Counterfeiting Ring Is Sought

ONE MAN CHARGED AS TWELVE BOGUS $100 BILLS CIRCULATED

Federal agents and other peace officers this morning continued to investigate circulation of counterfeit $100 federal reserve notes on the South Plains. One man, charged in the tide of bogus currency, still was in Lubbock county jail. Victor H. Lindsey, United States commissioner here, this morning said no additional counterfeit notes had been reported in this region. Federal authorities declined to reveal what suspicion was attached to a federal prisoner, a man, received at county jail late this morning.

Several men and one woman have been reported as passing the cleverly copied $100 notes, and at least twelve of the bills have turned up in banks and in the cash registers of merchants. A. O. Bybee, Ralls, is charged in connection with passing one of the bills to Kuykendall Chevrolet company Monday night.

Woman Is In Gang

A smartly dressed woman late Tuesday bought a used car from Hub Motor company here, gave three $100 bills, took a check for $32.75 and a used Chrysler coupe, and has not been reported seen since. Hub Jones said the automobile highway license number was 544-001. The car was finished in gray.

Other bills have been discovered as follows:

A man, who said he operated a cafe at Dickens, was held for a time at Littlefield after the bogus bill was discovered by the bank there, but it was reported here last night that both the man and his wife, who also had been arrested, had been released. The man said he gave change for the note at his restaurant.

SUSPECT IN ROBBERY OF O'DONNELL BANK IS FACING TRIAL

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Oct. 6.—A continuance for the term of the case of Bill Tidwell, charged with robbery of the First National bank at O'Donnell, was asked in 106th district court before Judge Gordon B. McGuire this morning by L. C. Heath, defense attorney, of Tahoka, who said some defense witnesses were absent.

The court indicated a ruling would be made this afternoon on the motion. The prosecution had announced itself ready for trial. A special venire of 75 men was instructed to return this afternoon. Heath was appointed by the court.

"Shorty" Brown, in jail in Oklahoma, and Lee Pebworth, who was sentenced to 99 years in prison Wednesday on charge of murder at Portales, also face charges in the O'Donnell holdup.

"Shorty" Brown this week was found guilty at McAlester, Okla., of the robbery of a bank at Haileyville, Okla., last February. He was given a 20-year sentence on his plea of guilty, under the name of Lige Roy Brown.

Tidwell was identified here by Oklahoma officers as having completed a sentence at McAlester on a bank robbery charge, a short time before the Haileyville robbery February 10. He was indicted in that case as was Pebworth.

REDMAN TRIAL JURY FAILS TO AGREE

BODY DISCHARGED BY JUDGE AS VERDICT HELD IMPOSSIBLE

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Oct. 6—A 106th district court jury about noon today again reported to Judge Gordon B. McGuire that it was unable to agree on a verdict in the case of Mrs. Ola Mae Redman, 32, charged with murdering Howard Chase, 33, and the judge discharged the jury, after each of the 12 members had told him there seemed to be no possibility of an agreement. Judge McGuire announced the case was continued for the term.

Dark-haired, neatly dressed, Mrs. Redman retained a poker-face on learning the outcome. Her husband and three small children were with her. Chase's parents, nervous from the long wait for a jury report, showed no marked feeling. Unofficially, the jury vote was said to have been identical through a series of ballots; 7 for acquittal and 5 for conviction. Resetting of Mrs. Redman's bond this afternoon was anticipated.

Deliberations Resumed

The jury at 3:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon had told Judge McGuire it could not reach a decision, and asked to be discharged. The judge sent the 12 men back into the jury room to resume deliberations. The jury received the case at 12:15 p. m. Wednesday.

DALLAS, Oct. 6. (AP)—R. J. "The plan, as presented by the co-operatives and approved by the government, means $10 a bale more at this time in collateralization value on seed loan cotton," Murray said, "and that will affect more than 31,000 borrowers in practically every cotton producing county of the state."

JOE HILTON IS ON STAND IN CASE TODAY

FIVE WITNESSES FOR STATE TESTIFY IN MURDER HEARING

Hugh Walker, on trial in 99th district court for murder, heard an eye-witness to the slaying of F. V. "Leather Hat" Brown designate him as one of the three men who attempted to rob the pioneer stock farmer at Woodrow on May 30.

Joe Hilton, brother of T. B. Hilton at whose home the killing occurred, testified he saw Hugh Walker outside of the residence as he and his brother were being driven out at the point of a gun by "Barber John" Richardson, a second member of the trio he had identified.

Defense Objects

Defense counsel objected strenuously to the witness calling Walker by name before the jury in describing the scene, contending Hilton did not know Walker and could not call his name at the time of the killing.

Judge Clark M. Mullican allowed prosecution counsel, J. E. Vickers, to introduce testimony from Hilton at that point telling of his identification later of Walker as one of the trio.

Fifth State Witness

Joe Hilton was the fifth state witness on the stand this morning after defense had finished cross examination of his brother, T. B. Hilton. Other witnesses were: S. S. Scott, a filling station operator at Woodrow, R. C. Norris and his daughter, who live two and one-half miles west of Woodrow, G. W. Pierce, a farmer living nine miles west of Woodrow and Deputy Sheriff Joe Rieger.

Hilton testified Wednesday afternoon that his wife had told him the night of the killing that Hugh Walker was one of the three men but that they both were afraid to tell officers for fear Walker would kill them.

Testimony Attacked

Defense attacked his testimony and attempted to introduce questioning to show that the Hiltons had a motive in identifying someone as the slayers as they had been mentioned in rumors as suspects.

Alleged relations between the slain man and Mrs. Hilton were subject of queries aimed at Hilton and a fight between Mrs. Hilton and Mrs. Brown was mentioned.

Threats Denied

On continuance of cross examination this morning, Hilton said his wife and Mrs. Brown had a fight on Christmas about two years ago but he denied that Mrs. Brown was badly hurt and denied ever making any kind of threats against Mr. Brown.

"Had Mrs. Hilton been keeping some of his money for him?" a defense question stated.

"Well, yes, she had kept some

PRES. HOOVER ENCOURAGED BY SPEECH

CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS BACK AT CAPITAL; NEW TOUR SEEN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—President Hoover returned here today at 7 a. m. from the first speaking tour of his campaign for re-election.

Despite a steady downpour of rain and the early hour of the president's arrival, there was a small crowd in the huge concourse of the union station waiting to greet the presidential party.

Pose For Picture

The president and Mrs. Hoover left their special train about ten minutes after its arrival. They paused on the way through the station to wave to the engineer and pose for photographers standing beside the engine.

Automobiles were waiting and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover motored directly to the White House.

A possibility that President Hoover may make a sweeping transcontinental speaking tour in his campaign for re-election was discussed by his friends.

Tour Is Urged

Some of Mr. Hoover's political advisers urged such a tour upon him in conference last night, saying the results of his present tour through Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania indicate the political expediency of a swing across country to the west coast, in addition to the two trips already scheduled as his program.

Hoover Encouraged

The president himself, over and again, said he was "heartened" and "encouraged" by his reception in the middlewest.

In his last rear platform appearance last night, as his special train stopped in Johnstown, Pa., the president was urged by some of those in the crowd to make more speeches like the one he delivered at Des Moines.

NOTICE, HUSBANDS AND MERCHANTS!

WRITER CLAIMS STORES TO BLAME FOR WIVES RUNNING UP BIG BILLS; GOES TO COURT

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—A considerable number of married men, and their wives, and the merchants where those wives run bills, will follow with interest the action of Clarence Buddington Kelland, the writer, in the matter of a bill of $3,313 which he proposes not to pay if he can help it.

The bill is from Hattie Carnegie, Inc., dressmaker, and purports to be for purchases made by Mrs. Kelland between Feb. 27, 1931, and the same day in 1932.

Mr. Kelland argues in a supreme court action which the concern instituted to collect the amount of the bill, that he is not liable for its payment because the articles purchased were not "necessaries."

But further than that, he sets forth that something should be done to discourage firms permitting women to run large bills in the belief that the husbands have the money and can pay them. His fight, he states, is against the practice of "plying" women to buy goods they do not need.

Mr. Kelland wants to know by what line of reasoning a firm could believe that his financial condition at any time would justify a characterization hose at $6.50 a pair, dresses at $225 and $250, perfumery at $25 and a cloth coat at $470 "as necessaries for my wife."

He said that in the period

SEEK INSULLS EXTRADITION

REASON FUNDS BEING WITHHELD MAY BE INVESTIGATED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 6—An intimation that unless the Cook county board votes funds for expenses of extradition of Samuel and Martin Insull, an inquiry may be started by the grand jury was given today by State's Attorney John A. Swanson.

Balked twice by refusal of the board to grant him funds to push extradition, Swanson telephoned Emmett Whealan, president of the county board, asking that the board be called into session to vote $10,000 estimated necessary for extradition proceedings.

No Funds Available

Whealan replied that the board had no funds available.

"The grand jury voted these indictments," Swanson told Whealan, "and maybe the members of that jury are interested in seeing the cases prosecuted."

The Insull brothers were indicted on charges of larceny and embezzlement as a result of the collapse of the Insull utility chain. Martin is in Canada and Samuel in France.

WARRANT SOUGHT

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 6 (AP)—John Hampton, assistant state's attorney of Cook county, Illinois, arrived here today and announced that he would apply for a provisional fugitive warrant for the arrest of Martin Insull, former public utilities magnate who is under indictment in Cook county for embezzlement and larceny. AMARILLO, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Borger city commissioners must order a recall election involving the issue of their removal from office, according to a ruling of the seventh court of civil appeals here yesterday.

FARM HOLIDAY ARMISTICE BROKEN

WATCHMAN UNINJURED AS TWO BOMBS RAZE CO-OP BUILDING

(By The Associated Press)

BURLINGTON, Wis., Oct. 6.—Five men early today invaded the new $25,000 milk receiving plant of the Burlington Cooperative Milk association, kidnaped a watchman, and destroyed the building by exploding two bombs. The watchman was unhurt.

The blast occurred about 1 a. m., shattered windows within a radius of ten blocks of the plant. About an hour later, John Eisenbart, 55, the watchman, appeared at the police station. He said five men accosted him with revolvers in the building.

Watchman Bound

The men set two bombs, he said, and then rushed him to their automobile outside. They bound his feet and hands with rope and sped away with him.

Before the car reached the city limits, Eisenbart said, the explosion occurred. The men took him about a mile outside the city and dumped him out. Eisenbart worked his bonds loose and returned to the scene of the wrecked building to find firemen seeking his body amid the debris.

She was officially served with notice late yesterday of Judge Robertson's decision holding the legislature was the only tribunal that could decide a contested election involving the office of governor. The decision knocked down an injunction issued last week by Judge Robertson restraining Mrs. McCallum from certifying Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee until the district court had adjudicated the contest suit filed by the governor.

TWO GAMES ARE ON LUBBOCK GRID SCHEDULE THIS WEEKEND

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

"We're going to town now—we'll win all of 'em. They can't stop us".

If Coach Cawthon knew which one of his Matadors said that, he'd call the lad aside and utter the following: "Why, you little scamp," he'd say, substituting a popular street word for scamp, "don't you know better than to talk that way? People will say we're getting cocky."

And on the other hand:

"The Tech team will never function properly because the boys on the team will never cooperate and otherwise work together. The reason is that the boys come from different sections of the state, and that old high school rivalry, that old inter-district and intersectional rivalry will never let them work together on a team. The boys of West Texas can't and won't get along with the boys from East Texas."

If Coach Cawthon knew which of his boys said that, he'd call the lad aside and what he would say couldn't be printed with common printers ink.

The athlete who uttered the challenge at the top of this column is a typical collegiate with lots of pride, ambition and confidence. We like that attitude, and we hope—and believe—he's right. Oh yes, that's a true statement; so is the other one.

The individual who attacked the homogeneous aspect of the situation is a college student with a high school attitude and outlook. Very likely he is one who does not run with Cawthon's first string; probably by now he is not even a member of the squad. If his statement were true, all college teams would be in the same category with Tech, for the players are former representatives, not only of various sections of states but of different parts of the country.

One did not need a highly imaginative mind to see that teamwork, co-operation of individuals and unified effort figured prominently in Tech's victory over S. M. U. last Saturday night.

Take that touchdown play, for instance, one of the most intricate and difficult plays in the repertoire. Malcolm Martin, a typical West Texas lad, came around from left end, took the ball in a highly systematically timed and executed spin play and ran behind perfect blocking 22 yards around the other end for a touchdown. Adrian Clark, the quarterback, hails from Denison, which is not exactly in East Texas and certainly not in West Texas. Another lad in the backfield was from Dallas and another from south Central Texas. As a matter of fact, not more than three men on the whole team were from the same section of the state.

It is not a policy of this department to criticize officials of athletic games, particularly so if something nice can't be said. A majority of officials we have seen have been worthy of praise.

There are many fans who found fault with the chief official of last Saturday night's game. Some have even gone so far as to suggest that "another five minutes and the official would have won the game." This department does not line up with those critics. It is enough to say that the work of the chief official is not popular with a majority of fans—and coaches. The Tech-S. M. U. game was but one of a number.

We do not say that the official was partisan in his decisions. One side and one coach and one division of players griped as much as the other. We do not say that the official was unjust in his decisions. He may have conformed to the rules with utter veracity and sagacity. In his own mind the official may have acted with keen judgment and with no idea of partiality. Technically, perhaps he did not make a single mistake. There are few officials who do not make mistakes, however.

All the same, that official is not popular with the fans and coaches and players. For that reason, and not for any technical fault, he will not be called upon to officiate further games for Texas Tech. He holds a contract to work the Tech-Notre Dame game, but you may find him in the grandstand if he comes to Lubbock.

We hold no personal grudge against the official. As a matter of fact, he's a personal friend of the writer. Give him a season or two of work in the big circuits and he should be one of the high class officials. It is working somewhat of an injustice, however, on the local institutions and fans for his practicing to be done here.

Bears Leave Today For Loyola Clash

WACO, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Baylor university Bears worked out here last night under the lights prior to their departure today for New Orleans where on Saturday they play Loyola university.

Had Baylor left the Louisiana city a week ago, it would have been the underdog by a wide margin, in the opinion of observers here, but the additional training brightened their prospects for victory.

KANGAROOS TO MEET TECH TOMORROW

WESTERNERS TO PLAY SWEETWATER HIGH SATURDAY NIGHT

Two football games are scheduled for Lubbock fans at Matador Field this week-end.

The first, set for tomorrow night, promises little in the way of sensational stuff but should give up a display of offensive fireworks that most fans like to see. The Texas Tech Matadors, conquerors of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs of the Southwest conference, take on the Austin College Kangaroos of Sherman and the Texas conference.

Sweetwater Coming

Saturday night's conflict featuring the Lubbock High Westerners and the Sweetwater High school Mustangs holds the spotlight of the week-end football card. The game is the first high school contest at home of the season, and the opposition lined up for the beginning appears headed toward the better things in championships.

Sweetwater's 20 to 0 victory over Abilene High school's Eagles, 1931 state champions, branded them as serious contenders for the West Texas championship, and gave them an edge over Lubbock, whose Westerners had trouble defeating Snyder, a class B team, last week.

Face Hard Schedule

In tackling the Mustangs, the Westerners open a stiff schedule that does not promise to result in the acclamation of the Chapman crew as football champions. The club has yet to develop. It is young and inexperienced.

Announcement that Ney Sheridan, backfield threat of the Sweetwater outfit, had been ruled ineligible brought some comfort to the Westerner forces, but even with Sheridan out of the lineup the Mustangs can present a strong front. Possibilities that Sheridan may be reinstated in time to play with the Mustangs Saturday night are not altogether dim, as negotiations to that effect are now under way in the western half of the Oil Belt.

Tickets for the Lubbock-Sweetwater go are on sale at the Hilton and Lubbock hotel drug stores. Reserved seat ducats are going for 75 cents each, tax included. Student tickets, which may be purchased by high school students at the office of the principal, and which Texas Tech students may procure at the business office of the institution, will be priced at 25 cents.

Hilarious over the Mustang victory last week, Sweetwater fans have taken their football to heart and will support the team at Lubbock Saturday night. A special train bringing a large delegation of students and townspeople is due to arrive in Lubbock early Saturday.

It is difficult for local fandom to work up much enthusiasm over the college game prospects tomorrow night. After seeing the Matadors outbattle the Texas Aggies and S. M. U. Mustangs on succeeding Saturdays, the faithful is ready for more games of the same calibre. Austin College sends a team which has had trouble getting started, but which promises to give the Techsters a battle.

The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Much of historical significance attends the Austin College coach, Cecil Grigg. Grigg succeeded Pete Cawthon as head coach at the Kangaroo institution, bringing a reputation as a player and coach that has been the chief attraction on the ball club since Cawthon left Sherman. A former professional baseball and football player and a coach at one time of a leading professional football team, Grigg possesses coaching talents that compare with his playing talents.

MRS. PHARR IS IN THE LEAD

FORMER STATE CHAMP SHOOTS BRILLIANT GOLF AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Stout-hearted golf allowed Mrs. F. E. Pharr, former state champion from Texarkana, to take the first tee today as leader in the final 18-holes of the Dallas Woman's Golf association 54-hole medal play invitation tournament. Mrs. Pharr played brilliant golf to lead yesterday at the conclusion of the first 36-hole affair taking a glaring nine on the ninth to lose six strokes to Miss Aneila Gorczyca, Fort Worth champion, who retained second place, but was eight strokes behind Mrs. Pharr as the final round started today.

Mrs. Pharr boasted a 36-hole total of 84-88—172 against Miss Gorczyca's 93-87—180. Miss Gorczyca scored her 93 Tuesday when she left a train en route from the national at Peabody, Mass., rushed to the golf course and played. Yesterday she was back on her game and scored low for the day although she was still three putting and short on her chip shots.

Miss Betty Jameson of Dallas, who holds the Texas municipal championship, trailed third with 95-89—184. Mrs. R. E. Winger held fourth place with 96-91—187. Mrs. Winger is a former Fort Worth champion.

At the start of the final round today the remainder of the field was far behind these four. Miss Gorczyca was conceded an outside chance to overtake Mrs. Pharr but Jameson and Winger faced the necessity of having to shoot sub-par golf to finish in front providing Mrs. Pharr retained the fine shots she exhibited the first 36-holes.

PROHIBITION OF FLYING TACKLE WAS ADOPTED FOR PROTECTION OF TACKLER

AERIAL GAME IS ALL RIGHT IF ON THE CAMPUS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 (AP)—The aerial game is fine business in football, opines Coach Howard Jones, but outside Bovard field on the University of Southern California campus, it's all off.

That is what Orville Mohler and Captain Tay Brown, two of the Trojans' best players, were emphatically informed today by the head man, after their close scrape with death or injury at San Bernardino yesterday, when the airplane Mohler was piloting crashed from an altitude of 150 feet.

Noses To Ground

Mohler, who is a licensed pilot and a senior in aeronautic engineering at Southern California, lifted the plane from the Tri-City airport, but the motor refused to respond when he attempted to climb over a clump of trees. He swerved the craft slightly, and dipped a bit in order to collect momentum for another climb, which the plane refused to take, and nosed to the ground. Mohler cut off the motor and flattened out the craft just before it hit. The plane bounced, struck again and nosed over—a wreck.

Brown and Mohler crawled out of the wreckage, without a scratch, and hurried back to Los Angeles by automobile.

On the first play in dummy scrimmage the flying quarterback suffered a slight injury to his left knee, the one hurt against Utah, and spent the rest of the afternoon watching others work out.

PONIES TRAIN FOR OWLS

HOWARD SPRAGUE MAY PLAY QUARTER AS TRAVIS INJURED

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustang's starting backfield Saturday against the Rice Owls probably will comprise Bert Baxter and Whitey Baccus at halves, "Baldy" Oliver at fullback and Captain Howard Sprague as the signal barking back. This was the way Coach Ray Morrison lined his regulars up yesterday when it was learned that Kenneth Travis, regular quarterback, probably would be out of the lineup because of an injured rib received last Saturday in the Texas Tech game at Lubbock. Coach Morrison still was in doubt about his starting linemen. He constantly switched his front wall gladiators yesterday in an effort to find blockers who suited him.

Yesterday was a day of dummy and actual scrimmage. The freshman team employed Notre Dame formations as used by Rice. The varsity was on the defense most of the time. Probably the best news of the day to Coach Morrison was the time he gave the varsity the ball on the ten-yard stripe and saw them score against the freshman squad. Two weeks ago, Morrison gave the varsity the ball on the same line ten consecutive times against the same freshmen, and the varsity never got beyond the six-yard line.

Today was to be another hard scrimmage day for the Mustangs who are confident they will beat Rice although they haven't scored in their two non-conference games this season.

(NOTE:—This is the second of a series of four explanatory articles on the 1932 football rule changes, written especially for the Associated Press.)

BY WILLIAM S. LANGFORD
(Secretary, National Football Rules Committee)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Prohibition against the use of the flying tackle and the flying block was adopted for the protection of the tackler and blocker rather than the opponents whom they were trying to bring down.

The new rule states: "It is illegal to use a flying tackle in which a player dives or throws his body through the air at the ball carrier. It is legal for the tackler to leave his feet at the instant he makes contact with the ball carrier."

The provisions with respect to blocking are similar.

If a player makes a flying block or a flying tackle, even though he fails to make contact with the opponent his team is penalized five yards from the spot of the foul, except in case the flying block or tackle is used against a player who is making or who has made a forward pass when the penalty is enforced from the point where the ball was put in play.

This is the only instance in the rules where a penalty is imposed to prevent a player from doing injury to himself.

The only change in the rule governing the use of hands and arms by players on defense is that which further restricts these players from striking above the shoulders with the palms of the hands.

Defensive players are permitted to use the palms of their hands above the shoulders of opponents only to push them out of the way in order to get at the ball or the player carrying it or to ward off interferers who are trying to block them.

GRIFFITH MAY BE MANAGER FOR SENS

OWNER OF CLUB SEEN AS SUCCESSOR TO THE "BIG TRAIN"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—Clark Griffith—the "Old Fox" who piloted the Washington Senators from 1912 to 1920—may appear next year in the dual role of owner and manager of the capital's American league baseball team.

It depends, Griffith said last night, on whether he can get the man he wants to succeed Walter Johnson, let out this week after four years as manager.

Speculation Rife

Johnson's elimination started the usual burst of speculation over who would be the next boss. Asked about the filling the managerial shoes himself, Griffith said:

"Only if I am unable to find the man I want will I take over the management myself."

Although Griffith declined to comment further there was considerable discussion of the possibility that he might take over the managerial duties as an economy move.

Interest of the capital fans was divided between speculation over Johnson's successor and where Johnson, their idol, would go.

Rumor Unfounded

Persistent reports he might become manager of the Baltimore Orioles in the International league, apparently were unfounded, as Charles H. Knapp, president of that club, said in Baltimore he was not considering him.

Rumors revolving about the selection of a player-manager for Washington centered on Joe Judge, veteran first baseman; Sam Rice, long an outfielder, and young Joe Cronin, dynamic shortstop.

The name of Stanley "Bucky" Harris, now manager of the Detroit Tigers in the American league and the only manager to take Washington into a world series, also entered prominently. He piloted the team into the series in 1924 and 1925, going out at the end of the 1928 season.

Griffith, who came to Washington as manager in 1912, built up a reputation as a smart swapper and developer of material. He retired from an active role in 1920, when he had acquired a controlling interest in the team.

GOLF'S FALL AND WINTER GOLD RUSH OPENS TOMORROW IN ST. LOUIS MEET

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Golf's fall and winter gold rush opens at St. Louis tomorrow with the prospects of a slight reduction in prize money but as many or more tournaments than a year ago.

In outlining the tentative winter campaign, Albert R. Gates, business administrator of the Professional Golfers' association of America, said that approximately $65,000 would be distributed in about 20 tournaments, all but four of which have been definitely set.

Starts Tomorrow

"The winter campaign will open tomorrow with the playing of the St. Louis open where prizes totaling $2,500 will be paid the winners," he said. "The players will swing down the Atlantic coast in November, playing in the $2,500 national capital city open at Washington, the $2,300 mid-south open at Pinehurst and the $10,000 Coral Gables-Biltmore competition at Miami.

"From Miami, the caravan will head for the Pacific coast where there will be more than a month of steady competition. The Pacific coast season will open December 7 with the national match play open championship at San Francisco. That tournament will be followed by the $4,000 Pasadena open, December 16; the $3,000 Glendale open, December 24-26; the $2,000 Santa Monica pro-amateur, December 30—January 1, and the long established Los Angeles open, January 7-9. Agua Caliente will again stage its championship, January 11-14, and will offer the largest purse of the Pacific coast season."

From the Mexican resort, the players will go to Phoenix, for the Arizona open and along the gulf coast and to Florida for the usual February and March fixtures, closing the campaign for glory and gold with the north and south open at Pinehurst, S. C. The Ryder cup team will sail for England soon after the conclusion of the winter campaign.

Gene Sarazen, British and American open champion, was the largest money winner of the 1931-32 campaign.

SAM HOUSTON IS BEATEN BY A&M

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Texas Aggies easily defeated the Sam Houston State Teachers, 26-0, here last night. Except for the first quarter, the Aggies were masters throughout.

Soon after the starting whistle, the Teachers got the ball by intercepting a pass, and for the greater part of the period kept the ball in Aggie territory. Late in the first quarter, however, Domingue, Aggie quarterback, scored a touchdown.

In the second quarter, Williams, a substitute quarterback, scored another touchdown for the Aggies. The third and fourth touchdowns were scored in the third and fourth periods by Aston and Kimbrough, respectively.

BIG SIX WILL OPEN SEASON THIS WEEK

NEBRASKA WILL FACE IOWA STATE; TEXAS PLAYS MISSOURI

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Big Six kickoff Saturday will end speculation as to how the Nebraska Huskers will perform under the newly inaugurated system of a fast running and passing attack.

Coach Dana X. Bible, who discarded the pile-driving attack in favor of the style of play he likes best, has not had a chance to test it out against anything but freshmen opposition. Saturday the Huskers begin defense of their conference championship against Iowa State.

Look Good

However, in practice tilts the varsity men have made good account of themselves.

The Missouri Tigers have a double-barreled schedule over the week-end and Coach Carideo divided his squad into two sections. One will play Central college at Fayette Friday and the other meets Texas Saturday.

Meanwhile Coach George Veenker of the Cyclones still is undecided who will fill the end posts, Templeton, a regular wingman, is out with injuries and Veenker has a slim list of ends to fill the vacancy.

Sooners Practice

Secret practice kept the doings of the Oklahoma gridmen from prying eyes, while at Kansas, scene of the Sooner-Jayhawker battle Saturday, the varsity engaged in dummy scrimmage, Ormand Beach being one of the participants. A scrimmage against the frosh is scheduled for today.

Coach Bo McMillin, whose Kansas State Wildcats engage Kansas Wesleyan Friday night, gave special attention to Armstrong and Abbott, sophomore backs, with a view to using them as replacements.

Trial By Jury

Every criminal trial which involves a person who often figures in newspaper headlines is apt to bring about a situation in which it is almost impossible to get a jury satisfactory to both prosecution and defense.

A prospective juror is asked if he has "read about this case in the papers." If he is literate enough to make a decent juror, naturally he has. Then he is asked if he has formed an opinion on the case, from what he has read; and, naturally, he usually says that he has. Thereupon he is dismissed, and the court goes on hunting for jurors who never read the newspapers or who, if they do, don't think twice about what they read there.

Cleveland put Maurice Maschke, Republican boss, on trial recently on an embezzlement charge. And it proved so hard to find jurors who hadn't read or thought about the case that prosecution and defense finally agreed to get along without a jury, submitting evidence and arguments to three judges and leaving the decision up to them.

The action is a strange, thought-provoking commentary on the way our jury system works nowadays.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By The Associated Press)

Must Have Backs

LONDON — Backless dresses are banned by custom at the annual courts at Buckingham palace, but couturiers have found a way to meet the condition. Cleverly inserted embroidery or a piece of dress material provides a "back" which may be removed when the gown is worn at a ball later.

Turks In A Boat

ISTANBUL — Two young Turks, Mahfi and Nobar, are setting out for a 500 day sail around the entire coast of Africa and back. Their craft is a 16-foot rubber boat.

A Poor Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY—"An artist makes a poor wife," Betty Jane Cope, dancing teacher, testified in asking divorce from Forrest J. Coulter, a salesman. "My husband is tired of being Mr. Betty Jane Cope." The divorce was granted.

No Jazz Tunes

PHILADELPHIA — Bandit-chasing cars in suburban upper Darby township are to be equipped with radio sets but the sweet voice of the crooner will not distract any bandit chasing policeman. The township commissioners last night decided that the radio sets will be locked in such a way as to receive only short wave police broadcasts.

Nut Cache In Car

EVANSTON, Ill.—There were squeals in John Manning's ancient automobile when he drove home from Rhinelander, Wis., so he took it to F. L. Larsen, who fixes cars for a living. Larsen put his hand into a hole in the top, but took it out suddenly, having been bitten by one of two squirrels found inside. They escaped. Cached in the car Larsen found eight pounds of nuts. Manning had left his car standing idle all summer.

Nudism In China

HANGCHOW — Wang Tien-Mu, Chinese scholar, has returned from Germany with an enthusiasm for nudism that has shocked the neighborhood. He has written a book and dispensed with his clothes. His wife and family horrified have moved out bag and baggage.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—National-Bellas Hess, Inc., third largest mail order house in the world, today reported steadily increasing orders.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The United Air Lines has signed a contract with the Standard Oil companies of Indiana and California for delivery of 7,000,000 gallons of aviation gasoline, a year's requirements, P. G. Johnson, president, announced.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Davis company, operators of one of the largest department stores in the Loop, plans extensive improvements because of a belief that business will be better, Arthur Davis, president, said.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 5.(AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio railroad has called back 1,200 men to work in the shops here. The shops have been idle for a month or more. The work will last indefinitely.

Business Of Political Patronage Is "Forgotten Issue" In All Campaign Speechs, But Not Behind The Scenes

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—Somehow, no one seems to be making any campaign speeches about the "forgotten issue."

The business of political patronage is a "forgotten issue" in the sense that although no politician ever forgets it for a minute, they do all forget to talk about it.

Dutcher

Jobs, of course, are what really keeps a campaign going. Most of the active politicians are either trying to get jobs now held by others or trying to hold onto their own. They may be running for elective offices or they may be working in anticipation of appointive offices when their crowd gets in power.

This year the job incentive is stronger than ever. Thousands of men are holding public jobs who will be hard put to it if they lose their posts. Not long ago prohibition agents picked up an ex-congressman in overalls who had been reduced to tending a moonshine still in the Maryland woods.

Jobs in federal, state, county or municipal government, also, never looked so good to the "outs." Not only is the field of aspirants chock full of competition. The competition itself is unusually fierce.

Besides the mere desire for jobs for their own sakes the other old incentives are as strong as ever—the yen for power, prestige or social advancement. There are many men who seek to serve a certain group or a particular interest and even some who are unselfishly ambitious to serve their city, state or country.

But the salaries involved in the public jobs run into the billions and even after a series of economy waves the officeholders will be superintending government expenditures of 10 billions, or more a year.

The number of federal jobs directly or indirectly at stake in a presidential campaign year has been estimated all the way from 50,000 to 150,000.

That doesn't mean that just so many Democrats will promptly take the place of as many Republicans after March 4 in case of a Roosevelt victory, but there are tens of thousands of Republicans holding federal posts who would not be likely to have them if they were Democrats.

Nearly all the big jobs in the executive service are filled by presidential appointment and will be occupied by new men in case of a change of administration. Cabinet members, assistant departmental secretaries, high ranking diplomats, various bureau chiefs, chairmen and members of innumerable commissions head the list.

There are about 17,500 jobs which are filled by appointment of the president, subjected to confirmation by the Senate. These also include first, second and third-class postmasters, internal revenue collectors and deputy collectors, collectors of customs and similar federal officers.

There are 111,000 positions which are not under the classified civil service, but most are minor jobs including those of laborers.

Of 467,000 workers under the protection of the classified civil service, all of whom had to take competitive examinations, thousands owe their jobs to politics although no one knows how many.

Theoretically none of them ever lose their jobs for political reasons, but it is well known that politics figures in appointments to the prohibition enforcement jobs, for instance, and among nearly 80,000 fourth-class postmasters and rural letter carriers.

Lists of eligibles are certified by the Civil Service Commission and the appointive officer—who in the postal service is the postmaster general—must choose a man from the top three. Naturally, the appointive officer is likely to choose a good man from his own party, supported by other party men, over a good man from the opposition party.

Bureau chiefs here whose duties are scientific or technical are usually left undisturbed. But most of the others are likely to be in danger.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

* * * * * * * * * * * *

FAIR IS CRITICIZED; READER AGAINST COWS

Dear Plainsman: — I do most heartily agree with every word in your column concerning the livestock situation.

It has been my big hope ever since I've been in this fair city that this very kind of an ordinance would be passed, and I trust for the good of all concerned, it will be enforced to the letter.

Everybody will agree that we have more than our share of flies, and right there lies one of the biggest causes, for livestock draws more flies than anything. (Just live next door to a cow and see).

"A Plain Citizen" stated in his letter yesterday that a certain family living near him were in such needy circumstances and their cow contributed so much toward their supply of food. I wonder if that family couldn't have bought sufficient milk at 6 and 8 cents per quart cheaper than they could buy feed for the cow. It seems to me with milk as low as it now is, that people can't use that as any excuse for owning a cow. If people just can't get along without their livestock, then they had better go back to the farm, for they certainly don't belong in town where we all are cooped up on a piece of ground 50x150. We have to have laws for sanitation, and here is hoping our good city officials stay in there and see that this ordinance is put into effect.

Yours for a cleaner city,
A Fly Swatter.

Dear Plainsman:—I want to gripe a little about the recent fair. You rant and rave and so do the fair directors that we must do everything to make a go of the fair every year. We do. We take our articles down and register them to be displayed. Articles of which there are no others in the building like them. Are they out where they can be seen? No! Why hide them under everything they can find to pile upon them? And they are worthwhile articles. Why people don't go to the fair? The same old articles? When something different is entered why the judges say, "hide it," and it is hid. What is the use to make anything worth-while to enter? We would all like to know.

Dissatisfied Exhibitor.

THAT MAN ON Q

Dear Plainsman: Here is a paragraph I sincerely hope you print.

This isn't politics and it isn't very good but That Man on Avenue Q was getting the little end of the business so he bought out his competitor.

AMERICAN TELLS DETAILS OF DUEL

PARIS, Oct. 6. (AP)—John G. Hopper, an American mining engineer formerly of Oakland, Calif., has disclosed hitherto unrevealed details of the duelling Sept. 1 in Marly-Le-Roi forest in which one American and two Frenchmen were injured.

Mr. Hopper declined to confirm or deny that he was the American participant. He did not give the motive for the duels, but it was understood that they concerned a question of business honor and did not involve, as was first reported, a woman. All three participants, he said, have recovered.

The American engineer, who asserted that he had fought four duels in the far west of the United States and in Mexico, said the encounters at Marly-Le-Roi were carried out according to the code of honor, with pistols lightly loaded.

The witnesses at the first duel, he said, were two French colonels who served for the American participant, and a French lieutenant and a French business man for the challenged Frenchman.

After the first encounter, in which the Frenchman was wounded, the business man's second charged that the American had fired prematurely, Mr. Hopper asserted, and thereupon the American and the French businessman had a duel of their own and both were injured. None of the wounds was serious.

The fellow who claims he carried the "Mooney suitcase" to San Francisco's preparedness parade in 1916 explains he didn't tell police because his parents would have scolded him for watching a parade on the Sabbath! Which, if true, would make it all right with Mooney and Billings, after 16 years in prison.

Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, we hear, is taking a vacation at a Dutch coast retreat. And all the time we thought his vacation started back in 1919.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

City Manager Quits Place At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Oct. 6. (AP)—W. N. Durham, city manager of Amarillo, for three and a half years, had tendered his resignation to the city commission, effective October 15.

C. H. Winterhaler, city auditor, will assume the duties of city manager, in addition to his regular work, without an increase in salary. The city commission announced a further cut in salaries of from 10 to 20 per cent. Mayor Ross D. Rogers said $5,000 a month would be cut from the city's operating expenses.

With all that political uproar between Hitler, Von Papen, Von Hindenburg and other German public figures, it appears that the Prussian Diet isn't so agreeable when taken steady.

MORE LOOT TO BE SOUGHT

SUSPECT AND OFFICER GO TO AMARILLO TO PROBE BURGLARIES

With loot from at least five Lubbock homes found hidden, sold, or pawned in Texas and New Mexico, George Eubank, Lubbock police identifications officer, and a man arrested as a suspect in the burglaries left this morning for Amarillo to uncover additional loot. The man, another man, and a woman, all held as suspects in the burglaries, executed last summer, had not been charged this morning. The remaining two were in city jail.

Four trunks of loot have been found in Roswell, N. M., several guns, musical instruments, and clothing have been reported recovered in five different places in Amarillo, other pieces of loot are reported in Albuquerque, N. M., Willard, N. M., and in Hale Center, Chief of Police Wiley Metcalfe said.

Articles Identified

A portion of articles stolen from the homes of Austin Jones, 2116 Thirty-Fourth street; Luther Bynum, 1920 Fifteenth street; H. A. Watson, 3003 Nineteenth street; J. O. Kuykendall, 1710 Twenty-second street; and S. E. Arnold on Thirty-First street, have been identified already.

The houses were broken into while the occupants were vacationing last summer. Jones reported theft of a steamer trunk, three suitcases, a varnished box, a .12 gauge shotgun, a .22 rifle, a .32 pistol, a violin, and about $100 of linens and wearing apparel.

One May Be Released

One of the men now held probably will not be charged, but the man and woman probably will be charged with burglary today. The suspect claimed that he got the stuff from a man now held in jail in Albuquerque for automobile theft, the police chief said. The man held here told officers he served ten months of a year sentence for theft of chickens. The trunks now in Roswell, N. M., were shipped there from Albuquerque, police said.

Police began the search for a woman in connection with the burglaries after tracks apparently made by a woman's shoe were found at burglary scenes. Officers said they believed a woman's judgment resulted in the choice of the best dresses and coats in wardrobes of the burglarized houses.

Thought Loot "Hot"

A .16 gauge pump shotgun stolen from Kuykendall is believed to have been located in Amarillo, a rifle probably will be recovered in Willard, N. M., a green trunk containing clothing is believed to have been recovered on East Third street in Amarillo and a clarinet was said to have been sold on East Polk street in Amarillo.

The suspect, who is about 30 years old, denied the burglaries, but said he had been handling the loot, officers said. They quoted the suspect as saying he thought the articles "might be hot."

CONTEST FIGHT

ousted as the nominee and that he be certified as the Democratic candidate.

On the ground that his court did not have jurisdiction, Judge Robertson dismissed the petition.

Attorneys for the governor were hastening work preparatory to an appeal from the decision to the third court of civil appeals. The governor's counsel reported early today the appeal would be perfected either late today or tomorrow. They indicated they would ask the court of civil appeals to issue an injunction restraining Mrs. McCallum from certifying Mrs. Ferguson until the appeal was decided.

Mandamus Pending

The governor's attorneys regarded it as probable the court of civil appeals immediately would certify questions involved in the appeal to the supreme court where there is now pending the mandamus action brought by Mrs. Ferguson to compel certification of her name as the party's nominee.

Mrs. McCallum's indicated intentions did not come as a surprise. She is an appointee of Governor Sterling, and a close political ally of former Gov. Dan Moody, ardent foe of the Fergusons.

Mrs. McCallum took exception to the ruling of Judge Robertson.

"It is interesting to note, in this connection," she stated, "that the supreme court in the case of Dickson against Strickland, upon which Judge Robertson relied, said:

Cites Constitution

"The only election governed by section 3 of article 4 (of the constitution, giving the legislature the power to try contested elections for the office of governor), is the general election."

Judge Robertson had held that under supreme court decisions primary elections were made a part of the general election machinery and that the election would not be completed, in this case, until after November 8.

Action Awaited

Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson and his attorneys were waiting about the office of the clerk of the supreme court for some action by the high tribunal in Mrs. Ferguson's mandamus action.

At the request of the attorneys for the Fergusons, the district clerk's office was preparing certified copies of Judge Robertson's orders for filing in the supreme court, so that the high court then would have official notice of what had transpired in the lower court.

Luther Nickels, one of their attorneys, stated Mrs. McCallum's statment did not change the legal status in any manner.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 3 lower with steady cables and unfavorable weather offset by southern selling. Oct. 6.90; Dec. 7.02; March 1.11; May 7.23; July 7.32.

Early offerings were absorbed by Liverpool buying and covering and prices stiffened after the call, December advancing from 6.99 to 7.14 and active months generally selling 13 to 17 points net higher. Buying seemed restricted by theopening action of the stock market, however. Prices ruled about 8 to 9 points net higher at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported continental liquidation absorbed by covering.

Reports of rain in the eastern belt and light to heavy frosts at some central belt points may have contributed to the early rally but the weather in the western belt was clear and slightly warmer.

Fluctuations were irregular later in the morning. The bulges met some further southern selling and liquidation but after easing to 7.05 for December, or within 6 points of yesterday's close, prices held fairly steady in sympathy with the steadier tone of stocks. There was also further trade buying and covering. At midday December was holding around 7.08, and active months were about 6 to 9 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6 (AP) — Cotton had a steady opening today. Liverpool cables were better than due and first trades here showed no change to two points down. The market ruled quiet right after the start and December eased one point to 6.96 but a little later an improvement in stocks and the absence of any considerable hedge sales caused a good rally which ran December up to 7.11 and March to 7.27, or 12 to 15 points above the early lows and 14 points on December above yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the highs.

The action of the government in extending loans to cotton farmers for a year had a sustaining effect.

COUNTERFEITING

was made after an alarm had been sounded about existence of the bogus notes. Hardwick described the spurious currency as an excellent forgery on one side. The forgery easily was discovered when the other side was examined.

Two Are Described

The first false bill reported here was accepted at the Santa Fe station last Friday night, after two men had sought change at Western Union. Night Manager J. R. Shiro described the pair to officers, and said one was a Lubbock lather. A man, said to be slender and who was wearing trousers and boots, had the bill. After Shiro said he did not have change for $100, the Santa Fe was telephoned. A messenger boy carried the bill to the railway station, where change was made.

Bybee, who made conflicting statements, officers said, was said to have given the bogus note to J. O. Kuykendall as down payment on a Chevrolet automobile. The First National bank Tuesday morning discovered the bill was forged, and Bybee was arrested yesterday.

Bond Of $4,000 Set

Bond of $4,000 was set by U. S. Commissioner Victor Lindsey for Bybee who still was in county jail late this morning.

The note taken at the First National bank was brought in Tuesday morning by a customer, whose name was withheld. Vice President Walter S. Posey last night placed no blame on the bank customer who had the bill.

Conflicting stories of her residence were given by the woman who passed the spurious notes at Hub Motor company. She was said to have told different persons her home was in Dallas, Childress, Ralls, and Abernathy. Mr. Jones said she was about 35 years old and n'cely dressed. The cashier said the woman took the bills from a roll of money, but it was not known whether any more of the false notes were in the roll.

A telephone net was spread Tuesday night, but to no avail.

Think Gang Involved

It was presumed last night that federal agents were attempting to ferret out the source of the bills. That a photo-engraving plant had made the plates from which the prints were taken was probable. Suddenness of appearance of the notes from Dickens to Lubbock and Lamb county led some to believe a "gang" was involved in distributing the bills.

Bybee, who described himself as a sewing machine salesman, is married. He was said to have lived at Ralls for more than one year.

The Santa Fe station agent at Lorenzo was reported to have obtained a bogus bill through the bank there. That the bank had held the note was confirmed reliably here today. It was reliably reported that the Petersburg and Ralls bank held one bill each.

The First National bank of Sudan cashed a counterfeit $100 bill about 10 a. m. Tuesday, Lamb County Attorney J. E. Dryden said. Thirty minutes later the bill was discovered to be false, said Dryden.

Lubbock Boy Hurt In Collision Here

George Youngblood, 13, living at Seventh street and Avenue M, suffered a gash on the leg, body bruises, and possibly other injuries about noon when a bicycle he was riding and an automobile collided at Thirteenth street and Avenue M. The boy, police said, gave a last name and an occupation as those of the driver of the automobile.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP) — Wheat prices today touched the lowest level since July 26. An accumulation of overnight selling orders was chiefly responsible.

Opening 1-2 to 5-8 down, wheat afterward held near the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to 1-2 lower and later rallied.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—The stock market tried to recover for a time today, but renewed weakness in wheat brought fresh selling in shares in the early afternoon.

The selling of the previous session appeared to have dried up in the morning, and after some hesitancy, the list managed to work a little higher, but the downturn in wheat brought selling into the farm implements, which proved unsettling. The further selling, however, was in moderate volume.

J. I. Case broke about 3 points, in extension of the 8-point loss of the previous session, and International Harvester lost about 2 points. Miscellaneous issues pulled down 1 to 1 1-2 points under yesterday's final levels included several of the rails, notably Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Northern Pacific, as well as such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Westinghouse, DuPont, Montgomery Ward, and Johns Manville. During the morning, most of these issues had registered temporary advances of a point or so.

of the groups as the result of the killing of Nordahl Peterson, 25, farm picket, near Canby Tuesday night. He was the first direct casualty in the Holiday movement, although a special deputy was killed at Council Bluffs in August by the accidental discharge of a riot gun.

Coroner's Killing

Ole Anderson, 57, and his son, Leonard, 19, were said by Sheriff M. F. Fitmer at Canby to have confessed yesterday they were responsible for the killing of Peterson.

Authorities indicated first degree manslaughter charges would be filed against both.

The shooting had a moderating effect in Pipeston county, Minnesota, where leaders of the Farmers' Holiday association announced they would abandon picketing. At Willmar, Minn., however, 300 officers and delegates of the Minnesota branch of the National Farmers' Holiday association voted unanimously at a statewide meeting to continue "peaceful picketing."

Two incidents in which the president figured here receive two paragraphs, separating two longer paragraphs in which college work and students are discussed. Parker Taulman is editor of The Toreador.

covered by the bill he gave his wife $7,000, which seemed to him sufficient for her needs.

Mrs. Kelland, supporting her husband, stated that the purchases were made with the understanding that she was to be billed, and not her husband. She added that "she thought at the time" she would be able to make payment, but that "events have altered conditions." She said efforts to arrange payment by installments had been unsuccessful.

Kelland fought a suit in 1930 on somewhat different grounds. The Salon De Trousseaux, Inc., sued to recover $4,650 for linens. At that time the author said his wife had placed a small order and that the firm delivered very much more.

An effort by Hattie Carnegie, Inc., to have summary judgment given against Kelland was denied by the court yesterday, and the case was set for later trial.

BURGLARS LEAVE NOTE TO POLICEMAN BUT GET ONLY 16 CENTS FROM SAFE

A 1,000-pound safe taken late Tuesday or early Wednesday from Lonnie Sanders' laundry at 1811 Nineteenth street had not been reported found at noon. A note, censored for its bawdy character, was left for George Eubank, police identifications officer. Eubank, however seemed not particularly displeased, as the strongbox had contained only 16 cents.

Burglary of the laundry, discovered at about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning by L. T. Weed, engineer, netted the marauders only 16 pennies from the cash register, and the safe, containing only business papers.

"You tell those fellows," Sanders said last night, "to notify me the next time they want into my safe, and I will open it for them. I don't want them carting it off in one of my laundry trucks. And if they haven't opened it already, tell them there's no money in it."

The delivery car in which the safe was hauled away from the laundry office was found in the 1900-block of Twenty-First street, about two blocks away, with a flat tire on the right front wheel.

One of the first police officers to the robbery scene was Eubank. He was seeking finger prints. Instead he found that the burglars had used gloves and that a penciled note had been left for him.

The note was withheld from publication because of the implication of the four words it contained.

A rear door of the building had been pried open, it was revealed Wednesday morning. The safe was loaded into one of the laundry trucks housed inside the building and moved away.

WALKER TRIAL

money for him at times," Mr. Hilton replied.

He denied there ever being trouble when Mr. Brown would want some of his money and testified he knew nothing of Mr. Brown employing J. Frank Norfleet to help him get his money.

"Isn't it a fact that on the night of May 30, you and Mr. Brown were out there discussing some money of his, Mrs. Hilton had?" Kucera asked him.

"No," was Hilton's reply.

Always Friendly

On re-direct examination, Hilton said he had never had any differences with Mr. Brown in the nine years that he had known him and they were friendly at all times. He testified Mrs. Hilton and Mrs. Brown "made up" soon after their little difficulty and had been friends ever since.

He said he had seen large sums of Mr. Brown's money at times but hadn't noticed him carrying any of it in the past year or so. He testified he didn't know how much money he had the night of the killing.

Scott Heard Shot

S. S. Scott followed Mr. Hilton on the stand. He testified to hearing a shot after a dog's bark at the Hilton home a short distance from his filling station and then he heard noise as if someone was running. He said he heard a car start and that the motor was speeding fast as it went west with its lights out. He said he though the car was still in second gear as it passed beyond his hearing.

On cross examination, Scott said he didn't learn of the killing until the next morning and that he didn't hear any of the Hiltons say they could identify any of the men.

Wynona Norris and her father, R. C. Norris, were the next witnesses on the stand respectively, each testifying to hearing a car pass at a rapid rate of speed in front of the J. R. Bagley home three and three-quarter miles west of Woodrow. The girl said it was between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Defense made but little cross examination of the witnesses.

Heard Car Pass

G. W. Pierce also testified to hearing a car pass his house at a high rate of speed. He said "it had all it would take, was aflyin'" and nearly turned over as it made a turn at his house.

On cross examination, he said it must have been "about 9:15 or 9:20" when the car passed.

Joe Rieger testified to finding a .380 automatic pistol in a lake several miles west of Woodrow and identified the gun exhibited in court. He also told of finding five cartridges in the magazine and one in the barrel after the gun had been taken from the water. The gun and the shells were offered in evidence by the state after defense had raised an objection.

On cross examination, Rieger said he hadn't seen Jess Covington and Hugh Walker at the Hilton hotel that night. He also said he didn't know who owned the pistol found in the lake.

[illegible] had but taken the [illegible] hours.

KIWANIANS HEAR RED CROSS TALK

Kiwanis members at their weekly luncheon program at Hotel Lubbock today heard a discussion of the work of the Red Cross from an international and local viewpoint. Miss I. O. Hendricks national worker, was principal speaker. The Rev. Walter P. Jennings, secretary of the Lubbock chapter, introduced Miss Hendricks.

In the last six years Lubbock county has paid $1,072.50 to the national Red Cross, the speaker said. Two carloads of flour have been distributed locally, she said, and 14,000 yards of material to be made into winter clothes have been ordered from the government.

A drive for membership will be held here from Armistice Day until Thanksgiving, it was announced. K. L. Riggs is chairman of the drive.

stand and was beginning his version of how Mr. Brown was shot when defense objected to his using Walker's name in the testimony. Court recessed at this point for the noon hour.

State testimony is expected to be concluded this afternoon after which the defense parade of witnesses will start.

Indications were this morning that the case would not get to the jury until Monday or Tuesday. Defense counsel had not indicated how many witnesses would be put on the stand in Walker's behalf.

Walker himself may take the stand, it has been intimated, and his testimony is expected to cover

How MUCH you get in a Long Distance call

"Yes, I found your sweater . . . I'll mail it tomorrow. Just a moment, Dad wants to talk."

Children at school . . .

It does get lonesome with Mary (or Bob) away at school . . . but regular visits by long distance are almost like having the family actually together. Telephone visits keep the children from getting homesick or discouraged . . . and they bring a lot of pleasure and satisfaction to the folks back home.

Call after 8:30 at night . . . that's when rates on station-to-station calls are lowest. Or have the children call you. Charges may be reversed, if you wish.

Emergencies . . .

"Hello Mary . . . this is Dad . . . Mother will have the operation tomorrow. Now, there's nothing to worry about . . . Dr. Clark is sure she'll get along fine."

In emergencies, a long distance call saves worry and delay. You explain things in your own words, without causing needless alarm. Special arrangements often necessary at such times are easily and quickly made.

Invitations . . .

"Drive over this week end. We'd love to have you."

Invite out-of-town friends by telephone. It's a cordial, personal way.

Congratulations . . .

"Great stuff, Harry! When's the happy day?"

When there is an announcement . . . birthday . . . wedding . . . graduation . . . anniversary . . . sending your good wishes by long distance carries just the right touch of warmth and sincerity. It's a flattering attention that everybody appreciates.

"Glad you like your new roommate . . ."

How to place the call

An inexpensive way to use long distance is to call "station-to-station" after 8:30 at night. A station-to-station call is one on which you talk to anyone who answers.

If you know the number, service is faster. Just tell Long Distance "Give me Collegetown, 142." If you don't know the number, say "Give me Collegetown. . . . I'll talk to anyone at Gregory Smith's residence, 1500 Blank Street."

Miss Long Distance is glad to tell you the rate to any point . . . whether you wish to place a call or not. Ask her.

BOLIN SLAYER GIVEN LIFE

LEE PEBWORTH MAKES GUILTY PLEA TO MURDER CHARGE

PORTALES, Oct. 6.—(Special)—Lee Pebworth, 60, indicted for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Harve Bolin of Plainview, Tex., pleaded guilty of second degree murder Wednesday afternoon and was sentenced to 99 years in the state penitentiary.

Similar charges against Joe Jones, Pebworth's son-in-law, and Stanley Hedrick, also indicted for the slaying, were dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Bolin was shot in a gun fight at the Pebworth ranch near here last August 20. With other Texas and New Mexico officers, he had gone to the ranch to arrest Pebworth who was indicted for robbery of a bank at Olton, Texas. A. C. Hunsaker and Jack Sullivan also were indicted on the bank robbery charge and were believed to have been in hiding at the ranch.

A group of men ran from the house as the officers approached and opened fire. Bolin was killed and R. L. Hollis, special deputy of Portales, was wounded.

Pebworth was wounded and later was captured after he fled in a car. Hedrick was with him but claimed Pebworth forced him to drive the machine. He said he had no part in the slaying. Jones also denied participating.

Sullivan was captured later in a gun fight with Sheriff Bob Crim of Lamb county, Texas, and other Texas and New Mexico officers at Mountainairs, N. M. He was wounded and later was returned to Texas on the bank robbery charge. No trace has been found of Hunsaker.

New York News Is On Five-Day Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Inauguration of a five day week without salary reductions was announced today by the News Syndicate Co., Inc., publishers of the News.

The new five day schedule will become effective at once in the editorial, advertising, circulation and auditing departments. Other departments not affected by contracts will be included in the five-day schedule as soon as details of reorganization can be worked out.

"It has been felt by the News for a long time that if the five day week were adopted generally by business, it would greatly relieve the unemployment situation and contribute to the improvement of business generally," the announcement said.

"On September 22, the News announced a cut of five per cent on all advertising rates as its contribution to better business through lower advertising costs."

MRS. HOOVER STEALS SHOW FROM HER HUSBAND ON VISIT TO FORMER HOME

BY BESS FURMAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

ON BOARD THE PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL, Oct. 6 (AP)—Most of the way back to Washington from the Iowa ovation, Mrs. Hoover shared in stations cheering for the president, but at Wooster, O., the president shared honors in a college yell given for Mrs. Hoover.

At all the stops but Wooster, President Hoover made the speech and Mrs. Hoover smiled and waved. At Wooster, Mrs. Hoover made the speech, and the president smiled and waved.

Three generations of her ancestry had helped to build that community.

Whole School Out

A cheer-leader mounted on school mates' shoulders led the "Wooster U" yell for Mrs. Hoover. The students had only 15 minutes notice the train would make a special stop, but the whole school was there, including President Wishart and his wife.

Lustily they joined in their alma mater song.

This is my college tune. Mrs. Hoover smiling explained to the president.

"I am so proud that I belong to you I am going to learn to sing that song," Mrs. Hoover said to the student crowd. "I'm coming out and stay a week—do you think I could learn it in a week? I'm so glad to have my husband known my student body."

From the car windows Mrs. Hoover could see the old cemetery at the edge of a grove where the names of her adventureous pioneer ancestors were marked on headstones.

Parents Born There

But huge aluminum sheds hid from her view the place close to the railroad where stood the little white colonial house where her mother, Florence Weed, was born. Charles Dean Henry, her father, also was born in Wooster, and did not migrate westward until after the death of his staunch old grandfather, the founder of the town.

No relative of hers lives in Wooster now, but the whole place is peopled with characters she learned to love as a small girl who asks of her elders, "tell me a story of when you were little."

The chief hero of these tales was Great-grandfather Henry, as a young lad surveyor in buckskin trousers and coonskin cap, who won the heart of a Quaker girl from Pennsylvania, Abigal Hunt, a spirited girl in her twenties, riding side-saddle.

Had Eight Children

Their children numbered eight, among them Mrs. Hoover's grandfather, also William. But the life-span of the pioneer Henry exceeded that of any of his sons or daughters.

Into the upbuilding of the town of Wooster he devoted his life-time, serving as judge and state legislator. Old Ohio deeds and land surveying records were part of the heritage he left for his children's children—on down to fourth generation Lou Henry Hoover, who lives in the White House.

Up to the last stop before the presidential party retired for the night, Mrs. Hoover continued her solicitude for the children in the station crowds. At Sewickley, Pa., where it was raining, she advised shivery little boys to go home and put on warm sweaters.

First Lady Knits

Mrs. Hoover had been knitting during the day on a white sweater for her own young nephew, Dell Large—sweater which had been the subject of much joking in the private car.

Mrs. Hoover had started it for her son, Herbert, but by following printed instructions to start with 270 stitches, she early found its chest measure would be 51 inches—so she turned it into a baby-rein and started again.

Mrs. Hoover was to spend just noe day in the White House before going to Virginia beach to attend the Friday sessions of the girl scout convention.

SWALLOWS POISON

BEAUMONT, Oct. 6 (AP)—Jack Lyons, about 40, formerly with Beaumont, Waco, and Fort Worth newspapers and most recently employed by a Dallas paper in the circulation department, died at 11 o'clock last night after swallowing several poison tablets. He was found in front of a rooming house here in severe pain and died about an hour later in a local hospital.

Yenri is a Japanese word meaning circle principle, and used to designate a crude kind of calculus invented possibly by Seki.

Yezidis was the name given to a sect known as Devil Worshipers found in Kurdistan, Armenia, and the Caucasus.

"Miss America," Etc.

This picture will give you a fair idea of the eye-filling sights which greeted visitors to Wildwood, N. J., the other day. Dorothy Hann (center), entered as "Miss Camden," was crowned "Miss America" at the annual Wildwood beauty pageant. Estelle Kurk (left), as "Miss New Jersey," and Mildred Johnson (right), as "Miss Georgia," were two of her comely competitors.

—when you require a tonic

...when you feel "tired out"..."all run-down"..."sluggish"..."listless"..."no appetite"—it is then time to pause and consider what may be the cause of this condition. If you suspect an organic or functional trouble of a serious nature consult a physician at once.

But if your vital organs are sound and you have thru overwork, worry, unbalanced diet, working conditions, "bad air," lack of proper exercise, unconsciously reduced your vitality and resistance, then restore your vital red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content so that your blood and tissues may have the oxygen to purify and strengthen your body.

For decades S.S.S. has been the preferred tonic for restoring hemoglobin to the red-cells of the blood. Start to rebuild now. You will surprise yourself. S.S.S. is on sale at all drug stores in two convenient sizes—the larger is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks' treatment.

SALVATION ARMY TO STAGE DRIVE HERE SATURDAY

Needy persons come to the Salvation Army headquarters at 1404 Texas avenue daily. Some are hungry, some are cold, some have no place to sleep. Some of them are women and children. Last week the Salvation Army here gave 112 meals and sheltered 146 persons overnight, despite extremely limited building facilities, beds and foodstuffs. A campaign to bolster the agency's meager supply of necessities has Saturday as its red-letter day.

Through the civic service committee of the Lubbock Boy Scout unit, sponsor of a food-apparel drive scheduled for Saturday for the Salvation Army, an appeal was repeated for persons willing to drive or otherwise lend their automobiles to notify Cole Hall. The Salvation Army, of which Capt. W. T. Wilson is commander, is in immediate need of canned goods and food staples, clothing, cots and sleeping accessories, he said. The automobiles are needed to transport Boy Scouts, who will collect bundles of donations and take the addresses of persons willing to donate cots. Donators are asked to put their bundles on their porches.

The Salvation Army Wednesday night heard of cotton growers needing pickers and unemployed persons wanting to pull bolls. Wednesday afternoon, six persons had been sent to a farmer who had asked for pickers. Jobless persons willing to pick cotton were invited to inform the Army headquarters. C. A. Dickerson has charge of the registration. He expressed hope farmers would respond to the Army's attempt to expedite meeting of growers and pickers.

NEGROES HERE UNMOLESTED

DESPITE WARNING TO LEAVE NO TROUBLE IS REPORTED

Despite warnings from white men that last night was deadline for negroes living between Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets on the west side of Avenue C to move, no disturbances in the section were reported to police.

Chief of Police Wiley Metcalfe said he did not expect any "trouble there," and Max Coleman, a Lubbock lawyer, who owns most of the property in the area and who had told the negroes to remain at their homes, said he believed the difficulty "has blown over."

Whites have complained that the blacks were encroaching on sections in which white persons were living.

MARKET WEEK IS CONCLUDED HERE

A sixth semi-annual West Texas Wholesale Clothers' market and institute conducted in connection with it were closed Wednesday. One hundred 25 Lubbock merchants and their employes attended the final session of the institute and heard W. H. Stanley and E. F. Anderson, both of Dallas, discuss merchandising problems.

John Halsey and Altus Sansom, members of the institute attendance committee, received two football tickets for having the best percentage of attendance from persons they were to have invited to the institute last night.

RAW FURY

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Meissonier's famous painting (1855)... inspired by the savage passion held in check by Henry IV's stern edict against duels among the nobles of his court.

Copr., 1932, The American Tobacco Co.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
