been around for a long time — the Pitt Panthers.

Penn State, which lost only once last year — to Pitt — and not at all the year before, rates well up among the nation's powerhouses. So does Villanova under a new coaching staff headed by Big Jim Leonard, one time pilot of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Penn has lost a lot of manpower and does not appear as strong as a year ago. But the Red and Blue never can be counted out.

In all, 55 colleges are fielding teams in Pennsylvania this year.

Lafayette, with Clipper Smith the new coach, has its strongest team in years and may win its first Middle Three crown in a long time. Fullback Gordon Fleming is the Lafayette man-to-watch. Muhlenberg, Lehigh, Temple and Washington and Jefferson are thin in talent and have little to offer except for W. & J.'s brilliant fullback, Dan Towler, the nation's number two scorer a year ago.

Carnegie Tech, which won its first game in seven years last season, may win several more. Eddie Baker, the Skibos' new coach, will surprise a lot of foes, but Tech doesn't play first-line opposition. As for Duquesne, the Dukes play too rugged a schedule to win more than a handful of games.

Pitt, however, has everything. There's an all-veteran team headed by a backfield quartet that should be as good as any in the East.

Coach Mike Milligan counts four first rate passing threats in Bobby Lee, Lou Cecconi, Jimmy Joe Robinson and Carl De Pasqua. But he's sticking with the Sutherland single wing and will rely heavily on power plays. Don't be surprised, though, if Pitt comes up with some fancy razzledazzle. Milligan will need it for the schedule includes Northwestern, Ohio State, Minnesota, Penn and Penn State.

At Penn State, new coach Joe Bedenk is alarmed about an apparent weakness at tailback and wing back in his single wing attack. Bedenk has Fran Rogel at fullback, possibly the best line smasher in the country. And he has a forward wall that should be able to throw back almost anything that comes its way.

Villanova, Harbor Bowl victor over Nevada, is counting on winning a lot of ball games. The Wildcats have a solid first string combination but are none too strong on reserves. Leonard admits that if his sophs come through, his Wildcats may be the surprise team of the land.

Key men in the Wildcat attack are passing star Steve Romanik and runners Joe Rogers, Ralph Pasquariello and Pete D'Alonzo. But much of Villanova's success hinges on Al Schmid who has been converted from a halfback to an offensive end. Schmid, a first rate punter, shifts into the backfield on defense.

Penn's prospects are the leanest in years. Gone are Chuck Bednarik and his rugged playmates on the line. Still around, though, are such linemen as Bernie Lemonick, All-America guard candidate, and tackle Don De Torre and end Lou Roberts.

Bob Deuber returns to tailback after missing a year due to injuries. Bob is heavier and faster than ever, and should be one of the nation's better backs. So should Ray Dooney, the hard-plunging fullback who almost knocked over Army single handed a year ago.

Next: New England.

Gardella's Attorney To Show Power of Com. Chandler

NEW YORK — (AP) — Attorney Frederic A. Johnson said Tuesday that he would show, during the trial of the suit of Danny Gardella against organized baseball for $300,000 damages, that organized baseball was using the reserve clause "not for the sake of the game but for dealings in players for high prices."

Johnson, who is representing the former New York Giant outfielder, during the course of the pre-trial examination of baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler Tuesday charged the commissioner wields more power than any public official in the nation.

Johnson said the assignment of players across state lines would support his charge that such transactions constituted inter-state commerce.

The hearing was brought to a close with Johnson stating he would move in court to compel Chandler to answer questions to which objections were filed, and to produce office documents to aid in taking of the deposition.

Baylor and Houston Agree to Grid Series

HOUSTON — (AP) — Baylor and the University of Houston have agreed to a home and home football series.

Houston will play in Waco next year in the first game in Baylor's new stadium.

Baylor will come here, probably in 1951, to aid Houston in dedicating a new stadium.

Dr. W. R. White, Baylor president, announced the series at a dinner launching a Houston campaign to raise funds for the Waco Stadium.

The cougars played their first major intersectional game last Saturday and lost to William & Mary, 13-14.

Pro-Amateur Golfers After T-O Pro Cup

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Fifty-seven teams tee off today in the pro-amateur event opening the five-day Texas-Oklahoma professional cup series.

There's a $1,000 first prize to the best golfers in today's event.

Twenty-five man teams from the Texas and Oklahoma sections of the Professional Golfers Association tangle Saturday and Sunday. A 36-hole open between pros and picked amateurs is scheduled Thursday and Friday.

Byron Nelson, Raymond Gafford, Dick Metz, Jimmy Gauntt of Oklahoma City and Ray Hill of Shreveport, La., are among the pros competing.

Pep Retains Championship With Seventh Round KO

WATERBURY, Conn. — (AP) — Offers poured in on featherweight champ Willie Pep today after his easy seven round kayo triumph over Eddie Campo.

Unlike the savage scrape in which he recaptured the title from Sandy Saddler last February, Wily Willie emerged unmarked last night

Al Weill, matchmaker of the International Boxing Club of New York offered Pep three opponents for Madison Square Garden bouts, and Lou Viscusi, Pep's manager, said he was considering another for a title fight at St. Louis.

Weill wants Willie to fight either the winner of Friday's scrap; Maxie Docusen or Ray Famechon, the European champ from France who is due here soon. It would be a non-title fight on either Oct. 28 or Nov. 11.

The crown defense would be made against Charley Riley, St. Louis Negro. Viscusi said he couldn't be any more definite than that right now.

For his victory over Compo, a former sparring partner whom Pep polished off in 41 seconds of the seventh, Willie scored financially, too. The uneven match drew a surprisingly large crowd of 10,722 for a gross of $39,931. Compo, who weighed 124 1-2 to 126 for the champ, just wasn't in Willie's league. The champ's bullet like punches nearly blinded Eddie early. Willie was in charge with the first punch, and by the end of the fifth round, both he and the crowd were urging referee Billy Conway to halt the one-sided battle to save the challenger from further punishment The 21-year-old Compo, six years younger than Pep, hit the deck twice in the fifth for the count of nine and again in the seventh before the finish. It came chief second, waving a towel and yelling that the kid was through.

Plea Made for Safety Of Schoolboy Gridders

AUSTIN — (AP) — A plea to make football safer for Texas schoolboys went out today from Interscholastic League headquarters.

Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director, sent officials of all football schools a six-point guide with practical suggestions on how to do it.

These were his suggestions to make football safer:

"1. If in doubt as to parents' willingness for the boy to play, call for a written consent.

"2. See to it that the boys are properly equipped with adequate protection such as shoulder, hip and kidney pads, helmets, etc. It is positively criminal to send a team on a rough field improperly equipped, to meet the natural hazards of a vigorous game.

"3. Give immediate attention to all injuries, even seemingly unimportant scratches and bruises.

"4. Have a physician on hand at every game.

"5. Secure officials who will enforce rules designed to protect the players.

"6. See to it that the playing field is well sodded and in the best possible condition."

Gladewater Champ of East Texas League

By The Associated Press

Gladewater, champion of the East Texas League, and Hammond, La., titlist in the Evangeline League, open a seven-game series tonight at Gladewater.

The Bears won the East Texas title last night by beating Kilgore, 6-4, for the fourth straight time in the championship series.

The first three games of the inter-league series will be at Gladewater. It will be completed at Hammond.

A. B. Cross' two-run error in the ninth inning on lefty Loyko's bunt enabled Gladewater to score two runs and win the championship.

Both teams had three run innings.

Gladewater picked up three tallies on Bob Cullins' home run, two singles and a double in the fourth frame.

Kilgore used two walks, an error and two singles for three runs in the sixth.

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Darrow Hooper, the great schoolboy track star from North Side (Fort Worth), heads the list of outstanding Freshman athletes at Texas A&M.

Hooper holds the national shot put record and held the national scholastic discus mark for a time last season.

Among major football prospects are Charley Saxe of South Park (Beaumont), all-state end; Richard Parma, great backfielder with Waco's state champions last year, and Dick Self, City Conference all-stater at Breckenridge (San Antonio).

30 New Sources of Revenue Found at Corpus Christi

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

The worried mayors and city councilmen of Texas cocked a collective eye at Corpus Christi this summer. The Gulf city, it appeared, may have found the answer to their common problem—how to boost tax revenues.

Like many another fast-growing Texas city, Corpus Christi had been having financial difficulties. This year's budget tops last year's by 30 percent. Still come the citizens' demands for more water mains, more paving, more parks, better police and fire protection.

Corpus Christi's bonded indebtedness is $16,126,000. The city is nearing its legal limit on tax obligatory bonds.

In the midst of this came the bright idea: user taxes. Altogether 30 new sources of revenue were thought of. They included fees on hotels, tourist courts, used car lots, parking lots, taverns, other amusement places.

The object was clear: to take some of the load off property owners, to raise more revenue. Half of Corpus Christi's residents—the property-owning half—was paying for nearly all of the city's services. And the city was afraid overtaxing of property would drive business away.

But soon after the council passed some of the "user" taxes public protest arose. Those on parking and used car lots, on theaters, ball parks and other amusement places were cancelled. City Commissioner Jack DeForest said they were repealed because they would have "worked undue hardship on citizens."

A proposed tax on pinball machines was dropped. It was discovered state law forbids collection of some of the proposed new taxes.

The "user" tax idea apparently was not the panacea some people had hoped it was.

Now Corpus Christi is back with the rest of the cities, fighting its financial troubles. The budget was slashed in almost every department. The city is going to court to collect delinquent taxes. A proposed bond issue for a coliseum and to replace the old City Hall was dropped in favor of plans for bonds to extend sewers, water mains and streets. Meanwhile the city has arranged with the Corpus Christi National Bank to honor overdrafts up to $200,000 during the period ending Dec. 31.

Fortunately, there are other ways out of the woods — other than "user" taxes. There's federal government help, state help. There's a final alternative — to cut down on city services.

Abilene in West Texas is an example. Its population doubled in the past ten years. The city could not install needed water and sewer lines, school facilities and streets during the war. At war's end there was a topheavy backlog of work to be done. When reserves were used up, a $1,500,000 bond issue was voted. Before the money became available it was obvious it was not enough because inflation had boosted costs meanwhile. Now schools are bulging again, and water facilities are strained. New bond issues are being talked. But Uncle Sam may be asked to foot part of the bill for a reservoir to provide the water facilities.

Most cities get federal help to build airports. The state lays out money when state highways happen also to be city streets. The state will build Waco Drive through that Central Texas city, but Waco must buy the right-of-way—at about a million dollars. Still Waco is not bad off. City Manager R. C. Hoppe has $153,000 more to work with than he did last year. Trying to spread that $153,000 over new projects — including sewers, water mains and paving for newly annexed areas — "is like trying to cover the top of my desk with a dime," says Hoppe.

Wichita Falls, badly in need of street, waterworks and park improvements, may call an election to amend the charter to allow a higher and more flexible city tax rate. A three million dollar bond issue may be submitted to voters this fall — despite the fact a smaller issue was turned down a year ago. Mayor Harold Jones admits the city is certain to run "into the red" next year.

Dallas has money troubles — but also a way out. A 1930 charter provision limiting bonded indebtedness to 50 million dollars may be amended to 75 million. The general fund levy, at $1.85 is far below the $2.50 limit. Assessments are at only 65 percent of valuation.

Cities which own their own water and light systems are able to issue large amounts of revenue bonds — bonds to be repaid with revenue from the utility system. Austin will sell a $7,150,000 revenue bond issue to expand its water, light and sanitary sewer plants. Austin's population has almost doubled since 1940. Since 1945 the capital city has spent 16 million dollars on water, light and sewer lines, paving, bridges and other services.

Brownsville at Texas' southern tip, counts on revenue from its city-owned water, light and power systems to pay for a lot of city improvements, as well as cover most general services. But bond issues will be necessary to cover street paving and expansion of the utilities systems — expected to be necessary within two years.

Marshall attacked on several fronts — operations were curtailed, new services limited, water rates raised, new and increased taxes voted, and delinquent taxes were chased. This has trimmed the city deficit to $60,000. But the figure is expected to go higher this year. A $3,500,000 bond issue is being used to expand schools, give Marshall an unlimited water supply, extend the sewage system, and build streets and parks.

Corsicana is turning to the federal government for help in solving a problem — a threatened future water shortage. The city commissioners and Chamber of Commerce are in touch with the Army engineers and Soil Conservation Service. Meanwhile, the city has pressing problems — sewage facilities, a water system, street lighting, and a municipal auditorium. Work on much of this is being held up for lack of funds.

TULSA — (AP) — U. S. crude oil production slumped during the week ended Sept. 17, the Oil and Gas Journal reported, averaging 4,836,825 barrels daily for a decrease of 10,325 barrels.

It was a week of minor changes either way, with Michigan reporting the greatest increase up 1,500 barrels to 42,200 barrels.

Other sizeable gains were in Kansas, up 1,300 barrels to 250,000; Wyoming, 1,300 to 126,500, and Oklahoma, 1,050 to 387,350.

Continued activity in Utah brought that state another increase of 200 barrels to a total daily average of 2,100 barrels. Montana increased 300 barrels to 27,300, Alabama gained 300 to 1,450 and Louisiana was up 400 to 485,950.

The week's losses were scattered throughout the major producing areas, with the largest the 4,000-barrels slump to 177,700 reported by Illinois.

Other declines included Indiana, down 1,900 barrels to 27,400; the Eastern area, off 1,750 to 57,200; Kentucky, 500 to 23,100; Mississippi, 3,050 to 95,550; Arkansas, 2,150 to 70,600; Colorado, 2,200 to 63,800, and California, 1,100 to 893,600.

Oil Worker Given $125,000 in Suit

HOUSTON — (AP) — An oil field worker was awarded $125,000 in personal injury damages by a federal district court jury.

The damages were awarded to G. T. Allbritton, 36, of Houston, injured Feb. 24, 1947, when an oil well derrick fell on him on a Chambers County lease of the Sunray Oil Corp.

Allbritton's suit, alleging total disability resulted from multiple spine fractures, had sought $159,391.61.

Attorneys in the case said they were confident it is the largest personal injury damage award ever made in Texas.

Crown, CIOmen Reach Agreement On New Contract

HOUSTON — (AP) — A tentative contract agreement has been reached between the CIO Oil Workers International Union and officials of the Pasadena Crown Central Petroleum Refinery which has been shut down since July 7.

Authur Hajecate, secretary of the union's Local 227, said the agreement will be submitted to the union membership.

He said he and Crown Central officials have agreed that if the contract is ratified wome 350 union workers will be back on the job this morning.

Crown Central shut down the plant after negotiations on a new contract broke down. The old contract expired June 30. Company officials said the shutdown was necessary in that the union workers were sending most of their working hours writing out grievances against the company.

Texas Completions Ahead of Last Year

AUSTIN — (AP) — Oil and gas well completions in Texas continue to run ahead of last year.

Oil well completions so far total 6,220 compared with 5,280 to date last year. The figures for gas wells were 529 and 509 respectively.

Wildcats drilled so far this year total 335 compared with 222 in the same months of 1948, The Railroad Commission reported.

Anglo-American Treaty Seen as Import Solution

DALLAS — (AP) — An independent oilman suggested yesterday the industry take another look at the possibility of an Anglo-American treaty as a solution to the problem of oil imports.

Hamon said the treaty proposal now pending in Washington might provide machinery under which domestic oil producers could accomplish their purpose of restricting imports of foreign oil.

He pointed out that Congress has killed an amendment to the reciprocal trade agreement that would have restricted imports of oil.

The treaty would tie Great Britain and the U. S. to certain petroleum obligations and set up an international petroleum commission to work out oil problems The proposal was a highly controversial one in the 80th Congress and the industry itself was divided on it.

Fire Burns Half of Lousiana Refinery

IOWA, La. — (AP) — Fire destroyed more than half of the Shell Oil Co.'s gas refining station three miles northwest of here. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

The fire of unknown origin originated in a stil lused to process natural gas. An explosion flashed flames over the area after firemen arrived, but no one was injured.

Sinclair Stakes No. 4 Location

Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. completed a triangle around its Anadarko Basin discovery well, the Sinclair Lips No. 1, by the location of a Sinclair Lips No. 4.

The new Sinclair test is located 650 feet from the S and W lines of Sec. 159, Blk. 13, H&TC Survey.

The Lips No. 2 is located northwest of the discovery well, while the No. 3 is located due south of the No. 2 and south and west of the No. 1.

Commission potentials were being reviewed by Austin commission officials this week after tests were taken late last week on the Sinclair Lips No. 2. As yet no word has been received from Austin verifying local commission figures. These should be completed this week. Additional commission tests have been scheduled for the new gas well.

Ninety Years Of Progress

Before long, "Oil Progress Week" will be observed throughout this country, October 16 to 22. A special effort will be made to acquaint the public with the dramatic story of oil's achievements. And it is a story well worth listening to.

Oil is a young industry — the first well was drilled only 90 years ago. As history goes, that is a very brief passage of time. But during those 90 years we have made incredible material progress. And oil in all its manifold forms and uses, was responsible for an amazingly large part of it.

Oil's experience in late years has been especially interesting. Enormous demands were made on it during the war, when it was one of the vital weapons that won the final victory. When the war ended, and military demands dropped sharply, it was naturally believed that there would be a breathing spell. It was not to be.

A gigantic increase in civilian demand, which no one could have anticipated, raised consumption to new highs. There were forecasts of serious shortages. But the oil industry licked this problem, as it has licked so many others, and the demand was met with a minimum of dislocations.

Last year nearly 40,000 new oil wells were completed — the greatest number ever drilled in a single year in the industry's history. At the same time, our known underground oil reserves were expanded through exploration and development. Technological progress is steadily increasing the volume of usable products that can be produced from a barrel of crude.

When we speak of oil progress, we are dealing with an industrial revolution which has touched all our lives, and greatly the lives of Panhandle people.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

The slang term "measly," according to Mr. Webster's dictionary, is defined as contemptible, mean. And the disease, measles, should be considered in the same bad light.

Oftentimes the terms measles and German measles are confused. They are two distinct diseases. Plain measles (or rubeola) is the type under discussion here.

The child who has escaped measles during pre-school days will usually contact it during his early school days. The severity of the attack is much greater usually in those under five years of age and in adults. In fact, the mortality rate in children under five is great enough for most physicians to want to prevent the disease, if possible, in all under that age.

The severe complications which may occur following measles make it the dangerous disease it is. Once the child's body is weakened from the measles attack, there is susceptibility to germs such as the streptococcus, pneumococcus and influenza virus. The brain may be seriously affected, a complication which is believed due solely to the measles virus. More than 90 percent of the measles death rate is attributed to resultant pneumonia.

A small virus causes measles, which in the initial stage appears much like the common cold with sneezing, red and watery eyes that are painful and sensitive to light. Along with it, the patient may have a hoarse, dry cough and a sore throat. Bluish white spots surrounded by a reddish area appearing on the inside of the cheek and lips are a clue to diagnosis even before the rash breaks out on the face, trunk, arms and legs.

No positive immunizing agent has been found for measles although a fraction of the blood serum of recovered patients, called immune globulin, has been used in minimizing an attack. Gamma globulin is a fraction of plasma and contains a concentration of antibodies that provide temporary protection against measles, the doctor should be consulted as to the advisability of the use of this treatment.

The sulfa drugs and penicillin have cut the seriousness of the complications of measles to some extent but the measles patient should be under the supervision of a physician at all times, including the period of convalescence.

German measles, also called three-day measles and rubella, is rarely a severe affliction, but because of the possibility of injury to the unborn child during pregnancy, it is actually desirable to have had this infection before approaching motherhood.

Genocide, an International Crime, Soon to Be Defined

By JOHN FISHER
McClure Syndicate

Genocide — mass murder of a national, racial or religious group — will be officially outlawed by the civilized world before many weeks.

The United Nations already has drafted a formal pact against the historic abomination. The United States Senate is at grips with the subject.

Although the movement seemed to suffer a setback a few days ago when the American Bar Association disapproved the proposed treaty because it involved vital constitutional questions, the lawyers did pass a resolution condemning wholesale killing of innocent peoples.

Eventually the vile crime will be defined and its punishment fixed. The reform, according to Dr. Raphael Lemkin, visiting professor at Yale and one of the U.N. drafters, is "overdue by 2000 years."

Deportations were revived last spring. Innocent people are losing their language, their culture, their jobs, their homes, their relatives and their lives. The world of 1949 is witnessing Russian slow-motion genocide, as fiendish as the Nazi extermination of Jews and the Turkish massacre of Armenians after World War I.

Moscow employs several forms of savagery in liquidating Baltic nations. Some victims are distributed through the vast Soviet Union. Local culture is supplanted by alien systems. Children will mature into Russified strangers. In a quarter of a century — unless the trend is stopped — three of the oldest nations in Europe will have vanished from the face of the earth.

Stalin already has emptied East Prussia of Germans. He is ousting Romanians from Bukovina and Bessarabia, filling the void with Soviet Asiatics. He plans a completely insulated frontier, swept clean of potential fifth columnists and guerrillas and settled by pliant Mongolian newcomers, to protect Russia in case of invasion.

ETHNIC BARRIER

Ever since the Red Army seized the Baltic states, he has been erecting an ethnic barrier there. Lately the uprooting of the rightful owners of the stolen territories has been more vigorous.

This destruction of culture is piecemeal, directed from time to time against different groups. The Estonian Communist organ, Rahva Haal, recently reported on a conference to speed up the "transition from a policy of stricture of the kulaks (property-owning farmers) to a policy of liquidating the kulaks as a class."

At first Baltic managers were permitted to operate industry in collaboration with Soviet deputies. This masquerade has been abandoned. Today agriculture, mining, transportation, building and all factories are headed and staffed by imported Russians.

Only hard labor and dirty jobs are open to natives. Thousands of high school boys were forced to work out their summer vacation in the oil shale mines. Many did not survive the slave labor horrors.

Education is Russian Communist. All prewar textbooks have been destroyed. New publications are in the Russian language. Marxist-Leninist perverted science is a compulsary course. Only a Communist-biased history is taught. It is a criminal offense for a school kid to sing his own national anthem.

TOLD TO FIGHT PRIESTS

Lithuania's Soviet-installed minister of education informed students that the object of education this year is "to fight the influence of priests and reactionaries." Students at Estonia's Tartu University were ordered by the Communist boss to line up in the "struggle for victory of Communist ideology and ethics. It is a struggle for the compplete extirpation of capitalist relics from the minds of our people."

Thus adult workers are forced into abject serfdom and the coming generation is warped by Communist teaching. The so-called insolubles are purged through imprisonment and deportations.

In this latter category of persecution are peasants — rich or poor — who refuse to join collective farms, released prisoners of war who are tardy in swallowing Marxist doctrines and other political "unreliables."

Not only are the accused deported but also their families. In this the Russians display a refined cruelty. When the doomed are herded into railroad stations, wives without notice are separated from husbands, children are dragged from their mothers' embrace and all are shipped to different destinations.

DESTROYS TIES

Earlier forced migrations were mass deportations. The newer sprinkling process makes it more difficult for outcasts to cherish old ties. A lone exile — if he escapes death — more easily loses his national character than a group settled together, each member strengthening one another's loyalty and refreshening one another's memories of the homeland.

The fate awaiting this year's piteous crop of 170,000 deportees may be forecast by the experiences of Balts carried away into Siberia during the Russian invasion in 1941. Many died of empty stomachs, frozen limbs or broken hearts. Some linger in hopeless captivity.

A fifteen-year-old Latvian girl was transplanted in a colonization project on the Soviet coast of the Pacific in 1941. Finally for good behavior she was granted permission to return home. But a diabolical stipulation in her release papers was that she was forbidden to use public transportation services. As no other means of conveyance is available across thousands of miles of Arctic swamp and uninhabitable plain, the young woman had no choice but to stay a prisoner.

While world jurists and statesmen debate how best to deal with the crime of genocide, an agonized appeal for action comes from a mass meeting of Baltic Displaced Persons in Memmingen, Germany. "We beg that the deportation of the peaceful inhabitants in Baltic lands cease immediately," says the document, "and that the deportees be fried from prisons, forced labor camps and other places of torture.

"Our people not only are not allowed to live, they are not even allowed to die in their own country."

First, study carefully what the Americans want. Then make it at prices they are able and willing to pay. . .This will take energetic salesmanship as well as cheap production. . .It is the challenge confronting the business statesmanship of Britain.

"The Return of Adam Smith" — A Much Needed Book

I have just read "The Return of Adam Smith" by George S. Montgomery, Jr. It is a new 1949 book published by the Caxton Printers Ltd., of Caldwall, Idaho.

The book is dedicated as follows:

"To those parents who have watched in bewilderment as their children emerge from American schools and colleges mouthing strange and alien philosophies.

"And to those of America's youth who have as yet escaped complete enthrallment of the propaganda that is daily leveled at them from lecture hall and library".

It is no wonder the youth of the land and the adults who attend tax supported schools and colleges are bewildered. They are bewildered because the teachers ar social coercionists.

The author uses this title—"The enemy of Freedom—The Social Coercionist" as the heading of chapter five.

This is a small book of only 150 pages. It costs only $2.50. It gives a summary of Adam Smith's doctrines.

It also tells very definitely how the author was amazed when he talked to youth at the Socialistic arguments they used. It also explains the movements back of the discrediting in the colleges of the laissez-faire or free enterprise doctrine.

I never really realized how Columbia University has lent its name to the discrediting of the philosophy on which this government was founded until I read this book.

The book relates how the Columbia University under Edwin R. A. Seligman as Editor in Chief published "The Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences" of 15 volumes. This encyclopedia is in practically every college and library of any significance in the country. Dr. Max Lerner was managing editor. This group selected the editors for the various subjects. It seems they invariably selected men who were more or less socialists—men who did not believe in a definite limited government. And this group of college men through flattery or ignorance on the part of big successful industrialists persuaded them into letting their names be used in connection with the book. Such men as James Couzens, Dwight W. Morrow and Owen D. Young were mentioned in connection with the encyclopedia. It is doubtful whether any of the editors or any of the sponsors could defend their position in open investigation where they were obliged to define their terms to admit of no further questions.

To show how they distorted the meaning of laissez-faire I quote:

"Let us turn to other key subjects in this great reference work. 'Laissez-Faire' goes to G. D. H. Cole, that fellow resident of Professor Laski, co-author of "What Marx Really Meant." When this Fabian Marxist has completed his slashing attack, the doctrine of laissez faire is prostrated beyond hope of revival. It is unnecessary to describe what this master collectivist does with the subject 'Industrialism', or with the part under 'Trade Unions' dealing with the United Kingdom and the Irish Free State, which are also assigned to him, no American being qualified for the task.

"'Labor,' as this topic is covered by Emil Lederer (American in this instance defaulting to the University of Heidelberg), is shown to be marching into the sunrise, led by hallowed champions of gigantic stature. Professor Lederer here remarks.

"'The conception of an organization of the entire economy in the interest of society as a whole has been gaining more and more adherents since the war and especitly since the crisis which began in 1929. In particular the development of the Soviet planned economy has spread the idea of such an economic organization and has thereby greatly enhanced the significance of labor in modern society'.

"Professor Lederer's collectivist views find further space in the topic, 'Economics (Socialist Economics)'.

"The topic of 'Capitalism,' so important to the American economy, finds no American economist worthy to do it justice and it is, accordingly, allotted to Dr. Werner Sombart, who learned about his subject at the University of Berlin."

It is little wonder that the youth that goes to college comes out rebellious against individual responsibility and unhampered market economy. Everything is happening just as could be expected when the youth of the land with the most natural talents, usually come in contact with social coercionists.

I will quote later from this book.

The Nation's Press

WHY BE THRIFTY?
(Truth, London, England)

The continuing fall in national savings begins to perturb more and more observers of the general economic trend in these islands. A correspondent in The Times newspaper says mordantly that "Today we are well nigh bankrupt of dollars and gold: tomorrow we may be bankrupt of our own sterling savings as well."

High taxation during life and penal taxation at death are very potent deterrents to personal thrift in the "upper income brackets." High taxation and its reflection in high prices is an equally potent deterrent in all "brackets." In the lower income groups are the one-time thrifty families have been so tutored in the fallacious belief that the Welfare State has now taken from them all their responsibilities, and relieved them of all worries as to the future, that they fail to see the need to save. In some cases there is another powerful deterrent to saving in the grim conviction that the future is so uncertain that the sensible person may as well enjoy his earning and spending power now, rather than conserve it for some future in which it will not be exercisable. It is these kinds of psychological factor which the Planners have omitted in their calculation of the effects of their planning.

FRUITS OF NATIONALISM

The financial benefits from Socialisation are a long time coming. By now the fruits of coordination, or eliminating "wasteful" competition and the superior planning from above should be yielding impressive dividends in L. s. d. Instead there are moans and groans about rising prices under the nationalised industries from all quarters.

Mr. Robert Willis, secretary of the London Society of Compositors, "warns" Mr. Herbert Morrison about rising electricity prices, which, he says, may turn the workers against nationalisation. He instances Brighton, "a Tory municipality," which used to give a rebate to all electricity users of 20s. to 25s. every quarter. Under nationalisation there is no rebate. Finchley, another Tory municipal council, used to install electric cookers free. Today the State concern charges L6 8s. Mr. Willis apparently thinks there is something inherent in Socialism that means cheaper goods. If he would carefully think the matter out he would realise that price rises under nationalisation are inevitable.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The current Congressional reexamination of sixty years' operation of the anti-trust laws discloses that the issue of monopoly has virtually disappeared from the American scene except when it is lugged out around election time as a vote-getting issue.

Testimony before the present inquiry, which was sponsored with White House backing by Representative Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, offers proof of that conclusion. Despite his series of anti-trust suits, including his latest thrust at the du Pont empire, former Attorney General Tom Clark declared that the American industrial system is "fundamentally competitive."

In fact, even former New Deal trust-busters criticized "big business," as represented by vast concentrations of industrial and financial power, only because it leads inevitably to "big government," with a maze of federal controls, regulations and "thou shalt nots" which undermine individual initiative and political freedom.

They conceded that the biggest monopoly today, in the fields of industry, agriculture, transportation and finance, is the United States government itself. Their only defense for this expansion is that government must make itself powerful so that it may protect small business and the individual against huge corporate structures.

FIGHT — Hardly a witness raised the ancient battle cries that so-called trusts crush competition, conspire to boost prices inordinately or bar the door to the opening of new, small firms. The system of mass production, mass markets and our constantly expanding economy, based on high wages, has admittedly eliminated those once popular objections, to wit:

Competition: Although relatively few companies dominate such industries as automobiles, aluminum, linoleum, tinware, cigarettes, rubber tires, plumbing, agricultural machinery and meat products, they engage in a fierce struggle for sales during normal times. As Mr. Clark declared rather proudly, the giants fight among themselves.

NYLON — Moreover, breaking up these great corporations would not widen the field for new, small enterprises, unless they wanted to lose their shirts. Too much capital is required these days to start even a medium-sized industry. Few beginners could afford the money for hiring technicians, establishing a research and development unit and building a sales force.

Dramatic example of the existence of competition is the du Ponts' invention and promotion of nylon. It took eleven years of research and expenditure of twenty-seven millions before a single article could be manufactured. The fabric is protected by patent rights, but it must compete with rayon, cotton, silk and various other varieties of goods. If priced too high, it will lose out.

FRAGMENTS — Small Business: Existing tax laws, which prevent an individual or a small firm from building a backlog for reserves or investment, block establishment of bits-and-pieces companies far more seriously than great monopolies.

Suppose, for instance, that the du Pont empire is broken up, and that it must sell its holdings in General Motors and U.S. Rubber, which are charged with giving this corporation undue advantage and influence.

What small companies could afford to buy the expensive fragments? Where would they get the money to spend eleven years and twenty-seven millions on new products?

But the complete answer to the smash-and-divide theory is the late Judge Landis' supposed destruction of Standard Oil. It just did not work out as he expected, although it won him a cushy job as baseball's czar.

LOW — Prices: The American system of high wages and low prices, despite the present inflation, is a modern and practical miracle. Else, why would Foreign Minister Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps seek our aid in their country's current crisis? Save where government-regulated, why are British prices so much higher than ours that they can't export?

A survey discloses that, allowing for the influence of factors wholly unrelated to anti-trust legislation, present-day prices on goods being manufactured when the first anti-monopoly laws were enacted in the '90's, are relatively lower than they were sixty years ago. Otherwise, our standards of living would not be the highest in history, with the so-called monopolies paying the highest wages.

Had it not been for World War II, with its deficit financing and production of guns instead of butter in every nation throughout the world, prices today would be shockingly low. In short, anti-trust legislation and enforcement have only an infinitesimal influence on the cost of living.

CONCENTRATIONS — Finally, here are statistics which indicate (1) that the anti-trust laws have not worked in a practical way to break up concentrations of industrial power; and (2) that, in view of our prosperity and living standards, it is well that they did not:

In 1909, the earliest year for which figures are available, the 200 largest non-financial corporations owned 33 percent of the assets of all non-financial corporations. In 1929, they owned 48 percent, and in the early '30's, they held 55 percent.

On August 23, the Federal Trade Commission reported that 46 percent of the wealth of all the nation's manufacturers is concentrated in 113 corporations.

Flame-Spewing Rocket Reaches 33 Miles Altitude

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — (AP) — This country's newest and biggest super rocket, the flame-spewing Viking II, shot upwards only 33 miles in a recent test, far short of the 114-mile record of the German V-2.

But Dr. Homer E. Newell, rocket expert in the Naval Research Laboratory at nearby White Sands Proving Ground, termed the Navy's latest test a success.

"We were after stability and control this time," he said. Next time we will concentrate on engine performance."

The slim, 46-foot-long Viking II attained a top speed of 1,775 miles an hour in its test last Tuesday. A predecessor had soared 50 miles and hit 2,250 MPH over the same desert country.

Taking It for Granted

By GORDON MARTIN

There are some who never understand the wonders of the age, which persistently go marching over life's entrancing stage. They just never see the romance in the things which men invent, and the toil and perseverance which such marvels represent. For they've got so used to progress, when it passes in review, that they take it all for granted, just as if it were their due.

Now it's true that ordinary folks may never know a lick 'bout the innards of an engine or what makes that motor tick. But they surely ought to recognize that into such a job, went the sweat and work of many men, and oftentimes a sob. For there's always disappointments 'fore you meet much success, and the man who sticks it out has fought and won against distress.

And each year another chap has come along to add some more to the things we used to think had reached perfection long before. But we seem to take for granted now, the luxuries we know, and we never stop to think they started centuries ago. You'll gets lots more out of living if you take the time to see all that's back of modern marvels which are serving you and me.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The Rudolph Valentino hullabaloo reminds me of what Estelle Taylor once said. She was the top glamor star in Hollywood at the same time the Great Lover was the king of the white bearskin rugs.

Estelle gave a party and asked all the ladies present to write down the name of the most glamorous man in Hollywood.

When they compared notes every woman present had written down the name of Valentino except Estelle. She voted for Conrad Nagel.

"Maybe I was wrong," she said, "but I always thought that Valentino looked like a man who would snore."

The tuna came to $144.19 per pound!

COSTLY SWITCH

Here's the inside on the switch of Bob Hope's "Where Men Are Men" to "Fancy Pants." It was Bob's title but it cost Paramount $2000. After Bob dreamed it up, the studio discovered that an obscure writer, years ago, had written a magazine article titled, "Fancy Pants."

They offered her $200 for the title. When she heard Bob wanted it so badly, the price went up to $5000. She settled for $2000.

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — By its announcement that it will have the B-52 jet bomber "available" in 1954 to take the place of the B-36, the Air Force modestly admits that it has accomplished one of the most astonishing jobs of aircraft development in history.

Existence of the B-52 project was revealed somewhat reluctantly by Air Force officials during the Congressional hearings on the B-36. Generally the Air Force doesn't like to talk about such a revolutionary plane so many years before it has actually flown. But now that word of it is out, the Air Force experts admit all of the obvious implications for its expected performance.

The amazing accomplishment logically predicted for the new bomber is its long range. It is classed as a "heavy bomber." According to Air Force specifications that classification means that it must have a minimum range of 5000 miles. The radius of operation of the best jet bombers flying today is between 800 and 1200 miles.

But the Air Force is actually committed to build into the B-52 a range of twice the minimum for heavy bombers. The B-36 has been sold to the public and to top defense officials as capable of flying 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles.

SHOULD EQUAL B-36

The whole elaborate theory of intercontinental bombing which the Air Force experts have been selling as the newest element in warfare sits on the ability of one airplane to fly 10,000 pounds 10,000 miles. And if the B-52 is going to take the place of the B-36 it presumably is going to be able to do just that.

How the Air Force scientists put that much range into a jet bomber, or even 5000 miles, is what leaves the outside experts gasping. Range has always been the prohibitive factor in the effectiveness of jets. Their tremendous speed has been at the expense of flying shorter distances. It takes a lot of fuel burning very fast to shove a plane through the air at more than 600 miles per hour. And because the planes have to be so streamlined to go this fast there just isn't much room in them for fuel.

The longest distance a jet bomber has ever flown to date has been 3600 miles. That was under very special conditions and it was done by the B-49 Flying Wing. The fact that the wing design furnishes a minimum of drag is the reason for this long distance flight. But certain other factors inherent in the wing shape has diverted the Air Force engineers' attention from it for long-range bombers.

TWICE THE RANGE

It can be seen from this that the B-52 will have twice the range of today's jet if it is only to meet the minimum standard of a heavy bomber and it will have to have five times the range of them if it is to measure up to the range of the B-36. Progress in the development of bombers has never been that fast before.

It required more than 20 years of intense research and the urgency of two world wars to achieve the range of a B-36. That included going through such steps as the early Curtiss and Martin bombers, through the Liberators and Flying Fortresses to the Superforts and finally reaching the intercontinental goal. In less than one-quarter of that time the Air Force has come the same distance in the brand new field of jet propulsion.

There are several possibilities as to how this point was reached—at least on paper because the B-52 hasn't been built yet. It is possible that they plan to give its range through refulling in air. That would of course minimize the purely scientific accomplishment somewhat, and complicate its use as the A-bomb taxi, but all they ask of it is to do the job.

Another possibility is that jet engines have been developed that don't make a plane go over 600 miles per hour but make it go a longer distance. It could be much faster than the B-36 but not as fast as the jet fighters. That compromise would also be acceptable. The final possibilities are the improvement or development of new fuels and the invention of much more efficient jet engines with as much speed as they now have.

It is known that Air Force scientists have been concentrating on both of these goals. So far they have gone from the use of kerosene to something pretty close to gasoline. Just what the B-52 will have in the way of new engines, observers will have to wait until 1954 to find out. It will be worth waiting for.

Airline Earnings Climb Over Rails

NEW YORK — That travellers are switching from ground transportation to the air is indicated in the steady climb of airline earnings as compared with the drop in surface passenger business, according to Aviation Week.

"Highest peacetime earnings in the history of U. S. commercial air transportation appear within reach this year," says the magazine.

Airlines captured 35.4 percent of the total domestic first-class travel market in the first four months of this year, compared with 30.1 percent in the same 1948 period.

During May and June airline revenue passenger mileage soared to around 46 percent of the total domestic first-class travel market.

Rail coach passenger mileage in the first four months of 1949 slumped 15.5 percent from 1948, and inter-city bus passenger mileage was off 6.4 percent in the first quarter. In the same period, first-class rail passenger mileage (Pullman and parlor car) was down 8.8 percent from last year.

EDITOR CANNED

TOKYO—(AP)— Shichiro Morioka, Japanese editor, was sentenced today to two years at hard labor for printing foreign news stories "destructively critical" of the occupation.

ALPINE CLIMBERS? NOPE—Except for their hard hats and jackhammers, these men working high on the sheer rock face of a canyon wall might be mistaken for mountain climbers. But the scene is Hungry Horse, Mont., site of what will soon become the world's fourth largest concrete dam, across the Flathead River. These jackhammermen are drilling holes to prepare for blasting the canyon wall down to the solid bedrock that will support the dam. So steep is the wall that two men are required on each jackhammer.

XXXV

So Gaynel's little sister had decided to get a job. Had Fritz planted this seed, too?

"Dear me," Emily said, but she wore her sweetest smile again. "A model does sound rather startling. If you know what I mean. I suppose a photographic one should be different. An office, instead of a studio. The things one hears about artists! Though I've known some very nice ones. I do see now my interests must coincide with my home. I meant that they should, from now on. My family must come first. And you know, darling, The Simple Life is really quite the thing. People are all going back to the farms."

"I can't imagine you going back that far, Mother," Gaynel said. She, too, pushed back her chair. She would have to get going. "I am sure, however, that you still can lead your Simple Life, to some degree. Even though I am going to marry Barry."

Emily fluttered after her into the hall, the ruffles on her lacy negligee fluttering, too; her pretty hands gesticulating; murmuring protestations still. Something about, "But, darling, there won't be any point to it, if you marry Barry . . . with all that money. . . . I do think you shouldn't be in such a hurry, darling. . . . Such a different life, so interesting for me" . . . and even something more about having intended talking with a real estate man about the big house today.

But Gaynel did not answer, except to bestow a dutiful daughterly kiss on her mother's cheek after she got into the leopard coat, adjusted the small green beret, and started out for her day.

• • •

THE situation was too ironic to appeal to her sense of humor, for once lacking. Now that she was not going to marry Fritz everything had adjusted itself beautifully so that she could have. Denny was contributing his share and accepting his part of the responsibilities; Emily desired to lead what she was pleased to call The Simple Life, as a new experiment and fancy; even Pat had asserted her independence and gave promise of the intention to take care of herself and lead a life of her own before many years.

But it was Barry, whom Gaynel was going to marry now. She had given him her promise. She meant to live up to it. She told herself it was he she wanted, the security and protection he could give her. He would spoil her dreadfully, be terribly good to her. Oh, she would try, very, very hard, to do as much—in her way—for him.

Bessie Carter was the first to call to wish Gaynel happiness, after the announcement of her engagement appeared in the papers.

"I think it's grand!" Bessie declared over the wire. There was no doubt as to her enthusiasm. "I always knew you two would fix it up, eventually. And it looks, darling, as though your gal friend might decide to do the same thing, most any old day."

"Good for you," Gaynel said, with as much enthusiasm as she could muster. For of course Bessie meant that she had decided to marry Fritz. And if Bessie had decided that, it was as good as done. Well, why shouldn't Bessie go after Fritz, now that Gaynel was marrying Barry? And why, in heaven's name, should Gaynel give a darn, one way or another?

"Fritz is away again." Bessie said. "Down South; he surely gets around. But I tell him it's too silly, when we could have so much fun—though, of course, I hear from him, wires and long distance—Fritz claims he's the world's worst correspondent."

Yes, Fritz had said that to Gaynel, too. But he had written her, when in Chicago. No doubt he was saying all the things now to Bessie, that once he had said to her.

"I even got Father to make a place for him here," Bessie was saying. "At a much fatter salary. But, can you tie this, he wouldn't take it?"

• • •

GAYNEL couldn't tie it, but her heart, that had sunk so low, gave a lift. Then sank again, at Bessie's next declaration.

"I told him he'd have to—after we are married. I don't intend to have a traveling man for my husband!"

It would be interesting to see who won out—Bessie or Fritz. Each was as stubborn as the other. Gaynel hoped they'd lead a cat-and-dog life together. And then to make up for such an unkind thought, she said, "I want you to be one of my bridesmaids, Bessie," she said sweetly.

Bessie said, enthusiastically again, that that would be simply grand. Maybe Barry would ask Fritz for one of the ushers.

Gaynel replied that that would be up to Barry. But she scarcely thought it likely, or that Fritz would accept, were Barry to ask him. These last opinions she kept to herself, naturally.

At least Fritz was not marrying Bessie for her Father's money, or what he could do for him. As he would think she was, when she married Barry. But she wasn't; she wasn't! Let Fritz think what he pleased. The money would be nice; it would be ridiculous, untruthful, to say it wouldn't. But she—and Barry—knew there was much more than that.

She was terribly fond of Barry. And she despised Frederick Fitzroy Freyman.

Pal Runs Paper Route For Buddy

BOSTON —(AP)— Polio-stricken Walter Berthiaume, 14, was pretty worried about his newspaper route.

When he was admitted to Children's Hospital a month ago he told doctors:

"I have to get well real soon I have a newspaper business to attend to and I want to set up a baby-sitting service this winter. Grandma needs my help, too."

Now Walter can stop fretting about the paper route, thanks to his pal, Carl Johnson, 13.

Dressed in his Sunday suit, Carl walked to his friend's bedside and said, "Hi, Walt. I got a little present for you."

It was a big glass bowl holding change and bills.

"Folks around home think a lot of you, Walt," Carl said. "They gave me more than $75 to get you well. If it ain't enough, I'll get more."

Young Johnson said he took over Walter's newspaper route and collected the money from his customers in a one-man campaign to help his pal, who was stricken at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Eagen, with whom he lives.

As the youngsters shook hands, Carl told Walter "never mind how long it takes to get better, you've got yourself a partner."

Narcotics Ring Is Broken Up

PLAINVIEW, Neb. — (AP) — William Bohl broke up a narcotics ring in his own feed lots last week.

When his hogs began to grow thin and wobble uncertainly about the feed lot, Bohl launched a one-man investigation. At the back of the feed lot he found the hogs jumping in the air to get at the last few leaves near the top of a lush stand of marijuana plants.

ing Department and with Roberts & Merriman Consulting Engineering Co. offices, Russell and Francis.

The resignation of Chief of Police Louie Allen was tabled for acceptance until next week when the full commission could be present. Mayor C. A. Huff and Commissioner Crawford Atkinson were absent.

At the same time City Manager Dick Pepin told the commission that because of an oversight appointment of a city health officer has been delayed for a month. The term of Dr. R. Malcom Brown, present city health officer, expired on Aug -19. Dr. Brown was immediately reappointed unanimously, for another two year term.

The reappointment brought up the old question of the proposed city-county-state health unit center. The center was discussed and a meeting date set for a discussion with a state representative, the County Commissioners' Court, and the City Commission. The date set was Oct. 4.

A resolution cancelling the application for a wooden control tower at the Pampa Army Air Field, made by the city in March, 1948, was passed and will be sent to the War Assets Administration.

Action on purchase of water pipe, fittings and fireplugs was tabled because City Engineer Ray Evans was sent to Dallas to discuss the purchase of surplus pipe from the government. The surplus pipe is located at PAAF.

Pepin told the commission that he, City Attorney Bob Gordon, Chamber of Commerce President Fred Thompson and the CC vice president, G. S. "Pinkey" Vineyard, were going to Lubbock today for further talks on the Canadian River Dam project.

Printed copies of the city's budget for 1949-50 were distributed among the commissioners. Pepin announced he had "plenty more" on hand and asked any person interested in the city's expenditures to come in and get a copy to look over before the public hearing on Sept. 27.

East Texas Electric Steel will operate the plant for Southwest Metals, Inc.

The Longview News and Journal published an extra heraldisg the plant.

This is the second large industry to be announced for Longview within the last 30 days The other is Tennessee Eastman Corp, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Co. Plans for a large bank and office building also were announced this week.

Hearing Set On Judge's Appointment

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee ordered a public hearing next Tuesday on the appointment of Judge Sherman Minton to the Supreme Court.

Members decided, at a closed session, to listen then to any witnesses who wish to protest President Truman's selection of Minton to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Wiley B. Rutledge.

There was no talk of calling Minton himself to testify, members said. Ordinarily, Supreme Court nominees are not asked to appear.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), a committee member, said he wants full hearings on the nomination.

Ferguson told reporters that he doesn't know of any current opposition to Minton.

"But I think we should have full hearings to develop information about Minton's legal ability and about his background," the Michigan senator said. "I don't know the man nor much about him."

Minton, former Indiana senator, is now a federal judge in Chicago. He and President Truman developed a close friendship in their Senate days and Republicans may revive their attacks on what some of them have called "government by crony."
