Bentley Baize, who was injured in a traffic mishap recently near Merkel, is up and about again and he is busy working on the annual July 4th celebration, which is drawing steadily nearer on the calendar.

Mrs. Baize will be hospitalized for about three more weeks, he reported. They were injured when their car skidded and went out of control on an overpass on Interstate 20.

The mishap sold Baize on automobile seat belts. Both he and Mrs. Baize had their seat belts fastened when the accident occurred and he said he did not believe they could have stayed in the vehicle without the belts.

Baize is still looking for new features to be added to the Independence Day event here. As chairman of the Chamber of Commerce July 4th Committee, he is the coordinator for the entire program. There are several standing features, of course, that are popular year after year, but Baize said the committee always is interested in new ideas for attractions to be provided in Towle Memorial Park on Independence Day.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Karl Mawhorter says his office has been receiving calls concerning plans of local merchants for Memorial Day observance. That national holiday is next Friday, and most questions have dealt with whether stores will be closed for the holiday.

The Chamber of Commerce conducted a holiday survey last November in an effort to determine the probable holiday schedule that local merchants would observe during 1969. Of those who responded to the survey questionnaire, which was distributed by mail, approximately 88 per cent indicated that they favored closing on Memorial Day, thus listing it as one of the local general holidays.

The question of whether to close or remain open is left up to the store owners, or managers, of course. Nobody presumes to have authority to determine when any store shall be open or closed. The Chamber of Commerce simply tries to determine the concensus of the business community concerning holidays each year by making a survey in advance of New Year's Day. This is done to obtain an indication of merchant's plans for observance of general holidays, and most years there have been five favored in the survey. These include New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. — WACIL McNAIR.

SPLASHDOWN MONDAY

Apollo Heads Home

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Acrospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 10 astronauts ended their moon odyssey and streaked for planet earth today, sharing their thoughts and views with mankind as they headed home.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan fired Apollo 10's engine at 6:25 a.m. EDT to dart out of moon orbit and start the quarter million-mile homeward journey.

The astronauts are to cover a 246,285-mile return path in 54 hours, splashing down in the Pacific Ocean Monday.

They had circled the moon for 2½ days during which they cleared the way for two American astronauts to land on the moon in July.

The critical firing occurred behind the moon's backside, out of radio contact. Mission control center in Houston waited a suspenseful nine minutes before Apollo 10 rounded the edge and flashed the reassuring radio signals.

"We are returning to earth," Stafford announced, and the astronauts emphasized their eagerness by playing a tape recording of "Going Back to Houston."

"The burn was absolutely beautiful," Stafford reported. "And we've got an absolutely beautiful view of the moon."

The astronauts beamed the view to earthlings, pointing their color television camera out the window to capture the desolate desert satellite receding in the distance.

They panned the camera across the surface and showed a clear view of the horizon with thousands of jagged craters in the foreground.

"Fantastic . . . incredible . . . unbelievable," the astronauts uttered over and over again as they watched the moon grow smaller. Viewers on earth could agree.

"That thing is getting rounder and rounder and smaller and smaller all the time," Cernan said.

Within an hour, the full disk of the moon was visible, but the astronauts used their zoom lens to zero in on particular features.

Several times they showed features in the Sea of Tranquility where two American astronauts hope to land in July. Stafford and Young had cleared the way for that landing Thursday when they flew a fragile lunar landing vehicle to within 9.4 miles of the surface to certify the touchdown site.

Stafford showed two adjacent dry plain areas, noting one was "chocolate brown in color and the other tannish brown." Noting the stark darkness of space, the Apollo 10 commander said: "The moon is set against the blackest black you ever saw. It's a jet black."

Awed by the sight, he commented: "It makes you realize how far we've come in a few years and makes you wonder how much farther we'll go in the next few years.

"You've often heard the nursery rhyme about the man in the moon," Stafford said. "We didn't see one here . . . Pretty soon there will be two men on the moon."

"If there were people down there," Young interjected, "they have a lot of rocks to play with."

"This satellite of ours, this moon of ours, really had a rough beginning back there somewhere," Cernan said, adding later:

"I've always believed that nothing is impossible and now I'm convinced of it. I hope that what we're doing here and what's going to go on in the future is going to be something that's going to be a betterment to all mankind."

The astronauts televised the initial departure from the moon for 55 minutes, shut down for nearly an hour and then beamed down another five-minute picture showing a smaller moon partially in shadow.

"It looks like a chocolate milk shake—that's the best color I can think of," Stafford said. "We're happy to share it with everybody on earth."

After that the astronauts, tired after being awake for nearly 24 hours, settled down to sleep until midafternoon.

Mission control told them they could sleep well, assured that the engine burn had placed them on a near-perfect course for earth. Only minor midcourse corrections would be needed, trackers said.

Before the firing, Apollo 10 transmitted a final closeup look at the moon's bleak wilderness and fretted about possible collision with their discarded lunar landing vehicle.

Search Continues For Stolen Plane

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—British and American planes resumed their search of the Atlantic today for a U.S. Air Force C130 transport that was stolen from its base near here Friday by a 23-year-old Air Force ground mechanic.

Sgt. Paul Meyer of Poquoson, Va., was said to have been homesick and "under the influence of drink" before he took off in the big $2.3 million troop carrier from Mildenhall air base, 20 miles north of London.

The plane was last seen flying over the English Channel west of the Isle of Wight, and Meyer told his wife by radio-telephone he was having trouble with the controls. He was not heard from again, and the Air Force said it assumed he went down in the Atlantic.

WORK PROGRAM IS EXPANDED

Chamber To Seek Members

With an ambitious "Last Half of '69" program of work to spur them on, members of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce will conduct a one-day membership drive Wednesday aimed at adding at least 100 new members to the organization.

The Chamber's work program for the first half of this year has been geared mostly to All-America City activities and to re-organization of the Industrial Foundation.

Industrial work and trade promotion activities, along with more attention to education will get top priority in the "last half" program, Chamber officials said.

Members have been asked to stop by the community room of the Snyder National Bank between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. Wednesday for coffee, and while there each will be asked to contact a prospective member or two.

"It is hoped that each will be willing to give an hour or so of his time to work for the Chamber of Commerce," said Shelby Coker, president of the organization.

Coker said the Chamber needs to expand its activities and in turn needs more financial support. A membership drive was scheduled at this time because the membership roll here is below average in number for cities of Snyder's size.

Bud England heads the membership committee. He noted that new members are needed not only for additional financial support but to provide more volunteer workers for chamber projects as well.

Chamber Manager Karl Mawhorter is "captain" of the industrial team which was trained several months ago through services provided by Texas Electric Service Company, and this group will be kept active from now on.

Plans already are being studied for Christmas activities next December, and the Chamber hopes to revive its businessman-teacher banquet.

The organization also hopes to improve its equipment and facilities for assembling and distributing information required by industrial, business, and tourist prospects. Also, the library of city and telephone directories, which is used extensively by local and area residents, is expanding steadily.

USSR Wishes Apollo 10 Safe Return

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet science correspondent today wished the Apollo 10 astronauts a safe return to earth after their lunar orbital mission.

"It remains only to wish the courageous Apollo crew an accurate re-entry into the atmosphere, successful braking, and a soft landing by the distant islands of the Pacific," wrote Yaroslav K. Golovanov in the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda.

Most newspapers today carried more detailed reports on the Apollo flights than usual. Pravda, the Communist party paper, called it a "dangerous flight," in its report on the mission's achievements.

House In First Saturday Session

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — The end of session crush built up today as the house held its first Saturday session to try to clean up a backlog of legislation.

Senators, meanwhile, faced the strong possibility they would be in session for the third straight day of filibustering to block creation of several new state colleges.

Adjournment of the regular session of the legislature is just over a week away—June 2—and several important bills and dozens of politically urgent local items still need action.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher said Friday one priority item—the one-year general appropriations bill—has been "finalized," as he put it, with all decisions made. Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes worked out final details with chairmen of the House-Senate conference committee on the state budget, the speaker said, and no further meetings of the conferees are planned, except to sign the conference rport.

In Fridays long day of legislation in the House, final approval was given to a bill creating a new University of Texas Dental School, sending it to Gov. Preston Smith for signature.

Controversial Sub In Japan For Supplies

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. nuclear-powered submarine Swordfish arrived in Yokosuka Naval Base in central Japan today to get supplies and let its 94 crewmen take shore leave.

U.S. Embassy officials said the 2,360-ton submarine would stay in port for 10 days.

The Swordfish stirred up controversy last May when increased radioactivity was monitored in Sasebo, southwestern Japan during a visit by the sub.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what, in my opinion, is about the rudest thing people can do.

It's sitting there with their eyes glued to the television when people come to visit them. They don't even bother to turn their heads toward you to answer a question. Half the time they don't even HEAR you they are so absorbed in the "boob tube."

Please print this for those who are guilty of this unforgivable offense, and sock it to 'em, but good.

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: You did not make clear the "circumstances." If people "drop in" uninvited, perhaps the captive "host" is deliberately showing his displeasure. If invited guests must compete with the boob tube, I'd say the host is indeed rude, and the guests should make it an early evening.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are friends of a married couple who are having serious problems. Our problem is that they keep calling us wanting to talk. We have told them that we do not want to get in the middle of their arguments, but they keep calling anyway. As soon as one hangs up, the other one calls. They call at all hours of the day and night, which takes a lot of nerve. We are sick of it.

It's getting so that we don't really care if we retain their friendship or not. But how do we get them to quit calling us?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: There must be something the matter with the way you've been telling them to quit calling you. Kindness is sometimes mistaken for weakness. So you will have to match them in nerve if you want to get out from the middle.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an aunt who is filthy rich. She is getting on in years, and time has not mellowed her. She's still brittle and bossy and likes to run everything.

She has lots of very valuable jewelry, mostly antiques she's collected over the years.

She insisted that I read the letter of instructions she gave her lawyer regarding the disposition of her jewelry. I was shocked. She is leaving some pieces to ME on the condition that I in turn leave them to my sons ONLY if they marry within their faith! (Our sons are 5 and 8, and a long way from marriage. Besides, what has the religion of the girls they marry have to do with anything I give to them?)

If she leaves something to me, don't I then have the right to do with it what I please?

AT A LOSS

DEAR AT: If you don't wish to let your aunt direct from her grave the disposition of her jewelry (and I don't blame you), tell her you can't go along with her "conditions," so she had better leave the baubles to someone else.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our mother passed away 3 months ago. She and dad had been married for 27 years, and were very happy together.

Now, after only 3 months my father gave mother's diamond to another woman, and they are planning to be married soon. The lady is 44, very nice, but she has never been married before and she wants a big formal wedding with bridesmaids, the white gown and veil and, so on. She has asked my two sisters and me (we are all between 20 and 26) to be her bridesmaids.

Abby, we want dad to be happy, and we don't want to cause trouble, but something tells me it wouldn't be right to take part in this kind of a wedding so soon after mother's death. Can you advise me?

MIDDLE DAUGHTER

DEAR MIDDLE: I agree with you. That "something" that tells you it's not right is common sense.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Heat Blamed In Faintings

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — A wave of faintings and illness that swept the Texas Instruments, Inc., plant here Thursday night was blamed at least partly on the heat, according to a company statement released Friday.

The statements said the incident occurred on the hottest day of the year in the area. Room temperature was slightly over 80 degrees when the faintings and illnesses occurred, the statement said.

More than 50 persons were taken to emergency wards of Sherman hospitals, and at least 35 stayed overnight. One remained hospitalized Friday, the statement said.

The company said hospital tests showed a complete absence of gas, fumes or contaminants in those affected.

More than 1,000 night shift employes were evacuated Thursday night. The building in which the faintings occurred was sealed off after several women complained of nausea, headaches and dizziness.

The company said its doctors theorized that the initial illness of two women could have led to sympathetic responses in others.

Texas Has Building Boom

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says Texas is in a building boom.

Construction for April was up 11 per cent over March and 17 per cent from a year ago, the agency said.

Construction of residences, which often lags behind nonresidential building was up 37 per cent over March and 35 per cent over a year ago. Nonresidential construction was down 17 per cent from March and up one per cent from April 1968.

Residential building in April had one of its largest gains but building of individual homes was relatively low. Apartment buildings accounted for the greatest part of the increase.

The boom in apartments started in Texas in 1961, when such building more than doubled that of 1960. Certain sociological and economic factors encouraged apartment living.

The trend to apartments has sung upward sharply since 1962. Apartments can minimize costs of taxes, land, construction and maintenance per family unit, the Bureau said.

The largest permits awarded during April for building apartments included: Three in Austin for a total of $11.3 million and 718 units; five in Dallas for over $8.7 million and 1,315 units; one in Beaumont for $1 million and 118 units; one in Galveston for over $1.4 million and 192 units; one in Hurst for $1.2 million and 197 units; one in Longview for $1 million and 100 units; and two in Pasadena for nearly $85 million and 716 units.

Texas Retail Sales Down

AUSTIN (AP) — Estimates of retail sales in Texas during April indicate a slowdown still is on in consumer spending, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The estimated $1.5 billion total sales for April was no appreciable change from sales during March. Sales of durable goods declined 1 per cent and nondurable goods were unchanged.

With Easter one week earlier in 1969 than in 1968 a substantial portion of retail buying fell in the latter part of March, causing a decline in April sales. Sales that month weakened considerably because of income tax rains.

Retail sales for April gained 4 percent over trade a year ago. Durable goods gained 9 per cent, nondurable goods gained 2.

Higher interest rates failed to dampen buyers' readiness to go deeper in debt to finance new cars, furniture and appliances. The construction industry remains strong.

The cumulative year-to-date figure for 1969 show increases over 1968 in all categories of nondurable goods except food stores where sales are down 2 per cent and shoe stores where sales are down 9 per cent. The consumer seems to be more conscious of the high costs of food and leather goods, which lead to more conservatives hopping for these items, researchers say.

Charleston's Pinckneys

CHARLESTON IN THE AGE OF THE PINCKNEYS. By George C. Rogers Jr., University of Oklahoma Press. $2.95.

Charleston became a major commercial port almost from its founding, but beyond that it produced leadership for America and a senuous form of living that made the city outstanding for more than a century.

This rise of the city paralleled the dominance of the community by the Pinckney family—beginning in 1730 when Charles Pinckney issued the first growls against the mother country of Britain.

Charleston finally stopped growing just before the Civil War.

The author, George C. Rogers Jr. of South Carolina University, blames the end of the city's vigor on its entrancement with the past.

But he describes glorious days as the Pinckneys and others made the city a great place to live—if you were a Pinckney or a member of that crowd.

The compact volume is one in the University of Oklahoma Press' series on "The Centers of Civilization."—The AP.

Delta Kappa Gamma held its Founders Day program Monday night at the home of Maribeth Vestal. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Vestal were Mary Davenport, Eva Nelson, and Vestal Maner.

The Ceremonials Committee was in charge of the program. June McGlaun opened the program with a tribute to the 8 deceased founders who organized the society May 11, 1929, for women educators to promote education and the welfare of women in education.

As Mrs. McGlaun paid tribute to each founder, Lillian Jones placed a red letter spelling out FOUNDERS on a gold cord. She noted that in the biennium of 1967-78 the Society awarded women educators in the U. S. approximately one half million dollars in scholarships, plus awards of over $100,000 in International Grants. She said that these grants and scholarships are open to all qualified women teachers to pursue higher education or research projects.

Edna Francao, AFS student from Brazil, talked to the group on Brazilian music. She sang several folk songs from the different areas of her native land accompanying herself on the guitar. She concluded her program by singing an American song "A Hundred Miles from Home."

Good Lunch

SPICY BEANS AND FRANKFURTERS

6 large kosher-style beef frankfurters
1 can (15½ ounces) chili beans
1 cup coarsely grated cheddar cheese

Cut frankfurters lengthwise through the center but not clear through. Tuck crosswise into a glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches) opening them so they are fairly flat. Spoon the beans into the frankfurter openings and around the franks. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until bubbling hot and cheese has melted — about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings. This spicy dish benefits from being served with a cool salad accompaniment.

Eight ounces of Cheddar cheese gives you as much protein as a full pound of steak. That is one day's requirement of protein. And cheese gives you a bonus — there isn't any waste.

Two Girl Scout troops had a very eventful Saturday (May 17th). The two troops, Junior 327 and Cadette 266 went on a bus to Lubbock to the Planetarium.

They had a sack lunch in McKenzie Park and then went to Lubbock's Prairie Dog Town. Then they went to the Tech Museum where they saw relics of frontier towns, sculptures, and paintings. Some of the paintings had been donated to the museum by the Diamond M Foundation of Snyder. Some of the girls bought fossils, different kinds of rocks, and many other souvenirs.

The girls then went to the Planetarium. They were shown exactly how the sky would look that night. They were also shown several stars in summer and winter constellations, and their guide told legends of the stars.

Many, many thanks to Mrs. Foy for going with us, to Mr. Pruitt for driving the bus, and to Mrs. Pruitt, Mrs. Nunley and Mrs. Meyers for arranging the trip. Cecile Pruitt, Reporter for Troop 327.

3 packages (each 3 ounces) cream cheese, at room temperature
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon vanilla
Graham Cracker Shell, see below

Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven for 25 minutes. Cool, then chill about ½ hour before cutting for custard texture, a few hours for firm texture. Makes 6 servings.

Graham Cracker Shell — Melt 3 tablespoons butter; remove from heat stir in ¾ cup fine graham-cracker crumbs and ¼ cup chopped (medium - coarse) walnuts. Bake in a preheated 375 - degree oven 5 minutes. Cheese filling may be added while crust is hot or cold. together cream cheese, sugar,

All good cooks know that it takes ever so little extra to turn plain ordinary food into something really special. Try lightly sauteing sliced mushrooms in the dairy fresh butter you serve over green vegetables. Three tablespoons of butter to four ounce fresh mushrooms, sliced . . . or even a small can of "stems and pieces" . . . will make a really big difference! Great, too, with scrambled eggs for breakfast, lunch or supper!

Texas Farmers Need A Few Days Of Sunshine

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — Texas farmers hope sunshine and dry weather will last at least until they complete planting. The change, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is welcome but several such days are needed just to dry soils so field work can be resumed.

Only spotted areas report a rain shortage. Much wider areas report a surplus, he said. Ranges generally are in good to excellent condition; livestock are in fine shape; and with warmer night temperatures, more and more areas should soon have lush grazing, he noted.

Crop farmers have been kept out of their fields by rain and some have seen crops destroyed by hail, winds and washing rains, making replanting necessary. Insects are increasing and grains need open weather to mature them, he said.

Moisture is adequate over most of the Panhandle and wheat is making good progress. Cotton is coming up and livestock conditions generally are good.

South Plains (Lubbock) farmers are waiting for fields to dry for cotton and grain sorghum planting. Considerable acreage will have to be replanted due to rain and hail. Cool, wet weather has caused slow emergence and thin stands of crops planted before the last rains.

Rolling Plains (Vernon) moisture varies from adequate to surplus. Grains need sunshine. Some damage has been reported in a few counties from wind and hail. Some leaf rust is showing up. Some cotton and sorghum will have to be replanted but fields are still too wet. Ranges are very good.

Fields are too wet for work and recent heavy rains and floods will cause considerable replanting in North Central Texas. Some hay has been lost due to the rains but grains look good.

Ranges and livestock are in good condition and the big need is for a lot of warm, open weather.

Moisture is surplus in North-east Texas where wet, cool weather is holding back grass development and all field work. Planting is late and some corn and cotton will have to be replanted. Pecans have set a good crop but insect damage is heavy. Grazing improved and livestock are in good condition. Markets are active.

AFTER YEAR OF MOURNING

A Look At Ethel Kennedy

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

MCLEAN, Va. (AP) — During the year of mourning for her slain husband, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it was Ethel Kennedy who kept everyone else's spirits high as she carefully put together the shattered fabric of her life.

A host of friends testify to Ethel's amazing ability to keep the fun and games going at her Hickory Hill home—the way it was when Bobby was there. "It has the same zany quality, with 12 things going on at once," a friend reports.

"But, if she's downbeat, she never let's on," according to columnist Art Buchwald, one of the many friends who also have rallied to help Mrs. Kennedy through a traumatic time.

Ethel Skakel Kennedy was 41 on April 1. This June she would have been celebrating her 19th wedding anniversary.

Instead, she will be ending a year of mourning, making her first official public appearance at the June 7 dedication of D.C. Stadium, renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium for her late husband.

In the year since Sen. Kennedy was assassinated in a Los Angeles hotel in mid-campaign, his widow, Ethel, has immersed herself in the exuberant activities of her brood of 11 children, focusing on being a mother. She has found solace in her family, her religion and in planning projects in her husband's memory.

A devout Roman Catholic, she goes to Mass almost every day. And, at the 5½-acre Kennedy estate, Hickory Hill here she helps with the school car pool and often plays tennis two or three times a day, continuing her lifelong dedication to vigorous sports, including the Kennedy's favorite, touch football.

She still runs the 19-room Georgian house the way one intimate described it—"as a country club of her friends," friends such as mountain climber James Whittaker, singer Andy Williams and astronaut John Glenn can be found there, among scores of close associates who pop in and out and take the Kennedy children on outings.

When springtime came to Hickory Hill, Ethel, still shunning public appearances, couldn't turn down the annual request to hold a settlement house charity "Pet Show" the Kennedys have hosted for the past six years on their sprawling lawns.

The fluid Kennedy pet population, ranging from the senator's black labrodor retriever "Brumus" to a huge tortoise, were available for entry, too.

Shortly after Sen. Kennedy's death, Ethel told friends "the children are so brave. They have helped me more than they can know."

It was the children, in a typical family conference of their own, who decided they wanted to keep Hickory Hill "as home."

"Old Moms," as Ethel laughingly calls herself, agreed with them—especially since Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, wife and three children, live just 2½ miles down the same road in a new McLean home.

Ethel was expecting her 11th child when her husband was killed. At first, friends reported she was very emotional and upset about it, oppressed by the fact that Bobby would not be there to share the new baby.

Ethel's doctor, John W. Walsh, the same who attended Jacqueline Kennedy, put Ethel to bed for the last weeks of her pregnancy.

Like Jackie, who leaned on Bobby after the assassination of her husband, President John F. Kennedy, Ethel leaned on the last remaining Kennedy brother, Ted. "She and Ted are quite close," a friend commented, "and Ethel is very loyal to him" and heartily approves of his continuing political activities.

When the baby was finally due, an entourage, including Ted and Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson, accompanied Ethel to Georgetown Hospital. Typical of Ethel, she took along five suitcases and a three-speed electric fan, duly noted by reporters who came to check her in too.

The baby was born Dec. 12—six months after Sen. Kennedy's death. It was a Caesarean delivery, her fifth. The baby was named Rory after Mrs. Kennedy's father.

The first thing Ethel did when she left the hospital was to take her baby to Sen. Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery, an emotional and impulsive gesture.

Her friends say the baby "helped distract Ethel in a way" and she seemed to consider "she lost one person and gained another."

"She bounced back; nothing really defeats her," was the comment of one insider.

Most people are usually a little nervous approaching Ethel at first, but she's always the one who puts them at ease.

The one item that's been taboo, though, was the trial of Kennedy's slayer, Sirhan B. Sirhan, and his recent conviction by a Los Angeles court.

Life at Hickory Hill had centered about the zestful, handsome, 42-year-old Sen. Kennedy. All of their married life, Ethel had taken her cues from her husband and her life revolved around him, his ideas, his enthusiasms and his friends and projects.

She had always been "Bobby's shadow," a friend said. When he died she became "a tremendous personality" on her own, rising to every occasion. "Just a marvel" and "steadily terrific," was the assessment of one intimate.

When Ethel was named in a Gallup Poll early this year as the nation's "most admired" woman, ahead of mother-in-law Rose Kennedy, and former First Ladies Mamie Eisenhower and Lady Bird Johnson, friends called and gave Ethel a laugh by suggesting she made it "because of your cooking."

Ethel is well known for depending on a large and oft-changing household staff. But, she has made it a ritual to be on hand to give the baby in the family a nightly bath from the time her oldest daughter, Kathleen, was born 17 years ago.

The daughter of a self-made millionaire, Ethel grew up in a family of seven children in Connecticut, in an atmosphere of ease, confort and competitive sports, as did the Kennedys.

Like them, too, she has known personal tragedy. Her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. George Skakel, were killed in the crash of a private plane in Oklahoma in 1955. Her brother, George Jr., was killed in a plane crash in 1966. His widow, Joan Patricia Skakel, choked to death on a particle of food in May 1967.

Like her mother-in-law, Rose Kennedy, religion provided the greatest source of strength for Ethel. When she was confined to bed during her pregnancy, her parish priest gave her weekly communion in her bedroom.

Ethel elected to observe a year of mourning. Except for bright-colored maternity clothes worn at home, she mostly wore the traditional mourning colors of black and white. She even had black and white skiing attire when she took her children on a winter vacation to the Waterville, N.H., ski slopes her husband loved.

There, where "Bobby's Bombers" once slalom-raced with friends and family, a memorial chapel is being built on a plateau. Ethel pondered over Bible verses to select an inscription for it.

Ron Hunt of the San Francisco Giants was hit 25 times by pitched balls last season.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEMINOLES

QUESTION: Why did the Indian chief Osceola fight so deperately against the white men?

* * *

ANSWER: The white settlers in America and the Indians had different ways of living. As a result, bad feeling often developed between them. In the south, the Creek Indians had made a treaty with the whites by which they gave up a huge area of land. This angered the branch of the Creeks living in Florida, the Seminoles. They attacked the whites, but most of the Indians were subdued. The government decided to move them West. But the fiery chieftan Osceola rebelled. He would fight, he said, "until the last drop of Seminole blood has moistened the dust of his hunting ground". He withdrew with his fighters to the wilderness of the Florida Everglades and for seven years resisted attack. Finally, almost all the Seminole were wiped out. Osceola was seized and died in prison. Most of the remaining Seminoles agreed to move West, but a small group held out in the Everglades. Peace was finally made with the U.S. government in 1934. A few hundred Seminole Indians still live in their remote hunting ground today (lower right).

Letters To Editor

To the citizens of Snyder Tex.:

Until you have had a near tragedy strike your loved ones away from home, and personally experienced the concern of travelers willing to stop and help at a time when life or death are in question; until you have felt the warmth of a community pouring out its love, it's help and its thoughtfulness in time of dire need; until you have had perfect strangers take in your children, clothe and feed them, pray with them, send ministers to console the injured, bring you flowers out of their own yard, share last year's canned preserves with you, and offer any kind of assistance needed; until you have experienced all of these, you have not witnessed the presence of Almighty God that is in the hearts of the citizens of Snyder, Texas.

You folks, with your wonderful hospital, your gifted Dr. John O'Banion, your love and your prayers have given my family a stronger belief in the love and power of Jesus Christ than any other single event in our lives, and to you we humbly say "Thank you, Snyder, Texas, for saving our lives."

Lolich Sets Tiger Strikeout Record

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich didn't know what all the excitement was about but Bill Rigney had a pretty good idea.

Lolich set a Detroit strikeout record Friday night, fanning 16 California batters in the Tigers' 6-3 victory. The stocky left-hander had no idea what the excitement in the stands was about when he made Dick Stuart his 16th victim in the ninth inning. Then Bubba Morton fouled to Bill Freehan for the final out and Lolich decided to find out what was happening.

"When Freehan caught the ball," Lolich said later, "I walked up to him and said, 'Do you know what's going on?' He said no, and then when I got to the dugout somebody told me I set a new strikebut record."

Rigney, manager of the Angels, also was in the dark over the fans' excitement. "I knew one thing," said Rigney. "More of my batters kept walking back to the dugout instead of going the other way."

Elsewhere in the American League Friday night, Boston trimmed Chicago 4-2, Cleveland rapped Seattle 7-1, Baltimore edged Oakland 4-3, Kansas City took Washington 4-3 and New York dropped Minnesota 3-1.

In the National League, Philadelphia rapped Atlanta 6-2, Cincinnati nipped Montreal 4-3, Houston defeated New York 7-0, St. Louis topped Los Angeles 1-0, Chicago blanked San Diego 6-0 and San Francisco shut out Pittsburgh 3-0.

Despite all the strikeouts, Lolich would have come away empty-handed had it not been for Mickey Stanley. The Angels had built a 3-0 lead but Andy Messersmith issued consecutive walks to Tom Matchick, Freehan and Lolich in the fourth inning.

There was no place left to put Mickey Stanley and when Messersmith grooved one, Stanley hit it off the upper right field facade for a grand slam homer.

After that, it was Lolich's show. He allowed just four hits and ran his record to 6-1. The old Tiger strikeout record was 15 set by Paul Foytack in 1956. Foytack was at Friday night's game to watch Lolich break the mark.

Tony Conigliaro walloped his sixth home run of the year and Boston's red-hot Red Sox topped Chicago. It was the fourth straight victory and 14th in 17 games for the Sox.

Ray Culp won his seventh with ninth inning help from Vicente Romo.

Dick Ellsworth hurled a four-hitter for Cleveland the Indians whipped Seattle. Zoilo Versalles, Jose Cardenal and Lee Maye led the Cleveland attack and Ken Harrelson smacked a double, ending an 0 for 20 slump.

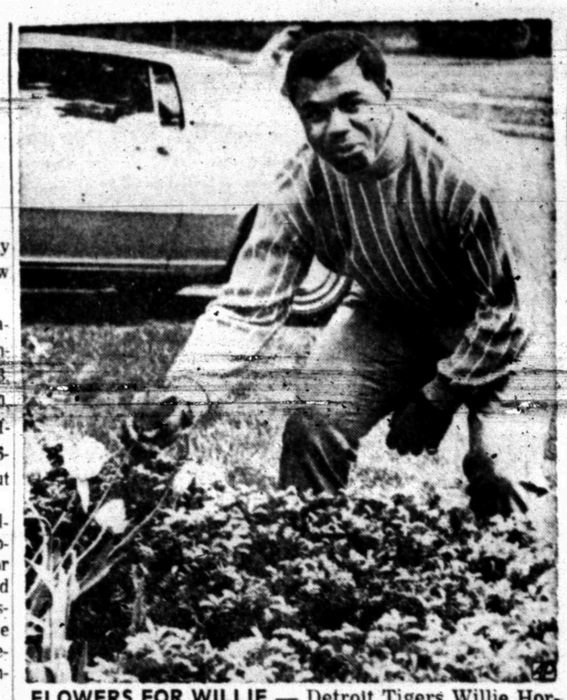

Dave Johnson slugged a triple and a double, scoring one run and driving in another to help Baltimore top Oakland. It was Johnson's two-bagger that delivered the tie-breaking run in the sixth when an error by Bert Campaneris led to three unearned runs for the Orioles.

Blue Moon Odom took the loss, his second in nine decisions.

A wild pitch by Dennis Higgins in the ninth inning allowed Bob Oliver to score Kansas City's winning run and the Royals edged the Senators. Lou Piniella tagged three singles and a double and figured in each of KC's first three runs.

Hank Allen drove in two runs with a pair of singles for the Senators.

Bill Robinson tagged a run-scoring double as New York rallied for a pair of seventh-inning runs to whip Minnesota. It was the eighth straight victory for the Yankees and ran Mel Stottlemyre's record to 7-3.

FLOWERS FOR WILLIE — Detroit Tigers Willie Horton putters around his garden placing his worries aside at Detroit, Mich. Horton was suspended from the club for walking out of a game against the Chicago White Sox at Detroit. Willie says a buildup of personal problems caused his walk out. He rejoined the club in Chicago. Brown Leads At Atlanta

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Pro golf may look like a glamorous life, Pete Brown says, but the pace-setter in the Atlanta Classic contends, "It isn't all just fun on the tour."

And the 34-year-old Los Angeles golfer has plenty of aching muscles to back up his claim.

Brown is among the also-rans on the tour who don't fly their own planes or start their own companies. Last year, Brown made just over $8,000 in tournament payoffs, and so far this year he has pocketed about $10,000.

His only victory on the PGA circuit was in 1964 when he won the Waco Turner Open to become the first Negro to claim a tour title.

So winning the $23,000 Atlanta Classic jackpot would be pure pleasure for Brown—but he may be too tired to make it to the finish.

"I'm exhausted," Brown said after firing a 66 Friday for a 135 total and a one-stroke lead over Australia's Bob Shaw. "I've got to get some rest."

Brown has 90 reasons to be tired. That's how many holes of competitive golf he has played going into today's third round on the taxing hills of the Atlanta Country Club course.

Brown played an 18-hole round last Monday with the so-called "rabbits" on the tour and won one of the 21 vacancies in the tournament proper. Tuesday, Brown played from dawn to dark in a 36-hole test in the U.S. Open trials, and he advanced on to the next round.

"Wednesday I didn't play a bit of golf, although I picked up putter and worked with it a little," Brown said. The work apparently paid off, because putting has been Brown's biggest asset in the classic. He putted only 24 times Friday, while Jack Nicklaus needed 38 in his round of 77 strokes that barely kept him in the tournament.

Nicklaus, 36-hole total was 1475, and players with higher scores didn't pualify for the final two rounds. Among the casualties were U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and Masters champion George Archer. Trevino skidded to a 79 for 154 and Archer had a 78 for 151.

Late Cub Rally Stops Braves

The Cubs clipped the Braves 5-4 and the Indians blanked the Athletics 2-0 in Little League action in Towle Park Friday night.

That Cub victory was something else. With the score tied 4-4 into the last inning, and with two men away, Cub catcher-pitcher Ricky Howell socked a single. He scored the winning run when Ricky Ator drove him in with a double.

The Cubs had taken a 2-0 lead in the 3rd and boosted it to 4-1 in the 4th. But the Braves tied it up with a 3-run outburst in the 5th with Dennis Young and Stan Francis getting singles and Roy Gill stroking a double.

Howell was the leading hitter for the Cubs, getting three singles in three bats. Lee Jarell, Tim Flynn and Raymond Smith also singled for the Cubs. Gill was the Braves' leading hitter, getting a single to go with his 2-bagger. Bryan Hargrove and Jerry Day also singled for the Braves.

Ator and Howell divided the pitching chores for the Cubs while Dennis Young went the distance for the Braves.

The A's and the Indians hooked up in a pitcher's duel with Sid Perry putting down the Athletics on a 4-hitter— all singles. Weldon Cobb got two of the hits off him while Chester Cobb and Bryan Walter got the other two.

His tribe teammates collected six hits for Perry. The Indians scored one of their runs in the 2nd with Anthony Lewis and Joey Arnold getting singles in that frame. The other tally occured in the 6th and resulted from an error and singles by Harvey Waller and Joey Arnold. Perry and Ricky Williams also cracked singles for the Injuns.

Head Coach Named Principal At Anton

ANTON, Tex. (AP) — Max Washington, head football coach at Sundown for the last six years, has been named principal of the Anton schools. He replaces John Paul Jones, who has been named Anton school superintendent.

UT Gives 2 Texans Special Award

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas system development board has chosen two persons for its 1969 Santa Rita award.

They are Hines Baker of Houston, a former president of Humble Oil & Refining Co. and executive vice president of Standard Oil of New Jersey; and Eugene McDermott of Dallas executive committee chairman of Texas Instruments.

Donn Clendenon of the Montreal Expos struck out 163 times with the Pittsburg Pirates in 1968. It was the top figure in the National League.

Waverly Horse Best In Harness

WESTBURY, N.Y. AP) — "I knew I would win if I could get out at the three-quarter pole."

That was the comment of Herve Filion, the Canadian-born driver, after he had scored a major harness racing victory with Adios Waverly, a $63.40 longshot, in the $93,123 Realization Pace at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night.

Adios Waverly, owned by Robert and Harry Vallery of Waverly, Ohio, got out when Fulla Napoleon went a bit wide. Filion quickly urged his pacer around the leader, Tropic Song, and drew out in the stretch for a decisive 2¾-length victory.

It was a big night all around for Adios Waverly, Filion and Waverly, Ohio, folks.

It was the biggest purse Filion, the national heat driving champion of 1968, has ever won and also the first victory he has chalked up at Roosevelt Raceway. He had driven Santa's Fury, the betting favorite, in the $182,000 Messenger Stakes two weeks ago but finished next to last.

First-place money of $46,561 virtually doubled the previous $48,615 career earnings of Adios Waverly.

Rum Customer, reined by Billy Haughton, went off the 1968 pacing Triple Crown never was a contender. He left poorly and couldn't keep up. "He just seemed dull," Haughton said after his sixth-place finish.

Adios Waverly, seventh in his previous start at Brandywine last Saturday, took the lead around the first turn but soon yielded the top spot to Tropic Song, driven by Lucien Fontaine, another Canadian-born reinsman.

Tropic Song and Adios Waverly continue 1-2 with Fulla Napoleon, handled by Dick Thomas, challenging on the outside down the backstretch the last time.

When Fulla Napoleon went a bit wide on the far turn, Filion got his chance to get out with Adios Waverly.

Tropic Song hung on for second by a nose over the fast-closing Nevele Romeo. Jet Butler was fourth, followed by Fulla Napoleon, Rum Customer, Meadow Brick, Preferred Time and Batman. Time for 1 1-16 miles was 2:07 3-5 with the mile in 2:00 1-5.

FOSTER GOES FROM RAGS TO RICHES

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) —Exactly a year ago Bob Foster, a hungry fighter who once quit the ring in disgust because he couldn't make any money, won the light heavyweight title by knocking out Dick Tiger in the fourth round.

Today the owner of a new home in Silver Spring, Md., and of several high powered cars, the now affluent champion made the second defense of his 175-pound division crown against Andy Kendall of Portland, Ore., in a television 15-rounder at the Eastern States Coliseum. Foster was a 4-1 favorite.

The bout was scheduled for 5:30 p.m., EDT, Saturday and for national television on ABC's Wide World of Sports.

There was a television blackout of 150 miles around this city, including Boston, Providence and Hartford, Conn.

A crowd of 5,000 was expected to pay about $60,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $30, a steep tariff for this area.

Kendall, who said he never made more than $2,000 for a fight, was guaranteed $11,000. Foster received 60 per cent and probably all of the $50,000 television receipts.

The craggy-faced challenger, an ex-Marine who has custody of two children from his broken marriage, was the hungry fighter for this title fight.

"This is my big chance," he said before entering the ring. "It's all or nothing, If I blow it, that's the end of boxing for me. I don't intend to blow it.

"Foster is a good fighter but he can be beaten. I think I can beat him. I'm going after his body and I'll hammer him down."

Stopped on cuts by Eddie Cotton in 1965, Kendall said he had never been floored before.

"There's always a first time," said Foster. "He's gonna go, maybe in six or so."

The 30-year-old champion had a 13-fight win streak, including 12 by knockouts.

Kendall's record was 24-3-5 including 10 knockouts. He earned the title fight and a No. 1 ranking by outpointing Eddie Jones, then the top contender and a 3-1 favorite, at Las Vegas, Nev. last Feb. 12.

"Odds don't mean a thing,"

Cubs, Tribe Win Farm Loop Tilts

The Cubs slashed the Braves 26-8 and the Indians romped past the Athletics 13-6 in Farm League action in Towle Park Friday night.

Dana Hanna kept the A's in check with a 1-hitter. The only safety the A's got was a single by Mario Herro. Bob Waller and Larry Arndt did the pitching chores for the A's giving up 10 hits.

The Tribe tallied two runs in the 1st, four in the 2nd, three in the 3rd and four in the fourth. Eddie Essery smashed a double for the Injuns while Ferando Lopez and Rodney Mueller each slammed two singles to lead the attack. Other hits, all singles, were registered by Frank Lopez, Robert Essary, Gary Carlton, Keith Ward and Randy Stroder.

The Cubs erupted for 11 runs in the first inning and never were in serious trouble. Greg Hinton twirled a 3-hitter for the victors, giving up doubles to Jimmy Crow and to Doyle Browning and a single to Chuck Anderson.

Jim Burnett, Edwin Harbor and Tim Sonnier each cracked three hits for the Cubs. Sonnier hit a double and a triple while Burnett and Harbor each stroked doubles. Tracy Knipe contributed a triple and Kirk Johnson added a single to the Cub cause.

The Cubs worked over four different Cub pitchers.

Racers Begin Countdown

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Armed with an extra week of practice for a crack at the starting field in the Indianapolis 500-mile race, anxious drivers along with their mechanics and owners watched the sky today and kept their fingers crossed.

Rain washed out last Saturday's and Sunday's qualification schedule at the Indianapolis Motor Speedwy for the 53rd Memorial Day auto race. Today's forecast was partly sunny with nigh temperatures in the 70s.

A. J. Foyt Jr., three-time Indy 500 winner from Houston, and his Coyote-Ford teammate, Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., eyed the pole position as the fastest drivers in pre-qualification practice.

Today's fastest car will start in the pole position Friday and also earn about $20,000 in special prizes. The fastest 3 cars will start the race. Trials will wind up Sunday if the field is complete.

Foyt, who seeks an unprecedented fourth victory at Indy, casually turned a lap Friday at 171.426 miles an hour. He had done 172.315 earlier.

McCluskey was clocked at 170.519 Friday.

No driver-car combination left on the 84-car entry list had matched those speeds.

Track Champs To Tangle In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—At least six track conference title holders will compete Friday in the annual Meet of Champions at University of Houston's Butler Stadium.

They are quarter mile champion Thurman Boggess with a 46.0 mark, Jesse Ball who took the 440 intermediate hurdle championship in 51.4 and Felix Johnson who ran a 1:46.5 race in the 880 recently at Baton Rouge, the fastest half mile ever run in Louisiana.

The Texas A&M SWC championship 440-yard relay team of Scott Hendricks, Jack Abbott, Mills and Woods is entered. The four ran a 40.3 to take the conference title at the Waco meet.

The Prairie View mile relay team, which won the Southwestern Conference championship at 3:08.1, also will compete.

Strategy Backfires, Phils Rap Atlanta

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milt Pappas had the situation under control until he got the word to stop throwing strikes, then it all began to slide into [illegible]

With two out in the seventh inning Friday night, a Philadelphia runner on second base and the game tied 2-2, Atlanta's Pappas fired a strike past Larry Hisle, the Phillies' No. 8 hitter.

It wasn't what Braves Manager Luman Harris had in mind.

Harris, looking for an easier touch—opposing pitcher Jackson—ordered an intentional walk. Pappas dutifully tossed four wide pitches to Hisle, then threw a slider "belt high and away" to Jackson.

It went over the right field fence for Jackson's first major league homer and the deciding runs in a 6-2 victory for the Phils over the National League West Division pacesetters.

Shutouts once more were the rule in other NL games.

The East Division-leading Chicago Cubs topped San Diego 6-0 on a two-hitter by ex-Padre Dick Selma; San Francisco checked Pittsburgh 3-0 on rookie Rich Robertson's five-hitter; St. Louis nipped Los Angeles 1-0 on [illegible] Houston flattened New York 7-0 as rookie Tom Griffin scattered five hits and fanned 13, and Cincinnati edged Montreal 4-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees beat Minnesota 3-1, Boston trimmed the Chicago White Sox 4-2, Detroit slugged Caliornia 6-3, Kansas City upended Washington 4-3 Baltimore shaded Oakland 4-3 and Cleveland cuffed Seattle 7-1.

The Phillies trailed Atlanta 2-1 in the sixth, when Richie Allen golfed a low fastball for his eighth homer.

Johnny Briggs led off the seventh with a single and stole second between a pair of pop fly outs. Then Harris played the percentages and Jackson wrecked the Braves.

Selma, traded from San Diego to the Cubs last month for pitchers Gary Ross and Joe Niekro and a minor leaguer blanked the Padres for the second time, giving the Chicago staff 12 shutouts—to equal their 1968 season

He struck out nine and limited the Padres to a fourth-inning double by Nate Colbert and an eighth-inning single by Clarence Gaston. Ernie Banks drove in three runs with a double and single and Billy Williams cracked a two-run homer, pinning Ross with his fourth straight loss.

Robertson nalled his first victory of the season—and third in the majors without a loss—as the Giants capitalized on a record-tying three errors in the fourth inning by rookie first baseman Al Oliver.

Rookie third baseman Richie Hebner also committed an error in the fourth, helping the Giants score twice, and Willie McCovey poled his 10th homer in the seventh.

Carlton struck out eight Dodgers in a duel with Alan Foster, who was touched for three hits and a first-inning run but did not allow another safety before leaving in the eighth for a pinch hitter. The victory was the seventh in nine games for the Cards.

The Astros rolled to their sixth successive victory behind 21-year-old Griffin, who pitched his first complete game in eight starts and also drove in three runs with a single and sacrifice fly.

Tommy Helms' two-run single in the eighth inning brought the Reds from behind against the Expos, who have lost eight in a row. Johnny Bench homered for the Reds and Mack Jones connected for Montreal.

Houston Heavy Has High Hopes

HOUSTON (AP) — "I'll be in there slugging," says George Foreman, professional boxing's newest aspirant for the heavyweight title.

Foreman and his mother, Mrs. Nancy Foreman, signed his first contract Friday with manager Dick Sadler.

Sadler said Foreman, the 1968 Olympic heavyweight champion, will make his pro debut June 23 in a six-round Madison Square Garden preliminary to the Jerry Quarry-Joe Frazier fight.

The opponent has not been announced.

"He doesn't have much to lose," said Mrs. Foreman while signing the contract because her son is only 20.

"He's Houston's first heavyweight champion of the world," said Sadler, who also manages Sonny Liston.

"That isn't a brag or a wish or a dream but a certainty," Sadler said. "He has more potential than Floyd Patterson, Cassius Clay and Joe Frazier had when they started as pros."

Foreman, 6-feet-3, weighed 210 in winning an Olympic gold medal but now is at 225.

"It's been a long time since I was under 220," Foreman said. "The confortable weight is the one I fight at."

"The more weight, the more opportunity to get sharper in training," Foreman's manager said. "I hope he can hold the weight."

"Give him a week with my collard greens," Mrs. Foreman said.

She called her son "Monkey," explaining Foreman has been known as "Monkey" by friends and relatives since he was about five years old.

Foreman gave his mother a hug and said, "the way she says 'Monkey' has a lot of feeling. I don't mind being known as the Monkey."

"He has the height, weight and power that Patterson didn't have at the same stage of his careers," Sadler said. "He has more height, weight and reach than Frazier."

Foreman, who compiled a 22-3 amateur record, including 14 knockouts, said of his future fights: "Only the good Lord knows, but I'll be in there slugging."

Rhome Finds Road Leads To Cleveland

DALLAS AP) — Jerry Rhome is a Cleveland Brown today.

The reserve quarterback of the Dallas Cowboys was swapped to the Browns Friday for an undisclosed 1969 draft choice.

Rhome was unhappy with the Cowboys and requested a trade. He spent four years in line behind Don Meredith and Craig Morton, throwing but 39 completed passes for 496 yards and a touchdown.

Rhome only started one game for Dallas—against Cleveland in 1965. Dallas lost 23-17.

A native of Dallas, Rhome shattered numerous NCAA passing records at Tulsa. He completed 68.7 per cent of his passes for 2,870 yards and 32 touchdowns his senior year.

Net Girls In Finals

ATHENS (AP) — The United States girls riding on two consecutive shutouts in Federation Cup tennis matches, faced Holland Sat. in the semifinals.

The trio of Nancy Richey, Julie Heldman and Peaches Bartkowicz blanked Yugoslavia 3-0 Wednesday and came back Friday to eliminate Italy by the same score.

Miss Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., and Miss Heldman, of New York, scored easy singles victories Friday, but Miss Richey and Miss Bartkowicz, of Hamtramck, Mich., had a tougher time in doubles play.

Miss Richey crushed Maria Teresa Riedl 6-0, 6-0 and Miss Heldman defeated veteran Lea Pericoli 6-1, 6-2. In doubles, the Richey-Bartkowicz duo downed Miss Pericoli and Lucia Bassi 4-6, 8-6, 6-0, after trailing 4-2 in the second set.

Holland got by Czechoslovakia 2-1 in another quarter-final. In the second semifinal, Great Britain faces Australia.

Memorial Day Has Special Meaning For Tucson Man

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Memorial Day may mean more to a retired Tucson cavalry officer than anyone else in the nation—his grandmother conceived it.

John A. Logan still has General Order No. 11 issued by his grandfather on May 5, 1868 of the Grand Army of the Republic designating May 30 as Decoration Day for "the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the defense of their country during the late rebellion."

Logan's grandfather was John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the order originated with the general's wife, a small, compassionate lady with a will of iron.

May 30 was chosen because the wildflowers would be blooming. Children and their parents could go into the fields and woods to gather the flowers, then place them on the graves.

"In the early spring of 1868, that it would be nice, and fitting, if the graves of the men from the North also had flowers placed upon them.

"My grandfather agreed at once. His order designated May 30 as Decoration Day for all G.A.R. members.

"The idea took hold at once. The day was celebrated all over the North. Then, in 1871, I believe, my grandfather introduced the bill in Congress that made it a holiday. When the bill was signed, the name was changed to Memorial Day, although many continued to use the term Decoration Day."

Logan also recalls that his grandmother had an interest in Civil War veterans before and long after Memorial Day was established.

"Whenever they wanted something, they would go to my grandmother," he said with a smile. "She would put on her bonnet and go to the secretary of war with her arguments. When she knew she was right, she would keep after him until she got what she wanted. Actually she wielded considerable political power.

"They used to call her Mrs. General Logan. At her funeral, delegations of Civil War veterans from soldiers' homes rushed out, pushed aside her pallbearers and insisted on carrying the casket. It was a fine tribute."

Logan's father was a classmate at West Point of John J. Pershing. He was killed in the Philippines and was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor.

Logan also started a career in the Army. A 1912 graduate of Yale, he was commander of the 136th Machine Gun Battalion of the 37th Division. He also served with the French army.

"During World War I, my grandmother kept track of all Gen. William T. Sherman took a party of friends on a tour of Southern battlefields," Logan explained. "My grandfather was invited, but he had recently been elected a senator from Illinois and felt that he could not take the time away from these duties. His wife—my grandmother—went in his place.

"She was impressed by the fact that the graves of the Confederate soldiers were decorated with flowers. Most of them had been placed there by children.

"When she returned to Washington, she told my grandfather major maneuvers with pins on a large wall map," he recalls. "An aunt told me it was almost prophetic the way she figured out movements before they took place."

Allowables Up To Record Level

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Domestic crude production should jump to a record level in June.

A tight crude market has prompted three major oil states — Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico—to boost next month's allowables.

The combined increases exceed 200,000 barrels a day. This should push June output above the record 9,561,000 barrels averaged in late February last year. May production has averaged about 9,450,000.

Texas set its June allowable at a record 4,227,927 barrels daily, but underproduction is expected to limit the actual flow to about 3,260,000 a day, some 170,000 higher than in May.

Louisiana jumped its permissible flow by 30,000 barrels after crude purchasers indicated an increased demand averaging 2,706,427 barrels daily.

The daily unit allowable for the southeastern New Mexico area was increased from 62 to 64 barrels daily, the highest level in 10 years.

The new Texas allowable exceeds the record 4,186,004 barrels daily permissible set during the Arab-Israeli War in 1967, but the underproduction problem is expected to hold actual output below the all-time high of 3,314,000 established at that time.

Many of the older oil fields in Texas are having difficulty matching their calculated efficiency rates or production. The difference between permissible flow and actual output has increased rather steadily in recent years.

The problem is under study and has prompted some forecasts that Louisiana will replace Texas as the nation's top oil producing state before many years pass. Some oilmen believe the maximum productive capacity in Texas is considerably below most estimates.

Actual production in Texas normally was estimated after World War II at about 10 per cent below the authorized allowable. Recent trends indicate this percentage has practically doubled in recent years.

May production in Texas has averaged about 3,100,000 a day but has recorded a lag of 16 per cent when compared with a 3,700,000 allowable.

June allowable of 4,227,927 barrels daily would mean a difference in excess of 20 per cent.

Domestic crude output jumped nearly a million barrels a day during the 1967 Arab-Israeli conflict, climbing from 8,494,310 barrels daily in mid-May to 9,434,130 in early September. After a brief cutback, preparations for the 1968 spring-summer gasoline consumption season pushed output to the current record of 9,561,000 barrels a day early last year.

The new domestic upward trend is in line with worldwide production, World Oil reports total world production in January-March averaged a record 39,810,000 barrels a day, a 7.8 per cent increase over the same 1968 period.

March output was estimated at a record 40,649,000.

The magazine's projections indicate the increases will continue throughout the year and that total world output should post a 12-month average in excess of 42,000,000 barrels a day.

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Mrs. Carol Oliphant, Hemet, California:

"How about some job ideas for us senior citizens? Many of us want and need to do something to help bring in a little extra money."

A. — Possibilities coming up, but keep two points in mind: (1) You will sacrifice some Social Security benefits if you earn over $1680 a year. (2) Many middle-income retirees have to accept a lowering of status and earnings, a tough adjustment for anybody. Here's a checklist of ideas, some of which can be done part-time:

GOLDEN MEN: apartment leasing representative, auto salesman, bookbinder, building doorman or receptionist, cabinetmaker, caretaker, cigar counter clerk, custodian, electrical appliance repairman, elevator operator, food or newspaper route man or canvasser, furniture repairman, gardener or groundskeeper, gunsmith, handyman or painter, home-selling representatives (such as parties given to sell a product), hotel clerk, income - tax expert, insurance salesman, legislator for city or state (Why not run for office?), lumberyard utility man, mailroom clerk, maintenance worker, manufacturer's representative, messenger, minister's assistant, museum or plant guard, night watchman, office clerk, parking lot attendant, real estate salesman, recreation establishment attendant, retail clerk or floor manager, school crossing guard, service station attendant, shipping and receiving clerk, shoe cobbler, survey worker, tailor or presser, telephone solicitor, time salesman for small radio station, tool or stock room clerk, tourist guide, waiter, wildlife watcher for State conservation agency (count quail, ducks, deer, etc.)

GOLDEN GIRLS: bakery clerk or worker, campaign office worker (during elections), canvasser, cashier, catering service worker, checkroom attendant, cleaning woman, cook or cafeteria worker, department store information clerk, demonstrator, domestic, dormitory supervisor or fraternity housemother, file clerk, florist's helper, hotel linen room attendant, homemakers for family service agencies (they help out in different homes when an emergency arises , housekeepr or companion, insurance company clerk, laundry worker, mailing service worker, merchandise marker for stores, private tutor, receptionist, rest room attendant, retail clerk, seamstress, store packer or wrapper, switchboard operator in hotel, tearoom hostess, telephone answering service worker, or any of the above men's jobs for which you qualify.

Retired couples often become resident managers for large apartment buildings, or foster grandparents for needy or institutionalized children.

SENIOR AIDES. The U. S. Department of Labor and the National Council of Senior Citizens started a pilot program last fall in 10 cities to fill 400 community service jobs — mostly helping the poor, elderly, handicapped or children. Application is made through local state employment service offices. Among the jobs: teachers' aides; assistants in rehabilitation programs, work therapy centers and homes for the aged; home service aides who instruct young mothers in child care and home management; recreation aides; teachers for unskilled workers in machine shops; employment interviewers and day care center aides.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR A JOB. Newspaper advertisements, state employment service offices, private employment agencies, small business-es and factories, colleges and other institutions, building management offices, political patronage friends, sales and service organizations and associations which have volunteer placement services for older workers. Two of the best-known associations — The American Association of Retired Persons, and the Forty-Plus Clubs.

FOR A RESOURCE SHEET of books and several ideas for employment opportunities, write to me in care of this newspaper. Enclose 15 cents for handling, and a long, white, stamped and self-addressed envelope. Ask for "Jobs for Retirees" sheet.

YOUR OWN HOOK. There are who-knows-how-many independent business ventures for retirees. Next month we'll mention a few. I had been thinking about including retirement to an animal farm until my city aunt, who tried it, said it was a dumb idea.

Just because a cow crushed her foot and she fell off a tractor and was in traction two weeks and is sick and tired of playing midwife to a lot of sheep . . .

GRASS SEEDING — Van Mills (left) Range Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service and Glen Barron, Assistant Scurry County Coliseum Manager are shown examining Buffalograss seed in the grass drill. The grounds of the Coliseum are being seeded to Buffalograss to prevent erosion, and to beautify the grounds. Buffalograss is a native sod forming grass that is suitable for lawns in this area.

CONSERVATION CROPPING SYSTEM — Skip row cotton is a common practice in the Upper Colorado SWCD. The advantages of skip row cotton is an increase in allotted acre yields. However, skip row cotton has disadvantages. It leaves much of the ground bare, and when land is bare, it is susceptible to wind and water erosion. One way to control wind and water erosion on skip row cotton is to plant something in the middles. In above picture, this farmer drilled sorghum in the blanks. This was done in late summer and did not affect cotton yields. In addition to erosion control, this practice adds a large amount of crop residue back to the soil.

Schooling By Mail Is Not Recognized

Since the Texas Education Agency, the accrediting agency for schools, does not recognize correspondence scools for credit, it has been pointed out by Ben Brock, Snyder High School principal, that the high school cannot accept these credits for a diploma from Snyder High School.

To avoid any misunderstanding, students are reminded that they should check with the company or industry which employs them— or might employ them—to make certain that they will accept a diploma from a correspondence school.

Officials at the high school pointed out that a certificate of high school equivalency issued by the Texas Education Agency often carries more significance than a diploma from a correspondence school. The certificate is issuer on the basis of the General Education Development tests to service personnel, veterans and non-veteran adults, provided the applicant meets certain requirements.

High schools are not authorized to grant diplomas or certificates on the basis of the GED tests, Brock said. The tests are administered at the high school, but the certificates come directly from the Texas Education Agency.

Cotton is almost as old as man himself.

Ad Is No Joke

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — There it was in the classified ads: "Boa Constrictor Stud Service."

Terry Ramberg, 29, a former school teacher, said it was no joke. He has a lonely male boa.

His newspaper ads got considerable response, but only one appeared to be a legitimate offer.

Ramberg set a fee of $10 plus pick of the litter.
