FARM STRIKERS DISREGARD FEDERAL THREATS

Cotton Belt Leading Nation Out Of Depression, Reserve Board Member Says

PRICE INCREASE MAKES STAPLE REAL LEADER

South's Principal Product Near Its True Value, G. R. James Says

DEBTS TO BE PAID OFF

Market Improvement Finds Growing Expense At Lowest Level

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(Copyright, 1932, by The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—King Cotton was envisaged today as the economic ruler which may lead the country from the depression.

The recent increase in price in the South's staple commodity has improved conditions there notably and this improvement may well spread in other directions, according to George R. James, veteran federal reserve board member who represents the cotton area's interests on the government's banking and financial agency. Cotton was carried from five to eight cents a pound in the recent upward commodity price movement.

Near True Value

"The cotton growing country is in far better shape now than any part of the country I know anything about," James said today in an exclusive interview with The United Press. "Cotton is coming closer to the true relation between value and price.

"The increase in price means there will be a lot of liquidation of debts, and there should be money left over for spending which will stimulate business."

James did not minimize the debts which hang over the southern cotton grower from the depression. He believes, however, the increased income in prospect this year will open the way for removing most of these obligations.

James Knows Cotton

The tall and slightly stooped federal reserve board member looked over his spectacles with a philosophical and tolerant humor in his eye as he talked about the economic problems of the South centering about the cotton grower. He is from Memphis, Tenn., where he formerly was a successful cotton farmer, and knows the cotton belt folks and their problems.

"If the farmers are prosperous, then it should not take long for the rest of the country to come back," he said.

In analyzing the present situation, James pointed to several factors involved. For one thing, the present cotton crop is being produced cheaper than at any time since the nineties. In addition, cotton exports are greater now than since 1927.

Growing Cost Low

The federal reserve board's cotton expert explained that with a price of five cents a pound at the start of the season, tenant farmers were contracted for a price of around 40 cents an acre. This represents the cost to the plantation owner for growing his crop.

The tenant and the plantation owner share 50-50 from the income from the crop, which will be a short crop. Last agriculture department estimates were slightly under 12,000,000 bales. This may be reduced, and the price may go to 10 or 12 cents a pound, if the present commodity price rise continues, James indicated.

Cotton exports for the year ending July 31 aggregated 5,708,000 bales, comparing with 6,760,000 for the previous year. Exports in July, the last month of the cotton export year, were 449,000 bales contrasting with 259,000 in July, 1931. June exports this year were 360,000 bales and May 501,000 bales.

A short crop in China and India this year is partly responsible for the increased demand for American cotton.

Wirt Bank Robbers Trailed by Officers

ARDMORE, Okla., Aug. 23. (AP)—A posse of 30 officers concentrated today near Tussy, in the extreme western part of Carter county, where the two men who robbed the Wirt State bank were believed to be hiding. Approximately $1,000 was taken in the robbery.

Possemen believed one of the robbers was wounded as they followed a trail of blood for some distance. The robbers abandoned a stolen coupe yesterday near Lindsay.

WICHITA FALLS
Fine Arts Center

As is the custom on the last Sunday of August and the one following, announcements of the teachers and schools of fine arts will be made. The season is approaching when parents are making their arrangements for music, dancing and expression lessons.

Wichita Falls can well be proud of the splendid talent various instructors offer. In addition to the Junior college and the fine public schools system, you will find in Sunday's Times announcements of supplemental instruction in the fine arts seldom obtainable in cities many times larger than Wichita Falls.

Here's Brief, Pointed Summary Of Nation's Economic Turmoil

Hungry, Shelterless Men Fight For Existence on Various Fronts, Using Words and Fists to Gain Advantage

(By United Press)

Men fought with their fists, argued, schemed and went to law in half a dozen focal centers of economic strife over the nation Tuesday.

The age-old human wants—hunger, the need for shelter, the will to exist—prompted the outbursts, which took the form of a riot in a street car by passengers who refused to pay fares, of a rebellion of thousands of coal miners against a pay cut, of a "strike" by farmers enraged at low prices for their produce, of a revolt by subscribers in a telephone system against service rates.

Tired of theories and projects that failed to make their oats and cream and hogs sell for more in the markets, farmers massed along countryside highways, stopping city-bound trucks and trains, dumping milk, berating those who tried to run the blockade, engaging in fist fights.

At Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Iowa, 200 farmers picketed highways. Leading them was white-haired James Hawn, 60, Woodbine, Iowa, who said he would willingly go to the penitentiary for five years if it would result in bettering conditions on the farms.

Sioux City, Iowa faced a milk shortage because producers failed to agree to a distributors' contract proposal and because pickets lined the roads, turning back milk trucks. Only six head of livestock reached the stockyards.

Elsewhere in Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Illinois, the farm "strike" slowly gained momentum.

The street car riot in Cleveland broke out when a passenger shouted:

"We won't pay fares. The corporations have stolen our money."

A free-for-all fight ensued in which three railway employes were beaten.

Plans went forward for a march of 25,000 Illinois coal minters, protesting against a $1.10 a day wage cut under a new contract, to march on mines in the southern part of the state where fellow miners are at work at the reduced scale. Two men have died from bullet wounds, many have been hurt and hundreds have been threatened.

A mass meeting of telephone subscribers was called at Hutchinson, Kan., to determine the next move in their fight to force the telephone company to lower rates. The telephone users insist on a reduction of $1 a month.

At Tiffin, Ohio, approximately 6,000 Seneca county taxpayers marched on the county courthouse late yesterday demanding immediate reduction of salaries and merging of certain offices. Farmers left their fields and merchants closed their stores to join the marchers.

T-U SCIENTIST HITS VIEWS OF CONSERVATIVES

Eugenics Impossible Under Capitalist System, Dr. Muller Says

By GOBIND BEHARI LAL
Universal Service Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—So long as we are under the present capitalist system, it is idle to talk of eugenics.

Only under a socialistic system can eugenics, the art of socially directed human evolution, be really practiced on an adequate scale to salvage mankind.

This bold viewpoint, causing a flurry among the cautious and quasi-conservative members of the eugenic conference now in session here at the American Museum of Natural History, was propounded by Dr. H. J. Muller of Texas university today.

Economic Burden

Dr. Muller argued:

"That eugenics under capitalism involves several serious contradictions. Under the capitalist system the fulfilling of the eminently social function of producing the next generation entails an excessively heavy individual economic burden, which added to other economic stresses, effects most of the population, especially the women.

"What is needed is not individual subsidies or charities, but a society consciously organized for the common good, so as to ensure every one economic plenty, a society meeting fully its obligations both towards the younger generation and the older one. All this presupposes public ownership of the means of production. Only then can there be eugenics worthy of the name."

Hits "Class" Theory

The notion, sedulously propagated by conservative or capitalist eugenists that there are "superior classes" and "inferior or lower classes," was knocked on the head by Dr. Muller, who said:

"Such scientific evidence as is available fails to support the naive doctrine that the present economically dominant classes, races and individuals are genetically superior. Capitalism leads to a false appraisal of the worth of an individual. It is to the advantage of the economically dominant groups to foster old superstitions and taboos regarding sex and reproduction."

Petitions Ask Recall Of Tulsa, Okla., Mayor

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 23. (AP)—A campaign for 15,000 signatures on petitions asking the recall of Mayor Herman Newblock was under way today.

A. P. Bowles, police commissioner, who has been fighting with Mayor Newblock for control of the police department, was the principal speaker at a rally last night at which the drive was started. Other speakers included Dr. George S. Long, brother of United States Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

Irish Army Bans Movies Of British Royal Family

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Irish Republican army today warned managers of Dublin moving picture theaters not to exhibit films showing members of the British royal family or containing any "form of British propaganda."

Publisher And Seabury In Heated Clash Over Check Disappearances

By EDWARD L. RODDAN

ALBANY, N. Y. Aug. 23. (US)—The disappearance of a $7,500 check which passed to a "mystery woman" from the joint brokerage account of Mayor James J. Walker and Publisher Paul Block, provided a new sensation at the removal hearings before Governor Roosevelt today.

For a brief time, Judge Samuel Seabury, author of the charges, was placed sharply on the defensive when Block testified that Seabury showed him the check at a secret hearing in New York City.

Facsimile Printed

Although the check has since disappeared and nobody knows who has it, a facsimile was recently printed in a New York paper.

Taken aback at Block's testimony, Seabury indignantly denied that he ever showed the check to Block. The witness stuck to his guns and doggedly insisted that he did.

Block said he remembered distinctly, because he asked Seabury if he intended to inquire into Mayor Walker's private life and Seabury responded in the negative. Seabury asserted that all he ever had in his possession was the check stub.

Three Take Stand

Block was one of three prominent men who took the stand in Walker's defense at a lengthy session which extended all afternoon, into the evening.

Governor Roosevelt was driving ahead relentlessly determined to get the hearings over as soon as possible.

Other witnesses were L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and a member of the mayor's board of taxicab control, and Samuel Ungerleider, a broker.

For over two hours, Block was subjected to a gruelling examination and cross-examination by Roosevelt and Seabury regarding the joint brokerage account which he opened for the mayor and from which Walker got profits of about $246,000.

Son Not Called

His son, Billy Block, from whom the publisher first said he got the idea of helping Walker make some money, was with him in the executive chamber but was not called to the stand.

Most of the questioning centered about Block's financial interest in the Beyer Chemical company, for which Judge Seabury charged the

TWO WICHITA BANDITS SHOT

Pair Wounded After Bank Robbery in Arkansas

DIERKS, Ark., Aug. 23. (AP)—A banker who learned about firearms during the world war wounded two of three men who robbed the Bank of Dierks of $8,000 today, and thereby forced the trio to surrender an hour later with their loot after a posse of officers overtook them.

The banker, Vice President J. L. Keener, remained in the bank until two of the robbers forced the cashier, Aubrey Gore, into their automobile and then he opened fire with an automatic pistol.

Two of the men, who told police they were Rufe McCain, 29, and Henry Devenport, 19, Wichita Falls, Texas, were each shot in the arm by Keener, who had a "pistol expert" rating during his war service.

Gore was injured when the bandits pushed him from their speeding car about three miles from here. They went on through DeQueen, west of here, where the car was overtaken by a posse. With his two companions wounded, the driver, who gave his name as Curley Smith, 30, Broken Bow, Okla., surrendered. All of the money was recovered.

Henry Devenport of Wichita Falls, wounded Tuesday leaving the scene of a bank robbery at Dierks, Ark., is listed in the city directory as residing at 211 Maple. He is well known to city, county and juvenile officers here. County officers said Devenport had a record in Wichita county. Local officers do not know Rufe McCain, also wounded in the shooting.

Veterans Oppose Hurley Talk at Legion Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 23. (UP)—The appearance of Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley before the state convention of the Oklahoma American Legion was protested today by members of the War Veterans Political league.

The league, formed by bonus marchers, charged Hurley's scheduled speech before the legion is "inspired by political purposes."

"The secretary of war has used his office as a propaganda department to foster President Hoover's program against the welfare of the ex-service men of our country," said Ernest Allbright, league organizer who lead Oklahoma's bonus marchers to Washington.

The convention will be held at Muskogee Aug. 29-30.

CHURCH QUARREL FATAL

KONAWA, Okla., Aug. 23. (UP)—A church quarrel between two deacons ended fatally tonight for John Gibson, 35. Gibson was killed by two rifle bullets in a dispute with Will Bemo. Bemo was jailed.

Eldon Cessna Holds Air Derby Lead As Racing Planes Land at Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 23. (AP)—Eldon Cessna of Wichita, Kan., flying a plane which bears his name, was the first to cross the finish line at Municipal airport to hold his lead margin in the Cord transcontinental air derby this afternoon.

Close behind Cessna was Roy Hunt of Norman, Okla., who holds second place, and Art Carnahan of Bloomington, Ill., was third.

Included the first 15 ranking fliers:

Gladys O'Donnell, fourth; J. L. O'Donnell, fifth; J. S. McDonnell, sixth; William E. Bleakley, seventh; Joe Thompson, eighth; Waldo Waterman, ninth; Kenneth Neese, 10th; Thomas P. Mullins, 11th; Jim Granger, 12th; Marshall Headle, 13th; Arthur G. Gross, 14th, and Nixon Galloway, 15th.

Four fliers were unaccounted for at Lubbock asairport, but it was believed that only one, W. R. Jack of Cleveland, flying a Great Lakes, is down. Leslie C. Miller of Los Angeles, first reported missing, checked in at 3:23. William J. Powell, Los Angeles negro pilot, who arrived in El Paso this morning as the fliers were hopping off, John Negle of Los Angeles and Chas. Spencer Jr. of Douglas, Ariz., had not arrived at the airport at 4 p. m.

TWO RAILROADS HERE AGREE ON JOB SOLUTION

New Mileage Limitations Adopted by Denver And Valley

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—A mileage limitations agreement which will bring employment to 50 furloughed workers was entered into today by the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Wichita Valley railways and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The new agreement effective Sept. 1, supplements one signed Aug. 15.

Negotiations were carried on by A. H. Dorsch of Cleveland, special representative of the brotherhood; J. D. Farrington, general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver and Wichita Valley railways, and R. Q. Mills, general chairman of the brotherhood here.

Mills said the agreement which probably will be adopted by other Texas railroads as a solution to unemployment among firemen and hostlers would affect 223 men on the two roads.

Limitations of the Fort Worth and Denver shall apply to the Wichita Valley railway except that in assigned or extra passenger service the limitations shall be 3,700 to 4,000 miles per calendar month.

Prince and Brother Wear Open-Necked Shirts

CANNES, France, Aug. 23. (US)—Wearing open-necked dollar shirts which they personally bought at a local store, the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, today enjoyed life in the Riviera manner.

It was also something of a blow to stolid English stylists to see the Prince of Wales playing golf in a red shirt, blue dungarees, a straw hat and tennis shoes, while his brother strolled about in shorts and a sailor's "beanie."

Tonight the Prince of Wales attended the local Rotarians dinner. Tomorrow he is expected at the benefit gala in the Palm Beach casino at which Maurice Chevalier will preside.

Physician Denied Bond In Girl Death Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 23. (AP)—Dr. Richard E. Thacker was held for trial without bail today on a murder charge growing out of the death, allegedly from an illegal operation, of Robbie Lou Thompson. The former army physician, already held for trial in a similar case, was expected to seek bail through a habeas corpus proceeding.

At his preliminary hearing today, he was accused by Miss Thompson's fiance, Marvin Erdman, who said he witnessed the purported operation and paid the physician $50.

New Bethlehem Steel Merger Is Reported

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Youngstown Vindicator today reports that a new merger deal between Bethlehem Steel corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company on the basis of an even exchange of shares, were current in steel circles here. However, there was no confirmation from any official source. It was intimated that other companies might be included.

Letting of Museum Contract Is Delayed

CANYON, Texas, Aug. 23. (AP)—Letting of a contract to erect the $50,000 museum here for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society was postponed until a meeting of the directors at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Nine bids were opened and filed by the society today.

OFF FOR CHINA

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23. (US)—Off for China to take pot shots at long-haired tigers, Douglas Fairbanks will leave here tomorrow evening.

The actor will be accompanied by Mary Pickford as far as San Francisco, where he will embark Thursday on the Chichibu Maru.

Chicago Mayor Finds But One Drunkard in Europe

BERLIN, Aug. 23. (US)—During his month's tour of Central Europe Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago saw but one drunkard. This, he said today, is a strange contrast to conditions in the United States where prohibition "forces us to drink brews made of old shoes and overalls."

Garner to Start Campaign in Texas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Word has reached here that Speaker John N. Garner will begin an eastward journey about Sept. 10 from his Uvalde, Texas, home to open his campaign as Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Tentative plans call for the Texan to make his first speech in his home state either in Dallas or Beaumont en route, with a second one probably in Atlanta or some other southern city.

Garner is expected in New York about Sept. 12. It is almost definitely settled he will deliver a speech in New Hampshire.

The speaker plans only a few set speeches, but it is understood he will deliver many short talks from the back end of his train in New England and the Middle West.

Managers of the campaign want as many people of the country as possible to see and hear the Texan personally.

Garner is resting as much as possible at his southwestern Texas home after his recent and other visit with other Democratic leaders.

He has informed friends here while he does not desire to make many speeches, he has placed himself in readiness to make those his party leaders think advisable.

Al Smith Takes Job As Editor In Chief Of Outlook Magazine

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (UP)—Alfred E. Smith today announced he has become editor in chief of the New Outlook magazine, taking the chair once occupied by Theodore Roosevelt.

The magazine, which suspended last spring, resumes publication in October under the name of The New Outlook. It will be "the voice of the people of America," reflecting the new viewpoint and philosophy which has grown out of the grim depression years, Smith says.

Al E. Smith

Smith thus falls heir to the literary mantle of Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, who himself was an associate editor of the Outlook, once lifting its circulation to 270,000.

The 90,000 persons who were Outlook subscribers will automatically become the nucleus of its new readers. Frank A. Tichenor, publisher, who conceived of the possibilities of a great national magazine edited by "Al" Smith and who bought the Outlook, it is reported, for $12,500 this summer, predicts that Smith's direction and his own articles will lift its circulation to half a million.

Smith Embarrassed

Today, in announcing the news, Smith sat, flushed and embarrassed, in his editorial chair in the new-classic offices of the New Outlook on Madison avenue. On the wall behind him were steel engravings of two former editors, Henry Ward Beecher and Theodore Roosevelt.

OCEAN PLANES FEARED LOST

'Flying Family' Reaches Its Goal After Easy Trip

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Aug. 23. (UP)—Two American airplanes bound westward over the North Atlantic failed to make their first objective on schedule tonight in an informal race from the United States to Norway.

The planes, one bearing Thor Solberg and Carl Petersen and another manned by John Bochkon and Clyde Allen Lee, were due at Harbor Grace an hour or more before sunset but long after dark they had failed to arrive.

Flying Family Safe

A third plane, bearing the flying family Hutchinsons on a leisurely flight from New York to England, was safe at St. John, New Brunswick, preparing to continue to Harbor Grace or Labrador tomorrow.

The Solberg-Petersen plane, which left New York at 4:43 a. m. eastern standard time had been out more than 14 hours when darkness closed down over the Newfoundland coast. The flight of about 1,200 miles should have been made in about 12 hours.

The second plane, Green Mountain Boy, left Barre at 9:18 a. m. eastern standard time on a flight of only 950 miles to Harbor Grace.

Attempts to Dynamite Passenger Trains Bared

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 23. (AP)—Two attempts to wreck fast passenger trains of the Missouri Pacific and Rock Island railroads by blowing them up with dynamite were disclosed today by police who are combining all agencies for investigating.

This morning the Memphis-Californian of the Rock Island exploded a bomb under the tracks and a section of rails was torn up but the blast failed to wreck the train.

Last night a limited train of the Missouri Pacific ran over a huge deposit of dynamite but it did not explode because of a faulty cap.

Two days ago another attempt was made to blow up the Memphis-Californian. It was frustrated, however, by a preceding freight that set off the explosion. Several cars were derailed.

New Fight for Bonus Predicted by Leaders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (US)—The "battle of the bonus" will be fought out again at the forthcoming session of congress.

Advocates of immediate cash payment of the $2,400,000,000 balance left on the world war veterans' adjusted-compensation certificates were preparing today for renewal of the fight.

Senator Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, served notice he will offer the bonus bill in December. He pointed to the widespread demand of American Legion posts for payment as a forerunner of victory.

Texas Grain Shippers to Seek Entirely New Freight Rate Scale

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—Decision to ask for entirely new grain rate structures, designed to equalize advantages of Texas, Kansas and far western markets was reached by the central grain committee of Texas in an all-day session here today.

The central committee rejected both the rates in effect now and those which were made effective Aug. 1, 1931, but cancelled Feb. 20 of this year by a decision of the United States supreme court as less desirable than new schedules.

The group authorized its subcommittee to work out briefs and exhibits for presenting to Interstate Commerce commission examiners and the state railroad commission here in October. The hearing here, it was understood today, will be held the latter part of October rather than earlier as was first announced.

On several points of the vastly complicated grain rate stimulation, the group here today was not completely agreed. Amarillo seeks to have the arbitrary group line which guides rate making to far western markets moved east from Dalhart to Amarillo. Fort Worth, Dallas and other Central Texas markets want similar advantage for east enough to include them.

PICKETING OF ROADS SPREADS IN OMAHA AREA

Determined Farmers Pitch Camps Along Highways Through Iowa

VIOLENCE SCORNED

Leader Rejects Offers Of Help From Cities In Fear of 'Reds'

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Aug. 23. (UP)—Nearly 1,000 striking farmers, disregarding suggestions that the federal government may act against them, today tightened their picket lines on Iowa roads leading to Omaha, Neb., one of the nation's great markets for farm products.

Lighting their camps with great, roaring wood fires, determined farmers were flagging down every passing vehicle at strategic points on major highways.

Violence Avoided

Violence was carefully avoided, as the men remembered statements of federal, state, and county officers that no lawlessness would be tolerated.

It was the stopping of a freight train near Emerson, Neb., which brought the federal government into the strike. There, 300 men opened a cattle car, permitting a steer and a hog to escape into the highway.

C. E. Sandall, United States district attorney, declared this act to be a violation of section one of the Sherman anti-trust act, and asserted the federal government would act if a formal complaint were made.

Railroads Act

Sandall also indicated that the railroads have taken the matter to the Interstate Commerce commission. He said an injunction would probably be the remedy should the federal government take a hand.

Clifton P. Savery, leader of the strike forces here, emphasized to the United Press that he wanted no violence and would do all in his power to avoid recurrences of the Emerson affair.

Savery also said he would reject all offers of city men to join the farmers in their fight. He expressed fear Communists might attempt to take advantage of the situation here.

"We'd rather take care of it ourselves," he said.

Many Visit Camps

Hundreds of men and women visited the picket camps during the afternoon and evening. Cars were parked nearby so thickly as to hamper traffic.

In the camps they found sincere, bearded men, taking their turns in the picketing, curling up beside the fires for short naps in their leisure moments.

Women and children visited with their men-folk about the fires, bringing them food and drink. Men brewed their own coffee, and roasted sweet corn on sticks above the coals. Fried chicken was served for dinner in several of the camps.

The men commented on failure of Nebraska farmers to join heartily in the picketing around Omaha, but said they believed the movement would gain strength soon and trucking of livestock and produce to the market would be almost completely stopped.

Want Advertising

Savery stressed the importance of advertising the strike.

"That's why we stop every private car," he said. "We don't think we'll find produce in them, but we do want the news of the picketing widely spread.

Sheriff Percy Lainson conferred with the leader late today, and obtained his pledge to restrain any violent actions. Lainson also said he would swear in about 20 special deputies tonight.

Meanwhile, Gov. Charles Bryan of Nebraska, at Monroe, said he would taken no notice of the movement unless local authorities should prove unable to cope with the situation.

Highways Blocked

At Sioux City the strikers appeared to hold the balance of power. There few trucks reached the market, since all highways were barricaded and heavily picketed.

Three trains were known to have been stopped en route to the market, and milk was poured on the highway on several occasions.

No attempt was made here to stop milk trucks, pending negotiations between the Nebraska-Iowa Cooperative Milk association and Omaha creameries. No agreement had resulted tonight from these conferences.

Sterilization Law In Oklahoma Appealed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 23. (UP)—Oklahoma's sterilization law passed by the last legislature to affect the incurably insane, was appealed today to the state supreme court.

The appeal was made in behalf of Samuel W. Main, patient at the state hospital for insane. The state board of public affairs has ordered him sterilized. He is married and has four children. The move attacks the law's constitutionality.

WALKER CALLS HIS WITNESSES

Three New Yorkers Explain Financial Deals

publisher sought to get city contracts for furnishing synthetic tile.

Block said he questioned whether it was "honorable" for Seabury to include this in his charges when he never even mentioned it while the publisher was testifying before the legislative committee in New York.

Rail Man Called

The first witness called today was L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and a member of Mayor Walker's board of taxicab control. Like the three members who testified yesterday, Loree said the mayor never sought to influence his actions as a member of the board.

The surprise part of his testimony came when Loree said he bought $25,000 worth of Cosden Oil stock upon recommendation of J. A. Sisto, whom he described as a very high grade broker.

Seabury's whole charge was based on the insinuation that Mayor Walker took $26,000 in stock from Sisto as a bribe to promote taxicab limitation. The fact that Loree, a close friend of Governor Roosevelt, bought the same stock was a strong point for the defense.

After a few more questions, Loree was excused and Paul Block, the publisher, was called to the stand. Previous testimony was to the effect that Block through stock transactions made $246,000 for Walker.

He testified that some years ago Walker advised him that Greene Cananea Copper stock was a good buy but he failed to purchase. Block added that shortly after he opened a joint brokerage account with Walker similar to the ones he held with other friends.

Curtin asked:

"Did you ever have any business transactions with the city of New York since James J. Walker became mayor?"

A.—"I never have."

Never a Favor

Q.—"Did you ever receive any official favor from Mayor Walker?"

A.—"I neither obtained nor sought official favor."

Block added that he put up all told $140,000 for the chemist, Beyer, who was experimenting with synthetic marble, synthetic rubber and synthetic tile. Subsequently he got it all back.

Seabury said Block wanted to sell some of this tile to the city. Curtin asked:

"Did you ever talk to Mayor Walker about selling some of this tile to the city?"

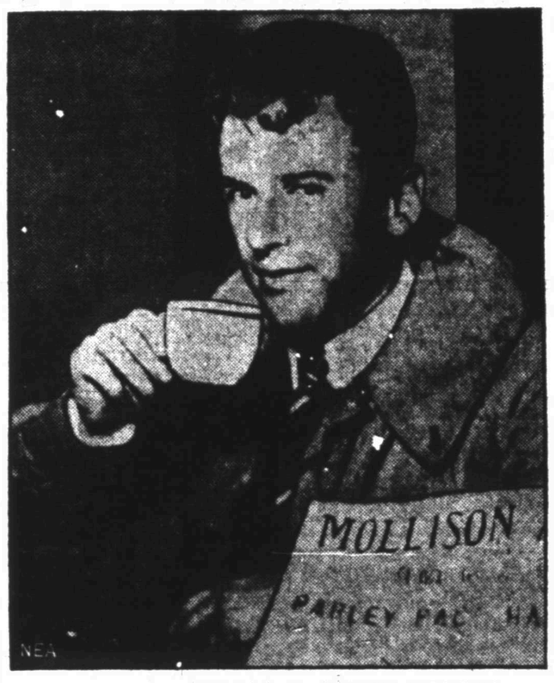

A.—"I never did."

The witness added that when Beyer told him he wanted to sell some tile to the city he advised him against it and Beyer dropped the plan.

Block then revealed that Seabury asked him all about the Beyer transactions in private hearings but never mentioned it in public hearings before the Hofstadter committee. He added:

"I wondered if it were even an honorable thing to include the Beyer matter in the conclusions when Judge Seabury never mentioned it in the public hearings. I think the least that can be said about it was that it was very unjust."

Memphis Fire Chief Elected Head Of Texas-Panhandle Association

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 23.—Chief M. G. Ray of Memphis was elected president of the West Texas-Panhandle Firemens association at its fourth annual convention here today. He succeeds Dewey Dovel of Electra.

Chief W. L. Ledbetter of Chillicothe was elected first vice president succeeding Mr. Ray, and Chief J. J. Blackstone of Burkburnett was elected second vice president. Charles W. Stewart of Claude was re-elected secretary-treasurer, and R. A. Tanner of Iowa Park was renamed assistant secretary.

The 1933 convention city will be selected tomorrow, the closing day of the convention. Pampa is expected to ask for the 1933 session.

One of the goals of next year's convention will be to bring the state convention to the Panhandle, it was decided here today. A committee composed of Chief Gold of Pampa, Chief J. L. McClure of Wichita Falls, and Chief Ray of Memphis was appointed to work on this objective.

A finance committee composed of Chief J. J. Blackstone of Burkburnett, Chief R. A. Tanner of Iowa Park, and Dewey Dovel of Electra, was appointed as was a membership committee composed of Chief D. O. Handley of Wellington, Chief T. E. Lewis of Electra, Chief C. W. Stewart of Claude, and Chief W. L. Ledbetter of Chillicothe.

A barbecue and dance were features tonight. More than 200 firemen were registered, cities represented include El Paso, Wichita Falls, Wellington, Memphis, Claude, Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Chillicothe, Nocona, Albany, Olney, Quanah, Vernon, and Waurika, Okla.

Childress, Pampa, and Paducah representatives are expected tomorrow.

Addresses and drill contests will feature tomorrow's program. Chief Fred L. Cushion of El Paso will address the convention and Chief Gold of Pampa will speak on "Arson."

Drill contests will include engine hookup, firemen's pumper drill, fire escape drill, hose connecting contest, ladder climbing, and life saving by ladder. Following the drill contests, a water polo game will be held.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

LET THEM ALONE

In every baby's schedule there should appear, "And let him alone," after each entry. We are likely to be too much with our children, forgetting that the first need of every soul is to be alone a little in contemplation of the universe as it appears in this very personal world.

After a baby has been bathed and fed he should be left in quiet. The quieter and the loner, the better. If he is very young he will sleep and thereby add pounds to his weight and inches to his stature beside adding power to his intelligence which thrives in peace.

As the little ones grow they push their lives into ours. They take on something of our activity and restlessness. They try to imitate us in all things and very soon grow weary of the effort. Unless we are watchful they will overdo and become fatigued beyond control and then we have had temper, irritable nerves, loss of appetite, sleep and growth. It is wise to keep a certain period of the day sacred to quiet and self-sufficiency.

After a runabout child has visited the family for a time in the morning he should go to his own place and occupy himself in his own affairs. If he has brothers and sisters and playmates this period is shortened but it is wise to preserve it even in its lowest terms. Let him be by himself some part of each day and learn to be responsible for his own amusement. One of life's tragedies is this peculiar need of personal strength with no means of satisfying it. We are all acquainted with the restless person who must be going somewhere, talking to some one, a wanderer on the face of life. If only his mother had taught him to look inside himself for his strength and companionship how much happier he would have been and how much more useful and beloved.

The active child of school age needs to be let alone a little. His activity gets him into trouble. Each person he meets attends to him. He is a target for advice, suggestions and commands from all quarters. His face is dirty. He has lost a button. He is wasting precious time. He ought to take care of his finger nails. Why didn't he raise his hat? Where's his homework? Who told him he could have that box? Why doesn't he take dancing lessons instead of chinning the bar all day? Why doesn't he learn to chin himself instead of going to dancing school?

Let him alone. Let them all alone. After a child has gone to school all day, he needs a period of leisure to do with as he will. After a baby has struggled to eat with a spoon he needs a time of rest and peace to restore his spirit and body. After an adolescent has listened to lectures and recitations for hours he needs time to himself.

One of the needs of childhood, and of maturity as well, is a chance to be alone, to go apart, to visit with itself. Life is 70 years long. Surely some of those years ought to go into the task of knowing oneself, a leisurely, lonely undertaking.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

AL SMITH NOW RUNS MAGAZINE

1928 Nominee Is Editor Of New Outlook

Smith smiled his disarming smile as, deprecatingly, he told his story. His candid blue eyes fixed squarely on the assembled newspaper men.

"It's my first day on the job," he said. "And I can't talk too much about policies. But I will give all the time necessary to editing and writing.

"I'll write an editorial in every issue on the subject that is gripping the human imagination at that time, perhaps politics, perhaps economics, perhaps some social question. I like writing; I've always had the urge . . ."

Dodges Politics

He fenced off questions on politics.

"Politics are out the window—100 miles out the window—" he snapped. "I won't talk politics. This job has nothing to do with it. I won't discuss whether I'm through with politics. Politics and this job are just in separate compartments in my mind.

"But certainly the magazine will have no political bias whatever. It certainly wouldn't be much of a magazine if it had . . ."

Asked to define what his New Outlook was that he foresaw developing in America, Smith grinned again.

"You've got to buy the magazine to find out," he said. "But I'll say this—we'll sole and heel the old Outlooks, and bring them up to date."

Then, wearily, he signalled the end of the interview, mopping with a polka-dot green silk handkerchief, a heavy tired face that was amazingly like that of the Beecher portrait looking down on him.

The Outlook was founded by Beecher as the Christian Union in 1865, the first non-denominational magazine in America. In 1893 the name was changed to The Outlook.

Dr. Lyman Abbot succeeded Beecher in 1881 and Roosevelt was an editor or contributor from 1909 to 1916. In October, 1928, the magazine absorbed the Independent, and was published as The Outlook and Independant, which name, however, lapses with its present title. The format will be retained, although even more conservative in tone.

Decline of more than 2,000,000 pounds in Nevada's wool production in 1932, as compared with last year, is estimated by the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics.

'Baering' Down On The News

BY ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

STATION B. F. C. NOW BROADCASTING

Now, all we have to find out about the Reconstruction Finance corporation is whether it's pleasure or business.

Fifty-five million government wafers have been loaned to home talent. We have reached that stage in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness where the government trusts a local boy.

In a way, we object to charity beginning at home. Even at six per cent. Why not lend all our gravy to Europe and save the price of bookkeeping?

Europeans are all steamed up because Americans are borrowing money that Europe bought a tin cup for. They claim it is unfair to organized mooching.

Banks and sovereign commonwealths have sliced themselves a hunk of federal antiseptic financial dressing.

And the small business man? Well, he's just a polka dot on the industrial fabric. It takes a lot of them to make a necktie.

Anyway, we have started. The next step is to wade back through the amendments in an effort to reach the constitution.

FAMILY PLANE REACHES GOAL

Hutchinsons May Take Off Again Today

It should have arrived at its first objective about 6 p. m.

Planes Fight Winds

Both planes were fighting light head winds and fog settled down over the coast late in the day, although it was clear inland. Both were sighted at various points along the way.

The Green Mountain Boy was sighted in Maine and again in New Brunswick, making fairly good headway.

The Solberg-Petersen plane reported by radio that it was within 50 miles of Harbor Grace before dusk, although the fliers apparently miscalculated their position.

FLYING FAMILY REACHES ST. JOHN

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 23. (U8)—The "Flying Hutchinsons" landed here at the municipal airport seabase at Millidgeville at 6:05 p. m. (Atlantic daylight saving time), completing the first stage of their transatlantic hop in slightly more than six hours.

Six-year-old Janet and 8-year-old Kathryn climbed out of the giant Sikorsky amphibian happy and excited by the trip. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson, and the four members of their crew were no less pleased as the result of the fine weather.

Orders were given late tonight to have the plane in readiness to take off at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Should weather conditions be not satisfactory for the scheduled hop to Labrador, the plane may go first to Harbor Grace, New Foundland, flying thence via Greenland and Iceland.

Man From Wichita Tells of Kidnaping

EL PASO, Aug. 23. (AP)—A story of having been kidnaped and robbed of his money and clothing by two men was told to police here today by J. C. Stark, 31, Wichita Falls, Texas, salesman, who had been missing since Aug. 14.

Police said Stark told them he had remained in El Paso and used an assumed name in hope of catching his abductors. Police said they arrested Stark after they recognized him on a city street.

J. C. Stark, held in El Paso after being reported missing since Aug. 14, is not listed in Wichita Falls directories, according to a check Tuesday night. Circumstances of the case have not been reported to county or city officers and Mr. Stark is unknown in local hotels frequented by salesmen. He also is unknown to Homer Stark, 1616 Blonde, only person by the name listed in the city directory.

SHORT STARTS FIRE

Loss of $25 was caused by a short in an electric light wire at the home of H. H. Kline, 2143 Avenue F, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. The blaze destroyed a window curtain and damaged wallpaper in the home, Assistant Fire Chief Grover Habern reported.

SHOCK KILLS OKLAHOMA DOCTOR IN ELECTRIC TREATMENT

THROWS SWITCH BY ACCIDENT

Patient Escapes but Two Others Are Injured

TONKAWA, Okla., Aug. 23. (AP)—While making an electrotherapeutic examination of a patient here today, Dr. Joseph M. Hancock, 55, accidentally threw the switch with his foot and was killed when he contacted the main current of the instrument.

A. B. Mayes, an attendant, and Mrs. Albert Robinson, wife of the patient, received minor shocks.

Robinson was unhurt.

Poisoning In Food Kills Four Persons

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 23. (AP)—Dr. Asher Harris, assistant director of health, announced today John C. Callahan, his wife and three children were killed by poison placed in their food from an outside source. The deaths had previously been ascribed to tainted food.

Dr. Harris said enough poison was placed in wild cherry preserves and pancakes eaten by the family Sunday to wipe out the entire family of 11. Three children, Cecelia, 8; Virginia, 6, and Kenneth, 15 months, died shortly after breakfast, and Callahan and his wife died yesterday.

Two other children, George 15, and Dorothy, 4, are not expected to recover. Four children in the family did not partake of the breakfast and escaped.

Shortage of Trucks Delays Road Work

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 23.—Progress in the construction of state highway No. 5 between Childress and Kirkland is being held up this week due to the lack of trucks. A portion of the right of way is ready for the pouring of concrete but work will not be started until a sufficient number of trucks are on hand to keep the work going.

About one-third of the piling on the Red River bridge on state highway No. 4 running north toward Wellington has been completed, 26 of the 72 bents having been completed. Work on this structure is progressing, and it is expected to be ready for use by the first of the year. A crew of men are now at work clearing the land for the construction of the dump, and the pouring of concrete for the smaller drainage structures is expected to start within a few weeks.

First Bale of Cotton Received at Childress

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 23.—Childress county received its first 1932 bale of cotton here Tuesday when T. E. Williamson, who lives five miles south of Kirkland, brought his cotton to Childress to be ginned. The bale weighed 402 pounds.

A nice premium list was awarded the Childress county cotton grower by the local merchants.

Cotton in that part of the county is well advanced and it will be only a matter of a few days until the 1932 crop will be started moving toward the markets.

Mr. Jackson will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. C. Morgan who went into evangelistic work.

'Nazis Will Finish This Guillotine Government,' Adolph Hitler Asserts

Fascist Leader Vigorously Attacks Death Sentences Given Five of His Followers for Murder

BERLIN, Aug. 23. (AP)—Adolf Hitler today vigorously attacked the government for the death sentences imposed yesterday on five of his followers found guilty of political murder, and the government met his attack with an equally vigorous assertion that it would not permit justice to be coerced.

"Heaven may send us torture upon torture, but our movement will be able to finish this guillotine government," Hitler declared.

Shortly after the Nazi leader's bristling statement was issued at his Munich headquarters, the government made it clear that it "would not stand for political pressure but would decide solely on the basis of justice whether to grant pardons."

Violent Controversy

The five condemned men, convicted by an emergency "speed" court at Beuthen of killing a Communist in a political brawl, have become the center of a violent controversy. Open threats of reprisals have been voiced by Nazi leaders and every bit of strength the Hitlerites can muster will be used in the fight to save the lives of the men who have become "martyrs" to their cause.

All this Nazi agitation has served to stiffen the position of the government which issued the emergency decree establishing "speed" courts to deal with political violence and providing the death penalty in extreme cases.

In government circles it was said that no one had done the five condemned men or the Nazi movement worse service than Hitler himself. By his scathing denunciation of the Von Papen government he was accused of having identified himself with men found guilty of murder.

Leniency Difficult

A government spokesman said Hitler had made it extremely difficult for Chancellor Von Papen to show leniency, as any such move would be regarded as yielding to Nazi pressure.

"My German friends, you will now understand why I refused to enter a Von Papen government," Hitler said in his Munich statement which was addressed to all his followers.

"Herr Von Papen, your bloody objectivity does not exist for me. I am not suited to become the executioner of patriotic fighters for freedom. The verdict was a stupid provocation.

"If they think I will vouch for this they are badly mistaken. Heaven may send us torture upon torture, but our government will be able to finish this guillotine government.

"Herr Von Papen has entered his name into German history with the blood of patriotic fighters. Penalties will not be able to cope with the crop of this deed."

300 "Massacred"

The Nazi leader concluded with the assertion that 300 of his followers had been "massacred, many of them literally butchered."

At the Prussian ministry of justice it was said that there seemed to be one compromise which would satisfy both the government and the Hitlerites, without requiring either to back down.

The slaying for which the men were condemned took place 90 minutes after the emergency decree providing the death penalty became effective, it was pointed out. A ministerial spokesman said that if the men could prove they were ignorant of the decree they could petition for a new trial, which would be held in an ordinary court instead of a "speed" court.

Several days probably will elapse before any action is taken by the government. Members of the Beuthen court will be asked to say whether they think clemency should be exercised in view of the "youth and alcoholic condition of the convicted."

QUANAH HAILS HIGHWAY NEWS

New Road Will Aid Hardeman Citizens

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 23.—The news that preparations are now under way to start laying out a new highway on the 70-mile stretch on No. 5 between Hall and Potter counties and the actual pouring of concrete on the stretch from the Hardeman county line to Childress through Kirkland was received with enthusiasm by citizens of Hardeman county.

Within the next few days the survey will be begun on the 70-mile strip, and not long after that actual construction work will start, according to Roy Dodge of Abilene, one of the engineers who will assist in the work. Mr. Dodge spent several days in Quanah recently in connection with his work.

He stated it is not the plan to do the actual paving now, but the route will be straightened, curves eliminated as far as practicable, and all grading and drainage work done, preparatory to paving later. Some sort of hard surface may be placed on the highway now, Dodge said.

Highway No. 5 is already paved the greater part of the distance from Fort Worth to the west end of Hall county, and with the hard surfacing of the 70-mile gap an all-weather road from Fort Worth to Amarillo will be provided.

Hardeman county has No. 5 east and west, and No. 16 north and south paved across the county through Quanah. A $900,000 bond issue was voted several years ago, part of which has been paid. Should the legislature enact the bond relief measure proposed, taxes here will be greatly reduced and road money will be used on lateral road building.

Other officers will be chosen later. Mrs. W. W. Rivers was elected young people's leader. A missionary program was given during the morning session, and luncheon was served at noon.

TRADE PARLEY PLANS FORMED

Hoover Takes Steps for Reviving Business

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—President Hoover today took steps to center the national business and industrial conference meeting here next Friday upon improving means for easing the credit strain and spreading employment.

Members of some of the 12 business and industrial committees which will take part already were en route to the capital today as preliminary plans for the gathering were made known.

The president regards the conference as a major part in his effort toward "organizing the private industrial and financial resources of the country to co-operate effectively with the vast governmental instrumentalities," in order that the nation "may move in a powerful attack upon the depression." These were the words of his acceptance address.

Restricts Subjects

The chief executive feels, however, that to throw the entire economic situation before the conference or to open the meeting to representatives of all business, labor and agricultural organizations would result in a diffusion of power.

He therefore intends to limit it strictly to members of the business and industrial committees comprised of outstanding men in each of the 12 federal reserve districts, and to place the two main objectives before them.

Mr. Hoover was represented as believing that the credit strain of the entire world now has so relaxed the time is ripe for a co-ordinated loosening up of credit in the United States. What specific plan the president has in mind was not disclosed, but he has been informed that many businesses have been unable to obtain credit even though meeting ordinary terms.

Hope to Spread Jobs

Secondly, the president believes that employment properly may be spread at this time not only through speeding up business but through spreading existing jobs. He feels that the five-day week should properly include staggering employment into shorter shifts, and even into four and three-day weeks.

Under immediate plans for the conference Mr. Hoover will preside over the opening session Friday. In addition to delivering the opening address he will call upon Secretaries Mills and Chapin, Governor Meyer of the federal reserve board; Chairman Pomerene of the Reconstruction corporation; Chairman Fort of the home loan bank system, and Paul Bestor, farm loan commissioner, to explain to the business men loves already undertaken by the government to alleviate the economic situation.

After this series of brief addresses, the president plans to have the business and industrial leaders confer among themselves to co-ordinate their own activities on a national scale.

On Thursday, the day before the conference opens, the chairmen of the 12 business and industrial committees will meet with a majority of the government leaders named as an executive committee to plan details of the conference. The conference itself probably will last two days.

Memphis Cotton Oil Mill Resumes Work

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Aug. 23.—More than 40 local men were given employment Monday when the machinery of the Memphis Cotton Oil company began turning for the first time in several months. The fall preparations are beginning early this year, which points to the fact that this year's run will probably be a long one.

Recent change in the market prices, coupled with growing demands for cottonseed cake and cottonseed meal, are given by F. N. Fuzhall as the reason for the early start. Increasing demands for the products in the last few days have come from several states in the Northwest; Mr. Fuzhall said, and prices have been showing a steady increase with the demand.

Several thousand tons of cottonseed now on hand will be made into cottonseed meal and cottonseed cake from the time the mill opens until the new crop begins to come in. An ample supply of seed is on hand to last until the new crop of seed is ready.

"We are opening early this year because we are finding an outlet for our products," Mr. Fuzhall said. "The demand for our products is larger at this time than it has been at this time of the year for some time."

Electra Missionary Society Meets Monday

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 23.—The Federated Missionary society will hold its quarterly meeting Monday, Aug. 29, in the American Legion hall beginning at 3 o'clock with the Catholic ladies as hostesses. Mrs. Creek Brown will be in charge of the program which has been arranged as follows: subject, "Cooperation in Social Service"; opening song, "Scatter Sunshine"; Scripture reading and prayer, Mrs. J. Wood Parker; solo, Mrs. R. W. Evans; address, Mrs. R. D. Cunningham; reading, Mrs. J. L. Clayton; violin and piano duet, Misses Katherine Kennworty and Marie Flusche. Mrs. Dannie Dale, president, will be in charge of the business session.

Electra Church Plans Association Meeting

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 23.—The local Baptist church is making arrangements to entertain the Wichita-Archer association Sept. 7-9. All the churches in Wichita and Archer counties plan to send representatives, and at least 250 are expected. The meeting will open Wednesday night, Sept. 7. Members of the local church will arrange to keep the out of town guests in their homes. However, dinner and supper will be served at the church on Thursday and Friday. A splendid program is already being drafted.

WIRE TAPPING TRAPS SCORE

U. S. Agents at Fort Worth File Charges

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—Wire tapping by prohibition agents which Monday resulted in filing charges against Deputy U. S. Marshal Wheeler Smith, was culminated Tuesday afternoon when complaints were filed against 23 persons.

Smith was charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice. He was alleged to have notified persons about impending prohibition raids.

Federal District Attorney Johnson said that wire tapping, permissible only on orders of the attorney general, had been in progress for about 10 days and that evidence thus obtained spread over wide ramifications of the liquor industry in Fort Worth.

All of the 23 persons were charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. Some were charged with possession as agents raided establishments on information obtained through the wire tapping.

Beautiful Luncheon Honors Legion Auxiliary Officers

A beautiful patriotic luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse was inaugurated Tuesday as an annual occasion when new officers and appointees of the auxiliary to the Pat Carrigan post American Legion will be introduced following the business meeting in which they are installed. The table was inspiring with shields of red, white and blue upon the white cloth, little flags fluttering on gilded standards and small Uncle Sams as place cards, megaphoning messages through patriotic colors.

Mrs. Manoushagian paid a pretty compliment to Mrs. J. B. McDowell who was re-elected president, and other officers in an original poem toasting each officer. In her response, Mrs. McDowell gave the co-operation of her fellow officers and chairmen credit for the success of the past year's work and introduced each of these, who stood as their names were called.

Officers for the coming year included Mrs. McDowell, president; Mrs. A. M. Hutchins, first vice president; Mrs. Bert Blackburn, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. C. H. Bodine, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. Mogonye, treasurer; Mrs. W. W. Cook, chaplain; Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, parliamentarian; Mrs. A. V. Grant, sergeant at arms, and Mrs. R. L. Williams, historian.

Chairmen appointed by Mrs. McDowell included the following: Entertainment committee, Mesdames A. M. Hutchins and Geo. C. Shankle: membership chairman, Mrs. Bert Blackburn; executive committee, Mesdames Milton J. Gaines, L. I. Lucey and N. Manoushagain; Fidac chairman, Mesdames R. H. Gregg and R. E. Benson; finance committee, Mesdames E. A. Underwood, V. V. Musick and Geo. Wiest; child welfare chairman, Mrs. Geo. C. Shankle; rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. N. Manoushagian; publicity chairman, Mrs. R. E. Benson; American chairman, Mrs. J. V. Liggett; legislative chairman, Mrs. B. A. Moore; flower chairman, Mrs. Ray Kinney; cradle roll chairman, Mrs. Perry F. Wright; section leaders, one, Mrs. Thomas J. Cunningham; two, Mrs. R. P. Carter; three, Mrs. B. D. Sartin; four, Mrs. Hugh Carter; five, Mrs. F. M. Peltman; six, Mrs. Ruth Gregory; seven, Mrs. C. L. Hammon; eight, Mrs. C. W. Irvine; nine, Mrs. J. Cohen.

Auxiliary Tribute

Mrs. W. W. Cook paid a lovely tribute to Mrs. McDowell, bespeaking for her the love, respect and co-operation of all members, when she presented her in their behalf with a beautiful corsage.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan and Mrs. L. I. Lucey were presented as charter members of the organization and Mrs. Carrigan spoke briefly on the clippings and pictures she had preserved of the auxiliary activities, which numbered 125 in 1921, the year in which it was organized.

Following the delicious luncheon, Miss Margaret Bone was presented as a vocalist and sang in her sweet voice "Il Bachio," by Orditi and "Supposing," by Bischoff. Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff was accompanist. Miss Loraine Mathis gave "Spanish Dance" by Sarasate, as a violin number, with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Mathis accompanying her beautiful interpretation.

Covers were laid for Mesdames B. D. Sartin, Frank M. Brown, J. R. Kenney, B. C. Blackburn, J. V. Leggett, Geo. J. Wiest, Jake Cohen, J. Rothberg, W. M. Cason, C. L. Hammond, Tom Cunningham, R. H. Gregg, H. A. Carter, E. A. Underwood, C. W. Ridling, A. Mogonye, A. M. Hutchins, C. F. Gregory, C. H. Bodine, J. B. McDowell, A. H. Carrigan, L. I. Lucey, P. F. Wright, R. E. Benson, Leo. McGann, R. G. Wales, W. W. Cook, G. C. Shankle, N. Manoushagian, J. C. Mathis, Lucile Brooks Huff, Misses Gloria Versehoyle, Margaret Bone and Loraine Mathis.

Mesdames E. A. Underwood and R. E. Benson were responsible for the lovely table and luncheon arrangements.

Morning Meeting

Mrs. Cook gave the invocation when the auxiliary met in a called session at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday morning. Mrs. L. I. Lucey, installing officer, presided and inducted the new officers in an impressive ceremony, Mrs. Ray Kenney assisting.

Mrs. McDowell, president, gave an interesting report of the 13th annual state convention of the American Legion and auxiliary held in Corpus Christi Aug. 1, 2 and 3. She told of the beautiful memorial services and the impressive joint meeting.

Among other features, she said Mrs. Van W. Stewart, a state department president, made an interesting address. A beautiful Fidac program was given on the deck of the Plaza hotel on the evening of the second day by the Corpus Christi auxiliary. A report of the state histories was given by Mrs. Wyatt, state historian, who said the number of histories was greater than ever before and urged that each unit compile one. Mrs. McDowell read the message dellvered by Mrs. Van W. Stewart at the convention, which dealt with branches of child welfare and publicity work. "It pays to advertise" was a phrase used. Mrs. Stewart also made an eloquent plea for patriotism.

Others who gave their impressions of the convention were Mesdames N. Manoushagian, A. M. Hutchins and A. Mogonye; Mrs. Manoushagian stressed the class she wished to have for initiation in the 40 and 8 when the conference comes to Wichita Falls in 1933.

Community Kitchen

Mrs. Mogonye made a report from the community kitchen, stating that approximately 2,500 cans were on hand; she said two beeves had been donated to be canned early in September. A rising vote of thanks was given her.

Mrs. McGann of Electra reported that the auxiliary there had canned 750 cans and have the promise of 20 beeves to can between now and Thanksgiving.

It was announced that Pat Carrigan post has the largest membership in the state in 1932 and that the local auxiliary was fifth in the state. A membership drive will be put on by the new chairman, Mrs. Burt Blackburn.

Practical parliamentary work for the coming year was outlined by Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, parliamentarian, and Mrs. W. W. Cook gave a short prayer to close the meeting.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We overheard three girls having a good time reminiscing over their high school days the other evening. They were recent junior college graduates. One of them happened to mention a recitation put on in the annual play and floods of hilarious laughter followed. They overlapped one another with questions, "Do you remember when?" Finally one laughed at something the other had done, and the answer came pat, "Oh, but I was young then." She is all of 17 now.

◆ ◆ ◆

They were "young" when they were 14 and 15; they look at life and are ready to criticize any part of it when they are 17. We know many girls and boys who are utterly blase at that age. They really think they are as wise in life as some who have lived long lives. (And they sometimes are.)

◆ ◆ ◆

But why try to mend a world? Sometimes we do, and then know how foolish we are. We might take a stand on the bravery that we see; it is a much more beautiful thing to contemplate than views with which we do not agree. And bravery is always a thing to inspire others. We complain sometimes, as possibly you also do, at our aches and pains; at our misunderstandings and our loses. We met the other day one of the brightest, bravest faces we have ever known. A woman, who by sheer will power has fought her way back from helplessness to a place in the light. She has been more than a sermon to us, and if you know the story, she is also to you.

◆ ◆ ◆

Then we might speak of a letter we have just received. "Hunting season is almost here," it reads, "and I do dread it because Billie is so crazy about hunting." Then after another line or two, a paragraph said, "We are getting our guns ready and ordering our shells, and oh gee, I do hope that we get lost of pheasants." Some one else in that family beside Billie also seemed to like hunting.

◆ ◆ ◆

We do hope they get plenty of pheasants also, for when they do, if the weather turns cold enough, some of the brilliantly feathered birds come through the mail to us. Numbered tickets, paying the tax for export from the state, show how many are shipped out each year, and it runs up into the thousands. They come unplucked, with gaudy tails hanging out of the brown paper wrapper.

◆ ◆ ◆

Just now, these birds strut through the prairie grasses of Minnesota and the Dakotas unafraid. The modest hens walk across the highways with the most unconcerned air. They have much more dignity than our tame hens, who scuttle squawking in just the direction you do not expect them to go when you are driving.

◆ ◆ ◆

Strange thing, they know what the guns mean. On the second day of the open season, they have to be hunted. It is the same way with prairie chicken and grouse. You climb high hills and seek them out in the deep draws where the brush grows. And sometimes, you run upon rattlesnakes.

◆ ◆ ◆

We went hunting once in that country. And perhaps the most thrilling thing we ever knew in outdoor life, was that date when a fellow hunter chased a squirrel round to our side of a tree and let us get it. They laughed at us and called it a chipmunk but it was a great squirrel to our eyes.

Wilson Memorial D. O. D. Class Entertained

Mrs. Ben Bell was hostess to members of the D. O. D. Sunday school class of Wilson Memorial church at the parsonage Tuesday in a monthly social and business meeting.

The opening song was followed by a devotional service in which each member gave a sentence prayer.

Mrs. Louis Ayres, president of the class, was in charge of the meeting and each officer gave a report of the past month's work. The social service report showed 53 sick calls, 26 social calls, 11 bouquets, three trays and five donations of supplies for needy families.

Members present were Mesdames J. M. Keim, Ernest Owens, M. A. Peeples, S. A. Oliver, C. E. Collins, C. F. James, J. W. Donley, H. D. McConnell, V. C. Hammersley, J. W. Thomas, Louis Ayres, H. O. Denson, A. W. Davis, G. H. Axline and the hostess, Mrs. Ben Bell.

PERSONALS

Wilma Jane and Billie Sue Burt, 1208 Polk, returned Tuesday from a visit in Altus, Okla. They were accompanied home by their aunt, Mrs. A. B. Gosselin and her daughters, Patricia and Betty Lou, who will visit here for several days.

◆

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Nagel have returned from St. Louis and Milwaukee where Mr. Nagel visited the leading markets. The Wichita couple also spent a few days with friends in Wisconsin.

◆

W. C. Cason, who has been attending summer school at the University of Texas, arrived Tuesday morning to spend his vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cason at their home on warford.

◆

Miss Patty Herald, 1425 Taylor, has returned from St. Louis, where she has been visiting friends and relatives for the past three months.

◆

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Peterson left early Tuesday for Denver, to remain about ten days.

Annual Picnic Is Neighborly Birthday Fete

An annual neighborhood birthday celebration marking the birthdays of those coming within a few weeks of one another was a delightful affair Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Billingsley, 1825 Elizabeth, when the honorees included Mesdames N. A. Ferguson, Robert Hamilton, P. S. Richardson and Frances and Ruth Billingsley.

Each family belonging to the annual gathering brought baskets and the picnic lunch was served on the prettily lighted lawn. A large birthday cake was decorated with a miniature birthday court.

Croquet and bridge furnished pleasant diversion after the supper.

Members of the party included Messrs. and Mesdames Jason Walker, Wm. E. Huff, Herbert Gray, N. A. Ferguson, W. E. Bell, Floyd Billingsley, P. S. Richardson, W. D. Lacey, Mesdames Robert Hamilton and J. W. Richardson and Judge R. E. Huff, William Huff Jr., Elisabeth Huff, Gardner and Robbie Walker, John Herbert and Peggy Gray, Juanita and Micky Ferguson, John, Walter, Billie Bell, Frances and Ruth Billingsley, Milton Eliot, Barbara Richardson, Don Lacey, Dorothy and Helen Hamilton; guests were Misses Georgia Howe, Catherine Haggard and Miss Della Mae Wood of Lamesa, Texas.

Bridge Invitation Goes to Wife

By EMILY POST

Author of "Personality of a House"

Dear Mrs. Post—I issued invitations for a rather small informal bridge to take place at my home.

The invitations were issued over the telephone. My brother and his wife were on the list of guests and when inviting them I called my brother at his office instead of calling my sister-in-law at her home, and extended the invitation to him for them both. My sister-in-law refused on the grounds that I did the wrong thing when I called him in place of her. Did I commit a breach of etiquette?

Answer—I think your sister-in-law rather absurdly exaggerated a point of etiquette, which should have no significance among members of a family. But if she chooses to stand on ceremony and exact the same formality from her husband's family that a mid-Victorian would exact from a stranger, she is right. Invitations should be sent to, and accepted (or declined) by the wife.

Dear Mrs. Post—What is the proper way of using "may I present" by a girl in introducing a young man to a group and is it the preferred way of introducing or is just the mention of names as good?

Answer—The phrase "may I present" is the most formal introduction known. The saying of two names is equally proper and, under average circumstances, preferable.

Dear Mrs. Post—Will you please explain the use of gloves so far as wearing them with a hat is concerned?

Answer—From the point of view of smartness, gloves should be worn with a hat always. But this does not apply to very young girls except on the street in town or on a formal occasion.

Dear Mrs. Post—Should a lady wear her hat when going into a dining car for breakfast or lunch?

Answer—No definite rule. On a through train of sleeping cars most women prefer to go without hats. On shorter trips in a day coach one usually wears a hat for lunch or dinner.

Today's Pattern

LOVELY OF COTTON

Pattern 2319

Step-by-Step Instruction Diagrams Included With This Pattern

By JANE ADAMS

Even Junior Miss frocks have their novel yoke and sleeve treatments and we especially like the lines of this one. Contrasting binding accents the pointed seaming of the frock to the very best advantage. It is ideal for school days when warm weather still necessitates frequent changes of dresses. Gay inexpensive cotton prints will assure lovely results.

Pattern 2319 may be ordered only in sizes 4 to 12. Size 8 requires 1¾ yards 36-inch fabric and 3¾ yards binding.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Address all mail and orders to

S. B. B. Club Names New Officers

Members of the S. B. B. club met Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Winnie Mae Bigley and officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Jesse Coker, president; Miss Ida Lamb, vice president; Miss Oleta Craig, secretary and treasurer.

The afternoon was spent in sewing and the hostess served iced melon to Misses Talma Lee Brooks, Ida Lamb, Margaret Lamb, La Verne McCown, Hazel Craig, Louise Hankins of Olney, and Mrs. Jesse L. Coker.

Unusual Musical Program Features Fine Arts Dinner

No program given during the season in which lovers of fine arts have been meeting each week has been more replete with charm than that given Monday evening at the Municipal Golf club. The long drawing room was cool, and pretty with soft lights, and dinner was served at a large square table centered with a bowl of brilliant golden glow.

Informality featured the dinner and the program that followed. A series of vocal trios by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Underwood and Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey, with Mrs. Underwood playing the accompaniment, was encored many times. The singers' voices blended in exquisite melody.

Miss Viola Grace Doern gave a lovely Mozart violin number and showed her mastery of her instrument with the variety of numbers she played as encores; among these were the "Swanee River," and a negro spiritual. At the solicitation of the group, Miss Doern also gave piano numbers, including one from Chopin and an encore in which she combined two Rachmaninoff numbers.

Double Quartet

A group of double quartet songs came next, with the lovely melody furnished by Mesdames A. H. Mahaffey, W. L. Underwood, G. Wayne Barker, Miss Viola Grace Doern; Messrs. Baldwin Montgomery, W. L. Underwood, J. W. Akin Jr., and H. H. Ferrell. Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., was accompanist.

Emil Hermann talked on the art of catching a likeness in portrait painting and used each of the ladies present to demonstrate the outstanding features that make portraits recognizable. Mr. Hermann will at an early date, use canvas and demonstrate with sketches the interesting talk he gave Monday evening.

Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey played a beautiful McDowell number and responded to an enthusiastic encore. Mrs. W. L. Underwood announced as the final number on the program, "Baby Moon," which she sang as a solo with Mrs. Mahaffey accompanying. Insistent applause brought "Tallyho," as an encore. Mrs. Underwood's songs were exquisite in tonal quality and beautiful in interpretation.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Akin Jr., W. L. Underwood, H. H. Ferrell; Mesdames A. H. Mahaffey, H. Gribble, G. Wayne Barker, W. M. Cason; Misses Marguerite Gerhardt, Viola Grace Doern, and Mary Fitzgerald; Messrs. Baldwin Montgomery and Emil Hermann.

Mrs. H. M. Martin Honoree at Party

Members of the Kingdom Builders class of Scotland Methodist church entertained at the home of Miss Oleta Craig Monday evening honoring their teacher, Mrs. H. M. Martin, who is leaving for Paducah, Texas, to make her home.

After playing numerous games on the lawn, the honoree was presented with an umbrella filled with many lovely handkerchiefs.

Dainty refreshments were served to Misses Blanche Fellows, Willie Lee Stowe, Bernice Bryan, Zena Steckton, Gertrude Rumbo, Ida Lamb, Talma Lee Brooks, Juanita Carr, Hazel Craig, Oleta Craig and Louise Hankins of Olney; Messrs. J. C. Wyatt, Leon Odell, Aubrey Craig, Dewitt Craig; Mesdames Hilburn Coker, C. A. Jackson, W. Dewitt Craig and the honoree, Mrs. Martin.

Childress Ready for Labor Day Rodeo

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 23.—Plans have been completed for the Labor Day rodeo and free barbecue at the Pete Russell ranch four miles south of Childress on the old Kirkland highway.

An arena, constructed especially for the event, measures 160 yards long and 100 yards wide and was tried out last Sunday with the grounds proving to be wholly adequate for the occasion. Automobiles can be parked all the way around the arena, and a record crowd is expected to be on hand.

All concessions for the event have been awarded to Childress post of the American Legion.

Receiver Sought for S. W. Straus & Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—The attorney general's office announced today that Supreme Court Justice John H. McCooey Jr., in Brooklyn had signed an order to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed for S. W. Straus & Co. and why an injunction should not be issued restraining the company from the sale of securities, except under conditions laid down by the attorney general. The order is returnable Thursday.

Bridge Parties Given As Monday Social Features

Bridge parties featured the social side of life in Wichita Falls Monday afternoon when several delightful affairs were enjoyed. Miss Selma Fuson and Mrs. C. S. Crunk were joint hostesses at Mrs. Crunk's home, honoring Mrs. Harry F. Smith with a surprise bridge shower. A pink and blue color scheme was noted in the tallies, score cards and in the dainty refreshment plate.

In the games, Mesdames Dell Brashear and Estelle Chandler were winners of the pretty trophies for high score, which they in turn presented to Mrs. Smith who was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames C. E. Metzger, F. E. Record, C. S. Burnett, Jack Moore, W. G. Ireland, R. L. Bartlett, Dell Brashear, Bert Hamric, W. A. Adams, F. F. Robertson, A. E. Friberg, Marie Richardson, Virginia Hill and Estelle Chandler, the honoree, Mrs. Smith and to Misses Anna Krajca, Minnie Bedford, Thelma Beavers, Anna Siepelmeyer, and little Ellen Ruth Robertson and the hostesses.

Girl's Bridge

Miss Frances Randolph entertained a group of her friends at a lovely bridge party at her home on Filmore when summer flowers made the rooms gay.

Miss Loretta Rulland was winner of high score prize and Miss Helen McClure was consoled for low.

A dainty salad course was served to Misses Patty Herald, Helen McClure, Kathleen Colligan, Loretta Rulland, Christine Carter, Flora Morarity, Blanche Peebles and the hostess, Miss Randolph.

Indian Reservation to Have an Auditorium

AUSTIN, Aug. 23. (AP)—The state board of control today awarded a contract for construction of an auditorium on the Texas Indian reservation in Polk county. The building will cost $7,800. Construction of a shop building at a cost of $2,600 also was awarded.

IT SAVED HER DAUGHTER

IT IS the daughter herself—Miss J. Rose Lama—who willingly gives the facts in a letter.

She says, "My mother wanted me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was younger. But I wouldn't. If I had, I might have been a well girl now. I suffered terribly every month."

Finally the girls in her office convinced her. She tried it at last. Now she is on the way to greater health and happiness. Mothers—tell your daughters. And daughters—take your mother's advice. Suffering is unnecessary.

FALL WINDOW SHOW SEPT. 2

Merchants Announce Plans For Style Revue

Arrangements of details for the annual fall style review and participation in the 50th anniversary celebration next month were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee of the retail merchants division of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at the chamber offices.

Merchants will unveil windows at 7:30 o'clock the evening of Friday, Sept. 2, and attractive prize lists were announced. Burton Stayton was named chairman of the classification and judging committees and will announce details at an early date.

A fine arts and style show during the golden jubilee party, Sept. 26-28, is planned and details will be worked out later. The merchants have requested members of the Wichita Falls real estate board to assist in plans for cleaning out vacant stores for merchandise displays.

The prize list for the style show offers a Sheaffer fountain pen donated by the Ralley Printing company as first award and tickets valued at $5 for the showing of "Horsefeathers" at the Majestic theater, donated by Manager C. H. Stewart as second prize. Classification awards of $2.50 for first place, $1 for second and honorable mention for third places are planned.

A "gas house" will be displayed at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago in 1933—a house heated by gas, cooled by gas, and with gas refrigeration and gas range.

U. S. STEEL CHAIRMAN PREDICTS GREAT BUYING MOVEMENT

COMPANY PLANS HEAVY OUTLAY

Competition Forces New And Modern Equipment

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—A buying movement can not long be delayed, Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the directorate of the United States Steel corporation, said today.

Mr. Taylor's comment was made in an interview in connection with announcement of a $5,000,000 improvement program for the corporation's plants in order to give more employment.

"Vacuum" Formed

In response to an inquiry, he said "the stoppage of production due to the depression, consumption of supplies, the wear and tear on equipment, and the ensuing natural obsolescence, are creating a vacuum which in due course, will have to be filled."

This was Mr. Taylor's first comment on the steel outlook in many months.

New Equipment Needed

In periods "such as the one we are now passing through, competition makes necessary the use of the most modern equipment. One might look upon this as the time for a thorough house cleaning, and it will be the reason for replacement on a large scale when production facilities of the companies are again called into extensive use.

"It would seem that the buying movement can not be long delayed."

Total Jobs Unknown

While no information was available as to how many workers will be given employment in the improvement program, the number was understood to be considerable. The corporation is still rotating its work among the employes in order to keep the largest possible number on the pay roll.

Range Prices Of Lambs Increase

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 23. (AP)—A one-half cent a pound rise in range prices for West Texas feeder lambs was scored in Crockett county when 10,000 head of mixed feeders sold to the Culp Sheep company of Salt Lake City at three cents a pound. Further deals, which will bring the total of feeder lambs sold at this price to 20,000, are pending. Many West Texas ranchmen have refused three cents a pound for their lambs and are holding for higher prices.

The Culp lambs will be delivered Oct. 1 at Barnhart, and an advance of 50 cents a head has been made. The lambs will weigh from 60 to 70 pounds at the time of delivery.

This is believed to be the first purchase made by the Culp company in Texas. Largest lamb feeding company in America, it has operated mainly in the northwestern and western part of the country in the past.

Prior to the three cent sale, representatives of other northern feeding companies had been in the country talking of two cent lambs. About 10,000 lambs had been sold at 2½ cents a pound of Crockett county before the sale.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 23.—T. A. Upshaw, president of the First National bank in Stamford, was elected president of the Jones County Bankers association at a recent meeting held in Anson. J. R. Pratt, vice president of the Stamford State bank, was elected secretary.

Retiring officers are J. W. Esell, president, and D. H. Berry, secretary, both of Hamlin.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Aug. 23.—For a long time, gospel song lovers in this vicinity have cooperated in efforts to maintain and increase interest in the singing of gospel songs, and they have attained a good degree of success. Almost every community here has as much as one good leader, and some communities have several leaders and teachers. A number of communities have singing classes which hold regular song services.

Members of the several classes here cooperate by visiting each other and taking an active part in regular and special services. The stronger classes assist the weaker classes in holding better services than they could hold without the united assistance.

Many leaders, teachers, quartets and special singers took part in a song service at Sunset, Sunday afternoon. Most of the classes of this section of the country were represented by leading members. And the service is said to have been one of the best ever held in Sunset.

Three singing schools have already been held this summer within reach of many of the song lovers of this vicinity. An 18-day school, conducted by Prof. J. L. McClung of Clovis, N. M., was closed recently at Peak Springs, five miles west from Sunset. This was preceded by a two-week school, taught by Professor McClung at Turkey Creek, four miles west from here. A 18-day school, conducted by Prof. Aston Pollard, was recently closed at Pleasant Ridge, four miles north of Sunset. Other schools may follow these this fall and winter.

A large number of people from several communities attended an ice cream supper, given by the members of the White Hill Home Demonstration club southeast of Sunset, Saturday night. Tickets were sold at 5 and 10 cents each.

Members of the White Hill club have done a great deal of work this year. In addition to other club work, they have put up many hundreds of cans of food products this summer and will put up many more before the end of the vegetable canning season. They canned large quantities of food products last year. They are succeeding in their efforts to help establish the live-at-home plan in their community.

Mrs. M. F. Dorsey is recovering from an operation which she recently underwent at a Fort Worth hospital.

Mrs. Lee Blalock has been seriously ill for several days at the family home east of town.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cornelison, north of Sunset, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White, who recently moved to Fort Sumner, N. M., moved back to Sunset this week.

National guards residing in this vicinity returned Saturday night from the encampment at Palacios.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Harvey of Wichita Falls were here Sunday visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson and Mrs. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McDonald of Twitty are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Loveladv of Amarillo spent the week-end here visiting relatives and friends.

Dr. L. M. Wilson and Homer F. Hewit make a business trip to Dallas Monday.

Gragg Tells of Sterling's Staunch Support of Working Man in Talk Here

State Labor Commissioner Warns Against Threat of 'Fergusonism' in Rally at Memorial Auditorium

"Ross Sterling has made you a good governor, and has given you an honest administration," declared R. B. Gragg, state labor commissioner, before several hundred persons on the lawn of the Memorial auditorium Tuesday night. "Particularly in these troubled times, you want a man in public office who has a conscience about spending public moneys. Ross Sterling is that kind of a man, and he will continue during the ensuing two years to devote himself conscientiously to the public good."

Brought here by the local Sterling-for-Governor organization, and presented by J. W. McCloud, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, Mr. Gragg declared that the present governor has given every possible cooperation and aid to the cause of labor in Texas during his current term.

Supported Labor Laws

"Every measure that has been passed by the legislature on behalf of working men has met with the governor's hearty approval," the speaker said. "He has actively advocated laws throwing protection about women and children who are forced to work. Governor Sterling has been active in the creation of a child welfare division in the state board of control. He deserves a great deal of credit for his efforts in our behalf. He has backed me, as your labor commissioner, in every effort I have made to promote the interests of our working classes, even when strong pressure was brought upon him to resist plans of my department."

Supporting his statement that the governor stands for uniform enforcement of labor laws, Mr. Gragg said that he prosecuted a successful suit against a concern in which a brother of Governor Sterling is a stockholder.

"After the suit was started," the speaker said, "I was informed that this was true and was asked whether or not I better withdraw the action. I replied that the governor was not the kind of a man to be influenced by such a relationship. We prosecuted that case, the defendant paid his fine, and no complaint ever came from the governor."

One of the principal duties of the labor department is the prevention of the practice of fraud upon working people, Mr. Gragg said.

"During these times of acute depression," he continued, "a few dollars mean a great deal to any workman. There have been hundreds of workers, especially in the oil fields, who have been left unpaid. During the past 18 months, we have obtained payment of more than $200,000 into the hands of working men—collection of unpaid wages due them. That is perhaps a small amount until you consider that it is five times as much as any previous administration ever collected for working people."

Mr. Gragg alternated between commendation of Governor Sterling's administration and condemnation of "that sinister thing known to Texas as 'Fergusonism.'"

Ferguson Assailed

"I have no personal grude, nor bitterness, toward Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson," he said. "My appreciation of womanhood and motherhood amounts to veneration, and I include Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in that dedication. But as a public official, I have nothing but sympathy and contempt for the same person. It is a shame that her husband imposes upon her, for his own selfish satisfaction, the humiliation and embarrassment which she suffers when made to pose as a public official. She is hopelessly incompetent and knows it.

"Jim Ferguson has been discredited in a thousand ways, yet with brazen affrontery he comes back each two years in the name of his wife, asking the people again to return him to that office which he debauched. We must reject again this sinister threat of Fergusonism, and retain in office men who are known to be devoted to principles of honor and integrity."

At the conclusion of Mr. Gragg's address, he was accosted by a local man who introduced himself, and advised the labor commissioner of having been sent to the meeting to heckle the speaker.

Heckler Tosses Up

"I was sent up here to 'heckle' you," the man said, "but after you started talking, I just had too much respect for your sincerity to get started. The first question I was supposed to ask you was whether or not Mr. Sterling would favor repeal of the open port law."

Mr. Gragg stated that the open port law was "killed" by a court decision several years ago, and has been a "dead" statute since that time.

Mr. Gragg was preceded by Mrs. Frank B. Creighton, who was introduced by Mrs. Grover C. Johnson. Mrs. Creighton voiced a plea for clean politics and ehtical exercise of the rights of citizenship.

R. P. Sherwood, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, presided at the rally.

FERGUSON SPEAKS TO DALLAS CROWD

DALLAS, Aug. 23. (AP)—James E. Ferguson, nearing the end of his campaign in behalf of the candidacy for governor of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, charged here tonight the real purpose of the special session of the legislature called by Gov. R. S. Sterling was to repeal the Robertson insurance law.

He coupled this charge with another that Governor Sterling and his supporters, who he said were panic-stricken at the prospect of defeat in the run-off primary next Saturday, were planning to take away from the counties the two-thirds of the automobile license fees which they now receive.

STERLING WORKS IN SOUTH TEXAS

VICTORIA, Texas, Aug. 23. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling spoke here today in his campaign for re-election, telling how he had administered state affairs. He said the prison system was in excellent condition and that he had issued but 16 pardons since coming into office.

Sterling was introduced by County Judge J. J. Woodhouse, who told the audience that the people of Victoria county owed Sterling a vote of confidence, appreciation and gratitude. Another speaker, Bob Stuart, expressed the opinion that people ought to crawl to the polls Saturday, if necessary, to vote for Sterling.

Sterling went to Beeville from Victoria, speaking there this afternoon. As at Victoria, he featured his administrative work. District Judge T. M. Cox, who introduced him, said Sterling had made Texas a good governor and was entitled to the "customary" second term.

Man Charged in Oil Fraud Waives Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23. (US)—Herbert Pasteur, employed by a local realty firm, today waived hearing on removal proceedings before Federal Commissioner Ernest E. Williams and posted $2,500 for his appearance in Oklahoma City.

Pasteur was indicted by the federal grand jury of Oklahoma for using the mails in a scheme to defraud relative to oil leases.

OIL PRODUCTION DROPS AGAIN

Daily Average Declines 33,400 Barrels

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 33,400 barrels in the week ended Aug. 20, totaling 2,110,800 barrels, the American Petroleum Institute's weekly summary indicates. Daily average production east of California decreased 28,300 barrels to 1,636,700 barrels.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 23.—Rev. W. W. Rivers, pastor of the First Baptist church, is conducting a revival at Alvarado, Texas. He began the meeting last week and will continue throughout this week. In his absence Sunday, Rev. Harrold Diggs of Wichita Falls filled the pulpit.

Girl Leaps To Death From Airplane She Chartered For Annapolis Trip

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Miss Marjorie Fletcher jumped to her death from an airplane today between here and Annapolis, Md., and searchers are looking for her body in a wooded area near Edgewater Beach.

Miss Fletcher, believed to be formerly of Forestville, N. Y., chartered the plane from the Washington-Hoover airport with Pilot Roger Scott at the controls. She paid $25 for a round trip to Annapolis.

When over the wooded area, the pilot told authorities, she quickly climbed from the cockpit in front of him and plunged earthward.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McConoughy, with whom she made her home here, told airport officials that Miss Fletcher had been despondent over her failure to obtain employment.

A pocketbook containing $34 and a slip of paper with the McConoughys' address was left in the plane.

Increase In Textile Jobs Is Reported

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—A substantial increase in employment in the textile trades is indicated in a survey of the Commercial Investment Trust corporation announced today.

The 95 mills reporting showed a net additional number of persons employed on Aug. 22 as compared with July 1 of 4,061, a 20 per cent increase during the period.

Opinion was evenly divided among the heads of these mills as to whether the present demand was more than just late seasonal buying. Fifty-five per cent of the number felt that the present demand would carry their present rate of production through the fall season until the necessity for beginning the manufacture of spring merchandise arises.

MINE DISPUTES ARE SETTLED

Franklin County Officers Warn Outsiders

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 23. (AP)—Officials of Franklin county, having settled their mine wage disputes at least temporarily, tonight renewed warnings to union miners from other sections against executing their plans to interfere.

They appealed to Gov. Louis L. Emmerson to halt the threatened "peace march" of several thousand men from northern counties before it could materialise. But they announced their ability and determination to turn back the invaders who are protesting against consummation of a lower wage scale, if or when they reach the county line, and without outside help.

"They're not coming in here," Sheriff Browning Robinson said, "and we won't call for the militia either."

Seven mines dug coal today in this largest producing county of the state. All will be working at capacity tomorrow, with an eighth due to start tomorrow and a ninth Thursday.

Officials of the United Mine Workers, 100 per cent successful in their effort to put their members back to work at the new $5 daily basis wage scale, expressed their pleasure at the situation. So did merchants and manufacturing men, weary of 18 weeks of idleness in southern Illinois shafts.

OVERSTOCKED

Jones: Well, how are you getting on in your new eight-room house?

Smith: Oh, not so badly. We furnished one of the bedrooms by collecting soap coupons.

Jones: Didn't you furnish the other seven rooms?

Smith: We can't. They're full of soap.—Montreal Star.

Baldness Falling Hair

Here's a Successful Treatment

Mr. R. C. (name on request) is the owner of a modern barber shop at 329 W. George St., Pottsville, Pa. About 6 months ago he started to use JAPANESE OIL, the antiseptic liniment, for treating baldness, falling hair and dandruff. He was so successful that his shop is now sought by those who wish to correct hair and scalp troubles.

You can obtain this same treatment at any druggist.

Simply ask for a bottle of JAPANESE OIL, the antiseptic liniment. Then rub it into your scalp every night before retiring.

Itching is relieved instantly, dandruff goes after a few applications, and if your hair roots are not dead, falling hair should stop and new hair grow in on the thin and bald spots within 60 to 90 days.

JAPANESE OIL, the antiseptic medicine for the hair and scalp, costs $1 at any Rexall Drug Store or other good druggists.—Adv.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Now that "Wild Bill" Donovan has cast his hat into the ring for New York's Republican gubernatorial nomination something of a problem presents itself to President Hoover.

WM. J. DONOVAN

Who will inherit administration favor for the honor — Donovan, around whom hover still memories of his disappointment at failure to become Hoover attorney general, or young Trubee Davison, "little cabinet" member in the Coolidge and Hoover reigmes

Obviously the thing may develop some difficulties for the White House. If the past is any criterion, Mr. Hoover will stand neutral. He has not exercised personal selection of party candidates in any state very often as president.

As a matter of fact, his repeated pick of Curtis of Kansas for his vice presidential running mate appears about the only clear cut instance of Hoover intervention in that respect.

Battle Lines Shaping

Yet it is conceivable that national campaign considerations may demand special attention by the Republican high command as to who is running for governor of New York. There are multiplying signs that the Empire state is to be an electoral battle ground all itself this year.

Governor Roosevelt was "drafted" for the gubernatorial race in 1928 that set him on his way to a presidential nomination, and now a Republican candidate to succeed Roosevelt as governor may become an important cog in Mr. Hoover's campaign for re-election to the White House.

New York may be pivotal. Managers of the Roosevelt campaign, including Speaker Garner personally, seem to be bending every energy toward getting former Gov. Al Smith out for stump duty.

As Smith drafted Roosevelt in 1928, the Roosevelt campaigners seem eager now to draft Smith's services for Roosevelt and Garner. That concerns the New York state campaign primarily, although New England states also are involved.

Still No Word

It must be getting increasingly difficult for Smith himself to remain silent. The pressure on him from party leaders probably is great. His own well known tendencies, which never have included a fence-sitting, are to be reckoned with. His habit has been to be definitely for or against. Enigmatic silence is a strange Smith role.

Quanah Members Attend Chillicothe Legion Meet

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 23.—Installation services for officers of Chillicothe Post American Legion were attended by a large group of Quanah legionaires and friends.

Officers installed were Bill Shipp, post commander; Van B. Hill, first vice commander; Jack Sims, second vice commander; W. M. Courley, post adjutant; Stanley Walker, sergeant at arms; A. L. Honeycutt, chaplain, re-elected; Grady Roberts, post historian; H. I. Boothe, post service officer, re-elected.

Members of the executive committee include George Moffett, E. L. Grimes, Homer Bettis, Dee Thorp and K. D. Davis.

Van B. Hill, retiring post commander, was presented with a gold button as a token of appreciation for the service rendered the post during the two years he had been post commander. The presentaiton was made by Radford Howard, Quanah.

Among those attending from Quanah were Rex Sullivan, O. C. Christie, Jack Brazil, C. K. Snyder, Radford Howard, J. K. Chamblias, Floyd Snyder, Mack Wilson and A. Clarence Smith.

Hambone's Mediations

What does this country stand for, a speaker asks. Well, after what we've been through, we'd say that it would stand for most anything.

Prosperity note: Washington item says sales tax is again being considered. That's proof that something is being sold somewhere.

George Bernard Shaw says he has been very much overworked. So far as we are concerned, he has our permission to take a long and extended rest, beginning now.

A Policeman Sets a Good Example

POLICEMEN are usually extremely useful citizens when your house has been robbed, or your store burglarized, but Patrolman Robert Overman of Detroit has proved that they may be just as useful in other ways.

Here are the facts:

Patrolman Overman lived on a little residential street of small homes, small apartments and vacant lots, hardly different from the average street in the average town.

Children played in the streets, exposing themselves to possible injury from motorists. Neighbors just didn't exist. Most families didn't know who lived across the street, and what's more to the point, they didn't care.

So Patrolman Overman decided that his street wasn't a very good place to live. Then he got busy. He cleared the weeds from several vacant lots as a starter.

Other residents of the street became interested. He told them he was going to build a playground to keep the children of the neighborhood off the streets. In true neighborly fashion, they turned in to help him.

They built swings and teeter-totters from scrap lumber left when Overman's garage was partly burned, they laid out a baseball diamond and an ingenious workman fashioned a scoreboard of waste boxes and boards.

As a result Patrolman Overman's street is rapidly becoming an excellent place in which to live. Children of the neighborhood didn't have to be asked to come to "Overman Park" to play twice.

Their fathers followed them. And now the big problem is to find room for a baseball diamond for the boys. Their fathers are using the first one almost as much as the youngsters.

Overman himself summed the whole thing up very well when he said, "This sure goes to show that it doesn't cost anything to enjoy yourself—if you just find out how."

A Solution for China's Ills

CHINA'S ills have long disturbed the world, and after nearly 20 years of almost constant revolution and battling, seem just about as far from a permanent solution as they were when Sun Yat Sen first began experimenting with democracy in the Far East.

But there is at least a ray of hope in the suggestion recently made by T. V. Soong, minister of finance and one of the leading figures in China. His suggestion is that the Nanking government start taxing the foreign concessions within China's vast domains and use the money obtained therefrom to promote a stable government, stamp out communism by educational methods, and to promote economic development.

One of China's great problems has always been the raising of sufficient money to carry on the work of government. The real reason for this situation has been that the richest parts of the nation—the foreign concessions—paid no federal taxes.

American and British investors in China have no more right to go tax free than have American and British concerns in Argentina or Canada.

And if Mr. Soong's suggestion is finally adopted, a long step forward will have been taken—a step looking to the emergence of China as a greater nation, able to buy and sell more goods, to pay her debts, and hold up her head in world affairs.

The Japanese Nation

EDMUND BURKE, a long time ago, reminded his fellow-members of the British parliament that you cannot indict a whole nation. In these times, when international discords are more than usually prevalent, that advice is worth remembering.

For an example, consider the case of Japan.

By her actions in China and Manchuria, Japan has earned the distrust of most of the civilized world. In every land, thinking people condemn the militaristic adventure which has brought so much danger into the world. And yet—

In Los Angeles, during recent weeks, a squad of Japanese athletes has been competing in the Olympic games. They have been likable, appealing young folk, and they have done uncommonly well. No one can watch them without feeling that the nation which sent them overseas must be a pretty fine nation.

When we denounce "the Japanese" in Manchuria we are really talking about a small governmental clique, not about a whole nation. The distinction is one we should never forget.

Good Work by the Weather Man

WHEN we think of the United States weather bureau, most of us simply think of an organization which contrives somehow to get a forecast of tomorrow's weather on the front page of the daily paper. We seldom realize that the bureau's work can save many human lives, on the occasion.

A good example of the fine work the bureau can do was provided in connection with the recent hurricane that lashed the coast of Texas.

On Aug. 13, at 9:30 a. m., the weather bureau issued warnings that a "tropical disturbance of increasing intensity" had arisen in the gulf and was moving in the general direction of Galveston.

The storm did not strike until night. Because of the warning, Galveston and many adjacent places had been able to prepare for it; and many people who would have been killed if the storm had come unexpectedly were able to save their lives.

Theater Mouse

At night, when all the feet have fled,
He pokes his small, dramatic head
Out of the wings and struts as bold
As though a Craig or Meyerhold
Were sitting front to watch his bit,
Noting its pantomime and wit.

The silent house of huddled chairs
In blank amazement sits and stares;
The midnight traffic of the street
Is music for his nimble feet.
No juvenile or leading man
Takes half the freedom this mouse can:

His only critic is a cat
Crouching where firmer critics sat.

Complaint

A two-pants suit gives us the blues in times like these, wails David Murray, it means we have twice as many pockets with no money in them.

Eye-Strain

A Democratic rag in Michigan found itself compelled to print Hoover's acceptance speech, writes Varley P. Young of Detroit. It was against the policy of the paper to use smaller than the regular type and yet the editors wished to minimize the Republican's copy as much as possible. After three days of strenuous thought, they landed an idea.

On the reverse side of the page which contained the Hoover declaration, they printed a three-color department store advertisement. The ink seeped through the paper and those who attempted to read Mr. Hoover's speech found that eye-strain resulted after two paragraphs.

Of course, they might have saved themselves a lot of trouble by printing the acceptance in white ink.

Yowsah!

Lincoln Levinson revises it to read: "All that I am and all that I hope to be, I owe."

True Story!

From C. D. Russell, creator of "Pete," comes a verified tale of principle and irony that has few equals in this anti-dry era. Three years ago one of Father Knickerbocker's fine old ladies found herself at the mellow age of 90 and thought it about time that she draw up her last will and testament. Her adherence to the Golden Rule had proved profitable in many material ways, and when she called in her attorneys she estimated her wealth at $450,000 in gilt edge securities and outright ownership of the brown-stone front dwelling at Fifth Ave. and Twelfth St.

"I want my entire fortune to go to my niece," she instructed them. "But there is one proviso. She must promise never in her life to take a drink or offer one to a friend." And, according to the will, should the niece (who happens to be one of New York's best known syndicate writers) refuse to agree to this, the estate was to be turned over to a temperance society in which the old lady had been an active member for years.

The temptation was overwhelming. But the niece, who had always opposed prohibition in her writings, considered the offer for several weeks and finally came to the conclusion that the restriction was too great. She came to her aunt and told her so. "I guess I'm crazy," she said, "But I know that sooner or later I'll be sorry for ever making such a promise." And thus she passed up a cool half million.

Within a year the aunt passed away and her entire fortune, including the house, went to the temperance society.

And now the proverbial irony! Two months afterwards the dry organization finding itself in dire need of funds, auctioned off the East 12th St. building. And 10 days later the house was opened as a first-rate speakeasy. It has prospered from a wide following among the wealthier Greenwich Villagers and Vth Ave. residents. And exactly at the spot where once stood the old lady's bed and where she signed her last testament, now stands the cash register.

But, perhaps, most weird of all, is the fact that the newspaper woman, who might have had the entire property but for one promise, now comes there nightly to drink a silent toast to her dead aunt.

Surrender!

It's silly to sin and I know it,
It's silly to drink such a lot;
It's silly to play so you show it,
It's silly to spend all you've got;

It's silly to monkey with passion,
It's silly, I say it, to flirt;
Whatever the mode or the fashion
My boy, you will only get hurt:

Then give us a girl and a flagon,
Then give us a drink and a jade
Why not get a glorious jag on
If that is the way we are made!
—WILFRED J. FUNK.

Oops!

According to Paul Forrest, an Atlanta, Ga., court holds that policemen are excellent judges of whisky and that they should be consulted as to whether it is genuine or not. If that's the case I should be very happy to have them step around tonight and tell me whether I was over-charged for that new shipment of Johnny Walker.

House-Guests

Two well-dressed youngsters, hitch-hiking their way from Washington to New York, stopped Samuel Taylor Moore, the Sat. Eve. Post author, and asked for a lift.

"We're just coming back from the B. E. F. encampment," they told him, "and we're too tired to walk any further."

"You kids are pretty young to be veterans, aren't you?" Moore inquired. "Neither of you is over 20 and the war was over 14 years ago."

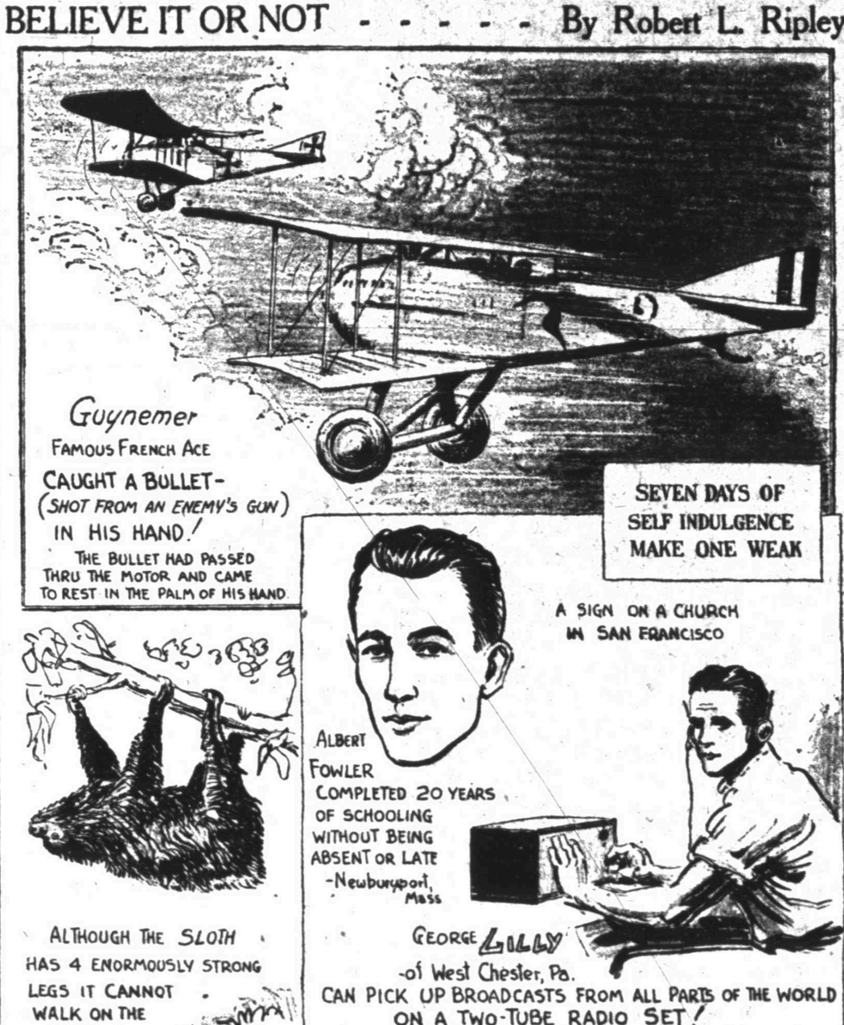

"Oh, no!" piped one of the boys, "We aren't veterans, we were at the B. E. F. camp as guests of a veteran from Vermont."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

A JOURNALISTIC RECORD—Murat Halstead (1829-1928) began his journalistic career with the Cincinnati Commercial in 1853. He established himself as one of the most brilliant war correspondents during the civil war and the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. He was a man of tremendous energy and fertility. Between 1858 and 1898 he is estimated to have written more than 40,000,000 words, or at the rate of 1,000,000 words a year. Eventually he applied himself to the writing of books, about a score of which were quite profitable and lengthy.

FLIGHTY

SYNOPSIS

Gypsy O'Malley, 22, and small, dark and lovely, lived with her pleasure-mad, hard-drinking family in a house on her grandmother O'Malley's Long Island estate. Her 18-year-old half-sister Angel was a Follies girl. Her half-brother Jiggs gambled and dodged creditors. Her father, Jim O'Malley, lived beyond the allowance made by his mother, and Peg, Gypsy's stepmother, still good looking at 40, was vain and craved the admiration of men. Thoroughly disgusted, Gypsy went job-hunting. Returning home in a storm, she heard an airplane circling in the darkness. She lighted a pail of gasoline as a flare and Brent Jamison, famous transatlantic flyer, landed safely. He taught her to fly. Ted Colman instructing her when he was busy. She loved Brent but he was captivated by Angel's baby-faced beauty and they became engaged. He accepted her explanations when the wife of "Pinky" Delmar, who owned Jamison airport, threatened suit for divorce, naming Angel as correspondent. Angel had accepted a valuable ruby ring from "Pinky." When Gypsy got her pilot's license, Delmar entered her in the $25,000 women's air races. Peg left for Reno to get a divorce so she could marry Peter De Whittley, a young millionaire. Jiggs had tried to welch on a $1,000 gambling debt and the gambling house keeper sent a gangster to collect. He found Gypsy alone in the house. She borrowed the money from her grandmother, saying she needed it for her entry fee in the air races.

INSTALLMENT XVIII

Gram could not bear the pain in her favorite grandchild's eyes. She reached over and patted her hand.

"I know it was for some one else, dear. But when I first found out you'd deceived me it was one of the worst blows I've ever had. I didn't sleep a wink last night worrying about it."

"You—haven't told me how you found out." Gypsy wiped her eyes then. If Gram wasn't going to be too angry it didn't hurt so much. It was good to get it all off her conscience.

"That stupid Flynn gangster came here." Gram's eyes flashed. "He tried to get me to pay another gambling debt of Jigs'—two thousand dollars, this time—and when I refused he told me he'd waited outside here for you the night you came to borrow the thousand dollars. And he asked me how I'd like to have him get you in trouble, too."

"Oh, Gram—" Gypsy gasped, "what did you do?"

"What would any sane human being do?" Gram's face set sternly. "I pretended I was going to get the money. Instead, I got a gun I keep upstairs for burglars and called Gray. Gray held it over him till we got a policeman. He's in jail—and Alderman Grady came to me this afternoon and says they'll give him the limit. There's nothing more to worry about."

Gypsy felt weak with relief.

"Then—they won't bother Jiggs any more, either?"

Gram snorted—impatiently.

"Hang Jiggs! He isn't worth the powder to blow him up. It's the last time you'll ever take any risks because of that good for nothing if I have anything to say about it."

"Poor Jiggs, he's such a fool sometimes," Gypsy agreed. "But he's a lot better since Fluffy Little drove his car into that telephone pole and was killed. He's home nearly every night. I can't believe he went out and got into debt two thousand dollars after promising me he wouldn't."

"He didn't," Gram told her. "I sent for him. That Flynn racketeer's I. O. U.'s were forged."

"Oh, Im glad." Gypsy smiled then for the first time. "I couldn't believe it."

"He'll go out and get into something else soon enough," Gram sniffed, unwilling to believe for a minute in Jigg's reformation.

"I don't believe he will," Gypsy defended her half-brother loyally. "I think Peg's going away will make him take things a little more seriously, too."

"She'll be back whining for another chance soon enough," Gram said darkly. "And she's got another think coming if she thinks that De Whittley boy is going to marry her and let her throw his money away. His family'll cut him off without a penny."

"It's a silly mess, isn't it?" Gypsy sighed wearily. "Sometimes I think the whole family must be crazy—all except dad. They're always getting into messes."

"Your father isn't much better. But that's my fault. I raised him with a silver spoon in his mouth, and that isn't good for any boy. Itd oesn't make a man of him."

"I've always said you spoiled the whole family," Gypsy agreed.

Gram got up and walked to the window. She stood tall and straight gazing out across the estate a minute before she spoke. When she turned around Gypsy had never seen such a look of determination in the kindly old eyes. Gram's mouth looked as though it might tremble but she fought her feelings bravely.

"Gypsy," she said, "I've come to a decision that is going to change all your lives. I didn't send for you last night after that crook was here because I wanted a chance to think things over."

Gypsy waited while her grandmother sat down. She seemd prepared to speak at length. So Gypsy did not interrupt.

"When I found out you had told an untruth to save Jiggs I was mad as a hatter at first. Then I started to look at it fairly and I realized I would have done the same thing for your grandfather—or for Jim when he was a boy.

"Then I got to thinking where I might have been a failure myself, and I've come to the decision I've got only myself to blame. I've supported your father and the family all these years, and not one of them knows the value of a dollar. You are the only one who hasn't been ruined by my money.

"When the men got in trouble and needed cash, they always knew they could get it from me. I've been a fool. It isn't the money that bothers me—it's that it seems to have ruined not only Jim and Jiggs but Peg and Angel.

"Here Peg is kiting off to Reno to marry a man young enough to be her son—and Angel is chasing around until all hours of the morning. Do you think," Gram asked Gypsy, "she'll ever marry Brent Jamison?"

"No, I don't," Gypsy said honestly, and turned her head. "She says he hasn't enough money."

Gram shook her head.

"Just as I thought. But you really can't blame Angel. She's seen a lot of things she shouldn't see and she knows more about the world than I do at my age. If she'd ever had a mother with an ounce of sense she might have been different. I don't know how you've escaped being just like her."

Gypsy waited and listened.

"I've almost made up my mind that I don't blame any of them. Peg married Jim when she was a mere baby, and she wasn't born with brains in the first place. She's too pretty to have brains. I've wanted to turn her over my knee and spank her sometimes—but I've never really thought she was bad. Justa fool."

Gypsy was amazed to hear her grandmother's honest opinion of her daughter-in-law. Gram took her glasses off and rubbed her eyes before she went on. Gypsy suspected there were tears behind them. It was difficult to think of Gram as shedding tears.

"The children," Gram sighed. "are just what Jim and Peg have made them. And I guess Jim is just what I made of him. I wrapped him in cotton wadding and tied him with a gold ribbon and expected he'd grow up to amount to something."

"Maybe father will be more serious now that he is having some real trouble, Gram," Gypsy said hopefully.

"Well, what I've decided to do will either make or break Jim and Jiggs." Gram got up then and walked to the window again. "It's hard to do—but I feel I must."

"What are you going to do?" Gypsy was too curious to wait any longer to find out what Gram had been leading up to.

"I'm going to sell the house and put the whole kit and boodle of them out and make them go to work. You and Angel can come to live with me. But never another penny of my money will Jiggs or Jim get until they show me they're made of something."

Gram's mouth set in a hard straight line. She looked at Gypsy determinedly. And was amazed to see Gypsy's eyes widen and her mouth break into a slow, pleased smile.

Gypsy couldn't believe her own ears when Gram served a two-weeks dispossess notice—in her most severe manner—on Jiggs and Jim.

She had come over herself and the drawing room had seemed charged with electricity of her powerful personality. They were all there—except Peg.

The blow of Peg's trip to Reno for a divorce had seemed to dull the blow for the elder O'Malley. He had looked at his mother in amazement, but seemed to try to take the unexpected turn of affairs like a good sport.

Jiggs was youthfully defiant. He had pooh-poohed the idea that he couldn't make a fortune overnight if he really set his mind to it and had sauntered out of the room. But he stayed in his room that night. Gypsy knew it had set him to thinking deeply about what was to become of him.

Angel had thanked her grandmother, a trifle sarcastically, for her kind offer to take her in. But she had other plans. Gypsy had wondered, with a sinking heart, if she would marry Brent after all—just to show them she could be independent. A divorce would mean very little to Angel if she saw a better opportunity in the offing.

Gypsy felt a strange relief at the idea of getting away from her hectic family to the peace and quiet and orderliness of Gram's beautiful old mansion. It would seem like a vacation. She would miss the O'Malley brood, of course, but down in her heart she knew Gram's decision to make them all get out and show a little energy was for the best. They might fail. But it was worth the try. Things couldn't be much worse than they were.

Two days after Gram delivered her ultimatum Gypsy knocked at Angel's door. She was determined to try to find out what Angel planned to do since she had refused to live with her grandmother. Partly curiosity, but mostly worry, prompted her to pay Angel the visit.

Angel was seated at the window in a new cream satin negligee with deep cream lace sleeves. She was a picture.

"Angel," Gypsy stood admiring her, "you look like a million dollars. Aren't you lucky to be able to spend all your salary on clothes? I wish I could hurry and start to earn something."

Angel warmed at the compliment. She took to flattery like a kitten to cream.

"Oh, don't worry about earning money." She gave her prettiest smile. "Pinky says you're the best woman flyer in the country. He says you'll win the air races. Then look at all the money you'll have. Twenty-five thousand dollars! It'll take me a long time to earn that much."

"But, I haven't won it yet," Gypsy said, wondering how to turn the conversation to Angel's plans after the family was broken up.

Q.—How long have negotiations for the St. Lawrence waterways system been under way?—G. V.

A.—The negotiations were started about eight years ago.

Q.—Into how many terms is the school year at Oxford university divided?—M. C.

A.—Into four. Michaelmas term, Oct. 10 to Dec. 17; Hilary or Lent, Jan. 14 to the day before Palm Sunday; Easter term, Wednesday after Easter to Friday before Whitsunday; and Trinity or Act term, from the day before Whitsunday to the Saturday after the first Tuesday in July.

Q.—What is a palimpsest?—E. O.

A.—It is a parchment manuscript, which after the writing upon it had been partially erased, had been used again. Both the Greeks and Romans erased manuscript in order to use the parchment again.

Q.—How long is the River Jordan?—B. S. S.

A.—Its course is about 70 miles direct, but 200 miles including windings.

Q.—How large a nugget of silver has been found?—J. McF.

A.—The Smithsonian institution says that silver does not commonly occur in nuggets, and it has no definite information regarding the largest lump, or nugget, ever found. There is one large mass of 5 cwt., which was found in Norway, and one of 8 cwt., in Peru, and one mass in the Cobalt district of Canada which weighed 1,640 pounds.

Q.—How long will the season be this year for shooting ducks and geese?—S. T.

A.—There will be a two-month season this year, but the bag limit has been lowered on some species.

Q.—Does the blood actually get thinner in summer and thicker in winter?—A. F. B.

A.—The public health service says that this is more a figure of speech than a literal condition. The blood may become thin following the injection of large quantities of fluid into the veins; or the blood may become thickened following excessive hemorrhage.

Q.—At the time the declaration of independence was adopted, what was the building known as Independence hall used for?—E. G.

A.—It was the state house or capitol of Pennsylvania.

Q.—What city publishes the most daily newspapers?—F. S.

A.—Paris. It is said that Paris has as many daily newspapers as London, New York, and Berlin combined.

Q.—Why is an inquisitive person called a peeping Tom?—A. W. D.

A.—It was originally peeping Tom of Coventry, a person who disobeyed the injunction not to look in the street when the nude Lady Godiva rode by.

Q.—Where is Piedras Negras in Guatemala?—G. W. F.

A.—The minister of Guatemala says that Piedras Negras is the modern Spanish name for the site of an old Maya city in northern Guatemala near the Mexican border. This region is located in dense jungle country in the department of the peten. There are very interesting Maya ruins located there and the University of Pennsylvania is at present engaged in excavations on this site with the permission and cooperation of the government of Guatemala.

Q.—How many osteopaths are there in the United States?—L. Ia C.

JOHNNY LEHMAN WINS MEDAL HONORS IN WESTERN AMATEUR

CHICAGO STAR BREAKS RECORD

He Tours 36-Holes in Total of 137 Strokes

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 23. (AP)—Two storms hit the western amateur golf championship today.

One, a wicked blow from the West, ripped the score sheets off the board and blew three of them into the ether; the other was stirred up by Johnny Lehman, Chicago, who stormed the dugouts of the championship Rockford Country club course with a sizzling 66 that gave him the tournament medal with a record-smashing 36-hole total of 137 shots.

Lehman's total, knitted with a 71 yesterday and his great 66 today, Chipped two shots from the all-time western medal record established at Lochmoore, Detroit, by Dexter Cummings, veteran Chicago star, in 1925.

"Dick" Martin, Chicago, looked like a cinch for the medal earlier when he posted a 68 for a total of 140 shots. The record-setting field of 187 starters shot such consistently good golf that the 152 class had to play off to get in the match play bracket of 32.

Beyond Lehman's score, which gave him nine under fours for the last 27 holes, the qualifiers were bunched within an area of 12 shots. George Dawson, Chicago, and Charlie Seaver, Stanford university football star and member of the Walker cup team, tied for third place with 143s. Pete Jordan, Des Moines, finished fifth with 145.

Other low scorers included Johnny Banks, Chicago, western junior champion, 146; Bob McCrary, Iowa open champion, 146; Al Hunta, De Kalb, Ill., 147; Bob Cochran, former western junior title holder from St. Louis, 147; Harry Eichelberger of Los Angeles, pace setter yesterday with a 70, 148; Billy Sixty, Milwaukee, 148; Charles "Chick" Evans Jr., Chicago, eight times holder of the western crown, 148; Rodney Bliss, Omaha, 148; and Harry Laveau, Rockford, 148.

Gus Moreland of Dallas won a place in the championship flight by shooting 72-78—150.

Grimm Signs As Cubs' 1933 Pilot

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (AP)—Two of the happiest men in baseball, on their own say so, sat back in their chairs today and watched ink dry on a piece of paper that settled the management of the Chicago Cubs for another year.

They were William L. Veeck, president of the club, and Charley Grimm, who succeeded Rogers Hornsby as manager not more than a month ago. Grimm signed a one-year contract for the season of 1933. President Veeck said he received a substantial increase in salary, which it is understood will be $30,000.

The Cubs have flourished under Grimm's management. When he succeeded Hornsby, they were in second place and when he signed today they were leading the National league pennant race by a margin of three games.

Opal Hill Breaks Own Golf Record

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 23. (UP)—Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, defending champion, broke her own course record set yesterday when she shot a smashing 73—seven under women's par—in winning her first round match today in the women's western golf championship. She shot a 75 yesterday to win the qualifying medal.

Mrs. Hill won from Marie Callahan, Madison, Wis., 9 and 7, but played out the last seven holes to hang up her new mark.

Mary K. Browne, Cleveland, the former tennis star, won her first round match easily, defeating Priscilla Carver, Chicago, 6 and 5.

Other results follow:

Mrs. Roy Greene, Glendale, Calif., defeated Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, 1 up.

Elizabeth Abbott, Los Angeles, defeated Mrs. John Arends, Detroit, 1 up on 19 holes.

Wichita Players Strike For $10,000 Back Pay

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 23. (UP)—Members of the Wichita Western League Baseball club today threatened an immediate "strike" unless $10,000 which they claimed was due them in back salaries was paid at once.

Team members said they would refuse to play another game unless they were given definite assurance their money would be forthcoming.

Dale Gear, Topeka, president of the league, was en route here to confer with the players.

There was a possibility that Frank Isbell, club owner, would turn his franchise over to Dan Souders, president of the Southern Kansas Stage Lines company, and other Wichita business men.

It was understood Isbell was willing to release the franchise if the new owners would agree to pay the $17,000 in debts now owed by the club.

BOBCATS LOOM AS CONTENDERS

Nine Letter Men Back For Childress Team

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 23.—The Childress Bobcats, considered the "weak sister" of district 2 last year, will be bidding for an upper berth position when the teams go into action this fall, and preseason dope now places them among the formidable contenders for district honors. Nine lettermen are expected to answer the call of coaches W. C. "Stormy" Davis and H. S. Griffin Sept. 1. They will serve as the nucleus around which the 1932 squad will be moulded.

Prospects for a winning team are bright and with a host of reserve material, football fans of this section are looking forward to the coming season.

The 1931 team was greatly handicapped with the lack of weight and experience, but with nine lettermen and a host of reserve material that will tip the scales near the 160 mark, the 1931 jinx has about been eliminated.

Veteran Line

The coaches have a complete veteran line, the entire 1931 front wall being due to answer the call next month. Although they were ineligible last season, the Bobcats are placing the brunt of the attack upon Vernon Johnson, three-year letterman and great end of the 1930 team, who was injured early in the season of 1930 and forced to withdraw from competition. He tips the scales close to 175 this year and will likely see service at the quarterback position. As a running mate Johnson will have Art Bradshaw, also a member of the 1930 team, who is a punter de luxe and a ball carrier extraordinary. He weighs 165.

In the line will be found the veteran Cy Marshbank, fighting pivot man, and a veteran of three year's service. On the wing positions are Bert Hargrave and George Wright while the remainder of the line is composed of Capt. Alvis Kennedy, R. C. Icy, Russell Sport and Raymond Overly.

From the reserves come some 22 veterans who experienced a very successful season last year under the guidance of Coach Griffin. The Bobcat reserves made a very successful showing against some of the class B teams of this section and are seasoned warriors in many gridiron battles.

The Bobcats are boasting of one of the best fields in the district, the old Fair Park field having been turfed in the spring and is now covered with a heavy blanket of grass which will make it an all-weather gridiron.

Vernon Tigers Blank Tornado Nine, 4 to 0

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 23.—The habit of shutout games in the Junior Council playground baseball league was carried over from last week as R. L. Barrett hurled the Tigers to a 4-0 victory over the Tornadoes Monday evening in the final game for either club in the 1932 season. The final scheduled game of the season, slated Wednesday between the Yankees and Senators, second and first half champions, respectively, was incorporated in Tuesday's contest, the opening game of the play-off series.

The shutout craze started last Wednesday when Sam Webb of the Senators blanked the Tornadoes, 6-0; Thursday, Norwood Morrison of the Tigers shutout the Senators, 4-0, and Friday, Bill Pearce of the Yankees blanked the Tigers, 5-0.

Other shutout games this season were A. N. Burke of the Tigers over the Yankees, 6-0, and Bill Pearce of the Yankees over the Tornadoes, 2-0.

CATS 3, BUFFS 2

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—George Loepp slapped a single into center field with the bases jammed for the Fort Worth Cats to defeat Houston, 3-2, here tonight. Two were down when L[illegible]'s hit came.

It brought victory to Preacher Thurman who went the route for Fort Worth and defeat to Elmer Hanson who had replaced George Washington Payne. Hanson filled the bases in the ninth and turned the job over to Wysong who was touched for Loepp's hit.

The Cats were forced to stage the rally after the Buffs had tied the score in the ninth, the second time that they had overhauled the Cats. Score:

TYLER 3, BUCS 2

TYLER, Texas, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Tyler Sports defeated Galveston 3-2 tonight with a two-run rally in the home half of the ninth. Three singles, a base on balls, and a wild pitch brought the necessary runs. It was Tyler's fourth straight victory, the club going back into fourth place as Longview lost.

Hank Thormahlen, league strikeout leader, started for Galveston but left the game in the third after pulling a ligament in his arm. Rusty Cromer relieved him and was in turn relieved by Eddie Carroll in the ninth. Joe Jachym went the route for Tyler. Score:

Lazzeri and Gehrig Slug Yankees To 8 to 7 Victory Over St. Louis

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Faced with a losing streak that threatened to mount to two straight, Tony Lazzeri and Lou Gehrig took the cause of the Yankees in hand today and belted out an 8 to 7 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Gehrig pounded out his 27th home run of the season with Babe Ruth on first in the fifth to pull the Yanks back in the ball game and tie the score after George Pipgras had allowed the Browns a pair of runs in the first and two more in the fifth.

Pipgras gave way to old Wiley Moore in the midst of the Browns' two-run rally in the seventh and Johnny Allen pitched the final inning, getting credit for his 13th victory of the season against two defeats, the best pitching average in the majors at the moment.

George Blaeholder relieved Hebert starting the eighth and was charged with the loss. The victory gave the Yanks three out of four in the series.

Ruth had a perfect day at bat with three singles and two walks. Score:

OKLAUNION TO PLAY TIPTON

Game May Decide Second Half Title

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 23.—Oklaunion's invasion of Tipton, Okla., in a contest that may decide the championship of the second half in the Red River Valley Baseball league will feature next Sunday's play in the organization. In the other game, Quanah will play at Chillicothe. Electra, first half champions, will be idle. Sunday's contests will be the next-to-last games of the season, the curtain falling Sept. 4.

Tipton missed its chance to tie for the second half title last Sunday when it lost, 7 to 4, to Electra, as Oklaunion was trouncing Chillicothe, 15 to 0, at Chillicothe. The games moved the Cardinals to within one game of the pace-setting Sooners and an Oklaunion victory next Sunday will throw the two leaders into a deadlock for first place with the championship hinging on the Sept. 4 games. If Tipton wins Sunday's tilt, the Sooners will have cinched the last half flag and will meet Electra's Oilers in the play-off.

A hurling battle is expected in Sunday's tilt, with Bert Williams of Oklaunion and Simpson, crack Tipton pitcher, expected to take the mound. The Sooners will enter the game a slight favorite to win.

OILERS PLAY BURK ALL-STARS SUNDAY

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 23.—The Electra Oilers are nearing the close of their schedule for the second half of the Red River Valley Baseball league. Sept. 4 they will go to Oklaunion for their next and last game. Sunday they will be hosts to the Burkburnett All-Stars. The Oilers downed the Tipton hopefuls in a hard fought game Sunday, 7 to 5, with Van Horn pitching his eighth win of the season. Van Horn has won every conference game in which he has pitched this year. Electra will go into the championship run with either Tipton or Oklaunion. The two teams in the runoff will have one game at home and if a third is necessary it will be played on neutral ground.

Estep and Elevator Teams Win Contests

The Estep Pharmacy and Mack Taylor nines made their debut in the Merchants Playground Baseball league yesterday afternoon, the Estep team winning a close 4 to 1 decision behind the pitching of Ed Hedman. Hedman allowed only two hits in a mound duel with Anderson of the Mack Taylors, who allowed only four. The game was played on a diamond near Debus field.

In the second league game of the afternoon, the Wichita Mill and Elevator nine defeated the Wichita Falls and Southern team, 21 to 14. It was a slugfest.

CUBS DEFEAT PHILS, 5 TO 1

Big Pat Malone Gives Up Only Six Hits

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (AP)—Big Pat Malone held Philadelphia to six hits today, beat them 5 to 1, and boosted the Chicago Cubs to a lead of three and one-half games over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league pennant race.

Outside of a home run by Hal Lee in the seventh inning, Malone was so effective the slugging Phillies spent the afternoon striking out or popping up. His strikeout and popup pitching worked so well the Cubs set a new National league record of only one assist in a nine inning game. The achievement also equaled the Major league record, by the Chicago White Sox of 1919 and the Cleveland Indians of 1924.

Ed Holley, a former Cub, started for the Phillies and lasted seven innings, yielding six hits. Score:

Cubs Sure to Keep Lead as Dodgers Open Series Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (UP)—The Chicago Cubs made certain today that they wouldn't lose the National league lead in their all-important three-game series opening with the Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow. They beat the Phillies for the fourth straight victory, 5-1, increasing their lead to 3½ games over the second place Dodgers who were idle.

Thus the Cubs will cling to the lead by half a game even if the rampaging Dodgers should sweep the series. If the Cubs should hand the Dodgers three straight defeats, the pennant race would be all over but the shouting.

The Cubs' big advantage over the Dodgers lies in the fact that they have played five fewer games, thus making their lead actually bigger than it appears.

The Cubs have won 14 out of 19 games since Charley Grimm was promoted from the ranks. His elevation to the manager's position has done much to soothe the feelings of the many Cub fans who turned against the team when Joe McCarthy was fired late in the 1930 season. Many of them felt McCarthy was chiseled out of his job and were openly opposed to the Cubs under the Hornsby regime.

The rival pitchers tomorrow will be Charlie Root for the Cubs and Van Mungo for the Dodgers. Root won the only game the Cubs annexed on their last trip to Brooklyn and Mungo has beaten the Cubs several times.

Manager Max Carey, who like Grimm is in his first season as a major league pilot, brought his Dodgers to town today after two days of idleness. The Dodgers have been hitting the fastest clip of any team in the league the last month, during which they have won 22 out of 29 games and climbed from a place low in second division to second place.

The outstanding features of Brooklyn's belated drive have been the hitting of the three ex-Cubs, Lefty O'Doul, Danny Taylor and Hack Wilson. O'Doul leads the league in batting with an average of .370, Wilson leads the Dodgers in runs batted in, and Taylor has been fielding and hitting brilliantly since he traded his Cubs' uniform for a Brooklyn outfit.

Sporting and athletic goods manufactured in 1931 in the United States, exclusive of fire arms and ammunition, was valued at nearly $50,000,000 at factory prices.

ALLISON, RYN WIN EASILY

Doubles Champs Advance To Quarterfinals

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 23. (UP)—Dropping only three games, Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, and Johnny Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, advanced with ease today in the quarterfinals in defense of their crown, at the 51st annual national tennis doubles championship here at the Longwood club.

Van Ryn and Allison, top seeded, won a straight set victory from Talcot Banks and W. W. Weld, of Cohassett, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

Another seeded team, fourth, consisting of George M. Lott Jr., of Chicago, and Frank X. Shields, of Chicago, advanced by defeating Arnold Jones of Providence, R. I., and Joseph Coughlin, inter-collegiate star from San Francisco, in a four-setter, 6-3, 3-6, 1-6, 6-3.

Shields seemed off his game, and only for Lott's steadiness, the Lott-Shields duo might have been eliminated.

The team of Sidney Wood, of New York, and Leonard Stoeffen, of New Orleans, advanced into the third round by defeating the Japanese team of J. Satoh, and T. Kuwabara, 6-3, 6-5, 6-4, in straight sets. The match was hard fought despite the three-set victory. But the Japs were no match for the steady volleying of the American boys.

Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill had an easy time with H. H. Hyde and John Gow, 6-1, 6-4, 9-7.

The French team of Henri Cochet and Marcel Bernard qualified for the quarterfinals by beating A. J. and R. S. Turner, 6-2, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

Quanah Cotton Oil Mill Starts Work

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 23.—Quanah Cotton Oil mill opened the 1932-33 season with a crew of about 75 men. This number will be more than doubled during the height of the season when day and night shifts are regular. It is probable the short week will be adopted, which will give employment to several times the number now working.

There is an abundant supply of unemployed already here. Mill officials and civic workers warn against unemployed coming to Quanah expecting work in the mill or other projects, as home labor will be employed exclusively.

KATY BIDS FOR LABOR DAY TRAVEL BY DARING LOW RATES OUT-OF-STATE

Never Before on Holiday Have Rates Been So Low to Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa.

Coach Rate 1c Per Mile; Sept. 12 Return Limit

Only Slightly Higher in Pullmans; Good on Crack Trains Carrying Air-Cooled Diners

The ever-audacious M.K.T. Railroad has just sprung its latest sensation in rail rates upon a grateful and enthusiastic public. Almost weekly, all summer long, this railroad, with a series of brilliant and sensational coups in travel bargains, has been winning people to the habit of going places and seeing things, and doing it by rail.

Now in addition to extremely low rates within Texas borders, Katy announces, for Labor Day, the master stroke of all. On September 2, 3, 4 and 5, tickets will be on sale from Texas to all points in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota, on the basis of 60% of the one-way fare. This means travel at about 1c per mile, or 30c on the dollar. These extremely low rates are good only in coaches. But those wishing to ride in Pullmans can do so at only slightly higher rates, plus the charge for berth. Examples of rates, both coach and pullman, to several important destinations are shown in box.

The attractions are myriad; Minnesota, with its cool northwoods and lakes; Chicago, with its vacation advantages of Lake Michigan; its boat excursions, its big league ball games and a chance to see the World's Fair in the making. St. Louis, Kansas City and other points also hold interests for many.

Tickets are good on all Katy trains, including the famous Katy Bluebonnet and Texas Special, carrying luxurious air-cooled diners, with meals at reasonable prices. Returning passengers must reach original starting point before midnight, September 12. On adult coach tickets baggage up to 100 pounds may be checked, and the full baggage allowance on tickets good in sleeper.

Railroad officials assure the public that ample extra equipment will be added to serve the crowds in comfort, but urge early reservations to facilitate train movements. Phone now, if you expect to go. Full details, reservations, etc., may be had from W. A. Little, D. F. & P. A., M.K.T., Ninth and Ohio Streets, Wichita Falls, phone 4151-2.—Adv.

HOME BANKS TO TOTAL TWELVE

Maximum Number of Credit Districts Planned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—The home loan banking system inaugurated to aid small home owners will divide the country into 12 districts, the maximum number allowed under the law.

Franklin W. Cort, chairman of the home loan board, said today the board had decided to establish the maximum. Under the law the minimum would have been eight.

Fort said the board would map out the districts as rapidly as possible and probably announce all of them at the same time. After the districts are selected the sites for the regional banks will be determined.

The next step will be for the board to determine the minimum capitalization for each regional bank, select officials and open the stock bonds for 30 days. The banks cannot begin to operate until the end of the 30-day period and if the capital determined upon has not been subscribed the board can call upon the treasury to put up the remaining necessary money.

Death Sentence Being Used More by Soviet

MOSCOW, Aug. 23. (AP)—The death sentence is becoming more frequent in Soviet Russia and the newspapers are demanding rigid enforcement of a recent decree classifying as capital offenses railroad robberies and violence against collective farms.

A Grimean court sentenced a man to death today for wrecking a thresher by throwing a steel hook into the machinery. In another court, near Moscow, two workers were sentenced to be shot after they confessed derailing a train to rob the passengers.

Shoplifter At Amarillo Quizzes Police Sharply

AMARILLO, Aug. 23. (AP)—"You don't think I'm going to stay out in the cold this winter and go hungry, do you?" asked J. P. Howard, 27, as police caught him shoplifting 21 pairs of silk hose in an Amarillo department store.

"I 'mooched' five hours yesterday and got five cents," he added.

"You got too much then," ventured an officer. "There are too many at that game."

Howard, who said he was a Californian, claimed he had been in 36 states in search of work.

"I've been 'vagged' in practically all the larger cities I've visited," he said. "I'm getting tired of it. I want a place to stay and eat this winter."

Medical Men Protest 'Government Intervention'

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 23. (UP)—The Indiana Medical association appealed to the Shannon congressional committee here today "to halt government intervention in the medical profession."

Through Dr. Joseph Weinstein, Terre Haute, president-elect of the association, it asked the committee to "stop socialization of the American medical profession, by halting expansion of government hospitals and curtailing care of veterans strictly to service disabilities."

Quanah to Build Road Machinery Warehouse

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 23.—State highway machinery not in use will be stored in a corrugated iron warehouse on West Fifth street in Quanah. Contract for the building was awarded to Ed Lovell by John Nabors, highway engineer. Quanah is centrally located in the district supervised by Mr. Nabors.

26. FOR RENT, MISCELLANEOUS

DO YOU NEED REVENUE?

That set of unrented office rooms is "eating its head off." It's a part of your business overhead which includes taxes, interest charges, etc.

An unrented house, either business or residence or a spare room offers the same problem to the home owner. You have no justification in assuming they can't be rented until you have put your problem up to Want-Ad Headquarters. If they can be rented at all, Daily Times-Record News Classified Ads will do the work at the lowest cost—two papers for the cost of one.

Trade Trends

(By The Associated Press)

Lumber—Production for the week ended Aug. 13 totaled 109,299,000 feet, orders amounted to 138,144,000 feet and shipments 125,384,000 feet, the National Lumber Manufacturers association reports. The large excess of orders over shipments is attributed to the low level of production rather than improvement in new business.

Gasoline—Prices are generally firm in the eastern territory, but somewhat easier in other sections. Standard Oil company of New York has advanced the tank wagon and service station price 1½ cents a gallon in New York city. In the Denver territory prices have been lowered 2 cents a gallon, and in southern California, Standard Oil Company of California has reduced the price of third grade gasoline about 1½ cents a gallon.

Meat Packing—The movement of meats out of cold storage continues heavy and is still running ahead of last year, according to reports in packing circles. The improved movement has been in evidence for the past 60 days.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Cotton gray goods were stronger and moderately active. Rayon cloth continued unsettled because of confusion as to yarn prices. Raw silk was steady. Woolen goods were in active call. Burlap was higher on better Calcutta cables and improvement in sterling exchange.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

L. K.—Kindly let me know about the financial condition and outlook of Stutz Motor Car company of America.

Answer—The company is one of the oldest manufacturers of high grade automobiles in the United States. Business has been showing a gratifying improvement. On July 29, company reported six times as many unfilled orders as it had June 30. A portion of these were for export, which had shown a decided turn for the better during recent weeks. The factory force was increased approximately 40 per cent recently. Balance sheet of Feb. 29, 1932, shows strong financial position, with ratio of current assets to current liabilities 10 to 1 and cash almost three times current payables. The company has a good trade position and outlook is considered good.

C. M., Vernon.—Would like to know about latest earnings of Cities Service company, and the present status of the common stock.

Answer—For the 12 months ended July 31, 1932, Cities Service company, reported gross earnings of $36,809,838 compared with $46,150,827 for the preceding period. After interest and expenses, the net available to dividends and reserves was $22,851,538 against $31,326,601. After providing for dividends on the preferred stock, the net for common stock and reserves was $15,445,531, compared with $23,965,029 in the previous 12 months. For July, gross earnings were $2,301,203 against $2,414,068 in July, 1931. After deducting expenses and interest the net available to stocks and reserves was $1,176,679, against $1,225,083. The net to common stock and reserves after providing for preferred dividends was $549,854 against $621,618. Dividends have been suspended in order to conserve cash and the present status of the common stock is speculative.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (AP)—Cotton made further slight gains today on trade buying and covering. December closed at 7.91, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 3 to 6 points.

Prices showed net gains of 5 to 10 points with October selling at 7.78 and March at 8.18, marking new high ground for the movement.

In addition to a little hedging from the Southwest and profit-taking, there was some further selling through brokers' cooperative connections and spot house selling supposed to be against transactions in the old crop cotton. The market just about lost its early advance under this pressure, but demand improved as prices approached yesterday's closing quotations and closing quotations were within 3 or 4 points of the best.

The report of the census bureau showing 251,183 bales of cotton ginned from this year's crop prior to Aug. 16, against 90,608 last year and 572,810 two years ago was not regarded particularly significant with reference to the probable size of the crop, and had little or no apparent effect on the market.

Liverpool cables reported local and Bombay buying on the advance in that market and said that while labor troubles were restricting business in cotton goods, an early settlement of the disputes was expected. Exports today 7,017 making 297,517 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 3,322,287.

The market was steady again late in the day on covering and trade buying futures closing steady, 3-6 points higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23. (AP)—While somewhat less active today the cotton market was well maintained and reached new high levels for the movement, and the season. The October option at 7.77 showed a gain of 264 points or $13.20 a bale above the low point reached on June 10. Prices, largely influenced by the course of stocks, reacted 4 to 7 points near the end on realizing. The close was steady at net gains of 2 to 5 points.

The census bureau reported during the morning total ginning to Aug. 16 to have been 251,183 bales of which Texas contributed 241,096. The other states mostly showed less ginned than a year ago.

The market after reacting about 5 points rallied again with stocks but eased off in the final trading owing to an easier trend in the stock market. October closed at 7.73 and December at 7.88 down 4 to 7 points from the highs. October showed a net gain for the day of 5 points and December a net gain of 3 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 to 2 penny points down.

Port receipts 12,342, for week 47,725, for season 253,296, last season 101,031. Exports 7,017, for week 28,416, for season 215,720, last season 116,930. Port stock 3,316,213, last year 2,742,964. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 50,070, last year 35,629. Spot sales at southern markets 14,495, last year 6,665.

Futures closed steady at net advances of 2 to 5 points.

Bonds Register Largest Aggregate Of Transactions Of Any Day In 1932

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. (US)—Transactions in bonds today aggregated the largest daily total this year, and in stocks the volume was 4,600,000 shares, the second biggest day of 1932.

Average prices in both markets reached the highest levels of the recovery. The net gain in the leading bond averages was greater than the day's improvement in stocks.

Actually, the consistent advance in bond quotations still remains the dominant supporting note to the entire stock market upturn. The vigorous support which the recovery in bond prices has imparted to the whole financial structure is not to be belittled, regardless of individual opinions on stocks.

If the bond strength can be carried along into business, then the bull campaign will at last have some semblance of support in actualities; if not, the bull campaign is doomed to disaster. However, the market today still was in the throes of the exuberance which has featured it for the last month and more.

The enormous volume induced considerable profit-taking among the more cautious speculators and investors, and the best levels of the day were not maintained in numerous issues. On the average, nevertheless, there was recorded an additional net gain, although the close was highly irregular.

The report spread that the steel corporation, after the close, would have something exceedingly bullish to announce. This turned out to be a $5,000,000 appropriation for rehabilitation of the corporation's plants, to be expended during the winter season in the hope of maintaining employment.

Steel's chief executive also added the opinion that a better sentiment exists at present, and "it would seem the buying movement cannot be long delayed." Trade periodicals agreed with the better sentiment in the steel trade.

Many issues penetrated their previous highest prices of the recovery, and during the day the copper shares were brought forward when the general list lagged. The basis for the activity in this group was a report from London of a firming tendency in the metal's price there.

Oil stocks also came in for greater activity and strength, being helped by an advance in gasoline prices at New York.

Bullish forecasts on wheat were freely broadcast on the theory that another upturn in this commodity will be tremendously helpful to the general election campaign and simultaneously afford the stock market sponsors a possible good background for eventual liquidation.

The commodity finally closed higher by a half-cent or so, but cotton maintained its bull trend into new high ground. Coffee was another commodity to reach a new peak.

On the strength of the anticipated wheat sponsorship, International Harvester was taken in hand by the Chicago clique which has figured so actively of late. The stock closed up 2⅝ points on the second largest volume for any issue.

International Nickel's volume exceeded all others and the stock advanced a half-point net. General Motors was heavily traded in and also scored ½-point gain. Canadian Pacific, the favorite of the day before, closed down ⅛ and American Telephone sold off fractionally. New York Central also yielded slightly, Union Pacific seemingly taking over leadership of the rail section.

Chrysler, whose position is at least as good as General Motors', sold down the smallest fraction as G. M. enjoyed the more aggressive bull sponsorship for the day. There are not a few traders who prefer Du Pont to motors, figuring that they obtain a full representation in any General Motors advance, in addition to which they obtain an interest in Du Pont's other business, some divisions of which have been showing fair degree of improvement.

Throughout the day, it was evident that individual groups were seeking to improve their positions preparatory to resumption of bull activity.

Columbia Gas was widely tipped, as were the copper shares, and the group in Foster-Wheeler, a low-priced specialty, was threatening dire consequences to the shorts in the issue. North American was helped considerably by announcement it had liquidated all bank loans.

Speculative enthusiasm was easily discernible in the enormous volume and the price performance. Since the market is mainly in the hands of speculators, their enthusiasm as usual knows no bounds and rather fantastic prices are mentioned as "the objectives."

Then, too, not a few bulls are pointing toward the Washington conference of business leaders scheduled this week. It is not unlikely, according to the best advices, that a program will be attempted at the conference, seeking partial nullification of the anti-trust statutes, through individual industry cooperation aiming, first, at stabilization, and thereafter, at stimulation of demand.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23. (AP)—Active demand for white corn featured the Fort Worth cash grain market today. Wheat was wanted but other grains were slow sale.

Quotations ranged as follows basis car loads on track at Fort Worth with freight paid to destination, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate or Texas common points: Wheat—No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 58¼@57¼c. Barley—No. 2 nominal 30@31c. Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100-lbs. 60@70c; No. 2 kaffir 60@65c.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn—No. 2 mixed 41@42c; No. 2 white 45@46c; No. 2 yellow 47@48c.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats—No. 2 red 19¼@20c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (AP)—Wheat reacted with stocks and securities today and in the final hour of trading lost almost all of the gains registered earlier. Support from eastern operators, which had appeared on minor reactions all day, vanished when stocks turned downward and prices dropped almost to last night's finish before resting orders halted the decline. The general tone of the market during most of the session was stronger than for some time. Corn and oats were chiefly swayed by wheat and provisions ruled firm. Wheat closed weak, but ¼@½c higher than yesterday's finish, corn ¼@⅜c up, oats ⅛c advanced, and provisions mixed, lard 5@12c up and bellies 5c down.

Wheat was dominated almost entirely by securities and cotton, although there was much in the news of an encouraging nature.

Primary receipts are smaller than last year despite increased arrivals of spring wheat and tend to emphasize the increasing tendency of farmers to hold back wheat. Chicago traders were inclined to stay close to shore and not commit themselves too deeply. Trade was much broader than yesterday.

Offerings of corn were easily absorbed early, but on the small rallies there was continued selling against offers, and buyers were not much inclined to follow upturns. Oats were firmer, also influenced by wheat. Provisions were generally firm despite weakness of hogs.

Closing indemnities:
Wheat—Sept. 50c, 51¼@51⅜c; Dec. 53⅝@53⅞c, 55¼@55⅜c; May 58⅛c, 59@59⅛c.
Corn—Sept. (offers) 30⅛c; Dec. 32¼@32⅜c, 32½@32⅝c; May (offers) 37⅛c.

Thefts of Auto and Ring Reported to Police

Criminal activity in Wichita Falls was at a low mark Tuesday, according to reports filed with police. Mrs. James Jones, 3106 Iowa Park road, reported the loss of a dinner ring, diamond set in onyx. Officers said the automobile owned by R. E. Sturdivant, 704 Underwood, was recovered Tuesday at the Arch McKinley place on the Burkburnett road. The tires had been stolen. The car was taken from the Memorial auditorium Monday night.

Mrs. H. L. Lewis, 2137 Avenue K, told police her husband's car was stolen early Tuesday at Gladewater. J. B. Baker, 2008 Arthur, said thieves had taken five shirts at his home.

Henrietta officer filed two theft reports with local police Tuesday, including loss of eight automobile tires. Two pistols and a shotgun were taken from Gus Blakely of Henrietta in a burglary Monday night, officers reported.

Wichitan Wins Honors At Navy Radio School

Donald E. McHam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie J. McHam, 2014 Collins, attained second place among 12 graduates of the radio operating school of the United States navy at San Diego, Calif., in recent examinations, according to Thomas W. Hall, local naval recruiting officer.

Young McHam, a graduate of the local high school and Junior college, enlisted several months ago. In examinations for graduation at San Diego, he registered an average of 97.4 per cent, and now ranks as seaman second class, Mr. Hall said.

So Jury Acquits Farmer For Taking Shot At Neighbor's Mules

After a half hour's deliberation Tuesday afternoon, a jury before Judge R. V. Gwinn in justice court voted to acquit a farmer charged with having shot two of his neighbor's mules in driving them from the defendant's property.

The defendant testified that the mules invaded his back yard at about 3 a. m., damaging shrubbery and gardens, and that he fired his shotgun twice into the air to frighten them away. They departed, he said, and he returned to bed. Soon the mules were in his yard again, the defendant continued. After chasing them to the fence surrounding the yard, he testified, he fired in the general direction of the animals to hasten their departure.

The plaintiff contended that one mule was so badly injured by gunshot in the shoulder and neck that it will be unfit in the future for work.

Rites Said For Mrs. Somerville

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada Somerville, 44, 502 Travis, were held at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Lamar Avenue Baptist church with the Rev. S. F. Martin, pastor, officiating. The Hines mortuary directed burial in Rosemont. Mrs. Somerville died Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Somerville had resided in Wichita Falls for a quarter of a century and was a leader in the Lamar Avenue Baptist church W. M. U. work, having been named president of the organization on two different occasions.

Survivors are the husband, Charles F. Somerville; a daughter, Miss Orilea Somerville; two stepsons, Wayne Somerville of this city and Laverne Somerville of Dallas; her mother, Mrs. J. A. Kavanaugh of this city; two sisters and two brothers.

Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, local physician and past president of the Rotary club, will be the principal speaker before members of the Optimist club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon, it was announced Tuesday.

The program will include solos by Miss Grace Williams, soprano, accompanied by Miss Lorene Tucker.

DEATHS

RAYMOND HILLNER

Funeral services for Raymond Hillner, 13, of Seymour were being arranged in that city late Tuesday after the youth's body was forwarded from Wichita Falls in the afternoon. The youth died at a temporary residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hillner, 1310 Eighth, Tuesday morning. The boy had been brought here for medical treatment. The Hines mortuary forwarded the body. The parents survive.

DAVIS INFANT

Funeral services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis, route No. 3, Wichita Falls, will be held from the Hines mortuary chapel at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning with burial following in Riverside. The child died Tuesday morning at a local hospital. Other arrangements were incomplete late Tuesday. The parents survive.

PETER PETERSON

Funeral services for Peter Peterson, 65, of Clifton, Texas, will be arranged on the arrival of a cousin, Ed Peterson, from that city Wednesday. Mr. Peterson died Monday and the body is being held by the Hines mortuary.

C-C CONDEMNS OLD BUILDINGS

Wrecking of Many Boom-Day Structures Urged

A move to improve civic beauty in Wichita Falls was launched Tuesday at a meeting of the chamber of commerce directors with approval of plans to wreck dilapidated business and residence structures.

The plan was referred to the committee on civic improvement headed by J. L. Jackson Jr. and representatives of the group will confer with the city council on the plan at a meeting in the near future. The program was outlined to the directors in a letter from J. C. Mytinger of the Mytinger Realty company.

Boom-Day Structures

Many business and residence buildings exist in the city which are in such condition that rental is a remote possibility. The structures were erected hurriedly during the boom period and have been subject to rapid deterioration and others are old and have passed their day of usefulness.

The attractiveness of rental sites would be greatly improved if cleared and a vacant lot presented to the prospective buyer, Mr. Jackson pointed out. In addition the structures present a continual fire hazard and have been the subject of frequent warnings issued by Fire Chief J. L. McClure.

Owners of such sites are offered attractive compensation in cooperation with the program by direct cuts in taxes while a good market exists at present for salvaged building materials. At the same time contractors are offering attractive prices for wrecking projects.

Home Loan Bank

Representatives of the chamber taxation committee were authorized to attend hearings on county taxes and budgets. The committee was augmented at the board meeting by the addition of C. W. Snider, J. L. Jackson Jr. and J. N. Sherrill.

Selection of Wichita Falls as the site of a branch of the federal home loan bank was urged in a message to Washington by the chamber following the board meeting. President Albert E. Kelly pointed out the logical location of Wichita Falls to serve a wide territory in the Southwest. Chairman J. S. Bridwell of the highway committee presented a report on highway construction and development work in the Wichita area.

City Starts Work On 1932 School Tax Rolls

Preparation of the 1932 tax rolls for the Wichita Falls Independent school district was begun in the city tax office this week and will be completed in about 30 days, it was announced Tuesday by W. E. McBroom, city clerk and head of the tax department.

Completion of the school tax rolls is to be rushed, Mr. McBroom said, in order that taxpayers may begin the payment of school taxes for the coming year at the earliest possible date.

Work on making up the 1932 city tax rolls also is to begin within a few days, it was announced, and will require about 30 days for completion. Both rolls, it was predicted, will be completed by Oct. 1.

JUNIOR C.-C. BOARD

A meeting of the directors of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce has been called at the Wichita club at noon Thursday. President Don T. Haynes announced Tuesday. Reports on the recent attendance by delegates at the national convention at Pasadena, Calif., will be made at the meeting.

Two Victims of Crash Improving; Last Rites Today for Miss Ammann

Two victims of an automobile collision at noon Monday on the Henrietta road were reported recovering at local hospitals late Tuesday. Funeral services for the third victim, Miss Elsie Ammann, 30, of New Orleans were announced for 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of an uncle at Boerne, Texas, her former home. She was formerly in charge of Senator Huey Long's New Orleans office.

Mrs. J. M. Henley, 31, of Selmst, La., wife of the postmaster in that city, was reported resting as well as possible with a fractured knee, numerous lacerations and shock. Her husband was at her bedside Tuesday at the Wichita General hospital.

A. D. Root, 55, of Roosevelt, Okla., was recovering from shock, a fractured knee cap and painful bruises and was expected to be released within a few days from the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital.

Miss Ammann and Mrs. Henley were en route home after a vacation at the Olympic games at Los Angeles with Miss Martrue Mays of this city. They were guests of Miss Mays Sunday night. Miss Mays left Tuesday to attend funeral services for Miss Ammann. Mr. Root was en route from Brownwood, Texas, to his home. The cars collided 14 miles east of Wichita Falls.

Miss Ammann is survived by her father, W. C. Ammann of Boerne, a half-brother and a cousin, J. O. Ammann of this city.

Home Town Bands Join Battle For 'Favorite Sons' In Congress Race

Vernon to Send Delegation to Backus Rally Tonight; Graham Motorcade Here for McFarlane Speech Thursday

Virtual conclusion of intensive campaigns waged during the past month by W. D. McFarlane of Graham and George W. Backus of Vernon for 13th district congressional nomination are scheduled for Wichita Falls on Wednesday and Thursday nights, with the two candidates appearing on the lawn of the Memorial auditorium in pleas for support in next Saturday's run-off primary.

Mr. Backus is to speak at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, and Mr. McFarlane at the same hour on Thursday night. Each is to be supported here by a large delegation of citizens from his home city, brought to Wichita Falls in an organized motorcade. Each candidate also is to be accompanied by a brass band from his home town. These organizations will parade in the business section of the city prior to the opening of the political rallies at the auditorium.

Mr. McFarlane and Mr. Backus ran first and second in the first primary in the race for the congressional post to be vacated by Guinn Williams of Decatur, who withdrew because of ill health.

County Court Hears Protests on Values

Members of the commissioners court experienced a crowded all-day session Tuesday sitting as an equalization board during the last allotted time for the hearing of protests against assessed valuations for 1932.

The review of all protested valuations was not completed Tuesday, it was said, but work of the court as an equalization board will be finished during the regular weekly sessions on Mondays.

Jubilee Registration Committee to Meet

Preparations for welcoming and entertaining pioneers of the Wichita area will be discussed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the registration of pioneers committee of the golden jubilee organization. Chairman T. J. Waggoner Jr. has called the meeting of the chamber of commerce offices at 3:30 o'clock.

Scores of former Wichitans and residents of neighboring Texas and Oklahoma counties are sending in sketches of their early activities in the area and the committee is anxious to hear from others, Mr. Waggoner said.

A "hospitality house" will be opened as a pioneer community center prior to the 50th anniversary party, Sept. 26-28.

The Iowa yearbook of agriculture points out that the "family-size" quarter section farm holds its own in that state through prosperous and adverse years. The average size is 160 acres.

ABSENTEE VOTE SETS RECORD

More Than 800 Ballots Filed With County Clerk

Absentee voting for the second Democratic primary which is believed to eclipse all former records for either first or second primaries was reported by Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk, Tuesday evening as the final day for such voting closed with more than 800 ballots already marked and filed.

At 5:15 p. m. Wednesday, 222 marked ballots had been received at the county clerk's office by mail, and 670 voters had marked their ballots in that office. A considerable number of mailed ballots are anticipated on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Miss Hall stated, since voters out of the city might mail such ballots up to midnight Tuesday.

Voters who are out of their voting precincts, or expect to be absent on Saturday, Aug. 27, were privileged to cast their ballots in advance. Ballots so registered are to be distributed Friday to election judges in the various precincts of the county.

Court Orders Hearing For Accused Cook

Herman P. Tice, cook for one of the local national guard units, will be given an examining trial before Judge O. L. Gibbs in justice court at 9 a. m. Wednesday on a charge of theft over $50, according to George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney.

Tice was arrested early Sunday morning upon arrival of the train bringing local guardsmen home from their summer training camp on the gulf coast. Theft of $75 from a guardsman's trunk locker is charged in the complaint filed Monday.

Legion Post To Install Officers Thursday Night

Dr. L. I. Lacey will be installed as post commander, and other officers elected several weeks ago will also take office, at a meeting of Pat Carrigan post No. 120, American Legion, at the Memorial auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

Reports of the recent state convention at Corpus Christi will be given Thursday night by delegates who attended that assembly of legionnaires. Local members who did not go to Corpus Christi will hear of the successful campaign waged for the selection of Wichita Falls as the 1933 convention city. Trophies won by the local drum and bugle corps, and by the post for attendance records, are to be presented Thursday night also.

Officers of the organization issued a call for all members to be present for the installation ceremony.

Principal and Mrs. George Mecham of Corsicana visited Supt. H. D. Fillers here Tuesday. Mr. Mecham is head of the Sam Houston High school at Corsicana and was formerly associated with Mr. Fillers.

GUARD UNITS WIN PRAISE

Fletcher Tells Shrine Club Of Palacios Camp

Dr. J. H. Fletcher, post commander of the five Wichita Falls units of the Texas national guard, was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Shrine luncheon club at the Wichita club Tuesday. The speaker praised the discipline of the 277 officers and men of the detachment during the gulf hurricane of Aug. 13 at the Palacios camp.

Dr. Fletcher described arrangements in preparation for the storm, with pup tents taken down and stored and the men housed in permanent buildings. The guardsmen were required to work on Sunday, their rest day, in setting up the tents in deep mud, he said.

Recorder Al Ellis announced that the second Tuesday of each month had been designated as "ladies day" for the club.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME

Assistant Fire Chief Grover Habern Tuesday continued an investigation of a fire at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning which resulted in damage of $600 at the home of M. T. Harrelson, 306 Wichita. The property is owned by Sherwood & Tillman.
