ROOSEVELT COUNTY GETS ANOTHER TEST FOR OIL

Timms & Henrick, well known oil operators from Tulsa, Okla., who have operated in the Smackover, Arkansas field, the Kansas pool and other important oil centers, have blocked out 15,000 acres south of Portales, near the town of Dora, in Roosevelt county and will begin drilling at once. The structure on this block was defined by Johnson Scoville, former government geologist of Washington, D. C., L. W. Timms of this firm was in Roswell this week and said:

"We will commence in a short time to drill a string of wells, the first location being Township 4 and 5, Ranges 34 and 35. As I see it, New Mexico is going to be the center of the oil operation in the United States within the next few months. I have it from the Tulsa reputable oil people that all of the big companies are blocking off all the acreage they can get in the State of New Mexico. Next spring, when things begin to open up, the public will begin to realize just how New Mexico is regarded in the oil world. When such companies as Cosden and Company, the Standard and their subsidiaries, begin to play a country, there is no question about it. When we take into consideration that all of the oil for the world's supply in the United States will have to be gotten west of the Mississippi river, it makes it a matter of necessity to test out new fields."

Mr. Timms stated further: "It seems to me that Roswell is the psychological center for the great oil pool that should be found somewhere adjacent to this city. It is well situated, up-to-date and only a couple of hours run, with good roads to the different oil fields, making it a practical stopping point for operators."

Asked if he would confine his operations to Roosevelt County, he said: "No, I will start a string of tools up there but will likely operate as many as six strings of tools at one time. We propose to do some telling development for the State of New Mexico. We are glad to be here and are here strictly for business. An article I read in the Kansas City Star gave me the first hunch that New Mexico was the place I was looking for. I came at once and have certainly not been disappointed. I will return to Tulsa, but will be back permanently in a short time and spend in my first well.—Southwestern Dispatch.

AN IMITATION FRESHIE

Are you imitating another? Or are you being yourself—expressing your own personality? Harold Lloyd in "The Freshman," coming Friday and Saturday to the Cozy Theatre, plays the part of a first year college student who seeks to win popularity honors by imitating college heroes of movies and fiction. The result is that he's the object of every prank the jokers can think of. He's the laughing-stock of the campus—and the last to learn the truth. Then pretty Peggy says "Be yourself, Harold. Make them like you for yourself, not an imitation of others!" And he learns the magic of her words!

ROSWELL WINS FROM PORTALES BY SCORE 39-0

Roswell high school defeated Portales high yesterday afternoon at Thorne park by a score of 39-0. Roswell backs tore the opposing line to shreds in the last three quarters of this game and although the visitors played with a vengeance and determination they were unable to stop the hard-hitting coyote backs. In an early season game played at Portales Roswell came away with a score of 33-0.

In the first quarter Portales outplayed the Roswell men. During this quarter the locals seemingly were relying on past conquests and Portales kept the ball in Roswell territory a greater part of the quarter.

Roswell made two touchdowns in each of the last three quarters. Joe Johnson, captain of the coyote warriors made five of these touchdowns, while "Bugs" Strickland, versatile quarter, made the other.

Lowe at left end, Green at left tackle, and Turner at right end, played the stellar roles for the visitors. Time and again these men broke through the Roswell defense and broke up plays. The game was featured by clean playing and good sportsmanship, a quality always manifest when Tommie Hall runs the game.

Following was the starting lineup:

Roswell	Portales
Gill	L. E. Love
Flood	L. T. Green
Davidson	L. G. Bedinger
R. Williams	C. Yoachum

POTATO HOUSES FULL

Practically every sweet potato curing plant in the valley is now filled to capacity, and several cars of potatoes will have to go on the market without curing.

Trucks have been busy hauling potatoes to the neighboring towns on the plains for several weeks.

This seasons crop is estimated at around 300,000 bushels.

R. A. McNabb, manager of the Portales Valley Sweet Potato Association says that several of the Portales Valley farmers have made a record yield of 600 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Chas. Harris drove Mr. Harris to Clovis Tuesday morning where he took the train for Amarillo. He returned Wednesday.

Wouldn't it be nice to buy a cake from the Methodist ladies Saturday and send it to your boy or girl who is away at school. They will see this and wonder why you didn't.

Mrs. C. M. Compton Sr., left Wednesday morning for Childress, Texas where she will remain some time with her daughter, Mrs. Davis.

The Portales Valley News was twenty-three years of age last week and Editor Greaves drew a most interesting editorial from the fact. And the occasion is one of more than ordinary interest, for the prosperity of every town is largely a matter of good newspapers. From the beginning Portales has always had good papers, and the present News is the best of them all. Hooked up with the best shallow water pumping proposition in the country, it is only natural that progress has been rapid with both of them.—Southwestern Dispatch.

Take It From Me--

The report has gone out that farmers would not be allowed to market their broom corn and farm products on the streets of Portales.

This report is absolutely without foundation, and the farmers of eastern New Mexico are invited to come to Portales with their broom corn, cotton, grain and other farm products, and the streets of the town will be turned over to them and they are at liberty to make any use of them that is convenient for the marketing of their products.

Portales is the best market in the state, and does not have to resort to any method which is a knock to any other community. Not only are the farmers invited to come in and make themselves at home, but buyers of cotton and broom corn are invited to make Portales their headquarters. There is no occupation tax for buyers of farm products, and the report to the contrary was caused by the fact that warehouses come under the occupation tax.

Portales has won the reputation of being the best cotton, broom corn and grain market in eastern New Mexico and every effort will be made to keep up this record.

Bring in your products. The town is yours.
You will also find that the merchants advertising in this paper are offering you real values for your money. Pay them a visit while in town.

PORTALES MAKES MANY PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

Portales is a busy place at present with three construction crews at work on public improvements.

One making the water extension and one on the paving work on Liberty Street, and one on the sewer extension.

All three of the above contracts are in the hands of Roy Erick of Plainview, Texas.

The curbing of State street began Monday, and the pouring of concrete on Thursday morning. A number of the boys who were on the works here in the last paving project are back, and will be here through this job.

Besides the public works there are a number of private improvements under way. The pouring of the concrete for the Methodist church sidewalk began Thursday. This sidewalk will be four feet wide and extend over a 500 foot frontage.

The News understands that Mr. Voiles will also have a sidewalk laid along his property, and Dave Shapcott is contemplating one along his property.

There are a number of new houses under construction. Ed J. Neer is erecting a sheet iron ware house, just across the alley back of the Universal Motor Company on Liberty street.

Just across the street from this the Kemp Lumber Company have purchased the lots and will have their lumber yard moved to this location in the near future.

The new brick bungalow of J. B. Sledge on Liberty street is going up rapidly, and will soon be completed.

The new brick business house on lower Main street is only waiting for brick to complete this structure.

The rumor of a new brick hotel near the square is still afloat.

Ere spring comes there will be many new buildings in Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet Sanders are the proud parents of a new boy. He came on the 4th of Nov.

MARRIAGE VACATIONS REMEDY FOR DIVORCE EVIL, COLE BELIEVES

Providence, R. I., Oct. 20.—"Marriage vacations" during which a man and a wife must live apart under the supervision of a probation officer of a marital relations court, with their children taken care of by a state appointed custodian, are the remedy for the divorce evil which the Rhode Island commission on marriage and divorce will consider. Frederick B. Cole, secretary of the commission and author of the plan, announced today.

MR. WORLD AND MISS CHURCH ON EASY STREET

The theme for next Sunday mornings sermon at the Methodist church is "Christianity and the Nations."

At 7:00 P. M. the subject is "Mr. World and Miss Church on Easy Street."

The congregations last Sunday were gratifying. I always appreciate a good audience. Thank you.

The pastor is under obligations to the friends who assisted so generously in the purchase of a conveyance. Portales knows how to treat her pastors well.

The sidewalk is being built around the church property by the kindness of many friends. Bro. Grizzle's idea bears good fruit. Some preachers are no nuisance.

Let's all go to church next Sunday and hunt some other day.

L. L. THURSTON

The ladies of the Methodist church are to have a cooked food sale at Ed J. Neers, furniture store Saturday beginning at 10 o'clock. They will have the usual pies, cakes, hot rolls and dressed chickens for sale. There has been no committee appointed to solicit so the ladies of the church are asked to respond to this call.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY EXHIBIT A BIG SUCCESS

Coe Howard and W. B. Oldham returned on last Friday night from Waco, Texas where they had been with the Roosevelt county exhibit.

Mr. Howard says that this exhibit attracted wide attention, and created a very friendly feeling with the people of Waco, a feeling which will result in a hearty cooperation in the settling and developing this section of the state.

The people who visited the Cotton Palace were amazed at the wide range of agriculture of the Portales Valley and many questions were asked in regard to the country in general. Each inquirer was supplied with Roosevelt County literature, and invited to come out and see the country for themselves.

The painting which was used as a background for the exhibit will be brought back to Portales and placed in the Chamber of Commerce.

DICE-NORRIS

At the Baptist Church on last Sunday evening, Rev. Grizzle, in a very impressive manner, using a double ring ceremony united in marriage, Miss Hazel Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Norris of Portales and Mr. Frank Dice of Clovis.

The church was beautifully and tastefully decorated in the colors of white and gold, with yellow and white chrysanthemums with enough palms, ferns and potted plants to make a lovely scene. The ceremony was performed under a most beautiful arch of white and yellow flowers in the center of which was a large bow of tulle. The special pews were marked by yellow and white streamers of tulle and the flowers of the same color.

Just before the ceremony, Harry Love of Clovis gave two impressive, solos, "I Love You Truly," and "Oh Promise Me." Mr. Case of Clovis was at the piano.

Miss Elizabeth Priddy, dressed in brown velvet with fur trimming and corsage of yellow chrysanthemums, played Longfellow's Bridal March.

The ushers were Jno. W. Ballow, Jr., and Mr. Lane of Clovis. The flower girl and boy were Margie Lenna Goodson, dressed in white crepe de chene and Jr. Brassell in white satin.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Lane of Clovis, sister of the groom. She was dressed in brown satin crepe, fur trimmed with accessories to match.

Miss Eileen Norris and Miss Weyma Norris were bridesmaids. They were dressed in satin crepe of the new shade of red alcazar, which harmonized with the color scheme.

The bride Miss Hazel Norris, dressed in tan satin crepe with hat and all accessories to match and looking very beautiful, entered on the arm of her father, E. J. Norris.

The groom, Frank Dice and his best man, Syvallon Norris, brother of the bride, each in the conventional black met the bride and her father at the altar. The ring bearers, Blanch Lyons dressed in white crepe de chene and Bennie Lee Compton, dressed in white velvet entered carrying the rings concealed in large yellow and white chrysanthemums. The brides bouquet was white carnations and white chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids and maids of honor each carried large bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony the wedding party held an informal reception at the church after which they departed for their home in Clovis where the groom is employed by the Santa Fe railway.

Numerous and beautiful were the gifts bestowed upon this happy couple and they each have many friends who wish them much happiness on life's journey.

QUEEN OF AUTO THIEVES IN THE PHOENIX JAIL

Phoenix, Arizona, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Velna Tippitt, self styled "queen of the auto thieves" who is held in jail here awaiting transfer to Denver, where she will face charges of auto theft in federal court, was at liberty for an hour Sunday morning.

She and another woman prisoner obtained a key to the women's quarters of the jail and escaped wearing male attire. In an hour they were rearrested by police. Mrs. Tippitt was accompanied in her break for freedom by Cessie Broomfield, who is awaiting transfer to Idaho to face charges of auto theft.

DRY LAND FARM GROWS FINE TURNIPS

Saturday of last week, the News was presented with some fine turnips grown on the dry land farm of Perry McGaha at Emzy in this county. These turnips averaged 2 1-2 pounds each.

We have always said Roosevelt County was one of the places where man could raise every thing he eats at home and, Henry Holland adds a part of the proof. He sent to our office Saturday seven turnips which altogether tipped the scales at fifty-five pounds, and they had not been irrigated either, just dry land farming.

APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR HANNETT

Mrs. Grace T. Bear, General Federation Director for New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs received today notification of her appointment by Governor A. T. Hannett as member of the board of directors of the State Home and Training School for Mental Defectives. This was the Seventh State Legislature creating such institution. The work of founding such a home and school now rests on this board of directors.—Roswell Record.

LINDSEY-BECKER

Governor W. E. Lindsey of Portales and Miss Bertha Becker of Albuquerque were married Thursday morning at Clovis, at the Episcopal Manse.

They left immediately for Albuquerque by auto.

Announcements in Albuquerque newspapers that Former Gov. Washington E. Lindsey is to marry Miss Bertha Becker of Albuquerque, caused a good deal of interest in official and social circles of the capitol. Governor Lindsey has been a widower for several years. Miss Becker formerly wrote for the Albuquerque Morning Journal and resided with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fox when Mr. Fox was editor of that paper.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Governor Lindsey has recently leased his law office and gone to Albuquerque, and one wondered at the smiles and knowing looks of some of his most intimate friends. He has numbers of friends in Roosevelt County who wish him much happiness along life's path-way.

If you want a nice cake, pie or chicken for Sunday dinner, see the Methodist ladies at Ed J. Neers on Saturday.

Mrs. Rose McDowell entertaining at dinner on Monday evening the following: Mrs. H. E. Jones, Mrs. N. F. Wollard, Mrs. Nelson of Oklahoma and Mrs. C. J. Whitcomb.

Mrs. Milton Brown and Francis and Maleolm were down from Clovis on Friday to attend Marie Neer's party.

BEAR GRASS INDUSTRY

Few outside of New Mexico are familiar with the extent of the bear grass industry. The bear grass which grows on the plains of New Mexico is used in the manufacture of twine, bagging and other products. Its roots into soap.

The shipment of this product in the next month or so will bring into Roosevelt County over $100,000. It is now shipped to the American Manufacturing Company of St. Louis where it is manufactured into the various finished products.

This is a crop which can be continuously produced on our plains. It is now despised by every farmer who comes in contact with it, and in many instances is cut and burned. Within the next ten years it will be grown under cultivation.

DOES PORTALES WANT FREE MAIL DELIVERY

Portales is now entitled to free mail delivery, and to secure same all that will be necessary will be to connect up the town with sidewalks and a sufficient street lighting system.

NEW MAIZE COMING TO MARKET

New maize is now being hauled to the Portales market. While most of the maize is a little green yet, there is considerable being hauled. Much of the grain will be marketed through the feed pens this year, and this is the market which nets the farmer the best returns.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones and little Claudine returned Friday night from a visit to relatives in Dallas. They also visited Mrs. Jones parents at Memphis, Texas.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Debating Club held their meeting Tuesday night, a debate was held on the question, 'Resolve that the U. S. A. should adopt a Tariff for Revenue only instead of the old protective Tariff,' the neg. won, the decision, afterwards Mr. Crat discussed the problem of getting a larger attendance to the Debating Club and other activities of the school.

The Seniors entertained the Juniors Saturday night with a Halloween party. Of course we realize that the Juniors are not Freshmen, and not so easily scared by spooks, so we bade the goblins and ghosts not to venture forth and disturb us while we enjoyed ourselves in a few old-fashioned party game and music.

We are planning a big fiesta to be given Nov. 13, to raise money for the annual. More information on this subject will be given later.

We are also getting subscriptions to the Hollands magazine for a commission, which will go to the annual. If you wish to subscribe for this magazine please see one of the Seniors. We will appreciate your cooperation.

The Seniors had their pictures made for the annual last week.

Friday, Mr. Wayne being at Roswell, the Physiology class was without a teacher. Thrown upon our own resources for a suitable pastime we decided to perform an experiment with an egg, which had been there for a few days for that purpose. In the meantime we became rather noisy and the teacher in the adjoining room made us a visit requesting us to remain with him the eighth period at which time he would give us a talk. Of course we were overjoyed by the prospect of hearing a lecture by a member of the faculty and great was our disappointment when he excused all except two members of the class.

After an examination in Spanish, Mrs. Hunter, the teacher, asked a student why he omitted one of the questions, he replied, "well, when I came to that one I just says to myself, she is trying to catch us there so I'll leave it out."

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

(By National Editorial Asso.)

Washington, Nov. 4.—Though the sideshows of politics are running at full blast, another month must elapse before the 69th Congress, the main attraction trots out the featured performers in our national life. The Court-martial of Colonel Mitchell is the most interesting spectacle of the day. This affair proceeds independently but the other issues are contingent upon Congressional intervention. That is the reason for the Mitchell case holding front page position in the daily newspapers of the country.

Next year is a vital one in the affairs of individual members of Congress. It is the campaign season. For this reason, experienced observers believe that the dissensions in the Shipping Board and the Federal Trade Commission will contribute more political fuel than the Mitchell controversy. Some are of the opinion that the Mitchell matter will be easily forgotten by the public as it serves merely to usher in the general topic of Federal aviation policies.

Every effort is being made to prolong the court-martial proceedings on technicalities because of the popular interest. Without this widespread publicity a court-martial of equal importance would soon be handled by the military court and written into army records. After the initial display of fireworks by the Mitchell defense, the court-martial has taken on the routine aspects. It will require considerable "bally-hoo" activities or propaganda to keep the eye of the public on this particular case.

The charges of the Federal Trade Commission against certain moving picture producers has aroused interest in this independent Federal agency. For a number of years there has been a wide difference of opinion among the Commissioners as to what constitutes economic wickedness known as monopoly and restraint of trade. Some of the Commissioners have taken unto themselves the role of "trust buster" while their colleagues have attempted to use more conservative methods of correcting unfair conditions in trade.

It is difficult to determine a true public policy by a Federal bureau when opinions clash. The President is keeping his fingers on all of these rough spots in his administration. Nobody knows better than Mr. Coolidge that "public policy is a very unruly horse and when once you get astride of it you never know where it will carry you."

The organized farmers of the country are working out their legislative plans for the attention of Congress when it meets in December. The Washington representatives of these organizations say that they will have some real definite recommendations to make early in the session. The American Farm Bureau Federation, which is one of the largest of the national groups, is expected to define its policies after the convention next month in Chicago. President Coolidge has accepted an invitation to speak December 7, at the opening session. He is expected to define in detail the administrative policies on agricultural matters. Immediately after his speech, Mr. Coolidge will return to make his annual address to Congress, at which time he will also cover the agricultural situation with actual recommendations.

It is said that the President is somewhat disappointed in the failure of his agricultural commission to sell their recommendations to the farm interests. It will be recalled that the Commission made two definite reports but for some reason their recommendations fell flat.

In the Middle West there is considerable agitation for legislation similar to the ill fated McNary-Haugen bill. The claim is advanced that the Government must finance some export corporation to extend the farmers trading relations outside our national boundaries. Reports show that there is an exportable surplus of corn in particular, which must be marketed to prevent economic distress in the corn region. There were bumper crops reported in many localities and the domestic market cannot absorb the products.

The House Committee on Ways and Means which is charged with the framing of the revenue bill, has an unenviable task. Hundreds of recommendations, seemingly constructive to their respective proponents, have been offered as a means of lifting, or shifting, tax burdens. Authorized representatives of various groups of organized farmers, business associations, labor unions, etc., have submitted their ideas backed up by imposing economic and political elements. The House Committee must weight all these considerations and at the same time take cognizance of the budgetary requirements of the Federal Government. Nobody is deceived in the motivating ideas back of tax legislation. They are not primarily altruistic but usually for political considerations.

One of the great problems confronting tax writers in Congress is the need of minimizing the rivalry between tax jurisdiction, that is, to recognize the existence of taxation by states and municipalities, as well as by the Federal Government, sometimes on the same proposition.

BE A FARMER OR QUIT

The sad fate that befell a Texan farmer who moved to South America is related in a bulletin issued by the United States government in a special warning.

"The Texan moved to South America. He left here with a wife and family and $20,000 in cash. The father died and the family has sunk until they are below the level of the primitive barefoot Indians among whom they live. They chew cocoa—the plant from which cocaine is derived—work at times for 15 and 20 cents a day, and are utterly degraded."

So declared the bulletin which also says:

"Year after year these schemes unfold their luminous promises of quick wealth, exact their toll of the gullible and ignorant, and leave in their wake broken fortunes, ruined health and bitter memories. The Middle West and Far West particularly during the farming-depression periods, furnished the most fruitful field for operations. The sponsors may be either deliberate rascals or poor deluded visionaries, but the inevitable results are the same. The basis stock in trade is usually a fabulous acreage; located in some far-distant clime, far enough to make investigation difficult and prove once more that 'distance lends enchantment,' title to which they have actually secured at a price rarely exceeding two cents an acre. The promoter's selling price is usually from two to four dollars an acre."

The usual reasons why these undertakings fail, says the Saturday Evening Post, are that they are situated at too great a distance from market or railroads leading to market; unfavorable climate; doubtful title to the land; unfriendly native sentiment toward foreigners who depend upon one crop will almost certainly come to grief, but the farmer who has part of his land in wheat part of it in row crop and who has a few dairy cattle and hogs and turkeys and chickens and who comes to market with a full wagon and returns with it empty will prosper in West Texas.

There is a type of farmer who buys eggs and canned cream and also butter at the country stores. He may be the best fellow in the world but he will not make farming pay in the Panhandle. Neither will he be able to get ahead in Kansas or Missouri or Illinois or California. He should either be a real dirt farmer and play the game as it is necessary to be played or get into something else.

F. Edson White, president of Armour & Company, says that Kansas City is over-equipped with slaughtering facilities in proportion to the amount of livestock received. Hogs actually are shipped into Kansas City territory to meet the needs of the territory. Surveys, says Mr. White, show this condition of farms south and southeast of Kansas City:

Twenty per cent produced no eggs.

Twenty-three per cent no garden.

Twenty-seven per cent no milk cows.

Fifty-six per cent no pigs.

Seventy per cent no potatoes.

Ninety-five per cent no pure-bred animals.

Just ponder over the above figures. Twenty-three per cent of the farmers this year had no gardens.

35 per cent no chickens and 37 per cent no cows. This is in Kansas City's territory to the Southwest which is very similar to the Panhandle and Western Oklahoma.

The farmer who doesn't raise chickens who doesn't milk his own cow or who hasn't a garden or keep hogs isn't a farmer; the sooner he quite the better for him. —Amarillo Globe.

SAVE THE QUAIL

Santa Fe, Nov. 3.—Because of a serious shortage of quail in practically all sections of New Mexico the state game department is urging hunters to go easy on the coveys during the open season, which lasts from November 1 to December 31, except in Bernalillo County where there is no open season this year.

The game commission at a recent meeting shortened the 1926 quail season to one month, but this action does not apply to the present season. Valencia, Eddy, Socorro, and Grant counties requested the commission to declare the season closed this year, but their requests came too late to be granted, as the law requires the giving of 15 days notice before a game season can be declared closed. Sportsmen in these counties are asking cooperation of those living in adjacent counties in protecting their quail in order that they may have seed for next year.

It is not known whether the wide-spread quail shortage is due to over-hunting or to disease and failure to propagate among the quail. The American game protective association is now studying a grouse disease, which some authorities believe has also afflicted quail.

Drought always affects quail adversely as they do not mate during a dry season. In most sections of New Mexico they mated late this year, with the result that many eggs and young birds were destroyed by flood water in arroyos. Many birds are believed to have migrated to more favored regions during the drought.

Overgrazing and erosion have also tended to diminish the supply of quail in the state. These factors cut down the cover, thereby placing the quail at the mercy of hawks and predatory animals, as well as decreasing the supply of food.

The game department believes that, if the cooperation of sportsmen throughout the state is obtained, the slender supply of quail in New Mexico can be conserved. Otherwise, next year's shortening of the season will find few birds to protect.

"FRESHMAN" CLEAN FUN

Vulgarity is a form of tactlessness. That is the belief Harold Lloyd's mother instilled in her son in tender years when he had no idea of becoming the screen's greatest comedian. And that teaching of tactfulness, she believes is the reason why Harold's comedies are always free from vulgarity. 'The Freshman,' which comes Friday and Saturday to the Cozy Theatre, Lloyd promises is as clean as the proverbial hound's tooth. Its gags are woven into a human and humorous story of a freshman who is the college boob but thinks he is the hero, which he really does become when he—only the water boy—wins an exciting football game.

FAIRFIELD FACTS

School will begin again next Monday, Nov. 9. We hope all parents will make a special effort to get the children back in school at this time so that all may go right on with the work outlined for our school term without having to do extra work to make up for time lost.

Chas. F. Bieler is attending teachers association at Albuquerque this week. He accompanied Supt. Williamson.

Several of our young people attended the Hallowe'en party given by Miss Margaret Copeland in Clovis last Friday evening.

Mr. Harding Sr., has been real sick the past week. He is reported much improved at this writing.

Attendance at Sunday school has not been up to the standard lately. A good Sunday school is the greatest asset a community can have and deserves the support of every person interested in the moral uplift of our neighborhood. Our superintendent cannot make the Sunday school by himself. So let every christian worker get behind the movement and make our Sunday school a power for good in the community.

Bro. Graham of Farwell filled his regular appointment here Sunday and gave us a good sermon.

Chas. F. Bieler and family motored to Roswell last Thursday and visited Bieler's sister, Mrs. Walter Smith and family. While there they attended the musical concert given by Madam Shuman Heink. They returned home Saturday.

Mr. Henry Burnett is reported to be much improved at this writing. It is hoped he will be able to return home soon.

Uncle Polk Williams was agreeably surprised Sunday when his children and their families and J. O. Landan and family met at his home with a bountiful dinner in honor of his birthday. His many friends in Fairfield join in wishing him many more happy birthdays.

KENTUCKY VALLEY

Everyone has been busy gathering feed since the frost.

School closed one week on account of crops.

Mr. R. B. Converse has been busy cutting maize and filling his silos.

Mr. E. J. Kimbrel and sons from Oklahoma visited their old home here last week.

Fifty persons attended the birthday dinner given at the C. M. Myers home last Sunday in honor of Mr. Myers, Mrs. Myers and Charlie, their birthdays all being in November. Everyone reported an extra fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Deskin Cothorn visited with relatives and attended the birthday dinner last Sunday. Their friends from Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Aeron Oneal accompanied them.

MISSOURI BANS SEED FROM TEXAS AND N. M.

The Missouri State Plant Board has just notified President Kent of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts that they have passed a law regarding the movement of cottonseed into Missouri. This law places a quarantine against seed in the natural state originating in Texas and New Mexico. The reason for the quarantine against Texas and New Mexico seed is the presence, or reported presence, of the pink boll worm in those two states. As a matter of fact the pink boll worm has not been found in New Mexico for more than two years, but the general feeling of other states is that the quarantine should be kept on the seed for three or more years after the pink boll worm has been found. This is the reason for the Missouri order. The order further requires that all cottonseed from other states coming into Missouri shall enter only under permit issued by the chief inspector.

The pink boll worm situation in New Mexico is improving right along, and if farmers will confine their planting to seed secured from California and to seed grown in New Mexico, there is no reason why the State of New Mexico, within a short time, may not be cleared entirely from quarantine regulations on account of the pink boll worm. This cannot happen, however, if seed for planting is continually imported from other infested areas.

The Missouri order will not affect the market for cottonseed since practically none of the New Mexico seed goes to that state for planting or crushing.

Beginning at once, the Extension Service of the New Mexico State College is inaugurating a question box service thru Station KOB. If you wish to have questions answered thru this station, indicate the fact on any letter you send to us. The question will be referred to the proper person here at the College and the reply, with your name and question, given on the Monday evening following receipt of your letter.

Doubtless many people would be interested in the question you wish to ask. If it is answered on the air, many who wish information on the same subject will get the benefit of the answer. In that way we will be better able to render the largest possible service to the people of the state, which is the ideal we are all seeking.

Send in your questions addressed to the Extension Service, State College, New Mexico.

ORDINANCE NO. 78

An Ordinance to Protect the Public Health:

(1) By requiring connection to the sewer system of all privies, flush toilets, sinks and other appliances which receive or carry domestic sewage, located on premises within the sewer district, or upon premises abutting upon a street or alley which has a sewer.

(2) By requiring the construction and maintenance of sanitary, fly-proof privies on all premises within the corporate limits of the city, not located within a sewer district, or upon premises which do not abut upon a street or alley which has a sewer.

Be it Ordained by The Board of Trustees of The Town of Portales, New Mexico:

Section 1 That the maintenance of a privy, vault, or cesspool on premises abutting upon a street or alley which has a sewer or on premises included within a sewer district, shall be unlawful and dangerous to the public health. Such privy, vault or cesspool shall be declared a nuisance and abated as such (Sec. 21 and 22, Chap. 85, Laws of 1919).

That the person, firm or corporation maintaining such privy, vault or cesspool, shall be notified in writing by the county health officer that such nuisance exists and that said person, firm or corporation be given thirty days to abate such nuisance by proper connection to the sewer system.

Thirty days after notification in writing that such nuisance exists, if the said person, firm or corporation has not abated said nuisance by proper connection to the sewer system, the city shall advertise for bids for making the said connection and let the work to the lowest responsible bidder. The cost of making such connection shall be made a lien against the said lots or parcels of land as described in Chapter 133, Laws of 1923.

Section 2. That the existence of an insanitary or non-fly proof privy, vault or cesspool, on any premises within the corporate limits of the city, except all premises including within a sewer district, or upon premises abutting upon a street or alley which has a sewer, shall be declared a nuisance and abated as such.

That the person, firm or corporation committing such nuisance shall be notified in writing by the county health officer that such nuisance exists and given thirty days to repair or reconstruct said privy, vault or cesspool in order that it may be made sanitary and fly-proof.

At the expiration of thirty (30) days after the notification in writing, if the nuisance still exists, the city shall advertise for bids for repairing or reconstructing such privy, vault or cesspool in order to make it sanitary and fly-proof, and let the work to the lowest responsible bidder. The cost of such repairing or reconstruction shall be made a lien against the said lots or parcels of land as described in Chapter 133, Laws of 1923.

Mrs. N. F. Wollard and Mrs. T. E. Mears entertained the U. D. C.'s on Tuesday, Nov. 3 with a 1 o'clock luncheon. The house and luncheon tables were decorated with bouquets of eryanthe-mums and an appetizing luncheon was served to the following: Mrs. Coe Howard, Mrs. A. D. Ribble, Mrs. Edwin Neer, Mrs. E. T. Moody, Mrs. J. C. Compton, Mrs. J. L. May, Mrs. C. J. Whitcomb, Mrs. Rose McDowell, Mrs. H. F. Jones, Mrs. J. G. Greaves, Mrs. Chas. Harris, Mrs. J. W. McMinn, Mrs. Jas. P. Stone, Mrs. Nelson, Miss Ella Turner, Mrs. W. B. Oldham, Mrs. N. F. Wollard and Mrs. T. E. Mears. After the luncheon the tables were taken away and a very interesting program rendered. Mrs. J. C. Compton discussed the Civil War, and Mrs. Rose McDowell and Mrs. H. F. Jones rendering piano selections.

Last Friday night the spooks and witches held full sway at the Masonic Hall, where the Eastern Star No. 26 held a reception. You were scared stiff as you ascended the steps, for at the top was a ghost that got bigger and bigger and then began to get smaller, but when you were as you thought safely by that, the devil got you and you were led, some rather against their will, to shake hands with those grotesque figures in the receiving line, some of which caused cold chills to go down your spine. After you had passed this gauntlet you found your self in the real hall. You glanced at the mellow lights, at the decorations, at either end and felt reassured in a measure. Then you passed on in the semi-darkness to where you could half distinguish the form of a chair, when you were seated you nervously looked about to find your self among strange people, not a familiar face greeted you. There were clowns, ghosts, goblins, witches, negro mammy's and all sorts of nursery rhyme characters until you didn't know whether to let out a scream and run or just be quiet and hope they would not notice you. Just then you were served some witches stew from the pot and found to your surprise it was both pleasant to taste and soothing to your harassed nerves.

Several of the clowns sang a quartet, there seemed to be at least half a dozen. Miss Eileen Norris, about the only sane looking individual in the hall gave two very enjoyable readings. The calming feature was the half glimpses you got of Bro. Grizzle, and the assurance in his voice as he gave the orders. He didn't seem a bit perturbed even when the Devil it looked like for a while had him 'going his way'. After all the excitement you were relieved at the sight of a plate being passed to you on which was a sandwich, a cup of coffee and a piece of pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Mrs. Rose McDowell entertained with a turkey dinner at 6 o'clock on Sunday evening for following all from Clovis: Mr.

and Mrs. Scherick, Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Zerber and Mr. and Mrs. Heroid.

To The Ladies Of The Methodist church. Don't forget to send in your cooked food for the pantry sale by 10 o'clock Saturday at following all from Clovis: Mr. Ed J. Neers Furniture Store.
