Bomb Destroys Home; Sixteen Badly Injured

Police Seeking Clues To An "Inspector" Who Is Thought Responsible For Fatal Blast Early Saturday

Woman Is Killed

Owner Of House Was Friend Of Mussolini And Political Enmity Is Blamed; Five Fall From Third Floor

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Police tonight were seeking clues to an "inspector" who is believed to have planted a bomb in the home of John M. Di Sylvestro, national head of the Sons of Italy, destroying the house, killing his wife and injuring sixteen persons.

Authorities were convicted only a bomb or dynamite could have torn the house to pieces as did the blast early today. A man, since learned to have been an imposter, made an "inspection" in the basement yesterday.

Dies In Collapse

Mrs. Elizabeth Di Sylvestro, wife of the prominent attorney, banker and supreme venerable of the Sons of Italy in the United States and Canada, apparently died instantly as the three-story house collapsed.

Four children and their governess fell from the third story to the first, but escaped death. They were injured, as were also eleven persons living in the neighborhood.

Di Sylvestro was not home at the time. Legal adviser to the Italian consul in Philadelphia, he had been conferring with an assistant United States district attorney and was nearing his home when the terrific blast shook southern Philadelphia.

Friend Of Mussolini

Police, recalling a minor bombing at the same place in 1927, favored the theory that political enemies or radicals attempted to destroy the Di Sylvestro family. The father, a friend of Benito Mussolini, has been an active supporter of fascism, they said.

Di Sylvestro was in no condition to be questioned, authorities declared, but a cousin, John J. Sabatino, talked with him.

Sabatino said Di Sylvestro believed the bombing to be the "work of anarchists who oppose his support of Mussolini."

Hunt For Bandits Centers At Olton

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 28 (AP) — Search for two men and a woman in connection with the slaying of Sheriff J. C. Moseley at Tulia, Tex., turned to this region today, after wrecking of a new automobile on a highway seven miles east of here.

Two men and a blonde woman who occupied the car when it plunged into an underpass abutment were said by officers to have resembled the description of the alleged Tulia slayers.

The wrecked automobile was brought here, where it was being held for inspection of Tulia officers today. Eighteen gallons of alleged liquor were found hidden near where the car was wrecked.

Officers of three Texas counties were concentrating late today in the region of Olton, Texas, to which the trio was alleged to have fled after the accident last night.

Farm Relief Bill To Face Another Week Of Hearings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP) — Buffeted by criticisms, the domestic allotment farm relief bill tonight faced another full week of hearings before the senate agriculture committee can get to work on it with a view to reporting it to the senate.

The heaviest barrage of opposition yet is expected to be laid down Monday when the packers open up against the measure with G. F. Swift of the Institute of American Meat Packers as their big gun.

Former Premier Herriot Is Being Considered As Leader

PARIS, Jan. 28. (AP)—President Albert Lebrun is looking for a strong man to handle the delicate parliamentary situation resulting from the overthrow early today of Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour.

The powerful figure of former Premier Herriot looms as potential head of the government, although his strong attitude on the war debt momentarily appears to eliminate him.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL

WACO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of his brother boy resulted in the fatal shooting today of Willis Gibson, 13, son of a druggist at Oglesby, about 30 miles west of Waco. The boys had been hunting.

Senate Smolders As Battle Nears

Sizzling Controversy Over Sharply Pared Pro Enforcement Fund Expected Shortly

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Senate wets and drys prepared tonight for a sizzling controversy over the sharply cut and restricted prohibition enforcement fund sent to it by the house.

Hardly had house wets defeated today a dry drive to remove the restrictions on the $8,440,000 enforcement fund for next year, when senate leaders voiced their differing intentions.

Senator Sheppard (D., Tex.), a leading prohibitionist, said he would appeal to the senate appropriations committee to eliminate the provision prohibiting wire tapping, buying of liquor for evidence and the hiring of informers. He added if the committee failed to heed his request he would take the fight to the senate floor.

On the other hand, Senator Blaine (R., Wis.), said the reduction from $9,120,000 to $8,440,000 for prohibition enforcement in the $102,602,000 supply bill for the state, justice, commerce and labor departments, was "not enough."

Says Amount Too Low

Another prohibitionist, Senator Capper (R., Kas.), said the amount left was "too low and would cripple the work" of enforcement.

Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), said the house action was "another evidence" confirming the contentions of Attorney General Mitchell and various bar associations that whatever is to be done about prohibition repeal and modification "ought to be done at once."

Mitchell has advocated quick action on repeal to avert nullification of the 18th amendment through lack of enforcement. Bingham added, however, he would support the cut in the senate appropriations committee.

FOUR ARE HELD

CORSICANA, Jan. 28 (AP)—Four men indicted for murder in connection with the "ride" shooting of Dudley Williams Tuesday remained in the Freestone county jail at Fairfield tonight while their attorneys sought to make bonds of $5,000 each granted at a habeas corpus hearing today.

Vital Work In Legislature Is To Start Soon

Governor Ferguson And Farmer Jim Will Know How They Are To Stand; Many Important Subjects Pending

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. — Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, partner in the chief executives office, will know soon how they stand with the Texas legislature.

It always is interesting when a new administration makes its advent to speculate on the probable treatment the chief executive will get from the lawmakers.

No Evidence Of Drift

The forty-third session of the legislature is thee weeks old, but there hasn't been any substantial surface indication of the drift of the tide.

The controversy in the senate over Mrs. Ferguson' request for return of three appointments to the State Board of Education sent up by former Governor R. S. Sterling during the last days of his administration was not regarded as a fair test of partisan strength there.

Some of the senators felt there was a principle involved deeper than partisan politics and the division was not accepted as indicative of what the future holds with respect to Ferguson proposals.

It has been generally predicted that the Fergusons will have a safe margin in the house for any measure they may seriously advocate. The senate is supposed to be doubtful. There isn't any way of gauging

Confessed "Torch Slayer" Is Held; Extradition Is Waived

HACKENSACK, N. J., Jan. 28. (AP) Frank Carnora, confessed "torch slayer," waived extradition this afternoon and was taken to Rockland county, N. Y., to face trial for the killing of his wife Lina, 57.

The woman's body, ablaze, was found Thursday in the shadow of Spook Rock, Spring Valley, N. Y., and was identified by her two sons by bits of clothing that escaped the blazing gasoline. Her husband was immediately the subject of wide search because relatives told police of constant squabbling in the Carnora household.

Two Farm Boys Are Entombed By Cave-In Of A Playhouse

YUKON, Okla., Jan. 28. (AP) Entombed by a cave-in of their sand playhouse, two farm boys were found dead by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Gray, today. The Grays are tenants on a farm north of Yukon.

The parents said the boys, Bennie, 15, and Paul, 12, failed to answer a dinner call Friday night, and did not come home. Suspicions were not aroused because they often went to a neighbor's home to spend the night.

LOAN IS GRANTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today granted Glen Rose, Texas, a $45,000 loan for construction of a complete new waterworks and sewer sysem.

Eagle Leading Congress Race

Oscar Holcombe Still Clings To Lead Over Monteith For Houston Mayoralty Post; Is Trying A Comeback

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Jan. 28.—The lead of former Congressman Joe H. Eagle in today's eighth Texas district congressional election still was maintained tonight, and it appeared only a revolutionary turn in the way the balloting was going could head him.

The voting was to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman Daniel E. Garrett and to select a representative for the next long term of congress.

Is Pro Repealist

Eagle, who ran as a prohibition repealist and an advocate of payment of the soldiers' bonus, got away to a flying start topping the ballot and held his place as the hours went by and unofficial tabulations of returns continued.

Tabulations for the long term gave Eagle 8,296; Chester H. Bryan 2,295 and Robert L. Cole, who appealed throughout the campaign for United "dry" support, 1210. The 30 other candidates, included only one Republican, Clarence Miller, showed but a handful of votes each in the tabulation. Millers total was 97.

For the unexpired term, the totals were somewhat lower, and it appeared many voters had elected not to mark the short term ballot. The relative position of the candidates, however, was unchanged.

Meanwhile, Oscar F. Holcombe still clung to his lead in the Houston mayoralty election. Late tabu-

LEAD INCREASED

HOUSTON, Jan. 28 (AP)— The election of Joe H. Eagle to congress from the eighth Texas district to succeed the late Daniel E. Garrett seemed assured tonight as additional returns from today's election increased his heavy lead.

Officers Hunt Woman "Herb Doctor" After Victim Is Fleeced Of Savings

(By The Associated Press)

WAXAHACHIE, Jan. 28. — Officers began a search today for a woman "herb doctor" who fleeced Mrs. Ella Gillespie out of $500.

By working hard and living frugally, Mrs. Gillespie had accumulated a sizable bank account and $300 would be necessary for hospital treatment. She decided that would be too expensive, however, and said she would wait.

A woman came to town and heard of Mrs. Gillespies plight. She went to her humble cottage and suggested that a "money belt" was a sure cure.

At the "doctor's" suggestion, Mrs. Gillespie withdrew her money from the bank and left the task of placing it inside a "belt" to her benefactor. She wore the belt around her waist.

"You won't have long to wait," said the visitor. "Just until Saturday; by then your trouble will have gone. Just be patient."

The aged woman waited hopefully until today. When relief was not forthcoming Mrs. Gillespie took off the belt. In it was an old newspaper instead of the money.

Sheriff Laments Loss Of Liquor

(By The Associated Press)

OKANOGAN, Wash., Jan. 28. The sheriff of Okanogan complained to the prosecutor today that "those prisoners in the county jail are not honest. They stole by liquor."

"How could they? They are in cells," answered the prosecutor.

"They broke out of the cells and broke into the liquor storage room, and drank all the evidence," said the the sheriff.

"That's burglary," said the prosecutor.

So today three prsoners with hangovers sat in their cells while the sheriff read a warrant charging they did unlawfully and feloniously break into and enter in the night" and so forth.

Home Service Appeal Drive Opens Monday

Fourteen Divisions To Start Out Early For Canvass Of Entire City; Leaders Urge Hearty Cooperation

The Salvation Army's home service appeal for funds is scheduled to open Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock and will close on Saturday, W. A. Jackson, chairman of the campaign committee, said Saturday.

Workers are asked to report at the committee's campaign headquarters, 1210 Texas Avenue, in the Citizens National bank building at 9:30 o'clock for final instructions. Business firms have been divided into fourteen classifications and will be worked that way.

Have 14 Divisions

Those who will have been divided into 14 divisions, each with a board member heading the division in addition to a team captain. Each captain secured his quota of workers.

"All members of the advisory board, as well as all workers, are asked to report at campaign headquarters Monday at 9:30," said a statement issued by the chairman.

Cooperation Is Urged

"Citizens are asked to be prepared to receive the teams with cash or check in hand. If a donor does not desire to pay all, he will be asked to sign a pledge card. Workers will be provided with cards. Let us make this the greatest victory Lubbock has ever had.

"We ask that Lubbock citizens consider both the civic and the social value of the Salvation Army program, not only to the ones it will reach but to all who give and to every citizen of Lubbock as well. We assure you that every dollar given to this cause will be wisely

Posse Disarmed By Bandit Trio

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28 (AP) — A crestfallen posse reported late today it had been captured and disarmed by thee men it pursued along various highways after the trio had wounded the North Kansas City marshal and escaped with approximately $14,000 carried by a bank messenger he was guarding.

The six men said they suddenly came upon the three robbers mending a tire near Holt, Mo. A pitched battle followed. Members of the posse reported they were fired upon by two machine guns.

The trio of robbers, one wounded, overcame their pursuers, gathered up an armload of revolvers and shotguns and escaped in one of three cars in which the citizens had overhauled them. One of the six possemen was used as a shield as the robbers took up their flight. He soon was released.

Robbers Loot Bank As Farm Crisis Flares

Three Thousand Farmers Halt Foreclosure Sales On Five Farms; Sheriff Says Sales Are Impossible

Bank Loot Heavy

Four Raiders Sweep Into Town While Roads Are Lined With Thousands; Between $7,000 And $8,000 Taken

(By The Associated Press)

MADISON, Minn., Jan. 28.—Three thousand farmers, protesting evictions from land for non-payment of debts, prevented foreclosure sales of five farms in three contiguous western Minnesota counties today.

Gathering as have agrarians of several farm belt states in recent weeks, they brought about indefinite postponement of all the proceedings.

Delayed Indefinitely

One, involving a lumber company's lien of slightly more than $100, for fencing an 80-acre tract, was delayed indefinitely after a temporary halt failed to effect a settlement.

The sheriff, told a settlement had not been reached, then announced the indefinite postponement and said presence of 400 farmers, who remained at the courthouse, since forenoon, made a sale "physically impossible."

Robbers Make Thrust

A quick thrust by five bank robbers while between 2,000 and 2,500 farmers were hurrying into Madison to prevent three sales helped give sheriffs of the three counties a hectic day.

Four raiders, whose features were hidden partially by heavy growths of beards, forced four employes and a customer of the Klein National bank at Madison to the floor and escaped with between $7,000 and $8,000 in a car driven by a fifth.

The robbers swept into town while roads were thronged by the automobiles of incoming farmers, less than an hour before the scheduled sale time.

Sheriff A. G. Smagard, saying attempts to dispose of the three farms appeared futile, immediately announced postponements. The farms were those of Casper Westfield, 75, who has lived on the land 43 years, Thomas Faaberg and Berent Olson.

Awards Given Club Members

Winners In State And County 4-H Club Work Announced At Annual Achievement Day In City On Saturday

Awards to winners in state and county work were made to Lubbock county 4-H club boys and girls at the regular county council Achievement Day program Saturday afternoon at the courthouse. LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 28. (AP) The brief romance of Marion Talley, Kansas City, former Metropolitan opera singer, has ended in annulment of her marriage to Michael Raucheisen, 43-year-old German concert pianist of international reputation.

The annulment was granted last night in superior court here on the singer's charge her husband had violated a pre-nuptial agreement by refusing to allow Miss Talley's mother and sister to live with them.

Al Smith Declares That He Will Not Hold Place In Cabinet Of Roosevelt

Indefinite On Part He Is To Play In Administration

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. — In no uncertain terms, former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York today said he would not hold a cabinet post in the incoming Roosevelt administration.

At a conference with newspapermen, the Democratic chieftain and one of the contenders at his party's convention in Chicago last June for the presidential nomination, was asked:

"Are you going to accept a cabinet post in the incoming administration?"

Answers In Negative

Removing his cigar from his mouth, he turned toward his questioner and replied:

"No, sir."

"What part are you going to play in the next administration?"

Smiling, he again replied:

"That remains to be seen."

He was asked if there was any foundation in the rumor that Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.), would resign to accept the ambassadorship in order that Governor Lehman of New York could appoint him as senator.

Would Refuse Senate

"No," he replied, hastily adding, "that is 'no' for my half of it. I won't accept a seat in the senate for my part of it, but I don't know what Senator Copeland is going to do."

Questioned as to whether he is to become head of the Reconstruction Corporation, as has been reported, he said:

"I am head of all the things I want to be now."

Robbery Is Aggravating But Kicking Of Son Is Too Much

TEXARKANA, Jan. 28. (AP) — It was aggravating enough to be menaced with a pistol but when the would-be robber at her front door kicked her child Mrs. Lucien E. Maledon "saw red" here today.

The man knocked at her door on pretense of being a pencil peddler. When Mrs. Maledon refused to buy pencils, he displayed a gun he had hidden under a handkerchief in his hand.

Just then Richard, her son, unaware of the robbery attempt, tried to pass through the door. The man kicked him. Mrs. Maledon went into action then. She drew her son inside the house and slammed the door against the intruder, who fled.

Kurt Von Schleicher Resigns Post As German Chancellor

BERLIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Chancellor Kurt Von Schleicher, for almost a decade considered to be Germany's most clever player of political chess, today was checkmated by the opposition which he a few days described as political manipulators, and resigned.

Former Chancellor Franz Von Papen, Nationalist Leader, Alfred Hugenberg and National Socialist Leader Adolf Hitler, plus the East Prussian junkers and also certain big industrialists, persuaded President Von Hindenburg that General Von Schleicher was unable to master Germany's economic crisis and insisted that a stronger man must be placed at the helm.

Three Hidalgo Citizens Are Sentenced For Tax Evasion

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—Three persons formerly active in Hidalgo county politics today were sentenced by Federal Judge R. J. McMillan for attempting to evade payment of income taxes a few years ago.

Sam M. Hargrove of Mission, former county commissioner, was sentenced to two years in the Chillicothe, Ohio, federal penitentiary and fined $2,500. Alex Champion, former chief deputy under the late Sheriff A. Y. Baker, and Plutarco De La Vina of Edinburg were fined $1,500 each and given suspended sentences of a year and a day in prison. The sentences were suspended on condition that the fines be paid.

While earning his way through two years of college, Newell has been a football star and an honor student.

Youth Is Shot By Road Guard

Wellington Youth Is Dead As Result Of Failure To Stop At Sign; Highway Worker Is Free On Bond

(By The Associated Press)

WELLINGTON, Jan. 28.—Charlie Sullivan, Wellington youth, was shot and killed early today as he drove past a large sign erected by a group of men commissioned to watch for the slayers of Joe Brown, Wise county deputy sheriff, killed yesterday at Rhome.

C. L. Hasle, a construction engineer who came to Wellington last fall in connection with work on highway No. 4, was charged with murder. He was released during the day on $5,000 bond.

Buck Harris, a deputy game commissioner at Amarillo, summoned to assist in watching the highways, said the car in which Sullivan was riding was the first that had failed to observe the sign. Sullivan, returning from a dance at Childress with a companion, was shot through the body. He died in a hospital.

Juries In Two Murder Trials Find Verdicts

Joe Hawkins, On Trial In The Slaying Of Father-In-Law, Freed In Fourth Trial Held At Plainview

Parks Denied Bail

Sweetwater Business Man Is Found Guilty; Thanks Judge For Fair Trial And Displays Little Emotion

WEST TEXAS juries in two widely separated murder trials turned in verdicts yesterday as far apart as the cities in which the trials were held. The verdicts, covering cases against L. M. Parks, Sweetwater business man, and Joe Hawkins, Crosby county farmer, were guilty and not guilty, respectively, and for 25 years imprisonment in the first case to freedom in the second.

Charged with drowning his wife while the couple and their two daughters were on an outing near the Nolan county capital, L. M. Parks, bottling company operator, heard his verdict of a quarter century in the penitentiary with almost no emotion. His trial was in Sweetwater.

Joe Hawkins, charged with the fatal shooting of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker, near Ralls in October of 1929, saw a long legal fight ended in his favor when a Hale county jury, sitting in Plainview, returned the verdict of 'not guilty'. The trial was Hawkins' fourth on the identical charge, previous hearings have been held in Plainview, Floydada and Crosbyton, in three different counties.

Crosby County Man Is Freed At Fourth Trial

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28. (AP) — Joe Hawkins was acquitted tonight on a charge of murder for the shooting of his father-in-law, S. M. Walker, in Crosby county in 1929.

The defense introduced testimony to show Hawkins acted in self-defense while Walker was advancing toward him with a hoe in his hands.

Tell Of Trouble

Witnesses told of trouble developing between the men over a dog fight at Hawkins' home, which Walker had attempted to stop.

After an exchange of words relative to whether Walker should leave the Hawkins place, Hawkins entered his home, Walker followed him part of the way to the house with the hoe, witnesses said. When Hawkins came out with a shotgun, Walker was slain.

It was the fourth time Hawkins had been tried on the murder charge. At his first trial, in Crosby county, he was convicted. He appealed the case and the verdict was reversed. The case was remanded for trial.

Later it was tried twice in other counties but in each instance juries failed to agree.

Parks' Punishment Is Set At 25 Years In Pen

SWEETWATER, Jan. 28. (AP)—A district court jury today found L. M. Parks guilty on a charge of murder in connection with the drowning of his wife at Lake Trammell, north of Sweetwater, last July, and set his punishment at 25 years' imprisonment.

Parks received the verdict without emotion and thanked Judge A. S. Mauzey "for a fair trial." He inquired whether he could be freed on bond and remarked, "I thought so" when the court answered in the negative.

replete with conflicting testimony.

The trial lasted all week and was The defendant, at his examining trial, said Mrs. Parks fell into the lake and his counsel submitted testimony that he was a poor swimmer. The state countered with witnesses who claimed Parks was an expert swimmer.

Three sisters of Parks testified that the couple's home life was ideal and that before her death, Mrs. Parks had complained of dizzy spells. In rebuttal, the prosecution sent Mrs. R. L. Havins of Abilene, mother of Mrs. Parks, to the stand. She testified that her daughter had told her she was "feeling better now than I ever did in my life."

Evidence to show that Parks had taken out insurance policies amounting to $18,000 on the life of Mrs. Parks, with himself the beneficiary, also was submitted by the state.

Mrs. Fay Condit, a Sweetwater woman, early in the week told of her relations with Parks and said he had given her money whenever she wanted it over an extended period.

Ma Ferguson Grants Hilton Bybee A New Lease For Life By Commutation

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—Less than 48 hours before he was due to be electrocuted, Hilton Bybee, 21, of Cottle county today received, a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. Gov M. prisonment. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson thus granted a commutation in the first death penalty case coming before her for consideration.

Bybee was sentenced for the robbery by firearms of Ernest Slape. James E. Ferguson, the governor's husband, said that clemency had been recommended by Slape, by ten members of the jury which convicted Bybee and by peace officers.

Ferguson said his wife commuted the sentence because of the convict's youth and also because no one was killed in the robbery. Bybee's electrocution had been set for early next Monday.

When Bybee received news of the commutation he told W. W. Waid, warden of the prison, that he was "very happy" because of the governor's action and would repay it by "never giving the prison officials any trouble."

Babson Says British Debt Settlement Would Hasten Business Recovery

Developments Said To Be In Sight On Debts

Settlement May Be Necessary Spark To Set In Motion Revival Of Security Prices, Commodities And Business

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright for Avalanche-Journal

BABSON PARK, Florida, Jan. 28.—Approaching settlement of the British debt is indicated by the recent conference at the White House. This may prove the necessary spark to set in motion a real revival in security prices, commodities, and business. Both President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt realize that settlement of the British debt is a necessary preliminary to stabilizing the pound sterling, and hence to stabilizing the exchange of many countries whose currencies are linked to sterling. Since depreciated and fluctuating foreign exchanges are today one of the chief draw-backs to rising prices in the United States, including farm prices, some settlement of war debts would be a vital, constructive move. One suggestion is that Great Britain may be allowed to pay, at a reduction from the present debt, a lump sum as a final settlement, raising the money through a large bond issue.

Roger Babson

How Business Would Benefit

I have never advocated cancellation of the war debts and I do not now. However, some reasonable revision of the debts seems inevitable and salutary. The United States is faced with two alternatives—first, to refuse a reasonable revision, force Britain to default, get no money, and hold back world recovery including our own; or second, accept a reasonable compromise with Britain and receive a large payment, sufficient indeed to balance our budget for the current fiscal year without additional taxes.

Although it seems doubtful that the present congress can do much toward such a settlement, the way is being paved for early action in the next Administration. Perhaps Roosevelt may make this his master stroke for which the Democratic administration will get credit in the future as having broken the world depression.

Want Gold Basis

The United States should insist, however, that, in return for the revision of the British debt, England should stabilize the pound sterling, preferably on a gold basis, even though below its old-time parity. This would stabilize other exchanges and make possible the resumption of more normal trade relations. The settlement of the British debt would at once benefit United States business in the following ways: (1) By stabilizing exchanges, it would increase our export trade of both industrial and farm products. (2) It would pave the way for international monetary agreements that would prevent dumping of foreign goods in our markets at ruinous prices. (3) It would restore financial confidence in world recovery; stocks and bonds would rise; banks would loan more freely to our industries; commodities would advance; and the whole machinery of business would receive a strong impulse for increased activity. (4) It would help restore goodwill between two great nations and pave the way for reduction of tariffs, armament restriction, and ultimate reduction of heavy tax burdens.

Should Preserve Gold Standard

Even though the United States might eventually revalue the gold ounce to relieve internal distress and help in trade competition with revalorized foreign currencies, gold is still the accepted standard to which world currencies should be tied. If we insist on drawing gold from England for war debts, instead of allowing her to revise and refund her debts through bond issues, we effectually prevent her from returning to the gold standard. We also prevent her from stabilizing the currencies of a dozen other nations with whom we trade.

Far better for our farmers and workers that we arrange a final settlement of these war debts, and thus bring order out of chaos in foreign exchanges. Owing to the drop in the value of the British pound and other currencies, our farmers and manufacturers are at a great disadvantage. They cannot sell on equal terms abroad, and they find it very difficult to compete with low priced imports at home.

Depreciation of foreign exchahges ranging from 13 per cent to 59 per cent below the United States dollar is equivalent to an added tariff of the same amount on American exports, and equivalent to a breaking down of our tariff on imports. Thus it strikes our industries and farmers from both sides. Following is a table of foreign exchanges in relation to their former parity, showing the dislocations that are affecting our trade.

World Cooperation Needed

The official view is that Great Britain, having met her debt obligations faithfully, is entitled to every consideration in reaching a settlement. France, however, must first prove her sincerity by making the payment upon which she recently and wilfully defaulted. Some observers believe that France now repents her hasty action and may soon square up her account as a dramatic gesture for goodwill and world recovery. At any rate the world is rapidly learning that recovery can never come from economic and political warfare. It was individual and national greed, selfishness, and hatred that brought about the present troubles. When people and nations substitute the Christian spirit of cooperation for the Un-Christian spirit of suspicion and hatred, world recovery will be assured.

Branded Coyote

Lamesa Man Gets Burned Animal

LAMESA, Jan. 28. (Special)—Bill Creighton, local hunter, reports that while on a bird hunt with a party before the season closed, he killed a branded coyote.

The animal had a brand U-4 on the right side, and a V was cut in the left ear. The right ear was cropped and the tail cut off. Creighton, who was with E. E. Dickie and C. D. Williamson of the William Dickie Manufacturing Co., of Fort Worth, on the trip, said the brand was new to him.

GINNING HIGH

RALLS, Jan. 28. (Special)—Crosby county will gin for the 1932 cotton crop in excess of 50,000 bales and probably 55,000, in the opinion of E. A. Henry, manager of the Texas Compress and Warehouse company here.

The first indoor sun bathing beach in England has been opened at Branksome Chine, Poole.

Heiress, Baron Elope

Mrs. Martha Morse Stbolt, above, heiress to a large Chicago fortune, is honeymooning with Baron Wolfgang Beck von Peccoz of Munich. They surprised society by eloping to a neighboring county for their marriage before a justice. Divorced six months ago, the new baroness will reside in Munich, wheere she met the baron.

Two Dollahs—Five Dollahs—Lawdy!

Not All Marriage Fees Which Slip Through Fingers Here Go To New Mexico; Negro Woman Thinks It Comes High

NOT ALL marriages fees which slip through Lubbock county fingers go to New Mexico, even if Texas marriage license laws are supposed to be worth $15,000 a year to one New Mexico city, Ed Allen, Lubbock county clerk, learned last week.

A long, slim negro woman, accompanied by a shorter, somewhat dumpy woman of like color, asked the clerk for marriage license and physical examination quotations. Mr. Allen, in that hospitable way of his, explained that $2 was paid, upon filling of intention to marry, and no further charge was made upon procuring a marriage license. Cost of examination, which need be of the bridegroom-elect only, varied from $2.50 to $5, depending upon the physician, Mr. Allen estimated.

Office attaches say the gangling questioner, in a gray sweater, a red-brown beret, and a short skirt which accentuated her height in exposing her lean shanks, lost all her nonchalance, upon asking the patient clerk to repeat all that, which he did, to her dismay.

She stalked out, repeating incredulously something about:

"Two dollahs fah a license; two-fifty to five dollahs fah zamanashum . . . two dollahs . . . five dollahs . . . lawd!"

Continental Oil Planning Tests

Two oil tests for Cochran county are being contemplated by the Continental Oil company, according to reliable reports.

One test is reported to be west of the Penn well, near Lehman. It was this well that Robert Penn was working on when he met his tragic death by the accidental discharge of a gun in his car at Bledsoe.

The other location will be south and west of Bledsoe, just inside the state line.

No indication is given of when opratıons will start. The Continental owns the derrick at the Penn well and it is still in place. A man has been guarding it since the closing, early in 1932.

Showings of oil have been had in several Cochran county tests, but not enough for production.

Gain In Enrollment Shown In Lamesa's City Schools

LAMESA, Jan. 28.—Beginning the second term in the local schools, the high school showed a gain in enrollment of 60, and the elementary school to date is 424; in the elementary school, 735; total enrollment for the year, 1159.

Above figures according to the school officials indicate interest the people have locally in the school system.

Building Firm Located Here

Southwestern Engineering Company, Equipment Brokerage Unit, Selects City As Headquarters

Lubbock probably is the only city of less than 150,000 population between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast to have a building equipment brokerage.

The firm, the Southwestern Engineering company, represents four manufacturers in selling heating, ventilating, air conditioning, tempreature regulating, and pumpins equipment to jobbers and contractors. Established actively here about December 1, it has Arizona, New Mexico, and 73 West Texas counties as its territory.

Located Because of Area

Although Lubbock is unusually small to have such an office, it was situated here because Lubbock is centrally located from "towns of consequence" in the firm's territory, Frank McPherson, engineering head, explained. Lubbock is by far, within his knowledge, the smallest city to have such a company. Representatives of heating and ventilating equipment manufacturers ordinarily, in cities of this size, either are jobbers or, having direct representation, deal through a broker.

Selection of Lubbock as headquarters of the Southwestern Engineering company enabled builders generally to obtain consultation, and architects to procure plans, affecting heating, ventilating, and allied problems.

Submitted Plans On Hospital

The local firm recently submitted quotations looking to anticipated letting of a contract for a $500,000 government hospital plot at Albuquerque, N. M., Mr. McPherson said. In addition to the hospital, two residences for doctors, a nurses' home, and a garage would be erected.

Mr. McPherson, who has been in the building equipment brokerage field about seven years, came here last September from Kansas City, Mo., where he represented Bishop and Babcock Sales Co., of Cleveland, one of the companies represented by the firm here. He served overseas in the World war as a member of the fifth engineers of the seventh division, a regular army division.

The nearest offices having the same status as that of the Southwestern Engineering company are in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Kansas City and Denver, he said He knew of none between Denver and California.

J. M. Bennett also is a member of the company here.

I. S. Doak Home Is Scene Of Party That Is Given Friday

A group from the younger set was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Doak, 1922 Seventh street, Friday evening. Those who attended were Addie Lee Terrell Georgie Clifton, Geraldine Capp, Dorothy Ann Pereau, Ernestine Lockhart, Erline Heddins, Roleta Izard, Mary Jo Doak, D. G. Zachary, Delbert Richardson, Willard Green, Warren Pereau, Bill Schofield and Weldon Philips.

Strict Adherence To Regulations Is Urged For Scouts

As a result of complaints that regulations governing enrollment of Boy Scouts are not being adhered to strictly in some troops, the Lubbock district Boy Scout court of honor committee has submitted recommendations for proper regulation, D. T. Jennings, South Plains Area council executive, of Lubbock announced Saturday.

George W. Dupree, chairman of the Lubbock district court committee, also is head of the council court of honor committee. The recommendations will be considered by the council executive board at its next meeting for application through out the area., Executive Jennings said.

The district committee recommended that "no boy be dropped for cause until after the troop committee has made a thorough investivation and done everything possible to secure the cooperation of the boys parents in helping the troop to make a scout of him."

The three types of inactive scouts, the committee stated, are:

Associates, suspended scouts, and dropped scouts the classifications requiring written statements of action to the council office by scoutmaster, patrol leaders' council, and troop committee, respectively.

Two Large Engines Taken To Electra; Use In Power Plant

FLOYDADA, Jan. 28. (Special)—Two large engines, formerly used by the Panhandle Sand and Gravel company in northeast Floyd county when the F. W. and D. S. P. was built through here in 1928 and 1929, have been dismantled and shipped to Electra where they are to be used in a city power plant.

The units were part of an equipment costing several hundred thousand dollars, installed on the Elmer Tibbits land, to get sand and gravel from a large deposit there. Ballast was used for the Denver line in 1928.

HOUSES IN DEMAND

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28. (Special)—Good rent houses in first class shape are in demand, local real estate and rental men state. Rents are in keeping with present prices. New tenants are coming in and filling up vacant houses. The number of vacant dwellings has considerably fallen off the past 60 days.

The more important flying clubs in France have been assigned ambulance airplanes.

Some time ago the plant was abandoned.

Why Winter Cooking Requires More Gas—

Consumers
who use gas for both cooking and heating realize why their bills are higher in winter than summer. They know that it takes much more gas to keep them warm during severe months than in periods of mild weather.

In cases, however, where gas is used only for cooking, consumers sometime wonder why their bills are higher than in summer.

There are several reasons, one of which is that more hot food is eaten in winter than in summer.

Water
coming from the faucet in summer frequently averages around 70 degrees in temperature, while in winter it may average as low as 45 degrees, or a temperature lower than that of the ice water you drink in summer.

Thus
in winter, the temperature of the water may have to be raised 167 degrees to reach the boiling point, while in summer it may be necessary to raise it only 142 degrees—or even less.

This same situation applies in more or less degree to all branches of cookery. The articles of food go into the oven or on the stove at a lower temperature than in summer, the utensils are colder and the air in and around the stove is colder—so more gas is required for cooking in winter than in summer even if the same menus are used.

Little Water Can Put Out Big Fire

Two fire department members Saturday afternoon proved that a little water can extinguish a large fire.

Called to the Joe McDonald farm, eight miles southwest of Lubbock, Cecil Casey, assistant chief, and Glenn Smith found two feed stacks containing about 40,000 bundles of feed afire.

The tank truck which the members drove to the fire carried only 140 gallons of water. Without additional water supply, the blaze was put out. The fire had not reached the center of the stacks, and could be controlled more easily. As flaming bundles were jerked from stacks, water was showered on them. Total loss was avout 1,000 bundles, Casey said.

Fire department members answered two other alarms yesterday afternoon. Fire loss at a three-room residence at 2411 Twenty-Fifth street approximated $300, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said. The blaze caught from an oil stove, the department received the call at 1:35 o'clock. Roy Waldrop resided in the building. An automobile on fire at Fourteenth street and Avenue G resulted in the last alarm. There was negligible damage.

SLIDE FIRE REPORTED

Elmer Gillean, of Slide, who was in town late Saturday reported a fire at his home in the morning that might have resulted in complete destruction of the building. Mr. and Mrs. Gillean were seated in their kitchen when they heard a crackling noise.

Mr. Gillean went outside and found the high wind had blown off the top of the chimney-pipe and the roof was on fire. With the help of his wife, who carried water from the windmill, the blaze was extinguished. "Two minutes more and the room would have been in full blaze," he said.

Body Of Man At Slaton Believed To Be Identified

SLATON, Jan. 28 (Special)—Mrs. Bettie Purcella, who lives about 40 miles from Capitan, N. M., believes the body of a man found dead here is that of Otis Cline, who herded sheep on the Horn brothers ranch about 45 miles from Roswell.

That is information from a justice of the peace at Capitan. Finding Mrs. Purcella's name and address in a pocket of the man, who strangled after a hatch fell on him, evidently a he started to enter an ice bunker of a refrigerator car, authorities communicated with her. The corpse, still warm, was found January 20.

Information and picture of the dead man has been sent Mrs. M. E. Cline of Egan, Johnson county, Tex., mother of Cline.

The man subsequently found dead said, while riding with a motorist who had given him a ride, he had worked on the Horn brothers ranch, the motorist reported.

Lamb County Extension Tour Is Conducted During Friday

Between 60 And 75 Persons Of Section Brave Cold Wind To Visit Demonstrations; Some Visitors Are In Party

By Staff Correspondent

AMHERST, Jan. 28.—Braving a cold wave between 60 and 75 persons Friday went on the annual extension service tour sponsored by D. A. Adam, county agent and Miss Ruby Mashburn, home demonstration agent. Last minute changes had to be made in the schedule, because of unforeseen events but the main program was carried out as planned.

Start was made from the First National bank here Friday with eight cars, all filled with people eager for the day's events. First stop was at the home of Martin White where a bedroom Mrs. White had improved with her own hands, was seen. Mrs. White, who has won high honors with her improvement work, had made over the bedroom at a cost of less than $6.

Cellar Is Inspected

The cellar of Miss V. D. White, sister of Mr. White, was also inspected. Her cellar for the year included fruits, vegetables, pickles and preserves and other items of standard 4-H club pantry for a balanced ration for five persons. Her pantry was valued at $521.73. The only items not grown on the place included fish and some of the fruits.

At the home of Jess Money at Spring Lake, a club boy, two fine calves were seen. They are being prepared for spring shows. The bedroom of Edna Packard, a 4-H club girl at Spring Lake was inspected and the party then went to the home of Merrill Brigance, a 4-H club feeder at Olton where five calves were found on feed.

Lunch Is Served

Lunch was served at noon by the women of the Olton Home Demonstration club and the party then hurried to the L. L. George home, south of town. The trench silo of Mr. George was inspected and the six calves of Creager George, a club boy. The home of Mrs. Walter Schrier, Sand Hill, was not visited. She has an improved wordrobe.

At Hart's camp the party visited the W. P. Neinast farm where Lonnie Neinast, champion club boy, has two calves on feed. At Spade the 4-H pantry of Mrs. H. H. Sheffield was visited.

One Change Is Made

One change was made at Littlefield. The famous terraced garden of Joe Wells was not visited but instead the farm of Mrs. J. E. B. Robertson, east of town, was inspected. Here Mrs. Robertson has 125 capons, just about ready for market. The home of R. B. McQuatters, dairy demonstrator was visited. Here two calves were found on feed.

Coming on back towards Amherst, the orchard and vineyard of G. D. Lair, one of the most extensive in Lamb county, was inspected. Mr. Lair is a grape demonstrator. Last stop was at the home of R. L. May, meat demonstrator, where his cured meat work was gone over.

By the time the party had reached Amherst it was decided because of the late hour not to go to Sudan. Here the feeding projects of P. E. Boesen and the meat demonstration of C. J. Poor were scheduled to be inspected.

Included In Party

In the party were three men from other sections: G.W. Barnes, livestock specialist for marketing at College Station; R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the state experiment farm at Spur and Marsh W. Holland, editor of Farm and Ranch, Dallas. C. A. Duffey, cashier of the First National bank, also was in the party.

Some of those whose places were visited, joined the party for a portion of the trip. There were a number of vocational agriculture and club boys, who wanted to look over the cattle feeding.

"We feel that the trip was very successful, considering weather conditions," Miss Ruby Mashburn, demonstration agent, said. "There is more interest in demonstration work than ever before, in the four years I have been here."

Both R. E. Dickson and G. W. Barnes spoke highly of the fine quality of calves on feed. Mr. Holland said he was impressed with the cured meat work and the improvement of the women in the homes.

Hammer Is Used In Fight Between Two Boys In City

Two young boys, whose names police did not recall, engaged in a fight in which a hammer figured, near the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. A severe cut was suffered by one of the lads, who was struck on the head with the hammer.

The boys, about 12 years old, were lectured at police station by Police Chief Wiley Metcalfe and released. The fight was said to have begun during a marble game. John Croft motorcycle patrolman, while on duty at a funeral at the church, saw the fight.

Motorists Fight Gas Taxes

Motorists are organizing throughout the country in a fight against steadily-mounting state gasoline taxes. Here you see Catherine Gibson of Cincinnati with a plate to be distributed nationally to motorists to enable them to make their protests visible.

More Auto Licenses Sold In City Saturday; Taxes Slow

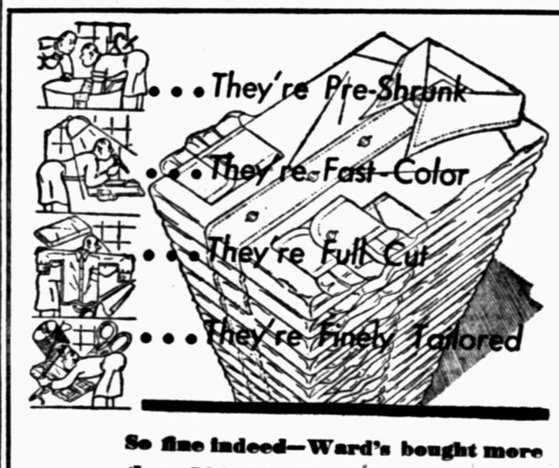

More Lubbock county automobiles were registered yesterday than in any other day this month, but payment of county and state taxes was "only fair," it was said last night.

About 600 automobiles were registered, H. B. Bryan, chief deputy collector, said. During most of Saturday persons wishing to purchase 1933 automobile license formed a waiting line into the courthouse lobby. Three men worked in registration booths here yesterday, and two others were employed at substations, one at Slaton and one at Idalou.

Unless paid by Tuesday midnight, 1932 taxes will become delinquent. Automobile owners have an additional day in which to purchase licenses, deadline being Wednesday, February 1.

ONE-FOURTH COINAGE

Hooks And Slides

BY WILLIAM BRAUCHER
NEA Sports Writer

MAYBE you can't get very excited about the plight of Babe Ruth being insulted with an offer of $50,000 a year . . . a cut of one-third from his 1932 salary. . . . Neither can I. . . . Thats a lot of money for a few matinees.

But, like an ocean, every argument over money matters has two sides . . . and Ruth's case is peculiar. . . the Yankees' profit for last season was up in six figures . . . They played to some 60,000 more people than in any previous year . . . receipts were not up to the boom years, of course . . . the reason being that Yankee Stadium has more low-priced bleacher seats than any other ball park.

Being A Straw Man

NOW here's Mr. Ruth . . . serving 60,000 more clients at home than in any of the big money years . . . and asked to take a 33 1-2 per cent slash by a magnate who made money in spite of the depression.

No secret has been made of the fact that Ruth was set up as a straw man . . . to be knocked down so that other business-men-ball-players could take notice. . . . If you were Ruth, and facing what appeared to be your last year in the big show, how would you feel about being taken for an example? . . . And on top of that unprecedented world series performance against the Cubs?

No Deal For Babe

BABE wants all the dough that is coming to him, of course, but (don't laugh) it's partly the principle of the thing with him, too. . . . Suppose all the other club owners in baseball made up a pool of $25,000 . . . and the Colonel told Babe to be a nice boy and sign a contract for $50,000 and he could have the $25,000 on the side . . . just as a friendly testimonial, you know, of his value to the grand old national pastime.

Do you think Babe would take the 25 grand? . . . and sign? . . . Neither do I. . . . For, what the Babe dislikes most about being an example is being an example . . . it wouldn't be square to the other ball players . . . he'd be playing the role of that old bell sheep in the Chicago stockyards who leads his fellows to the slaughter. . . there is none of that sort of stuff in Babe Ruth's make-up.

In more ways than one Ruth has helped every ball player to make more money . . . for 13 years . . . ever since he became the Great Man when he was sold to the Yankees for $125,000 . . . and his color and batting ability brought the game back after the scandal of 1919 . . . he started to draw salaries that would have been thought fabulous a few years before . . . the pitchers who struck him out got raises, too . . . as well as the outfielders who went back to the wall and pulled down his long drives.

The annual baseball argument became, "If Ruth is worth $80,000, how about me?" . . . and some of the demands were hard for the magnates to answer. . . . Then, on the road . . . the Yankees were a big drawing card wherever they played . . . speeding up the local turnstiles helped to fatten the local athletes' pay envelopes.

To Much Arithmetic!

LAST summer, shortly after the Cleveland Indians had moved into their new stadium on the lake front, convenient to the down town Cleveland office and shopping district . . . the Yankees were scheduled for a series . . . and Ruth was sent home with what appeared to be appendicitis . . . it was estimated that his absence from the four-game series cost the Cleveland team at least $35,000 at the gate.

Figure that up over Babe's span of 13 years as the Great Man of Swat . . . and it is not hard to realize that he has a very respectable argument to insert into this debate over money matters.

KO'd Boxer Gets Brain Concussion

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Jerry Mazza, promising New York featherweight who was taken to Polyclinic hospital after being knocked out in a fight with Al Roth in Madison Square Garden last night, today was reported to be suffering from a cerebral concussion.

Dr. William V. Healey, the attending physician, reported the general condition of the young boxer was good but stated he would have to remain in the hospital several days.

Australian wheat growers during the fiscal year 1931-32 received the largest bounty of the industries of that country.

German per capita consumption of meat for the first half of 1932 was only fractionally lower than during the same period last year.

Lubbock And Shallowater Basketball Winners

Shallowater Drives To Final Round After Beating Ralls And Plainview In Surprise Victories In Tourney Here

It was generally agreed among the 21 participating teams and their rooters that Lubbock High school was a fine host at its second annual invitation tournament — except in one respect. The home club, Lubbock's Westerners, won the championship and the gold medals.

Silver medals for second place went to the fighting Shallowater hoopers, who lost the final game last night, 41 to 18, after gliding through their preliminary games in a steady stride.

Two sensational upsets featured yesterday's games after the teams had advanced true to dope up to the quarter-final contests. These had startling results.

Plainview Falters

Coach Froggie Lovvorn's Plainview Bulldogs, who entered as favorites from the start, and who unmercifully drubbed the Slaton team Friday night, had the tables turned in their quarter-final game when the Lubbock Westerners, doped to lose by several points put on a fine display of offensive fireworks to win the game, 47 to 26.

The other quarter-final upset occurred when Shallowater defeated Ralls in a semi-final game. Ralls and Plainview had been doped to match in the final go. The score was 41 to 31. Wolfforth drew a bye in the quarter-final round and lost to Lubbock, 51 to 23, in their semi-final setto.

Other Trophies Given

The tall Jackrabbits from Ralls came back last night to beat Wolfforth, 36 to 22, in a consolation game for third place. Both clubs were awarded trophies.

Curly Wilkinson, Lubbock center, was high point man of the turnament with 75 points. Jackson of Ralls was second with 56 and Red Henderson, spark plug of the Shallowater team, was third with 48 points. Wilkinson was awarded a trophy.

The Shallowater team played without the services of its star center and ace shot-maker, Captain Vaught. His understudy at the pivot position was McAuley, who went out of the tournament in the quarter-final game when an ankle was hurt. Bell took over the center duties and Shallowater breezed through its semi final go with Ralls. The grind began to tell on Coach Cummings' lads, however, and it was a tired team that faced Lubbock in the finals.

Plainview's failure to put up a better game against Lubbock was the most disappointing contest of the tournament. The Bulldogs were sadly lacking in spirit and goal-making ability.

Oklahoma City To See Big Boys Mix

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28. (AP)—Oklahoma City's first important heavyweight fight since the Hunt-Risko clash in 1930 was approved today by the City Boxing commission, which okeyed Les Marriner Chicago, as an opponent for Babe Hunt, on Feb. 3.

The Boxing commission received word from James Brown, secretary of the National Boxing association that Marriner was in good condition and a "good match for Hunt."

AMERICAN WINS

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 28. (AP)—Keith Gledhill, eighth ranking player of the United States, today won his way to the finals of the Australian Lawn Tennis championships with a brilliant straight set victory over the precocious Australian youngster, Vivian McGrath.

Canyon Buffs Lose Close Tilt To Wichita Henrys, 39 To 37

National Champions Win Last Game To Even Series After Tall Buffs Take Opener In Friday Night Contest

CANYON, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Wichita Henry's copped a thrilling basketball game here tonight from the West Texas Teachers, 39 to 37. It was the second of a two game series. The visitors lost Friday night, 29 to 26.

Unlike the first battle, tonight's game was a fast, furious and sensational contest between two clubs who let few chances to score escape.

The Henry's began early to take the ball and convert possession into scores. The first half ended 21 to 13 for the national AAU champions.

Comer Leads Buffs

The Buffaloes, led by Lanky Comer, staged a remarkable comeback in the second half and made the ball game one of those things that spectators go wild over.

Both teams will enter the national tournament in Kansas City in March, and the keen rivalry displayed tonight harbingers great basketball if and when the teams meet with championship honors at stake.

The Buffaloes play the Oklahoma City university Goldbugs here next Friday and Saturday. The Henry's leave tomorrow for further play in the Missouri Valley AAU league.

Comer, Buffalo forward, was high point man tonight with 16, while Miller, Henry forward, followed with 14. Grove, the other Wichita forward had 12 counters.

Chicago Pro Will Offer New Putter For Golf Duffers

By NEA Service

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. — Give a cheer for Frank Brady, professional at Idlewood Country club here. Frank has invented a new putter which is expected to be a great aid to duffers.

The club is built with a small flange projecting from the center of the back heel of the club If the proper putting stroke is not used, the flange will strike the ground, indicating that something is wrong with the putting stroke.

This may be a relaxed grip on the club handle or a sagging of the wrists just before impact with the ball, Brady informs.

SMU Books Twelve Tilts On '33 Card

DALLAS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Southern Methodist's 1933 football schedule is the biggest in history of the school. It calls for twelve games. Its completion was announced today with the booking of the Texas School of Mines for a game at Dallas on October 7.

The Mustangs will open their campaign September 23 against the North Texas Teachers college of Denton and close on December 9 against St. Mary's at San Francisco.

The complete schedule follows: September 30—North Texas Teachers at Dallas. September 30—Texas Tech at Lubbock. October 7—Texas School of Mines at Dallas. X—October 14—Rice at Houston. October 21—Oklahoma A. & M. at Dallas. X—October 28—University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. X—November 4—University of Texas at Dallas. X—November 11—Texas A. & M. at College Station. November 18—Century College at Shreveport. X—November 25—Baylor University at Dallas. X—December 2—Texas Christian at Fort Worth. December 9—St. Mary's at San Francisco.

(X—Indicates Southwest conference games.)

VENZKE WINS AGAIN

BOSTON, Jan. 28. (AP) — Gene Venzke, holder of the world indoor record for the mile, tonight opened his 1933 campaign by beating Brendak Moynahan of the Boston A. A. by 30 yards to win the K. of C. mile, feature event of the 12th annual Prout memorial games for the second consecutive year at the Boston garden.

Gabby Street, Tough As A Marine, Will Drive Redbirds Through Hard Training Grind In Fight For Flag

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28 (AP)—Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Cardinals today announced a radical change in his infield plans for 1933 and gave grim warning he will crack the whip on the Redbirds during the spring training season.

The Old Sergeant has decided it would be unwise to try to turn Frankie Frisch into a shortstop, as he said recently he would do.

"It's only a fool that never changes his mind," Street said. "When I said early in January that I thought I'd drill Frisch at short it looked like the only way out of a predicament, if Gelbert couldn't play. But now I realize that would be putting all my eggs in one basket."

He said he expects a year of good baseball from Rogers Hornsby, erstwhile manager of the Chicago Cubs, but if he fails to make the grade, Frisch would go back to second and the problem of finding a shortstop would arise. So Frisch goes to third, he said, and Sparky Adams and Charley Wilson will fight it out for shortstop.

Street squared his jaw when he talked about the spring training season.

"I take all the blame for our failure to come out of Florida in condition last spring," he said. "I was stuck on my ball club. I thought we could step out and win the pennant easily. I didn't bear down in the training. But this year there'll be a different story. I'll be manager again. I'll crack the whip and it's going to be a training trip, not a pleasure jaunt."

Engineers Win Over Aggs And Surprise Fans

Army And Liberal Arts Teams Play Scoreless Tie; Tally 6-0 As Upset Is Staged In Intramural Grid Game

BY ED McKEEVER
Tech College Correspondent

The Army and Liberal Arts fought to a 0-0 deadlock, in what was supposed to determine the intramural football championship at the Matador practice field yesterday afternoon, but it was the Engineers, who were supposed to be underdogs, who stole the show.

A ripping, tearing Engineering team, full of flight and flame, beat the powerful Aggie aggregation 6-0. The score came in the third quarter when Ted Hubbard returned an Aggie punt 35 yards to place the ball on the 20 yard line. A pass Hubbard to Morris Pelmer was good for ten yards, and from there Hubbard struck just outside of Aggie's left tackle cut back and went over for the score. Al Simmons failed to convert the extra point on a plunge over right tackle.

Aggies Fight Hard

The Aggies fought back bitterly after the Engineer score, but the charge came too late. An inspired team had gotten the jump and held its advantage all the way through. There was so much rivalry between the two teams that the field had to be cleared following the tally.

The work of Ted Hubbard, the Engineers backfield ace, was sensational, while boisterous Al Simmons starred on both offense and defense.

A polished Army team, had the Liberal Arts aggregation on the defense most of the first half, and even penetrated to the Liberal Arts three yard line, but lacked the punch to put the ball over for the touchdown.

Collins Pulls Fake

The highlight of the game came in the third period when "Square Head" Collins faked a punt from behind his own goal line, hit off right tackle, reversed his field and streaked up the sidelines 48 yards before he was forced out of bounds.

One of the prettiest pieces of defensive work came just before the end of the game when Wheeler, Army's end, intercepted a lateral pass and raced 70 yards before he was brought down by Collins.

The Army made 10 first downs and amassed 146 yards from scrimmage, as compared to the Liberal Arts three first downs and 65 yards gained from scrimmage.

"Collins, Jimmie Lauderdale, Gil Cartier, McClain, and Wayne Moffett were the outstanding men for the Liberal Arts. Rucy Baird, Tracy Watson, McCrummen, James, Harry Guthrie, and Cherry Foster starred for the Liberal Arts.

Pirates Picked By Chief To Be In Pennant Fight

GEORGE GIBSON

Team Given Strength By Acquisition Of Lindstrom

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 28 (AP) — Watch the Pirates!

The bold buccaneers—Pittsburgh's entry in the National league—are going to launch a raiding expedition when the 1933 baseball season opens in an effort to win a pot of gold.

This warning was served today on the rest of the pack by George Gibson, mild-mannered manager of the Pirates, who says, however, "I don't win the pennant in the winter time."

"Gibby," spending the winter on his farm near here, said in an interview that the acquisition by the Bucs of Freddy Lindstrom, outfielder, from the New York Giants, will have a tonic effect on the rest of the squad.

"We have an improved team over last year but we must take into consideration that the other teams also have been strengthened from the deals they made," Gibson said. "From the lineup of the teams at this time I would say the National league is in for another close race this year.

"In securing Lindstrom the Pirates landed a player that is on a par with the Waner brothers — a real star that will give the team the balance it lacked last year in the outfield and a consistent hitter from the right side of the plate. I look for Lindstrom to have one of his best years this year and be a big help to the Pirates in the pennant scramble during 1933.

"With the experience that Shortstop Vaughn, Second Baseman Piet and Catcher Grace got last year, I feel confident that such men as Third Baseman Traynor, First Baseman Suhr, the Waners and Pitchers Meine, Swetonic, Swift, Kremer, French and the Younger men that the Pirates will have this year will cause plenty of trouble before the race is over in September."

Bruins Beaten In Thriller By Farmers, 20-19

Two Free Throws In Last Two Minutes Put Farmers Ahead At Waco; Guarding Feature Of Hectic Court Contest

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Jan. 28.—The Texas A. & M. college basketeers tonight defeated the Baylor University Bears 20 to 19 in a thrilling exhibition on the Baylor Chapel court here. The game was tied at 18-all with less than two minutes to play, then the Aggies put over two free shots.

The game was a tight guarding contest from the opening whistle to the final shot. The Bears lagged behind by two points at the half and got four points behind in the second half. Then they staged a spectacular comeback to tie the score and had a matchless opportunity to go into the lead late in the game when Weatherby was given two free shots. He missed both. Then Stansel got one free shot for the Aggies and that was really the game.

Barnet Is Star

Barnet played an excellent floor game for the Bruins and was in a three-way tie with Parks of his own team and Moody, Aggie star, with six each. Merka of the Farmers scored five.

Wichita University Cagers May Play Series In Mexico

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 28 (AP) — Gene Johnson, Wichita University basketball coach, said today the board of regents of the school had given unanimous consent and the faculty had approved acceptance of an invitation from the President of Mexico for the basketball team to play a series of games in the neighboring republic in March.

Johnson said definite acceptance of the invitation was being withheld, however, pending approval of the Central conference, though he expressed little doubt the conference would sanction the trip in as much as the invitation has come from the Mexican president himself.

If the trip is made, the coach said, 14 games would be played, the first in Monterrey, March 6, and the last in Satillo, March 24. The tour would include a week's stay in Mexico City.

There were 5,272 wholesale establishments in Michigan in 1929 with net sales in excess of $2,172,000,000.

George Lott Is Winner In All-South Net Tournament

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Wizardry with a tennis racket that carried George M. Lott, Chicago, to a place on four United States Davis Cup teams was his again today as he smashed back the inter-collegiate star, Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, to win the singles championship of the All-South Tennis tournament here.

Lott required four sets to win, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, but his withering volleys, easy lobs, and bullet-like placements stamped him again as a formidable candidate for the 1933 Davis Cup team.

Tyler Players Turned Over To Panthers Of Ft. Worth

DALLAS, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Alvin Gardner of the Texas League tonight announced that all of the 1932 Tyler baseball players have been turned over to the Fort Worth team. It was an inter-league deal whereby Walter Morris, business manager of the Shreveport-Tyler clubs in 1932, will retain all the players Tyler finished the season with.

Morris is business manager of the Fort Worth team this year.

Outstanding Golfers To Be Seen In Miami Tournament

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Thirty-two of the country's outstanding professional golfers, headed by Gene Sarazen, British and American Open champion, and Olin Dutra, P. G. A. champion, today were announced as contestants in the 1933 international four all tournament here February 19-22. Team pairings will be made later.

Invitations were issued by a committee of the Miami Country club, where the tournament will be held. The purse will be $2,600, in comparison to $5,000 offered in previous events.

Packey McFarland, One Time Great Battler, Is Chosen On Illinois State Boxing Commission; To Head Group

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Packey McFarland's right hand has been lifted over the ring horizon once more.

The gifted Irish boxer, who dazzled the lightweight ranks of the world 20 years ago with his speed, cunning and skill, returned to the boxing world in a high official capacity today, as a member of the Illinois State Athletic commission, through an appointment from the man he used to thrill with his ring exploits, Gov. Henry Horner. Packey is the first former boxer of note to become a member of any commission.

McFarland succeeds Fred Gardner, Chicago banker, as a Commissioner and, if a reported plan is carried out, he will serve at least one year as chairman of the second most important boxing commission in America.

Packey's career, since leaving the ring wars, has been almost as thrilling as his famous engagements against the old immortals, Freddy Welsh, Mike Gibbons, Jack Britton, Benny Yanger, Jimmy Britt, Phil Brock, Cyclone Johnny Thompson, Young Erne, and Owen Moran.

Clean, thrifty and conservative, Packey retired from boxing in 1915 without ever holding the cherished lightweight championship, but with a quarter-million dollars in the bank. He entered the contracting business at Joliet, Ill., later became a member of the board of directors of a national bank there, prospered and ran his estate up to a million before the lid blew off in 1929.

Texas Tech Is Host To Girls In Tournament

Wolfforth Sextet Works Hard But Falls Before Fighting Shallowater Entry; Posey's Rural Crown Secure

Winning the final game, 32 to 15, over a die-hard Wolfforth sextet, the Shallowater girls basketball team took championship honors in the Lubbock county tournament which ended at the Texas Tech gymnasium last night.

Shallowater will compete against other county champions of this subdivision, the quadrant winner to play in the district tournament at Brownfield February 24.

Three Titles Settled

There were three championships to be settled at the county tournament. The Posey team won the rural school division with a 33 to 19 victory over Union. Wolfforth defeated Monroe, 16 to 10, to win the "lower B" classification championship, and Shallowater downed Becton, 49 to 6, for the "upper B" title. The latter games were semi-finals leading to the championship clash between Shallowater and Wolfforth.

The Slaton High school girls team is in still another classification, and has the right to enter the district tournment without competing in the county joust.

The playing of Todd and Bishop, Shallowater forwards, proved the strong points in Shallowater's undefeated path. These feminine goal-tossers were the outstanding players of the tournament.

Results Are Listed

Results of the last two games played Friday night and all of yesterdays contests follow, in the order of their appearance:

Wolfforth 40, Estacado 12; Foster 8, Posey 9; Woodrow 15, Wolfforth 32; Monroe 26, Carlisle 6; Union 25, Posey 30; Acuff 30, Becton 63; Monroe 10, Wolfforth 16; Hardy 19, Posey 33; Becton 6, Shallowater 49; Wolfforth 15, Shallowater 32.

Chapman Declines Offer Of Yankees

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — The development that Ben Chapman, fleet outfielder of the Yankees, is a holdout as a result of a $2,000 salary cut for 1933 featured the news from the baseball fronts today, marked otherwise by peaceful proceedings

The Yankees refused to comment on the news Chapman had sent back his contract, unsigned. Alabama Ben indicated he did not think the decline in his performances last year, from .315 to .299 in batting and 61 stolen bases to 38, merited a slash in his pay. His fielding was one of the sensations of the World series.

With several stars yet to be heard from, Chapman joins Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig as Yankee holdouts.

Leroy Parmelee and Francis Healey, star "pony battery" with the Columbus club of the American association last season before being recalled by the Giants, were added to the folder of unsigned contracts today. Parmelee, who won 14 and lost only one game with Columbus. Healey batted .340 in 44 games.

Texas Loop Flag Is Great Desire Of Jack Holland

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28 (AP) — Jack Holland, veteran owner of the Oklahoma City Indians baseball club, has his heart set on winning the Texas league championship and the Dixie series before retiring from the game.

"I've been in baseball a long time," the 60-year-old pioneer of the pastime said. "Only Connie Mack and John McGraw have seen more service, but there's still a lot to learn."

After years of effort, Holland succeeded in transferring the Indians from the Western league to the Texas circuit this season.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
STATE OF TEXAS,

The Sheriff, or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Geo. Lyne, individually and as guardian of the estate and person of Charles J. Lyne and Geo. Lyne, minors; and Charles J. and Geo. Lyne, minors, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the 99th Judicial District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the First Monday in March, 1933, the same being the 3rd day of April, A. D., 1933, then and there to answer Plaintiff's First Amended Original Petition filed in said Court on the 9th day of May, A. D., 1932, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 9212, wherein the Panhandle Construction Company, a Corporation is Plaintiff, and Jno. K. Lyne, individually and as Guardian of the Estate and person of Charles J. Lyne and Geo. Lyne, and Charles J. Lyne and George Lyne, minors, are Defendants, and said Plaintiff alleging

That the plaintiff is the legal owner and holder of a Certificate of Assessment of indebtedness in the principal sum of $2,000.00, and a lien against Lot No. (11), Block No. (181), Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, issued by the City of Lubbock, in Lubbock County, Texas, pursuant to proceedings by the said City of Lubbock on June 28, 1925, at which time Mrs. C. J. Lyne, now deceased, was the owner of said property; that the said Mrs. C. J. Lyne left surviving as her heirs and only heirs two minor sons, Charles J. Lyne and George Lyne; that said Mrs. C. J. Lyne was one and the same person and Mrs. Jewell R. Lyne, and that she was divorced from her husband, Jno. K. Lyne, prior to May 13, 1925; that said Mrs. Jewell R. Lyne on May 13, 1925, executed in writing and delivered to plaintiff a mechanic's lien contract to secure the cost of paving the street in front of the said property, and to secure the payment of the said Certificate of Assessment in accordance with said proceedings; that the said proceedings, Certificate of Assessment, and mechanic's lien contract provided for the payment of interest on said indebtedness from June 28, 1925, at the rate of 8% per annum, and providing for payment of said indebtedness in six equal installments, the first payment on or before thirty days after completion of said paving, and the remaining payments in one, two, three, four and five years after said date, respectively, and provide for the payment of a reasonable attorney's fee in the event of default, and that $200.00 is a reasonable and necessary compensation for such services; that the said indebtedness is all past due and unpaid, and plaintiff has placed the same in the hands of its attorneys for collection and promised to pay to them as a part of their compensation the said reasonable attorney's fee; that the defendant John K. Lyne, is the Guardian of the estate and person of the said Charles J. Lyne and George Lyne, and that the said John K. Lyne, Individually and as said Guardian, and the other defendants are asserting some right, title or interest in said property, but the same, if any exist, are inferior and subordinate to the rights of plaintiff herein; plaintiff prays for judgment for said debt, interest, attorney's fees, cost of suit, foreclosure of lien, and for order and further, general or special relief in law or in equity, to which it may be entitled.

You are commanded to appear and answer said petition at its aforesaid next regular term, but if you fail not, and have you before said Court on said first Monday with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 16th day of January, A. D., 1933.

CHAS. B. METCALFE, Clerk,
99th District Court, Lubbock County.

Cotton Order Scarcity Seen In Cotton — Livestock Lighter Weights More In Demand — Grain Grain Prices Head Downward

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28. (AP) — Cotton closed the week extremely quiet with a marked scarcity of orders for either side of the account. Prices showed a slightly easier trend mainly owing to weakness in stocks and lack of support, and the close was 1 to 2 points lower.

The opening was steady and Liverpool cables were about as due. Private cables said that market was quiet and steady with only fair trading and scattered India selling was well taken. There were no cable advices from Manchester. Opening trades here showed no change from the previous close but the market eased off slowly after the start and by the end of the first hour, May traded at 6.30 and July at 6.32 down 3 to 4 points from yesterday's close, due principally to a little hedging and easier stocks.

Later March declined to 6.05 and May to 6.18, both down 5 points, but the market rallied 3 to 4 points near the end on covering by shorts and March closed at 6.09 and May at 6.22 down 1 point net for the day on both months, while July closed at 6.24 down 2 points net.

Port receipts 22,444, for season 6,624,249, last season 7,831,967. Exports 20,673, for season 4,829,738, last season 4,695,064. Port stock 4,786,934, last year 5,004,626. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 172,648, last year 204,776. Spot sales at southern markets 15,784, last year 30,508.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—An early decline in cotton today in response to disappointing Liverpool cables and southern selling, was followed by rallies on weekend covering and trade buying.

March contracts rallied from 6.07@6.13 and closed at 6.10. The general market closed steady at net declines of 1 to 5 points.

The opening was unchanged to 2 points lower. Southern offerings, light at the start, increased slightly after the call, and this combined with continued March liquidation and some local selling on the early action of the stock market, sent active months about 4 to 5 points net lower.

At 6.19 for May and 6.11 for October trade buying became more active and prices recovered to about Friday's finals. The close was a few points off from the best under liquidation.

The weather in the south was considered favorable for early crop preparations and the movement, but there were reports of a good spot demand and a firm basis in some sections of Texas.

Liverpool cables reported a quiet market with prices steady on trade calling which had absorbed some selling for Indian account. A cable to the New York cotton exchange service said the turnover of yarn and cotton cloths in Manchester was reported the smallest in many weeks with prices irregular and margins unsatisfactory.

Legislature

sentiment there just now, but everyone points to the fact it is the inclination of a legislator "trying to get on" to put in with the chief executive, because there are many problems coming up the two offices must take into consideration if harmony shall prevail.

At any rate, it will not be long before alignments will have been formed, because there are pending Mrs. Ferguson's suggested gross receipts sale tax; the supposedly pro-Sterling income tax; proposed abolition of the state game, fish and oyster commission and return of administration of that department to a single commissioner; increasing membership on the state highway commission to five members, instead of three, to give the new administration control there, and other propositions advocated by the woman governor.

Hearings To Start

Committee hearings were expected to start next week. Already there was a big "three house" in attendance. In addition to prohibition modification there were many important and interesting subjects for legislation pending. These included repeal of the Robertson insurance law, which directs insurance concerns to invest seventy-five per cent of their premium reserve in Texas securities. Other bills proposed almost an entirely new governmental structure with absolition and consolidation of many departments proposed as retrenchment gestures. Salaries of all employes were marked for deep cuts and other retrenchment proposals were pending.

Redistricting of congressional, state representative and judicial bailiwicks had aroused considerable interest. Texas now is entitled to twenty-one seats in the national house of representatives but there are only 18 districts. Three additional men were elected from the state at large last fall. There will be amerry contest on as to how to regroup the counties to please the congressmen now on the job and at the same time put constituents in good humor.

An investigation of the Texas railroad commission administration of oil and gas conservation statutes had been authorized. It was the first "investigation" of the session. Usually a legislature promotes several inquiries of that nature.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28. (AP)—Cattle trade this week has witnessed another period of distinct discrimination against fed steers and medium and heavyweight. Lighter weight steers and yearlings met a fairly good outlet at steady to 25 lower rates as compared with the close of last week while medium weight and heavy steers were considered 25 to 50 lower. In some cases lower grades of fed heifers and mixed yearlings were as much as 25 higher and at several markets were at about a steady trend. Better grades of heifers and mixed yearlings, however, had to sell mostly 25 or more lower. Weighty heifers and beef cows were especially hard to move, several loads of choice light steers and long yearlings around the circuit cleared around 6.00@7.35 and best 1406 lb. steers in Chicago made 8.00. The general bulk of lighter weight steers cleared at 3.75@5.50 while heavy steers brought around 3.75@4.75. Stockers and feeders were relatively scarce on all sessions, but demand was sufficient to maintain generally steady to 25 higher rates. Replacement steers sold largely at 3.75@5.00 with occasional sales of yearling stockers at 5.25@5.75 and choice stock calves up to 6.25. Receipts for the week totaled 147,000 as compared with 181,176 last week and 146,833 a year ago.

Only early days this week lambs were strong to higher with some markets reaching a high point for the season, but at mid-week a definite downward reaction occurred and values closed mostly 25 to 50 lower. On late days a spread of 5.00@6.00 took most desirable fat kinds while at the high time Chicago scored up to 6.65 on best lambs. Sheep ruled unevenly strong to 50 higher. Receipts numbered 284,000 as compared with 248,251 last week and 355,063 a year ago.

As compared with last week's close, hogs were considered mostly steady to 10 lower, Chicago and St. Louis listing a late top of 3.40. Receipts totaled 509,200 against 477,728 last week and 744,068 a year ago.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (AP)—Hogs 550, including 396 direct; truck hogs steady to 5 higher, mostly steady; no rail hogs offered; truck top 3.15 paid by small killers; packers top 3.10; bulk better grades 185-250 lb. truck hogs 3.10@3.15; few packing sows 2.00@2.25 or steady.

Cattle, 100; calves 50; today's trade nominal. For week, slaughter yearlings 15 to 25 lower, other classes slaughter cattle and calves mostly steady; stockers and feeders fully steady. Week's tops: Light weight fed steers and yearlings 5.00; fat cows 2.75; heavy fat calves 4.00; choice feeder steer calves 5.00. Bulk prices: Plain and common killing steers 2.75@3.25; few sales good fed steers 3.75@4.50; better grades fat yearlings 4.25@4.75; butcher cows 1.75@2.25; low cutters 1.00@1.25; heavy slaughter calves 3.50 down; cull sorts 1.75@2.25.

Sheep, 1,400; today trade nominal. For week: Fat lambs strong; fat yearlings and wethers steady. Week's top: Fat lambs 5.60; fat yearlings 4.25; fat wethers 2.25. Closing bulk fat lambs 4.50@5.00; fat yearlings .00; aged fat wethers 2.25@2.50; feeder lambs 3.25@4.25.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Stocks found price currents drifting downward today and the list closed with a fractional average loss after two dull hours. Sales totaled only 300,078 shares.

Moderate pressure against United States steel issues, reflecting published reports that the preferred dividend would probably be revised at next Tuesday's directors' meeting, brought a little selling in other sections of the industrial division, especially toward the close. Rails, which had been fairly steady into the second hour, also eased, but their losses were small.

Steel preferred reacted a couple of points and the common was down a little more than one. Wall street has regarded a change in the senior equity's dividend as inevitable in view of the protracted decline of earnings; the corporation itself served notice six months ago that future action on the payment would have to be governed by income, but the autumn, a regular disbursement was ordered. Bethlehem Steel's fourth quarter deficit was slightly bigger than that of the third.

American Telephone and Borden, whose dividend meetings occur in the near future, were rather heavy. Telephone's loss was a point. American Can, Westinghouse, Case, Goodyear, Union Pacific, United Carbon and Santa Fe also sagged in the neighborhood of a point. Otherwise, losses tended to fractions. Tobaccos still looked heavy.

South Plains Teachers Pay Visit To Substation Here

A group of South Plains vocational agriculture teachers visited the experiment substation east of Lubbock Saturday afternoon. They inspected swine feeding experiments underway there.

The hogs will be killed Monday, Don L. Jones, superintendent, said yesterday. Sterling C. Evans, district farm agent, of College Station, will aid in the slaughter.

Teachers visiting the farm yesterday included A. R. Bateman of Plainview, V. S. Payne of Abernathy, R. H. Maxwell of Hale Center, W. C. Taylor of Ralls, J. H. Taylor of Crosbyton and R. A. Box of Littlefield.

Gregory I, a follower of Benedict, made Pope in 590, was the first monk to take the Papal office.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (AP)—Demand was slow for all products on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week closed.

Prices ranged as follows, basis carloads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 51 1-4@52 1-4; Barley No. 2, nominally 33@34; No. 3 nominally 32@33. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 65@68; No. 3 milo 61@65; No. 2 kaffir per 100 lbs. 52@53; No. 3 kaffir 51@52.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 39@40; No. 2 white or yellow 40@41.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 22 1-2@23 1-2; No. 3 red 22@23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Unsettled by predictions of moisture in domestic winter wheat areas southwest and by uncertainties of legislative development at Washington, grain prices headed downgrade today.

Wheat price setbacks were in the face of railroad reports indicating likelihood of the heavies domestic winter crop abandonment in years. Enlarged export buying of Canadian wheat failed to act as a stimulus and was attributed to lameness of Canadian funds.

Wheat closed unsteady, 1-4 to 1-2 under yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 5-8 off, oats unchanged, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 15 cents.

Joe Schultz May Be First Aide To Cardinal Manager

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28. (AP) — The Post-Dispatch said today Joe Schultz, who managed the Houston club last year, probably will be assigned as assistant to Manager Gabby Street of the Cardinals. The departure of Ray Blades from the Cardinals has left the team without a coach.

Schultz lost his job at Houston because an economy measure in which the Cardinals decided to appoint Carey Selph a playing manager.

Londos Enjoined From Use Of Term "World Champion"

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28. (AP) Harry H. Terte, Kansas City lawyer representing Everett Marshall of Colorado, today filed in circuit court a petition seeking to enjoin Christopher Teofalas, "alias Jim Londos," from using the title of "champion heavyweight wrestler of the world."

Marshall, through his attorney, contended Londos surrendered the title in St. Louis January 18 by using a wrestling hold barred by regulations of the Missouri Athletic commission.

According to the petition, Marshall used the "full strangle hold," causing Marshall to become unconscious, in the bout billed as a title struggle. No restraining order was issued when the petition was filed.

Lubbock Stylists Say Trousers Are Taboo Here; Feminine Charm To Be Stressed In Newer Style of Spring

DIETRICH, the German actress, may set a style for Hollywood when she strolls down the boulevard wearing her newly adopted mannish trouser make-up, but women of Lubbock will continue to go their ways contented with dresses and more feminine apparel.

At least this is the consensus of opinions expressed Saturday by managers of ladies ready-to-wear shops and department heads. The college girl is not likely to lay aside her evening dress for a tuxedo any time soon, they agreed, and expressed grave doubts that there be any flannel trousers chosen by milady for her Easter wardrobe.

Managers In East

Managers of two large Lubbock stores are in the East at present to purchase spring merchandise but their clerks are not expecting to unwrap any trousers skirts in early shipments.

Ever since Dietrich and Garbo began wearing "Prince of Wales" trousers, fashion circles of America have seemed to be pondering "what are we going to do about it"? This is not causing store heads in this city to lose sleep, however.

Riding Habits Common

Riding habits are common in Lubbock and if there is a masculine urge a woman may turn to lounging pajamas or slacks, clerks have observed. Indeed, one saleslady disclosed that lounging pajamas are being discarded for appealing house frocks with the approach of spring.

Milady finds that to be appealing she must be feminine and hiding shapeliness under masculine attire will not add charm—that is not to the vast majority of women.

Buying for women however is disconcerting many times and one clerk was pessimistic enough to venture that "you never can tell what a woman will do."

Science Club Hears Speaker

Miss Mary Anna Grimes Talks To Faculty Members Here Saturday Night; Textile Research Is Discussed

Backwardness of textile research in the United States and especially in Texas, "the state leading in the production of cotton, wool, and mohair," was attacked by Miss Mary Anna Grimes, research worker in textiles and clothing, of College Station, in presenting a paper at the Texas Technological college Faculty Science club Saturday night at Hotel Hilton.

Miss Grimes, whose paper was "A Glance at Textile Research," was an exchange lecturer, from Texas A. & M. college. J. H. Murdough, professor of civil engineering at Tech, and president of the club, presided. About 50 persons attended the meeting.

Position Unenviable

"In contrast with research in other fields, the United States holds an unenviable position in textiles, when compared with European nations," the lecturer declared. "This is particularly true when comparison is made with Great Britain.

"The textile industry is being severely criticised for tardiness in making improvements in machinery and processes. A textile engineer recently made the sweeping statement that the woolen industry is in the main 40 years behind the times and that 90 per cent of the equipment is obsolete.'

Five Reasons Given

This "backwardness" was attributed by Miss Grimes to five things —"lack of information on the part of citizens with consequent lack of financial support, prevalence of small industrial units, lack of scientists trained for research in this field, and lack of organization for cooperative research."

Miss Grimes also declared that "there is a scarcity of workers trained for research in the textile field. Upon the educational institutions rests the responsibility for furnishing better trained workers."

None Are In Texas

She declared that it was noteworthy that out of several fellowships offered at various leading institutions of learning in the United States and England, for which there were nearly 700 applicants, there were no institutions west of the Mississippi included. Only of the 20 whose graduates received fellowships "are in southern states, and none in Texas—the state leading in the production of cotton, wool, and mohair," she declared.

"This is surely a reflection upon the interest, facilities, and personnel of Texas educational institutions and the resources from which their support is derived," Miss Grimes said.

The club will be hosts in May, 1934, to a meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science, southwestern division, it was announced last night.

Floyd County Farmers Are To Be Allotted $20,000 For Feed

FLOYDADA, Jan. 28 (Special)—Floyd county farmers are to be allotted $20,000 for feed and seed loans for 1933 according to information received by W. Edd Brown, chairman of the Floyd County Farm Aid committee. Last year the county received approximately $10,000 and in 1931, some $40,000.

C. F. Simpson, Plainview, district field representative, said he believed the money would be available 30 days earlier this year. Blanks and forms will be sent out as soon as complete plans are made.

Besides Mr. Brown, the committee included O. P. Rutledge and S. W. Ross. Lockney members of a subcommittee are: Frank Perkins, chairman, H. M. Mason and Carl McAdams.

Muleshoe Church Is Offered Crops As Payment Of Pledges

MULESHOE, Jan. 28 (Special) The Methodist church here is one of a group going into the "back to the farm movement," according to the pastor, Rev. E. C. Raney.

Two definite offers of 10 acres of ground for the raising of a cotton crop have been accepted by the church, Reverend Raney said. Several other offers have been made.

Several men who live on farms have offered different amounts of their raised crops to the church in lieu of cash, while others have agreed to plant, cutivate and harvest various acreages and turn the income over to the church for its financial budget. One farmer has agreed to plant, cultivate and pick 10 acres of cotton, for the church.

Membership Campaign Started Here For Texas Good Roads Association; Motorists Are Urged To Join

A campaign to enlist a minimum of 1,000 Lubbock motor car owners interested in the completion of a statewide system of all-weather highways, as members of the Texas Good Roads association, was begun Saturday.

Every automobile or truck owner in the city will be given an opportunity to support the program, according to Marlis D. Ratliff, chairman of the association's membership committee here.

The committee consists of fifteen business and professional leaders. H. R. Gohlson is vice-chairman, and other members are Durwood H. Bradley, and B. O. McWhorter J. L. Quicksall, Mary Halsey, Dwight Hale, J. A. Rix, W. C. Pryor, Otho Johnson, J. W. Bowman, C. A. Sheffield, L. M. Drown, L. C. Montgomery and J. H. Hankins.

Motorists who desire that the gasoline tax now going to the state highway department for maintenance and construction continue to be used for these purposes should join the association, Ratliff declared. The goal, he said is to enlist as members at least 100,000 Texas automobile owners who oppose further diversion of gasoline taxes from the highway fund.

Individual memberships are 50 cents and the minimum commercial membership is one dollar. The funds will be used for an educational program.

"All people in Lubbock, and every other part of the South Plains territory should be particularly interested in, and in favor of this association and its program," Ratliff asserted. "If any more of the gasoline tax is diverted from the highway fund, we can be sure that the work of building roads on the gaps in the state highways of this part of the state, will be stopped for a long time."

Progress Is Noted In All Activities Of Boy Scouting During Past Year; Two New Troops Organized In City

Committee chairmen reported progress in virtually all activities of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council, excepting curtailment in the financial end. Reports of the committees and of D. T. Jennings, area executive, were presented at an annual council dinner last Tuesday night here.

Thirty-four courts of honor were conducted in 1932, as compared with 31 in 1931, and establishment of a new court of honor policy was an "outstanding contribution," George W. Dupree, court of honor chairman, reported. In advancement and recognition of scouts, both increases and decreases occurred.

New Rule Applied

The new court of honor policy requires applicants for ranks above that of first class be investigated by the committee, and a "frank discussion of the findings be held with the applicant in the presence of his parents."

Two new troops were organized in Lubbock, a troop each at Brownfield, Shallowater, O' Donnell, Spur, and Tahoka was dropped, and inquiries about organization of troops at Morton, Wilson, Seagraves, Seminole, Smyer, Pep, Crosbyton, Becton, Ackerly, and Pride were received in 1932, Dr. F. B. Malone, troop organization committee chairman, reported. At least three Lubbock churches without troops have memberships "large enough to justify a troop," he stated.

Tech Aids Work

Ten men received certificates in a course in Elements of Scoutmastership, and 18 students certificates in Principles of Scoutmastership, given in cooperation with Texas Technological college, which awarded two hours credit in each, J. M. Gordon, chairman of the leadership training committee, said. The secondary training course was presented for the first time in this council. Ten women also took the elementary course. Dr. A. T. Stewart conducted a first aid course, which 16 persons completed.

Scouts participated in a cleanup and paintup campaign, aided in the state Democratic convention here, served at the Panhandle-South Plains fair, twice led drives for clothing and other needs of the Salvation Army here, took part in the Armistice day program, distributed fire prevention literature, helped gather toys, fruits, candy, and unts which were distributed at a Christmas party for poor children here, and in other districts performed similar services, J. J. Clements, civic service committee chairman, reported. Troop 16 of Post cooperated with the Post Rotary club in gathering toys later given indigent children. A majority of troops in the area gave food, Thanksgiving and Christmas, Chairman Clements said.

Budget "Trimmed To Bone"

With the council budget "trimmed to the bone," the Lubbock district committee agreed to maintain the council office, J. Edd McLaughlin, finance committee chairman, of Ralls reported. A plan whereby area towns would receive mail and office service upon payment, and personal service of Executive Jennings upon paying traveling expenses, "was not satisfactory," the committee chairman stated. A 10-year program of growth, to reach one of every four boys and give him four years of scout training, was mentioned. The finance chairman stated "it will be necessary to more than double our scout membership . . . to meet this challenge."

J. T. Herd, activities committee chairman, of Post reported most troops in the council celebrated scout anniversary week, with hikes, service club and church programs, parents' nights, and some also with window displays. Hikes, observance of national boys' week, field meets in Lubbock and Lamesa, campfire courts of honor in Lubbock, Slaton, and Lamesa, city-wide outdoor meetings in the summer in Lubbock, a 10-day trip to South Texas by Idalou's troop, a week's trek into New Mexico by the two Littlefield troops, the council camp near Post in July, winning of the Amarillo council's invitation swimming meet at Canyon the third consecutive year by troop 6 of Lubbock, a Lubbock swimming meet, window displays by Lubbock troops, handicraft exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains fair, and a three-day winter camp by troop 22 of Lamesa were mentioned.

T. E. Buckner, treasurer, submitted a report for 1932.

Executive Jennings stated he made two trips each to Slaton, Post, and Tahoka, and one each to Levelland and Idalou; attended an annual meeting of the regional committee in Fort Worth supervised three scout leaders' traning schools, attended a scout executives' training conference in Mineral Wells, attended 16 courts of honor and three field meets in adidtion to executive board and district committee meetings, and assisted in promotion of a convention type annual meeting, the first of its kind in this council.

"I Like The Depression" And "The Speaker Of The House" Among New Books In Library

Copies of "I Like the Depression," which appeared shortly before its author, Henry Ansley, a member of the Amarillo Globe-News staff, was killed in an automobile accident, and of "The Speaker of the House," G. R. Brown's story of John Garner, are among additions to shelves of Lubbock county library.

The book about Speaker Garner, vice president-elect, was donated by the national Democratic party through the state library, Lola Mae Rozzell, county librarian, said. Another book recently received by the library is "A Hanger of Commerce,' by H. W. Peak, a gift of the Junior Twentieth Century club.

Branch Units Get Books

New rental books are "The Flying Carpet" by Richard Halliburton, and "The Gods Arrive' by Edith Wharton. Childrens reading certificate books recently placed in branch libraries at Idalou, Shallowater, and Slaton are:

The Wizard of Oz by Baum, Juan and Juanita by Baylor, Jeremy by Walpole, The Best Animal Stories I Know by Minot, Captain January by Richards, Everyday Good Manners For Boys and Girls by Badt, Teddy Horse by Youmans, and A Dutch Boy Fifty Years After by Bok. Idalou and Shallowater branches also have Alice of Old Vincennes by Thompson.

Books added at the main library: Magic Portholes by Helen Thomas Follett, Les Miserables by Victor Marie Hugo, English Synonyms and Antonyms by J. C. Fernald, and Chrysanthemums And How to Grow Them by I. L. Powell.

Levelland C.-C.'s Directors Named

LEVELLAND, Jan. 28 (Special)—Five directors were named to the board of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting here. The new members are: Gene Aycock, J. A. Turrentine, J. H. Jones, H. E. Clingan and C. E. Ross. Mr. Aycock and Mr. Jones were members last year.

Secretary C. M. Elder made his annual report. He told of the work accomplished in building two telephone lines to rural communities and also of the planting of some 800 shade trees in town. Many other projects were given assistance, including two poultry shows for 1932 and 1933. Less money was spent this year than in other years.

During 1932 the funds expended exceeded $1,400. There was a deficit of but $50 for the year's work.

TALK OF TRADES DAY

MORTON, Jan. 28. (Special)—Local merchants are planning a trades day soon. The first one is expected to be in February.

Texas Directory Of Manufacturers Made By Bureau

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (Special)—The "Directory of Texas Manufacturers" which has just been compiled by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, has for its purposes to make it easier for buyers and sellers to trade in Texas-made goods, to create and stimulate industrial-mindedness in Texas, and to make possible more effective industry co-operation. It is proposed to keep the directory up to date by close co-operation between the Texas Manufacturers Association, the chambers of commerce of the state and the University Bureau. A total of 3,049 firms are represented, 341 cities, and over two thousand products and variations. The data for the bulletin was compiled under the direction of Dr. F. A. Buechel, statistician for the bureau, Mrs. Martha Ann Zivley, secretary of the bureau, and Alice Bell and Marjorie Vogan, assistants.

"This list of manufacturers in Texas, classified by towns and by products, is a buyers' guide as well as a sellers' guide," it is explained in the introduction to the directory. "In addition, it is useful for general reference purposes in a wide variety of fields.

"It is an attempt to present in a compact an unbiased way a list of the many products manufactured in Texas with the names of the firms making them. No effort has been spared by the various co-operating agencies to make this list complete and timely. Its accuracy in each case is determined by the accuracy and willingness with which the individual firms have reported either direct to the bureau or to their local chambers of commerce or postmasters.

Lamb County Teachers Vote On Change In Rural School Term

SUDAN, Jan. 28 (Special)—By a vote of 61 to 13, Lamb county school teachers went on record as favoring a plan for rural schools to open their terms in August and after six weeks to close for cotton picking. School would resume as soon as possible, with time out for gathering of the crop. The action was taken at a meeting of the county teachers association.

Advocates said schools would complete nine months by June 1. An alternative was for school to begin November 1, which would make the closing about July 1.

The teachers in a resolution strongly condemned the legislative report that would remove technical courses from Texas Tech and change the W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon to a junior college. Copies are to be sent to Arthur P. Duggan, state senator and A. B. Tarwater, state representative.

USE UNIFORM PLATES

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28 — The days of multi-colored automobile license plates in Mexico are over. Instead of each state issuing a different colored license plate, one license with black numerals on orange background will be sufficient in all parts of Mexico this year.

PLAN RELIGIOUS CENSUS

SOUTHLAND, Jan. 28. (Special) —A religious census is to be taken here some time soon, local pasotrs plan. It is expected the census will reach every home within a five mile radius of town.

Beauty Shop Bill To Be Explained

Passage of identical bills introduced in the two houses of the state legislature to effect more stringent regulations of beauty shops would eliminate a "public tax burden" and would "put it where it belongs, upon the beauty shop operators themselves," P. R. Massey, unit No. 3 executive director of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists, inc., of Lubbock said Saturday.

The bills will be explained at a meeting at 8 p. m., February 7, in the Hilton hotel, of unit No. 3, which is composed of Lubbock and 16 surrounding counties, Mr. Massey announced.

Some Texas cities now provide inspectors of their beauty shops. The proposed legislation, however, would create a state board of cosmetology, under which state inspectors would work, financed by three-fifths of moneys derived from license fees of $25 each paid annually by an estimated 8,000 beauty shop operators. The remaining two-fifths would go into the general fund of the state, according to Mr. Massey.

MRS. J. H. HANKINS

New Officers Are Elected In Federation Of Women's Clubs

Talk Is Heard; Routine Of Business Is Transacted At Monthly Meeting; Talk Is Made By Miss West

A biennial election of officers and a talk by Miss Elizabeth West on the women of Spain were features of a monthly meeting of the City Federation of Women's clubs Friday at the Hilton hotel.

Several other matters were decided at the business meeting. Mrs. J. A. Hill, Canyon, president of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, is to be asked to visit Lubbock this spring. There will be two plant exchanges under the auspices of the civic committee. High school students will be offered a book as a prize in an essay contest.

The resignation of the Daughters of the American Revolution was accepted after that chapter had received a notice from headquarters to that effect.

Serve Two Years

Mrs. J. H. Hankins was elected president for the next two years in the federation and will succeed Mrs. A. T. Biggers. The new officers will be seated in May and start active terms in September. Other new officers, as elected Friday, are the following:

First vice-president, Mrs. H. P.

Story-Writing Is To Be Encouraged In This District

In order to encourage writers in this section, Mrs. C. B. Powell is announcing a short-story writing contest that is open to women in the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Powell, who lives at 2306 Sixteenth street, is chairman of Texas writers in the fine arts department of the district.

The contest opens immediately and will close on March 18. A book on Texas by a state writer will be presented to the winner, whose name is to appear, also, in the federated news. The book will be a gift from the Sorosis club of this city, of which Mrs. Powell is a member.

This A Good Field

"There is no better field for writers than Texas," Mrs. Powell announces. "It has its distinctive history; it is rich in folklore; it has varied physiography and scenic beauty."

Three judges for the contest are to be selected by Mrs. Powell, who has announced rules for the contest as follows:

The contest will be limited to seventh district club members.

Subject matter must be original and of Texas life, and the manuscript will be limited to 3,000 to 5,000 words.

It must be typewritten, double-spaced and on only one side of the paper.

A fictitious name must be used on the first page of the manuscript, which must be accompanied by an envelope on the outside of which is this same name. Inside the writer will include her real name.

Postage for the return of manuscrips must be inclosed.

This was the second lecture in a series that is to be given in connection with the national Camp Fire birthday project, "Making the Most of Me."

Indian Theme Used At Dance For Ko Sharis

Annual Presentation Dance Is Given Friday Evening By Club; New Members And Dates Introduced

SIMPLE decorations added to the beauty of an annual formal presentation dance given by Ko-Shari club Friday evening in the Hilton hotel ball room. Baskets of blue and white flowers were placed on the orchestra stand. Smilax and ferns were arranged about the room.

Simplicity of appointments emphasized the Indian motif that the club has chosen as a theme for all affairs. Ko-Shari club is made up of several women students at Texas Technological college.

New members and their escorts were presented at 10 o'clock as they appeared on the balcony in the ball room. A dark blue light was used as a spot light. As Dr. W. C. Holden, sponsor, introduced the couples, the orchestra played the club song, "Indian Love Call".

These Presented

Those who were presented were Miss Avanelle Boyd and Talbot Ledbetter; Miss Katie Walker and Fred Fairly; Miss Beth Gorman and Leland Payne; Miss Charlotte Lindsey and John Doughtie; Miss Rouble Triplett and Vincent Cox, and Miss Mary Frances Senter and Conrad Clark of Throckmorton.

Club members and their escorts who attended were Miss Lorene Childers and Parker Taulman; Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander and Lewis Kerr; Miss Dorothy Rylander and Ray Moore; Miss Kathleen Jennings and Anton Ullrich; Miss Aleen Brown and Shelby Read; Miss Charles Cox and Don Miller and Miss Murvel Rankin and Beauford Haynes.

Their list of special guests included the sponsor, Mrs. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Knapp, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, Tom Holden of Sierra Blanca, Mrs. Mary W. Doak, Mrs. R. M. Chitwood, Messrs. and Mesdames E. L. Robertson, William Dingus, L. E. Grimes, S. B. Haynes, H. F. Godeke, L. C. Jennings, W. B. Hilton, O. W. Ribble, W. C. Pryor, James L. Quicksall and W. H. Bledsoe.

Two hundred invitations were sent out for the dance.

Piano Pupils Are In Program Here

Miss Blanche Garner presented a number of her piano pupils in recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, 2118 Fifteenth street, Friday evening.

Laura Jean Renner and Esther Haynes joined the others for a rhythmic drill.

Miss Myrtle Dunn Announces Recital

Miss Myrtle Dunn is presenting her pupils in public recital Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in her studio at 1811 Ninth street.

Vocal and piano selections will be given. Those who are to appear are Misses Artie Rogers, Idell Bacon, Gwendolyn Thompson, Virginia Magee, Erika Peters, Sue Brown, Laverne Brown, Irene Fletcher, Thelma Moss, Ruth Craig, Messrs. Kenneth Smith, Culver Hill, Harold Biffle and Harrison Munroe and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds.

Spring Calls For Suits; Vibrant Styles Are Shown

Tailored suits are the most important spring costume, according to fashion forecasts given at the annual Retail Dry Goods Association fashion show. (Left) Oxford gray tweed fashions this suit with a daring bright yellow knitted angora collar and yellow suede belt. (Right) This will be the perfect ensemble for spring for young women. The English tweed suit is of string color with brown flecking. The blouse and scarf are brown, string and white novelty stripes, and there is a plain, tailored topcoat of the suit's fabric. Both the topcoat and the suit coat have center closing.

Tailored Suits Best Costume Say The Stylists

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—You must have a suit this spring, if you have chic intentions. They are young. They are new. They are all important from a fashion interest.

The two outstanding types are the mannish tailleurs, the English tailored suit, which is by far in the majority, and the smart, dressmaker type of suit that has gentler lines.

Blue is the better color, every tone from Corsair, which is a clear navy, to a deep, purply blue. Black comes next, for it is a staple with women who are well-dressed. The two new important colors are gray which is a bit on the grege shade, and beige which is in spring tones. For sports the gold, rust and green groups will be popular.

All these facts of chic come straight from the annual fashion show of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, which means that you are getting an actual fact picture of what retailers are ordering and "what THEY will be wearing" when the robins sing again.

Must Have Accessories

The tailored suits that hold the fashion interest are made of Glenn plaids, twills, Oxford gray flannel, ribbed wools and tweeds. Most of this group have single breasted cut, hip length jackets or shorter, notched collars with no fur, and skirts a little straighter with some of them flaring.

They are the kind of suits that cry out loud for perfect accessories. They need plain oxfords or pumps, a smart tailored hat, chamois gloves and the right blouse.

This blouse may be cotton, for piques, seersuckers and novelty weaves are excellent for tailored blouses. It may be gingham in plaids or checks, or of silk shirting in stripes, or it may be a black, brown or navy blue crepe, depending on the material of the suit. Peter Pan or Eton collars, finished with a short jabot or bow, are the best style with tailored suits. And practically no fur.

The second group of suits, the dressmaker ones, may use fine ribbed wools, pebbly crepes, ribbed rabbit's hair, and for very formal suits, broadcloth. These may have cape collars, or even capes instead of jackets, and there often is a fox

Church Women's Union Is To Meet Monday At Nazarene Church; Mrs. C. A. Bickley Speaks

Mrs. W. T. Boone Is To Lead Devotional; This Meeting Is First For Year

Meeting at the Church of the Nazarene Monday afternoon, members of the Church Women's Federation are to attend their first program for this year. The meeting has been called for 3 o'clock.

A message by the president, Mrs. C. A. Bickley, special music, a devotional to be led by Mrs. W. T. Boone of the hostess church, and a talk by Mrs. G. D. Robison will be features of the program.

In keeping with the general theme of "Thy Kingdom Come" that has been chosen by the program committee for four meetings in 1933, the program Monday is to be based on "Thy Kingdom Come Through the Home". This subject was taken from the Biblical scripture "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart therefrom".

Detailed Program

The complete program is as follows: Song; business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Bickley; president's message; offertory; announcements; devotional, Mrs. Boone; hymn; talk, Mrs. Robison; tenor solo, "The Lord's Prayer", Harrison Munroe; benediction.

Mrs. Bickley is of the First Methodist church and Mrs. Robison is of the First Presbyterian church.

Women of the hostess church are to serve as a reception committee.

Meet Again In May

The next program will be at the First Methodist church in May. Programs will be presented in July at the First Baptist church and in October at the First Christian church.

The federation meets each fifth Monday during the year.

Mrs. J. H. Hankins is chairman of the program committee. Other members are Mesdames J. S. Johnson and A. H. Leidigh.

Items Of Interest Concerning District Clubs Are Compiled

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

ATTEND the Church Women's Federation meeting tomorrow. Since it is a fifth Monday and your church society does not have a meeting, do not simply stay at home. Go to the church meeting and find how interesting the program can be, as well as how enjoyable the companionship is.

One purpose of general church unions is to bring the women of various denominations together. You may feel that your church is the only one but the people in other congregations are just as earnest and just as good. Your creeds and dogmas may differ but your fellowship should not be affected by that. Church women of the city have a common goal. Many are finding pleasure and profit in the church union. Be among those in attendance Monday afternoon.

IF YOU'RE FROM ENGLAND

THAT suggestion about people of England—or possibly other countries—organizing or at least becoming acquainted met with the approval of Mrs. R. A. Bulmer, 1820 Avenue J. She is the Londoner who had inquired about the London club.

She is asking now, that any others from Britain, particularly, call her in order that they may get acquainted. Her telephone number is 2338.

Mrs. Bulmer and her husband are British. She was born in London and he was born further north in the island—almost up to the line of Scotland. Before coming here they resided in Fort Worth.

They believe there might be others here interested in playing soccer. At any rate, they are interested in becoming acquainted with others from their native land or from the countries near there. If you are one, call Mrs. Bulmer.

BURN THOSE THISTLES

PERHAPS you think hay fever is a remote subject now, but it might not be a bad idea to sit down and remember those weeks of sneezing last summer. It might inspire you to rake up the Russian thistles and have a little bon fire.

The other afternoon on a drive to the country we passed the J. D. Caldwell place. Two things have been done there that a lot of other people might do with profit. For one thing, the Russian thistles had been burned from along the edge of the road and field. For another, the row of Chinese elms that have been growing there for several seasons has been pruned.

If people over the county would try Mr. Caldwell's plan and plant elms along the border of their fields where there are lanes, this county could be made a mighty pretty place. If city and country people would burn those thistles, we'd make this place a more pleasant abode for several hundred hay fever sufferers next summer.

About the best thing people can do to avoid hay fever, so the eye, ear and nose and throat specialists say, is to cut the weeds.

One Russian thistle, I suppose, could just about seed the town sold. There are several million of the weeds around now. Many are along the sides of fields and along the lanes. The vacant lots are full. The spring winds will do a great job of scattering seed when it starts these tumblers rolling.

For the sake of next summer's sneezes, round up these weeds now and burn them.

New Officers

Godeke; second vice-president, Mrs. George Field; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Peters; recording secretary, Mrs. S. B. Haynes; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Maedgen; auditor, Mrs. T. R. Prideaux.

The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. Walter P. Jennings, Mrs. W. B. Price and Mrs. R. L. Douglas.

Two days will be set aside this spring for the exchange of plants, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Godeke, a member of the civic committee. Next Saturday will be the first date and deciduous plants will be exchanged. A place for this exchange is to be arranged and announced later in the week.

Plan Second Date

Some time this spring, probably the last of March, there will be an exchange of other plants, Mrs. Godeke announced. This is the second year the federation has fostered a general exchange of flowers and plants.

Mrs. Godeke announced that four members had been added to the civic committee. These are Mesdames J. B. Edwards, W. L. Bradshaw, J. S. Johnson and A. B. Cunningham.

Mrs. C. B. Powell, chairman of Texas writers in the fine arts department of the seventh district, is fostering a short story writing contest and will start an essay-writing contest among Lubbock school students, she announced. The federation will give a book as a prize in this latter contest.

Because Dr. Bradford Knapp, who had been scheduled to appear, was ill, Miss West spoke before the federation.

Her informal discussion concerned the women of Spain, particularly as she knew them during the two years she has recently spent in Seville. She talked of their political and intellectual status, compared their activities and privileges with those of women in other countries and told of the accomplishments of some outstanding women in Spain.

Following her talk, Miss Blanche Garner played a piano solo and Mrs. Kenneth Knickerbocker played two violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Jed A. Rix.

Local Woman Heads Unit To Elect Officers

Several Changes In Heads Of Departments Are Announced; Plans Are Being Made Now For Spring Meeting

BY MRS. T. V. REEVES

CANYON, Jan. 28. — (Special)—Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, past president of the seventh district, will reside at Colorado during the next year. Her home for many years has been Snyder.

Mrs. Tom Rose, Pampa, Mrs. Bob Wilson and Mrs. E. B. Guthrie, Hereford, and Mrs. J. A. Hill met recently at the home of the latter in Canyon to formulate plans for the program of the district convention which will be held in Hereford April 19, 20, 21.

Several changes will be observed in the district convention program among them being an hour devoted to the junior clubs of the district, and the appearance of two outstanding speakers—not women—on the president's evening program.

There is a possibility that Texas' outstanding composer will be secured for the fine arts evening program, but members of the committee have declined to announce plans for this until the matter is entirely settled.

Serve Children

Forty-eight children of the Canadian school were served sandwiches two days during the second week of January through the kindness of six members of the Canadian Women's club. Providing for undernourished children in this way is a project which the Canadian club is carrying on through the year.

Mrs. W. P. Avreitt of Lamesa, district chairman of junior work, will give an officer's gavel to each club organizing and federating a junior club during the club year which culminates with the district meeting in April.

Another prize, five dollars in gold, will be given to the seventh district club woman who writes the best essay on the subject "The Fine Art of Living Developed Through Junior Club Work". Essays to be considered, must reach Mrs. Avrlett by April 10. The prize winning essay will be read at the district meeting where the money will be awarded.

New officers will be elected in the seventh district this year, and the task of nominating them has been assigned to Mrs. A. T. Biggers of Lubbock, who is chairman of the committee; Mrs. G. T. Vineyard, Amarillo and Mrs. G. W. Sexauer of Memphis.

Mrs. J. A. Hill, president, Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick, secretary, and Mrs. T. V. Reeves, publicity chairman of the district, were guests of the Hale County Federation, Saturday. Mrs. O. B. Jackson of Plainview, entertained the visitors at lunch.

The 1932 Study club of Dumas is the latest entrant to the seventh district federation.

Stresses Legislation

The January number of "The Club Woman", organ of the General Federation of Women's clubs, gives its major emphasis to legislation. The final conclusions of the article by Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, the chairman of this department, and a careful student of legislation, national, state, and local, is that the only practical way for clubs and individual club members to influence legislation is, first, to study intelligently the problems, and, second, to communicate by wire or letter with the lawmakers involved.

Seventh district women have already learned to use these approved methods of informing their solons of their wishes regarding legislation which involves the safety of home and children and of schools. They agree with Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, when he says "I am convinced that women can be most helpful in lawmaking as it refers to the fields of health and welfare, and in the control of the persons or property of children and minors . . . Legislatures are motivated by the pressures of problems and people. A keen interest on the part of women and women's organizations will do more to give us legislative acts that are based on the general good . . . than any other force in our nation."

Several changes have recently been made in the chairmanships of committees in the seventh district. Mrs. J. B. Dooley of Amarillo has succeeded Mrs. John K. Boyce, on the prints and etchings division; Mrs. C. R. Buchanan of Snyder has resigned the chairmanship of the literature division and her place has been taken by Mrs. Sam Isaacs of Canadian. Mrs. W. B. Hampton of Quanah has been succeeded as chairman of the public instruction division by Miss Mae Murfee of Lubbock, and Mrs. H. A. Brown of Canyon, chairman of the public health division, has been succeeded by Mrs. M. L. Saddoris of Canyon.

Two of those who resigned have left seventh district, Mrs. Buchanan having become a member of the staff of the state department of education at Austin, and Mrs. H. A. Brown having removed temporarily to Portland.

South Plains District Of Christian Churches Plan Conclave Here Today

Session Starts This Afternoon In First Christian Church

There is to be a meeting of the South Plains district of Christian churches at the First Christian church beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon and continuing through the evening service. These meetings are conducted fifth Sundays during the year.

The regular morning service will be conducted. Delegations are expected to arrive early in the afternoon.

A program for the meeting has been announced as follows: Devotional, Sam J. McFarland; talk, "The Ministry of the District", the Rev. Allan Lynch of Slaton; special music, male chorus; discussion of women's work, Mrs. R. A. Mills, president of the local General Aid society; talk, "New Testament Evangelism", the Rev. Robert O. Beaman of Plainview; violin solo, Jack Stahl of Plainview; "Model Endeavor Meeting", Dudley Vaught, leader. The Rev. J. F. Mathews, district president, is to speak at the evening service.

A general meeting of officers and teachers of the First Methodist Sunday school has been scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church chapel. Dr. A. W. Evans, superintendent, is to preside.

Useful Relic

Calendar Of 1893 Same As 1933

LOCKHART, Jan. 28—Usually an old calender is worth about as much as a last year's bird nest when it comes to keeping track of the date, but not so with a 40-year old calendar found here recently by Jimmie Patton, district clerk, while searching through old files in his office.

The unearthed calender is for the year 1893 and is identical with the one used for 1933.

STRAP HOLDERS

If you are bothered with your slip or brassiere straps slipping down over your shoulders, it will pay you to take a little time off and sew holders into your dresses. These consist of about one inch of tape, fastened to the shoulder seam of your dresses, with a single snap to fasten them. You attach the two pieces of the snap, one on either end of the bit of tape, making a loop, when shut. You merely open the loop, slip it around your shoulder straps, and then snap it shut. It holds the straps in place and prevents any discomfort from slipping.

Keep a pair of paper scissors near the comfortable chair that you sit in to read your magazines and papers. When you see something you like, to make, to wear, to do about the house that interests you, cut it out immediately and file it in your household file that you keep handy. You lose half the helpful hints that you think you'll go back and get unless you anchor them immediately where you can find them at a moment's notice.

P-TA Looks To Texas Children Now Employed

Various Organizations Have Days Set Aside To Observe Child Labor Day; Figures Show Number Working

BY MRS. J. M. CRAIN

CLAUDE, Jan. 28. (Special)—The annual observance of Child Labor Day (January 28-30) raises the question as to the effect of the depression on the employment of children. With 2,000,000 boys and girls gainfully employed, while millions of adult breadwinners are out of work, there is an urgent necessity this year for focusing public attention upon the evils of child labor.

The bureau of census reports that in the last ten years the decrease of Texas child labor between the ages of 10 and 15 years was about 75 per cent, although the percentage of those gainfully employed was still higher than the national average. In Texas 10 per cent of the 363,058 boys are at work and 4.4 per cent of the 354,773 girls, while 36 per cent of the boys at 16 and 17 years of age have jobs and 15.1 per cent of the girls of 16 and 17 are toiling.

Days Designated

A special plea by many of the state leaders has been made that children under 16 years of age should be kept in school and out of industry. Saturday was designated for the observance of Child Labor Day for those of Jewish faith, this Sunday for those of other faiths and Monday for schools, parent-teacher associations, and clubs.

Every members of a Congress unit should study carefully the leaflet, Child Labor and Education in Texas, which was included in the local unit package. If the local units would arrange child labor talks or programs or precent child labor plays or tableaux on the suggested date, much authoritative information concerning the exploitation of children might be gleaned and much might be done to carry out the sixteenth article of the Children's Character, which reads as follows:

"For every child protection against labor that stunts growth either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the right of comradeship, of play, and of joy."

President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt have both recently called attention to the necessity for eliminating children from the labor market, and providing a suitable type of education for them. Legislatures in 44 states are in session this winter. Public sentiment should request the legislators to strengthen child labor and school attendance regulations.

Helen Hayes Doesn't Mind Appearing In Two Films Of Similar Nature

BY HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD — Theme, background, locale and period of "The White Sister" are similar to those of "A Farewell to Arms." The plots differ.

HELEN HAYES

A few weeks ago, Helen Hayes finished the Ernest Hemingway picture. Now she has the title role in "The White Sister." Does she mind appearing in two pictures so much alike within so short a time?

"Not in the least," she replied to my question. With Miss Hayes, when there's a job of acting, she doesn't mind what the story is so long as it's good.

"The two pictures won't come awfully close together," she said. "There's 'son-daughter' between them. Yes, that ends unhappily, too. Most of my pictures do. That is, it ends unhappily in most theaters.

Choose Your Ending

"WE shot two endings—in one Ramon Novarro dies, in the other he lives. The happy ending was made just in case some theaters wanted it.

GARY COOPER

"Gary Cooper was up to the house the other night and wanted me to suggest that he play in 'The White Sister'. (Gary is "Farewell's" hero.) He said that since he's learned how to make love to me, he'd like to keep on. Why, he'd even be able to wear the same uniform. I hadn't thought of that before."

There's no immediate chance of a Hayes-Cooper "team," since Clark Gable is the gentleman in uniform who wins and loses Miss Hayes this time.

Incidentally, M-G-M still is undecided how to conclude "White Sister." In any event, it will necessarily be tragic, I am assured.

Small World Notes

ONCE upon a time, when William Keighley was a stage director, he had two plays. In one, "Town Boy," he gave a role to Ralph Bellamy. It was Bellamy's first big chance on Broadway, one that ultimately led him to Hollywood.

RALPH BELLAMY

In the other, "Penny Arcade," Keighley had James Cagney and Joan Blondell. Purchase of the movie rights to the play brought these two into the limelight.

Keighley, now a Hollywood director, has as star and second lead in "Picture Snatcher," Cagney and Bellamy, respectively. Keighley says he tried to get Miss Blondell—or Mrs. George Barnes—as the heroine to make the reunion complete.

They're Repeating

DUE to the success of "The Big Broadcast," several more air stars will visit Hollywood. This picture featured a dozen air-built personalities, including Kate Smith (who has completed a second film and who may be back for a third), Bing Crosby and Burns and Allen.

KATE SMITH

Return engagements will be played here soon by Rudy Vallee, Crosby, the Mills brothers, Donald Novis and others.

"The Big Broadcast" was the first conspicuous "radio name" feature.

Previous attempts to bring radio fans into theaters, notably those made with Amos and Andy's "Check and Double Check" and Seth Thomas' "Way Back Home," were not outstanding from a financial standpoint. Nor was "Chandu, the Magician," as popular as a movie, comparatively, as it was in its original form as radio serial.

NEW SCHOOL DIRECTOR

LEVELLAND, Jan. 28. (Special.)—Ray Watson, local merchant, was named a member of the Hockley County School board. He succeeds G. T. Adams, who moved recently to Lubbock. Mr. Watson was named chairman. Others are: W. E. Fry, county superintendent; Jesse B. Everett, W. G. Frazier, T. W. Meador and W. T. Hanes.

"Strange Interlude" Headlines Theater Offerings This Week

Norma Shearer Is Starred In O'Neill Drama

Clark Gable Cast Opposite Star In Sensational Film Starting At Lindsey Today; Movie Taken From Play

BY VESTEL LOTT

THE movie treat many Lubbock theatergoers have been waiting for—"Strange Interlude", picturization of Eugene O'Neill's sensational stage drama—will be screened at the Lindsey for four days starting today.

Norma Shearer appears in the principal role, made famous on the stage by Lynn Fontanne. Clark Gable plays opposite her, and Alexander Kirkland, Ralph Morgan, Robert Young, May Robson and Maureen O'Sullivan have important parts. The drama deals with the tragedy of a woman who finds she cannot have children because of a streak of insanity in her husband's family. Unwilling to rob her husband and herself of parental happiness, she hits upon a remarkable ultra-tra modern plan for preserving their tranquility, a devise which involves the love of two other men and which eventually brings all four characters into the most difficult of dramatic situations.

MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

Miss Shearer's role is said to be the most ambitious she has ever attempted, both in the matter of psychological interpretation and acting power. She appears first as a young girl, then as a middle-aged matron and finally as a doddering old woman. The picture presents dialogue "asides". The actors express themselves politely and then hastily reveal their private opinions, which are totally at variance with the spoken expressions. Double recordings were necessary to produce the effect.

"Island of Lost Souls", movie version of H. G. Wells' eerie advanture story, starts a three-day run at the Lindsey Thursday. Charles Laughton, Bela Lugosi, Richard Arlen, Leila Hyams, and Kathleen Burke, who was chosen at the Another Woman" from Pep, has contestants in a nation-wide test, head the cast.

The story centers around a skilled scientist who has become half-mad because of his fanatical desire to create men out of beasts. On a remote island he has succeeded in transforming apes, dogs, lions and other animals into creatures resembling men. A shipwrecked American rescued on the island is horrified at the beast-men and at a beauteous girl who is a creation of madman. The American's sweetheart comes to his aid but their escape is blocked when the beast-men taste blood for the first time, and turn on their creator. "Trouble In Pa "Trouble In Paradise," a witty farce, starts a three-day run at the Palace today. Miriam Hopkins, Herbert Marshall, Charlie Ruggles and Edward Everett Horton appear in the leading roles. Miss Hopkins and Marshall appear as two super-crooks who prey in suave fashion upon European society. They try to bamboozle Miss Francis, svelte frenchwoman, and Marshall almost turns respectable when his victim displays charms to which he is susceptible. The struggle between the two women for his affection leads to a highly amusing climax.

MIRIAM HOPKINS

After an absence of more than a year, Betty Compson returns to the screen in "Guilty or Not Guilty," which is scheduled at the Palace Wednesday and Thursday. Claudia Dell and Tom Douglas appear in leading roles. The story concerns the attempts of a beautiful girl to extricate herself from the clutches of a gang of criminals who obtain her release from prison on a falsified confession. Miss Compson appears as a hard-boiled bootlegger's girl friend who finally solves the problem.

Ken Maynard in "Between Fighting Men" will be offered at the Palace Friday and Saturday. The story tells of the bitter feuds that arose when, with the passing of the Homestead act, lands were thrown open to sheepherders which formerly had been controller by cattlemen. Ruth Hall and Josephine Dunn head the supporting cast.

The romance behind commercial aviation is brought to the screen for the first time in "Air Hostess," which starts a three-day run at the Lyric today. Evalyn Knapp, James Murray and Thelma Todd appearing the leading roles.

Taken from a True Story Magazine tale, the story deals with the thrilling adventures of a charming girl who flies the huge transcontinental air lines for a living. The theme centers about the attempt of the girl to keep her husband from the wiles of a millionairess.

Leo Carrillo appears as a racketeering promoter in "Deception," which will be presented at the Lyric Wednesday and Thursday. He and Thelma Todd are partners in the business of taking "easy marks" for a fall. Dickie Moore, Nat Pendleton and Barbara Weeks appear in important roles. The picture, offers a mixture of thrills and laughs.

Tom Mix and his horse, Tony, will be seen in "The Texas Bad Man", scheduled at the Lyric Friday and Saturday. Fred Kohler, Lucille Powers and Williard Robertson head the supporting cast. Mix appears as a man wanted, dead or alive, and the story centers about the attempts to capture him.

At the THEATER

Plains Cooperative, Inc., Supplies Southwest With Butter; Shipments In 1932 More Than Million Pounds

By Staff Correspondent

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28.—Most of the butter made by the Plains Cooperative, Inc., from cream concentrated here from South Plains dairy farms, is being sold in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona this winter, Roy B. Davis, manager of the plant, said in an interview here. There has been a decided increase in the demand for butter from the Southwest the past six months.

"We shipped our first car of butter to Chicago since last October on January 18," Mr. Davis said. "During 1932 we made around 1,200,000 pounds of butter."

Optimistic For Industry

Mr. Davis, is an optimist in looking at the future of the dairy industry on the South Plains, provided farmers and dairymen seek to improve the quality of their products.

"It might be interesting to note the fact that butter from the Plains is superior to butter produced in a lot of other sections of the state," he said. "Our cooler nights in the summer, our cool well water and a number of other natural advantages give us the opportunity of delivering a grade of cream that would make better butter which could compete with the best butter producing sections of the country.

To Overcome Prejudices

"If the producers will take advantage of these natural advantages and give the creameries a high grade cream, in a short time we will be able to overcome the prejudices against Texas butter—rather against butter from the Plains and we can top the market and in turn pass it back to the producer. There is no way of raising the level of cream prices except by the production in quantities of better cream.

"For the future, I believe that, generally speaking, the farmers of this section will receive for cream a price that will be in line with the grade of butter that is produced. If it is better butter than is produced in other sections, then they will get a higher price. If it is inferior butter to that of other sections, then they cannot expect the price that is being paid for better cream somewhere else.

Butter As Good As Cream

"If cream producers would realize that butter cannot be any better than the cream they deliver to a creamery or a cream station; that all butter must be eaten and will be sold and bought according to its grade—then they should give the creameries of this section a better grade of cream.

"If producers would not deliver any cream except the kind that they would use in making butter for their own table, then we would top the butter market and in turn the producer could top the cream market.

"As I have said before, the losses to the producers because of poor cream are much greater than the profits that can ever be made by any creamery.

Price Is In Line

"While the average price for butterfat was low during 1932, yet it was in line with general prices and was worth just as much to the country as it was when cream was bringing 30 cents a pound.

"We believe that cream production and dairying in general will continue to grow here on these great plains and that it will become one of the major industries of this section.

"We have members whose cream check for a single delivery during January was as much as $25. It is very probable that this check each week or for less time, represents more than the costs of feed for the herd, food for the family, gasoline for the car and that there is a surplus for payment of debts or taxes. In other words, it is a part of his cash crop and perhaps a big part.

"There are too many farmers who just produce a bucket or two of cream a week, to buy coffee and a few other groceries needed. When these farmers go to milking cows, not for grocery money or gasoline money, but for a cash income, then it is going to mean something for them."

STRANGE INTERLUDE

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brings you the successor to "Grand Hotel" at the
A Robert Z. Leonard Production, based on the great American prize play by Eugene O'Neill

"Strange Interlude" was a challenge to the production ingenuity of Hollywood. The world wondered how Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece would be brought to the screen. The answer to this challenge has resulted in the most important innovation since the introduction of talking pictures.

By means of an amazing screen invention the fascination of this Pulitzer Prize play is intensified in pictures, with all the thrill and glamor that won it one year and a half of glory on Broadway.

YOU HEAR THE THOUGHTS AS WELL AS THE WORDS!
SO YOU MUST SEE IT FROM THE BEGINNING!

IN ORDER THAT YOU MAY MORE THOROUGHLY ENJOY "STRANGE INTERLUDE", WE SUGGEST THAT YOU ATTEND AT THE FOLLOWING TIMES, IF POSSIBLE.

Marvin Jones' Position

FOR the first time in history a Congressman from the Panhandle-Plains region of Texas has taken a leading role in national legislation. Marvin Jones, member of the lower house, by virtue of his position as chairman of the agriculture committee, has taken that place in the sun.

Mr. Jones has been successful in putting across his 90 million dollar farm relief bill through both branches of Congress and if it clicks it will make him famous. And if he becomes famous — look out.

There is no secret attached to the fact that Congressman Jones for years has had his eye on the United States Senate.

And there is no secret attached to the fact that should he have been a Congressman from any other area of Texas his good record in the lower house would have stood him in good stead the state over should he have offered for the Senate.

Now he has an opportunity to go before the voters of every section of Texas with a record unexcelled, providing, of course, that his farm allotment bill comes across.

We hope it will—and that he can take a step upward in the national Congress.

THIS BUSINESS OF ADVICE

Perhaps you've never noticed it, but the chances are you can give the other fellow better advice than you can give yourself.

You know too much about yourself and about the details of your own business. You know of the various chances that 'may come through' and therefore you are not likely to be as good a personal advisor for yourself as for the other fellow.

When your neighbor brings his problem to you you can look at it dispassionately. It's purely a business proposition with you and you can tell him, probably, better than you can tell yourself just what should be done.

Advice is like doctoring.

Most physicians, when they become ill, do not prescribe for themselves. They consult a colleague who is more apt to be practical about the thing.

The same is true of advice. We can all give it better than we can take it.

WORLD ECONOMIC PARLEY

What the coming international economic conference will talk about is being forecast by the agenda committee now in session at Geneva. This committee's work will be done when it decides upon a program for the subsequent conference.

Washington will be represented at the conference, President Hoover having agreed to send delegates on the condition that war debts and tariffs be barred from the deliberations. The change of administration in Washington in March will have no effect other than any changes in policy Mr. Roosevelt may decide upon. President Hoover has not bound his successor in any way, his two representatives on the agenda committee having consulted President-elect Roosevelt before their departure.

There is almost an endless amount of work awaiting the conference. There is the matter of the gold standard and restrictions on silver currency in the Far East. Every nation is interested in lifting commodity prices. Perhaps the relationship between competitive armaments and the economic and fiscal ills of certain nations will come in for a much needed airing. The list is without end.

Should this conference accomplish something it will do something none before it was able to do. International economic conferences have been about as fruitful as world disarmament conferences. But no conference in the past encountered such economic conditions as the next one will. There was little to inspire them to truly serious thought and discussion.

A SAD, SAD STORY

It is indeed sad to read in the public prints that Alphonse Capone, late boogaboo of Chicago gangdom, is receiving no special favors during his incarceration in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

It makes us want to break into tears to learn that instead of his once favored $25 shoes he has to tromp about the hoosegow wearing the regulation brogans of Uncle Sam's big hotel.

Further than that, the scarred one goes by a number, just like the rest of the boys which, of course, is simply horrible.

The whole incident reminds us of the words of Mr. Gray, in his famous Elegy:

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth 'ere gave,
Await alike the one inevitable hour
When paths of glory lead but to the grave."

And in this case, we're sorry to report, the path of glory led but to a prison cell!

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?—Ecclesiastes 7:13.

Cheaper Rate Drive Aided

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—From the standpoint of crusaders for cheaper power, Chairman Reed Smoot of the senate finance committee and Charles R. Crisp, the then acting chairman of the house of representatives' committee on ways and means, built far better than they realized. They provided, at the last session of congress, to make the consumers of electric energy pay the tax which their fellow lawmakers had intended to place upon the electricity companies.

Senator Smoot was acting Chairman of the house of representatives. Between them they relieved the electricity folk of the burden on them and tarnsferred it to their patrons.

The tax bill, indeed, had passed with the levy on the companies, not the consumers.

However, in certain other respects the measure had undergone alterations by the senate, from the form in which the representatives had given it their approval. This necessitated its reference to a conference committee, to effect a compromise, and on this committee Chairman Smoot was chief spokesman for the senate; Crisp for the house of representatives.

THERE was a big row about this in both congressional chambers, when the bill came up for final action, but the time was short, the taxes had to be acted on, and finally they were grumblingly accepted, as Smoot and Crisp had fixed them.

It may not be particularly to the point that Senator Smoot was beaten for renomination shortly afterward. Crisp, seeking nomination as a senator, likewise was beaten, thus losing his seat as a representative, whereupon President Hoover appointed him to the tariff commission. His fellow Democrats in the senate, however, refused to confirm his appointment, easing him out of public life altogether.

But it decidedly is to the point that each bill sent out by an electricity company, since Smoot and Crisp played their little joke on the consumers, has included an item, of a few cents at least, to cover the tax which the consumer must pay—instead of the company.

IT IS A SMALL item, to the average person, but it is mighty conspicuous. I learn at the office of Senator George W. Norris, a notable statesman among those who consider that most electricity companies charge too much for their current, that the amount of kicking it has engendered is surprising. The Nebraskan knows, from the mail he receives, and is pre-eminently an authority on the subject of electricity.

Basing his judgment on this correspondence, Senator Norris surmises that the public has been admirably prepared to welcome some additional power company regulation during the administration of President Roosevelt, who was elected, to a considerable extent upon his record as an advocate of power regulation.

INCIDENTALLY Senator Norris was invited to accompany President-elect Roosevelt to Muscle Shoals, to discuss plans, which the senator hopes to see realized under the Roosevelt regime, for federal operation of the Shoals power plant—partly because the power will be useful, but more especially to determine just how inexpensively power can be produced at a profit.

The senator has long contended that it can be sold to consumers for about half the charge that private companies make.

If the government's operation of Muscle Shoals proves that he is correct in this estimate, he takes it for granted that private companies will cut their rates accordingly. Anyway, he thinks the public will make a terrible fuss if they do not.

THERE IS another thing to be taken into consideration.

Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota argues that America's economic problem can best be solved by breaking up the huge plants which hitherto have done the bulk of the country's manufacturing, and by having the manufacturing done in small, widely-scattered plants, where the raw material they require is readily available. Their workers could have small farms, doing factory duty only five or six hours a day and producing their own food by tilling their patches during their leisure.

Hitherto factories have had to be huge, because power had to be concentrated, for economy's sake. Now that it can be transmitted inexpensively, small plants, suitably situated, will be at an advantage over large ones, far away from their raw materials.

At all events, so Senator Shipstead argues, describing his plan.

But it will not work if the power of the small plants costs twice too much.

This is one reason why Senator Norris' Muscle Shoals demonstration will be interesting.

THE UNFORGETTING PIANIST

James Veazey of New Albany, Indiana, who is at present 29 years old, lost his eyesight in infancy. He took to picking out tunes on the piano at the age of three, growing into a skilled master of the instrument. The most unusual thing about this sightless pianist is his uncanny memory, in which respect he resembles Blind Tom, the sightless musician of fifty years ago.

Mr. Veazey now plays anything from a folding organ to the largest pipe organ in Louisville. He needs to hear a musical selection only once in order to fix it in his memory for ever after. He never forgets, and his repertoire includes more than 700 different selections, in addition to the Standard Hymnal in its entirety.

H. G. Wells Mixes Little More Novel In Latest Book, "The Bulpington Of Bulp"; "Never Ask The End" Is January Choice Of Literary Guild; Elinor Glyn, Joseph Hergesheimer Wri[illegible]

INFLUENCED, perhaps, by the signs of the times, H. G. Wells has mixed a little more novel into the sociological treatise he publishes this week as "The Bulpington of Blup". (MacMillan

H. G. WELLS

And yet treatise is scarcely the word. Perhaps the proper term is discussion, for, although there is hardly a page on which there is not material for an essay on some phase of modern life, there seems to be small attempt to arrive at definite conclusions.

Wells begins with his Theodore Bulpington as a preadolescent (Blup, just to clear the air, is a boyish contraction of Blayport, Theodore's village).

Theodore meets one rather futile pose in his parents; a religious poseur in the person of a family intimate; science personified by a neighbor family, and so on.

There comes adult emotion, or as nearly adult emotion as Theodore can manage. The war shreds the world—and Theodore.

He emerges a thoroughly unimportant, faintly disagreeable, but pathetic person. And the reader may emerge from the book with the feeling that life is fairly futile anyway.

Three Lives And America

"NEVER ASK THE END", by Isabel Paterson, brings together in Paris three middle-aged Americans — two women and a man — and, through a description of what they say and do and think during a fortnight of intimacy, expresses a thoughtful criticism of American life.

The job is done, so to speak, in a back-handed manner. The actual story is slight. Our three people meet, go driving, dine together, nourish a mild little triangular love affair, and presently they go their separate ways; it is in the way that the background, material and spiritual, of each one is recreated during their meeting that we get our glimpse of the nation behind them.

Of Middle West Origin

Their origins are middle western. One of the women, whose family moved to the far west when she was a child, can remember the actual frontier. Their lives comprise a summary of recent American history; the conquest of the frontier, the "emancipation of women," the crest of the industrial revolution—these things are [illegible] experience.

These people are not especially fortunate. Looking back, they conclude that they have not had much real happiness. They have muffed most of their chances. But they have, very strongly, the feeling that life remains an adventure, that they are lucky to live in present-day America, that things have been interesting for them.

Published by Morrow at $2.50, it is the January choice of the Literary Guild.

Starts Season Early

ELINOR GLYN is providing her 1933 novel early in the season. She is calling it "Glorious Flames," (Macauley) and in it she is retelling the story of the twins, one good, one not so good, which ends in the suicide of the not-so-good twin so that the good one may live and flourish.

"Glorious Flames" is, of course, rather purplish in hue, and peopled only with characters from the best circles.

"Abstract Composition"

AS IS the impression one gathers from Joseph Hergesheimer's Palm Beach stories, assembled from the files of a well known weekly publication and published as "Tropical Winter." (Alfred A. Knopf) Hergesheimer found certain features of the too-rich class which goes to Palm Beach pretty awful. He goes at them unmercifully. Their strange houses, innumberable servants, newly rich extravagance and complete lack of intellectual movement annoy him most, he says.

The net impression is discouraging, of course, but that it truly reproduces Hergesheimer's beliefs cannot be doubted.

Technically, there is achieved a curious effect. After only a few stories (ther eare ten) the reader's mind is filled with a remarkable collection of objects, like an "abstract composition" by an ultra modern painter. It is the result of taking one after another a series of stories with the same feeling and background, but different characters. Individuals do not obtrude; only a crasy pattern of cross purposes.

A Happy Award

THE literary prizes, their givers and their recipents together constitute a jolly little puzzle. Particularly in Europe, there are alas many prizes as authors, it seems.

But not all is logrolling, for there has arrived "Susanne," (Liveright). "Susanne"is a novel of everyday life in Denmark by a Dane named Johannes Buchholtz. With "Sussane," Buchholtz won "the first Danish prize" in the "Inter-Scandinavian Novel Contest" the publishers inform us. No dates are given.

Pace Is Slow

It was a happy award. The novel has probably the most trite of all the familiar plots; the daughter of the small-town baker who married a rich but unfaithful husband, and managed to keep on loving him. The pace is slow—but never halting—there are no extraneous aids for the consumer as the popular novelist so adeptly furnish.

But there are several unimportant but fascinating Danes in the book, and a background that has not been done to the death. There also is a very artfully arrived at impression of freshness; one seems to be living for time in a good little town on the Danish coast, to be smelling the fresh bread in the Drewes' bakery, the salty breeze from the sea. Such a sensation is worth having.

Letters To The Editor

Acuff Educator Praises Interscholastic League

Editor, The Avalanche-Journal: A quarter century ago statistics revealed the fact that of 100 freshmen entering a high school, only about one-fourth remained to complete the four years' course. But today almost as many seniors are graduated each year from the high school as freshmen enter high school. Thus, what is the holding power of our high schools of today? These contributing factors may be listed and discussed as follows:

The Interscholastic League—We do not list the work of the Interscholastic League first because we think it is the most valuable of all the holding powers of the school, but first place is given for emphasis. It cannot be denied that students who take an active part in all phases, both literary and athletic events, will find a place in life upon leaving school more readily than those who fail to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities offered by participation in the Interscholastic League.

Brings Out Talents

Students who are talented in speaking, singing or acting look to the various contests offered by the Interscholastic League for training in that particular line.

The one-act play contest has at last spread to the schools. Since students are natural actors they get much enjoyment in presenting one-act plays. Students are trained in as many as six or eight ways. They learn to memorize, speak plainly, poise, to carry out thoughts of the character in a realistic manner, and above all to become accustomed to appearing before the public, which often proves futile through any other source. Thus, future citizens are being trained to speak in public in such a way that students themselves are unaware of the process of training. So the little theater movement has at last become a part of our school system.

Another contest recently sponsored by the Interscholastic League is the choral singing contest. Children as well as adults like music. We need more music in our schools and this contest makes it possible to introduce the singing of songs of the right type. Children soon learn to appreciate the difference between jazz and the better type of music.

Art Is Stressed

Let us not forget the less spectacular contests such as art and the picture memory contest. Art is appreciated at all times. The students who possess ability to draw and paint may lose the one great opportunity to a highly successful career if not trained and encouraged in such an environment. The picture memory contest brings students into a sympathetic study of the truly great masterpieces. A certain amount of research into customs, architecture, people and geography of various countries is necessary in order to distinguish between the work of various countries since they have much in common. Years ahead these same children will no doubt hang the masterpieces in their homes.

The three contests discussed show not only their respective merits in child training but prove without a doubt that a certain amount of citizenship is being taught that could not be introduced into the life of a cifld in any other way.

Other Contests Help

Many other contests, too numerous to mention, prove their worth in holding children, not only in the grade schools but also in the high school. Athletics has in time past proved a very popular attraction to boys and girls. Today, abuse of athletics by various individuals and in various ways has started an emergency movement during our depression which bids fair to relegate such to the background, a proper place, in order that proper supervision may be had. Athletics should be used as an incentive for better academic work and not as a means to an end. Physical education for all students, is becoming an attraction for all students both in high school and grammar school. Children by nature love games and drills which may be had only in physical education.

The public has at last become conscious of the fact that practical training in the above contests is worthwhile. Taxpayers want valte received for their money. Parents want their boys and girls prepared for the problems of life. Our country eagerly looks forward to a generation of future citizens well prepared to help carry on. Let us not break faith with such noble aspirations. Help sponsor Interscholastic League work in your town and community.

E. P. Reeves,
Superintendent, Acuff High School.

Farm Tax And Mortgage Protests Echo In Nation's Legislative Halls

Pleas For Tax Sale Bans And Delayed Foreclosures Resound On Far Flung Front Over U. S.

State Legislatures Forming Background For Campaign To Ease Ills Of Agriculture

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Farmers of the agrarian states are fighting two of their ancient foes—mortgages and taxes—with a desperate determination this winter, and state legislatures are their battleground.

Their fight is waged with bills of a hundred different designs, but all weapons are aimed at the same target. By one method or another it is intended to protect the farmer from loss of his property through tax sales or mortgage foreclosures.

Nearly every legislature meeting, this year has heard the farmers' voice in measures designed to give them respite from tax and interest burdens.

Have Given Proof

Outside legislative halls, farmers from Iowa to Pennsylvania have given proof of their earnestness, sometimes by forcibly halting tax and mortgage sales. In many states farm groups have voiced their feelings in language which has commanded legislative attention.

Relief sought through the state legislatures is chiefly concerned with reduction of the farmers' "fixed charges," in contrast with legislation to increase prices sought through the federal government.

Proposals Range

The means proposed to obtain this relief range all the way from outright moratoria on mortgage and tax sales to general proposals for economy in government or the shifting of tax burdens from the shoulders of farmers to other sections of the community.

Nearly every midwest legislature has received moratorium proposals of some kind. Far western states have been more concerned with taxation methods.

The principal proposals already placed before the various legislatures now in session are summerized briefly as follows:

Midwest

IOWA — Prohibition of tax sales for a year, or altogether; reduced interest on delinquent taxes; request by state bank superintendent that receivers of closed banks postpone farm mortgage foreclosures.

WISCONSIN—Authorization for courts to scale down value of foreclosed property, to facilitate redemption; to create state board with power to adjust mortgage payments.

MINNESOTA — Permitting payment of last fall's taxes May 1 without penalty; eliminating state tax on farm trucks; discontinuing farm foreclosures by state rural credit board of one year.

ILLINOIS—Five-year moratorium on real estate mortgages foreclosures; sales tax, with farm products sold by producer exempted.

NEBRASKA—More frequent real estate assessments; installment payment of taxes; permitting only real estate owners to vote on bonds.

INDIANA — Moratorium of one year on sheriff's sales for taxes; personal and corporate income tax; sales tax and tax on intangibles to relieve real estate burden; five-year extension on delinquent taxes; two year extension on mortgage redemptions; authorization of stay of execution on mortgages.

OHIO—Two-year moratorium on tax sales; installment payment of taxes; exemption of personal property from school levies.

MICHIGAN — Extension of mortgage-redemption time; 10 years' grace on delinquent taxes.

Southwest

TEXAS — Sales tax to replace real property tax.

OKLAHOMA—Two-year moratorium on farm foreclosures; postponement of payment of ad valorem taxes; $6,000,000 appropriation for free garden seed.

KANSAS—Doubling of mortgage redemption period; ban on deficiency judgment in mortgage foreclosures; extension of tax payment deadlines, reduction of penalties, and lengthening of redemption period; reassessment of real estate at 50 per cent of "true value"; reduction of legal interest rate from 10 to 6 per cent; tax exemption of homes occupied by owner.

Far West

CALIFORNIA—Reduction or abolishing of tax penalties; refinancing of irrigation districts; reduction of school district costs; equalization of taxes on rural and urban property.

IDAHO — Elimination of 10 per cent penalty on delinquent taxes for 1928-32 period; general reduction of taxes.

NEVADA—Sales tax to reduce ad valorem tax on real estate.

OREGON — Elimination of real property tax.

WASHINGTON — Postponement of mortgage foreclosures; tax reduction.

South

GEORGIA — One-year moratorium on foreclosures; abolition of state agricultural department to reduce costs.

ARKANSAS — Two- year moratorium on foreclosures; shift in tax burden from real estate.

SOUTH CAROLINA—Sales tax to replace ad valorem reality tax.

NORTH CAROLINA—Removal of 6 cent school levy from real estate.

TENNESSEE — Exemption of tax on farmers' gasoline; cancelling of penalties and interest on taxes from 1926 to 1931 inclusive.

Left—Burke is shown at the controls of a tractor on his 30-acre truck farm between runs. Right—Burke is in his pilot's uniform.

Feeders And Breeders Over Territory Are Busy With Season's Activities; Number Of Shipments Being Made

Burke B. Roberts is reported planning the addition of another thousand head of cattle to his pens at Coble Switch. Recently he shipped several cars of cattle to the west coast in addition to a number of cars shipped late in December and early in January.

I. D. McKitrick, living four miles southwest of Crosbyton, who last year bought some Hereford heifers from Frank Corn, is reported planning the expansion of his herd. Mr. McKitrick is starting a small herd.

Vocational agriculture club boys at Ralls are feeding out eight calves for the third annual calf show at Lubbock. J. H. Taylor, vocational agriculture teacher, reports. The boys began their feeding some time ago and report good progress.

Over on the South Spade ranch, in Hockley county a large number of calves are being fed cake in addition to good grass. The cattle belong to W. L. Ellwood. Pastures are good this year.

Butler Adams, of Ralls, one of the feeders in that section of Crosby county, is following his cattle with hogs. He has about about 100 head of hogs that he is feeding out.

H. W. Stanton has been shipping cattle regularly for the past week or ten days. He is also adding another thousand head of cattle to his pens in the canyon north of town.

A. L. Smith, beef cattle specialist of the extension service at Texas A. and M. who spent several days on the South Plains last week reported about the same number of cattle on feed this year as last. Dr. F. F. Finley, federal cattle statistician, estimated 120,000 on feed for 1932-33 compared to 125,000 for 1931-32, Smith reported.

Livestock entries in the annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth, March 11-19, must be made by February 18, date of closing. Already a number of calves have been entered.

Phelps White, Roswell, nephew of the late Major G. W. Littlefield and associated with his uncle in the Yellowhouse operations, is reported feeding out about 1,400 cattle at Roswell. Not long ago he shipped a string of fat ones to the Kansas City market.

Halsell and Pennington, Amherst, last week shipped 105 heifers to Kansas City. Eighty four animals that averaged 780 pounds brought $4.50 per hundred pounds, while 31 that were ten pounds heavier, brought $4.25.

A. T. Swepston, Floydada hog man, sold a dozen 189-pound hogs at Fort Worth recently for $3.25 per hundred.

Coble and Roberts, of Coble Switch, Hockley county, sold 33 heifers weighing 895 pounds, at Fort Worth, last week for $3.75 per hundred.

John McGarr, Plainview, well known among breeders of high grade lambs, is reported planning to ship three cars of fall lambs to the Fort Worth Fat stock show in March.

Fred Snyder, who is feeding about 2,000 head each at Whiteface and Levelland, is planning to feed another thousand head, starting within about 60 days.

Marsh Holland, of Farm and Ranch, George W. Barnes of the state college and R. E. Dickson, Spur, inspected the W. R. Hearst feeding pens last week at Brownfield. They also called on Don Jones of the state experiment station. Barnes went on to the Lamb county field day of D. A. Adam at Amherst.

Will Murray, Lubbock sheep feeder, is reported moving 5,000 lambs out of the 18,000 or more he has on feed, to markets. Reports indicate Murray has made money on his sales so far. He is one of the most successful feeders in all West Texas.

Ira Ratliff, well known Hale county lamb feeder, who has been engaged in feeding for five or six years there, is reported moving to the old Stilson farm, near San Angelo.

Lon Williams, of Slide, is reported feeding out a car load or two of two year old steers. The Reiger boys, also of the Slide community have a large number of lambs on feed.

Farmers Receiving Cash From Feeds

By Staff Correspondent.

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 28 — Three months ago, farmers and business men of Brownfield and Terry county saw little hope for the future from the sale of feed crops. Today it is a different tale.

K. W. Howell, local man chosen as buyer for the W. R. Hearst feeding project, has bought over 5,000 tons of feed. Farmers have received over $15,000 for this amount and according to H. S. Rowe, superintendent, the purchases do not represent over 40 per cent of the expected amount. The program is to last for 200 days.

If results are secured an all-year-around feeding is to be conducted here.

CROSBYTON GINS BUSY

CROSBYTON, Jan. 28, (Special) —More than 9,000 bales of cotton have been ginned in this immediate territory this season. Reports so far are: West Texas gin, 1,765; Fuller gin, 1,744; Cooperative No. 2, 2,060; McDaniel gin, 1,693 and Crausbey gin, 1,836; total 9,103.

POST GINNING DATES

POST, Jan. 28 (Special) — The three gins here have announced their ginning dates for the rest of the season. All gins will be operated on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Killing And Curing To Be Demonstrated

Two-Day Event Scheduled For Monday And Tuesday At Experiment Station; Methods Are To Be Revealed

In connection with the station management's efforts to determine proper use of West Texas feeds in fattening livestock, a two-day butchering and meat cutting demonstration will be held at the State Experiment station, two miles east of Lubbock Monday and Tuesday, Don L. Jones, manager, has announced. All farmers and interested persons of the South Plains are being invited to attend.

The butchering of the hogs will begin at 10 a. m. Monday, Mr. Jones has announced. Eight hogs will be killed. The cutting and curing demonstration will begin at 8 a. m. Tuesday. A steer and a lamb will also be killed and cut up to show latest methods in these two types of butchering and cutting.

Best Types To Be Shown

The best types of curing suitable to West Texas for immediate use and long-time storage will be shown in the demonstrations.

Fred Hale, swine specialist of the extension service of A. & M. college and Roy Snyder, meat specialist will aid in the demonstrations, Mr. Jones said.

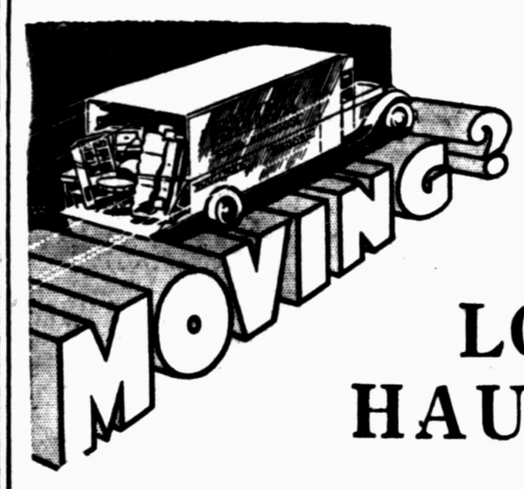

County agents from all over this area are expected to attend the demonstrations. A group of 14 vocational agriculture teachers from South Plains schools were here Saturday to study the feeding methods used on the animals.

The feeding is a continuation of the work done by the station last year.

Weighing In At The Poultry Show

These proud fowls will never grace a dinner table—they seem to realize their immunity. The reason is that they're blue ribbon winners at the New York Poultry Show for being the largest and smallest of their classes. The legal old White Holland turkey strains the scales at 25 pounds; and the black and red game bantam is just a few ounces of feathered fury.

Roosevelt Is Expected To Keep Close Tab On Public Opinion By Papers

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — With such veteran newspapermen as Louis Howe, Stephen T. Early and Marvin H. McIntyre installed as members of the Roosevelt secretariat, it would appear that the incoming President plans to keep a close watch on the trend of public sentiment during his occupancy of the White House.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

Presence of this trio at the executive mansion will enable Mr. Roosevelt to keep his finger on the public pulse. Opinion on the great questions of government, as reflected in the press of the various sections of the nation, could hardly escape their trained eyes.

Improvements in the existing system of keeping the President informed even may be instituted. For since the days of Wilson Presidents have found it expedient to keep tab on editorial opinion.

Joe Tumulty, secretary to the war President, conceived the idea of assimilating daily editorials and clippings and grouping them in such a way as to make it easy for the President to read them.

The President's Paper

This digest came to be known unofficially as the President's daily newspaper. President Harding used the same method to some extent, as did President Coolidge. But when Mr. Hoover came to the White House the "newspaper" assumed greater proportions.

Thirty-five or more papers are received at the White House every morning. In addition, two clipping services provide material from the smaller papers.

A clerk at the White House, with an assistant, spends the better part of the day going through these papers and clippings and classifying them. They are mounted on sheets of yellow foolscap, loosely bound, and placed on the desk of the President late in the day.

If Mr. Hoover has time before leaving the executive offices, he studies the clippings. If not, he often carries them away with him to the White House proper to pore over them at night in the quiet of the Lincoln study.

Papers By Airplane

President Hoover always has been an avid reader of newspapers. His interest in them is attested when he is away from Washington on weekends at his camp on the Rapidan. Every Sunday morning a plane circles overhead and drops the morning newspapers and urgent mail.

Guests at the Rapidan have been surprised upon awaking Sunday mornings, no matter how early, to find the President seated in "Town Hall", the center of the camp, deeply engaged in the papers. Often he has finished with them and able to discuss with his guests the day's news in detail.

President-elect Roosevelt, too, is an eager reader of the daily papers. On his campaign trips he spent much time in reading them each day and scanning the clippings provided by his secretaries.

Mexico Does Not Expect To Have To Make Loan In 1933

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28—Figures, prepared after the most careful study by American as well as Mexican financial experts, show that the financial situation in Mexico for the current year, although likely to result in only a small credit balance, does not indicate the slightest possibility for the necessity of a loan, either internal or external.

NEW LEVELLAND DOCTOR

LEVELLAND, Jan. 28. (Special)—Dr. Calvin Russell Johnston, graduate of the University of Medicine at Memphis, Tenn., has located here. He is a son of Rev. W. K. Johnston, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The new physician served two years as interne at the Memphis City hospital and a year in the chemical offices of the University of Chicago at Chattanooga.

GET SCHOOL ALLOTMENT

CROSBYTON, Jan. 28. (Special).—Crosby county schools have received their first apportionment for the 1932-'33 year. It amounts to $2,922. B. F. Hicks, superintendent, reports. Crosbyton received $364.65; Ralls, $507.65 and Lorenzo, $232.70. In addition rural schools received $6,000 for rural starte aid.

Tailored Suits

edging to the collar, or a couple of rows of fox spaced a few inches around the collar. Fox is dyed all colors to match fabrics on these sweet little suits. Ermine is next in importance, usually summer ermine though white decorates many a smart black suit. Galyack is next for trim, and this often is set into the suit, sometimes in the sleeves where the fullness comes, around the elbow.

Two Types of Coats

Sleeves are more conservative, though enough detail and important designing is done to give the Victorian atmosphere to suits. Lengths of coats in these suits conform to the figure wearing them, some of them hip length, some to three-quarters length. Many have cape sleeves and cape collars.

Spring coats come in two types, also. The mannish ones are the reefer type, sometimes in three-quarters swagger length, though the raglan cut gives first place to straight lined ones, with double-breasted closing and mannish collars and lapels, sometimes in contrasting velvet. Twill is a prefered fabric, though your topcoat may be of the same material as your suit, which makes a nice ensemble.

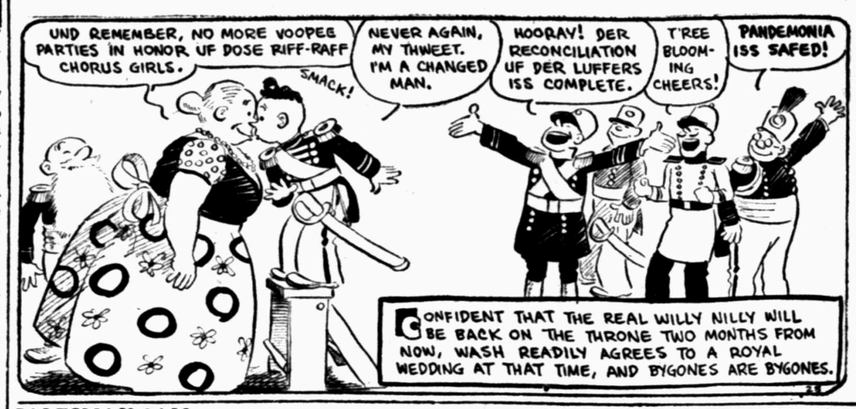

The second kind of spring coat is the feminine dressmaker coat. This more often than not has a cape touch to it, even may be a long cape instead of a coat, if it is very classy. Materials are fine woolens in crepe, rough like Matalasse, ribbed woolens or even broadcloth. Many of them have fur, applied, as in the dressmaker suits, for trimming, not for whole collars. Some of the luxurious long capes for spring have collars of elegant fur, though. These are distinctly high style and will be expensive.

For coats and for dresses, the same colors dominate the style as suits will use. It will be a spring when you must make up your mind what color scheme your wardrobe is going to have and stick to it for your basic costumes and your spring coat, and then see that your accessories match or contrast in just the right way.

Rather Buy Mule

Dallas Man Makes Choice In Case

DALLAS, Jan. 28 — A. L. Slaughter had rather buy another mule than hire a lawyer.

He told the commissioners court that his mule fell through an iron bridge and wanted the county to pay damages.

Assistant District Attorney J. Hardy Neel told Slaughter the county was not liable but advised him to consult an attorney.

"I'd rather buy a mule," Slaughter said.

Characters Of Play Selected

Two Sets Of Players Named To Compete In Contest For Cast Of Interscholastic League Competition

Characters for "Grandma Pulls the String," one-act play, to be presented in the Interscholastic League Meet by students of Lubbock high school, were chosen last week.

Two sets of characters were chosen, but final eliminations will be made some time before the play is presented.

Costs Are Listed

Grandma, played by Ernestine Lockhart and Beatrice Mills, acts the matchmaker in an affair between Julia Cummings and William Thornton.

William, impersonated by Lewis Spears and Felix Hocker, leaves home to recover from a serious illness and meets Julia, with whom he falls in love. He is a timid man, but, aided by Grandma and several other members of the family, manages to propose to Julia.

The part of Julia is played by Sara Sue Stewart and Billie Bloom.

Two For Mother's Part

Mrs. Cummings, presented by Lillian Baker and Christine Lane, is the mother of Julia.

Hildegarde is Julia's married sister who is visiting the family at the time of Julia's engagement. Her part is taken by Luella Benson and Artelle Wester.

Nona, Julia's little sister, is played by Nilah Tom and Anseth Jones.

Regular practice on the play was begun last week, with Miss Lula Mae Cravens as director.

Miss Cravens, directed the one-act play "The Gallows Gate", which took first place in the District Interscholastic League contest last year.

Girls Have Display Of Suits, Dresses

One of the most attractive and practical displays placed in the exhibit window this year was an arrangement of little boys and girls play suits made by Clothing II girls for three and four-year-olds. The suits, made under the direction of Miss Gertrude Watson, instructor in clothing, were placed on display on the first floor of the high school building last Tuesday.

The suits were mostly in soft browns with tan or yellow trim, while the dresses were of the pastel colors. The dresses and suits were tastefully made and charming in appearance.

To Hold Party

After the exhibit, a party will be held for the children and they will wear the dresses and suits made for them by the girls. Simple games will be played, and refreshments prepared by the girls will be served.

Dresses that were entered were made by Wilma Jean Conrad, Roberta Raybon, Marie George, Mildred Peveto, Lorene McCreary, Beatrice Bates, Willie Merle Sumner, Mary Cammack, Elizabeth Niblack, and Dorothy Russell.

Suits entered were made by Ruby Lee Kidwell, Olivee Bethea, Dorothy Russell, Maxine Burrus, Inez Mullins, Merle Mae Horton, Affanel Brock, and Ruth Harry.

Latin Club Elects Officers For Next Nine-Week Period

Latin club officers were elected when the club met last Monday during the noon period in Mrs. R. P. Johnson's room.

After the chairman of the nominating committee had made her report, the Gens Togata proceeded to elect new officers for the next nine weeks. As each name was called the candidate left the room, and speeches were made in his behalf.

Baker President

James Baker, who was elected the president, has been an active worker in the Boy Scouts. Carroll McMath, the vice-president or the program chairman, had taken a very active part in Sunday school work. This is his first year in the Latin club. Sid Stout was chosen the secretary.

Louise Hodges was unanimously elected parliamentarian. She belongs to the Good Citizenship club and is a member of the National Honor society. This is her third year as a member of the Latin club.

Elizabeth Whitnack Reporter

Elizabeth Whitnack was appointed the reporter for the club. She was secretary of the Girl Reserves and Latin Club last year. She was vice-president of the Latin Club the first nine weeks of this last semester. This makes her third year in the club. Elizabeth Whitnack is a charter member of the Girls' Good Citizenship club; she belongs to the National Honor society, and is editor-in-chief of the 1933 Westerner yearbook.

Following the election, each officer made an extemporaneous speech. The former officers were given a word of appreciation for their service to the club, and a hearty applause.

The last of the group pictures for the Westerner Yearbook were made Thursday by Daniel Studio in the gymnasium of the high school.

Tuesday Marks Closing Date On Sale Of The Westerner, Senior Yearbook; Work On Book Is Nearing Completion

Tuesday marks the closing of the sale of The Westerner, senior yearbook, according to an announcement made last week by the staff.

This books features seniors, but junior groups have had their pictures made. All clubs, the band, senior play cast, athletes of high school and many other things are in the book.

All-School Books Fails

At the first of the school year it was thought that the staff could publish an all-school annual but students did not buy a sufficient number of books, so it was decided to have individual senior pictures and group pictures of juniors.

Favorites were elected last week, and snapshots are beng made almost daily.

The price is $2.50, and this amount must be paid to Principal R. W. Matthews by Tuesday. No extra copies will be ordered, Mr. Matthews said, and no book can be purchased at any price after Tuesday, January 31.

Pictures Of Ten Groups Are Taken Thursday

Completing the photography for the Westerner annual, representatives of Daniel's studio made the pictures of ten groups of students, and of several views of the high school building. Thursday afternoon after the assembly program.

Most of the groups photographed Thursday were not organized when the pictures of organizations were made two weeks ago. The pictures taken were three views of the building, the coaches in football togs, and the following student groups: senior play cast, Girls Good Citizenship club, L Association, debate class, typing team, one act play cast, E. J. Lowrey's junior group, tennis club, golf club, and track squad.

Last Of Engraving Work To Be Sent Off Tuesday

The last of the engraving for the senior year book is to be sent to the Southwestern Engraving company on Tuesday, January 31.

The shipment will include the following: views of the building pictures and drawings for theme and division pages, four full page pictures of senior favorites, three snapshot pages, seven organization group pictures, three football action pictures, and pictures of tennis, track, and golf clubs.

Senior and faculty panels, football panels, several snapshot panels, and fifteen group pictures were sent to the the engravers on January 15, in order that the Westerner staff might profit by the 30 per cent discount allowed on early engraving.

All the engraving will be in the hands of the Adams Printing company by March 1.

Girls Serve In Dean's Office

In order to give as many girls as possible a chance to become familiar with the trials which frequent a dean's office, Miss Nell Parmley, dean of women, has selected a new force for her office.

For the first, second, fourth, and sixth periods, there is one girl on duty, the fifth having two who alternate. The selection includes Eugenia Lundell, Lena Mae Boyd, Vondelle Prideaux, Mary Cammack, Myra Moore, and Pauline Williams.

Two new girls have been taken in on the office force of Principal R. W. Matthews' office under the direction of Miss Mary Kinciade. They are Elizabeth Lowrey and Grace Johnson.

Demonstration Of First Aid Is Given To Mary Emma Club

In a meeting of the Mary-Emma club Monday at noon, Edward Reid and Norman Wilson, local boy scouts, gave a demonstration of first aid. This was the last of a series of programs on health. Next month's program is to be on vocational effectiveness.

The remainder of the program was spent in singing and informal talking.

Vinegar Struts

Students Discover Sophistication

Who would recognize plain old vinegar strutting around with the sophisticated name, "acetic acid," or who would know that good biscuits contain a certain amount of Na (HCO3)?

The recent discovery was revealed to the chemistry students when M. E. Witt, instructor of chemistry, submitted to them a list of sixty-eight well known commodities last week. The students are to have the chemical names and formula of each item when the unit of work is completed.

In the next few weeks, if one should hear a student speaking in a language seemingly unknown, he will know that the pupil is only a budding young chemist.

Dress Review Is Held On Thursday

A dress review was held by the third year clothing classes last Thursday afternoon in the dining room of the home economics department.

The costumes were judged on the girls, by Miss Gertrude Daniel and Miss Gertrude Watson, for general appearance and accessories.

Ten dresses were selected from the groups. These dresses are to appear against the second semester dresses in a contest held in the spring. The dresses that were selected belong to Voncile Shelby, Lena Belle Brown, Kathleen Payne, Jamie B. Collie, Christine Smith, Corene Yates, Lorena Gates, Ernestine Herring, Charlotte Cross, and Frances Armstrong.

In the contest this spring one dress will be selected to send to the state clothing contest.

Changes Made In Schedule Of Fourth Period P. E. Classes

Girls' physical education classes meeting at the fourth period, heretofore composed of members of the pep squad, will not follow the new schedule, which provides for girls to have the gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday, and for the boys to use the gym on Monday and Wednesday.

This plan was decided upon mainly because there would be too many girls to handle in one gym class, the number being about seventy, and also because it was arranged last semester to give the pep squad the whole gym the fourth period every day in the week. Since the gym is still vacant at that period unless the pep squad takes it, the girls will follow their old schedule.

Seventy-Seven Added To Club

Thirty-Seven Seniors, Twenty-Three Juniors, Fifteen Sophs And Three Freshmen Rate Citizenship Club Roll

Seventy-seven new names were added to the Girls' Good Citizenship club when a check-up was made on good citizenship grades Wednesday.

The senior girls led by a high margin with 37 new names. They are: Lois Adair, Lena Belle Brown, Louise Burkhalter, Fannie B. Seniors Busy Preparing For Annual Class Play, Feb. 10

Efforts of senior officials are being directed toward the presentation of "The Tale of Two Sillies," which was chosen last fall by Mrs. W. P. Clement, director, to be the class play for 1933. The play is a three-act comedy and holds on its list of characters some of the best talent that Lubbock High school affords.

The play is to be given Friday night of February 10 in the high school auditorium. Admission will be fifty cents.

Maxine Burrus has been appointed head usher. Girls who will assist her are Nancy Jo Haymes, Ruth Wagner, Elizabeth Lowrey, Ruth Lewis, Johnnie Mullins, Carolyn Whitworth, and Pauline Phillips.

Debate Candidates Decreased To Ten

J. W. Reid, debate coach, announced last week the names of students who will continue in the debate class and will try-out later for a place on the teams that will represent Lubbock High school in the Interscholastic District meet in the spring.

Four girls are remaining in the class. They are Pauline Hawthorne, Marguerite Spencer, Frances Simmons and Wildring B. Sherrod.

Contrary to past years, six boys instead of four will be in the class. These boys are Alton Hankins, Russell Wilkinson, Ralph Bumpass, Earl Walker, Donald Henry, and Edwin Butler.

Sherrod and Simmons and Hankins were members of the debate teams last year.

School Briefs

Faculty members were in charge of the program which was given in assembly last Thursday afternoon. A one-act comedy sketch, "Hot Air", was the feaeture of the program.

W. B. Chapman and Mrs. T. L. Mullican were absent Monday and Tuesday of last week respectively on account of illness.

In an intramural football game held last week, the seniors overpowered the sophomores by a score of 12 to 6.

Students participating in the senior play, "A Tale of Two Sillies", began night practice last week.

Sophs Pick Pauline Williams, Charles Beauchamp Officers

Charles Beauchamp and Pauline Williams were selected by the sophomore class of high school as the leaders of the class for 1933 in a meeting in the auditorium Tuesday morning.

Beauchamp entered Lubbock High school three weeks after school started and won immediate favor of the students who elected him vice-president of Miss Linjoel Hilliard's sophomore group. He formerly attended Amarillo Junior high school.

Pauline Williams is a member of the Girls' Good Citizenship club and the Latin Club. She has been in Lubbock schools for a number of years.

Naturalization Of Aliens Dramatized By Civics Class

In order to make the naturalization of aliens clear, the students in C. C. Cox's Civics classes are dramatizing a short play on this subject.

Tony, an Italian, has just reached America and wishes to become a citizen of the United States. He thinks that as soon as he gets over here he will be allowed to vote. A friend of his who has already become a naturalized citizen of the United States helps him to get his papers. The skit carries Tony through each step that he has to go before he may receive his papers.

In each class students have been assigned parts in the skit.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

EASTLAND, Jan. 28 — Henry S. Schmick, first sheriff of Eastland county, recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday here.

Schmick was elected sheriff when the county was organized in 1873. He served in the Confederate army during the Civil war.

Boys To Attend Older Boys Meet

About two hundred and fifty high school boys and their sponsors are expected to attend a meeting of the Older Boys' Conference at Plainview, February 10-11-12.

J. C. Brown, dean of boys, has received an invitation for representatives from this school to attend the conference and expects to see a number of boys represent senior high school.

The theme for discussion, chosen by high school boys last fall at the open air camp in Cedar Canyon, to be followed during the three days will be "How Can I Best Serve God"? There will be assemblies and lectures by prominent men as well as entertainments of a recreational nature.

Rooms will be furnished free of charge to boys attending the conference and only a small fee will be charged for registration. Transportation and a sponsor will be furnished for each five boys attending the conference.

Houston Protestant Minister Advocates Confessional For Members; Says Many Use It

HOUSTON, Jan. 28—Dr. Harry C. Knowles, pastor of the First Christian church here, advocates a confessional for protestant churches.

"When a person confesses his sins or difficulties he gets himself in the road to recovery from them," Dr. Knowles said.

"The idea of a confessional for protestant churches will draw criticism but most of the churches have it already," he said.

The minister said that between 4,000 and 5,000 persons visited him last year to "air their troubles."

Five New Students Enrolled In High School Past Week

With the second week of the final semester, five new pupils have enrolled for work in Lubbock High school.

The following are new pupils and re-entries: Cleta Fern Anderson, from Lorenzo, and Joel Bray, Bruel Bracy, Cecil King, and John Green, all from Lubbock.

LET'S ALL GIVE — TO THE —
SALVATION ARMY

What is more precious than a boy or a girl? Strong-limbed and care-free he and she faces the tomorrows. And yet, how soon the boy becomes the man and the girl the woman—a civic asset or a dangerous social liability! The Salvation Army seeks to reach the "boy and the girl in the raw" in many activities for their good.

The greatest investment is in human beings—the greatest dividends building up your community—the reward, a better people, a happier and a more prosperous people—a Christian people.

The Salvation army is in its annual appeal for funds to carry on its work here in Lubbock. This is your community, make it the best community in which to live. Give liberally.
