

Youth Leader Will Speak at C-C Banquet Thursday

A man whose work with youth of the state grew into a program that now involves more than a quarter-million students in Texas will be the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce speaker Thursday, Feb. 13 at 7:15 p.m.

He is Robert T. (Sonny) Davis, an Austin attorney who directs the Texas Youth Council, of which the Skyrocket Youth Council is a unit.

Plans for the banquet, to be held in Bura Handley Community Center, were announced by Oris West, C-C manager.

There will be other highlights to the banquet.

Outgoing president Jeff Wilson will review accomplishments of 1968 and present traditional Chamber of Commerce awards.

Directors will be introduced by the new president, Ralph Owens.

The Rev. Ronald Crosley, pastor of the Nazarene Church, will be the master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Raymond Dyess of First Methodist Church will give the invocation. Mayor John Coleman will give the welcome address and Alvin Horton, 1969 vice president, will introduce the guests.

Entertainment will be provided by the Skyrocket Youth Council.

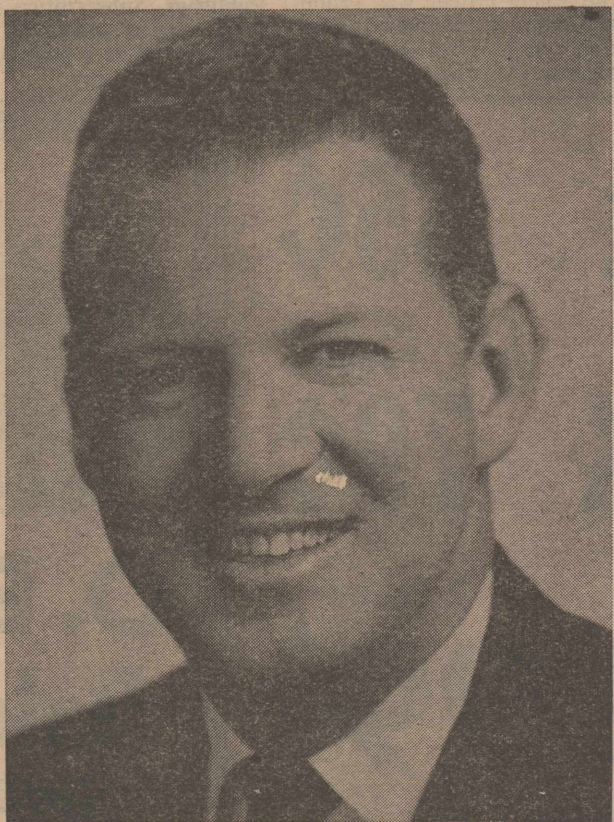

Mr. Davis' selection in 1963 as the first director of the Texas Youth Conference came three years after he was graduated from the University of Texas Law School. Prior to that he received a BBA degree from the University of Texas and served as an officer in the United States Air Force. He was assigned to the Royal Danish Air Force in Copenhagen, Denmark, to organize an air force as part of the NATO assignment.

The Texas Youth Council was set up as a privately financed program which attracted more than 1200 outstanding youth leaders to organize a delinquency prevention program. It has received cooperation from other private foundations in the Southwest.

Mr. Davis is president of the National Leadership Institute, a non-profit organization offering advanced leadership training to college and high school students throughout the United States.

He is a former assistant attorney general of Texas, and is now active in civic affairs. Among these, he serves as chairman of the Community Development Council.

Blood Bank Recruit Plans Due Saturday

General William Lee, who is with the Red Cross Blood Bank Program in Amarillo, will meet with Wellington volunteer workers Saturday, Feb. 15, to set up the local structure for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Wellington Friday, Feb. 28.

The meeting will be in the Commissioners' Courtroom at 1:30 p.m., according to Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital.

"We urge everyone interested in working in the drive to attend. You are urgently needed, and you may be sure that there is a place for you in this work," she said.

Police Chief Donald Nunnally is chairman of the Blood Drive.

St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary is working as the donor recruiting team, and this week, members are securing recruits in the various outlying communities.

Members of St. Joseph's Hospital Board, Judge Zook Thomas, Sandy Parsons and Mrs. John Sherman, announced following their regular meeting on Monday night that they will be at the Saturday meeting to help set up the blood program.

Sister Perpetua reminded that the blood quota is 125 pints. She further pointed out that

WHS Stage Band Plays In Brownwood Festival

The Wellington High School Stage Band, directed by Wayne Tucker, will compete in the 14th annual Brownwood Stage Band Festival Friday, Feb. 14, competing with approximately 14 other Class AA stage bands from throughout Texas.

The band will leave Wellington around noon Thursday.

Its program this year will include "Tiajuana Go-Go," "It's Not Unusual," "Joshua," "Joey Song," and "Cinnamon Kisses."

The judges will be Leon Breddon, director of the North Texas State University laboratory band; Harley Rex, director of the Houstonians, the stage band at Sam Houston State, and John LaPorta, a free-lance arranger.

One of the stage band's final appearances before the Brownwood festival was at the Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Friday, Feb. 7.

Stage band members who will participate in the Brownwood competition are: piano, Cathy Singley; string bass, Jerry Bowen; guitar, Bobby Saied; drums, Brad Kopp and Dickie Judd; flute, Carey Lewis; and

Saxophones, Linda Belew, Carol Sue Burba, Carlos Hatch, Gary Mike Gulley, Glenda

C-C to Launch Member Drive on February 26

Directors of the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce in their regular meeting Feb. 10 made plans for a concerted membership drive and gave the Collingsworth County Fair Committee authority to select a flexible date for holding the fair depending on when a carnival can be secured.

The membership drive will start with a breakfast at 7:30 at the Cherokee Inn on Feb. 26 and the membership workers will be divided into teams of three and they will canvass the entire county for new members and old members will be asked to raise their monthly contributions in order that the organization may work more effectively in promoting business and industrial activity in Wellington.

Billy Moseley, one of the members of the fair committee explained the need of securing a carnival at the same time the fair is held in order to insure the financial success of the undertaking. His committee was given authority to set the fair date after they make arrangements for a carnival to come to Wellington next fall.

The directors also voted to assist the Commissioners' Court and other organizations in a clean-up of the grounds of the

Rockets Close Season Against Quanah Friday

Wellington Skyrockets will be playing more or less for fun this week, although they will face one of their tougher district foes, the Quanah Indians. The game will be played at Quanah Feb. 14 and close out the Rockets' district schedule.

Coach James Stavenhagen has acknowledged his boys will have to play good basketball to win.

At the same time, Wellington will be keenly interested in the outcome of the Seymour-Childress game. The Rocket loss to Seymour Friday put that team in a position to tie up the district title if they can defeat the Bobcats.

Childress has lost only one district game this year — and that to Seymour. District 2-AA wants to see if this is a repeat.

On the same night Seymour picked off Wellington, Quanah defeated Shamrock 79 to 61 and Childress defeated Iowa Park 81 to 37.

School Election Called

Board Re-Elects All Principals, Coaches

Re-election of administrative personnel in the Wellington Schools was approved by the school board in its regular meeting Monday night, Feb. 10.

This includes the three principals, E. W. Clement, high school; A. A. McQueary, junior high; and Thayne Ammont, elementary school.

Mr. Ammont has one more year on his contract as head coach of Wellington High School and he will continue in the dual capacity, said Supt. J. L. Harper.

All other coaches were re-elected, James Stavenhagen,

Orbit Travelers, Inc., Opens Manufacturing Plant Here

Orbit Industries, Inc., of Granger, Ind., has announced the selection of Wellington as the location of its Texas plant to manufacture travel trailers.

Production could begin as early as three weeks from now, according to Kenneth Maxwell, manager.

With this, Wellington moves into the industry which is acknowledged in the business world to have one of the greatest growth potentials in the nation—the manufacture of mobile homes.

The man responsible for putting the town in this key position is Kenneth Maxwell, a former Collingsworth boy who wanted to come home.

He is now western sales manager for Orbit Industries, with headquarters at Wellington, Kansas, and will move here as general manager and co-owner of the plant.

This plant will be chartered as a Texas Corporation under the name of Orbit Travelers, Inc., of Wellington, Texas.

Both the plant and office will be in three adjoining buildings at 704-S East Avenue. Remodeling has already started.

Before leaving Wellington on Feb. 8, Mr. Maxwell authorized the Chamber of Commerce to start taking applications for jobs. He will examine these applications and will interview applicants personally. He said the hiring would be gradual at first but that later he expected to have 20 employees, most of whom would be trained here.

The Chamber of Commerce coordinated plans for location here through a special committee headed by Ralph Owens and consisting of John Holton, Henry Sullivan, Wayne Cudd and Jeff Wilson.

Mr. Maxwell also announced the appointment of two key personnel. His brother, Dean Maxwell is sales manager, and Leroy Wallace will be plant superintendent. Mr. Wallace is already at work here. Both men come from Wellington, Kan.

Judge R. L. Templeton is attorney for the firm.

The first units manufactured here will be 35-foot travel trailers, self-contained and in the deluxe class, Mr. Maxwell said. This size is larger than any manufactured in the Indiana plant.

"Probably later we will go into smaller units here," Mr. Maxwell said.

Orbit Travelers, Inc., is an equal opportunity employer. "Within two months we will probably have 20 employees," Mr. Maxwell continued. "Most of them will be from right here. This will be permanent work." The manufacture of mobile homes is not seasonal, he stressed.

Production plans call for the completion of 15 coaches per week at the end of this year. Dealers are already set up throughout the Southwest. The Wellington plant will share in the advertising campaigns and sales personnel of the parent company.

Sub-contracts will be let by Orbit Travelers, Inc., for certain phases of the work, and Mr. Maxwell indicated that his company will look first in Wellington for sub-contractors.

He will be in Granger, Ind., this week to pick up tools and equipment for the plant. Mr. Maxwell will be in Tulsa next

R.L. (Bob) Seale, County Resident 78 Years, Dies

Robert Lee (Bob) Seale, 88, who had lived here from the time of the organization of Collingsworth County, died in Thomas Nursing Home at 4 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 5.

He was in failing health for a number of months.

In spite of blindness that had lasted for 58 years, Mr. Seale was a farmer-stockman throughout his adult life. He lived five miles north of Wellington, and for 24 years his home was with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Seale, Jr.

Born in Denton County March 8, 1880, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seale, who were among the first to see the opportunities that lay in this county, which then had a population of just a little more than 350.

Mr. Seale had a keen memory and recalled many colorful and exciting events in the pioneer life of the county. He often told of the family's trip from Denton County by cover-

Fundamental Baptists Host 5-State Meeting

The Fundamental Baptist Church will be host for the all-day Tri-State Fellowship Meeting Tuesday, Feb. 18, the Rev. J. E. Young, pastor, has announced.

The services will begin at 10 a.m. and continue through the evening service.

Approximately 45 pastors have been invited from five states, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

Preaching and singing will continue through the day. Dinner will be served at 12 noon and supper at 5:30 p.m., Rev. Young said.

The Rev. Lloyd Gross, pastor of Bible Baptist Church, Elk City, Okla., will preach Tuesday night at 7 p.m. A baptismal service will be held.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the services, the Wellington pastor said.

Rev. Young will act as moderator of the fellowship meeting. The president is the Rev. Kenneth Armitage of Borger, while the secretary-treasurer is the Rev. Leonard Forsythe, also of Borger.

Quail to Hear TANE Speaker

Members of Quail Baptist Church will hear a speaker from Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education at the 11 a.m. services Sunday, Feb. 16, according to the pastor, Rev. Elvis Pitts.

Following this, dinner will be served at the church.

All members are urged to attend, and anyone who is interested is welcome, Rev. Pitts said.

Added Program

Samnorwood Students Get Hot Breakfasts

Samnorwood students now begin their school day with a hot breakfast, served as soon as their buses arrive, Supt. Robert Dwight announced this week.

The breakfast program is available to the school under the National Nutrition Program just as is the long-established school lunch.

Approximately 90 boys and girls eat breakfast at school each morning. Mr. Dwight explained that the school had to meet certain qualifications in order to begin the breakfast program. One is that it provide hot breakfasts for economically underprivileged children.

The distance a child must ride to reach school is another factor, Mr. Dwight explained. The breakfasts are balanced nutritionally and include milk, a protein food, fruit or vegetable. It costs each child a dime.

Mr. Dwight is the lunchroom manager and Mrs. Dwight prepares the menus. The cooks are Mrs. Nellie Lackey, Mrs. John Pendergraft and Mrs. John Birkey, who was added when the breakfast program began.

Norwood children have been getting their breakfast at school for only a week but Mr. Dwight said that he is pleased with the participation.

Wellington Wins 2-AA

Rockettes-Spearman Meet in Bi-District

Wellington Rockettes coasted into the District 2-AA girls basketball title by defeating the Shamrock Lassies 52 to 44 on Tuesday, Feb. 4, on the Irish court.

Behind them was a clean slate of eight district victories.

Ahead of them on a date not set but possibly as much as three weeks away, is the bi-district contest with an old rival, Spearman girls of District 1-AA, and rated as the No. 1 girls AA team in Texas.

"We'll have our hands full, but if we can beat Spearman, I feel we can win the state championship," declared the Rockettes Coach James Stavenhagen.

He indicated arrangements for the bi-district game should be worked out within a few days.

Two practice games were set up, one with Panhandle, the other with Canyon.

Wellington girls lost the first of these to Panhandle 78 to 64 Tuesday night at Panhandle.

The Rockettes will travel to Canyon Saturday night, Feb. 15 to meet the Eaglettes.

Panhandle girls, coached by Van Kooztz, are in second place behind Spearman in District 1-AA, while Canyon is leading in District 3-AA. The Eaglettes coach is Bob Snider.

Spearman girls defeated Panhandle 76 to 40 in a game played Friday night, to give Spearman a 26-5 1-AA season record.

That same night, Canyon girls defeated Muleshoe 76 to 47.

Looking back to the Shamrock game, Coach Stavenhagen said there wasn't any pressure on the Wellington girls, in view of the fact that they had a two-game lead in the district.

"We actually won the title by defeating the Electra ball club," he said. "The girls did not play one of their better ball games against Shamrock. They didn't have to really put forth maximum effort."

"The thing about this girls' club is they play well enough to win. They may play hard to

Cynthia Clement in Hospital

Cynthia Clement, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Clement, is in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, and her father said Tuesday that she was doing as well as can be expected.

It is not yet known what her trouble is, he added.

Cynthia was admitted Wednesday, Feb. 5. Mrs. Clement is with her, and Mr. Clement, Wellington High School principal, returned Tuesday afternoon.

A number of family friends have visited them at the hospital.

Norwood Water Supply Corp. Meets Feb. 22

The annual meeting of the Samnorwood Water Supply Corp., will be held Saturday, Feb. 22 at 1:30 p.m. at the Samnorwood Gymnasium. This meeting was called by Willie Knoll, president.

All members are urged to attend this meeting. The financial status of the corporation and a water user rate increase will be discussed.

Each water user should be present to voice his opinion on these issues, Mr. Knoll pointed out.

Saturday Night

FFA Sponsors PeeWee Basketball Games

By STAN PARKER
Wellington FFA Reporter

The Wellington Chapter of Future Farmers of America will observe National FFA Week with four basketball games Saturday, Feb. 15, beginning at 6:30 p.m. in Skyrock gymnasium.

These games will include fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Future Farmers will serve as coaches.

The first game will feature the Crispy Critters and the Canable Animals.

Playing for the Crispy Critters are LaDonna Jones, Kathy Daniels, Linda Coffee, Renee Taylor, Lana Lacy and Kim Goforth. They will be coached by Stan Parker. Jackie Pendleton's Canable Animals are Pamela Vines, Kay Coffee, Dianna Wilson, Glenda Norman and Debra Brinkley.

The second game will see the Eagles vs. the Raiders. Coach Danny Watts' Eagles are Lynn Hurst, Clay Lacy, Randall Sims, Larry Adams, Bart Paterson, Neil Cochran and Carl Taylor. The Raiders include Richard Sims, George Brewer, Donnie Settle, Don Allred, Steven Settle and Jimmy Saied, coached by Mike Davis.

Shortly after the second game the sixth grade girls will play. These teams are the Mark Killian Squaws and the Danny Gray Tigerettes.

The Squaws consist of Janet Bowling, Louanne Berg, Jean Ann Owens, Judy Chandler, Pam Black, Judy Moore and Debra Culpepper. The Tigerettes are Lucy Sullivan, Toni Taylor, Betty Burba, Renee Mitchell, Wanda Nash, Sharon Randon and Quinn Barber.

The final game will feature the sixth grade boys, with the Cowboys going against the Colts. The Cowboys, coached by Hot Rod Jones, include Gary Brown, Jim Bob Nall, Steve Hartman and Robert Wolf.

Ricky Norman, Larry Wright, Mike Cummings, John O'Rear and Larry Whitten make up the Colts, who will be coached by Nicky Watts.

Other players will be added.

There will be a small admission charge and all proceeds will be used to finance the annual Father and Son Banquet.

Williams Home From Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams returned home recently after more than six weeks in South Texas and Louisiana.

At Austin, their first stop, they visited her brother, E. M. Strickland. At their next stop, in Mauriceville, south of Orange, they were guests of another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Strickland and children, Tonya and Jerri Alana.

They were in Baton Rouge, La., for Christmas with two sisters and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Poor, Pat Poor and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Poor and Todd; and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robinson and daughters, Diane Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Alexander. E. M. Strickland joined them for the holidays.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams, along with others in the family, were ill with flu immediately after Christmas.

En route home, they visited a cousin of Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prather of Coleman.

Strong Studies For Ministry

Don Strong, who spent his childhood here, is a senior ministerial student in Midwestern Christian College School of Evangelism at Ottumwa, Iowa.

He, along with his wife, Paula, and their year-old daughter, Marina Louise, were here to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Ben Brewster.

Midwestern Christian College is affiliated with the Christian Church.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strong, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong, he was graduated from Amarillo high school and entered the ministry five years ago.

The family left here when he was 12 and his sister, Dixie, was younger.

"EGG TOOTH"

An "egg tooth" is a hard little knob at the end of the soft beak of the young bird. It uses this tooth to break the shell of the egg so it can get out. The egg tooth breaks off soon after the bird is hatched.

Quail Four-H Names Officers

Members of the Quail 4-H Club met in the school library Wednesday, Feb. 5, to elect officers.

Clifton Sullivan was chosen president; Tommy Caldwell, vice president; Joey Ross, secretary-treasurer; and Sandra Sullivan, reporter.

Mrs. Leta Hill, home demonstration agent, was present to help with the election.

Recreation for the Feb. 24 meeting was planned, and a project for the boys was considered.

Five County Boys Register

Five Collingsworth County boys were registered with the Selective Service during January 1969, according to Bill Hatch, registrar.

They were Joe Napoleon Kilgore, Michael Eugene Little, Daniel Michael Brinkley, Ricky Gene Brown and Leslie Joe Cummings.

Remedial Techniques for Learning Disorders Told to Belles Lettres

Remedial techniques used in the Wellington schools to help children with learning disorders were described for members of Belles Lettres Club by Louis Graham, school counselor, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4.

It is estimated that 15 per cent of the children enrolled in schools of the nation have learning disorders of some type, Mr. Graham told the group. "The figure is much lower in areas such as this," he added, "because we remain in a rural and agricultural area, where children engage in activities that are not conducive to these disorders."

Mr. Graham described how learning disorders are located. What once was generally referred to as "mental blocks" are to be studied in some 30 categories, among them dyslexia, hyperkinesia, minimal brain damage, and the perceptually handicapped. These can now be remedied or helped.

Mr. Graham closed by explaining the special education program in the Wellington schools, explaining its criteria and objectives—to enable these children to function in the community.

Mrs. S. B. Owen was hostess to the club members in her home and Mrs. Bob Hightower, president, conducted the business session.

Those present were Mrs. L. M. Bartlett, Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mrs. F. A. Hatch, Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. J. M. Stowell, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. J. H. Wood, and a guest, Mrs. J. F. Michael, and the hostess, Mrs. Owen.

JFF Meets for Game Evening

The JFF Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wooldridge Thursday evening, February 6.

Games provided entertainment during the evening.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belew, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sweat, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wood, R. T. Savage, Becky Sweat of Amarillo, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Wooldridge.

Dental Health Program Given

A program on Dental Health was heard by members of the Samnorwood Young Homemakers when they met recently in the school cafeteria.

Dr. J. M. Orr, Wellington dentist, was the speaker, and reminded the group of National Dental Health Week. Bud Higginbotham, power use advisor for Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, showed a film, "Set the Stage for Dental Health."

Mrs. Donald Coleman introduced the speaker.

During the business session, directed by Mrs. John Birkey, president, Mrs. Leon Myers led the creed and gave an inspiration, "A Parent's Prayer."

Mrs. Rudie Tate reported that 14 chairs ordered for the Homemaking Department by the Young Homemakers should be received by the next monthly meeting.

Young Farmers joined them for the program.

Present were Mrs. Billy Littlejohn, Mrs. Robert Dwight, Mrs. J. H. Oldham, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Tate, Mr. and Mrs. John Birkey, Mrs. Bill Waters, Mrs. Sam Carter, Mr. and Mrs. John Christner, Doug Coleman, Richard Bentley, and Jim Brown, Young Farmer advisor.

A joint social with the Young Farmers will be held next month.

Mrs. Elliott Speaks at YH

Mrs. A. L. Elliott was the guest speaker at the Wellington Young Homemakers meeting Tuesday night, February 4.

She demonstrated a series of centerpieces, all original and part of them utilizing items which many young homemakers already have about their homes.

Mrs. Farris Wood gave the devotional, "The Influence You Have on Other People."

During the business meeting, directed by Mrs. Glen Warrick, president, members completed plans for the Valentine party for their husbands Saturday, February 8.

In a current project, the Young Homemakers remember residents of Thomas Nursing Home with small gifts from time to time, with magazines, and on special occasions such as birthdays, with cards and gifts. In small groups, they frequently visit the nursing home.

Attending the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Benson Long, Mrs. Warrick, Mrs. Jack Neely, Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason, Mrs. Jim Forrester, Mrs. Larry Gollighugh, Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Donald White, and a new member, Mrs. Wayne Tucker.

WSCS Quarterly Luncheon Held

The Women's Society of Christian Service of First United Methodist Church met Friday, February 7, for the quarterly luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Dyess opened the meeting with a prayer and Mrs. Bob Hightower presided at the business session.

Mrs. Robert Karnes gave the devotional from the book of Luke, and the dismissal prayer was by the Rev. Raymond Dyess.

Later lunch was served to 20 Circle members and seven guests.

Domestic Science Club Visits New Clarendon Junior College Campus

A visit to the all-new campus of Clarendon Junior College on Thursday, February 6, gave Wellington's Domestic Science Club an insight into the growth of this neighboring institution.

This was followed by a visit to one of Clarendon's gracious older homes, recently restored.

Coffee was served to the Wellington women and their guests in the college administrative office by Mrs. Naomi Phelan, who accompanied them on a tour of the college buildings.

The handsome new campus on the west edge of Clarendon was made possible by the gift of a large sum of money from the estate of two women of that town, matched by federal funds. The college itself is historic in the Panhandle.

The visitors went through the administration building, library, fine arts buildings, dormitories, gymnasium and cafeteria.

Much glass is used in the contemporary style buildings, giving a panoramic view of that entire part of Donley county.

Part of the Wellington group

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Layton of Arlington are the parents of a daughter, Tammy Gay, born there January 31. She weighed eight pounds and four ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hezze Jones of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Littlejohn, Jr., of Shamrock, are the parents of a boy, William Bryan, born February 7. He weighed seven pounds and seven ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coleman of Dozier Route, Shamrock, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Littlejohn, Sr. of Shamrock. The baby's father, Sp/5 W. H. Littlejohn, is serving with the U.S. Army in Saigon.

Builders Class Has Luncheon

The Builders Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met February 4 for the monthly class luncheon and business meeting. Mrs. L. A. Wall, president, was in charge.

The opening prayer was by Mrs. Lee Vaughan, while Mrs. N. W. Murray brought the devotional, using as the theme "Love".

Reports were given by Mrs. E. W. Carter, secretary, and Mrs. Rosco Land, treasurer. Mrs. J. I. Herndon gave the closing prayer.

Members present were Mrs. J. F. Isaacs, Mrs. N. W. Murray, Mrs. Wall, Mrs. Ruth Wyrick, Mrs. Theo Parker, Mrs. E. W. Carter, Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. L. A. Johnson, Mrs. Land and Mrs. Vaughan.

Guests of Mrs. Sam Russell over the week end were her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shields and daughter, Tanya Ann, of Willow, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Lubbock.

Wesleyan Guild Continues Study

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First United Methodist Church met Sunday evening, February 9, in the chapel, with Mrs. Lloyd Wooldridge as hostess.

The study, "Mandate for Mission," by Eugene L. Smith, was continued with Mrs. Jack Davis as leader. Mrs. Guy Owens presented two chapters, "Our Mission Given" and "Compromised." Mrs. Jennie Holcomb reviewed the chapter, "Encounter with Society" from the book "Ventures in Mission" by Paul O. Madsen.

Mrs. Raymond Dyess and Mrs. Mary Jones assisted by giving a comparison on the good and bad reported in news media.

Those attending were Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. Barney Glenn, Mrs. O. B. Wilson, Mrs. David Baumgardner, Mrs. John Forbis, Mrs. Pearl Aaron, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Holcomb, Mrs. Guy Owens, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Dyess and the hostess, Mrs. Wooldridge.

1924 Club Has Federation Day

The speaker for the 1924 Study Club Thursday, February 6, was one of their own members, Mrs. B. M. Sims, president of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. This was the club's Federation Day Program.

Mrs. J. B. King was hostess in the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative directors' room.

Mrs. Sims reviewed the General Federation of Women's Club projects for the biennium, 1968-1970, and stressed the special days of observance of the club year. She read the club cues in the new TFWC Procedure manual, then presided over the workshop when members prepared their reports of the year's work.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. King, a report was made of the art contest held in Junior High School in conjunction with the American Legion, and work of the students was displayed.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Don VanPelt, Mrs. Jim Bowling, Mrs. Lynn Jenkins, Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. George Henry and Mrs. King.

Mr., Mrs. Robert Russell at Home in Lubbock after Jan. 24 Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bradford of Childress are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Donna Faye, to John Robert Russell, the son of Mrs. Sam Russell of Wellington and the late Mr. Russell.

Marriage vows were exchanged Friday, January 24, in Lubbock. After a brief honeymoon to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the couple is at home at 1809 14th Street, Apartment 225, Lubbock.

The bride was graduated from Childress High School in 1967 and is now a sophomore in Texas Technological College majoring in psychology. A graduate of Quail High School in 1964, the bridegroom attended Clarendon Junior College and West Texas State University. He is presently employed as a manager trainee by Pizza Hut in Lubbock.

Bridal Shower Given Saturday Evening for Mrs. Donald Wolf

Mrs. Donald Wolf, a mid-winter bride, was honored at a shower Saturday, February 8, in the home of Mrs. J. C. Hartman, Jr., west of Wellington. Mrs. Wolf is the former Patricia Wilson.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Hartman were Mrs. R. J. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. J. M. Strong, Mrs. Jack Sanford, Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr., Mrs. C. A. Winton, Mrs. Tom Caterlin, Mrs. David Peters, Mrs. Glen McLain, Mrs. Don Jones, Mrs. Richard Campbell and Mrs. Zook Thomas. Miss Mitzie Hartman registered the guests.

The bride's colors of blue and green were used in decorations throughout the house. Guests called between the hours of seven and nine in the evening.

DKG Members Visit College

Members of Gamma Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday, February 8, in the new library of Clarendon Junior College.

The 21 members present were taken on a tour of the new campus by Leonard Slidge, registrar.

Lunch was served in the college cafeteria, and later members held their annual White Elephant Sale. Proceeds go to the chapter scholarship fund.

The program, "Our Cultures vs. Other Cultures" was presented by Mrs. Fred Bourland, Clarendon High School home-making teacher, and her daughters, Miss Lynn Bourland and Miss Beth Bourland.

Clarendon members were the hostesses. Attending from Wellington were Miss Maude Coffee, the chapter president, Miss Bonnie Willis and Mrs. Charley Hill.

Quail YH

Fetes Husbands

Quail Young Homemakers entertained their husbands with a Sweetheart Party Saturday evening, February 8, in the newly-decorated library of the Quail School.

Assorted sandwiches, chips, dips and pie were served from a table decorated with a Valentine motif.

Each member presented her husband with a boutonniere, which was a stemmed Valentine having a candy heart. Games of 42 and Wah-hoo were played.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert White, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tennison, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Langley, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Childers, Mr. and Mrs. John Alf Thomas, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Eunice Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Haynie.

Mrs. Barjenbruch Entertains Club

The Excelsior Club met on Thursday night, February 6 in the home of Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, club president.

The club voted to make a donation to the Hospital Auxiliary fund drive.

Continuing the study of art, Mrs. Barjenbruch presented the program on the life and paintings of El Greco. She pointed out that his life was gracious and happy at his home in Toledo, Spain. His most famous paintings are "View of Toledo" and "Pentecost". Seven of his works hang in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

The serving table was decorated with a Valentine motif, and a dessert course was served to Mrs. J. F. Michael, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Rose Shadid, and the hostess, Mrs. Barjenbruch.

Betty Courtney Donaldson Gets B. S. Degree at Wayland College

Betty Courtney Donaldson received her bachelor of science degree in physical education from Wayland Baptist College at Plainview at the end of the micro-term in January.

She will participate in the graduation exercise in the spring.

At Wayland she was a member of Psi Lambda (psychology club), secretary of the Physical Education major and minor club, a member of the Wesleyan Club, homecoming queen candidate, campus queen candidate, also a member of Athletes for Christ, and the college tennis team.

She played with the Hatcher Flying Queens two years and was leading scorer her second year. She coached the Queen Bees basketball team one year.

Mrs. Donaldson has accepted a position on the faculty at Olton. In this capacity she will teach junior high physical education classes and coach basketball and tennis.

Betty Donaldson

Her husband, Larry Donaldson, is a senior at Wayland. Mrs. Donaldson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Courtney.

Samnorwood Future Homemakers Hold Annual Sweetheart Banquet

The Future Homemakers Chapter at Samnorwood held its annual sweetheart banquet Friday evening, February 7.

"Moonlight and Roses" was the theme carried out in decorations. Walls were covered with roses and golden moons, and at one side was a red and green wishing well. Red candles, entwined with red and white roses, lighted the tables.

Betty Coleman, chapter president, welcomed the guests and

Supt. R. E. Dwight gave the invocation. Following the dinner, the group played a guessing game, "Do You Know Your Date?"

Miss Judy Barber, home-making instructor, was in charge of arrangements, and the banquet was prepared by the Young Homemakers chapter.

Seventy-two attended, including Future Homemakers and their dates and room parents and the high school faculty.

Attending were Annabelle Harris, Debra Long, Tina Nunneley, Patti McAlister, Ed Watkins, Juliana Baumgardner, Ramona Ford, and the honoree, Cheryl Spillman.

Aquaculture New Field for Texas Extension Service

Texas Agricultural Extension Service is getting into the relatively new field of aquaculture.

Aquaculture is only one of several names. Call it development of marine resources or even sea farming, but what the practice amounts to is commercial production of such delicacies as shrimp, crabs and oysters along the state's coastal areas.

The Extension Service will be administering an activity known as the Advisory Services. Headed the project is Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, an assistant director of the Extension Service.

The aquaculture advisory service is an outgrowth of a program recently authorized by Congress to push national development of marine resources. Overall organization of the plan is similar to that used to establish the land-grant institutions.

Texas A&M University is one of six institutions which have received a National Science Foundation grant to set up the "Sea-Grant" program. Under this project, A&M will conduct education, research and advisory services.

The National Science Foundation has granted $475,000 to help the university develop a highly integrated program on marine resources.

Advisory Services administrative personnel in addition to Pfannstiel are Wallace Klussman, program leader, and Jack Porter, marine advisory specialist. Klussman is Extension wildlife specialist at Texas A&M.

During the first year of operation, the Advisory Services will focus on practical application of research data in the development of commercial production of shrimp and crabs. Klussman said. Field demonstrations are being started.

Results of the demonstrations will be used to organize educational programs for individuals and groups interested in aquaculture.

Parker is the prime investigator and leader in getting the aquaculture project on the ground and under way. Klussmann pointed out. He has five years experience working with marine organisms in the bays and estuaries of Texas. Klussman said the aquaculture program will be conducted in an area of coastal marsh near Angleton. Protection of ponds and marshes will be emphasized.

"Conservation of these coastal waters is one of our biggest aims. Not only do we want to learn to use these places for commercial production of shellfish for food, but we also want to maintain the marsh and estuary areas for fish, birds and other wildlife. Call it a multiple use approach," the wildlife specialist said.

The Angleton site was chosen because of marsh utilization research there by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Cooperating with the station are the A&M Wildlife Science and Entomology Departments, the A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Angleton, the Brazoria County Mosquito Control District, the Dow Chemical Company and the Texas Company (Texaco).

Klussmann said such a team approach should provide considerable information for determining the economic potential of marshland for beef production, waterfowl utilization, mosquito control—and aquaculture.

Pelican Visits Meridian Park

MERIDIAN.—A lone white pelican made a rare visit inland recently when it stopped off at Meridian State Park, four miles southeast of Meridian.

Park attendant L. C. Cole said the bird spent the night on his 90-acre lake there and flew north about 9 o'clock the next morning.

Birdwatchers who observed the pelican theorized that the bird was an old bachelor who had been left behind or forgotten when other members of its families started moving north to their summer home.

Experiment Station Increases Research Concerning Soybeans

COLLEGE STATION.—Soybean acreage in Texas expanded to more than a quarter million acres in 1967, and research programs are continuing to move forward, according to Dr. Raymond D. Brigham of Texas A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Brigham is responsible for soybean breeding in the state and during the past year set up trial plantings at 12 A&M Research Stations and cooperators. Major soybean research locations conducted by Texas A&M are at Lubbock, Etter, Bushland, Beaumont and College Station. Here variety trials and cultural tests are conducted to determine the best adapted varieties and optimum dates and rates of planting along with irrigation, fertilizer and herbicide requirements.

Reports on results of soybean plantings at the Northern High Plains station at Etter showed varieties Clark 63 and Wayne have consistently produced high yields under irrigation. Patterson has yielded somewhat less while Amsoy appears promising as an early variety. Brigham noted the optimum planting date was May 20 with an average yield reduction of one-half bushel per acre for each day of delay in planting after that date.

In the Southern High Plains, Hill and Lee have been consistent high yielding varieties. Lee is best adapted to the Lubbock area southward while Hill performs best from Lubbock north to the Plainview-Tulia area. Hood has also produced high yields in the Lubbock-Plainview area. Patterson, an earlier variety, does best from Plainview north to the Amarillo area. The planting dates in this area vary from May 20 to June 20. With regard to irrigation, a preplant plus five summer irrigations produced maximum yields at Lubbock over a five-year period, says Brigham.

In Northeast Texas, soybeans are grown mostly in counties along the Red River with Lee and Bragg being the leading varieties. Tests indicate that Hampton 266, Dare and Davis are promising varieties for the area. Again, planting dates range from May 20 to June 20.

The Gulf Coast area around Beaumont has been producing good yields with Bragg and Lee. Davis and Hampton 266 are promising varieties, according to recent test results.

"Soil fertility is a problem and it is evident that we do not know how to fertilize soybeans," points out Brigham. "Generally, soybeans do not respond positively to direct fertilization."

Evidence shows, however, that the symbiotic bacteria which produce nitrogen-containing nodules on the plant provide insufficient nitrogen for maximum yields. Nodulation stops at about the time of pod formation when the plant has a high nitrogen requirement. Late nitrogen application with irrigation water has increased the yields four to five bushels per acre the past two years at Lubbock. Protein content of the seed has also been increased slightly by this practice, noted the researcher.

For the near future, hybrids are doubtful, but germ plasm is now available to improve yields and other desired characteristics, such as multiple

Fire Safety Checks Can Prevent Trouble

COLLEGE STATION.—If fire strikes your property, where will it start? What will likely cause it?

These aren't just idle questions to ponder during National Fire Prevention Week, says W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University.

More than $190,000,000 worth of farm homes, buildings and other property go up in smoke each year, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates. A substantial portion of the 6,500 deaths in home fires reported for 1967 occurred in rural areas, Allen says.

Keep deadly, destructive fire away from your home by not giving fire a place to start. Prevention, says the engineer, is always the best answer.

In farm homes, faulty or misused heating and cooking equipment start more fires than any other single cause. Defective stoves and heaters, along with defective chimneys and sparks from chimneys, are responsible for almost half of all fires in farm dwellings, the agriculture engineer points out.

Careless use of gasoline and kerosene, electrical faults in wiring and appliances, are both high on the list. Bad smoking habits and children playing with matches are other major causes, he adds.

In barns and outbuildings, the prime fire hazard is spontaneous ignition in hay, corn and fertilizer. Other most frequent causes are electrical faults, lightning, defective heating equipment, and careless handling of gasoline and oil.

These facts point to the need for a thorough check-up and clean-up of conditions that could cause a fire in your home or other buildings.

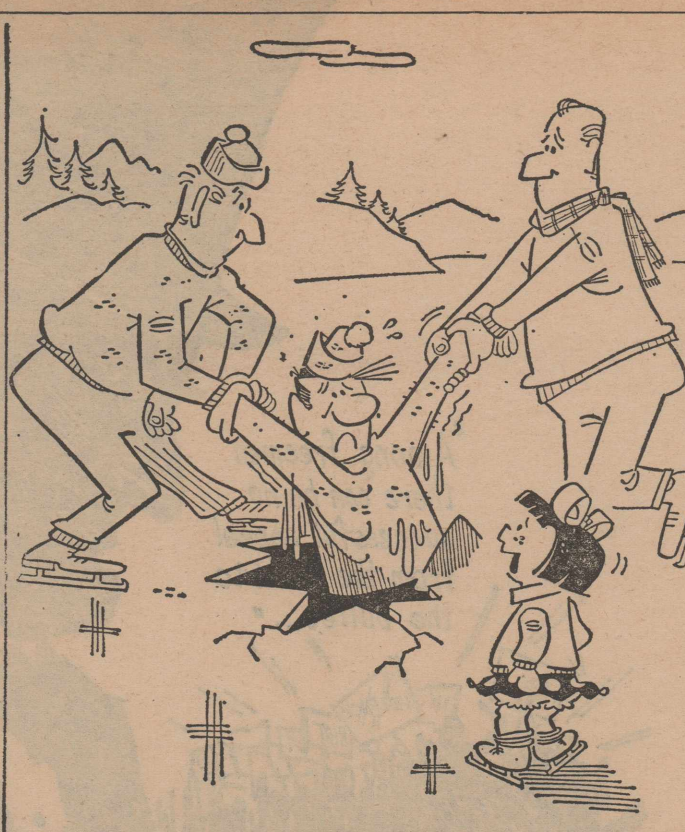

Make a new start towards complete fire safety on your property, and keep headed that way throughout the year, urges Allen.

disease resistance. Also varieties which respond to high fertility levels, and those more adapted to specific areas will likely be developed, added Brigham.

Since the chemical composition of the soybean is under genetic control, lines with different oil and protein constituents will be developed for specialized purposes, concluded Brigham.

Safety Rules for School Buses Sent Superintendents

AUSTIN.—Ten suggested safety rules for unloading and loading school buses are being sent to superintendents across the state by the Texas Education Agency.

These safety rules were drawn up with one objective: to cut the number of accidents involving school buses on Texas city streets and country roads.

The need for greater school bus safety is underlined by the accident statistics, Richard M. Cummins, Agency director of school transportation points out.

"Four children have already been killed this year in accidents involving school buses, all of them little tots in the first three grades," Cummins said.

School buses were involved in a total of 209 accidents during 1967-68, including eight fatalities and 48 injuries. Nearly half a million children ride school buses 481,475 miles each school day in Texas, travelling along 7,755 routes from big city neighborhoods to the scattered farms and ranches. A total of 399,040 of those daily miles are ridden on surfaced streets or highways while the remaining 82,435 extend along dirt roads.

One key safety suggestion zeroes in on young children, recommending that school bus drivers escort children in the first three grades across streets and roadways at all times.

Other rules detail safe methods of boarding the school bus, discharging pupils who live on the right-hand side of the road or across the highway, how students should cross the highway to meet or leave the bus in safe areas, use of flasher lights, and backing (more importantly, not backing) the bus when delivering students.

I want to thank each of you for all the kindness and thoughtfulness extended to me and my family during my recent illness. For all the visits, telephone calls, cards, gifts, food and prayers, I am grateful.
Dottie Haralson.

May we express our sincere appreciation to each of you for the sympathy extended to us at the passing of our loved one.

We are especially grateful to Dr. Holcomb, the staff and sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, to all those who sent flowers or brought food, and to everyone who in any way sought to bring us a measure of consolation.

May God bless each of you.
The family of
Mrs. Ben Brewer.

Chamber of Commerce Offers a Place for Everyone to Work

Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual banquet Thursday evening, featuring a distinguished youth leader, Sonny Davis of Austin, and local talent.

In one sense, this marks the beginning of each new year for the Chamber, although officers begin work the first of the calendar year.

In 1969, as never before, the Collingsworth Chamber will need the help of our citizens, both those who are members and those who are not. It's leadership is strong, and the organization has a youthful look. It believes strongly that this county has a future—a big one—but we are going to have to develop it by our own hard work. Few small town chambers have so well-rounded a program of work, covering as it does water development, agriculture, transportation improvement, as well as a number of others.

There is a place for every person who would like to work for the improvement of this county. This is the year of opportunity for the Chamber. It is also the year of opportunity for every individual.

Rules of the Roads

Texas highway officials are relieved that the U. S. Department of Transportation has backed away from proposed rules changes that could have thrown the state's road program into chaos.

The DOT wanted to make it easy for interested parties to bog down a road project about which they had questions. Although seemingly harmless at first glance, the new rules could have made it possible for a vitally needed highway to be blocked indefinitely.

Texas officials objected. Already they argued, the state encourages public hearings on proposed road projects. The Dallas North Tollway is a case in point. Although no result could have kept all of the people happy all of the time, even the tollway's most ardent opponents will have to admit that all sides were heard before final decisions were made.

This basically, is what federal department sought. It wanted to clamp down on some state highway organizations that make a habit of thumbing their noses at the public. But in its clampdown, the DOT would have hurt departments that check with the public as a matter of routine.

The compromise reached in Washington calls for state departments to submit their hearing procedures for DOT approval. Since Texas long has followed the spirit if not the exact letter of the DOT's proposed regulations, there is confidence in Austin that few changes will be made.

Success of the Texas plan is obvious. The state has the finest system of highways in the nation. Its administration is clean and efficient. And probably most important, the public is pleased with the performance. Public satisfaction, after all, is what the DOT sought. —Dallas Morning News

AUSTIN.— Texas legislators now are busy with committee hearings on dozens of bills the 181 members would like to turn into laws.

Even though Gov. Preston Smith may not have his budget and tax message ready this week there is plenty of business before the legislative committees to keep them occupied.

Perhaps the most talked-about legislation is that dealing with the public school reorganization plan recommended by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes joined Gov. Smith in doubting that the forced consolidation of school districts would pass. And mail the legislators are getting from parents and administrators in the smaller districts leads others to agree that the proposal will have to be modified.

Smith is urging reform on the basis on which state aid is given to local school districts.

PSE Committee's study revealed that a great many school districts are getting a bonanza from the state by failing to properly tax their own property. It seems that the less they collect locally, the more they get from the state.

Sen. A. M. Akin, Jr., of Paris and Rep. George Hinson of Mineola have signatures of more than half the members of each house on the Texas State Teachers Association pay raise bill for school teachers. This package of changes will cost the state's taxpayers some $206-million a year, plus $20-million increased state funds for school operation, maintenance and transportation.

Smith said that he will recommend new taxes to finance projects he will recommend in his spending program. But he is not yet ready to say what sort of tax he will suggest.

Texas and Justice

Governor Smith has announced the beginning of detailed studies by the Criminal Justice Council to develop a State plan for improving all segments of law enforcement and the criminal justice system. Such a plan must be submitted to the U.S. Justice Department by June 1 for Texas to take part in the $1.3 million Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Smith also announced several appointments to the Criminal Justice Council. He named Hugh W. McLeland, Austin management consultant, as program director for research and development. C. G. Conner, inspector of the Inspection and Planning Division of the Department of Public Safety, was named program director for Law Enforcement and Crime Prevention. William H. Gaston, of the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville, was selected to serve as program director of post sentence processes.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Supreme Court ruled a while back that the death verdict awarded to a murderer was illegal, on account of nobody was allowed on the jury who was prejudiced against permanent disposal of killers.

Court may have figured the defendant was likely conscientiously opposed to death penalties and therefore a genuine jury of his peers would have to be made up entirely of like-opinioned people.

Which legal principle would make it now just about impossible to convict a horse thief, because very few communities any more could find 12 horse thieves to sit on his jury.

Bills and More Bills

Chief Clerk of the House and the Secretary of the Senate both were deluged with more bills, many of them of state-wide import.

—Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater wants to prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin by barber or beauty shops.

—Sen. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi and Rep. James Nowlin of San Antonio dropped in separate bills lowering the voting age to 19, and Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi, Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio and Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown want to drop the age to 18.

—A state board to regulate private trade schools was introduced by Rep. John Wright of Grand Prairie.

—Fourteen senators are co-sponsoring a minimum-wage bill sponsored by Bernal, but 16 will be needed to pass the law and 21 to bring the bill up for a vote.

—Measures toughening the dangerous-drugs laws were filed by Rep. Burke Musgrave of Breckenridge and Sen. Charles Herring of Austin.

—Judges would not be able to grant probation to persons convicted of driving while intoxicated, under a bill by Rep. Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio. Those convicted would have to go to jail for at least three days.

—Freshman Rep. John R. Bigham wants to add investment income of insurance companies to the factors considered when the state Board of Insurance sets auto-insurance premium rates.

Rep. Ace Pickens of Odessa will try again to create Permian State College in the Midland-Odessa area. He introduced two bills—one putting it in Odessa and the other "in the Odessa-Midland area".

—Oral confessions would be allowed in court under another Christie bill.

Federal Researchers in Texas

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler telegraphed Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, declaring that oil, gas, other minerals and sunken vessels which belong to the school children of Texas might be jeopardized if a federal coastal survey being conducted is made public. He asked Hickel to work with the state on the lands which are part of the Permanent School Fund and Sadler's to administer.

"Unequalled Prosperity"

Dr. Francis B. May of the University of Texas at Austin Bureau of Business Research reports last year was one of "unequalled prosperity in Texas and in the nation." In every quarter of 1968, the index of business activity was above the corresponding figure for the year before. And each quarter pushed the index higher than the preceding quarter.

In all but two of Texas' 20 largest cities, business activity showed an increase. Austin led with a 34 percent increase. Beaumont had the lowest increase—two percent. Houston was up 13 percent, San Antonio and Dallas gained 15 percent each and Fort Worth rose 16 percent. As a whole, business activity for the state was 219.7 percent of its 1957-59 base level.

They became part of a family get-together in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sanford, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sanford, and a niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson of California attending.

Rev. Jackson Speaks Friday

The Rev. James Jackson, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, was a speaker at the annual district CAR leadership banquet in Amarillo Friday night, Feb. 7.

The group, Christ Ambassador Representatives, also heard the Rev. Jimmy Phillips, pastor of First Assembly of God, Pampa, The Rev. Chas. Davis, of Southlawn Assembly of God, Amarillo, and the Rev. Bill Thomas, the Lubbock Assembly of God.

Rev. Jackson discussed the dedication of young people to CAR work. He also spoke on "Goal" as it includes growth, outreach, advancement and loyalty.

Attending from Wellington along with Rev. Jackson were Mrs. Jackson and Miss Doris Tingle.

Approximately 175 attended the banquet.

Loss to Seymour

Rockets Drop from Title Competition

Wellington Skyrockets bowed to a strong Seymour team 56 to 54 Friday, Feb. 7, and by those two points in the last minute of the game lost the chance to share in the District 2-AA championship. The game was played at Seymour.

The Wellington boys had defeated the Shamrock Irish 77 to 63 Tuesday, Feb. 4 at Shamrock.

The Rockets made a good percent of their shots and played pretty good defense, but they were never able to get the game under control until the last quarter.

Glen Barber led Wellington scoring with 26 points, while Larry Robinson assisted with 16 points and Tony Hurst with 13. Kelly Williams was high pointer for Shamrock with 19 and Robert Wall had 17.

"We went into the Seymour game needing a victory real bad and our boys played good ball and led during the whole game until the last minute of play," Coach James Stavenhagen reported.

"Seymour has a real good ball club. They have age and experience on us and this was probably the deciding factor in the game."

Larry Robinson scored 20 points for Wellington; Breland led Seymour's scoring with 19.

The Influence of Future Farmers Grows Larger in Collingsworth

We recognize that Future Farmers are important to our community today . . . tomorrow their influence will mold the agriculture of our area. We congratulate you for the recognition your work has brought you individually, to your schools and to the community.

Many of you are our customers already, recognizing early the importance of insurance in an agricultural program. One of the changes of agriculture in the future will be an even greater dependence by farmers and ranchers on individually planned insurance.

Sixteen Quail Future Farmer Observe Week

National Future Farmers of America Week finds the 16 members of the Quail chapter deep in work on projects which are a required part of their work.

Most of these boys have selected livestock projects, with hogs outnumbering calves. Several, however, will have crop projects later in the year.

Their work is under the direction of Doyle Messer, vocational agriculture instructor, who serves both the Quail and Hedley schools.

The Quail Future Farmers, along with their projects, are: Jerry Barton, freshman: This year Jerry had two Hereford steers for show and he plans to show two for next year.

Lonnie Needham, Jr., freshman, has a sow for pig production and a gilt for pig production. He plans to continue with his swine breeding projects.

Laron Peters, a freshman, had a Hereford steer for show this year and he plans to show a steer again next year.

Redgie Souder, freshman, has a Duroc gilt for pig production and he plans to show a calf next year.

Tony Harris, freshman, transferred into the Quail Schools and has not started a project as yet.

Johnny Hook, sophomore, has as his projects this year four sows for pig production, a bull for breeding, nine steers for beef production, five heifers for calf production, and a boar for breeding. He plans to extend his present projects to include cotton for lint production, grain production and peanuts for feed.

Julian Torres, sophomore, has a Duroc gilt for pig production. He plans to continue in the breeding program for swine production.

Mark White, sophomore, and president of the Quail Chapter, has as his projects a Duroc sow for pig production, ten hogs for pork production and one beef cow for calf production. He plans to continue in the livestock breeding program.

Tommy Oatman, sophomore and secretary of the Quail Chapter, has a Duroc sow for pig production, nine hogs for pork production, a Duroc boar for breeding, one bull for a herd sire. Tommy plans to continue his livestock breeding program.

Darrell Feemster, sophomore and vice president of the Quail Chapter, has a registered Hereford heifer for his project and plans to continue with his beef breeding program.

J. D. Atkerson, junior, transferred into the Quail School and at the present does not have a project. J. D. is a good welder and has had many hours of practice in this field.

Bill Atkerson, sophomore, transferred into Quail and at present does not have a project. Bill is also a good welder.

John Blevins, senior, has had all of the agriculture courses offered at Quail but he has remained in FFA. He has a beef cow for calf production, a calf for beef production and a sow for pig production.

Gary Barton, senior, also has had all the vocational ag offered in Quail but is still in FFA. He has two Hereford steers for show.

Benny Carson has two sows for breeding, one cow for calf production.

Steve Tension, senior, has had all the vocational ag offered in Quail High School, but Steve is still in FFA.

Shorty Thompson Dies in Calif.

A well-known former Collingsworth County man, W. A. (Shorty) Thompson, died in Chowchilla, Calif., Feb. 1, at the age of 87.

Born in Alabama, Mr. Thompson came to Wellington from Oklahoma in 1914, and operated a dray line for many years. He moved to California in 1941 and was employed by Mahan Orchards until he retired.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, Feb. 4, in a funeral chapel at Chowchilla, with a Baptist minister officiating.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Olar Thompson of Chowchilla; four sons and three daughters: Adrian Thompson and Mrs. Jewell Smith of Modesto, Calif.; Dewey Thompson of Mojave, Calif.; Cecil Thompson of Merced, Calif.; Melvin Thompson of San Jose, Calif.; Mrs. Hestell Killingsworth of Wheeler; and Mrs. Leatrice Beach of Vallejo, Calif.

First seaplane, the Loon, was constructed by Glenn Curtis in 1908.

Cub Pack 39 Gets Awards at Banquet

Cub Pack 39 of Samnorwood, sponsored by the Samnorwood Lions Club, held its annual Blue and Gold banquet at the school cafeteria Saturday evening, Feb. 8 at 7 p.m.

Tables featured Cubbing colors, with blue and gold streamers and place cards holding a small American flag.

Leon Myers, Cubmaster, presented awards, assisted by Dave Agnew, district Scout executive.

The Bobcat Award was presented to Lowry Schaub.

Receiving Webelos Den awards were: Bear Award: John Schaffer, artist, scholar and traveler; Gaylon Kirkland, scholar; Bobby Myers, artist, scholar, naturalist and forester.

Jerry Cantrell received the Webelos award given to Cubs who graduate into Boy Scout-ing.

Wolf Award: John Birkey, Silver Arrow Points to the Wolf badge: Clifford Oldham and Clinton Oldham.

Perfect attendance awards, three years: David Deger and Jerry Cantrell; two years, Bobby Myers.

Den Mother service starts for completing two years of service went to Mrs. Denzil Deger. Adult certificates and Den Mother awards went to Mrs. Leon Myers, Mrs. John Schaffer, Mrs. John Birkey, and Mrs. Richard Bentley. A certificate of appreciation was presented to John Schaffer as Webelos Den Leader.

Richard Bentley received a certificate as Assistant Cubmaster.

Mr. Agnew presented the Pack a Roundup Award streamer for having achieved the boy membership goals for 1968. A cup of appreciation was presented to Cubmaster Leon Myers.

Robert Dwight, district Scout commissioner, showed colored slides of the 1968 Canadian Canoe Trip.

New Process for Cotton Fabrics

A new process developed by U.S. Department of Agriculture chemists gives cotton fabric the capacity to dry smoothly when hung on a line while damp.

Before this, drip dry garments could not be put in the spin-dry cycle on the washing machine, says Dr. Graham Hard, Extension clothing specialist.

Samnowood Observes FFA 40th Anniversary

Samnowood Future Farmers will join other vocational agriculture students in the state in observing not only National FFA Week, but the 40th anniversary of the organization in Texas.

Like other members, they will carry out the theme, "FFA — An Opportunity for Youth."

All Norwood Future Farmers will wear their FFA jackets during the week, according to Jimmy Brown, vocational agriculture instructor.

The message board in front of the school will carry the announcement of National FFA Week Feb. 15 through 22.

The judging teams that will represent Samnowood FFA are going into intensive training. These contests will be held on the district level within a short time.

The Samnowood Chapter has 22 members, and these boys and their projects are:

Vo Ag I: Laron Breeding, steers for beef production; Johnny Christner, dairy cows for milk production; Rocky Deger, cows for calf production; Feliciano Segura, a sow for pig production; John Stages, steers for beef production; Joe Stice, cows for calf production; and Jimmy Thomas, a sow for pig production.

Vo Ag II: Richard Barker, cows for calf production; Johnny Boyd, a heifer for calf production; George Bruton, cows for calf production; Ronald Carter, calf for beef production; Robby Dwight, steer for beef production; also Randall Johnson, cows for calf production; Larry Oldham, sows for pig production and cows for calf production; John Pendergraft, pigs for pork production; Larry Waters, steers for beef production; Charles Roberts, a heifer for calf production.

Vo Ag III: Johnny Breeding, steers for beef production, cotton and grain sorghums; Glen Bruton, steers for beef, cotton and sheep for wool production; Ray Dwyer, heifers for calf production; Robert Huntley, cows for calf production; and Kim Janes, cows for calf production.

Coleman Reports Action of TFB Directors Meet

Dee Coleman, District I Texas Farm Bureau director, was in Waco recently to attend the regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors in Waco.

At this meeting, the TFB cattle program was opened to every county within the state. Collingsworth was one of 13 pilot counties in the program designed to bring together cattle buyers and cattle sellers. The service is for Farm Bureau members.

Approximately 3,000 head of cattle were handled for members in Collingsworth County under the FB program last year and nearly 32,000 cattle in the 13 pilot counties.

The cattle program operates under the Farm Bureau's Texas Agricultural Marketing Development Association, commonly known as TANDA.

The directors voted to support the Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) promotion campaign being carried on by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Support also was voted for the Brush Control and Range Improvement Foundation in its campaign to raise funds for basic research and education on brush control. The immediate goal is for each landowner to pay one cent per acre for five years.

Peters Awarded FB Insurance Safety Award

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Company awarded its first safety plaque in Collingsworth County to Jesse Peters, honoring him for having lost no time to accidents on his job.

Mr. Peters, in addition to his farming interests, mows the highway right-of-way for the Highway Department.

FB directors also heard the report of Ray Null, Travis McGuire and L. A. Davis, who attended the state legislative meeting in Austin.

Mr. Burba announced that 13 new members were added during the recent membership drive.

Farmers Union 1969 Target Program

- 1—Farmers Union supports the establishment of a national bargaining system to make it possible for farmers to negotiate prices with the processors.
- 2—We urge changes in existing tax laws to discourage hobby and corporation farmers from using farm and ranches as tax evasion devices.
- 3—We support an export wheat certificate program to assist in bridging the gap between world market prices and a parity price for the wheat which is used to implement our foreign relations programs.
- 4—We strongly urge immediate passage of a strategic reserve program that will insulate stocks of wheat, feed grains, rice, peanuts, and cotton for use only under emergency conditions.
- 5—We urge passage of the Young Farmers Investment Act.
- 6—We urge that a cotton belt wide campaign be launched to encourage farmers to confine their planted acreage in 1969 to their domestic allotment.
- 7—Farmers Union proposes that a bill be introduced into the Texas legislature with the support of the governor, lieutenant governor & speaker of the house to make conglomerate corporation farming illegal in Texas.

58 Boys Enrolled in WHS Future Farmers

Wellington Future Farmers will observe National FFA Week with a number of major activities behind them and with plans outlined for others this spring.

The chapter has 58 members, according to Don Lacy, vocational agriculture instructor. This includes 11 boys who have already completed three years of vo ag work, but who remained in the chapter.

Wellington chapter is livestock oriented, with the largest number showing pig or hog projects. But calf projects are a close second. Crossbred animals are used in most livestock projects.

At the center of many chapter activities has been its sweetheart, Debbie Lewis.

Chapter activities began when Wellington FFA won grand champion and reserve champion on the crops booths at the Collingsworth County Free Fair.

Soon afterward, in the leadership contests, the senior chapter conducting team placed second, the radio team second, and the junior chapter conducting team second.

Wellington FFA was host to the annual district banquet.

During Christmas, the boys sold Christmas trees and fruit, and cooperated with Jaycees in the Toys for Tots drive.

There have been two trips, to the Tri-State Fair and Fat Stock Show at Amarillo.

Events coming up include the Father-Son banquet March 3, and the FFA Rodeo April 18 and 19.

Last year, chapter members cleared more than $10,000 on their projects, Mr. Lacy said. This year's chapter hopes to equal or exceed this. The boys and their projects are:

Vo Ag I: Jimmy Bowling, two sows; Allen Haven, a show calf; Billy Henard, two steers; Johnny Holton, two steers and a pig; Eddie Lee, a gilt; Joey Manuel, 10 pigs; Jerry Maxwell, two pigs; Kenneth Porter, two pigs; Daniel Romo, three hogs; Charles Taylor, two pigs and three cows; Asberry Mitchell, a pig.

Vo Ag II: Kenneth Black, two gilts; Reece Bowen, two sows; Tommy Campbell, eight cows; Tim Cates, a pig; Sammy Coffee, 20 pigs and two calves; Keith Derryberry, two pigs; Barry Farris, cotton; Also Danny Gray, one bull; Ted Harris, two cows; David Hodges, three hogs; Mark Kilian, 15 pigs; Jerry Lewis, four hogs and two cows; Keith Martin, five calves; Stan Parker, nine sows; Kim Patrick, one hog; Jackie Pendleton, a garden; Eddie Popwell, cotton and wheat; Billy Sherwood, one pig; Rodney White, five sows and a calf.

Vo Ag III: Mike Barjenbruch, 18 pigs; Danny Brooks, 13 pigs; Joe Cummings, cotton; Mike Davis, eight hogs and nine cattle; Gary Mike Gulley, seven cattle; Dallas Holland, a pig; James H. Jones, a calf; Joe Montgomery, six pigs; Ricky Nall, 11 hogs and 14 cattle; Anson Parker, a pig; Mike Peters, 10 hogs; Ronnie Roberts, two pigs; Troy Seeley, three barrows; Danny Watts, 12 cattle; Nicky Watts, three cattle; Danny West, four cattle, cotton and wheat; Wayne Whitten, a pig.

FFA members who have completed vo ag are Jimmy Bohannon, Gary Brewer, Ricky Brown, Jim Clark, Larry Kane, Billy McAlister, Ricky Mosenbocker, Teddy Martin, Eddie Orr, Wayne Reynolds and Chuck Wilbur.

Officers this year are Danny Watts, president; James Howard Jones, vice president; Mike Davis, secretary; Dallas Holland, treasurer; Nicky Watts, sentinel; and Stan Parker, reporter. Mr. Lacy, vocational ag instructor, is the sponsor.

Rites Held for Lon Alexander

Lon Alexander, 86, prominent pioneer Childress businessman, died Thursday night, Feb. 6, in a nursing home there. He had been ill several years.

After he had retired from his career as a druggist in Childress and sold his store, Mr. Alexander operated the pharmacy in the Wellington Clinic a number of years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at Newberry Funeral Chapel, with Dr. J. E. Schewbert, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Childress Cemetery.

Born at Meridian, he came to Childress in 1905 from Ennis.

Mr. Alexander had served as president of the National Swine Breeders Association, of the First National Bank, and of the Board of City Development. He served three terms as president of the Childress Chamber of Commerce, was a past director of the Amarillo Tri-State Fair, and president of the Childress Fair.

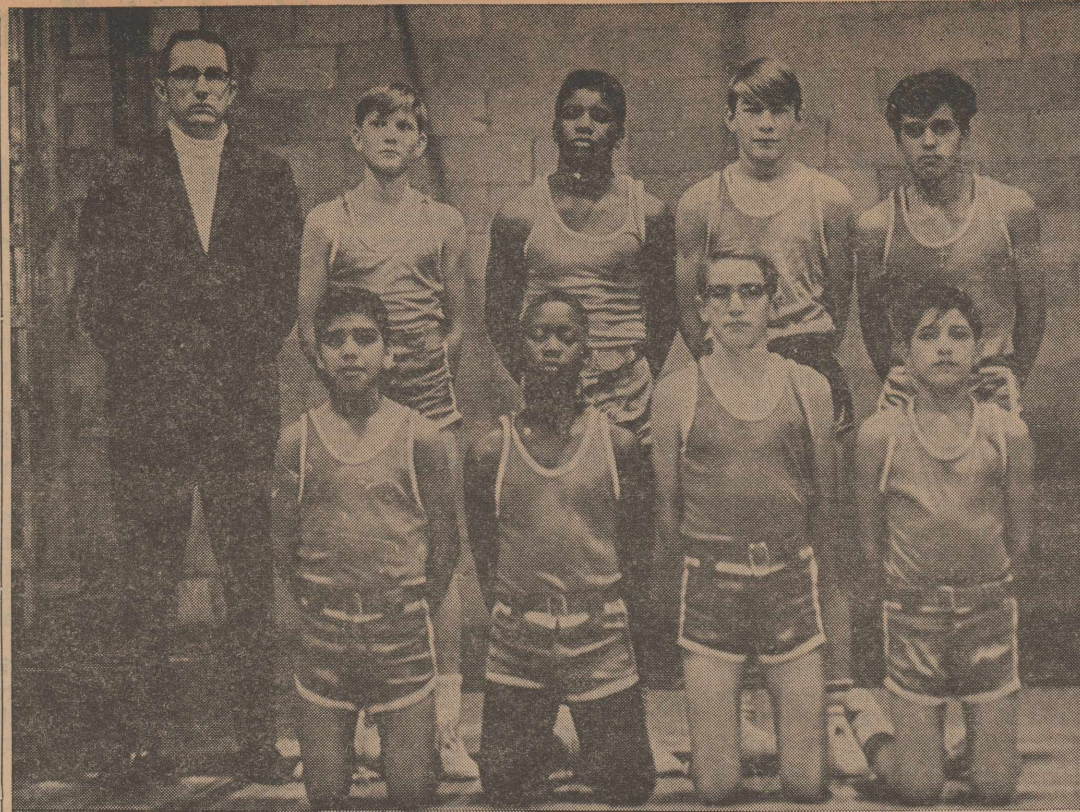

He also was a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of the Scottish Rite and York Rite.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. N. J. Cooksey of Moberly, Mo., Mrs. Helen Newman of Kansas City, Kan., and Mrs. Bert Hargrave of Childress; a sister, Miss Karen Alexander of Seguin; five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mrs. Alexander preceded him in death in 1963.

SENATE CHAPLAIN

Edward Everett Hale was a brilliant American clergyman who wrote more than 50 books. He was chaplain of the U.S. Senate for the last six years of his life.

Value Showdown:

Match these features against what competition gives you for the same kind of money, and you'll have a better idea why more people are buying Chevrolets again this year.

Built-in "guard rails"

There's a strong steel beam built into every door of every 1969 Caprice, Impala, Bel Air, Biscayne, Kingswood Estate Wagon, Kingswood, Townsman and Brookwood.

We call it a side guard beam, and it looks like one of those guard rails you see along the freeway.

That's what it's there for: To guard you. To strengthen the door and put a more solid wall between you and the outside world.

Not a glamorous feature. But you'll have to admit, worthwhile.

Computer-selected springs

Maybe you'll order your new Chevy equipped to the hilt.

Or maybe you'll order it with hardly anything on it.

Either way, you're going to get your full measure of our renowned ride.

Because we go to the trouble of programming each car's equipment load into an electronic computer.

The computer then tells us exactly which springs to use, depending on the car's weight and the way it's distributed.

Chevrolet, the only car in its field with computer-selected springs.

Fenders inside fenders

We could have skipped this. (The other cars in our field do.) But we're as anxious as you are to keep your beautiful new Chevy looking beautiful and new.

So:

Up inside the regular fenders we've placed a second set.

They do all the in-fighting. Catch all the splashed-up rain, slush and road salt. Stop the kicked-up stones.

While your "outers" just sit there looking pretty.

Astro Ventilation

The other two cars in our field give you air intakes down by the floor.

So do we.

We also give you two up on the instrument panel.

And all four of them are adjustable so you can regulate the flow of air just the way you like it.

Even with all the windows closed, you'll be comfortable inside. You get air without wind.

Without noise.

Astro Ventilation is standard, now, on all the big Chevrolets.

The theft-thwarter

On the steering column there's a lock.

Only Chevrolet has it, in Chevrolet's field.

You turn the key and it locks three things:

Your ignition.

Your steering wheel.

Your shift lever.

When you own a car this tempting, you don't dare take chances.

Biggest standard V8 in our field

Ask any car enthusiast, he'll tell you:

Chevrolet builds great engines. Especially V8s.

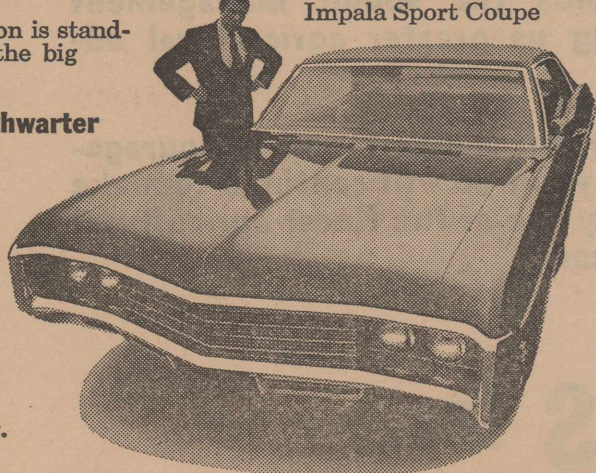

And this year there are six great V8s available for the big Chevrolet. Standard: Our 235-hp 327-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire.

Another thing: We've lowered the price of several of our bigger V8s along with our automatic transmissions and power disc brakes. Which makes it possible for you to buy a '69 Chevrolet for even less money than you could last year.

Show up for our Showdown. You can't lose.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Junior High Patriotic Art Winners Named

Lavona Sherwood, an eighth grade student, was chosen overall Junior High School winner in the patriotic art contest conducted in those grades. She received a large outdoor flag which can be flown from her home.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sherwood, Lavona shared eighth grade honors with Katie Sullivan, who received special mention for the originality of her contest entry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan.

Seventh grade winners were Phyllis Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, and Dickie Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Johnson.

Winners in the sixth grade were Beth Derryberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Derryberry, and Robert Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf.

Table flags were presented to each of the class winners by representatives of the sponsoring organizations, Mrs. J. B. King, president of the 1924 Study Club, and Riley Dunson, service officer of the Frank King Post of the American Legion.

John Forbis, a long-time Legion member, spoke briefly to the boys and girls. The American flag, he told them, stands for freedom. But it stands for something else—justice. Their own freedom to do what they

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Ask a friends if he knows what the Federal Reserve System is all about and he'll give you the greatest exhibition of hemming and hawing you ever encountered.

Here are the facts: The Federal Reserve System is the banks' bank and the central bank of the United States. It is a non-profit combine.

There are twelve Federal Reserve districts. Each district has a Federal Reserve Bank. Ten of these banks have twenty-four branches.

Now, who owns these banks? Member banks own the 12 banks but do not control the system.

What does the Federal Reserve System do for a bank member? It clears checks without charge; supplies currency without service charge; makes loans and advances.

Future Farmers . . .

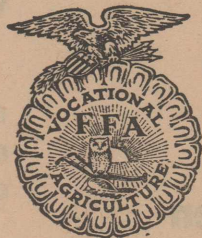

You are our Future Customers!

We believe in the future of cotton, and we believe the Future Farmers of Collingsworth County will make it profitable in this area.

Future Farmers learn by doing. Study cotton by raising a patch . . . plant, spray, plow and harvest, then sell your project and total your profit.

Money made by the Future Farmers of Wellington, Quail and Samnorwood contributes to the economy of Collingsworth County. But the members earn more than money. They earn knowledge and the right way to farm or raise livestock.

Some young Future Farmers are already our customers . . . Some of our best customers were Future Farmers not many years ago. And there will come the time when almost every cotton grower who drives across our scales will have been at some time a Future Farmer. That's how important you are to us!

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

When you read about the Governor's Committee on Education and its recommendation that all schools under 2,600 scholars be consolidated you should remember also this is the report of Gov. Connally's committee and not that of Gov. Preston Smith. By contrast, Gov. Preston Smith, while campaigning for governor, said that he did not favor all of the recommendations and he cited the 2,600 figure as one of his chief objections. This was and is the thinking of Gov. Preston Smith. A recent trip to Austin and visits with some representatives convinces me they have caught on. There is no danger of the death knell for the smaller schools this year.

In spite of the fact that there is no dire threat to the future existence of the rural and smaller schools this year, the school boards and the patrons of such schools should wake up and face the fact that there is danger ahead. The large cities have the votes now and their schools are playing for big stakes. They can reap millions of revenue from the state by such consolidations while expending far less than they have been forced to spend to serve their expanding scholastic needs.

Our schools must have better courses and qualified teachers throughout the entire school systems if they are to keep accreditation and this is the school law now. There is no simple solution to the school problem and it becomes more difficult when the representatives of the agricultural areas are outvoted in Austin. The real goal of the cities is not necessarily to consolidate the schools, it is to get a larger share of the tax money. The present formula for dividing state school money was worked out as a compromise at a time when the rural representatives had a slight majority over those from the metropolitan areas, and the big city school people have never been happy with it. Their strategy may force rural people to decide between paying more taxes on land or losing their schools.

Childress County has only one high school left in the county and this came about due to the laws as they existed on accredited schools. It was a reality before Governor Connally's committee ever sat down to study their findings. Remember the school teachers are pressing—the big cities are pressing and in two or four years the lawmakers will be pressing. It is something to think about seriously if you want to keep your school.

Schools are not the only essential institutions that are vital to our welfare, health, happiness and progress. There are hospitals and we are fortunate in having St. Joseph's for many reasons. The Hemphill County Hospital, a modern, well equipped hospital, has been declared off limits to Medicare patients. As a result of this ruling a lot of elderly people in that fine city will have to travel considerable distances to receive Medicare hospitalization.

I do not have too many details as to why Medicare aid was withdrawn from the new and well equipped county hospital in Canadian. I do know that we should be grateful to the Dominican Sisters for maintaining St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington. Their patients are not only eligible for Medicare, but St. Joseph's is one of the few hospitals in this area that are accredited by the Joint Committee on Accreditation. This is something that our public officials and our people should keep in mind at all times.

The Rockets did not win the district but they made it difficult for Childress when they defeated the Bobcats Tuesday, throwing the race into a tie between Seymour and Childress. Actually Wellington is the team that should be in a tie with Seymour.

One bright spot in our economy this year is the cattle industry. The fat cattle grazing on the wheat fields are more than beautiful scenery. They represent a good profit. This has been a favorable year for faster gains in weight and most of the people who have cattle on their land have them contracted at a favorable price.

Low to Play for Texas Tech Next Year

Andy Lowe of the Skyrockets has signed a pre-enrollment application to attend Texas Technological College next year on a football scholarship.

Tech Backfield Coach Burl Bartlett was here Wednesday, Feb. 12, when the application was signed.

"We plan to use Andy as a running back, and all of us are real pleased that he has chosen to attend Texas Tech," Coach Bartlett said. "We think he will be an asset to Texas Tech and our football program. We think he is an outstanding prospect."

Lowe will play freshman football next year.

He was the only football player in District 2-AA invited to sign a pre-enrollment application with Tech.

"Very few boys are capable of making Southwest Conference in our district," said Wellington Head Coach Thayne Amonett.

To bear this out, Coach Bartlett said that of this year's varsity starters, eight players came from AAAA schools, four from AAA, four from AA, four from A, one from B, and one from New Mexico.

Lowe and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe, visited on the Tech campus two weeks ago, and it was then the young Wellington athlete made his decision to attend Tech.

He was also sought by Rice University in Houston, as well as other schools.

At Lubbock, Andy and his parents were shown about the campus, and with coaches and their wives, the recruits and their dates, they were entertained at the Hayloft. Among those hosting the young athletes were Red Raider Robert Junell and his wife, Beverly.

Lowe will enroll in the new Parks and Wildlife course now offered at Tech.

Dodson Men Directors of Texas NFO

Two Dodson area men were named directors of the Texas National Farmer Organization recently at a meeting held in Abilene to set up the structure for chartering a state organization.

Representatives from all parts of Texas attended, said Grover Graham, manager and co-owner of the Davis Gin at Dodson. Mr. Graham was elected a director from Collingsworth County.

Art Kane, farmer living a few miles south of Dodson, was named to represent Childress County.

Mr. Graham said that the National Farmers Organization was organized in the late 1950's and now has a membership in 43 states.

Kenneth and Dean Maxwell are the sons of Mrs. Lela Maxwell, Quail postmaster, and brothers of Mrs. A. J. Fires.

Kenneth Maxwell graduated from Quail High School in 1950. After five years with the Highway Patrol at Hereford, he went into the retail travel trailer business in that town. He moved to Wellington, Kan., a year and a half ago as sales manager for Concord Travel Trailers, and three months ago he joined Orbit Industries, Inc., as western sales manager.

He is married to the former Floradel Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Chandler. They have two sons, Ken, Jr., 12, and Randall, 11.

First of the key men to move here is the plant superintendent, Leroy Wallace, and his family. They are living at 500 West 11th St.

Mr. Wallace formerly was plant superintendent for Concord Travelers at Wellington, Kansas, and he has been in the production end of travel trailers several years.

He and his wife, Nadine, have four children, two boys and two girls.

Men In Service

Col. Cecil L. Reavis, Jr.

CASTEAU, Belgium.—Colonel Cecil L. Reavis, Jr., from Shamrock is a member of the select group of U.S. Air Force personnel assigned NATO duty in Europe.

Col. Reavis recently assumed the position of chief of an operations section at Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) in Casteau, Belgium.

The colonel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Reavis of Shamrock, previously served with the U.S. assistant secretary of defense for public affairs and was air division chief in the directorate of security review.

During his distinguished 27-year military career, Colonel Reavis has received the U.S. Joint Service Commendation Medal, a Department of Defense decoration for outstanding duty performance as a member of a combined armed forces staff. He also wears the Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious achievement.

Commissioned through the aviation cadet program, the colonel holds the aeronautical rating of command pilot and has received the Air Medal three times for sustained superior airmanship. He served in the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre of Operations during World War II.

Col. Reavis was graduated from Shamrock High School in 1938 and received his BS degree at Texas & M University in 1942.

He is accompanied overseas by his wife, the former Irene Cook. They have a married daughter, Rebecca.

Wilbur Signs to Attend WT Next Year

Chuck Wilbur, 6-foot-3 senior from Wellington has signed a football letter of intent with West Texas State, Coach Joe Kerbel said. Wilbur has played tackle and end for the last four years for Wellington High School and lettered three years. The 180-pounder received honorable mention two years and received All-District last year.

Chuck, 18, also lettered two years in basketball and two years in track. He plans to study pre-med.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilbur.

Wilbur has been nominated by Congressman Bob Price for one of the two vacancies from the 18th District in the United States Air Force Academy, and the WTSU athletic department was informed of this before he signed the letter of intent, his mother said.

Quail Boys Take 4-B Round Robin

Quail Quails won the District 4-B round robin when they defeated the Hedley boys 44 to 39 in a playoff Tuesday night, Feb. 11 in Clarendon College gymnasium, Supt. E. P. Haynie announced.

They will go into District 4-B tournament play Friday night, Feb. 14, in Clarendon College gym. Champions in Class B basketball are determined by the outcome of both round robin and tournament play.

On the opening night of the district tournament, second and third place teams will meet, with Quail and Samnorwood girls competing and Hedley and Lakeview boys.

First and fourth place winners play Friday, with traditional rivals Quail and Samnorwood boys confronting each other and Hedley and Lakeview girls.

Winners of these games meet in the championship games on Saturday night.

Games each night start at 7:30 p.m. Everyone will pay except teachers and players. Quail Supt. Haynie said. The tournament is sponsored by Clarendon Junior College and Clarendon Jaycees, and all proceeds are divided among the Class B participating schools.

Grazing Systems Determine Profit for Ranchers

"Grazing Systems"—that's the title of a new publication recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A good system of grazing says the authors, can be defined as manipulating animals to obtain maximum sustained livestock and forage production at a low cost.

Considerations for a grazing system are divided into categories based on the use of natural forage and include degree of use; flexibility of grazing; combination stocking and planned use. Each is discussed in detail by the authors. Copies are available from local county agents.

Merchants Hear Bank Credit Cards Explained

The City State Bank was host Thursday evening, February 8, at a dinner for a group of Wellington business men to hear an explanation of the Southwest Bankcard Association's Master Charge credit card.

City State recently entered this credit card program, which is part of the Interbank Card system.

Larry Wright of North State Bank, Amarillo explained the program, pointing out the wide range of services now available through the bank credit card system.

He predicted that within five years, there will be a two credit card system, and this will supercede all credit cards in use today.

A merchant's participation in the credit card system frees his capital for current operations, it was pointed out.

Approximately 25 business men attended.

The dinner was held at Cherokee Inn Restaurant.

The Seale family brought two steers that were used for pulling a plow and one was broke to ride. Bob Seale and one of his brothers took turns riding the steers and walking all the way from Denton.

His grandfather, W. Y. Seale, preached the first sermon in Collingsworth County, in the home of R. H. Dysart in the Fresno community.

Mr. Seale loved people and as long as he lived was interested in community activities. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Friday, with the Rev. Leroy Gaston, pastor, and the Rev. Bob Evans of Midland officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Songs were by three sisters he had known since their childhood, and who he had requested to sing at his service, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. Jack Lowry and Mrs. H. L. Lowry. The organist was Mrs. D. C. Lacy.

Survivors are two brothers, Marvin Seale and Bill Seale of Wellington; five nephews and two nieces.
