Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

A friend brings in piece of cotton cloth and a piece of a paper bag. Both are from sacks that have held cement manufactured in Texas. The piece of paper bears the imprint of a New York bag manufacturing company. Our friend wants to know if Texas cement manufacturers cannot use cotton sacks made in Texas from Texas cotton, pointing out that a considerable amount of cotton would be required. Talker passes the question on.

Accumulation of money is not the real standard of success, former Governor Neff of Texas, tells the graduating class of Oklahoma university. "Integrity of character," he declared, "is the most valuable thing in the world. You need to make enough money to obtain the comfort and conveniences of life but that is not the only standard of success. Man's success in life consists not in the things he possesses but what he is."

What Governor Neff said may sound trite but it is something we are constantly forgetting, the more so during periods of great prosperity. In such periods we are likely to lose a sense of proportion and judge success entirely with material standards. It is in periods of adversity that men search more diligently for success that is not in the accumulation of wealth alone. Many men are finding happiness and satisfaction despite these days of business depression and are learning how little money is required for it.

Standards are changing. New values are being established; some of the old values are being found worthless in these changing times. Money today is scarcer with most of us than in many years and it has a higher material value than in the past 20 years but the accumulation of wealth is relatively less important than it seemed a few years ago.

But if the accumulation of money is not the real standard of success the use some of those who have accumulated money are making of it in these depressed times reveals a nobility and humanity which shows that the accumulation of wealth does not deaden the finer attributes in man. Here in Wichita county some of our wealthy men have given literally hundreds of thousands of dollars to prevent loss and suffering to their fellow men.

The thought of such men is not the accumulation of more money but how they can use their resources for the relief and benefit of their fellows. They have made great personal sacrifices and are doing a fine and unselfish work, and when these times are looked upon in retrospect it will not be our own pinch that will be remembered but the splendid generosity of the men of wealth who have given of their resources to help their communities.

The wasps and flies and other natural enemies of the army worm seem to have waged effective warfare against this pest which appears to have been destroyed before doing a great amount of damage. But hardly have the army worms been curled in death before another pest—the grasshopper—begins to threaten. Conditions have been fa-

Gandhi Will Attend Second Indian Parley

LONDON, June 10. (US)—Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the Hindu revolt against the British government, will go to London later in the year to attend the second Indian round table conference.

This decision was made today by the working committee of the Indian nationalist congress.

The conference was called by the British government to seek a means whereby India may become virtually autonomous and still remain in the British Empire.

R. J. JOHNSTON PULLED UNDER BY CURRENT

1,000 Rescuers Drag Rocky Bottom of River for Body

OLNEY SENDS AID

Friend of Victim Escapes as Flood Waters Prove Treachery

Special to The Record News.

ELIASVILLE, Texas, June 10.—Drawn beneath the swirling water of the Clear Fork of the Brazos, R. J. Johnston, 16, was drowned or beaten to death against the rocky bottom of the stream as he swam here early this afternoon. C. D. Williams, a companion of his own age, narrowly averted drowning in the swift current, but managed to reach shore.

Young Johnston's body had not been recovered Wednesday night, although the greater portion of the town's 1,000 inhabitants were at the river in an effort to recover it. Fire equipment from Olney had been called, and upon its arrival with a drag net the river was to be dragged. The recovery of the body was to go forward under light furnished by an electric line erected across the stream.

Rope Across River

While aid from Olney was awaited efforts to recover the body went on unabated. A strong rope was thrown across the river at the point where the body is believed to be imprisoned beneath rocks, and men used the rope as a sa'- line as they searched the depths . the water.

The two boys entered the stream for a swim shortly after noon near the dam, which is about 300 yards from the heart of the town. Lloyd Williams, 22, brother of one of the swimmers, stood on the bank, and called for help when the swift current pulled young Johnston beneath the surface. The same undercurrent threatened to carry the Williams boy under, but he managed to pull away from its force and swim to shore. Johnston's body, after going down, failed to rise again.

Rocks Hold Body

The place the youths chose for their swim was a swirling pool formed just below the dam by the rush of water over it from the flow of a two-foot rise on the East Fork.

The river bottom and banks near the scene are strewn with heavy stone and it was feared that the youth's body had been lodged between boulders in the deep pool dug with the plunge of water over the falls of the dam.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Johnston. His father is an employe of the carbon black plant here. In addition to the parents, he is survived by three half-sisters, Ida Mae, Bula and Pauline Johnston and two half-brothers, Leon and Rudean Johnston.

Resignation Heals Rome-Church Breach

ROME, June 10. (AP)—The end of the current difficulties between the pope and the Italian government appeared imminent today as Monsignor Guiseppe Pizzardo, papal under-secretary of state, resigned as a director of the Catholic action organization.

The government on its part, it is understood, is disposed to permit the reopening of the 1,000 Catholic clubs closed by Premier Mussolini if the vatican "purifies" them. "Purification" is explained as the elimination of what the government regards as the political aspects of the clubs and the substitution of officers who are acceptable to the government.

The resignation of Monsignor Pizzardo, which was presented at the pope's request—almost at his order—is taken in government circles as an indication the vatican is disposed to accede to the demand for "purification."

Petroleum Association Cuts Down Support of Oil States Committee

Program of Advisory Board Attacked in Conference of American Independents at Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., June 10. (AP)—Directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of America at an all-day conference here today voted to reduce the pledge of $9,200 that they voted on April 23 to the support of the oil states advisory committee to $1,000. Wirt Franklin, president, said the reduction had been recommended by Cicero I. Murray, chairman of the oil committee.

The minutes of the directors relating to the support also were amended to clear any implication that the association was endorsing the program of the oil committee.

A plan to have the association approve the creation of a board of three, composed of Amos L. Beaty of New York, treasurer of the American Petroleum institute; Sam W. Hays of Oklahoma City, former supreme court justice, and Harry H. Rogers of Tulsa, president of the Oklahoma State Chamber of Commerce, to make a survey of the problems confronting the industry and to recommend a program for settling them, was defeated by a vote of 9 to 8, but not until after two hours of prolonged debate.

Committee Attacked

J. Edward Jones of New York, made an attack upon the oil states advisory committee, and asserted that the association should not endorse any state or governmental oil plan that seeks to take control of the business from the oil men. His questions brought out the story of how the association came to pledge payment of one-third of the oil states advisory committee's expenses.

Cicero I. Murray made a short talk, declaring that the members

AID RUSHED TO FLOOD AREAS

Red Cross Official Sent to Quitaque

MEMPHIS, Texas, June 10. (AP)—The state manager of the American Red Cross in Oklahoma has been ordered to Turkey and Quitaque to make a survey of the area swept by a cloudburst Monday night, J. Claude Wells, chairman of the Hall county chapter said today.

Wells said the official, who was instructed to conduct the survey for headquarters at St. Louis, would spend two or three days in obtaining a detailed report. Wells expressed the belief that whatever aid is tendered by the organization would depend upon the report.

In the meantime, farmers on the 66,000 acres swept away by the flood waters, are waiting eagerly what ever aid may be forthcoming, trusting that help will be received before it is too late to replant their crops, Wells said. Every day the matter is delayed now may cost them dearly at harvest time this fall, he said.

The season is already late for planting cotton, but most of the farmers expect to replant if seed is made available at once, trusting to hot weather for quick germination

Falling Meteor Blamed For Shock Through Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 10. (AP)—A powerful shock which jarred northwestern Ohio like a slight earthquake early today and which did heavy damage within a small area, was generally believed tonight to have been caused by the crash of an exceptionally large meteor.

Possibility that the shock was caused by an explosion of nitroglycerine was admitted by experts on explosives, but they did not consider it likely.

The center of the shock was near Malinto, Ohio, where it tore a large hole in the ground at the edge of a highway, broke telephone poles and wires and knocked down several trees within a radius of about 300 feet. A field of oats nearby was flateened to the ground as if struck by a violent wind.

OIL MEN MUST AGREE ON PROGRAM, SAYS STERLING

Special to The Record News

AUSTIN, June 10.—Governor Sterling today told leading oil men that he would not convene a special session of the legislature until they could agree on a legislative program that could be passed quickly by the legislature and placed in immediate effect.

In a series of long distance telephone calls, he was assured that the industry's leaders will reach an agreement soon. Tom Cranfill, independent leader, was reported on his way to Tyler to work out an agreement with Carl Estes' anti-proration group.

Extradition Sought For Bank Suspects

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., June 10.—Ralph H. Taylor, L. E. Rackley and Jim Bryant, held in the Comanche county jail charged with robbery of the First National bank of Santa Rosa, N. M., refuse to waive extradition, and county officers were informed by telephone today that application is being made to the governor of Oklahoma for the wanted men. It is expected the men will be held here several days, but parties are expected shortly from Texas and New Mexico to identify them.

The Santa Rosa bank was robbed of $40,000 in bonds and $6,000 in cash, on May 12.

In addition, Texas officers state that the men are wanted on other charges. The three men refuse to discuss their affairs.

Commission Cuts Rates On Cotton Shipments

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The railroad commission today granted the request of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce for a reduction for the rate on cotton bale covering from Galveston to Beaumont to 12 cents a hundred pounds.

CITY REJECTS GAS COMPANY'S RATE OFFER

Council to Seek Supply of Fuel Elsewhere, Says Manager

NEGOTIATIONS ENDED

50 Cents of Less Reasonable Price Here, Letter Tells McCabe

Officials of the Municipal Gas company were notified in a letter dispatched Wednesday evening by City Manager George D. Fairtrace that the city of Wichita Falls flatly rejects the revised rate schedule proposed by the company before the city council two weeks ago, and will pursue its determination to obtain within the near future a gas rate not exceeding 50 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Letter Sent Company

Mr. Fairtrace's letter of Wednesday, mailed to J. B. McCabe of Dallas, president of the Municipal Gas company, was authorized by the council in its meeting Monday night, and was endorsed by the aldermen Wednesday before it was dispatched. It pointed out that the city council is convinced that conditions here warrant a gas rate of no more than 50 cents, and that the citizens of the city should be strongly disinclined to pay any more than that amount.

Further steps will be taken at once by the city government to secure the lower rate asked for in its address to the Municipal Gas company about six weeks ago, according to the letter. The communication declared that the council will exercise every legal privilege it enjoys to bring about an early reduction of gas rates here, with the determination of obtaining such fuel for residents of the city for 50 cents or less.

The reply made to the city council by Mr. McCabe on June 1, 30 days after the council's first request for lower rates had been delivered, proposed a schedule of rates which would have amounted to an increase in rate for about 92 per cent of local consumers, according to computations made by The Record News. The tentative new schedule eliminated the prevalent "ready to serve" charge of 50 cents per meter, but established a graduating scale of rates which effected a reduction only to the largest consumers.

Cheap Gas in Amarillo

Mr. Fairtrace declined to reveal just what steps the city is taking to secure lower rates, but indicated the city has sufficient information on hand to negotiate for a gas supply from other sources without further consideration of the Municipal Gas company. So far as the city is concerned, the "door is closed" on negotiations with the Municipal company unless steps are taken by that company to re-open them.

The gas company's proposed new schedule was the subject of a mass meeting of protest of Wichita Falls residents last Friday night, at which resolutions were adopted urging the city council to proceed to condemn the lines of the company and provide for a municipal distribution of gas. Impetus to this demand was given by the result of the gas fight in Amarillo, where a new franchise has been signed for a maximum rate of 27 cents for thousand cubic feet, and scaling a maximum rate of 27 cents per thousand for large consumers. The franchise of the local company expires in less than two years.

Pioneer San Angelo Rancher Dies in Dallas

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Robert Massie, 65, wealthy sheep rancher and business man of San Angelo, died at a hospital here today. He came to Dallas more than a week ago to enter the hospital for treatment and had been seriously ill during that time.

Born in Scotland, Massie came first to Canada, then to the Middle West, finally settling in Texas while he was still a young man. He was a pioneer in organizing ranchmen for marketing the wool produced on their ranches and became president of the Wool Growers' Central Storage association.

Three Mine Strikers Shot Down by Officers

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., June 10. (INS)—Three mine strikers were shot down by deputy sheriffs today when a mob of striking miners attempted to halt a truck load of strike-breakers en route to the Kinloch mine of the Valley Camp Coal company near here.

Those shot were: Walter Galbaski, 41, bullet in left leg; Andrew Janis, shot in right hand, and Martin Savo, 41, shot in chest. All were rushed to the New Kensington hospital.

First reports were that the officers opened fire when the miners stoned the truck.

Young Mother Admits Slaying Texas Farmer After Fight For Gun

TAHOKA, Texas, June 10. —(AP)—Mrs. Ola Redman, 32, mother of three children, late today confessed to slaying Fred Chase, 33, farmer of the Gordon community, who was found dead in his automobile on a lonely road a mile from his home Tuesday afternon, County Attorney G. H. Nelson announced tonight.

A formal charge of murder will be filed against her Thursday morning, Nelson said.

Arrested late Tuesday night at the home of her mother Mrs. Lula Lloyd, 13 miles southwest of Post, Mrs. Redman stoutly denied any conection with the shooting of Chase until late this afternoon, the county attorney said. A signed confession was obtained at 5 p. m. after an all day grilling, according to Nelson.

Claims Defense

The statement said she shot Chase in self-defense after he had made an attempt to gain possession of one of two pistols in the automobile, according to the officer.

The slain man threatened her life on a number of previous occasions, she said in her confession.

Mrs. Redman was said to have told Nelson that she and Chase had been going together for more than three years, although neither of them were divorced.

Chase frequently theratened to kill her if she did not stop seeing her husband, Glen W. Redman, Pampa painting contractor, to whom she had been married for 13 years, Mrs. Redman is reported to have said in her confession. She last saw her husband two months ago in Pampa, she said.

Reaches for Gun

"Chase and I argued a great deal while we were en route to my mother's home," Mrs. Redman told Nelson. "When we got within a short distance of the house he stopped the car and got out a gun and told me he was going to kill me if I got out of the car.

"I told him that I was going back to my husband if I could.

"Chase reached for the gun which was in a door pocket on my side of the car.

"I begged him not to kill me.

"During the scuffle I got hold

Noted Woman Flier May Land Autogiro On Wichita Field

EL PASO, June 10. (AP)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, arrived here late today in her autogiro after a flight from Phoenix, Ariz. She planned to take off early tomorrow for the East, stopping probably at Guadalupe, Pecos, Big Spring, Midland, Abilene, and Fort Worth or Wichita Falls.

Her route was somewhat indefinite due to the necessity of making frequent stops for refueling. If she makes good time, she said, she will go to Fort Worth. If delayed by headwinds or other causes she may stop at some town en route and take the short cut to Oklahoma City by Wichita Falls the following day.

SUB VICTIMS REPORTED SAFE

Eight Trapped Men Survive Collision

SHANGHAI, China, June 10. (AP)—An unconfirmed report received here tonight said that the eight men trapped in the steel hulk of the British submarine Poseidon had been rescued. The British guardship Bruce here was without information of the reported rescue.

WEIHAIWEI, China, June 10. (AP)—A thrilling battle for the lives of eight men trapped in the steel hulk of the British submarine Poseidon was waged today on the waters of the North Yellow Sea.

Victory was in doubt tonight, but there still was hope held by officers of British ships assembled at the scene of the disaster that, with the aid of a Japanese salvage tug, they might raise the stricken vessel before the foul air of its interior overcomes the imprisoned men.

The Poseidon's parent ship, the Medway, succeeded today in estab-

Desperate War Waged Against Grasshoppers

LINCOLN, Neb., June 10. (UP)—The grasshopper invasion, which already has done considerable damage to crops in a large section of Nebraska and South Dakota, today was spreading in a larger territory, and desperate measures were being used in the fight against the pests.

Twelve carloads of poison already have been shipped into the Rosebud territory of South Dakota, and in Nebraska fields are being plowed in the route of the insect horde.

Grounded French Liner Floated Off Galveston

GALVESTON, Texas, June 10. (AP)—The French liner Guadeloupe, which aground at the entrance to Galveston harbor since Sunday, was floated at 3:15 p. m. today by a fleet of tugs, assisted by the coast guard cutter Saranac. A dredge had worked 36 hours deepening the area where the ship grounded. An examination was started but the ship was not believed damaged.

Copperhead Bites Prove Fatal to Texas Baby

FAIRFIELD, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Jimmie Gordon, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gordon, died today as a result of being bitten yesterday by a copperhead snake. The child was playing in the yard at his home when attacked by the snake and was bitten five times before the snake could be killed.

Oklahomans Are Warned Against Crossing Border With Youth's Body

ARDMORE, Okla., June 10. (AP)—Two southern Oklahoma peace officers whose midnight encounter with motorists ended in gunfire and the death of two youthful students from well-known Mexican families were bound over to Carter county district court for a murder trial here today.

The action came at the request of the officers, Deputy Sheriffs W. E. Guess and Cecil Crosby, and on order of County Judges Charles N. Champion, after an all-day hearing in a courtroom teeming with humanity.

Guess Testifies

"I shot because they drew a pistol," shouted Guess, who testified he alone fired the shots which ended the lives of Emilio Cortes Rubio, cousin of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, and Manuel Garcia Gomez, beside a highway here early Monday where the boys, worn from a day's drive from an Atchison, Kansas college en route to Mexico, had parked their motor car.

The hearing ended just before the bodies of Cortes Rubio and Gomez were beginning their long last journey to the southern republic, under escort of the son and personal representative of Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma. This morning in a little one-room Catholic church packed by hushed hundreds, requiem was conducted by Oklahoma Catholic church dignitaries.

Bond Made

Immediately after the hearing District Judge Asa Walden, in whose court the deputies will face trial, probably late in June, granted writs of habeas corpus for bail of $25,000 each. This was with the consent of Assistant Attorney General F. M. Dudley, governor's counsel Claud Weaver, County Attorney Marvin Shilling and H. Valdez, Mexican consul. The officers later furnished bond.

YOUTHS PROTEST

EL PASO, Texas, June 19. (AP)—Approximately 75 Juarez students from 16 to 21 years of age today paraded through the principal streets of the border city this afternoon bearing placards demanding justice in connection with the fatal shooting of two Mexican college student by peace officers at Ardmore, Okla.

The paraders halted in front of the American consul in Juarez, turned their placards around so that attaches could read the inscriptions, and then proceeded without any speech making. Consul William P. Blocker said nothing to the group and the students disbanded within a few minutes.

G. B. Paxton Buried From Abilene Home

ABILENE, June 10. (AP)—Gabriel B. Paxton, early day Texan and industrial pioneer was buried here this afternoon after services at the First Baptist church. Mr. Paxton died Tuesday at the home of his son, George L. Paxton Sr., Abilene banker, at the age of 86 years. He had been ill for about a month.

Another son, Guy E. Paxton of Abilene, survives, as do a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Children include Mrs. H. A. Pender of Abilene; Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the former governor, Austin; Mrs. Weaver Moore, Houston, and George L. Paxton Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Paxton; Mrs. Bob Dublin of Jacksonville, Texas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Paxton. Grandchildren include Dan Moody Jr., Austin.

Mexico Turns Down Proposed Customs Union

MEXICO, June 10. (INS)—Mexico is not interested in the proposal for a Pan-American customs union, it was officially announced by Foreign Minister Estrada here today. The foreign office believes such a pact would be contrary to the best interests of the country.

Senor Estrada's view apparently echoed the sentiment in Mexican commercial circles, which believe the proposed union would be of more benefit to other nations than to Mexico itself.

Ralph Capone Appeals In Brother's Behalf

WASHINGTON, June 10. (US)—The board of tax appeals today was studying the petition filed by Ralph Capone, of Chicago, asking a review of the government's demand for $311,282 additional taxes from his brother, Al Capone.

The internal revenue bureau claims Capone was deficient in his income tax returns for the years 1926, 1927 and 1928. The petition states in reply that during those years Capone's gambling losses "equa' or in fact exceeded" his gains and earnings.

Fox Withdraws as Head Of Famous Film Company

NEW YORK, June 10. (US)—William Fox, former motion picture magnate, today retired from the directorship of the Fox Film corporation, a job which had been bringing him an income of $500,000 yearly.

His "retirement" was announced coincident with a general reorganization of the board of directors of the vast film enterprise he founded and dominated until it ran into financial difficulties last year. Six other directors of Fox Film withdrew with Mr. Fox.

Germany Faces Crisis as Bitter Mob Assails Returning Statesman

By KARL H. VON WEIGAND

BERLIN, June 10. (US)—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening and Foreign Minister Julis Curtius returned from London today to a Germany more bitter and hostile toward the government heads than the country has been in recent years.

Mounted and foot police in extraordinary numbers were massed around the Friedrichstrasse station while inside the building was filled with police and plainclothes men. No German statesmen in many years have made such police protection necessary.

If the chancellor and foreign minister consider their talks at Chequers successful, they did not reflect it. The chancellor, usually distinguished by his poise, seemed very nervous. Dr. Curtius looked tired and dejected.

Mounted police forced the crowd, largely younger men, back as the two statesmen emerged from the station door into a deathlike silence. Suddenly a roar of "Deutschlan Erwache; Bruening Verkrache!" (Germany, awaken; Bruening, crack up!) broke out from the throng and split the silence like a shot.

It was an obvious shock to the

Chaplin Sets Uncertain Pace As Own Taskmaster in Studio

HOLLYWOOD, June 10. (AP)—Charlie Chaplin goes to his own shows, laughs at them or frowns and speaks of himself as "he."

If he doesn't like a part in his picture, he will remark: "I don't think he is so funny there. He'll have to change that."

The probability is that an idea of how he does want Charlie Chaplin to act in that part will come to him a moment later. It may be midnight but that makes no difference. The whole company is roused out of bed, called to the studio and work begins.

Chaplin works with them until he is satisfied or exhausted. It may be six hours or it may be 12. The part finished, he goes home and sleeps until his energy is restored. But before he leaves the company is told to be ready for work at "10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

When the company arrived there would be no Chaplin. Telephone calls from the studio wouldn't get

FARMERS TO HEAR THOMAS

Sooner Senator to Speak at Friendship

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., June 10.—Senator Elmer Thomas will be the principal speaker when the Altus Kiwanis club meets Thursday night with the farmers of the Friendship community.

This will be Senator Thomas' first speech before a group of farmers since returning from Washington. He will discuss the problems of the farm in relation to the government and make suggestions how to remedy some of the ills.

The speech of Senator Thomas will not be a political one. He will dwell chiefly on economic conditions, world markets and the outlook from an agricultural standpoint.

No attack will be made by Senator Thomas on the federal farm board or any governmnet organization or official. He will, however, discuss governmental policies which have a direct bearing on the welfare of the farmer.

Senator Thomas was one of the most active Democrats in the United States senate in the last session of congress and is considered one of the leaders of the progressive wing of the party. His statements regarding economic problems have been widely quoted in recent months.

Approximately 100 farmers of the Friendship community will be present in Altus in addition to a large number of special guests and Kiwanians.

Roy J. Mann Named Lions Club Head

Roy J. Mann was elected to the presidency of the Lions club at the weekly luncheon of the organization here Wednesday.

Other officers elected were L. V. Abernathy, first vice president; Tom Vague, second vice president; C. E. Metzger, corresponding secretary; Walter Taylor, financial secretary; and Roy E. Carter, tail twister.

Ralph Fidler and John Elder tied for the third vice presidency. C. J. Coffey and Frank Cripliver received an equal number of votes for the place of lion tamer. A run off will be held for third vice president, lion tamer, and to select two directors from runners-up G. T. Buchanan, Fred Storey, Harry ten Brink and James King, at the meeting next week.

The inaugural ball will be held at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club early in July, it was announced.

Optimists Hear Talk By Senator Oneal

The only solution for current adverse business conditions is for citizens of the nation to work together optimistically, Senator Ben G. Oneal declared Wednesday at the weekly Optimist club luncheon.

The speaker cited figures that in the United States the heads of 6,000,000 families are without employment, representing approximately 18,000,000 people in all.

"The country has not faced this sort of thing since the civil war," he said, "and that is the sort of thing that faced your legislature last year. You can't look to your legislature to straighten it out. The only thing that can change it is for people to wish for better times and expect to get better times by working together."

The speaker was introduced by Dr. O. C. Egdorf, who was in charge of the program. Miss Lois Campbell, who, representing the Optimist club, won the title of "Miss Wichita Falls" at the bathing beauty revue held last week, was an honor guest. A vocal solo was sung by Miss Harriett Bradley, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey at the piano.

him out of bed and about 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon, he might walk in, or it might be a day later or a week.

After he arrived, there might be no work, as frequently occurred in his latest picture. He came on the lot one day and found two boxers sparring about the ring. Settling himself in an easy chair, he watched them.

They wrestled, boxed and did antics throughout the afternoon with the company and Chaplin looking on in great amusement. Night came, Chaplin glanced at his watch and found he was late for an engagement. Everybody was sent home without having done a stroke of work.

That is why Charlie Chaplin is known as the screen's real artist in Hollywood. When he works, he works with tremendous energy but no one can ever tell whether he is going to work or play.

He is the only actor in Hollywood who owns his studio. It enables him to do as he pleases. There are no rules, regulations, high powered officials or efficiency experts in it. One man is his business manager, general manager, personal secretary—in fact, nearly his whole staff. They have known each other since they were boys.

He likes to travel, but if he goes alone there is certain to be a frantic wire within a day or so asking for clothes. He probably walked out of the hotel and forgot them. He can't get dressed for any event by himself, unless it is tennis. A sweat shirt and white flannels are his favorite attire.

Clara Packs Luggage For Trip to Nevada

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif, June 10 (US)—There was bustle and bustle today at the home of Clara Bow as the flame-haired screen star began packing for an extended visit to the Nevada ranch of her sweetheart, Rex Bell.

She will leave Friday, having delayed her departure to gain strength and have some dental work completed. The "It" girl plans to remain at the ranch of Bell, a featured screen actor, until she is fully recovered from the nervous breakdown that sent her to a sanitarium for a time.

Sterling to Cut Out School Appropriations

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—Gov. Ross Sterling indicated at his press conference today that appropriations for all buildings at schools will be eliminated in his blue-pencilling work in which he seeks to reduce the appropriation total to a figure commensurate with the prospective income as he has calculated it.

Included in the program was a $150,000 structure at the College of Mines at El Paso.

TRAPPED MEN REPORTED SAFE

Rammed Submarine Crew Still Lives

lishing communication with the eight men who were trapped in a rear compartment when the submarine went to the bottom in 20 fathoms after a collision yesterday.

Prisoners Unhurt

The prisoners reported themselves uninjured, but the length of time they would be able to survive with their limited supply of oxygen was necessarily fast diminishing.

So far as the Medway could establish, only eight of the 18 men missing remained alive. It was assumed that the other 10 were drowned in one of the forward compartments, which were flooded when the Chinese steamer Yuta ripped a great hole in the Poseidon just forward of the conning tower.

Of the 30 men and five officers who survived the disaster, 31 escaped from the conning tower in the two minutes the submarine stayed afloat after she had been rammed.

Six Are Freed

Between two and six hours after the ship sank, six men released themselves and attempted to escape by means of the recently developed "Davis submarine escape apparatus." They reached the surface and were picked up by boats from naval vessels. Two of the men died later from their injuries, and a third is in grave condition.

The Poseidon had risen to the surface and was proceeding around the point which marks the northern tip of the Shantung peninsula when the Yuta loomed ahead in the fog.

The Yuta's pilot is said to have mixed his directions; and the submarine was caught forward of her conning tower on the starboard side.

ELLSBERG SEES RESCUE HOPE

BAYONNE, N. J., June 10. (AP)—Hope for the men imprisoned in the British submarine Poseidon at the bottom of the Yellow Sea was expressed tonight by Commander Edward Ellsberg, American authority on submersible salvage operations.

Ellsberg, who raised one sunken submarine and conducted initial operations for salvaging another, said that under favorable conditions the men alive might be saved and the vessel itself raised in a few days.

"Wonderful!" he exclaimed when told that six men had escaped from the Poseidon by means of "artificial lungs" and floated up 120 feet to the surface of the sea.

Device Praised

He hailed the "artificial lung" device as the outstanding development in submarine rescue work. An invention of R. H. Davis, British manufacturer of diving equipment, it is now on all British submarines and a similar device, perfected by Lieut. C. B. Momsen, an American, is in the equipment of American submarines, he said.

"So far as I know this is the first time the perfected invention has been used in an actual disaster at such a depth," he said. "It has proved its worth nobly."

May Have Climbed

It consists of an air-filled rubber bag attached to the chest. From it a tube leads to the mouth and a clip is clamped on the nose. After the pressure in a chamber has been equalized, a hatchway is opened and the men float to the surface.

"It's possible that they 'climbed' a rope to safety," he said. "Most submarines have ropes attached to floats. The float is released and shoots to the surface. Then the men can go up leisurely, stopping once in a while to get used to the changing pressure."

Twenty fathoms, the depth at which the Poseidon lies, is comparatively "moderate," Ellsberg said, and, given fair weather and other favorable conditions, there would be a good chance of getting the trapped men out alive.

Arkansas Divorce Law Meets Bitter Opposition

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 10. (UP)—Arkansas' challenge to Reno, Nev., for divorce court business may be postponed until a decision can be rendered by the voters in 1932, it appeared today.

Petitions for a referendum on repeal of the 90-day divorce act were filed with Secretary of State Ed McDonald by the Home Protective association which was formed hastily after the bill was passed by the last legislature.

CRANFILL FINDS NEW 'SOLUTION'

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Tom E. Cranfill, president of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas, announced today that a plan satisfactory to both non-prorationists and the major purchasers had been formulated for solution of East Texas oil production disputes. The announcement followed a conference here between officials of the independent association and independents who have opposed proration. Details were not made public but Cranfill said the plan had been submitted to several major company executives at Houston Monday and had met with their approval. Cranfill will leave for East Texas tomorrow to discuss the agreement with other East Texas operators.

The following statement was issued: "A solution of the East Texas muddle seemed nearer here today after a conference of operators who have not so far practiced proration and a committee representing the Independent Petroleum association of Texas, which organization has been carrying on negotiations between this group and the purchasers. The details of the plan can not be made public now, but they embody a fair settlement of the difficulty and one which all operators in all other parts of Texas, the purchasers and the public can accept. Immediate acceptance by all the violators of proration orders is anticipated."

THREE PRORATION SUITS DROPPED

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—Attorneys in the first three East Texas oil proration injunction suits set for trial in district court here agreed today to abide by the supreme court decision in the Danciger case and not to try the cases.

The Central Pipe Line company, the Inland Waterways Pipe Line company and the R. G. McIntyre Drilling company asked for an injunction to restrain the railroad commission from enforcing the proration order against their properties in East Texas. In a similar case filed by the Danciger Oil and Refining company of Amarillo, the district court upheld the right of the commission to prorate.

Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general representing the railroad commission, expressed pleasure with the agreement. He said the Danciger case should be decided by the court of civil appeals next month and that it would be decided by the supreme court much quicker than three new cases could be taken through the courts.

Like agreements may be made in the 12 other cases, Upchurch said.

Soviet Asks Workers To Float Huge Loan

MOSCOW, June 20. (US)—Soviet workers will be expected to subscribe at least three weeks wages to a new loan to be floated soon by the government. The loan will total 1,600 million rubles.

This assessment will be in addition to the new special housing tax announced recently for which the workers are to be assessed from 3 to 16 per cent of their monthly earnings.

TRACTION SUIT

Trial of the suit of Mrs. E. W. Adams against the Wichita Falls Traction company for $5,000 damages began before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court late Wednesday afternoon.

According to the plaintiff's petition, an automobile which she was driving in November, 1929, collided with a street car belonging to the defendant company. Injuries said to have been received in the accident were made the basis for the action.

prosecutors. His services were sought today at Mexico City by Salvador Cortes Rubio, father of the youth by the same name who survived Monday's tragedy in which his traveling companions were slain.

Testimony Differs

Conflicting statements came today from young Salvador Cortes Rubio and Crosby, the youth contending the officer did not inform him of his official capacity prior to the shooting. The officer testified he stated he and Guess were deputies and displayed his badge to all three Mexicans.

Crosby also denied the statement of Theodore Torgenson, who was attracted by the shooting, that Crosby exclaimed "I got that boy" and pointed to Emilo's body, lying in the car. The deputy said he "never heard a greater falsehood" and denied he fired any shots.

Shot From 'Hip'

Taking sole responsibility for the actual shooting, Guess, who five months ago was cleared of the shooting of a suspected murder in Texas, said:

"I didn't have time to talk. I figured we had run up against a bunch of young hijackers. When I saw one boy coming out with a pistol under the blanket he had around him I shot him. I had to look out for my own self and my own life. I shot from the hip."

Guess said that after Gomez, the blanket-clad youth, fell, he saw Emilio Cortes Rubio in the rays of his flashlight. The boy had a pearl-handled automatic, he said. When Guess saw the gun he fired.

MURRAY WARNED OF ILL FEELING

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray said he today had received from Washington advice not to permit his personal representative, Colonel Charles Clowe of Ardmore, to proceed beyond the Mexican border as official escort of the bodies of Emilio Cortes Rubio, cousin of the president of Mexico, and Manuel Garcia Gomez, Mexican students slain by peace officers at Ardmore early Monday.

The instructions were received from the state department at Washington by long distance telephone.

"I fear it may not be wise for Oklahoma citizens to visit Mexico until this matter has quieted down," said Governor Murray.

Cotton Seed Crushers Honor Wichita Man

GALVESTON, Texas, June 10. (AP)—R. E. Montgomery of Palestine today was elected president of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers' association, succeeding W. L. Weber of Taft. James T. Gant of Wichita Falls was named vice president and George H. Bennett of Dallas was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Resolutions were adopted pledging members to use cottonseed oil exclusively and advocating collection of two cents per ton on cotton seed crushed, for advertising purposes. The executive committee will select the next meeting place at a later date.

James T. Gant, named vice president of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers association, is a well known Wichita Falls business man and manager of the Wichita Falls Cotton Oil company.

of a .38 caliber pistol which was on the seat behind Chase.

"I shot him in the head," she said in her statement.

Gave Money

The woman said she and her husband had owned a residence in Lubbock at one time. The building was sold and she was given $800 from the sale, she told officers.

The $800 was given to Chase and he used the money to buy the automobile in which he was slain, the confession related.

"I repeatedly asked Chase for the money, but he refused to give it to me."

Chase's body was found in the automobile Tuesday afternoon, 16 hours after he was killed, by a farmer who was plowing in a nearby field. The farmer said he noticed the automobile parked there when he went to work Tuesday but did not investigate until several hours later, thinking the machine belonged to some cotton choppers who were working in another field.

HAIL RUINS CROPS AROUND DUKE, OKLA.

ALTUS, Okla., June 10. (AP)—Damaged crops and injured livestock over a four by six mile area of western Jackson county were counted today as the results of a severe night hail storm.

Wheat harvest was started in the section yesterday, but all standing wheat was beaten down and cotton fields were wiped flat. The town of Duke and about 50 farms were in the hail area. Many farmers in the section had received Red Cross aid in the past and efforts were made today to obtain free seed from the state for replanting.

Half an inch of rain fell in eastern Jackson county.

PIONEER DIES AT MANGUM

L. A. Johnson Succumbs to Long Illness

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., June 10.—In the death of L. A. Johnson, 69, today Mangum lost a widely known and highly respected citizen. Since 1890 when he settled in Mangum, Mr. Johnson has been one of the most successful business and civic leaders in the community.

Born in Putnam county, Tennessee, Mr. Johnson followed the call of the West in his early manhood and came to Vernon, Texas, thence to Mangum. He owned several business houses here and farms adjoining Mangum.

Special Masonic rites will be held Thursday noon at the First Methodist church. Greer county Consistory club will be in charge with Frank A. Derr, Guthrie, secretary of Scottish Rite bodies, officiating. Rev. D. S. Pooser, pastor Central Christian church, will assist in the funeral services.

Survivors are his wife and the following seven children: Mrs. Jake Jackson, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Carl Nesbitt, Pawhuska, Okla.; Misses Tom and Joan Johnson, Bob William Hurley, and Ted, all of Mangum. Two sisters, Sarah and Susie Johnson, and two brothers, George and Jess Johnson, of Mangum, also survive.

Spain Sees First Public Jewish Rites Since 1492

MADRID, June 10. (US)—The first official public Jewish wedding since the expulsion act of 1492 was celebrated in an ancient Jewish synagogue here this morning. It united two descendants of the old Spanish-Jew aristocracy. A Moroccan rabbi officiated.

While Jews have not been molested in Spain for the past century, they were unable to observe publicly the ancient Hebraic rites. This privilege is now offered 2,000,000 Spanish Jews through one of the first official acts of the republican government, which established freedom of worship.

Druggists Find New Way To Stop Headaches

Realizing that no one drug can conquer so many causes, two North Carolina druggists developed a combination of several ingredients which function together, giving three-minute, safe relief for any kind of headache, neuralgic, sciatic or rheumatic pain, quiets the nerves and leaves you normally buoyant, without depression or bad after effects.

This combination of pain relieving ingredients, so efficient for women also at special times, may be found at any drug store or soda fount under the name "B-C" (10c and 25c) ready for use in easing pains and quieting nerves in three minutes. "B-C" is the most amazing preparation of its kind ever discovered and is guaranteed harmless.—Adv.

The chancellor and foreign minister, accompanied by Finance Minister Dietrich, quickly entered an automobile. The crowd rushed the car but policemen drove them back. It was the second unfriendly reception for them today, the crowd at Bremerhaven also having demonstarted enmity for the government officials.

Protests against the "unendurable burdens" of the government's emergency decree, which means further taxes, cuts in salaries and reductions of war pensions, are fairly raining in on newspapers and political chieftains.

The political heads are under tremendous popular pressure to reconvene the reichstag and repudiate the decree, but most of them are convinced that this is almost certain to result in the overthrow of the government, with circumstances that no one can forecast.

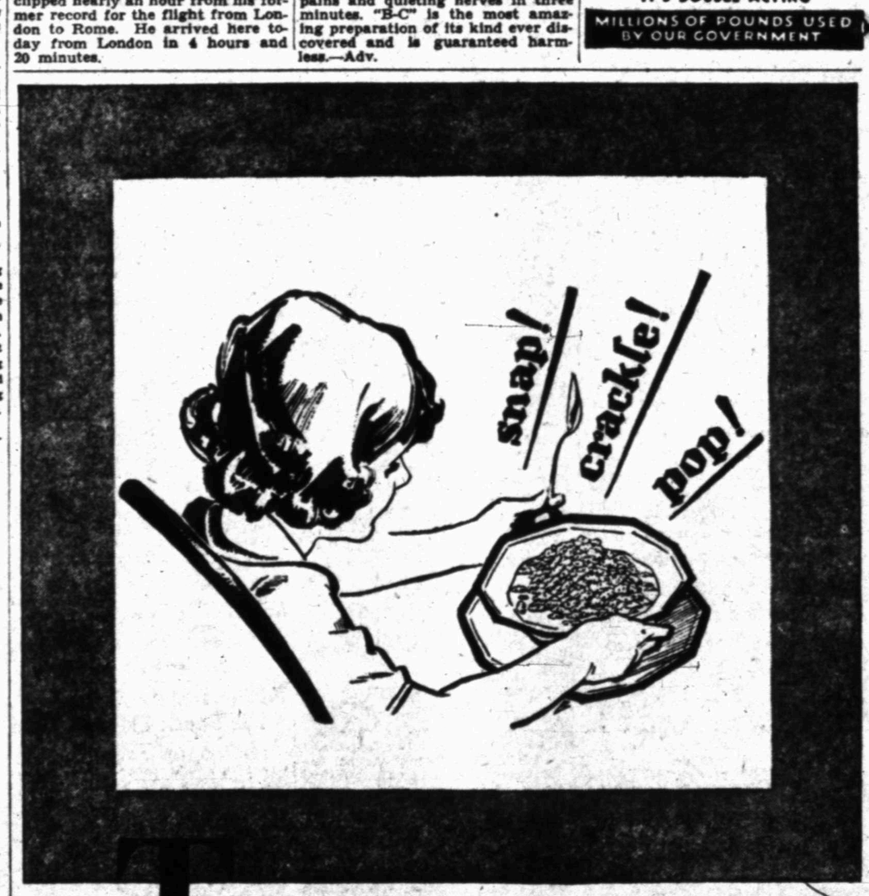

The council of elders of the reichstag today postponed decision on reconvening the reichstag until Tuesday, to give Chancellor Bruening a chance to state his case.

Texas Court to Act On Indian's Death Appeal

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The appeal of Chief Red Wing, sentenced to death on conviction of the murder of Evangeline Cavazos, 3-year-old daughter of a Cuban tent show operator, Oct. 13, 1930, was submitted to the court of criminal appeals today.

The Indian was charged with criminally attacking the girl and beating her to death with his fists and with a rock. The slaying occurred at New Braunfels.

MEAT-COUNTER bargains ARE MORE delicious

WHEN SEASONED WITH sugar

In cooking meat, the combination of sugar and salt blends tastefully with the meat juices.

EVERY day your meat dealer offers cheap cuts of meat which have an irresistible appeal to your sense of thrift. And you can give any of these cuts an irresistible taste appeal by seasoning them with sugar.

Of course salt should be added to the meat as it cooks, to overcome flatness. But the value of adding sugar is that it develops and heightens the flavor of the meat in a way no other ingredient can.

Try a dash of sugar to season pot-roasts, braised lamb and veal, stews and meat loaf. In boiling corned beef or ham, add at least a half cup of sugar to the water. "A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt" is also a fine seasoning for fresh or canned vegetables. Flavor and season with Sugar. The Sugar Institute.

RITES SAID FOR BILL ORMAN

Firemen Pay Last Tributes To Former Companion

Funeral services for W. H. (Bill) Orman, 35, Wichita Falls garage owner who was fatally injured Sunday in an automobile accident which also took five other lives, were held here Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of the Dalton-Powell Funeral home.

The Rev. Harold Diggs, pastor of the North Side Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in Rosemont.

Orman had been a resident of Wichita Falls for about 10 years. Although he had been engaged in business for himself during the past year, he had previously been a member of the fire department here for a number of years. Pallbearers were James Julinson, L. N. Nichols, Joe Maniochia, Joe Carter, N. B. Hanaway and Bill McMillan, city firemen.

A large number of firemen and members of the police department attended the services Wednesday.

Orman died at a hospital here within a few hours after the automobile in which he was riding collided with a truck on the Fort Worth highway near Bellevue. His companions, Mineus Mitcham, 55, and Samuel McNew, 23, were instantly killed, as were the three occupants of the truck, William V. Notley, 28, Dallas; Murphy DeShong, 17, Amarillo; and Leonidas Johnston, 14, Vernon.

Surviving Mr. Orman are his widow; his father, of Omaha, Neb.; a brother, J. E. Orman of Shenandoah, Iowa; and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Smith of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. E. E. Stewart of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

BERNICE MAY POPE

Funeral services for Bernice May Pope, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Morrison, who died Tuesday at Terrell, Texas, after an attack of acute appendicitis, were held Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of the Hines mortuary.

The Rev. L. S. White, pastor of the First Church of Christ, officiated. Burial was in Riverside.

The child was stricken with appendicitis while visiting Mrs. H. T. Milligan, her sister, near Kaufman. She died after being removed to a hospital at Terrell.

Surviving in addition to the parents and the sister, are three other sisters, Mrs. Ruby Walker of Chattanooga, Okla.; Mrs. Edith Shipman and Miss Mildred Pope of Wichita Falls; and two stepbrothers, Donald and Dorrell Morrison of Wichita Falls.

Allendale Revival to Open Thursday Night

The Allendale revival meetinb will begin Thursday at 8:15 p. m. and will continue through Sunday, June 21. Rev. Harrold Diggs, pastor of the North Side Baptist church, will preach and Rev. J. W. Marshall, pastor of the Dundee Baptist church, will be in charge of the music with Miss Lois Baber, gospel pianist, assisting.

Although all of the leaders in the revival meeting are young people, still the services will be for the whole church membership and for all residents of the Allendale community, it was said. Visitors from Wichita Falls were invited to attend and assist in the services.

Some of the subjects for various evenings of the meeting are: "The Last Night on Earth for a Trembling Soul"; "The Land of Promise" "The Greatest Privilege in Life"; "The Love of God." Special musical numbers will be provided each evening.

New Anson Minister Honored at College

Special to The Record News

ANSON, Texas, June 10.—Rev. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the Anson Baptist church, who received his B. A. degree at Simmons university last Thursday ranked as the student making the highest grades among the 20 or more ministerial students in the graduating class. He was awarded a gold medal. To be entitled to this honor the student must have delivered as many as 200 sermons during his college work, and Mr. Grant says that he had exceeded that number by a great deal, but had kept no accurate record of the number of sermons.

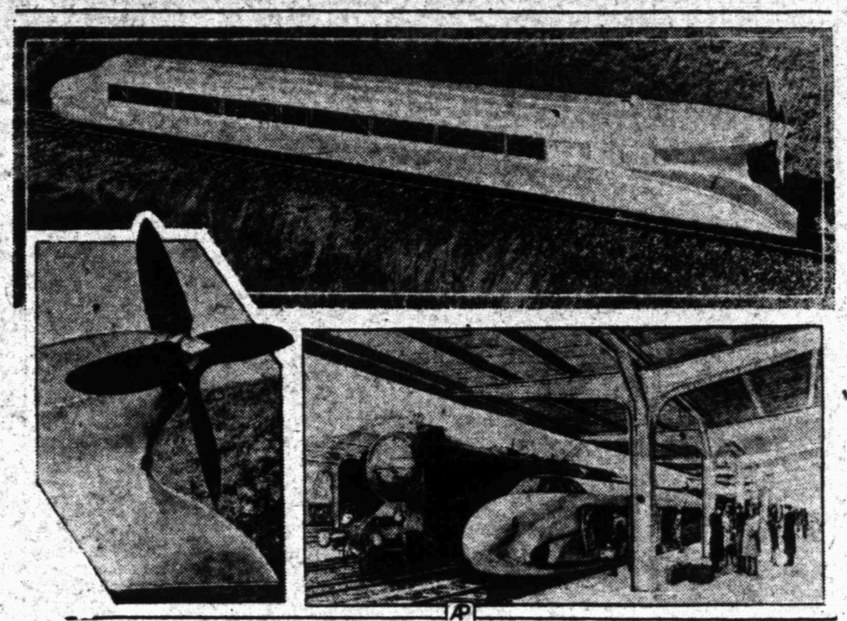

Once Greatest Craft Dismantled for Junk

ST. LOUIS, June 10. (INS)—The RS-1, at one time the largest semi-rigid dirigible in the world, is being junked, it was learned here today.

The great ship, which was built for the army at a cost of $600,000 in 1925 has been sold by the government for junk. A local jobbing company purchased the keels, cabins and motors of the RS-1, for $836.25.

Railroads Aim at 100-Mile Speeds to Rival Planes

Spurred by growing airplane competition, American engineers are experimenting with the streamlining of railroad coaches to increase speed, while a German inventor produces the "Flying Railway" shown above with a "normal" speed of 110 miles an hour. Rear view of the new propeller-driven coach is shown at left, and at lower right the coach is shown beside a modern locomotive.

PITTSBURGH, June 11. (AP)—A new era of higher speed railroad travel in forecast by simultaneous scientific developments in Pittsburgh and Hanover, Germany.

Standard American trains doing 90 miles an hour are in prospect, while the German development is a new, light coach type that already exceeds 100 miles.

The new step in both hemispheres is the same, overcoming the powerful braking effect of plain air, and in both cases streamlining does it.

The Westinghouse research laboratory at Pittsburgh has some streamlined model trains resembling caterpillars and narrow, short-legged beetles.

Set in a wind tunnel, these models show that at 60 miles an hour streamlining saves 25 per cent of the power required to drive the present shaped train, and at 10 miles an hour streamlining saves 35 per cent of the power.

Much Power Now Lost

Models of trains now running show that at 50 miles an hour one-third of their power is expended in bucking air resistance. At 60 miles this increases to 45 per cent, and at 90 miles to 60 per cent.

Even the state of the weather runs into money in changing the air resistance at speeds of 90 miles an hour.

A low barometer adds about two per cent to the power required to maintain this speed. The low barometer means heavier air. A high temperature is likely to cut down resistance by about two per cent because it accompanies lighter air.

The Hanover experiment is a streamlined 50-passenger car called the "Flying Railway." It has a nose like an airship and a rear end propeller that pushes it over the rails at a "normal speed of 110 miles an hour.

This "airplane speed" is achieved with a 12-cylinder airplane motor of 500 horsepower. A fuel consumption of a quart of gasoline per mile at such speeds indicates what can be done to railway operating costs by substituting propellers for driving wheels.

Four miles to the galion with 50 passengers aboard is cheap transportation, and even this is to be bettered by installing a heavy-oil airplane motor.

Riding in the "Zeppelin on wheels" at 110 miles an hour is a big disappointment to the passenger who expects a thrill. Except that telegraph poles and trees are blurring past the windows at an abnormal rate, there is no sensation of unusual speed.

On the contrary, a cup of coffee served en route shows far less tendency to jump off the saucer than is common in the ordinary railway dining car at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Blindfolded, the average passenger would swear he couldn't be moving at more than 30 miles an hour.

Like Giant Worm

When this coach approaches the observer head-on it looks much like a gigantic metal worm slithering toward him with menace in its oddly slanting eyes. The "eyes" really are streamlined windows through which the headlights peer, while the pilot sits behind a wide, slanting window higher up.

Seen directly from the rear, on the other hand, the coach resembles a ship upside-down, with a huge four-bladed propeller waving idly in the air.

With a fleet of several hundred such propeller coaches, the German national railways could, according to the inventor and builder of the "flying railway," Franz Kruchenberg, meet the speed competition of air lines.

ELECTRA C.-C. HONORS HALL

Board Accepts Resignation With Regret

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—J. L. Chowning, chairman, B. M. Dinsmore, and G. R. Davidson, a committee selected to draw up resolutions in regard to the recent resignation of Robert P. Hall, secretary-manager of the organization, have submitted the following resolutions:

Whereas, our manager, Robert P. Hall, has tendered his resignation to the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture to accept a position at Nacogdoches, Texas, and whereas;

The new position in his opinion offers a better opportunity for the exercise of his capabilities as an executive of chamber of commerce, therefore be it resolved:

By the board of directors of the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, that we accept his resignation with the deepest of regret,

That, during the four years that Bob has been with us, he has been a most efficient, capable and tireless worker, and at all time he has been a gentleman, and will leave hundreds here regretting his departure,

That, it is the belief of this board the place occupied by his charming wife, Helen, in social, civic and community welfare organizations of the city will be difficult to fill, and that both of them have endeared themselves to the people of Electra, who wish them every joy in their new home.

That, these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the organization and that copied be furnished the papers.

Einstein Submits Paper On 'Compatible Field' Equations

BERLIN, June 10. (AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein today submitted to the Prussian Academy of Sciences a 20-page treatise full of abstruse mathematical formulas and calculations, in which he carries further his probing of the mysteries of space.

The new Einstein treatise deals with rigidly mathematical aspects of compatible field equations as applying to Riemann or non-Euclidean space—in other words, with the conditions under which the equations whose number is greater than the quantities to be calculated from them are compatible with each other.

Contract Let for Providing Cigaret Stamps on Aug. 21

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The board of control today let the contract for printing the cigaret tax stamps up to Dec. 1, 1932, to the Hill Printing company of Waco at 4.98 cents a thousand.

The cigaret tax law will go into effect Aug. 21. Under the contract, ungummed stamps, which may be used later, would cost only three cents a thousand.

It had been estimated that 306,000,000 stamps would be used on that many packages of cigarets by the end of 1932.

Always Happy —Full of Pep—and Dad's Proud

It is wonderfully satisfying to be bringing up a boy like Jim Weston. His happy disposition makes him so easy to teach. But Jim wasn't always so. For years he seemed to be a born grouch. What changed him? Better digestion with the help of the double enzymes in Thompson's "Double Malted."

Perfect digestion is vital to children; they must eat and digest more than grown folks in order to grow. Thompson's "Double Malted" (with double enzymes) digests five times its own weight of other foods. This helps young, growing bodies to get full benefit from the food they eat. Then they eat more—hence gain in height, weight, energy.

Thompson's practically doubles the food value of milk and is rich in the food elements that develop strong bones and teeth, firm flesh and sturdy muscles. Order Thompson's "Double Malted" from your druggist or grocer now.

U. S. SHIP SENT TO CHINA PORT

American Citizens Menaced By 'Red' Uprising

PEIPING, China, June 10. (UP)—United States authorities acted today to protect American lives and property from possible attacks by Chinese Communists in the south.

The U. S. S. Pillsbury was ordered to Foochow, on the coast in southern China. The destroyer is attached to the American fleet on duty in Asiatic waters.

The dispatch of the Pillsbury was described as a precautionary measure, indicating American authorities feared Communist uprisings might result in a renewed attack on Foochow, a treaty port of Tukien province, with a population of 1,000,000.

Missionaries were reported assembled in the interior of south-central China, long menaced by roving bands of alleged Chinese Communists. The missionaries were said to be ready to evacuate should the Communists attack.

Foochow has been menaced by Communist forces in the last 18 months, and a renewal of "Red" uprisings has been indicated in dispatches from the south.

Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the harassed central government at Nanking, announced he is leaving for Kiangsi province, south of the Yangtze river, seat of frequent Communist revolts.

36 BILLED IN WHISKY RING

$1,000,000 Kansas City Plot Exposed

JOPLIN, Mo., June 10. (UP)—The federal grand jury in session here today reported to Judge Merrill E. Otis indictments of 36 persons as members of the million dollar Kansas City liquor syndicate. Eleven other sealed indictments were returned, which named Kansas Cityans who have not been arrested.

The names of John Lazia, north side Democratic leader and long recognized as the boss of Kansas City's underworld, and Rosemary Lyons, city hall employe, who was charged with keeping the books of the booze ring, appeared on two of the indictments.

PAIN after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 25c and 50c a bottle; any drug store. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.—Adv.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*
Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants
"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Everyone has an Adam's Apple—every man—every woman has one. Touch your Adam's Apple with your finger. You are actually touching your larynx—this is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords.

"TOASTING" expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE—the modern cigarette. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds. Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" Process includes the use of Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret and exclusive heating process. It is this process that expels these harsh irritants. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple." Electra Wedding Unites Teachers Of Clara School

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—A wedding of unusual interest in this community was solemnized Tuesday night at the First Baptist church when Miss Ruth Rivers, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rivers, became the bride of H. V. Williams Jr., who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williams Sr., of Snyder, Texas.

The bride and groom have been connected with the Clara school system for the past two years. Mr. Williams has served as superintendent and Mrs. Williams has been head of the English department. She is a graduate of Baylor university, Waco, and the groom is a graduate of Simmons university. He has also completed quite a bit of work toward his master's degree at S. M. U., Dallas.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Mr. Rivers, who also gave the bride away. Miss Lois Rivers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Rose Evelyn Rivers, another sister, was junior maid of honor. Claude Segrest of Waco was best man. Misses Ava Shaw, Mary Dean Reneau, Fern Tubb, Electra, and Gladys West, Fort Worth, were bridesmaids. Ushers were Truett Rivers, Dr. P. E. Fish, Electra; Bill Falls, Wichita Falls, and Ted Williams, Snyder.

Mrs. I. K. Reynolds of the Baptist seminary, Fort Worth, was the soloist, and Miss Helen Massey, T. C. U., Fort Worth, was pianist. Miss Letrice Wofford of Electra directed the bridal chorus.

Little Misses Jean Ann Doores, Molly Virginia Skinner, Edna Mae Trainer and Evelyn Hall were the flower girls. The trainbearers were Nora Jean Davidson and Geraldine P'Pool. Charline Frankie, 3-year old sister of the bride, was little Miss Cupid, and John Clayton Holcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Holcomb, was the ringbearer.

A reception was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Rivers on West Glisson avenue immediately after the wedding. The young couple left Wednesday morning for Boulder, Colo., where they will study for their master's degrees. Both have accepted their same positions at Clara for next year.

CITY LOSES DRAINAGE SUIT

Two Verdicts Upheld by Supreme Court

Two drainage damages cases carried by the city to the state supreme court during the past two years were decided in favor of the original plaintiffs according to press dispatches received by The Record News from Austin Wednesday.

The first decision reported was in the case of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Mauldin against the city, in which the plaintiffs were awarded $225 for damages allegedly inflicted upon their property at Twenty-first and Harvard streets by flood waters from the streets. The case originated in district court here late in the year 1927, it was said, the plaintiffs winning a verdict carrying an award of $750. On the city's appeal the court of civil apepals affirmed the verdict, but reduced the award to $525. Action of that court was upheld by the state supreme court.

J. H. Sullivan also was awarded $1,050 for alleged damage to property caused by overflow of water from streets in Scotland addition. This suit originated in the district court here about two years ago, according to city officials, the jury awarded Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan $1,050. Affirmed by the court of civil appeals, the decision finally was upheld by the state supreme court.

In a third case brought up from Wichita Falls, the L. E. Whitham company was denied the right to collect from J. A. Fisher paving assessments on a property sold by Mr. Fisher before the paving in question had been laid. An assessment ordinance applying to the property in question had been passed by the city council, it was learned, while the property belonged to Mr. Fisher. The property changed hands, however, before the paving was begun. The original suit was decided in favor of the paving contractor, but was reversed by the supreme court, according to information received Wednesday.

MURRAY READS COLE RECORDS

Governor Studies Doomed Man's Appeal

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—Gov. William H. Murray today studied two records in the case of Paul Cole, former Duncan banker and former secretary of the Seminole county election board, doomed to die in the electric chair July 10.

Cole was convicted in the slaying of Ernest Irby, Wewoka, druggist, whose body was found weighted down in Lake Wewoka.

"I'm going to be governed entirely by the facts in the record," the governor said. "Sentiment will not enter into my decision."

The governor has the record of the case in the district court and the refusal of the criminal court of appeals to reverse the death sentence. He also has the record made at the clemency hearing at the state penitentiary at McAlester yesterday. He declined to disclose contents of this record.

Cole's only hope is for executive clemency.

Frank Hunt, who with Irby and Cole were co-defendants in a federal liquor conspiracy case, is serving a life sentence in the Irby slaying. He turned state's evidence against Cole. The state contended Irby was slain to keep him from testifying in the liquor trial.

Chinese War Minister Attacked by Bandits

TOKYO, June 10. (UP)—Gen. Hey Ing-Chin, war minister of the China National government, was attacked and seriously wounded at the city of Nancheng yesterday by Communist bandits, according to word received today by Japanese government authorities.

News of the attack on the Chinese official first came from Tokyo, presumably because of a rigorous press censorship recently laid down by the China National government in its campaign against revolutionary movements.

Eyewitnesses Describe Texas Shooting

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Witnesses testifying at a preliminary hearing at Matamoros, Mexico, today described the fatal shooting of Miss Mina Clark of La Feria Sunday night, in a Rio Rico cafe. Dee Ham, Weslaco youth, was charged with homicide in connection with Miss Clark's death.

Miss Manon Holloway of Weslaco testified she was within a few feet of the scene of a scuffle between Ham and Arnulfo de La Rosa, Rio Rico policeman. She said the officer, in trying to subdue Ham, struck Ham over the head with his gun and the weapon was discharged. She said she left with her escort without knowing Miss Clark was shot and went to another cafe.

Noah Culpepper, Weslaco student and an eye-witness of the shooting, testified he saw the officer strike Ham with his gun, that the weapon was discharged and he heard women inside the dance hall scream. He entered the dance hall, he said, and found Miss Clark lying on the floor, dead.

Edward L. Young, Weslaco peace officer, testified as to the character of Dee Ham. Delmar Stancil, also of Weslaco, testified that Sunday afternoon De la Rosa, the officer who tried to arrest Ham, had tried to hit Count Gillespie, who allegedly was disorderly. He said De la Rosa was prevented from doing so by the proprietor of a saloon where the encounter occurred.

IF WATER WON'T HURT IT, WHITE KING WON'T

PERHAPS you feel that every time you dip colorful cotton prints and filmy silks into the wash basin you are taking a chance. And if you use ordinary soaps, and the hot water that they require, you are. But it's a needless risk.

White King Granulated Soap, made from the finest vegetable and nut oils, is as pure a soap as can be made. It is literally true that it is safe for anything that is not harmed by water. And its fine quality makes it effective in lukewarm water, so that delicate fabrics need not be weakened by high temperatures. Try it the next time you want to be especially careful.

The same purity makes White King the most efficient soap for greasy dishes, dust-heavy woolens. It washes everything swiftly and economically—a cupful is plenty for the washing machine, a teaspoonful for the wash basin. It's condensed. Sold by your dealer.

WAGNER JOINS 'BEER' FORCES

Senator Pleads for Return To Temperance

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, June 10. (INS)—Pleading for a restoration of temperance and prosperity, Senator Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, of New York, today suggested the new congress investigate the economic effects of permitting the manufacture and sale of four per cent beer.

LARGE ORDER

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—The W. C. T. U. today said that every resident in a dozen states and the District of Columbia would have to drink 2½ gallons of beer a day next year to raise a billion dollars through taxes as advocated by what was described as "the congressional beer bloc."

"The biggest beer tax ever paid the government in normal pre-war days," the union said, "was $87,875,672 in 1916 with the tax a dollar a barrel, the per capita consumption at 17½ gallons annually."

Wagner joined in the growing demand that the Wickersham commission make public all the information it gathered last spring in investigating this subject. In event the commission declines to make its data public, Wagner said either the senate or house should conduct a like inquiry.

Dry leaders meanwhile sided with Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, who suggested the commission might not have any authority to investigate economic questions. He pointed out the commission's inquiry was limited by congress to the subject of law enforcement:

Prosperity Seen

Wagner declared the legalization of four per cent beer would tend to restore temperance and prosperity. He said it would also aid agriculture in its recovery from over-production and would tend to stamp out racketeering and bootlegging, while increasing governmental revenues.

"The primary reason for bringing about a modification is because prohibition has failed as a temperance measure," said Wagner. "This is generally conceded even by the remaining advocates of prohibition. Hence those of us who are firm believers in temperance, are looking for a way to restore it.

Jobs Promised

"Secondly, the legal sale of beer would help very much in alleviating the current depression. Men would at once be employed in brewing and that employment would have its beneficial effect on every other industry. With unemployment reduced as the purchasing power of thousands of men increased, all industries would benefit.

"Agriculture would be aided too, since the farmer would find a new market, or rather, recover an old market for his grains. At the same time, there would be new city markets for the farmer with so many men given employment.

"So far as the government is concerned, its revenues from sale of legalized beer would be materially increased. For one thing it would end this talk of increased taxes, deficits and bond issues to cover the deficits. The revenue very likely would reach a billion dollars a year—much of which is now going into the pockets of the criminal element."

Vernon-Childress Scouts to Attend Summer Camp

Boy Scouts of Vernon and Childress will be offered a four-day summer camp at Lake Pauline, Hardeman county, beginning July 13, it was announced Wednesday by Frank B. Creighton, scout executive for the Wichita Falls area.

Service clubs of both Childress and Vernon will be asked to select nights on which they may visit the camp, taking supper with the campers and remaining for the night program of games and other events.

The Lake Pauline camp will be directed by Mr. Creighton, assisted by Rev. J. H. Garrett, A. F. Hill, V. L. Norsworthy, R. L. King, and C. Reed Smith, of Vernon; Rev. John S. Mullins, O. R. Reeves and T. B. Micha of Childress. More than 60 boys already have signed up for the camp, it was said.

Negro Identified in Dallas Holdup Trial

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Mrs. Louisa Mondello, testifying today in the trial of Ardell Landers, on charges of robbery with firearms, identified the negro as the one who shot and killed her brother, Joe Piccola, grocer, in a holdup Feb. 9, 1929. The robber escaped with $18. The state is demanding the death penalty. Landers still is under a murder indictment in connection with the killing of Piccola.

Fleagle Brothers Free After Tax Sentence

GARDEN CITY, Kan., June 10. (AP)—Fred and Walter Fleagle were free men today after serving 14 months of an indeterminate sentence for tax evasion.

They were paroled yesterday from the Finney county jail by District Judge H. E. Walter. The two are brothers of Jake and Ralph Fleagle whose parts in the robbery of the Lamar, Colo., bank and the slaying of four men in May 1928 subsequently resulted in their deaths. The former was fatally wounded by officers near Branson, Mo., and the latter was executed by the state of Colorado.

They Crossed the Seas for Galveston Revue

If you want to see the beauties of Europe, they're on view in Texas. For pictured here en route to the annual international beauty pageant at Galveston, are seven of the national contest winners from abroad. Left to right are Miss Sweden, Inga Norberg; Miss Germany, Daisy Freiberg; Miss Norway, Gerd Johansen; Miss France, Lucienne Nahmias; Miss Denmark, Karen Schents; Miss Austria, Ines Monlassa; Miss Belgium, Netta Duchateau.

World Beauties Practice Smiles For Galveston Revue Saturday

GALVESTON, Texas, June 10. (UP)—A score of the world's most advertised beautiful women powdered their noses and practiced their smiles today preparatory to entering Galveston's 12th annual international pageant of pulchritude.

The pageant this year will be held June 13-17 and will be "refined." Its press agents say that not only have stenographers, saleslaides and telephone operators responded to the annual call, but that college girls and even society subdebs "have sent in their photographs and applications in their modest, rather shy manner."

Thus far the contest has drawn two score entrants. The European contingent has arrived in New York. Sweden, Germany, Norway, France, Denmark, Australia and Belgium are represented.

As in previous years, the pageant has been attacked by Bishop C. E. Byrne of the Catholic diocese of Galveston. Bishop Byrne's opposition this year has been comparatively mild, the clergyman contenting himself with issuing an edict barring men and women of his diocese from wearing pageant badges.

Judges this year will be Florenz Ziegfeld, King Vidor, John Held Jr., McClelland Barclay, Lee Townsend, Jules Cannert and Ben Carlton Head. They first will choose Miss United States and then select Miss Universe, who wins the grand prize of $2,500 and gets her picture in all the papers and news reels.

Methodist Group Elects Officers

SHERMAN, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Vinson Morris of Greenville today was elected president of the North Texas Conference Young People's Assembly which began a week's program of religious and recreational activity at Kidd-Key college Monday.

Morris retired as assembly secretary to accept the presidency, succeeding C. W. Bohanan of Dallas.

Other officers elected were Miss Ruth Edwards, Forney, vice president; Miss Jay Ella Myers, Carrollton, secretary; Miss Jane Black, Dallas, treasurer; and John Lillard, Jr., Dallas, publicity superintendent.

The assembly today had a registration list of 345 young people of the nine North Texas Methodist districts.

Preacher Charged With Cruelty in Wife's Plea

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—Rev. O. James Sowell, pastor of the University Place Christian church, came home only to eat and sleep, a petition on file in district court today, related.

The pastor said he would not contest the divorce petition filed by his wife.

"Since January, 1930, after six years of married life, the Rev. Sowell has been guilty of mental cruelty and in April he told her he did not love her and there was no use trying to get along," the petition said.

Asking $1,000 allmony to be paid in $75 monthly instalments, Mrs. Sowell said that her mother had been supplying her with clothes "for some time although her husband could earn $375 a month."

Girl Wins Fight With Itching Skin

For quick and happy relief from eczema, scales, eruptions, rashes and other itching skin tortures, simply apply pure, cooling, antiseptic, liquid D. D. D. Its gentle oils penetrate the skin, soothing and healing the inflamed tissues. Clear, greaseless and stainless—dries up almost immediately. Try D. D. D. today. If the very first application does not instantly relieve even the most intense itching, your money back. 35c, 60c, $1.25. At all druggists.—Adv.

THE BEST ADVERTISING

It has often been said that the best advertising any product can have are the words of praise expressed by a satisfied user. This word-of-mouth advertising circulates freely and causes products to enjoy tremendous popularity in an almost unbelievably short time. This has been one of the factors responsible for the widespread use and popularity of St.Joseph's Genuine Pure Aspirin which is now the largest selling pure aspirin in the world for 10c. Doctors and the general public alike fully realize that "St.Joseph's" Aspirin is both genuine and pure because it meets every government standard. In one single year more than nine million boxes of St.Joseph's Genuine Pure Aspirin have been sold, a record-breaking achievement due to the fact that people everywhere now realize it is neither sensible nor necessary to pay more than 10c for one dozen tablets of genuine pure aspirin. Always ask your druggist for "St.Joseph's."

O. U. Auditor Turns Down $25 Claim in Spite of Approval

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—A claim for $25 against the funds of the University of Oklahoma by W. W. Parker was refused today by Frank Carter, state auditor.

Carter said the claim was an "improper charge" against the state. It carried the approval of George Bowman, board of regents chairman, and Dr. W. B. Bizzell, university president.

Parker, who as president of the Northwestern State Teachers' college at Alva receives $6,000 a year, filed the claim for giving a doctor's examination for James H. Hodges, May 28.

"I'm going to continue to embarrass heads of these departments until they learn that no illegal or improper claim which we find ever will be paid by this department," Carter said.

Cities Vie for State Fire Marshals' Meet

BRYAN, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Big Spring today entered the race with Brownwood and Austin in bidding for the 1932 convention of the Texas State Fire Marshals' association.

E. P. Hall, mayor of Weatherford and chief of the fire department there, was the principal candidate being discussed for fourth vice president, the only office to be filled at the present convention.

Loses 16 Pounds of Fat—Eats As Usual

Fat Folks—Here's More Proof—One Bottle of Kruschen Salts and Sixteen Pounds Gone—Eats As Usual—Sleeps Better—Costs 85 Cents

Modern Science now makes it possible for you to easily and what's best, to SAFELY obtain a bewitchingly lithe, free-from-fat figure and actually enjoy exhilarated health and increase your attractiveness while doing so—

Simply take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—you can hasten the reducing action of Kruschen by going lighter on potatoes, fatty meats and pastries.

Mrs. Ethel Smith of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. I feel so good in many ways. Being on night duty it was hard to sleep days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat too. I have told 2 of my friends about Kruschen and they find it as I do."

Unlike other salts, Kruschen doesn't aim to reduce by rushing food through the system—rather it's a superbly blended combination of SIX separate mineral salts which help glands, nerves and body organs to function properly—it drives poisons and harmful acid from the body—Kruschen strikes at the usual CAUSE of fat—that's why it's so amazingly successful in cases where everything else has failed!

And just stop to consider how inexpensive Kruschen is—an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks and offers the same marvelous reducing and health-giving properties which hitherto wealthy people paid thousands of dollars to go to the famous mineral Spas of Europe to obtain. Allison Drug store and all druggists the world over sell Kruschen and will give your money back if you don't obtain the results you're after.—Adv.

FARM RELIEF WAR RENEWED

Haugen Demands New Aid Organization

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Declaring the federal farm board's agricultural relief efforts have failed, Representative Gilbert Haugen, Republican, of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on agriculture, today said the board will be expected to come before congress with a new relief plan.

The pronouncement of the veteran house leader in farm relief legislation, made during a flying visit to Washington, forecast a revival of legislative warfare over aid to the farmer, when congress convenes in December.

The federal farm board, however, was not saddled with blame by Haugen. The $500,000,000 farm relief act passed in the special session called by President Hoover was foredoomed, he declared.

Haugen said:

"The board was given no specific plan as provided in previous bills. It was up to the board to work out a plan. In the absence of specific authority to apply the equalization plan it was beyond the power of the board to voluntarily organize so as to control the whole production, which is essential in making the tariff effective.

"The board, in pegging the price of wheat, has been helpful to farmers to the extent of 20 cents a bushel, unfortunately at the expense of the federal treasury. Had congress adopted the equalization plan, producers would have benefited more without expense to the treasury.

Former Steel Clerk Loses Sudden Riches

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10. (UP)—James A. Talbot, a young steel clerk who became the multimillionaire head of the Richfield Oil company is bankrupt.

His voluntary petition in bankruptcy, on file today in federal court here, was an aftermath of the crash of his company, which went into the hands of receivers several months ago. Talbot listed his assets at $2,220,000 and liabilities at $2,950,000.

One-Man Crime Wave Held Insane

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 10. (INS)—Variously dubbed St. Joseph's one-man crime wave, Michael Burke, 16, today had been acquitted of a charge of slaying John Fisher, a mechanic, in an attempted holdup Jan. 11. The jury declared Burke to be insane.

Fisher was slain as he sat in his automobile with a woman companion. Burke also was accused of the slaying of John Brown, a constable.

Burke's arrest climaxed a three-month reign of terror here last winter in which more than 100 holdups and robberies were staged by a lone bandit.

Burke's father, Edward C. Burke, prominent lawyer, and the boy's mother testified during the trial that the youth suffered from paranoia, a form of insanity.

WE OWN AND HAVE NOW ON OUR FLOOR

111,385 Pounds of Green Coffee

The very finest selections of the coffee producing countries of the world. Coffees from Brazil, Honduras, Venezuela, Guatamala, Columbia, Mexico, Africa and Arabia. Brazilian coffees grown in the high altitude of the Campinas district where the flavor is the best. Columbia's from the mountain district of Bogota. Mexican's from Huatasco, African from Abyssinia where coffee was first discovered—genuine Mocha from Arabia, all cup tested with meticulous care.

We are roasting this coffee daily at our modern plant, corner of Sixth and Ohio and retailing it there at the roaster, ground after you buy it and as you dictate.

NOW DON'T YOU AGREE

That we occupy the best possible position to take care of your particular preference in coffee taste at prices most reasonable.

WE WANT YOU to visit our plant and verify our statements and see just why we can give you superior service.

DURING THE MONTH OF JUNE

With each pound can of our "Who Can Beat It" coffee at 35c we will give a 10c package of Our Best Tea. With a three-pound can at $1.00 we will give one-fourth pound package of the same tea.

Both the coffee and tea are the world's finest products, combined with 40 years experience in blending. With each pound of our 21c coffee a 2-ounce can of our fresh ground Tellicherry Black Pepper. (Tellicherry is the world's best black pepper). This is for the month of June only.

WE ASSERT

Without the fear of successful contradiction, that we have a plant here that would be a credit to a city many times the size of Wichita Falls.

IF YOU WANT TO ATTRACT

Factories to your town, patronize those you have. We have a coffee to suit every taste and every purse and can give you any special blend, any particular roast or grind, for, like Chick Sale, we're specialists.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas was one of the early states to levy a gasoline tax for highway purposes, making its first levy of two cents in 1923. Then, as now, one-fourth of the proceeds, was given to the school fund, the reason for that apportionment (in addition to a desire to provide for the schools) being the idea that the courts might hold it an occupation tax, one-fourth of all of which under constitutional requirement must go into the available school fund. Texas collected in 1930 $29,527,098 in gasoline taxes, ranking fourth among the states in amount collected, altho ninth in amount of gasoline consumed. Every state in the union now levies a gasoline tax, ranging from two cents to six cents a gallon. In the decade 1921-31 there has been a 10,000 per cent increase in total gasoline taxes collected in the United States, income from that source now averaging around $1,400,000 a day.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

The ingenuity and resourcefulness for which Texans because of their relatively recent pioneering days are noted are being called into play by existing conditions and are helping most materially to keep the Texas situation on a more level base than in most of the states. . . . West Texas is finding a receptive market in other states for its surplus horses. Five hundred head were shipped out of San Angelo alone in May, most of them going to Mississippi. One shipment comprised 18 high-priced polo ponies, bred and trained in that section, and consigned to Detroit, Mich. . . . Dalhart has a new $25,000 plant which is developing the business of making feed for livestock out of cold molasses and different kinds of grain. . . . Flour mill at Childress, idle for several years because Childress count virtually stopped raising wheat, is being put in readiness for handling the crop from a big acreage this year that supplanted cotton, and will start operations in July.

Oil Belt Elks Plan Breck Flag Rites

Special to The Record News

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, June 10.—The annual Elks club "Flag Day" will be observed in Breckenridge next Sunday by all Elks clubs in the Oil Belt district, it was announced here by the local Elks committee in charge of making arrangements for the ceremony.

The ceremony will be jointly celebrated by clubs in Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Sweetwater and Breckenridge. Several hundred Elks from these out-of-town cities are expected to be here for the annual ceremony.

The "Flag Day" services, regarded as one of the most beautiful and patriotic services held by a club of this kind, will be open to the general public and will be held at the First Christian church at 3:30 p. m.

Ben J. Dean, 90th district court district attorney, will deliver the principal patriotic address. Harry A. Logsdon, prominent Ranger Elk, will give the history of the American Flag during the impressive ceremonies. Other speakers and entertainment features will be on the program as well.

Record News Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

An Indiana woman found $17,150 in government notes in four jars she dug up in her garden. Bottled in bond, as it were.

Coming to Our Senses

EVER since American builders first discovered that by using steel framework they could make buildings far taller and lighter than any that had ever been built before, architects have been putting in their spare time speculating about "the city of tomorrow."

Sketches have been drawn and books have been written; and in most of them we are shown a rather terrifying conglomeration of cloud-scrapers, with elevated sidewalks, hanging gardens, four-deck streets and tall spires that would make the Empire State or Chrysler buildings look puny.

This, they have told us, is what we are coming to. This is what the city of the not-so-distant future will be like.

Now, however, comes Frank Lloyd Wright, whom many consider the best of all American architects, to declare that these prophets are all mistaken. In a new book, "Modern Architecture," Mr. Wright predicts that instead of an era of super-cities and super-skyscrapers we shall have an era of smaller cities and fewer skyscrapers; and he paints a picture that is, to say the least, rather more attractive than the one we are used to.

His idea is simple. The skyscraper, he says in effect, is a noble achievement; but it must be judged, finally, by its effect on the lives of the people who live in and around it. What do the skyscrapers of today do for us? They cramp us, they give us unbearable congestion, they confine us to city pavements, they force our lives into restricting moulds. Judged on that basis the skyscraper, like the skyscraper city, is a failure.

Indeed, Mr. Wright believes that the city as we know it today will die. Instead of huddling close together in a small space, men will spread out over the countryside. There will still be cities, but they will merely be places where men work, most of the time they will be empty. There will still be tall buildings but they will be widely separated, each with acres of ground about it.

Rapid transit—the auto, the fast train, the airplane—will make all of this possible. People will get back to the land. The ordinary house will have an acre of ground around it. The entire country, in fact, will be "a well-developed park—buildings standing in it, tall or wide, with beauty and privacy for every one."

There is a great deal of encouragement in Mr. Wrigth's vision. And yet, after all, he is merely saying that men will come to their senses and will use their new mechanical devices to make life happier and freer. Will not succeeding generations wonder why it took people so long to reach his conclusion?

Matches From Russia

THE danger of Moscow may be causing some our statesmen to awake nights with fear, but the United States army, nevertheless, does its part to help the finances of the Soviets by buying all of its matches from Russian manufacturers.

Officials of the army quartermaster corps point out that they are compelled by the rules to buy Russian matches—because they can buy them more cheaply than any other kind.

This excellent little object lesson illustrates the crux of the whole matter. If, in the long run, the Russians are consistently able to undersell their capitalistic European competitors, the Communist regime will probably endure. If they fail, it won't. For this modern commercialized and industrialized world offers its greatest prizes to the man or the nation that can produce goods at the lowest expense.

A Gratifying Achievement

THE value of intensive safety education work among children is clearly illustrated by the annual report for 1930, just issued by the national safety council.

This report shows that accidental deaths to persons of all ages increased 28 per cent in the past eight years. In the same period, however, accidental deaths among children under 15 decreased more than two per cent.

Children are being taught how to avoid accidents. Isn't it about time, now, that the adults got a stiffer dose of safety education?

Hint

We start anew—all faithfulness forgotten
To salvage gold from castles built in Spain;
We've found—as all must find—that pride goes rotten,
And leaves behind a heritage of pain;
So, once again, with kisses and with roses,
I'll do my best to rouse an ancient flame,
But do not weep if fleeting time discloses
That glamor dies and love is not the same.

Oh, we will sigh and vow abject devotion,
Find phrases new to gild our young affair;
Despite it all, I have a saddened notion,
We'll find it hard again to really care;

But youth is sweet and perfumed nights are here—
So lie your very prettiest my dear!

Classic

In "The Third 'Lillie' Show" which stars Beatrice Lillie there is a pantomime which is by far the most amusing item in the uneven revusical. It features Miss Lillie, and it reavels the bad manners of the typical First-Night audience It kept the initial auditors at the Music Box in stitches the other premiere evening.

It reminded one of us of The Retort Swelegant pulled at a Ziegfeld opening last year. A well known society man was ignoring the proceedings and he talked boisterously to his femme companion.

"I beg your pahdin," sarcastically said the annoyed seat-holder in the row ahead, "but I can't hear a word you're saying because of those actors on the stage!"

Stranger Than Fiction

A Form of Criticism

Mr. Channing Pollock, the playwright, is thumbing his nose at the critics again. EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

DANIEL M'CARTNEY—MENTAL MARVEL—During his lifetime Mr. McCartney performed numerous astounding mental feats, such as increasing 89 to the sixth power in 10 minutes, quoting Bible references, and various accomplishments of memory. He could remember everything he had had to eat each day, and the kind of weather every day of his life since childhood. A story of McCartney's unique ability is contained in the Cleveland Leader of April 19, 1871, and verified by his grandson, Mr. D. W. Cass, of 1087 West Eleventh street, Cleveland.

Tomorrow—"The father of 48 famous violinists."

THE STORY SO FAR

Sally Blair, now in the office of Kent Roper, general manager of the Davidson Insurance company, is gradually achieving the success she has set out to gain. In her new position she will soon meet Harvey Davidson, president of the company, whom Sally has boasted she will marry in a year. Sally is in love with Peter Douglas, a young salesman, though they are now separated. Peter is being seen with Linda Davidson, Harvey Davidson's daughter, quite a bit. Linda comes into the office and calls Peter to arrange for a week-end party on the Davidson yacht, the Merlin.

CHAPTER XIX

Erma was right about Harvey Davidson, Sally decided. He was hard to know. She had gone into his office twice with messages, and he had not even acknowledged her presence. Certainly he had known she was there because she had put the paper down in front of him as Erma had said to do, and then when he had said nothing she had walked out. Twice that had happened. Several times she had passed him in the halls, coming out of his office, or going in. Each time he had looked past her, as if she didn't exist, as if she were part of the walls of the building.

Of course he was busy. But Mr. Roper was busy, too, probably busier than the president. Yet Mr. Roper always had time to speak, to smile, to make some pleasant comment.

Once she had seen Mr. Davidson sitting on his private roof terrace which adjoined his office. A lovely garden, with a grass lawn, and flagged walk winding to the fountain in the center. Flowers bordering the path, and trees shading the iron chairs with their bright canvas coverings. He was smoking, lying back in his low chair, his eyes closed. Tired, Sally thought, and felt sorry for him. He seemed so lonely there on the beautiful terrace, high above the noises of the street, where he could look out on the Hudson, and watch the boats as they came into dock.

Mr. Davidson Is Queer

The smoke was curling lazily from his cigar on that still, hot afternoon. He used the terrace a good deal, sometimes for conferences, sometimes for dictation. The French doors that led onto it from his office were always open. Sally wondered what he did about it in the winter. Whether the grass still grew and what happened to the trees. Roof terraces were new to her. When she asked Erma, she was told that in the winter everything came out, the grass, the trees, the flowers, the fish in the fountain that bobbed around so gold and many-finned. In the spring the trees were replaced, new grass put down, and more flowers.

"Funny duck, isn't he?" she said, meaning Davidson.

"Yes," Sally answered shortly. The less she thought about Harvey Davidson the better. She was beginning to realize that, although she might accomplish everything else on the list she had made, she doubted whether she could make the last item come true. Davidson was difficult, and the more she saw of him, the more she realized it.

She still had a long way to go, yet. But she was getting there. And the struggle was easier, now that she was away from John Warner. The first step had been the hardest. She had the apartment, that was something, and she was going to keep it. This week she had bought herself a suit, besides another small wedding gift for Ann. A lot to do still, but she would do it.

The best part of her job was that Roper liked her. That made it easy. Even Erma admitted he did.

"You're quite the favorite around here, Sally. Here's luck to you! He's pleased, too, with your work. Told me yesterday that in spite of your looks you were intelligent—how's that?"

Friday morning Kent Roper sent for her, and Sally entered his office with her pad of paper, and took her usual chair.

"No, no letters this morning, Miss Blair. Have you a date this week-end?"

"Why—" he had taken her by surprise and she showed it. Roper laughed when he saw her alarm.

"No, I'm not asking you for a date. Don't get so perturbed."

Sally breathed more easily, and chuckled with him.

"Well, have you a date?"

"I have, but I can put it off." She was going to Ann's dinner Saturday night. The Tierneys had asked her before but she had refused them, feeling they'd rather be alone in the first week of their marriage.

"I have a nice little trip for you if you'll put off your engagement—besides you'll be doing me a favor. How about it?"

"Fine!" Sally was puzzled. She couldn't imagine what the favor was, unless Roper wanted her to go out with someone.

A New Job for Sally

"It won't be all play—a lot of it will be work, but at least you'll get out of town. The truth is that Mr. Davidson called in a stew this morning. His secretary is ill and can't go on the cruise with him this week-end, and he wanted to borrow Miss Brown from me. As it happens I need Miss Brown badly tomorrow morning—lots of work to get out. So I explained that you would go—without consulting you, however. So now you've got to go."

"On Mr. Davidson's yacht?" Sally couldn't believe her ears. That was the party Linda had called Peter about. He would be there, too. . .

"Yes, he's taking a party out over the week-end, and he always takes his secretary with him when he goes. Says he can work better on a holiday than he can at the office. I don't agree with him, but that's neither here nor there. He'll dictate a few hours in the morning, and in the afternoons you'll be free to do as you choose. He has an office rigged up on the boat, typewriter and everything, so you'll have all the tools. Nice boat, too."

"When—"

Roper did not let her finish. "That's the rub. You'll have to be on the boat by 4:30. It sails then. Sorry to give you such short notice, but I can't help it. Perhaps you'd better go home and pack now. You are not afraid, are you?" He saw something in her eyes that he had never seen before.

A Dream Comes True

"No." Silly to tell him she was only afraid of seeing Peter again, being near him. "No, but I've never taken his dictation. He might not like the way I write his letters."

"Of course, he will. I like your letters, and I'm more particular than Davidson is. You'll get along fine, I know. Nothing to worry about. Just go about things the way you do them for me. You'll have a good cabin—of course you won't dine with the party, but that won't matter. You'll get a little holiday out of the trip. Davidson never mixes business and pleasure. If you're worried about clothes you won't need any dinner dresses, because you won't use them. You won't be a guest, you'll be a stenographer."

"It's awfully nice of you, Mr. Roper—" Sally stammered her thanks.

"Don't mention it. And take all the time you want to pack. I'll see that you get a bonus for the week-end on your next check. After all, you'll be working, and get paid the usual rate for your time."

Sally came out of his office in a daze. When she had looked at the photograph of the Merlin in the yachting magazine she had hoped vaguely that one day she would ride on it. And now she was to be on it for three days. True, she was on the boat as a secretary, but even that was something. She'd get to know Harvey Davidson better, perhaps. She'd be with him in the mornings anyway taking his letters. It was a chance she hadn't thought would come for months. And it was here already. Not quite a week since she had been upstairs in Roper's office.

"Why the seriousness all of a sudden?" Erma asked, curiously.

"Mr. Roper just told me I'm to go on the Merlin with Mr. Davidson this afternoon. His secretary is ill—"

Sally Sees Peter

"Grand! You can tell me all about the great love affair, then, when you get back on Monday. Keep your eyes open, Sally. I don't envy you a lot, though. Three mornings straight with Davidson and I'd go nutty. I've got a strain of humor in me."

At noon Sally went home and packed a small bag. It was all right with Ann when she phoned her about Saturday night. She could come another time. Early next week.

The girl couldn't believe she was going on the cruise until she got down to the dock and saw the lovely Merlin looming up beside her. She was eager to go and yet she was afraid. Eager to know Mr. Davidson better, afraid of any meeting with Peter. What would she do if she saw him? When he knew she was going to be with him on the boat? What would he say? It wasn't her fault that she was getting the trip. It was the way things happened. When she was trying so hard to forget him, bracing herself at each mention of his name, this would come up. This trip.

Knowing he was on the boat, somewhere with Linda . . .

However, Peter was a guest on the Merlin. She was a mere secretary. She couldn't mix with the guests. Roper had made that clear. Mr. Davidson didn't approve of combining pleasure with business.

A steward took her bag, and she started up the gangplank. Gay voices behind her. The lilting laugh of a girl, and the deep, low tones of a man. Sally trembled when she heard the man. It was Peter . . .

"Isn't it grand, Peter! A whole week-end together!" she heard Linda say happily. A muttered reply she couldn't catch.

Then she was on deck and she turned to find herself looking up into Peter's eyes.

What will Peter think of seeing Sally on the yacht? Will it spoil his trip or will he ignore her?

SINGING SCHEDULED

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—Extensive preparations are underway for a Sacred Heart singing to be held Sunday, June 21, beginning at 2 o'clock, at the First Baptist church. W. P. Melton is in charge of arrangements, and all the singers in the surrounding communities are invited to attend. Those who have old-time song books are also urged to bring them.

WASHINGTON FIGHTS GAMING

Hoover Joins in Vigorous Cleanup Drive

WASHINGTON, June 10. (US)—The greatest vice clean-up in Washington since the advent of prohibition, with President Hoover taking a prominent part, was in progress today.

The president's contribution was an executive order forbidding government employes from betting on horse races and indulging in other forms of gambling during working hours.

Meanwhile, a concerted police drive had driven gambling establishments to cover and it was reported that bootleggers were "laying low," hoping for the storm to blow over.

A check of the first precinct, which embraces the most populous section of the city and where scores of racing pool rooms were flourishing only a fortnight ago, revealed that not one was in operation today.

The police are attacking gamblers and "bookies" with a new weapon. In instances where it would be difficult to procure sufficient evidence to convict them as such, they are arrested as "vagrants."

The president's order was the outcome of a complaint made by Representative John C. Schafer, of Wisconsin. In a letter to the White House, Schafer charged that the government departments were honeycombed with bookmakers and that much time was wasted in placing bets on the races and in baseball pool activities.

Schafer disclosed today that he had received an anoymous letter threatening him with a "ride" unless he ceased his crusade against the gamblers, and warning that the police department would be powerless to protect him.

Since the letter was unsigned, he did not turn it over to the authorities, Schafer explained.

Feminine Sponsors to Grace Cowboy Reunion at Stamford

STAMFORD, Texas, June 10.—Every town in West Texas and all the important cities of the state, are being asked to have official representation here June 25, 26 and 27, for the second annual Texas Cowboy reunion, in the form of a young girl representing the cattle interests in the districts served by those towns and cities.

Approximately 75 feminine sponsors are expected by Warren E. Tayman, chairman of the reunion's program and parade committee. He has sent special information on the selection of the sponsors and the part they will have in the celebration program to more than 100 different communities, and reports that he already has received several messages evidencing that there will be a large number of girls here for this event from various towns.

This group of sponsors will lead the opening day parade of the reunion, to be staged at 1 p. m., June 25, and will participate in a number of other features of the program. They will act as sponsors for the pioneer cattlemen in their respective communities and be given numerous courtesies by the reunion association.

Each of them will be from a family interested in the cattle business and will bring her own horse, saddle and ranch costume with her. Special social events for the sponsors will be arranged on each day of the reunion, Tayman says. The affair is being staged for the entertainment and enjoyment of the pioneers of the cattle range days of this area, and reports coming in from over the country indicate that the attendance this season will be double that of last year, when the first reunion was held here.

Jones County Tax Equalization Set

Special to The Record News

ANSON, Texas, June 10.—The commissioners of the county will act as a board of equalization, commencing on June 17.

On that date, all persons, corporations or firms owning oil properties in the county subject to taxation for this year are requested to meet with the board and give reason why their properties should not stand as fixed by the board. All other property taxpayers, including resident and non-resident, are notified to appear also before the board for similar purposes.

The commissioners will meet in the county tax assessor's office.

Last week a number of owners of Anson city property received notices from the city equalization board notifying them to appear on June 18 to give reasons why their property should not stand on the tax rolls as placed by them. E. S. Via, C. W. Bartlett, and E. L. Orr acted as the board for the city.

Oklahoma Employes Lose Jobs July 1

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—More than 160 state capitol employes will be released when the state tax commission assumes its duties July 1, it was announced today.

The state auditor's department will lose 31 members and the state highway department will drop 85 clerks when the change becomes effective. Other state departments will curtail forces proportionately.

Officials of the commission would not say which employes would be let out although most of the changes in the highway department were expected in the license tag department. Removals in the state auditor's office will be in the gross production, income, inheritance and gasoline tax departments.

"I am glad to lose the onerous duties of collecting these taxes, but I hate to lose the workers in my office," State Auditor Frank Carter said.

W. E. Cornish, chairman of the tax commission, said he did not know which employes would be retained.

Executives Close Houston Session

HOUSTON, June 10. (AP)—The joint business session of the Texas Commercial Executives association and the Texas Trade association executives adjourned today after a three-day convention. Officers and directors of the former were elected, while the officers of the latter were retained.

The outstanding resolution adopted by the T. C. E. A. approved the purposes of the Progressive Texans, Inc.

Officers elected by the T. C. E. A. were T. J. Burdette of Hillsboro, president; Ray Gill of Beaumont, vice president, and George S. Buchanan of Marlin, secretary. The new board of directors comprises M. E. Melton of Texarkana, L. A. Wilson of Lamesa, John T. Floor of Harlingen, Cecil Blasig of Brady, and R. W. Knight of Crockett. The directors some time during the coming year will select the 1932 meeting place of the association.

Officers of the T. T. A. E. retained are B. Frank Johnson of Fort Worth, president; H. H. Orem of Houston, vice president, and C. A. Pickett of Houston, secretary-treasurer.

Bishop-Melton Wedding Solemnized in Electra

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, June 10.—A beautiful and impressive home wedding was performed Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Melton on North Wilbarger street when their daughter, Miss Minnie Lee Melton, became the bride of Ralph W. Bishop of Roby, Texas. Rev. W. W. Rivers, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the double ring ceremony. Miss Betty Ann Vanhoove and Roy Melton, brother of the bride, were ring bearers. The bride was dressed in a pink traveling suit and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Pot plants and ferns were used in the decorations and the ceremony was read before an improvised altar. Miss Letrice Wofford sang "I Love You Truly." Immediately following the ceremony the wedding cake was cut and served with punch to the friends and relatives.

The bride was graduated from the Electra High school in 1920. She later received a degree from Baylor college, Belton. For the past three years she has been county demonstration agent for Fisher county. The groom has lived in Roby a number of years and is assistant superintendent of Fisher county. They plan to make an extended tour of New Mexico before going to Roby where they will make their home at the present.

Hess High School Sets High Attendance Mark

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., June 10.—An almost perfect attendance record was reported at the Hess High school during the term just closed. A percentage of attendance of 99.2 was shown in the annual report just filed with the county superintendent of schools.

Sixteen boys and 25 girls were enrolled in the Hess High school during the term. Twenty-two maintained perfect attendance records. An average of 38.66 students were in attendance daily.

Hess grade school enrolled 141 students during the year, 65 girls and 76 boys. Four students were neither tardy nor absent during the school year. Only four tardies were reported. A percentage of attendance of 94 was maintained with an average daily attendance of 113.7.

Hardeman to Link Road Festival With Annual July 4 Celebration

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, June 10.—Plans are being laid for an all-day celebration and basket picnic, July 4 for the threefold purpose of celebrating Independence day, the opening of the free bridge across Red river between Hardeman county, Texas, and Jackson county, Oklahoma; and the completion of the paving of highway No. 51 north from Quanah to Red river. The picnic proper will be held at El Vivian Plunge on Groesbeck creek three miles north of Quanah, with opening ceremonies for the bridge to be made at the bridge proper.

Invitations are going out to Hardeman and Jackson county officials and citizens, and to adjoining counties. A special invitation has been sent to members of the highway commissions of Oklahoma and Texas, and to Gov. Ross Sterling.

County Judge J. E. Magee is chairman of the committee in charge of all arrangements. Other members are E. A. (Gus) Jones, Rex Sullivan, C. T. Watkins, R. S. Reed, and F. O. Griffith.

It is expected several thousand people will attend this celebration, as the free bridge and the paved highway connecting on the Texas side with highway No. 7 and U. S. highway No. 62 in Oklahoma form very important links in the transportation chain and for tourists from all parts of the United States through this section of Oklahoma and Texas.

Subcommittees and detailed plans will be announced within few days by Chairman Magee.

LEGION MEET SET JUNE 20

Lubbock Host to Fifth Texas Division

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 10.—From a thousand to 1,500 legionnaires are expected in Lubbock June 20 and 21 for the annual convention of the fifth division of the Texas branch of the American Legion.

The fifth division includes three congressional districts, the 16th, 17th and 18th composing practically all of Northwest Texas.

Registration booths at the American Legion home, the Up Town Dance palace and the Lubbock and Hilton hotels will be open from 10 to 2 o'clock Saturday, June 20. The first session will be held Saturday afternoon at the Up Town Dance palace.

The ladies' auxiliary will meet in the American Legion home.

Following the afternoon session, both the legionnaires and members of the auxiliary will be complimented with a brief auto tour and a picnic supper in the Lubbock county park.

A dance is scheduled for Saturday evening.

Sunday morning a joint religious service will be held to be followed by a lunch at the legion home, and by a farewell session of the legionnaires Sunday afternoon.

The local entertainment committee has worked out a bunch of fun that will be mixed in with the meeting.

Insect Stings and Bites

A district in Mississippi was recently invaded by a flock of buffalo gnats which were so thick that the children were compelled to go to and from school covered with mosquito netting. The bites of the buffalo gnats were similar to bumblebee stings and caused illness among both the children and teachers before the nets were used. This is a very unusual case of annoyance by insects and most of us will probably never have to wear nets when going out of doors.

Now that summer is here and picnics and outings are popular, there is no doubt that many painful stings and insect bites will occur. Probably more people suffer from stings, such as are due to bees, ants, hornets, wasps, etc., than from bites. A sting is usually the more painful of the two. Bees cause bothersome stings. The safest rule for most people when near bees is to take the trouble to avoid them, although some people seem to be able to handle bees and are rarely stung. The other day I saw an interesting picture of a bee keeper who had a beard like festoon upon his face reaching to his knees made up of live swarming bees.

Speaking of bees reminds me of a letter I received from a man who wanted to know my opinion of the old fashioned cure for rheumatism which consists in letting bees sting the sufferer. I, of course, told him that a good fasting and dieting regimen would be much more likely to permanently improve the rheumatic condition than the bee stings and would at the same time be less painful.

Do you know what makes a bee sting swell? It is because a bee injects an acid poison under the skin which causes the swelling. Thus the correct treatment for most stings is to apply an alkali which neutralizes the acid. A good alkali is ordinary baking soda although there are other preparations which may be used. Be sure to remove the stinger if it is still in the wound before applying the remedy. Some people have found that hyposulphite of soda which can be obtained at any drug store will relieve the sting if one teaspoonful is used in an ounce of water. A cloth soaked in this preparation may be applied to the sting.

Besides suffering from the stings of insects there are many which bite, among them mosquitos, bedbugs, fleas, ticks, chiggers, etc. In some people such bites are hardly noticeable but in those whose systems have less resistance insect bites may cause extremely annoying red welts to form. When scratched vigorously the welts may burn like fire. To protect yourself from mosquito bites when going out it is a good plan to apply some preparation to the skin of the face or hands such as oil of citronella or penny-royal. Ammonia may be used to soothe the stinging itch of these bites. Wet soda or milk of magnesia may quiet the irritation. If none of these are at hand, then laying on a cold wet compress will bring relief.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Abscessed Teeth

Question—F. H. writes: "Please tell me if there is any way to find an abscess on a tooth without using the x-ray."

Answer—In the first place, it is usually a dead tooth that abscesses at the end of the root. A dentist is usually able to determine the presence of a large abscess by probing through the root canal with a fine probe. However, the best policy would be for you to have an x-ray taken, for the removal of a dead tooth is often not advisable as it may serve to hold a bridge in place.

Food in the Wilderness

Question—G. T. asks: "When traveling in a wilderness and living largely upon fish and game, what foods can one carry which will balance up the meat diet and at the same time have little weight?"

Answer—For traveling in the wilderness, I would suggest that you take with you plenty of dehydrated fruits and vegetables. They are light and will balance the ration. You should also take some canned tomato juice to supply vitamin C, although this vitamin can be obtained from a tea made of spruce leaves or other green leaves which you may come across in your travels. A very small amount of the tomato juice (as little a a tablespoonful), or of the tea, will supply vitamin C if used each day. This is the antiscorbutic vitamin.

Diagnosing Tuberculosis

Question—Mrs. D. asks: "Would an examination with a stethoscope prove positively whether one had tuberculosis or not? Also, is the x-ray used in the treatment of tuberculosis?"

Answer—A doctor can usually tell with a stethoscope whether or not one has tuberculosis, although it is possible to make a mistake. X-rays are sometimes used in diagnosing the disease but not for treatments.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, June 10.—Rev. R. L. Elmore of Nocona, pastor of the Sunset Methodist Protestant church, will occupy his pulpit here next Sunday morning and evening.

During the latter part of the past week, the vegetable crop here was damaged to some extent by dry, hot winds. Field crops were damaged some by sand, driven by a terrific windstorm which reached here from the south about 10:45 Saturday night. It was reported that shade trees and outbuildings at some places were damaged. The storm lasted for about one hour.

Rev. W. C. Nichols, pastor of the Turkey Creek Baptist church, west of Sunset, will fill his monthly appointment there next Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Lelia Deal of Sunset and George Gyers of Clayton, N. M., were recently united in marriage and will reside at Clayton, N. M.

An all-day Sunday school rally will be held at Salona, four miles north of Fruitland, next Sunday, June 14. An interesting program is being prepared, and a welcome invitation is being extended to all who may desire to attend. Services will begin at 10 o'clock.

A new B. Y. P. U. was organized at the Turkey Creek Baptist church recently, and it reported to be growing in interest and membership.

Breckenridge Teachers Sign Up for Year

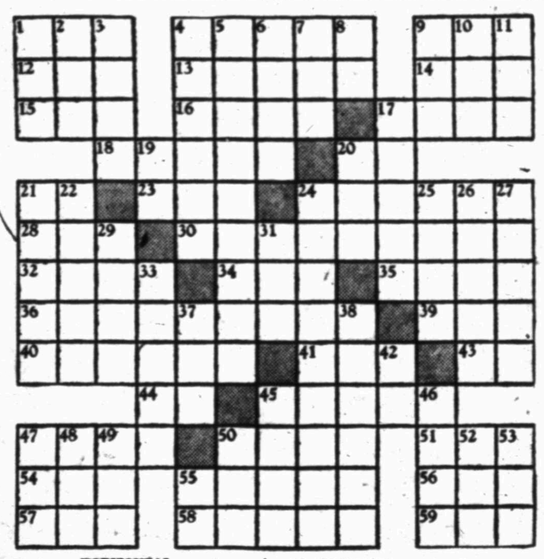

Special to The Record News

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, June 10.—Fifty-two of the 60 teachers expected to be employed in the local schools next year have returned their contracts signed and approved, according to Supt. N. S. Holland.

A few others have not yet returned their contracts, Holland said, but are expected to within a few days.

Local teachers will receive a 10 per cent cut in salaries next year and the faculty list will be reduced by 15 or 20.

STEENGRAFE SUBDUES BUCCANEERS IN SECOND GAME, 8 TO 1

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

While the East Texas league is definitely on the rocks, and the Rio Grande Valley league is subsisting by shifting franchises from one city to another, baseball in West Texas goes marching on. Yesterday, in Amarillo, the new Panhandle league held a meeting to discuss plans for the season's opening, which will be soon. Three cities are certain to be in the loop, Amarillo, Pampa and Lubbock, and within a week or so the necessary financial backing is expected to be forthcoming in Clovis, N. M., assuring a four-club circuit.

J. Alvin Gardner, Texas league president and president of the Panhandle league, was unable to attend the Wednesday meeting in Amarillo, but his secretary, Milton Price, acted as his proxy and presided at the confab. Gardner returned Wednesday from another tour of the Texas league circuit, including in his trip a visit to Tyler, the East Texas metropolis that still has an idea that it can support the Wichita Falls Spudders better than this old own can. To which, of course, we reply boloney; but more of that later.

Pampa of the Panhandle league, managed by Jim Galloway, former Spudder pilot, has already put forth the dough, groomed its park, and is preparing for the opening of the season. Amarillo and Lubbock are also assembling their ball players. Honest John McCloskey's dream of a Panhandle league is coming true.

An item of particular interest to Wichita Falls fans is that old Jim Galloway, who knows his baseball, has signed W. D. Ratliff, catcher, and E. K. Martin, southpaw first sacker, both of whom were candidates for the Spudder team this year.

All no doubt will rejoice that these two fine ball players have landed a job, even if it's in such a small league. The size of the league, however, does not matter. We venture that the Pampa club, fortified with such material as Ratliff and Martin, will turn out a brand of baseball that misses class A classification only by a shade. Pampa not only will profit by the playing of Ratliff and Martin, but it will be able to dispose of these two fellows at handsome prices when an opening is found for them higher up.

Amarillo and Lubbock may have players on their roster just as good as these two. We haven't been informed. But you can just count on it that the Panhandle league is going to play real baseball. Not this washout stuff that has been paraded before an unresponsive public in the anti-proration belt.

Frank Mathews of Wichita Falls, by an unfortunate twist of fate, has faded out of the Panhandle league picture. It was unfortunate because he was McCloskey's right-hand man in organizing the league. Mathews was to manage the Plainview club. But Plainview was not fortunate enough to have a baseball park, and money to build one was not to be had. In the meantime other managers for the remaining clubs had been hired, and so Mathews was left holding the sack.

Harry Wanderling is to manage the Lubbock club. Another item of local interest: Wanderling has signed Russel Cromer, the pitcher who faded with the Spuds, and also with the San Antonio Indians.

As for this piffle about Tyler wanting the Spudder club. Well, of course we can't blame any city for wanting our ball club. It's something that many towns in Texas would be proud to have. But try and get it, you East Texas fellers.

Correspondence from various organizations in Tyler has piled up on Prexy Gardner's desk. He's a busy man trying to answer those letters. Wish he'd let me answer 'em.

The Morning Mail

O. M. Jolley of Quanah writes:

"Dear Rambler:

"Just finished reading your column and am raring to read Mr. Growling Cub's answer to a few digs in same, and wondering if he will accept Nortsiders' challenge to a three-game series, or has he an excuse of several games scheduled ahead? Now I think the Cubs have a pretty good bunch of ball players, especially their catcher and shortstop and left fielder. But their umpires, oh what a pain.

"You made the statement that the Northsiders beat Acme the other day 1 to 0. You'd better change that score in favor of Acme, Mr. Fred, or you will have some of those Acme boys jumping all over you. That score was brought in when the bases were loaded and one of Acme's batters was hit by a pitched ball.

"Well anyway rah rah for the Spudders. They are playing ball in great style now and I hope they keep the bell ringing as they did last night.

"I say let's have night baseball in Wichita Falls so that us working people out here in the wide open spaces may have a chance to come and see those Spudders strut their stuff. And if Wichita Falls will put in arc lights I believe they will see a big attendance from up in this part of the country. Come on, Spudder fans, talk it up and let's help the Rambler put night baseball in Wichita Falls so we can see some action."

We beg Acme's pardon for getting the score balled up, and congratulate Mr. Jolley on his Spudder spirit.

Empire Nine Beats Noble-Little, 12-3

The Empire Pape company nine of the Wichita Amateur league plastered a 12 to 3 defeat on the Noble-Little Hardware team of the Commercial league in a practice encounter Wednesday afternoon on the York street diamond. Benton, Empire second baseman, rapped a triple and a single to lead the victors' attack, while Mann, Noble-Little catcher, also got a triple and a single.

Morrow and Hightower did the mound work for the winners, with Boyd receiving. Smith and Mann worked for the losers.

'SCOOP' LEADS HITTING SPREE

Scharein Gets Three Blows, Including a Triple

Special to The Record News.

GALVESTON, June 10.—Wichita Falls battered Lefty Dumovich hard tonight to take the second game of the series from the Buccaneers, 8-1. Carroll relieved Dumovich in the ninth with two on base and one out, and retired the next two batters. The Spudders got 13 hits, Scharein leading with three including a triple.

Steengrafe held the Bucs to seven hits, permitting them one run in the eighth on Molesworth's double and Dumovich's single.

Scoop's Triple Scores First

Scharein's triple in the second bringing home Gullic, who had got a base on balls, scored the first run for Wichita Falls. Dumovich had taken them down in order in the first, and Galveston at their turn had collected a hit on Ballew's single, but Bell hit into a double play and brought Wichita Falls to bat again. Gullic walked and went to second on Euller's sacrifice. Fuss struck out but Scharein tripled for the Spud's first hit, bringing Gullic home. Hungling flied out.

Stuvengen got a single for the Bucs after Muellen had had an infield out, but Speer hit into a double play that retired the Galveston gang.

In the third the Spuds went down in order and Dumovich had fanned his third man with the stick on the shoulder. Borreani for the Bucs swatted out a double to left field after Molesworth had struck out. Dumovich fanned and Wilson went out on a bit of pretty fielding by Steengrafe.

Gullic Hits Triple

The Spuds became vicious in the fourth and collected four hits for two runs. Stanton doubled to left as the ball was muffed by Bell. Gullic followed with a triple that scored Stanton. Euller was out but Fuss singled, scoring Gullic. On the next play Fuss was caught at second and Scharein stepped up to single. Scharein in turn was caught at second.

Hungling pepped up the fifth with a double and went to third on Steengrafe's sacrifice. Garms and Allday were infield outs.

Molesworth singled for the Bucs but a strikeout and an infield out retired Del Pratt's lads.

In the sixth Stanton and Euller singled Stanton scored with surplus time after Fuss' long fly to center. Euller died on base.

In their half of the sixth the Bucs went out one, two, three.

Double Steal Staged

In the seventh Molesworth picked up a lively grounder and threw Gullic out. Euller placed one against the left field fence and tripled, Bell bumped the boards trying to make the catch. Fuss knocked a short one and went to second on a fielder's choice while Euller was caught at home. Scharein singled. Fuss came home and Scharein went to second on a double steal. Hungling was out, second to first. Molesworth doubled to left field fence. Borreani went out second to first. Molesworth raced in for the Bucs first score when Dumovich singled to right. Wilson hit into a double play.

Steengrafe flied out to Wilson, but Garms was safe at first on a bit of slow fielding by Ballew on a creepy ball. Allday walked and Garms was on second. Stanton walked, filling the bases. Gullic hit through short scoring Garms and Allday. Carroll went in for Dumovich. Euller popped to short and fuss was out on a roll to Carroll.

ST. LOUIS, June 10. (AP)—Pounding three pitchers for 19 hits, the Boston Braves handed the champion Cardinals one of their worst defeats of the season here this afternoon, 13-4. Two big innings, the fifth and sixth, in which nine runs were scored, gave Boston the victory after Chick Hafey of the Cardinals gave the champions a 3-1 lead in the third with his home run, his second in two days. Berger also hit for the circuit for the Braves in the fifth.

Old Tom Zachary was credited with the victory. Score:

Elsie Corlett Wins British Women's Title

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, June 10. (AP)—The ladies' golf championship, the only one of Great Britain's major golf title never won by an American, was made safe for the king's subjects again today as Elsie Corlett, former Lancashire champion, eliminated Miss Maureen Orcutt in the third round of play.

The tradition that a champion seldom repeats also was kept safe as Miss Fishwick, the little English girl who handed Glenna Collett, champion of the United States, a surprising defeat in the finals last year, fell before the fine stroking of Miss D. Pimm, one up in the 19 holes.

Miss Orcutt, holder of several titles in the United States, proved no match for the determined Miss Corlett, who took a four to three victory.

SPUDDERS SELL HERB BRYANT

Catcher Bargained Off to Quincy, Ill., Club

Sale of Catcher Herbert Bryant to Quincy, Ill., of the Three-Eye league, was announced Wednesday by Spudder President William E. Huff.

Bryant, placed on the suspended list earlier in the week, had returned to Wichita Falls when the sale was put over, and expected to leave for Quincy immediately.

Bryant's release followed the acquisition by the Spudders of Bud Hungling, veteran catcher, from Milwaukee of the American association. Hungling joined the team at Fort Worth Monday.

With Bryant off the roster, the Spudders now have three men on the catching staff, Hungling, Bradbury and Bochey Koch. The five-day leeway allowed on newcomers expired for Koch this week and he is now on the official roster of the club. Hungling is now functioning under the "five-day plan" and when this period expires Koch will be farmed out to some club on option of recall, it was indicated Wednesday. This would bring the club back to the player limit of 18 men.

The Quincy club to which Bryant was sold is in a class B league, and is managed by Walter Holke, under whom Bryant played last year when Holke was manager of the Wilkes-Barre club of the New York Pennsylvania league. Bryant's inability to hit led to his release by the Spudders. Defensively, he was capable, and had many loyal supporters in Wichita Falls.

Denvers Whip Loafers; Vincent Acts as Ump

Story Freddie Vincent, Spudder fast-ball ace who is recuperating from an appendicities operation, acted as umpire Wednesday afternoon when the Denver Shop team defeated the Sibley Street Loafers, 8 to 7, on the Eighteenth and Holliday street diamond. Plisko and Warren made up the Denver battery, while Crowman and Presley worked for the Loafers.

Vincent has been working out at Athletic park the last few weeks, and expects to be able to rejoin the Williamsmen soon.

MEADOWMERE COUNTRY Club, Fort Worth, June 10.—Contenders in the men's singles of the third annual Texas District Lawn Tennis association state championship tournament concluded their second round matches today and unreeled a few matches in third rounds. Wet courts held up the matches until late afternoon.

Wilmer Allison, third ranking player of the United States Lawn Tennis association and 1929 and 1930 member of the American Davis cup team, entered the quarter finals today with decisions over Johnny Maddox and "Doc" Barr, both of Dallas. Allison finished his match from yesterday against Maddox with a 6-1, 6-1 verdict. Barr gave the third ranking ace plenty of trouble with a driving game.

Earl Taylor, University of Texas product, advanced to the third round in a late afternoon match by defeating Allen Gwynn of Fort Worth, 6-1, 6-2.

Jimmy Quick, brilliant champion from the Dallas Lawn Tennis club, beat Alan Key in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

Louis Thalheimer defeated Neil Thomason 6-2, 9-7.

Competition started today in the girls' singles, and all favorites breezed through. Mary Zita McHale, Dallas, former champion, was seeded No. 1. May Cuerverst of Wichita, Kan., was seeded No. 2 and both drew byes. Anna Mae Reichert from San Antonio, 1930 Texas municipal champion, triumphed n her first match with a 6-2, 6-0 decision over Agnes Tillman of San Antonio. Charlotte McQuiston, former Texas interscholastic league singles champion from Dallas, defeated Mary O'Brian of San Antonio, 6-2, 6-0.

Providing the weather is favorable, tomorrow will be the biggest day of play in the tournament with men's third round singles, men's doubles, girls' singles and doubles and play in the junior divisions.

British-Born Ace Wins French Open

DEAUVILLE, France, June 10. (AP)—As a fitting climax to a morning of thrilling golf in which the recently made record of 71 for the Deauville course was broken four times and tied once, Aubrey Boomer, British-born professional from St. Cloud, turned in a sparkling round of 67 this afternoon, to win the French open championship with a 72-hole total of 291. He equalled the mark set in the morning by the Argentine ace, Thomas Genta.

Genta, who appeared to have the title clinched at the 54th hole, weakened badly on the final 18 holes, taking 78 strokes, 11 more than his morning round, to finish with a total of 298, tying Percy Arliss for second place.

Joe Kirkwood, the only entry from the United States, took an 80 for the last round and finished in a tie with Churio for seventh place at 298.

Barnes Advances In Tri-State Meet

CINCINNATI, June 10. (AP)—Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas, today advanced to the quarter finals in the singles division of the tri-state tennis tournament. Five other men reached the same round yesterday. Barnes defeated Frank Kronague, Dayton star, 6-3, 6-2.

Other quarter finalists are Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, seeded No. 1; George Jennings, Chicago, Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J.

In another match Paul Kunkle, Cincinnati, won from Martin Buxby, Austin, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

PANHANDLERS OPEN ON JUNE 19

League's Managers Postpone Opening Games

AMARILLO, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Managers, club owners and others interested in the Panhandle Baseball league decided here today to postpone opening of the schedule until June 19.

A hitch in the plans which called for June 12 as the opening day in the four-club circuit came when the Clovis backers reported they could not yet put up the $1,000 forfeit as required by league rules.

A wire from J. Alvin Gardner, president of the new loop and head of the Texas league, gave the clubs one more week in which to get ready.

Gardner was scheduled to meet with managers today to make final arrangements, but sent Milton Price, Texas and Panhandle leagues secretary, to take his place at the meeting.

Lubbock, Pampa and Amarillo are waiting for Clovis to put up its forfeit before going forward with installation of lights for night play. The circuit will play all games at night, according to present plans.

Moreland Cops Medalist Honor

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP)—Carding a 36, one under par, on the last nine after touring the front layout in 38, two over, Gus Moreland, the 19-year-old Dallas star and defending champion, captured the medalist honors of the 30th annual Rivercrest Country club tournament today. M. L. "Hap" Massingill, River Crest, won second place when he posted a 75 late in the afternoon. He missed a put on the 18th for a tie with Moreland.

Byron Nelson, Glen Garden, Al Barbee, Waco, and Dennis Lavender, Abilene, tied for third place with 76. It took an 82 or better to make the championship flight.

Moreland achieved the victory over a brilliant field of 144 of the best golfers in the section. A stiff wind that blew across the course until late in the afternoon, played havoc with many scores and the cards were especially high during the morning.

Lavender, who has had difficulty all this year on the links, staged a great comeback today, scoring 38s on both nines. Jack Johnson, Dallas, staged the greatest rally of the afternoon to mark up the third best score.

One of the biggest surprises of the qualifying round was the failure of Charlie Qualls, Post, West Texas Golf association champion, to make the flight. He had trouble getting on the green in the high wind and wound up with a 92.

Gibson Payne, Lubbock, played excellent golf to come in with a 78, and Mansel Merriman, Amarillo, posted the same figure. W. C. Stripling Jr., River Crest, played steadily and after a great first nine, came in with a 79.

Houston Named Host City for Trapshooters

GALVESTON, June 10. (AP)—Houston was selected as host city for the 1932 state trapshoot, at a meeting today of the Texas State Sportsmen's association. Three Houston men were elected officers for the ensuing year: W. R. Henninger, president; D. E. Rogers, vice president; and C. W. Wolke, secretary-treasurer.

Puttin' on the "Dog"

LOS ANGELES.—A year ago Los Angeles sat up and took notice of Pierce S. Hallick, then a waiter, when he announced that his father had died and willed him $2,000,000. The city is again noticing Hallick, but this time in a different light. When Elene Aristi, film actress, brought a $250,000 suit against him for breach of promise, he said the story of his fortune was a hoax.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—Although early advances in cotton were not fully maintained today offerings were absorbed by continued trade buying and covering on the recession, and prices held above yesterday's closing quotations.

The final tone of the market was barely steady at net advances of 15-18 points. A firmer turn in the stock market stimulated the buying, while there was some bullish comment on reports on increased insect infestation in some portions of the belt.

There was no general criticism of weather conditions but there were some further complaints of cool nights and reports of increasing insect infestation in Southern Texas, as well as in parts of the eastern belt.

Liverpool cables said that liquidation had been absorbed by covering, trade calling and continental buying in that market but said business in cotton cloths was restricted by fear of lower prices. Exports today 7,928 making 6,479,432 so far this season.

Futures closed barely steady, 15 to 18 points higher; spot steady, middling 8.45.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 10. (AP)—While trading was not very active in the cotton market here today, prices experienced a sharp rally owing to good cables and an advance in stocks.

Prices closed steady showing net gains for the day of 19 points on all months traded in.

Liverpool cables came in six to seven penny points better than due and private cables stated that there was much liquidation of cotton against which there was trade calling and buying by the continent and Bombay. Manchester cabled that business in cloths and yarns was restricted by fears of lower prices.

July closed at 8.41, October at 8.77 and December at 8.99 or 19 points net higher for the day on thre three active months.

Port receipts 1,428; for week 9,655; for season 8,769,195; last season 8,620,068. Exports 7,928; for week 28,010; for season 6,238,957; last season 6,377,071. Port stocks 3,180,370; last year 1,721,462. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 60,171; last year 49,242. Spot sales at southern markets 2,293; last year 1,349.

Futures closed steady at a net advance of 19 points.

Stock Market Reaches New Highs In Surprising Display of Strength

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 10. (US)—The stock market today attained the highest price levels of the current recovery which was inaugurated just a week ago with an abrupt turnabout. Several times during today's session the market seemed to waver only to receive renewed impetus which finally closed quotations virtually at the top.

The inspiration for the continued strength obviously was found primarily in technical considerations, the very action of the market of late having won for it an increasing number of active friends. Its firmness in the face of the usual allotment of adverse news suggests either that the market has been temporarily, at least, oversold or that developments now coming to light have been fully anticipated. The latter was certainly true of the announcement that U. S. Steel corporation's unfilled orders had dropped 277,000 tons during May, bringing the total to the lowest since last August.

Volume of trading, still under 2,000,000 shares, plainly disclosed the speculative character of the market.

Forecasts here that New York Central probably would retain its $6 dividend basis, whereas there had been general expectation of a lower rate, was confirmed in the directors' action announced early in the session. The news, coming as a pleasant surprise, influenced considerable short covering and also encouraged resumption of aggressive operations for the advance. Central closed up four points on the day.

Obviously, the Central dividend can hardly be considered secure under prevailing circumstances, but the directors' willingness to await another three months for reconsideration emphasizes the greater faith of railroad managements in their ability either to win the proposed rate increase or to curtail expenses through wage reductions.

The railroad executives meet again tomorrow to complete their preparations for applying to the Interstate Commerce commission for the higher rates.

Strength dominated all groups, the outstanding exception being Alaska-Juneau, the gold mining speculation whose sharp rise was ascribed here to the aggressive sponsorship of the leader of the bear forces. That such speculative ventures frequently end in sudden collapse again found confirmation in the stock's break of more than 20 per cent.

Many explanations were advanced for this weakness, the first distress suffered by the stock since it commenced its long run-up from a few dollars a share. One story was to the effect that a strong bull group had engineered the selling in order to unsettle the bear handling Juneau. This bear has never retreated from his short positions in various stocks, including Westinghouse, Case Threshing and others. One of the most frequently broadcast stories concerned a wager made by this bear, that his Juneau pet would cross in price Case Threshing, before the year ended.

The leading stocks maintained a decidedly firm tone, with steel common advancing 2⅜ points in face of the weekly trade reviews detailing further slowing down in orders from the auto industry. American Can, now being utilized apparently as one of the leaders of the bull movement, gained 3⅝ points. General Motors joined the general improvement despite the inferences of the Iron Age. Woolworth moved to a new high on further details of the British subsidiary's financing.

The most impressive action, however, was furnished by the public utility section of the market, under leadership of United corporation. The entire group moved upward, with substantial gains by various of the lading members of the group. Consolidated Gas closed three points higher and corresponding net improvement was scored in other utilities.

The volume of trading in United corporation very plainly suggested a good deal of speculative activity, since the highest-type buying rarely occurs during periods of exciting price fluctuations. Nevertheless, the buying of this stock was rather impressive. It has recently displayed signs of large-scale demand on reactions.

The utilities have been attracting rather sizeable short-selling lately and presumably harbored extensive bear accounts which provided the base for aggressive bull activities.

U. S. Rubber shares were little changed, although 6½ per cent bonds of the company suffered declines ranging from 9 to 15 points. It was rumored, however, that various leading rubber manufacturers have been conferring for the purpose of eliminating profitless operations in the industry.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 10. (AP)—Some rain relief in Saskatchewan, Canada, where drouth effects have been worst, did much late today to bring reactions from wheat price upturns.

The market had been largely dominated earlier by indications that Canada would not produce 250,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, as compared with 398,000,000 in 1930.

United States government crop figures, placing domestic spring wheat condition at 67.9 against 85.2 a year ago, were also regarded as bullish.

Wheat closed irregular, ranging from ⅝c decline to 2⅜c advance, corn unchanged to ⅝c lower, oats ⅛@⅛c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

Corn and oats were governed chiefly by the action of wheat. Corn belt weather conditions were favorable. Shipping demand both for corn and oats showed improvement.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 56⅝@⅝c, 58⅝c; Sept. 56½@⅝c, 68½@⅝c; Dec. 59⅞@60c; 61⅜@⅛c. Corn—July 55@55⅛c, 56½@⅝c; Sept. 51⅜@⅜c; 52⅝c; Dec. 45⅝c, 46⅝c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, June 10. (US)—While the action of the wheat market today proved disappointing to the bulls, the bullish construction placed upon the spring wheat crop reports was obvious. Discomfiture of shorts was apparent.

From bearish houses came statements in number stressing the bearish features of the situation. Most of these are all features that have been known for some time. There were also the usual attempts to discredit the government figures, but as always the government figure is the one that stands as official, regardless of individual opinion.

Some went so far as to estimate that present favorable weather should add another bushels per acre to the crop, or a total of 40,000,000 bushels, making a crop of 700,000,000 bushels "not yet an impossibility."

It might be pointed out in this connection that unfavorable developments are also possible. Rains at harvest time might impair the crop more than a bushel per acre, making a yield of 600,000,000 bushels not yet an impossibility.

Rail Commission Has Power to Enforce Proration, Says Parnell

Editor the Record News: Statements made by E. A. Landreth and Charles Roeser according to the press reports of Tuesday at a meeting in Dallas Monday, by oil operators of the state, criticising former Gov. Dan Moody for a veto of an appropriation to support what is commonly known as the pipe line bill, passed by the fifth called session of the 41st legislature, were somewhat in error and I am sure these gentlemen will stand correction. This measure did not carry any appropriation and very little money, if any, will be needed to execute the law. Governor Moody did veto an appropriation bill which would give the railroad commission all of the taxes collected under an act passed by the regular session of the 36th legislature, for the specific purpose of enforcing the rules and regulations of what is commonly known as the conservation act, the enforcement of which is placed under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

As a member of the house of the 36th legislature, I was one of the joint authors of the conservation act, and this bill carried a tax of one-fifth of one per cent gross receipts from oil for the purpose of administering this act. It was not intended as a revenue measure for the general fund and was not used for that purpose until 1925, when an amendment was offered in the regular session of the 39th legislature by Senator Fairchild of Lufkin, which provided a budget for the oil and gas division of the railroad commission and provided that all funds collected from this source over and above that provided in the budget should revert to the general fund and should not be available for expenditures required from time to time by the railroad commission for the administration of the conservation act. It was a member of the senate at that time and vigorously opposed the amendment offered by Senator Fairchild, giving as my reasons that in case of an emergency where new oil fields might be brought in, the railroad commission would be hampered for lack of funds and unable to administer efficiently the conservation act. The amendment was carried, however, and was signed by Miriam A. Ferguson, who was governor at that time. Since then they have continued to operate under the budget system and funds have been transferred from the oil and gas division of the railroad commission to the general fund, which rightly did not belong there. The 41st legislature did attempt to restore these funds to the railroad commission but the bill was vetoed by Governor Moody. We must bear in mind, however, that this was not a part of the pipe line bill and Governor Moody could in nowise be charged with signing the pipe line bill and then vetoing the appropriation to put it into force. As stated above the pipe line bill carried no appropriation.

If you will read section 4, article 6049A, Revised Civil Statutes, you will find that the railroad commission was directed by this act to put the pipe line law into effect which, so far as I have been able to learn, has not been done. Also section 10 of the same article provides that the attorney general of Texas or any person, or association of persons or corporation may institute proceedings before the railroad commission, requiring the enforcement of this act. Yet, so far as I know, none of the law has been complied with and its provisions are being violated daily by practically all of the pipe line companies in Texas. I represented a large group of independent producers in sponsoring this measure, and we believed at the time that the law, as passed, would serve not only as a conservation measure, but would also guarantee ratable and fair taking of oil from all of the pools in Texas. If Mr. Landreth and Mr. Roeser will study this law carefully they will find that it meets in a large measure all the requirements for proration and gives the railroad commission all the power necessary to enforce its provisions.

It seems to me a very pertinent question as to where this great overproduction of oil in East Texas is going and who is transporting it from the fields. According to their statements at Monday's meeting there is being produced approximately 396,000 barrels of oil per day from the East Texas fields. It is not reasonable to suppose that the railroads could transport more than 60,000 or 70,000 barrels per day of this oil, leaving more than 300,000 barrels that must be transported by pipe lines. A check of the fields would show that practically all the pipe lines are owned and operated by companies who claim they are in favor of proration and against violation of proration rules as applied to East Texas. If the pipe line law were enforced, all interested parties would be in a position to know who is really violating the proration rules and who is taking the oil frim the fields.

Those favoring proration, including the railroad commission and the attorney general, are seeking to enforce said proration under article 6014, which reads in part as follows:

"Neither natural gas nor crude petroleum shall be produced, transported, stored or used in such manner or under such conditions as to constitute waste; provided, however, this shall not be construed to mean economic waste."

On the other hand, they are apparently disregarding article 6049A which specifically places upon them the duty of its enforcement.

If those interested in the depressed oil condition in Texas will read and carefully study the two statutes above mentioned I think they will find it quite plain that the whole question has been inadequately presented to the public and that existing statutes, especially the pipe line law, if enforced would, to some extent at least, clarify the situation which exists at present.

J. D. PARNELL.

Phone Your Classified Ads to 4391

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want Ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classificiations are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

Midwest Livestock Men Plan Ad Drive

KANSAS CITY, June 10. (AP)—Midwest livestock exchanges are preparing to create a fund for the advertising of meat products through collection of 25 cents a car on receipts of hogs, cattle and sheep.

The plan calls for placing the money thus derived at the disposal of the national livestock and meat board of Chicago and contemplates participation of the Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha and Wichita Kan., exchanges.

Officials of the Kansas City exchange said the 25 cent charge would in effect be a contribution from the shipper toward the advertising fund, and would not be collected in case of protest.

Annual Insect Damage in America Placed at More Than Two Billion

Boll Weevil Is Most Expensive in Dollars, But Moths and Ants Try Many Tempers, Says Haskin

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, June 9.—More damage is done to property in the United States every year by insects than was done by the British redcoats in the entire seven years of the war of the American revolution. Two billion dollars is the estimate placed upon annual insect damage by the department of agriculture.

The federal government expends $2,500,000 a year in entomological research; that is, the study of insect pests and how to eradicate or control them. As much as $5,500,000 a year in addition is spent in eradication campaign. There is no estimate of the sums spent by private persons and by state and county governmens in the war against insects but it runs for into the millions.

Nevertheless, in spite of this heavy war chest, the insects come out victorious. They get their living off about everything on the face of the earth and the tale of their damage is $2,000,000,000 every twelvemonth.

6,000 Species Identified

The actual numbers of creatures arrayed against mankind and his property are beyond all calculation. No terms, not even astronomical ones, have been coined to represent the staggering totals in the insect armies. So far 6,000 separate species of devouring pests have been identified but more varieties are being found right along and there are millions of each sort. The stars in the sky, the sands of the strand, and the drops of water in the sea are the only approximate comparisons.

Variations of disposition, appetite, or equipment govern the extent of damage done by each of the 6,000 species. The insect pest survey of the department of agriculture, narrows the worst offenders down to only 36, according to Chief J. A. Hyslop. This small group do about two-thirds of the entire damage.

The greatest destroyer of property values is a cotton boll weevil. This enemy which has been at work for generations accounts for the loss of some $163,000,000 worth of cotton every year. This is an average figure as the price of cotton fluctuates from year to year. The federal government, local governments, and the planters themselves have organized a strong defensive army against this pest but only a slight measure of control is ever attained.

Boll Weevil Battle

The department of agriculture maintains at Tallulah, La., a laboratory for the special study of the weevil and each spring the pickets on duty there sound a warning for the battle. Annually a bulletin is flashed by telegraph all over the country reporting the boll weevil emergence. Data are gathered from the entire cotton belt concerning the first appearance of the weevil, numbers, geographical distribution, and all other observations.

This information sets many wheels in motion. On the strength of this report, the price of cotton futures goes up or down on the cotton exchanges not only in the United States but in Liverpool—in fact all over the world. Fortunes are made and lost on the day the advance outposts at Tallulah flash their bulletin, for on the strength of the weevil forces depends to a considerable extent the cotton harvest.

With all the money expended by the governmental agencies and the planters—many millions a year—nature can, at a stroke, undo all their work in a night. A heavy frost, penetrating far enough beneath the surface to destroy the hibernating nests, will cut down the emergence measurably and set the line of infestation many miles back to the southward.

Not always is it known definitely whence insect pests come but most of them are the result of those foreign entanglements against which George Washington warned the people fairly early. The second most disastrous pest is the pink bollworm, an invader from Mexico. While damaging to cotton, this insect also does more than $75,000,000 worth of harm to corn. Its toll is at least $100,000,000 a year for cotton, corn, and tomatoes.

Various insects attack the forests of the nation, causing a damage estimated at $138,000,000. The spruce bud worm is the most costly enemy, its depredations being placed at $71,000,000 a year.

Fairly accurate estimates were made on the damage by insects to pulpwood in the decade 1910-1920. It was fixed at 250,000,000 cords or enough to meet the nation's supply for 25 years.

Animal Kingdom Not Spared

The insects which prey on wood are of many varieties, some attacking the living trees in various stages of development while others bore into cut timber. Close to $30,000,000 a year is the damage done to wooden buildings by termites or white ants. They bore into sills near the ground and work up and through the entire house, attacking even the furniture. Fence posts, railway crossties, and any other wood they can reach are subject to their hunger. One per cent of the depreciation of wooden buildings every year is chargeable to termites, the department of agriculture says.

The Japanese beetle is another foreign invader which does damage running into the millions every year while the gypsy moth and Mediterranean fruit fly are bitter enemies.

In the livestock field, more damage is attributable to insect pests. A loss of $30,000,000 a year to the beef industry is caused by cattle grubs and twice that sum to the dairy industry. The damage to hides is another $5,000,000.

A long catalog of insects includes those which devour stored foods, primarily grain. The damage to fruits of all kinds, both in the growing stage and after harvesting, is incalculable.

Then there is the intangible loss of effort, temper, and the like owing to the nuisance of flies, mosquitoes, picnic ants, cockroaches, and such cattle. The economic loss due to disease spread by insects is beyond calculation.

The most rigid quarantines are maintained to prevent entry into the country of more foreign pests and to prevent interstate movement within the country. Careful inspections are required to forestall the introduction into any clean territory of possibly infected carriers from infested regions.

Additional estimates—running into figures scarcely capable of adequate checking—of damage done to fabrics by moths can be obtained from any housewife who discovers what has happened to her best bib and tucker after an invasion of moths. The national debt would appear to be slight in comparison.

KINSMAN HELD AFTER SLAYING

Longview Man Killed in 'Accident'

LONGVIEW, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Ethen Farley, 32, was shot and accidentally killed last night at the home of his brother-in-law, J. A. McVay, 31, filling station operator, and McVay was held today pending an investigation of the shooting.

Officers learned that the two men were armed and guarding the McVay home against an expected assault from a third man, who was sought by officers on a charge of shooting with intent to kill McVay and his wife less than two weeks ago.

McVay and Farley were on good terms and were working and living together while getting a new filling station in operation.

McVay reported that at 11 p. m. last night, he was dozing to sleep when he suddenly was aroused and saw the figure of a man in the doorway. He said he fired, thinking it was the third man, against whom he and Farley were guarding. Farley was shot in the back of the head and died instantly.

Elk City Manager Takes Oklahoma State Post

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—John J. Hasler, city manager of Elk City, will become gas and electric engineer for the state corporation commission June 15, Paul Walker, chairman, said today.

He succeeds R. H. Lussky, who has been in the department several years, who has resigned to accept private employment. Lussky's resignation is effective July 1.

Hassler is a graduate of the Oklahoma A. & M. college.

GRAIN PRIZES STIR INTEREST

Four Counties Sure They Have Best Crops

Exhibits of the best grain grown in Clay, Knox, Archer and Baylor counties is expected to be shown at the harvest festival to be held in Wichita Falls, June 18-20.

W. E. Jones, county agent of Knox county, states that they have a wonderful grain crop and that he will endeavor to send in an exhibit that will win the prize money.

V. O. McCoy, who is county agent in Clay county, which will produce not less than 1,600,000 bushels of small grain this spring, says Clay county has any county in Texas beat when it comes to wheat, oats, rye and barley. He plans to get several communities in Clay county to exhibit at the harvest festival.

"Archer county may not produce as much wheat as some counties but what it lacks in quantity will be made up in quality, says G. R. McNeil, county farm agent. "Down in Archer county we are not so thickly settled but we have some good farmers who know how to grow wheat, rye, barley and oats. Just watch us win the prize money," said Agent McNeil.

"You can go anywhere in Texas or Oklahoma and you will not see better grain than has been grown in Baylor county this spring," said P. O. Colgin, county agent of Baylor county. "We want to win the prizes at the grain festival and I feel certain that we can do it without much effort. Baylor county has the land that grows the best of anything that grows."

M. B. Oates, agricultural agent for the Denver road and Valley lines, believes that the farmers should send in exhibits as it will be the means of creating greater interest in grain growing, and the planting of better quality seed wheat next fall.

Youth Runs Stop Sign; Police Nab Him in Theft

Running a stop sign in front of the police station resulted in a young man being held in jail here Wednesday in connection with the theft of a motorcycle at Shreveport, La.

Passing the stop sign on his motorcycle the rider was arrested by Earle Brooks and was detained while an investigation was made. Information was received Wednesday from H. C. Semansky, Shreveport chief of police, that the motorcycle was stolen there recently. The rider claimed that he bought the machine at Austin and had ridden it here.

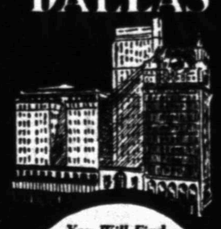

R. G. Fitzpatrick in Critical Condition

R. G. Fitzpatrick, retired superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway company, a former citizen of Wichita Falls and Childress, is seriously ill at St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Worth.

Two weeks ago while visiting in Dallas Mr. Fitzpatrick fell and broke his hip. He had been in failing health for several years and the accident lowered his strength. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick have been making their home in Dallas for the past few months. His wife is at his bedside.

Members of Junior Forum to Lead Sale of 'History of Wichita Falls'

Wichitans Asked to Purchase 800 Copies of First Edition of Book Telling of City's Development

Members of the Junior Forum are expected to form the sales force which will canvass the citizenship of this city next week with the purpose of placing at least 800 copies of Miss Jonnie Morgan's "History of Wichita Falls" with local people, according to Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, leader of the campaign.

Solicitation of Wichita Falls residents on behalf of the book recently brought off the press by Miss Morgan, teacher of history in Reagan Junior High school, was proposed to the Junior Forum membership Tuesday noon at the organization's summer luncheon. It was said that more than 10 of the young women volunteered immediately for the five-day campaign to open Monday, June 15. Additional members of the group are expected to offer their services before Friday, Mrs. Carrigan said. A total of 20 persons will form the canvassing committee, it was stated.

Volunteer Committee

Mrs. Carrigan heads a group of Wichita Falls pioneers who have been keenly interested in Miss Morgan's history of the city during the process of preparation, and who now form a self-appointed committee to provide the widest possible distribution of the book in this county.

"We are undertaking the task of putting this book into hundreds of Wichita Falls homes," said Mrs. Carrigan, "because it is a direct and potent contribution to the building of a community such as we wish ours to be. The citizen of Wichita Falls will be much more keenly interested in his city, its government, its economic problems and in its citizenship after reading this book. Miss Morgan's history is unique among socalled "city histories" in that it is authentic rather than being an eulogistic catalog of today's commercial, professional and industrial leaders; it is interestingly written, and is attractively bound. Ownership of this history will be considered a privilege by those who obtain copies."

Meeting Friday

A meeting of the Pioneers' committee is to be held at the chamber of commerce Friday morning, it was said, at which time final plans for the campaign next week will be perfected. Workers will be allowed to select the portion of the city in which they will work, respectively, and each will be provided with a limited number of names of persons upon whom they will be asked to call.

Miss Morgan has been at work on the history of her city for more than three years, and it was recently brought off the press in Oklahoma City. The first edition consists of 1,000 numbers, more than 200 of which already have been sold. The book is notable for its easily read type, the short paragraphs and helpful topic heads, profuse illustrations, and an attractive binding in brown imitation leather. It is being sold at $2.50 per copy.

Lack of Compensation Insurance Brings Fight

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (UP)—The attorney general will investigate charges that some mines in Pittsburg county are operating without compensation insurance to protect their workers.

J. Berry King, attorney general, today received a letter from Gov. W. H. Murray requesting the investigation. He said an assistant would be assigned soon.

The governor made the request after a committee of three miners called him. The miners told the governor some operators had not taken out industrial insurance and neither had they obtained a permit from the state industrial commission to underwrite their own injury claims to protect the workers.

20 Girls Compete for Auto Posted As Prize in Legion Ticket Sale

Twenty smiling girls of Wichita Falls are working with might and main to win a beautiful sport model automobile that is being given away by Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion to the one who sells the greatest number of admission tickets for the celebration to be sponsored by the post on the Fourth of July.

The young ladies went to work Tuesday afternoon, and Wednesday morning some were back at headquarters for more tickets. The entire city is to be closely canvassed and some of the girls plan to visit neighboring cities.

Not alone will the winner win an automobile but she will also be honored and crowned as "Miss Liberty." This event will be held during the pageant to be held in the evening of July 4 at Fair park. "Miss Liberty" will also be a guest of the dinner to be tendered visiting newspaper men.

The automobile that is to be awarded is now on exhibition at the Fox Chevrolet display room. It is one of the smartest cars manufactured, says Milt Gaines, general chairman of the legion's celebration committee.

Funds received will be used by Pat Carrigan post to send the drum and bugle corps to the state convention to be held in El Paso during August. The state organization has been invited to hold the 1932 convention in Wichita Falls.

Those who have entered the ticket selling contest are Daisy Combs, Mrs. Ewing Watkins, Maurine Leach, Mary Nekayah Maples, Lorene Burnett, Bridget Brown, Myrle Dunn, Jewel Reynolds, Dorothy Lee Taylor, Wilma Brown, Irene Scott, Edna Reddy, Armista Arnold, Lois Campbell, Mertice Dean, Mrs. Maurice Hudgens, Janelle Eichelberger, Mary Harrel, Katherine Byrd and Nellie Ruth Smith.

NEGRO'S SUIT OPENS

Trial of the suit of Herman Carr, negro, against the National Family Store for $7,500 damages opened before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court Wednesday afternoon.

The plaintiff asks actual damages of $2,500 and exemplary damages of $5,000 because an alleged business tranaction with the store was said to have resulted in his discharge by a local church which he had served as janitor. The petition sets out that goods purchased by the plaintiff's wife were secured by a salary order also signed by her and that when the salary order was presented to the plaintiff's employer, he was discharged.

STATE AIDS RURAL PUPILS

$2,952 Allowed for Tuition Charges

Allowances totalling $2,952 have been made by the state board of education to rural schools of Wichita county to aid in paying tuitions of pupils who must attend high school in districts other than those of their residence, according to information received Wednesday by J. A. Hood, county school superintendent, from Burl Bryant, chief supervisor of rural schools for the state.

Funds received from the state department of education at Austin are allotted according to the number of students in the district, and the number who must attend schools in other districts in order to find grades of their classifications, according to Mr. Hood. Apportionments announced by Mr. Hood, as listed in Mr. Bryant's letter, are as follows:

Deep Creek, $103; Pleasant Valley, $309; Sunshine, $512; Weeth, $67; Prairie Cottage, $230; Rocky Point $425; Enterprise, $438; County Line, $268; Barwise, $600.

Of the allotment to Barwise, $50 will be due the Enterprise district as will also $41.50 of the allotment to Sunshine. The remainder of the Sunshine allowance will go to Electra, which will also receive the tuition grants given County Line, Enterprise and Rocky Point for high school students. The sum allowed Deep Creek will be due the Iowa Park district, while the allowance to Pleasant Valley will be divided equally between the Iowa Park and Wichita Falls High schools.
