Heavy Blows Rain On Nips

New Territory Near Truk Blasted; Wewak Is Lashed

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

AMERICAN bombers struck a new atoll in the Central Pacific Caroline islands within 200 miles of vaunted Truk and blasted Wewak, last major Japanese stronghold on the Bismarch Sea, for the fourth straight day.

Oroluk, newest target in the Carolines, has no obvious military significance, but the attack, made midway between the fortresses of Truk and Ponape, was a further demonstration of Japan's weakening position in the Central Pacific.

Eight Japs Downed

Thirty Japanese interceptors roared up from Wewak's air bases to stave off the attack on the northeast New Guinea base. Eight were shot down as bombers blasted supply dumps and gun positions and fighters followed up with their guns strafing. "Heavy damage was inflicted and many gun positions silenced," General Douglas MacArthur said today. "Smoke from blazing fuel dumps blanketed the entire target area." More than 600 tons of explosives have been spilled on Wewak in the four day blitz.

Southeast of Wewak an Australian column pressing up from the interior valley reached Daumoina, terminus of the best Japanese-built road in New Guinea. It leads toward Bogadjim, outpost of the Madang area where Japanese have concentrated troops to meet a threat from the Aussies and a column of Americans on the coast. Both are about 16 miles from Bogadjim.

Navy Planes Hit Oroluk

Navy search planes made the first strike at Oroluk atoll, whose irregular circle of coral reefs enclosing a sizeable lagoon is broken by only two tiny islets. It lies 550 miles southwest of the United States air base on Eniwetok in the Marshalls.

Both Ponape and Kusaie, oft raided eastern outposts of Truk, were attacked the same day. It was the first triple strike at the Carolines since last month's devastating carrier raid on Truk.

Fires were set on four eastern Marshall islands where surviving Japanese are being subjected to daily bombardment. No American planes were lost in any of the seven raids. One Japanese medium bomber was shot down while scouting 250 miles from Truk.

China-based American bombers and their fighter escort brought down five of 12 interceptors in a raid on Kiungshan airdrome on Hainan island off the South China coast. The Nipponese air force, increasingly active over the Pacific and the Orient, made wide sweeps over Central China, including

Service Ballot Plan Is Passed

Telegraphic Survey Is Opened By FDR

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—Congress passed a servicemen's vote bill leaning heavily to states rights today but President Roosevelt indicated the matter was far from settled by starting a telegraph survey to find out how many men could vote under it.

The chief executive wired all governors an inquiry whether they believed their state laws authorized use of supplementary federal ballots.

The President has indicated that the decision on a veto depends on whether more men can vote under new legislation than under existing laws.

Claim Fewer Can Vote

Proponents of a simplified federal ballot have argued that the bill which passed the House today by a vote of 273 to 111 repeals an existing waiver of registration and poll tax payment for servicemen, and that fewer can vote under it than under present law.

In his telegram to the state executives, the President asked them to tell him also, so he might form an opinion as to the effectiveness of the measure, whether steps would be taken to authorize use of the supplementary ballots, if state laws do not now do so.

Mr. Roosevelt acted without waiting for the soldier vote bill to reach the White House.

Disowned By Authors

Disowned by some of its authors, the compromise swept through the two chambers after both sides agreed it would be this bill or none at all, so far as November's presidential election is concerned.

Mr. Roosevelt termed an earlier measure passed by the Senate as "fraud on the soldiers and sailors and Marines—a fraud upon the American people."

Salient points of the measure include:

1. Members of the armed forces from any state with an absentee voters law must state ballots within the continental United States. If outside the country a soldier or sailor may use a federal ballot only if he certifies that he made application for a state ballot before September 1 and had not received it by Oct. 1, with the added proviso that the governor of his state has certified by July 15 that use of such a federal ballot is legal under the laws of that state.

Governors Must Act

2. In any state that has no absentee voters law, the governor may certify on or before July 15 that the use of the federal ballot is authorized by the law of such state. Without such action by the governor of a state its citizens could not use a federal ballot.

3. Free airmail service for all ballots, state and federal, in primaries, general and special elections, where used by members of the armed forces.

4. The War and Navy departments and the Maritime commission are directed to assist in getting ballots to the service people and in returning them.

5. Restrictions are put on the distribution of political material to members of the armed forces.

Subsidy Hike On Beef Indicated

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—The government soon may boost its rollback subsidy on beef cattle by 30 cents a hundred pounds to pull cattle off the range and supplement prospective short civilian supplies.

Such a hike would enable packers to pay cattlemen an equivalent increase without raising consumer prices of beef.

Because beef supplies are short and western ranges are considered overcrowded, the War Food administration and the Office of Price administration want two or three million extra head of cattle marketed during the next four months to avert a possible disastrous market glut in the fall.

Fear Summer Drouth

Officials are concerned lest stockmen be caught in a summer drouth on the range.

Contributing to the tendency of farmers to hold cattle for fall marketing is some dissatisfaction with present prices.

The increase in the subsidy would be designed, officials said, to encourage packers to pay higher prices during the spring and early summer. The subsidy was inaugurated last summer when the OPA reduced consumer meat prices 10 per cent. It was designed to enable packers to pay cattlemen the same prices in effect before the rollback.

The subsidy rates now range from 50 cents to $1.45 a 100 pounds, depending on the grade of beef.

Officials said the increase in the beef subsidy might be accompanied by a reduction of 30 cents per 100 pounds in a similar subsidy on hogs. That subsidy, set up for the same purpose as the beef subsidy, now is $1.30 per 100 pounds.

Jones Gives Up Place As Head Of Tech

Action Accepted With Reluctance

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 15.—The resignation of Dr. Clifford B. Jones from the presidency of Texas Technological college at Lubbock was accepted here today by directors of the institution, who voted unanimously to give him the title of president emeritus.

The directors made it clear that they were accepting the resignation "very reluctantly" and only at Dr. Jones' insistence that his health would not permit him to continue as active head of the college, a post he has held since November, 1938. Dr. Jones said in his letter of resignation he was suffering from a condition of heart strain and high blood pressure that showed promise of returning to "reasonable normality" only if he was relieved of business responsibility.

Effective June 1

The resignation will become effective June 1. Board members revealed that Dr. Jones' resignation first was tendered on April 11, 1942, and was presented again at a meeting of the directors here last Feb. 12. Both times it was declined.

Recognizing that they eventually would have to accede to Dr. Jones' request to be relieved, the directors said they had given consideration to selection of a new president and hoped to announce a decision "at an early date."

"The record the college has made under Dr. Jones' administration is the envy of other educational institutions and finding a successor is going to be a tough job," Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, board chairman, said.

Full Board Present

Today's action was by full membership of the board, with the exception of Milburn McCarty of Eastland, who, it was announced, has tendered his resignation. McCarty has moved from the state and now is serving in Washington as a special assistant to the U. S. attorney general.

Dr. Jones' election to the honorary post of president emeritus will prevent him from severing connection entirely with the school he has served in official capacity since its founding nearly 21 years ago. The honorary title was given him, the board said, as recognition that "he is the one man who has been associated with Texas Tech, and his life woven into the fabric of the school, since its inception."

Dr. Jones was appointed to the first board of directors when the school was created by act of the legislature in 1923, and afterward served for 11 years as board chair-

Red Cross Fund Now Well Above Quota

Lubbock county's total in the Red Cross War fund drive climbed Wednesday afternoon to approximately $84,300, or around $5,800 in excess of the $78,500 quota.

Of the figure, $75,782.77 represented cash turned in to General Chairman George P. Kuykendall and $4,134.18 which has been reported, but which have not yet been turned in to the drive organization.

Briggs Robertson, chairman of the Slaton Red Cross chapter, said that the figure there is far from complete. It does not include $102 donated in the Slaton schools, were the students still are working. Reports also are still to come in from several women's committees, from Santa Fe railroad employes and from several teams in the special gifts division.

Floydada Child Is Burned By Hot Lard

Christine Byerly, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Byerly of Floydada, was admitted to Lubbok General hospital last night suffering from second degree burns on the limbs received when she accidentally upset a bucket of hot lard.

Hospital attendants said that her condition was "fairly good."

Ford Suspends 50 Workers In Strike

DETROIT, March 15 (AP)— The Ford Motor company announced tonight the indefinite suspension of 50 employes accused of participating in today's wildcat strike "pending further investibation and with the probability additional discipline will be imposed."

A Ford spokesman described the interviews with the men, who returned to work on the afternoon shift, as "a very orderly process which took place in the presence and with the consent of officers of local 600 and the international" of the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

The suspensions continued a crackdown against wildcat work stoppages begun a week ago in connection with an earlier strike, which union officers said was likewise unauthorized.

The Ford company said an even larger group might be suspended tomorrow, following further interviews.

Newton Assault Case Reversed

Part Of Testimony Is Ruled Improper

AUSTIN, March 15. (Special)—The court of criminal appeals today reversed the conviction and seven-year sentence of Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron for the May 21, 1942, assault with intent to murder on Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield.

Improper testimony was admitted in the Lamb county trial court, the appellate court said.

The testimony was that given by friends of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt who were guests at the Hunt home on the night of May 20 when Dr. Hunt testified he received three telephone calls from a person he identified as Mrs. Newton, wife of Dr. Newton.

The opinion said there was sharp issue as to whether Dr. Hunt was correct in identifying the Newtons, whose trial testimony was that they were not in Littlefield but in Houston, 700 miles from Lamb county, on the night Dr. Hunt was shot.

Mrs. Newton was also indicted with her husband but has not been tried.

In October, 1943, Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were brutally slain in their

NEXT PROCEDURE UNCERTAIN

PLAINVIEW, March 15 (Special)—District Attorney Harold M. LaFont, informed of the court of criminal appeals' action in reversing and remanding the case of Dr. W. R. Newton, said this morning he was not certain of his next procedure.

"A copy of the court's opinion probably won't be received here before late tomorrow. The state has 15 days in which it could file a motion for rehearing, but we will want to see the opinion before determining action."

Judge C. D. Russell, who tried the case charging Dr. Newton with assault to murder the late Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, said the mandate from the court would not be issued from the appellate court before expiration of the 15 days.

home. A convict is being held for questioning in the slaying of the Hunts.

Testified To Phone Calls

The guests of the Hunts on the night of May 20 testified Dr. Hunt told them he had received three phone calls that evening from a person whose voice he identified as Mrs. Newton's. This testimony was introduced over the objection of the defense during the trial.

The appellate court said Dr. Hunt was positive and unequivocal in identifying Dr. Newton and his wife, and other witnesses identified Mrs. Newton as the party who made a telephone call from a Littlefield service station about midnight on May 20.

Testimony Is Issue

The court said the issue of fact on appeal was whether or not Mrs. Newton was the party she represented herself to be and the question of law was on the admissability of testimony reflected by the objections of the defense in light of the issue of fact.

It was Dr. Hunt's trial testimony that he was called to the outskirts of Littlefield at midnight

Walton Asks That Board At A&M Quit

Challenge Issued By Ousted Prexy

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 15. — Dr. T. O. Walton, former president of Texas A&M college, today challenged the board of directors to resign.

In turn, Dr. Walton said in a statement, he would "drop any actions in my behalf."

Walton, president emeritus of the college, had threatened legal action against the board of directors, which dismissed him after 18 years service because the growing school, the board declared, had "outraced and outreached" him.

Challenge Is Issued

"I challenge the members of the board to join me in an unselfish move in the best interests of the institution and the state—they to resign as directors and I to drop any actions in my behalf.

"This will permit the governor to fill their unexpired terms with men whose judgments are not warped by previous happenings, whose outlook would be fresh and uninfluenced by whatever has gone before."

The board had stated Walton had known for three years that his work as president had not been pleasing the governing body of the institution.

Dr. Walton's statement said in part:

"The real issues in the turmoil have been brought out by the board of directors. Those issues could best be outlined by the board itself. They have done so and the whole thing takes on an entirely different atmosphere and meaning. Those issues and the dangers they involve to A&M transcend in importance any personal issues in which I am involved. These greater issues and dangers should be given to the citizens, the mothers and fathers, the legislators and the officials of this state.

Stands On Record

"It would be presumptuous of me to argue the board's decision that I should be replaced as its president, or that in its own words 'the college had outgrown me.' Let the record of the college and its graduates during my years as its president stand for itself. But the reasons given by the board for its actions, and the background behind those reasons are of tremendous importance and moment to the college and to its future well-being, as well as to the entire cause of higher education in Texas.

"I am accused of not wholeheartedly agreeing with some policies of the board. No man capable and fit to be president of a great institution should be expected to be a yes man. I would have been derelict in my duty had I not differed in some instances with board policies and practices. As one example I differ and continue to differ as a matter of principle with the present policy and rules of the board that require key officers of the college, its president, deans and service directors to be re-elected annually. So far as I know that is a practice otherwise unknown among educational institutions. Under such a policy the college cannot attract or retain on its staff capable men. Can it expect the morale of its staff to be good when an annual threat of re-election hangs over its head?

Action Without Warning

"The board has failed to re-elect a number of members of the faculty and staff without warning, hearing or announced cause. I can think of no greater handicap facing the college than such a policy. In these policies I differed with the board and would have been untrue to my obligations as president had I not done so.

"I further disagree with the policy of the board concerning executive sessions at which important matters are determined without consultation with administrative officers of the college or the persons involved, and with the withholding of specific and definite information from the public or failure to give the public reasons upon which the board has based its final decisions.

"In its statement the board brings up parts of a survey of the institution made in 1942 upon the recommendation of the administrative staff and with the full approval of the board of directors. In line with its previous and apparently continuing custom, the

Terms Rejected, Finns Digging In

STOCKHOLM, March 15. (AP)—The Finnish Parliament has unanimously approved the government's decision to reject Moscow's final proposals for an armistice and the Finns are grimly digging in for continuation of the war, it was learned here tonight.

The Finnish disclosure was made in a communique which said Parliament considered the government's position as presented by Premier Edwin Linkhomies and "accepted unanimously the motion to return to the order of the day." Under Finnish procedure, this means the government was sustained.

Prepare For New Blows

From other sources in this neutral capital it was learned the Finns thus had turned down Moscow's terms which offered them a way to abandon the fight alongside the Germans and get out of the war.

The official reply to Russia was expected to be forwarded Saturday or Sunday.

Edwin Shanke, Associated Press correspondent in Helsinki, reported that everywhere the Finns prepared for resumption of hostilities and in Helsinki work went forward on air raid shelters—obviously in anticipation of renewed air raid assaults.

The action was taken despite American warnings to Finland to quit the war before she was overwhelmed.

(In Washington the state department described as "disappointing news" reports that Russia's peace terms had been rejected.)

For Johnson it was a jubilant celebration of his promotion from first lieutenant, handed him earlier in the day.

Cassino Is Reported In Complete Ruins

Nazi Center Levelled From Air, But Survivors Fight On

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 15—Cassino was completely destroyed today, reconnaissance photographs showed, by an aerial bombardment in which Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker said more than 2,500 tons of bombs were dropped.

Gen. Eaker, commander of Allied Air forces in the Mediterranean, said planes of his command flew more than 3,000 sorties (single flights).

Medium and light bombers hit the erstwhile German strongpoint for four hours in the afternoon after a great aerial drive in the morning.

German survivors of the obliteration bombing of Cassino still are fighting back from the ruins and "the issue has not yet been decided," NBC reporter Max Hill said in a broadcast from Naples tonight.

(Quoting pilots who made the raid, Hill added that "though we may not have Cassino yet, it certainly is not much use to the enemy any more."

Devastating Assault

Nearly every plane of the Allied Mediterranean air force participated in the devastating assault, dumping an estimated 2,800 tons of explosives into Cassino, keystone of Nazi defenses in central Italy, and on strategic targets immediately north and northwest of the shattered town.

Allied ground forces moved into the pulverized ruins behind a terrific artillery barrage immediately after screeching air bombs had completed their mission of destroying the stronghold where the enemy has held fast for more than two months. The first American troops entered Cassino at exactly 1:25 p. m.

The American 34th division from the mid-west, which had occupied about a third of Cassino in weeks of hard house-to-house fighting, was withdrawn quietly during the night so that the bombers could go to work.

Wave After Wave Of Planes

All morning, from 8:30 a. m. until noon, wave after wave of heavy, medium and attack bombers with clocklike regularity blasted every block of Cassino.

While the heavy bombers were smashing Cassino, fighters and fighter-bombers of the RAF desert air force attacked German positions ringing the Anzio beachhead 60 miles away in support of Allied ground troops. Today's Allied communique said attacking British troops improved their positions south of Carroceto on the beachhead yesterday and were mopping up in the area.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the Fifth Army, watched the unparalleled blasting of the enemy fortresses with Maj. Gen. John K. Cannon, commander of the Tactical Air force.

Giant RAF Force Roars Out Again

Blow Follows U. S. Raid At Brunswick

LONDON, March 15 (AP) — An RAF bomber force in very great strength headed out over the east and southeast coasts of England tonight for fresh blows against the continent, a few hours after a U. S. Flying Fortress and Liberator fleet had blasted the German aircraft city of Brunswick.

Coastal observers said the British bomber force was one of the largest which had crossed the coast in weeks.

Within an hour alerts were sounded in Basel and Lugano, Switzerland, and the German radio network left the air.

36 Nazis Downed

In the Brunswick raid, in which the American planes made their 13th attack in 17 days, Lightnings and Thunderbolts shot down 36 Nazi fighters which rose in an effort to protect the manufacturing center.

Few of the Germans were able to break through the escort, an official announcement said, and the Allied losses were three bombers and five fighters. The number of German fighters downed by the bombers themselves was not immediately tabulated.

The assault was made through heavy clouds described officially as "practically a complete overcast," and the vital aviation targets including Messerschmitt factories, were hit through instrument sighting.

No Big Air Battles

The weather apparently prevented the Germans from rising in any great numbers, and big air battles, which the Allies like so that they can have an opportunity to cut down German air strength, failed to develop.

An Allied announcement noted that although some bomber crews reported sighting numerous German fighters, others saw practically none, and the toll of German planes was far below the top figures for American raids on Germany.

Brunswick, a target now hit seven times by the American daylight force since Jan. 11, a little more than two months ago cost the Americans 60 Fortresses and Liberators compared to today's three.

War Is Costing 300 Million Each Day

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—What every tax payer should know:

The war now is costing $300,000,000 a day.

War spending hit a new high last month of $7,808,000,000.

Up to March 1, the war had cost $168,600,000,000.

The War Production board's monthly report on spending for war purposes, issued today, showed that February outlays were $14,000,000 greater than the previous high which was in November.

The daily rate of spending was $312,000,000, based on the 25 days in February on which the Treasury issued checks.

Total war outlays are reckoned from the start of the defense program on July 1, 1940.

Reds Plunge On Over Bug River

Spearheads In 30 Miles Of Rumania

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Thursday, March 16.—The Red Army crossed the Bug river on a 62-mile front yesterday, thrusting spearheads within 30 miles of the pre-war Rumanian frontier, crushed German defenses only 17 miles from the big Black sea port of Nikolaev, and killed or captured additional thousands of trapped Germans northeast of Nikolaev, a Moscow communique announced today.

Leaping the Bug with the aid of rafts, pontoons and even empty barrels, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukraine Army troops tore through the tottering Germans for gains of 12 to 18 miles in a sector heavily-fortified with blockhouses, minefields, and barbed wire, said a midnight bulletin broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Closing On Nikolaev

Other Soviet forces attacking in the Vinnitsa sector to the northwest captured Pisarevka, only six miles southeast of that German stronghold, while far to the southeast Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukraine Army of Stalingrad veterans closed swiftly on imperilled Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug river.

In the Snigerevka pocket, 45 miles northeast of Nikolaev, the Russians said their troops had split up the remnants of an original force of perhaps 45,000 Germans, and were "successfully exterminating" them.

Many Slain Tuesday

With 10,000 Germans killed and 4,000 captured on Tuesday, Moscow said thousands more were slain yesterday when the Nazis tried to break out of the pocket. Three German columns moving westward toward the Ingul river in an attempt to escape were struck from the flanks and rear by Soviet tankmen and carved into smaller groups for eventual annihilation, the bulletin said.

On the Proskurov front near the old Polish border the Germans lost 1,500 men killed and 60 tanks in unsuccessful counterattacks, Moscow said.

The sensational Bug river hop on the middle-Ukraine front was one of the most significant developments of the southern Russian campaign.

Germans Fight In Desperation

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Taylor Henry, former Associated Press bureau chief at Vichy and formerly of Palestine, Texas, has returned to the United States aboard the diplomatic exchange ship Gripsholm after 15 months internment in France and Germany.)

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 16—Germany is fighting today with the desperation, fear and hatred of a gangster who has his back to the wall, but is determined to try to battle his way out.

The German people have been convinced by Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbel's propaganda that if they lose the war Germany will be exterminated as a nation.

This is my considered opinion as well as that of other American and foreign observers after internment in wartime Germany for a year.

Three Main Fears

Germans today are obsessed with three fears:

1. Fear of bolshevism.

2. Fear of American-British domination of Europe.

3. Fear of the revenge of other European nations.

The strengthening of German morale through this fear complex has been heightened by the hatred caused by American and British air raids on Germany.

Reports were current in Baden-Baden, where I was interned, that the throats of many American and British pilots who were shot down or who bailed out over Hamburg literally were cut by the civilians who captured them before police or soldiers could formally imprison them.

In some cases, such reported

Boards Ordered To Call More Pre-Pearl Harbor Fathers; Big Deficiency Cited

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—Selective service tonight called on local draft board to induct more pre-Pearl Harbor fathers and to comb industrial deferments to obtain men who now can be spared to fight.

Selective service has failed to meet the military draft calls by 100,000 men a month for five consecutive months, Director Lewis B. Hershey revealed in a letter to all local boards and appeals panels.

About 1,160,000 men must be supplied to the Army and Navy for the period from Feb. 1 to July 1, Hershey said, in order to bring the country's military establishment up to the planned strength of 11,300,000 by the mid-year.

"We must, in the future, make fathers available in increasingly greater numbers to meet induction requirements," General Hershey's message warned.

"At the same time we must secure men from other classes and particularly we must secure men, fathers and non-fathers, from the group now deferred in industry and agriculture."

Some 9,352,000 registrants now have entered military service, Hershey said, adding: "Those men have the right to expect that the remaining registrants whose services are required by the armed forces will be made available."

A canvass of available sources of inductees—including all fathers still remaining in class 3-A—shows that a deficiency of 240,000 men will exist on July 1, unless the deficit is made up by taking those now deferred for "essential" occupations, Hershey said.

"Occupational deferments are a temporary expedient to permit employers to obtain replacements," he added, "and only those registrants whose individual efforts in a critical activity make them virtually indespensible should be considered for occupational deferment."

Constant scrutiny of the 3,485,000 men in 4-F does not indicate that these "constitute a source of potentially available men," Hershey's letter continued.

Hershey's letter was dated March 13, two days before his order last night prohibiting the deferment of any worker in industry under 26 years of age.

Tubercular Patch Tests To Start In Schools Monday

Literature on annual tubercular patch tests in the Lubbock city schools goes out Thursday to school children and tests in the first, sixth and 12th grades will begin Monday, it was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Robert J. Allen, secretary of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association. Included in the literature will be blanks for parents to sign, giving permission for the tests on their children.

Purpose of the tests is to find those children who are or have been in contact with tuberculosis. The test is perfectly harmless and usually causes no more discomfort than a mosquito bite. If it is found to be positive, it simply means that that individual has gotten germs in his or her body from being in contact with somebody sick with tuberculosis.

Not Conclusive Evidence

The positive test does not mean that the child has tuberculosis, and should not cause any abnormal fear, but it does mean that one should go further and get an X-ray of the chest and an examination to find out whether or not the infection has done any damage or how much damage it has done.

Practically all children with positive tests found at this early stage before they are sick have an excellent chance to avoid any serious trouble from tuberculosis later on if they are given the opportunity under medical supervision to maintain good health, and also if it is made certain that they are no longer in contact with some one who has tuberculosis.

The City Parent-Teacher council is sponsoring the tests in the schools this year. The tests are without charge and parents will be advised of the result and other recommendations.

Schedule By Schools

The tests this year will be given by P-TA leaders. By schools they will be as follows: Senior High—Mrs. M. C. Butler, Mrs. F. B. Malone and Mrs. Paul Hardwick; Junior High — Mrs. Geo. Dr. Ewing has been instructing women in the technique of administering the patch tests.

HEADS ROTARY CLUB — Clarence Bestwick, above, was elected president of the Lubbock Rotary club at a meeting of the board of directors preceding the luncheon of the club Wednesday in the Hilton hotel. He succeeds W. W. Rix. Other new officers elected were: Cecil Cale, first vice president, and Arch King, second vice president. Overton Ribble and Conner Cole were reelected to the posts of secretary and treasurer respectively.

Last Year's Record

A total of 2,107 tests were given in 20 schools in the spring of 1943, of which 159 were positive. In the fall of 1943, 570 tests were taken in 10 schools and 19 children showed positive reactions. A total of 2,677 tests were made in city and county schools last year with 178 reactionary results.

Cost of making the tests is borne by the association, funds for which are derived from sale of Christmas seals. Sale of the seals has increased from $616 in 1941 to $4,952 in 1943.

Through this fund, the association also maintains a clinic every Wednesday afternoon at 1009½ Texas avenue, immediately behind the West Texas Gas company offices.

Basic Lend-Lease Plans Discussed

LONDON, March 15 (AP) — A determined effort to reach an accord on several basic problems of lend-lease — an issue of mounting importance in British-American relations and a potential issue in the presidential campaign —is understood to be in progress to clarify the present and future economic position of both Britain and the United States.

The first objective probably will be a clearer understanding of the scope of British industrial exports at a time when this island nation is dependent upon a life-line from America for huge quantities of goods.

The crux of the situation is how much of Britain's industrial capacity should be used for export production, how much is needed to maintain a war-pared trade minimum and how to settle problems arising from the shift in shipping supremacy from Britain to America.

It is understood in London that rough drafts of a proposed agreement on one or more of these entwined questions had been drawn and then discarded after conferences in Washington. It is sure to be near the top of the agenda for coming discussions between Edward R. Stettinius, jr., U. S. undersecretary of state, and British officials.

Other questions attracting mounting attention include:

1. Will there be a post-war shipping pool by the two nations with a division of markets, or will there be out-and-out competition? What will be the position of smaller shipping nations such as the Dutch? Should an accord be reached now on subsidized shipping and tariffs?

2. What arrangements should be made now to dispose of the huge quantities of war materials — such as clothing and motor vehicles — to civilian use after victory without duplicating the chaotic market conditions that prevailed after the last war? What, for example, should be done with surplus machine tools to prevent a long shutdown in industry?

Meeting Set Here On Sugar Beet Culture

H. E. Knapp, manager of the Rocky Ford (Colo.) plant of the American Crystal Sugar company, will be the principal speaker at a meeting tonight in the extension service building, Fourteenth street and Avenue Q, at 8 o'clock, County Agent Jason O. Gordon announced Wednesday.

Farmers of Lubbock county are urged to attend this meeting, at which they will be asked to devote acreage to the raising of sugar beets.

C. W. Briggs, a representative of the company who was in Lubbock last week, said that if a sufficient amount of acreage in this county is devoted to this crop, an experienced man will be placed here by the company to assist farmers.

The 1942 farm crops of the nation were harvested with 26,000,000 fewer persons than would have been required if the methods of 1840 were still in use.

New Headache Is Due Taxpayers

Taxpayers no more than get rid of one headache when another comes along to take its place.

The new headache is the declaration of estimated income for 1944, which must be filed on or before April 15.

However, this will not affect as many people as the final return on 1943 incomes. A declaration must be made by every citizen or resident of the United States if he comes within any of the following groups:

Groups As Defined

1. Single or married, but not living with spouse at the date prescribed for the making of the declaration, whether or not head of the family, if he had for 1943, or reasonably expects to have for 1944, gross income of more than $2,700 from wages subject to withholding; or gross income of $500 or more from all sources if more than $100 of such income is from sources other than wages subject to withholding.

2. Married and living with spouse at the date prescribed for the making of the declaration, if he had for 1943 or reasonably expects to have for 1944, gross income from wages subject to withholding which, when added to his spouse's gross income from such sources, exceeds $3,500; or gross income from sources other than wages subject to withholding which, when added to his gross income from such sources exceeds $624 for 1944 or the aggregate gross income from all sources of both spouses amounts to $1,200 or more for either 1943 or 1944.

If Wages Are Less

3. Individuals, regardless of marital status who were required to file a final income tax return in 1943 and whose wages subject to withholding for 1944 are reasonably expected to be less than such wages for 1943.

If at least 80 per cent of the taxpayer's estimated gross income is derived from farming, he does not have to file this declaration until Dec. 15, 1944. He must pay at time the unpaid balance of the estimated tax for 1944.

L. B. Barkley, field division chief of the Lubbock Office of Internal Revenue, said Wednesday that these declarations can be made at any time between now and April 15, however, he urges each one to get their estimates in at the earliest possible moment.

Barkley added that a joint declaration may be filed by husband and wife even though they expect to file separate income tax returns for 1944.

Brief Bits Of Local News

L. B. Barkley, field division chief of the Office of Internal Revenue here, announced Wednesday that Mrs. Eugenia Y. Partain, who has been employed as his secretary for the past six months, has resigned her position, effective today.

George C. Brewer, former Church of Christ minister here, received word Sunday while conducting a revival meeting in Sherman of the death of his mother, Mrs. Virginia A. Brewer, 87, in Decatur, Ala., that morning. He left immediately for Decatur where he conducted funeral services Tuesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at Slaton Baptist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon for C. E. Sooter, 42, of Posey, who drowned Monday night in Buffalo lake. Rev. J. T. Clinton will officiate. Burial will be in Slaton cemetery by Rix Funeral home.

Last rites will be read at Rix Funeral chapel at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Mrs. W. D. French, 50, who died Tuesday afternoon at her home, 305 Eighth street. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Texas Rear Admiral Receives Gold Star

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Navy announced today award of a gold star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit to Rear Admiral Spencer S. Lewis, 56, for services as chief of staff to the commander of the western naval task force in planning the amphibious assault on Sicily in July, 1943.

Lewis is a resident of Calvert, Tex. His daughter, Harriette L. Lewis lives in Long Beach, Calif.

Suspension orders of 60 days in one case and six months in another were issued by Harry Hall, chief hearing commissioner from Washington and personal representative of OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, at a hearing here Wednesday on gasoline cases.

The 60-day suspension order was issued against H. R. Trammel, operator of the Ellwood service station here, the suspension order being stayed. Trammel was charged with accepting gasoline coupons which had not yet become valid, and with accepting two "C" coupons from a commercial vehicle, when that particular type of coupon is for passenger cars only.

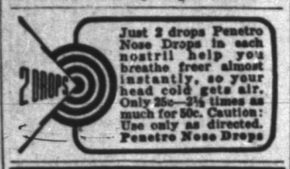

A six-month suspension order with five months being stayed, was issued against C. L. Kifer, operator of Kifer service station in Matador, at the hearing.

Kifer was charged with having coupons totaling 2,314 gallons over and above his regular storage capacity. He was ordered to surrender these coupons. The suspension order becomes effective on April 1, 1944, the station remaining closed for 30 days beginning on that date.

Similar hearings were conducted Monday and Tuesday in Big Spring, at which 11 cases were heard. Suspension orders were issued in seven cases. These suspensions were based on the inability of the operators to account for shortages in inventory and, in some cases, overage in inventory, Hall said.

Other hearings scheduled for the Lubbock district include Pampa, March 16, five cases; Amarillo, March 17, eight cases; Dalhart March 18, five cases.

BUT...OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

What wouldn't America give to see an Auto Show again?...With startling innovations?... With irresistible gadgets?...Surely with "cut-away" engines—innards exposed—mechanism moving, hushed and hypnotic, while you crowd around to see.

You just ought to see your own engine's innards, though...now! Every explosion in there, as in anyone's engine, must produce acids. They're corrosive; hungry for metals. But advanced research has created the corrosion fighter known as OIL-PLATING. And all the corrosion-resistance of an OIL-PLATED engine is yours as you change to Conoco Nth motor oil for Spring.

The action of a special synthetic in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil rivals "magnetism"... joins the OIL-PLATING to metal as if to stay ...doesn't let OIL-PLATING all promptly drain down to the crankcase...keeps up interference to acid. Even without long steady runs that would help a bit to heat acid away, you needn't worry. Even with restricted overcool operation that tends to make acid a "double trouble," you needn't worry. You'll have all the safety of protective OIL-PLATING all the while you use Conoco Nth. Change today for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

You can help send them this easy way:

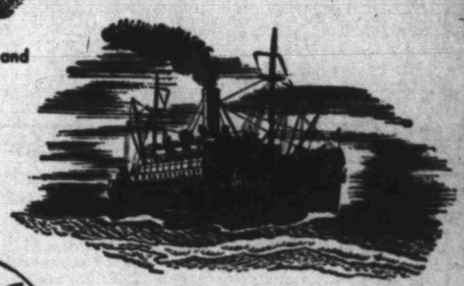

That forgotten musical instrument in your storeroom is wanted! Some boy in uniform, halfway 'round the world, is asking for it now. Harmonicas, accordions, ocarinas, flutes, bazookas. All you have to do is deliver them to your neighborhood Coca-Cola dealer. We'll do the rest. Here's how it works:

1 You take your instrument to your nearest Coca-Cola dealer.

2 The Coca-Cola truck picks it up and sends it to the U. S. Government.

3 They send it to the boys in camp and overseas.

4 Your gift brings some lonely soldier joy. Thank you.

Don't delay. Dig out all your old musical instruments today and start them on their journeys to our homesick fighting men.

Avalanche-Journal Want Ads Pay

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

WHEN you hear discussions on America's part in feeding the postwar world, do you stop to think how many "hungry" persons there are in the world? Agricultural economists at Cornell university estimate the number between 200 and 350 million.

They believe we can help feed the people of the liberated areas if we eat more "crop foods" like soybeans, wheat, dry beans and potatoes. Freedom from want will NOT be achieved the economists maintain by permanently lowering our level of living or eating. What we are doing is "food priming," providing emergency food while needy nations re-establish and improve their own food production.

And, along this line, Mrs. Marjorie Ann Watson, food, editor, is submitting recipes to use soya flour which will appear on Friday's food page.

RICH IN PROTEIN

SOYA protein has almost the same quality as that in meat, eggs, milk and cheese. It certainly is not unknown to the Chinese people, who, despite small statures can do an amazing amount of work, such as lifting heavy objects and even running with them. We're thinking now of the runners of these jinrikishas, which according to pre-war pictures usually had as passengers Uncle Walt or Tug-Boat Annie sized persons. If a coolie had not strength from some source, he couldn't have even lifted the handlebars.

Miss Helen Edwards, assistant county home demonstration agent, says don't expect soya flour to take the place of wheat flour in thickening sauces and gravies. It hasn't the necessary starch and gluten for that. And you can't use it as the only flour in bread making. More liquid will be needed than in standard recipes because soya flour and grits fairly drink up moisture.

Soya recipes offer you a good opportunity for being generous with seasonings. And you can count on foods containing soya to brown quickly. They give a richer brown to baked foods and a crisper crust to sausage, fried mush and potato cakes.

SOLDIERS AT WAR

FIGHTING in a battle is such hazardous business, men don't waste time talking about the postwar world, take it from Capt. Julian S. Williamson, 2628 Twenty-fifth street, who is here on 15-days leave en route to a new assignment and who spent 100 days on the front lines with the Fifth Army in southern Italy.

"Oh, sometimes during a rest period the fellows get to talking about how nice it will be to come home and they display pictures of their wives and youngsters and even lay little bets on when the war in Europe will be over," the field artillery captain added. "But most of the men with whom I associate look on it as a job to get done and they are concentrating every effort toward that end and don't spend too much time in wistful thinking."

WILLIAMSON

Shortly after the year began, several officers and men of the 36th division were wagering the war would end in six months but since then they have advanced the time until fall, Captain Williamson said. Lubbock and South Plains men in the 131st F. A., a part of the old 36th with whom he has been stationed since they left the states, are doing all right. Their physical and mental health is good, the visiting captain said, adding they can eat four nourishing meals a day on the front if they want to do so.

He has seen Gen. Mark Clark a number of times and describes him as being "regular." The tall American general visits the front lines often, pausing for chats with the officers and soldiers.

Captain Williamson's smallest son, Scott, had forgotten his Dad, who had become to him, as is the case in so many homes throughout the land, a picture. However, since Sunday the two have become thoroughly acquainted.

The Lubbock man will report to Fort Sill April 1.

Price Control Delay Laid To Republicans

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas) has charged that the Republicans are delaying action on legislation for renewel of the emergency price control act which expires June 30.

In a speech broadcast last night, Patman, a champion of the administration's subsidy proposals during debate in the House, said:

"I accuse Republican leadership with a deliberate plot to create, in time of war, a prolonged and partisan debate over a question upon which there should be no difference of opinion.

"That question is whether the cost of living should be effectively controlled.

"The Democrats in the House of Representatives have only six more votes than the Republican minority," Patman said. "It is not unique in our political history when the minority party, standing as a unit, has been able to control the course of legislation.

"It has happened before and it is occuring with respect to the price control act. Therefore, I assert that the Republican party has control—actual control—of the cost of living program. Its fate rests squarely on the Republican leadership in Congress.

Argentina Pair Discloses Birth Of Quintuplets

BUENOS AIRES, March 15 (AP) Quintuplets were born eight months ago in a Buenos Aires suburb to a well-to-do rancher and his 42-year-old Italian wife, who kept the event secret to avoid public excitement such as attended the birth of the famous Dionne children, Buenos Aires papers said today.

Franco Diligenti, their father, declined to permit reporters to see his offspring—three girls and two boys—but exhibited photographs of them, remarking: "Look gentlemen, a full house." Their names, he said, are Maria Fernanda, Maria Esther, Maria Cristina, Carlos Alberto and Franco.

Diligenti said the children were born at home last July 11, with only a midwife in attendance on his wife, Vallota, who is the mother of three other children. He declared the quints are in excellent health, each weighing between 20 and 25 pounds.

by Mrs. Newton as a result of the phone calls.

About three miles from town he saw a parked car and Mrs. Newton was sitting in it, he said. She asked him to get in the car and as he did Dr. Newton came from a barrow pit at the side of the road and began shooting, Dr. Hunt testified. The wounded physician escaped by crawling through a field.

Propriety Of Evidence Questioned

The appellate court conceded that it was permissible to prove that Mrs. Newton was in Littlefield the night of the shooting but questioned whether or not the evidence actually received was proper for that purpose.

The opinion, by Judge Thomas L. Beauchamp, added:

"A conversation had between Dr. Hunt and his guests in the absence of the appellant could ordinarily bear no relationship to the guilt or innocence of the appellant.

"If the party making the call were some other person representing herself to be Mrs. Newton and had successfully created the impression on Dr. Hunt the things would have occurred in the Hunt home in the same way they would have had it in fact been Mrs. Newton."

Dr. Newton Said In Houston

Testifying in his own behalf Dr. Newton related a story of leaving Cameron at 6 p. m. on the evening of May 20 and arriving in Houston where he and Mrs. Newton spent the night. The couple was located in Houston at 11 a. m. the following morning and taken back to Cameron.

"The bills of exception relating to the testimony of the guests have given us much concern and it is our opinion they reflect error.

"In the brief filed by the state we find no authorities cited supporting the contention that the testimony is admissible.

INVESTIGATIONS CONTINUE IN SLAYINGS OF HUNTS

Local and state officers are continuing their investigations of the slayings of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt. Recently an attempt to locate a pistol which might throw light on the mystery came to nothing.

The suave, middle-aged Jim Thomas held for questioning flippantly denied knowledge of the slayings, and has stood firm in his denials. Thomas was arrested in Galveston. He has a long prison record.

Soon after Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were found dead at Littlefield, their bodies blood-soaked and bound, the suspect dictated a detailed statement of his activities. Then he laughingly refused to sign the statement.

Dr. Hunt and his wife were bound by ropes and wires to their bed, and were beaten and shot to death.

Commission house liquidation was induced by favorable war news and the lower than expected February cotton consumption report.

Dangerous Trends

"These instances and facts establish the kind of thinking that this board has fallen into, and point out the very great dangers to the institution. The board now finds itself deadlocked with federal extension service authorities with whom we have enjoyed the most harmonious and cooperative relations for a third of a century. The extension service is in a deplorable state of distrust and uncertainty.

Negroes And Spirits Cause Car Smash-Up

Inability of two Littlefield negroes to resist partaking of a load of spirits they had bought in Dallas, Wednesday night resulted in a wreck about eight miles out of Lubbock on the Idalou highway in which one of them was injured and two cars seriously damaged.

Officers said the blacks were drunk.

Driver of the other car, they said, was "Shorty" Abernathy of Idalou, who was reported uninjured.

The negroes, it was explained, had started to pass another car when they hit Abernathy's car, which was meeting them.

Deputy Sheriff Raymond Land said he observed about two cases of spirits broken and spilled on the highway. Several cases were confiscated by Capt. N. R. Smith of the highway patrol. Beer, wine and rum made up the load.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education at Texas Technological college and director of the Teacher Placement bureau, returned to Lubbock this morning from Midland, where he has been serving as co-ordinator in application of the Midland High school for evaluative criteria of the high school.

A total of 105 men students took the Army specialized program and the Navy V-12 college program tests at Texas Technological college Wednesday, according to Dr. H. L. Kent, Administrative assistant. U. S. Navy Gunners Down 20 American Planes By Error

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15 (AP)—U. S. Navy gunners in a battle of the Sicilian campaign shot down 20 American planes by mistake, Sgt. Jack Foisie, correspondent for the Stars and Stripes, Army newspaper, asserted today.

Foisie said the American planes, which were C-47 transports, came over the Navy gunners just after they had undergone a heavy aerial bombing attack by the Germans.

"The Navy gunners kept right on shooting," Foisie said, "and some 20 of our planes went down."

Germans Desperate

attacks on United Nations fliers may have been instinctive expressions of the hatred of a population which has just been bombed; but in others it is the obvious result of propaganda designed to convince the German people they are exacting revenge on "murderers."

The Germans' subconscious knowledge that they are already beaten is shown primarily by their lack of confidence in their unit of currency—the rejchmark. Any German today would rather hold on to physical property than sell it for marks at any price. Many stores in Baden, for example, were still stocked with more or less luxury items, but shopkeepers were not interested in selling them. Trade in Germany today is almost entirely restricted to rationed articles, the sale of which is forced by law.

SPAAF Salvage Drive Will Include Paper, Scrap Metal

In connection with a nationwide salvage campaign, salvage officials at South Plains Army Air field have made tentative plans for the collection of waste paper, tin cans and scrap metal throughout the South Plains area.

While plans were being mapped in a city salvage committee meeting in Lubbock for the collection of waste paper, salvage officials at SPAAF announced plans for an extensive campaign to collect paper, cans and scrap metal in the surrounding counties as well.

Army trucks at SPAAF and under the direction of Lieut. Col. Frederick W. Franke, quartermaster officer, and Lt. Edward Degginger, salvage officer, will pick up trucks loads of paper, cans and metal in the city and nearby counties where sufficient loads merit the trip.

Tentative Outline

Tentative plans call for waste paper properly stacked and tied to be picked up at schools in the county the latter part of the month. Plans also have been made for Boy Scouts to collect the paper in the city for collection at central points where trucks can handle it quickly.

Definite time for collections in the city and county will be announced later, but SPAAF officials have asked that salvage or collection chairmen in surrounding South Plains counties make plans for a county wide salvage drive, then contact salvage officials at SPAAF by calling 9361, extension 302 or by writing Lieut. Col. Franke at SPAAF.

A drive at SPAAF the past few weeks paid off last week when the field sent in 38,000 pounds of cardboard for vital war uses.

Garza County Campaign

A similar campaign already has been carried out in Garza county with Post as the hub of the drive. Good results were obtained, officials said in emphasizing that several carloads of scrap paper, cans and metal still remain to be salvaged in this and nearby counties.

To aid salvage collectors when the drive does get under way in Lubbock and other counties, officials pointed out that residents cooperating in the drive should follow a few simple rules in collecting salvageable materials.

All wrapping paper, including waste paper from kitchens, paper sacks, newspapers, magazines, handbills, and paper bound books should be tied flat in separate bundles not more than 18 inches high. Greasy, waxed or badly mutilated or soiled paper should not be included.

Tin cans also will be picked up, Lt. Col. Franke said, if they are prepared for easy handling. Number 10 cans and large should be washed, and care exercised to prevent denting or mutilation; tops and label are to be taken off, and tops placed inside cans.

Handling Smaller Cans

Cans smaller than No. 10 and which will be in the majority for most persons of the area, are to be prepared for detinning by thoroughly washing free from all foreign substance; tops, bottoms and labels removed, and tops and bottoms placed inside can, and then crushed by stepping on them heavily. Do not hammer or press so as to mutilate the inner surface. Cans should be bright, not rusty. Milk cans are not to be salvaged.

When any one county, town or community in the area has sufficient material to be picked up by Army trucks, a call or letter will bring trucks on the run.

All material collected by the Army must be donated to the Army, it was emphasized. There is no "profit" in this case except the profit gained by the men on the fighting fronts. Shells, food, clothing, in fact, almost all types of weapons and supplies are wrapped in cardboard and paper containers.

Constitution On Foods Is Ready

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—A proposed "food constitution" for the United Nations was ready for submission to the Senate foreign relations committee today.

Dean Acheson, assistant secretary of state, and Paul Appleby, under secretary of agriculture, were summoned before the group to explain the proposal.

It is the product of an interim commission of last year's international food conference of 44 united and associated nations at Hot Springs, Va. The State department is described as finding it generally acceptable.

Details Not Announced

While the details have not been announced, the interim commission was directed to draw up an international organization to plan for greater production and greater international trade in commodities.

One of its functions would be to ease shortages in some areas with supplies from regions having surpluses, a sort of ever-normal granary plan on a world basis.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee expressed belief that ultimately some sort of enabling legislation would be required for United States participation. This could be similar to the authorization to take part in the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

Texans Purchase Total Of $2,432,310,661 In Bonds Since May, 1941

DALLAS, March 15. (AP)—Texans have put up nearly two and one-half billion dollars for war bonds and stamps since the beginning of the defense savings program in May, 1941, Nathan Adams, chairman of the War Finance Committee of Texas, revealed today.

Total sales from the beginning through the Fourth War Loan drive amounted to $2,432,310,661. More than half of this amount was subscribed during the four war loan drives, Adams said.

During the Fourth War Loan, Texans put $479,496,799 in war savings to top their quota of $395,000,000.

Basketball Playoffs Open In Garden Tourney Tonight

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The rafters in Madison Square Garden will be thoroughly dusted off during the next two weeks as a dozen of the nation's outstanding college cage teams, many of them featuring skyscraping centers, seek basketball's highest honors in two tournaments.

The seventh National Invitation tournament begins tomorrow night with Bowling Green college, an Ohio dark horse with an impressive record, facing the Metropolitan New York champion, St. John's of Brooklyn, and De Paul of Chicago playing Muhlenberg, another small college entry from Allentown, Pa.

Two real skyscrapers will appear in these games, Don Otten, Bowling Green center, towers six feet 11 1-2 inches and is exceeded in height among basketball stars only by seven-foot Bob Kurland of the Oklahoma Aggies, who will appear later in the tournament. DePaul's outstanding player is six-foot, nine inch George Kikan.

Two other first round games of the invitation tourney, sending Oklahoma A. and M. against Canisius of Buffalo and Kentucky against Utah, will be played next Monday with semi-finals March 22 and the final March 26. The schedule was arranged so that Navy-manned teams such as Muhlenberg and Bowling Green could return home between games.

Next week the Eastern half of the National Collegiate championship tourney, involving Darmouth, Catholic U., Ohio State and Temple, will be played on the Garden court. The winner of this two-day affair will meet the victor of the Western tourney at Kansas City in a final play-off here March 28. The plan then calls for a meeting between the two tournament winners March 30 for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Golf Aces Become A Habit With Wichitan

WICHITA FALLS, March 15 (AP) — Ben Powell, Wichita Falls golfer, played rounds by the hundreds without the thrill of a "dodo." Then, the tables turned and he made three in seven months.

Powell watched his tee shot roll into the cup on the 173-yard No. 11 green of the Week's Park links last August. No. 2 followed on Feb. 19 when the cup on No. 8, a 200-yard shot, put out the welcome mat. And it was less than three weeks later that he aced No. 17, a 110-yard pitch.

FORT MORGAN, Colo., March 15. (AP)—Mrs. R. B. Spencer, 66, wife of the editor of the Fort Morgan Times and mother of Murlin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent in the Pacific, died at her home today after months of illness.

Since the start of Interscholastic League in Texas in 1920, two tie games have been played in the finals of the football season to provide co-champions. A third tie was decided on penetrations.

Westerners To Hold Two-Day Track Meet

In an effort to learn just what is the true strength of his track squad, Coach Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst, track coach of the Lubbock Westerners announced a two day intra-squad track meet at Chapman field for Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The squad has been divided into three teams and will run off seven events each day. The squads will number about 16 or 17 boys each, and will be captained by Roy Grimes, Burl Gene Moore and Bobby Martyn. The events will start at 4 o'clock each day.

Fans are invited to turn out to see the events.

Soldiers Shocked At Rhumba Dancing Reds

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 15. (AP) — Soldiers who wandered into the University of Indiana fieldhouse to watch the Cincinnati Reds work out yesterday couldn't believe what they saw.

There were Manager Bill McKenchnie's muscular athletes "bumping and grinding" in an attempt to do the rhumba. They were tripping the none-too-light fantastic to the tune of an accordion played by a petite high school girl attired in an abbreviated costume.

The idea was McKenchie's. He claimed it was good exercise, although not necessarily a prerequisite to winning a National league pennant.

Teacher for the dancing session was recruit pitcher Tomas De La Cruz, a Cuban who played for Syracuse last year and who says he is one of the best rhumba dancers in all Havana.

The other players, who joined the enterprise with suspicious reluctance, neared a state of rebellion as the newness of the thing wore off, especially when the soldiers gave them a very large "ha ha ha" and made other uncouth noises.

When the team got around to baseball De La Cruz also held the center of the stage as the big righthander threw a "few fast ones" to a battery mate. They had plenty of "smoke."

Hunt Volley Teams Win Double Header

The Hunt Pioneers volleyball teams took both ends of a double bill from the Dupre Dogies Wednesday afternoon with the Hunt girls taking over undisputed league leadership in the girls league with a thrilling 38 to 37 victory.

The Hunt boys won 37 to 20 in the second game on the card.

The girls teams of the two schools were undefeated and untied at the time of the meeting, and setting the pace in the girls race.

After playing in the state schoolboy finals six times in a row, the Waco Tigers went 12 years before playing in the finals again—losing to Lubbock in 1939, 20 to 14.

LAAF Cagers To Battle Tonight

The greatest crowd of the season is expected to overflow the Lubbock Army Air Field gym tonight for the meeting between the high geared Squadron League leaders, the 84th Squadron and the 498th Squadron. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The last half race will close tonight with these two teams reaching the final game on the schedule tied for the leadership, each with eight wins and one loss. The lone loss by the 84th Squadron is the only loss for the team in 24 starts, and came in a torrid overtime session in the last meeting between these two teams.

The 84th Squadron won the first half, going through the race undefeated, and a win tonight would give them undisputed claim to the championship with both halves tucked away in the ball bags. A victory for the 498th Squadron would give that team the last half, and send the two teams into a playoff for the championship.

The 84th Squadron will be handicaped tonight by the absence of Benit Riddel, star forward, who will be absent from the team because of illness in his family which has called him out of town. His place will be taken over by Bob Brewer, a basketball star from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Jim Wilson, coach of the 84th Squadron will have the rest of his regulars ready for action with Bruce Prior, the league's top scorer with 306 points, at the other forward. Wallace Long from Decatur, Ill., will be at center, Don Newell, a Kansas product, and Buster Dixon, the Ennis Express, will be at the guard positions.

The fast improving 498th Squadron five will be at full strength for this game, and 1st Sgt. Tomlin will probably start Clarence Taylor from Sweetwater, and Milton Flackner, a Michigan product, at the forward posts, Revis Harris from Lockney, at center, Norman Volz, former Texas Tech star, and Joe Sellers from Kansas at the guards.

The 498th Squadron five is confident of repeating in it's 42 to 39 win over the high stepping 84th Squadron, and the 84th is just as confident that it will get revenge for the lone loss against the season record of the club.

Heafner Takes Lead In North-South Golf

PINEHURST, N. C., March 15 (AP) — Sgt. Clayton Heafner of Camp Croft, S. C., shot a par 72 today for a two-round total of 143 to take the half way lead in the North and South Open.

While other first-round leaders —Gene Sarazen of Darien, Conn., and Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, were finding the course tougher today, the bulky Army sergeant produced par 36-36—72 to gain a one-stroke advantage over Dodson. Sarazen required a 77 that pushed him five strokes back.

Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind., came in with the day's only other par score to add to his opening 73 for 145 and third place. Bobby Cruickshank, the defending champion, had another 73 for 146 and fourth position. Purvis Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Joe Zarhardt of Norristown, Penn., were tied with Sarazen at 148.

Lt. Horton Smith of Goldsboro, N. C., had 76 for a 150 total.

Third and fourth rounds will be played tomorrow.

SINUSITIS

The old name for sinusitis was catarrah. This is the time of year on the Plains when those succeptible will suffer more account of the dust storms. Why they are succeptible is a question we all cannot agree on. The mucous lining of the air passages become inflammed and highly sensative. Particles of dust coming in contact with this surface will set up an irritation.

Chiropractic has proven its worth in bringing relief to those with Sinusitis. For further information please call at this office . . . .

Dr. Jones' Resignation

IT has been said that "every cloud has its silver lining," but in the case of the resignation of Dr. Clifford B. Jones as president of Texas Technological college the cloud of regret his leaving casts over the institution has not one, but two, bright spots.

First, Doctor Jones will still be available for counsel to the college by virtue of his election to the post of president emeritus.

And second, the doctor will have more time in which to take part in civic affairs in Lubbock—a field in which for two decades he has been a leader in West Texas.

Thousands will regret the necessity which brought about the resignation of Doctor Jones, but few, if any of those thousands will disagree with his decision. The stark truth is that the job of being Tech's president made such heavy demands upon Doctor Jones' strength and energy that his former robust health all but disappeared and he found himself plagued by high blood pressure, heart flurries and digestive upsets. For more than two years he has struggled to win back his health and at the same time do his job. He discovered that he could not do both; therefore he made the only logical decision he could make.

The board of directors of the college, we think, deserves the thanks and the commendation of all friends of Tech everywhere for acknowledging Doctor Jones' 21 years of active service to the institution by unanimously electing him as president emertus. Additional thanks and commendation are due the directorate, too, for keeping available to Tech the wise advice and the practical knowledge of this fine citizen who, over more than two decades, has played such an important role in building and guiding the college. Their action in this regard was not only well earned by Doctor Jones, but also gave added testimony that the directors have the best interests of Texas Tech uppermost in their minds.

We echo—as, we are sure, Tech's faculty, student body, employes and well-wishers throughout Texas also echo—a statement made The Morning Avalanche by Chas. C. Thompson, of Colorado City, the directorate's chairman. Said he:

"Too much good cannot be said of Clifford Jones, the man, the citizen, the college president. It is impossible to over-emphasize his value to Texas and to Tech college. He is a great man; he has done a great job."

Nothing more fitting can be said.

Bad Judgment In Eire

THANKS to help and sympathy in the United States, Free Eire exists today with Brooklyn-born Eamon De Valeria its prime minister.

This does not suggest that anyone in the United States carried the brunt of the long and bloody struggle for Irish independence. It does say—as often has been said by De Valera himself—that help and support in the United States played a most important part in the struggle. It is doubtful whether Irish freedom could have been won without that support. Certainly it would have been delayed much longer.

For years during the struggle, De Valera spent practically all his time in the United States campaigning for Irish independence. Almost everywhere he was hailed as something of a hero. He collected huge sums of money. Support did not come alone from those Americans of Irish ancestry. In New York City, for example, it was said that many of the Jews were more Irish than the Irish. Americans, overwhelmingly, were in sympathy with the Irish, some so enthusiastically that an observer might have thought that their own independence was at stake.

Mr. De Valera already has alienated much of that good will. He certainly will lose it all if Americans become persuaded that Eire is providing haven—innocently or otherwise—for Nazi spies and observers.

True, the Irish may have the notion that American good will isn't needed any longer. If so, they might remember that France, Great Britain and others had a similar idea back in 1919. They learned differently in 1939 and 1940—too late to save France and almost too late to save England. The help that might have been forthcoming instantly had they placed a proper value on American friendship was delayed a long, long time.

It may happen, of course, that De Valera and Eire never will have need for the support of American public opinion. But if ever they should need it, they are taking the chance because of prejudices they are arousing now that they won't have it.

The worst by-product of the war to date is the go-to-hell attitude of the salesman towards the customer.

The One Minute Sermon

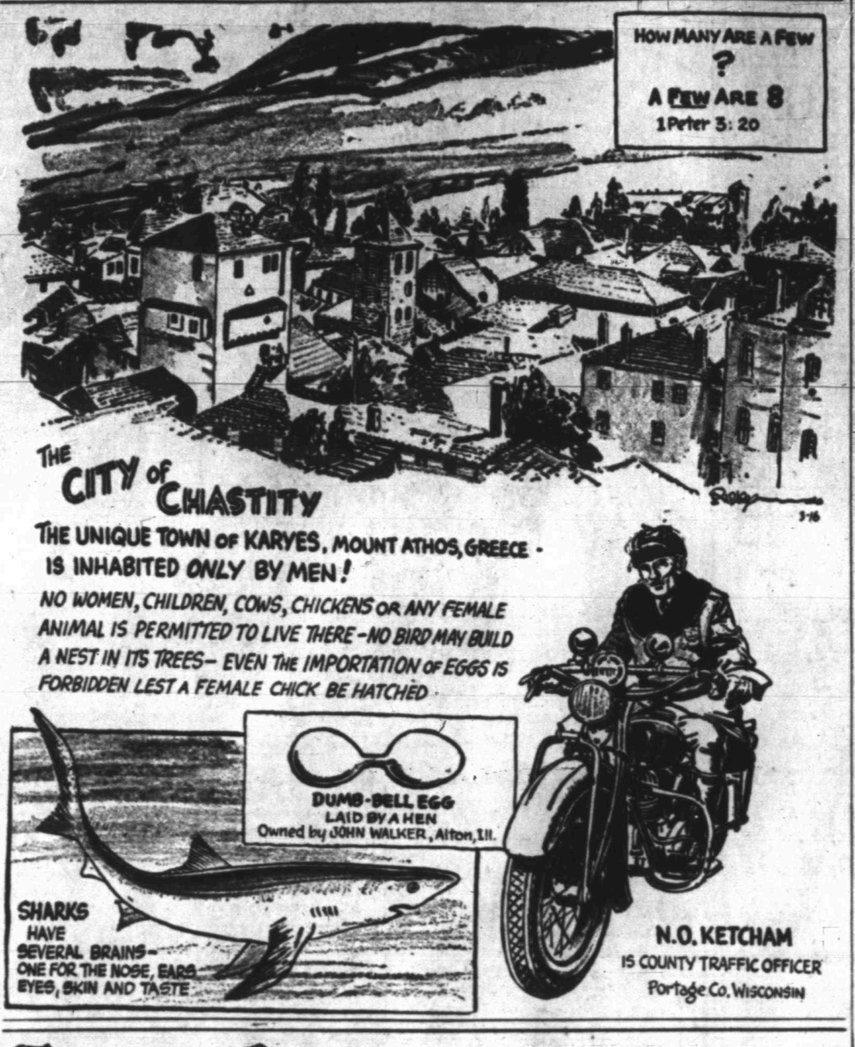

The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.

The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season.

Thou openst thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.

The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.—Psalms 145; 14 thru 17.

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Tomorrow Fair

BY WINIFRED HALSTED

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins Bishop, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increased importance of his career made him apparently neglect her. She makes a hit with ebullient Mac MacGregor and henpecked Randall Seaton. Mag Seaton shows her jealousy. Kitty goes for a walk with Mac.

XII

They walked slowly on but as they reached the Widow Reynolds', as Mac called her, where he roomed, Kitty said irritably that probably Mrs. Reynolds would be upset if he started entertaining in his room.

"She loves me like a son. Anyway, she thinks I'm queer because I write." He kicked the porch step. "Queer? Hell, I'm crazy."

"What's the matter?" said Kitty as they went indoors and up the stairs.

"My book's no good."

"Then why don't you fix it?"

Mac glared at her. Kitty went over to the window. In less than half an hour the unreliable April weather had changed from sun to storm. Kitty sighed.

"Now what's your trouble?" inquired Mac, who sounded low, too.

"I'm mixed up."

"You and who else. What do you want—warm Scotch or sherry?"

Kitty shuddered and said sherry. And Mac said he was sorry the service wasn't up to her standards. Kitty swung around, took the glass he offered her. The day had changed, the room had changed. Something had changed the atmosphere around her and Mac too.

"Sit down," he said.

Kitty sat down on the near-Indian print that changed Mac's bed into respectability and a couch, leaned back tiredly against the hard wall. Large blue roses bloomed insanely on uninhibited wallpaper everywhere she looked. Kitty shut her eyes. She wasn't up to coping with blue roses.

Mac sat down beside her, elbows on his knees, slowly turning his own glass in his hands.

"Listen," he said, "tell me something. When's he going to turn up?"

Kitty sat up with a jerk. Mac looked at her, his gray eyes intent. Kitty stared at him resentfully. "Who?" she demanded.

"The other guy. The one you fell for. You didn't go to Florida for the sun, did you?"

"No, but I didn't go just for a quick change of husbands either."

"What did you go for, then?"

Kitty slumped back against the wall and was still for a moment before she answered. "Because," she said slowly, "principles can be as real as people, and—attitudes can be as galling as infidelity."

Mac snorted.

"Words," he said. "You have a word for everything, haven't you? It's just what I figured. You went to Florida but you don't know why. I'll tell you why: you got mad and quit."

Kitty stirred angrily but before she could speak Mac went on.

"Well, all right, you got mad and quit. What are you going to do next?"

"I don't know," said Kitty soberly.

"There's the trouble," said Mac. "It's a bad frame of mind to go visiting in. It unsettles the innocent bystanders. They wonder what you're going to do next, too. It gives Randall ideas, it gives Mag ideas, it even gives me ideas—"

"I'm a little tired of talking about me," interrupted Kitty "Let's talk about you. You're so penetrating it might be instructive. I suppose you always know what you're going to do next?"

"Not always, but this time it's easy. I'm going in the army. Come up and see me when I'm a general!"

He straightened up and slid an arm behind her. "Relax," he said.

Kitty drew a long breath that was almost a sob. Mac rubbed his cheek comfortingly against hers.

"Do you like living alone, Kitty?" he asked softly.

"No," said Kitty. "No."

Mac held her gently. Kitty was mistily surprised at the difference between Mac in public and Mac alone, but Mac's whole identity was slipping off the edge of her mind. He was an arm that held her, a shoulder to rest against, a heart that thudded close to hers.

There were prim, decisive footsteps outside the door, along the hall. Kitty's body stiffened.

"That's only Mrs. Reynolds," said Mac.

But Kitty sat up.

"Now what? You are the most restless soul! Don't go away, Kitty."

The footsteps came back, hesitated, went on. Kitty moved away from Mac's restraining hand. She got up, frowned at the stormy, early dusk that had crept down unnoticed, walked over to Mac's desk and snapped on the lamp as though she were slapping a disorderly child. When she turned around and faced Mac he was blinking at her sardonically.

"Always the lady," he remarked.

"I don't care," said Kitty. "I don't like that. It makes me—nervous."

"The Widow Reynolds? Darling, she's a lady too; she always knocks first."

"Mac," cried Kitty, "you're hateful!"

"Don't go home mad," he said, getting up lazily. "If you must go home, I'll go with you, I guess. May I walk you home, Miss Kitty, sugah?"

"I don't know," said Kitty. "You confuse me. If you'd just decide what kind of person you are and stay that way—"

"I wouldn't have any fun!" Mac finished it for her.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THE U. S. Navy reports 21,476 enlisted men and women named Smith, 15,045 Johnsons and 11,035 answering to the name of Jones.

In addition to these, almost every one of the more fancy names are included.

There is something homey about a common name such as Smith, Johnson or Jones.

It's comfortable—you sort of feel that you can just be yourself, live a normal life and don't always have to be on display.

I don't know who coined the phrase "Keeping up with the Jonses." That should have been keeping up with the de Peysters or the Vonderjones or something like that.

You don't quite associate putting on airs with the name Jones or the kind of people you associate with that name.

Oh, I knew a Cholmondely Jones once, years ago. He was a nice fellow, at that and thoroughly ashamed of his first name. We had to call him "Chummy."

Seems his folks were terribly ambitious for him and picked a fancy name. But he made good in spite of the handicap.

* * *

Don't you think it's much easier for a fellow named Smith to go through life than for a Smythe?

You expect a Smith to be a guy just like yourself. But Smythe? Right away you figure "How did he get that way?"

I have a niece who was christened Alice. Darn nice girl she was. But in high school, she was in a class with lot of little snobs. Most of them with much wealthier parents than her own.

So what do you think she did? Started to call herself Alycia—and kept it up. Since then she's tried to live up to her name and become somewhat of a freak. Wouldn't even speak to me any more because I refuse to call her Alycia.

Then, I know one of the most delightful persons I ever met. Her name is Edith. She went to Hollywood and hung an "e" on the end of her name. She's "Edithe" now. It hasn't done her a bit of good, but she thinks it's much nicer than Edith.

I WISH my folks had thought of of another name for me beside "Erich." That name has something to do with vikings and conquerors and kings.

I go in more for slippers and dogs and an old pipes. Maybe father wanted me to be a Viking, he never said. If he did, I hope he's met many Vikings up where he is now—hope he isn't too unhappy that his son got to be a scribler.

One thing is sure—a lot of the Vikings Dad has met and will meet as they file through the Gate are sure to register as, Smith Johnson and Jones!

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

RIVAL aviation bigwigs are grousing privately at the preferred position which has apparently been granted to certain transportation interests and their financial backers in the administration's handling of current and postwar problems in this important field. They have submitted their informal protests to Adolf Berle, jr., assistant Secretary of State, and to Capitol Hill.

"I hope you won't wash any dirty linen in public," remarked Berle when a protesting group visited him.

"That all depends," one replied, "but we are keeping our eyes open."

Most recent cause for dissatisfaction was the appointment of Sokeley Morgan as head of the Division of Communications in the State department. Although admittedly an able citizen and diplomat, he was connected for many years with Pan American Airways and Lehman brothers, the New York banking house which has close tieups with that corporation and numerous other airlines. He succeeds Thomas Burke, who is now vice president of one of Pan Am's competitors for postwar business.

By direct orders from the White House, the Civil Aeronautics board has granted a license for the Jacksonville-New York run to National Airways, although the federal agency had awarded it to Colonial Airways in two previous decisions which FDR refused to accept. In this struggle Colonial was indirectly bucking Pan Am, for it hoped to extend its present Montreal-New York lines to Florida and thence across the water to Nassau, thus linking the two British dominions.

Although it had the support of around 60 congressmen, Speaker Rayburn, the Army and Navy and the duke of Windsor, it lost out to National in which Lehman brothers has more than a seven per cent stock interest.

FRIENDS: Ed Stettinius, Under-Secretary of State and the active administrator of that department, is a brother-in-law of Juan T. Trippe, head of Pan American and an influential figure in capital circles. Incidentally, Morgan is regarded as a protege of former Ambassador Joseph Grew, who will head the American delegation to the forthcoming international aviation conference.

The Jacksonville-New York grant, together with the Morgan selection, led Jesse Cottrell, veteran diplomat and present Washington newspaper correspondent, to write that the House of Lehman now enjoys more power in Washington than the House of Morgan ever did in past years.

The outstanding question before the administration as it looks forward to any world arrangement is whether American rights in the skies shall be handed over to a monopoly or divided among severa competing companies. Pan Am, which has done an excellent job as a military auxiliary, naturally seeks exclusive enjoyment of foreign routes. Its stand has led 16 other concerns to form a united opposition, and the two lobbies have carried their battles to House and Senate.

No one doubts the ability or character of the officials involved, but it is recognized here that having friends in high places always proves helpful in a pinch. Anyway, interested senators plan to create a subcommittee consisting of members of Foreign Relations and Commerce, and they may ask representatives of the industry to sit with them as consultants. They are aware that allocation of commercial airways allotted to the U. S. at the peace table will be a rich prize and also provocative of international good or evil.

SCARE: President Roosevelt could not withdraw from the fourth-term race now even if he should suddenly decide that 1944 looks like a Republican year from the White House down to the courthouse. That is, he could not pull out without exposing himself to the charge that he had betrayed his party.

As the opposition continues to demonstrate its strength in special elecion after special election, for national as well as state and local offices, even anti-administration Democrats demand that FDR head the ticket. Without his name at the top of the ballot, they realize, they will be sunk. They also note that his silence has prevented the organization from building up anyone else, and they charge that he "planned it that way."

Chairman Bob Hannegan, and Frank Walker before him, brushed off recent reverses as isolated upsets due to parochial causes. But the outcome in Denver, wherer they named a great World War II hero and still lost out in a solid Democratic district, shook them into reality and recognition.

The off-year tests in Kentucky, Missouri, Pennsylvania, New York and Colorado are now seen as definite evidence of a hostile trend. For one thing, they represent sentiment in widely scattered and different sections of the country.

The voters consisted of urban, rural and farm residents. They comprised white collar, workingmen and upper bracket classes. And the upsets occurred whether the issues were local or national, the turnout heavy or light.

The "ins" are scared—so frightened that they are rallying around a Chief Executive whom many dislike more than they ever did any of his Republican predecessors.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE mammoth blitz launched by United States fliers on Berlin last week caused havoc in the bruised city and brought down many of Goering's finest.

But the significant feature of the attack—unnoticed by the layman—is that now we can shield our big ships with a proper proportion of fighters, a tactic that spells ultimate destruction for the Luftwaffe.

Previously the German method of dealing with our bombers was to concentrate on them, ignoring their weak escorts. A large number of Flying Fortresses and Liberators nearly always were hit by withering broadsides and severe casualties were suffered. Our giants blazed away at their tormentors but were not successful in repulsing assaults from all directions. But for its skilled crew and strout construction many a crippled machine would have been lost.

RUIN: Lack of fighter planes of great range prevented daylight raids upon the distant heart of the Reich. On long flights our guardians had to return home as soon as they exhausted their ammunition they often were compelled to break off an engagement at the moment they were most needed.

The Nazis held the advantage. They could land and reload three times and still climb 20,000 feet to meet our bombers.

We now have the new Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings to accompany the heavies 400 miles and meet hostile aircraft on better than equal terms at any point in the trip. In other words, our protectors are today as deadly over Berlin as they are over the Channel.

Hereafter whenever Boche gunners attempt to dive into a formation of bombers they will expose themselves to a crossfire from the Fortresses and Mustangs.

We can simultaneously ruin military targets on the ground and whittle down the Luftwaffe. Remember this point, for you will see it demonstrated on a growing scale in the coming weeks.

VENERABLE: The one-two punch which the RAF and the USAAF are giving groggy Berlin raises the question: What will Hitler do for a capital?

As some bureaus have been shifted to Breslau, there is a likelihood that it will be chosen as the new seat of government. Its position close to the Polish frontier is beyond our immediate reach, but it is nearer to the oncoming Russians than any city in the Reich except those in East Prussia.

Its remoteness is another disadvantage. The strategic value of Berlin is that it is the center of Prussia. Most Americans do not realize that nearly 42 million of Germany's 20 million inhabitants live in this one huge state. The doomed city with a population of more than four million dominates Prussia. The Gestapo can with little effort keep its grip on the metropolis. Now the pin that held the several parts of the Reich together has been pulled out.

Maternity Program Keeps State Department Busy

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, March 15. (U.P.) — The federal-state program for paying maternity and infant care expenses for wives of enlisted and non-commissioned service men has given the State Health department a tremendous job.

Since inauguration of the project last December 1, the department approved 4,531 applications for paying costs of births and baby care through early March.

At the same time there were about 4,000 applications pending. They are being checked as rapidly as possible to assure adequate medical attention in both maternity and infant cases, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officers, said.

If the present rate of applications continues, Dr. Cox estimates the federal government will expend between $1,250,000 and $1,500,000 annually in the program in Texas. The project is administered by the State Health department, with funds coming from the Children's bureau of the U. S. Labor department.

Average medical cost for a maternity case is between $40 and $50, while hospital facilities add about $25 or $30, Dr. Cox said. The patient has to pay for medicines, he explained.

The expectant mother secures from a doctor and a hospital of her own choosing information on special forms, that they will take her case. The forms are sent to the State Health department for approval and from the federal funds expenses are paid when the patient is released.

Many Mothers Out-Of-Staters

Dr. Cox could not recall any applications being refused, and said instances are infrequent where forms have to be returned for additional information.

From areas near military concentrations come the largest number of applications, Dr. Cox said. The San Antonio and El Paso zones rank near the top in number, he believed. Many requests have been filed from Amarillo, Texarkana, Laredo, Tyler and Harlingen.

Majority of the applications are from wives who have moved to Texas to be with their husbands in the armed forces, Dr. Cox said.

Because the program has grown so rapidly, little time has been given to break-down statistics of its operation. Attention to applications has come first, with the statistics to follow later.

WHETHER Texas shall have an execution on Sunday again has come up for settlement.

Continuing a custom established by former Gov. Wilbert Lee O'Daniel, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson granted Bruce Elton Jordan a 30-day reprieve from execution as slayer of Tom Dype, a Houston produce dealer, near Coloumbus, Texas.

The reprieve made Jordan's new execution date April 16, which falls on Sunday.

The 30-day reprieve is all the clemency a governor can grant without recommendation of the State Pardon board, so it will be up to that board's three members to decide if the execution takes place on Sunday.

Unless there is commutation or an additional stay, the warden is bound by law to conduct the execution before daybreak, which would permit it to take place any time after Saturday midnight, April 15.

He's Starting Early

Chief Clerk G. A. (Chink) Smith of the Treasury department recently acquired a new title before he anticipated receiving it officially.

In the afternoon mail which came to his residence there was one of the familiar printed postcards—this one from the Burleson county draft board. Smith, father of two pre-Pearl Harbor children, had been put in Class 1-A. He formerly published a newspaper at Caldwell.

Next morning when he strode into his office, Smith was greeted by the customary sign bearing his name and title, prefixed with the word "Private."

He left the sign intact, believing it may be good luck after he enters the armed forces in a few weeks.

A HANDSOMELY bound book of photographs taken at the Temaulipas, Mexico, Agricultural and Industrial exposition last September, has been sent to Gov. Coke R. Stevenson by Gov. Magdaleno Aguilar of Tamualipas.

The volume contained more than 130 photographs taken at the last exposition held at Victoria, Tamps., which Stevenson visited as a part of his "good neighbor" call upon governors in Mexico.

Included are pictures of the exposition displays by Brownsville and by the Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville.

Numerous action pictures show the two governors attending the exposition.

HOGS IN A HURRY

Feed
STANTON'S 20% PIG RATION

Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.

ManAmar

In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-G Plus."

* * *

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

600 ACRES

Located 100 miles southwest of San Antonio, 20 miles southeast of Uvalde, a very beautiful little city of 8,000 population. Paved highway frontage. 100% rich alluvial soil 15 to 20 feet deep. Looks as level as a floor. Has a fall of 10 feet to the mile. Two large farmers nearby have averaged over $100 per acre net for several years raising vegetables. This is very best alfalfa and winter vegetable land. Especially adapted for stock farming and winter vegetable growing.

When this land is put in cultivation and under irrigation, based on a 20% crop rent for vegetables, which is customary, and one-third in alfalfa, it will average at least $35 per acre net for 10-year average. It is in virgin state and will take $75.00 per acre for it and put it in cultivation and under irrigation for $40 per acre. It can then be rented for at least $15 per acre cash.

When this country is settled and developed, which it soon will be, will pay interest on $400 per acre by raising alfalfa. Located in fishermen's and hunters' Paradise, one of the healthiest and most desirable places to live.

Jones Resigns Presidency Of Tech Due To Ill Health

man before becoming president. His only predecessors as president of the college were Drs. P. W. Horn and Bradford Knapp, both of whom died in office.

"We want it distinctly understood," Thompson said, "that we are accepting Dr. Jones' resignation only at his insistent request and solely for the reasons stated in his letter. The relationship between him and the board has been of the finest, and our dealings highly satisfactory.

Delighted With Service

"Dr. Jones knows from the board's frequent expression that it is delighted with the effective manner in which he has served as president and the satisfaction it has felt in having a man of his ability at the head of the school."

Dr. Jones said his plans after leaving the presidency were to "do nothing except to greet my friends and eventually catch up on my fishing which has been badly neglected."

In a statement after the board had acted upon his resignation, Dr. Jones said:

"I should like to emphasize the great pleasure and satisfaction it has been to work with boards of directors such as ours. I am deeply grateful to them and to our splendid faculty and other employes for their kindnesses to Mrs. Jones and me."

DR. JONES CONNECTED WITH TECH LONGER THAN ANYONE

Third president of Texas Tech and the only one to leave office by other than death, Doctor Jones has been connected with the institution longer than any other person. Prior to his election as president on Nov. 23, 1938, and his assumption of active duties on February 2, 1939, Doctor Jones had been a member of the directorate beginning with the first board in March of 1923 and throughout the intervening years. He was the board's second chairman, holding that position from the spring of 1927 until his resignation on the day of his election as president. Thus he has served Texas Tech in an important capacity for 21 years—since the college was in its "drafting board" stage, as first construction was not begun until mid-1924 and the institution's doors did not open until the fall semester of 1925.

Doctor Jones was preceded as president of the college by the late Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, who was elected on November 22, 1923, and who headed the college until his death here on April 13, 1932; and by Dr. Bradford Knapp, elected on July 18, 1932 and who died here June 11, 1938.

As his formal statement sets out, Doctor and Mrs. Jones will make their home in Lubbock and will spend considerable time in Spur, their former home for many years, after he completes his tenure of office. They recently purchased the former George W. Gray home, located at 3501 West Nineteenth street, to which they will move as soon as Mrs. Jones completes refurnishing and redecorating the house and the property, plus an addition to the west, is landscaped.

Long a "West Texas top hand" and for more than a score of years the South Plains area's No. 1 civic leader, Doctor Jones still retains considerable business interests in the Spur section, including farms, city property and a bank of which he is president and has been for many years. He recently sold a 20-section ranch in Dickens county, but expects to re-engage in the cattle business, with which he has been connected since boyhood days in Nevada, in the not too distant future.

Prior to moving to Lubbock five years ago last month, Doctor Jones had been connected with S. M. Swenson & Sons, of New York, owners of a sea of farm and ranch land in West Texas; holders of much railroad and bank stocks and principal owners of a great sulphur company in South Texas. He moved to Spur in March, 1911, as assistant to his father, the late Charles A. Jones, then Swenson resident manager, and two years later succeeded to the managership when the elder Mr. Jones took charge of the company's sulphur interests. Doctor Jones continued as Swenson manager until February of 1939, when he resigned to assume the Tech presidency. Doctor Jones' father chose the site for the City of Spur and personally directed the laying out of that municipality. His sons, Clifford and Hoyle, the latter now of Tulsa, lived briefly in Dickens county in 1907, but it was not until four years later that Doctor Jones left his Kansas City home and moved to West Texas "for good."

Resignation Thrice Offered

The letter of resignation which the Tech board acted upon Wednesday had twice before been tendered by President Jones. The first time he asked to be relieved of his duties was on April 11, 1942, after he had been severely ill and had encountered some difficulty with his heart and high blood pressure. He was persuaded by the board, however, to withdraw the resignation and take a leave of absence which he did, briefly. Although his health generally has improved since that time, he felt he must take steps to protect it and at a board meeting at Fort Worth last month he again presented the letter. The board withheld formal action until Wednesday.

Board Chairman Thompson told the Avalanche-Journal that while "we have in mind several successors to Doctor Jones, we have not yet had opportunity to settle on any one man. Friends of Texas Tech," he continued, "may be certain that we shall search until we have found and secured the very best man available—the one who may best take up and carry on the very fine work of President Jones and his predecessors."

Thompson indicated that the vacancy probably will be filled so the new president may take office by the opening of the 1944 fall semester, if not in early summer.

Has Signed Every Diploma

Dr. Jones' only predecessor as board chairman was Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher. But since Mr. Carter left the board before the first class graduated, Doctor Jones, as either board chairman or president, has signed every diploma thus far granted by the institution in all degrees.

Without formal education past high school, Dr. Jones has been self-educated to such a degree that his practical and cultural knowledge surpasses that of many who have spent years in the cloistered atmosphere of colleges. His business experience, in addition to farming, ranching and banking, has included directorships in numerous corporations—including one railroad—and as a member of a three-man board which directed Public Works administration in Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana in the mid-1930's.

Famed as "the only college president in the U. S. who can do a man's job in the branding pen," Dr. Jones could—and did until three years ago—"make a hand at roundup time," throwing a rope with the best of cowpunchers. He is a former president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Spur Chamber of Commerce and the Spur Rotary club. For many years he has been a vice-president of the Southwestern Livestock Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth.

Dr. and Mrs. Jones attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock show rodeo with the board of directors last night and will return to Lubbock by train arriving here Friday morning.

Letter of resignation, thrice offered to the board of directors of Texas Technological college by President Clifford B. Jones and finally accepted Wednesday, reads as follows:

"Board Of Directors,
"Texas Technological College,
"Gentlemen:

"With much reluctance and deep regret I again ask that you please accept, effective at your early convenience but not later than the end of this present semester, if possible, my resignation as president of Texas Technological college.

"For the past two or three years I have been laboring under a heart strain with its accompanying functional irregularity and high blood pressure which now, though showing improvement, has reached a point requiring relief from business responsibility, but which promises a further return to reasonable normality in that event.

"You will recognize, especially those of you with whom I have long served this college, with what sorrow I sever a relationship which, in many respects, has been the happiest and to me the most satisfying of a lifetime. From the date of my appointment in 1923 as a member of the first board of directors, on down to the present time, this continuous service has been a labor of love.

"To have had some part in the efforts, first to establish in West Texas this college; then to participate with you and others in its administration have been highly cherished privileges.

"Warmly thanking each of you for the friendship and splendid cooperation you have extended.

"Sincerely and cordially yours,
"(Signed) Clifford B. Jones."

STATEMENT TO PUBLIC

The text of a public statement concerning his resignation and furnished exclusively to The Avalanche-Journal by Dr. Clifford B. Jones, follows:

"Commenting upon my resignation as president of Texas Technological college, which was first presented to the board at its meeting on April 11, 1942, I should like to emphasize the great pleasure and satisfaction it has been to work with boards of directors such as ours. They have been composed of women and men of rare ability and vision and devotion to the college. I am deeply grateful to them and to our splendid faculty and other employees for their kindnesses to Mrs. Jones and me. Their friendship and cooperation have been constant sources of inspiration. And I am deeply appreciative of the very helpful support of the college accorded by the people of Lubbock. The evidence of such friendships has influenced a decision by Mrs. Jones and me to divide our future between Lubbock and Spur, our old home.

"The impending change in administration brings again to mind the very splendid and constructive foundations laid by my predecessors, the late President Paul Whitfield Horn and Bradford Knapp, whose influence is unceasing.

"I need not say that Texas Technological college will forever command my deep affection. Whatever little service I shall ever be capable of rendering will be deemed a privilege and an honor.

"(Signed) Clifford B. Jones."

CHAS. C. THOMPSON, Colorado City, chairman of Tech's directorate—(by telephone from Fort Worth)—"Nothing I can say can possibly tell the story of how much Dr. Jones has done for Texas Tech; of his worth, over the years, to the institution. Nothing I can say can adequately express the esteem in which all of us on the board hold him. Clifford Jones is a great citizen, a great gentleman and he made Texas Tech a great president. We are proud and glad that we shall continue to have his association and counsel as president emeritus."

DR. J. M. GORDAN, liberal arts dean—"I believe that the academic deans of the college will agree heartily with me when I give it as my opinion that President Jones has been uniformly fair and definitely interested in each division of the college. Not only has he been anxious to see every division of the college advance just as far and as rapidly as funds could be had, but he has been interested in each department of each division and every individual in the department. He has been president of the whole college. His graciousness at all times has endeared him to every faculty member and most to those who know him best. I regard Clifford Jones as a great citizen, not only to Lubbock and Lubbock county but to Texas and the nation. The state and the nation are richer because of his fine life. I know I voice the feeling of the entire college community when I express the hope that he will find it practicable to live in Lubbock and continue to be its outstanding citizen."

CARL E. SLATON, Mayor of Lubbock—"While it was with the deepest regret that I learned of Dr. Clifford B. Jones as president of Texas Technological college, if he felt that his health required it—and I have absolute respect for his judgment—then it was the thing for him to do. I have never known a finer man, a more splendid Christian gentleman, than Clifford Jones. Just as could be said of everything else with which he has been associated, he has made Texas Tech not merely an able president, but who has been outstanding by any standard of measurement. Tech is, and will ever be, a greater school because of Dr. Jones' services as its president and as the staunch friend that he will continue to be."

MRS. ANNA BURT GIBSON—(Dr. Jones' secretary)—"Office employes in the administration building talked Wednesday afternoon of how they will miss association with one who has the courteous and genteel manner of Dr. Jones," said Mrs. Anna Burt Gibson, who has been secretary to the president for two years. "When I think of Dr. Jones' many admirable qualities, his never ending patience seems uppermost. I have my first time to see the president vexed, no matter what incident had been brought to his attention. All secretaries will understand what a high compliment that is to pay your employer."

Air Blow Indicates Allied Drive Is Under Way Again

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Good weather and a pulverizing air bombardment of Cassino have put into full swing again the Allied campaign to capture Rome.

Whether the air blow at Cassino has finally opened the Liri valley from an Allied advance northward to Rome is still to be seen. There can be no question, however, that a beginning now has been made on shattering the German Gustave line and linking up the southern Allied front with the Anzio beachhead.

SIMPSON

Overwhelming Allied air power was thrown into the blasting of Cassino. It is upon that weapon primarily that the Allies have depended since the beginning of the Italian campaign.

The same fate awaits any other barrier on the main Via Casilino highway route from Naples to Rome to which the Nazis may anchor their defenses. The blasting of Cassino was a foretaste of what they can expect as spring advances not in Italy alone; but in the west when the invasion from Britain comes under an even mightier Allied air umbrella.

Can Chop Off Flank

Once by Cassino, Allied ground forces will be in a position to chop off the whole right flank of the Nazi line to the sea. Just ahead of them on the valley floor lie the vulnerable road junctions of Pontecorvo and Pico which control enemy supply and escape routes.

Allied capture of either, or even a push up the Liri, must force Nazi evacuation of the Gaeta coastal bulge to avoid entrapment. That would open the way for a forward sweep up the coastal flank by Gen. Clark's Fifth Army to the southern end of the Via Appia just south of the Pontine marshes. It would bring a junction of the main Allied forces in the south and those holding the Anzio beachhead close enough to compel German withdrawal into the Rome area itself—if they intend to expose its religious and cultural monuments to war.

Truman Appearance Here Set April 8

The office of Arch S. Underwood, prominent state Democratic party leader here, announced Wednesday that U. S. Senator Harry S. Truman, Missouri Democrat and head of the famed Truman Investigating committee, will speak at a West Texas rally of Democrats at Senior High school auditorium on the night of April 8.

Following his appearance at a Jackson day dinner in Dallas recently, Truman was invited here by Underwood and the date of April 8 was confirmed in a telegram from Truman Wednesday.

Arrangements are being made by a group of South Plains Democrats for a gigantic area-wide rally under the party standard for Truman's speech here. Democratic leaders from as far north as Amarillo and from Abilene on the south, Wichita Falls on the east and El Paso and eastern New Mexico points on the west are to be invited to hear Truman here, probably his only appearance in Texas, other than the recent Dallas speech.

Ed Pauley of Los Angeles, treasurer of the Democratic National committee; and Ambrose O'Connell of New York, executive vice-chairman, also have been invited here for the rally but no confirmation has been received from them.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15. (AP)—Dr. John R. Ott, president of the world's committee of the Young Men's Christian association, said here today that Japan will soon permit the YMCA to work among Allied prisoners in the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies and Malasia.

Mott said in an interview that in the past atrocities to American war prisoners in Japan and occupied China ceased almost as soon as the YMCA and the international Red Cross were allowed to administer aid to them.
