Several people have asked me what I thought of the two trials that have long been in the national news -- the Manson and Calley trials. Now that they are over, I still have mixed emotions about them. I think that if the Manson trial had turned out any differently, there would be little sense in our having a penal code of any type. If we are not going to punish those who commit crimes, then what need is there to have laws outlining certain punishments?

If a person knows that if he commits a certain crime and gets caught that he can easily be out and free again in a matter of just a few years, there might be little hesitation on his part. If, on the other hand, he knows that if he commits the crime, his life will be taken or he will be locked in a small cell for the rest of his life or at least a major portion of his life, I believe he will have second thoughts before he commits the act.

As far as the other trial goes, I don't know. War does funny things to people and makes people do things that they would never do under any other circumstances. But is it right to kill innocent civilians, as it was claimed was done in the Mai Lai Massacre? I really don't know the answer to that question, and probably some of the jurors are uncertain if it was "right."

Mrs. Nancy Barker, volunteer coordinator for the Wichita Falls State Hospital, notified me that the patients at the hospital are in need of clothing so that they can dress up for Easter Sunday. Needed are ladies' hats, purses and jewelry and men's shirts, tie clasps and cuff links. If you have some of these articles that you could donate to the hospital, take them to the Volunteer Services or call 569-7010 for pick up.

If you want to have some good fun and to save some money too, then make plans to come to Burk Burnett this weekend. Today and tomorrow, the local merchants will be dressed in the craziest costumes imaginable, but bargains will flow in Burk for three days.

There is no other town in the United States that will have its local merchants dressed the way ours will be. You'll just have to come out and see it to honestly believe it!

Can't We Shrink-Proof the Dollar?

It used to be that whenever you bought a suit, or a shirt, or a skirt, you frequently had to buy them oversized in order to take care of shrinkage. Long ago industry came up with the technical means to prevent shrinking in fabrics, so that now you can buy clothing that fits and it stays that way.

But thus far the government -- which has ultimate control over the value of the dollar -- has failed to find a way to prevent shrinkage of our hard earned money.

The executive head of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Arch N. Booth, recently noted that a 1942 dollar has shrunk in value to only 42 cents today. Inflation, caused largely by Federal deficit spending, has eaten away 58 cents of every dollar earned in 1942. Booth then asked himself; what would happen if the same rate of inflation continues for the next 28 years? What would the average worker have to earn, or pay, in 28 years, to equal our 42¢ dollar we have today?

Here are some of the answers he came up with; if inflation continues:

The value of our dollar will

Burkburnett Police File Charges Against One

Burkburnett Police filed charges of statutory rape against Jack Allen of Burk Burnett last Friday in an incident involving a 13-year-old Burk Burnett girl. The girl was reportedly on her way to school early that morning when the incident occurred.

Allen has been released on $5,000 bond.

Police investigated an attempted burglary at J. Ty Food Store #109 at 105 N. Ave. D Monday night at approximately 11:25 p.m.

Mrs. Betty VanVactor, an employee of the store, stated that she saw a suspicious male subject outside her store following a noise near the subject. She notified police, who responded to the call immediately. Just prior to the time police arrived at the scene, the subject threw an iron bar through the window of the store and then fled on foot. Police searched the area, but found no evidence of the presence of a prowler. Fingerprints were dusted from the iron bar by local police.

On Saturday, March 20, local police investigated an accident involving a 1966

Oldsmobile driven by Doak W. McDonnell of 503 Hilltop Circle and a 1970 Ford driven by Tom L. Bloodworth of 806 Easy St.

The Bloodworth vehicle was traveling south across the Boomtown Bowl parking lot when it was struck on the front fender by the McDonnell vehicle as it was backing from a parking space.

Damages to the Bloodworth vehicle were reported as moderate, and there was no damage to the McDonnell vehicle.

A 1970 Ford driven by Bobby James Williams of 723 Glendale was struck in the rear by a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Larry W. Locke of 209 W. 3rd St. Saturday afternoon, near the intersection of N. Ave. D. (U.S. 277 business route) and 300 East 3rd (US 277). The Williams vehicle had reportedly stopped for another vehicle when the accident occurred.

Burkburnett voters will be heading for the polls twice this week, once for the school board election Saturday and then again for the city election Tuesday.

ing time Tuesday was considered moderate, contention for the three places on the school board is high, as eight men have filed.

Filing for Place 1 are T. M. Cornelius, incumbent Norman Roberts, and Norman S. Henderson. On the ballot for place 2 are Weldon Nix and Ted B. Harris. On the ballot for place 3 are Alexander Koulovas, Paul W. Avritt and incumbent Gene Bankhead.

CRAZY DAYS & $!&? Today And Tomorrow

It's been cussed and discussed, and here it is. Today is the beginning of the zany Burk Burnett Crazy Days.

During April Fools weekend last year, the Burk Burnett merchants turned out in fine "fashion" to stage one of the most unheard of promotions. They all came out in some of the strangest clothing attire that anyone could imagine. The promotion was such a success with the area shoppers that local merchants have agreed to have another one this year. So, watch out this weekend! Today and tomorrow local merchants will again be "decked out."

What can you expect from local merchants? -- ANYTHING! Last year we saw a druggist in Bermuda shorts wearing U.S. combat boots, a barber with a Hippie wig, a male sales clerk dressed as a young girl (and he made a cutie, too), and so many other crazy things that you just can't imagine.

One thing for certain you can count on though, is that there will be lots of fun in Burk Burnett this weekend. PLUS hundreds of bargains in all the stores. You'll find items at unbelievable -- CRAZY -- prices. Merchants have flipped their wigs (some of them literally) when it came to pricing merchandise for this gigantic event.

The Informer/Star will again sell one dollar bills for 50¢ to a limited number of people as they shop and save during Crazy Days in Burk Burnett.

This action was due to the report from the newspaper's tax specialist, Skidroe Joe. He told the editor, "You can sell only a few one dollar bills for 50¢, but if you aren't careful the profit you make from these sales might very well put you into a higher tax bracket."

The pages of the Informer/Star and the Informer Shopper are jam-packed with the extra savings that can only be found during Crazy Days in Burk Burnett. Study these carefully, then come on out to Burk Burnett to see the craziest of all promotions ever held in the United States.

Don't forget! Today and tomorrow the local merchants will be in their Crazy Days duds and the gigantic savings will continue on into Saturday.

Guidelines Of Life

Henry Dittmore, Pastor
Cashion Baptist Church

Read John 4:46-54.

"And there was a certain noble man, whose son was sick - when he heard that Jesus was come - he went unto him - that he would come and heal his son." (John 4:46-47)

One cannot journey through this world of sin and darkness without encountering some trouble. Even the greatest and the best are not free from pressures and cares. Had the nobleman in the scripture today, lived without trial, he might have been forgetful of his need of God; but an angel of blessing came in the form of sorrow. This man's distress was the sickness of his child. At the end of all earthly hope, he made his way through the crowd to present his case to Jesus. He was not disappointed, but rather he could rejoice, for his son was healed.

Hebrews 12:6 says "For whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth."

Jesus revealed by his mercy and compassion that God loved the nobleman, and no matter how great or sorrowful his distress may have been, he could receive a blessing from it. Many individuals besides the nobleman have been driven to their knees because of sorrowful events in their lives, and there they found God.

Man's sin against God is what brings trouble upon us. Therefore, sin is our sorrow and our shame. But all can rejoice that God is willing and determined to receive us unto himself that we can be comforted and healed.

Taking our lives out of God's will make sinners of all. But when the troubles of sin come into our lives we are free to call upon Jesus as our Savior and deliverer.

Our broken lives are meant by God to lead us to his better life.

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

by Robert Sturges

Well, there's not much you can say about a game when you lose by a score of sixteen to nothing. It's not really a game any more, but an exercise or practice. BUT, that is the purpose of these pre-district games -- to get practice.

Burk certainly did have its problems Tuesday night. There were quite a few costly errors, and not any real good hits to speak of. The pitchers did get a work out. During the course of the two-hour contest, head baseball coach Phillips changed pitchers three times. This gave the promising Burk ball handlers a chance to show their stuff to the fans.

Speaking of fans, I wish to congratulate the surprising number of fans who came to the game from Burkburnett. I was seated in the press box (which is located in front of the bleachers) when I heard the familiar voice of Vicki Littlejohn, high school cheerleader, yelling to the players on the field. I turned and was glad to see that about thirty-five other Burk fans were there. This was almost two to one over Rider's showing. Once more, most of the Burk fans stayed until the last inning and didn't desert their team.

On the happier side of sports the tennis coach, Miss Horkey, and several of her Burk players got to keep a trophy or two home during the recent Burk Invitational Tennis Tourney. Debbie Anderson and Carol Henderson won first place in girls' A division doubles, defeating the Olney team 6-1, 6-3 in the finals. Terry Sutton won second place in the girls' B division singles. She lost the final to Janet Edwards of Vernon, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Burk had another second place in girls' B division doubles. Kayleen Evans and Kathy Curtis were awarded the second place after losing the final to an Electra team.

There were also a number of semi-finalists from Burk.

Iowa Park received the team trophy, with Burkburnett and Vernon tied for second in the most events won.

Bulldogs Suffer Bitter Defeat From Raider

The Burkburnett Bulldogs suffered a bitter defeat Tuesday evening as they met the Rider Raiders at Hoskins Field in the Wichita Falls Athletic Complex.

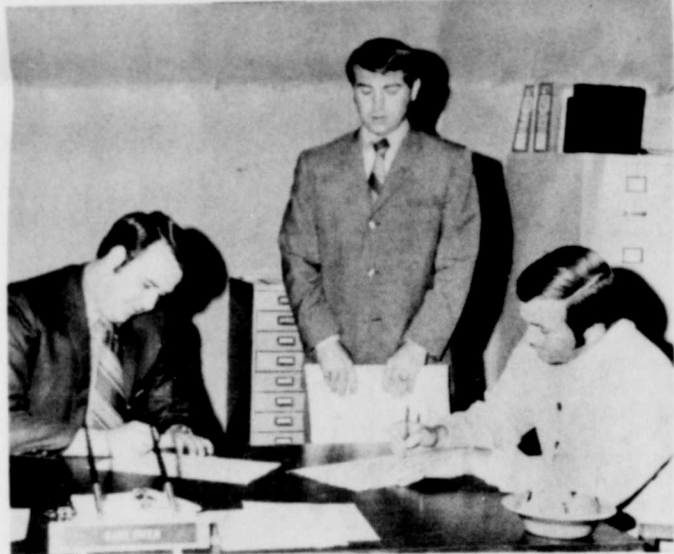

Burk was first to bat, with Tom Bloodworth at the plate. He got a firm hit on the second pitch, but was thrown out on first. The next two Burk batters struck out. Rider's first run was scored in the first inning by Danny Steed on a hit by Frank Stone into left field.

The Bulldogs looked strong in the opening of the second inning, with a powerful hit by Rick Reasoner off the head of Steed, Rider's short stop. The hit was good for a single. But the drive soon died as the next three batters went down. Two were put out on pop ups; the other went down swinging.

The Raiders racked up four runs during the same inning. Most of the runs were made by players who had stolen bases to get into position. There was brief delay in the inning because of a slight injury incurred when Ronnie Ayers slammed a ball down

NOTICE

Applications for the Burkburnett Little League baseball teams can be picked up at either bank or the Chamber of Commerce office. They may then be turned in Saturday, 2:00 p.m. at Hayes Field during official registration.

Among the first to sign up as members of the Boomtown Golf Center are Gary Owen, left, and Bob Carpenter. Mickie Cornelius, co-owner of the 9-hole, 3 par, lighter course looks on.

"Box & Cox," a romance of real life in one-act, was presented to the Burkburnett Evening Lions Club Tuesday. The cast, pictured above, includes Stephen Rorabaw, Ronnie Harper and Debbie Zaloski, and is coached by Mrs. Fern Bloodworth.

The play is the Thespian Society's entry in U.I.L. One Act Play Contest. Dan Schaffner was program chairman for the evening.

Chamber Luncheon

Don C. Moore, Manpower director of the Community Action Corporation will be the guest speaker when the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce holds its monthly luncheon Monday at Town Hall.

Moore's chief responsibility in CAC is directing Neighborhood Youth Corps and Operation Mainstream in Wichita, Archer and Clay counties. He also coordinates the manpower function of CAC, which includes projecting manpower needs for the area, recommending training and helping secure employment for the poor.

Moore, a native of Wichita Falls, will speak on "Revenue Sharing in Manpower Training: What does it mean for Burkburnett?" The Trade Promotion Committee, John Gill chairman, will be in charge of the program.

First Rehearsal Held For Our Little Miss

The first rehearsal for the Burkburnett Little Miss contest, sponsored by Boomtown Jaycees, was held Tuesday, with approximately 20 girls entered. The next rehearsal will be tonight, with others on Tuesday and next Thursday, leading up to the pageant Friday and Saturday, April 9 & 10.

Any little miss between the ages of 3 and 12 may still enter, but Saturday is the last day an entrant or sponsor will be able to be included in the pageant's souvenir program.

Mrs. Malone Speaks To WSCS

Mrs. William P. Malone, Jr., career missionary to Argentina, was the morning speaker Monday at a Women's Society for Christian Service meeting in the parlor of the First United Methodist Church in Burkburnett.

Mrs. Malone, the former Janis Metcalf of Temple, Texas, and Rev. Malone have been missionaries since 1958. Their furlough year, which ends in June, has been spent in Wichita Falls near his mother, Mrs. Wm. P. Malone. The couple have two children, Mike, who will begin studies at Midwestern University this fall, and Debbie, a student at Lincoln Memorial High School in Buenos Aires.

In conjunction with the W.S.C.S. study, "The Americas: How Many Worlds?", Mrs. Malone spoke of the many "faces" of Argentina, of its similarity to the United States, the nationality of the people and of the resources and beauty it has. The fact that the Argentine population is principally European, with only 15,000 Indians in its total, was of interest to all. Slides of the churches the Malones had pastored, their homes while there, the Argentine people and the land were well received.

A noon luncheon with a Latin American theme was held in Fellowship Hall, honoring the guest speaker. The hostesses were Mmes. D. C. Dodson, president, Morris Bookbinder and H.R. Jeffers.

The afternoon study session was led by Mrs. W.V. French, Secretary of Missionary Education, who spoke of the revolutionary mood within the Americas and told of the difficulties of being truly Christian in contemporary Latin America. She pointed out "the vast relief programs of both Protestant and Catholic churches must increasingly be transformed into programs of development."

In this closing session of the study, Mrs. French quoted the Spanish philosopher, Miguel de Unamuno: "What can man in these circumstances ask of God?" and his answer,

University Study Club Meets In Mrs. E. R. Burns Home

The University Study Club met March 24 in the home of Mrs. E. R. Burns. Mrs. Lewis Brocker, club president, called the meeting to order, leading the members in reciting the "club collect" in unison. After the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Joy Sessums, the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Fletcher Baber. Other matters of business were conducted.

Following the business session, Mrs. Newt Crane introduced the program. The theme of her program was "Texas: There are no strangers in Texas, just friends we have not met."

Mrs. B. N. Cauthorn brought an interesting paper on "The Big Thicket" in southeastern Texas. She told of beautiful drives through the Thicket and the many varieties of trees, shrubs, orchids and other flowers, the many species of wild animals and of meat eating plants. Mrs. Cauthorn stated that this area

Alma Jackson Circle Meets

By Sylvia Lohofener
The Alma Jackson Circle of the First Baptist Church met Monday, March 22, in the home of Mrs. A. C. Houser, with Miss Hazel Wagner as co-hostess. The meeting opened with the singing of "Sweet Hour of Prayer," with Mrs. Houser accompanying on the organ.

The Calendar of Prayer, naming the missionaries in the field whose birthdays are on that date, was read, followed by meditation and silent prayer while the music of "Sweet Hour of Prayer" was again played softly.

Mrs. Houser presided over the business session in the absence of the chairman, Ruth Beidon. Members and friends who were ill were remembered with greeting cards, signed by the group, to be sent to the individuals.

Mrs. Lohofener read the minutes of the last meeting in the absence of the secretary, Artie Whitesides. The Community Action project for March, which was the taking of Easter supplies and gifts to the State Hospital in Wichita Falls, was stressed.

Miss Lois Reed gave a very interesting Bible Study on "The Kingdom's Supreme Value," taken from Matthew 13:44-46. Loretta Hunt dismissed the group with a prayer.

Levely refreshments were served to 14 members and one guest. Mrs. Jess Hageman. Members were: Misses Lois and Jewel Reed and Hazel Wagner; and Meses. Florence Nichols, Winifred Sims, Ruth Hattaway, Grace Anderson, Velma Wolfe, Viola Reynolds, Nomie Wilkinson, Loretta Hunt, Sylvia Lohofener, Mattie Miller and Lena Houser.

Local Church Receives Honor

The INFORMER/STAR was notified recently that before the Apollo 14 mission was launched in January of this year the First Christian Church of Burkburnett received notification that on board the space craft would be the "First Lunar Bible". This Bible was prepared by the American Bible Society and was on fire proof microfilm. The members of the church were asked not to release this fact to the news media until the astronauts themselves told the public. They have made this known to the public plus the fact that the Bible has been left on the Fra Mauro Highlands of the moon.

The significant item for the local church was the fact that on the front page of the "First Lunar Bible" was a listing of dedications to persons and organizations who had contributed to the Apollo Prayer League in its ministry to the space program. These names were permanently attached to the Bible, and of course, out of necessity limited. Only 250 religious organizations were included.

The First Christian Church was one of these. Out of this area, four churches in Wichita Falls and one in Electra had names included.

Other names included Bible Societies throughout the world colleges and many distinguished persons, both contemporary and from history.

According to Reverend David Stout, pastor, "We do not have any reason to question the validity of our name being included. When Mrs. O'hera was bringing a law suit against the astronaut prayer in space, our church signed a petition against her law suit. A former minister, Reverend Browning (now in Iowa) took an active part in this kind of thing. This must have been the reason for our being included in the list.

"We were very pleased to once consisted of 3.2 million acres, of which about 300,000 acres remain. She also noted the plans being made by the Big Thicket Association to preserve it as a State Park. In conclusion she read "A Tribute To Our Pioneers." Mrs. Crane then read a paper on the history of barbed wire in Texas. She told of the man who invented it in 1873-74. He was given $265 for his patent. The group was informed that the first large ranch to use barbed wire was the XIT Ranch in Northwest Texas, at the cost of $60,000. Their wire proved very disastrous during the big blizzard of 1885, when cattle died by the thousands when they drifted into the fences and froze to death. Mrs. Crane also showed a display of about 75 varieties of barbed wire, loaned to her by Raymond Scroggs from his large collection. The meeting was closed with the Pledge to the Texas Flag. Refreshments were served by the hostess to Meses. Baber, Brocker, B.A. Browning, Cauthorn, Crane, Bill Crossley, I.E. Harwell, A.C. Houser, J.D. Majors, L.W. Morris, J.B. Morris, J.M. Pogue, J.H. flower arranging is a type of self-expression and, as such, is very rewarding. She then introduced Mrs. L. V. Richards, a florist, who gave the members ideas of how to keep flowers longer and how to arrange basic shapes. Mrs. Richards used three lovely bouquets which she had arranged earlier to demonstrate her ideas. After her presentation, she then held a drawing for the bouquets. Refreshments were served

Theta Epsilon Sets Plans

The Theta Epsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held its regular meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Jim Lemley. President Mrs. Lena Curtis Young and one guest, Mrs. Gayle Batts. The club's next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Pogue. Plans were made to attend the ESA District VI meeting, which was held Sunday at the Cibola Inn in Arlington, Texas. The Ways and Means chairman announced that the chapter will hold a garage sale Saturday, April 3, at 516 Dot

Ave. Mrs. Bruce Shepard presented the program, entitled "The Art of Flower Arranging -- You, Too, Can Make Arrangements." She directed her program toward convincing her listeners that, with a very moderate amount of study and practice, they could learn to make flower arrangements that would add immeasurably to the attractiveness of their homes and surroundings. Mrs. Shepard made the point that

TOGETHER

Brothers — together — helping one another. We are our brother's keeper and his helper. Comfort, cheer, and encouragement should be given to each other.

There should be a willingness on the part of each to sacrifice for the other.

A Divine Example was sent to us, and these are His words: "This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

You are invited to attend church Sunday to learn more of the One who gave us this commandment.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Each girl in the troop received a ceramic piece for her efforts in selling cookies. The ceramics were made by Mrs. Jean Chancy. The three top cookie sellers were Debbie Hartwell, 159 boxes; Debbie Lawson, 72 boxes; and Fairy Chancy, 58 boxes.

Burkburnett Ideal Miss Pageant Set For April 17

The Burkburnett Ideal Miss Pageant will be presented April 17 at the Burkburnett High School Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. The Modern Study Club will be presenting this pageant for the first time this year.

The pageant is designed for young ladies 13 to 17 years old, to fill the gap between the "Our Little Misses" Divisions and the preliminary pageants to the Miss Texas Contest. This pageant offers the contestant continuous training and experience until she reaches the Miss America age.

The winner of the Ideal Miss Pageant will serve as the Ideal example and inspiration for the "Our Little Misses" age group, and will be given an all-expense-paid trip to the world pageant.

Contestants will compete in talent (a 3-minute presentation), evening gowns, and in sports wear. A vital part of the competition will be an interview with the judges.

The World's Ideal Miss Pageant is more than just a beauty pageant. It has opened the doors to the beauty pageant world for the in-between years. The immediate success of the Ideal Miss Pageant is evidence enough that the contest was created out of a need for such an event.

No longer do the early teens have to sit back and wait until they become of age to compete in the other pageants. Now they have their own competition, divided into age groups with awards in each age category.

Vote April 3

School Board

WHY DO YOU ELECT A SCHOOL BOARD? Is it to "hire a superintendent and give him the money to carry out the policies and let him run the schools," as one of my opponents says?

I must disagree with him, his experience, and his education. I believe the superintendent should make recommendations, but not have full control of the taxpayers' money. The school board, as a body, should make the final decisions on all school financial matters.

I also believe that more should and could be done for our elementary grades. These lower grades give our children the foundation to build upon. Without this foundation, our colleges would be out of business. I want my children to go to college. Do you?

Randlett Baptist Sets Revival

The role of the Christian in a rapidly changing world will be emphasized next week April 4 - 11, when the Rev. Joe Jones leads the First Baptist Church of Randlett in revival.

Announcement of the special services was made last week by the Rev. Robert Canuette, pastor of the church.

Rev. Jones is a 1962 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, holding a B.S. in Religion. Presently the pastor of the Southside Baptist Church of Bowie, he is widely known as a lecturer, a writer, and a radio personality. His radio program is heard over KBAN in Bowie each Sunday morning from 8:00 to 8:30. Rev. Jones has impressed audiences of all ages with his lectures on drug abuse.

Already signs of revival are seen in Randlett, with seven prayer groups meeting simultaneously throughout the community.

Rev. Canuette indicates that a large turn-out is expected to hear this unusual man speak out on the critical issues of the day.

Are you interested in learning how to bud and graft pecans? If so, you might like to mark April 7 on your calendar and attend one of two demonstrations. The first pecan budding and grafting demonstration will be held at the Iowa Park Experiment Station beginning at 1:30 p.m. The second demonstration will be held in the County Court Room, located in the County Court House, at 7:30 p.m. The general public is invited to attend.

Plants have appetites just as do people and farm animals. But, unfortunately, plants can't vary their available foods at will to match their appetites for a balanced diet.

Farmers don't have to wait until their crops show ring-streaked, speckled, spotted signs and blotchy discoloration. They can get help before the crops are even planted by having soil tests made to detect nutrient deficiencies.

A soil test helps to determine how much and what kind of each plant food is needed to produce a healthy crop of high yields and quality.

He emphasized that before a major soil fertility program is undertaken, two questions should be asked: "Are you sure of the fertility conditions of the soil, and do you know what kind and amount of fertilizer to use for top yields and profits?"

Soil testing should be done on a regular basis as a part of each farm plan.

Beef cattle which have been on dry ranges for the past six months are faced with serious nutritional deficiencies. The first deficiency is a lack of sufficient forage or range grass. Low quality or absence of sufficient total digestible nutrients is another complication. This kind of roughage contains little or no protein, energy, phosphorus or Vitamin A.

Shop around, visit and browse through the farm equipment stores to see what's new in the way of farm equipment and supplies. New machines, appliances, power equipment and improvements in previous year models are available for making the job of farming more efficient and with less labor. Chances are good, says County Agent B. T. Haws, that you'll find the time spent looking over what's new very interesting.

The wise purchasing of machinery and equipment demands a look around attitude before spending money or signing a contract for installment buying.

You might like to mark April 13-14 on your calendar and plan to attend the Farm Implement Show to be held in the 4-H barn. You will be able to see lots of new machinery.

Debt Major Role In Farm Future

"Without question, debt will play a much more important role in farm financial management in the future than it has in the past," was the recent prediction of Dr. John Hopkin, agricultural finance specialist in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Hopkin is not advocating that the farmer should stay out of debt. Instead, he believes the judicious use of debt will be the only way many farmers can survive.

Because of new technology, the farmer must adopt new methods to remain competitive. But, when he does, "he incurs an investment and operating cost structure that forces him to expand his operation to exploit the new economics of scale which the new technology has made possible," said Hopkin, who is also Stiles Professor in the Agricultural Economics Department at Texas A&M University.

"A farmer can no longer merely beth traditional tiller of the soil -- the proverbial man with the hoe," the Stiles Professor said. "Rather, he is a businessman. Above all else, he is a manufacturer who buys raw materials as resource inputs with which to manufacture products for a given market."

Pressure to increase size of farm operations will continue to be severe, so the role of capital in agricultural production and marketing requires knowledge of business and financial management. The average investment per farm is more than five times as high now as it was 20 years ago, and operating expenses per farm have increased about as much.

No longer can the farmer depend on savings retained out of farm earnings to expand his operation. The new capital requirement is too great, according to Hopkin, and the profit margins in agriculture are getting too low.

"The farm family is no longer content to live at standards way below the rest of the nation in order to plow back the earnings into the farm organizations," he said.

Where will this added capital come from?

"The better farms have learned how to use debt to leverage their own capital position and expand their management," Hopkin said. "According to the 1964 census, 80 per cent of the Class 1 farms had operator debt that year, compared to only 47 per cent of the Class 6 farms. The average debt per farm for the better farmers was $68,000 compared to $3,800 for the low income farms."

While it is obvious that the modern farmer has to be adept with numerous skills, "none will be so crucial as financial skills," the economist pointed out.

The farmer must be skilled in capital budgeting and in analyzing alternative investment opportunities to see that capital is invested where the payoff is greatest. He must be able to generate both the equity and borrowed capital he needs to remain conservative, and he must be able to analyze and interpret records so that, basically, he can prove to the right people that he is making financial progress, and that he can generate the cash when needed to repay his loans.

Hopkin defined credit as "the power to sell debt. As such, it is a resource to be built, to be conserved, to be managed and marketed in the same way that other commodities must be produced, managed and marketed."

What's the difference in paying cash and buying on credit over a long period of time? The comparison results are somewhat shocking, says Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

A study conducted at the University of Minnesota illustrates the side effects of credit buying over a period of 45 years. Based on the service life expectancy of nine commonly purchased consumer items, the study estimated that a family will buy three refrigerators, ranges, toasters, vacuum cleaners and living room rugs; two electric sewing machines; and four television sets. In addition, if they are a one-car family and car is kept for approximately three years and ten months, 13 cars will be purchased.

If these items are bought on time payments, the total cost of principle and interest will be about $39,000. But if these same monthly payments are invested in a savings account for a similar length of time as the installment payment period, the family will be able to purchase the same nine items during the 45-year period and still have about $33,000 left over. This is due to 45 years of interest compounded quarterly at four per cent. If $8,000 in interest charges not paid are considered, the total savings would equal $41,000.

The interest charges on the 13 cars alone, if saved, would be enough to buy all the other items during the family's life span for cash. The difference between buying first and paying later, and in saving then buying, is equal to about one-third of the purchase price of the items. Even the "wise use of credit" is expensive and creates considerable erosion of purchasing power over the life span of families.

Homemakers can usually get better results from their automatic clothes dryers if they simply follow the care and use instructions that come with the machines.

To assure good drying results, use recommended drying heats and time settings for the various fabrics to get best results. Overloading the machine can hamper effective drying. Items should have enough space to tumble freely to achieve wrinkle-free results.

Wrinkling can also be prevented by removing clothes from the dryer as soon as they dry. This is especially important if you want to avoid touch-up ironing for durable-press articles.

Avoid overdrying clothes, especially in coin-operated laundries where you have little flexibility in drying time. Every fabric has a natural moisture content, which can be removed by overdrying. Wrinkles and harshness can result.

To determine whether an article is dry, stop the machine and remove the garment to check for dampness. You must remove the garment completely from the dryer or you will be influenced by the moisture within the dryer.

Turn pill-prone garments inside out to dry. Pilling is the formation of small balls of fibers on the surface of the fabric. If durable press garments are allowed to cool in the dryer, wrinkles will set. They can be removed, however, by dampening or sprinkling the article, then tumbling it briefly in a heated dryer.

Do not dry items cleaned at home in anything but water. Articles which have been cleaned or spot-treated with dry-cleaning fluids become fire hazards when put directly into a dryer. Articles containing foam rubber also create a fire hazard in a heated dryer.

When excessive lint accumulates on the dryer lint screen, drying time is lengthened. Clean the screen regularly to help shorten drying time.

Little mistakes can cause big problems especially when it comes to the family laundry, reminds Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

One recurring mistake in laundering is incorrect use of bleach. Pouring bleach on garments without proper dilution causes almost half of the laundry problems.

Miss Wirges reports that another common error in laundering is leaving crayons in children's clothes. The crayons in hot water or in dryers begin to melt and may spread on other fabrics.

Other laundry problems may be traced to overloading of washers, shrinkage of wool when laundered in too-hot water, and weakening of fabrics due to sunlight and oxidation from heating fumes.

Some laundry problems result from low-quality merchandise, Miss Wirges adds. When garments are poorly manufactured, or are made from inferior materials, disaster in the laundry is inevitable. Bonded garments fall apart, threads pucker, and dyes run and spread to other garments.

TED B. HARRIS

I was born and raised in Burkburnett. My father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Harris, were well-known residents. My family has lived in Burkburnett since the oil-boom days. I was educated in the Burkburnett Public Schools, and graduated from the High School. I attended Midwestern University and Texas Technological College. I am an employee at Sheppard Air Force Base and have been associated with the education field for ten years. I have five children, all attending school from High School through Elementary School.

If elected, I intend to do my best to help formulate policies that will allow the Burkburnett School System to operate at its upmost efficiency. I believe that there is room for improvement in our present school system. I believe that there should be a better plan for teacher accreditation in the elementary grades, along with stricter textbook review by the textbook selection committee. I also intend to try to enlarge the curricula in the areas of technical training and in the graphic arts.

It is the Board's duty to provide sufficient money to carry out the various policies and programs. It also their duty to follow the course of these funds, and ascertain that every cent of the School's money goes to its proper place.

I believe that the superintendent should be allowed to run the school system. He is hired to act as an administrator. However, I believe that the Board of Trustees should constantly monitor the methods and effectiveness of his administration.

A seat on the School Board is a position of trust, placed upon the member by the voters. I feel that there are many people in the School District who feel as I do. I have received no campaign contributions, and I will accept none. The decision to run for the Board of Trustees was my own, and I was not influenced by any person or group. I am seeking election only because I believe that I can help the Burkburnett School System by serving on the Board of Trustees. If I am elected, I pledge to do my utmost to live up to this trust.

I earnestly solicit your vote for Place Two in the School Board Election on April 3.

Colonel Follis is replacing Col. Arthur E. Hawn, who will depart Sheppard to assume the position of director of Safety at Air Training Command, Randolph AFB, Tex.

Three other officers at the 3630th Flying Training Wing will hold new positions as of today.

Lt. Col. Thomas J. Magner, presently chief, Operations Plans / Requirements Division, will fill the position held by Colonel Follis; Lt. Col. Charles F. Luthers, present operations officer for the

At that time he was serving as operations officer and flying the F-100 aircraft. Of his missions, 31 were out-of-country. Since his return from Vietnam, he has served as the commander of the 3630th Student Squadron.

Colonel Follis' military flying career consists of more than 4,600 hours, the majority being in century series fighter aircraft, of which more than 2,000 hours have been flown in the F-100 alone. During his 400 combat missions he has accumulated over 600 combat hours.

In addition to his military flying time, he has flown approximately 700 hours in civilian aircraft, and currently possesses a wide variety of civilian pilot ratings.

Prior to his Vietnam tour, Colonel Follis served as chief, Tactical Fighter Division, Headquarters, Third Air Force, London, England, from August 1964 to July 1967. In this position he worked extensively with the British Ministry of Defense in planning and executing numerous joint tactical operations.

Colonel Follis is a graduate of several Air University schools, including Air Command and Staff College. He is currently participating in the Air War College Seminar Program.

William Ware, Weldon Adamson Receive 30 Year Service Pins

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- Two civilian employees at Sheppard Air Force Base received length of service pins last Thursday morning in recognition of 30 years of government service.

The awards were presented to William D. Ware and Weldon F. Adamson, both of the 3750th Technical School, by Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center.

Ware is a technical instructor with the school's Department of Aircraft Maintenance Training, Jet Aircraft One and Two Engine course. He has been in this position since 1962.

He began his military service in 1940 with the U.S. Army, left in 1945 and then reenlisted in the Army Air Corps in Feb., 1947.

Ten years of his military

In his spare time, he enjoys outdoor sports, fishing and coin collecting.

Adamson is a technical instructor with the Diesel Branch of the Technical School's Department of Civil Engineering Training. He has been in this job since retiring from military service in 1961.

Beginning military service in 1940, he served with the Army Air Force in the Pacific during World War II and in Japan and Korea during the Korean Conflict.

Other assignments included Kelly Field, Tex. shortly after entering service, Langley Field, Va., Germany during the Berlin Airlift, Shaw AFB, S.C., a radar site in Water-town, N.Y., and a previous assignment at Sheppard from 1951 to 1958.

UP, UP, & AWAY Eddie Laxson

The CAA is an organization that rides herd on rules and regulations governing all phases of aviation, and aviation is much the better because of its existence.

In closing last week's writing, mention was made that more would be written concerning experience compared to non-experience, in some instances.

Electronics is jumping into almost everything during this starting of a real electronic age. As far back as 20 years ago, the CAA had a setup in a Piper J3 that proved to me, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that pilots, like myself, were just shooting off hot air when they talked about their ability to "fly by the seat of their pants." This means their experience is enough; they do not need instruments to tell when their plane is approaching a stalled condition or nearing a red-lined condition. Then there is the "old boy" who says he can make all kinds of turns with perfect coordination by the feel of his rudder and aileron controls.

This electrical setup in the Piper was a series of various colored lights and automatic recording devices. When a pilot believed he was within, say, 15 mph of stalling speed, he would press a button and the hidden electrical boards were so rigged to record the exact speed and the errors could be determined.

One would think the "old heads" could get pretty close in all the different tests, but the man who proved to me that the opposite is true had a way of not embarrassing the experienced flyers as he explained that the fellows with much less flying time almost to the man came up with better records.

For the life of me, I cannot arrive at a plausible reason that will satisfy my curious mind . . . take it from me it's true . . . at least in my case it was.

Here is a deal that I am sure most instructors have tangled with is they have instructed off small county airports. I have yet to experience it on a larger field like Wichita Falls Municipal or Will Rogers Airport at Oklahoma City and others comparable in size.

I have won every time when some interested person drives up to the small two or three hanger airport and says, "Eddie, if you'll land that plane, I'll bet you $10 I can take it off the ground."

People, that is a cinch bet. To me, teaching landings is much easier than teaching takeoffs. Now, I'm talking about flying the plane that does not have a steerable nose-wheel and can be guided down the runway like driving a car.

The person who thinks he can take off in one and has laid his $10 down won't get 50 yards before he will have the plane in every direction but the right one and will be begging the pilot to take over. It happens every time.

Next week, back to the CAA and a comparison with an experienced instructor.
