House Votes To Submit Two Constitutional Amendments

Sales Tax Idea Is Considered By Senate

Needy Blind And Dependent Children Would Be Aided; Office Terms Extended

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 20.—The house of representatives today voted to submit two constitutional amendments and rejected a third while the senate continued work on another without taking final action.

One amendmet approved by the house would authorize assistance to the needy blind and dependent children with money provided by the state to be matched by the federal government.

Would Extend Office Tenures

The second meeting house approval would extend to four years terms of precinct, county and district officers, including state representatives, which now are two years.

The house turned down an amendment, 72 to 49, which would permit the classification of property for taxation purposes and which has had the strong support of Governor James V. Allred. Such an amendment was defeated at the polls four years ago.

Senate Studies Sales Tax

Continuing consideration of an amendment authorizing a sales tax to defray social welfare costs the senate approved a provision to make old age pension payments equal and uniform to the needy over 65 years of age. The vote was 13 to 10. It then laid the amendment aside to work on other matters.

A bill to give the supreme court power to prescribe rules for conduct of lawyers—known as the self-governing bar bill—was engrossed after rejection of an amendment which would have guaranteed a trial by jury before an attorney could be disbarred.

Senate Passes Two Bills

The senate passed two house bills increasing penalties for livestock theft, another appropriating an additional $100,000 for expenses of the session and concurred in a conference report already approved by the house, on a bill exempting privately owned commercial trucks from operations of the common carrier act.

It rejected a bill which would

Mushrooming Business Is Being Experienced Here, Activity Survey Shows

By BERTLE DOTY

POTENTIAL wealth from the land—from crops which will be abetted by recent snow and rains and from willo-the-wisp promises of oil in the deep structures of the South Plains—is causing a mushrooming business expression in Lubbock.

A survey of business activity shows increases in construction of residences and downtown buildings, notable advances in wholesale and retail trading and an evident gain in population.

Although 144 houses were built in Lubbock last year, and despite an indicated increase in building this year, there is still an acute shortage of houses either for sale or rent, according to lumber and real estate dealers.

Four Lubbock lumber dealers reported an increase in sales over last year from 20 to 25 per cent with an estimated increase in the cost of materials to the consumer of 15 to 20 per cent. Lumber is leading over brick or stone as the popular type of residence is in the $2,000 class.

Available houses for rent in the average American city are five per cent of the number of houses.

In Lubbock, real estate dealers say, the figure is less than one-half of one per cent.

Several reasons are given for this

Borger Worker Is Killed In Explosion

BORGER, April 20. (AP)—Frank Swafford, about 40, was killed tonight when a 16,000-gallon gasoline tank at the Danube refinery exploded. The refinery is four miles west of here.

Swafford, fireman and general yard helper, was transferring gasoline from one tank to another. Investigators believed he was attempting to open a valve when the huge tank exploded.

His body was found 10 feet from a hole the blast blew in the tank.

Swafford has been employed by the company nine months and lived here for several years.

Eastland County Couple Victim Of Double Shooting Tragedy

EASTLAND, April 20. (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Kokomo for Cleo Everton, 26, and his wife, Opal, 19, victims of a double shooting last night.

Justice of the Peace E. E. Wood returned a verdict that the woman died from bullet wounds from a pistol in the hands of Everton and that the latter then turned the gun on himself.

Tennessee Mountaineer Is On His 42nd Day Of Starvation

STOOPING OAK, Tenn., April 20. (AP)—Lean Jackson Whitlow, 45-year-old mountaineer, today entered the forty-second day of what he calls a fast "at a call from the Lord." He insists he will not break the fast until he "hears from the Lord." He has lost 29 pounds.

Six Hundred At Cooking Event Here Tuesday

Over six hundred women gathered at the Auditorium, 801 Texas avenue, Tuesday afternoon to attend opening sessions of the Avalanche-Journal Kitchen Chautauqua conducted by Mrs. Martha McDonald of Dallas, noted home economist. The second lecture will begin promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon and will end at 4 o'clock.

Today's program will include: Veal roast Hawaiian, broiled pears for meat garnish, fish chowder, individual shrimp salad, stuffed potatoes, southern biscuits, onion shortcake, banana nut pie, chocolate pie, Scotch currant loaf, toasted pineapple cake and K. C. white cake.

May Inspect Kitchen

Women are asked to bring notebooks and pencils in order that they may take down receipes not listed on the daily program and suggestions which Mrs. McDonald will give as she makes her cooking demonstrations. Questions will be answered and after the school the women will be given an opportunity to inspect the model kitchen erected on the auditorium stage and to view the dishes which Mrs. McDonald and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, prepare.

Tuesday's preparations included: Lamb stew with mushroom dumplings, carrots au gratin, potato lutkies, old fashioned egg custard, old fashioned pound cake KC favorite sponge cake, spinach—new style and ginger cake. The dishes were given away at the close of the school.

COLUMBUS, O., April 20. (AP)—W. Forbes Morgan, president of the Distilled Spirits Institute, inc., and former treasurer of the Democratic National campaign committee, died unexpectedly here tonight in a committee hearing room of the state capital.

Additional Rains Are Reported Over Region

Tuesday's Fall Brings Total Here In Two Days To 1.34 Inches; Hail Reported

ADDITIONAL rains yesterday afternoon, ranging from only light showers to as high as an inch in several towns of this section contributed toward brighter prospects for good crops on the South Plains this year.

Although a trace to light hail was reported in many places throughout this section, no damage was reported anywhere as a result. Strong winds reported in several sections did not cause any estimable damage.

Total Here Is 1.34 Inches

According to figures of the state experiment sub-station near Lubbock, total rainfall for the last two days was boosted to 1.34 inches when approximately .64 inches fell within a short time Tuesday afternoon.

Accompanying rains throughout the South Plains were considerable thunder and lightning.

The rainfall, though maybe local, has added to the moisture in the soil so as to provide Lubbock county and adjoining counties with what probably is the best early spring season in the last several years, said C. C. Jobson, Lubbock county agricultural agent.

Moisture To Be Valuable

It is yet too early for any extensive planting of row crops, but the moisture will be valuable in preparing a season for spring planting of cotton and feed crops, he said. He also indicated that it would help those farmers who have already planted crops.

This rainfall will also be of unestimable value to pasture lands and wheat crops, he said. It is probable that most cotton farmers will start preparations for planting soon now.

Crosbyton residents reported only a light shower Tuesday to bring the two days total to 68. There was no hail but an electrical display, it was said.

A "very hard rain" fell at Post early in the afternoon with "just a little" hail. The total since Monday was boosted to approximately

Memorial Shaft Services Today

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 20.—The $150,000 San Jacinto battle-ground memorial shaft will be dedicated tomorrow, the 101th anniversary of the famous battle that ended the Texas revolt against Mexico.

A crowd of around 15,000 persons, including numbers of national and state dignitaries, was expected to gather at the scene of one of the 16 decisive battles of the world for the ceremonies.

Jones To Lay Stone

Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Reconstruction Finance corporation head, will lay the corner stone. Jones arrived today from Washington.

Around 100 members of the Texas legislature and numbers of other state officials will come to the ceremonies on a special train from Austin.

The battleground, 20 miles to the east of Houston, has been converted into a beautiful state park.

Tallest In Nation

The memorial, still under construction, will be the tallest shaft in the nation. Towering 564 feet into the air, the shaft will be several feet taller than the sky-scrapping Washington monument. In the base will be room for an art gallery, museum and a large amphitheater.

Federal and Texas governments cooperated in furnishing funds for the shaft.

Pink Bloomers And Mother Hubbards Supplant Ball And Chain In Prison

(By The Associated Press)

GRANITE, Okla., April 20.—Pink bloomers and Mother Hubbard dresses supplanted ball and chain today for four youths who tried unsuccessfully to escape from Granite reformatory.

Laughter laid on by fellow inmates substituted for the lash.

Warden Fred Hunt prescribed the feminine dress as punishment and ordered the offenders placed in the reformatory rotunda.

"It's really setting them afire," he said. "We have them rouged and prettied up, and the other prisoners who walk past them to their cell blocks almost die laughing."

Walter Collins, 22, and Fred Kappell, 18, the latest prisoners to attempt a getaway, were captured today after a three-hour chase with bloodhounds.

On their return, their heads were shaved and they were marched to the rotunda wearing only pink bloomers.

Here they joined George Lane and Louis Campbell, who tried to escape several days ago on mules. Lane and Campbell are dressed in mother hubbards and poke bonnets.

One-Fourth Tax Is Proposed In Great Britain

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 20.—The British government proposed today to collect up to one-third of a businessman's new profits this year and to levy a 25 per cent tax on individual income.

The taxes are necessary to meet part of projected $7,500,000,000 expenditures for rearmament and defense, Chancellor of The Exchequer Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons. He presented 1937-38 budget estimates.

Opposition Develops

Labor opposition developed at once. Major Clement R. Attlee charged the budget was a "war budget" which the labor party would fight because "we are marching straight into another war" and because the budget "is an expression of the foreign policy which is ruining the world."

The government's large majority, however, assured acceptance of the tax and budget proposals.

Chamberlain estimated the nation's 1937-38 revenue at 863,100,000 pounds sterling and expenditures at 862,848,000 pounds sterling, which would provide a 252,000 pound surplus. (In dollars: revenue $4,315,500,000; expenditures $4,314,240,000; surplus $1,260,000).

On the basis of present tax revenue, the chancellor estimated that deficit of 14,898,000 pounds would result. ($74,490,000.)

State's Deficit Is $500,000 Greater

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP) — State Treasurer Charley Lockhart announced today that the deficit in the state's general fund was $11,625,407.42, an increase of nearly $500,000 in the last 15 days. The deficit in the confederate pension fund was reported as $4,491,515.85.

The treasurer called for payment all general revenue warrants issued through last November 22. The new call number was 46,984.

Womanless Wedding In Ralls Is Postponed Due To Rain

RALLS, April 20. (Special)—The womanless wedding planned for tonight was postponed because of rain, and will be presented Thursday night, April 29, in the city auditorium.

Rated as "the biggest social event of the year," the wedding is being sponsored by the Ralls Parent-Teacher association. Proceeds will go to pay debts of the association.

H. H. (Nicky) Nicholas is the bride and Jimmy Rankin the groom. The rest of the cast is made up of members of the school faculty and business men.

Balking Butcher Sits Down On Meat Block; Wins His Point

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP) — Butcher Herman Yanish, who yesterday staged a nine-hour sit-down strike on the meat block of his employer's store, won a reduction in his 12 1-2 hour working day. Although fellow employes wielded cleavers on the block on which Yanish sat, the balking butcher refused to abandon his position.

Dr. J. C. Hardy's Retirement Is Announced

(By The Associated Press)

BELTON, April 20. — Retirement of Dr. J. C. Hardy as president of Mary Hardin-Baylor college and appointment of Dr. Gordon Grady Singleton of Mercer university to the position was announced tonight at a banquet climaxing a celebration of Dr. Hardy's 25th anniversary as president.

The retirement of the 72-year-old educator and Baptist leader was announced by the board of trustees at the close of a day during which a notable gathering of educators had honored Dr. Hardy for his service to the college and the state. Dr. Hardy was appointed president emeritus and will continue to be active in college affairs in that capacity.

Well Known To Texans

Dr. Singleton, his successor, is well known to Texans. His wife was the former Hallie Jenkins of Waco, a daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. W. H. Jenkins. Judge Jenkins was for many years president of the board of trustees of Baylor university at Waco.

Dr. Singleton was professor of education and director of the summer quarter of Mercer university, Macon, Ga. He holds the degrees of B. S., University of Georgia; A. M. and Ph. D., Columbia university and studied in Cambridge (England) university. He is a World war veteran and author of numerous books and papers on educational and social subjects. He is a member of the social service commission of the Southern Baptist convention.

Dr. Hardy today completed 37 years of college presidencies. For 13 years he was president of Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college, where his regime was characterized by pioneering in agricul-

Greater Deficit Is Seen By FDR For Next Year

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Roosevelt told congress today that latest figures indicate the government will go $418,000,000 into the red in the 1938 fiscal year—the eighth successive year of federal deficits.

However, he called for economy, said he would use "every means at my command" to wipe out the threatened deficit, and indicated that new taxes may be sought in the next session of congress to close the gap between income and outgo.

Asks $1,500,000,000 For Relief

The president laid the figures before legislators in a message which called for $1,500,000,000 for work relief in the 1938 fiscal year—which begins next July 1.

He overhauled previous financial estimates to take account of disappointing tax receipts, which fell below treasury predictions.

At a press conference late this afternoon, the president elaborated on point No. 1, saying congress probably would be asked to pass a law giving him specific authority to withhold from federal departments any appropriations he believes unneccessary.

Debt To Hit New Peak

For the remainder of this fiscal year, Mr. Roosevelt said in his relief message, the deficit will rise $309,000,000 over the original estimate. This will bring the deficit to $2,557,000,000. If the treasury borrows to the full amount of the increase in the deficit, the public debt will climb to a new $35,335,000,000 peak on June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt told congress the treasury will submit conclusions for plugging loopholes in existing taxes in November, together with "suggestions for such new or additional taxes as may be necessary to meet present tax laws."

Mr. Roosevelt also asked continu-

Police-Firemen's Protection Bill Is Signed By Allred

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—Policemen and firemen in Texas larger cities had the portection today of a new law providing minimum pay and maximum hours of work.

The bill was signed by Gov. James V. Allred after both houses had approved it without opposition.

A salary of $150 per month was fixed as the minimum in cities of more than 75,000 population. The law provided a six-day week in all cities of more than 25,000 population and required a two week's vacation with pay in those of more than 30,000. No salary minimum was set for cities of less than 75,000.

Two New Councilmen Elected In Dallas Run-Off Election

DALLAS, April 20. (AP) — Seven present councilmen and two new men were elected in the city run-off election today.

Final returns showed that Councilmen George A. Sprague, J. Willis Gunn, Emil Corenbleth, D. R. Grah, P. M. Brinker, Max Hahn and Mayor George Sergeant were returned to office. Z. Starr Armstrong and Hughes Knight were the newcomers. Armstrong defeating Cleve Reach and Knight winning over James F. Cochran.

Federal Stations Are Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The agriculture department appropriations bill submitted to the house today included authorization of the purchase of a 15-acre tract at Greenville, Texas, for the government's cotton experimental station.

The bill recommended that the station be made permanent and authorized its maintenance out of $406,435 appropriation for experimenting in cotton and other fibre crops.

Other Funds Authorized

The bill authorized $12,500 for livestock experiments and demonstration at Big Spring or elsewhere in Texas to be available when the state appropriates an equal amount.

Five million dollars for dust control work in the Texas Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado was included.

The house appropriations committee recommended appropriation of $5,000,000 from the independent offices appropriations for 1937 for use in emergency soil conservation work in the dust bowl during this calendar year.

Quick Decision On Pensions Is Asked

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The government asked the Supreme court today to pass immediately upon the old age pension system.

Solicitor General Stanley Reed appealed from a decision by the first circuit court at Boston last Friday, holding that the old age pensions section of the Social Security act is unconstitutional.

"The question presented is of great fiscal importance to the treasury of the United States," Reed said, and "a prompt decision is of the highest importance."

Schoolboy Tarzans Facing Charges After Capture

(By The Associated Press)

MEDFORD, Ore., April 20.—Edward Harris, 14, and his brother, Roy 10, Tarzan truants of the Dark Hollow district, who for 13 days roamed the brush to evade school attendance, were captured last night as they sat beside their campfire on a mountainside.

District Attorney Frank J. Newman, said the boys would be taken into juvenile court tomorrow. He said they were "of exceptional mental keenness, and needed to be removed from their present environment."

The Harris brothers told Sheriff Syd I. Brown that they left home "because we would rather be in the open, than in school." They slept in isolated cabins on rainy nights, and by a fire in the open on clear nights. They had experienced no difficulty in obtaining food which they found in cabins, and by occasional visits to henhouses.

The boys carried a roll of blankets, and a frying pan, coffee pot, and tin-cup. They also had a small calibre rifle.

Potentialities Of South Plains Cited By Bankers

THE Garden Spot of West Texas?—The South Plains.

Bankers arriving with the vanguard for the South Palins Bankers association convention here today gave the same answer, in substance, in referring to attainments and possibilities of this section.

Early arrivals represented cities as far away as Dallas and Fort Worth. Behind several of them lie stories linking with development not only of their own sections, but of West Texas, as well.

There was W. L. (Bill) Pier, for instance. The vice president of the Fort Worth National bank and former president of Stockyards National there, has been in Texas since 1928, and his knowledge of conditions over the western area of the state has been built on the foundation of continual and deep study.

He went to Fort Worth from Omaha and is a member of the widening ranks of those who push out their chests at having elected to live in Texas, as op-

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

IF THE column fairly reeks of the Kitchen Chautauqua for the next three days think nothing of it. We are sleeping, living and breathing cooking school and it follows that that will influence the paragraphs.

It seems to us, somewhat of a veteran when it comes to covering schools of cookery, that yesterday's session got underway with less confusion and more success than any other ever held in the city. That's a good omen. There was a tinge of nervousness that was apparent when the rain set in, but before the chautauqua was over the rain had let up.

The audience was scandalized when Mrs. Martha McDonald held up a perfectly good towel which had been deliberately stained with blackberry juice, but she smilingly assured them that within a few minutes with the aid of Clorox the stain would disappear and it did!

HINTS FROM LECTURE

IN THIS high altitude often one-half teaspoon less of baking powder than the recipe calls for is best . . . Don't boil water too long before you make coffee . . . . Use your fingers to grease a cake pan . . . Lightly tap the cake pan on the floor to rid the batter of air bubbles before placing it in the oven . . . Try a dash of tabasco sauce on your breakfast eggs . . . A little white of egg spread over the bottom of the crust before adding filling will keep crust from soaking.

AT BALL GAMES

HAVING dispensed with the cooking school for the time being our eye fell on a little article written by Joan Durham on behavior at a baseball game. Surely next to eating baseball comes first in importance to most men—especially young men. In fact, we believe most rather young, young men would be happy with steak, gravy and potatoes three meals a day and baseball games between meals.

Anyway Miss Durham believes one of the cardinal virtues of the modern woman is that she knows how to behave at a baseball game. She attributes this to "Ladies' Day," which has grown to be an intstitution with many baseball leagues. Pressed for do's and don't on the subject of how a feminine fan should behave at a baseball game she interviewed Ford Frick, president of the National Baseball League, who contributed a number of hints, aided by "Pop," sports cartoonist.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

AS THE announcer in Amos 'n' Andy would say, "Here they are":

"Don't complain when your partner thrusts a bag of peanuts at you at the very beginning of the game. Hold them in reserve. There are such things as "extra innings" in baseball—and dinner may be a long time off.

"DON'T be surprised if your escort engages everybody within yelling distance in conversation. In case of an argument walk . . . don't run . . . to the nearest exit.

"Every fan has his favorite spot. And your escort is likely to pick out the most uncomfortable place on the field—where there's everything from sun to soot in your eyes. Whats' more he'll expect you to like it.

"If you must ask questions, be sure to ask the right ones. It's all right, for instance, to ask about the batting averages of some of the outstanding players. (If he says any of them had .300 or more turn on that entranced expression that gets him—and leave it on.) But keep in mind that many a romance has been blighted by the wrong question at the wrong moment.

"Join in all outbursts of noise, being careful to keep in harmony. (That means don't yell for the opposite team. But it's perfectly all right to clap, whistle or otherwise try to unnerve the opposing pitcher or ride the umpire.)

"STAND up when everybody else does. But before starting to leave the ball park be sure the game is over. (There's the so-called "stretch" during the seventh inning when superstition demands that the home team crowd stand. But the game is far from over then. There are at least two more innings to come.)

"If you should happen to catch the ball when it comes into the grandstand, by all means hold on to it. (In case you don't know it, although, strictly speaking, that's against the law, it's an old baseball custom.)

"And last, but far from least, never suggest leaving the game. For one of the maxims in baseball is that anything can happen."

Study For Next Year Talked

Three study clubs of the city, meeting for regular sessions Tuesday afternoon, heard programs on a variety of subjects. The Shakespeare club presented a study of southern literature. Continuing a study of America, the 1933 Study club considered art and the Lubbock circle of the Child Conservation League had a health program.

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson was hostess to the 1933 Study club at her home, 1914 Sixteenth street. A discussion of "American Art" was given by Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, guest speaker.

Study Outline Read

Mrs. A. W. Evans, president, presided over a short business session and gave an outline of study for next year. It was decided to confine the time of meetings to two hours and to secure three speakers from Texas Technological college faculty to appear on programs.

Next meeting of the organization will be May 4 with Mrs. C. C. Webb, 3001 Twenty-second street.

Carrying out a program on "Southern Literature," Mrs. O. T. Ryan, chairman, led the discussion at a meeting of the Shakespeare club in the F. R. Friend residence, 2005 Broadway.

Report Given

Others on the program were Mesdames Cliff Widener, John K. Wherry, and O. A. Terry. Mrs. Terry reported on the recent convention of Federated clubs at Canyon.

"Biological Products Used in Diagnosis; Prevention and Treatment of Diseases" was the subject of a talk by Dr. Pauline Miller to the Lubbock circle, Child Conservation league, which met in the home of Mrs. H. H. Matejowsky, 1502 Ninth street.

Members present were Mesdames L. L. Kelso, C. E. Moreman, Roy Furr, W. E. Boyd, Marlin R. Smith, jr., W. H. Logan and Ethridge W. Eagan.

The club will meet May 4 in the home of Mrs. John B. Rountree 2124 Twenty-fourth street.

Legion Auxiliary Completes Bridge Arrangements

Arrangements for a benefit bridge party to be given at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the American Legion hall were completed at a Legion auxiliary meeting at the hall Monday night.

Mesdames Ray F. Hinchey, Dan A. Blair and F. A. Kleinschmidt were hostesses for a social hour.

Attending were Mesdames T. F. Seale, J. D. Rondeaux, C. E. Wendt, H. F. Maner, J. F. Anthony, C. C. Jobson, A. I. Glassman, George Thompson, T. E. Boyd, Gladys Land, George Brewer, Frank A. White, jr., Fred Higbee, A. B. Allen, S. H. Bain, W. M. Schroeder, P. W. Wood and Carroll Eoff.

Plans For Picnic On May 11 Are Discussed At Club Tuesday

Plans for a picnic honoring husbands May 11 at 6 p. m. were made at a meeting of the Fit and Fashion club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. W. Matthews, 2109 Eighteenth street.

A salad course was served to the following members: Mesdames Floyd Honey, E. M. Barnett, E. E. King, G. E. Dawson, M. E. Witt, John Freeman and C. C. Cox.

James Roosevelt To Address Young Demo Clubs Of Texas

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP) — James Roosevelt, son of the president, accepted today an invitation to address the Young Democratic clubs of Texas in Houston early in June.

Earle B. Mayfield, jr., of Tyler, Texas national committeeman, his brother, John S. Mayfield, member of the Texas unit but a government employe here, and Neal Pickett of Houston, president of the Harris county organization, extended the invitation.

"Despite the fact no definite convention date has been set, James Roosevelt promised to be there," said Mayfield. "We explained the opening of the greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition June 12 had caused the delay."

Mayfield said he could not discuss now his possible candidacy for national president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Tarrant Grand Jury Is To Make Probe Of Bank's Shortage

FORT WORTH, April 20. (AP) — The county grand jury will investigate, probably Thursday, the reported shortage of more than $100,000 at the First State Bank of Arlington which closed April 12.

The bank was closed April 12 and its affairs taken over by a state banking examiner. Zeta Gossett, state banking commissioner, has estimated the shortage in the bank will run beyond $100,000.

Several hours after the bank closed, its president, Thomas Spruance, was found shot to death on a country road near Grand Prairie. An inquest verdict of suicide was returned.

Lay Delegates Are Elected

SLATON, April 20. (Special)—Thirteen lay delegates to the Methodist's annual conference at Quanah in November were selected at a two-day district meeting held here Monday and Tuesday. Selection was made today before the convention adjourned shortly after noon.

STRIKE IS SETTLED

PARIS, April 20 (AP)—A strike of employes in more than 200 Paris motion picture, vaudeville and legitimate theaters was settled today after an all-night conference in the office of Premier Leon Blum.

Outdoor celebrations, arena games at night, and indoor feasts in ancient Greece and Rome were illuminated by torches in metal baskets and receptacles filled with resinous woods, pitch, or other inflammable substances.

Reduce Varicose Swollen Veins

This Safe Easy Way Prove It At Small Cost

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at Mark Halsey Drug or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once with this healing oil. A small bottle will last a long time because it is very concentrated and a little goes a very long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced. Refund is guaranteed if not satisfied. So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance. Adv.

New Home And Joe Stokes School Districts In Lynn Combined

TAHOKA, April 20. (Special) — New Home and Joe Stokes schools have consolidated into one high school district, the county superintendent, H. P. Caveness reported. Action was taken on the petition of trustees of both districts.

Accompanying the Joe Stokes petition was one signed by nearly all of the patrons of the district.

Three trustees were appointed from each district and one at large. High school work will be done at New Home, and some grade work at Joe Stokes.

Truck Crops In Texas Better

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20. — The agriculture department has issued the following summary on truck crops in Texas:

The 1937 Bermuda onion forecast of 1,993,000 hundred-pound sacks in South Texas is 32 per cent below record production in 1936 and 4 per cent below the 1932 crop. It is expected to exceed all other years since 1918. It is 6 per cent larger than the 5-year average production of 1928 to 1932.

Condition Is Better

The condition of the crop on April 1, the department reported, was 71 per cent of normal compared with 70 per cent the same date a year ago.

In Wilson and Karnes counties the growth has been fully up to expectations, but at Corpus Christi the plants have shown less progress. In the dry land sections of Frio and LaSalle counties the yields will be low because of lack of moisture. Raymondville has a renewed attack of blight in part of the area, but it will not reduce yields below expectations. Carlot shipments are expected to leave Raymondville in the next few days. Laredo will probably not move many onions until next week.

Less Beans Harvested

Texas, California and Florida, the three early producers of snap beans, are now harvesting a total of 20,800 acres, 34 per cent less than the 31,500 acres harvested early last spring.

The strawberry producing states, including Texas, are estimates to yield 5,015,000 twenty-four quart crates this year, compared with 4,255,000 harvested in 1936

DEATH IS REPORTED

SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP) — Walter Walthall, assistant to the president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, died suddenly this morning at Harlingen, according to word received here. Walthall was attending a district conference of the Rotary club at the valley city.

Only a few Stradivari violins are in existence today, and their owners generally are well known.

Seven More Club Boys Join In Cotton Planting Program

Seven more boys have joined in a cotton planting program, adding 35 more acres and bringing the total to 81, Homer E. Thompson, county club leader and assistant county agent, said.

New enrollees and their acrage include: Buster Gildham of Lubbock route 1, four acres; Almon Webster of Petersburg, three; James E. Vannoy of Slaton route 1, five; Doughtie Grimstead of Slaton, five; Ed L. Elliott of Shallowater, 10; Sam Evans of Shallowater, five, and Eldon E. McWilliams of route 2 Lubbock, three.

LAREDO MAN KILLED

LAREDO, April 20. (AP)—Anselmo Gomez, 50, of Laredo, was killed when a truck carrying onion harvesters to Zapata county overturned today. Eight other occupants of the truck were injured, two of them seriously. The truck crashed into a creek bank and turned over after a casing blew out.

The Grand Coulee dam across the Columbia river will cost $63,000,000.

Honor Roll Hits New Mark At Roosevelt Rural High School

Passive acceptance of a ban against playing hookey April Fool day reflected itself in numerous exemptions from examinations at Roosevelt Rural High school and grades of students as a whole were better, probably as a result.

The honor roll for the last six weeks went to a new mark said Roy Boyd, principal. More students than ever before had an average grade of 85 per cent.

Students who made that grade were: Seniors—Rosemary Patterson, James M. Vardeman, Fraser Bartlett, Marguerite Blanton, Byrdie Mae Meador, and Mac Stennett; Juniors—Carl Crossland; sophomores—E. D. Anderson, Irene Holt, Neuman Hutto, Bernadine Hilbers, Robert Cromer Bill Vardeman; freshman—Martha Pierson, Ernestine Russ, Juanita Collins, Odie Fay Pace, Viola Day, Mildred Railsback, Clarice Rush, Merle Sherrod, Emmett Elliott, Mary Lanham, Grady Trotter, M. V. Hutto, Faye Dowdy, Mary Anderson; seventh grade — Milton Wilson, Ralph McClure, Allen Birchfield, Lucille Meeks, James Alspaugh, Ben Sides, Clifford Hilbers, Helen Kelly, Johnnie Ferguson, Frances Cummings, and Lucille Simpson.

Utopia, Kas., according to the last census, has six inhabitants.

WASH DAY MADE EASIER
...the Clorox way!

"BLUE MONDAY" becomes "Bright Monday" with Clorox on the job. No more "grayed" or "yellowed" white cottons and linens. Out of the wash they come snowy-white, with less effort on your part—boiling unnecessary. And, too, they are hygienically clean which is especially important where there are babies. Diapers, rubber panties and rubber sheeting are made fresh-smelling and sanitary.... Dinginess and many household stains vanish when Clorox is used in the regular laundering process. Stubborn stains, such as fruit, flower, grass, beverage, blood, and many ink, dye and medicine stains—even scorch and mildew—are removed with a slightly stronger solution.

Clorox also disinfects, deodorizes and removes most stains from refrigerators, drainboards, sinks, bathtubs, toilet bowls, tile, linoleum, sickroom utensils, garbage cans.

You'll be amazed to learn the number of ways that Clorox can help you. The label lists many important household and personal uses. Clorox is concentrated for economy. Order by name.
There's only one Clorox.

Seven Lubbock Presbyterians Attending Session At Pecos

Dr. Jack M. Lewis and six other members of the First Presbyterian church are at Pecos for a meeting of the El Paso presbytery and for a session of men of that organization.

Dean James M. Gordon, moderator of the presbytery, presided at Tuesday night's opening session and George W. Dupree spoke in the afternoon. Harry E. Blocker spoke instead of Dr. C. J. Wagner, who was unable to attend.

Others in the party are B. B. Pullen, C. A. Bruner, L. C. Ellis, and Rev. W. K. Johnston, missionary.

Dr. Lewis conducted a brief service Tuesday night.

Continuance Is Given Earnest

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court early yesterday afternoon upheld a motion by the defense counsel for continuance and postponement of the trial of W. E. (Bill) Earnest, charged by indictment with murder without malice and driving while intoxicated, and reset the case for June 7, beginning of the next criminal week.

At the same time, the court took under advisement a motion by the defense to quash the jury panel. If the motion is sustained, attorneys said, it probably will necessitate refilling of the jury wheel with names of all men eligible for jury service and selection of a new jury panel.

May Pick New List

It was indicated by the court that if this motion is upheld and there were found to be fundamental errors in selection of the panel, a new one will be picked, with elimination of fundamental errors, by the time the case is called again.

The state's counsel expressed doubt in open court as to legality of the panel as drawn and further stated, as did the court from the bench, that the jury panels were drawn in good faith on the part of officers whose duty it is to draw them. The district attorney's office assured the court of all possible assistance in investigating the selection of jury panels.

The defense counsel also assured the court it was not challenging the good faith of officers whose duty it is to fill the jury wheel Owen W. McWhorter and L. A. Howard represented the defendant.

In presenting its motion to quash the panel, the defense urged nine separate grounds and indicated it was prepared to offer testimony to support allegations.

Overruled earlier was a motion by the defense to quash the indictment. Attorneys argued it was defective and ambiguous. A specific allegation was that it failed to allege that the scene of the accident was in the state of Texas.

The charges against Earnest grew out of an automobile collision near Wolfforth last Feb. 14 in which Mrs. Lena Belle Bollman of near Floydada was fatally injured and two other members of the Bollman family were injured.

Assisting Burton S. Burks and Victor H. Lindsey, district attorney and his assistant, was L. G. Matthews, Floydada attorney, in the prosecution.

Suspended Sentence Is Given In Auto Theft Case Tuesday

Elmer L. Davis, 20, was given a three-year suspended prison sentence after pleading guilty before Judge E. L. Pitts in 99th district court here Tuesday to a charge of automobile theft. District Attorney Burton S. Burks recommended the suspension with the statement that the boy had not previously been in serious trouble.

Davis, testifying in his own behalf during the brief trial, blamed bad companionship for participation in the theft last March of an automobile belonging to W. J. Miller of Lubbock. The car later was recovered at Portales, N. M., and Davis was arrested with Ardell Walker, then under parole from the Texas penitentiary, and Jack Ricketts, who was on furlough at the time from a state asylum.

Ricketts subsequently was returned to the state institution and Walker was given a two-year sentence on the theft charge in district court here Monday.

Citizens Invited To Join Delegation To Dairy Show

Committeemen headed by Chairman O. W. Ribble began extending invitations to Lubbock citizens to join the motor caravan which will go to Plainview Thursday for the observance of "Lubbock day" at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show opening there today and continuing through Saturday.

The invitation to join the group includes every citizen, regardless whether contacted personally, Ribble emphasized. Members of the party will start from the city hall here at 1 p. m., will parade in Plainview headed by Senior High school band, and will then be dismissed to seek their own entertainment.

Ribble said he was advised today that special arrangements are being made.

Chamber of commerce officials said they were advised that special preparations are being made at Plainview for the entertainment of the Lubbock visitors.

Japanese Police To Make Radio Appeal For Return Of Miss Keller's Address Book

TOKYO, April 20. (AP)—Police have decided to take a radio appeal to the conscience of a pickpocket who stole an address book and more than 200 yen ($57.18) from Helen Keller, the blind educator, at Yokohama before she came here Thursday.

Miss Keller asked authorities to redouble their efforts to find the book because it contains the names of many American and foreign friends. Officials planned to ask the thief to return at least the address book.

Meanwhile, Tokyo society fluttered with criticism by imperial household officials that some foreigners, including Miss Keller, had not conformed strictly to court rules on dress at yesterday's cherry blossom festival.

Miss Keller wore a black dress and a three-quarter length black coat. Court rules forbid anything suggestive of mourning.

Jap Vindicates Honor Of His Country By Cash Gift

OSAKA, April 20. (AP)—Grieving because an unchivalrous thief stole 200 yen ($56) from Miss Helen Keller upon her arrival in Japan, an anonymous Japanese vindicated national honor today by leaving a gift of 250 yen at Miss Keller's hotel.

Miss Keller, blind and deaf since birth, turned the gift over to the fund for relief of Japan's blind.

Pair's Appeal In Case Withdrawn

DICKENS, April 20. (Special) — After having withdrawn an appeal notice to the court of criminal appeals, Philip Pair is held in the Dickens county jail awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary to serve a 15-year term for the slaymg of his wife, according to a report from Mrs. Nettie Littlefield, district clerk, today.

Pair was convicted two weeks ago of the slaying which occurred at his farm home near McAdoo last October 3.

A motion for a new trial was denied after the conviction and the appeal since withdrawn was filed at that time.

Although Pair did not testify in the trial, he was quoted by officers at the time of the slaying as saying that the shotgun charge which killed his 20-year-old wife was fired accidentally by her.

HELD ON CHECK CHARGE

ABILENE, April 20. (Special) — L. S. Stimson, jr., of Lubbock was in Taylor county jail last night in default of $500 bond set by Justice of Peace Theo Ash after Stimson had waived examining trial of a charge of felonious check swindling.

Ed Grissom of an Abilene department store alleged Stimson presented a "cold" check for $75 there April 5.

one and one-half inches.

Showers were lighter at Lamesa when precipitation there was estimated at .17 for the day. The total for the two days is about three quarters of an inch. There was a light hail, but no damage.

More than an inch and half was reported at Spur since Monday. A heavy shower Tuesday afternoon was accompanied by a hard wind but no hail.

Another quarter-inch fell at Levelland to make a total of a half. It was accompanied by some wind but no hail.

Hard Wind Reported

Brownfield was greeted Tuesday with a hard wind with some sand and a shower. The wind caused no damage. Littlefields' precipitation for the two days went to an inch and a half when three-quarters fell Tuesday.

Slight damage was caused by hail at Tahoka when it accompanied a shower. Ralls' precipitation for the two days amounted to more than an inch. Some hail fell in the Fairview community Monday night, but caused little damage.

Associated Press reports late last night said Abilene received .74 inch Tuesday with more forecast. Similar showers fell in the West Texas range country. Heavy showers at Electra brought the day's total to 1.3. Wichita Falls estimated .84 with skies clearing and San Angelo .65 with more forecast.

Olton estimated its precipitation at a quarter of an inch Monday night and Tuesday.

Farmers throughout West Texas where showers fell were cheered over wheat prospects, pronouncing them the best in years, and conditions excellent for planting row crops, said the Associated Press.

Some idea of how it rained in the Roosevelt Rural High school district may be adduced from the arrival of school buses.

The last bus arrived at the building at 11:30 o'clock, three hours late, and students had to be released at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon so they could reach their residences before dark!

Hailstones Nearly As Big As Golfballs Reported

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 20 (AP)—Hailstones nearly as big as golfballs pelted two widely separated sections of New Mexico Monday, wreaking damage some sources estimated would exceed $100,000.

At Conchas damsite, west of Tucumcari, the pounding pellets of ice perforated the roofs of buildings occupied by workers. An equally severe storm ruined roofs, punctured automobile tops and smashed windows at Roswell.

General Rains Reported In Oklahoma Territory

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 20 (AP)—General rains over Oklahoma today ranging over two inches in the central and southwestern parts of the state, brought visions of good crops to Sooner farmers.

Ardmore with three inches of moisture, Mangum with 2.33, Altus with 2.35, and Guthrie with 2.05 were among the wettest points tonight.

His bank is the fourth largest in Texas, and has 285 correspondent banks in West Texas. In its vaults are $12,000,000 West Texas money, and the bank's rise has been correspondent with that of West Texas since the institution's founding in 1873.

General climb in business indices over the past few months was on the tongue of all bankers. The indicated oil play and the investment in land will contribute to the South Plains' permanence despite poor years that have an inflexible habit of splotching the calendar, they said.

Strikes and the threat of strikes have been felt keenly in business, said Pier and John Olson, assistant cashier of the Fort Worth National.

"For variety and deversification, the South Palins leads in investment possibilities," they said, in substance.

Others here early last night included:

Bailey Malone, vice president of the Mercantile National bank of Dallas; John W. Gilbert, assistant vice president of the Continental National bank of Forth Worth; Frank Butler, vice president of the Amarillo National bank of Amarillo; Arthur Ware, vice president of the Amarillo National bank; Fleming James of Abilene, cashier of the F & M bank there; E. W. Russell, assistant cashier of the Continental National bank of Forth Worth, and who reported a heavy rain between Post and Slaton Tuesday afternoon, so that water stood in the fields; Ralph Barron and J. R. (Bob) Martin, president and vice president, respectively, of the Midland National bank and two of the youngest executives in West Texas banking circles, both of whom were accompanied by their wives; Champ Clark, assistant vice president of the First National bank of Fort Worth; and others.

Mrs. Oral Jones, wife of the vice president of the City National bank of Wichita Falls, and her daughter Dorothy Bess had to come into Lubbock without Mr. Jones, who remained with his automobile, which had stuck in the deep mud of the highway 25 miles the other side of Dickens.

Clarence R. Hendricks of Underwood, Edwards & Co., Inc., investment securities, of Fort Worth also was here.

Fast 'Mystery Mike' Is In The Army Now

Over The Top

Tougher than a mule, faster than a greyhound is this new U. S. army tank. Assigned to the crack Colorado National Guard tank corps, "Mystery Mike," technically known as M2-A2, has climbed at a 35-mile-clip, a Denver hill that stalls autos in low gear.

They Know Secrets

Padded from head to toe for protection against the battering they get when Mike is going at full tilt, these members of its crew closely guard their knowledge of its inner workings. Places for three men are visible but the full crew numbers six.

Balks At Nothing

Clocked at 50 miles an hour by a car that trailed it on a road, Mystery Mike's engines sound like an airplane's, give off a gas that smells like an auto's exhaust. The army-built monster is reported to handle as easily as a coupe.

Garza 'Old Timers'

Jay Slaughter, sang several solos to ukulele accompaniment and appeared in a quartet with Mrs. Bob Davis, Gilbert Gollehon, and County Attorney Joe S. Moss. Most of the music presented was relative to old cowboy life and peculiar to this section.

Frank Reeves of the Fort Worth Star Telegram spoke and Miss Quanah Lewis of Lubbock, teacher in the Post schools, gave a reading. Two Mexican boys, Frank Leway and Jesse Morales, both ten years old, sang Mexican and western songs.

"Jigging" Is Presented

Miss Lyall Pickett played a violin solo and also appeared with the quartet. N. Y. Bicknell "jigged" and Rip Elkins and John Mason did a "jig" stunt. The last two were joined by Elkins' daughter, Jittie D., and all three "jigged." She and her father are of the Fuller ranch near Vermott.

R. L. (Bob) Willoughby, now of Ft. Davis and who helped establish four Texas county seats, called for square dances. Favorite dances were the Schottishe, New Shoe, and other old time steps.

Douglas Oldest Man Present

J. A. Douglas, 90, resident of Post 30 years, was honored as the oldest man present. Second oldest was J. H. Babb, 87, resident of this section about 80 years.

Prominent pioneer cowhands of this section present were: Jim Burress, here since 1844, who estimated he has roped more than a million cattle for the U Lazy S ranch which is managed by Jay Slaughter; Ed Scott, for 40 years on the OS ranch, who estimates he has roped more than a million cattle for his outfit; "Doc" Knox, 81, here since 1881; J. Wright Mooar, 85, of Snyder, who estimates he has killed more than 22,000 buffaloes in West Texas; Bill Elliott, who came here from Scotland in 1888 to the Spur ranch; C. C. Haile of Afton, one of the liveliest of the dancers; G. D. Ellis; Sam Elkins, longtime foreman of the OS; and "Uncle" Newt Graham, only living charter member of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association.

Baptist Workers Convention Is Held Tuesday At Acuff

Three Lubbock Baptist churches were represented Tuesday at the Lubbock County Baptist Associated workers convention at Acuff Baptist church. Delegates from Calvary, College Avenue, and First Baptist churches attended.

Devotional was conducted by the Rev. Leroy Harris, Smyer. Leo Waite, education director at First church, led the opening song.

Educational evangelism was discussed by Rev. A. A. Brian, Plainview, district missionary in the morning session.

A district board meeting was held after lunch was served to visitors. Women's workers met from 2 to 3 o'clock, with Mrs. O. A. Tyner, Lubbock, in charge. Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary church, spoke at 3 p. m. on "Prerequisites of a Revival."

A short business meeting concluded the program.

Wagner Act Is To Be Adhered To

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP) — Leaders of industry and labor agreed at Secretary Perkins' "get-together" conference today to consider collective bargaining contracts "sacred and binding."

It was the first of a series of meetings by representatives of government, management and labor to find a formula under the National Labor Relations act for avoiding strikes and lockouts.

Miss Perkins said employers in the group of 27 accepted the Wagner act "as the law of the land" in view of the Supreme court opinion holding it constitutional and announced their intention of "living up to it."

Business Activity

noticeable shortage. Because of the uncertainty in the cost of rents more people are buying residences than did formerly.

Rental costs in the past year have increased 30 per cent.

Another reason given for the increase of home buying is better farm conditions in surrounding areas, and resultant influx to the city. A good demand is reported for suitable building locations, the larger 75 to 100 foot lots being preferred.

Implement Dealers Feel Boom

Lubbock farm implement dealers also have felt the effect of improved conditions of farms and farmers generally. By all evidence the plowman no longer wearily plods his homeward way—he sits on a tractor and plays a radio when working." A 50 per cent increase over last year in sales of tractors and farming equipment was given as a conservative estimate. An even greater increase is expected by one dealer if present conditions prevail.

That Lubbock is growing at a steady pace is shown by the chamber of commerce estimate of the present population. Using the city directory as a basis, 28,804 persons are now thought to be living within the city limits. Population in 1930 was 20,512. (U. S. Census bureau). The city light and water office reports an increase of water meters of 245 and an increase of 274 in light meters.

Improvements Made Here

Pavement within the city limits was increased the past year with an additional 25 blocks completed. Curbs and gutters were laid out on 38 blocks. Other work done by the city included extention of sewer and water mains; construction of additional light facilities, and several wells added to the water system.

Carloadings of the Santa Fe railroad for the week ending April 17 were 23,074. At approximately the same date last year the figure was 19,153. This shows a gain of 4,921. An even greater gain is expected in the future, railway officials said.

Resources of Lubbock's three national banks at the close of business March 31, were the largest in the history of the city, exceeding those of March 4 last year by over a million dollars. Deposits were $900,000 greater.

Roosevelt Message

ance of a group of miscellaneous taxes scheduled to expire by June 30. These include taxes on gasoline, firearms, automobiles, radios and amusements.

For the current year, Mr. Roosevelt estimated receipts at $5,224,000,000, or $604,000,000 under the January forecast. He said that analysis of March income tax returns indicated this revenue would fall $267,200,000 short of the original $2,372,900,000 estimate for the entire fiscal year.

Other Receipts To Drop

Other receipts, he said, will drop $337,000,000 short of January estimates "due in large part to the obstruction of collections by numerous lawsuits against the government."

This year's expenditures were set at $7,781,000,000, or $295,000,000 less than the former forecast.

For 1938, receipts were forecast at $6,906,000,000, and expenditures at $7,324,000,000.

Will Of Mrs. Knox Is Ordered To Probate; Contest Denied

DALLAS, April 20. (AP) — County Probate Judge Ben H. Fly today ordered the will of the late Mrs. Mary S. Knox admitted to probate, denying a contest brought by two of the slain woman's grandchildren. Mrs. Knox, 91, widow of a wealthy lumberman, was beaten to death here March 12.

Two grandsons, Hiram Knox and William Hiram Knox III, attacked the will on the grounds she was not mentally competent when the instrument was drawn Jan. 28, 1936.

The will bequeathed $5 each to the two contestants and four other grandchildren. The remainder of the estate, valued at $75,000 for probate purposes, is to be divided between City Temple Presbyterian church and the Reynolds Presbtyerian orphanage.

Clark Gable Categorically Denies Paternity Of 13-Year-Old Girl

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (AP)—Making his debut as a court witness, Clark Gable today categorically denied paternity of 13-year-old Gwendoline Norton.

The burly, dark-haired screen idol was a calm, unperturbed witness for the government in the mail fraud and conspiracy trial of Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, 47. Mrs. Norton is accused of having demanded money from Gable for the support of Gwendoline, who she said was her daughter of the actor.

Gable's testimony consisted mainly of "nos."

British Taxation

$4 was an increase of 1.25 per cent over the current rate. Present exemptions remained in effect: ($625 for a singl eperson up to $2,000 for a married man with 3 children) and Chamberlain estimated that the increased tax would produce an additional $75,000,000 annually for a grand total of 275,000,000 pounds (approximately $1,375,000,000.)

But it was the new profits tax that startled commons. The tax in effect penalized an increase in profits. If there is no large growth in profits, there will be no tax. The businessman is protected to the extent that he may make $10,000 more money this year than last without coming under the tax.

tural extension service. He had come to Mississippi A. and M. from the superintendence of the Jackson, Miss., schools.

The statement of the board of trustees, read by Dr. W. H. McKenzie of Austin, emphasized the fact that when Dr. Hardy came to Baylor college, the school had no endowment and that it now has endowment funds totalling $700,000 and loan funds of $265,000.

Leaders At Celebration

Educators and civic and church leaders from over the state honored Dr. Hardy at elaborate ceremonials which started with an academic procession at 10 a. m. Speakers included President H. Y. Benedict of the University of Texas; President Pat M. Neff of Baylor university, Waco; President E. M. Waits of Texas Christian university, Fort Worth; Dr. Lee R. Scarborough, president of Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth; Dean E. G. Townsend of Baylor college; President D. R. Anderson of Texas Wesleyan college; President L. H. Hubbard of Texas State College for Women.

They paid tribute to the veteran educator for his work in the fields of religion and education. He served for three years as president of Baptist general convention of Texas, and led in the important development of the institution which he headed.

Lubbock Chamber Of Commerce Hasn't Given Endorsement To Hawaiian Guitar Plan

The chamber of commerce has not endorsed an Hawaiian guitar rental proposition under which the musical instrument might eventually become the property of the renter, a statement issued by J. D. Hassell, chamber president, said Tuesday afternoon.

The endorsement was asked by an individual representing himself as promoting the proposition, and was refused. Mr. Hassell said further. The refusal, he explained, was in keeping with the organization's policy of not endorsing any solicitation proposition of that or similar nature.

Endorsement Had Been Claimed

Hassell's statement was issued, he said, after several persons had called the chamber and had said they understood the rental plan had been endorsed by that organization. Those who called were informed, officials of the chamber said, that they knew nothing of the proposition nor of the individuals concerned with it. That will continue to be the answer to those who have given the chamber as reference, Hassell asserted.

Specimen contracts submitted to the chamber, officials of the organization said, provided for weekly payments for a period of more than a year for musical lessons. The payments, according to the fine-print contract, are "rentals" on the guitar which becomes a "graduation gift" when the pupil completes the course. The pupil, however, is bound in the contract to buy necessary replacement parts from the renter and to assume responsibility if the instrument is damaged or destroyed.

Hassell said he was informed that a crew of 16 is making a house-to-house canvass to submit the proposition.

Tech stadium, where they will be guests at a spring football game between Texas Mines of El Paso and Tech.

Saturday afternoon, massed bands will rehearse at Senior High school starting at 4:15 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock, the several hundred selected musicians will join in perhaps the most colorful event of the entire tournament—a public concert at the auditorium.

Judges Are Chosen

Those chosen as judges for the band concerts will be: Herbert L. Clarke, for 25 years assistant to the late John Phillip Sousa, perhaps the greatest band director who ever lived. In recent years Clarke has directed the Long Beach, Calif., municipal band.

Earl D. Irons, band director at North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington.

L. M. Calavan, director of Oklahoma City Central High school band.

Milburn E. Carey, director of Phillips university band at Enid, Okla.

Ellis B. Hall, director of Academy of Music at Amarillo.

Judges of solo and ensemble will be: Glen A. Truax of Shamrock, Ralph Smith of Hereford, and Charles E. Strain of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

Those in the various contests will compete for the right to seek honors in the national tournament to be held at Oklahoma City May 14 and 15, in which will be entered outstanding school musical organizations from all parts of the United States.

Hurricane And Frost Warning Facilities May Be Expanded

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP) — Published proceedings of an appropriations subcommittee of the house disclosed today a plan of the weather bureau to expand its hurricane and frost warning facilities in Florida.

Dr. Willis R. Gregg, bureau chief, told the subcommittee an increase of $11,295 in next year's appropriation for hurricane and storm warning would permit more frequent reports from ships at sea and more adequate personnel at teletype stations in the hurricane zone.

All of the added amount, he said, would be used along the Atlantic and gulf coasts between Jacksonville, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex.

"There are some stations that have only four men and none with more than five except the forecast centers," he said, "and the result is that during times of stress it is practically impossible for them to render complete service because the service is on a 24-hour basis and for four men it is too much of a proposition for them to handle."

Compulsory 'Character Building' Is Recommended By Club Women

SALT LAKE CITY, April 20. (AP) Compulsory "character building" courses in public schools—to guide youth from lawlessness—were recommended today by western club women to a nation which spends billions annually fighting crime.

Declaring "20 per cent of the crime in the United States is committed by minors," Mrs. George Norman Campbell of Kalama, Wash., western federation of women's clubs resolutions committee chairman, said "we believe development of character should be made" an important objective in school courses.

Dean Gives Up 13 Hits, Wins 2-0

CROSLEY FIELD, Cincinnati, April 20. (AP)—Though nicked for thirteen hits, including four doubles, Dizzy Dean today pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-0, 10-inning victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the opening game of the local National League baseball season.

Successive doubles by Medwick and Mize and a single by Durocher gave the Cards their winning runs. A crowd of 34,374 paying customers witnessed the duel between Dean and Ray (Peaches) Davis.

More Boxing May Come To Lubbock In Near Future

That local sporting fans would see more amateur boxing soon was indicated yesterday by Milt Coffey, Texas Tech boxer and boxing department head, and officials of the local American Legion post.

If plans are carried out, a Lubbock boxing team made up of popular scrappers who took honors in Golden Gloves and A. A. U. tournaments here and elsewhere will operate under the sponsorship of the American Legion in a dual meet with a Vernon amateur team. Tentative date is May 3, probably at the Auditorium.

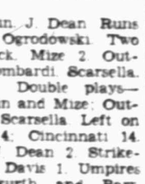

Definite plans for the meet are being worked out now, Coffey said. The Vernon team has challenged local boxers for a meet here and one at Vernon.

National Open Qualifying Districts Are Increased

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP) — As the entry list for the United States Open golf championship has shown a steady rise since 1933, hitting a peak of 1,277 last year, the United States Golf association has announced qualifying rounds will be held in 33 districts this year.

This is an increase of five over 1936 and extends the steady growth since sectional qualifying was inaugurated in 1924. That year there were only two districts, an Eastern and a Western.

No, It's Still The Same Old Daffiness Club

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP) — Folks, the situation is unchanged.

Baseball's greatest rivalry is between Brooklyn and the New York Giants; Burleigh Grimes hasn't been able to erase the daffiness streaks from his Dodgers; the hottest fans in the game are still blowing gaskets in old Flatbush.

Almost every inch of Ebbets Field, home of the Flatbush Follies, was packed as the Jernts and Follies boys swung at each other in their inaugural today.

Fans Start Fireworks

The show opened in true Flatbush fashion. After a fan had held up the game by tossing firecrackers on the field almost burned down a hot dog stand, Dick Bartell stepped up to bat. He beefed at the first pitch, a called strike. A Flatbush fan threw a ripe tomato that struck Dick on the shoulder and great was the devilish glee.

Tough, old Burleigh came up with four new faces for the opener. They were "Long Tom" Winsett, who is troubled with what they call "two left feet" on account of trouble with fly balls hit to his right; old Hemie Manush, Woody English and Cookie Lavagetto.

Lavagetto upheld the Flatbush tradition for second basing by making two errors.

In a long pre-game talk, Grimes told Van Mungo that talk about pitchers not being able to hit was the bunk.

Mungo took the lecture to heart, slamming out a double to give his pals a 3 to 0 lead. But in true Flatbush fashion, the boys couldn't hold their margin.

Base Stealing Stars

Base stealing was a tip-off of the 1937 Flatbush edition. They tried twice and were nipped both times by a good city block.

Grimes stayed in the Flatbush dugout until 4:41 or for one hour and 20 minutes running. He made his first explosive protest of Umpire Beans Reardon's decision when Beans ruled Lou Chiozza safe at home with the tying run in the sixth inning.

Casey Stengel, who's getting more money for not managing Brooklyn than Grimes is getting for trying to manage them into first division, was reported somewhere in the stands explaining his shyness by saying he didn't want to embarrass Grimes.

Fred Rich Averts 'Sit Down' Strike At Anton, Contract As Coach Is Not Renewed

ANTON, April 20. (Special) — Fred T. Rich, coach of athletics and high school principal was not among the Anton teachers reelected by the board.

Failure of the board to reelect Rich, among others caused considerable excitement and some of the athletic group threatened a sit-down strike. Rich, on hearing of this, persuaded the boys not to try it.

Two men teachers and four women were not reelected.

Vic Weber Brings Bulging Muscles, Pleasing Style Back To Local Ring Tonight; Meets Joe Kopecky

AN ALL-STAR LINEUP

Main event—Vic Weber, New York, vs. Joe Kopecky, Taylor. Two out of three falls or 2-hour time limit.

Special event—Gorilla Pogi, Buenos Aires, vs. George Bennett, Oklahoma City. One fall or 30 minutes.

Curtain raiser—Ace Freeman, New York, vs. Klem Kusek, Tacoma, Wash. One fall or 20 minutes.

Place and time: The Auditorium, Texas and 8th, eight o'clock. Ringside broadcast, Station KFYO.

Vigorous Vic Weber, virile virtuoso of the wrestling profession from New York and one of the most permanently popular grapplers who ever exercised his muscles in the local ring, is welcomed back with open arms by a local crowd that is craving more speed and variety in its shows.

Vic blew into town yesterday after a long drive from the Alberta region of Canada. He has been wrestling around Rod Fenton's stomping grounds for the past several weeks after nearly a year of activity in the New York vicinity.

"They've Been Tough"

What with taking on heavyweights in New York and being snowbound in Canada, Vic has led a rather vigorous life of late. He was due in here about a month ago, but "couldn't get out of Canada," where he was doing right well against Canadian grapplers of the Fenton and La Belle type. "They're all pretty rough up there, and I hope the fans won't go yelling for my blood here if I should forget and double up my fist.

Vic's first opponent here after an absence of 18 months will be the venerable Joe Kopecky, who, like Weber, wears no man's collar, but who, unlike Weber, doesn't care whether the crowd likes him or not.

Weber has seldom if ever, disappointed a crowd of Lubbock sporting fans. He is by no means a lily-like gentle grappler. He means business when he's in the ring, casting off his ever present grin and hearty conversation. He packs a wicked punch in his good right arm, and doesn't hesitate to lay it on when opportunity presents itself. With all his ruggedness and roughness, he's still one of fandom's favorites. The fans won't mind how much he unlimbers his fist in Kopecky's direction tonight.

In Fine Shape

Weber came to Lubbock looking the picture of health and condition although he has lost a lot of the suntan that added to his physical beauty last time he was here. He plans to stick around "as long as the boys don't get too tough for me or until the fans run me off," and absorb a lot of West Texas sunshine. His favorite method of sunbathing is playing golf in shorts.

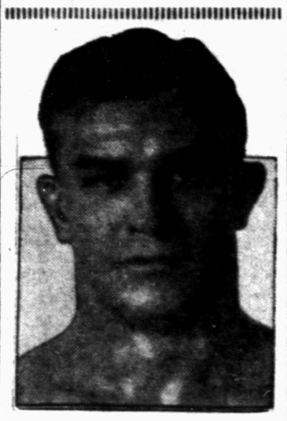

Kopecky, who knows all of wrestling's tricks and who can swing a mean rabbit punch, demonstrated that age is not yet getting the best of him when he took things easy and polished off young Art Belcher in a modest curtain raiser last week. Under pressure Kopecky is still a panther and a terror.

Tacoma Tornado Here

To support these two popular main eventers, Promoter Allen has lined up a preliminary card that should not disappoint. It presents a new face, for one thing—that of Klem Kusek, the "Tacoma Tornado." It will be Ace Freeman's job to turn the tornado into a gentle zephyr tonight, and Ace is capable of doing the trick. The Freeman fellow is rapidly building a niche in middleweight wrestling's hall of fame, so far as local patrons are concerned. Kusek is said to be quite a boy at the rough and tumble business.

Gorilla Pogi and George Bennett clash in the semi-final, and they'll leave nothing to the imagination. Bennett was definitely off his feed last week in the main go, but yesterday was said to be the picture of health and ambition. The Gorilla is doing some of the best wrestling of his life now.

Starts All Over In Local Arena

Presenting once more an old favorite with local fans, Victor Weber of New York, who meets Joe Kopecky tonight in the main event at the Auditorium.

Hubber Schedule To Open Sunday With Amherst

Baseball activity was at a standstill in Lubbock yesterday, the Hubber candidates giving over to Jupe Pluvius who continued to do a good job of getting the new infield in shape.

Enthusiasm shown by players in pre-season workouts here exceed anything since Sled Allen's Hubbers of West Texas League days. Workouts have been staged nearly every day, and a large crowd of spectators usually are on hand. Yesterday was about the first day that a workout was not held since the boys started coming out three weeks ago.

Blanchard On Way

Meanwhile, there was activity in the "front office." Team Sponsor Sammy Rosenthal contacted Lefty Jerry Blanchard by telephone in Florida and ordered the giant youngster to head for Texas and not get off the bus enroute.

Blanchard said he'd make every effort to be here in time to chunk the opening game Sunday afternoon against the Amherst Reds.

The game begins at 3:30 o'clock at the new park, where the seating capacity has been doubled over last year's accommodations.

The business office of the local club also announced an almost complete schedule for the month of May.

Amarillo Here Next

Sammy Hale is bringing his Amarillo Phillips Oilers here for a game Sunday, May 2. Negotiations for this game were completed yesterday. The Hubbers will return the game May 30.

The Sudan team comes here May 9, and Littlefield is booked to play here May 16. The Hubbers are tentatively scheduled to play the Hawaiian baseball club here May 23, but the deal has not been closed.

Texas Tech Track And Golf Outfits Leave Today; Huffman Takes Trio To Drake Relays At Des Moines

Coach Beri Huffman and a trio of his Texas Tech track and field athletes were to get away at the crack o' dawn today on the first leg of a thousand mile automobile ride to Des Moines, Iowa, and the Drake Relays.

Going to the big meet, one of the premier outdoor events of the country for many years, as special invitees of Drake university, the Tech boys will compete in three events—the 2-mile run, high hurdles and pole vault.

Maurice Cowan, former Lubbock High student, a pole vaulter at Texas Tech for two seasons, established himself in his particular line of sport last year, at the Southwestern Exposition meet in Fort Worth, the Texas Relays at Austin and the Drake Relays at Des Moines. He was invited back this year because of his chance to win the vaulting event. It was practically conceded to him after his good showing against some of the country's best last year, stars who will not attend Saturday's meet. But Cowan has been in ill health all spring, a sufferer of blood poisoning, and it was only recently that he returned to practice. He will be competing in his first meet of the year Friday and Saturday. His best leap so far has been an even 12 feet, but he believes he can better 13 feet at the Drake meet.

Hurdles And 2-Mile

Marsh Farmer, Fort Worth boy, will run the high hurdles in Tech colors. He has been looking good of late, qualifying in the university division of the recent Texas Relays, and running against the stop watch at the Tech field in close to his best time.

The grueling two-mile run will find John Case, Petersburg product, somewhere in the field, and Huffman thinks he'll be near the front.

The Tech delegation expects to arrive in Des Moines Thursday evening, probably in time for limbering up exercises. Preliminaries in the meet are scheduled Friday, with finals Saturday.

Red Raider Golfers To Play Texas Wesleyan And TCU At Ft. Worth

Texas Tech's golf team, leaving behind two of its best players, including the No. 1 player, leave today for a weekend of intercollegiate golf in Fort Worth.

Their first road trip of the season will be marked by matches against two Fort Worth teams. The Red Raiders play Texas Wesleyan college in doubles and singles Thursday, and meet Texas Christian university in a 36-hole doubles match Friday, 36-hole singles competition Saturday. Thus the Tech golfers will play 108 holes of golf over the three-day span.

Allen In Hospital

The matches will be conducted over the popular Glen Garden course, home course for both the Fort Worth college teams.

Coach J. W. Jackson is taking only four men on the trip. Bob Hale, the only available letter man, will play in the No. 1 slot. James Douglas of Shamrock, Lindsey Telford of Lubbock and Jack Carlson of Brownwood are the others. The teams regular No. 1 player, Manson Allen, still remains in a local hospital, and Glen Stephenson, medalist in the recent Texas Tech intramural tournament, showed up yesterday with a sprained ankle.

The team will return home Sunday, Jackson said.

FIGHT CANCELLED

SEATTLE, April 20. (AP)—Promoter Nute Druxman announced cancellation tonight of the scheduled middleweight title bout here May 4 between Champion Freddie Steele of Tacoma, Wash., and Ken Overlin of Richmond, Va., because of Overlin's illness.

Babylonian astrologers held the number 13 to be unlucky.

ew Borrowing Started

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 20. — The asury launched a new borrowing ration this week, opening bids on ,000,000 of discount bills issued anticipation of third-quarter in- e tax receipts in mid-September. ecretary Morgenthau said he ex- ted to borrow $50,000,000 weekly an indefinite period to main- n the treasury's cash working ance.

Discount Bills Come Due

The new borrowing aroused ape- ation by federal financial auth- ties as to whether further bond es would be necessary in June. count bills aggregating $300,- 000 come due then, coincident h June 15 tax receipts.

Fiscal experts said the major tors of uncertainty were the sav- s to result from the president's er for sharp economy by all de- rtments for the remainder of the r and the figure to be fixed as cessary for relief.

Can't Balance Budget

Many officials saw little hope the dget could be balanced by the be- nning of the 1938 fiscal year as Roosevelt predicted last Jan- y.

Tax receipts were $100,000,000 be- y estimates in March, indicating al receipts for the period possibly l be as much as $500,000,000 be- y the estimates on which the sident's prediction was based.

Milky Way Hosses Reach Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20. (AP)—Churchill Downs railbirds were convinced today Trainer Bob McGarvey means business with his Derby candidates.

McGarvey and his troupe of 29 Milky Way thoroughbreds got in from Texas at dusk Monday night, but at sunup he was at the track with Case Ace, Military and Reaping Reward, equal choice in the winter books with Pompoon.

The three candidates were jogged, but not timed. Hardboots believed McGarvey was showing them merely to dispel reports he had withheld them from the Texas Derby due to shortcomings in their condition.

Another of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' thoroughbreds, Mrs. Shield, a filly, won the Texas Derby without difficulty.

Kelley Petillo Is Retiring Again—Who Believes It?

INDIANAPOLIS, April 20. (AP) — Kelly Petillo, swarthy little Italian who gave up truck driving to win the 500 mile automobile race here in 1935, has quit racing again—but no one believes him.

After his victory two years ago Kelly bought a fruit farm in California and announced he was through risking his neck on the speedways.

Last year he entered a car in the 500-mile grind and, in support of his intention to quit, signed Doc Mackenzie to drive it. For 385 miles Doc did a fine job of driving and was in fourth place, close behind the leaders. Then something went wrong with the carburetor and for the next two and half minutes mechanics worked over it.

Two and half minutes is a lot of time to lose when cars are travelling at more than 100 miles an hour and when the carburetor finally was fixed the Petillo entry was back in eighth place and Kelly decided something had to be done quickly.

He forgot his decision to quit racing, climbed into the cockpit and started chasing the seven drivers ahead of him.

At the finish Kelly was in third place and the money—$5,000 of it.

That's why the railbirds don't believe Kelly when he says he's through racing.

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 20. (AP)—The Rew, sporting the colors of L. J. Killion's stable, clipped Mr. Ricks at the wire by a head today to take the fifth and feature event on a racing program that drew 4,000 fans despite rain.

Mr. Ricks, Mrs. J. M. Irwin's four-year-old son of Bulldog, hustled away from the barrier with lightning speed and led the pack of ten racers throughout but could not withstand the winner's rush.

Leros, the candidate of Mrs. E. McCuans, rated evenly in sixth position until entering the stretch, then under strong urging pulled up for show money and outdistanced Transport by one length.

50 To 1 Shot Wins

The Rew, badly overlooked at the mutuel windows, paid $31.80, $10.60, and $4.80. Mrs. Ricks paid $9.30, $4.70. Leros paid 3.00. The winner ran the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5.

The fortunate ones who selected Miss Flicker and Little Coed for their daily double combination were rewarded by $324.00.

Form players took a lacing in the first event as Troubadora, a 50-to-1 shot, bounced across the wire and rewarded the scattering few with $102.90 for a $2.00 certificate.

"Oil No Longer A Game, It Is Texas' No. 1 Cash Crop," Dallas Man Declares

KILGORE, April 20. (AP) — Freeman W. Burford, Dallas oil man, today told the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce that "Oil is no longer a game, it is Texas' No. 1 cash crop."

Burford said "systematic withdrawal of oil under proration means much to every Texas business man. Our oil laws and conservation practices are good, but we must be ever watchful of the administration of those laws."

The speaker urged a program under which Texans would refine their own oil, pack their beef, manufacture cotton goods and grind Texas wheat.

Roosevelt High's Problem Is To Cut Down Heavy Running

Now that new uniforms have been issued to the club, Coach Roy Boyd of Roosevelt High school probably will see what, if anything, he can do about this scoring problem.

About the scoring—it's not that his boys are suffering from failure to tab runs, but that they don't seem to be able to stop the hit and run parade.

In the two games they have played this season 62 runs have been marked up!

They lost, 23 to 15, to Cooper in their first game and won 16 to 8, from Shallowater last week.

Friday, they will play Shallowater at Shallowater; April 30, they will take Idalou at Roosevelt; May 7 they go to Idalou and, May 14, Cooper goes to Roosevelt for the season's wind-up game.

Motion Pictures Of Manufacture Of Cheese Are Shown At Tech

Motion pictures showing manufacture of cheese have been shown several times at Texas Technological college this week and will be shown in Lamesa Thursday night.

Approximately 20 cheese manufacturers and employes of this area saw the film Monday night in the agricultural building at the college. It was shown to agricultural classes Tuesday and to the Dairy club Tuesday night.

The Lamesa manager of Kraft-Phoenix corporation will sponsor the showing there, said K. M. Renner, head of the Tech dairy manufacturing department. The movie was loaned by a Fondulac, Wis., company.

Increase In Crude Production Noted

TULSA, Okla., April 20. (AP)—An increase of 36,400 barrels daily in the nation's production of crude oil during the week ending April 17 brought a new peak of 3,462,350 barrels daily for the period, the first new high mark since March 23, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma had an increase of 15,775 barrels daily and a new total of 657,400 barrels. East Texas decreased 599 barrels daily to 400,098 while total Texas increased 26,864 barrels daily to 1,375,925.

California production dropped 4,500 barrels daily to 620,500 and Kansas increased 13,800 barrels daily to 192,575 barrels.

Eastern states including Michigan declined 151 barrels daily to 156,813 while the Rocky Mountain section increased 6,050 barrels daily to 75,510.

Constitutional Amendment Is Urged For Court Proposal

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP) — Mrs. Vinton E. Sisson of Chicago, national defense chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution, said today she would urge the D. A. R. congress to ask that President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan be submitted to the people in constitutional amendment form.

"It is time we stood up and were counted," said Mrs. Sissons, who wrote letters to the D. A. R. membership several weeks ago saying there were "dangers" in the president's plan.

Neuritis Driven From Her Body

Gly-Cas Conquers Stubborn Case For Mrs. George Sleeper; Stomach And Kidneys Regulated Too; "Never Before A Medicine Like It," She Declares

"For ten years before I learned of Gly-Cas, my stomach had been badly disordered," said Mrs. George Sleeper, 10 Hobson Ave., Hot Springs, Ark. "I would endure awful gas pains around my heart until I could not sleep. I would walk the floor at night as my stomach would burn terribly. I was very nervous, everything I ate bothered me and even water made me gag. I was terribly nauseated, vomited and was hardly able to work. My kidneys added to my distresses too but what caused me such horrible suffering was the dreadful neuritis. Those sharp stabbing pains would come in my neck, shoulders, arms and legs until I could hardly stand it. At times my arms would become entirely lifeless, had no feeling in them at all. I did not know where to turn next when friends persuaded me to give Gly-Cas a trial.

MRS. GEORGE SLEEPER

"I did not realize a medicine as remarkable as Gly-Cas had been discovered," she continued. "My stomach and kidneys soon began to function properly again. I now eat practically anything I want without gas, bloating or sour stomach. Those vomiting spells have ended, nerves quieted and I am feeling like an entirely different person. Even that dreadful neuritis is rapidly getting better in every part of my body. Those awful stabbing pains have been relieved and I cannot say half enough in praising such a remarkable remedy. Gly-Cas is one medicine that can be depended upon."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Well Near Hobbs Is Still Blazing High

Blazing out of control over the pit of Continental's State 2C 16 No. 1 oil well near Hobbs, N. M., a 165-foot torch roars into a mighty column of fire that can be heard eight or nine miles.

So brilliant is the flare automobile lights are ineffective 20 miles away, said W. E. Twitty, Lubbock fire chief who returned from there after delivering approximately 1,000 feet of fire hose.

Body Never Found

Into the inferno, which was set off Thursday morning when there was a blowout of packing in a blowout preventing device, was plummeted Otis Hood, 24, of Hobbs and formerly of Snyder. His body never has been found. He was on the derrick when last seen.

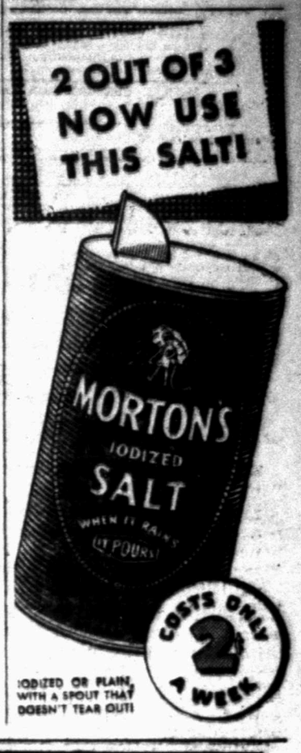

Two others, George Barlow and W. L. Barrett, both of Hobbs, died after being injured at the same time, and several others were hurt.

Chief Twitty said the fire, fed by gas and oil under pressure of 1,250 pounds had been shot twice in an effort to "straighten up the flames, which were blowing out horizontally." The blaze is 160 feet high and 30 feet in diameter.

"They didn't want to put out the fire yesterday because they knew oil would cover the whole section," said the chief. He said the fire hose was taken, not to attempt extinguishing the blaze, but to "cool things off around the well."

All hospitals of importance employ air conditioning in their operating rooms.

Most of the sunflower seed and oil used in the United States comes from Russia, the Ukraine, and Rumania.

History Is Repeating Itself

LIKE a little humor, "a little history now and then is relished by the best of men" and the present rookus in Spain has a military background well worthy of peeking into, as Dr. S. S. McKay, who teaches history out at Tech, or any other well informed person will agree.

Those who like to compare present and past military performances have been looking into Spain's siege and street fighting record. They have dug up several interesting facts. Two thousand years ago, when Hannibal took Saguntum, he had to spend eight months smashing four city walls. The Spanish defenders built new walls as the Carthaginian invaders broke the old ones down. And they did plenty of fighting between walls. It required real fighting men to hold up Hannibal for eight months. The gentleman from Carthage was a fast military worker.

The centuries rolled by, with the Spaniards getting plenty of practice from time to time in siege and street fighting. Finally, almost in our own times, the Napoleonic wars of a century and a half ago, 30,000 Frenchmen found taking Zaragoza a very tough job indeed. Those 30,000 Frenchmen were well-trained, seasoned fighters. They were led by a veritable posse of Napoleon's extremely able marshals. But they had to pound away for nine months before they got into the city of Zaragoza; and, after that, there were weeks of street fighting before the French finally won full control of the city.

History has been repeating itself in the present Spanish civil war. The Fascist insurgents proved themselves pretty good at holding out against siege in Toledo's Alcazar and at Oviedo. But the classic example of the present war seems to be the Spanish Loyalists' defense of Madrid. Months have passed since Franco's Fascists were supposed to be within a day or two of capture of Madrid.

Airplanes, heavy artillery, tanks, etc., are supposed to have revolutionized warfare. But, apparently, revolutionized warfare can't kill the old Spanish custom of fighting to the last barricade.

And press wires, carrying day-by-day history, add credence to the assumption.

With Our Contemporaries

"Well, they have brought in another oil well in South Hockley county, which is just two and a half miles from Tech college." Old Andy Jack Stricklin, the lone wolf of Terry, shouts in the Terry County Herald. "Those in Garza, Gaines, Yoakum and Cochran are right in Lubbock's back yard. Wonder the oil don't spray Sharley Churnal Guy and J. Sham Lewis even up in their second story roosts." (We've never claimed any of the oil wells in our back yard, neither have we played up a double column box of a 5,000-barrel gusher that only ran 75 or 80 barrels in the tanks.)

The One-Minute Sermon

Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.

But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and truth. —St. John IV, 22 through 24.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOO

THE GOOD BARTENDER

On March 30, 1937 Andrew Finnegan, of Huntington, N. Y., celebrated his 45th year behind the old mahogany bar, dispensing beer, liquor, and wines. During these 45 long years he has never taken a drink of liquor, wine or beer. Neither has he ever smoked a cigarette nor a cigar in his life. Associated with him in business are his three sons, conducting Finnegan's Tap Room at 5 Wall Street, in Huntington, where the father is still active, putting in regular hours behind the bar every day in the week, and Believe It or Not Mr. Finnegan has six children ranging in age from 21 to 36 years, all unmarried and living at home.

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The gaiety of the Christmas party at "Thunder Mesa," the de Forest hacienda in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL SAM DE FOREST, eldest of three brothers, is found dead with a knife in his throat.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." As a family they cling to traditions, seldom see outsiders. PEARL JOHN is the youngest brother. PEARL PIERRE next. Others at the house are: TANTE JOSEPHINE, old and an invalid; BETTY WELCH, her young companion; RAMON VASQUEZ and ANGELIQUE ABEYTA, guests at the party; PROFESSOR SHAW, archeologist; and BOB GRAHAM, tire salesman stopping at the hacienda until his car is repaired.

The body of Pearl Sam, placed in the house chapel, disappears. Bob hears Tante Josephine, in a hysterical outburst, accuse each of the remaining brothers of Pearl Sam's murder.

Ramon and Angelique see Pearl Pierre poking about the embers of the burned Christmas greens. Later they discover that the body of Pearl Sam has been burned.

Back at the hacienda, Angelique flirts with Pearl Pierre to see if she can learn from him anything about the murder. Next morning Pearl Pierre is missing. The house and grounds are searched and Pearl Pierre's body is found below a rocky ledge, the same knife that killed Pearl Sam in his throat.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

It was, beyond doubt, another murder, Pearl Pierre had not slipped on the snow and fallen to his death. There had been a mysterious hand striking him down with the knife, then pitching him over the edge of the mesa.

Pearl John stared down at his brother's lifeless body.

Ramon Vasquez took off his overcoat and carefully covered the body, then motioned to the Indian and Boy to help carry it to the house. Betty slipped her arm into Pearl John's and the strange little procession started back across the snow. Not a word was spoken until they entered the patio. Then Pearl John seemed to have recovered enough to direct them to take the dead man to the chapel. This time, however, as they left the room he locked the door and put the key in his pocket.

"We don't want anything to happen as it did to Pearl Sam," he said. "I think we had all better go to the living room now and see what we can find out."

As they walked to the front of the house everyone was keenly conscious that each of the others was a potential murderer. This time there could be no doubt that the person who had committed the crime was on the mesa. The sinister knife had been on the premises, although everyone had supposed it had been put away in safe keeping. The crude, hand-chipped point of black, glass-like rock had struck twice at the household on Thunder Mesa. Would there be another victim? If so, who would it be?

As though he, too, had the same thought, Pearl John announced, "I have decided to destroy the obsidian knife. It seems, still, to crave sacrificial blood and I'm going to pound it to powder."

Professor Shaw moved forward and looked down at Pearl John intently. "You can't do that, de Forest!" he protested, his voice shaking. "You'd be destroying one of the most valuable relics in this country. I beg you to sell it to the Museum and let me take it away where it can be studied and preserved. Almost any price can be arranged. Don't act so hastily. It would set back the work of archeologists here in New Mexico immeasurably to destroy the knife. I hope, by means of it, to prove a contention I've been working on for years."

"As if the knife hasn't already played its part, as far as you are concerned. Professor," answered Pearl John icily.

"Now, de Forest, that's treating Professor Shaw pretty rough, isn't it?" Ramon interceded. "We all understand what a blow you've just had, but, after all, you haven't a clear idea, yourself, what happened to the knife when your oldest brothers' body disappeared, have you?"

Pearl John colored and, after a minute, he turned to the professor. "Forgive me, please. I shouldn't have said what I did. But—" his lips set hard, "I still am going to dispose of the knife. I shall never have a minute's peace until that is done."

Ramon laid a hand on his host's arm. "Listen, de Forest. I've an archeologic interest in the knife, too. Although I've never had the chance to examine it closely, from what the professor says it must be of more than ordinary value. I'd think twice before destroying it."

"So?" Pearl John did not say what was in his mind, but the manner in which he looked at the other man was eloquent. Ramon shrugged and turned away.

Pearl John went to the door and called a servant. "Tell Broke Shield to bring the heaviest sledge hammer from the shop here to me," he directed. "You may as well all see me do this," he added meaningly. "I think we'll all feel safer when we know the knife is no longer in existence."

Professor Shaw walked rapidly up and down the room while they waited, as though trying to think of some way to dissuade de Forest. Finally Bob said irritably, "For gosh sake, Professor, do you have to prance around like that? We're all on edge, you know."

"Pardon." The archeologist paused in the doorway. "I'll be in my room if you want me. I can't stay here and see this thing done. It's too outrageous, too preposterous!" He stamped off down the hall.

The Indian, coming to the door just then, distracted everyones attention from the excited scientist.

"Stay here, Broken Shield," ordered Pearl John. "I'm going to see that the obsidian knife is destroyed and you may as well be the one to do it. I'd like you to know, too, that the knife is no longer available for use." His tone was biting as he looked at the man with a penetrating glance.

"You mean," began the Indian, "you want me break knife?"

"Pound it to powder, so we won't find it in someone else's throat," replied de Forest.

"No." The Indian drew himself up. "Sacred knife. Indian gods bring bad medicine to anyone who breaks knife."

De Forest shrugged disdainfully. "It's already brought plenty of bad medicine to two persons in this house. I'm going to see to it that nobody else goes to the Happy Hunting Grounds by its help."

Once more the Indian spoke earnestly, his dark face suddenly alight with feeling. Bob watched him, trying to fathom just what emotion was in his mind.

"Knife came from sacred kiva," Broken Shield said. "Very old—very strong medicine. Broken Shield not touch it to harm knife. The gods strike sure—pronto."

"There certainly seem to be a lot of people interested in keeping this cursed old thing in existence," remarked Pearl John sarcastically. "Perhaps, Broken Shield, you can tell us just how the knife disappeared after my oldest brother's death?"

"No," answered the Indian. "I not know. Not see until today."

"And it was in Pearl Pierre's throat when you got down there to his body on the rocks?" demanded Pearl John.

"Yes. I see it. It was in throat." The man motioned with one hand to his own neck.

"Um!" Pearl John took a turn about the room while the others watched him silently. "In his throat, eh?" He stopped opposite the Indian, his lips set in the thin line that Bob had noticed more than once.

"In his throat—" Pearl John repeated. "Just as it'll be in some other throat unless it is destroyed. There are entirely too many people who seem to have a reason for wishing that knife kept."

Ramon leaped to his feet in rage. "I resent that implication, de Forest," he roared. "Just because Professor Shaw and I see no reason for ruining a valuable artifact is no proof that we've been murdering your family. Since you've been so free to express your suspicions, let me remind you that, after all, you are the one here who really gains by the death of the older members of the family. As for him," pointing to the Indian, "the knife undoubtedly holds some religious significance."

Pearl John's face turned scarlet with fury. Then, with an effort, he got control of himself and said quietly, "We won't discuss this further, Vasquez. There's been too much blood spilled already. I am going to the chapel now and get the obsidian knife. If no one else will do it, I shall destroy it myself and take whatever curses heathen gods care to send upon my head."

He walked quickly to the door,

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ROOSEVELTIANS who are usually well informed are passing around word that the President will stow away his rabbit-producing hat with the adjournment of Congress some time in early fall. Then, they hint, he will have no more political or industrial worlds to conquer.

Important people who have listened to these promises before (Remember the famous "breathing spell" proclamation of 1935?) shy off with their fingers in their ears. But there is more substance for belief now because, barring a Congressional revolution which nobody expects, Mr. Roosevelt will have attained his major aims when the gavel falls. These include Supreme court and government reorganization, new revenue through a tax bill, fresh controls of farm crops and labor conditions. Not even the hungriest New Dealers can ask for another helping of experiments.

F.D.R.'s practical helpers—Cummings, Roper, Farley—favor the scheme if only for political reasons. They crave peace and prosperity that will read well on the party books by 1940. The "brain trusters" are anxious to see how all their experiments will operate. Best proof is that B. T. "Tommie" Corcoran plans to return to private law practice in September.

SHORTAGE: President Roosevelt's Ickes-to-Hopkins shift may have come just in time to save the government unestimated millions of dollars. Insiders suggest that more than the announced desire to check overexpansion of heavy industries lies behind the new spending program.

It seems that several construction companies have brought suit against the government because they were forced to use unskilled labor in accord with last summer's ruling that P.W.A. help must be obtained from relief rolls. The companies bid on the contracts before the change was announced, and naturally submitted estimates in the expectation that they would employ skilled workmen. Due to the inefficiency of the labor they were required to use, the final exceeded estimates, and they are suing to recover.

For the same reason cities and states are continuing to cancel P.W.A. loans, as Whirligig revealed some time ago; they don't dare to build their institutions with workers untrained in the use of expensive machinery. The two incidents seem to settle the disputed question of whether such a shortage has crept up on us.

PLANS: Politicos of both parties are intrigued by the recurrent report that "Phil" La Follette will make a serious bid for a presidential nomination in 1940. Ordinarily the idea would not be taken seriously so far in advance, but the La Follette family is noted for its long-headedness.

The story is that the Wisconsin governor has been chosen at an old-fashioned family council as the member with the brightest chances for the high office. Whereas the Senator is more studious, perhaps more deeply grounded in social and economic understanding, he lacks the fire of political appeal. "Phil" is the orator, the campaigner, the banner-waver. Until their father's unexpected death necessitated a shift, "Phil" was destined to supplant the elder La Follette in the senate. But he was too young at the time.

Whether the governor has picked his political bride—his party—isn't known, but anything can happen within the next four years. Likeliest guess is that he aims to build a new Farmer-Labor alliance on the basis of liberals in both groups, perhaps with Lewis' C.I.O.-ers as a nucleus. Failure of F.D.R. to develop a liberal heir-apparent would strengthen the scheme.

GLOATS: President Roosevelt has lately unsheathed his anti-newspaper complex in more pointed style than he usually adopts.

When somebody suggested that certain newspapers had accurately forecast his reelection, he cupped his ears as if to imply that the statement was incredible. Mentioning half a dozen by name, he ribbed them for hailing the Wagner ruling as a "great decision" in the face of earlier editorials that a favorable finding would be not only impossible but destructive. In an off-the-record speech he ridiculed the style and content of a leading Republican organ, whose editors were present.

F.D.R.'s friends laugh off suggestions that there is any significance in his attitude. "Isn't he entitled to a gloat or two?" they retort.

YESTERDAYS: William Gibbs McAdoo whose best political years are behind him, has been reveling in scenes of his glory.

Washington movie houses have been showing news reels of 1917, including shots of treasury conferences afters as he singles out his flickering self on the tary McAdoo and New York bankers. In those days the California Senator ranked second only to President Wilson, and was known as the "crown prince." The White House seemed just around the corner—or across the street!

Today he sits in a 55-cent seat in darkened theat which financing of the war was discussed by secrescreen so that his new, young wife may learn what a "big shot" he was—once.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

WHEN Madame Secretary Perkins invited Myron Taylor of United States Steel to her Wagner act party, she undoubtedly chose the only leader of the steel industry who knows anything about collective bargaining with organized labor. His is still the only important steel concern which has recognized the C.I.O. union.

But by the same token, if she wanted to obtain the interest and cooperation of the rest of the industry, she would have been well advised to send a bid to Ernest Weir of National Steel or Tom Girdler of Republic or Eugene Grace of Bethlehem as well. Because it's a rock-bottom cinch that none of them is going to do anything on Myron Taylor's say-so.

Twice within the past year, Mr. Taylor has caused serious internal disruption within the Iron and Steel Institute. Once was during the campaign, when his visits to the White House and the ad he caused to be placed in the Democratic campaign book seemed too much like trafficking with the enemy to suit his belligerent fellowmagnates. Second, and worse, was his recent recognition of John Lewis. So his influence with other steel corporations is practically nil at present.

REDS: Communists are taking a lot of credit to themselves these days. Circulars widely distributed in New York, urging participation in the annual May Day demonstration, wave the red flag in a decidedly boastful manner.

It is strongly intimated—though the Reds haven't quite got the gall to say so in so many words—that steel workers won collective bargaining and auto workers won their strikes because they had Communist support. John Lewis and Homer Martin will doubtless be pleased to learn this.

The democracy pose is emphasized in current communist literature, as is the appeal to negroes. The only recruiting gains of any importance the New York City Reds have scored recently have been among blacks, whose economic plight has not been bettered much by recovery. A significant gesture of political self-abnegation—the Communist party urges strngthening of the new American Labor party in New York state. The aim is to capture control of that party behind the scenes. The effort will be worth watching.

EASED: The government bond market has benefited from a firmer undertone ever since Secretary Morgenthau sadly announced that the Treasury was going to have to borrow some more money before the end of June after all. It is an ironic and characteristic paradox of the bond market that it should grow stronger instead of weaker when hopes that the federal government is all through new borrowing are disappointed.

The reason for this illogical turn of events is that bond dealers and institutional investors are now comfortably positive the government MUST support the market and keep prices from sagging. It cannot afford a sustained sag, with further financing staring it in the face.

On this basis, the pressure to sell has eased and everybody feels much happier.

OBSERVER WRITES

Editor, The Avalanche: For sometime I have been keenly interested in changing conditions, the trend of the times. I am candid in this statement, that in all my life I have never heard of such disgraceful amusements as we have had in our little city in the last few weeks. Why is it necessary? Why can't we have amusements without a hint at the suggestive?

If it were announced that Jesus would be in Lubbock on a certain date, would you go to see Him, and where would you expect to find Him? At a female wrestling match on prayer meeting night, a strip tease party, a ball park on Sunday afternoon, a gambling den, or at a movie, looking at some suggestive picture of a triangle love affair?

Isn't it about time for us to lay aside our compromising with the world, quit trying to laugh it off and really do some serious thinking? We must remember that God is a God of wrath and justice, as well as a God of love and mercy.

Recently when I would hear of a promising young man or a lovely young woman yielding to temptation, or some terrible tragedy overtaking some other young person, I have wondered if we, as professing Christians, are asking ourselves this question, wherein are we failing?

God says, "How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity, and the scorners delight in their scorning and fools hate knowledge? Because I have called and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand and no man regarded; But ye have set at naught all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

"I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh

"When your fear cometh as desolation and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

"Then shall they call me, but I will not answer; they shall not find me.

"Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices."

We may continue saying, in our mad rush for pleasure, "on with the dance. Let or amusements be inc fined." We must have our beer. W do we care? But just that sure th is going to be a day of judgme What then?

A Close Observer.

Suggestions For Safe Driving

(Talk Number Two)

OUR BRAKES

One of the most important things in Safe Driving is to be able to stop when necessary.

Constant or regular checking of your brakes is absolutely necessary to make your brake service always dependable.

Everybody knows this—but somehow don't attend to it regularly and systematically.

Brakes give you plenty of notice when they need adjustment—the responsibility is YOURS.

Drive so you won't need to use your brakes too often or too suddenly. That breaks them down and causes frequent adjustments.

MAKE MODEL PLANES

ASHINGTON. (AP)—More than ars ago the Wright brothers ructed airplane models to test their flying theories. Today United States office of educa- estimates that more than 500,000 boys in this country are enrolled in model aircraft clubs, construct- ing model planes and flying them.

Some boys, the office says, have received as much as $300 for a scale model of an airplane for exhibition purposes.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 81

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Raglan's eager examination of the mysterious stela revealed two notches, as the chart had indicated. Through these he sighted like a surveyor. There! That clump of tangled growth! He would clear it away—and uncover the secret passage to the Lost City. . .

. . . Meanwhile the monsters continued the even tenor of their beastly, isolated lives. Only once in years had any of them ventured from the Dead City. That was when they had sallied forth to capture D'Arnot and Couchart on the outer fringe of their realm.

D'Arnot, who had been long among them, was granted a certain amount of freedom. Queen Zalya decided that close confinement might kill him too soon, and she wanted him to live—she wanted to enjoy his tortures. Escape from her domain, she believed, was impossible.

But D'Arnot's every waking hour was occupied with thoughts of flight. He must find the hidden passage from the city. He must be waiting outside to warn Tarzan, for if the resourceful ape-man found his way in, he would surely be overcome by the monster horde!

Diplomats Are Named By FDR

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Roosevelt has nominated four career diplomatic appointees for posts in Europe and Latin America, including Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., of Pennsylvania to be ambassador to Poland.

The executive also sent to the senate the name of Florence Jaffray Harriman, of the District of Columbia, to be minister to Norway, succeeding Biddle.

Other nominations were Robert Scoville Caldwell of Texas to be minister to Bolivia and Herbert Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island to be minister to Portugal in place of Caldwell.

Senate Confirms Group

At the time the nominations were submitted the senate confirmed a number of diplomatic appointments including:

Lawrence A. Steinhardt, of New York as ambassador to Peru.

George Morris Dearing, of Missouri, minister to Sweden.

Leonard Albright, of Tennessee, as minister to Costa Rica.

Arthur Schoenfeld, of Washington, D. C., as minister to Finland.

Henry Norweb, of Ohio, as minister to the Dominican Republic.

Robert C. Wendelin, of Massachusetts as consul.

Wendelin, young recruit in the career service, was in charge of the American embassy at Madrid during the early months of the Spanish civil war.

Jewels Valued At $100,000 Taken In Street As Robber Fails In Holdup Attempt

LONDON, April 20. (AP) — Jewels valued at $100,000 bounced along Piccadilly Regent street Monday when a robber attempted to hold up a jewels messenger.

The gems, including coronation jewels and heirlooms left for alteration were being brought from a safe. The messenger was struck on the head by his assailant. As he fell, his bag burst, scattering the jewels along the sidewalk.

The robber escaped. All the jewels were recovered.

It is estimated that more than 1,000 persons write to the British Broadcasting Company every day.

SELECTED STOCKS RALLY

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP) — Selected stocks scampered up the rallying ladder in today's stock market but many issues were unable to get a foothold.

While gains generally ranged from fractions to around 2 points, afew favorites swung much higher. An assortment of new year's tops was registered during the day, but there were also a number of new lows and losses were plentiful at the finish.

Buying inspiration was attributed by brokers principally to the continued flow of exceptionally pleasing first quarter earnings statements and indications considerable improvement will yet be seen in leading lines before any substantial recession sets in.

The president's message to congress requesting $1,500,000,000 for the relief budget created hardly a ripple on the surface of the share list. Details were about what had been forecast in Wall Street quarters.

Transfers totaled 1,127,960 shares compared with 817,320 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up ⅝ of a point at 70.7.

Suits For Breach Of Promise And Alienation Of Affections Are Outlawed In Colorado

DENVER, April 20. (AP)—Only the approval of Governor Teller Ammons was required today to outlaw suits for breach of promise and alienation of affections in Colorado.

The state senate passed unanimously a bill prohibiting not only breach of promise and alienation actions but also civil suits for seduction of adult females.

In parts of Victoria, Australia, mice have become such a pestilence that they run over the beds of sleeping people and even attack cats.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)—It took all day but cotton finally finished with net advances of 50 to 75 cents a bale after floundering in a narrow range for most of the session.

The opening was steady, a point or two lower. Then selling increased and prices slipped off around 50 cents a bale. At midday the market was back to the previous closing and the two afternoon hours were given over to running up small net gains of 10 to 15 points.

An uncertain air permeated the day's dealings. Liverpool was decidedly optimistic over the European situation and cabled favorable advices, but that influenced little buying at New Orleans. Instead, liquidation in May by those who wished to be out of the position for first notice day proved sufficient to unsettle the whole market.

May closed at 13.21 at New Orleans, up 10 points, July gained 11 points to 13.26 and Oct was up 14 points at 12.10. Middling spot cotton was up 13 points at New Orleans and 13.63 cents a pound for middling.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Cotton recovered $1 a bale or more from early losses on moderate trade and Wall Street buying. Contracts became scarce and the market easily responded to demand.

July rallied from 13.14@13.39 and closed at 13.35 with final prices 9 to 11 points net higher.

The market opened unchanged to 4 points lower and eased to net losses of 6 points to 11 points accumulation of foreign selling orders. Rains in the western belt and nervousness following Monday's sharp reactions checked buying until the market was within a few points of the lows of last Friday. Buying on a scale-down for trade and Wall Street account developed and locals covered on a morning rally in stocks and grains.

Prices moved irregularly in the afternoon but the undertone was steady and final prices were within 2 to 5 points of the highs.

Reports from Washington the Agricultural Adjustment administration was planning a broad program of production control to be used as a last resort in maintaining parities for farm prices attracted some attention.

Exports today 4,341, making a total of 4,878,497 for the season thus far. Port receipts 5,575, U. S. port stocks 1,673,640.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 12.64 cents a pound, for the past 30 days 14.38 cents a pound.

Grains..

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP) — Divergent trends prevailed in wheat dealings today, with price advances the rule relative to May delivery contracts, whereas the value of new crop deliveries declined.

Scarcity of offerings characterized May wheat transactions, and led at times to upturns of 2½ cents a bushel. On the other hand, July and September, which stand for wheat yet to be harvested, fell in some cases 1¼ cents.

A rush of buying on the part of traders who are short of wheat to fulfill requirements next month accompanied the rise of May quotations. Meanwhile, increased selling pressure developed whenever July and Sept. wheat scored gains. Beneficial moisture in sections of domestic winter crop territory southwest and in spring wheat areas northwest was largely responsible for this increased selling.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅝ lower to 1⅜ higher compared with yesterday's finish. May $1.34⅞@1.35, July $1.21⅛@1.21¼, Sept. $1.18⅛@1.18¼, corn unchanged to 1¾ up, May $1.28⅝@1.28⅞, July $1.18⅛@1.18⅜, Sept. $1.09@1.09¼, oats varying from ⅝ setback to an equal advance, May 49⅛@50, and rye ⅝ down to 1⅛ bulge, May $1.11⅝. The provisions outcome was unchanged to five cents off.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 20. (AP)—Only moderate demand was apparent for grain here today.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.50½@1.51½; No. 1 hard 1.49½@1.50½.

Much Activity Is Reported In Hockley County In Oil Leases

LEVELLAND, April 20. (Special) In the backwash of excitement attendant to oil production in the Bob Slaughter No. 1 oil well lease play has flared and prices in several instances have run to as high as $100 and $125 an acre.

All business here is benefitting by the briskness of oil trading.

Naturally, such prices are being paid only in restricted sections. Lease prices range downward to as low as $1 an acre.

The influence is felt in probate actions, there being a diligent effort of almost all to get land titles cleared.

"Almost everything is leased," said County Judge Alvin R. Allison of Hockley county. Even from Levelland to Smyer and to the Lubbock county line the play has extended, defined by varying prices of from $1.50 to $5 an acre, he said.

WTCC Session Plans Arranged

BROWNWOOD, April 20. (Special) Program for the 19th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Brownwood May 10, 11, and 12 has been outlined and includes business discussions and entertainment features of interest to every West Texan.

Brownwood and the WTCC convention office here are making plans to entertain at least 10,000 people.

To Crown Queen

Speakers of national prominence will appear on programs of the convention business sessions. "West Texas Follies of 1937" in which West Texas' most beautiful girl will be crowned queen will be staged Monday and Tuesday nights, May 10 and 11. Dances also will be held Monday and Tuesday nights and other entertainment features are being arranged.

Registration for the convention will begin at 9:00 a. m. Monday. First meeting of the convention work committee, with Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher, as chairman, will be held at the same time. Meeting of the elections committee, with A. B. Crump, Wheeler, as chairman, will be held at 11:00 a. m.

Directors To Meet

WTCC directors will meet at a luncheon at noon with Van Zandt Jarvis, Fort Worth, president, and Mr. Harte in charge. Directors nominated by the almost 200 towns affiliated with the WTCC will be elected.

First group conference of the convention will be held Monday afternoon on "Farm Tenancy and Unemployment." H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, will be chairman.

Preliminaries in the My Home Town Speaking contest will be held Monday afternoon, Monday night and Tuesday afternoon in First Presbyterian church. The finals will be held at the final general assembly of the convention Wednesday morning. C. M. Caldwell, Abilene, is chairman of the contest.

Entertainment Scheduled

First show of the "West Texas Follies of 1937" will be staged at 8:00 p. m. Monday, featuring high-class artists from various West Texas towns, as well as West Texas beauties. Second edition of the Follies will be presented Tuesday night. Dr. Mollie Armstrong, Brownwood, is in charge of the shows. Two dances will be held Monday night with music furnished by well known orchestras. A session of the Work Committee will be held at 9:00 p. m.

First general session of the convention will be held at 10:00 a. m. Tuesday. A speaker of national prominence will appear on the program. President Jarvis will speak. Cities bidding for the 1938 convention will extend their invitations.

Reports To Be Heard

WTCC directors will meet again at noon Tuesday to hear the annual treasurer's report and dispose of resolutions and proposals. West Texas newspapermen and Chamber of Commerce secretaries will be entertained at a luncheon. A band parade and contest will be held under the direction of D. D. McInroe, Brownwood, Tuesday afternoon. From 30 to 40 bands are expected to enter.

Soil conservation, general theme of the entire convention, will be discussed at a group conference at 2:00 p. m. with Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, Lubbock, in charge. Another group conference on oil development, will be held Tuesday afternoon with J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, as chairman.

Grid Game Scheduled

Other features of the second day's program include a football game between Brownwood High School Lions and some other West Texas team, entertainment for sponsors taking part in the West Texas Follies of 1937 and wives of visiting directors, and two dances.

Final report of the work committee will be made at a breakfast for directors Wednesday morning. New officers will be elected and the general manager will be named.

The last general session of the convention will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday. A speaker of national note will address the meeting, finals in the Home Town contest will be held, awards will be presented and the next convention city will be selected.

Visitors wishing to play golf will be furnished courtesy cards to Brownwood Country club. Lake Brownwood will furnish recreation—fishing, boating and swimming—to visitors who wish to remain over for a few days.

All visitors will be urged to attend the general sessions, preliminaries in the Home Town Contest and other programs of the convention.

where he turned. "I should prefer that you all wait here until I come back," he said and then disappeared.

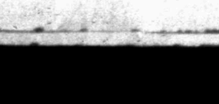

"I feel as though I had a box seat at a blood-curdling mystery play," Bob said in a low tone to Betty, beside him.

"So do I," she answered. "It's as though we were waiting for the curtain to go up and show us how it all happened." She shivered and looked around.

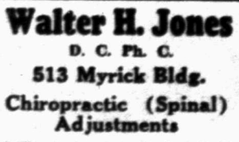

Bob took her hand and held it fast, thinking as he looked down at the soft white fingers what it would mean to him if anything should happen to her. Then he felt those fingers grow tense. Pearl John was standing in the doorway and eyes immediately turned to him.

"The chapel door was still locked," he said slowly, "but someone had removed the obsidian knife."

The father, O. K. Tongate of Brownfield, a young daughter and several brothers and sisters survive.

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable.

You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is saffow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika. Get rid of GAS. Adlerika does not gripe—is not habit forming.

Two Sons Of Mr. And Mrs. H. S. Denton Receive Appointments

Raymond V. Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Denton, 311 Avenue W, recently received a Civil Service appointment with the Interstate Commerce commission in Washington, D. C., his father said Tuesday.

Denton was graduated from Lubbock High school in 1932 after attending school in Spur and Post.

Serving in the army as a student at Fort Belvoir, Va., he was selected by the commission. Denton served a short time at Fort Bliss, Texas, after enlisting in 1934. He was transferred to 8th squadron at Ft. McIntosh, Texas, where he was selected for the Fort Belvoir course. He was one of the youngest member of the study.

Another son, Louis E. Denton was recently appointed second lieutenant in the Cavalry reserve. He will assume his duties on release from William Beaumont General hospital, Fort Bliss, where he recently underwent an appendectomy, Denton said.

Senate Cancels Confirmation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20. — The senate voted confirmation of Robert Lee Williams of Oklahoma as judge of the tenth circuit court of appeals this week and then cancelled its action.

The confirmation was recalled when Minority Leader McNary obtained unanimous consent to return Williams' name to the executive calendar.

McNary explained that Senator Johnson (R-Calif) desired to "make an observation" when Williams' confirmation was considered. Johnson was not present at the session.

Williams, 68, agreed in a letter to Attorney General Cummings to retire when he reaches 70.

YALE ATHLETES LOSE INDURANCE CONTEST

With Battle Creek Sanitarium's Untrained Men Nurses and Doctors

MRS. MARTHA McDONALD

Professor Irving Fisher, eminent economist of Yale University, pitted a group of Battle Creek Sanitarium's untrained men, nurses and doctors against the trained Yale athletes. The nurses and doctors, without anw preparation except their ordinary health, biologic living, put it over the Yale men in every contest. In one test, that of holding the arms out, fifteen of the Sanitarium men made an average of 90 minutes while the fifteen Yale athletes averaged only 11 minutes.

You see, strength and endurance are two wholly different things. Strength depends on size of muscles, BUT ENDURANCE DEPENDS UPON THE STATE OF BLOOD. The corrective diet of Battle Creek foods is one of the most valuable aids to enduring health, regardless of age, diet is important, it is the problem of every mother to her family.

Hear Mrs. McDonald lecture on the famous Battle Creek Foods, sold exclusively at Mark Halsey Drug Store.
