Guy McNeely Enters Race For Judge Co. Court

Guy H. McNeely, attorney, was a visitor at the Star office Thursday and while here announced he will be a candidate for County Judge to succeed H. W. Filmore, incumbent, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Born in Texas, where he has resided continuously, McNeely came to Wichita county 20 years ago and has practiced law in Wichita Falls since 1933. He is a past grand of the Odd Fellows, a member of the Elks lodge and of Grace Methodist church, Wichita Falls.

McNeely was tendered a position as assistant county attorney in the fall of 1936, but the subsequent re-establishment of the office of district attorney and consequent reduction of the staff of the county attorney prevented his assuming duties in that capacity.

McNeely has on numerous occasions served as special city and county judge in the last few years. He is associated with J. R.
Wilson, attorney, in the Staley building and resides with his family on Wilson street.

Civic Leaders To Bring Concerts Here Each Year

The recent concert given here by the Wichita Falls Civic Symphony orchestra inspired local civic leaders to activity on behalf of an annual musical program for Burkburnett.

It has been tentatively decided that this program will take the form of four concerts each year which will be entirely free to the public. Expenses for the concerts will be paid by popular subscription and enough money has already been raised to finance the first concert which will be held sometime in May.

It has been known for centuries that man's mental and cultural development is closely entwined with the development of music. There is no period of recorded history that does not speak of music in correlation to man and his progress.

Those interested in bringing the concerts here feel that they are making it possible for everyone in Burkburnett, and the youth of this community especially, to absorb some of the potency of what is one of the most powerful influences for good known to humanity; namely, great music.

Weeth Announces For Tax Assessor And Collector

A. J. Weeth of Wichita Falls, resident of this county for fifty years, announced this week that he will be a candidate for the office of County Tax Assessor and Collector.

Mr. Weeth was once a resident of the Burkburnett vicinity having lived here when the community was known as Nesterville.
His neighbors included the families of J. G. Hardin, M. Dodson, E. Rexford, the Willis and Hawkins families and many other pioneers.

He was closely associated with the development of the county, culturally and materially, and his reputation as a solid citizen is unsurpassed.

In placing his candidacy before the voters of Wichita county, Mr. Weeth stated that he was reared on a farm near Gilbert Creek and was grateful for the privilege of having lived in this county for so many years.

Mr. Weeth stated that he does not feel that the county owes him a penny for anything but feeling that he is perfectly capable of filling the office for which he has announced, he will appreciate the opportunity of serving the good people of Wichita county as Tax Assessor and Collector.

He said "My ambition is to hold the office of a trust in this county where I have lived practically all my life. I am making this race solely on my own merits.
I have no fault to find with my opponents. I am making no promises in any way, but if I am elected I will conduct myself and my office in such a manner hat the voters of this county will have no regrets for having elected me.
"I am thanking you all in advance for anything that you can do in my behalf."

Missionaries From Brazil

The Rev. and Mrs. Martinho Albin Janson who will be here next week at the First Baptist church.

Brazilians To Assist In Conducting Mission School

The Rev. Jack Manning, pastor of the First Baptist church here, has announced that the school of Missions which is to be conducted at his church through next week, will feature lectures by the Rev. Martinho Janson, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a student at Southwestern Seminary in Ft.
Worth, and music by his wife, who is also from Brazil.

A native Latvian, for fifteen years a resident of Brazil, a brilliant student, an outstanding leader in Baptist work in South America, and very popular in the Seminary where he is doing graduate work toward his Doctor's Degree, Janson will be one of the most interesting and colorful speakers ever presented here.

Going to Brazil a number of years ago from his native Latvia with a large group of Baptists, Janson and his people carved out an entirely new community from the wilds of that land, the romance of which reads like a fairy tale. He will probably tell of his early years, the rise of the new city, his conversion and early Christian experiences, and the work of Baptists in Brazil, which in many cases, amounts almost to martyrdom.

The Jansons have been in the United States only a short time.

He came first and was followed some months later by his bride-to-be, who at that time spoke not a word of English. They were married in Ft. Worth and the ceremony was read in Portuguese and in English; Portuguese so that the bride might understand; English that the audience might understand.

Mrs. Janson was born in 1916 in the city of Rio de Janeiro. Her father was the pastor of a Congregational church. Her name before her marriage was Isa Marie De Souza. She met her husband when she was only twelve years old and they were both attending the same school. She is also a student in the Seminary.

When Janson arrived in Ft.
Worth he knew only 100 words of English and could not carry on a conversation. Now he speaks English fluently. An expert linguist, he also speaks Latvian, Russian, German, Italian, Spanish, French and Portuguese. He can read Hebrew, Latin and Greek.

The Rev. Manning and the Rev. Janson attended school together, and the local pastor states that this is a rare opportunity for the people of Burkburnett to experience an educational and religious treat.

Lions Vote To Suspend Custom Easter Egg Hunt

At their regular meeting Tuesday evening members of the Lions club voted to discontinue indefinitely the custom of providing an annual Easter Egg Hunt for the children of Burkburnett.

The reason for this action was said to be the increasing difficulty of imposing an age limit upon youngsters taking part in the hunt.

Glenn Haynes, District clerk, Wichita Falls, spoke to the Lions on the subject of "Making the Most Out of the Best."

Dorothy Ann Preston, ward school representative for Burkburnett in the county declamation contests, read "Laddie." Guests were Miss Ella Griffin and Roy Jackson.

Old Time Campaigns

While political campaigns are still waged with vigor, and are often enlivened with spectacular oratory, they do not compare in picturesqueness and enthusiasm with those of the old days.

Back in the nineteenth century the campaign parade was an indispensable feature of the pre-election activities, especially in presidential years. Uniformed marching clubs, bearing kerosene torches, with banners and transparencies, and led by brass bands, sometimes made up by processions miles long in the larger cities, while the smaller communities held similar rallies on a lesser scale.

It was the custom of rival newspapers to enlarge upon the length of parades by their partisans while depreciating those of the opposition.

The late Vice-President Marshall once told of such a circumstance in which claims of rival newspapers held a humorous touch. A great parade was held in Crawfordsville, Ind., in behalf of the candidacy of Governor Hendricks, after which Mr. Marshall says:

"In the morning the democratic newspapers announced that it was the greatest torchlight parade ever seen in the city; that it took two hours to pass a given point. The evening republican paper quoted this statement, admitting it was true, but added that the given point was Mike Mulholland's saloon."

Mere Wishing Doesn't Help

The fate of Finland is merely another instance of what happens when statesmen follow sentiment rather than judgment. It should have been apparent from the beginning that Finland could not maintain her independence, just as this fact should have been recognized in connection with Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Notwithstanding this, however, the Allied statesmen went ahead in 1919 to create these small states within easy reach of large neighbors who had good reason to covet their territory and resources. These small states had one chance to exist and only one. That was that strong nations would come to their defense when they were attacked.

That this was a futile hope has been eloquently demonstrated by the events of the past two years. There is some justification, of course, for the Allies. They went to war when Poland was attacked but the geography of the situation made this help ineffective. The fate of Poland shows that the outcome of Munich would not have been greatly different so far as Czechoslovakia is concerned. Pressure against Germany on the western front did not save Poland and it would not have prevented the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The so-called low countries of Western Europe and the Scandinavian states are relatively safe from the fate that has overtaken Finland only because they are vital to the safety of France and England and are easily reached with active military assistance. These factors were lacking in the case of Finland, and all the moralizing about the right of small nations to exist is so much wasted effort. Powerful democracies should make up their collective minds to one thing, either they should quit creating small states or else be prepared to defend them as they would their own territory.

Governor Phillips And Water Power

There is reason to sympathize with the feelings of Governor Phillips of Oklahoma regarding the inundation of considerable land because of the construction of huge dams for generation of electricity, and yet it is hard to agree that his moves to protect state interests are wise. Martial law is a severe weapon and it would seem that some way could be found to adjust differences between the state and federal governments.

The attitude of Governor Phillips is based on what he deems to be the legal rights of the state with respect to property of its citizens as well as highways and other property belonging to the state. On the major question of the wisdom of the expenditures in the first place, most people not actuated by prejudice will agree that projects such as the Grand River dam are of extremely doubtful value.

The project was financed entirely by the Federal government through a loan of $11,000,000 from RFC and a gift of $9,000,000 from PWA. It is contended that the loan will be repaid but experience indicates that this is mostly a hope, but even if it is repaid there is still an investment of $9,000,000 of the taxpayers' money in an enterprise for which there is little or no need.

Electricity can be made at less cost by plants of other kinds when the cost of capital is taken into consideration in the hydro-electric plants. Governor Phillips probably won't stop the Grand River project but his opposition may have the effect of calling attention to the absurdity of the whole policy. The roads and bridges to be inundated are probably worth more than the whole $20,000,000 hydro-electric project. If the government wants to go into the business of generating electricity it should install the most efficient type of equipment.

Burkburnett . . . History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 years ago.

According to Postmaster N. R. Vaught, the manager of a local firm here is $44 'sadder and wiser' when he received shipment of merchandise via airmail costing $44.35 for postage.

The John G. Hardin building next door to the Palace theatre is being overhauled and a new plate glass front erected to be occupied by the Unique cafe the first of April.

James Self of Rabbit Creek community, well known in Burkburnett, suffered the loss of the first joint of the third finger on his right hand Thursday morning. Mr. Self caught the finger in a planter.

Last Sunday, March 16, Miss Ruby Helen Gentle of Sanger, Texas, became the bride of Mr. Werner C. Kiesling of this city.

According to C. E. Mitchell, president of the Lions club, the Lions club park, located two miles south of Burkburnett is now ready for picnickers and the barbecue pit is ready.

A. C. Houser is confined to his home this week with a sprained back sustained while at work at Caro Motor Company.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Like the shadow of a rock in a weary land is the sight of a friend's face when you're far from home.

Don Burger a dozen years ago was All-State tackle on a great Abilene high school football team. After completing his schooling, he became a hotel clerk in Cisco; then manager of the Hilton in Abilene; after that, manager of the Hilton in El Paso and now he is in charge of one of the greatest hotels in the West—the Sir Francis Drake in San Francisco.

When I walked into his office not long ago, he shoved the papers on his desk aside, quit dictating a bunch of letters, grabbed me by the hand and for an hour we "played" some of the old Texas high school games over again, including that 21-14 loss by Abilene to Waco for the state crown on the Cotton Palace gridiron in '27.

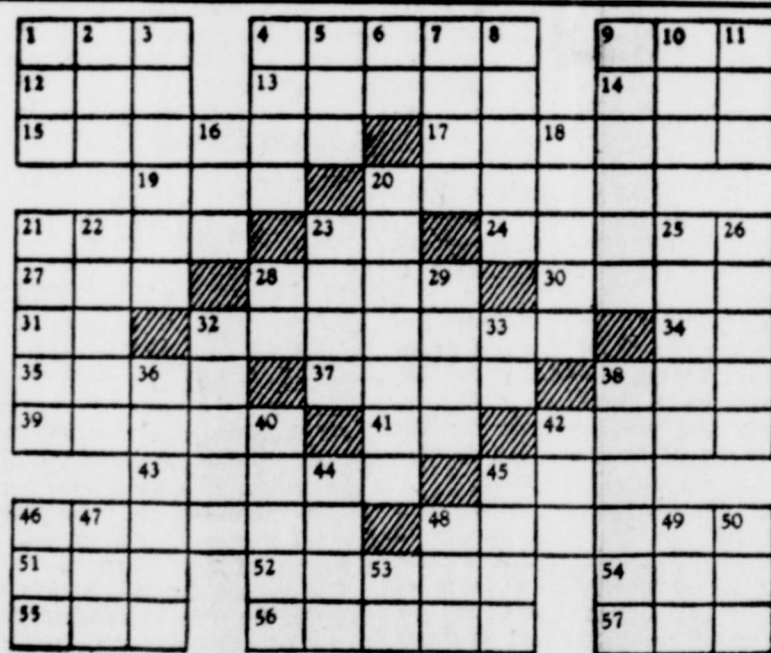

Then Burger called the officials of the San Francisco World's Fair and in a few minutes a long, sleek, new limousine was at the door to escort this Texas scribe out to Treasure Island. Of course the exposition is closed at this time of year (it reopens in May) but it was my privilege to be taken for a tour of the beautiful buildings and grounds; then for a scenic drive about the city and that night Jack James, director of publicity for the exposition, and Mrs. James escorted me for a view of famous Fisherman's Wharf, Telegraph Hill, Chinatown and, as a climax, a seafood dinner at Joe Dimaggio's cafe.

Any Texan is sure to receive a genuine Texas welcome at the 23-story Sir Francis Drake, which is the center of San Francisco life, with its famed Persian Room (which has 8,000 lights with changing colors)—because, besides Burger, there is another Texan, Hal Hammons, formerly of Abilene, who is executive assistant manager.

Treasure Island is a beautiful spot—with its 400-foot Sun Tower which has a 40-bell carillon and is surrounded by a golden figure, symbolic of San Francisco's emergence from the ashes of 1906; the Court of Pacifica with the sculpturing that tells the story of the meeting of East and West, the spot dominated by an 80-foot statue; the huge murals of the Court of Nations; the Court of the Moon; the Court of Flowers with giant ferns, fountain and statuary; the colorful exhibit halls of Japan, Dutch East Indies, Italy, China and other nations. Add to all this the swirl and gayety of a throng; the radiance of many soft hues of light at night—and you have something. And such a setting!—the ocean, the neighboring islands, the ships, the bridges and the skyline of San Francisco.

If a feller is a liar, he needs a good memory so he can remember what he told before, as my grandpa used to say.

ber what he told before, as my grandpa used to say.

One of the many advantages of visiting Mexico with a large group—such as composed the Texas Lions good will pilgrimage last year—is that you meet new and interesting folks, form friendships and are sure of sympathetic companionship in viewing beautiful and novel scenes. Such a chap as John Kidneigh for instance.

Kidneigh, head of the Salvation Army for the State of Utah, is six foot, two inches tall; weighs 220 pounds; is a Ph. D.; has a good sense of humor and is a regular fellow. Called on at the banquet which was given by the Mexico City Lions, Kidneigh told a story about a "lusty and gusty" cowboy who entered a saloon and demanded a drink composed of equal parts of milk and whisky. Just as the beverage was set out, a tenderfoot preacher entered. The newcomer was thirsty and, seeing the cowboy drinking apparently a glass of milk, he ordered "one of the same." The parson took a swallow, then another, smacked his lips as he finished the glass, and exclaimed:

"Brother, what a cow."

Two other interesting members of the group were Thomas W. Clatworthy and his brother, William, of Fort Morgan, Colo. Both were past 80 but were tireless and always eager for the day's activities. Each had snow-white hair, close-clipped mustaches and pink complexions, and they were known as "the boys." This chronicler toiled up the steep slope of a pyramid at Cholula on top of which was a beautiful church built by the Spaniards, and as I stood there panting, waiting on the church steps sat "the boys" smiling and fresh.

This year's pilgrimage, April 4-15, will again be headed by Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, past Lions International president, and not only Lions, but friends of Lions may go. All in the party will be given special courtesies and banquets from Mexico Lions and officials that will make the visit doubly enjoyable.

"Noah threw Ham out of the Ark for telling this one", writes H. W. Allen of El Paso in nominating an entry in the "old joke" contest.

A country boy yoked himself to a calf but the calf got scared and tore down a country lane at full speed. As they were passing a farmhouse, somebody yelled, "Where you going, son?" The boy answered, "Durned if I know; ask the calf."

Which reminds me of the story of the Irishman who was delivering a crate containing a rabbit. The "critter" got out and the Irishman ran till he was exhausted and then yelled, "You don't know where you're going; you ain't got the address."

Retired Ship Master's Dodge Steers Like Ship

An intriguing automobile gadget is the apparatus here seen mounted beneath the steering wheel of a Dodge Luxury Liner. It is a special steering indicator, showing the position of the car's front wheels, just as the "helm indicator" found on ships shows the position of the rudder, thereby aiding the helmsman to maneuver his vessel, especially in close quarters. K. T. Keller, president of Chrysler Corporation, had the steering indicator constructed for Captain Albert B. Randall, to make the retired Commodore of the United States Lines and former master of S. S. "Leviathan" and S. S. "Manhattan" feel thoroughly at home behind the steering wheel of the Dodge sedan which the captain purchased upon his retirement from long sea service.

When Captain Albert B. Randall, retired Commodore of the United States Lines and former Master of S. S. "Leviathan" and S. S. "Manhattan" concluded his recent pre-retirement voyage as Master of the "Manhattan," the passengers presented the popular skipper with a purse and suggested that he use it in the purchase of a good automobile.

After investing in a Dodge sedan the Commodore—more familiar with the handling of great ocean liners that steer from the rear than with the operation of land-going automobiles that steer from the front—looked in vain for an instrument that would show him the precise steering position of the car's front wheels, just as the "helm indicator" giving the position of the ship's rudder, foretells the direction in which the vessel will move, forward or back.

A feature of additional interest is that the dial, which is of plastic material, has been treated with a substance that absorbs light during the day and renders the dial luminous at night.

Happening to write to Mr. K. T. Keller, president of Chrysler corporation, Commodore Randall pointed out how useful such a device would be on his Dodge, and basket ball game will be played. A man from Mr. View will bring his donkeys and the local men will ride them. The two teams will be called the "Local Business Men" and the "Loyal Supporters." These donkeys have been ridden in over 200 games in Texas and Oklahoma. The admission price will be 10 and 25 cents and the game will begin at 8:15.

Watch For Rattlers

This is the time of year when rattlesnake leave their holes and sportsmen are warned by the executive secretary of the state game department to be on the lookout for them, especially on the sunny side of hills.

Rattlers generally hibernate in Texas during the winter months, but Aaron Gold of Fredericksburg learned to his sorrow that not all of them do. He was struck in the leg by a huge rattler late in January while walking through a pasture. He was treated by Dr. Victor Keidel of Fredericksburg and recovered.

Complete ceremonial costume of Texas' Comanche Indians is on display at the University of Texas anthropology museum.

The party left the Fairview school about 6:30 p. m. and enjoyed two and one-half hours of skating. Everyone reported a good time, despite the many bruises received by various members of the party due to their inability to remain upright while skating. Misses Dora Goldsmith and Mayme Ruth Clark and Wm. T. J. Hartrick were members of the party which was about 45 in number.

Mr. Clarence Bridges, who is coach of the Fairview track team this year, reports that he will have several boys to represent Fairview in the county meet at Iowa Park next Saturday. The boys and the different events in which they will compete are as follows: Glenn Adair, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, and broad

Permit me to do just a little

"gripping" about how carelessly some motorists park their automobiles in this town. Some park them in the pedestrian's path, and I have barked by shins on a number of bumpers. The first reaction was to run a foot through the lights or windshield. On second thought, the reaction passed.

Others park across corners—even huge school busses—pretending to be serviced, when in reality they were too far out of the drive to be serviced. Although it is not for me to say where you motorists shall or shall not park, I do wish you would have a bit o' respect for the tenderness of my shins. And besides when automobiles are parked in such a manner, they prove obstructions to normal traffic.

Someone wanted to know what member of the City Council would be the biggest hat. The answer is that it is the one with the biggest head.

A few days ago a couple of young ladies, members of the local school faculty, entered a local hamburger joint and partook of some of those sandwiches —undignifiedly called hamburgers. Yes, and they ate them without onions. But one of them later ordered onion for herself. The waiter hunted out the largest onion in the house and quartered it for her. The young female athletic director nibbled around on it for awhile and left leaving most of the plant on the table.

The waiter then took the onion, packed it in a dainty package and mailed it to the young lady who had left it there. According to instruction from the waiter to the friend of the young lady in question, she saved the daintily wrapped package and presented the onion fiend with it in front of a group of her friends. On opening it you can imagine her surprise to find it to be her very own onion. It takes flowers to soothe the ruffled vanity of some females—others, it merely takes onions. We wonder how garlic might do.

Dobie Urges
The Teachings Of Southwest Literature

Austin, March 19—Let young Texans study the literature and life of their own southwest, J.
Frank Dobie, University of Texas English professor and author, urges.

The University's expert on Southwestern lore has declared himself in rebellion to being dosed with the "sermons of dreary New England preachers" as the sum and substance of American literature.

Labeling much of the New England literature as "more foreign to young Texans than certain Spanish chronicles and a vast body of cowboy lore and southern lore and southern humor already in print", Dobie held that "text-book makers and pedagogues either ignorantly or wilfully deny the right of the southwest to its own cultural inheritance."

For instance, why not interpret to students through reading, how Cabeza de Vaca, the first white man in Texas, lived for weeks on prickly pear apples, or how Texas' first man of letters, John C. Duval, escaped the Goliad mas-acre, he asked.

At one time, Dobie said, the teaching of American literature in American colleges and universities was fiercely resisted by professors of English, but was finally adopted when people showed a desire to know about their own surroundings.

"Southwestern literature as a course in our Texas schools has the same logical basis," he added.

pay their travel expenses while on missions outside the county.
Many Texas counties, if this ruling applies generally, have been violating the law. In Dallas county, for instance, a check last winter showed that various members of the county commissioner's court made a total of 27 trips to Austin, principally on lobbying errands, during the first four months of the legislative session.

It would be interesting to know how many illegally paid for trips the taxpayers financed when the county judges and commissioners moved in on the legislature to lobby for the County Judges' Road Bond bill, and the Tax Remission bill, the latter declared unconstitutional by Mann and a Court of Civil Appeals—were before the solons.

Spoils System Costs Pile Up

The costly system by which the state government of Texas is run continued to pile up discord and waste of the taxpayers' money this week. Railroad Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Lon Smith, who "cleaned out" employees of the commission when they formed a "job alliance" after Sadler took office, were worried, as Gordon Bigham, Sadler's appointee to the post of deputy supervisor in charge of the Midland oil production district, made $5,000 bond on a felony complaint charging he accepted a bribe of $5,000 to recommend no reduction in the allowable of an oil company. The oil company, it is reported, notified officers when solicited, and the money was paid in marked bills, later alleged to have been found in Bigham's possession.

Sadler is running for governor, and Smith for re-election as Railroad commissioner.

The sniping warfare between a majority of the Board of Control composed of two O'Daniel appointees, and Dr. W. J. Johnson, whom the board majority tried to fire, as superintendent of the San Antonio state hospital, continued. The two board members, refused to approve Johnson's action in dismissing three more employees. Courts held the board must agree with personnel changes made by the superintendent to make them effective.

Some observers here thought the "investigation" of Dr. Johnson by the Board of Control, and the row kicked up by Dr. Bradfield, of the Liquor Control board, may have some influence on the action of the senate in confirming these and other O'Daniel appointments next January.

Ex-Attorney General Bill Mc-Craw, victim of the flour hurricane in the governor's race two years ago, emerges as an author.
His book, entitled "Professional Politicians", will be out about April 1. Texas political circles await it with considerable interest, since O'Daniel labelled Bill a "professional" and Bill cheerfully accepted the title.

A great Texan died last week.
He was the governor of Texas at one time, a Railroad commissioner, and state senator. In all these positions he performed notable service to the people. "The Little Warrior," Oscar Branch Colquitt, has passed on. His political career was in a time of deep strife and the days of giants in the political arena. He met them all on an equal footing, fought honestly, and died with the respect of a grateful state.

VOICE TEXAS

By Pierce Brooks

I never visit Ellis county without again having impressed upon me the great importance of agriculture. The county once led all Texas in cotton production from its fertile black acres. The acres are still there, though some of them are lying idle, under government plans, some have eroded, and pollution has driven others from the farm. But Ellis still is a substantial county, supporting thousands of population, who in turn are feeding and clothing other thousands in all sections of the world.

I have told all my friends personally and all our citizens through the newspapers that I was not this year a candidate for office. I have been very busy trying to make a living for my wife, my son and his dog, milking my cow and raising chickens.
What time I have had, aside from this, has been devoted to my business and to the promotion of safety in Texas.

However, in the last few weeks there has been an increasing demand that I make the race for Railroad Commissioner. Petitions, letters, telephone calls, and mass meeting in increasing number all have asked me to enter the race.

I fully realize the enormous physical sacrifice required to make a race for public office. I would only do so if I felt that my services were needed to restore harmony on the Railroad commission, conserve our resources, protect our school funds, our aged people, and the interests of all Texans alike.

At this time I can only say that if, in the next few weeks, sufficient number of Texans indicate to me that they desire me to become a plain business candidate for the Railroad commission, with the sole idea of serving the people, I will respond. I owe a debt of gratitude to Texas that I can never pay. If public service is demanded of me in part payment, I will respond.

Rains, general over Texas, have been gratefully received. Texas produces almost every known farm product. It looks like a good year for the growers, and particularly our West Texas friends who in recent years have been forced to withstand drought, dust storm and all the ravages that nature could impose upon them.

CCC Wants 4000
Boys In April

Adam R. Johnson, director of the state department of Public Welfare who has the responsibility for the selection of boys for the Civilian Conservation corps, has been advised that approximately 4,000 boys will be needed in April to bring existing camps to full strength.

"Boys who wish to be selected for the CCC must be of good character, at least 17 years old, and not more than 23 years six months, and not have already served more than 18 months since July, 1937," explained Mr. Johnson, "for we desire only the best boys as members."

Applications should be made to the various County Welfare offices as quickly as possible so when final county quotas are announced, those eligible may be sent to enrolling points. At present there are over 16,000 Texans in CCC camps. 10,000 in Texas and 6,000 in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Wyoming—over $300,000.00 per month being returned to the family groups of these boys.

"Members of the CCC cannot be automatically transferred to the Army," commented Mr. Johnson, "as they are considered in all respects civilian employees of the government. Were they at home, at work on the farm, or in stores or banks, they would be no safer from Army service than they are as members of the corps. Mr. Roosevelt has plainly and clearly stated he will not allow the militarization of the CCC and has gone so far as to place camp commanders on a civilian basis."

"Texas boys will find the CCC experience one of the most beneficial of their lives, where the best of care, food and attention will be theirs, while they are able to assist their families with the allotments," added Mr. Johnson.

Hardin Grade School News

We are planning an Easter egg hunt for Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:00. We are going to the park to look for Easter eggs. We had lots of fun making Easter decorations for our rooms last week, and we expect a grand time at our Easter egg hunt. (Miss Billingslea.)

Easter is almost here and we are making some Easter baskets. They are being made out of oat meal boxes, as yet they aren't very pretty, but we think they are going to be when we finish covering them with yellow, purple crepe paper. The baskets will be good to put our Easter eggs in. (Miss Ingle.)

Spring time makes us think of gardens. It is fun to dig in the fresh earth, to plant seeds and to watch the plants grow from the seeds. The children in H 2-1 have decided to share in this pleasure. They have planted nasturtium seed in the painted cheese boxes. We hope to have some pretty gold and red nasturtiums blooming in our boxes before school is out. (Mrs. Moore.)

The following pupils were on the spelling honor roll last week: Glen Broussard, Charles Gist, Willie Lee Jones, David McNeil, James Mullins, Joe Eddy Reese, James Rogers, Joe Dale Sampson, Margaret Hill, Betty Ruth Trout, and Olene Wellington. Our class has been very interested in reading about "Wheels and Wings" this week. We have found out how useful they are, as well as how much pleasure they give us. We have made picture charts of wheels and wings. We learned from a library book about "Trains", the different kinds of freight cars and passenger cars. Now we wish that we might take a ride on a train. (Miss Lasseter.)

We will have our Easter egg hunt Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Our news club met today. Claudine Wise is our president. (Miss Parris.)

Several in our room went visiting over the week-end. O. D. Dial visited in Rotan and Johnnie Cecil visited in Stovall Wells. Marguerite Bell has withdrawn from school. She has moved to Weatherford. (Miss Isbell.)

The following program was presented by Miss Jackson and Miss L. Smith rooms last Friday: "Story of Holland" by Jessie Ruth Preston; a playlet "We Like Windmills." The characters were taken from both rooms. The last number on the program was a story by Juanita Klinkerman. (Miss Jackson.)

John Hughes has enrolled in our grade. He comes to us from a Dallas school. Gordon Jeffers celebrated his 9th birthday Friday, March 15. Twenty-four of his friends met at his home at 4:00 p. m. and an enjoyable time was had by all until 6:00. A. W. McPherson's mother visited our room Friday afternoon. She attended the assembly program. We were very glad to have her and hope that she comes again soon. (Miss L. Smith.)

The winners in our spelling contest for this week are: Susie Ross, Veda King, Bobbie Nell Dalton, Bonnie Perry, Jimmie Moore, James Metz, and Gene Pringle. (Miss Majors.)

Word To The Wise

Taxidermists often create freaks of nature such as rabbits with deer horns, but it remained for C. I. Mitchell and Frank Sladok of Temple to display a new and clever idea. They have exhibiting in their store a ten pound, seven ounce black bass which was caught by Jack Keith of Temple in the Temple Country club lake. Mr. Keith had the fish mounted and then fitted an upper and lower plate of false teeth in the fish's wide-open mouth. An accompanying sign says "If I'd kept my mouth shut I wouldn't be here."

Parents Urged To Safeguard Vision Of Children

Austin, March 19—Looking out in the world with clear vision is the birthright of each and everyone, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Texas has many hundreds of persons that are blind or with impaired vision. These figures would be more tragic if given before the law was passed making it mandatory to use prophylactic drops in the eyes of new born babies. Since then blindness caused by birth infections has been greatly reduced.

In the examination of school children other diseases of the eyes are encountered quite frequently. Chief among these is trachoma. This disease is contagious and causes a destructive inflammation characterized by the formation of trachoma granulations. These gradually form scar tissue. Trachoma, if left untreated, will impair the vision and eventually cause blindness. This happens when the proper treatment is not given or the diagnosis and treatment is not given in its early stages.

Trachoma is most prevalent where poor sanitary conditions exist. The prevention of this disease consists not only in avoiding the infection but also in maintaining sanitary conditions. Parents should watch closely for any indication of anything wrong with the vision of their children. Many diseases of the eye readily respond to treatment in their early stages, but, if allowed to develop, may seriously affect the vision if not cause blindness.

Lucky Newsman: 2 Dreams Come True

Boyce House Home After Four Months In Movies

"Dreams of every newspaper- ... man is to get a book published ... and to grab off some of that Hol- ... lywood easy money," writes Jack ... Gordon, famous Fort Worth ... columnist. "Meet one newsman ... who has done both. The lucky ... guy is Boyce House of Fort ... Worth."

Gordon continues: ... House used to work for Amos ... Carter and he was press agent ... for Casa Manana in 1937 and last ... summer.

Back from movie-land after ... four months there as technical ad- ... visor on "Boom Town," he is try- ... ing to get back down to earth ... after a fabulous experience. But ... when you hear his story, you ... know it's not going to be easy.

How would you like to have a ... private office at the great M-G-M ... studio, with your name lettered ... on the door? Well, House did, ... and directly across the corridor ... from the private sanctum bearing ... the name Vicki Baum. Yes, the ... Vicki Baum who wrote "Grand ... Hotel."

Because he had published a ... book about the Ranger oil boom ... and had landed a couple of pieces ... on Texas oil in the Saturday ... Evening Post, House at first didn't ... think it strange that he had been ... called 1,200 miles to Hollywood ... as technical advisor on an oil ... boom flicker. But riding from ... his Hollywood hotel out to the ... Metro studio, he began to think, ... "Maybe this place is as screwy ... as they say." Sticking up on all ... sides were the derricks of Cali- ... fornia oil wells — hundreds of ... them.

House chuckles. "There they ... had brought me half across the ... country in an airplane as an oil ... authority when they had an oil ... field in the studio's back yard!"

He Checks In ... Everyone has heard funny tales ... of Hollywood's lost authors— ... famous writing men installed at ... princely salaries in studio cran- ... neries and promptly forgotten by ... the movie bigwigs who hired ... them. Well, it looked for a while ... as if Boyce House might be one ... of them.

"I moved into my office and ... then didn't hear from a soul for ... six days," he says. House didn't ... worry, though. The view out of ... the window—purple mountains ... and eucalyptus trees—was nice. ... He had brought along a half ... dozen good books. And he was on ... the payroll.

The following Monday, House ... was to learn what a movie tech- ... nical advisor does. He was called ... to sit in on a story conference ... with Producer Sam Zimbalist and ... Director Jack Conway of "Boom ... Town." Let House take it up from ... there:

Story Conference ... "We all (Zimbalist, House and ... a script writer) sat waiting for Conway. Finally Conway came in ... and sat down in a large leather- ... cushioned chair. He squirmed ... around some, got up and doubled ... the cushion. He sat back down, ... twisting his feet into the space ... caused by folding the cushion.

"Just as though he was getting ... comfortable, Mr. Conway started ... squirming again. He said to Zim- ... balist, 'Don't you think it's cold ... in this room?' Mr. Zimbalist said, ... maybe the air-conditioning was ... on too high. He rang for an en- ... gineer."

"Mr. Conway squirmed some ... more. The engineer came. He said ... the air-conditioning was okay and ... suggested maybe Mr. Conway ... wouldn't be cold if he moved his ... chair. The chair, the engineer ... pointed out, was right in front ... of an air vent."

"The chair was moved, Mr. ... Conway quit squirming, and we ... finally got down to talking about ... "Boom Town."

House later got to know Con- ... way so well he kidded him about ... his squirming. Then he learned ... that Conway had paid income tax ... on $168,000 the year before. He ... joked with the great director no ... more. "Boom Town," featuring ... Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert, ... Hedy Lamarr and Spencer Tracy, ... will be out sometime next fall. ... Meanwhile Reporter House will ... work on a book and maybe run ... for state office.

Wheat Farmers To Get Market Bonus

Washington—Agriculture de- ... partment grain authorities said ... wheat farmers who took part in ... the "ever-normal granery" phase ... of the federal farm program were ... expected to get a market "bonus" ... of between $10,000,000 and $15- ... 000,000 between now and April ... 30th.

Such farmers have about 115- ... 000,000 bushels of wheat stored ... under government loans—the me- ... chanism of the granary under ... which surplus wheat is kept off ... the market when prices are low ... and released when they improve.

At current prices, this grain is ... worth between 5 and 20 cents a ... bushel more than the amount ad- ... vanced to the farmers under the ... loan, plus storage and interest ... charges.

"HE IS RISEN"

To those disciples, who failed to ... understand the prophecies con- ... cerning Jesus Christ, His death ... was the darkest moment in their ... lives. When they saw that He was ... dead, their hopes vanished and ... all their expectations were blight- ... ed. Even the apostle Peter said, ... "I go a fishing," and the other ... disciples said, "We go with you." ... They failed to understand that it ... was necessary for Christ to suf- ... fer, die, and arise from the dead ... the third day, that He might bless ... the world with His kingdom, and ... His reign of peace on the earth, ... in His kingdom. It was necessary ... for Him to die and shed His blood ... that the "fountain for sin and un- ... cleanliness might be open up."

Because the disciples failed to ... understand that Christ's kingdom ... is a spiritual one, rather than a ... kingdom of this world, and be- ... cause their hopes had been based ... on carnal things, when Christ ... died, they were sorrowful and ... distressed, and their fondest ... hopes were gone. But the sweet- ... est, the most hopeful and far- ... reaching words that ever fell on ... human ears, were the words of ... the angel of God, "He is not here, ... He is risen."

All of those hopes that make ... life worth while, depend upon ... the truth of that statement. For ... if Jesus did not arise from the ... tomb Paul shows us that our ... "faith is vain, our preaching is ... vain, we are yet in our sins, and ... we are of all men most miser- ... able." I Cor. 15. If Christ did not ... arise from the grave, to live for- ... ever, we have no hope of the re- ... mission of our sins, no hope of a ... life beyond the grave, nothing to ... comfort us in the hour of the ... death of the loved one, and no ... hope of Heaven. Surely with all ... of these gone, we would be of all ... men most miserable.

But, He is risen! All the facts ... and evidence, whereby any fact ... is established, are abundant, trust- ... worthy and undeniable. God ... permitted Him to remain on earth ... forty days after His resurrection. ... During this time He appeared to ... many, at different times and in ... different ways, with evidence, ... proving that He had arisen from ... the dead. I Cor. 15:1-8.

In view of such overwhelming ... evidence of His resurrection, we ... have joy, hope, comfort, assur- ... ance, peace and faith that gives ... us courage to endure. But, these come only to those who love, ... obey and serve Him.

Friends, "He is risen." Will you ... not believe, obey and serve Him, ... that you may share in His great ... blessings and the eternal prom- ... ises, made possible by His resur- ... rection from the dead? Come to ... the Church of Christ and let us ... serve and obey Him for "He is ... risen!"

"Matter" is the subject of the ... Lesson-Sermon which will be read ... in all the Churches of Christ, ... Scientist, on Sunday, March 24.

The Golden Text is: "Lay not ... up for yourselves treasures upon ... earth, where moth and rust doth ... corrupt, and where thieves break ... through and steal" (Matthew ... 6:19).

Among the citations which com- ... prise the Lesson-Sermon is the ... following from the Bible: "Then ... arose Peter, and ran unto the ... sepulchre; and stooping down, he ... beheld the linen clothes laid by ... themselves, and departed, won- ... dering in himself at that which ... was come to pass" (Luke 24:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also in- ... cludes the following passage from ... the Christian Science textbook, ... "Science and Health with Key to ... the Scriptures" by Mary Baker ... Eddy: "We acknowledge that the ... crucifixion of Jesus and his resur- ... rection served to uplift faith ... to understand eternal Life, even ... the allness of Soul, Spirit, and the ... nothingness of matter" (page 497).

A SENTENCE WORTH FRAMING

Though written fifty years ago, the following ... sentence from Henry Grady is not only worth ... presenting again in 1940 but might well be framed ... and hung on the wall as a lifetime motto for any ... Southern farmer.

"When every farmer in the South shall eat ... bread from his own fields and meat from his own ... pastures and, disturbed by no creditor and enslaved ... by not debt, shall sit among his teeming gardens ... and orchards and vineyards and dairies and barn- ... yards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom and ... growing them in independence, making cotton his ... clean surplus, and selling it in his own time and in ... his chosen market and not at a master's bidding— ... getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mort- ... gage that discharges his debt, but does not restore ... his freedom—then shall be breaking the fullness ... of our day."

UNITED GAS PIPELINE CO. TO USE STAR FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT ADVERTISING PROGRAM

United Gas Pipe Line company, which launched a national advertising program last year to encourage the location of industries in the territory it serves, this week announced plans for the continuation of this activity.

Industrial development in the Gulf South is of vital interest to every person residing in this area. It is a known fact that new wealth and prosperity for any area follows sound industrial development by the expansion of existing industries and establishment of new industries.

Working toward the development of a greater Gulf South the company's Industrial Development program includes advertising in national publications. The plan also covers direct mailings to selected industries and personal contacts with heads of industrial organizations. A parallel activity of the company's Industrial Development Department is the compiling and use of data and information essential to industry in connection with plant location problems.

Because the company's operations are conducted in portions of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida, a region largely bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, the campaign has introduced the term "Gulf South" as descriptive of the territory served. Thus the industrial development activity has come to be known as the "Gulf South Program."

United Gas Pipe Line company has a very definite place in this industrial development in which it has taken the lead in attempting to attract new industries to this area. In addition to its regular advertising in newspapers in the Gulf South, the company is now advertising in national publications the industrial advantages of the Gulf South. These include an abundant and dependable supply of Natural Gas, varied raw materials and basic crops, swift growing markets, good transportation, native intelligent labor, good schools, plentiful land and a mild climate the year 'round are being stressed in this campaign.

"Boom Town" To Put Burk In The Movies

By D. GIBSON

Very little has been heard until recently about the moving picture "Boom Town" which has as its locale, Burkburnett during the oil boom.

All we knew is that M-G-M had bought a story which appeared in the Cosmopolitan under the title "A Lady Comes To Burkburnett" and that it was to be made into a picture.

However, the last few weeks has brought to light the interesting facts that the picture is actually being filmed at last and that the cast will include Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert, Spencer Tracy and Hedy Lamarr, which is rather an imposing aggregation in anybody's books.

"Dodge City" and even "San Francisco" drew only three headliners each and not any other town—so far as we can recall right now—has been 'glorified' by more than three big names. It would seem that it takes a lot of high powered acting to do credit to Burkburnett.

Anyway, we are getting in the movies and that is something that doesn't happen to everybody. Let's not be too critical of the efforts of M-G-M and the ladies and gentlemen of the silver screen. After all, a lot worse pictures have been painted of us than anything that they can do.

And I wouldn't be a bit surprised if after all, we aren't like a lot of other people who in the mellowness of old age take a certain pride in the somewhat 'overdone' stories of the prowess and violence of our youth.

So, bring on "Boom Town." We'd like to like to live through those 'good old days' just once more.

Burk Athletes Receive Awards

Jackets were presented to members of the senior volleyball and basketball teams during special assembly at the high school Tuesday morning.

Volley ball awards were made by Miss Frances Hamner who coached the girls through the round robin and county tournament in which they won third place this year.

Polk Robison presented his championship team with their jackets and gave a brief resume of their record for this year which included winning the county tournament for the first time in the history of Burkburnett high school and winning a tournament at Graham.

Special mention was made of the facts that Russell Clement was high point man in all the tournaments in which he played this year and that Fred Brown was cited for sportsmanship in the Bowie tournament. The boys won 16 games this season and lost 6. The girls received jackets of jockey satin with black bodies and orange sleeves. Co-captains Frankie McKown and Marcella Logan had stars on the chenille letters which are worn on the left front of the jackets.

Marcella, who will graduate this year, received a sweater instead of a jacket. She and Pauline Stubblefield, who will be too old to play next year, are the only members of the present team who will not be in the lineup next year.

Two girls, Nello V. Royce and Mae Dryden, who have moved to Bowie and Electra, were not present for presentation and their jackets will be sent to them.

Others who received awards are Lorene Womack, Sue Abbott, Irene Crowder, and Pauline Stubblefield. Boys who received jackets are Russell Clement and Fred Brown, co-captains and both to graduate this year; Alton Brandon, senior; Bobby Hayes, Hubert Butts, Truman Perry, Russell Johnston, senior, Raymond Van Loh, senior, Joe Stoker, senior, Virgil Owens, R. B. Swinford, senior, and Boyd Anderson, senior.
