'Master Mind' Called to Defend Johnston Against State Charges

CLIMAX EXPECTED

Woman's Appearance Give Her Foes Chance To Get Revenge

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Mamie Hammonds, called the "master mind" of Oklahoma government by impeachers of Gov. Henry S. Johnston, soon will have her day in court, it was revealed late today.

Summoned by counsel for her chief, Mrs. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston, will testify before the senate court now trying Johnston on charges of alleged incompetency and corruption.

Her appearance probably will furnish the first climax of Johnston's trial begun last Monday and now involved in a maze of technical testimony relevant to his allowing departmental expenditures not provided by the legislature.

Clashes Expected

She will take the stand facing a counsel of legislative critics who initiated the rebellion against her presence in the governor's office as the state's first and only confidential secretary and political strategist.

Her summons is expected to bring about a series of clashes in open court between the two major figures of the fight—herself and Tom Kight, militant anti-Johnston and anti-Hammonds house leader. Kight is a dominating leader of the house prosecutors.

He has introduced testimony that Mrs. Hammonds wept, coerced and shook her fists in inner-office conferences to "master" the governor and control his policies. Mrs. Hammonds has denied this as "pee wee lies of office traitors."

Mamie, Kight Enemies

Kight and Mrs. Hammonds broke over administration policies early in Johnston's term. He demanded that the governor dismiss her and when Johnston refused, he helped the revolt which will come to a direct clash when Kight cross-examines Mrs. Hammonds on the stand.

Kight is large, broad-shouldered and displays fighting demeanor on the floor. He has the iron-grey hair and the tanned complexion of many veteran legislators. An attorney in private life, he is experienced in vigorous examination. When

Compact Commission Fails to Reach Goal

SANTA FE, Feb. 14. (AP)—The Rio Grande Tri-State Compact commission struck another snag today, and some distance today separated New Mexico, Colorado and Texas from signing an agreement.

Assistant Attorney General Ralph Carr, who with Delph E. Carpenter, interstate water commissioner for Colorado, has carried the burden of negotiations for Colorado, left today for Denver. He said he would be back the first of next week if the differences had not been ironed out by that time.

Wilborne to Leave For Death Chamber Today

MOUNT PLEASANT, Texas, Feb 14. (AP)—Wade Wilborne will leave for Huntsville tomorrow, where, on April 12, he is sentenced to die for the slaying of his wife, Rosa, in February, 1928.

On the same day, Harry J. Leahy is scheduled to be electrocuted for the killing of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, aged Mathis physician.

Walters Twins Movie Stars

Roy and Ray Brendsen, Walters, Okla., twins, have won their niche in cinemaland. They appeared in "Wheels of Chance" with Richard Barthelmess.

Walters, Okla., Twins Win Fame As Movie Stars in Big Pictures

By C. W. ROGERS
Staff Correspondent

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 14—Two little lads, twins, born in Walters Sept. 10, 1924, are not only in the movies but have had the distinction of being cast in a production with none other than the great Richard Barthelmess.

They are Roy and Ray Berendsen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hendley Berendsen. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berendsen and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Christian, long-time residents of Walters.

The parents of the twins, with Mrs. Christian, went to California in March, last year, where they continued to reside.

They visited Hollywood. It was suggested that the twins be photographed and registered with the Central Casting bureau.

Boys Selected

One day last September Mrs. McQuoid, in charge of the children's division of the buearu, received a call from the director of "Wheels of Chance," in which Barthelmess was starred.

"Must have twin boys, about four years old, each of whom must resemble Dick as he was when a child and must know how to act," was the demand upon the bureau. The Berendsen twins were selected.

Mrs. McQuoid tells how it happened in Motion Picture Magazine: "One day not long ago, Richard Barthelmess began a picture called 'Wheels of Chance,' in which the star assumes a dual role. In one character he is black haired, clear eyed, handsome; in the other he is bald headed, vicious looking, hardened by evil environment—difficult roles at best. The opening scenes are laid in Russia. Twin boys, one known as the Black, one as the Red, are caught in the unreasoning fury of pogrom. The Red, believed dead, is left in a water trough with his little head cut and bleeding. The other, saved, is brought to America.

"How well the casting bureau succeeded is revealed in a study of the photographs of the youngsters and the photographs of Barthelmess in his two characterizations."

Roy and Ray also were in the Tiffany-Stahl technicolor picture, "Mother," and are now fairly well started on the road to fame and fortune.

GAS EXPLOSIONS ROCK HUB CITY

25 Commuters Hurt As Manhole Covers Fly

BOSTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—A series of gas explosions which hurled manhole covers into the air and shattered windows in the business district, injured a number of homeward bound commuters on their way to the South Station tonight. Early reports said more than 25 persons were hurt.

The explosions occurred in the vicinity of Summer and Chauncy streets, the former a main artery for traffic between the South Station and the department store district.

A man standing on a manhole cover when the explosions started was hurled through the window of a nearby lunch room. About a dozen manhole covers were blown off, several of them going over high buildings.

After the first few explosions fire evidently started in the underground mains causing additional explosions.

Traffic for many blocks was halted while firemen poured tons of water into the mains.

Bodies of Father and Son Taken From Snow

CREEDE, Colo., Feb. 14. (UP)—The bodies of James Wolfe, 50, and his son, James Jr. 17, were recovered late today from a snowdrift near their mountain cabin, demolished by a snowslide Monday.

A party of 12 men, headed by Forest Ranger Van Aken, brought the bodies to Creede, after risking their lives for three days in the region of recurring snowslides, at the base of the Cochetopa mountains 21 miles southeast of here.

Two Kansas Men Who Robbed Bank Identified

SEDAN, Kan., Feb. 14 (AP)—Two intoxicated men who were arrested two and a half hours after they had robbed the Chataugua State bank of Chataugua, Kan., of $893 were identified at the county jail here late today as Joe Fenley, about 25, of Chataugua and William Raymond, about 30, of Nebraska. All but $10 of the stolen money was found in their possession.

Cops Held in Reserve As Riot Threatens

EDMONTON, Alberta, Feb. 14. (AP)—All available city and provincial policemen were held in reserve and were issued tear bombs and riot clubs today because of a threatening unemployment situation in this city.

The unemployed threatened rioting to enforce their demands for "work at full union wages or full maintenance."

WITNESSES IN LAND PROBE LAUD ROBISON

Commissioner Is Described As 'Model of Perfect Public Servant'

REGENTS OPPOSED

Wolters Would Not Give Board Control Of Mineral Rights

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (AP)—Tedious matters concerning land patents, mineral rights applications, revaluations placed on the public lands and droughts of the past in West Texas were testified to today in the land office investigation. Court suits over mineral right permits were reviewed. The hearing was adjourned subject to call.

Judge J. C. Hunter of Van Horn, who said he was the prime mover in circulating petitions to get West Texas land owners to return to J. T. Robison, land commissioner, their refunds in the revaluation account accumulated to pay expenses of the revaluation of 1925, defended the commissioner as "scrupulously" honest.

'Perfect' Official

Gen. Jacob F. Wolters of Houston, attorney for the Texas company, described Robison as his idea of a "model of perfect public servant," and complimented him for his thorough knowledge of the land laws.

"My hat's off to him as a land lawyer," he said.

General Wolters gave it as his opinion that it would be unwise for the state to give complete and sole control of its mineral rights to the board of regents of Texas university without fixed responsibility."

He pointed out that the board is made up of nine men and women, some of whom are able lawyers.

"Anyone of them may become an attorney for an oil company," he said. "Without casting any reflections, since it would be natural for a man in the general practice of the law to accept such employment, it may be he would find himself faced by a conflict of interests."

Willing to Cooperate

He said he had asked Robison the latter part of last year to withdraw from the market the oil and gas rights in the 1,500,000 acres advertised for sale in January, and that the commissioner expressed willingness to do so if he could under the law.

"I told him it would be very unfortunate for the oil industry if the land was placed on the market," General Wolters testified.

"He expressed a willingness to cooperate with the governor and board of regents in the matter.

"Later, I called on Governor Moody merely to pay my respects, and the subject of the lease sales was broached. I told the governor that I was of the opinion the only way the sale could be withdrawn was by a special session of the legislature."

He said that in addition to the Texas company, he knew from talking with attorneys and executives that the Gulf and Humble companies did not want the land sold, either.

Affects Gas Price

"It was a purely business matter, as we believed leasing the lands would have a tendency to further depress crude oil," he said.

Questioned by E. F. Smith, representing Robison, he said the price of crude oil had some effect on the price of gasoline since when new fields are opened "topping plants get in and reduce the price of gasoline, and we have to meet the competition."

Among others who testified were B. U. Aycock of Midland and Judge G. M. Brown of Big Lake.

PADEREWSKI ILL

Famous Pianist Among Europe's Great Men Laid Low

NICE, Feb. 14 (US)—Ignace Paderewski was added today to Europe's list of famous influenza victims.

Upon his arrival here, the famous pianist was taken seriously ill, and was found to be suffering from the "flu." He was put to bed, and is being kept under the watchful eye of a nurse.

Paderewski had come to Nice for a charity concert. The usual Riviera weather with its clear and balmy skies was lacking, however, owing to the wave of cold weather which is holding all Europe in its grip, and Paderewski's illness is credited to the change in climatic conditions. The cold wave is now extending all over the continent.

C.-C. DIRECTORS AT BURK NAMED

'Cowboy Evangelist' Speaks At Annual Dinner

By FRANK O. HALL
Staff Correspondent

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Feb. 14—Election of five new direcors, a review of the past years' accomplishments and an address by Rev. B. B. Crimm, the "cowboy evangelist," featured the eighth annual banquet of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

The banquet, held in the basement of the First Mehodist church, was attended by more than 150 persons, about 30 of whom were out-of-town visitors.

New Directors

New directors elected were B. H. Preston, Ben McDonald, R. H. Henry, J. H. Chatham and G. R. Kincaid.

Cooperation and teamwork were stressed by Rev. Mr. Crimm in his address. He is conducting a union revival in Burkburnett.

The evangelist praised the work being accomplished by chambers of commerce throughout the state and declared that any "oil boom town would be inhabited by only bats and rats in 10 years if it was not for the chamber of commerce work."

Cooperation Urged

"Everyone should cooperate in making Burkburnett a bigger and better city," the speaker said. "Generally there are a few men who do all the work in a chamber of commerce. This should not be. Every man should get into the work and do his part. A city must look ahead and plan for tomorrow."

Rev. Mr. Crimm urged every busi-

MASSACRE OF BEER RUNNERS OPENS UP WAR

Police Head Says Gangsters Spelled Own Doom By Gory Outrage

FIRING SQUAD STYLE

Rival Racketeers Line Victims Along Wall And Open Barrage

By W. F. SULLIVAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—At an hour when the city was imbued with the love and spirit of St. Valentine, gangland sent a message of hate and death—a massacre of seven rivals for supremacy of Chicago's gigantic beer trade.

The murderous gangsters poured a volley of hot lead and slugs into the stronghold of a rival leader and when they left seven bodies remained as evidence of the vengeance wrought.

The massacre took place in a cartage company's garage, said to be the stronghold of "Bugs" Moran, second successor to Dion O'Bannion, Irish gang chieftain, who was killed when his followers clashed with the Sicilian element in the liquor trade.

City's First Massacre

It was the first gang massacre in the long, bloody history of the Chicago beer war which broke out 10 years ago as rivals killed off each other for control.

Driving up to the garage in two automobiles, five men dashed into the garage. They found seven men inside.

Caught off their guard, the seven apparently turned to face sawed-off shotguns and revolvers.

A volley of bullets, which to residents in the vicinity sounded like the rapid fire of machine guns, was heard.

Dead men tell no tales, and no one was left to tell the true scene.

Brothers Killed

Among those killed were Pete and Frank Gusenberg, brothers, and lieutenants of "Bugs" Moran, rival of the famous Aiello gang.

James Clark, brother-in-law of Moran, and owner of the garage, and Arthur Hayes, said to be a former state representative, also were identified as victims. The other three dead were identified as Frank Foster, truck driver; Al Weinshanks and Frank May, mechanic in the garage.

Police, reconstructing the scene after viewing the shambles, gave their version of the attack.

The invaders covered their victims the moment the signal of "attack" was sounded. The seven men were lined up against a wall and shot down in cold blood with no chance to retaliate or to defend their lives.

Room in Jumble

Some of the bodies were faced to the front, others to the wall, giving an indication that the five

Two-Year Prison Term Given Wichitan on Liquor Charge Here

Frank S. Reynolds was given a two year penitentiary sentence for the transportation of whisky by the verdict of a jury in the 89th district court Thursday afternoon.

The verdict, alloting one of the heaviest punishments ever imposed on whisky charges in the county, was the second prison sentence obtained by the state within two days, F. L. (Chief) Eaves having been given seven years for assault to rob Wednesday afternoon.

According to the testimony introduced by Sam Spence, district attorney, Reynolds was arrested early in January by Charlie Gant and W. W. Belcher, deputy sheriffs, after a chase on the Iowa Park highway which ended after the officers had shot out the tires of a truck. Madelyn Foster was arrested under similar charges at the same time.

Luther Pendergraft, brother of Arthur Pendergraft, slain in Wichita county on Jan. 27, was one of the witnesses called by Mr. Spence in rebuttal of defense testimony. A motion for a new trial will be filed Friday, Shields Heyser, defense attorney, announced after the verdict Thursday afternoon.

Pharmacy Debate Brings Up Long's 'Qualifications'

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (AP)—The "platform" upon which Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls was elected figured in a flareup today during debate over a bill to prevent any person other than a graduate of a recognized college of pharmacy from applying for a license and to prohibit merchants from retailing drugs in broken packages. The bill, which passed the senate, carried by an 88-18 vote after a three-hour wrangle.

Long, who supported the measure, was asked by Barnett of Greenville if he did not remark in his campaign "the legislature was the bunk."

"And didn't you state in an interview that you were seeking a seat because you didn't have any qualifications?" Baldwin of Waco asked.

"I did," Long answered, "and there are several more here in the same shape."

Under the measure, the word "pharmacy" can be used on signs only by stores continuously employing registered pharmacists.

AUTO TAXES TOTAL $300,000

County Receives $116,000 Of January Collections

More than $300,000 in automobile license fees was collected in the office of the tax collector during the month of January, according to figures compiled by Tom McHam, county treasurer, and Charles R. Parker, deputy collector in charge of automobile registration.

Of this amount $116,065.60 stayed in the county and $190,884.35 went to the state, the figures show.

Mr. McHam Thursday received checks totaling more than $55,000 as the county's portion of automobile taxes collected during the latter part of January, two other large payments having been previously turned into the treasury. The checks turned in Thursday included one for $30,362.57 horse power fees, one for $122.47 interest, and a third for $16,519.36, as the county's share of the weight fees. The state has received $112,670.36 from weight fees from Wichita county this year, according to Mr. Parker's figures.

County Depository Held Liable for Interests

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—A county depository is liable to the state and county for interest from the date all credits are given the collector's account, Attorney General Claude Pollard ruled today in an opinion to S. H. Terrell, comptroller. This is true even though the credits may be represented by checks or drafts drawn on other banks, he said.

Arms Conference Rumors Are Denied in Britain

LONDON, Feb. 14. (US)—"There is absolutely no truth in the report that Great Britain is considering reopening the question of a new disarmament conference with the United States."

TALOGA, Okla., Feb. 14. (AP)—Declared to have been attempting to reconcile his parents, Lloyd Hollingsworth, 27, killed his father, William Hollingsworth, and his brother, William Jr., early today at his father's farm home near here.

N. S. Corn, attorney for the slayer, said a companion, whom he declined to name, accompanied Lloyd Hollingsworth to his father's farm and witnessed the quarrel that preceded the slaying.

The companion, Corn said, declared that the elder Hollingsworth had brandished two pistols and William Jr. had reached for one of the guns before Lloyd opened fire with a double-barreled shotgun.

Lloyd Hollingsworth surrendered to authorities immediately after the shooting. He was held pending preparation of murder charges.

WIFE CHARGED WITH HUSBAND'S MURDER

MEXIA, Texas, Feb. 14. (AP)—Her husband dead from a bullet through his heart, Mrs. William Deakle of Teague was released on $2,000 bond at Fairfield today, charged with murder.

Deakle, a fireman on the Trinity & Brazos Valley railroad, was shot to death last night. Mrs. Deakle surrendered to officers shortly afterward, and, after she had made a statement, murder charges were filed against her. The statement, officers said, did not indicate a motive for the shooting.

An examining trial is to be held at Fairfield tomorrow.

FIRING SQUAD SLAYS SEVEN

Chicago Gangsters Resume Bloody Warfare

gangsters let loose their deadly bullets as the victims walked to their posts to face the firing squad.

Four of the bodies were lying face upward, one had fallen across the feet of a dead companion, another faced toward the brick wall interior and the seventh was bent over one of several chairs.

Chairs were overturned as the seven, in their march to the wall, apparently made a last desperate attempt to get "under cover." Automobile tires and accessories were tumbled from a rack nearby as the evidence of a brief commotion and struggle that was silenced by the bullets of the enemy.

Shots Unestimated

No estimate of the number of shots fired could be attempted. Numerous shotgun slugs were found in the wall, some of the bodies were riddled and other bullets presumably missed their aim and left no visible marks in the wild attempt to wipe out the rival gang.

The garage, an inconspicuous one-story building, is located in a poor section of Clark street on the near-north side of the city. On one side is located a modest dwelling, while on the other is a cheap apartment building beneath which Sam Schneider runs a tailor shop.

To all outward appearances, the neighborhood, and garage itself, was the ordinary, peaceful district. A sign painted on the window, reading "S. M. C. Cartage Company," gave no hint of a powerful gang stronghold.

50 Shells Found

The same peaceful appearance was resumed in the neighborhood again tonight, as the exterior of the building bore no marks of the bloody battle inside.

Fifty shotgun shells, several empty cartridges and one revolver were found on the floor.

"The gangsters have declared war openly and boldly, and the police department has accepted the challenge," Police Commissioner William Russell announced at the scene of the massacre.

"It's the last straw. I am issuing orders for the arrest of every gangster, hoodlum and racketeer in the city."

Gangland had been comparatively quiet for the past several weeks. No outbreaks of any consequence had occurred since police heads sent squads of detectives and uniformed officers on city-wide drives of gambling dives, saloons, beer flats and into gangster haunts.

Calm Was Deceiving

Thousands of police characters, hoodlums and asupects were rounded up. Guns of all description were taken in the raids.

"Gangland was disarmed," the city felt.

But the peace was merely the ominous calm which, true to tradition, always precedes an outbreak of war among the inhabitants of gangland and the underworld.

The "man with the gun" was not disarmed, as the police and rival gangsters learned today.

The seven names added to the grim roll of gangland today take place in line with such colorful figures as "Big Jim" Colosimo, "Big Tim" Murphy, "Mossy" Enright, Dion O'Bannion, Hymie Weiss, Angelo Genna, "Tony" Genna, Henry Spingola and "Schemer" Drucci.

Bodies Richly Clad

Some of those in the list had met their death before the days of prohibition, before the illicit traffic in liquor and beer had brought forth armies of men to battle to death to gain control of the lucrative business.

An evidence of gangster wealth was seen today in an examination of the bodies in the garage today. Vengeance was the only thought behind the attack today, as money and valuables were untouched.

In the wallet of Foster was found $1,135; Weinshank wore a diamond worth $1,000 and carried a large sum of money; Hays had $900 in bills in his pockets, and smaller amounts were found on others.

Frank Gusenberg was the only one of the seven who was alive when police arrived at the garage. He died a short time later in a hospital, and kept the traditional code of gangland not to "squawk."

Wounded Man Mum

Bending over the hospital cot just before Gusenberg died, Sergt. Clarence Sweeney asked: "Who shot you, Frank?"

"No one," the gangster mumbled, and a few minutes later he died with the secret sealed behind his lips.

Every high police official in the Chicago department was summoned by Commissioner Russell to the scene of the shooting. A thorough investigation was immediately launched and every resident in the neighborhood who had heard the shooting was questioned.

No one was found who could give a description of the men. Only one person, Mrs. Jeanette Landsman, whose home adjoins the garage, which is owned by the S. M. C. Cartage company, had seen the five men leaving the building.

"I heard a roar of shots, screams and curses," she told the police. "I knew that murder was being committed and I ran to the window. All I saw was a gang of men jump into two large machines and drive away."

Kidnaping Possible

Large holes in the wall where many of the slugs and bullets had imbedded indicated to police the men were anxious only to carry out their mission of death and to get away.

Extra precautions were planned tonight to prevent any attempt at gang reprisals. Some believed that "Bugs" Moran, leader of the gang victims, had been kidnaped by their rivals in today's attack and that but few followers remained to attempt revenge.

But police know from past performances that similar situations have prevailed before only to have successors spring up to take the places of the leaders and to reopen the warfare.

Negro Helps Friend Cash $80 Check, Then Takes Money at Gun Point

A negro man who tricked his "partner" and hisjacked him of $80 Tuesday night was arrested Thursday afternoon by W. P. Belcher and Ellis Summers, city officers.

The negro had gone to the bank with his friend to identity him so he could get a check cashed and after the owner of the $80 had gone into a cafe later in the day he called him out into the alley and hijacked him, according to the story told to the officers.

When the officers located the hijacker in a colored cafe Thursday afternoon the black boy who had lost the money lost no time in identifying him as his assailant.

Charges will be filed against the negro Friday morning, the officers said.

Lions Club Gives Charter of Good Wishes to Magees

A large number of Electra and Wichita Falls Lions club members, together with their wives, surprised Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Magee with a house-warming party Wednesday night in their recently completed home at 2201 Berkeley drive and held a unique charter-presentation ceremony in recognition of Mr. Magee's activity in Lion's club activity in the two cities.

Mr. Magee was formerly president of the Electra club and served also as district governor, prior to his moving to Wichita Falls last year. He has been active in the local club, and at present heads the campaign now being staged for the erection of a permanent structure at the municipal zoo, which was originated by the Lions club.

Dr. R. H. Graham, local Lions club president, made the presentation speech in tendering to Mr. Magee a charter of good wishes.

The charter was signed by Dr. and Mrs. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stone, of Wichita Falls; Mr and Mrs. J. M. Hemby, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Asbill, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Halton, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Slaughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. S. Totten, Mr. and Mrs. William Austin, C. P. Price, Freeman Miller, B. C. Scott, Jack Nelson, W. B. Babcock, G. R. Davidson, John B. McKinley of Electra.

A speech of welcome by Mr. Magee and a response by G. Rollo Davidson, president of the Electra club, were followed by a singsong and informal entertainment. Music was furnished by a colored orchestra while members of the party were engaged with hot coffee, "Coney islands," and doughnuts.

NO ALIBIS, THEN

BERLIN.—A German inventor has suggested one clock to beat time for the world. Located in a central observatory, the ticks of this clock would be broadcast by wireless and the clocks throughout the world brought as close together as one one-hundred-thousandth of a second, he says.

Waco $1,000,000 Balm Suit Before Court

WACO, Texas, Feb. 14. (UP)—Mrs. Pio Crespi, principal figure in a $1,000,000 alienation of affection suit styled Willard Wigley versus Pio Crespi which was on trial here today, sat apparently unmoved through the preliminary court procedure today.

Depositions from prominent Wacoans were introduced as evidence from the plaintiff as the first move in the legal battle.

The "million dollar alienation suit," as it is referred to in McLennan courts, was filed soon after Mrs. Willard Wigley obtained a divorce from her husband which was granted in November, 1927. At that time the court granted Wigley, 28, custody of two sons. His former wife was married to Pio Crespi Feb. 6, 1928, in Dallas where they not live.

Police Capture Escaped Inmate of Hospital

One of two Wichita Falls State hospital inmates who escaped from the hospital early Thursday morning was captured late Thursday afternoon by W. P. Belcher and Ellis Summers, city officers, and returned to the hospital.

The two patients slipped from one of the hospital buildings and escaped from the grounds before they were discovered, hospital attendants said. Both of them were said to have been model patients since they have been confined and have never given trouble before.

The other escaped patient was still at large Thursday night hospital attendants said.

Washington's 'Valentine' Baby Has Birthday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (US)—Little Paulina Longworth, one of babydom's important personages and Washington's most famous valentine baby, celebrated her fourth birthday today.

Long since have her parents, speaker and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, decreed that their young daughter should stay out of the limelight of publicity, and so, Paulina, unlike other illustrious folk, didn't give the press a birthday interview.

Final Pleas for Higher Paper Tariff Heard

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Hearing testimony of more than 20 witnesses who sought additional tariff protection on various classes of paper and paper products, the house ways and means committee today concluded a two day hearing on revision of this schedule of the Fordney-McCumber act.

Tomorrow it will begin a three day hearing on the sundry schedule on which about 150 witnesses have asked to be heard.

MRS. HAMMOND TO HAVE DAY

Woman Called to Appear In Senate Trial

he speaks, he grits his teeth, clenches his fists and belabors his hearers like a man in physical combat.

Dominates Conversation

He is expected to assume this familiar role before the woman whom others have testified shook her fists in the face of the governor and told him to "shut up" when they disagreed over policies.

Mrs. Hammonds is short and attractive, appearing much like a young school teacher. She dominates the average conversation with a militant and nervous personality—quick to question and command. At an ice cream social, she would be the lady to dip the cream and lock the church doors.

Scarcely a day passed in the present Oklahoma investigation, but that some witness related how Mrs. Hammonds dominated this and that department policy. Today, a clerk testified she asked him to spy on Gus Wollard, chairman of the state board of affairs, to determine his policies.

Impeachers In "Mill"

Others have said she "hired and fired" employes and "did all the talking" in the governor's office.

Meanwhile, the current investigations have been reduced to legal points surrounding the right of a governor to use deficiency certificates for expenditures not provided by the legislature. The executive trial became so involved today that Senator Gid Graham, member of the impeachment court, arose and complained "we are milling around like a bunch of wild steers and getting nowhere."

Despite this, the galleries were filled again in the latter part of the day by curious crowds come to see Johnston—a quiet, scholarly man—fight for the privilege of serving two years more of his four-year term. He sits through the sessions at the counsel table, saying nothing and taking lengthy notes.

BIRTH RATE UP

LONDON—The birth rate in England and Wales, for some time on the downward trend, has changed directions and is now climbing. The 168,099 births in the first quarter of this year represented an increase of 15,345 over the preceding quarter, and 973 over the similar period of 1927.

LINDY AT SEA

Ace Goes Fishing to Get Away From Inquisitive World

BELLE ISLE, MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 14. (US)—Taking the cue from his next door neighbor President-elect Hoover, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took the afternoon off and went fishing today. Tonight Lindbergh was a dinner guest of the president-elect for the second time since Mr. Hoover's arrival here.

At the Adams home it was tacitly admitted that his cruise on Biscayne bay was more for the purpose of shaking off inquiring reporters than it was to try his hand at the difficult art of sailfishing.

For the past two days Lindbergh has been silent as the sphinx regarding his forthcoming marriage to Miss Anna Morrow.

Lindy's 'Valentine' Sends Him Greetings

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 14. (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today received the following wire from a reader in Toronto, Canada:

"Tell me, Lucky Lindy, who you mean by 'we';
Is it you and your fiancee, or still just you and me?"

The verse was headed "Valentine from Lindbergh's old slave, the Spirit of St. Louis, to the Lone Eagle."

Rift in Anderson Household Is Denied

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 14 (INS)—"We've been married for 29 years and are perfectly happy. I think I am safe in saying that the report is untrue and certainly not 'verified'."

Indignantly, Mrs. Olga Anderson today denied eastern reports that her husband, Capt. F. E. Anderson of the steamship President Wilson, was about to become engaged to Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh.

Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk is visiting in Dallas. She is expected to return on Monday of next week.

U. S. District Clerk Back

Miss Jessie Cowan, clerk of the United States district court, is able to be back in her ofice at the courthouse after a two weeks' illness.

HOOBLER SEEKS ATTORNEY'S AID

Officers Drop Hunt For Gun in Slaying

At the close of a day's further investigation of the killing of Arthur Pendergraft here on Jan. 27, C. O. Hooper, sheriff of Cotton county, Oklahoma, home of the slain man, Thursday afternoon announced that he has dropped the theory of a borrowed weapon since D. J. Hoobler, accused of the shooting, had told him the history of his possession of the gun that did the shooting.

Hoobler Thursday afternoon told Sheriff Hooper that he had obtained the gun in trade here last fall and told of an incident in which it had been taken from him from Jim Glenn, night chief of police, Mr. Hooper said. His story was substantiated by Mr. Glenn and by the man who sold Hooper the gun. The accused man repeated his assertion that he had thrown the pistol away after the shooting. No trace has ever been found of the gun or of a wagon sheet in which Hoobler said he wrapped the slain man after the affray.

Seeks Advice

After he had been questioned at length by the Cotton county officer, Hoobler Thursday afternoon made his first move in planning his defense against a charge of murder. He sent for John Davenport, attorney, with a view to retaining his services. He told Mr. Davenport that he expected friends to arrive here Friday to offer their support in his defense.

Hoobler last Saturday made a statement to Sheriff Hooper, in which he told of a fight on the Henrietta road which he said led to the shooting. Pendergraft, his employer for 11 years, had threatened him with a crank handle, the accused man said. After his statement he led officers to the place near the head of Lake Wichita where the body of Mr. Pendergraft, missing almost two weeks, was found.

Brother Here

Luther Pendergraft, brother of the slain man, was also in Wichita Falls helping in the investigation Thursday. He repeated his belief that the quarrel had grown out of the fact that Hoobler is said to have been in debt to Mr. Pendergraft and to others.

Mr. Hooper said that he agreed with Frank Morgan, constable, in a belief that the gun found in the home of a woman on Lake street Tuesday is not the gun used in the shooting. Mr. Morgan examined the gun early Tuesday afternoon and expressed the belief that it had not been discharged within a year. Members of the sheriff's department later seized the weapon.

Hit and Run Fiend Causes Girl's Death

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Feb. 14 (UP)—A search was in progress here today for a hit-and-run motorist who last night struck and killed Essie Collins, 17 years old, as she was on her way to a dance.

Miss Collins, who lived near here, and six companions were on the highway when an automobile struck her, hurling her more than 20 feet. The girl's companion said the car was occupied by one man.

Floyd County Farmer Injured at Lockney

Special to The Record News

LOCKNEY, Texas, Feb. 14.—Ira Simpson, prominent Floyd county farmer, suffered severe internal injuries late Wednesday evening when the car he was driving collided with one driven by J. Smalley, local merchant. The accident occurred at the intersection of East Fourth street and state highway 28. Smalley was uninjured.

'Voodoo' Doctor Charged With Grocer's Murder

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (INS)—A charge of murder was filed today against William Adams, negro "voodoo" doctor, in connection with the slaying last night of William Glober, 47, Austin grocer. Adams has confessed the crime, officers said.

Adams is an ex-convict. He earned his living by practicing "black art" upon the superstitions of his race, it was stated.

Back at Courthouse

Miss Kate Carroll, secretary to Wayne Somerville, county attorney, was back at her desk in the courthouse Thursday after a 10 days' illness.

EMIGRANT HAS TOUGH TIME

Sympathy for Non-English Speaking Ones Asked

By PEARL GROSS

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (US)—"How can the Average American understand the tragedy of the non-English speaking European who comes to this country?"

Close to the heart of Prof. O. E. Rolvagg, of the department of literature at St. Olaf's college, Northfield, Minn., is the question of Americanization methods which has interested him for many years.

"The problem of English-speaking emigrants, namely the Irish, Scotch and English, who come to America—is very easily solved," declared Professor Rolvaag, in an interview here today. "For these people, it is no problem, but for the non-English speaking emigrant all is vitally different.

"The English-speaking European leaps full-grown into American society because the speech has been his for centuries; whereas, the German, Scandinavian and southern European, in addition to finding himself in a new land, has to acquire a new language. What does this mean?

"It means changing his very soul."

Some of the soul-stirring conflict which the Scandinavian pioneer underwent in the days of the early West are described in Rolvaag's two books, "Giants of the Earth" and "Peder Victorious." Both of Professor Rolvaag's novels were written in the Scandinavian language and translated into English. Although he has been living in the United States since 1896, Professor Rolvaag preferred to write in his native tongue. The translation of his novels into English last year was a literary event—the first time an English-speaking resident of America was "translated"—literally speaking.

"The emigrant mother faces the tragedy of not being able to see life in the same terms as her child who is born in the new country. She cannot communicate intelligently with him. The public school takes him and gradually she grows away from the child. She cannot convey her emotional life to the child. And the child, in turn, cannot understand her. This peculiar anachronism, is a familiar scene in many homes in America today."

Thus, Professor Rolvaag sums up his plea for sympathy toward the non-English speaking emigrant, whom he declares is very much misunderstood in present day American life; that none of the quick methods of Americanization are worth while as long as tragedy results in the homes of "new Americans."

German Theaters Nearly on Rocks

BERLIN, Feb. 14. (US) — The German film industry is facing a crisis. The movie public is growing smaller. During the last three months there has been a falling off of 20 per cent in the attendance at the movie theaters.

The German film producers are worried. And the reason is clear. For the overwhelming majority of the pictures that appeal to the German movie public are American pictures.

But in their effort to build up by artificial means, the German movie industry, German film producers have induced the government to limit the number of Hollywood made films that may be imported.

This restriction on American films and deliberate boycotting of American films in theaters owned by German film producers is having its effect.

Many Get Back Young Appetite

Quick lunches, usually cold, gulped down so the "dinner hour" will not be over before you can do a little playing, is the best way to ruin your stomach, and you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, bloating, nervousness, headaches; and, worst of all you get thin, pale and weak.

If you must eat that way, always keep a package of Pape's Diapepsin handy so you can chew one of the pleasant-tasting tablets after your meals. It keeps the food sweet so your stomach can digest it.

Follow the experience of thousands who again have a young appetite. All druggists recommend and guarantee Pape's Diapepsin to relieve indigestion and sweeten the stomach in 5 minutes.—Adv.

Women Elected Hoover, Says Ross

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Feb. 14. (UP)—Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, here after concluding a lecture tour, in a statement tonight said that Herbert Hoover's victory last November was due to the votes cast by women who favor retention of prohibition.

"Women are assuming a new role in politics and in world affairs," Mrs. Ross said. "In the past, women could do little more than weep and pray when war was threatened, but today she can take her place and assume an equal responsibility and make her presence felt."

Mrs. Ross said her political achievements were due to the support of women, and added that women of the future will become a dominating factor in party politics and political achievements.

"Although I am an ardent friend of prohibition and the eighteenth amendment, I supported Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee in the campaign," she continued. "I can justify my support of my party's candidate, on the grounds that the people of this country would not have allowed Smith to tamper with the eighteenth amendment, and the fact that there were other important questions on which I preferred the stand taken by the Democratic party."

ANOTHER FLU WAVE POSSIBLE

Malady Is on Increase in Texas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Surgeon General Cumming of the public health service said today that while influenza prevalence and mortality in the United States are still decreasing, there is as yet no indication that the predicted second and more severe wave of the disease will not materialize.

Reports from 41 states, the district of Columbia and New York City today showed a total of 16,612 new cases during the week ending Feb. 9, compared with 25,129 in the same territory during the preceding week.

Dr. Cumming said, in another section of the world virtually the entire population of Rotuma, an island off the coast of Australia, has been stricken.

"State reports in this country indicate the outbreak is subsiding in many sections," he said, "but the prevalence is still increasing in some parts. Texas, for instance, had a large increase during the past week."

Poison Booze Claims Woman as Victim

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14. (US)—Poison liquor claimed a new victim here today, with the result that Mrs. Dolly Girard, 30, is in a hospital partially paralyzed, speechless and almost blind. She is unable to tell police where she obtained the liquor, which apparently was practically pure wood alcohol.

Fees for Justice Courts Are Fixed

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—The financial problem confronting justices of the peace through the ruling several months ago by the court of criminal appeals that justices could not receive fees in cases dependent on a conviction was solved in some measure today through passage by the house of a bill written by Senator Woodward of Coleman.

The bill provides that fees for both the justice and county judge shall total $3 in counties of 35,000 population and less and $2 in more thickly populated sections, regardless of what final disposition is made of the criminal case.

The officers are forced to present to the commissioners court a written account specifying each criminal case in which they have acted. The commissioners court is required to approve the account and order a draft issued upon the county treasurer in favor of the judge or justice.

Under an amendment drafted by Representative Johnson of Carrizo Springs and approved by the house, all fees and costs shall be turned into the county treasury.

Representative Sinks of Giddings was successful in his attempt to inject an amendment which would have prevented any official from receiving fees if his salary amounted to more than $3,000 annually.

Editor Falls Eleven Floors to His Death

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (UP)—A man, believed to have been W. O. Gundlach, editor of a neighborhood newspaper, fell to his death from a loop building tonight. Footprints in the snow on the ledge of the 11th floor, indicated the distance of the fall. Identification was made by papers in the man's pocket. The name correspondent with initials on his belt buckle and watch.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories: tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as 10 times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.—Adv.

Mexican Campaign Like Pre-Volstead Days Here

DEL RIO, Texas, Feb. 14. (UP)—A presidential campaign and speechmaking in Mexico is similar to such occasions in the United States before prohibition, according to a United Press correspondent who attended Gen. Antonio Villarreal's campaign meeting Tuesday night in Vina Acuna.

A large crowd gathered in the city to hear the candidate, according to the report. There were no serious disorders, but there was great enthusiasm, much drinking and husky cries of "Bravo."

The election to name President Portes Gils' successor is to be held this fall. General Villarreal declared in his address that he will win.

Campfire Group Entertains Bible Class of First Methodist Church

Mrs. Anna Barnhill entertained members of the Ladies Bible class of the First Methodist church at the church Thursday afternoon, when the program was given by Mrs. Barnhill's campfire group, the Ihaha.

The program was opened with a cheer to the class, "Our Hearts to You, Our Hands to You," and was followed by "In the Evening at Letoll" by the group. Miss Georgia Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jo Katherine Gee, sang "In the Hills," after which the group sang "That's a Campfire Girl." Miss Helen Beck gave a clever reading.

Immediately following the lesson which was given by Mrs. J. A. Shepherd the girls served dainty refreshment plates to Mesdames J. B. Stokes, J. A. Shepherd, W. C. Highflower, A. B. Lipscomb, Hardesty McNeely, A. E. Brown, E. A. Cox, J. M. Brown, Mary White, J. A. Lowry, A. B. Covey, L. Gridley, E. N. Hibbs, W. G. Stuckey, J. T. Baggett, R. P. Parrish, Francis Rahl, J. E. "SMOCKING ADDS A FINE TOUCH"

Pattern 8310

Little round pockets, a turnover collar that fits snugly about the neck and groups of smocking, are the smart touches on this cunning bloomer frock for a small girl. There is something unusually smart about this model, and a bit of hand work always adds charm. Design 8310 boasts a yoke back and front, and set-in well fitting sleeves and shoulders.

Wash material is used for this outfit, linen, percale or gingham. It may be made of one color or with collar, cuffs and pockets in contrasting color. Then the smocking would be done in the contrasting shade. If one has no time for smocking gathers will do very nicely.

May be obtained only in sizes 2, 4 and 6.

Size 2 requires 2 yards, 36-inch fabric, 1¾ yards plain and ¼ yard contrasting.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of 15 cents in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern Dept., 243 W. 17th street, New York City.

Unlike Her Opposite, Woman Disregards Man's Appearance

A Man's Esthetic Sense Rebels at a Homely Wife, but a Woman Looks at a Man's Character Instead of His Face When She Considers His Desirability as a Husband.

In trying to solve the problem of why marriage is so often a failure a questionnaire was sent out not long ago to a thousand middle-aged married couples asking them, among other things, what qualities they found most distasteful in their husbands and wives, and, in particular, what one specific thing in the partners of their bosoms got most upon their nerves.

An amazingly large number of men replied that their chief objection to their wives was that they were no longer young and beautiful, whereas not a single woman mentioned her husband's lack of pulchritude among his shortcomings.

There is food for thought in this. Are men, in reality, so much greater beauty lovers than women? Or is this just an alibi for a wandering foot? Certainly the average man exhibits no superdeveloped esthetic sense except as it pertains to flappers. On the contrary, it is women who seem to yearn after abstract beauty more than men. In the art galleries you will see more women than men. Housewives organize clubs for the study of art so that they may better appreciate fine pictures and statuary and tapestries, but if there is any tired business men's art study club, I have never heard of it, and in most homes it is the wife and not the husband who is responsible for its adornment, if there is any.

The man is satisfied with solid comfort. Often he fights against curtains and draperies, and sneers at antiques, and howls over having to pay for Oriental rugs when you can get linoleum so much cheaper, and it is the wife who insists on furniture that is made on beautiful lines, and draperies and carpets of rich and lovely covering.

So far as personal beauty goes, the middle-aged wife has as much right to be critical of her middle-aged husband as he has of her. If she is no longer the Prettiums he married, neither is he the slim young sheik that she espoused. If she is no longer as alluring as a debutante, neither is there any call to romance in a bald-headed gentleman with a bay-windowed figure.

Looking over any assemblage of middle-aged people, the women are quite as easy on the eyes as the men. Perhaps more so, for women have the advantage of the rouge pot and the powder puff, and of being able to deck themselves out in clothes that camouflage their defects and flatter their good points, whereas men are forced to remain as homely as God and time have made them.

Yet it is men who claim that they find the lack of beauty in their wives harder to live with than nagging, temper, nerves, extravagance, bad housekeeping, any of the sins which one might reasonably suppose would wreck matrimony. It is men who only too often offer as an excuse for their infidelity the fact that their wives have got old and worn in their service, and are no longer pleasing to gaze upon. They seem to think that they have the same right to trade in their old wives for new as they do their automobiles.

Undoubtedly just as many wives fall out of love with their husbands as men fall out of love with their wives. There are just as many disillusioned, disgruntled wives as there are husbands. Just as many women who find marriage a failure as men, but the thing that kills a woman's love for a man is not his taking on a few pounds of fat or losing a few hairs.

It is something bigger and more important than mere looks. It is coldness and neglect that has slayed her affection for him. Or it is grouchiness and surliness. Or it is stinginess and injustice. Or it is because she has found out that he is mean and little, without an ounce of generosity or honesty or loyalty in his soul.

It isn't because he has got stout and clumsy and grizzled and his cheeks sag, and his neck rolls over his collar, or because he has become gaunt and gray that she has ceased to love him. As long as he is tender and loving and good to her, she doesn't care a rap about how he looks.

You hear every day about some otherwise sane man divorcing his good old wife to marry a girl young enough to be his daughter, but you almost never hear of any woman being fool enough to divorce her husband to marry a pretty little cake-eater boy. As a matter of fact, the one place in which women show a superior intelligence to men is in putting a proper valuation on physical beauty. Men rate it at 90 per cent in judging women. The first question a man asks about a woman concerns her looks. He does not inquire if she is intelligent or broad-minded or entertaining or thrifty or domestic. He merely asks, "Is she pretty?"

Any beautiful moron has men fluttering around her like bees around a honey spot. Any nitwit with a peaches-and-cream complexion can marry early and often. Any girl with a natural wave in her hair and a boyish figure has dates to burn. But a homely girl may have brains, education, humor and every quality that fits her to be a good wife and never have a single beau to bless herself with.

You can't imagine men cutting in on a dance with a girl who is stout and freckle-faced and red-haired and who has a snub nose and protuberant ears. They would pass her up as if she had the leprosy, but there are plenty of boys of that kind who are perfect riots with the girls because they are intelligent and amusing and delightful companions.

Women don't judge a man by his looks. They don't care about it. Some of the ugliest men in history have been the greatest heart-smashers.

Worse still, men often marry for beauty, and when that is done they have nothing left. Perhaps that is why they consider that the chief defect in a wife is for her to lose her looks. But women look at a man's character instead of his face when they consider his desirability as a husband.

That is why I contend that when the time comes when women can openly choose their husbands we will have better and more lasting marriages. —DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—My wife and I would like your opinion on the following question: Which is the most fortunate, the wife who is loved or the one who is neglected? I never refuse my wife anything and she says I love her too much. Is there such a thing as being too good to your wife? —K. B.

Answer: There are two schools of thought in dealing with women. One holds to the theory that the way to hold a woman is with tenderness and kindness. The other contends that the way to make a woman eat out of your hands is to treat her rough.

Evidently your wife belongs to the latter class, and you might pep up her interest in you by giving her a black eye now and then.

However, most women respond to the kindness, and the more their husbands love them, the happier they are, provided, of course, the men don't let themselves be run over. No woman ever loves the man she henpecks.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Wash clothes in water softened with Melo—save ⅓ to ½ the usual amount of soap

CLOTHES washed in hard water are hard to get clean. The hardness in the water combines with the soap and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. It gets into the fabric of the clothes. No amount of rinsing can get it all out.

But soften hard water with Melo and there isn't any scum. The water makes wonderful suds. Melo saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap ordinarily used. With or without soap, water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

Hoover to Make Personal Tour Of Florida Flood Regions Today

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14. (UP)—President-elect Hoover starts early tomorrow on a personal survey of Florida's flood district in the everglades about lake Okeechobee.

With the inspection, he will decide whether the government should pay the whole cost of protective measures against the recurrence of such a flood as that which last year's hurricane whipped up on the lake to devastate the surrounding regions and take a toll of 2,000 lives.

Florida is all ready with the arguments with which she will seek to convince the president-elect, Major Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and Chairman Frank Reid, of the house flood control committee, that the government should pay the whole cost.

This is a very notable occasion in Florida's history, and she has prepared for it. A motor parade of 20 automobiles will leave here at 8:30 in the morning, carrying, besides the president-elect, Jadwin and Reid, a group of Florida officials, headed by Gov. Doyle Carlton and his cabinet, and also national committeeman Glenn B. Skipper.

Texas House Votes To Make Second Junket

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—The house today accepted an invitation from the Bexar county delegation and city officials of San Antonio to attend the international exposition and livestock show in San Antonio, March 2.

Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, presented the invitation on behalf of Mayor C. H. Chambers.

The trip will be second legislative junket, members of both houses recently making a trip to Houston.

RUMORS HINDER DEBT EXPERTS

Nations Warned Against Political Clashes

By GEORGE W. HINMAN, JR.

PARIS, Feb. 14. (US)—Fear lest political controversy fed by sensational rumors should compromise in advance the work being done towards solving the reparations problem arose today to confront the committee of experts.

While it is recognized that any agreement finally reached by the experts will carry the greatest weight, particularly in the financially powerful United States and Great Britain, there is also an appreciation of the fact that the plan must be politically acceptable to the two countries most involved in the controversy—France and Germany.

Following outbursts from Berlin and Paris setting forth insistently the conflicting views of the Germans and French, the semi-official "temps" sounded a note of warning this evening against carrying on an international political controversy while the world's foremost financiers are endeavoring to work out a solution on a business basis.

The Journal's editorial reflected the authoritative opinion of semi-official quarters which regards unfavorably the fanciful accounts picturing the experts as considering evacuation of the Rhineland, or one nation's delegates as taking an unequivocal stand relative to the vital points at issue.

Presentation by the Germans of economic reviews of conditions in their country continued at today's session of the experts' committee. The session was especially concerned with the German balance of trade including both the visible and invisible items.

Although thus far no single written note has been taken in the committee room, today's presentation was so complicated that the experts recessed early so as to allow all an opportunity to study the German figures before tomorrow morning.

A bit of by-play was furnished today when a non-Japanese was observed sitting at a small table reserved for the Japanese experts. After being disavowed by the Japanese and others present, the individual was ousted as being a too curious intruder.

CABINET MAY HAVE NEW SEAT

Department of Transportation May Be Created

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (US)—Possibility that a new portfolio may be added to the cabinet of President Hoover, with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh or present Assistant Secretary of Commerce McCracken as the leading candidates, loomed today as intimate official circles discussed prospects of a department of transportation and communication.

The new department would take in the supervision of radio, railroads, highways, waterways, wire communications and numerous small items as well as aeronautics. It was considered highly probable, however, that if such a department is created the post will be given to an air expert rather than a general executive.

The various specialized branches of the department would be handled by assistant secretaries, each an expert in the particular line of work with which his division has to deal.

At present the communication and transportation affairs of the government are scattered about as the wards of other departments, or else handled by independent commissions. The new department would probably include the Interstate Commerce commission, the railroad administration, the shipping board, the aeronautical board, the national advisory committee for aeronautics, the inland waterways corporation and the Federal Radio commission, all of which are now independent organizations of the government.

It is also highly probable that the federal bureau of public roads, now under the department of agriculture, and the radio division, the aeronautics branch, and the bureau of navigation, now all under the department of commerce, would be included.

Bill Would Make Gift Of Hootch a Felony

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 14. (UP)—The Missouri state legislature today had before it a bill which if enacted into a law would make it a penitentiary offense even to give away homebrewed intoxicating liquor.

The bill was introduced today in the house of representatives by Thomas C. Crain. It would amend the present statute which makes such an act merely a misdemeanor.

Boulder Survey Plans Are Drawn

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (US)—Plans for a survey to determine how much of the land in Arizona under what is known as the Parker-Gila project may be irrigated from the Colorado river incidental to the construction of Boulder canyon dam, already are under way in the U. S. reclamation bureau.

This work will be one of the bureau's first undertakings when the bill authorizing the great Colorado river development becomes effective, it was stated today.

The Boulder dam bill provides $250,000 for investigation of the feasibility of various irrigation and power development projects in the Colorado river basin. Singling out the Parker-Gila project specifically the act calls for a report by Dec. 10, 1931. Although the money will not be available until six of the seven basin states have ratified the Boulder canyon act, the bureau is setting up its machinery for the survey.

LINDY'S LOVE AFFAIR IRONIC

Hero's Father Was Bitter Foe of Monied Morrows

By ALFRED P. RECK

(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—There is grim irony behind the romance of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Anne Spencer Morrow.

The flying colonel, in seeking the hand of the daughter of the former partner of J. P. Morgan, cast aside the heritage of political hatred from his father, the late anti-Wall street representative from Minnesota, the avowed enemy of big banking and the instigator of the 1911 "money trust" investigation.

Old, Old Story

The story is old. It has been sung by wandering minstrels. Shakespeare told it in his Romeo and Juliet when the enmity of the houses of Montague and Capulet failed to keep the lovers apart.

It has been retold many, many times with slight variations.

Now with the announcement Tuesday in Mexico City of the engagement of the daughter of Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, multimillionaire, and former Wall street banker, to the son of the late Rep. Charles A. Lindbergh, non-partisan free thinker and enemy of the house of Morgan, fiction becomes a reality.

Lindbergh's father never missed an opportunity to sink oratorical barbs into Wall street, big bankers and the house of Morgan.

In speeches on the floor of the house in 1917 and in a book published in 1918 he accused the firm of J. P. Morgan with responsibility for this country's participation in the world war.

"In many respects money is the strangest of all human creatures," the elder Lindbergh wrote in his book on "the money trust." On the one hand it has civilized the world and on the other has commercialized and in a manner criminalized the people.

"But that is not because the purpose of money is erroneous. It is because the office of the true money has been usurped by false money, which has served as a false god, and the worship of this false god has caused the degradation of the soul of humanity."

Accused Morrow

Lindbergh, senior, included the firm of J. P. Morgan, of which Dwight Morrow was until recently an active partner, in the "money trust."

Lindbergh, senior, advocated the necessity of teaching children the truth about money domination in this country. In 1928 he wrote the "Economic Pinch," a book dealing further with the "money trust" and Wall street banking houses.

In that book he wrote a sentence, which yesterday turned out to be an ironic prophecy:

"Give children the facts and they will correct things when it comes their time."

Senorita Rivals Peggy in Gems

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (US)—Peggy Joyce, one of stageland's premier collectors of costly and brilliant gems, particularly diamonds, will find the dark-haired, black-eyed Senorita Esther Roberts, Mexican star of the footlights, a worthy rival.

Loaded under an array of diamonds, rarely ever seen in these parts where "butter and egg men" are particularly generous with their diamond gifts, the Senorita Roberts reached here from Rio de Janiero today, on the Munson liner American Legion. Tomorrow with her diamond covered hands, she will sail forth for Mexico on the Ward liner Monterrey.

The dashing young senorita had as part of her jewelry display, two diamond rings, set with single stones of 16 carats each, one ring set with a 15 carat diamond, a brooch with three large diamonds, and four bracelets, so thickly covered with brilliant diamonds, that the platinum setting couldn't be seen.

Senorita Roberts has been appearing during the past season in various South American capitals. It was a successful tour, she said.

NATIVE OPERA WAS BIG FLOP

Earthquake Spoils Show in Venezuela

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (US)—Sixty-five members of the Manhattan Opera company were decidedly happy to land here from Venezuela today.

They came in on the S. S. Caracas from Caracas, where they had been to supply opera to the natives.

While customs officers went through their baggage, 65 pairs of trained vocal cords blended in a cry of indignation. Concentrating, this is what they wailed:

Having been engaged to play in the municipal theater in Caracas, the company, headed by Della Samoiloff, a soprano, formerly of the Chicago Civic Opera company; Lola Gorsey, prima donna; Nomerto Ardelli, tenor; and Pasquale Amato, baritone, arrived in that republic.

Just before their first performance, however, there came an earthquake to fill the natives' hearts with terror. For 10 days the company could not play and, consequently, there was no pay.

Miss Samoiloff explained what happened. She said:

"The police, when we did not meet our bills, promptly threw our business manager, Alfredo Salmaggi, in the one and only jail. So we agreed with the authorities to give a free performance if they would let Mr. Salmaggi go. After the performance, which was quite a success, we hurriedly boarded the boat for home."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognised by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

This Woman's Job is to try to ruin fine things

This New Way of Fadeless, Quicker Washing

A New Discovery That Ends Ruining Fine Things Even Under Most Frequent Washings—And Cuts Washing Time of Clothes and Dishes ONE-HALF or More

NEW light has been thrown on saving fine fabrics from ruin and fade, and fine china from dishpan wear, that often saves the average family hundreds of dollars yearly, and the housewife countless heartaches.

A fadeless way of heavy washing has been found. A way that makes any water (regardless how "hard" it may be) and ordinary household soap into a perfect No-Fade cleanser.

Fine lingerie is washed 50 times or more—without noticeable fade. Expensive hosiery saved from fade and wear almost unbelievably. And results proved before this new way goes to you.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene that you add to your washing water. Just a tablespoon or two.

Instantly, it takes all the harshness out of that water. Makes it soft as Rain-Water. So soft that it does the work with ONE-FOURTH the soap you use now. And thus ends danger of "soap eat" to fragile things.

At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly DISSOLVES all dirt, stains and grime. And thus cuts washing time, too—in machine or on board—ONE-HALF or more.

10¢ packages (12 oz.)

CLIMALENE

Use any kind of soap or soap flakes—the same soap you ordinarily do. Some 2 million women now are using it—for washing, for cleaning and in the dishpan.

Laboratory Proved

To assure results to you, we buy fine things: lingerie and delicate fabrics. Then by repeated washings, try to spoil or fade them.

We wash delicate lingerie, often 50 times—without perceptible fade. Children's rompers, 60 to 90 times. That's over a year's home washing. We wash gold-encrusted china hundreds of times—without a trace of gold gone. And thus prove the blandness of this way.

Consider, please, what those things mean to you. Consider, too, that the minute you put Climalene into water, all harshness is taken away—your hands protected from roughness, made soft and smoothly white. Then try it.

Remember the name—Climalene. Your grocer has it in 10c and 25c packages.

Herbert Kaufman's ATTILA Daily Editorial

THE "Yellow Peril" is here at last But not guised as fiction and jingoism prophesied.

It didn't arrive to the tramp of regiments, the clash of cannon, or the whir of propellers—the invader sneaked through, snugly stowed in a nursery shipment.

If we don't arm wits and drive the Japanese beetle out of the country, ultimate consequences threaten to be dreader and more enduring than the average havoc wrought by military conquest.

This is the most ominous and omnivorous foe that has yet set foot upon American soil.

The European borer, now sweeping Western granaries, is a specialist with a defined and restricted appetite, who sticks to the cornfield and an exclusive diet.

The implacable gypsy moth devastates only particular types of trees.

But this appalling and prolific scourge, scarcely bigger than a buckshot, not only multiplies between eye-winks but utterly denudes all deciduous life within flight reach.

It ravages foliage, fruit, flowers and garden truck, catholically exterminates lawns and berry patches, dotes on grapevines, and strips the last twig of oaks and sycamores.

It hibernates and breeds below frost levels, then mobilises fresh levies against vegetation each spring.

Bewildered entomologists and toxicologists confess that their experience suggests no counter-offensive.

THE search for a balancing parasite has winnowed Asia, but no acclimatable check seems procurable—except the geranium, which peculiarly secretes a deadly repellent: but how will we get enough geraniums to save the situation—or room to plant 'em?

State and federal quarantines have failed to confine the infernal plague to New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania, where it first appeared.

The department of agriculture issues warning that Maryland and Delaware are already in process of investment.

The beetle has reached the lower Hudson counties and, unless a supreme and cost-regardless resistance is offered, our entire continent will soon find itself at grips with a bug Hun.

Here is a malific force, literally striking at the very roots of prosperity—a merciless host which, like Attila, can boast that nothing survives in its wake.

If congress characteristically dawdles with the emergency, agriculture will take the surplus-crop quandary off its hands and substitute, instead, the sterner problem of re-stocking barren larders.

Millions for present defense will be cheaper than billions spent on later rehabilitation.

We're at war—and, as usual, unprepared!

Today in Texas History

FEBRUARY 15

1876—Third and last constitution of Texas was ratified by vote of the people.

1844—A climax in the diplomacy concerning annexation when the Texas government, being assured that the United States would lend military protection while annexation was pending, sent J. P. Henderson to Washington with full power to negotiate for the treaty.

Sir Joseph Duveen, art critic, was sued for $500,000 for declaring a supposed Da Vinci painting was not the real thing. Good place for a juror to enjoy a nice nap.

Before Einstein reached his theory that the earth and all are only an optical illusion, he must have spent considerable time studying the habits and manners of back-seat drivers.

The day will come when men will live forever, according to an Edinburgh scientist. That'll give everybody a chance to get the last installment paid up.

Your True Scientist

PICK UP any popular magazine and you'll get a good definition of what passes for success in modern America.

To succeed is to make a great deal of money. Everybody knows that. It is about the only standard we have. The poor boy who rises to power and affluence—especially affluence—is a stock figure in our fiction. Our idols are all wealthy men: Mellons, Fords, Fishers, Morgans and the like.

At the University of Wisconsin, however, there is a man who doesn't seem to take much stock in all of this.

He is a chemist, Prof. Harry Steenbock, and he has discovered a method of investing foods with the properties of ultra-violet rays, or Vitamin D, without affecting the taste of the foods. This is enormously important in the field of medicine, and could be made to yield an immense financial return.

But Professor Steenbock won't take a cent for it. Whatever money is sent to him—and the other day he got a check bearing five figures—he turns over to the university.

"A scientist usually makes a poor capitalist," he says. "If I commercialized my discoveries for my own profit it would mean the diversion of my own time to administration. What use is money personally to an individual if he receives enough to provide the reasonable needs and desires of himself and his family?"

The university has tried to make Professor Steenbock reconsider, but he has always refused. He asks only that profits go to finance further research. For himself, he will continue to exist on a professor's salary.

Suppose Professor Steenbock had decided to use his discovery to make a fortune. Suppose he had formed a stock company, indulged in heavy advertising campaigns, and rolled up colossal riches. What then? Why, the man would be famous. Success stories and inspirational interviews would center about him. He would have country estates, yachts, servants and all the rest of the paraphernalia of great wealth.

As it is, he subsists on the pay of a university student, and the great mass of his fellow countrymen never heard of him.

What does all of this prove? Nothing much, perhaps—except that the greatest lie which an age of prosperity has foisted on us is the fiction that money is the only mainspring that will drive men to do useful work.

Maybe it goes a little further. Maybe it shows that money, far from being the greatest thing in life—as many of us are led to believe—is relatively unimportant.

The important thing is to find some useful work and do it to the best of your ability. If the monetary rewards are great, well and good. If not, it doesn't matter. The big thing is achievement. Success isn't a matter of dollars and cents, no matter what the dollar worshipers may say.

President Coolidge Signs Cruiser Bill

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has signed the bill for the building of fifteen new cruisers. The bill provides that all the cruisers must be laid down within three years. The signing of the bill means that the policy of the government toward building a navy on a parity with the British navy is settled. The question has been removed from the new administration which now need be concerned mostly with finding the money to pay for the new craft.

We belive the authorization of the new cruisers is in keeping with the sentiment of the country. The American people want to promote efforts for permanent peace. At the same time they want a navy that will protect their rights. They recognize that a navy which would be far inferior to the British navy might easily result in encroachment of our rights and in the end lead us into conflict where we did not want to be engaged.

A strong navy ought not to interfere with plans for the promotion of international peace. In fact it ought to strengthen the bond of our government in such efforts. It is with this thought that sentiment in this country has favored additional cruisers.

125-Story Buildings?

THE AMERICAN CERAMIC SOCIETY, preparing for an exposition in Chicago, reveals the invention of a new building material so light and strong that skyscrapers 125 stories high can be built of it.

The new material, it is said, will reduce building costs and, at the same time, will enable architects to plan more daring pinnacles than ever before.

The next thing is for somebody to survey the situation and tell us if we ought ever to allow the construction of such tall buildings. Skyscrapers tend to increase city congestion—a thing that is hampering every city in America. It is quite possible that the construction of many more tall buildings would be a drawback and not a help.

The Mariners Do Travel

JOIN THE U. S. MARINE CORPS and see the world!

The catchword of the blue-clad recruiting sergeant is pretty nearly justified, at that. Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the corps, reveals in his annual report that in 1928 approximately two-thirds of the entire corps saw service outside the United States.

The bulk of these, of course, went to Nicaragua. A large detachment was in China, and a good many more served in Haiti. Then, in addition, the marine contingents on various battleships and cruisers did considerable traveling.

It begins to look as if the recruiting sergeant's slogan just about fits the facts.

Texas-Oklahoma Press

HOW TO INCREASE PROFITS FROM EGGS

Whether a farmer is to get 70 cents an hour for his labor with his poultry flock, or 24 cents an hour, depends largely upon whether he can get his pullets into production in time to take advantage of high winter egg prices, it is shown by a recent experiment conducted in Ohio.

A large percentage of the farmers throughout the country can nearly triple the labor income from their chickens, merely by managing the flocks so that at least 25 per cent of the year's egg production comes between Oct. 1 and Jan. 31, according to the results of this test.

Possibilities if Lindbergh Is Appointed to Air Post!

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—"Naw," said the old confidence man, "things is certainly on the bum in this town. Ain't no more trustfulness in people. They won't take your word for nothin'. Got to show 'em. Everybody is a wise guy these days. What chance has a poor crook got, livin' in such times?

"Used to be a fella could make a good livin' on the flim flam game alone, maybe a hunert to two hunert a week—nice money. Easy, simple graft. Pickin' pockets was too risky and even the experts that could frisk a cop of his shield would get nailed sooner or later. 'Stick to flim flammin',' an old crook told me one time. 'Stick to flim flammin', kid, and you'll wear diamonds.'

"And I did, at that, when this town was worth living in—ten thousand saloons all goin' brisk, and cheerful and people not so cussed cute as they are nowadays. I had a collection of sparklers that Mr. Tiffany wouldn't turn up his nose at. But I ain't got 'em any more, no not any more.

"In them days I used to walk into a saloon, order me a shot and lay a ten-dollar bill on the bar. The barkeep would pick up the ten, ring up a dime for the price of the drink and hand me back nine dollars and ninety cents, of course. Then I would put the five-dollar bill in my pocket along with the ninety cents change, and I would take the four one-dollar bills he gave me and one of my own that I had all ready and I would offer him the five ones.

"'Could you let me have a five for these?' I would ask, and the barkeep would naturally accommodate and hand me a five spot for the five ones. Then I would count the money in my hand very slowly, one, two, three, four, five, and five are ten, and then I would say to the barkeep, 'Maybe I hadn't oughter rob you of all them small bills. Maybe you'll need them small bills in your business. Here, you take them back, with the five, and let me have the ten-dollar bill I gave you in the first place.'

"Eight times outa ten the barkeep, or whoever else it was I tried the flim flam on, would fall for the stuff, and I would walk out of the saloon just four dollars and ninety cents ahead of the game. A fella didn't have to pull that more'n a few times a day to get himself a good stake. It worked so well with me that I gave up all the crude games and stuck to the flim flam racket.

"Probably the slickest flim flammer New York ever saw was a fella I know well and used to work with occasionally. His name was George Appo and his father was Quimbo Appo, a Chinese, born in Ning-po. His mother was Irish. They used to live at 45 Oliver street, just a few doors from where Al Smith lived so long.

"George's folks died when he was just a small lad and left him all alone to be brought up by thieves. He was taught the pocket-picking trade in Donovan's Alley, a dirty little passageway off Baxter street. When I knew George years later his fingers were all distorted and funny shaped from pocket-picking from crookin' and twisting them so.

"After George had served a term or two in prison he picked up the tricks of the flim flam game. Prisons were regular colleges for learnin' them things and I s'pose they still are. George came out and went to work at the short change racket, mixin' it up with greengoods until a gentleman from Greenville, S. C., who had gone all the way to Poughkeepsie to invest in George's phony money got on to the game and shot George's right eye out. After that he went back to flim flammin' and stuck to it. He learnt me all I knew.

"But even George couldn't a made a livin' these days. Folks is too smart—too wise."

There must be only one man in all New York and environs who knows the official name for redcaps, for no one else has reported it, and he is all excited over his discovery.

After all these years of commuting, he found it necessary a few nights ago to ask a question of someone in the Grand Central station. Ignoring official information booths, he made for the nearest redcap he saw through the bobbing crowd. Never having any baggage on his two-a-day trips through the famous terminal, he always had taken redcaps for granted and never had paid any particular attention to them.

As he approached this redcap from whom he sought some sort of information that matters less now, even, than it did then, he read in gold on the cap, "Chief Attendant."

"So, you boys are attendants!" he exclaimed, as he peered again and made sure he had read aright. Then he realised the importance of the person he must be addressing and clearly forgot the information he had been seeking. He made his usual train all right, so the question must not have concerned that.

FAVORITE JOKES OF FAMOUS FOLK

As Told by Them to FRANK E. NICHOLSON

This guy has a good racket—he has one of the most popular jazz bands of the day. Plays all around the country, and in bewteen times he makes records for the "gramophone" — as we used to say last summer in dear old London.

"It's about a fellow who was being electrocuted," Lewis cautioned, grimly. "The guards solemnly went about their task of affixing the electrodes to the body of the doomed man in the chair. The kindly chaplain bent over him.

"'Any request, my poor mortal?' he inquired.

"'Yes, parson,' the wretch replied, 'It'll comfort me a lot if you'll just hold my hand.'"

SIX SAILORS SAVED AT SEA

Britishers Land at Texas Port After Rescue

GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 14. (UP)—Six British seamen tonight told a story of battling a storm of sleet and wind in the storm-lashed Atlantic for six days and of their subsequent rescue by the British steamer, St. Dunstan.

The St. Dunstan arrived in port here today with the rescued men taken from the British schooner, Enid E. Legge. The rescue was effected Jan. 28.

The schooner was bound from Oporto for Burger, N. F., with a cargo of salt. She was 37 days out when she ran into a storm, said Captain James Buckland of the stricken ship.

For five days the schooner fought the storm without much damage. On the sixth day the wind increased. One by one the three masts were snapped off.

Distress signals had been flying for two days and all hands were busy at the pumps when the schooner was sighted by the St. Dunstan.

When the crew was taken off, the Enid E. Legge was fired, a hopeless derelict.

The rescued men will be sent on to Newfoundland by the British consulate here. Other than Captain Buckland, the men are Mate John Buckland, the captain's brother; William Anderson, steward; John Spencer, Simeon Strickland and Moses Perris, seaman.

Capt. C. Hallam is master of the St. Dunstan.

Scientists Eat $5 Strawberries

PARIS, Feb. 14. (UB)—The five-dollar strawberry has arrived in Paris. It was shown this week to the assembled members of the French Academy of Sciences. Each member was given a single strawberry to eat, and each member pronounced it delicious. Then he was told the price, 125 francs a strawberry.

No one was asked to contribute this sum. The fruit was a gift. The price merely indicated the cost of producing the strawberries by artificial light. Superb in color, odor and form, they lay against white cotton in a box, having been brought direct to the academy from the cellar where they were grown after being exposed to artificial light for 40 days.

How much free sunlight is necessary to bring a strawberry to delicious fruition may be estimated from the fact that these artificial ones grew under two lamps of 1,200 watts each, suspended seven feet above the hearth bed, and kept constantly turning. The assembled scientists agreed that the resulting growth was due to the richness of yellow rays in the generated light.

Air-Rail Route Terminal Picked

ALVA, Okla., Feb. 14. (UP)—Selection of the site of the western terminal of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., coast-to-coast air-rail line today was announced as 12 air miles southwest of here on the Santa Fe right-of-way.

The announcement was made by Col. Paul Henderson, vice president of the air line.

The site was changed from Dodge City, Kan., for technical reasons, Henderson said.

Henderson said the new site will make far better train connections.

Under the new plans of the company, passengers from the Columbus, Ohio, planes would go from here to Clovis, N. M., by train, and there resume the journey to the west coast by plane. East bound passengers would leave the train here for a flight to Columbus.

The landing field for the terminal was selected and surveyed this week.

TEXAS AUTO DEATHS GROW

Houston Leads With 78 Victims in Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Deaths from automobile accidents in the five Texas cities reporting to the United States department of commerce for the first four weeks of the year increased from 13 in 1928 to 33 in 1929, according to the department's monthly report issued today. Deaths in the same cities for the 52-week period ending Jan. 26 jumped to 280 from 190 the preceding year.

Houston led the state in high mortality figures for the past month and year ending Jan. 26 and in January 1929 there were 18 deaths there as compared to one in the preceding January, and in the 52-week period ending January 1928 there were 40 deaths as compared to 78 for the year just closed.

El Paso holds the low records, reporting two deaths in January 1929 as compared to one on January 1928. Thirty-four deaths were reported for the year just closed as compared to 27 the preceding year.

Dallas reported four deaths in January of each year, and a gain in the yearly total from 48 to 62. Fort Worth recorded five deaths this January as compared to four last year; and 45 for the year as compared to 20.

San Antonio was the only city to report a lower death rate in January this year than last, dropping from five to four. The number for the year, however, grew from 46 to 61.

Frederick Men Named Insurance Firm Heads

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 14.—Representatives from about a score of Oklahoma mutual life insurance associations met at Oklahoma City Monday and perfected a state organization, naming two Fredericktes. E. U. Gamblin and Pat Harper, to the most important offices, president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Jess Boyd, formerly of this place, but now of Clinton was elected a member of the executive committee.

Others who were in attendance included Homer Boyd and M. L. Tyson of Frederick and Frank Penick of Altus, formerly of Frederick. Harper and Tyson are connected with the Mutual Life and Accident association, while Gamblin is at the head of the Oklahoma Life and Accident association, also a concern with headquarters in Frederick.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"We mustn't forget, Mother, to get Daddy his heavy underwear."

USE OF X-RAY IS INCREASING

'All Seeing Eye' Put To Many and Various Tasks

By W. F. SULLIVAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (UP)—X-ray, long the friend of medicine, has been developed into an all-seeing eye which can pierce the surface and seek out such mysteries as the cavities in Swiss cheese or disclose the contents of an anarchist's package, scientists disclosed here today.

George L. Clark, professor of chemistry of the University of Illinois, brought the latest discoveries today to the annual Midwest power engineering conference and told of the important part X-ray is playing in the industrial world.

May Reveal Matter

"It has been developed to a point of tremendous power, that if properly used, will lead scientists to a knowledge of the ultimate structure of matter," Clark said. "There are many inanimate things whose ills may be diagnosed just as successfully as the ills of the human body."

The professor demonstrated how two little grains of sand, identical in appearance and size on the surface, had been found by use of the X-ray to be of entirely different structure. One was firm while the other faulty, his pictures showed.

"Some of the other radiographic applications in this country," he said, "are the examination of golfballs for symmetry of the center, of cord tires for adhesion of rubber, of reclaimed rubber for nails and foreign matter, for wormholes, cracks and knots of trees and telephone poles for interior soundness.

Aids Customs Officers

"It also has been used successfully to determine the contents of mystery packages, to uncover false-bottom baggage evading customs officials, to examine radio tubes for proper position of electrodes, and Swiss cheese for the location and size of the highly prised holes."

The development of shadowgraph, Professor Clark said, has been used at the Foggart museum at Harvard university and the Metropolitan museum in New York on old pictures and discovering retouching of valuable masterpieces of paintings.

Radiographs of the skull have been developed to an individualistic point that they soon will supplement finger prints as methods of identification, he predicted.

"If we but use the X-rays properly they will lead directly to a knowledge of the ultimate structure of matter," Professor Clark continued, "clear down to the atoms and molecules which constitute the very minute building blocks of the material universe.

Building Blocks

"Practically every property, useful and otherwise, of the things we know and use every day, depends fundamentally upon the size, shape, number and arrangement in space of these unit building blocks, which are far too small to be seen by a microscope.

"If these are known from our X-ray examination of materials, then it follows that we shall discover with absolute finality the primitive cause of a satisfactory or unsatisfactory behavior of an object which we can see and use."

The professor explained that X-rays are identical with ordinary light except that the wave lengths are only one ten-thousandth as great, on the average, as visible light. They are electromagnetic vibrations propagated as waves or as tiny bundles of radiant energy through space without transference of matter.

X-rays, the cosmic rays which come from the far reaches of the universe and are able to penetrate 13 feet of lead; the gamma rays from radium, the ultra-violet, infra-red and radio waves are all like light except in wave length.

Indian Affairs Committee Turns On 'Dictator'; Claim Work Hampered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, and chairman of the house appropriations sub-committee on interior department supply measures, was criticised as a "self-created appellant on Indian affairs" today by Representative Sproul, Republican, Kansas. The criticism was given before a meeting of the house Indian affairs committee.

Representative Howard, Democrat, of Oklahoma, also criticised Cramton, declaring "Cramton is trying to dictate to this committee in all its consideration of legislation and if this continues we might as well bring it to an issue or resign."

Discussion Over Utes

The committee became involved in a heated discussion over an amendment Cramton proposed to the Colton bill to authorize several bands of Ute Indians in Utah, Colorado and New Mexico to seek recourse in a court of claims for the settlement of a controversy over title to 1,056,000 acres of land.

Sproul declared that when the Indian affairs committee reported the bill to the house, "Cramton gets upon the floor and offers some amendment or suggests something should be changed. We've been getting down on our knees to this self-created appellant on Indian affairs just because he is on the appropriations committee. He has interfered with and crippled needed legislation. If he has so much knowledge of Indian affairs he should come to the committee hearings on the bills being considered so that we could have the use of that knowledge in drafting legislation."

Amendment Doomed

Howard asserted that if the Cramton amendment to the Colton bill was reported by the committee with the bill, he would object to it on the house floor and prevent its passage if brought up on consent calendar day. The proposed amendment would prevent the payment of any funds recovered to the Indians on a per capita basis.

"It is time we bring this matter with Cramton to an issue," said Howard. "He has set himself up as a dictator to this committee and we either must assert ourselves or get out. If practices like this of the appropriations committee are continued, we ought to adjourn congress and leave the government to be run by the budget bureau and the appropriations committee."

Chairman Leavitt of the house Indian affairs committee said he did not "like Cramton's practices" and that he believed "Mr. Cramton makes many decisions on proposed legislation without much study."

UNCLE SAM IS NO SHYLOCK

American Philanthropies Total Two Billion

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (INS)—Foreign conceptions of your Uncle Sam as a callous shylock demanding his pound of flesh in lieu of his just financial desserts must be changed now.

Shylock never gave anything away. And Uncle Sam does.

Just how much the American people give away every year for philanthropic and educational purposes was revealed by A. H. Eller, vice president and trust officer of the Wachovia Bank and Trust company of Winston-Salem, N. C. It is a surprising total.

In an address delivered at the tenth mid-winter trust conference of the trust company division of the American Bankers association at the Hotel Commodore, Mr. Eller estimated the philanthropies of Americans during 1928 at $2,230,600,000—a sum greater than the total gross income of any government on earth, save only the governments of Great Britain and the United States.

Moreover, the North Carolina banker predicts that as America's wealth grows in the years to come, the size of the scope of her charitable activities will become even more extensive.

100-Year-Old Negro Mammy Gets Furlough For Her Grandson

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (UP)—A 100-year-old negro grandmother wearing a bandana and puffing a corncob pipe sat in conference with Gov. Dan Moody today and obtained a 60-day furlough for her grandson who is serving two years for burglary.

The old negro mammy told the governor a story of the vicissitudes of her life after leaving Alabama in pre-civil war days, of her life in Marlin, Texas, and of the need she now had for her grandson to provide for her.

Ginning Season Is Closed at Charlie

Special to The Record News

CHARLIE, Texas, Feb. 14.—The ginning season, in this community was brought to a close by the shutting down of the Farmer's gin, here Thursday. The total number of bales ginned by the three gins here this season is given as 4,009, as against 3,368, last year. The number of bales turned out by each gin this year were given as follows: Planters Gin, 2,064; Farmers Gin, 1,272 and the Charlie Gin, 673.

BOOB BANDITS RETRACT STORY

Cry of Brutality Supplants Confessions

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 14. (INS)—Following the lead of more hardened criminals, Orville L. Trout, 19 years old, and Walter Tyron, 18, slayers of James Reese in a filling station Tuesday night, apparently intend to repudiate their confessions and set up a cry of police brutality.

The two boys, styled the "boob bandits" by detectives because of the ease with which they were caught, appeared today before Judge Allen C. Southern of the circuit court for arraignment on first degree murder charges.

Both pleaded not guilty. Trout was accompanied by his parents, a younger sister and John C. Nipp, an attorney. Tyron was accompanied by his father and A. E. Kramer, an attorney.

Judge Southern remanded them to the county jail without bond to await trial March 4.

GIRL'S $90,000 LOSS IN PROBE

Who Got Negress' Fortune? Is Unanswered Question

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14 (UP)—Testimony of alleged court "leaks," attempted dismissal of "drunk driving" charges against a district judge and a writ of prohibition in a pending $90,000 suit, marked the court investigation by the house committee Wednesday.

The testimony was given by James Hepburn, former district judge at Okmulgee, and A. N. Boatman, until recently county attorney of Okmulgee county.

Dismissal Attempted

Efforts were made by a man posing as chief special agent for the Rock Island railroad to get Boatman to dismiss a charge of driving a car while drunk against P. L. Gassoway, district judge at Atoka, Boatman testified. Gassoway later presided at the libel trial in which Justice J. W. Clark was awarded $50,000 damages against the Tulsa World and O. O. Owens. John Barry, one of the attorneys for the Rock Island, was one of the leading counsel for Clark at this trial. Testimony has previously been given of rumors of Barry's reported influence with the court.

Boatman said he did not know whether the man who could discuss the matter with him was J. H. Burnett, chief special agent for the Rock Island, or Ed Kelly, assistant general manager and legislative agent for the railroad.

Negroes Got $90,000

The supreme court writ of prohibition in the Millie Pettit case released $90,000 to negro attorneys while litigation involving ownership of the money was peding in Hepburn's court, Hepburn testified.

Later Hepburn told George M. Nicholson, then chief justice, he testified, that:

"George, that was the damndest outrage ever perpetrated by any court in this land, that stunt you fellows pulled on that negro girl.

"There was $90,000 in cold cash involved and although nobody ever offered to bribe me and I'm not saying anyone was bribed, I know that had I done what you fellows did I could easily have gotten half of that $90,000."

All Judges Signed

Hepburn pointed out to Nicholson, he testified, that the writ was signed by all nine of the justices and not by Fred Branson alone.

Hepburn told Nicholson, he said, "you fellows took $90,000 from that negro girl. The question was not whether she was entitled to that money but she had a right to have 12 men pass on the question of who the money belonged to."

Hepburn said that he was satisfied Nicholson and others didn't know what they were doing when they signed the writ but that it was put over on them by Branson.

British Aided By Stock Warnings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (INS)—Representative Black, Democrat of New York, asserted in a speech in the house today that the action of the federal reserve board in checking stock speculation was designed to aid British business.

"There were two results from the warning of the federal reserve board to member banks," said Black. "One was to reduce the market value of securities at the expense of American investors and the other to check the flow from England to the United States.

"Circumstances point to close cooperation between the federal reserve board and the Bank of England to restrict the movement of British gold to this country."

Senate Votes to Start Cruiser Work Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. Tiny Thatch of Whiskers Used As Evidence in Assault Hearing

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Feb. 14. (INS)—A small bunch of whiskers, black tinted with grey, was presented as exhibit A in the preliminary hearing of W. E. Brown on a charge of assault and battery of George T. Bacastow in the justice court of R. F. Fitzpatrick here.

Bacastow, resident of this city for many years, took the witness stand and after carefully unwrapping the bunch of treasured whiskers from a small piece of paper, testified that Brown pulled them from his beard as he was beating and assaulting him at the Bacastow home here. The whiskers were apparently convincing, as Brown was bound over for trial in district court and posted bond for $500.

U. of T. Allowed To Accept $200,000

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—A bill was introduced in the senate today authorizing the board of regents of the University of Texas to accept a gift of approximately $200,000 from the E. D. Farmer estate in Parker county.

The gift would be administered as the E. D. Farmer international scholarship fund and would be used to provide student scholarships between the University of Texas and the National University of Mexico.

The approximately $200,000 represents the amount that would be paid the state in inheritance tax should the sum be settled on some institution outside the state. Farmer died May 29, 1924.

MINEOLA, N. Y., Feb. 14 (UP)—William Prospect, 18; Frank Javey, 18, and Michael Simmons, 17, confessed today to the robbery of $15,000 in jewels from the home of Edward Snyder of Kensington, police said. The youths, all of Jersey City, admitted several other robberies also, it was said.

HOOVER PLANS EARLY START

Extra Session May Be Called By April 1

BELLE ISLE, Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 14.—President-elect Hoover plans to put his administrative policies in force with the least possible delay.

Soon after inauguration, probably on April 1 and not later than April 15, he will convene congress in extraordinary session to enact farm and tariff legislation bearing the impress of his ideas.

On both subjects he has made up his mind fully as to the kind and extent of legislation he desires. He wants the farm bill made law at the earliest possible moment to help stabilize the market for the 1929 crop. He wants the tariff bill in force to augment federal revenues, which must be increased to offset the heavy drain of new federal projects.

This desire to start early on the work of his administration is the chief reason for his departure next Monday for Washington. Another reason is the fact that he has done all that he wished to do at Miami Beach. He has had over three weeks of comparative solitude and quiet. He has had long hours to himself to ponder over the problems of the presidency.

Nearly 10 days of his stay here has been occupied in cruising about the pleasant waters off the Florida Key, out of sight and reach of the usual hangers-on who plague the existence of the great and near great. He has landed three sail fish, the first he ever captured in his long years as a fisherman. The rough waters off the west coast yesterday forced him to abandon his hunt for tarpon but his ambition to land one can wait for some future fishing expedition.

The next president will start the two day journey back to Washington just two weeks before his inauguration, in excellent physical condition to take over the arduous duties of the White House. Few presidents in fact have ever been more robust.

In Washington of course the next president will do considerable conferring with the party leaders during the 10 days remaining before inauguration, but there will be no such "open house" as there was following his return from South America.

Idaho Senator Lassoes Elk Harassed by Snow

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 14 (AP)—A big bull elk that was driven from his mountain habitat by heavy snow today was pastured on the state capitol grounds after it was lassoed by State Senator W. P. Swanstrom of Ashton, Idaho, who is attending the legislature here.

The elk was captured by Senator Swanstrom five miles from the city limits and tied to a post. After displaying his prize to members of the legislature, Senator Swanstrom turned the elk over to the state game department. It will be held captive until spring.

NEW IDEA

Judge Urges Revival Of Whipping Post For Gunmen

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (UP)—The whipping post for the "man with a gun" was urged today by Judge Marcus A. Kavanaugh.

Speaking before the board of pardons and parole the jurist recited statistics to prove that the revival of the whipping post had reduced crime in England, Delaware and in Canada.

"A severe beating," Judge Kavanaugh said, "will be a thing never to be forgotten by those who are subjected to it. History shows us the whip has always been a feared instrument of punishment. There is no form of punishment too severe for "the man with a gun."

Bombs of Colombia Plot Discovered

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 14. (UP)—Bombs discovered here and at Medellin were said today by the press to have been intended for use in a plot of "wide ramifications."

Police admitted the bombs were discovered and said they were fixed to explode at 2 a. m. on an undetermined date. The bombs were made of old cans filled with bullets.

The minister of the interior told the United Press the government was concerned about the safety of the people and would take every possible precaution to prevent further plotting.

Questioning of several persons arrested in connection with the discovery of the bombs continued today.

Conquers Tough Hang On Coughs

In Double Quick Time

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Allison Drug Co. or any good dealer for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.—Adv.

WALTERS MAN DIES SUDDENLY

B. M. Garner, Farmer, Is Attack Victim

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 14.—The body of B. M. Garner, bachelor farmer about 45 years old, was found shortly after daylight this morning a few feet from the rear of the home of his neighbor, A. L. Welch, about one mile north of Cache Valley schoolhouse, 15 miles northwest of Walters.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Welch.

Condition of the ground where the body lay indicated that Garner had died sudenly. Garner had been complaining of attacks of rheumatism to his neighbors.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that there was nothing to indicate that the man had died from other than natural causes.

The trail left by Garner in going from his home to the Welch home indicated that he was in haste and the supposition is that he was suffering intensely and going to the Welch home for aid. Garner was seen plowing all day Wednesday.

Sheriff C. O. Hooper and Charles W. McDonald of Walters were summoned by Welch and shortly after their arrival an inquest was held. Jurors were Dan White, O. P. Weddle, Carl Hall, W. P. Thomas, J. T. Holder and A. R. Kincer.

Garner last year bought and moved on the J. E. McQuoin quarter section adjoining the Welch farm. He was known as a good neighbor.

The body was brought to Walters by J. W. Harley of the Harley-Pearson company, undertakers, to be held pending arrival or advices from two brothers, one said to live at Grandfield and the other at Frederick.

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system — and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

Look at your TONGUE every morning!

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Burk Junior Class Play Draws Crowd

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Feb. 14.—The junior class play, "Brown's in Town," presented in the high school auditorium, attracted an unusually large crowd Wednesday evening. The play was sponsored by Miss Ella Billingsley, one of the junior sponsors. The presentation was a comedy in three acts, produced by special arrangement with Samuel C. French of New York. The play was given for the purpose of obtaining necessary funds for the senior banquet.

The most expensive animal to keep in captivity is the walrus. The food bill of a full-grown walrus would feed three elephants.

Committee Urges Leasing of Shoals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (INS)—The house military affairs committee today recommended for passage the Madden bill for leasing of Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid company.

The vote was 11 to 2.

Representative Wurzbach, Republican of Texas, presided in the absence of Chairman Morin and Representative James, Republican of Michigan, ranking Republican.

Opponents of the measure immediately raised the question as to whether the meeting was legal.

Your Complexion is always Lovely!

This is the story of a clear skin that comes from a strong, healthy body and the right number of rich, red-blood-cells.

Your happiness may depend upon a clear skin

BEAUTIFUL is the companionship that abounds in contentment, joy and happiness.

It is no wonder then that good health plays an important part in the affairs of people. Good health is the way to attract, hold interest, and above all inspire deeper love.

Take the skin, for example. Pimples, boils, eczema and sallow complexion are usually but symptoms of a deeper—a more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

These outward troubles are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Steal away joy and happiness—and sometimes love.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered.

You, too, may have a lovely complexion, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Without plenty of rich, red-blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy beautiful women.

Rich, red-blood, is the means of giving you an appetite, firm flesh, strength, sound sleep, steady nerves, a smooth, clear skin.

When you take S.S.S. to get rid of these outside blemishes, you are building up the system to ward off the gravest diseases of which these blemishes are Nature's warning.

DISTRICT PLAY CONTEST HERE

Junior College Students In Dramatic Competition

The Wichita Falls Junior college will be host to the first district one-act play contest, which is to be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the main auditorium of the junior college, according to an announcement made by Miss Juanita Kinsey, head of the dramatic department of the college. The tournament is sponsored by the Junior College Public Speaking Association of Texas, of which Miss Kinsey is vice president.

Dramatic organizations of three colleges of this district will compete in the tournament, which includes the Wichita Falls Junior college, John Tarleton Agricultural college of Stephenville and the Weatherword Junior college of Weatherford. The winner of the contest will next present its production in the annual state contest which is to be held Feb. 22 at Weatherford.

In the state contest held last year, Weatherford won first place with the play "Helen of Troy," and Wichita Falls won second place with the only original play entered in the contest, entitled "The Try-Out," which was written by Miss Kinsey.

Plays to be presented in the contest tonight will be "The Man on the Kerb," by John Tarleton Agricultural college, a play with a cast of two characters; "A Slave With Two Faces," with six characters, by Weatherford Junior college, and "Two Crooks and a Lady," by the Wichita Falls Junior college.

The cast for the Wichita Falls production includes Elva Remington, Pansy Mills, Lloyd Wyatt, Lois Belle Jenkins and Wilbur Kent.

Judges of the tournament will be W. W. Fisher of Dallas, W. L. Lipscomb, chairman of play-reading committee of the Little Theater of Dallas, and Miss Mary McCord, head of the public speaking department of Southern Methodist university.

ness man to join the chamber of commerce and declared "I wouldn't live in a town that I didn't like and believe in."

W. S. Duvall, president of the local chamber of commerce, gave a brief review of the past year's accomplishments of the organization.

The chamber purchased uniforms for the local band, made improvements on roads leading into Burkburnett, made repairs on the approach to the free bridge across Red river, gave two first bale cotton premiums, aided in obtaining a reduction in the county tax rate and maintained a branch tax collection bureau which took in about $45,000 during the past 12 months.

Budget Outlined

Ed Williams, treasurer of the chamber, outlined the budget plan for the new year and urged the business men of Burkburnett to assist in carrying out the organization's financial program.

Rex D. Smith, who recently succeeded Carl Cowles as secretary of the chamber, was introduced by Mr. Duvall, who presided over the banquet.

Rev. H. V. Watts, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the invocation. The Burkburnett band gave a concert preceding the banquet program.

Several selections were sung by the Burkburnett high school girls' quartet, composed of Estelle Rankin, Vina B. Butz, Virginia Allen and Louise Wood.

Musical Program

R. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls, sang two selections. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Shepherd.

The Lions club double quartet entertained with several numbers. The quartet is composed of Carl Cowles, R. C. Brittan, Ralph Dameron, Ray Hill, Jew Bent, Russell Chamberlain, John Anderson and John Everts.

Georgy Taylor and Honeyboy and Sassafras, popular stars over radio station KGKO at Wichita Falls, presented numbers which received great applause.

The banquet room was made attractive with special valentine decorations.

WICHITA MAN PRAISES IT

20 Years of Stomach and Indigestion Troubles Relieved With One Bottle of Orgatone Declares Meals

"I have lived in Wichita Falls since 1916 and have suffered from stomach and indigestion troubles for about 20 years and I have tried all kinds of medicines during that time but nothing has ever done me as much good as Orgatone." This was the statement made while in Allison's Drug Store by Mr. S. J. Meals of 211 Ridge street. Mr. Meals has always been very active and was an oil driller for 21 years.

"I have suffered so long from stomach and indigestion troubles," he continued, "and reached the point where I never expected to get a medicine that would help me as Orgatone has. I had to be careful of what I ate for the least little thing would upset me and I would suffer for hours. For two whole years I ate nothing but fruit juice and toast. Gas formed on my stomach and affected my heart. I was tired and worn-out and very nervous.

"Since taking one bottle of Orgatone I am relieved of my stomach and indigestion troubles. I can eat most anything I want and enjoy it. Food digests better than it did and seems to do me some good. I am not as nervous as I was and in fact, my entire system seems to be built up and I am glad to give this recommendation for Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison Drug Store, under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly upon receipt of price, one bottle for $1.25 or six bottles for $6.25.—Adv.

Rosy Future Predicted for Constable

But They Couldn't Tell He Was Officer

The clairvoyant powers of two feminine soothsayers were clouded Thursday afternoon when they failed to give warning that one of their would-be clients was Frank Morgan, constable.

Having received no psychic premonition of the official character of their visitor, the fortune teller went promptly into the business of foretelling fabulous fortunes for Mr. Morgan, only to find they had read themselves into court.

One of the mystic ladies told Mr. Morgan that at least a million dollars would be his before two months had passed. Some of his "mining interests" were to strike pay ore, she promised. In return for which encouraging information she requested the modest sum of $2, which the constable promptly paid. A few minutes later the prophetess was on her way to the courthouse, where she made a $50 bond.

It was through oil stock that the constable was to achieve great wealth, according to the rosy visions of the second soothsayer. "Your troubles are all over," she told him.

"And yours have just begun," Mr. Morgan replied, preparing to file charges of false representation against the two of them.

FUTURES BILL KILLED, 47-27

Measure to Protect Cotton Growers Rejected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—The bill of Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, to prevent the sale of cotton and grain in futures markets was rejected today by the senate 47 to 27.

Immediately, then Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, moved to consider a measure by Representative Vinson, Democrat, Georgia, to regulate future cotton markets, phrased in less drastic terms but as the day closed debate on the motion still was in full swing and it will be displaced tomorrow by other legislation.

Action Improbable

It now appears that no future market measure will be acted on by the senate this session.

In moving to take up the Vinson bill, Harrison said he was under the impression, and was sure most other senators were, that the Vinson measure would be offered as a substitute before the Caraway bill was voted on.

The Caraway measure would have made illegal the sale of cotton and grain in future markets and would have provided penalties for dealing in futures. Its supporters contend that such legislation was necessary to protect the growers.

Opponents contended it would result in the closing of the cotton exchanges and would do irreparable harm to the farmer because it would put his product at the "mercy" of a few spot buyers from the mills.

Caraway Defends Bill

After the unfavorable vote on his bill had been announced, Senator Caraway attacked what he described as the forces which defeated it.

"One out of every five who voted against this bill never read it," he declared. "They get their information in the cloak rooms from gamblers. They took their cues from the stock exchanges. They knew their masters and they met their duty."

FORTUNE IN ONIONS

LONDON—The death of a professional onion peeler recently seems to indicate that the business of skinning tear-producers is profitable. In a period of 50 years profits accruing from initial capital of a few dollars grew to an estate of $30,000.

A perfect map of the stars, as seen from London is depicted inside an umbrella taken by its owner to the recent meeting of the British association in Glasgow.

Senate Steps On Throttle

Upper House Grinds Out Stack of Bills

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—The senate today lined up much important work for the first part of next week.

The prison bills were set for special order Monday and the bill permitting a political party to exclude bolters was set for Tuesday.

The highway bond issue plan had been made special order for Monday.

Rural aid proposals were tabled with a view to working out a compromise bill. Senator Pollard, author of the original bill, said he was willing to cut the appropriation from $5,000,000 to $3,000,000 annually.

Small Bill Passes

Senator Small's bill to protect property owners in the Oklahoma strip which may become a part of Texas under relocation of the Texas-Oklahoma boundary was passed.

The measure's purpose is to keep the lands off the market and present owners in possession until investigation may be made and a future legislature determines prior title rights.

Book Bill Engrossed

A measure by Witt to change the method of distributing free textbooks was engrossed. Love and Thomason of Nacogdoches spoke against it.

The small bill to prohibit mineral development in the beds of navigable streams went to the house without objection, as did the Westbrook bill, forcing schools to have United States flags.

SHRINE DANCE

More than 200 master Masons and Shriners attended the Valentine day dance held at Maskat temple Thursday night under the auspices of the Maskat temple Arabic patrol.

Overall and gingham costumes which were worn by those present were features of the dance.

Music was furnished by the Little Rovers, local orchestra.

COW-PRESERVATION

NEW YORK—Farmers of Westchester county are taking drastic means to protect their cattle from too enthusiastic deer hunters. Bright red and green stripes now adorn the animals during the hunting season. It is estimated that in recent years 12 cows have been killed for every deer brought to bay.

It is a fallacy that cutting off a man's beard will prevent his head from becoming bald.

Highway Investigation Assumes Sickly Mien for Want of Cause

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (AP)—The highway investigation wavered today and after an exchange of ideas as to how the hearing should be conducted, the committee and members of the highway commission held a long executive session.

It was said that the advisability of concluding the inquiry and dismissing the charges as unsubstantiated was discussed. It was decided, however, that the hearing should continue. The committee recessed until Wednesday.

Commissioner Cone Johnson intimated in discussion before the executive session that he was getting weary of the hearing "dragging" and intimated that testimony either should be continued without so many interruptions or the charges dismissed as unsustained.

"If you go ahead with this none of us will be able to plant a spring garden," he said. "I intend to insist on going into every transaction thoroughly when it comes our time to answer these charges with evidence. I probably will want to read into the record many papers and records of the department."

"HOT CHECK" BILL OPPOSED

Credit Men Against Change In Graves Bill

Claiming that the Graves amendment to the present state hot-check law would take the teeth out of its enforcement, John E. Phillips, president of the Texas Retail Credit Men's association, Thursday evening urged all merchants and credit men in the state to oppose the change.

The appeal was made in an address before the Wichita Falls Retail Credit Grantors' association in its regular weekly meeting at the Wichita club. Mr. Phillips asked the members to get in touch with their representatives in the legislature and ask for the defeat of "house bill 110," the title of the amendment.

The speaker outlined a plan of the national association to break the "bankruptcy ring," which is costing United States merchants a billion dollars a year, he said.

Members heard a report of a meeting of directors in Austin favoring the consolidation of the merchants, secretaries and credit men's associations in the state. The question will be voted on at the Retail Credit Men's association meeting in San Bonita on May 13, it was announced.

About 65 members of the local association were present at the meeting.

Vaudeville Bill Proves Worth

Good Program Pleases Audiences Here

By The Record News Critic

Full houses which greeted Thursday night's vaudeville performances registered unmistakable approval of a bill which opens strong and had shown no evidence of sagging when the show closed.

Powers and Wallace, in the headline feature, range from the ridiculous to heavily dramatic in portraying nocturnal history enacted in a taxicab on and near New York's Broadway.

Ruth Ford's "special songs" receive great assistance from the naive dance accompaniment in which the singer reveals the possession of many more than the ordinary number of joints, all of which used, but each apparently out of place.

Frank X. Silk introduces a running mixture of singing and talking with no time allowed for the title given the act, which is styled "Speaking of Home."

In "Silks and Satins" Al Garbelle presents a colorful group of dancers whose selection contribute heavily to eye entertainment.

Monroe and Grant, who open the entertainment, took a large share of the generous applause given the evening's bill.

Rites Held Here For T. J. Derrick

Funeral services for T. J. Derrick, 85, of 808 Fifth street, who died in a local hospital Tuesday, were conducted from the Hines mortuary parlors at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. W. H. Townsend, pastor of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church.

The body was forwarded to Kingston, Okla., for burial, after the funeral services. Mr. Derrick was a confederate veteran and had been a resident of Wichita Falls for several years.

He is survived by four sons, O. L. and J. N. Derrick of Wichita Falls, O. J. Derrick of San Antonio and J. A. Derrick of Palacios, Texas, and two daughters, Mrs. Allan Morgan of Clarksville, Texas, and Mrs. C. M. Grady of California.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.—Adv.

Bunnenberg Announces Program Feb. 17 At Auditorium

Announcement was made Thursday night by C. C. Bunnenberg, superintendent of city parks, of a miscellaneous program of musical numbers to be given Sunday afternoon, Feb. 17, at the Municipal auditorium. There will be no charge and no collection taken.

The Lions Club band and the High school orchestra, both under the direction of Leo M. Underwood, will be featured in Sunday's concert.

Other instrumental numbers, as well as vocal selections, also are being arranged, Mr. Bunnenberg said.

Mountain Play Last For Lewis Company

The final appearance of Tom Lewis and company, who have been playing at the Olympic for the last several weeks, is billed for Friday and Saturday, in the production of "Kentucky Sue." This offering is a semi-dramatic story of the Kentucky mountains where perpetual warfare and nasal drawl are the constant background of the action. "Singapore Mutiny," with Ralph Ince and Estelle Taylor, a Felix the Cat comedy and current news reel complete the bill.

ZONING BOARD HEARS APPEAL

Ruling Expected Saturday On Panhandle Plea

Participation of the zoning board of appeals in municipal affairs was inaugurated Thursday night when a public hearing was held in the council room at the Memorial auditorium on the Panhandle Refining company's appeal for permission to erect a filling station at the corner of Ninth street and Denver avenue. Decision on the appeal was deferred with the statement that the board would endeavor to announce its ruling Saturday.

The board consists of A. L. Huey, chairman, Mack Thomas, and Ed Howard, who were sworn in as members of the appellate body just before Thursday evening's session began.

Application of the Panhandle Refining company for a permit covering the proposed building at Ninth and Denver was submitted to the city council on Jan. 21, according to the statements offered by C. A. Winegart, counsel for the oil concern. Following the hearing of protests from property owners in the vicinity of that location, the council denied the application.

At Thursday night's hearing all evidence heard at the time of the application's rejection was recited to the board of appeals or review, together with testimony given by W. S. Curles, chairman of the city zoning committee. Protesting property owners were represented by W. N. Bonner and Leslie Humphrey. A large crowd attended the hearing.

Pettiett Trial To Open Here Friday

Trial of Rudy Pettiett, charged with assault to rob a garage operated by Duke Martin of Electra, will get under way in the 30th district court Friday morning. The trial, set first for Thursday, was postponed when it was discovered that a sufficient number of qualified jurors could not be obtained.

Pettiett was jointly indicted with P. L. (Chief) Eaves, who was given a seven year sentence Wednesday afternoon. He is accused of having held up three men in the Miller-Martin garage on the night of Dec. 6, 1928. The affair was interrupted by three Electra officers, said to have been tipped off to the alleged attempted holdup. Pettiett was wounded by a shot from the gun of Jim Gordon, one of the officers.

"ME AND THE BOY FRIEND"

You know them, bless their hearts. A pair of youngsters, really, in spite of their self-reliant air and their fast-vanishing teens. The girl—slim, clear-eyed, merry; the boy—flippant, a bit arrogant, full of secret, earnest plans for success.

They like each other. They go to the movies together, dance, quarrel a bit. They don't believe in early marriages. But her eyes shine when she speaks of him. "Me and the boy friend."

One of these days, suddenly, they'll be grown up. Man and wife, those fearless youngsters. A home to plan, life to face. A budget, a savings account, economies.

They'll make mistakes, but they'll learn quickly. She'll begin to be canny in the spending of money—to question prices and values. She'll begin to read about the things she plans to buy, to find out all she can about them. She'll become a regular reader of advertisements.

They'll help her to become the capable, wise housewife she wants so much to be. They'll tell her what clothes are best and what prices to pay for them. They'll tell her about the foods to buy, the electric appliances, the linoleums and draperies. They'll help her, as the advertisements in this newspaper can help you.

And she'll meet her responsibilities and fulfill her duties easily and well. She won't become a tired, flustered, inefficient drudge. Because her home will be modern, attractive, well-run, she'll keep young—through the speedy years she'll retain much of that shining-eyed, merry freshness. She and the "boy friend."

Seven Teams Play for Title On Hawks' Court

Prep basket ball teams in this section will engage in county and district tournaments today and tomorrow, the opening play of the State Interscholastic league schedule leading to the finals in March at A. and M. college. Over at Iowa Park the Wichita county tournament will be played, with seven teams entered in the senior division.

Cashion and Iowa Park are slight favorites to win the county tourney, but Electra, Burkburnett, Clara, Fairview and Valley View have teams of more or less class and one of those five may win. The list of eligible teams, including senior, junior and intermediate divisions eligible to paly in the county turnament, as announced by R. E. Brewster, principal of Iowa Park High school and county athletic director:

Valley View high, Pleasant Valley, Craig Cottage, Sunshine, Thompson Ward of Electra, Allendale, Barwise rural, Beaver Creek, Burkburnett high, Burkburnett ward, Cashion high, Cashion ward, City View, Clara high, Clara ward, County Line high, Electra high, Enterprise, Fairview high, Fairview ward, Foulkes Station, Friberg, W. F. George ward, Howard, school, Iowa Park high, Iowa Park main ward, Valley View ward, Waggoner ward and Electra and Weeth.

Drawings will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock under the direction of Mr. Brewster and play will be started on the Hawks' court. Semi-finals and finals will be played tomorrow.

U. G. Knight, former Southern Methodist university cager and C. M. Jarrell, coach at Seymour high school, will referee.

Olney is favored to win the Young county tournament today and tomorrow at Newcastle. Archer county holds its meet today and tomorrow at Megargel, with the home team, Archer City and Holliday looming as among leading contenders.

The first district tournament in this section will be played this week-end at Childress, with county winners participating. Estelline, Hall county champion, is favorite to win.

The district No. 4 tournament will be played here next week-end, Wichita Falls, which does not play in the county meet; Petrolia, Clay county champion and which has only to beat the rural school Joy, and Harrold, about "in" with the Wilbarger county title, are three teams to play here. The Wichita county winner this week engages in the district tournament here next week, in addition to several other county winners.

YOUNG COUNTY SCHEDULE SET

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, Feb. 14.—At a meeting of coaches and principals in Newcastle, the schedule for the Young county basket ball tournament was made. The tournament will be held this Friday and Saturday in Newcastle.

Cinderella Bowlers Set Season Record

Cinderella won two out of three from Continental, Elks also took two out of three from First National Bank, as did the Spudder Alleys from the Texas Electrics last night in the City Bowling league on the spudder alleys.

Kurtz of Cinderella set a high individual record for three games for the season of 637. He also was high in a single game with 225.

Cinderella established a high game mark for the season of 2696. Scores:

THIRD BASE IS WEAKNESS NOW

Managers Worry Over Filling Hot Corner Place

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (UP)—The major league manager is lucky who can say: "I do not have to worry about third base this season."

John McGraw, Burt Shotton, Lena Blackburne and Walter Johnson are the only four managers who will not have to bother about the hot corner. The other 12 managers have a third base problem on their hands.

When you've named Freddy Lindstrom of the Giants, Pinky Whitney of the Phillies, Willie Kamm of the White Sox and Buddy Myer of the Senators, there are no other full-fledged star third basemen left. Pie Traynor of the Pirates, of course, will fall in the above group, but he will be shifted to shortstop this season.

Whitney Great Prospect

Whitney, who broke in with the Phillies last season, is but 22. He has all the indications of developing into one of the game's greatest infielders.

Myer, for whom the Senators gave five players to the Red Sox, is 24. Washington already had a fine third baseman in Ossie Bluege, but the shifting of Bluege to shortstop left a gap at third base which Myer is expected to fill.

Kamm, who led the regular third basemen of the American league in fielding last season with an average of .977, has been a star for several seasons. He went through 74 consecutive games at one time last season without an error.

The Yankees and Indians will make shifts in an attempt to solve their third base problems. The world champions will move Mark Koenig over to third and try Lynn Lary, the high priced Oakland recruit, at shortstop. Roger Peckinpaugh will switch Joe Sewell, who led the American league shortstops last season with an average of .963, to third base and use Jack Tavener, obtained from Detroit in the Uhle deal, or Ray Gardner, from New Orleans, at shortstop.

Mack Has Problem

Connie Mack is undecided whether to use Jimmy Foxx at first or third. If Foxx is used at first, Jimmy Dykes or Sammy Hale will play third. Hale is a good hitter, but an erratic fielder.

Bob Reeves, who played shortstop for the Senators last season, may be shifted to the hot corner. Jerry Standaert, who batted .347 for Memphis, and Bob Barrett, who batted .311 for Buffalo, may be given trials at that bag.

Frank O'Rourke, who played 96 games at third last season; Eddie Grimes, who batted .334 for Tulsa, and Oliver Sax, who was in 16 games last season with the Browns, will battle for the third base position on Dan Howley's club.

Bucky Harris may make some sort of shift to get the third baseman he wants, but at present Marty McManus and Nolen Richardson, back up again from Fort Worth, will vie for the berth.

The Cardinals will shift Frankie Frisch from second to third, and if the change doesn't work out the berth will rest between Andy High, last year's third baseman, and Fred Haney, formerly with the Tigers.

Pirates Look to Rookie

The Pirates are counting on Jimmy Stroner, regarded as the best player in the Western league last season, to make good at third and justify Traynor's shift to short. Stroner batted .367 and hit 41 home runs last season.

Third base is Joe McCarthy's biggest problem. Clyde Beck, who played the bag last season, may again prove to be the best of a bad lot. Danny Taylor, who played the outfield last year for Memphis and batted .374, and Clarence Blair, who batted .294 for Little Rock, will be given trials at the Cubs' hot corner. Charley Dressen, Joe Stripp and Rube Lutzke, formerly with the Indians, will battle for third base on the Cincinnati Reds.

Unless Billy Gilbert from Atlanta comes through, Uncle Wilbert Robinson may have to use Davy Bancroft, the veteran shortstop, at third base, for Brooklyn. Billy Rhiel, another Atlanta recruit, may be tried at that bag.

The Braves have Lester Bell and Joe Dugan, purchased from the Yankees for third base, but trouble may develop at that bag anyway. Bell had gone too good a season last year, and he is disappointed because he wasn't traded to the Cubs. Dugan was bothered by his old knee injury last season, but he may have one more good season in him.

Sharkey Installed as 2-1 Choice At Scene of Fight With Stribling

Jack in Fine Condition While Willie Seems Drawn and Underweight; Runyon Surprised at Odds

By DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—My operatives in Miami inform me that I am a little out of line on my guess that William Stribling Jr. is likely to outwiggle Josef P. Cuckochay, otherwise Sharkey. They tell me that as the young gentlemen now shape up, Sharkey seems to be a 1 to 2 shot against the king of the cane brakes.

Naturally my operatives on the ground are in a better position to judge the gladiators than a party peering at them from over a typewriter miles and miles away. Willie Stribling Jr. must look very bad, indeed, from a close-up if they cannot figure him at least even money.

My operatives report him drawn, and apparently underweight, whereas Sharkey appears in fine fettle, as we say in the atelier. Perhaps the intensive campaigning that Stribling has undergone is finally collecting its income tax on his physique. It isn't in reason that a man can fight as often as Stribling, and retain all his wim, winegar and witroil.

True, many of Stribling's fights involved no greater exertion on his part than removing his clothes. But possibly a man can strain himself just removing his clothes I shall have to consult the scientists on that point. At that, I imagine there must be a certain waste of nervous energy in hop-scotching about the country continuously, in the Stribling manner, as opposed to the placidity of the Sharkey existence.

Both Looked Good

I haven't seen Stribling in action since the night he made a couple of irritated gestures at Baas Squires, the great Boer, and John fell over in alarm. Stribling looked all right that night. He seemed to be in great condition. He weighed over 180 pounds. I thought he had the appearance of a great fighter. But he has traveled far, and fought often since then.

I also saw Josef P. Cuckochay in both his last battles. I was in Boston when he gave Signor Arturo de Kuh, the man with the accordion-pleated style, a fine shellacking. I saw him out-box Meyer W. Christner, called K. O. in Madison Square garden.

I thought this last was a good performance by Sharkey. While Christner isn't a whole lot of fighter, he is dangerous with his right hand. Sharkey had to exercise some care, and at the same time score enough points to win the battle. I thought he boxed well against the threshing Christner.

True, he didn't stop Christner, but Sharkey doesn't profess to be a puncher. As between Sharkey and Stribling, I think the latter is the better hitter. He knocks out beezarks that Sharkey would only outregister. Stribling punches to the old bread basket, where Sharkey doesn't care for 'em. Neither does Stribling, for that matter.

Sharkey is mainly a stand-off boxer, and the type I would pick to beat Stribling, is the pile-on type. A bloke who will leap out of his corner and clamber all over the king of the cane brakes, punching persistently, is the bloke who is calculated to make Stribling turn to Graeco-Roman.

I would scarcely call Sharkey that type.

Jack More Ambitious

As between the two I would say that ambition surges more powerfully in the Sharkey bosom than in the Stribling breast. This sometimes counts a heap. Sharkey has made up his mind that he must get hold of a lot of money to support his Boston chateau in the style for which it was intended. Stribling probably doesn't care for a great deal of money, and I would not be surprised to find in him a letch for more peace and quiet than the higher honors of the sour science guarantee.

He has been going a long time, this young man. Still, he was born to the show business. And maybe the hubbub of his existence is the breath of life in his nostrils. Only he doesn't act as if he loves it. The fighting end of it has become a quiet prefunctory matter to him.

As the date draws near, I find New York interest in the affair simmering audibly. However, Stribling is the favorite in the local betting at 6 to 5, rather than Sharkey. The reports from the training camps may switch this price around in the next few days.

Also, many citizens who had decided they couldn't bear to look at Sharkey and Stribling, are questing reservations on the trains running to Florida. I am informed that Mr. James J. Corbett, who is taking a special train to the scene of the battle is loading up rapidly.

'Twas ever thus before a large exposition of the sour science. It may start off with everybody saying, "who wants to see those big bums, anyway?" and an amazing lack of interest is apparent on every hand.

Five days before the battle, citizens are running around pop-eyed trying to grab a few seats somewhere inside the 14th row, and making caustic remarks about the management if they are unsuccessful.

The only real flops in the history of the sour science in late years involved Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene. They couldn't go through with a show in Miami in which he was to appear some years ago, because the clients seemed strangely uninterested in Mr. Tunney.

It must have been Mr. Tunney, because his opponent of the period was the same Stribling who is to fight Sharkey, and already over $200,000 is in the box office, according to the statement of William Harrison Dempsey, the promoter. Allowing that Stribling has drawn only $25,000 of that amount, if Mr. Tunney had been able to draw as much a few years ago, the Tunney-Stribling match would have been a huge success.

The clients remained uninterested in Mr. Tunney even after he won the heavyweight title and defended it against Thomas Heeney, to an all-time flop record. The man Mr. Tunney defeated for his title, William Harrison Dempsey, is drawing more money as a promoter than Mr. Tunney was able to draw as a fighter.

Jack May Name Referee Today

Miami Prepares for 25,000 Visitors to Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14. (AP)—The question of the third man in the ring when Jack Sharkey, the Boston gob, and Young Stribling, pride of Georgia, mix it here Feb. 27, probably will be decided Friday.

This was the gist of an announcement today following a conference between Jack Dempsey, the promoter representing the "Madison Square Garden corporation, "Pa" Stribling, who manages his son, Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, and members of the Miami Beach American Legion post athletic committee, sponsors of the bout.

Names of the possible referees acceptable to both fighters will be discussed at the Friday conference which Dempsey will not attend, and if one is not agreed upon, the promoter will then name the man to referee the bout which is the first of a series of heavyweight elimination contests for the selection of a champion to ascend the throne left vacant by Gene Tunney's retirement.

While the conference regarding a referee was in session, civic officials and the chamber of commerce representatives of the great Miami area were in executive session planning to care for the 25,000 or more visitors expected to attend the fight.

Many are expected to remain aboard Pullmans but plans are being made to list every available room for the hundreds who will want such accommodation.

Sharkey stepped his road work today to four and one-half miles around the Miami Kennel club's track instead of three miles taken heretofore and went through other routine workouts.

Stribling cut his road work down, but added to his other work in preparation for the biggest fight of his career. The Georgian said he believed too much road work would cut his weight too sharply.

DRIVES IN SPEED TRIAL

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14. (AP)—Leon Duray, famous racing driver, will be at the wheel of J. M. White's record-holding Triplex car in the international speed trials here March 1 to 15, White announced in a telegram received here today.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

THE FOOTBALL rules committee evidently is not finished tinkering with the code of the game. Now it seems that the solons of the grid sport, in their session tomorrow and Sunday at New York, will pass the drastic rule making ANY fumbled ball dead at the spot of recovery. Shades of Sam White!

Still, if the fathers of the academic sport do take such a step, they will be consistent. A fumbled punt or lateral pass is now dead and there is good reason to declare any fumble cannot be more than recovered.

There are arguments both ways. Those who favor the ban on running with a ball after a fumble, assert that it puts victory and defeat too much upon individuals, and that teams should not profit or gain by such mistakes. That is very sound argument.

BUT THE declaring of all fumbles is going to take lots of the color from the game. It will dull to a certain extent the brilliance of those "ball hawks," the fellows who seem gifted with some inner sense that enables them to be around a fumbled ball; and not only that, but to scoop up that muffed pigskin and dash for long runs and touchdowns.

Sam White of immortal Princeton fame, who ran for touchdowns against Yale and Harvard in successive game and won those contests by his exploits, would not occupy the place in football he holds had a fumble been dead in his day.

◆ ◆ ◆

AGITATION favoring the moving of goal posts seems likely to be frowned down. The grid officials have been moving the goal posts back and forth for several years and nobody seems satisfied whether they are on the goal line or 10 yards back. Too, there is no indication that the point after touchdown will be abolished. Still, the rules committee might well consider that point. If they declare all fumbles dead, why not ban the point after touchdown? A fumble and the kicking of a goal depends upon the skill of an individual and breaks in luck to a great extent.

MAX SAYS NO TO VON BULOW

Schmeling Says He Won't Fight for Countryman

By ED FRAYNE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (US)—Following a stormy meeting at the state athletic commission yesterday, at which Arthur Bulow was finally definitely affirmed as his manager, Max Schmeling tonight issued a signed statement, declaring that he will retire from boxing rather than accept the decision of the New York boxing board.

In a four-page typewritten statement, the young German heavyweight said he would hang up his gloves until the expiration of his contract with Bulow, rather than fight for his fellow countryman. The contract has 18 months to run. Schmeling concluded a bitter arraignment of his countryman by saying:

"I do not hesitate to declare that I would rather hang up the gloves for the remainder of our contract than fight under his direction. I claim he did not fulfill his contract, and if he can neglect it, so can I."

Other Mangers Banned

The commission ruling which provoked Schmeling's indignation was to the effect that Bulow will be recognized as the only man qualified to do business for him. Joe Jacobs, Billy McCarney, Charlie Rose and other American managers who have been advising him will be liable to suspension if they attempt to negotiate future matches.

To prevent a recurrence of this type of misunderstanding, the commissioners enacted two rules to govern—contracts between managers and fighters.

Assignments of interests in boxers will not be allowed unless approval is given by the commission in the future.

Foreign boxers will not be allowed to box under foreign managers here unless the commission first gives its consent.

Finally, in the Schemling case, the commission ruled that Bulow had complied with all the requirements, and that he is to have sole charge of all Schmeling's future transactions in this country. Jacobs holds a contract for a percentage of the boxer's earnings, and this must be paid to him. Rose has a six per cent contract, and this also must be recognized. However, neither of those men, nor Schmeling, will be permitted to take any part in arranging his future bouts. Bulow will sign all contracts.

McMahon Recognized

The contract signed by Bulow with Jess McMahon will undoubtedly be recognized by the commission, but not until McMahon secures a license as a matchmaker. At present, McMahon holds no license, and has no right to make matches, the comission said.

Schmeling and Bulow appeared before the commissioners at the same time, and Schmeling did not attempt to conceal his resentment. He talked voluably to Bulow in German, and once or twice he lapsed into some steaming English expressions. Nothing he called Bulow was complimentary, according to those who understood the language. They met again leaving the office, and Jacobs told newspaper men he had difficulty in restraining the boxer from taking a punch at Bulow.

In his statement, Schmeling pointed out that Bulow's ignorance of pugilistic business affairs was strikingly demonstrated by the purse he received for knocking out Johnny Risko at Madison Square garden. He was paid over $15,000.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, salts or minerals, when we are constipated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove habit forming. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbine, the cathartic that is made from herbs, and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbine at Miller Drug Store.

Health And Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

(Copyright 1929 by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Feb. 17:

Lunch—Rice en casserole, cooked spinach, ripe olives.

Dinner—Baked chicken or roast pork, string beans, cooked lettuce, sliced tomatoes, baked apples a la mode.

Monday

Breakfast—Crisp waffle with butter and small amount of Maple syrup, apple sauce.

Lunch—Pint of buttermilk, 10 or 12 dates.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, salisbury steak, baked grated carrots, salad of celery and lettuce, jello with cream.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Poached egg on melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Stewed corn (canned), cooked celery, cold sliced beets (no vinegar).

Dinner—Leg of mutton, baked grated parsnips, asparagus, salad of chopped raw cabbage, prune whip.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Wholewheat muffins with peanut butter, stewed figs.

Lunch—Cooked oyster plant, molded vegetable salad (diced cooked carrots, beets and peas).

Dinner—Vegetable soup, broiled steak with mushrooms, string beans, salad of shredded lettuce, pineapple whip.

Thursday

Breakfast—French omelet, crisp bacon, melba toast, pear sauce.

Lunch—Baked potato, string beans, celery.

Dinner—Tomato jelly in cubes, roast veal, melba toast dressing; baked egg plant, spinach; salad of small grated carrots, baked apple.

Friday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, melba toast, dish of berries (canned).

Lunch—Baked squash, cooked kale, salad of endive and lettuce.

Dinner—Broiled filet of sole, asparagus, small green peas (canned), sliced tomatoes, plain Jello or Jello-well (no cream).

Breakfast—Coddled eggs, "whole-wheat-raisin muffins with sweet butter.

Lunch—Glass of grape juice.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, boiled lean beef, steamed carrots, spinach, salad of diced celery and cucumbers, peach whip.

"Wholewheat-raisin Muffins: To a well beaten egg add one cupful of sweet milk. Stir in one cupful of real wholewheat flour and beat until smooth, then add a half cupful of the wholewheat flour into which has been sifted one level teaspoonful of baking powder. Next add a half cupful of seedless raisins which have been slightly floured. Mix thoroughly and bake in muffin tins in a moderately hot oven until brown. The quantity makes about eight muffins.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Toxic Tonsils

Question: Snowstorm asks: "Will you please answer the following questions: 'A' says that tonsillitis is the result of toxic poisoning from a disordered stomach, constipation, etc., plus a chill or exposure to infection, and that a person in good bodily condition would not contract the complaint. 'B' says no—that tonsillitis is the cause and not the effect of toxic poisoning in the stomach and intestine. Which is right? Also, is it true that the functions of the tonsils are completed in youth, and as people grow older the tonsils become superfluous and in normal persons shrivel up or absorb?"

Answer: "A" and "B" are both right. When the blood which supplies the tonsils is full of toxic material the tonsils will become more easily inflamed and subject to the invasion of bacteria. The chronic or acute tonsillitis will then readily re-poison the body. The simple thing to do is to cleanse the blood stream of all toxic material, temporarily treating the tonsils if necessary to help in destroying the local infection. The tonsils are naturally large with children, but become smaller in adult life, which is an indication that their function has most to do with the metabolism of growth, yet I am sure that the tonsils do exercise some function all through life and that they should be retained if they can be kept healthy.

Diet at One Year

Question: Mrs. R. C. asks: "Why don't you advise giving vegetables, meat broth, cereal and eggs to children of one year? So far I have adhered strictly to your milk and orange juice regime, but just wonder why the child isn't old enough at one year to take solid food."

Answer: Probably the main reason why I advise milk and orange juice up to between two and three years of age is because it always works so perfectly. Children gain weight on it, have no digestive disturbances, and seem healthy in every way. When the other foods you mention are used there is apt to be a good deal of digestive trouble. Nature probably did not expect children to eat until their teeth are sufficiently developed to be able to chew foods other than the liquid diet. It does not seem wise to strain the child's digestive powers on the rougher foods more suited to the adult.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

Moran: What is yo' pullin' on that man's ears fo'?

Mack: He wants his face lifted.

Moran: If yo' keeps pullin' his neck, yo' will make him a gyraffe. His face will be so high up yo' won't be able to see it.

Mack: When a man asks me to lift his face, I LIFTS it.

Moran: I didn't know we was runnin' a beauty pariah.

Mack: We aint. No pariah is beautiful when yo' is in it.

Moran: Yo's is got to be careful Big Boy. Last night yo' shampooed a man with Portland cement.

Mack: Well, I beautified th' city.

Moran: How come?

Mack: Th' cement hardened on his face an' now they has set 'em out in th' park for a stat-chew.

Moran: Where is you' goin' now?

Mack: I'm goin' down to th' swamps.

Moran: What fo'?

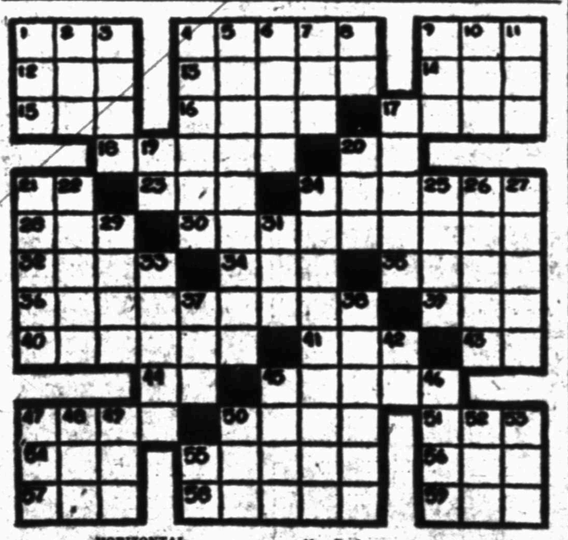

Mack: I gotta go down to th' frog pond an' dig up some more beauty clay.

Now we know where beauty clay comes from. If it makes the frogs beautiful it should make the Two Black Crows look like the Dolly Sisters. There was some action on the cash register yesterday. A customer threw it at Big Boy.

Chicago Realtor Commits Suicide in Hotel

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 14. (UP)—Despondent because of "financial difficulties," Seymour Morris Jr., Chicago realtor, shot and killed himself in a hotel here today. At a coroner's inquest the hotel manager said he had asked Morris to explain a $75 check he had written and signed with the name, A. Mather. Morris stepped into the bathroom and shot himself.

GAS SHOWINGS IN JACK COUNTY TESTS ATTRACT ATTENTION

OSAGE-CLAYTON TEST IN SAND

Interesting Events Keep Area in Spotlight

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Encountering a sand at 2973 feet showing considerable oil, the Osage Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Mrs. C. Clayton in the Lewis Knight survey, three miles southeast of the townsite of Bryson in southeast Jack county is creating plenty of interest among the fraternity in that section.

The well, which is a rank wildcat, last week featured the oil news by picking a gas sand at 2880 feet capable of making 500,000 feet of gas per day which was shut in. Drilling continued to 2973 feet when a good looking sand was struck. Casing will be set and the sand tested when its status as a producer will be known.

Sampley Test Watched

To the north of the townsite, and offsetting the Liedecker producer on the Oliver Loving farm to the south, the Petroleum Producers and Bridwell Oil company joint test, No. 1 Sampley in the J. A. Sanders survey is being watched with interest as it is nearing the interesting depth and drilling at 2480 feet.

The Panhandle Refining company No. A-1 J. M. Daugherty located in the Isaac Hughson survey, northwest of Bryson has resumed drilling after a brief shut down and is drilling at 410 feet.

The Texas company has started drilling on two wells in the Bryson pool. Mary A. Bryson, No. 1 located in the Isaac Hughson survey is drilling at 1180 feet, and No. 1 Shanafelt in the same survey is drilling at 300 feet.

Lindsey Repairs Gasser

Southeast of the Osage test, the Lindsay Drilling company No. 1 Thomason in the George Hardesty survey which was shut down with 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas closed in from a sand at 2853 feet has just succeeded in repairing the damage done when the force of the gas blew off the top of the casing a few days ago.

Kelleher and Rogers, putting down a test in the corners of blocks 2752, 3346, 2751 and 3347, 80 acres in a square, and located on the Oliver Loving land, are rigging up.

Other tests in the vicinity are being drilled by the Prairie Oil and Gas and other companies are going ahead in a satisfactory manner, and some interesting news is looked for within the next week or two.

Development of the various tracts in the territory surrounding the townsite of Bryson in southeast Jack county continues to go ahead regardless of weather conditions and each day brings to light one or more interesting happenings.

Magnolia Stored Crude Increases

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 14.—While crude oil storage by the Magnolia Petroleum company increased sharply in January, 1929, crude oil runs fell off, in comparison with January, 1928.

Total crude runs were 3,412,850.57 barrels against 3,708,307.00 barrels a year ago. Gains were made in only Arkansas and Louisiana, while Oklahoma-Kansas and Texas showed declines.

Oil stocks in Oklahoma-Kansas increased 2,134,204 barrels in a year's time to 9,548,097 barrels against 7,408,893 barrels a year ago in January. North Central Texas stocks fell off from 336,644 barrels in January, 1928, to 138,874 barrels in January, 1929.

Trotzky in Turkey Under Assumed Name

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 14. (INS)—Leon Trotsky, who arrived here Tuesday from his long period of exile in Alma Ata, Russian Turkestan, traveled here under the name of Sadoff, it was learned today. He was accompanied by two men believed to be soviet officials. They disembarked at night and went to the soviet embassy, where they have remained.

No one has been allowed to see Trotsky and his future plans are not known.

Bill Would Prohibit Shooting Across Roads

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (INS)—In a bill introduced in the house today, shooting firearms across any of the public roads of Texas would be prohibited. The bill is by Representative Graves of Georgetown.

Texas company No. 1 D. H. Lorance located 450 feet east and north of the southwest corner of D. H. Lorance farm in E. L. R. R. survey, No. 2, abstract 1171, in south Archer county is drilling at 618 feet.

UNDERWOOD DRILLING CO.

The Underwood Drilling company made location for its No. 1 J. J. Perkins test to be drilled 2800 feet north, and 200 feet east of the west line of southwest corner of section 10, A. T. N. C. L. survey in north Archer county.

SHAW OIL-WAGGONER

The Shaw Oil company No. E-5 W. T. Waggoner located in section 18, block 4, H. & T. C. R. R. survey, has set and cemented the pipe on top of the oil sand at approximately 2375 feet.

TEXAS COMPANY-PARKEY

The Texas company No. 1 J. R. Parkey located in the northeast corner of section 1, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county, is drilling at 1760 feet. A sand capable of making between four and five barrels was encountered at 1680-85 feet, but owing to the tight character of the formation it is expected the pay will be given a shot in an effort to loosen it up and increase the output.

WICHITA WILDCAT TEST

Lee Underwood and associate have made location and will test out the section of the county about five miles northeast of Iowa Park. The test which is to be a rank wildcat is located 200 feet east and 200 feet north of the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 1, Colonel Tap survey, abstract 446, W. M. Scott farm (on Map B. Von Lutherneau) is contracted to go to a depth of 2000 feet.

SUCCESSOR TO STEWART SEEN

Kingsbury Believed Choice Of Rockefeller

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (INS)—Reports that K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil company of California was being groomed by the Rockefeller faction to succeed Col. Robert Stewart in the event of the latter's defeat in the coming proxy battle, were gaining strength in Wall street today.

It was reported that the Rockefeller group, confident of victory, already had definitely fixed the stamp of approval on Kingsbury for the post.

Meanwhile the "Justice Society, Inc.," a recently formed organization headed by W. G. Williams, was going forward with its campaign that would have Colonel Stewart formally re-elected director of the Indiana company by the stockholders, but later removed by court action. It is making demands of both sides, including a letter issued yesterday which asks if the Rockefeller faction is really sincere in seeking Stewart's ouster or merely using the chairmanship issue as a shield to financial aspirations.

REPORT CONCERNING FARISH "ABSURD"

FORT WORTH, Feb. 14. (AP)—W. S. Farish, of Houston, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, today characterized as absurd a report that he was a candidate of the Rockefeller faction to succeed Col. Robert W. Stewart as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

Late Oklahoma Field Reports

TULSA, Feb. 14. (AP)—Riverland Oil company and W. H. Elson have a producer flowing by heads from 13 feet in the Dutcher sand, in their first test on the Kible land in the northeast corner of 25-14-9. This test is located several miles southwest of Newby and southwest of Edna, and may have opened up a new Dutcher sand pool in southern Creek county. No gauge has been taken as yet. Dutcher sand was topped at 2937 feet.

Another Mission pool failure was reported yesterday by Magnolia Petroleum corporation with its No. 1 Allckey picked up 3500 feet of salt water when Wilcox sand was penetrated from 4673 to 4676 feet. Location is the southeast of the northeast of the northeast of 1-8-5.

Magnolia Petroleum company topped Viola lime at 4400 feet and is drilling ahead on its wildcat test south of the Pearson extension of the St. Louis pool in Pottawatomie county. Location is No. 1 state school land at the southeast of the southeast of the northwest of 36-7-3 east.

Heflin Makes First Comment on Roman Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (INS)—The first reference in the senate to the recent peace agreement between the Vatican and the Italian government came today when Senator Heflin (Democrat) of Alabama, inserted a newspaper editorial in the Congressional Record. The clipping, from a Birmingham, Ala., paper, was entitled: "A Reactionary Step; the Concordat at Rome." It occasioned no debate.

Senate Passes Holbrook 'Salt Water Fish' Bill

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—The Holbrook "salt water fish" bill, amended to satisfy champions of the commercial fishers, was passed by the senate today without a dissenting vote.

GASOLINE TAX CHANGE ASKED

Oklahoma House Considers Revision of Law

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14. (UP)—Revision of the state gasoline tax law providing for bonds for payment by distributors is sought in a house bill introduced today.

L. R. Lowry, Jackson county, and Havre L. Matherly, Creek county, are the authors.

The bill also would remove gasoline inspectors from under the control of the corporation commission. The state auditors would be in charge of gasoline inspectors as well as collect the tax.

Under the present law the state auditor collects the tax. There are about 75 gasoline inspectors now employed by the state. They are under the corporation commission.

A second highway measure by Clay Roper of Vinita and Joe Whittaker of Eufaula, would reenact and amend the present law.

The state highway commission would be reduced to three members, named by the governor and approved by the senate. Five members now comprise the commission. The bill also provides four-cent gasoline tax, to be divided three cents to the state and one cent to the county. A fourth mill ad valorem tax also is provided.

The bill limits the state highway system to 6,500 miles, about the same as at the present time.

"This provisison is put into the bill to eliminate forced lettings for political purposes," Whittaker said.

"We expect to amend the appropriation section of the bill in the committee. Other amendments to bring the measure within the constitution and eliminate politics also will be made," he said.

The gasoline tax law is being sponsored by the Oil Jobbers' association. They claim the bill will eliminate adulteration and bonds required will enforce payment of the tax and quality claimed for the merchandise.

The association members say it will increase the state revenue for roads about $1,000,000 without increasing the one-gallon three-cent tax.

Representative Maas Stricken at Capitol

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (INS)—Representative Melvin R. Maas (Republican), Minnesota, collapsed today in the lobby of the house of representatives. He was carried to the office of Speaker Longworth and an ambulance was summoned to remove him to a hospital. Mrs Maas died two weeks ago. Dr. George W. Calver, house physician appeared and said Maas' breakdown apparently was due to a combination of influenza and the nervous strain the representative has been under.

New Mexico Federal Officials Appointed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Hugh B. Woodward of New Mexico was nominated today to be United States attorney for the district of New Mexico and John G. Gung'l of Arizona was nominated to be United States attorney for the district of Arizona. Forrest C. Northcutt of Colorado was nominated as United States attorney for the district of Colorado.

Proration Begun In Okla. Seminole Field

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14. (AP)—The first step in reducing the daily average oil production of Oklahoma to a maximum of 650,000 barrels, as agreed upon by operators at a recent meeting at Tulsa, became effective today. Proration of production went into force in the Greater Seminole and St. Louis areas.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (AP)—The failure of large domestic consumption figures to stimulate a more general or aggressive demand apparently was a disappointment to early buyers in the cotton market today. Prices weakened in the late trading under liquidation. May contracts, after selling up to 20.23 early, broke to 19.97 in the late trading and closed at that figure. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 10 to 22 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 10 points. Active months sold 8 to 14 points net higher in the early trading on covering combined with trade and commission house buying. This was promoted by the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 668,389 bales in January, compared with 534,352 for December and 586,142 for January, 1928.

Such large figures attracted much bullish comment and were regarded as tending to strengthen estimates of domestic consumption for the season. Their effect, however, seemed to be exhausted by the early buying movement. Demand soon tapered off, suggesting that the figures had been pretty well discounted by previous buying, and the market turned easier during the middle of the day.

Comparatively moderate setbacks were checked by further trade buying or covering. This demand seemed to be gradually filled up and the market weakened late in the afternoon when the liquidation became more general. March sold off from 20.17, the early high level, to 19.91 and July from 19.89 to 19.63. Closing quotations were at the lowest of the day on most positions.

The relatively steady ruling of March was a sustaining influence in the middle of the day and was attributed to covering by trade of speculative shorts. At the close, March was only 3 points under May, compared with 9 points at the close of yesterday.

Brokers with Liverpool and continental connections were buyers here in the early afternoon, but the support from that source was less in evidence toward the close. Private cables said that liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling in Liverpool, but that business in cotton cloths was restricted and that there was more pressure to sell yarns. Spinners of Egyptian cotton in Lancashire have voted to curtail production by one-third. Exports today, 7,577, making 5,981,368 this season. Port receipts, 11,643. U. S. port stocks, 2,115,633.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14. (AP)—Cotton prices worked lower today following an early advance on bullish January consumption figures. While liquidation and realizing accounted for a greater part of the decline, considerable selling developed in final trading and was attributed by some traders to the defeat of the Caraway anti-futures bill in Washington. May, after advancing to 19.61, eased off to 19.38, closing at the latter figure for a net loss of 13 points. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 12 to 13 points.

The market opened steady despite relatively lower Liverpool cables. There was considerable buying after the start, probably induced by the census bureau's January consumption total of 668,389 bales, a record for that month. March advanced to 19.47, May 19.61 and July 19.64, or 8 to 10 points above yesterday's close.

Prices soon traded easier, however, under realizing and liquidation, particularly of the March position, the first notice day for which is Feb. 23. Before the offerings were absorbed March sold down to 19.34 and active months generally to levels 13 to 14 points under the highs.

The market encountered some support at the decline in the form of covering and trade buying and prices recovered 9 to 11 points of the loss, but in the late afternoon trading heavy short selling followed announcement of the defeat of the Caraway future bill in Washington. All active positions made new lows for the day with March at 19.27, May 19.38 and July 19.42, or 20 to 23 points below the early highs. The close was barely steady and at the bottom.

Stocks Lower After Flurry Caused By Fear of Federal Reserve System

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (US)—Fear of the reserve system held the stock market back today and closed practically all groups net lower. While selling was not hurried at any time, there was constant liquidation and bear pressure due to uncertainty as to what would happen at the federal reserve meeting after the close.

Power stocks presented the best appearance as a group with American and foreign power climbing five points and utilities power and light two points.

Combustion gained 2¼ points more, but other recent favorites simply backed and filled and closed from a fraction to slightly more than a point lower.

Sinclair was the most active of the oil list and held around Wednesday's final price level for most of the session while other oils were quiet and fairly firm.

Rails continued irregular in dull trading. Although money appeared to be in good supply the call rate was held at 6½ per cent throughout. Growing quietness of trading as time for the reserve bank meeting approached put total volume for the day under 4,000,000 shares.

Who Does This?

Wall street would like to know the name of the "unofficial spokesman" for the treasury department. Whenever the reserve board "warns," news advices from Washington immediately thereafter quote "a treasury official" or someone "at the treasury department" in lengthy bullish statements which, in effect, mean the reserve does not know of what it talks and doesn't mean it, anyhow. Some such exuberant utterance came through early today and helped sustain bullish sentiment. When studied, however, it really meant nothing except that a change in the banking laws or stern effort of the reserve to enforce its ideas would hurt business as well as the stock market.

None knows that better than the reserve board governors. That's why they are trying to control credit in the stock market through fear rather than by exerting all its power. Somewhat similar feeling influences leading brokers to advise to stay out of the market for awhile.

Sinclair Active

Sinclair continued to be turned over in big blocks. The directors meet tomorrow morning and some time around noon it is expected that the long-awaited dividend announcement will be made. Regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share and an extra payment of 25 cents a share is looked for. Unless conditions in the oil industry become more disturbed than now indicated this payment should be continued and stockholders receive at least $3 a share this year.

Great Northern Ore directors also are expected to take favorable dividend action tomorrow, declaring a $1.25 a share payment. Activity in the stock is credited to Cutten and other strong western interests.

Mills May Get Cruisers

There was talk of a new group in steel but indications were that the aggressive operations would wait on further correction of the market as a whole.

Johns Manville, Carbide and other favorites of the "Big Ten" are in somewhat similar position. Utilities continued to display a good undertone by reason of scale orders resulting from knowledge of merger negotiations. Latest report along this line was that the Mellon interests would get control of Massachusetts gas and that other consolidations were planned among the eastern companies.

Washington advices indicated that the first order placed by the government under the cruiser bill would go to Independent Mills and not to Bethlehem. Those interested in Continental Can plan to issue the special analysis on the stock tomorrow.

Livestock

TEXAS REVIEW

FORT WORTH, Feb. 14. (AP)—While a fair supply of livestock was offered here today except for yearlings and a few steers, the quality was generally common in the cattle division. Trading a little slow, but most classes about steady, yearlings unevenly lower with the week's decline.

About half a dozen loads of slaughter steers offered. Two loads of good steers sold at $11.00, with some rather common light weight steers at $9.00 and some on the yearling order at $8.25. The better steers in particular looked fully steady.

While buyers were inclined to take off a little on butcher and beef cows, sellers held out for about steady price and the bulk of the sales on that basis. Carlots sold at $8.35 and down. Canners and cutters sold to the usual demand at steady prices. The bulk of sales at $5.00 and $6.00.

The supply of slaughter yearlings and heifers fairly plentiful with a very narrow demand. Sales were weak to a quarter lower, sales up to $11.25 and other carlots at $10.75, with outside buyers taking some of the supply. Other sales in the $8.50 notch.

The supply of calves light and sold steady. A carlot of fair quality calves sold $11.00, cull calves at $6.50 to $7.00. Very few stocker calves offered.

Trade in hogs very slow, with sales steady to 10c lower and most bids 10c to 15c lower. The best truck butchers during the early session sold up to $9.65.

Sheep steady with a few wooled wethers at $9.50 to $10.50 and a few feeder lambs at $14.00.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 14. (AP)—(United States Department of Agriculture)—A narrowing of the shipping demand resulted in checking of the price upturn on hogs at most livestock centers. Early trade at a few points ruled steady to 10c higher, but the activity was short lived and packers were able to make their buy at steady to 20c lower rates. The day's extreme top of $10.65, paid at Chicago, equaled Wednesday's best figure. Total offerings around the 11-market circuit were estimated at 136,500, an increase of 22,000 over a week ago but 39,000 short of the same day last year.

Fat lambs were unevenly steady to 25c higher, the most upturn shown at Omaha. Aged stock held fully steady. Choice lambs in Chicago stopped at $17.10, while at Omaha $16.65 was realized. The supply approximated 40,000 as compared with 29,155 a week ago and 42,864 a year ago.

Slow trade was general at most markets on cattle, packers displaying moderate interest in specialties, but indifferent toward the rank and file. Desirable light weight steers and most grades of yearlings were firm to slightly higher, but matured steers half fairly steady. Feeder buyer competition had a supporting influence to the trade on short-fed steers of light weight. Such offering, after the week's sharp decline, meeting with more favor from the country buyer. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 21,950, a slight increase over last Thursday and 7,000 less than a year ago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts, 46,000; market steady; top, $10.65, for 240-280-pound weights; packing sows $9.40@10.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Eclipsing all high-price records heretofore this season, wheat scored a sharp advance late today after earlier downturns. In various quarters, the advance as well as big buying that went hand in hand, was associated with Washington reports which said the treasury department was deprecating attempts at unwise control of speculation in commodities and stocks.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at nearly the day's top figures, ⅛c to 1⅜c net higher. Corn finished the same as yesterday to ⅜c up, with oats unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 15c.

Preceding the late upward swing of the wheat market today, the trading pit had become almost bare of offerings, sellers having expended their energies earlier in the day. The chief incentive to sell was a forecast pointing to likelihood of a letup in the European cold wave and apparently promising to diminish apprehension about crop damage in Europe.

Estimates were current that 5 to 10 per cent of winter wheat acreage in France will have to be resown with spring wheat. Furthermore, the principal British trade authority announced that world import needs for wheat had been raised 40,000,000 bushels and would total 880,000,000 bushels.

Corn, oats and rye rallied with wheat. New high prices for the season were scored in the rye market as well as in wheat. Corn advances were checked by word that 10,000 bushels of corn was sold today to come to Chicago. Country offerings of corn, however, were small.

LEADER WOOS HIDALGO HERO

South Texan Asks Barnett To Run for Governor

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—Representative S. E. Barnett of Greenville, who yesterday led the fight in the house for reopening the contest of the seat of W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg, today was invited to become a candidate for governor in 1930.

He was advised in a letter by Gordon Griffin of McAllen, leader of the "invasion" of Hidalgo county citizens petitioning the legislature to reconsider its dismissal of the contest filed by E. M. Smith, that "five hundred men and women from Hidalgo county, with one accord, by rising vote on the steps of the capitol, declared that Texas needs a man of your qualifications for governor and said they would vote for you."

"They also promised you the solid legally qualified, uncontrolled anti-gang, white vote of Hidalgo county, amounting to at least 7,000," he said.

"Texas needs a fighting governor; one uncontrolled and with the courage of his convictions to enforce the law without fear or favor.

"Yesterday, in the house of representatives you made a courageous fight for the constitutional rights of a citizen of Texas against a powerfully organized political machine, represented by one of the most astute lawyers in this state.

"The people of Hidalgo county will vote for no man bearing the impress of corruption and machine dominations, hence our desire to vote for you."

AN HONEST MAN

ATLANTIC CITY—There are honest men in this world and Joseph T. Bussi, a tailor, is one of them. Lee Schiff of Kansas City sent his suit to Bucci to be pressed with $1,400 in one of the pockets. Bucci found the money and returned it to Schiff. He received a reward of $200.

Law Would Restrict Citrus Fruit Sales

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—A law forbidding the sale of citrus fruit between Sept. 1 and Dec. 15 of each year, unless the fruit has been inspected and passed by a citrus fruit inspector of the state or of the United States bureau of agricultural economics is pending in the house. It was written by Representatives W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg and Polk C. Hornaday of Harlingen, and is aimed at the marketing of unripe, overripe and frost-damaged fruit, they said.

PARENTS GIVEN $7,000 VERDICT

Jury Makes Award For Death of Children

After spending all day Thursday in arriving at answers to around 40 special issues in the case, a jury in the 78th district court late Thursday afternoon awarded Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Porter $7,000 damages from the Magnolia Petroleum company in connection with the drowning of two small Porter children in April, 1927.

The verdict closed the third trial of the case within a little more than a year, the two previous trials resulting in hung juries. The parents of the children were asking $50,000 damages.

The children, Earl, 9, and Neva Sue, 7, were found drowned in a lake on a Magnolia lease near Electra. They were believed to have fallen into the lake from a narrow bridge spanning the water, according to the testimony of the plaintiffs. E. W. Napier represented Mr. and Mrs. Porter in the trial of the case.

Alleged Child Slayers Waive Examining Trial

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Feb. 14. (AP)—Arraigned in justice court this afternoon on charges of causing the death of 5-month-old Clarence Wesley Gorham last Sunday, Mrs. Ethel Lewis, 49, and Mrs. Okel Gorham, respectively grandmother and mother of the child, waived examination and were bound over to circuit court.

Mrs. Gorham has accused Mrs. Lewis, her mother, of poisoning and strangling the child and also alleged that Mrs. Lewis had slain seven other children during the last five years.

Shipping Board Accepts Bid of $16,300,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—The bid of P. W. Chapman, Inc., of $16,300,000 for the United States lines and the American Merchant line was accepted today by the shipping board. Delayed two weeks by a senate resolution asking that negotiations be held up until the senate commerce committee had examined all bids, the board closed the deal shortly after being advised that the senate committee had voted not to obstruct the sale.

Two Condemned Men Get Executions Stayed

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (UP)—Charles Walz and Anthony Grecco, condemned slayers, who with David Shanks had waited death in the lethal chamber of the county jail were granted stays of execution by a court order issued by Judge Harry B. Miller late today. The order postponed the executions of Walz and Grecco until next Wednesday pending an appeal for a writ of supersedeas. No action was taken in the case of David Shanks.

Report on Muscle Shoals Bill Is Called Invalid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—Thirteen members of the house military affairs committee, two more than a quorum, met today without Chairman Morrin and ordered a favorable report to the house on the Madden bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid company for 50 years. The vote was 11 to 2. Morrin declared the meeting neither regular nor valid because it had not been called properly.

Nocona Marshal Nabs Man Looting His Car

Special to The Record News

NOCONA, Texas, Feb. 14.—A man took an overcoat and a Winchester out of City Marshal Ed Powell's car as it was parked on a downtown street today, but he didn't get very far. The officer followed the man across the street, arrested him and later named him in a complaint charging theft of over $50. The accused is in jail.

Reapportionment Bill Fails to Gain Floor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. (AP)—An attempt by Senator Vandenburg, Republican, Michigan, to bring up the bill for reapportionment of the house of representatives failed today in the senate. The proposal was voted down, 48 to 22. The statement had previously been made that the vote could not be taken as an indication of the strength of the bill's supporters.

Hester Named Head Of Bridge Committee

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14. (UP)—Representative Hester today replaced Representative Paul as chairman of the committee to gather information on intrastate toll bridges.

The committee will prepare a bill regarding the state's acquiring of the bridges and completion of its work.

Mellon Recommends Additional Funds to Hire More Dry Agents

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (US)—An added appropriation of $2,570,000 for prohibition enforcement, providing for more dry agents and customs officers, has been recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, he announced today.

The fund will have full administration support and there was every indication congress will vote it, as a partial recognition of the claims of organized drys who fought for a $24,000,000 addition.

The treasury has advised the house appropriations committee that it can use the $2,570,000 appropriation to strengthen both the prohibition and customs bureaus. Drys hailed the step with satisfaction. It came as a result of an inquiry during consideration of the proposal of Senator Harris, Democrat, of Georgia, to provide an additional $24,000,000 for added prohibition enforcement.

Harris' proposal is now before the senate awaiting action since house conferees had refused to accept it.

About $1,700,000 would go to the prohibition bureau for employment of new agents where they can be used most effectively and for other purposes, it was understood. New York would get some of the agents. The exact number has not been determined. Others probably would be assigned along the Canadian border.

The additional funds will make the total prohibition bureau appropriation $15,200,000.

Father's Duty to Son Explained by Speaker

The man who first should offer companionship to a boy, teach him to play and to work, and assist him in discovering his own capacities should be that boy's father, according to the address delivered Thursday noon before the Rotary club by Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church.

Parents who in later life are dismayed by the fact that their children seldom come to them in confidence to discuss the awakening problems of life might often find the explanation in the meager companionship given to their boys and girls in earlier years, the speaker said.

A quartet composed of R. E. Shepherd, Joel H. MacGregor, Dr O. T. Kimbrough and Harry Carson sang "John Peel" and "My Louisiana Lullaby," accompanied by Mrs Shepherd. Guests were introduced by W. W. Brown.

Truck Operators And Shippers To Meet Here Today

Members of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce, together with local truck operators, will meet Friday noon at the Kemp hotel at a luncheon in order to discuss the matter of providing bonds and insurance for the freight trucking industry, according to plans announced by the chamber of commerce Thursday.

A state meeting of truck operators was held at San Antonio this week and was attended by J. W. Chatham, manager of the traffic and industrial department of the chamber of commerce. It was stated that in view of the fact that no steps have been taken as yet toward legislative action on the problem, efforts may be made to effect an organization in the Wichita Falls territory to regulate the movement of freight by truck.

WIDOW FILES $35,000 SUIT

Railroad Named in Death Of Husband

Asking $35,000 damages in connection with the death of her husband on Sept. 12, 1927, Mrs. Hattie L. Garrett Thursday afternoon filed a suit against the Fort Worth & Denver railroad in the office of Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk.

The plaintiff alleges that her husband, a special agent for the railroad, died as the results of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile while directing the movements of a circus crowd on the night of Sept. 10, 1927. Mr. Garrett was acting upon the instructions of the company in turning the traffic away from where the circus cars were being loaded, according to the petition. A car, whose driver is unknown, is alleged to have struck him as he worked.

Second Expedition To Valley Leaves Feb. 16

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, representative of a Rio Grande valley real estate concern, announced Thursday that a second excursion of North Texas citizens to the valley, for the purpose of examining portions of the Goodwin tracts near Mission will leave here Feb. 16. Special railroad rates will be offered.

About 75 people from this region went on the first excursion which left here Feb. 2. The excursionists, in addition to dealing with real estate, will be entertained on visits to old Mexico and San Antonio, Mrs. Gardner said.
