Awards For Old-Timers

A four generation group led the parade of pioneer families here Saturday at Mitchell County Old Timers Reunion.

welcome from City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr., heard T. J. Goss II emphasize that every individual had his own personal view of history and joined with Rev. Elra Phillips in a memorial tribute to former friends and loved ones.

with awards to old-timers and their friendly visits with each other recalling earlier days and friends.

Seven-year-old Carolyn Enid Cochran was the youngest of the clan and to her went the plaque for the youngest "old-timer" in the reunion.

Receiving the plaque for traveling the farthest distance was Mrs. Vance Phenix of Houston.

Pioneers who have won awards previously are exempted from the annual awards list.

Highlight of the afternoon was the dedication of the historical marker at First Presbyterian Church commemorating the first church sermon ever preached in Colorado City -- by Rev. O. E. Rogers, Presbyterian minister, in a saloon with the bar covered by a large wagon sheet.

Gal Shows Champ At Horse Show

Judging of horse show and parade floats were highlights of the closing day of Loraine's Mitchell County Fair Saturday.

Twenty-nine entries were judged in the fair's horse show Saturday.

Mares (2 years and under) -- 1. Bill Preston, 2. Brenda Conard of Colorado City, 3. Shirley Baker of Colorado City.

First Methodist Church of Loraine was No. 1 in the parade with its religious float featuring a large cross with open gold Bible at the foot and two angel girls robed in white.

Sue Henderson of Colorado City exhibited the grand champion, a black gelding which won the three-year and over geldings class.

Geldings (3 years and over) -- 1. Sue Henderson, Colorado City, 2. Lester Hill, 3. Gwen Tartt.

Runner-up award in the parade went to Loraine High Future Farmers with their "first on mars" float which emphasized that FFA-developed youth would be at the fore front of progress.

Reserve champion was an Appaloosa stallion colt shown by Don Richburg.

Mares (3 years and over) -- 1. Narl Long, 2. Wayne Oliver, 3. Larry Blair.

Johnson Hospital's float, with a theme of a nurse watching over the young and old, was third.

Here is a list of the horse show winners by classes:

Dual Blair, chairman for the horse show, expressed appreciation to Dink Rees of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Inc. for judging the show.

Tour Arrives Tuesday

To View Spade Brush Control

The West Texas tour group will leave Lubbock Monday, visiting Andrews, Nottrees, Monahans and Mertzon. After a night in San Angelo, they will stop at Foster-Reynolds Ranch at Sterling City Tuesday morning, then come to Mitchell County for the Randerbrook-Spade segment at 1 p.m.

West Texas Brush Control Tour comes to Mitchell County Tuesday with local livestock producers and interested persons having an open gate to attend.

Mitchell County stockmen joining about 40 or 50 others who are making the full tour.

From here, the tour moves to Abilene for a night stopover, then moving Wednesday into the Albany area. Windup will come Thursday in King and Dickens county.

Randerbrook - Spade Ranch will be the site for the Mitchell portion of the four-day tour which will swing from Lubbock to near the New Mexico line through a wide area of West Texas.

In the visiting group will be John Matthews of Abilene, chairman of Texas Brush Control & Range Improvement Association; Charlie Fisher of College State, head of Texas A&M University Brush Control Research; chemical technicians, farmers and ranchers.

The local tour will begin at 1 p.m. at the big ranch with County Agent Bobby Lemons said the 1 p.m. tour at Randerbrook-Spade will include a visit to plots treated with seven different chemicals applied last year by Texas A&M.

Other chemical control work also will be viewed, he said.

The ranch will have a special group of crossbred heifers in the headquarters lot for viewing by interested persons who arrive a few minutes early.

In the lot will be Brown Swiss-Herford and Angus-Herford crossbreds plus some straight Herfords. A few steers also will be in the lot.

Authorized by Senate Resolution Number 317, the group will review the overall problems of vocational-technical education, placing emphasis on (1) recruiting training, and certifying of teachers of vocational-technical education; (2) study the administration of current programs.

(3) Study the level and format of state, local and federal funding, pointing to problems of districts with large numbers of disadvantaged or non-college-bound students; (4) plans to improve the adequacy of present and proposed programs.

Barnes directed the Committee to present recommendations to members of the 62nd Legislature meeting in January, 1971.

Chairman of the committee is Senator Chet Brooks of Pasadena and other members, including Ratliff, are Senators Jim Bates of Edinburg, Mike McKeel of Dallas and Murray Watson of Mart.

State Senator David Ratliff has been named to the Senate Interim Vocational-Technical Education Study Committee.

The appointment of Ratliff and four other senators to the committee was announced Friday by Lt. Governor Ben Barnes.

Cost Share Down For Ag Program

The federal government's share of cost of temporary conservation practices is being set at 30 per cent under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), according to Curtis E. Latimer, chairman of the Mitchell Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee which administers the program locally.

"Even stronger emphasis than before is being placed on enduring conservation practices," he said. "This is in conformity with the expressed desire of the Congress that ACP funds should be used for conservation practices with the most lasting value for agriculture and for the general public."

Considered as temporary conservation measures are such practices as putting in seasonal or annual vegetative cover, green manure crops for vegetative cover, stubble mulching, contour cultivation, and wind erosion control.

The federal cost-share for these practices has been 50 per cent but will be 30 per cent in the future except for low income farmers who may be eligible for cost-sharing at an 80 per cent rate.

However, farmers who already have had practices approved at the 50 per cent rate will receive their cost-shares at that rate, the ASC chairman said.

Four Show Steers At State Fair

Four Mitchell County 4-H Club members will exhibit steers and heifers this week in State Fair of Texas competition in Dallas.

County Agent Bobby Lemons said they will show seven animals.

Here is the line-up of entries: Mike McClure, one crossbred steer; Becky Merket, one Angus steer and a shorthorn heifer; Jeff Merket, a Hereford steer and shorthorn heifer; Eddy Merket, shorthorn steer and heifer.

Steers will show Wednesday and heifers Thursday, followed by sale of top animals Friday.

Firemen In Losing Battle

Firemen couldn't catch up with the quick spreading flames Friday afternoon which ruined the residence of the Ed Snowden family and destroyed their household belongings.

Blaze Guts House

An afternoon blaze Friday destroyed a frame residence at 224 Locust, half block north of downtown area's main thoroughfare.

"Then I went to the bath and saw fire on the porch at the northwest corner."

"It just went like that," another reported.

The house and furnishings were a total loss despite efforts by firemen.

"I opened the door to see how it was. . . the wind just brought the fire right through the house."

Snowden is a pensioner and said his wife had been ill for several days.

Ed Snowden, who lived there, said his loss was not covered by insurance.

Passersby said flames engulfed the structure before fire truck could travel the six blocks from City Hall station.

Another fire later Friday afternoon razed a frame structure in the alley between the 300 block of Hickory and Oak.

"It got everything," he said as firemen continued to pour water into the smoldering structure.

Soil Survey's Report Ready

Snowden said he was in the house with Mrs. Snowden. Their daughter had just left "to go to the store."

Copies of Mitchell County Soil Survey, a detailed project almost a decade in the making, are available in the offices of Soil Conservation Service and County Agent Bobby Lemons.

Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

"I was in the middle room," he spoke, "when I smelled smoke."

The survey was made public Tuesday night at a meeting Tuesday evening attended by approximately 30 persons in

It contains 47 pages of data and 64 pages of a county map made from aerial photographs, indexed and numbered.

Wayward Deer Wins Judge's Verdict

A wayward deer startled the Judge Austin McCloud family Tuesday evening.

Police had been notified moments earlier a deer had been seen in the neighborhood.

In town, at their residence, 644 West Sixth.

As police, game wardens, sheriff's officers and highway patrol hurried for a view, the animal found a getaway path from the carport and cars, running back down the drive.

The frightened buck darted past daughter Melinda and her friend, Randy Riley, talking outside the house at about 8:25 p.m.

The last the McClouds saw of the buck, he was hurrying south toward Hutchinson Elementary School. Gone before the covey of police cars arrived and leaving the Pontiac wounded with dents atop the trunk and scarred paint.

Up the drive and into the carport it raced, past a parked car, smashing into another and diving into the carport.

There was one other fleeting report phoned to police when the deer was seen running across Hickory Street.

The deer tried to leap Mrs. McCloud's Pontiac auto, ricocheted off the carport walls, crashed into lamps stored there.

Screams and shattering glass sent Judge and Mrs. McCloud racing to the outside.

The officers figured the judge has performed admirably under pressure.

"I opened the kitchen door," testified the jurist, "and there I was looking face to face with this four-point buck."

"I just got out of the way," he related in judicial tones.

"We both were surprised," the judge expressed it mildly.

But they were undetermined about his credibility as a witness.

"It was the wildest thing you ever saw. He was hitting the walls, breaking lamps."

Logical question for identification purpose was simply how many points did the buck have?

Mrs. McCloud had presence of mind to phone police, who had been to the residence recently to kill a snake in the backyard.

"Four," the judge recalled from his face-to-face meeting. "Well, . . . maybe more, . . . well, at least four. . . you can say."

FRANK MACKEY

Ben Hogan Managership To Mackey

Frank Mackey, a native of Colorado City, has been named merchandising manager for the Ben Hogan Company of Fort Worth, manufacturer of Ben Hogan golf equipment.

Mackey holds both a B. S. degree in finance and a Masters degree in business administration from Texas Christian University. He is a 1956 graduate of Colorado High where he was a student and sports leader.

Prior to joining the Hogan Company, he served as assistant to the president of First National Bank, and then joined Acushnet Sales Company as assistant sales manager responsible for the marketing of golf gloves, head covers and putters as well as the promotion of Acushnet products through touring golf professionals.

In addition to his duties as merchandising manager for the Ben Hogan Company, Mackey will work directly with all district managers on field sales problems and on the general promotion of all Ben Hogan Company merchandise.

The Ben Hogan Company is a division of American Machine & Foundry Company.

CONVERSATION CORNER

SOMETIMES it pleases the heart to spend some time "remembering when." Specially when it's Old-Timer Reunion time.

When Bill, his wife (that's me) and our children moved to Colorado City it was Jan. 22, 1936. The children and I drove the little Model A blue Ford from Vernon and there was snow still melting in barren fields along the way.

For a while we had a small apartment-at the old Barcroft Hotel, now the Berman. Also living there at the time was Chester Thomas who then directed First Baptist choir. Babe Roddy (now Keller) her sister Cora King and Cora's husband Bill. Two rural-school teachers. Plus Fern and Lowell Schmidt, who were newlyweds.

DICK O'BRIEN was pastor of First Baptists, Cal Wright of First Methodists, and the two were next-door neighbors—long before the Baptist Educational building and the Methodist Memorial Chapel and their Fellowship Hall were erected.

Mrs. A. L. Whipkey was my Sunday School teacher. Lucille (Wilkins) Trulock and Virginia (Mrs. Charles) Moeser were star sopranos in the choir.

Remember as if it were only yesterday how everywhere we went there were people saying "Hello!" That was the first fine fact that endeared this little town to the hearts of four new-comers.

FIRST family met were the Bill Randles who went to Childress High School when Bill did. Then came Mary and Ralph Lee, who also hailed from Childress.

First party was a 20-table—or was it 30—bridge coffee in the Legion Hut with Elizabeth (Mrs. Lewis) Elliott as one of the five hostesses.

First Hesperian Club meeting attended was hosted by Mrs. J. G. Merritt.

There was a reception that spring in the home of Myrtle Wulfjen and that was the day I met my first real rancher. His name was Sam Wulfjen and he came in from the kitchen wagging a giant coffee pot to offer refills to the dressed-up ladies.

DOWNTOWN SCENE has changed a lot since then. There were three Doss Drug Stores, two cafes, two banks, two hardware stores (Riordan and Hutchinson) and two furniture stores (Lee Carter's and Tom Russell's).

Earl Bibby was manager for Penney's. Nat Thomas had a department store on Second St. and Miss Neal Mills had an elegant hat shop to which she later added ladies' dresses, suits and coats.

That huge electric sign saying "Colorado" was still swinging across Second St. That was before we put the "City" back on officially, and took our sign down.

J. A. Sadler Sr. was mayor. Joe H. Smoot Sr. was president of the bank we chose. George Slaton was VP.

SCHOOLS here were Colorado High, old Junior High with its circular auditorium, Hutchinson Elementary and the old Colman Building for primary.

Nice John E. Watson was superintendent of schools, then, with C. A. Wilkins Sr. the popular principal at high school, Hayes Holman was principal for the junior high building, Winnie Quinney at Hutchinson, and Miss Martin (I think) at the primary building which was located where the school bus terminal is now.

All this was 1936 B. C. (Before Consolidation) and there were rural schools all over the county.

SUMMER of 1936 was when a tall young bachelor came to "Colorado" to practice medicine. His name was—and still is—Dr. Bill Rhode. Since then, of course, he has acquired a beautiful wife and two beautiful daughters.

Dr. C. L. Root, who first built Root Memorial Hospital, was a favorite soloist for that summer's Amateur Hours in Ruddick Park where everybody sat on the terraced lawn, now covered with a rose and flower garden.

Season tickets at the city's swimming pool were $5 per family! Used to swim mornings with the kids. And many evenings with neighbors Frank and Hattie Ramsdell.

THOUGH I live to be 100—and sometimes it does seem as if—shall never forget my first rodeo.

Can shut my eyes and still see Bob May whooping it up on horseback. Otto Jones. Lewis Elliott riding that unicycle along in the rodeo parade and wearing tight pants and a derby.

If, at that first rodeo, one woman was yelling for the dogies instead of the cowboys trying to rope 'em, it was altogether due to ignorance. Some seasons later, with Frank Reeves of the Star-Telegram and Harry Holt of the Abilene Reporter as tutors, that same woman became a real rodeo fan.

THAT "NEW" post office and the Coffey clan arrived along about the same time.

Joe Y. Fraser was post master. Used to love to buy stamps from Lottie Pritchett because she was always smiling. There was no mail delivery then, and the post office was pretty much the center of things.

So was the T&P passenger depot with four passenger trains every day.

Oh well. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." At least the Baptists and the Methodists and probably the Presbyterians can hear the preacher better now.

COLORADO RECORD was owned by W. W. Whipkey with Jewel Barrett (now Mrs. Tom Marsh of Sweetwater) as "society editor."

Colorado Hotel, which later became the Baker, was where the Lions Club met. Benton Templeton was president.

Chamber of Commerce office, with Jim Greene as manager, was in the hotel building.

"THOSE were the days, my friend."

Those were the days when the Philip Bermans owned and operated Pick & Pay on Second St. Max Berman had the biggest department store in town, and H. I. Berman his variety store, all in one block. The days when the Chester Jones family used to stage huge barbecue feasts at their ranch in the Cuthbert-Vincent area.

Those were the days when all the Eastover addition was what everybody called the "shinnery." It was where Miss Mabel Smith once caught some CHS girls smoking at high noon.

Miss Smith, who retired after teaching at Lubbock Tech a while and lives on Chestnut St., was teacher of CHS Spanish classes.

THOSE were also the days when there was a two-lane highway in every direction and going to Big Spring, Abilene, or San Angelo meant a hazardous journey.

Those were the days when nobody much had any money much and nobody much seemed to care.

Those were the days of "Bank Night" at Palace Theater, then owned and operated by the Ross Dixons, Sr.

Those were the days when one young man attended school mornings, the other afternoons, because of crowded classrooms. But then, young men walked to school which helped the schedule be more bearable, maybe, for harrassed mothers.

THESE lines are being written the day before the 1969 Old-Timer Reunion.

That's why it pleases the heart to remember...remember Jim Watson who used to start the hymns at the Church of Christ. Anna Simon, mother of Leonard. Leonard now lives in Big D and nearly always comes to the reunion. Mrs. C. H. Earnest, mother of Martha and Joe, and Mrs. Mabel Cooper.

Like to remember the pretty hats Mary George Smoot (Mrs. Joe) always wore to church. Dale Warren, Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, Dick Simpson. Harry Ratliff, attorney and father of this town's museum.

HEAR AND NOW brings other, more recent recollections.

They, too, please the heart. The world moves along and with it Colorado City—friendliest town in Texas, which has got to be pretty friendly.

Club Has Study Of Sewing Alterations

A program of alternating club members telling of their first day in school. Refreshments of coffee, punch and cookies were served to Mrs. N. O. Brown, Mrs. Sidney Compton, Mrs. J. D. Gibson, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Henry McGuire, Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Byrne.

Mrs. Bruce Byrne, hostess for the afternoon, presented the demonstration including methods of moving parts for individual fit.

Mrs. W. E. Harris, president, directed devotional thoughts.

Roll call was answered by Seen lately include that nice Methodist man, Billy Wilkinson, First United Methodist pastor. John Billings, Anthony's manager, with his pretty wife. Raymond Fuller, grocer, at his coffee break.

Saw, too, Mrs. J. D. Norman of Loraine. Selma and Willie Landau. Mona Scott at the Corner. Paul Hunter. Mrs. Vernon Ezell, Mrs. Bennett Scott, and Mrs. Lutie Wilson all getting beautiful. Tom C. Moore lunching solo. Shug (Mrs. Howard) Bynum.

DID YOU KNOW that Dr. H. Jene Steakley and his wife Bobbie were visited all week by their 13-month-old granddaughter Michele of Waco?

The Steakleys took the baby back to Topper and Mayfair and met second son Zollie (Rusty) of Baylor U. and third son Dan of University of Texas at the Baylor-Texas freshman game.

Families Return To C-City

Five families returning to Colorado City are among new residents listed for the past two months, by Beta Sigma Phi's Howdy Hack.

Those families have returned to make their home here after living in other Texas towns.

Mrs. Patricia Vincent and children, Allen 6, and Jerri, 12, returned to their home at 980 East 14th Street from Odessa. Mrs. Vincent is employed at Colorado Lumber and Supply. They are Baptists.

At home again at 843 Cedar Street are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Previtt and daughters, Sheryl and Caron. He is minister of education, music, and youth at First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hicks and son, Kevin, are living at 1636 Waco Street following their return here from Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks are teachers in Colorado City schools. They attend Church of Christ.

Here from Big Spring where they lived for a few months are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bob Long and daughters, Sherril, Sue and Lori, who live at 1644 Locust Street. He operates Long's Electric Service. They are Baptists.

Miss Linda Perkins has returned to Colorado City this fall as a teacher in local school system. She is residing at 203 East 10th Street after residing this summer in Merkel.

Demonstration Of Fashions Highlight Zeta Delta Meet

A lecture and demonstration on fashions Tuesday evening highlighted a meeting of Zeta Delta Study Club in the home of Mrs. Bobby Nobles.

Presenting the program, "Mother's Magic Mirror," were Mrs. Jackie Corbell, Mrs. Dennis Wright and Mrs. Larry Ivy.

Mrs. Wright talked about hairpieces advising club members to choose the best ones in accordance with their budgets.

She also suggested the hairpiece be cleaned once a week, using a spray conditioner "since hairpieces dry out faster than your own" and to comb from ends to base of wig or wiglet.

"If a woman doesn't take the time," Mrs. Ivy said in speaking of make-up techniques, "time will take the woman."

During a business session the group made plans for attending a district Federation workshop to be hosted Oct. 18 in Albany.

Mrs. Corbell discussed the buying and wearing of coats and personality types. She emphasized that the fit of clothing is most important.

Attending the evening meet were Mrs. Hubert Bassinger, Mrs. Corbell, Mrs. Cullen Davis, Mrs. Ivy, Mrs. Rodney James, Mrs. Richard Keathley, Mrs. Eddie Piland, Mrs. Dave Sanders, Mrs. Doug Simmons, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Nobles.

Cooking Demonstration

Mrs. Kathryn Cawley of Abilene, home economist for Lone Star Gas Company, Friday pointed out features of a new gas range recently installed at high school and discussed uses for broiler pans with two Homemaking I students, Rachael Jones, left, and Carolyn Light.

Economist Here Friday

Mrs. Kathryn Cawley of Abilene home economist for Lone Star Gas Company, Friday presented demonstrations for homemaking classes at Colorado High School.

The demonstration, "The Signs are Right" included use of top burners, oven, broiler and range controls, the care and cleaning of the range.

Mrs. Cawley used the zodiac signs in her talk for home-making II and III students.

She prepared "planet pizza," using the oven and popped corn demonstrating the use of controlled top burners of the department's new gas ranges, installed recently by Lone Star Gas.

Junior High Students See Plays

"The Reluctant Ghost" and "Shades of Ranson" were presented in an assembly program Monday afternoon for students of Colorado Junior High School.

The two one-act plays were presented by a double cast of students from drama classes meeting during daily activity periods in junior high.

The series of plays, directed this year by Mrs. Pat Renshaw, are part of the school's enrichment program to expose students to more cultural activities, Mrs. Renshaw said.

Garden Club Workshop

Mrs. Henry A. Bowman, right, instructor for an all-day workshop for members of Colorado City Garden Club Wednesday in Community Center, checks a schedule for an upcoming flower show schedule with Mrs. E. M. Owen, center. Admiring an arrangement made by Mrs. Bowman is Mrs. A. H. Jackson, Garden Club president.

Mrs. Bowman Heads Workshop For Colorado City Garden Club

Mrs. Henry A. Bowman Wednesday was guest speaker in an all-day workshop for members of Colorado City Garden Club.

Mrs. Bowman displayed various arrangements made prior to the workshop and discussed flower containers, use of dried materials and wild flower seed pods.

Her demonstration involved the arranging of floral displays representative of entries in the upcoming fall flower show.

Arrangements of "Autumn is Resplendent," "September Showers" and "Autumn Landscape" were similar to entries to be judged in the tri-color award division in the Oct. 25 show in Civic House.

Three others made by Mrs. Bowman—"Symbols of Season," "Autumn Haze" and "Cotton Picken"—were representatives of entries which will be vying for honor places in award of distinction division.

Mrs. Bowman was introduced by Mrs. E. M. Owen.

During a business session in which Mrs. A. H. Jackson presided members received daffodil bulbs to be sold. Proceeds for the sales will be used for the club's beautification program.

Mrs. Jackson announced a meeting of District VIII Garden Club in Ozona set for Nov. 10-11.

Guests for the workshop and salad luncheon were Mrs. W. J. Waldrip, Mrs. Jim Bodine, Mrs. Bob Ratliff, Mrs. Thelma Tidwell, Mrs. Hubert Bassinger, Mrs. R. H. Ratliff, Sr., Mrs. G. D. Foster, Mrs. Sefton Pickens and Mrs. R. P. Ware. Members attending were Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. R. D. Bridgford, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. R. D. Coles.

Mrs. W. S. Edge, Mrs. Ben Elliot, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Leon Jenkins.

Also, Mrs. Bruce Johnson of Loraine, Mrs. A. E. Moore, Mrs. Owen, Mrs. S. A. Palmer, Mrs. Floyd Shepherd, Mrs. L. J. Taylor and Mrs. Jesse L. Jones.

Green Beret Gets Awards

Judging for the honor was based on knowledge of a variety of questions concerning military history, American history, current events and individual military jobs.

Sp/4 Conard also received a trophy, letter of achievement, letter of commendation and a Special Forces ring in special ceremonies at Fort Bragg.

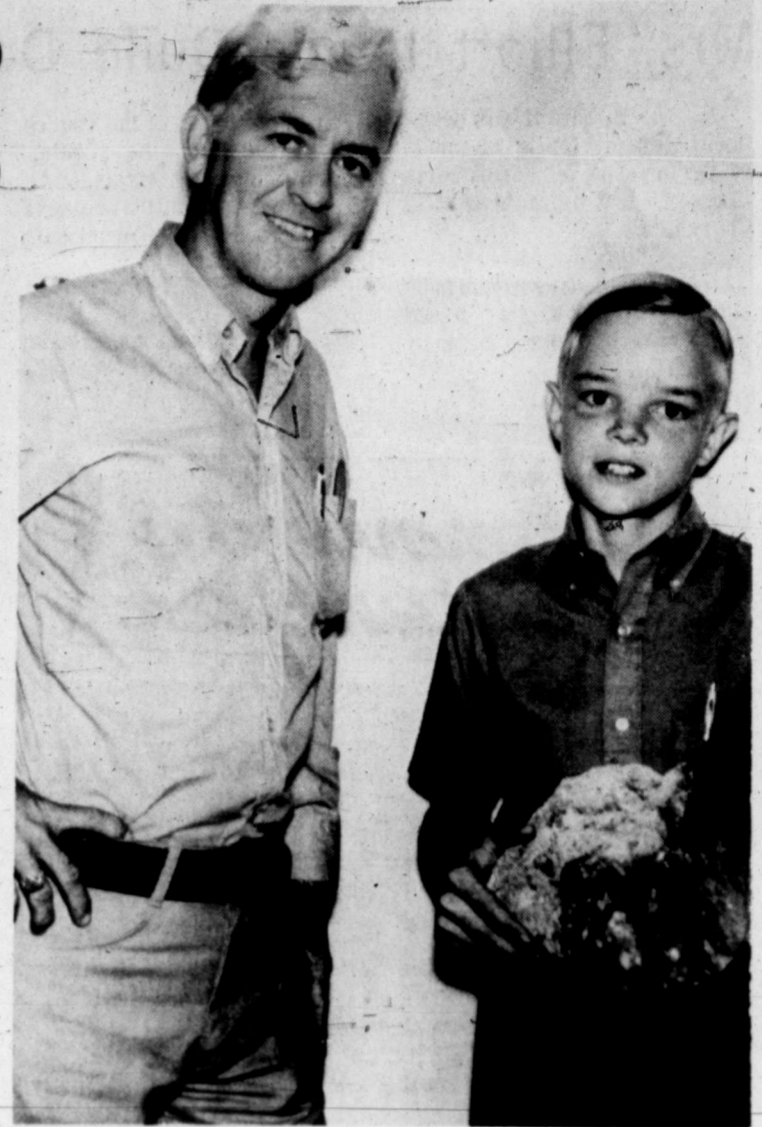

A 1966 graduate of Colorado High School, Conard attended Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene before entering the military service in November, 1967.

He has been stationed at Fort Bragg about a year and a half.

Sp/4 Frank Conard II was chosen soldier of the month of September for Seventh Special Forces Group (Airborne) at Fort Bragg, N. C.

The young Green Beret, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conard of 1436 Austin Street, was chosen after competition with representatives from other Special Forces companies.

Science Trip Bounty

James Bradbury, Colorado Junior High 8th grade student, holds what is believed to be a bone from part of elephant type animal remains found previously near Colorado City. Bradbury, who made the find on an 8th grade science trip to Colorado Sand & Gravel, is with teacher Lee Fry.

Mu Pi Welcomes Families

H. B. Zachry Construction Company has accounted for several new families in Colorado City.

At least five are named on Mu Pi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's Howdy Hack welcome list for the past two months.

E. A. Blackmon, a superintendent for Zachry, Mrs. Blackmon and sons, David and Ricky, moved to 1479 Watson Street from Dallas. They attend Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harris and children, Kelly, 4, and Cheryl, 7, came here from San Antonio. They reside at 541 Chestnut Street. They are Baptists.

Mr. and Mrs. John White and 20-month-old Sammy are living at 116 East 11th Street. They are Baptists.

Tom Gradel, an office manager for Zachry, is residing at 306 East Sixth Street after moving here from Big Spring. He is a Methodist.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolfo Ramon and children, Rudy, 9, Ricky, 6, and Roby, 3, live at 1224 Locust Street. They moved here from San Antonio and attend Catholic Church.

VFW Contest For Students

Local Veterans of Foreign Wars are again sponsoring the VFW Voice of Democracy Program, a contest offering students thousands of dollars in scholarship awards.

The contest is being announced now for Mitchell County students to provide ample preparation before the Dec. 12 deadline.

Local entries will be judged after Dec. 12 and winners move into higher competition, which culminated in state and national awards.

Don DeLaney, Voice of Democracy chairman for local VFW Post 9178, emphasized that the script-writing contest offers participating students more awards and scholarships.

There are fringe benefits, too, he said, and these include self-confidence, greater poise, ability to communicate and clear expression of ideas. State winners also have broadening experience of a five-day tour of Washington, D. C.

DeLaney said in the eight years Veterans of Foreign Wars have been sole sponsor of Voice of Democracy contest, more than 1,500,000 high school students have participated. Entrants must write and then tape-record a three-to-five minute broadcast script expressing their personal views of freedom. From among state winners, five national winners are selected to receive a total of $13,500 in scholarships.

"One of our greatest benefits to young people who take part in the contest, is that through reflecting seriously on freedom they gain a better appreciation of their heritage of freedom," DeLaney said.

two offices here in Colorado City are free, but limited in number. However, additional copies will be available for purchase from the U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C.

Data compiled in the survey is important to all segments of agriculture, business and industry. The information can be applied in buying, managing and operating farms and ranches; for selecting sites for roads, water ponds, buildings or other structures; and for judging tracts of land for any purpose whether it be agriculture, industry, building or recreation.

Key to using the survey is a general soil map, which can be checked to determine the location of land being studied. From the map, a person can explore various data through chart numbers and map symbols which are keys to reports and descriptions relating to soil capabilities and uses.

Use of the survey data is almost unlimited to citizens. For instance, farmers can learn about use and management of the particular acreage they farm by checking the soil description and in the discussions of capability sites and range uses.

Ranchers and others interested in range can find, under "Use of Soils for Range," grouping of the soils according to their suitability for range, and also the plants which grow on each range site.

Engineers and builders will find, under "Engineering Uses of Soils," tables that list engineering descriptions of soils in the county and that name solid features affecting engineering practices and structures.

J. J. Ferrell Dies Here Friday

John James Ferrell, 81, died early Friday morning in the local hospital after a long illness.

Funeral for the retired brick and stone mason was conducted Saturday afternoon in Kiker & Son Chapel.

Rev. Weems Dykes, minister of First Christian Church, officiated in final rites. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Ferrell was born in Limestone County May 2, 1888. He came to Colorado City from Sweetwater in 1955 and was a member of First Christian Church and American Legion. He was a World War I veteran.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Wiggins; a sister, Mrs. Ola Wilson of Houston; two brothers, Jay Ferrell and Carley Ferrell of Groesbeck; a grandson and five great-grandchildren.

ACP Cut For '70 Approvals

Mitchell County Committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program has been approved to start issuing concurrent approvals under the 1970 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Approvals are not to exceed 25 percent of the 1969 allocation, said announcement from the ASCS office here.

Only those producers who have not earned their 1969 county limit of $750 under the ACP program are eligible since practices must be eligible to transfer back to the 1969 program should 1969 under-earnings become available.

Request for cost-shares must be made before the ACP practice is started and concurrent practices must be performed before Jan. 1, 1970, news letter from ASCS states.

Cotton producers are reminded that cotton loans may be obtained by having the Form A-1 of the ASC program prepared in the county office at Colorado City or be approved loan clerks at either Loraine or Westbrook.

Approved loan clerks at Loraine are Woodrow Pratt and R. B. Bruce. At Westbrook they are Mrs. A. L. Young and Mrs. Louis Rees.

County farmers were also reminded this week by the county committee, headed by Curtis Latimer, that diverted acres under the 1969 Voluntary Wheat and Feed Grain programs may now be grazed, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 1 and that a 1969 crop can not be harvested from these diverted acres at any time.

Sheep and goat producers are urged by the ASC to bring in wool, unshorn lambs and mohair sales receipts as soon as sales are completed so that the ASC office can keep the files current.

Surprising Wolves Face Fork-In-The-Road • 49-6 Win At Levelland Gears 'Em For Zone

If there is an easy lane in 3-AAA football traffic, then the Wolves can wave it goodbye. They turn sharply into curves and hills this week as they push the throttle for final half of their 10-game schedule. No doubt about it. Coach

Truman Nix's gang of younguns have provided soothing balm for his intestinal illness. Their 49-6 conquest of Levelland Friday night in Levelland surely was more good medicine for the ailing coach who sat on the bench, a refugee from his hospital bed.

passes for three touchdowns, Flanker Stanley Bracy ran a kickoff back 90 yards for another and Wolf defencemen kept smashing down what ever the Lobos tried to muster on the attack.

of a strong wind. It was his first three-point effort for the season.

The galloper was right back down scoring alley midway in the second. He took a pitchout, ran wide and suddenly cut to the middle. Thirty-eight yards he traveled, running over two defenders and slipping another tackler for a 15-0 lead. His extra point kick was blocked.

Ninety seconds after Garcia intercepted a pass and hustled to Levelland's 40, Vest stepped back and hurled a pass to Holder, good for 27 yards and a 22-0 lead as May added the extra.

Holder again took a pass from Vest, this time for 8 yards, after a drive at 7:48 of the third period and again May kicked for a 29-0 lead.

When the Lobos pulled themselves up into the scoring column, Bracy took their kickoff on his own 10, headed up the middle, broke two tackles and cut to the sideline 4-barreling his way 90 yards for a 36-6 lead.

While the sturdy Wolf defense led by big Carl Devorce, put the stopper on all Lobo efforts, the Wolves stretched it with Garcia's 46-yard touchdown romp down the sidelines and a sparkling 80-yard pass run combination by Vest and Holder.

Garcia gained 173 yards in 19 carries for a country boy's work. Skip Malnes was next with 39 yards in 10 carries.

All the Wolves did--those guys who the experts said would never get the motor running above idling this season--was score just about every way a team can.

They racked up a 22-0 halftime lead and spurred even more in the second half to thoroughly trounce the Lobos.

Victory No. 4 against only one defeat, the record book says. And, now, the Wolfpack is suddenly hoisted into "serious contender" position for 3-AAA.

But it is a new course beginning this week.

The Wolves enter championship play for District 3-AAA's Zone 1. All they have in front of 'em and a play off berth for district honors are the likes of undefeated Lamesa, who walloped Littlefield, 44-0, Friday night; powerful Lubbock Dunbar and Defending State Champ Estacado.

The foursome -- C-City, Lamesa, Estacado and Dunbar-- have proved themselves the top teams of the entire district. And they are all piled together right smack in the traffic for Zone 1. Lakeview's in there also, and Stanton is an Oct. 31 date for the Wolves, but neither is considered the strength of the Big 4.

David Garcia, C-City's splendorous senior, halfback, fueled the Wolves onto the victory path Friday night in Levelland.

The 170-pounder scored two touchdowns, kicked a 37-yard field goal that traveled 43 yards in the air and intercepted a pass to set up another touchdown to have a personal hand in all 22 points the Wolves scored in the first half. He put six points more on the scoreboard in the second half, running 47 yards.

Don't get the idea his was a one-man show. Split End Larry Holder took Steve Vest

Jon Ellis, junior back who was a shining light for the losers, kept it from being a shutout when he carried across from the six-yard line with 4:07 remaining in third quarter. The Lobos moved into scoring position after throwing the Wolves for 34 loss of yards in a series of plays and then blocking Vest's attempt for a quick kick.

Carl Devorce and Joe Kirschbaum led the resurging C-City line that blocked their extra point try.

One minute 27 seconds was left in the first quarter when Garcia started it all, putting C-City in front, 6-0, with a quick turn for 16 yards around left end. Cary May's extra point kick was wide.

Five seconds later Kirschbaum recovered a Lobo fumble on Levelland's 17. When the Wolves backtracked on three tries, Garcia stepped back and kicked his field goal which traveled 43 yards on the thrust

Howdy, Neighbor -- We're In Our New Home

Be patient, please, as we settle down here at East Second & Hickory. We will try not to inconvenience you as we hurry with our adjusting.

Inventory will keep our doors closed today (Sunday) until mid-afternoon, but our hours will be regular after that. Open every Sunday, all day, and daily shopping through the evening.

With our move to Second and Hickory, Fuller Foods, of course, will offer you even more convenience and selection of nationally advertised brands. You'll get added savings from 450 Affiliated Food Stores (Fuller Foods is one of 'em) buying together for lower costs -- supermarket savings with personalized concern of hometown ownership.

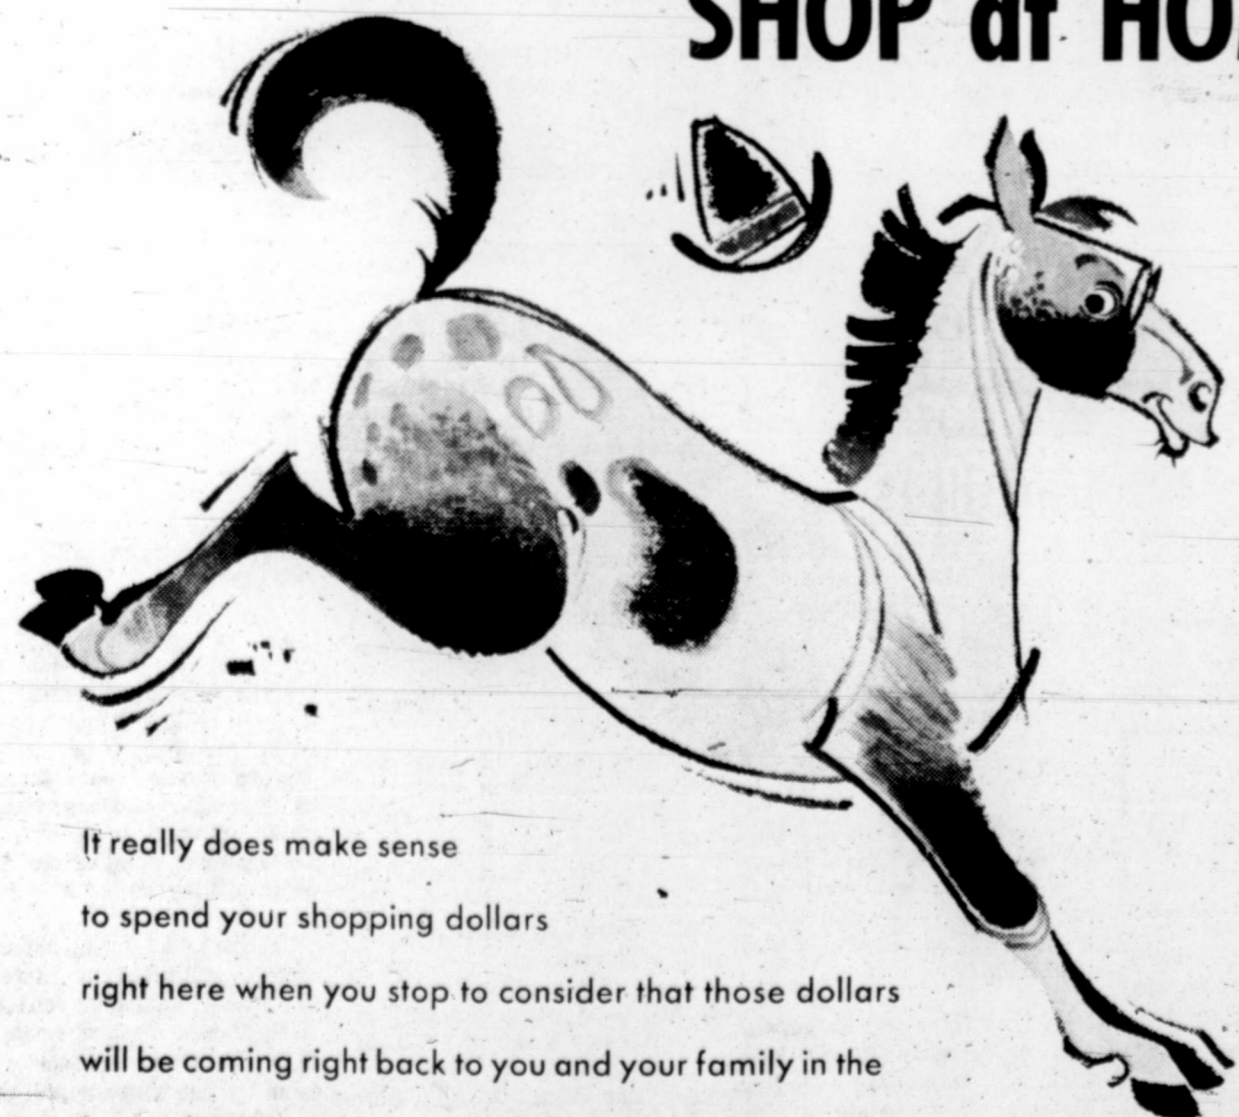

We have brought S&H Green Stamps with us for that extra special bonus with every purchase. Double Green Stamps every Wednesday, too!

It's just plain "horse-sense" to SHOP at HOME

It really does make sense to spend your shopping dollars right here when you stop to consider that those dollars will be coming right back to you and your family in the form of continued prosperity, plus added revenue from taxes paid by local firms... taxes that help to build the schools, parks, and other facilities that make our town a great place to raise youngsters.
