DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

'Spotlight Turned On You' DKG Told

Eighty members of Delta Kappa Gamma, society for teachers, climaxed their regional meeting in Colorado City Saturday with a luncheon in the Civic House.

Speaker for the luncheon program was Miss Phyllis Ellis, state executive secretary for the Delta Kappa Gamma.

Introduced by Miss Eula Lee Carter, state committee chairman of organization and expansion, Miss Ellis delivered an address "New Times Demand New Measures and New Leaders."

Citing the current DKG study "Spotlight on Great Women," Miss Ellis told teachers "You, as teachers are always in the spotlight, yourselves. Attention of your entire community is riveted on you because you teach your community's children."

"You, yourself, are a most important citizen. You are important to hundreds as a symbol. In your daily life you, yourself, set an example—in your dress, your speech, your manner, your spirit, your way of living. You are important to your country because you are teaching its future leaders."

"A mother rears a child, or several children. You are helping to bring up hundreds of children. You must be ready, always, to meet the challenge, be ready for the leadership which is yours," Miss Ellis said.

Mrs. Lynn Halbert, president of the host chapter, presided at the luncheon hour. Chapter presidents were introduced. Mrs. Ioma A. Jones of Kerrville, state community service chairman, and Miss Lida Rhodes of Snyder, state officer, were also introduced before the program.

Guests for the all-day organizational meet, with initiation ceremonies held in Colorado City High School Saturday morning, were here from Sweetwater, Snyder, Lorraine, San Angelo, Abilene, and Old Glory. Breakfast for chapter presidents started the day at 7:30 in the morning.

CRAFT EXPLODES LATER

Pilot Walks Safe From Plane Crash

Jim Paterson crashed in his crop spraying plane at 10:15 a. m. Saturday in a field 3 miles east of Colorado City.

The 31-year-old blonde haired pilot walked away from the wreckage without a scratch.

And, two hours later, he was eating heartily of soup, hamburger steak and ice tea in Baker Hotel's Colorado Room.

The single engine Stearman, though, was still causing trouble.

While Paterson was ordering from the hotel's noon menu, a couple of his Wright Flying Service co-workers raced away from possible death at the crash scene.

The plane exploded as Gene Hewitt and John Haarmeyer were removing crop spraying nozzles.

Haarmeyer was singed about the arm by the bursting heat.

Paterson was applying soluble defoliation formula to cotton in fields adjacent to Interstate 20 (to Abilene) and east across the highway from the Noble Walker residence. "I had just dressed" one field," the pilot said; "and had come back to this field to make a pass.

"I made my first run and pulled out of the field . . . but couldn't get the power."

Paterson straightened the plane and applied all the power possible.

"But I kept losing manifold pressure," he continued, "and the plane hit a terrace."

"It took the gear . . . the engine . . . and over I went."

Persons nearby raced to the fallen plane—its engine ripped and thrown yards away.

As Paterson crawled out, his only injuries were sore muscles—the result of the impact.

Paterson, whose home is in Taft, was just ordering his noon meal when notified that wreckage had exploded.

The pair who were removing spraying equipment when the explosion came—Hewitt and Haarmeyer—could not explain the blow-up.

"There was a big boom . . . the gas tank blew up or something," reported Hewitt.

"It didn't burn much."

"It got really hot," added Haarmeyer, "and I fell to the ground and crawled away."

More serious fire was eliminated probably because most of the plane's fuel had leaked out to soak into the ground.

IN CONVENTION THURSDAY

City Firemen Hosts to 205

Firemen from the Mid-West Texas association thronged to Colorado City Thursday for their 48th annual convention. Registering during the day were 205 volunteer firemen here for all or part of the day.

Races featuring team competition in pumper and hook-up competition against time were staged at 4:30 in the afternoon. Colorado City, host teams, did not compete but did run demonstration races.

Snyder made fastest time in the pumper race with 19.5 seconds. Haskell's team placed second with 21.2. Rotan was third with 21.8.

Haskell did the six-man hook-up in 10.4 seconds to win that event. Rotan, edged into second place, took 10.6 with the team from Merkel clocked at 12 seconds flat.

Two-man hook-up race wound up with Throckmorton first, time 10.8. Rotan was second with 12 even, and Merkel took third place with 13.4 seconds.

Throckmorton was chosen as host town for the 49th annual convention to be held in October, 1963. Stamford will host the spring meet in April.

Cotton Slow, Late Gin Totals Show

Cotton is coming in slow, gin figures for the week show.

Reports from gins throughout the county today show a total of 3,953 bales ginned in Mitchell County so far this season.

Cotton is coming in late. The crop is maturing later this year in most areas, harvest totals indicate.

Cotton predictions set final figures lower than last season's, too. With much of the Northern part of the county crop halted out, some cotton growers and ginners are predicting that the '62 crop in this county may fall about 10,000 bales under the '61 total ginned by Mitchell County's nine gins.

Approximately 13,000 bales were harvested in the county last year. James Lucas, Texas Employment Commissioner, worker here is guessing not more than 35,000 bales for this year.

Gin totals as of Thursday morning read: Lorraine Co-op gin no. 1, 1150; Lopaine Co-op No. 2, 570; Lorraine Guitier Gin 465; Buford Co-op gin, 276; Westbrook gin, 81 bales.

Colorado City Producers gin, 468; Colorado City Farmers gin, 487; Colorado City Guitier gin, 104; Colorado City Swift gin, 61. Total 3,953.

TRIUMPH OVER ANSON

Wolves Break Drought, 18-0

Colorado City High Wolves plugged away in persistent effort Friday night to break their victory drought and blank try for extra points after his District 6-AA Anson, 18 to 0.

It was the first triumph in five contests this 1962 season for Coach Sam Christy's club. And it came as the Wolves concluded their non-district play in preparation for their tough District 3-AAA competition.

Stymied in every other effort this fall for success, the Wolves moved into the front in the first quarter and kept plugging away until the final whistle.

They added 6 more points in the third, then put another touchdown on the scoreboard in the final quarter.

Along the victory trail, the Wolves completely overshadowed the Tigers, who took their third defeat against one win and a tie.

Indicative of this decisiveness was not only in the 18 to 0 score, but in the statistics. The Wolves offensive traveled for 285 yards, all total, to 187 for Anson.

The Wolves, who bolstered their defenses when it was necessary, limited Anson to only 6 first downs and allowed only 2 completions in 17 Anson passing attempts.

This defense limited the losers to 149 yards on the ground and 32 in the air. C-City registered 12 first downs, with 211 yards rushing and 74 passing, completing 3 of 10 tries.

Book

When all has been said and tried about philosophies of life, how to be happy, or how to be a success, mankind unfulfilled elsewhere will still turn back to this book. Here indeed are the words of life. Here is a guide to your footsteps and a lamp for your path. No man needs to stumble through life as if blind; God has provided a light and it shines through this book. Go where the Book is treasured and understood, to the Church, and hear The Word for your life.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church should be in everyone!

THE AMBITION OF EVERY LITTLE GIRL is to be a Girl Scout. And, when they finally reach the eligible age, there is no prouder breed on earth.

In their snappy little uniforms, with berets perched fetchingly on top of curly heads, they appear in parades, sell cookies and make parents sigh in disbelief that this trim youngster can be their offspring.

And our 7-year-old is no different. Except that she's the one who always has her cap on the side of her head, her petticoat showing, or is chewing bubblegum, complete with bubbles, in every parade.

School pictures were brought home the other day. After looking them over and seeing the 7-year-old's demure half-grin, our brownie's father declared, "You weren't wearing your Brownie smile!"

"Yes, I was," she declared, "I just didn't have the teeth of it on."

PROGRAM BY MRS. W. B. CROCKETT, JR

"Mitchell County Disaster" Is Topic For Club Meeting

"Disaster in Mitchell County" was the topic of study for the Thursday meeting of the 1949 Study Club in the Terrace Room of the Baker Hotel. Mrs. Wayne Griffin was hostess.

Mrs. W. B. Crockett, Jr. presented the program. She told of the disaster of Mitchell County in 1923, caused by a monster tornado that took 21 lives, injured 150, left many families homeless, and required $75,000 relief fund.

Mrs. Crockett began her program by discussing the weather just previous to the melee caused by the tornado. "The spring of 1923 was a typical West Texas spring, she said, 'pretty days with storm clouds occasionally appearing at night. The night before that fateful spring Monday morning in May had been unusually turbulent and as many West Texas families had done frequently some had spent part of the night in a storm cellar."

"Early that same May morning, after a turbulent night, a tornado formed five miles southwest of Big Spring, a neighboring town, 38 miles west of Colorado."

Mrs. Crockett continued by saying that a tornado occurs when there are unusually violent thunderstorms. She said they were caused by winds blowing in opposite directions around a strong up-draft, which starts a violent whirl.

The violence of this whirl throws the air away from the center leaving a core of low pressure. The core acts as a vacuum. Around the edges of the whirl the wind may exceed 300 miles per hour and a whole tornado moves from 2 to 40 miles per hour.

"The town of Big Spring lost no lives in the tornado," Mrs. Crockett said. "But it plowed back into the ground 14 miles southwest of Westbrook, completely demolishing everything in its path and claiming many victims.

"It then traveled toward the Seven Wells Community, which was the hardest hit and the largest death toll was taken. It moved on to Lorraine, where it again touched down and claimed more victims."

"From this point, the tornado slipped about, going up into clouds and back down to earth, until it reached Oklahoma where it dissipated. No where was it so devastating as it was in Mitchell County."

Mrs. Crockett then told of the Colorado residents who flocked to the stricken areas to give aid to the injured. She told how the hospital soon filled, and the local churches were made into temporary hospitals.

"One would have to look far and wide to find any better people than those that were living here in 1923. So many different ways they helped their fellowman," Mrs. Crockett continued. "R. P. Price, local implement dealer, told all farmers hit by the devastating storm, to come into his store for a planter to finish their crop planting; two truck loads of cotton seed were donated and distributed by Taylor County farmers; five hundred volunteer workmen devoted their time for rebuilding."

Mrs. Crockett closed her program by telling, in detail, the losses Mitchell County suffered from the storm. "After a survey of the storm area," Mrs. Crockett said, "it was revealed that a total of 46 homes were destroyed and 75 planters, which were so vital at this time of year were demolished. Loss of farm wagons alone ran into thousands of dollars. Cattlemen, from one end of the county to the other, suffered heavy loss. Work stock and milk cows were either killed or injured. Some were so badly injured, they had to be killed. Chickens and turkeys were blown away, some of those left at the farm were stripped of all their feathers. All this destruction was in addition to the loss of lives and the pain of the injured."

Mrs. Art Dibble, club president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Theron Henderson, finance chairman, presented the budget for the year. The members approved the budget as written.

Members voted to give a donation to the Colorado City Historical Museum in honor of Harry Ratliff, who had guided the club members on a tour of the museum at a previous meeting. They also voted to donate to the Big Spring Mental Hospital and to the Foreign Exchange Student Fund.

In other business, the members voted to sponsor a Girl Scout troop as part of its youth program.

Members present were: Mmes. Robert Barman, Bill Carter, Dibble, Dick Gregory, Henderson, Bill Holbert, Austin McCloud, Ben Sparks, H. Jene Steakley, Gwan Strange, Dwight Tomb, Crockett, and the hostess, Mrs. Griffin.

Refreshments of a sandwich plate were served from a table which was centered with a bouquet of Queen's Wreath. Appointments were silver.

Next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 25, in the home of Mrs. W. B. Crockett, Jr. Mrs. Austin McCloud will be in charge of the program, entitled "Family History Tour."

DIVERTED ACREAGE

ASC News Letter Talks '63 Wheat

Latest news letter to Mitchell County farmers from the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service highlights '62 wheat and grain-diverted acres, '63 wheat program, and participation in two-current campaigns — fire prevention and the buying of US savings bonds.
 Of the diverted acres in this year's wheat and feed grain program, the ASC committee, headed by Curtis Latimer, and Wayne Worley, office manager here advise "Restrictions on grazing designated diverted acreage under the 1962 Feed Grain or Wheat Stabilization Programs have been removed effective November 1, 1962, except that this action shall not be applicable to (1) diverted acreage devoted to wildlife food plots or (2) diverted acreage on which grain or oil-seed crops have matured in 1962."
 Concerning the '63 wheat program the letter to farmers says: "The Congress has passed legislation authorizing payments for voluntary wheat reduction in 1963. Full details are not known at this time. Basically the program will offer to cooperators (1) payments for diversion, (2) price support at $1.82 per bushel (national average) and (3) supplemental payments of 18 cents per bushel times the farms 59-60 average production times the 1963 planted acres. Details are expected soon."

Library Shelf List

New Titles, New Books Ready for Readers Here

The following is a list of new books just received by Federation Library. They are available, by request, from Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian.

"WHEN IT'S YOUR TURN TO SPEAK."

Orvin Larson (Harper.) A veteran speaker and teacher of speech offers advice that goes to the heart of the speaker's needs: determining what to say, organizing the material, and projecting to the audience. A useful guide to prepare the reader for any speaking occasion.

"BUT THE PATIENT DIED."

Fiona Sinclair (Doubleday.) A young surgeon just beginning his career at an English hospital performs an emergency operation on the senior hospital administrator successfully, but the patient dies, suddenly and mysteriously, and an atmosphere of terror pervades the hospital and its staff.

"SHOULD AULD ACQUAINTANCE."

Doris Miles Disney (Doubleday.) Grace Munson was a widow, Paul Kendros a widower — but what might have developed into an interesting relationship, couldn't Paul was interested, and dangerously, not in Grace, but in what she knew.

"NO WIDER THAN THE HEART."

N. B. Lamont (Doubleday) Dr. Christopher Barton a refugee from personal unhappiness (his wife's death) and professional guilt (a patient lost through negligence), comes to an island off the Carolina coast, where the islanders regard him as an unwelcome intruder. He becomes involved with a young widow who also has an unhappy past, but it takes a smallpox epidemic to break down the barriers and win his acceptance in the life of the island.

"THE TALL WOMAN."

Wilma Dykeman (Holt.) A novel of life in the Great Smokies a century ago. The tall woman is Lydia McQueen, a woman of strength, courage and determination and this is her story, from her marriage in 1864 to her death more than 30 years later. It is the story of the testing and triumph of a woman whose family was brutally divided by the Civil War, whose farm was attacked by out-riders while her husband lay rotting in Andersonville, whose favorite child had had a mental damage at birth. A moving novel of love and birth, war and death, and the rigorous life of an appealing heroine.

"THE WIND OFF THE SEA."

David Beaty (Morrow.) An author noted for his fine novels of aviation tells the story of an RAF hero, commander of an important rocket base, who suddenly disappears from his post. Gavin Gallagher's brilliant wartime record was to him merely a reminder of the others who had died in helping him to carry out his dangerous missions, and the feelings of guilt and self-doubt that have always hounded him finally drive him to desert his post when he faces the realization that now millions of lives are in his hands.

"A FAMILY'S AFFAIRS."

Ellen Douglas (Houston.) The winner of the Houghton Mifflin-Esquire Literary Fellowship Award, 1961, this is a long family saga, telling the story of Kate Henderson, of Homochitto, Mississippi — her long life, her marriage and her widowhood and the lives and marriages of her four children. It is the story of a family seen through the slowly maturing eyes of a grandchild, and it is also the story of a town, seen through nearly a century of family life there.

"THE TURNING POINT."

Frank Van Der Linden (Luce.) The politics of the election of 1800 — the election in which Jefferson defeated not his opponent, John Adams, but his running mate, Aaron Burr. Much of the material comes from previously unpublished letters and documents of the time, particularly those of Samuel Harrison Smith, editor of the first Washington newspaper, and his wife. Illustrated.

"FOOTSTEPS IN THE NIGHT."

Dolores Hithcens (Doubleday.) Murder of a teen-age girl in a new Cali-

DES BARRY—

Story of that struggle between Barry and the Teamsters Union won him national recognition in newspapers and in a popular direct magazine. Barry's new book, "Too Hot to Handle," published by Doubleday last Friday is a longer history of his battle and his victory, he noted in an aside.

"The button I wear on my coat saving S. O. B. stands for Small Outraged Businessman," he said.

"If I go to Washington as your Congressman at Large — and I expect to go — you'll be sending a mean, cantankerous, hard-head, angry at the mess in Washington, to do his best to get our constitutional rights back, to curb the powers of expanded government, to get back the number one respect of the world," Barry went on.

"I got to be so doggone mad," he said "hanging on every door in Washington, that one reporter called me up to ask 'Are you that mad Irishman from Texas, trying to get something without any political pull?'"

Barry engaged in a series of battles with the Teamsters testified before the McClellan committee, was commended by Senator McClellan, and is credited by his supporters with the so-called "Bill of Rights" which became part of the Landrum-Griffin bill that defeated the Kennedy Urban bill in the National Legislature.

His speech here mentioned "Hoffa, Robert Kennedy, the attorneys for AFL and CIO, the nine appointed men, the free enterprise system, secondary boycotts, small businesses, and the need for restraining the Federal Government," at several points.

Barry's final summary stressed three points. The first point went back to "American freedom — patriotism — individual rights."

Point two called for a return to "facing the hard economic fact that you can't get anything free."

Third, called by the speaker "most important," was an admonition to "get into politics in the party of your choice. Start with your neighborhood, your precinct on a local level. From there go to state and national levels, from the grass roots up, to make certain that qualifications of people running your government are adequate."

The admitted "mad Irishman" wound up sounding not so "mad" as optimistic.

"The dismal failure of our present position makes me want to stay in Washington until we see our individual rights returned," he said.

"There are areas in which the Federal Government has no rights at all under the constitution. As your Congressman I intend to work at getting our individual rights returned."

FIREMEN—

fireman's convention was a business session with D. W. Cooper of Throckmorton, association president, in charge. Pledge of allegiance was led by Chief Wavmon Adcock of Merkel, Hartsell Ash of Throckmorton was song leader, and the Rev. Hillis Herren, association chaplain of Snyder, said the invocation. Secretary of the association is James C. Asbury of Baird.

Welcome address was by Mayor H. I. Berman with Rotan Fire Chief A. B. Parker giving the response.

"Better Law Enforcement in the Field of Fire Fighting," was Judge Eldon B. Mahon's subject for the chief address of the early afternoon session. Judge Mahon's speech was a discussion of arson, arson laws, arson investigations. He called the firemen "the key persons in arson investigations."

A dinner party in Civic House at 6:30, and an evening dance were arranged as social events for Colorado City firemen, their wives, Volunteer Fire Auxiliaries, and their guests from 16 towns in the area.

Wives of firemen and members of Volunteer Fire Auxiliaries were entertained with a luncheon at noon in Hotel Baker Terrace room. Mrs. Don Delaney heads the local auxiliary and Mrs. Don Henderson is third vice-president of the state organization.

Towns represented at the convention were Hamlin, Coahoma, Winters, Anson, Roscoe, Albany, Snyder, Stamford, Merkel, Haskell, Throckmorton, Baird, Cisco, Roby, and Rotan.

CONVERSATION CORNER

IN MICHIGAN there's a jaunty little housewife engaged in battle with the great big wonderful telephone company named Michigan Bell. Her name is Gloria J. Mead and she just may wind up in jail, paying a $5,000 fine, or both.

This has all come about because Gloria, mother of four and wife of one Marvin Mead, refuses to pay 50c a month newly imposed as part of a so-called nuisance tax. The new state tax was added to beer, cigarettes, liquor, and corporation franchise fees, including phone service.

"I DON'T," Gloria holds, "consider the phone a luxury or a sin. The phone tax is not right. I feel like carrying this thing all the way to the death house."

And "they told me not be apathetic about government," she reasons.

WE ARE on her side. So is her husband Marvin. All he said was "It may be expensive, Dear, paying for all the things you believe in."

Things people believe in enough to fight for have always been expensive. Costliest thing of all is a principle. And it's got to be the principle of the thing with Gloria. You have to admire the girl's courage, sense of responsibility as a citizen, and her $6 a year crusade for justice.

THING we do not exactly agree with is her objection to the "nuisance" term as applied to a phone.

Her phone may not be a nuisance. Ours is. Ours operates as if wired on a time fuse. Any time we get in the bathtub it starts ringing. Any time and every time.

There's a spot without varnish or wax right by the telephone stand to prove it. Enough soap suds and water have dripped there through the years to do the week's wash. We're expert at jumping out and answering after a wild gallop in slides and towel-draped torso. By now we should be, Goodness knows there's been enough practice.

OUR PHONE is both a luxury AND a sin. It's absolutely the finest luxury in the house nights when we want to call the grown-and-blown kids. Or talk to Mother and Merry in Big D, across the miles.

It's a perfect jewel of a luxury as an excuse-maker. It's the most superb date-breaker, husband-caller-to-bring-home, conversation piece on a rainy day, and sociable stand-by in time of trouble ever invented by man for the constant comfort of woman.

IT'S A SIN, at our house anyhow, on small occasions. When the party on the other end gets wildly furious because you answer to a wrong number ring—as if YOU answered to the wrong number on purpose . . .

When you answer, half-naked, to hear the dripping sales pitch of "You've been chosen as winner of six gorgeous colored photographs . . ."

Or when you break your neck to get there, pick up the receiver with that feel of expectancy, just in time to hear that little click and an empty wire . . . THEN it's a sin what you say to yourself about the phone. But only a little-bitty sin.

The politicking days are come
The maddest of the year
With friends and foes debatin' some—
November's drawin' near.

BOTH PARTIES had parties this week. "Us Democrats" got together and organized everything and everybody Tuesday night with tall "Little Dick" Gregory and naturally charming Emmabeth Thompson (Mrs. Charlie) as co-chairmen for the coming fray.

The little McCloud couple, attorney Austin and his ever-lovin' Mary Anne (Kelley) accomplished that night the thing we've been trying for years to do, and never yet quite managed.

THE McCLOUDS went three places at once. Honest. Austin was nominating Democrat committee workers right and left in the Colorado Room while Mary Anne attended a Girl Scout district meeting in the Terrace Room.

Her meeting over, Mary Anne "jined", her lord-and-master until the Demo organization party was over. Then the young pair took off at a run to attend Parents' night at Primary School.

That's the modern version of "all fruit baskets must turn over." Or maybe "spin the wheels, papa, we're due at the P. T. A."

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE members celebrated opening of their Walnut St. headquarters with a Terrace Room coffee hour Friday morning. And a speech by Des Barry.

their party's candidate for Congressman-at-large from Texas.

Mayor H. I. Berman did the official welcome speech honors. Spied in the seat of the hearers were of course Bob and Myra Robinson, Don Butler, glamorous Frances Derigibus (Mrs. Frank) Joe Earnest, Gerald Gordon, two M. D.'s named Ken Cowan and Bill Rhode . . . nice Alan Conley, and Bob Ratliff.

MET for the first time a diminutively attractive feminine guest named Mrs. Ernest Clendennen who came in from Silver for the morning political gathering.

Saw there, too, Eddie Kissinger and crew-cut Drew Ballard both of KYMC . . . The Frank H. Kelleys, Ross Daniels, Mrs. Sam Majors Sr., Buzz Majors, Tom Barry, the E. L. Tillers; Bob Fee, Mrs. E. M. Owens, Bob May, Art Dibble, John Shimer, and Mrs. John Brown.

THERE ARE all kinds of harder ways to make a living than "crashing" parties for the Record and drinking Republican brew for free. And there's no truth to Don Butler's claim that this reporter shucked her prized John Connally button before shaking Des Barry's hand.

Matter of fact, we lent it to Charlie Thompson. It's a sort of "button, button, who's got the button," ritual "Us Democrats" play when we ease in to size up the opposition.

FRIDAY is freedom day. Freedom from family fare. If you're lurching out you'll always find the Lions Club widows lingering over coffee, too. Saw Josie Ree Randle (Mrs. J. W.) of the lovely spun-silver hair, Berta Goodwin (Mrs. H. E. "Blue") and Mrs. E. M. Owen.

At another table sat "Hubbard," (Mrs. A. W.) long-time clinic nurse who lives and works in Austin now. She moved down to be closer to University of Texas daughter Margaret. With Hubbard was her friend and former co-worker Billie Weeks.

New Innovation In Seating Sponsored This Year by Carson & Barnes Circus

One feature of the circus this year that impressed the local sponsor of the Carson and Barnes big three ring circus was the new and attractive policy of informing the public of the PRICE of all tickets before attending the show, and allowing the public to pick the area they desire to sit in.

Carson and Barnes Circus has adopted the policy used by the major football and baseball stadiums and have made all of their seats reserved. A diagram of the seat location and the three price ranges can be seen in their news advertisement and on the circus ticket wagon. Remember, at the CARSON AND BARNES CIRCUS you select the area of the circus tent you desire to sit, purchase ONE ticket for the seat of your choice.

In addition to revolutionizing the seating policy of the circus, the Carson and Barnes Circus has modernized their performance to appeal to the adult as well as the children. Realizing that the television spectacles like International Showtime, Ed Sullivan and the Dupont Hour, have been well received by the adult audiences the Carson and Barnes Circus has obtained some of the best acts appearing with International circuses.

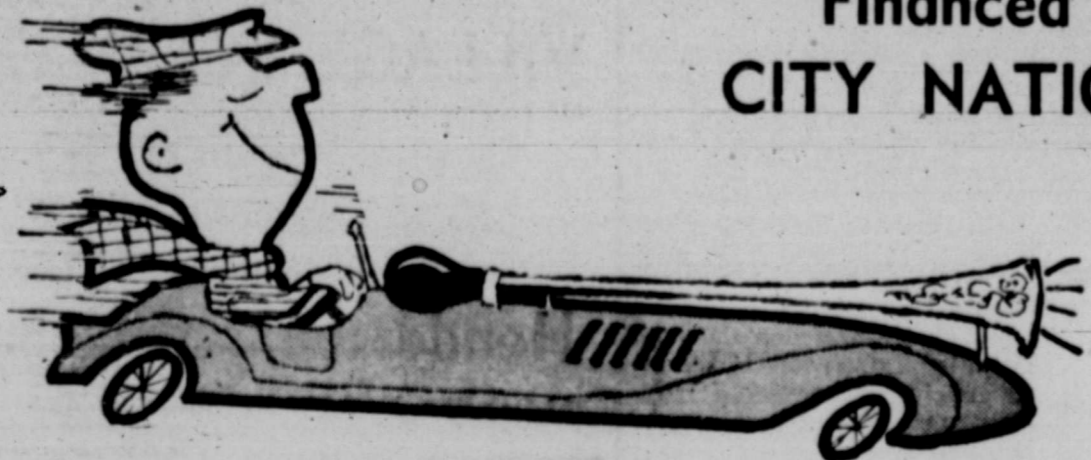

These acts can be seen at both performances, afternoons and night at the local showgrounds.
