Worst In Years Grasshopper Fight Set By Area Farmers

Contact work is underway today in the northeast Panhandle to enlist farmers and ranchers in a fight against what is said the worst grasshopper infestation in this area in years.

Sessions were held in Miami and White Deer Monday to lay plans for the attack against the big range hoppers that could ruin grasslands and later, crops in Roberts, Gray, Hutchinson and Carson Counties. A record number of eggs have been found in the Carlsbad River breaks this spring.

However, if the hoppers are allowed to spread, grassland can be ruined for a matter of years. Action now will halt the menace.

Total cost for spraying, officials said, will be about 62 cents per acre with the farmers paying 42 cents of the total. The bureau will pay the remaining one-third cost.

Spraying dates will be between June 1 and June 15. If it remains dry grasshoppers will hatch toward the middle of the month.

There must be, officials said, at least 20,000 acres in each block for spraying and in the Panhandle there must be 250,000 acres to be sprayed before the work can be commenced. There are about 50,000 acres in danger in Gray County.

City Hall will close and all city activities will shut down at 3:30 p.m. Friday for the opening game of the Pampa Oilers.

The action was approved this morning by the City Commission upon recommendation of City Manager B. H. Cruce.

Dulles Departs For Europe For Diplomatic Conference

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles leaves for Europe Tuesday to outline new American proposals to cut foreign aid spending and gear North Atlantic defense planning to a long pull of 10 to 30 years.

Accompanying him by plane at 11 a. m. were Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey and Foreign Aid Director Harold E. Stassen. They will join Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and U. S. military leaders in Paris for Thursday's meeting of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Council.

It will be the first time top officials of the Eisenhower administration have held a full-dress diplomatic conference with European leaders. All signs point to sharp shifts into NATO defense strategy.

Substantial Ours Expected
Informed sources said the administration's new foreign aid program, to be sent to Congress early next month, will be "substantially" lower than President Truman's request for $7.8 billion. Final total has not been set, but some experts believe the new administration will seek in the neighborhood of $5 billion to $6 billion for foreign aid in 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1.

While offering, less in aid, the United States also will ask less of its NATO Allies. Previous talk of adding up to 25 new divisions to the NATO defense force by 1954 has been dropped, and U. S. leaders are expected to seek no more than 10 new divisions.

But that portion the bottling company wants to use inside the city is in the semi-commercial zone where such plants as a bottling works are not permitted.

The city wants the valuation, the plant would bring with it, and the mayor and both commissioners expressed the idea. The plant would be an asset to the northeast section of Pampa.

City Atty. Bob Gordon said there are two ways the bottling company could be located in that part of town legally:

1 — Rezone the lot the company wants to use as commercial.
2 — Rewrite the zoning code to allow bottling plants in a semi-commercial zone.

The commission figured it would be quicker and more satisfactory to rezone the specific lot Coca Cola has in mind.

City Manager B. H. Cruce told Mayor Rose to get in touch with the Coca Cola people and tell them efforts to permit them to construct their bottling plant inside the city limits will be started immediately.

The consensus of the commission was that "the job would be done."

Pampa Gains New Bottling Plant Soon

A new Coca Cola bottling plant is in the offing for Pampa or Gray County, depending on the action of the City Commission and the Zoning Board.

Mayor Tom Rose revealed this morning that Coca Cola is planning a "very attractive and good looking building" for an improved bottling plant here.

Currently two sites are being considered — one in the Solomon Addition on N. Hobart, just one block south of the city limits. Another site is just across the line on N. Hobart.

Sen. Byrd Declares . . . Pentagon Blamed In Ammo Shortage

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said Tuesday the Pentagon's handling of ammunition problems has been "a tragedy of errors — from top to bottom."

He voiced the complaint as the Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating ammunition shortages began analyzing the testimony received in its month-long hearings. Byrd is a subcommittee member.

Chairman Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) announced late Monday that the subcommittee's hearings are over for the time being — and possibly for good. She explained that the group wants to study the testimony to date before it takes its next step.

Byrd said former Defense Secretary Frank Pace Jr. must share the blame for the shortage. He added that the blame runs "all down the line" in the chain of command.

Byrd had previously stated that President Truman must have known about budget guidelines which included the "assumption" that the Korean war would end by June 30, 1951. That guideline, handed down in September 1950 by former Defense Secretary George C. Marshall, was carried into subsequent budgets each of which was planned on the basis of a year-of-peace.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the subcommittee's last witness, confirmed the testimony of Gen. James A. Van Fleet that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander in the Far East, called off the offensive which Van Fleet wanted to mount in the summer of 1951. Van Fleet testified that he wanted to couple a frontal assault on the Communists with an amphibious landing on Korea's east coast.

School Land Deed Rejected By City

The City Commission turned down a school board offer of deeding the north half of the old Carver School property to the city by verbal agreement this morning.

The action came on the recommendation of City Manager B. H. Cruce who declared it would be accepting a costly liability due to the lack of playground space and the bad condition in which the school buildings are.

He told the commission it would cost an estimated $1,000 or more to make the building safe and usable, part of it would have to be torn down and rebuilt altogether.

Residents of the area, Cruce said, held a meeting last night and decided to ask the city not to accept the offer unless it was kept intact.

The school's offer was to deed the city and subdivide the south half into lots and sell them for about $150 a lot.

The city needs a place to build a wading pool to be financed jointly by the city and local civic and church groups. The materials would be furnished by voluntary contributions and built with city equipment and employees.

The area in question is 185 by 225 feet.

The commission indicated a proposition by the school board to deed the entire plot would be "more listenable."

And, there the matter rested until the city commission, residents of The Flats and the school board can get together on the proposition.

OAKLAND, Calif., April 21—UP—A Western Airlines DC-6B, enroute from Los Angeles to Seattle, plunged into San Francisco Bay shortly before midnight Monday night, killing eight of its 10 passengers and crewmen.

The huge four-engine airliner had landed at San Francisco International Airport and discharged 30 other passengers just minutes before the disaster. It was on a seven-minute hop from San Francisco to Oakland airport to take aboard more passengers when the unexplained crash occurred.

Eight minutes after leaving San Francisco, the plane spun into the waters of the bay.

Lovett Heirs Contest Will

Charging ambiguity in bequest estate each of them would be entitled to, heirs of Mrs. Fannie Lovett, deceased, filed suit in 31st District Court to break Mrs. Lovett's will, giving the major portion of her $1,000,000-plus estate to charity.

Named as defendants in the suit are M. K. Brown, C. P. Buckler and Dr. W. Purviance, who were named as executors of the will and who were to choose the nature of the charity to which the lion's share of the estate should go.

In the petition filed yesterday the heirs charge that the sections "vague, ambiguous, and not clear," and claim that therefore Mrs. Lovett actually died intestate — the same as dying without leaving a will.

Mrs. Lovett died in 1949 leaving an estate estimated in excess of $1,000,000 in cash and property.

The provisions of the will when published at that time resulted in a flurry of excitement since the method of spending the money was virtually left up to Buckler, Purviance and Brown. It provided that the bulk of the estate should go for charitable, educational benefits.

Many were the suggestions given the three executors — everything from establishing a library to improving the Boy and Girl Scout setting out the bequests are "vague, ambiguous, and not clear," and claim that therefore Mrs. Lovett actually died intestate — the same as dying without leaving a will.

Reds' Radio Also Claims Mistreatment

PANMUNJOM, April 21—UP — One hundred more jubilant United Nations soldiers passed through "freedom gate" Tuesday but they brought with them new stories of Red atrocities against American prisoners of war.

The Communist Peiping radio also charged that the U. N. had mistreated Red prisoners.

One of 35 United States soldiers freed in the second day's exchange of sick and wounded prisoners told of a death march on which North Koreans bashed in the heads of weakening Americans. He said Russians egged the Red guards on. Another freed GI said 40 out of a group of 100 Americans and Turks died on a forced march.

Many Americans Die
A freed Russian soldier said about 100 Americans in one camp died of malnutrition.

Communist correspondent Alan Winington said in a dispatch broadcast from Peiping that the Communist prisoners exchanged by the U. N. looked as if they had come out of a World War II Nazi concentration camp — "haggard, . . . faces stamped with suffering, . . . suffering from malnutrition." He accused Allied surgeons of performing unnecessary limb amputations.

But these charges were made by individuals, Allied and Red negotiators were not involved, and the U. N. command continued prep. a (See U. N. SOLDIERS, Page 2)

Borger Man Hurt When Car Strikes Road Abutment

A 28-year-old Borger man was injured in an accident at 12:20 a.m. Tuesday when the car which he was driving struck a roadside abutment and flipped once end-for-end and once sideways on the Bowers City road, 8 1/2 miles south of Pampa.

The injured, Warren Elvers, said he was returning to his home in Borger when the accident occurred, according to Rufe Jordan, Gray County sheriff.

The car struck an abutment in front of the C. O. Gilbert home and was thrown approximately 25 feet where it hit a mailbox mounted on a piece of three-inch pipe, the sheriff said.

Elvers suffered multiple abrasions "from head to toe," fracture of two ribs on the left side and some internal injury, according to Dr. Frank W. Kelley, attending physician.

However, his condition today is "very satisfactory," Kelley said. "Debris of the car, judged 'demolished' by the sheriff, was scattered over a 25-foot range and "to the Gilbert yard."

Elvers was charged with "driving while intoxicated" by Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson.

He was taken to Highland General Hospital by Dupeck-Carmichael ambulance.

Rep. Walter Rogers, on the committee hearing the plea for Alaska statehood, today expressed belief the bill would not be passed by the House this year. It will probably come up after the tideland question is settled, which is currently bogged down in debate, Rogers said.

Lone Star State Residents Commemorate San Jacinto

HOUSTON, April 21 -UP- Cloudless skies over the San Jacinto battleground promised to bring thousands of Texans to that site Tuesday to observe San Jacinto Day at the very spot it was founded. It was 117 years ago that Gen. Sam Houston's outnumbered Texans defeated the army of Santa Anna and brought freedom within reach of Texas. Schools, state and city offices and many businesses were closed for the state holiday giving Texans a break used by many for picnics. Appropriate ceremonies were scheduled at the battleground where the famed San Jacinto monument, tallest in the world, is located. Nearby, at the edge of the Houston Ship Channel, is the gray battleship Texas, brought here when it was retired by the U.S. Navy. Vice Adm. Harold M. Martin, who commanded the aircraft carrier San Jacinto during World War II, was to be the main speaker at ceremonies beginning at 1:30 p.m. Three Texans, Hugh Roy Cullen of Houston, Summerfield G. IT'S Your DEAL

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service
Many of the popular card games of the day are members of the "Rummy" family. There are the original Rummy game, Gin Rummy, Oklahoma Rummy, and Canasta—among others. Perhaps the most unusual of them all is Swedish Rummy.

Swedish Rummy is unusual because nobody in Sweden ever heard of it and because it really isn't Rummy. That makes it easy to see how it got its name. Take an ordinary deck of cards, without a joker, and deal seven cards to each player. (The game is usually played two-handed, but is excellent for three or four.) Turn up the next card to start the discard pile (just as in Rummy or Canasta).

The player at the left of the dealer plays first. He must discard a card from his hand that matches the turn-up card either in suit or in denomination. Suppose the turn-up card is the queen of hearts. The first player must discard any heart. And so on.

The game continues in the same way. Suppose the first player discards the nine of hearts. The next player may discard any nine of any heart. And so on.

The object of the game is to get rid of all the cards in your hand. If you can't match the previous discard in either suit or denomination, you must draw from the stock pile until you can make a proper play.

When the stock pile is exhausted, you must say "Pass" if you are unable to match the previous discard when your turn comes. Your turn is then skipped, and the other players continue until your next turn.

The most important cards in the game are the four eights. These four cards are wild. When you play an eight it automatically matches the previous discard. You merely state the suit that your eight represents (the actual suit of your eight is unimportant; you are allowed to name any of the four suits), and the next player must match that suit or play another eight.

Play ends when a player gets rid of all his cards, or when the stock is exhausted and nobody can make a legal play (called a "block"). At the end of a hand, any player who still has cards in his hand counts them up as in Rummy (10 for any picture card face value for all other cards) and these are scored to the credit of the winner. If the hand is a block, each player loses points for the cards in his hand. Game is usually 100 points.

Rookie Policeman Killed In Wreck

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 21—UP—A 22-year-old rookie policeman was fatally injured when a patrol car spinning, two officers on an emergency call collided with a taxicab.

Ike Assists Pastor

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 20—UP—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday the President almost helped to preach the sermon in church Sunday.

USDA Heads Study Problem Of Stockpiling Food, Fiber

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—Department of Agriculture officials are giving new consideration to a plan to set up permanent stockpiles of major food and fiber crops in this country, it was disclosed Sunday.

One of Secretary of Agriculture Earl T. Benson's top aides said "quite a case" can be made for permanent stockpiling in view of world tension.

"If an annual military budget of $80 billion is justified, then it would not be prudent not to maintain stockpiles of wheat, corn, cotton and wool," he said.

He added that a stockpile arrangement carrying a guarantee of no dumping on the market would give some price assurance to farmers and traders in times of big surpluses.

Democrats Were Criticized—The Truman administration advocated healthy reserves of basic farm crops but the permanent stockpile idea never passed the talking stage.

The Democrats often were criticized by some quarters for maintaining large reserves which sometimes depressed prices.

But the GOP official in Benson's office pointed out that big reserves stood the country in good stead when the Korean war broke out. He said the war "really cleaned out the larder." He said the most economical way of providing for stockpiles would be to encourage private investors to build adequate storage facilities.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"One point puzzles our group about asking permission to go out," writes a Chicago correspondent. "To put it briefly, are you allowed to ask permission to meld out when your side does not have a completed canasta on the table?"

"We understand that you don't ever need to ask permission to meld out; and that you can meld out by making a canasta and then disposing of other cards (if any) on the same turn."

"We understand, also, that there is no objection to asking for permission to meld out when your side has previously melded a canasta. The problem arises only when you want to ask permission before your side has melded a complete canasta."

"If you ask for permission to meld a canasta if given permission. This often indicates very clearly what you expect to meld—and the rule states that you are not allowed to indicate a meld before asking permission to go out."

In this situation you must comply with the rule. Some of our players say that they meld the canasta and then ask for permission to meld out on the same turn. This seems wrong, because the printed rules say that you can't ask for permission to go out if you have made a meld at that turn.

"What is the official rule on this point?"

The official rule is that you are allowed to ask for permission to go out even if your side has not yet melded a canasta. In some cases your partner will guess or may even know with absolute certainty what you plan to meld—but that doesn't bar you from asking the question.

Q—Are you allowed to discard a wild card when going out?
A—Yes. You are allowed to discard a wild card at any time at all. Some players follow a local rule that limits the number of wild cards that may be discarded, but this is a very poor rule of wild cards that may be discarded.

Q—In a game of Samba our side had six queens on the table. My partner added two deuces to this meld, and the opponents objected. They said one deuce completed the canasta and that no other deuce could be added. He said both deuces were added at the same time. Who is right?
A—The opponents are right. One deuce completes the canasta, and in Samba no further deuce may be added.

He said "America is built on exploration—experimentation, freedom, evaluation, and responsibility." Projects he suggested include discussion groups with participation of every member. He said

Porky In Envious Spot As Scribes Pick
Oilers For 8th; Players Seek Apartments

OILER MANAGER TED "PORKY" PAWELEK is in the most envious position of any manager in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

I'm afraid that there are going to be some "red faces" around the league by the time the curtain falls on the 1953 campaign.

WELCOME HOME OILERS — It is good to have the Pampa Oilers back home and we hope they stay this season in Pampa will be the most pleasant one.

PHS-Borger 9s
Meeting Here

The Harvester baseballers were booked up in a District 1-AA duel with the Borger Bulldogs this afternoon at Oiler Park.

Borger needed a victory over the PHSians to stay within striking range of the Amarillo Sandies for the 1-AA lead.

The Sandies currently are leading the race by two full games. Amarillo owns an 8-1 record to Borger's 6-3.

The lone Harvester victory to date was at the expense of Borger. The Harvesters divided a doubleheader with the Borgerans earlier in the season at Borger.

After today's single game, the Harvesters and Bulldogs are slated to wind up their series with a doubleheader here Saturday.

Oilers Back Home; Opening Day Lineup Set

Final Plans Laid For Open House

The Pampa Oilers arrived back home yesterday on schedule and Manager Ted "Porky" Pawelek, making his debut as an organized baseball manager, immediately revealed his opening day lineup.

The entire Oiler squad is anxiously awaiting the season lid-lifter Friday with the Borger Gasers at Oiler Park.

The Oilers, upon arrival yesterday at noon, took a brief running and throwing exercise to work out the "kinks" from the 375-mile jaunt from Sweetwater where they had been in spring training the past three weeks.

Max Molberg, veteran righthander who compiled a 19-12 record with the Oilers last season, is manager Pawelek's opening day mound choice.

Molberg has been looking great in spring training and is rarin' to go in the season opener.

Deck Woldt, Ricardo Cacao, George Albrecht in the outfield, and Pawelek catching.

Cacao was shifted to the outfield upon the Oilers' return to Pampa since Temes, who played at second base for the Oilers last season, was here to join the club.

Elsewhere on the Oiler front, final plans are being laid for the open house tomorrow night at Oiler Park.

The Oilers will be thrown wide open for all fans who desire to attend the Open House. Free coffee will also be served.

The Oilers will take a full fledged workout at the Open House and the fans will get a good idea of the Oiler prospects for the coming season.

Ernie Groth held Dallas in check as Oklahoma City pecked away at their Eagle pitchers.

A solo homer by Willard Brown in the sixth and a two-run circuit wallop by Phil Masi in the ninth were the big blows off Gnoph.

Tommy Lind homered for Oklahoma City in the seventh.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., April 21 — Phil Hill of Los Angeles drove his Ferrari to victory in the Pebble Beach Sports Car Road Race here Sunday before a rain-splattered crowd of 15,000.

Hill won the featured 100-mile race for cars with a displacement of more than 1,500 cubic centimeters.

He was followed to the finish line after the 48-laps by Bill Spear of Palm Beach, Fla., also driving a Ferrari.

Bill Holack of Sherman Oaks, Calif., winner of the past two races, was third.

Rudy Panyich stopped Tulsa cold with three hits and singled in two runs in the Cats' five-run fourth inning against Oiler southpaw Cliff Ross.

Panyich's margin over Beaudont, Les Layton, triple with the bases loaded got three of them and Jim Acker's outfield fly brought in Layton with the other.

Houston withstood a home run attack by San Antonio to win over the Missions after spotting them four runs. A two-run homer by Bob Cramer in the first inning and solo round trippers by Bob Lence in the third and Rocco Ippolito in the fourth accounted for all the Mission runs.

The Buffs came back in their half of the fourth to score all five runs in the Cats' big, five-run fourth inning against Oiler southpaw Cliff Ross.

Panyich's margin over Beaudont, Les Layton, triple with the bases loaded got three of them and Jim Acker's outfield fly brought in Layton with the other.

Tommy Lind homered for Oklahoma City in the seventh.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., April 21 — Phil Hill of Los Angeles drove his Ferrari to victory in the Pebble Beach Sports Car Road Race here Sunday before a rain-splattered crowd of 15,000.

Double Main Event At Arena Tonight

A full house is expected at the Southern Club wrestling arena tonight where wrestling promoter Howard Vineyard has a double main event scheduled.

In one of the main attractions, a couple of beautiful girls will grapple in a best two of three falls or one hour time limit affair.

The other half of the feature sends Jack O'Reilly against the popular Polo Cordova which will also be a best two of three falls or one hour time limit.

The all girl match pits in a ... Martinez, making her second appearance here, against Iona de Mary Jane Mull. Ida May is a brunette and is currently the woman champion of her country — Mexico.

Both girls are ranked high in the wrestling game and a rugged bout is anticipated in tonight's bout. This is Mull's first appearance here.

Cordova and O'Reilly will be taking up where they left off last week when they were on opposite sides of a 6-man tag team match. The "fur" flew in the tag but with O'Reilly's team being disqualified in the third and deciding fall.

Meeting in tonight's preliminary will be Julio Jack Terry against Luigi Maceca.

The doors open tonight at 7 with the program slated to get underway at 8:15.

SMU-Baylor Clash Today

Southern Methodist's Southwest Conference baseball leadership will be matched by Baylor's challenging Bears Tuesday at Waco.

The Bruins lagged only a half-game behind the Mustangs, a high-stepping team which broke a 16-year jinx and beat Texas on its home field, 12 to 3, for the first time since 1939 last Friday.

But the Longhorns, the only team to beat Baylor so far this season, came back the next day to edge the Ponies, 10 to 9, in 12 innings.

Texas was in third place as this week's conference schedule opened.

In other action Tuesday, the Longhorns take on Texas Christian, which has won only one conference encounter and was just a game ahead of cellarbound Rice, with no circuit victories on its record.

Texas A&M, meanwhile, played a makeup game with the Bryan amateurs Monday night and won, 4 to 3. It wasn't until the ninth inning that the Aggies scored the winning run.

Don Heft doubled, moved to third base on a sacrifice and tallied on an infield bouncer.

A full slate of conference games was scheduled for the coming weekend, when SMU must defend its conference lead twice against A&M at College Station, TCU and Rice play Friday and Saturday games at Houston and Texas and Baylor play a single at Austin Saturday.

Score by innings: A&M 000 011 101-4 5 1 Bryan 200 000 010-0 3 4 Hennig and Williams; Minto, Shell and Smith; Rodriguez.

Sayles announced Monday at Abilene that Midland got four votes for first place and Odessa two. Artesia was consigned to third place by the scribes with 28 points.

Roswell fourth with 27. San Angelo fifth with 28. Big Spring sixth with 20 and Lamesa seventh with 18. Carlsbad drew the cellar nomination with 15 points.

Suggests Top Gal Money Winner

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 21 — Louise Suggs, of Atlanta, Ga., was the top money winner in the women's professional spring golf circuit Monday with $7,437 to date after winning the San Diego Invitational Open with a 26-hole 74.

Miss Suggs fired a par 72 Sunday on the long, wind-swept Mission Valley Country Club course to collect $875 first place money.

Marlene Bauer of Sarasota, Fla., tied with Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., for second with 147s.

Alice Bauer, also of Sarasota, shot a 78 after leading in the first round with one under par 71 and finished tied for fourth place with Jackie Pung, of Honolulu, who had 71.

Bakersfield, Calif., is the next stop on the list for the touring gal professionals.

Gernert Parks 3 As Bosox Sweep Pair

NEW YORK, April 21 — UP — Dick Gernert who passed his freshman course under professor Lou Boudreau with flying colors, looks like a star student for the Red Sox again this year.

Dandy Dick, the big first baseman from Reading, Pa., smashed three home runs Monday in 4 to 2 and 11 to victories over the Senators as they finally got around to opening the season in Boston with a morning-afternoon Patriot's Day double header.

Gernert, a 23-year-old right handed swinger who came up from Louisville after last season was well underway, credits Boudreau with his rapid development. He hit 19 homers and drove in 67 runs in 102 games in 1952.

Robin Roberts, number one pitcher in the majors last season, pitched one of his most brilliant games, a three-hit, 2 to 1 decision for the Phils at New York in which he made another fine catch, a sliding retrieve of a low liner by Davey Williams earlier, that also was tagged for extra bases.

Joe Presko showed no signs of the sore arm which bothered him last year as the Cardinals downed the Braves 9 to 4 in a night game. Steve Bilko drove in four runs, and belted a three-run homer in a 13-hit attack which routed Warren, Spain and sent the Braves down to their third straight loss.

The Dodgers and Pirates were idled by snow and cold weather at Pittsburgh. All other teams had open dates.

Monday's star — Dick Gernert of the Red Sox who drove in six runs and three home runs and a double in 4 to 2 and 11 to 4 triumphs over Washington.

Scribes Pick Dukes To Win WT-NM Flag

ABILENE, April 21 — The Albuquerque Dukes appear to be the team to beat in the 1953 West Texas-New Mexico League Press At Large that's the way members of the newly formed West Texas-New Mexico League Press and Radio Association saw it in a poll conducted by the loop's office.

Others picked for the first division are Amarillo last year's winner of the Shaughnessy playoffs; Clovis, full season leader and Abilene, a club that finished last in the 1952 campaign.

Five of the 11 writers and radio men participating in the poll selected the Dukes for the top, three picked Amarillo, two named Clovis and one rated Abilene first.

On the point basis, eight of 11 first place, seven for second, etc., here's how the selectors say the race stacks up:

- (1) Albuquerque, 82; (2) Amarillo, 70; (3) Clovis, 65; (4) Abilene, 44; (5) Lubbock, 42; (6) Borger, 30; (7) Plainville, 23; and (8) Pampa, 20.

The 141 - game season opens Friday with Albuquerque at Plainville (day), Clovis at Lubbock (night), Borger at Pampa (day) and Amarillo at Abilene (night).

Cappy, Ryan Early Major Bat Leaders

NEW YORK, April 21 — UP — Figures don't mean much this early in the season. It's true, but so far the major league batting stars have been Roy Campanella of the Dodgers and Connie Ryan of the Phils.

Campanella, playing five games, has driven in 12 runs to lead both leagues in that department and his teammate, rookie Jimmy Gilliam, is tops in runs scored with nine. Ryan, on the other hand, owns the best batting average in the majors .62 with nine hits in 13 trips, while Dave Philley of the A's leads the American League with 13 hits in 28 trips for .500. Philley's 13 hits are tops for both leagues.

THE UMPIRE

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League
Written for NEA Service

QUESTION: A six-foot-two-inch batter takes his stance at the plate. He crouches over the plate in such a fashion that he stands but five-feet high. The pitcher puts one directly over the plate. It passes in front of the batter's nose. If the batter were standing up straight, the ball would have passed directly in front of his chest. The umpire calls the pitch a ball. Is this right? — Sam Dreyer.

Answer: A batter may assume any crouch at the plate he wishes, provided he is not patently attempting to make a travesty of the game. The rules require that the pitcher throw the ball over the plate, so that if it passes between the batter's knees and shoulders, as he is standing at the plate, it is regarded as the above situation. It would be left up to the umpire's judgment whether or not the batter was making a travesty of the game.

Q. Joe Dimaggio holds the consecutive game hitting streak in the American League. Who set the record in the National League? — Ralph Murray.

A. Wee Willie Keeler, in 1897, hitting in 44 straight games playing for Baltimore. (NEA)

Barrymore Selects 10 Best Thespians

HOLLYWOOD, April 21—UP—Lionel Barrymore, who celebrate his 70th birthday and 60th acting year next week, today picked the best actors he's seen down the years—most of them stars of the past.

The trusty dean of American actors reflected on the thespians he's known, from his early film days with D. W. Griffith to his current radio and film stardom, and he grudgingly selected some he thought "good."

"Garbo was one of the best I have ever seen anywhere," said the eldest of the Barrymore clan.

He also named Charles Chaplin, David Warfield, Margaret Wyckoff, Alice Brady, James Hearn, Nat Goodwin, Joseph Jefferson and Jay Florence, and snorted in disgust because I didn't know all of them.

Of current players, he picked Laurence Olivier and Julie Harris. This was an improvement, though. When Barrymore was asked to name the ten best plays he "grewed," "tut! There haven't been ten good plays."

Nastimova, he added, sounded fine when he heard her in Russian because "I didn't know what the hell it was all about."

"Then I heard her in English and didn't think she was great," he said. "The less you know about anything the more impressed you are with it."

Barrymore sat in his wheelchair in his living room and fingered his flowing polka-dot tie as he advanced his theory that actors haven't changed in the past 60 years.

"The young ones of today are the same as before," he said. "Julius Caesar's digestion is the same as Chaplin's and Voltaire and Olivier had the same metabolism. The only difference is I'm 70."

Barrymore has acted in few mov-

Blaze Kills Hotel Woman

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 21—UP—Fire swept the upper floor of the old two-story American Hotel and killed its landlady, Mrs. Lucille Jones. Two persons were injured, one seriously.

About 20 persons were in the building when fire broke out. Sixty firemen rushed to the scene when the alarm was sounded Monday and controlled the fire within 30 minutes. The hotel is located on only two blocks from Beaumont's downtown fire station.

Mrs. Jones' body was found in one room of the hotel. Fire Chief Steve O'Connor said she was seen at the head of the stairway preparing to flee the burning building as firemen arrived. The apparently became confused and turned left into the room where her body was found, he said. She apparently became confused and turned left into the room where her body was found, he said.

Another resident of the hotel, C. V. Hale was seriously burned. Fire Capt. W. E. O'Connor, the chief's brother, received a bruised back when a brick fell from the roof of the burning building and struck him. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Bank Increases Capital DALLAS, April 21—UP—Stockholders of the Republic National Bank of Dallas have voted a $7.5 million increase in capital and surplus, to $50 million from the present figure of $42.5 million. Board Chairman K. A. J. Heitzler and President Fred F. Florence announced.

Large Parking Lot DALLAS, April 21—UP—Leo F. Corrigan, multi-millionaire real estate operator, will build a 1,200-car parking garage in the heart of downtown Dallas, occupying practically all of the block bounded by Main, Commerce, Akard and Field streets except the property on which his Hotel Adolphus stands and the site of a planned 50-story office building adjoining the Adolphus.

GIRL HURLER—Roma Wilson's only 18 but fashions the poise and style of a veteran wending up to release the discs in a practice meet in London. (NEA)

RECEPTION COMMITTEE—Personnel at the Fifth ROK Military Surgical Hospital near Munsan, stack blankets, coats and other equipment to be used for the UN's POW's. The Communists promised to turn over the first of 600 sick and wounded Allied prisoners on April 20.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21—UP—No chances were taken by delegates to a seminar on traffic safety here. First they awarded Ralph W. Saffer of Rochester a pin for 14 years "continuous safe operation" of a bus. Then they let him drive them on a tour of the city in the bus.

Too Bad RAPID CITY, S.D., April 21—UP—Armstrong county in South Dakota was voted out of existence last fall and merged with a neighboring county. Thus doing away with the only county in the United States which did not have a single federal employe.

PAMPA NEWS, TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1953 Page 7
Crime Does Not Pay SACRAMENTO, Calif.—UP—There should be one reformed character in the underworld here after he reads this. Not only did he fail to find anything valuable in the two safes at a bottling out-plant that he is a reformed "cracked" but the second safe wasn't even locked. A turn of the handle would have opened it.

A Grim Warning

We ask your attention to what John T. Flynn, author of "The Road Ahead," calls "a war raging in this country." Flynn says that we have had this war for 20 years and adds:

"I do not speak of the wars against Germany or Russia or Communist China. I refer to a revolutionary war going on inside the United States. It is a revolution aimed at us all. . . . It is a revolution which you have been losing, which you are still losing and which you have not even begun to fight. And if you do not wake up very soon and find out what it's all about and begin an all-out counter-offensive you will lose it utterly."

"This is a revolution to destroy that which we might call the American system — the American Republic on the political front and enterprise on the economic front.

"You have been losing the political and economic war here in America because you are opposed by men who know as much about the weapons of ideological revolutionary war as you know about the weapons of military war. . . ."

These remarks by Flynn were addressed directly to a meeting of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association this year.

Flynn then outlined seven different points of battle at which "the American system had suffered defeats after which he said:

"What are these revolutionists after? You can get very much confused if you make the mistake of thinking that this is a Communist revolution. It is a Socialist revolution.

"The Communists support it because they know that so-called democratic socialism is merely the vestibule for the Communist dictatorship. It is not even called socialism by these intellectual revolutionists. They call it the planned economy. They all agree on a system in which the powerful central State will either operate or make the plans for the whole producing and distributing system of America. They are aiming at what the British Fabian socialists aimed at.

"And this revolutionary movement is being carried on by men and women who are socialists and by a large number of foggy-minded idealists who do not realize what they are doing and by the Communists, who believe that the socialist planned state is only the first leg of the journey. And they are all agreed that this planned economy cannot possibly be operated under our form of government — namely a federal republic."

"It calls for a powerful central State whose authority is unrestricted and unchallenged. We do not have such a state. The only barrier against their project is the Constitution of the United States and the fact that this is a society made up of 48 republics, united under a federal republic of severely limited powers, that they are determined to wipe out."

Every word of warning by Flynn to the Pennsylvania manufacturers for the "aid and comfort" they are giving, knowingly or not, to the enemy might be directed at those who are giving the same sort of aid to the revolutionists who are working through the channels of the influential Protestant churches of the country. There is the same cold, factual evidence to support this contention that there is to support the case in other fields — and it needs only to be recognized to be understandable. The recent statements of the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church and president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, concerning political and economic thinking that follow the Socialist-Communist line are matters of fact that need only to be read. The plan of action for getting the story over to the individual congregation by the ministers of various churches is very clear in the recent statements by Clifford Earle, secretary, Department of Social Education and Action, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education is a fact. These are only two recent examples of the evidence that is available on every hand if there is any effort made to obtain it and understand it.

Church members affiliated with the National Council of Churches of Christ in America who continue to support the Council are adding their weight, influence and treasure to the forces that would undo America. For these members to say to themselves, "Oh, but I don't feel that way" is not sufficient excuse for ignoring the facts. The threat to true Christianity through collectivist government is too apparent to be ignored or wished away. The time has come when the American people will have to make a choice — a choice that in many instances will be difficult for there is a tendency to feel that there is loyalty to the nation and to the church in the choice. To those who feel that there is a conflict between the church of their choice and the nation of their choice we can only say that no church can exist where liberty is not and that to be loyal to a true Christian faith the individual is required to be loyal to liberty.

Mr. Reed's measure was reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee by a vote of 21 to 4. That raised the hopes of weary taxpayers who didn't realize that the Rules Committee decides whether a bill shall go to the floor for debate. Facing that roadblock, Mr. Reed said he would seek to bring his bill to the floor by petition, which requires 218 signatures — a bare majority. But at that point President Eisenhower's decision to put budget balancing

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Tax Reduction
This column believes that there should be tax reduction now.

I believe this because the only possible way of reducing government expenses is to prevent the politicians from getting too much money. Politicians who want to hold their jobs are like little boys who like candy and have money. There is no way of stopping them from getting candy as long as they have money. The only way to stop politicians from buying votes is to refuse to give them the money.

Inflation Hears

Yes, I hear the apologists for not reducing taxes now contend that the government will create purchasing power or credit by selling bonds to the government. That may be true, but if people elect men to office who believe in dishonest money, then the people must learn the hard way. They must learn by realizing that the government is putting an extra tax on every man who has a bond, a preferred stock, a life insurance policy or what is commonly called "social security" or a pension. It of course works a hardship on these individuals. But buying life insurance or bonds or preferred stocks or credits is a voluntary act. "Social security" of course if not a voluntary act, but probably the ones who believe in "social security" and advocated it are the ones who are entitled to suffer the consequences. Of course, the younger generation had nothing to do with "social security" and they are the ones who the politicians are especially robbing.

But there is no chance of balancing the budget as long as "social security" and socialism are in the hearts of men. The politicians will learn quickly, it seems to me, by refusing to voluntarily support high taxes than they will by conceding that we must keep on with our socialist expenditures until we balance the budget. It will never be balanced by any socialist government. And the Republican party and the Democratic party have both adopted the main ideologies of the Socialist party.

By way of reducing taxes, the whole Agriculture Department should be suspended.

The Labor Department should be suspended.

The "Social Security" Department should be suspended.

Sending our politicians all over the world, as President Eisenhower is sending his brother to South America, should be suspended. We should protect the individuals in the United States from being robbed by the government instead of attempting to run the rest of the world.

All the banking laws should be repealed and banking should be entirely under private control. If it were not for the banking laws and the labor laws and the progressive taxation, we would have no long periods of unemployment and our standard of living would be at least a half better than it is. If it weren't for the banking laws that give the government the power to coin money and attempt to regulate the value thereof, the government couldn't get the money to turn our country into socialism. The state governments don't have the power to coin money and regulate the value, so they cannot be as socialistic as the federal government, because of this error in the Constitution, which violates the ideologies of the Declaration of Independence.

Now I want to quote from the National Economic Letter on its ideas of tax reduction. The article was written by Mervin Hart, its president. From here on I am quoting:
"The Republican Party last year promised the people it would reduce spending and taxes.
"The 1932 National Platform called for reduction of expenditures by the elimination of waste and extravagance so that the budget will be balanced and general tax reduction can be made."
"All Republican candidates ran on this plank, including Mr. Eisenhower."
"A bill to fulfill that pledge was introduced by Congressman Daniel A. Reed, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, on January 2d. It called for an average tax reduction of 11 per cent maximum on the smaller incomes, tapering to 1 per cent on the highest brackets, to be effective July 1st. That amounted to 5 1/2 per cent tapering to 1/2 per cent for the calendar year 1953.
"In a speech in the House January 3rd Mr. Reed declared that the excess profits tax (on corporations) should be permitted to expire on June 30th. Then he continued:
"While I favor permitting this law to die a natural death, I maintain that our individual taxpayers are entitled to simultaneous relief. For every individual who has an interest in a productive enterprise which is being throttled by the 82 per cent (excess profits) tax, for every inequity and for every arbitrary and discriminatory provision of this law, there are thousands of small taxpayers who are equally entitled to tax relief and who, believing that they will receive fair and equal treatment, have placed their trust in the Republican Party."
"Mr. Reed's measure was reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee by a vote of 21 to 4. That raised the hopes of weary taxpayers who didn't realize that the Rules Committee decides whether a bill shall go to the floor for debate. Facing that roadblock, Mr. Reed said he would seek to bring his bill to the floor by petition, which requires 218 signatures — a bare majority. But at that point President Eisenhower's decision to put budget balancing

National Whirligig.. Jenner Committee Gets Closer To Pro-Red American Policies

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — The Jenner Security Committee is getting closer to the inside operations of blundering or pro-Communist American diplomacy than any other congressional investigating group, even including the Nixon inquiry that exposed the Whittaker Chambers-Alger Hiss relationship.

It is putting the finger of accusation on the specific individuals who gave outrageously bad advice to several secretaries of State — Byrnes, Marshall, Acheson — either because of their Kremlin sympathies or out of sheer stupidity.

It is also identifying the distinguished officials who sponsored and praised these inept or Russian-minded individuals, and relied so completely on their untimely suggestions. It is the first attempt at classifying the active conspirators and the merely complacent.

MIDDLE EAST HOTBED — Marshall was also surrounded by Achesonians when Washington precipitately recognized Israel's declaration of independence in May, 1948. But both the negotiations for Arab boundaries had been conducted and concluded before he took office. He simply signed the papers.

The 1948 politics inspired Truman's midnight recognition of the new state. As Forrestal notes in his diaries, Robert E. Hannegan, then Democratic National chairman, pestered Truman for a pro-Israel policy to influence Jewish voters and contributors in that year's presidential election.

Forrestal and British warrings that it would strengthen the Communists throughout the strategic Middle East were disregarded. Conditions are still so turbulent there that Secretary Dulles will soon visit the area with promises of more U.S. financial aid.

Thus the Jenner Committee, if it pursues these leads, will explore virgin diplomatic territory.

By an irony of history, Marshall had an important role in the decisions which helped to lose China, alleged the Italian people and transformed the Arab world from friends into enemies of the United States. He was not responsible for any of these major moves. He had to balance his diplomatic ignorance and inexperience by acting on the advice of Acheson-Morgenthau "experts."

GLASSER, ECONOMIC ADVISER — A key witness before the Jenner Committee has been Harold Glasser, who said that he had attended 30 or 40 foreign conferences as the protégé and adviser of Acheson. Nevertheless, on grounds of incrimination, he refused to say whether he was a Communist, or whether he had passed on to his superiors (the also served in Treasury, UNRRA and WPA) advice he had received from Communists. He has been accused of association with Hiss in a Red underground.

Glasser was Marshall's economic adviser when the question of Trieste was settled at a Moscow conference in 1947. The committee has yet to develop the significance of his role there. But in that agreement, Marshal Tito, then a Soviet ally, was given an extremely favorable settlement in the division of that disputed city. It angered the Italian people, and strengthened enormously the Red popular and political influence in that key country. Italy is still ahead of tax deduction evidently deterred Mr. Reed from initiating such petition. Still we believe that Mr. Reed will resort to this if necessary to bring the issue to a vote. And the House will probably pass the bill, for Members are hearing from their constituents."

The Nation's Press
PRESIDENT SHY OF TREATY CURB
(The Dallas Morning News)
The Senate's judiciary subcommittee is right in asking executive testimony on the Bricker amendment. The proposal does put a limit on present treaty-making powers. That is why it must be a constitutional amendment. So the views of Eisenhower, his Secretary of State and Attorney General are important.

But this should not mean that Congress should necessarily go along with the President's views. He is adverse to the amendment on the just grounds that such a restriction will limit the flexibility of his treaty-making power. In this respect, the executive will always feel that way. But the country at large has seen a good deal of what can happen if there is no check rein on that flexibility. And it has seen, especially in Harry Truman's case, what powers an executive will claim if there is no black-and-white definition to say him nay.

The new Bricker amendment has nothing in it to which there can be logical objections. Upon the contrary, it would write into the Constitution the phrases that seem to offer the greatest protection against one-man authority. Involved is similar assurance that the Constitution can not be set aside and that the people, through Congress, must finally pass on any international agreements which might impair essential constitutional rights. The nation trusts Dwight Eisenhower, but it may not trust his successor.

It is to be hoped that the current Congress submits the amendment for ratification by the states. This is not a party matter. Indeed, outside of platform pledges and recognized party policies, no legislation should be a party matter.

Down South... Gold Standard Is A Must For Return To Sound U.S. Economy
By THURMAN SENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE
There is one fundamental fact which the people of this country should realize once and for all — that we shall never again have a thoroughly sound economy until we have honest money to back it.

We have not had an honest dollar now for twenty years — and we still do not have it. Until we get it, it will be exceedingly difficult to keep the politicians — and we mean the politicians of either party — from spending and squandering the people's money.

A gold standard and a redeemable currency are necessarily policies that can keep the politicians from doing these things. It is difficult for some people to understand why a gold standard is necessary. What a "gold standard" actually means is an "honest standard." It means the dollar has a tangible value back of it — not just a printing press. If something else could be used as well as gold, then it could replace gold as a standard and have the same effect. Throughout history, however, nothing has been found so universally adaptable as gold for this purpose, and it is therefore only sensible to continue to use it.

The main thing to be noted is that urging a return to a gold standard is a matter of morals; it is a matter of honesty between a government and its people.

attention to the national debt, to pay no attention to a balanced budget. The government simply ran printing press at full speed and with the "money" thus produced granted unlimited "favors" to unlimited numbers of persons, both at home and abroad.

The Doctor Says
By EDWIN J. JOHNSON, M.D.
About five thousand children between one and four years old are killed in accidents in the United States each year. The seriousness of this problem is shown by the fact that accidents account for about one-fourth of all deaths of children in that age bracket. It is particularly tragic because many of these accidents could have been prevented.

Being run over or struck by automobiles is responsible for a great many fatal accidents — railroad trains and streetcars for a few more. Burns from playing with matches or firecrackers, or upsetting hot fluids, also account for a considerable number. Young children do not have much sense of the dangers of water, either, and therefore drowning, often in shallow water, is a leading cause of fatal accidents.

A considerable number of child deaths result from falling — some from windows and porches. Small children love to explore and so perhaps not all of these could be prevented. However, care in keeping windows and screens locked up and warning children against particularly dangerous exploration could certainly prevent some injuries nonfatal as well as fatal.

Some accidental deaths of small children come from drinking poisonous substances. All poisons should be kept out of the reach of the children; poison labels are of no value because small children cannot read, end even older children pay no attention.

Besides those children who are killed by accident there are many more who are seriously injured. Some of these cause permanent damage which will alter the entire later life of the youngster.

Of course, too, injuries are not restricted by any means to children from one to four. Among older children accidents are also common, although caution develops with age and they become less frequent as time goes on.

PARENTS should guard in every reasonable way against mishaps which can produce death or injury to their children. The responsibility is a real one though it cannot always be successful. Certainly a little more care in driving automobiles where children play and in using other methods which guard against accidental injury are highly desirable.

With the great decrease in deaths and illness from the diseases which used to be common among children, such as smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever, accidents have zoomed to practically the top of the list as a killer of youth.

Quits Diet And Predicts . . . Stylishly-Stout Men Will Be In Great Demand In Near Future

By HENRY McLEMORE
HOLLYWOOD, California — On the thirteenth day of my diet, just when I was beginning to be able to button a shirt collar without first setting my papers in order in case strangulation set in, what do you suppose I read in the papers?

Not to keep you guessing, I read that scientists were of the opinion that fat — yes, FAT — was just about the best protection a man could have against radioactivity in case of an atom attack. I can't explain in scientific terms why this is, but I gather it is because the radioactivity bogs a plump man, whereas it can pierce a thin or shapely fellow as easily as Cupid's arrows do Tommy Manville.

Nothing, I thought, after seeing one exploded on Yucca Plains. I could ever be pleased about an atom bomb. I still feel that way, but if I were forced to try to say something nice about an atom bomb it would be that it doesn't hurt fat men as much as it does thin men.

Thin men have always lorded it over us un-stylish stouts. This is largely due, as I mentioned in a column not long ago, to a decided preference which seems to have for men who can see their own toes.

But now, thanks to the happy findings of the scientists, I am not at all sure but what things will change. Women love security as much or more than they do a washboard stomach and one chin, and when word of how safe a fat man is gets around, you can look for wider aisles in the churches.

Wives will be proud to go shopping with their overweight husbands and beam when the clerk runs a tape measure around her spouse and says, "I'm afraid a size 46 will be a trifle snug on you."

I can almost hear the conversation at an afternoon bridge or canasta table.

"Poor Sally! I'm as sorry for her as I can be. Her Bob is down to a mere shadow. He couldn't weigh more than two hundred pounds. Sally is doing her best, heaven knows. She gives him spaghetti and whipped cream the minute he opens his eyes in the morning."

I rushed out to the nearest restaurant, tripped a waitress, and said, "Bring me a second helping."

She said I hadn't ordered a first helping as yet.

"I'll get around to that," I said. "I just like the way 'second helping' sounds."

Biscuits running with butter tonight, boys. Mashed potatoes kneaded in rich gravy. And a dessert richer than Croesus with an oil well.

You know, I'm liable to be the best-looking man in this town before long.

White House Sidelights . . . President's Voice Disclosed His Illness During Speech

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 21—UP—Backstairs at the traveling White House.
Members of the President's staff who were not with him at Washington's Statler Hotel last Thursday when Mr. Eisenhower made his important peace and disarmament speech could tell from the sound of his voice he was not feeling well.

One of his staff, following the speech over the radio, suddenly exclaimed, "Goodness, what is wrong with the President—his voice sounded so well when he started, but now he sounds worn out."

This particular staff member had not known Mr. Eisenhower was suffering from food poisoning.

Mr. Eisenhower decided before his election, if he went to the White House, he would get rid of the yacht Williamsburg. He told friends he was not the yachting type.

Numerous Democrats questioned the political wisdom of ex-President Truman using the yacht so much, not for what it cost, but the symbolism of wealth and luxury.

Andrew Jackson had his "Kitchen Cabinet" and Herbert Hoover had his "Medicine Ball Cabinet." FDR called his closest cronies "The Cuff Links Gang" and the people around Mr. Truman were dubbed "The Missouri Gang."

Mr. Eisenhower has "The Green Jacket Crowd." These are the members of the Augusta National Golf Club who wear distinctive emerald green jackets with the club emblem on the breast pocket. Mr. Eisenhower wears his constantly.

A great many people are utterly thoughtless in their efforts to impose on a president. Presidents for those who try to use the chief executive to promote their own private interests.

A man here the other day tried to have the President appear at the opening of a new store.

There have been repeated suggestions the President, during one of his golfing trips to Augusta, make a short side trip to inspect the huge, nearby Savannah River plant where the hydrogen bomb will be built.

The plant is under construction and the President probably would like to look it over, but there is little chance that he will ever visit the installation.

His advisers feel his presence at the site where the so-called "hell bomb" is to be put together would be too much of a martial display at a time when this country is running a peace offensive.

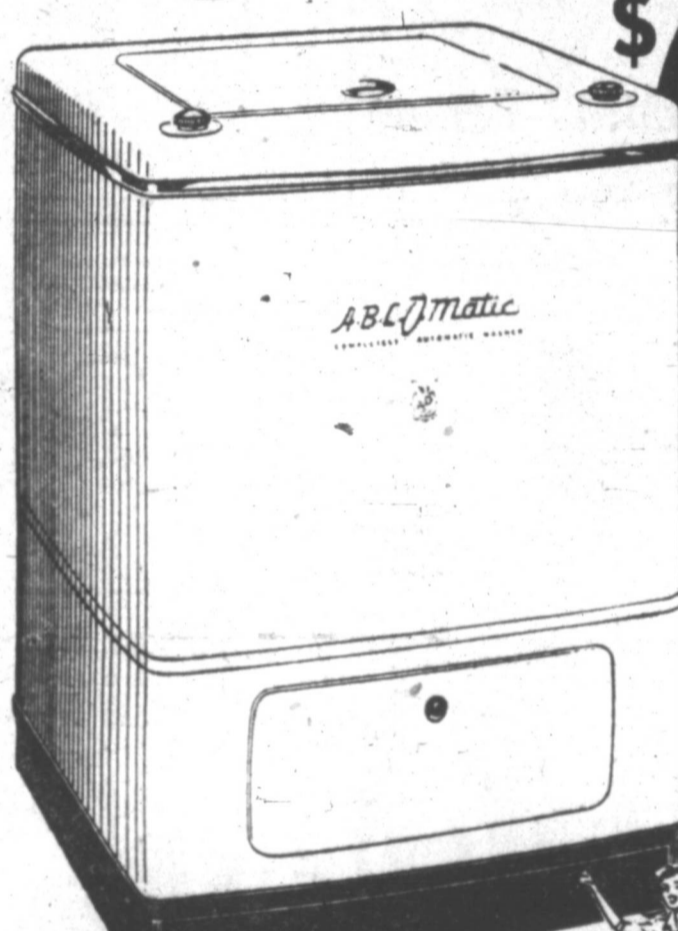

Mr. Eisenhower's idea of having the cabinet meet regularly whether he is in Washington or not may have sprung from a technique used by President William Howard Taft.

Taft once summoned his entire cabinet to the White House and kept the members there day and night for nearly a week. This was in the summer when Mrs. Taft and most of the cabinet wives were out of town and the President decided to have a working house party.

Taft said it was an excellent opportunity for the heads of the executive branch of government to do some extra work. And that is what Mr. Eisenhower expects of his cabinet when he is not on the scene to preside.

New Cup Vendor
 LAS, April 21 —UP— Dr. Pepper Co. at Dallas has exhibited a soft drink cup-vending machine that cost less than half the price of the average cup-vendor. Company President Leonard M. Green said one of the machines at a test location showed a $6,300 sales increase in seven months.

Pince-nez Passing
 GENEVA, N. Y.—UP—Pince-nez glasses aren't the rage they were 40 and 50 years ago, but there is still a small, steady demand for them, according to the Shuron Optical Co. whose special mounting for such spectacles helped "make" the firm. About 200 pince-nez orders are filled monthly, apparently for elderly persons who refuse to change.

Rebel Money Song Written In Jest, Proves To Be True

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
 WASHINGTON, April 21—UP— Maybe Mrs. Hank Fort had something in her song called, 'Save Your Confederate Money, Boys — The South Shall Rise Again.'

Mrs. Fort, of course, wrote the song in jest in collaboration with Larry Markes and Justin Stone. She tried it out on visiting editors at a press club breakfast here and caught some rebel yells when she sang that after the South is "whipped" the Yanks, the South will open up the banks—and declare a dividend!

Well, now, it develops that some Confederate money is worth a pretty penny these days. The report came out appropriately during national coin week.

E. Ward Russell, head of the Washington Numismatic Society, says that some of the South's inflationary Civil War currency has been bringing fancy prices at auctions. The society has a public exhibit of some of this money this week at the National Museum.

Penny Brings $2,000
 For example, says Wilson, a 1793 penny in good condition recently brought $2,000.

If you happen to have a Confederate half dollar minted in 1861—an original, and not a re-strike you can name your own price. Only four such pieces were struck that year. But to get back to Mrs. Fort.

She's an attractive lady and comes by her Southern accent with honey since she hails from Nashville, Tenn.

"My parents both were artistic," she says, "and I was born with music in my soul. It just had to come out."

Mrs. Fort has been writing songs about as long as she can remember. Being from Tennessee she took a shine to Sen. Estes Kefauver when that gentleman was making a bid for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

She composed a little ditty which she called 'The Tall Guy in the Coon-skin Cap. This one got quite a house when the band struck up at various pre-convention Kefauver rallies.

Anti Hillbilly
 Another tune Mrs. Fort particularly likes is one she called 'Put Your Shoes On, Lucy—You're a Big Girl Now.'

Still another she called 'You Can't Hurt Me, Cause I'm Daid.'

Mrs. Fort, a fluttery person, held up our interview a half an hour for something more important.

"You don't mind, do you, if I turn on this kid show on the television?" she asked.

She turned on the set and took down with the giggles through the whole thing.

Most of her songs wear a Southern flavor, but there's one word she doesn't like. That's "hillbilly."

"My stuff," she said, "is real music and not the hill kind."

Little Woman Has Last Word Even On Purchase Of A Home

NEW YORK, April 22—UP— Women have the last word even in home-buying.

George W. Warnecke, one of the nation's leading building financiers said some 50,000 American families are house-shopping this spring, and that nine times out of 10, when the deal is closed, it is because the little woman made up her mind.

She will be sold more by appealing color schemes, fancy kitchen arrangements and gadgetry than by the technicalities of good construction, he continued.

"And," he warned, "unless she's careful, she will have selected the wrong house."

Warnecke, whose firm since 1913 has underwritten $7 billion worth of building in this country, said often women were "sold" on a house the same way they were sold on a hat.

"Let the builder doll the house up so it catches her eye," he continued, "and she usually buys."

Be Sure of Finances
 Warnecke didn't suggest that a family ignore the surface appeal. But he said there are many other factors to consider before making "the largest single financial investment of a lifetime."

"Don't bite off more financially than you can chew," he said. "And if you are in doubt about whether you should buy or wait, wait."

A wait might be a good idea anyway, he added, because the market may break in a couple or three years and houses will be cheaper.

Warnecke, housing adviser to the Roosevelt administration and wartime contracts negotiator for the Department of Navy, said the home shopper should ask these questions before signing a mortgage on say a $10,000 to $20,000 house:

1. Have you tested your earning capacity for a yearly income of $5,000 to $8,000 over the past 10 years?
2. Can you look forward to a minimum yearly income of $8,000 for the next 10 years?
3. Can you support the family and keep up payments on home in case of several months of unemployment or in case of a general business decline?
4. Can you support the family and keep up payments on home in case of several months of unemployment or in case of a general business decline?

Double-Check
 To know whether you're getting a basically sound construction, he suggested you spend $10 or $20 for the fee a reliable contractor or realtor will charge to look over the house you have in mind.

"The double-check may save you hundreds of dollars later in repair and maintenance," he said.

Warnecke also suggested that you study carefully the neighborhood in which you plan to buy.

"Check the school, church, shopping and transportation facilities," he said. "But also check the neighborhood's potential 10 or 20 years from now. The re-sale value of your house grows or declines with the community."

Warnecke said he's personally opposed to buying old houses with the idea of remodeling them.

"You're taking someone else's mistakes," he said. "It's like re-vamping grandma's dress. You never quite get it looking up-to-date."

Union Official Connected With Communist Party

EL PASO, April 21 —UP— Clifford E. Jencks, 35, international representative of the international Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, was indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on a charge he violated anti-Communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Jencks, whose union co-sponsored the controversial movie, 'Salt of the Earth,' was arrested immediately at Bayard, N.M., and was unable to post $5,000 bond at his arraignment before U.S. Commissioner G. H. Kenner at Silver City, N.M.

Harvey G. Foster, special agent in charge of the El Paso FBI office, said Jencks would be brought to jail here Tuesday.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Holbey Williams said at El Paso that the union official was indicted on two counts charging that, in April, 1950, he signed a false affidavit saying he was not a member of the Communist party and "that his affidavit was false when he said he was not affiliated with the Communist party."

The film, 'Salt of the Earth,' was branded "a new weapon for Russia" by Rep. Donald Jackson (R-Calif.). The Mexican star of the movie, Rosaura Revueltas, was arrested by immigration authorities and charged with entering the U.S. illegally, but she later voluntarily returned to Mexico without finishing the picture.
