Barber Vows He'll Cut All The Hair He Wants At 25 Cents; Tossed Into Jail

(By The Associated Press)

CUSHING, Okla., May 13.—Jail failed to convince W. L. Tennyson of the virtue of a state barber price-fixing law and he emerged under bond today vowing he would "show 'em" who was boss in the shop he has run nearly 18 years.

"And he'll charge 15 cents if he wants to," said Walter Matthews, attorney for the barber who went to jail Wednesday because he cut a man's hair for 25 cents in a zone where state law fixed the minimum at 40 cents.

Writ Issued For Release

The Oklahoma state supreme court ssued a writ of habeas corpus for Tennyson's release under $100 bond, directing Sheriff F. F. Fisher to show cause May 18 why Tennyson was held in jail at Stillwater, the county seat.

"I was railroaded," said the middle-aged barber.

"They didn't give me a chance. Two men came into my shop and I charged them 25 cents for a haircut. They went to Stillwater and made complaint and the (county) court issued a restraining order.

"I didn't have a chance to talk. I was charging 40 cents all right, but when some poor fellow came in who didn't have that much I cut his hair for a quarter."

Tennyson said he was fined $25

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Most of Texas' 80,000 oil wells will be silent tomorrow as the first of three Saturday shutdowns ordered by the state railroad commission takes effect.

Hull Gives Blunt Warning For Neutrality

Senate Refuses To Lift Ban On Arms To Spain

Possibility Of Complications Cited; Revision Of Act May Be Asked In Near Future

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13. — The senate foreign relations committee, warned bluntly by Secretary of State Hull of "unnecessary risks" that would be involved, pigeonholed today the Nye resolution to permit arms shipments to the Spanish government.

With only Senator Pope (D-Idaho) opposing, the committee voted 17 to 1 for a motion by Sen. Harrison (D-Miss) to postpone action.

Revision Is Expected

Despite the fact Hull opposed lifting the Spanish embargo now, some committee members said his message indicated the state department was considering asking later for neutrality act revision.

A section of Hull's communication advised against "piecemeal" revision of the act, saying, "it would be more useful to consider it in its broader aspects in the light of practical experience gained during the past two or three years."

Expression Is Asked

Hull sent his communication after Pittman asked for an expression from the state department. The secretary said the Nye resolution would permit arms shipments to the Spanish government, while barring similar shipments to the Franco forces.

"Even if the legislation applied to both parties," Hull wrote, "its enactment would still subject us to unnecessary risks we have so far avoided. We do not know what lies ahead in the Spanish situation. The original danger still exists.

Reversal Of Policy

"In view of the continued danger of international conflict . . . any proposal which at this juncture contemplates a reversal of our policy of strict non-interference . . . would offer a real possibility of complications."

Senator Nye had proposed permitting shipment of arms, on a "cash and carry basis," to the recognized government of Spain, but not permit sales to the rebels.

April's Cold Weather Is Said Unfavorable To Texas Crops

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—April's cold weather and high winds were unfavorable for Texas crops in general, the U. S. bureau of agriculture economics reported today.

Wheat, fruit, pecans and some truck crops fared badly and spring-planted crops of corn and cotton in some instances were of necessity replaced.

A fair wheat crop was still in prospect, the bureau reported. It forecast production of 39,860,000 bushels compared with 41,984,000 produced last year.

Anglo-Mexican Relations End

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, May 13.—Mexico severed diplomatic relations with Great Britain tonight.

The government's foreign relations department announced the withdrawal from London, "in view of the unfriendly attitude" of the British government, of her minister Primo Villamichel and the legation staff.

Sharp Protests Made

This country's drastic action followed Britain's increasingly sharp protests at President Lazaro Cardenas' expropriation March 18 of British-owned oil properties and Mexico's delay in payment to Britain of claims growing out of Mexican civil wars.

On that date Cardenas took over the $400,000,000 British and American owned foreign oil industry in Mexico).

It was expected Great Britain would counter immediately with withdrawal of her minister to Mexico. Owen St. Clair O'Malley.

O'Malley said this evening he had as yet received no advices from London. He added that he probably would not decode until morning any cable arriving from the British foreign office tonight.

Notified Of Decision

The British minister was notified of Mexico's decision when he called at the foreign office this afternoon to receive checks for 361,737.17 pesos (about $84,518) due as an annual installment on the civil war claims.

He had several times protested delay in payment of the amount, most recently in a stiffly worded note dated Thursday, which said Mexico's "attitude toward government indebtedness generally" was "far from reassuring."

Reports Heard Of Shakeup In Ranger Force

Rumors Say Veteran Captain And Private Have Been Asked To Offer Their Resignations

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 13.—Rumors of a shakeup in the historic Texas rangers were current here today.

Officials refused to discuss them but reports persisted that a veteran captain, J. W. McCormick, and a private, W. H. Lay, both stationed in West Texas, had been asked for their resignations.

Comment Is Refused

Col. H. H. Carmichael, public safety director, and W. H. Richardson, jr., of Austin, chairman of the safety commission, declined comment except to say any statement must come from the officers.

McCormick was reported in Wichita Falls where he was transferred two years ago when relieved as chief of the rangers, a position taken over by Carmichael as director of the safety department, which includes the rangers.

A peace officer for more than 25 years, McCormick is known generally as one of the most colorful members of the more than 100-year-old force.

Enlisted In 1919

He enlisted in 1919 but continuity of service was interrupted by work as chief of police, sheriff and deputy sheriff in Northwest Texas during an oil boom in the early twenties.

He returned to the force by appointment of Governor James V. Allred who once praised him as "the outstanding ranger."

He is credited with almost single handedly cleaning up a lawless gang that once infested San Augustine and as chief of police at Wichita Falls, he beat to the draw and killed Bud Ballew, an Oklahoma character and lightning quick gunman.

Corn On Foot Troubles Aged Man On His Birthday Hike

FORT WORTH, May 13. (AP)—A corn on the "ball" of his left foot was all that kept S. J. Adkins of Dallas from completing a walk from Dallas to Fort Worth in celebration of his 80th birthday today.

Ready for more walking as soon as the corn heals, Adkins was interviewed tonight at the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Miller.

"I left Dallas about 7 a. m.," Adkins said. "When I reached Grand Prairie I stopped to see my son, T. M. Adkins, ate some fried chicken and took a nap."

The corn trouble developed when he reached Arlington. He took a bus from there to Handley. From Handley he walked to the city limits and telephoned Mrs. Miller who went out in a car and picked him up.

Leadership Of Britain And France Gets Severe Blow In League Council Vote

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, May 13.—Anglo-French leadership in the League of Nations suffered a severe blow today as two war-torn nations, China and Spain, sought moral and material help in this capital of collective security.

White-haired Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, representative of government Spain, lost a dramatic fight to end the international policy of non-intervention in Spain's civil war, but the league council's vote on his resolution was bitter medicine for France and Britain.

Two Follow Rejection

Of the 15 nations voting, only two, Poland and Rumania, followed France and Britain in rejecting the resolution.

This gave a sufficient margin to turn it down since only Soviet Russia joined Spain—the latter being given a temporary place at the council table—in the affirmative.

The blow to the Anglo-French leadership was in the nine abstentions including even Belgium, previously a loyal follower.

Others abstaining included China and New Zealand, which had been

Man Stakes 4 Against Minus 2 In Traffic Court Race And Wins By Photo Finish

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP) — Howard Lipson staked 4 against minus 2 in a traffic court sweepstakes today and won by a photo finish.

Summoned to court on an illegal parking charge, Lipson's first act was to buy a camera and photograph his car from all angles.

The picture convinced Magistrate Alfred M. Lindau that the car was not parked in a restricted zone, and the charge was dismissed.

If he had followed the form chart, it would have cost Lipson a $2 fine, instead of the mere $4 the camera cost.

Work On Ships Soon To Start

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13—The billion-dollar navy expansion bill, designed to give the nation the most powerful fleet in its history, went to the White House today for President Roosevelt's signature after the senate approved it.

Almost immediately it became known that the navy hoped to start work without delay on some of the 46 new fighting ships, 26 auxiliaries and 950 planes the measure authorizes.

Funds To Be Asked

After conferring with President Roosevelt, Admiral William D. Leahy said the navy recommended an immediate appropriation to about $12,000,000 to start two cruisers, several auxiliaries and some of the planes.

"The bill passed today authorizes the construction but does not provide the funds."

The navy's top-ranking officer indicated there was no intention of undertaking construction now of any of the three 45,000-ton battleships the expansion bill authorizes.

"We don't plan to have more than six battleships building at this time."

Charges Denied That Spending Plan Failure

Swollen Inventories And High Prices For Some Commodities Two Problems Being Faced

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13. — President Roosevelt blamed business methods today for many existing economic troubles.

Using one of his athletic figures of speech, he said business had run away with the ball.

He made this statement after a reporter had asked, at a press conference, what he thought of charges by critics that the present depression showed his first big spending program was a failure. He denied the charges.

Past Remarks Recalled

His statement about business methods recalled his past remarks about overproduction, high-pressure salesmanship, and certain prices he considered too high.

Much of today's conference was devoted to discussing the prevention of swollen inventories, accumulations of unsold products. The president, who has urged in the past that the question be approached through consultations between government and business, told reporters he hoped the problem would be included in the study of anti-trust laws which he recently recommended to congress.

Both Are Factors

With the problem of unabsorbed inventories, the president linked that of high prices in some commodities. Both he said, were factors in the business recession, although not the only ones.

The administration attempted to reach these problems in an experimental way through the NRA, he said, but had to abandon this approach when that act was held unconstitutional. Consequently, the president added, the problem still exists.

Also in connection with his discussion of the business situation, the president produced a semi-final report from John D. Biggers, director of last fall's census of unemployment, showing that 5,833,401 individuals voluntarily reported themselves unemployed while 2,011,615 were doing only emergency work and 3,219,502 were partly employed.

Program Moves On

The president's spending program, bearing the 329-to-70 approval of the house, moved on today to the senate, in the form of a bill appropriating $3,000,000,000 for work relief and public works projects.

The senate appropriations com-

Chinese Troops Are Sealed Up

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 14. (Saturday) —Japan's armies, swiftly nearing the Lunghai railroad from north and south, today virtually had sealed 400,000 Chinese troops in a tight circle on the vital central front.

Chinese acknowledged they were losing ground against Japanese columns spread-eagled around the dwindling territory they are defending between Japan's conquests in North and Central China.

Resistance Endangered

Apparent imminent success of Japan's months-long efforts to reach the east-west Lunghai, Central China's main communications line, endangered the defenders' whole resistance on the seaboard.

China's armies, Japanese declared, would be trapped without hope of escape.

A Japanese army spokesman early today declared the Lunghai would be cut within a few hours.

He said shock troops were about 13 miles south of Tangshan, an important point on the railroad 51 miles west of Suchow.

North of the Lunghai, Japanese declared, another column was about 30 miles from the railroad at Yutai. On the opposite side of the

Both Sides Suffer Terrific Losses During Fighting For Control Of Atlantic Coast

By DEVON FRANCIS

NEW YORK, May 13.—The war was carried to America's hypothetical enemy today by the general headquarters air force in maneuvers along the North Atlantic seaboard during which, the umpires announced, both sides incurred terrific losses of men and planes.

For five days the GHQ is testing its fast machines, its men and its organization under conditions simulating those of war time. On this, the second day of the games, the "enemy" was assumed to have obtained a foothold in Chesapeake bay.

In savage offensive, the "blue" defenders attacked the "blacks," a make-believe coalition of Asiatic and European powers.

"Live" bombs of the fragmentation type, picked up by the "blue" warplanes at Aberdeen proving grounds, Md., were dropped on island targets.

Solitary Confinement Is Ordered For 15 Leaders In San Quentin Prison Strike

(By The Associated Press)

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., May 13. Solitary confinement was ordered today for fifteen convict ringleaders in a "folded arms" strike in crowded San Quentin prison after 350 prisoners refused to work.

It was the second day of strike demonstrations by the convicts who protested reduction in recreation time.

Warden Court Smith said the disciplinary action caused about 150 of the strikers to return to work. The others still refused.

Earlier in the day the number of those in the demonstration was about 500.

Warden Smith said one convict, Percy Eberlee, Los Angeles murderer, was transferred to Folsom today because he induced jute mill workers to engage in the strike. At Folsom, where "tough" convicts are held, Eberlee will do rock pile duty.

The convicts marched to their jobs as usual this morning but did not work. They walked about the shops in silence. There was no violence.

Miss Wagner, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Grace Peterson, music instructor, began with a seventeenth century group including Caldara, Scarlatti, and Bach. Her second group of songs consisted of two numbers by Brahms and Bizet's "Seguidilla" from the opera Carmen.

Songs by Cadman, Hageman, and Rachmanioff composed the final group.

A critic from the college said Miss Wagner delivered her songs with admirable repose and with much clarity of tone and enunciation, showing a good mastery of legato, and an easy stage presence. She also displayed unusual reserve of power in the passages that called for big tone, he added.

Trial by battle was used to decide cases in Scotland until the close of the 16th century.

The Netherlands Is Determined To Remain Neutral Even If War Does Come

Country Takes No One Side

By J. C. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 13.—This little land of the clunking wooden shoes and creaking windmills sees straws in the wind for peace.

But if war does come, she wants to go right on tilling her tulip beds and building up the great dyke system which keeps out the sea for much of the 196-by-108-mile kingdom.

To Preserve Neutrality

Just as during the World war, the Netherlands is determined to preserve her neutrality, or what "we prefer to call our policy of independence," a high official close to the foreign ministry put it today.

"We take sides with none of the opposing groups," this spokesman told the writer, who is on a tour of the tiny land of winding canals.

He thought no country in Europe really wanted war and that "the fact that war had been so near several times in recent years is proof the people generally want peace."

The Anglo-Italian agreement was seen as a favorable sign for peaceful settlement of European problems, and the official viewed also the British move at Geneva to settle the Ethiopian question as a realistic step, in accord with the Netherlands' own proposal several months ago to the Oslo convention states (economically-linked Norway, Sweden, Finland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Luxembourg).

Prolonging Tension

"To continue to withhold recognition was only prolonging tension existing in Europe and was making settlements more difficult," he said.

Czechoslovakia he believed to be the most imminent source of danger now. But he held strong hopes for peaceful settlement of the Czech Sudeten German clamor for more political liberties.

He also minimized the danger of a German attempt to annex Hungary, predicting instead that the country would remain independent but under German economic influence.

"I do not believe settlement will come through a four-power pact, such as has been mentioned (Italy, Germany, England, France). Instead, I think there will be individual settlements of questions between various countries, such as the British-Italian agreement."

"Nations cannot go on arming as they are. The financial burden is too great. Disarmament should naturally follow a settlement."

Siam was opened to western influence in 1612 by British explorers.

Livestock Ranges In Texas In Good Shape

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Texas livestock ranges entered May in better than average condition thanks to ample moisture in April, the U. S. bureau of agriculture economics reported today.

V. C. Childs, statistician, said ranges promised "good to excellent" summer grazing over the greater portion of the state. Subsoil moisture was deficient in the extreme southern area of South Texas and the dust bowl counties of Northwest Texas but surface moisture was improved by rains.

The condition of cattle ranges was 88 per cent of normal on May 1, eight points above the condition of a year ago and the 10-year average for the date. Cattle were 86 per cent of normal, compared with 82 a year ago and 81 for the 10-year average.

Sheep and goat ranges were 90 percent of normal with the condition of sheep 89 per cent and goats 88 per cent.

Man Sought On Liquor Charge Is Transferred To Frisco

R. A. Smith, who had been sought to answer a federal indictment charging infraction of liquor laws, was transferred to San Francisco Friday by federal authorities who arrested him Thursday night at Richmond, Calif., said the Associated Press.

He was arrested on a federal fugitive from justice warrant in connection with a case at Lubbock.

Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner for the northern district of Texas, Lubbock division, said an indictment was returned Dec. 8, 1936, naming Smith and three other persons, two of whom since had been apprehended.

The indictment, she said, alleged possession of a still and other counts.

The sheriff's department and a Lubbock attorney said Smith about the time of the indictment had figured in another case, in another county, as result of an automobile mishap in which one or more persons were injured.

Former Mayor Ross Edwards Unable To Forget Old Job

Apparently former Mayor Ross Edwards who is vacationing near the tip of Lower California is experiencing difficulty in escaping a feeling of responsibility for the welfare of Lubbock.

In spite of his declaration when he departed nearly a month ago after the expiration of his second term as mayor that he wanted to "forget all about business for a year," he may have found the solution for one of the most difficult of present city problems—that of providing the cash to insure continuation without interruption of the city paving program.

This was disclosed Friday following the receipt of letters from the former mayor by City Manager W. H. Rodgers and City Secretary Lavenia Williams. The letters were mailed in La Paz, city near the tip of Lower California off which Edwards has been fishing. From there he is to return to Los Angeles enroute to one of the wildest regions of interior Alaska to spend the winter hunting and trapping.

Edwards' letter said nothing of his fishing trip except that he was "catching lots of fish," but he went into more detail concerning the paving fund.

He suggested where Lubbock might obtain a market for the paving certificates it holds. The certificates, it was explained, are the first or second mortgages given by property owners to the city to secure the paving of streets bordering their property.

Collections of the certificates, officials explained, have averaged better than 99 per cent and they pay 6 per cent interest. However, the city does not begin collecting for paving until after the work has been completed, and then the property owner has the privilege of spreading payments over a period of years. Result is that the city sometimes runs short of actual cash with which to proceed with its paving program.

To solve that problem, efforts have been made to discount some of the certificates to guarantee against interruption of the biggest paving program in the city's history. At least two insurance companies have expressed interest, but state law forbids their investing in any second mortgage.

City officials are investigating the former mayor's suggestion.

Important Clue In Slaying Of Two Women Is Found

EL PASO, May 13. (AP)—The sheriff's office announced here today the discovery of what may prove to be an important clue in the investigation of the West Texas slayings of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, Berkeley, Calif., tourists.

Two Fort Bliss soldiers, returning yesterday from maneuvers near Balmorhea, found the registration papers of a black Plymouth sedan from California lodged in a bush six miles east of Van Horn and two miles east of the scene of the crime.

The papers were issued by the California state bureau of vehicle registration to a man who gave his address as Helm in Fresno county. He gave his occupation as a farm laborer.

BODY IS FOUND

LAREDO, May 13. (AP)—The body of Staff Sgt. William E. Head, headquarters, service troop, eighth United States engineers, Fort McIntosh, was found in a truck shed today, a bullet wound in the heart.

Youth Attends Church Regularly But Only As A Seeker Of Cash--Held For Burglary

LOS ANGELES, May 13. (AP)—Donal Teel attended church regularly. In fact, he visited more than 100 churches between Los Angeles and San Francisco in the past month.

From each temple, he told police and reporters today, he and his partner took small collection funds.

"We worked the churches because they're easy—no one around to poke a gun in your stomach," said the 18-year-old youth.

"Sunday night or Monday morning is the best time—there's usually more cash in the box, but any day's good for $5 to $15."

Teel, arrested in Fresno, was returned here on a charge of suspicion of burglary. Police claimed they found his fingerprints on the windowsill of a burglarized house.

"I should have stuck to churches," Teel sighed

Mother And Father Turn To Surgery In An Attempt To Save The Life Of Their Baby

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 13. (AP)—A rural school teacher and his young wife turned to surgery today in an effort to give their infant son a new chance at life at the cost of one of his sightless eyes.

At their request, a Fort Smith physician said he would remove the left eye of three and a half month-old Jerry Leon Plummer, seriously ill from glioma, a cancerous growth attacking the optic nerves and spreading toward the brain.

To Begin Treatments

He said he would begin radium treatments in an effort to prevent the necessity of removal of the right eye. The disease already has blinded the infant.

The parents, Lowell Plummer 21, and his wife, 19, agreed to the operation as a last resort. The infant faced almost certain death if nature were allowed to take its course.

The physician warned that the baby's life already was in grave danger because of progress of the disease.

Quick Action By A Companion Saves The Life Of Man

SAN ANGELO, May 13. (AP)—Quick action by a fellow worker was credited with saving the life of A. C. Whitlow, car salesman, here today, who suffered severe chest burns.

Sherman Gill, mechanic, and James Mosely, another mechanic, were pouring gasoline from a drum into the carburetor of a car when it backfired, causing the gas to burst into flames. Moseley hurled the can, which struck Whitlow as he walked up, setting him aflame. Gill outran the screaming man, threw him down and extinguished the flames.

Whitlow was not believed to have been critically burned.

Maneuvers in the U. S. army and navy have been conducted annually since 1902.

Work For Undivided Texas Is Being Urged At Convention

HUNTSVILLE, May 13. (AP)—Mrs. Madge W. Hearne of Houston, granddaughter of General Sam Houston, today urged members of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas to continue to work for an "undivided Texas."

Mrs. Hearne, president of the organization, said the work should "honor the spirit and memory of the men and women who gave us the glorious land of the Lone Star state."

Approximately 150 members of the society were on hand for the convention, which will last through tomorrow. Welcome speeches were made by President C. N. Shaver of Sam Houston State Teachers college, where the meetings were being held and Dr. James G. Gee of the Walker county chamber of commerce.

After luncheon, the program was to continue at the grave of Sam Houston and at his old home.

Lubbock Loses Ground By Dropping Opener To Hobbs Friday As Wink Wins

Twitchell Sets Hubbers Down With 8 Hits

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche Sports Staff

After thriving all season on hard hitting the Hubbers met their match in Beecher Twitchell Friday afternoon, dropping a 7-to-5 thriller to Hobbs in the opening game of the three-day series at Parris field.

The big righthander had the Lubbock batsmen swinging wildly at his fast ball, holding them to a pair of hits in six innings. Malcolm Stevens' home run over the right-field wall in the second inning with Manager Hack Miller aboard and Al Carr's single to center were all Lubbock had for those six frames.

NEW HURLER ARRIVES

The Hubbers and Hobbs meet in the second game of the series at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the local park. Final game of the series will be played Sunday afternoon.

Manager Hack Miller indicated last night that Ernest (Little Bill) Terry, 6-foot 3-inch righthander would take the mound for the homerings. Either Russell Needham or Marshall Scott will be Manager Neal Rabe's choice for the Boosters, he said.

Terry joined the club Friday, coming here from Alabama after a tryout with St. Paul this spring.

Wink Pulls Ahead

The loss dropped the Hubbers a game and a half back of Wink and pulled the Boosters within two games of Lubbock.

Vernon Wilson kept 14 Hobbs bingles fairly well spaced. He gave up at least one hit in every inning except the ninth, but never allowed more than three in a stanza. A pair of fielding errors donated the visitors as many runs, the margin of victory.

Gordon Loken, 16-year-old Hobbs second sacker, opened the game with a single to center and Charley Rey pounded one to the same place. They took third and second on a passed ball, but remained there as Frank Hargroves and Gordon Donaldson whiffed and Smyly bunded to Bob Mosel at first base.

Twitchell Pounds Homer

Called third strikes on Joe Gedzuis and Carr and a missed third strike by Johnny Taylor cared for the Hubbers in the last half of the first.

Wilson tossed Trav Padgett out at first to open the second. Jack Davis hit a looper to Pope Mize in deep rightfield and got a life when Mize dropped the ball. Manager Neal Rabe singled to right to send Davis over for the first run. Rabe pilfered second and scored ahead of Twitchell when the hurler pounded one over the leftfield screen.

Rey singled to center after Wilson had thrown Loken out at first, and Taylor gathered Hargroves' pop-up in to retire the side.

Double Play Helps

Stevens' four-bagger with Miller on was all the Hubbers could muster in the second. A fast double play, Gedzius to Stevens to Mosel, on Padgett's grounder after Smyly had singled nullified Booster chances in the third.

Carr led off the Hubber end of the third with a safety, but Taylor and Mize fanned the breeze and Miller lined out to left.

Davis doubled to open the fourth and counted on Rey's third successive hit, this time to left, and the Boosters added another in the fifth on Donaldson's single and Padgett's two-bagger. Meanwhile the Hubbers were set down in order thanks to Hargroves' spectacular stab of Mosel's hot grounder for the third out in the fourth.

Donaldson Hits One

Donaldson's liner over the palings in center found Rey on first after his fourth hit in the sixth to end Booster scoring. A double play on an infield fly nipped a scoring threat in the seventh.

Miller failed to stab Twitchell's but tossed the hurler out at first. Mosel relayed the ball to Wilson at the plate to head off Davis who attempted to score from third.

A rally was started by Wilson with a triple in the Hubber seventh following Mosel's flyout to Smyly. Gedzius waited out a pass, Carr beat out a bunt down the third base line, and Taylor sent them across with a double. The scoring ended there.

Hubbers Threaten In Ninth

Lubbock counted again in the eighth when Mosel walked, took third on a single to center by Gedzius, and scored when Smyly let the ball get away from him.

Miller and Stevens singled in succession in the ninth with two down, but Watkins ended the game on a missed third strike.

Probable Hobbs Hurler

Manager Neal Rabe of the Hobbs Boosters probably will depend on husky Russell Needham, above, to do his hurling this afternoon against the Hubbers. Needham, a 210-pound, 6-foot 3-inch righthander, is the property of the Detroit Tigers and has won 1 game and lost 2 this season. He is 18 years old.

Wink Takes Fourth Straight From Big Spring Barons

BIG SPRING, May 13. (Special)—The Barons dropped their fourth straight here to Wink today as the two teams changed their site of conflict. The Spuds won, 3 to 1.

Big Red Hay was in fine form to hold the locals to seven hits, blanking them in every inning except the fourth. Wink collected nine bingles off the servings of Rau.

The victory elevated Wink a game and a half in front of the pack in the West Texas-New Mexico and slid the Barons into fourth place.

Eighth-Inning Uprising Gives Midland Victory

MIDLAND, May 13. (Special)—A homer by Jake Suytar with two abroad in the eighth inning put the Cardinals ahead of Clovis and they went ahead to beat the Pioneers, 5 to 4.

After Suytar's circuit clout, Frankie Nelson tripled and scored on George Zemek's single, which proved to be the winning run.

Clovis held a 2-1 lead going into the eighth and scored twice in the ninth but was unable to knot the count.

Galento Kayoes Nathan Mann

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Two-Ton Tony Galento, the barrel-shaped gent from Jersey, knocked out Nathan Mann, New Haven, Conn., heavyweight, in the second round of a ten round bout at Madison Square garden tonight. The pudgy Galento weighed 232; Mann 191 3-4.

Tony connected solidly with only four punches in the two rounds, but each of them nearly took Mann's head off. The Connecticut youngster was counted out as he rested on one knee near Galento's corner at 2 minutes, 3 seconds of the second round.

He was floored early in the session for a nine-count when Galento crashed a left hook, a straight right, and another left against his chin, but managed to weather that storm. Less than a minute later, however, Tony flattened him with another left hand crash, and Referee Arthur Donovan tolled the full ten over him.

Holton Cards 63 To Lead Qualifiers

A qualifying score of 63 posted by Alfred Holton in the Meadowbrook championship tournament Friday afternoon appears to be sufficient for the medal, Pro J. W. Byrne said Friday night.

Three strokes behind in second place were Weldon Counts and Joe Bihl. So close were qualifying scores Friday it appeared that nothing short of a 36-hole card in the low seventies would place a player in the championship flight.

A trio more players were under 70. Bob Hale carded a 67 and the defending champion, Ed Doherty, and J. R. Farmer had 68's.

Byrne suggested that all players qualified for the Meadowbrook ladder meet at the course at 1 p. m. Sunday to select a captain for the current season.

Others scores posted through Friday were: C. J. Williamson and R. Marshall, 70; Hackett, 71; Bert Pinson, 72; Jack Trammel, J. D. McCauley, J. Hollenberger, and Ted Tipps, 75; Ray Pinson, 83; and W. M. Seeley, 89.

P. H. Polk had a 37 for the first nine holes.

Southern Team Chosen For Coach School Game Here

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—A squad of 24 crack high school football players from which a team representing the southern half of the state will be chosen to play a "northern" aggregation on Aug. 6 in Lubbock was announced today by Standard Lambert, Austin High school coach who is chairman of a selection committee for South Texas.

The all-star game will climax the Texas High School Football Coaches' association annual coaching school.

The southern team will be coached by Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern university while Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin will mentor the northern eleven.

Last year a northern team defeated the southern team 7 to 0.

The state champion Longview Loboes led other schools by placing four men on the squad. They are Ted Brannon, tackle; Chal Daniel, guard; Jack McMahon, center, and Dick Miller, halfback.

Other players: ends—Euel Wesson, Temple; Jesse Hawthorne, Port Arthur; J. M. Russell, Cleburne, Howell Ponton, San Saba. Tackles — Derwood Peveto, Port Arthur; Clyde Rogers, Corpus Christi; Willard Clark, Hull-Daisetta. Guards—V. B. Basey and Walter Swanson, Austin; Bob Looney, Conroe. Center—Charles McGaffey, Port Arthur.

Backs—Bob Brumley, Edinburg; Cam "Powder" Harrell, Conroe; Noble Doss, Temple; Fred Hall, Waco; G. W. Dickey, Rusk; Wallace Johnson, Elkhart; John Burleson, Smithville; John Albert Jones, Athens; Harvey Haskett, Robstown.

Average weight of the squad is 181 pounds, the line 193 and backs 169.

Miss Miley, Mrs. Page Enter Finals Of Southern Go

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 13. (AP) Two of Uncle Sam's Curtis Cup players, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, the National champion, and Miss Marion Miley, Kentucky and Western titleholder, will play 36 holes tomorrow for the Southern golf crown neither has ever won.

In two spectacular matches they gained the finals after opponents and extended them to the limit.

Miss Miley went 19 holes before getting a one-up decision over long-knocking Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas.

In the other semifinal there was a feud renewal, with Mrs. Page extended to the last hole to defeat Miss Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, who edged her out for the championship last year.

Miss Kirby, after running into plenty of trouble, needed 43 strokes over the outgoing stretch but settled down to score an incoming 37.

Home Polo Season To Be Opened Sunday

Lubbock poloists will uncap the season Sunday, so far as playing at home is concerned.

The El Rojos of Plainview will open against the Lubbocks at 3 o'clock. That they are "hot" may be deduced from their drubbing of the Lamesa Blacks, 6 to 5, in their only other game of the season.

With additional horses and a crack addition to the player roster, Lubbock is expected to prove troublesome to the invaders.

Kent "Humble" Smith, lately transferred to Lubbock as an associate of an oil company, will be mounted for the first time with the Lubbocks. A former member of the noted NMMI poloists, concededly the best collegiate outfit in the country, Smith is a natural, say his mates. An excellent horseman, he concedes practically nothing to those who have an eye on the goals.

Charles Smith and the new addition will alternate at No. 1; Guy Smith and Claude Hurlbut at No. 2; Bob Hester and Murphy May at No. 3, and May and J. H. Cooper at No. 4.

Plainview likely will send Jiggs Wheeler and a brother, Blackie Norris, Clyde Blair and Clyde Bradley.

Tech Star Signs Eagle Contract

Herschell (Red) Ramsey leaves the ranks of the simon-pures this fall to cast his lot with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional football league.

Ramsey, Texas Tech idol and captain of the 1937 Red Raider eleven, returned a signed contract to Eagle officials this week, he said. He will report to the pro outfit July 25.

RAMSEY

Completing his eligibility last fall, Ramsey gained nation-wide recognition on his consistent play at a terminal post. His staunch defensive play and pass catching gained him a place on the official Little All-American team in 1935, his sophomore year.

Although his play improved during the succeeding two years, experts deemed Texas Tech's position above the "Little" ranking and he missed a place last year. However, he was given honorable mention on almost all all-American squads.

Tech Netters Reach Semi-Final Round In Border Meet

TEMPE, Ariz., May 13. (AP)—A pair of Texas Tech entries, Chapman and Moore, today survived first and second round matches of the annual Border conference tennis tournament and appeared ready to give opponents trouble.

Moore, who had a first round bye, beat Godding, New Mexico, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1. Chapman conquered Hitt, Flagstaff, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Childers, Tempe, 6-1, 6-4.

Also in the quarter-finals were Bilby Ganem, Borquist and Moon of Arizona, and Burnett and Thompson of New Mexico.

Bilby trounced Arroyo of Texas Mines, 6-4, 6-4, in a first-round match. Ganem bested Beatty of Texas Mines, 3-6, 6-4, 6-0, in another first-rounder.

Burnett defeated Jordan, Texas Tech, 6-2, 6-0, in the second round, and Thompson outclassed McCarty, Texas Tech, 6-4, 8-6.

Tech Golfers Beat Tempe; Track Finals Slated Today

TEMPE, Ariz., May 13. (AP) — Trackmen of seven schools gathered here tonight for the annual assault on Border conference records, with the University of Arizona Wildcats favored to retain their title.

Trials will be held during the day tomorrow with finals in all events starting at 7:30 p. m. (mountain standard time) tomorrow night.

A conference golf tournament will be held tomorrow afternoon. Texas Tech linksmen outclassed Tempe golfers in a practice duel today.

Steers Drop First Game Of Season

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Friday the 13th proved a jinx day for the University of Texas baseball team which lost its first Southwest conference game of the season today, after 11 consecutive wins, to Baylor university, 9 to 7.

Baylor's giant-killing victory threw something of a cloud over the Longhorns' right to the conference championship but Coach "Uncle Billy" Disch looked forward to the Texas-Texas A. and M. college two-game series here next week where a win would dispel all doubt.

JACKETS WIN TITLE

BROWNWOOD, May 13. (AP)—Howard Payne college of Brownwood won the Texas conference track and field meet today for the third straight time.

Four conference records were broken and one tied, all by Howard Payne performers.

Wolcott Breaks Record In High Hurdle Prelim

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 13.—Fleet Freddie Wolcott smashed the Southwest conference 120-yard high hurdle record with a loping sprint of 14.1 seconds in a preliminary heat today, pacing a Rice Institute squad that appeared couldn't lose the title in tomorrow's final.

Never extended in his record-breaking dash, Wolcott, the greatest sprinter the Southwest has known in years, seemed to be coasting as he broke the tape in amazing time that clipped four-tenths of a second off the old mark of 14.5, set last year by his stringbean teammate, Jack Patterson.

Just as easily Wolcott came right back to take easy firsts in the 100-yard dash heat at 9.8 seconds and the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.9 seconds, seven-tenths of a second off the old mark held by Cy Casper of Texas Christian since 1932.

However, Wolcott, entered in five events tomorrow, including his first appearance in the broad jump, had orders from Coach Emmett Brunson to breeze in the low timber event and was almost jogging as he crossed the line.

The lithe, blond bullet wound up his day of preliminaries in the 440-yard relay, anchoring Rice's brilliant Drake relays record-breaking quartet to a burning 41.4 race that broke the old record of 41.6 set by Texas last year. Wolcott's mates were Sanders, Carr and Steakley.

Rice was superior all the way in the track events, winning nine first places in the various heats.

Tomorrow's finals, however, will see the University of Texas, Rice's perennial rivals, getting under way in field events which may throw them enough points to boldly contest Rice's championship bid.

With the exception of Wolcott's high hurdle performance, there was nothing approaching a record-bettering run. The track was fast and only a light breeze blew across the field.

Dauber Is Favorite In Preakness Today

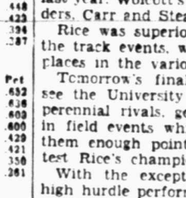

BALTIMORE, May 13. (AP)—The Preakness, second of the turf's spring classics comprising the "triple crown," will be run for the 48th time tomorrow with ten colts and a lone filly primed to test speed and stamina over Pimlico's mile and three-sixteenths for the three-year-old division's richest pot of gold.

Although robbed of some of its interest by the absence of Lawrin, Kentucky derby winner, and Stagehand, future book favorite, the race figures to attract a near record crowd of 45,000.

If all eleven of the overnight entries face the barrier at about 4:55 p. m. (eastern standard time), the race will gross $70,500 with the winner receiving approximately $53,000 net.

Heading the list are Dauber, William duPont, jr.'s chestnut, and four others which trailed Lawrin home at Churchill downs.

Dauber was only a length back of Lawrin in the derby but figures to be no better than 5 to 2 as the favorite tomorrow.

Goodwill Flight Staged Friday

Approximately 700 miles were covered by a group of four Lubbock men yesterday who visited 17 of 21 towns included on feeder routes in test airmail flights next week.

Purpose of the trip was to acquaint postoffice officials with the schedule for the proposed flights and to invite them to send mail by the feeder planes.

Those Making Trip

Those making the trip were C. E. Maedgen, general chairman of the aviation committee for the chamber of commerce; Freemont. Burger, assistant manager of the Hilton hotel; Dick Shinkle, secretary of the chamber's aviation committee; and Clent Breedlove, manager of the municipal airport and pilot.

The plane left Lubbock at 7 o'clock Friday morning, arriving in Seagraves, the initial stop, at 7:40. Headed by Joe Webb, former president of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, 30 people greeted Lubbock's delegation. Other city officials present were C. M. Armstrong, mayor, and E. H. Alexander, secretary of the chamber of commerce. The delegation spent 15 minutes there.

Hobbs Is Next Stop

Next stop was Hobbs, N. M., where Pete Anderson, secretary of the Hobbs Chamber of Commerce, and postoffice officials met Lubbock's goodwill ambassadors.

Leaving Hobbs at 8:40 the group arrived in Seminole at 9 o'clock. Pearl Cobb, postmaster, headed a delegation of 100 persons who pledged support to the forthcoming flight. Other notables present were Sam Malone, editor of the Seminole Sentinel; Dewey Davis, superintendent of the schools, and A. L. Duff, city attorney.

Ed Warren, editor of the Post Dispatch, headed the group who greeted Lubbockites upon their arrival at Post.

Spur Band On Hand

Approximately 175 boosters greeted flight committeemen in Spur. The high school band played just as the plane landed. Heading this group was O. C. Thomas, superintendent of the schools and H. P. Gibson, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

From Spur the boosters flew to Crosbyton to be greeted by Olen Littlefield, postmaster, and 28 persons. Among the officials welcoming the fliers were E. H. Lilly, secretary of the chamber of commerce; W. M. Curry, editor of the Crosbyton Review; and Dr. J. L. Adams.

Arriving in Ralls at 11:35, the promoters of airmail correspondence were welcomed officially by A. L. Winfrey, president of the chamber of commerce; L. A. Coward, secretary of the chamber of commerce; Marvin Pruitt, postmaster; and Percy Ralls, president of South Plains Good Roads association.

Some Time Is Lost

The committee then flew to Lubbock to refuel. Because of the time lost while in Lubbock, they were unable to fly to Lorenzo and Floydada. Wires were sent to these cities informing them of the schedule.

On the afternoon flight Hale Center was the first stop where the goodwill fliers landed at 1:20. Official greetings were extended by Vic Lamb, secretary of the Hale Center Merchants' association and Jack Hearst, owner of the Hale County American.

Departing from Hale Center at 1:30 the group arrived over Plainview at 1:45 but due to inadequate landing facilities were forced to fly on to Levelland. H. H. Mann, postmaster, and Tom Watson, secretary of the Hockley County Board of Development were official greeters.

Officials On Hand

Upon their arrival in Morton, Lubbock's goodwill tourists were greeted by the postmaster, city and school officials.

Leaving Texas, the airminded committee landed in Clovis, N. M., their next stop. K. C. Lee, secretary of the chamber of commerce, extended the official greetings. According to postal officials, they have been instructed to send all of their mail to Albuquerque, N. M., but they would have a pouch ready for the proposed feeder plane.

Final stop was at Muleshoe and greetings were offered by A. J. Gardner, postmaster. Other officials meeting the plane were R. L. Brown, president of the chamber of commerce; and several city and school representatives.

Amos Howard, Lubbock postmaster and chairman of the National Airmail Week committee, visited the other four towns of the proposed route by automobile. It was inadvisable to land in Brownfield, Tahoka, Slaton, or Abernathy, because of inadequate landing facilities.

Council meetings every five years and a central committee meeting annually were projected, with all Christian churches invited. The Roman Catholic church has taken no steps to participate.

The constitution was the result of a five-day conference concluded today.

Dr. John R. Mott, of New York, chairman of the international missionary council, was appointed a vice chairman of a provisional committee to act until the council is established. The United States had one of the largest delegations to this week's meeting.

The new world council would "offer counsel and provide an opportunity for united action in matters of common interest."

China won from the council only warm expressions of sympathy in her fight for material aid in her war with Japan, but Chinese sources declared some powers, including Britain and France, had agreed to grant China credits for purchase of arms and also assurance of aid in getting the arms into the country.

The council arranged to go on public record as flatly refusing material aid.

No Possibility Of Aid

Even in a secret session Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, supported by Georges Bonnet, French foreign minister, declared he did not see a possibility of international aid since "such a proposition would certainly not be unanimously approved by the council."

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, who had asked the council to help organize an international boycott of Japanese goods and forbid league members to sell war materials in Tokyo, was said, however, to have won the war credits fight in behind-the-scenes negotiations.

Gap Is Compressed

Thus, apparently within hours, the Japanese had compressed the gap between their armies west of Suchow to less than 45 miles.

Japanese declared 20,000 Chinese soldiers had been killed in 24 days from April 14 to May 6 on the Shantung province front.

Chinese were counterattacking desperately at Mengcheng, 75 miles south of the Japanese vanguard at Tangcheng in an attempt to break the Japanese lines.

They admitted loss of Mengcheng after the city's walls were demolished by Japanese planes, tanks and heavy guns.

With Japanese in possession of Amoy, seaport 600 miles south of Shanghai, Chinese expected Japanese naval attacks against Foochow, Swatow and other southern coastal cities in an attempt to draw Chinese forces from the main front.

Ships built under the bill will be in addition to others replacing vessels which grow too old for military usefulness.

While designed to maintain approximately a five to three superiority over Japan, the measure does not authorize a fleet as great as contemplated by Great Britain, navy spokesmen have emphasized. Officials said, however, there was a "slight chance" the United States might set the pace of construction temporarily within the next year.

World Fame As A Reporter Gained "On Her Own" By This "Small Town Girl"

BY BETTY JANE FERGUSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 13.— Little girls from small towns need have no fear about facing the wicked world after reading "On My Own," by Mary Knight, newspaper woman extraordinary.

Miss Knight, born and raised in the south, had nothing but her mother's advice when she set forth to see the world.

With practically no money, Miss Knight went to New York, thence to Europe. There began her fascinating existence as the only woman staff correspondent for the United Press. She found European reporting made her life thrilling and furnished material for an enchanting book.

"When I, as a foreign correspondent, was asked to write a book," said Miss Knight, "I refused because I didn't feel that I had done enough. However, when the wording was changed, and they requested that I write as a normal girl from the deep south, that was different. I accepted."

Writes Little Stories, Too

Miss Knight became a journalist when she reached Europe by camping, literally, on doorsteps until she was given a job. That was the start of her colorful and exciting career. In telling of her many adventures and successful interviews, however, she never hesitates to tell of her mistakes or failures.

"One thing I'd like to stress," Miss Knight declares, "is the fact that the work of a foreign correspondent is not all commenting on world events, and interviewing high potentates or glamorous characters, but includes routine office work and getting the dry little stories that must be done the same as the large ones."

However, when she wasn't doing these little stories, She planed, trained and drove all over Europe. She took a trip to China, planning to stay six weeks, but she remained one year. Then she didn't want to leave because she knew war was about to break. But the powers that-be brought her home.

Southern Gal's Adventures

High spots of Miss Knight's career: She was the first woman since the French Revolution to witness an execution in France. Dressed as a boy, after all other methods of entrance had failed, Miss Knight sauntered in and watched Paul Gorgouloff walk to the guillotine.

She interviewed the war lords of China. Though instructed to stay only 20 minutes, she had to bow her way out at the end of an hour and forty minutes.

"I talked from Hong Kong to New York for the first time on any wire," recalled Miss Knight.

Crashed The Gates

"Crashing the gates of Hollywood wasn't so easy, but with Mary Pickford's aid, I finally succeeded," she continued. "I was determined to do it without the help of my employers, and merely by having my name mentioned by the right people, I was listed at Central Casting and was an extra.

"I came back from the coast working as a hostess on a TWA plane to get material for stories."

Living the life of a Radio City Rockette gave her material for more stories. She ate, slept, rehearsed, did everything with them but the show.

"When I was working as a graduate volunteer nurse at Bellevue, only two people knew that that wasn't exactly my business there. I worked just as the regular nurses did—18 hours a day, and did all the dirty work.

"I covered part of the Luciano trial and was sent to the training camps of Joe Louis and Max Schmeling. I interviewed Mrs. Louis, too."

Thus a "fragile" little Southern girl won success—"on her own."

Barcelona Is Again Raided Early Today By Insurgents

BARCELONA, May 14. (Saturday) (AP)—Insurgent planes raided Barcelona twice early today, bringing to four the total of air raids within 33 hours.

The two previous raids took a toll of 200 dead and injured. The series was the most severe group of attacks the capital has suffered since March.

The insurgent planes swung over the city exactly at midnight. Anti-aircraft batteries pounded steadily for 20 minutes. Flashes of exploding shells and the sweep of searchlight beams lit the sky.

A Worthwhile Effort

EFFORTS initiated by the city commission to finance the construction of a storm sewer in the southern part of the city will find favor with many citizens who have grown impatient while waiting for conditions there to be relieved.

It is unnecessary to cite needs for the improvement to those who have had occasion to drive on Nineteenth street or in that vicinity in time of rain. Those persons know how quickly near-flood conditions are created. Most citizens know, too, that most of the water eventually seeps into one of the several large puddles nearby which are flattered with the term "lakes." There the water stagnates, creating a stench to the nostrils, a hazard to health, a blotch to the landscape and a burden upon the value of adjacent real estate.

So obvious is the need that it has not been in question. The major problem has been one of financing, and until recently it appeared that a bond issue would be the only method of paying for the improvement. But the city commission is now investigating—we think wisely—the possibility that needed funds might be secured from the federal Reconstruction Finance corporation.

City officials frankly do not know what the probabilities are of borrowing from that source. But they believe it possible that the city might be able to negotiate a loan at a lower rate of interest than would have to be paid on bonds, and that it could be repaid over a sufficient period of years so as to avoid a burdensome addition to the tax rate.

However, regardless what the success of the negotiations may be, the improvement is one which must be made sooner or later. It cannot be delayed much longer without the risk of costly consequences.

Rule We Should All Follow

ONE rule every citizen knows he should follow—but which few of them will follow—would be to ask himself before casting a vote for any candidate for public office: "Would I employ this man if I was responsible for this job?"

Good judgment, of course, would dictate a vote for the competent man who needs the job most. Such a man is more likely to take care of it. But it emphatically is not good judgment on the part of a citizen to vote for a candidate merely because he feels sorry for him.

In the approaching primary races, candidates doubtless will appear whose sole hope of victory is of riding into office on the sympathy vote. They won't admit that to be true. They will make the pretense that they are running on their merits. But they will know and the citizens will know that they are basing their campaigns on the fact that they are victims of misfortune. Yet such men win votes, often are elected, even when it is apparent that they are wholly incompetent.

Another rule citizens should observe—but which they won't—is to avoid voting for a candidate merely because he puts on the best "show." Of course, if the candidate is qualified and also puts on a good show, all well and good. Too often it is the "show" and not the man the voter considers when he marks his ballot.

The ideal condition would be for the citizens to consider only the ability, training and honesty of candidates in making his choices. But, like other ideals, it is one impossible of realization.

As Franco completes that march to the sea again for each edition, one can only surmise that the tide is going out.

A London visitor says he saw more war news in four days in American papers (run by newspapermen) than Europe's press carried in four months.

The assets of a defunct brokerage firm in Chicago are put, at first glance, at somewhere between 10 cents and $5,000. The dime would, of course, be the carnation.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN — heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER — hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MELROSE — wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE — Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

• • •

Yesterday: The first quarrel comes and Roger leaves Jackie on the dance floor. And he does not dance with her again.

CHAPTER X

Jackie did not believe she ever had been so angry before in all her life. She told herself that she simply despised Roger Breckner. So he thought it was ridiculous, did he, to pretend to be engaged to her? He had laughed at her, accused her of being jealous. Jackie forgot that she had called the very idea of their engagement ridiculous, too, more than once. She did not know anything about jealousy, since she had never been in love. She did not know how much akin hatred and love can be.

She did know she wished she could square matters some way with Roger for having got her into this mess. She would like to make him suffer for it, as much as she had. She would like to turn the laugh on him.

Well, one thing was certain, the moment this flight of his was over, Jackie would put an end to this whole crazy business. She would not keep this farce up any longer. Even if she had to tell Evelyn the whole truth about everything.

"Dear me," Evelyn said, toward the end of the long evening, "I do think Roger has behaved very strangely toward you, Jacqueline. Why, do you know he has danced practically every dance with Mrs. Melrose! He is dancing with her now—see them, darling!"

"Of course I see them!" Jackie snapped. How could she help herself? She did not have to have her attention called to the fact that Roger was dancing with Beryl Melrose. She had been very much aware of it all evening. She knew he was doing it on purpose, because he thought it would make her jealous.

"It does not look very well when this is your engagement party," her mother murmured.

"It's really yours," Jackie said.

"Mine!" Evelyn exclaimed. "Oh, I see what you mean, darling—because of myself and Paul. You know, I believe Paul thinks it odd, too, the way Roger is behaving . . ."

"I don't give a darn what Mr. Scott thinks about anything!" Jackie said. Then she turned away, biting her lips hard. She was not biting them because it was an effort to keep back the prick of tears from behind her eyelids, or down the big lump filling her throat. But she was tired, the silver slippers pinched her feet, her head throbbed from trying to hold it high, her lips felt stiff from keeping them in a curving smile. Besides, she must be careful what she said or her mother would no longer believe in this ridiculous engagement. To have Evelyn find out now that it was all pretense would be more than Jackie's nerves could stand.

Roger and Beryl Melrose came up to Jackie after that dance. "I'm afraid I'm going to have to say good night," Mrs. Melrose said smilingly, extending her hand. "It's been such a lovely party. It was so sweet of you to ask me."

She actually sounded as though she meant it, but of course Jackie could see through her. "It was nice of you to come," she returned politely. It was just lovely of you to spoil my whole evening, she might have added. But she had no intention of letting this other girl know that.

"Of course I'll see you again," Beryl said. "You'll be coming to the field to see Roger take off. You must be genuinely proud to be engaged to him!" As she said this last, she turned her big dark eyes toward Roger, with a look that, although Jackie did not know anything about love, could be easily read.

Why, Beryl Melrose was in love with Roger! Really in love with him. This knowledge was like an icy shower descending upon Jackie's head. She did not know why it Gal 2 Trial Flight Sat May 14 Ch 10 should be like that. It could not make any difference in her young life.

"Of course I'm proud of him," Jackie said. She had not meant to say it. But she just did. She, too, gave Roger a look, a shy, smiling one that seemed to say how proud she was, more than any words. For suddenly Jackie had been seized with an idea of her own! She really would put on an act. She really would make people believe in this ridiculous engagement. Even Roger himself!

Then she would indeed have the laugh on him.

• • •

He was looking at her in his puzzled masculine way. "You sounded as though you meant that," he said. "I haven't done anything to be proud of yet."

"But you will!" Jackie flashed. Now she stepped closer to him, slipping an arm through his, looking up at him again. "You know," she said to Beryl Melrose, "Roger and I are going to be married just as soon as he comes back from his flight."

"We are!" Roger looked quite astonished at this news, as though it was the first he had heard of it—as indeed it was.

"We decided on that tonight," Jackie said. "At least, I did." She flashed Roger another shy, sweet smile. She was not Evelyn La Farge's daughter for nothing, after all! "I found out—just tonight—that I must have that definitely understood—before Roger goes away, I mean."

"I understand," Beryl Melrose said. Her dark eyes looked into Jackie's a significant moment—as though she did understand, perhaps more than had been said. She said good night once more. Roger said he would see her to her cab.

When he came back he found Jackie sitting in a secluded corner, sheltered by a mass of flowers and shrubs, screened from the dance platform and the gay lights. She looked as though she were waiting for him. Which was exactly how she had hoped to look.

• • •

"See here," Roger stood over her, "did you really mean that—what you said to Beryl? Or were you still only pretending. . . . Don't pretend with me now, Jackie, please!"

"I won't," Jackie answered. She lowered her long curling lashes. Maybe because she did not want him to see what her eyes really said. "No—I wasn't pretending. I . . . I guess you were right, Roger. About Beryl Melrose, I mean. I could not bear to see you with her—all evening." That was the truth. It had made her so angry that she had seen red.

"You mean that!" Roger took a step closer, he caught both of her hands in his. "Don't pretend with me now, Jackie—I warn you. This is just between us. Not for the benefit of your mother, or anyone else."

"Yes, it is just between us," Jackie said. This was how she would even the score with him. For getting her into this crazy idea of his, for everything. This was how—in the end—she would show him how she hated him. "Nobody else has anything to do with this," Jackie said.

Certainly nobody else had anything to do with what happened next. With one swift motion Roger drew her onto her feet. He caught her to him and held her closer than he ever had held her before. His eyes, that were as blue as the sky, looked down into hers a long moment. Then his lips found hers and clung to them.

Jackie had not known that there could be such a kiss as this, fierce, yet tender, delirious, yet thrilling, a kiss that lifted you out of yourself so that reality slipped from your senses, robbing you of reason, stirring your veins into a joyous tumult that was fearful, heart-filling. So that for a moment you almost believed in it yourself!

Jackie saw now that this idea of hers was almost as dangerous as a flight into the stratosphere! But Jackie was not afraid of anything. She would play this through, too—until the bitter end.

Tech Representative To Attend Meeting

M. E. Heard of Texas Technological college will be among members of a statewide cotton committee that will meet in Dallas this morning to prepare a final brief asking earnest consideration of establishment of a regional government cotton laboratory in Texas.

Tech already has submitted a brief to government officials in Washington asking that the laboratory be established in Texas. Members of the Tech committee preparing the brief were Dean A. H. Leidigh of the agricultural division; Dean O. V. Adams of the engineering division; Dr. R. C. Goodwin, director of scientific research; and Heard, head of the textile engineering department.

At the request of the statewide committee, various colleges and other organizations have joined in the attempt to secure for Texas the laboratory, one of four provided in the farm bill recently passed.

Members of the statewide committee, besides Heard, are Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, chairman; Dr. A. B. Cox, director of business research at the University of Texas; A. B. Conner, director of the experiment station at College Station; Victor Shoffelmayer, Dallas Morning News; Eugene Butler, chairman of Texas Council of Agriculture; H. H. Williamson, College Station, director of the state extension service; L. T. Murray, Waco, secretary and general manager of the Texas Cotton association; A. B. Emmert, Dallas, general manager of the Texas Cotton Growers association; Walter Dillard, jr., New Braunfels, vice president of New Braunfels textile mills; Elmore Torn, Longview, agricultural director of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce; John C. Thompson, Dallas, secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners association; A. L. Ward, Dallas, educational director of the National Cottonseed Products association.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE prospect of an early move for wage reductions in the steel industry helps to explain the secret supplemental agreement signed by "big steel" and John L. Lewis when they renewed their famous peace pact last February. The inside history of those negotiations indicates that the C. I. O. will accept the cuts with only a formal protest for the looks of things.

Prime mover in forcing the original agreement was not Myron C. Taylor, but Walter Runciman, chairman of the British Board of Trade and a key figure in the rearmament drive. On his visit here early in 1937 he informed J. P. Morgan and President Roosevelt that England was ready to place large orders in the United States, but only on assurance deliveries would not suddenly be halted by labor warfare. Messrs. Morgan and Roosevelt then did their stuff, with Mr. Taylor and Mr. Lewis simply carrying out the bargain already sealed.

It was and still is a cold, hard-boiled business transaction, and not a wedding of the lion and the lamb, as sentimentalists have pictured it. There was profits in the deal for all concerned, including C. I. O.-er Lewis. Sit-down strikes had discredited his labor movement, the boys weren't paying their dues and his participation in the so-called crusade for permament peace between industry and labor gave him a puff.

• • •

BLAME: Steel production shot up to 90 per cent of capacity almost immediately, leading the economic upsurge that lasted until last August. The explanation for the drop to 30 per cent or less, and for labor's great concessions in the secret supplemental agreement, is that the bulk of the British orders have now been filled.

It was against that background that the original document was revamped and amended when the signatories met a few months ago. The industry apparently warned that it could not continue to pay high wages for short hours, and Mr. Lewis realized that the midst of a depression was no time for staging a showdown. So the supplemental paper provides that either side can terminate the basic contract within thirty days. Thus "big steel" and the independents will be able to revise the wage-and-work scale to meet changing conditions—more specifically, to thin out the pay envelopes during the summer.

An undercurrent of dissatisfaction now washes through labor circles as the inside story of the deal leaks out. The boys are beginning to think that Mr. Lewis led them up the hill and then down again. And rival industrialists who know the whole story, including Henry Ford, are blaming the House of Roosevelt and the House of Morgan for their part in the game.

• • •

SABOTAGE: Ardent New Dealers are nursing a new secret grievance against Henry Morgenthau over the unfavorable publicity and hostile reaction his Budget Bureau's enforced appropriation cuts have precipitated. They charge that Henry is the willing victim of a "Republican plot."

Although "Dan" Bell functions as acting budget director, and reports to the Secretary of the Treasury, both men are too busy with other matters to give more than cursory attention to budget needs and plans. They approve subordinates' recommendations as a formality, and it is here that the anti-New Deal conspirators are supposed to slip in their dirty work. Most of the budgetary underlings are Republican holdovers, including several "reactionary" army officers brought in by former Budget director Dawes. They are the ones blamed by the Roosevelt ians for crippling crime enforcement and foreign trade promotion.

The secretary of the treasury was warned about the situation by several White House sleuths who fingerprinted the political records of the Bell boys. But for once the pathologically sensitive and suspicious Cabinet member assumed an "Oh! Yeah?" attitude.

• • •

CASES: The behind-the-scenes explanation for Washington's wabbly attitude toward "aggressor and dictator" nations is bickering between amateur and career diplomats in the state department. Both sides support their honest differences of opinion with such cogent reasoning that President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull are sincerely nonplussed.

The No. 1 man and his foreign secretary, sentimentally, would prefer to denounce Hitler, Mussolini and Tokyo finally and utterly. F.D.R.'s "quarantine" proclamation at Chicago was an honest utterance of his real feelings, and Mr. Hull has spoken even more bitterly at secret sessions of Congressional committees about treaty-breaker. So have Cabinet members Ickes and Woodring. But the professionals—Under Secretary Welles, Berlin Ambassador Wilson, Rome Ambassador Phillips—insist that we try to live on friendly terms with the fascists. They argue that the Roosevelt-Hull program of economic peace can never prevail if we antagonize the three nations.

So the United States provides aid and comfort (arms, raw materials, financial assistance) to Franco, Hitler, Mussolini and Tokyo even while Cabinet members denounce their aims and ambitions. But the real test will come in a few months when Mr. Hull affixes his signature to a permanent commercial treaty with Italy. He will have to say whether he recognizes and approves the invasion and conquest of Ethiopia. That question was conveniently sidestepped in the temporary pact recently negotiated.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE automobile industry is heading for thin days. Insiders report that General Motors—now operating its factories on approximately a half-time basis—is planning to shut them down almost completely for the whole month of July and possibly into August. Other manufacturers are likely to follow suit. This would be a much longer period of idleness than the normal two-week shutdown to take inventory and prepare for the introduction of new models.

The industry can cite slow sales to justify a prolonged stoppage of production. But the underlying motive cuts deeper than that. William O. Knudsen of G.M. tipped his hand at the recent chamber of commerce session when he took a strong stand against industrial unionism.

The auto makers have been plagued by a continuous epidemic of wildcat strikes ever since they signed contracts with the United Automobile Workers, despite the efforts of responsible union officials to keep their followers in order. Motor magnates feel that the time has come to crack down on the union and bring it to heel.

• • •

STARVATION: Some companies have toyed with the idea of repudiating their U.A.W. contracts, on the basis that repeated union violations have rendered them null and void. This plan, however, has been virtually abandoned except as a last resort. Many executives feared that such overt action would stir up a storm of adverse public and political reactions.

A long shutdown is regarded as a more subtle and equally effective method of chastening the union. The U.A.W. is having plenty of trouble collecting dues. If nearly all of its members are thrown out of work for a month or six weeks, the strain on its depleted treasury will be terrific.

The feeling in high management circles is that financial starvation will either break the union or make it more amenable to factory discipline and to a "reasonable" downward adjustment of wages.

• • •

SYNTHESIS: A patent was recently awarded on a new process to convert solids of milk into a plastic which can be used as a paint finish for automobiles. The inventor is William S. Murray, New York Republican State Chairman and a research chemist. Rights to the use of the process have been assigned to the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association.

The significance of this invention lies in the possibility that it will solve the most stubborn problem which perplexes dairymen—surplus milk. It opens up an entirely new, and perhaps tremendous, market for milk producers. It may mean higher prices for dairy farmers on that big percentage of their product which they are forced to sell now at the low prices paid for "surplus."

Side Glances---By George Clark

"How do you expect me to drive any sense into your husband if you don't join in the argument and agree with me?"

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Difference of opinion exists at the state highway department whether motor vehicle registrations in Texas this year will be greater than last.

It is a little early to make accurate comparisons but Miss Bessie Bergstrom, head of the registration division, is guessing there will be an increase.

To April 27 this year 758,990 motor vehicles had been registered, an increase of 40,330 over the number registered on the date last year.

For the same period there had been an increase of 22,828 in passenger car registrations.

Total registrations for all vehicles in 1937, with some still being reported because the registration year did not end until March 31, were 1,593,222.

Passenger car registrations passed the 1,000,000 mark early in June of last year.

"It's just a guess," said Miss Bergstrom. "Some of the larger counties have not reported, which would possibly throw off any estimates.

"But I am guessing registrations will be up slightly."

• • •

Details Are Charged

If automobile license plates do not look just like last year's you may be interested in details of the change.

This year's plates are wider but the length is the same. Specifically, this year the plates are 5.833 inches wide and 13 inches long, while last year they were five inches wide.

Block lettering is used, too, instead of round.

The change was made, it is said, because some of the highway officials thought wider plates and block lettering would look better. It was noted that every state had wider plates than Texas and the opinion we ought to get in line with the trend prevailed.

Confidence Is Expressed

REP. GEORGE MOFFETT of Chillicothe, candidate for the senate seat from which Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls is retiring, expressed confidence on a visit to Austin that Texas would obtain the agricultural research laboratory to be located by the federal government in the south.

He pointed out that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had said state financial assistance would not be the deciding factor in the location and therefore Texas' chances should be as good or better than those of Mississippi, which has offered a $500,000 bonus.

"Texas' claim is greater than that of any other state," Moffett said, "because it has a greater variety of climate and soil, it was most adversely affected by the slump in foreign markets and it needs new uses for its tremendous cotton crop."

It was in 1931 that Moffett introduced a bill in the legislature making an appropriation, to be available if matched by federal money, for construction of a research laboratory to discover new uses for cotton.

He introduced it no less than seven times and finally it was passed by the last legislature, only to run up against a veto by Gov. James V. Allred, who said the state couldn't at that time afford the outlay of $250,000.

Moffett says he believes he was the first person to make the proposal in any legislature in the United States.

Under the bill passed by congress, four laboratories are to be built, in the northwest, the northeast, the southwest and the south, each to cost $1,000,000, and to specialize in researches into products of its region. The chief product studied by the southern laboratory will be cotton.

The act specified the federal government could accept state aid but so far as Moffett knows Mississippi is the only state which has appropriated anything for the purpose. The federal money will not be available until July 1.

At the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Wichita Falls recently, there was considerable discussion in committee whether the chamber should endorse Texas Technological college at Lubbock as the definite location of the southern laboratory, or should merely urge location in Texas. The first finally was decided upon.

Other suggestions are that the location be at the Agricultural and Mechanical college at College Station, or at some more central point, such as Dallas or Waco.

On his campaign literature, Moffett, who has snow-white hair although he is a young man, is calling himself "Cotton George."

He is opposed by another representative, Charley Tennyson of Wichita Falls.

• • •

Rode The Escalators

Gov. Allred confessed the other day that on his trip to Chicago several weeks ago he spent some time riding the escalators in Marshall Field's department store.

"I got a great wallop out of it," he said. "I rode the escalators while Mrs. Allred shopped."

The suggestion has been made, not seriously, that an escalator be installed to carry people from the main entrance of the capitol grounds to the front door of the statehouse, a distance of several hundred yards involving a bit of climb.

The fat folks about the capitol possibly would favor the proposal, especially now that warm weather is due.

LUBBOCK AUCTION AND COMMISSION CO. SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY, BEGINNING AT 10:00 A. M.

Traders have come to know that they get the best prices that the market permits for their cattle when they bring them to us to sell.
We have endeavored to transact our business in a straightforward manner, and it is not surprising that our volume of business is ever increasing.
We try to treat all customers honorably and alike—doing as we would be done by, and this means that once a patron of this establishment, you are always a patron.
We believe that our auction sale is a distinct feature of the country, and materially assists in making this section more progressive and more attractive from a commercial and agricultural standpoint.
Help us to continue to build up our reputation as such an asset by bringing us more cattle to sell, so we can keep the buyers constantly coming to us for their cattle requirements.

Building Totals Climb Friday

Lubbock's building permit totals Friday skyrocketed with issuance to the City of Lubbock of a $30,576 permit for street paving and nine other permits representing expenditures of more than $8,000.

According to figures at the office of Jim Reid, city building inspector, the total for the day was $38,669; for the week, $69,946; for the month, $101,487; and for the year to $862,742.72.

New Record Looms

It was indicated by building authorities a permit for $7,000 would be issued this morning. Possibility was seen of a new weekly record by the time the office closes at noon today.

With more than half of May remaining and the total standing at more than $100,000, authorities ventured predictions that the total for the month might set a new high for 1938.

Permits for substantial sums, other than the one for paving, were: J. W. Houston, owner, and J. J. Tyson, contractor, two-story residence in 3500-block Twenty-third street; A. Schwartz and S. Schwartz, owners, and Tyson, contractor, repair residence at 1402 Avenue T, $1,180; Floyd Koen, one-story building at 2230 Thirty-second street, $1,500; and H. W. Fulton, construction of a one-story residence at 609 Avenue L, $1,000.

Revolutionary struggles in 1848 completely destroyed the effectiveness of the Holy Alliance, formed 33 years earlier.

BUYING IN STEELS

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Buying in steels provided a supporting cushion today for a stock market that had to contend with light offerings in utilities and other recently strong groups.

While closing losses ranged from fractions to a point or more, the principal steels and a few others emerged with small advances.

Brokers attributed the extension of yesterday's set-back mainly to profit selling.

The fact volume dwindled both yesterday and today when the trend was down, as against expanded dealings when the move was on the upside, helped support the argument of those who believe better things are in store for markets.

The conclusion liquidated pressure is far from urgent was also drawn from the federal reserve figures disclosed a fall in brokers' loans of $4,000,000 for the week ended Wednesday.

Transfers totaled 604,950 shares compared with 595,404 the day before. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .7 of a point at 40.6.

Steels attracted a timid following on the belief that, after the July seasonal shutdown, and the June flotation of U. S. Steel's $100,000,000 of debentures, more favorable attention will be given stocks in this group.

Consolidated Edison contested the utility retreat, finishing with a gain of ⅛ of a point at 25½. A shade higher were U. S. Steel at 44⅞, Bethlehem 47⅞, Republic 14¼, Cerro De Pasco 38 and United Aircraft 27½.

In the sliding department were North American at 21, Electric Power and Light 10¾, Public Service of N. J. 31½, General Motors 30⅜, Chrysler 43½, Sears Roebuck 57¾, American Smelting 37¾, American Telephone 131½, Eastman Kodak 156, Du Pont 101¾, Westinghouse 77⅞, Allied Chemical 149 and Johns-Manville 71⅛.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 13. (AP)—Local and Wall street buying induced by improved textile activity and unfavorable weather lifted cotton prices more than 50 cents a bale here today. The close was steady at net gains of 10 to 12 points.

Contracts were supplied by spot houses, liquidation and hedge selling.

Realizing on old crop positions brought partial reactions near the close.

May finished at 8.80-bid, July at 8.88, Oct. at 8.94, Dec. at 8.96, Jan. at 8.98 and March at 9.04. Spot activity increased moderately and middling advanced 10 points to 8.91. Sales totalled 717 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Cotton developed strength today on better cotton goods trade reports and unwanted rains in the western belt. July advanced from 8.68@8.78 and closed at 8.76, with final prices net 10 to 12 points higher.

The market opened unchanged to 4 points higher in sympathy with steady Liverpool cables. May fluctuated irregularly from 8.71@8.62, before closing at 8.70 at noon.

The advance was attributed to more cheerful reports from Worth street and less favorable weather advices from Texas.

Three Persons Are Charged In Liquor Law Violations

Three persons Friday were charged with violation of state liquor laws, the complaints having been filed in the county court of Judge J. J. Dillard.

Arthur Honeycut, a negro, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve 15 days in jail.

Lois Merrell, 20, also entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $25 and court costs.

Elsie Hunt, a negro, pleaded innocent and bond of $250 was set by Judge Dillard. Late Friday night Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff, said she had not posted bond.

J. T. Willis, officer of the Texas Liquor Control board, swore to the complaints before Robert J. Allen, county attorney.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 13. (AP)—Brisk late buying ran the Chicago wheat market up a cent a bushel today after prices earlier had shown fractional downturns most of the time.

Acting as a stimulus to purchase were continued unfavorable reports about probable yields in Texas and Oklahoma, notwithstanding rains in the Texas Panhandle last night were expected to halt crop deterioration in that region. Dust storms at Swift Current, Melford and Saskatoon, Canada, were an additional incentive to buyers.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures ⅛ to 1 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 81⅞@82, July 78⅞@79, corn unchanged to ½ cent up, May 58½, July 59⅝@59½, oats unchanged to ⅜ advance, rye showing ⅝ to 1⅛ bulge, and provisions a jump of 5 to 20 cents.

Anyone Who Is Unhappy Is Mentally Ill; Doctor Must Also Treat That Illness

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 13. Anybody who is unhappy is "mentally ill," Dr. Orman C. Perkins told his colleagues of the medical society of the state of New York today, since happiness "is the real indication of success."

It is as much the doctor's job to treat that type of illness, he added, as it is to overcome any of the more obvious sorts of human ailments.

Dr. Perkins, a Brooklyn neurologist, made the observation in connection with a detailed paper on the proper care of chronically ill persons from the point of view of protecting their nerves.

In persons both "mentally ill" due to unhappiness and suffering some actual organic trouble, he said, the one so aggravated the other that a physician must realize that "gratification" of the patient was "just as exacting as the localization of a brain tumor or the successful treatment of meningitis."

Taking as an example a woman suffering from arteriosclerosis, a hardening of the arteries, Dr. Perkins said that in such a case the doctor must not limit his treatment to the patient alone.

"The children or relatives," he added, "must receive equal attention. They must be informed of the exact nature of the illness and be told of the proper attitude to be taken toward the patient; not to discuss her symptoms with her; not to increase her anxiety, and, above all, the ways and means of making a suitable environment in which . . . she may live."

Classes in instruction tonight and Sunday will be interrupted for religious services during the forenoon.
