Revolt Averted In Iran After Talk To Chief

SHIRAZ, Iran (AP)—A special envoy from Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi—backed by a show of force—apparently has averted a revolt by the powerful Ghashghaies tribe and staved off an invasion threat to this historic Iranian city.

Ali Heyat, governor of the Fars region, who trekked into the tribal area to consult leaders of the warlike people, declared yesterday that the situation was "satisfactory" and "any hypothetical danger has been averted."

The Ghashghaies were strong supporters of ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, ousted by a pro-Shah uprising Aug. 19. The tribal chief, Mohammed Nasser, fled to the surrounding hills. Army intelligence reported he and his 200,000 warriors were preparing to invade Shiraz, a city of 115,000 in south-central Iran.

Ordering strong army forces to garrison fortresses in the area, the Shah sent Heyat to contact the tribesmen and somehow persuade them to obey the new government of Premier Fazollah Zahedi.

Heyat arranged a meeting with Nasser yesterday on a lonely hill 150 miles from the city.

On his return, he said he had given Nasser a personal invitation from the Shah to visit the monarch in Tehran and Nasser "probably will accept."

The envoy added that the chief "certainly" would agree to a purge of Communist elements in the tribal rank and file. Although Nasser himself is described as a strong anti-Communist, it is believed here that the tribal unrest was due to Red propaganda among the warriors.

Over Half-Inch In Month's First Rain

Scattered showers which brushed across the county yesterday and last night left Snyder .67 of an inch of moisture.

It was the first rain of a measurable amount since Aug. 19, although light showers have fallen since then. The rain brought Snyder's total for the year to 9.99 inches, still less than half the amount needed to make 1953 a normal year for rainfall.

Rain in Hermleigh was estimated at .50 of an inch from showers last night. The afternoon shower skipped there. Mrs. Jack Wright, north of Union, said rain from the afternoon and night showers totaled slightly more than one inch there. A light shower was reported 14 miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont road.

Heavier rain fell south of Snyder, with Colorado City reporting 1.07 inches. Lamesa had 1.75 inches.

Lightning which accompanied last night's rain did slight damage in Snyder, police and fire officials reported.

The police department's two-way radio system was put out of order about 10:45 last night when lightning struck the transmitter in East Snyder. The radio serves the police, sheriff, and fire departments.

Damage to wiring and electrical apparatus at Swanson's Grocery on Avenue E in Northeast Snyder was caused by lightning.

Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said apparently lightning struck a television antenna at the grocery store. Much of the electrical wiring was destroyed in the building, he said.

Gatlin said that all persons who own television sets should make a careful check to see that both the antenna mast and the signal lead-in cable are properly grounded.

"Properly grounding the mast and lead-in will protect the television set as well as the house," he said.

Wildcat Staked In Borden For 9,500 Feet

A 9,500-foot wildcat has been staked for immediate drilling in extreme Southwest Borden County by Texas Crude Oil Co., Vickers Petroleum Co., Inc., and Ponder Oils, Inc.

The project will be the No. 1-42 G. E. White, 1,980 feet from south and 2,254.2 feet from east lines of section 42-33-T&P. The drillsite is on an 80-acre lease about five miles northeast of Ackerly in the northeast corner of Martin County. The nearest production is in the Good field about nine miles to the southeast.

FROM ELLENBURGER

Double U Oil No. 1-A G. E. Spindler, Northeast Borden wildcat, has found interesting shows for possible production in the top of the Ellenburger.

The shows came in a one-hour drillstem test from 8,334-346 feet. There was a fair blow of air throughout the test period. Recovery was 120 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud with 90 feet of mud-cut oil and 60 feet of slightly mud-cut oil. There were no signs of formation water.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was between 97-147 pounds. Shutin bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was 170 pounds.

The project was to drill 30 to 40 feet deeper for another test.

Some geologists have called the tentative top of the Ellenburger at 8,333 feet. Elevation is 2,682 feet. No formations above the Ellenburger have had shows for production.

The No. 1-A Spindler is 660 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 464-97-H&TC, 16 miles northeast of Gail and two and three-quarter miles south of the Fluvanna - Mississippian field.

DRILLING REPORT

Sam Ares No. 1 Dennis Brothers, Borden wildcat north of Gail, is preparing to move off the rotary rig and move in a work over unit. The project is swabbing some oil and gas through perforations.

Gulf Oil No. 1 C. C. Cannon, extreme West Borden wildcat, has plugged back to 10,355 feet in the dolomite and preparing to acidize and test.

Hunt No. 1 Mays, Kent wildcat, is drilling in lime and shale below 5,550 feet.

Union Oil No. 1 Cox, Nolan wildcat, is drilling in lime and shale below 3,777 feet.

Texaco No. 2 Jones, Northeast Borden test, is shutdown waiting for cement to cure.

Cobb and Daniel No. 1 Veal Trust, Northeast Howard test, is drilling in lime below 5,837 feet.

Chile Removes Bans On Exports To Reds

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Carlos Ibanez last night signed a decree permitting exportation of strategic materials to Iron Curtain countries. The decree abolishes existing restrictions on such shipments.

Economy Minister Rafael Tarud explained that since fighting in Korea has ended, it is no longer necessary to maintain restrictions ... injurious to Chilean interests.

Hurricane Is Curving Away

MIAMI (AP)—Hurricane "Carol" developed 138-mile winds today and began a recurve which storm forecasters believed would keep it over the open Atlantic, away from all land areas.

"It is a small storm wrapped tightly around a tiny center only three miles in diameter," said Grady Norton, forecaster in the Miami storm warning center.

"But it has a real kick to it. It is bending toward a more northwesterly course and from present indications will bypass the Leeward Islands and Puerto Rico.

"Conditions indicate that it will swing to the east of Bermuda and remain well away from the mainland. Of course, should it stall over the Atlantic, the pattern could change and new predictions would be in order."

Norton said the storm was centered early today 280 miles northeast of Antigua, an island 400 miles east and slightly south of Puerto Rico.

The northwestward recurve eased the threat to Antigua, Barbuda and other islands at the northern end of the Leeward Island chain where hurricane warnings were displayed. This necklace of islands extends from Puerto Rico to the South American coast, separating the Atlantic and Caribbean Sea.

Polio Beginning To Taper Off In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Polio is fast tapering off in Texas, the State Health Department says.

New cases last week totaled 63, a decline for the third straight week. Total cases for the year was 1,230 compared with 3,109 last year.

The disease last week extended into four counties which had escaped. Anderson County reported two cases, and Franklin, Val Verde, and Wilbarger had a single case each.

Other counties reporting last week included Harris 14, Nueces 4, Bexar, Comanche, Dallas and El Paso 3 each; Coleman, Coryell, Ector, Ellis and McLennan, 2 each; Bell, Galveston, Howard, Lamar, Tom Green, Travis, Victoria and Willacy, one each.

STRONG WINDS

Cool Front Hits Panhandle Kicking Up Dust Along Way

By The Associated Press

A cool front out of the snowfields of the Rocky Mountains whipped into the Texas Panhandle Thursday, a harbinger of autumn in the Southwest.

Showers, blowing dust and strong winds with gusts up to 67 miles per hour hit Dalhart at the top of the Panhandle at about 4 a. m. Two hours later it was still raining.

Temperatures dropped to the middle 50s as the front moved south from Colorado. Snow, sleet and ice closed the northeast entrance of Yellowstone Park.

In Texas, the cold front, slowing down as it plowed southeastward, was expected to lower temperatures 10 to 15 degrees as it crossed the state. It was expected in the Dallas area by Friday afternoon. The weather bureau had said the front should reach Amarillo by 10 a. m. Thursday and by 10 p. m. be on a line through Sherman and Marfa.

Heavy rains that flooded South Texas earlier in the week had ceased. Rainfall, some of it fairly heavy, spread westward across the state as far as dry Lamesa.

Runoff in South Texas flooded Falfurrias for the second time in a week. Torrential rains that continued in Mexico sent another crest surging down the Rio Grande. Marte Gomez Reservoir on Mexico's San Juan River a short distance from Roma, Tex., was overflowing its spillway for the first time in three years.

The lake, known to Texans as "Sugar Lake," supplies water for irrigating some 20,000 acres of land.

The weather bureau reported these rainfall totals for 24 hours ending at 6:30 a.m. Thursday:

Abilene .65 inch, Amarillo .25, Austin .44, Big Spring .23, Dallas .08, Wink .01, Midland .45, Dalhart .19, San Antonio .22, Waco .41, Fort Worth .14, Victoria .09, Wichita Falls .15, Mineral Wells .83, Junction .37, Kresson .76, Lubbock .04, San Angelo .24, College Station .52, Childress .18, Cotulla .39, Marfa .03 and Snyder .67.

A hard wind that struck Dallas County from the north broke tree limbs and blew down some trees. Rain, heavy in some sections of Dallas, fell during the quick storm.

Austin had winds up to 35 miles an hour Wednesday that did some damage, blowing down a few trees and interruptisg power service. Several windows were broken in the new McCallum High School.

Rainfall was general in Central Texas, with Marble Falls getting 2.5 inches, Burnet 2, Johnson City .50. Heavier rains fell to the west. The Pedernales River, flowing into Lake Travis, was on a moderate rise.

A rise was also reported on the Blanco River, between Austin and San Antonio, from rains in the Hill Country.

Dalhart's 57 was the chilliest morning temperature, the weather bureau said.

TOWN TO CLOSE ON LABOR DAY

Most businesses in Snyder will close Monday in observance of Labor Day.

Labor Day is one of the regular holidays adopted by members of the chamber of commerce. Cooperating businesses of that organization will close.

All city, county, and federal offices except law enforcement agencies are scheduled to close, officials said this morning.

No school classes will be held Monday in Snyder, according to Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent.

Labor Day is a legal holiday, celebrated in the U. S. since 1882, when the Knights of Labor held a parade in New York. By 1887, states began adopting the observance until now all states officially observe the day.

Says Air Force Is Still Being Built

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told the closing session of the American Legion convention today that in the foreseeable future "we must not again let our military strength drop to anything like the low level" that existed after World Wars I and II.

Wilson said the Korean invasion brought home to the people the realities of the situation that exists in the world today.

"Since our military strength over a period of years is so dependent on the economic strength of the nation," he said, "it is especially important in our military effort that we develop the best possible military plans and that we organized our military efforts for maximum effectiveness and efficiency over a period of years.

"In this way," Wilson said, "we will get more military strength for the effort we make and the dollars we spend."

The legion turned down a plan calling for general pensions for veterans, 2,479 to 532.

Instead of a general pension plan the Legion approved a resolution saying that general pensions would jeopardize the veterans' benefit program.

Another resolution urged that American prisoners of war captured during the Korean fighting be given combat pay for the entire period of their imprisonment.

Wilson said there has been "considerable discussion and some criticism" of the current Air Force program, largely because the money planning, the personnel planning and the aircraft production planning were not in balance and the facts were not well understood.

"The current effective combat strength of our Air Force is building up rapidly and will continue to do so," he said.

Wilson emphasized that his country must "continue to have air power second to none."

The criticism has come from the administration's five billion dollar cut in the Air Force budget and a reduction from 143 to 120 wings in the Air Force.

Col. Roscoe Turner, chairman of the legion's Aeronautics Committee, served notice he plans a finish fight on the issue when he charged last night his committee's report criticizing the cuts had been "emasculated and bottled up" by the Security Committee of the legion.

Turner said in a statement he wanted to see whether the delegates should decide legion policies, or whether they should be settled by "the pronouncements of a few legionnaires, past legion officers and present public office holders."

He declined to identify the men he meant by that.

The Security Committee yesterday cut out all reference to a 143-wing Air Force recommended by Turner's committee. Instead it called for "the best possible Air Force."

Turner's committee had passed a resolution calling for re-establishment of a 143-wing force. It was cut back to 120 by the budget reduction.

Legionnaires hear a six-month progress report on the Defense Department from Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson today.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, was also scheduled to speak, marking the first time a CIO president has appeared before a national legion convention.

Also on tap was the election of national officers. The campaign headquarters of Arthur J. Connell, Middletown, Conn., claimed yesterday he is assured of election as the next national commander.

Toth Ordered Released By Civilian Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — District Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled today that former Airman Robert Toth was illegally removed to Korea to face a military court on a murder charge. Holtzoff ordered Toth, 22, of Pittsburgh, released from Air Force custody.

The judge, however, stayed his order to allow the Air Force to appeal.

The judge refused to remand Toth to Air Force custody and instead fixed a bond of $1,000 for his release to return to his Pittsburgh home.

The steel worker, 22, who had been honorably discharged, was arrested in May by military police and flown to Korea. There he was to be tried by a U. S. Court Martial on charges of murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the killing of a South Korean civilian who was caught in a rest... area.

Prisoner Exchange To Be Completed Sunday

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists and the United Nations Command today agreed to complete the prisoner exchange by Sunday.

The Communists at a meeting of the Repatriation Commission said that if for some reason they were unable to meet the Sunday deadline they would notify the U.N. Command before noon Saturday.

This means the early exchange of Maj. Gen. William Dean, the highest ranking Allied captive in Red hands. He now is at nearby Kaesong and it is believed he will be the last prisoner exchanged.

The U. N. Commander representative told the Communists he thought both sides should conclude the exchange the same day.

The Communists agreed to finish by Sunday, barring unforeseen difficulties. The Reds after the three-hour meeting turned over a roster of Communist prisoners they said still were in Allied stockades and demanded they be turned over before Sunday.

Presumably, these are some of the tougher Red prisoners, Chinese as well as North Koreans, some of whom led bloody prisoner riots on Koje Island. The Reds have accused the Allies of holding back these prisoners.

The Communists have still to repatriate 210 prisoners, including 197 Americans, out of the 4,597 non-Korean prisoners promised. They also still have 458 South Korean prisoners. However, the Reds have said more prisoners than promised would be turned over, including those captured late in the war.

The Allies have still to return nearly 7,000 North Koreans and an undisclosed number of Chinese Communists.

The first U. S. Sabre jet pilot shot down over North Korea returned to freedom with the 89 Americans exchanged Thursday and said Russian pilots were flying MIG jets in combat as early as December, 1950.

Capt. Lawrence V. Bach of Grand Forks, N. D., reported he was questioned by a Russian flier who said openly that fellow Russians were leading flights of MIGs against American Sabre jets.

Bach, who was shot down Dec. 22, 1950, said he was taken across the Yalu River into Manchuria for questioning by Russian officers after several Russians had questioned him in North Korea.

Communist news correspondent Wilfred Burchett of the French newspaper L'Humanite said Gen. Dean has been held the past three weeks in a special villa near Kaesong awaiting repatriation.

Burchett gave no hint as to when Dean might be repatriated but said he is in good health.

Red China's Peiping radio also reported Dean was in Kaesong and said he gained 60 pounds in captivity. Pictures of Dean brought to Panmunjom by Burchett Thursday showed him tanned but thin.

No American prisoner thus far exchanged has caught even a glimpse of Dean, former commander of the U. S. 24th Division, who was captured near Taejon early in the war.

The Communists returned 89 Americans Thursday, plus 5 Canadians, 6 Britons and 200 South Koreans.

County POW Appreciation Fund Is Small

The appreciation fund for Carl D. Peterson, returning prisoner of war, is growing gradually, but the total at noon today stood at only $225.50.

Donations since noon yesterday were $5 by Neal Farr, $10 by Hugh Boren, Jr., $7.50 by Aubrey Stokes, and an $11 anonymous gift.

Cpl. Peterson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson of Hermleigh, was captured by the Reds Dec. 1, 1950 and spent 32½ months in prison camps. He is the only veteran of the Korean War from Scurry County known to have been a prisoner of war.

The fund was started to buy him a gift to show the county's appreciation for his services. It was hoped when the fund was started nearly a week ago that enough would be donated to buy him a car. Peterson is expected to arrive on the West Coast sometime next week end.

Donations, regardless of amounts, may be turned in anonymously or by name either to Ralph Geisenhoner at Snyder National Bank, H. W. Cargile at West Texas State Bank, or may be mailed to either bank or the Snyder Daily News. Checks should be made payable to the Carl Peterson Appreciation Fund.

Payoffs Probe Set In El Paso

EL PASO (AP)—Rep. Joe Pool, head of a legislative committee investigating the conduct of four El Paso men regarding bigtime gambling payoffs, charged today the ransacking of Ranger James Boutwell's hotel room was a deliberate attempt to gain access to secret information on the inquiry.

Boutwell, special investigator for the committee, arrived in El Paso Monday to serve subpoenas to witnesses.

Pool said he had talked with Boutwell yesterday and was informed that the break-in occurred at the Gateway Hotel between 7:45 p.m. Monday and 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Boutwell said nothing was taken. He had subpoena papers and other data on his person at the time.

Pool said 19 El Paso persons had been served with subpoenas by Boutwell. Among them was Mrs. Josephine Davidson, mother of Mrs. Pearl Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson charged that she carried pay-off money from gamblers to at least four El Pasoans.

Mrs. Johnson is serving a 15-year term at Goree Prison Farm for the murder of her newborn baby.

Hoover Spanks Shivers For Not Making Specific Charges

DALLAS (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover accused Gov. Shivers of making "unfounded, unwarranted, and untrue charges" of the FBI's activities in Texas.

Hoover also said, in a letter written Sept. 1 to Shivers, that a member of the governor's staff once asked the FBI to delay an investigation until after the Democratic primaries in 1952.

"The inquiry was not deferred," Hoover's letter asserted.

Shivers, at his home in Woodville, was not available for comment. His secretary in Austin said the office knew nothing about the letter.

A copy of Hoover's letter was made public by the head of the Dallas FBI office.

Hoover said the FBI had no apologies to make and he felt the FBI had "a right and duty to keep the record straight."

In a speech at Lufkin Aug. 25 Shivers said the FBI conducted investigations of alleged violations of civil rights in Texas without notifying proper authorities. On Aug. 29 he chided the FBI for being "a little touchy about criticism."

"In my wire of Aug. 25, I pointed out that you were misinformed as to our practices and policies in conducting investigations of alleged violations of the civil rights," Hoover's letter asserted. "I did request in all sincerity that you advise me of the facts on which you predicated your charges, but unfortunately in your reply you failed to identify instances wherein representatives of the FBI conducted civil rights investigations without notifying the heads of the institutions and agencies involved. Thus, it was not possible for me to make inquiries on the handling of these matters in Texas."

Hoover said he thought Shivers' remarks in the press conference were "most unusual."

"Your charge that the FBI has in the past three years investigated 'easily 100 cases' in state institutions without consulting proper state authorities is absolutely untrue and not supported by fact."

"In the press reports you then are quoted as citing a case occurring in the Gainesville State Schools for Girls which you learned about 'almost by accident.'

"Perhaps a few facts might be of interest. In the Gainesville case, Mr. James M. McInerney, then assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division of the Department of Justice, instructed that we make a preliminary investigation. On July 15, 1952, an agent of the FBI called on Mrs. Maxine O. Burlingham, superintendent of the Gainesville state school, and advised of the nature of the allegations and the fact that the FBI had been instructed to make a preliminary investigation. Mrs. Burlingham was most cooperative and furnished full details of the incident under inquiry.

"Thus, we did, in the one case you cited, advise the responsible head of the institution at the very outset of the investigation of exactly what we were doing.

"Beyond that, your own office must have been advised by the school authorities because on that same day, Mr. Maurice W. Acers, of your staff, called our special agent in Dallas, advising he was acting in your behalf. Mr. Acers was informed of the basic allegations and of our instructions to make the investigation. Mr. Acers then requested that the investigation be held in abeyance until after the Democratic primary elections on July 26, 1952, to avoid any unfavorable publicity.

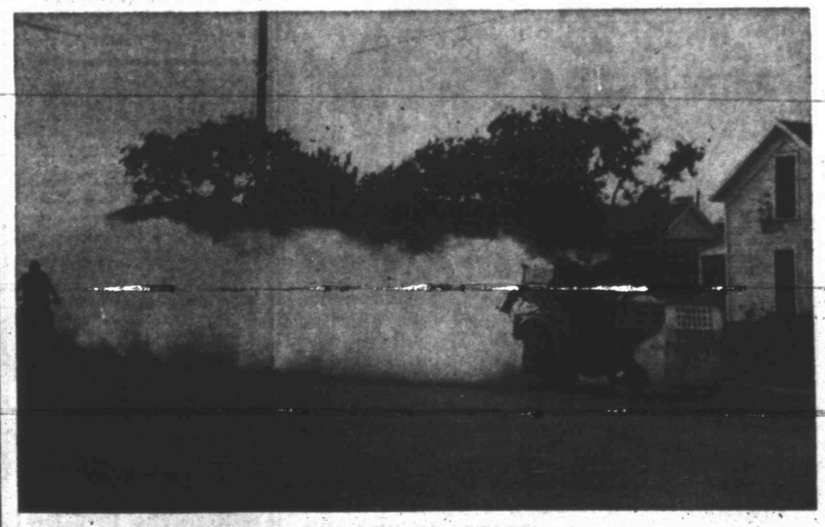
"The inquiry was not deferred."

Hoover said he had made a complete review of every case involving civil rights investigations in Texas.

"Instead of '100 cases', as you charged, there has been a total of only 16 investigations pertaining to alleged violations of civil rights in state institutons in Texas the past three years," Hoover's letter asserted.

The FBI head said that in all but one instance a responsible official the inquiry at the start.

"In the remaining incident, at the specific direction of x x Mr. McInerney, the head of the institution was not consulted. This particular inquiry consisted merely of checking institutional records and the conducting of only one interview with the alleged victim, after which the investigation was closed."



FOGGER IN ACTION

The insect fogger used here yesterday is shown in action throwing a cloud of 10 per cent DDT spray that saturated the area on both sides of the streets. B. J. Heat Wave Cracking In Some Areas, East Still Stricken

By The Associated Press

Hot, sticky weather held its vice-like grip over most of the eastern half of the nation today but the summer season's record-breaking heat wave appeared cracking.

The northern fringes of the Midwest got the first welcome relief from the prolonged siege of hot weather that has caused more than 100 deaths and dealt damaging blows to crops.

The cooler air from Canada that moved into the Dakotas fanned out eastward and southward. It headed into Nebraska and Minnesota. If it is not sidetracked, it was expected to extend into Wisconsin and Iowa during the day and into Michigan and central and northern Illinois tonight.

But there probably will be no cooling in the eastern areas until the weekend. And Weather Bureau officials said it was too early to say if the cool air mass would get as far as the heat-stricken Atlantic Coast by that time.

The cool air mass is not moving fast, as indicated by the forecast for Midwest areas today. Chicago, wilted after two straight days of 101 and readings of 95 or higher since Aug. 25, was in the path of the expected cool air.

However, before it arrives, temperatures in the Midwest metropolis today were expected to reach 96. The forecast for tomorrow was for "near 80" after a low of 62 tonight which, in view of the blistering heat, was regarded as a predicted cool snap.

Showers were expected to accompany the cooler air. Readings were 20 to 32 degrees lower yesterday in parts of Montana. It was 53 yesterday in Helena compared to a high of 85 on Tuesday. Sharp drops also were reported in parts of North Dakota.

But it was the same story, temperature-wise, in scores of cities in the hot belt as heat records for the date and for September toppled. Readings above 100 were not uncommon and generally they were above 95 over the entire eastern half of the country.

One of the nation's hottest spots was Elmira, N.Y., which reported a reading of 107 in the downtown district. It was 104 in Kingston, N.Y., and many cities in New York state reported readings of above 100.

Portsmouth, Ohio, sweltered for the second straight day in temperatures of 107 and it was 105 in Newark, N.J., and Salisbury, Md. Louisville baked in readings of 103. It was 102 in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Springfield, Ohio, and Harrisburg, Pa. The 101 at Hartford, Conn., was the city's highest mark. It also was 101 in St. Louis and an even 100 in Boston, Washington, Philadelphia and Albany, N.Y. The mercury shot to 99 in New York City, breaking records, and it was the same in Dayton and Akron, Ohio.

New York City water officials said reservoirs are only 72 per cent, filled and citizens were asked to cut down waste. Water consumption in the metropolis has been running 300 million gallons above the normal daily average.

Deaths from heat prostration or heart attacks aggravated by hot weather mounted to at least 111.

Illinois led the nation in heat deaths with more than 30. Sixteen died yesterday in Chicago as the mercury climbed to 101. Other heat deaths included Pennsylvania, 17; Massachusetts, 12; New York, 8; Maine and New Hampshire, 6 each; Connecticut, 5; Texas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and New Jersey, 3 each, and 2 each in Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Nation Mourns Loss Of Hero Of Corregidor; Funeral Pends

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The nation mourned one of its greatest heroes today as plans went ahead for the funeral of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright.

The gaunt Wainwright, 70, died yesterday afternoon. Doctors said rough treatment he received as a prisoner of the Japanese contributed to his death.

Civilian and soldier, private and general paid tribute today to Wainwright, the dogged general whose stubborn defense of Corregidor upset the Japanese war timetable in the Pacific while a stunned United States gathered its force for a long conflict.

President Eisenhower said in Fraser, Colo.:

"With his death another dramatic figure of World War II has passed from the current scene. But his example of courage, fortitude and unshakable patriotism, all exhibited in the face of the most discouraging conditions, will long be an inspiration to Americans and free men everywhere."

In Washington, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, said "The nation has lost one of its great soldiers." He described Wainwright as "a man who exemplified throughout more than 40 years of active military duty the best traditions of the service."

Roger Kyes, acting Secretary of Defense, said he knew of "no man who sacrificed himself more in the interest and welfare of his command. His exemplary conduct in the face of insurmountable odds made him unique in that small group of great field commanders."

Gen. George Marshall, former Army chief of staff and Defense Secretary, said he regarded Wainwright, in particular, and his men in the Philippines as "typifying the sacrifice resulting from the indifference of our people to the military necessities of the time."

Gov. Shivers of Texas, Wainwright's adopted state after his retirement, said: "I join all Texas in deep regret at the passing of General Wainwright, one of our state's most distinguished adopted sons."

The shock was greatest, perhaps in San Antonio, where all knew of Wainwright's fragile health but where he was best known among the city's colony of retired and active Army men.

General Walter Krueger, himself a Pacific war hero, said: "I had known him for nearly 50 years. He was one of our outstanding soldiers. He will be missed by a multitude of officers and men who knew and admired him. He will always be remembered as the gallant defender of Corregidor."

Wainwright died on the eighth anniversary of his greatest glory. That was when, after more than three years as a captive of the Japanese, he stepped out beside Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whom he had relieved in the Philippines, and took the Japanese surrender that ended the war. Later he returned to the Philippines to accept the surrender of Gen. Yamashita.

At the Fort Sam Houston chapel today, Maj. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, acting commanding general of the 4th Army, and 4th Army staff members will pay their respects in special services.

Other services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday followed by a military procession which will escort the body out of the military reservation.

The body will lie in state in Washington for a short time before graveside services at Arlington National Cemetery, either Sunday or Monday.

Officers Here Donate To Fund For Wife Of Slain Lubbock Officer

The sheriff's department here and the police department have joined numerous other law-enforcement offices and citizens in this area of the state in donating to the family of Lubbock's slain detective.

The fund for the family of Ralph White, 26-year-old city officer shot to death there by a burglar early Tuesday morning, had grown to $4,062 early today.

The two departments here are sending $35. The officer's wife, Mrs. Dorothy White, 24, is expecting their second child. Their first is a five-year-old daughter.

Lubbock Man Pays Fine On Bad Check Charge

A fine of $48.50 was paid late yesterday afternoon for Jimmy E. Smith, about 27, of Lubbock, who pleaded guilty to a charge of swindling by worthless check.

Smith was charged in county court here April 25 with giving a worthless check for $10 to Reed Oil Co. The county attorney, Wayland Holt, said Smith redeemed the check yesterday, also. The fine included court cost of $23.50.

Minor Car Accident

A minor automobile collision damaged two cars slightly early this morning on the East Highway, police said.

The accident occurred at Avenue C and the East Highway.

Arthur Earl Clark, Jr., 20, of box 306, route 2, was driver of a 1951 Ford involved, and Joe Green Drinkard, 72, of box 27, route 2, was driver of a 1949 Dodge, police said. There were no injuries.

The digging of the Suez Canal took 10 years, from 1859 to 1869.

Firm Robbed Of 11 Cents

Thieves netted 11 cents in a break in of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Co. here last night, police said.

Raymond Williams, manager of the firm, reported the break in to police early this morning. He said he discovered it when he went to the office about 7:30 o'clock.

Police said the break in was apparently the work of inexperienced vandals and was possibly done by youngsters.

Dwayne Clawson, employe of the firm, said that the thieves entered the rear of the lumber yard, then a warehouse building, and finally got into the main building by breaking through a rear door.

"The 11 pennies are all that we have found missing," Clawson said.

Twenty Soldiers Are Drowned In Training

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Twenty soldiers, many of whom could not swim, drowned within sight of comrades on shore here yesterday when a training boat capsized in a

The post public information office said late last night it still did not know how many men were aboard. Only two of the survivors were hospitalized. Neither was in serious condition.

Some of the survivors were helped ashore. Others swam the 100 yards to safety despite their bulky fatigue uniforms and non-swimmers' panicky efforts to grab them.

The men were members of the 406th Engineer Brigade. Most were basic trainees. They were on an orientation ride on the mile-long lake in a boat consisting of two 14-foot-long assault craft bolted together end to end. It went down in about 10 feet of water.

Otto Edwards, Ft. Bragg safety director, said the normal load for such a boat is only about 25 men.

Army officials in Washington said they thought it was the worst training accident, not involving aircraft, since World War II. Edwards said it was the biggest single accident toll he had seen in 12 years as safety director at 27 Army installations.

The boat dipped water when it turned to go back to shore. It tipped over after some of the men became panicky, the PIO reported. Edwards said he understood about half of the men could not swim.

The swimmers were hampered by their loose-fitting clothing, combat boots and ammunition belt with attached canteens.

Army medical corpsmen tried for hours to revive the victims after their bodies were pulled from the water and lined up on shore.

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—The Ft. Bragg public information office today released the names of 20 men, all privates, who drowned yesterday when an engineers' training boat capsized on a reservation lake here. The victims and next of kin:

710 Pounder Gets New Bed

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—They huffed and they puffed but it took six men two hours to tear down the trailer house of 710-pound Fred Pebley.

Using piano-moving equipment, saws, hammers, jacks and ramps, the moving company men grunted and groaned to ease the 38-year-old native Kansas man from his quarters to a specially constructed bed at the county home.

The big, jolly man said it was the first time in 12 months he had left the trailer. His legs cannot support his weight. He arrived at the home several months ago and had to live in his trailer because of his size.

Doctors said his size is the result of an overactive pituitary gland.

A county home spokesman said Pebley and his trailer were abandoned here last year by a promoter who had previously put him on exhibit in this area.

Pebley's new bed weighs 240 pounds and is without springs. Springs won't hold him up.

Pebley, who has no family other than his father in West Plains, Mo., grinned, "I'm free and happy."

White-tailed deer imported by New Zealand from America have so increased that they are now regarded as a pest.

Rough Bar Stools Easy To Glamorize

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Here is a project you can finish in one night at home. "Store-boughten" bar stools, the unpainted variety, can be dressed up previously with varnish, then with brass upholstery tacks, and a little plastic leather.

The whole thing shouldn't dent the piggy bank for more than $10 or $15 — and you couldn't buy finished stools for anything near that price.

The two stools are first varnished. Clear varnish, to which a few drops of red paint had been added, is used. Red paint brings out the grain of the wood, and gives a nice tint to the varnish without giving it any actual "color."

Two coats are needed.

Cotton batting—you can buy enough for six stools for a dollar or so—is cut to fit on the seats. Extra batting is heaped in the center to build it up.

Then the whole stool, batting and all, is upended on a piece of plastic leather. I used dark green leather, which I bought in a 10-cent store. One yard, 54 inches wide — enough for four stools—was only $1.58.

Cut the leather around the stool, being sure to leave plenty of material. Then tack it up on one side, pulling it over the stool and placing the tacks fairly close to the edge.

Drawing the leather just as tight as you can, tack it on the opposite side of the stool.

Again drawing it as tight as you can, tack it on a third side and repeat on the fourth. Then you can fill it in with a solid row of tacks.

The rest of the project is simply a problem of decorating to suit your taste.

I drove a solid row of brass upholstery tacks around the side, deliberately using no "binding" strip. I wanted a casual effect to go with the pine bar and Early American theme of the house.

More tacks were studded in the legs of the stools. And that was it. For a shade less than $10 we got two stools that looked as good as custom stools costing much more.

They make comfortable perches on which to park surplus guests at parties, but more important, they make a quick breakfast an easy matter.

First cut leather top.

Trim excess after tacking.

Decorate with tacks.

Picket Trudged For 12 Years; Lost Job

CHICAGO (AP)—A picket who has trudged an estimated 40,000 miles in 12 years in front of an automobile company lost his job yesterday as Chicago's longest strike was settled.

"It was beginning to get rather monotonous," said Alexander (Scotty) Orr, who had been on picket duty since 1941 at the Petersen Chevrolet Co. The AFL Auto Mechanics Union had picketed the company since 1939.

"I walked slow," said Orr, a 69-year-old ruddy-faced Scot. "If you walk too fast the people can't read the sign. Then, I was getting old on the job too—that slowed me down some."

Orr said the union bought him a new pair of shoes every six months and supplied him with a new sign.

"Weather's hard on those signs, and I marched eight hours every day, rain, snow or shine, barring Sundays and holidays," he said.

Asked what he planned to do now that he was out of a job, he said:

"I'll get me a rocking chair and sit in it for maybe a year. Of course, I'll soak my feet now and then, just from habit. I'll miss some of the nice people that used to chat with me every day."

Don Burrows, the union's business manager, announced the strike settlement. He said the auto firm had agreed to terms which other Chicago area Chevrolet dealers had accepted. He said the settlement provides for a union shop and wage scale with commissions for mechanics, helpers and apprentices.

Carl Petersen, owner of the agency, said when the union attempted to organize his shop, his mechanics and other workers refused to join. Since, however, he said with the majority of auto service men signing up his workers finally agreed to become union members.

George Crowder, five-year-old son of Mr .and Mrs. J. Elmo Crowder, 709 Twenty-sixth Street, is shown above with the largest of 24 watermelons in his backyard melon patch. It weighed 60 pounds. (Lee Watson photograph)

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Tot Grows Watermelons In His Parent's Back Yard

Back in April GEORGE CROWDER started developing a strong taste for watermelon just as most five-year-old boys do, but he did something about it.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. ELMO CROWDER, 709 Twenty-sixth Street, wasn't daunted by taunts of his older brother and sister, JIMMY CROWDER, 13, and JANE CROWDER, 8, that watermelons would not grow in the family's back yard.

Neither was he daunted by the fact that the Crowder's back yard was completely covered by a Bermuda grass lawn.

He dug four small holes in the lawn and dropped in some watermelon seeds.

He was happy when the seed sprouted and came up, so he made a daily routine of watering the young vines.

The vines soon covered about half of the lawn, and the youngster has watched them so closely that the lawn couldn't be mowed where the vines grow.

Now there are at least 24 watermelons of varying sizes nestling in knee-high grass.

The family has already eaten one of the melons, and the largest in the patch was pulled Tuesday afternoon. It was a 60-pound tribute of the boy's ability although others said it couldn't be done.

Tony Curtis Thrilled About His Big Increase In Salary

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — His onetime buddies in the Bronx will be interested to learn that Bernie Schwartz is now pulling down 1,750 clams a week in the movie mills.

Bernie is better known as Tony Curtis to the film followers. And no one is more amazed at his ponderous paycheck than he.

"Yeah, they picked up my option," rhapsodized Tony, a fellow with vast enthusiasm. "Isn't it fantastic? I wake up at night and pinch myself to see if I'm still dreaming. Think of it—$1,750 a week! I never knew there was so much money.

"I feel so great about the whole thing that I want to express myself about it. The kids screaming at you. The nice things you can buy. I want to write a poem about it or put it to music. But I can't. Nobody can understand exactly how it feels except me."

Tony's enthusiasm is refreshing after the blase beauties and hohum Harrys who take their blessings with yawn. He is one new star who counts his blessings, and with good reason. Son of a tailor, he received plenty of knocks from life. And his was no rapid ascent to fame.

"I started here six years ago at $75 a week," he said, referring to his studio, U-I. "My take home pay was around $44. The reason was that I didn't have the dough to join the Screen Actors Guild. So the studio put up the initiation fee, then took it out of my paycheck each week."

"After the first six months, they bumped me to $100. I still had hardly enough to live on, after I sent some home to the folks. I bought a car on time, because I couldn't go on bumming rides. Then I couldn't keep up the payments. I pleaded with the dealer to advance the money so I could keep the car. But he wouldn't do it; they took the car away."

This may sound like an odd kind of reasoning, but Curtis says he feels sorry for the young players of today who get signed by the movies for more money than he got.

"Kids nowadays start out at $250 a week," he observed. "If they have some kind of a name through night clubs or the stage, they can get as much as $500 or $750. That ain't good.

"In the first place, it spoils them. They get used to that kind of dough and they can't take it when the times get tough. Besides, the studio will drop them faster at that kind of money. They have to come through and prove themselves or they get the bounce but quick."

Poor Throwing Arm Knocks Actress Out Of 3-D Films

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Patricia Medina, one of England's lovelier loans to the United States, is one actress who doesn't care if she ever makes another 3D movie.

"I'm through with 3D," she asserts. "Or rather, I should say that 3D is through with me."

Her reason is the most novel yet.

"My aim is too poor," she explains.

Much has been written about 3D but always from the audience point of view, the discomfiture of glasses and the continual ducking. Now comes Miss Medina with the first complaint, to my knowledge, from the players' side.

Patricia's last try at 3D was at Columbia, where she worked for producer Sam Katzman in "Drums of Tahiti." Katzman is a great gimmick man and it followed that his 3D picture would be loaded with gimmicks.

One of them called for Pat to pick up a cold cream jar and hurl it toward the camera, ultimately to splatter over bespectacled audiences.

"I spent a whole day grabbing that jar and throwing it. I failed miserably. Finally, the director said to skip it until the end of the picture.

"Here I was, an actress with 10 years of English and American experience behind me, winding up as a complete idiot on the set.

"It was pathetic. Some of my friends among the crew took great pains to help me. Some even cheered me on the sidelines but I was hopeless."

At the end of the shooting schedule, the director tried again.

This proved even more embarrassing to Patricia. Technicians had rigged up an elaborate cord arrangement whereby she could not possibly toss the jar out of camera range.

"This really hurt because this sort of treatment is usually reserved for child and animal actors. But even with the cord I failed. I doubt if they can salvage any of the takes for the movie.

"The director was very kind. He assured me he wasn't critical of my acting ability but hinted that I would have to improve my throwing arm if I wanted to continue in 3D."

Wild boars imported from Europe by sportsmen now run wild in Tennessee, North Carolina and California.

I plan to freeze a chicken dish which includes mushrooms. I usually add the mushrooms just before serving the dish, but I wonder if the mushrooms might be frozen with the other ingredients?

We find that mushrooms are among the foods listed as being well suited for freezing. If you should be preparing fresh mushrooms, over blanching is to be carefully avoided; however, blanching is not a problem with mushrooms which have already been processed.

I attended a church wedding recently and was surprised at the number of small children present. They were not especially well behaved, for the most part. Wouldn't it have been better to leave the children home? M.T.O.

Emily Post says, "Guests in general should not take their children to weddings unless they have received invitations, and then not unless they themselves will look after them."

If the wedding was not extremely formal perhaps the invitations did not specify whether or not the entire family was to be included. At any rate, it is the responsibility of the parents to make very effort to discipline their children whenever they attend public gatherings.

My waxed floors just don't look pretty. It hasn't been long since they were waxed, but they look dirty already. E.A.

A good wax job must have a clean base. Perhaps your floor needed special cleaning before the wax was applied and this may be the solution. It if is a wood floor, it may be that it needs to be refinished, but your own judgment will probably tell you if that is necessary. Remember that floors which can be mopped should be completely dry before wax is applied, and a coat of wax which is too heavy may become sticky or dirty because it does not dry properly.

Welfare Fund In Red, Lewis To Ask Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A report that the coal miners' welfare fund ran in the red last year spurred speculation today that John L. Lewis may seek another boost in the royalties paid by mine owners.

The report on fund operations during the year ended June 30 showed yesterday receipts of 131⅛ million dollars and expenditures of nearly 139 million. Therefore, about 7½ million had to be drawn from reserves, reducing them to 92 million.

Lewis, who is president of the United Mine Workers and chairman of the fund's trustees, last fall persuaded mine operators to raise the royalty they pay into the fund from 30 to 40 cents for each ton of coal produced.

However, production went down, so that the increase in fund revenues was only five million dollars, while expenditures went up more than 12⅛ million.

The principal increase in cost, the report said, resulted from the addition of 6,706 miners during the year to the list of those receiving $100 a month pensions.

Ike Back In Denver Again

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower shifted from a full - time to a part-time vacation today.

The President returned here late yesterday from a week's rest at the Colorado Rockies ranch of his old friend Aksel Nielsen, at Fraser on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

There he fished, worked on an oil painting of the Rockies, cooked for his party, and got in a lot of just plain loafing. The only interruption on the business side all week was to make public a message assuring the Prime Minister of Iran sympathetic American consideration of that nation's urgent appeal for economic aid.

Eisenhower looked well rested when he returned here to the home of the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. He still complained a bit about his bruised right elbow —he bumped it in the White House before leaving Washington Aug. 8 —but otherwise he appeared to be in excellent spirits.

The President, who caught the largest trout of any member of his party at Fraser, wanted to know as he stepped from his car in Denver what kind of luck the newsmen who accompanied him had.

"How many fish did you catch?" he asked one reporter.

"Well, I think I landed three or four," the reporter replied, obviously satisfied.

"That's not very many," said the President with a deflating grin. "However, it's better than being skunked."

The sore elbow kept him out of the trout stream half of the week at Fraser, but he still managed to hook a trout which weighed 1¼ pounds and measured 15⅛ inches—the record catch for the week.

Ripening Tomatoes Swamping Soup Co.

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—The Campbell Soup Co. has ordered the destruction of nearly 100 truckloads of ripe tomatoes because the firm has no facilities to process them for canning.

A firm spokesman said tomatoes are ripening earlier than usual in the heat wave.

The company said farmers are being paid for their loads and that the firm is absorbing the loss.

Approximately 97 per cent of tomatoes delivered to the plant Monday, Tuesday and yesterday were ordered destroyed, the spokesman said.

The company said the plant is operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week in an effort to process as many tomatoes as possible.

Wears 5 Suits Then Collapses From Heat

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A man who collapsed from heat prostration yesterday as the temperature flirted with the 100-degree mark was found to be wearing five suit coats, a vest, a heavy work shirt, trousers and woolen underwear.

Between 75 and 80 years old, he identified himself as Thomas Moynihan, a hermit, with no regular address, police said.

Exchange Executed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Everything was quiet in the second floor apartment when Mitchell Lipschutz came home shortly before midnight. Unlocking the door and stepping into the darkened room, he was startled by a strange "meow."

Snapping on the light, he saw a small animal carrier on the table. Inside were two kittens. They hadn't been there when he left some hours earlier.

Then he found a kitchen window pried open by thieves, who had escaped with clothes, cash and other items Lipschutz estimated to be worth $27.90.

Apparently the thieves also had left the kittens.

Thumbs Down Given Plan To Aid Tennis

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Anguished at their recent setbacks in international play, our tennis fathers are on the point of changing their rules so that their young charges may accept a certain amount of employment with the sporting goods manufacturers. That is, openly.

They have seen the Australians do all right by indenting their more promising youngsters to the equipment houses, and they have about decided we must do something of the kind if we're ever to overtake the kangaroos. The only thing is, they haven't thought yet of asking the people who make the racquets how they feel about it.

We have, and we can give them the sad news that the manufacturers don't want any part of the scheme. An authority on the subject is Lew Richards, who long has represented Spalding in all things tennis and is one of the game's best known umpires.

"It's all right for the Australians," Richards said. "They can fully justify their system. Most of their boys do not have an opportunity to go to college the way ours do, and so they are glad to go to work at an early age at anywhere from $25 to $35 a week. Working a little and playing a whole lot of tennis looks like a wonderful career to them.

"But how many of our spoiled young men do you think we could employ at those wages? I would guess none, and the amount of money we have available for tennis promotion simply wouldn't permit paying them what they would want. We would have to drop all other forms of tennis promotion, and advertising, and it wouldn't be worth it. Even if we hired a dozen of them, how could we be sure we were getting a future champion in the lot?

"I suppose it will come in time," Richards sighed finally, "but you can say that we all dread it."

If the manufacturers are worried at the prospect of supporting an entirely new type of tennis play, the officials should be advised what they are letting themselves in for too.

The tennis rulers in Australia have discovered to their chagrin that the game sort of gets out of their hands once the system has produced a fine group of young automatons such as has dominated the last three Davis Cup Challenge rounds. They can't be handled by ordinary means, but understand only an iron discipline such as no amateur in this country ever has dreamed of.

Haddix MayBe Year's Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Just two innings might prevent Harvey Haddix, sensational young left-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, from winning "Rookie of the Year" honors in the National League this year.

Haddix joined the Cards last August, following a two-year hitch in the Army and pitched 42 innings. That was two more than the amount of innings a hurler can work and still be classified a rookie the following year. The unofficial rule is that a pitcher must hurl 40 or less innings.

Haddix appeared in seven games starting six, while completing three for a 2-2 record last year. Prior to that the 27-year-old native of South Vienna, Ohio, had done all his hurling in the minors.

The little southpaw has done much better this year. He has won 16 games while losing only 7, and has turned in 13 complete games. Four of his victories have been shutouts. His 115 strikeouts rank fourth behind Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Least concerned over Haddix' status is his manager, Eddie Stanky. An unknown quantity at the beginning of the year, Haddix has developed into the ace of the staff.

"I don't rightly know if Haddix is a rookie," Stanky said. "All I know is he pitches like a veteran."

Unless the Baseball Writers Association of America, which will vote on rookie awards, undergoes a change of heart, Haddix is due to be left out in the cold—all because of the two extra innings he pitched last year.

The elimination of Haddix would leave the field open to either second baseman Jim (Junior) Gilliam of the Brooklyn Dodgers or pitcher Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants. Those two look like the best of the 1953 class of freshman.

Negro To Play At San Angelo Junior College

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A Negro will play on a Texas college football team for the first time this year. He is Benjamin Kelley and the big fullback appears to have a place clinched on the San Angelo Junior College team.

Kelley was a star with Blackshear Negro High School here in 1948, 1949 and 1950. He went to the University of Illinois and played freshman football before being called into the service. After two years he came back and enrolled in San Angelo College—the first Negro to actually enroll there although other Negroes have attended the school. They were soldiers at Goodfellow Field here and went to night classes sponsored by the college.

Kelley weighs 208 pounds and Coach Max Bumgardner expects him to be a keyman in the San Angelo College offense this fall.

When Kelley was playing at Blackshear in 1949 and 1950, that school's games drew more than games played by San Angelo Junior College and San Angelo High School.

Rain Slowing Drills At Some SW Colleges

By The Associated Press

Cooler weather was expected to put added zest into Southwest Conference football drills Thursday after rain hampered some drills Wednesday.

Rain pelted football candidates at Texas, Rice, Baylor and Texas A&M.

Coach Ed Price at Texas cancelled his Longhorns' afternoon session and diagrammed plays and showed football films to his charges. The UT squad went through plays stressing ball handling, blocking and tackling in morning drill.

The showers at Houston didn't bother the Rice Owls much. They went through a brisk, 2-hour workout in the afternoon that included a 30-minute dummy scrimmage. In the morning drill they worked out in shorts.

Coach George Sauer reported a letterman defensive halfback, Guayford Donaldson, had decided to pass up playing with the Baylor Bears this season. The Bears worked in the rain for the second straight day.

In Dallas, Coach Chalmer Woodard of Southern Methodist struck with a first-string backfield combination including quarterback Sammy Stollenwerck, halfbacks Jerry Norton and Roy Pace and fullback Don Miller. Two SMU drills Wednesday stressed bocking and passing.

Aggie gridders at College Station went through two stiff workouts with conditioning workouts the rule for linemen. They held the afternoon session in a hard rain. Texas A&M opens its season 16 days from Thursday against Kentucky.

The Arkansas Razorbacks concentrated on the duties of halfbacks and safety men in pass defense as they continued drills in the Ozarks. Bowden Wyatt, new coach of the Hogs, drilled all his charges hard on fundamentals.

Reserve units outshone the first string as Texas Christian's grid candidates engaged in their first contact work of the season.

The eleven which will probably start against Kansas in the Frogs' Sept. 19 opener failed to gain in two possessions. Three reserve teams all "scored."

Reserved Seats Selling Good

About 320 season football tickets to high school games here had been sold by this morning.

The figure is already more than were sold last year during the entire selling period. There were 256 season tickets issued last year.

About 880 reserved seats are available on the west side of the Tiger Stadium, where local fans will sit.

The tickets are $7.20 for the six home games. The games are with Fort Worth Tech Sept. 18, Thomas Jefferson of El Paso Oct. 2, Levelland Oct. 16, Lamesa Oct. 30, Big Spring Nov. 13, and Sweetwater Nov. 20. They are on sale in the office of Forrest Beavers, county superintendent, in the courthouse.

HE ASKED FOR IT

4TH ROUND TODAY

Billy Talbert Thinks He Can Take Seixas In Match

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Wimbledon titleholder Vic Seixas gets his first major test in the National Tennis Championships today when he faces a supremely confident Billy Talbert in a fourth-round match.

After breezing to another easy victory yesterday, the 34-year-old Talbert was asked if he thought he could take the top-seeded domestic favorite.

"Why not?" Talbert replied bluntly.

"If my passing shots are working as well as in the last two matches, I should have a very good chance."

This featured match between old antagonists was the second on today's stadium program.

Here are the other round of 16 pairings:

Top bracket—Kurt Nielsen, Denmark, vs. Fred Kovaleski, Washington, D. C.; Gardnar Mulloy, Coral Gables, Fla. vs. Torben Ulrich, Denmark; Lewis Hoad, Australia, vs. Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La.

Lower bracket—Tony Trabert, Cincinnati, vs. Ian Ayre, Australia; Budge Patty, Los Angeles, vs. Mervyn Rose, Australia; Art Larsen, San Leandro, Calif., vs. Sven Davidson, Sweden; Ken Rosewall, Australia, vs. Tom Brown Jr., San Francisco.

Of these, only Kovaleski, a tall, dark-haired Defense Department worker, is an outsider. All other favorites prevailed in yesterday's 18-match session in 100-degree heat.

The 27-year-old Kovaleski, a former public parks champion from Hamtramck, Mich., won a marathon duel with Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., seeded No. 6. The score of the match, finished in semidarkness, was 6-3, 9-11, 7-5, 7-5.

Kovaleski's hopes of a ranking in the top 10 undergo a strain in today's match with Nielsen, the strapping, mustachioed Dane who won the U. S. indoor championship last winter. Nielsen was forced five sets yesterday by Andy Paton of Ann Arbor, Mich., 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Talbert, unseeded for the first time in 13 years and with an eye on the Davis Cup captaincy, is playing tennis with a vengeance that shows. He is anxious to impress the tennis brass.

In the second round the slim New York broker upset the highly rated Rex Hartwig of Australia and yesterday he swept past Bill Quillian of Seattle 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

"I'm playing well but Seixas is different," Talbert said. "He keeps pressure on you all the time."

Seixas, his net game not as sharp as usual, had to go four sets to beat Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

While the men are going into the quarter-finals, the women get only halfway there today with matches confined to the upper bracket. Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., seeking her third straight crown, plays Jeanne Arth of St. Paul, Minn., while Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont, the comebacking ex-titlist, meets Angela Mortimer, England's Wightman Cupper.

Braves Knock Dodgers 9-8

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves, still not believing the newspaper stories about Brooklyn being a shoo-in for the National League Pennant, whipped the Dodgers 9-8 yesterday in Brooklyn.

The victory gave the Milwaukees a 5-5 split in games at Ebbetts Field so far this year and cut the Brooks lead to 10 games. They have 22 to play, three of them with Milwaukee.

Allie Reynolds pitched the New York Yankees to a 9-1 win over St. Louis 9-1 with eight excellent innings of hurling. But although they won, the Yanks failed to increase their lead in the American League.

Sunday Supper Party Is Easy With These Simple Recipes

Simplicity of preparation is the key word for informal September entertaining. It's warm enough for light foods, cool enough to make a variety of foods appetizing, and the possibilities are practically unlimited.

The Sunday party is popular at this season, bringing friends together for an evening of fun without taxing the hostess. A main dish, a flavorful salad, bakery rolls, a beverage and dessert, all served buffet style, keep service easy and dishwashing at a minimum. The informal atmosphere promotes a good time for all.

The idea is good any day of the week, but Sunday suppers have a leisurely pace that is hard to achieve during the hurried week.

Here are recipes for four main dishes suited for Sunday supper parties.

For the unexpected Sunday afternoon visitors serve this simple tomato rarebit over rice. The canned soup base assures a creamy sauce. Add a quick tossed salad, beverage, rolls and some ice cream from the freezer and supper is ready in half an hour or less.

TOMATO RAREBIT AND OLIVE RICE

1 1-3 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons butter
1 can tomato soup
1-3 cup milk
8 ounces cheese, grated or cut in cubes
½ teaspoon dry mustard.

Combine rice, water and salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir.) Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Add olives and butter to rice; mix lightly with a fork. Meanwhile, combine soup, milk, cheese and mustard in saucepan. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted and mixture is hot. Serve over olive rice. Makes six servings.

Use sharp or mild Cheddar or processed cheese. Grate Cheddar cheese and cut processed cheese into small cubes before adding to the milk.

A supper pizza party could be a real treat for lovers of Italian food. Serve individual pizzas, made not with a difficult crust, but a quick corn meal dough as the base. Then for dessert serve tortoni as another delightful suprise. Here are the recipes for both.

INDIVIDUAL PIZZAS

3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup enriched corn meal
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
2-3 cups shortening

TOPPING

¼ cup milk
1 pound bulk pork sausage
2 six-ounce cans tomato paste
¼ cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 three-ounce can mushrooms, chopped.
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
8 ounces sliced American cheese, cut into thin strips

For pizza base, sift together dry ingredients into medium-sized bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add and mix lightly only until mixture is dampened. (Add more milk if necessary to make a soft dough.)

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half; roll each half out to form a rectangle 8 by 12 inches. Cut six circles from each half, using a No. 2½ can as a cutter. (Remaining pieces of dough may be rolled out and cut into two or more circles of dough if desired.) Place circles of dough on cookie sheets.

For the pizza topping, brown sausage. Combine tomato paste, water, garlic, oregano, salt, pepper and minced onion. Spread each dough circle with the tomato mixture. Add the browned sausage and mushrooms. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and lay three or four thin strips of cheese across the top. (Two cups grated American cheese may be used in place of sliced cheese if desired.) Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

QUICK BISCUIT TORTONI

½ cup rolled oats (quick)
¼ cup brown sugar
1½ teaspoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened slightly
¼ teaspoon lemon extract
½ teaspoon almond extract
A few slivered almonds

Mix together rolled oats, sugar, flour, salt and melted butter until crumbly. Place in a shallow baking pan (do not pack down). Toast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes or until brown sugar melts. Cool about 15 minutes, then toss lightly with a fork to form crumbs about the size of peas. Cool thoroughly, stirring occasionally to keep crumbs from sticking together.

Fold cooled crumbs and flavorings into softened ice cream. Pour mixture into fluted paper baking cups. Top with a few slivered almonds. Freeze in ice cube compartment of refrigerator or in freezer.

An elegant supper is simple when the hostess serves a sturdy main dish like chicken livers with pineapple in a chafing dish. Accompany it with fluffy rice, a tossed salad and French bread. Ice cream with chocolate sauce would be a good dessert. The chafing dish is not a must, of course, for a frying pan over the kitchen range will make this dish just as well.

CHICKEN LIVERS WITH PINEAPPLE

2 pounds of chicken livers
Soy Sauce
⅓ cup salad oil
1 No. 2 can of pineapple chunks
1 cup split blanched almonds
SAUCE:
2⅓ cups pineapple juice
⅓ cups vinegar
⅓ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch

Cut chicken livers in halves, dip them in soy sauce and brown lightly in oil. Add pineapple and blanched almonds. Heat for a minute, then pour on the sauce. Cook for four to five minutes, and serve with rice. Serves eight.

For a buffet with an extra-special entree, plan supper around a baked deviled crabmeat. Add cooked green peas and diced celery, tomato and avocado salad bowl, hot cheese popover, ripe olives and fruit tarts with coffee.

BAKED DEVILED CRABMEAT

2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup rich milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Dash tobasco
½ cup thinly sliced celery
2 pimientos, diced
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 6½ ounce cans crabmeat, flaked
½ cup buttered soft bread crumbs

Melt butter in saucepan; add onion and saute until tender. Remove from heat. Add flour, mustard and salt; stir until smooth. Gradually stir in milk. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Mix in remaining ingredients except crumbs. Place in individual buttered ramekins or baking shells. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Garnish with parsley and or lemon wedges.

Divorces Are Studied

CANBERRA (AP) — Australians divorced in 1952 included 65 couples who had been married 30 years or more and who had at least five children. One couple married less than five years, with four children, was divorced.

A table of divorces according to the duration of marriage and the number of children showed that the biggest group was of couples married between five and nine years without children. Of a total of 7,042 divorces, 990 were of this group.

Drouth Broken In Some Places But Others Still Needing Rain

By The Associated Press

Rain has washed out a big chunk of drouth in South Texas. In much of West Texas things are looking up.

A survey Thursday showed it's hard to generalize about the Texas drouth. Broken down into sections of the 152-county region designated as a disaster area last July, this is the situation:

In the San Antonio country, the drouth was broken in spots and scarcely touched in other spots by rains ranging from less than an inch to six inches.

Around Del Rio on the Rio Grande, hills and pastures were turning green from soaking rains which began Aug. 18.

Farmers in the San Angelo area reported good cotton prospects but they agreed the drouth is not broken there.

Around Abilene and north beyond Lubbock and Plainview, cotton prospects are the best in years. Grain sorghum prospects are good. Ranges are improving, and drouth aid is dropping off. But there hasn't been enough rain to restore subsoil moisture to the point where the drouth can be called broken.

Pastures are so much better in the Wichita Falls area that A. K. Martin said he will pasture free "any distressed cattle in Baylor County." Martin, a rancher near Seymour, says he has "the finest grass you ever saw."

The Wichita County Drouth Relief Committee said it will accept no more applications for government feed.

Through the middle of the West Texas plains from Big Spring to El Paso the drouth still seemed as bad as during the driest days of July.

What the drouth cost farmers this year?

Agriculture Commissioner John White said Texas wheat farmers have lost 91 million dollars. He figured the loss on grain sorghums at 48 million. White said it's too early to estimate whether the cotton and citrus will show a loss or profit.

Runs of cattle to Fort Worth and San Antonio have been heavier than normal. Experts said this was partly because of the drouth and partly because prices were dropping.

W. L. Joyce, assistant division manager of the Fort Worth stockyards, said to "get a ouija board" to find out the drouth's effects on marketing, adding "There's not a man living who can tell you that." An acceleration of selling is natural when "prices start bearing down," Joyce said.

One effect of the drouth at the Fort Worth stockyards is that grown animals have been poorer than usual and many calves have been lighter.

Reports from sections of the drouth country:

Corpus Christi — Rains totaling 12.64 inches in Corpus Christi—more in some surrounding areas—during August ended two years of drouth, although the weather bureau still reports a slight rainfall deficiency for 1953.

Before the rains fell, Coastal Bend ranchers and farmers cut their herds drastically. The government drouth aid program helped slow heavy consignments of cattle to market for a week or so, but delay in getting feed to ranchers and small amounts allotted them combined to speed the market movement again.

The Corpus Christi Caller-Times reported the drouth broken in Nueces, Kleberg, Duval, Jim Wells, San Patricio and sections of Bee and other Coastal Bend counties. The paper said rainfall has been spotty with some sections receiving less than an inch north of the Nueces River in Live Oak, Kanres, Wilson, Atascosa, Frio, LaSalle and northern Bee counties.

Edinburg—Rio Grande Valley citrus and vegetable men expect the best season in years. Never has the Valley had more water available. Rains in the Rio Grande watershed will enable all water districts to fill their needs. Falcon Dam now has 600,000 acre feet impounded. Mexico's Marte Gomez reservoir is overflowing into the Rio Grande.

Austin Anston of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Assn. estimated the Valley will have 5 to 6 million citrus treets producing Jan. 1, the most since a 1949 freeze killed most of the Valley's 11 million trees.

Tomatoes, carrots, lettuce, peppers, beets, greens, grain and broomcorn are being planted with excellent prospects.

San Antonio — Bexar County Agent Robert Tate said the drouth definitely broken only in spots. Until last week's rains the drouth area had been expanding. The rains had the effect of cutting down on cattle marketing as ranchers began hoping for revived pastures.

Del Rio—Horace Fawcett, a member of the State Soil Conservation Committee, said pastures were looking promising at last and native grasses were greening out in many areas. Rain totaling 3.90 inches fell in Del Rio starting last Tuesday. Rain in the east part of Val Verde County totaled 4 inches or better. They were the best rains since May, 1952. But a soil conservation man, W. T. Jones, said some sections still were very dry.

San Angelo—Cotton men estimate the yield at 15,000 to 27,000 bales, depending on insects and the first hard freeze. Recurring showers have given bollworms a head start. An estimated 5,000 acres of small grains has been planted for grazing, and some sheep grazing should be available by Sept. 15.

Tom Green County Agent Marion Winn Badger estimated 50,000 to 60,000 acres of small grains will be planted this fall. Ranges are showing some weeds but grasses are slow in coming.

Abilene—Midsummer rains produced the best cotton and grain sorghum prospects since 1949-50. A. H. Jefferies, Taylor County PMA office manager, estimated the county's cotton yield at 13,000 bales.

County Agent Frank Martin of Haskell estimated the county's 180,000 acres will produce 75,000 bales, best since 1949. The county also will produce its best maize crop in history, about 3,000 an acre.

County Agent W. C. Vines of Albany said range conditions are the best in years and the drouth emergency feed program was stopped after all applicants got an initial 30-day supply. Taylor County Agent H. C. Stanley said the feed program is likely to be suspended in his county in a few days. All stock tanks were full but farmers, stockmen and county agents agreed they won't consider the drouth broken until moisture is restored completely.

Lubbock—August brought 2.57 inches of rain. "The drouth has not left us, but nobody is hurting," said Tom McFarland, director of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal said farmers actually would prefer no more rain until cotton quits vegetating. Bolls thus could mature and insects could be checked. A bumper crop of 1,335,000 bales of cotton is expected on the South Plains. The harvest of cotton and grain sorghums is expected to hit 200 million dollars, by brokerage estimates.

Plainview—Hale County irrigated crops are excellent, with the best fruited cotton in the history of the county. Moisture is good and insects are at a minimum. Grain sorghums are infested in spots but not seriously. But County Agent Olle Liner said dry land farms have poor crops. The last good rains fell about two weeks ago. In this section, farmers would like a good rain, then plenty of sunshine until the cotton is harvested.

Big Spring and due west—No improvement in the drouth situation. Many farmers are ready to plant small grain and legume cover crops if enough rain falls soon. Clouds Wednesday were the best prospect for a rain at Big Spring "in a long while, but crops and grass won't grow on prospects," Franklin Reynolds, farm editor of the Big Spring Herald said.

PAYING HER RESPECTS

Lady Sylvia Ashley, left, former wife of actor Clark Gable, curtseys before her host, the Marquis de Cuevas, at his giant 18th century ball at the Chiberta Country Club in Biarritz, France. Lady Ashley is attired as "Flora," while the Marquis was dressed in a gold and satin Louis XIV costume with a towering feather headdress. About 1,000 guests attended the ball.

Highly Insured Losses Here If Tornadoes Were To Strike

Snyder is better prepared for loss from storm damage than Waco was when a tornado ripped a hole in the middle of the city this year.

When Waco had its big storm, many of the businesses downtown, where the storm took its worst toll, were not covered by insurance.

Estimates are that less than half the property destroyed by the Waco storm was covered by insurance.

Snyder is very insurance conscious, agents here say, estimating that more than 90 per cent of both businesses and residences have extended insurance coverage, which includes storm damage.

Although a large portion of property here is underinsured, John Boren of Hugh Boren & Son Agency said, most have at least some coverage. Boren estimated that 95 per cent of the businesses here are insured against storm damage, while he said probably 90 per cent of the residences here are covered. Most persons here are conscious of storm damage because of some hard winds and hail in the Snyder area and storms nearby, he said. Possibly the reason for the large percentage on residences covered is that a majority of Snyder homes are mortgaged, and loan firms require extended coverage as well as fire and lightning insurance.

Tommy Deffebach of Deffebach Insurance Agency said he assumed that practically all the business district has extended coverage, estimating that 95 per cent of those having fire coverage also have extended coverage. Snyder, as part of the inland territory of the state, has the lower of two set rates on extended coverage. The rates for the Gulf coast area are about twice as high because of the hurricane hazard, Deffebach said. He added that since a large number of homes are mortgaged here, probably most residences are insured against storm.

Mrs. Roy Stokes of the Lewis-Stokes Agency said that 100 percent of those her agency represent carry extended coverage, estimating that more than 90 per cent of all businesses and residences are insured against storm here. The percentage has not increased in the last few years, Mrs. Stokes said, adding that most businesses and homes were covered here before Snyder began to grow rapidly.

Tony Holcomb of Holcomb Insurance Agency gave his estimate of 95 per cent of businesses and 90 per cent of residences insured against storm here. "Many are not adequately insured, some having coverage of about 50 per cent," he said, but most have at least some insurance.

Holcomb said that storms in the state cause persons to check on whether their insurance is adequate here.

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Feel sticky in this weather? So does a lift bridge here.

The tanker still was waiting today for the 200-foot span to cool off.

To Organize Jr. Rifle Club

An organizational meeting of a junior rifle club, sponsored by the Optimist Club, will be held in the district courtroom tomorrow night at 7:30 for boys aged 12 to 18, Gene Best, Optimist president announced.

Erich Arnold and C. V. Merritt, Jr., will meet with the interested boys. Merritt will instruct in the safe use of a rifle. The club now has two new target guns that will be available and others will be furnished as the need arises, Best said.

Also meeting with group tomorrow will be Collie Fish and John Anderson of the Canyon Rifle Club which has agreed to let the junior club use its firing range on specified days.

From the summer of 1952 to the summer of 1953 about 700 new oil wells were drilled in New Mexico.

Man Admits Firing Shots Into His Car

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 24-year-old man who twice reported being shot at while riding in his car admitted yesterday he fired the shots himself.

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Buchanan said Jack Carlisle pumped .22-caliber rifle bullets into his car and wrote himself a threatening letter to arouse sympathy for himself because his wife was planning to divorce him.

Buchanan said Carlisle would be examined by doctors and that criminal charges probably would not be filed.

There were 82,500 seamen employed on U.S. ocean-going ships in early 1953 — about 25 per cent fewer than the same period in 1952.

Democratic Rally September 14 May Be Very Rowdy Affair

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the big-wig Democrats' get-together in Chicago Sept. 14 and 15 is as fouled up as the preparations for it, there should be lively, if not harmonious, doings.

Since their election disaster in 1952 the Democrats have been pilgrims in a political desert, looking wistfully toward Washington, which they occupied so long it must seem to them like a family estate overrun by intruders.

The two big goals ahead of them are trying to regain control of Congress in 1954 and both Congress and the presidency in 1956. If all goes well with them in Chicago they may be able to make some plans for the 1954 elections.

Because this is their first national meeting since the Republicans took over in January, the Democrats will have no difficulty in not refraining from criticism of the Eisenhower administration's first eight months.

Preparations have been under way for weeks for this meeting which will cover a lot more ground than just lambasting the Republicans:

It will be a welcome occasion for Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential candidate, after his long trip abroad; the Democratic National Committee will meet; and there will be a $100-a-plate dinner to raise money to pay off the National committee's debts.

Former President Truman, who won't run again, will be there along with those who would like to run or have been mentioned as likely starters in the presidential sweepstakes three years from now.

Stevenson would probably like another try, but hasn't said so, and won't be asked when nomination time comes around in 1956—or perhaps even at this Chicago meeting—that he has a lot of opposition.

Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver who tried for the nomination last year, will be there, probably hoping the lightning strikes him next time. So will Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate.

But right in the midst of the preparations for all this John J. Kelly, Chicago lawyer and chairman of the dinner, quit with the explanation that his ideas conflicted with those of Stephen A. Mitchell, who is national committee chairman by choice of Stevenson.

Some Southern Democratic leaders complained they hadn't been invited at all, although Mitchell said all Democratic senators, governors and representatives had been asked to attend.

The office of Sen. Byrd, Virginia Democrat who helped Eisenhower in his state in 1952 by refusing to support Stevenson, said he hadn't been invited. But Byrd said he wouldn't have gone anyway.

None of the three Southern Democratic governors who supported Eisenhower said he'd go: Byrnes of South Carolina, Kennon of Louisiana, and Shivers of Texas.

There seemed to be some confusion about Shivers. Mitchell announced he had sent Shivers a telegram saying he had "noted with deep distress newspaper reports" that the Texan couldn't attend and others that he hadn't been asked.

In his telegram Mitchell told the Texas governor that he and his wife had been invited.

Florida's Sen. Holland just said flatly he wouldn't go because he didn't think the South had anything to gain there. His state went for Eisenhower in 1952.

Mitchell is reported to have spent a good deal of time trying to pacify the South since last year's election but, judging from the attitude of some of the Southern leaders toward the Chicago meeting, has been something less than 100 per cent successful.
