

13 Youths Elude Reds

By GEORGE ROULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP) — Bringing a baby with them, 13 young East Germans hijacked a 286-ton river excursion boat early today and escaped to freedom under a hail of machine-gun bullets.

East German police, firing from a watch tower, a pier, a bridge and a patrol boat, pumped over 200 bullets into the fleeing vessel. Nobody was hurt.

West Berlin police fired 19 shots back at the East Germans to check their fire. The boat, the Friedrich Wolf, was riddled and there were bullet marks on buildings on the West Berlin shore.

The escapees included eight men, all employees of East Berlin's "white fleet" of excursion boats, five women, and one couple's 5-month-old boy. The adults, all about 30 or under, told police they had been planning the escape for a week.

Thursday night the men in the group went aboard the Friedrich Wolf at her mooring beside the River Spree and began drinking with her captain and engineer. When the two were off guard, they jumped them and tied them up.

Under cover of darkness they spirited their women and the baby aboard. Then at dawn the men got the two-deck boat moving. They swung into the Spree and headed toward the center of Berlin, making for the point where the left bank of the river becomes the border between East and West Berlin.

Posts of Vopos — as the East German police are called — opened fire.

Racing the engines at their top speed of 10 knots, the men aboard the Friedrich Wolf suddenly swung left and rammed the boat into the entrance of the Landwehr Canal — Western territory.

The escapees, moving quickly in two and three's, sprang ashore. They flung themselves to the ground to escape the whipping bullets. When the West Berlin police fired, the Vopos checked their fire.

The whole thing was over in 20 minutes.

The boat's captain and engineer were allowed to get the boat under way and return to East Berlin.

Police disclosed the group made a similar unsuccessful attempt to escape a week ago. They sailed out of the excursion boats down the Spree, but at the moment they should have turned into the canal, their passage was blocked by a passing barge. So they had to turn around and go back to East Berlin.

Elfriede Kleint, a housewife, saw the escape from the window of her third floor apartment. She said that just after 5 a.m. she was awakened by gunfire. She ran to the window and she saw the boat in midstream.

"I saw it suddenly make a big turn and dash for the entrance to the Landwehr Canal," she said.

"The boat crashed into the embankment. There was an ear-splitting screech as the bow scraped a post."

"The boat blocked the canal. Bullets were whipping into it."

"I saw people jumping off the boat onto the canal bank. They came in twos and threes. They had to fling themselves down to avoid being hit by the bullets."

"Some of them crouched behind objects on the quayside. I could hear bursts of fire from machine-guns."

"One bullet smashed through my kitchen window and lodged in the cupboard."

The escapees themselves were not immediately available to tell their story to newsmen. West Berlin police were interrogating them.

PICK-UP OF TRASH SET SATURDAY

To culminate the past week's annual "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week," the sponsoring Snyder Jaycees—with the help of local Boy Scouts—will stage a pick-up of trash early tomorrow morning.

Max von Roeder, Jaycees project chairman, said that the city-wide pickup will be accomplished so as to be completed by approximately 9 a.m. He asked that as much of the trash as possible be placed in garbage cans, but that all "overflow" will be picked up, also.

Von Roeder added that anyone whose trash has not been picked up by 9 a.m. may call the Chamber of Commerce office (HJ 3-3331), and a truck will be sent out.

Boy Scouts assigned to help in the project are requested to gather on the courthouse square tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock. Russell Jones is in charge of the Scout of the operation.

Heavy Rain, Wind, Hail Rake Scurry, Borden County Areas

WIND DAMAGE AT LAKE THOMAS—Only one boat suffered minor damage as a freak wind demolished this boat house at Jinkins Grocery at Lake Thomas. High winds and large hail hit the area last night. Parts of the building were found as far away as the shoreline to the south and west.

Freak Wind Lashes Lake

Violent weather gave Scurry County a good cuffing last night. One tornado was confirmed by the Kent County Highway Patrol in the area between Camp Springs and Hobbs, Tex. at 6:25 p.m. A 20-mile drive in the Lake Thomas area scattered the boat house at Jinkins Grocery for hundreds of yards to the west and south.

Rainfall was general over the county with the heaviest amounts reported in the northwest section. Reports of over five inches just across the Scurry line in Borden County were received, and four and one-half inches were measured by Bob Jordan three miles north of Fluvanna.

About three and one-half inches were measured at Lake Thomas, along with hail which was described as irregular shaped chunks of ice about the size of baseballs. Jinkins Grocery described a cloud which crossed the area during the storm as "homicidal" like a big black ball. The cloud was described as black and round, not funnel shaped, but dipping to earth and rising much in the manner of a funnel cloud.

Jamie Miers, employee of the Snyder Daily News, was en route from Snyder to Hobbs yesterday evening when the rain became so hard she could no longer see the road well enough to drive. She stopped her car heading east. Then a high wind struck the car, whirled it around and left it pointing west. About that time Miers "saw a calf being blown across the road. Where that calf came from I don't know," she said.

About two inches of rain fell in the storm in that area. Two inches was also reported in the Polar and Hermleigh areas.

Highway department crews were busy clearing mud from the highways west of Ira. Silt over a foot deep covered some spots in the road. Water was standing in every field and was still on the road in spots this morning.

Considerable hail damage appeared to have been suffered by the cotton in that area.

Official rainfall in Snyder was 1.21 last night to make a two-day total of 2.53 inches. This is 36 inches more than had been received in the first five months of the year.

Dermott reported three inches last night for a two-day total of four and one-half inches. The Lubbock highway was closed for a time last night as high water covered the road. Some 40 to 50 cars were delayed by the water.

Rainfall at Dunn was measured at 2.5 inches; 2.9 at Knapp, 3.4 at Fullerville.

Forecasters for the West Texas area were little changed from yesterday and the day before, calling for thundershowers but slightly cooler weather.

Heavy crop losses were reported in several parts of the Panhandle and Plains. There was no word of any injuries.

Twisters struck 11 miles southeast of Silverton southeast of Lubbock in Kent County and in the Lake Thomas vicinity near Snyder.

Near Silverton a vacant, two-room house and several small buildings disappeared in the tornado. The water battered a larger house on the Gordon Monaghan ranch, from which a Negro family fled as the "funnel" cloud drew nigh.

Giant hailstones riddled many farm buildings outside the area "like somebody rained a big flat through them," Jerrill said. After a 30-mile drive in the same vicinity, Joe Mercer of Silverton reported wheat and cotton crops were wiped out between Floydada and Silverton. Some rural roads were impassable.

Hail stones as big as peaches hammered fields 20 miles northwest of Tulsa and smashed windows in the Vito community, where cotton and wheat also suffered heavily.

At Wichita Falls, wind hitting 60 miles per hour in gusts damaged seven house trailers and broke hundreds of trees as rain fell in torrents. For a time water filled Wichita Falls streets from curb to curb.

At Sweetwater in West Central Texas, two hard rains 24 hours apart brought 2.4 inches of rain by daylight. There was light hail but no damage during the brilliant electrical storms.

Heavy downpours soaked a super of other points from Abilene eastward past Fort Worth and Dallas, extending as far south as Waco.

Laos Princes Call Recess

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma said today the three princes summit conference has decided to adjourn its sessions until Monday to give its members time to reflect on the formation of a coalition government.

Emerging red-faced from a half-hour afternoon meeting with his half-brother, Prince Souvanna Phouma, and pro-Western Premier Prince Boum Oun, Souvanna told reporters: "Guns are too close to the situation to postpone the meeting until Monday and each party has considerable time for reflection."

He added that he hoped today's meeting will be the last one before he announces a re-formation of a coalition Cabinet.

Boum Oun and his half-brother, which includes strong men Gen. Phoum Nosavan, flow beat a Vietnamese and will return to Laos Monday.

New York Ends Year Without Execution

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — For the first time since the end of World War II, New York state has completed a full year without an execution for a capital offense.

A state commission is studying capital punishment as part of a survey of the state's criminal law, said a spokesman for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller rejected Thursday the idea that the governor unofficially might have suspended the death penalty, pending recommendations of the commission.

The spokesman said the hiatus was the result of delays that had been caused by many legal steps in appeals to 60 state and federal courts by persons under death sentence.

Ralph Says Estes Sent Money Orders

WASHINGTON (AP)—James T. Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture, testified today he received two $100 money orders from Billie Sol Estes last January and his assistant, William E. Morris, got two more—a total of $400.

On the heels of this testimony, Robert E. Manuel, dismissed Republican counsel to the House subcommittee investigating the Estes case, charged that numerous others also received such money orders including some members of Congress and at least one very high-ranking administration official.

Manuel said that Morris has a list of those who received the money orders.

Manuel, fired by the subcommittee Thursday for giving a confidential Agriculture Department report to a newspaper reporter, came out fighting today.

He issued a statement that the subcommittee's investigation "is being distorted—and the truth suppressed" and then held what amounted to a news conference to comment on the day's hearings.

One of his assertions in his statement was that an Agriculture Department employee had told him Estes tried to pressure him by invoking the names of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, but that Johnson's name

Wilson, Judge Disagree On Interpretation Of Report

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said today "There that is no doubt in my mind that Henry H. Marshall aided Billie Sol Estes in his operations."

Marshall, a federal Agriculture Department official who was found shot five times at Franklin June 3, 1961, had been looking into the Estes cotton allotment dealings of Estes.

Wilson said he based his conclusion on a "confidential" U.S. Department of Agriculture report which he got from a newsmen.

"The evidence is conflicting on the contracts," Wilson said, "but I think the report shows that Marshall worked with Estes on this."

nished with contracts that were a subterfuge," Wilson said.

"This comes down to a definition of the side agreement," Wilson said. "Marshall was instructed by higher ups that there could be no side agreement. Estes and his attorneys then made the contract look like it was direct, but the side agreement was still present if you read the complete agreement. Estes and his attorney then made the contract look like it was direct, but the side agreement was still present if you read the complete agreement."

Wilson said Marshall told the Reeves County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee that a federal form, was bona fide if it contained no side agreement.

Marshall told them they did not have to look at the complete agreement and on this basis the committee approved a number of Estes deals, Wilson said.

Dist. Judge John Barron of Bryan, who convened a grand jury to look into the official ruling of suicide in the Marshall death, said he disagreed, "completely," with Wilson.

Barron said of Wilson's statement: "I don't see how he (Wilson) can come to this conclusion. I have the same information he does, and there is no inference whatsoever to show misconduct on Marshall's part. I would draw the opposite conclusion as Wilson."

Barron was given the same report to turn over to the Robert Lee County grand jury.

"I thoroughly disagree with such opinion," Barron said. "In fact, Wilson's statement is a lie of people in Hunt County and other places that such a transfer of the allotment was illegal. I just don't see how he can come to this conclusion."

DEBRIS IN DEEP CREEK—City employees were kept busy this morning keeping the "whistler" type culverts under the low-water bridge on Twenty-eighth Street open. Two of the five six-foot tunnels were blocked at the time this picture was taken, and water on the upstream side was nearly three feet above the downstream side. Water had not crossed the bridge at noon, but City Engineer Bill Kinney said any more showers on the Deep Creek watershed would certainly send water over the bridge.

New Soviet Warning Issued On Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union warned the Western powers today it will not permit West Berlin to continue as a base for what it called "revengist and militaristic circles."

A note to Britain, France and the United States threatened that "The Soviet Union will not hold the position of a victimized and oppressed, and in case of necessity, may be compelled to take the necessary measures to fulfill its commitments to the (East) German Democratic Republic, which is an ally of the Soviet Union."

THIS PICNIC ket cake is a conversation piece for your outing, be it backyard or far away. First, apply generous coating of white butter cream frosting to cover entire top and sides of your favorite store bought or homemade, six or eight-inch cake. Make a smooth mound of excess frosting on top, gently sloping to cake sides. Put star tip on tube of yellow icing and form vertical lines all the way around the cake sides at one inch intervals. Using same tip, apply pink icing across each vertical line alternating each line to create basket weave effect, as shown. Using petal and leaf tips with green and red form flowers and leaves of your choice to fill cake top or substitute fresh fruit. For added charm, make basket handle from aluminum foil 18" long. Roll enough foil in handle to support ribbon bow of your choice. Curve handle as desired and attach to cake sides. Your only problem — it looks too good to eat!

Women Dig Into Lawns

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Some womenfolk have inherited those Saturday duties that formerly were earmarked for menfolk. But now, in the "heartsaving" era, golfers, fishermen, campers and beachcombers are strenuously following doctor's orders to relax as Spring unfolds.

Women will go for the yard work on condition that there's no back talk. For once we'll have a rhododendron bush where it will do a job a cherry tree where it can be seen, and a hedge where it is needed.

Whereas a man chooses planting areas because "there aren't any rocks," or the "ground is soft," a woman considers the outdoors a frame for her house, worth the effort it takes to build it just right. She'll plant a bush to flatter an area no matter how long it takes, and she'll place it as carefully as she would fasten a posy to a hat to improve it.

What's more, she'll take advice from experts.

"Tender loving care" in planting trees goes a long way toward producing healthy vigorous plants, says landscape specialist W. R. Nelson Jr. of the University of Illinois. "And attractiveness is the main purpose of planting shrubs around the house," he says. Shrubs should have enough variety to give interest and not detract from the house.

If the house is symmetrical with windows and architectural arrangements the same on both sides of the house, make the plantings the same. If the design is asymmetrical, use an informal balance, utilizing a variety of plant heights and groupings near corners and entrances, he advises.

An extremely long house with an attractive foundation doesn't require plantings the entire length of the foundation. Nelson suggests letting grass grow next to part of the foundation, making sure the strip of grass is wide enough to look appropriate and is in scale with other foundation plantings. High foundations are better screened with shrubs, though he says.

Tallest shrubs at corner plantings should be not more than two-thirds of the distance to the second story or to the eaves of one-story houses.

Plantings next to the front door should be one-third as tall as the distance from the ground to the second floor or eaves. For many ranch-style houses, plantings should be only one deep, Nelson says.

In multiple plantings, however, middle plants should be one-half as high as the tallest plants. Low plants should be one-fourth to one-third as high as middle plants says this expert.

Other Tips

1. Make sure trees and shrubs are right for your climate.

2. Dig the hole larger than the actual root spread of the plant. It will help the roots to spread in their normal pattern.

3. Use topsoil to refill the hole, using subsoil only if it is thoroughly mixed with some organic matter and complete fertilizer.

4. Do not get manure or leaves in the hole where it can contact the roots.

5. When filling the hole, pack soil around the roots to eliminate air pockets. Use a spade handle, a blunt object or your foot. After the hole is three-fourths full, fill it with water to ground level.

6. Fill the rest of the hole with loose soil after water has soaked in, leaving soil level a little below ground surface.

7. Plant balled and burlapped plants in the same way as bare-root plants. Leave burlap on to keep the ball together, unless nursery men advise removing burlap.

When planting bare-root material, remove about half of the top branches to compensate for root loss when plant was dug up.

9. Water new trees and shrubs thoroughly, soaking soil to root area about once a week.

More Work for Women

Lawn rejuvenation can be a breeze for the ladies, also. Pushing a lawn roller can be a mere romp for women who are used to pushing furniture around. And if anybody can destroy interlopers such as grubs, weeds, crabgrass, it's the female of the human species.

Nelson suggests rolling the lawn with about 100 pounds of weight for each foot of roller width. Pushing a lawn roller when the soil is wet as the compaction that occurs will hinder root development and moisture penetration.

A good rule of thumb for applying pre-emergence chemicals to crowd out crabgrass is to apply it before the lilacs start to bloom, he says. DSMA (disodium methyl arsenate) and AMA (amine methyl arsenate) are suggested. Aldrin or chlordane will control grubs on established sod.

Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen — thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician score amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production. Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

We are staffed and equipped to fill your doctor's prescriptions promptly at prices that are fair.

Intellectual Concept Not Sufficient

CHICAGO (AP)—It is a strange quirk that the great madmen of history all have had some form of religion, evangelist Billy Graham said Thursday night.

Graham's ninth sermon of his current 19-day Chicago Crusade for Christ was heard by 15,000 persons—the smallest crowd of the crusade. The largest audience was 44,000 last Sunday. Graham devoted much of his talk to the recently executed Adolf Eichmann, comparing the ex-Nazi with the infamous Biblical king, Manasseh.

"Probably in our day, the most wicked man you can think of is Adolf Eichmann, the man who planned and executed six million people. Eichmann was guilty of idolatry."

"Instead of God, Eichmann believed in the super race. He believed man was God and this was responsible for the degeneracy whereby he could murder six million people."

But, Graham said, Eichmann did have a certain belief in God. "He had an intellectual concept of God, which was not sufficient. It is a strange quirk that the great madmen of history all have had a form of religion."

"Stalin once studied for the priesthood. Nazi propagandist Joseph Goebbels went to Sunday school. And Manasseh, who did the most abominable things, even he turned to religion and God forgave him."

"God could have forgiven Eichmann too, if Eichmann had accepted Him."

Cardinal Proposes Protestant Observers

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing has proposed that Catholic professional groups open their conventions to non-Catholics.

The Boston prelate, Thursday night told the National Council of Catholic Nurses they should have invited Protestant nurses to the convalesce as observers.

"The whole lot of Catholic councils for professional people, youngsters, laymen and laywomen need to be modernized," he said. "We have no need for these organizations if it's going to mean only Catholics getting together. We don't want to live in a ghetto."

Cardinal Cushing predicted there will be Protestant observers at the Ecumenical Council in Rome next fall.

'Share-Time' School Plan Is Debated By Catholics

By MARY CAMPBELL, AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Should Roman Catholic schools, under the pressure of heavy enrollments and the controversy about state and federal aid, work toward "share time" partnership with public schools?

Two Catholic superintendents of schools debate the question in articles in the June issue of The Catholic Educator.

Witnesses Told God In Control

The time has come for the Almighty God to exert His power and take control of earth's affairs even as He has always controlled and always will control outer space. How this will be done is of the greatest importance to every one. Delegates from the local congregation heard W. R. Thomas, special representative of the Watchtower Society make this statement during a final session of the three-day "Faithfully Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah" Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Abilene, Texas, June 1-3.

"The public ministry is the most effective way of reaching those who long for instruction in God's Word and all ministers assembled here are encouraged to expand this feature of activity in your respective communities," Thomas said.

J. D. Cook, presiding minister, who headed the local group, termed the meeting a grand success with a total attendance of 845. One of the highlights of the assembly was reached at the Saturday afternoon session when 17 persons were immersed as new ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses in a simple mass baptism.

Cook said many whole families attended, most of them traveling by car.

"We received practical instruction in Bible educational methods that will help us to be of greater assistance to our neighbors in our house-to-house ministry and home-Bible study method of teaching," he remarked.

"We returned home with a more serious outlook on our ministry and the future," he said, adding "we must be doers of the divine will."

Session Set By Baptists

The Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association will hold a workers' conference Tuesday at First Baptist Church in Colorado City.

The executive board will meet and a WMU workshop will be held at 5 p.m. and at 8 p.m. supper will be served by the host church.

R. Virgil Mott will direct a song service Tuesday at 7 p.m. Conference leaders will include Glen Sebested, pastors and directors; Mrs. Renal Rosson, adults; Bobby R. Norris, young people; Ruby Butts, intermediates; Mrs. J. H. Kimmel, juniors; Mrs. A. E. Duff, primary workers; and Mrs. Vivian Harris, nursery workers.

General assembly is set for 8 p.m. and the Rev. Floyd Wallace will preach at 8:20 p.m.

Union Baptist

"Jesus' Miracle of Healing" is the sermon subject of the Rev. R. N. Tucker, pastor of Union Baptist Church, at the 10:30 a.m. worship hour Sunday.

For the evening service, his subject will be "God's Eternal Purpose." This will be a continuation of the expository messages from the book of Romans.

Union Baptist Church is finishing its annual Vacation Bible School with a commencement service at 7:30 o'clock, tonight.

part in the distribution of the educational goods of the state."

And thirdly, Msgr. Driscoll says "I also find it difficult to fit this program into the Catholic viewpoint on education."

"The fundamental principles upon which Christian education is based must be observed in every aspect of the curriculum."

Briefly stated, shared time means that a pupil in a church-sponsored school would receive part of his instruction in a neighboring public school and part in the church-sponsored school. He might, for instance, attend classes in spelling, penmanship, mathematics and science in the public school and study religion, history and literature in the church-related school.

Msgr. Geoghegan and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Justin A. Driscoll, superintendent of schools of the archdiocese of Dubuque, Iowa, agree on the point that the optimum educational plan, in the Catholic viewpoint, is a full-time program in a church-affiliated school.

However, Msgr. Geoghegan asks, "To how many children are Catholic schools available? With more than 25 per cent of the children born annually in the United States baptized Catholics, fewer than half of them can hope to attend Catholic elementary schools. Catholic secondary schools can accommodate still fewer. By 1970 only one out of every three Catholic children will be able to attend a Catholic school."

He sees shared time as a means of freeing Catholic teachers and classrooms during part of the day for the instruction of pupils who would otherwise receive no church-sponsored education.

Msgr. Geoghegan also believes the Catholic pupil's education could improve qualitatively with shared time.

Msgr. Driscoll, who opposes shared time, says, "I do not favor the shared time plan simply because I do not think it is sharing anything."

"About the only thing it shares, or establishes, is the fact that the child has a right to participate in part-time instruction of the public school, that the school can legally collect money for doing a half-time job, perhaps in the physical sciences and in the practical or manual arts."

Secondly, Msgr. Driscoll objects because, he says, the shared time plan rests on "a false concept of the state's rights in education."

"In my way of thinking, the shared time plan," he says, "is based on the erroneous idea that the child must be enrolled in a state school to become a partici-
