Evidence In Blasts Presented

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Evidence against five Alabama National Guardsmen charged with setting off explosions near the recently integrated University of Alabama will be presented to the Tuscaloosa County grand jury.

Circuit Solicitor Fred Nicol said Monday night that the grand jury faces a heavy agenda, and he did not know whether the bombing cases would come up today or Wednesday.

Nicol said that he expects the jury to report to Circuit Judge Ruben H. Wright by late Thursday. He expressed confidence the jury will return indictments against the five.

They are accused of taking part in three mid-November explosions which rocked the campus near the dormitory housing Negro student Vivian Malone. No one was hurt.

The entire Alabama National Guard was federalized by President Kennedy last June when Gov. George Wallace defied federal court orders that Miss Malone and Negro James A. Hood be admitted to the university.

At the time of the explosions, only a task force remained on guard duty. This task force was deactivated Nov. 20, a day after the last bombing.

Charged in the Tuscaloosa explosions are Sgt. William E. Roughton, Cpl. James T. Maxwell, Sgt. Norman R. Daniel, Sgt. Charles Hollifield, and Lt. James T. Perkins. All are free on $5,000 bonds.

Voting-Year Strain Felt

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 88th Congress opened its second session today under the multiple pressures of a campaign year, a new administration striking out on new paths, and a mountainous backlog of unfinished business.

A few hours before the gavels banged in the House and Senate chambers, President Johnson went over with Democratic leaders from the Capitol his first state of the union message, a communication he will deliver in person at a joint session at noon Wednesday.

The party chiefs were close-mouthed on details after their weekly breakfast session at the White House, but agreed the message is "excellent" and "quite to the point." House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said he thinks the American people will respond most favorably.

There was informed speculation that the message will contain proposals for a many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other measures. The new chief executive pledged himself during his work-and-play Christmas holiday in Texas to give high priority to a drive in that direction.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen at the White House that the message is "quite to the point in the interest of the American people domestically speaking."

Mansfield said some of this will be channeled into housing, unemployment assistance, educational and other programs aimed at improving living conditions and the level of employment among the nation's poor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Kirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview it remains to be seen whether Johnson can trim enough out of military outlays to finance such programs without breaking through the President's self-imposed limitation on expenditures.

"I have told the President that if he comes up with a Texas-size budget, he is going to be in trouble in Congress," Dirksen said. "On the other hand, if he cuts military expenditures to the point where Congress thinks national security is threatened, some of this money may be restored."

The second session of the 88th Congress gets under way at noon today, with indications that many members intend to prolong their holiday and not return until next week.

The House had before it a Senate-passed bill to rename the national cultural center in honor of the late John F. Kennedy and provide some federal financing for it. The Senate had no major business scheduled.

In his personally delivered message Wednesday, Johnson is expected to expand on a theme he has been preaching for years—that the nation cannot afford to "surrender to poverty" just to "serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

A former school teacher, Johnson has laid heavy stress on education for the unskilled and those with skills outdated by automation who are, he said, thus "confined in an airtight case of poverty."

Johnson has given every sign that he will back to the hilt proposals Kennedy made for an $11 billion tax cut, enactment of a civil rights legislative program and for action on health care for the elderly financed through Social Security taxes.

Council Post Filled; Projects Launched

The Snyder City Council last night filled a vacancy in its own ranks and took action to set three city projects in motion.

Jack Lawrence, manager of J's Super Market, was appointed to fill a vacancy on the council. Lawrence, who was notified of his appointment by telephone, came to the council session and was sworn in shortly before it was adjourned.

He was appointed to Place 2 on the council to fill the unexpired term of D. D. Shelburne, who resigned several weeks ago. The term expires in April of this year.

The council voted to proceed with two street projects and to ask for bids on a million-gallon "clear-well" at the city water treatment plant. Representatives of Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers of Fort Worth, presented plans and specifications for the clear-well, a concrete surface basin which will duplicate a facility already in use at the water plant. Bids on the project will be opened at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23 at the city hall.

For the same Jan. 23 date, the council has set up a meeting of council members and Snyder's representatives on the Colorado River Municipal Water District board. Also planned in connection with the special session is an inspection tour of the city's new maintenance and warehouse facilities on Thirty-seventh Street.

The council gave its approval to a proposal to widen Avenue E from Thirtieth Street to Thirty-seventh Street. The approval is subject to negotiation with the county, since the proposal involves a joint county - city project.

Another street project involves both the city and the Texas Highway Department. The proposal is to widen and reconstruct U. S. 180 (Twenty-fifth Street) from the present west end of curb and gutter facilities to the west city limits, a distance of about .9 of a mile. The project, already approved by the highway department, got unanimous approval of the city council last night.

The council agreed to purchase a sewer rodding machine from Flex Rod Pipe Tool Co. on a quotation of $3,519, which was the only bid received. The machine, considerably heavier than equipment now in use, is expected to speed up the work of unclogging sanitary sewers. It also will reduce manpower requirements for such work.

Bids will be asked on a year's supply of gasoline, oil, alum and chlorine at the next regular meeting of the council, which is set for Feb. 3.

Final reading of an ordinance was approved, closing and abandoning a portion of unused street right-of-way on Twenty-third Street. Involved is property adjacent to blocks, 54, 55, 56 and 57, Original Town of Snyder.

LBJ Signs Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed today the $3 billion foreign aid appropriation bill.

The funds are for the fiscal year that began last July 1.

The amount, a compromise between Senate and House figures, is $600 million below the ceiling previously authorized.

It is $1.5 billion below the amount originally asked last spring by President John F. Kennedy, and also well below the $3.6 billion level Johnson had said would represent "a dangerous reduction in our security."

The President won one point in the long dispute over the measure—elimination of a House-originated ban on government guarantee of credit to Communist nations on grain sales and other deals.

The fight over that point delayed the adjournment of the first session of the Congress that went back into business today.

The House finally agreed to eliminate the ban in a daybreak session the day before Christmas. Called back from a brief Christmas recess, the Senate passed the bill Dec. 30. Over Republican objections, Johnson had insisted that action be completed before the first session ended.

Berlin Reds Want Brandt In Sessions

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — The East German government is demanding West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's personal participation at the start of any new negotiations to reopen the Communist wall to West Berliners.

The Communist demand appeared to raise a new obstacle to any agreement to renew the Christmas pass arrangement that ended at midnight Jan. 5 after 17 days of visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

The East German condition was put to Brandt in a letter from Deputy Premier Willi Stoph, an authoritative source disclosed Monday night. It was regarded as part of the Communist regime's continuing campaign to whittle away at the refusal of the Western Allies in Berlin and the West German government to recognize it.

Brandt is under pressure from the Western Allies and his own government to avoid any gestures that could hurt the cause of nonrecognition.

Brandt's city government as well as the Western Allies have stipulated that new negotiations must be held on the same level as the talks that resulted in the previous agreement. Those talks were held between Cultural Affairs Ministers Horst Korber of West Berlin and Erich Wendt of East Germany.

Brandt may reply to the Communist demand when Korber and Wendt meet later this week, sources said.

The two officials met last Saturday, and Stoph's letter to Brandt was handed over at the time. West Berlin also laid down its conditions in a seven-point memorandum, but the East German representative reportedly tore up the paper.

Contents of the West Berlin memorandum were not disclosed.

Red Adair Cleans Area Near Fire

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Fire fighters, battling a gas well fire so hot it melts water hoses in 8-10 seconds, removed the crumpled steel derrick Tuesday from close to the well mouth.

Working in iron-sheathed bulldozers, crews led by veteran fire fighter Red Adair of Houston, Tex., hoped to have the area around the well "clean as a kitchen table" by Tuesday night.

Adair said that once this is accomplished, he would mount an assault with explosives to snuff out the flame that has raged out of control since last Thursday at the well in Indian Hills gas field 20 miles north of Carlsbad.

He said Monday night he definitely would not use a liquid explosive on the flame, towering up to 250 feet at times and fed by 60 million cubic yards of natural gas per day.

Adair said it would be a solid explosive, lowered with precision to the edge of the flame by a boom rig. The explosion smothers the fire by depriving it of oxygen, Adair said.

But it may be Wednesday or Thursday before the explosive technique is applied to one of the most troublesome gas well fires ever in New Mexico.

Monday, the bulldozers removed several tons of drill pumps and other equipment mangled by the explosion that touched off the inferno.

Wallace To Enter Presidential Races

DENVER (AP)—Gov. George Wallace of Alabama said Monday he plans to enter several presidential primaries.

Wallace, a Democrat, said he had no illusions that he, a Southerner, might win. But he said his entry would give voters who agree with him the chance to let their congressmen know their stand against civil rights measures.

Wallace said Southerners have a "wait-and-see" attitude toward President Johnson.

"I expect the presidential candidates of both major parties will endorse civil rights," he said. "They'll have to. There's too much pressure for them not to. But no one will do well in my state who does."

Wallace is on a 10-day speaking tour.

Says LBJ Plans Poverty Coordinator

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today that President Johnson plans to appoint a "poverty coordinator" to push new programs to help the poor.

In Washington, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger asserted he knew of no such plan.

The Herald Tribune said the man most likely to get the job is a Negro, federal housing chief Robert Weaver.

The newspaper said Johnson wants the new program organized around existing agencies with a small coordinatir staff so as not to create a new bureau.

Opposition Seen For Budget Shift

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any attempt by the Johnson administration to shift some foreign aid items to the Defense Department's budget is certain to encounter strong and probably effective opposition in the House Appropriations Committee.

Unconfirmed reports that such a move would be made by the administration have been current for weeks in congressional circles.

They have come to the attention of Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who heads an appropriations subcommittee which had handled all foreign aid funds for years and who has led the fight to cut foreign spending.

"There is some indication," Passman said in an interview, "that they are going to try to scatter foreign aid funds all over the new budget. They are not going to get away with it. This is simply an indication that the requests for new funds are not on solid ground."

Passman warned that "the new team in the executive branch may have to learn the hard way that it is not easy to hide the foreign aid total from Congress."

"Wherever they put it, we will find it and cut out the fat," he added.

Efforts in the past to shift the military part of the aid program to the defense budget have failed, largely because Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the Appropriations Committee has insisted that the entire aid budget be handled in one bill drafted by one subcommittee—headed by Passman.

Cannon has arbitrary power to determine how the over-all federal budget shall be parceled out among his 15 subcommittees.

Woman Slain In Laredo

LAREDO (AP) — Police Inspector Galligher said a naturalized U.S. citizen accused of slaying a secretary and wounding her employer killed himself Monday night.

Galligher said police surrounded the house of Roman Ortiz and that Ortiz shot himself before police closed in.

Galliger said the man was cornered in the small border town of Villa Aldama.

Killed in the first shooting was Susana Martinez, 27, mother of two, and secretary to David Epstein, 55. Epstein was beaten with a piece of pipe, pistol whipped and shot in the chest.

Galligher said Epstein recently repossessed some land which the man had bought but been unable to finish paying for. The shooting followed an argument between the men at the lumber company.

Rails Rift Heads For New Crisis

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute appears to be headed for another crisis late next month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz conceded as much Monday when he announced that the federal government once again is stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, now nearly five years old.

Wirtz, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neil Jr. of the National Mediation Board meet today in closed session with the railroads and five operating brotherhoods.

Wirtz met late Monday with railroads representatives, then the unions, and, finally, with both sides. Later he explained that the talks centered on "making the best use of the time that lies ahead of us."

On Feb. 25 a congressional deadline for settlement of the so-called secondary issues—issues not settled last November by compulsory arbitration — runs out and a nationwide rail strike could begin.

The issues involved in the current negotiations include such topics as wage structure, certain road and yard jobs, interdivisional runs, use of self-propelled equipment, night shift differentials, holiday pay and expenses away from home.

Wirtz hedged on any prediction that an agreement could be reached and said he hadn't talked to the negotiators about how much progress they had made in their weeks of bargaining.

There were strong indications earlier from Chicago that progress has been slight.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told a news conference there would be a nationwide strike unless the railroads relented on their insistence on what he said would mean "severe wage reductions."

Baytown Marine Dies In Truck Crash

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—Pfc. Donald Cauble, 21, of Baytown, Tex., was one of the four Marines killed here in a truck wreck Sunday. Two sailors were also killed and 11 marines were injured.

One of the injured was Pvt. Robert T. Cook, 19, of 2808 Wooded Acres Drive, Waco, Tex. He was in satisfactory condition today in the Camp Pendleton Hospital.

The truck appeared to have a brake failure and the driver rammed it into a rock formation in an attempt to keep the vehicle from plunging into a canyon. The truck flipped and landed upside down in the deep ravine.

Crash Kills One

AMARILLO (AP) — Charles Mason, 21, of Turkey was killed today in a one car accident in that town 15 miles southeast of here. Jimmy Yates, 20, a companion, was injured critically. Officers said the car clipped a utility pole and gasoline station sign and wrecked two pumps at the station.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A relative, recently out of high school, is planning to marry a man she met this past year as soon as he gets out of prison. He is about 10 years older than she, previously married, divorced and has children. He has served time in prison for armed robbery, and was out on probation when she met him. Since then he's been sent back to prison for failing to report to his probation officer. The girl is attractive and intelligent. She claims she is "in love" with him, that he needs her and she can reform him. Her parents are heartbroken, but she won't listen to them. She confides in no one, but she does read your column. Can we reach her through you before it's too late?

TROUBLED RELATIVE

DEAR TROUBLED: "Love" in some people is a mental disease which can't be cured with logic. I agree, the man appears to be a poor risk. But unless the girl herself seeks advice, NO ONE can reach her.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a daughter-in-law who brings her week's ironing along in a basket when she comes to visit me for the week-end. You need not ask who ends up doing it. This girl has no job outside her home and she has only one child to care for. I have my own work to do, and when I have week-end guests, I do not expect to do someone else's work. How can this be solved without starting a family fight?

WEARY

DEAR WEARY: Look right through the basket of ironing. When your daughter-in-law realizes that she has to do it anyway, she'll find the time to do it at home.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What's the difference between meddling in other people's business and giving advice?

WAITING TO HEAR

DEAR WAITING: Meddling in other people's business is offering advice—unsolicited. Giving advice is acceptable when the advice has been asked for.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: "Preparing Ahead's" letter from the woman who had so many questions about what to wear to her husband's funeral (while he was still alive) reminded me of this classic story:

Mr. George C., one of the vice presidents in a large corporation, passed away suddenly. An hour after it became known in the office, an eager beaver who had been bucking for vice president approached the boss and asked if he could take George's place.

"It's all right with me if the undertaker doesn't mind," replied the boss.

Sincerely, MAX

BECOMES CANDIDATE—Dr. Robert Morris is shown at a news conference in Dallas, Tex., as he announced he would be a Republican candidate for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Ralph Yarborough. His wife, Joan, is with him. (AP Wirephoto)

Candidate Morris Desires To 'Communicate Issues'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Morris says a prime reason he seeks the GOP nomination for U. S. Senator from Texas is "to frame, articulate and communicate the fundamental issues of our times."

Morris said he believed efforts should be made to see that the electorate has a clear choice of issues.

The Democratic candidate is expected to be Sen. Ralph Yarborough, incumbent.

Yarborough as yet, has not announced for re-election, but there are several candidates for the Republican nomination which Morris seeks.

Morris is a former president of the University of Dallas and once was chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. He ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Senate in his native New Jersey in 1960.

In a statement given Washington newsmen Monday, Morris said the religious and spiritual texture of the U. S. way of life is eroding and that "common law heritage and the system of free enterprise are becoming casualties of the growth of all - powerful national government.

He added: "Normalization of our relations with Communist dictatorships is replacing our traditional goal of extending liberty and freedom to all men."

Morris also said that if Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., heads the Republican ticket, the GOP could win the Senate seat Yarborough holds.

He said an alliance of President Johnson and Yarborough might increase the senator's immediate strength but that, if the issues can be "framed and communicated," there would be no doubt of the outcome.

The Dallas man said the president should name an ambassador to Mexico who has "a deep knowledge of the Soviet conspiracy."

The Mexican government, he added, has accorded de facto recognition to Red China by inviting to the western hemisphere a Chinese Communist trade mission that now is in Mexico arranging trade pacts.

Full recognition of Red China is planned before president Adolfo Lopez Mateos leaves office, he added, quoting unnamed Mexican sources.

The senatorial aspirant said that the man next slated to be Mexican president, Gustavo Diaz Ordas, "understands Communism and would oppose such recognition."

"Therefore," Morris added, those pressing for recognition plan to present him with an accomplished fact." He added that a large Chinese Communist embassy in Mexico City would speed up what he called the decline of U. S. influence.

Snyder Man's Brother Dies In Big Spring

Funeral services are pending in Big Spring for Daniel Luther Gilstrap, 48, the brother of L. W. Gilstrap of Snyder.

Fatalities In Football In Decline

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football fatalities in the United States dropped 26 per cent in 1963 compared to the previous year.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the injury and fatality committee of the American Football Coaches Association, said Monday that deaths in the sport went from 19 each in 1961 and 1962 to 14 last year.

The medical researcher said of the 14 deaths directly attributed to football, 11 happened in high school and one each in sandlot, professional and college play.

Eastwood, a professor at Los Angeles State College, has been recording football deaths for 32 years.

He said a total of eight football fatalities last year were ascribed to indirect causes such as heart failure and perforated aorta.

Benefits To Veterans Tabulated

A total of $251,504 in benefits was paid to Scurry County Veterans and their families during 1963, according to records of the Veterans Affairs Commission in Austin.

The records for the past year were forwarded this week to Elmer L. Taylor, Veterans County Service Officer here.

None of the benefits included in the report were automatic, since each eligible person is required to make formal application for any benefits to which he or she is entitled. Handling such applications and assisting Scurry County veterans in preparing necessary date for them is the prime duty of the County Veterans Service Officer.

Charles L. Morris, executive director of the Veterans Affairs Commission, said he hoped that the commission would be permitted to work closely with Taylor during the new year as it had in the past.

"We have enjoyed working with you this past year, and we wish to congratulate you on the success which your office has apparently experienced," the executive director wrote Taylor. "The amount of Federal benefits brought into your county last year clearly indicates that you are rendering an outstanding service to the veterans of your county."

The car on top is a 1964 Dodge 330 two-door sedan. It has a unitized, rust-protected body, front seat belts, an alternator electrical system, self-adjusting brakes and a 225 cubic inch, six-cylinder engine. It will go 32,000 miles between major grease jobs, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

The car on the bottom is the same model, a 1964 Dodge 330 two-door sedan. And we can say the same good things about it.

There's one difference. It's equipped the way many people buy cars these days.

For a fact, Dodge offers a full line of cars in the low-price field. Sedans, hardtops, convertibles, wagons, the works. They call 'em "The Dependables," because they are.

Try This New Twist For Breakfast Or Brunch

Freshly baked rolls add a luxury touch to any breakfast or brunch, so it's always a pleasure to learn a new way to make them. Here's a recipe that saves you time and effort because it begins with a prepared hot roll mix.

Three special ingredients add their individual flavors. . .dairy sour cream, strained apricots, and coconut. For convenience, use strained apricot baby food. Other varieties of fruit are available if you want a change from apricot flavor.

The basic recipe is very simple, and sour cream gives these quick rolls a truly different taste. For a final fillip, add an apricot glaze, and sprinkle lightly with sugar.

As a time-saver, Apricot Twist Rolls could be made up ahead of time. Do them the night before; you could even bake them then, if you don't want to get up quite so early in the morning. Next day reheat the rolls adding more glaze.

These light, luscious Apricot Twist Rolls are a special treat for breakfast or brunch. An excellent brunch menu teams these fresh hot rolls with Canadian bacon, spiced Apple Rings, and Scrambled Eggs topped with cheese. Serve plenty of butter to spread on the rolls. Apricot Twist Rolls are best served right out of the oven, and even though they're prepared from a mix, they taste just like homemade.

APRICOT TWIST ROLLS

Buttered baking sheet
Preheated 375 degree oven
1 package (13¾ oz.) hot roll mix
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 jars (4¾ oz. each) strained apricots
1 cup shredded coconut
Sugar, if desired

Prepare rolls according to package directions. Let rise about 30 minutes or until doubled in volume. Roll out dough on a lightly floured surface to form a rectangle 18 x 12 inches. Spread dough with sour cream and strained apricots, reserving 2 tablespoons of the apricots to be used later as glaze. Sprinkle coconut over dough. From longest side, fold bottom third of dough over middle third; then fold top third over other two layers. Cut into 18 piedes with a sharp knife. Carefully transfer to baking sheet twisting each roll before placing on sheet. Let rise about 30 minutes. Bake 20-25 minutes or until lightly browned. Brush with reserved strained apricots immediately after removing from oven. If desired, sprinkle with sugar after glazing. serve warm.

NOTE. These rolls may be frozen. Heat, wrapped in aluminum foil, in a warm oven before serving.

Old - fashioned cooks would fry chicken in a combination of lard and butter; they also used this combination of fats for creating rich flaky tender pastry.

GRACE ANY meal with freshly baked Apricot Twist Rolls. They're easy to make with prepared roll mix, sour cream, coconut and strained apricots.

Barry Sees LBJ As 'New Dealer'

By WALTER R. MEARS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House, has called President Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United States to the principles which have made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared Monday night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Goldwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

He got a polite reception in a half-empty hall. Local Republicans explained they admitted only party contributors who bought tickets. They said 879 were sold.

Goldwater said he respects President Johnson but considers him "first of all today a leader bound by the commitments of his party. And in that role I shall and do oppose him with all the support I can gather. For his party is wrong.

"The President will expound on his inheritance from his predecessor's administration," Goldwater said. "These inherited proposals he must not and he cannot reject—or even materially revise.

"These cannot be listed among President Johnson's assets," Goldwater said. "They are his liabilities."

The Arizona conservative said Johnson himself "knows that Republican ways are the ways to inspire Americans today.

"Even while he tells his staff that he is, frankly, a Roosevelt New Dealer, he tries to sell the public on the idea that he is a conservative."

Goldwater, who today launches his campaign in New Hampshire, says "our opponent is the Democratic regime now in power. I do not believe in intra-party blood-letting."

Goldwater Hunts Votes In Concord

By GORDON A. GLOVER

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, forecasting victory in New Hampshire's presidential primary, went on a hand-shaking hunt for votes today.

The Arizona senator launched his bid for New Hampshire's 14 GOP convention delegate votes with a news conference and hobbling campaign stroll in downtown Concord.

Goldwater, his right foot still in a cast greeted onlookers who crowded in as he met newsmen in his store-front headquarters. Then he limped next door to shake hands with old folks at a convalescent home.

He told reporters he did not seek the party ranking that made him a presidential candidate.

"Now that I've decided to go after it, I'm going after it with everything that I have," he said.

"I think it's time we give the conservative element . . . a chance to have a candidate," said Goldwater, a conservative.

He said the conservative wing includes about 85 per cent of the Republican Party.

"If we can't nominate a conservative then I think we're going to have trouble in the Republican party because it will mean that a handful of liberals control one of the major parties," Goldwater said.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only other declared candidate for the GOP nomination, heads that wing of the party.

"Whatever happens up here, and I expect to win up here, I'll stay in the race," Goldwater said.

The primary, first in the nation, is March 10.

The senator said he is confident of winning the other three primaries he has entered, too. They are California, Oregon and Illinois.

Then he said: "I'll take the big states and I'll take my chances in the industrial cities."

Goldwater said the cast he has worn since a pre-Christmas operation on his right heel will come off next Monday. Until then, he'll be campaigning with a cane.

The GOP nominating convention meets next July in San Francisco.

Success Of Transplants Uncertain

By The Associated Press

Kidneys from a monkey, a chimpanzee and two baboons have been transplanted in four humans since last October. Physicians at Tulane University Charity Hospital in New Orleans and Colorado General and the Veterans Administration hospitals in Denver who performed the operations have said that without the transplants the four recipients had no chance of survival.

A 32-year-old woman, who was not identified, received the first transplant of a primate's kidneys—a monkey—last October at Tulane. She later died of the disease that prompted the transplant.

Jefferson Davis, 44, a New Orleans dock worker, was believed to have been the second person to undergo such a transplant. He received the kidneys of a chimpanzee Nov. 5.

Davis died Monday at Charity Hospitals in New Orleans.

Dr. Brian McCracken, an internist, said the kidneys were functioning at the time of death. A chest infection followed by pneumonia was listed as the cause of death.

The transplants using the kidneys of baboons were both recorded at Colorado General Hospital. The first occurred Dec. 20 and the recipient was a 40-year-old man who is reported in good condition today.

The second transplant was reported Monday. Spokesmen said a 45-year-old man received two kidneys from a baboon in a 5½-hour operation. His condition was termed satisfactory.

Historical Documents Are Found

DETROIT (AP) — Historical documents valued at more than $500,000 — including letters of American presidents — have been recovered in Detroit, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Monday.

The papers were part of a collection taken from the National Archives in Washington in 1962, the FBI said. Agents said they were found in suitcases confiscated from Robert Bradford Murphy, 45, and his wife, Elizabeth, 32. The FBI charged the Murphys with interstate transportation of stolen property and theft of government property.

Special agent Bernard C. Brown said the documents were examined by Phillip Bauer, archivist from the National Archives, and Dr. Philip Mason, an archivist from Detroit's Wayne State University. The two men determined all were orginal, Brown said.

The letters recovered included 50 written by President Monroe during the 1818-1820 period of his presidency.

The FBI said the Murphys first were arrested Thursday on a 1962 Pensacola, Fla., warrant charging them with interstate telephone and telegraph fraud.

The Murphys came to Detroit two months ago. Mrs. Murphy is free under $10,000 personal bond. Her husband is held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Agents said the Pensacola warrants were issued after Murphy defrauded the William Holzman Co., of New York City, in a $600 deal involving Mexican and Guatemalan currency.

Agents said there also are outstanding indictments against the couple on charges of wire and mail fraud in Scranton, Pa.; Camden, N.J., and Springfield, Ohio.

Still Hold Hope For Airmen

HONOLULU (AP) — Weary airmen, some flying their fifth search mission, still expressed strong hope today that the crew and passenger of a missing Air Force cargo plane will be found alive.

"Hope and determination is what's keeping the men going—we don't intend to give up," said Maj. James Gibney, Air Force information officer, as the search entered its sixth day.

Some 70 planes and four ships have been combing the turbulent Pacific Ocean since Jan. 2 when the C124 Globemaster disappeared on a 2,300-mile flight from Wake Island to Hawaii. It was bound for Hill Air Force Base, Utah.

Aboard were eight crewmen and a Navy passenger escorting a comrade's body to the United States from Tokyo.

Reported signals from a "Gibson Girl" emergency transmitter, standard equipment aboard life rafts carried by all such planes, led searchers to believe that at least some of the men survived a ditching at sea.

Groups Disagree On Farm Bills

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rival farm groups are rounding up enforcements for battles over farm legislation in this presidential election year.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has deployed its top leaders to agricultural areas to enlist support for its policies of seeking a gradual withdrawal of government from agriculture. By early February, the organization expects to have held rallies in every state.

Its rival organizations hold meetings here this week to win backing for stronger farm programs expected to be recommended by the Johnson administration for cotton, wheat, dairy products and possibly other commodities.

Active in these meetings are the National Grange, the National Farmers Union, the Missouri Farmers Association and the National Farmers Organization.

The Farm Bureau expects a broadened use of government compensatory payments to be the most important single issue in new legislation and possibly the major farm issue in the presidential campaign. It opposes such payments, but most other farm groups favor them.

Payments are now made under existing programs for wool, feed, grain and wheat.

The administration itself is not idle enlisting public support for its proposals which it says are designed to strengthen farm income.

It called a National Cotton Advisory Committee to a two-day closed meeting ending Tuesday to consider plans for bringing greater stability to the cotton industry.

It also summoned livestock industry and farm organization leaders to meet with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Wednesday and to discuss ways of limiting beef imports. Many cattlemen blame increasing imports for last year's drop in cattle prices—a drop from which the industry has not yet recovered.

Widow Sworn In As District Clerk

RIO GRANDE CITY (AP) — The widow of Amparo Garcia was sworn in Monday to complete his term as district clerk of Starr County. Dist. Judge C. W. Laughlin of Alice appointed her. Her husband died of a heart attack Dec. 20.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swan, 2804 Avenue H, are the parents of a 7 lb. 1½ oz. baby boy born at 7:19 a.m. Jan. 6 at Cogdell Hospital.

Scranton Asks Record Budget Fund

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William Scranton proposed to the 1964 Pennsylvania Legislature today a record annual general fund budget of $1.168 billion, fatter by $59 million but without increased taxes.

"The important thing about this budget 'without-a-tax-increase,'" Scranton told legislators in his budget message on the opening day of their new session, "is that it is no 'stand pat' document. It signals not a fiscal year in which we will merely mark time, but a fiscal year in which we shall continue to build a better Pennsylvania."

Scranton is one of the most talked about possibilities for the Republican nomination for president.

To balance the 1964-65 budget, at least on paper, the governor is counting on $18,750,000 in unused appropriations from this and prior fiscal years, a $23.7-million surplus after all deficiencies and lapses are counted, $14.5 million which had been used to wipe out a deficit in the last fiscal year and higher revenues from existing taxes.

Budget experts anticipate that the total state taxes in 1964-65 will be $1,042,325,000 compared with $1,029,810,000 this year.

EVERYBODY HAPPY—W. E. McMillan watches proudly as little Orphy, a calf which started life two weeks ago in a rather unusual way, gets his dinner. His foster mother also seems to have accepted the situation happily.

Orphy The Calf Follows In Footsteps Of Caesar

Two weeks ago a new little calf came into the world in a feed lot on a farm operated by Walton E. McMillan a few miles east of Snyder.

The fact that a calf is born isn't news. But the fact that this little fellow is alive, and is normal, frisky, and healthy is news.

The story of Orphy started on a cold weekend two weeks ago. His mother had been sick several days. Mr. McMillan said that the cow had refused to eat for several days, and had finally lain down, apparently for the last time.

Knowing that it was about time for her to have a calf, Mr. McMillan decided to see if he could save the unborn calf. After all, he reasoned, sombody else had tried a similar operation about 100 years before Christ, and Julius Caesar had been on his way to a long and healthy life before Brutus came along, so why not a calf?

He sharpened his pocket knife, called a Latin-American farm laborer there to help him, and after putting the mother cow out of her misery, proceeded with a Caesarean operation.

At first everything was fine, except that the calf was not breathing. Holding him up by his hind feet, Mr. McMillan and his helper used artifical respiration. In just a minute, his little lungs started working — working so well in fact, that a strong little bleat told the "doctors" that their job was well done.

Orphy, as he was soon named, was wrapped in a blanket and kept warm next to a stove. A milk cow, who also had a new calf, was chosen to be Orphy's foster mother.

The cow didn't mind taking on an extra child to raise, but Orphy had to be shown just how to go about getting something to eat. But once he had the idea, he didn't have to be shown again.

Mr. McMillan reports that Orphy slept quite a bit the first four days, but since that time he's been a completely normal calf.

Only one question has come up that Mr. McMillan can't answer.

After it was obvious that Orphy was going to be all right, Mr. McMillan noticed that his helper during the operation looked a little worried. Asking him what was wrong, he got this question:

"Who," the Latin asked, "do you think he'll think his mother is—you, or me?"

East Germany Is 'Going Fishing'

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—The Communist regime of East Germany has embarked on an ambitious fishing expedition.

The big fish the Reds are after: recognition of their regime that has been propped up by Soviet bayonets for 14 years and by political isolation of vulnerable West Berlin.

The bait: the chance for 3.5 million Berliners to be together instead of being kept apart by the Red wall.

It is very tempting bait.

The first morsels, eagerly swallowed by the Berliners over the year-end holiday season, already have caught some smaller fish which the Reds found mighty tasty.

The 17-day concessions of visits through the wall for West Berliners ended Sunday.

The prospect of more in the future is being dangled at the end of the Red fishing line.

The West Berlin city government of Mayor Willy Brandt, having once negotiated with the East Germans, found it impossible to resist the offer of more negotiations.

Nobody could possibly object to the humanitarian objective of reuniting, even if only briefly, the separated Berlin families.

But the Western Allies and some West German politicians, are anxious lest the Communists exploit the deal to the political disadvantage of West Berlin.

The Reds claim they have wrung out of Brandt an agreement between two states. Brandt says it is nothing of the kind but merely a technical arrangement.

The difference is important. The Reds long have been campaigning to sever West Berlin from the West German Federal Republic to make it into a neutralized free city. They see the agreement with Brandt's administration as a step in this direction.

The East regime also crowed that its authority had been recognized formally. The moral the Reds offered was that giving such recognition and negotiation brings benefits to the West.

There is no denying the joy brought to many hearts by the reunions.

LBJ Goes Swimming To Get Exercise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reported Monday that he swam eight lengths of the White House pool as part of his regimen of exercise and relaxation.

The President said he is going to try to keep a "pretty regular schedule" at the White House. He usually rises at 6:30 a.m. and for the next two hours goes over official papers and documents. Then, he told reporters at a White House reception, he likes to report to his office between 8:30 and 9 a.m. to get started on the day's appointments.

Snyder Girl Home After Surgery

Kayla Arnold, 12 - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Arnold, 2901 Avenue W, has been returned home following open heart surgery in Houston.

It was reported earlier that the surgery was performed in Corpus Chrsiti. This was incorrect. The surgery was done at Children's Hospital in Houston by Dr. Denton Cooley, one of the world's leading heart surgeons.

At the time Kayla was in the hospital under Dr. Cooley's care, other patients were there from several states and several foreign countries including Greece, Peru, Paraguay and Mexico.

With the operation termed a complete success, Kayla will be permitted to go back to chool in about two weeks. She will be restricted from full activity for about six months. Bicycle riding, however, will come in about three months.

Mrs. Arnold said that she would be glad to talk to anyone who is contemplating heart surgery, and give them the benefit of her experiences in Houston.

Anti-Castro Group Claims New Support

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An anti-Castro organization headed by Manuel Artime, 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion leader, said today it "possesses the means to carry to Cuba a freedom war in 1964."

Cesar Baro, second in command of the Revolutionary Recovery Movement, said, "We have found the needed support."

There have been reports that the movement has military units in Central America.

Mexicans Register For Election

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Five million persons have registered to vote in next summer's general election, the National Voters Registration Board reports.

A total of 16 million is expected to register by the March 31 deadline.

JFK's 'Creative America' Set For February Release

By ROBERT HOLTON

NEW YORK (AP)—President John F. Kennedy, a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, wrote an introduction to a book only months before he died describing the life of the creative artist as a "stern and lonely" one.

"Too often in the past, we have thought of the artist as an idler and dilettante and the lover of arts as somehow sissy or effete," the late president wrote last summer in "Creative America," to be published next month for the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington. The book has been dedicated to his memory.

"We have done both an injustice," Kennedy wrote. "The life of the artist is, in relation to his work, stern and lonely. He has labored hard, often amid deprivation, to perfect his skill."

Kennedy did much of the work on "Profiles in Courage" while recuperating from major surgery to correct a back ailment.

The book became a best seller and won a Pulitzer Prize. Since his assassination last Nomember it has risen again to the best seller lists.

Of the artist's life, Kennedy wrote:

"He has turned aside from quick success in order to strip his vision of everything secondary or cheapening. His working life is marked by intensive application and intense discipline.

"As for the lover of the arts, it is he who, by subjecting himself to the sometimes disturbing experience of art, sustains the artist—and seeks only the reward that his life will, in consequence, be more fully lived."

In his introduction, Kennedy said the proposed National Cultural Center "aims to be a part of a broad effort to stimulate the peforming arts."

"To work for the progress of the arts in America is exciting are dealing with touches vitally all citizens."

Included in the book are writings by former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman, Robert Frost, Mark Van Doren, James Baldwin, Louis Kronenberger, John Ciardi and Joseph Krutch.

The book, published or the National Cultural Center by the Ridge Press, goes on sale Feb. 3.

Stress Value Of Honorable Discharge

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I find it very hard to live with the shame. They will not hire me. I can't enter the college of my choice."

With words such as these, many former enlisted men petitioned the Navy to let them escape from the shadow of undesirable, bad conduct and dishonorable discharges.

Now, the Navy is using these words to drive home an object lesson — to impress on young sailors "the handicaps and consequences" of receiving less than honorable discharges.

"Many young enlisted men are under the erroneous impression that a less than honorable discharge will not penalize them as civilians," said a notice being circulated to all ships and shore stations.

To dispel that impression, the Navy Bureau of Personnel has selected remorseful quotes from petitions asking a change to honorable discharge.

Without identifying the writers, the Navy is making sure the quotes are shown to sailors throughout the fleet—and that they realize none of the petitions quoted were granted.

Since 1959, officials said, undesirable, bad conduct and dishonorable discharges from the Navy have been running at the rate of about 3,600 a year.

Rayburn Bills In Library

BONHAM (AP)—The Sam Rayburn Library received facsimiles Monday of six bills which the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn helped pass while he was chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., made the presentation, and Buster Cole, Bonham attorney and secretary of the Sam Rayburn Foundation, accepted.

The facsimiles, mounted on blue velvet and framed, will go in the speaker's office of the library. The originals are in the National Archives.

Speaking were Reps. Oren Harris, D-Ark., Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., and Ray Roberts, D-Tex.

Harris termed the bills "landmarks in the field of representative government." They involved the stock market, railroads, communications, utilities and rural electrification.

A gavel presented to Harris by Rayburn also was given to the library.

One Baby A Rarity

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Only one child was born to Mrs. Louis Krutz last weekend, and "I'm real happy," says the father.

After welcoming one set of triplets and three sets of twins, the Krutz' again expected triplets or twins. Krutz said he was glad this time it was "just Dennis William," the new son.

Disease Kills Many Mexican Cattle

VERACRUZ, Mex. (AP) — A strange disease has killed 2,000 cattle in the past few days near Tuxtepec in Oaxaca state, the Ministry of Agriculture said today.

The officials said they had been unable to diagnose the disease and were continuing to make tests.

A quarantine was ordered for the zone, about 75 miles inland from this Gulf port.

Cold Kills Mexicans

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A cold wave that drove temperatures down to 20 degrees in some area left a toll of 15 deaths Monday.

Ten of the deaths were in San Luis Potosi, in central Mexico, where the 20-degree reading was recorded. The five others were in Mexico City.

NCAA Softens Punishment For Variety Of Violations

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still is cracking the whip but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth. "It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all—a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

Besides Indiana, New Mexico State, Hardin-Simmons, Dayton and Colorado are major universities which have been slapped with sanctions in recent years. Most of these sanctions end this year.

The University of Iowa was found guilty of the largest number of transgressions—enough to fill a full page of typewritten copy.

They included:

1. A football player who held a campus job during summer school and received pay for work he didn't perform. This happened in 1961.

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer and then dropped out of school before paying back the money.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

Houston had its wrist slapped for transporting two football players to the campus in a private plane. This became a violation when the representative failed to accompany the prospects, who wound up not entering the school after all.

Alabama was censured and reprimanded because its coaches contacted a football player who was enrolled at another school without notifying the other school's athletic director.

Alabama officials said it was a matter of misinterpretation of the words "student athlete" since the player in question had not competed at the other school but had entered merely to get proper credits.

Washington State was cautioned for a similar violation involving a track athlete. The punishment was lighter because Washington State reported the violation itself, Byers said.

The day's biggest surprise was the relaxation of sanctions against Indiana.

Under the move, Indiana athletes, previously barred from postseason activity and title events, were given permission to compete in any competition pointing to the Tokyo Olympics.

This opened the door for Indiana's fine squad of swimmers, including several record holders, basketball players, gymnasts and wrestlers.

Indiana is eligible to compete in the NCCAA basketball tournament, from which it had been barred.

Latin Stars Nip North Americans

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The Latin American All-Stars broke loose for four runs in the bottom of the sixth inning and defeated the North American All-Stars Monday in the 25th annual Winter League All-Star baseball game.

Walt Bond of the Houston Colts and Deacon Jones of the Chicago White Sox homered for the North Americans before a crowd of 6,183 at Hi Bithorn Stadium. Juan Pizarro of the White Sox was the winning pitcher and John Boozer of the Philadelphia Phils was the loser.

Kentucky's Cagers In Spectacular Skid

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long slide from the No. 1 college basketball ranking in the country to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference but Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats have completed the trip in less than a week.

Kentucky led the country in last week's Associated Press poll. Then the Wildcats ran into their first conference foe, Georgia Tech. The Engineers demolished the Wildcats and the loss dropped Kentucky to No. 2 in this week's poll. Monday night it was Vanderbilt and today the Wildcats find themselves peeking out of the conference basement with an 0-2 record.

John Ed Miller was the star for seventh-ranked Vanderbilt in an 85-83 thriller. His last second jump from 30 feet out won it. Roger Schurig led Vandy with 22 and Miller added 18. Terry Gibson's 19 topped the losers.

The game had been billed as a battle of SEC titans but instead it was a struggle escape the conference cellar. Vanderbilt's opening league loss to Tennessee had left it tied with Kentucky in the basement but now the Wildcats are all alone. Well, almost alone. Kentucky does have some company. Tulane shares last place after dropping its 11th straight game, 87-83 to Georgia. Chances are Kentucky will break its cellar lease before its co-tenant does.

In other college conference play another pre-season favorite ran into trouble. Kansas State, a Big Eight power, ran up a 14-point bulge on Colorado with less than 12 minutes to play, then suddenly lost the range and eventually the game, 60-59.

Utah State handed Utah its second loss in thirteen starts, 84-72 in a nonconference clash.

There were plenty of points in the Xavier of Ohio-Detroit game with Xavier winning 121-113.

South Carolina shot 60 per cent from the field and handed Maryland its first Atlantic Coast Conference setback 73-69.

Texas Western grabbed a 77-72 decision over Arizona State.

In other major games, Northwestern downed Indiana 79-65, Michigan State clouted Wisconsin 106-90, Nebraska dumped Iowa State 55-52, Oklahoma State outscored Kansas 64-48, Missouri stopped Oklahoma 84-74, Furman beat Wake Forest 66-58, George Washington whipped Virginia Tech 96-89, The Citadel topped William and Mary 63-60, Mississippi slipped by Auburn 59-58, Mississippi State downed Alabama 69-56, Louisiana State whacked Florida 87-65 and Arizona knocked off Seattle 59-55.

Tigers Go To Hamlin

The Snyder Tigers journey to Hamlin tonight for their last road tilt before district play gets underway. Snyder will host Stamford Friday night for the final non-conference outing of the year. The Tigers will begin district play Monday, Jan. 13, in San Angelo against the Lake View Chiefs, one of the favorites to win the crown.

The Tigers will be looking for their third victory of the year tonight, and both previous wins have been against this same Hamlin team. Snyder won over the Pied Pipers 74-54 in the Canyon Reef Tournament, and then defeated them again a week later 59-46.

Snyder now has a record of two wins and eight losses, but Coach Underwood's cagers have shown indication of some improvement of late. In the Caprock Tournament in Lubbock during the holidays, the Tigers looked good in being edged by Midland 54-50 and by Seminole 63-56. The Tigers had to battle superior height in both games, as in most other contests so far.

Three members of Snyder's team have now scored over one hundred points. Leslie Brown leads the point-makers with 137, followed by Drew Bullard with 114 and Jimmy Wilson with 101.

Tonight's game is scheduled for 8 o'clock. A preliminary contest between the two B teams is set for 6:15.

Pitcher's Curve Ball 'Too Big'

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, American League Rookie of the Year in 1963, is a pitcher with too big of a curve ball.

"That's his only weakness," said Sox pitching coach Ray Berres. "We've been working on cutting it down this winter. Gary has been working with our Sarasota team of the Florida Instructional League."

Southpaw Peters will be shooting for 20 victories this year after a rookie mark of 19-8. He had a 2.33 earned run average, struck out 189 and walked 68.

"That big curve is his only problem," Berres said. "It leaves the ball hanging there to be hit out of the park. Or it comes in sometimes and hits a batter's feet. We're cutting it down, so when he does throw a curve it will get over the plate. His slider still explodes up there. But his curve is so big a batter can anticipate it."

Peters thinks he can take some of the bigness out of his curve.

"I want it to break about one foot," he said. "It has been breaking two feet. But I won't know if I have it licked until I start throwing hard."

Peters won 11 games in a row in one stretch in compiling his 19 triumphs last year. But he slumped from Labor Day on, and failed in four attempts to nail No. 20.

"My arm just got tired, and I didn't have any snap in my delivery," he said. "We had a lot of injuries to our starting pitchers late in the year and I worked several times with only two or three days rest. So did Juan Pizarro and he came up with a sore arm. Mine didn't get sore, but there wasn't much life left in it."

Players Give Coach A New Automobile

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP)—University of Santa Clara football Coach Pat Malley was given a new $3,400 car Monday night—by his grateful players, not the alumni.

Malley has been at the Jesuit-run school for five years, and was named Northern California Coach of the Year for his team's 6-3 record in 1963.

Finley Confident Athletics Will Transfer To Louisville

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

Finley said he was looking forward to the Jan. 16 meeting of the club owners — knowing that three negative votes would defeat his plan.

"I'm not concerned about how many votes it takes to knock something out," he said.

"I'm confident after I have met with them and explained my problems, there will be no difficulty in getting the votes needed."

Finley signed a contract with the State of Kentucky Monday to bring the Athletics to Louisville for the 1964 and 1965 seasons. The signing in Frankfort raised the ire of several of the American League club owners.

Under the pact with the state, the Athletics would play at the State Fairgrounds at Louisville. The state would get five per cent of net gate proceeds and 7½ per cent of gross concession funds.

Finley said nothing was definite at the end of the two-year period about moving to other cities. The Athletics' owner and Kansas City officials have deadlocked over a new contract for lease of a stadium.

Travis JH Teams Split 2 Decisions

Travis Junior High basketball teams won one and lost one in competition with Lamesa Junior High teams here last night.

Lamesa won the 9th grade game, 75-56, while Travis captured a 35-29 decision in the 8th grade encounter.

Lamesa 9th had four players scoring in double figures, with Everheart's 18 points tops for the game.

David Cadena scored 15 points to pace Travis 9th. Bobby Clardy and Randy Feagan had 14 each, Ken Haskell had 9 and David Lester 4.

Travis 8th trailed, 6-10, at the end of the first quarter, but had surged ahead, 20-14 by halftime. Gomez Tovar paced the Travis 8th attack with 14 points, while Ken Pollard had 12, Jerry Smedley 5 and Jimmy Ramage and Jerry Luttrell had 2 each. Pat Fees scored 12 points to pace Lamesa 8th.

Travis 9th will meet Lamar 9th in Tiger gym at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Meanwhile, the 8th grade teams will be launching play in a tournament at Colorado City on the same day.

OUT OF THE ROUGH—Paul Harney of Sacramento, Calif., hits from the rough on the 16th hole during third round play of the Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament. Harney won the event with a 72-hole total of 280, pocketing $7,500. (AP Wirephoto)

Harney Still Not Sold On Tourney

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golfer Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds — and he doesn't mean golf birdies.

Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, Calif. Tuesday, richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.

The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass. shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.

Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner Monday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.

Palmer had a 70, his third and his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goalby, 69; Dow Finsterwald, 78, and Al Geiberger, 70.

Dave Marr, with a 68, and Tommy Jacobs, 70, finished with 283, while Boros rallied with a 68 and a tie at 285.

Lamar Cage Teams Win Over C-City

Lamar Junior High basketball teams swept two games from Colorado City Junior High aggregations here Monday night.

Lamar's 9th graders walloped C-City 9th, 34-21, after Lamar 8th had decisioned C-City 8th, 34-23.

Eldon Woodward, with 15 points, was top scorer for Lamar 9th as five of the Texans hit in double figures. Sandy Wellborn had 14, Billy Noel 11, Robert Jones and Rickey Hall 10 each, Rob Golden 9, Murray Bowden 8, Gordon Stokes 6 and Terry Clemmer 2. Tilley was high man for C-City 9th with 6 points.

Woodward and Stokes grabbed 12 and 11 rebounds respectively, and the Texans hit 34 of 89 field goal attempts for 58 per cent. The Texans led by 15-1 at the end of the first quarter, 34-10 at the half and 84-13 at the end of the third period.

Don Malone's 16 points was high for Lamar 8th. Tommy Bullard had 12, Mickey Allmond 10, O. L. Cooper 8, Frank Grimmett 4, Kent Noble 3 and Steve Moffett 1. Garrey had 5 points to lead C-City 8th.

C-City 8th grade jumped out to a 4-0 lead early in the game, but Lamar 8th gained a 10-6 advantage by the end of the first quarter and lead 23-11 at half-time. By the end of the third period the score was 41-30. Lamar 8th has scored 54 points in three of its last four games, all of them victories.

Johnson Proposes Programs With Most Popular Appeal

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson isn't missing many angles in proposing programs with the broadest popular appeal.

In one form or another his State of the Union message to Congress Wednesday is expected to contain proposals that have something for practically everybody.

The message is going to represent a combination of three presidents' programs: Roosevelt, Kennedy and Johnson.

Roosevelt or Kennedy would have been just about unbeatable, if either was running in the 1964 presidential race. So carrying the banners of his two popular predecessors should be a big help to Johnson.

He has endorsed the big Kennedy programs still stymied in Congress. He will propose some of his own, reflecting views of his idol, Roosevelt.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader in the Senate, says Johnson will outline specific proposals attacking poverty and probably will call for increased spending on domestic programs.

Programs for the poor are in the direct Roosevelt tradition. Kennedy offered them, too.

In his State of the Union message last year Kennedy noted that 32 million Americans "still live on the outskirts of poverty."

There were 13 million unemployed when Roosevelt took office in 1933 and he noted that one-third of the nation was ill-fed, ill-clothed, and ill-housed. About 4 million people are still unemployed.

Mansfield indicated Johnson will ask increased spending for unemployment.

And the White House announced today that the President's wife, Lady Bird, will make a trip Saturday to coal mining areas in Pennsylvania where unemployed miners are being retrained for new jobs under a government project.

Johnson is for a tax cut, which should be popular with poor, except budget-balancers.

He is for a civil rights program, which is what Negroes want, although Southern Democrats in Congress are ready to try to block one.

But white people in the South would benefit by other programs in Johnson's kit.

He is for medical care for the aged, meaning those over 65, of whom there are 17 million in the nation, all of voting age.

He is for federal aid to education, a Kennedy program which would exclude Catholic schools.

While this might anger some Catholics it would hardly be unpopular with most parents whose children are in public schools.

Still hanging fire in Congress is a Kennedy program of youth training and employment.

While unskilled jobs are dwindling, new jobs are requiring more training and higher skills. About 42 per cent of students drop out before finishing high school.

But, while such programs have a kind of universal appeal because so many different interests would benefit, offering such a broad dose of them at this session of Congress is optimistic, to put it mildly.

Just last Sunday both Mansfield and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader in the Senate, said they didn't expect the record this year to be "quantitative."

That is a public relations way of saying they didn't expect a lot of programs to go through—but they thought some of the big ones might.

They talked of spending perhaps several weeks in the Senate arguing about a tax cut, starting in February, and even more weeks contending with a Southern filibuster on civil rights.

That wouldn't leave much time for much else—like medical care and federal aid to education—in a Congress where most of the members have to stand for re-election this year and want to get home early.

Big Events Listed On '64 Calendar

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fill up the punch bowl again and let the welkin ring!

If you thought the season of celebration ended when you threw away your Christmas tree, you got the message all wrong.

The year 1964 promises to be just one big long party. There are a record 1,183 special occasions to observe, according to the social gazette in such matters—Chase Calendar of Annual Events, published by the Apple Tree Press of Flint, Mich.

Its editors have figured, as a matter of fact, that if you actually observed consecutively all the festivals and birthdays coming up in 1964, it would take you 29 years, 10 months, a week and 6 days to get the job done.

What's on the program? Well, something for every taste.

Naturally, you'll want to pitch right in with a toast for good old break-a-cold and no-smoking month. Also in January: the birthdays of Millard Fillmore, Robert E. Lee, Robert Burns, William McKinley and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

We're also in Save the Pun Week right now, and you may want to send a get-well card to Elvis Presley on the 17th, when Guitar Week begins. And who would want to overlook National Fur Care Week and National Kraut and Frankfurter Week?

February's 29 days — remember, it's leap year—are crowded with a wide range of possibilities. There is the Ice Worm Festival up in Alaska, for example. This is also National Picnic Indoors Month, National Cherry Month and Frozen Potato Month.

There is no rest for the weary in March. Then you must honor National Weights and Measures Week, Return the Borrowed Book Week, National Peanut Week, National Smile Week, National Wildlife Week, and Aluminum Window Week.

April starts right off with National Laugh Week. It also marks National Hobby Month, National Automobile Month and the opening—on the 22nd—of the New York World's Fair.

Should you be in Sweden on April 30, you can join in the larking there for Walpurgis night, the Viking celebration of spring.

Don't slump on the first of May, please, or you'll ruin Correct Posture Week. Three cheers also for National Tavern Month, National Hamburger Month and Soil Stewardship Week.

In June there is everything from Eight are Fifty-Eight Month to Old Maid's Day and National Odor Control Month.

Satan's Square Dance is to be held June 27 in Hell, Mich.

The second half of the year is just as packed with pleasure-stirring events—enough to make the mind reel with joy.

Junior Editors Quiz on OZONE

QUESTION: Is ozone poisonous, or is it of value to us?

• • •

ANSWER: Ozone is gas found everywhere in the upper air, where it is formed by sunlight acting on oxygen. Its molecules have three atoms where as oxygen molecules have only two. Ozone's extra atom can split off easily and can attack other things like dirt and soot. So, it is ozone often used to destroy germs.

Just by itself, ozone is highly poisonous. But when distributed thinly through the air, ozone is a friend to all of us, which is why our artist has shown it symbolically as a friendly spirit hovering over the boys who are feeling so good on a brisk day with a blue sky. This kindly gas absorbs the high-frequency light waves coming from the sun, which would harm us severely unless ozone was there to stop them. Winds from aloft bear it down, especially on blue-sky days, when we are conscious of a bracing effect in the air and feel full of health and high spirits.

When there are electric sparks from a motor or other electric device, ozone is being formed, and the peculiar smell you may notice when electric sparks occur comes from this gas.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a walk on one of those fine blue-sky days and fill your chest with the good air old man ozone has cleaned and purified for you. 1-7

Police Find No Evidence Of Ruby-Police Collusion

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Monday a lengthy police investigation of the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald showed "no evidence of collusion" between Jack Ruby and police officers.

Wade's statement came after he received a detailed two-volume report from Police Chief Jesse Curry on the slaying of the 24-year-old accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Curry also sent Wade a map of the city hall basement and a manila folder with other evidence.

While millions watched on television, Ruby leaped forward and shot Oswald to death as officers led him through the basement No.v 24. Curry appointed an investigative board to determine how Ruby, who operated a downtown strip tease club, slipped into the heavily guarded basement.

"I've just begun to read the report," Wade said. "It will take me some time. But I'm informed there is no evidence of collusion between Ruby and any member of the police department . . . No evidence at all."

The district attorney said one volume of the report contained evidence which prosecutors could use in Ruby's murder trial. The other, he said, contained affidavits and other documents "which relate primarily to security measures in effect at the time."

A defense lawyer said earlier that Ruby "simply walked down a ramp" into the basement while officers were engaged in a conversation at the entrance.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz testified at a bond hearing that officers guarding Oswald were temporarily blinded by the glare of TV lights.

It is believed the report does not single out any officer and hold him responsible for letting Ruby shoot Oswald.

Wade said Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will send a copy of the report to the Warren Commission, appointed by President Lyndon Johnson to investigate the Kennedy and Oswald slayings.

Wade speculated the commission would make to reports of its findings

"I anticipate there will be one report on the deaths of President Kennedy and officer J. D. Tippit and the wounding of Gov. John Connally, and a second report on the shooting of Oswald," Wade said.

"If this second report is ready before Ruby's trial, I expect the commission to withhold it until the trial is over. I'm sure it would do nothing to interfere with a fair and impartial trial."

Tippit was killed as he questioned Oswald shortly after Kennedy was assassinated.

The commission has been reported needing at least six months to complete its investigation.

First Lady To Speak To Pennsylvania Coal Miners

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies Saturday to the hard coal country of Pennsylvania to give a speech and to see how Uncle Sam is helping miners and towns struck by unemployment.

The First Lady delivers her brief address at the dedication of a new research center at Wilkes-Barre, built with the aid of federal funds.

The research center, operated on a grant from the Ford Foundation, determines a community's training needs to attract new industries to the pinched anthracite area and thus provide new jobs.

Mrs Johnson made a similar excursion into depressed areas of West Virginia last spring when her husband was vice president to call attention to the work of the Area Redevelopment Administration—ARA.

Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied on her one-day trip to the Wilkes-Barre area by ARA Administrator William L. Batt Jr. and will look over a number of projects where coal miners are being retrained for new trades.

The Wilkes College center was built with $400,000 in federal funds matched by community funds. Part of its function is to help young men and women of the mining area train for jobs in fields such as electronics and chemistry.

Wilkes-Barre is considered a dramatic example of what a community can do with government help to push forward in the retraining of unemployed miners. Courses have been set up in painting and welding, and in stenography for women.

The First Lady will bring the greetings of the President officially to the dedication ceremonies at the college. The major dedication speech will be made by Frank Graham, former governor and senator from North Carolina.

Presiding will be Eugene S. Farley, college president.

Mrs Johnson plans to spend the day in the Pennsylvania area and return to Washington in the late afternoon, a spokesman said.

Johnson May Decline Use Of Camp David Retreat

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—Up to now presidents since Franklin D. Roosevelt have had a couple of off-hour things in common. They all wanted to get away from the White House now and then, and they all had a hideaway in the Maryland mountains.

President Johnson, too, may get around in time to weekends at Camp David, a bit of rustic splendor on the crest of a Catoctin Mountain ridge 60 miles northwest of Washington.

It sort of grows on presidents. Roosevelt first put the presidential seal of approval on the place, he called it Shangri La back in World War II. Harry S. Truman used it. So did Dwight D. Eisenhower, who changed the name to Camp David in honor of his grandson, David.

John F. Kennedy did not pay much attention to it at first. Then he discovered how easy it was to reach, how complete the seclusion was, and that nobody had to rough it exactly.

Johnson has visited the place. And on his third Sunday in the presidency, Dec. 8, he was all set for an expedition to Camp David when business stopped him.

Right now, and perhaps permanently, the No. 1 place for Johnson to get away from it all —if he ever really does — is the LBJ Ranch here in Texas.

The ranch has about 400 acres and a spraddled-out house of white frame and yellow limestone, nestling beside the Pedernales River.

By Texas standards it isn't much of a spread, but the President and Mrs. Johnson love it and lavish tender care on it. They like to have guests and show them their prize Hereford cattle. They relate the legends of the house down the road where Johnson was born 55 years ago, the little schoolhouse he attended, and the stone-fenced cemetery where the President's parents and grandparents are buried.

The last four presidents had favorite retreats other than Camp David. And Herbert Hoover before them used to escape White House pressures by retiring to the headwaters of the Rapidan River in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia.

He had a log-cabin camp, later turned over to the Boy Scouts where he could sit practically on the porch and haul in the trout.

The place Roosevelt loved above all others and returned to again and again was the family estate on the banks of the Hudson at Hyde Park, N.Y. It was there that he was born and it is there that he is buried, in a rose garden bordered by a towering hemlock hedge.

Roosevelt had a summer home on Campobello Island, New Brunswick. But he seldom saw it after he became president. It was there that infantile paralysis crippled him. He tried twice a year to get to the Little White House at Warm Springs, Ga., for treatment in the baths and pool.

Then in the latter part of his administration, Roosevelt used Camp David, or Shangri La, for a place to relax and a secret place to map war strategy with Winston Churchill.

All the other recent presidents liked to go home, too. Truman went to Independence, Mo. Eisenhower went to the first home he and Mamie Eisenhower ever had, at Gettysburg, Pa.

This was built during Eisenhower's presidency. Until it was finished he spent many a weekend at Camp David, 25 miles away.

Kennedy's retreats, aside from Camp David, were also homes — the big, white, frame summer place at Hyannis Port on Cape Cod; his father's winter mansion at Palm Beach, Fla.; the residence of Mrs. Kennedy's parents at Newport, R.I.; a leased estate in the hunt country at Middleburg, Va.

Then at the end Kennedy scarcely got to know Wexford, the first home he and Mrs. Kennedy ever had built. It is a few miles from Middleburg. Mrs. Kennedy named it for the town of her husband's Irish ancestors.

Nearly everywhere he went Kennedy was able to combine being at home with enjoyment of favorite sports — golf, sailing and swimming.

Truman could get in his types of relaxation anywhere. He liked walking and poker, and he could stroll or deal while he was at the White House.

But hikes attracted crowds. And at Independence Truman was scarcely ever bothered by the home folk. Early in the morning he used to wander out of the big old gabled frame house near the high school he and Bess Truman had attended. He set — and still does — a brisk pace for a mile or so, with one of his collection of canes in hand. He might drop into the drugstore or get a hair cut from one of his old companions of Battery D of the 9th Field Artillery he commanded in World War I.

But for recreation and getting away from people, Truman preferred the U.S. Naval Base at Key West, Fla. He delighted in some of the most colorful sport shirts ever seen on mankind. He dipped in the ocean on the enlisted men's beach, head held high because he had to wear his glasses.

And he got in his walks and poker with friends and staff members, with a $100 limit on losses.

Eisenhower's great passion was golf, with some fishing and hunting mixed in. His letup spots always were on the edge of a golf course or near one.

Augusta, Ga., was only a couple of hours by air from Washington, and on the basis of frequency of visits, it was Eisenhower's favored place.

Eisenhower also got in a few golfing trips to Palm Springs, Calif. In the desert he had and still has a home just off one of the fairways of the El Dorado Country Club.

Kennedy visited Palm Springs several times. And now President Johnson is going there next month and taking the president of Mexico with him.

The new President follows the Truman pattern, with somewhat less devotion to it, in enjoying a walk. Like Eisenhower, he enjoys hunting but prefers game to birds. And, like Kennedy, he enjoys his own boat.

Here in the rolling, rocky, lake-dotted hill country, he can hike and hunt and drive a speedboat as much as he wishes.

So he is sure to be coming back home now and then, with considerably more fanfare than in the past.

Before he became President, Johnson and his staff kept his movements and schedules under wraps. At times the only way it became known he was at the ranch was by the presence of his blue and white personal flag on the pole beneath the Stars and Stripes and the Lone Star banner of Texas.

When Johnson travels now, hundreds of people are involved in some degree — members of the staff, communications men, travel and security experts, a throng of reporters and photographers. It's pretty evident ahead of time that somebody is going somewhere, and it is no trouble to figure out who.

Once he's at the ranch, the President can come and go on almost instant notice to the Secret Service and the people around him. Cars and jet-powered helicopters stand by to whisk him to a neighbor's ranch, a lake, a hunting ground, or into Austin, the state capital.

In Washington it will be an even simpler operation to chopper up to Camp David. And if Johnson wants real privacy, that's the place for it.

The camp is run by the Navy, behind a barricade of concentric fences topped by barbed wire and patrolled by Marines in jeeps.

Behind the fence, scattered among the oak trees, are cabins for guests and the main lodge of board and batten stained a weathered gray-green.

There's a barbecue on the terrace, a swimming pool, tennis courts, and room for horseback riding — which a Texan might like.

Pope Returns To Desk After Trip

By BENNET M. BOLTON
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

Galileo was condemned by the Roman Catholic hierarchy for his theories on the solar system. Examined by the Inquisition under threat of torture, he recanted and spent the remainder of his life in partial custody.

Past encyclicals have touched on scientific research only in passing. The last, Pope John XXIII's "Pacem in Terris" (peace on earth) last April, cited the potential benefits of science but it dwelt also on disarmament, world peace and a number of other matters.

In the wake of Pope Paul's resounding welcome home by more than a million cheering Romans, his trip continued to generate speculation of more papal travel abroad.

Indian sources said previously the pontiff has accepted an invitation to go to Bombay next fall for an international Eucharistic congress. There also is a long-standing invitation, extended earlier to Pius XII and John XXIII, to visit the shrine of Mary at Lourdes, France.

There also is talk of a trip to Africa, which Pope Paul visited in 1962 while a cardinal.

Educators Discuss Laws

DALLAS (AP)—An estimated 350 educators from seven states will gather here Wednesday to hear how three major government acts affect schools.

Seminars will outline provisions of the following acts:

Higher education facilities act—Authorizes nearly $12 billion over three years to help build college and university classrooms, laboratories, and libraries.

Vocational education act—Authorizes raising annual federal expenditure of some $57 million for vocational education aid by an additional $731 million over the next four years.

Mental retardation facilities act—Authorizes funds for research and community health centers and $51.5 million in grants during the next three years for research and training of teachers of handicapped children.

Educators will represent Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

President Johnson named U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel as his personal representative to the seminars.

Oil Output Shows Drop

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — U. S. oil production dropped last week despite a good gain in Louisiana's output, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

Total production average 6,499,515 barrels daily, a drop of 9,825 barrels a day from the previous week.

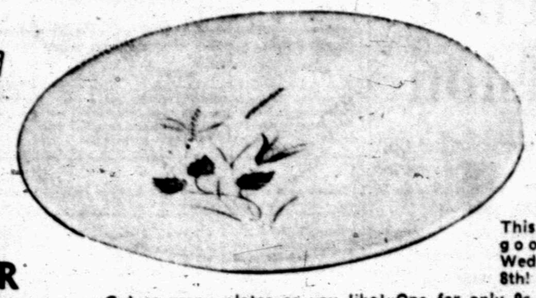

Louisiana production under the January allowable will average about 1,491,825 barrels a day, compared with 1,470,270 daily for most of December, the trade magazine said.

Oklahoma production last week slumped 34,750 barrels a day average, to an average of 512,600 daily. It forecast a good increase for next week.

Figures for other states, with previous week's output in parentheses, were: New Mexico 299,500 (296,000); Texas 2,618,450 (2,614,200).

Most Business Predictions Colored With Rosy Glow

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising stock prices and fatter corporate profits have cast a rosy glow over most of the predictions business executives are busy issuing these days.

Caution, often a dominant note in such forecasts in the past, is less in evidence this year. Rather, confidence that still loftier heights will be climbed in 1964 is the general keynote.

On such confidence at business and consumer levels economic growth is built—on overconfidence it has often stubbed its toes.

In financial circles there is general expectation that President Johnson in his State of the Union message Wednesday will stress the prospects for a continued business upswing which his economic advisers have been expressing.

Still, one chief reason today's business picture is so bright is that the caution of the last year or so has kept most businessmen from repeating the mistakes that led past business upswings into excesses and caused recessions. There has been no big buildup in inventories, for example, and no rush to overexpand industrial capacity.

The absence of such excesses is cited as one of the strongest factors in the industrial and trade position at present and of the chance that today's business upswing may achieve a record for longevity.

And in the stock market, also, signs of excesses still aren't too convincing. The public may be coming back into the market, but the professionals seem in control. And the public hasn't indulged as yet in the excess speculation that sent the 1961 market for untried and questionable stocks to a peak that led to a bust.

For all of the general optimism today, there is the usual hard core of observers whose motto is: "When everyone seems to be predicting a big year ahead, watch out!"

They are slow to believe that a new era is at hand—an era in which the business cycle is a thing of the past. The present upswing is nearly three years old now, a near record for peacetime. The pessimists like to point out that optimism and the forsaking of caution has often reached a peak just when the economic upturn also was topping out.

But today's statistics speak loudly of the health of the economy now. They also foretell a momentum that seems sure to keep the prosperity going for some months to come.

If this leads to a forsaking of caution by leading industrialists, then the ranks of the worriers will increase.

Already these pessimists can point to some lagging sectors of the economy. Manufacturing companies aren't hiring or rehiring workers at a rate the growth advocates wish. New orders of durable goods have slowed after an earlier spurt. Construction outlays as a whole are above a year ago, but lagging are new contracts for industrial and commercial contracts. The announced intentions of business to expand its plant or buy new equipment show a lower increase over last year than the general glow of the economic statistics would seem to inspire.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

IXTAPAN, Mexico — Every civilization has produced sages who have made statements (on purpose or accidentally) which have been handed down through the ages with great enthusiasm.

Even today, we read books on the wisdom of Confucious (who was the inventor of confusion) and writers quote phrases by Ralph Waldo Emerson, Einstein, Freud and Buffalo Bill.

One of Buffalo Bill's most memorable and wisest statements came after an army corporal told him the platoon was surrounded by several thousand Indians and Buffalo reportedly answered, "I should of stood in bed a hundred miles from here today."

Of course, as the Indian problem was gradually resolved people cut the saying to "I should of stood in bed today" because a bed here was as safe as one a hundred miles away, unless there was a tax collector in the neighborhood.

Mexico had its men of letters and they gave the world mountains of wisdom in the form of philosophical sayings and brief stores with a moral. Nobody, however, has bothered to make a book of this data so we will review some of the most important things in whatever space is available before running into the next ad.

Almost everyone over 135 years old is familiar with the old Olmec addage which goes: "A man who does not speak is an honest man, provided he does not think, either."

And selecting various items from random that came out of the highest civilizations here: "A rationalized social order is, in a general sense, an ideal social order with everything in its place unless chaos prevails and I have omitted something."

• • •

"In speaking to an emperor, one must watch for three things "(I forget what the three things were but as I recall they seemed pretty impressive.)

• • •

Ancient Axtec story: "One day Molocintli the merchant was walking to market to buy a pig for his uncle who was getting married the next day. When he got to the market, however, he found all the pigs had been sold and there was nothing but goats left. So he bought a large bunch of dandelions with which he brewed himself a pot of tea. After drinking the tea he lay down beside the road and went to sleep. During his siesta he dreamed that he was walking to the market again and met himself coming back. This so confused him that he decided to keep on sleeping, which he did for three days and by that time the wedding was over." Moral: When you don't know whether you are coming or going, why bother?

• • •

Tzintzuncoatl, the great moralist, once said, "A man who is capable of hatred is unworthy of being classified as moral and if there is anything I hate it is a man who is not moral.'

• • •

"Humility and simplicity of character are the true qualities of manhood and he who lives by these qualities will surely achieve greatness, although he undoubtedly will be trampled by the rest of society."

• • •

Probably the most famous bit of philosophy came from Cryil Ocuilteco, the God of Pinheads, who told a group of dieties on a fishing trip one day, "Too much wisdom can drive a man crazy."

And shortly after that he was reduced to a mortal for failing to pass the third grade.

Sentence Modified

CHICAGO (AP)— Joseph De Moura, formerly of San Benito, Tex., was placed on 18 months probation Monday after a federal judge withdrew his 10-year prison sentence.

De Moura, of Chicago, had received the 10-year prison sentence for sending forged money orders through the mails. He maintained he received them in a divorce settlement from his former wife. He did not know they were stolen, he said.

Judge James B. Parsons of U.S. District Court withheld final disposition of the case Oct. 2 when he passed sentence on De Moura. He said he wanted reports on a 90-day test to determine the possibility of rehabilitation for De Moura.

The test report recommended probation.

De Moura was charged with cashing $300 in stolen money orders taken across state lines. Prosecutors said that while De Moura was married to an American Express Co. agent in San Benito, Tex., for six weeks he had access to blank money orders.

De Moura said he had invested $2,000 in his wife's business and that she gave him $2,000 in money orders as part of the divorce settlement.

The former wife, Mrs. Mary Garcia of San Benito, testified she reported the money orders missing Jan. 11, 1963, shortly after De Moura was served with divorce papers.

Wins Huge Lottery

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Peter Pangas, who came to Australia 52 years ago as a poor Greek migrant, won the $224,000 first prize in a government lottery today.

Pangas, 65, said that two years ago he had saved enough money to buy a cafe in Sydney, then won $13,440 in another government lottery.

"Now the first thing I want to do is to sell the business," he said.

Pope Seeks Church Unity For Present, Not Future

An AP News Analysis
By Eugene Levin
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI during his pilgrimage to the Holy Land put a new stress on the search for Christian unity, suggesting that his Roman Catholic Church and other churches draw closer in a spirit of understanding while working to achieve a united church.

The 66-year-old pontiff has not put aside his vision of a single Christian church with the bishop of Rome at its head. But two momentous acts of his pilgrimage indicate a willingness to accept a sort of coexistence for the present.

In a moving message from Bethlehem, the Pope committed his church anew to "every possibility by which mutual understanding, respect and charity may be fostered so as to smooth the way to a future — and, please God, not too distant — meeting with our Christian brothers still separated from us."

Later the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras of Constantinople (Istanbul) told their 800 million followers they must work and pray for a united church.

Clearly Pope Paul was seeking to take the emphasis away from talk of eventual Christian unity, which many religious scholars believe may be centuries away, to talk of closer cooperation now.

Three basic elements emerged from his speeches in Palestine:

That the "will of Christ is pressing" on all Christians to attain "the supreme blessing and honor of a united church."

That the Roman Catholic Church continues to consider itself the one church "already within the safety of the fold of Christ," and that unity must signify a return of other Christians for whom "the door of the gold is open."

That for the present Roman Catholics and other Christians must have as their objective a desire "that every step toward reunion and interchange of views should be inspired by love of Christ and the church."

Schools No Longer Labeled By Race

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Department of Education's new educational directory no longer designates schools according to race.

Last year, protests were received by the department because Negro schools were followed by the letter "N" in parentheses in the directory.

Millard Cope Funeral Held

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Funeral services were held here Monday for Millard Lewis Cope, 58, well known newspaper publisher and a director of the Associated Press.

Among the estimated 1,000 persons who filled the First Presbyterian Church for the services were scores of out-of-town newspaper editors and publishers and press association officials.

Praising Cope as "a Christian gentleman," Dr. O. B. Wood, pastor emeritus of the church, said "the esteem in which he was held by his associates in the newspaper profession and other persons in high places throughout the nation give his friends in San Angelo a new concept of the greatness of the man."

Burial followed at Fairmount Cemetery.

Cope died Saturday of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Associated with the Harte-Hanks newspaper group for 35 years, Cope had served as publisher of the Sweetwater Reporter, the Denison Herald and the Marshall News-Messenger and was publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times at his death.

Survivors include his widow; a son, Millard Lewis Cope Jr., of the San Antonio Express and News; a daughter, Mrs. Ray B. Bailey of Austin; and his father, J. A. Cope of San Angelo.

Construction To Proceed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Agreement on a compromise alignment has finally opened the door for construction of long-stalled Interstate 35 between Purcell and Ardmore in southern Oklahoma.

Legislators and state highway commissioners reached the agreement after informal peace talks Monday night. The conference—marked by a last-minute flurry of compromises—apparently ends the bitter dispute which has raged for years.

The superhighway will be built west of five towns—Pauls Valley, Wynnewood, Wayne, Paoli and Davis.

But the compromise alignment will swing closer to Pauls Valley and Davis, with a promise of conncting roads to these two towns and Wynnewood.

A restrictive amendment was inserted into the 1963 highway appropriation bill which would have prohibited use of state funds on the disputed segment of road unless it passed within one mile of the five towns.

British Policemen Averted A War

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (EP) — British troops in the thankless role of policemen seem to have averted civil war in Cyprus by a hair-raising margin.

But the peacemakers still are keeping their fingers crossed.

As long as Cyprus bristles with guns and old hatreds, it will constitute a danger to stability in the eastern Mediterrean, to the Atlantic Alliance and possibly even to world peace.

The recent fighting in Cyprus fully exposed to the world the degree of hostility between the island's two ethnic groups, the Greeks and the Turks.

Cyprus was transformed into a republic within the British Commonwealth three years ago after 80 years of rule by Britain. Now many of the hopes which accompanied that change have been destroyed.

Problems, once thought solved, will have to be looked at again, diplomats say. A search must begin for ways to convince Greek and Turkish Cypriots that they must cooperate in promoting stability.

That will be the task of the London conference later this month. It will be attended by representatives of the two Cypriot groups, and officials of the British, Greek and Turkish governments.

Greece, Turkey and Britain are members of the North Atlantic Alliance (NATO). A Greek-Turkish clash in the eastern Mediterranean could permanently damage the alliance and weaken NATO's eastern flank.

In such circumstances the Soviet Union, which seems in a mood to negotiate with the Western Powers might be tempted to intervene. Moscow has already declared support for the Greek Cypriot position.

The present crisis began after the island's Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios, proposed constitutional changes he said were needed to make the government more efficient.

The Cyprus constitution contains an elaborate system of checks and balances to protect the rights of the 100,000 members of the Turkish-speaking minority.

Turkish Cypriots regarded the proposed changes as the opening move by the 442,000 Greek Cypriots to unite the island with Greece.

Turkish Cypriots bitterly oppose union with Greece.

US Demands Easing Of Restrictions

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — American negotiators today demanded an easing of Soviet restrictions on the flow of tourists and information across the Iron Curtain.

The diplomatically worded demands were submitted by U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler at the opening of negotiations for a two-year extension of the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program.

Russian counter - demands were stated by Sergei K. Romanovsky, head of the state committee for cultural relations with foreign countries.

Romanovsky opposed a provision in the American draft of the 1964-65 agreement placing all contacts between Soviet organizations and private firms and individuals in the United States under State Department control.

An American spokesman told newsmen the provision was contained in the old agreement. He added that the State Department does not regard so-called Soviet "social organizations" as private groups because they are under strict government control.

Kohler complained that the existing agreement "is limited in scope and movements and has definite shortcomings."

"We believe fundamentally that a broad flow of information and a two-way exchange of persons contribute to mutual understanding," he continued.

Last year 15,000 American tourists came to the Soviet Union, while only 100 Russians went to the United States.

Kohler prodded the Russians to open up restricted areas of the country to tourism.

Kidnapers Trial Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Trial date for three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. has been tentatively set for Feb. 3 before U.S. Dist. Judge William G. East.

Charged in the six - count grand jury indictment are Joseph Clyde Amsler and Barry Worthington Keenan, both 23, and John William Irwin, 42.

Judge East, brought here from Portland, Ore., because of the heavy court docket in Los Angeles, handled the arraignment.

The judge granted a request for a psychiatric examination for Amsler after his attorney said the defendant was mentally incompetent when young Sinatra was abducted Dec. 8 from a Stateline, Calif., motel.

Sinatra Jr., 19, was released in Los Angeles three days after the kidnaping, and after his father had paid $240,000 ransom. The three men were arrested two days later.
