NEW SIGNS — There should not be any excuse for speeding in a school zone now that 20 new, larger signs have been placed to approaches to all of the schools, officials believe. Painted white lines in the roadway near the signs also warn motorists that they are approaching a school zone. Doug Fowler, city director of public works, said most of the new signs already have been erected. The 20 mile-per-hour speed limit will be strictly enforced, according to City Manager L. A. Patterson, Jr. The schools purchased the new signs, which are being installed by the city along with the white lines in the streets.

ANGRY EXCHANGE PROVOKED

Red Chinese Diplomats Battle London Police

Clashes Injure Several

LONDON (AP) — Members of Red China's diplomatic mission and police fought bloody battles today outside the legation in the heart of London, bringing an angry diplomatic exchange.

Several policemen and Chinese were injured in two clashes. The Chinese brandished sticks, axes and threw bottles. One flashed a revolver but it was not fired. The police fought back with night sticks.

The first clash came when police stepped in to stop about 10 Britons and 15 Chinese who were punching and kicking one another after an exchange of words. A crowd of about 150 watched.

After things quieted down another fight broke out when a black car carrying Chinese back from the Foreign Office drove in behind the legation. The Chinese waved bats and the police struck back with night sticks. One policeman had blood streaming from a head wound and a Chinese was bloodied in the face.

The Chinese charge d-affaires, Shen Ping, called at the Foreign Office and accused police of beating up members of his staff.

Arthur de la Mare, Foreign Office undersecretary, rejected the charge. He said Chinese diplomats in London have been provoking the public and police.

The undersecretary reminded Shen that the British diplomatic legation in Peking had been burned by mobs, the British charge d'affaires' house had been looted and British diplomts attacked.

"In these circumstances," De la Mare asked, "do you really expect your protest to be taken seriously?"

The attacks on the British in Peking a week ago came after expiration of a Red Chinese ultimatum to release Chinese Communist newsmen and editors held in British Hong Kong for sedition.

The British ignored the ultimatum and only today three executives of Communist papers in the colony were convicted and sentenced to three years in prison. Two other Communist executives are still on trial.

Highway Beauty Funds Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $85 million bill to continue the administration's drive to make the nation's highways more attractive won Senate approval Monday.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., said criticism about the program's operation, particularly on the section regulating billboards, was largely quieted after the administration diluted its original strict billboard rules.

The present measure authorizes these amounts for the current fiscal year: $5 million for billboard control, $10 million for controlling roadside junkyards and $70 million for beautifying open land along highways.

Randolph said government officials have compromised to allow the program to be guided by state practices on the size, spacing and lighting of signs in industrial and commercial areas in which billboards are permitted by the federal act.

An industrial or commercial zone can be set up for a single establishment, he said, and the spacing of signs will be determined by the needs of the area.

Sevral senators said they believed the bill's expenditures were very low in priority and should be postponed.

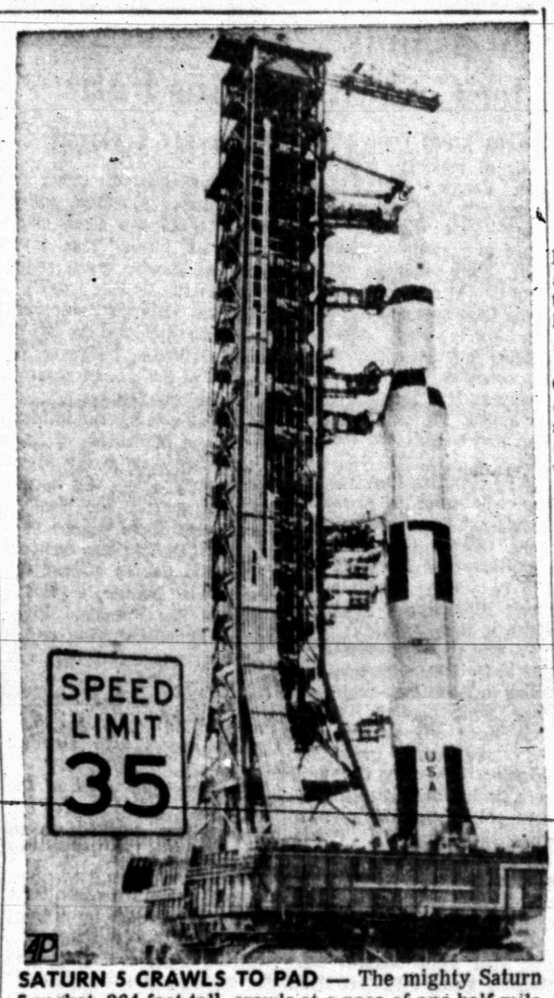

On another transit matter—traffic congestion at the nation's airports—Alan Boyd, secretary of transportation, told the Senate Commerce Committee airlines, passengers, freight shippers and others who use airports should pay more toward eliminating concentrated air traffic.

In other actions by Congress Monday:

—A bill to stop banks from issuing unsolicited "open end" credit cards was introduced by Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee. Banks would have to issue credit cards on request and with a specific credit limit.

—The House Post Office Committee restored rate increases which the administration has asked on books and educational materials. The postal rates subcommittee had slashed the increases by about $2.3 million.

—A Senate bill tripling authorized federal grants under the Consolidated Farmers Home Administration Act for rural water and sewer projects was passed and sent to the House. As passed the bill permits up to $150 million a year in grants and raises planning grants from $5 million to $25 million.

CALLED 'BEST EVER'

Car Industry Makes Offer

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry offered the United Auto Workers union what one company termed the best contract proposals ever today, but asked the union to cut back on some demands won in previous years.

The industry presented a solid and united front in answering for the first time demands the union itself has termed the most ambitious it has ever made.

Quick rejection of the industry proposals by the union was expected.

The industry economic offers, based on a proposed three-year contract, come after two months of bargaining and with only eight days remaining before a strike deadline.

Contracts covering 650,000 workers at the Big Three expire at midnight Sept. 6 although only the company selected by the union as a pattern setter would be struck.

The three companies estimated their package at 33 to 51 cents an hour over the next three years, including a flat 13-cent-an-hour hike now and 2.8 per cent a year in the following two years.

All three, however, asked the union to modify a cost-of-living escalator clause based on the government cost-of-living index which has brought union members increases of 18 cents an hour since 1964.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has said he would brook no tampering with the clause and that an attempt to change would be a strikeable issue.

The industry also offered the union an increase of from 62 per cent to 80 per cent in the supplemental unemployment benefits — the benefits that supplement a laid-off worker's state unemployment compensation.

This apparently was far short of the demand made by the union for a complete guaranteed annual income.

Louis G. Seaton of General Motors called his firm's offer the best it has ever made.

Malcolm Denise, chief bargainer at Ford, termed his company's package "responsive and responsible."

GM estimated its contract package at 36 to 44 cents an hour over the next three years. Ford pegged its at 34 cents. Chrysler figured 33 to 51 cents.

Seaton has estimated that union demands made at the start of bargaining in July would cost GM at least $4 an hour.

The industry also offered additional wage boosts for skilled workers, an issue that has caused some dissension in the union. Skilled workers have demanded increases of at least $1 an hour more than the rest of the workers get.

The three companies did not specify how much they would give the 200,000 industry skilled and said only that it was negotiable.

Ford and Chrysler took a different tack than GM on the escalator clause. Both asked ceilings be placed on the amount possible for a worker to get—Ford of 6 cents an hour, Chrysler of 7.

Nothing was said by any company about the union demand for parity for Canadian workers, which along with guaranteed annual income, a big wage boost and continuation of the escalator clause were the union's chief demands. The UAW placed no monetary value on its own package.

Pre-School Wednesday

Pre-school for first grade pupils in Snyder Public Schools will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The first day of formal classes will be Thursday throughout the school system. All students are to arrive at their school buildings between 8 a.m. and 8:30 a.m.. They will be tardy after 8:30 a.m.

First and second grade classes will be dismissed at 2:40 p.m. in all elementary schools except Central, where they will dismiss at 2:30 p.m.. Other elementary pupils will be dismissed at 3:40 p.m., except at Central, where they will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. along with junior and senior high schools.

Students are expected to leave the school premises as soon as they are dismissed for the day.

Franks Rites Wednesday

Funeral for C. D. Franks, who died here Monday morning, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ.

Mr. Franks, born Dec. 24, 1880 at Wills Point, was married to Nola Bratton on Feb. 8, 1908 at Shamrock. She survives.

They moved to Scurry County in 1925 from Pecan Gap, Delta County, and settled on a farm at Ira. They lived in the Ira community until they moved to Snyder in 1962.

Pat Abbananto, minister, will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Holiday Is Shaping Up

Indications were today that observance of the Labor Day holiday on Monday, Sept. 4, would be fairly general in Snyder.

Following a telephone poll of business firms this morning, the Snyder Chamber of Commerce reported that a majority of business firms had indicated they would be closed for the holiday. At the same time it was noted that all government offices, including federal, state, county and city will be closed. Also, local banks will be closed for the holiday, which is one of those approved for observance here.

Dying Of Cancer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack F. Smith, 44, Dallas man who police said recently threatened to blow up five strip motels unless he received $90,000, is dying of terminal cancer at Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital, his lawyer said Monday.

16 PLANES IN 7 DAYS

Air Losses At Peak

SAIGON (AP) — The United States suffered its heaviest losses for a seven-day period in the air war against North Vietnam—16 planes—between Aug. 21 and Aug. 27, the U.S. Command announced today.

The 16th plane—a Marine A6 Intruder—was lost on Sunday due to "unknown causes," the command said, but announcement of the loss was delayed for securiity reasons.

The two Marine fliers were listed as missing in action, bringing the total of missing fliers for the seven-day period to 24. Three were rescued. In South Vietnam, the stepped-up Communist campaign of shelling and bridge destruction in the northern war zone was met today by three heavy B52 raids on Red staging bases inside the demilitarized zone.

Military headquarters said Communists blew up nine bridges in the past 24 hours—eight of them in the northern area and one in the main Mekong delta city of Can Tho.

The heavy attacks by the B52s followed intensive tactical air strikes by Marine and Air Force pilots on the gun positions where the Reds have dug in their heaviest weapons—152mm guns with a range of almost 20 miles.

These big guns opened up with heavy barrages on Marine positions two days ago, and since then Marine fighter-bomber pilots claim to have destroyed 14 fortified pits housing the big truck-drawn field pieces.

The increase in Communist shelling, bridge-blowing and terrorism was evidently intended to demonstrate Red muscle during the South Vietnamese presidential election campaign which ends Sunday. The Communists appear to be concentrating on terrorism in Saigon and on disrupting traffic along coastal Highway 1 in the northern sector and the main paved road south from Saigon to the big cities of My Tho and Can Tho in the Mekong delta.

Just after midnight Monday Communist sappers used the same technique to blow important bridges in Can Tho, and just below Da Nang in the north.

Near Da Nang also, guerrillas attempted to overrun a South Vietnamese artillery post and left at least 15 dead in a pitched battle. The guerrillas got inside the perimeter of the post long enough to damage one big 155mm howitzer.

In terrorist attacks, a pair of Viet Cong agents on a motor scooter in Saigon's Chinese quarter shot down a South Vietnamese sailor distributing pamphlets urging people to vote, and a high school that was to be used as a polling place was blasted by an explosive, probably a grenade.

Viet Cong guerrillas shot and killed six civilians in an attack on a bus about 75 miles north of Saigon Monday.

U.S. headquarters reported that the number of air missions against North Vietnam climbed to 138 Monday because of clearing skies. The raiding jets struck targets all along the coast and returned again to the northeast rail line connecting Hanoi with Red China.

The Navy reported the destroyer Du Pont took a direct hit on her after deckhouse Monday while shelling the northern half of the demilitarized zone. The shell killed one sailor and wounded two, but the Navy said the Du Pont was back on station today.

Jordan Is Tense, But Looks Ahead

AMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan is in a state of suspense, as one official describes it, but it is in better condition than many foresaw two months ago after the Middle East war.

It faces crushing problems: It lost its richest land and its 28-plane air force. Its 56,000-man army was knocked out. It has 230,000 refugees to be fed and housed.

And if it becomes clear that Israel intends to keep all the Jordan-claimed territory west of the Jordan River, Arab political circles say, King Hussein's regime could face an upheaval.

There is evidence that Jordan is trying to prevent any efforts to explode armed resistance in the territory occupied by Israel despite Israeli contentions the government is inciting Arabs on the rich west bank to rebel.

Jordanian officials and Western diplomats here say there is no incitement and point out Not one Israeli has been reported killed on the west bank since the Middle East war and no riots have erupted.

The Israelis have made no claims of arms being smuggled across the river, where secret crossings are easy and frequent.

Security sources add that Jordan arrested eight Syrian infiltrators who tried to slip into the occupied zone this month on a guerrilla raid against the Israelis.

One European diplomat observed: "Jordan wants to keep the resistance passive."

It has reason for wanting quiet on the west bank. Chaos or terrorism, or Israeli reprisals that could follow an uprising, would send countless more refugees fleeing into eastern Jordan.

An Arab resistance campaign, the government calculates, would give Israel an excuse to refuse permission for the present refugees to return to their homes. Jordan hopes Israel can be persuaded to accept 150,000 or more.

Israel has balked at wholesale return of Arabs because of an exhortation by one government official for them to act as "a thorn in the side of Israel." Senior diplomats here note that this was an isolated statement, and they dismiss it as Arab rhetoric.

FARSIGHTED BENEFITS EXPECTED

New 'Eyes' To Aid Farmers

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Special new farsighted eyes give promise of telling a farmer

How productive certain crops are going to be.

Whether a disease is invading his crops, before he could diagnose the disease by personal inspection.

Whether plants are beginning to lose their vigor.

Or how much moisture or certain chemicals there are in the ground.

The eyes are special kinds of photography, radar and infrared or heat-measuring techniques, all carried out by airplanes or by base satellites.

Scientists described today the great potential benfits that may come from these remote sensing techniques, some or most of them initially developed secretly for military purposes.

These advanced techniques now are becoming available to learn what they can achieve for agriculture and in bilogical studiets, the scientists told the American Institute of Biological Sciences, which is meeting at Texas A&M University.

Remote sensing by special radar holds promise of helping to determine crop types within individual fields and total acreage of a given crop, the progress of field preparation and planting, and progress of harvesting, said Drs. Richard K. Moore and David S. Simonett of the University of Kansas.

They said agricultural surveys carried out now by county agents and the Soil Conservation Service might be combined "in a monthly radar sweep of U.S. agrciultural areas."

A radar system capable of obtaining a continous image with a swath of 20 miles wide at a speed of 400 miles per hour "could completely image the state of Kansas in 12 hours of flying time," they said.

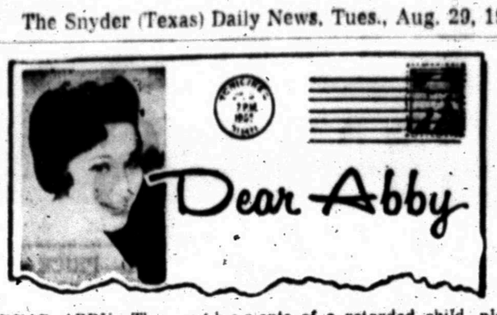

Leaves from a stand of infected orange trees reflect radiation differently than a healthy stand, said Dr. David M. Gates of the Missouri Botanical Garden.

"The potential benefit from remote sensing of agricultural areas is enormous. Productivity estimates are made, acreages planted are evaluated, and types of crops under cultivation are assessed.

"The outbreak of a disease within a crop is detected considerably earlier than it would be with ground observation," and the accumulations of phosphates and other fertilizer by-products could be detected, Gates said.

Photography using special film to yield valuable information, also, said Dr. Robert B. Colwell of the University of California at Berkeley.

As an example, he said that as most plants lose their vigor, they lose their infrared reflectance. This loss of vigor then is indicated by a loss of red coloration on the film.

DEAR ABBY: The other evening I was ready to go out with my fiance when he asked me to please change my dress. He said he didn't like me in "pants." Abby, I wasn't wearing pants. I was wearing a divided skirt, called "culottes."

My mother said I couldn't go out with him unless I wore the culottes, so there I was, torn between my fiance and my mother.

Then my mother told my fiance he should apologize to me, and he said he didn't have anything to apologize for, that he should have the say in what I wear when I go out with him. My mother said after we were married maybe, but not until.

Well, my fiance left, and I haven't heard from him since and it's been four days. Abby, I love him and I'm worried, but I don't think I should break down and call him, do you? We've been engaged six months.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Call HIM and apologize. You don't say how old you are, but a woman who's been engaged for six months should be able to run her own love life without coaching from her mother. If your fiance accepts your apology, marry him before he changes his mind. A man who insists on wearing the pants in his family can't be all bad.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 13 years old, I and another girl were caught taking a wallet from the dime store. The manager caught us, made us give him our names and addresses and said he was going to call our parents. He told us never to set foot in his store again. We didn't. Fortunately he never called our parents. We promised ourselves we would never steal another thing, and we have kept that promise.

Years have passed and now our problem is, in filling out job applications, where it asks, "Have you ever been arrested?" Should we say YES or NO?

Please answer in your column as we are too ashamed to sign our names. Thank you.

TWO 18-YEAR-OLDS

DEAR TWO: You were only caught and warned. This is not the same as being "arrested." That you would ask, however, is a good sign.

DEAR ABBY: The letter you published from the mother of a retarded child moved me to tears, for my husband I have also walked thru this valley.

Our second child was severly retarded, and we were also crucified by thoughtless people.

One woman (a total stranger) came up to my door and said, "I hear you have a baby that's an idiot. I've never seen an idiot and I came to see yours."

I told her that my son was not on display to anyone of her cruel curiosity.

Altho we were also blessed with two normal, brilliant children who have brought us much joy, our little retarded son has given us depth of love and understanding we never could have knows without him.

What we considered at first "a cross to bear" has become one of life's richest blessings. If you feel that this will bring a little bit of courage to new parents of a retarded child, please print it.

Chinese Say Thousands Flee Canton

HONG KONG (AP) — Thousands of residents are fleeing from Canton, South China's largest city, and Chinese border troops have tightened their guard to prevent an exodus to Hong Kong, Chinese arriving from Canton reported today.

The Cantonese are fleeing because of almost continuous fighting between opponents and supporters of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung as well as among the nominally pro-Mao Red Guards, the travelers said.

"The residents fear true civil war will erupt in Kwangtung Province," one returning Hong Kong Chinese said. "And the army seems to fear that there will be a mass exodus of refugees attempting to get out of China to Hong Kong."

He said Canton residents told him at least 50,000 persons were trying to make their way to the Hong Kong border. However, Hong Kong officials said they had "reasonably good" information that the Cantonese were fleeing to their home villages in Kwangtung's rural areas.

"We have had no indication of refugees massing for a border crossing attempt," a top official reported.

Travelers from Kwangtung said Red army soldiers were standing guard with fixed bayonets at all railway stations between Canton and the Hong Kong border and stopping all Chinese without travel permits.

'Portrait' Of American Is Shown

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's official New China News Agency today released what it said was a portrait of American pilot Robert J. Flynn and his identification card with the service number 636219. His hometown was not given.

It also released photographs which it said were of wreckage of the two U.S. planes shot down over China's Kwangsi Province bordering North Vietnam on Aug. 21.

NCNA said Flynn was captured from one of the two planes shot down by the Chinese army over Kwangsi.

U.S. authorities have said two American planes were presumed lost that day over China during raids near the border between North Vietnam and China.

On Monday, NCNA said a captured American pilot shot down over Chinese territory recently was displayed at a rally Saturday in Nanning, in Kwangsi Province, but that report did not identify the pilot.

The agency also released a picture of a dead man it identified as U.S. pilot Jimmy L. Buckley, service number: 616-613. The caption did not give his home town.

"This is the end of U.S. bandits," it said.

Hog Producers Are Invited To Meet

FLUVANNA — The Fluvanna Young Farmers have called to the attention of hog producers and other interested persons of this area a meeting set for 8 o'clock tonight in the lecture room of the meats lab at Texas Tech.

Primary purpose of the meeting is to organize the swine producers of the West Texas area into a closely knit group. A name, as well as constitution and by-laws will be adopted and meeting dates will be set. A group discussion on problems facing hog producers of today will follow.

Rains Fall Along Coast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Occasional showers dotted coastal areas and some other sections of South Texas overnight and sizeable crests rolled down the Rio Grande today.

Weather Bureau observers said there appeared to be no threat of flooding, however, on this side of the stream separating Texas and Mexico.

While official sources in Mexico relayed predictions of flood waters spreading in the Matamoros area across the border from Brownsville, the Weather Bureau said there was no indication of any serious menace.

Unofficial sources advised the Brownsville bureau a bridge over the San Fernando River was out at San Fernando, on the highway south of Brownsville in Mexico.

Moisture measurements in Texas ranged up to .98 inch at Laredo, and Cotulla received 46.

By early today most of the shower activity had tapered off, but more was expected in an area south of a line linking Del Rio and Palacios.

Prospects also were seen for a few thundershowers by evening across the Texas Panhandle, where a weak cool front was due to edge into the state.

Temperatures remained comparatively mild for this season. Early morning marks varied from 62 degrees at Midland to 78 at Galveston. Monday's high ranged from 99 a Wichita Falls down to 79 at Cotulla.

Brown Service At Brownwood Today

Funeral service was slated for 2:30 p.m. today for John Franklin Brown, father of Earl Brown of Snyder. Mr. Brown died at 3:25 p.m. Sunday in a Brownwood hospital after a short illness.

Rites were to be held in Burkett Church of Christ in Brownwood with burial in Burkett Cemetery, directed by Wright's Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter and four other sons.

SIX COWS DIE AFTER MISHAP

Some sort of a record was set last Saturday.

Rodger Blackard, who lives southeast of town, swerved his pickup to miss a cow and hit six others, according to investigating Highway Patrolman Harold Kornegay. All of the animals died.

The mishap occurred about 9:20 p.m. on FM 1606 about one mile east of Ira. Damage to Blackard's pickup, a 1967 Model, was total. He was not injured.

Body Recovered

WACO (AP) — The body of Darrell Coleson, 5, who tried to swim more than 75 yards to shore after a rubber raft was blown over, was recovered Monday.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McFarland of Waco. His body was in about 20 feet of water.

Motherhood Loses A Fight

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Motherhood collided with a school board—and lost.

Mrs. John Hill gave birth to her fourth child while on a sabbatical study leave. Monday night, she was fired from her teaching job.

"I was fired for being a mother," she said. "That's the only thing I can see I've done. They couldn't think of another reason." The story of how the 42-year-old elementary school music teacher gained a son and a master's degree, but lost her job, goes back to 1966.

In March, her school board granted her a sabbatical leave to study at Duquesne University the following school year at half-pay.

Then she started to gain weight. And, school officials said, she showed up for classes in loose-fitting clothes.

On June 10, she got a telephone call from her boss, Dr. Stanley R. Duda, superintendent of the Chartiers Valley Schools.

"Are you having a child?" asked Duda.

"No," replied Mrs. Hill. But she conceded she was gaining weight.

"I felt I was getting fat because I had been used to dancing a lot, then slacked off, plus the fact that I had had three chidren."

But she gained more weight—and finally accepted the fact she was pregnant.

"I really didn't know I was pregnant," she said. "Any woman my age has difficulty accepting such a development."

Jonathan was born Sept. 13, 1966. And born with him was a full-fledged feud.

Duda contended Mrs. Hill, upon learning she was pregnant, should have notified the board, asked for maternity leave and canceled her sabbatical.

Mrs. Hill figured that since she had already made application to Duquesne, she saw no reason to cancel the sabbatical.

Anyway, she added, she fulfilled the terms of her sabbatical. She went to school, got her degree and took off only one week to have Jonathan.

The school canceled her sabbatical allowance, amounting to about $3,000. She appealed Monday night, the board turned down the appeal in one vote and fired her in another.

The board contended Mrs. Hill violated state law by not reporting her pregnancy.

Storm Area Grows Weak

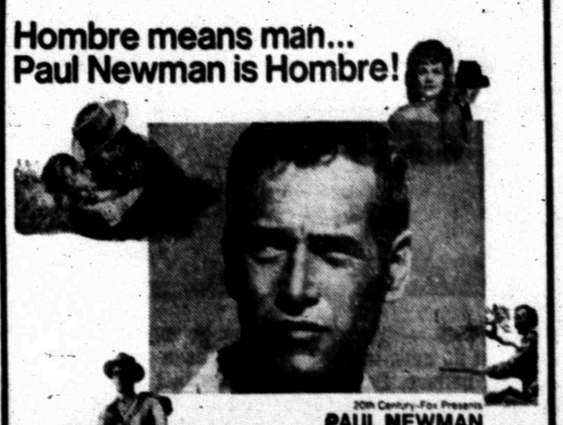

MIAMI (AP) — With the hurricane season about to close out its third quiet month, satellite pictures of the latest tropical depression showed Monday that the weather pattern was growing weaker as it thrashed about in the eastern Atlantic.

The depression, with 30 mile winds, popped up during the weekend about 2,000 miles east-southeast of Miami. Weathermen said cloudiness in the area was decreasing and "there is no apparent organization."

None of this season's four depressions has spawned a big storm.

Not since 1941 have the first eight months of the year failed to produce a hurricane. Forecasters say a ridge of high pressure is undercutting the development of tropical storms.

Orange Sherbet

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2¼ cups water
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice, concentrate, thawed
1 egg white, stiffly beaten

Into a medium size skillet or metal bowl turn the gelatin, sugar and salt. Add the water and place over moderate heat, stirring constantly with a rubber spatula until gelatin is dissolved — 3 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add orange juice; stir well. Turn into freezing tray of refrigerator; set in ice-cube compartment. When partially frozen, remove from tray, turn into chilled bowl and beat with electric beater until fluffy and smooth but not melted. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Return to tray and freeze 30 minutes longer; stir; freeze until firm. Makes 1 quart.

HUNTING OR HIKING? — Or just looking sportsminded, here's an outfit for the occasion. In cotton corduroy, the belted jacket is fully quilt-lined for cool days and tops a hiking skirt. The suit is teamed with a turtle-neck topper in pheasant print.

North P-TA Will Host Coffee

The North Elementary School Parent - Teachers Association will host a get-acquainted coffee for parents of first graders at north on Wednesday morning.

The event will be held between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 10 a.m. in the school's cafeteria

Easy Supper

A delicious dish to add a filip to a simple summer menu.

Lamb Chops
Bacon Spinach Noodles
Carrot Sticks Hot Rolls
Fruit Cup Hot Beverage

Bacon Spinach Noodles

6 slices bacon
1 package (8 ounces) spinach egg noodles
3 tablespoons sweet butter
3 tablespoons olive oil
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Skillet-cook or broil the bacon until crisp; drain and crumble; keep warm. Cook spinach noodles according to package directions; turn into a colander to drain. In the rinsed noodle pot, over very low heat, melt the butter and heat the oil; add the noodles, bacon and ⅓ cup of the cheese; toss thoroughly. Remove from heat; quickly mix in remaining ¼ cup cheese. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Problems Can Develop In Charting Legislative Work

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members, forced to stay in session until nearly 4 a.m. one night last week, almost failed to show up in sufficient numbers Monday to vote themselves a 10-day Labor Day vacation.

It was a good example of the problem that faces Democratic leaders, whose job it is to schedule legislative business.

Trying to meet the requests of Easterners, who dont like to be here Fridays, and younger members, who wanted a vacation with their families, the leaders found themselves confronted last Thursday with a choice between putting off final action on foreign aid until mid-September or keeping the House in session until the measure passed.

At 3:36 a.m. Friday morning the House finally passed the aid bill—by eight votes—after a boisterous 15-hour session marked by a near fist fight between two members and passage of several potentially far-reaching policy riders.

The situation could have been avoided by acceptance of either of two proposals made last year by a joint congressional reorganization committee. One was for Monday-through-Friday sessions. The other for an annual August vacation.

The House seldom meets on Friday, and it usually does little on Monday. The bulk of absentees are Easterners, most of them Democrats, who practice law or conduct district business on Mondays and Fridays.

Thus Democratic leaders avoid scheduling important votes on those days when they are faced with the loss of their working majority—which is considerably less than the party's nominal 247-186 majority.

The congressional reform bill passed by the Senate is hopelessly stalemated in the House Rules Committee. And leaders have displayed little interest in an August vacation.

Another way of avoiding last week's situation is through better scheduling, a major House problem all summer.

Three weeks ago, leaders started debate on the President's major anticrime proposal on a Wednesday. Thursday afternoon, the half-finished debate was put off until the following week.

The next week, a civil rights bill was given only one day on the schedule. Time-delaying quorum calls by Southern opponents, which could have been forseen, forced the debate into a second day. But leaders avoided a Friday meeting by squeezing a Social Security bill into one day.

Knowing the foreign aid debate would be lengthy, the leaders began it on Monday. But on Tuesday, they took three hours off for a space money bill, and each night, they adjourned the House by 7 p.m.

The result was that midway through Thursday evening, no end was in sight as the House worked its way through 45 amendments.

The problem could normally have been resolved by putting the matter off until this week.

But when the Labor Day recess was agreed upon, younger members complained they would be unable to vacation with their families, since most schools open the day after Labor Day.

With feeling so high that wives were drafting a petition to Speaker John W. McCormack, the leadership relented and passed the word members could stay away this week without missing anything of importance.

But so many left town that only 219 turned up on Monday's first roll call. Later there were 227. The House needs 217 members present to do business.

Junior Editors Quiz on KEROSENE LAMP

QUESTION: How did the old kerosene lamp come to be invented?

• • •

ANSWER: The old kerosene lamp was once the smartest thing around (top picture). Kerosene, a product of petroleum, came into use after Abraham Gesner, a Canadian chemist, had patented a distilling process in 1854. Wicks had been used since the times of the ancient Egyptians. In the 1700's it had been discovered that flame gives more light when burning under glass, leading to the use of the lamp chimney. By the mid 1800's, these inventions were put together to produce the highly practical and successful kerosene oil lamp. Before this, whale oil had been widely used as fuel, but kerosene was cleaner and more easily obtained. The use of the lamp chimney made a clear, easily-adjusted flame possible. It must, indeed, have seemed that this was the perfect way of lighting. But those who thought so reckoned without Thomas A. Edison. He invented his electric light in 1879. Why bother to clean a chimney and wick and fill a lamp when you can simply flip a switch? Although the kerosene lamp still glows faithfully on in a few places, the world as a whole has turned to electricity for its lighting.

Hermleigh Cardinals Could Sing Victory Tune In 4-B

Barring injuries, the talent-laden Hermleigh Cardinals could be strong contenders for the District 4-B football title this fall.

Coach W. C. Hodges, in his fifth year at the helm of the Red and White warriors, has 11 lettermen returning, including eight starters on offense and seven regular defensivemen.

Injuries, however, were a key factor in keeping the Red Birds out of the throne room in 1966. At one time or another, virtually all of the backfield men were on the sidelines with various ailments. Injuries could hamper the Cardinal style again this year since there isn't much depth. Only 21 candidates are on the squad.

Most observers feel that Bronte will repeat as champions of the district. The titlists have eight starters returning and could go through undefeated. Other serious contenders, along with Hermleigh, will be Trent, Forsan and Roby. There are nine senior starters in the Roby camp. Jayton and Loraine appear to be at least a year away from serious contention.

"First team experience will be our strong point," exclaimed Coach Hodges.

The Cardinals will be led by senior Ray Etheredge and junior Tom Chorn. Etheredge, a 168-pound center, was named to the All-District team in each of the past three seasons. Chorn, a 165-pound tailback, landed on the All - District team in 1966. Chorn is a 10.3 sprinter in full uniform, and he is an exceptionally good broken field runner. Etheredge likes it when the going gets rough.

Chorn will have plenty of help in the backfield. Danny Peterson, 160-pound senior, is a three-year letterman, and Billy Joe Odstrcil, a 154-pound senior, has two numerals under his belt as a fullback. Wingback Ted Winter, 140, and quarterback Ronnie Helm, 152, each has earned one letter. Winter is a senior, and Helm is a junior. Odstrcil, Danny Peterson and Winter all can lug the leather at under 11 flat. The backfield speed should be adequate.

Some folks say it's expeience up front that counts. Here again, the Cardinals appear to be in good shape. Joining Etheredge in the trenches are seniors Bernie Finch and Doug Coonrod and juniors Robert Peterson, David Groves and Burton Sandefur.

Finch a 188-pound tackle, and Coonrod, a 148-pound end, are both two-year lettermen. Robert Peterson, Groves and Sandefer have one letter each to their credit. Peterson is a 150-pound end, Groves is a 187-pound tackle, and Sandefur is a 161-pound guard.

All of the lettermen with the exception of Groves went both ways last season. All are expected to see double duty this year.

Guard Travis Beinhauer, tackle David Creswell, back Mike Peterson and defensive guard Russell Mraz were the only regulars lost through graduation. However, filling Creswell's shoes will be no easy task. The giant tackle won a scholarship to Kansas State University.

Fortuately Coach Hodges can cast a hopeful eye on some eager quadmen, including 192-pound Sophomore tackle Jim Averitt, who could plug a hole nicely. Another gap could be filled ably by Raymond Cenley, a 229-pound, six-six junior. He missed action last year due to a fractured arm.

Lighter squadmen who are ready to move up should any of the others falter are Ralph Stirl, 157-pound sophomore interior lineman; Bruce Hess, 6-1, 137 pound sophomore end; Leonard Kuss, 125-pound junior end; Allen Kuss, 143-pound junior fullback; and, Randy Roemisch, 127-pound freshman back. Leonard was out last year.

Others who could make a contribution are Sophomore tackle Royce Bollinger, Freshman tackle W. D. Kimzey, and Freshman guard Gary Castillo. Team managers are Gary Bowen and Jerry Wemken.

Hodges says that Helms and Winter will handle most of the passing chores while Chorn and Danny Peterson will do most of the kicking. Danny Peterson also is a good passer, perhaps the best one on the squad, but a sore arm has him grounded. Chorn has back pains but should be in shape by the time the first game rolls around.

"We'll stick with the single wing and run a lot of offensive plays from the I formation this year," declared Coach Hodges.

An All - Conference end at Howard Payne College in his playing days, Hodges also plans a few new wrinkles that could surpris Cardinal foes. For instance, he plans to use two centers — Etheredge and Finch. One or the other could lead the blocking, according to which side of the unbalanced line the flow goes. Etheredge, the All-District performer, and Finch, 188 - pound two-year letterman, have the heft and stamina to open up a lot of holes.

Barring injuries, the Hermleigh Cardinals not only could improve on a 4-5-1 record and fourth place finish, they could muscle into the throne room.

The schedule:

Sept. 8 — Loraine.
Sept. 15 — Wylie.
Sept. 22 — Open Date.
Sept. 29 — At O'Donnell.
Oct. 6 — Forsan. x
Oct. 13 —At Jayton. x

Stewardess Tells All

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A former United Airlines stewardess, who is now married, has what she calls a "nightmare recollection" of a trip she made last season with the Kansas City Athletics to Baltimore.

Mrs. Michal Sheridan, now living in Milwaukie, a suburb of Portland, said she spoke out because of recent news accounts about the firing of Manager Alvin Dark and owner Charles Finley's disciplinary efforts.

Of the Athletics, she says, "they came on the plane with a rush, and shouting for beer. I and the other hostess weren't able to serve it fast enough to suit them and they became quite rough about it.

"They wouldn't fasten their seat belts. They decided to play cards, so some of them sat on top of the seat backs and we couldn't get them down.

"Always they wanted and demanded beer, more beer and still more. They'd throw the cans on the floor and we hostesses were almost crying in our despair. We couldn't even get down the aisle without a struggle. Players were sitting with their legs across it and wouldn't move.

"The flight captain tried to key them down and how rude they were to him! They called him 'bussy,' meaning 'bus driver.' The time came to eat and that was a dreadful experience, with all of them yelling to be served at once."

She said she didn't think Dark was aboard.

Flames Capture 3rd At San Angelo

The Snyder Flames took third place in the softball tournament at San Angelo last weekend with a 20-5 triumph over the hosts.

Snyder's Girls trip ed the San Angelo Tigerettes, 11-1, Saturday after losing, 3-4, to Ballinger.

Earlier, the Flames beat Brownwood, 8-1, and Ballinger, 1-5.

Two Flames, Pat Hudgins and Murleen Nichols, were named to the All-Star team.

Fort Worth won the tournament.

The Flame record now is 23-17 for the year.

Southern Methodist's Mustangs were in their second day of training Tuesday while other Southwest Conference football squads prepared to take the field.

Texas A&M will be the second squad to start, swinging into the grind Thursday. SMU and A&M meet in the conference opener Sept. 16.

Texas, Texas Christian, Arkansas, Baylor, Texas Tech and Rice will get going Friday.

There were 77 candidates out Monday when Southern Methodist began two-a-day drills.

"Overall they're in pretty good condition," said Coach Hayden Fry of the defending conference champions.

His squad worked in shorts, shoulder pads, thin jerseys and helmets. Fry wasn't ready to announce when they would don full padding and have some head-knocking.

First, commented Fry, he had to teach the boys how to line up. He explained, "we've changed so many positions and have so many new boys we have to get them acquainted with the system."

[illegible] shifted Terry May, letterman fullback, to offensive tackle so there could be some experienced blocking. this meant that Jim Hagle and Pinky Clements, letterman halfbacks, would go to fullback.

There still are plenty of veterans for the halfback spots.

Grid Club Meeting Set

The Snyder Quarterback Club will hold its first meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria, according to an announcement by Roy Meador, president.

Football coaches in the school system will be introduced by Head Coach Wayne Tyrone.

New officers of the Club will be elected for 1967-68.

GRID DUCATS GO ON SALE

Season tickets for five home games of the Snyder High School Tigers went on sale to the general public this morning, according to an announcement by school officials.

They may be purchased at the school administration building on Thurty - seventh Street at the rate of $7.50 for the five home games.

The five home games: Sept. 2, Big Spring; Oct. 6, Lamesa; Oct. 20, Lakeview; Nov. 3, Brownfield; and Nov. 17, Dunbar.

Phils Clip Reds 3-2, Climb From 6th To 2nd In 1 Week

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

A six-day sprint has swept the Philadelphia Phillies to the head of the pack in the National League's runner-up derby.

Now they're trying to drum up a match race with St. Louis swifties. . .but Manager Gene Mauch isn't looking past the next nine innings.

'We're still looking for one in a row," Mauch said Monday night after the Phillies edged Cincinnati 3-2 for their eighth straight victory. . .and displayed the first symptoms of pennant fever.

The Phils' winning streak has vaulted them from sixth to second place in less than a week. They lead the Reds and Chicago Cubs by one percentage point... but trail the league-leading Cardinals by 11 lengths.

St. Louis divided a doubleheader with New York Monday night, taking the second game 6-0 behind ex-Met Jack Lamabe after the tailenders had won the twilight game 4-2 to break an eight-game losing string.

San Francisco pelted Los Angeles 7-0, Pittsburgh nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 10 innings and the Cubs shaded Houston 6-5 in other NL games.

John Callison's 13th homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning at Cincinnati and the Phils added another run on a bases-loaded balk by Gerry Arrigo on the way to their 21st triumph in 29 starts.

But they needed four innings of scoreless relief fom veteran Dick Farrell to keep the streak alive after the Reds closed the gap in the bottom of the sixth on Pete Rose's single, Lee May's double and a ground out.

The save was Farrell's seventh in 44 relief efforts this season.

Cleon Jones two-run single was the big blow in a four-run fifth-inning flurry that carried the Mets past the Cards in their opener. Winner Jack Fisher blanked St. Louis until the eighth, but needed help from Ron Taylor in the ninth.

A two-run homer by Tim McCarver and two-run singles by Orlando Cepda and Dal Maxvill backed Lamabe's five-hit hurling as St. Louis bounced back in the second game.

Roberto Clemente poled his 19th and 20th homers, the second one breaking a 3-3 tie in the 10th to end a four-game losing streak for the Pirates. Atlanta had tied the game with two runs in the eight on Rico Carty's double and singles by Felipe Alou Tito Francona and Hank Aaron.

Gaylord Perry stymied Los Angeles on three hits and fanned nine, leading the Giants to their 10th victory in 13 games against the Dodgers this year. Willie Mays knocked in two runs with a third-inning single and scored from second base on a wild pitch in the Giants' three-run sixth.

Adolfo Phillips doubled in the sixth inning, took third on a bunt and scored on Dave Giusti's wild pitch, giving the Cubs the one-run margin over the Astros. Giusti and rookie Doug Rader homered for Houston.

Dove Hunting Hours Revealed

Shooting hours for mourning doves in the north zone begin at 1 p.m. Daylight Saving Time or 12 noon Central Standard Time on September 1. Officially, the state will be on Daylight Saving Time until 2 p.m., October 29.

The fully-feathered wing provision on mourning doves has been waived for this year. Hunters no longer have to retain one fully - feathered wing on doves except during the concurrent white - winged and mourning dove season in 21 counties along the Rio Grande. All migratory birds imported from Mexico must have one fully - feathered wing attached. The bag limit is 12 per day according to local game warden D. M. Palmer.

YANKS FALL, 3-0

Howard's Knowledge Helps Boston Win

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Elston Howard spent all afternoon figuring out how to beat the New York Yankees. He spent all evening doing it.

Howard, recently traded to Boston after more than 12 years with the Yankees, made his return to New York an auspicious one, singling in a run in Boston's 3-0 victory, easing rookie Al Lyle through three innings of great relief and even throwing out Mickey Mantle.

"I spent all day at home figuring how to get this guy out and how to get that guy out," the Red Sox catcher said after the game. "I was a little nervous, thinking about playing against a team I'd never played against before."

When Lyle got two strikes on Steve Whitaker in the one-out, bases-loaded situation into which he had been thrust in the sixth inning, the benefits of Howard's pre-game thinking quickly became apparent.

Howard went out to Lyle on the mound where "I told him he was going to throw a breaking ball and he did. And he got him out."

In other American League games, Minnesota edged Baltimore 3-2 to remain one percentage point up on the Red Sox in the white-hot pennant race, Washington dumped Chicago 2-1, Detroit downed California 10-0 and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 8-7 in 11 innings.

When Mantle attempted to steal in the fourth inning, Howard was a bit surprised, but not enough to keep from throwng out the Yankee slugger. Mick left the game with a jammed right knee.

The Twins got the chance to stay ahead of the Red Sox when Pete Richert, the Orioles' pitcher, threw a possible double play ball into centerfield in the seventh inning, allowing Rich Rollins to score the go-ahead run. Zolio Versalles hit a two-run homer for the Twins.

The White Sox, meanwhile, fell into fourth place, two games off the pace, on Ken McMullen's two-run homer for the Senators. Bob Priddy got the victory, although he was in constant trouble and needed ninth-inning help from Dave Baldwin.

The Sox almost threatened in the ninth when Tommy Agee singled and went to third on Ken Berry's single, with one out. Baldwin came on to strike out Duane Josephson and Berry lit out for second.

Second baseman Tim Cullen took catcher Paul Casanova's throw and sent it back to the plate to nab Agee, trying to steal, for the final out.

Mickey Lolich stopped the Angels on five hits for his third shutout of the year for the Tigers. Lenny Green knocked in four runs, Bill Freehan drove three across and Norm Cash had three hits for Detroit.

The Indians and Athletics played Alphonse and Gaston in the late innings till Cleveland mustered a two-run homer in the 11th from Max Alvis.

The Athletics had taken a two-run lead into the ninth, only to see the Indians tie it up and Cleveland had a two-run lead in the 10th but Kansas City tied the score before the final runs.

Green Bay Wins Re-Match, Whip Dallas Cowboys, 20-3

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It was only an exhibition but the Green Bay Packers looked as good as they did last January when they won the National Football League championship as they whipped the Dallas Cowboys 20-3 Monday night.

On this same field—the Cotton Bowl—Green Bay beat Dallas 34-27 for the NFL title.

Dallas had everything back, Green Bay didn't have fullback Jim Taylor. But the Cowboys couldn't even score a touchdown Monday night. Not since 1965 had this occurred to the high-powered Dallas offense.

The Packers played a perfect game—no pass interceptions, no fumbles. Their defense was so good crusty old Coach Vince Lombardi said, "I'm real proud of it—when you hold a team like Dallas without a touchdown you've gotta be proud of them."

He also observed that "we stayed with our bread and butter. When it stops paying off for us in January, then we'll make some changes."

The crowd of 78,087—the second largest in Dallas football history—also couldn't understand why Zeke Bratkowski was only a backup quarterback.

The big fellow from Georgia, a seven-year veteran, stepped in when the great Bart Starr had to leave in the first period because of a wrist reinjury, and proceeded to pass and run Dallas dizzy.

Bratkowski passed for a 61.1 percentage, he ran for 14 yards to set up a field goal, his passing sent the Packers winging on 73 and 69-yard touchdown drives and, after Herb Adderley had intercepted a pass, his running and passing set up another field goal.

Veteran quarterback Don Meredith of Dallas managed only 38.1 per cent on his passing, had one intercepted and three times was trapped for losses. Jerry Rhome, who is fighting Craig Morton for the Dallas backup job, did much better, passing for 71.4 with five out of seven for 111 yards and had two touchdowns throws nullified.

Don Chandler's 27-yard field goal scored first for Green Bay. Dallas tied it up on a 31-yard field goal by rookie Harold Deters. But Green Bay got a touchdown on a 2-yard smash by Eli Pitts to lead 10-3 at the half.

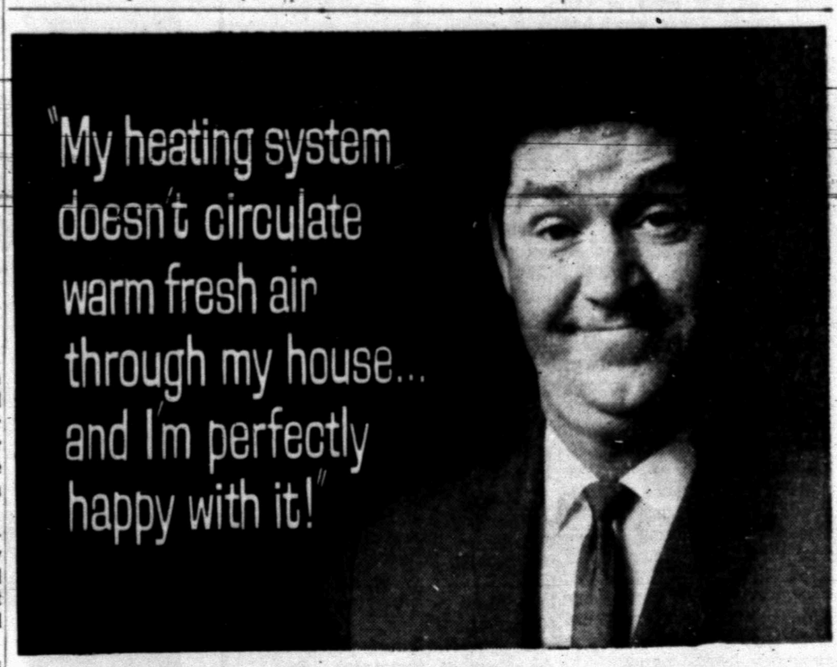

Green Bay increased it to 17-3 in the third period on a one-yard smash by Jim Grabowski and wound up the scoring early in the fourth period when Chandler kicked a 42-yard field goal.

The jewel in the Green Bay defense shone brightest late in the game when the Packers stopped Dallas on the one-yard line when the Cowboys had five tries from the five.

Chi Chi Rodriguez of San Juan, P.R., was the lightest competitor in the recent U.S. Open. He weighs only 116 pounds.

Panel Okays Funds For Urban Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration got the full $40 million it asked for rent subsidies and $537 million for its model cities program in votes by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

President Johnson has said the two programs are vital elements of the administration's "pledge to bring hope and progress to the nation's cities" through the application of "the newest ideas and wisest advice" of urban experts.

Democratic leaders scheduled for Wednesday floor action on the measures, part of an omnibus $10.4 billion appropriations bill.

Officials of the Housing and Urban Development Department have estimated the $40 million subsidy program will allow financing of 44,500 housing units for low-income families.

The committee voted Monday to allow $537 million for the model cities program. The President had asked for $662 million but the House provided only $237 million.

The program gives federal aid to cities which draw up comprehensive plans to improve housing, education, transportation, health, recreation and sanitation in slums.

The rent subsidy program provides that a low-income family pay no more than 5 per cent of its income for rent. If more money is needed to secure adequate housing, the cost would be met by the government.

The House made no provision for rent supplements in its bill.

The bill before the Senate provides $445 million more than the House's $9.9 billion total. The two housing items account for most of this increase.

Bankhead-Jones Act Successful For Thirty Years

Since the signing of the Bankhead - Jones Farm Tenant Act by President Franklin Roosevelt on July 22, 1937, more than 8,920 farm operators in Texas have either changed their status from tenants to farm owners or have been able to enlarge and develop their family farms to more efficient units, according to Joseph E. Box, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration of Scurry and Kent Counties.

In looking back upon the past 30 years of the Farm Tenant Act, Judge Marvin Jones, coarthor of the Act, said, "What satisfies me is that the work of financing tenant home purchases and farm home improvements and water use, in expanded form, is helping to keep our country strong and free. In fact, I feel richly compensated for being called an impractical dreamer during the fight for the program."

In observing the 30th anniversary of the farm ownership loan program, Box said that in the 30-year period his agency had advanced some $121,840,216 million to farmers in Texas and that currently there were more than 3,618 active borrowers in the program.

Box said the Bankhead-Jones Act established the concept of advancing to tenant farmers supervised long-term, low-interest credit up to 100 percent of the value of a farm, allowing them to purchase and develop family - size farms. The first farm ownership loan made under the Bankhead - Jones Farm Tenant Act was made in Van Zandt County, Texas, which has since been paid in full.

Each loan is based on a sound farm and home management plan and borrowers receive guidance in carrying out planned operation, he said.

Recently, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman called the Bankhead - Jones Act, "one of the great landmarks in American agriculture."

He said: "At the time the legislation was passed, two out of every five farmers were tenants and more were beboming tenants every year. Today, about 83 percent of the nation's farmers are full or part owners of land they operate.

County Supervisor, Joseph E. Box said that on a national basis the Farmers Home Administration has advanced more than $2 billion during the 30-year period, helping nearly 900,000 people living on farms.

Since 1961, the Farmers Home Administration has advanced more than $1.3 billion in farm ownership loans compared to $833 million in the previous 24 years of the program. Texas has shown a similar dramatic increase in these loans since 1961.

In Scurry County alone there have been 31 farm ownership loans made in the past 30 years, all of whom have paid their loans in full with the exception of 4, whose loans have been made since 1962.

"Without these loans," observes Box, "many of these farmers might have been forced off their farms and into crowded cities with the result they have been able to live in and build our rural America."

A recent 5-year national pro shows that the average FHA borrower increased his gross income from $10,115 before his loan, to $18,565 gross income five years later.

Farm ownership loans are made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit elsewhere. Repayment of loans has been excellent; the amount written off over 30 years is less than four-tenths of one percent. This has been more than made up by interest payments, Box said.

Farm ownership loans are made at the local Farmers Home Administration office located in the Best Building, 3423 Ave. T, Snyder.

Crude Flow Rises Again

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Production of crude oil and lease condensate averaged 9,378,710 barrels daily last week, an increase of 13,065 barrels daily over the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma production was up 8,350 barrels daily to 642,930.

The averages were unchanged for Texas at 3,396,975 barrels, Louisiana at 2,332,300 and New Mexico at 344,900.

Texan Is Casualty

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department has announced that Army S. Sgt. David F. Able of Fort Worth, Tex., was one of 32 U. S. servicemen recently killed in action in Vietnam.

Able was the husband of Mrs. Linda Able, 5201 Roxiie, Fort Worth.

Four Texans Die In Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Four Texans were killed Sunday in the crash of their airplane against dormant volcano Iztaccihuatl volcano, and a second Texas family was feared down in the mountainous terrain between Mexico City and Acapulco.

The bodies of a Big Spring family, John Polone, his wife, Wilma Jean, their son, David C. Polone, 12; and their daughter, Sonccia Jean Polone, 16, were brought down off the side of the mountain Monday.

The U.S. Embassy said the badly charred bodies of the Polones were taken to the village of Chalco from where they will be brought to the embassy for shipment home.

Former residents of Odessa, the Polones moved to Big Spring about a year ago. He has been operating an appliance store in Littlefield while she ran a beauty shop in Big Spring.

Friends at Odessa said the Polones rented a Comanche 250, fourplace plane from the Doss Maner Flying Service of Littlefield and left for Mexico Aug. 18. They were due back Sunday.

Flying to Mexico with the Polones and using a second aircraft were the Howard Lloyd family of Odessa, five persons in all.

The Polone plane left Acapulco Sunday and at 11 a.m. reported to the control tower at Mexico City Airport. So did a second plane. But then the control tower lost contact with both planes.

Mountain climbers on Iztaccihuatl when the Polone plane crashed and exploded said they saw only one plane crash.

Airport officials said their records showed the other plane was piloted by H. Don Louis with passengers listed as Tharre, Ida, Wayne and Howard Louis. Another airport official interpreted the writing, however, as H. Fon Lloyd.

The U.S. Embassy said it had information that a plane piloted by J. H. Louis had left Acapulco but that it had no knowledge of any Lloyd family.

Acapulco and Mexico City airport officials said the missing plane was numbered N9066P.

Poor visibility hampered the air search for the missing plane and a check of Mexican airports failed to reveal that it had landed.

Rains Slow Harvest In Some Areas

AUSTIN (AP)— Rains generally slowed the harvest of Texas crops last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The department said Monday, in its weekly corp and weather report, that "harvest of cotton, sorghum, and peanuts made very little advancement."

Corn and rice harvests, however, did better.

The department said hot weather is needed for the cotton crop to mature on the plains. Late fields of sorghum, the report said, need more rain.

Last week's rainfall is expected to improve the range and livestock condition in the Rio Grande Valley, South and South Central Texas and parts of East Texas.

Across the state about 17 per cent of the cotton crop has been harvested, compared to 9 per cent a year ago.

Citrus and vegetables in the Valley were helped by the rains, the department said, and some cabbage, carrots and peppers made good growth there. Showers also were beneficial to fall and winter crops in the Winter Garden-San Antonio area.

Cabbage, cucumbers and cantaloups are available in the High Plains, but "showers in July and August caused heavy abandonment of acreage in some localities," the report said.

Same Farm Plan Seen

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Consensus of speakers at a cotton meeting here Monday was that the 1967 farm program shoud be retained except for penalties on skip-row planting.

The skip-row planting penalties drew almost unanimous fire from 15 speakers at the meeting, one of a series of 14 the Department of Agriculture is conducting over the state.

USDA officials said, "The book isn't closed on possible revision of the skip-row regulations."

Donald A. Johnson, a Lubbock resident and executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., outlined objectives he said the industry needed.

These objectives, Johnson said, included a supply of cotton to meet domestic and export demands, a carry-over of no more than seven million bales, exports of five million bales and increased producer income.

Agriculture Department officials said a revised cotton program, keeping most of the 1967 regulations but doing away with penalties for skip-row planting would result in a 1968 crop about 12.8 million bales.

Closing Of School Gets Approval

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — A horrible odor and dust — "blowing like it was aimed" — await pupils of the shutdown Wilson Elementary School at Primera after they are moved to Stuart Elementary in Harlingen, the state education commissioner was told Monday.

"They'll get a better education," countered the Harlingen superintendent and school board president.

Dr. J. W. Edgar Jr., the commissioner, decided after a 2½-hour hearing, to let stand a Harlingen school board ruling to close Wilson and transport, by bus, its some 200 pupils to Stuart and Dishman elementary, in Combes.

Guy Leggett Jr., opposing the closing, said the location of Stuart was unsuitable: "It's surrounded by a junkyard, a pig pen and a cow lot and has a horrible odor. Dirt blows through there like it was aimed."

Leggett charged that closing Wilson and bussing the pupils to other schools would rob them of at least an extra hour each day, forcing some to miss work in the fields and some to drop out of school.

Others, who had walked home for lunch, would now have to take lunches or eat at the school cafeteria at an additional cost to their parents, Leggett said.

"We've been hurt (by closing the school), severely hurt," he said.

Leggett also complained that the school board already had decided to close the school before two hearings—June 9 in Primera and June 21 in Harlingen—were held on the matter.

He protested that the board had said closing Wilson would save taxpayers $35,000 a year, yet the board planned to spend some $150,000 to expand the other schools to handle Wilson pupils.

Marshall Graham, board president, said the expansion was not the result of the transfer of Wilson pupils.

"I feel the city of Primera, with a school since 1912, was not advised soon enough, nor given a fair hearing, nor enough consideration by the board before it closed the school," said Leggett.

Graham said the possibility of shutting down Wilson had been under consideration since 1964.

Graham and James Thigpen, school superintendent at Harlingen, said moving Wilson pupils to the other two schools "would provide better grouping in classes and a better education."

Graham said dust blew, on occasion, at Stuart "and once there was a pretty bad odor out there," but he said the volume of business at the cow lot had dropped off considerably—"I haven't seen more than three or four animals there the last three or four months."

Thigpen said Wilson pupils would be picked up just a few blocks from their homes for the 6-8 mile roundtrip to either Dishman or Stuart. He said, in some cases, free lunches would be available.

He said there had been no move to sell Wilson school.

"If we're w rong," said Graham, "We're big enough to admit it and go back and start over."

2 Big Projects Lacking Glamor

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHNGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is unlikely to convert two major international achievements into massive support at the polls next year.

But both will help shape the lives and leisure of many Americans for years to come.

Earlier this summer, U.S. officials reached agreement to cut tariffs on thousands of items over a five-year period in return for cuts by other non-Communist nations.

And last weekend the United States agreed with nine leading industrial nations on a framework for creating new money to help pay for new trade.

Both moves have bipartisan support but lack massive voter attention given such questions as the Vietnam war and trouble in the cities.

Yet government officials consider them so important to the country's future that they've spent four to five years trying to resolve problems surrounding each.

President Johnson called last weekend's agreement "the greatest step forward in world financial cooperation" in two decades and said it will advance the welfare of all Americans.

The reduction of tariffs and the means to finance more trade will mean more jobs for Americans, the administration contends.

The government estimates that every $1 billion in exports means 127,000 jobs for Americans. Government officials expect the successful round of tariff talks to increase exports although they hesitate to say by how much.

Foes of specific tariff cuts contend these could lead to increased imports which could affect some U.S. jobs.

With the machinery for monetary reform taking place, the non- Communist world is expected to have the money to pay for growing trade.

It took four years to draft the monetary reform outline which now must be approved by the International Monetary Fund and ratified by participating countries. Approval from 85 per cent of the 106-nation fund is required to put any plan into effect.

If finally approved, this contingency plan would be the first major revision in the way the world does business since the end of World War II.

Snyderite Promoted

Marine Lance Corporal Van D. Sumruld, III son of Mrs. Veeda Sumruld of Fortieth and Avenue S was promoted to his present rank at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C. while serving with Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron 7.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

His squadron's primary mission includes providing administrative and supply support for the aircraft group's squadrons.

His squadron is part of Marine Wing Support Group 27, a unit of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing.

Seek Funds For Hangar 9

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A fund drive is underway to restore historic Hangar 9 at Brooks Air Force Base and name it for Astronaut Edward H. White II who perished in a fire aboard an Apollo spacecraft.

Hangar 9 is the last of those used at Brooks for pilot training during and just after World War I.

Pilots who trained there include Charles A. Lindbergh, first to fly the Atlantic alone and nonstop.

The hangar already has been designated a historical site by the Texas Historical Survey Commission.

A number of San Antonio firms and the chamber of commerce are conducting the drive for the $70,000 they say is needed.

When completed, the building will house airplanes, documents, and photographs dating from the 1917-1927 era.

White, for whom the hangar will be named, was killed in the flash fire which also took the lives of Astronauts Virgil Grissom and Roger Chaffee. He was a native of San Antonio.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — Do you pay interest on refunds that are delayed in getting out?

A — Yes, the government pays interest on refunds that are not issued within 45 days of the due date or the date filed whichever is later. The interest is at a 6 percent annual rate, the same rate taxpayers are charged on unpaid tax balances.

Q — How does the average taxpayer make out when he takes a dispute he has over an audit of his return to a district conference?

A — In about 65 percent of district conferences cases, the taxpayer is able to settle the dispute satisfactorily.

Q — Where should I send my quarterly estimated tax payment, to the district or service center?

A — Estimated tax payments should be sent to the Southwest Service Center at Austin, Texas. The next payment is due September 15.

Q — Is there any tax advantage in having stock listed in both the husband's and the wife's name?

A — No. There is no tax advantage in having stock listed in both the husband's and wife's name in Texas. Dividends are considered community property, no matter who owns the stock. Due to the community property law each spouse can exclude up to $100 in dividends from income regardless of whose name is on the stock.

Q — My income is under $5,000 but my return was audited this year. Why do you bother with such small taxpayers?

A — In the administration of the tax laws, the Revenue Service seeks to assure each taxpayer that he pays neither more nor less than is required of him. Regardless of the amount of income, some returns are selected for audit as a pattern to measure this standard of compliance. The fact that a possible adjustment to a return is small is never a reason in itself for not examining the return. No taxpayer should feel that his return is exempt from examination.

Q — Can I take any deduction for the exhibit I'm putting in for my store at the county fair?

A — Yes, expenses connected with your fair exhibit may be deducted as a business expense.

Q — Are expenses for sending a child to Boy Scout Camp deductible?

A — No, these are personal expenses and not deductible.

Coast-to-Coast NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

GUIDED TOUR FOR PARENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fahrenkrog of Florissant, Mo., take what amounts to a tour of the De Paul Hospital nursery to view their new offspring — quadruplet boys born in St. Louis. The Fahrenkrogs have six other children, three boys and three girls, all under 10 years of age. Sister Andre, center background, maternity division supervisor, is a lot happier about it all than she appears. She's just busy. (AP Wirephoto)

'Nightmare' For Surviving Divers

HURON, Ohio (AP)—"It was really quite a nightmare," said Robert Coy, one of two known survivors of the worst sky diving accident in history.

"It still seems like a bad dream. Maybe it was, and I'll wake up pretty soon and find out it didn't happen."

Coy, from Springfield, Ohio, held onto a slim hope that some of his 14 fellow Ohio parachutists missing in Lake Erie would be found alive. Searchers continue dragging operations today for the 14 who fell into the lake Sunday.

But Coast Guard officials and others feared there was little chance they could survive this long in the murky waters. The National Safety Transportation Board took over the investigation of the accident.

Seventeen men and one woman—all expert divers—bailed out of a converted World War II bomber from 20,000 feet Sunday, not knowing they were over the lake.

Coy and Bernard Johnson, 30, West Richfield, survived. Bodies of Mrs. Alvin Lownsbury, 26, and Dorsie Kitchen Jr., 33, both of Akron, were pulled out of the lake Sunday night.

"I won't jump again," Coy vowed Monday night, but he added, "I can't condemn the sport."

The jumpers missed their target—Orthner Air Service Field at Wakeman—by 10 miles.

Authorities were seeking the answer to why the plane, a B25 Mitchell, was over the lake.

Coy said his first thoughts were "to open the parachute a little higher than I normally would, hoping that the wind would blow me as close to shore as possible.

"As I hit the water, I had completely taken off my reserve chute and I unfastened my helmet strap and undid all my straps, except one leg strap to hold me in. As soon as my foot hit the water, I immediately unhooked that last strap to get free of all the gear. Then I floated on my reserve parachute, holding it in front of me until it became full of water and it sank.

"Then I floated on the helmet, struggling to get off some of my clothes. The waves were awful high and choppy. I took my helmet and used it like an upside down cup and it gave me buoyancy.

"Then I saw a boat coming and I said, 'Thank God' and waved my arms and hollered and still didn't know if he saw me because the waves were so high.

"But the men in the boat saw me and picked me up."

LTV Seeks Okay Of Braniff Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board was asked by Ling-Temco-Vought (LTV) Monday to approve as soon as possible an agreement under which it would acquire control of Braniff International.

Both LTV and the airline have headquarters in Dallas.

LTV said that in a transaction of this financial magnitude it would be against public interest to delay full consideration by the CAB.

As soon as the CAB gives its approval, LTV said it would offer to buy from Greatamerica Corp. all of its Class B and common stock. Greatamerica Corp. owns 81 per cent of Braniff's common stock.

Plans Made To Sidestep 'Blue' Law

DALLAS (AP) — Four men have formed a corporation to lease certain stores, buy their merchandise and sell it to retail customers on Sundays, the group disclosed Monday.

Jay S. Fichtner, a Dallas lawyer, said the arrangement will enable the new firm to make Sunday sales without violating a newly tightened state law.

He listed Aaron Bloom, George Hanzi and Gary Levitz as his associates in the corporation, named Sundaco, Inc.

Fichtner said Sundaco has entered into contracts to lease the stores and purchase the stocks of Levitz Furniture Corp. in Dallas and the Clark's Discount Department Stores chain in Fort Worth for resale to the public on Sundays. Leftover merchandise will be sold back to the stores on Mondays, he said.

As amended by the Texas Legislature, the law forbids sales on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays of such items as clothing, appliances, cameras, jewelry, automobiles, household linens and the like.

Fichtner, president of the Texas Association of Retail Department Stores, said the Sunday closing law will not apply to Sundaco because it will operate only on Sunday. The opening date is Sept. 3, when the statute goes into effect.

He reported the firm has informed the district attorneys in Dallas and Fort Worth of its plans and has offered to cooperate if any question about the validity of the undertaking is raised.

"We hope they won't go to court and feel there is no reason for them to," Fichtner said.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas declined to express a legal opinion on the matter until he has studied it more fully.

DISILLUSIONED COMRADE SPEAKS OUT

Castro Playing Last Card?

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — "Fidel Castro is playing his last card in a losing game, but doesn't know it. He just doesn't know how desperately bad things are going for violent revolution."

The speaker was Ramon Varges, 25, former comandante or major—the highest rank—in a Castroite urban guerrilla unit. With him was an equally disillusioned comrade in arms, Julio Romero, 24. Both were arrested last March in a crackdown by Digepol, the Venezuelan secret police.

Wearing casual civilian clothes, they sat in the office of Dr. Nelson Lehmann, 30, the boyish-looking head of Digepol—General Directorate of Police—and talked freely if acidly about Castro's program for hemispheric political violence laid down at the recent Havana conference.

The pair also spoke authoritatively.

Vargas, a university sophomore, had been in the urban guerrillas since 1960, he said, and his superior was Douglas Bravo, Castro's No. 1 guerrilla leader in Venezuela. Bravo and Luban Petkoff head what's left of the battered Armed Forces of National Liberation or FALN, the Castroite guerrillas in the mountains.

Romero, a militant in a Marxist splinter of the ruling Accion Democratica party, said he served a two-year hitch with the mountain guerrillas before joining the urban ranks.

Neither has been in Cuba but their colleagues' experiences there are well known to them. Venezuelans attending the Havana conferences, they said, give their Cuban hosts distorted accounts of the situation at home.

"Fidel gets a blown-up, inaccurate idea of what's really going on," Vargas said. "The whole thing is being done only to justify the enormous subsidies they receive, as much as a million sometimes."

A million dollars?

"Yes," he explained, "and sometimes less. Petkoff once returned from Cuba with 60 men and $700,000."

The entire Venezuelan guerrilla movement, Romero estimated, has less than 1,000 men under arms and split into small groups.

"The movement will collapse of its own weight," he said. "There is a poverty of ideology with bitter rivalries for hegemony among various groups. Everybody wants to be boss and few want to fight. Finally, an infantile left has moved in, young fellows interested only in terrorism."

The revolutionary movement suffered its severest reversal in late 1965, Romero said, when the Venezuelan Communist party's Politburo, following the Moscow line, decided on a peaceful revolutionary course.

"This split the movement into various factions," he said, "and seriously weakened the national liberation forces."

Despite this, he added, there are plans to intensify urban and mountain warfare in December in another attempt to disrupt the national elections next year. A similar effort failed in 1963.

Drug Law Covers All

BRECKENRIDGE (AP) — A Texas law which became effective Monday is so sweeping that it covers all types of hallucinogenic drugs, says Rep. Burke Musgrove.

This means, he says, that the Texas law take into account account such drugs which now are being developed to circumvent older and more specific laws.

Musgrove, a first-term member of the House from Breckenridge, and Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo pushed the bill across on the final day of the session which closed this spring.

The bill says possession of the hallucination-causing drugs is a misdemeanor. Selling or manufacturing the drugs is a felony.

Possession is punishable by up to 30 days in jail and a $1,000 fine. Selling, delivery or manufacture would be punishable by 2 to 10 years in prison.

Snyder Airman Wins Base Honor

AJO, Ariz. — Senior M.Sgt. Leonard W. Winslett, son of Mrs. Ruby Winslett of 2205 Thirty-second Street, Snyder, has been named Outstanding Noncommissioned Officer of the Quarter in his unit at Luke Air Force Range, Ariz.

Sergeant Winslett, a communications superintendent, was selected for his leadership, exemplary conduct and duty performance. He received a $25 U.S. Savings Bond for his achievement.

The sergeant is a member of the Air Defense Command which protects the U.S. against enemy attack.

He is a graduate of Mozelle High School, Coleman, Tex.

Cities Vote On Sales Tax

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Residents of nearly a dozen Texas cities and towns are being asked to authorize a municipal sales tax, and the list appears certain to grow.

State legislators in their latest session empowered municipalities to levy sales taxes of one per cent or less provided local voters approve.

Monday was the first day, under provisions of the statute, that city councilmen could decide whether to call such elections. These election dates were quickly set:

Sept. 27—Orange Grove, which is 25 miles west of Corpus Christi.

Sept. 28—Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi, Electra, El Paso, Henrietta, Nacogdoches, Taylor, Wichita Falls.
