Texas Endurance Flyers Hold National Spotlight Despite Keen Competition

"FORT WORTH" NEARING NEW FLIGHT RECORD

Texans Fight Fatigue As Single Motor of Ship Keeps Purring

"MUSKETEERS" DOWN

New Yorkers Fail Second Time in Quest For Refueling Mark

Despite death defying flying projects in other states and in Europe, Texas held the aviation spotlight Thursday night with the promise of a new all time endurance record for sustained flight.

The monoplane Fort Worth was humming over Meacham field, Fort Worth, within a few hours of the record made by the Graf Zeppelin on its flight to America and well along in its second hundred hours in the air since taking off Sunday morning.

Other flights and projected flights:

The Graf Zeppelin flew from its emergency hangar at Cuers, France,

ZEPPELIN LANDS

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 24. (Friday)—The Graf Zeppelin arrived here at 4:25 o'clock this morning from Cuers, France. At 5:09 the dirigible landed and soon was safely berthed in its hangar.

to its home port of Friedrichshafen. Still game, Mrs. Mary Pierce was a passenger on the dirigible.

Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre, Frenchmen, landed at Old Orchard, Me., their starting point on a flight to Paris.

Roger Q. Williams and his navigator, Lewis A. Yancey, awaited favorable weather for a dash to Rome. They have been at Old Orchard several days.

The Three Musketeers failed in its second attempt to set a new refueling endurance record when it landed early Thursday night at Roosevelt field, N. Y., because of trouble.

At Dayton, Ohio, 200 army planes continued the spectacular training maneuvers with daily sham battles between the Red and Blue armies.

TEXAS PLANE WELL PAST 100-HOUR MARK

FORT WORTH, May 23. (AP)—The eleventh refueling of the "Fort Worth," airplane in which R. L. Robbins and James Kelly are attempting to set a new endurance flight record, was performed tonight at 7:33 p. m. The fliers had been in the air 104 hours. For the first time some gasoline was spilled in a refueling operation.

The Graf Zeppelin's record was only a few hours away. The fliers still had, though, many hours ahead of them before they surpass the army plane Question Mark's time of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds. And the 118 hour record of the ill fated French dirigible Dixmude also was ahead.

Motor Runs Smoothly

The single motor in the rebuilt Ryan continued to purr smoothly as it had since the grind began at 11:33 a. m. Sunday. Reginald L. Robbins, pilot, indicated he and his co-pilot, James Kelly, were fatigued when a note he dropped said: "The motor and the ship are in good shape and we are a little tired but don't let it bother us."

Eleven times since it took off the endurance plane has been refueled in the air. On each occasion the "Fort Worth" and the refueling plane flew to within 20 feet of one another.

Robbins and Kelly refused to let fatigue put an end to their joking. Sandwiched in between the more serious messages were facetious re-

Dread Fruit Fly Invades Texas, Threatening Destruction of Crops

AUSTIN, May 23. (AP)—The Mediterranean fruit fly has invaded Texas, George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, announced today.

Worms were found in a shipment of Florida grapefruit received at Dallas 10 days ago, Commissioner Terrell said. The fruit was sent to Dr. F. H. Benjamin, government entomologist at Orlando, Fla., who advised today that the worms were Mediterranean fruit fly larvae.

The infested fruit was ordered destroyed. Commissioner Terrell has posted state inspectors at all fruit centers to watch for the fly.

If the fly gets a good start in Texas, Commissioner Terrell said, it will destroy not only citrus products but peaches and other soft fruits.

She's Loyal

Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York "stayed with the ship" when the Graf Zeppelin began its return flight from Cuers to Friedrickshafen last night. She is the only woman passenger.

MORROW GOES TO ENGLEWOOD

Ambassador Stops While At Laredo

LAREDO, Texas, May 23. (AP)—Accompanied by an escort of 20 soldiers from the staff of President Gil of Mexico, Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, reached here late today.

Although the ambassador said he was making a "vacation trip" home, he gave the impression that he had returned to the United States for the marriage of his daughter, Anne, to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The soldiers on the special car, he said, were sent by the Mexican government "merely as a courtesy."

Although Mr. Morrow told newspapermen he was "not to be quoted on any matters of state," he said the marriage of his daughter and the flier of New York-to-Paris fame "will take place while I am on this trip north."

He said he would go directly to his home at Englewood, N. J., without visiting Washington. He declined to discuss the Mexican revolution. The opinion was expressed here that the soldiers might have been on the car to protect the ambassador against a possible attack since conditions still are unsettled in portions of Mexico.

Mr. Morrow visited Fort McIntosh while here. With him were H. Walker and Hal Mangun, friends and Edward P. Lowry and Arthur Springer, secretaries.

EDINBURG, Texas, May 23. (AP)—M. Guerra, Reynosa, Mexico, has been refused a permit to operate a saloon and cabaret at the Mexican end of a proposed international bridge over the Rio Grande south of Weslaco, Texas.

Governor Francisco Castellano of Tamaulipas not only refused Guerra a permit but said that no more licenses would be issued. That action, it was said, is in line with the recent announcement of President Portes Gil of Mexico that no more saloon licenses would be granted.

WICHITANS END TRADE TOUR

Plains Trip Declared Most Successful Ever

Having traveled 678 miles over three lines of railway and paraded, nobody knows how many miles, and visited 22 towns and cities, 89 Wichitans, members of a goodwill tour to the South Plains and the lower Panhandle, returned to Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon after one of the most satisfactory and successful trade trips ever undertaken by a Wichita Falls body.

At every stop on the three-days' tour the trippers were greeted with hospitable welcomes and they left each town with expressions of good will and co-operation with the business and cultural interests of Wichita Falls.

The excursionists were headed by Orville Bullington, president of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce, and Walter Nelson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce. The party was made up largely of younger representatives of Wichita Falls firms and they showed themselves worthy to carry on Wichita Falls traditions of enterprise and enthusiasm.

Leaving early Monday morning the first stop was made at Memphis and then the train doubled back to Estelline and stops were made at all points on the new South Plains line of the Fort Worth and Denver between Estelline and Lubbock. The train remained at

Red River Levee Break Kills Man

TEXARKANA, Texas, May 23. (AP)—Floods resulting from a break in the state levee along the Red river near Fulton, Ark., today took the life of one man, inundated some 4,000 acres of farm land and did damage which it is estimated will total at least $15,000.

Raymond Hays, 28, foreman of the L. C. Adams plantation, was drowned in an attempt to rescue horses marooned by the flood waters.

The break occurred early in the day and workers tonight still were trying to stem the flow through the crevasse. Another break in the same vicinity was reported, but this could not be verified.

Hostler Jury Locks on Verdict After Reporting Agreement Near

After six hours' deliberation, the jury trying Fred Hostler for robbery in connection with the holdup of the Spoonts Drug store last Christmas night, went to bed at 10 o'clock Thursday night without reaching a verdict. The case was put into their hands at the close of the arguments a few minutes after 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The only word reaching the courtroom after the jury's first retirement was a message to Judge P. A. Martin at 5 o'clock, indicating that the jurors expected to return a verdict within a few minutes. The expected agreement failed to materalize, however, and the arguments continued until 10 o'clock.

Hostler has been tried twice before on an indictment growing out of the same events. The first trial resulted in a hung jury; the second in an acquittal. The trial Thursday involved a second indictment charging the Dallas youth with the robbery of Harold Diggs, former soda fountain operator at the drug store.

NEW ACT GIVES BACK TAX FEES TO COLLECTORS

Moody Signs Bill to Help Officials Secure Payments

LAW IN DISPUTE

Raley Says $18,000 Claim Assured; Somerville Issues Denial

Two suits pending in the courts against Wichita county are directly affected by the passage of a special act of the legislature, made known here Thursday, in which commissioners courts are authorized to allow claims for delinquent tax commissions turned in to the county treasuries between 1919 and 1925.

The bill, signed by Gov. Dan Moody Wednesday afternoon, gives the collectors the right to enter suit and bars the counties involved from pleading the statute of limitations in contesting the calims. Bearing an emergency clause, the act went into effect immediately upon the governor's signature, according to information received by county officials here Thursday.

$31,000 Involved Here

The new law bears upon the suits already brought by M. L. Tittle, former tax collector, and Guy C. Raley, present collector, claiming an aggregate sum of a little more than $31,000 for delinquent tax commissions. A $13,000 judgment already awarded Mr. Tittle is under appeal. The second trial of the Raley suit, reset after an original hung jury, is scheduled for June 17. Mr. Raley seeks the refunding of $18,000.

Widely divergent opinions were expressed by officials and attorneys here Thursday afternoon after the terms of the new law became known.

"It settles the question in our favor," Mr. Raley declared. "I can't see any more basis for a contest."

On the contrary, Wayne Somerville, county attorney, announced that the county would continue its fight on the suit.

Somerville Outlines Course

"In my opinion this new act is unconstitutional," the attorney declared. "It just adds another legal question tothe suit, so far as the county is concerned. We will proceed as though it had not been passed except that we will add our attack upon it to any other pleadings brought by the plaintiffs."

Mr. Raley, who has been personally backing the bill in its progress through the legislature, declared late Thursday that its framers had obtained an opinion from the office of the attorney general and other expert legal advise before it was presented. Since it denied the county the right to plead the statute of limitations, the collector insister that it settled the question in his favor.

"The county has admitted that I earned the money, that I collected the commissions and turned them in. Their only defense, the statute of limitations, has now been removed."

The controversy developed after a 1919 law, taking from the collectors a former five per cent commission on delinquent tax commissions, was held unconstitutional by a ruling of the supreme court handed down in December, 1928. Collectors who turned in those commissions during the period between 1919 and 1925 are now seeking a refund, contending that the old law in effect until 1919 continued to be the governing act.

Marriage Plans of 'Chicago May' Recall Woman's Early Banditry

PHILADELPHIA, May 23. (US)—May Churchill, famous in her day as "Chicago May," successful international crook, is now planning to commit matrimony.

And the man of her ultimate choice is Charlie Smith who served time with her for the attempted assassination of Eddie Guerin.

Chicago May is a patient in a Philadelphia hospital. She confronts the possibility of a serious operation and it is probable that the marriage will be performed in a hospital room.

Henry John Nelson, her attorney, said today that a definite announcement of the wedding plans would be made next Monday.

May Churchill long since forsook the paths of crime and became an author, devoting herself to a frank expose of the adventurous life she once lived.

Her romance with Charlie Smith is a bit of history that is more incredible than fiction. In 1902 May, then at the height of her success, helped Eddie Guerin and his gang rob the American Express company's Paris office, obtaining about $50,000. Guerin was caught and sentenced to life in the French penal colony on Devil's island. For her part Chicago May served three years in a French prison.

As soon as she was released she set about the rescue of Guerin. This was almost an impossibility for no

TEXAS DEPUTY GOES ON TRIAL

Riotous Courtroom Puts Quietus on Testimony

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 23. (UP)—Spectators at the murder trial of John H. Northcott, veteran Texas deputy sheriff, today were treatened with jail sentences if they continued to make demonstrations during the trial.

Northcott, "two gun peace officer of Winkler county, Texas, is on trial for the slaying of Eng Joe, Chinese cafe cashier, during a dinner check argument.

The court session today was stormy. Attorneys kept wrangling about questions of introduction of testimony. The court room was noisy. District Judge Chambers stopped the testimony, dismissed the jury until the argument between attorneys was finished and then issued his warning.

"It is not good citizenship to allow your personal feelings to cause you to attempt to influence the outcome of a case in court. I will hold in contempt of court, fine and imprisonment anyone taking part in any demonstration during this trial," he said.

"That's right that makes 12," Officer J. T. Webb, who made the arrest, testified Northcott told him when Webb told Northcott he had killed a Chinese.

Several other witnesses told of seeing the shooting.

The state late today had several other witnesses to examine before resting its case. It was expected defense testimony would commence immediately. Northcott's reputation as a famous peace officer in Texas oil field towns was expected to be introduced.

BOY, 6, GIVEN 15-YEAR TERM

Child Sent to Reformatory For Slaying

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., May 23. (UP)—A childish argument over a piece of old scrap iron which resulted in the fatal shooting of a boy companion, brought a sentence of 15 years in the state reformatory today for 6-year-old Carl Mahan.

Guilty of Manslaughter

A jury in juvenile court found Carl guilty of manslaughter in the slaying of Cecil Van Hoose, 8. The boys had been chums until a fist fight resulted Saturday over the ownership of the old iron.

"I'll get dad's gun and blow your head off," a witness testified that Carl exclaimed after the fistic encounter.

The little boy then ran into the house and returned with a shotgun. He succeeded in raising the barrel of the gun and firing a charge at Cecil. Seventeen pellets were found in the boy's body.

Juvenile court authorities were undecided at first what action to take against the Mahan boy, but a jury was impaneled today and he was brought to trial.

The boy defendant sat on his father's lap while the story of the shooting was related before the jury. The verdict was reached on the first ballot. A counsel for the defense said they would appeal the decision.

Judge Instructs Jury

Judge J. W. Butcher, in instructing the jury, said Carl should be acquitted if they determined he did not know what he was doing when he fired the gun at his playmate.

"If, on the other hand," the judge said, "he did know what he was doing, you must find him guilty."

Apparently unmindful of the seriousness of the case, Carl smiled bashfully as attaches of the court spoke to him, during the time his fate was being deliberated in the jury room.

The conviction, lawyers and court attaches said, is without precedent in this section of the country.

COLLEGE SENIORS HOLD CLASS NIGHT

Class night, an annual evening's observance of class customs and traditions, was held Thursday night in the little auditorium of the Junior college by members of the class of '29 of the Wichita Falls Junior college. The tradition was inaugurated by members of the first graduating class of the Junior college in 1924, boasting nine members, and has been observed every year by members of the graduating classes.

Spade Presented

The presentation of the historic spade that was used in turning the first soil in the building of the foundation for the institution took place with Gordon Fulcher, president of the senior class, in charge of the ceremony. The spade was presented to Robert Murrell, president of the freshman class. The implement is presented each year by president of the senior class to the freshman class president.

R. O. Jones, class sponsor, spoke on various traditions and expressed the fact that the spade was symbolical of past and future history of the Wichita Falls Junior college.

Mack Thomas Jr., was announced as valedictorian and Virginia Belle Walker salutatorian by Mr. Jonas. Mack Thomas had a general average of 93.9, one of the highest averages attained in the history of the Junior college, and Virginia Belle Walker an average of 92.1. Both students have played a conspicuous part in college activities the past year.

Mr. Jonas was presented with a silk robe in appreciation for his work and co-operation with the class. He has served as financial sponsor of the Wai-Kun, college year book, and as news sponsor of The Wichitan, school weekly newspaper among other events.

Playground Band Makes Debut Here

The Paul Seeds Playground band made its bow to its Wichita Falls audience Thursday night before a crowd of over 600 men, women and children which assembled at Bellevue park for the first of a series of free concerts and vaudeville programs arranged by the city park department.

After the introductory number, C. C. Bunnenberg, city park commissioner, in a brief talk explained that the band was organized only eight months ago, and its appearance Thursday night was in keeping with the promise made by city officials.

An ovation was accorded Mr. Bunnenberg and Mr. Seeds for their efforts.

Threatening weather prevented appearance of the full vaudeville program as planned, but it was announced by C. C. Frazee, summer recreational director, that the numbers missed Thursday night would be presented in the near future.

WICHITANS END PLAINS TOUR

Trade Special Returns Late Thursday

Lubbock over night and was transferred the next morning to the Santa Fe and proceeded over that line to Plainview and thence to Floydada where the connection was made with the recently opened extension of the Quanah, Acme and Pacific. The special traveled on that line to Quanah where a transfer was made on the third day to the Fort Worth and Denver.

The third day's trip included all points on the Fort Worth and Denver between Childress and Wichita Falls.

Everywhere the Wichitans found crop conditions greatly improved by the recent rains, new highways being built, fine buildings going up and the people confident and optimistic. The trip was a tonic to those fortunate enough to be on it and they returned to Wichita Falls with a new vision of its tributary territory and its resources and possibilities.

One of the marked observations of the trip was the great development going on in the dairy industry. Fine dairy cattle were seen at almost every hand as the train moved along and at nearly every station were truckloads of milk cans awaiting shipment. The Wichitans were told at many places that dairying was almost revolutionizing the farming industry and where dairying was most in evidence there also was seen the greatest evidences of prosperity.

Breakfast at Childress

Paul Seeds' chamber of commerce band and the unflagging enthusiasm of R. E. Shepherd, song leader, and A. D. Lightsey, grand marshal of parades, contributed greatly to the enthusiasm and success of the tour.

The final day of the tour was begun at Childress where breakfast was enjoyed at the new Childress hotel with business men of that city. An address of welcome was made by Jerry Dabenport, manager of the Childress chamber of commerce, to which response was made by J. W. Chatham, industrial manager of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce. The excursionists spent three hours in Childress which is anticipating great benefits from the proposed new line of the Fort Worth and Denver to Pampa and points in the eastern Panhandle. Work is expected to start there next week on the Fort Worth and Denver's new $75,000 passenger station and on a new coach shop costing about $50,000. Contracts have just been let for 32 blocks of paving.

At Quanah the special was greeted by the townspeople who joined in a parade to the business section where a band concert was given and R. E. Shepherd led in singing. At Quanah the Wichitans were told of plans for a new $250,000 hotel and a highway improvement campaign including the completion of the east and west pavement of the Colorado to the Gulf highway through Hardeman county, plans for letting a contract next week for the highway north from Quanah to Red river and of the grading of the highway south toward Crowell to the Foard county line.

At Chillicothe apparently the whole town turned out to make the visitors welcome. The Chillicothe Valley News issued a special edition of welcome telling many interesting facts about that town. The reception here was one of the most cordial of the whole trip.

At Vernon a stop of more than two hours was made and luncheon was enjoyed with Vernon business men at the Wilbarger hotel. Leon Brown of Vernon, was toastmaster at an informal program and Judge W. D. Berry told of friendship of nearly half a century between the people of Vernon and Wichita Falls. Mrs. V. E. Teems captivated the diners with several vocal numbers.

Wilbarger county's beautiful, new courthouse costing $375,000 and just completed and the new municipal building costing $100,000 were inspected.

With home almost in sight the travel-worn trippers gave enthusiastic demonstrations at Oklaunion, Harrold, Electra and Iowa Park and arrived at the home station with memories of a pleasant tour. The train reached Wichita Falls at about 5 o'clock.

PINK* Salmon—the "King of Food Fish"
When you want a deliciously different meat of delightful taste; healthful nourishment, yet low in cost—just try one of the many ways of serving PINK Salmon, which Dr. Wiley called the King of Food Fish. Here is a suggestion from South Carolina:
BAKED SALMON a la CHARLESTON
Mix 1 can PINK Salmon, 1 teaspoon salt, pinch pepper, 2 tablespoons French mustard together. Slice 6 medium sized potatoes, boiled, and 6 bell peppers, fill baking dish alternately with salmon mixture, potatoes and bell peppers and ½ pound cheese, grated. Pour over this mixture the well-beaten eggs and dot butter on top. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

*PINK Salmon is highly recommended for its rich protein, phosphorous and healthful iodine content—the latter so valuable in preventing goitre.

VOODOO BOYS HEAR TERMS

York, Pa., Youths Sentenced to Prison

YORK, Pa., May 23. (UP)—Nearly six months after their conviction sentence was passed today on York county's three witchcraft murderers.

After denying a new trial to John Blymer and to John Curry, who recently celebrated his 15th birthday in jail, the court sentenced them to life imprisonment.

Wilbert Hess, third member of the trio which killed Nelson D. Rehmyer in order to free themselves from a supposed "hex," or spell, which Rehmyer had placed on them, was sentenced to from 10 to 20 years in prison.

Curry and Blymyer were convicted of first degree murder while Hess was found guilty of second degree murder.

DOMESTIC RADIO SERVICE

WASHINGTON, May 23. (INS)—Plans for a domestic radio telegraph service were laid before the federal radio commission today by Col. Manton Davis, vice president and general counsel of the Radio Corporation of America.

"I Spent $1,400 in 18 Months Trying to Find Relief," Says Wichitan

"I Was Forced to Go Out of Business on Account of Ill Health. But Since Taking Orgatone I Have Gained Fourteen Pounds," Says Dicken

"It's the honest truth, I spent $1,400 in the last 18 months, trying to find some relief," said E. L. Dicken, of 213 Bridge street, Wichita Falls, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative.

"I got so bad, and down and out, from ill health, I was forced to give up my cafe and go out of business." Mr. Dicken formerly was the proprietor of Ed's Cafe. "But since taking four bottles of Orgatone," he continued, "I have honestly gained 14 pounds in the last six weeks. I feel like I did when I was a youngster, 16 or 17 years old.

"I have suffered for three years, with very chronic case of stomach trouble, and tried nearly every kind of medicine I knew or heard of, but never got any relief. Everything I ate soured on my stomach, and caused gas and I would vomit up all of my food. I was bloated up with gas so much, and would have that distressing feeling for hours. I had very billous and dizzy spells, and severe headaches. I was extremely nervous, and hardly got any sleep at all. I was just down in a run down condition and knew that I had to get something for my condition.

"A friend of mine recommended Orgatone to me and so I began taking it. I honestly never felt better in my life. I can eat anything I want now and it doesn't hurt me at all. I have gained in weight and strength, and have more energy and pep than I have in years. I want to tell all my friends about Orgatone, for they all know the condition I was in, when I commenced taking Orgatone. Orgatone is indeed a wonderful medicine, and I just can't say too much for it, for I feel that it saved me dollar after dollar I would have spent seeking relief."

Genuine Orgatone is sold in Wichita Falls, Texas, exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone nurse who charges nothing for her theories on good health and hygiene.—Adv.

Work Started On Jacksboro Gas Line

Special to The Record News

JACKSBORO, May 23.—The engineering corps of the Brazos River Gas company, a subsidiary of the Upham Gas interests, have completed their survey of the transmission and the distribution lines in the city of Jacksboro from the West Jack county gas wells.

Right of way has been procured and the contractors, W. R. Fullton and company of Wichita Falls, have a large force in the county laying those lines and report that they expect to have same completed into Jacksboro in early July.

The Upham interests purchased the Lindsay-Thomason 2,000,000 foot gasser in the South Bryson field and have arranged to secure part of the production from the Prairie-Bryson estate 13,000,000 foot gasser in the North Bryson field. Connection will later be made with their Palo Pinto gas field lines and possibly with their Panhandle field lines traversing Young county.

War Veteran Guilty Of Altering Compensation

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 23. (UP)—A verdict of guilty on all three counts was returned in federal court today against David H. Cox, Oklahoma City world war veteran. He was charged with altering a compensation voucher by raising the date from 1927 to 1928 so that he could borrow money on it at an Oklahoma City bank.

The jury had deliberated all night on the case. Sentence was deferred by Judge Ed. S. Vaught.

BORDER LABOR CASES PROBED

U. S. Officials Sift Charges Of Deportations

LAREDO, Texas, May 23. (UP)—High officials of the United States department of labor and immigration arrived in Laredo today to inspect immigration conditions along the Texas-Mexican border and to confer with local immigration officials on complaints that Mexican laborers are being taken up and deported in large numbers.

In the official party arriving here were Robe C. White, assistant secretary of labor; Thomas B. Shoemaker, assistant commissioner of naturalization; L. F. Wixon, chief superintendent of immigration, and W. A. Whalen of the San Antonio district of immigration.

An important report made to the visiting officials of W. B. Perry, assistant chief of the border patrol, showed that out of 14 farms in Webb county visited by the border patrol inspectors, only 13 laborers out of the 1,047 inspected were deported. Of this total, the report shows, 433 claimed American citizenship, 140 others had paid the requisite head-tax, while 454 had entered the country illegally but had resided here so long that they were not considered subject to deportation.

This report, it was said, refutes the charges that wholesale deportations of Mexican laborers were being made along the Texas border at this point.

Gasoline and Oil Contract Given To Texas Company Ruled Not Binding

AUSTIN, May 23. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Claude Pollard today held in an opinion addressed to R. B. Walthall, chairman of the board of control, that a resolution of the board awarding to the Texas company a contract for gasoline and oil for the state highway department, May 6, was not binding.

The attorney general held the Texas company specified a price of 48 cents for transmission oil on the gallon basis, which would be substantially higher than a bid of the Pierce Oil corporation on the same quality. This, Pollard held, would not be permissible under the law.

Neither the highway nor any other state department furnished estimates on amounts of gasoline and oil needed, as required by statute, the attorney general further asserted.

Camden Square, London, claims to have had the longest continuous rainfall on record, the rain having fallen for 58½ hours.

AGED BANK PRESIDENT RISKS LIFE TO THWART DARING HOLDUP

FORMER TEXAS PRISONER HELD

Robber Critically Wounded At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23. (INS)—The lobby of the Fountain Square State bank here today was the scene of the death defying bravery of a 65-year-old bank president that precipitated a sanguinary gunfight in which the bank officials probably fatally wounded one bandit, routed another and saved the bank's money.

William Mackenhorst, aged president of the institution, flung himself at one of the bandits when the desperadoes began to herd 15 employes and two customers to the rear of the bank. This gave Val Schneider, a teller, opportunity to seize a gun and empty it at the bandit with whom Mackenhorst was struggling.

The load from the teller's gun struck the robber in the left side of the head, shot out one of his eyes and inflicted critical head wounds.

At the city hospital the bandit told Sheriff George Winkler his name was Jack P. Larkin, 30, of Iveria, La., that he was recently released from the Texas penitentiary, that he robbed the Irvington State bank here of $10,000 on Jan. 8 and that he recently held up a bank in St. Louis.

Store Owner Hides Cash When He Mistakes Cop for Bandit

It's a cruel world, and no one trusts their fellow man, much to the safety of merchants in the outlying districts of the city.

Thus opined Police Officer Ellis Summers Thursday, recalling that when he entered a suburban store late Wednesday night with a cap pulled far over his eyes, the store proprietor, counting the day's cash, hurled the cash far under the counter when that cap and its wearer started in the door.

The proprietor was a friend of the officer's. They recognized each other, and both smiled.

PARK SENIORS FILE PROTEST

Class Members Deny Defeat in Hot Battle

Vigorous protests from members of the senior class at the Iowa Park High school Thursday afternoon contradicted a report that the class of '29 had been beated in the annual Senior Class day contests which lasted all day Tuesday. The seniors denied the loss of their class flag and energetically disclaimed defeat.

The following statement was subscribed to by Franklin Love, Joe Cunningham, Loys Barbour, and Curtis Davis, four members of the graduating class:

"The members of the senior class of the Iowa Park High school wish to repudiate the contents of the statement in the news item in the copy of the Record News on May 23. The account of the battle for the flag which appeared in this paper was prejudiced in favor of the junior class with no thought for the senior class of '29. We do not say that the seniors were victorious but we do wish to say that if any of the classes were in the advantage it was the senior class, for after they had torn the first junior flag into tatters, they burned the second which had been made by other members of the junior, sophomore, and freshman classes.

"The senior flag was still floating in the breeze, well protected by the members of the senior class at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday. After the senior party, which was over at this time, the class removed the flag from its pole and they still have it in their possession. The only time it was removed from its post, excepting the times when it was being moved to its destinations was when a member from the freshman class brought it down from the water tower. The juniors can not be credited with that feat. It was soon recovered by the seniors and the fight was soon resumed.

"The members of the class are proud to say that they still have their flag and they will willingly show this cause of so much excitement to anyone who wishes to disclaim this fact or to disown any of the facts mentioned in this article."

Napier as next friend, claims that his right leg was broken, his ankle and foot bruised and cut and that he suffered permanent injuries when the motorcycle upon which he was riding collided with an automobile driven by an unknown person. The petition claims that the boy was occupied with company business at the time of the collision.

In another note dropped the fliers commented on the cramped space in the plane: "We can understand now how people who live in small houses get by." Earlier in the day Robbins advised the ground crew: "We will try not only for a new record but to set a good one."

The fliers now have parachutes. Kelly's was given him by Lieut. H. R. Ogden, adjutant and pilot for Brig. Gen. L. P. Lahm, in charge of aviation in the eighth corps area, who flew alongside the "Fort Worth" yesterday. It was of the type which fits the back and allows Kelly, who tends the motor by walking on the cat-walk, greater freedom than the "seat" parachute. Another similar to the one Kelly is wearing is to be sent from Kelly field, San Antonio, to Robbins.

Even in hard water, dirty dishes are easy to wash

But before washing them, you must soften the water with Melo. Soap and soft water never make scum. In soft water no dirty ring forms around the dishpan. Dishes sparkle in soft water and grease is cut.

Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. Melo makes soap more effective, saving from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. Use Melo wherever you want soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

"Once I was worried.

Mealtime was getting on my nerves. I prepared many appetizing dishes, but John simply would not eat—just 'minced' at his food. Perhaps sometimes a little grouchy. I began to fear he was 'slipping.' What was I to do? Love, home, happiness, business success—all depended upon an improvement in his condition. The blood tonic idea suggested itself to me. My Druggist recommended S.S.S. He told me that S.S.S. was a great blood tonic; that it had been successful for over 100 years; that it was made from fresh vegetable drugs and would not harm the most delicate system. Also that it would build up the blood and improve the processes by which the body is nourished. I brought home a large size bottle. John agreed to try it. Well, in just a few days I could see the difference. His improvement has been so rapid he is going to take several more bottles, and not only that, but he is now telling his friends to take S.S.S."

Loss of appetite only a symptom

It is a known fact that when one's system gets "run-down," they haven't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play.

Rich, red blood builds sturdy health

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again, sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. is daily helping people regain their strength and charm. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. It helps Nature build red-blood-cells. It gives to Nature what it needs in making you feel like yourself again.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Mrs. Ailes Tells How War Vets Design Poppies

By MRS. O. T. AILES

Poppies to be sold by the American Legion auxiliary on Saturday, May 25, were made in government hospitals and convalescent workshops in many cities near hospitals. In the work of making poppies, disabled men receiving little or no government compensation are given preference. Hands of disabled veterans are given employment shaping the little red flowers. A penny is paid for each poppy and the average worker is able to make 300 poppies a day. Three dollars may not seem much, but to a man who has been flat on his back for months, discouraged and depressed, three one-dollar bills actually earned seem a little fortune.

Perhaps your poppy was made by the veteran in the Speedway hospital at Chicago, who has been confined to his bed five years with the lower part of his body in a rack. This year he is able to move his hands enough to fashion the little red poppies. Useful work and earning money mean everything to him.

Or perhaps your poppy was one of those made by another veteran who was facing a serious operation with the chances against him, who worked late at night so that whether he lived or died, the money from the poppies might go to his wife.

Your poppy may have been shaped by the nervous and rheumatic fingers of a gray-haired veteran in the workshop in Kansas. He was really too old for war service but he served anyway and he is paying for it now. His disabilities prevent him from holding a steady job, and frequently the money he earns making poppies is the only support for his wife and children.

If your poppy is especially well made it may have come from the hands of the half-paralyzed veteran in the National Soldiers' Home at Togus, Maine, who said: "I am going to make these good even if I make only 50 a day. I made 45 this morning, and my left hand is paralyzed. See, I can move the fingers only a little."

Women Should Be Sports Despite All Hardships, Dorothy Dix Avers

No One Can Blame a Woman for Wishing She Had Been Born a Man, Agrees Dorothy Dix, Since Everything Is Harder for Her Just Because She Is a Woman—But the Best Thing to Do Is to Be a Good Sport About It

A little 17-year-old girl sings me her blues. She says:

"I think the most horrible curse that can be wished on a human being is to be a girl. A boy can do as he pleases, and go where he likes, but a girl is kept shut up at home like a prisoner. All you hear is: 'You mustn't do that because you are a girl. A boy can get away with it, but a girl can't.' 'You mustn't go there because you are a girl. It is all right for a boy, but not for a girl,' 'You mustn't say that because you are a girl,' 'You mustn't have that sort of ideas if you are a girl.'

"I hate the very sight of a girl, and I am never going to marry because I wouldn't be guilty of the crime of bringing a girl child into the world. I despise being a girl so badly that I have twice tried to kill myself, but the next time I am going to make a go of it."

Well, my dear, most of us who have the misfortune to be women will agree with you that any one is out of luck who belongs to the feminine sex, but for us let it drive us to suicide. We feel that it is better even to be a woman than to be a corpse.

Probably ninety-nine women out of a hundred wish they were men, but no man ever wished he was a woman. In their yearning to be men women imitate them and try to dress like them and act like them and talk like them. You often see women dressed up in breeches, swaggering around with a cigaret in their mouths and they swear and tell racy stories, but you never see a man parading about in public in high-heel slippers and silk stockings and with a knee-long georgette on and drawing out his vanity case and making up his face in public.

There is no denying this is a man's world and that everything in it that a woman has to do, with the exception of having babies, is harder for her to do just by reason of her being a woman. To begin with, nature gives her a rotten deal. She bestows on her a frailer physique than man; she gives her an extra supply of nerves and assorted emotions and sensibilities; she makes her subject to all the ills of the flesh to which man is heir and chucks in a few extra ones on her own account, and, having done so, says, "Now, I have done the worst I can for you. Go on in and win out if you can."

Then convention steps in and lays a few more handicaps on the poor woman's shoulders. Perhaps the heaviest one is the demand that every woman must be easy on the eyes and that no matter what she is or does she must be a good-looker and remain perpetually young and beautiful.

A young man may be ugly enough to stop the clock, but if he is intelligent and has good manners and is a gentleman and a go-getter, the girls break their necks trying to catch him for a husband. But the homely girl hasn't a Chinaman's chance of being a riot with the men no matter how brilliant and clever and charming she is.

When a man goes to hire a male employe he doesn't care a rap whether he looks like Valentino or Andy Gump. He is concerned only with the youth's ability to turn out a good job, but it is Miss Peaches-and-Cream who wins out and gets the coveted office position over her sad-looking sister who can break the speed record with a typewriter and knows more about spelling than Noah Webster.

Nobody cares whether Mr. Hoover is fat or thin or has a Grecian profile or a pugnose, but if Mrs. Hoover was president she would have to look like a bathing beauty in addition to having enough sense to run the United States.

Even in marriage men get all of the breaks, for every wife is ten times as much married to her husband as he is to her, and no man's happiness lies in his wife's hands as completely as hers lies in his. A man can always get up and leave when things get too hot for him at home, but the wife is tied down because generally she has nowhere else to go. Furthermore, a man can always marry if he wants to, no matter how old he is, but there is a time limit on a woman's chances of getting another husband and after a certain age they are practically nil.

So there you are, my dear. There is no disguising the disadvantages of being a girl, but when you are one, there is nothing you can do about it, and there is no use in shedding any tears over the situation or resorting to the poison bottle.

The best thing to do is to be a good sport about it and thank your lucky stars that if you have to be a girl you are a modern girl and not an old-fashioned girl.

If you had been a girl in your grandmother's time you wouldn't have been given any education to speak of, because it was held then that it would unsex a girl to study geography. And you wouldn't have been permitted to read anything but sugar and watery romances that were supposed to be appropriate for the young person. Now, you can go to college and get just as good an education as any man has and you are free to the whole world of books.

In your grandmother's time you would have had to sit around and do tatting and waste your talents, if God had given you any, and if you were poor you had to starve along and wear your heart out in longing for the things you wanted. But now every door of opportunity is open to you. You can follow any profession for which you have ability and if you can do as good work you can command as high a salary as a man.

In your mother's time, if you had been a girl you couldn't have gone anywhere without a chaperon. Now you can go where you please and as long as you keep your eyes before you and mind your own business nobody molests you or criticizes you.

So cheer up, poor little 17-year-old girl. Being a girl isn't as bad as it used to be. And, in spite of its drawbacks, there is a lot of fun and pleasure in life even for women and women, after all, are a sort of necessity, you know, to keep the world going. —DOROTHY DIX.

New York Critic Praises Work Of Writers in Manuscript Club

Closing their year's work with a social meeting in the form of a limerick luncheon, members of the Manuscript club were entertained Thursday at the Angelina Tea room.

As the prefece to the program, original limericks were written about each guest at the left. Prizes were won by Miss Lucile Sherrod member, and Mrs. T. A. Baker, guest.

Mrs. R. E. Davis, retiring president, and Mrs. W. B. Whiting, incoming executive, were called upon for toasts which were also in the form of limericks. Mrs. Freida van Emden, program chairman, announced the numbers and made the introductions in limerick.

The following program was given: Violin solo, Schubert's "Serenade," Peggy Williamson; short story, "Polly's Soul," Mrs. W. B. Whiting; three original poems, one of which has been published in "Kaleidescope," a new poetry magazine published in Dallas, the first issue of which has just been distributed, Mrs. Faye Zauger; poem, "Give Us Water," prize winning verse in the contest, Mrs. Clara Dillon Holt; poem, "A War Nurse Remembers," recently published in the New York Evening World, Mrs. R. E. Davis.

Favorable Comment

Inspiration was given by the favorable criticism of A. Burstein of New York who judged the manuscripts submitted to him in the annual contest sponsored by the club. He said, "The general tone of the material is very high—much higher than the average among thousands of literary efforts read by me in a direct editorial capacity—that is, as submitted for publication. The club should be complimented on its achievements. Their excellence has made my work less burdensome, and reduced the amount of necessary comments."

Of the poetry submitted his criticism follows: "I am pleasantly surprised with the verse, which seemed to require simple remarks only. None of the poets need despair of improvement, though here in particular immediate and personal direction is required. Good teachers of poetry are almost as rare as good poets."

The following members were present: Mesdames C. G. Williamson, G. M. Holt, Marjorie Pierce, H. B. van Emden, J. P. Bowen, E. E. Fischer, C. R. Yauger, E. C. de Montel, Mary Crady Bacous, J. Truman Stevens, W. B. Whiting, R. E. Davis, Sam Kruger, W. H. Sanford, Misses Edith Slaten, Lucile Sherrod, Sara Jones; and the guests were Mesdames J. P. Waggener, T. A. Baker, J. Schuster, Ham Quicksilver, Harry Karlsberg, Max Shain, P. B. M. Busch, Misses Bertha Mae Kruger, Ethel Chamberlin, Peggy Williamson, and Gladys McLeod.

TWO BILLIONS FOR HIGHWAYS

Brookhart Urges National System of Roads

WASHINGTON, May 23. (INS)—A $2,000,000,000 network of national toll highways would criss-cross the country under a bill introduced in the senate this afternoon by Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa.

He told the senate he got his idea from statements of Henry Ford that good roads were of financial benefit to all the people. He added the roads would be one method of preventing increases in freight rates, due to the supreme court's decision in the O'Fallon case.

Brookhart's proposed highways would link Portland, Maine, via Chicago, with Seattle, Wash.; Boston with San Francisco, via St. Louis; New York and Los Angeles; Washington via Richmond, Va., and through Tennessee and Arkansas, with Oklahoma City, and New York via Jacksonville, Fla., with Brownsville, Texas. Another route would run north and south along the Pacific coast.

Brookhart would issue $2,000,000,000 in United States notes to pay the roads and amortize this sum out of tolls.

H. S. JOHNSTON'S BILLS UPHELD

Loufbourrow Wages Losing Fight on Certificates

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 23.(UP)—Senator Wade Loufbourrow led an unsuccessful fight in the senate today against payment of two deficiency certificates issued by former Gov. Henry S. Johnston to O. B. Cochran and D. Hayden Linebaugh.

The certificates were for $2,000 for each of the men. They were issued in payment for their services in representing the state supreme court in the H. Bart Martin contempt case. The two items finally were left in the appropriation committee's bill authorizing payment of deficiencies.

House coalition leaders predicted the house would kill this item when the bill reaches the house.

Richard L. Wheatley of Vinita introduced a bill in the senate authorizing the bar association to disbar lawyers. The bill would authorize a bar committee in each county which would have authority to try disbarment proceedings and to disbar lawyers. A disbarred attorney would have the right of appeal to the state supreme court. Under present law the supreme court alone may try disbarment cases.

Herbert Kaufman's
CRYSTALLIZED DREAM STUFF
Daily Editorial

GRANTED that Dr. Georges Claude is even half correct in his calculations, France let the grand prize of Versailles slip through her drowsy fingers.

If she had grabbed the mandate over Palestine, instead of passing the buck to England, the Dead sea would not be Tri-color domain, and a mere fifty billions' worth of sedimentary gold available to future finances.

Just that neat little sum is Dr. Claude's estimate of the treasure which evaporation has deposited in a pre-Biblical sandbank, in trust for the first nation with gumption enough to locate it.

Not to mention sundry chemicals, fertilizers and medicinal salts sufficient to make steam shovels sweat for the rest of the century!

And that assortment of mineral wealths will assay more dollars to the ton than all the riffles and lodes from Nome to Ophir.

Money is merely solidified clock ticks mixed with ideas, labor and batches of raw materials.

With adequate natural resources and a technical appreciation of their adaptabilities, there's no limit to the riches that any people can amass.

Prosperity, therefore, it literally a figment of imagination—the crystallized dream stuff of invention, engineering and method.

In witness whereof, Niagara, originally a water fall, changes under scientific management into light, power and heat. These provide laboratories, factories, furnaces and transportation with forces to fabricate matter, catalyze it into component parts and extract derivatives, which in turn call new crafts and departments of commerce into being.

Its generated energy not only performs tasks beyond human strength and precision, but distributes the output and even illuminates the signs that advertise it.

THUS EFFICIENCY, while apparently robbing labor of manual jobs, actually multiplies opportunities for employment and ceaselessly varies vocations.

For illustration: Petroleum, thanks to research and supershrewdness, becomes civilization's handyman without whose services neither the automobile nor airship could have been developed, leaving millions of presently placed machinists, body and tire builders and upholsterers to compete with robots and fellow journeymen for livelihoods.

If coking hadn't yielded coal tar and young Perkin hadn't wondered what lurked in analine, Mexico, India and the jungles would still furnish the bulk of our dyes and curatives, and an additional multitude of specialists might be playing dog-eat-dog throughout the crafts.

So long as we think, probe and continue to be curious about all matter—so long as America serves tradition and remains constructively dissatisfied with things as they are, each generation will break fresh ground for the next and reveal mightier goals than it inherited.

Education, confidence and cooperation will insure the national estate against impoverishment and decline, provided we safeguard from predacity and dissipation the elements with which progress must carry on, to-wit: water power, mineral and forest wealths, top soil, pastures and oil.

Reckless ballots, greedy exploitation and economic discord can alone halt our forward march.

If we ever again have an era of headlines in this land of plenty and unscratched possibilities, we'll deserve it.

Al Capone Goes to Jail

A SWARTHY Sicilian named Capone has been lodged in Moyamensing prison, Philadelphia, for carrying concealed weapons; and a whole nation is considering the phenomenon with dazed wonder, trying to figure out just why and how it all happened.

Capone, traveling through the East "on business," paused in Philadelphia long enough to attend a movie. As he came out of the theater a detective halted him, found a pistol in his pocket and took him to jail.

Less than 24 hours later Capone had been indicted, brought to trial and sentenced to a year's imprisonment; and before the day was out he was beginning his sentence.

It all looks very pretty, on the surface. But in Chicago it is reported that Al Capone was the most willing prisoner the Pennsylvania penitentiary ever sheltered. He himself, it is said, planned his own arrest. Things had been breaking badly for him. His Chicago principality was getting unduly turbulent. He had oppressive debts; besides, certain resolute men were only waiting for a sight of him to shoot him dead.

So, according to the story, Capone decided that the safest of all places for him, everything considered, was the prison; and to prison he went, jauntily and undismayed.

For something like eight years, unless all men have lied about him, Capone has been the country's leading candidate for imprisonment. If one-tenth of the underworld lore about him in Chicago is true, he is and has been the nation's most dangerous criminal. Yet no prison ever opened its doors to him—until, finally, he went there voluntarily to let the law he had so brazenly flouted protect him.

This is the most ironic part of the whole business. The law, that never could catch Capone when it wanted him, now acts as his defender and guarantees his safety at a time when his own illegal empire got too hot for him.

Yet, after all, the situation has its redeeming features.

It proved, no matter what lay back of it, that it is ridiculously easy for the police to send gangsters of the Capone type to jail, no matter how great the difficulties of getting evidence in the reticent streets of the underworld.

No gangster ever goes out unarmed. Carrying concealed weapons is a crime, in Chicago as elsewhere. A police force that had both the desire and the nerve could put its gangsters in cells by the score on a moment's notice. It knows who they are and it knows where to find them; and if it can't convict them of the major crimes of which it knows them to be guilty, it can at least put them in jail for a year or so at a time—which, after all, is something.

Whether Capone went to prison voluntarily or not, the incident has provided a valuable object lesson. Gangsters can be jailed, easily, if the police are half-way in earnest about their work. Chicago's citizens might well ponder deeply over the affair.

A Plea for Courtesy

THE approach of warm weather brings us to the verge of a new motor touring season. In a short time the highways will be filled by autos from every town in the Union, each loaded with a happy family and a more or less complete camping outfit and each beginning the kind of vacation that can only be had in the United States and Canada.

In this connection the American Nature association issues a timely plea—a plea for courtesy and consideration. It urges all motor tourists and campers to give a thought to their neighbors; to put out campfires they build, to clean up their rubbish, to leave forests and fields undefaced and to respect the rights of others wherever they go.

Most motorists, we feel sure, will heed the warning. The democracy of the open road calls for thoughtfulness on the part of each driver. Most tourists are intelligent enough to realize it.

Bargains for Ocean Travelers

THE tourist-third cabin scheme installed on Atlantic liners, which offers comfortable accommodations to travelers at a very low rate, has proven so popular that the Candian Pacific steamships have been forced to cut the price of their first class tickets to compete with it.

William Baird, passenger traffic manager of the line reports that too many well-to-do people are patronizing the tourist-third cabin accommodations. Thus people who cannot afford to pay for better quarters are often crowded out, while those who could easily afford the best on the ship are taking inferior accommodations just for the thrill of it.

Consequently, the Canadian Pacific has slashed 10 per cent off the price of its first-class tickets. If wealthy travelers are looking for bargains, they'll be accommodated.

Reformed by a Movie

YOU often hear that the movies, by glorifying the activities of bandits lead impressionable young men into crime.

Maybe they do and maybe they don't; anyhow, here's one little item for the other side of the ledger.

In Halifax, N. S., the other day, a young man sat watching a movie. It showed the virtuous hero triumphant and the wicked villain going to a felon's cell. When it was over the young man got up, walked around undecidedly for a few minutes—and then went to a police station, explained he had stolen $300 from his employer, and said that he wanted to take his medicine.

One time, at any rate, the movies effected a reformation!

TOONERVILLE FOLKS — By Fontaine Fox

The Day Book of a New Yorker
Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, May 23.—This writer sat next to a banker at lunch the other day and the activity of the International Paper company as purchasing stock in newspapers came up for discussion. My banker friend had been responsible for the sale of the New York Herald to Frank A. Munsey for the Bennett estate. He told me the story which can now be published because both Mr. Bennett and Mr. Munsey are dead.

When the Herald was appraised for the Bennett estate, the best estimate was two and a half million dollars as the value of the Herald and the Telegram, the latter being the evening edition. The banker called on Mr. Munsey and Mr. Munsey said:

"I know what you have come to see me about. I don't want to dicker on the New York Herald. Four million dollars is the amount I'll pay for it. You can take that or leave it."

By the time the banker had caught his breath, he began to argue that there was a valuable newsprint contract to which Mr. Munsey replied:

"I know all about that paper contract and that's what I am buying."

After some more conversation, the deal was closed. The question arose as to whether Mr. Munsey should buy the paper as is or whether he should take into consideration the accounts receivable and pay the creditors. He decided to buy it free and clear and the Bennett estate, as the result, cleaned up $350,000 more, which was the difference between the accounts receivable and the bills payable. Mr. Munsey could have bought it either way at the same price.

However, a few years later, this astute publisher, who was born in Maine, Frank A. Munsey, sold the Herald to the Reid family to combine with the Tribune in New York for five million dollars and retained the Telegram which was subsequently sold by his estate for more than two million dollars, has received a total of more than seven million dollars.

A friend of Mr. Munsey's once suggested to him that he paid too much money for the Herald. Three years later he met the same friend at lunch and pointed to the table where they had sat when he had been advised he paid too much for the Herald.

"I just want to remind you," said Mr. Munsey, "that I sold the Herald yesterday for a million dollars more than I paid for the Herald and Telegram and still have the Telegram."

A Tough Place to Winter

Commander Donald MacMillan, a veteran of the Arctic, lunched with this writer recently and, as is natural, the conversation turned to conditions in the Arctic and Antarctic zones. It will be recalled that Commander MacMillan was with Commodore Perry's expedition when this renowned explorer first got to the north pole.

"How do you spend your days when you winter in the Arctic?" I asked Commander MacMillan.

"Mostly sleep," he replied, "and that's unhealthy. I spent one winter in a hut with three other men with the temperature 60 degrees below outside part of the time and 50 degrees below inside. We had only a little oil stove on which to cook tea. We wore rabbit skin stockings and the rest of the clothes of an Eskimo.

"Commander Byrd has with him 40 men in the hut where he is wintering in the Antarctic. Those fellows are liable to kill each other before the period of darkness is up. When you begin looking at the same faces day after day, and under these conditions with nothing to do, it tries the nerves. Only about one man out of ten has the energy to get out and exercise by walking around the camp. It is so cold outside the most of them stay in and play poker and sleep. The real story of what's going on in the Byrd expedition during this long winter would be a peach."

I asked the explorer whether polar bears were vicious.

"They never attack a man if they know it is a man. The danger is a polar bear hunts seals, which lie on the ice in the spring, as a cat hunts birds. The bear lets down on his stomach and creeps up on the seal until within striking distance when he springs. If a man is sitting or lying on the ice, the bear seeing the black object, may mistake him for a seal and lunge at him. A mate in the Nansen expedition named Johannsen, was grabbed by a polar bear and carried off, but the bear sat down to rest and the mate called to Nansen to shoot quick. Nansen shot the bear and Johannsen escaped with only a few scratches. Two other men I know were killed by bears who pounced on them as described. If a man is standing up a polar bear will never attack him."

After lunch, this writer decided not to become an Arctic explorer.

The Radio at Commander Byrd's Camp

(Members of the antarctic expedition are huddled about the radio to see what they can get out of the air. It is 30 below zero. There is a terrific snow storm outside.)

Mason (as he works the dials): Let's see if we can get anything cheerful.

Ronne: None of those hot cabaret singers chirping those sunshine songs, now.

Commander Byrd: I'll bet the first thing you get is a paddling-in-the - moonlight-with - you-oo-oo numbers. Or something about red, red roses.

Ronne: If he does I'll crack up the set. It's tough enough being down here without having to listen to a lot of nitwits warbling about the birds and bees and flowers.

Mason: Shush! I think I'm getting something faintly.

Voice over radio: And, ladies and gentlemen, when you hear the gong strike three times it will be exactly 10 minutes past 9 o'clock.

Balchen: What difference does it make?

Peterson: What we want to know is what month it is. Or what year.

Mason: Just a minute. I'm getting another station.

Voice over radio: —and, dear members of my unseen audience, after digging the little holes, you plant the sweet peas and morning glories in drills about four inches apart. Water them regularly and . . .

Balchen: Another garden talk! Cut it off, cut it off!

Bursen: Let him alone; maybe he'll tune in on somebody who'll tell us all how to trim peach trees next!

Peterson (pushing Mason away and operating the set): Lemme see what I can do. . . . Something's coming in. . . . it's pretty weak but I'll get it better in a jiffy.

Voice over radio (from another station): You are now listening to Blumberg's Straw Hat hour, makers of superfine straw hats.

Balchen: Sink that guy!

Commander Byrd (coming to the rescue): Let me work the dials. There ought to be something cheerful on the air.

Ronne: Don't forget what you got the last time, commander: a health talk on the importance of long walks in the country, avoidance of rich pastries, plenty of fresh fruit and light, loose clothing!

Voice over radio: And so, ladies and gentlemen, I take great pleasure in introducing to the radio audience at this time the hero of that remarkable experience, that unprecedented ordeal, Mr. Chester Bruce Schwackheimer, who, accidentally locked in a meat-market ice-box for almost 10 hours, survives to tell you the tale.

(There is a rush for the radio set. The dogs start howling. Commander Byrd prevents a disgraceful scene by pitching the set out into the snow and humming for the boys' entertainment that engaging ditty, "Button Up Your Overcoat, You Belong to Me Now").

CHICAGO, May 23. (INS)—Robert Elliott Burns, successful Chicago magazine publisher and a former convict on a road chain gang in Georgia, who escaped seven years ago, walked from the court of Judge Joseph B. David here this afternoon, temporarily a free man.

Two Georgia officials, Chief of Police C. C. Bentley and County Commissioner Redwine of Campbell county, were unable to take Burns back to the chain gang because they failed to bring extradition papers with them when they arrived today.

The officials made no objection when Judge David accepted a $5,000 cash bond for Burns' appearance in the extradition proceedings, which will be held probably tomorrow.

For the last few minutes remove the lid and allow to slightly brown on top.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Appendicitis Operation

Question—Mrs. K. writes: "I recently had an operation for appendicitis and prolapsus of the internal organs, but don't seem to gain strength as I should. Also, have a constant fear that someone is going to harm me, although I really don't believe I have a real enemy. For hours at night I lie awake, almost afraid to turn in bed, and sometimes I walk all night from room to room, looking out first one door and another, watching for something. I don't know what. I am miserable. Can you help me?"

Answer—Your organs are probably prolapsed as badly as before and you have all the neurotic symptoms which go with a pressure of the prolapsed organs upon the uterus and ovaries. You certainly could be helped with the righ treatment, but such treatment cannot be given through the columns of a newspaper. You need manipulative treatment of the abdomen, and exercising of the abdominal muscles to make these muscles strong so that they will hold the abdominal organs in place.

Are Proteins Necessary

Question—H. G. asks: "Can one build a strong, and healthy body on an exclusive diet of fruits and vegetables? Which fruits and vegetables, if any, are fattening?"

Answer—It is necessary to add some proteins in the diet besides the fruits and vegetables. The only fruits which are considered fattening are bananas, olives and avocados. Vegetables which are often called fattening are potatoes and Hubbard squash, but the cereals are the most "fattening" foods.

Twitching of Face

Question—Miss A. B. asks: "Would nervousness cause a twitching of the face? At times I can't control the muscles of my face. I am 20 years old."

Answer—You need a diagnosis to determine the cause of your nervousness. You can then no doubt be helped if the right treatments are used, with proper diet and the cultivation of good hygienic habits.

Alfalfa Crops Pay on Spur Community Farms

Special to The Record News.

SPUR, Texas, May 23.—The Spur country has long been noted for its production of grain sorghums, and other crops well adapted to the South Plains, but in recent years much of this section is being planted in alfalfa. This year will mark a new era in the general farming in Dickens county, as many farmers are doubling their acreage in alfalfa.

One farm near Spur that has a well balanced program being worked out on it has proved that alfalfa is one of the important crops. The yield on an eight-acre plot was 1,250 bales of high quality hay. The money received for the hay from this plot of eight acres was in excess of $1,000. The largest acreage to be found on any one farm is the 150-acre field on the W. T. Wilson farm east of Spur.

Grain Crops in Good Condition at Newport

Special to The Record News.

NEWPORT, Texas, May 23.—The recent rains and cool weather for the past two weeks has been very beneficial to the grain crop, which looked at one time as though it would be a failure. Spring oats are now in full head and of good height and will make a good crop. Many believe now that spring oats will be better than the fall sowing.

Cotton is suffering for warm weather and the stands are bad and the fields are getting grassy as a result of so much rain that has kept back cultivation.

Indian Committee to Visit Fort Sill School

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., May 23.—The senate committee, which is investigating Indian affairs, will visit the Fort Sill Indian school and hospital and Lawton sometime in June, according to word received by the chamber of commerce.

Plans are being made at the Indian school for reception of the committee which will include a dinner cooked and served by the Indian girls.

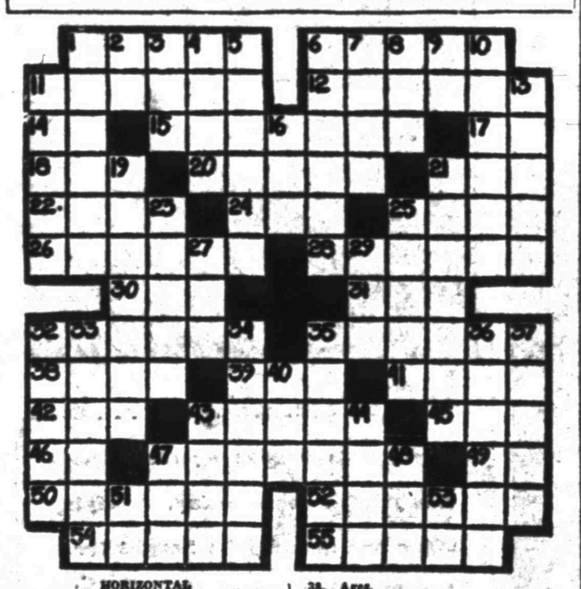

Lost Lake Closed to Fishermen This Year

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., May 23.—Lost Lake on the National Forest and Game preserve, will be closed to fishing this year, it is announced by Harry French, superintendent.

This is due to the fact that the lake has just been restocked with thousands of young fish which are too small to be caught in conformity with state laws.

PETRIE CLOUTS 2 HOME RUNS

Three Spudder Errors Aid Beaumont Scoring

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

R-R-e-e-e-venge was sweet to Tom Estell and Lyman Lamb. The former Spudders, Tom in particular, were important contributing factors yesterday in the second straight defeat sustained by the Wichita Falls club at the hands of the lowly Beaumont Exporters. Claude Robertson's dangerous tail-enders won the ball game, 5 to 4, and from the score it may be deduced that it was a see-saw affair.

Estell and Payne tied up in a pitchers' battle, with honors just about even. The Exporters got 10 hits and the Spudders 11; but both veteran righthanders chucked cagey ball. Estell passed one, the only base on balls of the pastime, and errors by both clubs figured in the scoring.

Three of the Exporters' tallies were more or less directly due to misplays while one of the Spudder runs was aided by an error.

Petrie, who in common with his teammates had been in a batting slump before they invaded our town, provided the extra punch necessary to win the contest. The young man whacked two home runs, both over the garden wall, the first in the second and the second in the sixth. It so happened that there was no runner on base at either occasion.

Quite a Thriller

Beaumont tallied in the first and second rounds and the Spudders counted two in the first in the yes-and-no pastime. Wichita Falls went ahead with one in the third, and then the Exports scored two in the fifth and one the sixth which eventually proved sufficient to win, although the Spudders also scored one in their sixth.

The Spudders rallied desperately in the ninth but failed to tie the count. Eldred batted for Payne and singled to left and was sacrificed to second by Benton. Taber flied to Petrie doing the pinch hitting act in place of Andrews. Philbin tossed out Fitzgerald to end it.

Dick Sullivan and Bill Huber had three hits each and Petrie was the only other athlete to get more than one blow. Showing that Tom and George were chucking good ball, at that.

Philbin's excellent defensive play was a feature.

Milt Gordon played third base in place of Wally Swenson, and the young man showed lots of skill at his preferred post. Swenson, hit on the head by a thrown ball Wednesday while sliding to third base, had an X-ray made which showed no serious injury, although the Silent Swede had a severe headache yesterday.

Exports Score First

Two hits and an error gave the Exporters a run in the first inning. Huber singled to center after two were out and went to second on Fitzgerald's fumble. Kelly singled to center, scoring Huber.

The Spudders tallied two in their half. Benton led off with a hit through Estell. Andrews sacrificed, Estell to Kelly. Fitzgerald lifted to Easterling. Bennett hit between third and short, scoring Benton. Bennett stole second and continued to third on Robertson's wide throw. Sullivan singled to right, scoring Bennett.

Petrie's homer over the left-center wall tied the score in the second.

Galloway's men counted one in the third. Fitzgerald, first up, singled to center and was advanced to second on Bennett's bunt to Kelly, unassisted. Sullivan beat out an infield hit, sending Fitz to third. Gordon bounced to Huber, who elected to try for a double instead of making a play at the plate, and though he forced Sullivan, Milt beat Philbin's throw to first, and Fitzgerald scored.

Enemy Takes Lead

Two hits and a brace of errors enabled the hostiles to tally two runs and take a 4-3 lead in the fifth, after two were out. Benton threw low on Philbin's grounder. Lamb hit to right, Philbin stopping at second. Huber singled to right, scoring Philbin, and Lamb also tallied when Sullivan made a return to unprotected second base.

Petrie clouted his second homer, this over the left field fence, in the sixth.

The Spudders counted one in the sixth. Sully beat out a hit to Boggess, but was forced by Gordon, Boggess to Philbin. Lamb took Stapleton's lift. Lapan walked. Payne singled to right, tallying Gordon.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Hal Wiltse probably will be Galloway's hurler today in the final of the series against the Exporters.

Denny Burns or Tink Riviere will chuck for the enemy.

Stapleton robbed Boggess of a hit in the second when he knocked down Dusty's harsh grounder.

Gordon went to the stands in the third for Lamb's foul.

Philbin handled seven chances flawlessly.

To answer a query, the Kelly playing first base for the Exporters is Bill and NOT George.

Only a few fans saw yesterday's interesting pastime. Rain, before and during the first three innings of the contest kept lots of them away.

Injunction Is Denied

ST. LOUIS, May 22. (AP)—Federal Judge Charles B. Davis today denied an application for an injunction against the government to prevent receiving of bids and awarding of contracts for construction of a $44,000,000 flood control project in Mississippi and New Madrid counties in Missouri. The court action came only an hour before the time set for awarding contracts at Memphis, Tenn. The restraining order was sought by John A. Bird, a land owner.

They Call 'Em Right

George Barr (left) and Ziggie Sears are rated by players and fans of the Texas league as among the best pair of umpires in the circuit. Indeed, with the possible exception of Kane and Donohue, they are the best.

Ziggie and George hustle the game along, they are on top of every play, and they call 'em as they see 'em, which usually is correct. They are not dictatorial, but at the same time, they are bosses of the game they are working.

Barr seems destined to advance to a major league or class AA circuit at the end of this season, his third as an arbiter in the Texas league. Indeed, a president of a major league right now has his eye on George as a probable 1930 addition to his staff.

Sears, for several years a star outfielder in the Texas league, doffed flannels for blue serge this spring. The success of Ziggie as an umpire has been instantaneous and highly gratifying to his many friends throughout the circuit.

Walter Stewart, Browns' left hander, held the Clevelanders at his mercy throughout most of the opener, but was driven from the box in the twelfth and the tribe sewed up the game by nicking Ogden for two more hits. Score:

Will Ask Carpet Removal

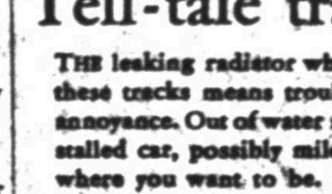

In the will of Albert J. Bovay, who recently died at the age of 83, he bequeathed $2,000 to St. Alban's church, Teddington, England, "provided that the horrid carpet which now disfigures the chancel be removed and never be replaced, and a bright, handsome one be substituted." As sidesman and server in the church for 40 years, Bovay had much opportunity to see the carpet, which formerly had been on the yacht of a Shah of Persia. The offending floor covering will be removed.

Movies Mar Fresh-Air Vogue

Rapid growth of motion picture theaters is said to be stopping the fresh-air vogue that has been strong in England. Chief among the apprehensive are the owners of beach resorts who fear that this year's season will be greatly marred by the talkies. New theaters, motion picture houses and similar places are opening at the rate of two or more a day. Most of these are motion picture palaces. Birmingham has had eight new cinemas in the last 12 months and London reports that they are "springing up all over the place."

Pit-Boy Poet Enters College

Frederick C. Boden, known as the "Pit-Boy Poet" of England, has left the coal mines to study English literature and philosophy at Exeter university. He published last year a volume of lyrics, "Pit-Head Poems," which attracted the attention of Dr. Bridges, the poet laureate. Dr. Bridges, and a few friends made it possible for Boden to enter Exeter. Young Boden has just completed a new volume of poems. He had suffered a life of hardship and privation until recently.

Tell-tale tracks

THE leaking radiator which left these tracks means trouble and annoyance. Out of water means a stalled car, possibly miles from where you want to be. Prevent that. Carry Whiz Radiator Stop-Leak with you.

As soon as a leak develops pour it in the radiator. The water carries it through the cooling system. The minute it strikes a leak it forms a hard, solder-like plug, because Whiz Radiator Stop-Leak hardens when it is exposed to air. It will not harm any part of the cooling system.

Hennessey Wins First U. S.-Jap Cup Match

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—A hard won victory by John Hennessey over Tamio Abe today gave America's tennis forces a 1 to 0 lead over Japan in the semi-finals of the American zone play for the Davis cup.

Hennessey came out ahead 8-6, 6-1, 3-6, and 6-1. The second singles encounter of the day, John van Ryn against Yoshiro Ohta, captain of the Japanese squad, was halted by 6:30 by prearrangement, with the American leading two sets to one and 4-2 in the fourth set.

A gallery of 1,500 included Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

First National And Wichita State Tie

Rallying in the late stages of the game, the First National bank nine managed to hold the Wichita State sluggers to a 5-all tie in seven innings at Wilson field yesterday afternoon.

Taylor pitched invincible ball for the Wichita State until the fifth inning when the First athletes scored three runs and tied the score. C. Smith held the Wichita State to six hits but four errors helped the opponents. Smith whiffed ten men.

Staples weilded the heavy bat for the First with three hits in as times at bat, two of his knocks going for doubles. Campbell gathered two singles. Woolridge was the only one on his team to get more than one hit. He clouted a double and single in three times at bat.

Security National meets the City National nine today at Wilson field at 5 o'clock. Score:

CHEOPS WASN'T SO HOT AS A MASON

CHICAGO.—A small piece of mortar from the pyramid of Khufu, estimated to be 6,000 years old and built by the Egyptian king, Cheops, was recently brought here for testing by the laboratories of the Portland Cement association.

The composition of the piece was found to be a weak, easily decomposed mortar made up largely of impure alabaster.

In the dry, hot climate of North Africa, where this pyramid has stood for thousands of years, this type of composition withstood the ravages of time. However, the association reports that if erected in a climate similar to that of the United States, it would have decomposed in a short time.

All kinds of mortars and cements have been tested in these laboratories. Just recently they analyzed concrete from the Arch of Titus in Rome.

DURANT QUITS SPEED RACING

Millionaire Driver Says He Is Too Old for Game

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23. (UP)—Cliff Durant, multimillionaire sportsman and race driver, tonight announced he is through with race driving and willing to let "the young guys carry on with a young man's game."

Durant is 38. He was scheduled to drive in the annual Indianapolis 500-mile sweepstakes, Memorial day.

"I no longer feel the reckless abandon it takes to drive at Indianapolis," he said. "It's difficult to retire for I have been racing since 1916 but speeding is a young man's game.

"For years I've heard the statement 'If I had that guy's dough I would not look at a speeding automobile.' I guess I've got the dough but there's a thrill in racing which makes a guy forget about dough. I'm sorry to quit but I guess it's for the best."

Here's Problem In Tennis World

Britain Wonders if Helen Will Play Stockingless

LONDON, May 23. (US)—Can Helen Wills, after being presented to Queen Mary at the first of the season's royal courts, show her stockingless legs when she appears at Wimbledon on June 25 to defend her title as woman tennis champion of England?

That is the question buzzing through Mayfair today, following reports from Paris that Helen is playing without 'em, and that she says she'll do the same at Wimbledon if she feels like it.

Going without stockings on the tennis court "simply isn't done" in England, and when they say that something isn't done here, they mean it isn't—except by Americans.

Moreover, presentation at the courts is supposed to imply on the part of the one presented the strictest adherence to what Queen Mary considers good deportment. And, although Queen Mary's views on the subject are unavailable for the present, it is the presumption that the queen does not approve of young ladies' playing tennis with bare legs.

Gertrude Lady Decies, Universal Service's society reporter, herself thoroughly au fait with the highest circles, says:

"Dear, dear; I hope the dear young lady doesn't do it. I fear such deportment would cause an unfavorable reaction."

If Schmeling Flops

The point has been pretty well made that if Max Schmeling flops the heavyweight situation will be in a somewhat patchy condition. This, then, would leave only Paulino and Sharkey. Paulino barely moved on even terms with Heeney and Risko, who were not in Tunney's class. Sharkey lost to Dempsey, got a draw with Heeney and lost to Risko. He had only a slight margin on Christner and Stribling. There is nothing in the records of Paulino and Sharkey to indicate championship class. Paulino is as tough as rawhide and he has shown he can take as much as a rhinoceros. Sharkey is a good boxer. But to rate either on their past performances as a successor to Dempsey or Tunney would be out of order, unless one of the two can show a terrific bulge over anything they have shown so far.

If Schmeling can beat both men decisively, there will be no question about awarding him the top place and the accompanying rewards. There are any number who believe the German can beat Sharkey if only he can crowd his way by Paulino, which they consider much the harder test.

The point is that it will be a mistake to have any of the three survivors now holding most of the spotlight to figure that any one can be awarded the championship by merely edging by with only a shade to spare. The top of the hill happens to be vacant and some one should be made to earn his place there, rather than survive because the others were a trifle worse.

Hagen and Vardon

Dear Mr. Rice: Do you not think that the feat of Walter Hagen, in winning the British open golf championship four times in the last seven or eight years is more of an accomplishment than that of Vardon in gaining it six times?

At that time the high-class golfers were not so plentiful and America had given the game but very little attention, while today the game is alive with crack players capable of winning major titles at any time.

Do you think Vardon could win six titles against the present field and were his total stroke scores as low as those made in the last eight or ten years?

I am no golf bug or player, but follow all kinds of sporting events, and you may be sure I am always pulling for our Uncle Sam's boys in any and all international events.

Would like to have your opinion on the above, if you can find time to comment on the same.

—H. H. E.

It is next to impossible to compare the stars of one generation with the champions of another. There is no question but that golf today has a far number of fine players than it had 20 or even 10 years ago. The growth of the game has been one of the most phenomenal turns in sport. There were fine golfers in the day when Vardon, Taylor and Braid dominated the sport and won their 16 championships. But there were not nearly as many fine golfers then as there are now.

In a discussion of smart ball players an old-time fan wrote in recently that King Mike Kelley had more baseball brains than any four ball players carry today. Which is also something hard to prove.

Each champion to his own generation—there is no way of arranging any comparisons that would mean anything. Conditions change along too many lines. And with all the innumerable armies now engaged in competitive sport, it is honor enough to lead any one division of the game as it moves through any one generation.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, May 23.—Science has figured out everything about straw hats. Except how to wear them.

Straw hats are man's contribution to sartorial chaos. Nobody knows whether the weight of the hat should be borne by the eyebrows or the ears.

When we go into a fashion garage to purchase the light summer tureen we never look into a mirror. That would be compounding a facial felony.

You cannot put a round hat on a square peg.

The result is that every alfalfa platter we purchase looks like a berry box during a continued drought.

A soft hat will fit the skull because you can bend the hat. But straw skimmers do not fit because you cannot bend bone.

You will notice that great men like Napoleon and Washington never had their pictures snapped while wearing grass turbans.

But the dome must be protected from the enthusiastic sun in summer. If you wear a derby in July the neighbors say you are stingy. If you wear no hat at all, you are crazy. If you wear a sunbonnet, you are effeminate. And if you wear one of those flat straw discs, you look like an ex-robot dodging jury duty.

They keep the air out and the heat in. Orville Wright got the idea for his glider while chasing his brother Wilbur's hay kelly in a 10 per cent breeze.

Did you ever notice that no man ever chases his own straw helmet when it blows off? He just stands there with his feet in escrow while kind strangers organize a posse of perplexed deputies and pursue the elusive headgear hither and thither and yon. Three places which are not on the map.

After it plays tiddly-winks with traffic for 10 minutes you get your weed sombrero back again with the rim and band missing and the rest of the hat looking like the egg-in-the-bag trick.

Another selling point about split sennit and leghorn is the ease with which these fragile materials dissolve in a rainstorm. Some manufacturers consolidate their goods with glue and there is no finer sensation in the world than to feel a rivulet of mucilage running down your spinal detours.

Five minutes of steady rain on a straw hat and you are an uncrowned king. Some men sacrifice their reputation for bravery under fire and hide their hats under their coats.

This action saves the hat but you are liable to lose your citizenship papers.

We also protest against the laws of a negligent republic which permit the average pedestrian to select his own colored hat band.

You cannot visualize anything more moronic than a pink, green, red and yellow hat band entwined in futuristic agony above a face that endorsed Peruna in 1876.

It is just as astonishing as baby talk coming out of a full beard.

'CHICAGO MAY' TO BE MARRIED

Woman Crook of Another Day to Wed

prisoner had ever escaped from the closely guarded island. It was a matter of money and getting large sums quickly and easily was May's specialty. At an appointed time she had a yacht off Dutch Guiana and having attended to the bribery of guards left the rest to Guerin.

Her obligations to Guerin were discharged and while he kept under cover for a number of years she continued a series of brilliant operations in London. During this period she became acquainted with the American bank robber, Charlie Smith.

Guerin kept himself well informed and nursed his grievance against Smith until an opportune moment when he reappeared in London. May learned that he had threatened to ruin her beauty which was one of her chief assets by scarring her with a knife. As she and Smith were leaving a cab they saw Guerin and Smith opened fire, wounding his rival.

Smith was given a life sentence but was released three years later. May served 10 years.

Ten years in an English prison left her with little taste for the old life. She is now about 50 years of age. Her book was published several years ago and she has been living in retirement. Little had been heard of Smith until the present announcement that he had rejoined his former companion and they had agreed upon marriage.

May's engagement to Netley N. Lucas, criminologist, was announced a year and a half ago but that rumor was later admitted to have resulted from the fact that her book "Chicago May—Her Life" and his book, "Ladies of the Underworld," appeared at about the same time and revealed their acquaintance.

MAGNOLIA GETS MAMMOTH WELL

Gray County Gusher Betters 16,000 Barrels

The Magnolia Petroleum company completed its No. 4 J. B. Bowers located in the northwest corner of section 63, H. & G. N. R. R. survey, five miles west of the town of Lefors in Gray county, with an initial production flowing between 16,000 and 17,000 barrels daily.

The well, which is without doubt the largest producer to be brought in from the county's pools, the first hour after its completion flowed 780 barrels of oil and continued flowing with a gradual decline and is still flowing between 600 and 700 barrels per hour. The well marks the bringing in of the second big well in the past three days. The Texas company No. 2 Faulkner was finished flowing natural with a flush output of 300 barrels per hour. Both of the wells were completed in the granite wash at 2852 feet.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLOSES

284 Students Eligible To Enter Senior Work

Two hundred eighty-four boys and girls became eligible for admission to high school Thursday morning when commencement exercises were held at Reagan and Zundelowitz Junior High schools, 174 pupils graduating from the former and 110 from the latter.

There was an unusually high percentage of boys in the junior high graduates with 131 listed, only 22 less than the number of girls.

Hamlin Rugeley and Laurie Glen Pattillo were awarded the Marlow medals for outstanding ability in leadership, scholarship and general usefulness at Zundelowitz Junior High, while similar awards were made at Reagan Junior High to Paul Barnett Jr., and Emogene Wagoner.

Walter D. Cline delivered the commencement address before the Zundelowitz graduates and Judge S. A. L. Morgan, formerly of this city, spoke to the class at Reagan.

Leadership letters for unusual initiative and ability in scholastic activities were awarded to 10 pupils from each school, while 77 others received school letters for having been on the honor roll throughout the semester just closed.

Musical programs were given by both schools, featuring student organizations, directed in Reagan Junior High by Miss Minnie T. Baker and in Zundelowitz Junior High by Mrs. Hermione S. Vaughan.

Electrician Asks $4,980 In Suit Filed Here

Alleging injuries received when he came in contact with a short circuited electric wire carrying 11,000 volt charge, W. W. Lane Thursday afternoon filed suit for a lump sum payment of $4,980 from the Texas Employers Insurance association.

The petition filed Thursday afternoon declares that Mr. Lane was on top of a transformer, 15 feet from the ground, at the time he received the shock on May 4, 1929 at the Wichita Falls plant of the Texas Electra company.

The workman fell to the ground, striking a so-called "concrete pillow" his petition sets forth. He suffered severe burns about the hands, face, and body.

Professional Traders' Profit Taking Serves as Means for Price Advances

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 23. (US)—Short covering forced stock prices higher today. About half the loss of Wednesday was recovered as professionals too kprofits because of doubt of what the reserve board would decide as to increasing rediscount rates. After the close, it was announced that the reserve bank here would keep the rate at five per cent

The public was in practically all of the dealings and a good part of the turnover represented operations of floor traders. Steel gained 4⅛. Motors 2¾, Can 4⅜ and other Standard Industrials benefitted to an equal extent. American Tobacco gained over five, Commercial Solventy 8⅝, Curtiss over four and Electric Auto Lite 3¾.

Railroads were in good demand throughout with Central in the lead with gain of 4¼. American Power & Light with other utilies moved higher while the Oils were benefited to the extent of over a point on the average. The improved tone of Anaconda bolstered other Coppers.

Turnover dropped to under the 4,000,000 share level while call money held at six per cent throughout.

Since the O'Fallon decision was handed down by the supreme court there has been quiet accumulation in the better grade Rails. Utilities also have reflected similar demand for it is felt they are benefited almost as much as the Rails by that ruling. Leaders of the Rail and Utility world look upon the decision as removing any possibility of confiscatory practices by the government. In the case of the good Rails, the effect of such belief is enhanced by expectation that larger earnings will be shown now that there is no chance of recapture except on the basis of reproduction cost.

Union Pacific, Central, Atchison and others in this class are called the "gold plated roads" due to the great amount of earnings plowed back into property during the past two years when there was a chance of having part of the income taken up by the government on the basis of the commerce commission's valuation based on cost instead of replacement value.

"No announcement" word sent out from the federal reserve directors meeting was taken to mean that the local bank officials had voted to increase the rate to 6 per cent and had submitted report of their action to the reserve board at Washington. Last week the reserve board did not let it be known that it had disapproved increase until Friday afternoon. The reserve statements showed no reason why the rate should be advanced. While loans were off only $45,000,000, the ratio of the local bank was up to 84.4 per cent against 72.5 a year ago. The statements showed the reserve has not abandoned its corrective campaign, however, for there was further reduction in government security holdings and bills discounted. Loan decrease was recorded entirely by banks here for their own account as loans "for others" or "bootleg loans" increased $73,000,000.

Practically all the buying in the automobile shares was short covering as even those market operators who are associated in the motor industry are worried as to the effect of the reserve board's activity on their industry. However, if credit conditions and the disturbed stock market hurt the automobile industry there will be almost immediate reflection in the steel and railroad fields. It is because of this feeling that the highly favorable reports from steel centers fail to influence any new demand. This week's reports showed that production was proceeding at a record rate in practically every steel center.

There is a feeling that the oil group will give some stimulus to dealings over the next few weeks. Rumor in the banking world indicates that leaders of independent companies operating in the midcontinent have been discussing merger plans. It will be several weeks before any definite development is likely, it is stated, but before the end of summer there is bound to be some closer associations formed.

Another bullish factor is the change in price trend as it is believed that the advance in price of Midcontinent crude will be followed in other fields and that even higher quotations will be posted before the end of July. Favorable estimates as to earnings continue to be received from those associated with such companies as Skelly, Sinclair, Pan American and others.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 23. (AP)—Fair demand was reported for very limited offerings on the cash grain market here today. Shippers are declared to be holding back both on account of farmers being busy in their fields and because of the relatively low prices now prevailing.

All prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 23. (AP)—Uncertainty over the Canadian crop outlook dominated wheat today. Prices were lower most of the time, but anxiety prevailed again at the last. Indications pointed to rainless skies and higher temperatures over the Canadian prairies tomorrow, and advices at hand told of shortage of subsoil moisture throughout much of the wheat territory.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were irregular at ⅛c net decline to an equal advance. Corn finished ½ to ⅝c up, oats showing ⅛ to ⅝c gain, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7c.

As nearly as could be judged by most Chicago traders, no great deterioration of the wheat crop in Canada has occurred so far, but the spring is late, and although wheat has apparently germinated in good shape a big test of the Canadian crop will be likely to come during late June and July. In the meantime, rains are essential.

Corn planting reports from the big corn producing states were pessimistic, and corn inclined upward, especially in the late dealings. Oats followed corn, and were sensitive to indications that stocks of oats here are unduly light.

Provisions acted slightly firmer, helped by upturns in hogs

MULCH PAPER SUCCESS HERE

Heavy Use of Product On Next Crop Expected

The use of several carloads of mulch paper by the truck growing industry in this section in 1930 will result from the experiments made with it this spring, according to dealers who have sold large quantities of the product during the last four months to farmers in this and other communities.

The beginning of the practice of forcing growth of various vegetable crops by use of this artificial method was attributed in part to the emphasis placed upon its value by Charles Weeks, California intensive farming expert now developing a large area near this city, as well as to the rapidly increasing popularity of mulch paper farming as reflected in many agricultural publications.

Shipments have been made from local dealers to all parts of the northern half of the state, it was said, purchasers reporting that the commodity was not available in their localities. Individual users have taken small amounts of the paper, for the most part, primarily for the purpose of testing its influence on growing vegetation. Stock sold here has been of two widths 1½ and 3 feet, each in both light and heavy weight.

Almost complete elimination of weed growth, a remarkable speeding up of plant development, and a material increase in production has accompanied the use of mulch paper according to reports given by practically all of its users in this section. The success attained in this spring's wide experimentation with paper farming is expected to result in its extensive use next year.

Transamerica To Enter Bank Merger

NEW YORK, May 23. (INS)—From Wall street sources it became known today that plans are under way which shortly will result in an important Eastern banking interest becoming closely identified with the Transamerica corporation, the holding unit for the vast banking and financial interests of A. P. Giannini on the Pacific coast.

The purpose of the affiliation with the Eastern banking interest, the name of which could not be learned, is understood to be in accordance with the aim of A. P. Giannini to make the Transamerica corporation nation wide in its scope and affiliations. Heretofore Transamerica has been regarded as mainly identified with California interests.

CAGLE CALLED TO NEW TRIAL

Youth to Answer Charges In Fort Worth

T. O. Cagle, under sentences aggregating 20 years for burglary in Wichita county, was taken to Fort Worth Thursday afternoon to face trial on charges of automobile theft. The youthful prisoner, who Wednesday morning pleaded guilty to three burglary indictments and Monday was convicted on a fourth, was taken to Tarrant county under the escort of Sheriff Red Wright and other special guards. He has accepted his sentences here and is not expected to be returned to Wichita county.

Cagle was the self-declared organizer of an attempted jail break here last week which resulted in the death of Raymond Sellers, a fellow prisoner, and injuries to Cagle and a third man. The prisoner was arrested in connection with a series of burglaries in prominent homes here. Six indictments, two of which were later dismissed, were returned against him. Mae Hart, indicted for receiving and concealing stolen property in the same investigation, is under a five year suspended sentence. C. A. Wright, the third defendant named after the inquiries, is yet to be tried.
