Emerson prison dead issue

Answer line...

Q. What is the advantage and disadvantage of having the school board election a plurality rather than majority vote? What kind of election is the hospital and city? If the people were to want to change to a majority vote, how could this be done? Please explain the meaning of plurality and majority.?

A. According to Mr. Webster, a majority is a number greater than half of a total. Majority rule is constituted by fifty percent plus one or more of an organized group. A plurality is a number of votes cast for a candidate in a contest of more than two candidates that is greater than the number cast for any other candidate, but not more than half the total votes cast.

The School, City and Hospital all have elections-at-large. Thus, if two or three places are open, they are filled with the two or three highest vote-getters. There are no run-offs. To change there would have to be a change by vote of the people in the entity's charter, establishing specific seats to be selected by majority vote.

CHS Band Wins First Division

DIVISION I PERFORMANCE - The Colorado High School Wolf Band, under the direction of David Sims and Bob Newman, marched its way to a first division (superior) performance during University Interscholastic League marching competition in Abilene Saturday morning at Shotwell Stadium. The band, under the field direction of Jody Webb, was one of four class AAA bands to receive a first division. Of the four, Breckenridge was selected to advance to regional competition. Other top performances were turned in by Wylie and Coahoma. Merkel and Clyde each received a second division rating.

Risk, credit rating burden too great for City, County

For all intent and purpose, the Emerson Private Prison is a dead issue, if City or County financial backing is a requirement.

At the special City Council meeting Monday night, the law firm of Thompson, Rees & McKinney, representing the City, expressed the opinion that although the Emerson proposal might be worked out legally, the major practical obstacle from the City's perspective would be the negative effect it would have on the City's bond rating. The attorneys pointed out that even if the project was a success, and the finance company took all the risks, the City's financial position would be tied up for a period of 15 years until the $17.3 million obligation was paid off.

A similar position was taken by County Attorney Clay Strange earlier in Mitchell County's behalf.

Thus, local officials pursued the project, proposed by Sonny Emerson in late August, to the point that it appeared unfeasible to proceed any further.

The door has not been shut, however, on future prospects for a prison to be located here. The City Council passed a resolution authorizing and welcoming any prison proposal negotiations. The resolution stated that "... the City looks forward to furthering its economic growth through efforts to locate a prison in Colorado City ... and willing to work with any entrepreneur or the State of Texas in future prison plans contingent upon the developer of the state demonstrating a reasonable expectation of financial success and improvement of the quality of life for our citizens." The resolution went on to say that "such plans must be consistent with good business practices thereby enabling the City of Colorado City to enter into an agreement without jeopardizing the credit worthiness and its committment to long range goals for the City."

The Council passed another resolution supporting efforts to secure a Regional Prison Facility with the State of Texas. Both the

Thackerson named to council

After a bout with parliamentary procedures and alternative suggestions, the Colorado City Council appointed Rex Thackerson to fill the unexpired term of Phil Anderson, but learned of another possible resignation, at its special meeting Monday night.

Thackerson, 28, is the local manager of Landmark Cablevision. He and his wife, Mary and children Matt, 6, and Jamie, 2 1/2, have been residents of Colorado City since May, 1985.

After nominations to fill the vacancy bogged down and the appointment action tabled at the regular meeting two weeks ago, Mayor Jim Baum suggested that the appointment remain tabled permanently, and let the position be filled by the voters in the next City election in May. But Councilman Dan Johns felt that this was not proper parliamentary procedure and the tabled action would have to be taken care of.

Councilman Robert Hoback, who had nominated Earl Plagens at the last meeting said that if the "conflict of interest" provisions of the City Charter prevented a Councilman from doing any business with the City, he would be forced to resign. If that be the case, and two vacancies exist, the Council would have to call a special election within 45 days to fill the vacancies.

The Council, in general, felt that this would be a needless expense with the regular election only six months or so away.

Johns suggested the Council go into closed executive session to discuss the problem, but he was advised that such was also prohibited by the City Charter.

Councilman Tom Carlock said he felt that an appointment should be made at this time and that he had another nominee he would like to submit.

After reviewing parliamentary

Trick or Treat bags in this issue

Special "Trick or Treat" bags for local children have been inserted in this issue of TheRecord.

The colorful bags, offering some "McGruff's" tips have been furnished by First Western Savings of Colorado City.

The bags will be received by all subscribers of The Record and distributed throughout Mitchell County.

Saturday night has been designated as the official Trick or Treat night, and should be concluded by 10 p.m. Colorado City Police Department will have extra officers on duty and all local residents are urged watchout for the little Trick-or-Treaters.

Hospital ends fiscal year in the 'black'

Mitchell County Hospital ended its fiscal year Sept. 30 with a net profit of $431,500, the hospital district board of managers was told Tuesday night.

Richard Murphy, assistant administrator and comptroller, said the $400,000 gain for the year reflects "the good progress we've made in the last three years."

Murphy said that for the year, the hospital was $11,000 under budget in total expenses.

The hospital-district owned nursing home, Valley Fair Lodge, ended the year with a net profit of $23,600 after operations supplements of $89,500.

In other business, the board approved a number of items required at the beginning of each fiscal year, Administrator Ray Mason explained. Those items included physician reappointment, review of contracts for services and renewal of the swingbed program. Mason said the bylaws will need to be renewed at a later date.

The board approved the lone bid of AT&T in the amount of $2,694 for a new telephone system for the nursing home. AT&T had an alternate bid for a higher

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "Plot no evil against your friend, your unsuspecting neighbour." Proverbs 3:29

I had a son born on October 31, so Hallowe'en has always been an extra special occasion in my family. What better time could there be for a kid's birthday party than on Hallowe'en? I'll never forget that wild, late night 120-mile drive, 27 years ago, from Van Horn to El Paso to the nearest hospital, dodging trick-or-treaters, trash barrels, outside johns, etc. enroute on old Highwy 80. And then a return trip home in the wee hours of the morning to get the paper "put to bed". But what a proud day.

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, The obscure we see eventually, the completely apparent takes a little longer.

Because of a growing number of accidents and crimes involving children, parents are warned to be more cautious about how their children enjoy Hallowe'en. Home and school supervised parties and carnivals are safer for children. Activities can be planned for safety and should there be an accident, help is available.

But if your kids do go trick-or-treating, the State Health Department has given a few tips to reduce the number of hazards:

- Children should not eat any treats before bringing them home for examination.
- Costumes should be made of brightly colored, fire-resistant materials with some fluorescent or reflective tape on it. Make-up, instead of masts, is recommended for clear vision. Hats should be securely attached, and shoes should fit well to prevent stumbles.
- An adult or older child should always accompany small children and show the way with a flashlight.
- Children should not enter the home of anyone they do not know, and they should stop only at homes with outside lighting.
- Children should stay out of the street, and never run between parked cars, nor through yards or sidewalks. Hard-to-see objects often are lying in the grass or walks that can't be seen.

Homeowners who expect trick-or-treaters should turn on a porch light, and be sure the lawn is cleared of objects. They should keep jack-o-lanterns and candles away from doorsteps to prevent igniting a costume.

Have a safe, fun Hallowe'en!

COUNCIL

procedures, the previously tabled action was called back up for consideration. Then Hoback withdrew his nomination of Plagens, and Johns withdrew his nomination of Carroll Gary, whose service was in doubt due to reported family illness.

Then Carlock nominated Thackerson, who he said was willing to serve on the Council. The Council accepted the nomination and Thackerson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

After a review of the conflict of interest provisions of the Charter presented by Mark Piland, Councilman Don Webb's service as a reserve city police officer was not considered in conflict with the Charter.

The City Charter Review Committee, comprised of four past mayors, was scheduled to meet on Tuesday to consider possible changes to the Home Rule City Charter which might levitate some of the problems faced by the Council.

Mayor Baum said the question of Hoback's resignation could not be considered until placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

With that out of the way, the Council moved on to the private prison action, which is reported in another story in this issue.

AMBULANCE SERVICE

The Council had planned to hear a report by Ray Mason and Richard Murphy on the status of the Mitchell County Ambulance Service. However, Hoback, who is the City's representative on the ambulance service board, indicated they wanted to wait two weeks in order to complete the report and hopefully have the audit available.

On City Manager Brenda Tarter's recommendation, the Council agreed to renew a contract with CPA Joe Morren to serve as City auditor.

CEMETERY

Prior to the special meeting, the Council gathered at the City Cemetery to view improvements that have been made the past year and consider some recomendations made by the Cemetery Board.

After the visit, the Council agreed to close east-west roads running laterally in the southern part of the Cemetery and make the space available for new cemetery lots. In the new permanent care section, a work day will be scheduled next week to align the markers and one person will be appointed to oversee their placement in the future.

All members of the Council were present for the meeting.

Man arrested in stolen car

A 28-year-old man believed to be from Arlington was detained in Las Cruces, N.M. Tuesday after he was stopped in a car reported stolen in Mitchell County either Monday night or early Tuesday morning, Sheriff Wendell Bryant said.

Bryant said a warrant for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was issued against the man, John Wedel Schug, by Justice of the Peace Ruby Claxton and that the sheriff's office will follow extradition proceedings.

Bryant said the man was stopped at 11:34 a.m. Tuesday 15 miles west of Las Cruces at a Border Patrol check station.

The car, a 1982 Oldsmobile, had been reported stolen from T&T Transports in Westbrook sometime between 9 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday. Also, two semi-trucks parked at the transport company were burglarized. Deputy O.D. Majors is investigating the case after receiving a call at 7:14 a.m. Tuesday.

The Colorado City Police Department is also investigating a stolen vehicle.

Lt. Pat Taylor said Jose Franco, 83, reported a 1976 Plymouth missing from his residence Monday at 3 p.m. The car is gray with a maroon vinyl top. Taylor said there is a suspect in the case but the car has not yet been recovered.

Though popular for many years, "The Star Spangled Banner" did not become the national anthem until 1931.

PRISON

City and County Attorneys have recommended that although the process for a State facility is highly political and highly competitive, it is certainly within the realm of possibility. Although current application deadlines have passed it still may be possible to seek a private prison under the State guidelines, or a State-built facility if the Legislature appropriates money in the 1989 bienium budget.

Since Snyder and Scurry County are currently finalist for a State Prison facility, the Council also passed a resolution to show support of that project.

Sonny Emerson called The Record Tuesday morning, to asked about what action the City had taken. When told, he said, "Please pass on to the people of Colorado City and Mitchell County my thanks for the opportunity to present my proposal, and I wish them well in future endeavors."

priced system, but Mason said the lower priced system suits the need better.

The board also approved a $70,000 bid from B&D X-Ray of Fort Worth for refurbished X-ray equipment for the hospital. Other bidders included Picker, $96,000 for a refurbished unit; and Seaman's, $133,000 for a new unit.

The board also approved a year-end report from the Home Health Agency as presented by Kristine Riojas, R.N., B.S.N., director.

Board members Jay Craddock and Gus Armstrong were appointed to committees to work with Mason and Murphy concerning hospital billing procedures and to study hospitalization insurance coverage for employees.

Mason reported that the hospital and St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock are pleased with the helicopter service provided by the Lubbock hospital for paitents who need to be transferred quickly to the Lubbock facility. Mason said the Kelley Elementary playground will continue to be used as a landing site and that an altnerative entrance near the school cafeteria parking lot into the playground will be used to avoid the ambulance from having to "jump" a curb in order to gain access to the area.

Bid center helps local companies

The Permian Basin Bid Center is organized as a not-for-profit corporation with the objective of assisting local companies to obtain government contracts. The bid center operates from offices located at the Midland International Airport with a service area the same as the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission's 17-county area.

The bid center operates as an informational, educational source designed to help companies cut through the red tape of government contracting. Procurement assistance is available from identification of services and products being purchased by the various government buying agencies to providing government specifications and regulations needed for preparing bids.

Call the bid center at 915 563-1711 for more information on questions about government spending.

Fall teacher banquet set

The Colorado City Classroom Teacher's Association will be hosting the second annual Fall Teacher Banquet on Thursday, Nov. 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the middle school cafeteria.

Keynote speaker will be Rev. Jerry Kunkel of Amarillo, an ordained Methodist minister, who is now involved in full-time motivational speaking as well as serving as an active revivalist minister. Kunkel spoke at the 1987 State CTA convention in Austin attended by local teachers Kitten Arthur, Rojean Hicks, Walt Staats and Karan Johns. Kunkel's style is described as humorous but having a message as well.

Special guests for this year's banquet include Wendell Wittenburg from Sweetwater, state CTA president; Linda Montgomery from Sweetwater, CTA state director; and Francine Allen from Snyder, CTA state director.

Entertainment will be the fourth act from "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" by Robert Anderson (entitled "I'm Herbert"). It will be performed by Carl and Marsha Moore.

David Stubblefield will be catering the barbecue meal. Cost of tickets are $7.50 for the public and $5 for CTA members and their spouses. Reservations need to be made by Friday, Oct. 30. Call Debbie Blair at 728-3424 for ticket information.

Dress for the occasion will be western.

The public is invited to attend.

AARP presented program about generic drugs

The Mitchell County American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) No. 1461 met Monday, Oct. 19, in the C.C. Thompson Room for its regular luncheon and meeting.

Mrs. Dona Reed, president, presided. Invocation was given by Beeman Dockrey.

The tables were decorated in a Halloween motif.

Velma Moseley presided over the drawing for Susan B. Anthony dollars, a gift from Raymond and Virginia Fuller.

The president introduced the guest speaker, Eddie Piland, pharmacist, who spoke on generic drugs, brand name drugs and drug laws as well as senior citizen discount programs.

Juanita Coker made and displayed a poster with the AARP motto which is "To Serve, Not to be Served".

It was reported that a defensive driving class for senior citizens has been scheduled at the Wallace Center to be held in October.

Faye Spivey invited all members to the coffee that the Business and Professional Women are having honoring working women.

The president told about a new program that will be coming soon, sponsored by the Mitchell County Hospital. It is called Senior Class.

The president closed with this thought for the day: "You can make more friends in two minutes by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to get people interested in you."

Members present were Fannie Cooper, Velma Mosely, Eddie Barclay, Arnel Smith, Pearl Wood, Eldon Smith, Addie Smith, Eleanar Jeffries, Faye Spivey, Margaret Oyler, Jewel Younger, Bertha Minor, Lonie Pruitt, Velma Pond, Garvice Craghead, Addie Richardson, Elnora Barber, Dona Reed, Shorty Pace, Edna Pace, Ruby Cawthron, Marie Feaster, Muriel Thurman, Beeman Dockrey, Juanita Schafer, L.O. Wildflower program discussed

Steve Patton, landscape architect employed by the Texas Highway and Transportation Department in Odessa, was guest speaker Wednesday afternoon at a combined meeting of the Garden Club and Retired Teachers Association.

The meeting was held at the Hesperian Room of the Mitchell County Public Library.

Betsy Aycock, Garden Club vice president and program chairman, introduced the speaker, a graduate of Texas Tech University. He supervised beautification and wildflower planting on highways from Abilene to El Paso and from Abilene to Del Rio.

Colorful slides of 45 wildflower varities were shown and commented on by the speaker who said West Texas has many of the species shown.

Ground and ground covering were a part of his information. Patton said a county can plan with THD and secure matched funding. Sweetwater is in such a beautification program.

"Employees of THD watch carefully for erosion, serious blight and causes," he said. "Infestations of many kinds are tended to."

The speaker answered many questions from the audience which included root spread or take over of several kinds of flowers such as lantana and wild petunia. "The hardier, the greater take over," he said.

Patton gave each person a slogan "Don't Mess with Texas", a shopping bag with the same "catch words" and a new colored brochure with Texas wildflowers.

After the program, members were served coffee and cookies from a table laid with a silk orange scarf, centered with a Halloween witch. Napkins carried out the motif.

Attending were Dovie Brownfield, Alice Coles, Louise Decovic, Nadine Gordon, Bernice Hilliard, Dorothy Johnson, Marjorie Kolman, Gene Rowe and Betsy Aycock.

Also, Nell Palmer, Genevieve Moore, Clara Shoemaker, Mary Ellis, Minnie Lee Moore, Janine Bodine, Frances Cooper, Lucy Thomas, Mabel Merritt and Iris Preston.

Also, Joy Dickenson, Nancy Mayo, Alma Smith, Fern Coon, Frank Brownfield and the speaker, Steve Patton.

Letters to the editor

School buses

TO THE EDITOR: Why do people do foolish things that could result in serious injuries or even death? Why do people choose to ignore the law and do what they are not supposed to do? As drivers of Colorado Independent School District school buses, we are very concerned with the lack of attention local motorists pay to state laws concerning school buses and general safe driving practices.

The 1987-88 school year is less than eight weeks old and there have already been innumerable close calls and near misses. Please read the following reminders concerning how to respond to school buses on the road:

1. NEVER pass a school bus (from any direction) when its RED lights are flashing. Students are either loading or unloading and are very likely to be crossing the road at any second. REMEMBER...they are children and don't always think to look both ways before crossing the street.

2. ALWAYS be ready to come to a complete stop when you approach a bus with AMBER lights flashing. This bus is about to stop for loading or unloading passengers. There are probably going to be children in the immediate area.

3. ALWAYS drive slowly and with caution in the vicinity of schools. Don't pass buses that are loading or unloading students EVEN IF THE LIGHTS ARE NOT FLASHING! The law does not require a bus to display its lights when loading or unloading in a marked school zone.

4. REMEMBER traffic laws when driving and allow enough time to reach your destination without doing anything illegal like passing a school bus in a no-passing zone...those stripes on the road are there for a very good reason.

5. If a bus driver sees a car breaking any traffic law that pertains to the safety of the children aboard his/her bus, he/she will turn the license number and a description of the vehicle in to the proper authorities.

These are just a few reminders. Please think of them each time you see a school bus or drive near a school. It would be truly a tragedy if we all became concerned with the safety of our children AFTER a horrible accident. Let's keep our children safe.

Sincerely,
David Shelton
and the CISD bus drivers

Program explained

TO THE EDITOR: There are countless programs that the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsor and participate in each year. One of those programs that I would like to tell you and your readers about is the VFW National Home located in Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

The VFW National Home is a loving, breathing memorial built out of love by generations of members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary.

The VFW National Home, Inc. is a private non-profit organization that provides a campus-based environment to a wide range of children, sibling groups and single parent families needing residential services. Its purpose is to serve needy dependent children and grandchildren of the membership of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary without regard to race, creed, or economic status. Founded in 1925, the VFW National Home is funded almost exclusively by contributions from the membership. The Home is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

The resident population ranges from 75 to 125, including the dependent parent/child and students at college/trade school.

The residential program provides traditional group care to individual children and sibling groups in an open campus setting. The Home specializes in a small staff: child ratio supportive of building the long-term relationships needed by our children. Group size in each home is limited to a maximum of six and is frequently kept to as few as 3 or 4. The permanency of positive relationships is the key to their work with children.

Their unique natural family program brings needy, single parent families from around the country to the campus. They become involved in a goal-oriented, supportive community. Family members receive training, counseling and guidance in areas vital to positive and independent family functioning.

The children are recommended to the Home by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary.

Each year the Wilson Wyatt VFW Post 9178 Ladies Auxiliary purchases a Life Membership to the Home for a deserving member as their way of supporting the Home and the ideas it stands for.

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to tell you of this program.

Nellie Bunch

Thanks extended

City Police Chief
Colorado City, Texas

Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you and your officers for their alert police work in recovering my stolen mini-motor home on October 11, 1987 at your headquarters. In spite of a slight error in the license number in the computer system, your men noted the vehicle was the same as in the system. Please send this letter to your local paper.

The senior class will be serving hamburgers, burritos, nachos, hot dogs, pie, cake, coffee, tea and Coke during the carnival.

Other booths, sponsored by each class, include duck dunk, jail, pie throw, cork gun shoot-out, ring toss, confetti eggs, ball toss, basketball throw, number wheel, dart throw, auction and many others.

Mrs. Preston hosts Baumann club meeting

The Baumann TEHA club met in the home of Mrs. Vada Preston on Thursday, Oct. 22.

Mrs. Pauline Smiley led the group in reading the club prayer. Mrs. Clara Butler led recreation, asking the question "Did You Know?".

Roll call was answered with each one present naming their favorite food.

The minutes were approved as read and Mrs. Berta Faye Snyder gave the council report. She noted there will be a health program Oct. 29 at the C.C. Thompson Room.

The club decided for its November meeting to eat Thanksgiving dinner at the Cree-Mee in Loraine.

Plans were made to have lunch and a Christmas tree at the home of Mrs. Inez Webb Dec. 15. Gifts will be exchanged.

Mrs. Snyder presented the program on diet and its relationship to disease.

Refreshments of sandwich plates, hot apple juice and coffee were served to Bertha Faye Snyder, Inez Webb, Pauline Smiley, Clara Butler, Lynn Compton, Gladys Payne and Era Mae Cornutt.

Loan 'brokers' thrive on hard times

When hard times hit an area, scavengers often are not far behind. These unscrupulous operators prey on the misery of desperate people by offering "miraculous" solutions to those with financial difficulties.

Latley many Texans have been hit by hard times, especially farmers, ranchers and people who work in the petroleum industry. Those who are financially strapped must be particularly on the lookout for these con artists.

One kind of predator that plagued Texas in the early 1980s and that is beginning to reappear, is the so-called loan "broker". Loan brokers claim to have contacts with financial institutions across the nation and that they can find lenders who will give you a long-term loan. All they ask is an application fee - usually $250-$300 - and a registration fee - usually $50-$100 - and they will canvas their network until they find someone who will lend you the money.

Loan brokers are new to an area. They set up shop in an economically distressed region and begin looking for likely prospects. They place ads in the business opportunities listings of the classified section in the local newspapers. They frequently send salespeople to farms, small businesses and others who look as though a long-term loan would be the answer to their prayers. Word of mouth is one of their most effective methods of marketing their "services" - people who sign up are encouraged to tell their friends and acquaintances.

Obviously, the loan broker's pitch is very seductive to someone in financial distress. Farmers who are about to lose the land they have worked all their lives, people who have fallen behind on mortgage payments or owners of small businesses with bankruptcy staring them in the face, can all be susceptible to the broker's ptich.

But like most things too good to be true, the loan broker's promise of ready cash is as empty as a harlot's smile. The usual pattern is for brokers to operate in an area for six weeks to two months. They can stay this long because they can claim that they are trying to locate lenders. Then one morning, they are gone. They vanish without a trace, taking application and registration fees and leaving no way to take action against them.

No matter how appealing the offer or how trustworthy the representative or broker seems to be, do not apply for a loan from anyone new to the area.

The Opti-Ms. Club has begun its annual toy drive for Christmas. Persons wishing to donate toys may phone Lulu Boyd at 728-8383 or Becky Manning at 728-8891 or any other member and they will be happy to pick up donations.

Toys and donations should be for children through 13 years old. These toys will be distributed to children in Mitchell County. The Opti-Ms. Club works with other oganizations to try and insure that the toys are given to needy families with children.

Old and new toys will greatly be appreciated.

Crockett is awarded medal

Air Force Capt. Bruce A. Corckett, son of William B. and Louella Crockett of Colorado City, has been decorated with the meritorious service medal at Reese Air Force Base, Texas.

The medal is awarded specifically for outstanding non-combat meritorious achievement or service to the United States.

Crockett is an instructor pilot trainee with the 35th Flying Training Squadron.

He is a 1977 graduate of Angelo State University, San Angelo.

Levesques attend cleaning seminar

Ed and Yolanda Levesque, owners of Pioneer Maintenance, have just returned from a two-day carpet cleaning seminar in Amarillo.

Subjects covering upholstery fabrics, cleaning solutions, the new stain-resistant fibers used in many carpets and how to properly clean and maintain them, as well as deodorization in homes and commercial buildings were some of the subjects studied in depth.

"We are returning home more knowledgable about our cleaning industry and now better prepared to handle the needs of the people of Mitchell County," said Levesque.

Health program is scheduled

The public is invited to attend a health program sponsored by the Mitchell County Extension Homemakers in the C.C. Thompson Room of City National Bank on Thursday, Oct. 29, at 2 p.m.

Charla Cain, R.N., B.S.N., will present a program on Medication - Menace or Miracle?". Mrs. Cain is the program chairman for the vocational nursing at Texas State Technical Institute at Sweetwater.

Kristine Riojas, R.N., B.S.N., director of Mitchell County Home Health Agency, will speak on "Services provided by Home Health Care".

IN SEARCH OF THE GREAT PUMPKIN

Visitors to Mitchell County Hospital earlier this week found a lobby full of pumpkins - not ordinary pumpkins, but pumpkins decorated for Halloween with a medical motif.

Hospital Administrator Ray Mason said various hospital departments decorated the pumpkins. A contest was to be held to decide which ones were the scariest, the most original, etc.

The pumpkins are to be taken to Valley Fair Lodge so that the nursing home patients might enjoy them, said Mason.

The pumpkins were furnished by Fuller Foods and Ben E. Keith Co. of Abilene.

Wolves headed east

Showdown Time is at 8 PM in Abilene Friday.

The Colorado City Wolves have held their own destiny since off-season workouts last spring. Months of preparation have put the Wolves exactly where they want to be-in position to claim the district 5AAA football title.

The Wolves, 6-2 for the year, own a 4-1 district record for first place along with Abilene Wylie and Ballinger. At least one of the three will no longer be at the top after tomorrow night.

The Red and Black of Colorado High School will be at Abilene Wylie tomorrow while the Bearcats take on the Coahoma Bulldogs.

Not since 1984 has a Colorado City vs Wylie contest been of such significance. The winner still has to win next week to be assured of a playoff spot. The loser will no longer control destiny.

Wylie, 5-3, is riding high behind an offense that has taken consecutive last-minute wins over Ballinger and Sonora. The Wolves have the offense to match-if not better-the Bulldogs while the Colorado City defense has established itself as the greediest in 5AAA.

After handing Ballinger it's first district loss in years by storming back for a 42-41 the Bulldogs last week kicked a 19 yard yard field goal with 35 seconds left to beat Sonora 17-15.

Senior tailback/safety Mike Chapman received Associated Press School Boy Honor Roll mention for his part in the Bulldogs' upset of Ballinger and his foot supplied the winning points last week. Chapman scored two touchdowns against Sonora, kicked both extra points in addition to the field goal and finished with 71 yards on 18 carries.

"He's playing well," said Wolves coach Tom Ramsey. "He's the running back that makes it happen for them. They've been able to throw it, run it and score a lot of points on people. Anytime you can score 42 points against Ballinger you've accomplished something."

Only Brady has scored more points in district play than Wylie.

"It could have gone either way in the Wylie and Sonora game," said Ramsey. "You go down to Sonora and beat Sonora you've accomplished something. They did what they had to do to win. That's the mark of a good team."

The Bulldogs return 6 offensive and 7 defensive starters from last year. Besides Chapman, who scored on a 23 yarder in Wylie's 14-0 win over Colorado City last season, the Bulldogs return offensively three linemen and running back Shane Jones. Seven different players return on defense.

Jay Jones, 6'6" 220 pounds, has been converted from center and defensive end. "He's a tight end and they move him around defensively," said Ramsey. "They had him at linebacker last week but he's played noseguard and defensive end."

"They've had some last minute scoring," said Ramsey. "Maybe their luck's run out. I hope so." Colorado City certainly has the team capable of stopping the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs will face a Wolves defense that has given up the fewest points of all district teams. Colorado City is plus 9 in turnovers and has allowed only a 37 percent completion rate for opposing passing games. The Wolves have allowed 120 more return yards than they've run for. Linebackers Victor Luera and Jerry Bob Hulme, free safety Mark Russell and cornerback Ricky Arispe are the leading tacklers with 83, 78, 76 and 70 tackles, respectively.

"I guess you could say we've got the number one defense," said Ramsey.

The Wolves have made 3 comebacks of their own and the defense and offensive units share the credit. "We can do it when we have to," said Ramsey.

Junior fullback Beau Rees has gained over 1000 yards behind a veteran offensive line that has allowed only three sacks of quarterback Ismael Silva. Sophomore running back Pat Tillis has added 537. He and Rees are averaging 5.9 and 5.8 yards, respectively.

The Wolves have taken 9 more turnovers that they've given up. "That's been the key to the success of our season," said Ramsey, "elimination of turnovers in large quantities. Ismael is having an excellent year and that's been a big key."

Silva has completed 35 of 75 passes thrown with only 3 interceptions. One was the Wolves' last play in the 14-7 loss to Ballinger. The second occurred on the third play of the second half in Colorado City's 25-10 win over Coahoma but it was followed by consecutive interceptions by cornerback Chris Perkin and strong safety Cary Ritchey. The third interception was a 'gimme on the last play of the first half during the Wolves' 27-7 Homecoming win over Merkel.

The Wolves lost the ball 6 times against Wylie last year but if the Wolves keep up their 1987 showing the Bulldogs might not ever be in position to make another comeback. "We're healthy, they're healthy," said Ramsey. "It's going to be a good game."

Gambling is an addiction, as serious as cocaine or alcoholism. And 10% of those who try gambling will become addicted.

What does that mean for Texas? Well, compulsive gamblers are responsible for 17% of wife abuse and 13% of child abuse. They commit a full 40% of white-collar crime. A shocking 86% admit to committing felony crimes while pursuing their addiction.

Add it up yourself. Gambling is a bad bet for Texas.

Let's talk.
Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Area Manager-Community Relations

Economic development. It's a big buzzword in Texas these days.

Partnership. It's a big deal with business today.

Partners in economic development. That's how I would describe Southwestern Bell Telephone's relationship with the people of Texas. The two go hand-in-hand.

Our partnership on the community front is proof enough. On countless occasions, I have witnessed Southwestern Bell Telephone employees working with members of their communities to support civic projects ranging from seat-belt awareness or crime watch campaigns to a city's downtown beautification drive.

Today, as concerned partners, Southwestern Bell Telephone employees are rolling up their sleeves again — this time to help remedy the state's current economic crisis.

For instance, many employees are volunteering their time on the grassroots level as leaders and members of civic organizations. In this way, they are helping to shape their communities' economic future — both on and off the job.

But that's not all. Southwestern Bell Telephone also supports economic development efforts in many other ways:

- Southwestern Bell Telephone underwrote a major State Chamber of Commerce survey which questioned some 1,000 business executives to determine their concerns and opinions regarding the future of Texas.
  Among the issues covered by the survey were economic problems, taxation, business-related legislation and factors associated with attracting new businesses to Texas. Findings were distributed to the governor, legislators and other decision makers.
- The company has partially funded the Cities Analysis and Planning program operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (part of the Texas A&M system) in several small Texas towns. By surveying community leaders and citizens, Extension Service planners identify a town's economic strengths and weaknesses, and then offer suggestions to improve civic services.
- As a strong supporter of the Texas educational system, Southwestern Bell Telephone knows that the state's future rests with an informed and educated labor pool. For that reason, the company is involved in "Communities in Schools," a program aimed at harnessing the serious dropout epidemic.
- Jim Adams, president of Southwestern Bell Telephone's Texas Division, co-chairs the governor's Business Development and Jobs Creation Task Force, comprised of 72 Texas business leaders. This task force proposed more than 30 recommendations aimed at stimulating job growth in the state.
  The 70th Texas Legislature passed several bills related to these recommendations. Perhaps the biggest victory was the establishment of the Department of Commerce which creates a single, statewide focus on economic development.

As your involved and concerned partner, Southwestern Bell Telephone has a stake in Texas' future and is committed to finding lasting solutions to the state's current problems. One of the most basic — yet important — ways we can help is by providing efficient and reliable telecommunications service, thus setting the stage for economic development in hundreds of Texas communities.

Tax increase in '88

COMMISSIONER
Mary Scott Nabers

TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY

Dear Commissioner Nabers: I have really been struggling during these tough economic times. Often I thought I might have to close the doors on my business and walk away. Maybe I am over the hump - at least I hope so - but today I started wondering what my 1988 unemployment tax rate would be - can you give me any idea of what to expect?

T.J.
Dalhart

Dear T.J.: I have been hearing from hundreds of employers in exactly the same situation. I wish the news I have to give you could be better, but here goes. There are two substantial law changes made by the last legislature which will affect employers beginning in 1988.

First, there was a change made in the method of computing the deficit tax. The deficit tax is one portion of an employer's overall unemployment tax rate. Previously, because of the computation formula, the deficit tax affected less than half of all employers. Now it will afect all employers.

Second, the wage base upon which an employer pays taxes has been increased from $7,000 to $8,000 in 1988 and $9,000 in 1989.

In a nutshell, taxes will increase! In 1988, the minimum rate available under law is expected to approach 1 percent, and the maximum rate is expected to be about 8.5 percent. I am advising all employers to prepare for a tax increase but those who did not pay any deficit tax last year will be the ones to take the biggest hit.

Dear Commisisoner Nabers: Is there anything that we as employers can do to lighten our tax burden for 1988?

S.J.
Lubbock

Dear S.J.: The 0.8 percent FUTA (Federal Unemployment Tax Act) tax is due to decrease to 0.6 percent as of January 1, 1988. The additional 0.2 percent was imposed in 1977 to pay for extended unemployment benefits authorized by the Federal Government.

The House and Senate committees in the U.S. Congress have included among the options considered in writing a tax bill, the extension of this tax.

Since the purpose for which it was imposed has been satisfied, we think the extension would be a new tax which you as employers have every right to protest. The extension will cost the employers of Texas approximately $89 million in 1988 or about $14 per employer.

Write to your U.S. Congressmen and Senators now stating your objection. The next two weeks are the crucial ones as far as this tax is concerned.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at Texas Business Today, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

Jobless rate up in September

The unemployment rate in Mitchell County climbed to 8.2 percent in September from 7.0 percent the previous month, reports the Texas Employment Commission.

The commission said the county had a total civilian labor force of 4,450 in September with 4,085 of those employed and 365 unemployed.

Unemployment rates for the previous eight months include August, 7.0 percent; July, 8.3 percent; June, 9.9 percent; May, 9.3 percent; April, 9.3 percent; March, 10.1 percent; February, 11.1 percent; and January, 12.1 percent.

For 1986, Mitchell County had an average monthly jobless rate of 11.0 percent compared to 5.5 percent for 1985, 4.9 percent for 1984, 5.8 percent for 1983, 5.7 percent for 1982, 4.8 percent for 1981 and 5.1 percent for 1980.

The jobless rate for area counties in September include Scurry, 7.4 percent; Howard, 8.6 percent; Nolan, 11.0 percent; Coke, 3.2 percent; and Sterling, 4.3 percent.

Oil, gas well discoveries up in September

AUSTIN - Texas oil and gas operators reported 53 gas and 28 oil discoveries in September, according to a Railroad Commission report, an increase over August's total of 38 gas and 28 oil discoveries. A discovery is an exploratory well that is completed in a previously untapped reservoir.

Gas discoveries in September included four in the San Antonio area (District 1), 10 in the Refugio area (District 2), 13 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 16 in deep South Texas (District 4), one in East Central Texas (District 5), five in East Texas (District 6), three in West Central Texas (District 7B), and one in the san Angelo area (District 7C).

Oil discoveries included one in the San Antonio area (District 1), two in the Refugio area (District 2), two in Southeast Texas (District 3), five in deep South Texas (District 4), two in Central Texas (District 5), four in West Central Texas (District 7B), two in the San Angelo area (District 7C), seven in the Midland area (District 8), two in the Lubbock area (District 8A) and one in North Texas (District 9).

Those discoveries were included in the 590 oil, 255 gas, and 59 service completions operators reported in September. In August, operators filed 553 oil, 200 gas and 59 service completions.

A total of 315 dry holes were reported in September, compared to 227 in August.

Oil, gas drilling applications down

AUSTIN - The Railroad Commission processed a totol of 1,513 drilling applications in September. In August, the total was 1,517.

The September total included 1,110 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 35 to deepen existing holes, 173 to plugback existing holes and 46 for service (non-producing) wells. Operators also filed 149 amended drilling applications.

Applications for new oil and gas holes in September included 79 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 58 in the Refugio area (District 2), 104 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 64 in deep South Texas (District 4), 30 in East Central Texas (District 5), 61 in East Texas (District 6), 173 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 66 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 144 in the Midland area (District 8), 175 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 126 in North Texas (District 9) and 31 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In the first nine months of 1987, the commission has received 12,232 drilling applications, a 11 percent decrease from the 13,745 received during the same period of 1986. Since the first of this year, the number of drilling applications received monthly has increased 27 percent, from 1,109 in January to 1,513 in September.

Texas Airport directory available

The 1988 Texas Airport Directory is now available to pilots. The fee for this 169 page publication is $5.00 and can be purchased by sending a check or money order to the Texas Aeronautics Commission, P. O. Box 12607, Austin, Texas 78711.

The spiral-bound, 6x9-inch directory is designed for easy use by pilots in the cockpit in securing the basic data they need for safer and more enjoyable flights and confident landings at Texas airports.

One Texas pilot whose use and appreciation of the directory is typical wrote: "I got lost and was able to use my Texas Airport Directory to find my way."

That's what the directory is all about—helping pilots to find their way and land safely at hundreds of public-use airports throughout Texas. The 1988 directory will provide names, locations and key information on airports, heliports and helistops, hospital heliports, ultralight airparks and sea plane bases.

If you need to write or phone the airport manager in advance of your trip, the directory gives you his name, mailing address and phone number. For most of the facilities, it contains useful information on fucl and services available, runway lengths, widths and headings, surfaces, lighting, navaids, hours the facility is attended, radio frequencies and the names of the FBOs and services they offer.

Other pages are devoted to: Flight plan, time conversion in various time zones, control tower light signals, appropriate cruising atltitudes, international code symbols, VFR transponder codes, ceiling and visibility minimums for VFR flight, altimeter settings, nondirectional beacon locations, identifications and frequencies; terminal control areas (TCSs), Airport Radar Services Areas (ARSRs), military training areas, and definitions of the abbreviations and symbols used.

Well plugging penalties assessed

AUSTIN - The Railroad Commission levied $2,500 in administrative penalties Monday to two Texas operators for problems under the commission's well plugging rules.

Both companies agreed to the penalties without admitting any violation of commission rules.

Petroleum Corp. of America, Inc., of Dallas agreed to a $2,000 penalty for a well on the company's John C. Marburger lease in Fayette County. Commission records indicate the well was inactive and unplugged between July 1981 and June 1987.

B.L.S. Drilling of Brownwood agreed to a $500 penalty for a well on the Leach lease in Brown County that commission records indicate was inactive and unplugged for almost two years.

To date in 1987, the commission has levied more than $675,000 in pollution and well plugging penalties. Last year the commission assessed more than $1.6 million in such penalties.

Children host surprise birthday party

The children of Ruby Epperson surprised her with a birthday party, Saturday, October 24.

Those present were: Bill and Ida Epperson and Ray Derring Jr. of Imperial, Joyce and A. L. Brackun of Odessa, Tim, Debra, Amanda and Heath Parish of Odessa, Mick, Pam and Mike Jr. Epperson of Odessa, Roy and Margaret Epperson of Robert Lee, Jerry, Patty and Danny Epperson of San Angelo, Doug, Laura, Lesa, B. J. Epperson of Abilene, Sonya Lester of Abilene, Jerald, Jerrod and Jeremy Epperson of Colorado City, Carrie Sanderson and children, Candace, Summer, Jeremy of Colorado City, Wayne, Aretha McAnally, Ruby Lee, Tosha, Mark, Amber Wyrosdick, Dub, Ronnie Woodall, Tommy, Cassi Ballard of Loraine.

Dub Woodall, Tommy Ballard, Bill Epperson and Wayne McAnally furnished music for the occasion.

Mrs. Meadows hosts Loraine extension club

Mrs. Nina Meadows hosted the North Loraine TEHA Club on October 21 at 2:30 p.m. for a regular meeting. Mrs. Veida Gage brought the recreation.

The roll call was answered with "My favorite food."

During a short business meeting, the club was reminded of the health program that will be presented by Charla Cain, RN from TSTI, Sweetwater and a Home Health Service representative, Chris Riojas. Mrs. Cain will speak on "Medication--Miracles or Menace." Mrs. Riojas will also speak. The meeting will be in the C. C. Thompson Room at 2 p.m. on October 29.

Mrs. Meadows brought a most informative program on "Diet and its relation to disease." Evidence of good nutrition is reflected in many ways--to name a few: good posture, normal weight, fresh, smooth skin, shiny hair, bright eyes and good sleeping habits, plus a positive attitude.

She keyed in on sugar, and what's on the label? She encouraged label reading to find out nutrient content before purchasing. Various types of sugar were identified. She did a "show and tell" on how much sugar one might consume from one spoon of jam on their breakfast toast. Other examples were given that served as a reminder that most people consume too much sugar.

Mrs. Meadows served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Eva Wells, Veida Gage, Ruth Holman, Margaret Brame and Effie Wheeler.

Also Buena Vista Harrell, Mrs. Bill Cates, Roy Hollman, Tim Hamilton, Richey Cary, David and Geraldine Terry, Susan Preston, Mrs. Claude Willis, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Costin, Talmadge Linam, Mahon Est., Charles M. Bruce, Wheeler Estate, Bryan and Dana Bennett and Julia Green.

Goals formulated at workshop

Quality of Life and Education via Community Education was used for goal setting at the first Wallace Center Advisory Council Workshop held Saturday at the Boy Scout Building at Lake Colorado City.

The morning agenda included a continental breakfast, remarks by Billie Forbes, WCA president, and introductions by Barbara Gray, supervisor of Wallace Center.

Ethelyn Lancaster, moderator, began the session with details of community education involvement in various areas of the state. Members were then led in a brainstorming activity to depict problems within and ideas to develop under community education's jurisdiction. Following the gathering of ideas and problems, two groups were formed and met in separate areas to formulate goals relating to the workshop's topics.

Ten new goals were set among the two groups. Dealing with Quality of Life, the goals included acquisition of role model speakers and the compilation of people's interests, the establishment of weekly brown bag sessions to promote community relations and the usage of a clean-up strategy such as "Adopt-A-Lot", plus involvement of youth after school. Also listed were promotion of apartments for senior citizens, preferably near Wallace Center, and the creation of business incentives by grants or scholarships for potential participants in classes and seminars. Under the Education topic were listed the acquisition of a qualified person to teach Hispanic adults the reading and writing of English, the availability of courses in saleable skills to be held during the day as well as in the evening, and the investigation of grants to obtain machines to teach these skills (i.e. computers, typewriters, etc.). In addition, the invitation to different cultures of people in the area to share their expertise in skills of cooking, making crafts and playing sports, plus the establishment of a program of enrichment for the socially disadvantaged children who are not being reached through any other local program completed the list of goals.

Three existing goals were presented as a reminder of continuing concerns not met. These included an effort to increase participation in the after-school program, the acquisition of additional gym equipment and the enlistment of a daytime GED instructor.

The workshop concluded with a picnic lunch. Members present were Mary Petty, Brenda Aguillon, Mary Ann Wright, Ann Ingram, Priscilla Martin, Tandy Curlee, Joan Beach, Lee Woods, Margaret Trulock, Ben Lancaster, Billie Forbes, Bunny Nelson, Barbara Gray and Ethelyn Lancaster.

Texas students fatter, less fit

AUSTIN--Texas school-age children are getting fatter and less fit, as demonstrated by the results of comprehensive state and national tests. Of 4 million students participating in nationwide tests, only 36 percent performed at levels acceptable for fitness standards.

"Texas school-age children fared worse on some of the tests when compared to the national results, especially in cardiovascular conditioning, and their fitness levels seem to be deteriorating at a more accelerated rate," said Donald F. Haydon, executive director of the American Health and Fitness Foundation, Inc.

Haydon cites these facts: the average teen-ager spends between three to seven hours a day watching television and eating junk food; 41 percent of children ages 7-12 have elevated cholesterol levels and as many as 13 percent have five or more cardiac risk factors; and 20-25 percent of all children are clinically obese.

Despite the grim statistics, school-age children can be taught to become physically fit, a goal of the Fit Youth Today program, a health fitness conditioning, educational and testing curriculum introduced in 1986 by the American Health and Fitness Foundation. FYT tests school-age children in four basic areas -- cardiovascular fitness, body related fat, muscle strength/endurance and flexibility -- and looks for health fitness, not athletic mastery, Haydon explained.

From now until the end of November, more than 66,500 students across Texas will participate in FYTathlons, fitness fund-raising events growing out of the FYT program.

At some 260 school campuses across the state, young people will perform a steady jog for cardiorespiratory endurance; bent knee curl-ups for abdominal strength; and a sit-and-reach event for flexibility. Sponsors will donate money for the completion of FYTathlon activities, and schools will use their portion of the proceeds to purchase health fitness equipment and supplies, Haydon explained.

In many Texas cities, local hospitals are joining schools in sponsoring FYTathlons. The Texas Hospital Association and the Texas Hospital Education and Research Foundation are among the sponsoring organizations for the FYTathlon. "Many hospitals around the state are involved in wellness and health promotion activities, and they want to encourage young people to adopt healthy habits which will carry over into adulthood," Haydon said.

Among the benefits of regular, vigorous exercise for both adults and youth are strengthening of the heart, lungs and blood vessels; decreasing cholesterol and triglyceride levels; decreasing blood pressure; and increasing tolerance to stress, which all work at lowering one's risk of cardiovascular disease. "And exercising makes you feel great," Haydon added.

Other FYTathlon program sponsors include the Texas Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance and the Texas Foundation for Education in Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The program is endorsed by the Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness and the Texas Chapter of the American College of Sports Medicine.

Gas bills slightly higher than in '86

AUSTIN--Most residential gas customers in Texas saw slightly higher gas bills during the third quarter of 1987, compared to a year ago, according to Railroad Commision Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent.

Based on Commission analysis of 25 representative cities across Texas, a monthly bill for six Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas averaged $29.26 between July and September 1987, a 3.5 percent increase from the third quarter 1986 average of $28.25. The average bill figures include both the cost of gas and the cost of providing gas service.

The average customer in the 25 survey cities saw the cost of gas portion of an average six Mcf monthly bill rise from $17.25 during the third quarter of 1986 to $17.94 during the third quarter of 1987, a four percent increase.

Commission figures show the cost of providing gas service was up slightly this year compared to last, from an average of $11.00 monthly in the third quarter of 1986 to $11.33 for the same period this year.

Gas customers in Amarillo enjoyed the lowest bills of the 25 survey cities, with an average monthly total bill of $20.53 for six Mcf of gas during the third quarter of the year. That compares to an average monthly bill of $20.95 during the same period last year. The highest monthly bills in the survey cities were reported in Laredo where customers paid an average of $38.09 for a six Mcf bill during the third quarter of this year, compared to an average of $37.79 for the same period last year.

San Antonio gas customers saw the largest drop in their average monthly bill for the third quarter of 1987 compared to last year. A monthly bill for six Mcf averaged $26.80 for July through September this year, down from an average of $30.40 for the year-earlier period. The largest increase in the survey cities was registered in Waco where an average six Mcf monthly bill rose from $25.09 during the third quarter of 1986, to $30.93 during the third quarter this year.

Lubbock, Midland, and Odessa were the cities with the lowest cost of gas in the third quarter of 1987. The gas cost portion of an average six Mcf monthly bill in the three cities was $11.65, a full $6.28 lower than the statewide average for the period. Highest of the 25 survey cities was Tyler, where the gas cost portion of a six Mcf monthly bill averaged $22.26 for the third quarter of 1987, some $4.33 above the average.

On the cost of service portion of the six Mcf sample bill, Bryan gas customers enjoyed the lowest average monthly cost for the period - $5.64. The highest service cost of the survey cities was reported in Laredo, where the six Mcf sample bill included an average monthly cost of $18.74 for service between July and September.

Cities included in the Railroad Commission survey were Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Bryan, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Laredo, Lubbock, McAllen, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, San Antonio, Sherman, Temple, Texarkana, Tyler, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

New tax law prompts calls

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said his office would stay open extra hours to handle a record number of telephone calls about the state's new tax law.

"We're just flat swamped," Bullock said, noting there has been an 85 percent increase in telephone calls in the past four weeks.

Bullock said the agency's switchboard and Texas toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) would be open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays.

He said taxpayers who have been getting busy signals during peak times in the middle of the day should be able to get tax information by calling earlier or later in the day.

Bullock said the office recorded 151,517 taxpayer assistance calls in September of this year compared to about 81,000 calls in September of 1986.

"We've gotten more than 7,500 calls a day compared to our normal load of 3,800," Bullock said.

An increase in the state's sales tax rate to 6 percent took effect on Oct. 1, as well as the extension of the tax to many services.

"Taxpayers are going to get a straight answer from us; it just might take a little bit longer than usual," Bullock said.

Murder mystery opens in Post

POST - A classic thriller of love, betrayal and murder - Frederick Knott's "Dial M For Murder" - opens Thursday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m. and runs through a 2 p.m. matinee performance Sunday, Nov. 1, at the Garza Theatre.

The production, designed and directed by Will McCrary, features a strong cast including Linda Ellis, Rodney Marshall, Benny Jackson and Roger McCurrin.

Slaton High School librarian Linda Ellis is making her second appearance on the Garza Theatre stage after turning in an applause-winning performance in Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite".

A native of Three Way, Mrs. Ellis has been employed in the Slaton schools for 13 years. She is married to Sam E. Ellis, a Southland rancher, and has a son, Steve, a student at Texas Tech.

No stranger to the Garza Theatre-goers is Rodney Marshall, who made his first appearance here as the doctor in "Never Too Late" and then moved on to an entirely different role as "Dracula".

Performances are at 7:30 p.m. each evening and at 2 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children and may be obtained at the theater box-office from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call 806 495-4005 for reservations or information.

Q. I've been trying to get pregnant for six months, with no success! Could I have an infertility problem?

A. Infertility is defined as the inability to conceive after one year of frequent, unprotected intercourse. Approximately 50 percent of couples having frequent, unprotected intercourse will conceive in six months. A total of 80 percent of couples will achieve pregnancy in one year. This leaves 20 percent of couples with a possible infertility problem.

It is generally recommended that a woman with regular monthly periods and no gynecologic problems attempt pregnancy for one year before consulting an infertility specialist. Ovulation predictor kits, available over-the-counter, may assist you in timing intercourse. Of course, you should also talk with your gynecologist about your plans for pregnancy so an adequate assessment of your health status can be made.

Q. With the fall approaching, I know the "flu season" will also soon arrive. Should I have a flu shot? If so, when is the best time to get it?

A. If you have underlying health conditions such as breast or lung disease, are 70 years or older, or if you are exposed to the public on a daily basis, you should get the shot.

You should plan to get your flu shot soon. It takes four to six weeks after the vaccination for the body to produce antibodies necessary to combat the virus.

The flu season usually hits Texas in December. If you wait until then to get the shot, it will be too late to protect you against the flu. Generally, it's a good idea to get your flu shot in September or October.

Q. I am a 43-year-old male, overweight and have a history of adult onset diabetes (Type II) in my family. I know I am a risk to develop the disease, but what are the symptoms? What does Type II diabetes mean?

A. In Type II diabetes, the pancreas produces insulin but the insulin cannot effectively cause transport of glucose into the cells. The vast majority of Type II diabetics are overweight, and their obesity makes the insulin ineffective at the cell's level. In many cases, this type of diabetes may be controlled by losing weight and following a special diet without any medication. You are right about this disease: it is often inherited.

The early symptoms of Type II diabetes are minimal so that people may not be aware that they may have it. In your situation, I suggest you ask for a blood sugar test as part of your next physical exam. Symptoms of the disease, however, may include feeling tired all the time, having blurred vision, experiencing tingling or numbness in the extremities, developing a reduced resistance to skin or urinary infections, and suffering from excessive thirst, hunger and urination.
