Candidate for alderman from Ward 2 is Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Harden, unopposed incumbent who is associated with the Laguna Construction Co. and Sandollar Motel.

The city election will be held Saturday, Apr. 6 at the City Hall with voting from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mrs. Elbert Mundine will be the presiding judge, and Mrs. J. W. Ingersoll will be the alternate judge.

This will be the first time a city election here will be held on a Saturday. In past years it always was held on the first Tuesday in April.

In the race for mayor the winner will be the man who receives more votes than either of his opponents. The winner does not have to receive a majority of the votes cast, so there will be no runoff.

Emergency Corps Needs Blood Donors

The Aransas County Emergency Corps desperately needs blood donors to be prepared for any kind of emergency.

This was evidenced this week when a critically ill patient needed transfusions with a certain type of blood and it was almost impossible to find a donor with that type of blood.

What the Emergency Corps needs is a long list of blood donors who are willing to give blood when the need arises. Such persons are urged to call Raymond Wolf at SO4-6779 or Bill Matcheski SO4-6337.

The blood type of these persons will be determined, and their names, phone numbers and addresses will be placed on file so that any emergency can be met. Service clubs can help by calling this to the attention of their members.

Be willing to give blood to save a life!

Ruford Huff finished fourth in the long jump, and Eddie Pena came in sixth in the mile run.

Certain Gas Heaters Sought As Dangerous

Fire Marshal Elva Mullinax has been asked by the State Board of Insurance to assist in locating and identifying any of 8,000 gas-fired baseboard through-the-wall heaters that may leak carbon monoxide.

Sears Roebuck and Co. has announced a recall and replacement program for approximately 6,000 heaters sold by them. Most of the Sears heaters were sold between September 1962 and December 1966. They were last offered for regular sale in a catalog circular in August and September, 1966. A few remaining units were sold in retail stores during 1967.

Sears identified four models of its "Gas Fired Baseboard Thru-Wall Heater" in their recall program. They are Homart Model numbers, 133-72561 or 133.724611; 133-72562 or 133.725621; 133-72565 or 133.725651; and 133.72566 or 133.725661. The plate showing these model numbers is located on top of the burner box.

Monies received from the sales tax would be budgeted and used by the city to help finance the cost of operating and improving city facilities and services, such as police department, fire department, streets, drainage, parks and lights.

Passage of the sales tax, in the opinion of the City Council, would delay for years any increase in the city property tax.

Junior High Science Fair

The Rockport-Fulton Junior High School Science Fair was held last week in the Junior High School. A total of 181 members of the 7th and 8th grade classes entered projects. The projects were divided into three categories: biological, chemistry-physics, and earth science.

The first six places in each division were awarded ribbons. The winner's names follow:

Biological division: First, Sharon Wood; second, Pam Ross; third, Julie Bright; fourth, Richard Little; fifth, Lisa Dick; and sixth, Alfred Heinsohn.

Chemistry-Physics division: First, David Lang; second, Travis Bailey; third, Mark Wright; fourth, Robert Schendel; fifth Ernest Freeze and sixth, Mark Ross.

Earth Science division: First, Brad Porter; second, Lisa McDavid; third, Bill Mills; fourth, George Lawton; fifth, Lucy Griffith and sixth, Debra Mitchell.

The grand award winner was Brad Porter.

The judging was based on the following standards: Scientific thought, creative ability, thoroughness, technical skill, clarity, and dramatic value.

The judges were three men who have had scientific training and are locally employed by the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife. They are Tom Heffernan, Joe Novosad, and B. D. King.

All identification as to participate had been removed from each project and each project had received a number prior to the judging. Mrs. Lois Atwood is the eighth grade science teacher. Vernon Townsend is the seventh grade science teacher.

The City reported one sewer connection and four water connections were made in February.

At a special meeting Wednesday morning the City Council set Apr. 6 for the referendum election on a proposal to adopt a one per cent municipal sales tax.

The Council selected Apr. 6 since a city election already has been called for this date to elect a mayor and two aldermen. The Council had thoroughly considered the advisability of a city sales tax during the past several months and had discussed it at several workshop sessions.

The new tax will be applicable only to those sales now taxed under the state sales and use tax act, and applies only to retail sales but does not apply to goods sold for resale.

It is estimated that revenue for the one per cent sales tax would produce approximately $22,000 during the first year. If passed Apr. 6, the measure would not become effective until Oct. 1, 1968.

Nearly cities which now have the tax are Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi, Ingleside, Port Aransas, Sinton and Taft. As of Jan. 1, a total of 160 cities representing 75 per cent of the population of Texas had adopted the 1 per cent sales tax measure.

Items exempt from the city sales tax include cigarettes, cigars, automobiles, telephone and telegraph, prescription medicines, alcoholic beverages (unless included on meals), gasoline and groceries.

Monies received from the sales tax would be budgeted and used by the city to help finance the cost of operating and improving city facilities and services, such as police department, fire department, streets, drainage, parks and lights.

Passage of the sales tax, in the opinion of the City Council, would delay for years any increase in the city property tax.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

THE PRIMITIVE DAYS

A letter to a Chicago newspaper recalls winter days of long ago—when a flatiron was heated in the coal stove oven, wrapped in flannel to be placed in a bed to warm cold mattress and coverlets, the pots of water that sat through the winter months on the stove top for humidification and the Saturday night bath in a tin tub on the kitchen floor.

The letter writer also made mention of washdays, usually on Monday, the rubbing of clothes on a corrugated washboard and hanging them in the attic or the backyard if weather permitted.

In our memory, a heated brick was more efficient than ither today. Putting cold feet on an oven door than either today. Putting cold feet on an oven door was not recommended; it brought on pesky, itchy chilblains. There were compensations, too, for the primitive life—the smell of home-baked bread, pies and cookies; hitching a ride to school on the back of a farmer's wagon; the glowing potbellied stove in the school room; a ride in Uncle Joe's cutter drawn by an elderly mare named Edith.

Sheer nostalgia? Certainly. But what harm in looking back once in a while from the comforts of the electric kitchen range, the bathtub with unlimited hot water, the electricity and the plush automobile? Are we so sure these comforts yield more not happiness than their absence did when today's oldsters were young?—Buffalo Evening News.

DOPE ON THE CAMPUS

Parents of youngsters approaching college age will be as horrified, we hope, as we are by an official report that some university executives refuse to take a firm hand against the use of dope on the campus. The report from Henry L. Giordano, federal narcotics commissioner, is summarized thus:

"We have had a problem in just about every one on the major universities in the country in marijuana." He also mentioned pep pills, tranquilizers and the like as being used for kicks. Some college officials, the chief of the narcotics bureau said, contend that students should have "the privilege of self-expression and should be able to experiment."

Much the same argument has been used in the word "permissive," which has pervaded educational circles now for half a century. — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier.

PEACE CORPS WORKS

Reports from Africa reveal that in many areas where early Peace Corps volunteers were received with hostility or doubt, there has come about a spirit of grateful appreciation and cooperation. As an instance, villages that once relied on dubious sources of drinking water now, by grace of Corps workers, have safe wells.

The young Peace Corps men and women work quietly posed seemingly insurmountable challenges. But the difficulties have been met for challenges. But the difficulties have been met for the great benefit of the aided communities and to the enhancement of their good will toward a far away place called America.

Our Peace Corps members are not listed as ambassadors. But that is what they are. And very good ones.—New York Journal American.

Army ROTC Is Available to College Juniors, Seniors

College students in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico with two years' study remaining can still receive commissions as second lieutenants through the college ROTC program, according to Maj. Gen. Francis J. Murdock, deputy commanding general for reserve forces at Fourth U. S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

The traditional Reserve Officers' Training Corps program requires four years of on-campus training. The two-year program enables students who have not taken ROTC during their first two years in college to qualify for a commission. Although designed specifically for junior college graduates, many students beyond their sophomore year have qualified for the program.

To qualify for the program applicants must complete six weeks of summer training at Fort Benning, Ga., during June and July. This training substitutes for the on-campus training given to four-year ROTC students during their first two years of college. In addition to meeting physical, moral and mental standards, candidates must be at least 17 years of age and cannot be older than 28 years when commissioned as second lieutenants.

Students are paid at the rate of $95.70 a month during the summer training period plus travel pay to and from Fort Benning. Those who qualify for the program enter ROTC advanced course and receive $50 a month during their last two years of college. An additional six-week period of summer training is mandatory for all ROTC students, (at Fort Sill, Okla., for those in the Fourth Army area) usually between the junior and senior years; the pay for this season is $160.46 a month.

ROTC cadets study for degrees in the fields of their choice. The military portion of the college training provides instruction and experience in organizing, motivating and leading others. It helps to develop qualities of self-discipline, physical stamina and bearing.

Students interested in the program may obtain an application questionnaire from the professors of military science at any of the 259 colleges and universities throughout the nation offering Army ROTC training, or any of the 38 within the five-state Fourth Army area. Applications must be submitted before March 31. They will be reviewed during April and the names of students selected for summer training will be announced in May.

In Texas, Army ROTC is offered at:

Hardin-Simmons University, Midwestern University, Prairie View A&M College, Rice University, Sam Houston State College, Stephen F. Austin State College, St. Mary's University of San Antonio, Tarleton State College, Texas A&I University;

Texas A&M University, Texas Christian University, Texas Technological College, Trinity University, University of Houston, University of Texas at Arlington, University of Texas at Austin, University of Texas at El Paso and West Texas State University.

A total of 579 tornadoes were reported last year. More than 100 persons were killed and damage was estimated at more than $225 million.

NOTICE

This will serve as an application to the Texas Liquor Control Board for a permit to operate a retail package store at 103 So. Austin Street, Rockport, Aransas County, to be known as Lettie's Package Store and to be owned and operated by Mrs. Lettie Brown, 715 King Street, Rockport, Aransas County, Texas.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Taxpayer may use the Texas state sales tax and gasoline tax tables when preparing their 1967 Federal income tax returns. These tables are printed in the tax instruction pamphlets which are mailed to taxpayers.

According to Asa L. Crow, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service in Corpus Christi, taxpayers are not required to use the table. The table is furnished as a guide for the convenience of those taxpayers who itemize deductions on their Federal income tax returns, but who wish to use an "average" amount for state sales tax and therefore avoid detailed substantiation. Of course, taxpayers have the choice of itemizing the actual amount of state sales taxes paid.

Taxpayers who itemize their deductions can also deduct personal property taxes and real estate taxes. Also deductible, at the rate of two per cent, is the special State tax on motor vehicle retail sales. State taxes which are "Not" deductible are: Cigarette, tobacco and liquor taxes; license plates; and driver's licenses.

The Pawnee Indians, while a warlike tribe, never fought as a tribe against the French or English in America's early days. Pawnee scouts were invaluable to the U. S. in subduing the northern plains tribes.

Myra Ingersoll Is Airline Stewardess

Miss Myra Ingersoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ingersoll, has been a stewardess for American Airlines for over seven years and for the past five has been flying out of Dallas.

She was stationed in Boston for two years, following graduation from the airline's stewardess college. Previously, she was a dental assistant after graduating from Aransas County High School in 1957.

Her reason for becoming a stewardess started with interest resulting from two older sisters wanting to fly. However, she explained, "one was short and the other too tall" to become stewardesses.

Myra is most impressed with the fact that by being a stewardess a girl has the chance to "go and see and is afforded unusual travel, like trips to Peru or other places off the beaten tourist path."

She has traveled extensively outside the United States, in addition to having visited most of the 50 states.

Business Is Good

I would like to take this opportunity to clarify some misconceptions that were created by two articles in recent issues in the Rockport Pilot.

Concerning the recent contract for supervision of the expansion of the Rockport City Hall:

1. I was asked, personally, by Mayor Hiller to present an offer to handle the supervision on this project.
2. Although over-loaded with work in my own construction and real estate businesses, I felt that it was my civic duty to offer help, and presented an offer. I was quite relieved that my offer was not accepted.
3. I know that Mr. Dick is well qualified in the construction business and I sincerely feel that he is to be congratulated for his civic spirit in agreeing to handle this project for such a small amount.

To return to my statement that business is good, our company has $105,850.00 in contracts now under construction, and we have sold $50,495.00 in lots and used homes in the first six weeks of 1968.

I think that this is starting off the New Year in pretty good fashion and I think that it will continue. If you want to sell, buy, or build, call or drop by.

GENE CLYNE

FOR

My Platform

Equality among all people, regardless if they are a bank president, a Lumber Co. president, or a street worker. Every man was created equal and should be treated as such! At the present time they are not treated equal.

Improve our streets and drainage system. Money is now being spent where it will certainly not help many people. So let's spend it where it belongs, to help all the people.

To try and be fair with people when they bid for a contract. All things being equal. The lowest bidder should definitely get the contract, regardless of what church he goes to. This has not been done lately.

To work with the Navigation Board, to help build a fishing pier in Rockport, also clean up the basin that is filthy. Let's help all the tourists and people here in Rockport that do not have boats to enjoy our inshore waters.

If elected as mayor of Rockport. I will donate the salary into scholarships of $500.00 each to the outstanding student scholastically, and the outstanding athlete voted on by the student body. This is to help them get started in the college of their choice.

Sincerely,

GENE CLYNE

How the Amendments Affect Women and the Dependents of Women Workers

By H. M. CLEVELAND
District Manager

Among the changes in the social security program recently signed into law by President Johnson are a number of special significance to women.

Chief among them is a change that will make about 175,000 children eligible for monthly payments. It changes the conditions for determining dependency upon a working mother.

Until now, benefits to a child of a retired, disabled or deceased woman worker were payable only if she had worked under social security for at least 1½ years out of the last three years, unless she was actually supporting the child.

The amendments eliminate this recent-work requirement. Beginning with February, 1968, benefits are payable to the child of a woman worker who has died, retired, or become entitled to social security disability benefits if she is "fully insured," whether or not she had recent work under social security.

Another very important change in the law makes it possible for the disabled widow of a worker to receive disability benefits beginning at age 50. This provision also applies to the disabled widower who has dependent-upon his wife at the time of her death.

Under the old law a widow could not get social security benefits until she reached 60, unless she had in her care a child who was entitled to payments based on her husband's earnings.

Now a widow whose husband has worked long enough under social security can be eligible for monthly benefits as early as age 50 if she is severely "disabled." The disability must have started before or within seven years af-

IRS NEWS

Working students got word today on how to fulfill their tax obligations to Uncle Sam from Asa L. Crow, administrative officer, Internal Revenue Service, Corpus Christi.

1. A student earning $600 or more during 1967 must file an income tax return, even if he is claimed as a dependent by his parents.

2. Students with incomes of less than $600 during '67 and who have had income tax withheld, should file a return to get these taxes refunded. Usually, a Form 1040A will do the job.

3. A single student filing a return should claim one exemption for himself, even if he is also claimed as a dependent by his parents.

4. In a community property state, such as Texas, the total combined income of husband and wife ordinarily is considered one-half attributable to each other, and the combined tax is usually the same whether a joint return or separate return is filed. However, in order for parents to claim them as dependents, married students must file separate returns.

REFUGIO COUPLE WILL RECEIVE WILDLIFE CONSERVATION AWARD

Mr. and Mrs. J. Meredith Tatton of Salt Creek Ranch, Refugio have been named to receive a distinguished service to conservation award from the National Wildlife Federation, world's largest private conservation organization.

The award, in the form of a whooping crane statuette, will be presented to the Texas couple Saturday night during the federation's third annual President's Conservation Achievement Banquet at the Continental Houston Hotel. The banquet is a highlight of the program for the federation's 32nd annual meeting being held in Houston March 8-10. More than 500 persons will attend including members of Congress, federal and state officials, leaders of other conservation organizations, and federation members, Gov. John B. Connally will be principal speaker. The banquet is open to the public.

In naming the Tattons for special recognition the federation cited their outstanding service to conservation in donating a 7,162-acre tract of land to the U. S. Department of the Interior last year. The property, adjacent to the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, will be administered by the department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife as part of the winter home of the world's flock of whooping cranes. The area also contains extensive grasslands that are excellent habitats for the water's prairie chicken, and other endangered species.

The Tattons also maintain an apartment in Corpus Christi.

Besides ranching and raising of horses, he is an author, poet, and song writer. He has been active in various professional organizations.

CP&L Wins Safety Award

Central Power and Light Co. has been awarded the Bureau of Safety's Driver Safety Award for safe operation of company vehicles in 1967. Tom Gunter, CPL safety and training director, announced today.

The award is for first place in the bureau's annual motor vehicle accident prevention contest, in which eight other utility companies also compete. CPL President E. S. Joslin presented the safe-driving award yesterday to W. D. Campbell, 1967 chairman of the company's committee, who accepted it on behalf of all employees.

In announcing the award, Gunter said that CPL drivers last year compiled the safest driving record in company history, with 40 per cent fewer accidents than in 1966.

He noted that CPL vehicles were driven more than 12 million miles in 1967 with only 46 accidents. That was at the rate of one accident for every 274,000 miles driven, or about one-third the national average for electric utility companies. No disabling injuries were reported as a result of traffic mishaps.

The CPL safety director pointed out that the safe driving record was recorded in 1967 despite many thousands of miles driven "under the worst possible conditions" following Hurricane Beulah last September.

It was the first time that CPL has won the Bureau of Safety award since 1957.

Library Adds 125 Juvenile Books

There have been approximately 125 juvenile books added to the Aransas County Public Library shelves, some of them are classed "easy" or for the very young readers.

In this group are the Mrs. Moon's series; all the first books on China clippers, Congress, Vice Presidents of the United States, Glass Makers, Hatters, Paper Makers, Silver Smiths, etc.

Also in the group are some religious texts slanted for young children. One such book is "God Help Me Understand" by Dorothy LaCroix Hill. Dorothy LaCroix Hill, a long time friend of young people, shows through the stories in this book ways of thinking about problems that help boys and girls understand a little better about God and the world, and examine more thoughtfully their Christian faith.

In each story, real people face real situations, and in so doing learn something important for them and for the reader.

For the young adult, "The Seventeen Cookbook" has been added, and some books on stock cars for the drags, and "How to Build a Hot Rod."

This and That

If Mrs. Lois Mosier, wife of County Auditor Bob Mosier, had any idea of not admitting she had reached her 30th birthday, some "friends" changed her mind.

While she was away from her home, these "pals" put up a huge sign on the roof stating:

"The woman who lives here is 30 years old today."

The advertising-minded guys who defied tradition and told a woman's age in huge letters were Kenneth Duke and Bill Rosson, of Sinton.

They and Mr. and Mrs. Mosier were invited to a birthday party in Sinton in honor of Mrs. Mosier. Duke and Rosson were late arriving at the party, and when Mrs. Mosier returned home she learned why they were late.

A lady who lives in Little Bay Shores and who wishes to remain anonymous called the Pilot and said, "I wish you would put a piece in the paper calling attention to the fact that number of boys have been using B.B. guns to kill beautiful birds in our area, and I think something should be done about it." We notified the police.

As most TV viewers know, Jonathan Winters is a very funny man and one of his best characterizations is of "Granny," a gray haired, plump grandmother.

The Rockport Lions Club, for their Ladies Night dinner party at Key Allegro Islander Club Monday night, found a man who does an excellent takeoff of Winters' "Granny" act.

Paul McRae, of Corpus Christi, who is with U. S. Steel Co., is an amateur comedian who dresses up like "Granny" and sounds exactly like Winters. He had the Lions Club members, their wives and guests in stitches with his humorous monologue.

The program also included the showing of outstanding color slides of South Texas state parks by W. D. Nuckles of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The Red Cross was formed in 1881.

Friday Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. L. G. Wood entertained the Friday Bridge Club in her home last week with two tables of bridge.

The members attending were Mrs. George Dickey, Mrs. R. E. House, Mrs. Jimmy Hunt, Mrs. Frank Lenoir, Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. R. C. Naper, and one guest, Mrs. John Tennent.

Mrs. Wood won the high score, and Mrs. George Dickey second high.

The girls had lunch together with the meal consisting of hamburgers, potato chips, cookies and cold drinks.

After the book study, the girls went to Lawson's Skating Rink for an afternoon of skating.

Those attending were Alice Carter, Carey Dietrich, Vicki Arthur, Kathy Ivey, Linda Kelly, Beverly Kelly, Katherine Theodore, Beverly Rhoden, Terry Rhoden, Kim Harper, Polly Brock, Sherry Reid, Sandra Boone, Susan Smith and sponsors Mrs. Jerry Harper and Sherry Ivey.

Thursday Bridge Club Meeting

Mrs. Harold Picton entertained the Thursday Bridge Club at her home on Feb. 22 with two tables of players.

Members attending were: Mrs. Benny Bloomer, Mrs. James Bracht, Mrs. T. J. Johnson, Mrs. Bob Mosier, Mrs. Tom Rogers, Mrs. Lynn Wendell and Mrs. Picton.

Mrs. T. J. Johnson won high score, Mrs. Tom Rogers second high, and Mrs. Harold Picton was low.

Brief Articles On the Draft Law And Regulations

(Editor's note: This is one of a series of 10 short articles on the draft law and its rules and regulations.)

If a young man is classified in Class I-A, how long will it be before he is drafted? He can be drafted as young as 18½ under the law, but currently men 19 through 25 are ordered. It is possible for the age to go above that.

When a board gets a quota, it fills it from its acceptable I-A men in the following order:

1st Liable Group: Draft delinquents who have reached 19, the oldest being selected first. 2nd Liable Group: Volunteers below the age of 26 in the order in which they have volunteered. 3rd Liable Group: Nonvolunteers, 19 through 25, who do not have a wife with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes, and nonvolunteers, 19 through 25, who married Aug. 27, 1965, and after, and who maintain with a wife a bona fide family relationship in their homes, the oldest being selected first. 5th Liable Group: Nonvolunteers, age 26 through 34, the youngest being selected first. 6th Liable Group: Nonvolunteers between 18½ and 19 the oldest being selected first.

A board will stop in the group in which it succeeds in filling its quota, which, under present demands, is normally the third liable group.

A man who has a child or children with whom he maintains a bona fide family relationship in their home, and who is not a physician, dentist, veterinarian, osteopath, optometrist, male nurse, or student in Class II-S upon request since June 30, 1967, is deferred in Class III-A. Any man whose induction would result in "extreme hardship" to certain dependents, is deferred in Class III-A.

The Secretary of Defense may call for any specific age group to be selected, but he has not used this authority up to now.

London's Strand Street runs parallel with the Thames River.

Ask this computer about electric heat. You can read the answers yourself.

This portable computer can tell you how much electricity it will take to heat your home, and how much it will cost. All you do is supply it with information such as the size of the house, the amount of insulation and other construction features.

If you're building a new home, here's an up-to-the-minute way to get quick, accurate answers about electric heat. And if you're wondering about electric heating costs for your existing home, call CPL for a computer analysis.

You probably already know that electric heat is clean, quiet, safe, evenly-distributed, space-saving and thoroughly comfortable. You don't need a computer for that.
