Two Men Killed As Feud Flares Again

JACKSON, Ky., April 29 (AP)—Two men are dead and four others are in jail after another burst of gunfire in "bloody breathitt" county where enmity exists between two political factions, dating back to the bitter 1938 Barkley-Chandler Democratic senatorial primary.

County Jailer William Combs, 41, was shot down yesterday, apparently from ambush, on the outskirts of this mountain county seat, and shortly afterwards, one of his turnkeys, Benton Sizemore, 25, was killed by a bullet in his back as he approached the scene of the Combs slaying.

Allied Forces Now Holding Strong Spots

Control Of South Norway Likely To Be Decided

(By The Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, April 29.—German forces were reported tonight to have occupied Kvam, 35 miles southeast of Dombas, in their drive toward Trondheim but to have been repelled in a violent attack on the Steinkjer fort north of that nazi-held port.

The Germans earlier had been reported stalled at Kvam in their surge north toward the vital Dombas railroad junction, one of the British-held barriers to the nazis' attempted approach to Trondheim from the south.

No Details Given

Fragmentary dispatches reaching Stockholm newspapers gave no details of developments either there or at Steinkjer where, they said, German bombers supported the attack.

Reports from Narvik, on the distant northern front, said fighting there had developed primarily into guerrilla warfare with the British bombarding the fort periodically, apparently to prevent the Germans from sending reinforcements over the railroad terminating at Narvik.

The Allies today put up what may prove to be the first really organized resistance to Germany's effort to rush troops across Norway to bolster nazi-held Trondheim.

They were holding strategically-placed, strongly-defended machine-gun nests and light artillery positions guarding narrow mountain roads northeast of Dombas in the Gudbrandsdalen (valley) and between Roros and Storen in the Gloma river valley.

Reach Vital Railway

German troops, driving over snowy mountain roads, were reported to have reached the vital railway linking British bases at Dombas and

Thompson Ends Congress Race

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 29.—Texas Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson announced today his withdrawal from the 18th district congressional race. He did not say whether he planned to reenter the Texas gubernatorial race.

Thompson announced as a candidate for Congress soon after Rep. Marvin Jones was appointed to the court of claims. The railroad commissioner, runner-up in the governor's race in 1938, had planned to open his gubernatorial campaign May 1.

He Should Stick

"The man who runs for Congress should be willing to stay up there term after term so that he may gain in seniority and influence," Thompson said.

"I do not want to spend all my life in public office. Therefore, I am not going to run for Congress."

Rain Casts Damper On Texas Politics Over The Weekend

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, April 29 — Rain cast a damper over Texas politics this weekend. Despite torrents Saturday afternoon that made country roads difficult, "Ma" and "Pa" Ferguson had a turn-out at Waco Saturday night that both considered "highly encouraging."

The big South Texas political picnic scheduled at Henkaus was called off because of rain. Four candidates for governor had been scheduled to speak there.

Tonight at San Antonio, Harry Hines will announce the finance and tax program that he will advocate in his race for governor.

Hines does not believe the $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year mentioned by some will be needed.

"I propose to show how, as governor, I would work to settle these problems and not use them merely to campaign on," Hines said. "There has been too much delay already and too much of professional promisers

Amon Carter Hurls Taunts At Sec. Ickes

Texan Claims That Cabinet Official "Can't Take It"

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, April 29.—Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, told Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes today in an open letter that while Texas is grateful for his "good job" in helping with its oil problems, "we do not necessarily need the same kind of help . . . in respect to political problems in Texas at the moment."

Carter, in his 2,000-word reply to a letter from Ickes, copies of which the secretary sent Texas members of Congress, said he was "touched" by Ickes' "solicitude for the freedom of Texas voters and subscribe fully to your obviously lately developed opinion that they are capable of acting for themselves without being told how."

Reply To Editorial

Ickes' letter was in reply to an editorial published recently by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in which Ickes said he had been described as a "carpetbagger." The cabinet member said he understood that Carter and associates had sent political "carpetbaggers" into Wisconsin for the primary elections in behalf of the John Garner campaign.

"If there is any connection between oil regulation, or even PWA projects, and the question of whether Texas should be allowed peacably to stand up for its own John Garner, I fail to get it," Carter responded. "But you see, down here we are just country folks. We get along as well as we do only because there are not many who are hard-hearted enough to take advantage of us. . . .

No Apology To Make

Carter denied the Texas Garner-for-president movement is to defeat Roosevelt, as Ickes charged.

"I have no apology to make for supporting an outstanding Demo-

Demo Leaders Hold Parley

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 29.—President Roosevelt and Democratic leaders in Congress cancassed the legislative situation today in a discussion so general that Senate Majority Leader Barkley said it "covered everything and touched nothing."

Barkley said the White House conference did include some mention of such topics as amendments to the Wagner labor act and the pending Logan-Walter bill to put a check on some administrative agencies.

On Capitol Hill the issue of the day was whether to revise the wage-hour act.

Those At Conference

Attending the conference were Barkley, Vice President Garner and House Leader Rayburn.

Barkley said he saw "no change in the general desire to get away the first of June" and that President Roosevelt's proposed swing around the country after adjournment should not make any alteration in the situation.

Loot Of $2,000 To $3,000 Said To Be Missing

(Special To The Journal)

LORENZO, April 29.—An unknown bandit or bandits left Irvin Bownds, cashier of Lorenzo State bank, dead and took an estimated $2,000 to $3,000 in a daring raid on the bank shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The body of Bownds, 38, was found lying in a pool of blood in the vault of the bank by Woodrow Watts, bookkeeper of the bank.

Officers at 2:30 o'clock reported that Bownds had not been shot, as at first had been supposed, but had been killed by a heavy blow on the head. It was said that he suffered a long, clean cut across the top of his head.

The broken handle of a pistol was reported found nearby later.

It was also found that Bownds suffered severe cuts from a knife. His throat was slashed on both the right and left sides and there was a cut under his chin. Another wound was found under his right wrist and one on top of his right hand.

PEACE OFFICERS ARE GATHERED

Law enforcement officials of the South Plains began to converge upon the town to help solve the mysterious murder and robbery.

It was said from the bank early this afternoon that no one had been found who had seen anyone enter the bank or a car drive away.

Bownds went home at 12 o'clock for lunch. The bank usually closes for the lunch hour and had done so today. He left his home, his wife told bank officials, at 12 minutes until 1 o'clock.

He had been seen walking down the street at approximately 10 minutes until one.

Bank officials surmised that Bownds had opened the vault and had taken the money to the cash drawers before he was surprised by the bandit or bandits. It was said that the robbers then evidently took the money and the cashier back into the vault. The empty drawers were found on the floor and two $5 bills which had apparently fallen from the other cash, were overlooked.

A few minutes later Watts walked into the bank. Two customers, Thomas G. Hendricks and Oscar Hughes, both of Lorenzo, had preceded Watts into the bank, but finding no one about were standing and waiting for someone when Watts entered.

Watts noticed the vault door was open and discovered Bownds' body.

All of the operating cash in the bank was taken, said Fred Wiese, vice president. H. F. Pearson is president.

MEMBER OF PROMINENT FAMILY

Bownds, formerly of Ralls and member of a prominent family in this section, is survived by his wife and two children.

A brother, Gradie Bownds, and a sister, Miss Sadie Bownds, and his mother, Mrs. Susie M. Bownds, live in Lubbock. Gradie Bownds is in the insurance business and Miss Bownds is employed by Texas-New Mexico Utilities company. A brother, Lester, lives in Ralls.

Representatives of the police department, the Texas rangers, the highway patrol and the sheriff's department in Lubbock left shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Lubbock relatives left immediately upon notification.

SCORES GATHER AT BANK

Scores of persons had gathered at the bank before 2 o'clock this afternoon. Efforts were being made to telephone a doctor at Ralls shortly after the finding of the body. It was obvious the man was dead, however.

The rumor was abroad that the bandit or bandits picked Bownds up at his residence under some ruse and took him to the bank. An employe of the bank, however, quoted Mrs. Bownds as saying no one came by the residence and no telephone call was received immediately before her husband left to return to the bank.

Jim Williams, sheriff of Crosby county, left for Lorenzo from Crosbyton immediately after the crime.

It was pointed out that after the consternation and excitement immediately following the finding of the body had died down, someone might come forward with information which might lead to identification of the bandit or bandits.

A man and woman from New Mexico, here selling tomatoes, reported to officers this afternoon that they had seen a car traveling east of Lorenzo at a high rate of speed. Persons sitting in cars near the bank during the noon hour said they had seen no unusual activity there.

Rix Funeral home of Lubbock received a call to go to Lorenzo and embalm the body, but was told an inquest was being held. The body was at the Joe Schuler funeral parlor.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

get the LEMONADE WITH MEALS habit

Your whole meal will be more enjoyable—and beneficial

There's a new health-habit in many American homes that comes as a delicious treat for the whole family. It's lemonade —lunch or dinner.

This grandest of thirst quenchers has just the zip and tang that's needed to make good food taste better. Everyone who tries it votes it the finest mealtime drink of all!

But lemonade has more than deliciousness in its favor. It adds so much to the healthful balance of the meal.

Aids Health Too

Lemons aid digestion. Lemonade makes it easier to consume the amount of liquid nutrition authorities suggest.

It gives you additional vitamin C—as well as B₁. These two vitamins are not stored in the body. You need them daily for the best of health.

And lemons are the only known source of citrin (the newly discovered vitamin P). This may explain many of their special health-benefits, scientists say.

Get a dozen Sunkist Lemons today. (They are California's juiciest and finest.) Make a big pitcher of tart lemonade for the family's dinner. Drink it instead of plain water. See if you don't discover a capital way to get more pleasure from your meals—with benefit!

Farmer's Method Of Keeping His Books Is Held Inadequate

RICHMOND, Va., April 29 (AP)—A farmer applied to the Virginia division of motor vehicles for a refund of tax on gasoline used in a farm tractor.

"I do not have an itemized statement," he wrote, "but I can swear that amount was used in the tractor, for each time I put five gallons of gas in the tractor I placed a nail in a post."

The division told him his "heavy" bookkeeping was inadequate and he could forget about the $6.50 refund.

Britain Denies Nazi Claims Of Success

LONDON, April 29 (U.P.)—Asserting that three additional German supply ships had been torpedoed and sunk, the admiralty today issued a blanket denial of German claims of severe damage to British warships and supply ships in Scandinavia.

The admiralty admitted that the British trawler Hammond had been sunk by German airplane bombs and that the naval trawler Larwood had been set afire by an incendiary bomb. Adding that there had been no casualties on either trawler, the admiralty said:

Slight Results Shown

"There is not the slightest truth in the claim of the German high command to have sunk or severely damaged in the past 48 hours five cruisers and 13 transports. In fact the enemy's determined effort to render waters along the Norwegian coast untenable have been attended with but slight results."

It was understood that the three transports whose sinking the admiralty claimed, had been torpedoed within the past 48 hours.

Thomas E. Dewey Is Ill In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 29 (U.P.)—Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, remained here today to recuperate from a "digestive disorder."

Physicians put him in a hotel with orders to remain at least until Wednesday. They said he had "a slight fever" but that his illness was not serious.

It did cause serious juggling of his schedule, however. He stopped here en route back east after his second campaign swing through the west and had planned to speak at Wichita, Kan., tonight and Marshalltown, Iowa, tomorrow.

High Winds Send WT-NM League Scores Soaring

Hubbers Drop Slugfest To Borger 19-25

By COLLIER PARRIS
Journal Sports Editor

In weather conditions much more suitable for a leisurely trip through the Carlsbad caverns than for temporizing with baseball players at the local ball yard, the Borger Gassers "nosed out" the Lubbock Hubbers 25 to 19, Sunday afternoon to sweep the two-game West Texas-New Mexico league series.

The wind, she blowed hard from home plate outward, making ordinarily easy pop-outs go for base hits and ordinarily easy outfield flies go over the fence for home runs, and the wind carried with it a goodly load of gravel which stuck in the eyeballs of pitchers, infielders and outfielders and made ballshagging a hazardous occupation indeed.

Hubbers Take Lead

For the second time in a row, the Hubbers got well ahead in the scoring department early in the game and looked like a sure thing. Going into the fourth, the Hubbers led 8 to 4, having scored twice in each of the first two innings and four times in the third while Borger had put one over in the first and three in the third.

Then with the wind and the sand in their hair, the Gassers approached the platter 13 times in the fourth inning to score ten runs.

Nothing daunted, the Hubbers batted around and twice over in the last half of the fourth for seven runs, and at the end of the fourth frame, Lubbock was ahead, 15 to 14. They stayed ahead until the seventh, adding an extra run for "protection" in the sixth. But in the seventh, Borger got to hitting 'em in the air again and scored six times. If they'd stopped at that, it wouldn't have been so bad, because Lubbock came back in the last of the ninth, after two outs, to score three times, but back in the eighth, Borger had four more runs and added another in the front section of the ninth.

Almost A Record

No less than six good dollar-and-six-bit baseballs were hammered or carried over the outfield barriers in that wild contest, which came close to equalling, in total scores, the windy Lubbock-Clovis game early last year, which probably stands as a record. Score of that, if you don't remember, was 23-22, and the high wind played a major part, as it did yesterday. Amarillo's Gold Sox, however, hold the team scoring record, result of defeating Pampa 29 to 4 one stormy night last season.

Lubbock players blasted four homers, Borger 2. For Lubbock, Ed Schweda, the fans' favorite, slapped one over deep right-center on his first trip to the bat, in the first inning. Pitcher Roy Finocchairo, who opened the firing for Lubbock, followed his second inning double with a third inning home run, scoring a mate ahead of him. In the sixth, Firstbaseman Ben Drake, who had featured in earlier extra-curricula activities, smashed one over right center with none on, and in the desperate ninth-inning rally, Steve Sitek hit a homer far over the right field wall for his only bingle of the binge, scoring Chester Hajduk ahead of him. Hajduk, incidentally, who poled out five hits, including a homer, in his Saturday afternoon spree, was handcuffed most effectively yesterday and came up with the doubtful honor of being the only Hubber, outside a couple of pitchers, to go hitless.

To win, Borger poled out 24 hits, Lubbock 18, each team getting one hit less than it got runs. A surprisingly small number of errors—four to a side—was charged, the wind and the sand making usually easy chances go for bingles.

Cephus, Short Are Tough

For Borger, one Joe Cephus, dark skinned shortstop, hitting in eighth

PAMPA HERE TODAY

Manager Grover Seitz brings his Pampa Oilers to the Lubbock ball park today to open a three-day stand with the Hubbers, each game beginning at 3 p. m. Lefty Andy Sandretto, only Lubbock pitcher to turn in a victory so far this season, was tabbed to pitch for the Hubbers today.

Politics Blamed For Poor Mile Race

PHILADELPHIA, April 29. (AP)—Of all the reasons given for the disappointing 4:25.8 mile turned in by Walter Mehl, Chuck Fenske and Gene Venzke for the feature event of the Penn relays, that of Venzke stood out today as the most unique.

Venzke, who finished third, blamed his showing on—of all things—the strain of competing in a political race. His unsuccessful campaign for nomination for a seat in the state legislature in Pennsylvania's primary election last Tuesday hampered him in reaching top condition, Venzke explained.

Fenske said his shoes were too short while Mehl, his Wisconsin compatriot who finished first, complained that the spikes on his shoes were too long. All three said the track was too soft and pitted for faster running.

North Texas Teachers quartet clipped a half second from the half mile time with a 1:25.4 sprint.

Knife-Pulling Umps Forgiven By Texas League; Gardner Blames San Antonio Team

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 29 — The Texas league, says Secretary Milton Price, "doesn't encourage its umpires to pull knives on players, but it doesn't propose to allow the umpires to be run out of the park either."

Therefore, Price said last night no action would be taken against Umpire Bill Wilson who admitted he drew a knife on a group of San Antonio players at Fort Worth Thursday night.

The incident drew the attention of league officials when President Guy Airey of the San Antonio club said he would report Wilson's act as the "most disgraceful thing I've seen in baseball."

Wilson, interviewed at Oklahoma City next night, termed the act "the greatest boner ever pulled" and offered apologies.

Investigating, Price said league officials found that several players had rushed to the plate after Wilson called a runner safe, thus giving Fort Worth a 10th inning 2-1 victory.

Wilson stepped back and whipped out his knife but made no attempt to attack any of the players, the officials were informed.

Price then conferred with League President J. Alvin Gardner whom he quoted as saying the San Antonio players "should have been in the showers instead of charging Wilson."

"Both the San Antonio club and Wilson erred," said Price, "but the players made the first mistake. The league is not disposed to do any firing."

Plainview Is Polo Winner

The smoothly-functioning Plainview polo aggregation came back fast in the second half of its dusty match with the Lubbock squad here Sunday afternoon to take a decisive 6 to 3 decision.

The victory was the second over the Hub City crew for the Hale county squad, though the first game—played in Plainview—wasn't as action-packed as was yesterday afternoon's.

Norris Paces Visitors

Blackie Norris, pacing the winners, led the scoring spree for the for the afternoon, counting three times, while Lubbock's Guy Smith came next with two goals. Others counting for the winners was Marvin Sherbert with one and Jinks Wheeler with two. Bob Hester accounted for Lubbock's other counter.

Hester shoved the locals ahead in the opening chukker, Plainview taking the lead in the second with two goals. Guy Smith put the locals back in the running in the third, then came the half. Plainview counted three times in the fourth chukker and again in the sixth while Smith was adding his second goal to Lubbock's total.

Warren Craft refereed the contest, played at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds.

Thursday and Saturday, the Lubbock delegation will mount the Texas A. & M. polo aggregation which will invade Lamesa for a series of three games.

Two Champs Back In State Net Tourney

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Two of last year's tennis champions return to the state interscholastic league meet this week-end, both favored to repeat.

Ethel Norton of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) was last season's girls singles titlist. She is back with regional honors won over a fast field at San Marcos.

Post Girl Challenges

The other 1939 winner is Robert Lovelace of Corpus Christi, a member of the championship boys doubles team. He has a new partner this time, pairing with Frank Whaley.

Last year Lovelace and Ben Weil swept to the title.

Lovelace and Weil later went to the National interscholastic league doubles finals.

This year's regional winners who play in the state meet include:

Region 1—Boys singles, Hugh Stennis, Pampa; girls singles, Mary Kate Bird, Post; boys doubles, Bill Imke and Winton Jett, Pollett; girls doubles, Emma Janes White and Norma Jean Franklin, Panhandle.

Triple Header Here Tonight

Two of Lubbock's five undefeated softball clubs square off tonight in the feature game of a triple bill at Fox softball park. Corcorran's and Good Eats, tied with Dalby for the Class B league lead, open the card at 7 o'clock.

Central Labor, once winner and once loser, battles twice-beaten Citizen's National in the second, with McIlhaney and Sherrod's, each loser of one contest, clashing in the finale.

Others Play Tuesday

Dalby, Home Lumber and Borden's—the other three unbeaten teams—swing into action Tuesday night, the Freighters taking on Poultry and Egg while the other two clubs play each other for the Class C league lead.

Renford Taylor, who pitched all nine innings in beating Citizen's National 25 to 24 last week, is the probable starter for Corcorran's tonight. Skipper Walter Granberry of Good Eats can throw either Fred Acree or Troy Howton against him.

Good Eats Impressive

Good Eats has had the finest-looking club in the league thus far, coming from behind to beat Southwest Products, 15 to 14, and edging out Central Labor, 8 to 7. Corcorran's, before beating Citizen's, won by forfeit from Robinson Grocery.

Games are scheduled every night this week, second of championship play in the city loop.

Longhorns In Three Battles This Week

(By The United Press)

The Texas Longhorns, far in front in the Southwest conference baseball race, got into action again this week with two games against Baylor and another against Texas Christian university.

The week's schedule:

Thursday and Friday—Texas vs. Baylor at Waco. Southern Methodist vs. Rice at Houston.

Saturday—Texas vs. T. C. U. at Fort Worth, S. M. U. vs. Texas A. & M. at College Station.

Amarillo And Midland Cop Wild Games

The scene changes today for a wind-blown, score-shocked West Texas-New Mexico league.

On four fronts, opponents square off against each other for the first time of the young season and for initial three-game series. And if the next three days and nights follow the pattern set in the week-end series then aspirin are going to become as essential to the league's scorekeepers as are pencils.

The lineup for the next three days finds:

Pampa, undisputed possessor of fifth position, tangling in the home orchard on College avenue and Second street with Lubbock's Hubbers, currently wallowing in the cellar with Clovis' Pioneers, winners of one each in six starts.

Gold Sox In Midland

Amarillo, at the top of the heap with one loss in six starts, invading Midland, deadlocked with Big Spring for fourth place honors.

Lamesa, alone in second place with four wins to one setback, entertaining Borger, which took over third place with its week-end sweep over the Hubs.

And Big Spring playing host to the hapless Pioneers.

Scoring Is Heavy

In only three games played over the sand-swept southern half of the circuit Sunday afternoon, a total of 104 runs were tabulated—possibly a record for mass scoring. Strangely enough, the bombardment of tallies ran hand in hand with the hits — 106 being registered in that department. And not one team was charged with more than four errors in weather that necessitated the calling off of the Lamesa-Pampa fray in the last of the first, and which was a distinct hindrance in the remaining clashes.

Yesterday's plate crossing sprees found Lubbock losing a "nightmare" to Borger, 25 to 19, just one run under the league scoring record; Midland cashing in on 22 hits to swamp Clovis, 18 to 11, and Amarillo nosing out Big Spring in the ninth, 16 to 15, when Emmett Fulenwider clouted a homer with two aboard.

Dorman Homers, Too

Perhaps the tussle in the Baron stronghold was one of the best of the day. The Gold Sox, assuming the lead with the victory and Lemesa's inactivity, as usual started with a rush, piling up a 9 to 4 advantage in the first two stanzas but watching the Pioneers slowly creep up until the score was knotted in the seventh when the losers shoved across seven counters on a big splurge. Big Spring edged two up in the eighth but saw hopes ride over the palings with Fulenwider's four-bag blast.

Dorman accounted for two for the helium city charges of Manager Claude Jonnard with a homer in the fifth.

Pitchers Worked Over

Hits in the game were just reversed. Amarillo clouting Pellegrini and Ramsdell for 18 safe blows. Manager Tony Rego's boys hitting Bus Dorman, Lynn and Crider for 19 safeties. Each club accounted for three errors.

Clovis and Midland also found the elements more of a bother than each other in their little slugfest, but came up with a minimum of errors everything considered. Curley Elliot traveled the distance for the Pioneers, giving up 22 blows, four of which went for the circuit and accounted for nine runs. Lefty Mitchell and Jack Miller toiled on the mound for the winners, giving up 10 blows for the afternoon. Midland pulled ahead with four runs in each of the initial two stanzas, broke an 8 to 8 deadlock in the fourth and traveled on in an easy winner.

Home Runs Four In

For Clovis, Catcher Schmidt collected a four-bagger with two aboard in the second and Adkins clouted a round-tripper in the fourth with three on deck. Midland's home run clouts were turned in by: Jordan, two of them with one on base each time, Scaling with two ahead, and Manager Sammy Hale with one on board.

The booming bats of Scaling, veteran outfielder, Jordan and Rube Naranjo rang out a staccatto-like tattoo of five hits each for a majority of the winning total. Scaling connected with a homer, a double and three singles; Jordan hit a double, two homers and two singles, while Naranjo clouted five for five, four singles and a double.

The line scores:

AMARILLO	270 020 203—16 18 3

Cole Upsets Foxall At Mineral Wells

MINERAL WELLS, April 29 (UP)—A little-known youngster from Ranger, R. V. Cale, held the championship today of the 1940 Mineral Wells invitation golf tournament.

Cole, a 17-year-old high school student, beat Frank Foxall, Memphis veteran, one-up in 36 holes Sunday on a rain- and wind-swept course. Cole was two-up in nine holes; Foxall squared the match on 14 and went ahead on No. 15. Cole won the 16th and went one-up on No. 18.

During the afternoon, Cole stayed ahead all the way. Two-up after 34 holes, he lost No. 35 but came ahead by equaling Foxall's par-four on the last hole.

Brooklyns To Challenge Champs Today

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 29—Baseball's two biggest topics today were:

(1) Can the Dodgers keep it up?

(2) Whats happened to the Yankees?

The answer hereabouts to question No. 1 is, "No, the Dodgers can't keep it up." They've won eight straight games and have a 1.000 per cent record as they moved into the West today to open against last year's champions, the Cincinnati Reds, now riding in second place. The Dodgers have a good, hustling ball club but it must be remembered that five of their eight victories have been over the Phillies and Bees. They are certainly the league's two weakest clubs, and the other three over the Giants, probably a second division club.

Not The Same Yanks

The answer to question No. 2 is not so easy. The Yanks miss Joe DiMaggio. Joe is laid up with an injured leg. But the Yanks have been without DiMaggio nearly every year about this time and have done all right. The Yanks aren't the same ball club they were. Their hitting is feeble — four runs and 18 hits in their last three games. In addition their defense is bogging down. The Yanks are in seventh place now.

A total of 181,840 persons witnessed Sunday's games, with the Dodgers and Giants drawing 51,659. The day's top throng. Dolf Camilli's homer with a mate on base in the ninth gave Brooklyn its eighth in a row. Whit Wyatt, although allowing 10 hits, stopped the Giants. Pete Coscarat hit a two-run homer off Harry Cumbert, getting his in the fifth with Dixie Walker on base.

Ernie Lombardi's hitting and Gene Thompson's pitching featured the Reds 8-2 victory over the Pirates. Lombardi had "4 for 4", with a homer and three singles. Thompson let the Pirates down with five hits, and was aided by three double plays.

Cards Take Cubs

Don Gutteridge's homer with two men on enabled the Cardinals to come from behind and beat the Cubs, 7-5. The Cubs drove Bill McGee from the box, and Dusty Shoun, received credit for the victory.

The Bees defeated the Phillies, 3-2, for their first triumph in seven starts. Lefty Joe Sullivan held the Phils to seven hits.

Cleveland scored a 11-9 victory over Detroit.

Both sides used four pitchers.

Jim Tabor's homer gave the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in 12 innings. Chubby Dean, who started for the A's, was replaced in the 10th by Ed Heusser who was the loser. Jimmy Foxx drove in three runs.

Gerald Walker's single scoring George Case from second gave Washington a 3-2 victory over the Yanks. It was the Yanks' third straight loss.

The Browns slugged out 17 hits to give the White Sox an 11 to 8 thrashing. Walter Judnich and Harold Clift hit homers.

CATS WIN CUP

DALLAS, April 29 (AP) — Fort Worth's 7,458 attendance at the opening day game of the Texas League season won the president's cup, League Secretary Milton Price announced yesterday.

Hubber Replacements

By Collier Parris

ARRIVAL YESTERDAY of three more or less experienced players as Hubber replacements indicates that the hands guiding the destinies of the Lubbock ball club are just as interested in the welfare and winning abilities of the team as are the cash paying customers.

The White Sox realize the attitude of the "wolves" quite clearly; they realize that they've had two pretty good clubs here, pennant winners, and that anything less than another pennant winner will bring the ire of the Lubbock multitude, which has become very spoiled indeed by winning athletic teams, down upon their heads.

The Sox don't guarantee a third straight pennant winner—no sir, not at these prices—but they are, and will continue to be, conscientious about giving Lubbock the best possible.

Purpose of the White Sox in placing a team here differs, of course, from the idea of the customers; the purpose was to develop young ball players, give the sandlotters a chance to make good at their chosen profession, and bring them up for major league service.

But the fans say: to heck with giving the kids a chance; we've got to have a winner, a natural born DiMaggio at every outfield post, and a lot of Joe Gordons, Johnny Mizes and Charley Gehringers in the infield, with some Dickeys catching and a few Ruffings, Gomezes and Pellers on the mound.

The Hubber fathers, therefore, must temper purpose with an effort to satisfy. And they'll do their best, so far as the salary limit allows.

Still, we can't expect a junior edition of the Yankees in Class D baseball.

The new players on hand, beginning with this afternoon's game, are John Richards, a catcher who served with Rayne and Longview last season and who was ticketed for Waterloo this year; Pat Raish, a long, tall righthanded pitcher who won some ten games for Longview last year, and Ray Sparr, outfielder who served most of the season with Longview, then came to Lubbock to replace the stricken Malcolm Stevens.

Sparr looked quite good, defensively and offensively, in the Shaughnessy playoff with Lubbock last season, although he batted only .260 for the season. Sparr, however, isn't a cinch for a regular job on the Hubber club now. He has to beat out one of three pretty good youngsters—Gene Schlereth, Ed Schweda or Chester Hajduk.

Schlereth, originally tagged for the outfield, has been playing at third, and doing a good job of it, during the absence of Steve Niedziela, who has been nursing a sore arm. Niedziela (pronounced "Nedzella") looked very good on third during the Pampa series, while Schlereth moves to the outfield, probably to right.

Players released by the Hubbers yesterday were Steve Sitek, big rightfielder, and Jim Reynolds, catcher. At least two other Hubbers will draw the pink slips this week, a pitcher and probably an infielder.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Since winning the Masters' tournament, Jimmy Demaret is signing some of his letters merely "The Master" . . . Indianapolis, shy of right-hand hitters, is trying to get Vince DiMaggio from the Reds . . . Looks like Louis vs. Godoy for Detroit in June—Col. D. Walker Wear, one of the N. Y. boxing commissioners, is black balling the fight here because the last two Louis engagements "were unsatisfactory."

Only two out-of-the state fellers will have starting jobs on the six Texas schools in the Southwest conference next fall—Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan have put new life in the exhibition trade—each got $500, plus expenses for their exhibitions with Byron Nelson and Dick Metz in Oklahoma City over the week-end.

What's This?

So far the Yanks have played the A's four games and won half of them . . . Last year they beat the Macks 18 out of 22 games . . . Does that indicate which way the wind is blowing?

Casey Stengel finally has given up and will shake up the Bees . . . Since sticking 15 heats with Louis, Arturo Godoy has picked up more than $15,000 referring and making personal appearances . . . place, was a big thorn in Lubbock's side. He hit safely five times in six trips, drawing one walk, and batted in seven runs. Mack Short, right fielder, was another effective person at the plate, hitting Borger's two home runs, one in the long fourth with one on and another in the eighth with one on.

Another heavy Borger hitter was Ernie Potocar, catcher of experience, who bounced two of his four hits against the palings for extra bases.

Shining on defense, as usual, was Bobby Decker, for two years a scintillating second baseman for Big Spring and one of the most popular infielders in the league. He handled ten chances, most of them quite tough chances, and came up with nine of them, robbing at least four Hubbers of what might have gone for base hits, weather conditions prevailing.

Engle Uses 3 Pitchers

Manager Charley Engle replaced Augue Schoppman at second base in the late innings, participated in the only double play of the series, handled his only other chance without error, and when he came to bat he let go with a blue-darter through second that should have gone for two bases but with which the ornery Decker came up.

Engle sent three pitchers to the mound. Finocchiaro prospered for two innings, got in trouble in the third when Short and Nell singled and Potocar tripled and Cephus singled. He was removed in the long fourth frame, and Gene Stack went in. The big righthander was greeted by a double from Williams, a single by Potocar and a single by Cephys, in that order, and he walked Kirk, the Borger centerfielder getting his fourth straight pass, and gave up a single to Decker and a home run to Short. After that, big Stack got the Gassers out almost in order for two innings, but got in trouble in the seventh and gave way to the side-arm hurler, Ray Irvin Stine, who gave up the winning runs.

Jameson Favored In Women's Tourney

DALLAS, April 29 (AP) —Qualifying day dawned clear, but the going was extremely heavy as National Champion Betty Jameson led the field into the opening day of the Texas Women's golf championship.

Rain sodden Brook Hollow was more treacherous than ever, 12 hours of steady rain that washed the course yesterday muddying fairways and stretching the long course by three or four shots.

Sunshine blazed today and the forecast called for clear weather.

Through a steady downpour Miss Jameson, seeking her fifth straight state crown, plowed yesterday to make an amazing collection of shots which enabled her to team with Charles Dexter of Dallas, veteran amateur, in posting a composite 73, only two over the hard 36-35—71 par, for low gross in the mixed foursome event.

The comely National champion, who had complained just before teeing off that her game was erratic, ignored the elements and suddenly found herself on all shots.

Miss Jameson's fine showing in the mud, while others were floundering, made her the favorite in the medal round today and caused the odds-makers to hastily switch on the eve of the tournament.

Coombs and Sansosti probably will perform for Shreveport with Oklahoma City using Bill Prince and Jerry Blanchard.

Smith and Hardy are slated for mound jobs with Beaumont battling Starr and Horton of Fort Worth.

Mann Rules On Drunk Driving Evidence

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Evidence of intoxication obtained through breath, blood or urine tests forced on a motorist is not admissible in drunk driving cases in Texas courts, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann has ruled.

The opinion was at the request of Homer Garrison, jr., director of the public safety department.

The attorney general said it would appear that such evidence when given voluntarily would be admissible.

Mann added the court of criminal appeals apparently had never ruled on the question.

Johann Schmidt, a German, was shot in the heart during the World war, and still lives with the bullet imbedded in his heart, carrying on his daily work normally.

STOP THIS THIEF!

Don't let eyestrain rob you of your vitality. And don't for a moment doubt that eyestrain can't be a sly and subtle thief. It often results in headaches—in that overall tired feeling—and a general loss of efficiency and vitality. We suggest you see your doctor (oculist) regularly for a periodic check-up of your eyes.

If his examination shows your eyes need help, we highly recommend fitting your glasses with Tillyer lenses. They're different from ordinary lenses. They not only help you see accurately through the center of the lenses, but they enable you to see things distinctly no matter whether you look up — down — right — left — or center.

Don't let EYESTRAIN rob you of your vitality—
wear TILLYER LENSES if you need glasses

Hull Available

ation of a complete New Dealer on orders of the president or to name a conservative against his will would invite political explosions.

Assurances of Hull's availability, therefore, lead some observers to consider him the most likely nominee if Mr. Roosevelt does not run again. Hull probably will go into the convention with fewer than 50 first ballot delegates from such states as Virginia and Tennessee. But if Mr. Roosevelt would suggest him for a successor, lines would form to board the band wagon.

Postmaster General James Farley is campaigning for president tomorrow in the Massachusetts primary for 34 convention delegates. The slate will be pledged to him unopposed. But it is known here that Farley is looking to the vice presidential nomination if he remains in politics and he wants Hull to head the ticket.

no damage. Taylor, Granger, Bartlett, Holland, heavy rains with considerable damage to roads.

Small Twisters Hit In Silsbee Region

SILSBEE, Tex., April 29 (U.P.) — Heavy gales and several small "twisters," accompanied by heavy rain and light hail, struck this area at dawn today. Little damage was reported and none was hurt.

A small cyclone cut a quarter-mile swath through a wooded area a mile east of Silsbee. Two small buildings were pushed off their foundations in the edge of the city. Several roofs were damaged here.

David Read, publisher of the Silsbee Bee, said that he inspected the storm area and had made inquiries about the storm at nearby towns.

"The buildings damaged here were small, frame structures, Read said. "One was a small roadhouse on the eastern edge of the city."

A heavy gale was reported as far north as Kirbyville, but no severe damage was caused. Some power and telephone lines were broken. Kountze, just west of here, reported minor damage to roofs of homes.

The cyclone which struck near here blew down oak and pine trees 20 inches in diameter, but no homes were in its path.

Barbed Taunts Being Hurled

cratic candidate for the presidency of the United States," the Fort Worth publisher declared.

"Let's not befuddle the issue. The results in Wisconsin and Illinois have nothing to do with Texas supporting John Garner."

To Ickes' taunt that Carter would be among the first to "hie to the pie counter" should Roosevelt be reelected in November," Carter said:

Expect Same Treatment

"Frankly, if the president is reelected, he will be my president as well as yours, and if there be a pie counter left, we shall reserve the right, even without your gracious permission, to demand and expect for Texas the same treatment accorded any other state in the union."

The Fort Worth publisher concluded his letter by inviting Ickes to his Texas ranch, "out where the west begins" when the campaign is over . . . "If you want to rest from the cares and responsibilities you have and assume."

Ickes, in his letter to Carter, denied that on his latest Texas trip he had said one word of a political nature, then added that on previous trips he had gone to the state "bearing gifts—rich gifts—not a few of them eloquently solicited by the great editor of Fort Worth—and you never thought of calling me a carpetbagger."

Comments On Oil

Commenting on his relation to the oil industry," Ickes continued:

"As to my wanting to run the oil business of Texas, that also is flapdoodle. No more than I was a 'carpetbagger,' when I was helping to distribute generous chunks of federal money, was I an oil dictator in 1933, when you great, strong, he-men, wrung your hands while the price went down to 10 cents a barrel in the East Texas field. I was a fine fellow when I went to Texas, with the backing and helping of the president, to pull you sturdy individualists out of the slough of despond that you yourselves had created."

Editorial Carried Today

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram today carried a two-column editorial, "Mr. Ickes Irritates Easily," which said the interior secretary could . . . "dish it out—as everybody knows. But evidently he can't take it."

Apologizing for the term "carpetbagger" if the epithet displeases Ickes and does not fit, the newspaper said Ickes has done a "magnificent job" of oil regulation.

Again criticizing Ickes, the editorial says Ickes "reveals a startling concept of his own place in politics and government." This refers to the statement in Ickes' letter which stated that in the past he had brought rich gifts to Texas and was not called a carpetbagger.

The newspaper says allocations to Texas under PWA, etc., were not regarded as gifts, nor Ickes' part other than that of an agent. In the cooperation of local communities and the government each paid its share of the program to provide employment and public improvements.

Rotary Meet Opens Today

Lubbock Rotarians, headed by Dr. C. J. Wagner, president, and Overton W. Ribble, vice president and incoming president, were in Sweetwater today to attend the annual conference of district 127 of Rotary International and to invite the 1941 convention to Lubbock.

Dr. Wagner and Vice President Ribble left Sunday afternoon. Others left this morning. Secretary W. O. Daniels attended.

Meantime, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Monday was preparing to secure a delegation of 20 or more Rotarians to attend the convention Tuesday in a chartered bus.

A special rate of $2 for the round trip was accorded.

Leave At 7 O'Clock

It is planned to have the bus leave Lubbock at 7 o'clock, returning at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Formal presentation of Lubbock's bid for the 1941 convention will be presented at the noon luncheon Tuesday.

A. B. Davis is chairman of the club's "On to Sweetwater" committee.

using these grave matters for political footballs."

Jack Ballard, youthful president of a local organization of old folks and unemployed people announced a mass meeting will be staged here this afternoon urging Col. Ernest O. Thompson to stay in the race for governor. Ballard said the group will come to the capitol and if Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel does not meet them on its steps they will parade through the building singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You". Ballard participated in a former demonstration at the capitol entrance when an address was made by Cyclone Davis of Dallas.

Thompson is expected to make some definite statement about his plans Friday night. He had scheduled an address to follow Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's Sunday morning but decided a week day would be more appropriate.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, apparently untired by her return to the political trail in her 69th year, thoroughly enjoyed the Waco campaign meeting and her husband former Gov. James E. Ferguson who had looked upon the meeting as a test of public interest was smilingly happy about the attendance and reception.

"It was a good start," said "Farmer Jim."

They will make another campaign appearance within two weeks.

Violent Deaths

the car, which Beaty was driving.

The injured persons were all passengers of the bus. Three of them were seriously hurt. They were Miss Marjorie Kitchell, 27, Ada., Okla.; Mrs. Rebecca Dyke, Bagwell, Texas, and Mrs. W. M. Williams, Randlett, Okla. They were brought to a hospital here. The other two suffered only slight injuries and were dismissed from the hospital after treatment.

The driver of the bus said that the accident was caused when an automobile in front of him slowed suddenly. The bus driver stepped on his brake quickly in order to keep from jamming into the automobile ahead, and the bus skidded into Beaty's car, which was coming from the opposite direction.

Dr. Brooke F. Stephens has returned from Fort Worth where he attended an annual convention and educational program of the Texas Chiropractic Research society.

Ted Tipps of 2601 Twenty-fourth street this morning went to Wichita Falls on business and, associates said, to play golf.

Demo Leaders

vising the wage-hour law was forecast in congressional circles today if the Barden amendments to exempt certain farm processing plants are included.

Legislators based their prediction on Mr. Roosevelt's recent letter saying that it would be "a great mistake" to adopt the Barden proposals.

Calls For Report

The president, who returned yesterday from Warm Springs, Ga., called congressional leaders to the White House for a report on the general legislative situation.

In top place on the Senate calendar was the administration bill to confirm a presidential order "freezing" American assets of Danish and Norwegian citizens and requiring licenses for transactions in them.

The House devoted a third day to scores of wage-hour amendments in the face of recurring reports the Senate probably would pigeonhole all proposed revisions.

Rep. Ramspeck (D-Ga.) contended that the wage-hour controversy had settled down to a question of whether "Congress wants to exempt more than a million workers from the requirement that they get at least 30 cents an hour."

Tragedy Is Spread In Refugee Ranks

(By The Associated Press)

NEAR NAMSOS, Norway, April 29—The terrible plight of war refugees who have sought safety in the snow-covered mountains of central Norway is becoming more evident daily as cold, hunger and disease take their toll.

Adequate food and clothing is lacking for the refugees from the Namsos, Namdalen and Steinkjer areas. Among children and older persons illness is occurring with practically no medical aid or medicine available north of Trondheim.

Tragic Scenes Enacted

Tragic scenes are enacted nightly in the regions when refugees slip down from the mountains into valley communities to poke through ashes of their homes seeking lost possessions.

Mountain huts, especially in the Namsos district, are so crowded with refugees that they must take turns sleeping indoors.

This is the district where bombing planes have caused the greatest civilian damage in proportion to the population. During the first German bombing of Namsos, the region's largest sawmill was set fire and the entire populace turned out to help extinguish it.

Bombers Make Return

They were partly successful until wave after wave of bombers returned, sending the Norwegians running in panic. Some sought refuge in cellars but most fled helter-skelter into the mountains without pausing to take along proper clothing to protect them against cold of the high altitudes.

The town's life went to pieces. It was reported no civilians were killed by the bombs, but none of the debris has been searched yet and inhabitants said it would be a marvel if no dead are found.

Mountain peasants now are sharing their meagre possessions with the refugees. Highly valued cows, pigs and even horses are being slaughtered for food.

Must Feed Troops

The peasants not only must care for refugees but they must help feed Allied troops in the vicinity.

A canning factory outside Namsos escaped damage but its large stocks have been plundered. Not one can remains.

The shortage of flour, sugar and other imported food is acute. These supplies formerly came north from Trondheim which is in German hands. No possibility of aid from Sweden exists because of lack of transportation.

A major difficulty in providing relief will be the fact that the refugees are scattered over a wide area and many are in the inaccessible mountain heights.

Mrs. FDR Refuses To Pose Beside Picture Of Her Husband

RALEIGH, N. C., April 29 (U.P.) —Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt refused last night to pose beside a picture of her husband, the president, in headquarters of the "North Carolina for Roosevelt," a third term organization.

"I think it would be a mistake," she said. "It would be taken as an endorsement of a third term. . . . . I'm in a vacuum about it. I don't want to do anything which would be interpreted as favoring or opposing it."

Business Plan Recommended

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 29 — Businessmen were asked by one of their number today "to concentrate in a practical way" on American problems, despite "the tragedy occurring throughout the world."

Advising against emergency "controls which take from us some of the liberty of a free people," John W. O'Leary told councillors of the United States Chamber of Commerce that "free enterprise and representative government are too vital to risk their loss."

Four-Point Program

O'Leary, chairman of the chamber's executive committee, opened a four-day convention by offering a four-point program to guide the businessman's attitude on legislative matters:

1. Economy in government — "That our taxes may not kill the goose that lays the golden egg; that our budget may some day be balanced."

2. Improved national defense — "That our nation may keep out of war by virtue of its strength."

3. Restoration of teamwork between employers and employes — "That our productivity may increase and our national income and standard of living be advanced."

4. Employment—"That jobs may be found for those who are able and willing to work, through freeing of enterprise and flow of capital."

No Casualties From Louisiana Tornado

RAYNE, La., April 29 (AP)—Tornadic winds early today ripped through the Rayne area, partially unroofing the new high school building and the Edmondson-Duhe rice mill.

Several negro cabins were blown down in outlying rural sections but Mayor Joe Essen, jr., said no casualties had been reported.

An oil derrick was toppled in the Bosco field near Cerenco. The storm struck about 5:30 a. m.

Gulf Coast Storm

The winds and a deluge of rain, accompanied a gulf coast storm. Small craft warnings flew from Brownsville, Tex., to Appalachicola, Fla.

The warnings were ordered last night by the New Orleans weather bureau. Sheets of rain in midmorning temporarily flooded some downtown streets in New Orleans.

Lake Charles had a 38-mile-an-hour wind velocity at 4:30 a. m. with more than an inch of rain.

CARS BURGLARIZED

MEXICO CITY, April 29 (AP)—Despite reinforcement of the special police guard assigned to the United States embassy, an official there reported today that three more cars parked in front of the building had been forced open and robbed.

The United States, in 1886, for the first time produced more steel than any other country.

War Games Being Launched In Mud

(By The United Press)

NACOGDOCHES, April 29— The army started its gigantic southwestern war games in the mud today.

At dawn two spearhead thrusts were made eastward—the motorized second division from Brookeland and the first cavalry division from Kirbyville—and the "war" was on.

Will Last For Month

Eventually involving 70,000 men and the army's latest fighting machinery, the maneuvers will last for a month in heavily forested areas of East Texas and marshy western Louisiana—land where the opening fight in Texas' struggle against Mexico was fought in the battle of Nacogdoches in 1832.

The immediate "battle" plans were:

Attack of the motorized infantry and the cavalry over backwoods paths and roads, across creeks and sloughs which will have to be bridged by pontoons, and through matted underbrush to strike at 4,000 of their comrades designated as a mythical 160,000-man enemy army. Outposts of the foe will stretch on a line from Bronson to Bone Wier.

Retreat Is Planned

After two days of advance, the situation will abruptly change and theoretically, the 4,000-overall-garbed enemy troops will receive heavy reinforcements enabling them to drive the attack corps men back. The problem of strategic defeat and retreat will be the second phase.

The retreat over isolated woodland territory, gashed by creeks, rough and unfamiliar, will test the army's communications and transport organization.

It is through these actual manual actions, rather than paper-planned war problems, that army officers seek knowledge to offset the $1,000,000 a day cost of the maneuvers.

Major War May 10

The major practice war will not come until May 10, when General Walter Krueger, a Prussian-born army man, a veteran of many campaigns, will "invade Louisiana" with his 30,000-man red army and launch a fierce attack against Alexandria, held by 40,000 men of the blue army, or fourth army corps, now assembling across the Sabine river in Louisiana and familiarizing itself with the battleground.

Except for bloodshed, the war games will have everything incident to actual fighting. Attacking troops will employ tanks, planes, cavalry and infantry. Giant movable kitchens and bakeries will follow the advancing troops. The countryside will be blacked out nightly after 8 p. m. Communication will be carried on between commands by hundreds of miles of already-strung wires. A base hospital has been set up for "wounded" soldiers. Engineering units are available to build roads through the virgin forests and ponton bridges across the streams. Transport trucks, bumping over rough backwoods roads, are concealed from "enemy" planes by boughs cut from trees and fastened to their tops.

Rain fell in the area where General Krueger's troops bivouacked this weekend, and his 4,500 motor vehicles—his second division was the army's first motorized division—bit through mud to attain advance attack positions.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—The cotton market gave up early gains in quiet dealings today.

Hedge and local selling, together with scattered liquidation, prompted by beneficial rains in Texas and Oklahoma over the weekend, met less aggressive trade demand.

In the final hour active selling in July by cooperative interests encountered local covering and trade support with last prices 2 points lower to 3 higher.

Stock Market

SPECIALTIES ARE BID UP

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP) — Traders bid up a handful of specialties in today's stock market and left many leaders without much support.

Steels and motors did well for a while, but even these slipped at the tail-end of the proceedings. Shipping and machinery issues were popular in the forenoon, although gains were shaded at the last. Advances mostly were in minor fractions at the close and negligible declines were plentiful.

It was one of the slowest sessions for more than a month, transfers running to around 600,000 shares.

With Wall Street generally believing Allied successes are bullish, the stronger resistance put up by the British in Norway brightened sentiment a bit. War shifts, however, continued sufficiently confusing to keep potential buyers wary. Business news was encouraging in spots, but clouds remained in this picture.

Among better acting stocks — several touched new 1940 tops — were National Acme, Dresser Mfg., American-Hawaiian Steamship, Pressed Steel Car, N. Y. Shipbuilding, Westinghouse, Glenn L. Martin, Grumman Aircraft, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, White Sewing Machine and Marshall Field.

An estimated upswing in this week's steel mill operations of 1.8 points at 61.8 per cent of capacity was about in line with expectations and apparently inspired no rush for the metal shares. Handicaps were seen in the sale of a stock exchange seat for $52,000, off $7,000, and an expansion in business failures for the week ended April 25, to 311 from 262 the week before.

Encampment Is Held For FFA Members

POST, April 29.—One hundred and twenty boys, members of Future Farmers of America chapters in Tahoka, Meadow, Ropesville, Plains and New Home schools, spent the week-end at Two Draw lake near here in an encampment of the FFA chapters of the Meadow district. They were here Saturday and Sunday, returning to their homes late Sunday.

Softball, washer pitching and ping pong contests were engaged in besides other activities at the encampment.

troops had been landed at Andalsnes despite German air attacks, and it was reporte dthat these had been rushed by rail to Dombas, 65 miles southeast of the debarkation point.

No Change Reported

No change was reported in the situation at the far northern port of Narvik, where a comparatively small German force was said to be virtually surrounded by British and Norwegian troops.

Fresh bursts or fighting were reported in southern Norway, however, as the Germans sought to establish land communications between Oslo and their base at Bergen, on the west coast.

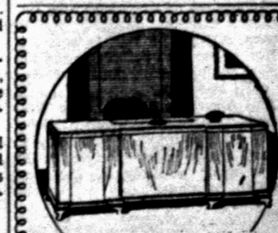

The Norwegians acknowledged the loss of Voss, 50 miles east of Bergen on the Bergen-Oslo railroad. They also admitted they had fallen back from Honefoss, which is situated on the same railway some 30 miles from Oslo, and at Kongsberg, further south.

Activity of both the German and British air forces kept pace with the quickening tempo of developments on land.

Better be glad you're not perfect. If you were, you sure would be dissatisfied living in a world like this!

THE Lubbock City commission deserves three long cheers and a tiger for declining to rush into approval of a rate hike asked here by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. After all, what's the hurry?

The telephone people made their first appearance before the commission on Thursday; a second on Friday. And they sought to have the rate increase approved in time to be included in May bills mailed out on June 11.

That seemed to us to be rushing things a little, especially since no one in Lubbock—including city officials—had sufficient opportunity to study the claims of the company, or to look into the rights of local telephone patrons.

The commission, by deferring action, must have felt the same way.

The chances are that higher telephone rates eventually will go into effect here.

The company can, if it sees fit, take legal steps which may, in the final analysis, uphold its claims to a greater return on the investment. To fight the company in the courts would be very costly to the city and might be useless in the end. Therefore, The Plainsman is of the opinion that a rate hike is in the cards.

The situation being what it is, the best thing the commission can do at the present is to call for time—unless, of course, the commission is sure that the company's claim is just and telephone patrons here are getting too much for their money.

CERTAINLY it won't hurt anything for the city to look into and study the company's claim to a rate increase.

That should be done for the protection of citizens purchasing telephone service.

Maybe, as we said the other day, the company's claims are just; but maybe, as we also said the other day, they aren't.

Let's find out, if we can—remembering all the while that the increase, if granted, will run around $1,500 per month to telephone patrons of Lubbock, which will be $1,800 saved during every month which passes before the rate increase goes into effect.

The Plainsman Saturday ran into a bit of information which adds weight to the theory that the city should carefully study the company's claims before acting.

In order that "the little fellow" may not be hurt too much by increased rates asked, the company proposes to start in Lubbock a four-party phone service. This four-party service means four phones on one line—just as we now have two in some cases. Price for this type of service will be $2 per month, as against $2.50 for a two-party line and $2.75 for a private line.

That seems pretty generous on the surface, but:

Telephone patrons—Bell Telephone patrons—in Tulsa, for instance, are buying four-party telephone lines for $1.89 per month!

Well, you might say, 11 cents difference isn't much. And that's right.

But one of the company's arguments for a rate increase is based upon the theory that the more phones there are in a system, the more valuable the service becomes to the subscriber.

And Tulsa, a city of around 150,000, must have at least four times as many phones as Lubbock.

Under the telephone company's own argument, then, four-party service in Lubbock should be considerably less than the same service in Tulsa.

CERTAINLY the city of Lubbock should get copies of telephone rate schedules in effect around the country before Southwestern Bell's rate increase is granted.

Certainly we should be sure we're not going to have to pay more than the average for phone service; in fact, we should be sure we get just as good a deal as the company gives any other set of its patrons.

If the company is right in its claims, it'll get its rate increase.

But, as we said before, what's the hurry? Rome wasn't built in a day, or even two days.

And American Telephone & Telegraph Co., with its maze of holdings running into heaven knows where, won't have to close up its doors while a study of the local problem is made.

WITHIN Lubbock's gates there are, no doubt, many worthy men—and women—who have been overtaken by hard luck and harder times.

It is that way in every community. It probably always will be that way as long as the world is like it is.

No matter how many people interest themselves in the misadventures of others, and no matter how many individuals reach out helping hands, there probably never will be enough to go 'round.

Recently The Plainsman has run across two individuals whose seperate plights are sore indeed. One is a widow with several children. The other is a man with a family.

And we wonder if somewhere here there are those who can help in the predicaments of the two.

The young widow is working long and hard at two small jobs, one a part time housekeeping job and the other work in a beauty parlor. But despite her efforts she isn't able to make enough to hold her family together.

She is strong, healthy and of good character. She wants work of any kind that will enable her and her children to get along. She can cook, keep house, do beauty work for which she has been trained—and has had some store clerking and cashier experience.

THE man is an expert typewriter mechanic who says in addition to experience in fixing typewriters he has a background of experience in two typewriter manufacturing plants.

A succession of illnesses, including one child's having infantile paralysis and a mastoid operation, has robbed him of his home and many of his belongings.

In addition to his typewriter repair experience he is also an experienced automobile mechanic, but at this time he has no tools. He also has some experience in carpentry.

Neither the man nor the widow in question is asking for "something for nothing."

All either asks is a chance to work.

If any reader has anything to offer either of these people, will he please get in touch with The Plainsman on Tuesday, between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., over Telephone Number 13?

We'll then put the helpful reader in touch with the individuals.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

VAL DOUGLAS — girl sports writer, shipped on a freighter to find excitement.

EDDIE CAVALIER — a prize righter headed for the title, has a score to settle with Val.

CAPTAIN STEVE HANSEN — skipper of the Northern Belle.

DUFFY KELSO — Cavalier's manager.

YESTERDAY: The new hands go to work, Duffy and Grimes with the paint crew while Eddie works out. Cavalier rebuffs Val's efforts to make friends. Mike Kelly tells Val that Cavalier has the stuff that makes champions and that she will be changing her opinion of him soon.

CHAPTER VII

Val Douglas went up on the bridge and watched Eddie Cavalier jog around deck. He ran tirelessly, effortlessly. Probably would give Glenn Cunningham a good battle over a mile, she figured.

She didn't have to be told by Mike Kelly that Cavalier was a perfect athlete. He had never smoked a cigaret in his life. He steered clear of liquor and followed Pop Grimes' instructions to the letter.

She remembered he had taken up golf just year ago and already was breaking 90. A famous pro once had called him the ideal example of muscular co-ordination and nerves and insisted Cavalier could be playing in the National Open within two years if he wanted to concentrate on the game.

Val Douglas long ago had decided—in print, too—that Eddie Cavalier, with his dark, curly hair and handsome features, was too good-looking to be a fighter. Once she had hinted that he could have been a greater riot as a slugger instead of the boxer he was—but that he preferred to protect his good looks.

That, in fact, was what had started the whole feud. He had never forgiven her for that and threatened to eject her bodily himself if she tried to pay a visit to his Pompton Lakes training camp.

From her position of vantage overlooking the deck, Val Douglas smiled sardonically. Here, at least, was one training camp he couldn't pitch her out of.

Duffy Kelso, spattered and smelly from paint, fixed her with a vindictive eye at lunch. "We're gonna work out on the bags this afternoon and maybe spar three rounds with Kelly. Any objections?" he inquired belligerently.

"Not at all," she answered brightly. "I'm anxious to see if his surroundings affect his ring disposition."

"I'll try not to disappoint you," Eddie said meaningly, and she wondered if he'd vent his spite on Mike Kelly. That, however, might be a boomerang. Mike Kelly, after all, was a heavyweight and still in good condition despite his long absence from the ring.

Cavalier donned Kelly's old ring togs and they fitted him somewhat grotesquely. The shoes were a half size too large but he wore an extra pair of sox to take up some of the slack.

Kelly was forced to wear makeshift garb. He borrowed a pair of sneakers from a member of the crew and cut down the legs of an old pair of trousers to serve as trunks. Both fighters wore heavy sweaters to protect them from the tangy ocean breezes.

Val could hardly suppress a snicker, they looked so funnk. Duffy Kelso, noticing, tapped her on the shoulder familiarly.

"Please, lady—cut the comics. If he sees you enjoyin' this too much it'll throw him so far off he'll never get back."

While Mike skipped rope to get himself warmed up Cavalier went to work on the light bag. Coolly, expertly he beat out a rhythmic tatoo of leather on board. Faster, faster he worked until the bag became an indistinct blur of motion and the noise became a flat, rolling wave that sounded like a muffled machine gun.

Val found herself admiring the sight. Eddie lifted his eyes from the bag, without breaking the rhythm and noticed the rapt look on her face. As though it were a sudden, spiteful gesture he slammed the bag one terrific punch and ended the show. The gesture startled her and he smirked.

A message sent down by the radio operator interrupted the workout. "It's from Sam Golden," said Duffy Kelso, reading it quickly.

"Golden, hey? What's up?" Pop Grimes asked.

"Plenty," Duffy moaned. "He says the newspaper guys don't believe he didn't know a thing about this and they ain't even talking to him, and if I know Sam Golden, he's tearing out his hair for fear maybe they'll boycott the fight.

"But that ain't all," Duffy continued. "The state boxing commission had to be notified, of course, and they demand that we put up a $5000 bond that we'll show up for weighin' in ceremonies on time.

"Who'll we get to dig up the $5000 for us?" Kelso demanded. "We gotta think fast."

"We'll think about that later," Cavalier said impatiently. "I'm getting cold. Let's go Mike."

They climbed in between the ropes and Kelso and Grimes looked at each other questioningly. It wasn't like the kid to be so impatient. He was like a race horse at the post. It was something new and they didn't like it. Duffy Kelso forgot all about the $5000 bond.

"Okay," Pop grunted, taking out his watch. "Start slow and take it easy."

Cavalier danced forward and flicked a straight left without a preliminary motion of any sort. It caught Mike on the bridge of his nose and titled his head back sharply. Mike looked surprised and advanced more cautiously.

Val tried to read Cavalier's expression but the padded head guard he wore obscured his features. All she could see were a pair of piercing eyes, and she didn't like the way they were being directed at Mike.

Mike Kelly went a good 195 pounds and there wasn't an ounce of fat on him. The years had slowed him down a little but he could still maneuver surprisingly well.

Kelly tucked his chin behind his left shoulder and went to work. He muscled in close and worked a short right to Eddie's ribs Cavalier jabbed him sharply twice in the face but Mike let them bounce off and shuffled in for more.

He swung a heavy right but wraithlike Cavalier weaved away, stepped inside smartly and whistled a right cross to Kelly's chin. Mike reeled back against the ropes and Cavalier followed him.

"Hey, you're supposed to be sparring," Pop Grimes roared, but if

FINLAND WON'T BE FORGOTTEN

Cancellation the other day of the 1940 Olympic games scheduled to have been held in Finland was a reluctant concession to the inevitable.

There was no good reason why the cancellation was delayed so long. One of the poor reasons for the delay was a small group in the United States of whom Avery Brundage, president of the American Athletic union, was one.

They persisted in gushing about what a fine gesture it would be if, in spite of war, aerial bombs, sea mines, submarines and other dangers, the United States would send its athletes to Finland just as planned originally.

Everyone with a grain of judgment or common sense has known from the day that war broke out in Europe that this nation would not participate in games anywhere within the zone of danger. It would have been the most non-sensical piece of foolishness imaginable.

However, that does not mean that Finland has been forgotten. It does not mean that the millions of dollars the tiny nation spent in preparation for the games has been wasted.

When the world returns to sanity—as surely it must some day, and when the nations are prepared to resume athletic rivalry—as surely they will, Finland will be the choice of sportsmen the earth over to be the scene of the first renewal of the historic games.

THE Private Papers of a Cub Reporter: The New York correspondent for The Montreal (Canada) Gazette reported: "Item on Mr. Winchell: It has been our experience that the name of Walter Winchell evokes a flood of letters from irate Canadians. They feel that his attitude has been anti-British. With this I cannot find communion . . . For example: Last week Winchell wrote a letter to another editor outlining his views on American preparedness and European dictatorships. A few days later two full columns were given to replies from readers regarding Winchell's opinions. Plase note the general trend:

"'Isn't there enough vicious war propaganda in the press, on the radio and in the movies, without Walter Winchell agitating readers? Americans have no part in a war for a redivision of the world . . .'

"'Apparently Mr. Winchell wants the U. S. to wake up and get right into this war in a more material way than hitherto. This country must and should stay out . . .' . . . 'Walter Winchell brands Germany, Italy and other totalitarian countries as pirate nations plundering the weak' . . . 'Winchell smells!'

"In none of the 15 letters selected as typical of the reader reaction was there the slightest hint of a cheer from blind isolationists, from the anti-British bloc or from the Nazi sympathizers. American readers apparently regard Winchell as a champion of the democracies and so bitterly anti-totalitarian as to endanger American neutrality . . .

WINCHELL

"It seems to me," continues the Montreal newspaperman, "that some Canadian letter-writers are passing strange judgment on a man whose powerful voice, although not enlisted in the same army, is pointed in the same direction as the guns of the Allies. Can it be that all the blindness on this continent is not confined to isolationists—south of the border?"

In short, he means that Canadians accuse me of trying to keep the United States out of the war—and Americans accuse me of trying to get them into one.

'It's Kinda Lonesome Around Here'

Republican Bigwigs Move To Stop The New York Prosecu...

Taft Was Outsmarted By Dewey In Mary...

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29 — Real truth about the race-that-didn't-come-off in Marylands GOP primary is that astute Senator Taft was just a wee mite out-smarted by supposedly unsophisticated Tom Dewey.

Catton

Taft's explanation that he stayed out of the race because the bosses were lined up for Dewey was true enough. What he didn't add was that the bosses could have been lined up for Taft; the Dewey people just naturally got to them first.

Maryland's GOP has a factional fight between ex-Gov. Harry Nice and W. F. Broening, ex-mayor of Baltimore, who are running for the Senate with control of the state GOP the real stake at issue. They didn't want a presidential primary contest muddying the waters, and after the Dewey people got them lined up they begged Taft to stay out. He complied, figuring the machines would swing the primary anyhow and that there was no sense getting in a family row.

But if staying out of a party row lost Taft a delegation in Maryland, it apparently won him one in West Virginia. Neither Taft nor Dewey has entered the primary there, but some smart preliminary Spade work seems to have given Taft the delegates.

Taft "Samplers" Out

Several weeks ago the Taft crowd decided to find out exactly what their prospects were in West Virginia. They sent a big crew of canvassers on a week's auto tour of the state to make extensive "sampling" straw vote tests.

The canvassers, incidentally, decided they had to have some sort of name to operate under, so they called themselves "The Institute of Political Research." They had some funny experiences.

In a number of cases, citizens they flagged for a vote would say, "Oh, yes, I've heard of you people. You do a pretty scientific job of analyzing opinion, don't you?" Two or three times a canvasser would stop a by-passer with, "May I have a moment of your time?" — and the by-passer would simply give him a dime and hurry on.

Norway Claims Proof Nazis Had Planned Invas

Refutation Of Charges Made

BY PETER C. RHODES
United Press Staff Correspondent

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 29 —C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament, says that Norway now has irrefutable proof that Germany long planned its invasion and that, while Germany was making its plans, the German minister was expressing to the Norwegian government his sympathy for Norway and his eagerness to help her remain neutral.

In a bitter refutation of charges that the Allies, with Norwegian connivance, had themselves planned an invasion, Hambro said that Norway has received disastrous proof that Britain was totally unprepared even to meet a German invasion.

Flew American Flag

Hambro charged that a big German whaler which entered Narvik harbor the night before the invasion, crowded with hidden German troops and war materials, flew the American flag and had American nationality marks painted on it.

He disclosed that Norway intended to issue a diplomatic white book to show that Germany planned its invasion a month in advance.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, in his charge Saturday of Allied-Norwegian plotting, had proved the opposite of what he intended, Hambro said.

Compared To Gangsters

"Germany's justification of its act appears to us like a band of gangsters and blackmailers who, when they have found that their victim has made a slight attempt to organize his own defense and discuss the obvious necessity of calling in the police after having been robbed, begin to shout 'these people are conspiring against us'."

He accused the German consul at Narvik, Dr. M. A. Nolda, a World war submarine commander, of having been the chief German spy charged with preparations for the invasion. Further, he asserted, Nolda had been German consul at Le Havre when the liner Paris was destroyed by a mysterious fire. Hambro said that he personally had warned the Norwegian government to be most careful about permitting Nolda to serve as a German consular official in Norway.

Non-Stop Air Service Now Being Planned

MEXICO CITY, April 29 (AP) — Pan-American Airways announced yesterday that a new non-stop air service would be inaugurated between Mexico City and Brownsville on May 1. Mail, express and passengers will be handled.

The flight will require 2 hours and 45 minutes as against the present time of 3 hours and 35 minutes, with two intermediary stops.

Mexico's motion picture industry has "laid an egg." Production was halted early in the year by lack of capital.

Far-Reaching Utility Decision Announced

NEW ORLEANS, April 29 (AP) — In a far-reaching decision believed to be the first of its kind, a three-judge federal court here ruled that the Louisiana public service commission has jurisdiction over the Interstate Natural Gas company, Inc.

James O'Connor, jr., member of the commission, in announcing the decision, said it refused the company an injunction to prevent the commission from making a proposed investigation of its rates and charges "which the commission had ordered with a view to reducing rates for natural gas to consumers in Louisiana."

The company claimed lack of jurisdiction on grounds that it was engaged in interstate commerce and was not a public utility.

Postoffice's Total Profit Is 25 Cents

HAZLETON, Pa., April 29 (AP) — Joseph Welsh totaled up receipts and expenses for his three months as postmaster at nearby Rock Glen and sent in his resignation.

Deducting expenses from the percentage of postal receipts he received as wages, Welsh found a net profit of 25 cents.

Defendant Threatens To Kill Complainant

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 29 (AP) —A man signed a warrant before Magistrate Louis E. Smith charging a tenant with breach of the peace. He said the tenant had threatened to kill him.
