The bridge will be completed in about a week, except for minor finishing details, although traffic will not be allowed across the bridge until sometime in March.

The paving on the approaches to the bridge will not be laid until April, according to state Highway Commission.

Band Booster Drive Is Set For Saturday

A drive for "Band Boosters" will be launched Saturday under the sponsorship of the Ranger Band Parents Club. Band members will work in downtown Perryton, selling memberships in the "Band Boosters."

The drive will continue thru the first part of the week, with mothers of band members canvassing the residential section of town, taking contributions for the band.

All "Band Boosters" will have their names printed in the page advertisement in the Ochiltree County Herald on Feb. 17. This page will be part of the promotion for the annual concert to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 22.

All contributions given to the band for this page in the Herald go to the band for their activities during the year. Last year the page brought the band about $450.00

This money is used for the annual band banquet, for purchasing some uniforms and paying a portion of expenses on band trips in the spring. All three bands share in the proceeds of this annual drive.

Approximately 100 women workers will canvass the residential district this week.

B Team Wins Trophies at Follett Meet

The Herald was unable to secure pictures of the other exhibitors but made these 60 pictures through the invaluable assistance of 4-H Club sponsor Delbert Timmons and FFA advisor Josh Hopkins. The sale of the calves, sheep and pigs will be held Monday afternoon at the county livestock building, immediately following the show.

School Census Shows Increase To 1,075 Pupils

A total of 1,075 students have enrolled on the annual school census, an increase over last year by about 25 students, reports superintendent Gilbert Mize.

Mize said that the census is expected to show an enrollment of about 1,100 when all census blanks are collected.

The enumeration of the six-year-olds who will start in the first grade this fall has been below last year, and only 70 have been counted thus far. Enrollment of first grades for the past few years has been over the 100 mark.

It was thought that another first grade section would have to be set up, but unless more first graders are enrolled, this will not be necessary, Mize said.

Hereford Sale Tuesday; Calf Show Monday

Two big livestock events of the year for the Perryton area will be held Monday and Tuesday at the county fairgrounds livestock building. The Junior Livestock Show, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will be held Monday and the Ninth Annual Sale of the North Plains Hereford Breeders Association will be held Tuesday.

The junior show starts at 8 a. m. Monday with the showing of swine, followed by the sheep show at 10 a. m. and the calf show at 1 p. m. The sale of all junior livestock will be held following the calf show Monday afternoon.

The Hereford show begins at 10 a. m. Tuesday, with the annual sale beginning at 1:30 p. m.

The Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to have as many business men as possible participate in the bidding for the junior livestock show Monday afternoon. The "buy-back" price has been established as the market price plus 25 percent of the difference between the market price and bid price.

The prize money will be presented by Louis Bryan, Chamber president, between the end of the show and the start of the sale.

There will be no championship sale as was held last year. The calves will be sold first, then the sheep, then the hogs.

Ivan Day is general superintendent of the junior show. Jake LeMaster is calf superintendent, assisted by Max Pearson and Cecil Regier; Herman Hargrove is sheep superintendent, assisted by Ray Waggoner; Phil LaMaster is swine uperintendent, assisted by Paul Corbin.

March of Dimes Drive Nets $2,187 In Ochiltree County

A total of $2,187.22 has been contributed to the 1955 March of Dimes campaign thus far, reports Frank Shaffer, county campaign chairman.

The coin containers that were distributed in business houses have not been collected and part of the radio request program money has not been sent in. An estimated $200 is still to be collected, Shaffer said.

The Mothers March, held Monday night, brought in $963.28 for the largest single collection.

The benefit basketball games at the gymnasium Saturday night netted $68.00; the VFW share of the wrestling receipts totalled $42.81; the Ochiltree square dance brought in $64.00; the Friendly Circle HD Club contributed $27.60; the schools gave $81.12.

A total of $238.50 was sent in by mail; the Girl Scouts sold $93.74 at the Crutch Sale; the radio request program brought in $220.00; and $415.17 was brought in through solicitation of business houses.

"I wish to thank all who worked on this drive," Shaffer said. "We fell short of the $3,900 goal, but feel that everyone had an opportunity to contribute and are happy with the results."

"If anyone has been missed, they can mail the money in or call me and I'll come by and pick up the donation," Shaffer said.

Pledge 65 In Chamber Drive

Incomplete returns from the Chamber of Commerce membership committee show that 65 members signed pledge cars for 1955, making pledges totaling $3,000 for the Chamber budget, reports Aldon Bell, committee chairman.

The Chamber has adopted a $12,000 budget this year, compared with $8,000 during the past year. Minimum business membership dues have been set at $25 and the minimum personal membership is $10.

The membership committee will visit all firms who have been members of the Chamber, and will call upon those who were not members in 1954.

Annual Football Banquet To Be Held Tonight

The annual football banquet, honoring coaches and players of the 1954 Ranger Squad, will be held tonight, Thursday, in the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock.

Joe Schollenbarger, president of the Ranger Club, sponsors of the banquet, said there were still plenty of tickets available from Gale Rogers, Omar Truax or from Schollenbarger.

The food is being prepared and served by men of the Methodist, Baptist and Christian churches, and proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for the Ranger Club basketball and baseball programs.

Alvin Klotz, pastor of the Waka Church of the Brethren, will be master of ceremonies for the event.

Rev. Leon Hill of Amarillo, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, will be principal speaker for the banquet.

Members of the choir are Gary George, Bill Thrasher and Benny Easter.

All four students were selected several months ago in regional competition. They will perform in Dallas on Wednesday, February 9.

County Voting Strength Is Low

There were 1,361 poll taxes sold in Ochiltree county for the current year and 32 exemption certificates were issued, reports Sheriff Ray Phagan. This makes a voting strength of 1,393, far below the number of qualified voters for the past few years. The fact that 1955 is an off-year, politically, is considered one big reason for the low number of poll taxes paid.

Fire losses in Perryton during 1954 totaled $23,869.28, according to the yearly summary prepared by Fire Marshal J. D. Maberry. Largest fire last year was the blaze which destroyed the Schnell Mfg. Co. building which totaled $16,711.28.

Old Cow Hand Of Shamrock Recalls Drive

SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP) — Wood Baxter, 79, is an old cow hand who can still vividly recall trail drives from Texas to Montana.

"We took from 6,000 to 7,000 head of 6 and 7-year-olds on those trips," he recalled.

Born in Slater, Mo., Baxter moved with his family to Weatherford while an infant. He struck out on his own when he was 13 and the first cowboy job he got was on the Three Sixes ranch, in Young County.

He made three trips up the trail to Montana with vast herds of Longhorns.

"We wore good heavy boots and corduroy pants," he said. "Why a cowpuncher never heard of these breeches they call levis."

"When the cattle were delivered, we'd start on the long, lonesome trip back to Texas. There wasn't much color to that 'back track,' just ridin' along. Sometimes the days would be so long and lonely, we'd just throw the reins over our horse's heads and get on the chuck wagon."

Baxter headed for a $50 a month job on the famed old XIT ranch in the Panhandle in 1895, but before he got there he met a foreman for the Mill Iron Ranch in Wheeler County and went to work for that outfit.

When he rode up for his first meal at the Mill Iron chuck wagon, he saw his brother, Bob Baxter, for the first time in 15 years.

Baxter worked for the Mill Iron for five years, then fenced a section of land and built himself a two-room house.

Baxter and his wife, the former Alice Bureham, have lived here since 1919, with the exception of four years in the Rio Grande Valley.

Poisoning May Be Fatal for Small Children

AUSTIN—For the first time the National Office of Vital Statistics has issued tabulations of fatal accidental poisonings by age, sex, and kind of poison, said Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. A total of 1,497 such accidental deaths occurred in one year.

Petroleum products (including kerosene) and aspirin and salicylates were involved in 40 per cent of the deaths in infants through 4 years of age, 165 such deaths. Dr. Holle declared this indicated that parents are not as aware of the dangers of these substances as they are of such substances as lye, iodine, phenol or strychnine. It should also be pointed out that three out of four fatal child poisonings occur at ages 1 to 2. This indicates that prevention of these accidents involves keeping poisons away from children rather than teaching them about poisons.

Any item that can be poisonous should be kept out of reach of children. This includes medicines, kerosene, insecticides, cleaning fluid and many other items. Adults should never attempt to take medicine in the dark. Always read the label to make sure the medicine you wanted is not something poisonous.

In the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups, there are sizable differences between male and female accidental poisoning deaths. There were considerably more barbiturate deaths of women in the 25-44, while in both groups most of the alcohol poisonings occurred among men. These two agents accounted for 58 per cent of the accidental poisoning fatalities for persons 25 years of age or older.

Wrong Plea

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—When Theodore Bogan was brought to court on an intoxication charge, he pleaded innocent, and police made a further investigation. The result was a new charge of driving while intoxicated, to which Bogan pleaded guilty and drew a fine of $100 and $10 costs.

Bogan could have paid the customary $10 fine for intoxication but went to jail on default of the $110 on the stiffer count.

Water Witching Is A Gift, Not Just Guesswork

ENLOE, Texas (AP) — Marcus Voyles is a 59-year-old barber with a jolly grin.

But he's also a witch—a "water witch."

At any rate, Voyles is one of the last of the "water witches" who use a green, forked stick to tell folks where to dig a well.

He said he first found out he had the gift in 1918. Usually, he says, there's one person in every family who's got the touch.

Voyles claims to have "witched" wells throughout Northeast Texas.

He was living in Sulphur Springs when he said he first found out he was a water witch.

He was watching another witch, when "I picked up the stick. Worked for me stronger than it would for him.

"Then he showed me how to get my depth.

Voyles says a tight grip is necessary, clutching one branch of the fork in the left hand and the other in the right.

He says as the "witch" approaches the underground water, the end of the limb will twist earthward.

"Works with any kind of green forked stick," he says.

"Old timers always hanked on peach tree limbs. Smaller the stick the more accurate it is."

"Mose people doubt the power of a 'water witch'," he grins.

But most people take a try with the stick, Voyles said.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Winner Every Time!

Last Friday at our big basketball game with Centerville I sat next to a fine-looking old man. Centerville had things their way the first half — and he cheered every score they made.

But our boys began to catch up. Then Stretch Brown put us in the lead with a long set shot, —and I noticed that the old fellow was now rooting for our side. "What team are you for, anyway?" I demanded.

"Neither," he replied. "I've got my own team. I figure any kid that does a good job out there is on my team. Root for the individual like I do — and you'll always back a winner!"

From where I sit, maybe it is a good idea to keep our eye on the individual, instead of automatically grouping him on teams you're "for" or "against." We're all individuals at heart, with our likes and dislikes — our right to prefer tea to coffee or beer to buttermilk ... our right to "blow the whistle" when anyone tries to regiment us.

Learns to Fly at 71

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—At 71, Mrs. Ida May Relf, a professional photographer of Ponca City, Okla., is learning to fly. Fay Lineham, civil aeronautics safety agent says he thinks she is the oldest woman ever to receive permission to take flying lessons, although there have been many women who have continued to fly past that age.

"I plan to fly for pleasure but it will also be of great help to me if I can fly to Oklahoma City to buy supplies for my studio," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kerns of Booker were in Perryton Sunday evening to take Mrs. Kern's mother, Mrs. Charlie Lile to a hospital at Beaver, Okla.

City Water Tank Gets A Cleaning

A cleaning chore on the south city water tank has been completed, with city employees working the past ten days on cleaning and painting the inside of the large tank.

City superintendent J. D. Maberry said that about 12 inches of sand was flushed out of the tank and that the interior was painted after all rust spots were removed.

This is a regular maintenance chore of the city water department, done at regular intervals on both water towers.

The Canyon Eagles defeated the Rangers by a 63-53 margin, same point spread as their earlier victory. Canyon led all the way, although the Rangers made a battle of it late in the game, pulling up to 48-53 with four minutes to go. Bill Thrasher had 18 points and Bill Farrington 14 points for scoring honors.

On Tuesday night, the Rangerettes lost a thriller to the undefeated Shamrock girls when the visitors pulled out in the fading minutes for a 48-45 victory. Perryton led at the end of the first quarter and trailed only 24-22 at the half. With four minutes to go, Shamrock led by 43-41 and with a minute to go, Perryton trailed only 46-45. Phyllis Vernon was top scorer for Perryton.

The Rangers found the Shamrock Irish surprisingly tough and had to battle to win by a 54-36 score. However, the score was tied at the half, 19-19, and the Rangers led at the end of three quarters by only 33-27.

Bridge to Reality

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Johnson, who works in a tourist information booth here, will be happy when the Straits of Mackinac bridge is completed in 1957.

Mrs. Johnson has been running into people for years who try to prove to her there already is a bridge across the straits. One woman claimed proof positive the bridge existed. She produced a post card with a picture of the bridge on it. The picture was an artist's drawing of how the bridge would look after it is completed.

Veterans Forum

Q. If I enter the armed forces some time before the end of January, 1955, will I be entitled to a GI loan when I get out—even though Korea veterans' benefit entitlements come to an end January 31, 1955.

A. Yes, provided you receive a separation under other-than-dishonorable conditions and spend at least 90 days on active duty, unless you are discharged sooner for a line-of-duty disability.

Q. Does the President's proclamation, ending Korean GI benefit entitlements on January 31, have any bearing on when a Korea veteran has to start training under the Korean GI Bill?

A. Under the law, a veteran still must begin Korean GI Bill training within three years following his separation from the armed forces. The President's proclamation did not change that provision.

Q. Has the President's proclamation set a deadline on GI loans for post-Korea veterans?

A. Yes. As a result of the proclamation, January 31, 1965, has been set as the end of GI loan program for eligible post-Korea veterans.

Q. I have been receiving monthly income benefits, paid on account of the total disability income provision of my World War II GI insurance policy. Do these payments reduce the face value of my policy?

A. No. The disability payments you are receiving do not reduce the face value of your policy because you have been paying an extra premium for disability protection.

LETTERS from READERS

27 Virgil Walk
Long Beach 3, Calif.

Dear Jessie—

Here it is Christmas once more, and for us, the best part of it is hearing from all our old friends and renewing acquaintances, and friendships. Especially at this Christmas season I wanted to drop you a line and thank you and the Herald Staff for continuing to send the paper to us. Since my family have all moved away, it is about the only contact I have regularly with what will always be "home" to me. Many of the names in the paper are new to me, but much of the news is about schoolmates and friends I know.

The past year has been an eventful one for us, with the most important event being the adoption of our son. John was born March 21 and came to live with us April 20. He is now a husky young man of 24 pounds, is crawling everywhere, and chews up about anything he can get his hands on. Words cannot express the happiness he has brought into our lives. If we sound like proud parents, its only because its true. I'm sure his picture on the card will tell you why.

At last the seemingly interminable process of my finishing my Ph.D. is finished. I completed my dissertation and had my final oral examination on December 3. I had hoped to be finished a year ago, but had to wait nearly a year for some of the equipment necessary to collect the data for my dissertation research. I have also finished my three year internship with the Veterans Administration as a Clinical Psychologist, and I expect to join the Staff of the Long Beach V. A. Hospital as a Psychologist the first of the year.

We hope that in the spring we may make the trip back home which we have been promising ourselves for five years, and will hope to see you then.

A Merry Christmas to all and again thanks for keeping the Herald coming.

Sincerely,
George Hohmann

Weather Effects On Animals Are Studied

AUSTIN, Texas—Success of ranchmen in breeding livestock that thrive in warmer climates should spur scientists to learn more about weather effects on animals, a University of Texas zoologist said.

Scientists already have found atmospheric conditions to be the greatest single factor—other than heredity—in determining how an animal develops, Dr. W. Frank Blair declared.

Small, short-lived animals offer clues to how weather differences change animals, he said.

Dr. Blair cited as an example the amazing drouth resistance of kangaroo rats which have come to thrive in the arid Southwest while apparently drinking no water at all. The little animals evidently conserve and utilize water taken as part of their food.

"What could breeders do if they knew more about how that drouth resistance developed?" Dr. Blair asked.

University of Texas studies show a leopard frog from a warmer climate often produces an abnormal offspring when bred to exactly the same species from a colder climate. That would indicate atmospheric conditions have varied the frogs' physical constitutions in a relatively short time, Dr. Blair pointed out.

Such investigations offer an economical and rapid method of gathering fundamental information about breeding principles.

Several Changes In Tax Laws Help Taxpayers

Several changes in the new internal revenue code will favor individual taxpayers in the matter of allowable deductions.

In the past, if interest was not set forth separately on installment sales contracts, it was not deductible. Under the 1954 revenue act, a deduction may be claimed equal to 6% of the average unpaid balance of the installment sales contract, providing that this amount does not exceed the payments actually made.

Theft losses are now deductible in the year in which discovered, rather than in the year in which the theft occurred.

The deduction for charitable contributions is still subject to a limitation of 20% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income. However, an extra 10% may be deducted if it is to a religious organization, a school, or a hospital.

Medical expenses may be deducted to the extent that they exceed 3% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income. In prior years the exclusion was 5%. If the taxpayer or his spouse is 65 or over, the 3% exclusion does not apply.

Under the new act, the cost of medicines and drugs must first be reduced by 1% of adjusted gross income. The maximum medical expense that can be deducted is $2,500 for each exemption (other than for old age or blindness), and limited to $5,000 on a single return and $10,000 on a joint return.

The working wife has long lamented that she should be able to deduct against her earnings the cost of caring for her children while she is working. Now, child care expenses are deductible if paid by a woman, a widower, or a divorced man. The deduction shall not exceed $600 and may not be paid to a dependent of the person claiming the deduction. The child must be under 12 or physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself. If the adjusted gross income shown on the tax return is more than $4,500, a reduction of the child care deduction must be made.

One of the most drastic changes concerning deductions is that of depreciation. Two methods of been added that provide for a much faster write-off of depreciation in the early years.

One method is known as the "double declining balance" method. Under this system, the normal life of the item is determined as in all other cases. This is converted into a percentage figure, and then doubled. This increased percentage is then applied in the first year against the cost of the item to be depreciated. The second year, the same percentage is applied against the remaining cost, and so on indefinitely until the item is disposed of.

The second method is called the "sum of the digits" method. The sum of the years of useful life is determined. In the case of an automobile with a five-year life: 1, plus 2, plus 3, plus 4, plus 5, equals 15. The first year, 5/15ths of the cost is deducted as depreciation. The second year, 4/15ths; the third year, 3/15ths; the fourth year, 2/15ths; and the last year, 1/15th.

Both of these methods provide for greatly accelerated depreciation deductions. However, they can be applied only to new tangible property with a useful life of three years or more that was acquired after 1953. Different methods can be applied to different items as desired.

Cold Weather Brings Problems For Engines

About a gallon of water forms for each gallon of fuel burned. Under ordinary engine operation, Ulich says, this water passes from the engine through the exhaust. But in cold weather vapor may be forced past pistons and into the oil pan. There it condenses into water, and forms sludge.

High operating temperatures and oil changes recommended in the operators' manual helps prevent such damage, says the engineer. Warm the engine several minutes before putting it under load, he advises. A high operating temperature keeps oil hot vaporizing water in oil pan. In addition, regular oil changes removes the sludgy-water from the engine crankcase.

Ulich advises tractor and car drivers to keep radiator temperatures above 160 degrees. Operating temperatures up to 180 degrees improve fuel economy.

Drew Pearson Speaker At National Wheat Meet

Headline speaker for the fifth annual meeting of the National Association of Wheat Growers will be the nationally known columnist and commentator, Drew Pearson, K. Kendricks of Stratford, Texas, Wheat Growers president, has announced. The meeting will be held in Amarillo Texas, Feb. 2, 3 and 4.

Pearson has announced as his subject, "Bensonism, and Behind the Scenes in Washington." He will speak in a general session of the Wheat Growers at Amarillo City auditorium Feb. 4.

The Wheat Growers meeting will include representatives from Oregon, Washington, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, South Dakota, North Dakota, Texas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Missour and Montana, Kendricks said.

Subjects for discussion and reports on the Wheat Growers program will range from research on new uses of wheat and domestic markets to farm plans and public relations.

"The National Association of Wheat Growers is the wheat farmer's own organization," Kendricks said. "Reports at the annual meeting will deal with many activities which have been carried out through the past year to improve the wheat farmer's position in the market place and in our economy, and plan for more activities in the coming year."

A special program is planned for ladies attending the meeting. Mrs. Raphael Raymond, chairman of the domestic wheat utilization committee of the Oregon Wheat Growers League, will address the ladies at a coffee Feb. 2, and visiting ladies will be interviewed on television. A buffet tea and style show is planned for Feb. 3.

KANEOHE MARINE AIR STATION, Oahu (AP)—Marine Staff Sergeant William R. Burkart has developed a new type mount which permits aerial photographs to be taken from transport type helicopters. The inexpensive mount, Burkhart said, would be ideal for training men in the principles of aerial photography.

Wheat Poisoning Report Given By Pantech Farm

COLLEGE STATION—Salt, cottonseed meal, mineral mixtures, silage and various dry feeds, either fed alone or in combination, gave little or no protection against wheat pasture poisoning. Presumably, acting as a diluent, they may lengthen the time necessary for the attack to occur, reports Associate Veterinarian F. H. Sims and Animal Nutritionist. H. R. Crookshank at PanTech a Field Laboratory. The laboratory is a unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperating with Texas Technological College.

Their studies show that poisoning on wheat pasture occurs primarily in mature cows, two years of age or older, which are in the late stages of pregnancy or with calves at side. Most cases developed after 60 and before 150 days of wheat grazing, and before the calf was 60 days of age.

The reasearch workers list the usual symptoms as beginning with undue excitement, incoordination and a loss of appetite. As the condition progresses, viciousness, staggering and falling develop. If the animal is not treated, convulsions with periods of relaxation occur, then finally death. It is usually from 6 to 10 hours from appearance of the first symptoms until the animal goes into a comatose condition. If treatment is not begun before the coma sets in, there is little chance of recovery. The symptoms have been observed by laboratory personnel in beef, dairy and crossbred cows.

The best treatment seems to be the injection of a calcium gluconate solution fortified with magnesium and phosphorus. Recovery may be speeded by removing the cow from wheat pasture for a few days. Recurrence of the condition has not been noted in any animal which has recovered from initial attack.

The complete report on the studies is carried in Progress Report 1739 and is titled "Wheat Pasture Poisoning in Cattle." Copies may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Plenty to Cackle About—If She Had Strenght

LUBBOCK (Special)—An unidentified White Rock hen in the Texas Tech poultry yard had plenty to cackle about today—if she had the strength.

The hen early yesterday laid a five and one-half ounce egg, believed here to be a world record. It is the equivalent in weight to two "large" and one "medium-sized" egg as might be purchased at any grocery store.

Circumference of the egg's long axis was nine and one-half inches; short axis, seven and one-quarter inches.

The egg, still warm, was found at 10:30 a. m. yesterday (Tuesday) by T. T. Perry, manager of the Tech poultry farm.

"When I first saw it, my eyes practically bugged right out of their sockets," Perry exclaimed. "This is the biggest egg I've ever seen in my 35 years in the poultry business."

Upon seeing the egg, members of Tech's agriculture faculty quickly agreed that it was of record-breaking size, as far as they knew.

The tired mother is one of 235 hens that does her nesting in Hen House No. 1 in the Tech poultry yard. All are standard-sized hens.

Perry plans to preserve the egg by dehydrating it over a six weeks' period.

Spiders and scorpions are zoologically similar, being classified as arachnids.

Livestock Show and Sale

This is the time of the year that Perryton and Ochiltree county look forward to with anticipation.

When the Junior Livestock Show rolls around, a welcome hand is extended to the junior showmen who take part in county's outstanding livestock event.

A welcome is given to the consigners to the annual sale of the North Plains Hereford Breeders Association and to the many out-of-town buyers who visit our city on this annual event.

Both the junior show and the Hereford sale are designed to improve the standards of the beef cattle industry as well as to promote better sheep and swine. Facilities for handling the stock have been improved until they rank with the best of any comparable city or county.

The hard days of work put in by FFA and 4-H boys and girls will be reflected in the fat animals they put on display.

A Noteworthy Birthday

We salute the Boy Scouts of America on its 45th Birthday, now being observed during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12.

Since its founding in 1910 the organization has enriched the lives of over 22,750,000 boys and adult leaders. Truly Scouting represents a living cross section of American life.

Boys of every race, religion and economic background are attracted to Scouting. Today we find 2,700,000 boys in its ranks. Add to that impressive figure the 960,000 adults of good character who give generously of their time and talents to serve as leaders of units, Merit Badge Counselors and in many other capacities. There is hardly an American family that has not felt its influence.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, the Chief Executive, a leader in the organization since 1913, feels that it is of vital importance to train the boys of today to be ready for positions of leadership as they grow to manhood.

"Strong character, participating citizenship and physical fitness," he says, are needs of our boys and young men who are served by the program of Scouting in cooperation with the home the school, the church, and all other community institutions actively interested in training our future citizens."

Scouting's purpose, stated in the Federal Charter granted by Congress in 1916, is to promote the "ability of boys to do tihngs for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Every member of the nation's 95,000 Scouting Units is indeed "having some kind of experience that is added to his equipment to meet the problems of adulthfe."

It is that training that we heartily endorse on this noteworthy birthday.

How Much Stockpiling?

The United States Government has nearly 7 billion dollars invested in farm products stored under price support programs. A year ago, the figure was around 4.5 billion dollars.

The government has been accumulating stockpiles of other commodities, too. In addition to these foodstuffs, the government has been spending about a billion dollars a year for the past four years to put strategic mineral reserves in the defense stockpile.

Our country's newly rich from uranium strikes have the government to thank for their prosperity. Without the government as the sole purchaser, uranium would be practically worthless.

Reserves of food could be classed as part of the strategic stockpiling in time of world crisis. But reserves of perishable food commodities cannot be defended on that basis. The government now holds half a billion dollars worth of butter and cheese, for example, while butter is priced so high that oleomargarine has just about supplanted butter as a daily commodity on the table.

Food surpluses and price supports continue to be a thorn in the side of this administration, as in previous ones. There is no popular solution. But nearly everyone agrees that there should be some solution. It is not quite right for the government to accumulate food surpluses as long as people are in need. Some say that farm subsidies should be paid for increasing consumption—not for cutting production or for building excessive reserve stocks.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Last week the Herald set in type a story about the National Wheat Growers Convention in Amarillo, which began Wednesday and features Drew Pearson as the principal speaker tomorrow afternoon. Bill Lance wanted us to be sure and use this story in order to encourage attendance from the banner wheat producing county of the nation. However, when he came in Friday to inquire politely if we didn't think the story worth using, we checked up and found it had been left out.

This was purely unintentional and we wish we hadn't done it. It's always very embarassing to discover something like this, but to be quite honest about it, we would hesitate to say that it will never happen again. The bad thing about it is that mistakes made in a newspaper are put on display for everyone to see.

Mrs. Giltner LaMaster was in the other day to tell us about the proposed Junior Garden Club now in the formative stages. Janice and Mrs. O. A. Schuster would like to hear from any boy or girl who is interested in joining a junior club. They have a fine program outlined, which not only teaches how to grow and care for trees, flowers, shrubs, lawns, etc., but there is also an education program which teaches appreciation of things that grow. In other words, one of the aims of hte club will be to teach a person how to respect another person's lawn as well as how to get your own lawn to do well.

Anyone interested in joining may get in touch with Mrs. Schuster or Mrs. LaMaster by Saturday of this week. Boys and girls are both invited. There are no specific age limits.

A man's wife may not be the only woman he ever loved—but she's the only one who ever made him prove it.

School enrollment will take another boost next fall, and if this continues for about one more year, people of the Perryton district are going to have to do somethinking about building more space. Present indications are that more classrooms will be needed next fall to take care of the increase. By shifting around, the problem can be solved this year, but maybe not in the future.

One reason for the increase in enrollment is that every year the first grade entering school is a lot bigger than the senior class leaving school. About 120 entering and 50 leaving soon fills up the school without any sudden increase in the adult population of the town.

By strange coincidence, several of the churches are encountering the same problem. The Sunday School classes are becoming crowded for the younger children and this causes quite a space problem, too.

EXCLUSIVE CLUB?

These catalogs selling merchandise of any description continue to flood the mails, offering stuff for sale cheaper because "we cut out the middle man." We wonder if eventually the retailer will become extinct? More and more the idea is to get merchandise "wholesale" and a retailer's profit is looked upon as somewhat of a gyp. But there is another side to this question—the service side. When you buy from a catalog, you take the merchandise as is, also pay the freight in most instances. If something goes wrong with it, you can either pay to have it fixed yourself, or pay the freight back and forth to the place where you bought it.

And this freight charge is probably the biggest joker of all. Most retailers could put a substantially lower charge on their merchandise if they priced it at the point of shipment. In fact, some lines of retail business figure that freight costs amounts to around 20 per cent of the cost of any given item.

Catalog competition and "wholesale" prices are hitting hardest in the appliance and hard goods lines. But this sort of thing is being practiced in other lines. Hardly a day goes by but what some bird operating out of a truck, minus the privilege of paying local taxes, parks in town and sells groceries, insurance, auto accessories, and even office supplies.

If you're poor at spelling, it helps a lot if your handwriting is terrible, too.

Notice in the newspapers where scholars checking up on the University of Maryland said they found a football player there in 1953 who still was a junior in his fifth year at school. Others were found who had failed to pass such courses as "tennis" and "golf" in summer sessions. How surprising. But the committee wound up by giving Maryland a clean bill of health.

He who laughs last probably had intended telling the story himself.

Deep Chiseling Is Approved In Beaver County

A deep-chiseling practice to aid in the control of wind erosion has been approved for Beaver County, according to Paul Arnett, Chairman of the Beaver County ASC Committee.

This practice will be approved only on soil of a type where a coarse, cloddy surface will result which will protect the entire surface from wind erosion. If the land has more than a 3% slope, tillage should be carried out on the general contour.

Cost-sharing will not be approved for this practice on cropland which has been approved for Practice 19, Stubble Mulching Practice 20, Wind Erosion Control, or if the practice is part of normal farming operations.

A determination of need and practicability will be made by the County Committee and the Soil Conservation Service technician before approvals will be issued.

Implements used must be of a chisel-type with a width of shank and chisel of not less than 2 inches, and a width between chisels of not more than 42 inches. Tillage must be not less than 10 inches deep.

This practice will not be approved on more than 25% of the cropland on a farm. Payment for this practice is $1.50 per acre.

Application for deep chiseling are being taken now at your County A. S. C. Office, and will be taken until February 16, 1955.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Wants Block Plan Here

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has a hair brained idea this week, which he won't get anywhere with.)

Dear editar:

A lot of people have been complaining about the block sales of land under the veterans program in Texas.

As I understand it, a man goes out and contracts to buy up a lot of land at as low a price as he can get, divides it up into blocks, and sells it to veterans at as high a price he can get, with the state of course furnishing the money.

Naturally some men have gone at this program too hurriedly, and in their desire to help the state spend its money have sold land faster than some veterans could buy it or even have a chance to look at it, but as any salesman knows, when the fellow putting up the money is ready to close the deal, then's the time to stop talking and start signing, and if there wasn't any veteran handy to do the signing, they didn't see any sense in lettin a technicality stand in the way of a good profit.

Now I don't know anything about the veterans land program, but I have been thinking, and I'm wondering why the state don't extend this program to farmers.

Under the present system of crop controls and price guarantees, the farmer and the government both know at the start of a crop year what the government will pay for the crop when it's harvested, but under this newer system, why couldn't I, instead of the government, contract to buy all the crops in Ochiltree county this year? I wouldn't want em for the whole state, just this county, no use being greedy. Then after I'd contracted to buy the crops, without of course putting up any of my money, all I'd have to do is get an appraiser who had the proper training to come out here and appraise the stuff at 10 or 15 per cent more than it cost, after all, it ought to be worth something to the government to get to buy everything that's grown in this county with one big check instead of little ones, and complete the deal and deposit the difference. I have plenty of time for such activities, as my farmin operations don't take up my full time and if you think t tem will come into ge I would like to reserve th ty for my territory.

Yours faithfull

J.

HOW TO CURE
HOME-MADE BLACKOUTS

HOME-MADE BLACKOUTS occur when a short circuit or overload blows out a fuse.

Overloads are caused by too many lamps and appliances on a single circuit. Short circuits are usually caused by a defective appliance or cord.

To restore service quickly without waiting for a service man, keep spare fuses of the correct size on hand and follow the instructions below.

TO REPLACE A BLOWN FUSE

1. Locate the blown fuse. The metal link showing through the window will be broken or the window itself may be scorched.
2. Disconnect the appliance or lamp that caused the short circuit or overload.
3. Stand on a dry surface and pull the main switch to OFF.
4. Unscrew the burned-out fuse and replace it with a NEW fuse of the correct size (usually 15 amperes).
5. Throw the main switch back to ON position.

IF YOUR HOME HAS CIRCUIT BREAKERS INSTEAD OF FUSES

1. Locate the tripped breaker. It will be in the OFF or TRIPPED position.
2. Disconnect the appliance or lamp that caused the short or overload.
3. Reset the breaker to ON position, following manufacturer's instructions on breaker panel.

REMEMBER, a fuse or circuit breaker protects your wiring from short circuit or overload damage. Never use a penny or other object instead of a fuse. It's dangerous.

If your lights are off and you can't correct the trouble, call our office. We'll be glad to help.

Army Private Is Bullfighter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Pfc. Fulton J. Short is bullheaded and proud of it.

He's the United States Army's only professional bullfighter and a member of the Mexican Assn. of Matadors.

When he isn't soldiering he's fgihting bulls—or practicing to fight them.

What started him to be a matador?

"I saw a bullfight in the movies years ago," he said. "Then I went to Mexico and saw a real bullfight on a Sunday. I started training on Monday.

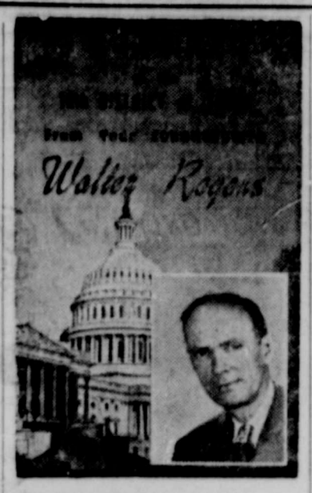

"To me, the struggle between the man and the bull—well, it's just a beautiful art, and every movement has its place."

Last July, Short fought and killed his first bull since entering the army. It was then, at the ring at Matamoros. Short was gored for the first time. The bull's horn slashed his thigh.

At the present, Short's manager is Juan Bilboa, empresario of the ring (Juarez), who helped introduce Matadora Patricia McCormick of Big Spring.—The soldier has one big ambition; to fight in the Mexico City bull ring and then, perhaps, fight in Madrid, Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hoghland Jr. and daughters, Jennifer, Cynthia and Michelle of Denver, Colorado, returned to their home Friday after a two weeks visit in the Roy Hoghland home.

The U. S. electric power plants count 1954 as their 75th anniversary.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT:

The Formosan Resolution

The resolution passed by the House by a vote of 409 to 3 was nothing less than a request by the President for a vote of confidence—a request that the Congress would support the President in such action as he might take to preserve this union and protect our sovereignty should it be challenged or attacked in the Far Eastern theater. In other words, the administration actually said to Congress, "Anything might happen in the Far East. In the event United States forces have to use force and arms to preserve our sovereignty, and this action later turns sour or becomes unpopular, will you Members of Congress take part of the responsibility?" The President of these United States has always had the power and the right to act forthwith in the preservation of this country. Therefore, I did not hesitate to vote for the resolution and, in effect, say to the President: "We will certainly accept responsibility as public officials for honest action taken in defense of this country and what it stands for." Had the President acted without sending this resolution to Congress, I would have given him the same support.

During the debate on this resolution, I conceived the idea that it might be very interesting to watch the antics of the newspaper people covering communist publications. I spotted two of them in the Press Gallery—one woman and one man. I watched them at every opportunity as the debate progressed, and can assure you that they were very, very attentive. In fact, neither of them left the press gallery during the proceedings except for a momentary departure into the press room. Whether or not this trip was made for conveying information to their papers or for some other purpose, I do not know. All the time they were in the press gallery they were feverishly writing and appeared to be taking down every word that was said. As I watched them, I marveled at what a wonderfully strange place America is. Where, behind the Iron Curtain, could an American correspondent even be present at a government proceeding, much less be allowed to take notes? Even at a small government proceeding, to say nothing of a meeting of high government officials. Should such a correspondent take notes on such a proceeding, his chances of getting them out of the Iron Curtain Country would be about one out of ten million. Frankly, I feel that reciprocity would be most appropriate in this sort of situation and that Russia or any other Iron Curtain country should be given only the same rights of news coverage in this country that we are allowed in those countries and no more.

Sugar Seeks Markets

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's sugar industry has a new word—surochemistry—and the industry is hopeful it spells out new markets. Surochemistry was coined by Dr. Henry B. Hass, president of the Sugar Research Foundation Inc., to describe industrial organic chemistry in which the starting material is sugar and its by products.

Experiments are going on for the production of such things as detergents, plastics, fibers, rubbers, solvents, insecticides and adhesives.

By VERN SANFORD

Four witnesses refused to testify.

The senate investigating committee took other testimony behind closed doors, silent so far as the public was concerned. And, the House veterans' affairs committee stymied its own public investigation in a tangle of technicalities.

A House committee member, Rep. Bill Elliott of Pasadena, charged "organized pressure" to block further investigation of the issue.

Speaker Jim Lindsey had sent a separate House investigation resolution to a different committee, state affairs.

Ex-Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, head of the Veterans' Land Board until Jan. 1, invoked the Constitution and refused to testify as to his business dealings with several persons named in testimony about block deals.

C. O. Hagan and C. P. Ernsters, principals in much of the land-sale testimony, followed L. V. Ruffin in refusing to testify.

Insurance Hearings

HEARINGS STARTED in both houses of the Legislature on a long list of bills to "clean up the insurance mess."

Sen. Searcy Bracewell told a Senate committee his bill to firm up capital requirements was "tough." The committee put it in a tenderizing sub-committee for three weeks.

It would raise minimum requirements for future legal reserve life companies to $25,000 capital and $125,000 surplus, all in cash or bonds. Smaller existing companies would continue, but would be limited in size of policies and re-insurance, until they reached the minimum. Those with investments of minimum capital and surplus in office buildings or real estate mortgages would have three years to convert to cash.

The House Insurance committee heard the three state insurance commissioners and others propose corrective measures, including state regulation of the sale of insurance securities.

Shepperd Wants 13 Laws

Attorney General John Ben Sheppard asked for legislation "to prevent another Duval County."

Speaking to 200 publishers at a Texas Press Association convention in Austin, Shepperd revealed that his legal skirmishes with Boss George Parr disclosed many shortcomings in Texas laws.

He recommended 13 bills, and asked the editors to help effect passage.

Most of the bills would tighten control over county funds and call for annual published reports of expenditures.

Suggested Taxes

TAX PROPOSALS continue on the penny basis set by Gov. Allan Shivers' program. His two-penny gasoline tax hike, good for $60 million a year, was introduced earlier by Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston.

Rep. W. G. "Cotton" Kirklin of Odessa introduced the other Shivers' bill, the one-cent cigarette levy, good for $15 million a year.

Rep. Curtis Ford of Corpus Christi offered the familiar penny-a-thousand-feet natural gas dedication tax ball. He figured it would bring in $33 million a year.

And, Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla dropped in a penny-a-glass $3.30 per barrel, beer tax, estimated to produce $16 million a year.

All faced an ultra-conservative revenue and taxation committee.

From Rep. Jack Bryan of Buffalo came a proposal to place a three cent gross receipts tax on establishments engaged in storing or parking motor vehicles.

Bills in the Hopper

APPROVED by the House of Representatives, was a bill to increase the pay of state officials. If acceptable to the senate, the pay scale will go to $25,000 for the governor; $20,000 for the attorney general; secretary of state, $15,000; and the land commissioner, treasurer and comptroller $17,500.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris and Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas are sponsoring a plan to provide $45 million for new school building construction. It would let school districts vote higher bond issues, up to 10 per cent of the assessed property values.

Two representatives, John T. Cox of Temple and Jack Welch of Marlin, have submitted a bill seeking the death penalty for second conviction under the Narcotics Code, and permitting conviction on uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice.

Sen. Doyle Willis of Ft. Worth has a bill to close beer taverns on Sunday.

A bill to limit the building of lodges in state parks was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas.

Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock wants to make Democrats out of Democrats. His bill is to prevent Texans from voting in the Democratic primaries and then voting Republican in the general election.

Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano tossed into the hopper a joint resolution that would permit Texas to go after the tourist trade by advertising. An amendment to the state constitution would be necessary to remove the old, old, ban designed to keep the carpetbaggers out of Texas.

New Officials

WHILE the veterans' land probe rolled on, newly appointed State Land Commissioner and Veterans Land Board Chairman J. Earl Rudder borrowed Ray Clark Diebel from the State Auditor's Department and named him executive secretary of the board.

Lawrence Jackson quit this post soon after Rudder replaced Bascom Giles.

Gov. Shivers will have a new Secretary of State early in February. He appointed Al Muldrow, Brownfield farmer-rancher-businessman to succeed C. E. Fulgam, who resigned to return to Lubbock. Like Rudder, Muldrow is a World War II veteran.

Farmers Benefit From Changes in Income Tax Law

The new internal revenue code provides several income tax breaks for farmers ranging from filing dates later than those allowed other persons to extra deductions.

As mentioned in a previous column, persons other than farmers, required by law to file declarations of estimated tax, have only until January 15 to file their tax return and pay their taxes in full to avoid penalties for failure to file quarterly estimates.

The new code has not changed the January 15 due date for declaration of estimated tax by farmers. However, a farmer may file his income tax return and pay the full tax required by it on or before January 31 and thus eliminate the need for a declaration of estimated tax. This provision gives the farmer fifteen days more than other persons in which to assemble his records, compute his income, and file his return. Beginning in 1956, he will be allowed an additional fifteen days, until February 15.

The biggest break for farmers under the new act is the right to deduct as an expense at least a portion of soil and water conservation expenses. The costs which may be deducted include earthen dams, leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, diversion channels, drainage ditches, watercourses, outlet, ponds, removing brush, and planting windbreaks. Assessments paid to a soil or water conservation district are also deductible if the district performed work of the nature just listed.

The deduction is limited to 25% of the farmer's gross income from farming in any particular year. If the entire deduction is not entirely allowable in one year, the excess may be carried over to the following year, and so on indefinitely until the farmer has been able to deduct the entire amount.

The deduction is allowable only for expenditures in 1954 or later years, and the farmer must elect in the first year in which he has such expenditures whether he will capitalize them as in the past or deduct them under the provisions of the new law. Once this election has been made, it cannot be changed without permission from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Under the former law, if payments were made to a farmer because of the destruction or sale of livestock due to disease, such payment was taxable income to the extent it exceeded the cost of the livestock. Under the 1954 act, this is called an involuntary conversion. The proceeds will be taxable income only to the extent that it exceeds the cost of the replacements.

Another change which may be of considerable advantage to the farmer is the one setting up two new methods by which depreciation may be computed. It is now possible to deduct greater amounts for depreciation in the first years.

In Price, too, it is one of the "Big Three"

THE 1955 BUICK SPECIAL delivers locally for less than some models of the so-called "low-price three." COME IN AND CHECK!
2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated),

MOST PEOPLE still don't believe it. But it is true.

And when you look into the facts, you'll find these two solid truths:

Buick is one of the "Big Three" in sales volume—and hotter this year than ever before. And Buick is one of the "Big Three" when it comes to prices which make such popularity possible. The price tag we'll show you proves it.

So why not get what a Buick has to offer, if you are in the market for a new car?

You find that the dollars you pay for Buick buy you a lot more automobile—and the sheer satisfaction that comes with bossing a brawny traveler of this caliber.

You find it in the record-high V8 power that gives life to this spirited performer. You find it in the soft and level and cruiser-steady ride that comes of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability. You find it in the extra roominess, the extra frame strength, the extra tread width, the extra silencing—all part and parcel of every Buick.

We could tell you about the little things, too. Things usually charged for as "extras" in other cars, but yours as standard equipment at no extra cost in every Buick. Things like direction signals, oil-bath air cleaner, full-flow oil filter, automatic lighting in glove and trunk compartments—and so on.

But—you get the idea. This is a buy, this '55 Buick—a great buy—and a thriller from the instant you press its gas pedal. Come in this week and check things for yourself, won't you?

Neglected Symetry

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Those statesmen planning to admit West Germany as the 15th member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization overlooked one problem.

At NATO headquarters here the flags of the 14 nations fly from 14 poles, imbedded in concrete and arranged seven on each side of the headquarters.

"How will we add the West German flag and keep things symmetrical?" mused a public information officer.

Adm. Jerauld Wright didn't bother with details: "As soon as West Germany becomes a member of NATO we will fly the German flag outside our headquarters," he said.

Production Tied Up

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Southern Michigan Prison, which has been stringing along in the twine business for years, is going to cut off twine production.

Prison authorities blame sharp competition from Mexican twine-makers. The prison sold $400,000 worth of the string two years ago, but only $104,000 last year. As soon as loose ends are wrapped up, the twine-making facilities will be converted to turning out metal stampings.
