Snow Bears Down On Texas As Floods Threaten In South

Cold Wave Is Forecast For This Section

New Flood Menace Develops In South With Return Of Blustery Weather; Suffering Is Said Widespread

Records Shattered

Snow Predicted In Panhandle Today And Tonight; Much Colder Temperatures Also Said To Be Scheduled

SNOW in the Panhandle and on that section's fringe, including Lubbock, was hinted in weather forecasts for this afternoon and tonight, and much colder weather was indicated.

Prospects of even colder weather Saturday were looming.

A snowstorm and lowering of temperatures would come on the heels of warmer than seasonal weather. Thursday's maximum reading, for instance, was 47 degrees, Sunday's 57, Monday's 52. Early mornings this week, however, have been cold, lowest reading being

Snows Sweep Over Western Plains Area

CHICAGO, Feb. 6. (AP) — Snows swept over the western plains states today, routing sub zero cold temporarily from much of the territory of its recent conquests.

But in North Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa the Arctic weather dug in, and heavy reinforcements from the minus 56 degree polar chill of the Mackenzie basin threatened to renew the hardships of the century's most severe winter.

New Marks Reported

These new marks of its preeminence were reported from various frost bound communities during the day.

The all time cold record at Kirksville, Mo., was surpassed with its fifteenth day of under zero readings.

New Jersey counted its 21st consecutive day of subfreezing temperatures.

Cold weather marks of 50 years standing toppled at Fairmont, Minn., when it tallied its 20th day below zero this morning. It was 18 below there.

33 Degrees Warmer

But that was 33 degrees warmer than Willow City, N. D., current coldest spot in America with an

Postal System Is Rapped By Norris

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP) — Sharply criticizing the present system of postmaster appointments, Senator Norris (R-Neb) declared today it would cost President Roosevelt "millions of votes," but that "one word" from the executive would bring a remedy.

The veteran independent reiterated, however, that he "supported President Roosevelt in 1932 and I intend to support him again." While not referring to James A. Farley by name, he said he thought "a man managing a campaign ought not to be postmaster general."

Only recently, Norris, who has launched previous attacks at the postoffice department, was praised highly by Mr. Roosevelt, who urged voters to keep Norris in the senate as long as he lives "whether he wants to or not."

Evidently The Battle Still Rages—Keys Not Called For

FRESNO, Calif., Feb. 6. (AP) — An irate couple approached Police Lieutenant R. T. Wallace and handed him the keys to their automobile, which they explained was locked in their garage.

"We are having an argument and want you to keep the car keys until we settle it," they said.

Wallace still had the keys today and presumably the battle still rages.

Farwell Jury Frees Hamlin

Jurors Deliberate 55 Hours And Return Verdict Of Acquittal Thursday; Charged In Wife's Death

(By The Associated Press)

FARWELL, Feb. 6.—George S. Hamlin, 47, former Oakland, Calif., fireman, was acquitted here today of murder in connection with the slaying January 4, 1935, of his wife in Amarillo.

Jurors deliberated 55 hours.

Hamlin, whose first trial, held in Amarillo, resulted in a hung jury, sat silent as the verdict was read. There was no visible change of facial expression.

The former fireman's wife of three months was found slain in the Hamlin honeymoon home at Amarillo and he was arrested three days later.

Defense counsel entered an insanity plea, but the acquittal was not based on that plea, according to the verdict.

Charges Of Jap Espionage In Alaska Made At Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP) — Charges of extensive Japanese espionage in Alaska, conducted from vessels ostensibly operated as fishing craft, were sounded today at the capital.

Representative Sirovich (D-NY) asserted that the Japanese actually were engaged in "spotting possible airplane fields and submarine bases." Delegate Dimond (D-Alaska) declared the Asiatic power had amassed detailed information of the territory for use in the event of war. Both spoke before the house merchant marine committee.

New Farm Bill Is Assailed And Defended After Debut

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—The much-revised administration soil conservation-subsidy bill made its senate debut today, beset by bipartisan challenge as to its constitutionality, but defended by many Democrats and a Republican independent.

Termed by opposition senators a "mere subterfuge" to circumvent supreme court restrictions in the AAA decision and possibly "socialistic," the Smith (D-SC) bill was upheld by Democratic members of the agriculture committee as an "honest effort" to help the agrarian population in a legal way.

Agency Supplying Fan And Nude Dancers Is Closed Up

DENVER, Feb. 6. (AP)—Operators of an agency supplying girl fan and nude dancers for parties were sought today by Denver police.

A 15-year-old Dodge City, Kansas, girl, 20 women and three men were under arrest. Police Detective Sam Pinnie, head of the vice squad, said the girl told of obtaining employment at the agency after a dispute with her parents caused her to leave home. Names were withheld.

Surprise For Taxpayers Is Being Hinted

Reports That Administration Tax Bill Might Surprise Country By Being Lower Are Heard At Capital

Needs Are Talked

Future Relief Needs And Recovery Expenditures Are Up For Discussion; New Revenue Sources Sought

By MELBOURNE CHRISTERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. — Reports that the administration's tax bill might "surprise the country" by being smaller than "expected" today emerged from the White House as a prelude to an inconclusive presidential survey of recovery expenditures and future relief needs.

In two separate conferences President Roosevelt went over the New Deal's fiscal outlook with congressional leaders and recovery lieutenants, with these developments:

Bill To Be Ready

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee said a tax bill probably confined to raising between $480,000,000 and $500,000,000 for the new farm program would be ready the first of next week.

He expressed the personal hope on the basis of today's parley that new taxes would not be necessary to pay the bonus.

Heads of the Public Works, Works Progress and Rural Resettlement administrations discussed their financial needs but no announcement was made of possible savings. They will meet with the president again.

Repayments Excessive

Elsewhere in the capital during a busy day of fiscal discussions there were these developments:

1—Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Corporation told reporters the RFC would show an excessive repayment of loans over new commitments, and added that a statement of what loan authorizations can be cancelled might be completed by tomorrow.

2—Justice department attorneys were reported to have advised the administration that any retroactive processing taxes which might be included in a general revenue measure to finance the new farm program must be confined to the current fiscal year which began last July 1.

3—Other officials argued, however, that even if retroactive recovery of these taxes were limited to this year most of the $180,000,000 impounded under the AAA could be recovered.

Doughton and Representative Bankhead (D-Ala), who lunched with the president, reported they had a full discussion of tax needs and possible new revenue sources.

When they emerged, Doughton said:

"I think we will surprise the country by not having to have as large a tax bill as is expected."

Two Governors Will Speak In Texas Independence Day

AUSTIN, Feb. 6. (AP) — Governor Allred announced today that Governor Hill McAlister of Tennessee and Governor Phillip LaFollette of Wisconsin will speak in Texas on March 2, Texas' independence day.

In the morning, Governors Allred and LaFollette will speak at old Washington on the Brazos, commemorating the signing of Texas' declaration of independence. In the afternoon they will join Governor McAlister at Huntsville.

Eight Jurors Are Selected In Turner Smith's Hearing

CHILDRESS, Feb. 6. (AP) — Eight jurors were selected today for the trial of Turner Smith, charged with slaying Brown Warren at a dance last August.

Mrs. Buena Mae Richardson was convicted yesterday in the case and sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary.

The state contended Mrs. Richardson held Warren and that Smith stabbed him to death.

Cline Selected Ambassador Of Good Will To Louisiana

DALLAS, Feb. 6. (AP) — Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, former managing director of the Texas Centennial exposition, became connected with Texas' birthday celebration again today when he was named "ambassador of good will to Louisiana."

Cline, a native of Louisiana, will officially invite the governor of that state to name a special date for Louisiana day at the exposition.

Ensey's Fate Now In Hands Of Jury

No Verdict Reached Late Last Night In Murder Case

(Special To The Avalanche)

FLOYDADA, Feb. 6.—A 110th district court jury deliberating the fate of Melvin Ensey, former honor graduate of Spur High school, for murder, went to bed tonight at 10 o'clock without having reached a verdict.

Arguments were concluded at 5 o'clock this afternoon and the jury received the case immediately. It was allowed an hour's recess for dinner, at 7 o'clock.

Arguments Are Heard

Speakers, in order, were: G. E. Hamilton, special prosecutor. W. D. Wilson of Lubbock, member of defense counsel, followed. After Wilson were Winfred Newsom, Floyd county attorney, for the state; L. G. Mathews of Floydada, for the defense; John Hamilton, county attorney of Matador, for the state; Durwood H. Bradley of Lubbock, for the defense, and Alton B. Chapman, district attorney, who closed for the state.

The state asked for conviction.

Judge A. J. Polley overruled a defense motion for an instructed verdict before summations began. Motion for a suspended sentence, against possibility of conviction, was filed.

Tried For Murder

Ensey was tried for murder growing out of the death at Matador Nov. 22 of J. B. Speegle, 69. Dr. A. C. Traweek, jr., who attended Speegle the night the injured man was found in a car shed of the Speegle camp, testified for the state there were numerous wounds found on the man, and that both jaw bones were broken. Three-count indictment charges Ensey with murder by choking, by striking and pounding and by means unknown to the grand jury. Co-charged is Everett McArthur. Both defendants are of prominent Spur families.

McArthur, whose trial will not be conducted at this term of court, was in the courtroom part of the morning.

A large crowd which all week was present at the trial, at 9 o'clock had dwindled to approximately 100 persons who hung on to await a possible verdict.

Maximum penalty for murder with malice is from one year to life imprisonment or death, for murder without malice two to five years.

Judge Polley indicated he would keep the jury together all Friday, at least, should it arrive at a verdict no earlier.

Mother Defies Snow And Ice

Half Frozen Woman Struggles Across Icy River And 12 Miles Of Snow Drifts To Get Aid For Family

(By The Associated Press)

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Feb. 6.—A mother's struggle across an ice-filled river and through 12 miles of snow drifts to obtain food for her sick husband and 10 children was disclosed today in accounts from the Idaho bad lands.

The mother, Mrs. Thomas Strombaugh reached Salmon City half frozen. A supply of food was sent immediately to the family, marooned on an island in the Salmon river.

The Strombaughs' only means of contact with the shore is a cage, propelled by hand across a suspension bridge.

Cage Is Loosened

Shortly after Strombaugh fell ill several days ago, the cage was loosened by the wind and slipped to a point midway between the island and the mainland.

When the food supply dwindled, Mrs. Strombaugh, none too heavily clad, started across the floating ice, jumping from one ice cake to another.

After several close escapes, she reached the cage and pushed it ahead of her to the other shore.

Then, her clothing drenched with icy water, she trudged the 12 miles through drifted snow to Salmon City.

PRISONER GETS ROUGH

Suddenly whirling around and striking his captor down and kicking him, a large man being taken early today to the police station by Sid Caraway made his getaway. He had not been rearrested at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The man had been to a dance, said authorities.

Ban Upon Slot Machines Will Put Stude Out

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 6. (AP) — A police anti-slot machine campaign may cost the University of Missouri a sophomore.

Carl E. Beilhart, jr. engineering student, put his two mechanical baseball games into storage today after an unsuccessful plea to Prosecutor Wood H. Sapp that they were not gambling devices.

"They paid my room, board and tuition," the youth said. "Unless I find a job or get help somewhere I'll have to drop out of school."

Annual C Of C Banquets Held In Two Cities

Meade F. Griffin Is Principal Speaker At Olton Affair; Senator G. H. Nelson Talks At Ralls Gathering

Two South Plains cities—Olton in Lamb county and Ralls in Crosby—last night observed annual chamber of commerce banquets where citizens gathered to review past accomplishments and to look forward to future progress.

In Olton, 55 miles northwest, Meade F. Griffin, Plainview attorney, was principal speaker and at Ralls Senator G. H. Nelson filled a similar spot. Crowds gathered around the two banquet boards were in festive mood, remindful of the days before the national economic squall. At both programs were heard forecasts that "we're facing a good year and that's sure."

Reports of the two programs, staffed by Avalanche newsmen, follow:

"Civic Baseball Team" Is Named At Ralls Meeting

BY CHAS. A. GUY
Of The Avalanche Staff

RALLS, Feb. 6.—G. H. Nelson, of Tahoka, who left Ralls a few years ago as a former school teacher and chamber of commerce secretary, came back tonight as a state senator and principal speaker at an annual chamber of commerce banquet to tell his one time "home folks" there is something in community building much more valuable and important than material success.

Almost in the role of the "home town boy who made good," for he has "made good" even if, exactly speaking, he is not a product of Ralls, Senator Nelson recalled his earlier service with the Ralls commercial body and counseled his 250 listeners in the municipal auditorium he helped build that "character, neighbors, community spirit and the influence of school and church mean more to any city, large or small, than the number of industries within its gates." Speaking less than an hour and directly to the point, he took as his subject "Fill The Place Where You Are."

Names Civic "Baseball Team"

Harkening back to the past, the speaker recalled Ralls' early experiences in civic work which in later years was to make it famous over the South Plains as a cooperating community bounded not by its city limits but, instead, by its trade territory. "Most of the time," he said, "we want to be too big. We're not satisfied with what we have, even though it is usually too good for us." Couching his terms in baseball language, he picked out a "Ralls civic baseball team" paying honor to men who for years have been bulwarks of their community and neighborhood. His line-

Universal Draft Law To Be Asked By Nation's Veterans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Officials of three major veterans organizations said today they were prepared to press for passage of a universal draft law at this session of congress.

The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans served notice when the bonus was passed that they would seek a law to draft "dollars and men" and to put industrial workers under the draft as well as military workers.

State Victor In First Test Of Lost Laws

Case Heads For Texas Appellate Court For Quick Action; Validity Of One Of Laws Is Upheld

Writ Is Refused

Judge Holds It Improper For Jurist To Nullify Statute Against Crime Denounced By All Other Countries

BY HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 6. — The state withstood an attack on its "lost laws" today and the test case headed for the Texas appellate court for quick action.

District Judge S. W. Dean gave the state a first-round victory by upholding the validity of one of the 150 missing criminal laws. The judge refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus to T. J. Copeland, serving a two-year term in the state penitentiary here for violation of the incest statute.

Notice Of Appeal

A. T. McKinney, state representative serving as attorney for Copeland in the "friendly" test case, immediately gave notice of appeal to the state court of criminal appeals. Both sides said they would ask the appellate court to hear the case as soon as possible.

Thirty-two pages of the 1925 codification of the Texas criminal laws were omitted from the official copy deposited in the secretary of state's office. Investigation disclosed three laws were "lost" through a binder's error.

Judge Dean held it improper "for a district judge to nullify a law against a crime which has been denounced by laws of all countries through the ages."

Legislature Should Act

"In a matter of this importance," he declared, "I don't think a man should be given his liberty until the laws have been passed on by the highest tribunal. If the court of criminal appeals should hold the statutes invalid, the legislature should act quickly to remedy the situation."

McKinney argued that the missing statutes were never enacted into law because they were not included in the enrolled bill in the secretary of state's office.

He made the claim they were in-

Youth Admits Man's Slaying

Murder Of Writer Is Cleared By Confession; Robbery Is Claimed As Motive Rather Than Vengeance

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 6.—The murder of Carl Taylor, globe-trotting writer who pierced some of the secrets of a strange religious sect, the "Penitentes," was marked solved by authorities tonight with the alleged confession of his Spanish-American houseboy.

Sheriff Ross Salazar said he was satisfied with the story of the youth, 16-year-old Modesto Trujillo, that he shot and robbed his friend and employer in Taylor's lonely mountain cabin near here last night.

Boy Is Charged

District Attorney Thomas J. Mabry charged the boy with murder and asserted he was convinced there were no grounds for a theory that vengeance of the Penitentes — inspired by a mad desire to protest their weird rites from the knowledge of un-initiates—lay behind the slaying.

Even Taylor's close friends among New Mexico's artists and writers generally expressed belief that robbery, as Trujillo's asserted confession said, and not revenge was the motive.

They had speculated that indignation of the Penitentes at the man who attempted to probe their darkly mysterious secrets might have prompted the killing.

Tells Of Shooting

Under questioning the houseboy told of shooting Taylor with a small caliber revolver as the writer sat in his lonely cabin in the Sandia mountains.

Following the youth's directions, the officers found nearby $180 in travelers' checks, $14.40 in cash and the writer's billfold and keys. Trujillo said he had taken them from an overcoat.

Costly Tickling

Oscar Shaw, comedian, tickled her so she fell down stairs, sustaining injuries which make it impossible for her to dance, Etna Ross (above), former chorus girl, charges in a suit for $50,000 filed against the actor in New York. The accident, she asserts, occurred in a San Diego theater, when Shaw tickled her ribs.

City Is Open For Business

Life Suddenly Surges Back To Normal In Pekin, Ill., As Strike Is Called Off And Stores Open

(By The Associated Press)

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 6.—Life suddenly surged back to normal in this strike torn community today after a dramatic sequence of events terminated the city-wide shutdown enforced by organized labor.

Members of the trades and labor assembly—de facto rulers of a city of 17,000 persons for 22 hours—ended the paralyzing general holiday they had proclaimed in an effort to force the dismissal of Chief of Police Harry Donahue.

Aggressive Tactics

Their action followed swiftly upon the adoption of aggressive tactics by the town's business leaders. Two hundred of them banded together in a united front and announced they would defy the unionist junta by re-opening their establishments tomorrow. A hurried conference of labor chieftains was called. It ended in their formal announcement at 1:15 p. m. that the widespread moratorium on virtually all phases of commercial activity had been lifted.

"This is a clear cut victory for the forces that have been trying to preserve order," declared Mayor W. E. Schurman. "It should preclude any attempt at similar movements in other cities."

Doors Flung Open

The welcome word "the holiday is over" swept through Pekin with amazing speed. Restaurants, stores, barber shops, groceries, markets, movie houses, beauty parlors, taverns and other places flung open doors that had closed at 3 p. m. Wednesday when groups of strikers warned proprietors to close up—or have their windows smashed.

Vehicles bearing food and fuel moved through the streets. Beer trucks trundled by. Coal provender supplies which had dwindled toward the privation line were quickly replenished. The transient population sat down again to substantial fare.

Debate Rages In Senate As Experts Work

Detailed Outline For Throwing Proposed Program Into Speedy Operation Presented To Chester Davis

Subject To Change

State Boards Would Be Established; County Units Would Be Set Up To Administer All Local Phases

BY JERRY GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—As debate over new farm-aid legislation raged in the senate today, AAA experts placed before Administrator Chester C. Davis a detailed outline for throwing the proposed program into speedy operation.

Their memorandum, prepared quietly and privately, explained how state and county control groups could be organized quickly to carry out aims sought in the soil conservation bill under consideration as a substitute for this invalidated agricultural adjustment act.

Subject To Change

The outline was reported subject to change to conform to alterations which may be made in the legislation. But it was said to be in such form that it may constitute the basis for action regardless of details of the laws final draft.

The memorandum "assumed" the major objective of any farm bill would be to maintain the acreage of crop land normally used for soil-maintaining and soil-improving crops, and to convert from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 acres normally devoted to commercial crops to soil conserving purposes.

Would Call Meetings

Under the outline, meetings of farmers probably would be called in each state for explanation of the new law, and issuance of instructions.

State soil conservation boards would be established to administer the temporary two-year federal subsidy plan in each state. These boards would be similar to present state commodity control boards and membership would include farmers, soil specialists, statisticians and extension service representatives.

County associations also would be set up, and community committees formed to make surveys and administer local phases of the program.

Would Conduct Surveys

Surveys of individual farms would ascertain the total number of acres per farm and the number used for various kinds of crops.

Limits then would be established for "intensive" crop acreage—such as cotton, corn, or wheat—for each county, based on past acreage and production records.

After the appraisals, the boards and associations would establish "standards of performance." These would designate the number of acres which should be planted in soil conserving crops on each farm. Farmers who complied with these standards would receive grants from the

Two Men Injured In Car Accident

H. B. (Jack) Tucker, about 38 years old, salesman for a Lubbock grocery company, and H. E. Rogers, middle-aged Vernon man associated with a lumber company, were injured at approximately 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in an automobile collision near the eastern fringe of Meadow.

Tucker, brought to Clark-Key clinic by J. J. Youngblood of Brownfield, was found to have a crushed chest, several fractured left ribs, a wide cut on the forehead, and bruises.

Rogers was taken to Treadway-Daniels hospital at Brownfield by C. L. Aven, jr., manager of a Brownfield lumber company. His injuries were not determined immediately. He suffered a head cut, and there was a possibility his skull had been fractured. He had numerous bruises, it was understood.

Chances of both men for recovery were believed favorable, barring complications.

Rogers' car was overturned by the impact.

Tucker lives at 1911-A Thirteenth street.

From The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche-Journal Woman's Editor

NOW is the time to think about new spring clothes and beauty in the same breath. Regardless of advice to the contrary, you'll find it more satisfactory to pick clothes to suit your hair, skin and figure than to buy them without forethought and spend months trying to make yourself over so they'll be flattering.

Before you get a suit with slim, straight skirt and nipped-in-at-the-waist jacket, you should consider the size of your hips. Before you decide on a blue dress in a hard, bright shade, you must analyze your skin to see whether or not such a tone will be flattering.

USE YOUR HEAD

DON'T buy these new shorter than short gloves if your wrists are large and not especially pretty. Don't let anyone sell you an absolutely backless, halter neckline evening gown unless you have a lovely back and perfectly devastating shoulders. Very low front necklines are anathema to the hollow-chested, of course. Large figures should steer clear of divided sports skirts.

In other words, when shopping, keep in mind your best features and your shortcomings. If, between now and Easter, you diet and exercise enough to slenderize your hips go ahead and buy a tailored suit with a straight skirt that reveals every line below your waist. Otherwise, find something with a skirt that doesn't.

UNIVERSAL FEMININITY

"THE one thing the greatest number of women want is to stay young," says Elaine Sterne Carrington, magazine writer who during the past 20 years, has received thousands of letters from women all over the country.

Using her fan mail as a guide, Mrs. Carrington has compiled a list of ten major wants of women. She tops it with "forever young" and ends it with "financial security." Seems the feminine sex cares more about its looks and charm than about money. (Cynics please note.)

Second on the list of female wants is "to keep my romnace unending." The third yearning deals with woman's great desire to attain beauty or retain it if she already has it, and the fourth wish is for health.

HEALTH MOST IMPORTANT

NATURALLY we think that each of us should desire health above all else. If you value this precious quality higher and do all you can to keep in good condition, your chances of staying young, retaining romance and being beautiful are greater.

Even the next big want (to be charming) which Mrs. Carrington places fifth on her list must depend on the fourth (health) for fulfillment. The healthy, vibrant person generally radiates more charm than one who is listless and tired all of the time. We should pay much attention to proper diet and exercise, adequate sleep and rest.

THE MATURE WOMAN

AND, since we seem wound up on the subject, we'll say something that has been on our mind recently. It concerns the beauty of maturity. Someone said that an older woman is either handsome or just plain dowdy, that there seldom is a half way mark.

If a woman falls in the second classification, it is her own fault. Every woman past thirty should realize that grooming is all important and as soon as she does she can be even more attractive than a young girl. Nothing is more pitiful than the sight of a woman in her early thirties who is attempting little girl mannerisms, instead of charming manners, sympathetic understanding and faultless grooming.

Gray hair, provided it is shining and healthy, should give no cause for worry. What makes a prettier picture than a gray-haired woman with a face kept young by a pleasant disposition and lack of worry?

2 Things to Do
TO EASE COLD INSTANTLY

Discomfort and Ache Go Almost Instantly This Way

1. Take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Make sure you get the BAYER Tablets you ask for.

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of taxing your system with strong medicines for a cold, try the way pictured above — the modern, easy way. Your own doctor will approve it. And it takes hold of even a bad cold almost immediately.

The Bayer Aspirin you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

But be sure to get real quick-dissolving Bayer Aspirin tablets.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true.

Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. Doctors use liquid laxatives, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

Sheriff Faces An Indictment

Negligent Homicide Charged To Officer In The Shooting Of Youth; Statement Said Made To Grand Jury

ORANGE, Feb. 6. (AP)—Sheriff W. P. Brown was silent publicly today regarding an indictment charging him with negligent homicide for the shooting of Weldon Teale last April on a road five miles north of Orange. Rangers said, however, he had made statements to the county attorney and grand jury.

Teale, 20, was riding in the rumble seat of an automobile past a house where a party allegedly was in progress when a bullet penetrated his body. It was about 9 a. m. Young Teale died in a few minutes. The Orange county sheriff and deputies arrived on the scene shortly afterward to investigate.

To Transfer Case

County Attorney James N. Neff indicated the case against Brown would be transferred to county court.

Rev. Edgar Eskridge, crusading preacher who shot and killed Police Chief Ed. J. O'Reilly last May, charged in a tirade from the pulpit after the Teale shooting that one of the investigating officers had fired the shot. Texas rangers later investigated.

For the last several weeks, two Texas rangers have been working on the case.

Teale was riding in the rumble seat with Virgil Revia when shot but neither Revia nor other occupants of the car was able to recognize the person who fired the bullet.

Cummings Says Lindbergh Case Closed As Far As "G-Men" Are Concerned

Facilities Of Bureau Opened

Attorney General Declares No Federal Men Will Be Sent Out For Further Investigation In Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today he will not re-assign "G-men" to further investigation of the Lindbergh kidnaping, although "facilities" of the bureau of investigation will be available to those working on the case.

"Nothing of any consequence has happened in the Lindbergh case since Hauptmann's arrest," Cummings told his press conference.

Facilities Are Open

"We propose to keep open the facilities of the bureau of investigation to any of the agencies working on the Lindbergh case.

"We have supplied heretofore to the New Jersey police all the information that we had, and we will continue to supply them any information that comes to us in the way of tips, gossip, letters, etc."

Cummings referred reporters to his statement of October 10, 1934, when the justice department withdrew from the Lindbergh case, and said his attitude "has not changed."

Case Is Closed

As far as the "G-men" are concerned, he said, the Lindbergh case is closed.

When Cummings told reporters the "facilities" of the bureau of investigation would be made available to New Jersey investigators, reporters asked what he meant.

"Everything," he answered.

". . . Except your men?"

"Yes."

". . . And they're not going to get them?"

"Oh, no."

Official Observance Of Boy Scout Week Is Opened Here

Parent night programs at Boy Scout troop meetings today will officially inaugurate Lubbock's observance of Boy Scout week, which is particularly devoted to five scout traditions, said Earl M. McClure, scout executive.

The five traditions are: High adventure, brotherhood, service, good appearance and scout trained citizens.

Of the seven-day celebration on the anniversary of the 26 year development of scouting in the United States, the "biggest" program planned in Lubbock falls Saturday, McClure said.

Saturday afternoon and evening, demonstrations of scout work will be conducted in display windows of 14 downtown firms by members of the 7 Lubbock troops, and a miniature camp will be set-up on the lawn of the courthouse.

DIES OF WOUNDS

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 6. (AP)—Duncan L. McRae of Arkansas, died this afternoon in a hospital here from a gunshot wound in the head suffered at his home at Prescott, Ark., Sunday.

Former Texas Tech Student Buried At Home In Midland

MIDLAND, Feb. 6. (Special) — Last rites of the church were read at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Miss Lea Mae Miles, 18, former student of Texas Technological college.

Rev. Kenneth C. Minter, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated, and burial was at Fairview cemetery.

Miss Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miles, was a sophomore in the Lubbock college. She became ill before Christmas holidays and, brought home, was taken to a Midland hospital for treatment of a disturbing condition. Major surgery twice was resorted to in an attempt to relieve her ailment, but she died Tuesday.

Active bearers were former classmates of Midland High school days: Sam Midkiff, Hunter Midkiff, Bob White, Robert Prothro, Clyde Chandler, and Frank Cowden, jr.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Improvements For Corpus Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—The Public Works administration said today an application from Corpus Christi, Tex., for a grant of more than $2,000,000 for bay front improvements had been approved by its legal and financial divisions and was before the engineering section for its endorsement.

PWA explained an original request for $2,471,000 had been approved conditionally but an amended application sought a slightly larger amount and officials said it likely would not have to go through legal, finance divisions.

A loan and grant of $609,000 for Corpus Christi's new sewer system has been approved by all divisions and, officials said, soon will be given final approval by PWA.

PWA said it understood Corpus Christi would match the $2,000,000 proposed grant with local contributions of about $3,000,000, officials said no application had been made to the PWA for a loan of that amount.

England listed 56,000 names on its medical profession register in 1932 as compared to 41,000 in 1912.

Range Troubles Being Recalled

HASKELL, Feb. 6. (AP)—Frontier day range troubles were recalled today when two men were convicted of cutting fences and stealing cow hides.

Old timers said it was the first time in Plains history that convictions had been obtained for fence cutting, although they remembered gun fights resulting from this offense.

W. L. Webb and Charlie Grey, both from Paducah, were given two-year prison sentences. They were arrested a week ago in Plainview while trying to dispose of 2,300 pounds of hides. Both pleaded guilty.

SHOT TO DEATH

BEAUMONT, Feb. 6. (AP)—Charles Whitlock, sr., was found shot to death today at his home. His body was slumped over a chair and there was a bullet wound in his head. Members of his family said he had brooded lately over ill health.

The record catch of a striped Marlin swordfish is 1040 pounds. The catch was made off the California coast by Zane Grey, the novelist.

Siam Purchasing Modern Arms In Defense Buildup

BANGKOK, Siam, Feb. 6 (AP)—Siamese military defense is being strengthened on an unprecedented scale, with the government expending more than 30 per cent of the national revenue in modernizing the army, navy and air force.

New airplanes are being ordered from the United States; an order has gone to Japan for four submarines and Italy has nearly completed seven torpedo boats. German and British firms have been given orders for naval guns and armaments.

Public contributions are being sought to aid this military expansion. Anti-aircraft drills are frequent and an experimental mass mobilization is to be held soon.

A hundred Siamese naval officers and cadets have left for Italy to take over the new torpedo boats.

As a member of the League of Nations Siam has duly adopted sanctions against Italy.

Mrs. Doak returned to her home at 1917 Seventeenth street soon after the accident and her condition was reported satisfactory.

Mrs. Doak had started to inspect the furnace when the accident happened. Miss Frances Hoyt Ford of Oshkosh, Wis., a house guest, was with her.

Cottage In Dorset To Remain Just As When Lawrence There

WAREHAM, England, Feb. 6. (AP)—The cottage in Dorset where Lawrence of Arabia spent his spare time for 10 years is to remain just as it was when the "uncrowned king of Arabia" met his tragic death.

In the middle of a great moor, the cottage is almost hidden by trees and shrubbery. The living room has a large fireplace, blackened ceiling beams and endless bookshelves.

One of the bedrooms is fitted with a bunk and a window like a ship's porthole. It was Lawrence's plan to have a room which would make his naval friends feel at home.

World Has A Rosy Past; Dinosaurs Saw Redder Light, Say Astronomers

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 6. (AP)—When dinosaurs roamed the earth 150,000,000 years ago, light may have been a little different from today.

It moved more slowly, was redder in color. And if there were Methuselahs so ancient, it is conceivable their longevity could be partly accounted for by the supposition that time, as well as light, was different then.

The evidence for this difference in light 150,000,000 years ago comes from the world's largest telescope on Mt. Wilson, California. This 100-inch instrument shows all the more distant objects in the heavens as slightly reddened.

Universe May Be Expanding

They are from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 light years away. That is, the light arriving from them today shows how they looked a hundred million or more years ago.

The commonest explanation for the color has been that the universe is expanding like a bubble. Because these distant objects are moving away from earth, at speeds up to 15,000 miles a second, their light appears redder than it is.

There have been other interpretations to account for the redness. But the comparatively new idea, that the light itself was really different in color, is put forward by P. I. Wold, of Union college.

Speed Of Light Fluctuates

It is as reasonable as any of the explanations. For many years a few scientists have claimed that the speed of light changes from decade to decade. There has not been enough time yet to verify or disprove this definitely. The latest measurements made at Mt. Wilson showed an unexplained fluctuation, a range of 186,157 miles an hour up to 186,163.

This was not a daily change, but a shift that appeared to take months. The Mt. Wilson observers before they believe these figures wish to check possibilities of errors in measurements.

But it is no error of measurement that makes the light of 150,000,000 years ago redder. The only question is why. In another 10 years, with the aid of the coming 200-inch telescope, that may be solved.

Unclaimed Bank Fortune May Be Seized; Owners Taciturn

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6. (AP)—There's a fortune of more than a million dollars hidden away in banks of Wisconsin and if the rightful owners don't claim it soon the state will.

The commonwealth, through the office of the secretary of state, already has notified all banks that they must report on accounts 20 years old or older within the next month.

After that it is planned to bring suit which will transfer the money to the state coffers to swell the special school aid fund.

Accounts so affected are known as "dead" accounts, which, in most cases, the banks holding them have been unable to trace.

That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Suspension Of Cash Opposed

County Judges And Commissioners Of Texas Say Suspension Of Funds Would Mean Loss To State

DALLAS, Feb. 6. (AP) — County judges and commissioners of Texas, in meeting here today, declared that suspension of federal highway aid, as proposed in the budget message of President Roosevelt, would mean a loss of $7,750,000 for Texas roads and unemployed.

Criticism also was voiced concerning regulations barring all persons not on relief rolls from Works Progress administration jobs.

Those attending the meeting contemplated action to enlist support of Texas senators and congressmen in their campaign to rectify both issues.

To Draw Resolutions

Resolutions were expected to be drawn up before the meeting ends, asking Texas congressmen and senators to aid, and possibly to call a conference of congressmen of other states who object to suspension of the highway funds.

There also was some talk of sending a delegation to Washington to appear before Texas congressmen at a hearing.

Harry Hines, chairman of the Texas highway commission, was the principal speaker. He urged the judges and commissioners to oppose the proposed year's suspension, at least in the south and west, where he said roads were needed badly.

"The Iron Man" Promises That His Entire Show Will Be Performed For Lubbock Citizens Saturday Afternoon

Barred by weather conditions last Saturday from demonstrating his "playful" handling of vehicles weighing thousands of pounds, Jack Kern, "The Iron Man," announced that Saturday at 2 o'clock he will put on his full show in front of the Avalanche-Journal publications building on Texas avenue.

Kern, who performed here in February, 1934, to an audience of several thousand, has at least one title for his physical prowess.

Ripley Has Proof

He can pull a greater load for his comparative size than any other person, or creature. At least, Robert L. Ripley, author of "Believe It or Not," has proof that he can.

In one of Ripley's cartoons Kern's strength was compared to that of the flea, and the red ant, both of which have the talent of pulling hundreds of times their weight, and have been the object of scientific interest.

According to Ripley, a lowly sand flea is able to move 300 times his weight, as determined by use of a diamond scale. The red ant, by pushing with its pincers and feet, is able to move 275 times its weight.

Kern, Ripley said in his cartoon, in comparative weight figures can move 307.8 times his weight.

Based On Exhibition

The cartoon, Kern said, was based on an exhibition held in St. Louis in 1924, and witnessed by an estimated 75,000 persons. In competition with a German, they began pulling loads weighing 10,000, and added 1,000 pounds until neither could move.

On Kern's last pull, a vehicle weighing 48,000 pounds, and moved up a 1 per cent grade for 46 feet, he was 4,000 pounds ahead of the German's maximum pull. At that time, Kern's weight was 156 pounds.

The process by which his muscles have been built to withstand the terrific strain is explained by Kern as simply "muscular coordination."

Claiming that he has never used any mechanical apparatus in exercises, Kern said his entire physical development was induced by thought processes. Muscles thus developed are smooth and tough, and have a natural resistance against overtaxing the body, he declared.

Grimaces on the face of Jack Kern, above, are no "put on" for the benefit of spectators who witness his feats of strength which merit his title of "The Iron Man." The picture was taken at San Angelo recently during the actual pulling of a vehicle weighing more than five tons. He will demonstrate here next Saturday afternoon.

Wall Street, New York City, takes its name from a wall, built in 1653 as a defense against the English. It stood on the present site of Wall Street.

Texas Tech Cagers Meet New Mexico Aggies Tonight; Lubbock To Play Pampa

Matadors Face Border League Favorite Here

High School Game Starts At 7 O'Clock To Allow Local Fans To See Two Contests; Title Is At Stake

The whistle blows tonight for the beginning of the second—and final—Border conference basketball series of the season at Texas Tech gymnasium. The apparently pennant-bound Aggies of New Mexico State college provide opposition for Texas Tech's Matadors.

Tip-off is scheduled for 8 o'clock, one hour after an important game begins on the glossy court of Lubbock High school. At 7 o'clock the Westerners meet the Pampa High school Harvesters in a game to determine whether Pampa takes the undisputed championship of the Panhandle, or District 1 Class A league, or whether the title is shared between Lubbock and Pampa.

May See Both Games

Largest crowds of the season are expected at both gymnasiums. Fans may see the high school game and reach the college court in time for most, if not all, of the Matador-Aggie contest.

The Aggies from State College, N. M., are at present trailing slightly behind the University of Arizona Wildcats for the Border conference lead. A third co-leader was removed from the thick of the chase last Monday and Tuesday nights when University of New Mexico thrashed the Texas Tech Matadors twice. Tech has lost three conference games, all of them to the Lobos of Albuquerque, and must sweep the series with the Aggies to get back in the race.

Possibility of even one victory over the Aggies tonight or tomorrow night is very vague. Tech's team, a smooth-working, coordinating bunch of players, do not possess the height and the experience featured by the charges of Jerry Hines and Vaughn Corley.

The Apodaca Brothers

The Aggies are not an extremely tall team, although possibly taller than Tech's average, but they are veterans of senior standing. They started after a Border conference title last year by winning 12 out of 18 conference games. At last report, they had lost one this season, that by a score of 45 to 46 against University of Arizona.

The Aggies are led by the Apodaca brothers, Hookey, a forward who has scored 132 points so far to lead all conference players, and Larro, who is almost as important to the team as his hot-shot brother.

Tech's team will be virtually the same as that which has started nearly all preceding games—Judge Garrett and Maurice Wiginton or Bob Hale at forwards, Curly Wilkinson at center, Hugh Snodgrass and Paul Morris at guards. Only Wilkinson and Snodgrass were in the regular lineup last season.

Saturday night's game starts at 7:30 o'clock, Coach Huffman has announced.

Westerners Win From Anton Cagers, 36 To 28

The Lubbock Westerners, who must depend on hustle and quickness of wit in their game with the powerful Pampa Harvesters tonight, gave a preview last night of what fans may expect of their attack.

Practicing a series of set plays, called by Captain Othie Upton much as a quarterback in a football game calls signals, the Westerners looked flashy and formidable at times, ragged at other times, in beating a band of smooth-working Anton High school cagers, 36 to 28.

Anton Breaks 'Em Up

Instead of the fast-breaking spree for the basket, the Westerners milled around, seeking definite spots in set formations, executed a variety of "signal" plays, but as many were broken up by the long-armed, stork-legged Anton players as were completed for goals.

Only with a final rush, signals and plays forgotten, were the Westerners able to overcome a determined Anton threat and win the ball game. It was much closer than the score indicated.

Coach Fred Rich's Anton boys, featuring the one-handed and accurate shooting of a couple of young tree-toppers, Taylor and Stephenson, showed the effects of constant and long practice. They worked methodically, never going "haywire," never getting excited, and they made goals enough to take an early lead and hold it through nearly three quarters. Taylor, with five field goals and two free pitches, led the scoring, helping Anton to a 10-8 lead at first quarter-time and a 15-11 lead at half-time.

Upton Warms Up

Dudley Brummett's free shots and Othie Upton's field goals gave Lubbock a third quarter lead, 23 to 18, but a scoring spurt by Anton made the count 24 to 25 in the fourth period. Upton, Brummett and Venable got in some good licks to pull ahead just before the finish, though Taylor, as a parting gesture, looped a long, one-handed field goal in the final minute.

In a second game last night, the Anton "B" team won from the Lubbock Cowhands, 51 to 34. Tucker, forward, scored 15 points to lead the winners. Webb, center, scored 13. H. P. Ford of the Cowhands was high for his side with 14 points.

The box score:

ANTON	FG	FT	TP
Taylor, f	5	2	12

Americans Win Hockey Opener From Germans

Olympic Games Begin Amid Big Ceremony, Lots Of Snow, Arguments; British Hockey Team Threatens Withdrawal

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6. (AP)—Hockey warriors of the United States and Canada, co-favorites in advance calculations, whipped the weather man as well as their initial rivals today as the fourth winter Olympics opened to the accompaniment of a blaze of ceremony, swirling blizzard of snow and bitter renewal of eligibility arguments.

Featured in an opening day's competitive program devoted exclusively to hockey, the United States met with formidable opposition from Germany, paced by the Jewish center, Rudi Ball, but finally emerged across 1-0, after a nip-and-tuck struggle.

OLYMPIC CALENDAR

CARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 6. (AP)—Olympic facts and figures:

Today's results:
Ice hockey:
United States 1; Germany 0.
Canada 5; Poland 19.
Sweden 2; Japan 0.
Hungary 11; Belgium 2.
Tomorrow's schedule:
Ice hockey: 9 a. m., Canada-Latvia; 10 a. m., Czechoslovakia-Belgium; 10:30 a. m., United States-Switzerland; 3:30 p. m., Austria-Poland and Hungary-France; 6 p. m., Sweden-England; 9 p. m., Germany-Italy.
Downhill skiing (men and women), 11 a. m.
(Subtract six hours from Eastern standard time).

Meanwhile Canada, the defending Olympic champion, pushed over five goals in the first period and crushed Poland under an 8-1 score in the other major attraction.

Both games, as well as those in which Hungary overwhelmed Belgium, 11-2, and Sweden nosed out Japan, 2-0, were played under outrageous weather conditions. So thick was the snow-fall that play frequently had to be stopped so that the ice could be cleared.

Overshadowing competitive developments tonight, however, was the British team's threat to withdraw from hockey competition as a result of the black-listing of two of its players, James Foster and Alex Archer, both former Winnipeg stars from Canada.

Greatly incensed over the action of their Canadian cousins in precipitating the dispute that led to the suspension of Foster and Archer by the International Ice Hockey federation, the British promised they would make a final decision tomorrow just before they are scheduled to make their hockey debut against Sweden.

Canada led the fight that resulted in the suspensions and the virtual wrecking of British championship chances, charging Foster and Archer had violated the Canadian Amateur Hockey association rule requiring players transferring to other countries to first obtain permission of the C. A. H. A.

Badger Whisky Fuss Rages On

Wisconsin Trainer Says Doc Spears Ordered Liquor To Be Given Football Players; Regents Hold Court

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6. (AP) — William (Billy) Fallon, University of Wisconsin trainer, told a committee of regents today that Head Coach Clarence W. Spears had instructed him on several occasions to give gridiron players liquor.

Fallon, testifying in the regents' investigation into Wisconsin's muddled athletic department situation, said Spears asked him to give players a coffee-liquor stimulant in 1932 when Minnesota met the Badgers at Madison. The trainer said that was the first time in his experience he had been asked to administer liquor to athletes.

Brandy And Coffee

The incident occurred during Spears' first year at Wisconsin, Fallon said he mixed a pint of brandy with a gallon of coffee.

Before last year's Northwestern game, Fallon said he went to Spears' office and was told by the football coach:

"Bill, don't give them orange juice and sugar between halves anymore. Give them brandy and coffee, but don't let the fellow in the front office know about it."

Asked who was meant by the "front office," Fallon answered he assumed it meant Athletic Director Walter E. Meanwell.

Spears, who denied published reports he ordered whisky given players, was expected to testify later.

Gives Anesthetic

Fallon said that five minutes before the Iowa game in 1933 he injected a local anesthetic into the broken finger of George Deanovich, an end, under "Spears' order."

Tony Popp, a fullback last year, was in the infirmary with two sprained ankles and a broken nose during practice one week, Fallon said, and quoted Spears as telling him:

"You get him (Popp) out of the hospital and get him out this afternoon."

Fallon testified a doctor at the infirmary told him Popp should not go out, but that he got him to the field on a promise he would bring him back that night.

Fallon was asked whether he thought it was improper to give a player a drug as in the instance of Deanovich.

"I don't think any man should be doped up any more than a race horse should be," Fallon answered. He added there was danger of an infection.

Australian Links Players 'Put Out' By U.S. Welcome

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 6. (AP) The International Lakes Cup golf trophy was a trifle tarnished with disappointment today—and misunderstanding.

Silver symbol of friendly rivalry between Australian and United States golfers, it rested in the possession of a picked team of American professionals.

Crushed in the trophy play after an unsuccessful round of California tournaments, the Australian six-man team expressed disappointment over the welcome accorded them.

They came to spend three or four months, expecting to tour the country in match play exhibitions with America's best under the auspices of the Professional Golfers' association.

Wanted To Return

"Our welcome was so opposite to what we had been led to expect that our men were all for taking the first boat back," said Harold Campbell, honorary captain of the visitors.

Horton Smith, tournament chairman of the P. G. A., expressed apologies, said "the whole trouble can be laid to misunderstanding."

Smith declared the American P. G. A. was never advised that the Australians were coming.

"At Pasadena last month," he said, "I met the visitors, saw they had a team, noticed their uniforms and became curious as to their status."

Was Not Official

Learning the real situation, Smith notified George Jacobus, president of the P. G. A., and Robert Harlow, tournament bureau head. The Lakes Cup matches were arranged.

"As I see it," Smith said, "the Australian P. G. A. took a suggestion by Paul Runyan to send a team to the United States as an official invitation for such a tour.

"Officially, the P. G. A. did not extend an invitation for an American tour this year."

Baby Arizmendi To Battle Lou Ambers In Garden Bout

NEW YORK, Feb. 6. (AP) — Baby Arismendi, the Mexican featherweight from Los Angeles, will bow his way into the lightweight ranks in a ten-round engagement with Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Recognized both in New York and Illinois as the outstanding 126-pound contender, Arizmendi has been virtually driven into the lightweight division by a scarcity of talent among the feathers and the refusal of Freddy Miller to risk his National Boxing association title unless guaranteed a $10,000 purse.

In the preliminary, Coach Bully Gilsrap's Schreiner Institute Mountaineer basketeers of Kerrville beat Coach Jake Hess' Rice freshmen, 22 to 16. "Beefus" Bryan of Richmond scored 11 points for the victors.

Eddie Dyer Named Manager Of Card Farm At Columbus

HOUSTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Eddie Dyer, freshman coach at Rice institute and for years a member of the St. Louis Cardinal organization, today said he had been named president and manager of the Columbus, Ga., Foxes, new Cardinal farm, in the South Atlantic League.

Dyer expects to report for his new duties around March 1. Last season he was manager of the Rochester club in the International League until relieved by Burt Shotton.

Dyer has been attending classes at Rice this year, along with his coaching duties, working towards a B. A. degree.

GEORGE PIPGRAS RETIRES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 6. (AP)—George Pipgras, former major league pitcher, today announced his retirement from the playing ranks to become an umpire in the New York-Pennsylvania league this year.

Have One On House—For A Nickel

And that's just what it cost Jack Knott, at right, St. Louis Browns pitcher, when Sam West, Brownie outfielder, recent purchaser of half interest in a drug store here, mixed his visitor a "coke." The picture was snapped last week, when Mr. and Mrs. Knott visited the Wests here, for the Associated Press, and is being circulated in A.P. newspapers.

Pinky Higgins Defines Holdout; Says He Isn't One Till Second Offer Made

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 6. — Third baseman Frank (Pinky) Higgins, the $100,000 remnant of Connie Mack's wrecked baseball machine, is not a holdout—yet.

The Philadelphia Athletic infielder who recently commented "it's heck to be worth $100,000 and have so little," is merely in the first stage of the holdout malady, common spring baseball ailment.

Not Holdout—Yet

Higgins' definition of a holdout calls for the return, unsigned, of at least two contracts and refusal to report for spring training. It's absurd, Higgins argues, to class him a holdout when he has returned only the first contract offer.

"I'm not a holdout, but I am disappointed," mused Higgins after handing the postman unsigned contract No. 1. "I honestly believe I deserve a salary increase.

"Last season I rode the bench for several weeks with an ankle injury. But when I got back into the lineup I clicked pretty well."

He pointed to his .295 batting average, some 95 runs batted in and a good fielding average to back up his contention that more pay should come his way.

"I believe we'll get together on a contract. There's just a difference of opinion we haven't been able to straighten out."

Higgins sticks out like the proverbial "sore thumb" on the Athletic roster since Mack rang the cash register with the sale of Foxx, McNair, Marcum, Cramer, Blaeholder and Mahaffey.

He comments but little on the reported attempts of Col. Jacob Ruppert of the New York Yankees to buy him—but not for the $100,000 Connie Mack is asking.

"Stadium Big Enough"

Informed yesterday of the "important announcement" Col. Ruppert had for the press, Higgins awaited the outcome of the meeting.

Informed today Col. Ruppert announced an enlargement program for Yankee Stadium and not the purchase of Pinky Higgins or Sammy Hale as his 1936 third baseman, Pinky exclaimed:

"Enlarge his stadium? Oh." And then with a trace of dejection. "Good gosh, that stadium is big enough."

FRANKHOUSE TO DODGERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6. (AP)—The Dodgers took still further steps to strengthen their pitching staff today by obtaining Fred Frankhouse, veteran right-hander, in their second deal of the winter with the Boston Bees.

Johnny Babich, young pitcher and Gene Moore, outfield recruit from Rochester, were sent to Boston in the swap. Previously the Dodgers parted with Catcher Al Lopez, Infielder Tony Cuccinello and Pitchers Ray Zenge and Bobby Reis in exchange for Southpaw Ed Brandt and Randy Moore.

Game Problems Up To Farmers

Wildlife Conference Calls On American Farmers To Help In Restoration Plan; "Pay The Farmers," Is Urged

BY DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. — The farmer was pictured by speakers before the North American Wildlife conference today as the one "holding the key to conservation recovery."

L. L. Taber of Columbus, O., president of the national grange, declared rights of landowners in wildlife must be recognized and the nation's 6,500,000 farmers must be interested in a wildlife program.

Aldo Leopold of the University of Wisconsin urged new mechanisms to reward private conservation of small game and waterfowl breeding areas.

Must Be A Partner

"Sportsmen must accept the farmer as a partner in the business of wildlife production," asserted Elliott S. Barker of Santa Fe, N. M., president, international association of game, fish and conservation commissioners.

Assailing the policy of paying farmers for not doing things, Taber said "we should be positive rather than negative. The farmer should be paid for using his acres for wildlife purposes. He added that any program will fail unless it ties in with the farmer.

Harry B. Hawes, former senator from Missouri and a well known conservationist-author, urged that all federal conservation agencies be consolidated under one control, and that the advisory board on game problems, formed 25 years ago, be "restored to full vigor and power."

Secretary Ickes pledged the conference the cooperation of the interior department, and said: "I want to see a fighting, aggressive conservation program."

Tomorrow Ira N. Garrielson, chief of the biological survey, will present a seven-point national program for wildlife.

Fort Worth Cats To Play Extensive Training Card

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6. (AP)—Six exhibition games, plus a tentative trip through East Texas, have been arranged by Business Manager Cecil Coombs for the Fort Worth Cats during spring practice, opening March 9 at LaGrave field.

The Cats' opening exhibition will be with the Syracuse Chiefs of the International League, who will train at Mineral Wells, here Saturday and Sunday, March 28 and 29. They'll meet the Chiefs in Mineral Wells on April 2, and then turn their attention to other teams. A three-game series with the Oklahoma City Indians will be played here April 5, 6 and 7.

After the Oklahoma City series, Coombs plans the trip through East Texas, with games at Tyler, Henderson, Gladewater and perhaps Longview. Either the Cannibals or Dallas Steers, both of which will train there, will be met at Longview.

Wellesley College Girl Being Guarded After Kidnaping Rumors Are Heard

Telephone Call Causes Worry

Message Reported From Girl's Father Declared Suspicious As Man Has Been In California For 11 Years

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 6. (AP)—A mysterious telephone call, which state detectives said Virginia M. Peyton's mother interpreted as a threat to kidnap her heiress daughter, resulted today in a police guard for the 21-year-old Wellesley college junior.

Captain John F. Stokes, chief of state detectives, said a maid at the college received a call from a nearby phone station on Jan. 18 from a man claiming to be Miss Peyton's father.

Has Not Seen Father

Miss Peyton, daughter of Mrs. Nathanial Wagner of Danbury, Conn., and granddaughter of William Mallory, a director of the Mallory Hat company, has not seen her father since childhood.

But the maid, according to Stokes, told the caller Miss Peyton was in classes and could not come to the phone. The man said he would call later, but failed to telephone again.

Miss Peyton said today she believed the call was a forerunner of a plot to kidnap her. She added she was convinced the call had not come from her father or any of her friends.

Had Written Him

Stokes said Miss Peyton told him she had written her father, Donald Chambers Peyton of Glendale, Calif., a few days before the telephone call, telling him she was 21 years old.

The girl went home on Jan. 20 for a holiday and told her mother of the incident. Stokes said Mrs. Wagner became alarmed, telephoned Peyton, and learned he had not been east for 11 years. Stokes said the Peytons were divorced 19 years ago.

Mrs. Wagner, according to Stokes, then asked that a state police guard be assigned to her daughter. The state detective said Trooper John Sidney was given the assignment a week ago.

Wellesley college officials, who declined their names, said today the maid was not sure she understood Miss Peyton's caller correctly when she thought he identified himself as the girl's father.

Admiral Byrd's Famous Plane Will Be In Lubbock

"The Stars and Stripes," famous airplane used by Admiral Richard E. Byrd on both of his expeditions to the South Polar regions will be on exhibition and will carry passengers from the Municipal airport Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The plane will fly here from Sweetwater.

Alton H. Walker, president of Western Airplane distributors, Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Walker will be passengers. Walker's company is sponsoring a two-year world tour.

Bob Myrick, well known Middle West test pilot with three thousand hours flying experience will be at the controls, with Dan Covington as co-pilot. The plane has just been reconditioned and relicensed by the government for its long tour.

The plane, a seven-passenger cabin Fairchild, explored over a half million square miles of frozen Antarctic territory at the rate of 4,000 square miles an hour, being flown 145 hours on the first expedition and 41 on the second.

On March 29, 1929 "The Stars and Stripes" was flown to the rescue of a party headed by Charles Gould which had been marooned in a blizzard at the base of Rockefeller Mountains when the gale overturned and wrecked their plane, which had been anchored in the ice. After the rescue, the Byrd plane was placed in a hangar of snow and ice for the winter. In December, 1934, members of the second Byrd expedition removed the plane from its tomb of snow and ice. Despite its long exposure to temperatures of 71 degrees below zero, the plane flew successfully after a minor tuning up.

President Ray C. Mowery presided at the session.

Plans For Church Rally Are Mapped

Laymen's sessions of a Centennial revival rally to be conducted in Lubbock March 13 were planned by church school superintendents of eight denominations at a breakfast in Hilton hotel Aztec room Thursday morning. Dr. F. B. Malone, chairman of the arrangements committee, presided.

Outlines Purpose

Doctor Malone outlined the purpose of the rally as being four fold: To arouse various churches to a new appreciation of responsibilities and opportunities; to combat entrenched evils in the state; to maintain an intensive program of evangelism during the Centennial year of 1936, and to promote a great spirit of cordiality and friendliness towards visitors in individual churches.

Others attending the breakfast were: The Rev. W. R. Vivrett of First Christian church, vice-president of the rally; F. W. Groce, Cumberland Presbyterian; Paul B. Williams, Asbury Methodist; H. R. "Gly-Cas Is The Most Effective Of Them All"

Declares Mrs. Spear; Kidneys Fine First Time In Years, Rheumatism Ended; Eats, Sleeps Good, Able To Do Her Work Again

Never before has a single medicine created such a sensation throughout Lubbock and vicinity as this new Gly-Cas. Hundreds of local residents have already been given the good health they had been wanting for years and were unable to find in any other medicine or treatment before. Read what Mrs. J. D. Spear, 86 North Western Ave., Amarillo, Tex., age 75, said recently in lauding the action of this new medical discovery:

"Gly-Cas is the first medicine I have ever found that did exactly what it claimed to do," said Mrs. Spear. "My kidneys had been a constant cause for distress for many years. I would have awful pains in the small of my back and across my hips, I was so sore it was almost impossible to touch the back of a chair when sitting down. I lost sleep and rest continually by night risings and was so nervous that I was more tired of a morning when I got up than when I went to bed. I was worn-out continually and had not energy to do my housework, dizzy spells were quite frequent. The poisons collected over my body until neuritis had hold of me with those sharp stabbing pains in my neck and shoulders and rheumatism settled in my limbs. Ankles swelled dreadfully. I had taken medicines without satisfactory results and upon hearing of Gly-Cas at first I did not place much faith in it—but upon continually hearing so much praise for this new remedy I decided it was worth a trial."

"It was actually amazing how quickly this new remedy got to the source of my health troubles," continued Mrs. Spear. "My kidneys have now been regulated, nerves quieted, bowels fine and all those poisons have been taken from my system in the most natural way. Those pains of rheumatism and neuritis are gone entirely and I am able to eat and sleep good and enjoy life like others once more. I am glad to tell others about Gly-Cas that they too might regain their health as I have."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

A Double-Edged Sword

WILLIAM GREEN, able successor to the late, great Samuel Gompers as president of the American Federation of Labor, doubtless did considerable muttering under his breath Wednesday when he learned of the state of affairs in Pekin, Ill.

It is part of Mr. Green's task to keep labor and capital at peace as much as possible, at the same time standing guard over the rights of thousands of union men over whom he reigns as leader. It is also a part of Mr. Green's job—and an important one—to keep union labor in the right light with the great neutral host of people who are not identified with it, or with big business.

Over in Pekin Wednesday union labor called a general walkout in protest to use of tear gas bombs in connection with a strike of distillery employes. All union labor went on a "holiday", to last, leaders said, until the chief of police either was ousted or resigned. That action was purely within the rights of union labor and its leaders in Pekin, but the leaders didn't stop there. They ordered all places of business closed, except a few essential businesses which they permitted to operate under "permits", and threatened storekeepers with smashed windows if they did not bow to the edict. There they greatly overstepped their rights, as Mr. Green must have realized.

Instead of moving against those whom they considered their enemies, and against them alone, the labor leaders made the residents of an entire city accede to their demands and caused no end of business loss and discomfort to thousands of Pekin residents who had nothing to do with the distillery strike or with the tossing of tear bombs. There they made enemies, not only for themselves but for the entire labor front, and because of that fact we allow that Mr. Green, in far away Washington, must have muttered under his breath.

The general strike is a temporarily effective weapon, but it also is a two-edged sword, as was proven in England a few years ago.

It may occasionally win a temporary victory, but it leaves a scar in the form of dislike, if not hatred for all organized labor, on the part of innocent persons made to feel the brunt of it through no fault of their own.

Doubtless the Pekin disturbance soon will be over but it will not be forgotten.

And it is typical of the forces which make Mr. Green's job a tough one and the advance of labor's cause exceedingly difficult.

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"Tobacco rotated with ragweeds produced a better grade of leaf and brings a higher price, according to reports coming from the east section of our country," W. J. Hale notes in the Ropes Plainsman.

"Did you know the average man talks more about things he knows least about?" asks Homer Steen in the Floyd County Hesperian. "Test yourself to prove it. In your next conversation check yourself to see how many statements you make for fact that are based on mere heresay or prejudice."

"'I'm not a lawyer' states one of the recently announced candidates for governor," says J. A. Price in the County-Wide News at Littlefield. "Now, that may get him one or two extra votes. The 'Austin form of government' could well afford to get along with a few less lawyers and the state benefit. A bunch of lawyers can pass more unconstitutional laws than a bunch of sheep herders. There may be a reason."

"I get a kick out of reading the rantings and ravings of some of the editors on some of our weekly South Plains papers," confesses Old Archibald the country printer on the Hale Center American. "Take E. I. Hill of Tahoka, J. W. Smith, sr., of Lamesa or Senator Jess Mitchell of Muleshoe, for instance... However, let me amend this—if I were an influential column conductor like the Plainsman of the Lubbock Journal, and could completely stop the Texas Centennial at Dallas like he did, then I'd feel my efforts were not in vain." (Thanks, Vic. Permit us to remind you the "rantings" got West Texas a $25,000 museum at Tech!)

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath bid his guests.

And it shall come to pass in the days of the Lord's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshhold, which fill their master's houses with violence and deceit.—Zephaniah I:7-10.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

FOUGHT FIVE YEARS WITH GLASS EYE

Dynamite Buddy Jackson, who has served as sparring partner for such fighters as Champion Jimmy Braddock, Primo Carnera, Jack Sharkey and Max Baer, surprised them all last fall when he underwent treatment and examination in a hospital. When doctors at Kings County Hospital examined Jackson, they found he had a glass eye, and were amazed when told he had fought five years while wearing it. And all that time he had been passing regular physical examinations before various commissions.

With All My Love

by Mary Raymond — Copyright NEA 1935

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Against the wishes of her grandmother, aristocratic MRS. WILLIARD CAMERON, DANA WESTBROOK marries DR. SCOTT STANLEY, struggling young physician.

Before her marriage, RONALD MOORE had been in love with Dana. NANCY, Dana's half-sister, loves Ronald, but hides her feeling behind a disdainful attitude.

Both Mrs. Cameron and PAULA LONG, who has loved Scott for years, hope the marriage will not last.

Dana becomes aware of Paula's infatuation for her husband. After a misunderstanding, she returns to her grandmother's home. Mrs. Cameron decides to do all she can to make the separation permanent.

Ronnie is a comforting friend. Dana remains disconsolate, believing Scott loves Paula. Scott, meanwhile, believes Dana left him because he is poor.

He is taken into partnership by the wealthy DR. OSBORNE.

After six months, Dana decides to divorce Scott, believing that is what he wants.

Ronnie goes abroad, hoping Dana will realize she loves him. He returns and they go to a house party. Dana's indifference makes Ronnie unhappy. Dana accepts an invitation to go fishing with an Englishman. Their boat almost runs down another boat, and she recognizes Scott as one of the occupants.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

Despite the fact that he was trying to be understanding, Ronnie was aggrieved by Dana's desertion. It had not been flattering, to say the least, for Dana to accept Cyril Lancaster's invitation to go fishing.

When their absence lengthened past the breakfast hour Ronnie was sure he had just cause for grievance.

Gay groups eddied about him. No one was gayer than Paula, but Ronnie sensed thta Paula was wearing a mask. Her high-pitched laughter held a note that was almost hysterical. For some reason Ronnie felt sorry for Paula.

As though drawn by a current of sympathy, she detached herself from the others and joined him.

"They should have caught all the fish in the lake by this time," she said, adding, "It occurs to me that you and I are in the same boat, Ronnie."

"Oh, I guess we could have fished, too, if we hadn't been lazy," Ronnie said carelessly.

"Don't be dumb. I didn't mean that."

"What did you mean?" Ronnie asked impatiently.

Paula's eyes narrowed. "Dana and I are a couple of fools," she said slowly. "But she is a bigger fool than I ever was. Figure it out."

Ronnie frowned. Paula was always trying to be subtle. Or was this her way of making trouble, settling a score with Dana? If she was hinting something about Scott it was all a lot of nonsense. Dana had been divorced from Scott six months now, and it had been almost a year since she had left him. Women don't go about in these modern times eating their hearts out for men they have deliberately divorced.

Ronnie determined that he would not let what Paula had said worry him.

But an hour later he was driving to town. He had explained that business required an hour or two of his time.

"I'll be back by lunch time," Ronnie said. "Tell Dana to save her biggest fish for me."

On the drive his resentment increased. He had dreamed of his homecoming through months of travel. The boat couldn't dock fast enough to suit him. Yet here he was, alone, ditched for a man who meant nothing at all to Dana.

* * *

He drove past the Cameron home. Nancy was coming down the walk. Ronnie stopped the car and got out, Nancy stopped and waited, her dark eyes wide.

"Well, Nancy," Ronnie teased. "I expected a big, welcoming smile and what do I get? Not even a how-de-do."

Nancy laughed nervously. "Serves you right. Looming up in front of me, when I thought you were miles away."

She made no move to go. Which, Ronnie decided humorously, was a real compliment. Whenever Nancy saw him, she always made a dash for a door.

"Where's Dapa?"

"Out at the lake."

"Oh," Nancy said. She added. "You must have had a wonderful time abroad, Ronnie. I suppose you've seen everything there is to see. It must have been grand."

"Not so grand. It can be lonely as the deuce when you go days on end without seeing anyone you know or care about."

He thought Nancy's face clouded a little. Nancy must be rather lonely. She had so little fun. That was why she magnified such things as traveling.

On an impulse he said, "How about a spin? I'll review for you in 15 minutes what it took me six months to see."

Amazingly, Nancy agreed. She said eagerly: "I'll go if you promise not to leave out one single thing."

That was a large order. But with Nancy's intense, interested face turned toward him, Ronnie found himself growing expansive. Nancy hadn't traveled, but she was well read. Strangely enough, she was most interested in the places that had appealed to Ronnie most.

* * *

They passed Ronnie's home and presently, returning, passed it again. Ronnie remembered what Dana had said about his home the day he had first seen her, looking lovely and glowing in that old rattletrap of a car.

"Gloomy old dump," Ronnie said now.

Nancy stared. "You don't like it?"

"Not especially. Do you?"

"Better than any place in town," Nancy said. "You see, Ronnie, I was a child when your father built it. I always thought of it as a castle. I've always thought of it that way. Besides, it's beautiful."

Ronnie laughed. But there was a tight feeling in his throat. Of all the people in the world, Nancy was the last he would have suspected to such sentiments.

Dana hadn't liked his home. She had told him so frankly. True, she had not known it was his home, but the fact remained. He hoped some day Dana would grow to like it. If she didn't, he'd have to sell it after they were married and build another.

Lately Ronnie had developed a real affection for the place. Perhaps it was his long absence that had made him sentimental about it. Or it might be associations. The house was filled with memories of his father, who had loved every inch of it. The immense structure represented the fulfillment of his father's long dream of achievement. It had been a symbol of power for which his father had struggled most of the years of his life.

Ronnie turned the car. "Would you like to have a look at it inside?" he asked.

"Could we?"

"You funny girl! Could we? I have an idea we could."

Nancy smiled. "It's hard to realize it is really your home. I never associated grandeur with you, Ronnie."

"Is that one of your subtle digs? Or is it meant as a compliment?"

"Do your own thinking," Nancy retorted gaily.

They drove through the tall iron gate, along the curving drive. At the door, Ronnie turned to ask, "Do you like your grandeur served with all the trimmings? A touch of the bell will bring one of the servants. Or we can just turn a key in the lock and enter unannounced."

"Let's have the trimmings," said Nancy, an excited note in her voice.

"Now, I know the kind of wife you're going to make some man some day. He won't be able to make money fast enough for you!"

Nevertheless Ronnie looked pleased. He pressed the bell and a servant in livery answered immediately, bowed and withdrew.

"Ordinarily," Ronnie teased, "I would say, 'How are you, Tompkins?' And he would answer, 'Very well, Mr. Ronnie. And how are you, sir?' But today he senses there is something unusual in the air. He knows, intuitively, that an impression is wanted. So he springs up at the door and then disappears."

Nancy was only half listening to the bantering talk. Her eyes shone as she moved across the soft rugs, through the lofty rooms.

Splendid paintings, rare furnishings from the old world, exquisite pieces of statuary, glittering chandeliers from great French and Italian palaces, beautiful Venetian mirrors. It was all magnificent, spectacular.

An hour later Ronnie told Nancy goodby at the door of her home.

"Oh, Ronnie, it's been lovely. It was almost as though I had been traveling, too."

"I've had a great time." Ronnie squeezed her hands. "Guess I'd better be on my way or I won't make it back by lunch time."

Half way down the walk, he turned. Nancy still stood in the doorway.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

FOR months President Roosevelt kept an open mind on the problem of low-cost housing while his aides tried to pull him to and fro. The Ickes-Wagner-LaGuardia faction begged him to place federal money behind the movement on a large scale, while the Morgenthau-Grimm-Cummings group urged him to induce private interests to undertake the task.

Owen D. Young is still working on blueprints at FDR's request. Mr. Young's latest report estimated the cheapest cost of a home at $4,100, with an additional amount for land. Mr. Roosevelt said that was too high—he wants the outside cost for house and land to come to no more than $3,000, with a 20-year period for payment. Experiments financed jointly by Senator Couzens and WPA indicate that the lowest figure for home and land will hit about $3,500.

A recent caller at the White House may have tipped the scale in favor of private financing and building. He warned Mr. Roosevelt that home-owners feel differently toward public and private obligations. In his opinion, they would default to Uncle Sam but work and scrape to pay off private indebtedness. He also insisted that it was time to let somebody else help Uncle Sam in "priming the pump." Mr. Roosevelt was deeply impressed by this presentation.

ASSET: Anonymous political literature emphasizing the Roosevelt administration's supposed favoritism toward negroes is regarded as helpful in certain Democratic circles. The circulation of this sort of material was mentioned in Whirligig some weeks ago, although it did not become a matter for general discussion until the recent Talmadge meeting at Macon.

Democratic strategists are preparing to plant a bomb under the groups supposed to be distributing this kind of propaganda, especially as its exaggerations may lay it open to counterattack. It lists as Mr. Roosevelt's "confidential secretary" a colored man who has served for years as Louis Howe's messenger boy. It touches up the faces of negro Elks received by the President—an old political trick.

The New Dealers don't expect this attack to cost Mr. Roosevelt any states in the South, where his enemies expect it to do the most damage. But it may attract to him the colored voters in the north and middle west regions where the negroes are supposed to hold the balance of power in twelve states with large electoral votes.

EXPERT: Although they don't like to admit it, Publicist "Charley" Michelson has become a member of the Democratic trio which will serve as generalissimos in the presidential campaign. The other two are National Chairman Farley, who will organize the boys, and President Roosevelt.

Mr. Michelson wrote Senator Robinson's reply to Al Smith, as the latter guessed. He writes almost all of Mr. Farley's addresses, which become more numerous every week. He supplied the material and framed Senator Schwellenbach's bitter denunciation of the American Liberty league, which Democratic Congressmen are franking out by the tens of thousands. In fact, most of the New Deal ammunition on Capitol Hill these days springs from his hands or fi'es.

Even Mr. Michelson has to chuckle when he serves up a speech denouncing Messrs. Smith, Raskob and Shouse. He wrote their speeches when he did the publicity for the Democratic National committee from 1928 to 1932. He ought to know how to answer them now. But the most comic twist was when "Charley" criticized Mr. Shouse for the "smear Hoover" campaign that the publicist headlined and punctuated from start to finish.

BABIES: There's a mystery at the Treasury!

Secretary Morgenthau can't make out why his "baby bonds" reached a new high in sales in the very month when the Supreme court knocked out the processing taxes, Congress passed the bonus bill and he informed Senate financiers that the government must raise $11,000,000,000 during the current fiscal year. There had been inside expectations that these developments would knock down Uncle Sam's ordinary securities. But instead the youngest member of the bond family stood up.

Preliminary reports of sales for January indicate they may go as high as $40,000,000—a record. They amounted to only $17,000,000 last October. Attempts to account for the increase have been futile. The large-size dollars are being offered in purchase but there is scant evidence that long-hoarded money explains the jump. Farm benefit checks and increased employment are the reasons assigned by treasury experts, for the "baby bonds" are selling best in small towns and in cities of the Middle West.

NOTES: Rep. Wadsworth of New York says he wouldn't take a presidential nomination on a platter. . . . He's simply warming his seat for his son, now a member of the New York Legislature. . . . Vice-President Garner has advised FDR to shut off any further replies to Al Smith. . . . Capitol Hill Democrats are sore at the "Happy Warrior" for dubbing them "rubber stampers." . . . Al's ears would burn if he could hear what they say about him in the cloakrooms.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK political sharps predict an unusual union of North and South at the Democratic convention—Massachusetts and Georgia working together to defeat Roosevelt. Gene Talmadge hasn't been tossing bouquets at Joe Ely just for exercise.

Anti-New Deal chiefs regard Ely as their real convention mainstay. He hasn't become prominent in the cause yet—but he will. Talmadge has his uses too—but is privately rated more reckless than dependable. Between them they can raise plenty of cain at Philadelphia, even though the delegates they command will be a small minority. Meanwhile earnest efforts will be made to fill in part of the gap between Georgia and Massachusetts.

Sources in a position to know say that Al Smith is likely to turn up at the convention as a Massachusetts delegate if by chance he should be frozen out in New York. They add that Al's speech to the Liberty league was only the first of a series of shocks timed to blast the Democratic label off the New Dealers.

HERO: The Hauptmann case is far from over yet. Informed New Yorkers learn that Neil Burkinshaw—Washington attorney recently retained on Hauptmann's behalf—still hopes to convince the Supreme court that the German's trial was improper and that he is entitled to a rehearing. Burkinshaw is not only an able lawyer. He is thoroughly familiar with Supreme court procedure and is on friendly personal terms with Justice Owen J. Roberts—whom he served as assistant in the Teapot Dome prosecution.

Those who urge a retrial do not seriously contend that there is any new evidence. Their point is rather that Hauptmann didn't get the fair hearing guaranteed him by law in the circus atmosphere of Flemington. Some New York lawyers who believe him guilty agree to this. They would rather see him tried again in a more dignified and impartial manner than executed in an aura of doubt paralleling the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

This had an important bearing on the political future of Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey. If it turns out that his courage created the opportunity for a new trial—whether Hauptmann is found guilty or innocent—he will end up a hero instead of a joke. So don't count him out of the national political arena too soon.

SHIPS: There has been a remarkable spurt in world shipbuilding activity recently. Over a million and a half tons of ships were under construction as of the first of the year—mostly in merchant vessels.

Great Britain was out in front by miles with 743,000 tons. Next came Germany—with about 250,000 tons. Japan was third with 118,000. This last figure is due to increase sharply during 1936. Uncle Sam is way back in the procession at present but there are signs that American activity is due to be stimulated shortly.

Cotton Shop To Be Opened Today

The Cotton shop at 1206-A Broadway will be opened today by Wolff brothers, offering an innovation in handling cotton frocks.

The new store, said Jack Wolff, manager and owner with his brother, William, will handle cotton frocks exclusively.

The shop interior is finished in modernistic black and silver racks and fitting rooms. Wolff brothers have been in business here about three months, and operate a ladies ready-to-wear store next door east of the new shop.

John Halsey Drug Opening Is Today

John Halsey Drug store will be formally opened in its new location at 1118 Broadway, across the street from the old location, today.

Featured of new equipment installed is the latest and most sanitary fountain, of vitrolite glass in a green and chrome color scheme. Units for production of ice cream and frozen malt have been installed.

Front of the building has been finished in modernistic styling, and the interior remodeled to provide 250 square feet more floor space than in the store's former location.

Three women clerks will care for drug needs of women patrons, said John Halsey. Halsey has been in the drug business in Lubbock for 10 years.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS, No. 119 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"We march" the leader of the evil slave-raiders shouted ecstatically. "Nazir! Gather fifty of the best men — brave men, who do not fear the Demon's Light, nor Tarzan of the Apes. We approach the hour of Boris Garette's triumph — and Tarzan's doom!" . . .

. . . While the brigand camp buzzed excitedly with preparations for the assault upon the valley of Canaan, the South Canaanite warriors led Lady Eloth and Jerry toward their tented village. The captives walked in silent despair, each certain of a dreadful fate:

As they entered the village, they were dazed by the sight of this fantastic military encampment which seemed as if it had been conjured up from the dust of ancient history. And through the streets streamed a shouting horde, anxious to behold the "barbarians."

Beside the captives walked Ekbal, bursting with pride that he had discovered the strangers. His eyes blazed eager delight as he cried to the people: "The man will be killed; but the woman shall be mine!" And the people answered with a shout of approval!

Shouse Claims Roosevelt Is Facing Almost Certain Loss

CHICAGO, Feb. 6. (AP) — Jouett Shouse declared today that at least 2,000,000 Democrats are in the mood to "take a walk" over to the Republican party in the November elections.

The president of the American Liberty league, who in 1932 was chairman of the Democratic national committee's executive committee, told interviewers that President Roosevelt "faces almost certain defeat."

Lost Laws

valid because the governor did not sign them, pointing out that former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson affixed her signature to the incomplete copy.

Prior Laws Effective

State's attorneys contended the courts had the right to go behind the enrolled bill and determine the legislature's intent. Even if the omitted laws should be stricken down, prior laws against the same offenses would become effective, they said.

Judge Dean expressed his opinion that the state's position in regard to validity of the incest law might be stronger than in other of the "lost laws" because the legislature in 1933 recognized its existence by amending it.

He said the appellate court might pass only on the incest law and that subsequent tests might have to be made on other missing statutes.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 6. (AP)—The urge to buy predominated in the stock market today, but traders limited their active attention to a restricted selection.

American Telephone and other communications issues, farm machinery concerns, and some of the rails and specialized industrials drew the bulk of the following. Many of the pivotal shares found buyers willing to bid only a little higher.

Despite the limited character of the majority of gains, the improvement was sufficient to bring a good number of individual new peaks for several years and to move the Associated Press average to a new high since the fall of 1931 at 60.4. The gains on the day was .3 of a point.

The trading place was brisk and orderly and never outstripped the reporting machinery. In the stock exchange 2,788,074 shares changed hands compared with 2,927,581 shares in the previous session.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6. (AP)—Cotton today recovered a part of the losses of earlier sessions this week and finished the day from 9 to 14 points higher.

The more favorable tone was due largely to short covering and profit taking by shorts who had sold cotton earlier in the week. Better foreign markets aided the advance and brought a little more constructive thinking on the part of the speculative element.

Active positions ended within a point or two of their best levels for the day. The March position opened at 11.01, held its early gain and in the afternoon extended the advance to finish 14 points higher at 11.09. Considerable price fixing purchases by the trade were reported in this option. May closed at 10.73, up 9 points while July at 10.53, Oct. at 10.22, Dec. at 10.23 and Jan. at 10.23 were from 10 to 11 points higher.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 6. (AP)—Cotton recovered today a part of its recent losses.

Offerings were light and prices advanced on trade buying and covering. May sold up to 10.80 and closed at 10.77, or 13 points net higher. The general market ended steady at net advances of 9 to 13 points.

The market was steadier from the start in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and buying on the improved technical position.

NEW ORLEANS—Cotton News Bureau Observer: Moderate advances prevailed in the cotton market today. Less attention was paid to the legislative situation and shorts were inclined to cover on the expansion in the export movement and reports of slender offerings in the spot department, especially of the descriptions needed for nearby shipments. The trade fixed prices. Offerings were not large at any stage of the trading.

LIVERPOOL cables—Tone of the cotton market steady. Bombay selling at opening well taken by trade and local support encouraged by cables stating substitute plan will be announced tomorrow and by realization that Smith bill, if enacted, will not materially reject tightness of old crop months and spot situation while, if loan spots returned to farmers less carrying charges very little will be available at current prices. Sentiment still very mixed and confused but market looks well liquidated.

federal government.

The basis for making the grant would be determined by the number of acres planted in the "extensive," or soil conserving crops.

One major difference in this proposed program and the AAA would be that the new plan would include every farm in the United States. Grants would be made only to farmers who met the "standards of performance." The AAA made payments only to farmers who signed contracts to adjust acreage.

The AAA outline was reported designed to permit easy transition from the temporary farm program into the permanent plan based on state control.

New Flood Menace Is Noted In South

ATLANTA, Feb. 6. (AP) — A new flood menace developed in the south tonight with the return of blustery weather responsible for 10 deaths and widespread suffering.

With snow, sleet and rain falling, the Montgomery, Ala., weather bureau warned of possible serious trouble from rivers in Alabama and Georgia already at flood stage.

Storm Warnings Up

A Gulf disturbance was accompanied by heavy gusts of rain along coastal Louisiana and Mississippi. Storm warnings were up from Morgan City, La., to Carabelle, Fla.

Coal bins were watched apprehensively with meagre supplies rapidly disappearing.

Snow was falling in North Alabama and Tennessee. Sleet made going difficult in Atlanta.

Damages Heightened As Rains Again Start Up

MERIDIAN, Miss., Feb. 6. (AP)—A resumption of rains in South Mississippi today heightened flood damages while the return of snow more than an inch deep inconvenienced the northern section of the state.

The Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas coastal regions were drenched with precipitation caused by a disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico.

Freezing or near freezing temperatures again held North Louisiana and North Mississippi in their grip after a 10-inch snow had just melted away in North Mississippi.

Mission Children Travel To School By Medium Of Planes

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 6. (AP)—Missionary children who in former years spent nine days reaching the missionary school at Chengtu by primitive transportation now make the trip in two hours.

Chengtu is the site of the only large missionary school in Szechuan province. American, Canadian and English children living here formerly made a 300-mile journey by sedan chair to reach the school at the beginning of each term. Often they were delayed by bandits.

With recent inauguration of airplane service between Chungking and Chengtu nearly all the children now travel to boarding school by air. The cost is about the same as by chair.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 6. (AP)—May contracts, representing wheat already on hand, went downward in price today whereas July and September, that stand for the 1936 new crop, went higher.

Tending to weaken May wheat was the fact that Canadian export business dwindled to about 250,000 bushels. On the other hand, low temperatures threatening crop damage continued to prevail over domestic wheat territory, though not so severe as yesterday.

Wheat closed nervous and irregular, ⅛ lower to ¾ higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 99⅛@99¼, corn unchanged to ⅛ off, May 60⅞, oats unchanged to ⅛ down, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents decline.

Sub-zero temperatures held corn and oats values about steady. Rural offerings of corn were much smaller.

Independent upward action of rye values hoisted May to equal with the season's top price record.

Provisions sagged with hogs.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 6. (AP)—Demand for grain continued slow here Thursday. Estimated receipts were: Wheat 6 cars, corn 4, and sorghums 1. Wheat No. 1 red winter 1.21½@1.23½; No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing 1.23¼@1.33¼. Barley No. 2 nom. 61@63; sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.04@1.06; No. 2 white kafir nom. 1.04@1.06. Corn (shelled, Texas billing) No. 2 white 79@80; oats No. 2 red 37½@39½.

Banquets Held

up was: J. Edd McLaughlin, catcher; Percy Ralls, pitcher; Roy Cooper, first base; Lloyd A. Wicks, second base; Murray Hargrave, third base; Reed Loflin, shortstop; John Thomas, left field; Will Marr, center field; Frank Benson, right field and Bill McKee, manager. For each he had a fitting tribute, as well as for other public spirited leaders whom he designated as "pinch hitters," and for the ladies, who, he said, made up the necessary "rooting section."

The program started at 8 o'clock and was reeled off in record chamber of commerce banquet time, an hour and a half, including time spent in repast. Murray Hargrave, as master of ceremonies, kept the ball rolling from start to finish.

J. Edd McLaughlin led "America," the audience singing to the piano accompaniment by Mrs. W. P. McKee. Rev. W. D. Derr, Baptist pastor, offered invocation and guests from Crosbyton, Plainview, Floydada, Lubbock, Lorenzo and Slaton were introduced by A. L. Winfrey. John Thomas, completing two years as president of the organization, spoke briefly, as did the incoming president, W. P. McKee, who characterized the Ralls chamber as "everybody living in the Ralls trade territory."

Men Supervise Dinner

The dinner was prepared and served under the direction of the Rotary club's "feed committee," composed of Percy Ralls, chairman; John Thomas, Bill Betts, Lynn Moss and Warren Hames. Music was furnished by two high school youths, Robert Leverett and Robert Wilson.

Lubbock men attending included: George Berry, Burton Burks, Dan Blair, Earl Heard, Spencer Wells, R. P. Hinchey, C. E. Hunt, Roy McKinney and A. W. Young.

New Task Faces Civic Groups, Griffin Says

BY C. W. RATLIFF
Of The Avalanche Staff

OLTON, Feb. 6—A new task faces chamber of commerce and other civic organizations of the future, Meade F. Griffin, Plainview attorney, told 150 people attending the annual banquet of the Olton Chamber of Commerce here tonight. The affair was held in the basement of the First Methodist church. Seven South Plains towns were represented.

"It's up to the chambers of commerce and other civic organizations to inform the people of their rapidly-changing governmental affairs," Mr. Griffin declared after citing the huge burden of debt piling up in local, state and national governments. "They must inform the people where they are in financial affairs and attempt some sort of reckoning. It's time we were seeing where we stand.

Must Seek Balance

"Now that our emergency is being relieved, it's time we were trying to seek a balance in our affairs. We've taken the cash cheerfully and now it's up to us to cut down.

"There's three ways of relieving the situation," he continued. "We've got to cut down government expenses. Or we've got to increase taxation, or we must by a combination of both cut expenses and increase taxation. Chambers of commerce can take up the problems in their various communities and conduct a trend of thought along that line.

"We've got an example of this in the pioneers who settled this country.... They didn't ask any government aid . . . They sought no relief.... They asked for no bonuses ... All they asked was to be let alone.... If we take a leaf out of their book, we'll finally work out of the present situation."

Hopping Is Toastmaster

Sid Hopping was toastmaster. Invocation was given by Rev. S. S. Williams. H. P. Webb made a short talk at the outset of the program, followed by brief remarks from Jack Woodward of Plainview.

The meal was served by the women of the church. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Louis Hair, Cleo Richards, George Corse, Pat Brown and Miss Nadie Johnson. Little Miss Bettye Jane Scott presented a reading.

At the close of the program, L. S. Kennedy, retiring president, introduced old directors and new officers for 1936. Old directors introduced were: H. P. Webb, Pat B. Campbell, I. B. Holt, H. C. Walker, Clyde Cates, Chas. Newton, J. W. Richards and E. J. Moore. New officers were: C. E. Bley, president; J. P. Wiles, first vice president; Chas. E. Newton, second vice president; secretary, J. D. Strickland, Thompson Thomas, Garrett Bley, J. W. Richards, E. J. Moore, Roy Granberry, H. L. Dennis and J. P. Wiles, directors.

Representative A. B. Tarwater made a brief talk when visitors were called on. Visitors were introduced from Lubbock, Dimmitt, Earth, Spring Lake, Littlefield and Plainview. Plainview had a delegation of approximately 25 persons including R. Q. Silverthorne, president of the Plainview Board of City Development, Ed Bishop, secretary, Walter Thatcher, past president, and others. Lubbock was represented by C. W. Ratliff, Garnet Reeves and H. D. Woods.

Sweets, Coffee Called Remedies In Interns' Book

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 6. (AP)—Some things which the public knows only as foods are medical remedies in a handbook for interns issued at Syracuse University College of Medicine.

Milk is one, used to relieve pain where morphine might lead to narcotic drug habits. Milk alone is not a pain killer. But taken correctly in addition to lime, or calcium, it has numerous fields for substituting for morphine.

In these cases the milk diet is large. Milk itself is a good source of calcium. To this diet calcium is added, frequently by giving the lime intravenously.

Dextrose To Fight Poisons

The combination relieves the pain of sufferers from malignant diseases. It is sometimes used successfully for gallstone colic and other severe pains.

Another food with straight medical uses is dextrose. This is a sweet sugar, differing from sucrose, or ordinary cane sugar, only in its structure. Dextrose is simpler in form than table sugar.

Medically dextrose may be used to combat poisons and shock, and especially ailments which damage the liver.

Caffein Restores Respiration

Caffein is a third well known food with an important medical side. It is useful, the handbook explains, for emergency cases, particularly to restore respiration. It may be given either in the form of coffee, or by technical medical processes.

The intern's handbook is edited by a committee headed by M. S. Dooley, M. D., of the medical college faculty. Its purpose is to enable interns to handle emergency cases with safe and well tried medical practices.

Loss In Fires Drops In 1935

Man's Fight Against Blaze In Great Forests Showing Results; Improvement Seen In Equipment

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6. (AP)—Man's fight against fire in America's great forests had in 1935 one of the most successful results in the long history of that conflict.

As the turn of the year brought snow, rain and sleet as ready extinguishing agents in the few scattered areas where danger of flames might still exist, the U. S. forest service said that forest losses last year were only about 30 per cent as large as in 1934.

Curiously, the number of fires was reported almost as great—about 10,000 for each year—but the acreage burned in 1935 was put at only around 120,000 against approximately 615,000 for the year before and an average of 440,802 charred acres a year in the period 1931-34, inclusive.

More Than Half 'Man-Made'

This sharp decrease in the extent of destruction was due, service officials say, to general improvement in facilities of fire-fighting, quickened mobility of defensive forces occasioned by existence of more fire trails and truck roads, and the presence of large numbers of civilian conservation corps enrolled in forest areas.

Meanwhile, more fires still are chargeable to human hands than to any other source. More than half of the blazes started during the year were labeled "man-made"—by brush burners, landowners who "burn over" annually, campers, sportsmen, tourists.

Despite weather conditions for 1935 described by the forest service as generally favorable although "spotty," the far west had a number of extraordinarily fierce fires, fanned by high winds accompanied by low humidity. These were in eastern Montana, in the Shoshone national forest in Wyoming, two in the Angeles national forest and — on the same day of the latter two—the great Malibu fire in southern California estimated by government authorities to have destroyed 25,000 acres and to have caused $10,000,000 property damage.

Only 'Freaks' Really Feared

The year's record caused Roy Headley, chief government firefighter, to say the service had reached the point where only the "freak" fire was really feared. The great majority of blazes, he says, are detected, attacked and extinguished quickly and effectively.

The freaks are the "bad actors," he says, occurring despite the greatest precaution. Usually they result from a combination of unfavorable conditions, start in almost inaccessible spots and spread with extraordinary rapidity because of the topography and weather.

Exploratory Work Asked For Newly Found Rhodesian City

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Feb. 6. (AP)—A hitherto undiscovered ruined city, half way between Bulawayo and the Victoria Falls, is regarded as a new clue to the lost nation which inhabited Africa before the Bantu, the racial type to which Zulus and many other African tribes belong.

The newly found city resembles the famous granite ruins of Great Zimbabwe, the so-called "mystery city" of Southern Rhodesia.

The question of who built Zimbabwe and why its civilization perished has long troubled anthropologists.

Since the ruins now discovered appear to have been built by the same race, the walls and terraces being of the same design, the national historical committee has asked the government to begin exploratory work immediately.

Local Record Proves Saving

Increase In Insurance Rating Is Given Lubbock As Result Of Low Fire Loss During The Past Year

Fire record in Lubbock for last year won $33,000 savings for citizens for this year.

In establishing a record low fire loss for 1935, Lubbock citizens will have approximately $33,000 in their pockets this year which might have gone toward keeping up premiums on their fire insurance.

A credit rating of 20 per cent, highest ever extended the city, has been set by the state insurance commission, said D. A. Forbess, city fire marshal and building inspector. The thousands-dollars saving was figured on last year's premiums of $140,000.

Got 15 Last Year

Last year's credit was 15 per cent, the best allowed under legislation at that time. Effective in March, this year, new legislation allows a higher credit per cent in inverse ratio to the insurance paid on fire loss.

A loss of only $13,664.42, including $2,402 carried over from 1934, was reported in the city during 1935, providing a ratio of 27 per cent of the premium amount, Forbess said.

May Get Highest

By maintaining low losses this year, not to exceed an approximate amount of $50,000, it was said, a credit of 25 per cent, the highest now obtainable, may be extended. On the other hand, if fire losses are heavy, a penalty might be inflicted.

Lubbock in 1934 was given third place and honorable mention in a fire waste prevention contest sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce, and its new record may merit higher placing when awards are announced in March The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has been active in conducting and assisting fire prevention features, particularly in public schools.

Comparative fire losses and premiums paid are: 1932, $61,102 and $118,234.85; 1933, $25,452 and $122,749.95; 1934, 38,206.22 and 133,699.11.

Eight Per Cent More Taxes Reported Collected In Area

Eight per cent more current taxes for Lubbock Independent School district were collected by the deadline this year than last year, said A. C. Jackson, schools manager and tax official.

Total collected as of Jan. 31 was $146,825.53, compared with $130,340.54 the previous year on almost the same assessment of $201,341.19 and the same tax rate.

More than half the current collections came in January, the report showed, with a total of $89,841.02. In addition delinquent collections amounted to $8,526.70 for an aggregate January total of $98,367.72.

While collections were 73.2 per cent this year of the amount on the total roll, amount due that has come in totals 76.5, Jackson said. The higher per cent is a result of split tax payments, last half of which is not due for several months.

Officials of the city and county tax offices had not completed their collection tabulations early this afternoon.

Preparation Of Tax Rolls For County Being Started

Preparation of 1936 county and state tax rendition rolls has been started, said Hurley Carpenter, tax assessor-collector. W. B. Shelton, at Idalou, and Elmer Rush, in precinct 2, are field representatives now at work.

A large number of renditions was signed at the same time taxes were paid in the courthouse office, Carpenter said.

Interest In Averitt Test In Gaines Area Continuing

Drilling ahead below 3,550 feet in anhydrite, after logging a showing of heavy, black dead oil at 3,390 feet, the Walsh and Adams No. 1 Averitt in Gaines county, three miles northwest of Seminole, continued to attract wide attention Thursday. It is in section 228, block G, W. T. Ry. survey.

Much delay has been reported in the past six weeks, mostly fishing for tools blown up in the hole by gas pockets and heavy gas. At least two reports of 15,000,000 cubic feet daily of gas have been made, as well as several smaller showings. One report said ten gas pockets had been struck.

The Yates sand has been drilled through, it is believed by oil men. Several gas strikes in that sand were made. Geophysical tests give the location as one of extreme possibilities. Reports of $100 per acre for leases and from $50 to $75 per acre for royalty have been made.

A score of scouts make regular reports on operations. The change from rotary to standard tools was made at 3,080 feet and since then, owing to troubles, reports of a change back to rotary have been had.

Slow Progress Being Made On Gaines County Project

Slow progress is being made on the Dr. E. H. Jones ranch test in Gaines county, 17 miles northwest of Seminole, as Wahlenmaier-York & Adams continue to push down towards a bottom of the hole contract. Latest report showed 5,033 feet, with no further showing of production.

Drilling was resumed at 5,008 feet under a new contract to drill 200 to 300 feet, or until oil, gas or sulphur water was reached. The top of the hard lime has definitely been set as 4,995 feet.

The wildcat is located in section 414, block G, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. Ry. survey. C. J. (Red) Davidson, Fort Worth independent driller, has the contract. When completed he is expected to move his rig to Yoakum county and drill in the Davidson-Honolulu No. 1 Bennett in section 678, Block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Pope Observes 14th Anniversary Of His Election To St. Peter's Throne

BY CHARLES H. GUPTILL
Associated Press Foreign Staff

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 6—Pope Pius XI, dedicating his pontificate to peace, observed the 14th anniversary of his election to the throne of St. Peter today amid alarms of war.

The 78-year old pontiff passed the day in comparative quiet. He devoted most of it to reading hundreds of messages of congratulation which came to him from virtually all the world.

No Special Notice

Otherwise, in accordance with his practice of avoiding every unnecessary strain, he took no special notice of the occasion.

The Observatore Romano, however, asserted the pope had already spoken and acted in the "great threat" against civilization—an editorial interpreted by informed sources as an answer to any possible reproach that the pontiff has not stopped the Italo-Ethiopian war.

"The great threat, hitherto vague and distant, seems to be flaring up as a devouring flame of every good of civilization," the Vatican newspaper said.

"There are some who will invoke His Holiness' word, as if he had not clearly pointed out the path of righteousness made 'by law and respect for all laws.'

Some Say He Is Absent

"There are some who say he is absent, whereas he has not only spoken but acted and labored, without stopping, actuated neither by egotistic aim, nor by worldly scheme.

"There are some who want him to pronounce a condemnation when the whole world groans under tremendous punishment caused by its voluntary abandonment of God, of his laws of truth, justice and charity, and therefore of true peace."

Next Wednesday, the anniversary of his coronation, His Holiness will attend a pontifical mass in the sistine chapel.

way, but the glow had left her face. She wore the expression that was more familiar to him, the solemn look of a little girl who has been disillusioned about Santa Claus.

NOW EATS FAT AND ANYTHING ELSE IN SIGHT; NO STOMACH SOUR CAN KNOCK HIM FLAT... FOR TUMS HAVE SOLVED HIS PLIGHT!

WHO ELSE WANTS TO FORGET SOUR STOMACH?

THE way to eat favorite foods and avoid heartburn, sour stomach, gas and other symptoms of acid indigestion is no secret now. Millions carry Tums. Nothing to mix up. No drenching your stomach with harsh alkalies, which doctors say may increase the tendency toward acid indigestion. Just enough of the antacid in Tums is released to neutralize the stomach. The rest passes on inert. Cannot over-alkaline the stomach or blood. You never know when, so carry a roll always. 10c at all druggists.
