Gas Company Announces New Building

Expansion of facilities and building of the Aransas Natural Gas Company was announced this week by George K. Taggart III, of Corpus Christi, who said that 1200 square feet of floor space would be added to the present office building.

"When we formed the company 15 years ago," Taggart said, "we had about 500 or 600 connections. Today we have around 2,000 and our office space is too small to handle the added work. In addition we need to add a great deal of warehouse space and intend to have a 15x30 display room in which we will show gas appliances of various sorts, as well as air conditioning equipment."

Taggart said that two Aransas Natural Gas employees—Thomas Lee and Moise Lopez, had recently been sent to an air conditioning school in order to gain knowledge by which the company's service could be improved.

The gas company has been expanding its lines rapidly, to serve many more customers in the area, Taggart said.

"We recently extended them to Key Allegro," he said. "We laid lines to Lamar and Goose Island earlier this year, and have recently laid others to serve the new Bahamas subdivision of Bonham and Magee, of Corpus Christi, that's going in between Highway 35 and Aransas Bay, at the north end of Live Oak Peninsula."

"To the west of town, our lines run as far as the Port Bay Hunting Club, and we have a tap on the Western Natural Gas line in that region. Normally we draw most of our gas from the William Herbert Hunt Trust Estate wells in Copano Bay, but this tap on Western makes our capacity practically unlimited."

Taggart said his company was serving West Terrace now, and it would take little trouble to branch out in that area, if the concentration of business warranted it.

"We have also recently laid a line to the Rincon subdivision of Emory Spencer and Chester Johnson of Rockport," Taggart stated.

Taggart said the Laguna Construction Co. has been awarded the contract for construction of the building, with 90 days for completion. However, he stated, that the chances are good that completion will be sooner.

ENGINEERS CONFER WITH NAV. BOARD

Homer C. Innis, vice president of Lockwood, Andrews & Newnam, was in Rockport on Tuesday, in company with Engineer Phil Pacheco, making an inspection trip of engineering projects being supervised by his concern for Aransas County Navigation District No. 1. These include improvements to Fulton Harbor, Little Bay, and the Cove Harbor.

NEW BOAT FACILITIES ARE PROGRESSING VERY RAPIDLY IN CONSTRUCTION

Construction is proceeding rapidly on two waterfront projects—Jackson's new boat-house, which will replace the one lost by fire a year ago, and the Key Allegro marina.

Jacksons are building 16 new covered stalls, but Norvell Jackson said this may eventually be enlarged to 23. At Key Allegro, according to Carl C. Krueger, Jr., there will be launching ramp, gas facilities for both inboard and outboard boats.

Krueger said the new marina will have 18 open slips for transients, but that the new boat houses include 64 covered stalls, capable of handling almost any type of boat.

The marina will operate under a Phillips 66 franchise, he said.

New Waterfront Subdivision To Be On Brundrett Land

Newest of the Venetian type subdivisions around Rockport will be Sportsman's Bay Colony, Inc., to be developed on 1148 acres formerly known as the Brundrett property, which J. Fred Brundrett recently sold to a group of Corpus Christi and Aransas Pass developers.

The land lies between Highway 881 and Port Bay, and west of the road leading to Port Bay Club.

The property will be subdivided in the near future, with channel and bayfront lots available, as soon as the necessary work can be done to make it ready for sale.

New owners of the property are W. J. Sheldon, W. D. Miles and Ned Langdon, of Corpus Christi, and J. T. Stellman, of Aransas Pass.

The sale was handled by Pepper Everett and Jean Johnson, of Pepper's Realty Service.

Rockport School Of Fine Arts To Open Sessions

The Rockport School of Fine Arts will open its summer sessions Monday, June 15, with classes on landscape and free composition which will run through June 26, according to Simon G. Michael, director.

From July 13 through July 24 classes will be held in portrait, figure, free composition and still life painting. From August 10 through August 21, Michael said, the class will study landscape, free composition, and marine painting, using sand dunes, shrimp boats and similar subjects.

Views From Hewes

By Police Chief Robert Hewes

Things have been pretty much normal this past two weeks, many tourists have come and gone but all in all things are very peaceful. The school zone signs are down and the one-way signs at the elementary school are gone till the next school season.

A traffic survey is now underway by the local police department to determine the need of changing some Stop or Yield signs and the placing of new signs. We hope that if you have any ideas on this you will contact us. But signs alone will not do the job of using traffic safety. It has to be a concentrated effort on the part of every driver to make our town a safe place to live and drive.

It would be nice if we did not have to issue a single traffic citation for a month but this is impossible as long as people take the attitude that if they don't see an officer present, then they do not have to watch their speed or watch on to pay attention to stop and yield signs.

We have been very fortunate in the past two months we have had only two accidents each month and none of these has there been much damage. But, as you know in the rural area around Rockport (continued on page 8)

City Council Lets Contract On New Well

The City Council, at its regular meeting, heard a presentation by three members of the fire department, asking for a larger appropriation during the coming year.

Charles LeBlanc, of the fire department, told the council that for some years the fire department had been living from hand to mouth, and asked if it would not be possible to obtain more money.

In 1962, he said, when the county and city each appropriated $1500 for the fire department, the expenses were $4,741.38. A late-in-the-year donation of $1,060 from the county and of $695 from the city through an emergency fund set up during the days the community fund was operating was sufficient to take up that deficit, LeBlanc said.

However, in 1963, when the county cut its contribution to $1,250, and the city did likewise, the operating expenses were $3,919.18 and only use of an advance appropriation for 1964 had kept them solvent. The drop in the county contribution came from the fact, LeBlanc said, that the Lamar fire department was started that year, and the county fire appropriation was split three ways, instead of only two as before, when only the Rockport and Fulton fire departments were operating.

Councilmen pointed out to the firemen present that the city was already appropriating far more than the money of which they were aware. This cash went to the department to help defray operating expenses, they were told, but the hidden expense was considerably greater than the cash donation. In 1963, for instance, the total city contribution to the Rockport fire department amounted to $3,420, because the city paid telephone bills, building maintenance, and utilities.

One of the councilmen, after hearing LeBlanc give a breakdown on the cost of individual fires, pointed out that the fires which were costing the most were those outside the city limits. One such brush fire recently cost the department over $400, LeBlanc said.

The councilmen asked the department to present their request in writing, and promised to consider it.

In other business with the fire department, the council approved city participation in the cost of sending local firemen to attend the firemen's school at Texas A&M, agreeing to pay their expenses and reimburse them for the time lost.

The council then discussed bids received for a new water well from Layne-Texas, which bid $11,890, and Texas Water Wells, Inc., which bid $15,489, and awarded the bid to the first company.

An extended discussion then followed on the possibility of furnishing water to Key Allegro, but no action was taken pending an appearance of Carl C. Krueger, Jr., of Key Allegro, before the council, to outline what he wanted.

This discussion ended, the council then heard a report from W. W. McClendon on various aspects of engineering on city projects, and held another discussion of the possibility of obtaining further Federal grants for city improvement.

JIMMY BAUKNIGHT HURT IN ACCIDENT

Jimmy Bauknight was injured last Friday while working on a boat member. A wave caused him to lose his balance and fall overboard, where one of the propellers caught his pants and drawing him so close that the blades caused severe lacerations of his left leg. Taken to Thomas Spann Hospital in Corpus Christi, he remained there until Monday, when he was released. He is recuperating nicely.

New Brochure On "Toast of the Coast" Attractions Ready

A new issue of Rockport's Toast of the Coast booklet, "A Guide to Pleasure," has just appeared in enlarged form and somewhat different format than the one published a year ago.

The present booklet also has been enlarged by four pages, and a much larger printing has been made on the one this year. This year the Chamber of Commerce receives 7500 copies without cost as against the 5,000 they received a year ago.

The booklet has met with wide acceptance wherever it has been available, and its distribution is greater than any other single piece of promotional literature the Chamber of Commerce has ever issued in the past during the same period of time.

Mrs. Mary Juergens, manager of the Chamber, told directors some time ago that she had an excellent opportunity of observing the public reaction to various types of literature displayed in the booth of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce at the Dallas Sports show, earlier this year.

In general, Mrs. Juergens stated, pieces of literature like the 36-page booklet "The Toast of the Coast" were the ones retained by people visiting the booth.

Other types were looked at and then dropped, she said, but this was thrust into a handbag or shopper's bag, for later looking.

Among things dealt with in the Toast of the Coast are the recreational facilities and the history of Rockport and its area, as well as the airport, improvements to navigation district harbors, and similar items.

This brochure, Mrs. Juergens said, is designed to supplement other literature issued by the Chamber of Commerce, and to give a broad spectrum look at Aransas County and its people.

For serious inquiries," she said, "we have the recently revised industrial survey, which runs to nearly 100 pages, and answers many of the questions a prospective industrial site seeker would ask."

"In addition to these two," the chamber manager added, "there is the smaller pictorial folder which deals mainly with the recreational facilities of the area, and a fine color brochure on Aransas County Airport."

Any of these can be obtained by writing to the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Juergens said, and asking for them. However, because of the expense of issuing the industrial brochure, she stated, it is reserved for bonafide business inquiries.

Besides being distributed through the Chamber of Commerce and other local outlets, Mrs. Juergens said, these various brochures are available at many of the ports of entry along the Texas border, where tourists enter the state.

PARKS & WILDLIFE SET PUBLIC HEARING JUNE 8 THRU 12

Public hearing in Regulatory Responsibility Counties of South Texas will be held by Parks and Wildlife Department personnel from June 8th to June 12th, according to Robert G. Mauermann, regional director of the Department. These hearings are held each year and are designated to allow Department biologists to present and explain any changes to the present hunting and fishing regulations that will be proposed at the next Parks and Wildlife Commission meeting.

Game Warden Bill Weaver urges that all interested sportsmen and landowners be present at the Aransas County hearing which will be held in the County Courthouse at 8 p.m. June 11. The entire hearing will be tape recorded and the tape made available to the Parks and Wildlife Commissioners.

High School Alumni Welcome New Members

Norvell F. Jackson gave the congratulatory message to the honor guests and the response from the class was made by N. F. Jackson Jr.

Miss Linda Clark was at the register.

Many subjects were taught including one week of traffic laws and one week on warrants with and without arrest. Many case studies were involved.

Diplomas for the school are to be issued later this month.

Joe Earl Hunt, Raymond Owens Win Saturday

Joe Earl Hunt, presently chief deputy under Aransas County Sheriff Virginia Shivers, won the Democratic nomination for sheriff here Saturday in a very tight race that saw a total of 1790 votes cast.

Hunt led by a scant margin of 17 votes over E. A. Stautzenberger, former Rockport chief of police. Hunt received 893 votes to 876 for Stautzenberger who led the field on the May 2 primary, receiving 745 votes to Hunt's 536 at that time.

The vote for Hunt by precincts was as follows:

Absentee, 41; Precinct 1A, 39; Precinct 1, 231; Precinct 2, 283; Precinct 3, 272; Precinct 4, 27; total 893 votes.

Stautzenberger received 36 absentee votes; 78 in Precinct 1A; 279 in Precinct 1; 257 in Precinct 2; 214 in Precinct 3; and 12 in Precinct 4, for a total of 876 votes.

In the other contested race in the county, that for Commissioner of Precinct 3, Raymond Owens, present Navigation Commissioner, unseated long-time incumbent A. L. Davis by a vote of 299 to 236.

Hunt will face the Republican candidate for sheriff, Roy Hinton, in November.

Copano Heights To Open Friday

The opening of the 40-acre Copano Heights subdivision on Friday, June 12, marks the latest step in the real estate operations of George Strickhausen, III who, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Sipe, has opened no less than ten units in what originally started out to be a 1200-acre development, but has since grown to more than 1500 acres.

In December, 1959, Strickhausen opened the first unit of Copano Ridge; last week he received approval for plats of Copano Ridge Unit 7, Copano Cove Units 9 and 10, and Copano Heights.

Since opening the first unit, Strickhausen has dug more than 11 miles of canals, paved an equal number of miles of road; installed more than 80,000 feet of plastic water line; erected an 84,000 gallon storage tank for water, and is contemplating another with a capacity of 420,000 gallons.

In Copano Ridge, the first subdivision opened, most of the 300 lots are sold; in Copano Cove, where there are 600 lots, homes are going up on many of them; Copano Cay, with 140 lots, was opened late last fall; and Copano Heights is slated for June 12. It occupies 40 acres on the old Clark property, which was purchased several years ago by the late Charles Roe, and sold to Strickhausen after his death.

Copano Heights is the only one of the entire group that has no access to the waterfront. The other units are all contained in a Venetian-type development, and the lots front on canals ranging from 60 to 185 feet in width, or face Copano Bay and Salt Lake.

In addition to these, Strickhausen is also developing portions of West Terrace which he recently purchased.

Four young Rockport boys were apprehended over the weekend by Patrolman Joe Dominguez for the theft of a tire. The boys offered to help change a tire for a visitor to Rockport and after not being able to change it stole the tire. They were arrested shortly after with the tire in their possession.

All four were charged before City Judge G. D. Johnson and fined $52.00 each. All are in county jail at this time.

A 21 year old Rockport man is in county jail after being apprehended by Police Chief Bob Hewes for disturbing the peace and taken before Judge G. D. Johnson. He is in jail in lieu of a $52.00 fine.

On May 3, three boys from San Antonio and one from Rockport were arrested by Police Chief Bob Hewes, Patrolman Joe Dominguez and Deputy Sheriff Joe De La Garza for minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. They were charged in City court and paid a fine of $25 apiece.

One of the San Antonio youths was also charged with displaying a drivers license not his own but to buy the beer with and he was fined $25 on this charge. All paid their fines and were released.

TEENAGE DANCE IS SCHEDULED

There will be a teenage dance at the Rockport Youth Center Friday night from 8 until 12.

Music will be provided by "The Clues". Everyone is welcome. Admission is $1.00 per person and dress is casual.

Navigation Projects Are On Schedule

Progress on the three Navigation District projects has been outlined in a report to the commissioners by Phil Pacheco, engineer-in-charge of the work.

At Fulton, Pacheco said, contract date for completion was July 24. However, he anticipates that work there will be finished by July 1.

The Goldston Company has the contract, and has already completed the seawall along the beach as well as the breakwater at the harbor entrance, dredging of a new channel into the harbor and installation of the necessary storm sewers for drainage, as well as the concrete groin and walkway at the south end of the beach.

Still to be completed are the swimming pier, now 40% complete; the fishing pier, which has only 10% of the work done on it, and site grading and sidewalk work, now almost finished.

Construction on paving started June 1, while the contractor is hauling said fill to top off the beach. As of June 1, Pacheco said, the entire job was 90 per cent complete.

In Little Bay, the contract completion date is September 16, 1964, and the contractor, Laguna Construction Co., is on schedule, Pacheco told commissioners.

Dredging in Little Bay is scheduled for completion July 1, but the anticipated completion date is June 11, in plenty of time for use of the facility during Rockport's Sea-rama, June 20-21.

Grading of the new fill and dredging are about 89 per cent complete, the engineer said.

Vermillion Construction Co. with a low bid of $895.00 was awarded the dirt moving contract on the west side of the ski basin.

Construction of rest rooms has been 52 per cent complete, cabanas are 53 per cent complete; the 4-inch water line that will carry water to the end of Rockport beach is 83 per cent complete, and slope protection at the boat ramp has been completed.

Final grading on the new fill is underway.

Pacheco said the Little Bay project was 65 per cent complete at this time.

Slope protection at the Cove amounts to 895 lineal feet, as of June 1, not counting 140 lineal feet previously installed.

In Texas . . .

at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Texas . . . beer goes with fun, with relaxation

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. O. W. Brymer.

227 visits were made during April and May and 227 cards sent for the same period according to the Church Extension chairman. World Missions chairman reported our Church's quota for White Cross work as being four single sheets and four single sheet blankets, plus the shipping cost. Since it has been suggested that each church contribute money instead of sending the merchandise, it was voted to contribute $20.00 to cover the cost of the sheets and blankets, plus shipping charges.

Ladies having the world mission books are asked to turn them in so that Mrs. Brundrett may get a count of the number who have read them. A letter was read from the Presbyterian World Missions chairman, stressing the observance of World Day of Prayer on June 28.

There will be no general meeting of the Women of the Church during July and August.

When you come to see the 1964 Friedrich room air conditioner YOU SEE IT ALL!

When you come to our showroom to see a Friedrich, we show you the outside of the air conditioner like everybody else.

That's where others stop, but we're just getting started.

We show you the inside of the unit, too. We've put transparent glass on the top and side of a regular Friedrich unit so you can see what's going on as it actually operates.

What you see inside the Friedrich will do two things: First, it will prove to you that Friedrich is as good as your friends have told you. Second, it will make you wonder why others don't want to show you inside their units.

What's Going On At Live Oak Country Club

It was a selective drive tournament with seven under par winning the event. Six under took second and five under took third.

The first place team, captained by Tim Miller, included John Weber, Jerry Anderson, Pat Smith and Tom West.

Second place team was composed of Bill Cobb, Tom Tiner, V. Vasquez and Jack Johnson. Third place went to Stan Wright, Ralph Delgado, R. J. Perez and Dave Segler. Sinton Is Next

The next Inter-City program will be played Sunday, June 14, at Sinton. Players must register by 12 noon and tee off time will be 1:00 p.m. Golf Tip

The over swing is usually caused by loosening the left-hand grip at the top. Hitting from the top, with no knee action, will cause topping of the ball.

Definition—Ball in Play—A ball is "in play" as soon as the player has made a stroke on the teeing ground. It remains in play as his ball until holed out, except when it is out of bounds, lost or lifted or another ball is substituted in accordance with the PGA rules or local rules.

THE GREENS are now being worked over in preparation for the summer months play.
