Hundreds Of Sandie Fans Throng City

Parade Is Staged After Arrival Of Special Train

CHOC HUTCHESON
Journal Staff Writer

An Amarillo "task force," spearheaded by 400 passengers on a "Sandie Special" train, rolled into Lubbock today to put on a rousing pre-game demonstration prior to the traditional 2:30 p. m. Lubbock-Amarillo District 1-AA gridiron battle at Jones stadium.

Arrival of the nine-car special train at 12:40 p. m. was the cue for a downtown parade by Sandie football fans, led by the 95-piece Amarillo High school band and assisted by Lubbock High's 60-piece band.

BIG "D" ALL MIXED UP

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (Special)—Dallas football fans were in something of a dither over the traditional Lubbock-Amarillo District 1-AA football game today.

Today's edition of the Dallas Morning News, in reporting Thursday night's Lubbock Cowhand-Amarillo Tannigan contest at Lubbock, omitted "Cowhands" and "Tannigans," making the score read "Lubbock 20, Amarillo 6."

Scores of calls from doubting—and disbelieving — fans poured into newspaper offices here as a result, and at least one former Lubbockite now living here telephoned long distance to Lubbock to see if the highly-favored Golden Sandies had been beaten by the Westerners, whom they actually were to meet at 2:30 p. m. today.

Reception Is Given

Some 300 persons, part of them early arrivers from Amarillo and the remainder a special Lubbock welcoming party, were on hand to greet the "Sandie Special" as it rolled into Santa Fe station ten minutes behind schedule.

At the station, Lubbock High students passed out copies of a special two-color "Welcome Sandie" edition of the Westerner World, school newspaper, to arriving guests.

The parade, featuring both school bands and including approximately 250 other members who walked or rode in streamer-bedecked automobiles, started westward at the station, turned south to Broadway on Ave. G, then went west again to Ave. L. There it turned north to Main, and then east again before drawing to a

Burglary Nets $25 In Money

Approximately $25 was taken from the cash register of Cooper and Vaughn service station, at Nineteenth and Ave. Q, by burglars who smashed the lock of a back window sometime in the night, H. T. Cooper told newsmen.

Cooper and his partner, Abe Vaughn, said the cash register was pried open and damaged.

Presumably, they said, two men entered their place after climbing a fence of Maxey lumber yard, and left by the same rest room window.

No Merchandise Taken

The burglars, newsmen were told, apparently were not interested in a large stock of permanent anti-freeze that retails for $5 a gallon, $25 batteries and new tires.

The burglary was reported to police.

The sheriff's department was investigating a complaint of Don Williams, of 1810 Nineteenth, that someone stole a $425 gear head for an irrigation pump from his truck Thursday night in Slaton. The equipment belongs to Western Irrigation company, Williams' employer. Williams was having

Senate Race Has Second-Go Chance

Johnson Raises Possibility Of Special Election If Events Lead Him To Resign

(By The United Press)

The rousing Texas Democratic senatorial battle, still being fought two months after it supposedly terminated at the polls on Aug. 28, appeared today to have some chance of being re-enacted from scratch.

Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic nominee, raised that possibility last night in a state-wide radio address in which he said that if future events led him to resign from the Senate, he would be a candidate for the place in any special election called to fill the vacancy.

Former Governor Coke Stevenson already had said he would probably be a candidate in such a race. Stevenson lost the Aug. 28 second primary contest by 87 votes, out of nearly a million cast. Since then he has fought numerous battles in the courts to have Johnson's victory nullified on grounds of fraudulent voting.

Johnson said that he won his nomination "fairly, squarely and honestly." It was his first campaign speech since before the second primary.

"I don't know how many times a man is expected to win," he said.

He said he was convinced that "I won by a much greater majority than the official figures show."

"I won before the state Democratic executive committee."

"I won at the state Democratic convention and I won in the federal courts."

Says Will Resign

Johnson said he would "at once resign from the United States Senate" if "any lawful recount" showed that he failed to secure a majority of the approximately one million votes cast in his historic race with Stevenson.

He charged that a "vicious group of little men" counseled his opponent not to file an election contest in the state courts and said that he, not Stevenson, would have benefitted in a "true election contest."

He invited Stevenson, if "He's got evidence of fraud," to present it to the grand jury of the county where he thinks the fraud exists."

Johnson said he called upon the U. S. Senate to extend its investigation to all counties when it "became apparent" that a "one-sided, lop-sided, three-county complaint" was being made.

"Anything less than a full recount," he said, "will be absolute-

TEN STATES VOTE ON BONUS

Special Issues To Be Up In Election

(By The United Press)

More than half the states will vote Tuesday on a host of special issues ranging from soldier bonuses—$1,000,000,000 worth — to birth control, prohibition repeal, dog racing, and Communism.

At stake are more than 175 proposed amendments to state constitutions and other propositions brought to the voters via the initiative or referendum.

Ten Vote On Bonus

Ten states will vote on whether to give veterans of World War II bonuses ranging from $250 to $650. The total involved is around $965,000,000.

Six states are considering liquor amendments or special propositions dealing with liquor.

Of these the most spectacular is the campaign in Kansas to repeal that state's 68-year-old constitutional prohibition of spiritious liquors. Nobody knows what the decision will be.

Four states are embroiled in controversies over whether to approve additional restrictions on organized labor. Bans on the closed and union shops are issues in three states.

Pay Raises At Stake

In five states the electorate is being asked to approve pay raises for legislators and other officials. In four old age pensions are an issue.

Massachusetts will decide whether to let doctors give birth control advice to married women "for protection of life or health." The Massachusetts legislature has rejected the proposal and the Catholic church is against it.

Tuesday's special issues include:

World War II bonuses (by states with estimated totals)—Washington, $100,000,000; Louisiana, $60,000,000; Wisconsin, $200,00,000; Iowa, $85,00,000; South Dakota, $30,000,000; Missouri, $150,000,000; Minnesota, $100,000,000; Oregon $50,000,000; Indiana, $142,000,000 and Nebraska, $40,000,000.

Liquor — Kansas will decide whether to substitute sale of liquor under state control for its bone dry prohibition law; Washington will vote on proposals to license sale of liquor by the drink in hotels restaurants, clubs, etc.,

West Texas Skies To Be Cloudy Today

(By The United Press)

Light rains fell last night and early today in west Texas and the Panhandle but the amounts were negligible in most instances.

An early forecast indicating more precipitation for a good part of the state was discarded at midmorning and the weatherman said partly cloudy skies with little change in temperature appeared in prospect for the next 24 hours.

Considerable cloudiness prevailed in west Texas today with skies partly cloudy over the remainder of the state. Rainfall reports included .13 inch at Big Spring and Lubbock; .08 at San Angelo; 07 at Mineral Wells and .02 at Childress.

Race Close In "Straw Ballot"

The Avalanche-Journal's Presidential "Straw Vote," for which a ballot is appearing the last time in today's Journal, headed for its finale with the Truman-Barkley ticket continuing to cling to the slight lead it has maintained since the first counting of ballots Tuesday night.

The Dewey-Warren slate, which started off in second place then was pushed into third by the Thurmond-Wright ticket, went back into second slot with today's counting, but the surprising States Rights Democrats continued to press both other tickets hard.

Standing At Noon Today

TRUMAN-BARKLEY	331
DEWEY-WARREN	317
THURMOND-WRIGHT	305
WALLACE-TAYLOR	16

Although the Truman-Barkley team has held a slight lead throughout the poll, a majority of voters of all political complexions anticipate a Dewey-Warren victory next Tuesday. Many "Straw Voters" declined to guess at the election's outcome, but those who did saw a Dewey-Warren win in this proportion:

REPUBLICANS	303
TRUMANITES	129
STATES RIGHTERS	239
WALLACEITES	7
TOTAL	678

Candidates Cross Paths

HST, Dewey In New York On Vote Hunt

Dewey Promises To Extend Social Security Benefits

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Henry Wallace cross campaign trails in New York City today as they hunt votes among its millions for next Tuesday's presidential election.

Mr. Truman scheduled another busy day talking his way through the metropolitan area, with a major address tonight in Brooklyn.

The President climaxed his first day's visit with a Madison Square Garden speech last night forecasting victory for "liberal government" on November 2.

Dewey will wind up his campaign in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. He was due to arrive from Boston this afternoon after electioneering his way through Rhode Island and Connecticut.

New Englanders Urged

The Republican presidential contender urged his New England audiences yesterday not to "fall for the argument of candidates holding high office that there is only one party." And he promised to expand social legislation as "part of the defense of our American way of life in a troubled and dangerous world."

Wallace planned another go-round of New York talks with a major speech tonight in Harlem.

Mr. Truman, noting that Dewey's travel schedule has followed close on his heels, referred to his GOP rival as his "shadow." But he said the New York governor was afraid to follow him in discussing such campaign issues as social security, housing, minimum wages, the Taft-Hartley law.

President Retorts

The President also retorted to Dewey's "mud-slinging" charge Tuesday night in Chicago.

"If it's mud-slinging to go out and tell the people in every state and every corner of the country about the facts of life, then I'm a mudslinger," Mr. Truman said.

Dewey meanwhile promised that if he is elected President he will increase social security benefits and expand its coverage, boost the minimum wage and provide a "stronger and expanded public health service."

The GOP standard bearer also hammered anew on the Communism issue. He said "our country is

Roger Babson Says Depression Coming

BY JOSEPH LEVINE
United Press Staff Writer

WELLESLEY, Mass., Oct. 29 — Nineteen years ago today, Oct. 29, 1929, the stock market crashed.

It was "Black Tuesday." The glass-domed tickers ran hours behind transactions in Wall Street brokerage offices in New York. In the ensuing days of panic and confusion, men who had been millionaires a week before became paupers.

Filling station attendants, bookkeepers, housewives, all "experts" on the stock market saw their small investments wiped out overnight.

Takes Gloomy Look

One of the few men who foresaw the market break was economist Roger Babson. He predicted in September 1929 that the crash was coming.

Today, Babson took a gloomy look at the world and predicted that another depression and probably another war are on the way.

However, they won't arrive this year or next, the 73-year-old former Prohibition party presidential candidate said in an interview.

"Depression's inevitable," said Babson. "War isn't — but it surely will come unless the nations can develop a world government with authority to regulate such things as tariffs and immigration."

Babson said he's preparing for war because he doesn't think such an international organization can be created until the world's businessmen "stop worrying about profits, the working men about

AMARILLO, Oct. 29.—Visiting the sprawling 17,000-acre Pantex plant 17 miles northeast of Amarillo this morning, the board of directors of Texas Technological college saw the land and facilities which may be deeded to Texas Tech within the next few months.

The board met in the Herring hotel at 10 a. m., then went to the plant and drove around the 8,500 acres of land now under lease to the college.

They found that 5,400 acres of the land under lease were under cultivation the past year and 1,900 acres were in grassland. All the cultivated land was divided into 11 units, with G.I. cooperators operating the units.

J. P. Smith, farm manager, who is a 1935 graduate of Texas Tech, escorted the group on its visit to the plant.

EX-CONGRESSMAN WARNS OF REDS

Dies Recalls Some Problems Of First Red Probing Group

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

"The NKVD is as well organized in the United States as anywhere in the world . . . If the American people think the Communists are not active in this country, they should get that idea out of their heads," Martin Dies of Lufkin, former congressman and first head of the Un-American activities investigating committee, said in Lubbock this morning.

"They are the cleverest bunch of people in the world," Dies remarked, commenting on the methods by which they were raising $10,000,000 from the American public in the late 1930's to finance their activities in the United States, including the dissemination of more than 500 Communist publications.

Dies, who now is a member of a law firm in Lufkin, devotes much of his time to traveling over Texas and other states speaking on the Communist threat. He addressed a meeting of the South Plains chapter of the Texas Manufacturers association here Thursday night, and the weekly luncheon meet-

United States Says Talks In Tokyo Private

Use Of Jap Naval Base For Modern Operations Denied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The United States will reject Russia's demand for an official report on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's military conferences at Tokyo with other American commanders.

The State department made this clear in a statement declaring that such talks are held by MacArthur in his capacity as a top United States officer and "are purely routine matters of sole concern to this government."

At the same time, the department denied that the former Japanese navy yard at Yokosuka is being converted into a modern naval base for American forces in the Far East.

Ambassador Demands

Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin voiced his demand for an American explanation at a meeting of the Far Eastern Commission yesterday.

The State department declared its position last night. Its comment, however, was in the form of a public statement, rather than a diplomatic note. So the formal rejection will not be made until the commission meets again next Thursday in its role as adviser on Japanese occupation problems.

Panyushkin announced his action a short time after Moscow had issued Prime Minister Stalin's blast against the western powers, charging them with pursuing aggressive policies aimed at "the unleashing of war."

Linked To "Offensive"

Both the envoy's move here and Stalin's statements in Moscow were linked in American official thinking to Russia's so-called "peace offensive." They were interpreted as efforts by the Soviets to picture the United States as a nation busily preparing for war while the Soviet Union is leading a great world movement for peace

Panyushkin based his demand for information on press reports of a conference MacArthur held in Tokyo October 12-14 with Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding the Alaskan defenses, and Vice Adm. John L. McCrea, deputy commander of the Pacific fleet.

The Russian ambassador said the subject discussed was "the question of increasing American occupation forces in Japan and

Chiang's Forces In Manchuria Retreating Before Communists

By GERALD NOZICK
United Press Staff Writer

PEIPING, Oct. 29.—The Manchurian army of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek is in full retreat before Communist forces driving it south toward a Dunkerque at the Yellow Sea port of Yingkow, front dispatches said today.

Nationalist forces have started pulling out of Mukden for a retreat along a 100-mile "hairline corridor" to Yingkow and responsible sources said the government had rushed transports to the port to haul them out.

Chinese officials and foreign diplomats, who swarmed into this north China stronghold of the government by air, said Gen. Wei Li Huang apparently had no intention of leaving any defenders behind for a rear guard action or "last ditch" stand at Mukden.

Six Divisions Battle

But six nationalist divisions were thrown into battle to hold the escape corridor open against the assaults of superior Communist forces along a 130-mile front.

The Communists were reported to have already thrown advance units into a fight to seal Yingkow.

These units were reported in action against Chinsi, some 80 miles west of Yingwok across the Gulf of Liaotung.

Communist Gen. Lin Piao was reported to have sent an ultimatum to Mukden threatening "annihilation" of government defenders who have not left the city by Nov. 15.

U. S. Consul To Stay

American sources said U. S. Consul Angus Ward and his staff would remain, giving the U. S. official consular connections inside a Chinese Communist area for the first time.

U. S. planes now are delivering food and supplies for the American diplomats.

The American decision to keep its diplomatic representatives in Mukden lent support to the widespread reports there would be no battle for the city.

Denton Minister To Give Talk At Tech

Rev. Joseph J. Copeland, pastor of the Oak and Bolivar street Presbyterian church at Denton, is to be visiting speaker during religious emphasis week at Texas Tech college, starting next Monday, it was announced yesterday.

The week, sponsored by the Student Religious council at the college, is to have as its theme "Jesus' Way Our Way," and will include four night addresses by the visiting minister.

Monday night's topic is to be "Jesus' Way Our Way in the World," and others on the same theme were announced as "Tuesday night, "Jesus' Way Our Way in My Vocation"; Wednesday night, "Jesus' Way Our Way In My Relationship With My Fellowmen"; and Thursday night, "Jesus' Way Our Way in My Personal Living."

Meetings will be held at 7:30 o'clock each night in the Recreation hall on the campus, and although the week is planned primarily for college students, an invitation was extended to the public to attend any or all of the services.

A joint morning watch, with all churches and faiths participating, is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock each morning of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Widely known in church circles, the visiting minister has addressed similar meetings at Trinity university, Oklahoma State College for Women, and the University of Texas.

Morton Cooper Is Freed Of Charges

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29 (INS)—Bad checks allegedly passed by Morton Cooper, ex-National League pitching ace, were made good today by Cooper's former St. Louis Cardinals boss, Sam Breadon, at a total cost of $291.

Charges brought against Cooper by the Mark Twain hotel in St. Louis were dismissed on recommendation of authorities, after Breadon had made good two fifty-dollar checks passed on the Mark Twain. The ex-Cardinal president also made good a check of $15 to the Hotel York and $25 to the Boulevard Cafe, and paid $21 court costs.

Prosecuting Attorney William C. Lochmoeller said Breadon had also given him $130, to be forwarded to Springfield, Mo., where similar charges against Cooper were pending.

(In Springfield, Prosecutor Wayne Walker was quoted as saying the charges would be dropped upon receipt of the money).

Lochmoeller said further that Breadon also had settled other bad-check charges against Cooper at Cincinnati. He quoted the big right-hander as saying:

"This has taught me a lesson. I hope to find a baseball job, for I feel that I have five or six more years of good baseball in me."

Game Officials Think Duck Hunters In State Will Have Better Season Than Usual--Maybe

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press Staff Writer

Duck hunters are going to have a better season than usual this year—maybe.

That's the outlook game officials have toward the season which opens at noon Nov. 12 and stretches through Dec. 16.

A good crop of early arrivals of ducks and geese have been reported along the Gulf coast. Already there are complaints that some hunters have been jumping the gun by shooting ducks on High island. Five federal game wardens have been sent there.

Contingent Arrives

A larger contingent than usual of early duck arrivals has been reported in the Port Isabel area, where there seems to be a preponderance of pin-tails and blue-winged teels.

And J. L. Baughman, aquatic biologist, reports ducks have been coming into the Port Aransas-Port Lavaca-Corpus Christi area, with some concentrations in the Anahuac and Trinity Bay sections.

All in all, duck and geese hunters apparently can count on a better season this year than last.

One official, Arthur Bartley, executive director of Ducks Unlimited, says that the "early and increased flights of ducks reported from the Texas coast is encouraging. They tend to show an increase in population."

Could Be Different

But, he warns, things could be different when shooting actually opens.

"Early arrivals," he points out, "eat up much of the food, and those birds flying in during hunting season may pass over the area to regions farther south."

When the shooting starts. It's a good bet there will be more sportsmen in the field, too.

H. E. Faubion, assistant executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission, said "it looks like there will be a big license sale."

Though reports aren't in from game wardens and license deputies on the 1948 sales thus far, Faubion believes they will be "equally as good as last year and maybe better."

License Totals Given

Last year, resident hunting licenses totaled 252,970, and 1,260 non-resident licenses were sold.

Shooting on ducks and geese will open at noon Nov. 12 for a continuous 35-day season, a departure from last year's split seasons.

Duck hunters also will be aiming at higher stakes, since the daily bag limit has been upped to five, and the possession limit to 10. Last year it was four and eight.

After the opening day, it will be legal to hunt from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The law on shooting geese isn't nearly as clear-cut. It specifies that the sportsman may take four geese and brant daily. That means the total is four.

Limit Is Two

You may kill not more than two Canada geese or two white-fronted geese. Any way you look at it, the limit on geese is two. The two may be split, taking not more than one Canada goose and one white-fronted goose.

However, the hunter may kill four brant if he likes.

Here are other legal combinations for the hunter:

He may kill two brant and two Canada geese; or two brant and two white-fronted geese; or two brant and one white-fronted goose and one Canada goose.

Besides the possibility that the early arrivals may eat all the food and cause ducks coming to Texas later to go on south, there's also the weather.

It all depends on whether cooler weather holds up and whether there is any rain.

U. S. Denies Soviet Charge On Jap Port

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — The State department denied tonight that the United States is converting the Japanese port of Yukosuka into a modern naval base.

A formal statement also termed "wholly without foundation" what it called an implication by the Soviet ambassador that the United States is failing to disarm Japan.

The ambassador, Alexander S. Panyushkin, demanded at today's session of the 11-nation Far Eastern commission that the United States say what took place at a recent "secret military conference" held by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo.

The State department replied that the meeting was "purely routine."

War Criminals Are Executed

LANDSBERG, Germany, Oct. 29. (U.P.)—Nine SS concentration camp guards and Nazi security police officials were hanged by the United States army today.

They were convicted of executing captured American fliers and murdering and mistreating concentration camp inmates.

Total Brought To 171

The executions brought the total of hangings at Landsberg prison to 171. Some 60 remain to be carried out. Forty five will be held up for confirmation of sentences by American Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

One scheduled execution, that of Hermann Dammann, was stayed at the last moment on an appeal "of sufficient merit to warrant further investigation and study," according to the army judge advocate's office.

Today's executions carried out sentences handed down by the U. S. war crimes tribunal that sat at Dachau last year. They began at nine a. m. GMT (4 a. m. EST) and were completed in 90 minutes.

Dammann, 54, was a home guard soldier at Neu Wulmstorf. He was convicted of clubbing to death an American flier who was forced to land there during the war.

Cotton Is Placed Under Federal Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — Growers had placed 1,315,053 bales of cotton from this year's 15,079,000-bale crop under government price supporting loans through Oct. 21, the Agriculture department reported today.

Cotton is being put under such loans in a much larger volume this season than for several years.

This reflects the fact that cotton prices are down to the government's price support level.

By putting cotton under loan, growers are able to hold title to it and redeem it and sell it later should prices advance.

Otherwise, they can turn the cotton over the government as full payment of the loan.

Australia has advised Eire that it has 10,000 jobs for Irish immigrants.

Embargo Announced On Cotton Shipping

ATLANTA, Oct. 29 (AP)—A rail embargo on shipment of cotton to all compresses and warehouses in Arkansas and Missouri was announced last night.

R. L. Thacker, car service agent of the association of American railroads, said there is an acute storage space shortage for cotton in the two states.

A rail embargo previously had been clamped on shipments to all Memphis warehouses and the Union compress and warehouse at Decatur, Ala., Thacker said.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

QUAKE IS REPORTED

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 29 (AP) —A "moderately strong" earthquake of undetermined direction and distance from Pasadena was recorded at California Institute of Technology at 1:57 p.m. (PDT) today.

Friendships Through Writing Is Discussed

Woman's city federation met for luncheon and a combined business session and program Thursday at 1 p. m. in the Hilton hotel ballroom with Mrs. Ross Ayers, directing a study of "Promoting Peace and Understanding Throughout the World," and emphasizing that the women of the United States might achieve this goal by making friends with other women over the world through writing.

Making suggestions for corresponding with women in South America, Mrs. J. L. Quicksall, who has spent two years there, expressed her understanding of the difficulty most people have in writing letters. "Keep them free, easy and natural—as much like ordinary conversation as possible," she advised, adding that good humor and good breeding are keynotes in written or verbal conversation.

Urging women to put the "you" attitude in their letters rather than the "I", Mrs. Quicksall explained that in writing a letter, a woman should put herself in the place of her correspondent.

As a key to understanding the nature of a South American woman, Mrs. Quicksall said that the deeply religious South Americans are interested in aesthetic things and would like to hear about the beauties of American homes, flowers, gardens and children. The practical aspect of living would not interest them as it would an Australian woman, whose life is based on sobriety, business ability and common sense.

Ideas For Letters

Mrs. Charles Cobb, giving the views of both a native of Ireland and a naturalized citizen of the United States, made a plea for women writing letters to foreign countries to talk about common and down to earth things and not to describe all of the luxuries of life in America.

Mrs. Howard M. Phillips, accompanied by Mrs. A. W. Douglas pianist, sang "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" and "A Memory." Autumn table decorations of pyracantha berries and chrysanthemums were furnished by Bud to Blossom, Sunshine Child Study, Garden Study and Lubbock Woman's clubs.

Next meeting will not be on Thanksgiving day as scheduled but has been set for Nov. 18, when Mrs. Harry Sharp will lead a forum on public health.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Girl, 16, Doesn't Mind Taking Care Of Young Brothers; Her Fiance Quarrels About It

DEAR Mary Haworth: I am a girl, 16, one of five children, and since my 14th year I've had to take care of my younger brothers when my parents go out. Mom asks me to stay in one night, sometimes two nights, a week to do this.

I don't mind my parents' going out and relying upon me to take care of the kids, because I realize they have a right to go out when they wish, and I don't enjoy going out every night of the week.

My problem is my fiance's reaction to this situation. Dick is 21 and until his 15th year he was an only child. Last December we started going together and became engaged three months later. I was accustomed to seeing him every night, and at first he didn't mind staying home with me, as we went out every other evening.

GIRL IS DISTRAUGHT, ANGRY AT PARENTS

THEN he started to quarrel about it every time my parents went out, and during the last month or two it has been nerve-wracking for me. My parents won't let me go out every night, and Dick isn't very agreeable about this; but furthermore he can't understand why I should have to take care of my brothers at all. His parents never went out without him.

What has me stymied is Dick's recent behavior when I have to stay home. He goes places without me, which makes me feel bad and I take it out on my parents. I am miserable and everyone else in the family is miserable, too, because of the way I act.

Should Dick resent the fact that once or twice a week I have to stay in? Should I ask or expect him to keep me company, or let him go without protest? He seems so unreasonable to me. I hope you understand what I'm trying to say and that you can help me. Please answer soon.

Signed: K. L.

PARENTS FOOLHARDY IN ONE PARTICULAR

DEAR K. L.: Reading your letter, one is impressed by the substantial harmony that exists in your home, with all members pulling together in a spirit of "all for each and each for all."

Obviously your parents are a loving, congenial pair, devoted alike to each other and their children, else the atmosphere of emotional solidarity, mutual trust and affectionate consideration of each other's right to moderate "pursuit of happiness" would not be present.

The only flaw I see in the picture is your parents' practice, a foolhardy one, of letting you have a beau for company on nights when they go out, leaving you to take full charge of the younger children. This is imprudent, for it opens the door to potential excesses in adolescent lovemaking that may have tragic consequences for the girl, which no amount of subsequent solicitude and remorse can adequately repair.

HAS GIRL PERMITTED OVERMUCH LOVEMAKING?

WHILE I am assuming that no such misfortune has darkened your dealings with Dick thus far, it occurs to me that possibly, in the early rounds of romance with him, you may have participated in lovemaking as a stay-at-home pastime, to a degree that quickly destroyed freshness of interest and respect on Dick's part, with the result that his infatuation is now a thing of the past, and he is quarreling with you for manufactured cause, as excuse to break the engagement—or force you to do so.

Marriage experts sagely counsel even newlyweds to beware of relying overmuch upon lovemaking as a substitute for social recreation, lest the blight of satiety overtake their relationship, starting a chain reaction of boredom, distaste and quarrels, in the first months of marriage. So, here is a thought to consider, in trying to evaluate (for your future guidance) what you may have contributed to Dick's change of heart.

In itself, Dick's belligerent resentment of your willing helpfulness in family relationship is preposterously unreasonable, certainly; an attack on exemplary behavior, in that respect, which a man of good sense and some emotional maturity would reject to observe in his betrothed. And since he takes that attitude, or feels that way, my advice is to dismiss him from your life, without further protest, or quibbling, or attempts to decipher his motives, change his views or humor them.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

"After the game I ran into D. J. William Davis of the Tech government department. Of course, I was just thrilled to death to see someone I knew and especially to hear someone with a Texas drawl. I think I've lost mine completely, since I have been teased about it so much! Dr. Davis said that they had been treated very royally by the Arizonians.

"Really, Lou, this weather is just fabulous. Most of us are still wearing our cotton dresses. The nights are getting cooler, but during the day it's very warm. Mother wrote me that they had already turned on the furnaces at home—that's so hard to realize.

"Pledging is quite different from that at Tech. Of course, it is just as much fun or more so. Naturally I'm a good little Chi Omega and do all my pledge duties.

"I'm so anxious to hear all of the news, and I miss everyone." Signed, Dorothy Barnett.

MARE MARY

Ex-Techsan Mary King, who is on the staff of the Quarter Horse Journal in Amarillo, lives up to her "anything for a laugh" policy. Some of her friends at the college received a transfer report from the American Quarter Horse association and a letter explaining it which read: "Enclosed is a transfer report on the mare, Mary Inez, who is to come to Lubbock this weekend. If you will be kind enough to sign the transfer report where I have marked the "red X" and return it, I shall see that said mare is in Lubbock by the given date, Oct. 30.

I will appreciate your kind and prompt attention to this matter, as the mare seems rather eager to make this temporary move."

All of which means that Mary will be headed for Lubbock and Homecoming excitement at a full gait.

War Of Words Cloaks Military Action In Peruvian Rebellion

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 29 (AP) — Military action against an army revolt in southern Peru was cloaked today in a war of words between the government and rebel-seized radios.

While there was no official announcement of government troops being sent to the south, the government ordered the air force into action against the rebellious army garrison at Arequipa, the main city of southern Peru.

First word of the revolt, blamed by the government on a "small rightist group," came with a government announcement Tuesday night.

Units Join Revolt

The rebels, through radio continental at Arequipa, said several other army units in southern Peru had joined the revolt. The new recruits included the fourth army division, composed of the garrisons at Huaca, Puno, Cuzco and Juliaca, the rebels said.

The rebels also claimed that airmen of the Vitor air base had joined their forces and were using their planes to watch roads leading to Arequipa.

The government radio at Lima denied that the Arequipa rebels had been joined by other units. A government statement said army units in the north and south remained loyal.

An official announcement at midnight detailed the arrival of three military air units at Lima, "one of them — the 52nd observation squadron — based at Vitor, escaping from the rebels."

Rebels Hold South Peru

Brig. Gen. Manuel Odria, leader of the revolt, asserted by radio that all southern Peru was under rebel control. Odria, a former minister of interior, said the uprising was begun because President Jose Luis Bustamante was incapable of governing the country and that "chaos" threatened.

He said also that the Apra, leftwing political party, was "conspiring to install a totalitarian regime."

Bustamante said the government would "act serenely and firmly." Lima was outwardly calm and commerce and traffic went on normally.

Citizens were warned that the "state of emergency" decreed earlier in the week was in force and crowds were not permitted to gather.

The Arequipa radio said the rebels were holding three of Bustamante's brothers as hostages.

Portugal now has 16 factories making paprika—a compartively new trade there.

Ship Workers Accept Offer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29. (AP) —CIO marine engineers in San Francisco voted 230 to 56 last night to accept an agreement with employers—interpreted by some as the first real break in the 58-day-old west coast maritime strike. Locals of the same union in Seattle, Portland and San Pedro will vote on the agreement tonight.

Union officers were quick to point out the settlement, if accepted, will not mean any split in the maritime strike front, however, adding:

"We do not consider signing the contract will bind us to cross picket lines, because under the contract we can terminate it if we are asked to cross picket lines."

Other Unions Strike

Still on strike are four other unions. The marine engineers say they have not been on strike, although all five unions at the outset announced none would sign a contract until all had reached satisfactory agreements with the employers.

A shipowners spokesman said the agreement with the engineers was a significant development but that it could not be termed a pattern for negotiations with the other unions—CIO longshoremen: CIO cooks and stewards; independent marine firemen, oilers, watertenders and wipers: and radio operators (some AFL, some CIO).

Principal issues as longshoremen called the strike Sept. 2 included guaranteed continuance of the union-controlled "hiring hall" by which workers were assigned to jobs, and a longshore wage demand of $1.82 instead of $1.67. The employers offered $1.77, and said the courts would have to decide the hiring-hall question. The wage offer later was withdrawn.

Secretary Randolph Meriwether of the marine engineers said that union's proposed contract with the Pacific American Shipowners association calls for:

A 5.3 per cent increase in base pay; a 50-cent per hour boost in wages of relief engineers; and an increase in base overtime to $1.71 per hour. The raise in base pay, he estimated, would give chief engineers an additional $33 a month: third assistants, $18.

Bird Trading Causes New Zealand Rumpus

AUCKLAND, Oct. 29 (AP) — A proposed zoo swap between San Diego, Calif., and Auckland is causing a rumpus in New Zealand.

Auckland Zoo wants to send keas to the United States in exchange for other zoo exhibits. Some New Zealanders don't like the idea.

The kea is a bird of the parrot family. It lives in New Zealand's high mountains. As a zoo exhibit it is attractive. Flying around in its native New Zealand, it preys on the kidney fat of live sheep and lambs. Naturally, ranchers don't like it.

Last March the Auckland Zoo sent three keas to San Diego. Now San Diego is offering approximately $20 each for two dozen of the birds to continue the exchange.

Edgar F. Stead, a bird expert, is one of the most outspoken objectors. He says the kea eventually dies in misery when sent to a new life in a different climate. "The Auckland Zoo does not care where it sends keas as long as it gets the exchange," Stead complained.

Auckland Zoo is controlled by the local city council. Mayor John A. C. Allum told a reporter the zoo would do nothing likely to cause suffering to birds or animals.

Vandenberg Claims Record Of Congress Stands Stiff Test

(By The Associated Press)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 29 Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) stepped into the campaign dispute over the 80th Congress last night by calling its domestic record "amazingly useful."

At the same time the Republican foreign policy leader in Congress stressed what he described as his party's contributions to the nation's bi-partisan foreign policy goal of a "durable peace."

"This peace is possible," he said, "unless it has been permanently blackballed in Moscow."

The chairman of the senate foreign relations committee devoted a large part of his radio talk on behalf of the Dewey-Warren ticket to the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress.

Record Claimed Good

While saying the Republican party "has had its human share of flaws," Vandenberg added that it nevertheless "has done more for American peace, progress and prosperity through nearly a century than any other party."

"The Republican 80th Congress stands up to this test," he said, "despite self-serving critics who try by rank distortions to make if the 'whipping boy' to divert attention from their own embarrassing shortcomings.

"The unsplattered truth is that the 80th Congress made an amazingly useful domestic record in the face of unprecedented difficulties, not the least of which was a sullen lack of executive cooperation."

"It balanced the budget, reduced the public debt, stopped deficit spending and reduced taxes for the first time in sixteen years," Vandenberg said, adding:

"Believe me, that is a mouthful in one sentence."

World Peace Problems

But he said the "cold war in which Soviet Russia threatens our peace and the peace of the world is the top problem of this hour."

Noting that Republicans and Democrats are linked in "substantial unity," Vandenberg said the Republicans seek to build that unity into a greater peace force. Then he offered this sketch of the GOP foreign policy position "with no claim to a monopoly of credit."

"We seek righteous peace with collective security against aggressors. We shall never voluntarily desert the council chamber for the battlefield.

"But we decline timid appeasements which hasten the disasters they try to escape. We shall say what we mean and mean what we say.

"We propose universal disarmament dependably protected against bad faith. But we shall walk into no booby traps. We shall keep our powder dry, pending the happy day when reason must substitute for force."

APPLE OF THEIR EYE — Janet Leigh, movie actress, is "the girl we would most like to go out on the limb with," says the Apple Growers Association which is sponsoring National Apple Week, Oct. 31-Nov. 6. She is pictured in Hollywood.

Big Upsets In Grid Battles Are Predicted This Weekend

Minor Storm Seen In Schoolboy Tilts

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The calm weekend forecast for Texas schoolboy football might turn into a minor storm.

Milby of Houston received a big shock last night when it was tied, 13-13, by John Reagan of Houston in a City conference game.

The result left just seven undefeated, untied teams in City conference and class AA action. There are now four unbeaten but tied elevens. Milby joined this class.

More than 40 conference games in these two divisions are on tap tonight and tomorrow. Just one of the perfect teams appears in danger. Henderson has to face Marshall, a strong district 8-AA entry.

The state's No. 1 team, Port Arthur, tackles Orange in a district 11-AA game tonight while the No. 2 team, Amarillo, meets Lubbock in a 1-AA tilt.

Alamo Heights, which last week bounced into the favorite's role in district four of the City conference, takes on a non-conference foe tonight — St. Anthony's of Beaumont.

Brackenride, last year's state champion and top ranked team in San Antonio until spilled by Alamo Heights, plays a strong San Antonio Tech eleven.

Other undefeated, untied teams which see action tonight are Waco, Sweetwater, Alice, and Arlington Heights. Baytown, South Park, and Lamar of Houston, all unbeaten but tied, also play.

Denison meets Okmulgee, Okla., in an intersectional tilt.

Adamson (Dallas) defeated North Dallas, 18-13, in a Dallas district game last night. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) downed North Side (Fort Worth) 18-13 and Ysleta dumped Cathedral (El Paso), 27-8.

Lubbock Cowhands Top Amarillo 20-0

Tech Freshmen Are At Canyon

CANYON, Oct. 29 (Special) — It will be revenge for the Texas Tech freshman football team here tonight at 8 if they beat the West Texas State Teachers college yearlings under the lights.

The first-year Buffs hold one victory over the Red Raider yearlings and will be out to make it two in a row. They have a good chance, for two of the Tech regulars are on the injured list and the entire squad is in bad shape.

Fullback Ralph May of Sudan and Halfback Judson Brawner of Atmore, Ala., two of the freshmen counted on the most, both had torn knee cartilages in the game against the Hardin-Simmons freshmen. As a result, they are out of action, probably for the season.

Other players have minor injuries and this has made imperative several changes in the startling lineup. But several of the Red Raider freshmen have demonstrated this week that they can't be kept out of the starting lineup, easing Coaches Polk Robison and Maxey McKnight's job.

Ross Brown, 145-pound fullback from Paschal High school in Ft. Worth, has taken over the starting fullback position and Don Anthony of Amarillo has installed himself at a guard spot. John Moughan of Weatherford has gained a starting quarterback position and G. B. Lindsey of Lubbock will be at left half.

The two opponents tonight have met once before this season, in Lubbock, when an intercepted lateral handed the Buff juniors a 6-0 victory. The Raider first year men put up a good defensive fight, but lacked an offensive, even thought they were able to march down the field consistently.

The Tech freshmen also have shown secondary weakness in their two games so far and considerable time was spent on that phase this week in practice. If the freshmen have developed a secondary defense, as well as an offensive, they should be able to take the Buff initial year men.

Hard running by Backs Mack Taylor, Donnie Rawls and Tommy Fisher and brilliant line play by Tackle J. R. Bradford and Guard Deverle Hensley paced Lubbock High's battling Cowhands to an impressive 20-0 triumph over the Amarillo High Yannigans Thursday night at Chapman field.

The size of the score did not indicate the real superiority of the Cowhand eleven. The Lubbock schoolboys used straight power plays in notching the triumph, and di not even throw a pass until late in the game. Amarillo never made a serious scoring threat and never got inside the Lubbock 30-yard line.

Amarillo took the opening kickoff of the game deep in their own territory, then moved up to their own 40-yard line on a series of end sweeps by Tailback Ronald Johnson. They were unable to cross the midfield stripe and, after an exchange of punts, the Cowhands took over on the Lubbock 35.

Fisher Blasts Over

Taylor, Rawls and Fisher alternated in carrying to the Amarillo one-foot marker, then Fisher blasted over left guard for the touchdown. Bradford's extra point kick was blocked, but Lubbock led by a 6-0 count.

The Cowhands started another drive mid-way in the second period from their own 45-yard line. Backs Charles McCowan and Taylor moved the ball down to the Amarillo 38, then Rawls swept around end to the Yannigan 23. After picking up a first down on the Amarillo 12, Taylor carried over for the touchdown in two tries. Bradford's kick was good and Lubbock held a 13-0 halftime margin.

Lubbock's gridders tallied their third touchdown on the first play of the second half. The Cowhands ran the kickoff back to their own 48-yard marker, and on the initial play from the surprise T-formation Fisher broke through center and sprinted 52 yards to paydirt. Bradford converted to give Lubbock a 20-0 lead.

Stopped On Goal

The Cowhands nearly tallied again minutes later, when Rawls, Fisher and Billy Tooke sparked a drive that was stopped on the Amarillo one-foot line. After that reserves took over and, although they moved into Yannigan territory several times, were unable to muster a scoring punch.

The victory was the second consecutive triumph for the Cowhands over the Yannigans and gave the Lubbock team an undefeated, untied record in four games this season.

Baylor, Aggie Frosh See Action Tonight

WACO, Oct. 29 (AP)—The unbeaten freshmen teams of Baylor and Texas A and M tangle here tonight.

Baylor has a strong passing attack sparked by Robert Reid and Marshall Alford. Glenn Lippman and Jim Dobbyn head a hard-running Aggie backfield.

HOYT BEATS DERRICK

Hoyt Furniture company, in an exhibition game, turned in a 14-10 victory over Derrick Gulf Service basketball team last night.

Plains Licks B Team Of Levelland, 14-7

PLAINS, Oct. 29 (Special)—The Levelland B squad returned to their homes last night after taking a 14-7 beating from the Plains Cowboys, who held the visitors scoreless until the final two minutes of the game.

Bob McCargo put the home town eleven out in front early in the first quarter when he circled end and scored from 35 yards out. Peter Wauson plunged through the line for the extra point.

Wauson climaxed a touchdown drive in the second quarter, when he plunged four yards for the score and Leland Ellison plunged for the extra point.

Late in the fourth quarter, with two minutes left, B. Taylor ended a drive down the field for Levelland by plunging from the one-foot line, D. Windsor plunged for the extra point.

Outstanding in the line for Plains was Guard Weldon Hill and Tackel Dean Light, while Tackle R. D. Jackson and End R. E. Bailey sparked for Levelland.

Tech Selected To Edge Rice

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The surest things in life supposedly are death and taxes. To that twosome can be added a third item—that there will be at least a dozen football upsets each weekend.

With that in mind, here's this week's selections:

North Carolina at Tennessee: Charles Justice, Tar Heel back, has propelled a football 2,445 yards in five games by running, passing and kicking. Tennessee's team work doesn't appear strong enough to derail him although it may slow him down. North Carolina.

It's All Michigan

Illinois at Michigan: The Illini turned in a surprise victory last week over Purdue. But an upset of Michigan, the nation's top team in the weekly AP poll, isn't in the cards. Michigan.

Navy vs. Notre Dame at Baltimore: This has become "the" game on the schedule for the Irish. It also will become the 24th game without a setback on the Notre Dame record. Notre Dame.

Southern Methodist at Texas: A year ago Doak Walker began his climb to All-American fame in this game. He will have a happy anniversary with Kyle Rote and Gil Johnson to help him celebrate SMU.

Georgia Tech at Duke: Another Dixie dandy. It is the day's only game involving two unbeaten clubs. Duke's record will be tarnished by nightfall. Georgia Tech.

Virginia Tech at Army: The southerners haven't scored in five previous games this season. What makes them think they can tally at Army's expense? Army.

Bears Move On

California at Southern California: Jackie Jensen will shred the Trojan line. California.

Cornell at Columbia: With Hillary Chollet on the sidelines the Big Red has little offense. Columbia, beaten on successive Saturdays in the final seconds, will build up an early margin. Columbia.

Dartmouth at Yale: The tradition in this rivalry is that the unexpected always happens. Maybe Yale's seven dwarfs will become men again for the day. But it isn't in the cards. Dartmouth.

Ohio State at Northwestern: Every time Joe Whisler hits that Northwestern line he will think he collided with a concrete wall. Northwestern.

Some Uneasy Moments

Washington & Lee at Pennsylvania: Mike Boyda will give the unbeaten Quakers some uneasy moments. But Chuck Bednarik will force the Generals into retreat. Pennsylvania.

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

Friday—

Clemson over Boston college; Detroit over Villanova, Georgetown over Denver, Maryland over Miami (Fla), Temple over Bucknell, Washburn over Omaha, Vanderbilt over Auburn.

Gridiron Dish Of Season Set For Texas Mines Homecomers

EL PASO, Oct. 29 (AP)—The gridiron dish of the season awaits Texas College of Mines homecomers tomorrow night when Flyin' Freddie Wendt leads the Miners against Wilton (Hook) Davis and his Hardin-Simmons Cowboys.

The duel between the nation's top ground-gainers rates almost equal billing with the battle between their respective teams—the undefeated Orediggers and once beaten Ranchers from Abilene—in a crucial Border conference tilt.

Coach Jack Curtice's Miners won their spurs as top title contenders when they walloped New Mexico university 27-13 last week in Albuquerque. It was also another field day for Wendt as he soomed for 204 yards rushing, boosting his season total to 832 in 78 carries.

Free of injuries, the entire Mines squad is determined that this will be the year to break the hex which Hardin-Simmons has held over the Orangemen. The series dates back to 1927 and the Mines hold only three victories as compared to eight for the Baptists. Last time the Orediggers whipped Hardin-Simmons was in 1933.

Baseball Clubs Are Going To Old Heads

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—The demand for youthful players threatens to make a "kids game" of major league baseball, but the managerial trend today was toward old-men's brains to direct the youngsters.

Club owners who spend unprecedented amounts for lads who may develop into stars apparently desire to entrust that development to graybeards.

In the American league the managerial "age movement" is most noticeable, despite the fact that 31-year-old Lou Boudreau — youngest pilot in the majors and the only player-manager — just won the world championship for the Cleveland Indians.

Two Appointments Made

There have been two managerial appointments since the world series. In both instances elderly men replaced younger pilots. The New York Yankees brought back to the majors Casey Stengel, 57. He succeeded Bucky Harris, the one-time "boy manager" of the Washington Senators. Harris is 51.

The Chicago White Sox reached deep into the minor circuits to get Jack Onslow, one of their older farm-club operators, as a replacement for Ted Lyons, the ex-pitcher who finally gave up on the chronic second-division outfit.

Two earlier appointments went to chaps who hardly could be described as fuzzy-cheeked boys. Old Marse Joe McCarthy — who came out of his Buffalo apple orchard where he had been living peacefully for a year and a half—went back to baseball with the Red Sox. And fighting Joe did not yield the American league pennant until after his boys lost an unprecedented play-off game to the Indians.

Other Managers Mature

Last winter, when the St. Louis Browns sold nearly everyone except President Dick Muckerman's blond valet to other clubs, Zachary Taylor, 50, was given the thankless job of managing the outfit. Although most experts reserved cellar space for the Brownies, Zack kidded his kids into finishing in sixth place.

The two other junior-league managers are not so "junior." Connie Mack, 85, has been running the Philadelphia Athletics since 1901. And Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers is a stylish stout at 57.

The old-head movement is less pronounced in the National league. Nevertheless, it should be emphasized that the three fellows generally conceded to have done the best jobs in the past two years —Billy Southworth, Bill Meyer and Burt Shotton—were not exactly adolescents.

Pro-AmateurTourney On At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 29. (AP) Lloyd Watkins of Midland and Clay Underwood of Wichita Falls won team play in the West Texas pro-amateur golf tourney here yesterday with a combined score of 62.

Willard Crenshaw and Ben Banks of Dallas turned in a 65 to take third place.

Watkins score was a blistering 68. Underwood and A. H. Corbin of Dallas paced amateurs with scores of 70.

Tied for third in the best ball event at 68 were Calvin Rhodes and Corbin of Dallas; Graham Ross of Dallas and W. E. Stephenson of Wichita Falls and Iverson Martin and Joe Carter of Graham.

Lubbock Golfers Play At Amarillo

Nine women members of the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club yesterday went to Amarillo, where they played golf, were entertained at luncheon and watched Louise Suggs present an exhibition match.

The Lubbock women left here early in the morning, played nine holes of golf on the Amarillo Country club course and then were guests of honor at a luncheon given by the Amarillo club.

Mrs. Suggs teamed with three Amarillo golfers to present an 18-hole golf demonstration in the afternoon, after which the local golfers returned here. Those making the trip included Kathryn Trammel, Johnnie Trammel, Alice Bollinger, Oma Lee Gilmore, June Holton, Mary Simms, Mary Frances Bell, Kay Taylor and Frances Nance.

Confidence Rises In Raider Camp On Eve Of Rice Tussle

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 — Bill Dickey, who is returning to the Yankees as a coach, is a business partner of Yank pitcher Ed Lopat in Little Rock, Ark. . . . They sell auto seat covers. When Commissioner Chandler hears about that, he likely will fine them for the "cover up" deal and declare all the cars free agents . . . Seriously, we never could quite understand why experienced men should make honest mistakes in handling players . . . They ought to know baseball law and abide by it. If they don't know, they should find out . . . It might have been a little harder in Judge Landis' time. The old judge would refuse to give rulings in advance and then clamp down when the club owners took his "dare" and tried to do something they had asked about.

Long Time Between Scores

In the Orange bowl game of Jan. 1, 1946, Al Hudson made a name for himself and the U. of Miami by intercepting a Holy Cross pass and sprinting 89 yards for the winning touchdown as the game ended . . . Al didn't make another touchdown until last Friday, when Frank Smith threw him a pass and Hudson ran 81 yards against Georgia.

Shorts And Shells

Rumors reaching here say that Mike Casteel is in rather warm water at the U. of Arizona . . . And in Chicago the word is that Leslie O'Connor will complete the switch with Frank Lane and become president of the American association. Les quit the job of White Sox general manager and Frank quit the association presidency to take it . . . Although Virginia Tech has lost five games and hasn't scored a point, three of the five teams that beat Tech lost their next games and the only one of about 250 baseball experts listing their pennant choices for the Sporting News last spring who came up with both winners . . . But Joe forgot to sign his ballot and didn't get credit until someone happened to compare handwriting.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, favored at the start of this week, now find themselves on the short end of the odds for tomorrow's Homecoming tilt against the Rice Owls, although the margin predicted is close enough to be doubtful.

Betting cards give the eager beaver Tech and seven points, which usually means that seven will not be enough to beat the card. But at least some of the national dopesters are making Tech the favorite in the game by such narrow margins as one and two points.

Despite that, the Raiders are going through their final practice sessions convinced that they have more to say about who wins or loses than anyone else. And on the Tech campus, as well as the gridiron, there is a strong feeling that the Owls will fly back to Houston beaten.

Plenty Of Hard Work

Practice yesterday wasn't grim and tense, but plenty of hard work was going into preparation for the Homecoming game. The Raider coaches, Dell Morgan, G. B. Morris, Tipp Mooney and Polk Robison, weren't in playful moods and the players went through a long drill.

Contact work was barred, with dummy drill taking its place. Emphasis again was on developing a scoring offensive, one that could get Tech points—and a lot of them. The favorite weapon of the Techsans yesterday, as it has been a good part of the week, was the forward pass. Deviations on the usual pass plays the Raiders have used this year were clicking superbly against the freshmen and varsity reserves.

At the other end of the practice field, Tech freshmen were running Rice plays and with altogether too much success. Line work nearly was forgotten as the yearlings filled the air with passes. And the Tech defenses didn't look too sharp against the type of pass Tobin Rote will chuck Saturday.

Rice, meanwhile, tapered off with an intensive drill against Tech's expected passing game, as well as work on the Raider line plunges. The Owls realize that they have speed to stop and they don't want to give Walter Maloney, Cal Steveson, Charley Reynolds, J. W. Thompson and the other fleet backs a chance to break into the clear.

Owls Arrive Today

The Owls will board two DC-3s this morning and fly to Lubbock, where they will be met by various representatives of the Raider institution. It will be the first visit of Coach Jess Neely and his Owls to the Hub City and local custom will extend its usual warm greeting.

A light workout this afternoon at the Tech gridiron will conclude the Owls' preparation for the game and Texas Tech also will have a light session.

Saturday a crowd of 19,000 Homecoming fans is expected to pack Jones Stadium to see the battle of two good teams. Rice, despite four setbacks in succession, still is a SWC member and will fight to protect the name of the conference.

Hale Center Downs Springlake 20-19

SPRINGLAKE, Oct. 29 (Special) —A touchdown late in the fourth quarter gave the powerful Half Center Owls a narrow 20-19 triumph over Springlake in a District 3-B tussle here last night.

The Springlake crew tallied in the first four minutes of the game, but the Owls tied up the count late in the initial period when Halfback Eldon Davis romped 50 yards to the double stripe.

Davis put the Hale Center team in the lead in the second quarter, when he climaxed a long drive with a two-yard plunge to paydirt. The conversion attempt was good, giving the Owls a 13-6 halftime margin.

Springlake surged back in the third stanza to tally two quick touchdowns and take a 19-13 edge, but the brilliant Davis clinched the win for the Owls with a four-yard touchdown smash late in the final quarter. Back Jerry Johnson passed to End Jimmy Stokes for the game-winning extra point.

Releases Are Given To Boston Players

BOSTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The unconditional releases of First Baseman Frank (Buck) McCormick and Righthand Pitcher Ernie White were announced last night by General Manager John Quinn of the Boston Braves.

Since all other Major League clubs have waivered on them, they now become free agents. Quinn said each has been offered a job elsewhere in the Braves organization.

Citation Will Be Race King

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29 (AP) — They're going to crown Citation the horse racing king today at Pimlico and it will be one of the few occasions when there aren't any pretenders to the throne hanging around.

The figurative crowning will take place after the chestnut colt makes his lordly way around a mile and three-sixteenths of the track in the Pimlico special.

Like a true king, Citation will walk alone. Not one of about a score of other eligibles for the special cared to dispute him.

The special, unique in American racing conditions, calls for settlement of any championship questions. And Citation had whipped virtually all possible claimants in winning 16 out of 17 races this year.

Career Covers 24 Wins

Jockey Eddie Arcaro will merely breeze Citation for the $10,000 which will boost Citation's earnings to $830,250, second highest of all time. Asked about running his horse against the watch, trainer Jimmy Jones said disapprovingly:

"It's like taking a car out and going as fast as you can just to see if it will hold together."

Citation's career covers 24 wins in 26 starts and winnings this year of $664,570, the highest ever for one season.

The special is a winner-take-all proposition, worth $25,000 if more than one horse starts. To be eligible, a horse must win any one of 36 designated stakes throughout the year. Then it costs nothing to enter and weight handicaps are according to age.

Citation will be the fifth Calumet horse to win and the second to walk over in the 13 runnings of the special. Whirlaway went it alone in 1942 and other winners were Twilight Tear, Armed and Fervent.

Dallas Woman Paces Kilgore Golf Meet

KILGORE, Oct. 29 (AP)—Favorite Bettye Mims White of Dallas paced the Kilgore women's invitational golf tournament into semi-final play today.

Mrs. White advanced yesterday with a 3 and 2 decision over Mrs. H. T. Williford of Sherman. She plays Mrs. Joan Tracy of Dallas today.

The other semi-final match pits Mrs. Mary Perrin of El Dorado, Ark., against Mrs. Betty MacKinnon of Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Perrin defeated Mrs. F. E. Ames of Beaumont, 7 and 6, and Mrs. MacKinnon routed Mrs. Gladys Bounds of Henderson, 8 and 7. Mrs. Tracy ousted Mrs. C. C. True of Dallas, 2 and 1.

The semi-finals will be played this morning and the finals this afternoon.

SMU, Baylor, Rice And Arkansas Get Nod In Southwest

Between The Lines...

By Joe Kelly

Hey! We found a football betting card yesterday. We tried Wednesday night at the accustomed places to find them without results, but yesterday we stopped by a friend and he slipped us one. It was a furtive movement, sorta like when you sneaked a smoke in school days, and we hardly dared look at it until we were in a dark corner. At the same time, the information was handed on that we needn't look for the high school cards any more. They are verboten for the remainder of the year.

The card this week isn't much different from the usual issues. Four games are listed as even bets and the 33 games range from those four up to the Missouri-Kansas State tilt, which offers the latter and 40 points. Three teams are given six points, one team gets 12 points, four have 13, four have 14, two have 19, three have been given 20 and one has 26 points. A great many of the games are of the traditional stamp, where upsets often occur. That just makes it easier for the owners of the card business.

Incidentally, these football rating systems hand us a laugh. For instance, Dr. Likkenhous is considered one of the best in the business and we were curious in looking back to see how he had rated Tech from week to week. Before the Texas Aggies game, it was 67.1. Afterwards it went up to 68.7, but after the SMU game it went down to 67.0. When Tech beat Tulsa, it went up to 72.4 and even the Baylor defeat raised it a notch, up to 73.8. After beating Arizona last week it rose to the season's high of 74.7. Far be it from us to sneer at a slide rule, but we can't help wondering just what kind of a magic slide it is.

The Rice Owls fly in today and have a date to work out at Tech this afternoon. We were pleased to see that Texas Tech will have suitable representatives on hand to meet the plane and bid the visitors welcome. It is a great day for the Techsans. Not only from the standpoint that this is homecoming, but also from the standpoint that it is the first time Rice has ever come to Lubbock. Six times the Red Raiders have gone to Houston and only once have they returned here with a victory. That was in 1944, when the Raiders pounded out a 13-7 win.

Since then Raider fortunes have gone down and in 1946 and 1947 Rice handed the Raiders two terrible beatings. In 1946, the Owls piled it on to the tune of 41-7. Last year the Owls did almost as well, licking the Raiders 40-6. In two years of their rivalry, Tech has allowed Rice 81 points, while denting the defenses of Jess Neely for only 13. Previous to those two years, Tech did pretty well, getting 20 points compared to 52 for Rice. In other words, Rice has had the Indian sign on the Raiders but good.

We hope that the Raiders break that spell Saturday afternoon, but frankly, we doubt if Tech's good men can stop the good, big men of Rice. If you noticed the weights on the Owl line, you'll soon be able to figure out for yourself where the Raiders are outweighed 25 pounds to a man. The Owls average 208 in the line; Tech averages 188. Sixty minutes of pounding into that weight can wear down any player. And we think that it will help a lot to compensate for whatever hardship the change in altitude will work on Rice.

But don't get us wrong. We hope that Tech rises to the occasion and hands the Owls a good beating, even though we know that a touchdown margin would be a good one. After all, Rice almost scored against Southern California and, as weak as West Coast football may be, it's still not in the junior college class. Moreover, Rice led Texas 7-0 for one half last week and Texas isn't the weakest ball club in the bushes. And don't be buoyed by the comparative score against SMU. Tech scored its lone touchdown against Mustang reserves; Rice, like Tech, was beaten by Gil Johnson's passes and Doak Walker, but fought the line to a standstill and scored on it.

It would be sweet to have double victory flags raised this week end, with the high school beating Amarillo and Tech taking Rice. It would be sweet, all right, and we can dream. But the cold facts of the case don't point much toward fulfillment of those ethereal thoughts. We know the Raiders will play Rice a good game, that they will fight them every inch of the way. To dream of victory is fine; achieving it is something else. Maybe Tech will accomplish that victory without its being a dream. We hope so.

Sandy Saddler To Battle Pep

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Sandy Saddler's two-year chase of Willie Pep ends tonight when he meets the featherweight champ for the title at Madison Square Garden. The books will give you 3 to 1 that Sandy will be sorry.

Willie, a strong favorite, has been chased by masters down through the years. In 136 fights only one has caught up with him. That was the old expert of the hit and clutch—Sammy Angott—away back in 1943. An obscure gent, Jimmy McAllister, got away with a draw in his back yard at Baltimore in 1945.

The years may have slowed down Willie, now 26, but there is no proof. So far this year he has 15 for 15 and is still adding on a winning streak that numbers 44 since the McAllister draw.

Saddler's record, although impressive, does not compare with Pep's. Sandy has knocked out 63 or 98 foes but he's lost six times. One loss was to Chico Rosa on a disputed split decision at Honolulu last June 30. Another was to Humberto Sierra, a Cuban who was starched by Pep at Miami last February.

Three Way Upsets Southland, 25-21

SOUTHLAND, Oct. 29 (Special)—Southland High school's six-man football team, defeated only once this year, had their second defeat of the season on their record this morning. The setback was handed them last night by Three Way's Eagles, who came from behind to win 25-21.

Southland, defeated only by the first place Pettit squad, romped to a 14-6 margin at the half and appeared on its way to another victory. But Three Way roared back in a wild third quarter to take the lead and keep it.

Stanley Stafford and J. Bassinger, Three Way and Southland backs, led the scoring with two touchdowns each, while Tankersley of Southland and Charles Smith and Bryant of Three Way each had a touchdown. Extra points were kicked by Anderson and Halliburton for Southland and by Bobby Newman for Three Way.

Bassinger was the outstanding player for Southland, while Stafford, Smith and Newman, who threw three touchdown passes, were outstanding for the Eagles.

REFINERS TAKE TILT

Levelland Refiners won an independent basketball game from the Littrell Gulf Service company here last night, 53-44, coming from under a 26-20 halftime deficit to win. Morris McLendon and Brassier led the Refiners, each with 12 points; Virgil Johnson and Verdell Turner were high for Gulf with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Tossup Battle Is Seen Here

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

An undisputed leader may emerge from the Southwest conference football fireworks tomorrow.

Southern Methodist and Texas clash at Austin in the feature game but there's one at Fort Worth tomorrow night that is just as important. At least it is as important, or more so, for the Baylor Bears.

SMU, Texas and Baylor are undefeated in conference play. If Baylor fell to Texas Christian, which quite a few think will be the outcome, the winner of the Southern Methodist-Texas game would take over first place.

Two Others Scheduled

Two other games are scheduled but neither means anything in the championship race.

Arkansas clashes with Texas A. and M. at College Station in the battle of eliminated teams.

Rice, another eliminated outfit, rests from conference warfare and journeys to Lubbock to take on the tough Texas Tech Red Raiders of the Border conference.

It is Tech's last game against Southwest conference teams. The Raiders lost to Southern Methodist and Baylor after edging Texas A. and M.

Last Bid For Glory

Southern Methodist is rated a seven to ten-point favorite over twice-beaten Texas but there are plenty of takers. The Longhorns will be making their last bid for glory this season—the last chance to salvage one of their most disappointing seasons. A crowd of 68,000 will be there to see them do it.

Baylor and Texas Christian are rated even although Baylor's season record would indicate the Bears should be the favorites. They are the only unbeaten team in the conference and hold a victory over Arkansas, which licked Texas Christian.

Arkansas is a solid choice over A. and M., although the Aggies did a better job against Baylor than the Razorbacks. It's about time for the Aggies to win one. They've knocked at the door far too often already.

Texas Tech, playing on its home field, should give Rice a dusty battle indeed.

We hit four out of four last week and are feeling out oats. Here's how they look tomorrow.

Texas vs. Southern Methodist at Austin—There is no process of reasoning, on the basis of the season records, whereby Texas can be rated as having a real chance to win. Southern Methodist by two touchdowns.

Baylor vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth—TCU is tough in any park and at home should be something for Baylor to worry about; the Bears are worrying and that's why I believe they'll win by a touchdown.

Rice vs. Texas Tech at Lubbock—A tight fight but Rice ought to break its losing ways here.

Arkansas vs. Texas A. and M. at College Station — A good chance for the Aggies to halt their losing streak if they can stop Clyde Scott. We don't think they will, however; Arkansas by a touchdown.

Doping High School Tilts Is Tough Job

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

A dearth of outstanding games on this week end's class AA and City conference schoolboy football card doesn't make it any easier to pick the winners.

The dope sheet says all of the state's undefeated teams should come through unscathed, but we don't quite see it that way.

Last week we called the turn on 42 out of 52 for an .808 average, including such upsets as Texarkana over Gladewater and Breckenridge over Stephenville and a warning that there was a good chance for an upset which occurred when Alamo Heights dumped San Antonio Brackenridge.

Average Climbs

Our average for the season climbed to .783 on 123 out of 157.

Denver City Licks Seagraves 37 To 6

DENVER CITY, Oct. 29 (Special)—The Seagraves Eagles put up a good fight for one quarter last night, but they were no match for the Denver City Mustangs, who pounded out a 37-6 non-conference victory.

The Mustangs scored first when Bobby Ray Ward ran six yards for the initial touchdown, but the Eagles countered with their lone tally on Bill Hearne's three-yard plunge. After that the deluge was on.

Denver City scored twice in the second period, twice in the third and once in the fourth.

Fullback Jack Pritchard went over the double stripe on runs of 50 yards, following a lateral pass, 16 yards and five yards. He also kicked the only extra point in the game.

Tom Dunnagan scored once after taking a pass from Pritchard and

Longhorns To Seek Revenge

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—Only a light drill—the final tune up—was planned for the Texas Longhorns today as they awaited tomorrow's grudge battle with the Mustangs of Southern Methodist.

It's a grudge contest in that the Longhorns will be seeking revenge for that extra point, 14-13 defeat at Dallas that cost Texas the Southwest conference title last year.

As was the case a year ago, Texas and Southern Methodist meet in what is considered the crucial game of the Southwest pennant chase. Both teams have beaten Rice, just as they had done last year, but that is about as far as the comparison goes.

Mustangs Plenty Good

The Mustangs are as good as they were last year—maybe better.

The Longhorns are not the threat they were in 1947 when Bobby Layne was on hand to throw touchdown passes.

Texas perhaps has better reserve strength than Southern Methodist both in the backfield and forward wall, but this is not likely to prove a significant factor unless it rains. Showers fell last night and more were forecast for today, but the weatherman did not anticipate any "severe weather" tomorrow.

Coach Blair Cherry has given the Texas ends a big order to fill. Their task will be three-fold: to provide good pass reception for quarterback Paul Campbell's aerials, to rush hard against Gil Johnson, the ace Mustang passer, and to throw an iron defense against the wide runs of All-America Doak Walker, Paul Page and the rest of Coach Matty Bell's classy backs.

Left end Lewis Holder is the Longhorns' No. 1 terminal. He is the only one of four regular Texas left ends ready for full duty. Ray Stone and Ben Procter are out of action because of injuries and Jimmie Watson has been ill.

At right end is durable Dale Schwartzkopf. This is his third year as a starter and his fourth as a letterman. Right behind him in offensive and defensive ability is George McCall, who will also help at left end if needed. When Peppy Blount comes in, the opposition starts looking for passes. Rudy Bauman, a converted guard, and George Gentry add depth at right end. Both are sophomores.

COON HUNTERS TO MEET

BRYAN, Oct. 29 (AP) — Plans for the Texas State Coonhound Field Trial and Bench show to be held in Bryan Dec. 4 and 5 will be made here Saturday at a meeting of all Coon Hunter associations in Texas. Approximately $3,500 in purses and trophies will be offered at the December meet.

RIDES FOUR WINNERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (INS) — Hedley Woodhouse, Canadian jockey, rode four good-priced winners at the Jamaica race track yesterday. They were Ariel Sweep, $10.90; Flaming Lady, $17.10; Palestinian, $15.10; and Safe Arrival, $11.10.

Wayne Baker, reserve back, went 41 yards to score on the best piece of running.

Bearden, Dark No. 1 Rookies Of Majors

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—Gene Bearden, the stylish southpaw pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, joined shortstop Al Dark of the Boston Braves as the major leagues' No. 1 rookies of 1948.

Bearden yesterday was given the American League distinction in a nationwide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The 28-year-old native of Lexa, Ark., who now makes his home in Los Angeles, had much stiffer competition than Dark, who was named on 160 of the 220 ballots. The knuckle-ball artist received 90 votes to nose out Billy Goodman, Boston Red Sox first baseman, by two votes.

Negro In Fourth Place

Lou Brissie, southpaw pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, ranked third with 15 votes. Satchell Paige, Cleveland's legendary negro pitcher, was fourth with 12.

The handsome ex-sailor gained the award because of his consistently fine pitching all season. He finished with a record of 20 victories and only seven defeats.

Bearden wound up the season in a blaze of glory, winning his last seven starts including the epic playoff game with Boston for the American League pennant. He also hurled a shutout victory over the Braves in the world series and saved the last game with a great bit of relief pitching.

Nineteen Stations Air Tech-Rice Tilt

The Rice-Texas Tech football game, which will be broadcast by Humble Oil and Refining company sponsorship, will have more outlets in Texas than any of the other three Southwest Conference games carried by Humble.

Bill Michaels and Eddie Barker will take to the air from Jones Stadium at 2:20 Saturday afternoon here to give coverage of this attractive non-conference game. The broadcast will be carried by 19 stations, including KFYO, the Avalanche-Journal station.

The Texas-SMU tilt, the most crucial in the conference, will have 12 stations carrying it, while the Arkansas-Texas A. and M. game will be carried by only seven stations. And trailing the last comes the TCU-Baylor contest with only five stations.

The Owl-Red Raiders tilt may be heard over stations in Ft. Worth, Dallas, Austin, Waco, San Antonio, McAllen, Abilene, San Angelo, Big Spring, Midland, Sherman, Greenville, Paris, Texarkana, Longview, Lufkin, Tyler and Houston.

Ralls Jackrabbits Fall To Abernathy

ABERNATHY, Oct. 29 (Special)—The Ralls Jackrabbits were no match for the Antelopes from Abernathy High school last night and dropped a 14-0 District 3-A conference game as a result, with 140-pound sophomore back Jim Miller leading the way for the home team.

Miller put on an offensive show for 1,300 fans, going 15 yards off his own right tackle in the first quarter to score the first touchdown, with Robert Smith making good the first of his two successful placements for the extra point.

In the third quarter, Miller again hit paydirt, this time cutting 35 yards off his own left tackle and going over the goal untouched. Smith again converted.

Ralls fought back and made one scoring threat, reaching the Antelope eight yard line. But the home team held and took over on downs.

It was a good game on a slightly muddy field, with the Antelopes nolding the upper hand throughout.

BLUE FLAME CAGERS WIN

IDALOU, Oct. 29 (Special) — The Blue Flame Gas company's basketball team last night beat the Hoyt Furniture company team of Lubbock 38-26 in the gym here. Bob Steeley, with 10 points, led Idalou and Bob Galey, with 13 points, led the visitors.

Burglars Loot Area School

Sheriff Leland A. Hart's office at Floydada informed local police Thursday of the burglary of Floydada High school, in which 13 Royal typewriters were taken.

Entrance was gained by forcing the back door of the school sometime during Wednesday night or Thursday morning, it was reported the typewriters being removed from the typing room of the school.

Local police were also continuing investigation of the theft of clothing valued at $63.25 from the Park hotel here. Two pair of trousers and a sport coat were listed as missing.

21 Persons Arrested

Seventeen women, arrested on charges of vagrancy by prostitution, were fined $25 each, police reports showed. Six porters at the establishments where the women were arrested, were charged with association with prostitutes.

Mrs. I. Duke of 206 North Madison informed the sheriff's department that two tricycles, total value $40, had been stolen there.

The following judgments were issued in county court, records of County Attorney John Steele showed: Harrel L. Benton, 19, $50 and costs for check law violation; J. C. Wood, jr., and W. L. Wise, $1 and costs each for check law violation; Grady Sherbert, 48, of Monroe, $50 and costs and driver's license revoked for six months for drunk driving; Clarence Tollison, $50 and costs on each of two charges of violation of state bedding laws; and S. P. Smith, jr., $1 and costs for check law violation.

Erwin D. Vanmeter, 48, of Lubbock, entered a plea of innocent on a drunk driving charge and posted $400 bond, court officials said.

A 40-year-old Lubbock man, Frank B. McWatters, arrested early Thursday night by Texas highway patrolmen about 7 miles out of Lubbock on the Idalou road, was fined $50 and county court costs this morning for drunk driving.

inspection, Chanslor Weymouth of Amarillo. Their meeting here preceded a regular board meeting to be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in Lubbock.

Others present included Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Texas Tech president; W. T. Gaston, secretary and ex-officio member of the board; W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, and Frank Junell, assistant to the president.

Experiments Conducted

The land under lease to the college has been in use for purpose of experiments in wheat poisoning. Wheat production averaged only four bushels to the acre last year, because of the dry season, and the difficulty was in getting enough wheat for the experimental work.

The entire plant cost $30,000,000 when built. On the land is a maze of buildings and roads.

Some of the buildings were found to be deteriorating and weeds were thick. Mention was made of placing 500 to 1,000 head of sheep on the land to keep weeds down.

There now are 135 head of cattle on the pasture land.

Technician on Hand

Dr. C. O. Morgan, research technician for Texas A. & M. college, met the Tech party at the laboratory maintained at the plant by Texas A.&M. college and Texas Tech.

The application for transfer of the land to Texas Tech was sent recently to War Assets administration officials in Washington, D. C. Final action of the war assets board is awaited. Zone officials told President Wiggins that all qualifications had been met by the college.

Board members were guests of Amarillo Chamber of Commerce at luncheon at noon today at Amarillo hotel.

Saturday morning's board meeting will be conducted in the president's office and is to adjourn by noon.

and to abolish taverns by restricting sale of beer and wine to state stores; Colorado will vote on whether to extend local option, now confined to incorporated cities and towns, to all political subdivision; South Dakotans will decide whether to prohibit sale or possession of liquor in food stores; California will rule on whether to give local governments control over prohibition or sale of liquor and whether to give local authorities the right to keep minors and unaccompanied women away from bars; Oregon will vote on a proposal to license sale of liquor by the drink in hotels, restaurants, clubs, etc.

Salary Boosts Proposed

Official pay — A Washington state proposal would give the legislature power to raise the pay of all elected officials; Kansas legislators, lowest paid in the nation, would get their salary boosted from $150 per regular session to $300; California would abolish a $100 limit on the monthly salary of legislators and give them $3,000 a year; Michigan would authorize the legislature to boost legislative and top official salaries, and a North Carolina measure would increase the salaries of members and presiding officers of the general assembly.

Louisiana will pass on amendments to increase the political power of new Gov. Earl Long. One would let Long appoint a majority to the powerful New Orleans dock board. Another would permit him to name 12 new members to the 14-member board of supervisors of Louisiana State university.

MARKET IN RALLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (U.P.) — The stock market rallied in afternoon trading today and showed a small net gain for the day as the close of the session approached.

Early hesitancy reflected the unsettled foreign situation, clouded further by the attack of Prime Minister Stalin on the western powers and by Wall Street concern over the apparent closeness of the congressional races.

The recovery reflected an accumulation of favorable domestic corporate news, especially the higher earnings for the steel companies and the sharply higher net incomes reported for the September quarter by General Motors Corp. and Dupont. In most cases earnings being reported for the three months ended dept. 30 represent new peaks, in several cases the all-time high.

Along with the optimistic earnings reports being made these days, there have been numerous instances of extra and special dividends and of increases in regular quarterly rates of payment to stockholders.

Dupont up 1 point to 180½, in response to its earnings report; National Steel up 1¼ to 110; and Norfolk & Western up 1 to 61¾ all led the recovery.

Australia Child In U. S. For Operation

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 29. (U.P.) — The mother of four-year-old Jeffrey Lore of Perth, Australia, who arrived here yesterday to undergo a "blue baby" operation at Johns Hopkins hospital hoped today she'll have the child well and back home by Christmas.

Mrs. Annie Lore, sister-in-law of T. S. Greenfield of Houston, Tex., said her young son took the 10,000-mile flight "very well."

He was taken in an ambulance to the hospital immediately after arrival.

Jeffrey's parents decided to bring him here after another "blue baby" from Australia, Shirley Brown, 5, was cured three months ago by an operation by Dr. Alfred Blalock. He originated the operation to relieve the blue skin color resulting from insufficient oxygen in the blood.

Greenfield surprised Mrs. Lore by meeting the plane here.

Another Hearing In Murder Case Asked

A new trial motion was filed Thursday afternoon by counsel for Hildred Milton Duty, 28, who two days earlier had been sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary for murder.

The motion, filed by Robert Porter and Grady West, charged, among other objections, that Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd district court erred in:

Objections Made

Allowing the jury panel in a capital case to be summoned by post card; and

Allowing District Attorney Lloyd Croslin to give evidence into the record of what purported to be a "dying declaration" of the late James W. Hickman, 55, of 2701 Thirtieth, who was fatally shot by Duty the night of July 19 in 1000-block Ave. J.

The defense objected that proper predicated was not laid by the state to establish Hickman's apprehension of death at the time he gave the district attorney from a hospital bed his version of the shooting and of incidents that allegedly led up to it.

Porter said he probably would ask leave of the court later to amend the new trial motion.

He said he had discussed with Judge Blair the possibilities of Duty's entering into recognizance with the court.

9 p. m.—Homecoming dance in gymnasium.

Clubs Will Entertain

Those are the general homecoming events. In addition, numerous entertainments will be given by campus clubs for their former members.

The executive board of the association was to hold another meeting at 4:45 p. m. in the Aggie Memorial auditorium on the campus. The board will approve business to be presented to the council of the Alumni and Ex-Students association at a breakfast at 8 a. m. Saturday in the Navajo room in Hilton hotel. Officers will be elected at that time.

In addition to business previously announced as due to come before the executive board and the council, consideration will be given to a proposed policy of designating the student body as host for homecoming, in which capacity it has served this year, said D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

By being host at homecoming, students receive proceeds from the homecoming dance and from any other events which yield revenue, exclusive of the football game.

Short speeches will be given at the pep rally by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president; Dr. J. William Davis, chairman of the athletic council; Head Coach Dell Morgan; Marshall Gettys, president of the Double T association and first string tackle on the football team; and M. P. J. Minter, graduate of the college and 1935 yell leader, who will also lead the crowd in traditional college yells. A crowd of several thousand students and fans are expected to attend tonight's pep rally and bonfire.

Expected to be the biggest homecoming parade in history is the parade scheduled Saturday at 10:30 a. m., beginning at Main and Ave. M, from where the colorful line of floats will proceed east to Texas Ave., south to Broadway, and then turn west up Broadway to the college.

One plaque each will be given to the most beautiful, most descriptive, and most humorous float in the parade, based on the decision of five judges to be stationed on the southeast corner of the Lubbock hotel balcony.

The plaques will be presented to the winners at halftime during the game, and are obtained through the courtesy of Lucian Thomas, Tech graduate and Lubbock jeweler. Judges are Dale Buckner, Mickey Henly, Culver Hill, A. B. Watkins, and Preston Smith.

Halftime during the game will feature the performance of the Tech band, presentation of plaques to clubs entering winning floats in the parade, and the traditional shoe race.

From the end of the game until 9 p. m., many of the social organizations are holding open houses and other social events, prior to the Homecoming dance in the decorated gymnasium. Music for the dance will be furnished by Burl Hubbards dance orchestra through the courtesy of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and radio Station KFYO. Decoration of the gymnasium has been under the direction of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service club on the campus.

Martin Dies

ing of American Business club at noon today.

He recalled his difficulties in securing adequate appropriations to carry on the work of his committee. He himself was under government scrutiny at one time and was required to submit unusually detailed statements for income tax purposes, for a six-months period.

"The administration has always hated and despised this committee," Dies remarked. Asked if he thought recent charges against Rep. Parnell Thomas, present chairman of the Un-American activities investigating committee, were justified, he replied that he thought a lot of it was inspired by resentment. "I would want to see the proof before believing it," he said.

"The first difficulty is the fact that a Congressman is inexperienced as an investigator. We knew so little of the techniques of the Nazis and Fascists."

During the time he was chairman of the committee, from 1938 to Jan. 1, 1945, the committee compiled a list of approximately 5,000 federal employes suspected of being members of the Communist party, Dies explained. Subsequent investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation raised this total to well over 6,000.

Of that 6,000, Dies remarked, approximately 1,800 have been removed from their jobs.

"There is no law against being a Communist," he explained, in speaking of the functions of the committee as a task of focusing public attention on subversive groups. He explained that Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party, was finally sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of falsifying passports. Browder served about six months of the term before he was released, he recalled.

"There is more reason for the committee now than ever before," he asserted.

During his tenure as head of the Un-American activities investigating committee Dies was constantly receiving threatening letters, he said.

Once, in 1940, he was en route to Madison Square Garden in New York when the Secret Service discovered a bomb under the train coach in which he was riding.

On another occasion, he was crossing the street on his way to the Capitol when a high-powered car brushed him in an apparent attempt to run him down. Although he never made the incident public, he felt sure that it was an attempt on his life because a key witness in Chicago had just been killed in a similar manner.

His wife and three sons were objects of the threats too, he explained.

Dies and his wife were to leave early this afternoon by private plane for Lufkin.

dinner in a cafe when the gear head, which weighs 550 pounds, was stolen, he said.

In North Lubbock, someone selected eight pairs of women's panties from three full lines of wash that had been hung out to dry—and took nothing else.

A late report said F. N. Mayhugh, whose light automobile had been stolen Thursday night, had recovered the machine.

Police arrested a Mexican who allegedly beat his wife, and will seek to file an aggravated assault complaint against him this afternoon.

halt south of the Hilton hotel, Sandie "headquarters" for the day. At that point a gigantic yell circle was formed around nine Amarillo cheer leaders, and several pep yells and school songs were given for the benefit of Lubbock onlookers lined along Main street.

Others Come By Car

In addition to the 400 train passengers, an even larger delegation from Sandieland, traveling by automobile, was expected to be in the stands for the kick-off of the annual grid battle at Jones stadium this afternoon.

"Courtesy cars," arranged for by Lubbock school officials, were to be provided by local volunteers to carry Sandie fans from the hotel to Jones stadium before the 2:30 p. m. kickoff. Lubbockites also were to transport Sandie followers to the hotel following the game.

Pep Rally Last Night

Lubbock high school students completed the setting for today's contest last night by staging their traditional "Beat Amarillo" pep rally at the Senior high auditorium.

At the rally, Miss Arbie Lee Freeman was introduced as 1948 Westerner football sweetheart. Miss Freeman, a junior in Lubbock high, had as her attendants Jan Dorn and Francyne Cox.

Student Body President Charles Galey introduced E. J. Lowrey, business manager, who spoke, and Coach C. R. Pattison introduced team members. Also on the rally program were Pat Rhea, Blair Hankins, J. C. Chambers, Pat Farris, former Lubbock High school student, and George W. Dupree, Lubbock lawyer, as Westerner fans gave their team an enthusiastic "sendoff" for their major game of the season.

Are Solid Favorites

The Sandies, boasting a record of six straight wins this season, entered the game a solid favorite over the Hub city eleven and an odds-on choice to cop the fifth consecutive 1-AA grid championship.

The Amarilloans' starting lineup had a slight weight advantage over the Westerners, as well as more experience, but the Lubbock backfield held an edge in speed.

Attorney To Push Veterans' Cases

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (U.P.)—U. S. District Attorney Frank Potter was on record today with a statement that he will continue to press veterans' housing cases alleging fradulent statements to Veterans' administration.

His statement came after federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson had implied Wednesday that the law under which Dallas builders and real estate operators were being tried was not intended for the purpose for which it was being used here in housing cases.

Judge Davidson advised builders and real estate men being tried for allegedly making false statements to the VA to ask for jury trials.

Potter expressed surprise at the judge's stand.

"It's the duty of the U. S. district attorney to prosecute infractions of any federal law, and that I shall do," he declared.

According to police, the assassins went to Lee's home early last night. After forcing their way into the house, they began questioning Lee's wife. A 15-year-old son who tried to intervene was stabbed to death.

that of preparing measures against a surprise attack on Japan—although it is known for everyone that nobody threatens Japan."

Panyushkin also referred to an Associated Press dispatch from Tokyo October 14 which said U. S. defense commanders visiting Japan had expressed pleasure at measures "to convert the old Japanese navy yard at Yokosuka into a modern base capable of handling large fleet units."

Any such conversion, Panyushkin said, violates agreements among the Allied powers providing for the disarmament and demilitarization of Japan. He said Russia wants a statement from the United States "on the substance" of the questions he raised.

Without Foundation

In addition to terming the conference of sole interest to this country, the State department described as "wholly without foundation" Panyushkin's "implication" that American use of the Yokosuka base is violating Allied agreements.

The base is used only to carry out the objectives of the Allied occupation, the department said.

Later a navy official said the only thing that has been done to the Yokosuka base was to clean it up and make it more sanitary and livable.

ly worthless."

In other developments yesterday, three more investigators arrived from Washington to join two already at work in determining the merit of charges and counter-charges that fraud was perpetrated in the balloting. Balloting in 13 counties is under investigation by the Senate group. In Washington, Sen. Francis J. Meyers of Pennsylvania, lone Democrat on the sub-committee supervising the Texas inquiry, charged that the Texas "mission" is "strictly partisan." He demanded immediate recall of the investigators, saying they were accompanied by "Stevenson men" and were ignoring "their responsibilities."

However, Chairman William E. Jenner, R., Ind., of the sub-committee refused to recall the investigators. Jenner suggested in a wire to Meyers that the "time wasted" in the exchange of telegrams and statements "might be better consumed in a meeting at which all charges could be discussed fully."

Jack Porter of Houston, the Republican candidate for the Senate seat, in Texarkana last night repeated his prediction that the controversy about the Democratic nomination was going to be proven unnecessary. Porter said he was going to beat Johnson "by a good majority."

C. Of C. Directors Hold Business Meet

Routine reports and business occupied the attention of a called meeting of directors of the chamber of commerce this morning, according to A. B. Davis, manager.

Davis reported that bids on the construction of a chamber of commerce building at Ninth street and Texas avenue are to be opened at a special meeting of directors at 10 a. m. Nov. 3. Estimated cost of the one-story structure is $50,000 to $60,000.

He also reported that the revived semi-annual Western Wholesale Clothing market, held Oct. 16-18 after a 5½-year interruption, netted about $700, Refund of the money on a pro rata basis to participating exhibitors was approved. The markets are conducted by the Western Wholesale Market association under chamber of commerce sponsorship.

entitled to a government . . . that will not need $25,000,000 to find out how many Communists it has appointed to the government service." It is entitled, he added "to a government which will not appoint Communists in the first place."

Dewey Lashes Out

Dewey lashed out again at the Truman administration's handling of foreign policy, saying "it has blown hot and cold on issue after issue."

White House-Congress cooperation was a campaign topic for Harold E. Stassen, pushing a vote plea for Dewey in the west.

The former Minnesota governor told a Boulder, Colo., rally it would be "extremely unfortunate" if the people voted for a change in the White House "but did not follow through to elect a Republican majority in the Senate.

On this score, GOP campaign manager Herbert Brownell predicted the Republicans will retain Senate control by at least their present 51 to 45 margin. He also told a Washington news conference that Dewey will be elected "by a ratio of approximately 4 to 1 in the electoral college."

Need Spiritual Awakening

"In other words," he said, "a spiritual awakening is the only solution to the problem."

Convinced that nearby Boston would be a primary target in World War III, Babson is preparing atomic bomb havens at remote Eureka, Kans., and New Boston, N. H.

He said he isn't pessimistic about war; he figures it's coming but doesn't think it will end civilization or even stop the economic development of the United States.

"Even if they explode atomic bombs in the 12 biggest cities and kill 15,000,000 people — that still leaves us with more than 140,000,000 people and our important resources," he said.

Babson said he approves of the European recovery program on humanitarian principles, but doesn't think it will be much use.

"Straw Ballot"

Tuesday victory for their favorites. No "Straw Voters" marking ballots for Dewey-Warren anticipate a Truman-Barkley triumph at the polls on November 2.

Although no "Straw Vote" may ever be relied upon as reflecting a definite trend in thinking in an entire city, or section, such ballots sometimes do forecast certain attitudes of numbers of people. While few people expect this "Straw Vote" to be borne out at the polls Tuesday, most will agree that it does indicate to some degree that (1) people are getting over their reluctance to leave the Democratic party when either its policies, its standard-bearer, or both, displease them; and (2) that in this section normally rock-ribbed Democratic by a ratio of 10-to-1, or greater, most people expect a Republican victory next Tuesday.

"Straw Ballots" have been sent in thus far from every community between Muleshoe and Spur, Matador and Seminole, Plainview and Lamesa. A few have come in from Eastern New Mexico.

The final ballot count in the "Straw Vote" will be made Saturday night and results will be announced in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

GOP Counts On Warren To Take California Despite Demo Edge

(By The Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 29. Republicans count on their vice presidential candidate, Gov. Earl Warren, to swing his state handily into the GOP column next Tuesday despite a big Democratic margin in California's registration.

State election authorities predict the largest number of California voters in history will decide how the state's 25 presidential electoral votes will be cast.

The Democrats have a margin of 2,892,279 to 1,908,208 in registration.

Roosevelt Carried State

Democratic State Chairman Oliver J. Carter is out with a prediction that if a heavy enough vote is cast, President Truman will carry California.

Voters on Tuesday also will decide the political makeup of California's congressional delegation, accept or reject 19 ballot propositions, elect a new assembly and half of the 40 state senators.

In national elections the registration trend has been revised only once in recent years.

That was in 1932 when the Republicans had a registration edge of 1,565,264 to 1,161,482, but Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state for the Democrats.

Since then the Democrats have had the larger registration and have uniformly won at the presidential election.

GOP in Control

In state elections it has been a different story. Despite the same heavy Democratic registration Warren and several other state officials won by getting both party nominations. At present every constitutional state office is held by Republicans. In addition, both legislative houses are Republican controlled.

Betting odds and most of the unofficial polls favor Dewey and Warren to carry the state. Mathematically the odds are with the Republicans to retain or increase (probably by only one) their 14 to 9 majority in Congress.

Governor Warren has told California audiences on a state tour, his party's success is assured if a big vote turns out.

Most political observers here do not believe the independent Progressives will be a formidable factor in the election either nationally or in state contests. They point to the unexpectedly small IPP registration. It was only 22,461, although supporters obtained 295,000-plus petition signatures to qualify the party headed by Henry Wallace.

State Races Insignificant

In the congressional races, the Republicans start out with the advantage of three virtually elected in the June primaries to the Democrats' two placed on the ballot without opposition. The Republicans have seven double major party nominees on the ballot as compared with three by the Democrats—the opposition being only minor party.

In the last Congress the delegation lineup was 14 Republicans to 9 Democrats.

There are major party contests in only 11 districts.

The state senate race was practically settled in June for a Republican majority, counting holdovers, and the mathematical odds are with the Republicans to get a majority for continued assembly control.

These calculations are based mainly on the number of party members nominated without major party opposition. The final result, of course, is not definite. It could be affected by an unforseen swing.

Last Retail Credit Class Is Scheduled

The Retail Credit Procedures class being held this week in Lubbock will hold its last class meeting tonight at 6:30 o'clock at Lubbock hotel, Mrs. Gladys Workman secretary of the Retail Merchants association, said last night.

Sterling S. Speake, retail credit specialist with the University of Texas extension division, is conducting the classes which began Monday night.

Certificates will be given at tonight's meeting to the 162 store owners, managers, credit department employees and others who have been enrolled in the course, Mrs. Workman said. The course is sponsored jointly by the Retail Merchants association, the Credit Managers club and the Credit Women's club.

Mrs. Workman called attention to the change in time for tonight's meeting. Clases Monday through Thursday met at 7:30 p. m. rather than 6:30 p. m.

United Texas Dry's Convention Will Be Concluded At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—Dr. W. A. Criswell, Dallas Baptist pastor, said last night that public officials everywhere are ashamed that the prohibition amendment was ever repealed.

Dr. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas, made his statement to the first session of the United Texas Dry's annual convention. The meeting ends today.

Jackie Robinson, Baylor university ministerial student, told the group one of the reasons he didn't drink was because he didn't want to "debauch and wreck my life." Robinson is a basketball star.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, presided at the meeting, attended by some 175 persons.

The executive committee and the board of directors previously had adopted a record budget of $67,500 to finance work of the organization. The recommendation will be submitted to the convention today.

Dr. Walter H. McKenzie, executive secretary, told the executive committee and directors that eight of 12 county-wide elections the past year resulted in dry votes. He said the latest report showed 32 Texas counties totally wet, 82 part dry and 140 all dry.

Dr. McKenzie was praised at a dinner in his honor.

Speakers included J. Hoytt Boles of Denton, executive secretary for the Presbyterian church, U.S.A., in Texas and Louisiana and Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president of McMurry College at Abilene.

Wholesale prices in Italy are declining and recently were only 51 times prewar.

Senate Campaigns Five Times Costlier Than House Contests

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The law lets senate candidates spend five times as much as those running for the House.

And with control of the Senate hanging in the balance of next Tuesday's election, the nationwide ratio is running just about that.

Preliminary campaign reports filed with Congress show the Republican and Democratic senatorial candidates laid out a total of $215,419 through last week. That figures out roughly to just under $3,600 each for the 60 candidates for the 33 seats being filed this year.

For the House, where all 435 places become vacant every two years, the spending has totaled $642,193—or a little over $735 for each of the 870 major party entries.

Some Expenses Unlimited

But just as the ding-dong senate fight actually revolves around only 11 crucial contests, the actual spending by the various candidates has varied widely. Some, without opposition, reported no campaign costs at all.

Federal law limits House candidates to $5,000 per election, senate candidates to $25,000 (because senate terms are for six years). But there is no limit on certain items, such as bills for travel, meals, stationery, printing of circulars and letters, mailing, telegraph and telephone.

Thus, even with the final week's expenses yet to be listed, some of the reports already exceed the limit, since the exclusions are not always noted.

Candidates' Spending Listed

By parties, Republican house candidates reported spending $425,268 to $216,925 for the Democrats. In the senate races, GOP spending topped Democratic outlays by $119,535 to $95,884.

Among the top seven individual spenders, the division was six Republicans to one Democrat in the house races and five to two for the Senate. Here is how they stand:

House: Rep. George B. Schwabe (R-Okla), $8,392; Rep. Jacob K. Javits, (R-NY), $6,539; Harold O. Lovre (R-SD), $5,324; Fred Marshall (D, Farmer-Labor-Minn), $4,943; Rep. Ellsworth B. Foote (R-Conn), $4,929; Watter E. Hoffman (R-Va) $4,780; and Rep. Homer D. Angell (R-Ore.), $4,679.

Senate: Senator James E. Murray (R-Mont), (through "Murray for senator club"), $25,804, Senator Joseph H. Ball (R-Minn), $17,948; Senator Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.), $17,441; J. J. Porter, (R-Tex), $14,288; Senator C. Wayland Brooks (R-Ill), $12,963; Archibald Alexander (D-N. J.), $11,395, and John A. Wilkinson (R-NC), $10,073.

Four Races Crucial

Yet only four of those candidates are running in the 11 states politicians mark down as crucial in the battle for senate control: Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Wyoming and West Virginia.

Republicans who now control the House by 59 votes, have only a six-vote, 51 to 45, edge in the Senate. Thus a net gain of four seats by the Democrats would give them the coveted senate committee chairmanships and the numerical edge in committees.

While both parties publicly claim they will control both houses of the next congress, some GOP and Democratic leaders concede privately that the senate issue will be in doubt until the votes are counted.

Even then an even split—leaving the deciding vote up to the vice president—could result.

Man Sentenced For Stealing From Bank

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 29 (AP)—Paul Martin, 33, was sentenced to two years in prison yesterday on a charge of stealing $1,105 from a bank.

Testimony showed that the $1,105 was credited to Martin's bank account through a teller's error. Within 20 days, and before the error was discovered, Martin had withdrawn all but $3.11.

Last Rites Set For Texas Congressman

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 29, (AP)—Last rites for Rep. Milton H. West will be held here tomorrow.

The 60-year-old veteran representative from Texas' 15th district died in Washington yesterday. He had been suffering for several months from lymphoma, a disease of the lymph glands.

West did not seek reelection this year because of ill health.

A four-engine army transport plane was to bring the body and Mrs. West and Reps. Rickett and Wilson of Texas here today.

Gov. Beauford Jester said yesterday he is studying the question of how to fill the congressional vacancy created by the death of Rep. West.

Jester said there is a conflict in the state law on when a special election may be called to fill such a vacancy. He said he has asked Attorney General Price Daniel for a ruling.

Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen, is the Democratic nominee to succeed West in the next Congress in January. Jester said he has no authority to appoint a successor. He pointed out that Bentsen, is elected to fill the short time remaining in West's term, would gain some seniority over other freshmen legislators in the 81st Congress.

Nation's Gold Pile On Verge Of Topping $24-Billion Mark

By CHARLES MOLONY
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—The government's mounting gold pile appeared on the verge of topping the $24,000,000,000 mark today after rising about $1,700,000,000 the last 12 months.

The most recent report, for Tuesday, showed $23,996,169,474.59.

Never before has any nation ever had so much gold. The U.S. hoard represents over three fifths of the world's known supply.

The Russians are believed to have the second biggest store, yet their holdings are estimated at only one-tenth those of the United States.

Mining Is Small Part

Mining in this country accounts for only a small part of the increasing gold stock.

Most of the gain results from countries dipping into their own dwindling gold supplies to pay for purchases here not offset by sales or American aid funds.

But the pyramiding gold pile is a growing headache to government officials because every new dollar's worth of gold the government acquires is considered to add $6 to the lending capacity of the nation's banking system. And federal authorities contend too much lending has been going on anyway.

Although officials wish the golden inflow would stop, the U.S. stands ready to buy an unlimited amount of the rest of the world's $14,000,000,000 or so of gold at the standard price of $35 an ounce.

Explanation Offered

One explanation for this situation is that if the U.S. stopped buying, the rest of the world might quit regarding gold as worth its present price—and the U.S. stock would lose value.

The present record stock of U.S. gold has a value about six times what it was just before President Roosevelt boosted the gold price from $20.67 to $35 an ounce in January, 1934.

Contrary to popular opinion, not much more than half of the government's gold is kept at its heavily-guarded Fort Knox, Ky., strongbox. The rest is in the Denver, San Francisco and Philadelphia mints and the New York and Seattle assay offices.

Foreign countries also keep a considerable amount of their remaining gold—well over $3,000,000,000 worth—in storage in the U.S. This gold is not counted in the total of U.S. holdings.

New Oil Field From Devonian Believed Discovered In Gaines

A new oil field from the Devonian appears to have been discovered in south-central Gaines county, at Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, et al, 15 miles south of the town of Seminole.

That prospector had a recovery of 4,700 feet, or 59 barrels of clean oil during a one hour drillstem test at 10,272-328 feet. That zone is understood to have covered all of the Devonian lime and chert which had been penetrated up to the time the test was run.

Operator was preparing to drill ahead. There was no water, or other fluid recovered with the oil.

Pressure Range Given

This discovery is about 15 miles east of the nearest Devonian production, which is at a well in southwest Gaines county completed several months ago by the Texas company, Humble Oil & Refining company and Ralph Lowe at their No. 1 Jenkins.

The Shell development is 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey. It is two and one-half miles southwest of the Robertson field, which gets its oil from the Permian lime above 7,000 feet.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged from 205 pounds to 1,545 pounds during the drillstem test. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 4,200 pounds. "This venture was originally started to test to around 12,500 feet to try to find and explore the Ellenburger.

Scurry Test Slated

Operator representatives have not revealed whether that objective will be continued, or if the project will attempt to complete from the section which has already shown for commercial production.

Standard Oil company of Texas was preparing to run a drillstem test at its No. 1 Jessie Brown, et al, wildcat in northwest Scurry county, to investigate oil shows.

The point at which the packer was to be set was not reported, but the examination will cover sections at 6,132-39 feet, 6,148-53 feet, and at 6,166-68 feet, which showed possible production when drilled through. Total depth is 6,177 feet in sand.

After the test is taken, a Schlumberger survey is to be run. Further operations will then be decided.

At a lesser depth in this same strata, unofficially identified as Pennsylvanian, a drillstem test recovered some good oil shows, with a little gas.

Oil Gravity Determined

This prospect is 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey, about nine miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

After the flow of oil died at Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Winston, prospective discovery in south-central Scurry county, three and a half miles southwest of Snyder, operator went in with a swab for further testing at 7,429-42 feet.

In 19½ hours of swabbing, the project made 52.2 barrels of oil and 7 8-10 barrels of basic sediment and water. Gravity of the petroleum was 36.4 degrees.

This development, located 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, survey 37, Kirkland & Fields survey, was continuing to swab.

Terry Well Abandoned

Southern Minerals corporation and Honolulu Oil corporation have plugged and abandoned their No. 1 Newsome, 660 feet, from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 47, block T, D&W survey, in southeast Terry county.

This wildcat ran a drillstem in the San Andres at 5,547-81 feet. The tool was open for one hour and fifteen minutes. Recovery was 2,800 feet of sulphur water.

The dry hole is approximately five miles southeast of the town of Brownfield.

American Republics corporation No. 1 Susie Koonsman, 15 miles northeast of Snyder, in northeast Scurry county, and 2,115 feet from north and 3,290 feet from east lines of section 240, block 2, H&TC survey, took a one-hour drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 7,446-76 feet.

There was a slight blow of air for two minutes. Recovery was seven feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Another drillstem test was run at 7,446-7,506 feet. The tool was open for 25 minutes. Recovery was five feet of mud, with no shows.

The prospector is now bottomed at 7,536 feet, and is taking another drillstem test with the packer at 7,506 feet.

Wallace Proposes New Cabinet Ranks

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP) — Henry A. Wallace says that "when the Progressive party puts its first president into the White House" he will appoint secretaries of art and science with cabinet rank.

Wallace, after a dozen speeches in the metropolitan area, made the declaration last night at a meeting of the National Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions.

The presidential candidate told his audience that big business fears artists, scientists and intellectuals because "ours is the search for truth—theirs is the propagation of the lit."

Virginian Asks Help In Finding His Wife

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 29. (NS)—A Virginia Beach, Va., man, who parted with his wife 19 years ago, has asked Colorado officials for help in finding her, so he can "take care of her in her old age."

Claude M. Ray wrote a letter to police Capt. Robert Wraith of Colorado Springs about the former Bertha Jo Langston of Hermitage, Ark.

Ray said that he last saw his wife in Washington, D. C., in 1929, where they parted after what he called "a little argument."

"I still love her," Ray wrote.

Wraith said a Mrs. Bertha Ray had worked at Colorado psychopathic hospital in Colorado Springs, but left about 11 years ago.

THE CROSSLEY POLL

Dewey-Warren Win Forecast With 50 Percent Of Ballots

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director, The Crossley Poll

Analysis of poll trends since late August leads to these conclusions:

1. That Governor Dewey and Governor Warren are assured of election.

2. That their total popular vote will just about equal the combined vote for Truman, Wallace and Thurmond.

3. That their electoral vote is likely to be well over the 266 needed for election. The Truman-Barkley ticket, on the other hand, with every possible consideration, is unlikely to have more than 219.

The following facts form the basis for the above conclusions:

FIRST: In a series of different polls across the United States, Dewey has consistently outdistanced Truman in popular vote by a comfortable margin. In late August Dewey had 51% nationally to Truman's 42% (the remainder to Wallace, Thurmond and Others). In late September the figures stood at 51% to 43%. Now, as of the third week in October, the figures are Dewey 50, Truman 45. Further changes in the closing days of the campaigns are not expected to be great enough to overcome the Dewey lead. Even allowing a margin on the Truman side for inability to estimate exactly the vote turnout from population samples, Dewey would still have more votes than Truman.

States Might Shift

SECOND: In states where Dewey's lead over Truman is at least six percentage points, there are 266 electoral votes, or enough to win without any of the closer states. While Truman has gained in some of these states, the Dewey advantage has remained clear-cut A group of states like Massachusetts, Minnesota, Washington and several of the Mountain group are extremely close and might shift.

THIRD: If every adult citizen in the United States turned out on Election Day, the best Truman could have hoped for would be a tie. Therefore, he could not win just by bringing people to the voting booth, unless a great many Republicans stay home.

Apathy Indicated

FOURTH. Despite the crowds which have turned out to see Truman, the poll series shows only a moderate increase in relative voting interest in him. There has been great apathy on both sides, but somewhat more apathy toward Truman than toward Dewey. This lack of interest has been manifest in several ways: (a) Truman has lost to others in large sections of the country nearly a third of the Roosevelt voters who will vote this year, (b) the percentage of those preferring Truman who plan to vote is smaller than the voting proportion of those who prefer Dewey, (c) the intensity of interest of Truman followers is shown by a series of tests to be less than that of Dewey followers.

General lack of interest in this election is reflected in the poll's latest percentage of adult citizens likely to vote, slightly more than 55% indicating between 51 and 52 million voters. While this percentage may decline further by Election Day, there is some indication in local reports of a reversal of the trend, particularly in some states.

Figures Approximated

The accompanying tables provide a summary of the election situation as revealed by the final poll up to the third week of October. All major party percentages are subject to an increase or decrease of at least two percentage points due to the normal limitations of samples. Therefore, where one major candidate is no more than four points ahead of another, the figures must only be regarded as approximate current standing, and not as a forecast of the winner in that state.

In the final days between the last poll and the election, there may be major changes of standing in the south, where there have been many recent rulings regarding the ballots. For Alabama, where Truman is not on the ballot the poll reports the way the state would be likely to go if Truman could be voted for.

In a number of other southern states, many decisions will be made just before the election as to whether to vote at all and if so whether to vote Democratic or to register disapproval of Truman through Thurmond or Dewey.

In totaling the electoral votes, it is assumed that the electors will cast their votes in the electoral college in accordance with the popular vote in their states. However, in at least one state, several electors have announced their intention not to vote for Truman if the state chooses him.

Final Summary Of The Crossley Poll

Situation As of Third Week Of October

DISTRIBUTION OF NATIONAL VOTE:

Dewey	49.9%
Truman	44.8%
Wallace	3.3%
Thurmond	1.6%
Others	0.4%

Tie Range*
Leaning to Dewey	81
For Truman	122
Tie Range*
Leaning to Truman	4
Dewey-Truman Equal	12
Thurmond	36

*Tie Range means one candidate is no more than four points ahead of the other.

Intended Turnout — 51-52 Million Voters.

ESTIMATED DIVISION— Dewey about 25½ to 26 millions. Truman 23 millions. Wallace 1¾ millions. Thurmond 1 million.

LATE TRENDS — Truman making some gains in likely voter turnout, shifting of voters from Wallace, and swinging late decisions.

Beauty Engineer Proposes Daintily-Colored Automobiles As Warning Of Women Drivers

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—What the women of this country need is a daintily-colored automobile that will show instantly that a woman is at the wheel.

Then men drivers, the meanies, will be ashamed of the rough-house tactics they now use on women drivers because everyone will realize they're picking on a lady.

The above suggestion and reasoning comes to us today from (surprise!) a woman, Mrs. Veronica Dengel. She teaches a course on how to improve your personality at New York University, and calls herself a beauty engineer.

She's down here on a personality-improving jaunt, but during a talk I had with her, she seemed more interested in improving the personality of automobiles.

Here's the way Mrs. Dengel has it figured:

Man has been frustrated ever since the stone age. About the only place left where the poor guy can use his jungle tactics is in traffic.

But since man is also naturally timid and afraid of criticism, he'd be a little more civilized if he knew everyone else knew that he was just trying to show off and badger a woman.

Aside from the male-repellent idea, Mrs. Dengel thinks automobiles should have pretty colors in order to be pretty.

Inside Popped Up

"Oh, we have some nice greens and blues," she said. "But how about a mauve? Or I can visualize a pale pink."

The interiors, too, she thinks, should be pepped up. Plaids, stripes, figured designs.

"And what really is needed is an inside that could be easily zipped off and washed," she said.

Now about personality, Mrs. D.? What can a man do to improve himself?

"Well, men certainly can improve their dress," she said.

"Right now they all seem to want to be casual. I see men every day, wearing the coat to their brown suit, and the pants to their gray suit.

"That isn't being casual. That's being sloppy."

I hurriedly buttoned my blue coat over my brown pants, and left.

90th Division Will Hold Dallas Reunion

Saint Mihiel, Hindenburg Line, Meuse-Argonne. What do these names mean to you? Falaise Gap, Crossing of the Moselle River, Siegfried Line, Battle of the Bulge, Mainz, Hof. What do they call to mind? These are some of the major battles fought by the famous 90th division in World Wars I and II.

These battles, and others like the Battle of Paris, will be fought again on November 12, 13, and 14, when the 90th Division association will hold its 30th annual reunion at Dallas, with headquarters at the Adolphus hotel.

The 90th division, with more than 75,000 members, is one of the most active of Divisional organizations. Organized immediately after World War I, it has held an annual reunion every year at the Armistice season, and every reunion, even during the recent war years, has been well attended. The Association has published and marketed two histories, one history of the 90th Division activities in World I, and another history of the Division's accomplishments in World War II. It also publishes a newspaper, "The Tough Ombre," a quarterly, at Arlington, Texas.

Ninth Day Ticks Off In Flight Record Try

LONGVIEW, Oct. 29 (AP)—Bert Simmons and Pred Vinmont today ticked off the hours of their ninth day in the air in an attempt to set a new world endurance flight record.

The closest they've taken their single-engine plane to the ground since they began the attempt more than a week ago has been low swoops to hook cans of gasoline and food off a speeding automobile.

At 2 a. m. this morning they passed their 200th hour aloft. They hope to stay up 1500 hours.

Woman Takes Over Newspaper After Stabbing Her Husband

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Perry Wallner, released on a self-defense plea in the fatal stabbing of her editor-husband, today took over the task of getting his weekly community publication "to press on time."

A coroner's jury of six men found that the 36-year-old west St. Paul woman stabbed her husband, Walter J. Wallner, 42, with a butcher knife in an attempt to save her own life.

Mrs. Wallner told the jury her husband began beating and kicking her when they returned to their home after working late at the newspaper office.

Police Testify

Policemen testified that when they responded to her telephone call for help they found her clothing partially torn and evidence of a struggle. Wallner, they said, was lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

Mrs. Wallner said today:

"I've got to make a living for Butchy (her nine-year-old son) and myself.

"I guess the best thing I can do is keep the paper going.

Stripes But No Zebra, Temporary Spell Of Blindness May Mean Cerebral Allergy

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 29.—If you see "zebra stripes" when there's no zebra around, or if you have temporary spells of blindness, it might be that you're sensitive to some food you've been eating.

This was related to the closing session of the Southern Medical association's 42nd annual meeting today by Dr. Hal M. Davidson of Atlanta.

Describes Allergy

He destribed what he termed "cerebral allergy"—the sensitivity of a part of the brain to certain irritants which sometimes produce more familiar allergic conditions, such as asthma, hay fever, hives and eczema.

Davison said bizarre and unusual cerebral disturbances nearly always occur in conjunction with these other common allergic conditions. And he declared that whereas doctors once believed this fact was just a coincidence, there now is evidence that the two kinds of conditions sometimes have kindred origin.

Texan Makes Report

In a somewhat kindred report to the association, Dr. A. Ford Wolf of Temple, Tex., declared:

"Allergy has too often been thought to apply only to the wheezers, sneezers and scratchers."

"Such a commonplace symptom as fatigue," he declared, "may be due to the eating of wheat or milk or caviar—if you are unlucky enough to have an assembly line in your torso for the manufacture of 'reacting antibodies' against wheat, milk or caviar—or whatever your cells decide to react against."

Divorce Granted To Tired Negro Woman

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 29. (AP)—Lora Williams, negro, won a divorce in the court of District Judge J. E. Carter today when she testified she shot her husband one night "because I was tired and I sure wanted to rest."

During the course of the examination, Judge Carter asked if it was true that the woman used a gun on her husband, Dennis Williams, a laundry worker.

"I sure did judge," the plaintiff replied. "I shot him in the leg one night when he threatened to cut my throat when I went to sleep. I was tired and I sure wanted to rest."

Court officials said the woman had been married thrice before.

Freak Fall In Italy Is Fatal To Worker

ROME, Oct. 29. (AP)—Accident report today from Milan:

A masonry worker toppled from a 35-foot high scaffold onto another man on a scaffold just below.

The two fell on a third man and all plunged to the ground.

The third man died. The other two were badly hurt.

Agriculture Official Backing Jack Porter

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald, holder of the office for 18 years and re-nominated by the Democratic party for another two years, has announced his support of Jack Porter of Houston, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

McDonald said he had supported Lyndon Johnson in the first Democratic senatorial primary.

McDonald has supported Republican candidates before, on the national level. He has endorsed the Dewey-Warren ticket for president and vice-president.

Two Convicts Recaptured

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 29 (AP) — Two 19-year-old convicts were back in their cells at state prison today, weary from a 15-hour chase by bloodhounds, sheriffs and state highway patrolmen.

The escapees, George F. Sumpter and Bob Walter Vatter, were spotted last night on the Hempstead highway, only one mile from the spot where a car they stole was found abandoned early yesterday.

They told patrolmen they must have "gone around in circles," since they were constantly on the move. At one time, Sumpter said, the bloodhounds were within 20 feet of them.

The youthful prisoners made an escape from Central state farm near Sugar Land early yesterday morning, stole the automobile in Sugar Land and headed for Houston. The vehicle was found wrecked on the outskirts of the city around 6 a. m. yesterday.

Passing motorists spotted the convicts, who were still dressed in their white prison clothes, and patrolmen moved in.

Flier's Autographed Leg Is War Trophy

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 29 (AP) The Wooden leg of an Australian airman is likely to end up in the Australian War Memorial at Canberra. The leg belongs to Steve Stephens of Perth.

Stephens lost his left leg in a car accident when he was three. In spite of his handicap and in the face of many rejections, he won his way into the Royal Australian Air Force and served two years in the United Kingdom as a bomber rear gunner. His wooden leg, of Japanese oak, is carved all over with names and initials of airmen who served with him.

Now 26, Stephens is a fine athlete in spite of the loss of his leg. He has cleared 4 ft. 9 in. in the high jump, run the 100 yards in 17 seconds, ridden a mile on the cycle track in three minutes, and covered the hilly 60 miles between Perth, Western Australia's capital, and Northam in 4½ hours. Stephens also dances well.

Mistrial In Civil Action Is Declared

A 99th district petit jury reported about 4:30 p. m. Thursday that it had been unable to answer the single special issue referred to it in the civil action of Citizens State Bank, of Slaton, against Raymond L. Fletcher.

Judge G. V. Pardue declared a mistrial.

The jury was asked to find whether the bank on April 22, in cashing a war savings bond, series E, had paid Fletcher $702 more than the cash surrender value of the bond as of that date.

The jury was made up of James Burrough, J. H. McCagren, Denman Morgan, Jimmie Wilson, Winston Reeves, H. C. Morris, A. A. O'Briant, J. E. Reid, Dan E. Moore, C. O. Bain, H. Y. Rhodes, and Ed Allen, jr.

Nat D. Heaton represented the bank, the firm of Bradley, Key and Kimmel the defendant.

Tire, Paint Stores Damaged By Blaze

A paint and a tire store last night suffered considerable fire and water damage in a blaze that was reported about 10:30 p. m.

Lubbock firemen brought the blaze under control before it gained headway in paint and solvents stored in Newsom Paint and Supply Co., 1652 Broadway, however the interior of the store was badly damaged by fire in the ceiling, smoke and water. Woody Tire company, 1656 Broadway, also suffered some fire and water damage to a part of their stock stored in a warehouse room adjoining the back of the paint company store.

Heavy pumping equipment was sent to the fire as a precaution against the fire getting out of control in case the highly inflammable paints and solvents did burst into flame.

Communist Threat Appears To Tighten British Empire Links

BY ROBERT HEWETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Britain can thank Russia for one thing in these days of tension. The Communist threat seems to be tightening the links of the empire that Moscow denounces so bitterly.

That's the view of British officials who praise the "extremely successful" conference of commonwealth prime ministers that ended last week. Only a year ago India was firmly set on pulling completely out of the commonwealth. Last spring South Africa elected a nationalist government regarded as strongly anti-British.

But the 12-day conference of the nine self-governing members of the commonwealth was marked by a surprising atmosphere of friendship and warmth.

A joint communique said the nine leaders "have shown a substantial community of outlook. They recommended still closer cooperation in foreign affairs, economic policy and defense. Common opposition to Communism was one of the main reasons behind the solidarity shown by the prime ministers, informed sources said.

India, lying near the Soviet Union's southern border, has shown signs of second thoughts about cutting loose from the commonwealth, particularly at a time when neighboring Burma is torn by Communist revolt. Burma turned down an offer of dominion status and became completely independent last year.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told newsmen that India hoped to retain "close association" with the commonwealth.

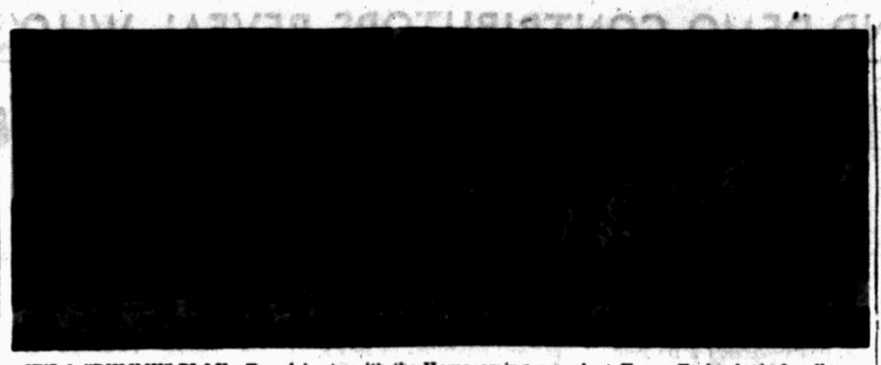

A similar problem has arisen with Eire. The Irish republic has announced it will cut its last legal link with the commonwealth in November by repealing the External Relations act. Prime Minister John A. Costello has said Eire still wants close relations with Britain and the commonwealth, however.

Pakistan and Ceylon have indicated they are satisfied to remain as independent dominions. India's loss would be the biggest blow. Her wealth of natural resources, strategic position and 250,000,000 people make her potentially the most important member of the world-girdling association.

The stumbling block is a formula that will satisfy Indian nationalist desires and still retain ties with Britain and the other commonwealth members.

South Africa presents a different problem. Feeling between settlers of British stock and descendants of Dutch colonizers has long been divided over commonwealth membership.

But Premier D. F. Malan has shown little inclination to agitate for withdrawal from the commonwealth.

IT'S A "DUMMY" PLAY—To celebrate with the Homecoming crowd at Texas Technological college today and Saturday, Clarence F. Wakefield rigged up dummy figures portraying a complicated football play on the lawn of his florist shop at 2406 Broadway. Wakefield explained that it is a composite play portrayed with plastic football on the ground and players faking a punt, faking a pass and one player with arms extended as if about to received a pass. Counting a spectator and a benchsitter, there are 17 figures. (Staff Photo).

Prices For Butter Hit Control Level

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—When top grade butter reached 58 cents a pound wholesale today, it matched the lowest value since price controls ended on this commodity July 3, 1946.

The only time since that date when the price dropped so far was April 21 last year, when 58 cents also was the wholesale price on the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

Thus far this week the decline has aggregated 7½ cents a pound. The exchange said fresh receipts continued liberal and storage supplies substantial, thus accounting for the weakness of the market.

Mikirs Know Answer To Nature Problem

NEW DELHI, Oct. 28 (AP)—Why is the ant narrow about the waist, and the frog mottled all over? The Mikirs, picturesque tribesmen of Assam, will tell the reason.

"One upon a time an ant set off with some rice for his uncle. A frog blocked the way and made the ant creep under him. And then sat on the ant. The ant in despair bit the frog hard on the belly. The angered frog jumped and by chance broke the ladder of a big old squirrel. The squirrel cut in two a stem of gourd, and the gourd fell on a wild boar.

"The wild boar uprooted a plaintain tree containing a sparrow's nest. The bewildered sparrow flew into the ear of a deaf elephant. The elephant, wild at what happened, rooted up a rock. And the rock rolled down and killed the maharajah's son.

The maharajah held an inquest. The blame was traced back to the ant and the frog. Both were found guilty of murder of the king's son. The ant was tied fast around the waist with a hair of the dead prince. Now his waist is small. The frog was beaten severely with a stinging nettle. Now he is spotty all over."

Scholars believe that the gypsy tribes which have been wandering across Europe since the 15th century are remnants of an ancient tribe from India.

The ocelot is the most beautifully marked of all cats. Its fur is soft and marked with black spots and stripes against a tawny background. No two are ever alike.

"I wonder what Abe Lincoln would say if he could see the Republican party now," remarked President Truman in a recent campaign speech.

We don't know — but he'd probably say the same thing Tom Jefferson would say about today's Democratic party!

THE Lubbock Independent School system now embraces nearly 10,000 boys and girls. In addition to the responsibility of caring for the mental needs of these youngsters, the schools also bear a part of the over-all responsibility of seeing to their unusual physicial needs.

From the standpoint of school health administration, the Lubbock schools are progressing. Nurses, while too few, are on the job; there is again a school physician, albeit not a full time one, but school authorities are in the process of further developing the health program.

Periodically, youngsters are examined for possible tubercular infection; eyes are checked; teeth are checked.

As far as the health program goes, it is fine. The trouble is, that the city, its environs and the schools have mushroomed in growth to such an extent that the health program hasn't been able to be kept up with the demands.

It comes to our attention that there are numerous youngsters in school now whose hearing is impaired, slightly, or greatly.

Since there are no periodic examinations, many teachers have no idea of the incidence of impaired hearing in their classes. Very probably a majority of youngsters whose school progress is listed as "slow" are victims of hearing handicaps which go unnoticed.

How many such youngsters there are in the Lubbock schools, nobody knows. But it is time, we think, that somebody does know — and that steps are taken to give special instruction to children with handicapped hearing.

Parents of such youngsters will do well to band together, work up figures and estimate needs, then lay them before school officials.

We're certain that school authorities will respond, readily, when appraised of the needs involved.

When Barnum was alive, there was a sucker born every minute, but the birth rate has gone up since then.

A NUMBER of people in this section are planning to vote a "split ticket" next Tuesday and, judging from our mail and telephone calls — in addition to conversation we hear — others would like to do likewise if they were sure that if they do so their votes will be counted.

There is considerable confusion on the subject, so for the benefit of those confused, here is the dope:

A voter next Tuesday may jump and skip all over the ballot and his vote for every individual candidate must be accepted and counted, without regard for party lines.

Tuesday's election is a general election and every candidate on the general election ballot is a bona fide candidate as far as their rights to receive votes are concerned.

Let us take the case of the mythical John Doe to use as an example.

Let us assume that John wants to divide his vote between various Democratic, States Rights Democratic and Republican candidates; that he wants to cast his vote on the basis of his opinion of the best candidates for the jobs in question.

John can do just that; he can vote as he pleases, by scratching the names of the various candidates he opposes and leaving unscratched the names of those he prefers.

The fact that his votes will be cast in three of the ballot's eight columns, and are lodged with candidates representing three separate parties, is beside the point.

IF JOHN wants to vote for Thurmond and Wright, for instance, in the Presidential and Vice Presidential category, all he does is scratch out the names of Dewey and Warren in the Republican column; Truman and Barkley in the Democratic column; Watson and Learn in the Prohibition party column; Wallace and Taylor in the Progressive column; and Thomas and Smith in the Socialist column.

Then John wants to vote for Lyndon Johnson, for the U. S. Senate. In this event, he scratches the other two candidates: Porter in the Republican column and Morris in the Prohibition column. Theirs are the only other names on the ticket.

John Doe finds himself then down to the vote for governor. He doesn't like Beauford Jester, and he thinks the Republican candidate, Alvin Lane, is bound to be a better bet, even if John knows nothing about him at all. So John scratches Jester, and the other two candidates for governor (Overholt, Prohibition; and Herman Wright, Progressive) and he gets the job done.

We have used the above combinations of candidates merely as an example of how a citizen may "split" his ballot. The voter, of course, should choose any combination he likes and thus "split" his ballot as he prefers and not as we have outlined in the example.

From the major offices on down, John Doe probably will want to vote the straight Democratic ticket and if he does, he can simply scratch out all other candidates in the other columns on the ballot.

But if he wants further to scatter his vote, he can follow the same procedure he followed in the contests for President, Vice President, U. S. senator, and governor. He can do that on local races, if he chooses, the same as on national contests.

That's all there is to it — and John's votes, in whatever column they may be marked —have to be counted.

Nobody loses a vote by "splitting the tickets."

EVERY citizen has the inalienable right to vote as he chooses; for whom he chooses.

Vote anyway you darn please, but don't let anybody tell you that if you start voting on any one ticket that all of your votes necessarily have to be for candidates on that ticket.

Elections are held primarily to permit people to register their preferences for individual candidates for individual public offices, not to permit citizens to register an approval, or a disapproval, of an entire political party, its platforms and policies.

Those who whisper that "if you 'split' your ballot, none of your votes will count" are simply attempting to befuddle the individual voter and to nullify the cardinal principle of democratic government.

BY DREW PEARSON: GOP AND DEMO CONTRIBUTORS REVEAL WHO'S WHO IN CAMPAIGN

How Biggest Contributors Get Around Hatch Act

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Drew Pearson is on a tour of the West, taking political soundings prior to election).

LOS ANGELES. — En route through the West all you have to do to get a picture of who's backing who in this campaign is to read the list of campaign contributors to the Republican and Democratic parties.

This is not quite as easy as it seems since you have to be careful to look up the contributors not only to the Republican national committee, but to the G. O. P. senate and congressional committees and to a host of state G. O. P. committees. These were organized to diversify campaign contributions and get around the Hatch act.

PEARSON

On the Democratic side, the really big money is coming from labor. And it, in turn, to get around the Taft-Hartley act, is spending the money through its own separately organized committees.

Also significant is the fact that the biggest G. O. P. contributors—the Du Ponts of Delaware, the Pews of Pennsylvania, and the New York financial set are pouring their money not into Dewey's campaign, but into the senatorial races. They regard Dewey as good as elected.

Splitting Contributions

Careful scrutiny of the big money gifts is illuminating. Take one family alone—the Du Ponts. The Republican senatorial campaign committee is headed by a Du Pont henchman, ex-senator John Townsend of Delaware. His job is to win G.O.P. senate elections in Tennesse, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Minnesota, Wyoming and Montana.

To help him, the Du Pont family poured into the following amount of money during June, July and August: Lammot Du Pont $2,000; Irenee Du Pont, jr., $2,000; Irene Du Pont, sr., $2,000; I. Sophie Du Pont May $2,000; Octavia M. Du Pont Bredin, $1,000; Mariana M. Du Pont, $2,000; Lucile Du Pont Flint, $2,000; R. R. R. Carpenter, (a Du Pont in-law) $2,000; Pierre S. Du Pont 3rd, $2,000.

Under the Hatch act no one man can contribute more than $5,000. However, by splitting contributions between members of a family or between different committees of the same political party, the Hatch act is held not to be violated.

For instance, a few days before Lammot, Du Pont gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. senatorial committee on June 18 he gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. national committee. This was on June 9. Also, on June 11, he gave $1,000 to the Republican congressional committee.

Also, while Irenee Du Pont, jr., and his father and I. Sophie Du Pont May were giving $2,000 each to the G. O. P. senatorial committee on July 30, they also gave $2,000 each to the Republican national committee on July 9. Again, on July 14, the same three Du Ponts gave $1,000 to the G. O. P. congressional committee.

And on July 30, Octavia Du Pont Bredin, Mariana Du Pont Silliman and Lucile Du Pont Flint each gave $1,000 to the G. O. P. congressional committee, while on Aug. 2, Pierre S. Du Pont 3rd gave $1,000 to the same committee. Again, on Aug. 18, Pierre 3rd gave $2,000 to the G. O. P. national committee.

It's these gifts to the "side" committees which really tell the story of where the campaign money comes from.

Note — Three significant contributions appearing on the G. O. P. national committee list are for $1,000 each from Albert B. Wells, George B. Wells and Mrs. George Wells of Southbridge, Mass., The Wells family own the American Optical company of Southbridge which was prosecuted under the anti-trust laws by the Justice department under a Democratic administration. Under earlier Republican rule, the Justice Department didn't get too nasty with anti-trust suits

WHEN Pat Hurley, ex-ambassador to China, travels through New Mexico campaigning for the Senate, he really travels in style. The other day Pa Howell, owner of the Southern Pacific hotel in Carrizozo, New Mexico, was a little surprised to receive a wire from Hurley reserving ten rooms for a three-day stay.

The telegram stated that he and Mrs. Hurley would need four rooms; their secretaries, chauffeurs and campaign manager six more. The telegram asked for telegrahic confirmation.

Pa Howell does not run a big hotel and he wondered why Pat Hurley would want to bring such a big retinue to a town of only 500 people. But he arranged to oust a couple of traveling salesmen, even though they were regular guests, and wired Hurley that the ten rooms would be ready.

However, when the Hurley political caravan arrived in Carrizozo, the ex-ambassador did not stay at the Southern Pacific hotel. His party stayed at Petty's court on the edge of town.

Pa Howell was a bit surprised at this and phoned Hurley.

"I've held those rooms for you," he told the would-be senator. "In fact, I've kicked out some people to have them ready."

"You are entirely mistaken," boomed Hurley. "At no time did I ever ask you to reserve any rooms for me."

That ended that—except for one thing. When Hurley held his big campaign rally in Carrizozo, and most of the town's 500 people had gathered to hear him, Pa Howell got up and addressed the crowd. His speech was brief and to the point.

He merely read Hurley's telegram to him reserving the hotel rooms, his reply to Hurley, and a second Hurley telegram clinching the reservation.

"If a man can't keep his own hotel reservations straight," Pa Howell told the crowd of New Mexicans, "I don't see how he can keep straight the problems of New Mexico in the Senate."

'For Goodness Sake, Can't Someone Smile?'

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IT WAS ANN's first get-together with "the girls" after she had brought her second baby home from the hospital, and they were all prepared to lend her their sympathy.

MILLETT

Surely sympathy was indicated when the mother of a 2-year-old added the care of a new baby onto the routine of her day.

But Ann brushed the sympathy aside. No, she wasn't having a hard time. She didn't find taking care of a 2-year-old and a new baby at all difficult. There were plenty of hours in the day to get everything done. Of course, she admitted, she seldom went out. But she didn't seem to mind. She was enjoying staying home.

SHOCKING!

"THE GIRLS" couldn't believe their ears. Ann had thrown a bombshell at them.

Here she was, completely tied down; doing all the work for a new baby and a 2-year-old and not complaining about it.

No wonder "the girls" were agog at Ann's attitude. It isn't the accepted atitude toward children today.

If you have small children, you're supposed to talk a lot about how hard you work; how tied down you are; how wonderful it is to "get away from it all" for a few hours.

You're supposed to expect sympathy as your natural due.

That's the modern attitude. And any woman who comes right out and says that taking care of small children isn't much of a trick is a downright oddity.

"Try And Stop Me"

MAE WEST, the lady who made a fortune out of an overblown figure and the ability to mutter "Come up'n see me sometime" out of the corner of her mouth, suffered a serious setback in popularity about ten years ago. It was so serious in fact, that an association of picture theatre owners in New York publicly declared she was "box office poison" in 1938.

Miss West did not take this slur lightly. "Why pick on me?" she challenged. "Receipts in the whole industry are off 30%. The only picture that made real money recently was "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs"—and that would have made twice as much if they had let me play Snow White!"

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Lowest Point Of Presidential Campaign Reached In Chicago

CHICAGO — The low point of a campaign that was low enough already has been reached here in this rip-roaring city that Carl Sandburg called hog butcher to the world. It suggests a kind of political bankruptcy which Americans will ignore at their peril.

On the one hand was President Truman's demagogic speech. It was a crude appeal to the fears and suspicions of the racial minorities that live in Chicago's vast slums.

CHILDS

The words had been written for candidate Truman and they were utterly out of character. That made the crudity of the appeal more glaring. It underscored the recklessness of the implication that the Republicans were preparing the way for a Hitler.

On the other side, we see candidate Thomas E. Dewey embracing—going out of his way to embrace—Gov. Dwight Green and the Green political machine. This is in the face of the exposure of the corruption of the Green machine in a courageous newspaper, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Documents Rottenness

In column after column beginning in early August the Post-Dispatch has documented the rottenness of the Republican machine in this state. Those stories showed how gambling and vice paid tribute to the Green organization.

They supplemented the report of a committee of the legislature which showed a year ago how state institutions were being mulcted of millions of dollars. Expert observers believe the "take" of the Republican machine in this state is far greater than the graft of the Pendergast machine in Missouri at the height of its power.

What is the answer of the Green machine to these charges? It is to set up under the direction of State Attorney General George F. Barrett a grand jury investigation in Peoria, which ends by returning an indictment against Theo C. Link, reporter who brought to light the charges against the governor.

That is pretty brazen behavior. In fact, it is so brazen that it may cost Green his re-election in a state that seems certain to go for Dewey.

GREEN is the creature of the Chicago Tribune. Republican politicians, with good reason to know, say that three weeks before the Republican convention at Philadelphia Green made a deal with Dewey. In return for delivering the Illinois delegation to Dewey at the right moment, Green was to be nominated vice president, or if that could not be put over, then he would be made attorney general in the Dewey cabinet.

Shades of Harry M. Daugherty! But that little dream went glimmering. Col. McCormick of the Tribune stepped on it. Later at Philadelphia McCormick, in an interview, said Dewey was such a poor candidate he could not carry 10 states.

The Post-Dispatch, in a powerful editorial on Sunday, charged that the action of the grand jury in trying to muzzle its reporter was "an act brought by faithless politicians who know that a day of reckoning for their misrule in Illinois is at hand." The Peoria Journal called it a "whitewash" deliberately intended to cover up evidence of crime and corruption uncovered by a previous grand jury.

To give its editorial wider currency, the Post-Dispatch paid to have it reprinted in a number of Illinois papers, including the Tribune, which has consistently distorted and played down the opposition campaign.

Demo Candidates Able

The irony is that the Democrats this year have an able candidate for governor and an able candidate for U. S. senator. Adlai Stevenson, whose career has taken him into many fields of activity, has a chance to beat Green. He has won wide support from Republicans sickened by the mess that Green has made in the state.

The Democratic candidate for the senate is Paul Douglas, college professor and reform councilman in Chicago with a splendid combat record with the Marines. He has somewhat less of a chance to defeat Sen. O. Waylan Brooks, the Tribune's senator, who is clinging hard to Dewey's coattails in the hope of being pulled through.

Billboards splashed around the entire state and paid for out of the huge campaign fund collected by the machine show a handsome picture of Green The caption underneath says, "The GOOD governor." That is to make a mockery or words. It is a bad joke flung in the face of the state that produced Abraham Lincoln.

NON-MEMBER BANKS

WICHITA, Kan. (U.P.)—Urging a requirement that banks advertise their status, J. Earl Shaefer, a member of the state banking board, disclosed that Kansas has 152 banks which are not members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Two hundred eighty Kansas Banks are EDIC members.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE NEW HOSPITAL WING

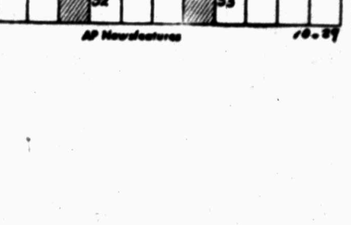

The placing into service of Lubbock Memorial hospital's new wing on yesterday morning will help, considerably, to ease the space problem of Lubbock hospitals.

The new wing, costing, equipped, in excess of $115,000, not only gives Lubbock Memorial larger facilities for maternity patients, but the 20 additional beds in the wing will be helpful in caring for other patients in this era of a booming city and section.

Lubbock Memorial's latest of many expansions over the past quarter century will not alter plans of that institution for building a large hospital on West Nineteenth in the immediate years ahead. Neither will it change plans of West Texas hospital to add, materially, to its facilities. For as welcome as the new wing is, Lubbock's hospital needs are certain to continue growing, making essential further expansions planned by both hospitals for the relatively near future.

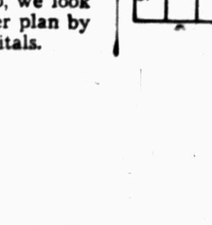

We salute the ownership and management of Lubbock Memorial hospital in their new expansion, which attests, again, their faith in the city and the area. Also, we look forward to the other expansions now well under plan by both Lubbock Memorial and West Texas hospitals.

Strike On In Italy As Other Walkouts Threaten Economy

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Oct. 29.—Two general strikes began in Italian provinces today, but one of them was called off within a few hours.

The strike in Florence province ended when agreement was reached between union representatives and management of a manufacturing firm.

The Communist-led Florence Chamber of Commerce had called the general walkout to protest the layoff of 200 workers in the plant two weeks ago.

Other Strikes Threatened

Labor leaders said management has agreed to take the workers back.

The other strike at Reggio Emilia province is scheduled to run from noon to midnight.

Meanwhile other strikes menaced Italy's wobbly industrial structure.

In Sardinia, miners went on strike today, protesting "repeated violations" of their contracts.

In Turin, 55,000 employes of the Fiat automobile works continued their "non-cooperation" protest against dismissal of seven workers accused of terrorism, while at Terni steel workers who struck recently were reported to be "still agitated."

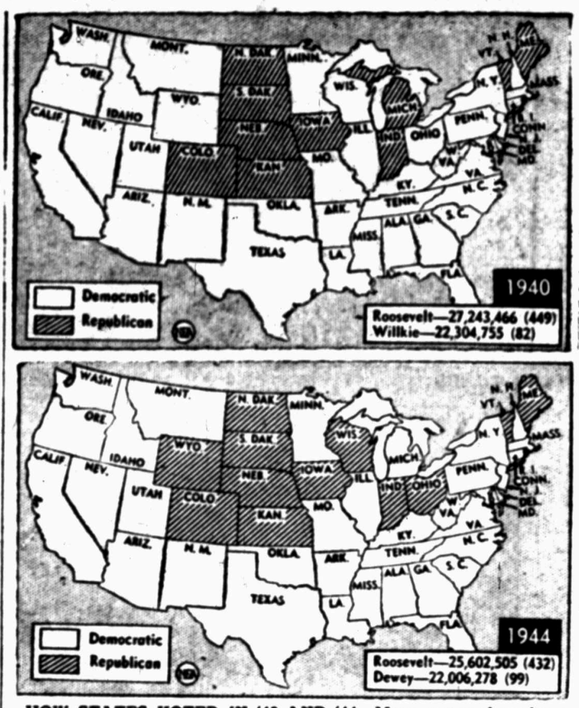

Grievances Given

Metal and chemical workers also were threatening to strike over layoffs.

State employes, demanding an advance on pay boosts (still to be granted) warned that they might strike again, and leaders of the Communist-ruled Italian general Labor Confederation (CGIL) threatened to call out maritime workers to obtain "democratization" of their labor organizations.

Most of the labor troubles are believed to be Communist-led, but many strikers have real grievances. There are three main ones:

1. Unemployment: Well over 2,000,000 still are jobless.
2. Lay-offs: Many employers striving to cut costs to let them sell in foreign markets, are turning loose workers.
3. Growing inflation.

Economy Study Set For City

Expert Hired At $50 A Day

Disclosure that the City commission has employed J. C. Turner as a "business engineer" at $50 a day for an indefinite period to help reorganize various municipal departments was made at the semi-monthly meeting of the commission Thursday afternoon.

The commission also promoted Gerald E. Jarvis from assistant to the position of director of public health; named Dr. L. B. Woods city health officer succeeding the late Dr. J. W. Rollo, and adopted a streamlined traffic ordinance on first reading which purports to consolidate all existing regulations into a single instrument.

The disclosure of the deal with Turner came out during a discussion of the nature of his duties. Confusion on that point was undenied. One impression was that he had been given a free hand during negotiations concluded Monday to go ahead with reorganization of city departments as he saw fit, disregarding department heads, the city manager and all others except the City commission.

Members of the commission, all of whom were present at Thursday's meeting, were agreed that they had no such intent. They were specific in emphasizing that they intend Turner's duties to take full cognizance of the opinions of officials in the various departments and that his recommendations are to be strictly advisory, subject to City commission approval, usually through City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr.

Members of the commission are Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Huftstedler, jr.,

Had Met With Officials

Just what led to the creation of this temporary position at a rate of pay even higher than the city manager, who draws $12,000 a year, remained more than slightly vague.

The idea seems to be that Turner, as an "efficiency expert" can help eliminate deadwood from payrolls, simplify record keeping, eliminate duplications and recommend other improvements which will more than justify his pay. No attempt was made to explain why the same ends might be attained with the existing personnel, at a saving of $50 a day.

But, in any event, the commission huddled with Turner several days ago. He displayed some charts which purported to portray the ideal municipal government setup—with directors of finance, public works, health and various

Martin Dies Talks To TMA Unit Here

Ex-congressman Martin Dies, speaking to membess and guests of the South Plains chapter of the Texas Manufacturers as sociation at the group's annual dinner last night at Hilton hotel, declared that "if you do not become advocates of America and the American way, someday there will be no freedom in America," and "more important than anything else you can do on this earth is to safeguard the American way."

Approximately 75 members and guests were present at the meeting, at which Edgar G. Lewis, chapter chairman, presided.

R. T. Brown introduced special guests, including J. Floyd Malcolm of Abilene, chapter chairman of the West Central chapter of the association and a director of TMA; Bill Hord of Lubbock, secretary of the local chapter and also a director of the TMA; Col. W. C. Saffarans, regional manager of the West Texas region of the TMA; and Mrs. Dies, wife of the principle speaker.

Capitalism Is Praised

State Sen. James E. Taylor, public relations director of TMA, who was introduced by Lewis, local chapter chairman.

Sen. Taylor pointed out that two basic principles prevail in this country, first, collectivism, and second, that principle of free enterprise under which the majority of the citizens try to operate.

This possibly is the only country in the world where freedom of enterprise still exists, he said, and free people throughout the world are dependent upon the United States and its system.

"The American system is worth working for," Sen. Taylor declared. "Capitaliism is a going concern."

He said that every person in this country who owns corporation stock, or runs a business, owns life insurance, farms, or has a savings account in a savings bank is, in effect, a capitalist.

Introduces Dies

He pointed out that in 1948, Texas had about 24 per cent of the industrial production of the United States. He warned his listeners that if Texas is to keep that percentage, the state and its people must take a more active part in their government and nation.

Taylor introduced Dies, now a Lufkin attorney, who headed the well-known Dies committee of the United States Congress during the late 1930's and first few years of the 1940's.

Dies said that he had given the same basic speech many hundreds of times throughout the United States while and after serving as congressman.

He said that his speech was not a speech, but a "story of how a great nation with vast resources, intelligent citizens, became indifferent and how a sinister group

4,500 Attend Fair Opening

SEMINOLE, Oct. 29 (Special)—Second day attendance at the first annual Gaines County Free fair was expected to exceed the first day attendance of 4,500, fair officials said this morning.

Judging Is Started

Fair officials reported that the opening day crowd was far above expectations, and that they were highly pleased with the fine quality of the exhibits. The fair is being held in the new county buildings.

Judging in textile, agriculture, needlework, art and culinary exhibits started today. Winners probably will be announced Friday.

Livestock and swine judging will be held Friday, with dairy cattle and kid pony judging Saturday. Livestock and swine exhibits were reported far above average.

Agitators Are Blamed After German Riots

STUTTGART, Germany, Oct. 29 (AP) — U. S. military police officials said today agitators engineered the five-hour riot here yesterday in which five Americans and at least 12 Germans were hurt. Thousands of persons took part in the disorders.

Capt. Charles G. Ives, provost marshal for Stuttgart, said squads of 'teen-age youths whipped the crowd into a fury at the end of a mass demonstration against the high cost of lviing.

"I don't know whether they were Communists or left-overs from the Nazi regime," Ives told newsmen.

"But most people attending the demonstration were good humored at first. Then, at the end of the demonstration, these agitators started whipping them up. You could really see hate in their eyes. Their true feeling for Americans came out."

30,000 Congregate

About 30,000 persons congregated in Koenigstrasse, one of the city's principal streets, for a demonstration called by trade unions against high prices.

After the speeches, military police officials said, the crowd began to break up.

But youths apparently planted strategically throughout the crowd began urging attacks on stores and on the German police, these officials said.

They began throwing stones, smashing windows and halting traffic. German police were unable to handle the mob.

American military policemen were called and formed a line that began pushing the crowd down Koenigstrasse. As the push progressed, small groups of persons would edge out of the crowd and into ruined buildings. They they would regroup in the rear of the advancing MPs.

Mounted Police Arrive

German mounted police arrived in jeeps and rode up and down the sidewalks, breaking up groups of rioters. U. S. officials said the military policemen threw smoke bombs into the crowd, but fired no shots. They arrested 35 demonstrators.

"Stones as big as telephones were hurled at us from the roofs," one MP said.

By 7 p. m., five hours after the riot began, the streets were cleared when a column of U. S. tanks and two platoons of U. S. constabulary troops arrived.

One MP suffered a knife wound and four others were bruised by stones. German police said two of their men were wounded and at least 10 demonstrators.

Republicans Tell Texans How To Vote Split Ticket Tuesday

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—Republicans are telling Texans how to vote a split general election ticket.

Half a million copies of a supplement of the Southern Weekly, telling voters the mechanics, were in statewide circulation today.

State Republican headquarters here said the eight-page supplement, edited in Dallas by Peter Molyneaux, has been mailed to all rural box holders in the state.

Besides full page articles on Republican candidates, the supplement presents four sample split ballots in an article instructing in ticket mixing.

Right Guaranteed

The law is quoted as follows:

"When a voter desires to vote a ticket straight, he shall run a pencil through all other tickets on the official ballot, making a distinct marked line through such ticket not intended to be voted: and when he shall desire to vote a mixed ticket he shall do so by running a line through the names of such candidates as he shall desire to vote against in the tickct he is voting, and by writing the name of the candidate for whom he desires to vote in the blank column and in the space provided for such office; same to be written with black ink or pencil unless the names of the candidates for which he desires to vote appear on the ballot, in which event he shall leave the same not scratched."

Article Explains

The article says a voter may do this whether he voted in the Democratic primary or not.

"The supreme court of Texas holds that the Democratic primary pledge is not legally binding," it says.

European DP's Arriving In United States

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Tomorrow 813 displaced persons are due to arrive in this country from Europe.

They are the first of 205,000 DP's who, Congress said last summer, can come here by mid-1950.

Even if all 205,000 manage to get in, they're still less than one-third of the 750,000 DP's in Europe now.

World War II displaced—that is, drove out of their homes—about 8,000,000 persons in Europe. With the help of the Allied armies and other agencies all but 1,000,000 soon got home.

Feared Persecution

The remaining 1,000,000 were mostly people from eastern Europe, among them many Jews.

They had no homes to return to or they refused to go home because of their fear of religious or political persecution.

But of that 1,000,000, about 250,000 were settled somewhere, between 1945 and the summer of 1948.

Up to last summe rthe U. S. had let 40,000 in here under the normal quota system.

But after those 250,000 were settled, there are 750,000 DP's.

The majority came from the Baltic states—Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia, now in Russia's hands; or from Poland, or the Ukraine, or Yugoslavia.

The rest, about 22 per cent of the 750,000, are Jews. They were the remnants of the Jews who were in Germany and Austria before the war; or they fled into Germany and Austria after the war.

By religion, the 750,000 DP's are divided this way: 64 per cent Catholic; 22 per cent Jewish; and 14 per cent Protestant.

After last June, when Congress decided to let in 205,000 within two years, the regular immigration of DP's under the quota system stopped. No DP's have arrived since then.

The 813 coming tomorrow are the first under the new DP law.

Of the 813 due tomorrow, 161—or 19 per cent—are Jews. But Ugo Carusi, chairman of the U. S. DP Commission, says:

"The way the law is written, it has the effect of keeping out "virtually all the Jewish displaced persons."

Carusi says most Jewish DP's got into Germany, Austria and Italy—for instance, from Poland—in 1946 and 1947. But—

The law says a DP can't come here unless he was in Germany, Austria or Italy before Dec. 22, 1945. Therefore, Carusi says, most of the Jewish DP's can't qualify.

Redistricting Measure, Among Amendments On Ballot, Would Benefit West Texas Most

Those in doubt as to the explanations of the proposals in the eight constitutional amendments upon which Texans are to vote next Tuesday have no cause for embarrassment. A search for explanations and opinions among so-called experts —lawyers, tax officials and others—revealed that they, on the whole, are about as poorly informed as the average John Q. Citizen.

This will attempt a thumb-nail explanation of the propositions. Five are of unquestionable merit. Four of these seem sure of approval. The others are in more controversial categories. One of these gives the deceptive impression of being a tax reduction measure. It isn't. It more likely would add to the total tax burden, if approved. This is the proposal to abolish the state ad valorem tax—the seventh among those listed on the ballot.

Redistricting Plan Backed

By far the most important, and most deserving, of the amendments is the second in listing. This would guarantee the regular redistricting of the state so as to insure equal representation in the Legislature. The Constitution commands the Legislature to do this job after each federal census. The Legislature has ignored this duty for nearly 20 years. Legislative representation now is based on the Texas population as shown by the 1920 census. If this amendment is approved, the Legislature will have the first chance to redistrict. If it fails to do so, a commission will do the job.

The amendment has the declared support of every newspaper of importance in the State, of practically all organization which has resolved on the subject, and of most important officials and citizens who have expressed an opinion.

Heavy Vote Needed

This would indicate a certainty of approval of the redistricting amendment. But do not be deceived. The quiet opposition is considerable. The areas which benefit from the present arrangement are sure to pile up a big vote against the amendment.

The best way to insure its approval is to get out and vote for it. It is not sure of passage—not by a long shot.

Now let's look at the amendments which have stirred little debate.

The first on the ballot would make county employes eligible for workmen's compensation. They aren't eligible for this protection now, and an amendment is necessary to correct this condition. It would protect the workmen. It would protect the counties against such possibilities as heavy losses in damage suits. The cost would be negligible—less than $100 a year in most counties.

The third amendment would place the stamp of constitutional legality on the practice now followed of allowing husbands and wives to file separate income tax reports on community income. This means a saving of many millions of dollars a year to Texans. If it is not approved, the possibility of those savings may be wiped out.

Succession Plan Included

The fourth sets up the line of succession if a governor-elect should die or become disqualified before taking office. Nothing of this kind ever has happened in Texas. It may happen at any time, and is sure to happen sooner or later. This is a precaution against the confusion and controversy which might occur, if and when it should happen.

The sixth amendment provides for the payment of sheriffs and other county law enforcement officers on a salary rather than a fee basis. In many Texas counties of smaller population, these officers now rely for all or a large part of their incomes on the number of persons who are arrested and fined. This amendment would correc that condition for all time.

Now let's look at the amendments of more debatable merit.

The fifth on the ballot would exempt homesteads from state taxation up to an assessed valuation of $3,000. This is linked closely with the seventh amendment, which would abolish the state ad valorem taxes for general fund purposes, which now is 30 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation.

In addition to this 30 cents, the state does and will continue to levy taxes for other purposes. This year those additional taxes are 42 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation. If Amendment No. 5, is approved, homesteads up to $3,000 will continue to receive exemption on that 42-cent tax. If the amendment is defeated—and opinions are divided on this interpretation—the consensus is that the $3,000 exemption will be abolished.

Seventh Amendment Hit

The most questionable as to merit of the amendments is the seventh. It arouses the suspicion that it contains a hidden "gimmick" of some kind. A casual reading would suggest that it is a tax reduction amendment. Definitely, it isn't. More probably, it would boost the tax burden.

This amendment merely would transfer from the state to the counties the authorization to levy additional taxes amounting to 30 cents on the $100. The counties would be restricted largely, if not entirely, to the use of such additional money for rural roads.

There are two basic reasons for the suspicion that the proposition would raise, rather than lower, tax costs.

The first is that the state rarely levies this full 30-cent tax. It won't be levied as long as the state treasury retains a healthy surplus — now amounting to more than $80,000,000. In brief, the state isn't likely to levy all, if any, of this tax, even if authorized to do so. The individual counties might, if given the chance. Some undoubtedly would.

The second reason is proved by experience. If the Legislature ever should need the revenues, now amounting to about $15,000,000 a year, lost because of this amendment, it would raise or create new taxes to make up the difference. In effect, this amendment would raise the maximum taxing authority by 30 cents. Sooner or later, the maximum would be levied.

The eighth and last amendment would provide for the "retirement and compensation"—meaning pensions—of judges and commissioners of the apellate courts and of judges of district and criminal district courts.

One argument for this amendment is that the affected judges now are ineligible for social security or other old age protection. A related argument is that the amendment might raise the quality of the judiciary by giving the jobs the added attraction of old age security.

Among arguments against it are these: (1) It would add to the tax burden; (2), continuing efforts to extend social security protection to public officials and employes, including judges, eventually will succeed; (3), the descrimination of singling out a relatively few judges for this protection without equal provision for the hundreds, or thousands, of public "servants" who also are ineligible for social security; and (4), the precedent which would be represented by propping the door open a little wider for pensions for ex-public employes. This thing could grow into proportions which would add enormously to the tax burden.

Hard-Working Actor, Studio Have Private War Of Nerves

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29 (AP) — Glenn Ford and Columbia are having their own private war of nerves.

The hard-working actor has a year to go on his Columbia contract and the studio is anxious to sign him again. So the studio is sending out feelers via the press and elsewhere in an attempt to discover what Glenn wants. The actor remains mum, indicating he'll talk terms when the pact is over. Meanwhile, he has been seen lunching with the boss of another studio.

Continues Schedule

Glenn continues his tight schedule. Now in "Bonanza," he is being mentioned for the lead opposite Paulette Goddard in "Anna Lucasta."

Shirley Temple is still resisting attempts to persuade her to make a stage debut. For years Selznick has tried to talk her into doing a play, but she has always said no. And why not? Shirley has done all right without having seen a footlight.

Walter Pidgeon was telling about his recent appearance tour at a radio theater broadcast. "People in the midwest are shrewd about sizing you up," he reported. He said that people nodded to him on the street and told him how happy they were about his visit. Such public relations work as Pidge's can help offset Hollywood's reefer publicity.

Mona Freeman's award as the best juvenile actress (in "Dear Ruth") in Film Daily's poll draws a laugh. She's a wife and mother . . . Beverly Hills will see some glamorous witches on halloween. Betty Grable and Jane Wyman will be out playing "trick or treat" with their kids.

Basketball in the United States draws about 75,000,000 spectators a year; baseball, 65,000,000; football 60,000,000 and softball 30,000,000.

For 101 years American brides have cherished this lovely silverplate

The moment you see its softly gleaming loveliness you will realize why more women own and love 1847 Rogers Bros. than any other silverplate. Each piece has a jewel-like clarity of detail . . . a thoroughbred balance . . . a matchless craftsmanship in every graceful line.

Each piece, too, has an ageless, enduring beauty that will make you [illegible] der each year you own it!

And the cost of this finer silverplate has not gone up! What's more, our divided payments make it easy to own a 76-piece service for 12 for only $94.75, chest included. Also . . . 52-pc. Service for 8, $64.75 including chest. (NO FEDERAL TAX).

undertook to infiltrate that nation's government, labor unions, and other institutions."

Began In 1935

It began in 1935, he declared, when Stalin summoned Communists from 52 countries to send delegates to Moscow for instructions in the new Communist strategy. Among the delegates were a number from the United States who then were little-known in this country, and who heard Stalin declare that "Communism cannot triumph until the American system is destroyed from within by infiltration in the government, in the labor unions," and other American institutions.

They came back to this country, Dies continued, set up a number of Communist-controlled organizations, and induced "many muddle-headed liberals to serve as officers."

They began to infiltrate the government itself, he declared, and placed 5,000 Communist workers in strategic posts of this nation's government.

"When our committee was first begun, the administration was concerned chiefly with the exposure of Nazism and Fascism," Dies said. Neither the President nor department heads and legislative leaders relished the idea of exposing Communism also, and when the committee announced its intention to do so, its appropriation was cut sharply.

Investigators sent to the committee for its use from various government departments soon were discovered to be Communists. Newsmen sent to cover committee hearings were Communists, openly hostile to the committee, so that garbled and distorted accounts of the committee and its actions were given to the public through innuendos and insinuations.

"It became increasingly clear that Communists in high places in the government were exerting pressure," Dies charged.

Findings Revealed

President Roosevelt, after numerous attempts to sidetrack the Dies committee from the Communists, and who admitted that Communists were harmless and ineffectual, refused to take action on the matter, Dies stated.

He said that committee investigations revealed, among other things, the following facts:

1. That state and local governments in Michigan and the City of Detroit were fearful to raise a hand against Communism and the Communist-invoked strikes and mob-battles.

2. That administrative and legislative leaders intimated that if the committee would give up its Communist investigations, it could literally "write its own ticket" as to appropriations, and when it did not, it was allotted $25,000, after weeks of delay, to carry on its work.

3. That Communist propaganda media included newspapers, magazines, and picture shows.

4. That he was refused time on NBC and CBS when he requested it in order to speak to the American people on behalf of the committee and its work, and that Mutual granted him time after much deliberation. All the while he charged, the airlanes were open to those who opposed the investigations and termed them "witch hunts."

President Roosevelt himself was deceived by the Communists, but realized and admitted it only short hours before his death, Dies said.

"What does it all add up to?" Dies asked. "These clever propagandists were on the job 24 hours a day, while we Americans were playing golf or running our businesses.

"That's the picture, and a rather ugly one, but you should know the price of indifference. The Communists believe in something, and they are willing to work for it.

"Do we believe in something? Why, if we do, do 50 per cent of us not go to the polls, and how many of us who do vote vote for our own selfish interests and how many are guided by the best interests of our country?

"It is a great challenge to you and to me and to America. Let me urge you to become advocates of America and the American way. I say to you if you do not, there will be no freedom in America," he concluded.

"More important than anything you can do on this earth is to safeguard the American way."

Immediately following, officers for the local chapter were named for the forthcoming year. They are: T. A. Rogers, chapter chairman; Joe S. McIlhaney, secretary; Hop Halsey, chairman of the legislative committee; Ralph Keeton, chairman of the industrial relations committee; R. C. Johnson, chairman of the public relations committee; and Harold Himm of Plainview, M. V. Hall of Littlefield, O. L. Peterman of Brownfield, and Roy Mack of Slaton, vice chairmen. Committeemen-at-large include Edgar Lewis, retiring chairman, and W. C. Saffarans.

Economy Study

other functions, each with a large personnel. If it should be applied to Lubbock, the present municipal government would be torn apart and then put back together again.

The upshot of the huddle was the deal for Turner's services at $50 a day for a very tentativelv estimated 16 "man weeks"—a total cost of about $4,800.

Turner reported Thursday that the first few days of his efforts have eliminated two jobs and other operating changes in the electric and water dedpartments which will save an estimated $10,000 a year. The job vacancies resulted from voluntary resignations which will not be filled.

However, the re-action to his employment among a good many city employes in a good many departments has not been favorable. The panicky feeling was acknowledged by some that his retention might be the prelude to a general housecleaning. The possibilities of resentment also brewed from the supposition that Turner might be empowered to re-shuffle personnels and procedures without considering the opinions and wishes of the department heads and others concerned.

Mayor Rodgers gave assurance that such uneasiness is without foundation. No city hall shakeup is contemplated. Turner will recommend and the commission and/or the city manager will act.

But it was the mayor's expressed conviction that economies can be effected which will save many thousands of dollars through a study such as Turner is conducting. Probably no jobs will be abolished immediately. But the expectation is that as many vacancies occur, replacements will be unnecessary because duties can be consolidated by eliminating duplications.

Mayor Rodgers has expressed the opinion on numerous occasions that, with increased efficiency, the city payroll—which now includes about 450 persons—could be cut by as much, or more, than 10 per cent. But his idea as to the cutting is not by wholesale discharges. It would be achieved through the gradual process of not filling many vacancies when employes quit voluntarily.

Turner has been a resident of Lubbock about a year. He has handled numerous assignments in this city and area and, according to the city commission, was recommended highly. He formerly was an industrial engineer with Western Electric co.

Jarvis' promotion to the new position of director of public health was accompanied by expressions of high praise for his services in subordinate posts in that department. He has been a city employe more than seven years. The promotion does not crary with it an immediate increase in his salary of $275 a month, plus the monthly cost of living bonus now amounting to about $86. But members of the commission said that efficient discharge of his increased duties will bring an increase when the city budget for the fiscal year beginning next April 1 is prepared.

Dr. Woods, the new city health officer, has practiced in Lubbock more than 10 years. He is familiar with the duties, having substituted during the several illnesses in recent years of Dr. Rollo.

Dr. Woods is to devote about two hours daily to his duties in the health department. He will receive $250 a month.

The new traffic ordinance approved on first reading contains little that is drastically new. Primarily, it represents a consolidation after several months of research by City Attorney Vaughn Wilson of the traffic regulations which have accumulated during the years.

The most important new provision would require the removal and impounding by police of cars which are left in meter spaces more than 24 hours, which are "abandoned" on city streets, or which block passage-ways.

The recommendation by Commissioner Huffstedler that police be required to study and be prepared to pass an examination on provisions of the ordinance met with approval.

Another ordinance passed on first reading forbids the use of loudspeakers, radios and other noise-makers on sidewalks except by permit. These provisions are included in one of the traffic ordinances which will be supplanted by the new one.

An ordinance which provides for parallel parking on Avenue H between Nineteenth and Twenty-sixth street was passed on final reading.

The request of Pioneer Air Lines for a change in landing fee requirements at Municipal air port was taken under advisement The landing fee for eight planes daily now averages about $34 per plane per month. The line asked the city to accept either 2 per cent of gross receipts originating in Lubbock of $15 per plane per month, whichever is larger.

The City commission agreed to reimburse the owners of urban Heights subdivision, in extreme south Lubbock near College avenue, for the cost of laying sanitary sewage lines. The owners can get the work done quicker than the city. Reimbursement will be at the cost of the work if done by the city.

Thurmond Will Go To Austin

FORT WORTH, Oct. 29 (AP)—States' Rights presidential candidate Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina today headed for campaign stops at Cleburne, Hillsboro, Waco, Temple, Georgetown and Austin.

Thurmond is scheduled to make a radio broadcast at 8:30 p. m. from the state House of Representatives hall in Austin.

In a speech here last night, Thurmond said every vote cast for the States' Rights Democrats "will be a testimonial that America does not want the mis-named civil rights program of Truman, Dewey and Wallace."

He declared:

"We shall tell them with our votes that we will not yield our state control of elections and voting qualifications to an anti-poll tax bill.

Other Bills Cited

"We will not yield our control of state courts and state laws to an anti-lynching bill, which uses the horror of an almost non-existent crime as a pretext to turn state laws in to federal laws.

"We will not yield control of our laws separating the races, which permit us to establish harmonious relations between the races in a manner suitable to our various states.

"We will not force our business men to conform with a federal pattern like the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices act), which would deny them the right to choose their employees according to their needs."

Doctor Wins Prize For DDT Discovery

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 29 (AP)—Dr. Paul Mueller said today it was "rather ironical" that he won the 1948 Nobel prize in medicine.

Mueller received the $44,000 prize last night for his discovery of the strong insect-killing powers of DDT.

"I was looking for a drug that would protect utility plants against damage caused by insects," he told a Swedish newspaper.

"It came as a surprise to me that DDT proved so useful in the fight against diseases in human beings."

The Swiss doctor told a reporter for Dagens Nyheter that he hit upon the right formula after reading a trade magazine article describing certain chlorides similar to those on which he had been working.

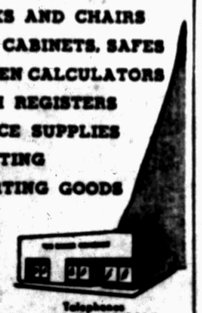

The final achievement struck him "like a bomb of happiness," he said.
